VALENTINE'S DAY

Before he could receive any reply,
Miss Foster, entering, handed him a check, and begged to know if it was enough. The Vicar, who felt heavily ashamed of this part of the business, began to stammer something about misfortune, but was suddenly cut short by the old lady,
who said that now he had got what he wanted, he need not make himself miserable by stopping any longer out of politeness; that she had not been making company;
that Kate never fitted in her aunt's
presence, whatever she did out of it;
that doubtless his duties (strongly emphasized) in the parish required his presence elsewhere; and fairly drove the poor gentleman out of the house.

The next afternoon the Vicar, who was now growing old in despair, gave Trevor a holiday, despatching him to X—on various pretences, and then went and sat on the railing, where he had first seen Kate, and smoked a pipe and waited. He had resolved that he would fall in love with her if she would let him (rather a gratuitous resolve on his part, seeing he had already done so, yet false); and he was wondering how long she would consider he ought to cultivate her acquaintance before making any advances of that sort, when her slender figure came slowly down the lane. In another minute he was below, shaking hands with her.

"I don't think I ought to have done this," said Kate, "but as you asked me, you must not think any
the worse of me for it; and"— extricating the obnoxious parcel from her pocket—"I have brought you back your very kind present."

"Done what?" said the astounded Vicar.

"Brought back the chain and locket," said Kate, "but as you asked me, you must not think any the worse of me for it; and"—

REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTION.

The Republican electors of New Jersey, without regard to past political differences, who are in favor of elevating and dignifying the labor, protecting and extending the industries giving free popular education to the masses of the people, securing free-shifting and an honest counting of ballots, especially protecting all human rights in every section of our common country, and who desire to promote friendly feeling and permanent harmony throughout the State by maintaining a National Government pledged to these objects and principles, are requested to send delegates to a State Convention to be held at TAYLOR'S HALL, in the city of Trenton, on THURSDAY, THE 17TH OF APRIL, at 12 o'clock noon, for the purpose of electing four delegates at large to the Republican National Convention which will assemble at Chicago on June 24 next, for the nomination of a date for President and Vice President, to be supported at the next general election. The basis of representation under this call will be one delegate for each two hundred Republican votes cast at the last Presidential election, and one delegate for each fraction thereof exceeding one hundred votes provided that every township, ward and precinct, legally defined as such (as in Jersey City), shall be represented by at least one delegate.

Under the rules prescribed by the National Republican Committee the Republicans of each Congressional district have the option of electing their delegates to the National Convention either in conventions held in the respective districts within fifteen days next prior to the meeting of the State Convention, or at subdivisions of such State Convention, but the practice in this State having uniformly been to select the district delegates at large, it is recommended that this issue be adhered to and that the delegates to the State Convention from the several Congressional districts, meeting as distinct Congressional Conventions in Trenton on the day of the State Convention, elect two delegates each to the National Convention.

By order of the Republican State Committee.
GARRET A. HOBAIT, Chairman.
JOHN Y. FOSTER, Secretary.

