RESILIENCE - State hearings on the charter incorporation of the new multimillion-dollar electronics firm in the State of New York were adjourned Wednesday by the Senate Commerce Committee. The hearings had been held earlier in the week to determine whether there was substantial and necessary public need for the proposed incorporation, and whether the project was economically feasible.

FREEDOM - High rate hearings were held. The new measure, calling it a "double-barreled shot in the back" by ordering cuts in a "double-barreled" program which had protested the moon landing to guard against a "double-barreled" policy, Dr. W. E. Redden, executive director of the National Committee for the Preservation of American Art, declared yesterday. The complaint states that the project has been used as a beach club.

The Great Adventure

Church bells chimed, firecrackers exploded, champagne flowed and the air was filled with excitement yesterday afternoon in the historic city of Reading, when the first humans were launched into space.

Several hundred thousand people gathered on the Reading Mall, many of them holding up posters and flags of their favorite astronauts. The launch was witnessed by live television from the control room.

One of the results of the moonwalks will be the search for clues to the origin of life on Earth, and the solar system will be made more accessible to study as a whole. Some others, however, may be of greater importance.

On April 5, President John F. Kennedy signed a bill creating the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA). The new agency will oversee the government's space program, which will be run by a new administrator, Wernher von Braun.

The formal announcement was made yesterday by NASA's chief scientist, Dr. Robert Gilruth, who said that the agency would begin "the most significant period in the history of our country's space programs."

"The moonwalks will enable us to understand the evolution of the solar system and the origin of life on Earth," Gilruth said. "They will give us a glimpse of the future of human exploration of the cosmos."
The Questers

History's pages are illuminated with the names of men who journeyed into alien lands to make the unknown known. Marco Polo, to open the Far East. Columbus, to seek a New World. Magellan, to set sail around the globe. Lewis and Clark, to blaze a trail across our continent. Peary, to find the North Pole. A rare breed, these men who take the first step to bring more light into the world. Today, IBM salutes all the astronauts who took historic first steps in our space program. And the people of NASA who guided them. And the some 20,000 companies in the Apollo program who helped. We are proud to be one of them.

Dear Ann Landers: I’ve been talking things over with my parents and they are not in favor of my marrying Joe. He is a good man, but he’s not right for me. I just don’t feel that I love him.

Tell me how to solve this problem.

Sincerely,

Dear Ann Landers: Two weeks ago in the mail I received a catalog with many wonderful things that I would love to own. As a matter of fact, I have already bought several of the articles advertised. I would love to have everything in the catalog, but my finances don’t permit me to purchase everything.

Tell me what I should do.

Sincerely,

Dear Ann Landers: My husband and I have been married for three years. We have been very happy, but now I feel that he is losing his interest in me. I have tried to talk to him about it, but he won’t listen.

Tell me what I should do.

A home for Social Action

The annual meeting of the Monmouth County Social Action Committee was held last night at 7 p.m. in the county courthouse in Red Bank.

A Home for Social Action

By Carol J. Jacobson, Lincroft - The Jews and social action in their community has been the focus of several events at the Monmouth County Jewish Federation in recent weeks.

The federation, which represents the Jewish community in Monmouth County, has been active in social action efforts for many years.

In the past year, the federation has sponsored several events, including a conference on social action and a meeting with local elected officials to discuss social issues.

The federation's efforts have been recognized by the Jewish Community Relations Council of New Jersey, which has awarded the federation the Community Service Award.

The federation's success in social action has been due to the support of its members and the community, said Jacobson.

"We are proud of the work we have done," she said. "We believe that social action is an important part of our community, and we will continue to work to make it a priority."

Controversial Matawan Twp. Inspector Fired

By NANCY J. KIRKINOS

MATAWAN TOWNSHIP—Three of the four borough inspectors who have been charged with violating county labor laws were discharged last week, leaving the borough’s only inspector and teammate, James Blumenthal, to face the growing legal pressure on his job. Mr. Blumenthal, who has been charged with multiple violations of county labor laws, is currently under investigation by the county’s labor commissioner.

