'Ding' Days 2007 sponsorship program announced

"Ding" Darling Wildlife Society is opening up sponsorship opportunities for its Oct. 8-14, 2007, "Ding" Darling Days with three levels of support and event hosting. Sponsors will benefit from "Ding" Days, combined exposure with the 75th Federal Duck Stamp Contest Judging, which runs concurrently.

DDWS's advertising campaign for 2007 will include national ads, a newspaper-distributed supplement, a well-visited Web site (www.dingdarlingdays.com) and new blog, a collector's poster, and four-color brochures mailed across the U.S. to interested parties by the Chamber of Commerce.

"This year's event will garner local businesses added exposure," said Jim Scott, "Ding" Darling Days committee chair. "We're hearing a lot of enthusiasm about what's going on here in October and the influx of people it promises to bring to the island in the slump season. As always, we appreciate the community's support in pulling of this mostly free event."

DDWS and the Refuge are seeking sponsors for "Ding" Days in the following categories and for specific events, listed below.

Donor Categories

■ Roseate Spoonbill Sponsor ($5,000 or more in-kind or cash donation): logo with hot link on the www.dingdarlingdays.com home page, prominent logo in all print and broadcast advertising, free 1/4-page ad in newspaper-

distributed supplement, logo on "Ding" Days collector's poster, four free tickets to Ivory Billed Woodpecker lecture on Oct. 10

■ Great Blue Heron Sponsor ($500 or more in-kind or cash donation): cash sponsors receive event presentation status and on-site recognition; all sponsors receive logo with link on www.dingdarlingdays.com Sponsors Page, logo in all print and broadcast advertising, preferential advertising rates in newspaper-distributed supplement

■ Reddish Egret Sponsor ($200 or more in-kind or cash donation): name with link on www.dingdarlingdays.com Sponsors Page, name in all print and broadcast advertising

Sponsored Events

(Sponsors will also receive on-site naming signage at the event)

■ Family Fun Day Butterfly House ($500): Great Blue Heron level benefits

■ Three Family Fun Day Live Animal Presentations ($750 each): Great Blue Heron level benefits

Sanibel Sea School teams with Pace Center for a special day

By LINDA CHRISTMAN

lchristman@brazosnewspapers.com

The Sanibel Sea School's motto is, "Every day is a field trip," and 13 young women from the Pace Center for Girls in Fort Myers spent an exciting Saturday in Sanibel learning about nature and marine life.

The Pace Center gives girls from at-risk environments structure and role models to help them succeed in life. Sea School founders Bruce and Evelyn Neill teamed with Pace director Debbie Webb to arrange the adventure for the girls. For several of them, it was their first trip to the beach.

The Neills took the group to Blind Pass. After a brief time on the beach, they walked under the bridge to the estuary that backs up to Tarpon Bay. Bruce led the young women in some listening and observing exercises, and then gave short lectures about estuaries and mangroves.

As the girls waded through the water, several bent down to scoop up shells and asked questions about them and nearby birds. Some of the girls were hesitant to get their feet wet or to touch anything, but most were curious about their surroundings, and dug through the bottom of the estuary to see what they could find.

The girls grabbed a seining net to catch fish and live shells. Bruce, who has a doctorate degree in conservation biology, answered their questions as they headed for the mangroves. He asked the group to lick the salty leaves as he explained the importance of mangroves to our ecosystem.

"Your life is absolutely shaped by this bunch of (mangrove) trees that you've never really seen or appreciated before," he told the group. "Now that some of you have licked those mangrove trees...I want you to recognize that the reason your life looks like it does is because of those trees."

After lunch, the group headed to Bailey's Beach for another sea life excursion.

Evelyn, who calls herself an "avid naturalist," became interested in giving these young women an enriching educational encounter after she heard a presentation about the Pace Center.

"I was captivated about what they were trying to do," she said, "and the fact that these girls are making it out of a system that's putting them at risk.

"We want to make it possible for programs to come out and learn a little bit about the marine ecosystem," Evelyn added. "It's an interesting place with mysteries that they don't normally experience. I think it fills your life with opportunity to see other parts of the world and nature."

Evelyn noticed a young woman as she curiously examined mussels and egg cases. "I don't think she would have been naturally interested in that," she said. "It was just opportunity. Nature is that way. It's not so much about what you go to teach, it's what you find along the way."

Fifteen-year-old Jakila P. enjoyed her trip to Sanibel. "We learned about conch shells and how they make babies on the logs," she said. "I've never been to an estuary; I learned a lot."

Pace program director Marianne Kearns accompanied the group on the field trip, and thinks the day was a big success.

"It's incredibly awesome for (the girls)," she said, "because some of them have never been to the beach before, and definitely had not seen an estuary before or touched mangroves. I hope that it gives them possibilities for their future and that it inspires them to learn more about nature. I noticed some of the girls were really picking up things and looking at things and finding things, and those are the girls who are going to grow up and remember this and possibly further themselves. That's what I hope they get out of this."

"Even the ones who are distracted," Kearns added, "they are learning, too. Every little piece of this activity, they're learning something from it. We believe that, that's why we have PACE."

2007 Art Royale, 'The Games People Play,' accepting submissions

The fifth annual Art Royale, the signature fundraising event for the Alliance for the Arts will be held Saturday evening, November 17, 2007.

It will again prove to be the most ingenious event of the year.

Head games, mind games, mazes, games of chance, patriot games, board games ....what does "playing games" say to you?

Art Royale is about the viewer's interaction with the artist and their art forms. This year the artists are invited to interpret and express their relationship with our theme "The Games People Play." Interpretation might be personal, artistic, cultural, architectural, or esoteric. Artists are encouraged to engage the viewer into their installation - as a participant, a captivated observer or in a merger with the artist mentally, philosophically, or physically. We are extending a call to the most cutting edge artists and performers in all mediums. Use your unbridled creativity and fusion of techniques to help create this one-of-a-kind event.

We seek individual and collaborative artists from an eclectic range of the arts including but not limited to: Performance, Design, Painting, Music, Instrumental and Voice, Fashion, Photography, Technology, Videography, Digital, Poetry, Sculpture, Theatre, Dance, Culinary, and Multimedia.

Meet with previous Art Royale artists, designers, and members of this year's executive committee to learn more on how you can be a part of this year's event.

Every aspect of the exhibit, including construction and materials must be provided by the artist(s). Art Royale will provide assistance with installation and needs such as electricity, water, light, etc. based on the proposed budget, each installation is eligible for a $300.00 stipend to assist with expenses.

Call for submissions for the CHNEP 2008 calendar

We live in a beautiful place and many of you have captured this beauty in your artwork as is evidenced by the 2005, 2006 and 2007 calendars produced by Charlotte Harbor National Estuary Program, a partnership program working to protect the natural environment from Venice to Estero Bay to Winter Haven. (PDF files of these calendars are posted on the CHNEP website www.CHNEP.org.)

You can have your artwork published in the 2008 calendar! CHNEP encourages you to submit up to three images that capture the beauty of the natural environment found within the CHNEP study area for the 2008 calendar. The images could have been captured by the young or old, amateur or professional, today or 50 years ago and in any medium (photography, oil, illustration, etc).

The goal is that the 2008 calendar will depict the diversity of the natural environment found within this geographic area, which may include rivers, streams, estuaries, native plants and native wildlife.

You may submit up to three (3) digitized entries by 5 p.m. on Friday, July 20, 2007. There is no entry fee. The only "rules" are:

■ The images captured must be within the watershed of concern to the CHNEP, which includes all or portions of Charlotte, DeSoto, Hardee, Highlands, Lee, Manatee, Polk and Sarasota counties. Maps of the program watershed are posted on the CHNEP website www.CHNEP.org.

■ Each person may submit no more than three images. Images that conform to a 4 x 3 ratio (12 x 9) are preferred as they conform to the anticipated print size of the calendar.

■ Images must be received as digital files saved on a compact disk. If you want help in digitizing your image, contact The Set-Up in Cape Coral (239/542-4142 or info@thesetup.com) or a local commercial printer. Scanning costs are estimated to be $50 an image. Please note that only images with resolutions of 300 dpi or greater for a 12 x 9 inch image can be considered for printing on a 12 x 9 inch feature page.

Images with lower resolutions may only be printed smaller and placed within the dates of the calendar.

■ Each entry must be accompanied by an entry form that serves as a release for CHNEP to use the entries in items such as the 2008 calendar, the newsletter Harbor Happenings and on the program website. If images include people who are recognizable, a signed model release form is required of each person. Images will only be posted for selection if a release form is received. The forms are posted on the website www.CHNEP.org.

■ Entries and forms must be received by Maran Hilgendorf, CHNEP, 1926 Victoria Ave, Fort Myers FL 33901-3414 prior to the deadline. If you have any questions, please contact Maran at mhlilgendorf@swfrc.org.

Entries that comply with these rules will be posted on the website for selection by the public.

Select images to include in the calendar:

During the month of August 2007 we'll ask you to select up to 20 images that you believe best depict the beauty of the estuaries and watersheds in the CHNEP study area. CHNEP will have the final decision on entries posted and printed and will not display images that are obscene, provocative or whose content is otherwise questionable or whose quality does not conform to the standards as specified here. CHNEP retains sole discretion as to what constitutes inappropriate content.

Subscribe to Harbor Happenings to receive a calendar:

The calendar is anticipated to be sent free to every person who receives the program newsletter Harbor Happenings as of September 30, 2007. (Subscribe for this free newsletter by completing an online request form.) We anticipate that as many as 18,000 calendars will be produced.

We hope you will consider being a part of the 2008 calendar by submitting your entries!

Fusing glass and sharing with friends: Artist Vicki Bundschu is a creator and a teacher

Step into Vicki Bundschu's studio on any given day and you're likely to see several islanders cutting, placing and designing vibrant shards and pieces of glass into unique shapes and figures- the limit only being their imaginations.

Bundschu creates jewelry, vases, platters-nearly everything- out of fused and kiln formed glass.

"It takes a long time, but it's a wonderful hobby," she explained. "A lot of people want to learn, and they all come over (to my studio)."

For the past five years Bundschu has been developing her technique.

"I began in Petra Kaiser's beginner's class at BIG ARTS. Since then I've taken several advanced classes to learn different techniques in fusing," Bundschu said.

In the five years she has devoted to the art form, Bundschu has gained a wealth of knowledge, a new kiln and studio (thanks to her husband, Master Captain George Bundschu) and has become the treasurer of the International Guild for Glass Artists.

"It's really fun when you get involved. I learn something new everyday," she said.

For Bundschu, working with fused glass came from an interest she developed when she and her husband ran a sea shore motel in Cape May, N.J.

"I had a young man who worked for us. His parents owned a stained glass shop. He was only 16 and taught me how to do it," she explained.

Once the Bundschus retired from the hospitality business, they found a place to call home on Sanibel.

"We came here on vacation like everyone else," Bundschu said. "Living in the motel was like living in a phone booth. We wanted some place to come to. It was like living on top of Bailey's."

Sanibel offered the couple a seasonal respite from the hustle and bustle of the New Jersey shore and gave the pair the opportunity to try new things. While George acquired his captain's license, Vicki explored her creativity at BIG ARTS.

"I went to BIG ARTS and took a mosaic class and the furniture painting class. My girlfriend said, 'Let's take fused glass with Petra.' Since then I've taken six or seven (glass) classes all over the place," she said.

