COLTS NECK - Four special police officers who are empowered to carry sidearms while performing their part-time duties here, have been stripped of their weapons for the three-day duration of the Hal-

The measure barring the use of guns by the officers was specific-ally designed to avert any possibility of a confrontation between the special police officers and children who may be on the streets, in de-fiance of the curfew.

"The Township Committee believes that such weapons will not be necessary to control the activities of children who may be en-gaged in typical childhood activities," states a resolution adopted by the committee last night. The Halloween curfew will be in effect here tomorrow, Sunday and Monday, between 9 p.m. and 6 a.m., when persons 18 or under will be barred from the township streets. While three of the four affected patrolman at first said they would not turn out for Halloween patrol because they believed they might be endangered without sidearms, they later agreed to patrol the town, but in civilian clothes and in their own private cars.

VOL. 100 NO. 105

The township is patrolled by the New Jersey State Police which maintains a complement of officers on duty at a barracks here. The special police, which have been in operation here for the last 15 years, were only seriously activated this year. Their part-time duties are chiefly concerned with controlling illegal mini-bike riding, patrolling the Swimming River reservoir to deter trespassers, and checking the township tennis courts to insure that only township residents are on the court

The special police force is headed by Oscar Bennett, a former Mariboro police officer. He is assisted by Robert Baggett, Howard Camden and Albert Yodakis, all of whom are attending the Mon-mouth County Police Academy in Howell Township, as part of their police schooling. Only these four men have been certified to carry weapons, while other special police remain unarmed. The move to restrict the weapons for the three day curfew was vigorously disputed by Committeewoman Gloria Pamm who contended that the restriction indicated a lack of confidence in the special police force

Mrs. Pamm also said that the measure should have been brought to her attention, because she heads the police committee as part of her township duties. "Children aren't involved: It's confidence in the men. You're saying, 'we cannot trust you,' " Mrs. Pamm told the committee as she defended the right of the special police to carry arms during the cur-few.

Committeeman Robert Williams, while lauding the special police. id he would vote to bar them from carrying their weapons during the Halloween curfew period. "I do feel in this situation, when they're dealing with children. 'I see no reason to carry weapons." he noted. Committeeman Michael Caponegro, a member of the special police, supported the arms restriction and said he would not carry a sidearm

"The main issue is whether the special police, when involved mainly with children, should even be carrying weapons." said Mr. Caponegro

Mayor Bruce Eagleson assured the police the ban on weapons would be in effect for only the three days of the curfew. The mayor noted that he would not penalize any of the men who declined to See Four lose, page 2

RED BANK - The borough nearly lost three blocks early this morning, as thick clouds of noxious propane gas blan-keted Oakland, Chestnuts, and West Sts. and forced the evacuation of seven houses

The propane began gushing out of a tank at the Yellow Cab Company headquarters at 101 Oakland St. shortly after 2 a.m., according to Fire Chief Al Doremus. "We were lucky," he said. "When we got here, the gas was like fog, it was so thick. "All we would have needed

Bateman slashes at Byrne as the playboy governor

WEST ORANGE - With 11 days left before the elec-tion for governor the Republican candidate. Sen. Ray-mond H. Bateman, has shifted to a sharp attack on Democrat Brendan Byrne, calling him "a playboy gover-nor" and "a dilettante."

Speaking to a Republican state committee fund rais-ing dinher here last night Bateman said. "I see more and more a picture of a governor who doesn't work hard. A kind of a playboy governor who loves the trappings of his office, who loves the prequisites of office, who likes the helicopter rides. A dilettante who loves to play tennis, who likes to take junkets."

Continuing the new attack Bateman said Byrne was

"a governor who has played hard at the job of running the most urban state in the nation."

The GOP candidate told about 90 Republicans gath-ered for the $600-a-plate affair, "My state has been run into the ground in the last 31/2-years, a state I spent my

"I'm sick and tired of an administration that plays politics with everything it does," said Bateman, bringing the partisan audience to its feet.

As an offshoot of the political campaigning in the township. Com mitteeman Brian Lantier, a Republican running for office, accused Democratic Committeewoman Gloria Pamm, also a candidate for attempting to alter the minutes of an executive session of the committee on June 14.

Mr. Lantier alleged that Mrs. Pamm tossed a gavel, breaking a chair in the committee meetging room. Later, he asserted, she at tempted to change the record of the minutes of the agenda meeting. in an attempt to "white wash" the incident.

The dispute reportedly occured over the appointment of Mrs. Eve-lyn Eagleson, the Mayor's wife, to the special police department. Mrs. Pamm, haison to the police committee, strenuously objected to the mayor's wife's appointment contending it was a conflict of interest (Mrs. Eagleson was subsequently named to the department and has been serving there for several months, but in an unpaid status.)

A high level campaign source indicated Bateman would be likely to continue to press his new, tough approach in the waning days of the campaign.

The sharp verbal assault on Byrne appeared to mark shift in emphasis for Bateman who has been on the defensive in recent days on a number of issues in a contest that has narrowed significantly according to the lates polls.

A poll taken by The New York Times and WCBS-TV in New York reported Monday that the contest in which Bateman held a big lead in earlier surveys was a dead heat with each candidate holding 40 per cent of the vote. One day before he adopted the new anti-Byrne re-

Hissing, booing at debate

By JAMES MANION sociated Press Writer

ATLANTIC CITY - Re date Raymond H. Bateman said yesterday his plan to delay payment of an addition-al $100 million in state aid to enbedic schools for one year would force local school districts to fund any new programs next year

"But that $100 million rep-resents something less than 2 per cent of total state aid," Bateman said after a debate with his Democratic opponent, Gov. Brendan T. Byrne, before more than 1,000 members of the state School Boards Association

It was the sixth and final scheduled debate between the candidates.

When Bateman exceeded his allotted time in answering a question about the funds, Byrne told the audience he wanted them to hear the whole answer. Bateman finished the statement and was greeted by hissing and boos from the audience, composed of members of local school boards who would be directly hit by any state aid cutback. Both candidates received cheers and jeers from the crowd throughout the debate. Byrne claimed his administration has "solved the school funding problem" thanks to the income tax. He attacked Bateman's proposed fiscal plan that would postpone the $100 million increase in state school aid for one year as part of his plan for running the state without an income

"Don't let him kid you." Byrne said. "He wants you to fund that $100 million out of local property taxes and local school boards will be unable to fill out their budgets."

Bateman's tax plan, which involves a possible sales tax increase of one cent and various economies in government, was described by Byrne as "a scheme universally denounced as phony.

Bateman, meanwhile called for a redrafting of the state "thorough and efficient" education law which he described as "a monstrosity of filling out forms for a paper empire.

Property used or held for future use for highway, bridge or tunnel purposes or property qualified under state law for any other in-lieu of pryment is excluded.

Mayor Arthur Goldzweig of Marlboro, who was on hand for the signing, said the township has committed its in-lieu payment money to the hiring of additional police officers and to improvements for the municipal complex, both of which will benefit Marlboro Psychiatric Hospital.

Four additional police offi-cers already have been hired in anticipation of the state funds and now are undergoing training at the Police Aca-demy, Mr. Goldzweig said, and another two or three po-licemen probably will be added. Their function will be to patrol around the hospital. here the frequent escape of detainer patients in the past has been a problem to the township, he explained. Mr. Goldzweig also noted that the municipal complex provides communications for the hospital free of charge.

Bateman asks blacks forget, vote GOP

ELIZABETH (AP) — Republican candidate for governor Sen. Raymond H. Bateman asked a group of black profes-sionals yesterday to disregard past differences with the GOP when they vote this year. "I am a Republican and I know nearly everybody in this room is a Democrat." said Bateman to the New Jersey Association of Black Social Workers

"I'm asking you to take a good look at this Republican and I know there are eminently good reasons for you not to sup-port a Republican," he said. Bateman appeared here in the afternoon following a morning debate with Democratic Gov. Brendan T. Byrne before the New Jersey School Boards Association in Atlantic City.

He told the school board members about his pledge to withhold the next scheduled $100 million increase in the state school aid formula. Bateman was asked how school boards could pay for expanded educational programs they might have planned to pay for with the increase due July 1.

should be maintained as a means of heading off spiraling governmental costs.

Bateman charged that bu-reaucratic problems with the "t and e" funding formula have forced the state to spend most of a $2.1 million allocation for new jobs in administrative costs.

