Whither goest thou?

Prelude

"Forward Sons of Sayreville High" is an expression of our faith in the future and of a desire to bring greater glory to our cherished Alma Mater.

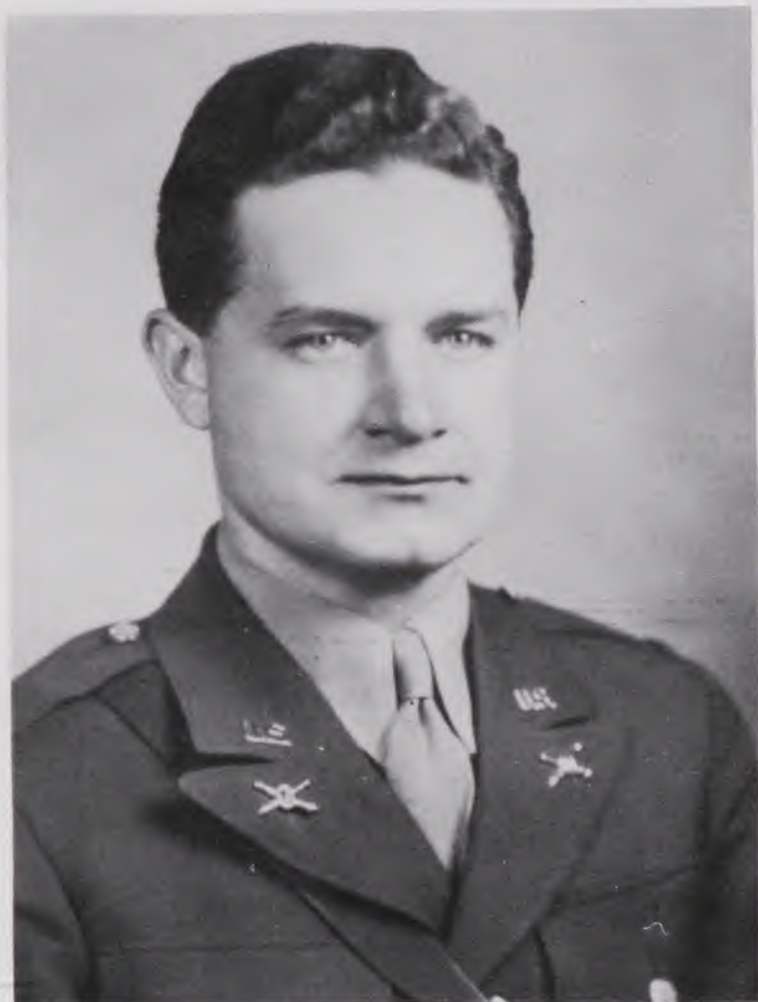

FORWARD SONS OF SAYREVILLE HIGH

Forward Sons of Sayreville High
Down the path of glory,
Never flinching, knowing no despair
The end will tell the same old story
Fight team! Fight team!
Fight with all your might,
For we are out to win today.
Let's give a Ja - Ha, and S - A
For the Blue and Gray.

—Lt. W. S. Currie

Dedication

We dedicate our yearbook to Lieutenant William S. Currie and to all the Sayreville men and women in uniform who are now serving America all over the world. May they carry the torch of liberty to all conquered peoples and may it kindle in the hearts of those people a renewed hope for the future, a future that will bring victory and peace.

The Class of 1943 expresses appreciation to Miss Margaret Walsh for her great interest and unselfish work with our class.

The SENIORS

S

Sayreville High School
Sayreville, New Jersey
June 18, 1943

Dear Classmates,

We, the class of 1943, are a war class and as such our future is uncertain and has but one ultimate aim, victory for the United States.

When we leave our Alma Mater our talents will be directed into the war effort. The question uppermost in our minds is, "How can we serve best?" For many the government will decide the immediate future. Whether we serve in the armed forces or in the great industrial centers, our minds will be united by this single thought — ultimate victory.

The title of our yearbook symbolizes this feeling "Whether goes it how?" We do not know the answer but, nevertheless, we shall serve as men and women worthy of the title "Americans."