The MATAWAN TOWNSHIP — The inspector’s office has been suspended by the county’s labor commissioner, leaving the borough without a legal defense for the ongoing legal pressure that the inspector faces. The borough has been ordered to hire a new inspector to assume the duties of the suspended inspector.

Red Bank — Water and the scream of racing engines can be heard this weekend as the National Sweepstakes Regatta, the oldest and one of the nation's premier events in its 36th year, gets underway. Racing begins Friday and continues through Sunday.

The event is noted for the variety of regattas that make up the two-day event. From small ski boats to the 150-foot Middletown Yacht Club's schooner, the Westward, the sweepstakes offers something for everyone.

The regatta kicks off with the 14th annual Newport Regatta, a 16-mile race for 50 boats from North River to the Narragansett Bay Bridge. The race begins at 7 p.m. today and is followed by the 50th Annual Newport Yacht Club's Annual Regatta, which begins at 9 a.m. tomorrow.

Also on tap will be the-26th Annual Middletown Yacht Club's Annual Regatta, which begins at 9 a.m. tomorrow. The race will feature 150-foot schooners, 75-foot ketches, and 65-foot sloop ketches.

After the Newport and Middletown races, the fleet will gather at the New York Yacht Club for a 14th annual Regatta, which begins at 9 a.m. on Thursday. The race will feature 50-foot boats, 75-foot ketches, and 65-foot sloop ketches.

The regatta concludes on Sunday with the 50th Annual Newport Yacht Club's Annual Regatta, which begins at 9 a.m. tomorrow. The race will feature 150-foot schooners, 75-foot ketches, and 65-foot sloop ketches.

The regatta is sponsored by the New York Yacht Club, the Newport Yacht Club, the Middletown Yacht Club, and the Rhode Island Yacht Club. It is open to all members of the New York Yacht Club, the Newport Yacht Club, the Middletown Yacht Club, and the Rhode Island Yacht Club.

The regatta is a non-profit organization and all proceeds go to the New York Yacht Club, the Newport Yacht Club, the Middletown Yacht Club, and the Rhode Island Yacht Club.

THE SUNDAY AND THE FURY — Hydroplanes, ISO strong, will speed on the Narragansett Bay in Red Bank for the 20th renewal of the National Sweepstakes Regatta this weekend, with prizes and national recognition at stake in each of nine classes, including the 145-cubic-inch Crafts, open hydro.

THE CHUCK WAGON

Sound and Fury Of Hydroplanes

By CHUCK TRIBEHRON

Let's be honest, I couldn't distinguish a Jersey Speed Shift from a 200 cubic centimeter hydroplane if one crossed my path on a rainy day in July.

But I do know that the National Sweepstakes Regatta annually is one of the highlights of summer activity purists. Forget the technical terms. The heart of the high-speed powerboat is the driver and his men, who can drive a boat that can do over 200 miles per hour.

The drivers are the only ones who make a speedboat move, and there are only a dozen of them. Each driver is a member of the National Sweepstakes Drivers Association, and each man is a member of the National Sweepstakes Drivers Association.

They are the Sweepstakes — and it couldn't be more exciting.

Ocean Wins Berth In District 11 Finals

Ocean Township's young springboarder will have a chance to claim the title in the finals of the District 11, Little League championships at Hamilton's John St. Fox Field in Asbury Park on July 12. The team needed to win both of its games against the Central Interscholastic Board of Athletics and win over ten runs in each game. The first game was won by Ocean, 11-1, and the second game was won by Ocean, 12-2.

The winners are scheduled to meet next Thursday for the title. The team will need to win both games against the Central Interscholastic Board of Athletics again, scoring over ten runs in each game.

Ms. Mayer First Again

WESTFIELD - Barbara Mayer won the women's 10-kilometer cross-country race with a time of 35:28 in the annual race.

Ms. Mayer, who set the new course record in 1968 in 37:29, was victorious again in Westfield this year. The race was held at the Westfield Athletic Club.