"I will demand a total simplification of 't and e' to let educators return to educating." Bateman said.

Byrne said Bateman was "walking away from the state's responsibility of fund-ing public schools."

Byrne said he supports state aid to non-public schools, including existing state appropriations of $2 mil-lion for testbooks, $3 million for aid to the handicapped and $15 million for student transportation.

Health law scored in Kumson

RUMSON - Borough Council last night attacked the new state Local Health Services Act which goes into effect April 1. claiming that it is unnecessary, costly, and a further infringement on home

The conservative Republican governing body, which is frequently vocal in its opposition to the variety of edicts being handed down from Trenton and Washington, had some particularly harsh words for the health act.

"This is an amazing move by the state department of health to wipe out local Boards of Health." said Councilman Charles Paterno, who is attending meetings with other local municipalities in an attempt to work out a joint solution to the problem.

By JULIE MCDONNELL RUMSON -- The need for nore recreational facilities in the borough has reached "emergency proportions," ac-cording to the chairman of the Board of Recreation Commissioners

In a letter to Borough Council, Carol Perkins, board chairman, said that the Recreation Committee and its related activities "are in dire need of additional athletic space.

The soccer program alone has accelerated to the point where some 30 teams are ex pected to participate by late summer of 1978." Mrs. Perkins wrote. "Some of the adult leagues have given up their playing time so that the soccer people can utilize the fields.

Other programs, such as girls' softball, have been curtailed because of the lack of available fields, she said

The situation is expected to get worse, not better, at least for a short while, if the voters approve a referendum for renovation of the Rumson-Fair Haven Regional High School athletic fields next year The school's Board of Edu cation is planning to pass a resolution next month calling for a referendum to be placed before the voters in January The referendum would call for approval of about $188,000 to reconstruct ths football and baseball fields, and to build four tennis courts.

The summer and fall of 1978 will be a particular prob-lem if the High School referendum is passed." Mrs. Per-kins wrote, referring to the fact that the fields would not be in use during the reconst; ruction work.

The commissioners' letter asked the council what plans are for acquisition of additional land, and to suggest how the Recreation Commission might handle the load of activities planned for the coming year

Passman and Koreagate By JACK ANDERSON and LES WHITTEN

The Justice Department has pieced together enough evidence, insiders say, to indict ex-Rep. Otto Passman. D-La, in the Korean payoff scandal But out of com passion, government attorneys are reluctant to bring charges against the aging, ailing Passman

He was born at the turn of the century to tenant farm-ers, and his early memories are of meals of unseasoned corn bread and clabbered milk. In the summers in backward Washington Parish, his feet were bare as the table. and at 10 he was hired out to a neighboring farmer for $5 a month

The memory of his grim childhood developed in Passman a fierce attachment for every dollar that passed through his hands Apparently, he couldn't bring himself to let go of the cash that his Korean benefactors allegedly proffered.

Middletown, N.J.

To the Editor: Those of us who work are being squeezed to death be-tween increased taxes and increased deficit spending. Now ready to come out of com-mittee, or perhaps already out, for vote by the House of Representatives is the new Social Security Tax Reform Program. The Social Security retirement program has been so liberally expanded over the years that it is now about bankrupt, and, therefore, Congress will have to squeeze us who work a little more to pay for this liberal expansion. Starting in 1978, as has been the practice with recent past increases, the more one makes the more one will pay in social security taxes, with continuing bigger increases for all within the next five years, to the point where the maximum social security tax will be just about double what it is now Up to now the formula in computing the social security payments was based on one's five best years of earnings and the more one made and paid, the larger the social security payment at retire-ment. This formula is now to be changed so that the per-centage figure to be used in computing payments will be decreased for those paying e maximum social security tax, and the percentage fig-ure will be increased on a sliding scale for those who are paying less. This is dis-crimination. Once this tax reform program is passed and put into effect, those then retiring will receive a lesser maximum benefit than those who have already retired. I have always been curious to know how our legislators can, with a clear conscience. decide what salary level can afford more taxes, when a family making $19,900.00 could be a lot worsoe off financially than a family mak-ing $10,400 receiving free food stamps and medicaid, and a free college education for their children.

If you agree with me than send a postcard to Congressman James J. Howard, House of Representatives, Washington, D.C. and request that he vote against the Social Security Tax Reform bill.

Big savings possible in shopping for auto insurance

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Amer-icans spend more than $41 billion a year on automo-biles and other vehicles. They spend more than $5 billion on insurance. Many consumers are spending more than they have to. Here, in the second of a two-part series, is a look at how to cut costs.)

By LOUISE COOK Associated Press Writer

Careful shopping, selective buying and special discounts can cut auto insurance premiums sharply. The savings vary from driver to driver, but you may be able to trim your bill by one-third or even

The Illinois Department of Insurance noted recently that there were more than 300 companies selling auto insurance in the state and said rates differed sharply "from company to company, driver to driver, car to car and pro-tection to protection." The department stressed that an expert insurance agent or broker is a necessity cost -Avoid buying an ex-pensive or high-performance car. It will be expensive to repair or replace and is tempt ing to thieves. Premiums generally are higher on more expensive cars. One insurance company said, for example, that a policyholder in a midwestern city could save more than $350 a year on a total insurance package by buying $3,500 subcompact instead of a $7,500 larger model.

-Don't drive to work. And if you must drive, try to join a car pool. The fewer miles you drive, the lower the pre-mium and many companies give special discounts for car pools less than 30 years old. The savings can add up State Farm calculated what the rates would be for an adult married couple - over 25 - with a 1975 Chevrolet Impala on which they carry a given package of insurance

For the purposes of the ex-ample, the couple was as sumed to have a com-prehensive policy with bodily injury coverage of $50,000 per person and $100,000 per accident and property damage liability of $10,000; a policy for personal injury protection or medical payments cov-erage; a policy for uninsured motorist coverage; and a col-lision policy with varying de-ductibles.

If the couple lives in suburban Atlanta and either husband or wife drives 100 miles or more to and from work every week, the six-month premium for the package, as suming no deductible on the comprehensive and a $50 de-ductible on the collision policy, would be $125.63. Raising the collision deductible to would cut the premium $100. to $120.50. Raising the colli sion deductible to $200 and adding a $50 deductible on the comprehensive policy, would cut the bill still further to $107. If the primary driver then joined a carpool and drove less than 30 miles to and from work each week the premiums would drop to $87.50. The overall saving would be 30 per cent. Young drivers - particularly boys - boost insurance bills sharply. If the Atlanta couple had an 18-year-old son ho started driving the family car, their six-month insurance premiums would increase by more than $100. Rates - and potential savings - vary widely in different parts of the country. If the Atlanta driver lived in Sacramento, for example, his State Farm premiums for the

'Give to charities, but wisely'

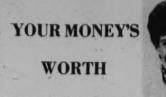

By SYLVIA PORTER As yearend 1977 approaches, you will be in-creasingly barraged by appeals in writing and over the phone to give to charities — most of which are reasonably sound, but some of which are definitely not. Before the year ends, you will have given an estimated $29 billion to charitable, philanthronic and religious creanizations with philanthropic and religious organizations, with-out even a vague idea of how much (or little) of your charitable dollar is actually being spent on the charity, how much is going into the fundraising costs themselves.

Are you purchasing a $4 box of greeting cards through the mails? Buying a raffle ticket at the office? Becoming a sponsor of a theater party? Helping to sell a table for a testimonial dinner?

These are all traditional forms of charitable giving - in addition to the direct contributions of dollars - and "there are important considerations for all Americans who contribute in these ways," warns M. C. Van de Workeen, executive director of the National Information Bureau, a New York-based non-profit watchdog for philanthropy. "Frequently, a large portion of the ticket price for the special events goes to the cost of the event, and usually a smaller portion, from which fund-raising costs must be sub-tracted, goes to the charity. Only this smaller portion is a tax-deductible contribution.

"Another popular holiday fund-raising method - greeting card purchases - are not contribu-tions and are not tax-deductible."

Raffles or sweepstakes also are popular fundraising methods in areas where they are legal But if you contribute this way, a large part of the cost of each ticket frequently goes to purchase prizes; print tickets, and organize the raffle.

