The mind of the small boy now turns toward base ball. Every youngster seems to have all the technical terms of the game at his tongue's end and the names of the great professionals are far more familiar to him than the names of the Presidents.

PROPER PRECAUTIONS.—The Pennsylvania Railroad Company has ordered a thorough sanitary inspection of all the buildings belonging to it on its leased lines in New Jersey, directing their thorough purification and cleansing, and that they be kept in proper hygienic condition. This is in view of the threatened epidemic of cholera.

DECENNIAL CENSUS.—This is the year for taking the State decennial census. The Legislature, therefore, passed an act authorizing the assessors in the cities and townships to make an enumeration of all the inhabitants. In addition to those who were formerly taken, the foreign inhabitants are to be classified as to nationality and the ages of all from 2 to 20, from 20 to 60, and over 60 years, the number of families and dwellings are also to be taken. For this work the assessors will receive $2.00 per each 100 inhabitants enumerated to be paid by order of the Board of Commissioners.

PRINCETON'S BAIL NINE.—The friends of Princeton are much delighted over the defeat of the Trenton professionals by the college boys on Saturday. Score 2 to 1. The Princetonians played without an error, while but four were credited to the professionals. The college team, led by Murphy for eight hits, while the Trenton could get but two of Beckham, who is likely to prove a treasure to the college and perhaps do not a little toward winning for Jersey the college championship.

ARMOR DAY CELEBRATION.—Next Friday will be "Armor Day" in this State. Superintendent Lindsay, has been very active in his efforts to organize a proper celebration of the day by the children of the public schools. The superintendent and the principals will meet to-night to complete the arrangements. This much of the programme has been determined on already. The schools will be dismissed at 2 o'clock, and will reassemble at one o'clock, when they will march to some central point to be designated. Here the procession will be met by the principal of the grounds of the Third Ward school where trees will be planted, songs will be sung and addresses will be delivered. All the clergy and city officers have been asked to attend and a general invitation is extended to the citizens to join in the celebration. The exercises at the Third Ward school will begin at half past two o'clock. The scholars have subscribed for banners to lead each school battalion. The Superintendent is to be thanked for his efforts in behalf of a fitting observance of a day so deservedly worthy of it.

Mr. GAY'S SERMON.—Rev. W. A. Gay preached the seventh sermon of his series on "God, Satan, and Man in History" at the 1st Presbyterian church on Sunday evening. His subject was "The United States in Palestine." Taking for his text "And he sold his birthright unto Jacob," he began by the statement that little things are the hinges on which turn the great events of individual life and national history. Esau the first born sold his birthright. By ancient custom the first born was consecrated to God, was next in honor to the parents, had a double portion of the father's goods, and succeeded to the government of the family or kingdom. Later his only right was to act as priest. The origin of the contest in Palestine was the partiality of Isaac for Esau, the partiality of Rebecca for Jacob, and the treacherous cunning of Jacob. Jacob realized the value of Esau's birthright and so wanted to obtain it by unlawful means. Esau was ruled by his passions and was a victim to moral weakness and moral wickedness. This contest was continued between their descendants. David conquered Ishbosheth and the kingdom was transferred to the house of David. The Babylonian captivity. THE HOTEL COLFAX.—This summer resort near the "Old Magnesian Chalybeate" and "Colfax" mineral springs, at Colfax, Iowa, 24 miles east of Des Moines and 323 miles west of Chicago, on the Rock Island & Pacific R'y, will be opened on May 6 for the season of 1885. This splendid hotel can accommodate 300 guests. All its appointments are first class. Its saloons are supplied with all the substantial and delicacies, and its parlors, reading and sleeping rooms with every convenience. Quiet, billiards, bowling alleys and other facilities for recreation. Thayer's orchestra engaged for the season. The grounds include the "Old M. C. and Colfax" springs, which are unequalled for their remedial virtues. Thousands certify to their efficacy. They are a powerful alterative and tonic, and an infallible cure for rheumatism, dyspepsia, indigestion and other ailments. The Hotel Colfax furnishes the water fresh from the original fountains for drinking and bathing hot or cold. Its charges are moderate, $10 per week and upward. Parties desiring quarters for the summer should secure them at once. EXTENDING THE P. R. R. TRACK.—Said the Elizabeth Herald on Monday. This morning, Supervisor James R. Smith, of division A, of the Pennsylvania Railroad, with section boss, John Stewart, had a force of twenty-two men at work on the tracks between Broad and Chestnut streets, and between Mary street and Magnolia avenue. The work of tearing up track number 2, which has been used for a freight track and running past the potters to the switch tower, at Mary street, is now rapidly being pushed. The track will be replaced with new rails and ties, and extended to the "mail car" located at the Broad street crossing, just opposite the docks. At this point, on the extension of the track, east-bound passenger trains will switch off on it, and the track will hereafter be the east-bound main, or number 2. The present east-bound main will be used for the west-bound main and passenger trains will switch off at the same point on to the present west-bound main, which will then be the west-bound freight track. The present east-bound freight track, running from the lower freight car at Mary street, is being extended this morning to Magnolia avenue. This new improvement will necessarily make Railroad avenue, as now used as a direct, much narrower, but not closed. There are a number of large trees on or near the turning which are the company's. They will be cut down. The company owns considerable property on Railroad avenue from the Union depot to the North Elizabeth station, but as now as they can control sufficient they will lay four straight tracks through the city. The move this morning is the first step in that direction.

