Imagination, Creation,

For many of us, memory of our freshman year is inseparably bound with the memory of Mr. Joseph Caroselli. Certainly the spirit of room 37 is unforgettable. Mr. Carsoelli's freshman English classes sparkled with his quick wit and the lively discussions he encouraged. In that atmosphere even Shakespeare aroused our interest. But most of all his classes were unpredictable. A class that opened with a quiet discussion of Great Expectations occasionally concluded with a heated analysis of the latest football game. (By the way, we never did learn for whom he rooted at the Red Bank—Brick Township contests.)

But it was not all fun; there was also plenty of hard work. Many of us remember his exams as the longest and hardest we've ever had at Red Bank High. And his vigorous attention to details decorated our papers from top to bottom in that familiar red ink. But this trained us to discipline our thinking and our writing.

Dedicating much of his spare time to numerous school committees, Mr. Caroselli has consistently helped our class, as well as the rest of the school. We will always be indebted to him.

Mr. Joseph Caroselli

Organization—Rewarded

Mrs. Theodora Brown

Each year as the new college freshmen return for a sentimental look at their Alma Mater, there is one room which is invariably crowded with students eager to tell their Senior English teacher their new experiences, and to express their thanks to her for making their first year a little easier.

Mrs. Theodora Brown has specialized in preparing her students for coping with college work. She explains her effective teaching technique with a favorite quotation, "A mind stretched to admit a new idea never goes back to its original size." Mrs. Brown has tried to stretch her students' minds a little every day.

In addition to teaching, Mrs. Brown has for several years supervised many of the dramatic endeavors at the school. She had been actively interested in dramatics at Bates College in Maine, and had won many oratorical contests and play awards. "You won't believe this," she says, "but it all started because I was shy. But once they got me on the stage they couldn't get me off!"

Mrs. Brown graduated from Bates, where she was a Phi Beta Kappa. She also attended Rutgers University, where she received her Master's Degree.

Next year, because Mrs. Brown is leaving Red Bank, as are we, we won't be able to tell her of appreciation. So we say thank you now, Mrs. Brown, for your years at Red Bank High, and for stretching our minds in preparation for the years ahead.

Principal

Mr. Royal Hintze

Running a school is not a single job, but rather a myriad of tasks, requiring skill, tact, creativity and a lot of simple elbow grease. Principal Royal Hintze uses an ideal combination of those qualities to make Red Bank High School the fine educational institution it is.

Even with the enormous task of supervising the smooth operation of his school, Mr. Hintze always finds time to aid club executives and advisors in settling their problems. He is a very ardent advocate of strong student government. Many long sessions with the Student Council Executive Board have shown his desire to accept or his regret to reject them. All organizations with problems know that Mr. Hintze will not only listen, but also will give sound suggestions.

The Class of 1966 has come to know his willingness to listen and his abundance of intelligent solutions. We will never forget him.

Mr. Hintze

Vice-Principal

Mr. Clement Jablonski

Mr. Jablonski

Under the crush of a never-ending job, Vice-Principal Clement Jablonski always finds time to give students guidance and advice.

His more tangible duties are numerous. Mr. Jablonski must supervise attendance procedure, ease conflicts involving events on the calendar, and, of course, enforce school rules. His lesser-known tasks include everything from supervising fire drills to keeping inventory of hall lockers and locks.

Most of these things are taken for granted. This in itself is the best tribute to a job well done by Mr. Jablonski.

Vice-Principal

Mr. Willard Browning

A school is operated only to educate its student population. It is the job of Mr. Willard Browning, Vice-Principal in charge of Curriculum, to always keep the goal of quality education in front of himself.

Setting up individual curricula, planning courses, selecting books and supervising faculty form only part of Mr. Browning's duties. Even with this heavy load, he finds time to run a fine adult school and read the hundreds of sample textbooks that line his inner and outer offices.

We shall all use the quality education we get at Red Bank. And we should remember the man responsible for supervising it—Mr. Browning.

Mr. Browning

Dr. Robert Hoops

Chief Executive

Dr. Robert C. Hoops has served in the difficult and demanding job of superintendent of schools. Dr. Hoops was formerly from New Milford, N. J. Maintaining the quality of a school system is a massive task, but Dr. Hoops has made every effort not only to maintain, but to improve.

Dr. Hoops received his bachelor's degree from New York State University, his master's degree from Columbia University, and his doctorate from Rutgers University.

Klitz's Laws, Johnson's Rhetoric Run Class

Through four years of trials and errors the senior class has been guided by the calm, experienced hand of Miss Mary Johnson. Constantly concerned about us, Miss Johnson has become a true member of the class. Our habit of leaving things to the last minute never dampened her faith in us, when things looked gray, she could always find a bright light.

Because of Miss Johnson's smooth planning, this year's concession stand and all our dances were run without a hitch. She added her feminine touch to the cooking, selling and decorating.

Her easy-going and amicable personality made Room 205 a regular gathering place and she became a friend above an advisor.

The seniors owe a great deal to Miss Johnson and would like to take this opportunity to say "Thank You." Without a doubt no one in the Class of 1966 will forget our "Mary Sunshine."

Friendly, smiling Mr. Robert Klitz has been the Class of '66's "papa" for the last two highly successful years. He has handled all of our "problems" with unending enthusiasm and helpful advice. He is noted for his superb skill as the head chef at the football stand. While not running class errands in his green "283" Chevy, Mr. Klitz helps the seniors in another way; as a Physics teacher, he prepares them for college.

In his two years as class advisor, Mr. Klitz has given his time unselfishly in our service, whether it's the impossible task of putting up the backdrop for the JSR or trying to keep track of the money and tickets for the Senior show.

Without Mr. Klitz, our class might have been "bad news" — we heartily thank him.

The Big Change

Gosh! I remember freshman year in high school. Let's see . . . that was in September 1962 when all of us kids were real scared to come to high school 'cuz we had all different teachers and there were lots of kids we didn't know and changing classes was so confusing. Boy! we were labeled "Green Freshmen" at our first assembly. That was when we learned about the annual magazine drives and all the neat prizes we could win.

Gee, we really did some tough things. Remember how much fun it was helping the SOPHOMORES decorate for the Freshman-Sophomore Hop entitled "Red Sails in the Sunset?" And I'll never forget our first election campaign with scads of posters all over the place. I thought I'd die waiting to find out who was elected. Then we heard that Peter Karlton was our first President, and we began to feel more and more a part of the school.

As sophomores we felt we had taken a bigger step toward the top, but the seniors still seemed pretty "high and mighty." Those memories of dissecting frogs in biology class will linger with the smell of formaldehyde. (Uggggh!) The responsibilities of our class — the Class of 1966 — increased. "Wanna" buy a Red Bank High School pennant?" . . . a sample of our first business venture. This time we managed the Freshman-Sophomore Hop as King Jim Devine, Class President, and Queen Lynn Banta, Class Treasurer reigned in "Cherry Blossom Time."

