The Daily Experience

To pull the blinds of habit from the eyes, to see the world without names for the first bright time, to wander through its mystery, to wonder at every age and stage, at one with it — to be alive!

In Dedication

To a mild-mannered man add a dash of Boston accent, a wry smile, and a few wild neckties. . .

Mr. Jacob Needle hopes his students "will develop along democratic lines, both emotionally and rationally, so that they will believe in the ability of a democracy to meet its challenges and problems." Unsatisfied with superficial study, he leads students to the root of the problem and lets the evolving ideas be mulled over and scrutinized. He describes his approach further, exclaiming, "I'm too unorganized to make short, pithy statements—I'd rather make long, controversial speeches!" More spontaneous than methodical, never pedantic, he supplements the textbook with lively discussions on art, sports, literature, and philosophy.

Mr. Needle strives to make us aware of the deep, unifying forces that link us with the past and govern the future.

A natural, easy relationship between students and conductor characterizes Mr. Spencer's choral rehearsals. Always striving for greater expressive possibilities and better sound color, Mr. Spencer works his choral groups to their highest capacity. In choral conducting he attempts "to look to the meaning not only of the text, but also the intrinsic meaning of the music itself. This can not be verbalized." He claims that he enjoys "almost anything that is well-played." A bit more explicit, he admits his partiality to contemporary music. Mr. Spencer brings home his talent not only to students, but also to his family where even his three-year old expresses himself with a tambourine in the family orchestra.

Gradually exposing us to the varied and exciting possibilities of music, Mr. Spencer transmits his own love of music and his philosophy that "music is real and pulsating—a vital part of life."

*What happiness to live
when every hour brings palpable access of knowledge, when all knowledge is delight.*

— William Wordsworth

Superintendent

Dr. Hoops

In his third year as Red Bank school system's chief administrator, Dr. Robert C. Hoops still has one of the most difficult jobs in the area of education. Not only does he take the responsibility for maintaining the quality of education, but he also achieves improvements in the system.

As superintendent, he frequently attends many school functions. His presence adds a personal touch to the affairs.

Dr. Hoops received his bachelor's degree from New York State University, his master's degree from Columbia University, and his doctorate from Rutgers University.

Board of Education

Principal

Mr. James D. Evergetis

"One must have pride in the place one works." This is the philosophy of Mr. James D. Evergetis, and he certainly has shown it at Red Bank High School. Somehow, he passed this conviction on to the RBHS student body. It was evident at the pep rally at the beginning of the football season when an unequalled school spirit developed to be carried throughout the year. Hand in hand with the enthusiasm of the students came the spirit of the football team and their consequent winning streak.

Events seemed to follow one right after another. Mr. Evergetis was one of the few principals that ever had to contend with a holocaust.

The hundreds of tasks, small and large, involved with being principal take up much of Mr. Evergetis's time. However, he always finds a few moments to keep in contact with his student body. We can find him eating lunch with the students, chatting with them before the first bell and listening to their comments and criticisms, sitting with them in the bleachers, caring enough about them to want to know them all by first name. These actions are a part of a personality that we will never forget. A completely unique experience—that was our senior year with Mr. Evergetis.

Vice Principals

Mr. Browning

Mr. Willard Browning is the quiet force working behind the scenes at Red Bank High School. As Vice-Principal in charge of curriculum, he is responsible for introducing advanced teaching methods (such as team teaching classes), new or advanced courses (such as the Honors Geometry Class), supervising the faculty, choosing books for school use, and taking care of the adult night school.

Few people understand where Mr. Browning gets the time for his many duties. He does, however, find time to perform all of them efficiently and effectively.

Mr. Jablonski

Who's that peeking from under the stairway? Why, it's Vice-Principal Clement Jablonski. Affectionately known as Mr. "J" by the students, he may be found almost anywhere at anytime.

His various jobs range from counseling students to taking care of the daily attendance to supervising the graduation ceremonies. Directing fire drills, being in charge of locks and lockers, and enforcing school traffic regulations (keeping students from going down the up staircase) are his other duties.

Because his main job, school disciplinarian, is a difficult and thankless one, attention seldom comes to Mr. Jablonski. However, at the beginning of our senior year, he was given due recognition in the form of a standing ovation at our first pep rally. It is doubtful that any of the seniors in our class will ever forget Mr. Jablonski.

Director of Pupil Personnel Services

Mr. Sisson

This year, Mr. Willis Sisson, former Director of Guidance, became Red Bank's first Director of Public Personnel Services. His new job, covering a much broader area, extends to the grammar schools as well as the high school. His responsibilities include proposing and organizing guidance policies, heading the Child Study Program, screening personnel for jobs in guidance, and providing home and supplemental instruction.

Because of his increased duties, Mr. Sisson has experienced the busiest year of his twenty-one years at Red Bank. Since his office is outside the physical school building, the average student rarely catches a glimpse of Mr. Sisson. When this student sees or hears about others with special mental and physical problems whose necessities are well taken care of, he becomes indirectly aware of the achievements and goals set up and obtained by Mr. Sisson.

Co-ordinator of High School Guidance

Mrs. King

Mrs. Ruth King, a familiar friend in the guidance department, stepped into a new position this year as Coordinator of High School Guidance. She is now responsible for carrying out the specific programs and policies set up by the guidance department.