From Allentown, Pa. to a progressive kiln programming class in Lakeland, Fla., Bundschu has studied a variety of different methods for working with glass and created many delicately wrought iridescent and vibrant pieces.

Out of all of her work, Bundschu's favorite is her bubble fuse. The bubble fuse is a square of aqua colored glass divided into numerous

smaller squares by intersecting pieces of cobalt spaghetti glass. In the middle of the small squares are tiny, perfectly formed bubbles.

"It went surprisingly well," she said of the bubble fuse. "I did it on a kiln shelf, fused it for eight minutes, and where there was an air pocket, a bubble formed."

Bundschu liked the results so much that she and a friend decided to try out a special glass bubble wash. Both were wary of the strange substance and decided against trying it out on glass.

Later, Bundschu learned that the expensive vial of bubble wash was only baking soda.

"I busted out laughing. I put on a respirator thinking it was toxic and never fused a piece because I chickened out," she said.

While Bundschu enjoys just creating with glass, part of what has made this season in Sanibel even better has been working with her friend and fellow glass artist Carol Strange.

"I'm enjoying Carol. She has a kiln, so it's fun," Bundschu said.

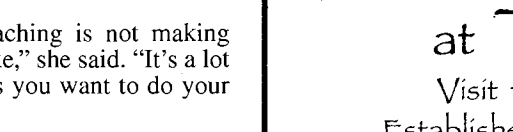

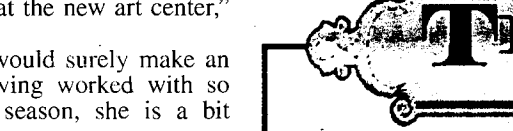

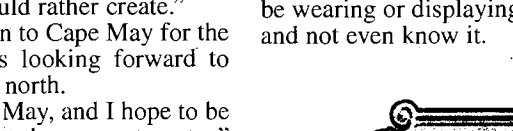

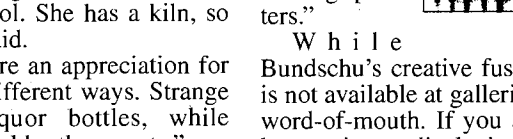

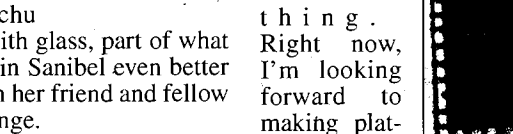

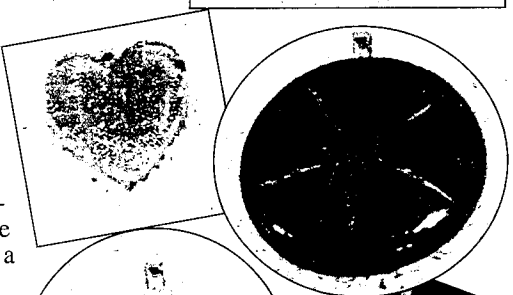

While the pair share an appreciation for glass, they work in different ways. Strange fuses wine and liquor bottles, while Bundschu said, "I would rather create."

Getting set to return to Cape May for the summer, Bundschu is looking forward to sharing her talents up north.

"I really like Cape May, and I hope to be involved in teaching at the new art center," she explained.

While Bundschu would surely make an excellent teacher, having worked with so many islanders this season, she is a bit unsure.

"Every minute teaching is not making what you want to make," she said. "It's a lot of fun, but sometimes you want to do your

Birds get a boost on May 12 at Naples Zoo

Three National Wildlife Refuges celebrate International Migratory Bird Day

Celebrate International Migratory Bird Day at Naples Zoo on Saturday, May 12 from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. This annual celebration of the incredible journeys of migratory birds will be presented by three area National Wildlife Refuges: J.N. "Ding" Darling, Florida Panther, and Ten Thousand Islands. These local refuges will provide free materials (while supplies last) about the fascinating world of migratory birds as well as information on birding and great places to bird.

Birds have long been indicators of environmental change, sounding the alarm about the impacts of pesticides, polluted water, and the loss of contiguous forest. While IMBD continues to promote the joy of birds, it will also tackle a challenging, yet pertinent topic in 2007 - climate change. While the cause for this trend is still being debated, many of the songbird species we see and enjoy in nature are shifting their ranges and migrating earlier, often making it more difficult for them to find food such as insects, flowers, and berries when they need it.

Climate change is of particular concern for birds and other wildlife when viewed in concert with other threats like habitat loss, pollution, and invasive species. It is the combination of these stresses that may prove to be the greatest challenge to wildlife conservation in the 21st century. Today, as the rate of warming increases, scientists are exploring how climate change will affect birds and how we can reduce our impact.

tems by eating insects, pollinating plants, and dispersing seeds. Changes in climate risk throwing ecosystems off balance along with all the natural services they provide for people. One pair of warblers, for example, will remove the defoliating caterpillars from more than 1 million leaves within the two to three week period that they are feeding their nestlings. Fully two-thirds of our flowering plants including many food crops depend on pollinators like birds, producing a global economic benefit estimated by the Smithsonian Migratory Bird Center at $117 billion per year.

Hence, the global reduction of pollinators raises alarm from an economic viewpoint alone.

In addition, the nation's 46 million birders generate over $85 billion in overall economic impact creating over 860,000 jobs. Florida itself ranks third in the nation in economic impact from birders and wildlife viewers. In short, birds are extremely important to us all.

At the Zoo, guests will have the opportunity to learn one-on-one with biologists and staff from the National Wildlife Refuges. Children can engage in an interactive migration game and receive an educational coloring book. Around the Zoo, guests can also learn how to make their yards more bird-friendly at the National Wildlife Federation certified Backyard Wildlife Habitat. In addition, coffee drinkers can discover the benefits of drinking shade-grown coffee. This traditional type of coffee agriculture maintains forests and bird habitat while also producing a more flavorful coffee bean. Guests can learn more in the Zoo as well as drink shade-grown coffee at the Subway Café at the Zoo. For more information visit www.napleszoo.com/coffee.

IMBD was created in 1993 by visionaries at the Smithsonian Migratory Bird Center and the Cornell Laboratory of Ornithology. Now under the direction of the National Fish and Wildlife Foundation and U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, IMBD continues to focus attention on one of the most important and spectacular events in the life of a migratory bird -- its journey between its summer and winter homes. Today, it is celebrated in Canada, the U.S., Mexico, and Central America through bird festivals and bird walks, education programs, and Bird Day! In 2007, as many as 300,000 people will learn about climate change at IMBD events. Everyone is invited to join in this important celebration.

Naples Zoo is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization cooperating in conservation programs both in and outside the wild for endangered species. Daily presentations include Alligator Bay Feeding, Meet the Keeper Series, along with two premiere presentations: Planet Predator and Serpents: Fangs & Fiction. Both of these feature shows take place in the Safari Canyon Theater where guests see live animals from feline predators to venomous snakes along with exciting video footage. For those looking for more on the historic botanical garden, the Tropical Plant Trek offers guests a short tour led by University of Florida Master Gardeners. And one of the zoo's most popular activities is the Primate

Seabourn Spirit to welcome TV icon Hugh Downs Dec. 6

Legendary broadcaster Hugh Downs, one of television's most familiar and highly-regarded personalities, will be a special guest speaker onboard the luxurious 208-guest Seabourn Spirit during a 14-day Southeast Asia voyage later this year.

Downs will join guests December 6 on a Singapore to Hong Kong journey. Highlights include calls at Bangkok and Ko Kood, Thailand; and Ho Chi Minh City, Danang, Halong Bay and Cai Lan (for Hanoi), Vietnam.

In 1985, the Guinness Book of World Records certified Downs as the person with the most exposure on network television with a total of over 15,000 hours. Downs received six Emmy Awards and has broadcast from every continent and both poles. He was anchor of ABC's primetime news-magazine 20/20 for 21 years and host of PBS' Live from Lincoln Center for a decade.

Downs, who anchored Today and hosted NBC specials and documentaries from 1962 to 1971, earlier served as host of Concentration and helped launch the Tonight Show where he remained for five years. When he left regular broadcasting in 1999, he began to pursue other activities, including travel, flying, riding, sailing, composing, lecturing and writing.

Among Downs' dozen books are "Letter to a Great Grandson and My America: What America Means to Me," an anthology of essays from prominent Americans following the 2001 terrorist attacks. He and his wife co-authored "Pure Gold" on marital longevity and he has written several books on aging, including "Fifty to Forever." "A Shoal of Stars" is his account of sailing a 65-foot ketch across the Pacific and "Rings Around Tomorrow" is a collection of his science articles.

While cruising Asia guests will be pampered as only Seabourn can do. Look for thoughtful enhancements both onboard and ashore as part of the line's Signature Delights program, including complimentary spirits, wines and French champagne throughout the cruise; gourmet cuisine created by celebrity chef Charlie Palmer; complimentary massage moments on deck; therapeutic bathing selections from Molton Brown and a complimentary shoreside experience.

Guests will also enjoy special Seabourn services. Among them are Vintage Seabourn, a premium wines pre-purchase package; Seabourn to a Tea, an upgraded menu of rare estate teas; and Seabourn's Personal Shopper, a program which provides luxury cars and specialized shopping guides in various ports.

Additionally, an insider tip program created exclusively for Seabourn from the pages of Conde Nast Traveler magazine features the latest information about attractions, suggested lunch spots, popular bars, unique experiences, shopping tips and more for guests who wish to customize their own port activities through the ships' onboard concierge.

Rotary Happenings

Club supports Relay for Life, Gift of Life; Gets the low down on sub-prime lending

By SHIRLEY JEWELL

Special to the Islander

Just as club members thought things were winding down for the season, it seems that there are still a few important events on our calendars. First up was this past weekend's American Cancer Society's Relay for Life. This is such a rewarding event to participate in and if you missed it this year, make sure you put it on your calendar for next year. The cancer survivors' walk alone will remind you how fragile life is and how funding for cancer research is essential for all of us.

Great job to our own Rotary Club Relay for Life team led by in-coming President, Robert Monk.

The club, also, will be holding a terrific fund raiser event on May 10 at the Sanibel Captiva Community Bank for Rotary's Gift of Life Florida. Naples, Rotarian Steve Agrous, committee member of Gift of Life spoke to the club this week about this outstanding international program that helps needy children all over the world who require corrective heart surgery secure another lease on life through the miracle of open-heart surgery in a Gift of Life participating hospital in the U.S.A.

Rotary Clubs and Districts have sponsored children with life-threatening cardiac disorders ranging in age from infants to 18 years throughout the world. Believe it or not, raising only $5,000, can save the life of one child.

The Gift of Life motto is "Saving One Child at a Time." Steve quoted the late Danny Thomas, "That a child should die before their time, is simply unacceptable."

Club members will be doing their part. Why not come out and help us in this endeavor? Fundraising information is available by calling Allen Myers 810-9333 or Tony Gropp 910-2791. If you can't make it, stop by at the Community Bank and make a donation. Just ask for Tony Gropp and make a check out directly to Rotary Gift of Life.

