Independence Day: a memorable celebration

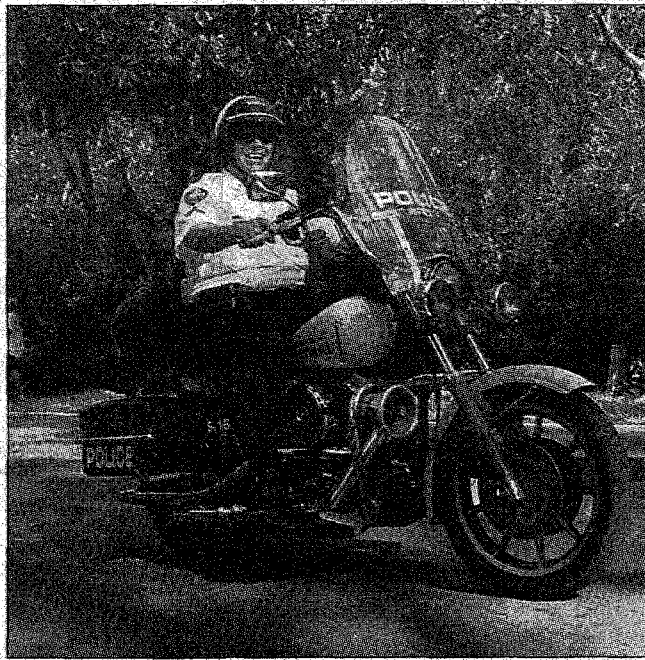

By Renny Severance
Executive Editor

It was indeed an Independence Day to remember. Sanibel got a jump on the rest of Lee County by having the celebration on Saturday, July 3 and all the planning and hard work paid off.

The parade went off on schedule and as is usually the case, it seemed as if half the population was in the parade while the other half watched.

Businesses, civic clubs, families — just about everything imaginable was there and bringing a flavor to the event that made participants and observers alike feel joy and pride in their country and its traditions. It was Americana at its best.

Randy Wayne White, author of the Doc Ford mysteries, and others as well, was the Grand Marshall of the parade riding magnificently in an elderly International Harvester Scout.

He personified the appeal of this parade which has been held for the past 14 years. This is not a high-tech event with manicured floats that take months to prepare. Rather they are islanders' own pickup trucks, vans, convertibles, bicycles, whatever that they decorate themselves. They are clever, they are beautiful, they are plain, they are moving (in both ways) — they are the people of these islands enjoying the day and showing their national pride.

The parade was followed by a city-sponsored party at the Sanibel Community Association. There were free hot dogs and sodas. There were games and contests of every description. There were just a whole lot of people having a great time.

Reactions to the event have been consistently positive, praising the city for a lot of hard work to make the event truly fun for everyone, with or without families.

The universal praise has been accompanied by expressions of hope that they might be able to equal the feat next year.

Shell Harbour dredging requires construction at Sanibel boat ramp

By Jenny Burnham
Staff Writer

Crews from Stemic Marine Construction have built a temporary dock at the Sanibel Boat Ramp as part of their project to dredge the entrance to Shell Harbour. The landing space provides a place to load and offload equipment and dredged shell as the project progresses.

The dock consists of twelve-inch concrete pilings arranged in a criss cross pattern, resting on flat concrete slabs on the sea floor, according to Butch Jones, co-owner of Stemic. When the dredging barges return to the dock with the "dirty shell" from the harbor entrance, a crane transfers the shell from a barge to a dump truck for disposal.

The shell is a good quality material, according to the City of Sanibel Department of Public Works, and will remain on Sanibel for use in re-grading roads.

The project will remove approximately 1200 cubic yards of shell from the harbor entrance, according to Jones, and is expected to be complete early this month.

Hot wieners, hot winners & cold bananas make Sanibel's Community Picnic a hot time

The 2004 Independence Day Community Picnic proved to be a sea of red, white & blue fun as Sanibel residents consumed 3,500 hot dogs, 2,000 sodas, 1000 servings of cotton candy, 500 snow cones and 1,000 frozen bananas while participating in numerous games from horseshoes to cow milking competitions. This year's event marked the second consecutive year that the town has gathered together at the Sanibel Community Association and adjacent city-owned lands for a community picnic following the Independence Day Parade.

The hot dog grills and service were operated by the Sanibel-Captiva Lions Club, the Rotary Club of Sanibel-Captiva Islands, the Sanibel Community Church and City of Sanibel employees. Volunteers from Big Arts and the Sanibel Community Association also assisted by staffing the beverage service. In addition to providing staff during the event the City of Sanibel provided all the event set-up/tear down and traffic control.

The following donors contributed to the Community Picnic:

The Sanibel - Captiva Islands Chamber of Commerce, Tween Waters Inn; Billy's Rentals; Bailey's General Store; Colonial Bank; Mike McMurray - VIP Realty Group; Barb Rich, South Seas Sanibel and Captiva Properties; Gilda Suarez, Executive Title Insurance; Vasanta Senerat, CPA; Dick Muench, Periwinkle Park and Lazy Flamingo; Jerry Muench; Brian Murty; Damon Craig; Kiwanis Club of Sanibel-Captiva; Doc Ford's Sanibel Rum Bar and Grille; Sysco Food Systems; The Dunes Golf and Tennis Club; The Sanibel Shellcrafters; Sanibel Historical Village and Museum; Thistle Lodge/Casa Ybel Resort; Tarpon Bay Explorers; She Sell Sea Shells; South Florida Water Management District; Schnapper's Hots; and Dairy Queen.

Essay contest winners

Why I am Proud to be an American

I am proud to be an American because it is a free country and because we can think anything we want to think. And also, we can do anything we want to do; except things that are against the law.

by Max Costa (age 6)

I am proud to be an American because America is a wonderful and beautiful country and I feel very fortunate to live here. America gives us the chance to follow our dreams without religion, race or gender stopping us and a promise of freedom. In other countries people do not have the freedom I do or the chance to fulfill their dreams, and that is why I am proud to be an American.

by Laura Costa (age 10)

I am proud to be an American because it is a free country where each individual makes their own choice. We have options not available in most parts of the world. Brave people fought to give us these rights. We can decide our own future and our fate.