A Baby Sitting Center Planned

By CAROLYN ANDERSON

EATONTOWN—"Nothing is more needed in the country today than an uplift in morale and some sign that tomorrow will not bring about the moral and political crumbling predicted by many Americans," So said Richard Weisman, manager and public relations director at the Monmouth Shopping Center.

"This being true," he added, "I urge attendance at the musical production scheduled for the Monmouth Shopping Center tomorrow at 8 p.m."

The program is called "Up With People," and Mr. Weisman continued, "It's youth-inspired, youth-conducted and 100 per cent youth participation. "Up With People" is the effort of young people—representatives from 11 different countries—who want to convey a message of hope for the present and future.

A special stage will be erected between Lerner's and Montgomery Ward for the performance. The appearance is sponsored by the Monmouth Shopping Center, Center Merchants Association.

"Up With People" goes free. Their aim, Mr. Weisman said, is to present a clearer and more accurate picture of the kind of youngsters the world over who are not withdrawing from society simply because it isn't to their liking, but who are in the battle to make the world a better place.

Mr. Weisman continued: "Up with People" means exactly what the title implies—the upgrading of human beings in the minds of human beings and a call to all humanity to reach out and take hold of the precious good life it offers.

"Up With People," Mr. Weisman said, "is to present a clearer and more accurate picture of the kind of youngsters the world over who are not withdrawing from society simply because it isn't to their liking, but who are in the battle to make the world a better place."

Mr. Weisman continued: "Up with People" means exactly what the title implies—the upgrading of human beings in the minds of human beings and a call to all humanity to reach out and take hold of the precious good life it offers.

The group has performed on numerous occasions at Freehold and Monmouth and most recently at the 4-H Fair in Freehold. The group consists of musicians and singers who perform such numbers as "Which Way America?" "Up With People," "Freedom Isn't Free" and "The Ride of Paul Revere."

Library Gets Copy of 1922 Montgomery Ward Catalog

SHREWSBURY — A look at the Roaring Twenties in the form of a newly published hard-cover edition of Montgomery Ward's 1922 catalog was presented to the Monmouth County East Branch Library by Robert C. Liggitt, manager of Ward's Monmouth Shopping Center retail store.

"To open the pages of this catalog and gaze at the descriptions of the luxuries and necessities of the day is like opening a door on life at that time," Mr. Liggitt said as he made the presentation.

"Among other things, we see something of what Americans were wearing, how their homes were furnished and what they did for recreation."

"It's an interesting and, for some, a nostalgic trip back in time. It's a trip many of us will enjoy making. Ward's is presenting this valuable social document to the library so even larger numbers of people can make the trip."

The catalog, referred to at the time of its initial publication in 1922 as the Golden Jubilee catalog, will be of interest to historians or those who lived through this era and want to rekindle memories.

"Gone but not forgotten" are player pianos, detachable shirt collars, suspenders, whiskies, fur neckpieces, knickers and farm equipment designed for use with horses.

"Strangely familiar today" are suits with an Edwardian look. "Long John" underwear is similar to today's body stocking. Long, loose sweaters, square-toed shoes, Wardway ready-cut homes similar to today's prefab homes, makewaids and mold-looking coats, "Boy on the go" are television, automatic farm and garden equipment, push button appliances, power tools, venetian blinds, air conditioning, synthetic fabrics, bikinis, mini skirts, panty hose and "many other terms too numerous to mention."

"Autos were becoming popular in 1922 and a Super Speedster model body could be bought for a Ford chassis. It included understated parts, a top and a windshield for only $93.50—somewhat cheaper without the top and windshield."

"It may have been the era of the five-cent cigar but a box of 100 domestic stogies could be bought for only $1.10."

The Splash: Moving, Significant

By JERRY BUCK

NEW YORK (AP) — There has never been a television show like it. From Cape Kennedy, the earth and the Pacific where the Apollo 11 astronauts landed safely.

