We at Red Bank Catholic are not only celebrating the Fiftieth Anniversary of an institution, but more so the existence of a spirit which has endured for these past fifty years. As we take part in this spirit, we take part in tradition.

When RBC first became a learning environment, Monsignor McCloskey, a faculty of 10, and a small student body set for us a foundation from which has been built a spiritual as well as educational institution.

The class of '28 had visions of continuing the spirit they experienced at Red Bank Catholic throughout their lives to achieve their goals. The Caseys of every class have long been known for their positive, sensitive and creative achievements, whether it be in the heart of the classroom, in the mind of the athlete, or in the soul of the student body.

Today, fifty years later, we see Visions of Gold in our lives through this same spirit, for Red Bank Catholic has brought out the best in us and has inspired every individual to strive for the best there is.

As the spirit lives on, so does RBC.

Cathy Eckstein

The Caseys
take their Visions of Gold and translate them into victory

The fire kindled in '28
still burns bright
today,
its golden glow strengthened by 50 years.

And the beat of our spirit keeps us
moving in a cadence of devotion

A house built on rock that has withstood the test of time;
the students of the past — today's foundation . . .

... today's students —
the builders of tomorrow

In all our endeavors visions are turned into reality

RoseMarie Paraskevas

If you happened to have a class on the first floor this year, you probably became very familiar with three people; Dave Harmon, Winnie Svikhart, and Rose Paraskevas. Each day, our senior representatives met in the student councilroom and worked toward one goal: a very successful year for the class of 1978.

Without Dave, Winnie, and Rosie the senior buffet, prom, and homecoming would not have been so successful. Their hard work and dedication brought new privileges and responsibilities to our senior class. We accepted our privileges gratefully and we fulfilled our responsibilities to the best of our ability. Nothing more could be asked of anyone.

Thanks Dave, Winnie, and Rose for making our senior year so great!!!

The senior class of 1978 leaves behind a record filled with the achievements of four years of hard work. There have been many highlights in our four years at Red Bank Catholic: the Junior and Senior buffets, the proms, S.A.T.s, the seemingly countless victories and state championships in athletics, and above all, the knowledge and wisdom that have been accumulated during these four years.

As the 50th graduating class, we have had numerous opportunities to look back at these accomplishments and appreciate their value. But as we reflect we must keep in mind the goals we have set for our future.

By putting to use the wisdom and sense of responsibility that we all have achieved here at R.B.C., our goals will easily be reached, for that is the true value of education. Being the graduating class of our school's golden years, we can all leave with the little extra bit of pride that comes with being a member of Red Bank Catholic School.

Do you recall Freshman year when:

- . . . Our Christmas Party was in the cafeteria and Billy Black was Santa Claus?
- . . . We celebrated the Bicentennial 1 year early with the play 1776?
- . . . We had "Up" and "Down" staircases!
- . . . Our picnic was at Holmdel and the races we had?
- . . . R.B.C. had a Middle States Evaluation?
- . . . Most of our retreat was in the corn fields?
- . . . Mr. Polistina tried (unsuccessfully) to teach us the alma mater?
- . . . Mr. Cronin kept falling off his donkey in the Donkey Basketball game?
- . . . We were totally embarrassed doing square dancing?

What about Sophomore year with:

- . . . Period 10 lunch and wondering when the stomach growling would stop?
- . . . Candles coming out of our ears?
- . . . Facing the prospect of Geometry and Biology in 1 day?
- . . . The initiation of the Red Head club by Mr. Malick?
- . . . The dismembered dissections from bio. lab appearing in lunch?
- . . . Uncle Jack and his Bicentennial Run?
- . . . Homeroom 10-A winning the sophomore volleyball tournament?
- . . . Tuesdays' schedule on Friday and Wednesday on Monday etc.

Could you ever forget Junior year when:

- . . . We finally were released on New Jersey roads as official drivers?
- . . . Our buffet made over $2000 and Nancy deGroot won the leather coat?
- . . . Carl Riley performed in "South Pacific" at the buffet?
- . . . The class rings arrived and receiving them at the Ring Ceremony from Fr. Valentino and Dave Harmon?
- . . . R.B.C. became the second home for the gong show?
- . . . "This Magic Moment" (jr. prom)
- . . . That awful moment (S.A.T.'s)
- . . . 4 state champion teams!
- . . . June came and we realized we would be leaving next year?

And Finally Senior year, because it meant:

- . . . A final chance to pick up the grades.
- . . . Reaching the age of legality.
- . . . The endless applications in triplicate.
- . . . Signing out of study halls to go to MacDonald's.
- . . . Being excused from Friday assemblies.
- . . . The Homecoming Dance and Gretchen Bauer as our Queen.
- . . . The buffet complete with its own Sonny and Cher.
- . . . The elegant aura of Dorian Manor for our prom.
- . . . Final acceptances to colleges.
- . . . Saying good by to old friends and teachers.
- . . . And the end of the 50th Graduating class of Red Bank Catholic.

Eat, Drink, and Be Merry

For the second straight year the class of 1978 held an extremely successful buffet. With the aid of Mrs. Laveratt and her efficient kitchen crew the senior class prepared a wide variety of delicious meals that were enjoyed by all. While indulging themselves in these gourmet delights the crowd was entertained by several interesting acts. When the buffet ended and the cleanup began, it was refreshing to know that because of the dedication of so many people the bids for our senior prom were reduced. Good job Seniors!

The Pillowheads added a touch of humor.

Ann Woods as Shirley Temple.

The "Andrew Sisters" provided some nostalgia.

Ellen Reilly, Claire Conklin, Jean Morris, Michele Byrne, and Eva Antinozzi as "The Grasshoppers."

Mrs. Laveratt supervises the kitchen.

Seniors such as John Kelly and Gary Beacher were helpful in the kitchen.

The buffet welcomed new senior Sandy Barbato.

Good-bye to all the friends I've known, good-bye to the people I've trusted. I've got to go out and make my way, I might get rich, you know, I might get busted.

Empty halls stand before you,
 Which once were filled with crowds.
 The site of people's movements
 The sounds that were so loud
 The shoving and pushing
 Trying to get to class
 The screaming and shouting
 When you had to get a pass
 Sweating to be the winner
 And cursing when you lose
 Searching for the answers,
 When it's time for you to choose
 Events that made this year
 Seem to go so fast
 Thinking of the memories
 And hoping that they last
 We've made a little dent
 In these walls that stand
 Long after we're gone
 And into the life we plan
 Let's take these memories
 And keep them for a while
 Remember them from time to time
 And yes, they'll make you smile.