The more we learn, the more we know, the more we know the smarter we grow. The smarter we grow the louder our voice when speaking our mind or making a choice. I am proud to be an American!

by Kim Greenplate (age 12)

America is a beautiful place, so beautiful that many Americans take it for granted. I did until I started watching the news; I was shocked by the dilemma that other countries dealt with every day.

On September 11, 2001 my world was forever changed. Two planes hit the the World Trade Centers. Love ones of friends, and friends of loved ones parishes, The country mourned. The fall helped us realize what we had and what we should. We got back up on our feet helping each other heal our wounds. I am proud of my country, proud to be an American.

by Taylor Nave (age 11)

Sponsored by Colonial Bank, the winners were each given a $50 U.S. Savings Bond.

East End Deli and Nancy Black: Best Pies of Sanibel winners

The East End Deli and Nancy Black, a resident of the Lake Murex neighborhood, were awarded the Grand Champion Ribbons in the Independence Day Community Picnic Best Pies of Sanibel Competition. Nancy Black's "Pecan Pie" was the judge's first choice in the non-commercial category, while East End Deli's "Bonaoffee" garnered the first place prize for commercial entries. Both were awarded Grand Champion ribbons as well as a basket of gifts including an engraved pie plate.

Other winners in the non-commercial category were Gloria Baker, second place, and Annie Skaugstad-Nachtshiem third place. In the commercial category the Orange Pie entered by Bailey's General Store was awarded second place honors and Bailey's Key Lime Pie was awarded the third place ribbon.

Robert Price, the proprietor of East End Deli, baked the winning pie in the commercial category. Robert Price reports the "Banoffee" recipe is from England where this pie was very popular in the 1980's. The pie is made from a graham cracker base, and the filling is made of lime juice, cream cheese, yogurt, sugar and bananas topped with toffee and meringue. An alternate topping is fresh bananas and fresh cream.

Sanibel resident Nancy Black and her husband Bill Black first came to Sanibel in 1983. Three days later they purchased a condominium at Sandalfoot. They moved their permanent year-round residency to Sanibel in 2000. In addition to being a member of the Sanibel Community Church, Nancy is also a member of CASI. She is employed as the manager of Sandalfoot Condominiums on East Gulf Drive.

Robert and Kim Price, originally from the South Coast of England, have owned the East End Deli, located at 359 Periwinkle Way, since March 2003. The Price's visited Sanibel for the first time in 2000 and have been permanent residents since 2003.

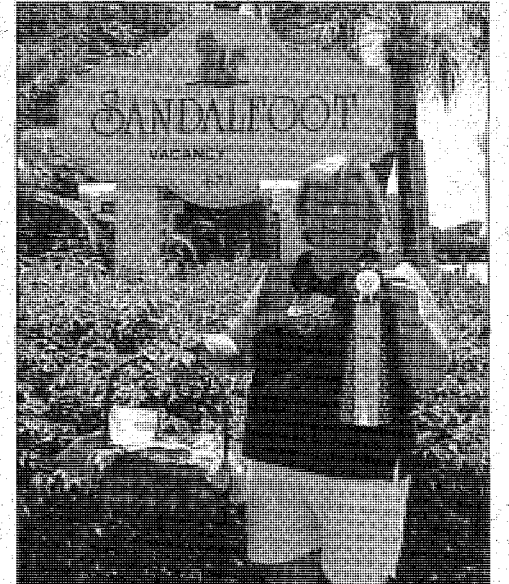

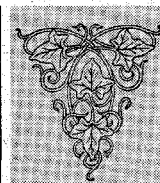

The pies were judged anonymously by a celebrity panel including Mayor Marty Harrity, Harry Bertossa, George Waters, Jackie Rauschert, and Councilmember Jim Jennings.

After tasting his fourteenth pie of the afternoon Mayor Harrity, speaking on behalf of all the judges stated, "I don't think I could eat another piece of pie right now."

Randy Carson and Mayor Harrity launch the first rally contestant.

A temporary farewell

By Caroline Gavin
Student Intern

As my internship at the Island Reporter comes to a close, I look back and realize that this job has been one that I'll always remember. The learning experiences I've encountered are unforgettable. The knowledge and skills that I have gained are ones that I can carry with me for the rest of my life. I appreciate all the help and assistance given to me. My gratitude can't be expressed in words. The internship was a rare opportunity.

I feel blessed to have the opportunity to work with the staff at the Island Reporter. I met people who have taught me things that I will never forget. I never realized how the history of Sanibel made such a strong impact on the island today. I hope to never see Sanibel's appearance change.

Spending time on the island allowed my father to reminisce about the wonderful animal habitat. My mother always sat outside and enjoyed the joyous songs that the birds sang. I have never witnessed such efforts by the community to keep Sanibel in the beautiful conditions it's in now.

All the support and love that I received from my family and residents of Sanibel is greatly appreciated. The compliments and encouragement were my backbone and kept me standing tall. I enjoyed the warm hospitality that I received from the islanders. I would love to return for another summer.

Chamber of Commerce launches new campaign

This past week, the Sanibel & Captiva Islands Chamber of Commerce unveiled its new logo and branding strategy with the brand name "The Islands of Sanibel & Captiva" and the tag line "Naturally, you'll love it here."

The goal of the campaign is to create a consistent and effective message to potential visitors that also gives our members the opportunity to affordably advertise their business under our new banner. The Chamber Marketing Committee has been charged with the task of identifying the appropriate markets of opportunity and means of placement to insure that we are sending our message to precisely the type of visitor we hope to attract and retain.

As a barrier island resort destination, we have neither the luxury nor the desire to attract unlimited numbers of visitors to the islands. The Chamber's role is to responsibly market our destination as one that is founded upon environmental and conservation principles. What sets us apart from other destinations is the wisdom, dedication and foresight of the people who came before us and their efforts to preserve our unique beauty and our fragile environment. That is the message we hope to convey to the destination travel market-

We are also proud to promote, as part of our marketing campaign, the educational efforts of so many of our non-profit organizations. We are home, not only to the J.N. "Ding" Darling National Wildlife Refuge, but also to the Sanibel Captiva Conservation Foundation, the Clinic for the Rehabilitation of Wildlife, the Bailey-Matthews Shell Museum, the Sanibel Historical Village and Museum, and many other organizations that reflect the inherent ideals and the strong financial support of our community.