Mrs. King arranges regular meetings between the student and the guidance counselor and makes certain the student body is notified of any changes in the curriculum. She is also in charge of special tests, including the Kudor Interest Tests and the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Tests.

Mrs. King received her Bachelor of Arts Degree from Oberlin College and has the equivalent of a Master's Degree in graduate work from Bucknell University.

Added Attractions

In addition to the regular curriculum, the Red Bank High School administration treated its students to several unique programs.

In October the entire student body marched to the Carlton Theater to see Shakespeare's The Taming of the Shrew. All the students enjoyed this movie which starred Elizabeth Taylor and Richard Burton.

In January Russell Burgess, a parapsychologist, provided an entertaining program. He demonstrated his amazing powers of E.S.P. by identifying complete strangers, reading students' minds, and prophesizing events to come. Some of his predictions included: there will be no World War III, the Vietnam War will end in the fall of 1968, the United States will have the first man on the moon in 1971, and Robert Kennedy will never be president, but Edward Kennedy will.

Mr. Jacob Needle and the history department initiated the Government Symposium in February. Guest speakers were invited to talk on topics dealing with their affiliation with local government. Students heard Mr. William Gannon, Director of the Middletown Youth Service; Mr. A. T. Berich, Monmouth County Public Defender; Mr. Joseph Irwin, Chairman, Monmouth County Board of Freeholders; Mr. John Arnone, Mayor, Red Bank Boro; Mr. Chester Apy, New Jersey State Assemblyman.

Students interested in dance were able to attend a special performance in February. The National Ballet Company produced Coppelia at the Carlton for an attentive audience.

Each one of these programs provided stimulating and entertaining experiences.

"Do you have E. S. P. ?" says parapsychologist Russell Burgess.

Mr. John Moses assists the policeman in getting his students across the street.

Mr. Needle (R.) and Mr. Sweel (L.) welcome Joseph Erwin (c.).

Visitor From Afar

"Being a foreign exchange student in the U.S.A. was a marvelous experience, but spending a year at Red Bank made it even better. I don't think I'll ever be able to repay what the students and staff of this school have done for me. I hope the other A.F.S. students I came with were as lucky as I was. To make friends with you and learn about America through these friendships was my goal. I believed I have achieved it.

Thank you very much. I wish all of you a lot of luck and success."

Eduardo seems content in his new home.

Eduardo poses with his host family, the Harold Komars.

Our Ambassador to Finland

"After writing essays ranging from 'Myself' and 'My Family' to 'A Summer Day' and filling out an endless number of forms - - I was chosen as one of thirty-six A.F.S. representatives from all over the United States to go to Finland during the summer of 1967.

For the first month of the summer, I attended school in Punkaharju with one other American and forty Finns.

We taught them English; they tried to teach us Finnish (an abominable, difficult yet beautiful language). There I made many longlasting friendships.

The next month I went to live with a charming Finnish family near Helsinki. We picked berries, took saunas, hitch-hiked (it's accepted in Scandinavia), and on the whole spent a thoroughly enjoyable month.

Leaving was a very difficult task, but the friendships and experiences I had there can never be forgotten."

Estelle Katz (standing) enjoys a discussion with some of her newfound Finnish friends.

David Komar introduces Eduardo to A.F.S. president Ellen Beerman.

Travelers Abroad

The World Youth Forum, a unique program, enables outstanding high school students from 81 countries to travel to all parts of the world. During their travels, these students act as goodwill ambassadors, exchanging and sharing ideas with millions of people.

This year Red Bank was fortunate to host Richard VanZuilen, the Herald Tribune World Youth Forum delegate from Holland. During his two week stay, Richard resided in the home of Senior Peyton Wheeler. Students will remember Richard for the lively discussions that he inspired on religion and politics.

Red Bank High School was also privileged to have two of its students, Lynn Evans and Pamela Berich, spend their summers abroad in 1967, also under the auspices of the World Youth Forum. Lynn traveled to Germany, Scandinavia, Czechoslovakia, and Belgium. During her seven week trip, she had three homestays, in Berlin, Stockholm, and Prague. These she felt were the most enjoyable and beneficial parts of her sojourn. Pamela traveled to Italy, Yugoslavia, Germany, Austria, and Switzerland.

The Red Bank High School advisor to the World Youth Forum is Miss Charlotte McCane.

Hawaiian Luau

A Hawaiian luau was the scene of our Junior-Senior Reception. This time we relaxed while the juniors transformed the gym into a tropical paradise, complete with palm trees and a grass hut. The Marlboro Street Blues kept the beat that helped to make this dance a tremendous success.

On Thursday, February 23, 1967, the curtain rose at Mechanic Street School for the junior class production of "The Whole Town's Talking" by John Emerson and Anita Loos. The play, directed by Mrs. Grace McMillan and Mrs. Theodora Brown, also played Friday and Saturday nights to appreciative audiences.