The story of Wally Thomas, author, David Putnam went across the nation in a helicopter. None of the.nervous news with the astronauts. Jacking the voice is reedy, Jacking the Uohn A. Piirto in ceremonies aboard the recovery ship Hornet.

Surly, it will be a long time before we ever again see anything as thrilling, as moving and as significant.

The networks wound up their coverage of the eight-day voyage Thursday with live pictures by satellite from the Hornet. Darkness and heavy cloud cover prevented us from seeing the capsule coming down but the sight of the astronauts coming aboard and talking with President Nixon from the mobile isolation facility was a fitting climax.

The coverage by ABC, CBS and NBC was superb. In a lesson learned from other J. L. 4-G-4, the commentators usually kept quiet so we could hear the words from the astronauts.

Over-all CBS showed more imagination, more resourcefulness, and Walter Cronkite retired astronaut Walter M. Schirra added a personal touch lacking at the other networks.

CBS' superior coverage fell down slightly during the splashdown however, because of repeated interruptions for commercials. NBC, on the other hand, stayed with the story continuously as the astronauts were safely aboard the Hornet.

Additional live coverage is planned when the astronauts arrive in Hawaii for transfer to a plane for the flight to Houston on NASA Monday afternoon and the networks will broadcast the pictures as they become available.

Pictures of Mary, from Mariner 6, launched Feb. 28, will be broadcast beginning at about 9:30 p.m. EDT next Tuesday. Still photographs of the surface of Mars from a distance of between 6,000 and 2,000 miles will be relayed 60 million miles to a 24-foot dish antenna at Goldstone, Calif., then to the Jet Propulsion Laboratory at Pasadena, Calif.

The live pictures from the Hornet traveled a distance one-fifth of the way to the moon to get from the Pacific to New York, 6,000 miles away. The 50,000 mile journey took a quarter of a second.

The pictures were beamed from a 15-foot portable antenna aboard the ship to a satellite 22,540 miles over the Pacific, which relayed them to a Comsat satellite tracking station at Jamestown, Calif. From there they were overland by wire to the television pool manned by ABC in New York.

MIDDLETOWN YOUTH Slated for Contest

MIDDLETOWN — Joseph D. Kanaszovitz, Jr., 17, of Cherry Tree Farm Road, has qualified to compete for the U.S. accordion championship and the right to represent this country in the 1969 "Coupe Mondiale," world accordion competition taking place in New York Aug. 6-9 under the sponsorship of the American Accordionists' Association and the International Confederation of Accordionists.

The U.S. accordion championship, for which regional winners from all over the United States will compete, will take place in New York preceding the "Coupe Mondiale."

Mr. Kanaszovitz is a student at Mater Dei High School in New Mommouth, and studies accordion under Carmen Carreza of Mamaroneck, N.Y. He has received numerous awards in both classical and jazz divisions in accordion competitions.

Reddin Speaks With Authority

By ROB THOMAS

LOS ANGELES (AP) — His voice is reedy, but when newscaster Tom Reddin addresses his television viewers in the U.S. course of law and order, they detect his expertise. No wonder.

Unlike the unflappable Chet Huntley, he reads the news with nervous hesitation. He has none of the wit of David Brinkley, the audacity of Walter Cronkite, the sagacity of Eric Sevareid.

But when newscaster Tom Reddin addressed his television viewers in the U.S. course of law and order, they detect his expertise. No wonder.

Unlike the unflappable Chet Huntley, he reads the news with nervous hesitation. He has none of the wit of David Brinkley, the audacity of Walter Cronkite, the sagacity of Eric Sevareid.

Reddin spoke earnestly in a friendly, open manner, somewhat as if he were addressing the Monterey Park Lions' Club.

"When I first started on this job," he said, "I sometimes wondered, 'What am I doing here?' But as time went on, I became more accustomed to the new surroundings and I found how satisfying the work can be. Here I can have an impact. I can mold attitudes, I can make things happen. All that is possible when you reach a vast amount of people."

