Meyner Captures Red Bank Despite Strong GOP Trend

Red Bank, since the depression years a Republican stronghold, gave a surprising eight-vote margin to Democratic Gov. Robert B. Meyner Tuesday.

At the same time, the voters acted to return local, county and state GOP office holders to their posts.

Evidence was clear that while the citizenry was satisfidied with the people running Monmouth's fairs, it saw no need to change tenants in the state house.

Gov. Meyner was given 2,037 votes to 2,029 for Sen. Forbes.

High man on both tickets was Councilman Thomas F. Oakley, of the Cook and Oakley plumbing firm, with 2,264 votes. That was 80 more than went to Councilman Harry Malchow, Fred D. Wikoff Co. executive, who received 2,184. Mr. Oakley, street and sanitation chairman, will start his fourth term in January; Mr. Malchow, senior councilman and water and sewer chairman, his seventh.

Police Get Raise

Police here, as in most other places, got what they wanted—a raise in pay. Voters decided 2,158 to 1,107 that their salary be raised 15 per cent.

Also favored here 1,907 to 890 was the state question to permit persons with a shorter term of residence to register and vote.

Democratic council candidates showed strength in some areas, but it was not enoug hto alter the Red Bank habit of giving Republicans a sizable push ahead in the local government. Louis A. Scotti, Shrewsbury ave. merchant, received 1,953 votes, which were 81 ahead of 1,872 given to his running mate, Robert Marks, who manages a Broad st. rug store. But still Mr. Scotti trailed Mr. Oakley by 311 votes and Mr. Malchow by 231.

Among out-of-towners, Republican Freeholder Victor E. Grossinger of Middletown, the county's public welfare director, polled 2,236. He was 24 ahead of his mate, Freeholder Earl L. Woolley, Neptune, public property director. Mr. Woolley's vote was 2,212.

Beadleston Does Well

Faring well, as in the past, was Assemblyman Alfred N. Beadleston of Shrewsbury, who headed up Sen. Forbe's "truth squad" drive, receiving 2,230 votes. That beat by just one the 2,129 votes Red Bankers gave Assemblyman Clifton T. Barkalow of Freehold.

Freeholder Grossinger beat out his best-running Democratic opponent, Philip H. Fluhr, Manasquan, by 352, a comfortable margin. Mr. Fluhr finished 328 behind Mr. Woolley. Further back here was Democrat Richard E. Burke, Campbell's Junction lawyer, whose 1,787 votes were 97 behind Fluhr's.

Assemblyman Beadleston trounced Democrat John C. Giordano, Jr., Long Branch lawyer by 356 votes. Mr. Giordano, with 1,870 votes, ran 42 ahead of his Democratic partner, Richard V. Keuper of Wayside.

On behalf of the police department, Police Chief Frank W. Reuther yesterday released a statement of thanks in which he said members of the department will "exert our best efforts to maintain the high standard of efficiency which has existed in the department in the past."

Golf Course Law Returned To Planners

8 A. M. Provision Called Harmful By Two Owners

SHREWSBURY — This borough's proposed golf course ordinance is headed back to the planning board—at the request of one of its most interested parties, Francis H. Marzulla.

The ordinance, up for public hearing before borough council last night, would allow construction of a nine-hole golf course in any R-1 zone in the borough.

Mr. Marzulla and Thomas Farrell, local contractor, plan to build such a course. The only thing holding them up, according to Mr. Marzulla, is a provision in the ordinance which prohibits the course from opening before 8 a. m.

Council had introduced the ordinance at its Oct. 15 meeting and was only one step away from passing it into law when Mr. Marzulla voiced his objection.

"Limiting the start of play practically guarantees operating in red ink," Mr. Marzulla said.

He maintained that golfers would show up at the course before 8 a. m. and would become a "nuisance" if they all "congregated around waiting for the 8 o'clock starting gun."

Zoning Board Regulation

The proposed ordinance gives full regulation of the golf course to the zoning board of adjustment. Mr. Marzulla owns 44.5 acres of land on the west side of Broad st. (rt. 35) between Sycamore and Shrewsbury aves. Early in March, he and Mr. Farrell applied to the planning board for permission to build a nine-hole course on his property.

After many months of discussion, the planning board came up with the ordinance which was before council last night.

Some of the basic requirements are, a minimum of 40 acres is required—with at least nine holes totaling a minimum of 2,000 yards—and the course cannot be used before 8 a. m. or after dark.

Mr. Marzulla said he had talked with officials of the National Foundation of Golf and said "not one golf course in the country has a limitation on when it can open."

In answer to a question on why the limitation was set, Mayor John H. Hawkins said he felt the traffic hazard was the main point. "If the golf course is a successful venture, which we all hope it will be, then many people will be using the course," the mayor said. The question came from Mrs. Lois M. Joice who was elected to council Tuesday. She will take office Jan. 1, 1958.

Traffic Hazard

Howard Isaac of 60 Obre pl. told council, "It seems to me the 8 a. m. opening will cause more of a traffic hazard because people will start lining up before the opening time."

"There is nothing in the ordinance to prohibit cars from coming to the course before 8 o'clock and waiting on the course," the mayor said. If the golfers all start at once, Mr. Isaac said, "they will finish in a bunch rather than be scattered."

Following the discussion, council voted to continue the public hearing on the ordinance until its next meeting. In the meantime, the ordinance will be referred back to the planning board for more study on the 8 a. m. opening time.

Asked by the mayor why the 8 a. m. starting time had not been discussed with the planning board before the ordinance was introduced, Mr. Farrell and Mr. Marzulla said they had brought the point up, but that it had been lost in the planning and that the first time they saw it in print was when the ordinance was introduced.

"You eliminate practically one-fifth of the golfing market with the 8 a. m. opening," Mr. Marzulla said.

The main problem over the 8 a. m. opening seems to center on two points. The first is the traffic hazard. The second is the noise factor which arises when golfers use a course which is located in a residential zone.

Mr. Marzulla and Mr. Farrell maintain that limiting the opening to 8 a. m. will increase both the traffic hazard—because cars will start arriving at the course prior to 8 a. m. and the golfers will wait until they can start—and that everyone will be teeing off at the same time which will increase any noise which might come from the course.

Authority to Return Sewer System Bids

EATONTOWN—The Sewerage authority voted last night to return all the construction bids it has received to date—with the exception of the sewer lateral line bids.

The action was taken by the authority on the recommendation of its engineers, the Lanning Sanitary Engineering company, Trenton.

Bids going back to their contractors include those for erection of a disposal plant and a pumping station.

The authority will keep the lateral line bids from the J. and S. Construction company, Trenton. Cost of this will be $685,449.

Reason for the action, authority members said, is they plan no immediate action while the bond market remains in his current high state.

To Get Bids Later

However, the authority definitely plans to readvertise for bids—within the next few months. It was hinted that if money to finance the project is available—work on system could begin in May or early June.

Col. George A. Morgan, authority chairman, revealed the cost of the project—$1,600,000.

Benjamin Van Keurren, authority secretary, said last night's action did not constitute a "setback" by the group. He explained the decision was merely one to wait until money to finance the system could be obtained—"at a reasonable rate of interest."

Attending last night's meeting were three members of a recently-formed Eatontown Taxpayers association. They stated they came to the meeting—"to learn more about the authority's plans."

In answer to a question from Charles Resch, temporary president of the taxpayer group, Col. Morgan admitted that construction of the system and the proposed $10,000,000 "Monmouth Shopping center"—scheduled to be built here—go hand-in-hand. The center is supposed to contain a branch store of Bamberger's.

"Unless the shopping center is built, we will not be able to finance a sewer system," Col. Morgan replied.

Plans, he said, are for 1,620 units to use the sewerage system when it is eventually installed. It will also be used by "two industrial customers"—including the Bendix company, rt. 35, Col. Morgan said.

In other words, he added, about 70 per cent of Eatontown residents would be able to tie into the system.

Gives System Boundaries

Col. Morgan gave these tentative boundaries of the system:

Reynolds dr. to the Allen homes area; rt. 35 as far as the Fort Monmouth gate; the Grant ave., Lewis st. area and Main st."

Col. Morgan said he was anxious for more industry to come into Eatontown—and he was "certain" that the installation of a sewerage system would be instrumental in bringing it here.

He also said the question of cost—how much the system would cost the user—could not be answered accurately at this time.

Col. Morgan said he figured it would run $75 for each user to initially tie into the system.

Original plans, he admitted, were for the user to pay $50 a year for the system. However, that was based on a four and a half per cent interest rate, he stated, which means that figure is now dead.

However, with the "legal limit" of sewerage bonds at six per cent—and the average at five or five and a half per cent, in addition to a discount, it was stated the price could shoot to $65.

The question of where the sewerage disposal plan would be located was also raised at the meeting—but no answer was forthcoming.

Col. Morgan said it definitely would not be built in the Wyckoff rd. area.

He also stated that the trailer camps in the borough would be serviced by the system and they, too, would be charged a per unit cost.

Car Overturns, 2 Women Hurt

LINCROFT—Two New Shrewsbury women were injured Saturday evening when their car struck a guard rail on the Garden State Parkway near the Red Bank exit and overturned. They were southbound.

They are Eleanor Caskie, 42, of 474 Riverdale ave., who was driving the vehicle, and Mary Jane Bush, 31, of 6 Apple Orchard dr.

Both were taken to Riverview hospital by the Lincroft first aid squad, treated and released.

Mrs. Caskie suffered multiple cuts of the face, wrist and ankle. Mrs. Bush received a bruise above the right eyebrow.

The vehicle had to be towed from the scene, state police said.

A careless driving summons was issued to Mrs. Caskie by Trooper Edward Suchocki. A hearing has been scheduled Nov. 27 before Magistrate Gilbert Manson in Middletown township court.

Two Youths Admit Thefts

RUMSON — Police reported yesterday they have apprehended two Middletown township juveniles who admitted stealing about $20 from the home of Mrs. S. W. Laird, Old Farm village, on two occasions.

The first theft took place Oct. 25, police said, when $20 in 50-cent pieces and three cans of beer were taken from the house.

The second was last Thursday—when 50 cents was taken from a pocketbook, along with a can of beer.

Police said one youth, who is a state ward, has been turned over to county juvenile authorities. The other has been placed in the custody of an uncle.

Investigating both thefts were Chief Henry Kruse and Patrolman James K. Shea.

WARNS GUNNERS

EATONTOWN — Police Chief William Zadorozny this morning said he has instructed members of the police department to strictly enforce this borough's no-gunning ordinance. The chief said the borough is "strictly off limits" to hunters, and that no where in the borough is gunning permissible.

Thanks From Farrell

Riverview Awards Contract For 66-Room Addition

The board of governors of Riverview hospital at a special meeting last night in the hospital solarium awarded a contract for a 66-room hospital addition to the Walter Kidde company of New York on its low base bid of $1,570,925. The addition will be five stories high and will have a basement and a sub-basement for storage.

In addition the cost of finishing and furnishing the fifth floor will cost $51,500. The balance of the architect's fee and the estimated cost of movable equipment is $150,000.

Raymond DeRidder, chairman of the finance committee, announced that the money presently available from all sources toward the cost of the project amounted to $1,310,650. He said the balance needed on the basic contract was $260,275. He further explained that the balance needed to complete the entire job was $450,000 in round figures.

Completing the fifth floor would increase the bed capacity of the hospital to 180 beds.

Menzzopane Wins Full Term as Committeeman

SHREWSBURY TOWNSHIP — Democrat Joseph P. Menzzopane, Jr., defeated Republican Mayor Julius Frickel, 124 to 114 in the race for a full township committee term here Tuesday night, and Republican Robert Cait edged Democrat Wilfred F. Rafferzeder, 120 to 111, in the contest for a one-year term.

Mrs. Anne Switek received one vote on the Democratic ticket for assessor. No candidates had filed for the position from either party.

Voters approved the proposal to have the Public Employees' Retirement system of New Jersey adopted by a vote of 115 to 37.

Democrats swept the vote in state and county contests. The results were: Gov. Robert B. Meyner, 160, Sen. Malcolm S. Forbes, 70; assembly, John C. Giordano, Jr., 148, and Richard V. Keuper, 138, against Alfred N. Beadleston, 74, and Clifton Barkalow, 78, and Board of Freeholders, Philip H. Fluhr, 136, and Richard E. Burke, 137, against Victor E. Grossinger, 78, and Earl L. Woolley, 80. The state question was passed, 114 to 37.

County GOP Survives, But Meyner Gets Margin

FREEHOLD—Monmouth county voters Tuesday gave plurality of 318 votes to Governor Robert B. Meyner, making it the first time in 20 years a Democratic candidate was thus favored.

Unofficial statewide tallies as of this morning showed the governor re-elected by 1,098,904 votes over State Sen. Malcolm S. Forbes' 895,191. It marked the first time any N. J. governor ever received more than a million votes.

Following one of the most intensive campaigns in recent years, county Democratic candidates for assembly and freeholder were not victorious, but they cut deeply into the winners' totals.

Majorities Reduced

Republican Assemblymen Clifton T. Barkalow and Alfred N. Beadleston were re-elected hy a 5,848-vote margin compared to their 17,000 margin in 1955 and 14,000 margin in 1953.

The tallies for assembly were: Mr. Barkalow, 49,691, and Mr. Beadleston, 49,599, against John U. Giordano, 43,751, and Richard V. Keuper, 42,261.

The story was about the same for the incumbent Republican freeholders, Victor E. Grossinger and Earl L. Woolley, but they enjoyed a margin slightly better than their assembly counterparts—7,149 votes.

The tallies for freeholder were: Mr. Grossinger, 49,186, and Mr. Woolley, 50,406, against Richard E. Burke, 42,037, and Philip H. Fluhr, 41,644.

Year's Difference

As an indication of the powerful Democratic surge in the county, Mr. Fluhr, who also was a freeholder candidate then, last year missed the mark by a 36,352 margin. At the time, he and Leo Weinstein opposed Republican Freeholders Joseph C. Irwin and Walton Sherman.

Police departments throughout the county which had public questions on the ballot relative to pay raises—as well as Long Branch's paid firemen—were universally successful. In none of the municipalities were the police refused pay hikes. The only public question which was given a "no" answer was in Union Beach, where the voters decided against a $30,000 municipal building.

County voters also went along with the rest of the state in overwhelming approval of a constitutional change to permit new residents to vote after living in the state for six months; the county, 60 days. The present residence requirement is: in the state one year; the county five months. The question in the county was approved, 35,654 to 19,164.

Last Time in 1937

Gov. Meyner's 318-vote margin in Monmouth is favorable to the Democratic cause when it is considered that he lost the county to Paul Troast by 4,431 votes.

The last time a Democratic gubernatorial candidate carried the county, it was A. Harry Moore. He defeated Rev. Dr. Lester H. Clee in 1937 by 1,010 votes.

A combination of Governor Meyner's popularity and taxpayers' assorted grievances, such as those stemming from housing development residents, caused many surprises throughout the county. In Middletown, where G.O.P. majorities are perennial "sure things," the tallies were exceptionally close, albeit in the Republican column. Democrats there want a recount, in fact. Another Republican stronghold—Little Silver—will find itself with a Democratic mayor Jan. 1. Freehold township's Republican mayor also was defeated. Countering this, however, was the defeat of entrenched Democrats in Union Beach and Howell township.

Variance Issue Goes to Court

HIGHLANDS—The mayor and council last night authorized its attorney to answer a summons charging the borough with acting illegally in granting a zoning variance here last month.

The variance, obtained by Ernest A. Vaughan, 18 Navesink ave., permits operation of a restaurant and recreation room in a residential zone.

It has been challenged by Luke J. Penta, who owns a rooming house at 22 Navesink ave. Penta has filed a civil suit in Superior court naming the Borough of Highlands and Mr. and Mrs. Vaughan as co-defendants. Summonses were served Saturday.

The defendants have 20 days to file an answer in Superior court. Mayor Cornelius Guiney said last night "it will depend on developments" as to whether the council will "actively" enter the case or let the Vaughans fight it alone.

Mr. Penta claims in the suit that the borough's action was "illegal," based on its zoning laws; "a detriment to the public," and "arbitrary and capricious."

The council also introduced a controversial amendment to its zoning ordinance permitting the construction of boat basins along the waterfront.

Public hearing was set for Nov. 19. If the amendment is adopted at that time, as expected, it will clear the way for a $200,000 marina to be built by the Highlands Marina, Inc., on property bordering Bay ave., Sea Drift ave. and Atlantic st.

Mayor Guiney announced that as soon as approval is forthcoming from the building inspector and board of health, 12 houses along the lower section of the waterfront will be condemned.

As many as 10 and 12 persons are living in some of these substandard four-room units, which the mayor described as firetraps, without proper heat or hot water facilities.

The council received notice from the State Department of Conservation and Economics that 65 per cent of the cost of a borough "master plan" study will be borne by the federal and state governments—50 per cent by the federal government and 15 by the state.

The study, which is to cost $10,880, will project borough improvement plans over a 20-year period.

A decision on whether to go ahead with the plan, which will cost some $3,600 for the borough's share, will be placed in the hands of the planning board. If the board okays the expenditure, it will then come before the council for final approval.

Riverside Group Mulls Secession

LOCUST—The Riverside Drive association met Monday night and re-elected Richard M. Hurd president.

Mr. Hurd later appointed a committee to study the feasibility of seceding from the township. On it are Arnold Wood, chairman, and George Scott, Edward M. Crane, Paul Doherty and Paul Switz. Mr. Hurd charged the committee to try to determine the long-range effects of such a move.

Others elected were Mr. Scott and Mr. Wood, vice presidents; Spencer W. Pitts, secretary, and Bayard D. Stout, treasurer. About 60 persons attended the session, which was held in the home of Frank deGanahl of McClees and Bowne rds.

The group recently complained to the Middletown township committee that properties in its area, along the Navesink river, were assessed at a greater percentage of true value than the rest of the township.

The association said its officers would begin study of a proposal to form a separate municipality if action was not forthcoming in the matter.

Township officials had promised to look into the situation.

Housing Authority Eyes Land West of Tilton for Building

The Red Bank Housing Authority last night reached preliminary agreement that land west of Tilton ave., between West Bergen pl. and Sunset ave., would be a good place for the development of its public housing apartments.

The authority plans to build 90 housing units which may cost some $750,000, commissioners said.

The federal government already has given approval to the co-operative agreement between the U. S. Public Housing Administration, the Red Bank borough council and the authority, the group was informed.

Bonding Deadlock

Another deadlock, such as resulted from the recommendation and subsequent putting aside of Mayor George A. Gray as authority attorney, developed during the evening—over an item estimated to cost less than $10.

That was a proposal that Commissioner Arlene Rice pass along to her mother, Mrs. Constance Smith, insuror, the bonding of Executive Secretary Harold Baynton and Chairman Dr. Carmen Scarpellino for the $18,000 loan that the government will extend to the authority to start operations. That money is expected shortly.

Commissioner Fred Baar, who opposed naming Mayor Gray to the lawyer's job that eventually went to John P. Arnone, took strong issue with keeping even such small business "within the family," and the matter was held over for future decision. Mrs. Rice said that if this were done, the contract would go through the Birdsall agency, with the commission "split."

Mr. Baar, state appointed official, said he wanted to have "not one more word of criticism leveled against the authority," however small the money item.

'Fish Bowl Plan'

Mrs. Rice then said she was for a system whereupon in such matters involving buying the names of prospective dealers "would be drawn from a bowl . . . pick one and no one could criticize us." Opinions varied over that thought, but all went along with Commissioner Merrill Richardson's view that the matter was something to be better decided later.

The authority still is waiting for federal money to work with, to set up an office for Mr. Baynton and to use as capital in the initial investment for land.

Commissioner Ensley M. White pinpointed the land west of Tilton ave., and reaching to the Navesink river as an ideal site for the public housing site.

Condemnations Seen

There was general agreement that either the borough, upon action of its substandard housing unit, or the authority will have to carry through some condemnations to get the land needed for the housing. Mr. Baar said he believed it possible that the authority can directly purchase most of the land it needs.

2 New Sirens For Little Silver

LITTLE SILVER—Jay Berger, local Civil Defense and Disaster Control director, reported this week that two new sirens have been ordered by the borough and will be installed as soon as they arrive here.

One is of 10-horsepower and will be placed on Branch ave.

The other is of two-horsepower and is scheduled to be located in the borough hall area.

Both will be tied in with an existing siren at the railroad station, Mr. Berger said.

The sirens will be used jointly by the fire department and first aid squad, as well as the CD unit.

WEATHER

Fair today and tonight. High, 50. Low tonight, 40 to 45. Tomorrow cloudy followed by rain. High, 60. Gentle to moderate westerly winds today, becoming southerly tonight through tomorrow.

Middletown Board Adopts Bus Policy

MIDDLETOWN—The board of education last night adopted a formal policy on bus transportation.

The board sought this year to shorten and consolidate its transportation lines for economy reasons. There had been considerable complaint and criticism of inconvenience and danger to pupils who have to walk on heavily traveled roads.

Trevonian B. Crawford, chairman of the transportation committee, said the policy approved last night has been the one the board has been working to put into effect, although no formal action had been taken.

It provides that pupils in beginners' through fourth grades, living on a bus route, be required to walk no more than a half-mile to a bus stop or to school. Those not on a route will be required to walk not more than three-quarters of a mile. Fifth to 12th grade students will be required to walk no more than one mile.

There were 35 parents present, most of them interested in the bus problem. Some complaints of situations not in compliance with the policy were heard. Harold Copeland, board president, said all necessary corrections will be made.

Mrs. Vida McDonough, who has asked the board to make provision for Leonardo elementary pupils in the Leonardo school, was assured by Mr. Copeland that it will be done when the high school moves from Leonardo into the renovated Central school.

Monte B. Jones, of the board, said it now is expected that the changeover can be made by Jan. 1. Many Leonardo pupils now are attending classes in the Leonardo fire house and Baptist church.

Finances Good

In the audit of school finances for 1956-57, Morris Portner, Red Bank accountant, lauded the efficiency of the board's operations. He said the school's debt, including the bonds now authorized but not issued, is $5,381,000. The operation surplus as of June 30 was $86,658 over last year's, he noted. The auditor complimented James W. Davidheiser, board secretary, and his staff, on their efficiency.

A letter from the Middletown Township High School Parent-Teacher association, favoring higher teacher salaries, was referred to the personnel and finance committees.

Mr. Davidheiser announced that interest on the school district's note with the Atlantic Highlands National bank has been raised from three to 3½ per cent. The bank holds short term demand notes, issued pending sale of bonds for the current building program, amounting to $110,000.

Dr. Wylie G. Pate, superintendent, said October attendance was down five per cent because of the epidemic of flu-like diseases. Mr. Davidheiser said the effect of the cut on state aid, which is based on total attendance, would be insignificant.

Mental Health Moves Office

Gen. George L. VanDeusen of Fair Haven, president of the Monmouth County Mental Health association, announced this week that the association has moved its headquarters from the Carlton theater building in Red Bank to 255 Third ave., Long Branch. He expressed the association's appreciation to the Walter Reade Foundation for use of the quarters at 99 Monmouth st., where the association has been located five years.

Gen. Van Deusen said the new offices were made available by the board of governors of Monmouth Memorial hospital. Gen. VanDeusen emphasized that the move represents no change in the purposes and program of the association.

BOY STRUCK BY CAR

Douglas Gray, 10, of 10 St. Mary's pl., was reported in good condition in Riverview hospital yesterday suffering from a concussion, broken wrist and bruised leg. He was struck by a car Monday driven by P. Lefkowitz, 36, of 15 Clifford pl., on Shrewsbury ave.

It requires from four to 10 locomotives to tow and guide a ship through the Panama Canal.

Knife Attack Brings Fine

An attack with a knife on a Boro Bus driver over a five cent difference in bus fare cost a Middletown man $100 Monday. Magistrate John V. Crowell levied the fine against Henry Sanders, 57, of 64 Tindall rd., Middletown, and added a 90-day suspended sentence.

The complaint was signed by Edward O'Brien of 56 Wallace st., Red Bank. He charged that Sanders slashed his coat, shirt sleeve and wrist Wednesday, Oct. 23, at the Red Bank railroad station bus stop.

According to Mr. O'Brien's testimony, Mr. and Mrs. Sanders boarded his bus in front of the Central school in Middletown. Mrs. Sanders dropped 20 cents in the fare collector for two persons, and O'Brien told her the fare was 15 cents per person.

O'Brien said a short argument followed and he told Mr. and Mrs. Sanders they could settle the argument in Red Bank. In Red Bank, they talked to Alfred E. LaBrecque, Boro Bus traffic manager.

Mr. LaBrecque told the court that he discussed the fare with Mr. and Mrs. Sanders, and that during the discussion, he told Mr. O'Brien to continue on with his route.

At this point, he said, Mr. Sanders said, "I'm going to cut him. "For a lousy nickle don't get yourself in a jam," Mr. LaBrecque said he told Sanders.

Jesse W. Smith of 10 Francis ct., Shrewsbury, another bus driver, said O'Brien had gotten back in the driver's seat of the bus when Sanders started after him with a knife in his hand.

In the short struggle that followed, O'Brien's jacket, shirt sleeve and wrist were cut.

Mrs. Sanders testified that during the discussion in Red Bank with Mr. LaBrecque, Mr. O'Brien told her husband, "I'll kill you." According to Mrs. Sanders, Mr. O'Brien boarded the bus, then started to get off again with his hand behind his back under his jacket.

During his testimony, Mr. Sanders said Mr. O'Brien swore at him and then boarded the bus. Mr. Sanders said he thought Mr. O'Brien was "reaching for something" and that he had it "in his mind to kill me." When Mr. O'Brien came back off the bus, Mr. Sanders said "I made for him" with his knife.

Mr. Sanders said the nickel difference in the fare didn't make any difference to him.

New Shrewsbury GOP Runs High

NEW SHREWSBURY — This borough gave substantial victory margins to two Republican council candidates in Tuesday's election, but gave Governor Robert B. Meyner a 184-vote margin.

Council incumbent Clarence E. Unterberg was given 972 votes while his running mate, Robert L. McCall, collected 969 votes.

Their opposition was Nathan N. Phipps, a Democrat. He received 664 votes.

As a result of the election, the local government remains in all-Republican hands.

Assessor Walter L. Canfield and Collector Ruth B. Crawford were both returned to office. The former received 1,115 votes, the latter 1,135.

In the race for governor, Meyner rolled up 761 votes to 577 for Sen. Malcolm S. Forbes.

Other Results

For the assembly and freeholder jobs, the Republicans fared well here.

Assembly, Republican, Alfred N. Beadleston, 879, and Clifton T. Barkalow, 859; Democrat, John C. Giordano, Jr., 749, and Richard V. Keuper, 623.

Freeholder, Republican, Earl L. Woolley, 891, and Victor E. Grossinger, 867, and Democrat, Richard E. Burke, 630, and Philip H. Fluhr, 610.

The state question received local approval. There were 734 "yes" votes cast and 255 "no" votes.

Freeholders to Go Ahead With County Jail Expansion

FREEHOLD—The freeholders yesterday decided to pursue plans for enlargement of the county jail.

Planning, long in progress, had been held up by the construction of the new million-dollar courthouse and conversion of the old building into the Hall of Records.

However, Sheriff Ira E. Wolcott went before the county board to tell of discussions he has had on this proposal with representatives of the State Department of Institutions and Agencies. He said he will submit the program as soon as it has won state approval.

The jail long has been considered outmoded for use in fast-growing Monmouth. Previous thought has been that it should include a rehabilitation center.

In another measure, the freeholders agreed to finance a blinker light for the five-corner intersection of the county rd. in Lincroft. As explained by Freeholder Director Joseph C. Irwin, head of the road department, the county is waiting for final details on installations at gasoline service stations there before drawing up final plans. These will then be submitted to the State Highway department for approval.

Mr. Irwin also asked Howard Preston, road supervisor, and Leo McKee, engineer, to prepare plans for easing the "S" turn on Rumson rd. at Buena Vista ave. in Rumson, where there have been a series of accidents. He said that while the county acted to put up a steel safety fense there, accidents have continued and solution to the traffic problem appears to be in straightening the road.

The freeholders received a request from Mrs. Jerrold H. Meyer of Rumson that the county act to set up a volunteer mental health board, as permitted under state legislation adopted last year, to help with county cases.

They explained they had been appropriating $10,000 a year to the mental health department of Monmouth Memorial hospital and had been in conference with the hospital about the plan for the establishment of the board. That group would be unsalaried, it was said. A further report is expected at the freeholders' next meeting, Wednesday, Nov. 20.

Contracts for the reconstruction of two bridges in Howell township were awarded to A. P. Thompson & Sons, Red Bank, on a bid of $8,797.82.

Freibott Brothers of Port Monmouth were awarded contracts for the storm drains on a bid of $8,569.67. The drains are to be installed at locations along county rt. 8.

Mrs. Gerrald Meyer, Ocean ave., Sea Bright, representing the Monmouth County Mental Health Association, requested the board to appoint a county mental health board. The freeholders took the matter under advisement.

Benefit, Cake Baking Contest Earns $433

NEW MONMOUTH — The Central School Parent-Teacher association's fall benefit and cake baking contest last month made a net profit of $433.87. That report was given by the benefit chairmen, Mr. and Mrs. John Kane, when the executive board met this week in the school.

Mrs. James E. Burke gave a report of the state PTA convention, which she attended last month in Atlantic City with Mrs. Jack Preston, Mrs. Charles Tindall, president, and Mrs. Mat-Mrs. Irving Wallace, alternate, will attend the county PTA council meeting Nov. 25.

Hathomar Club to Give Vaudeville Show in Fair Haven

Members of the Hathomar Couple club of the Red Bank Presbyterian church get set to practice a Charleston number for their vaudeville show to be presented tomorrow and Saturday at 8:30 p. m. in the Willow Street school in Fair Haven. They are, left to right, Mrs. Arnold Galbraith, Mrs. Joseph Bryan, Mrs. Douglas McCrum, Mrs. Gordon Irwin, Jr., Mrs. Milton Finley, Mrs. Frank Whiting, Mrs. Horst Kedesdy, Mrs. Jack Cusick and Mrs. Richard Hoff.

Close Vote Highlights Middletown Election

MIDDLETOWN — A marked cutback in the heretofore overwhelming Republican strength in the township was indicated Tuesday when the two GOP township committee candidates squeezed out victories by margins of only 883 and 141 votes.

County and state candidates on the same ticket were somewhat stronger, with margins running up to 800 and 900 votes, but the Republican percentage margin still was the smallest in many years.

Republican Elmer Hesse of Port Monmouth, seeking the township committee post of Joseph K. Edwards, who did not seek re-election, edged Democrat Rolf H. Paulsen of New Monmouth by 83 votes, 5,206 to 5,123. Incumbent Committeeman John T. Lawley polled 5,264 votes and Democrat Edward J. Coughlin of Leonardo, 5,058.

Recount Asked

MIDDLETOWN — Township Democrats have announced they will ask for a recount of Tuesday's voting here.

After a meeting yesterday, Arthur Charles, the local party chairman, and the candidates, Edward J. Coughlin and Rolf H. Paulsen, said they would ask the county court to impound the voting machines. They will ask recounts of all 13 districts.

Inasmuch as all voting was by machine, which automatically tabulates results, a recount probably would involve only a re-check of the tabulations.

Mr. Charles said that in view of the fact that 10,621 votes were cast and that the margins amounted to only 83 and 141 votes, he felt an error in tabulation could have affected the outcome.

He said he has conferred with county and local party leaders who feel that a recount request would be in order.

Local voting gave Mr. Hesse and Committeeman Lawley margins of only 59 and 116 votes, respectively, over Mr. Paulsen, but returns of absentee and military ballots boosted their pluralities.

Police Pay Hike

Township voters endorsed the proposal to give flat $700 pay increases to members of the police department. The vote was 4,535 to 3,529.

Mr. Lawley was appointed to the township committee in January, 1953, and began his first elective term one year later. Mr. Hesse has been a member of the township zoning board of adjustment for 14 years.

The township gave Sen. Malcolm S. Forbes a plurality in the gubernatorial race with 5,549 votes to 4,759 for Democratic incumbent Gov. Robert B. Meyner. In the assembly contest, Republicans Alfred N. Beadleston and Clifton T. Barkalow received 5,633 and 5,547 respectively, to top Democrats John C. Giordano, Jr., with 4,665 and Richard V. Keuper, who had 4,652.

Republicans Victor E. Grossinger and Earl L. Woolley compiled 5,534 votes and 5,445 respectively, in the freeholder race. Democrat Richard E. Burke, of Middletown, polled 4,887 and Philip H. Fluhr, his running mate, 4,664.

The state question was approved, 4,897 to 2,777.

Margins Cut

Last year in the township, which in a few years of spectacular growth has become the county's largest municipality, the local Republican candidates were given majorities of about 3,000 votes.

In that presidential election year, there were 12,769 votes cast of a total registration of 13,781. The total vote Tuesday was 10,553 out of a registration of 14,248.

The Democratic committee candidates this year staged a strenuous campaign while the Republicans were comparatively inactive. Among issues raised by the GOP opponents, in a drive that came closer to success than most local pundits anticipated, were rising taxes and the inconvenience to residents of afternoon committee meetings.

Several groups and many individuals have asked the all-Republican committee to schedule its regular meetings at night. For various reasons, the committee has declined to do so. It meets second and fourth Wednesdays at 3:30 p. m.

The police pay hike question was watched with interest and the pre-election forecasts, oven by its staunchest supporters, were doubtful. The Patrolman's Benevolent association went "over the heads" of the township committee in petitioning for the public referendum on the proposal. Officials had expressed themselves as opposed to the raises.

Spirit of Christmas Prevails at Halloween

FAIR HAVEN—The spirit of Christmas was injected into Halloween festivities here Thursday night.

And the story is about Phip Chinnock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin L. Chinnock, 126 Hance rd.

He joined in the costume parade here with Dick Isbrandtsen—wearing the costume of Dick's sister, Lynne. She was ill and could not take part in the parade.

Lynne and Dick are the youngsters of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Isbrandtsen, Haddon park.

Both Phip and Dick were awarded first prize for their costumes in the fire house. Each won a wrist watch.

But Phip didn't keep his.

He turned it over to Lynne—"for, after all," he told her, "it is rightfully yours."

The decision—a mighty big one for a 12-year-old—was made by Phip alone.

3 Hurt in Crash In Middletown

MIDDLETOWN — Three persons were injured early Tuesday in an accident on rt. 35 just north of Navesink River rd.

Richard Lista, 488 Springdale ave., Long Branch, driver of one of the cars, was admitted to Riverview hospital, where his condition was reported fair last night. He suffered a possible shoulder fracture, chest injuries and cuts.

PFC David C. Spencer of Weathersfield, Conn., stationed at the Chapel Hill Nike base, driver of the other car, was treated for a head inury and cuts in Riverview and was transported to the Fort Monmouth hospital. His condition last night was good.

Mrs. Evelyn Walling, 74 Pinewood ave., West Keansburg, a passenger in Mr. Lista's car, was treated in Riverview for a head injury and cuts.

Police said Lista was driving north on the highway and Spencer was going south when their cars collided headon at 12:40 a. m. Both drivers were summoned to answer careless driving charges.

Bayshore Man Jailed in Default

MIDDLETOWN—William Jones, 70 Wesley ave., Atlantic Highlands, was fined $25 by Magistrate W. Gilbert Manson yesterday on a disorderly conduct charge. He was sent to county jail for 10 days in default of the fine.

Rex Sterling, 1210 Union ave., Union Beach, charged with being drunk and disorderly, was fined $30. Nancy Bennett, 24, Washington ave., Leonardo, charged with being disorderly, was given a suspension of a six months' jail sentence and placed on probation for six months.

George Doroschenko, Pine st., River Plaza, charged with disorderly conduct on complaint of his wife, was fined $25 and given a three months' suspended sentence.

John Frank, 554 Palmer ave., East Keansburg, who was charged with disorderly conduct by his wife, Margaret, was fined $5 and costs were suspended. Dorothy Swartz, rt. 35, was placed under bond pending grand jury action on a charge of issuing a bad check.

Eatontown Club To Hear Lawyer

EATONTOWN — Florence F. Forgotson, Red Bank lawyer and former chairman of international relations department of the New Jersey State Federation of Women's clubs, will be guest speaker at a meeting of the Woman's Community club tonight in Memorial school auditorium. Meeting plans were completed when the executive board met last week in the borough library.

Mrs. Leslie D. Seely, president, said that at tonight's meeting, plans will be completed for members to enter the Vogue pattern dressmaking contest.

County Callers' Club To Meet in Holmdel

EATONTOWN — The Monmouth County Callers' club, an organization for those interested in square dancing, Sunday made plans for a December meeting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fellman in Holmdel. Guests will be members of county square dance clubs. The program will include round table discussions of square dances, followed by entertainment.

The Sunday meeting was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Krassner, 24 Elizabeth pkwy. Mrs. Hart Webber, treasurer, said the club is in "good financial condition." An informal workshop on round dances followed. Refreshments were served.

Keansburg Workers Ask Pay Hike of 20%, Other Benefits

KEANSBURG—Borough maintenance workers have asked council for a 20 per cent pay boost next year.

In a letter read last night, the employees also ask extension of sick leave time from 10 to 15 days and that it be cumulative over three years. They ask for election day as an added holiday, and time-and-a-half pay after 40 hours a week.

Provision for three weeks vacation, instead of two, for workers with 10 years of service also is asked.

The council referred the request to its budget file for study when the 1958 operating estimate is drafted.

C. Bernard Blum, borough manager, asked to estimate the cost to the borough of the requested raise, said it would be about $15,000. The maintenance group, which comprises almost all borough employees except police, consists of about 20 persons, he said.

Borough workers' salaries were adjusted earlier in the year, retroactive to Jan. 1, through a revision of job classifications. Under the present schedule, the minimum wage is $3,500. Maximum for non-administrative workers is $4,200, and superintendents receive several hundred dollars more, Mr. Blum said.

Housing Standards

At the request of the board of health, the council will schedule a joint meeting with the board to plan for a housing standards and occupancy ordinance. Council has been studying the problem of winter occupancy of buildings designed for summer use only. The same problem was pointed out by the health board in its letter.

Councilman Martin C. Lohsen said some substandard buildings, without proper heat, insulation and sanitary facilities, are being advertised in North Jersey as available here at low rentals.

The borough attorney, building and plumbing inspectors, and fire department representatives will be asked to attend the meeting.

John B. Vincenzo, Newark, replying to a borough request to correct an encroachment at property he owns at 8 Shady Nook, said in a letter that there apparently are other encroachments in the area. He said he felt it not fair that he be singled out and required to make correction.

Councilmen said the sidewalk and a trellis at the address encroach on the borough street. They ordered Mr. Vincenzo notified that if other violations exist, owners will be required to correct them. Meanwhile, however, he will be expected to remove his encroachment.

Vincent J. Indelicato, Jersey City, was appointed borough auditor to succeed William A. Sternkopf, Jr., who is retiring from the municipal accounting field. Councilman Louis Collichio dissented in the vote after suggesting that a firm, rather than an individual, be appointed. Mayor James J. Gravany said Mr. Indelicato has been doing the borough work in Mr. Sternkopf's office.

Name Slocum For Fire Chief

RUMSON—John Slocum of the Rumson fire company was nominated for chief of the Rumson fire department at a meeting of Oceanic Hook and Ladder company last night. Mr. Slocum is curently serving as assistant chief this year and will come up for election next month.

Other officers nominated were Edward Sherman for assistant chief, and Hyatt Cunningham, for captain.

Contests resulted for first and second lieutenant. Nominated for first lieutenant were John Sammon and Robert Maras. John Karinja and Mr. Maras were nominated for second lieutenant.

A contest for president resulted with Arthur G. Mellish, current president, and Russell McCue, being candidates. Other nominations included Robert Zerr, vice president; Frank W. Balgent, secretary; Mr. Cunningham, assistant secretary, and Millard Aumack, treasurer.

William Walker was nominated sergeant-at-arms and Paul Whitfield and Royal Moss, 3d, are in a contest for trustee.

Drivers named were Mr. Balgent, Edward Bond, William Boyce, Stephen Cooke, Mr. Cunningham, James Halligan, John Kondrup, Kenneth Marass, Robert Marass, Mr. McCue, Mr. Mellish, August Muegge, William Murphy, Pete Pauels, Mr. Sammon, Melvin J. Scheidt, Mr. Sherman, James K. Shea, Jr., William Walker and Mr. Zerr.

Fire police named were Joseph Desmond, Raymond Desmond, Joseph Duryea, George Hallanan, Raymond McGirr, Charles Muegge, Thomas Oakes and Arthur Pauels.

Charles Briggs and Andrew Zerr were named representatives to the relief association, Mr. Balgent to the memorial fund committee; Mr. McGirr, Arthur Pauels and George Silvers to the Monmouth County Firemen's association and Mr. Hallanan and Mr. McGirr to the New Jersey Volunteer Firemen's association.

Woman, Boy Hurt in Crash

LINCROFT—Mrs. Estelle Coffey, Phalanx rd., and her son Brian, 12, were injured yesterday when Mrs. Coffey's car overturned on Lincroft-Middletown rd.

Mrs. Coffey was admitted to Riverview hospital with a compound fracture of the left leg and suffering from shock. Her condition was reported as fair. Brian was treated for cuts of the left hand and released.

Mrs. Coffey told Middletown police she was driving north at 8:15 a. m. when a bird flew across the path of her car. When she veered to one side, the car ran up on an embankment and overturned.

The Lincroft first aid squad took the injured to the hospital.

St. Agnes Holy Name Unit to Hear Kniffen

ATLANTIC HIGHLANDS—Harry Kniffen of Fair Haven will be guest speaker at a breakfast meeting of St. Agnes Holy Name society Sunday, in St. Agnes school cafeteria after the 8 o'clock mass.

Mr. Kniffen is past president of St. James Holy Name society of Red Bank and past grand knight of Red Bank council, Knights of Columbus.

Mayor Restates Position On Persons Who 'Use' Civic Groups

Prowler Stabs Cop 12 Times

EATONTOWN — Patrolman Henry L. Riddle, 31, is expected home today from Monmouth Memorial hospital where he has been a patient since Sunday when he was stabbed 12 times after being attacked by a prowler.

The patrolman, who has been a member of the force five years, was attacked by Lucian Ruffin, 18, of 31 West st., this place, according to police.

Police Chief William Zadorozny said Ruffin stabbed Riddle with a four-inch penknife as the patrolman was investigating a call that a house at 50 Main st. owned by Misses Meta and Blanche Battin had been broken into.

The owners called police about 1 a. m. Sunday after hearing breaking glass and a noise in the home.

Chief Zadorozny said Patrolman Riddle entered the house with a flashlight and drawn revolver. He checked the downstairs rooms, but when he flung open the door to the darkened kitchen, he was pounced upon.

Zadorozny said Ruffin and Riddle fought—the former using the knife and the patrolman using the butt of his revolver—before Riddle was able to handcuff his assailant.

The Volunteer Ambulance corps took the patrolman and his prisoner to the hospital. The prowler was treated for superficial cuts of the head and hand.

Arraigned before Magistrate Peter J. Edwardsen, Ruffin was held without bail for action of the grand jury on a charge of assault with a knife. The police chief said Ruffin, who is on probation from Annandale, was charged last year in New Shrewsbury with the same offense.

One of the stab wounds penetrated Riddle's lung, the chief said. He also was cut in the back, neck and face.

Scrapbook Work Begun by Brownies

HIGHLANDS — Members of Brownie Scout troop 203 have started work on scrapbooks under the supervision of Mrs. Walter A. Mewes, leader, and Mrs. Luke Penta, assistant, in the community center Monday. The scrapbooks will be given to the children's wards at one of the local hospitals upon completion.

The members also are studying various kinds of flowers. The girls were briefed on cookie salesmanship for the cookie drive, which started Saturday and ends Nov. 16.

Due to Veterans day, there will be no meeting Monday.

Present were Carolyn Amaro, Jean Beatty, Diane Horan, Nancy Kennebeck, Sandra Kornek, Jo-Ann Mewes, Iram Pena, Joan Penta, Donna Ruggiano, Mary Dell Wood, Arlene Schmedes, Noreen Lahey and Linda Black.

Pollyanna Party For Girls Friendly

HIGHLANDS—Members of the Girls Friendly Sponsors of the St. Andrews Episcopal church met Friday night in the parish hall. Miss Violette Murray, president, said a pollyanna secret pal party will be held Friday night, Nov. 15, with Mrs. Elizabeth Heliker, chairman, in charge. Secret pals having birthdays in October, November and December will be celebrated.

Refreshments were served following the meeting with Mrs. Frederick Voorhees and Mrs. John P. Adair as co-hostesses. Attending were Mrs. Millie Blair, Mrs. Heliker, Mrs. Frank Hemhauser, Mrs. Alvina King, Mrs. Paul Muir, Mrs. Gilbert Parker, Mrs. Helen J. Shea, Mrs. Hubbard Stiles, Mrs. Alfred W. Wright, Sr., Miss Murray and Mrs. Voorhees.

Cotton got its name from the Arabic "Kutn" (Cut in), which means "a plant found in conquered lands." Cotton was grown in India as early as 3,000 B.C.

SHREWSBURY—Mayor John H. Hawkins last night restated his stand against "commercial agents" who "use a civic association" to push the borough council.

The stand came after the mayor was questioned during the council meeting by Abraham J. Zager, a member of the Shrewsbury Neighborhood association.

Mr. Zager questioned remarks made by the mayor at council's Oct. 15 meeting. At that meeting, council had received a letter from the Neighborhood association stating that the Ray Stillman agency had completed the sale of a 275x700-foot property located on Shrewsbury ave. to the Good Humor corporation. The letter, signed by Albert R. Tebo, president of the association, recommended borough approval of Good Humor plans to build a distribution center there for its ice cream products.

After the letter was read, Mayor Hawkins said, "I am surprised a real estate agent would use a civic association to further his purposes in the community."

At last night's meeting, Mr. Zager said he was appearing in a double role—as a member of the Neighborhood association and as an attorney for Mr. Stillman. He said he was not speaking for the association, but merely as a member.

Mr. Zager told council that the letter from the association was written after a discussion of the Good Humor matter. He stated that Councilmen Edgar W. Heller, Jr., John W. VanBrunt and William W. Curdt all attended the meeting and didn't say not to write the letter.

Later in the meeting, Mr. VanBrunt said he attended the Neighborhood association meeting "as a guest, not a member," and that he "wouldn't have said anything anyway."

Mr. Zager said the association is trying to bring to the attention of the mayor and council a matter it had heard about. "If you infer the association is trying to press council," Mr. Zager started to say. At that point Mayor Hawkins interrupted with: "I'm not inferring anything. We all welcome any co-operation or suggestions from any association. I have taken no attitude except that of a governing official trying to do a good job."

The mayor told Mr. Zager he had written Mr. Tebo a letter stating council—"had no grief" with the Neighborhood association. But, the mayor said, "I don't think it's right for any commercial individual to use any association to push council."

Forbes Tops Meyner; Democrats Sweep Rest

KEANSBURG — Sen. Malcolm S. Forbes was the only winning Republican candidate here Tuesday. He tallied 1,035 votes in the race against Gov. Robert B. Meyner, who received 962.

Sen. Forbes' victory was attributed to the ban on beachfront games in the state, for which concessionaries blamed Meyner.

John C. Giordano, Jr., led the Democrats in the assembly contest. He received 1,039 votes and his running mate, Richard V. Keuper, received 985. On the Republican ticket, Alfred N. Beadleston collected 922 votes and Clifton T. Barkalow received 929. In the vote for the Board of Freeholders, Democrat Philip H. Fluhr tallied 978 and Richard E. Burke tallied 1,014. Of the Republicans, Victor E. Grossinger received 924 and Earl L. Woolley, 924. The state question passed, 648 to 352.

Yearbook Photos Made In Central School

MIDDLETOWN—Eighth grade pupils in Central school had their pictures taken Tuesday and yesterday for the yearbook.

The first issue of the Central Star, school paper, came out last Thursday. Standard tests in reading, arithmetic, English and intelligence quotient were given eighth graders last week. There was a test in work-study-skills Monday.

Pupils will have a holiday today through Monday because of a state teachers' convention.

Regional School Planning Renewed

KEANSBURG — Planning for a Bayshore regional high school got under way for the third time Monday night with the participating team now cut to three school districts.

Earl B. Garrison, county superintendent of schools, presented a tentative study plan to representatives of the Keansburg, Union Beach and Raritan township boards at a meeting here. A number of figures in the study, which is concerned with costs and curriculum, will be changed as a result of Monday's discussion.

The changes will present a more advantageous cost picture and a more realistic estimate of enrollment division by districts.

The study committee will meet again Nov. 25 to approve the revised study. The governing bodies of each municipality involved will be invited to that meeting to hear an explanation of the plan.

$1.5 Million Program

A $1,500,000 school designed to accommodate 900 to 1,200 pupils is planned.

The regional study began Nov. 1, 1955, with the Atlantic Highlands and Highlands boards, as well as those now involved, participating. Atlantic Highlands voted down the five-district plan when it was submitted to the five boards Nov. 14, 1956.

The remaining districts began a new study April 8, 1957, but the four-district proposal was rejected by the Highlands board Aug. 26.

Mr. Garrison said all the statistics in the new report have been revised in terms of the number of students. The committee felt, however, that the type of program suggested in the earlier study should not be changed. Because the anticipated Highlands pupil load was only a small portion of the total in the previous plan, cost figures are changed but little.

Pupil Estimate

The future enrollment forecast presented Monday night was based on projections of the current grammar school enrollments in each town. The current population influx in Raritan township was not considered, Mr. Garrison said. He pointed out, however, that neither was estimate made of the probable reduction of figures for the other two districts, where population is near saturation and some high school dropout is normal.

The total enrollment forecast thus may be fairly accurate, he said. It estimates 755 students in 1960-61, increasing to 1,260 in 1969-70.

At the suggestion of Jeremiah Wilson of the Keansburg board, Mr. Garrison will add another enrollment estimate table, seeking to present a more realistic picture of division of enrollment. It will take into consideration Raritan's growth and the probable reduction in pupil load from the other two districts.

Mr. Wilson said it would be difficult to "sell the bill" to Keansburg voters on the basis of the figures now in the study.

Cost Cuts Seen

Cost figures also will be revised. The 40 teachers estimated as the need for the first year of operation, 1960-61, will be cut to 35. Mr. Garrison said the smaller number seems more practical in the light of anticipated enrollment of 755. The change will reduce estimated teaching cost for the first year by $25,000.

Also to be revised, for purposes of cost comparison, are probable future tuition costs if the school is not built. They will be increased on the basis of announced hikes in both Keyport and Middletown high school charges, now being paid by the three boards.

The changes agreed upon will make the figures in the study as presented Monday night meaningless, Mr. Garrison pointed out. He said copies of the revision will be sent to all board members before the Nov. 25 meeting so action can be taken at that time.

When the study committee approves the plan it will be sent to the state commissioner of education for his approval.

Public Vote Needed

Then a date will be set for meetings of the three boards for individual approval. At the same if it is approved, the boards will adopt resolutions asking the commissioner to set a date for local referendums on the plan to establish a regional school district.

Union Beach reaction to the newest plan is the least predictable. Some public opposition there on the cost factor is anticipated. Both Raritan and Keansburg have been asked by their receiving districts to find other high school facilities. Keyport high school still is available to Union Beach students.

Under the plan, cost of school construction would be amortized over 20 years. Each district would be assessed annually over that period on the basis of its average total assessment for the three previous years. Operation costs would be divided in proportion to the number of pupils from each district.

If the regional district is approved by the voters of all districts, Mr. Garrison would appoint a temporary regional board. He said he hopes for favorable action by January, so that a permanent, elected board could take office in March. School elections are in February.

George Johnson of the Keansburg board said there still is talk among townspeople of the possibility of a Keansburg high school. Mr. Garrison said the borough could not finance a school on its own, and said it is generally agreed that operation of a school for less than 700 students is impractical and uneconomical.

POST DINNER SET

KEYPORT—Raritan post 28, American Legion, will have its annual Veterans day dinner Saturday at 8 p. m. in Ye Cottage inn. Post officers said reservations for the dinner will be required. Dancing will follow.

Two Indicted In Jailbreak

FREEHOLD — Two Bayshore youths who broke out of the county jail last month and were apprehended in New York six days later were indicted by the Monmouth county grand jury last Thursday and pleaded innocent the next day.

Indicted were Joseph Hayes, 18, of Randall pl., Keansburg, and Anthony Volpe, 21, of Clark st., West Keansburg, who allegedly sawed their way through two bars in the jail. Hayes' sister, Mrs. Patricia Hayes Apgar, of the Keansburg address, and Sanford Hudson, Washington pl., Keansburg, were indicted the week before on charges of obstructing justice by aiding the escapees.

Hayes was in the county jail to await action on an alleged theft, for which the grand jury also indicted him. Although he was only 17 at the time of the theft Sept. 20, the juvenile court ruled the case was serious enough to warrant its presentation to the grand jury. He also pleaded not guilty to the theft charge.

He is charged with breaking into Murphy's bar, Shore Acres ave., East Keansburg, and taking a television set, an intercommunications system, a wire recorder, a radio and three bottles of liquor, as well as some cash. The total value was listed at $601.

Volpe was in the county jail serving a sentence of 360 days imposed in the Middletown township municipal court for the offense.

Five inmates of the county jail, including Hayes' brother, James, have been charged with aiding the jailbreak, and are awaiting a preliminary hearing before the local magistrate.

Linden Woman Hurt in Crash

MATAWAN—A Linden woman is in fair condition in Perth Amboy General hospital after an accident Friday in which she suffered a brain concussion.

Police reported that Donald D. Greed, 20, of Point Pleasant, and Otto P. Kalning, 61, of Linden, were driving south on rt. 34 when Mr. Kalning, in the front car, attempted to make a left turn, resulting in a collision of the two cars.

Mrs. O. P. Kalning, was taken to the hospital by the borough first aid squad. Neither driver was injured. Both received summonses returnable here Nov. 18 on charges of careless driving.

Mothers Sponsor Party for Troop 225

ATLANTIC HIGHLANDS—The card party, sponsored by the mothers of Intermediate Girl Scout troop 225 last week, in the American Legion hall was well attended. The girls of the troop presented a fashion show featuring Girl Scout clothing and suggestions for camping equipment.

The Halloween favors were made by the girls and they served the refreshments to their mothers and guests. Troop members taking part in the fashion show were Tanya Ashuck, Diane Baker, Christine Crockett, Thelma Fielding, Sandra Hancock, Carolyn Junkelman, Barbara Kelly, Lois Larsen, Kathy Lesher, Linda Lisbeck, Jean Lowry, Gloria Manganelli, Geraldine Marx, Carol McCurdy, Patricia Means, Linda Panaccione, Cathy Phillips, Carol Ann Rudd, Arlene Sahrbeck, Florence Zeller and Francine Zeller. HAZLET — Ten prizes were awarded for costumes at a Halloween party held Friday night by Girl Scout troops in the Hazlet fire house. Winners were Judy Terry, Dorothy Terry, Kathryn Pesciniti, Janis Layton, Shelly Proctor, Mary Hansic, Jean Kelsey, Linda June Lanzara, Arlene Gaietti and Beatrice Cox.

Cloverleaf troop 25 made Halloween favors for Riverview hospital. Brownie troop 18 made favors for the two troops' party.

It pays to advertise in The Register.—Advertisement.

New Lincroft School To Be Dedicated Sunday

LINCROFT — Dr. Mason W. Gross of Rumson, Rutgers university provost, will be principal speaker at the dedication of the new Lincroft school, Newman Springs rd., Sunday at 2:30 p. m.

Members of the Middletown township board of education, administrators and Mrs. Geraldine L. Thompson of Brookdale farm will participate in the dedication and cornerstone ceremony. Mrs. Thompson's son, Lewis S. Thompson, Jr., donated the 17-acre tract on which the school was built to the board of education.

The Lincroft building, which is opposite the older Lincroft school, has been in use since September.

Seven Who Made It . . .

And One Who Didn't

His pretty hat askew and his energy used up in the exertion of marching, 20-month-old Richard Grey strikes a pensive pose as he contemplates the River Plaza Halloween goings-on comfortably perched on daddy's arm. Richard is son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Grey, 18 McLean st.

Red Bank Man Injured by Car

HEADDEN'S CORNER—Harry W. Reilly, 63, of 53 Wallace st., Red Bank, was admitted to Riverview hospital Friday after he was struck by a car on rt. 35 at Pine st.

Middletown police said Mr. Reilly was crossing the highway and was struck by a southbound car driven by Frederick Beam, 139 Wilson ave., Port Monmouth. Mr. Beam, and the driver of another car who saw the accident, reported the man walked into the path of the car and the driver was unable to avoid hitting him.

Mr. Reilly was taken to the hospital by the Fairview first aid squad. He suffered a compound fracture of the leg, ankle and knee bruises, and minor cuts, the hospital reported. His condition was reported good.

THIMBLE CLUB MEETS

LONG BRANCH — Mrs. John B. Hulse, 34 Lowden st., entertained the Thimble club Tuesday afternoon. Refreshments and games followed the needlework period. Prizes were awarded to Mrs. Arthur R. Mason, Mrs. Stella Gibson and Mrs. Charles Van Brackle. Others attending were Mrs. Edward M. Berry, Sr., Mrs. George C. D. Hurley, Mrs. Charles S. Guillaudeu, Mrs. H. Whitney Conrow and Mrs. Edward C. Wilson, Sr., all of Oceanport. Mrs. Hurley will be the hostess for the Nov. 25 meeting.

Mrs. Voorhis will represent the chapter in the organization's international Valentine contest. If chosen, her picture will appear in the February issue of Torch, the Beta Sigma Phi magazine.

Chief Lists Rules For Leaf-Burning

MATAWAN — Residents who burn leaves improperly in this borough are liable to get summonses for their trouble.

Fire Chief Frank J. Gray reported yesterday that it is unlawful to burn leaves in the gutter. He also warned homeowners that leaves must be burned at least 20 feet from any house or building, must be contained in a closed receptacle, and that a water hose must be available at all times.

The fire department made these announcements: Midway Hose company auxiliary will hold its annual meeting Monday at Burlew's restaurant, Laurence Harbor. Mrs. Stanley Ellison will be installed as president, and Mrs. Michael J. Eovino, as vice president.

Hook and Ladder company will celebrate its 80th anniversary with a party at Peterson's Buttonwood Manor Saturday.

Haley Hose company auxiliary staged its annual dinner at Coby's restaurant Saturday. New officers installed were Mrs. John Rainko, president; Mrs. Joseph Mazza, vice president; Mrs. George Magnanet, secretary, and Mrs. Frank Gray Sr., treasurer.

Chief Gray announced that the department, including auxiliaries and the drum and bugle corps, received an award for the "best appearing" unit at the Trenton State fair.

The following meetings are scheduled for the month:

Midway Hose auxiliary, Monday; Washington Engine company, Tuesday; Hook and Ladder, Wednesday; Haley Hose company, next Thursday; Haley Hose auxiliary, Nov. 20; Board of fire officers, Nov. 21; Hook and Ladder auxiliary and Washington Engine auxiliary, Nov. 25.

Legion Starts Toy Collection

LEONARDO — The fifth annual toy drive of the American Legion post is under way, Walter Woods, drive chairman, announced this week.

Toys, new or old, are being received at the Legion home. Residents also may telephone Mr. Woods or John Fisher to pick up toys at their homes. The toys will be fixed and distributed to underprivileged children for Christmas.

The Legion will stage a square dance at the post home Saturday night. Advance ticket sales indicate a large crowd. George Krassner of Eatontown will be the caller.

An American flag is being flown at the home every day in memory of Robert Weber, a deceased veteran, whose family donated the flag given to them by the government.

The next post meeting is scheduled for Monday.

Troop 142 Holds Halloween Party

ATLANTIC HIGHLANDS—Girl Scout troop 142 held a Halloween party last week in Odd Fellows hall under the supervision of Mrs. Harold Hadfield, leader, assisted by Misses Patricia Shead and Patricia Hadfield, program aides. Refreshments were served and prizes were presented to the girls.

No meeting will be held this week, as Mrs. Hadfield will teach basketry to members of the Girl Scout Leaders' club.

Attending last week were Ingrid Alban, Mary Beth Allen, Joy Brown, Jacqueline Corrie, Susan Dutkin, Colleen Finan, Bonnie Fox, Penny Gregerson, Nancy Ann Hadfield, Susan LaMuyon, Barbara McCallum, Sharon Mason, Cheryl Pinnetti, Beverly Quackenbush, Sharon Thorne, Linda Van Fleet, Janie Simpson, Gale Shugard, Amy Webersinn, Judith Winters, Sandra Lucas and Ardeth Garrison.

Officials Sanction 60-House Project

RARITAN TOWNSHIP — Plans for a $1,300,000 housing development, to be located adjacent to Fleetwood Park, were approved unanimously by the township committee Friday night.

Committee sanction follows an approval last month of the North Centerville Park development, a 125-home, $2½ million project. The two projects are scheduled for completion in 1958 or early 1959.

The new development, Bromley Park, will comprise 60 houses in the $16,000 to $18,000 range, according to Mayor Harry P. Seamen. They will be built by Elliot Badenes, Clifton.

Building approval was based on recommendation of the planning board, many of which officials termed the proposal "extremely ing."

For the first time in this township, houses will be set back varying distances from the front streets, thus helping to eliminate the look of "sameness." Setbacks are from 15 to 40 feet.