The play revolves around the romantic life of the bumbling Chester Binney, business partner and close friend of Mr. Henry Simmons. Mrs. Simmons decides that their daughter Ethel should be married. Henry reasons that if Chester married Ethel, Chester could eventually take over the business, leaving Henry with a life of ease. To make Chester more attractive, he devises a plot whereby Chester is romantically linked to the glamorous movie star Letty Lythe. Unfortunately, Letty arrives in town for an appearance at the premiere of her new movie. The plot becomes still more complicated when Donald Swift, her boy-friend-director, learns of the contrived romance with Chester. Despite all this interference, Henry's plan succeeds as Ethel jilts her old beau (Roger Shields) for Chester. The entire plot is exposed at a coincidental gathering of all the characters at the Simmon's house. Somehow, Henry and Chester manage to get themselves out of trouble—after a slight brawl with Swift and Shields. Everyone is forgiven, all problems are solved, and the play ends happily.

WHAT ?? LOAFING AGAIN ?? . . . Gary Sergeant and Henry Goodhue take time out from a terrific brawl, one of the play's highlights.

CURTAIN CALL . . . Pleased faces show that all the work, tears, and sweat was worth it.

OH ETHEL, PLEASE!! . . . Danny Herbert tries to make Nancy Famulary forgive him, but she just doesn't understand.

The Boyfriend

Nancy Farrow, Diane Knell and Abbie Close sing about their necessities . . . boyfriends!

A look of dismay. Lord Brockhurst (Danny Herbert) is caught at the carnival ball by Lady Brockhurst (Trudy Twigg).

Gary Sergeant, Bill Gregg, and Jeff Davis, three of the "boyfriends".

"I have a dress for a Miss Polly Browne," explains Tony, the messenger boy.

On April fourth, fifth, and sixth, the Cecil B. de Maxwell production of "The Boyfriend" was presented in the Red Bank High School Carousel Theatre. Directed by Mrs. Renee Maxwell and Mr. Robert Spencer, with assistant Lois Leman, the show proved to be a huge success.

"The Boyfriend" is an English spoof on the American musicals of the roaring twenties. The story takes place in France at the Villa Caprice, Mme. Dubonnet's Finishing School. All the perfect young ladies except Polly Brown are excited about the Carnival Ball to be held that evening. Polly is not allowed to have a boyfriend because her father feels that anyone who makes advances to her is just after her millions. But that afternoon Tony, a messenger boy, arrives at the school to deliver Polly's costume. Naturally, it's love at first sight. Because he is only a messenger boy, Polly pretends to be Mme. Dubonnet's secretary and invites him to the Carnival Ball. That night Polly discovers that Tony is actually the son of the rich Lord and Lady Brockhurst. She confesses that she is not a secretary after all. Percival Browne, his romance with Mme. Dubonnet renewed, announces their marriage. All the girlfriends marry their boyfriends, which after all, is what they were there for in the first place.

Polly Browne (Abbie Close) waits for her boyfriend Tony (Jeter Bentley).

Lord Brockhurst looks on as the boyfriends take the girlfriends to "la plage".

the year span round with giddy motion.*

Profiles in Courage

Mr. Dennis McDonald, a dedicated chemistry teacher, doubles as head chef of the football concession stand. Defender of McDonald's hotdogs, sudsies, baggies, and the senior way, Mr. "Mac" is the possessor of the tiniest lab coat in history.

Mr. Mac is the perfect formula for our class and the catalyst for our ideas. With his sound advice and inimitable leadership, he converts these ideas into workable plans and then into a reality. His vibrancy and his laughter are infectious; his strong personal magnetism has brought the class to rally around him many times. He always maintains his sense of humor, even in periods of crisis, and "keeps his cool" in the midst of our perpetual state of organized confusion.

Words cannot express our gratitude to Mr. McDonald, gratitude for missing his train to work with us after school, gratitude for his help at the concession stand, and most important, gratitude for helping us complete our last year at Red Bank profitably and successfully.

An island of tranquility amidst a turbulent storm, Mrs. Jean Dacey completes the mighty duet. Beneath her poised and serene exterior lies a great deal of inner strength. Her calm practical leadership and foresight have pulled us through many a class catastrophe. When our affairs are running smoothly, Mrs. Davey becomes one of us and joins in with her jokes and ladylike giggle. She is always ready to listen attentively and consider seriously our thoughts and ideas, then taking direct action in helping us carry them through.

Mrs. Dacey has proved herself invaluable as the class organizer, the first to take the initiative to start the necessary committees for tickets, programs, ad selling, decorations—even clean-up. When our procrastination brings on the emergencies and panic, she remains calm. With her untiring help and practical advice, we have managed to achieve success, and for this we thank her.