But our awareness of the outside world was greatly deepened by the tragedy of November 22, 1963. Never did we mature as much as we did in those three days of disbelief . . . confusion . . . depression.

Junior year proved to be full of incessant activities and responsibilities. The football season was highlighted by our victory over Long Branch — the first time in twenty years — and our nightmares of selling booster tags . . . Beat Caseys . . . Beat Brick . . . Beat Long Branch! Class rings were distributed (some to be redistributed), marking us as upperclassmen. "I hate everything . . ." echoed not only from the Curious Savage, but from many who began to realize all that had to be done as college plans were not too far in the future. This was characterized by taking College Boards and receiving class ranks. "Beneath the Blue" was our escape from reality as we presented the JSR for the seniors. Others sought escape by participating in the antics of the unforgettable Soupy Sales.

In our fourth year we anticipated the outcome of such sedulous endeavors as the exhausting yet rewarding operation of the concession stand at the football field during half-time, and the arduous yet enriching rendition of "Little Mary Sunshine." While many were gratified at the early influx of college acceptances, there were still those who had to endure the suspense until spring. Then one night in June 1966, as proud, sentimental, ostentatious seniors we donned our caps and gowns and with retrospective discernment and perhaps some lamentation, we began our conquest of the future.

From Scared Kids To Scholarly Grads

Buc Discotheque

THE ROYAL COUPLE: Queen Lynn Banta and King Jim Devine reigned over our Freshman Sophomore Hop.

"BY THE WAY, IS ANYONE COMING TO THE DANCE" . . . Hours were spent by class members converting the gym into a spring wonderland.

An atmosphere of early spring was the keynote of our Freshman-Sophomore Hop in April, 1964, Cherry Blossom Time. Days of work were greatly rewarded by the transformation of the gym into an enchanting land of pink and white flowers. We danced to the music of the "Clique" in view of the Washington Monument and Mirror Lake. The highlight of the evening was the crowning of Lynn Banta, Queen and Jim Devine, King. It proved to be a most unforgettable night.

Red Bank A-Go-Go

A wild, exotic, and romantic theme set the atmosphere of our Junior-Senior Reception, "Jungle Paradise". Tigers, monkeys, and other mysterious animals stalked around the gym; a hut and palm tree completed the setting. The music of the Mods and the crowning of Bob Carlone and Lois Caruse, King and Queen, highlighted a most enjoyable and memorable evening.

ROYALTY: Bob Carlone and Lois Caruso were crowned King and Queen.

Savage Clan, Patients

CURTAIN CALL: Sue Fisher (Mrs. Savage) takes a bow with the entire act.

"I HATE EVERYTHING IN THIS WORLD . . .": Mrs. Patty (Jane Katims) is consoled by Dr. Emmett (Jim Devine).

The Junior thespians performed The Curious Savage by John Patrick on Nov. 19, 20, 21, 1964 under the skilled direction of Miss Donna Adams. The evening brought tears of laughter to the compassionate audience.

Mrs. Savage is brought to an institution because her children: the Senator, the Judge, and the professional divorcee, wants their deceased father's money. Mother has been dispersing money in one hand, while clutching her teddy bear in the other. In heart-rendering encounters, Mrs. Savage brings out the beautiful simplicity of the guests who are satisfied with little, compared to her greedy children who are always miserable.

"BUT WHERE'S THE MONEY?": Titus (Paul Klein) and Lily Belle (Anne Thomas) try to convince their mother to give them the stocks.

Little Mary Sunshine

Senior Show Makes

"PLAYING CROQUET IS A WONDERFUL WAY TO ENJOY AN AFTERNOON.": The ladies from Eastchester Finishing School spend an afternoon in the Colorado sunshine.

AT EASE MEN!: Captain Warrington (Roy Buck) and the Forest Rangers finally arrive at the Colorado Inn.

Our diligent director, Mr. Robert Spencer.

FINAL BOWS: The entire cast answers a curtain call.

Audience "Merry—Like Sunshine"

At River Street School on March 17, 18, and 19, the Class of 1966 presented "Little Mary Sunshine", directed by Mr. Robert Spencer.

The story concerns Little Mary, proprietress of the Colorado Inn, high in the Rocky Mountains, and Captain "Big Jim" Warington, leader of the Forest Rangers. He has been sent to capture Yellow Feather, a savage renegade Indian. His father, Chief Brown Bear of the Kadota Indians, had thought Yellow Feather dead, as did little Mary, his adopted daughter. We now follow the amours of Nancy Twinkle, Mary's mischievous flirtatious maid and Corporal Billy Jester. Love also blooms between Mme. Ernestine Von Liebedick, a German opera singer and General ("Uncle") Fairfax. The young ladies from Eastchester Finishing School and the Forest Rangers become engaged, but the men must leave to capture Yellow Feather, who has threatened Little Mary. Billy and Nancy ("Mata Hari") add their efforts to capture Yellow Feather, but Captain Jim finally is successful. As the play closes, Yellow Feather turns to the law, Brown Bear receives one fourth of the state of Colorado from the United States Government, Little Mary is freed from her mortgage, and all live and love happily under the Stars and Stripes.

"AH, COME ON BILLY": Nancy Twinkle (Carol Christensen) tries to convince Billy Jester (Fred Johnson) she still loves him.

Log Staff Struggles For Newest Edition

In spite of Christmas vacation, quarrels and "Little Mary Sunshine", the Log has survived once more. Copy was lost, quotes were misquoted, captions were corny and senior write-ups painfully trite, but with the help of some sympathizing, unknown force, the pictures, layouts, copy and captions were completed and tucked into their envelopes with a protective pat.

To the muse of literature we give silent acclaim as we present our four year epic tale to the eyes of the world, and to the class of 1966.

The Americanization Of Joan

THE GROUP: Joan sits with the officers of the A.F.S. Club.

THE "ROYAL" WELCOME: Mr. Hintze welcomes Joan to our school at a tea for the Faculty members.

"America has always been my biggest dream: a country that I wanted to see, a people that I wanted to know and to understand. Here in the United States I am not a simple tourist or a host, I have really found a new family and a new home, I have met friendly and nice people that I will never forget.

"I like the way American High Schools are organized and I especially admire Red Bank's students for all their activities; I enjoyed my football and basketball games, and while I was cheering with the cheerleaders, I really felt that I was like all the people around me: a member of Red Bank High School cheering for his own team. The only sad thing will be at the end of the year when I will leave and I will say good-bye to my family and to all my friends . . . but I hope to come back soon . . . America, after all, is not so far."

Joan confers with congenial classmates concerned with the Senior Play.

Candy, Newspaper Sales Boost Treasury

The Student Council, under the leadership of President Peter Berg and advisorship of Mr. George Davis, carried on its hard-earned tradition this year dedicated to the promotion of the general welfare of the student body through united student action. The Council was successful in solving many student problems, bolstering school spirit, and giving several dances. By shifting its emphasis away from fund-raising projects, the Council gained student support.