UNDERCLASSMEN

Juniors

School began in September and we all returned with a little reluctance but with a great sense of anticipation for then we entered the halls of R.B.C. with a new sense of belonging, we had finally crossed the "Great Divide" and were upperclassmen.

We had our first opportunity to show our class spirit by decorating the second floor corridor before the Red Bank Regional Game. Our floor was beautiful and we had once again proven that we were the class with class.

The Junior Buffet, with the planning of the student council along with their moderator, Mr. Luciani, was a huge success. They did get quite a bit of help from various committees that did a great job.

Football season was well under way and once again the "jolly juniors" showed their spirit and unity at the pep rally before the Thanksgiving Day Game against Rumson-Fair Haven.

It was December ninth, and we were finally official juniors with the arrival of our class rings. At the ring ceremony, even before we received our rings, we were trying to decide who would be our seventy-ninth turn and who would receive that special kiss.

On February 24 the Almost Anything Goes Assembly proved us to be juniors who could work together and get results.

In March we seriously started choosing colleges and we tried to decide what channels our lives would take. Just as classes before us we struggled through the S.A.T. testing.

Our golden dreams came true on May 11, at Squire's Pub, with the arrival of our first prom. For one night we left our jeans at home and donned gowns and three-piece suits. That night our dreams faded into memories.

The Baccalaureate Mass finished the end of the school year as we said goodbye to the seniors.

As summer nears, our long cherished visions of becoming seniors was finally a reality.

WITH VISIONS OF GOLD . . .

WE ASCEND INTO THE FUTURE.

Sophomores

Being affectionately greeted with the remembered old nickname, "Wisefools" by Sr. Percy-lee as they walked back through the doors of R.B.C. seemed to have moved the 1977-1978 Sophomores to prove it wrong. With Freshman jitters behind them, they became actively involved in all aspects of student activities. Led by President Liz Faherty, Vice-President Teri Ferraro, Activities Chairperson Diane Kleissler, and Sophomore moderator Mr. Jones, the anniversary-year Sophomores transformed this year into a great year for spirit.

Early into the year, the Sophomores rallied their forces together and jointly decorated the first floor in the true spirit of the fighting Caseys. But . . . their spirit didn't stop at the first floor; many a silly Sophomore could be seen in the stands cheering on the team to a second place championship.

The Class of '80: From 'A' to 'I' And Every Silly Sophomore in Between

These aggressive "middle children" put their whole heart and soul into helping R.B.C. They proved themselves many times over by exceeding their quota in the fund raiser and in the ad and patron drive.

The 1978 Sophomores had a serious side to them; they weren't silly all the time! They proved this by displaying their many talents in "Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat" and in "My Fair Lady." Whether in a starring role or in the chorus, they really pleased their standing-ovation audiences.

This year, three Sophomores were accepted into the National Honor Society; an extreme rarity and a very assertive honor. The golden-year Sophomores channelled their determination into more activities than just rushing to Sophomore lunch at 1:15.

Greenhorns

A fresh batch of freshmen joined the family at R.B.C. on September 7, 1977. The first day of high school was a new and very different experience. The air was full of anticipation, making new friends, meeting teachers, finding your way around school, and let's not forget, the first day of homework. Going from grammar school to high school isn't as easy as it seems. You change from big, to not so big, old, to not so old. But like the rest of the family you need leaders to represent you. Six of the new edition, guys and girls, campaigned against one another for the title of president, vice-president, and activities. Congratulations to the winners!!!

A Fresh Spirit!

Ninth grade held a lot of memories. Most were favorable — some, as with every new class, were remembered a bit painfully. But, all the same, they are memories which the freshmen of R.B.C. will carry with them for years to come. These were some of the responses to the question, "What will you always remember about your freshman year?" "initiation," "lunch — too early", "the fire in the cafeteria," "meeting new girls!", "Meeting new guys! "water fights in Pat Pro," "Parties, parties, parties! . . . "Pumpernickel", . . . "Homerooms one and two," "the ski trip," "gym — too early," gym — too late", "Maura Taylor showed 'em!", "our freshman football team — fantastic!", "leading the school in jewelry sales," "eight sets of twins," "best friends campaigning to be president," "Helen Hayman — Miss Teen New Jersey 1978!" "exams," . . . the list goes on and on! This year's freshmen proved themselves and the upperclassmen were proud of their achievements and their spirit. One thing for certain is that the Frosh of 1977-78 were a welcome addition to Red Bank Catholic.

Patty, Maxine and LaVerne? No! It's Anne, Karen, and Kathy!

And the Winning Goes On

Despite an NJSIAA ruling that lengthened the girls cross country race from two to three miles, RBC still continued its winning tradition. Under the leadership of senior captains Tricia Flaherty and Anita Van Dyke and co-captains Anne Dubel and Sherri O'Connor, the team finished the season with a dual meet record of 10-0. The girls also dominated many invitational meets throughout the state.

However, the greatest accomplishment of their season took place not in New Jersey, but in Van Cortland Park in New York. Here the girls captured the Eastern States Championship title in a field of over 350 girls, including notable teams from New York, Delaware, and Maryland.

The Caseyetts became the first New Jersey girls' cross country team ever to win this title. RBC defeated the defending champions from Seekonk by 10 points.

Freshman phenom Maura Taylor made first place runner Nancy Seeger of Roxbury, run for her money before finishing in second place. Sophomore star Tracey VanDyke finished in a sparkling seventh place. Other high scorers were Sherri O'Connor (24), Nancy Fitzgerald (32), and Anita VanDyke (36).

The team's depth became evident when the JV team took first place in the Spotswood Invitational, Ridgewood Invitational, and the Parochial School championship. Outstanding performances were given by Daryl Lamb, Jackie Harth, Lisa Reynolds, "Face" Rathlev, and Dede Shebell.

Thrill Hill Harriers!

Every afternoon, from September through November, one could find a group of guys running along Rumson Road, up Thrill Hill in Holmdel Park, or around the track at Brookdale. All this hard work and dedication paid off.

The cross country team completed an outstanding season with a record of 15 and 2 in dual meets. The team copped first place in the Shore Coaches Meet, sixth in the Eastern Championships, second in the County's, fourth in the Parochial Conference Championship and second in the Parochial 'A' Group State Championships. Under the direction of Jack Rafter, the team was acknowledged as being one of the top ten teams in the state.

Captains Joe Keenan, Joel Lizotte and Peter Brown led the team to victory again and again. Other outstanding performances were contributed by Seniors Paul Moscatello, Tom O'Connell, Rob Nelson, Tom LaBanca, Dan Kaminski and Jr. Chuck Quackenbusch. Backing up the Varsity were the successful J.V. and Frosh harriers, who will be back next year for another excellent season.