Most of our residents first came here as visitors. They experienced a special sense of place that convinced them that this was where they wanted to live and raise a family. But we are also an extremely transient community, with nearly 25 percent of our residents living here for five years or less. That underscores the importance of targeting our marketing efforts in the right places. Today's visitor is tomorrow's voter, and by attracting those with our same sense of identity, being and purpose, we can mold our continued existence as one dedicated to the beliefs we share today.

Our mission at the Chamber is to promote business prosperity and preserve the quality of life in our community. Our new marketing efforts are part of our vision to protect what others have worked to attain by focusing on our visitors' qualities, not their quantities.

We also hope that our residents will continue to recognize the contribution of our business community in making a difference in the lives of so many of our citizens and our local organizations. The best way to express your appreciation is to continue to patronize and support those local businesses. By working together we can demonstrate to others that "Naturally, we love it here."

To the Editor:

We think the 3rd of July Picnic Party was awesome. It is great to see a truly old-fashioned community event — food, games, fellowship and fun.

It is wonderful when the community can be together and have a great time.

Kate and I would like to thank the Council, the City Staff, the Parks and Recreation Committee and the Sponsors for all of the work they have done to make this event possible.

This is truly a unique event and we hope it continues next year.

Statistically Outlandish Banalities?

It is important to look at how we view statistics and facts and their relevance.

According to an internet message I received recently, a new scourge imperils our island. It strikes at all ages and sexes. It has already crossed economic, social, and racial divides. No one is safe. Someone must act. And Soon! These alarming, convincing, and obviously accurate statistics, although attributed to no credible source, tell it all.

1. More than 98 percent of convicted felons are bread users.
2. Today, more than 90 percent of violent crimes are committed within 24 hours of eating bread.
3. Fully HALF of all children who grow up in bread-consuming households score below average on standardized tests.
4. Bread has been proven to be addictive. Subjects deprived of bread and given only water to eat begged for bread after as little as two days.
5. Newborn babies can choke on bread.
6. Bread is baked at temperatures as high as 400 degrees Fahrenheit! That much heat can kill an adult in less than one minute.
7. There is no reliable data as to how fast bread acts or how long its effects linger in the body. Is anyone who has ever eaten bread potentially a ticking time bomb?

It is also hypothesized that Florida's bread eaters are utterly unable to distinguish between significant, relevant, scientific fact and emotionally potent but meaningless statistical pap. It's terrifying, I know, but these very bread eaters might organize and join and name committees and become fanatically averse to cogent thought (usually their approach is in the averse — if they're against something or someone and support nothing, they probably also reject thinking) and they vote!

Then there are groups that may actually name themselves for one action while focusing almost totally on another. The more devious, rather than come clean or concoct a wonderfully creative lie when caught in a duplicity, might clandestinely attempt to add to or amend history. Take a look at <http://saveourbay.tripod.com/about.htm> for example. Check out the paragraphs that deal with the bay. Guess which is (notice the absence of a plural verb here) recently added. Based on the balance of the site, and draw your own conclusions about the purpose of Save Our Bay.

Although concerned with the deceptions (such as heroic Band-Aid purple hearts) supported by selected, accurate facts, I see only this group's honest, passionate effort to make their cause seem bigger than it really has been to date. It's not as if someone had actually paid Save Our Bridge to change the name or if Save Our Bridge might have fabricated a possibly fraudulent name for financial reward, they just over-reached a bit.

Unquestionably these people are concerned about the bay — we all are. S.O.B. members are smart, energetic, organized and well led. Legitimate efforts to Save Our Bay need true leadership. So please, S.O.B. become what your new name professes and bring forth the leadership that we need. But until the group attains relevance with its name, we must recognize overreach for what it is.

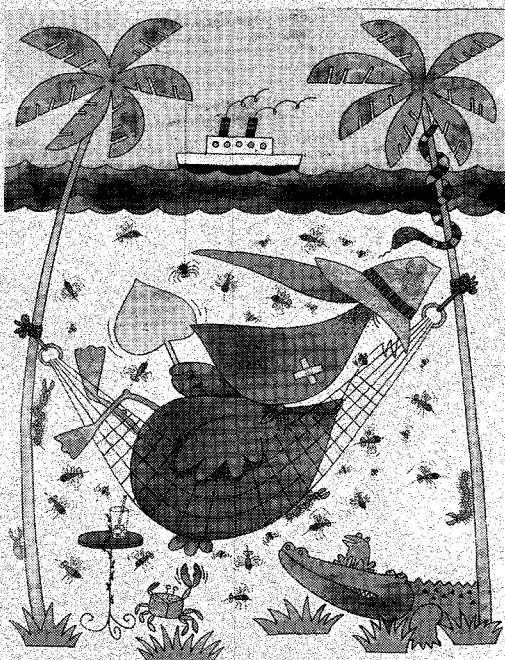

The point of this letter is that everyone be alert and question rather than blindly accept the relevance of statistics and emphasis. Insist that folks and committees represent themselves as what they truly are.

In fact, please, before you blindly accept something like the compelling evidence in this letter, temper your passion with reality. Make it pass all the tests. Accurate, factual, and convincing (but in this case relevant?) statistics indicate our Island may be seriously threatened by what most of us eat. Some who have tried bread will inevitably conclude that Sanibel desperately needs yet another committee to represent and protect everyone's interests. Maybe even a referendum. Bread-eating on either side will provide either justification or excuse for disagreement.

Island tradition would dictate that their group have a catchy name like Sanibellians Opposing Bread so as to abbreviate it "S.O.B." Or maybe wiser heads will ignore the new committee's passionate, altruistic intent, and ask if forming it would benefit the island. Perhaps they'll conclude we may not need another irrelevant S.O.B.

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE CITY OF SANIBEL

July 01, 2004

RE: Referendum Vote Proposing the Sale of City-Owned Land to J.N. "Ding" Darling National Wildlife Refuge

Dear Fellow Citizens:

Sanibel City Council unanimously passed a resolution on March 30, 2004 calling for a mail ballot referendum to consider the sale of City-owned land within the Environmentally Sensitive Lands Conservation District to the J.N. "Ding" Darling Wildlife Refuge. The property proposed for sale consists of two parcels along San-Cap Road adjacent to the Refuge with such sale conditioned upon the protection and preservation of both parcels in their current and natural states. Proceeds from the sale of the property will be deposited to the City's General Fund. The sale price for the two parcels is $500,000.