Must Replace Topsoil

The builder will be required to replace topsoil to a depth of three inches.

Poole ave., one of the boundary streets, will be increased in width to 40 feet. Middle rd. will be widened to 30 feet. Two creeks which run through the property will be straightened for more effective drainage.

Other requirements of the builder are: Installation of curbs and storm drains, water mains, fire hydrants, and sewer lines.

The development will be the first here to have sidewalks. There is no provision for a park or playground area.

Reflecting an upgrading in zoning requirements, the minimum size lot in Bromley Park, as well as in North Centerville Park, is 100 by 125 feet. These two developments will be the first here to feature larger lots, which will reflect in the higher price range of the homes.

Planning board secretary William Cahill told The Register that the recent, more rigid building requirements will aid the township in its present and future growth. Noting that the planning board had been created in January of this year, he said that Bromley Park plans show the strides made by the board during its short existence.

Planning Board Lauded

Committeeman John A. Diver also had a word of praise for the board. Said he, "If we had had a planning board three or four years ago, we would not now be faced with a multitude of problems that beset us."

The Bromley project is on 21 acres to the southeast of the Poole ave.-Middle rd. intersection. The property was sold by Robert Cait and reduces by one more the dwindling number of farms in Monmouth County.

In other business, Committeeman Diver reported that the West Keansburg Water company has struck water at 360 feet in the North Centerville area, in what is known as the Raritan sands.

The company is in the process of siphoning out sand and laying underwater mains to form an underground reservoir. The new water source will service North Centerville and adjacent homes.

Water Franchise Questioned

In answer to a query from the audience, Mayor Seamen said Raritan township had been forced to give the West Keansburg Water company a franchise several years ago because no other company would service the area.

Asked why the township license a company with rates higher than Monmouth Consolidated Water company, Mr. Seamen said Monmouth Consolidated refused to bid for the franchise in 1955.

As for the township building its own water plant, Mr. Seamen added, it would be a losing proposition with the taxpayer suffering most. This fact, he said, could be verified with any municipal water company.

The mayor, who owned West Keansburg Water company for eight years, sold the firm in 1953, before it applied for the Raritan-Holmdel township franchise.

John Kozlow, 25 Region dr., Laurel Parkway, told the committee he had spent several hundred dollars in getting rid of sand on his property and building a lawn, only to have his front curbing broken by a development contractor.

The mayor assured Mr. Kozlow and other homeowners that such damage would have to be repaired before the township releases builders' performance bonds.

Poor Commuter Service

Municipal Clerk Wayne B. Darland reported that the State Public Utilities commission is investigating railroad service at the Hazlet stop on the New York and Long Branch railroad.

The investigation is a result of petitions from Raritan and Holmdel protesting "inadequate and irregular" service. The utility commission, if findings warrant, will schedule a public hearing on the matter, Mr. Darland said.

In a plea for support of the local volunteer fire department, Mr. Divers declared, without naming names, that the department "is being slandered" because the governing body has been lenient with the department in its requirements regarding fire house construction.

The committeeman noted that firemen are unpaid and must solicit funds for department building and general operations.

"One person in particular is slandering the firemen," Mr. Diver said. "I ask that if you hear untoward remarks about the department, that they be disregarded, and that you continue to support your fire department. Come out and watch them drill and see just how good these volunteers are."

Mayor Seamen announced that the township last week sent flowers and congratulations to its oldest resident, Mrs. Elnora Sprout, rt. 35, on her 100th birthday.

No Parks or Buses

In response to a resident's statement that "the way houses are going up now, we won't have room left for parks or playgrounds," Mayor Seamen reported that the governing body is drawing a "master plan" for the township which will include recreation areas. The study, he said, is still in its preliminary stages.

On the question of local bus service, the mayor noted that governing bodies are powerless to act, but said that because of increased population he felt "the day is not far off when bus companies will come into the area."

Omar Sickles, Holmdel rd., Hazlet, bid $210 for six 20-foot lots on a paper street, Park ave., in the Seabrook Manor section. The property will be auctioned at the Dec. 6 township committee meeting.

An ordinance was introduced to vacate Mary Ann ct., West Keansburg. Public hearing is set for Dec. 6.

Need CD Volunteers

Mrs. Henrietta Smith was appointed a member of the Civil Defense council. Clifton T. Trigg was named a member of West Keansburg fire company, and Ella A. Chiaffetelli was accepted into the North Centerville Fire company.

The mayor appealed for volunteers for the civil defense organization. All departments, including the Ground Observer Corps, are in dire need of help, he said. Residents who could give as little as one or two hours of time a week would be welcomed, he said. Building Inspector Edwin H. Walling reported 139 building permits issued during October at a total value of $1,073,000. Over 90 per cent of the total is for home construction.

Magistrate's court took in $584 in fines and court costs during September. The local welfare department disbursed $255 among 18 persons during October.

Back Talk Backfires

ATLANTIC HIGHLANDS — Talking back to a police officer cost a Highlands man $15 in magistrate's court Monday night.

Elmer Graham, 22, Twin Lights Air Force base, was caught in this borough by Highlands Patrolman Albert Horay after a 90-mile-an-hour chase north on rt. 36, police said. The driver was fined $15 here on a disorderly conduct charge for arguing with the officer. He will be arraigned in Highlands Nov. 18 on a charge of reckless driving.

In other cases, Magistrate Irving B. Zeichner levied the following fines:

Walter Wenker, Livington, illegal license plates, $30; Henry Diodato, 30 West Sunset ave., Red Bank, careless driving, $15; Thomas Bevacqui, Norwood ave., Long Branch, failure to have car inspected, $10; Dorothy Black, 152 Monmouth st., Red Bank, careless driving, $15; Albert Runge, Bay ave., Highlands, careless driving, $10; Blanche Chapman, 41 South ave., careless driving, $10, and Ned Bebee, Hillside ave., Hillside, disorderly conduct, $25.

Hibernians Plan To Reorganize

KEYPORT — A move to reorganize the Matawan-Keyport division of the Ancient Order of Hibernians was launched last week at a meeting in St. Joseph's school hall.

The division was one of the first organized in New Jersey, and dates from 1880. There now are 15 in the state, including three others in the county—at Keansburg, Long Branch and Asbury Park.

Joseph Mahon, Long Branch, state organizer, conducted last week's meeting. Assisting in the organization are Garrett Walsh, 324 Maple pl., Keyport, and Jnmes Shaw, 92 Atlantic ave., Matawan. Arthur J. Leavy, county president, and William Hart, county organizer, both of Long Branch, represented the Monmouth county board of the order.

The meeting was arranged with the co-operation of Rev. Cornelius J. Kane, pastor of St. Joseph's, who has been helping with the effort to reorganize the division.

The order was founded in Ireland more than 400 years ago. Its original purpose was to protect priests, who were outlawed and persecuted then. The order came to the United States in 1836 when Irish immigrants petitioned the order's national board in Ireland for permission to organize here.

Bull Becomes Summarized Sire

PETERBOROUGH, N. H. — Hominy Hill Rex, registered Guernsey bull, owned by New Hampshire-Vermont Breeding association, Concord, N. H., has become a summarized sire, according to the American Guernsey Cattle club.

To attain this distinction, a bull must have at least ten daughters with official production records.

"Rex" has 55 tested daughters that have made 112 official records. Their average production is 10,131 pounds of milk and 494 pounds of fat, when converted to a twice-daily milking, 305-day, mature equivalent basis.

This bull was bred by H. D. Mercer, Freehold, N. J. Its sire was Fairlawn Peerless Dictator and its dam was Meadow-Gold Rosabell—that posted an official production record of 14,373 pounds of milk and 734 pounds of fat.

"Rex" also has 38 of his registered daughters classified with an average rating of desirable.

Students Hear Navy Recruiting Talk

Social Security Deadline Set

ASBURY PARK — If disabled workers do not apply for the new social security disability benefit before the end of the year, they stand to lose some of their payments.

This word of warning was directed this week by Benjamin Sandberg, manager of the social security office.

Mr. Sandberg explained that in August the first monthly disability benefit checks were delivered countrywide to more than 100,000 disabled persons, 50 to 65 years of age.

The amount of their benefit checks depends upon the workers' past earnings and are in the same amount as they would receive at retirement age.

All those receiving payments are so severely disabled that they cannot do any substantial work, but had worked under social security during at least five of the 10 years and one and a half of the three years immediately before becoming disabled, Mr. Sandberg added.

Anyone 50 to 65 years of age who meets the above requirements, but who has not yet made application for their disability benefits, should do so now, he said.

He cautioned that unless application is made before Dec. 31, some benefits may be lost. Applications made before the end of the year will qualify a disabled worker for payments back to July 1957, but no back payments can be made on claims filed after December.

A person with a temporary disability, which is expected to improve to the point that he will be able to return to work, cannot qualify either to have his social security record frozen, or to reclaim disability benefits, Mr. Sandberg pointed out. To be eligible, a worker must have a condition which is expected to continue indefinitely.

Disabled workers who believe that they meet the requirements—and especially those 50-65 years of age—should get in touch with their social security office right away to check on their rights.

It pays to advertise in The Register.

Birth Control Unit Meets

PRINCETON — The annual meeting and luncheon of the New Jersey League for Planned Parenthood was held last week in Nassau tavern.

During the morning session, reports of maternal health centers were heard. Mrs. Warren Zimmer, chairman of the Monmouth County Maternal Health Center in Asbury Park, read a report of the activities of this center for the past year.

Rev. Champion Goldy, chairman of the clergymen's council, gave the invocation. The speaker was Miss Naomi J. Thomas, field director of the Planned Parenthood Federation of America, who spoke on "Present World Developments—A Challenge to Planned Parenthood." She told of introducing a family planning program in islands of the West Indies and the Panama Canal Zone, where in some cases, it is considered the answer to survival. In Barbados, the program is now government supported, she said.

Dr. Carl Hartman, chairman of the biological research committee of the federation, reported on progress being made in the search and development of a pill for fertility control in human reproduction.

He said that while such a pill is in existence and is being tested with apparent success, it is still too soon to make a statement about it. Other members of the local committee attending the meeting included Mrs. Robert Barrabee, Mrs. Henry S. Germond, Rabbi Aaron Lefkowitz and Mrs. Frank W. Duane.

TRAFFIC DEATHS UP

TRENTON — Attorney Gen. Grover C. Richman, Jr., said yesterday that, through the period ending at midnight Sunday, 663 fatal accidents occurred in the state this year. The number compares with 626 for the same period in 1956. The record in Monmouth county was 38 deaths this year as against 45 last.

Item of International Interest

Food chain executives from 15 nations, including the above group, inspected the Grand Union company's Grand-Way Saving center in East Keansburg last week. Discussing an item strange to most of them, a Halloween jack-o-lantern, above are, left to right, Borge Olsen of Irma stores, Copenhagen, Denmark; Dr. Joseph Wicken of Stussgen company, Cologne, Germany; Miss Chantelle Toulouse, Paris; Jean DeCouman, of Delhaize Brothers & Co., Brussels, Belgium; Peter Nicolas, of Nicolas company, Paris, and Arthur N. James, of Irwins, Liverpool, England. Tour of eastern seaboard stores is part of program of first congress of the International Association of Chain Stores, of which Lansing P. More Power in Chevrolet Trucks

An expanded, widely diversified line of trucks featured by a rugged new 348-cubic inch V8 of 230 horsepower, many chassis improvements, and more powerful and durable sixes and V8's is announced by Chevrolet Motor division.

Fresh new front-end styling includes modern dual headlamps and redesigned grille, hood and fenders.

The new truck line lists 12 new models, for a total of 128, up 10 per cent over the number available in 1957. Circle Chevrolet co., 325 Maple ave., Red Bank is the local dealer.

For the first time, Chevrolet will assume body production responsibility for three forward control "Step Van" models. The same warranty and parts service will be extended to these bodies that now apply to company-built panels, pickups, stakes and cab-chassis models. Also of major interest is the addition to the line of nine new medium-duty cab-chassis models.

An innovation in the 1958 line is the assigning of names to each of the three weight classifications They are: The Apache—Light-duties with GVW ratings up to 9,600 pounds, and available on six different wheelbases; the Viking—Medium-duties, available on 12 wheelbases with GVW ratings up to 21,000 pounds, and the Spartan—Heavy-duties with GVW ratings up to 25,000 pounds, and offered on nine wheelbases.

Five basic engines are offered in the 1958 truck line topped by the new large V8 specifically designed for heavy truck use. It will be offered only in the two largest series as standard equipment.

In line with its improved engines, Chevrolet also is offering many improvements in chassis components. On all heavy-duty models, cast spoke wheels now are standard and air brakes are optional except on the school bus. The air-over-hydraulic brake system is extended to include medium-duty models for the first time.

In appearance the new trucks carry a more massive look. A varied sheet metal design gives distinction to models in each weight class, although frontal styling of all models is substantially similar except for the Step-Van. Exterior changes have functional as well as style values. Modern dual headlamps extend low beam visibility up to 50 feet further.

Attractiveness of exteriors is matched by new smartness inside the roomy cabs. Long-wearing vinyl is featured in standard cabs with optional trim and appointments available.

Attention has been given to many other details in the 1958 truck line. The accelerator pedal has been re-hinged for driving comfort. Hoodlift effort has been reduced from 35 pounds to 10 on the larger models. Generator capacity has been stepped up 20 per cent in most models.

Tuesday's Election

Monmouth county voters showed a healthy interest in the election Tuesday, a credit to the intelligent type of person living here and to the organizations which worked to "get out the vote."

Monmouth's vote in helping to return Governor Robert B. Meyner to office followed a statewide pattern. By proving that his victory of four years ago was no "fluke," the governor enhanced his position nationally. With a politically friendly Assembly, however, he must accept the burden of accomplishment. No longer may he point to a completely hostile legislature as an excuse for lack of action.

The heavy Democratic vote in Monmouth may be attributed in part to Mr. Meyner's popularity. Of even greater importance, however, was that county voters for the first time in many years had an opportunity to vote for highly qualified candidates under the Democratic banner. Though the victory was not theirs, the Democrats who sought county and state office were paid high tribute by the voters. The aggressive and vigorous campaign they waged deserved such tribute.

The support given policemen in their quest for salary increases is evidence our people want their public servants to be paid a living wage. The taxpayers apparently are satisfied they are getting adequate protection, and we confidently trust they will have no reason to regret the support they gave the "men in blue." The decisiveness by which this question was resolved should make it easier for other municipal employees and members of other police departments to get favorable consideration during budget-making time.

Whether or not the returns are a "handwriting on the wall" for Monmouth's long entrenched Republicans can not positively be determined. Whenever a party is in power for a long time, though, feuds and factions develop which are bound to cut into expected majorities.

The fact that Democrats did so well in many "staunch Republican" municipalities is healthy. The independence of voters in crossing party lines may be a headache to political leaders—Democrat and Republican alike—but it's proof positive that county voters want and will insist upon candidates of high caliber.

A year ago, with President Eisenhower leading their ticket, county Republican candidates enjoyed comfortable 2 to 1 majorities. With Meyner as their leadoff man, county Democratic candidates this year threw a scare at their opponents that will not soon be forgotten. All this is to the good. County Democrats should be encouraged and strengthened by the events of Tuesday. Good government is bound to result when both parties in the county are strong . . . alive.

A Vital Message

President Eisenhower will go before the American people by television from the White House at 8 o'clock tonight to speak on "Science and Security." This is a wise, if belated, move to restore to the public confidence that this nation need not fear the future.

Alarm has spread over the land because Soviet scientists have put two earth satellites into space, one containing a dog, and have given evidence that they have developed weapons which could rain catastrophe upon us. We, the people, have yet to learn just what can be done to avert disaster should the Russian bear strike. A fault is that we also tend to permit ourselves to think now that whatever the Communist drum-beaters say is true when, just weeks ago, the Reds were recognized as liars.

If the globe-circling Sputniks have had this effect upon America, historic champion of liberty, then, indeed, they must have cast a far more serious form of wild thinking among the peoples of nations that have been wavering between freedom and Red. This thinking, psychologically is a great victory of greater magnitude than the development of the "baby moons" alone. It also appears unwarranted and unreserved.

President Eisenhower, wrongly, is being blamed by factions of our public for responsibility in not seeing to it that we remained the worlds scientific leader. He, of course, must share the guilt of a generation of Presidents who, instead of pouring our resources into the continual strengthening of this nation in all fields, syphoned off the cream and spread it around the world in the form of foreign aid. Few of the nations, thus aided, have sent back real friendship in return. Scorn has been a frequent harvest. Those countries know and respect only power: Who can strike the hardest blow?

As President Theodore Roosevelt once advised, it again is time to "speak softly, but carry a big stick." It is time to stop pushing our weight around the world with dollar bills and make certain that the stick we carry will be big enough to ward off disaster for our people. Yes, we have an international responsibility, but it must stand second to the one at home. Fruits of our labors belong to America.

The Veteran and History

Where would this American nation be today if its history lacked the valiant men and women who sprang to its defense and paid the supreme sacrifice in battle? What then would those pages say of our land?

There were the wars and, big and small, those wars had their heroes. At the end, the proud, striped flag waved on as a banner of honor. The price paid was heavy but the prize of continued liberty rested safe within our borders. Had America rejected challenge, then, indeed, bondage and fear would have been the probable heritage of her people.

Therefore, one must in gratitude look up to all those brave souls who stood in defense of freedom, look up with prayer that victories they won need not end in renewed conflict. Monday is a day set aside for remembrance. It is Veterans day. Make certain you remember.

First Aid Drive

The Red Bank first aid and rescue squad is seeking $57,000 from local and Shrewsbury residents to help build its new headquarters at Spring st. and Manor dr.

An intensive drive to raise the money got under way Monday.

The first phase of the drive will last through Nov. 16. Businessmen and store owners will be contacted then.

The second phase will begin Nov. 18 and end Nov. 23. That is the time when solicitations will be made from homeowners and apartment dwellers.

All told, it will cost about $75,000 to build the squad's proposed home. Through their own efforts, the first aidmen have already raised some $18,000.

It seems strange that residents have to be prodded to aid this worthwhile drive. But they do.

For many, many years, the first aid squad has provided Red Bank and Shrewsbury with 24-hour, seven-day service.

Cost to residents for this service is absolutely nothing.

It should also be noted that there are no salaries for the 40 first aidmen. They are dedicated men who provide both communities with a service that can not be duplicated.

There is no doubt that the first aid squad is in need of new headquarters. It long ago outgrew its current Drummond pl. location.

We ask Red Bank and Shrewsbury residents to give what they can to help make the drive a success. The result will be continued superior first aid protection.

Police Training

Advice that members of municipal police departments undertake "intense formal training" is most wise. It is contained in a mid-term presentment handed up by the county's September term grand jury.

Police work, always difficult, should be more and more exacting to meet the changing conditions of our times. There's much more to the job than "pounding a beat" or handing out tickets for traffic violations. The policeman of today must be a specialist in several fields, from criminal investigation to disaster control and from welfare worker to medical corpsman, if he is to serve the community and himself fully. He must be able to prevent youngsters from getting out of hand, rather than merely arrest those who do. His conduct and bearing must be worthy of public respect. He must be a "team man," ready to step in and work fully with other law enforcement authorities at all levels.

Too often it is found that the code of conduct practiced within one police department differs materially from that followed in another. There is a lack of coordination in the methods used in preparing official reports, in court testimony, in handling crowds and in crime detection. That is not always the fault of the individual, rather it can be the sum result of loopholes in administration.

It seems sure that the entire community—and by that we mean areas well beyond municipal limits—would benefit greatly if the advised "intense formal training" were made a standard requirement for all policemen.

Letters to the Editor

CLAIMS HE WAS RIGHT

33 Wall st.
Red Bank, N. J.

To the Editor:

When the State Annual Convention of the Master Barbers Association of America was held at Sea Girt, I reported in full with the approval of my Association, the complete story in writing to the Red Bank Register. My authority to report this was confirmed on Oct. 6, 1957 at a subsequent meeting of the same convention.

Your statement in the Red Bank Register on Oct. 24, 1957 that you were reliably informed that I was without authority in reporting the proposed raise in prices is untrue and makes me seem an irresponsible officer of a great organization. Futhermore, my annual report given in writing to the Red Bank Register was three pages long and all your paper used of this report was the proposed price raise. Your reliable information is therefore incorrect. I was reporting exactly, the deliberations of the convention. I had every authority to do so.

Since my responsibility and veracity have been questioned, I shall expect you to give this letter the same publicity given in the Register article of Oct. 24, 1957.

Knowing the reputation of The Register for fair dealing and truthful reporting, I am confident you will do this.

Yours very truly,
Frank F. Sharabba

BACKS FIRST AID DRIVE

To the Editor:

We have been advised that the Red Bank first aid squad is embarking on an ambitious fund raising campaign for the building fund.

Being interested in the welfare of our families, friends and community, we heartily endorse a program which would help our first aid squad maintain and improve their wonderful service. Their initiative in organizing and manning this facility is deserving of high praise. Our gratitude can best be expressed by public support and contribution to this building fund.

There is a phrase in our Jaycee creed which is practiced by the men of the first aid squad, "Service to humanity is the best work of life." We hope that this service is recognized when their organization request your help.

Sincerely,
Jack Moody
President.

WANTS SCHOOL COSTS KEPT DOWN

86 Wyckoff Road
Eatontown, N. J.
Nov. 4, 1957

To the Editor:

For several years I have been speaking out for the necessity of keeping school construction and operating costs down to a basis where the real estate tax structure in the communities will not hinder the resale value of the properties. Unless this is done, we will be creating the future slums in our communities through excessive taxation because it has been proven that when the taxes are pushed too high, the owners are unable to maintain the properties properly and the result is slum conditions and forced sales of real estate. At the same time, many boys and girls may be deprived of college educations because the grammar school and high school costs, (paid through taxes) are too high. A proper balance of these costs is necessary if children are to receive college educations.

Toward that end, it would seem that the referendum to be discussed at the public meeting in Eatontown Memorial School on Nov. 19 and to be voted on Nov. 26 be given careful study. The public has been asked to give quick approval to a plan which perhaps should require several more months of study. The plan proposed called for spending $2,500,000, quickly altered to $2,000,000 after several weeks of discussion, for the erection of a regional high school in two stages to accommodate 1100 pupils. The public has not been told that a beautiful high school was erected this year in a nearby community, with state approval, that would fill the same purpose for only $1,320,000, fully equipped with the best equipment, to accommodate almost 1100 pupils with the following facilities: Auditorium seating 600, gym for boys, gym for girls, metal shop, woodworking shop, science lab, biology lab, printing shop, photographic room, cafeteria, library, art room, music room, three home economics rooms and necessary classrooms. I find it hard to understand why this has not been pointed out to the people.

Up to now the public has had to guess at what facilities were included in the price as well as to what effect this would have on their future tax bills. Eatontown is a community which cannot afford a luxury school and it would seem that before voting on Nov 26, the people of Eatontown are entitled to know what they will get for their money so that they will not be told later that the price will be higher. It would seem that the referendum ought to include the price of the facilities. Otherwise, we will be like the auto buyer who buys a car without pinning the dealer down to a price and what that price includes.

In addition, numerous residents of Eatontown have felt that if possible, Eatontown should have its own high school. This may become possible with federal aid. Only last week a public pronouncement was made that federal aid in the construction of schools would be available for areas heavily impacted with school children from federally employed families, and Eatontown certainly comes under that classification, having over 900 pupils in their school system who are children of federally employed parents. If such federal aid is forthcoming, Eatontown could have its own high school and be a receiving district high school. This will require study beyond the Nov. 26 voting date and that is why I feel the referendum should be postponed.

With Eatontown having a population of 7,000 and with only 100 people having been out to the last hearing involving the spending of considerable money of the taxpayers, it would seem that people should know as much as possible about the matter. One point is that once they enter the regional plan, they cannot withdraw. Also, the people of Eatontown should know that although they will be paying for the greater share of the construction costs and a much greater share of operating costs of a regional school, yet they will have the least to say about the operation of the school because Eatontown will have the minor representation on the board. It is important that the public arrive at a decision they will not regret. It is also important that we have enough money available in years to come so that we can properly pay the teachers the core to any good school system.

Respectfully,
Harold Lindemann

Diabetes and You

Diabetes Detection Week in New Jersey will extend from Nov. 17 to Nov. 23. Its purpose is to discover and to bring to treatment the estimated 50,000 people of this state who are the victims of undetected diabetes.

You can do your part by taking advantage of the screening procedures being followed in your local community and described in your local papers. Better health and longer life will be your reward.

Diabetes is found most regularly among people who are over 40, overweight, and related to known diabetics. The disease is not catching, but susceptibility to it seems to run in families.

It is characterized by too much sugar in the blood and urine. Its chief symptoms are thirst, constant hunger, itching, frequent urination, a sense of weariness, changes in vision, and a tendency to slow healing. Diabetes was once a very serious—even deadly—disease. Now it is controllable by means of diet and the injection of insulin.

Even if you do not notice the symptoms in yourself, Diabetes Detection Week is your chance to make certain that you are not a victim. Take the trouble to protect your life.

THESPIAN IN 'TEAHOUSE'

NEW MONMOUTH — Miss Diana P. Olsen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Axel Olsen of New Monmouth rd., a sophomore at Douglass college, will play the role of a villager in "Teahouse of the August Moon" to be staged by the Queen's theater guild of Rutgers.

The Pulitzer prize-winning comedy will be offered starting Tuesday, through Nov. 16, at the Little theater on Douglass college campus.

YOUR GARDEN THIS WEEK

Rutgers Garden Reporter

Still Time to Plant

You still have a couple of weeks to plant deciduous trees and spring-flowering shrubs.

I asked Don Lacey, our extension specialist in home grounds care, for a few tips on planting. Do it, he urges, before the ground freezes, whether that's mid-November or as late as Thanksgiving.

He asked me to remind you would-be planters particularly about planting a $5 plant in a 50c hole.

It's a mistake—often one that costs real money—to crowd and jam roots into a narrow or shallow hole, hoping that the roots will find their way about. This explains why the planting pob so often has to be done over.

It's best to dig a hole wide enough and deep enough so there's a whole spade width all around the new plant. Put some good garden soil and humus mixture in the bottom and then fill in around the tree or bush with it.

No Fertilizer

Use roughly three parts garden soil to one part peat moss or other humus. Heavy clay soils may need more humus. Mr. Lacey uses no fertilizer when he plants a tree or shrub, holding off until spring.

Shrubs should be planted at the depth they stood in the nursery, and trees no more than an inch deeper.

You'll probably need to stake your new plants, supporting them with wires from trunk to stakes. Make sure that the wire is enclosed in something like an old piece of hose so it can't cut into the bark.

Answering the Mail

A. F. S., West Orange: "We lost several large elm trees to the blight at our summer home at Paulinskill lake. Is there danger to other trees by saving this wood for a fireplace and storing it near the house?"

Yes, there is a definite danger to other elms when you keep infested elm wood around, unless you can strip off the bark completely, which is quite a job. Elm in a woodpile is an ideal breeding ground for Dutch elm disease.

Mrs. H. S., Salem: "We have planted 12 Chinese elms around our home and they are growing beautifully. Isn't there anything we can do to control Dutch elm disease?"

Chinese elms don't "catch" Dutch elm disease as American elms do. The greatest dangers to Chinese elms are frost and wind.

H. F. P., Rahway: "This fall our lawn turned brown. When I started to rake it the dead grass came off in layers, root and all, and underneath this area were many little white worms, about half an inch long. I think this is what is ruining my lawn. What can I do to get rid of them?"

This sounds like grub trouble—possibly Japanese beetle grubs. Leaflet 286, which has been sent you, explains how to get rid of them. (This publication, "Lawn Care," is free for the asking. Just send a card to your county agricultural agent or Garden Reporter, College of Agriculture, New Brunswick.)

To Have Booth At Country Club

RUMSON — The Woman's Exchange of Monmouth county will have a special booth in Rumson Country club Sunday to sell items from the shop in Little Silver.

Plans for this activity were arranged when the board met in the Country club Monday.

The items will be sold between noon and 6 p. m., with exchange members serving as volunteer sales help. Members also will assist at the shop on a daily basis starting Monday, Nov. 18, through Christmas.

Attending Monday were Mrs. Ringland F. Kilpatrick, president; Mrs. James R. Clarke, Mrs. John H. Dill, Mrs. Gerald F. Negle, Mrs. Robert Stanley, Jr., Mrs. Francis Lobdell, Mrs. J. Daniel Tuller, Mrs. Stanton V. Whitney, Mrs. George Werlemann, Mrs. F. Bourne Ruthrauff, Mrs. Wilbur F. Ruthrauff, Mrs. Williamson Thomas, Mrs. Douglas T. Newbold and Mrs. Donald E. Lawes, Sr.

—New Jersey— Your State and Mine

By J. Joseph Gribbins

TRENTON — Weather predictions for the coming winter in New Jersey may be varied, but the state highway department is ready for more snow this year. It has 3,018 miles of roadways to keep open when the snow begins to fall.

State Highway Commissioner Dwight R. G. Palmer has 850 trucks, large and small, all equipped with snow plows or sand and cinder spreaders, awaiting the first snowfall. These include 416 regular trucks equipped with plows and spreaders; 176 heavy duty trucks armed with special equipment, and 258 vehicles owned by contractors which are on call. Last year the department had 740 pieces of snow removel equipment available.

Thirty state highway supervisory officials will remain at the nerve center of the state highway building here as soon as the weatherman officially announces a snowstorm or ice storm is on its way to the Garden State. They will give orders to 190 section foremen, 1,400 highway department workers and 710 contractors' men on call, as soon as a storm begins to clutter up the highways.

Last winter, which was comparatively free of heavy snows, but featured much ice on the highways, the cost of keeping the highways open totaled $2,194,092, of which $1,570,000 was for ice control.

Many New Jersey storms are sectional in nature and in such instances, snow plows are ordered out only in the affected area. However, when a statewide storm threatens to curtail traffic, trucks and equipment begin moving out for hard work and long hours of toil in all sections.

Paradoxically, the motorist for whom the elaborate and costly snow removal plans are made, becomes the greatest nuisance on the highways during snow time. Many fail to winterize their cars and driving techniques to avoid traffic tie-ups and accidents. As a result, when a storm arrives, they block highways and prevent snow removal for hours on end.

To help in times of storm, motorists are asked to abide by right of way rules; travel at appropriate reduced speeds; operate with good tires and use chains when needed; keep windshield wipers in good condition and windows clear. They are only asked to help the state highway workers who are helping them.

Legislature

With the noise of the hectic gubernatorial campaign abated and history settled for another four years, members of the New Jersey legislature soon will organize and plan for the 182d session which will convene with much pomp and ceremony at noon Jan. 14. Next year's election will be devoted mainly to voting for 14 congressmen. Under the provisions of the state constitution, state elections are held on odd years and congressional and United States senatorial elections on even years.

As a dress rehearsal for the 1958 session, both houses of the legislature will convene Nov. 18 to wrap up the remaining business of this year. Next Tuesday, in accordance with custom, many of the lawmakers will pay a visit to the state house to discuss last Tuesday's election results and to meet newly elected members. Later in the month, both Republicans and Democrats will convene to select legislative officers and floor leaders for the year coming up.

On Jan. 14 next, there will be flowers and gifts—and pay checks—for members of the General Assembly starting two-year terms and 10 senators starting four-year terms. Shortly thereafter, the legislative mill will begin to grind out new laws promised by the lawmakers on campaign tours prior to last Tuesday.

Veterans Day

Almost a million men and women of New Jersey have served their country during World War I and II and the Korean conflict. On next Monday—Veterans day—they will be officially honored. President Eisenhower or his representative will place a memorial wreath before the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier at Arlington cemetery and across the country parades will be held in many cities, towns and villages.

On June 1, 1954, Congress changed the name of Armistice day to Veterans day in order that a grateful nation might pay appropriate homage to the veterans of all its wars who have contributed so much to the preservation of the nation.

In a proclamation, Governor Meyner has called upon the people of New Jersey to pause and reflect upon their sacrifices and rededicate themselves to the cause of a lasting and just peace.

Aviation

New Jersey's bureau of aeronautics reports that in northern New Jersey, there are currently in operation 1,288 Air Force contracts of a total value income to manufacturers of $1,707,000,000. For the third month, the aviation industry throughout the United States has been credited with the greatest number of employees and highest expenditures for payrolls and equipment than of any other industry, and New Jersey is receiving its share.

Secretary Weeks of the Department of Commerce has recently reported that investments in the aviation industry on a national scope is currently $100 billion, and is expected to reach $150 billion by 1960. This investment other than capital in inventories on the ground include over 62,000 civil aircraft that will be flying an estimated 66 million passengers by 1960 and 90 million by 1965.

The state bureau of aeronautics also reports that capital investment in but five of the 68 airports in New Jersey now exceed 500 million dollars. Despite this large sum, there are no civil airports in the Garden State suitable for jet transports that will be in scheduled long-range operations by 1959. With the arrival of the jet planes, aviation in New Jersey is bound to take on additional importance.

Geology

New Jersey is overrun with geologists this week because of the annual meeting of members of the Geological Society of America in Atlantic City, the first held in the Garden State since 1913.

Although the Russian Sputnik and the proposed United States earth satellite are being discussed by the geologist, many other subjects of interest are on the agenda. These include stratigraphy, mineralogy, submarine geology, geochemistry, vertebrate paleontology, petrology, stratigraphy, sedimentation, pleistocene geology and gemorphology.

More understandable data on radioactive minerals of ilmenite-bearing sands in the coastal plain of New Jersey was distributed at the convention. Other reports discussed include data on the 1957 explosive eruption on Iwo-jima; the significance of discoveries of amber in the Arctic Coastal Plain of Alaska; evidence of great climatic changes in 11,000 B.C.; dinosaur finds and the use of airborne instruments in geological surveys.

VETERANS ADMINISTRATION

Questions and Answers

Q—My World War II GI term insurance policy lapsed two months ago. I'd like to reinstate and, at the same time, convert to a permanent plan. What premiums will I have to pay?

A—You will have to pay one monthly premium at the term rate plus the first premium at the rate required by your new permanent policy. Also, you must sign a statement that you are in as good health as you were when the term policy lapsed.

Q—If a school drops a veteran enrolled under the Korean GI bill because of too many absences, would he be allowed to make his one-and-only change of course and study something else?

A—Only if he can establish that his unsatisfactory attendance record was due to reasons beyond his control. If he cannot establish this fact, he will be denied further training, under the law.

Q—I understand that World War II veterans must apply for GI loans before July 25, 1958. Does this mean I actually must have obtained my GI loan money before this date.

A—Not necessarily. Instead, the lender must have agreed to make you the loan, and must have requested VA's approval, before the deadline date.

Q—My daughter is eligible for schooling under the War Orphans Education program. Would she be permitted to attend school in France?

A—No. War Orphans schooling in educational institutions outside the United States is prohibited by law.

A building on West Front st., owned by William O'Brien, and occupied by Louis O. Summersett, was gutted by fire. The loss was roughly estimated at $4,000. Mr. Summersett was editor and publisher of the Mail and Express, a local publication devoted entirely to colored residents.

Mr. and Mrs. Eli Morgan Knapp of Atlantic Highlands were surprised by a group of friends on the occasion of their golden wedding anniversary. The party was arranged by Mr. and Mrs. Melvin A. Rice of Leonardville.

Miss Ruth Mount of Stone Church, near Navesink, was tendered a masquerade surprise party. Her guests were Misses Josie Hower, Lena Curtis, Gladys Carhart, Florence Sickles, Libbie Boeckel, Mary Brower, Mattie DuMont, Amy Johnson, Gussie Shultz, Carrie Despreaux, Mary Applegate, Anna Cowden, Alice Mount and Lloyd Sickles, Alfred Brower, Lester Sickles, Louis Boeckel, George Burdge, George Sickles, Eddie Kelch, Maynard Card, Leslie Patterson, Fillmore Despreaux, Vincent Mount, Robert Despreaux, Mr. and Mrs. D. Cottrell and Mrs. Joseph Despreaux.

Mr. and Mrs. George Lee of Wallace st, entertained at a house party with Halloween games the principal pastime. Phonograph selections were also enjoyed. Their guests were Mr. and Mrs. Mervin Francis, Mr. and Mrs. George White, Mr. and Mrs. George Francher, Mr. and Mrs. Warren C. Dennis, Mrs. John Robinson, Mrs. Rhoda Fielder, Miss Elizabeth Woolley and Vincent Willis of Red Bank; Mr. and Mrs. James Rowland; Mr. and Mrs. William W. Bennett of Oceanport and Miss Alberta Sickles and Albert Peters of Locust Point.

Melvin P. Yard of Belford was confined to his home with a serious case of blood poisoning resulting from picking a pimple on his arm. He was attended by Dr. O. W. Budlong, who was attempting to save the member.

Mrs. Joseph Havens, daughter of George C. Henry of Belford, won a lot at Toms River Park in a word contest conducted by the company developing the property.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Walling of Lincroft returned from their wedding trip to Washington D. C. The night following, a large group of friends serenaded the couple.

The local Democrats elected their town ticket. William Otterson defeated Samuel Sabath for mayor by a 101 majority. One of the pecular things about the election was that the Republicans who fought Mayor Otterson most bitterly the previous year supported him most heartily this year.

The Eatontown post office was moved from the Dr. Hunt building on the north side of Broad st. to Elwood Snyder's building on the opposite side of the street. The building into which the post-office was moved was originally the Columbia hotel which was conduced for many years by George Magee.

Calvin Bryant, a well known Red Bank colored resident, was found dead near the New York & Long Branch railroad tracks south of Beach st., a short distance from his home. It was thought that Bryant was on his way home when he was struck by the midnight theater train. He was 68 years old and left a wife and several children.

Miss Grace E. Peek, daughter of Harry A. Peek of New York, a former resident of Red Bank, and Peter McClees, son of Peter J. McClees, River dr. in Middletown township, were married at the residence of Joseph T. Burrowes on Broad st. Miss Ada Burrowes and Miss Peek were close friends for many years. Rev. William B. Matteson, pastor of the Red Bank Baptist church officiated. The young couple went south on their wedding trip.

The Red Bank Y.M.C.A. basketball players defeated a team from Bound Brook by a score of 38 to 15, and the Freehold high school team 18 to 2. Outstanding players on the Red Bank team were Harold Holmes, John Higgins, Eugene Magee and Angelo Sparagna.

The boys of Holmdel let themselves loose on Halloween night. The next morning Eugene Ely found his fence gate on John W. Hance's storehouse and his jagger wagon on a scaffold at George Crawford's wheelwright shop. About a cord of wood was piled up in front of Mr. Crawford's place of business. Mr. Hance's store sign was hung from the new schoolhouse. A large dry goods box was put on the roof of Alex L. McClees's house. A wagon was placed on Alex Guy's front porch and Charles Gahler's fence gate was removed from its hinges.

The Navesink Hook and Ladder company of the Red Bank fire department arranged for a ten-day fair to be held in their firehouse on Mechanic st. Walter S. Noble was chairman, Harold E. Brower secretary and Benjamin H. Ford treasurer.

Myrtle Aller and Gladys Emmons arranged for a surprise party for Hazel McQueen, daughter of Harry McQueen of Shrewsbury ave., at which approximately 30 friends were present.

John M. Johnson of Navesink sustained a broken leg when a frightened horse pulling a wagon struck him. Dr. R. G. Andrew of Navesink was in attendance.

William T. Wilson of Middletown had an apple orchard of 65 trees and expected a crop of over 500 bushels from which he was to receive $3.50 to $4.50 per bushel according to the size of the fruit. His crop was bought by a German fruit farm representative, and the entire crop was to be shipped to Germany.

Mrs. Mary Florence Graf, formerly Miss Mary Florence Wainwright Monmouth st., became the wife of Adam Linzmayer, the son of George Linzmayer of Navesink. The wedding was celebrated at St. James church by Rev. Joseph Linane. The couple was attended Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sadler of Atlantic Highlands.

During the week Theodore F. White disposed of the remaining lots in his developments at Westside and Eastside parks. Fourteen lots in all were sold averaging $200 for a lot of 50x150 feet.

The Wide Awake basketball team of Little Silver was reorganized with George White president, Ray White vice president and manager, Hance Woolley secretary and William T. Sherwood treasurer. The association had 18 members and rented the Methodist church hall for their meeting place.

Miss Nelle Broander resigned her position as clerk in the Keansburg post office and her place was taken by Miss Lillian Ahearn.

Miss Edna Adele, daughter of Edwin Maxson of Navesink, was married at her home by Rev. John C. Lord, pastor of the Navesink Episcopal church, to Frank E. Sieh, supervising principal of the Middletown township public school. Her sister, Jennie Maxson, was bridesmaid.

The infant child of John Collendrella of Bridge ave. was attacked by a rat while asleep in its cradle. Mr. Collendrella was in an adjoining room when he heard a strange noise. Investigating, he found a large rat in the act of gnawing at the child's face. He caught the rat by the neck and after tying a rope to it, burned the animal alive. A doctor was called and the child's injuries were dressed immediately. The rat bite did not result seriously.

Miss Ruth Ziegler of Mechanic st. had a surprise party. The surprisers came in a body and were all masked. She refused to admit them into the house, thinking they were neighborhood boys playing Halloween tricks, until one of the party explained the call and they unmasked. Not until then did Miss Ziegler know who her visitors were..

Theodore and Ernest Pillis of Tinton Falls were helping many of the villagers to provide wood fuel for the coming winter. They had a new power saw and were sawing up wood for them without making any charge for their services.

The 25th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Krebs, Jr. of Leonardo was fittingly celebrated. Mr. Krebs was president of the Community fire company and the members of that organization paid them a surprise visit, riding to the Kreb's home on two trucks owned by the company.

Edmund Roche of East Keansburg was a visitor in Newark. While there he attended a Halloween party at Irvington attired as a woman and won first prize. He had the prettiest costume and made such a perfect woman that no one suspected him of being a man until the masks were removed.

Shrewsbury was up in arms against a permit being given for the operation of a Marathon dance to be continued for 25 weeks or more without any interruption including Sundays. James Harkins of Pinckney rd., Red Bank, was the lessee for the attraction. Being voted four to one, the Mayor and Council granted Mr. Harkins a permit.

Miss Ann M. Papa, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Papa of Atlantic Highlands, and Thomas Calandriello, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Calandriello of Fair Haven, were married at St. Agnes Catholic church in Atlantic Highlands by Rev. Michael H. Callahan. Several hundred persons attended the reception and dinner following the ceremony. Mayor John R. Snedeker of Atlantic Highlands led the auto procession from the church to the Molly Pitcher hotel, Red Bank.

Mrs. Amory L. Haskell, chairman of the 16th annual Red Cross roll call for Middletown township, named her various district chairmen. They were Mrs. Frederick Tatum, Mrs. J. Marshall Booker, Mrs. J. E. Johnson, Mrs. Thomas Roberts, Mrs. Alvin Swensen, Mrs. E. Feakes, Mrs. A. F. Lindenstruth, Mrs. Laura G. Lee, Miss Helen Coe and Horace Smith.

A special match for women was held at the Lincroft gun club grounds. The first prize went to Mrs. Westley Stillwagon of Trenton, the second prize was won by Helen Kelly and third by Mrs. Harry Bloodgood, both of Everett.

Frank C. Cooper was back in town after having been away for 27 years. For many years he was a prescription clerk at the store of his brother, the late James Cooper. He took a position as a pharmacist in the well known Shroeder drug store.

Mr. and Mrs. William F. Maloney of Chestnut st. were given a surprise party in celebration of their 20th wedding anniversary. There were more than a score of friends at the party.

Leon Reussille, who made a flying trip to California to attend the Olympic games, and who was accompanied by Theodore Parsons, spoke to the Red Bank Lions club. He told of their trip, describing the games and also their visit to Universal city where they saw several motion pictures being made.

Miss May O'Rourke of Rumson, and Mr. Patrick Coffey of New York, formerly of Rumson, were married with a Nuptial mass at Holy Cross church by Rev. John C. Murray. The couple took up their residence on Washington st. at Rumson.

Mrs. Julia M. Keough, Red Bank borough collector, conducted the annual sale of property for non-payment of taxes. Property for which taxes amounting to approximately $50,000 were unpaid and had been advertised for sale. The largest piece of property was the Les Gertrudes apartments on Broad st., on which taxes of $6,000 were declared due. The borough bid $20,000 for the property advertised. Owners of the property had ten days from the date of the sale to redeem their holdings that had been sold under the provisions of the law.

Sylvia Burke of Little Silver was in Riverview hospital being treated for injuries received when a car which she was driving was struck by a car driven by a Newark resident. Seventeen stitches were required to close the cut received when she was sent through the windshield. William Paulson, borough recorder, fined the Newark resident $111, and sent him to the county jail when he could not raise the amount of the fine.

Preparations were under way for Armistice celebration and county rally of veterans to be held here. Cecil MacCloud was general chairman and he was being assisted by John Sayville and John Phiffenberger. The parade and the day's events were to be closed by a ball with Rocky Santanelo's orchestra providing the music.

The annual membership roll call campaign of the Red Bank branch of Red Cross society established a quota of 2,500 members to be secured in this vicinity. Mrs. Herbert W. Hill and Mrs. Edmund G. Frazer were chairmen of the Red Bank district. Miss Florence R. Kridel was general chairman for the branch.

Charles W. Burns of Monmouth Park, Eatontown was instantly killed when a car in which he was riding crashed into a tree at South and Wall sts., Eatontown. Robert Wilde, of Detroit, who was riding with him was seriously injured.

Carey Enlists In Army

The Army recruiting station in the Red Bank post office building announces that Howard W. Carey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Morris W. Carey of 26 Robin ct., Middletown, enlisted in the Army Monday to attend the fixed station radio equipment operation and maintenance course which begins Feb. 7 at the Army Signal school in Fort Monmouth.

Howard, a 1957 graduate of Teaneck high school, together with his family, recently moved to Middletown from Teaneck. Since graduation, he was employed by the Reilly Print and Die company of Secaucus.

Howard enlisted under the Army "Reserved for You" program which guaranteed him, as a high school graduate, his choice of over 150 technical school courses even before enlisting. After making application for his choice of schools early in October, he received his approval from the Department of the Army Thursday and decided to enlist Monday.

His course is of 15 weeks' duration and he will be trained to perform operating adjustments on fixed station radio equipment, to maintain operating efficiency of circuits, and to assist in the installation and repair of fixed station electronic equipment. In this 15 weeks, he will study electrical and radio fundamentals, fixed station layouts, telegraph, carrier and antenna fundamentals, radio and transmitter-receivers, communication security, and electronis warfare equipment operation. Upon graduation, he will be designated as a fixed station attendant specialist.

State CD Gets 200-Bed Hospitals

TRENTON — Three self-contained 200-bed hospital units have been released to New Jersey by the federal Civil Defense administration. This is the first lot of an anticipated 50 such units for this state, Acting State CD Director Thomas S. Dignan said.

The first unit was delivered to the state mental hospital at Ancora in Camden county Oct. 30. The other two will be delivered to the Crest Haven Institution in Cape May Court House Nov. 7 and to the Cumberland county hospital in Bridgeton on about Nov. 12.

The hospitals, which can be set up in auditoriums, gymnasiums and similar sheltered areas for disaster use, are made up of 292 different items packed into 367 crates and weigh about 24,000 pounds each.

In addition to the 200 beds, each hospital contains modern polaroid X-ray machines, two operating rooms, pre-and post-operative sections, a complete pharmacy including drugs, a kitchen, a sterilization room with facilities and assorted other clinical equipment. For independent power, 15 kilowatt generators are provided.

While ownership of the $28,000 units remain with the federal Civil Defense administration, use of the hospitals will be under the direction of Dignan.

To Folks Who Never Thought About GETTING A LOAN

BORROW...ECONOMICALLY...TO BUY...NOW

If you can save $2.00 each week WE CAN LET YOU HAVE $125.00
If you can save $3.00 each week WE CAN LET YOU HAVE $190.00
If you can save $4.00 each week WE CAN LET YOU HAVE $250.00
If you can save $5.00 each week WE CAN LET YOU HAVE $320.00
If you can save $6.00 each week WE CAN LET YOU HAVE $380.00
If you can save $7.00 each week WE CAN LET YOU HAVE $450.00
If you can save $7.25 each week WE CAN LET YOU HAVE $500.00

Charges are 2½% a month on balances of $300 or less and ½% a month on that part of balances from $300 to $500.

If you are waiting for a few more pay checks or a Christmas bonus to finish your holiday shopping... DON'T WAIT... Borrow what you need from us... Now — $100 — $200 — $250 or more. When you get your pay checks or bonus, pay us off promptly. In this way you will get all the advantages of cash buying and your loan will cost you little... very, very little.

IF, FOR EXAMPLE, YOU BORROW:

$100 and keep it 3 weeks... our charge is... $1.75
$200 and keep it 1 month... our charge is... $5.00
$250 and keep it 1 month... our charge is... $6.25

If your expenses are more than you estimated or you don't get a bonus and you want to spread your repayment over a year or longer, we'll arrange monthly payments fitted to your income.

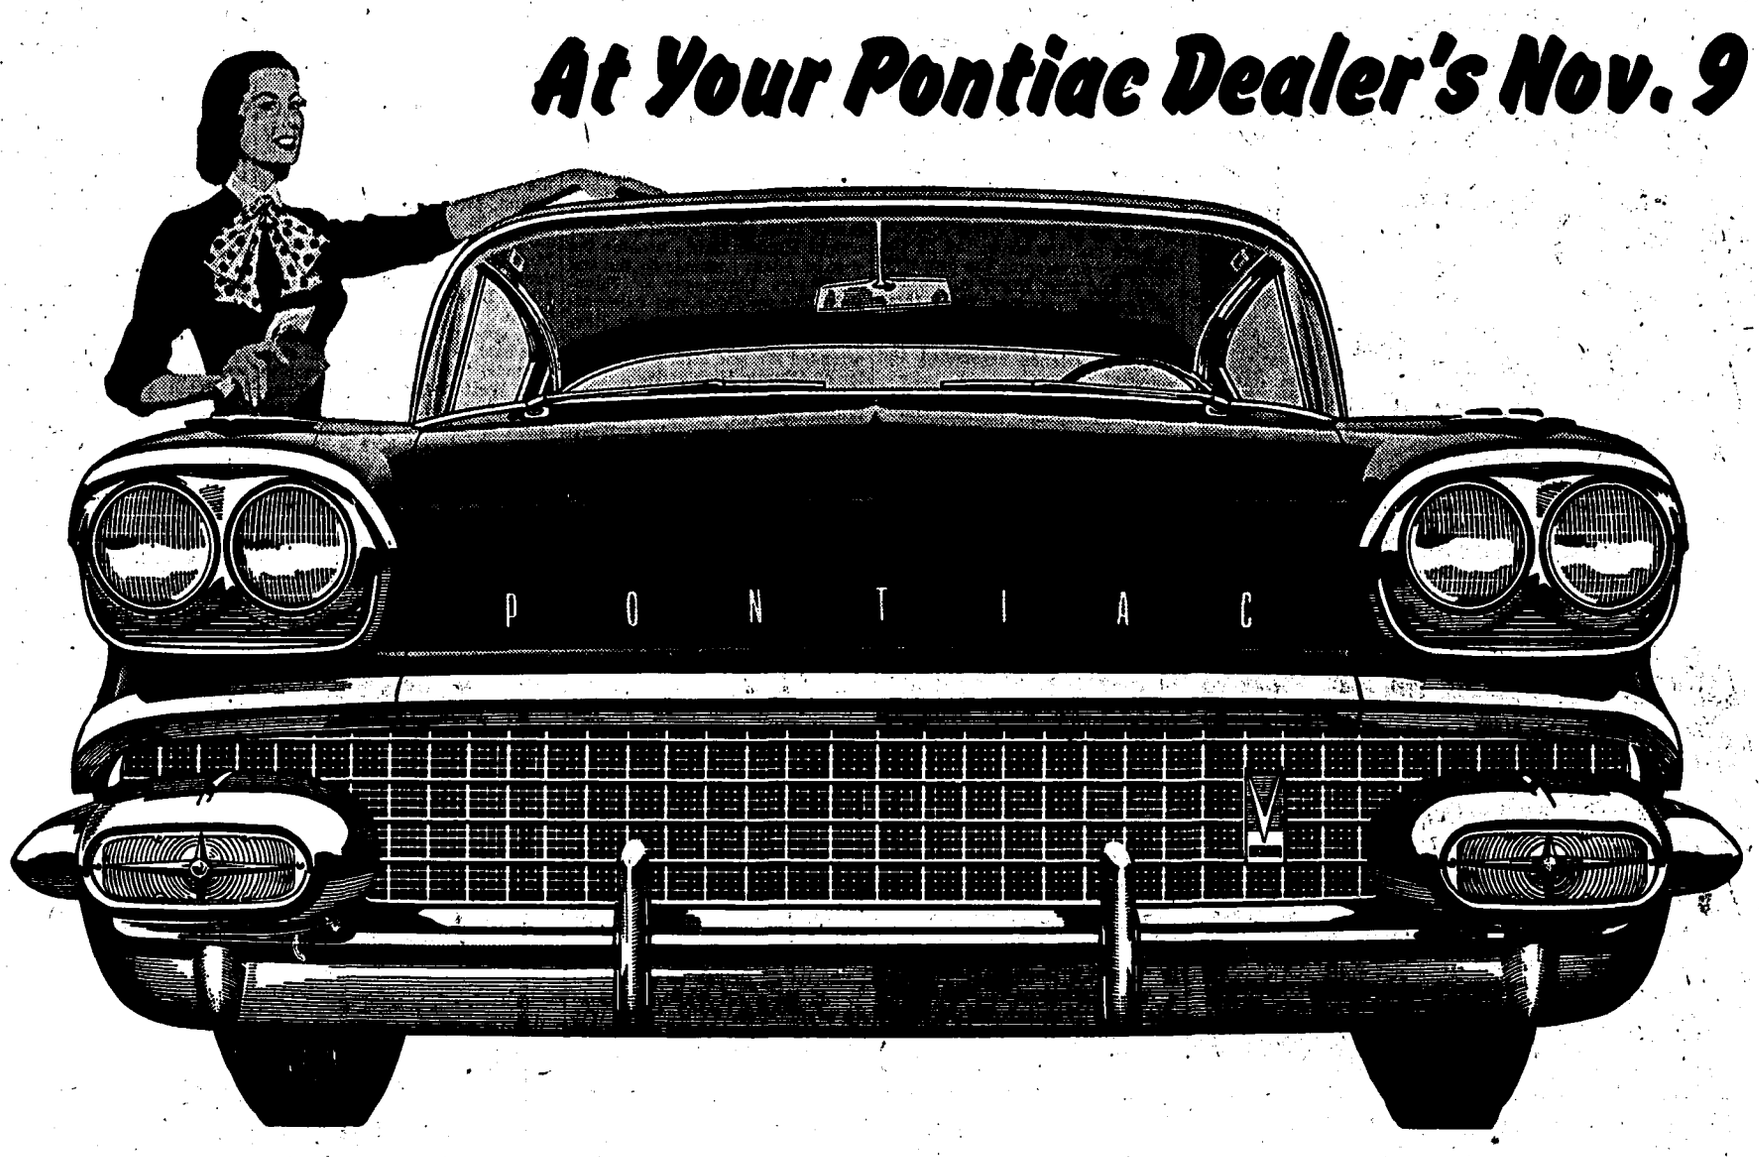
A NEW KIND OF CAR IS BORN!

At Your Pontiac Dealer's Nov. 9



BOLDEST ADVANCE IN 50 YEARS!

THE GOLDEN JUBILEE CAR!

It's a revolution on wheels—boldly planned from the very beginning as a Golden Anniversary showpiece for Pontiac and General Motors.

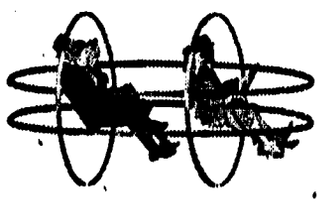
This one you really must see—here is a car unlike any you have ever known! This Golden Jubilee Pontiac is actually an all-new breed of cars—in four brilliant series and 16 sleek models covering virtually every price bracket.

In all of them you'll find engineering advances so daringly different yet so basically sound that they will trigger the next big change in automobile design. You'll find a few of these ideas illustrated here, but even they can't begin to tell the full story.

Why not be among the first to discover the newest. When you meet this bold new Pontiac, you're in for a driving thrill that is impossible to duplicate in cars of conventional design. So make it a point to see your Pontiac dealer soon and prove to yourself that no car in history ever left yesterday so far behind!

Aero-Frame STABILITY

Here is the biggest basic construction change since the early days of motoring. Pontiac's revolutionary new frame design is lighter, stronger, more stable than the conventional box type used on other cars.



Quadra-Poise ROADABILITY

Only the wheels know where the bumps are! Pontiac's new suspension geometry ends dive, sway and bounce to bring you the smoothest ride, easiest handling you've ever known!

Conventional Springs — Pontiac's New Air Ride

Ever-Level Air Ride*

The most perfect suspension system ever designed—and Pontiac's revolutionary Aero-Frame is specifically designed for it! Air cushions on all four wheels literally float you over the bumps... keep the car perfectly level regardless of load or road!

*An extra-cost option.

Circles-of-Steel SAFETY

Pontiac's completely new body construction surrounds you with girder steel protection—above, below, fore and aft. Now you can drive with wonderful new peace of mind!

Tempest 395 PERFORMANCE

Try Pontiac's new jeweled-action response! Scores of exclusive engineering innovations make Pontiac's hefty power plant a miracle of smoothness... and you can choose from four horsepower ratings including Tri-Power Carburetion and Fuel Injection*.*

Tensions Natural, Psychiatrist Says

The Register, in cooperation with the Monmouth county Mental Health Association, is publishing excerpts from the book, "How to Deal With Your Tensions," written by Dr. George S. Stevenson, psychiatrist, of River Plaza. Dr. Stevenson is the national and international consultant for the National Association for Mental Health, as well as a consultant for the county Mental Health association.

This is the second article in a series of four. The first installment pointed out that tensions are natural and useful and that anxiety and tension are essential functions of everyday living just as hunger and thirst are.

There are, however, some people for whom life is a series of little and big crises. In such instances, we may expect more than an occasional passing emotional upset. We may expect to see signs of prolonged and intense anxiety and tension.

The time to become watchful, therefore, is the time when emotional upsets come frequently, shake us severely and fail to wear off after a while.

How do you recognize when this is happening?

Here in the form of questions, are some of the effects that show.

If any considerable number of the reactions cited below are getting to be the rule will you, that does not mean disaster. But it does indicate the need to deal with the situation constructively.

Reactions Listed

1. Do minor problems and disappointments throw you into a dither?
2. Do you find it difficult to get along with people, and are people having trouble getting along with you?
3. Do the small pleasures of life fail to satisfy you?
4. Are you unable to stop thinking of your anxieties?
5. Do you fear people or situations that never used to trouble you?
6. Are you suspicious of people, mistrustful of your friends?
7. Do you have the feeling of being trapped?
8. Do you feel inadequate, suffer the tortures of self-doubt?

If your answer is "yes" to most of these questions, there are several things you might do. There are, to begin with, certain simple, practical, constructive things you can do for yourself.

These measures are, for the most part, positive forms of action. And action, of course, is nature's instinctive response to a threat of any kind. Primitive reactions like flight or combat can rarely serve us in a modern world. Undirected reactions, such as pacing the floor, are only indirectly helpful as releases of nervous energy helping a worrier regain balance to decide on more important things to do. Much more effective is action which helps to solve a problem.

Mercury Will Have 20 Models in '58

With a big new "super Mercury" series called the Park Lane, and major styling and engineering changes in its full line of cars, Mercury for 1958 will blanket the whole medium price market with a total of 20 models. English-Motors, 34 Maple ave., Red Bank, is the local agent.

The new Park Lane, with three models, is the biggest and most luxurious Mercury ever built. It has a wheelbase of 125 inches and it is 220.2 inches long—nine inches longer than the 1957 Mercurys.

"By extending our car line into the upper-medium price bracket, Mercury for 1958 offers a big car with matching power and performance throughout the entire range of the medium price field," said James J. Nance, general manager of Lincoln and Mercury division and vice president of Ford Motor company.

Matchless performance throughout the entire driving range is provided in a series of four new Mercury Marauder overhead valve V-8 engines with horsepower ranging from 312 to 400.

In a major styling change, all front and sheet metal in the 1958 Mercury is new and features a longer, lower hood which carries a graceful step up to the cowl. New sculptured fender lines blend with a heavier bumper-grille and incorporate quadri-beam headlights as standard equipment.

Living room luxury is provided in the magnificent interiors, all color co-ordinated to complement the attractive array of exterior body colors.

Four transmissions are offered, including a new Merc-O-Matic Multi-Drive automatic transmission which gives unmatched flexibility in meeting individual driving requirements or habits. Multi-Drive has three forward ranges, cruising range which meets normal driving needs, a "high performance" range for fast acceleration and hill control or low range for maximum engine braking on extremely steep grades or for extra pulling power. A hill-holder operates in cruising range, preventing the car from slipping back when stopping on steep grades. Multi-Drive is standard on the Park Lane models and optional on all others.

An improved Merc-O-Matic automatic has been designed for adaptation to the increased torque capacity of the Mercury Marauder engines. It includes a stronger, welded steel converter which replaces the bolted converter used previously. Merc-O-Matic is standard on Monticlair models and on Voyager and Colony Park station wagons. Keyboard control for automatic transmissions is simplified in design.

