No Incidents Sparked By Teacher Sanctions

BAYSHORE TOWNSHIP — Yesterday, I believe they should be left alone to make their school schedule.

Mr. Nucclo added that some children were no longer interested in the elementary schools.

The Nucclo Family was the only family in the township that had been asked to take part in the protest.

Prove Apollo Fire Cause

CAPE MAY COURT HOUSE — The incident involving the Apollo fire was the result of an accident, according to the County Police Department.

The New Jersey State Fire Marshal's Office determined that the cause of the fire was a result of an electrical fault.

The fire occurred at the Apollo Inn, located on Route 9 in Cape May County.

Resort Trade: $2.4 Billion

The Garden State Board of Tourism and Convention Industry is working to increase the state's share of the $2.4 billion in estimated general sales from the resort trade.

The commissioner cited the Garden State Board of Tourism and Convention Industry's report, which showed that the state's share of the resort trade had increased by 5 percent in the past year.

Resorts are critical to the success of the state's economy, he said.

Group Is Praised

For Library Job

The school system does not have any plans to hire additional teachers during the summer months.

The board of education has already approved a budget that includes a $1.5 million increase in the budget for the current school year.

Chief Economist: "If prices remain stable, the economy will continue to expand at a moderate pace.

Highlands Board Fails To Adopt Pay Guide

HIGHLANDS — With the proposed pay guide for the district teachers and the board of education so far at a standstill, the school system will operate on the same pay plan that was in effect the past year.

The board agreed Tuesday to continue the existing pay guide in the event that an acceptable contract cannot be reached before the beginning of the school year on Sept. 2.

The pay guide was tabled at Tuesday's meeting of the Board of Education after the teachers rejected a contract proposal from the board.

The contract proposal called for a 5 percent increase in base pay for all teachers, with the amount of the increase increasing to 7.5 percent after three years.

The teachers rejected the proposal, saying it was not fair to their members.

The board will now consider other options, which could include going to court to try to resolve the dispute.

Danger Signals of Nazism Seen in Today's Germany

GERMANY — The German government has issued a warning of danger signals of Nazism in today's Germany.

The signals include a growing number of neo-Nazi groups, rising anti-Semitism, and a decline in democratic values.

The government has also condemned the recent attack on a Jewish school in Berlin, which resulted in the death of two students.

The attack was condemned as a crime against humanity.

The government has promised to take tough action against any further incidents of violence against Jews.

Sen. Patrick J. Leahy, D-Vt., said the attack was a "tragic and senseless act of violence against innocent children and their families."

The attack was the latest in a series of attacks against Jews in Germany in recent months.

The Register's Opinion

Reflection on the Senate

Few senators of either party should be proud of their Senate counterparts' latest general court conviction on charges of income tax evasion, theft and conspir- ary. They were accused by the Senate's new majority leader, Senator Robert S. Allen, who has made such outstand- ing political gains with his new effort — and plans to some transport planes.

... And perhaps, with enough push behind the backs of Amer- ica's principal arms supplier.

The Democratic majority was obvious- ly reluctant to have the investigating committee pursue the plan. They would fear it. Or how Bob- ton Drinking Age of 21 is lead- ing to some temporary setbacks for the country's principal arms supplier.

By William F. Sandford

Marmota moves, fuzzy grumblers of the ground, wake up early. More quickly, it's being stuck out in evidence, he might think why any smart groundhog—unless he went to bed short of its mid-winter meal, if he were up in time, Marmota, if he's smart, will remain lethargically oblivious of the whole gambit, deep in his cozy tunnel hard by the lower end of the sand dunes. Momma, if he's up as he should be, would see the sun rising at about 3:30, and it won't be insight until 5:30. It makes Ian know and it knows that summer is on the way, and white gingering to the sun. It's a good life. As a matter of fact, I've been out 10 hours and 16 minutes, and if I were to rise 10 hours later, I'd be 20 hours and 20 minutes gone, a full hour more than it shone six weeks ago on the first day of winter. Three weeks from today it will be 12 hours long, and when the sun is in the 20-hour mark, Marmota, fuzzy prognosticator of the ground, might well be expected to crouch down in his den, as do the black bears in the northern boroughs of New Jersey, and not want to be disturbed."

Allaire Primes for Spring

By ELIZABETH BARKER

This aging

It's all a matter of perspective. To many of the 1,200 people who live in the small town of Allaire, the area seems serene and idyllic. But to the hundreds of thousands who pass through the park's gates each year, Allaire is a place of amusement and adventure. This spring, the park is gearing up for its annual festival, a celebration of the town's rich history and unique charm.

The festival begins on April 1, with a variety of events and activities planned throughout the month. Visitors can enjoy live music, food, and crafts, as well as historical reenactments and guided tours of the park's restored buildings. And for those who want to experience Allaire on their own, there are plenty of opportunities to explore the area on your own, whether you're hiking the trails or simply strolling through the village.

So mark your calendars and plan your trip to Allaire this spring. Whether you're a local or a visitor, you're sure to have a great time. And who knows? You might just find a treasure hidden within the walls of this charming old town.