Organized on a parliamentary basis, the Student Council carries out its work in general meetings of elected student representatives and in committee meetings. Permanent committees include a traffic committee, school spirit committee, financial committee, publicity committee and poster committee.

Two-Way Pilot Program Tried

In this, the fourth year of Red Bank High's foreign exchange program, the ultimate goal was reached and the Americans Abroad program began. Applicants from the Junior class were carefully reviewed, and two names were sent to the national A. F. S. offices in New York for the final decision.

The club also worked to increase student interest and participation in the school's foreign exchange program. A library display was made, Christmas cards were sold, bulletin boards were decorated, and Giovanna Pernigotti, the exchange student from Italy, spoke at various clubs and made many American friends.

TEA ANYONE?: Joan Pernigotti converses with Mr. Rezetko.

ATTENTIVE LISTENERS: Sudhir Prakash, Herald Tribune delegate from India, describes his country to Red Bank students.

ON MY HONOR, I WILL TRY... : Red Bank's top students.

Boasting a task force of 70 members, the Edwin C. Gilland Chapter of National Honor Society continued its effort of service to the school through the tutorial program and paperback book sales.

Over one hundred students seeking to raise their grades to a passing level were helped each week by Society tutors. Most aid was received in the fields of math, science and foreign language. Sue Fischer coordinated this program.

Book Sales, Tutoring Widen Activity

Paperback book sales were kicked off early in October when the "bookmobile," offering 4000 titles, was parked outside the school for a week. Paul Klein, book sales chairman, kept the shelves of the new bookstore, located in the old cafeteria, filled with an assortment of novels, plays, poetry, documentaries and language dictionaries the rest of the year.

Springtime found the members in New York City as the guests of the Board of Education. Some viewed a Broadway show and the rest saw a baseball game.

WORTH ITS WEIGHT IN GOLD: Paul Klein sells a paperback in the bookmobile.

SADIE HAWKINS SWEETHEARTS: Decorative hats for la fete de Saint Catherine attract the boys' attention and preserve the French tradition. ## Rewarding Accomplishment In Foreign Language Study

"A man who knows two languages is worth two men," reads the motto of the French Honor Society. The club's activities, guided by Mrs. Fulvia Garruto, this year included a trip to New York, an induction dinner, a party in celebration of St. Catherine's Day and a French hootenanny.

The Spanish Honor Society, advised by Mrs. Jean Dacey, is composed of students maintaining at least a B average in Spanish. This year's activities included a Christmas party and an induction banquet.

ONWARD CONQUISTADORS!: Spanish Club members display various phases of Spanish achievement.

Broadening Language Understanding

Composed of students in Spanish classes, the Spanish Club seeks to broaden and deepen understanding of the language. Through social activities and programs, the club has acquainted its members with the culture of Spain, and its spread to the rest of the world.

The French Club, under the direction of Miss Irving, has made French more than a language study. Its members learned and demonstrated many traditional customs of France at its Christmas party.

When In Rome, Do As The Romans Do

English, Latin, and German Clubs also pursue further study in their languages. The English Club develops writing skills. Latin and German Clubs devote their time to exploring the cultures of ancient Rome and Germany.

Jazz, Jabberwocky, Journalism

Co-editors Jane Katims, Laura Zeisel.

The BUCCANEER is the only organization that can boast both a jester and a sacred window sill. Its "ubiquitous" artifacts include paper-maché masks, a frustrated sports editor ("Look, let's not quote the REGISTER, huh?"), two pavement stones from Columbia University, and a sink that doesn't run water (compliments of Mr. Jablonski.) Although under "The Buccaneer" the motto reads "The voice, spirit, and conscience of Red Bank High School," its real motto is "Insanity is bliss" — the legend on the paper towel dispenser, which is disguised as a collage.

Despite its insanity, the BUC staff publishes ten outstanding papers annually. Consistently high ratings at the Columbia Scholastic Press Association and the Scholastic Press Association of New Jersey show that its 20 years of existence have not been wasted.

The enjoyable aspects of the BUC make it entirely worthwhile for any student willing to spend his time to make it so. Everyone who works on the BUC leaves a little of himself there, too. In fact, three seniors and a foreign exchange student will leave the BUC a legacy when they go — red café curtains !!

THE-GENERAL-IN-COMMAND REIGNETH: advisor, Mr. Ivan Falk.

Present and former biology students with the desire to work around lab equipment are members of the Biology Club. They care for equipment, plant or animal specimens, and create special lab projects. The Club, under the direction of Mr. Larry Seip, also trains biology lab assistants to set up materials that teachers need for class demonstration.

Interest Beyond The Classroom

The Advanced Mathematics Activity presents questions given in past contest examinations that are sponsored by the Mathematics Association of America. Each member considers the questions and offers solutions for them. Mr. Popler, the club's adviser, hopes that such questions will arouse interest in the various fields of mathematics.

OF COURSE WE'RE ALWAYS RIGHT!: Advisor Miss Elaine Harris explains to Doug Haneline, Paul Klein, Noreen Joyce, David Levinson, Sharon Anderson.

The Debate Club capped a successful rebuilding season by attaining its goal of increased membership. After losing three out of four varsity debaters last year, the team compensated its loss through the promotion of three reserve members to the varsity squad. The debaters also gained a new and capable coach, Miss Elaine Harris.

Varsity debaters's skills were proven by a winning record in local tournaments. They also rated well in national tournaments at several Eastern colleges.

The club is also proud of its junior varsity and freshmen teams, who have been unusually successful. They, in affiliation with the Forensic League, served as hosts to the Central Jersey finals this past season.

Intellectual Athletes Outwit Competition

Experiencing the "sophomore jinx", the chess club dropped from a strong 50½-19½ third place this year to a 15½-29½ last place finish in their second varsity season. Forfeits and key players' absences were the main reason for downfall. Nevertheless, sparkling performances by Ken Miller and Kevin Bracken retrieved lost honor. In simultaneous matches, Ken defeated Master Leroy Dubeck and Kevin topped Grandmaster Arthur Bisquire. Other senior members were John Kroll, Peter Berg, Ron Costa and Mark Gettleson.

AH HAH! CHECKMATE YOU TOO!: John Kroll and Ken Miller are engaged in an enthusiastic game.

CONCENTRATION IS THE WORD: Ken Miller and John Kroll make their moves while Ron Costa, Kevin Bracken, and advisor Mr. Dacey watch.

Orators Gain Statewide Recognition

As a local chapter of the National Forensic League, Red Bank's club sponsors competitive speech activities of all types. Students may choose from original oratory, oratorical interpretation, humorous or dramatic interpretation, poetry reading, extemporaneous speaking, television or radio speaking, and many others. Mr. Edmund Rezetko is the club's advisor.

The Forensic League gained substantial success this year. It competed on the state and district levels in contests entailing dramatics, poetry, and both extemporaneous and prepared oratory.