BELOW: Joe Keenan (85) led the team to a 3rd place finish in the Parochial 'A' State Championships by finishing fifth himself.

Junior Chuck Quackenbush finished a fine season with a 6th in the Parochial Group 'A' Championships.

Casey Gymnasts Make It Four

There is a sport which tests grace, strength, agility, precision, poise and imagination. Even more, it challenges the mind and body of the total person. Red Bank Catholic is fortunate enough to claim as its own, a group that ranks first in the state for the fourth consecutive year in the awing sport of gymnastics.

There are four events in the sport of gymnastics: floor exercise, vaulting, balance beam, and the uneven bars. The gymnast must make up a routine for each event, including required skills and dance in each of their routines. These skills are judged in a meet on their degree of difficulty, composition, and execution.

The team was led to an unbeaten record in dual competition and a State Championship for the fourth year in a row by the outstanding performances of All Around State Champion Ann Woods, Missy Sweeton, Liz Mautner, and Kim Gray.

Other outstanding gymnasts include Jackie Atkins, Janet Wolejsza, Joanne Ryan, Julie Kane, Jamie Sarios, Marlie Sweeton, and Mary Leary. Coaches Mr. Richard Woods and Miss Kathleen Harvey dedicated much of their time to help guide the girls to victory. They and the girls deserve many congratulations on another fantastic year.

All-Around State Champion Ann Woods shows her finesse while practicing her award-winning floor routine.

Casey Girls Serve Up Best Year Yet

Congratulations are in order for the Red Bank Catholic Girls Tennis Team which ended its season victoriously with an 8-4 record. This winning record advanced them to the State Semi-finals for the first time.

Under the support and guidance of their new coach Miss Sharon Sullivan, the girls started their season on the right foot by posting an easy 5-0 shutout over Raritan, but the competition stiffened from then on. Decisive playing by Margaret O'Byrne, Jill Tappen, and Donna Horohoe in singles and Linda Anderson, Carolyn Rubin, Marguerite Maggs, and Lila Nappi in doubles proved to be too much for their opponents.

In addition to their ability on the courts, dedication was necessary to mold a winning team. Without courts close at hands, the team would pile into the cars of co-captains Linda Anderson and Marguerite Maggs and trek off to Brookdale or Thompson Park every day for practice. Going to different courts has almost become a ritual every year for the team since its inception five years ago. It seems to be a sign of good fortune, because the Casey girls have never had a losing season yet.

Playoffs Made Third Year in Row

The Casey players surely do not mess around. With a record of 8-3, who could think otherwise? Not only does the victory ball bounce to each and every one of the spirited players but also to head coach Mr. Montanaro, Mr. DeVoe, Mr. Farmer, Mr. Franzen, Mr. Jones, Mr. Petrone, Mr. Tucker, and Mr. Woodin. These coaches added spirit and experience to the team.

To top off the season, we entered the playoffs for the third year in a row. In the first round the team was pitted against top-seeded, unbeaten Holy Spirit. Playing a long way from home the team still managed to pull off a 13-8 upset. The next long bus ride found the team in Trenton against another underdog team, Holy Cross. Holy Cross prevented a storybook finish, handing down a tough 14-6 loss. Getting to Trenton to defend the South Jersey Parochial "A" title had been a long, hard trek, though! After a 1-2 start, with losses to Red Bank and St. John Vianney, many people counted R.B.C. as out of the playoffs, and all the papers predicted that the Caseys would lose to the undefeated Shore Regional team. Yet 27-0 thumping of Shore started our team on a seven game winning streak culminating in a 30-15 thrashing of Rumson, the first time Rumson was beaten by us in a playoff year. Another plus for the fans was that the team was never beaten at home. The last team to beat us at home was Atlantic City in the second game of the 1976 season.

A few more minutes and Coach Montanaro will have little reason to be concerned as the Rumson game was put out of reach, 30-15.

Home Season Was Perfect

The major asset of the team was the closeness between each member of the team and the coaches. When the season ended the bond was still strong. Every player added a part of themselves to make a great overall team of players and friends.

For a team that had one returning starter on offense, the fourth place ranking in the Monmouth County would have been enough. Yet our wishbone offense produced two of the leading scorers in the Shore — Mike Madsen and Jerry Bruno. These two players were named the Outstanding Players of the '77 Mater Dei game.

Next year may see the Caseys in the playoffs for the fourth straight time, because there are returning Junior stars, a 5-3 J.V. team, and an upcoming 6-2-1 Frosh team.

Early season injuries, such as this one received by defensive stalwart Jim Mayer, attributed to the team's slow start.

Matt Eschelbach reflects on the quick score that started Red Bank to a 6-0 triumph.

While the other fall sports enjoyed winning seasons with berths in the state playoffs, our first varsity soccer team suffered a winless season. Competing for athletes with the strong football and cross country teams, the soccer team relied heavily on underclassmen.

Head coach Mr. Price was hard put to find a winning solution. The high point of the season was the 5-4 loss to highly rated C.B.A. The team showed a lot of spirit and fight against an older and larger soccer power. We led 3-1 at one point, but the team was eventually worn down, by a lack of reserves. Often our team would score the opening goal only to suffer a fatal lapse. When we played Red Bank Regional, Mr. Price threatened to bench the starters as soon as Red Bank Regional scored. The Bucs scored in the first minute and the underclassmen went the distance of a 6-0 defeat. Though the score was lopsided, the play of the sophomores and freshmen indicated that future seasons need not be disastrous if the team is given proper support and aid.

Two seniors will be missed next year, Matt Eschelbach, the outstanding player and underrated goalie of the team, and Tom Kleissler, who received honorable mention All-Shore.

Matt Wise moves the ball into scoring position, but the shot was wide and we were handed only our second shutout of the season.

You Have to Start Somewhere

Chris Heidel and Phil Agrios (goalie) would tell you that soccer is no less physical than other contact sports. Here a shot is rejected, but the Bucs won 6-0.

Mr. Price makes some changes in strategy during the Buc game, while Tim Crowe (27) and Frank Wise (17) listen in.

RIGHT: Some defensive plays were brilliant, as Brian Hurley stops this Piner shot, but (opposite page) Lakewood scored and prevailed 5-1 in the season opener.