In Retrospect

The years of the coddling, maternal women who taught us how to read and add and practice good penmanship had been forgotten.
Over the long summer we waited for the day of transition which would make us a part of the life within those crumbling walls.
They held the materials for the successes and failures of our next four years, the books, the teachers, the friendships . . .
How many of us still recall the confusion, the timidity, the insecurity of that first day?
But within a few days we walked—quick, sure, defiant—to our classes.
We mastered the tricky mathematics of lockers and student numbers.
Who would be first to splash through the dank showers and return to the crumpled clothes on the floor?
We worked enthusiastically with the sophomores, creating the splendor of "An Evening At The World's Fair."
Freshman have the most school spirit.
We swelled the grandstands and screamed the loudest.
Then, like new citizens, we cast a vote for our choice of class officers.
Our second September came;
we were part of the Establishment.
The novelty was gone, but there were new challenges.
Frogs in formaldehyde
reeked of science—life and death.
Would you rather putter with an engine or paint a picture?
Kudor tests showed we would be mountain-climbers and salesmen.
While si, oui, ya, and ita echoed through the halls.
It was our turn
to play King and Queen at the hop—"Endless Summer."
The omniscient, winking Tiki seemed to share our joy.
The year that counts was upon us,
too quickly for some.
Our PSAT's destroyed our early junior confidence.
Then, "The Whole Town's Talking"— about a "Chester-Protector"?
Our success gave us enthusiasm to live through class ranks, more tests, Hamlet.
We learned how to produce the stench of rancid butter and the extravaganza of "A Roman Holiday."
The Big Change—we were seniors.
Our new principal—did he Ever-Get-Us gave us Rousing! School! Spirit!
Mr. "J" became a new celebrity.
And though finally defeated in football in our hearts we are still number one.
The fire did its work
and saved us two days of doing ours.
We returned to the familiar, now memory-filled buildings, slightly charred around the edges.
Haunting us was the deadline for college applications,
and then the long wait.
Others were already settling into the business world.
To pass the time away, we charlestoned through "The Boy Friend."
In a sudden spurt of energy
we dreamed in the fantasy of our senior prom, celebrated our Final exams,
shakely opened thick and thin envelopes that prescribed our futures.
We crammed these memories into the final months—
something to hold onto and remember.
Proud parents, brothers, grandmothers had moist eyes only for their own the night we stood together for the last time.
Looking forward now into a future yet to be filled, but able to lean on and draw strength from what we were leaving behind, with a deep breath we reached to the sky and turned our tassels.

Will the Meeting Please Come to Order?

A NEW SYMBOL . . . Principal James D. Evergetis presents the new school flag to President Nancy Johnson.

Under the leadership of President Nancy Johnson and advisor George Davis, the Student Council carried on such traditions as the Kickoff Dance, Homecoming Week, the coed football game, Leadership Training Week, tri-cycle races, the Senior-Faculty Basketball Game, and the Christmas trip to the John L. Montgomery Welfare Home. This year's new projects included a student variety show, an exchange with Christian Brothers Academy, and a fashion show to demonstrate the new code of dress.

A VALUABLE STUDENT COUNCIL FUNCTION . . . operating the Lost and Found.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS . . . an executive conference.

National Honor Society

Red Bank's Edwin C. Gilland Chapter of the National Honor Society continued its tradition of service and leadership to the school. The Honor Society's major program is the tutoring done by its members. A student tutor is available to any student who sincerely wishes to bring up his grades. The Society also maintains a paperback book store. Under the direction of Advisor Mrs. Mary Diggins and President Michael Connolly, the Honor Society ran the visiting bookmobile and sponsored a very successful Valentine's Dance.

YOU'RE IMPROVING . . . tutor encourages student.

I BROUGHT MY OWN . . . Mike Connolly and Lois Lehman get into the swing of the Valentine Dance.

FRENCH HONOR SOCIETY . . . Lois Lehman, treasurer; Patty Johnstone, secretary; Mme Garruto, advisor; Ellin Diamond, vice president; Lynn Evans, president.

French Honor Society

Organized to acquaint its members with French culture and to promote a better facility in the French language, the French Honor Society is comprised of students with at least a "B" average in French. Under the supervision of Mme Fulvia Garruto, "les étudiants savants" kicked off the year with a French welcome dinner and the dramatization of an excerpt from Molière's "Le Bourgeois Gentilhomme." Other programs included the traditional Christmas caroling and a viewing of travel slides of Europe by Mme Garruto. A trip to New York to see "Tartuffe" and a combined induction ceremony with the Spanish Honor Society climaxed the year.

Spanish Honor Society

A bullfight in the new cafeteria? That's what Spanish Honor Society members witnessed at their Christmas fiesta. Shouts of "Toro!" echoed through the room as two members donned a bull costume and darted at a red cape held by "El Matador." The fiesta was given in honor of the Latin-American students at Red Bank High School, including this year's foreign exchange students, Eduardo Borzutzky. Also featured at the party was a play presented in Spanish by several members of the Honor Society. Latin American music provided a background.

SPANISH HONOR SOCIETY . . . Linda Stelik, secretary; Mike McCarthy, treasurer; Mrs. Jean Dacey, advisor; Lou Klein, vice president; Susie Miller, president.

Latin Club

Latineers abide by the Roman tradition by enacting classical plays, burying Caesar on the Ides of March, and attending the State Latin Convention in the spring. In order to become a member of the club, students must be sold as slaves to previous Latineers and serve as their slaves for one week. The money from the slave sale helps to pay for the annual Christmas party and the June picnic. Under the leadership of Miss Mary Stout, the club works to keep alive the Roman tradition.

GERMAN FOLKSING . . . Kathy Colmorgen, Mary Nigro, Miss Andrea Manley, advisor; Chris Varrelmann, Ruth Albrecht, Carolyn Herz, Charles Frost.