In accordance with the City Charter, Section 3.10.1, actions by the City to sell, exchange, donate or otherwise alienate City-owned land within the Environmentally Sensitive Lands Conservation District requires affirmative vote of the majority of electors at a referendum called for that purpose.

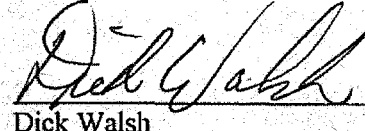

The mail ballot election for the qualified electors of the City of Sanibel will be held on July 15, 2004 to determine if the majority of electors participating in the referendum are in favor of the sale of this property. If you are a registered Sanibel voter, the Lee County Supervisor of Elections will mail a ballot to your home address asking if you approve of the sale of the two parcels of property. You may answer either "yes" or "no" relative to the sale of the property. For your vote to be counted, you must return your ballot to the Supervisor of Elections for certification of the results. The City Council will declare the election results at a subsequent regular meeting.

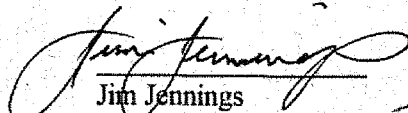

We would also like to take this opportunity to enclose additional new City material. We have enclosed the City's alligator brochure, our updated recycling magnet and very important flood facts.

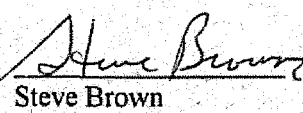

In closing, we strongly encourage you to participate in the July 15, 2004 mail ballot referendum.

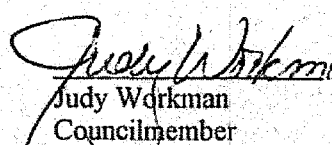

Sincerely,

GARDENING

Tree dracaena is a tropical relative of the Spanish bayonet

Dear Ron: I bought a plant that was tagged "blooming Dracaena arborea". I've been trying to find some information on this plant, which I really like, but I can't come up with anything. Can you help?

— Linda, Cape Coral

Dear Linda: Commonly known as tree dracaena, this tropical member of the Agavaceae family is not a true dracaena at all, but more closely related to yuccas, such as the Spanish bayonet. Its downward-arching, thick leaves are lush and green; they emerge in single heads from each cylindrical brown trunk. About once a year, they produce very pretty, creamy white flowers. Reaching typical heights of 45 feet at maturity, the tree dracaena likes full sun to partial shade and moist soil. It has a moderate growth rate.

Dracaena arborea is native to tropical America, adaptable to Florida hardiness zones 10 and 11, and is highly salt-tolerant.

Brown leaf edges indicate presence of spider mites***

Dear Ron: Why are the edges of my mango leaves turning brown? It gets plenty of water and the fruit is fine.

— Lynn Berle, Fort Myers

Dear Lynn: Your mango has likely been infested with spider mites, which are prevalent during the dry, hot conditions we've experienced lately. The brown edges of your mango's leaves is a typical indication of their presence.

Spray the foliage with an insecticidal soap solution made of 2 tablespoons of "pure" soap (Ivory, Dove or Castille) per gallon of water. Do it in the morning before 10 a.m. and repeat the spraying in a week.

Until the rainy season sets in, it would be wise to hose down the foliage with water once a week thereafter.

Use fresh seeds when trying to plant mangos

Dear Ron: How do we start a seedling from a seed of an apple mango? We have yet to find a nursery that sells this variety of mango, which is apple-size, very sweet and not too fibrous. We have a few seeds from the original tree and would like to grow them with the intention of growing the tree in our yard.

— Mimi Cochran, Cape Coral

Dear Mimi: It is difficult to germinate mango seeds that have dried out, so I'm not optimistic. However, you could try soaking the seeds for 24 hours in lukewarm water. Then plant them 3 to 4 inches deep in a porous planting mixture. Keep the soil moist (but not wet), and — if you are successful — seedlings should emerge within a couple of weeks.

By the way, mangos produce two kinds of seeds: Some contain single embryos; others have multiple embryos and will produce more than one seedling. It should be pointed out, however, that mango trees grown from seeds rarely produce quality fruit, so I would continue your search of nurseries.

The mango (Mangifera indica) is native to India and Burma, adaptable to zones 10 and 11, and is moderately salt-tolerant.

Magnolia blooms are showing signs of fungus

Dear Ron: I have a young (year-old) magnolia tree about two feet tall. A few weeks ago it started having buds all over. The first one grew very large (about 3 inches long), and was white and waxy-looking. Just as the flower was about to open it turned all brown (in two days) and the inside appeared to be rotten.

The other buds seem to have stopped developing also. What happened?

— Elisabeth Benny
Fort Myers Beach

Dear Elisabeth: Your magnolia is suffering bud rot, which is a fungus that is likely the result of poor soil drainage or overwatering. Drench the soil and spray the foliage with fungicide, and ease up on the watering.

Your magnolia is probably the "Little Gem" cultivar of the traditional southern magnolia. It is more heat-tolerant than the original, doing well in Florida hardiness zones 8-10, and is the best choice for South Florida.

The little gem has the typical glossy-green, leathery leaves and the familiar showy white, very fragrant blossoms, which it produces spring and summer. But unlike the pure species of southern magnolia, which can tower to 80 feet, the little gem rarely exceeds 30 feet.

The smaller size and its dense growth habit makes it good for a tall hedge or landscape screen, as well as a specimen tree. When full grown, it will have a canopy width of 10 to 12 feet.

The little gem magnolia (Magnolia grandiflora "little gem") is a slow-growing Florida native cultivar that likes full sun to part shade and is moderately salt-tolerant.

Kirby Rambo Collections under new ownership

By Amy Fleming
Staff Writer

It's not your average gift store, but then island residents aren't your average people. For those whose idea of a great gift is something that cannot be found anywhere else, Kirby Rambo Collections has always been the first, and probably last, stop. With an inventory of hand blown glass, beaded handbags, artisan-made ceramics, mosaics and furniture, shoppers can find items for which they would normally have to scour the internet.