A Season of Ups

The basketball team had quite a season of ups and downs, with the 'ups' prevailing for a regular season record of 10-9. An example of this season is the two game split with St. John Vianney. The first game against Vianney was a disastrous loss at home, but a month later we knocked Vianney off with 13 seconds to go. The high point of the season was the 73-72 upset of St. Joseph's Tom's River. St. Joe's was 17-4 at the time, but a 32 point performance by Senior Mike Largey was too much for the Griffins. Neil Boyle provided the consistency on offense that kept many games close in the final quarter against tough opponents. The team played St. Anthony's of Trenton to start their defense of the South Jersey Parochial 'A' Championship won last year.

. . . and Downs

Senior Mike Largey goes up for a bucket that was good against Red Bank, but the Bucs topped RBC.

During a time out against Red Bank, the team catches its breath and discusses their game plan.

Junior Paul Ryan sends up this shot as Neil Boyle (34) positions himself for the rebound.

Senior Jeff Mahon lays in two in a victory over Mater Dei as junior Mike Jones looks on.

Senior Neil Boyle was the sole returning starter from last year's championship team. Here Neil drives down court on a fast break netting two more points against Mater Dei.

The Grapplers

This year's wrestling team sported an 8-5 record, and the necessary matmen to take fourth place in District 22. The team was led by Seniors Matt Eschelbach (16-5-1), Mike Walch (14-6). Other standouts were Jim Kirgin (19-7), Bill Herchakowski (16-5), and Bob Manning (11-7). Bill, Jim, Bob, and Mike all placed second in the District Tournament. The J.V. finished the year 6-4-1 and the Frosh were 8-6.

Girls Successful on Court Too!

This year the Girls' Varsity and J.V. Basketball Team practiced and played hard under the fine coaching of Ms. Lynn Dooley and Miss Kathy Walsh.

The team, led by senior captain Linda Anderson and seniors Marguerite Maggs and Emily Fitzpatrick, finished with a 9-9 record. Two other players who strongly contributed their talents to the team effort were sophomore, Amelie Mattan, and junior, Christy Light. High scorers this season were Peggy Egan and Marguerite Maggs. Strong under the boards for the Caseys were Emily and Joan Fitzpatrick and Peggy Egan pulling down the most rebounds, while Marguerite Maggs led the team at the foul line.

Although the Caseys will be losing three of their starting five through graduation, there are many strong players on the J.V. team that will be able to make the move to Varsity, showing the team's depth. Maura Taylor, Cynthia Joy and Michele Smith will help the team continue its winning ways next season.

Everyone watches as Peggy Egan shoots for two against Millville.

Looking up in anticipation for the rebound is Captain Linda Anderson.

Casey Girls Keep Up Track Tradition

Although the Spring Sports Season doesn't officially begin until March 1, early February found hopeful Casey-etts working out in the weight room. These girls lifted and stretched, jumped and jogged all in order to get in shape and make that famous Red Bank Catholic Girls' Track Team.

March 1 came and the girls were out in full force. When they found they could run a mile a little faster than others or jump a little higher, they knew their hard work had paid off. With determination like theirs and Casey pride, what else could the season be but successful?

Music is in the air under the direction of Father Zec.

The night of September 23 marked the beginning of the Casey football season. The traditional pep rally was backed by a student body that was filled with enthusiasm and hope for a great upcoming season. Coach Montanaro talked of the faith and confidence that it takes to lead a team to victory. It seemed our team had just enough of this faith and confidence as it went on to play a winning season.

50 Years of Casey's Are Reunited

The night of September 24 reunited 50 years of Caseys for the Golden Jubilee Celebration in the Broad Street Auditorium. Mass was concelebrated by Father Valentino and several priests who joined him in the ceremony. Despite the rainy weather, a large crowd assembled to take part in the mass, talk over old times and share in the spirit of unity. Father Zec and our band provided excellent entertainment during the celebration. The evening included socializing, dancing and fun for everyone. Friends who hadn't seen each other for years took advantage of this chance to share, once more, in each other's lives.

If you're ever wondering where Sister Elizabeth Riley is, you'll find her in the library. Not only is she directress in the library, but she moderates the Library Club. The club meets once a week and helps the library's staff with jobs such as sorting out magazines, putting books on the proper shelves and sending out overdue notices. Though the group is small, their industrious workers make the library a pleasant place to study.

Enriching Our Minds and Bodies

The Bowling Club met every Monday at Sycamore Lanes. The players were split into teams and would compete against one another. Mr. Soviero, the moderator, also got in a little practice now and then.

This year marks Red Bank Catholic's twenty-fifth year as a member of the Metropolitan Opera Guild. Students who are interested in opera join the guild. They study one opera and are encouraged to attend the performance at the Metropolitan Opera. This year they attended Verdi's "Il Trovatore," on April 5.

The Art Club met every week during the year. Mrs. Carretta, the moderator, acted only in an advisory capacity. Students were allowed to develop and pursue their skills.

"Joseph" Captivates the Audience

"Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor DreamCoat" was the Christmas production of Red Bank Catholic High School on the nights of December 16 and 17. Though the flu epidemic descended upon the chorus and 27 members were unable to perform, the show went on, and proved to be the success we all knew it would be.

Pat McCall sighs "Father, we've something to tell ya" to Patrick Kelly.

"There's one more Angel in Heaven" as sung by the brothers.

"Those Canaan Days" were remembered by the Brothers and adoring girls.

"Benjamin's Calypso" brought much delight to the RBC audience.

David Crowton as Joseph, tells of his dreams.

The plot centers around Joseph, David Crowton; Joseph's father Jacob, Patrick Kelly; and others. Joseph is the youngest of twelve sons. Through jealousy, Joseph is sold to "... a hairy bunch of Ishmaelites," and ends up in the service of the Pharaoh of Egypt, played by John Kelly. Joseph's visions save Egypt from their years of famine and in the end Joseph reunites with his family, who are now honest men. The story was narrated by the talented Paul Plain and directed by Mr. Robert Cioffi. Choreographing was done by Mrs. Meredith Pennotti and Miss Mary Carmody.

It's Not Just Gold and Glitter . . . It's More

The Student Council for the '77-'78 school year was efficient and productive. Guided by Sister McAuley, Rody Angers, President was able to supply the student body with interesting assemblies and a welcome back dance with free admission. On the Senior level, Dave Harmon worked with his officers to bring about a successful Senior Buffet which helped with the Senior Prom bids. The Junior class, led by Bill O'Brien, also proved that their Buffet could be just as entertaining as the Seniors. The Sophomore class elected Liz Faherty president. A dance was sponsored on the second of February by the level and its president helped with Homecoming. Bob Bauer and Staff of the freshmen class did a superb job in fixing and delivering Thanksgiving baskets for the poor and also for their competitiveness in the Jewelry and candy drive.