Conventional synchromesh transmission is standard on Monterey models and on Commuter station wagons, and overdrive is optional.

Engineering improvements in the chassis give a luxurious limousine ride which softens jolts and smothers bumps over all kinds of roads. Mercury's balanced weight distribution, its lower center of gravity, its full-cushioned shock absorbers and its swept-back ball-joint front suspension all contribute to riding comfort and ease of handling.

An optional speed limit safety monitor rings a reminder bell when the driver exceeds the speed he has selected on its dash-mounted dial.

A vacuum operated fingertip control for all heating, defrosting, ventilating and air conditioning requirements is provided by Mercury's Climate-Dial—a single dial mounted on the instrument panel. On the Park Lane it comes with the heater, and it is standard with air conditioning.

An extensive list of options to improve motoring pleasure is available, including power seat that remembers, power steering, power brakes, power lubrication, power windows and air conditioning. Transistor radios are available.

The new Park Lane series has three models: the Montclair series has six, including two Turnpike Cruisers, the Monterey series has five models and there are six station wagons, all with hardtop styling and back window that retracts into the tailgate.

Post Stresses Traffic Safety

FORT MONMOUTH — "Fort Monmouth Traffic Safety Week" started Monday and during this all-out safe driving campaign, aimed to reduce the number of motor vehicle accidents involving post personnel, special demonstrations, telecasts and orientation meetings have been scheduled.

Also, letters, literature and posters on traffic safety are ready for postwide distribution to all military and civilian personnel.

This campaign is Fort Monmouth's big effort to "Back the Attack on Traffic Accidents," not only for this special program but also for the future. "Traffic Safety Week" is being staged in time for a long holiday weekend—Veterans day, during the post's safe driving campaign. Also it is timely because of the hazards of winter driving.

Tragedy, pain and grief, and thousands of dollars needlessly spent in automobile acoidents, are incalculable. These are some of the items to be stressed in the safe driving promotion.

Among the demonstrations scheduled are two special features on the detonator stopping distance, a demonstration which proves that a vehicle cannot stop in less than 28 feet going 20 miles-per-hour.

A special half-hour television program will be TV'd throughout the week over the closed circuit system. The traffic safety show has been filmed and features John Moore, director of the Cornell university crash injury research institute, and George Shay of Johns-Manville corporation. Attendance is mandatory for all military and civilians of the post and will be shown in the two theaters, Myer hall and the Hexagon auditoriums, and building 478. Coles and Evans areas also will show the film.

Traffic safety literature and leaflets were distributed to each individual in every activity. Even commissary shoppers all week will have safety pamphlets placed in their shopping baskets.

In its effort to cut down motor vehicle accidents involving post personnel, the office of the Fort Monmouth safety officer announced earlier this week that there have been 32 injuries involving military with private vehicles, so far this year. A lag on civilian accident injuries off-post is not officially maintained. However, as of this past Sunday, statewide in New Jersey, the accident fatality was at 645, with 41 deaths in Monmouth county.

How to Invest— in Just ONE Hour Flat!

That sounds like a big order, we know. But we've prepared a one-hour program that's filled with enough information about stocks and bonds to get nearly anybody off on the right foot — or help guide those already experienced in investing.

So, if you'd like to learn a lot more about this business of investing yourself, be sure to be with us—

- At 8 P. M. sharp
- On November 21st
- In Rumson Regional High School Auditorium

When you come—

You'll see a fast-moving 30-minute movie in full color that tells you about the principles of our free enterprise system.

You'll hear a 15-minute talk on investing in general, how to manage your money, what stocks can mean to you.

You'll get a chance to ask any questions you want to, hear them openly discussed, come away with the answers you want.

And that's all there is to the formal program—you're welcome to leave if you want to.

But if you'd like to sit down and talk about your own situation...get a first-hand opinion on a particular stock ...or discuss the possibilities of starting a sensible investment program of your own — then stay. There'll be an experienced staff on hand to give you all the confidential help we can.

In either event, there's no charge for coming, you're not obligated in any way. Just call or write and tell us you'll be there. Use WX-2040 in calling from Shore Area.

C. G. Colyer, Banker, Dies

FAIR HAVEN — Charles G. Colyer, 83, died Thursday of a heart attack in the home of his son, Donald H. Colyer of 52 Gillespie ave. He was a director of the Firemen's Insurance company of Newark.

He lived for many years at 332 Ridgewood ave., Glen Ridge. Later he lived in Montclair and recently moved here to make his home with his son.

Mr. Colyer's father, Charles Colyer, was for many years vice president and treasurer of the Firemen's Insurance company.

He was born in Newark and was graduated from the high school there.

His first job was with the old Essex County National bank. In 1898, he joined the Benjamin Atha and Illingworth company, where he remained for four years when the Newark plant was sold to the Crucible Steel company.

Mr. Colyer then joined the City Trust company in Newark as treasurer.

He left there to become cashier and vice president of the Sherman National bank, New York city.

With Irving Trust

He continued as vice president of the Irving Trust company, when that bank purchased control of the Sherman bank, but in 1910 resigned to join the investment house of Colgate, Parker and company.

For many years, Mr. Colyer was a director and a member of the Firemen's Insurance company and its affiliated companies.

He served as vice president of the Public Service Stock and Bond company and as president of the Fidelity Union Stock and Bond company.

Mr. Colyer resigned from Fidelity in 1934 and organized Colyer, Robinson and company, Inc., a Newark securities firm. Mr. Colyer retired in 1942 and the firm was liquidated.

He served as vice president of the Bond club of New Jersey and was a member of the Essex club, Down Town club, Glen Ridge Country club and the Economics club.

Besides his son, he is survived by his wife, Mrs. Myrtle Huyler Smith Colyer; another son, C. Carlton Colyer of Wayne, Pa.; eight grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

The funeral service was held monday at St. Luke's church in Mt. Pleasant cemetery, under the direction of the George Van Tassel funeral home.

Melvin Holmes, Teacher-Coach

SPRING LAKE — Melvin Jeffrey Holmes, 2 Elizabeth ct., a teacher in Asbury Park high school more than 20 years and well-known as an athletic coach and official, died last Thursday night in Fitkin hospital, where he had been a patient for a short time. He was 56 years old.

A native of Ocean Grove, he had lived in Monmouth county all his life. He was graduated from Neptune high school, where he earned letters in basketball, football and track. He was graduated from the University of Maine in 1923 and captained the varsity basketball team. Mr. Holmes earned a master of arts degree at Lafayette college.

Mr. Holmes joined the Asbury Park faculty in 1930 and taught physics and science. He was junior varsity basketball coach and varsity tennis coach 23 years. For 15 years he officiated various scholastic sporting events and was a member of the state high school officials association.

SIMON J. DUNN

WEST KEANSBURG — Simon J. Dunn, 62, of 82 Monroe ave., died Tuesday of last week in East Orange Veterans hospital. Mr. Dunn was a vault guard in the Howard Savings institution, Newark. He was a World War I veteran and a former member of the American Legion in Spotswood, and of the National Turners.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Catherine Huhn Dunn; three sons, Joseph S. Dunn of Clark township, William M. Dunn of Irvington and John R. Dunn at home; a daughter, Mrs. Rosann Sayles of West Keansburg; a brother, Michael Dunn of Florida; two sisters, Mrs. Catherine Stucy of Caldwell and Mrs. Margaret Morgansthein of Newark, and seven grandchildren.

High requiem mass was offered Saturday in St. Leo's Catholic church, Irvington.

PHILIP APRIL

NEW YORK CITY — Funeral services for Philip April, 69, of 80 Park ave. and formerly of Holmdel, N. J., were held yesterday in Congregation Bnai Jeshurun here.

He was a partner in the Monte Christi corporation, a hat bleaching and dyeing firm.

While in Holmdel, Mr. April took part in the activities of Congregation Bnai Israel, Red Bank. He was at one time a chairman of the United Jewish Appeal in Red Bank.

Disabled Workers Have Job To Get Best Security Aid

ASBURY PARK — Benjamin Sandberg, district manager, said it is up to workers to act promptly to secure their disability benefits under the Social Security system.

Benefiting workers are those aged 50 or more.

"By filing an application to 'freeze' his earnings record, the younger worker protects not only his own rights but those of his dependents should he die," said Mr. Sandberg, adding: "The amount to be paid when he reaches age 50 will be figured on his working years if his record is frozen. This assures payment of the highest possible amount based on his earnings record."

Mr. Sandberg said that to qualify for this "freeze," disabled persons must have worked or been in business under the Social Security plan for at least five years out of the 10 prior to becoming disabled. Also, these workers must have worked at least a year and a half out of the three-year period before they were forced to stop working. Disability, he said, must have existed at least six months but may be of any nature so long as it can be established by medical evidence and is expected to continue for an indefinite period.

He estimated that, nationally, some two million persons are disabled and have been out of work for six or more months.

Growers of Spring Crops Prepare Soil in Late Fall

FREEHOLD—Vegetable growers planning to plant early spring crops such as lettuce, early cabbage and onions usually prepare their soil in late fall where fields are not likely to erode during the winter time.

Fall plowing is delayed until just before freezing weather so as to give the cover crops a chance to grow. Plow on the contour. County Agent Marvin A. Clark advises leaving the ground rough so that it will hold water during the winter and allow it to soak deep into the soil.

Plow deeper than usual, even to the extent of bringing to the surface some of the subsoil just below plow depth. The weathering action during the winter on this hard layer will disintegrate it and it will be in a mellow condition by early spring.

Successful farmers operating deep cultivating equipment use it on the contour and never up and down the slope.

A more complete job can be done when the soil is dry and especially when operating deep tillage machinery. It will break the soil underneath and aeration will be more complete.

JCP&L Reports Increase In Operating Revenues

ASBURY — Jersey Central Power & Light company last week reported operating revenues of $38,878,000 for the 12 months ended Sept. 30 as compared with $34,996,000 for the same period last year, an increase of 11 per cent. At the same time it disclosed that net income increased six per cent from $5,431,000, for the period ended Sept. 30, 1956, to $5,767,000 this year.

Net income did not keep pace with the rise in operating revenues, according to the company, because of higher operating costs, including labor and materials, and taxes. The company also reported construction expenditures of $15,584,000 for the 12-month period that ended Sept. 30, 1957.

Farmers Ask Tax Relief

TRENTON—A stiff declaration of policy on taxes is expected to come out of the New Jersey Farm bureau's annual meeting Nov. 13-14 at Far Hills inn, Somerville.

What final form the tax resolution will take is not easily predicted, but it seems certain that bureau's position of last year, in which it asked for either a sales or income tax, will be restated in even stronger terms this year.

President Herbert W. Voorhees of the 7,000-farmer organization has voiced farm bureau opposition again and again in recent months to what he calls "confiscatory property taxes," maintaining that they will drive farmers off their land if not soon held in check.

In preparation for the annual meeting, working committees have already been busy hammering out a draft of a tax resolution. At work on it have been the farm bureau's tax and planning committee and the resolutions committee. The tax committee, recently completing a year's study of the New Jersey tax picture with benefit of tax experts' opinion, has recommended a sales or income tax. Tied to it was a recommendation that any such new tax be dedicated exclusively to school costs.

The shape of the final resolution adopted at the annual meeting also will be influenced by the thinking of the county boards of agriculture which are affiliated with farm bureau. Their resolutions unanimously have been critical of high property taxes and based tax program. There has been strong county support for a sales tax.

"It seems assured," said Voorhees, "that the final declaration of the farm bureau on taxes will lend support to the widespread clamor of farmers all over New Jersey to find some relief from mounting real estate taxes. To many farmers it has become a matter of whether or not he can hold onto his farm."

While a tax policy will hold a lot of interest at the annual meeting since it will reflect the thinking of the organized farmer in the state, other portions of the program also will consider the future of the farmer.

Following Secretary William Perry Watson's annual report at the opening morning session, Mr. Voorhees will make his annual speech on the theme, "Where Do We Go from Here?" He will be followed by Rev. Gordon Lowden, Central Methodist church, Bridgeton, whose topic will be, "In our Hands."

Following luncheon, Warren A. Ranney, director of industrial relations for GLF, will speak on "Do Farmer Co-operatives have a Future?" Mr. Ranney is a member of the executive committee of the National Council of Farmer Co-operatives. The farm bureau women will hear Mercedes J. Hurst of International Harvester company as the featured speaker following their luncheon. A panel discussion of the annual meeting theme is slated for the afternoon. Featured speaker at the annual evening banquet will be Roger Fleming, secretary-treasurer of the American Farm Bureau federation.

The second day session will be taken up with discussion and adoption of resolutions and elections of officers and trustees.

B-58 BUICK

Born of more Aircraft Principles than any other car yet built

HERE—coming to you from the freshest blueprints in years—is a car built to make your driving as modern as your thinking.

This one's built with more aviation principles throughout than any car before

There's a greater use of airweight aluminum in its form and structure—in its engine—in its styling—even in its quick-cooling brakes.

There's an air-borne feeling of flight in its performance with Buick's B-12000 engine and with Flight Pitch Dynaflow* that can switch the pitch a million ways.

And everywhere you go—you travel in new comfort with Buick's Miracle Ride plus Air-Poise Suspension.*

So this is a car of truly exciting ideas for 1958—the Air Born B-58 Buick.

And you should see it and drive it at your Buick dealer's soon. Come on in today.

ALL IN ONE YEAR—ALL IN THIS BIG, BUOYANT BUICK—

Flight Pitch Dynaflow — Lets you switch the pitch a million ways for blast power, economy at every phase of travel. Makes smooth, restful takeoffs.

B-12000 Engine — Up to 10 to 1 in compression, and with 12,000 pounds of thrust pulling every piston's power stroke. Most responsive ever built for today's roads.

Miracle Ride plus Buick Air-Poise Suspension* — You ride on four coil-to-piston columns of compressed air — stay on an even level, regardless of passengers or road conditions.

Sparkling Fresh Styling — Frame-widened wheelbase dynamics drive to sparkling tail lights. Ride is smoother, too, on Buick roads.

Air-Cooled Aluminum Brakes — Heavy-lined, extra-powerful brakes with air rolling through fins to cooling fins. Stop more times, more surely, and longer lining life. (Standard on most models.)

Magnificent Changes Through and Through — Velvet-quiet power, driver-easy handling — plus many others!

*Flight Pitch Dynaflow standard on LIMITED and ROADMASTER 75, optional at extra cost on other Series.
Air-Poise Suspension optional at extra cost on all Series.

When better automobiles are built Buick will build them

Toland Sees Truman

Red Bank author John Toland, 223 Maple ave., returned this week from a trip to Missouri and California—where he gathered material for his forthcoming book on the World War II Battle of the Bulge.

While in Missouri, Mr. Toland saw former President Harry S. Truman to gain his knowledge of the famous battle—but primarily to get information about another book he plans to write concerning the human side of the depression.

Mr. Truman once worked at the state unemployment office in Kansas City.

In California, Mr. Toland interviwed three World War II G. I.'s—who will turn out to be the central characters in his book.

This week, Mr. Toland will meet with Gen. Matthew Ridgway in Pittsburgh and Fred MacKensie of Buffalo, the only newspaperman who was actually in the Bulge fighting.

Mr. Toland hopes to complete the research phase of the book within the next few weeks and then begin writing.

The book—to be called "Battle: The Story of the Bulge"—will tentatively be published in February, 1959.

Mr. Toland, already a noted magazine writer, has one book to his credit, "Ships in the Sky."

Drama in Secret, That's an Auction

In the September, 1957 issue of the Woman's Day magazine, there was a most interesting article entitled "Drama in Secret—That's an Auction."

The article referred to "Col." B. G. Coats, the well known auctioneer, and we have Mr. Coats' permission to reprint the article as it appeared in the magazine.

We trust our readers will find it as interesting as we have. The article is reprinted below verbatim.

In the expert opinion of "Col." B. G. Coats, of Long Branch, N. J., the charm of an auction lies partly in the fact that nobody knows what's going to happen next. That goes for buyers, onlookers, and occasionally, the auctioneer.

"Some years ago," the tall, husky Coats said in his mellifluous baritone, "I sold out an undertaking establishment. The professional appurtenances were bought by other undertakers. Folding chairs were bought by businessmen, housewives and a church sexton.

"I asked for bids on burial urns, some containing ashes. They were promptly bought by several women who wanted them for decorative displays at home."

As for the buyers—

"In 1951," Coats recalls, "I was auctioning the farm and personal effects of a cigar magnate. Some 1,500 people showed up. Among them were a man and wife who had journeyed from Jersey City—the auction was at Tennent, N. J.—for the sole purpose of buying an antique German cuckoo clock. They bought the clock for $45 and remained to buy the farm for $28,000."

Col. Coats is one of the few auctioneers specializing in liquidating big estates, the possessions of the wealthy or famous. Though a director of the National Auctioneers Association, and its president in 1947, he got into this work somewhat by accident.

In 1943, as a real estate man, he was asked to sell household effects as well as real estate to settle an estate in West Long Branch, N. J. He got such a kick out of auctioneering that he has been at it ever since. And after more than 900 auctions, he still has a wonderful time. Partly, of course, because he's in on the real drama behind the bidding. But also because it's a battle of wits—"you are trying to outwit the auctioneer, he's trying to outguess you."

Coats studies for these contests. He may spend a month cataloguing the items for sale, appraising silver, pottery, ivory, prints, porcelains, furniture, rugs, livestock and machinery, and consulting his reference library of some 200 volumes.

But the advantages are not all on the auctioneer's side. "He has the edge on you in experience," says Coats, "but you have an advantage in that he has more to keep in mind and has many sharp buyers whose idiosyncracies he must remember."

Coats himself occasionally demonstrates that the buyer can win this game. When not conducting auctions he likes to attend them. At a recent farm auction in North Jersey, a doorknob shaped piece of glass was offered. It seemed to have no virtue except that the glass contained an artificial rose.

Coats bid $1.50 and it was knocked down to him. "And yet," he says gleefully, "it was probably the best bargain there. That's an antique paperweight, and if it's a St. Louis, Baccarat, Clichy or Pinchbeck, it's worth at least $4,500. Not bad, for an investment of $1.50."

Paperweight fanciers don't pinch pennies. The record price was $4,000 until last February when one bid a whopping $7,580 in London.

To the enthusiastic colonel, "There is nothing in this world so fascinating as an auction."

"I've stopped wondering why people buy things," he says. "What you will throw away, someone will buy."

Keeping things unfailingly interesting, for Colonel Coats, is another observation: that auctions bring out the worst in people, and the best.

"I've heard them disparage an item, attempting to grab it cheap," he says. "But I have also seen them stop bidding so that an elderly lady, obviously of limited means, could acquire something she wanted very much."

JAILED FOR 90 DAYS

William Gaskin, 37, of 65 Linden pl., was sentenced to 90 days in the county jail Monday by Magistrate John V. Crowell for being drunk. John Whalen, 47, Middletown, was fined $25 for being drunk and disorderly on a porch at 67 Shrewsbury ave.

Feted on Retirement

Joseph B. Foley

Joseph B. Foley of 85 Manor dr., Red Bank, was honored last week by employees of the Atlantic Refining company at a dinner in Peterson's restaurant. Mr. Foley recently retired from the company after 27 years. George A. Hoffmire, 15 Dogwood rd., Middletown, was chairman of the arrangements committee. Employees presented Mr. Foley with binoculars and two smoking pipes.

Violin Recital At Old Mill

TINTON FALLS — The music activity committee of the Old Mill association will present Isidor Lateiner, a violinist, in a recital here Friday, Nov. 15, at 8:30 p. m.

He will be accompanied at the piano by his wife, Edith Grosz.

Mr. Lateiner was graduated from the Curtis Institute of Music, Philadelphia, at 15. He appeared with the Philadelphia orchestra under Eugene Ormandy and won unanimous critical acclaim.

This year the Music Activity committee, formerly the Old Mill Music society, is expanding its activities by launching a series of music appreciation programs-lectures.

The first lecture will be by Donald Kemp Nov. 29 and will deal with the historic significance of the works of Hummell, Spohr, Clementti and the sons of J. S. Bach.

Mrs. Dunbar Heads College Fund Drive

NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y. — Mrs. Walter L. Dunbar of 1 Lake dr., Eatontown, has been named area leader for the College of New Rochelle development fund campaign in the Jersey Shore area.

The college is seeking two and a half million dollars for the construction of a fine arts building and a student dormitory, and to increase student scholarships and faculty salaries. Mrs. Dunbar and her committee will contact the college's 55 alumnae and parents residing in the shore area for contributions to the fund this month and next.

Panel Urges Cop Training

FREEHOLD — In an unusual procedure, the September term grand jury last Thursday handed up a mid-term presentment calling for establishment of a program of "intense formal training" for members of municipal police departments.

It was pointed out that this presentment was handed up at this time rather than at the end of the term, as is usually done, so it could be forwarded to members of the legislature for their meeting later this month. The presentment calls for passage of Senate Bill 178, which requires training of persons appointed to municipal police departments.

The presentment said that passage of Senate Bill 178 would bring about uniform standards for police in all counties of the state and would create a state commission to direct and control a training program. It was pointed out that the commission would be limited in its powers to training of police and would not usurp authority vested in municipal police departments.

The presentment says, in part: "We have been very favorably impressed by the testimony, preparation and orderliness of troopers of the state police. Their early training and well-established procedures have been most rewarding.

"By comparison, frankly, some members of municipal police departments whom we have heard have been disappointing. In our opinion, these local officers suffer mainly because they have not had opportunities to undertake the study and formal education required of troopers."

Gerald F. Nagle, Sycamore ave., New Shrewsbury, is foreman of the panel and handed up the presentment to Superior Court Judge Howard Ewart. A similar presentment was handed up by the May term grand jury when it made a recommendation that police should be made to undergo a period of formal training.

Buffet Supper For Hadassah

Red Bank chapter of Hadassah will hold its annual pledge night observances—a buffet-supper at the Molly Pitcher hotel—next Thursday night. Officers will be hostesses.

The program has been arranged to raise funds for Hadassah's two principal services in Israel. Mainly their Youth Aliyah program, which has made it possible to bring 81,000 refugee children into Israel for education and settlement. Also Hadassah Medical Organization, which is considered by Israel officials as the nation's most important health program.

Mrs. Henry Goldman of Jersey City, membership vice president of the Northern New Jersey Region of Hadassah, will speak. A former president of the Jersey City Hadassah, Mrs. Goldman attended the World Zionist Congress in Israel last April, and in 1954 she toured the nation with a special group of Hadassah members. She has also served as regional education and Zionist affairs chairman.

The program also will include a fall fashion show by Jean Schwartz of Asbury Park. Mrs. Delbert Mammen and Mrs. Kenneth Scher are chairmen.

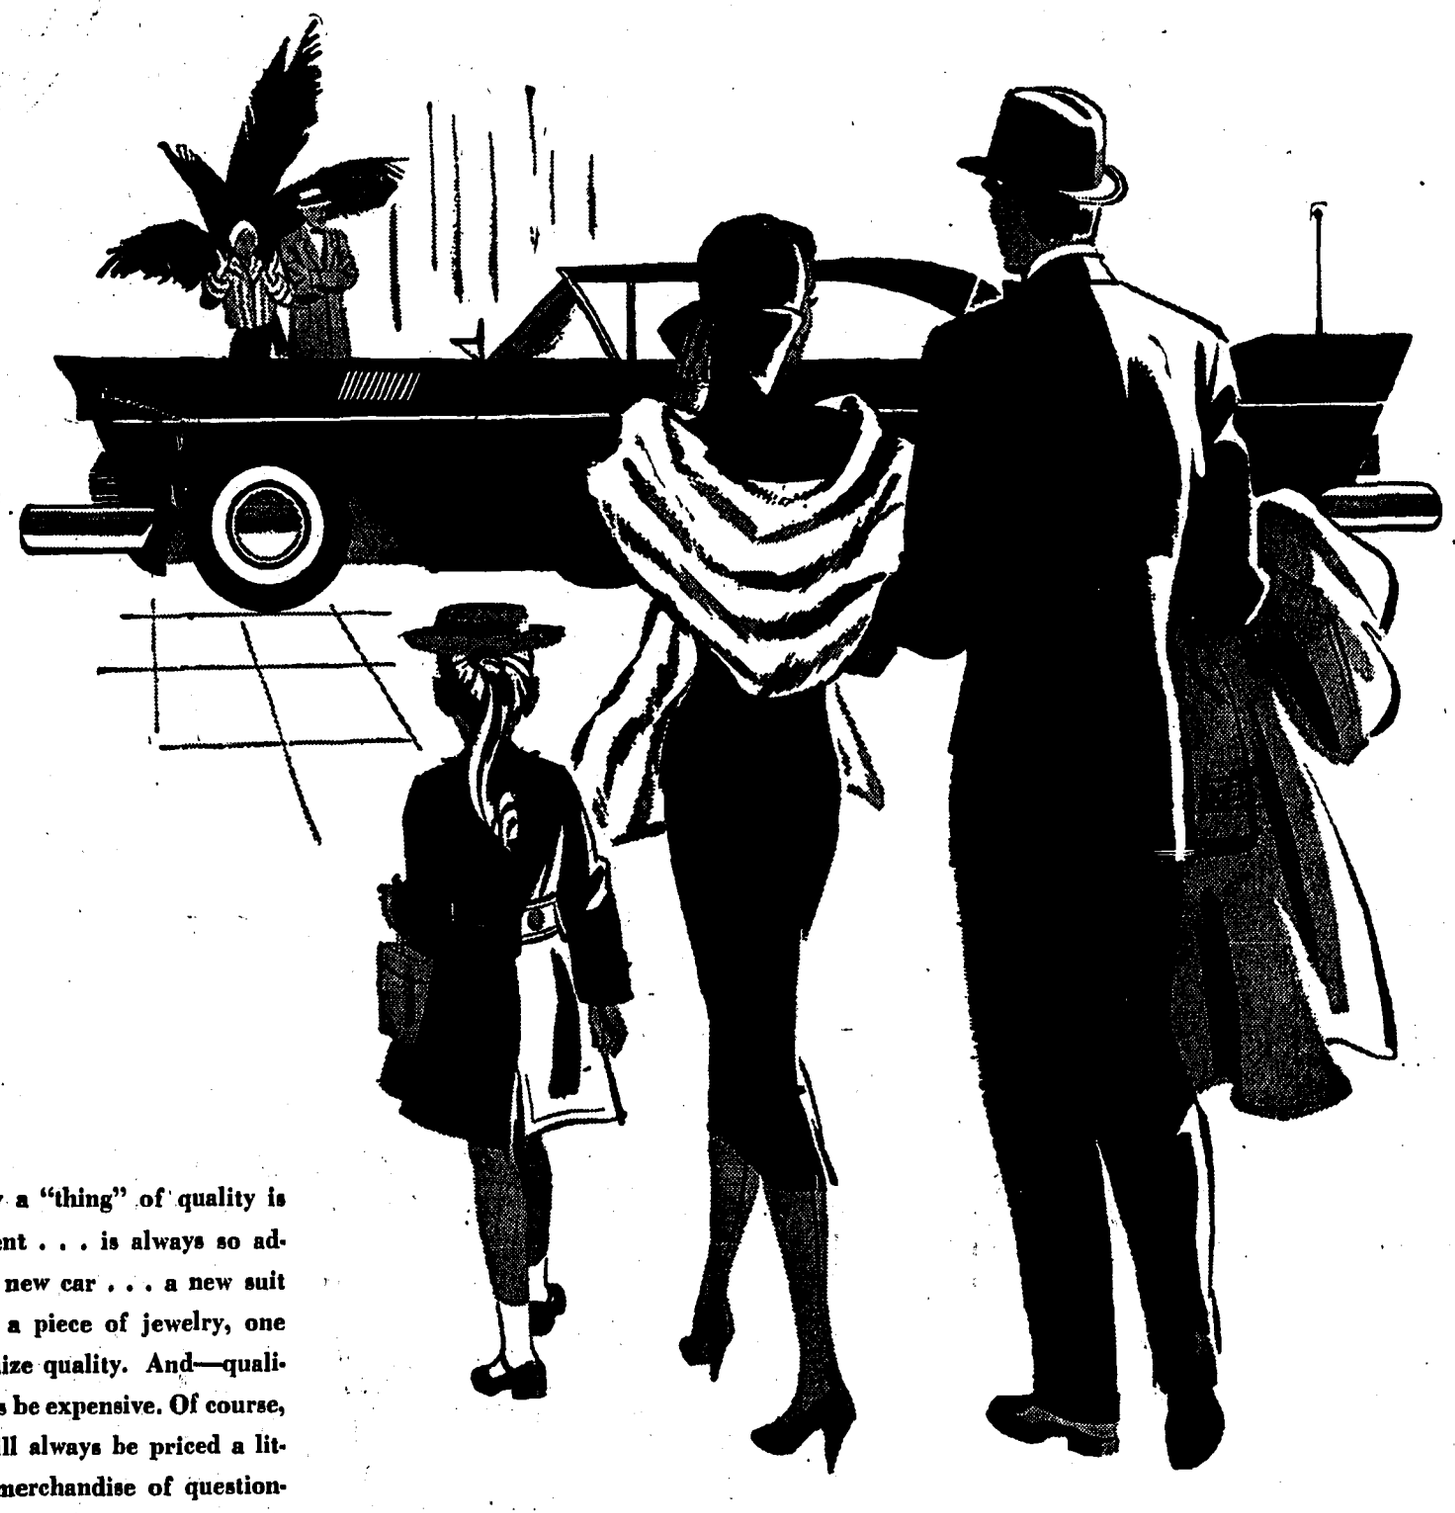
Quality is the best Policy . . . . . always!

AND WITH THESE RED BANK MERCHANTS, THE ACCENT IS ALWAYS ON . . QUALITY!



Ever notice how a "thing" of quality is always so apparent . . . is always so admired? Be it a new car . . . a new suit or dress . . . or a piece of jewelry, one can easily recognize quality. And—quality need not always be expensive. Of course, a quality item will always be priced a little higher than merchandise of questionable manufacture. That's because it is better—it costs more to make, and so it has to retail at a slightly higher price. But isn't it worth it? Of course it is! Quality merchandise will always far outlast inferior products. And too, quality looks better, is admired by everyone.

THE RED BANK MERCHANTS LISTED ON THIS PAGE FEATURE MERCHANDISE OF QUALITY . . . RECOGNIZED FAMOUS BRANDS . . .AND AT A FAIR AND REASONABLE PRICE. INSIST ON QUALITY—SHOP THESE RED BANK STORES FOR THE FINEST.

Campi Tops Davison In Little Silver Race

LITTLE SILVER — Local voters pulled a surprise in Tuesday's election by putting a Democratic mayor, P. Paul Campi, into office.

He defeated Republican incumbent Joseph C. Davison by a 39-vote margin. Mr. Davison was seeking his fifth term.

Mr. Campi received 1,028 votes while Mr. Davison collected 989.

In the race for mayor two years ago, Mr. Davison came out on top—defeating Mr. Campi by a narrow margin.

Two new Republican councilmen were voted into office. They are Charles E. Folsom and Edward F. Torre. The former received 1,036 votes while Mr. Torre gathered 1,075.

Guadagno, Lichter Lose

Their Democratic opponents were Michael F. Guadagno and Sidney Lichter. Mr. Guadagno received 975 votes and Mr. Lichter 881.

Joseph F. Lord and Howard Ungerer, current Republican councilmen, decided not to run this year—leaving their two chairs vacant.

The police pay raise was approved, 1,326 "yes" votes to 349 "no."

Unopposed for the job of tax collector was Republican Calvin A. Rowe. He received 1,291 votes.

In the governor and county races, Little Silver voted the way it has for years—Republican.

Forbes Tops Meyner

Sen. Malcolm S. Forbes received 1,138 votes against 853 for incumbent Gov. Robert B. Meyner.

Incumbent Assemblymen Alfred N. Beadleston and Clifton T. Barkalow collected 1,207 and 1,203 votes, respectively. John C. Giordano, Jr., received 782 and his running mate, Richard V. Keuper, 749.

In the freeholder battle, Earl L. Woolley ran high here with 1,259 votes while Victor E. Grossinger collected 1,191. Philip H. Fluhr and Richard E. Burke, Democrats, received 770 and 708, respectively.

The state question was approved, 1,042 for and 486 against.

Farrell Wins; Mrs. Anderson, Resort's First Councilwoman

SEA BRIGHT — Voters here Tuesday returned Democratic Mayor Thomas Farrell to his chair for a seventh term but discarded his three-man slate of council candidates.

They accepted with enthusiasm this resort's first woman for council, giving Republican Mrs. Mildred N. Anderson, wife of the late Councilman Kenneth Anderson, a two-year seat on the governing body.

Retained in office are Council President Nells Jacobsen, who has been in office here for about 30 years, and Police Commissioner John A. Carlson, for a second term.

Independent Vote

By the way they split their vote, Democrat here, Republican there, the local citizens made the voting machine sing in rock 'n roll rhythm. The independents were on the job.

High man was Mayor Farrell, government member for 18 years who based his platform on continued low taxes and more sea defenses. He got 304 votes. He wound up 75 votes ahead of his Republican opponent, former Councilman Ralph W. Lawrence, Sr., who received 229.

Right behind the mayor, with 297 votes, was Mrs. Anderson. She ran for a two-year unexpired term, caused by the death of her husband. He had been a council member seven years. Mrs. Anderson also is a member of the local school board. Councilman Jacobsen was given 282 votes and Councilman Carlson 276.

Edged out was John F. Forsman, Democrat, making a first try for council, who was given 255 votes. Former Democratic Councilman John L. K. Deckert received 198 votes and Carmen A. Ventresco, Democratic newcomer, who got 202.

Variety Pronounced

It was on the top of the board that the voters skipped through the keys. Democratic Governor Meyner polled 264 votes to 228 for Republican Senator Forbes. Republican Assemblyman Beadleston, with 256, topped Democrat John C. Giordano, Jr.'s 247. But Democrat Richard V. Keuper's 242 outdid by nine Republican Assemblyman Barkalow's 233.

There was a moderate Republican accent in the Freeholder voting. Freeholders Earl L. Woolley and Victor E. Grossinger, GOP incumbents, respectively were given 248 and 239 votes, compared with 238 and 233 for the Democrat hopefuls, Philip H. Fluhr and Richard E. Burke.

What the election means is that Mayor Farrell, who is well used to such lineups, will have a council made up of five Republicans—the three elected Tuesday and Councilmen Charles Eilenbergor and Sam L. Diggle, Jr.—and lone Demoorat Walter L. Johnson.

Mayor Farrell told a Register reporter that "naturally, I am disappointed that none of the Democratic council candidates won, since I had good running mates." But, he added: "I have been able to work well with the Republicans on the council, and I am sure our efforts will be for the best interests of Sea Bright, as usual."

Ackerson Wins by 2 to 1; Will Appoint GOP Official

HOLMDEL—Democratic Mayor James H. Ackerson, who outpolled Governor Meyner in his victory here Tuesday, will appoint a Republican to the vacant seat on the governing body, Mr. Ackerson announced yesterday.

The mayor said that in fairness to his Republican constituents, who have backed him in two elections almost as solidly as the Democrats, he will not upset the customary GOP-Democrat balance in the township, a traditional GOP stronghold.

The two parties here, by an unwritten "gentlemen's agreement" have for 30 years maintained a 2-2 division in the top four administrative posts—three township committee seats and the municipal clerk post—with two Democrats and two Republicans sharing the offices.

One of the Republican factions made a bid this year to knock over the tradition.

GOP Voters Aid Mayor

A high percentage of Republican voters, however, crossed party lines to help re-elect the mayor, 510 votes to 275 for the GOP candidate, Stanley Stilwell.

Republican Committeeman John S. Holmes died recently, creating the township committee vacancy. The other committeeman, John S. Van Mater, is a Democrat.

The mayor said the committee appointment will probably be made at the governing body's meeting next week.

Mr. Ackerson, the only front-running Democrat locally, outpolled Governor Meyner by almost 200 votes. Sen. Malcolm S. Forbes, in his bid to unseat Meyner, collected 436 votes to the governor's 315.

In the race for the two Assembly seats, incumbents Clifton T. Barkalow and Alfred N. Beadleston received 461 and 444, respectively.

Democrat John C. Giordano, Jr., received 304 votes and his running mate, Richard V. Keuper, collected 280.

Incumbent Freeholders Victor E. Grossinger and Clifton T. Barkalow received 450 and 442, respectively. Their Democratic opponents, Richard E. Burke and Philip H. Fluhr received 293 and 286 votes, respectively.

The state question was approved here—221 votes to 159.

Freehold Elects 3 Democrats

FREEHOLD — Democratic Mayor Barton Callahan was returned to office here. He had no opposition and received 1,865 votes.

Elected to the council were DeWitt Lott with 1,416 votes and incumbent Michael J. Merola, with 1,355 votes. They, too, are Democrats.

Republican incumbent John J. Queeney was defeated. He registered 1,327 votes. The other Republican running was Abe Steinberg. He received 1,108 votes.

Republican Fred Quinn had no opposition in the race for assessor. He collected 1,814 votes.

In the battles for governor, assembly and freeholder, here is the lineup:

Governor, Democrat, Gov. Robert B. Meyner, 1,676, and Republican, Sen. Malcolm S. Forbes, 1,000.

Assembly, Democrat, John C. Giordano, Jr., 1,408, and Richard V. Keuper, 1,244; Republican, Alfred N. Beadleston, 1,365, and Clifton T. Barkalow, 1,493.

Freeholder, Democrat, Philip H. Fluhr, 1,276, and Richard E. Burke, 1,343, and Republican, Victor E. Grossinger, 1,152, and Earl L. Woolley, 1,277.

The state question received 820 "yes" votes and 517 "no" votes.

Mayor Buckley Unseated By William LeMoine

MARLBORO — Republican Mayor Dennis Buckley was unseated here Tuesday. While his running mate for the township committee, Charles T. McCue, piled up 741 votes to defeat Joseph C. LaMura, Democrat William L. LeMoine received 713 votes to Buckley's 614. La Mura tallied 693 votes.

With the exception of LeMoine's victory, the rest of the Republican ticket was victorious.

The rest of the results: Forbes, 672, Meyner, 651; Beadleston, 697, and Barkalow, 696, against Giordano, Jr. 606, and Keuper, 609; Grossinger, 700, and Woolley, 706, Fluhr, 578, and Burke, 593.

The state question passed, 376 to 280.

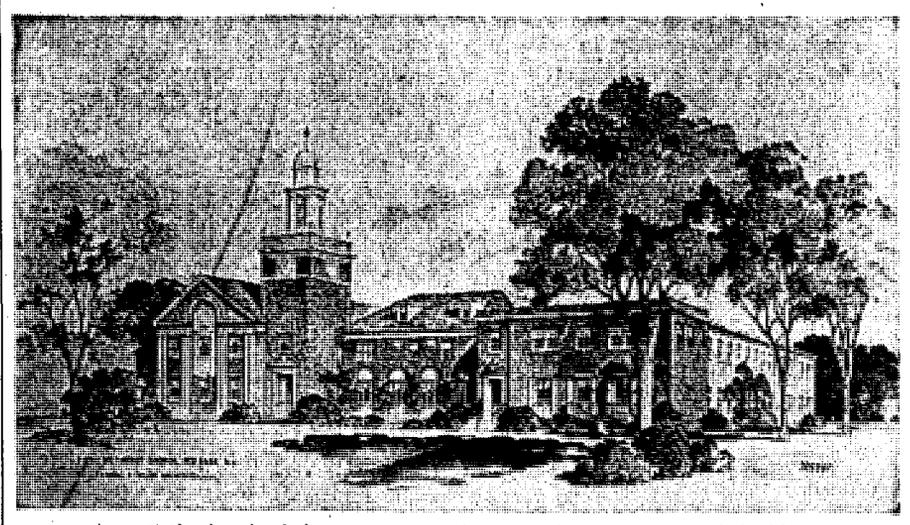
Methodist Church Addition Planned



An artist's sketch of the proposed addition to the present church building, to provide the necessary space for the ever-expanding church school. This building is a major part of the proposed church expansion program which was recently approved in principle by the official board, and will be considered and voted upon in a congregational meeting and Special Quarterly Conference presently.

Permission has been granted by Rev. Roger J. Squire, pastor of the Methodist church, for the Register to reprint the article which appeared in the November issue of The Methodist Outlook," the official church publication, regarding a proposed addition to the church and a monster financial campaign to be conducted after the holidays.

The church expansion committee has for some time realized that much more room is needed for the full program of the church activities and they have begun in earnest to provide for same..

The article sets forth the plan that no doubt will have the full endorsement, not only of the church membership, but also of the special quarterly conference to be held in the very near future. The article follows.

Activities of Church Expansion Committee

At the risk of being repetitious for those who have been following closely the efforts of this hard-working committee, excerpts of the committee on Church Expansion's Number 1 report to the Official Board are included below to make certain that all of the members are kept fully informed. This should enable each to be in a better position to properly evaluate the solution to the overcrowding situation, when the Congregational Meeting and Special Quarterly Conference is called.

The date for this meeting and conference has not yet been chosen, since the Official Board felt that no one should feel that inadequate time had been allowed for study of the proposed solution by the membership at large.

The "Conclusions and Recommendations" of the Committee are as follows:

A building program is vitally needed to replace the temporary or inadequate space now available to us and to support the anticipated continued growth of our Church School.

A giving potential of $200,000 to $335,000 exists. A sum within this range can be raised by a carefully planned and conducted financial campaign which has the support of our congregation.

The budget estimate is $277,000 to underwrite the recommended full program of new construction and alterations.

Our fund campaign goal should be $335,000 to combine the funding of our budget estimate and our current debt.

It is recommended that:

A special Church conference should be called to hear this report and to consider authorization of a financial and a building program.

A goal of $335,000 should be set for a financial campaign.

The building program of new construction and alterations should be substantially as outlined in this committee's report.

Fund Campaign Planning

The sub-committee on Temporary Funding and Fund Campaign planning is composed of Leonard J. Reade, Roy E. Cotten, F. Bert Heiser, Harold J. Coddington, Mrs. Fred Krill, and A. Alvin Whiting. The recommendations of this sub-committee are as follows:

That a complete financial campaign for capital funds to liquidate the cost of the proposed building and current indebtedness be held.

That the campaign be conducted from February 14 through February 28, 1958. A tentative commitment has been made with the Rev. Leon L. Blackman of the Division of Finance and Field Service of the Methodist church to conduct such a campaign.

That the total objective be $335,000—$280,000 for construction and campaign costs and $55,000 for consolidation of present indebtedness.

That the campaign be conducted by a professional organization, either connected with the Methodist church or other reputable money-raising organization.

That at least 200 members of the church be called upon to participate in the actual campaign.

That the church plan on the cost of the campaign as being in the range from $5,000 to $16,000, depending upon the success of the campaign.

Architects' Plans

In cooperation with the architects, firm of Ferrenz and Taylor, architects, sketches of floor plans have been developed to provide for a new educational building with approximately 5,700 square feet of floor space on each of two floors and a basement for a total of about 17,000 square feet of new floor space plus two new corridors in existing courtyards.

The architects' sketches provide also for alterations to the present structure to expand the sanctuary into the present chapel and rear balcony rooms, to relocate the doors of Fellowship Hall on a bypass corridor, to partition the first-floor front room of the former Eisner building into offices, to eliminate the main Eisner stairway, to create a Ladies' lounge on the first floor of the Eisner building, to create a Men's room in the basement of the Eisner building, and to provide space for a Church Library in the Eisner building.

The effect of these programs of new construction and alterations will be to:

Provide permanent seating for approximately 170 additional persons in an expanded church sanctuary.

Double the overall capacity from 250 to 500 in a single session of Sunday School.

Permit an expanded program for infants and toddlers and permit the return of all Sunday School classes from temporary quarters not now desirable for Sunday School use.

Increase the effective seating capacity of Fellowship Hall (at staged presentations) by approximately 50 additional seats and eliminate the use of Fellowship Hall as a corridor between the church and the Educational building.

Provide a new chapel which can be used independently of activities in the Church Sanctuary to serve 100 Sunday School students at a time for worship and assembly.

Provide a permanent Sunday School office, a permanent office for the director of Christian Education, and a more suitable alignment of other staff offices.

Provide basement space for the Scout program and the expanding youth activities.

Provide an adequate, modern heating plant with capacity to relieve the present old and heavily loaded unit.

Provide a Ladies' lounge, a Men's room, a coat alcove, and other improvements and conveniences.

The sub-committee on architects' plans and budget estimates is composed of F. Bert Heiser, Roger Walwark, Ned Allen, with Dr. John B. Bell, Jr., chairman.

Financial Potential of the Church

The sub-committee to investigate the financial capacity of the church was composed of Mrs. Harold J. Coddington, Mrs. Fred W. Krill, Miss Alta Schoettle, Ned Allen, Leonard Reade, and Roy E. Cotten, chairman.

The committee has given much consideration to many factors in this investigation. It has consulted Rev. Leon L. Blackman of the Division of Finance and Field Service of the Methodist church. It also consulted with a representative of the fund-raising firm of Ward, Dreshman and Reinhardt. From both of these services, the committee was advised that it would be normally expected that in a church of the present membership and type the church could raise between three to five times the amount of our annual operating budget.

Since the present budget is approximately $67,000, and this figure will certainly be increased in 1958, the sub-committee therefore feels it would be fair to assume that a Capital Fund campaign conducted in the church in the near futuro would produce a minimum of $200,000 and a maximum of $335,000.

In making this estimate of potential, it is assuming that pledges would be received, with pledges extending over a three-year period. It is the plan of our committee to consult further in the near future with a representative of the Ward, Dreshman and Reinhardt firm.

Budget Estimates

A budget estimato dated August 20, 1957, from Charles B. Hembling & Son is on file. The estimate is in the amount of $232,000. Naturally, actual construction bids can only be made after detailed working drawings are available. Construction bids may be expected to differ from the budget estimate depending upon the selection of alternative structural and decorative features. It is the opinion, however, that they can by careful planning stay close to the budget estimate at the present time. It is, of course, not possible to forecast the economic climate at some future date when construction bids might be solicited and submitted.

In summary, the total cost estimate is:

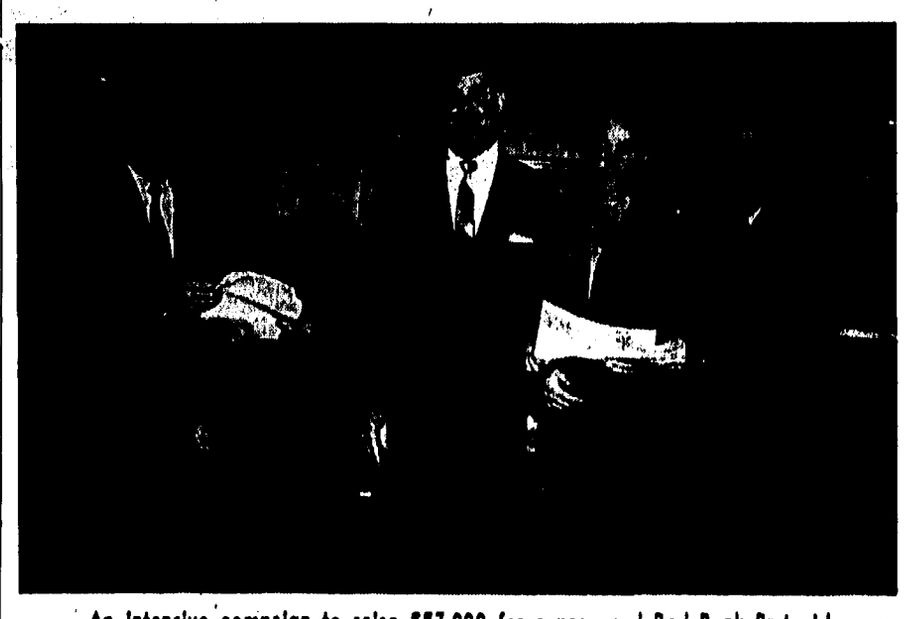
Budget estimate for construction	$232,000.
Furnishings and extras (12%)	27,500.
Architects' fees (8%)..	17,000.
TOTAL	$277,000.
Budgeted in 1957	2,000.
Total To Be Funded	$275,000.

This report was submitted by a committee composed of F. Bert Heiser, Roger Walwark, Ned Allen, and John B. Bell, Chairman.

ASBURY GOES DEMOCRATIC

ASBURY PARK — With no local contests to concern them, local voters sprung a surprise here Tuesday by giving majorities to each of the state and county Democratic candidates. The tally was: Democrat, Meyner, 2,946; Giordano, 2,810; Keuper, 2,853; Fluhr, 2,530; Burke, 2,627. Republican, Forbes, 2,239; Beadleston, 2,185; Barkalow, 2,177; Grossinger, 2,256, and Woolley, 2,348.

First Aid Squad Fund Drive Gets Under Way



An intensive campaign to raise $57,000 for a proposed Red Bank first aid squad building got under way this week. Heading the fund drive is Dr. M. Gregg Hibbs, center. Assisting him, left to right, are George F. Baine, chairman of business solicitations; Mrs. Jack Loversidge and Mrs. Peter DeFazio, co-chairmen of house-to-house and apartment fund raising, and Ralph H. Belknap, chairman of special gifts. Store owners and businessmen will be contacted until Nov. 16. The house-to-house drive will start Nov. 18 and end Nov. 23.

Sunday Closing Ordinance Voided

FREEHOLD — Consent judgments voiding Red Bank's Sunday business closings ordinance were signed last week by Superior Court Judge Howard Ewart.

The judgments, representing agreement on both sides and ending a controversy, resulted from Supreme court decisions Oct. 21, in which anti-Sunday sales ordinances in Woodbridge and South Orange were ruled invalid.

The Red Bank ordinance never went into effect after its adoption June 3. Suits were filed against its validity and the borough decided to wait for the Supreme court rulings on the other cases before taking any action.

Floor Space Talks Set

Meetings are expected to begin today between borough department heads and Councilman Charles T. Bruno to discuss floor space allocations in the new Red Bank borough hall building.

At council's meeting Monday night, Mr. Bruno said the meetings would be with individual heads and that he would have a more complete report at council's next meeting.

Mr. Bruno said the conferences would be held to determine just how much space each department needed. Another discussion point, he said, would be the location of the offices. Certain departments which have more direct dealing with the public would be placed near the front of the building, he said.

The newly purchased borough hall building will have 10,000 square feet of floor space, compared to 4,500 in the present building. There is a 40x75 foot parking lot in the rear. Council passed a $61,600 bonding ordinance Sept. 3 to buy the building. Actual purchase price was $57,000.

Police, Court Stay

Police headquarters and municipal court will remain in the present borough hall. There has been speculation that the Monmouth county district court, now located in Long Branch, might be set up on the second floor of the present borough hall.

"We will probably change our plans on this thing several times before anything definite is established," Mr. Bruno said Monday night. Council passed on first reading an ordinance to make Spring st. a "through" street. This would make all roads leading into Spring st. stop streets, except Harding rd.

Councilman Everett C. Baynton said the proposal had received state highway department clearance. He explained there have been an increasing number of automobile accidents along Spring Spring st. due to an increase in the amount of traffic on the road.

He added that state officials endorsed the through street idea also because of the erection of the first aid squad building. Mayor George A. Gray said the ambulance would be able to go to the hospital without worrying about cars coming in from side streets.

Mr. Baynton pointed out that stop signs would be placed at all intersections, not "yield right of way" signs. Public hearing on the proposed ordinance will be held Monday, Nov. 18.

Sign Easement

Council voted to have Mayor Gray and Borough Clerk Amy E. Shinn sign an easement with Jersey Central Power and Light company for 16 lights to be placed in the new borough parking lots.

Council voted exempt papers for seven members of the Independent Hose company: Gerald M. Ciampoli, 110 Westside ave.; John Hand, 24 Worthley st.; Albert Fazzone, 40 Spring st.; Paul Lang, 83 Harrison ave.; Frank Sole, 22 Oldfield pl.; Ernest Blakely, 15 Bassett pl., and Eugene Patterson, 53 Linden pl.

Council gave approval and endorsement to the Kiwanis club application to hold a parade Saturday, Dec. 14, when Santa Claus will arrive in town.

The parade will start at noon in front of Red Bank Catholic high school, head down Broad st. to Marine park, return back up Broad st. and will end at Leroy pl.

Permission was granted to the Order of the Golden Chain, Avon, to hold a tag day for the benefit of the Monmouth County Retarded Group July 4 and 5, 1958.

Moreau Beats George Capra

COLT'S NECK — Republican Joseph L. Moreau, Jr., was reelected to the township committee Tuesday night as he compiled 417 votes, beating Democratic candidate George Capra, who picked up 221 votes.

Mrs. Anne Wylie, unopposed on the Republican ticket for collector, was given 480 votes.

Republican candidates swept all other posts in the township voting. Sen. Malcolm S. Forbes received 360 votes to Gov. Robert B. Meyner's 269. Clifton T. Barkalow led the Republicans in the vote for the assembly with 414. Alfred N. Beadleston received 388 votes. On the Democratic side, John C. Giordano, Jr., received 215 votes and Richard V. Keuper was given 211 votes.

In the contest for the Board of Freeholders, incumbents Victor E. Grossinger and Earl L. Woolley received majorities, 386 and 403, respectively. The Democratic candidates, Philip H. Fluhr and Richard E. Burke, tallied 218 and 209 votes, respectively.

The state question was passed, 208 to 122.

Hibbs Cites Support In First Aid Drive

The chairman of the Red Bank first aid and rescue squad's $57,000 building fund drive today cited the "magnificent" support he has received in the early stages of the campaign.

Dr. M. Gregg Hibbs said he was happy with the many workers who have volunteered to take part in the campaign—as well as the organizations who are cooperating in the drive.

The squad is hoping to raise $57,000 to build its proposed headquarters at Spring st. and Manor dr. It has already raised $18,000 by its own efforts. The planned colonial building will cost $75,000.

Currently in progress is the campaign to collect funds from businessmen and storeowners. It will end Nov. 16.

The house-to-house and apartment drive will begin Nov. 18 and conclude Nov. 23.

The drive is being staged in both Red Bank and Shrewsbury.

Statements Issued

In statements issued this week, Dr. Hibbs said:

"To serve all of us more efficiently in the future, we must provide the squad with a new building and site. I believe that the thousands of people aided by the squad since 1930, and the thousands who know the squad is ready to serve them, will all give generously to this campaign."

The mayors of Red Bank and Shrewsbury, too, came out in support of the drive.

Mayor George A. Gray said:

"I encourage every Red Bank citizen to participate by contributing to this campaign. From personal experience, I know the value of the services rendered by the unselfish and devoted members of our squad."

Mayor John Hawkins stated:

"The Red Bank first aid and rescue squad is on call to help every person in our community. Because I know the aid given to our citizens, I ask everyone in Shrewsbury borough to contribute to this worthwhile cause."

Meeting Scheduled

Meanwhile, Dr. Hibbs said he was calling a meeting of all house-to-house workers for Wednesday evening in the high school auditorium. He said some additional workers could still be used in Red Bank and Shrewsbury.

Serving on the drive's advisory committee are George Schmidt, Edward Conway, John Higgins and Raymond DeRidder.

Other committee chairmen are:

Brochure, Henry DeLuca; publicity, Fred King and Henry Stevenson; speakers' bureau, William Fluhr; sound truck, Mr. Schmidt; parade, Everett Brower; posters and delivery, Joseph Farrell, Douglas McIlvain and John Brzostoski.

Photographs and blueprints, Mr. Schmidt; billboards, Charles Knoll and Henry L. Bauer; secretarial work, Mrs. G. Maroney; special gifts, Ralph Belknap; business, George Bain and Harry Barnard, and corporations, Robert Maida.

Automobile agencies, Arnold Schwartz, and professional, John Givens.

Chairmen Listed

Co-chairmen of the house-to-house and apartment campaign are Mrs. Peter DeFazio and Mrs. Jack Loversidge.

Captains of the different districts include:

Mrs. Edwin Osten and Mrs. J. Albert Bloom, district one; Mrs. Hyman Aumach and Mrs. Hyman Polin, two; Mrs. Charles Knoll, three; Mrs. Alonzo Curchin, four; Mrs. Thomas Mead, five; Mrs. Chester Beaman, six; Mrs. Allen R. Kendall, seven; Mrs. Harry Genovese, eight; Mrs. James Parker, Jr., nine; Mrs. William Wright, 10; Mrs. Bruno and Mrs. Edward Buonano, 11, and Mrs. Cleve Stone and Mrs. Charles Wilson, 12.

General chairman of the Shrewsbury drive is Richard Lees, Sycamore ave.

Local Appeal Still Lags; Conway Calls for Action

General Chairman Edward H. Conway Tuesday made another plea for faster completion of the 1957 Red Bank Community appeal.

"The drive has been under way since early October, but to date we have only $9,014 reported of our goal of $35,650," he said, adding:

"In general, response has been far too slow."

New Reports

Reports this week included:

Business, chain stores, utilities and automobile dealers — Harry Neuberger, Lester E. Ross, Peter Genovese, Clifford Warrick, Charles J. Sherrard, J. Ray DeRidder and C. Donald English among the co-chairmen—one-third completed, $5,846.

Professional and medical—John Warren, Patrick McGann, Dr. F. Melvin Edwards and Dr. Leo Rocco, co-chairmen—no report.

Residential—Mrs. Edwin W. Irwin, chairman—one-third completed, $2,176.

Apartment houses—Mrs. George Redden and R. Thomas Bowers, co-chairmen—partial report, $992.

The drive will continue to operate from its campaign headquarters in a store at 41 Monmouth st., provided by John Cook, Jr., of Shrewsbury, under the management of Mrs. Irwin, until Tuesday. Operations then will move to the permanent headquarters, 404 Shrewsbury ave.

For the convenience of workers seeking to make reports, Mr. Conway also made available the facilities of his own office, the Seacoast Finance Co., 18 Broad st., for reports and donations to be made.

'Things to Remember'

Again Mr. Conway stressed: "Workers and contributors alike should and must remember that our local charitable organizations are wholly dependent upon the success of the Community Appeal to give them full quotas of money for their maintenance, operations and programs. These agencies stand firmly behind all of us here. It is our opportunity and obligation as responsible citizens to give them our best support. This drive cannot fail."

He said, too, to remember that "ours is a 'one shot' campaign. Take care of our organizations now and they are provided for. They will not be back asking for more. Relax in this effort, and these agencies are hurt. It is as simple as that."

Because of the lag in getting the full appeal under way, Mr. Conway said some 1,200 cards were mailed directly to the homes of residents who could not be reached immediately. He asked that persons who received these cards and have not yet been called on by a visiting worker to "please respond promptly, by sending in the cards together with contributions so the bookkeeping can be completed quickly." Response from the mailed appeal has been "altogether too slow," he said.

The $35,650 goal is to be distributed this way: Community YMCA, $17,000; Boy Scouts and Salvation Army, $7,500 each, and Girl Scouts, $3,650.

Eatontown Picks 2 Dems; Werner, Republican, Elected

Hunting, Damico Win Easily

FAIR HAVEN — Councilmen Tony E. Hunting and John C. Damico, Republicans, were returned to office here Tuesday by comfortable margins.

They were opposed by James J. Farley, Democrat, who received 773, and Ralph A. Russell, Independent, 448. Hunting received 1,297; Damico, 1,254. James L. Davison, unopposed Republican for a two-year unexpired term, received 1,155.

Other tallies were: Republican, Forbes, 1,221; Beadleston, 1,329; Barkalow, 1,309; Grossinger, 1,307, and Woolley, 1,278. Democrat, Meyner, 725; Giordano, 574; Keuper, 563; Fluhr, 555; Burke, 576.

MAYOR UPSET

FREEHOLD TOWNSHIP — Mayor Albert V. McCormick was defeated here Tuesday night as both Democratic candidates for township committee swept into office. John Mulligan compiled 861 votes and Russel D. Clayton tallied 851. For the defeated Republicans, Mayor McCormick picked up 685 votes and Jerry Sokol received 591 votes. Harold Schanck, unopposed on the Republican ticket for clerk, received 853 votes.

EATONTOWN — Two Democratic councilmen—Carley Garofalo and Howard F. Meyer—were returned to office in Tuesday's election.

Elected to fill an unexpired term of a year was Herbert E. Werner, a Republican.

Running to fill the full-term council seats were Incumbent Reed J. Bennett and Dr. Anthony F. DeVito. They are both Republicans.

Mr. Garofalo, who has been a borough council member since 1954, received 742 votes. His running mate, Mr. Meyer, who sought his second council term, collected 709 votes.

Mr. Bennett was given 672 votes, while Dr. DeVito received 670.

Mr. Werner garnered 713 votes. His Democratic opponent was Robert T. Brown, who received 665 votes.

Forbes Tops Meyner

In the race for governor, Sen. Malcolm S. Forbes was given a 12-vote majority over incumbent Gov. Robert B. Meyner. The total for Mr. Forbes was 671; for Mr. Meyner, 659.

Incumbent Republican Assemblymen Alfred N. Beadleston and Clifton T. Barkalow received 748 and 726 votes, respectively.

Their opponents came out this way: Richard V. Keuper, 634 votes, and John C. Giordano, Jr., 614.

Republicans Score

In the freeholder race, Republican incumbents Victor E. Grossinger and Earl L. Woolley came out on top here. The former collected 727 votes, the latter 725.

Philip H. Fluhr received 566 votes and Richard E. Burke, 566. They are Democrats.

In the state question, 474 "yes" votes were cast against 308 "no" votes.