To graciously segue from the topic of Gift of Life to our other speaker last week, just can't be done. Different parts of the heart and mind had to be switched over to Jeff Tumbarello from Allied Mortgage & Trust Incorporated and his timely topic of sub-prime lending in Fort Myers and Lee County and its effect on the foreclosure rate. Jeff brought along some information showing the rising foreclosures occurring from 2005 to 2007. January 2007 showed the highest rate of 462 units in foreclosure. This foreclosure trend started somewhere around October 2006. Jeff explained this by stating there was a greed factor working in Real Estate investments. There was a great many speculators in the Real Estate market. They were looking for easy money. These speculators were investors not owners. Banks and mortgage companies seemed to have lowered the standards on mortgage requirements and were granting creative mortgages. 2005 was by historical statements an overheated market. We are now in a correction period. Jeff said, "Real Estate speculators should be a sub-group, of Gambler's Anonymous." The good news is the fever is breaking and the health of our real estate value will return.

Left: Jeff Tumbarello from Allied Mortgage & Trust Incorporated discusses lending and the real estate market. Below: Naples, Rotarian Steve Agrous, committee member of Gift of Life speaks to the club this week about the international program.

The Day Trippers: Pin pointing the islands' causeway issues

Now that Sanibel is preparing for the formal opening of its new bridge and causeway we have to take steps to prevent structural damage problems in the future. A lot of the problems Sanibel has with its broken causeway can be laid at the doors of day trippers: those mainland visitors who storm the causeway each day to spend sunny hours on Sanibel beaches and make purchases from our stores.

Although Sanibel values the business that day trippers provide, they have gained so much weight in the last few years that our poor causeway shudders and buckles from stress each day and has gotten a hernia. We are talking about metric tons, not 28-inch waists.

In the meantime our causeway sags from the sheer tonnage and is at a loss to figure out why people have gotten so heavy.

While waiting for our new bridge and causeway to be completed it is urgent that we take remedies now to avoid similar problems in the future. We, the citizens of Sanibel, must exercise weight control on humans as well as on trucks to prevent new collapse of our causeway. The risk is simply unimaginable: crumbling concrete and vehicles plunging into Davey Jones' locker.

We must borrow from the wise measures that have been taken to prevent overweight trucks from entering Sanibel. To insure safety, a weight station must be added to the existing one that weighs trucks. This new weight station would weigh passenger cars and their contents and place a maximum weight on each.

As a case in point, a typical passenger car weighs around 2,000 pounds. An allocation of an additional 900 pounds would be made for passengers and their contents. If a passenger car exceeds this limit, the passengers in that car would exercise the following options: passengers would be removed until the total weight achieves the legal limit. Those passengers who are removed could walk back to Fort Myers, thus allowing the remaining passengers and contents of the car to drive through. Or they could wait in a passenger weight station at the side of the causeway until that passenger car completes its rounds in Sanibel and prepares to exit the causeway on its way back to Fort Myers.

However, there's another important consideration. As each passenger car prepares to leave Sanibel it would be weighed again. One lunch or dinner at McT's, the Hungry Heron or Cheeburger Cheeburger could put the car over the limit again. If this were to happen, passengers would again have to leave the car - or purchases from island stores would have to be confiscated until the car's weight is reduced sufficiently.

All day trippers whose weight exceeds 250 pounds and have somehow made their way into Sanibel would be left behind and placed in a fasting shelter until their weight is such that the causeway won't buckle. Then and only then would they be allowed to leave.

I urge all prospective day trippers to go on diets immediately. Otherwise don't even think about crossing our causeway.

Keep those bones strong!

I've been hearing a lot about osteoporosis lately. Older women and younger women. Athletic women and couch potatoes. Women with good diets, and women who think that a balanced diet includes a can of soda, a donut, and a stalk of broccoli (a liquid, a dry food, and something green).

Bones should stay strong through the duration of our lives but unfortunately, 21st century diets and lifestyles can sabotage our best efforts to maintain bone health. Fortunately, there is much we can do to ensure the health of bones all the way through our senior years.

Dietary Habits That Rob Bones

One of the most common problems related to bone health is our love affair with acid-forming diets. When the diet is overly acid (high protein, excessive grains, sugars, soft drinks, alcohol, as well as stress and other factors), the body alkalizes the blood by pulling minerals out of the bones. Maintaining the proper pH is critically important to bone health.

High protein diets contribute to the loss of bone minerals because animal proteins leave an acid residue in the body. By the same token, grain-based diets can have the same effect.

How, then, should we balance the diet to maximize bone health? Lots of vegetables and fresh fruit, along with modest amounts of protein foods help maintain bone density by reducing the acid load and providing the body with a variety of minerals.

Remember that the various organs and systems of the body do not have competing

Holistic Health
Notebook
Carol

interests. In other words, a bone-healthy diet is a heart- and brain healthy diet. A diet that is optimum for permanent weight loss is also good for lasting health.

Beverages for the Bones

While ad agencies would like you to believe that "milk does a body good," that may be true only if you are a calf. Cow's milk was intended to build strong, big calves. Cow's milk is a rich source of calcium but according to the World Health Organization, up to 80% of the world's population is intolerant to dairy products. Countries that consume far less dairy than the US have far less osteoporosis, probably because their diets typically focus on lots of vegetables. Again, eat those greens!

How much calcium do we need? Actually, that is an over-simplistic question. Our bones are constructed of twenty-six nutrients, and when we take huge amounts of calcium and neglect the other twenty-five nutrients, we build dense but brittle bones. I highly recommend a balanced mineral supplement with modest amounts of calcium, and lots of vitamin D. I have written extensively about vitamin D in this column, and cannot overstate its importance. Yes, I know we live in the sunshine state but unless we spend a considerable amount of time in the sun with most of our skin exposed, we are still deficient in this important vitamin.

Diet isn't the only factor in bone health, however. Next week, we'll examine lifestyle issues related to bones.

For more information, contact Carol at the Island Nutrition Center (472-4499).

MASH party to aid Karri Foreman

The Sanibel-Captiva American Legion and the Sanibel-Captiva American Legion Auxiliary will be the hosts for MASH, a benefit for traffic accident victim Karri O'Donnell Foreman on Sunday, May 6 beginning at 1 p.m.

In the afternoon, on March 23, 2007, Karri O'Donnell Foreman, 36, suffered injuries following a major rollover accident on Fort Myers Beach after a day of work. The life-changing accident has led to reconstructive hand surgery along with foot and ankle surgery. Although Karri's injuries are not life threatening, they will have a long-term definitive impact on her life.

Karri, or "Care Bear", as her friends know her, is super-friendly with an infectious laugh and endearing smile that mixes with her great sense of humor. Janice Ulrich a co-worker stated, Karri moved here in 1995 from upstate New York and has worked at the Sundial on Sanibel, The Collier Inn; Useppa Island, Junkanoos; Fort Myers Beach, and most currently at the West Wind Inn; Sanibel Island.

The Sanibel-Captiva American Legion and Auxiliary is proudly hosting this first ever MASH benefit. Together, we can make

THROUGH THE MONTH

SANIBEL-CAPTIVA CONSERVATION FOUNDATION SCCF

is a not-for-profit organization dedicated to the preservation of natural resources and wildlife habitat on and around Sanibel and Captiva through: Land Acquisition, Wildlife Habitat Management, Landscaping for Wildlife, Environmental Education, Marine Laboratory and Research and Sea Turtle Monitoring.

DOLPHIN & WILDLIFE

CRUISES - In cooperation with Captiva Cruises, an excellent opportunity for the whole family to view wildlife in Pine Island sound. $20/adult, $12.50/children. Reservations call 472-5300.

OTTERS AND OTHERS:

GUIDED TRAIL WALKS - Twice daily at 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. Meet at SCCF's Nature Center. Docent-led walk through the interior wetlands and mis-island ridges of SCCF's Center Tract with discussion of wildlife, native habitats, natural and cultural history, and preservation efforts. $3 entrance for adult non-members

BUTTERFLY HOUSE - Learn about the life cycle and behavior of Florida's butterflies and the plants they are dependent on. The Butterfly House is open every day with Conservation Foundation docents in the house on Tuesdays from 10 a.m. - 12 p.m. to inform you on butterfly life cycles and our Landscaping for Wildlife program.

NATURE CENTER, Nature Trails, Nature Center, Nature Shop and Bookstore open 8:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. Monday through Friday. $3/adult, children free and members free.

SANIBEL SEA SCHOOL

Sanibel Sea School is a non-profit foundation dedicated to marine conservation through experiential education. Its mission is to vibrantly teach children and adults about the marine ecosystem in the field with a hands-on, let's get our feet wet and see something wonderful approach.

Children's Day Classes 9 a.m. - 4:15 p.m. including lunch. You can drop off the kids and take a course yourself or have a book, sun and tennis day.

Adult Day Classes: 9:30 a.m. - 12:30 p.m. and 1:30 - 4:30 p.m.

The Marshy Mangroves - Mangroves: why they're important, how they live, what lives on them and around them, why the mud stinks around them, why are they so important for the oceans, how to see all the creatures hiding in them.

Beach Explorations - Let's go catch some juvenile fish with a seine net on the beach and learn about the food chain. It's a great time of the year for that. Shell distribution: snail-like shells vs. clam-like shells. How are shells made, how do they live? Which ones eat plants? Which ones eat each other? What's up with algae?

Birds on the Shore and Birds in the Refuge - This time of year we're seeing all kinds of wonderful and exotic birds (White pelicans, Roseate Spoonbills, all sorts of terns and plovers and pipers). Lets learn a few birds that we can remember and look for. Let's see if we can find some feathers and identify tracks in the sand.

For more information about Sanibel Sea School call 472-8585 or visit sanibelseaschool.org

Lily & Co. celebrates birthday with a dog day afternoon

By LINDA CHRISTMAN

Lily & Co. Jewelers co-owners Karen Bell and Dan Schuyler unleashed an afternoon of fun for Lily the Labradoodle and her guests at Lily's third birthday party on April 28.

Lily, the jewelry store's namesake and mascot, welcomed 100 of her four-legged friends and their owners as they stopped by the store throughout the afternoon to celebrate and wish the birthday girl well.

Canines of all shapes and sizes mixed and mingled on the patio, gobbled up "pupcakes," doggy biscuits and a bone-shaped birthday cake, and washed them down with spring water. Lily's furry guests were given a "doggy bag" with treats and toys to take home.

Meanwhile, their human companions snacked on cookies, cakes, fruit and chocolates and sipped cold beverages while checking out a new "puppy inspired" selection of jewelry.

Caricaturist John Salustro drew pictures of dogs and their people for a $15 donation to the Animal Refuge Center.

Dorothy Donaldson and her Lulu had their sketch drawn before heading into the store. "We used today to go Mother's Day shopping," Donaldson said, "and so Mommy got a gift. (Lulu) loved having her picture done...This has been a great event."

Dan Schuyler enjoyed the parade of pooches circulating through his store. "It's been an unbelievable success," he said. "We've had a great turnout from the people in Sanibel, a lot of dogs have come. Everybody's having a fabulous time, and the dogs are having a wonderful time. They're getting spring water, they're getting their own birthday cake...All I can see are a lot of smiling faces and a lot of happy dogs."

Lily's owner, Karen Bell, was happy to host the party animals. "The people really seem to like being able to bring their dog someplace," she said. "They care for their dogs like they would care for their kids, and it's fun to have a place to take them where they can go play for an afternoon. (Lily's) having a ball."