As for the sending of unordered raffle or sweepstakes tickets (or any merchandise) through the mails, this method of fund raising does not meet the bureau's standards. Van de Workeen emphasizes.

"This practice puts undue pressure on contrib-utors, often entails a high fund-raising cost and does not give sufficient information to make an informed decision about giving."

States which try to monitor charities matter how diligently - are overwhelmed by the task. In New York alone, for instance, the charities registration section of the state Board of Social Welfare employs nine accountants and clerks to follow the activities of more than 7,500 organizations! The state attorney general's of-fice, with power to act against a questionable charity, is equally swamped. And while some Congressmen are thinking about requiring breakdowns of expenditures in solicitations sent to would-be contributors, federal action, if any, is a long way off. So what can you do? One valuable help may be the NIB's monthly "Wise Giving Guide," which evaluates nearly 400 national agencies soliciting us. You can get the guide and up to three reports on specific groups — free — by writing the National Information Bureau, Inc., 419 Park Ave. South, New York, N.Y. 10016. The guide is lable at quantity rates for redistribution.

The Council of Better Business Bureaus also has a valuable rating list of charities, updated quarterly. For "Give But Give Wisely," send $1.00 and a stamped self-addressed No. 10 enve-lope to the Council at 1150 17th St., N.W. Washington, D.C. 20036. You can get up to three indi-vidual reports from the CBBB without charge if you send a self-addressed envelope. Also to evaluate any organization on your own

Capital gains tax action feared

By JOHN CUNNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) - Some of the nation's me dium-size companies, already experiencing difficulties in raising capital, are distressed over the possibility that capital gains might be taxed as ordinary income.

If it happens, they say, their ability to grow and innovate and create jobs will be seriously curtailed. And they wish to remind you, these are three of their most valued contributions to economic society

The Treasury Department already has coupled its recommendations for a reduction in the double taxation of dividends with one that in effect would raise the rate on capital gains, such as from long-term stock investments. Says the Committee of Publicly Owned Companies: The very largest, mature, established companies clearly would benefit from lower taxes on dividends. But we are growing concerns; we don't pay big dividends; we need capital. A consequence of the Treasury proposal, the committee suggests, might be to channel funds into established, dividend paying companies that normally attract conservative investors, and deny funds to growing companies, which traditionally attract individual risk-takers

In a position paper just released, the committee observes that capital is invested in smalland medium-size companies "with few exceptions, only because of the prospect of capital gains' rather than dividend payouts.

The committee is made up of several hundred "second tier" and "third tier" companies, socalled to distinguish them from the very largest 50 or 100 corporations, Sometimes they are called

"red chip" and "white chip."

Such companies long have felt they were all but totally ignored by institutional investors. many of whom have limited their analyses and investments to the dividend-paying top tier only Smaller companies, they say, have been starved for capital, and instead have had to raise their debt levels.

Adding to the problem was the enactment of the Employes Retirement Income Securities Act of 1974, which called on pension fund managers to exercise prudence in their investment of retirement funds.

In the absence of a clear definition, prudence was largely interpreted to mean a restriction on investments to the least risky, mature, dividendpaying corporations. Risk-taking came to be con sidered too risky

Add to this the problem of inflation, which "further adds to the risk of waiting for growth to result in capital gains," the committee suggests, and the issue becomes one of survival for smaller, innovative companies.

"We may assume that huge, prosperous estab-lished enterprises like General Electric, General

Motors and AT&T will be able to maintain their corporate programs following the enactment of the measures under consideration

"Also, some investors may receive additional after-tax current income from their investments in the stocks of companies of this sort as a result of the proposed reduction of the tax burden on dividend payments and on top-bracket taxpayers. "But." the statement asks, "what about the small, entrepreneurial, developing companies that do not pay dividends or pay only minuscule dividends; they have little prospect of paying divi-dends for many years? Who will invest in the equity of these companies if the proposals beequity of these companies if the . come law?"

The committee maintains that major weakening of the capital gains incentive took place in when the maximum tax rate was increased to 35 per cent from 25 per cent, resulting in these consequences

-The number of individual shareowners has declined by 6 million.

-Individual investors have been net sellers of $21 billion in equity securities since 1970. —Only 921 new issues of common stock were marketed in the four years that ended June 30, 1977, compared with 1,792 new issues in 1969 alone.

The issue, the committee maintains, is not just how we tax income, but whether we really want to channel the nation's investment funds into large, conservative companies at the expense of iller, growing concerns.

And related to that are the other issues of whether we want to encourage small investors, risk-taking, competition from newer companies, economic growth and innovation

> Although individual investors have exhibited increasing interest in Ginnie Maes, they remain primarily an institutional dominion. One reason is their cost; they are sold only in $25,000 minimum amounts. Another factor is the difficulty of selling small lots of these unorthodox securities. As principal is repaid the face value of the security is diminished. Thus, estab-lishing a fair market value is further complicated. Unless you intend to buy and hold the Ginnie Maes, I would look elsewhere for a short-term investment

Kozloski asks action to halt fort cutbacks

By JIM OSTROFF FREEHOLD - As

Assem blyman Walter J. Kozloski, D Monmouth, has urged the state Senate president and Assembly speaker to make "long overdue" appointments to a new panel created to halt manpower reductions at fm stallations like Ft. Monmouth Mr. Kozloski's plea was made to Senate President Matthew Feldman, D-Bergen. and Assembly Speaker Wil-liam Hamilton, D-Middlesex, to name two persons each to an Armed, Forces Liaison Committee

The assemblyman was cos ponsor of a bill with Speaker Hamilton establishing this committee to formulate plans to retain state military services. Upon signing the bill into law this month. Gev Brendan T. Byrne appointed state Commissioner of Labor and Industry John Horn and three at-large members to the committee.

To date, though, neither Mr. Feldman nor Mr. Ham-ilton have made their two appointments each to the eight member panel.

"What I've asked," Mr Kozloski said, "is that the (legislators) make their ap-pointments so the committee can finally organize and make an assessment of what we need to do as a state to stop the flow of military funds out of New Jersey

Neither of the men could be reached for comment last

The Hamilton-Kozloski bill was initiated following a long series of manpower and budg et cutbacks at military bases statewide. Most notably, the Army began in 1973 to trans-fer the entire 8,000-man Signal School from Ft Monmouth to another base in Georgia

When organized, the -committee is expected to work in parallel with the Northeast-Midwest Economic Advancement Coalition. Composed of 204 House members, the bi-partisen coalition has waged an intense lobbying campaign in congress, the White House and the Pentagon.

Among the members of the Ft. Monmouth scientists, the state committee are Eatongroup was successful in having town Mayor J. Joseph Frankel. Mr Frankel is also chair-man of the "Save the Fort-

Salary hike okayed for Brook dale president

LINCROFT — With one dissenting vote, the Brookdale Community College Board of Trustees last night hiked the sal-ary of Dr. Donald H. Smith, the county college president, to, $42,000, a $2,000 raise, and boosted the annual housing allow-ance it gives him to $3,000, a $1,000 increase.

Also with one dissenting vote, the Brookdale board gave college vice presidents Thomas H. Auch and John F. Gallag-her two-step raises that increase their $35,000 annual salaries to $38,500, retroactive to last July 1.

The board last night also promoted 15 faculty members, recognized the Administrative Association as the bargaining unit for some administrators, and set administrative salary schedules

Sylvia W. Smith, an associate professor and president of the Faculty Association, which has demanded Dr. Smith's ouster and offered to help buy, up the two remaining years of his contract, said later that she was "surprised" at the wage hike given him and the vice presidents. Ms. Smith, who isn't any relation to Dr. Smith, noted that the salary increases for the three top administrators weren't on the printed agenda for last night's meeting, and said, "We didn't have time to think about it ahead of time. But it's a lot of money considering the battle we fought to get the little

The reference is to the 23-month-long faculty contract dispute, which was settled last month.

Dr. Trude Unger. an assistant professor, and Irving Solo-mon, a student, told the board that the Brookdale Interim Government, formed last April, will have a draft copy of the constitution for a permanent campus government ready for hearings on campus Nov. 17.