Shrewsbury Towne Chapter Wants 2 Sites Preserved

LONG BRANCH — Members of Shrewsbury Towne chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, meeting Monday in the home of Mrs. John F. Wright on 258 Atlantic ave., took definite stands for the preservation of two historical sites in New Jersey.

They signed a resolution made by the Somerset County Historical society to make Camp Middlebrook in that county a national shrine. Middlebrook was the scene of several Revolutionary war battles.

Secondly, the chapter sent special letters to Gov. Robert B. Meyner and the state highway commissioner, asking that the Judge Ford Mansion and its surroudning property in Morristown not be destroyed in the proposals being made to put a superhighway through the area. The letter pointed out that the Ford mansion and its surrounding property is this country's first national park.

Mrs. Dustan Allaire, regent, said the chapter's 23d anniversary luncheon will be held Jan. Fritz Cleary of Interlaken will 6 at Shadowbrook, Shrewsbury. give an illustrated lecture on one of his trips up the Alaskan highway. She also said she will represent the chapter at the state DAR society meeting Thursday in Montclair.

Members brought a variety of Christmas gifts to be sent to students attending DAR-approved schools.

Mrs. C. Frank Borden introduced two new members, Mrs. William Van Winkle, Little Silver, and Mrs. Francis E. Hance, Long Branch, and a guest, Mrs. Henry D. Brinley, also of Long Branch.

Mrs. Edward W. Lewis of Pennington, regent of Penelope Hart DAR chapter of that borough, was the speaker. She discussed "Coats of Arms" and termed the emblems "a colorful illustrated history of the Crusades."

Tea was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Harold C. Morford and Mrs. Remington Orsinger.

The Dec. 2 meeting will be held in the home of Miss Florence Height on Atlantic ave., Long Branch. Mrs. Allaire and Mrs. Carroll S. Townsend will be assisting hostesses. The speaker will he Mrs. Winslow T. Richmond, chairman of American Indian programs for the state DAR society.

Middletown Woman Sues Riverview

FREEHOLD — Suit has been filed in county court here for Mrs. Catherine E. Matthews, 520 Palmer ave., Middletown, against Riverview hospital and Marie Green, a nurse.

The complaint, filed by Milton Kosene, Fair Haven attorney, alleges that Mrs. Matthews was injured when she fell in the hospital June 3. It contends the nurse was negligent in the care given Mrs. Matthews and that the hospital, as employer, also is liable.

McKnight Wins $4,000 Ford in Contest

Lester McKnight, 98 Silverbrook ave., Shrewsbury, puts the Ford Skyliner retractable hardtop he recently won through its paces. It is valued at $4,000.

A salesman at the Mount English company, Red Bank, Mr. McKnight was the grand prize winner in the New York district May-June spring selling contest conducted by the Ford Motor company.

The top salesman was offered one of four prizes for his selling performance;

Home furnishings valued at $4,000, the Ford Skyliner, a 22-foot Chris Craft cruiser or a $4,000 college education fund for his child.

In addition, Mr. McKnight and his wife were feted to a New York city "Nite on the Town." They stayed at the Essex House, New York city, and then saw a performance of "Li'l Abner."

Mr. McKnight was honored also at a luncheon at the Essex House, attended by R. F. McNulty, district sales manager.

He has been associated with Mount English for 28 years and has lived in Shrewsbury for 26 years. Mrs. McKnight is the former Mae Kennedy of Red Bank.

Served Fire Dep't For Fifty Years

It was "Elmer Johnson Night" and "Old Timers Nite" at Independent fire house on Mechanic street Monday night.

The feature of the evening was the presentation of an elaborate scroll to Mr. Johnson from the borough of Red Bank by Fire Commissioner Harold Hurley in recognition of his active service with the Red Bank fire department for 50 years. He was also presented with a 50-year gold badge and a gold ring from his company.

Among the old timers present was Thomas Irving Brown, a former secretary and foreman of the company, who has been a member 59 years but who has been on the inactive list several years.

Mr. Brown gave the company for its running team a light weight apparatus which enabled them to win many contests. Monday night he was presented with the only known remaining track shirt which the team members wore in their races. Mr. Brown was a member of the company's first team.

Application for membership was received from Harry Patterson and if he becomes a member next month he will be the fifth son of Eugene Patterson to serve the company. Mr. Patterson's father, an active member for many years, was one of the old timers present.

It was reported that William Wymbs of Headden's Corner, probably the oldest member of the company in years, was in very poor health. Mr. Wymbs is past 80 years of age.

The oldest member present was DeWitt Carhart with Mr. Brown a close second, both having joined the company while in their teens.

Mr. Brown presented his company with a framed picture of Cornelius W. Thompson, organizer of the Red Bank fire department, and its first chief. Mr. Thompson was chief in the days before the town had any fire apparatus and when the volunteer firemen formed bucket brigades.

The annual meeting of the company will be held next month and nominations were received Monday night for the various offices and for which nominations will remain open until that time.

A hot turkey supper was served by the company members in the apparatus room of the firehouse following the business session.

Asks New Approach To College Problems

FORT MONMOUTH — "We must revolutionize our approach to the problems of the institutions of higher learning," Dr. Edward G. Schlaefer, president of Monmouth college, declared in a talk Oct. 30 to students here. Discussing "Our Nation's Colleges—Problems and Trends," Dr. Schlaefer said: "Today, there are three and one-half million students enrolled in 1,900 institutions of higher learning. The crisis will begin when the wave of prosperity babies, who are starting high school, now reach college doors." He continued:

If nothing is done beyond institutions now planned, many will not be able to go to college. In 1900, four out of 100 students attended college; in 1960, it is predicted that 60 out of every 100 will wish to attend college."

Hospital Gets $95,746 Grant

LONG BRANCH — The New Jersey Department of Institutions and Agencies has notified Monmouth Memorial hospital of its approval of a grant-in-aid of $95,746 from federal funds under the Hill-Burton act to be applied toward construction of outpatient facilities in the hospital's expansion plans, Walter W. Reid, Jr., president of the board of governors of Monmouth Memorial, has announced.

"By being able to begin construction of the hospital's expanded facilities sooner than we expected, the people of Monmouth county will not have to wait to get benefits from their contributions in the current $1,000,000 capital fund drive," Mr. Reid said.

"And being able to provide outpatient treatment for the paying as well as medically-indigent patient, we shall prevent many illnesses, and provide the followup care which is so frequently necessary for a patient after he has been hospitalized," Mr. Reid said, "and thus be able to free beds for many more patients who need bedside care as the population continues to increase."

Mr. Reid said preliminary plans call for six examination and treatment rooms, a dental unit, space for minor surgery, doctors' conference room, quarters for the social service department, ear, nose and throat facilities, and mental health facilities.

The board president pointed out that the establishment of full-scale outpatient facilities will aid and encourage the hospital's medical education program as such facilities are used in teaching internes and residents, and thus give the patient more concentrated care under the supervision of physicians available for consultation.

$5,150 Settlement For W. B. Hansen

FREEHOLD — A county court suit brought by John Mocik, Center st., Leonardo, against W. B. Hansen, Englishtown, has been settled here for $5,150.

Mr. Mocik, represented by Milton Kosene, Fair Haven attorney, sued for personal injuries and propery damage as a result of an accident July 20, 1956, on rt. 36, Keyport, involving cars driven by the two men.

Pastor Honored By Congregation

HAZLET — Rev. Norman R. Riley has returned to St. John's Methodist church for the 13th year. He and his family were given a reception Wednesday night of last week in the church.

The program consisted of musical selections, tributes and a discussion of the progress of the church in the past 12 years. Pictures were shown on a screen of the improvements to the church and buildings, also groups and organizations of the church since Rev. Mr. Riley came to the church in 1945.

Pictures also were shown of the Riley family taken through the years. Rev. and Mrs. Riley were presented gifts from the church members. Refreshments were served and a period of fellowship followed.

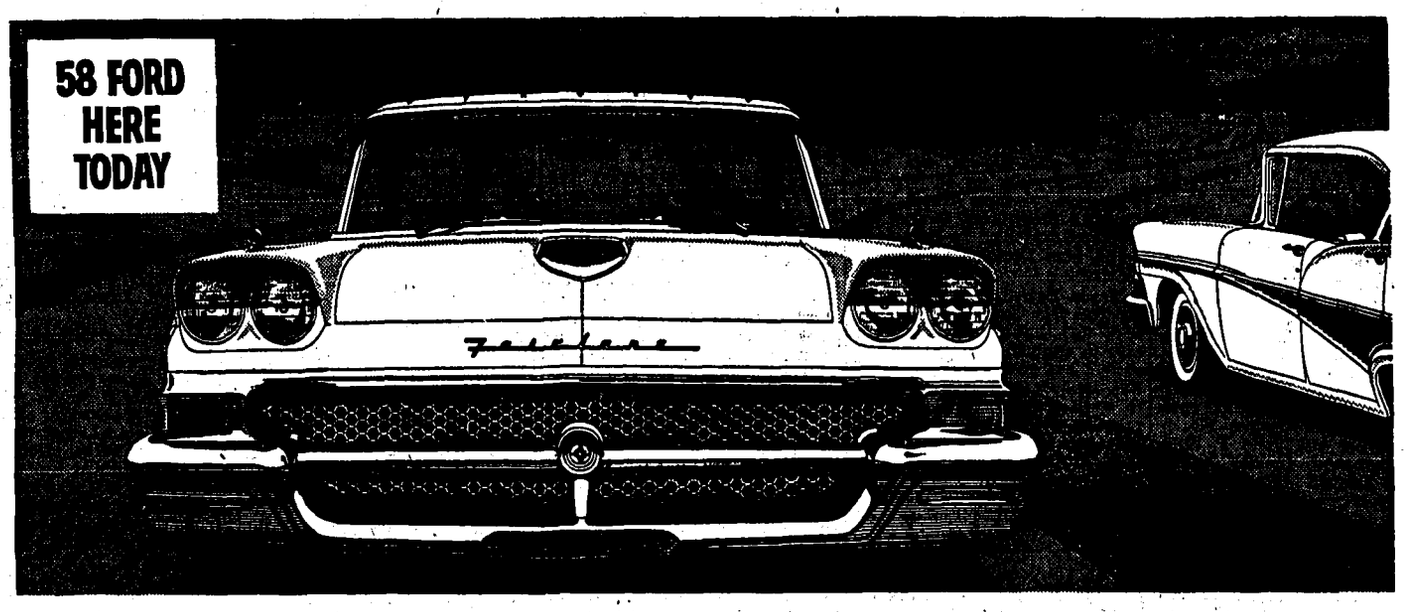
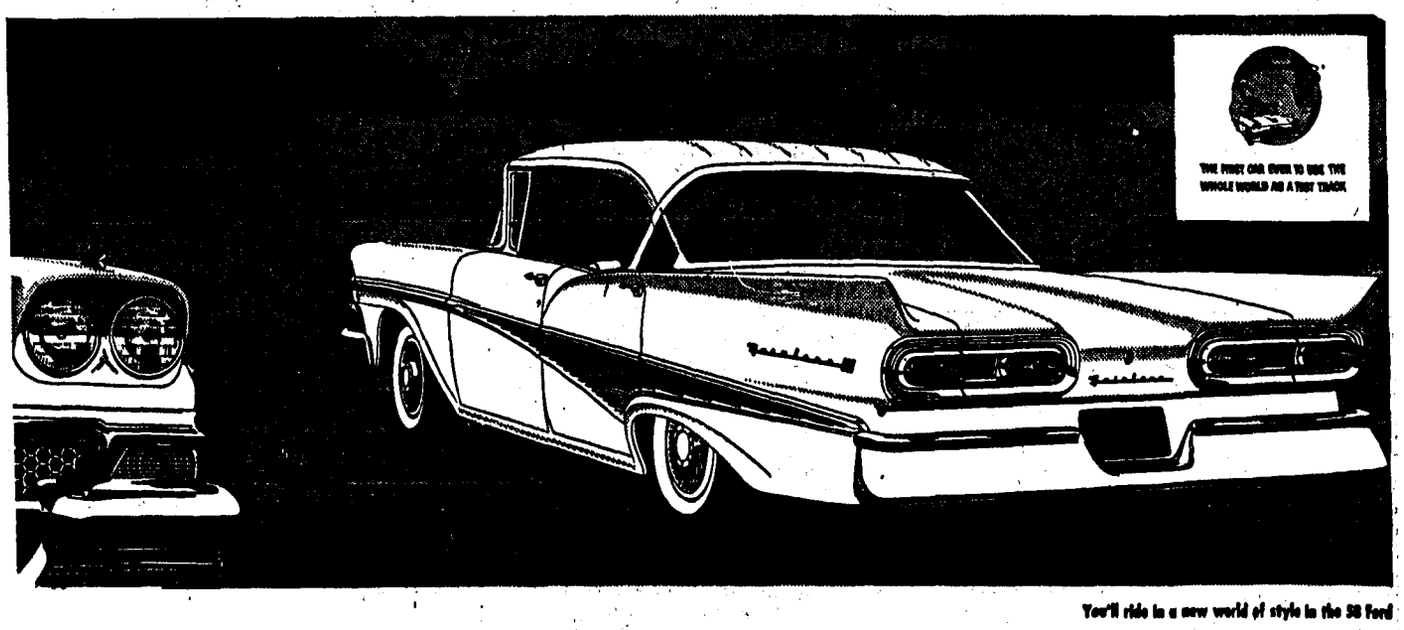
Proved and approved around the world and now it's here for you... the 58 FORD



One look tells you...there's nothing newer in the world!



You'll ride in a new world of style in the 58 Ford

New dump-sculptured styling
New Interceptor V-8 power
New Cruise-O-Matic Drive
New Ford-Aire Suspension
New Magic-Circle Steering

The 58 Ford is the newest car in the world—the only car ever to meet a world-wide test and win world-wide approval before its public premiere.

Here's a car so new, so beautiful it made eyes pop from Paris to Pakistan . . . a car so rugged it proved its mettle in a road test around the entire world! What's more, it did it on surprisingly little gas—thanks to new Precision Fuel Induction. Come in and let us show you the world's most beautiful new bargain!

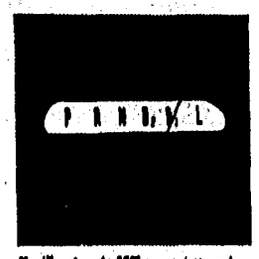
You'll be ahead with Ford's new Interceptor V-8 and Precision Fuel Injection. There's nothing newer than these engines that give you up to 300 hp. Smoother power! From less gas! One secret is Precision Fuel Induction, a wonderful new carburetion, fuel feeding, and combustion system.



You'll get up to 15% more gas savings with new Cruise-O-Matic Drive teamed with the new Interceptor V-8. New D1 position, used for all normal driving, lets you move smoothly, automatically—with just a touch of your toe—from solid-feeling take-offs right up to highway cruising speeds.

You'll ride on a cloud instead of a spring with Ford-Aire Suspension. Four air pillows literally soak up the bumps! And Ford's new air suspension relevels the car every time someone steps inside or luggage is loaded. An extra cost option, you get all this at traditionally low Ford prices!

You'll steer with a feather touch with Ford's new Magic-Circle Steering. Nothing rolls like a ball, and that's the secret of Ford's handling ease. Free-moving steel balls in the steering mechanism are virtually friction-free—give you the closest thing yet to power steering! Come in and try it!

Come in today... Action Test America's only world-proved car!

Smith Back In Office

ATLANTIC HIGHLANDS — There was no Democratic opposition here as voters put a Republican mayor, two councilmen and tax assessor into office.

Mayor Waldron P. Smith was returned to office for his third term. He received 832 votes.

Incumbent Councilman Edward G. Walder collected 807 votes while a newcomer on the local political scene, Russell W. Morgan, received 802 votes.

John S. Flitcroft was returned to office as assessor after having served 27 years in the post.

In the races for governor, assembly and county posts—they too, were Republican all the way.

Sen. Malcolm S. Forbes received 606 votes against 538 for incumbent Gov. Robert B. Meyner.

Incumbent Assemblymen Alfred N. Beadleston and Clifton T. Barkalow received 637 and 635 votes, respectively. Democrat John C. Giordano, Jr. garnered 519 votes and his running mate, Richard V. Keuper, received 493 votes.

For the freeholder posts, both incumbents registered high—Earl L. Woolley with 638 votes and Victor E. Grossinger with 633.

Philip E. Fluhr received 491 votes and Richard E. Burke 486.

The state question received substantial approval here, 401 to 190 votes.

MCOSS Lists Clinic Changes

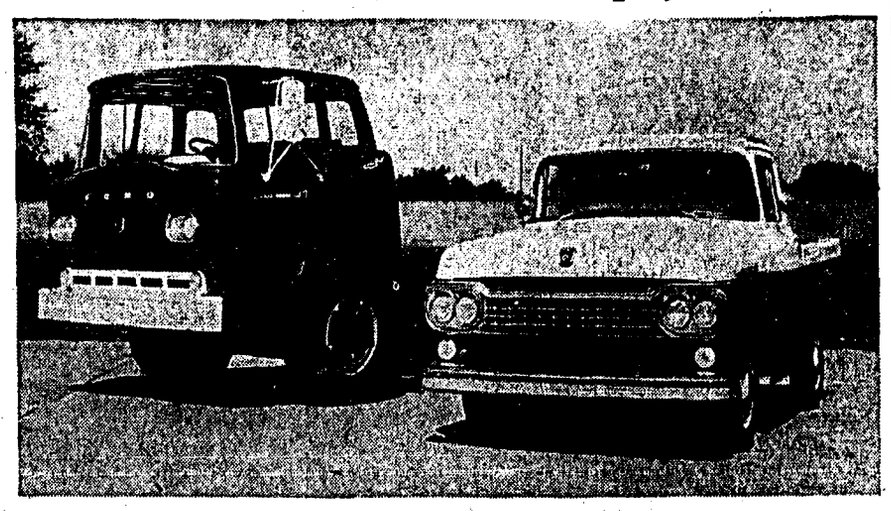
Changes in dates for the infant and pre-school clinics of Monmouth County Organization for Social Service in Shrewsbury township and New Shrewsbury were announced today by Miss Ruth Zerbe, supervisor for the area.

The Shrewsbury township clinic in the Vail Homes Community building has been changed from the third Thursday of each month to the second Wednesday, with the next clinic scheduled for next Wednesday.

In Shrewsbury, the clinic sessions have been changed from the fourth Thursday to the fourth Wednesday. The next clinic will be held in the cottage of the Reformed church, Hance ave., Wednesday morning, Nov. 27.

Dr. Alice Tyndall, pediatrician, is the attending physician at the two clinics, run by MCOSS to provide periodic medical checkup for the infants and pre-school children of families financially unable to provide this type of preventive medical care themselves.

Ford 1958 Trucks on Display



DEARBORN, Mich. — Ford, which led the industry in retail truck sales during its 1957 model year, announces significant product advancements in engineering, styling and design for its 1958 trucks.

The new 1958 trucks are on display at Ford dealerships throughout the country. Mount English Sales Co., 80 Monmouth st., Red Bank is the local dealer.

J. O. Wright, Ford Motor company vice president and Ford division general manager, described the new line as "another step forward in our policy of accelerating mechanical and styling changes for the benefit of the nation's truck buyers."

"We are completing a sales year that has achieved our greatest share of the commercial market in division history," he said, "and we are betting millions of dollars on the new line developed for the truck user in 1958."

Ford truck retail sales to business firms and individual buyers topped the industry during the 1957 model year, reaching a 33.1 per cent share of this market through July on the basis of official registration figures. It also represents the biggest share of the retail market ever gained by the division.

New, safety vision, dual headlights are standard on all Ford conventional and tilt-cab trucks.

Headed by the spectacularly successful Styleside pickup, which accounted for more than 85 per cent of the company's 1957 half-ton truck production, Ford is offering more than 300 models ranging from the versatile Ranchero, through light, medium, heavy, extra heavy and tandem trucks.

Two-tone color combinations, available in 1957 only on the Styleside pickup, have been extended throughout most of the line. Color combinations are complemented by matching interior trim and in custom cabs, new more durable houndstooth upholstery gives even smarter appearance.

Ford's heavy-duty trucks feature, in addition to engine improvements, new heavier transmissions.

Transmatic drive, the optional automatic transmission offered on medium and heavy trucks, will feature improved retarding ability at higher speeds.

Ford's pickup truck will incorporate the popular Styleside box, which matches the cab in width and offers 25 per cent more payload capacity than other pickup models.

Horsepower in the V-8 engines for light duty trucks has been increased from 171 to 181.

To answer a demonstrated need in the heavy duty field, Ford offers a high capacity rear tandem axle as an option on its T-700 series, increasing the line's flexibility in the growing tandem market. The new axle will give a gross vehicle weight rating of 32,000 pounds on this model.

In the heavier series, a wide selection of auxiliary fuel tanks, increasing capacity to 120 gallons, is offered on an optional basis. The new tanks incorporate submerged electric fuel pumps to assure adequate fuel delivery to the engine and greatly minimize vapor-lock hazard.

New heavier front axles are also offered as options.

The new Ford truck line also offers new extra heavy duty transmissions for the tandem trucks, for which heavier duty auxiliary transmissions are also offered. A new eight-speed transmission is available for the heavy and extra heavy duty trucks.

Marlboro Aides Meet Today

MARLBORO — A round-table discussion on current and future projects to be undertaken by the Woman's auxiliary of the state hospital here will be held this afternoon in the hospital's staff room.

This will be attended by members of he auxiliary's executive board and the advisory board, which is made up of representatives of all the organizations which serve with the unit.

Representatives will attend from the Bnai Brith Women of Red Bank; several groups of Catholic Daughters of America; Jersey Shore branch, American Association of University women; the Belmar, Jersey Shore and Laurence Harbor Woman's clubs; the auxiliary of the North Plainfield Lions club; the Junior Service leagues of Red Bank and Cranford; Garden club, RFD; Navesink Garden club; The Lakewood section of the National Council of Jewish Women; Asbury Park Junior Woman's club; Loyal Order of Moose of Asbury Park, and the Monmouth County Mental Health association.

Mrs. Marshall Longstreet of Matawan, chairman of Vanity Fair, the clothing shop which the auxiliary maintains at the hospital to provide extra clothing for women patients, will outline plans —which will include addition of a men's shop. Currently they only provide women's clothing, available to needy patients at no cost.

Orr Renamed To Farm Unit

FREEHOLD — Re-election of Stanley M. Orr, Freehold rd., Millhurst, as Monmouth county chairman of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation agency, U. S. Department of Agriculture, was announced Monday by Britton C. Cook of Farmingdale, secretary.

Mr. Cook said the county committee plus members of 10 community committees will help administer programs run by the federal agency. These include farm conservation, soil bank, commodity loan, acreage allotment, marketing quotas and wool support programs.

The election was by mailed ballot in which all farmers were eligible to vote.

Also re-elected to the county committee were Harry Crine, Holmdel rd., Vanderburg, vice chairman; William H. Hunt, Colt's Neck, regular member; George C. Probasco, Freehold rd., Millhurst, first alternate; Woodrow W. Burke, Elton-Adelphia rd., Freehold, second alternate. Marvin A. Clark, county agent, is an ex-officio member of the group. Mr. Cook was reappointed secretary and office manager, and Nancy R. Randolph of Freehold, treasurer.

Elected to community committees were:

Atlantic-Shrewsbury — Walter Zimmerer, Jr., John C. Schanck, and William E. Thompson, Sr., and Harvey C. Draibelbis and John C. Ripley, alternates.

Freehold — Woodrow Burke, Carl B. Schanck and Karl Smith, and Howard Story, Jr., and Edgar W. Poole, alternates.

Holmdel-Raritan — William Cross, Jr., Henry Warnock, Jr., and Kenneth S. Willey, and Samuel Ambrosio and Frank Mocci, alternates.

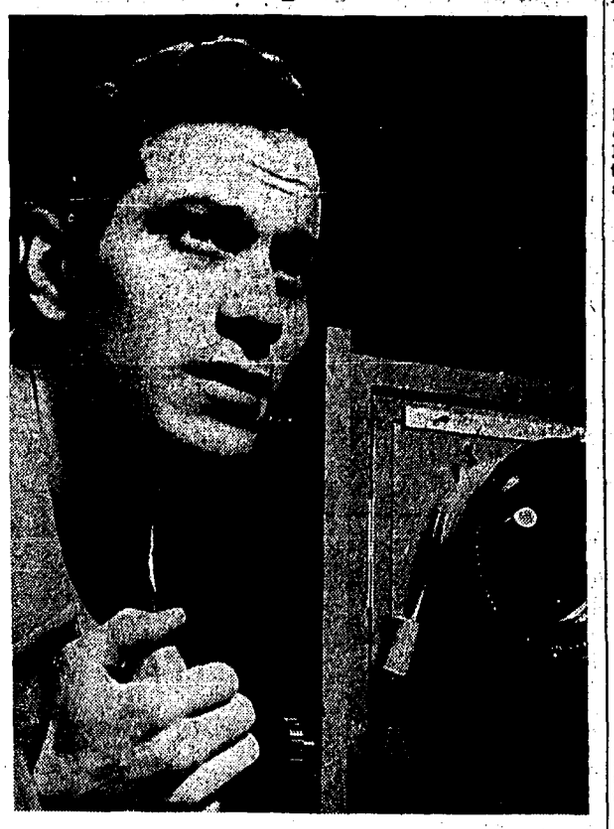
Wins Photographic Prize



Chester W. Chatman, who has operated a photographic studio at 2 Linden pl. the past five years, was among the winners in the $25,000 international camera competition staged by "Popular Photography" magazine.

Chatman's winning entry was a "bathing beauty" photograph of 19-year-old Gerry Kedrick, taken in June on Deal beach. It was entitled "Beach Craft." Miss Kedrick, whose parents have been summer residents at the shore for several years, lives in New York city. She now is a professional model, although she was not at the time the photo was taken. Announcement of the prize winners was made in the sponsor's magazine, which appeared on the nation's newsstands Tuesday.

In the three "Popular Photography" contents Mr. Chatman has entered, he has won four prizes.

Mr. Chatman, who specializes in portrait, wedding, commercial and advertising photography, also does photographic work of professional models on assignments of artists throughout the area.

Recognized as an expert professional lensman, Mr. Chatman did public relations photography in New York for such personalities as Celeste Holm, Kate Smith and the Duke of Windsor. In addition, many of his photos for advertising agencies have appeared in "Vogue," "Harper's Bazaar" and "Town and Country."

Prior to opening his studio in Red Bank, Mr. Chatman conducted the Photo-Arts studio in Asbury Park.

A graduate of the University of Akron, Mr. Chatman's background includes training at three dramatic schools, a year as a performer with "Kathryn Dunham's Modern Dance" and a season at Cape Cod in summer stock. At various times he also tried out as a weight lifter, wrestler, physical education instructor, mechanic and painter. "But there's nothing like photography," he says.

New Chaplain Named at Fort

FORT MONMOUTH—Chaplain (Maj.) Daniel O. Wilson, a chaplain of the Protestant faith, recently reported for duty at Fort Monmouth on his return from a two-year tour of duty in Austria and Germany.

Maj. Daniel O. Wilson

A member of the American Baptist ministry, Maj. Wilson has almost 10 years of active military duty to his credit. During this period he served overseas almost eight years, including the duration of World War II and the Korean conflict.

In World War II, he was attached to the Pacific command and accompanied troops of the 523d Quartermaster group through all campaigns from New Caledonia to Japan. He returned to the United States early in 1946 and was released from active duty, but was recalled in 1951.

After serving as post chaplain at Camp Stillman, Calif., for a short period, he was assigned to Korea with the Third Infantry division. Later, in Korea, he served as chaplain of the 65th regiment and as assistant division chaplain for the Third division in Korea. For his services there, he was awarded the Bronze Star medal.

From November, 1952, Maj. Wilson was assigned to Camp Pickett, Va., and, in 1954, while post chaplain, he was the last man to leave the gate on the closing of that camp.

His next European tour followed, serving with the U. S. Forces in the Austria area command, and then as chaplain at Augsburg, Germany, until his assignment here.

Theological Graduate

A graduate of the Eastern Baptist Theological university in Philadelphia, he first served in a civilian ministry as a student pastor in the Baptist church, Wycomb, Pa. After being ordained in 1941, he took over as pastor of the Meade Street Baptist church, Wilkes Barre, to which he returned after World War II. Before recall to active military duty, he was serving as minister of the New Berean Baptist church, Philadelphia.

Born in Williamsport, Pa., Maj. Wilson was reared and received his early education in Altoona. His mother, Mrs. Martha D. Wilson, still resides in that city. He is married to the former Bernardine Rath, also of Altoona. They have three sons, Daniel, 15; Richard, 10, and Donald, 9.

10th Annual Halloween Party Attended by 1,000 Children

EATONTOWN—Local youngsters Thursday night participated in the community Halloween celebration—a "borough institution" since 1947, when it was planned and executed by the members of the Woman's Community club, with prizes provided by the local merchants and refreshments purchased from funds donated by civic and fraternal organizations.

This year's party had 1,000 school children in costume to compete for class and group prizes. For the second year, the affair was planned and supervised by the recreation commission, of which William Ramsey is president.

The costs were covered by donations made to the commission through the annual Community Appeal. Because of the number of children involved, two parties were arranged; one for the children from pre-school through the sixth grade in Memorial school auditorium, with John Kilpatrick as master of ceremonies; the other, for boys and girls of the seventh, eight and high school classes, in the form of a block dance in the parking lot at the rear of the borough hall.

Bicycle Top Prize

Judges for the Memorial school costume party were Mrs. Clifford N. Cadman, Kenneth Hampton and Donald Kolb. Mrs. Theodore Evert, Mrs. Gordon Cartwright and Mrs. Frank DiDonato were in charge of prizes, which were awarded to the prettiest, funniest and most original. Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Rau, Mrs. Curtis Adams and Frank DiDonato arranged for the line of march. They were assisted by members recruited by Mrs. Spencer Patterson from the Vetter and Memorial Parent-Teacher associations and the Steelman Home and School club. Members of the Woman's Community club, directed by Mrs. Elmer Sharp, served refreshments at both parties. Music during the evening was provided by Miss Thelma Turner.

The grand prize, a new bicycle, was won by Connie Clafflin of 8 Mitchell dr., who was costumed as butterfly.

Other Winners

Winners of second prizes were Joy Diane Cass, Byron Cass, Arthur VanNote, Jr., Gale Ann Silver, Mayne Garrett, Frank Poer, Mary Ann Wilkinson, Mickey Williams, Robert Wert, Jeanie Lord, Betty Link, Joe Dunn, Billy Hill, Deborah Scheidt, Glen Anthony, Richard Keevil, Betty Zebrowski, Robert Erb, Tim Wilkinson, Rose Duhem, Jerry Fuoniss and Anthony Rappola.

Third prize winners were Delores Roderiges, Kevin Kaney, Steven Garrett, Barbara Ann Knight, Alva Franklin, Pat Hagood, Charlene Cutler, Charles Johnson, Franklin Bell, Linda Pfister, Stephen Brower, Carol Johnson, Rodney Wright, Donna Lee Remington, David Ransome, Bruce Cobb, Mary Elizabeth Collier, Valerie Pavao, Kathy Carling, Robert Shaw, George Fuller and Jimmy Allen.

In the classification for groups of two or more costumed children, first prize was awarded to David and Richard Comberg; second prize to David, Mark and Lee Edwardsen; third prize to Dick and Cindy Reuther.

Block Dance Held

Music for the block dance for the older children was provided by musicians from local 399 of Asbury Park through a grant from the music performance trust fund of the recording industry. George Krassner was master of ceremonies and called the square dances. Prizes were awarded for prettiest costume, Carol Kavchak; funniest, Edward Smock, and most original, John Tomaine, Chuck Hughes and David Henderson, who represented the three musketeers.

Another feature of the celebration was the display of "Halloween art" in the store windows of local merchants. Pupils of the seventh and eighth grades painted original and colorful murals, which were affixed to the inside of the windows for easy removal after the judging. Mrs. Leslie D. Seely and Miss Barbara Rue, one of the school's instructors in art, assisted the young people. The judges were Mrs. Russell Anderson, Mrs. Clarence G. Meeks, Jr., and Miss Anne DeLario, also of the school's art department.

First prize for eighth grade was awarded to Tommy Smock and Wade Beam; second, Wayne Kruta and Willard Ransom, and third, Todd White. In the seventh grade, Wallace Weaver, first; Mary-Kay Michenfelder, second, and Mike Mancini, third.

Homemakers Day Here Thursday

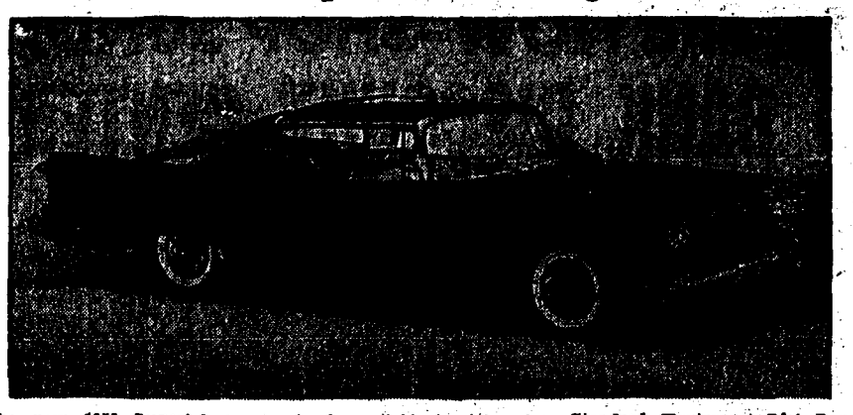
FREEHOLD — Monmouth county homemakers are invited to attend the annual fall "Homemakers Day" sponsored by the Monmouth County Home Economics Extension Service council from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. at the China and Glass shop, Red Bank, next Thursday.

The day is planned to present an informative and interesting program which should be helpful to many.

Luncheon will be served at 12:15 p. m. If one plans to be present for lunch, a reservation must be made by tomorrow in the extension service office, 20 Court st.

"Live Longer and Like It" will be discussed by Miss P. P. Bradshaw, human relation specialist in extension; William Johnson, Jr., treasurer of the Middletown branch of the Keansburg National bank and secretary of the American Institute of Banking in New Jersey, on "Women and Their Banks," and Mrs. Jeanne Shields of Tie-Tie Products corporation, New York city, on "Gift Wrapping Magic."

1958 Imperials Are Longer



The new 1958 Imperial cars went on display in dealer showrooms Friday, Maurice Schwartz & Sons, 141 West Front st., Red Bank, are the local dealers.

They are longer, and more luxuriously fitted than the 1957 Imperials. They have new interior fabrics and colors and new exterior design features, including a new grille.

Auto-Pilot, pushbutton automatic driver assist, allows the driver to select any turnpike cruising speed he desires by means of a dial on the instrument panel. When the car has attained this pre-selected speed a warning backpressure develops on the accelerator pedal.

Completely automatic throttle control can be arranged by pushing a button recessed in the speed selector. The driver can then remove his foot from the accelerator pedal. Automatic control is ended by a touch on the brake pedal.

Body lines of the 1958 Imperial create the shape of a sleek wedge. A new six-section grille dominates the front of the car above a massive bumper which includes insert parking lights.

Dual horizontal headlights are set under front fender projections. High rear fins flow forward into a low belt line to the tips of front fenders.

The cars are available in a choice of four series. The Imperial series is offered in a four-door sedan, two-door hardtop and four-door hardtop. The Imperial Crown series is available in a four-door sedan, two-door hardtop, four-door hartop and convertible.

The Imperial LeBaron series is offered in a four-door sedan and a new four-door hardtop.

New Luxurious Interiors

The cars are available in a choice of 20 solid colors and 56 two-tone combinations. Luxurious interiors in shades of blue, green, gray, beige and red are offered in Diamond Glow and Monaco jacquard interior fabrics and natural leathers or metalic vinyls.

New integral front seats on all models provide greater legroom for rear-seat passengers and gain an inch of headroom for front seat passengers. The cars are two inches longer.

TorqueFlite automatic transmission pushbottons are located to the left of the steering column. A new rotary turn signal switch is below the pushbutton.

New Dual Super Air Conditioner

An improved air conditioner-heater provides 15 per cent more cool air flow. In addition, a new dual air conditioner with two evaporators and two blowers is available for 1958. One evaporator and blower unit is housed in the engine compartment and the second in on the luggage compartment shelf and the rear package shelf. The dual unit more than doubles cold air flow.

The 1958 Imperial has a 345-horsepower engine.

Standard Equipment List Long

Standard equipment on all series Torsion-Aire suspension, TorqueFlite transmission, power brakes, power steering, air foam seats, back-up lights, electric clock, directional signals, dual headlights, foam safety dash pad, windshield washers, brake warning light and undercoating.

Standard equipment on Imperial Crowns and Imperial Le Barons also includes six-way power seat and power windows.

Power and convenience options include dual air conditioner-heater, single air conditioner-heater, Auto-Pilot automatic throttle control, captive-air tires, custom super soft tires, search-tuner radio, rear window defogger, seat belts, Solex glass, transistorized search-tuner radio with rear speaker and power antenna, instant-heat heater, electric door locks, FlightSweep rear deck lid, remote control outside rear-view mirror, and shaded backlight.

HALLOWEEN WINNERS

SEA BRIGHT — Prizes were awarded here last week for the most outstanding and the most original Halloween window paintings. The contest was sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce. In the seventh and eighth grades, Petra Welch won most outstanding, and Valerie Will, most original. Barbara Faelton was most outstanding and Mary Lou Kuczalo was most original in the fifth and sixth grades.

Jazz Lecture At College

WEST LONG BRANCH—Shore area jazz enthusiasts are being invited to a lecture Tuesday on the origin, history and structure of jazz by Felix Molzer, director of music at Monmouth college. The free-admission event will start in the auditorium at 8 p. m.

The theme—"Jazz—what it is—how did it develop—where is it going?"—will be illustrated with piano and recordings. The stress will be on jazz as a genuine art form of our times which has influenced popular and serious music composers.

Mr. Molzer earned part of his expenses as a student at Vienna university and the Vienna Music academy by arranging for jazz groups. He was director of the Vienna Choir Boys, and accompanied them on their tour of the U. S. in 1948-1949. He also was music director of the Austrian Student Good Will Tour of the U. S. in 1949-1950. Later he was vocal coach for the Columbus Boys Choir, Princeton, and director of the boys choir at the Philadelphia Settlement Music school.

He has produced arrangements for music publishers and has completed four major works which are being printed by Ginn and Co. The University of Pennsylvania awarded him the master's degree. An equivalent degree also was granted to him by the Vienna State Academy of Music, where he was graduated with honors. He studied also at the University of Vienna and the Vienna Teachers Training Institute.

HAVE PANEL DISCUSSION

Rev. Roger J. Squire, pastor of the Red Bank Methodist church, was chairman of a panel last week at a meeting of the Greater Red Bank Council of Churches. The topic discussed was "The Nature of the Unity We Seek." Other panelists were Rev. Frederick Mold, Jr., pastor of the Middletown Reformed church, and Rev. Dr. Charles S. Webster, pastor of the Red Bank Presbyterian church. Thirteen churches were represented at the meeting.

Completely insulated like a giant vacuum bottle..

A flameless electric water heater keeps water piping hot until you use it!

You only pay to heat water once in an electric water heater! It's fully insulated all around, top and bottom, like a giant vacuum bottle. The water stays hot (without costly reheating) until you're ready to use it. Then, a special baffle plate at the cold water inlet prevents incoming water from cooling the hot water left in the tank. You can depend on a flameless electric water heater for plenty of hot water 24 hours a day. And, with your electric utility company's special "off-peak" rate, it's a real bargain. Lincroft-Everett Appeal Commences LINCROFT — The kickoff meeting of the Lincroft-Everett Community Appeal was held Thursday night in the fire house. Speakers representing some of the charities present were Mrs. George Blair, Girl Scouts; T. H. Kelsey, Boy Scouts; William Fluhr, Salvation Army, and Harry Neuberger, Y.M.C.A.

The other charities will be Monmouth Memorial hospital. American Cancer society, Mental Health association and United Cerebral Palsy. Literature and name cards were given to solicitors who will contact residents of the Lincroft-Everett area in the next two weeks. Peter Hoffman, 1957 drive chairman, also spoke. After the meeting refreshments were served by the Ladies' auxiliary of the fire company.

Three Hurt in 4-Car Pile-up

Three persons were injured in a four-car accident on rt. 35 near Applebrook Farm rd. Friday afternoon. Middletown police quoted Josephine Scerbo, 41 Raritan ave., Keansburg, driver of car in road, left, as saying her car went out of control on wet pavement while eastbound and went into the westbound lane. Other three cars in pile-up were westbound. Treated at Riverview hospital for cuts and bruises were Mrs. Scerbo; Carol K. McCutcheon, 42 Virginia ter., Middletown, driver of car at right above, and Gladys Tietjen, Westbury, N. Y., a passenger in station wagon shown on grass at left. Fourth car, not in photo, was driven by John T. Daly, 48 Monroe st., Shrewsbury.

Presbyterian Church Group's Vaudeville Show Opens Tomorrow

The Hathomar Couple club of the Red Bank Presbyterian church will present a Vaudeville show tomorrow and Saturday at 8:30 p. m. in the Willow Street school in Fair Haven. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Goodman, Jr., of Monmouth rd., Navesink, will direct the production. Robert Billings of 60 Riverdale rd., Eatontown, is ticket chairman.

The show will cover the years from 1890 to 1925. Mrs. Gordon MacLean is accompanist.

A waltz number will be performed by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bryan, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Whiting, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Irwin, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas McCrum, Mr. and Mrs. MacShields, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Finley, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Galbraith, Mrs. Horst Kedesdy, Mrs. Jack Cusick, Roy Reynolds, Vaughn Chambers and Hal Johnson.

Charleston Number

A specialty group from Middletown will join the couples' chorus in a Charleston dance specialty. The Middletown group includes Natalie DeStefano, Marcia McManus, Marianne Colosimo, Ellen Sheehan, Carol Krynicki, Margaret Garginer, Peggy Mahan, Barbara Stickle, Betty Daverio and Gail Babcock.

Characters in an old-fashioned melodrama act are Mr. and Mrs. Shields, Mrs. Frank Williams, John Antliff and Mr. Goodman.

Members of the "beautiful dolls" line are Mrs. McCrum, Mrs. Irwin, Miss Susan Goodman, Mrs. Finley and Mrs. Chambers.

Participating in the comedy numbers are Mrs. Robert Branley, William Fansler, Mr. Galbraith, Mr. Finley, Mrs. Elenora Carman and Mr. and Mrs. Allan Wallace.

Mrs. Goodman, Mr. Wallace and Dr. Gordon Smith will perform a soft shoe dance number. Soloists are Mrs. Robert King, Mrs. Galbraith, Mrs. McLean and Mrs. Cusick. Mr. and Mrs. Chambers will do a duet.

Barbershop quartet numbers will be done by the Plus Fours, directed by John Reed. Taking part are William Ford, Frank Cittadino, Ray Laubmistter, Angelo Caldara, Wancr Birch, Edward Fields and Nick Pimpinella.

Rudolph May will perform magic tricks. Specialty numbers will be done by Mrs. Cusick, Mr. McCrum, Mr. Galbraith and Mr. Finley.

St. James Club Gets Charter

The St. James Civics club of St. James school this week received its official charter from the Commission on American Citizenship in Washington, D. C.

The charter formally recognizes affiliation of the local unit with the national organization headquartered at the Catholic university of America. Pupils of grade eight B comprise the local club membership.

The officers of the newly organized club are: Marie Peccolie, president; Barbara Haug, vice president; Patricia Rock, recording secretary, and Arthur Eschelbach, sergeant-at-arms.

St. James Civics club is one of the thousands of Catholic Civics clubs chartered in the United States for the purpose of "fostering training for good citizenship."

Through monthly projects and study of articles featured in "The Young Catholic Messenger"—the national Catholic weekly for students of the upper elementary grades — these young citizens learn the meaning of Christian social living based on principles of justice and charity.

This year the program of study and action will develop the theme, "Your Freedom Under God." The program will explain the menace of materialism, contrasting the operation of the materialistic way of life with that of a genuinely Christian and democratic society.

Farmland Up 12% in Value

TRENTON—The market value of farmland in New Jersey increased by 12 per cent between July, 1956, and July 1957, according to the most recent report on farm real estate by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

This was the highest rate of increase in the United States with the exception of Florida, where a 17 per cent rise in farmland value occurred during the period. The national average increase was eight per cent, the largest rise for any similar period since July 1951.

The New Jersey Department of Agriculture attributes the continued rise in farm real estate values in the state to the purchases of farm properties for residential or other non-agricultural purposes. Commercial farmers, particularly those who seek additional land, must compete with this type of demand.

The federal report states that almost 53 out of every 1,000 New Jersey farms changed hands during the year ending March 15, 1957. Voluntary sales and trades accounted for about 36 out of each 1,000 transactions, compared with 40 the previous year. Forced sales (foreclosures or tax sales) amounted to more than five farms out of each 1,000, an increase over the figure for the year before, which was four sales in this category. About 11 farms of each 1,000 in New Jersey were sold for other purposes during the year ending in March, 1957. These included sales resulting from gifts and inheritances and executor's sales.

SCOUT WORKER NAMED

RARITAN TOWNSHIP — Roy N. Forsberg, 21 Clover dr., Foxwood, has been appointed a neighborhood Scout commissioner by James Flynn, district commissioner.

Mr. Forsberg said he is interested in forming a Scout troop to receive the many potential Scouts and the mounting number of Cub Scouts becoming eligible for Boy Scout membership. The local man also is assistant director of the round table meetings held monthly in St. Mary's hall, Keyport, for Scout and Cub leaders.

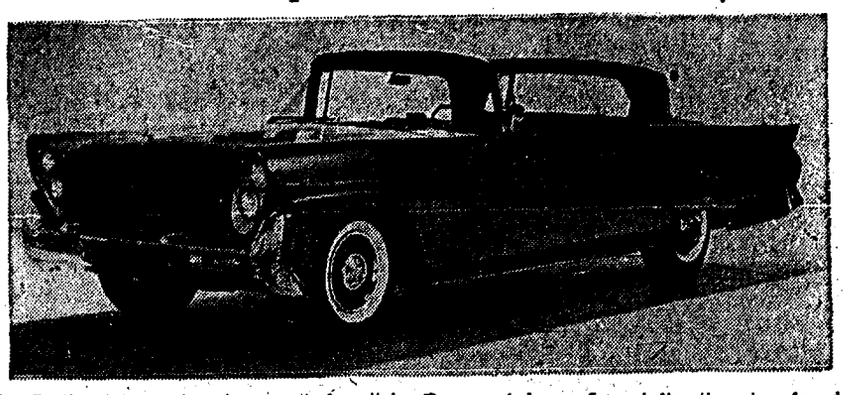
Continental Opens New Era with 4 Models



The Continental, an American automobile symbol of classic design, opens a new era in the luxury car field in 1958 with an expanded line of four models. They will be introduced in dealers' showrooms in November. Local dealer is English-Motors, 34 Maple ave., Red Bank.

For the first time in history, Continental will offer a four-door sedan, a four-door hardtop, a unique soft top convertible as well as the well-known two-door hardtop. All models advance the traditional and elegant design of the Continental Mark II.

Cast in the same classic mold as its predecessors, the Continental Mark II has clean sweeping lines, the same unmistakable roof line, the latticed-type grille, the long, low hood, the distinctive wheel covers and identification nameplates in classic script which reveal the pre-eminence of the Continental.

Continetal Mark III styling emphasizes length and lowness with discreet chrome treatment. Over-all length is 229 inches, while overall height is 56.5 inches.

Canted dual headlamps provide distinctive front end styling. This flared concept is extended along the silhouette of the car where it matches the slightly flared effect of the rear quarter panels.

A reverse slanting rear window is power operated by the driver who has control of all windows in the car by virtue of a master control switch. Power windows are standard equipment in the Continental. In addition, the driver can lock out the power windows, precluding tampering by small children. The latter is an optional accessory.

For better vision, the driver looks out through a huge compound windshield with the upper part of the glass curvature extending into the roof.

Clustered in front of the driver are simply defined controls, masterfully set in an aircraft type instrument panel for easy visibility and accessibility. To the right of a sweeping semi-circular speedometer are warning lights for fuel, oil door locks and lubrication control light. On the left side of the instrument panel is a single dial control air system, which provides ventilation, heating or defrosting merely by turning the dial to its proper setting.

Luxury appointments include five ash trays with lighters, a lined drawer-size glove compartment with light and a four-way power seat for maximum comfort. All Continentals have an automatic transmission, power steering, power windows, power brakes, and a remote controlled outside rear view mirror as standard equipment.

The interior has been designed for roominess and is custom tailored. A total of 22 trim options are available including Bridge of Weir leathers from Scotland, all wool broadcloths and variety of nylon-rayon materials in multiple weaves.

The Continental Mark III has a new engine with a horsepower rating of 375 at 4,800 rpm.

Standard safety features include: Safety door latches, deep-dish steering wheel, padded instrument panel, padded sun visors, dual windshield washers and directional signals.

Six models of the 1958 Lincoln Premiere and Lincoln Capri, inspired by the styling of the Continental, will go on display in dealers' showrooms across the nation this month.

In each line there is a four-door sedan, a four-door hardtop and a two-door hardtop coupe.

Designers and stylists enhanced the low, and long graceful lines of each Lincoln by complementing each model with the Continental roof line, canted dual headlamps, an extended long, low hood and a wide, sweeping rear deck lid.

From the side, the Lincoln suggests the classic simplicity of the Continental profile. Along the side is a single strip of chrome which extends from the rear bumper to the middle of the front door. On Premiere models, the end of this molding is highlighted by an eight pointed star.

The styling theme at the rear matches the front with an oval-shaped horizontally-louvered grille treatment. On either side are integrated tail lights and backup lights set into the grille. The bumper matches the chrome treatment on the lower portion of the rear deck lid which outlines and protects the oval-shaped grille.

The long, lithe silhouette of the Lincoln extends 229 inches in over-all length while the over-all height is 56.5 inches. Wheelbase has been increased to 131 inches, an increase of five inches over the 1957 models.

A new trailing arm rear suspension provides better handling, a better ride and minimizes rear end dip on acceleration and rise on braking.

All Lincolns have 14-inch wheels.

A luxurious interior with ample driving comforts has been designed and styled to satisfy the tastes of the most discriminating fine car buyer. Such standard items as power steering, automatic transmission, power brakes, five ash trays with lighters, foam rubber seat cushions, warning lights for braking, oil pressure and fuel supply increase the ease of driving of the 1958 Lincoln.

Standard safety features include: Safety door latches, deep-dish steering wheel, padded instrument panel, padded sunvisors, dual windshield washers and directional signals.

5,000 See Halloween Parade; Prizes Awarded at Armory

More than 5,000 persons turned out in perfect weather Thursday night to view Red Bank's 10th annual Halloween festivities.

A total of 800 youngsters took part in the parade and the awards program which followed in the Red Bank armory.

Also in the parade were the Queen's parade float, three bands, official cars, fire and first aid equipment, and police vehicles.

The bride and groom float in that division captured the grand prize.

The float carried Angelina Dellara, Andria Marinaccio and John Barney, all of Long Branch. They won a $75 gift certificate along with a $25 savings bond awarded for the best in that division.

Second prize went to Peter Hubbard, Red Bank, for his lobster costume. He won an English bicycle and a radio for best in division D.

Third Prize Winners

Third prize was won by the Korneger family of devils and angels. They are from Belford and received a $25 basket of groceries and a radio for the best in division E, the family group.

Caroline Canonico, Shrewsbury, was the fourth prize winner after being judged first among the girls in division A. She won a $25 bond and a large doll.

Here are the prize winners in each division. They are listed in order of prize awarded.

Division E, Frank Fish, leader; judges, Gregory Schilling, Robert Coon, George Mayer and Thomas Gopsill.

Serpico Comments

Joseph Serpico, general chairman, stated the parade, window painting and armory festivities were the "best" of the past 10 years and were witnessed by more people of the community than ever before.

Mr. Serpico said:

"The presence of the three bands, the floats, plus the co-operation of the mayor and council, the fire and police department and committee chairmen and committee members combined to make the event the success that it was. I wish to thank all concerned and hope next year's celebration will be bigger and better."

Schanck Wins In Matawan

MATAWAN — Mayor Spafford W. Schanck was returned to his fourth term here Tuesday as Republicans posted margins in every contest except that for governor.

Mayor Schanck defeated his Democrat opponent, Daniel J. Mancini, 1,113 to 813. Gov. Robert R. Meyner edged State Sen. Malcolm S. Forbes, 912-899.

Robert Colot, the only incumbent councilman, received 1,086. His Republican running mate, Rollin G. Richards, received 1,021. Their Democrat opponents, Edward R. Francy and Charles A. O'Hare, received 859 and 773, respectively.

Everett E. Carlson, unopposed Republican for the two-year unexpired term of Councilman James H. Hauser, who has moved to Washington, D. C., received 1,178 votes. Thomas A. Francy, unopposed Democrat for assessor, received 1,034.

The other tallies were: Democrats—Giordano, 848; Keuper, 797; Fluhr, 777, and Burke, 776. Republicans — Beadleston, 991; Barkalow, 987; Grossinger, 989, and Woolley, 998.

The local question about providing a pay increase for police carried, 965-453. The state question carried 895-421.

Board OKs 10-Year Pact With Four 'Ifs'

HIGHLANDS — The board of education Monday night conditionally approved a 10-year contract as a sending district with Atlantic Highlands high school.

The agreement, if finally consummated, will enable the Atlantic Highlands board of education to construct a 17-room $600,000 wing to its school.

Local trustees voted 8 to 1 for the approval at the close of a bitter, five-hour session following a parley with the county school superintendent, Earl B. Garrison. Board President William A. Feste was the lone dissenter.

The contract okay was hedged with four conditions:

1—The State Department of Education must grant a prior approval of plans.

2—Atlantic Highlands voters must accept the plans by referendum.

3—No contract will be binding until construction of the wing is completed.

4—If school conditions prove unsatisfactory after the building expansion, Highlands can terminate the contract.

Mr. Garrison assured trustees that "if in future years" the arrangement proves unworkable, either school district could withdraw from the contract, with approval of the state.

The contract impasse, until Monday, had halted Atlantic Highlands attempt "to expand and improve" its school system. Trustees there have claimed that Highlands board members have deliberately thwarted efforts to raise the calibre of education in the Atlantic Highlands system.

State school officials ruled months ago that Atlantic Highlands could not expand its high school without a 10-year commitment from Highlands.

Mr. Garrison indicated at the close of the meeting that "no matter what Highlands now decides," the Atlantic Highlands board may refuse to continue accepting Highlands' pupils. Such action, however, would require approval of the State Department of Education.

Feeling has run high since the contract squabble started, between warring factions of the local board and between individual members on the two boards.

A Highlands' trustee, Alfred W. Marker, who earlier voted for a contract, last week demanded that the five members of his board who had voted against the pact either change their position or resign.

The Atlantic Highlands board president, Mrs. Edna L. McTague, declared at a Friday meeting, "We can't discuss new plans; we are talked out," while local president Feste charged, "Our students are discriminated against in Atlantic Highlands; we want a better school system."

May Oust Students

The county superintendent said Monday that because of bad feeling created between the two boards, the Highlands contract sanction may have come too late to stop Atlantic Highlands action to oust local students. Atlantic Highlands "several days ago" was preparing a request to the state to approve termination of the present high school arrangement, Mr. Garrison noted.

In response to a statement from Highlands board member Frank Bolen that "they can't do that," the superintendent said, "It is conceivable that they could operate their high school alone, even with the smaller enrollment. There is one high school in the state with only 100 pupils."

Four of the five local trustees who had originally voted "no" to a contract did an about-face after Mr. Garrison clarified two key issues.

He said trustees here did not have to sign any agreement until after the state had officially approved building plans.

Board member Benjamin Gruber pointed out that Atlantic Highlands previously had "insisted" that Highlands sign before any attempt would be made for state sanction.

Cost Divided Equally

The superintendent then assured the board that construction costs would be shared equally between the two boroughs. Several board members had interpreted cost figures to mean that Highlands would pay an additional percentage as a sending district.

The cost of educating high school students is about the same in any district in the county, Mr. Garrison added.

In other business, the board voted 8 to 1 to permit the Parent-Teacher association to use the school for a bazar at a charge of $5, with the board paying overtime for a janitor's service.

Mrs. Florence Adair, who voted "no," said that to set a lower charge for the PTA, or to agree to pay extra for a janitor, would cause trouble when other service organizations asked the same privilege.

The board decided that additional school warning signs will be placed along rt. 36, and granted a request by Principal Joseph R. Tiscornia for more fire bells inside the school.

Can't Get Certified Teacher

A pay raise was voted for substitute teachers who will not receive $14 a day the first five days and $17 a day thereafter. The rate had been $12 a day, the second lowest among seven neighboring towns, Mr. Tiscornia reported.

Plans to hire a new teacher, who would take over a class to be formed from present "over-enrolled" grades were held over for a special meeting later this month.

Mr. Tiscornia said he would have to hire a teacher on an emergency certificate since he has been unable to obtain a fully certified teacher.

'Kind Lady' Drama at Old Mill

TINTON FALLS — "Kind Lady," a drama in three acts, will be presented by the drama group of the Old Mill association in the Old Mill tomorrow and Saturday at 8:30 p. m. and Sunday at 7:30 p. m.

The lead will be played by Coe Norton, Shrewsbury. He has been seen by local viewers in many television productions and also has a long list of theatrical credits. The feminine lead will be portrayed by Mrs. Cynthia Edwardsen, Eatontown. She has also appeared in several professional productions, both in America and in her native England.

Others in the cast include Richard Briggs, Long Branch; David Goldstein, West End; Sam Farmer, Fair Haven; Mrs. Alice Winckler, New Shrewsbury; Mrs. Elvin Welch, Fair Haven; Mrs. Ben Edelstein, Asbury Park, and Max Karlman, New Shrewsbury.

Set design is by Joe Messner, New Shrewsbury. Don Winckler, also of Shrewsbury, is in charge of the general production. Robert Alvin of the Theater studio of Art Conway, New York city, will direct the play.

Mr. Alvin has been guest director of the Old Mill drama work shop since his resignation as head of the speech and drama department at Bennington college last summer. He is currently director of the Curt Conway school and heads the acting division of the High School of Performing Artists, New York city.

Sojourners Set Essay Contests

FORT MONMOUTH — Seeking to supplement school citizenship programs, Fort Monmouth chapter, National Sojourners, has launched an essay contest for seventh and eights grade pupils in the Oceanport and Little Silver schools.

Joseph Frank of the Americanism committee said the contest is to be completed by Thanksgiving, with the essays to be written by pupils in their classrooms as part of their regular work.

Offered is a $25 saving bond as first prize in each school. American flags and books on citizenship will be awarded as second and third prizes.

The rules call for essays on one of four topics or closely related subjects—"The Meaning of the Constitution of the United States," "What the American Flag Means to Me," "What Being a Good Citizen Means to Me," and "Being a Good Citizen in My School."

Co-operating in the project with the Sojourners are Charles A. Thompson and John J. Dorn, respectively the principals of the Little Silver and Oceanport schools. Mr. Frank said it is expected that this program will be an annual one "in all local schools."

MELANIE HUYS IS 6

PORT MONMOUTH — Melanie Huys, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Huys, Walada ave., celebrated her sixth birthday Sunday at a party. Present were Candy Lennon, Karen Doran, Gary and Ricky Caugh, Deborah Merker, Barbara Schoellner, Arline Huys, Mrs. Francis Lennon, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Mathison and Mrs. Harry Witterscheim, Sr.

Fort Firemen At PTA Meeting

BELFORD — William Ogden, Belford, and members of the Fort Monmouth fire department showed films on fire fighting and explained the operation of fire extinguishers at the Parent-Teacher association meeting in the school Monday.

The class award was won by Mrs. H. E. Burnside's class. The class mothers of Mrs. James Luker's class served refreshments in the cafeteria after the meeting.

Loch Arbour Vote Upheld

TRENTON — The state Supreme court ruled here Monday that the incorporation of the village of Loch Arbour, as approved by voters of the district in April, is legal.

The high court affirmed the April 23 election when 63 residents of Loch Arbour voted in favor of incorporating as a village under an 1891 village incorporation law that has seldom been used. There were 50 votes against the incorporation.

The actual incorporation had been delayed pending the decision of the Supreme court. The election had been contested by Ocean township, which has contended that the law used by the villagers in seeking the election was unconstitutional.

As soon as the formal notice of the Supreme court's decision is received, Monmouth County Judge Alton V. Evans may certify the results of the election and set a time for the election of five trustees as the village's governing body.

William S. Myers, Shrewsbury, attorney for the group which successfully sought the election, explained that Loch Arbour will actually remain a part of Ocean township, but will have the right to assess its own property by appointment of an assessor by the five trustees. The county board of taxation will have the right, under the village law, to apportion the amount of school taxes Loch Arbour will pay. Loch Arbour will be the smallest municipal unit, in size and population, in Monmouth county, comprising about 50 acres with a population of 335.

Future Homemakers Set Cooking Contest

Thirteen members of the Future Homemakers of America in Red Bank high school will participate in a local cooking contest next Thursday. The contest will be held in the home economics room in the high school.