Two events highlighted this past year. Last November, two seniors, Jim Devine and Sue Fischer, took second place in their respective categories of Original Prepared Speaking and Drama at the Monmouth County Invitational Speech Arts Festival in Long Branch. The Forensic League was also host to the Central Jersey finals in Original Oratory last February.

"... AND THUS WE HAVE SHOWN . . .": advisor Mr. Edmund Rezetko, Noreen Joyce, Paul Klein, Doug Haneline. Second row: Charles Frost, Jim Devine, Sharon Anderson, Dana Thompson, Andrew O'Neil.

The Choralettes are a specially selected group of sixteen girls. Their repertoire includes music from Broadway and works of classic composers. They make over twenty appearances annually for school concerts, assemblies, service clubs, civic and church groups.

Singers Learn Showmanship

Joining in good old-fashioned harmony are the Men of Note. They sing barbershop harmony, show tunes, folk music and novelties. The boys participate in the winter and spring concerts in addition to appearing before local clubs.

TWIST AND SHOUT!: The choir gets entertained for a change.

Singing And Strings Resound In Celebration

The choir is an integral part of the curriculum. Director Mr. Robert Spencer gives instruction in the technique and repertoire of choral music. Included in its schedule each year are the winter and spring concerts, caroling at Christmastime, and a tour of elementary schools.

NEWEST GROUP: Organized last year, the orchestra is a constant source of pride for Mr. Spencer.

The orchestra accomplished much in its second and last year under Mr. Spencer's direction. It has grown vastly this year, both in size and capability. Its members have shared the beauty of orchestral music and gained immeasurable satisfaction in group playing.

WATCH THAT: Mr. Luckenbill saw that wave to the camera!

MR. DIRECTOR: Mr. John W. Luckenbill leads the band.

Band Excels In Parades, Concerts

An exchange trip to Warwick, Connecticut highlighted the band's crowded schedule this year.

Mr. John W. Luckenbill's group also presented winter and spring exchange concerts, performed at football games, played at pep rallies, and marched in many parades.

Seven band members received seats in the Region II All-State band, including Rick Glassey who took first chair on tuba, and Jon Steiner who took first chair on the horn.

LUCKENBILL'S THOUSANDS: Mr. Luckenbill readies the band for its annual winter concert.

SPECIALTY TWIRLERS:
Linda Hansen, Pat Gale.

Majorettes March Majestically

The graceful majorettes give an added dimension to all football games, parades, concerts and pep rallies. During the summer, they twirl once a week at the Marine Park Concerts.

Each spring fifteen girls are chosen for the squad by director Mr. John W. Luckenbill on the bases of appearance, twirling ability and precision.

HEAD FLAGTWIRLERS: Lois Caruso, Irene Steiner.

SHE DIDN'T!! . . . RANSLEY? Lynn Banta, Nancy Elphick and Sue Ransley lead a parade.

Twirlers Triumph

The highstepping members of the Flagtwirling Squad add color and symmetry to the band at football games, pep rallies and parades. In addition to participation in these affairs, they also perform at the summer concerts given at Marine Park.

Flagtwirlers are chosen by director John W. Luckenbill each spring in competitive tryouts.

NOW IS IT FIRST DOWN OR DOWNED FIRST?: Rena Baskin ponders over a football play.

Cheerers Add Pep To Rallies

Red Bank's lively cheerleaders, under the direction of Miss Mary Larsen, are the chief supporters of our teams. These ten girls lead the BUC fans in spirited cheers at football games, pep rallies and sport assemblies. They also participate in band shows and parades.

Carefully selected after several tryouts, each girl must serve one year as a junior varsity cheerleader before trying out for the varsity squad.

YOU'RE THE ONE WHO CALLED ABOUT THE BOMB IN SOMEONE'S LOCKER?? Linda Carotenuto finds time to chat before a game.

The girls of the Color Guard are present at every football game and at other activities of the Red Bank High School Band, holding aloft the American flag, the High School flag, and the band's banner.

Gym Leaders assist our gym teachers by checking attendance, demonstrating equipment, refereeing class games, and watching the locker room. The girls wear white uniforms which are purchased by the club. They are elected on the basis of their scholastic record and leadership by the gym classes.

G.A.A. Gives Girls Games

A source of fine sportsmanship and play, the Girls Athletic Association has set up one of the school's most extensive extracurricular programs.

The club provides an opportunity for all girls to enter interscholastically for intra-mural competition in several sports. Varied activities such as basketball, bowling, field hockey, modern dance, softball and tennis are supervised by advisors Miss Helen Neeff and Mrs. Irene Smith.

UP SHE GOES: Debbie Hall and Diana Grubb spot as Gaylynn Korb upends. Charlotte Clement looks on.

Females Fix Food, Tend To Their Knitting

WILL THE REAL MADAME
DeFARGE PLEASE STAND UP?:
Knitting Club members show studied concentration to their tasks.

Even before their fall installation dinner, the Future Homemakers of America started planning the year's activities. The girls sponsored dances with the cheerleaders, a candy sale, and taught in a nursery school program. Their outstanding services to the school and community were appreciated by all.

The Knitting Club is a small group of girls bonded together by a common hobby. They share their skill in knitting to the enjoyment and advantage of each member.

Students Prepare For Careers

The Future Teachers of America, whose goal is to encourage young people to cultivate the qualities of personality and character for successful teaching, has had a busy year. Visiting a state college was the high-light of their activities.

A car wash and a Christmas fruitcake sale were two fund-raising projects of the Future Business Leaders of America. The proceeds were used to enter six club members in the State Future Business Leaders Contest.

RAT-A-TAT-TAPPING THEIR WAY TO FAME: The Secretarial Club members prepare for future careers with the help of advisor Mrs. Mary Bierstadt.

Future Clerks, Salesmen Enthusiastically Expand Activity

Being a very active group of girls, the Secretarial Club undertook many projects this year. Among these was the adoption of a French orphan which was financed by cake sales. The club also visited a business firm in action and took a trip to New York.

The Distributive Education Club members attend classes during the morning and gain work experience during the afternoon. In this manner, students get practical experience for future careers in distributive occupations. Advisor for the group, which belongs to State and National organizations, is Mr. Joseph Farrell.

Ace Shutterbugs Snap Students, School

The Camera Club tries to instill an interest in photography as a hobby or profession, covering skills in both picture taking and developing. Its members performed many necessary functions, such as taking pictures for the LOG and BUC.

Boys in the Audio Visual Aids Club operated machines such as sound projectors, film strip projectors, record players, and tape recorders to assist teachers in their work. The A. V. A. members also participated in school assemblies that required a public address system.

Projects Yield Funds For Service

Service, both to the school and community, is the aim of the Industrial Arts Club. The boys, along with advisor Mr. John F. Moses, are well-known for their year-round work.

This group has constructed the official Halloween float for our Borough for eight years. The boys' annual mass-production project consisted of adjustable desk book racks and birch log candleholders. Part of the proceeds went towards helping the needy to have a Merry Christmas.