Dr. Unger said later that the proposed campus govern ment being recommended would include a college meeting in which the entire campus would participate and which would direct the college senate, a legislative body which would be made up of 10 representatives each from the students, facul-ty, non-academic staff and administrators, and one representative of the campus police. By state law, regulation proposed by the senate would have to be approved by the college presi-dent, Dr. Donald H. Smith, and then by the college trustees.

hith has been a controversial figure since th firing of Patricia Endress, an assistant professor of journal-ism, over an article in the student newspaper. State Superior and Appellate Courts ordered her reinstated with back pay. tenure, and an award for damages. The Faculty Association has charged the college president is "dictatorial" and has been demanding Dr. Smith's ouster for the past year, last March voting to relinquish 1 per cent of its 1976-77 salary increase if the money were used to buy back his contract. The board raised the $35,000 salaries of Dr. Gallagher and

Mr. Auch to $37,000, retroactive to July 1, 1976, and $38,500. retroactive to last July 1.

In casting the lone dissenting vote, Mrs. T. Peter Do remus said she agreed with the raise to $37,000 "and, in my opinion, that hits the maximum "

The 15 promotions included four faculty members raised from associate to full professors at salaries ranging from $24.218 to $30.835. The board also voted contracts to 173 fulltime faculty at salaries ranging from $8,330 to $33,678, and ap-proved 38 new and 103 returning part-time faculty. The board set salary schedules for administrative employes represented by the new Administrative Association ranging from a minimum of $9.495 to a maximum of $13,300 at the lowest level to a minimum of $23.715 and a maximum of $32.720 at the highest level. It approved salary schedules for administrative employes not represented by the new bargaining unit with the same range at the lowest level but with a minimum of $26.160 and maximum of $36.610 at the highest level yesterday to find a Long Branch woman innocent by reason of insanity of the murder of her sixweek-old son last December.

Other trustees present last night were Dr. Walter S. McAfee, the board chairman; Dr. Joseph E. Clayton, William O. Fleckenstein, Leon Zuckerman, Elsie Sokol and Dr. Richard J. Connors. Harold Y. Bills was absent.

County Court Judge William T. Wichmann im-mediately ordered Elizabeth Bertram, 24: of Garfield Ave., to the Vroom Building for the Criminally Insane at Trenton Psychiatric Hospital.

Mrs. Bertram is to remain at the Vroom Building for examination and observation not to exceed 60 days. A so-called Krol hearing will be held by Judge Wichmann within the 60-day period as mandated by-law.

During the Krol hearing, Judge Wichmann will hear testimony from psychiatrists before deter-mining whether Mrs. Bertram is still a danger to herself or others and should remain in-stitutionalized Mrs. Bertram has been at the Vroom Building since last Dec. 30. When the jury of six men and six women re-turned its unanimous verdict. Mrs. Bertram offered no comment. But she turned and smiled night broadly at Robert Coogan, her attorney. However, in an unusual address to the jury before dismissing it. Judge Wichmann commended them for their decision and said that he had never heard such overwhelming psychiatric evidence or so much prior history of a defendant's mental illness.

"You may question why a trial had to be held." Judge Wichmann said to the jurors. "But a murder was committed. It is a matter of public policy that citizens such as yourselves should hear the charge and make the decision. The courts did not impose upon the defendant." In the two-day trial. Mrs. Bertram was charged with fatally stabbing Gregory Bertram, her son, with an eight-inch knife at about 2 p.m. last Dec. 18. The infant died from the chest wound at Monmouth Medical Center at about 8:30 that During the trial, the defense presented testi-mony that Mrs. Bertram had been an in-patient at psychiatric unit of Riverview Hospital on eight separate occasions between December 1974 and September 1976. She also was confined at the Carrier Clinic in Somerset County twice during the same period, once on an involuntary commitment, Mrs. Bertram also made at least two attempts on her own life.

Several psychiatrists who had either treated or examined Mrs Bertram testified that she was a paranoid schizophrenic. Dr. Harry Brunt, a psychiatrist who was originally hired by the state to examine Mrs. Bertram and wound up as a defense witness, said that Mrs, Bertram was so acutely ill at the time of the stabbing that she probably did not know the nature or quality of the act nor was she able to differentiate right from wrong. The prosecution did not claim that Mrs. Bertram was sane at the time of the stabbing. Charles Shaw 3rd, assistant county prosecutor, simply had George Bertram, Mrs. Bertram's husband, and other witnesses, describe what occurred that December afternoon

In his summation to the jury, Mr. Shaw said, "As prosecutor, my job is not to convict. My job is to present all the facts and to see that justice is done."

LINCROFT - Author and poet Judith Viorst brought her celebration of life with Milton the political columnist, three sons, three cats, two hamsters and a gerbil, to Brookdale Community College last night, sharing her wise and witty, view of marriage with a standing-room-only crowd of more than 250 persons

The first of four authors in a new "Meet the Writers" series, Mrs. Viorst brought gales of laughter from a delighted audience and total identification with the 40-ish people present as she described her coming of age in the 1950's. Born and raised in New Jersey, Mrs. Viorst graduated from Rutgers and went off to live "a wicked life in Greenwich Village." a two-year hegira she describes in her first book of poems, "The Village Square.

"But what was wicked in the '50s?" she asked. "Wicked was not eating a hot breakfast. Wicked was sleeping in a bed without a top sheet."

And even that was cooled by a mother in Maplewood who called her at least once a day to say "don't."

Heads nodded in recognition as she recited her "Gospel According To New Jersey." which included such basics as An MD is better than a DDS, and a DDS is better than a CPA. Wall-to-wall is better than Oriental. Sterling is better than stainless." and ending with that most basic advice, "But any husband is better than none at all." "From the age of 17, over my orange juice. my mother said 'find a fella." said Mrs. Viorst, who was told terrifying tales of single women with strep throats who had to trudge

SHREWSBURY - The Zoning Board of Adjustment last night unanimously rejected the proposed 190-unit Hidden Pond condominium develment off Sycamore Avenue.

In its finding, the board as-serted that approval of the project, which would have been the borough's first multi-family housing devel-opment, "would result in a vast, wrenching change to the complexion of this small community.

Borough resident Florence Forgotson Adams, president of Lone Oak, Inc., the applicant, has said that she w appeal a denial of the project.

The 53-acre Hidden Pond tract, owned since 1946 by Mrs. Adams, abuts the Shrewsbury Plaza Shopping Center and the Conrail North Jersey Coast Line railroad tracks. It is currently zoned R-1 for one-family homes on one-acre lots

The development had been esigned by Middletown architect Gary Y Kaplan to include 95 one-story two-bed-room units and 95 two-story. three-bedroom units clustered in eight "neighborhoods" at an overall density of 3.09

Patrolman Sama, who had been with the force for little over a year at the time of his suspension, was the focus of controversy in the department since early this year On three occasions in the course of little more than three months, Patrolman Sama was brought up on departmental charges, ranging from neglect of duty to in-

City patrolman returns

In the first two instances, charges were dismissed. The lying under oath charge, however, led to a guilty ruling and his six-month suspension without pay

The state Civil Service Commission has agreed to hear his appeal of the guilty verdict. Patrolman Sama said, and is expected to begin consideration towards the end of this year.

As yet unresolved is the city's demand that Patrolman Sama reimburse it for the salary he received from the time of his suspension - pending hearing of the lying under oath charge on April 26 - to the date of determination on the charge on August 9. Protracted hearings on all three charges lodged against Patrolman Sama brought al-legations of "harassment" of the officer by a superior officer

The charges brought against the patrolman were several in a series of charges lodged against members of the department during the administration of former Public Safety Director S. Marshall Roser Jr., who resigned ear-lier this month.

Patrolman Sama, 22, said he is looking forward to his return to uniform here.

Make a 'breakfast-stack'

By HELOISE

DEAR DARLING FRIENDS Being a live-aloner now I have learned something that might really surprise you twicefold

So we have two or three sets of dishes? But you begin to notice that after a few years we always pick up the same old cup for our morning cup of coffee or tea and the same saucer and the same bowl and the same plate and fork, knife and spoon and skillet, etc I just got to thinking

I still use the same skillet (and dadgum if there aren't three or four in my cupboard) and 1 wash and replace them on top of that same stack in each separate cabinet every day Why

So I have learned to stack the one cup, sau-cer, the bowl and the plate on top of one another and put them in the skillet after washing them which is usually what I use for breakfast. It is an every day ritual for breakfast so why open all those cabinet doors

I never put my knife, fork and spoon in the same stack because I put this "breakfast stack" in my oven. The dishes are warm, out of the way and if a guest or neighbor drops in 1 am not classed as unclean. Which I think is the most awful word in the dictionary

Just hoping that you understand what I am trying to say, and I know that those of you who live alone, or older couples who have gotten RUMSON ---Sydney P. Waud is an explorer - for oil, art, wild game in Africa and excellent cooking.