RECONSTRUCTION — In determining the phased $8,000,000 program of long range development, it may be seen that the board would have an option. The next two years or so, when the financial structure of the public school system will be more closely scrutinized, is the most important advice to the board. The board is advised to address the $4,000,000 of debt that would be incurred in the next two years by addressing it now, at the present rate of interest, rather than at a later date. The administration should be focused on making sure that the board is aware of the financial implications of the school district's decisions and that it is prepared to address any financial issues that may arise.

LONG BRANCH — John D. Taylor, chairman of the Board of Education, announced today that he will be resigning his post on Jan. 1. Mr. Taylor has been a member of the board for 12 years and has served as its chairman for the past four years. He will be succeeded by Mr. William J. Jones, who has served on the board for the past six years and has been its vice chairman for the past two years.

Board Leaves Protection Up To Police

HANOVER TOWNSHIP — The board of education is expected to make a decision on the future of school security in the next few days. The board has been facing criticism for not taking action on the issue, and some parents have called for a full-time police officer to be assigned to the school. The board has been discussing options for increasing security, including hiring a security guard, increasing surveillance, and improving training for staff.

City School Budget Rises, Full Rate Under $4 Seen

The city school budget for next year is expected to rise by 10%, with the full rate under $4 per thousand. The budget, which includes salaries for teachers and administrators, is expected to be approved by the board of education in the coming weeks. The budget is expected to be voted on by the board in May.

Metzler Eyes State Unit For School, Other Disputes

Mr. Metzler, associate chair of the executive committee of the board and Westside Ave., is in the hospital for the seventh time, suffering from heart trouble, according to Dr. Lionel A. Walford, director of the hospital. Mr. Metzler, a former member of the board, has been fighting heart trouble for many years and is expected to make a full recovery.

Hi and Run Investigated

LONG BRANCH — Police are investigating a break-in at the new bank building. The bank is located at 23 W. Main St., and the break-in occurred early this morning. The bank was closed for the day, and there were no reports of any theft or damage.

HAWAII VISIT — Gov. John A. Burns, center, with state Health Director William F. McGee, left, and Police Commissioner William K. Ford, right, opens the Hawaii State Health Department building. The building is expected to be completed in the next few months.

School Board Raps Permit For Project

LONG BRANCH — The board of education is expected to vote on a permit for a new school building project at its next meeting. The project, which is expected to cost $5 million, will include a new gymnasium, classrooms, and a new administration building. The board has been discussing the project for the past year and is expected to make a decision on the permit on Feb. 10.
MR. DINO... is in town!

You can really pick up the shop with Mr. Dino's handprinted matching pants and top in laminated jersey double knit. It shows how extensive pants can be and adds a snazzy color block fashion to Minds. Mr. Dino's top is dry and need just a touch of the time to look ready for the next tournament.

Oleg Cassini
Boudoir Chic at Budget Prices

The boudoir—or bedroom—is said to be the last bastion of the private life of any woman. It is the only room per se, as so-called highlight time in every woman's life, in which she is alone, in which she can be intimate and exquisitely private. It is the one room in which she can be seen as she is, without any artifice. It is the room in which she can invent, create, and indulge herself. It is the one room in which the woman is free.

The boudoir can be made of many materials: light, dark, soft, hard, soft, crisp, smooth, rough, and so on. It can be any color—red, blue, green, yellow, and so on. It can be any size—large, small, medium, and so on. It can be any shape—square, round, hexagonal, and so on. It can be any style—classical, modern, contemporary, and so on. It can be any mood—happy, sad, angry, and so on.

Jane Nugent Engaged

BETLORD — Mr. and Mrs. Paul W. Jenkins of Bay Head, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Janet Patricia Jenkins, to Mr. Daniel Reva, both of Rumson. Miss Jenkins is a graduate of Montclair State College and is employed in the Servisoft Company in Newark. Mr. Reva is a welder with South Shore Company, Manasquan. The wedding is planned for late in June.

Miss Janet J. Nugent

COLUMSB — Miss Janet J. Nugent, a graduate of Notre Dame High School and member of the National Honor Society, graduated last June from the Catholic University, Washington, D.C., with a Bachelor of Arts degree in Biology. She is a member of Phi Beta Kappa. Miss Nugent is presently attending the University of Pennsylvania School of Medicine. Her grandparents are the late Mr. and Mrs. John J. Nugent and Miss Ruby D. Nugent, both of Red Bank. She is also a member of the President's Women's Club and Women's Cancer Auxiliary, both of Red Bank.

B. J. Clarke To Marry

LONG BRANCH — Miss Dorothy L. Watson, a graduate of the Monmouth Junior College, is to be married on May 16 to Mr. William J. Clarke of Aberdeen. Miss Watson holds a B.S. degree in Biology and was a member of the Phi Beta Kappa honorary society while at college. She is employed as a research assistant at the University of Pennsylvania Medical School, Philadelphia. A graduate of Sag Harbor Junior High School, Mr. Clarke attended Monmouth Junior College for one year. A native of Perth Amboy, he is employed by the South Shore Company of Manasquan. The couple plans to make its home in Red Bank after the wedding.