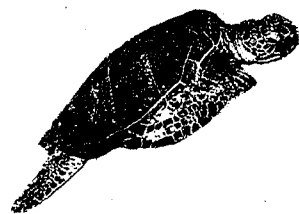

"Somebody said to me," Bell added, "how nice it was that we're doing this, because it's like bringing it back to the way Sanibel used to be—a lot of fun."

FLORIDA'S ENDANGERED SEA TURTLES

Find out about them

Turtle Tracks is an interpretive program on the life cycle of sea turtles provided by the Sanibel-Captiva Conservation Foundation on Thursday mornings at 9 a.m. The cost is $3/adult; kids are free. In addition, a $2 fee is necessary for parking at the beach site visited.

SCCF monitors sea turtle nests on Sanibel and Captiva; someone is always available during the day to answer questions at 472-2329. Or visit the Foundation at 3333 San-Cap Road, on the left at Mile Marker #1.

What you can do

May through October is nesting season on the beaches of Sanibel and Captiva for endangered sea turtles. Humans observing some simple rules can help these ancient creatures.

- Keep obstacles off the beach overnight (beach chairs, umbrellas). When a female comes on the beach to nest, an obstacle will cause her to turn back and either return to the water (and possibly eject her eggs) or find a different section of the beach. Unlike humans, sea turtles will not attempt to go around or to the side of an obstacle.
- Lights confuse nesting females and hatchlings. Keep lights near the beaches off or shielded, from May through October. It is naturally lighter over the water than it is over the land, so nesting females and hatchlings both head toward the light in order to head toward the water. Artificial lighting confuses them and, disoriented by lights, baby turtles will wander away from the water and die.

- Keep the beach and water free of litter. Many sea turtle deaths are due to trash discarded in or close to the water — balloons, plastic bags and styrofoam — mistaken for food.
- Stay clear of any marked nest areas on the beach. It is a federal offense to disturb or interfere with a nest or to have in your possession eggs or any part of a turtle such as skull, bones or carapace. It is illegal for an individual to retain possession of any threatened or endangered sea turtle hatchlings.
- Give nesting females room, darkness and quiet. It is illegal to disturb a nesting turtle with lights or noise.
- All dogs on the beach must be on a leash and cannot be allowed to disturb nesting turtles or hatchlings.

Sesame orange shrimp

Capt. Dick's
Recipes
Richard May

Ingredients:
 ■ 2 lg. egg whites
 ■ 1/4 c. corn starch
 ■ 1/4 c. sesame seeds
 ■ Coarse salt and ground pepper
 ■ 1-1/2 lbs. medium shrimp, peeled and deveined
 ■ 1/4 c. vegetable oil
 ■ 1 c. orange juice

■ 2 tbs. soy sauce
 ■ 1 tbs. sugar
 ■ 4 scallions, trimmed and thinly sliced

How to:

In a large bowl, whisk together egg whites, cornstarch, sesame seeds, 1 teaspoon of salt and 1/2 teaspoon of pepper until frothy. Add the shrimp and toss to coat.

Heat one quarter cup of oil in a large non-stick skillet over medium/high heat. Working in two or three batches, cook the shrimp until golden brown and crisp, two to three minutes per side. Transfer the shrimp to a paper towel lined plate to drain. Add more oil to the skillet if necessary for the remaining batches.

Wipe the skillet with a paper towel. Add orange juice, soy sauce, and sugar.

Boil over high heat until syrupy and reduced to about 1/3 of a cup, about four to five minutes.

Return the shrimp to the skillet. Add the scallions and cook until heated through and coated with the sauce, about one minute.

Broadway Palm's "Swing!" offers exuberant energy and eclectic mix of Jazz

"Swing!" is currently ablaze and burning up the stage at the Broadway Palm Dinner Theatre — a two-hour dance fest that takes the exclamation point in its title seriously. The original production was conceived by Paul Kelly with direction and choreography by Lynne Taylor Corbett and opened on Broadway in 1999. It was an instant, run-away success.

This musical dance revue puts on no pretensions — it only aspires to provide an evening's worth of world-class entertainment and send the audience home in a charmed, exhilarated and happy frame of mind. Broadway Palm's rendition of "Swing!" was recreated by the very talented, exciting director/choreographer Kenny Shepard and his equally talented choreographic partner, Carol Worcel. This gifted duo more than hit the mark of the original Broadway Tony Award-nominated version.

This feel-good show doesn't even try to hint at a story line, plot or anything that even looks like a thread to link various dance and song numbers together. "Swing!" succeeds brilliantly on its own as a dazzling display of some of the best song, dance and music styles of the 30s and 40s — the Big Band sounds associated with Benny Goodman, Artie Shaw and Harry James.

The visceral impact and excitement of swing dancing is presented by an outstanding ensemble of some of the best dancers seen in these parts — every bit as good as any dancers you'd be likely to find on the Broadway stage — Richard Bull, Jason Campbell, Mathew deGuzman, Ian Frazier, Katie Hagen, Jami Keck, Lindsay Kraemer, Joseph Perkins, Kate Phillips, Courtney Self, Luran Stanis and Courtney Tilford.

Marsha Wagner

Although dance is an art form that shows visual emotion, it can also stir deep emotions from an audience. The "Swing!" dance ensemble succeeds in providing exuberant energy all around. They show so much joy and excitement on their faces that you cannot help being pulled in to the fun and zest of what is being performed on the stage.

Part of the dazzling dance technique involves the male dancers tossing their partners up in the air as if they were as light as feathers. Add to that the visual delight of the ladies wrapping and unwrapping themselves out of these lifts — absolutely razzle-dazzle smiles, strength and complete control — to end up in a high kick or split.

Even though the dancers are the stars of this basically dance revue they are not the only high points of the evening. The Singers in "Swing!" are of equal caliber. Ample praise should be strewn all around first to the song stylings of Autumn Grace Johnson, and kudos to the hot, golden-haired goddess-of-cool-jazz, Melanie Goerlitz. Then there are the excellent warm, mellow renderings by the gifted Watkins Smith, Jr., plus enough hip jive to keep us on the edge of our seats. Skilled vocal technique combined with charming humor — that's Joseph Byrne, who sings with classic-Broadway wide-open sound, then the twang of Country Western and on to the inflections of cool jazz. These singers add in a huge way to the enjoyment of this show as they put their own enthusiastic brand of spin on "Swing!"

And, as if this were not enough of in this overabundance of riches, real admiration and accolades go to the superb jazz band on stage (just so you know, this terrific band is made up of Broadway Palm's in-house musicians). The Stingers, as the band is named, is made up of conductor/keyboardsist Loren Strickland, Gordon Edgerton, Craig Christman, Don Tyer, Erik Jacobs, Tom Weaver, Jay Heavelin and Gary Leone. In fact, one of my favorite numbers featured a duet between the singer, Autumn Johnson, and trombone player, Eric Jacobs. While Johnson sings, Jacobs plays back his horn as though he were talking to her. The duet achieves its wonderful humor from what happens between them as they argue — voice vs. horn, back and forth. All the musicians, in fact, added much — not only with their excellent playing but with their special brand of energy and facial expressions.

"Swing!" — an eclectic mix of Jazz, Latin Swing, West Coast Swing, East Coast Swing, and even Country Western Swing — is enhanced and wonderfully framed by an imaginative multi-level set designed by Kristian Perry, with eye-popping, bright costumes by John P. White. It is just about as good as it gets for an evening of amazing dancing, great singing, and a swell jazz band.

All in all it's about good old-fashioned fun; forget about world events, gas prices and the real estate market. "Swing!" assures us we can still have confidence in life, love and the pursuit of happiness in these United States with hot dancing and cool music.

So, for your fun fix, boogie woogie on

Bring Mom to the Jazz Alliance 2007 finale May 12

If Mom likes Jazz, then this is a perfect Mothers' Day Gift! Next weekend is the final Jazz Alliance Outdoor concert, and there's still time to get advance tickets (at a discount from the door price)! On Saturday May 12, audiences can bring coolers and lawn chairs/blankets to the outdoor amphitheatre at the Alliance for the Arts and enjoy the laid back cool jazz atmosphere.

Our musical guests for the evening will be the Ross-Levine Quartet with guest vocalist Wendy Pedersen!

Billy Ross saxophonist and Mike Levine pianist have been making music together for over 30 years. Both met while attending the University of Miami Music Program in the late 70s. It was there that the two formed a Jazz Fusion Group, which led to a national release album, featuring Pat Metheny. The album "That Summer Something" was on the Jazz on AOR charts for 6 weeks in the top 10.

Since then, the Ross-Levine Band has played a variety of engagements, from opening acts for Gato Barberi, Michael Franks and Dionne Warwick, to performing at Jazz on the Green in Sanibel to clubs and outdoor concerts in the South Florida area. Ross and Levine recorded for Fantasy Records with a straight jazz sound. They recorded "The Sound" and "Woody." These recordings are now the backdrop for today's sound of the Ross-Levine Band, which is a combination of originals, jazz standards, and tunes from their original release.

The Ross Levine Quartet is rounded out by Don Coffman on bass and Sam Levine on drums. For this performance, special guest vocalist Wendy Pederson will add her talents. Wendy is one of the top jazz vocalists from the South Miami Area and has made her contribution to both "The Sound" and "Woody". She comfortably sings many styles including Jazz, R&B, and the Blues. Wendy's "Under the Influence" CD will be released sometime in 2007.

The Jazz Alliance series officially began in 2003, based on the popular Sanibel Jazz on the Green, which ran from 1980 to 1995. In the same spirit of great outdoor concerts, Jazz Alliance brings big name artists to the Alliance for the Arts Margaret Frizzell Amphitheatre. Grounds Open at 5:30PM and music starts at 7:00PM. Tickets are $15.00 each in advance, $20.00 at the door.

Jazz Alliance ticket sales support the Alliance for the Arts, a non-profit organization which in turn supports arts education, the artists and arts organizations in our area as the state designated Local Arts Agency for Lee County. The Alliance for the Arts galleries are open from 9 to 5 Monday through Friday and from 10 to 3 on Saturdays, located at 10091 McGregor Boulevard just south of Colonial Boulevard. Call (239) 939-ARTS to buy your tickets today! Also, visit www.artinlee.org for more information about all the excitement our community has to offer.

Bailey's bags donations for American Cancer Society

By LINDA CHRISTMAN

In conjunction with the American Cancer Society's Relay for Life 2007, the Bailey's Supermarket Bagging for Life fund raiser collected $6,214.25.

On April 27 and 28, many prominent Sanibel community "celebrities" volunteered their time bagging groceries at Bailey's and encouraged customers to drop coins, bills and checks into large containers at each register.

The atmosphere was party-like, with cheering and bell ringing accompanying every donation.

Cathy Laura, a supervisor at Bailey's, explained the store's role in Relay for Life. "We're the starter of the Relay," she said. "We got it started by Bagging for Life. We came up with the idea last year, and this is our second year, and it's even better."

General manager Richard Johnson said the store raised $3,700 last year, and Bailey's doubled its list of volunteers for this time around.

"We've had just an unbelievable response from the business community," he said. "We absolutely have so much fun when doing this. It's a great cause, it's something that reaches out to the entire island and the entire community."