The culinary quest has resulted in "Let's Cook Up A Storm." published this month and selling well in the bookstores.

Mr. Waud, who is State Sen. Alfred N. Beadleston's stepson, visits here when he's not in New York, where he has an apartment, or doing a cross-country tour to promote the book or check on his investments

At 6' 4" and 200 lbs. Mr. Waud doesn't apear to be someone who feasts at a fine table frequently.

The secret to eating well but not looking like it is to eat small portions." the 37-year-old author noted. "I also play squash, tennis, paddle — all the racquet sports, and I ski."

He's doing television spots to promote the book, most recently "The Nancy Ames Show" in Houston. He's returning there to talk turkey for her Thanksgiving show and also is set for a the "A.M. Washington" morning show.

Show biz doesn't faze this Michael Caine ook-alike. He has modeled and been the creative force behind TV commercials for Chemical Bank of New York:

He disclaims the tag "gourmet." "I'm not a fancy cook, but mainly a meat and potatoes man . My purpose in the book is to show a perfect way to make coffee. a perfect way to cook a roast beef - but one way, not five wavs.

He may not be fancy, but he's fussy. Leafing through the book, one can see that the ingredients must be fresh, and their preparation precise

'My idea of a good lunch would be Lorenzo salad with my house dressing with some cottage cheese. The grilled cheese is also especially good."

The secret to the grilled cheese is a combination of Gruyere and American cheeses. Eng-lish muffin (halved with a fork, not a knife) and other goodies that make a regular grilled cheese sound like an old shoe He'll stack up his chocolate chip cookies against Famous Amos' or anyone else's any day.

The book is full of helpful hints on how to prepare a turkey, how to make vegetables look as green on the table as they did on the farm. how to slice an onion without a single tear and on and on

The book is dedicated to "I.M.B., whose spectacular' cooking stimulated my interest in food beyond its consumption, and to A.N.B., the proprietor of 'the best restaurant on the Eastern Seaboard.

I.M.B. is his mother and A.N.B., the distinguished senator from Monmouth County and the author's stepfather.

Charts bracket the recipes, and they go far afield. His wine list, for instance, is not confined to wine. The right cheese is listed with appropriate fruits and then the wine or cider.

Metric measures are dealt with and the fruit list has the qualities of every variety of apple ever heard of.

"I loved writing it, but when I was editing it it was the only time in my life I was bored." Mr. Waud grinned.

Considering the life he's led. that's easy to believe

After Rumson Country Day, he went to St. Paul's School in Concord, N. H.

"I was pre-med at the University of Pennsylvania but decided against that, so I was a French major. When I came out in 1963 I took a tour around the world, just winging it for about four months. Tahiti was marvelous and I did some trout fishing in New Zealand."

In 1970, he became a "financial participant" in an oil-drilling exploration consortium.

"We finally struck on the sixth drilling. What an ecstatic feeling." he recalled. "It's still going and doing very well."

Mr. Waud has no plans to follow his stepfather's footsteps into politics, but he does have very strong feelings about the phasing out of the oil depreciation allowance.

LINCROFT -Anne Frank's diary ends Aug. 4 1944 when the Gestapo arrested her and her family. She died sometime between 13 and 15 years of age at Bergen-Belsen in March, 1945.

Tonight at 8:30 p.m., 15-year old Emily Rechnitz, a Middletown South High School student, and her father. Robert Rechnitz, a Monmouth College English profes-sor, will portray Anne and her father Otto in "The Diary of Anne Frank" at Brookdale Community College's Performing Arts Center

she nodded pensively. "I re-late to her as a person." Professor Lowenstein, who said both father and daughter are wonderful in this production, knew Emily through his friendship with Mr. Rechnitz. 'She competed with some pretty heavy college talent." her father said despite Emily's denial "I feel a fatherly pride and

He credits Emily's warmth and acting ability to a de-voted mother-daughter relationship. Both of them smiled at each other and laughed when Mr. Rechnitz remembered the time his wife Joan read "Charlotte's Web," a favorite child's novel, to the family while on a driving excursion. They all ended up in tears including their 12-year

Mr. Rechnitz candidly ad-vises Emily about the theater as a profession

"There's so little opportunity in the American Theater. In my day there were 10,000 actors in New York trying out for 300 jobs. As some sort of a vocation it's just fine, like this production at Brookdale. but as a career it's extremely difficult," he said, glancing at Emily

The events of these people's lives are moving. he noted, talking about the play again. "We're a little reluctant to understand it all. it's all so depressing. Yet as we perceive the play the way we think the author saw it, it represents a triumph over adversity.

"Anne's last soliloquy speaks words that belie her age," he explained. "Her ability to transcend the anxiety of pending death is something adults would find very diffi-cult to do. It's really the key to the play.

Courage is called for in performing as well as talent. According to Mr. Rechnitz, Mr. Lowenstein saw both of those qualities in Emily to give her this part despite her lack of dramatic experience.

Along with a cast which in-cludes Linda Moore, James Herrera, Thomas 'Brady Pamela Snyder, Michael Wright, Greg Kayne, Joan Wanschura and Cathy Blatz, the Rechnitzes will perform again tomorrow night and next Friday and Saturday at 8:30 and Sunday and next Sunday at 7:30 p.m., plus a matinee performance at 11:30 a.m., next Thursday.

'Grease' entertaining nostalgia that sidesteps drama

By MARYBETH ALLEN RED BANK - It doesn't seem like much is happening until it's over. That's the way high school is. And that's the way "Grease" is. The show, which last night theater series being spon-sored at the Monmouth Arts Center by the Monmouth Arts Foundation, is seemingly an "entertainment only" attrac-tion, happily devoid of dramatic messages. Via song and dance, it initiated the four-program perks along on a one-stop (for intermission) nostalgic trip back to the days of 1959. On either side of the stage, there are pictures which could be from anyone's year-book - and, even before the curtain goes up, there's a sign of the times: "Welcome Back, Rydell Class of '59.'

There are bobbie socks, poodle skirts, and dungarees - and the primary problem of teen-agers is who's taking whom to the dance. The play is as carefree as the time it represents; yet, despite its seeming triviality, things happen Frenchy, a flaming red-gang, the Pink Ladies. "Grease," which brings back a lot of memories in a lighthearted way, succeeds not because its songs are tremendous but because it creates a mood of the way things were.

The production, which sparkled with a high degree of professionalism, was distinguishable from most local presentations by its snappy choreography, swift scene changes, and excellent light-ing effects.

Outstanding in the cast of 17 were Imogene Bliss as Miss Lynch, the quintessential English teacher; Nita Novy who, as Betty Rizzo, conveyed more dramatic denth than the rest: Gail Edwards, who manages the personality change from Sandra Dee to The Big D; Peter Gallagher, who performs well as Danny and has one of the best singing voices, and Mary Garripoli, who adds some comic touches as the plump Cha-Cha DiGregorio.

Most of all, "Grease" is a celebration of youth and hap-py times ... and it slips by as quickly as the teen-age years. The presentation here was a one-night stand. Coming attractions in the series are "Bubbling Brown Sugar," Dec. 8; "Robber Bride-groom," Feb. 7, and "Same Time Next Year," featuring Cathy Crosby, April 12.

Dr. Bertram Feinswog. chairman of the foundation's theater committee, noted that what he had hoped would be a surprise announcement — Bing Crosby's presence at that performance - had instead turned to a touch of sadness.

The show, however, is expected to go on with Mrs. Crosby in the lead.

NCC is charged with hypocrisy

By The REV. LESTER KINSOLVING

WASHINGTON, D.C. - The National Council of Churches (NCC) has been charged with hypocrisy by the professor of Christian ethics at Union Theological Seminary, for its failure to take a stand on the issue of abortion.

Dr. Beverly Wilding Harrison, who teaches the seminary one block away from the NCC's Manhattan headquarters, told this column that the organization of 30 Protestant and Orthodox, bodies, which has resolved itself on so many other issues, "is hypocritical not to take a stand on this issue.