Students in the contest are Wilma Winrow, Carmen Alleyne, Margaret Nordt, Zelma Jones, Karen Louise Vincent, Barbara Ford, Sue Ann Pickering, Barbara Keebaugh, Carole Mackay, Jean Steffens, Loretta Menna, Classie Chrisholm and Gail Alleyne.

A point system will be used to determine the contest winner. Girls who score 90 or more points will be eligible for the state cooking contest in Trenton in December. Ribbons will be presented to the winner of the state contest who will also receive a $300 scholarship in home economics. The contest is being sponsored by the Propane Gas company.

Mrs. Joice Leads GOP In Sweep of Shrewsbury

SHREWSBURY — Mrs. Lois MacMahon Joice led the Republican ticket to a clean sweep in the election returns here Tuesday.

She and Councilman Edgar W. Heller, Jr., both GOP candidates for the council, defeated Democrats Alonzo I. DeVaney and Joseph A. Christman. Republican John W. VanBrunt was unopposed in his bid for a two-year unexpired term.

Mrs. Joice, wife of Rev. Arthur S. Joice, pastor of the Presbyterian church, scored a two to one victory over both her Democratic opponents. She was given 750 votes. Mr. Heller polled 529. Mr. VanBrunt tallied 735. Mr. Christman had 376 votes and Mr. DeVaney had 317.

Mrs. Joice campaigned on the grounds that a woman would have more time to spend in carrying out her job on the council. By her margin of victory, the voters agreed with her.

Mr. VanBrunt was appointed to the council in July to fill the post vacated by the death of Robert R. Graham.

Mrs. Joice has been active in county Republican politics since moving here eight years ago. She is one of four women on the county Republican steering committee. Mrs. Joice was twice elected county committeewoman from her district and was the first president of the New Shrewsbury Republican club.

Republican margins in county and state contests ranged between 200 and 300 votes. GOP candidates Victor E. Grossinger and Earl L. Woolley both had better than 300-vote victory margins over Democrats Philip H. Fluhr and Richard E. Burke.

The tally was Grossinger 669 and Woolley 683; Fluhr 365 and Burke 351.

Sen. Malcolm S. Forbes had a 164-vote margin over Gov. Robert B. Meyner, 626 to 462. Alfred N. Beadleston polled 638 and Clifton T. Barkalow received 653 votes in the assembly race, defeating John C. Giordano, Jr., who had 391, and Richard V. Keuper, who had 371. The state question passed, 476 to 200.

NO MEAN GOBLINS HERE

MATAWAN—Police Chief John J. Flood is so happy about the quietude in town last Thursday, goblin day, he feels compelled to "give the kids a pat on the back."

"We had a fine Halloween," the chief said, "and I wish publicly to congratulate the children, and their parents, for good conduct. We have a fine bunch of kids here."

Wilson Wins In Oceanport

OCEANPORT — Republican Mayor Edward C. Wilson, Sr., was returned to office in Tuesday's election, gathering 619 votes There was no opposition for him or the other two councilmen running.

Republican incumbents Franklin Ingram and Lloyd N. Sickles gathered 621 and 615 votes, respectively.

In the gubernatorial race, Sen. Malcolm S. Forbes, Republican candidate, received 512 votes while Gov. Robert B. Meyner, the Democratic candidate, collected 315.

Republican Assemblyman Alfred N. Beadleston received 553 votes while Assemblyman Clifton T. Barkalow received 521. Their Democratic opponents, John C. Giordano, Jr., and Richard V. Keuper collected 267 and 260, respectively.

In the race for freeholders, the Republican incumbents, too, came out on top here.

Victor E. Grossinger garnered 546 votes and Earl L. Woolley, 544. Democrats Richard E. Burke received 258 and Philip Fluhr 252.

The state question was okayed here by a 300 to 148 tally.

Symposium Set For Signal Labs

FORT MONMOUTH — A symposium on electromagnetic interference, sponsored by the U. S. Army Signal Engineering laboratories, will be held at the Berkeley Carteret hotel, Asbury Park, Nov. 19 and 20.

The introductory session will be in charge of Col. Charles A. Stanley of the Signal Laboratories. The welcome address will be give by Brig. Gen. Earle F. Cook, commanding general of the laboratories.

Technical papers will be presented at both morning and afternoon sessions.

Maj. Gen. James D. O'Connell, chief signal officer, is expected to be among the guests of honor at the symposium banquet in the hotel's Crystal room.

The symposium committee is headed by Col. Stanley, and includes John J. Egli and First Lt. James P. McNaul, program and arrangements chairmen, all of the office of technical plans in the Signal Engineering laboratories.

Noted Painter Sets Exhibition

George Ford Morris of Fordacre, Sycamore ave., Shrewsbury, considered to be the foremost painter of horses and animals in the United States, will stage an exhibition at his home today through Sunday.

The exhibition is in connection with American Art week, which began Friday and ends today.

Hours of Mr. Morris' exhibition will be from 2 to 5 p. m.

It will feature his paintings and prints, as well as his book, "Portraitures of Horses."

This will mark the first time that Mr. Morris has ever opened his home, studio and gallery for an exhibition of this kind.

Petroleum Men Elect Burk

FAIR HAVEN — Amos E. Burk of Neptune was elected chairman of the Monmouth County Petroleum Industries committee, and Earl Brousell of Englishtown, vice chairman, at a meeting in Willowbrook Oct. 30.

The oil men chose George Truskey of South Belmar as secretary of the committee.

William J. Gaffney, executive secretary of the State Petroleum Industries committee, told the gathering that an increase in the state gasoline tax was not needed for highway purposes and could not be justified in the face of the record of diversion of highway funds in New Jersey.

Discussing the state's practice of diverting its highway user tax revenue to non-highway purposes, Mr. Gaffney said that "over the past six years the state has so diverted 92 cents of this money for every dollar it spent on state highway construction."

He urged gasoline dealers to remind their customers that combined state and federal taxes total seven cents on every gallon of gasoline sold in New Jersey. "This," Mr. Gaffney said, "amounts to a sales tax of 33 1-3 per cent of the retail price of gasoline."

News Co. Fined $500 for Smut

FREEHOLD — County Judge John C. Giordano fined the American News company, 1905 Corlies ave., Neptune, $500 Friday for selling obscene magazines, a charge to which the firm pleaded no defense.

The company was indicted along with two others for distributing obscene magazines. One of the other two firms, Freehold News agency, was acquitted by a jury, and the other, Jersey Coast News company, Asbury Park, is awaiting trial.

The American News company's attorney, Herbert Kramer, told Judge Giordano that the company has banded together with other distributors and they are censoring the publications they handle.

Disabled Veterans Begin Drive

Red Bank Mayor George A. Gray, left, purchases the first forget-me-not flower from Joseph Tyluki, commander of the Jacques R. Eisner post, Disabled American Veterans. The post began its forget-me-not drive today. It will continue through Saturday—with funds to be used for rehabilitation purposes.

Republicans Take Seats In Ocean Township

OCEAN TOWNSHIP — Only 115 votes separated the victors from the losers in the race for the two committee seats here Tuesday—and the Republican candidates had that majority.

Democratic Committeeman Amos E. Kraybill was ousted from his post and Arthur T. Murphy also lost. Incumbent Republican Harold D. Shannon had 1,972 votes and Kraybill had 1,960. Albert F. Koenig complied 1,908 votes and Murphy tallied 1,805.

James A. Errickson, unopposed on the Republican ticket for collector, totaled 2,552 votes.

Gov. Robert B. Meyner was the only Democratic candidate to show a majority. He defeated Sen. Malcolm S. Forbes, 2,038 to 1,845.

In the assembly race, Alfred N. Beadleston had 2,004 and Clifton T. Barkalow had 1,963 on the Republican ticket. John C. Giordano, Jr., had 1,814 and Richard V. Keuper had 1,786 for the Democrats.

Victor E. Grossinger tallied 2,016 and Earl L. Woolley had 2,048 on the Republican ticket for the Board of Freeholders. Philip H. Fluhr had 1,664 and Richard E. Burke had 1,673 for the Democrats.

The state question passed by a 2-1 majority, 1,432 to 706.

Republicans to Dance Nov. 16 in CBI

NEW SHREWSBURY — The committee for the Republican club dance Nov. 16 in Crystal Brook inn met Monday in the home of the chairman, Earl Aspdin of Avalon dr.

Attending were Robert McCall, Mrs. Aspdin, Mr. and Mrs. Emerson E. Platto, Guy Fitzpatrick, Bob McCall and William Barton. Ed Urion's orchestra will provide the music. Anyone interested in tickets may contact a member of the committee.

UPTOWN GROUP MEETING

The Uptown Civic association will meet next Wednesday at 8 p. m. in the basement of St. Anthony's Catholic church, John Howard, chairman, announced yesterday.

Meyner Scores In Highlands

HIGHLANDS — There was no local contest here in Tuesday's election, but in the state and county races it was the Democrats all the way.

Gov. Robert B. Meyner received 515 votes to 445 for Sen. Malcolm S. Forbes.

In the assembly races, John C. Giordano, Jr., and Richard V. Keuper each received 501 votes. Their Republican opponents, Alfred N. Beadleston and Clifton T. Barkalow, received 443 and 442 votes, respectively.

For freeholder, Richard E. Burke received 506 votes and Philip H. Fluhr, 500. Republican incumbents Earl L. Woolley and Victor E. Grossinger received 455 and 442, respectively.

The state question saw 319 "yes" votes and 122 "no" votes.

Congress in 1866 made the official American inch four-millionths longer than the Standard British measurement for an inch.

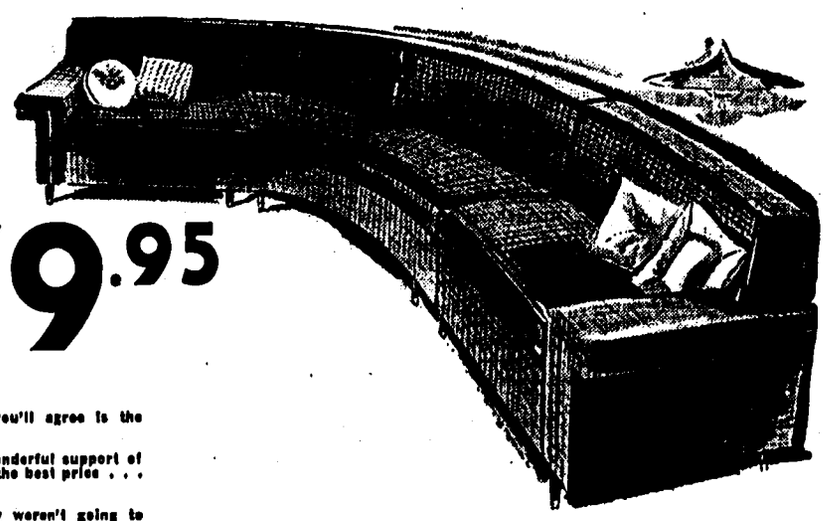
THREE PIECE BEDROOM SUITE

Including Bed, Chest, Dresser and Mirror with any Living Room Suite or 3-Piece Sectional in Our Store - Sale Starts Thursday

Compare With $369. Sectional



3 PIECES $279.95

Here is the reason for this exceptional offer which we know you'll agree is the greatest sale to ever hit Red Bank.

We wanted to do something to show our appreciation for such wonderful support of our store and efforts to bring you the most famous names in furniture at the best price . . . anywhere.

We sold living room suites in September and October like they weren't going to make them anymore . . . and we oversold so badly that we had to put in a special call for help. This company, the world's largest, immediately gave us not only priority, but also some excellent buys, in appreciation of our fine sales, and they have rushed to us a truckload of newest styles, and the best values on the market.

At the same time a bedroom manufacturer shipped a truckload of bedroom suites to a Paterson store and only half a truck was ordered. The company knowing the tremendous amount of furniture we have been selling, offered us a special price on these suites, and we grabbed them.

We also have an agreement that if we oversell we can secure fill-ins to satisfy our customers.

All of these facts—Our biggest months in history, special cooperation from living room manufacturer, and an exceptional buy on bedroom suites enable us to bring you, our customers, such a good buy.

We never like to say "Hurry in", but in this case we believe it would be worth your while to be among the first and choose your suite or sectional, because it took all these lucky circumstances for us to be able to bring you this value packed offer, and they'll sell fast!

Our regular customers tell us that they save $125 to $200 on a living room suite and bedroom suite here in comparison to what they see in their shopping trips, and this should show you in dramatic fashion, the savings IRWIN'S Furniture offers all the time.

The fact that we save our customers money, and that we bring the names they know, America's leading manufacturers, is one of the reasons you, too, should be our customer. Come in . . . look this offer over carefully . . . We want you for a regular customer.

Sabbath candles will be lighted tomorrow at 4:27 p. m. The traditional "Kabbalath Shabbos" Maariv service will take place at 4:45 p. m. Rev. Zevulun Jaffe will be the cantor. At the conclusion of the service, the sanctification prayer, "Kiddush," will be chanted by the choral group.

Junior congregation meets Saturday at 9 a. m. Shachris services for adults will be held at 8:45 a. m. Following the "Musaf" service, a kiddush will be served by the sisterhood. Bar mitzvah class, conducted by Rabbi Joel N. Smilchensky, will meet Saturday at 3:30 p. m. The Sabbath will end with the Havdalah prayer at 5:30 p. m.

"Breakfast Minyan" is held at Sunday 9:30 p. m., sponsored by the sisterhood. Sunday-school classes meet at 10:30 a. m.

Religious school classes meet Monday through Thursday at 3:45 p. m., and 5 p. m. Adult Institute for Jewish Studies offers two courses Monday at 8 and 9:15 p. m. The first class is "Laws and Customs in Judaism" and the second is "History of Jewish People One."

Rabbi Smilchensky has prepared the following message for Veterans Day:

This coming Monday Americans all will celebrate Veterans' Day. But it is not merely a celebration of Veterans of World Wars, it is an occasion when all of us, "Veterans of Life," should consider the times gone by, the problems of the "today," and the planning for the "tomorrow." November 11 should be a day set aside, not alone for the recollection of historic details, but for true understanding of man's life and the constant conflicting elements that exist in the world, in general, and in one's personal life, in particular.

We can gain deep understanding of the present and profound inspiration for the future in the interpretation of a little tale we are all familiar with. It is a story found in the first pages of the Bible—a fantasy which all of us remember from infancy and which most of us are prone to regard as childish. If we but examine this story a little closer we may find in it a great truth revealed, a truth which gives us a fine portrayal of man's inveterate ailments, on this Veterans' Day.

It is the tale of the Garden of Eden. According to our story, God placed man in the Garden of Eden—a garden of all delight, where he might enjoy life to its fullest, in its richest aspects. And God told our ancestors to enjoy the benefits of this garden with the exception of the Tree of Knowledge of Good and Evil. And the story continues to relate how the serpent enticed them to disobey God's command, and they were driven from the Garden "lest he put forth his hands and take also of the Tree of Life." And so man was prevented from tasting of the Tree of Life, by angels who were placed at the gate, holding in their hands a flaming sword which guarded the way to the Tree of Life.

There is no truer picture of what ails us today. If we want to know what keeps man from tasting the fruit of real living, the sweetness and joy of life—it is the sword that to this day guards the path which leads to that precious tree.

If Veterans' Day means something to us—then it ought to bring home this one truth—as long as the sword shall flash before our eyes—so long will the path to delightful living be closed—so long will we be prevented from tasting the fruit of real life.

It would indeed be a glorious way of commemorating Veterans' Day if America—the leader of nations—America to whom the eyes of all peoples turn for hope and salvation—if America were to take the lead in the divine task of routing the Angel of Death with its flaming sword from our lives—thus clearing the path that leads to the joyous bliss of the Tree of Life.

Our Rabbis of old relate a beautiful legend: "God sent down from heaven the Book and the Sword and said to his children on earth: 'You shall have to choose one or the other. If you choose the Sword, the Book will be destroyed; if you choose the Book then you must reject the Sword'."

Civilization and the Sword cannot co-exist. If we are of the "Book" then we cannot lay claim to the "Sword." If we are of the "Sword" then we cannot be of the "Book." Death, slow but imminent, or Life, rich and glorious, the Sword or the Book, which shall we choose? This is the question each of us must ask ourselves on this November 11. This is the question we must answer with honesty and determination. Let us pray our answer is a wise one, for us and our beloved.

Amen.

Rumson GOP Stays Solid

RUMSON — This bulwark of Republicanism withstood the Democratic push through the county, even though Governor Robert B. Meyner cut sharply into his opponent's total.

Councilman Peter Cartmell, who sought the mayoralty post vacated by Francis J. Nary, received 1,749 votes. The only incumbent councilman, William F. Halleran, received 1,773 votes. Harry C. Cronan received 1,738. Wyndham L. Gary, who sought the two-year unexpired term of R. Park Lamborn, received 1,739. High man on the ticket was John W. Carton, Jr., who was re-elected assessor. He received 1,792 votes.

Other tallies were: Republican, Forbes, 1,418; Beadleston, 1,537; Barkalow, 1,495; Grossinger, 1,513; Woolley, 1,515. Democrat, Meyner, 810; Giordano, 672; Keuper, 666; Fiuhr, 646; Burke, 661.

Carlton Begins Adult Night

The Carlton, Walter Reade theater in Red Bank, will institute "adult night" every Thursday, starting tonight.

Every Thursday, the theater will present its regular motion picture policy, but admission will be restricted to adults only. Patrons under 18 years of age will not be admitted Thursday nights.

"Throughout the year, we cater to our younger patrons with many types of kiddie attractions and special reduced admission cards for students," Mr. Reade stated. "We are now setting aside one evening each week especially for the adults to enjoy our motion pictures in a quiet, comfortable atmosphere. Coffee will be served with the theater's compliments in the mezzanine before the film program begins and everything will be done to present an evening of complete enjoyment for the movie-goer," Mr. Reade continued.

"We are trying 'adult night' as an experiment to see whether the adult patronage will respond favorably to the idea. To our knowledge it is the first time this has been done in any theater in this part of the country," Mr. Reade concluded.

The film show for the first "adult night" will be "Love in the Afternoon," starring Audrey Hepburn and Gary Cooper. There will be no increased admissions for "adult night."

Hathaway revives the tab collar

Hawes & Curtis of London created this collar back in the twenties. We're pleased as Punch that Hathaway has revived it.

This tab collar goes perfectly with today's straight-and-narrow tailoring—slim lapels, honest shoulders, small-brimmed hats, etc. It is an extremely comfortable collar, too.

Notice the pattern Hathaway has chosen for these shirts. Bold, uncompromising British stripes that make the sterile pastels of today look hopelessly pedestrian. Drop by and see if you don't agree.

Married in St. James

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene W. Swenarton

Mrs. Hugh Ducey of 11 Spring ter., has announced the marriage of her daughter, Miss Victoria Ducey, to Eugene W. Swenarton, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Swenarton of West Allenhurst, Oct. 26, in St. James Catholic church. Rev. Joseph A. Bischoff officiated, and Mrs. Georgia Mason was the organist.

The bride was escorted by her brother, Francis W. Ducey, Long Branch, and had Mrs. James Vaccarelli Jr., Red Bank, as matron of honor. The bridesmaids were Misses Emma Harris, Long Branch, and Joan Swenarton, Interlaken, the bridegroom's cousin.

The bride's gown was made of white peau de sole, on princess lines, trimmed on the neckline with re-embroidered lace. The skirt fell into a chapel length train, and her fingertip length veil was attached to a pillbox hat of lace and beads. She carried sprays of white orchids and stephanotis on a prayer book.

All the attendants wore cocktail length apricot colored gowns, with matching crown headpieces. The matron of honor carried a cascade bouquet of mint green and white chrysanthemums, and the attendants' bouquets were all mint green chrysanthemums.

The bride's mother wore a pink champagne dress. The bridegroom's mother chose blue taffeta and lace.

Jack Ducey, Red Bank, the bride's brother, was best man, and James Forsyth, Little Silver, and Norman Merz, West Long Branch, were ushers.

Following a reception in Cypress inn, Wanamassa, the couple left on a wedding trip to Bermuda.

The bride was graduated from Pittsfield, Ill., high school, and is a secretary in the offices of Bendix Aviation corporation, Eatontown. The bridegroom, a sales engineer with Bendix, was graduated from Asbury Park high school and attended Rutgers university.

Married in North Jersey

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Joseph Gannon

ELIZABETH — Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Caplette of 448 Erico ave. have announced the marriage of their daughter, Miss Joanne Caplette, to Thomas Joseph Gannon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gannon of 18 Gordon ct., Port Monmouth, Oct. 26 in St. Mary's Catholic church, this city. Rev. Dennis McKenna, pastor, officiated at the ceremony and celebrated the nuptial mass which followed.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She had her sister, Mrs. Michael Lynch of Keansburg, as matron of honor, and as bridesmaids, Miss Winifred Gannon of Port Monmouth, the bridegroom's sister; Mrs. Joseph D'Auria, Asbury Park, and Mrs. Bernard Conlon, Freehold.

The bride was dressed in a gown of Chantilly lace and taffeta, styled with a fitted bodice and a full skirt which had a chapel-length train. She wore a seed pearl cap with a fingertip-length veil, and carried a prayer book, covered with sprays of white orchids.

The honor attendant was dressed in a jade green taffeta gown, cocktail-length, with matching headpiece. The bridesmaids wore the same styled gowns, only in gold. All carried bouquets of green and gold chrysanthemums.

Kathleen Kolnoski and Patrick Cichy, both of Elizabeth, the bride's niece and nephew, were flower girl and ring bearer. The flower girl's frock was jade green.

The bride's mother chose rose lace with blue accessories, and the bridegroom's mother, blue lace with black accessories. Both had corsages of orchids.

John Gallagher of Jersey City was best man. The ushers were James Gannon of Port Monmouth, the bridegroom's brother, and Charles Harris and Robert Sabo, both of Jersey City.

After a reception at the Hibernian club in Elizabeth, the couple left for a New England wedding trip. They will reside at 1 Willis pl., Keansburg.

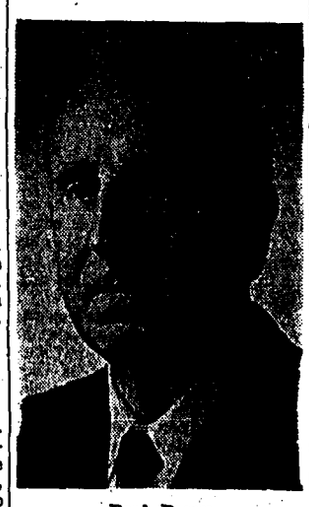
Paray to Conduct Detroit Symphony Monday Night

The distinguished French conductor, Paul Paray, will conduct the Detroit Symphony orchestra, under the sponsorship of the Monmouth Arts Foundation-Civic Music association, in the first concert of the 1957-58 series Monday at 8:30 p. m. in the Carlton theater.



Paul Paray

All admissions are by subscription only—no single admission will be sold, and no tickets are available at the door.

Paray's history is impressive, both in music and in world affairs. The French government honored him in 1950 for his contributions to both by electing him a "Membre de l'Institut," making him one of the few living immortals of France.

Paray made his American debut July 24, 1939, with the Philharmonic Symphony orchestra at the New York stadium concerts. Returning in 1945, he was guest conductor of the Boston and Cincinnati symphonies. In 1949, he guest-conducted the Pittsburgh symphony, and was re-engaged for the following season. He directed the orchestra for two months in Pittsburgh and on tour, and during 1951 and 1952.

Paray is a graduate of the Paris conservatory. While there, he studied harmony with Xavier Lereux and counterpoint with George Caussade. In 1911 he won the Prix de Rome with his cantata "Yanitza." That allowed him to spend the next three years working at the Villa Medici in the Eternal City.

A young infantry reservist, Paray made his first appearance as a conductor with his regiment band. When war came in 1914 he saw much action at the front. Captured by the Germans, Paray was a prisoner of war until the Armistice.

In 1919, soon after his return to musical activity, Paray was appointed conductor of an orchestra at the Casino de Cauteret in the Pyrenees. At summer's end several musicians, members of the famous Lamoureux orchestra, sent back word of the young conductor's talents. As a result, Paray was engaged as assistant conductor to Camille Chevillard. In 1928, after the death of Chevillard, he became principal conductor of the Lamoureux orchestra.

In 1932 Paray became head of the famed Concerts Colonne of Paris, succeeding Gabriel Pierne. In the same year the French government made him an officer in the French Legion of Honor.

By the time he came to this country to make his Stadium debut in 1939, Paray was an outstanding figure among European conductors. The five concerts Paray conducted in Detroit, when its orchestra was reorganized in 1951, electrified the orchestra and the audiences.

This was a major development in the progress of an organization that has excited the entire music world with its method of community support. Appointed permanent conductor and music director of the Detroit Symphony orchestra in 1951, Paray retained his position as president and music director of the Concerts Colonne until 1955.

During the unhappy war years, Paray became a "voluntary exile" in Monte Carlo. Invited by Prince Louis II of Manaco to come under his own conditions, he directed the opera there until the liberation.

Monday's program will include Overture to "Fidello," Beethoven; "Reformation" (fifth symphony,) Mendelssohn; excerpts from "El Amor Brujo," DeFalla; "Afternoon of a Faun," Debussy, and "Forest Murmurs," an overture to "Die Meistersinger," Wagner.

Oswalds Wed For 37 Years

OCEANPORT — Mr. and Mrs. Fred Oswald, 106 Smith st., were given a surprise party on their 37th wedding anniversary by their daughter, Mrs. Lorraine Kremins of the same address.

Attending were Fredrick and Philip Kremins, Oceanport; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Bell, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Martin Kierstead and son Allen, Mr. and Mrs. George Catlin and sons Creighton and David, Bloomfield; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bell, Jr., and son, Jeffrey, West Orange; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ward and daughter Dorothy, Orange; Mrs. Phyllis Wilcox, Maywood; Mr. and Mrs. Russell Dermond and son Mark, Ramsey; Miss Ethel Turner, Irvington, and Christian Parizot, Sr., and Christian Parizot, Jr., Glen Ridge.

Tape recordings were made of greetings to relatives that will be taken to England by Miss Barbara Skewes of Hull, England, who has been a house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Oswald the past month.

Bali Dancers At McCarter

PRINCETON — The McCarter theater will present The Dancers of Bali in a special performance here Tuesday night.

"Dancers" is something of a misleading term for the unit, although it contains temple dancers, palace dancers, kris dancers and the rarely-seen trance dancers.

It also contains Bali's most important symphony orchestra, the Gamelan of the Kaleran palace, its leading contemporary composer and conductor and clowns. The company also contains more stars than any other on the island, due to its royal sponsorship.

The dancers are headed by I Mario, considered the island's finest male star. The group includes seven princesses of the royal house. Their program will include Balinese classics, the Ketjak, the Kebier, and many other dances given at previous performances. There also will be several new features, especially created for the tour this year.

Helen Langler, John R. Fix

RUMSON — Mr. and Mrs. Herbart M. Langler of 61 Park ave. have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Helen Langler, to John R. Fix, son of Col. and Mrs. Joseph E. Fix of 84 Black Point rd.

Miss Helen Langler

Miss Langler is employed by Bendix Aviation corporation in Red Bank, and is a graduate of Rumson high school. Mr. Fix was graduated from Red Bank high school, and served in the Marine Corps. He also is employed by Bendix Aviation corporation in Red Bank, and is a student at Monmouth college in West Long Branch.

Elizabeth K. Rankin, Hugh Fraser Cawley

SHREWSBURY—Mr. and Mrs. John R. Rankin of West End ave., formerly of Nutley, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Elizabeth Kemp Rankin, to Hugh Fraser Cawley, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Cawley of Upper Montclair. The wedding is planned for next spring.

Miss Elizabeth K. Rankin

Miss Rankin, a teacher in Summit high school, attended Trenton State Teachers college and is a graduate of the University of Connecticut. Her fiance served with the Army of Occupation in Japan, and is an engineer employed by the Worthington corporation in Harrison. Mr. Cawley is an alumnus of Lehigh university.

Carol A. Kinhafer, Wallace Dickerson

MATAWAN — Announcement has been made of the engagement of Miss Carol Adele Kinhafer to Wallace Vernon Dickerson, son of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Dickerson of South Amboy, formerly of Keyport, by the parents of the bride-elect, Mr. and Mrs. J. Carlton Kinhafer of 50 Middlesex st.

Miss Kinhafer was graduated from Matawan high school, and is a secretary employed by Atlantic Tile Manufacturing company here. Mr. Dickerson, a Keyport high school graduate, served in the Navy four years. He is employed at the Welin-David Boat works in Perth Amboy.

Golf Green Torn, Damage Is $250

RUMSON—Police reported this week that about 30 square feet of turf surrounding the 15th golfing green at the Rumson Country club was torn up the night of Oct. 30.

It was believed the damage—amounting to $250—was caused by Halloween pranksters, police said.

Edward Brittain, grounds superintendent at the club, said the sod was torn up by hand. However, it has already been repaired, he stated.

The 15th green is off Rumson rd.

Farm Co-operatives Total 114 in State

TRENTON—One hundred and fourteen agricultural co-operatives are presently active in New Jersey, according to Alvah W. Severson, market reporting and co-operatives chief, New Jersey Department of Agriculture. They include associations incorporated here and a much smaller number of out-of-state co-operatives with New Jersey branches which have complied with the laws of this State.

These farmer-owned and operated organizations are engaged in marketing agricultural products, buying farm supplies and performing other services for farmers. Commodities included in the buying and selling operations are fruits, vegetables, poultry, eggs, dairy products, livestock, package, seeds, plants and trees, fertilizers, feeds, machinery and equipment. The total value of business conducted by the co-operatives amounts to about 125 million dollars annually.

Each co-operative is required to file yearly financial statements with the Department of Agriculture. Those not reporting for three consecutive years are listed with the Secretary of State as inactive and, after verification, declared to be dissolved.

This year, 12 co-operatives were dissolved for failure to comply with the co-operative law.

October Nuptials

Mr. and Mrs. Vincent James Mazzeo, who were married on Oct. 26 at St. Ann's Catholic church, Keansburg, are on their wedding trip to Florida, and upon their return will live in Jersey City. The bride is the former Rosemary Lolanda Bevacqua, of Keansburg, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Irene Aria of Jersey City.

New Shrewsbury

Airman Wenzel and Bride

Airman and Mrs. Joseph Martin Wenzel

Miss Alice Marie Neville, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Neville of 667 West Front st., River Plaza, and Airman First Class Joseph Martin Wenzel, son of Joseph M. Wenzel of Carmen pl., were married Sunday at St. James Catholic church, Rev. August Neumann officiated.

All white chrysanthemums decorated the church. A reception was held in the home of the bride's parents.

Mr. Neville gave his daughter in marriage. Her princess styled gown was made of Italian taffeta, trimmed on the neckline with seed pearls. The bouffant skirt had a cathedral length skirt, and the bride's veil of illusion fell from a seed pearl cap.

Miss Janice Neville was maid of honor for her sister, and Miss Elizabeth Anne Holler, West New York, was a bridesmaid. Their bouffant styled dresses of lace and net, had Sabrina necklines. The maid of honor wore yellow, and the bridesmaid coral, and both had colonial bouquets of chrysanthemums.

The best man was Donald Wenzel, Red Bank, the bridegroom's brother, and Stephen Kerekesh, Little Silver, was an usher.

The bride's mother had a powder blue lace costume with navy blue accessories.

For her wedding trip to South Carolina, where the couple will live at Shaw Air Force base, the bride wore a black and white tweed suit, with black accessories.

The bride was graduated from Middletown township high school. The bridegroom is a Red Bank high school graduate, and is an electronic photographer with the Air Force.

Scouts' Goal Is 1,000 New Boys

OAKHURST — Monmouth county Boy Scouts have set a goal of 1,000 new members by Dec. 31, according to William Mattison, commissioner for the council and chairman of the 1957 Baden-Powell recruiting contest.

Awards will be based on the recruiting of five or more new members in each of the 250 scouting units in the county. Cub pack 88 of Port Monmouth, sponsored by the Port Monmouth first aid squad, moved into first place in the county by recruiting 22 new members in the first month of the contest closing this week.

Cub pack 50 of Shrewsbury, sponsored by the Presbyterian church, and Cub pack 43, Wanamassa, sponsored by the Parent-Teacher association, are tied for second place, each recruiting 21 new Cub scouts.

In the troop division, Summerfield's troop 95, sponsored by the P.T.A., is in top place with 13 new members and new Explorer post 50, Shrewsbury, heads the senior division with 13 new members. Some 376 scouts have been recruited in the first month of the contest.

Scouts Practice Treat Without Trick

Remembering those who could not join in fun-making on Halloween, Cub Scouts of den 9, pack 24, Fair Haven, made the rounds of wards in the Fort Monmouth hospital on All Saints day, accompanied by the den mother, Mrs. John J. Bell, and assistant den mother, Mrs. Edward Show, both of Park la., Fair Haven, distributing 'sweets' to patients. Above, cub scouts, Brien Narelle, left, and Lance Lizee are shown at bedside of PFC Donald Wells. Others participating were Jimmy Zahl, Tommy Robbins, Ashley Bell and Carl Jakubecy.

500 Celebrate Halloween

RIVER PLAZA — The Ladies' auxiliary of the River Plaza Hose company was host last Thursday to approximately 500 children. The group in co-operation with the firemen sponsored a Halloween parade in the vicinity of the fire house. Mrs. Raymond O'Neill, Jr., was chairman of the affair, which featured refreshments for both parents and children at its conclusion. Assisting as judges were Mr. and Mrs. Edwin H. Brasch, Mrs. Worth B. Cunningham and Marshall McDowell.

Prizes were awarded in three groups as follows: One to five years old, most original, Lou Ann Malinconico, Raymond Stubbs, Jr. and Thomas Baird; funniest, Michael Altonberg, Robert Davis and Paul Hird, and prettiest, Marcie Kluin, Karen Pohl and Dolores Ingrassia; six to nine years old, most original, Chris Kluin and Ingrid Olson; funniest, Gasper Bua, James Kaszuba and Keith Gordon, and prettiest, Lynn Morris and Monica Maher.

Ten to 15 years old, most original, Joseph Carter, Bonnie Van Glahn and Bill Stobo; funniest, Mike Ferguson, Gerry Howell and Robert Bogart, and prettiest, Vita Bua and Donna Lee Perry.

Assisting on the auxiliary committee were Mrs. Dolores Porzio, Mrs. Helen Baird, Mrs. Grace Tetley, Mrs. Joan Kluin, Mrs. Elaine McLaughlin, Mrs. Frieda Becker, Mrs. Jean Hendricks, Mrs. Pearl Bardshaw and Mrs. Verna Gray. The parade marked the first time the auxiliary has planned such an event but from the response of the residents here it is reported the auxiliary will probably sponsor one next year, also with the co-operation of the firemen.

Y., and Mr. and Mrs. Jackson Walier, Hartsdale, N. Y.

Pack 146 Holds Costume Party

NEW MONMOUTH — A Halloween costume party was held by Cub pack 146 in the Baptist church Friday. Prizes were awarded to Edmond Rodziewicz, funniest; Robert Osten, weirdest; Gaylor Hansen, most original, and Dick Wetzel, fanciest.

Bobcat pins were presented to Reon Swaim, William Heinz, Gaylord Hansen, Jr., Arthur Coughlin and Robert Renton. Other awards were presented to Warren Crane, Jeffrey Hammond, Kenneth Dickenson, David Hammond and Gregory John. Douglas Krueger received a denner's stripe and George Hermey an assistant denner's stripe. Irvin Wetzel acted as cubmaster. Year pins also were given out. The cubs will conduct a newspaper drive Saturday, Nov. 16, in New Monmouth and Belford.

After the meeting, Halloween games and refreshments were served.

HALLOWEEN WINNERS

LINCROFT — The Halloween party sponsored by the Lincroft-Holmdel Kiwanis club for the children of this area was held Saturday because of inclement weather Friday. Prizes for costumes were won by Robert Godard, Peter Morgan, Ralph Layton, Jr., Kathleen Mahoney, Kathy Foytho, Cindy Brandt, Carol Prybylowski, Nancy Knoll, Peggy Brandt, Lincoln Davis, Jr., Richard Weidelman, Eugene Harmanski, Sally Domidion, Linda Brandt, Linda Baum, Ray Flockhart, Chris Thurer and Ricky Fields.

Pastor, Wife Are Feted

KEANSBURG — Rev. and Mrs. Otto Janke of the Methodist church Sunday night were given a reception for their fifth year in the local church.

The church hall was decorated in flowers, fruit and leaves by Mrs. Paul Bogdan and her committee. Welcome songs were presented by the junior, youth and senior choirs. Family selections were sung by Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Schmidt and family, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Englemann and family, Rev. and Mrs. Otto Janke and Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Gouker and family. The program was in the form of "This Is Your Life." Edward Eicher was master of ceremonies.

Members of the first confirmation class; first new members received; Mr. and Mrs. Billie Graves, first couple married, and Syvlia Elizabeth Havens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Havens, first baby baptized by the pastor, were present.

Letters of welcome were read from Mayors James Gravany and Harry P. Seamen. Members of the various organizations of the church were present. Rev. and Mrs. Janke received a purse and other gifts and Mrs. Janke was presented a corsage.

Village Fund Drive Slated

MIDDLETOWN — The Middletown Village Charities fund will conduct its sixth annual appeal next week, Monday through Saturday, Mrs. Karl H. Meyer, chairman, announced.

The joint drive will benefit eight charities: Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Salvation Army, Community Y.M.C.A., Mental Health fund, Cancer fund, Monmouth Memorial and Riverview hospitals.

Mrs. Meyer stressed the fact that the appeal is the only one made here for operating funds for the eight groups. It is in the nature of community appeals and co-ordinates the canvasses of all the beneficiary agencies to reduce the inconvenience to donors and duplication of canvassers' efforts which result from individual drives.

Contributors are being asked to give their donations to each of the charities in one lump sum through the appeal.

Assisting Mrs. Meyer is Mrs. Robert Gunkel, vice chairman.

The area covered by the drive encompasses Middletown village, or election district one. It extends from Taylor la. to Gillville la., on the west side of rt. 35 and west to Oak Hill rd. Workers will make a door-to-door canvass.

On the executive board of the fund are Mrs. J. D. Quinn, secretary; Maltby D. Jelliffe, treasurer, and Robert Gunkel, assistant treasurer.

Area chairmen for the drive are Mrs. William Nielsen, Stewart Nielsen, Richard E. Burke, Vincent S. Lanning, Mrs. Donald Babcock, Mrs. Helen Railton, Robert E. Peoples, Sr., Edward Thomas and Mrs. S. S. Steppe.

Sheriff Makes Jail Changes

FREEHOLD — Some sweeping changes in the organizational setup of the Monmouth county jail were announced Monday by Sheriff Ira E. Wolcott following the second escape from the jail within a month.

Late Saturday night or early Sunday morning, Edward Heller, 27, of Shore Acres ave., East Keansburg, sawed through two bars in his cell and fled, the same as two prisoners did Oct. 3. A 15-state alarm is out for Heller and county detectives have questioned his cellmates about his escape.

Among the plans in the reorganization of the jail, Sheriff Wolcott said, he has arranged for 11 jail guards to undergo a three-day training period in Bordentown reformatory.

The sheriff also announced that he has appointed Earl A. Smith, head of the county identification bureau, as acting warden in the place of Warden Joseph J. Schwark, who suffered a kidney condition Monday and was scheduled to enter Monmouth Memorial hospital, for treatment.

Freeholder Director Joseph C. Irwin said that the board of freeholders has discussed with Sheriff Wolcott for the past two months about proposed changes or expansion plans for the jail.

Jazettes Hold Halloween Party

MIDDLETOWN — The Jazettes held a Halloween party Friday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Fennell on Tindall rd.

Guests enjoyed games and dancing, and refreshments were served. Others attending were Misses Judy Linenweaver, Cathy Hollands, Marlene Orsini, Jackie Chaney, Mildred Kitson, Joyce Veal and Jack Linenweaver, Louis Camp, Frank Rega, Melvin Martin, Richard Sichel, and David Tindall.

Labriola Motors Opens New Showrooms

Red Bank Mayor George A. Gray, left, is shown shaking hands with Joseph F. Labriola, head of Labriola Motors, Inc., at the opening of the new DeSoto-Plymouth showroom and shop Friday. The plant is located at 120 East Newman Springs rd. and has 7,500 square feet of floor space. It is equipped to make complete repairs and service.

200 at Supper For Sisterhood

More than 200 women attended the annual paid-up membership supper which the Sisterhood of Congregation Bnai Israel held Tuesday in the Crystal Ballroom on Monmouth st.

Members of the executive board were hostesses. Mildred Ellor of Bloomfield entertained with a "one woman" musical show.

At the business meeting, members voted to hold the annual Purim ball March 9. This will be a dinner-dance in the Hotel Stanley in Lakewood. Mrs. Benjamin Cohen and Mrs. Jules Sneddcoff will be chairmen.

The annual pledge night meeting will be Dec. 3 in Congregation Bnai Israel on Riverside ave. Donald Witkin, immediate past president of the New Jersey section of the National Jewish Welfare Board, will speak. Mrs. Joseph Becker is chairman. Mrs. William Beckenstein will do decorations. Mrs. Arthur Gutowitz will serve refreshments.

Miss Fletcher Guest at Shower

KEANSBURG — Miss Barbara Fletcher of Union Beach was honored last week at a bridal shower given by Miss Carol Cofield, Keansburg, Miss Florence Maklowski, Union Beach, and Mrs. Patrick Carey, Jersey City. The party was held in Miss Cofield's home on 147 Seeley ave.

Gifts were placed beneath a blue and white umbrella. A large cake formed the centerpiece of the refreshment table. Miss Fletcher will become the bride of John D. Crowley Saturday, Nov. 16, in Holy Family Catholic church, Union Beach.

Guests were Mrs. Earl Swift, Robert Fitzpatrick, Mrs. Arthur Gray, Mrs. John Friel, Miss Mae McCandless and Mrs. Harry Fletcher, Union Beach; Mrs. John Crowley, Miss Maureen Crowley and Mrs. Max Glassman, Keyport; Mrs. Frank Cofield, Keansburg; Mrs. Kenneth Fletcher, Oakhurst; Mrs. Harry Fletcher, Staten Island; Miss Eileen O'Rourke, Jersey City, and Mrs. Jean Verrier, North Arlington.

'Follies' Director' Party Scheduled by League

The Junior Service league of Red Bank, getting ready for its Riverview Follies to be presented the nights of Nov. 29 and 30 in the Carlton theater, will hold a "follies' director party" Monday night in Driftwood, Sea Bright.

Those wishing to participate are invited, whether or not they belong to the league.

The guest of honor will be Jimmy Dyas, director for the event which is being produced by Jerome Cargill Productions of New York. He will outline show plans, announce tryout days and rehearsal schedules. Pap Capri will provide music for the entertainment to be given by local talent.

Mrs. Charles Preston of Fair Haven, follies talent chairman, said: "Those attending must bring either their talent or their enthusiasm to help us with a variety of jobs for our event which will benefit Riverview's new pediatric section. Last year, of the 100 people participating, 75 of them were non-league members. We hope to do the same this year, making our 'follies' a real community affair."

Others serving on this committee are Mrs. Jack Fowler, Mrs. Joseph Coleman, Mrs. Harry Kearney, Mrs. Robert Norton, Mrs. Alan Wallace and Mrs. Emery G. Wingerter.

Mrs. William C. Ellis is overall chairman of the benefit, which last year earned $7,000 for Riverview's building program. She announced this week that by popular request a feature of last year's benefit, a cabaret party, will follow both the Nov. 29 and 30 performances in Shadowbrook, Shrewsbury. Mrs. Edwin W. Irwin of Red Bank is in charge of the parties.

Long Branch Goes Demo

LONG BRANCH — This city went Democratic all the way in Tuesday's election.

There was no local race.

Gov. Robert B. Meyner, Democrat, carried this city by a 1,674 vote margin.

He tallied 4,854 votes against 3,180 for Sen. Malcolm S. Forbes, his Republican opponent.

In the race for assembly, Democrats John C. Giordano and Richard V. Keuper collected 4,767 and 4,543 votes, respectively. The Republican incumbents are Alfred N. Beadleston and Clifton T. Barkalow. The former collected 3,147, the latter 3,100.

For freeholder, Richard E. Burke received 4,447 votes and Philip H. Fluhr, 4,408 votes. They are Democrats. Their opponents, the incumbents, are Earl L. Woolley, 3,293 votes, and Victor E. Grossinger, 3,191 votes.

Voters approved by substantial majorities $725 pay raises for both firemen and policemen as of next January.

The fire department approval was 4,385 for and 2,352 against. For the police, it was 4,078 for and 2,598 against.

ATTEND CONFERENCE

LINCROFT—Mrs. Marie Laubmeister, director of the Kiddy Kampus nursery school, West Front st., attended the fall conference of the New Jersey association for Nursery Education in Princeton Saturday. Mrs. Shirley Russell, a member of the school staff, accompanied her.

New GOP Club Sets Meeting

The new Republican club which was formed here last week under the chairmanship of Mayor George A. Gray will meet next Wednesday night in the Old Union house on Wharf ave.

At that time, Mayor Gray said yesterday, reports will be received from the nominating committee and the charter and by-laws committee.

Serving on the nominating committee are Councilmen Harry Malchow and Thomas F. Oakley, Franklyn Haviland, assessor, Rev. Charles E. Bourne, president of the Westside Republican club and Mrs. Dorothy Edmunston.

Members of the charter and by-laws committee are Councilmen Everett C. Baynton and Harold E. Williams, Samuel Carotenuto, borough attorney, Mrs. Marie P. Enright and Mrs. Joseph C. Irwin.

Refreshments will be served at Wednesday's meeting, which will start at 8 p. m.

Board President Addresses PTA

RUMSON — Future plans relating to anticipated school population increases was the subject discussed by Elliott Sparkes, president of the board of education, at the Parent-Teacher association meeting held in Forrestdale school, Tuesday.

He reviewed some of the problems the board has had to cope with the past year. He suggested possible solutions the board will recommend to solve the future problems of "growing pains in the community."

The membership chairman, Mrs. Walter Kerr, reported that there are 337 members enrolled. The membership banner was presented to Miss Patricia Paine, teacher of class 1A, for having the highest attendance of parents at the meeting.

The net profit for the Americana bazar, held Oct. 12, was announced as $1,188.54 by the chairman, Mrs. Herbert J. Sanders.

The PTA is financing the publication of a newsletter, to be distributed monthly to parents to keep them informed of school activities, under the chairmanship of Mrs. William Meeker.

Mrs. Jerome Gorlin, publications chairman, was authorized to purchase publications of interest to the PTA board and its members.

The organization sponsored a visit for four eighth grade students to Monmouth college, under the guidance of Basil Petach, to visit the school and campus.

The PTA handbook has been completed, and was distributed to parents. This also will be given to each new school member to acquaint them with necessary school information.

Mrs. Richard E. Hartung was appointed legislative chairman in addition to her duties as historian and parliamentarian.

Mrs. Marion Krouse, chairman of the elementary evaluation committee, reported that the next meeting will be Wednesday in the Forrestdale school. Earl B. Garrison, county superintendent of schools, will talk on how he evaluates schools in the county. This committee is planning to visit the elementary school in Scarsdale, N. Y., Dec. 4 to observe work habits.

Seventh grade mothers were hostesses under the supervision of Mrs. Albert A. Kerr.

Marina Takes Early Orders; Council Hearing Set Nov. 19

HIGHLANDS — Although still faced by one hurdle—council's passage of an ordinance amendment which would permit the installation — Highlands Marina, Inc., started looking for customers this week.

Approval by the mayor and council seems likely, but by no means is assured. Neighbors in the area where the big boating center would go have petitioned the governing officials to reject it.

Council is due to go over the entire proposal at its meeting Tuesday, Nov. 19, when a public hearing will be conducted.

'Now Accepting'

The marina corporation, headed by Maurice Gruber, president, and his brother, Benjamin Gruber, vice president, this week said it is "now accepting applications for berth space in the new basin to be constructed" here. Listed as corporation secretary-treasurer was John Sciortino.

In past interviews with newsmen, Benjamin Gruber, former borough attorney, has said that "outside interests" will enter into the financing of the boating center which, he said, will cost more than $200,000.

It is due to go in on the Harry Neimark property, a 160x210 section of land from Bay ave. to the waterfront between Sea Drift ave. and Atlantic st.

The marina is expected to provide dockage for 150 boats, to have a yacht club containing a restaurant and showers for members and a fishing tackle shop, according to previous announcements. Plans also were disclosed for a 500-car parking lot and an eventual "boatel," a motel for boating enthusiasts.

The new announcement, however, said there also would be a "cocktail lounge"—indicating that the corporation expects to acquire a liquor license. This would have to mean getting one from an existing tavern, since Highlands already has exhausted its legal limit of licenses under current state law. And it said there will be arrangements for "winter storage and repairs."

Corporation officers said the marina will be ready for occupancy on or about May 1, 1958.

Plans for the marina already have been approved in principal by the planning board which, however, has left them to the mayor and council for ultimate decision. Endorsing these plans early last week was the Chamber of Commerce.

Club Makes Show Plans

Plans are complete for "Winter Holidays," the topic for a combined flower show and floral arrangement lecture to be held by the Garden club of Fair Haven, Wednesday, Nov. 20, in the China and Glass shop auditorium on Broad st. At the club's meeting yesterday in the auditorium, Mrs. Waldron Kennison, president, said that Mrs. Simeon T. Shields of Montclair will lecture on "Holiday Arrangements," at the event.

Members of nine garden clubs will exhibit in the inter-club class which is a table setting for Thanksgiving. The trophy for this class will be given by Mr. and Mrs. John Ballantine, China and Glass shop owners. Members of the following clubs will participate: Atlantic Highlands, Grow and Show of Allenhurst, Long Branch, Navesink, New Shrewsbury, Rumson, RFD of Holmdel, Shrewsbury and Toms River.

New members introduced were Mrs. Charles Harken and Mrs. Charles Kromlin. Mrs. Warren W. Boeswetter was a guest, and Mrs. Kenneth Hahn and Mrs. Clifton Lewis were hostesses.

Style Show Held at Fort

EATONTOWN — Fashions, featuring fall and winter styles were shown by Vogel's of Long Branch, at a luncheon meeting of the Fort Monmouth Woman's club yesterday in Gibbs hall. The clothes were selected for social and civic activities, and also included basic traveling costumes.

The show was arranged by Mrs. Barry Kamm, the firm's fashion co-ordinator. Mrs. M. O. Bowers provided background music, and Peggy Curtis of Asbury Park was commentator.

Mrs. R. G. H. Meyer was chairman, assisted by wives of officers assigned to the headquarters of the Army Signal school and the academic service department.

Now, Get Your Foot Into This

The group, out to teach, develop and enjoy square and round dancing, has as other officers, Louis Poitrinal, vice president, and Mrs. Louis Poitrinal, publicity chairman.

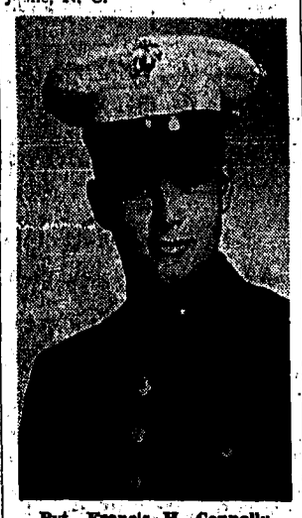
Members now include Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Clayton, David Courtright, Mrs. Donald Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Johnson, Jerry Kern, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lane, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lindemann, Mr. and Mrs. William Mackay, Mr. and Mrs. William B. Miller.

Mrs. Clara V. Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Richter, Jr., Miss Elizabeth Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Orion Whittaker, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Wiegand and Mr. and Mrs. John Wood.

The club plans a Christmas or New Years eve party, a winter dance and a series of lessons for beginners.

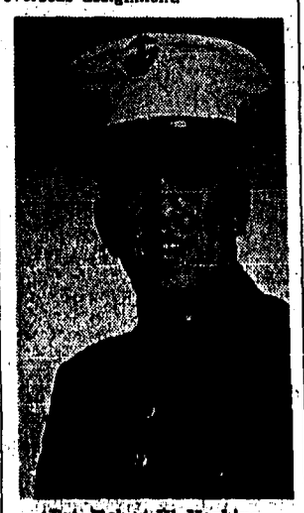
Marines End Boot

MIDDLETOWN — Francis H. Connolly, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Connolly of 258 East rd., Belford, and Robert William Hopkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Hopkins of 20 Knapp cir., Middletown, completed boot training in the Marine Corps last Wednesday at Parris Island, S. C. They have been assigned to Camp Lejeune, N. C.



Pvt. Francis H. Connolly

Pvt. Connolly, who was graduated from Middletown township in June, received a sharp shooter's medal at graduation exercises. He will be home for the month of December, and at the end of his leave will receive an overseas assignment.



Pvt. Robert W. Hopkins

Pvt. Hopkins also was graduated from Middletown township in June. He too, will be home on leave next month, prior to receiving his new assignment.

The U. S. Naval Operating Base in Bermuda is situated on 225 acres of land leased on a 99-year-rent-free contract granted to the U. S. by Great Britain during World War II.

Club Honors Ex-Presidents

Past presidents of the North Shore Shrine club were honored at the group's meeting in the Molly Pitcher hotel last week.

They included:

Donald E. Hight, Allenhurst; Gershon Peshkin, Asbury Park; Julius Slavin, Asbury Park; Warren C. Trested, Elberon; Maurice C. Goldberg, Point Pleasant; Ralph J. Damiano, Long Branch, and Joseph Mirne, Deal.

Certificates of merit and a gift were presented to each by Ken Smith, high priest and prophet of Salem temple.

In another highlight of the meeting, seven high school students were given a talk on the advantages of a Navy career by Commander Max A. Holzrichter of the Lakehurst Naval Air station.

The students included Ronald Tamblyn, Francis Callahan, Richard Marshall, Michael Canavan, Francis Love and Robert McGuinness, all of Rumson-Fair Haven regional high school, and James Ross of Red Bank high school.

They were welcomed to the meeting by Louis S. Van Zandt, president, Howard E. Morris, second vice president, and Morrell J. Moore.

Westside Auxiliary To Dine Dec. 11

Young Duck Hunters Saved After Boat Overturns in Bay

LEONARDO — Prompt action by a local boat owner probably saved the lives of two of a trio of young duck hunters who were dumped into Raritan bay when their small boat overturned Tuesday, police said.

The third youth swam ashore.

Charles A. Edwards, 26 Beach ave., heard the youths' cries for help and located them with a pair of binoculars. Joseph Korpon, 5 Roop ave., also heard the cries and ran to Mr. Edwards, who told him of the youths' plight and their location.

Mr. Korpon dashed to his 25-foot motorboat at the Leonardo basin, nearby, and went a half-mile into the bay to pick up the hunters and their 10-foot boat.

He brought to shore Howard Clark, 18, and Fred Bock, 16, both of Old Bridge. The third boy, Richard Clark, 17, also of Old Bridge, had chosen to abandon the boat and swim ashore.

Howard Clark and the Bock youth were taken to the harbormaster's office and given dry clothing and hot drinks. Richard Clark, who is not related to Howard, went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Duncan, 2 Franklin ave., and was put to bed.

Middletown Police Capt. William Woodward, who investigated, lauded Mr. Korpon's action. He said the boys apparently were none the worse for the experience.

The Leonardo first aid squad was called, but on the advice of physicians in Riverview hospital, the youths were not removed from the warm buildings.

Capt. Woodward said a heavy breeze had made the bay surface choppy. Although Mr. Korpon brought their boat ashore aboard his craft, the youths lost three shotguns and all their shells overboard.

MAKE $500 AT BAZAR

MIDDLETOWN — The Middletown Village Parent-Teacher association's "Country Store" bazar brought in a profit of more than $500, it has been announced by Mrs. Robert Rickner, chairman.

Part of the proceeds will be used to buy playground equipment for the school.

Beth Miriam Lecture Series

ELBERON — The Men's club of Temple Beth Miriam will open a lecture series in the temple on Lincoln ave. next Wednesday night at 8:30 o'clock. Dr. Harry M. Orlinsky will speak on "Biblical History and the Dead Sea Scrolls."

The speaker is professor of the Bible in the New York School of Hebrew Union College—Jewish Institute of Religion, America's seminary of reform Judaism. He is considered one of the world's most outstanding Bible scholars, and is editor-in-chief of the new translation of the Hebrew Bible for the Jewish Publication Society of America.

Drew Pearson will lecture Feb. 18, and Pierre VanPassen, Mar. 18.

The acreage of forest land in Russia is more than 44 per cent of the country's total area.

BABY CLINIC

SEA BRIGHT — The well-baby clinic sponsored by the Public Health Nursing association of Rumson, Sea Bright and Fair Haven, will be held next Thursday at 10:30 a. m. in the first aid building. Dr. Irving K. Lovett will be assisted by the association nurses.

Barbour, Conway Victorious; Meyner Margin 57 Votes

WEST LONG BRANCH — Republican Council incumbents Louis J. Barbour and George M. Conway were both returned to office here by substantial majorities in Tuesday's election.

Mr. Barbour received 1,134 votes while Mr. Conway collected only six less, 1,128.

Defeated were Democratic candidates Robert N. Kastor and Mary N. Costa. Mr. Kastor received 900 votes, Mrs. Costa, 895.

The election here had been a hard-fought one—which received attention in the metropolitan New York area.

Democratic Gov. Robert B. Meyner registered a surprise by gaining a 57-vote margin over Republican Sen. Malcolm S. Forbes.

Mr. Meyner received 1,018 votes against 961 for the senator from Somerset county in this, the home borough of J. Russell Woolley, county G.O.P. chairman.

The remainder of the county Republican ticket fared much better—and managed to win hands down.

Beadleston, Barkalow Win

In the race for two Assembly posts, Alfred N. Beadleston received 1,068 votes and Clifton T. Barkalow, 1,055. They are Republican incumbents. Democrats John C. Giordano, Jr. and Richard V. Keuper collected 932 and 897, respectively.

Republican Freeholder incumbents Earl L. Woolley and Victor E. Grossinger gathered 1,097 and 1,093, respectively.

Their Democratic rivals—Richard E. Burke received 855 votes and Philip H. Fluhr received 855 and 854, respectively.

The state question was soundly passed here—706 for and 359 against.

Beadleston Paces GOP Sweep

MONMOUTH BEACH — Alfred N. Beadleston led the Republicans to a clean sweep here in the elections Tuesday, receiving 250 votes in his bid for re-election to the assembly election. Sen. Malcolm S. Forbes led Gov. Robert B. Meyner in the race for governor, 239 to 183.

Results were Beadleston, 250, and Clifton T. Barkalow, 242, for assembly, against John C. Giordano, Jr., 143, and Richard V. Keuper, 148. In the Board of Freeholders election, Victor E. Grossinger and Earl L. Woolley received 245 votes each while Philip H. Fluhr received 146 and Richard E. Burke received 151 votes. The state question passed, 152 to 102.

The brother act won first place in the family group.

New Minerals Found in State

ATLANTIC CITY — Four new rare earth minerals have been discovered in New Jersey, state officials told members of the Geological Society of America here Tuesday.

Meredith E. Johnson, state geologist for the Department of Conservation and Economic development, said the minerals are kasolite, fergusonite, polycrase and huttonite.

Identification, he said, was made by Frank J. Malkewicz of his department, and E. C. T. Chao and Charles Milton of the U. S. Geological Survey.

Found By Prospectors

It was the search for uranium by prospectors that turned up these minerals, all radioactive, "in at least 30 localities of New Jersey," said Mr. Johnson.

Reported previously found only in Africa, France and Canada, yellow and gray-white kasolite was found in granite rock near West Milford, Passaic county. It is used as uranium ore when it is found in uranium deposits of commercial value.

Fergusonite and polycrase, having no present commercial use, were discovered in an active quarry at Plattenburg, Hunderton county. Fergusonite is a brownish-black mineral found in granite rock; polycrase looks much like it. Both previously have been found in Virginia, South Dakota, Texas and Africa.

The huttonite, found on Marble mountain, above Phillipsburg, Warren county, was reported as occurring in fairly abundant orange-red grains. It consists essentially of thorium, silica and oxygen. Found frequently in the sands of beaches in Australia, it has no present important commercial use because of its limited supply. It can be used as a possible source of thorium, however, it was said.

Mr. Johnson said each of these minerals were discovered in restricted supply "and may be described as of slight economic use at present." However, he said, since "science regularly finds new and important uses for rare elements" their cataloguing was necessary.

Matawan

Mrs. William Wasmuth entertained the Thursday Afternoon Bridge club in her home on Miriam dr. last week. Prize winners were Mrs. William R. Craig, Mrs. Ralph Herrick and Mrs. Paul A. Egan.

Mrs. Roy Van Pelt, Broad st., is a surgical patient in the Institute of Ophthalmology in New York city.

Mrs. Anthony Guadagno of Main st. has returned from a tour of Europe.

Mrs. Walter Newman and son Walter, formerly of Fountain ave., have moved to South Amboy.

J. Raymond Ketchel is enjoying a month's vacation from his position with the South Amboy plant of the Jersey Central Power and Light company.

The combined clubs and members of the Methodist church is holding a bazar today and tomorrow. A baked ham supper will be served tonight, with seatings at 5, 6 and 7 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Guab of Overhill rd., have returned from a 16-day trip to Miami, Fla.

Raymond Colot, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Colot, Sutphin ave., has pledged Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity at the University of Miami, Coral Gables, where he is majoring in management in the school of business administration.