The Forensics Club under the direction of Miss Sheredos, has gone on to win many trophies and has made a name for itself. The Club competes in tournaments on Saturdays and attended coaching sessions after school. Their first tournament was at Moutelain State College. Pat McCall took first place in Declamation. On the November 19 meet at Caldwell College Pat McCall and Marilyn Wyzga won 2nd and 3rd place respectively for interpretation of prose/poetry. The other members of the forensic team participated in meets during the school year.

Music Fills the World

The RBC Band brought to us hours of entertainment on the football field as well as in their Christmas performance!! Through the patience of Father Zec and Brian Fitzgerald, band president, formations were drawn up and explained to the supporting units who joined together to make half-time shows the delight and success they were. The Casey stage band also kept the night of the Golden Jubilee hopping with tunes old and new. Other events include parades and the spring performance.

Better luck next time, guys.

Music for your halftime entertainment.

Homecoming — a Queen Is Crowned

This year's Homecoming Queen was crowned during the half-time entertainment at the Thanksgiving Day Game. The three finalists were Gretchen Bauer, Denise D'Espoto and Sandra Harvey. The R.B.C. Band provided the music while the girls were escorted onto the field. Father Valentino crowned the 1977-78 Homecoming Queen, Gretchen Bauer. The Homecoming Dance was held the next evening in the R.B.C. gymnasium. The festive atmosphere was a happy time for all, but mostly for Gretchen, the center of attention.

Golden Anniversary Production of

The Red Bank Catholic School play for the 1977-1978 school year was "My Fair Lady." Jeanne Montano, played Eliza Doolittle, a poor flower girl who is taught how to become a lady by an English gentleman, Professor Higgins, played by Paul Plain. Eliza's lessons to teach her to speak a proper English instead of her broken cockney are paid by Colonel Pickering who challenges Higgins to pass her off as a duchess at the Embassy Ball. Patrick McCall portrays Colonel Pickering, a sympathetic man who acts as a father to Eliza and makes Higgins aware of her human feelings. As the story goes, Eliza is passed off as a duchess and Higgins finds himself lonely when Eliza leaves his household after the Embassy ball feeling very hurt and alone. But Eliza and Higgins come to realize their fondness for one another and decide to remain together.

Alexis, Mrs. Pennotti's daughter, was a colorful addition to rehearsals.

"Two bundles of violets trod in the mud . . ." bring Eliza into the scene.

The boys look confused as Mrs. Pennotti conducts dance tryouts for the play.

Higgins, Paul Plain and Pickering, Pat McCall discuss the English language.

Eliza's father, Mike Quatrella, chalks life up "To a Little Bit of Luck."

Eliza is passed off as a duchess at The Embassy Ball.

"Get Me to the Church on Time" is a tribute to Mr. Doolittle's wedding day.

The musical highlights of the night were "Wouldn't It Be Lovely" and "I Could Have Danced All Night" sung by Eliza, "I've Grown Accustomed to Her Face" sung by Higgins, "On the Street Where You Live" by Eliza's Suitor Freddy, Mike McGann and "Get Me to the Church on Time" sung by Eliza's father, Mike Quatrella.

The play was shown for five evenings and never played to anything less than a packed house. The play was directed by Mr. Robert Cioffi assisted by Miss Mary Carmody, and choreographed by Mrs. Meredith Pennotti and "With a Little Bit of Luck" and a lot of hard work "My Fair Lady" can be referred to as a brilliant and grand performance with a superb cast.

Fund Raising — a Major Event at RBC

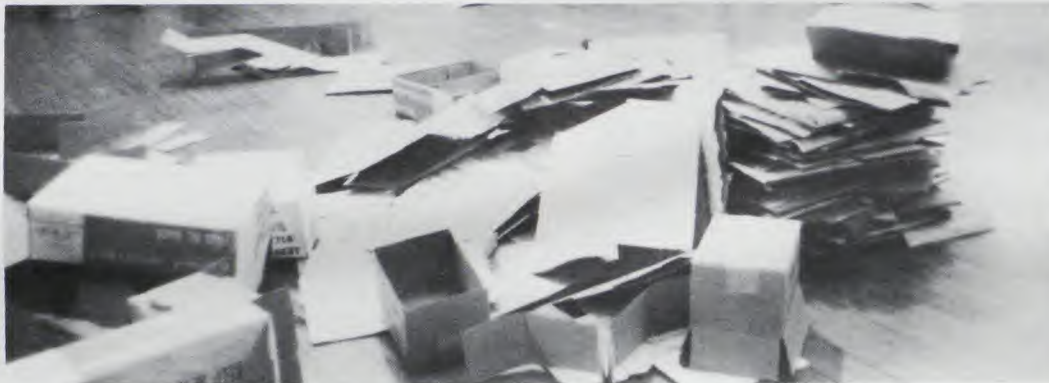

The fund raising drive this year included the sale of jewelry and candy. The drive was a success as everyone in the school pulled together to help. Mr. Thomas Giordano and Mr. John Soviero sorted through jewelry with the help of many students. Time was also spent unloading trucks full of candy. Sister Mary Vincent and Mr. Thomas Lalli handled the financial end of the drive.

Religion is very much alive here at Red Bank Catholic High School. It is a required course during all 4 years of our development at R.B.C. The strength of our faith helps us through many problems. Every student has a chance to go to mass frequently during the year. Any student who graduates from R.B.C. leaves with faith in God and in his fellow human beings.

A Valuable Experience

Janice Siciliano, Business Editor, busily types away on another quad-pack.

The 1978 Emerald Staff started out as a very inexperienced group of students. Under the guidance of a new moderator, Mrs. M. Walton, and with a new publishing company, we began work on what, we believe, to be the very best yearbook ever put out by Red Bank Catholic High School. The summer of '77 was definitely one of the hottest ever on the Jersey shore. Many people spent their time on the beaches and had a wonderful summer. The new editors spent their time learning the yearbook business in hot, weekly sessions. September rolled around all too soon and brought with it a challenge to put our newly learned skills to work. During October, the Emerald editors took a trip to Columbia University in New York City. Running through the rain was an experience, just as getting lost on the subway was. While visiting Columbia University, we attended a series of lectures concerning the yearbook. These lectures proved to be valuable as the year wore on. The weather during the year was not on our side. Snow, sleet and rain delayed our work, but miraculously, all deadlines were met! Life in our two main homes is a very busy one. Our homeroom was constantly buzzing with activity. Our office, with the non-operating cabinets was about as big as a matchbox. The chaos that existed in that tiny room, all year, was absolutely unbelievable. We have received much help from Ms. Shirley and Murray Howard of Lorstan-Thomas studios. But, the person we wish to thank the most is Mr. George Franklin, of the Taylor Publishing Company. Without his attention and guidance we never would have come up with such a good book. We would also like to thank all staff members who were always willing to come to our aid. Those people who worked anonymously also have our gratitude and appreciation. Much time, effort and hard work have gone into this year's Emerald.