"Who has not been touched by cancer in their life somewhere?" Johnson added. "It affects so many families, so we picked this last year. Cathy was instrumental in getting us up and running last year, and as soon as we finished the MDA's green shamrocks...we started getting ready for this."

A few feet away, grocery manager Jessie Burke, and past president of the Chamber of Commerce, Ellen Lai, handed out food and wine samples as they explained to customers what was going on up front.

Dan Schuyler, co-owner of Lily & Co. Jewelers, popped in to help out. "We've come over here to raise money for the American Cancer Society," he said. "It's for a great cause and we're having a great time. Our jewelry store is across the street and we're good friends with Sam Bailey, and Francis (Bailey) and Richard (Johnson), and they asked us to participate and help raise money, and we're always here to help whenever we can in the neighborhood, especially on Sanibel Island."

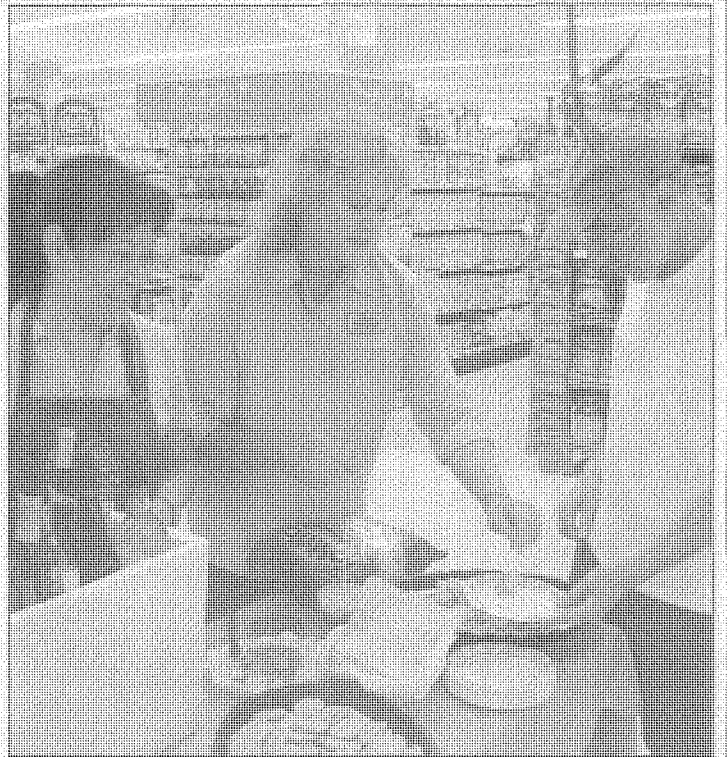

Fire Commissioner Jerry Muench was also happy to volunteer his time. "I'm here just to help anyone who comes through," he said, "and make awareness of cancer, and the money goes to research. It's just a fun thing to do. If you can help somebody, that's the way to do it."

Customer Paul Brennan was cheered after leaving a donation. "Everybody needs help with cancer," he said. "It's a disease that needs a lot of work, a lot of money and a lot of support."

There was a loud roar when Dick McBride, a cancer survivor, and his wife, Mary, handed over a check for $100.

"We're just grateful that we have a second chance," Mary said, "and hope that other people do, too."

Cashier Sarah DeGeorge smiles as customer Paul Brennan drops in a donation.

Sanibel-Captiva Relay for Life promotes

By LINDA CHRISTMAN

lchristman@breezeonline.com

American Cancer Society's Relay for Life 2007 celebrated survivors and paid tribute to those no longer with us in a fund raiser held at Sanibel School on April 28 and 29.

This year's event raised $73,000, exceeding the $65,000 goal set by organizers.

Relay for Life raises money and awareness for fighting cancer, while uniting the island community for a common cause.

Twenty teams signed up for the event. Besides walking laps around the school's parking area, each group decorated and manned a booth in which they sold a variety of food, drinks, crafts, books, stuffed animals, T-shirts and raffle tickets. Proceeds were donated to the American Cancer Society.

The event started at 6 p.m. Saturday with opening ceremonies, a survivor lap and butterfly release, and ended Sunday morning with a sunrise breakfast, yoga and closing ceremonies.

A solemn and emotional luminaria ceremony was held after dark Saturday. Participants strolled around a circle of candles lit in memoriam for loved ones or in celebration of survivors, as Kelly Pohler sang a beautiful rendition of "Amazing Grace."

Throughout Saturday evening and into Sunday morning, the itinerary included speeches, bingo, sumo wrestling, a hula hoop contest, a Segway demonstration, and a slumber party with movies and popcorn.

There were plenty of activities to occupy the youngsters, including basketball, soccer, playground rides, sack races and an inflatable slide. Crafts were also available, as kids of all ages painted flower pots and coconuts, and made necklaces and glow-bracelets.

A caricaturist drew images for donations to the ACS.

Music was in the air, as the Danny Morgan Band, the Ocean Drive Band, Dan Confrey, John Buttler, Gene Federico and Jeff Key entertained the teams.

The A. Kagan Orthopedic crew had fun in their Hawaiian gear, while the VIP Realtors team hauled their wooden mascot, Emma the Cow, around the track. Emma was signed by donors who had contributed money, and she helped her team raise nearly $12,000.

Sanibel Captiva Community Bank president Craig Albert told his co-workers he would have his head shaved on stage at the Relay if they raised $10,000. The group came up a bit short ($2,200), but Albert was so impressed with their teamwork and effort, he took the plunge anyway and received a buzz cut in front of a laughing, cheering crowd.

"I think he's such a good sport to do it anyway," said Community Bank office manager Nora Mohr. "We were really worried. We were trying to get the money together, and he just decided, whatever you make, I'll do it." Mohr liked Albert's new look. "I think he looks great!" she said.

The booth with the colorful 1951 Philippine Jeepney belonged to Leslie's Ladies, a 29-member relay team named in memoriam for Leslie Godley, who passed away last October after a 10-year battle with breast cancer.

Godley was a founding member of a Sanibel-Captiva breast cancer support group, and many of the 20 survivors from the support group, along with some friends and family members, made up the relay team.

"We named our team after Leslie, because she was such an important member of our group," said Pat Van Alscyne, a five-year survivor.

Cherrie Galvin, a nine-year survivor, staged a surprise catered tea party for Godley at the hospice where she was staying a few days before her death. Galvin had been Godley's caregiver, and Godley had mentioned that despite her British heritage, she had never been to a tea party.

Galvin and the other support group members, decked out in hats and gloves, gave Godley a glorious afternoon.

"It was just the most awesome thing," Galvin said. "The best thing about it was it changed Leslie's conversation from what was wrong and what the doctors were doing to, 'Did you hear about my tea party?' At the end of her life, the last two or three days, it changed her whole focus and her whole conversation to one of joy."

Galvin is encouraged by the progress in which cancer is being treated and discussed. "It's not a death sentence anymore," she said. "There is a possibility of survival and there's all kinds of support, which I think is a big part of the survival rate."

There's more awareness. Families, friends, the community support you, where before it was more of an isolated, secret sort of disease. People didn't have the support that we all had."

Leslie's Ladies team leader Carol Strange, a four-year survivor, was proud of her group. "They're such 'wonder women. It's a joy to be the captain," she said.

Strange was joined by family members, including her 12-year-old grandson, Ryan Greenplate, who's also a cancer survivor.

"I never participated in a Relay until last year," Strange said, "and I was amazed at the emotion and the turnout for the event. This year I determined I should be more involved, and I think it's especially important in a small community like this that everybody does support each other, and they do."

"When our grandson had leukemia when he was four years old," Strange added, "I just saw such an outpouring from this community. It was incredible. When I went to give blood, I couldn't get in the door because they brought the trailer from Lee Memorial, and island residents were just lined up all day to give blood for Ryan. He's a seven-year survivor. He's 12 years old and he's considered out of remission."

"(Greenplate) inspired me," Strange continued. "He did so well. He never was afraid, his parents were very strong, and when I was diagnosed, we were already used to that scary word, and Ryan just said, 'You'll be fine Granny, your hair will grow

Greenplate, who helped hold the Relay for Life banner during the Survivor Lap, enjoyed the event. "I think it's a great celebration for survivors everywhere. It sort of inspires cancer survivors like me and Granny."

He added, "I think with all the support, I don't think cancer will survive much longer."

Kip Buntrock is a past president of the American Cancer Society board and is a 2007 Relay committee member. He was diagnosed with testicular cancer in 1988 at age 27.

Buntrock's late mother had been diagnosed with a nasal carcinoma in 1986, then about the same time her son received his diagnosis. "We battled it together, went through chemo together," Buntrock said, "and she didn't make it, and I made it, and I promised her, I said

'Mom, I'm going to go to work (in fighting cancer).' I spent the last four months of my mom's life with her every day because we were going through treatment together. That was the silver lining."

Buntrock was happy to see the large turnout for Relay.

"It's wonderful the amount of people that come out in the community and support this," he said. "This is not only just a Relay for Life to make money for the Cancer Society, but Sanibel, with the small town spirit we have, it's a good way for people to get together and do something for a good cause."

Surviving cancer has given Buntrock a positive perspective on things. "It changes your whole reason for being alive," he said,
"because all the sudden you're given this new lease on life. Every day, you just appreciate it all."

After being diagnosed with pseudo-myxoma peritoneal last June, Joyce Jann certainly appreciates the love she received from her children and grandchildren. "It makes all the difference in the world having the support system of the family," she said, as she cuddled her six-month old granddaughter, Julia Lemmon.

Jann needed to travel to North Carolina to have her rare form of cancer treated.
She was accompanied by her daughter, Christine Lemmon.

"I found out I was pregnant with Julia right around the time my mom was diagnosed," Lemmon said, "and we gave her a card that said
'One more reason to live.'
This is one more reason we're going to get you through this as a family."

Mother and daughter became misty-eyed as Lemmon continued. "My mom is a cancer survivor," she said. "It's definitely an emotional event. I'm just so proud of my mom and of everybody for their fight against this disease, and I've seen her strength through it.
She's a very strong woman, and I just wanted to be here tonight to celebrate her and honor her."

Franko's eyes were not drawn to be chosen among the many. He chose me so many years ago and said he would choose me again. He still remembers our first date, our first kiss, our first walk hand in hand. Please be sure not to miss this exciting event as our talented middle school students take the stage!

Artist to celebrate Cinco de Mayo

Join Arts for ACT Gallery located at 2265 First Street in downtown Fort Myers on Saturday, May 5 from 7 to 10 p.m. to celebrate Cinco de Mayo with an exhibition infused with the cultures of our Latin and American Indian heritages.

The Art Couple —Denis and Mayra Velez have been married for over twenty-five years. Together they share a passion and love for painting, Denis preferring acrylic medium to Mayra's pastels, watercolors and oil crayons or gouache.

Ernesto Masis, a native of Costa Rica, has been painting since early childhood. Masis experiments with many different materials and media to create unique images in his very personal and complex language.

Dennis Hall (Já Hall) is drawn to aboriginal sculptural styles, particularly Native

Fishing Captain Bernard Minarcin to speak at Sanibel Fishing Club May 8

Captain Bernard Minarcin will be the special guest at the May 8 meeting of the Sanibel Fishing Club at the Community House. He will talk about "Fishing with an Artificial Lure."