Philip Loscoe, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Loscoe, Washington st., has pledged Sigma Beta Kappa fraternity at LaSalle college, Philadelphia. He is majoring in physics.

FEEL RIGHT AT HOME

Mrs. Robert Norman, who with Mr. Norman were former residents of Red Bank but who are now living in Miami, Fla., has written The Register as follows:

"Enclosed please find check for $5 for the renewal of our subscription to your publication.

"We enjoy reading your paper very much every issue and it certainly makes us feel at home."

Traffic Tickets Up Last Month

The number of summonses issued for traffic violations in the borough rose to 235 last month, compared to 187 in September. This was revealed in the report of Magistrate John V. Crowell to the borough council Monday night

Tickets for overtime parking on the street led the list of violations with 87. Next in line was improper parking on the street, with 53 offenses. Ten persons appeared in court for careless driving, and two were arraigned for reckless driving. There were no drunken driving summonses issued.

The borough realized $569 from traffic fines and $425 from criminal fines.

Judge Crowell's report listed 51 persons arraigned for non-traffic offenses, two less than during September. The number of persons tried as disorderly persons in violation of borough ordinances went down from 31 in September to 24 in October. Five minors were tried for possession of alcoholic beverages. One person was tried for possession of obscene pictures. Charges of passing worthless checks took the biggest rise, 12 in October compared to five in September.

Pleads Innocent To Local Theft

FREEHOLD—Allynn Prichard, 34 Bay ave., Highlands, pleaded not guilty last Thursday before County Judge John C. Giordano to a charge of stealing an outboard motor worth $400 from Sea Skiff and Yacht works, 18 South Bridge ave., Red Bank, Aug. 31.

An innocent plea was also entered by Charles E. Marshall, Shafto rd., New Shrewsbury, who had been indicted the day before on a charge of assault. He is accused of assaulting Miss Carrie Vincent, Shrewsbury ave., Red Bank, Aug. 14 after an argument.

Also indicted Thursday was Columbus Williams, Sr., Conover st., Long Branch, who pleded not guilty to assulting Marcelino L. Voldez, worker on the farm of Dominick Maida, Eatontown, at the farm Sept. 28.

Charges that he sold beer and liquor to four minors May 31 at his bar were denied by Anthony Pingitore, 34, operator of the Brighton bar and grill, 119-121 Brighton ave., Long Branch.

Troop Party At St. Agnes

ATLANTIC HIGHLANDS — Members of the St. Agnes intermediate Girl Scout troop 91 and the newly organized older intermediate Girl Scout troop held a Halloween costume party last week in the basement of St. Agnes Catholic church.

Mrs. Stanley Kozak, leader of troop 91, was assisted by Mrs. Thomas O'Connor, assistant leader. Mrs. Donald Allan, leader of the newly organized troop, was assisted by Mrs. John Cooper, assistant leader.

Several games were played and the girls dunked for apples. Girls of troop 91 awarded prizes for their costumes were Virginia Cooper, prettiest; Carol Young, most original, and Brenda Marchetti, funniest.

Other members of the troop present were Jacqueline Barba, Barbara Bertone, Regina Billero, Regina Curtis, Trudy Davis, Donna Dinkelberg, Geraldine Flynn, Dolores Halse, Holly Hill, Eileen Kelly, Joyce Ann Kozak, Patsy Kennedy, Kathleen Lang, Kathleen McNee, Dorothea Loux, Alice Murray, Corrinne O'Connor, Linda Ruch, Betsy Sheehan, Eleanor Simmons and Jo-Ann Supienski.

Mail Delivery Starts in Hazlet

1,600 Homes Will Get Mail; New Post Office Due in '58

HAZLET—Four postmen took to the roads here Monday as the Hazlet post office moved into "the big league" with home mail delivery to some 1,600 residences spread throughout 10 new housing developments and the surrounding areas.

The milestone marks the first such service since establishment of a postal system here in a coal yard office in 1885.

The four-man force is expected to be increased to seven "within the near future," Postmaster Joseph R. L. Jackson predicted.

Within two years, during which time some 800 new homes are scheduled for the area, the carrier force may be tripled.

At present, there are three clerks working in the post office, which recently was moved to its larger temporary headquarters at Hazlet fire house.

A new post office building is scheduled for construction in 1958.

Sought Deliveries

The home service is a result of efforts on the part of local officials in Raritan and Holmdel townships with the aid of Rep. James C. Auchincloss.

Mounted-box (roadside) service will be limited to Union ave., Beers st., and rt. 35. All other homes will get front-door delivery.

Housing developments included in the Hazlet delivery area are: Coralwood Manor, Raritan Ridge, Norgate Manor, Foxwood, Split Rock Estates, Chestnut Hill, Harmony Park, Old Manor Estates, Fleetwood Park, and Woodland Park.

New projects under construction which will be included are North Centerville Homes, Bromley Park, and Upper Raritan Homes.

The four mailmen are Herbert Walling of Keyport, Richard Van Wart of Split Rock Estates, Fred Doran of Chestnut Hills, and Joseph Sarageno of Raritan Ridge.

The men hit several snags the first two delivery days, being unfamiliar with the routes.

Ask For Boxes

Postmaster Jackson has issued a plea to residents to install mail boxes on their homes as well as the house street number.

Many home owners in developments have not put up numbers, and most older residents, who previously had R.F.D. addresses, have neglected to post their new street numbers, he noted, making for slower carrier service.

The post office here has had a colorful history, growing and expanding with the township.

In 1901, the office was moved from the Hoff coal yard to the railroad station shack where it was located until 1908, when it was moved to a general store operated by John S. Van Mater and Peter Weigand.

While picking up mail, local farmers could do their "store buying"—even a Ford car could be purchased through the general store—and bring in produce for shipment to New York city.

In 1919 the office was again moved, to a building on Holmdel rd. In 1941 Mr. Jackson took over as postmaster, purchasing the building which he moved across the street where it was used as a post office until three weeks ago.

During the last year, cars have piled up in front of the post office on Holmdel rd, while residents stood in long lines to ask for mail. The post office increased its staff but still was unable to handle general delivery to the great number of new homeowners.

"The situation is quieter now," said post office officials yesterday, "but we are still looking forward to completion of the new building."

Meanwhile, the former post office building, now vacant, will be renovated and made into a cleaning establishment. It will be known as The Post Cleaners and will be operated by Merrill Martin, 10 Old Manor rd., Old Manor Estates. Mr. Merrill also has a cleaning business in Jersey City.

Needlework Guild To Hear Lussier

Dr. Georges H. Lussier, medical director of the Brisbane child treatment center at Allaire—the children's division of Marlboro state hospital—will speak at the in-gathering meeting of the Red Bank branch of the Needlework Guild of America next Thursday afternoon in Westminster house on Harding rd.

Mrs. Theodore D. Parsons of Little Silver, president, said the guild is one of the 457 branches in 37 states that last year distributed more than a million new garments to needy. She said: "It is hoped that the 1957 appeal will result in contributions of many more garments, which give courage, comfort and hope to those in need of help. Each branch distributes its own garments locally."

Other officers are Mrs. Charles W. Lounsbury and Mrs. Harold H. Coddington, vice presidents; Mrs. Donald I. Oakley, secretary, and Mrs. William G. Sherwood, treasurer.

Directors are Mrs. John B. Allen, Mrs. Harrison Bance, Sr., Mrs. Leroy J. Bergen, Mrs. Herschel C. Birdsall, Mrs. Edwin S. Close, Sr., Mrs. Irving Diamond, Mrs. W. Irving Doremus, Mrs. Raymond Swift, Mrs. Millard J. Tetley, Mrs. Edward M. Truex, Mrs. Lillian Jordan, Mrs. George L. VanDeusen, Mrs. Herbert E. Williams, Sr., Mrs. Albert W. Worden, Mrs. Charles W. Stephens, Mrs. Albert V. Jones, Mrs. Harry Morford, Mrs. Godfrey Olsen, Mrs. George S. Schmidt, Mrs. Martin V. B. Smock, Mrs. Benjamin A. Crate, Mrs. Joseph C. Davison, Mrs. Walter H. Deiss, Mrs. Douglas Downs, Mrs. Charles R. English.

Mrs. Hubert M. Farrow, Sr., Mrs. Walter H. French, Mrs. Charles B. Gallagher, Sr., Mrs. John Givens, Mrs. Frank Hewitt, Mrs. Edwin W. Irwin and Misses Emma J. Lafetra, Florence R. Kridel and Carolyn Hance. Also the Women's Fellowship of the Red Bank Baptist church, and the sewing circle of the Women's Society for Christian Service of the Red Bank Methodist church.

Lions Salute The Register

ATLANTIC HIGHLANDS—The Lions club saluted The Red Bank Register at a dinner meeting Monday night in Doppelt's Hofbrauhaus. A certificate "in appreciation of the invaluable services and co-operation extended" by the newspaper was presented by the club's president, Edward G. Walder, to James J. Hogan, editor, and M. Harold Kelly, business manager.

Mr. Walder paid tribute to The Register as an organization which has been a "friend and a neighbor for as long as we can remember and which was respected by our fathers before us."

"Today's Red Bank Register," he added, "is a far cry from the original issue which hit the streets of this community, but only insofar as the size and scope of its present publication goes. It is still a great public servant, working for the advancement of its neighbors under the policies and purposes set forth by its founders, and tonight we join in saluting The Register for its many years of outstanding community service to all of us."

Mr. Hogan and Mr. Kelly gave statistical information regarding the paper and described important phases of its operation. An invitation was extended to the club to visit The Register plant.

A delegation from the Fair Haven Lions club headed by the president, Dr. Edward W. Stratton, attended the meeting.

PTA Bazar Next Wednesday

River Street Parent-Teacher association will hold its annual bazar Wednesday in the school's gym, between 2:30 and 4:30 p. m., and between 7 and 10 p. m.

This is the organization's only fund-raising activity for the school year. All money raised is used for special projects benefiting the school and its pupils.

The executive board members and officers are serving as the committee in charge, headed by Mrs. Edward Buonano, president. A highlight of the evening hours at the bazar will be an auction of gifts contributed by TV star Steve Allen, Gov. Robert B. Meyner and others.

With his gift, the state's chief executive told the bazar chairman, "this gift is suitable for either a child or an adult. Please accept my best wishes for success in this venture."

Also on sale will be home-cooked foods, toys, hobby items and refreshments. There also will be a "Parcel Post Booth" offering items sent by members' friends from many parts of this country, as well as abroad.

Man and Wife Partnership In Radio Station Praised

NEW SHREWSBURY — Mrs. Nelson M. Holden, Sr., Friday praised the man and wife partnership responsible for the opening of the borough's new radio station, WHTG.

Mrs. Holden spoke over the radio during a ceremony launching the services of the new station, built by Mr. and Mrs. Harold Gade on Hope rd.

"It often has been said," she remarked, "that behind every successful man stands a woman who has helped him along the way. I am sure the same holds true when turned around a little. I believe behind every successful woman stands a man, giving her courage, advice, love and help in everything she does. Mrs. Gade has all this in the person of her husband."

Applied For in April

It was Mrs. Gade who last April 4 applied to the mayor and council here for permission to establish the station that is now in operation. Already she had won a recommendation for a zoning variance from the board of adjustment. Permission was granted by a 3-1 split vote. Since then, a building was constructed and the equipment installed.

Attending the ceremonies were Mayor J. Lester Rigby, Dr. Nelson M. Holden, Sr., Milton G. Hughes, principal of Sycamore school; Assessor-Clerk Walter L. Canfield, Magistrate Marvin E. Schaefer, Mayor James J. Gravany, Keansburg; Otto Barth, publisher of the Keansburg News; Everett C. Coffin, president, and Otto G. Gatti, and Neil A. Tompkins, member, of the Asbury Park Chamber of Commerce, and Mrs. Emerson Platto.

Mrs. Nelson said she observed the development of Asbury Park's WJLK and feels "sure the same can be expected of WHTG, which can be heard from Jersey City to Toms River. In fact, it is the most powerful station on the Jersey Coast—500 watts."

The councilwoman reviewed the council vote which resulted in the variance for the station. She said that, first, Mrs. Gade obtained the zoning board's recommendation and, next had answered council's questions. After that, she said:

Vote Was Split

"Councilmen Herbert L. Willett, 3d, and Clarence Unterberg and I were convinced that WHTG would render a service to the borough and in no way cause the residents of the borough any problems. Mr. Philip Meyer voted no, Mr. Henry Gleim abstained from voting and Mrs. Frank Little was absent.

"So you can well imagine that we three who gave Mrs. Gade the 'green light' will watch this station with more than passing interest."

Mr. and Mrs. Gade and the staff of their station were wished "great success" by Mrs. Holden who said she was "glad I had a small part in making it all possible. Congratulations and best wishes."

Bake Sale For Choir

OCEANPORT — Mrs. Arthur Whichello was hostess to the Choir club of the Methodist church in her home on Vreeland pl.

The group planned a bake sale with orders accepted in advance and delivery made of the goods Nov. 23, 26, or 27. The proceeds of the project will be used to purchase additional choir robes.

Also arranged was the menu for the Lions club dinner to be served next Thursday in the church hall.

The Old Mill inn, Spring Lake Heights, will be the scene of the club's Christmas party Dec. 6.

Others attending were Mrs. George C. D. Hurley, Mrs. Arthur R. Mason, Mrs. Charles S. Guillaudeu, Mrs. Thomas N. Ross, Mrs. J. Norman Franks, Mrs. A. Louis Myers, all of Oceanport, and two guests, Mrs. Margaret Hughes of Port Monmouth and Miss Donna Acerra of Long Branch.

Nurse Students May Be Officers

PHILADELPHIA — The Office of Naval Officer Procurement announced here Friday that senior college nursing students now can join the Navy and, upon graduation, receive commissions as ensigns in the Nurse corps.

Commander W. H. Rogers, Jr., said the Navy plans each year to sign up a number of nursing students enrolled in fully approved basic collegiate schools of nursing, when they begin their senior year.

Selectees, he said, are placed in pay grade E-3, receiving pay of that grade plus tuition, fees, books, room and board through their senior year. When they receive their baccalaureate degree in nursing, they are commissioned as ensigns in the Naval Reserve Nurse corps, subject to two-years active duty. Applicants must be between the ages of 20 and 33½ upon graduation.

Planning to Bring Santa Claus to Red Bank

Santa Claus will arrive in Red Bank Dec. 14 and this group will be instrumental in bringing him here. They are members of the Santa Claus committee of the Red Bank Kiwanis club, shown making plans for the annual event. They are, front row, left to right, Richard Collier, Gerard Barba and Joseph Holiday, and rear, same order, Edward Izzo, Max Pokus and Fred Seidenzahl.

WSCS Meets To Quilt, Dine

OCEANPORT — The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist church last week met to quilt.

A covered dish luncheon was served at noon by Mrs. Charles R. Walling, Sr., and Mrs. Edward M. Berry, Sr., whose birthday was celebrated. Mrs. Berry was presented a gift from the society and a large birthday cake centered the table.

The group decided to hold its Christmas outing and luncheon Monday, Dec. 2, at the Kensington lounge in Long Branch. Gifts will be exchanged.

Others attending were Mrs. George C. D. Hurley, Mrs. Charles S. Guillaudeu, Mrs. William McCormack, Mrs. Stella Gibson, Mrs. A. Louis Myers, Mrs. Charles Van Brackle and Mrs. J. Norman Franks.

Membership Tea For Riverview Aides

MIDDLETOWN — The township auxiliary of Riverview hospital will hold a membership tea at Leeds hall, King's hwy., Monday afternoon, Nov. 18. Mrs. Geroge T. Barnard and Mrs. Walter DeVoe were appointed chairmen of the event at the unit's recent meeting.

Mrs. George Wagner, president, introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. Fred Hurley of Oceanport, president of the executive board of the combined auxiliaries of Riverview.

Spotting Sports

By Hy Cunningham

ICEBOATS IN MAY—Sounds sort of silly mentioning iceboats at this time of the year, and more so when mentioning May. However, there was plenty of chatter about racing iceboats on the Navesink and Shrewsbury rivers and because of this followers of this ice sport decided to give ice racing here a shot in the arm.

Just about six years ago, Monmouth Boat club members gave sailing a shot in the arm when they banded together and decided to build Penguin class sailboats. It was a do-it-yourself project and the boys and girls gathered up material and found themselves involved in the boat building business.

Several of these iceboat builders picked up the idea from the Penguin builders and decided if the water sailors could build a fleet, they could build an ice fleet. Of course, building iceboats is a much more difficult job than building Penguins. Not being talented with tools, we watched both groups work and certainly the iceboats appeared to be tougher.

Charles Soden—Jesse Howland

This group of do-it-yourself builders were sitting around the North Shrewsbury Iceboat and Yacht club one evening and decided to get some sort of a class in which numerous sailors could participate. On the river, and when we have ice, racing will be the A's, E's, C's and D's—which are craft from the largest right down. The A class takes in the big boats which take expert handling and know-how from putting up the sails to racing. Because of this, the building clan of sailors wanted to get one class. And with this idea in mind, this working project got under way.

The first task was to obtain working space and this was done when Miller Plating co., rt. 35, offered the lower floor of its place of business. Here the main construction job is under way.

Masts are being worked on at the old Stalder Bowling alleys at the south end of Cooper's bridge. Of course, this is ideal for something as big as a mast and the alleys offer room needed to stretch out this part of the boat and give the workers plenty of room.

Work has been going on since early May when these builders were working one day a week. With production getting a bit behind, work has been stepped up and they are now working two nights a week, Monday and Wednesday.

Being in the amateur class, these builders figure and figure and figure. At the start they figured on about 50 pounds of glue and already they find themselves using up 150 pounds. Just how much other material figures were bounced around we do not know, but they did mention the glue.

It's difficult for a wood butcher like the writer to explain just what is going on. However, they did tell us what the glue was for, so that part was easy. The runner planks need this glue because three pieces of wood are glued together in a curved form. From what we gathered, this is a rough job.

One of the first moves to get this project started was to get expert assistance. This was done when the builders contacted Osborn & Co. of Catherine st. here in Red Bank. Being a millwork outfit, officials of Osborn's went to Perth Amboy, picked out the best lumber and milled it to the proper size. This first step was a big one as the proper lumber is a big factor for speedy ice craft.

Not being a huge group of builders, with only 15 participating, they broke up into units so each one had a particular job to do. Ribs were cut, frames were made, and other pieces were made ready. Then they started putting the boats together.

Moving into the seventh month they're advanced to the point where decks are ready to be hammered into place. At present this part of the production line is being curtailed because hardware has been delayed along the line in arriving in Middletown. Due to the fact that such items as steering wheels, cables and so on, have to be installed first, the decking job is being held up.

An interesting point regarding the decking is the fact that this wood is imported from Germany. This special 3/16 mahogany, with good bending characteristics, took about six weeks to arrive at the iceboat plant. Steel runners and other stock material needed in this category was ordered through Merritt's Machine shop, Mechanic st. Sails of special material, a mixture of dacron and orlon, will come in from Wisconsin.

What about when these boats are completed? They tell us they'll be what they call a Yankee class (E) craft. The hull is 23 feet and the mast is only one foot shorter. The cockpit is approximately three feet wide and holds two persons. When the sail is hoisted there is 75 square feet of material flying.

One of the reasons these iceboat followers selected this type of boat was that it is more of a family one. With it, the skipper has the opportunity of taking children out for a sail. He also has the opportunity to teach his children how to sail. With the large A boats on the river at ice time, the youngsters do not get a chance to sail these huge boats. They'd probably be in Rumson before they could control the sail.

According to the builders, this will be the largest one design class in the country to be operated by one group. The builders have an agreement that if one decides to sell his craft, it be sold only to someone on the Navesink or Shrewsbury river. This is to keep the fleet of 12 in one unit. Another agreement is that the owners not purchase a new sail until after five years of use. Of course, if it is damaged it is another story. The sail costs approximately $135.

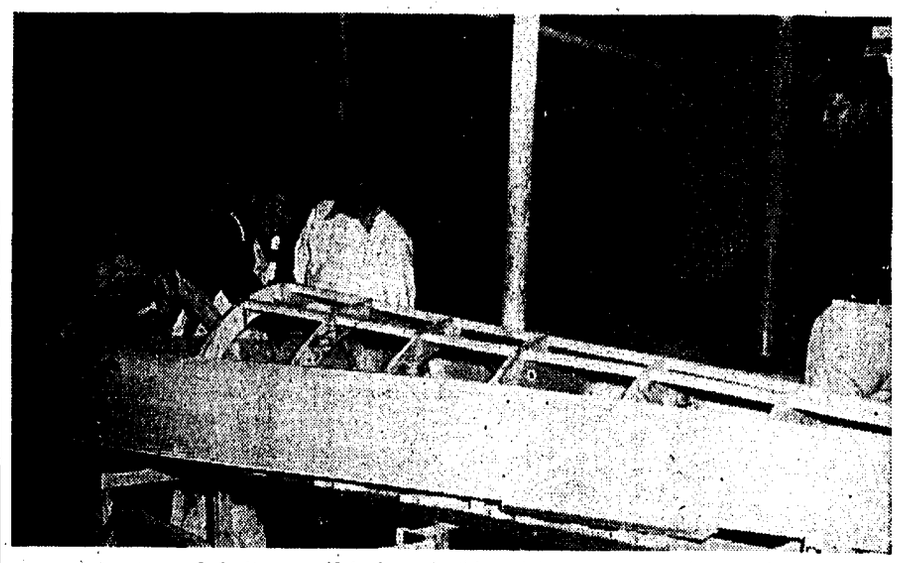
How will these boats be allotted? When completed, the boats will be numbered from one to 12 and then a drawing will be held. Whatever number is drawn, that is the one for the skipper. This method keeps the builders on the ball. If a couple does a poor job, it might wind up with that particular boat. And with a new fleet, the builders do not want to wind up with a lemon. This drawing will be held when the boats are ready to be painted. After the drawing, each skipper will paint his craft to his liking. The International Skeeter association fleet has already given numbers for racing to those skippers.

Two famous iceboaters in this area are part of this group. They are Dr. C. Douglas Hoyt and Dr. Ensley M. "Mickey" White, Jr. Both are faithful when it comes to working. Don Hubbard, Jesse Howland and Johnny Mulvihill are well known iceboaters from this area. Other workers are Don Asay, Allen Conklin, Charles Soden, Bill Lang, Jim Davis, Bill Hachler, Jack Heyer, Ira Miller, Ray Risso and Art Hotaling.

These builders are shooting for a completion deadline of December. Of course the weather has a lot to do with it. If it stays warm, they can slow down production, but if a freeze sneaks in, production will have to be stepped up again.

With this production line in full swing, look for a dozen more iceboats on the river come January and February. These builders are doing a fine job with their project and congratulations are in order. Many hours of labor are going into this job and you'll see the results comes the ice.

Iceboat Builders in Action



A group of do-it-yourself iceboat builders labor away at their task of building boats in the basement of the Miller Plating co., rt. 35, Middletown township. About 15 workers are building a fleet of 12 boats and hope to have them ready for the coming winter's racing. Left to right, are Don Asay, Charles Soden and Don Hubbard working on a cockpit of one of the boats.

30-Game Slate For Soldiers

FORT MONMOUTH — A 30-game basketball slate was announced Monday by Post Special Services for the Fort Monmouth Signaleers 1957-58 campaign.

The season's opener is at Valley Forge, Pa., Nov. 19, and one week later the Signalmen make their home debut in the field house. Fourteen home tilts are on Monmouth's schedule, all with 8 p. m. starting times.

Playing mainly against service opposition, the Signaleers will face 11 Army, Navy, Air Force, Marine or Coast Guard teams in 21 of their contests. Fort Myer, Va., is the only newcomer on the Monmouth schedule.

Monmouth's home appearances list eight Tuesday dates and four others on Thursdays. The last two field house games in late February will have the Quantico Marines here on a Wednesday night, and Army Chemical Center two nights later.

The Signalmen open at home against Mitchell Air Force, the same as last year when Monmouth eked out an 89-86 victory.

George "Mule" Haas will coach the Signaleers in his seventh straight season.

The schedule:

Last Quarter Scores Nips Caseys, 14-6

KEYPORT — Red Bank Catholic's yearlings dropped a 14-6 decision to Keyport's freshman squad here Monday.

Bob Feignwinter scored two touchdowns in the last three and a half minutes of play to spark the triumph for the Red Raiders.

The Caseys took a 6-0 lead in the third chapter when Ralph Corley scored on a one-yard dash around end.

Korean Colonel at Monmouth Is Ex-Boxing Champion

FORT MONMOUTH — Col. Sang Ung Shim is a Korean army officer studying in the Signal officer advanced course at the U. S. army Signal school here.

A man with a penchant for athletics, Col. Shim has proven his ability in the fields of boxing, swimming and weightlifting. But it is boxing that he likes to talk about.

Understandably so, for at the age of 22, he won the Korean welterweight championship, and for over a decade has been coach for the Korean boxing team.

After graduating in 1941 from a government wireless college in Seoul, Col. Shim went to work as an engineer with the Seoul broadcasting company, and, in 1947, he joined the Korean army.

Col. Shim has been married 16 years. He and his wife, Hwang Ke Hi—it means beautiful women—have three children. The oldest, 13, is a boy, as is the youngest a three-year-old. In between, an 11-year-old girl rounds out the family.

When Col. Shim came to America he found it hard to believe that American women worked. But now he knows this initial impression is not completely true.

"Your women are very pretty, very charming, and good to their husbands," he says.

Cites Differences

Commenting on the difference between women in Korea and America, Col. Shim thinks it easier to meet women here. "I only saw my wife once before we were married," he explains.

When asked how he knew he loved her, he replied deftly, "After 16 years, you know!"

Offered a cigarette, Col. Shim pointed out another difference in customs between his country and America.

"If I were in Korea, I could not smoke or drink with my father." He found difficulty in realizing that although Americans can and do smoke "in front of their fathers," this doesn't necessarily imply discourtesy. He appeared relieved.

On the subject of food, Col. Shim also declared his feelings. "Food in the mess hall is not hot enough," he stated. "I am Korean and I like Korean food." No, Col. Shim didn't mean to imply the food he was served was cold, but that when he said he liked hot food, he meant hot food with red peppers and other spices added.

Although he likes "hot food," Col. Shim has little appreciation for "hot music." He is strictly thumbs down on rock and roll. He calls this kind of music, "crowd music," and explains you have to be in a crowd and keep the tempo to appreciate it.

Instead, he likes soft music. "In Korea," he pointed out, "almost all the music has a waltz tempo. It is soft and simple, and easy to listen to."

Col. Sang Ung Shim

Switching to the American language as a subject, Col. Shim said although he had studied English for many years in school, he still occasionally has difficulty with pronunciation.

To help improve himself, he frequently uses a tape recorder, saying the words, and then playing back to hear if he has said them right.

But though he has a fine command of the American words, Col. Shim expressed his uncertainty about saying words with letters which don't get pronounced, like "p" in psychological.

"In Korean, we pronounce all the letters," he says, "and if I do this with some American words, it just doesn't sound right."

Cops 2 Races

Holly Clifton, the darling of the Wood-Pussy fleet of Monmouth Boat club, copped both races Sunday in the weekly sailing series of that class.

Following Miss Clifton over the line in the first race were Dick Davis, second; Brub Hance, third; Don Colyer, fourth, and Rickey Dickinson, fifth.

In the second race, Ken Altreuter was second, Davis, third; Colyer, fourth, and Barbara Bull, fifth.

Bruce Anderson, top Penguin skipper of the fleet, sailed home in first place in two races in this class. Jack Kofoed was second in the first race, Roger Brown, third; Arnold Fink, fourth, and Bev Schroeder, fifth.

Brown was second in the second race, Kofoed, third; Fink, fourth, and Don Cooper, fifth.

Jayvees in Action

Rumson-Fair Haven Regional high school's junior varsity defeated Red Bank Catholic, 19-0, at Rumson Monday. A Bulldog pass receiver and a Casey gridder, right, are waiting for the ball to come down after regional attempted a pass. The ball was knocked down as Rumson lost a down.

Lions Score 5th Straight Grid Win Defeating Neptune

Central Regional Hands Rumson First Loop Loss

RUMSON—Rumson-Fair Haven Regional high school's win streak hit a snag here Saturday when undefeated Central Regional muzzled the Bulldogs, 27-7, in a mud struggle on Borden Memorial field.

The loss was Rumson's first in Shore Conference B division competition and it was only the Bulldogs' second setback of the season, losing to Red Bank before Saturday's tussle.

Coach Joe Rosati's grid machine certainly didn't look like the same club that posted a 4-1 record in the first five outings.

While the Bulldogs were looking bad, Central Regional gridders were still playing like state champions of last year. Central players were doing everything right. They tackled low and hard, the backs ran fast and well and the line charged like powerful bulls.

Central struck as fast as lightning in the first half as the Golden Eagles racked up all of their 27 points in the first two quarters. In the second half, Rumson held the Eagles scoreless, but most of Central's reserves were in and out of the second half play.

Rumson, in their Purple and White uniforms, were as muddy as the field after the first few minutes of play, and this didn't help to stop the offensive of the visitors.

The Bulldogs' pass defense was outsmarted by Dick Pine, who on two occasions got loose and was all by himself when he caught a couple of passes that were damaging to Rumson.

Coach Rosati's men had their backs to the wall right from the start. J. C. Williams was kicking on third down when a Central player broke through the line and took the ball right off Williams' punting foot. However, a penalty and a plunge after the kick gave Rumson a first down on its own 35. In three downs Rumson gained little yardage. Central finally took over on a bad pass from Rumson's center just about in midfield.

Ray Roe passed to Pine for 21 yards. Then Regional's fast Eddie Benson took over. On the next play, Benson got loose on his first of many long runs and this one was good for a touchdown.

The second touchdown was scored fast. Central kicked off to the Bulldogs after the first score. Rumson just couldn't crack Central's line and was forced to punt from their 45. Benson went on the loose again and got all the way to the one before he was grounded. Two plays later he crossed the goal line.

Early in the second quarter, Central recovered a Rumson fumble on the 47. Keeping up with their fast-scoring methods, the Eagles scored in four plays. A 21-yard pass play, Charles Suhosky to Pine, was the big move in the drive. Larry Way scored his first of two touchdowns when he scooted around end for eight yards and the score. Just before the half ended, Way got away for a 78-yard run to score the final touchdown.

Pine not only looked good hauling down long aerials, but he was razor sharp with his booting. Pine, kicking in the mud, scored three of the four extra points.

Rumson's touchdown came late in the period when Billy Lewis went wide to his left side, shook off a couple of Eagle tacklers and hiked 61 yards for the lone TD.

The Rosatimen failed to get an offensive moving and perhaps it was because they just weren't the "mudder" type gridders. The Bulldogs made a net gain of only 41½ yards from scrimmage while Central Regional rolled up a net 254.

The Rumson squad practiced all week with a defense setup to stop the reverses and handoffs of Central's backfield, but the mud seemed to interfere. The Golden Eagles got away with deception most of the first half, but Bulldogs wised up in the second half.

The Hunter's Problem: Red or Yellow Safer?

With the hunting season opening Saturday, the controversy over safe colors for hunters' clothing comes up again—and the yellows are gaining over the reds.

Tests made by the California Optometric association and the National Rifle association reportedly leave little doubt that yellow is most visible to both normal and color-blind hunters. Red ranked fifth among six common colors used in tests.

"Color-blindness is almost twice as common among hunters causing accidents as among a cross-section of male Americans," Dr. Harvey Weinstein, Freehold, president of the Monmouth-Ocean county Optometric society, said in discussing the importance of vision in hunting safety.

He based his figures on a Minnesota study of causes of 132 hunting accidents.

"Most color-blind hunters are unaware of their shortcomings," he said.

The advantage of yellow is that it contrasts with the surroundings, according to the vision specialists. Red blends with the colors of nature, and looks gray to both color-blind and normal hunters.

The California findings are being tested throughout the nation under different conditions of light and foliage.

Three out of four hunters in major accidents in Minnesota had far below normal vision, and almost all could have been brought up to par by proper care, Dr. Weinstein said.

Mitchell Tags Monmouth, 19-6

GARDEN CITY — Mitchel Air Force, who had lost all six of its previous tilts, upset Fort Monmouth on the gridiron Friday night, 19-6, at the winners' field. The game, played on a rain soaked field, was the Signaleers' fifth loss of the season in six starts.

The Mitchel Volunteers tallied twice in the second quarter for a 13-0 lead and held a 13-6 margin at halftime. The three Air Force touchdowns against the Signalmen equalled their scoring production during the losing streak.

Monmouth was stymied last night in its passing attack, with five aerials intercepted by Mitchel. One led to a touchdown, while two other errant tosses ended Siganleer scoring threats. The Signalmen completed four out of 16 passes.

Mitchel scored its first touchdown right at the start of the second period, with Ron Szabo, the quarterback, plunging over from the one. A quick kick by Monmouth was blocked and recovered by the Volunteers on the 22-yard line, to set up the score. Ron Cox' placement kick was good.

The winners scored again a few minutes later. This time Charlie Jones intercepted a Monmouth pass on the Signaleer 40. Four plays later, Bob Glass charged through the Monmouth line and sped past the secondary for 31 yards and a touchdown.

The Monmouth score came with slightly more than two minutes to go before the half on a brilliant 63-yard gallop by quarterback Bob Morgan. The Signaleer back outraced several tacklers as he stayed near the left sideline all the way.

This put Monmouth back in contention but two interceptions in the second half inside the opponents' 30 yard line, dimmed the Signaleers hopes.

The other Mitchel score came in the final two minutes. Bob Solch, a reserve halfback, charged through the left side and sprinted 24 yards to score.

Indians Upset Gulls, 14-7

POINT PLEASANT — Toms River high school finally snapped its 14-game winless streak Monday when the Indians upset Point Pleasant, 14-7, in a Shore Conference tilt here.

Perry and Albie Smith scored the touchdowns for Coach John Dalton's squad. Albie plunged over from the one-yard line in the third quarter. Perry racked his up in the fourth quarter when he plunged over from the two-yard stripe.

Mickey Williams intercepted one of Mike Bloom's aerials on his 48 and ran the pigskin down the sidelines for the Point Pleasant score. With this six pointer, the Gulls led, 7-0, until the Indians knotted the score in the third.

A pass interception by Pat Young set up the clincher for the Indians.

NEPTUNE—Middletown township high won its fifth straight game of the season Saturday when the Lions walked over Neptune, 33-6, in a class A Shore Conference encounter on the Fliers' field.

Neptune proved to be a stubborn outfit in the first half and when they left the field at intermission the Flyers only trailed by a single point, 7-6.

The best Neptune could do this year on the gridiron was a 12-12 tie with Manasquan. In the second half, Middletown gridders proved they were good mudders as they came up with two 13-point quarters.

Bad Pass Helps

A bad pass from center on the fourth down put the Lions in possession of the ball on the Fliers' 44-yard line halfway through the first period. The Lions scored in five plays. Tom Williams took Gene Bibaud's 20-yard pass for the score and Bill Leary kicked the extra point.

Neptune tied the score when Nate Ramsey scored in the second quarter on the longest run of the game, a 41-yard sprint around right end. Ramsey tried to go around right end for the extra point but was stopped by Ace Provini.

Early in the third quarter Coach Arnie Truex's machine started to turn on the power. The Lions covered 28 yards in three plays, with Bob Breunig scoring from the five-yard line. Leary failed with his extra point attempt.

The second touchdown in the third period came after Dan Espositio blocked Ramsey's punt on the Neptune 30. Four plays later, Middletown scored. Bibaud passed 20 yards to Williams at the end zone, and this time Larry Smith booted for the extra point, which was good.

Score From 5 Yard Line

Another bad pass from center on fourth down gave the Truexmen the ball on the Neptune five-yard line just as the period ended. It took two plays from this point at the start of the fourth when Breunig scored on a two-yard plunge. Smith made the conversion.

Lion second stringers took over to mark up the final score on a 65-yard drive. Ronnie Truex posted the six points when he scored from two yards out. Smith missed the conversion.

Despite Saturday's downpour, several hundred fans stuck until the end to watch the Lions keep their record clean.

Middletown will meet Manasquan at Leonardo Saturday and then the Lions have two open dates before the Asbury Park game Thanksgiving day.

Due to the Asian flu the Long Branch game was postponed, and a problem has developed in rescheduling this game. Because of other commitments, Middletown is seeking to play the game on a Friday afternoon, but Long Branch officials are not in favor of the plan.

Rumson Jayvees Trim Casey JV Squad, 19-0

RUMSON — Rumson high school's junior varsity snowed under Red Bank Catholic's jayvees, 19-0, here Monday.

Lou DeGeorge sparked the victors with two touchdowns while Pete Stine added the other score. DeGeorge scored one six-pointer on a 60-yard run and went off tackle for 25 yards for his second score. Stine's touchdown came on a quarterback sneak.

1st Army Slates 15 Tournaments

FORT MONMOUTH — Fifteen tournaments will be conducted on the 1958 First Army Sports program, it was announced last week by athletic officials in Special Services headquarters at Governors Island.

Fort Monmouth was allocated three First Army tournaments—boxing, swimming and golf. Six tourneys will be held at the U. S. Military academy, West Point, while Fort Dix and Fort Devens, Mass. will share the balance of the sports events.

Along with the naming of the 1958 tournament sites, it also was announced that there would be no All Army tournaments next year. However, inter-service meets in boxing, gold and tennis will be held.

The boxing tournament was awarded Fort Monmouth from March 2 through March 6. The other two First Army meets with Monmouth as host are swimming, Aug. 13-15, and golf, Aug. 24-28.

Tournaments in track, table tennis, badminton, handball, tennis and horseshoes, all will be staged at West Point. Fort Dix will host basketball, volleyball and softball. The bowing, baseball and touch football playoffs will be at Fort Devens.

Bingo Forms

Applications for bingo and raffle licenses may be obtained at the job printing department of The Register. We have all necessary forms on hand. Call SH 1-0010.—Advertisement.

Licenses

Fishing, hunting, clamming and bow-and-arrow licenses also trap and dredge licenses. Kislig's bread and cakes are the Red Bank.—Advertisement.

Splits and Misses

By PAUL A. ALBRECHT

The Federal Agencies Bowling league is the brainchild of its secretary, Luke Forrest. Now in its second year, this loop is well on the way to being one of the county's best. Luke organized the league to gain recognition for the many fine keglers who work for the federal government here in Monmouth county. Many of these bowlers roll in the numerous closed leagues that operate out of the Hexagon, Fort Monmouth, Coles Area, Evans and Watson area. These leagues are, for the most part, handicap loops and have many beginners. Luke's idea was to join the experienced men into a fast-moving league of which the individual members could well be proud. With all but few averaging 155 or better, we say that he has succeeded. An innovation this season, and one that Luke worked on all summer long, is the acquisition of sponsors. As it is impossible to have the federal government enter into such sponsorship, Luke approached many businessmen throughout the summer and succeeded in obtaining the eight needed. It is men such as Luke Forrest who have been and still are the force behind the growth in bowling in this county. Luke is a vice president of the Monmouth County Bowling association and should become one of its best presidents.

The team race in this Federal Agencies league is a close one. With one-fifth of the schedule in the record books the stage has been reached where the teams will begin to make their moves. The Coast Yacht Works has sailed off to an early two-length lead over Burlew's restaurant, the Yacht Works showing slightly better than the .667 batting average needed to win—714 to be exact, with 15 and 6. Burlew's is just under the magic number with 13 and 8. Little Silver Lumber and Rogel's Club Metro just top the .500 mark with 11 and 10, a mere game better than Campbell Concrete's 10 and 11. Yankow's and Red Bank Recreation are tied for sixth place with 9 and 12. The biggest gap exists between this sixth place tie and the cellar occupant, Nat's Jewelers. There is only a three-game gap here and at that Nat's is but nine games from the top. Nine games is quite a lot, but not too great a handicap that it can not be overcome by good kegling.

All teams have rolled at least one 900 game and all have accomplished 2,600 sets. The two leaders, Coast Yacht Works and Burlew's Restaurant, have topped the 2,700 mark with 2,706 and 2,710, respectively. Individually, the boys have been enjoying themselves. There are but a few still looking for their first 200 game and five are the proud possessors of 180 or better averages. The best of these is Sea Bright's pride, Kenny White. Kenny is rolling at a 198 clip for 21 games. He has the high game and series with 242 and 639, and would be much happier if he could boast that he is the reason for his team being in first place. However, such is not the case. Kenny rolls for the third place Little Silver Lumber Co. We believe this 198 average is the highest in the county at present. If not, it is still a fine average to hold and we wish Kenny luck in staying with it.

Joe Megill, Frank Buono, Sam Posten and Gordon Tripp are the other 180 men with 183, 182, 181 and 180, respectively. Of these men, only Sam Posten is a member of the leading Coast Yacht Works. This proves that the success of any team depends on team work and not the efforts of one man. Walter Deiss has long been a force in the promotion of bowling in the county—a vice president of the Shore Firemen's league for many years—so it is not surprising to learn that he is the president of this fast growing league. Les Wilcox is the vice president and Luke Forrest the secretary-treasurer. You can expect to learn of some fine kegling in this league.

Sometimes a bowler can do no wrong and there are other times when he does everything wrong. Two boys who did right are Benny DeAngelis of Wanamassa 1 and Pat Ambrosia of Red Bank 1. Both these teams are in the A division of the Shore Firemen's league. Two Fridays back, Benny was rolling at the Shore lanes and really poured it on to the tune of 265. Benny was rightly proud of this game and felt that he had given the rest of the A keglers something to shoot at. Benny's joy was short lived. Last Friday night, Pat accompanied his team to West Long Branch and helped win two games. He really helped in that last game with a 266. The oddity here is that both games were rolled against Phil Dalys. Benny had but one week to enjoy being king of the hill. Pat is now the one who must be toppled if some one else wants that high game trophy. Congratulations to both boys.

We heard of a good question the other day. Has there ever been a bowler in the Shore Firemen's league who averaged 200 for a season? This question was asked of secretary Lew Hendricks and he went to the record books for the answer. The answer is that four times a bowler averaged 200 in the fire loop. These four times came in 1938, 1940, 1941 and 1942, and all by one bowler—Joe Tomaino. Yes, Joe averaged 200, 197, 200, 203 and 204 for five straight years, which gives him a five-year average just shy of 201. During this span, Joe had a couple of nice series, a 702 and a 732. After this hot stretch, the league suspended operations for the duration of World War II and when action was resumed Joe had cooled off. Then to top it off a nasty accident occurred to Joe's bowling hand and his bowling suffered a little more. Even so, his low average during this time is 177. He came back in 1955 with a 189 and last season had a 183. We would hazard a guess that Joe has the best lifetime average of any kegler in the firemen's league. Back there in the 40's, Joe had the well earned reputation of being the best kegler in these parts and we feel that had there been television at that time we all would have seen him in action. Here's hoping you find yourself again, Joe.

We were discussing bowling with Walt Boskey, captain of the Red Bank Independent "Unconscious 6" and he informed us that the boys had expressed the desire to enter a famous New York tournament so he had the application all made out and was going to get the secretary's signature last Friday night. Then he saw his team in action—and tore up the application. As Boskey put it to us, "Why should we set bowling back 50 years?" And then he gave us permission to quote him. (Editor's note. We believe that the "Unconscious 6" will be in that tournament).

After five weeks of play the D and J divisions of the Firemen's league are running the closest races. Even so, two teams are better than two-for-three. In D, Wanamassa 2 has dropped only four of 15 and Monmouth Beach 1 has lost 4½. Belford 2 and Wayside 1 are just at that .667 average with 10 and five. There is but a slim three games separating the first 10 teams. In the J division, a runaway would not be surprising, yet such is not the case. Here, too, there is but three games between the top 10 teams. However, the entire race is even closer in this division. There is no more than one game between any two successive teams. There are only four games between the top team—Lakewood's Engine 2 and the 11th team, and only six between the first 14. That Lakewood team has won 11 while Rumson's Oceanic 2, Oakhurst 2 and Morganville have won 10.

At that the closest race is being waged in the H division. Here we have a five-way tie for first place. Red Bank's Hook & Ladder 2, Marlboro 3, Neptune's Unexcelled 6, Belford 3 and Hazlet 3 all have 10 and five records. Here, too, there is that three-game spread over the first 10 teams. Perhaps the widest spacing is found in the A and I divisions. Eatontown 1 and Red Bank 1 have only lost two games, but Eatontown has won 13 to Red Bank's 10. Freehold 1 and Unexcelled 2 have 11 and four records and Highlands 1 shows 10 and five. From here on, the division starts spreading out. In I, Wayside also leads with a 13-2 record, and then we drop back three full lengths to find a second place tie between Wayside 3 and Glendola 2. From here on the race is really close. There are six teams tied for 10th place and they are but four games behind second place.

B division has two teams that seem to be heading for fine records. Long Branch's Oceanic 1 shows only two games in the lost column and 13 on the credit side. This is a one-game better record than Neptune Hose 1. The Manasquan Exempts and Port Monmouth 2 are next in line with 10 and five. C division isn't too tight, with Monmouth Beach 3 and Brevent Park 1 sporting 12 and three records, but the rest of the teams are bunched closely behind. Lakewood's Rescue 2 is another team with a 12 and three record and this is good enough to head the E division. Three teams then take over the second slot, Atlantic Highlands, Oceanport 3 and Westside Hose—all with 10 and five.

F division has one game between the top five teams. Oakhurst 5 and Bradley 3 Exempts are neck and neck for first place with 11 and four, while Shark River Hills 1, Elberon 4 and West Long Branch 4 all show 10 and five. Avon 3 heads the G division with 12 and three (seems to be a popular count), while Rumson 1 and the Goodwill Fire company are knotted in second place with 10 and five. All races are not wide open. The bottom teams are not out of it by a long shot, and past experience has shown that none of these teams will give up. Do not be surprised if next spring shows a complete new set of leaders. Whoever they are, those heading the list next spring will be the happy ones.

The top and bottom divisions of this Shore Firemen's league are the tough ones to figure. In A there should never be more than eight teams. This is actually the wide open average division. The best five eligible keglers are the ones that fit in this division and the best teams always average over 900. To begin with there is only a limited number of bowlers in the county who average better than 180. This number is further reduced, from an eligibility standpoint, for the firemen's league. It is almost impossible to find eight teams that are capable of averaging 900, much less 16 teams. We have always wondered why there are 16 teams in this A division. The J division is another problem altogether. Here we have numerous bowlers without averages. These men have never rolled in organized leagues, many have never rolled at all. It cannot even be guessed what these men will average under fire. These new bowlers are given an arbitrary 125 average to start and may wind up with a much worse or much better count. History has proven, however, that the majority of these new bowlers will end up somewhere in the neighborhood of 125.

SURF, FIELD AND STREAM

Timely Notes On The Great Outdoors

By Nelson Benedict

Quite a week this has been for wildfowlers. Other things being equal, we'd be inclined to say that Saturday's inaugural was probably the best opening day of any duck season in the past decade. If upland shooters have it even half as good when they take to the field day after tomorrow, they'll have it made.

John Gardella of Rumson told us he saw hunters coming off the Shrewsbury at 10 a. m. Saturday with broadbill limits. Widgeon, blacks and mallards also contributed to the success of Shrewsbury regulars. Although comparatively few birds were trading on the Navesink, mallards and blacks flitted across the decoys of gunners rigged out on the Swimming river.

Among local sportsmen who were on the Swimming river was Francis Hay of Rumson. He and his party collected a mixed bag of blacks and widgeon. Occasional wood duck also were reported from the same area.

It was Barnegat bay and fantastically good shooting for Mr. and Mrs. Irving Feist of Shrewsbury. Together with Adam Gimbel of Middletown and Allison Stern, Scobeyville, they shot at Thoroughfare Island near Cedar Run. The Feists bagged limits of blacks and mallards when pond shooting, while Stern and Gimbel were in the thick of tremendous broadbill flights on the bay proper.

Your agent opened the season in one of the stake blinds erected in Raritan bay by Leonard Nelson of Belford. Competition was intense from the shoreline, where there seemed to be a blind every 50 feet or so. Nevertheless, our party of three managed to scratch down seven broadbills. Hunters in a nearby blind in the bay had a flock of brant nearly take their hats off. They knocked down one.

Inclement winds, incidentally, have held down the shooting at Nelson's rigs since the first day. You need Nor'west weather to kill fowl in the bay. In which connection we might observe that open water hunters should depend on an outboard motor rather than oars. The bay can get mighty mean at this time of the year. Don't invite trouble by trying to row against adverse currents and winds.

Came Monday morning and an invitation to join Horace K. Horner and Maurice Horner of Rumson at Thoroughfare Island. We were delighted to oblige and thusly came by one of those memorable shoots that always linger in your memory.

The first rays of the false dawn were peeping over Long Beach Island when Ev Cranmer set out the stool ducks. Purely as a matter of information, Cranmer uses 80 blocks for open water gunning. Broadies, blacks and brant are in the majority with a few cans and redheads for window dressing.

Horace, who is invariably inclined to take the dim view, bemoaned the lack of wind and the warm weather. "This is not our day," he announced. We had to agree. Conditions were anything except favorable for wildfowling, particularly on Barnegat.

Then the ducks started to make us eat our words. Minutes after Ev had hidden the sneak box, broadbills invaded the stool. Occasional canvasbacks were mixed in with the broadies. In a half-hour, we were through, with the ducks, that was. A dozen broadies and "cans" were in the bag.

While Horner and deponent were eating their words the brant started to fly. Three out of flock of seven stayed. "That's enough for today," declared our host. We were out of the blind in good time for a second breakfast.

Weather and wind conditions were identical the following morning, But the ducks were not trading. Why? Please, you tell us! We managed to down three broadies and a mess of brant, but you wouldn't have thought it was the same bay. There was that much difference in the shooting in 24 hours.

Tuesday did provide, however, a spectacle that made us forget the dry duck shooting. It seemed that all the brant on the Atlantic Flyway were piling down the bay. Horace, who has been gunning for the better part of half a century, said he never saw anything like. Nor did we.

From daylight until noon when we left, flock after flock of brant was overhead. These were "new" birds, down from their nesting grounds north of the Arctic circle. They flew in characteristic "vees" and in long, wavering lines. Their calls echoed in the still air.

As events proved, we witnessed peak of the brant migration. U. S. Game Management Agent Bob Hawley yesterday told us that his flying compatriot, Bill Bain, estimated there were 300,000 brant between the mouth of the Mullica and Great bay.

Brant obviously enjoyed an extremely successful nesting year. You can appreciate as much when we realized that when the government's winter waterfowl inventory was completed last January, there were only 150,000 brant in the entire state.

So much for duck hunting. There's an upland season coming up Saturday. As has been the case for the past several years, Monmouth county sportsmen will have more trouble finding someplace to hunt rather than locating game to shoot at. Posting is as heavy as ever, heavier in some areas.

Just as a reminder, here are some of the more basic regulations for bird and small game hunters:

Starting time opening day is 9 a. m., one-half hour before sunrise subsequently. You can shoot till half hour after sunset. Pheasants, two cock birds of which species may be killed daily (10 in season) will be available to the guns Nov. 9 through Dec. 7. Rabbits and jackrabbits will be in season Nov. 9 through Dec. 7 and Dec. 16 through Dec. 31. One jack and four bunnies per day constitutes a legal bag.

Quail, ruffed grouse and squirrel can be hunted Nov. 9 through Dec. 7 and Dec. 16 through Jan. 15. The daily bag limits are: Seven quail, three grouse and six squirrels. You can hunt woodcock (four daily) until Nov. 28 and jacksnipe (eight daily till Nov. 30 with a regular hunting license. No special tags or duck stamp are required for either species during the upland season.

All persons 14 or older except farmers on their own land must possess state hunting licenses ($4.15). Resident servicemen may hunt without licenses. Non-resident active servicemen may obtain resident hunting licenses. No person above the age of 14 or below the age of 21 may obtain an initial license without first having completed a course in gun safety.

Only shotguns not larger than 10-gauge with a maximum capacity of three shells in magazino and chamber may be used. No shot larger than No. 4 may be used in either uplands or when waterfowl hunting—a nonsensical stricture where brant and goose hunting is concerned!

If you have a bird dog, hike on down to Ocean, Atlantic, Cape May and Cumberland counties. All four are loaded with quail, and open land is easy to find. Pheasants seem to be up a little hereabouts, and there is a surprising increase in grouse in northern Ocean. Rabbits came through the dry summer nicely. Squirrels are the single most underutilized species of small game in the state—they're that plentiful.

Hard on the heels of Tuesday's election came a rumor that Joseph E. McLean, commissioner of Conservation and Economic Development, was fixing to resign. Not so, said Commissioner McLean yesterday. He stated:

"I have no intention of resigning. This is all news to me. Like all members of the cabinet, I would assume I have an obligation to sit down with the governor to discuss the whole future."

Some ask about fishing? Under the light of that full, harvest moon Tuesday night, Ed Bunting, Sr., Ed., Jr., and Charley Hesse clobbered bull bass in the Rip at Sandy Hook. They returned to Highlands Basin Landing with eight, 18 to 35 pounds. All were taken on plugs.

During daylight hours Tuesday, charter skiffs from the Landing had bass up to 44 pounds. And Whitey Morenz on the Miss Take reported capture of a dozen blues along with a 23½-pound striper. How about that now!

Surfmen at Monmouth Beach and Sea Bright have been profiting by frequent flurries of school bass action. The ever-reliable Hopkins lure has been hotter than the proverbial pistol on striper weighing between four and seven pounds.

Blackfish, ling and whiting are co-operating with head boat anglers out from Highlands and Atlantic Highlands. Colder weather should bring with it vastly improved whiting sport.

Freehold Regional Slips By Bucs for 19-6 Victory

Red Bank's athletic field Saturday was far from the dust bowl it was during early season games. In fact, it was much in reverse as the Bucs and Freehold slid their way through four quarters of mud before the Colonials slipped out a 19-6 Shore Conference triumph in A division competition.

Francis Carter, Freehold Regional star back, found the mud to his liking as he broke loose to score three touchdowns to pace the Colonials to their fourth win in five contests.

Carter was the big difference in this encounter as he got through Red Bank's defense on sprints of 70, 89, and 47 yards.

Red Bank scored first in the second quarter. Jim Van Brunt took a punt on the Colonial 45 and raced to his 27 before he was grounded. After two plays failed to pick up any yardage, Nelson Claiborne carried on a double reverse to the seven. On the next play Van Brunt faked and then carried around left end for the score. The Bucs fumbled on the conversion try.

Regional fought back in the second quarter after the Colonials took possession on their own 24. Phil Hayes carried to the 30 on the first down and on the next play Carter skirted right end, dashed down the sideline for 70 yards and a touchdown. Ralph Mauser booted the extra point, the only one of the day.

Early in the third quarter Carter got by Red Bank's defense to go 89 yards for his second touchdown. His third score came late in the fourth quarter when he went through the center of the line to dash 47 yards for the six points.

Other than Carter's runs, the Bucs held the rugged Freehold eleven down quite well, Red Bank gave up only four first downs, while the Bucs topped that by one additional first down.

The slippery ball was the cause of 10 fumbles.

Freehold threw three passes and completed one. Red Bank connected with one aerial in four attempts.

Manasquan Wins 1st Game Beating Red Bank Catholic

MANASQUAN — Winless in three games, Manasquan high school hit the win column Saturday when the Big Blue eleven surprised Red Bank Catholic by racking up a 51-0 triumph.

Red Bank's defense failed to halt Manasquan from the start. In the first quarter, the Big Blue racked up two touchdowns and then added another pair in the second quarter to lead, 25-0, at intermission.

John Kenny, Big Blue halfback, led the scoring with three touchdowns and an extra point. Doug Deicke, posted two touchdowns and two extra points. Victor Kubu and ends Skip Magee and Jim Joule added the other six pointers.

Manasquan scored early. The Big Blue had a first down on the Casey 23. Magee took a pass and managed to get to the eight. On a buck, Kenney sliced off two yards, and then skirted around left end for the score. The conversion point was missed.

Manasquan came right back to score again after receiving the kickoff after the Caseys were forced to punt. From their own 36, Manasquan gridders were on the move again. It took four plays for a TD. Kenney climaxed the drive when he darted 45 yards for the score. The kick was good to hike the count to 13-0.

Deicke went around end for 26 yards for the third touchdown. Minutes later he duplicated this run for another score.

The Caseys kicked off to start the second half. It wasn't long before Manasquan's offensive was on the move again. Two quick first downs moved the ball from Manasquan's 45 to the Casey 25. Pete Magee passed to his brother, Skip, for the touchdown. The extra point was good.

In the fourth quarter, Manasquan racked up three touchdowns. One scored on a Magee pass to Kenney, who ran 30 yards for a touchdown. Another aerial set the stage for the next score. Kuba tossed a long one from the Casey 40 to Farrell on Red Bank's three-yard stripe. Kuba completed the distance on a buck for the score.

The final score came when Kuba tossed a 20-yard pass to Joule in the end zone. The kick was good.

The Caseys were never able to come up with a scoring threat, but despite the playing conditions they fought hard all the way.

Metuchen Dumps Keyport, 42-6

METUCHEN — Keyport high school stepped out of Shore Conference competition Saturday and the Red Raiders had their ears pinned back, but good. Metuchen trounced Keyport, 42-6, on the Bulldogs' field.

Metuchen gridders proved to be good mudders as they romped over six touchdowns. The home team scored a TD in the first quarter and then rolled in the second period to post a trio of six pointers. In the third quarter they added another pair and then went scoreless in the fourth period.

One of the highlights of a wet day was the kicking of Joe Prehodka. The place kicker split the uprights after each touchdown for six points.

Shortly after Metuchen received the opening kickoff, Dick Groben started firing aerials. His first two passes missed their target, but he then hit end Joe Leiss for gains of 30 and 11 yards to bring the ball to the 29. Five plays later, Gordon Hoagland scored his first of two touchdowns.

After exchanging punts, Metuchen started another drive from the Keyport 39. Groben tossed two passes to Prehodka and one to Baily Molineaux, who hauled in the touchdown pass.

After receiving the kickoff Keyport lost possession on downs on its own 38. Grushewsky climaxed this drive by going 19 yards for the score. Prehodsky converted to make the count 21-0.

An interception set the stage for the fourth TD. Groben grabbed the pass at midfield and dashed to the 30 before he was stopped. In four plays, Metuchen scored with Grushewsky getting his second touchdown on a seven-yard run.

Hoagland scored his second touchdown early in the third on a 37-yard run. Groben scored later in the period on a 31-yard run around his right end.

Ernest Bade, an end, scored the only Keyport score. Bade blocked a punt attempt by Cecil Jackson on the Metuchen 27, picked up the ball and raced over untouched.

'Day of Recollection' For St. James Society

The St. James Altar and Rosary society held its second annual "Day of Recollection" Sunday in the Villa Marie Claire retreat house in Hohokus, with Rev. David Pathe in charge. Sixty members of the local society attended.

At Monday night's meeting of the society in the cafeteria of Red Bank Catholic high school, committees were appointed to sell religious articles at the mission which begins Nov. 17. Plans were furthered for the society's main projects of the year, a merchandise club and the sale of Christmas cards. A social meeting of the group will be held Dec. 2 in Red Bank Catholic high school.

Old Mill Sets Jazz Workshop

TINTON FALLS — The first meeting of the Jazz workshop of the Old Mill association will be held Thursday, Nov. 14, at 8:30 p. m. in the Old Mill.

Purpose of the workshop is to bring persons together who have a common interest in jazz music.

Both musicians and non-musicians have been invited and a schedule of activities will be set up to appeal to both groups, it was announced.

Bow and Arrow Hunters May Hunt With Firearms; Regular License

TRENTON — Bow and arrow hunters who bag a deer during the archery season in Jersey may also hunt and shoot a buck deer with firearms during the firearms deer season from Dec. 9 to 14, if they also have a regular hunting license.

In answer to numerous inquiries concerning bow and arrow hunting regulations, the state division of fish and game, Department of Conservation and Economic Development, pointed out that following regulations inaugurated by the state fish and game council for the 1956 season, it will be possible for the holder of a bow and arrow license who is successful in bagging either a doe or a buck deer during the current archery season, to hunt with a firearm and shoot a buck deer during the firearms deer season, provided he has the proper firearms hunting license.

The division of fish and game also called attention to the fact that holders of bow and arrow licenses may use a bow and arrow to hunt small game during the regular upland game season, if they desire. Small game bag limits, seasons and other regulations are the same for archers and shot gun hunters, the division announced.

Navy 11 Takes At Post Saturday

FORT MONMOUTH — The Newport Naval "Islanders," enjoying a successful season after a year's layoff from the gridiron, is Fort Monmouth's opposition here Saturday. Game time is 10 a. m.

The two service teams enter Saturday's game with reverse records in their first football meeting, Newport's "Islanders," with a 5-1 record, will assume the role as favorite against a Signaleer squad which has lost five of its six contests.

This will be Monmouth's third home appearance for the '57 campaign, with two poor showings behind them. It's also been a long time since the Signalmen posted a victory before the local fans. The last home triumph was almost two years ago when the Signaleers routed a Norfolk "Cannoneer" team, 38-0. Since then Monmouth has lost six straight home tilts.

Newport comes in well rested after an open-weekend and ready to roll its attack. Two weeks ago the Islanders were dropped from the undefeated service ranks in being upset, 26-12, by the Cape May Coast Guard.