Spare Time Is Used Wisely

Tracey views the world from another angle.

Tracey Seaman, a senior at R.B.C., spends her extra time skating. She has become quite good. Tracey's family has always skated, so she learned at the young age of 6. At the age of 9, she became a familiar face at the Ocean Ice Palace, Brick Forum and New Hyde Park rinks. She has completed 5 of her compulsory figures and is up to the silver level in ice dancing. Tracey used to skate 25 hours a week, but to her disappointment, she suffered a knee injury and now skates only for her own pleasure.

The R.B.C. Student Council sponsored a senior citizens' dance to spread good will during Catholic School week. Judy Gervasi, Bill O'Brien and Diane Kleissler took an active part in its planning. A trip to the senior citizens' home was made on January 31, 1978. The council brought music and refreshments to the elderly. Later in the afternoon, Ginny Gibson, Rody Angers and Denise Taylor stopped by with records for those who wished to dance faster. The fast pace was enjoyed by all, including Sister Alma and Mr. John Soviero.

The heart is always young.

Let's dance!

Serving the Community

There are many students who devote much of their time to helping others. Such is the case with Candy-Strippers and Riverteens, student volunteers at Riverview Hospital. Candy-Strippers bring cheer to people who are sick. They also help in the coffee shop. A Riverteen is similar to a Candy-Striper, but to be a Riverteen the volunteer must take a series of courses on Saturdays. Once this requirement is fulfilled, the volunteer becomes a Riverteen.

A Riverteen works on the floors in Riverview Hospital helping the nurses with their many tasks. Stripes are sewn upon the uniforms of the girls as they increase the number of hours that they serve in the hospital. A cap is also given for 500 hours work. Volunteer work is an essential service in our community and anyone who devotes her time as a Candy Striper or Riverteen deserves to be recognized and commended on her fine work.

Good Times Shared

The Gong Show brought out the actors in all of us.

Assemblies this year were few, but the ones that were held were highly entertaining.

To begin the year, class level assemblies were held. Junior and Senior proms were decided upon, while the Freshmen and Sophomores discussed their plans.

The Hypnosis Assembly was an undisputed favorite for everyone. The student body watched as a few willing victims were brought to the stage. The boys were asked to do imitations, recite, and act out nursery rhymes.

Another favorite, the Gong Show, was brought to us by the Red Head Club under the direction of Mr. Elwood Malick. The student body got a first hand look at the amazing talent that was brought to our attention.

The Administration of Red Bank Catholic High School was the hub of all school activities. Without the truly dedicated persons involved, Red Bank Catholic would not have functioned as efficiently. The administrative team included Reverend Thomas A. Luebking, Diocesan Superintendent; Reverend Frederick A. Valentino, director; Sister Percylee Hart, principal of Red Bank Catholic; and Mr. Thomas Lalli and Mr. Frank Poleski, assistant principals.

Sister Percylee had many duties and responsibilities related to Red Bank Catholic. She was in charge of Foreign Language, Religion, and Science Departments, Educational Media Services, Medical Services, Bookstore and Secretaries, in addition to her other school duties. They included evaluation, finances, school related organizations (PTA), and Educational Planning and Development.

Mr. Lalli had many responsibilities, too. He supervised the English, Health Education, Music, and Physical Education departments. He was also responsible for the Teacher Cadet Program, the Athletic Department, and Student Activities.

Mr. Poleski managed the Art, Mathematics, Social Studies and Business Education departments, as well as the IDEA program. His duties included the Student Personnel Department, Academics, curriculum, the master schedule, and the Student Behavior Department.

With their many duties, tasks, and responsibilities, it is clear to see why Red Bank Catholic's administrative team was indispensable . . .

Student Creativity Blossoms with Guidance from the Art Department

The imagination and creativity expressed by the students were cultivated by the Art Department. This department offered classes in art and photography to all those with the ability and the drive to express themselves in art forms.

At one time, art was only offered independently. It was headed by Sister Eleanor who, as the sole staff member, taught her classes in various houses on the school grounds. With the addition of the new building in 1966, the Art Department finally came into its own with permanent expanded facilities.

Mrs. Kennedy, Mrs. Carretta, and Mrs. Siegel worked together to aid students who plan on future careers in the professional world of fashion and advertising.

Business Department Prepares Students

The Business Department provided many opportunities for students seeking a foothold in the competitive world of business.

By supplying contracts and requiring the students to hold to the terms involved, the department prepared students to meet responsibilities in college and in future careers. Varied methods of teaching, involving much time and planning, were necessary to meet the needs of the students participating in the business courses.

Courses were updated to fit the world situation. "As colleges get more and more expensive," said Mrs. Connell, department chairperson, "many students will, of necessity, have learned some skills for the business world." Such courses as Police Science and Criminal Law were added to the department's curriculum. Gregg and Alphabetical Shorthand were also offered

English Department Strives for High Ideals

Members of the English Department staff have seen some marked changes in the educational hands, the attitude of the students, the school administration, and the sizes of the classes over the years.

Students of years ago appeared to be less settled, goal-oriented, serious and content, perhaps due to the confused atmosphere society had found itself engulfed in. Although the classes of yesteryear were a great deal larger, the enrollment, surprisingly enough, equalled that of today.

Seven years of operation under the direction of Sister Percylee Hart produced a more clearly defined, tighter run administration which consequently produced far more favorable results. The ideas and goals mentioned by Sister Percylee upon her installation as principal here at Red Bank Catholic have only recently come into existence. These innovations manifested themselves in several areas of faculty and student life.

In the turbulence of a constantly changing society, the educational system make a complete cycle from innovative creativity back to the basics.

As is evident by the work of the students taught here, the main objective of the entire department was to give students an appreciation of literature and the facilities for putting it to use. Some have expressed a desire for a larger selection of courses on the senior level, which would enable the students to achieve a higher level of literacy.

On November 22, 1977, Mrs. DeGroot's Channels of Communications classes attended a talk on theatrical production conducted by senior Bob Feeney. The lecture provided pertinent and interesting information for the students involved.

Additional staff members who served this department as well as in other areas included the chairperson, Mr. Joseph Hintelman, Miss Mary Carmody, Mr. Robert Cioffi, Sister Mary Denise, Mr. Elwood Malick, and Sister Regina Smith, as well as new faculty members: Miss Jean Sheredos, Miss Mary Hollahan, and Mrs. Dorothy Senerchia.

