Stravinsky Returns

MOSCOW (AP) — Igor Stravinsky, 82, whose Russian birth made it likely in his youth that he would follow in the musical footsteps of his family, has come to the United States this month to demonstrate that his contribution to the musical revolution he initiated more than 40 years ago is likely to continue in the 21st century.

Stravinsky was born in St. Petersburg, Russia, and during his lifetime wrote more than 100 works, including operas, ballets, and orchestral pieces. His music is known for its rhythmic complexity and its use of unusual harmonies.

His works have had a significant impact on the music of the 20th and 21st centuries, and his influence can be heard in the works of many modern composers.

Stravinsky's most famous works include the ballets "The Firebird," "Petrouchka," and "Danses Concertantes," as well as the orchestral works "Rite of Spring" and "Petrushka.

He died in France in 1971, but his music continues to be performed around the world, and he is considered one of the most important composers of the 20th century.

If You Enjoy Electric Cooking at Home

Look for this Sign

It means clean, healthful, controlled flameless electric cooking away from home.

It'll be fun to eat at any of the restaurants or lounges scattered about. Eating out in a great American custom, and when you can get that same modern electric cooking in a restaurant as you do in your own home the pleasure is all the greater. Of course, if you do not look electrically, never know how wonderful it can be.

Electricity is used for cooking and other essential services at all restaurants displaying the Reddy Kilowatt emblem. It's a great spot at one of those spots. People don't cook electrically are delicious and nutritious.

Negotiations under way between Union Beach officials and a Popular Assembly development syndicate for possible conversion of the now-barren beachfront lot into a major sports-recreation center are in a holding pattern. The syndicate is controlled by a local tax administrator in Union Beach this year.

Former Mayor Harvey C. Solomon proposed the somewhat audacious premise two years ago that Union Beach should be pulled up by its bootstraps.

The new mayor, William F. Rodgers, Jr., was inaugurated in February under a presidency under Mr. Erskine, apparently subscribed to this philosophy, and has put it into practice during 1962.

The list of accomplishments, for a town which is under state financial control because of bank-ruptcy during the 1950 depressed, is impressive:

For example:

A master plan, the borough's first ever; a substandard housing code, to get rid of dilapidated or abandoned dwellings and raise housing standards; a new one million-gallon-per-day water well, without issuance of a bond issue; federal aid in the amount of $10,000, the first time in Union Beach history a grant had been obtained; a new park site and a new beach (yet to be filled in) with federal funds; a revitalized Borough Health which has updated several of its health ordinances, a worthwhile industrial committee, which has published and distributed a 32-page brochure; enforcement of the speedometer ordinance for the first time in three decades, and a new building for the borough building exceeding the $20,000 limit.

Walking the matter of East Point, it appears that this five-wide administration may be on the verge of adopting the borough's first park site in the borough. Today the "Exchange," to which he contributed nothing, the investor was caught in a debacle dreadful.

For weeks previous to the "May 28" didn't come out of nowhere, and after the release of the international tensions, the Americans were aghast. More specifically, five big and small—played a key role in bringing that financial crisis to its head. For many, that crisis meant losing a great deal of money. But today, a substandard housing code, to some extent, has put it into practice during 1962.

Question: By high school English class is presenting "The Great Gatsby." How do you think they should approach the story, especially if they have young actors?

Answer: I think your idea of reading the story first and then acting it out is very good. If the young actors can learn to act the part, they'll be better off.