"Fishing with artificial lures that are biodegradable is far more eco-friendly to both the fish and the waterways," Minarcin explained. "I also encourage parents to bring their kids to this event so we can help foster their concern about the issue, as the kids are the future of this sport and of our waters."

Minarcin is active in the FLW/IFA Tours and is tournament director of the Fish Hard For The Future Tournament Series to benefit the CAST Foundation for disabled and disadvantaged kids. You can also hear Minarcin this Sunday (May 6) on the ESPN Reel Animal Radio Talk Show between 8 and 10 a.m.

"This interactive event is open to the public and especially kids eight and up who come with an adult," said Kevin Vertesch, president of the Fishing Club. "We are look-

Obituary

Warner P. Heinstein, Ph.D.

Long-time Sanibel and Fort Myers resident, Warner P. Heinstein died April 27, 2007 at Hope Hospice/Shell Point Village. He was 77 years old. Born in Gross-Umstadt Hesson, Germany, he moved to the United States in 1952 and to Sanibel in 1975.

Well-known around the world for his scientific work and contributions to Polymer Technology, Werner graduated from the University of Geneva, Switzerland in 1964 with a Doctorate in Chemical Engineering. He continued his education at the University of California and received a Ph.D. in Polymer Technology. His more recent work involved the development of a quantum chip with 7.87 hertz function.

Warner was a long time member of Sanibel-Captiva American Legion Post 123

and was an active member of St. Isabel Catholic Church while living on Sanibel and the Church of the Resurrection after moving to Fort Myers in 1988.

He was preceded in death by his wife of 46 years, Stella Heinstein, (May 26, 2002). Warner leaves two daughters — Connie Walters, and her husband, Tracy, and Nancy Nolan and her husband, John; two grandchildren — Amanda and Tracy Walters, Jr.; and two brothers — Karl and Paul Heinstein; and one sister — Ursula Engeler.

Memorial services will be held at The Church of the Resurrection, 8121 Cypress Lake Drive in Fort Myers on Wednesday, May 9th, at 4:30 p.m. In lieu of flowers, contributions can be made to Hope Hospice, 9470 HealthPark Circle, Fort Myers 33908.

Peacocks apparently found on Sanibel

Staff Report

Although these birds have not presented a danger to people, Sanibel Police Major Michael Murray asks citizens to call the Police Department if they see any peacocks running around on the island. "We don't have a zillion of them out there," Murray said, "but we want to document where they're located."

When possible, officers try to catch the birds but, so far, have been unsuccessful. "We have the apparatus, but they're fast and it's kind of hard," he explained.

Neither he nor Holly

Peacocks

- Native to India and Sri Lanka
- In Florida due to repeated introductions and/or escapes
- Florida range = 20 counties
- Not thought to be breeding in Florida
- Unknown impact on native species
- Will eat lizards and frogs
- Male is peacock; female is peahen.
- Full adult plumage not attained until 3-5 years old.
- Loud raucous call

Downing of the city's Natural Resources Department are sure where the peacocks are coming from. "I've heard, on occasion, of folks seeing them on the island," Downing said. "We would always be concerned with exotic species on the island and the impacts they can have on the native communities." She further said that, because they are exotic to all of Florida, they could not be relocated in the wild anywhere in the state. "You would have to find somebody who'd want them for display or education."

IWA water restrictions: Saving water during the drought

It appears that there is an extremely high peak demand for water from 4 to 5:30 a.m. being caused to a large extent by irrigation system timers which have been reset to operate during a short 4 a.m. to 8 a.m. time period, two days per week. This is in accordance with many recent media reports regarding new stricter watering restrictions throughout much of South Florida.

However, these new restrictions do not apply to IWA Members who are irrigating with IWA's water; and, if a need for additional water became necessary, such as for fighting a fire during this extremely dry weather period, system pressure may fall to unacceptably low levels, and public safety may be jeopardized.

ardized. The restrictions for the islands remain as they have been since June 2003, and are as follows:

IWA Water Supply

Odd numbered addresses (1, 3, 5, 7, 9) - Mondays, Wednesdays and/or Saturdays

Even numbered addresses (0, 2, 4, 6, 8) or no address - Tuesdays, Thursdays and/or Sundays.

Approved Watering Times

Midnight to 10 a.m. or 4 p.m. to midnight.

No Watering Is Allowed

IWA would like to ask all its members to utilize the available 18-hour time window for watering on the appropriate days. Please avoid irrigation between the hours of 4 a.m. and 6 a.m. By working together during this time of extreme drought, we can all have adequate water for our needs, but we can't all have it at exactly the same time! # Where were you on May 6, 1937?

Poetic License
Joe Pacheco

In the late afternoon pounding the pink "Spaldeen" ball between the screened windows of the Telephone Building on 13th Street in our slum version of handball, my friend Danny and I looked up and saw the Hindenburg, immense shining silver shaped like a cigar floating directly above us so close Danny threw the "Spaldeen" up as high as he could to try to hit it but of course he missed and we both laughed...

later I heard it crashed in Jersey and the whole next day everyone listened to the announcer on the radio sobbing and I remember thinking radio announcers are always cool but not this time so this must be real and later that week at the movies
they showed it in the Newsreel, the Hindenburg collapsing like a huge balloon on fire and people burning and screaming as they tried to jump and my mother and the women in the audience crying, right then I wished that Danny had been able to hit it with the ball and change its course --- maybe that would have saved it.

Southwest Florida Symphony Youth Orchestra concert to honor seniors

The Southwest Florida Symphony Youth Orchestra, led by conductor Michael Simpson, will perform "Spring Finale" May 8 at 7 p.m. at the Cypress Lake High School Center for the Arts. Enjoy this delightful concert that celebrates the gift and passion of music. Graduating seniors and music educators will also be recognized. Special guest soloist will be violinist Max Hoffmann, a sophomore from Cypress Lake High School, and the second place winner of the 5th Annual Concerto Competition. He will perform "Czardas" by Vittorio Monti with the orchestra.

The Youth Orchestra is an auditioned group comprised of the best young musicians in a three county area. An important outreach activity of the Southwest Florida Symphony, it provides quality symphonic training and performance experience for young musicians. They are coached by Symphony musicians, rehearse weekly and perform during many Symphony events and in their own series. Symphony Musician Coaches are Tom May, string quartet, Tom Krammer, brass quintet, and Bill Larsen, woodwinds quintet. The Youth Orchestra also features the Sinfonietta, the youngest string players, conducted by Nanette Grant.

Tickets for the concert are $7 and can be purchased by calling the Symphony Box

NPR broadcasts Islander's poem

National Public Radio's "Morning Edition" broadcast Islander columnist Joe Pacheco's poem "Where were you on May 6, 1977?" on May 4 to an audience of more than 13 million listeners on more than 300 stations across the country.

Local station WGPU 90.1 aired the poem, which was written to commemorate the 70th anniversary of the Hindenburg disaster. The zeppelin flying from Frankfurt, Germany caught fire while landing at Lakehurst Naval Air Station in Lakehurst, NJ. Ninety-seven people were on board. Thirty-five passengers and staff and one ground crew member were killed.

Pacheco, an integral member of the island literary scene, has previously performed and discussed his work on "Morning Edition," "Latino USA" and WGPU.

'Lord of the Dance' returns to the Mann Hall

More than 50 million people worldwide have seen Michael Flatley's "Lord of the Dance" tour -- the international Irish dancing phenomenon that has performed sold out shows at theaters, arenas and stadiums in more than 45 countries. Irish Dance lovers and music fans alike will get their chance to experience the engaging, rhythmic adventure that has helped catapult Irish dancing into the global spotlight and created a massive wave of Celtic dance mania. Returning to theaters across the United States this year, the tour is scheduled to dance its way into the Barbara B. Mann Performing Arts Hall on Saturday, May 5 for two performances at 2 and 8 p.m. Tickets are on sale and available at the box office, by calling (239) 481-4849 or online at www.bbmanna.com. "Lord of the Dance" is sponsored locally by Jason's Deli.

"'Lord of the Dance' has developed beyond my wildest dreams," said Michael Flatley, creator of "Lord of the Dance." "We have the greatest dancers in the world who bring their unrivaled skill, energy and enthusiasm to each performance, making them superstars in their own right. Every night they captivate audiences with their infectious talent and I have just been so lucky to have them."

Described by the New York Post as "fascinating, rewarding and above all, entertaining," and by the Los Angeles Times as "a showpiece extravaganza," "Lord of the Dance" is a mesmerizing blend of traditional and modern Celtic music and dance. The story is a classic tale of good vs. evil based on old Irish folklore as Don Dorch, the Dark Lord, challenges the Lord of the Dance. It is also a passionate love story that is expressed through dance numbers that transport audiences into a mystical and exhilarating world of intense passion. The action is played out over 21 scenes, on a grand scale of precision dancing, dramatic music, colorful costumes and state-of-the-art staging and lighting. The "Lord of the Dance" troupe features Irish dance champions from around the world. These gifted performers, who have an average age of 22 years, stretch every boundary of a traditional form of dance that has evolved for more than 2,000 years.

"Michael Flatley's 'Lord of the Dance' has broken attendance records throughout the world," said Lee Marshall, president of Magic Arts & Entertainment, the tour promoter and a veteran of many blockbuster entertainment events. "Part of its charm is the ability to spirit audiences away to a wondrous place and time for a few hours. Lord envelops them like few shows can, with standing ovations the norm."

Southwest Florida Symphony Children's Chorus to performs Mother's Day tribute

The Southwest Florida Symphony Children's Chorus, lead by Associate Conductor Joseph Caulkins, will perform "All That Jazz...For Mom" Sunday, May 13 at 4 p.m. at First Christian Church in Fort Myers. This concert features Bob Chilcott's "A Little Jazz Mass" with a jazz trio, a video presentation highlighting our favorite Moms and songs that celebrate the love we feel for Moms everywhere.

The showcase piece of the concert, "A Little Jazz Mass," will feature the musical talents of pianist Charles Heard, percussionist Todd Betz, and Alex Albanese on electric bass. The traditional mass for children will be performed in Latin but offers an upbeat and lively jazz influence with beautiful harmonies.

"In addition to the Chilcott piece, the audience will get a preview of the pieces we will perform at the Children in Harmony Choral Festival in Orlando later this month and a wonderful visual tribute to Mom while the children perform "The Softness of My Mother's Hands," a touching song composed by John Starr Alexander," explained Caulkins. "We will also take this opportunity to thank our sponsors and donors who are making the Orlando trip possible."

The Children's Chorus has been invited to participate in the Children in Harmony Choral Festival at the Walt Disney World® Resort, May 24 – 27. Chorus members will premiere a new commissioned work on stage at Disney, composed by Jim Papoulis, as part of the 350-voice festival choir, under the direction of Conductor and Artistic Director, Dr. Barbara Tagg. Other pieces for the festival concert will include: Papoulis' "Can You Hear," "Star, Songs, Faces" by Nick Page, "America the Beautiful" arranged by Betty Bertaux, and "The Child with the Starry Crayon" by Eleanor Daley.

Now in its 14th year, Children in Harmony draws the finest children's choruses from all over the United States. The choruses are selected based on application, accomplishments and audition tapes. "This is a very special opportunity for our Children's Chorus. Not only will they get to travel and perform as a group, but they will learn a great deal through their dedication and hard work preparing music at such a high level with children from all over the country," explained Joseph Caulkins, Associate Conductor of the Symphony.