"With the entrance of the Jet Age, the world became a little smaller and the need to communicate with our fellow man and to understand each other became a priority," stated Mr. Patrick Farmer, chairperson of the Foreign Language Department. No longer were merely the grammatical aspects of languages presented. Emphasis was placed on the communicative and cultural levels of languages. Implements such as video tapes, cassettes, film strips and slides were introduced to aid this mode of education at Red Bank Catholic.

The department grew from a staff of one to include seven accredited instructors. Studies in foreign countries such as Spain, France, and Germany were provided to reinforce the learning process. The French class accompanied by Mrs. Dorothy Ford, went to see "Tartuffe" a play by the seventeenth Century playwright, Moliere. The play was presented in English and provided the students with an insight into French history.

Specialized programs for students having a background in a language are forseen by the department for the future . . .

Math Department Advances Along With Technological Age

The Mathematics Department has been one of the strong forces in the academic milieu of Red Bank Catholic for fifty years. Additional members were added to the department as student enrollment swelled and curriculum changes met the demands of new trends stemming from scientific and technological advancements. In reply to a question about growth and change within the department, Sister Mary McAuley, chairperson, noted that the math program expanded and evolved over the years from traditional courses to a variety of offerings. electives in math included: computer, the Honor program, Advanced Placement program, and programmed interdisciplinary courses. Selections within the department provided challenges for the students with great quantitative skills as well as those who wished merely to cover the basics. Sister McAuley envisions a bright future for the department. Mathematics and science are companion skills needed to cope with the new technology.

Medical Services Assist the Entire Student Body

The head of the Medical Services Department, Mrs. Elizabeth Moss, has been with the school for 26 years, first in the grammar school, then the high school, and finally, in 1976, for both schools. Volunteers were a necessary part of this department; without them it would be impossible for the nurse to function efficiently. As busy and crowded as the department was, the nurse and helpers managed to keep their records in such perfect order that they received an "excellent" report from the State Department of Health . . .

Mrs. Elizabeth Moss

Always the cheerful one, Mrs. Russo approaches each new day with a smile.

We're Getting Better Everyday

As the field of Health Careers has expanded and developed, so too has the Health Department. Mrs. Evelyn Russo, chairperson, offered quarterly courses for sophomores, and juniors; which were: Personal Health, and a safety course affiliated with Driver Education. A course for seniors is yet in a tentative stage. Mrs. Russo also foresees a course involving the four basic life cycles, allowing the students to choose that which he or she prefers.

Lifeline, a biannual, health-related newspaper, was produced in conjunction with the Committee Concerned With Student Involvement. The Health Department was also involved with the coordinating of the Health Careers Club. This organization allowed students to prepare for future careers by allowing them to aid the sick and aged of the community.

In affiliation with the American Cancer Society, the Health Department manned a table at Steinbachs to aid the November 17, "Great National Smoke-Out Day."

Music Department Creates Diversion for Students

"Music makes pictures and often tells stories" is a theme with which many students and faculty involved with the Music Department would agree.

Climbing the ladder from a time when the department consisted of one lone faculty member presiding over the entire department, the staff grew to include two members: Mr. Cioffi and Father Zec.

The Chorus Class, once a small group of thirty students, grew to include sixty-five members from all grade levels. This class, in conjunction with the stagecraft crew, a group of artistically inclined volunteers, produced both the Christmas play and Spring Concert. Stagecraft members also created sets for the annual musical production, "My Fair Lady."

Father Zec led the Music Theory class while also directing the band. The Red Bank Catholic Band performed at the numerous activities which took place throughout the year, including the Band's annual concert.

The Humanities course, a study of literature, art, and music, was a team-taught class which worked with both the Art and English departments. In October, Mr. Cioffi's Humanities class went on a field trip to New York City. After attending a concert of the New York Philharmonic Orchestra at Lincoln Center, featuring André Watts, the class traveled to the Metropolitan Museum of Art where they observed an exhibit on Irish art, both ancient and modern. They also viewed a display of Egyptian and Roman Art which accentuated what they had been studying at the time.

Mr. Robert Cioffi, department chairperson, aspires to add Music History and Appreciation and Music Composition to the curriculum. Hopefully, in the near future, music will become an active part of the lives of all the students . . .

With a hawk's eye, Father Zec watches the band perform its new routine.

Physical Education Department Believes in Involvement

"Involvement" was the key word in the Physical Education Department. Each member of the staff was either a head coach or an assistant coach of a team. They supervised one of the finest weight training facilities in the state, keeping it open to students year-round. The department experienced rapid expansion in the past several years adding self-defense, ice hockey, men's and women's gymnastics, weight training, and coeducational gym, as well as classroom courses: "Introduction to Physical Education" and First Aid to their curriculum. The Parish Room and Room Fifteen of the grammar school have become the physical fitness testing centers and training rooms

Science Department Becomes Involved in the Community

"Change with the students and for the students" was the focal point of the Science Department. A vital part of the curriculum, this department grew to handle one third of the total enrollment of the school. Based on the findings of a survey conducted by the Committee Concerned With Student Involvement, the Science Department found it necessary to add another second year Biology course as well as a course in electronics. The department utilized many community resources — ranging from Riverview Hospital to Sandy Hook Marine Station to the Little Silver Animal Hospital — in its practical application of science. To honor the school's Golden Jubilee Year the department produced "Omni" a book containing the writings and creative talents of all science students . . .

With authority and strong determination, Mr. Tucker presents to his class a psychological analysis of the human mind.

"Back to basics," a popular concept, was the main concern of the Social Studies Department. All of the courses were updated with greater emphasis placed on geography and United States historical documents. The department felt that by expending its energies in this direction, they would further strengthen the already firm foundations within the department. Mrs. Janice Santanello
The Founding of Catholicism

Advancements and changes occurred within the religion curriculum and consequently, in the department itself. As Mr. John Soviero stated, "The personnel has been tremendously improved. All teachers have excellent backgrounds: all have degrees in religion or theology and all have a desire to teach religion. They're all interested in it."