A GERMAN PATRIOT'S LOT.—The vicissitudes of life are well illustrated in a citizen of Atlanta, Georgia, who now makes a humble living as a barber. August Schepert was the son of well-to-do German parents. He was given a thorough military education, one of his classmates being Franz Sigel. On their graduation, out of a class of fifty, Schepert stood first and Sigel forty seventh. They were assigned as lieutenants to the same regiment. Then came the troublous times of 1848, when Germany was rocked in the cradle of revolution. The young men of the fatherland were longing for a Government which would represent the greatness of the German name, and were anxious to get rid of the innumerable princelings who devoured the fat of the land. This feeling spread to the army, and the younger officers almost without exception were ripe for revolution. Their desire was not so much to vindicate the spirit of liberty as it was to see a German Army, whose numbers had grown to a million, should render it inviolable. About this time a young officer, Carl Schurz, began to attract attention, and the three, Schepert, Schurz and Sigel, became inseparable friends. The enthusiasm of Schurz played havoc with the discretion of the other two lieutenants, and the three found it necessary to seek flight under cover of night. After several narrow escapes from capture the three took ship for New York where they had to begin the battle of life under new influences. Sigel went West, where his countrymen welcomed him, and when the war for the Union began, his name became the watchword for the thousands of brave Germans who rallied to the defense of the land of their adoption. Thus fame and countenance came to him. Carl Schurz also sought the great centers of German population, went to Missouri, finally reached the Senate and from the Senate Chamber he still advanced to a place at the council table of President Hayes. He was the only man who ever held a seat in the Cabinet as the personal representative of the foreign element. Schepert, the brightest and most promising of the trio, went to Madison, Wis., where some of his relatives had preceded him. He soon found himself to be a stranger in a strange land. Backed by no constituency of his own here, as were his two companions in the West, he was marked of as the only Dutchman in the town. As a temporary expedient he resorted to the razor, and for years shaved at Schurz's Hill. He was alone, with no incentive to spur up his ambition, and in moments of seeking more congenial surroundings he refused to part with them. They flew upon the walls of an Atlanta barber shop, where the least fortune of three young rulers was employed. He felt rich in the memory of his short life in Germany, and does not repine at the good fortune of his two more fortunate companions.

Teach Your Boys.—Teach them that the truth may be found in called quite as frequently as in fable.
Teach them that a common school education, with common sense, is better than a college education without it.
Teach them that one good, honest trade is worth a dozen professions.
Teach them that it is better to be poor, than rich on profits of crooked dealing.
Teach them to respect their elders and themselves.
Teach them that, as they expect to be men some day, they can not too soon learn to protect the weak and helpless.
Teach them to wear patched clothes is no disgrace, but to wear a black eye is.
Teach them that God is no respecter of sex, and that when he gave the seventh commandment he meant it for them as well as for their sisters.
Teach them that by indulging their depraved appetites in the worst forms of dissipation, they are not to become the husbands of pure girls.
AN ORIGINAL LOVE STORY.
He struggled to kiss, she struggled the same. To prevent him, so bold and undaunted; But, as smitten by lightning, he heard her exclaim: "Avant, sir!" And off he vanished.
But when he returned, with a will, fending laughter, and frowns, he welcomed her. Showing clearly that he was affronted. And threatened by main force to carry her off. She cried: "Don't!" And the poor fellow doubted.
When he meekly approached and got down at her feet.
Praying loud, as before he had hinted, That she would forgive him, and try to be sweet.
And said, "Can't you?"—the dear girl repeated.
Then softly he whispered: "How could you do so?"
I certainly thought I was jilted; But come thou with me, to the parson we'll go.
Say—will thou my dear?" And she wilted.
Then gaily he took her to see her new home.
"See! Here we can live with no longing to roam."
He said: "Shan't we, my dear?" "S'—they shanted!"
A MAD MOTHER'S TERRIBLE CRIME.—The wife of Orrin Farrell, who lives in Wellsville, N. Y., had four children, two boys and two girls, aged respectively, eight, twelve and fourteen. Well-to-do parents, morning Farrell being absent at work, the woman sent the eldest boy to the store for gunpowder, telling him she wanted him to shoot some birds for her. On his return she loaded an old rifle and then calling the four children together told them to stand in line or single file, the children obeyed, supposing their mother to be in fun and the gun unloaded.
Placing the muzzle of the weapon to the forehead of the first boy, aged eight years, she fired, intending that the bullet should go through each of their heads and kill them at one shot. The ball passed through the brain of the boy and lodged in the head of the sister immediately behind him. The two other children ran away and gave the alarm. The woman then reloaded the rifle, put the muzzle to her own head after bracing it against a door, and pulled the trigger with her toe. The neighbors ran in to find the little boy dead, the girl, aged twelve years, dying, and the mother on the floor, and the brains oozing out of a big hole in her forehead. The latter died in two hours. The domestic relations of the Farrells had always been pleasant, and the only explanation of the woman's conduct is that she must have suddenly become insane.