Rumson

A flower arrangement and demonstration program will be held next Tuesday at 8 p. m. by the Women's association of the Presbyterian church in the Fellowship hall. Mrs. Marion Fisher of Syracuse, N. Y., formerly of this place, first woman president of the Florist Telegraph Delivery association in its 47th year history, will demonstrate and lecture on the arrangements. After the demonstration the Ladies' Aid society will hold its annual Christmas sale.

Fifty-four cubs of pack 11 attended the Rutgers-Delaware football game Saturday in New Brunswick. Cubmaster Junior Bouk was assisted by the following fathers: Harry Clayton, H. S. Rubley, Fred Bradley, John McCauley, John Crollius, R. C. Gleason, Harden Fowler, William Beaty, H. H. Golson, Harry Shorey, Lynn Farnham, Ralph Iannarome, J. D. Rovegno, G. V. Bottrill and William Diffenderfer.

Mrs. N. G. Clifton, leader of Mariner ship 35 is disbanding her troop and has ten Mariner uniforms to dispose of.

The "Varieties of Yesteryear" scheduled for presentation Saturday by the Rumson Woman's club, has been postponed until March due to the illness of several members of the cast.

Donny Krous, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Krous of Clover la., recently entertained a group at a football party and luncheon at his home.

St. Mary's guild of St. George's Episcopal church held a turkey luncheon yesterday in Ralph hall. Thomas Dean of Dean's Florists, demonstrated table displays for Thanksgiving.

PAPER DRIVE SUNDAY

Relef Engine company will have a paper drive Sunday starting at 1 p. m. Joseph Cleary, chairman of the ways and means committee, and head of the drive, asked residents to paice papers on their front lawns instead of on the

Signaleers Switch To Morning Game

FORT MONMOUTH — A change in the starting time for Saturday's football game here moves the Fort Monmouth-Newport Naval grid game to a morning contest with the opening kickoff at 10 o'clock on Signaleer field. The original schedule listed the tilt for that afternoon.

The rescheduling of the post's first Saturday morning game is an experiment aimed to get a larger attendance at home. Other service teams adopted a morning home slate this year and report a noted increase in crowds. Monmouth's opening two road tilts this season were played in the morning to sizable turnouts.

Saturday's game, as usual, is open to the public.

Four Initiated Into Auxiliary

LEONARDO — Mrs. Howard McClay, Mrs. Frank Kirkpatrick, Mrs. John Gober and Mrs. Alden Lambert were initiated as members of the American Legion auxiliary Monday in the post rooms. Mrs. Thomas Lewis and Mrs. John Fisher are co-chairmen of a theater party to be held in New York in the winter.

Final plans were made for a square dance to be held Saturday in the post rooms. The members will sell Christmas cards, wrappings and candles at the dance.

Nylon stockings are being collected for the hospital at Skillman, N. J. Mrs. Ralph Fitzgerald is chairman. Mrs. Walter Woods, who attended a rehabilitation meeting in Burlington Saturday, gave her report on the work done by the American Legion auxiliary in New Jersey.

After the meeting a Swedish auction was held and refreshments were served. Mrs. Mary Ferrari of Belford was a guest at the meeting.

Colt's Neck

Officials of Reformed church this week have had the well on the church property dug six feet deeper, as during the summer and fall drought, the water supply became low.

The Helping circle of the Reformed church met yesterday in the home of Mrs. William Thompson, Sr., at Vanderburg.

The chapel choir of Fort Monmouth held a party and hot dog roast Halloween in the homo of Mrs. Marguerite Forman. Hot dogs were cooked in a fireplace and community singing and dancing were enjoyed.

Tinton Falls

The Ladies' auxiliary of the fire company will meet in the fire house Monday at 8 p. m. Mrs. Edward Carney, Mrs. Thomas Calandriello and Mrs. John Cottingham will be hostesses.

The Ladies' Aid of the Methodist church will meet Tuesday, Nov. 19, at 8 p. m. in the home of Mrs. Clara Troedsson of Eatontown.

Literary Club Hears Oil Company Official

KEYPORT — George T. Culp, Westfield, an official of the Creole Petroleum corporation who has just returned from Venezuela, was a speaker at Friday's meeting of the Literary club.

Youth Activity Night Sponsored by PTA

TINTON FALLS —A youth activity night for seventh and eighth graders was conducted in the school gymnasium last night, sponsored by the Parent-Teacher association, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Joseph LeRoy and Mrs. Frank Cooper.

Mrs. Charles Thorn gave instructions in square dancing and Mrs. Joseph Driscoll taught ballroom dancing to the young people. Refreshments were donated and served by mothers of seventh and eighth grade pupils.

Turnier Heads Jet Squadron

TURNER AIR FORCE BASE, Ga. — Maj. Walter C. Turnier, formerly of Red Bank, N. J., has taken over as commanding officer of the recently activated 306th fighter-bomber squadron. The unit is part of the 31st fighter-bomber wing stationed here.

Maj. Turnier was graduated from Red Bank Catholic high school in 1937. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Turnier, now of Eatontown, and formerly of Red Bank.

He also attended Seton Hall college in New Jersey and enlisted in the Army air corps in 1942, and saw combat service in Europe in World War II.

In his 15 years in the Air Force, Maj. Turnier has held numerous positions—including teaching flying to a group of Chinese and Japanese students in Japan.

He is a senior pilot and, in his last assignment, was squadron commander of an F-100D jet outfit at Bunker Hill Air Force base, Ind.

Suit Attacks Trailer Code

FREEHOLD — An ordinance adopted by the Marlboro township committee to regulate trailer camps has been attacked in a suit filed in Superior court here by Theodore and Beverly Hoffman, owners and operators of a trailer camp near Wickatunk station.

It is charged that the ordinance is "discriminatory, unreasonable and prohibitory and deprives plaintiffs of their property without due process of law."

The plaintiffs also contend the ordinance was adopted May 17, 1955, after they had established the trailer park. The ordinance defines a trailer camp as any house trailer incapable of being removed immediately.

Fined $205 On Tipsy Count

Fort Plays Role in Tuning In Signals of Sputnik II

FORT MONMOUTH — Engineers at the U. S. Army Signal Engineering laboratories, again played an important role in tabulating signals from the second Soviet earth satellite.

An emergency crew of workers headed by Dr. Harold A. Zahl, 90 Oak pl., Fair Haven, director of research, and Dr. Hans K. Ziegler, Elberon, assistant director, recorded the first signals at 2:50 a. m. Sunday. The signals were strong and clear, the tracking has continued since.

A 24-hour, three-shift signal coverage was established, which has been continued. Data collected is relayed to the Naval Research laboratories in Washington.

Dr. Zahl's original "task force" of 30 engineers, pressed into emergency service with the debut of first satellite, Sputnik, had very little respite before getting back into harness Sunday morning for its successor in the heavens.

The last weak signals from first satellite were picked up by the engineers at 7:10 p. m., Friday, Oct. 25. The second satellite was in space a week later.

Signals from the new, larger, dog-carrying satellite for the first 24 hours were of the "beep-beep" variety, but later changed to a steady continuous wave, which has been prevailing since on both 20 and 40 megacycles.

Again, Fort Monmouth information offices were deluged by inquiries from metropolitan press, radio and television stations, for reports on signals from the new space traveler.

Like the laboratory engineers the press crew at the fort maintained 24-hour coverage of activities for all news media. Fort Monmouth's part in the tracking received national recognition.

Dr. Zahl said that contact with newest satellite would continue on an around-the-clock basis, until there is no more to hear. There was no conjecture as to how long this would be.

Union Beach Republicans Sweep 3 Posts in Upset

UNION BEACH — Republicans were swept into office Tuesday in this traditional Democratic stronghold in a major reversal of sentiment.

While several municipalities were voting out GOP officeholders, residents here crossed party lines to break Democratic control locally and oust Mayor Joseph J. Scholer.

At the same time voters gave Gov. Robert Meyner and county and state Democrats large majorities.

The voting was as follows:

For the Republicans, Boyle K. Pattison, for mayor, 1,260; Allen J. Weaver, for council, 1,210; John McInnes, for council, 1,362.

For the Democrats, Mayor Joseph J. Scholer, 859; Harvey C. Erikson, for council, 859; and Mrs. Evelyn A. McCoy, for council, 726.

A local question, asking approval of a $30,000 appropriation for a new municipal building, was defeated 1,239 to 394.

Four Democrats Left

The council alignment on January 1 will be a Republican mayor and two G.O.P. councilmen against four Democratic councilmen.

It is the first time in five years the Republicans have gained a foothold in the governing body. Mr. Pattison was returned to office after an absence of 10 years. He was mayor from 1940 to 1947.

Mayor Scholer sought his fifth term. He has served eight years.

The Republicans, in a determined, house-to-house canvass, campaigned to rid the town of what they termed "one-man rule."

Stressing poor street conditions, a lack of proper drainage facilities and the need for park and playground improvements, the GOP told voters the borough needed "greater planning" and "more action."

Reactivate Board

Mayor-elect Pattison told The Register yesterday that his first move will be an attempt to "reactivate" the local planning board with "civic-minded, younger men."

Declaring that the board had been "dormant" for many years, he noted that since the council is still controlled by Democrats he will need their aid in his "new program."

Mr. Pattison said he hopes to start studies immediately on drainage and street improvement. As for the school situation, he said, every attempt will be made for full co-operation between the governing body and the board of education in expanding and improving the school system.

"We also need a municipal building," the mayor-elect said, "but not at the present time, under current financial conditions. This is a question for the future."

The Republicans, along with a local civic organization, campaigned against the $30,000 municipal building expenditure.

In county and state contests, results were as follows:

Assembly: Giordano, 1,063; Keuper, 1,022; Beadleston, 913; Barkalow, 911.

Freeholder: Fluhr, 1,016; Burke 1,008; Grossinger, 918; Woolley, 944.

The gun had more influence in changing the primitive ways of Indians than any other object brought over by the white man, says Carl P. Russell, National Park Service Indian authority.

Christ Scientists Hear Wallach

Progress is the inevitable result of the application of man's natural ability to reflect divine power, Theodore Wallach of Chicago told members of First Church of Christ, Scientist, Red Bank, Friday.

"The elimination of limitation is completely practical," Mr. Wallach declared. "Freedom from sickness, sin and limitation can be experienced progressively as one gains a better understanding of the true nature of God and man."

He was introduced by Carroll Blanchard. His topic was "Christian Science: The Open Door to Progress."

DAR Topic Is 'Antiques'

FAIR HAVEN — Mrs. Thomas E. Morton of Riverlawn dr., was hostess Tuesday at a meeting of the junior group of Monmouth chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution. Walter A. Morton, owner of the Fair Haven antique shop, spoke on "Antiques as They Are Used in Monmouth County," and displayed a number of early American items from his shop and his own private collection.

The juniors received a letter from officials of the Crossnore school in North Carolina, thanking the group for "adopting" a seven-year-old pupil.

Mrs. Eugene Hulse is chairman of a cake sale Nov. 21, after a meeting of the senior group of the chapter in the Red Bank Woman's club.

The Dec. 3 meeting will be a covered-dish buffet supper in the home of Mrs. Jehu P. Cooper, Main st., Matawan.

Society Observes Priest's Birthday

WEST LONG BRANCH—Members of the Rosary-Altar society of St. Jerome's Catholic church honored Rev. Francis X. McGuinness, pastor and the society's spiritual adviser, at a meeting Monday. The occasion was Father McGuinness' birthday. A gift was presented to him.

Mrs. George Conway said the society Christmas party will be Dec. 2, where there will be an exchange of gifts. She also said that the society will receive Communion at the 8 a. m. mass, Sunday, Dec. 1.

The society will hold a pie sale Sunday, Nov. 17, in the parish hall, after masses.

Father McGuinness explained the objectives of the new society to new members.

The program was concluded with a play, "And What a Rummage Sale."

Four Houses Reported Sold

FAIR HAVEN—Four real estate transactions were announced this week by Hall Brothers.

A colonial house owned by John Hillier, Jr., has been sold to Mr. and Mrs. Michael J. Bowler, formerly of Great Neck, L. I.

The house is situated on a pine wooded corner plot on Pine Tree la. in the River Oaks section. It contains four bedrooms, two and a half baths, and features a 24-foot wood paneled family room.

Mr. Hillier and his family have moved to New Hampshire. The Bowlers have taken occupancy of their new house.

Another River Oaks dwelling sold was that of Edward E. Flower, Buena Vista ave., one of Allen Brothers original model homes for the first section of River Oaks.

It contains three bedrooms, one and a half baths, living room with wood burning fireplace, dining room, screened porch, basement and an attached two-car garage.

The plot of over a third of an acre is landscaped.

The purchasers are Mr. and Mrs. Frederick E. Reimers, formerly of Berkeley Heights. Mr. Reimers is associated with Merck and company, Rahway. Mr. and Mrs. Flower have moved to Florida, where he will operate a trailer camp.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Walker, Paoli, Pa., recently contracted through Hall Brothers the construction of a seven-room, two-bath, brick and frame ranch house, on a tree shaded acre plot on Seven Bridge rd., Little Silver, by Maimone Brothers.

Mr. Walker is a corporate accountant with Merck and company, Rahway. The Walkers have moved into their new house.

The Rumson riverfront house of Leo Dixon has been purchased by Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Gallagher, Berkeley Heights.

Comprising over an acre of property and with a frontage on the Navesink river of over 100 feet, it offers a sweeping view at one of the widest sections of the river in Rumson. The entire house inside and out is undergoing extensive alterations and will have a one and a half story Cape Cod appearance when completed.

Mr. Dixon is the owner of Dixon Marine, Belmar. Mr. Gallagher is superintendent of the defense projects division of Western Electric.

BASKIN'S MODERNIZES

Baskin's Fabric Fair has announced the completion of a modernization of its store at 10 Mechanic st. The announcement was made in connection with the store's 12th anniversary and the news of a branch store to be opened in the Middletown shopping center. New fixtures, wider aisles and special light bulbs are some of the features of the modernization program.

The average man's whiskers grow about one-half inch a month, or six inches a year.

Cabinet Store Opens in Forrar Building

Shown at the opening Friday of the Shore Dinette Manufacturing company in the Forrar building at 786 Broad st., Shrewsbury, are two of the firm's owners, Walter C. Priller, left, of Asbury Park and Walter J. Monsees of M & M Dinette Manufacturing company of Morgan. The other owner is Joseph Yencarelli of Fair Haven, who also operates the Red Bank Radiator shop. The firm intends to move its Shore Kitchen Chair Recovery business—which is in Fair Haven—to the Shrewsbury store. In addition to selling dinette sets, lamps, bar stools and foot stools, Shore Dinette has a home improvement department featuring the sale of aluminum doors and screens and inselbrick and permastone facings.

Corlies Realty Buys Tract

NEPTUNE — V. Robert Rund, Little Silver, president of the Corlies Realty company, Neptune, has announced the recent purchase of a tract of land in Neptune on which he plans to erect 59 houses.

The tract, on the west side of Wayside rd., was formerly known as Neptune Estates.

The new development will be named Lawn Estates, and will consist of building plots with ground areas of 100 square feet.

On the plots Mr. Rund plans to erect ranch-type homes. All houses will be supplied with city water, electricity and gas.

A model similar to those to be erected is under construction, and is scheduled to be completed Dec. 15.

Mr. Rund, the first of the major developers and builders to begin operations in Neptune following World War II, has built and sold approximately 500 houses in that area.

His firm developed Hamilton Gardens, 262 houses; Jumping Brook Estates, 69 houses, half of which are completed and sold, and Shadow Lawn Heights, consisting of 116 houses, a modern development, completely sold with the exception of two houses.

Sale of the new tract purchased by the Corlies Realty company was consummated through the office of John D. Lazarus, realty consultant, of rt. 35, Asbury Park.

NEW SECTION OPEN

FREEHOLD — A new section of the proposed 228-house Wynnewood development has been opened on Jones Siding rd., off rt. 9. The three models range from $14,000 to $15,900. A basic ranch type house with three bedrooms and a basement costs $14,000. A front-to-back split level with three bedrooms costs $15,500, and a side-to-side split level is priced at $15,900. Most of the models have three bedrooms, one and a half bathrooms, a basement and a garage.

Artist Does Oil Portrait In Less Than Half-Hour

MATAWAN — Lajos Markos, Hungarian-born artist whose paintings won national awards in Europe, demonstrated his skill by completing an oil portrait in less than a half-hour here Monday afternoon.

He had as his subject, Mrs. Theodore M. Marko of River Plaza, art chairman of the fifth district, New Jersey State Federation of Women's clubs. Both the artist and Mrs. Marko were guests of the Woman's club.

A student in the University of Budapest for six years, Mr. Markos won wide popularity. Some of his paintings are hanging in the art museum of Milan, Italy, others are elsewhere in Europe. It was five years ago that he arrived in Perth Amboy from Hungary. At first, he worked for the Raritan Copper Works, International Smelting and Refining Co, there.

In the Woman's club's business session, Mrs. Thurman Nemlis, drama chairman, said rehearsals are under way for the Christmas vesper service, which will be recorded and played to the club's shut-in members.

Mrs. Peter Read, president, received donations for the drama scholarship, veterans' service and fellowship funds. Some of the money will be spent to continue assistance for a Korean girl who is studying in Montclair State Teachers college.

Harold F. Hitchcox of the Esso Research and Engineering Co. will discuss the "World of Wax" at the next club meeting, Monday, Nov. 18. The club also plans a "White Elephant" sale to benefit the dish fund and a "Christmas Around the World" event at the meeting Monday, Dec. 2, to be sponsored by the international relations department.

Mrs. Reed said the club has been cited by the American Arts Professional League for its art work in the last year.

Johnsons, Maibachs To Winter in South

PALM BEACH, Fla. — Mr. and Mrs. J. Fred Johnson of Rumson N. J., and Palm Beach have returned to their apartment at the new $10,000,000 Palm Beach Towers, where they were among the first to lease an apartment at the hotel.

Expected shortly are Mr. and Mrs. John J. Maibach, also of Rumson and Palm Beach. They have a long lease on an apartment at the Palm Beach Towers and will remain until June. The Palm Beach Towers, which was completed this year, is on the lakefront site of Henry Flagler's legendary Royal Poinciana hotel.

Stalder Buys Boat Basin

SHREWSBURY — Ray Stillman, realtor with offices on rt. 35, has announced the sale of the boat basin on Oceanport ave., Oceanport, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Lester Craig Hurley.

The basin consists of three acres with 800 feet of road frontage and considerable frontage on the river. Mr. and Mrs. Hurley operated a row-boat rental business and also rented dock space for motor boats. The property is adjacent to the new post office in Oceanport.

The purchasers were the Stalder Realty corporation of Red Bank. Mr. and Mrs. Hurley, the sellers, have moved to Florida where they plan to open another boat basin.

Club Turkey Shoot Sunday

HIGHLANDS — The annual turkey shoot of the Rod and Gun club will be held Sunday on rt. 36 between Highlands and Atlantic Highlands. Signs will mark the location. Wade Davis is chairman.

The masquerade dance sponsored by the club recently at the Jackson house was reported a success. Prizes for costumes were won by R. F. Green of Long Branch, best man's costume; Mrs. J. P. Renzo, Long Branch, best ladies' costume; Edward A. Kwik, this place, most original man's costume, and Mrs. E. J. DiFazio, Fair Haven, ladies' most original costume.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sarnoski of Hillside won the waltz contest. Mrs. C. E. Weichsel of Leonardo was the judge.

The canning industry originated in the Napoleonic wars when soldiers demanded some means to keep their food from spoiling on journeys from battlefield to battlefield.

Board Studies Engineer Fee

MIDDLETOWN — The township planning board Monday night voted to seek a revision of the land subdivision ordinance which would compel land developers to pay an engineering fee for municipal supervision of road and drainage work within their developments.

The board voted unanimously to send a copy of the ordinance now in effect in New Shrewsbury to its attorney, Lawrence A. Carton, Jr., for his study and recommendations. The ordinance provides that developers must pay five per cent of the performance bond to the township engineer for his supervision of that work, plus an inspection fee of $50 upon completion of the work.

Mayor Frank F. Blaisdell, a member of the board, said that the legality of this measure has been proved elsewhere. He said he feels that until the measure becomes part of the ordinance the board should ask any developer submitting a map to voluntarily comply with the provisions of the proposed amendment.

Marcus Daly, Newman Springs rd., Lincroft, was named vice chairman of the board for the remainder of the year after the board received the resignation of William K. Larsen, as vice chairman. Mr. Larsen, who conducted the meeting, explained that he felt he had to resign the vice chairmanship for personal reasons but that he would remain as a member of the board.

The board indicated it would give approval to a map of Wilmeyer terrace, section two, Belford, when the applicant, John Swamiak, Clifton, agreed to enlarge the size of four lots. Although five of the lots with 80-foot frontage for each were in excess of the zoning requirements, the board asked Mr. Swamiak to enlarge them to 100 foot frontage, thus reducing the number of lots from five to four on one street. That made a total of 19 lots in the development. When Mr. Swamiak agreed the board assured him it would give approval when he submits a revised map.

The board voted to communicate with the Jersey Central Power and Light company to discuss the utility's plans for future growth in the township. Mr. Daly noted that the company has made application for several substations in the township and said he feels it would be in the best interest of both the company and the township residents if plans were made for future placement of such stations.

Costs of accidents in the United States would have clothed every man, woman and child in 1956.

Agency Lists Two Sales

William S. Garrison, Red Bank real estate agent, this week reported two sales.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Herder, now of Florida, sold their Oxford ave., Fair Haven, home to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Niles, formerly of Georgia. Mr. Niles is associated with the Bell Telephone company as a wage analyst and was recently transferred to to this area.

The house consists of a rustic paneled living room with fireplace, large tile kitchen and dining area, two bedrooms and bath and an expansion attic with a shed dormer for two additional bedrooms and bath.

A. Fred Maffeo was the broker.

Mr. Garrison also reported further activity in Locust estates, with the sale of a new custom built dwelling on Red Coach la., Locust, to Mr. and Mrs. Harold W. Estey, New York city. He is associated with the Merck Chemical company. Hamilton S. Cairns, Bayonne, was the builder.

The modern, three-bedroom home, with 2,400 square feet of living area, is situated on a heavily wooded acre lot. The living room features a solid wall of Thermopane windows with a view of the rolling hills in the area. The mahogany paneled den, with a Tennessee stone fireplace, is located directly off the large dining area. The sales was negotiated in cooperation with J. Lester Rigby associates, New Shrewsbury.

Country Club Estates

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Shirhall of West Roosevelt cir. celebrated their fifth wedding anniversary Oct. 25.

The mothers of the Wilson circle group were hosts Thursday to the neighborhood children at a Halloween party held in the garage of Mr. and Mrs. Philip O'Cone. Costume prize winners were Gail Mandia, Jay Korohow, Beth Binder, James Castellano and Caroline Kastle. About 25 children attended the party, which was followed by a hot dinner and dessert. Mrs. Jeremy Judge and Mrs. John Renfroe were the costume judges. Also on the committee were Mrs. John Kastle, Mrs. Morton Ray, Mrs. O'Cone and Mrs. Katz. The affair ended with all participants going out for trick or treat, including the little ones who were accompanied by the committee mothers.

The rain Saturday did not deter the treasure hunt which was a feature of a Halloween party held by the Wilson circle group. The party was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Philip O'Cone. Attending were Mr. and Mrs. John Kastle, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Chase, Mr. and Mrs. William C. North, Mr. and Mrs. Les Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Binder, Mr. and Mrs. Jeremy Judge and Mr. and Mrs. John Renfroe. Costume prizes winners were Mr. and Mrs. O'Cone, Les Johnson and Stanley Chase.

ELMIRA CLUB MEETS

LONG BRANCH — The Shore group of the Elmira College Club of New Jersey will hold its first fall meeting tomorrow night in the home of Miss Dora Davis on 98 Norwood ave. All Elmira college alumnae are invited.

River Oaks House Sold

FAIR HAVEN — Ray VanHorn agency, here, reports that October, according to sales contracts consummated, has proven to be one of the most active months in 1957 from a real estate buying standpoint.

Recent sales closed by the agency include the purchase by Mr. and Mrs. John Fraser, 3d, of New Castle, Del., of a new house built by Allen Brothers on Spruce dr., in the River Oaks section here. This residence which is of one-story design has a layout which includes a center hall, three double bedrooms, two tiled baths, a Formica kitchen with wall oven and knotty pine cabinets, dining room, living room with fireplace, cedar paneled den with book shelves, full basement and attached double garage.

Mr. Fraser is associated with E. I. Dupont de Nemours, with offices in the Empire State building, New York city, having been transferred from Wilmington, Del., by his company.

Joseph F. Hunter, sales manager of the VanHorn agency, reports the purchase of a house in Fair Haven by the new physical training director of the Fair Haven schools, John L. Measley of Hightstown. The property is the former Vogel residence at 84 Lake ave.

Mr. Hunter also was the broker for Maimone Brothers of Little Silver in the purchase of a custom built ranch house on Crest dr., Little Silver, by Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Brooke of River Edge, Bergen county. Mr. Brooks is associated with the Chase Manhattan bank in New York city.

Lorin B. VanNest of the VanHorn agency reports the sale of a colonial ranch house built a few years ago by Maimone Brothers at 8 Prince pl., Little Silver, to Mr. and Mrs. Lewis C. Kleinhans of Middletown. The owner was Mrs. Stella T. Burton. The house has six rooms, basement, tiled bath, enclosed breezeway and garage. Mr. Kleinhans is an executive associated with the Chemical Corn Exchange bank in New York city.

Benjamin Franklin could play the harmonica, musical glasses, harp, guitar and violin. He also composed lyrics for many popular songs.

Local School Election On Land Purchase Set

The board of education Monday night revealed plans for the purchase of two adjoining Branch ave. properties for future expansion of the high school playground.

Voters will be asked to decide on the proposal in a referendum Dec. 17.

The properties are the Samuel Palandrano property, 62 Branch ave., and the Earle Dixon property, 70 Branch ave. Price of the first is $22,000, the second, $20,000.

Money to buy the properties—$42,000 and $3,000 for legal fees and contingencies—will come out of surplus funds.

Other Question

In the same referendum, voters will be asked another question:

Whether they favor spending $30,000—also from surplus funds—to construct and equip a field house under the grandstand at the high school athletic field.

Voters must also okay the shift of $75,000 from the current expense account to the capital account.

Paul A. Young, board secretary, told newsmen the current expense surplus now has $218,000 in it—and that $143,000 will remain if voters approve the fund transfer.

No New Tax Money

Mr. Young said no additional tax money would have to be raised to finance the dual project.

Dr. M. Gregg Hibbs, superintendent, said the two properties would give the high school an additional 39,500 square feet of playground space.

The Palandrano property has a frontage of 80 feet and a depth of 286 feet. The Dixon property is 77x213 square feet. Dwellings currently stand on both properties.

The Palandrano property adjoins the 56 Branch ave. building being used now as school administration offices.

Dr. Hibbs added the existing buildings would be used for additional classroom and office space.

Playground Area

Eventually, they would be torn down. Most of the land would be used as playground area, the remainder for a building expansion program—which was also made known at Monday night's special meeting.

The board hopes, too, to demolish the administration building—and use the land for playground space. Together with the two other properties, it would result in 43,000 of "badly needed" square footage.

The school attorney has been authorized to draw up contracts for the purchase of the two parcels. The proposal is being advertised in today's Register.

In line with the land expansion program, Dr. Hibbs said he has recommended constructing eight additional classrooms for a new science wing—as well as a 250-student addition to the cafeteria and a new library. It would be a part of the Harding rd. building—probably built on one-level, with the library as a second story.

Additional Classrooms

At the same time, Dr. Hibbs said the present library would be converted into two classrooms as would the present chemistry room. This would mean, all told, 12 classrooms, he said.

Mr. Young said he estimated cost of the project would run between $475,000 and $500,000.

He said such a building program would mean "we are going beyond the borrowing power of the board of education."

Mr. Young recommended—and the board agreed—it should meet with the mayor and council soon to further discuss the plan.

All science courses, Dr. Hibbs said, would be taught in the proposed addition. It would have provisions for biology, chemistry, and physics laboratories, as well as lecture rooms.

Regional Idea Dead

Indications Monday night were that the regional high school idea—involving Red Bank, Shrewsbury and Little Silver—is now dead.

Mr. Young read a letter from the Shrewsbury board of education stating it wants "no part" of a regional high school plan.

Little Silver is scheduled to discuss the matter at its meeting tonight.

Apparently, both municipalities will continue their present status as sending districts. The board also discussed a tentative publicity program to "sell" the building program to local voters. Meetings are planned with the Parent-Teacher association — at which board members will take part. Letters will go out to voters, too, the board said.

Teachers Hired

In other business, the board authorized the hiring of two teachers.

Mrs. Frances Applegate, Eatontown, will teach business education. She has a degree from Mercyhurst college and will receive a $4,200 yearly salary. She will replace Mrs. Naomi Werse, who will take a leave of absence.

Donald E. Marx, Washington, D. C., will teach science. He has a bachelor's degree from Harvard and a master's from Columbia. He will replace Mrs. Helen Gallarlo, who is resigning Jan. 1. However, Mr. Marx will begin as an auxiliary teacher here Nov. 12. His annual salary will be $4,300.

Can't Pay Traffic Fine, Gets 150 Days in Jail

Default of three separate fines sent Louis E. Roberts, 23, of Pine Brook rd., Eatontown, to jail for 150 days yesterday. The sentence was imposed by Magistrate John V. Crowell.

In order, Roberts was fined for no driver's license or registration in possession, $10 and $5 costs or 15 days; reckless driving, $25 and $5 costs or 30 days, and taking a car without the owner's consent, $100 and $5 or 105 days.

Girl Scout Groups Active

PORT MONMOUTH — Girl Scout activities in this area during the past week included the election of officers of senior service troop 237 in the home of Mrs. Jon Ketchow.

Elected were Patricia Correia, president; Margaret O'Neil, vice president; Carole Ann Barberi, secretary; Joyce Perry, treasurer, and Gerry Collins, news reporter. Mrs. Edna Dreps is assistant leader.

Members of the troop served as program aides to the Brownies and intermediate Scouts of district three at a recent jamboree at Camp Nomoco. They taught a program of lashing, trail blazing, knots and the use of penknives. The jamboree was sponsored by the Middletown Township Leaders association.

Brownie troop 71, led by Mrs. Kenneth Thompson, had a Halloween party in the Port Monmouth fire house. Mrs. Leonard Moon, former leader of the troop, was presented a gift. Mrs. Robert Runge is assistant leader.

Intermediate troop 137 had a masquerade party in the home of Carol Darby. Prize winners were Ann Sica, Carol Darby, Alice Gajanec and Judy Toynbee. The patrols staged entertainment.

Because of illness of members, Brownie troop 26 canceled its Halloween party and will have a Thanksgiving party instead. The troop will celebrate Founders' day and elect officers this week.

The troop has planned an investiture ceremony, a fly-up and a family night this month. Mrs. Raymond Toynbee is leader and Mrs. Ralph G. Walling, assistant.

Brownie troop 207 has planned a fly-up in the home of Mrs. A. J. Darby, Lakeland dr. The former leader, Mrs. James Froehlich, and a Brownie, Gail Rathbun, will leave the troop to become part of the new intermediate troop being formed here. Mrs. Froehlich will be leader and Mrs. Marie Durkin, assistant leader of the new group.

Mrs. Florence Rathburn succeeds Mrs. Froehlich as Brownie troop leader. She will be assisted by Mrs. Betty Fitzgerald.

Several girls of intermediate troop 177 have been making weekly trips to the Asbury Park natatorium, working on their swimmer's badge. The troop meets in the home of the leader, Mrs. Charles Greene.

The Port Monmouth Neighborhood association has postponed its November meeting. There will be an investiture of new members and a flag receiving ceremony for senior service troop 237 at the next meeting, Dec. 3, in the first aid squad building.

Tokyo Talk By Mrs. Dean

Mrs. Hortense Dean of Dean's Florists, Red Bank and Little Silver, is in Tokyo where she was guest speaker Oct. 25 at a meeting of Ikebana International.

Mrs. Hortense Dean

A Tokyo newspaper account of Mrs. Dean's talk featured a news article, two photographs and Mrs. Dean's autograph.

Mrs. Dean left for Japan in the middle of August. She is expected home in time for Thanksgiving. A member of Ikebana International, she is studying Ikebana—Japanese for flower arranging.

During her stay overseas, Mrs. Dean also has delivered addresses to the Tokyo, Yokohama and Hong Kong Florists clubs.

Scouts Plan 10-Mile Hike

OAKHURST—Seven crews of Explorer Scouts of Monmouth council of Boy Scouts will hit the Appalachian trail Saturday on a 10-mile Delaware Water Gap trek, according to J. Fred Billett, Scout executive of the council.

The senior scout hikers will camp overnight Saturday at Sunfish pond and proceed to Camp Mohican, a distance of 10 miles, Sunday morning. They will return here Sunday afternoon. Among the trail leaders are Capt. George Bett, Shrewsbury; Warren Egge, Oakhurst, and William Weintraub, Matawan.

Three in County Lose Licenses

TRENTON — Three Monmouth county drivers have lost their licenses, Frederick J. Gassert, Jr., director of motor vehicles announced today.

They are John E. Welch, 20, of 999 Ocean ave., Sea Bright, who was convicted Aug. 31 of drunken driving in Florida, license revoked for an indefinite period; William R. Porterfield, 25, of 131 Elizabeth ave., Asbury Park, careless driving, failed to keep right and two speeding, license revoked three months, and Dean H. LaCour, 18, of Manasquan, speeding, careless driving, following too close and improper passing, license revoked six months.

SCHOOL NEWS

RUMSON

Halloween was the prime topic at Forrestdale school last week. Each classroom was busy producing varied projects of eerie nature. Several classes had parties. Grade 4B was one of these. Thursday we had a Halloween party. We saw a cave man and we couldn't guess him. Then he took off his mask; he was Jimmy Adamson. Then we had a drink and some doughnuts and then played games.

—Suzy Levi, 4B

Other activities were numerous. We are working on a pioneer panel. It is about pioneers in the early days. The boys in our class are making cabins and the fort. The girls are dressing their dolls in pioneer clothing. In this way we learn about the pioneers and have fun at the same time.

—Jeanne Rich 4B

The following girls were elected to office for the year in the Leaders' club. Lois Bouwmeester, president; Kittie Woodman, secretary, and Jennifer Johnston, treasurer.

—Kittie Woodman, Secretary

Miss Marion Peseux's 6A class gave a play called "The Fruited Plain." The program was about Johnny Appleseed and the events which happened in his time.

The following sketches were given: The Lewis and Clark expedition, Dolly Madison and the British burning Washington, the birth of "The Star Spangled Banner," the completion of the Erie canal, and the building of the early railroads. Inventions of the period were included.

Having speaking parts were—Martha Robinson, Richard Phillips, Martin Fritter, Kent Ross, Shea McHenry, Peter Subowics, Ellen Lichtig, Jane Jagan, Gregory Taylor, Pam Brewster, Billy Laursen, Linda Gray, Candy Diggin, Bobby Munro, Donna Brogle, Rachael Lemberg, Beverly Gallagher, Greg Huelsenbeck, Sandra Blodgett and Joan Low.

Richard Phillips and Richard Hoffman were property managers. The class sang several songs during the program.

—Joan Low, 6A

ELECTS OFFICERS

MATAWAN — Miss Joyce Ward was named president of the Baptist Youth fellowship of the Baptist church at a meeting of the group last week. Other new officers are Clifford Reeves, Jr., vice president; Miss Judith Lauterwald, secretary, and Martin Lauterwald, treasurer. Plans were made for an ice skating party Nov. 16 in Asbury Park.

TO HEAR KNIFFIN

ATLANTIC HIGHLANDS — Harry F. Kniffin of Fair Haven will address the Communion breakfast meeting of the St. Agnes holy Name society here Sunday morning.

An Indian word meaning "abundance of fish" gave Panama its name.

General MacArthur Has Returned!

EATONTOWN—General MacArthur has returned:

General MacArthur, a mallard duck named after the famed military leader by a group of Boy Scouts, came back to the Monmouth county SPCA shelter here again yesterday.

SPCA officials were not surprised to see the general. Year after year they have found homes for him, but he has always returned, sometimes from the most distant places.

Yesterday, MacArthur brought reinforcements. Three other mallards accompanied him to the shelter.

Councilman Hits Charges

SHREWSBURY —Councilman John W. VanBrunt last night attacked charges made during the recent borough campaign that there is "boss rule" and "closed corporation" municipal government in the borough. He did not say who made the statements.

Mr. VanBrunt was elected Tuesday to complete the term of the late Robert R. Graham.

In his statement, Mr. VanBrunt said: "In the few months I have been privileged to sit here as an appointed councilman, I have observed no evidence of controlled, directed or dictated action by anyone, elected, appointed or otherwise.

"The fact that our borough affairs are handled in a business like manner and with harmony, little or no disagreement or hostile argument, might lead some folks to believe the Shrewsbury borough government is controlled. I believe I can truly attest that, much to the contrary, no one or more bosses other than the residents and taxpayers would stand any chance of dictating to this borough government," Mr. VanBrunt added.

"In my book nobody's going to boss me while I'm on this council," he said.

Symphony Man Talks to AAUW

Engelbert Brenner of Atlantic Highlands, a member of the New York Philharmonic society, spoke at the fall supper meeting of Northern Monmouth County branch, American Association of University Women, Monday night in the Methodist fellowship hall. Mrs. William Mair of Little Silver arranged the program.

Engelbert Brenner

Mr. Brenner described a symphony orchestra in its three principal roles: as a solo group, as accompanist in the ballet, and as the accompanist in the opera.

The speaker, who is an oboist, played two types of oboes and the English horn to demonstrate the ranges and flexibility of those instruments in composition. He also played selections by a variety of composers to illustrate his talk.

Mrs. Karl M. Jacobi of Little Silver, president, introduced the following: Mrs. Kenneth Basehore and Miss Charlotte McCane, Red Bank; Mrs. Joseph Hager, West Long Branch; Mrs. Fred Iverson, Middletown; Mrs. E. C. Corson, Little Silver, and Mrs. Paul Stender and Mrs. Christopher Probasco, Fair Haven.

Mrs. John W. Kouba, Jr., Rumson, and Mrs. R. Dean Coddington, Fair Haven, were supper chairmen. Board members who provided the food and served the supper were Mrs. Charles L. Schmidt, Mrs. Roger G. Sayers and Mrs. David VanIderstine, Rumson; Mrs. E. I. Osborne, Middletown; Mrs. Homer B. Hicks, New Monmouth; Miss Elizabeth A. Kelley, Mrs. William A. Magee, Miss Irma von Glahn and Mrs. Daniel Huebner, Red Bank; Mrs. Robert E. Billings, New Shrewsbury; Mrs. Irving Korr, Lincroft; Mrs. Benjamin S. Sanderson, 3d, Mrs. Neil G. Smith, Mrs. Edward F. Torre, Mrs. David K. Siegel, Mrs. Carl A. Borgeson, Mrs. William Mair, Mrs. Joseph M. Pingitore, Mrs. John J. Ryan and Mrs. Jacobi, Little Silver, and Mrs. R. A. Snedeker, Long Branch.

The following activities were announced: Red Bank literature group meeting, Monday, 2 p. m., "Huckleberry Finn," by Mark Twain, in keeping with this year's program theme, "The American Novel, Past and Present."; gourmet group, 8:15 p. m., Tuesday, home of Mrs. Billings, Riverdale ave., New Shrewsbury, with Edward Milline, former chef of the British royal Navy, and instructor for the gourmet cooking classes at the Red Bank adult school, as the speaker.

International relations group, Wednesday, 8:15 p. m., home of Mrs. Leo Kessler, 26 Prince pl., Little Silver, featuring a film strip, "Challenge by China;" French conservation group, next Thursday and Wednesday, Nov. 27, home of Mrs. Sanderson on 16 Winding Way, Little Silver, with beginners' classes at 7:45 p. m., and the entire group, 8:15 p. m.

Oil painint group, next Wednesday and Wednesday, Nov. 27, both at 1 p. m., home of Mrs. Leon Abel, 107 Queen's dr., Little Silver; and drama group, Tuesday, Nov. 19, 8:15 p. m., home of Mrs. William Marsen, Oak Hill rd., Middletown.

The branch recent graduates group will meet at the home of Mrs. Jan Marvin on 110 McLaren st., Red Bank, at 9:15 a. m. Nov. 19. This will be a "Kaffeeklatsch." Members are urged to bring their children.

Matawan Man Listed as Critical

MATAWAN TOWNSHIP—Jesus C. Santiago, 41 Atlantic ave., Matawan, remained in critical condition in Perth Amboy General hospital this morning following an acoident Sunday in which he and three passengers in his car were injured.

Mr. Santiago sustained broken ribs, internal chest injuries and head injuries, according to the hospital.

Police said Mr. Santiago's car was headed west on Lower Main st. when it struck a pole. They surmised that Mr. Santiago may have been blinded by the sun at the bend in the road.

In fair condition in Monmouth Memorial hospital is Donald Logan, 17 South ave., Atlantic Highlands, with cuts of the face and an injury to the left hip.

John Johnson, rt. 36, Port Monmouth, was released after treatment for cuts of the face. Percy Jones, 11 Lincoln ave., Atlantic Highlands, who also sustained facial cuts, is in fair condition at Perth Amboy General.

Patrolman John Kinnane issued a summons to Santiago for careless driving.

Red Bank Driver Hurt As Car Skids Into Tree

LOCUST — Peter Rossi, 26, of 210 Shrewsbury ave., Red Bank, was treated in Riverview hospital early Sunday for knee and back injuries after his car struck a pole on Locust Point rd.

Middletown police said Mr. Rossi was driving south at 2:25 a. m. when his car skidded on a curve.

Legislature Now May Seek Cash for High State Costs

TRENTON — A high-ranking Democrat predicts the New Jersey legislature will be asked to appropriate an additional five million dollars for state government costs this year.

The legislature returns to work Monday. It is expected to meet at least four times before recessing for the Christmas holidays.

Its most pressing problem may come in the form of resumed hostilities over the Republican majority's budget-cutting last spring, particularly since the Democrats are about to take control of the assembly.

The Republicans cut Democratic Gov. Robert B. Meyner's 345-million-dollar budget by 10 million dollars. About 2.5 million dollars of this was in "housekeeping" items—food, clothing, fuel, telephone and telegraph, postage, printing and the like.

Gov. Meyner and his cabinet members protested these cuts would force many departments to operate some of their activities on less money than was available the previous year.

They said rising prices would force curtailment of essential services.

Call Cut Necessary

The Republicans said the cut was necessary in order to have a balanced budget. They said Gov. Meyner inflated the revenue estimates of department heads to a point above what the state could expect to take in during the 1957-58 fiscal year.

The problem is posed by the fact that both sides may have been at least partly correct.

Several departments of state government, particularly institutions and agencies, education, and health, are beginning to feel a little pressed for cash.

Institutions and Agencies Commissioner John W. Tramburg has instructed the boards of managers of the state's various welfare and correctional institutions to submit reports on the amount of supplemental appropriations, if any, they feel will be absolutely necessary. The reports should be ready by Nov. 18.

A sizable factor in the operation of the state's 24 institutions is the cost of fuel, which has risen in price since Gov. Meyner's original 1957-58 budget recommendations for funds to pay fuel bills were cut.

And some institutions report they already have almost used up the money provided for clothing inmates.

Educational Needs

The Department of Education may seek an additional $90,000 or so to keep the Newark State Teachers college in operation on its original campus through the spring semester. The college's students and faculty are to be moved to a new campus around the first of the year.

The Department of Health is starting to feel distressed in the field of buying drugs for distribution to local centers. The prices of several widely-used drugs have risen sharply in recent months.

A ranking Democrat on the legislature's joint appropriations committee, asked about the possible need for supplemental appropriations this year, said he thought the lawmakers would be asked to provide in the neighborhood of five million dollars.

On the other side of the coin, the state's tax revenue picture this year differs sharply from the pattern of previous years.

Instead of running above estimates, revenue from most major tax sources is right on a line with or slightly below them.

At the end of the first quarter of the fiscal year in 1956-57, revenue was some 18 million dollars above the estimates, mainly because of increases in the cigarette tax.

Revenue Shows D. P.

At the end of the first three months of the current fiscal year, revenue was more than $300,000 below the estimates.

The over-all picture can be drawn another way:

In comparison with last year, revenues have dropped one per cent below estimates while expenditures are up three per cent.

While this is a narrow margin of difference, it may present a serious problem in months to come despite statements by a treasury official that tax collections so far do not necessarily indicate a trend.

Both major parties have gone on record many times as opposed to imposition of a general sales or personal income tax. Treasury officials said last spring that about the only other sizable source of revenue would be a tax on corporate income in place of the present corporate franchise tax.

Weigh Gas Tax

The legislature may be asked to reconsider an increase in the state's gasoline tax to finance construction and improvement of highway projects for which no federal funds are available.

The lawmakers refused to impose the tax last year. At that time Gov. Meyner sought an increase of one cent a gallon. He may ask for two cents this year.

The State Highway Department has a backlog of more than 60 million dollars in non-federal road projects. In the last two fiscal years no money has been appropriated for these projects.

'Split' Hearing Is Adjourned

TRENTON — A hearing scheduled for yesterday before the state department of education on the requested split of the Shrewsbury township school district was adjourned.

Peter J. Edwardsen, Eaontown, representing Shrewsbury township, said the adjournment was asked for by New Shrewsbury.

The New Shrewsbury council voted Oct. 3 to petition the state commissioner of education for a referendum on splitting the joint school district, which is made up of New Shrewsbury and the township (Vail homes).

Shrewsbury township, in turn, has moved for dismissal of the request for a public vote.

Milton A. Mausner, New Shrewsbury borough attorney, said he asked that the hearing be adjourned—because of a technicality involving a board of review hearing the case.

He said he would discuss the matter at tonight's council meeting—and learn what future action to take.

The state commissioner of education reported this week that the New Shrewsbury petition was received here Oct. 21.

The township's motion for dismissal was filed Oct. 29.

It asks dismissal on grounds the petition was not filed, according to law, within 30 days after council received a report on the matter from Earl B. Garrison, Monmouth county superintendent of schools.

Township officials last March went on record as opposed to the proposed split.

WEDDINGS

GRIFFIN—HENRY

Mrs. Carrie B. Goodo of 76 West Bergen pl. announces the marriage of her foster daughter, Miss Constance M. Griffin, to Burnett O. Henry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick V. Henry of Perth Amboy, Oct. 5 in Pilgrim Baptist church. Rev Charles E. Bourne, pastor of the Zion Methodist church of Red Bank, officiated.

The bride was given in marriage by John C. Carter of Fair Haven. Mrs. Elaine G. Smith of Cleveland, Ohio, was matron of honor, Mrs. Constance E. Brown, Freehold, was the bridesmaid. Crystal Breckinridge was the flower girl. George Miller, Jr., the bride's nephew, was ring bearer. Arthur Henry of Perth Amboy was best man for his brother.

Following a reception in the Zion Methodist church dining room, the couple left for a wedding trip to Niagara Falls and Toronto, Canada. They are residing at 1224 Munroe ave., Asbury Park.

The bride was graduated from Red Bank high school and attended Monmouth Junior college in Long Branch. She is employed by the Army Signal Supply agency in the laboratory procurement office at Fort Monmouth. The bridegroom is employed by the law firm of Wilents, Goldman, Spitser and Sills in Perth Amboy. He was graduated from Perth Amboy high school, and from Middlesex Junior college, where he received a liberal arts degree.

Agency Lists Six Sales

FAIR HAVEN—The Russell M. Borus agency of 600 River rd., has reported six real estate transactions. Mervyn Hauser handled the sales.

Richard Seelow, formerly of North Arlington, associated with Lehn and Fink Products corporation of New York city, has purchased the property of Charles C. Harmon, Westwood dr., Little Silver.

Dr. Alvin W. Meiser, whose dental office was located on Bay ave., Highlands, bought the premises of Frank Rich at 3 Caro ct., Red Bank. Dr. Meiser has coverted the garage space into an office building.

Samuel A. Archibald of New York city has purchased the residence of Fred Gill in Silverwhite Gardens, Little Silver. Mr. Archibald is connected with the Bigelow-Sanford Carpet company.

George Beckman of New Brunswick, a member of the sales staff of Ellis office supply company, Monmouth st., Red Bank, bought the ranch-type house of Charles A. Lynch at 127 Parkview ter., Lincroft.

James A. Carton of 550 Thompson ave., East Keansburg, has taken over the old fire house on Fair Haven rd., Fair Haven, and has remodeled the building.

Leonard I. Nass of Steven ave., New Shrewsbury, has purchased a three-bedroom ranch-type house on Monmouth blvd., Oceanport, from Joseph Andruela.

Two Area Houses Sold

Two sales were announced this week by Rolston Waterbury, local realtor.

Mrs. F. Everet White has sold her six-room house, 56 Lake ave., Fair Haven, to Mr. and Mrs. William Freismuth, Toms River. Mr. Freismuth is with the New Jersey Bell Telephone company. Mrs. Whits has moved to Warwick Gardens.

Capt. and Mrs. William R. Hurder, Bronxville, N. Y., have purchased a new, modern split-level house on Madison ave., Red Bank, from Clarence Adeskavits, local builder.

The house contains a living room, modern kitchen, three bedroms, one and a half baths, game room and garage. Capt. Hurder is with the National Cargo bureau, New York city.

The sales were negotiated by Elizabeth T. Randall, associate of Mr. Waterbury.

PERSONALS

Mrs. Herbert Ely William of 120 Broad st., is a surgical patient in Riverview hospital. Mrs. Anthony Luciano of 195 River st. is a medical patient.

Myron V. Brown of Harrison ave., who has been a surgical patient at the North Temple hospital, Phila., has returned to recuperate at the home of his daughter, Mrs. W. Gilbert Manson of Hubbard ave., River Plaza.

Mr. and Mrs. Salvatore Carotenuto of Mechanic st. returned home Thursday by plane from a two-month tour of Italy. For many years, Mr. Carotenuto owned Gardner's Barber shop, which was at that time located on Broad st.

Taxpayers' Group to Meet Monday for Buildup Study

MARLBORO — The Marlboro township Taxpayers association will meet in Central school at 8 p. m. Monday, when plans will be reviewed for a buildup of the organization.

The group met Oct. 19 in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Tergis and appointed a board of directors.

Mr. Tergis, Mrs. John Carroll and Daniel B. Bartram, Jr. will serve on the board for three years, Garrett McGee, Mrs. William Carroll and Thomas E. Kocovsky for two, and Walter Hills, William Carroll and Charles Ahrens for one.

Mr. Bartram, was appointed public relations chairman, assisted by William F. Diedloff, Frank W. Herzberg and Oscar G. Datter. Mr. and Mrs. Diedloff head a group of volunteers for the association's membership committee.

Adopts Constitution

The group adopted a constitution similar to that set up by the New Jersey Taxpayers association, with which it expects to affiliate. Voting by mail will be permitted to each person aged over 21 years in member families. Business and corporation memberships will be limited to two members each. It is expected that the constitution, in final form, will be voted on Monday night.

The association will receive regular reports from members who attend meetings of both the township committee and the school board.

Mr. Bartram said it is the aim of the association "to promote efficiency and economy in government, through the improvement of public services and the reduction of public expenditures, toward the end of reducing taxes without impairment of benefits received."

2 Plead Innocent To Aiding Escape

FREEHOLD—Two pleas of not guilty were entered here Monday before County Judge John C. Giordano by Mrs. Patricia Hayes Agar, 20, and Sanford Hudson, 25, both of Keansburg, to charges of obstructing justice in the escape of Mrs. Agar's brother and another inmate from the Monmouth county jail Oct. 3.

Judge Giordano said he would fix the date for the trial of the pair on the charge that they took a car to New York for her brother, Joseph Hayes, 18, and Anthony Volpe, 21, of West Keansburg, after the two sawed their way through two bars in their cell.

It also is contended by the state that Mrs. Agar and Hudson intended to supply the escapees with money and clothing. Hayes and Volpe were picked up in a New York hotel six days after their escape and have been indicted for the jailbreak.

Kroll-Edsel Stays Here

The Kroll-Edsel automobile agency of 21 East Front st. will continue operations in Red Bank.

It was incorrectly reported in last week's Register that Kroll-Edsel was moving to its new home on Shrewsbury ave., Shrewsbury. The story should have stated that Labriola Motors, which formerly was located at 21 East Front st., was moving into its new building on Newman Springs rd., Red Bank.

T. Chester Hulit, manager of Kroll-Edsel here, said his firm has a year's lease on the building at 21 East Front st., after which it hopes to move to a new building on Shrewsbury ave., Shrewsbury, about 400 feet south of Newman Springs rd.

Patients Listed In Hazard Hospital

LONG BRANCH—Medical patients admitted to the Dr. Hazard Memorial hospital during the past week were Mrs. Madeline Kirchner, 14 Center st., Sea Bright; Mrs. Rose M. Hough, 81 Kings rd., Little Silver; Mrs. Maizie Henrick, 186½ Hope rd., Eatontown; Miss Hillary Stella, Surf rd., Monmouth Beach; David C. Foster, River Plaza, and Miss Elizabeth Castlo, Morganville.

Surgical patients are Alexander Caprio, St. Joe ter., Cliffwood Beach, and William and Charles Badecker, 409 Atlantic ave., Matawan.

Annual Ladies' Night

The annual fall Ladies' Night, under the auspices of the North Shrine club will be held Saturday, November 23 at the Shadowbrook restaurant in Shrewsbury.

The dinner is scheduled for 7:30 p. m. and a provision will be made for a cocktail hour previous to the courses. The dress will be optional but the Shriners, of course will wear their fez. There will be a gift for the ladies and a popular society group will provide music for dancing.

Henry Edelstein is handling the reservations which are definitely limited. The closing date is November 15. Mr. Edelstein's address is 22 Pleasant place, Deal, New Jersey.

8 County Squads At First Aid Parley

The Red Bank first aid and rescue squad was among the eight Monmouth county squads that attended the tenth annual convention of the International rescue and first aid association in Albany, N. Y., last week-end.

Other squads represented were Spring Lake, Neptune, Ocean Grove, Deal, Manasquan, Keansburg and Wall township.

Fined for Driving After Revocation

MIDDLETOWN—William Genrette, 126 Union ave., Long Branch, was fined $105 by Magistrate W. Gilbert Manson last night for driving while on the revoked list.

Other drivers fined were William F. Brunt, 246 Wilson ave., Port Monmouth, careless driving, $15; Joseph McCullough, 75 Monmouth ave., East Keansburg; Miss D. J. Schiffer, 21 Collinson dr., New Monmouth; Charles J. Annalore, Trenton; David Hyman, Fords, and Scott Irwin Hilgeman, Flint, Mich., $10 each for careless driving.

SES OFFICE TO CLOSE

The Red Bank office of the New Jersey State Employment Service will be closed Monday—Veterans day—in conformity with state law. It will reopen Tuesday at 8:30 a. m., Warrin B. Clark, manager of the office announced. Claimants for unemployment insurance benefits who would have reported on the holiday have been given an alternate day to report their status.

Jury Verdicts Cut, Increased

FREEHOLD—Monmouth County Judge Edward J. Ascher has reduced a jury's judgment to one accident victim and increased another in a case decided two weeks ago.

The jury had returned judgments against William Garrison, Red Coach la., Locust, for $15,000 for James Chestnut, 223 Seeley ave., Keansburg, and $2,500 to George Gass, Briarcliff pl., Port Monmouth. The awards were for injuries suffered by the two men when cars driven by Mr. Garrison and Mr. Chestnut collided in Middletown.

J. Victor Carton, Asbury Park, representing Mr. Garrison, challenged the jury's award to Mr. Chestnut as too high for the injuries he suffered. Judge Ascher ruled the verdict was excessive and reduced the award to Mr. Chestnut from $15,000 to $9,500. Mr. Chestnut was represented by Edward W. Wise, Red Bank, and Frank P. Zimmer, Asbury Park.

Mr. Gass, who was represented by Seymour J. Kleinberg, Keansbury, was a passenger in the Chestnut car. He had been awarded $2,500 and Mr. Kleinberg had sought a new trial, but agreed to drop his suit when Judge Ascher raised the award to $3,250.

Board Mulls Request to Educate Children from Capehart Housing

EATONTOWN — The school board Monday night was notified by Maj. Gen. W. Preston Corderman, commanding general of Fort Monmouth, that the first of 120 Capehart apartments would be ready for occupancy in December, and that all would be occupied by April, 1958.

Maj. Albert Adatto, representing the fort, said that although figures on the number of children to be educated from the project are not available, it was thought that there would be 72. The board will meet as a committee Tuesday at 8:30 p. m. in Memorial school to discuss with fort officials whether the board will educate children from the project.

George W. Winning said he filed application with B. Alden Lillywhite in Washington for additional aid to educate federally connected children in November, 1956. Mr. Lillywhite replied that since there were no unhoused children, the board was not eligible to receive aid at that time. If, however, enrollment of such children increased, the board's request could be reviewed between then and June, 1958.

Ask Support

Mr. Winning said he replied to Congressman Cleveland Bailey's questionnaire on the need for continued federal aid under public law 874. He also said he wrote to Sens. H. Alexander Smith and Clifford P. Case, Assemblymen Clifton T. Barkalow and Alfred N. Beadleston, Congressman James C. Auchincloss, the National Education association and Monmouth County School Boards association asking for support. All replies were favorable, he said.

Clarence G. Meeks, Jr., will represent the board at a semi-annual delegates' meeting of state district boards of education in the state house, Trenton, Dec. 7.

Notice was received from Winona Darrah of the MCOSS that the society would no longer disperse funds for the school dental program, and that all such monies should be sent to the county superintendent's office.

A progress report on the addition to Vetter school showed that if work continues at the present rate, the addition should be ready for occupancy for February, 1958. Completion of the addition will enable all classes to go on full session.

Merit Ratings

The board received an invitation from the Atlantic Highlands school board to attend a meeting Thursday, Dec. 5, when speakers will present their views on merit ratings.

J. Edson Allen will attend a meeting of the New Jersey Citizens committee for public schools at the Stacy Trent in Trenton, Saturday, Nov. 16. A discussion will be held on consolidation and regionalization.

An audit by Edward M. Kilpatrick, director of school business services for the state, showed prices charged in the three schools for milk were in order, but recommended that records be kept in a permanent record book. All books for the Memorial school cafeteria also were in order.

The board will erect posts and signs on the Steelman school grounds to prevent cars from using the school playground as a thoroughfare between College and Academy aves.

The personnel committee recommended that Mrs. Katherine Wolf be engaged at a salary of $1,000 to replace Mrs. Thelma Davis, who will continue as a substitute worker in the cafeteria.

The committee recommended that substitute teachers who work beyond a calendar month be paid on the basis of $18 per day, effective from the beginning of the second calendar month. The recommendation was made because the teacher would have the added work of holding parent conferences, preparing report cards and other responsibilities of a permanent teacher.

Change Insurance

The insurance committee recommended that the board pay the additional premium of $51 necessary to obtain additional bodily injury coverage to supplement that already held by Beale buses, which transport local school children.

The coverage would be increased from $25,000 and $100,000 to $100,000 and $300,000. Property damage will remain at $5,000.

The committee recommended cancellation of a builder's risk policy being held on the Vetter school addition after proper endorsement from contractors involved has been received by the secretary. The committee found the policy overlaps one held by contractors working on the addition.

The public relations committee recommended that a brochure be sent out prior to budget hearings, explaining the budget to be voted on in February. They recommended that at least two hearings be held. The newspapers and flyers will be used to advertise the hearings.

Taxpayers association members present were urged to help maintain an interest in tax matters.

Regional School

Anson V. Ransom, chairman of the regional study group, said a meeting was held Oct. 28 to compile a second brochure to be sent out Tuesday by both boroughs involved—Eatontown and New Shrewsbury. The next general assemblies for the regional high school will be Nov. 18 in the Tinton Falls school and Nov. 19 in Memorial school in Eatontown. A flyer will be sent home Nov. 25 with the school children containing notice of the time and places of election.

A discussion was held on a study of the records of local high school children being kept by Charles Lanza, Memorial school principal. The study came as a result of rumors that a great portion of Eatontown children attending Long Branch high school are failing in subjects. The study shows that the percentage is small.

Mr. Winning offered a resolution that Ralph E. Norwood and Dorothy Callahan be commended for their services in the system and that the commendations be made part of the permanent records.

A request was granted that an emergency teaching certificate be obtained for Mrs. Ruth Hatcher.

Mr. Winning said he would begin to advertise for furniture bids (furniture for the addition to Vetter school) this week, and would receive bids Nov. 22. Contracts are to be awarded Dec. 2.

Arrangements have been made to store the system's tractor in Thomas Catchpole's garage at $5 per month, until the board can provide a garage on its own premises.

Mr. Winning was authorized to enter into a contract with Russell Tomaino at a rate of $2.50 per day to transport a retarded pupil to Long Branch. The board receives a 75 per cent reimbursement from the state.

On a recommendation by the school auditor, the board acted upon a resolution transferring unexpended funds from capital outlay account to the repairs and replacements account.

The special election for the regional high school will be held Nov. 26 between 5 and 9 p. m. in Memorial school.

James E. Johnson, a contractor at Vetter school, has agreed to substitute blacktop in the new driveway and parking areas in place of stone macadam, at no extra cost to the board. The board secretary was authorized to execute the change order.

Evening Dept. Lists Activities

Activities for the evening department of the Red Bank Woman's club were scheduled Monday in the clubhouse.