German Folk Singing

Meeting alternately with the German Club is the Gesagverein, a German folksinging group. Fraulein Manley advises these German singers who accompany themselves on the guitar.

German Club

Under the supervision of Miss Andrea Manley, Die Deutsche Gruppe is dedicated to the understanding of the German culture and language. By exploring German music, art, and literature, students are able to learn more about a nation very much in the news.

GERMAN CLUB . . . Miss Andrea Manley, advisor; Christopher Zahl, vice president; Ken Kodama, secretary; Dan Kehde, president; Charles Frost, treasurer.

SPANISH CLUB . . . Pat Johnstone, treasurer; Joan Ranson, vice president; Mrs. Diana Argersinger, advisor; Yolande Trenet, secretary.

Spanish Club

The highlight of the year's activities for the Spanish Club was a trip to New York City to the Cloister Museum. The trip was financed with the dues and the money raised from cake sales. The program of the Spanish Club has helped the students acquire a better understanding of the Spanish culture.

Going Through Customs

French Club

A year of activities for the French Club began with the induction of new officers at the club's Christmas Party. With the funds from their second activity, a cake sale, the club sponsored a very successful fashion show with the theme Un Visiteur à Paris. Members modeled the "in" clothes to wear on a trip to Paris. The year's activities culminated in a trip to New York where the club went to the theater and wine and dined at a French restaurant.

The Written Word

Advisor Ivan Falk contemplates the next issue.

Senior BUCCANEER members proudly sport the blazers they received from several years of exceptional service to the newspaper. This is one reward that is truly earned. Each month BUC members work feverishly to produce a paper which is consistently rated one of the best in the state. Pressure mounts the week of deadline as editors rack their brains for ways to stretch three lines of copy into ten inches. But the paper somehow comes out on time and members recall their favorite slogan, "Insanity is bliss."

We might even make the deadline.

Wha' d'ya mean where's my article?

Crow's Nest

Red Bank High School's budding authors and poets have an opportunity to display their work in the school's literary magazine, THE CROW'S NEST. The staff of THE CROW'S NEST works throughout the year, aiming for a date of publication in the spring. The literary board discusses the poems, short stories, essays, and plays submitted for publication and votes on those to be included. The production staff then takes over, typing and mimeographing. Illustrations and the cover design are handled by the art staff. The publicity committee posts signs soliciting articles for the magazine and later advertises the sale of THE CROW'S NEST.

A.F.S.

The American Field Service brings an international flavor to the school. A foreign student is invited to stay at a host home for a year. He participates in school and social activities just as any other Red Bank High student. This year our exchange student was Eduardo Borzutzky, the first male in this program in several years. In the other half of the two-way exchange, the A.F.S. sent Estelle Katz to Finland for the past summer.

The club introduced Eduardo to the school through teas and assemblies. The A.F.S. held Christmas card and cake sales and sponsored dances to raise funds for next year's exchange program.

Our A.F.S. exchange students reminisce.

Book Club

On Thursday mornings the bibliophiles of Red Bank High School gather at their haven, room 311. The Book-naut's advisor, Miss Marie O'Connor, oversees the discussions on books the members have read. They also study technique, style, symbolism, and characterization.

Reading Maketh A Full Man

BIBLE CLUB OFFICERS . . . Clarine Johnson, corresponding secretary; Ann Reichard, treasurer; Carol Barton, president; Mr. John Moses, advisor; Jean Fiedler, recording secretary.

Bible Club

The activities of the Youth Wants to Know Bible Club are studying the Bible, discussing personal and worldly problems in the light of the Bible, and forming a Christian fellowship. The club fulfills these aims during their weekly meetings which have included speakers, movies, discussions, and panels.

ADVANCED MATH CLUB . . . Don Bartel, Janelle Schewe, Vicki VanWagenen, Cathy Meehan, Mr. Solomon Popler, advisor.

Advanced Math Club

This club gives students interested in exploring new fields of mathematics a chance to involve themselves as a group with challenging problems. Advised by Mr. Solomon Popler, students can teach new concepts to the club and learn new skills outside of the classroom.

Calculation and Investigation

LAB ASSISTANTS . . . Jane Poleski, Dorothy Olson, Jenny Deforest, Margaret Jeter, Mr. Larry Seip, advisor, Barrie Grammer.

Lab Assistants

While gaining practical experience, the lab assistants give invaluable aid to the science teachers in the lab. Students work in the lab during their study periods.

Chess Club

Our chess team did not participate in any inter-scholastic competition this year because the Shore Scholastic Chess League was not well organized. But under the supervision of Mr. John T. Woodward, the students still interested in chess were able to have matches and exchange techniques.

CHESS CLUB . . . Louis Klein, Roger Semplak, Warren West, Jeff Davis.
Standing: Mr. Woodward, advisor.

Concentration to Communication

AMATEUR RADIO CLUB . . . Daniel Lisa, vice-president; Bob Otto, president; Bob Peck, secretary-treasurer; Bob Fedler, activities manager.

Amateur Radio Club

A new club this year, the Amateur Radio Club gives its members an opportunity to use their mechanical skills. Under the direction of Mr. Robert Nogueira, the boys put together and operate many types of radios.