The NCC staff did prepare an extensive paper on the subject, but after some of the theo-logically conservative member-denominations reacted with warnings, the issue was not voted. (The NCC is terrified at the idea of losing more member denominations.)

Dr. Harrison's statement was made just af ter a news conference in which a statement by 200 ethicists charged that "the heavy stitutional involvement of the bishops of the Ro-man Catholic Church in a campaign to enact religiously-based anti-abortion commitments into law is a serious threat to religious liberty and freedom of conscience.

They also charged that denial of medical funding for abortion services "implies public censure of a form of medical service which in fact has the moral support of major religious

In fact? Then why has the NCC, which has passed resolutions on almost every other controversial social issue, not in fact given liberalized abortion law and the U.S. Supreme Court decision any such moral support? Is the NCC a minor religious group?

This news conference was chaired by the Rev. J. Philip Wogaman, dean of Washington's Wesley Theological Seminary, an institution of the NCC's biggest member-denomination and principal moneybag, the United Methodist Church. Dean Wogaman declined to comment on why the NCC has failed to do what the 200 ethicSpeaking of President Carter, his Southern Baptist denomination's utterly charming and thoroughly clever executive secretary of the Christian Life Commission was present on the press conference platform along with Dean Wogaman

The Rev. Foy Valentine smiled and said "I don't know." when asked if Jimmy Carter was ever turned away by state governors or a president while he was an official of the Southern Baptist Convention's Home Missions Board. (Carter has repeatedly turned away Protestant and Jewish leaders seeking to talk to him about abortion - this while Carter has repeatedly discussed the issue with Catholic bishops.)

Dr. Valentine was then asked if he believes his fellow Southern Baptist in the White House has been a president of all the people - considering the Catholic leaders with whom he has dis-cussed abortion, and the Protestants and Jews he has turned away.

The Valentine smile broadened as he repl-"I am confident that this important stateied. ment will attract the concern of millions.

But as of this writing, it has attracted no such concern from that Baptist at 1600 Pennsylvania Ave., nor from that national church council at 475 Riverside Drive.

nurchmen score South Africa

By GEORGE W. CORNELL NEW YORK (AP)-American church leaders this week widely condemned the new restrictions imposed on blacks and their white sympa-thizers in South Africa and said it would heighten resentments, threatening worsened

"My worst fears are being fulfilled." said the Rev. Dr. Robert J. Marshall, president of the Lutheran Church in America, noting that he recently visited in South Africa. and saw potentialities then for spreading "police state" rule

4 candidates debate Middletown forum

By BOB BRAMLEY

MIDDLETOWN - The race for two Township Committee seats seems to be evolving into a "Battle of the Ps." The two Democratic candidates incumbent Mayor Allan MacDonald and newcomer Francis J Callahan, are running under the slogan "Per-formance, not Promises "

Undismayed, their GOP opponents, incumbent Com-mitteeman Ralph A. Siciliano and Robert J. McEvilly, his running mate, cry "People, not Polifics " About 50 interested citizens turned out to the main library to hear the candidates stump for their platforms in the annual League of Women Voters candidates night.

Each candidate made an pening statement limited to three minutes A question-and answer period followed. with each candidate allotted two minutes to answer questions from the audience

The meeting concluded with a two-minute closing statement from each candidate.

Speaking first in alphabetical order, Mr. Callahan quoted the Democratic slogan. "Per-formance, not Politics," cited the accomplishments over the past two years of Mayor Mac-Donald's Democratic adminstration in holding down taxes, planning township de-velopment in accordance with input from the citizenry and caring for the needs of senior citizens

Following his running mate. Mayor MacDonald said. Frank has given our plat-form What we have tried to do is work on a positive basis During my two years as mayor we have tried to cooperate and communicate with the volunteer groups in the township. If we can communicate

many more things can be done Mayor MacDonald added his hopes that the last two weeks of campaigning before the election will continue to be on the issues

Reversing the slogan of the Republicans. Mr McEvilly declared. "Politics. not People" could be the slogan of the Democrats, because they played politics with the Sew-erage Authority They played politics with the Housing Au-thority, ousting Col (Harry I) Luftman and dumping Mrs Helen Kelly, one of the most vicious political ploys I've ever seen And they played politics with the zoning ordinance, revising it and leaving it open to legal attack. They played politics with the Rt 36 master plan.

and now they want to disown 'I'm proud of Ralph Siciliano, he has listened to the péople. We want to give the government back to the people and take it away from the Democratic machine." he concluded

"I served with Allan and Frank on the Planning Board and I observed how they op-- and I mean operate. erate said Mr. Siciliano. He charged that the Democrats are trying to take credit for a 54-cent decrease in the municipal tax rate that actually resulted from the state income tax and that they are hoping to glide through the election and then ram 9.000 apartments units down Middletown's throat.

> The Planning Board is supposed to listen to the people Well on April Fool's Day of 1974 they passed a master plan over the objections of the people I' don't call that listening." Mr. Siciliano de clared.

Questions from the floor centered around reconciliation of the master plan to the current zoning ordinance and holding the line on taxation. with the zoning ordinance and master plan emerging as the paramount single issue Mr. Siciliano led off the back, accusing the Republi-cans of using "a lot of lies and scare tactics" and "tak ing people's lives in their hands

"Everything Mr. Siciliano does is negative. If that's what you want, vote that way - and I hope you don't." the mayor concluded.

"Nov 8 is less than two weeks away." said Mr Callahan. "Our slogan is Perform-ance, not Politics. I want to be part of the positive team.

Is Ocean Township High School's football team for real

Believe it or not, that's the question circulating throughout the county. That's the one being asked now that Carmine Magnotta's Spartans have recorded three straight shutouts, wrapped securely around two upsets

The argument goes something like this. Ocean-beat two flat leams, Manasquan and Long Branch. Both of those teams had key injuries after playing Asbury Park. They weren't prepared. Ocean just happened to be in the right place at the right time What Ocean really did was knock off two of the årea's top teams. In fact, Long Branch was the county kingpin until last week. Now Ocean faces the new Register Top 10 star. Middletown North Could it happen again

Magnotta thinks his team is for real. "We've got a real good team." he said "The offense has finally learned to work together and the defense has been consistent. I don't fear Middletown North, but I know they have a good offense with a quarterback who can run and throw." Magnotta doesn't really consider his team's victories over Manasquan and Long Branch as upsets. "I go into every game with the idea that we're going to win.

Vic Kubu, Middletown North's coach who has led his club to four-straight wins after an opening-day loss to Bayonne, is critical of the upset theory.

"Coaching has been equalized all over the Shore. No longer are there just two or three good coaching staffs. That gives more balance to the whole area." In Kubu's opinion it is a balanced year. No team stands head and shoulders above the rest

There is more at stake in this game than a possible Shore Conference "A" Division North championship (Middletown North shared it last year with Long Branch and Matawan). These two teams want the opportunity to compete in the Central Jersey Group IV and III playoffs. However, a loss for Middletown would make it improbable, while a loss for Ocean would make it impossible. Ocean, the Group III candidate, has the horses to do well in the post-season showcase, but an opening-day loss to Rumson-Fair Haven Regional produced a stumbling block that the Spartans just may not be able to overcom

Keith Stevens, the 6-1, 180-pound quarterback who had little experience going into the season, has been a success. His bullet-like passes have found the sure hands of Dave Ginda time and again this year. But Jack Gross (6-1, 180, junior) has been coming on as another threat to sting the opposition with his catches.

"The whole team has caught on." Magnotta said. "Our defense has been sound the last few games." Ocean has good size on the line with heavyweight Dave Pisarcik (6-3, 230, junior) as the anchor. Steve Cul-loo (6-1, 195, senior) and John Cummins (5-11, 170, senior) have been instrumental in the shutouts. Vic Lomet, a defensive back, is another standout. Middletown, which held@he upper hand against un-beaten Bayonne until the rain fell one night in northern Jersey, compares favorably with the Spartans. The Lions have quarterback Dan Kelleher, a scrambler with a good arm, at quarterback. His best receiver is Dennis Jacques 175. senior), but running back Mike Slate also can catch the ball.

The key to Middletown's defense this year are linebackers Dennis Eckloff and Garry Hockin, both over six feet tall

We went stale against Bayonne when it started to Kubu said. "They had a fast team, but the rain rain." didn't seem to affect that speed. It did affect us and cur reaction time.