Pam Rambo, owner of the two stores, one in Celebration Center, Captiva, the other in the Village Shops on Sanibel, recently sold both operations to Ron Baird and Tom Peters, who just moved to Sanibel from Rehoboth Beach, Delaware. However, no changes are planned for the stores — they will still carry the same one-of-a-kind arts and crafts that buyers have come to love, as well as retaining the same employees and the 'Kirby Rambo Collections' name.

"I had a five year plan that I completed in two years," Rambo said. "The stores are doing great, but I miss my artwork. What better time to sell them than when things are going great?"

The Rambos, Pam and Clark, moved to Sanibel three years ago from Coconut Grove, where Pam sold her work at arts and crafts shows.

"I met so many cool artists with very unique things that I didn't see in gift shops," she said.

She hung onto their business cards, buying their work primarily for gifts. When they moved to Sanibel and changed jobs, they looked at their space in The Village with the idea of opening up a deli. After learning that the spot wasn't zoned for an eatery, the Rambos began thinking in terms of an art gallery.

"I could open my own place, sell my own artwork, and the artists I met from the arts and craft fairs."

They bought the space on July 1 of 2002, later opening the Captiva location at the end of 2003. With both businesses going gangbusters, the Rambo's decided to sell, coincidentally as Peters and Baird were looking for a gallery to purchase.

Owners for eight years of the Delaware Inn Bed & Breakfast, They were ready for a change. The two bought a home initially in Fort Myers Beach, but always wanted to move to Sanibel.

"Sanibel was our dream place to live. Sanibel just has this charm for us," Baird said. "When we came down here, we wanted to open up an art gallery, and Clark had put an ad in the paper. I said, 'This is what we wanted to do, this is what we had in mind.' It all just fell into place."

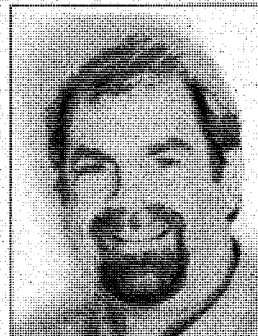

Both Baird and Peters work in stained glass, and may introduce their work into the gallery in another year or so. Meanwhile, Rambo will still be around, guiding the new owners through the maze of summer craft shows, offering tips on what sells on the islands.

"They are going to do fantastic in this business," Rambo said. "They're two great guys."

PMR announces new staff additions

Lee Horton

Priscilla Murphy Realty is proud to announce the addition of Lee Horton to their real estate sales staff. Lee is a graduate of the University of Illinois with a degree in Advertising. He moved to southwest Florida in 1989 where he and his brother David started their own graphic design business call Horton & Horton Creative. In 1996, Lee and David purchased Sanibel Print & Graphics on Sanibel Island and their business has been recognized by the Island Reporter newspaper as the favorite print shop on the island for the past three years.

Lee Horton

Lee's career has included working for American Greetings a card company in Cleveland, Ohio and Hallmark Cards in Kansas City, Missouri as a humorous writer and illustrator. Lee also currently helps write and draw the Sanibel cartoon strip "Too Much Sun" for the Islander newspaper.

Lee will be working alongside Judy Reddington, a veteran sales agent and her staff Kelly Jo Albrecht, Doug Horton and Ron Smiley. Lee's PMR office is located at 1019 Periwinkle Way and should you need any assistance buying or selling a home, condo or property, he hopes you'll give him a call at 472-1511.

Ron M. Smiley

Priscilla Murphy Realty is proud to announce that Ron M. Smiley has joined our company as a real estate sales associate. Ron first came to Captiva in 1979, and a few years later purchased a home on Captiva through our own, Mary Lou Bailey. Ron owned his Captiva property for approximately 14 years.

Prior to coming to the Islands, Ron was a business owner of a corporate and broadcast communications company in Philadelphia, PA. He worked on the Charles Kuralt CBS Sunday Morning show, This Week In Baseball with Mel Allen,

Ron Smiley

Entertainment Tonight, Lifestyles of the Rich and Famous, and Entertainment Tonight. Smiley also worked on Sanibel's Untold History program which recently aired on WGCU Public Media.

Ron has been included in Who's Who in America,

Who's Who in Entertainment, Who's Who in the World, Who's Who in Emerging Leaders in America, the Who's Who Registry of Global Business Leaders, and he also received the Men of Achievement Award in the Field of Communications from the International Biographical Centre in Cambridge, England.

Ron traded all that, however, for an Island lifestyle change. While on Captiva, Ron founded "Wildflowers," a grass roots organization that helped buy computers for the children of the Sanibel Elementary School. He was also one of the founding twelve members of McSPOIL where he created the name McSPOIL, an organization that protected our island lifestyle from a fast food invasion.

Smiley also created an advertising agency for island businesses and honed his thespian talents by appearing on stage at the Pirate Playhouse, and the Arcade Theater.

Ron is willing, ready and able, and he'd love to help sellers and buyers with their property needs and concerns whether it's moving on, around, or off island.

Islander wins big at ICAN Grand Opening

By Renny Severance
Executive Editor

Linda Gornick, a Sanibel resident and local Realtor, attended the grand opening of ICANstruction Junction on June 3 and came away with a delightful surprise: a 42 inch Toshiba High Definition TV with CD of "Finding Nemo," both donated by Earl Smith of Bill Smith Appliances, Inc., a major sponsor of ICAN. The TV and the CD were raffled off at the grand opening which raised $2,500 to help support programs at the Island Coast AIDS Network (ICAN).

Gornick first met Carolyn Moore, the executive director of ICAN at a seminar put on by Robb & Stucky for builders interested in downtown Fort Myers. Moore explained what ICAN does and described the new project.

fund their organization which provides critically important services to more than 500 HIV/AIDS infected people and their families in Southwest Florida.

Benefits are returned to everyone involved. Donors receive tax deductions for materials given and consumers can save up to 50 or even 75 percent off the retail prices of furniture, fixtures, building supplies or tools.

Equally important is the environmental impact of the project. Large amounts of building materials end up in area landfills — some estimate as much as 20 percent of the content comes from a combination of construction and demolition activities in this region of extraordinary population growth. The Junction is doing its part to reduce that percentage and promote environmental responsibility.