In addition, the Children's Chorus will perform two individual ensemble performances while in Orlando, one at Epcot and another at St. Luke's Methodist Church. "This is quite unique in a festival situation and we feel extremely honored to be asked," said Caulkins.

Tickets for the May 13 concert are $12 and will be available at the door. To guarantee your ticket, call the Symphony Box Office at 418-1500 or online at www.swflso.org.

The Southwest Florida Symphony, Lee County's only professional orchestra, is now in its 46th season, offering 38 concerts across five series October thru May. This season, the excitement builds in the search for a new music director. Over 250 candidates applied and seven world-class finalists remain, who will be featured throughout the season, culminating with one earning the coveted title. Performing groups include the SWFLS Orchestra, the Symphony Chorus, the Children's Chorus and the Youth Orchestra and Sinfonietta. Supported by the Symphony Society, a volunteer organization of over 500, the Symphony commits over $100,000 annually for education, performance and scholarship programs that reach thousands of area youth. ## Florida Rep announces summer theater camp programs for K-12

Florida Repertory Theatre, Southwest Florida's premiere professional theater is pleased to announce its 2007 line up for Camp Florida Rep: "Honk Jr.," "Once Upon a Mattress," Disney's "Mulan Jr.," Rogers and Hammerstein's "Cinderella" and "Suessical Jr." Please call (239) 332 -4665 ext. 20 for more information.

In this theater intensive summer day camp children in Kindergarten through 12th grade attend two-week sessions where they sing, dance and design new musicals, under the guidance of theater professionals. Camp Florida Rep is held at the historic Arcade Theatre.

In session 1, June 4 through June 15, campers will bring "Honk Jr." to the stage.

"Once Upon a Mattress," a farcical fairy tale, will come to life during the second session, June 18 through June 29.

Travel to the Far East in session three, with Disney's "Mulan Jr." This session held July 9 through July 20 takes campers to the legendary, story-telling days of ancient China in this action-packed stage adaptation of Disney's "Mulan."

Campers will have a ball taking part in session four with Rogers and Hammerstein's "Cinderella" held July 23 - Aug 3.

Get ready to rhyme during our fifth and final session with "Suessical Jr." August 6-17. These classic, colorful tales are brought together by Jojo, a young boy and "thinker of strange and wonderful things."

The cost of enrollment for Camp Florida Rep is $325 a session for Kindergarten through 6th grade. Children in grades 7 through 12 can register as a Star-In-Training, S.I.T., for a fee of $275 a session. A late pick up after care program is available for an additional $40 per session. Pre-

Bailey's seeking sponsors for annual Islands Night

Join in with all of your fun-loving Islanders who will be at the Miracle's baseball game at the Lee County Sports Complex on May 16 at 6:30 p.m.

The evening events include:

- Grand Parade of Islanders
- Locals singing the National Anthem
- For the kids-between inning games and con tests
- Island baseball All-Stars
- Miracles vs.

Clearwater

■ The talked about event- "Island Notable Hawkers"

Businesses and individuals are welcome to become sponsors for the event. For $100, sponsors are given unlimited tickets to be given out, sponsor name on the collectable Islands Night T-shirt, promotional table space, place in the parade, place for a banner in the stadium, promotional announcements, publicity, baseball and fun.

All Islands Night proceeds go to charity. Last year funds raised went to the Sanibel School, The Children's Hospital, Sanibel-Captiva Cares, FISH and Hope Hospice. In addition, the Islands Night tradition raised enough money to give each island high school graduate a cash gift, again.

To sponsor the fun-filled event and show community support, call 472-1516.

Broadway Palm Children's Theatre to present 'Snow White'

Broadway Palm Children's Theatre presents "Snow White" playing May 4, 6, 9, 11, 17, 18, 20, 23, 25, 26, 31 and June 1 and 3. Bring the entire family and see one of the most beloved fairy tales of all time come to life on stage!

"Snow White" is the classic story of a beautiful girl, a wicked queen and seven adorable dwarfs. Snow White flees from her evil stepmother to the woods where she finds shelter in a small house inhabited by seven little men. Find out if the brave little men can help protect Snow White from the Wicked Queen.

Broadway Palm Children's Theatre presents full-scale productions that are great for all ages. All performances begin with a buffet at noon and show time at 1 p.m. (except for May 4, 9, 11, 17, and 18, lunch is at 10:30 a.m. and the show is at 11:30 a.m.) The chef's special buffet includes children's favorites like hamburgers, hot dogs, pasta and meatballs, chicken and more.

"Snow White" plays selected matinees May 4 through June 3 at Broadway Palm Dinner Theatre. Ticket prices for lunch and the show are only $15 for all ages. Tickets are now on sale and can be reserved by calling (239) 278-4422, by visiting www.BroadwayPalm.com, or by stopping by the box office at 1380 Colonial Boulevard in Fort Myers.

City of Sanibel's adult softball league seeking players

Stuck in town for the summer? Looking for something to do on Wednesday nights? Join the Sanibel Adult Softball League!

The league will run from late May into August. Teams need to be submitted no later than May 11 with a check for $291 made out to the City of Sanibel.

If you are looking to submit a team, or to find a team to be on, contact Nick Brown at 472-0345. This is an unsanctioned adult softball league focusing on recreation over competition. Though not officially a co-ed league, both men and women are welcome to play! Start calling up your buddies and getting a team together, we'd love to see you on the field!

Island talent to shine at karaoke event

The Over-the-Season Karaoke Party is coming soon and, once again, the Community House will be the center of this grand finale party. Festivities are scheduled for Friday, May 11, at 6:30 p.m.

There'll be hors d'oeuvres, a cash bar, a DJ, and memorable prizes and certificates. Come as your favorite singer or form a group. Who knows? your picture might even get in the paper! There will be numerous categories including neighborhood group, island Elvis, most inspired song depicting the event, shower singer, group representing an era, famous singer, not so famous singers (like Island Crooner), best group with a prop (you don't have to sing), and, if we didn't think of it, you can even write in a category.

As always the audience will be selecting the winners with the help of the now famous Jewell clap'o'meter, a high-tech device that hardly ever goes astray! Call us now at 472 2155 for reservations, information and, if you're singing, let us know the category. The cost is $18 and the Community Association

The Schoolhouse to hold children's theater program

Calling everyone from the ages of 8 to 18 with an interest in theater! Last summer, Kelly Legarreta directed 18 youngsters in a show called "Fractured Fairy tales" at the Sanibel Library. This summer, marketing director Mindy Montavon and artistic director Victor Legarreta, will be heading up a program to give kids a chance to perform on The Schoolhouse Theater stage.

The program will be geared toward teaching acting basics, as well as technical areas of theater. It is designed to teach a sense of professionalism while enjoying putting on a show. Starting July 10, rehearsals will be every Tuesday and Thursday from 10 a.m. to noon - with a performance on Saturday, August 11. Due to the short length of rehearsal time, everyone involved must be able to attend all rehearsals. The program and performance will be free of charge.

Auditions for the show will be held on Saturday, June 30, with an orientation to follow. To reserve your spot in our summer program or for questions, please call The Schoolhouse Theater at 472-8930.

Boaters offer tips for preparing for upcoming hurricane season

With hurricane season approaching, over 150 marina, boatyard, and yacht club managers recently gathered in Orlando, Florida for the first Marina Hurricane Preparation Symposium. Organized by BoatU.S. in conjunction with the Marine Industries Association of Florida and the Marine Industries Association of South Florida, the group shared tactics, tips and experiences with the goal of successfully managing another year of potentially increased storm activity.

Towards those efforts, the following storm preparation tips may help boaters reduce the chances of damage to their own vessels as well as improve the odds that their boating facility will quickly recover:

■ The most important task is to make a hurricane plan now and put it in writing; speakers at the Symposium continually stressed the need for facilities and individuals to have well thought out, written plans. A plan should include where your boat will best survive a storm, what supplies you'll need, and who will be doing that work if you are out of town when the storm approaches.

■ If possible, arrange with the marina now to get your boat out of the water and onto high ground – it is the single best thing you can do to take care of your boat when a storm is approaching. Check to see if your boat's insurance policy offers "hurricane haul-out" coverage to help foot the bill.

■ Does your marina tie-down boats? Boats that have been brought ashore and secured to the ground tend to experience much less damage. Some facilities strap boats down to large metal eyes imbedded in concrete or secure lines to earth augers. It's extra work, and it's worth it.

■ Don't count on the marina adding extra lines and stripping the boat unless you've made prior arrangements. Once hurricane warnings are posted, marina operators will be far too busy to accommodate last minute requests. Begin by reviewing your dock contract now to see if it requires you to take certain steps when a hurricane threatens and talk to your marina operator now to coordinate plans.

■ Regardless of where you leave your boat, anything that creates windage must be removed. Bimini tops, dodgers, outriggers, antennas, portable davits should be taken home or stowed below. Ventilators should be taken out and the openings sealed. Don't tie dinghies on deck – take them ashore.

■ If possible, sailboats should have their masts unstepped. This will require that you maintain your rigging, with well-lubed turnbuckles and cotter pins, so that pulling the pins doesn't take forever. If the mast is left up, all sails and covers must be removed.

■ If the boat will be secured at a dock, add extra dock lines and chafe protection. Look carefully at potential chafe areas – chocks, pilings, pulpits, and dock edges. Replace older dock lines that are weakened by salt, dirt and UV exposure. Using a fender board with at least three large fenders is also worth considering.

■ Begin tracking storms as soon as they are identified. While forecasting has dramatically improved, hurricanes can still change direction and intensity very quickly. ## Manatees: A heartfelt gift for Mother's Day

Last year, as the month of May approached, Dawn Baksh from Orlando, Florida was contemplating what to get her mom for Mother's Day. "I just wanted to give her something different, a little more thoughtful," said Baksh. Like many others in Florida and around the country, she decided to adopt a manatee for her mom, Cindy Tivey, also from Orlando. She contacted Save the Manatee Club, a national, nonprofit organization, dedicated to protecting endangered manatees and their habitat.

Baksh chose Ginger from the Club's Tampa Bay manatee adoption program. "She just seemed sweet with her babies and all," she explained when asked why she picked Ginger. "My mom loved the adoption. I believe I got a tear or two with that Mother's Day gift."

Adopting a manatee costs $25, and it includes an adoption certificate, manatee photo, biography, membership handbook and free shipping. Members also receive a subscription to the Club's official quarterly newsletter, The Manatee Zone, and the bi-monthly e-newsletter, Paddle Tales. Or, for $35, each new member who joins the Adopt-A-Manatee program online will receive a cute, colorful manatee coin purse that you can wrap up along with mom's gift adoption.

Last year was the worst on record for manatees, with 416 reported manatee deaths. At least 86 were killed by boat strikes, making it the second highest mortality from watercraft collisions ever recorded.

For more information on the adoption program, contact Save the Manatee Club at 500 N. Maitland Ave., Maitland FL 32751, call 1-800-432-JOIN (5646), or visit their web site at www.savethemanatee.org. ## Angie's List ready to grant wishes, offer helping hand Angie's List issued a nationwide request for nominations to its Wishmakers program – an annual drive to give a helping hand to deserving families and individuals.