Art Club

Expression with line, color, and shape is the object of the Art Club. Advised by art teacher, Mr. Douglas McIlvain, the club members work in many mediums including mosaics, ceramics, painting, and sculpture. The large murals on the third floor reflect the influence of the Art Club.

Though divided, the senior and junior chapters of the Future Homemakers of America are united in thought. Through the leadership of Mrs. Marjorie Ward the girls participate in numerous fund-raising projects such as dances held jointly with the cheerleaders. Learning proficiency in the skills of the ideal homemaker, the two chapters meet alternately. Each has its own elected officers.

Heraldry and Genealogy

Rzeszotarski? Zabilowicz? Zweidinger? Do the names sound familiar? Well, if not you might attend a meeting of the Heraldry and Genealogy Club. In its first year at Red Bank, this organization studied the ancestry and coats of arms of various families. Under the direction of Mr. Louis DiGirolomo the club set up several interesting displays of well known coats of arms and Irish surnames.

HERALDRY AND GENEALOGY . . . Dean Ross, Jeanne Hendrickson, James Richard, Mr. Louis DiGirolomo, advisor.

Library Council

The Red Bank High School Band, pride of the Buccaneers, presents one of the most colorful and diversified programs in the state. Under the direction of Mr. John Luckenbill, the band performs at pep rallies, football games, concerts, and parades.

This year the band again sent the largest number of students to All-State Band. Members included Susan Kraybill, Estelle Katz, and David Chase. We also placed seven students in All-State Region II Band and twenty-two in All-Shore Band.

The band hosted the musicians of Spalding High School in Rochester, New Hampshire and traveled there in May as part of our annual exchange program. The two bands appeared in joint concerts on both occasions.

Cheerleaders

A Hop, Skip,

"Bucs on the warpath — Go! Go!" Red Bank's team was spirited on to victory by our top-rate cheerleaders. Under the direction of advisors Miss Dorothy Loversidge and Mrs. Elizabeth Herbert and Captain Barry Montigros, the girls cheer at football games, basketball games, parades, and pep rallies. Aiding them in these tasks are the junior varsity cheerleaders chosen in the fall from freshman and sophomore girls. Varsity try-outs are held in the spring, and decisions are based on personality, poise, and spirit. This year three boys added their pep to the squad.

B Division—Watch Out

Despite serious coaching problems early in the season, Red Bank was the surprise team of the year and very nearly the Shore Conference champion for 1967. On the first day of the season, the gridgers were greeted by only three coaches instead of the promised six. Practices had to be shortened, and many boys were sent home due to the lack of supervision. A week before the season opened, head coach, Tom Karlo, handed in his resignation. The Bucs had one week and no head coach before their first game. On the same day that Mr. Karlo resigned, Mr. Evergetis announced that Mr. Robert Morris, then freshman coach, had agreed to fill the position.

The shortage of coaches did not seem to hamper the Bucs when they opened against Red Bank Catholic in the "Game of the Week." Red Bank amazed everyone by defeating the Caseys 54-0. As Coach Morris put it, "I knew we were ready, but not that ready!"

As the team breezed along, defeating Freehold Regional (18-0), Toms River (12-6), Monmouth Regional (13-0), and Rumson-Fair Haven Regional (6-0), Buc fans were fearful that history would repeat itself. Last year's team, at the same time and with an identical five and zero record, dropped the next two games, tied one, and beat Long Branch to finish out of the money.

In another "Game of the Week," the "weightless wonders" of Red Bank, who were gunning for the championship, faced their first crucial test, Middletown. The "wonders" served notice quickly as scatback, C. B. Carter, took the opening kickoff eighty-five yards for the score. The extra point try was short. Two more times in the first half the Bucs found themselves inside the Middletown twenty yard line, but they did not score. Early in the second half, the Lions scored six quick points to knot the contest. The Bucs were still driving when time ran out and had to settle for a 6-6 tie.

With the moral victory over Middletown under their belts, the boys were ready to tangle with the Green Dragons of Brick. The Morrismen utilized a punishing ground attack to crush their opponents. Quarterback Jim Mottine did an excellent job of play-calling, and wingback C. B. Carter picked up two of the Bucs' three touchdowns. The gridgers then suffered a letdown in the Neptune game. The strong Red Bank defense that had yielded only three touchdowns all year gave up that same number against the Fliers, losing 19-7.

The Bucs needed only to win on Turkey Day to take the Class A Championship. Early in the second quarter the Buccos were on the Long Branch one yard line with a fourth down and one inch to go for a first down. Mottine attempted a quarterback sneak, but failed to pick up the required yardage. Unfortunately, that touchdown and the extra point would have won the game. Long Branch picked up their lone touchdown in the third period to sink the Buccaneers, 6-0.

The football team finished with a good 6-2-1 record in their last year in Class A play, and gave every team in the conference a run for their money. B Conference, look out!

Up, up and away . . . Bucs kick off to a good season.

STRATEGY . . . Mr. Morris, new head coach, confers with his assistant Tom Robsock before sending a play into the game.