Kubu isn't fooled by the Ocean loss to Rumson. "I can't worry about records. I do know that Ocean is a fine team. Any team can beat you in the field as Michigan found out last week. Sometimes one mistake leads to another—a penalty here and there and you're out of it.' We've made mistakes and have been lucky to win, but I don't think we can keep doing that." Middletown North cannot afford to make mistakes for at least two games. It needs the win tomorrow against Ocean, and then another one next week against Long Branch in order to qualify for a CJ Group IV playoff berth. The Lions must win two of the next three games to be considered. East Brunswick (5-0-1), Hunterdon Central (5-0-0), Middletown South (4-0-1) and Stevens of North Edison (4-0-1) all have got to lose somewhere along the line to make life easier for the Lions.

Red Bank Regional needs a win in order to qualify for a CJ Group II playoff berth, but the Bucs won't meet the likes of Somerville or Hightstown. Both of those teams moved up to Group III.

The Bucs, however, could meet Asbury Park, which dropped from Group III to Group II.

October weekends reap eye-straining orgy

Another October weekend, so we can expect 60 million viewers, subtract or add a few million, to glue themselves to seats in front of their television screens for some 20 hours f football

It is a Roman eye-straining orgy that starts with ABC's cluster of regional college games Saturday, continues Sunday when NBC and CBS saturate the tubes with National Football League battles and climaxes with ABC's NFL Game of the Week Monday night.

Forty million husbands will refuse to budge for dinner Twenty million, 565,000 wives will grab the children in a huff and run off to mother. Approximately 25,247 women will file for divorce

It is America's autumn madness

The social reverberations are exceeded only by the financial ones. The three networks are preparing to sign new contracts which will insure the sanctity of this weekend ritual for the next four years

The NFL package for games through 1981 is figured somewhere between $575 and $600 million. ABC's deal with the NCAA for college games is another $100 million. These figures dwarf by 60-1 the most expensive movies and special extravaganzas bought by the nétworks for prime time viewing. "Gone With the Wind" and "The Godfather" cost $10 million. NBC bought the entire 1980 Olympics in Moscow for $80 million

The football package pops buttons on the pinstripe suits along Madison Avenue and shakes the old concrete columns on Wall Street

As a captive audience, many housewives have been drawn into the football web and converted into the most rabid fans. The reason there haven't been more converts perhaps is that football fails to afford the love interest and family turmoil of "Another World" and "The Edge of Night" and also has a confusing glossary of terms.

Actually, football is not much more complicated than a friendly game of Monopoly or an unfriendly game of war. It is movement, possession of ground, finally accumulation of more wealth (in this case, points) than the enemy and ultimate success

Confusion of the uninitiated is understandable. The lady of the house, passing by the shut door of the den where the TV is going full blast, may think offhand that our armies are trying to ward off the Russians at Orchard Beach. The terms sound like World War III—"blitz," "bomb," "draw," "shotgun," "shoot the gap," "run for daylight."

For the benefit of those wives unable to find relief, we offer today-free, with no extra charge-an interpretation of some of the more commonly used terms:

"Safety blitz"-Bigger than a blitz. Everybody goes.

'Draw"-Has nothing to do with what gunslingers yell in Westerns. It's an offensive move to draw in the enemy defenders for a quick-opening running play. "Shoot the gap"—What the runner does on the draw. "Bomb"—Don't get scared. It's just a long pass. "Run for daylight"—In the more mundane days, it was simply called open field running. Get the runner into the open. Linked to the late Vince Lombardi.

Shotgun"-A favorite Dallas Cowboys maneuver. Quarterback Roger Staubach goes to the deep triple-threat position to pass, usually on third down.

"As I said at the top of the show"-Forget it. A starchy. in-house expression, meaning the announcer is repeating himself.

perpetrated by the Broncos. when they ended Oakland's 17-game winning streak. "Certainly we're proud of our first win over the Raiders, but that's all behind us. We're starting all over ... just as we do for every opponent. "Oakland likes to run but they surprised us a little bit in the last game by coming out passing" added Miller. If the Broncos were really sur-prised, they showed it in the strangest of ways. They inter-cepted seven of Ken Stabler's passes and literally drove him out of the game

Both teams have some players hobbling among them quarterback Graig Morton and cornerback Louis Wright on Denver and tackle John Vella and cornerback Willie Brown on Oakland but, as Miller put it: "Come game time. I think all these guys are going to want to get in Like the Raiders two weeks ago, Minnesota was humbled last Monday night, battered 35-3 by Los Angeles. Now the Vikings face the Falcons, one of the NFL's surprise teams this season. Each team is 4-2, around." says Minnesota Coach Bud Grant. "It was soft through the years, but now they've changed their defensive thinking around a bit more blitzing, forcing more mistakes. The defense has won some games for them.

In the last couple of years they have drafted well They've got some outstanding people. They've sold out their stadium for the game and are looking forward to us coming down there. And I think we may be running into the same kind of business we ran into out in Los Angeles."

Denver is the only unbeaten team in the AFC. The Cowboys are their NFC counterpart. "Dallas has just a great football team and it will be an uphill struggle for us. We will have to play with great determination to win." said Coach Tommy Hudspeth. His Lions. second to the Vikings in the NFC Central, have managed only one victory on the road in their last 10 games - that one last season against Seattle The Lions are coming off perhaps their worst showing of the season, a 28-7 loss to the previously winless 49ers. "The team is disgusted --just like I am -- after that ss to San Francisco." said Hudspeth.

lishing themselves as the first team to clinch a division title. They're already three games ahead of Washington and St. Louis in the NFC East.

But Coach Tom Landry knows a letdown can hit any time. It nearly did a week ago. After supercharged games against the Redskins and Cardinals, Dallas flattened out and barely managed to beat underdog Phila-delphia 16-10 on Charlie Waters' touchdown run with a fourth-quarter blocked punt.

Quiet Little Table and On The Sly head Meadowland Cup field

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A field of 11, led by Quiet Little Table and On The Sly. was entered Thursday in the $150,000-added Meadowlands Cup Saturday night.

Quiet Little Table, who defeated Forego earlier this year and has won $160,000, was named the early 5-2 favorite in the 114 miles race for 3-year-olds, the richest race on the track's stakes schedule

On The Sly scored an upset in the $300.000 Jockey Gold Cup at Belmont to boost his earnings for the season to $381,000. On Th Siy, like Quiet Little Table, will carry 121 pounds

The other starters are Rushing Man. Pay Tribute, Wise Philip, Dragset, Super Boy, Warbucks, Father Hogan, Mr. In-ternational and Faithful Diplomat

Class AA of the 2-year-olds - Alydar and Affirmed - could be reduced to Class A Saturday in the $75,000-added Laurel Futurity

If either wins the 1 1-6 mile test at Laurel, he will be the king of the juveniles for 1977

Louis Wolfson's Affirmed has a 3-2 edge over Calumet Farm's Alydar in head-to-head competition. But in their last meeting, the $125,000-added, one-mile Champagne Stakes at Belmont Park Oct 15. Alydar overcame Affirmed in the late stretch for a 114-length victory. That race was the first time either had raced further than seven furlongs - and Alydar was impressive

The only others entered for the Laurel Futurity are Hidden Rhythm. Star De Naskra and Argento Argento will carry 116 pounds: the others 122 each

Three-year-olds will be featured at Aqueduct, with Jule Fink's Tacitus, a former claimer who has been running in stakes competion, opposing eight rivals in the 118-mile. $50.000-added discover Handicap. Tacitus, fourth in the Travers and third in the Governor's

Cup Handicap at Bowie, gets just 111 pounds, 15 less than top-weighted Cox's Ridge and 12 less than Broadway Forli Loblolly Stable's Cox's Ridge has won three stakes this year, in-cluding the Governor's Cup, while Strapro Stable's Broadway Forli won the Boojum Handicap at Belmont Park and was second in last Saturday's Vosburgh Handicap at Belmont

A stakes for 2-year-olds also headlines the Hawthorne

Park card. Charbizon. Forever Casting and Sound Voyager 116 each, top a nine-horse field, each carrying 111 pounds, in the 11/16-mile. $60,000-added Hawthorne Juvenile. In othe Saturday stakes: Pay The Toll. 119: Stone Pont 120, and J. Georgee, 117, head 11 3-year-olds for the 1-16-mile 120, and J. Georgee, 117, head 11 3-year-olds for the 1-16-mile Alibhai Handicap at Santa Anita; Kay Baby, 121, faces eight rivals in the 1 1/16-mile, $25,000-added Gardenia Handicap on the grass at Calder; Five Up Player, 121, and Azirae, 118, head an eight-horse field for the one-mile, $25,000-added San Francisco Handicap at Bay Meadows; Cloud Forest tops a field of 10 Pennsylvania-bred 2-year-olds for the $25,000-added Pennsylvania Futurity at Keystone, and Feneuil Boy, Packe Contain and Baby Dusty are avanded to head the antries for 'aptain and Bob's Dusty are expected to head the entries for the Favette Handicap at Keeneland

INTRODUCING A NEW KIND OF LUXURY COMPACT. THE 1978 AMC CONCORD D/L.