Reddin has taken strong stands against campus uprisings and other elements of unrest. He also voiced his feelings about gun control "against registration but for more penalties against illegal gun purchases in other areas he appears to have eschewed controversy. One of his nightly features is "The Goodness Story," illustrating good things in the community.
American Ballet
Next at Center

HOLMDEL — The American Ballet Theatre, under the direction of Lucia Chase and Oliver Smith, is in the midst of its 56th tour, which will bring the company of 150, its symphony orchestra, and more than 150,000 pounds of scenery and costumes to the Garden State Arts Center and Monday through Saturday.

From its inception in 1940, the ballet, alone among major American companies, has followed in the tradition of European stage companies in preserving ballets rich in classical heritage with its productions of "Swan Lake," scheduled at the Arts Center Tuesday and Saturday; "Guinevere" Monday and Friday, and "Coppelia," Wednesday and Thursday.

Erik Bruhn, permanent guest artist with the ballet, and director of the Swedish Ballet, will appear along with internationally famous Kirsten Simone. They will dance "Guinevere" Monday and "Coppelia" Wednesday.

Mr. Bruhn was born in Copenhagen and started his dance career as a pupil at the Royal Theatre at the age of 8. After graduation, he was made soloist with the Royal Danish Ballet. With the American Ballet, Mr. Bruhn has danced in Poland, Yugoslavia, Bulgaria, Rumania and has made several tours of Western Europe and the Near East. He also starred in the American Ballet Theatre production of "Giselle," filmed in Spain last year with Carla Fracci.

Prima ballerina of the Royal Danish Ballet, Miss Momo was also born in Copenhagen, trained in the Ballet School of the Royal Theatre, and joined the Royal Danish Ballet in 1957. She was promoted to soloist in 1964, and made prima ballerina in 1966.

Summer is a good time to learn how the other half lives. That is one reason for the long queues on house tours. Ticket proceeds usually are earmarked for charity, and that draws people too. The worthiness of the cause prompts people to open homes that otherwise you might not see.

People can't wait to snoop around the homes of the famous and be near famous people and those who live in old or palatial establishments. What kind of furniture do they have? What are the color schemes?

"I wouldn't have opened my house for anyone but Save the Children Federation," said prolific author Paul Baldwin, welcoming some of the hundreds of tourists who traipsed through his Farm in Norwalk, Conn.

Proceeds from the tour sponsored by the Westport Young Women's League will help support the federation's American Indian program. It is one of Miss Baldwin's favorite causes.

The two-story, century-old farm house sits on top of a hill and is surrounded by dogwood. The house has lovely old floorboards except in one bedroom off the back.
The condition of the United States as it is now, and what may be expected in the next decade, will be fully explored by NBC News in a two and one half-hour color special, tentatively titled “Here Come the Seventies,” on Tuesday, Oct. 7 (8:30-11 p.m., preempting “Julia” and “First Tuesday”), on the NBC Television Network.

The program, which has been traditionally identified with major public service news programming, including NBC News’ coverage of the last two presidential inaugurations and the pace-setting NBC News “White Paper” review of American foreign policy.

“Here Come the Seventies” will review the Sixties as a basis for projecting the developments of the next 10 years. “We’ve chosen this midpoint in the span of two decades because the Sixties are more familiar and more historic than any other 10 years in American history — and because the Seventies will be,” says Robert Northshield, executive producer. Mel Ferber and John Lord will be the producers, and Mr. Ferber will also direct.

Twelve NBC News correspondents will participate in “Here Come the Seventies,” each with at least 100 key words at his command to define his particular area of expertise. According to Mr. Northshield, “the words to be emphasized will be those which mattered greatly in the Sixties and which will continue to help us or haunt us in the next 10 years.” NBC News correspondent Chet Huntley will give the introductory essay which will outline the program and define its intent, to show viewers the reasons for feeling either optimistic or pessimistic about the condition of the United States... His subject will be space and each of the subsequent essays will be directed to the point of Mr. Huntley’s opening remarks.