Soccer is King

The soccer team, coached by Bob Mulrenan, had a disappointing year. The booters won two games, lost five, and tied six. As in the past, Tony Mellaci was the outstanding player. Because many of the team members are underclassmen, playing experience should be an asset next year. The fact that the Bucs couldn't find an effective defense hampered them. Starting linemen Tom Balkan, Spencer Scheffling, and Nick Petrone, along with backs Ed Rezetko, Mike Ribley, and Guy Fisher will all graduate this year. The nucleus of the squad next fall will be Captain Joe Ferraina, Ray Salm, Steve Magin, Keith Vandervoort, and Howard Reeves.

Cross Country

Best Harriers in RBHS History

The 1967 cross-country team compiled the best dual meet record in the history of Red Bank High School. Finishing with a fine 10-2 record, the team placed fourth in the combined Shore Conference A, B, and C divisions, losing only to Lakewood, Group B champion, by two points and to Raritan. In addition, the team was the first public school to finish in the Monmouth College Invitational, placed fifth in the state qualifying meet and eighth overall in Group III.

Although seniors James Hayman, John O'Connell, Chip Jones, Mitch Reno, Richard Ruddy, James Campbell, Richard Torres, and Tom Bertelsen comprised the majority of the varsity squad, there were several fine underclassmen. Juniors James Shaloo and Bob Hamlin were strong performers with Hamlin running first man in many meets. Juniors Tim Betz, third or fourth varsity runner, and Bruce Farley performed well with Ed Kelly and Gary Clews giving excellent performances as freshmen. Kelly placed second and Clews placed sixth in the CBA Freshman Invitational Meet.

Mr. Perry is looking forward to a fine group of runners next year and predicts they will improve as the season progresses.

Cagers Break Even

FAR FROM THE MADDENING CROWD . . . Center Dennis Halsey climbs for an opening game tap.

Red Bank came within two points of scoring one of the biggest upsets of the season during their first contest with Neptune. At the start of the campaign it looked like the Bucs were the team to beat. They had beaten Toms River, Long Branch, and Monmouth Regional before dropping their first game to Neptune in a heartbreaker. Red Bank, led by the rebounding of Milton Moore, dominated most of the game. In the last few minutes of play, the Fliers put on a scoring spurt and pulled the game out.

Bouncing back from their loss to Neptune, the Bucs overcame a stubborn Brick five. In the next game Coach Otrupchak's squad, suffering many flu casualties, was badly beaten by a taller and deeper Middletown team. The team breezed by Freehold and pulled a mild upset over crosstown rival Red Bank Catholic. The outcome of Red Bank's second encounter with Long Branch was not as pleasant as the first. Long Branch was down by one point with four seconds to go when they pumped in the winning basket. For the second time in a row, Toms River, Monmouth Regional, and Brick bowed to the Red Bank five led by Joe Conlon, Al Credle, and Milton Moore.

The remainder of the season was all down hill. The victories of Red Bank Catholic, Long Branch, Middletown, Neptune, and Asbury Park, in that order, bounced the Buccos out of the Shore Conference title race. The regular schedule ended on a happy note as Red Bank defeated Freehold. The cagers were eliminated in the first round of the State tournament by Asbury Park.

Coach Otrupchak will miss graduating seniors Joe Conlon, Milt Moore, Al Credle, Tom Balkan, Mike Connolly, and Spencer Scheffling. He will have to count on junior lettermen Bob Pingatore, Phil Dotts, Dennis Halsey, and Bruce Farley.

HIPPIE . . . Milt Moore makes his presence known to a defender.

A fired-up senior squad led by coach Tom Kovalski went out to avenge last year's loss to the faculty five. The staff, sparked by center Bob "The Big O" Otrupchak and machine gunner Tom Robsock, was surprised by the seniors wide-open, running attack. Seniors Ken Gamble, John Soviero, and Don Bartel kept the students in the contest right up to the buzzer, but young cagers were finally overpowered by the much taller faculty, 57-52.

At halftime the spectators were entertained by a volleyball game between the senior boys and girls.

Lettermen Dave Chase and John Soviero helped the Buccos sprint to a quick Shore Conference lead. As the competition stiffened, however, the bowlers' record suffered. The line-up comprised of Chase, Soviero, and underclassmen Rick Blasi, Mark Guerry, Dale Cowles, and George Falber ended the season with a record of two wins and seven losses. Dave Chase had the high average of 170, and John Soviero copped the high game and high series honors with 215 and 551 respectively.

Buc Bombers Improving

The bombers, under coach William Sweel, compiled a six and ten record, one of their best in several seasons. The Buc's were hurt early in the campaign when ace hurler, Jim Mottine, injured his leg and missed the first few games. He was hampered by injuries for the rest of the year. Sophomore Dave Fazzone carried the bulk of the pitching duty and according to Mr. Sweel, "came along quite well."

One highlight of the season was the Red Bank — Long Branch contest. The Bucs were behind three to one with two men on base when Coach Sweel sent sophomore Kevin Costello to the plate. Costello, hitless in nineteen previous times at bat, hit a three run homer to sew up the game.

This spring Mr. Sweel expects to see strong pitching and an improved defense despite the loss of seniors Rick Nowell, Dave Drodgy, and Ty Lewis, seventeenth draft choice of the Houston Astros. Returning lettermen include Mottine, Fazzone, Moss Dudley, Tim Egan, Ray Sluzarz, and John Soverio.

Trackmen Sprint to 2nd Place Shore Conference Finish

Our Manager?