Yours very truly,
Edwin A. Holodzy

fun. Love
Elaine*

MARGARET LASKO

BETTY LINN

Newspaper 1; Latin Club 1; Yearbook; Boot and Spur Club; Dramatic Club 1, 2.

"Smartest girl in the senior class" that's Betty. Betty doesn't say much in class but her knowledge shows up in the quiz tests. Betty's ambition is to be a Swarthmore graduate. We don't see anything to stop you Betty.

GLORIA POULSEN

Assistant Art Editor, Yearbook.

Gloria came to S. H. S. in her Junior year amid a flurry of wide eyed "Ahs" and "Ohs" from the boys. Gloria's studies were well planned toward the goal of being a nurse. She will probably be a nurse for the boys in blue.

CECELIA ROGINSKI

Glee Club 1; Typing Club 2; Bowling Club 3; Yearbook.

Cealie is a quiet type who makes friends easily. Her pleasant personality will make her a good secretary. Her blonde hair is one of her most outstanding features. Cealie is a model student.

LILLIAN PRUSAKOWSKI

Commercial Club 1, 2, 3; Glee Club 1; Yearbook; Typing Club 2; Industrial Arts Club.

"Lou Mac" peppery captain of Sayreville's aggressive football team was a varsity player for three years. He was also outstanding among his classmates as a debator who has never been known to lose a debate. Why the sudden interest in the Freshman girls, "Mac?"

To come Back
- Lou Mac

Bernard M.

FLORENCE ROSKOWSKI

Band 1, 2, 3, 4; Mat Club 1, 2; Dramatic Club 1, 2, 3; Glee Club 1, 2; Dancing Club 1, 2, 3; Newspaper 1.

"Flo" is the pride and joy of S. H. S. band. She loves music and if you stroll on Church Street boulevard, you're bound to hear her practicing on the sax or piano. We wonder if she gives lessons to a certain lad on Dolan Street.

CONSTANCE SMITH

Industrial Arts Club 1, 2; Glee Club 1, 2, 3.

GEORGE PIETRUSKI

Mat Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Science Club 2; Basketball 2, 3, 4; Dramatic Club 1; Baseball 2, 3, 4; Student Council 1.

George, basketball captain, was, until he joined the Navy, the high scorer of his team. His work in the mat club helped him to win outstanding acclaim in the minstrel show for his back flips and breath taking forward rolls over seven men.

ANDREW PAPROTA

Football 2, 3, 4; Baseball 2, 3.

"Shorty" was a member of Sayreville's undefeated 1941 football team and his sterling play led the team to this year's highly successful season. Shorty was definitely a ladies' man. The Navy will give "Andy" a place to use his talents in this field.

JOSEPH PODBELSKI

Baseball 2; Basketball 4.

Tall, lean, left-handed, Joe's size made him a varsity basketball player. On the court this 6' 4" lad acquired an aggressive spirit as the season progressed. Off the court, Joe is a conservative scholar. Women don't interest Pod, or do they?

EDNA STREK

Glee Club 1; Typing Club 2; Industrial Arts Club 1.

"Edja" is bright, cheerful, and full of good humor. Her giggle can be heard in the hallways. She spends her time in South River. We wonder why? Perhaps it's "Stash" that handsome man with the blonde curls.

VICTOR ROSKOWSKI

Mat Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Football 1, 2, 3, 4; Student Council 1; Minstrel.

Three years of football, including playing on Sayreville's first football team, is the fine record which gave Victor the nickname of "Iron Vic". Vic is as fast a talker as he is a halfback and can talk his way out of practically anything.

Best wishes to a sweet teacher.

 Joe

BETTY TOBIN

LAWRENCE SAMUEL

Larry is the most co-operative man in the senior class. President of the Athletic Association, Larry promoted the interest of the students in the financial status of this organization. His class work has at last been recognized by his appointment to the Honor Group.

EDWARD SKURKA

Trumpet player and singer of cowboy ballads, just a musical guy, that's Skurka. Together with Dolan, Ed makes the loudest, if not the most musical trumpet section of the band. Seriously though, Ed's musical talent should place him high in that field.