Because of their outstanding qualities, the Red Bank High School members this year became the first Industrial Arts Club in New Jersey to affiliate with and be chartered by the American Industrial Arts in its new Club Program. Plans for the immediate future are to experiment with new industrial materials and processes in the school's Industrial Arts Laboratories.

DONE FOR THE BOROUGH: The boys put finishing touches on their float before the Halloween parade.

"THAT'S THE NIMBUS CLOUD FORMATION?": Gail Kuchler and Rita Huralt discuss Holly Ling's art.

Aesthetics Ignore Formality

Every member of the Art Club worked on an individual project in mosaics, ceramics, or another field of his choice. In order to achieve more art study, the entire Club made several large murals for the third floor of the school.

Once organized as a poetry club, the Sing and Say has become predominately a folksinging group. Under the direction of Mr. John Brzostoski, its members gave a "Nothing Strum" at Christmas. The profits from this performance went toward the fund for Tibetan refugees.

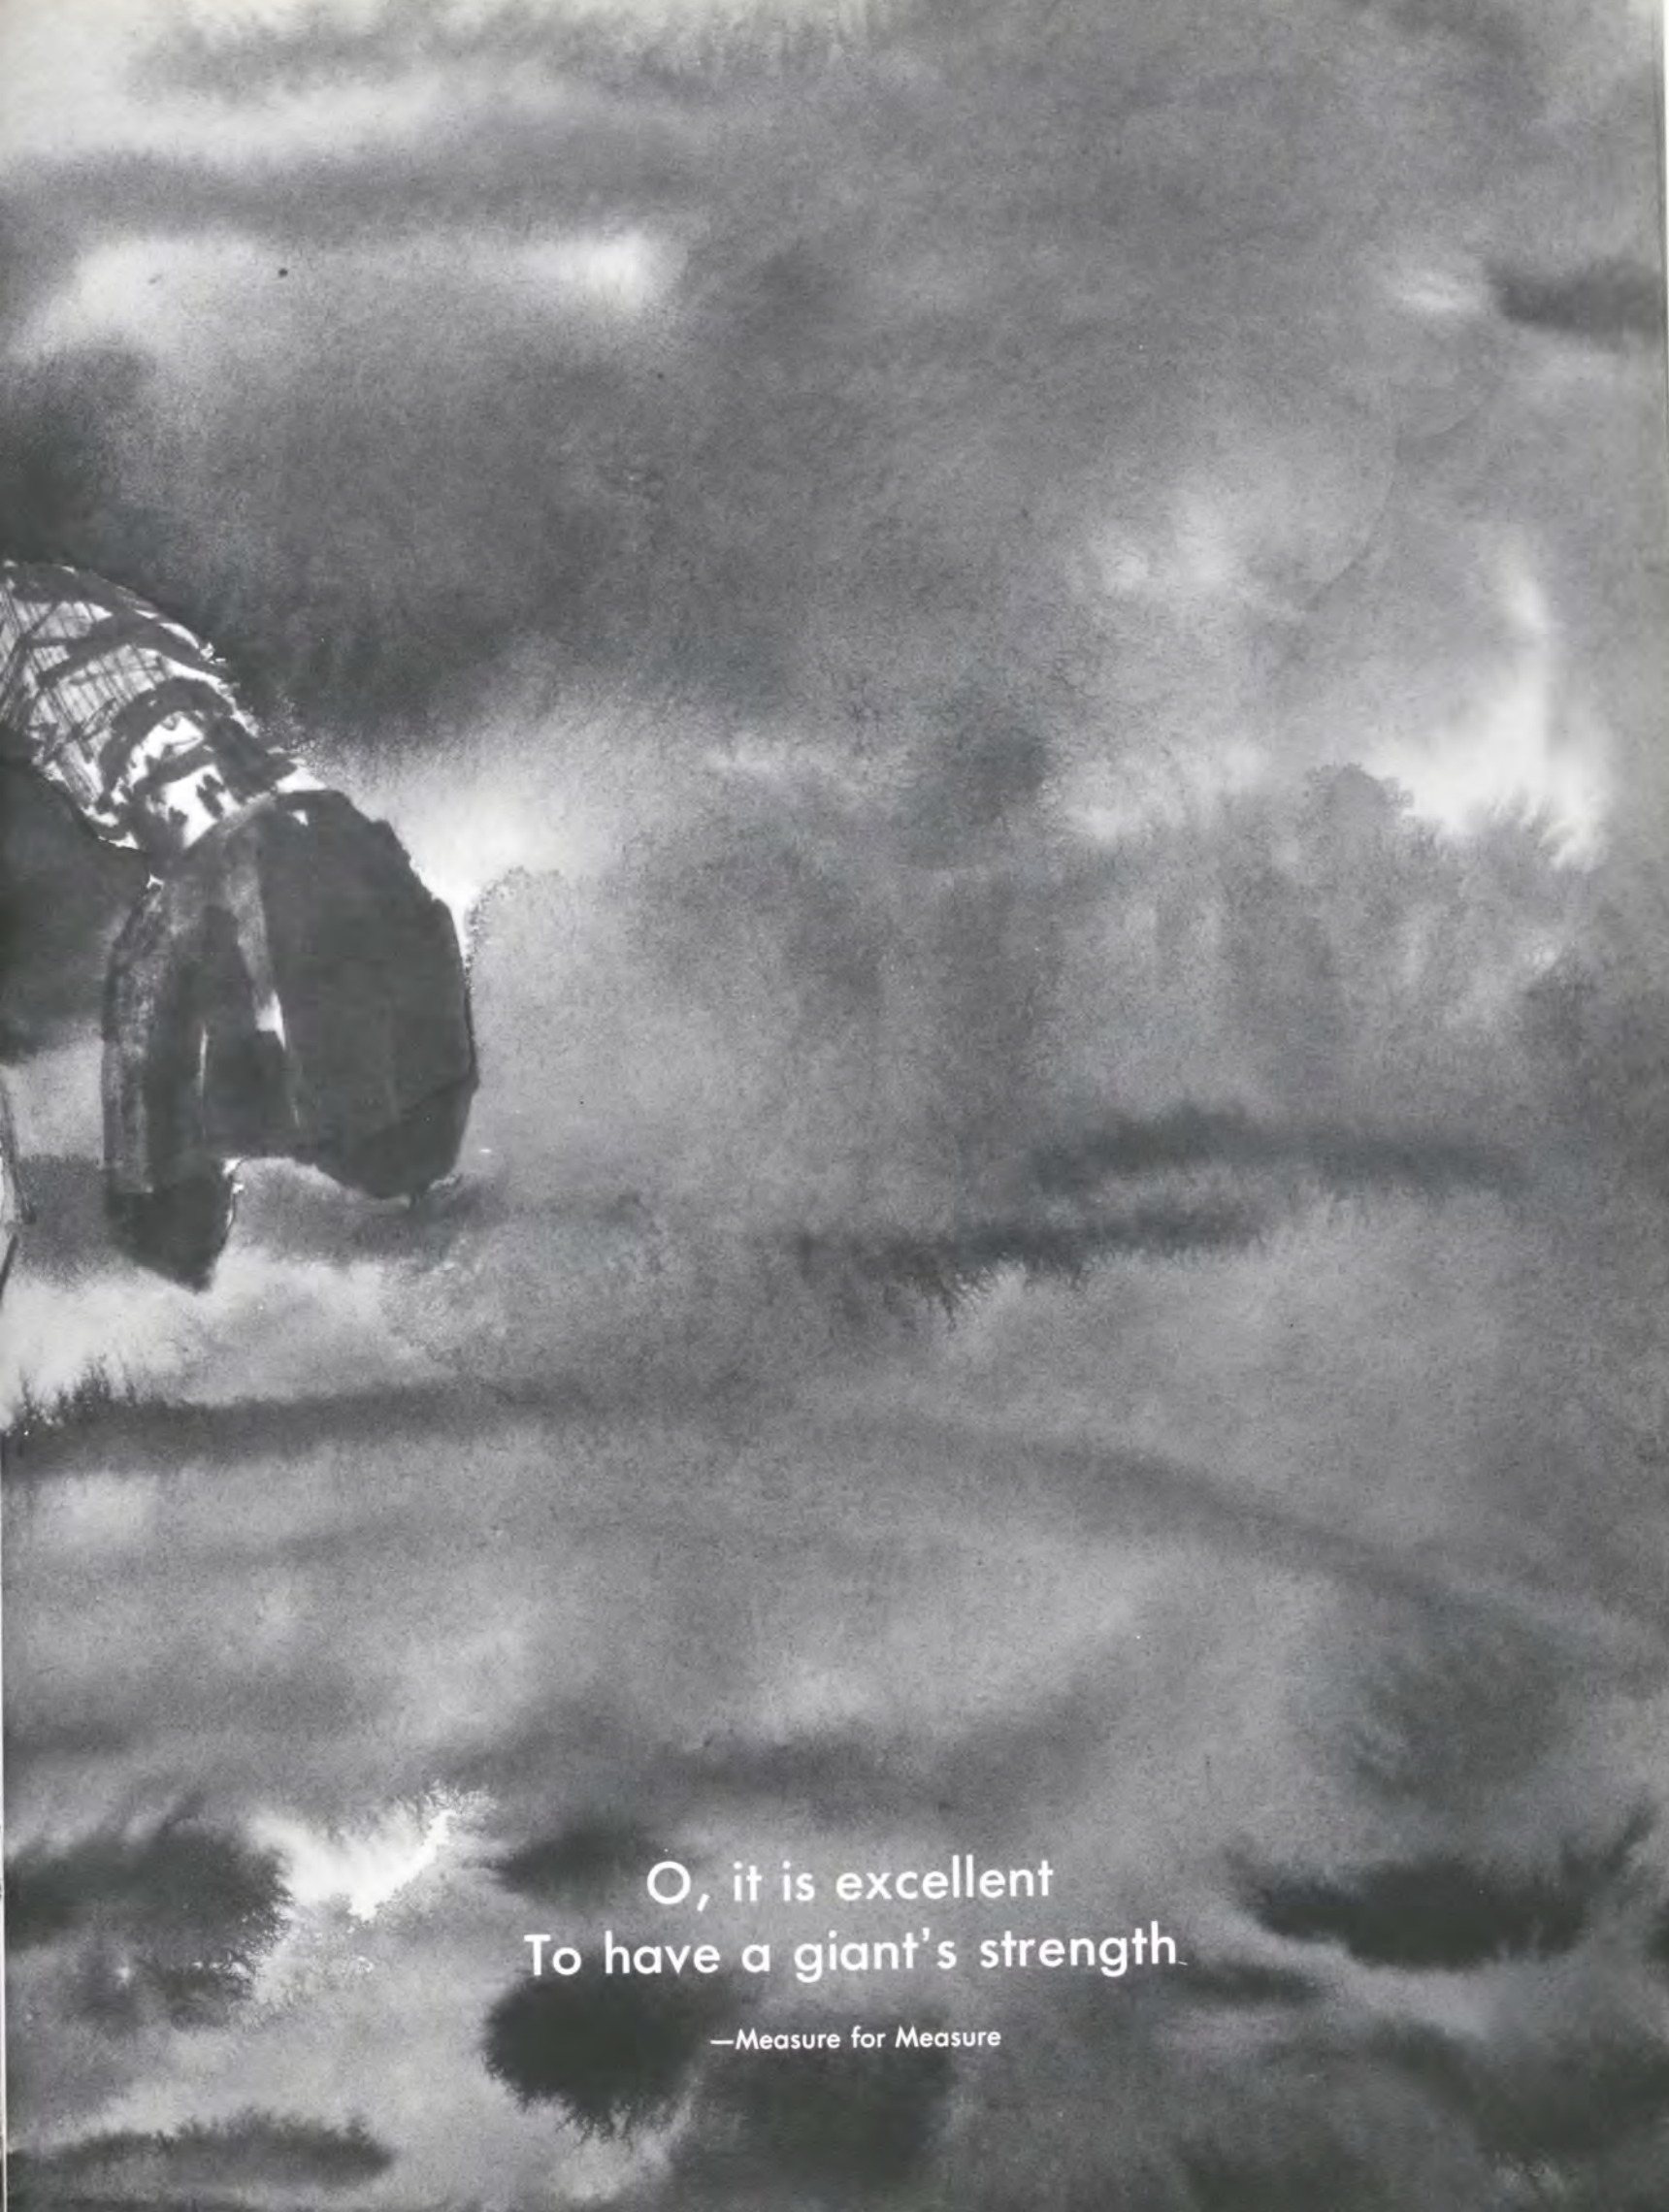

HURRY UP, I CAN'T WAIT: Margaret Avati and Jeff Hauser impatiently anticipate seeing Lynn Lascaro's painting.

Riding high on last year's Shore Conference Title, Coach Jack Needle's tennis team has bright hopes in returning lettermen Jon Maslow, the team's only senior, Tom McCroskey and Jeremy Grayzel, both veteran Juniors, and some young freshmen, including Bobby Raynor, brother of last year's singles player, Doug Raynor.

Raynor, Jon Fredrickson, Bill Kroll, and Jack Matlock formed the nucleus of last year's trophy-winning team, which defeated such strong teams as Princeton, Asbury Park, and Rumson. The only blemish on a perfect season came when CBA edged out the Bucs 3-2 in a non-conference match. Fredrickson went undefeated in third singles throughout the twelve match schedule. He teamed up with Doug Raynor to be the most effective doubles team in the shore area. The second doubles assignment went to John Matlock, playing alternately with Jon Maslow, and Tom McCroskey.

The new Shore Conference ruling that each team must play seven men per match may prove the undoing of Mentor Needle's young team, but the competition the netmen provide undoubtedly will be fierce.