Big car luxury in a sleek, compact size.

The Concord D/L's luxury has been slimmed and toned on a trim 108-inch wheelbase. The elegant exterior of the 2-door sedan has a formal Landau vinyl roof with opera windows. Both sedans and the wagon have white sidewall tires with color-keyed wheel covers, color-keyed side scuff moldings, bumper nerfing strips and a distinctive hood ornament. And those are just a few of the standard features. that add to Concord D/L's striking appearance. The ride, as you would expect of such a luxurious car, is uncommonly smooth and quiet.

Now you don't have to pay extra for the luxury of a luxury compact.

Whether you choose one of the sedans or the wagon, we think you'll agree what makes it even more amazing is the outstanding value Concord D/L offers for the money. Because all the "extras" just mentioned are included at no extra cost. And the price is as modest as the car is luxurious You also get AMC's exclusive BUYER PROTECTION PLAN*, with the only full 12 month/12,000 mile warranty. That means AMC will fix, or replace free any part, except tires, for 12 months or 12,000 miles whether the part is defective, or just plain wears out under normal use

Soccer player sold for goat, ha

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRES

An Italian soccer player was sold for a goat and a piece of proclutto ham. Midfielder Giuseppe Murgia, 27, went from the amateur Sardinian team of Polisportiva to Seulese in a barter deal underscoring exhorbitant price tags on players and the financial plight of most soccer clubs

"We don't want this to be interpreted as a joke," said Po-lisportiva's president, Ulisse Murgia, not related to the player traded. "What we mean with such a bargain is a kind of pro-test against scandalous transfer (trade) fees." FOOTBALL

Veteran cornerback Jimmy Allen failed to report to the Pittsburgh Steelers' practice after threatening to retire from professional football.

'He didn't show up," said a spokesman for the team after the start of a 10 a.m. practice. "We assume he has gone home

Outlook good for weekend

Jumbo bluefish on the short runs and tilefish, pollock, cod and white hake on the far offshore jaunts are good bets for the last weekend of the month. If the weather is at least half way decent the fishing should continue in high gear

Flounder fishing continued good in fair weather during the week. Louise Fossani of Capt. Charlie's bait and tackle shop, Port Monmouth, reported Joe Ambrose of Metuchen caught 100 flounders on six dozen bloodworms. He fished from shore, off the bulkhead at Highlands and Sandy Hook.

Fishing was good in the Navesink River and in Raritan Bay off Port Monmouth Road.

The Super Cat, Atlantic Highlands, is planning cod and pollock trips and the Super Spray II, Belmar will start daily runs for cod and pollock on Nov. 5. There will be an increase in fare for the cod runs because of the amount of surf clam bait that will have to be carried.

The 50 people who sailed on the Super Spray II last Saturday night had a great day with mostly codfish on Sunday. Capt. John DeRose said that the six largest cod weighed from 30 to 47 1/2 pounds. He and co-skipper Craig Bahr have estab-lished a limit of 50 on the offshore runs. They declined 15 additional reservations

In contrast to previous trips dominated by pollock, three quarters of the fish taken on Sunday were cod. A lot were three to four pounds but welcomed. Mate Joe Mrozowski of Brick Town caught four codfish.

DeRose said there is evidently a considerable migration of codfish arriving on the offshore wrecks. The situation is much better than last year at this time. The boat is scheduled to sail at 11 P.M. today and at the same hour tomorrow for weekend cod and pollock fishing.

Fish in the 35-pound class were good for the cod and pol-lock pools on Monday when Bahr had the boat out.

Capt. Anthony DeVito of the Capt. Louie, Highlands, reported his fishermen have been doing fairly well with ling in the Mud Hole. Other area boats have been fishing for tautog on the Shrewsbury Rocks with fairly good results.

Two men caught 16-pound bluefish to tie for pool honors on the Miss Take II out of Highlands. Weekend fishing was a slaughter on big bluefish reported Capt. Whitey Morenz. All of the action on that boat was on Ava jigs, but that wasn't surprising who pioneered speed squidding on New Jersey party boats.

These flattened chrome-plated metal lures were first used in New York waters. They differ from the diamond that a single large hook is used in place of the treble. Also, the single hook is mounted on a barrel swivel in addition to the usual split ring.

Because of its flattened shape the jig flutters better on the retrieve. The single hook strikes more surely and holds its grip better. Because of the swivel it is less apt to be twisted out of the jaws of the fish.

Actually these lures should be called squids instead of jigs

"This is probably the best thing for the team and myself." Master, coming back after an Achilles heel injury, beat the 25-year-old cournerback said after a meeting with Steelers Britain's Richard Lewis 6-3, 7-6 in a match of superb serve President Dan Rooney Wednesday. Asked if the dispute with the Steelers was irreconcilable, Allen replied, "Nothing's impossible."

The conventional diamonds are usually worked by pumping and slackening off. In addition to pioneering jigging (speed squidding) in New Jersey waters, Morenz also spurred the sale of Pen Jigmaster reels. These reels, of conventional revolving spool design, have very fast gear ratios. While many bluefish squidders prefer spinning reels, all must be very fast for best results with bluefish. Bob Kislin, Toms River and Oakhurst sporting goods deal-er, has received the first of the 1978 model 500 A.L. Jigmaster reels. The new model features an aluminum spool especially reels. The new model features an aluminum spool especially designed for monofilament lines. It has a fast gear ratio. The Jigmaster 500, in use for years, has an option of plas-tic or brass spindles and has been used mostly with monofilament although designed for braided lines. In the new model the take-apart feature is in the left side plate, rather than on the right side. The move facilitates changing spools. Also, the release device was a bit in the way. The Jamaica, Brielle, scored well with tilefish on Hudson

Canyon trips Saturday and Sunday and wrapped up a lot of large pollock on Monday's semi-holiday. The largest was a 40 er, although there were many other fish close to that weight

With so many large pollock around this fall it seems high-possible that somebody will top the all tackle world record rk of 46-pounds seven-ounces which was set two years ago The record for 30-pound test line has already been n broken with a 4 pounder taken on the Super Spray II out of Belmar. The tilefish taken on the Jamaica on Sunday weighed up to 30 pounds apiece and high hook catches ranged to 14 fish. Two 50-pound tilefish were the largest on the Saturday trip, Capt. Howard Bogan reported he still had a couple of spots left for tomorrow's tilefish trip and also for a cod trip on Nov.

The S. S. Miss Belmar, which was almost rammed by the een Elizabeth II., recently, has replaced its two lost anchors and mooring lines. According to Capt. Bobby Nash, co-skipper, the new an-chors cost $550 apiece and the two replacement lines $1,000. Since the boat was unable to sail for days, there were lost revenues in addition.

The near disaster occurred at midnight, Oct. 15.

LITTLE SILVER - Former Councilman William E Trefurt has continued his at tack on the two incumbent Democrats running for re election to Borough Council next month, charging that they have reneged on their promises to residents

Mr. Trefurt, who turned from Democrat to Independent during his term on council from 1974-76, and had numerous differences with the Democrats, said that in cumbents K. Edward Jacobi and John Mortensen "are running on kept promises, but they've reneged on their

Mr Treiurt accused the Democrats of backing down on a promise to create a teen center on the Storck property earlier this year.

The council had been planning to move an old Army barracks onto the property but changed its mind after several neighbors protested.

Mr. Trefurt acknowledged that it was the entire governing body, not just the two Democrats, that turned down the center