ALBIN SLOWIKOWSKI

"Chuck" the machine breaker! He is Miss Geist's chief nemesis in her effort to keep them working. "Al" went out for football this year and was the only left-handed passer on the squad. He plans to get a job and help the war effort.

a swell teacher.
"Nan"*

JOHN STREK

Mat Club 1, 2; Industrial Arts Club 1, 2, 3.

EDWARD TUREK

Mat Club 1, 2, 4; Industrial Arts Club 1, 2, 3, 4.

"Turk" is the bashful boy of the senior class who is often seen around the halls in the flashy "Mules" jacket. Edward is the good-looking member of the "famous shop crew". He is an outstanding figure in the Mat Club exhibitions.

EDWARD ZANESKI

Mat Club 1, 2, 4; Industrial Arts Club 1, 2, 3, 4.

"DOWN THE PATH OF GLORY"

As the days roll on and the years pass by
Though we live in future style
In our hearts and minds are memories high
Which bring a tear and a smile.

Thoughts of gladness which bring joy for a minute
Sadness which pricks the heart and dims the eye
The planning of events, the fun we had in it
Which brought cheers, a laugh and a sigh.

The light of faith which we struggled for Like a dying candle burning its last then flickers, smoulders and lives no more
Though ours be upward cast.

A football team that won county fame
Our boys who are serving the U. S. A.
A newspaper that won itself a name
The meaning and spirit of the Blue and Gray.

Thoughts of lessons, friends, parties and shows
The kid who never returned the dime
We hear voices, laughter and songs, a review as it goes
Echoing down the Corridors of Time.

"Forward Sons of Sayreville High"

"Forward Sons of Sayreville High" is a simple phrase that has so much meaning. Little did Lt. Currie realize when he wrote that line how well this class would follow it. Shall we turn back the pages of time and see how it was done?

In the fall of 1939 a new group of boys and girls entered a new high school. We can call ourselves the true foundation class of S. H. S. because we were the first Freshman Class. After we became accustomed to the fact that we were in high school, our class advisor, Mr. Merrell, organized us into a body and officers were elected. Our first class officers were: George Pietruski, President; Henry Farver, Vice President; Edwin Kolodziej, Secretary; and Edward Skurka, Treasurer.

The months passed quickly and final examinations added to the anxieties of the still bewildered Freshmen. Those who passed left for a summer vacation with light hearts and quick steps.

After vacation we became the "know it all Sophomores". The new Freshmen would timidly ask us questions and we would answer them in a bored tone of voice, thinking—"Gee, how can people be so dumb?"—not remembering that we were once like them. John DiBiase served as President of the Sophomore Class. He was assisted by George Pietruski, Vice President; Elmer Slater, Secretary; and Raymond Farley, Treasurer. Mr. Frederick Reese became the new advisor. Many of our boys went out for football which was organized by Coach Abbatiello. Their showing was a credit to the class.

In our Junior year Frances Casey became President. She had as co-workers Jessie Olsiewski, Secretary; Margaret Lasko, Vice President; and Norma Weber, Treasurer. Under this leadership we had a very successful and active year. The highlight of the year was the Junior Prom held in May. The auditorium was beautifully decorated and the students packed the entire hall. A variety show was held during the month of May.

In September we returned to school sobered by the full impact of war. We were confronted with a few sacrifices and our President, Edwin Kolodziej, made us very conscious of this fact. The other Senior Class officers were Joseph Samuel, Vice President; Jessie Olsiewski, Secretary; and Robert Dolan, Treasurer. Mr. Reese, our former advisor, left in order to work in a war industry. Miss Margaret Walsh became our new class advisor. November brought the first Alumni game ever played at Sayreville and a gala day was featured by a reunion dance in the auditorium which gave the graduates a chance to see their old schoolmates.

December 26 was the date of the Senior Ball. Our senior year was saddened by the loss of such outstanding members as "Shorty" and "George" who enlisted in the Navy so that they might better serve their country.

Now at the end of our senior year we truly believe in the phrase "Forward Sons of Sayreville High".