Win Second Turkey Day Victory Over Branchers

For the first time in the 32 year rivalry between Red Bank and Long Branch, the Buc gridders won their 2nd consecutive contest from the Green Waves winning by a decisive 25-0. Last year Coach Karlo's squad laid the foundation by breaking a 19 year stretch of no wins over Long Branch with a tally of 20-6.

A week before the game, Coach Tom Karlo said that we are heading into this game "feeling we can win it." After the triumphant victory, he stated "This is the best team effort I've seen in all my football days, both as a coach and a player. Dan Ciaglia was an All-American today, he took the challenge and made it."

After the opening kick-off, on that Thanksgiving Day field, the Bucs immediately marched the ball 82 yards in 13 plays with Ciaglia climaxing the drive by dashing 4 yards around left end for the first score. It looked like trouble for Red Bank just before the close of the first half as the Branchers advanced the ball from their own 20 to the Buc six inch line, but thanks to one of their toughest goal line stands in many years, the Bucs held the Waves scoreless through the first half.

At the opening of the second half Neil McMullen recovered a key fumble at the Red Bank 36. From there on it was Ciaglia and Bob Carlone carrying to set up Ciaglia's score just after the start of the fourth period. Following the kickoff, Goodman intercepted a Long Branch pass on the opponent's 27 and ran the ball back 13 yards. While the crowd was still cheering, quarterback Clipper Williams tossed one to Goodman who went in for the third tally.

Next it was big Mike Whelan's turn to demonstrate the Red Bank skill as he recovered a loose ball on the Buc 40. After driving down to the Wave's five yard line, junior quarterback Jim Mottine lobbed one into the end zone where end Ty Lewis alertly hauled down the ball after it had been deflected high into the air. Rick Nowell split the uprights for the final Thanksgiving Day point.

Red Bank's Buccaneers opened their season with a big 20-0 win over their home-town rivals, Red Bank Catholic. The Bucs got off to a strong first quarter as Williams tossed a 23 yard pass to Gerald Goodman who broke away from his pursuers and sped into the end zone.

Midway in the second quarter, Goodman returned a punt from the Red Bank 35 to Catholic's 48. From there Ciaglia, Goodman, Dudley and sophomore Al Griffin moved the pig skin to within Ciaglia's easy scoring range as he went over for the second six pointer.

With 2:22 left in the first half, a Casey punt was downed at the Buc 5. After three quick downs, Red Bank elected to quick kick. The Caseys took the ball on their 37 only to give it up because of a personal foul committed on the punt play. The Maroon and White scampered 94 yards in 7 plays as Griffin took a hand-off and cut off his right tackle to go in for the final Buc count.

Co-captains Rich Mosca and Bob Carlone headed Coach Karlo's compact but powerful Buc team, comprised of backs Ed "Clipper" Williams and Bob Carlone at quarterback; Dan Ciaglia at fullback; and Gerald Goodman at wing back. On the line the gridders boasted Rich Mosca and Mike Whelan at tackle; Sprat Clark and Larry Hare in the guard slots, and Garry "Spike" Snover and Ty Lewis at end.

Following the opening day win, the Gridders shutout Freehold by a 13-0 score. However, the following Saturday the Toms River team won by one score, 19-13. Mr. Karlo said of that game, "They never quit, even at the end." But mistakes were costly. Mike Whelan and Rich Mosca were, as always, the pride of the Buc line.

After crushing Central Regional 41-25, the Red Bank defense was just not strong enough, falling in succession to powerful Middletown, Brick, and Neptune teams, before the Long Branch win.

THE BIG THREE: Buc backfield Al Griffin (15), Dan Ciaglia' (30), and Bob Carlone (14) prepare for inevitable meeting of foe.

Luck Finds, Eludes Buc Booters

LEADING THEM ASTRAY: Lou Grilli points a misleading finger while approaching enemy territory.

BOOTLEGGING: Senior booter Allen Bramwell outmaneuvers former Red Bank player Vernon Beetle to move in for the kick.

The 1965 Soccer team experienced a season of ups and downs. Because of youth and inexperience the booters played erratically at times, but more than made up for it on other days. They did, however, manage to win five while losing seven and drawing two.

The nucleus of this year's team was made up of returning seniors Lou Grilli, Jim Shultes, Alan Branwell and sophomore Tony Mellaci. Both Lou and Jim were selected to the first team in the Northern Division of the Conference.

Red Bank's big wins came on September 24 when the booters held Ocean Township High School scoreless, while putting in three tallies of its own. Buc goalie Dave Grim made a number of saves, as he did in the next important victory on October 12, when four Red Bank goals beat Middletown. The Buccaneers again zeroed St. Rose for a 2-0 win. On October 19, the soccer team again vanquished Ocean, this time by a 4-1 margin. The tightest game of the season came in the defensive battle against Monmouth Regional, an extremely strong team, when both teams went scoreless for a 0-0 tie.

BALL CONTROL: Lou Grilli, BUC varsity captain, demonstrates his field prowess in close to the opposing goal.

STAN THE MAN: Mentor Stanley Friedman instructs his men on field tactics.

BREAKS INTO THE CLEAR: Tony Mellaci outruns the Middletown defenses and hastens toward another Red Bank goal.

Cagers Meet Tough Season Head On

This past season was a long one for Coach Ray Lynch and his cagers, who won only four games while losing fifteen. The team was badly hurt by graduation; center Rick Glassey was the only returning starter. However, they played better than their record indicated, losing several close contests in the final minute.

The campaign began successfully as the Bucs triumphed against Toms River 56-55 after trailing through most of the game. Rick Glassey swished the winning bucket with 14 seconds remaining. Don Steel led all scorers with 21 points. After losing to Long Branch, Monmouth, Neptune, and Asbury Park, the cagers gained revenge by beating the Green Wave 55-46.

Red Bank led at halftime but finally succumbed to a strong Middletown quintet 72-63. The hoopsters downed Brick 68-60 and lost to arch-rival Red Bank Catholic 66-58, setting the stage for the exciting Freehold game.

Behind 44-20 in the third quarter, the maroon rallied to defeat the Colonials 59-56. Steel's two foul shots with 42 seconds left vaulted Red Bank into the lead, and Gerry Goodman clinched the win with another pair of free throws.

This come-from-behind effort may have been too great because the Bucs failed to win another game. They came close, however, losing to Middletown, Red Bank Catholic, and Toms River by a total of six points.

Through the first seventeen games, Rick Nowell led the team in scoring with 186 markers for a 10.9 average. Close behind were Milt Gaylord and Steel with 10.6 points a game. Glassey and Milt Moore combined to give the Bucs strength under the boards, leading the squad in rebounding. The team was given additional strength by the standout playmaking of Seniors Gerald Goodman, Gordon Gray, and Tommy Hartley. Gray and Goodman were veterans of three seasons, while guard Hartley was playing his first full season of varsity ball, after being a JV star last year.

SEVENTH INNING STRETCH: Art Covington (32) and Gordon Gray (24) Stretch to get the rebound, but unidentified Freehold Cager seems to prevail.