A letter was read from Dr. M. Gregg Hibbs thanking the department for serving as a sponsor of the current building fund drive of the Red Bank first aid squad for $57,000.

The arts and crafts department will meet tonight in the clubhouse; American home, Tuesday night, home of Mrs. George Koenig, 62 Queen Anne dr., Shrews- Tuesday, Nov. 19, 9:30 a. m. home of Mrs. John Thorpe, 112 Pinckney rd., Red Bank.

The garden department met last night in the home of Mrs. Dexter O. Jones in New Shrewsbury, and held a vase exchange. Mrs. Harold Lartaud of Fair Haven, a member, gave an illustrated lecture on using dried materials in decorative arrangements.

At the next meeting, Nov. 18, members will turn in activities cards, listing club services completed this year. This will be done so that the committee in charge can select the "Clubwoman of the Year." Selections will be based on club services.

Fritz Cleary of Interlaken gave an illustrated lecture on a recent trip to Japan. Mrs. Harold Dowstra was program chairman. Hostesses were Mrs. David C. White, chairman, Mrs. Portland Merrill, Mrs. Albert Dielman and Mrs. Robert T. Maver.

Loses License For 10 Years

WAYSIDE — John M. Comerford, 39, of 125 Stone rd., West Keansburg, charged with his second offense of drunken driving, last night received a 90-day sentence to the county jail and had his license revoked for 10 years by Magistrate Marvin E. Schafer.

Five motor vehicle operators fined for speeding were: Gehard P. Klawitter, Jersey City, $25; John Fleuren, 647 Tinton ave., Eatontown, $10; Peter Cook, 27 Branford cir., New Shrewsbury, $15; Walter C. Merton, 22 Branford cir., New Shrewsbury, $18; Herman Davis, Neptune, $10, and Lee H. Deedmeyer, Freehold, $20.

Others fined were Frank Mosur, Asbury Park, $6, improper passing; Michael Ikonomou, 35 Kemp ave., Fair Haven, $12, stop street violation and no driver's license and registration in his possession; Patrick J. Scanlon, Newark, $6, improper parking, and David Esoldi, Sea Girt, $6, no driver's license or registration in his possession.

Guild to Hold Bazar Nov. 30

NEW SHREWSBURY — The Unity Guild of the Reformed church met Tuesday in White Hall. Plans were formulated for the annual Christmas bazar to be held Saturday, Nov. 30, from 3 to 8 p. m. Mrs. Charles Cottrell was appointed general chairman.

One of the features of the bazar will be the "Holiday Gift House," which will consist of hand-made articles donated by members. Mrs. William MacIntosh, Mrs. Harold Severin, Mrs. William Wellner and Mrs. Peter Moreau are to be in charge of this booth.

A parcel post sale, assorted holiday candies and cookies and all kinds of home-made refreshments also will be included. Santa Claus will be present at the children's grab bag table.

Episcopal Juniors To Have Party Dec. 3

FAIR HAVEN — The Junior Guild of the Episcopal chapel of Holy Communion, meeting Tuesday in the parish house, made plans for its annual Christmas party meeting Dec. 3 in the parish house. Members will bring guests.

Mrs. William Borner reported that the unit's annual autumn fair, held Saturday, was a success. Mrs. Otis Thorndike introduced three guests, Mrs. Arthur Kendrick, Mrs. George Dahl and Mrs. Robinson Woodward. Mrs. Thorndike and Mrs. George Wander were hostesses.

Democracy Contest Set

The Greater Red Bank Junior Chamber of Commerce has set Nov. 15 for school climinations in the Voice of Democracy contest, it was announced yesterday by Andy Locandro, chairman.

The contest is open to tenth, 11th and 12th grade students. It features both script writing and public speaking competition.

Basis for judging is a five-minute essay on the subject, "I Speak for Democracy."

Winners will compete in a Red Bank area-wide contest Nov. 20.

Winners will be entered in the state contest and will be eligible to receive an all-expense trip to the National Voice of Democracy contest awards program, Washington, D. C., during February.

Three awards will be presented to local prize winners.

An automatic portable record player will be the first prize. Second will be a camera and third a set of encyclopedia.

Christ Church Bazar Saturday

SHREWSBURY — The annual bazar of Old Christ Episcopal church will be held Saturday from 11 a. m. until 8 p. m. in the parish house.

In addition to regular bazar features the affair will also feature movies for children, in charge of Paul Hudson. A luncheon also will be served. The general committee in charge of arrangements is headed by Rev. Theodore E. A. LeVan, rector.

Mrs. Elmer Hazard will be in charge of gifts; Mrs. Paul Strassburger, aprons; Mrs. Robert Williams and Mrs. Robert Disbrow, food; Mrs. Stewart Van Vliet, country store; Mrs. Frank B. Lawes, rich and rare booth; Miss Lilian Baquet, the altar guild's candles, Christmas cards and note paper booth, and Mrs. Howell Walton and Mrs. Frank Seibert, toys.

The snack bar and toy booths will be sponsored by the Mothers' club. Men of the parish will be in charge of the sale of plants. Mrs. Cora Hunter is in charge of publicity.

'Elijah' Set By Civic Chorus

William C. Nielsen, president of the Monmouth Civic Chorus, announces that plans are complete for a performance of Mendelssohn's oratorio "Elijah" Sunday, Dec. 8 at 4 p. m., in Long Branch high school auditorium.

The 90-voice chorus and 11 soloists will be accompanied by a large symphony orchestra for the program, which is the first in the chorus' ninth season.

Edward N. Fields of Lincroft and Samuel T. Harvey of Fair Haven have been elected to the board of trustees of the chorus. The chorus will present the Gilbert and Sullivan operetta, "Yeomen of the Guard," in the spring.

Woman Is Fined $25 For Leaving Accident

Miss Mary E. Sullivan, 50, of rt. 35, Middletown, yesterday was fined $30 by Magistrate John V. Crowell for leaving the scene of an accident.

Driving without lights and careless driving cost Charles R. Hall of 40 North Bridge ave., Red Bank, $35.

Edward Kammerer, Jr., 25, of 70 Black Point rd., Rumson, paid $10 costs for failure to have his car inspected and for obstructing traffic, and $15 for not having his driver's license in his possession.

Jerry D. Thompson, 20, of Fort Monmouth, was fined $10 for having an uninspected vehicle, and S.F.C. Francis A. Beam, 32, also of Fort Monmouth, was fined $10 for being an unlicensed driver in this state and failure to have a driver's license in his possession.

Sea Bright Students Present Original Play

SEA BRIGHT—Pupils of the fifth and sixth grades presented a play, "Trees," for the home and school association yesterday. The play was written by the students and directed by Mrs. Ruth R. Hall.

Pupils in the cast were Barbara Fasiton, Jane Abbey, Patricia Longren, Roberta Robinson, Robert Johnson, Eric Swenson, Martin Mikulas, Kathleen Quigley, Lynne Betz, John Anse, Elaine Hansen, Bonnie Johnson, Mary Lou Kuozola, Dawn Earley, Arthur Axelsen, Lynne Perle, Barbara Johnson, Peggy Rose, Linda Levy, April Torich and George Krauss.

Health awards were given to Michelle Schadt, first grade, and Diane Forsman, Christine Greenhalgh and Alice Pedersen, all of the second grade.

Rumson Third Grade Students' Present Play

RUMSON — Members of the third grade, taught by Miss Evelyn Porter, presented a health play Friday in assembly. Patty deGranville read the Bible and Don Petersen led the flag saluto.

The play was named "Don's Dream." In the cast were Susan Aumack, Charles Christian, Leslie Montgomery, Barbara Anderson, Alice Robinson, Bobby Miller, Bobby Wagner, Scott Reuman, Alexa McClendon, Bruce Kerr, Kevin Hookey, Patty Coleman, JoAnn Jordan, John Connett, Robert McKee, Dickie Poole, Scott Ireland, Harris Lemberg, Debbie Cloud, Julie Simpson, Valerie Brodas, Jane Nagle, Jane Parker, Simmie Freeman, Edith Clark and Mary Kristjen.

Cincinnati was founded in 1788 by 26 settlers. Population today is about 520,000 in the city proper; 950,000 in the metropolitan district.

PTA Card Party Nov. 15

The ways and means committee of Red Bank high school's Parent-Teacher association will hold its first fund-raising event for the year, a card party Friday night, Nov. 15, in the school cafeteria. Committee aides, pictured, left to right, are Mrs. Irving L. Krakowitch, Mrs. O. Ibsen Nordrum, ways and means chairman, and Mrs. Reuben Taylor, PTA president. Mrs. Nordrum and Mrs. Krakowitch are chairmen of the event.

Council Awards Drainage Contract to Freibott Bros.

SHREWSBURY—Freibott Bros. of Port Monmouth received this borough's contract to install drainage on Silverbrook rd. and Globe ct. last night. Their bid, lowest of eight received, was $4,826.20.

Unsuccessful bidders were Charles J. Hesse, Inc., Belford, $5,144; White Construction company, Union, $5,253; Thomas Farrell, Shrewsbury, $5,400; Transco Construction, South Hackensack, $5,714; A. P. Thompson, Red Bank, $5,848.50; Edward T. Soden, Red Bank, $5,880, and William Kohl, Red Bank, $5,931.

The contract calls for drainage to be installed to take water from the two streets to a brook which lies behind properties on Silverbrook rd. and Globe ct.

Council passed on first reading an amendment to its present gunning ordinance which would prohibit the use of bow and arrow and crossbows in the borough. Public hearing on the ordinance is set for Nov. 19.

Adopted was an ordinance which prohibits parking on the east side of Shrewsbury ave. to Broad st. Maximum fines are $50 and-or 15 days in jail.

Supports Drive

Council went on record as "wholeheartedly supporting" the drive by the Red Bank first aid squad for funds to construct a new first aid building on Spring st. in Red Bank.

Mayor John H. Hawkins told the council, "Over the years the Red Bank first aid squad has been a tremendous help to this borough, not having a first aid squad of our own."

Councilman William W. Curdt reported to council that a topographical map of the proposed Robert R. Graham Memorial field submitted by borough engineer Otis R. Seaman showed the land is "in good shape." He reported that the goal for next spring is to have a baseball diamond ready for use by the Little League.

One member of the recreation committee asked Mr. Curdt if something could be done to provide a softball diamond for the Cub Scouts next year. The field is needed because construction of the new school addition eliminates the field formerly used by the Cubs.

Mrs. Allen S. Gray of 73 Sickles pl. also asked if Mr. Curdt and members of the recreation committee could hold a meeting with residents of Sickles pl., Garden rd, and Robinson pl. These three streets enclose the proposed athletic field. Mrs. Gray asked if something could be worked out concerning the amount of noise and traffic which would result from the field.

Council heard a request from Mrs. James Riordan, superintendent of malls here, to have police lock the post office door at 8 p. m. Monday through Friday. Mayor Hawkins said he felt the police could fulfill the request.

Council received a letter signed by Walter Deiss, chairman of the recreation committee, urging borough residents to attend a meeting of a parents' group Monday, Nov. 18, at 8 p. m. in the school.

Purpose of the meeting is to form a group similar to Dad's, Inc., of Fair Haven and Youth Activities, Inc., of Little Silver. Speakers from both these groups will be present.

Purpose of the organization, the letter said, "will be to co-ordinate existing youth functions, aid them in their activities and help in organizing new youth projects, particularly for teenagers."

Card Party, Sale For Riverview

RUMSON—Riverview hospital will benefit from a card party and Christmas bazar to be held by the Red Bank auxiliary of the hospital next Tuesday afternoon in Rumson Country club. Mrs. Stephen Casagrande is general chairman, and Mrs. F. Lawton Hindle in charge of the bazar.

Assisting Mrs. Hindle are Mrs. Anthony J. Perrotta, president; Mrs. Clifford F. Doring, Mrs. Richard Porter, Mrs. Edwin W. Irwin, Mrs. Carlyle Miller, Mrs. Rolston Waterbury and Mrs. Joel M. Johnson.

Mrs. John Buchanan is reservation chairman, aided by Mrs. Robert Berg, Mrs. Andrew P. Dedick, Mrs. Benedict Nicosia, Mrs. Thomas B. Ford, Jr., Mrs. Burritt S. Boynton, Mrs. Thomas Barber, Mrs. Leo C. Rocco, Mrs. John Husband, Mrs. Charles Kelly, Mrs. Eugene E. Brooks and Mrs. Howard Heck.

MBC Women Slate Activities

Monmouth Boat club auxiliary, meeting Tuesday in the clubhouse made arrangements for three winter activities.

They will be hostesses Saturday, Dec. 1, for the contestants in the club's annual Turkey Bowl regatta at a luncheon in the clubhouse. That night, they will hold a Turkey Regatta ball in the clubhouse for contestants, members and guests.

Mrs. Howard Hathaway is luncheon chairman. Mrs. Bruce Anderson is auxiliary representative assisting with contestants. Also serving will be Mrs. Harvey Schenck, Mrs. Neil G. Clifton and Mrs. John H. White, 3d, auxiliary president.

The auxiliary will hold its annual semi-formal dance for junior club members in the clubhouse Dec. 28. A snowball theme will be used for decorations.

The auxiliary's annual winter dance for members and guests will be held Dec. 29. Vito Marascio's orchestra will play, and Mrs. Frank Hadley and Mrs. George Blair are chairmen.

This will be the group's final meeting until February. Mrs. Charles Allaire, Jr., and Mrs. Hugh V. Alessandroni were hostesses at the coffee hour which followed. Fifteen members attended.

30 Autos In Rally

NEW SHREWSBURY — The Republican club held its annual pre-election motorcade and rally Sunday, when 32 automobiles toured the borough.

Following the parade, the club was host to a group of borough residents in the Tinton Falls fire house, where refreshments also were served. Guests introduced by Mayor J. Lester Rigby were State Senator Richard R. Stout, Assemblymen Alfred N. Beadleston and Clifton T. Barkalow, Victor E. Grossinger, Sheriff Ira E. Wolcott, County Clerk J. Russell Woolley and the borough Republican candidates, Robert McCall, Walter Canfield and Ruth Crawford.

Mrs. Marie Lemon of Tinton Falls and Edward Carney, Jr., of Wayside were co-chairmen of the affair.

The refreshment committee was headed by Mrs. Margaret Bradley and Emerson E. Platto.

Masquerade Party Replaces Meeting

NEW SHREWSBURY — In place of the regular meeting Tuesday, Girl Scout troop 4 held a Halloween masquerade party in White hall. Judy Wilde and Nancy Bailly served as hostesses.

Mrs. H. R. Thiesing, Jr., assistant troop leader, was in charge. Prizes were awarded to the prettiest, Erica Mogen, and the most original, Diane Pincus. An investiture ceremony for the new girls and the troop will take place Tuesday.

CORPS COPS PRIZE

CLIFFWOOD — The Junior Drum and Bugle corps of Guadalcanal post, Veterans of Foreign Wars of Cliffwood and Matawan, won second prize for the best musical unit in the 10th anniversary celebration parade of the South Old Bridge fire company Saturday.

Because of illness, only half the corps members participated.

Since its organization 10 months ago, the corps has won seven prizes.

NOV. 19 SUPPER

Pride of Monmouth council, Sons and Daughters of Liberty, will hold a "Pollyanna" covered dish supper party at the next meeting Nov. 19, in the lodge rooms on Monmouth st. Guests will be Mrs. Myra Fox, Mrs. Olive Croydon and Harry Dowen. Arrangements were made when the council met Tuesday.

Nine Troops Camp Bound

OAKHURST—Nine Boy Scout troops have signed up for the 1958 summer camp program at Monmouth council's new 525-acre mountain camp at Forestburg, N. Y., Oscar Newquist, Fair Haven, chairman of the council's camp committee, announced this week.

Indications, he added, are that the camp will be "sold out" by Dec. 31. Reservations for the season opened Oct. 21.

Mr. Newquist said he estimates more than 1,500 Monmouth county scouts would enjoy a week or more at the camp. Mountain climbing, all aquatic sports and self-reliant training are featured.

Troops already signed up are: 22, Atlantic Highlands, sponsored by the Methodist church; 35, Middletown, Baptist church; 17, Red Bank, Methodist church; 71, Oakhurst, Oakhurst Manor club; post 50, Shrewsbury, Presbyterian church; 80, Keyport, St. Joseph's Catholic church; 104, Glendola, Glendola grange, and 58, Oceanport.

HELD FOR LARCENY

MIDDLETOWN — Charles B. Lindsley, 27, of Newton was sent to county jail by Magistrate W. Gilbert Manson yesterday to await grand jury action of breaking and entering and larceny charges.

Lindsley is charged with entering the Stewart root beer stand, rt. 36, Belford, six months ago and taking money and merchandise. Deputy Police Chief Melvin Leek said the man has been in custody of Essex county authorities since that time.

Mrs. Rassas Entertains For Sisterhood

SHREWSBURY — Mrs. Benjamin Rassas of Buttonwood dr. was hostess this week at a tea in her home for prospective members of the Sisterhood of Congregation Bnai Israel of Red Bank. It was arranged by the unit's membership chairmen, Mrs. William Brody and Mrs. Wilfred Howitt.

Mrs. Irving Diamond, president, explained the group's aims, purposes and programs, assisted by a board member, Mrs. S. Paul Mitchell, hospitality chairman. Guests were Mrs. Stella Budenstein, Mrs. Louis Mechanic, Mrs. Frank Millstein and Mrs. Sidney Wolfeld.

GOOD LUNCH

Hamburgers with high seasoning are fun for a change!

Racy Hamburgers
Mashed Potatoes
Creamed Green Peas
Carrot Curls — Rolls
Fruit — Beverage

RACY HAMBURGERS

Ingredients: 2 small onions, ¾ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon dry mustard, pepper, 1 pound ground chuck beef, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine.

Method: Peel onions; on waxed paper, grate onions fine; there should be about 3 tablespoons pulp and juice. Add salt, mustard and pepper to taste to onion; mix well. Work onion mixture into ground beef with fork or fingers; shape into 4 patties. Melt butter in 9-inch skillet until it begins to hiss. Add hamburgers and brown each side over high heat. If meat is liked pink inside or well-done, turn heat low and finish cooking to desired doneness, turning to cook evenly. Makes 4 servings.

Bayonets made their first appearance in Bayonne, France.

Troop 97 Is Invested

HIGHLANDS — St. Agnes Brownie Scout troop 97 held an investiture ceremony in conjunction with a Halloween party last week in the cafeteria of St. Agnes school. Mrs. John Joslin, leader, was assisted by Mrs. Lawrence Borges, mother of the month.

Mrs. Leonard Mayo and Mrs. Warren Sheehan were in charge of decorations and refreshments. The girls conducted a Halloween parade dressed in costume and games were played.

Mrs. Michael Cassone assisted Mrs. Joslin as mother for November. They will make needle cases and sewing and work kits as their new project.

Invested were Mary Ellen Allen, Lauren Borges, Patricia Caruso, Cynthia Cassone, Patricia Garrison, Kathleen Kennedy, Joan Mayo, Donna Simonetti, Joslin, Judy Chapski, Marie Kugele, Patricia Morrisey, Linda Demko and Linda Fisher.

There will be no meeting Monday, Veterans day.

Rumson Windmill Levelled by Fire

RUMSON—Police reported the old windmill on Rohallion dr. was destroyed by fire Halloween.

Oceanic hook and ladder company and the Rumson fire company were called out at 11 p. m. to fight the blaze—believed to have been started, police said, by Halloween pranksters.

The firemen were called out for the second time at 4:30 a. m. when the fire started again.

The windmill was on the property of Stephen Leslie. No estimate of the damage was available. Police are continuing their investigation.

VFW HOME STARTED

CLIFFWOOD—Construction of the new Veterans of Foreign Wars home on Hawthorne st. and Cliffwood ave. was started this week with the laying of subflooring.

The new headquarters of Guadalcanal post are scheduled for completion within six months.

My Girls All Wear Leather

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

If you want men to notice your clothes, wear leather, says Samuel Robert of Haverhill, Mass.

This youthful-looking father of a college daughter and a prep school son may be suspected of an ulterior motive in his remarks, since he is one of the country's leading designers and manufacturers of leather fashions for women. But his pretty daughter, Andrea, a senior at Vassar, staunchly upholds her dad's opinion.

"Boys hardly ever notice what I'm wearing," says she, "unless I happen to have on a leather coat or jacket. Then they do nip-ups."

"Try it yourself," advises Robert. "Men always notice a handsome piece of leather—it's just something instinctive. A man may make no comment on your beautiful new mink coat—but just put on a suede polo coat and listen to his compliments!"

Robert got interested in leather when he took over the family cleaning and dyeing business founded by his father. When leather garments were sent in for cleaning, he felt that tanning processes should be improved so that fine leather could be cleaned more easily. Although he was highly successful in expanding the cleaning business, he always had had a hankering to be a designer, too. So in 1945 he started designing and making high-style leather garments, with a modern factory in Haverhill and a showroom in New York.

"I guess it was a natural for me," he says. "I was raised in a leather city. I knew the tanners, and I was able to explain my ideas to them. I wanted them to develop finer leathers than ever had been available before, and to work out new methods that would make leather garments easy to clean, light-weight and practical.

"Well, they did it. And that's why leather fashions have become practically standard in almost every woman's wardrobe today."

ALL IN THE FAMILY . . . Samuel Robert, designer of leather fashions, assists daughter Andrea into a brass-buttoned shirt style reefer in beige kidskin while Mrs. Robert looks on, wearing a white leather coat with mink collar and hat.

In his current collection Robert has everything from leather shorts and slacks to mink-collared evening costumes of white suede embroidered in gold and seed pearls. There are suits with supple kidskin jackets in every color of the spectrum, with cashmere skirts and sweaters dyed to match. There are leather polo coats and reefers, fur-trimmed town coats in kid or suede, leather skirts and jackets—even leather dresses.

"With these new light-weight, supple skins, you can do almost anything with leather that you can with fabric," says he. "The color goes all the way through, too, and most of them can be kept clean simply by wiping with a damp sponge or cloth."

All members of the Robert family are leather fans—daughter Andrea, son Stephen, a student at Exeter, and the attractive, blonde Mrs. Robert. Which makes it nice for Pop.

Uncle Herbie' Pens Another Of His Ramblings for The Register

This story was inspired by a remarkable sermon preached on Father's Day by my spiritual adviser, the Reverend John F. Crouthamel of the First Baptist church of Red Bank. Excerpts of this sermon even found their way in a Chicago Journal.

As Robert Browning penned—
"Age is a quality of mind
If you have left your dreams behind,
If hope is cold,
If you no longer look ahead,
If your ambition's fires are dead,
Then, you are old."

Someone mentioned "Doc, when you write you ramble all over the place." But are ramblings of that sort much different than life itself, with its "this and thats," and "here and theres" and "now and thens?"

Research proves, there are more elderly people alive today than ever before, thanks to modern medicine and the new science of gerontology, the average life expectancy stands today at an unprecedented high. Biblical Paul called himself "Paul the aged" when as a matter of fact, he was only 60. But Paul felt his years keenly—Do you?

Because life expectancy in Paul's time was only 23 while today its upped to 64!—Back in 1900 when my good wife Hannah and I (my first and only wife) unloaded our household goods in Red Bank (I've forgotten whether it was one or two wagon loads). Any way, life expectancy then in 1900 was only 48. Have you noticed how women blush and smile and soft pedal their ages? When we men folk only grunt and spill our years right out!

As the old saying says: "If you can't lick old age join it—even if, (as the song goes) "The old gray mare ain't what she 'usta' be—"

Some of you older ones, (of when the younger ones may be envious), are wondering if they will ever match your age, may remember Mrs. Mary Wright, who 20 years ago, (according to the Asbury Park Press) passed on at 76. Mrs. Wright, the pioneer with vision to see and so what she saw, started the first cafeteria in New Jersey. Located on Main Avenue, Ocean Grove, "to please the eye and tickle the palate," regardless of the fact that "no food is good food, unless it's good for you and me."

You see—Ocean Grove was born 1869 and planned much earlier. Births are still planned today too, aren't they? Was Ocean Grove, the Holy City, premature being born and weaned two years ahead of her twin sister Asbury Park?

This might seem again, more rambling than ever, being only a lead to my mother's accident near the "Sampler Cafeteria" when we lived in Ocean Grove. She was 80 then and would you believe she stepped on a little piece of banana peel, fell and broke a hip, living sixteen years afterward.

You know I love young people too, even if some of them do accidently fall through my pivet hedge directly opposite Steinbach's front door. But my son "Joe" Williams only smiled out loud about it, explaining, "It used to be a routine pastime dad, to shove high school freshmen clean through "Mel" Cornwell's hedge (especially when wet) I mean the hedge! Where the unique China and Glass Shop now stands to grace Red Bank.

Being inquisitive in nature as only we men folk are, I found myself driving through Lower Squankum, looking for a cemetery. Just before we cross the bridge under which for more than a million years, the historic Manasquan River still flows and flows, wasting itself into the sea of time, we spot the peaceful little cemetery. The markers and stones therein proved that my great-grandfather Hance Herbert was only 74 and his wife Anna of the Havens kin only 73. I noticed too this little cemetery wasn't fenced in at all, but who's going to get out anyway?

Even if rheumatoid-arthritis, sometimes called Arthur Itis in Oldentimes) does visit to pester and plague the "middle agers" and old folk, many things in life could be worse—and are—my mother had something of that sort, but never mentioned much about it, or anything else.

Rather than complain, she drank plenty of milk every day, topped off with calcium tablets for good measure.

In addition to that broken hip and an assortment of other physical misfortunes and in spite of them mother lived a full life out to 96.

You know if I had even a touch of "Arthur Itis" beside the quart of milk a day, I'd eat plenty of raw food—just loaded with calcium. Called lime when I was a boy.

Haven't you wondered if many of us aren't living too long, since science, medicine, common sense and right living are teamed up to help us to hit and break the age barrier. And before we know it, some of us will be hitting well over the century mark—and often with little aim in life after 65 plus social security every month.

The problem isn't that old people are increasing in numbers, but that most of us haven't the right philosophy of what age really is and does to us and what to do about it.

Someone said "Doc, would you want to go to an old man's home? Gosh no, I would like an old woman's home!" better.

A recent editorial in the Asbury Park Press has this to say, "The Monmouth County Traffic Safety Committee recommends more rigid visual requirements for persons licensed to drive automobiles. Under the proposal, mandatory yearly examinations would be given drivers in the effort to enforce reasonably high standards and reduce the number of accidents attributable to faulty vision.

Highway safety demands that all drivers are subject to visual and general mental and physical examination to demonstrate whether they are capable of safe driving. The present system of awarding what is in fact a lifetime license at the age of 17 is an invitation to accidents—what do you think?

I've been driving since 1911—46 years by most figuring and haven't hit anything or anybody yet. My first car was a right hand drive Maxwell. Cruising speed at 26 m.p.h. and a little faster down hill, over those wash board roads of gravel and dust.

On one trip to Atlantic City in 1911 the little black Maxwell (no top) with two visiting kin folk from St. John (N. B) Canada and two umbrellas and one parasol—well it rained every foot of the way. One Canada guest complimented me with "you're a very good, careful driver Herbie." In the meantime, rain drops were dripping off her parasol down my neck to the seat of my pants. Said she in Canadian dialect "I'm enjoying every minute of this wonderful trip"—she was dry!

We often wonder how our ancestors, a century ago or more managed to masticate and enjoy their proteins, starches and fats, before the era of plates, bridges and dentures. Very simple—they thrived alright on soft foods—called "spoon victuals" until they happened to bite too hard on that six year molar—lunch basket! and hit a nerve—and off they went to look for a good strong blacksmith with hair on his chest and arms. He yanked teeth in a giffy! To become a legal D.D.S. in those days after a fair degree of competency, the county clerk at Freehold (not Russ Woolley) would issue your license with a stamp and a smile, putting you in the driver's seat as a real dentist at once.

Back a couple of centuries ago dentists of any sort were scarce as white crows or hen's teeth. Fact is about 120 years ago Baltimore was the birthplace of the world's first dental college.

But let's face the facts about this thing known as longivity. Because in our U. S. A. one accidental fatality occurs every six minutes. And one injury every three seconds. Proving I think that far too many come to "the end of the trail" with their boots on!

So time finally at last seems ripe to dam and tap the wasting resources of the "age old" Manasquan River, to the tune of as many millions of gallons as the government will okay. This would quench the thirst of Monmouth County's vast seashore area.

HOME ECONOMICS

Saving Pepper Seed

Because of the scarcity of some varieties of peppers this year many growers are thinking of saving their seed for next year. This is still possible because the pepper fruits produced on healthy, well-grown plants which are free from disease are now turning red and are in good condition for seed saving.

There are a number of complications, however, in saving pepper seed and especially if two or more varieties are grown nearby, says County Agent Clark. Peppers are both self-and cross-fertilized. Varieties readily mix and the maintenance of varietal purity is one of the seed growers' problems.

A veteran pepper seed grower years ago urged growing sweet and the hot peppers on different farms. He suggested planting 8 or 10 rows of corn between different varieties. Bees will stop on the corn blossoms and clean their feet and the corn also will prevent the mixture of pollen by acting as a windbreak, he said.

Expert breeders now feel that a great distance between fields should be kept to be sure that bees or other insects will not travel from the variety grown in one field to a different variety in an adjoining one.

Growers in Southern New Jersey who have specialized in peppers have been saving their own seed for many years. Many pepper growers have not realized the ease of crossing different varieties, and so have introduced new varieties susceptible to mosaic and other diseases, reports C. H. Nissley, Rutgers vegetable specialist. They are producing peppers of a number of shapes.

Cattle Feed Prices

The feed situation on many New Jersey dairy farms shows signs of being critical this winter. Dairymen are faced with many questions concerning which feeds are wise to buy now. As might be expected, there is a wide variation in feed prices and diarymen would be wise to shop around before making their final purchase, advises Frank A. Wright, extension dairy specialist at Rutgers university.

There seems to be some question among authorities as to the advisability of purchasing hay now or later on in the winter. In Mr. Wright's opinion, now is the time to buy hay.

There is an abundant supply of hay available to New Jersey dairymen in New York state and the Midwest. Present prices are reasonable, ranging from $39 a ton for mixed hay to $50 for second cutting alfalfa. Present supplies give you a chance to select high quality hay.

Some dealers are known to be holding back on sales, expecting an increase in price, according to the specialist.

Some authorities believe that because of the large supply of hay available now there will be a surplus next spring, forcing prices down. This, of course, is always a possibility.

The price of beet pulp is undergoing considerable change at the moment because of recent shipments from the new beet crop. Some New Jersey dairymen are buying beet pulp for $56.68 a ton, unloading it themselves from railroad cars, Mr. Wright observes. Some beet pulp from the old crop is still being sold in New Jersey with the old price tag of $80 a ton. There is a similar situation with citrus pulp.

Cull potatoes are still available in New Jersey ranging in price from 15 to $8 a ton. These are an exceptionally good buy, says Mr. Wright.

Cows eat them regularly and will maintain production on them. During the season of apple harvest and cider making, apple pomace will be available in many areas for dairy feed. This pulp has about two-thirds the feeding value of potatoes or silage.

With these wide variations in availability of feeds and prices, dairymen are urged to check several sources before purchasing feeds.

Forest Products

With the approach of cold weather and fewer farm chores, those farmers who have woodlots may harvest profitable crops of forest products says Mr. Carik.

Some sales for timber have been made in Monmouth county. Woodlots having large trees which are of suitable species and in sufficient numbers to justify the labor of their removal as saw logs, find a ready market among timber buyers. There are contractors in the market for pulp wood that meets specifications. If the stuff for sale is even a lower grade than pulp wood, there is always a fuel wood market.

Owners of woodlots who are sincerely interested in conservation may get expert advice through the extension service from the Foresters at the Department of Conservation and Development. They will mark trees to be harvested so that after a crop is taken from the woods and sold, the trees that are left have less competition for moisture and plant food than they had before, so they will grow more rapidly to produce a future crop.

Meat Storage

Knowing how to select the best cuts of meat for your money is valuable knowledge, but knowing how to store meats to retain quality is important, too, says home agent, Mrs. Lorna K. White.

All fresh, cured and cooked meat should be kept in the coldest part of the refrigerator and used as soon as possible after purchase, she says. Never wash meat. Unwrap the fresh and cured meats bought in regular market paper and rewrap them loosely in waxed paper, aluminum foil or clean butcher paper. A little circulation of air around the meat is desirable as it dries the surface slightly, retarding bacterial growth.

Prepackaged fresh meat should have the wrapper loosened before storing. Cured or smoked meat and sausage that is prepackaged may be stored in the original package. Once opened, the products should be treated like fresh prepackaged meats. Many of these meats have such a mild cure today that they require refrigeration—hams, bacon and boneless shoulder butts.

The frozen storage compartment of your refrigerator is useful for shorttime storage of frozen meats, says the agent. But such compartments are not designed for quick-freezing nor for longtime storage.

Wrap meats for your freezer tightly in freezer-wrapping materials and freeze them quickly. Store them at zero or lower. Smoked and salted meats should not be stored longer than a month in your freezer. Longer storage often develops rancidity.

Store cooked meat in a covered container in as large pieces as possible to prevent further drying out. Remember, it has already lost some moisture through cooking.

Winterize Furniture

Winterize your furniture to withstand the dry atmosphere and overheated rooms during the fall and winter. This is an ideal time to lubricate and feed the wood and slow down the checking as well as to clean the surface. Even scratches will appear less noticeable, says home agent Mrs. Lorna K. White.

Mix together in a bottle, one tablespoon gum turpentine, three tablespoons boiled linseed oil, shake and add one tablespoon of this mixture to one cup of hot water. Use while hot. When it cools off, discard and mix another tablespoon of the turpentine and oil preparation with a fresh cup of hot water.

Dip a soft cloth in the solution and wring it out. Do not use a dripping cloth. Apply the cleaning solution to only one part of the piece at a time. Rub the wood with the cloth, keeping moisture away from joints.

Some surfaces may need friction to remove all the old dirt. No. 3/0 steel wool can be used to rub the solution lightly on neglected pieces. Rub with the grain. Wipe the surface with another cloth wrung out in clear warm water. Wipe the surface immediately with a dry cloth.

After the surface has dried thoroughly, you may also want to use 3/0 steel wool and FFFF pumice powder with oil (lightweight mineral oil, paraffin oil, lemon oil or olive oil) to lubricate the wood and smooth the surface.

Dust the surface with FFFF pumice powder and keep the steelwool pad wet with the oil as you rub it over the surface, with the grain of the wood. Rub rungs with a mixture of pumice and oil, using the pads of your hands. On carvings, use an old toothbrush or nailbrush to remove dirt from deep crevices. Remove all traces of the oil and pumice or steel-wool particles with a soft brush and dry cloths until no finger marks show. Polish with a woolen cloth.

The agent believes you will be amazed at the satin-like mellowness and a return to the wood's original color and beauty this treatment produces.

Brighten Wardrobe

Although seemingly small, accessories are very important items in a woman's wardrobe. They can change the apparent character of many costumes and give a psychological lift to the wearer.

Mrs. Lorna K. White, home agent, says that as important as accessories are they can be quite costly unless purchases are carefully planned. She points out that as with other clothing items, accessories are designed for street wear.

Planning the wardrobe as a whole is the first step, with special emphasis on color scheme. Choosing garments with which the same set of basic accessories can be worn will simplify the situation. For instance, brown shoes, hat and bag can be worn not only with a brown suit or dress, but also with warm beiges, rust, green and gold tones.

Keeping together not only the colors, but the type of garments is another way of cutting down on the need for additional accessories. Mrs. White points out that semi-tailored accessories can be worn with many types of garments whereas very dressy accessories look well only with dressy clothes.

Some accessories can also add a bit of interesting color or dash to an otherwise uninteresting costume. Such items as a scarf, flower or jewelry can do a great deal without putting too much strain on the pocketbook.

The agent warns against subtracting from good taste when you add accessories to your costume. Don't wear an overabundance of accessories that might clutter your appearance.

Get More Eggs

Often a family with a small backyard flock is satisfied with the number of eggs their birds produce. The fact is, with a few improvement in management, the same flock of birds could double or triple the number of eggs they lay, according to Richard O. Rice, associate agricultural agent.

Here are some ways to increase egg production:

1. Good ventilation in poultry house.
2. Keep birds confined with about three to four square feet per bird.
3. Have plenty of feeder space and make sure the feeders are of proper size.
4. Have an adequate supply of water, and clean pans at least once daily.
5. Feed a commercial egg mash. Do not overfeed on grain if grain is fed. Follow the manufacturer's recommendations.
6. Provide at least one nest for every five birds and make sure that the nesting material is clean and plentiful.
7. Keep litter clean. Clean dropping pits and boards frequently. Disinfect roost once every two weeks.
8. Remove culls.
9. Give birds a 14-hour day by using lights.
10. Feed birds on schedule.

RED BANK REGISTER'S TOTAL NET PAID CIRCULATION IS 16,576

RED BANK REGISTER'S MIDDLETOWN-BAYSHORE EDITION CIRCULATION NOW

5,513

Circulation, in the newspaper business, means the amount of newspapers SOLD. Sold . . . that is the key word!

The Red Bank Register's guaranteed paid circulation is 16,576. This figure is audited and guaranteed bona fide by the Audit Bureau of Circulation.

Circulation, in the case of The Red Bank Register, also means that readers want this newspaper. Every week 16,576 people pay ten cents each for their copy of The Red Bank Register. The Register is not forced on anyone. Our readers pay thousands of dollars in the course of a year to get The Register into their homes and business establishments.

When advertisers buy space in a wanted media with a guaranteed circulation they are getting the best buy for their advertising dollar, and the best circulation buy in northern Monmouth County is The Red Bank Register. Invest your advertising dollar wisely; advertise in The Red Bank Register.

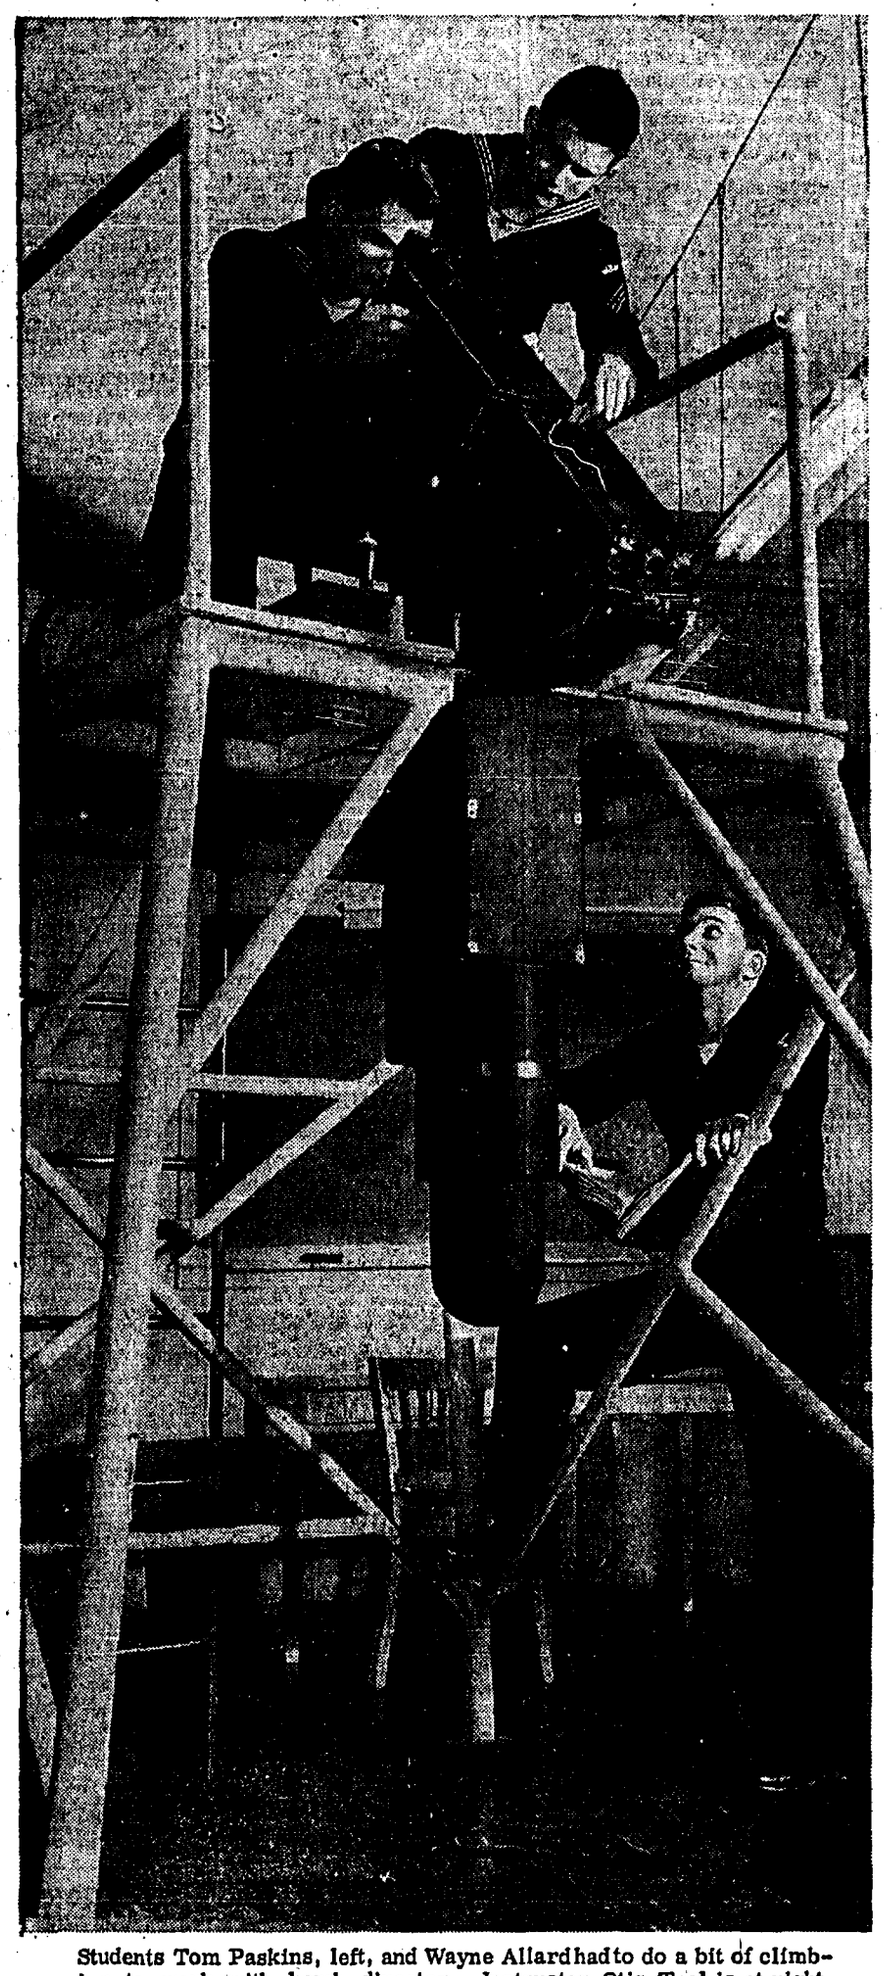
MISSILEMEN, FIRST CLASS



A glamorous new rating has been added to the United States Navy — Aviation Guided Missileman.

Sixteen young men attended the Navy's first class in aviation guided missiles at the Naval Air Technical Training Center in Memphis, Tenn.

Like other boys entering the Navy, these lads took boot training. Then they survived 26 weeks crammed with such brain-twisting courses as electronics fundamentals, transmitter theory, radar fundamentals, and a course so secret it was held in a group of buildings in the shadow of a high wire-mesh fence under the protective eye of a guard.

Near the end of the course, the class split into three groups. Two of the young men studied aviation bomb director systems; five took up the firing and control of bombs and rockets, and the third group, with nine boys, became aviation guided missilemen, dealing with guided missile history, theory and actual experience. From Memphis the boys went on to other bases to continue study and get more actual experience.

Instructor Charles Cater delivers lecture on Servo mechanism, dealing with hydraulics, electronics and pneumatic pressure.

Holding pointer, Chief Petty Officer William Barclay explains guided missile to students.

Students Louis Curran and Glen Roberts work guided missile. T/Sgt. Joseph Walling, Jr., explains details.

MONMOUTH OAKS

Says . . . "Thank you, Red Bank."

Last week we made the first announcement of Middletown's newest community of distinctive and Colonial homes. The response was highly gratifying . . three of your neighbors have decided to "step up" to Monmouth Oaks, and have placed deposits for delivery of one of these homes in the spring.

Only 28 homes will be built in a wooded setting off Nutswamp road. And for three families who desire almost immediate delivery, we have three homes under construction which can be occupied before Christmas.

If you are planning to buy a new home in the near future, do not do anything until you have seen our model homes nearing completion on Nutswamp Road only 1½ miles north of River Plaza school.

LAW DIVISION

IN THE MATTER OF THE APPLICATION OF PAUL HAUN AND NANCY H. HAUN FOR THE CANCELLATION OF TWO MORTGAGES RECORDED IN THE MONMOUTH COUNTY CLERK'S OFFICE IN BOOK 928 OF MORTGAGES PAGE 489 AND BOOK 963 OF MORTGAGES PAGE 163.

Civil Action
ORDER TO SHOW CAUSE

This matter being opened to the Court by Howard W. Roberts, a member of the firm of Roberts, Pillsbury & Carton, attorneys for the plaintiff, and it appearing from the duly verified complaint, which has been filed with the Court, that there are two mortgages open of record in the Office of the Clerk of Monmouth County which may be found in Book 928 of Mortgages at page 489 and in Book 963 of Mortgages at page 163;

AND IT APPEARING that the names of the persons who may have any possible interest in said mortgages and the debt secured thereby are as follows:

Grace Raymond, her heirs, divisees and personal representatives and her, their or any of their successors, in right, title and interest; and Geraldine Cann, individually and as substitutionary administratrix C. T. A. of the Estate of Oscar A. Kemmerer, deceased.

AND IT FURTHER APPEARING in the allegations of the complaint that the above named persons, their heirs, devisees and personal representatives, and their or any of their successors in right, title and interest, have no further interest in the mortgages or the debt secured thereby;

IT IS on this 11th day of October, 1957 ORDERED that any one of the persons hereinafter set forth and named and identified, show cause before the Monmouth County Court at Freehold, New Jersey, on the 29th day of November, 1957 at 10 o'clock in the forenoon or as soon thereafter as counsel can be heard, why a judgment should not be entered directing the Clerk of Monmouth County to cancel the record of mortgages which appear in Book 928 of Mortgages at page 489 and Book 963 of Mortgages at page 163, in accordance with the statutory provisions in such cases made and provided.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that service of this Order to Show Cause be made upon the defendants, and each and everyone of them whose addresses are unknown, by advertising this Order to Show Cause or notice thereof in the RED BANK REGISTER, a public newspaper circulating in and about the County of Monmouth, for four consecutive weeks and as to any defendant whose address is known by mailing to said defendant by regular mail at least ten days before the day hereof a true copy of this Order or notice hereof, and that such publication and mailing shall be sufficient service of process upon said defendants.

Incumbents Win Keyport Test

KEYPORT — Two incumbent councilmen, a Republican and a Democrat, were returned to office in Tuesday's voting here.

Henri J. Hansen, Republican, was high man in a four-way contest for two posts with 1,220 votes. He will begin his first elective term Jan. 1. He was appointed to council in July after Kenneth E. Joel resigned.

Democrat E. Dalton Graham won re-election with 1,215 votes and will start his third term. Defeated candidates were Chester L. Brower, Democrat, 1,145 votes, and Stanley R. Ferry, Republican, 1,110.

Everett S. Poling, who will retire as assessor, was elected collector on the Republican ticket with 1,326 votes. He defeated Leroy S. Brown, who polled 1,047. Mr. Poling will succeed Charles J. Hopla, who is retiring.

In the contest for assessor, Joseph W. Kennedy, Democrat, polled 1,208 votes to defeat Melvin W. Jones, with 1,135.

2 Girls Hurt In Rumson Crash

RUMSON — Two teenage girls were injured in an accident Sunday morning when an automobile driven by one of them, Ann Cecil, Rumson rd., went out of control and struck a tree on Ridge rd., west of Navesink ave.

The other girl, a passenger, is Susan Reardon, 12 Ocean ave., Monmouth Beach.

Police said Miss Cecil was taken to Monmouth Memorial hospital and Miss Reardon to Riverview hospital by the Rumson first aid squad.

Miss Cecil suffered cuts behind the ear and below the kneecap. Miss Reardon received a cut forehead. Both were treated and released.

Police said the car was demolished. Patrolman James K. Shea issued Miss Cecil a summons for careless driving.

Boy on Bicycle Struck by Car

PORT MONMOUTH — Glenn Armstrong, 8, of 113 Wilson ave., whose bicycle collided with a car on Wilson ave. Sunday, was reported in good condition in Monmouth Memorial hospital last night.

Middletown police said the car was driven by William Mead, Jr., 29½ Vanderbilt ave., Leonardo. The driver told police the boy rode out of Venus ave. into the path of his car and that he could not stop in time to avoid the accident.

The Port Monmouth first aid squad took the boy to Riverview hospital, where he was treated for head and face injuries, forehead bruises, possible fracture of his knees and scrapes and bruises of the hands. He then was transferred to Monmouth Memorial hospital.

Mr. Mead was charged with careless driving.

Home and School Club Schedules Open House

EATONTOWN — The Fred G. Steelman school Home and School club will have open house at the school next Wednesday starting at 7:30 p. m. The teachers will display textbooks and will outline the work and goals for the year on the chalkboard.

The hospitality committee will furnish refreshments and the class mothers will serve them in the individual classes. Membership will be available in each of the rooms. The meeting will conclude the membership drive.

The class with the highest membership will be given a party by the membership committee. In the future, the class with the highest attendance at each monthly meeting will be given a party.

The club executive board has voted unanimously to support the proposed new regional high school.

Raritan Elects Mundy; Darland

RARITAN TOWNSHIP — Democrats and Republicans divided the pie in the local election here Tuesday with a township committee seat going to Democrat Ralph E. Mundy while G.O.P. incumbent Wayne B. Darland took the municipal clerk's job.

The contest, a squeaker, saw Mr. Mundy winning by 65 votes. He garnered 1,009 to 944 for the G.O.P. candidate, Galileo Gioseffi.

Mr. Darland won with 1,061 votes to 860 for Democrat Mrs. Kathryn M. McHugh.

The election leaves the governing body with two Republicans and one Democrat. Mr. Mundy will take the seat of Democratic Committeman John A. Diver, who decided not to seek re-election.

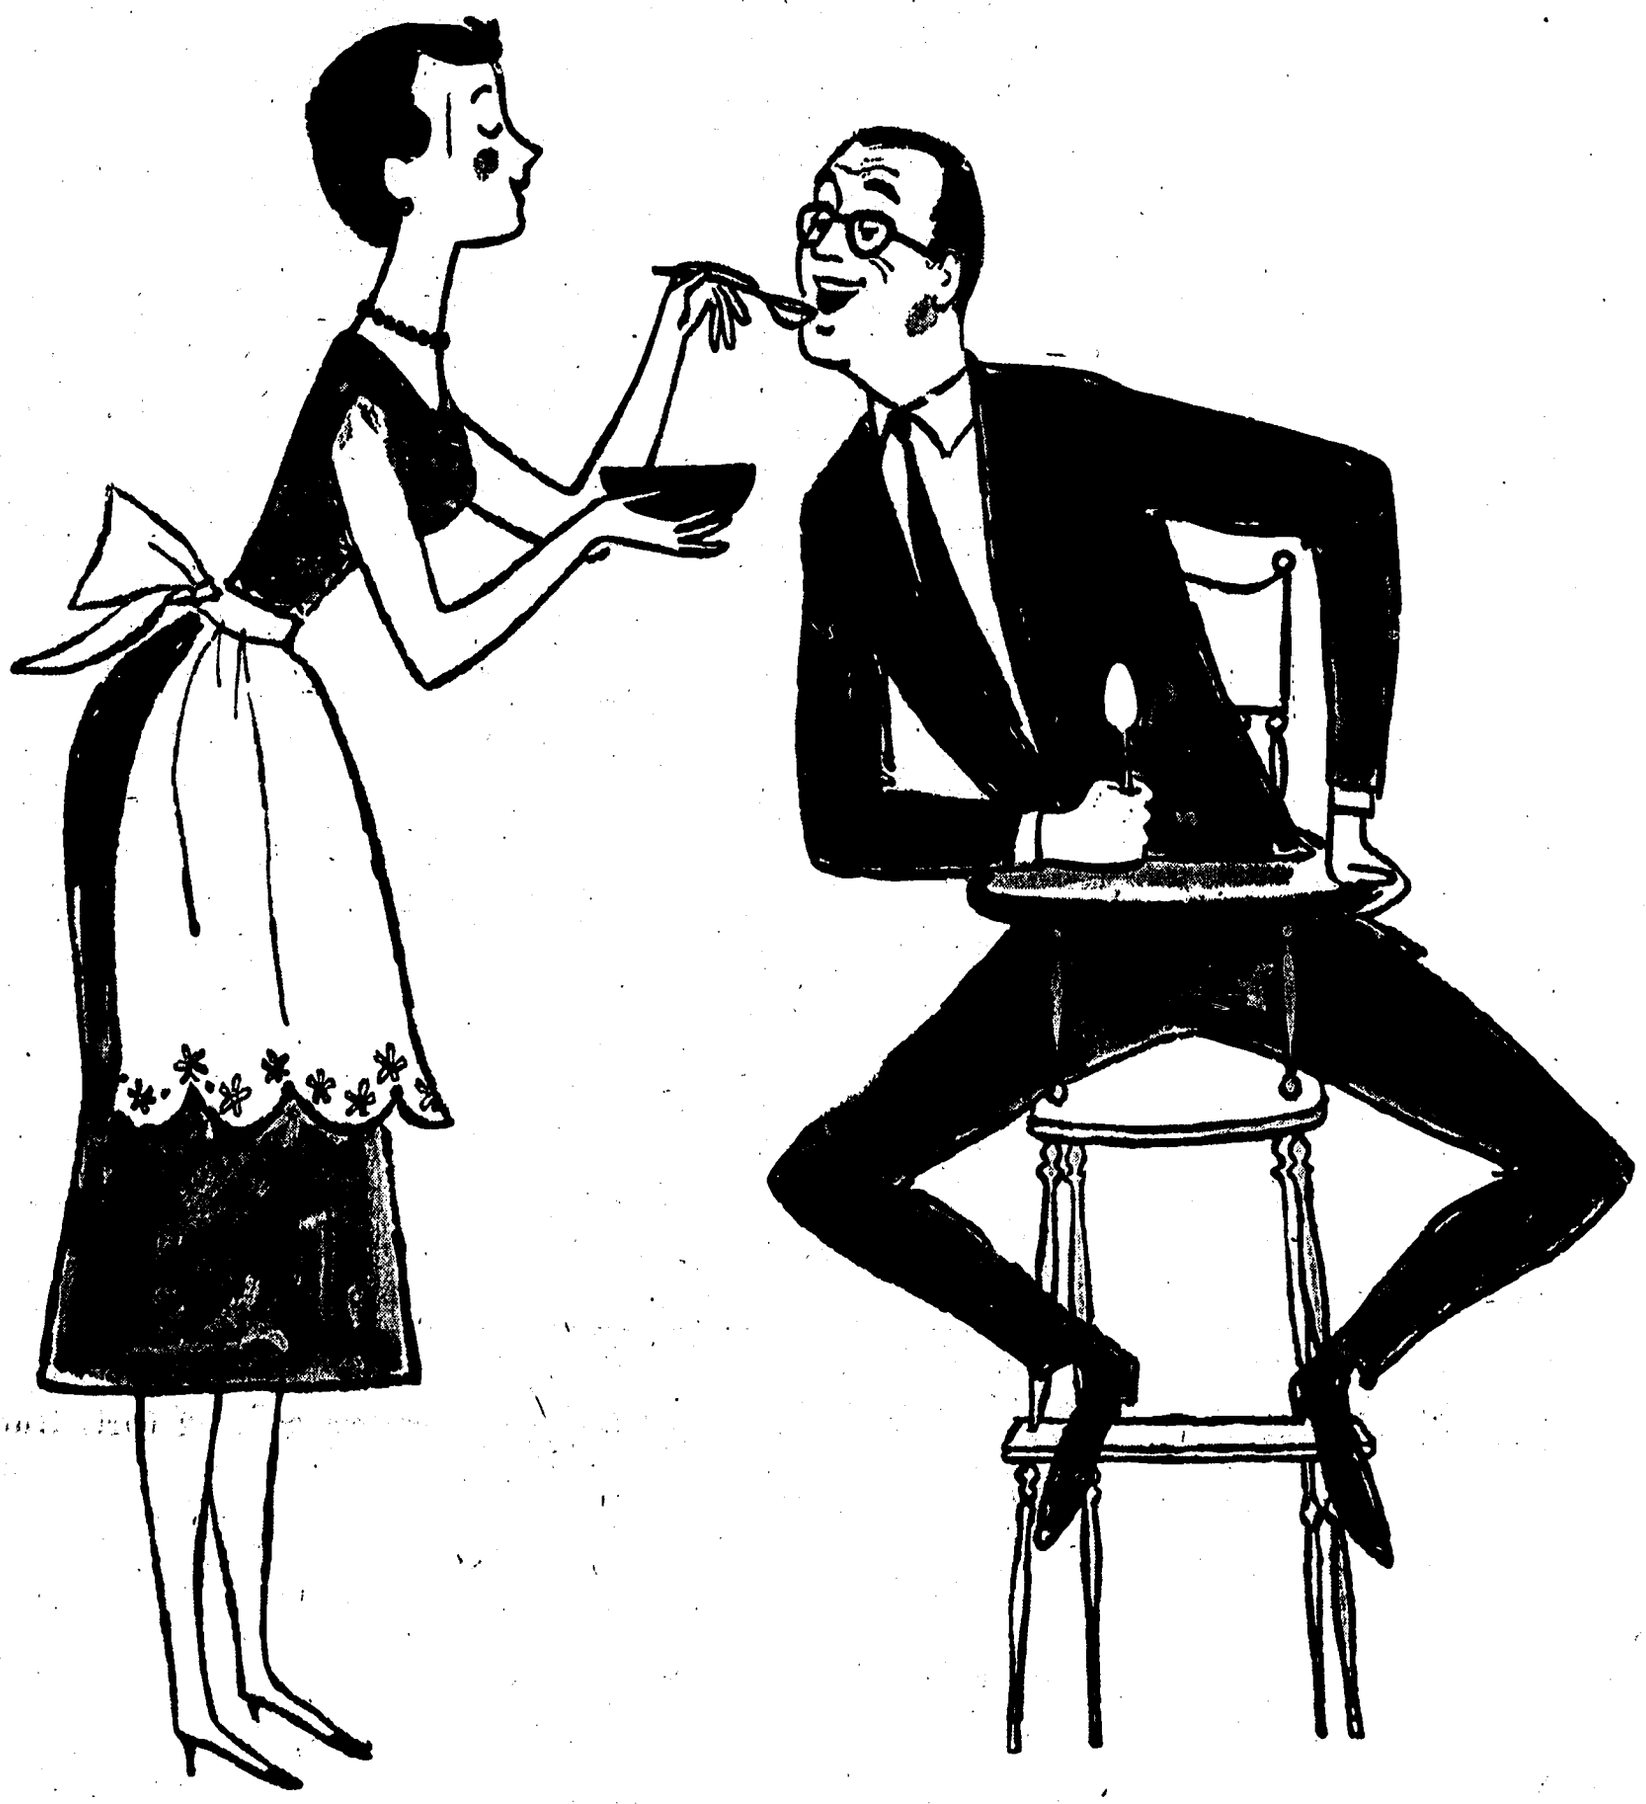
Mr. Darland, a former member of the board of education, was appointed a year ago to fill the unexpired term of J. Carlton Cherry.

There were no local questions on the ballot.

In county and state contests, voting was as follows:

Governor Meyner, 1,081; Forbes, 862.

For state assembly: Giordano, 1,056; Keuper



Bringing up a husband is no easy job!

Husbands have to be fed three times a day, with pancakes for breakfast, soup for lunch and pie for dinner. Some of them need to be told when to buy a new suit, when to have a physical check up. They need praise when things go right and sympathy when things go wrong. And almost all of them have to be reminded about making plans for retirement.

It's a good thing a husband's love is worth all the trouble he causes.

Retirement is in the future for all of us. And the sooner we start making plans for it, the happier these years can be. Does your husband have a hobby? If not, urge him to develop one. Does he have a retirement savings plan? If not, encourage him to start one. Good health, outside interest, and freedom from financial worries spell happiness in retirement.

One of the best ways to prepare for retirement is to invest regularly in U. S. Savings Bonds. They're as solid as a rock—guaranteed by your Government. They're loss-proof, fire-proof, theft-proof—the Treasury will replace them without charge in case of mishap.

And best of all, U. S. Savings Bonds now pay you higher interest—faster! Every Series E Bond purchased since February 1, 1957, pays you a safe and sure 3-¼% interest when held to maturity. It pays higher interest, too, in the earlier years, and matures in only 8 years and 11 months.

So now, more than ever, it's smart to save with guaranteed-safe U. S. Savings Bonds. Your husband can buy them regularly where he banks or through the Payroll Savings Plan where he works. But just be sure he starts today!

Part of every American's savings belongs in U. S. Savings Bonds