Raffle winner Linda Gornick (left) stands by her new TV with Cora Molloy, president of the ICAN board of directors; Dewey Sanders, ICANstruction Junction manager; and Carolyn Moore, executive director of ICAN.

"I thought it was a good idea," said Gornick, who was especially interested in the environmental benefits of the plan. "She invited me to the grand opening and I was delighted to go."

ICANstruction Junction takes in new and used building materials donated by corporations, retailers, contractors and private donors. By selling these to do-it-yourselfers and small contractors, ICAN is able to help

The Junction is located on US41 in North Fort Myers near Jersey's Sports Pub at the Pondella Road intersection.

Doors, glass, plumbing, furniture, lighting fixtures — all this and more can be found here. It's the sort of place where the imaginative do-it-yourselfer is likely to find something he didn't know he needed until he found it here.

Most of a house can be recycled

Demolishing and recycling
By Jenny Burnham

Sandcastle Construction Company of Sanibel and Gruelle Construction Inc. of Fort Myers are completing the first recy-used for the slab foundation and driveway of the new house that will be built on the lot.

A building, according to Michael Valiquette of Sandcastle Construction, is "99 percent recyclable." Recycling with the concrete crusher is also a less expensive process than shipping material off Sanibel

This machine takes concrete from a demolished house and pulverizes it to make a driveway slab for the new house.

cling of a residential structure on Sanibel.

After the structure, a house on West Gulf Drive, was demolished, workers separated out wood, aluminum, copper, steel and concrete. According to Michael Valiquette of Sandcastle Construction and Dan Macauley from Gruelle's Demolition Division, the wood was mulched and the metals sent to the mainland for recycling.

The concrete remained on Sanibel for processing by a concrete crusher. Once the concrete is fully pulverized, it will be reand bringing back newly quarried rock, says Valiquette. It also reduces the amount that goes into landfills.

Dan Macauley adds that Gruelle has been recycling structures on the mainland, including shopping centers, for approximately four years. The company also recycled materials for a Sanibel sewer plant project. This is the first time a house on Sanibel has been processed in this way.

HOME INSPECTIONS

You have just found the "perfect" house and are eager to make an offer. It is important to remember, however, that it may not be as perfect as it looks-- a charming exterior can often conceal hidden defects. You should have a reputable home inspector go over the house from the foundation to the roof so that you can make an informed decision.

A structural expert can give you crucial information about the plumbing, wiring, heating and air conditioning systems. He will check the roof, give you an indication of the

WGCU Public Media's In Focus on the Environment profiles the Babcock Ranch

WGCU presents an in-depth profile of the Babcock Ranch at 9 p.m. Friday, July 9. The last, large stretch of undeveloped land in south Florida is up for sale. At 92,000 acres, Babcock Ranch is the size of Cape Coral. With its sale, a huge slice of Southwest Florida's history, and future, hangs in the balance. Babcock Ranch harbors the beautiful Telegraph Swamp and a broad band of habitat containing plants and animals considered rare, endangered, and declining. It's also home to a modern Southwest Florida cattle ranch, farms, and a mining operation, all which now face uncertain futures. Many see this land as rich with habitats and water systems that must be saved, while others see development potential. The Babcocks are selling the entire acreage, and there's plenty of folks lining up to buy-will there be enough money, in time, to save Babcock Ranch?

WGCU Public Media makes it easy to view past WGCU Signature Series programs at your convenience on the Web at wgc.org. WGCU Signature Series televised programs include: In Focus on the Environment, Health Sense, Untold Stories: The History of Southwest Florida, and Expressions. Produced locally by WGCU Public Media, each series typically presents a subject of and interest and importance to Southwest Florida: the environment, health, the arts and history.

WGCU Public Media advocates the enrichment of life through arts, children's, educational, informational, and public affairs programming and community outreach. WGCU-TV is a service of WGCU Public Media at Florida Gulf Coast University.

apartment on Beach Road. The officers found two females, Annette Cummings of Fort White and Sandra Bonds of Gainesville, FL, standing in pajamas at the corner of East Gulf Drive and Beach Road. Ms. Cummings stated that she had argued with her husband, and that he had not struck her but had threatened to do so. The women had left the apartment for their safety.

Sgt. Thompson interviewed Claude Bonds, of Gainesville, and Mr. Hampton. Mr. Hampton stated that he was angry with his wife because she had made plans to leave Sanibel on Monday, while Mr. Hampton wished to leave on Sunday as he had a doctor's appointment on Monday morning. According to police, Mr. Hampton appeared upset and emotional, and Sgt. Thompson told him several times to calm down. Mr. Bonds stated that he had observed the argument between Ms. Cummings and Mr. Hampton, and that Mr. Hampton stated several times he was going to cause bodily harm to his wife, each time approaching her in a threatening manner. Mr. Bonds stated that he could not calm Mr. Hampton so he called 911.

Mr. and Mrs. Bonds and Ms. Cummings asked Mr. Hampton to leave the unit for the night. Mr. Hampton initially refused, but then asked for transport to the bus station in Fort Myers. As Officer Smith and Mr. Hampton were about to leave, Mr. Hampton allegedly approached his wife, pointed his cigar at her face, and stated that he was "going to put one right between her eyes." He also reportedly stated that he did not care if police heard him because he was not afraid of the police.

According to police, the officers repeatedly asked Mr. Hampton to leave. Because Mr. Hampton was six foot five inches tall, weighed 320 pounds, and was allegedly under the influence of alcoholic beverages, the officers called the Lee County Sheriff's Office. Deputy Falde arrived to assist if necessary. At 0028 hours the officers arrested Mr. Hampton and placed him in double-locked handcuffs. Mr. Hampton was transported to the SPD and then to Lee County for processing.

06/27/04 Criminal Mischief

Donald Fehman, of Cicero, NY, reported that an unknown person threw a brick through the front window of his rental vehicle when the vehicle was parked at Sanibel Arms West. The incident, which caused approximately $275 in damage, occurred between 2130 hours on 06/26 and 0729 hours on 06/27.