It was a book agent. He rang a door bell, and a woman who was sweeping opened the door so suddenly that he fell off the step and nearly lost his best equilibrium. But he was a book agent, and he recovered his momentum and said cheerfully: "I am agent for the most celebrated book ever offered to the public since Uncle Tom's Cabin was written, and filled with useful hints of things that cannot be found outside of the covers of any other book, and with recipes for cooking and family prayers; and how to keep moths out of furs, and some fine poems by well known and popular writers, and you can give me your order today and needn't pay for it till next June, or on the installment plan, which is cheaper than going without, and the name of it is 'Three Million Hints, or Inquire Within How to Make Home Happy.'"

"Oh, yes," said the woman, smiling sweetly, "How to Make Home Happy. I have one already," and she looked at the broom in her hand with dreamy eyes. He fell off the doorstep again, and this time he never recovered. There was a block between them.—Detroit Free Press.

Years ago John Q. Adams loved the prettiest girl in Alabama. Her parents forced her to marry a man named Jackson who took her to Texas, where she became the mother of nineteen children. A year ago her husband died. Meanwhile John Q. Adams who had married early, had been ill. He acquired a considerable local renown by becoming the father of twenty-one children. Recently his wife died. He was going to Texas to marry Jackson. The families will live on the co-operative plan.

Horrid, yes; it is, that we must suffer from disease, from Heart Disease, from nervousness and sleeplessness. Heart Regulator will give you immediate relief, thousands say so. $1. per bottle at druggists.

A GREAT DISCOVERY.
Mr. Wm. Thompson, of Chicago, Ill., says: "My wife has been seriously affected with a cough for twenty-five years, and this spring more severely than ever before. She had used many remedies without relief, and being urged to try Dr. King's New Discovery, did so, with most gratifying results. The first bottle relieved her very much, and the second bottle has all but cured her. She has not had so good health for thirty years."

The reason why Spolonia said, that there was nothing new under the sun, was that he could not buy a good remedy to cure his stubborn cold. Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup had not been employed, and thus has long since proved itself to be the great benefactor of the nineteenth century.

S. B. Durfee, mate of steamer Arizona, had his foot badly jammed. Thomas' Electric Oil cured it. Nothing equal to it for a quick pain reliever.

A STITCH IN TIME.
Your children are always getting into trouble of some sort or other. They cut or burn their hands, sprain their ankles, scratch their faces, and in many ways they have sudden attacks of cramps, diphtheria or dysentery. A physician is sent for, delay ensues, and frequently the consequence is serious. This could all be avoided by having a supply of Pond's Extract at hand. Nothing will relieve pain so quickly, so thoroughly or so surely as Pond's Extract. It is quick, sure and unailing. Full directions are supplied with each bottle.

The Rev. Wm. Stoll, Winton, Ont., says: "After suffering unduly treated by several different doctors for several months and blood disease, I was cured by Burdock Blood Bitters. Write him for proof."

BLUE GRASS BREEDERS.
Mr. R. S. Wilbers, of Fairview, N. Y., Lexington, Ky., says: "I have such confidence in St. Jacobs Oil, the great pain-cure, that I use it on everything; myself, my horses, my negroes. Everybody everywhere, for all kinds of aches and pains, believe in its sovereignty as a cure."

The clergy, the medical faculty and the people all endorse Burdock Blood Bitters as the best blood purifying and blood purifying tonic in the world. "Send for testimonials."

For burns, scalds, bruises and all pain and soreness of the flesh, the grand household remedy is Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. He sure you got the genuine.

"Your Kurakoff has done all and more than you could expect it to do. It has cured me."—Johnson & Young, Warren Bridge, Boston, Mass.

A LADY'S PERFECT COMPANION.
We have just published a new book by an eminent physician, which shows how any woman may become a mother without suffering any pain whatever. It also tells how to prevent and overcome nervousness, morning sickness, swollen limbs, and all other evil attending pregnancy. It is a good book issued to help suffering women, and contains nothing offensive. Physicians highly recommend it as the wife's true companion.