Class of '42

A senior of '43 walks around the school by himself after all others have gone home. He first enters the auditorium and seats himself in the rear of the room. He is alone but not in thought. There in the first five rows sit the seniors of '42. They're having a fine time laughing and playing jokes on each other. The Boys' Locker Room Glee Club gets up to sing and a hush falls over the under-classmen. There is applause and more laughter as they finish. "Peaches" gets up, makes an introduction to some new tickets on sale, and the students are dismissed.

A flash recalls another assembly when Spilka, with his hair hanging on his face, imitated a professor playing the piano. Coach Abbatiello congratulates the football team and the students sing "Our Boys Will Shine Tonight" and names come fast; names like Tuma, Archie, Big John and Rye. The band plays a march and assembly is dismissed.

The lone student of '43 decides to visit the study. There sits a group of frolicking seniors. He is greeted with spitballs, a song, and a cheer. He leaves and enters the chem lab where he is showered with water, overcome with gas, and sent sprawling over a chair, enjoying it all the time.

He decides to have something to eat and stands at the head of the waiting line in the cafeteria. The door opens and in flock a group of hungry seniors and our friend is pushed to the end of the line.

The halls are noisy and he runs for cover as the class of '42 goes swooping in the gym. The student gazes out the window. In that direction is where an undefeated football team sweated and cried for joy when a season victory became theirs. Here and there are industries scattered which now have claim to what we lost. And then there is Uncle Sam who borrowed a few for the duration.

A special assembly is called. The students rise and sing "Forward Sons of Sayreville High" as Mr. Currie is called to the colors.

Our friend wanders for a while and then sits on the steps of the stairway where once tread the feet of a glorious class. He decides that in June of '42 Life stepped out of Sayreville High. With tears in his eyes he stands up and resolves to go out and join the spirit of yesteryear.

Echo - Lites

Published by Sayreville High School, Sayreville, New Jersey

VOLUME 1

SAYREVILLE, N. J., FEBRUARY, 1940

introducing new and salient factors essential to a successful high school.

"The founding of your school newspaper 'Echo-Lites,' merits commendation by all the people of our borough because this publication will eventually become our most valuable and effective means of reflecting in the American way what our high school stands for and how it is attempting the realization of its goals.

"To me the selection of the name of your newspaper is an excellent one for two reasons. First, the word 'echo,' according to Greek mythology, is described as a nymph who pined away for love until only his voice remained. The efforts of the staff and advisors are promulgated because of your love for the school and the subsequent results of your endeavors which will remain on the printed pages you so diligently prepare. Secondly, in recalling the scientific definition, we find 'echo' defined as 'the reflection of sound'. Your work here is the reverberation of efforts of those who want to succeed.

"The word 'lites' may not be found in the dictionary, but I like to think of 'lites' as a word created by popular appeal and interpreted as 'magnified radiant energy'.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT

The staff of Echo-Lites wishes to express its deepest appreciation to Mr. Theodore W. Armstrong, Editor of the Parlin News, for his kind and generous assistance in making this newspaper possible.

STUDENTS DESIGN HEADING

The letters "Echo-Lites" in the heading of our newspaper were designed by Joseph Brush and Thomas Wisniewski of the Art Class.

A. A. TICKETS

Have you bought an A. A. ticket? If you haven't you are letting an opportunity to save some money slip by. The earlier you purchase your ticket, the greater the value you are receiving. All basketball and baseball games are included.

So buy your ticket now. See your home room representative of Student Council and he will sell you the A. A. ticket which you are entitled to own.

"Nothing attempted nothing done" is a trite statement that is true in its relation to worthy accomplishments: therefore, in this first issue of the "Echo-Lites," the official news medium of Sayreville High, you and your efficient staff, under skilled advice and leadership, have definitely proved your literary ability and your esprit de corps in helping to place Sayreville High among the best organized schools in Central New Jersey.

Many things connected with the high school which are functioning beyond our fondest expectations furnish proof beyond contradiction that the student body knows how to do right things in the right way and at the right time.

Our social clubs; student council; educational guidance program to be followed by vocational guidance; athletic teams, the latter already equipped with uniforms; record systems; and now a printed paper are a few accomplishments in less than three months. Needless to say these achievements would be creditable to a senior high school of several years standing. However, it is to the credit of the teaching staff and a responsive student body of freshmen and sophomores for having placed our school