"In the past three years, working with great contractors, we've been able to help improve the lives of more than a dozen highly deserving people," said Angie Hicks, founder of Angie's List. "It's an opportunity for us to give back to the community, and we're excited to do it again this year."

Past Angie's List Wishmakers projects include:

- Kitchen renovation and landscaping for a wheelchair-bound mother of seven
- Space organization for a mother of six who had over come breast cancer

■ Construction of a threshold ramp for a couple with limited mobility

Nominations will be accepted from May 1, 2007, to July 15, 2007, via email at wishmakers@angieslist.com. Only nominations including the submitter's name, city, state, phone number, a specific wish, the nominee's name and his or her contact number will be considered. No self-nominations will be accepted. Nominations should be 300 words or less.

After reviewing the nominations, Angie's List will partner with companies that are highly rated by Angie's List members to grant the top 10 wishes.

SPECIAL TO THE ISLANDER/WILDLIFE TRUST
The manatee above is wearing a tracking belt. If you spot a manatee wearing this device, please call 1-888-404-FWCC (3922), #FWC or *FWC on your cell phone, or use VHF Channel 16 on your marine radio.

Help researchers find Marco and Whitaker

Researchers studying manatees in the state of Florida are asking for the public's help in locating two rehabilitated manatees named Marco and Whitaker that have been tagged and released in southwest Florida. Anyone who sees a manatee with a belt, located just above their tail, is asked to call the Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission (FWC) dispatch at 1-888-404-FWCC (3922), #FWC or *FWC on your cellular phone, or use VHF Channel 16 on your marine radio.

Marco is an orphaned manatee that was rescued after suffering a shark bite in May 2004 near Marco Island in Collier County. He was released in Warm Mineral Springs in February 2007 with two other manatees. He was last seen in the spring but is suspected to be in the Charlotte Harbor area since he is a larger animal. Marco's tail is heavily damaged from shark bites. If his tail is visible, the belt will be as well.

Whitaker was also an orphan and rescued because of cold stress in February 2006 near Whitaker Bayou in Sarasota County. She was released in Warm Mineral Springs with Marco and another manatee in February 2007. Whitaker was last seen in the Myakka River just north of the El Jobean bridge and could be anywhere in the area. Whitaker has a freeze brand, which is a marking with a letter and number that is sometimes visible on two places on the manatee -- either on the top "shoulder region" parallel to the head or near the base of the tail.

The Manatee Rehabilitation Partnership, a cooperative effort of non-profit, private, state and federal entities, have equipped Marco and Whitaker with tracking gear to help researchers and veterinarians monitor their health and re-adaptation to the wild. The tether is attached to the belt and is designed to break free of the animal if needed, such as in the case of entanglement. Finally, the radio-transmitter tag is attached to the tether and floats just above the surface of the water line. Both Marco and Whitaker have lost the transmitter and tether and are just wearing the belt component of their tracking device. Without the radio-transmitter, Marco and Whitaker are much more difficult to spot, but their belts can easily be seen when they surface for air.

Public sightings of Marco and Whitaker will provide researchers the opportunity to attach another tag and allow for future monitoring of their adaptation and health.

The goal of the Manatee Rehabilitation Partnership is to monitor the health and survival of rehabilitated and released manatees. Partnership members include the Cincinnati Zoo, Columbus Zoo, Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission, Hubbs-SeaWorld Research Institute, The Living Seas at Epcot/Walt Disney World, Lowry Park Zoo, Miami Seaquarium, Save the Manatee Club, SeaWorld Orlando, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, U.S. Geological Survey-Sirenia Project, University of Florida College of Veterinary Medicine, and Wildlife Trust. For more information about the MRP and manatees currently being tracked, visit www.wildtracks.org or contact Elizabeth Walker at (407) 803-3991.

Florida celebrates May as Clean Air Month

State encourages citizens to adopt clean air practices

Florida is recognizing May as Clean Air Month, encouraging citizens to adopt environmentally-friendly practices to reduce energy consumption and protect air quality. A leader in clean air technologies, Florida is one of just three states east of the Mississippi River that currently meets all National Ambient Air Quality Standards and the only highly urbanized state.

"Recognizing May as Clean Air Month encourages Floridians to make a commitment to helping ensure that Florida continues to meet and exceed air quality standards," said Department of Environmental Protection Secretary Michael W. Sole. "By reducing emissions and investing in clean energy technology we will ensure a stronger, healthier environment and economy for future generations."

Over the last eight years, the state has successfully prompted the modernization of older power plants to achieve large reductions in emissions of soot, sulfur dioxide and smog-contributing nitrogen oxide. Further significant reductions are projected over the next eight years due to the implementation of new federal requirements, the Clean Air Interstate Rule and the Clean Air Mercury Rule. As part of Clean Air Month, DEP is encouraging Floridians to do their share for cleaner air by adopting clean air practices:

- Use public transportation or carpool.
- Purchase energy efficient products.
- Conserve electricity at home and work.
- Maintain heating and air conditioning units.
- Ensure vehicle efficiency by keeping tires inflated at the correct pressure.
- Plant native trees and shrubs.

More than 25 percent of the Florida Department of Environmental Protection's (DEP) fleet of clean energy transportation is comprised of 125 hybrid vehicles and more than 300 alternative fuel vehicles that use combinations of fuel, ethanol and electricity products. Just last year, the state joined executives from General Motors and Inland Food Stores to open the first public E85 ethanol pump in Florida in Tallahassee. The use of E85 can provide positive environmental benefits in the form of reduced greenhouse gas emissions.

DEP's Office of Greenways & Trails is pumping biodiesel, a "green" fuel made from homegrown vegetables, vegetable oil, fats and grease, into its fleet of field trucks. The field vehicles tow tractors and heavy-duty maintenance equipment an average of more than 300 miles a week over the rugged terrain of the 110-mile Cross Florida Greenway and along paved highways.

The Florida Renewable Energy Technologies & Energy Efficiency Act – a four year, $100 million plan to diversify the state's fuel supply and promote energy conservation and efficiency. It takes the first comprehensive step toward a diverse, reliable and secure energy future by reducing regulatory barriers to expedite electric generation capacity and providing rebates, grants and tax incentives to drive the development of alternative fuel technologies.

May happenings at Hickey's Creek

Nature - Saturday Adventures

Participate in an environmental education class with lots of hands-on experiences, crafts, stories and special guest speakers. Program will be held May 12 from 1 p.m. to 2 p.m. at The Caloosahatchee River Regional Park. It's free with camping or paid parking, $1 per hour or $5 all day.

Nature - Guided Kayak Trip, Oxbow Islands

Join a master naturalist on May 17 from 9 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. for a leisurely paddle on the Caloosahatchee River. We'll follow the original winding path of the river and paddle around the oxbow islands. This is a slow-paced family trip so bring binoculars to spot wildlife and fishing gear if you would like. We'll stop at an oxbow island to explore and hear about the history of the Caloosahatchee River and its islands. Bring drinking water and plenty of sunscreen. Minors (at least 6 years of age) must be accompanied by responsible adults. Bring bottled water and plenty of sunscreen. Fee of $20 includes kayak and equipment.

Nature - Guided Walk in the Woods

Join a naturalist for a stroll through a native habitat at Caloosahatchee Regional Park on May 19 from 9 a.m. to 10 a.m. See firsthand the native plants and animals that make this area so unique. Bring sturdy shoes that can get wet and drinking water. Walk is about 1.5 miles. Minor children must be accompanied by an adult. Program is free with camping or paid parking, $1 per hour or $5 all day. The park is located at 18500 N. River Road, Alva. (S.R. 78.) For more information, call (239) 693-2690, or email mhammond@leegov.com. Caloosahatchee Regional Park is a Lee County Parks and Recreation facility.

Celebrate the outdoors on National Trails Day

Get outside and experience the benefits of trails

On Saturday, June 2, American Hiking Society celebrates its 15th annual National Trails Day, the largest annual single-day trails and outdoor celebration in the country. Hundreds of thousands of people are expected to get outside and attend more than 1,000 events taking place nationwide.

American Hiking Society urges everyone to get on the trail and make everyday National Trails Day because of the many benefits trails provide to individuals, communities, and the environment.

Individual benefits: National Trails Day promotes the health benefits of trail use, especially hiking. Hiking gets your heart pumping, lungs expanding, and muscles working. It helps relieve stress and contributes to weight loss, controlling high blood pressure, and preventing serious ailments such as heart disease and diabetes.

Community benefits: National Trails Day fosters community-building. It brings together people from all ages and backgrounds, including toddlers just learning how to walk, Girl Scouts earning a badge for their participation, and seasoned hikers who have logged many miles. It's a time to get outside and get to know your neighbors. It also provides local governments and trail clubs with much-needed volunteer sweat equity hours to restore and maintain trails. Last year volunteers spent more than 135,000 hours establishing, maintaining and cleaning-up nearly 1,700 miles of trail—labor worth an estimated $2.5 million.

Environmental benefits: National Trails Day raises public awareness about the many environmental benefits of trails. Trails serve as conservation corridors, help protect plants and wildlife, and serve as outdoor classrooms for nature study and environmental education. Connecting with nature on a trail instills conservation values and inspires the public to take action to protect our natural heritage.

"Celebrating National Trails Day is an excellent way to promote healthy lifestyles and connect with nature," said Gregory Miller, President of American Hiking Society. "Trails are life-enriching places, and hiking is the best nature-based recreational activity for a lifetime of health and fitness."

National Trails Day events take place in local, state, and national parks, forests and other public lands from coast to coast. Activities include hiking, biking, horseback riding, paddling, trail dedications, park clean-ups, trail work projects, and much more. About American Hiking Society
Founded in 1976, American Hiking Society is the only national, recreation-based nonprofit organization dedicated to promoting and protecting America's hiking trails, the surrounding natural areas, and the hiking experience itself. To learn more about American Hiking Society and its programs, including National Trails Day®, please visit AmericanHiking.org or call (301) 565-6704.

National Trails Day® 2007 is made possible by the generous support of our Lead Sponsor – Nature Valley; Partners – Merrell, REI and Thorlo; Friends – Adventure Medical Kits, Eastern Mountain Sports, and Royal Robbins; Media Sponsors – Backpacker magazine and American Park Network; and Federal Agency Partners – Bureau of Land Management, Federal Highway Administration, National Park Service, USDA Forest Service, and U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

Delinquent tax notices to be published in Island Reporter

From staff reports

Once again the Breeze Newspapers will publish the delinquent tax notices listed by the Lee County Tax Collector's Office.

The tax notices will be published three times in our sister publications, Island Reporter and the Cape Coral Daily Breeze.

There are two types of property auctions: real property, or certificate sale; and tangible property, which can be electrical equipment, furniture, etc. By law, real property must be advertised for three weeks, tangible property for one week.

The real estate notices will be published in the Island Reporter and the Cape Coral Daily Breeze on May 10, May 17 and May 24. The tangible tax delinquencies will be published on May 10.

In addition to publication in The Breeze Newspapers, printed copies of all the notices will be available at 220 locations throughout Lee County, at the Tax Collector's Office and at all Breeze newspaper offices, including the Islander, 695 Tarpon Bay Road, Suite 13.

Other Breeze offices include the Island Reporter and Captiva Current office, 2340 Periwinkle Way, Unit K.