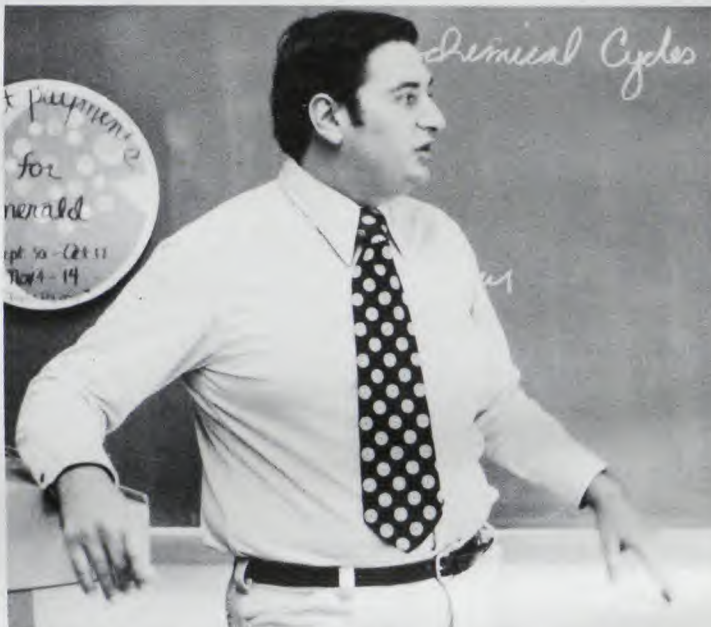

The main concern of the staff was to provide the students with a faith experience: to allow them to see God working in their lives. There was more content to the curriculum, more information involved, in what Mr. Soviero referred to as a "back to basics teaching method." The teachers involved attempted to relate the students to a chronological Church calendar. For each month, various activities, including masses, were offered. The teachers introduced the monthly themes to their classes as part of their teachings.

Students were free to seek the advice of their religion teachers, or simply go to them when in need of someone to talk to, a situation which Mr. Soviero highly approved of and wished more students had chosen to become involved.

Johnson and Johnson — Tender Loving Care

It's so simple . . .

Once again Room Two was the scene of the innovative IDEA program headed by Miss Mary Carmody. She was assisted by Sister Mary Denise, Mr. Louis Montanaro, Mr. Stephen Johnson, and Miss Christine Malinowski. In its sixth year, the program grew to include Room Five. Emphasizing the individuality of the students, IDEA stressed vocational guidance and practical application of course material. Teacher Cadets were also a vital part of the IDEA program, aiding in one-to-one tutoring, make-up work, and small group discussions . . .

RIGHT: "No, you can't come in!"

Teacher Cadets Aid Academic Systems

Serving every angle and aspect of the high school and grammar school system was the Teacher Cadet Staff, headed by Sister Mary Vincent and assisted by Sister Helen Marion. Established in 1971, the staff has involved as many as 100 students working with various classes in Red Bank Catholic and Saint James Grammar School.

The Department allowed students to adapt themselves to a social environment while also aiding them in careers involving the educational field and public relations.

A new course was added for second year students, as well as a new curriculum for the Physical Education Department.

Sister Vincent foresees success in fields of education, special education and public relations for the future of her staff.

Sue Krost, the teacher cadet for the Business Department has many duties, one is to lend a helping hand to typists.

Educational Media Services Expand; Multiply for Brighter Future

The Red Bank Catholic Library has not always had the roomy facilities of a two-story house. Seventeen years ago, Monsignor Monahan, then pastor of Saint James Parish, purchased the house which is now the library.

As times changed, so did the general needs of the library. Seven years ago, under the direction of Sister Percylee, it took on a new look: significant changes in the entire building, reorganization of materials and acquisition of more information.

The Red Bank Catholic Library not only functioned with four qualified staff members, but also with ten experienced volunteer mothers as well as Library Club members. The library supplied titles which teachers requested, and also obtained discarded materials, which can be recycled.

Student Behavior Remains in Step with the Times

Mrs. Byrnes shows how to leave one's job behind.

Growth and change, as a vital part of the department of the school, occurred in the Student Behavior Department over the fifty years it has been in existence. In keeping with this line of thought, Mr. Paul Christopher stated, "Discipline should be strict, but it should also be in conjunction with the students and the times." To maintain constant discipline was the department's goal. Suggestions have always been welcomed, especially those created for the benefit of the student body . . .

Carrying the "sins" of the school on his shoulders, Mr. Christopher ponders another minor disaster.

Student Personnel Has a Wealth of Resources

Many a satisfied student returned to thank the Student Personnel Department for its encouragement and guidance. Seminars, expanded materials, films, cassettes, and resource books implemented the department's objectives as it grew to provide solid career alternatives for the students.

Sister Regina Smith, directress of Student Personnel, hopes to see a larger guidance area added to the present section, thus providing more space for research and resource books. A great deal of help is made available to the students and Sister Regina would like to see many more students take advantage of all that the department offers . . .

Bookstore Serves Needs of Students

"Now, honey, just sign on the dotted line."

Sister Mary Andrew, manager of the bookstore, noted that the bookstore has existed for over twelve years at Red Bank Catholic. Due to the lack of space, it did not function as such until the new building opened in 1967.

Although the location of the store was a good one, Sister hopes to see the day when it is moved to a different location for storage reasons. She hopes to expand on the variety of merchandise offered, if space will allow it.

Sister Andrew believes that students' attitudes have definitely changed in the short time that she has been manager. A very friendly spirit has prevailed, and cooperation has been exceptional . . .

Plant Operation Maintains Smooth System

The maintenance and custodial staff at Red Bank Catholic has been a vital part of the school's livelihood.

The staff was in charge of making repairs and guaranteeing that everything ran smoothly. The staff included Lee Cecione, John Gilligan, and Bill Wall.

Every morning, Red Bank Catholic students stepped into a clean, neat building. This was made possible by the hard work of the custodial staff which was composed of Bill Noll, Tom Mahon, John Murphy, Ronald McCluskey, Herb Talkenbug, Charles Ivory, George Myers, Richard Hutton, Florence Hillman, and Rita Baldwin . . .

The Business Office is the Heartbeat of the School

At one time a single-secretary office, the Business Office has grown into a multi-faceted operation. A busy, bustling place, the office was in many ways the "heartbeat" of the school.

The office maintained a staff of six: Mrs. Patricia Armstrong, secretary, transportation coordinator, and assistant registrar; Mrs. Carol Aumack, secretary, accounts payable, and payroll clerk; Mrs. Jennie Cronin, secretary; Mrs. Laurice Fitzgerald, cashier; Mrs. Julie Kinslow, registrar, state aid book coordinator; and Mrs. Audrey McMahon, secretary and office manager.

In the future, the Business Office will continue to be the kind of place it is. The secretaries are all dedicated, efficient, and helpful women who take pleasure and pride in the work they do: supplying the needs of the faculty, students, and visitors alike . . .

Mrs. McMahon listens as Mrs. Armstrong discusses another school-related matter.