06/27/04 Assist Person

Kenneth Foster of Periwinkle Way found Scott Nelson sleeping in a rental unit that had been vacated by Penny Nichols, address unknown, at the termination of her lease. Mr. Nelson stated that Ms. Nichols allowed him to stay in the unit and said he had gained entry by a key. Officers informed Mr. Nelson that a sublease was not valid and asked him to produce the unit key, which he could not. Mr. Nelson left the unit. Mr. Foster requested area checks to prevent Mr. Nelson from returning.

06/27/04 DUI, Unauthorized Possession of a Blank/ Forged/Stolen Driver's License, Resisting an Officer without Violence

On 06/26, Officer Rachel Bauer-Fithian, on uniform patrol in a marked Sanibel Police Department vehicle, responded to a dispatch regarding a car swerving on the road eastbound on the Sanibel Captiva Road at Mile Marker #5. On the Sanibel Captiva Road, and again on Palm Ridge Road, the officer reportedly observed the full width of the driver's side tires cross the center lane marker. At 2146 hours, the officer initiated a vehicle stop.

Sgt. Thompson joined the officer at the scene. As the officer and the Sergeant approached the vehicle, both reportedly observed the back seat passenger attempting to push something under the front passenger seat. When the officer asked the driver, Lois Kerly Dezura, for her driver's license, the officer reportedly observed that Mrs. Dezura's eyes were bloodshot and watery and that her speech was slurred. The officer also reportedly detected a strong smell of alcohol coming from Mrs. Dezura.

Sgt. Thompson asked the front and rear seat passengers to exit the vehicle. The rear seat passenger, according to Officer Bauer-Fithian, was belligerent and uncooperative, screaming and waving her hands in the air. Sgt. Thompson discovered an Illinois driver's license in the name of Anielle Kerly Dezura and bearing a date of birth of 12/24/81 under the front passenger seat. Miss Dezura's birthdate is 12/24/84. At approximately 2000 hours Miss Dezura was placed under arrest for unauthorized possession of a fraudulent driver's license and for misrepresenting her age to purchase alcoholic beverages. After Miss Dezura was handcuffed, she allegedly refused to cooperate with a pat down search. The officer then charged Miss Dezura with resisting an officer without violence. Miss Dezura was placed in the patrol car, where she yelled, screamed, and kicked the door, actions that were recorded by the car video system.

Officer Bauer-Fithian asked Mrs. Dezura if she would submit to a field sobriety exercise. Mrs. Dezura agreed. The officer attempted to escort Mrs. Dezura to the level surface of the bike path. Mrs. Dezura, who was reportedly unsteady, losing her balance, and swaying, refused to go further than the grass. The officer placed Mrs. Dezura under arrest for DUI. When Mrs. Dezura allegedly resisted being handcuffed and would not walk to the patrol car, she was charged with resisting an officer without violence.

Mrs. Dezura and Miss Dezura were escorted to the Sanibel Police Department for processing. According to police reports, while at the SPD Mrs. Dezura was uncooperative, refusing to comply with orders to sit down, stop yelling, stop beating on the door of the holding facility, and to stop interfering with the officer's attempt to complete the booking process. Mrs. Dezura was additionally charged with violating a Florida statute by selling, giving, serving alcoholic beverages to a person under 21, as she allegedly had allowed her daughter to drink.

Three baby otters to be "adopted" at CROW

Family members of Michael "Ferd" Hardenbergh "adopted" three baby river otters in memory of Michael who died unexpectedly last April.

With the Ohio winters becoming less enjoyable as he became an adult, Michael, or "Ferd" as his many friends and family liked to call him, moved to the Sanibel area in 1981, calling it home for twenty-three years.

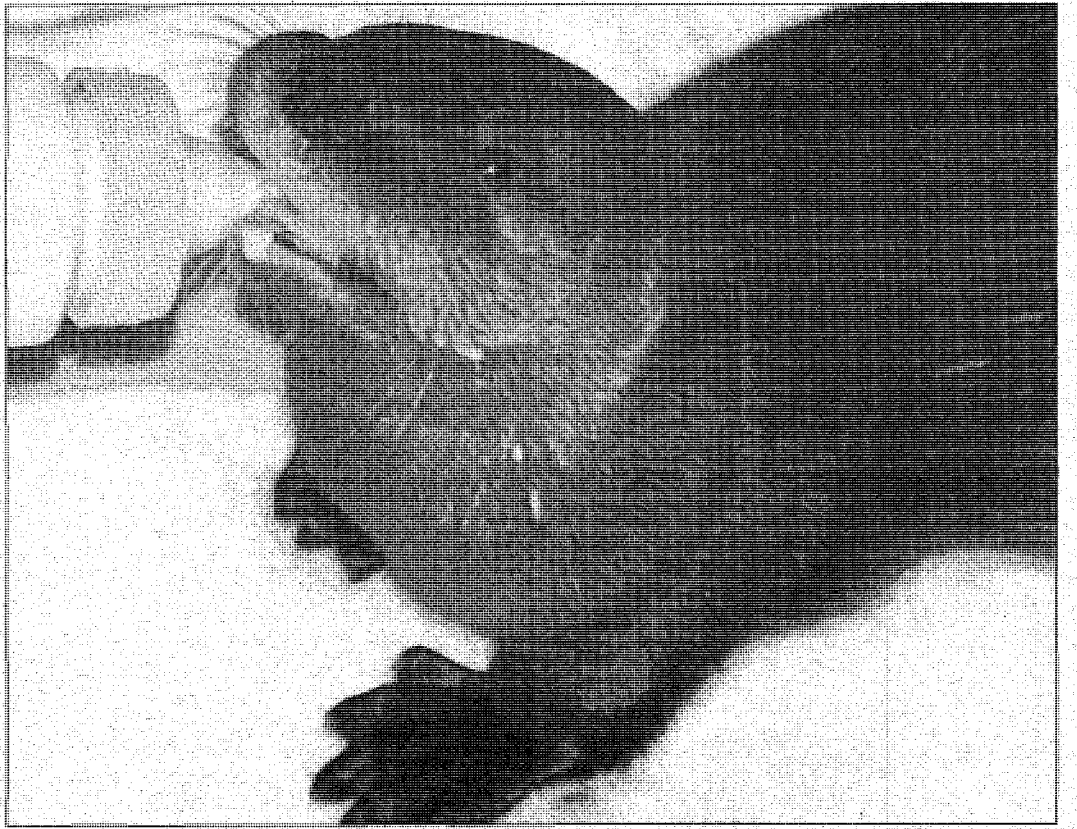

"Michael had a real love of life and one of his many interests was CROW, in particular the Taste of the Islands" said his parents. "Michael always looked forward to the Taste because it was something that combined so many things that he loved . . . good food, good music, the beach, his friends and the fact that it was all going to help the wildlife." "These were the reasons he came to the area and fell in love with everything it represented", said his mother.