MARKET GARDENING.—An experienced gardener said in a recent address on market gardening.

Competition is increasing each year, through Southern gardeners, who have the superior advantage of climate, enabling them to place upon our markets vegetables of all varieties long before we can. Through the same agency the railroads and steamers, our business is as much cut and interfered with by the South as is the grain farmer's by the great competition of the West with their cheap transportation rates. Southern products have caused much alarm among gardeners who depend upon New York and Philadelphia for their markets, but, as I see no need of great uneasiness. There crops are, as a rule, about equal to our own, and though the season of the fresh and every way superior products of home growth that will enable us to produce to grow them profitably even for those markets. And without these markets we have hundreds of cities and towns whose inhabitants number from 3,000 to 10,000, where market gardening will be entered to. We have towns bordering the great cities, through which, every day, load after load of vegetables pass as through a wilderness, unattended that these thousands of souls are fed by the same products they are loaded with. The grower and retailer of these towns are obliged to make a trip to the city market, pay the commission men a profit, cart or pay drayage charges on the return trip. These extra expenses must be added to the products as cost, thereby bringing the articles beyond the reach of many of the working men of the factories, who are the greatest consumers of such products, consequently lessens the demand and consumption.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND TO JOIN THE VETERANS AT GETTYSBURG.—In pursuance of the plan adopted by the veterans of the late war to visit each spring, some of the celebrated battle-fields of the Union, the pilgrimage will this season be made to Gettysburg. The time fixed for this is May 4th and 5th.

The great success attending the previous visit of the veterans to Frederickburg and elsewhere, and the wide interest manifested by the old soldiers of both armies, indicates that the Gettysburg meeting will not only be largely attended, but highly valuable, from an historical point of view, and full of interest to the participants in the scenes enacted there twenty-two years ago. The meeting will bring together numbers of the most distinguished men of the land. The President, with his Cabinet, the "War Governors" and present Governors of the States, distinguished officers and soldiers of both armies, and men prominent in the councils of the nation, will honor the occasion with their presence. Not only from the vicinity of the field will the veterans come, but from States North, South, East, and West, soldiers and civilians are sending assurances of their attendance.

The pilgrimage is made under the auspices of the First and other Corps of the Army of the Potomac, but the invitation covers every officer and soldier of the late war.

In order to accommodate the visitors the Pennsylvania Railroad Company will sell excursion tickets from points on its lines to Gettysburg, on May 3d, 4th, and 5th, good to return until the 6th inclusive, at greatly reduced rates.

EDUCATION.—Prof. S. G. Peabody, instructor in education at Princeton College for the past nineteen years, was in town on Monday. He visited Columbian school, and in company with the principal, inspected the various rooms. He very kindly gave several recitations for the benefit of the pupils, which were heartily appreciated.

Prof. Peabody goes to Elizabeth every Monday morning, where he instructs the pupils of Dr. Finney's select school in education. He finds that he can conveniently stop off at Rahway every Monday afternoon, on his return from Elizabeth, and if a class of about thirty can be formed, he will devote two hours to them at the merely nominal cost of $1 to each person for a course of eight lessons. A number of the teachers and adult pupils in our public schools have agreed to assist in forming the class.

There are many young ladies in this city who have considerable natural ability in the elocutionary line; if they would train themselves in this excellent opportunity, their improvement would, beyond doubt, be rapid and gratifying. Prof. Peabody has a high reputation—his occupation of the position of professor of education at Princeton College for so long a time abundantly proves that. His services as an expert sought after, far and near, and it is fortunate for those who desire to join the class may notify any one of the public school teachers, who will, in turn, inform the principal of the school.

Prof. Peabody will meet all those who wish to avail themselves of his instruction at the Third Ward school, on Monday afternoon next, April 27, at 3:30 o'clock. G. F.