ONE ARM BANDIT: Rick Glassey (50) tips ball out, as Milt Moore (14) looks on from under the basket.

LEAP FROG: In an amazing jump, Milton Gaylord towers over Long Branchers for an easy shot.

LAY UP: Gerald Goodman reaches up to put in a two-pointer.

Cross Country

Determination Strides Young Team Past Foes

Probably the youngest team in the Shore Conference, the Red Bank Cross Country team, made up of no seniors, and only one junior, held its own, ending the season with a six win, five loss record. The harriers finished the season in a four-win spurt, putting down Jackson, Matawan, Keyport, and Ocean in order.

Mr. Perry's shining stars for the season were Mervyn Jones, a veteran of two years, although only a sophomore, and a newcomer to the squad, James Hayman. These two were the varsity letter winners on the team. Paul Deckert, a harrier who had won every varsity meet he had entered, though only a sophomore, gave Mr. Perry and the team a great disappointment when he failed to practice diligently, and was dropped from the squad.

Other runners who show great promise for the future are John O'Connel, Mitch Reno, both sophomores who, along with Mayman, Jones, and Deckert, consistently placed high in meets. Freshman Bruce Farley, who came out late for the squad, also promises to be an excellent runner in time. Junior Hank Marx also will return for another season. Thus, Coach Perry will not lose a single runner through graduation, and his experienced team will be hard to beat.

SINGING IN THE RAIN: Coach Tom Perry (center) waits with the other coaches for the harriers to come into view.

Red Band Posts 8-3 Mark Ranks Third In Shore

After an 8-3 season last year, Coach William Hay looks toward a winning season from returning varsitymen Jim Devine, Don Steel, and Terry Bennett. Although John Kusler, Jeff Cove, and Donald Asay were lost to this year's team, the putting of all three returning greensmen should be enough to match the other tough teams in the Shore Conference. Red Bank plays its matches this season on the new home course, Navesink Country Club, reputed to be the Shore's toughest.

Seniors Jim Devine, who held a 6-3-1 record last year, and Don Steel, with a 4-2-0, will face talented golfers from Lakewood, Brick, and Neptune, all of whom blanked the Maroon and White in away matches. In addition, they will participate in the Shore Conference Meet and in the State Competition.

3rd PLACE FINISHERS: Red Bank Golf Team, third place finishers in the Shore Conference, are (standing): Jeff Cove, Coach Bill Hay, and Donald Steel; (kneeling) Terry Bennett and Jim Devine.

Wrestling

Wrestlers Enter Like Lions

For the first time in the short duration of a Red Bank High School Wrestling team, the Buc grapplers climbed out of the Shore Conference cellar by winning their first two matches of the season. The first was against Rumson and ended in a 28-26 decision. In the following match against Freehold, the score was 29-21, with no less than five team members coming out of the match undefeated, including four pins and an incredible 15 second pin by Alan Schank in the 106 lb. weight class.

Co-captains Steve Kennedy and Lantie Harris led Mr. Glisson's squad onto the mats, compiling 3-5 and 4-4 records, respectively. However, the best record of the team was set by Al Griffin and Bruce Cronnelly, both with 5-3 marks.

The wrestlers had a great deal of enthusiasm in view of their first two wins, but tough teams from Middletown, Long Branch, and Neptune crushed the team.

Next year, all but two of Mentor Glissen's men will be back, with experience enough to do much better in the Conference and in the Districts, in which Red Bank was eliminated early this year.

Bowling

Team Rises As Pins Fall

Inexperience was the reason for the bowling team's slide to fifth place this season. The keggers, coached by Bill Hay, lost four lettermen through graduation; then Pat Geroni and Doug Raynor, the squad's two top pinmen, quit at midseason.

After winning their first six games, including 3-0 sweeps over Raritan and Matawan, Red Bank slumped badly. Only a strong finish enabled them to finish with a respectable 19-23 record.

Sophomore Dave Chase was the Buc's best bowler, averaging 166.4 including a high 589 series. Following him were Al Shoemaker at 154.1; Peter Gross, 153.5; Roger Cowles, 152.2; and George Belovuss, 151.1.

Coach Hay has good reason to look forward to next year's squad with Belovuss being the only regular who will not return. He plans to build his team around Chase, Shoemaker, Gross, and Cowles.

Track

Red Bank Cindermen met disappointment last year, although a few shining performances were turned in. Homer Credle, one of the finest half milers ever to come out of Red Bank, snapped the course record in the half mile event, while Bob Carlone broke the Red Bank record in the high hurdles. Carlone participated in Low hurdles also, and will be back this year, sure to go places.

Red Bank barely missed beating strong teams from Neptune, Toms River, Middletown, and Long Branch, losing mostly by fewer than ten points. The long awaited victory came in the final meet of the season, when St. Rose went down by a crushing 95-22 tally.

Senior runners Bob Bottger, Jack Strahle, Jeff Johannson, and Homer Credle accounted for much strength in the running department, while the Juniors held the field. Returning this year are letter winners Bob Carlone in the hurdles, Dan Ciaglia putting the shot, Neil McMullen throwing javelin, and Kevin Bracken in the pole vault. This year's juniors also are well represented in team members Al Griffin, Osborne Pitts, and Jimmy Dudley. Hopes are high for a really record-breaking, winning season, with so many returning varsitymen.

BREAKING: Wire and record both broken as Bob Carlone wins the hurdles in course record time.

Buc Nine Sluggers

ZOCK: Bucco catcher Ty Lewis forcefully scores an out.

If the pitching staff performs well and the sluggers connect more often, Red Bank, coach Bill Sweel prophesies, will be a threat in the conference this spring.

Although losing last year's star third-baseman, Jamie Williams, the team has many experienced players returning. The pitching staff will include Jim Mottine, Moss Dudley, Ronny West, Charlie Jones, and Ed Von Kattengall. Returning catcher Ty Lewis will be behind the plate again, with Dave Droddy at first base, Rick Noel at short and Clipper Williams returning to the third sack. Second base is still up for grabs. The outfield will indeed be strong with Seniors Rich Mosca, Spike Snover, Tommy Hartley, Sprat Clark, and Patsy Geroni covering.

Last year's team was weakened by the early loss of star pitcher Bill Horlacher. Jim Mottine, a freshman, came in to help the Buccos get started, but the hitting was just not enough to even the record in competition with some fine teams from Neptune, Brick, and Middletown. However, Our sluggers were able to pull our six victories in fifteen contests.

ADVISE & CONSENT: Coach Sweel gives a last minute word of warning before the BUC nine takes the field.

To Return For Comeback

BLOCK & TACKLE: Seemingly close to a flying tackle, Red Bank foe is tagged out by varsity 3rd baseman Ed "Clipper" Williams.

HOLDING HIM CLOSE: Shortstop Gary "Spike" Snover, keeps an eye out on unidentified 2nd base runner.

UNARMED: Junior Richard Noel scores a Red Bank run.

O brave new world