"Memorial gifts are a wonderful and meaningful way to express regard and pay tribute to family and friends who have encouraged and inspired us by their strength and friendship" and CROW is so pleased that Ferd's parents, Tina and Mark, brother Stephen, sisters Laura and Holly and their spouses, and niece, Julia, chose to memorialize Michael in such a wonderful and unique way," said Birgit Vertesch, Director of Development.

Established in 1968, CROW is one of the nation's leading wildlife rehabilitation hospitals for tropical native and migratory wildlife. A nonprofit veterinary hospital, CROW provides medical care for 3,500 injured and orphaned wildlife patients each year.

More than 200 different species have been treated at CROW, a significant percentage of whom have been released back into the wild.

CROW relies exclusively on private donations to operate. Birgit Vertesch, Director of Development for CROW explains that the number of patients received by CROW continues to increase, and financial contributions are very important. Gifts can be mailed to CROW at PO Box 150; Sanibel, FL 33957. For more information about CROW, contact at 239.395.5357 or 239.472.3644.

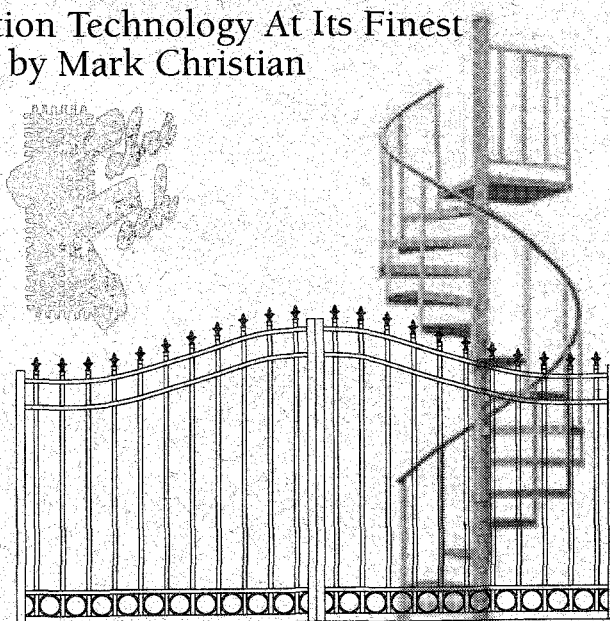

"When we were told about the river otters, we became excited, knowing that Michael would have loved to have been thought of in this way". CROW shared with the Hardenbergh's that their river otter patients usually come as orphans, and because of this, they are the longest term patients, as they typically stay with the mother for seven months before the mother sends them off on their own. As a result, CROW also keeps them for that length of time. Because of their boundless energy and high metabolism, river otters are voracious eaters.

In preparing them for the wild, it is important to feed them live fish etc., which can get very expensive. Otters are also excellent swimmers, after they learn how to swim, and as a result, the otter compound has a pool area which needs regular cleaning and maintenance. All in all, the cost of preparing a baby river otter for release back into the wild is approximately $600 per otter.

Because baby season is now over and the last baby river otter patients were released successfully back into the wild a few weeks ago, the Hardenbergh's will wait until next January when CROW typically receives six to eight baby river otters each season. They will be sent photographs of the babies and mailed updates, with a final photo of their release back into the wild.

Summer Golf at Crown Colony Golf and Country Club

By Jenny Burnham
Staff Writer

The professionals and staff at the Crown Colony Golf and Country Club are going all-out to make their summer visitors happy.

The Club has an extensive summer reciprocity program, offering reciprocal playing privileges with 45 local golf and country clubs, including The Dunes, Heritage Palms, Gulf Harbour, Naples Heritage, Miromar Lakes, Verandah, Pelican Preserve, and the Estero Country Club.

To take advantage of summer reciprocity, which runs through October 1, give your pro shop a call and have them set up a tee time for you. Tee times are accepted up to three days in advance.

Those taking advantage of Crown Colony's reciprocity program will appreciate the course both for its challenging nature and for its beauty.

The 18-hole par 72 course was designed by internationally famous golf course architect Ron Garl. Garl has designed courses from Myrtle Beach to Thailand, and was named "Golf Designer of the Year" by International Network of Golf.

From its conception, the course design emphasized environmental stewardship, according to Tim Daniel, Golf Course Superintendent. The course maximizes the natural features of the site itself, which include native wetlands, mature pines, and scrub oaks, and is planted in the highly playable turfgrass, seashore paspalum.

Seashore paspalum is a fine-textured perennial green turf. Its surface and beautiful color inspire players to remark "very nice greens" and "great condition" when they see it, according to Daniel. The Club is one of only a handful of golf courses in the country to use paspalum, so your playing experience at Crown Colony will be one to remember.

Reciprocity has advantages in addition to a memorable 18 holes. Daily summer lunch specials offer hungry golfers a choice of four lunches plus a soda for only $9. Or you can take advantage of two-for-one summer evening dining on every Wednesday and Friday, 5 p.m. to 8 p.m., served in the private clubhouse.

The clubhouse has approximately 15,500 square feet of luxury, including a grand lobby with baby grand piano, formal dining room, private dining rooms, conference rooms, grille room, lounge complete with fireplace, and men's and women's locker facilities with lounge service. There's also an outdoor terrace overlooking the 18th green, perfect for cocktails after a day on the links.

Club pros Matthew Russell and Katherine Webster are available for lessons. All golf carts at Crown Colony are equipped with a GPS screen to provide you with yardage from anywhere on the course, as well as a preview of the next hole. The Club has a dress code requiring men to wear a golf shirt with a collar. Women may wear shirts with or without sleeves, but must have a collar.

Use your own country club membership to enjoy a classic, challenging golf course and bask in luxury at Crown Colony. For more information, contact the Pro Shop at 239-590-9860.