"We had an excellent season in 1967." This is the way coach Tom Perry summed up the track season. The team finished the year with an impressive record of seven wins and only two losses. Another reason for Mr. Perry's cheerful view of the 1967 season was the outstanding performance of the team at the Long Branch relays, where they won the 440 relay, their first championship in 32 years.

Although the team lost several outstanding seniors such as James Hill, Scott Twigg, Larry Hare, and Mike Zwill, Mr. Perry looks forward to a strong nucleus of returning performers. Junior Bobby Rudrow threatened the old school record in the high jump while Senior Don Bartel vaulted 11'6¼" with his fiberglass pole. Don should be the one to beat in the shore this year. Although Mr. Perry's distance runners should be a strong group with many returning seniors, there are vacancies in the high and low hurdles. Over all, however, Mr. Perry looks forward to a well balanced team in 1968.

NO SWEAT . . . as Jim Hill breezes to a first-place finish in the 100 yard dash.

CLASSIC FORM . . . hurdler Scott Twigg displays classic form for his young audience.

UP . . . AND OVER . . . sophomore Bob Rudrow sails over the high bar. Bob was Red Bank's leading high jumper.

OVERJOYED? . . . Senior Tom Hunter seems elated with his shot.

BACKHAND . . . Jeremy Grayzel sets himself for smashing backhand.

Led by coach Jack Needle, the 1967 tennis team racked up an 8-3 Shore Conference record. Singles competition was dominated by sophomores Bob Raynor, and Greg Langley and senior Jeremy Grayzel. Raynor had the best individual record (10-1) and went to the state championship. The first doubles team, comprised of Rudy Muller and Charlie Lindberg, was followed by the pair of Don Mascola and Tom Hunter.

This spring the team will have no returning senior lettermen. Coach Needle will have to rely on the development of sophomores Harry Mahoney and Dave Sawyer to fill gaps left by graduation.

TWO-HANDED . . . Rudy Muller eyes the ball as he prepares to return a volley.

STRETCH . . . Bob Raynor grimaces as he reaches for a serve.

Duffers Drive to Third

Coach Bill Hay's duffers pushed their way up the ladder to third place, tied with Asbury Park, in last year's Shore Conference Golf League Competition. This was an improvement over the previous year's fourth place standing. The team finished with a 5 win—two loss Conference record, and a five win—three loss over—all slate. The linksmen were led by junior Bob Pingitore, who won 6 of his 8 matches; and senior Dave Chase posted 4 victories with only one defeat over the season. Other members of the team were Terry Bennett, Rich Jeffrey, Kevin Knecht, Allen Shoemaker, Rich Torre, and Paul Wedel. The Buc duffers again were privileged to play their home matches at Navesink Country Club, a fine 18 hole championship course, one of the most difficult to "conquer" in the county.

Coach Hay will build the team around upperclassmen Chase, Torre, Knecht, and Pingitore, hoping their experience in league competition will give Red Bank an advantage in the '68 campaign.

CHIP AND PITCH . . . Dave Chase watches his approach shot "zero in" on the hole.

INTREPID DRIVER . . . Junior Bob Pingitore faces four sand traps without a quiver.

STRAIGHT DOWN THE MIDDLE . . . Letterman Richard Torre tees off at Navesink Country Club, the Buc's home course.

GOLF'S BIG THREE . . . Richard Torre (left) putts as Dave Chase (center) and Bob Pingitore (right) look on.

Gals Steal Limelight

FORM? . . . Kathy DeSantis attempts an awkward underhand foul shot.

The G.A.A. Council supervises all girls' sports. The Council consists of officers, managers for each sport, and a representative from each gym class. It provides an opportunity for all girls to enter interscholastic or intramural competition in several sports. Varied activities such as basketball, bowling, field hockey, modern dance, softball, and tennis are supervised by advisors Miss Helen Neeff and Mrs. Irene Smith.

READY? BEGIN! . . . members of Mrs. Smith's gym class jump for joy.

UHH! . . . Susan Earle awaits the count down.

FROMM DOWN UNDER . . . Pat Fromm grins and bears the routine of pull-ups.

PUSHING TOO HARD . . . Mary Nigro watches her shot streak towards the basket.

Acknowledgements

To The MacMillan Company for the use of Alastair Reid's free verse in the book, To Be Alive.

To the administration and the faculty for their assistance and understanding.

To the Class of '68 and its advisors, Mrs. Jean Dacey and Mr. Dennis McDonald.

To the advisors and members of all clubs, teams, and classes for their cooperation.

To the secretarial and guidance staffs for their help in obtaining information.

To Mr. Peter Murphy and the custodial staff for coping with our inconvenient hours of work.

To Mr. Vince Timberman, Mr. Vince D'Ambrosia, Mr. Gil Floyd, and "Miss Shirley" for their help throughout the year.

To Delmar Printers and Lorstan Studios for the fine jobs they did.

To Mr. Anthony Trufolo for the use of the Audio-Visual Aids darkroom.

To our parents for their understanding.

To the underclassmen and the staff who ably assisted the editors.

To Mrs. Grace McMillan for her warm humor that helped us brave daily crises.

To all those who helped produce the 1968 Log.
