SAYREVILLE HIGH SCHOOL

Foreword

Progress and civilization almost always go hand in hand. For thousands of years the lovely island of Japan has been as a domain closed to modern influences, remaining aloof. Ancient customs and methods had served them well. It was a land of tranquillity and beauty, but change was inevitable. The sage leaders of Japan, within the past century opened the doors and permitted the progress of the Twentieth Century to enter. Industry, transportation, and government were forwarded. Perhaps the most significant refinements have been made in education. As recently as 1872, elementary education was all that was required for Japanese children. Today, this tiny island empire abounds with secondary schools and universities as well as technical, commercial, and vocational schools. This change, reflected in the Japanese people is almost breath-taking as the new and the traditional blend.

In a far shorter span of years, Sayreville, too, has improved its educational system. Elementary schools were built as the need for them was seen. New courses of study have been added to the traditional ones in the high school. Both the sports and cultural programs have been enlarged.

One may note there is a striking similarity in the blending of culture, beauty, and progress in education between that of Sayreville and the cities of Japan. Hence, the publication of the 1961 Quo Vadis has attempted, by applying a Japanese theme, to convey this analogy.

DEDICATION

We dedicate this book, and ourselves, to preserve and contribute to the wisdom of the ages.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

The members of the Board of Education have dedicated themselves to the progress, both present and future, of the Sayreville school system. Their efforts have been apparent to all in the expansion of the elementary schools and in the planning of the high school, which will be a part of the school system in the near future.

Not only in terms of building, alone, have these men concerned themselves with the progress of the school system, but other areas as well. These realms have included the athletic programs, student transportation, school publications, and other extra-curricular programs.

These men volunteer their talents and their time for the advancement of the students in the system. The graduating class is particularly appreciative of all that has been done for them, and to the members of the Board of Education, the class of 1961 sincerely expresses its gratitude.

Standing: W. Lemerich, R. Dreyfuss, A. Swiderski, J. Callahan, P. Karbowski.

To the Class of '61

To you, who may be the last to be graduated from the Sayreville High School, Greetings and Godspeed!

The hectic pace at which we live and grow in this atomic age depreciates our worldly goods with breathtaking speed. It is normally expected that a school building is good for fifty years of use. Our High School has become obsolete as to facilities and program in twenty years. When life proceeds this fast, there is not the time to make mistakes.

May you have the wisdom to choose the right path and the courage to follow it despite its obstacles. May you, with God's help, be quick in your discernment, accurate in your judgment and prompt in your action, for time is of the essence.

Youth is the resource of democracy. To the youth of America we look for the progress of our country and the security of our ideals and beliefs. The effort which each of you expends to achieve a worthy way of life enriches our entire democracy.

Progress is an important business in our way of life. No one can remain static. Life promises abundance to you but it gives it only to those who work to earn it.

You are significant. In the hands of all who give their best, society moves forward. As your life star leads you, it is my sincere wish that you, as self-directed individuals, with reverence for your heritage will be the bulwark of our hopes and our future.

UNIVERSITY

We, the Class of 1961, wish to express our appreciation for all that has been done for us by our class advisors, Mr. Francis Malanowski and Miss Doris Poplowski. Their untiring efforts have helped make our football games, dances, and plays successful.

As Freshmen we became acquainted with Mr. Malanowski. Throughout our four years at Sayreville High, we have been conscious of his guidance. Due to his efforts, all of our activities were smoothly and efficiently carried on.

Miss Poplowski, who came to us in our Senior year, has also endeavored to help our activities gain significance.

Although "Thank you" seems hardly sufficient to express our sincere gratitude to our two advisors, we want them to know that their efforts have been recognized and appreciated.

Our first three years at Sayreville High School were stepping stones to our splendid senior year. We then initiated the preparation of our year-book Quo Vadis, an endeavor which would involve painstaking effort on the part of the staff.

Early in October the editors were selected from among many applicants by Mr. Todd, our advisor, and the hard work began. Picture-taking, write-up assignments, deadlines, and the inevitable unexpected obstacles lay before us. The entire staff cooperated and eventually our last deadline was met. We waited anxiously for the result of all our toil—the Quo Vadis of 1961.

This has been an eventful and exciting year. In this book we have tried, at least in part, to capture the memories of the year so that they may remain with us in the years to come.

Mr. James Todd

WASHINGTON TRIP

Symbols of our Heritage

In early November, seniors experienced one of the most memorable events of their last year at Sayreville High, the class trip to Washington, D.C. Two separate one-day excursions were made, but this didn't lessen the enthusiasm as shown by the boisterous singing and talking on the bus, even at 5:30 a.m.

The first point of interest was a tour of the beautiful grounds at Mount Vernon, the home of George Washington. Following a most interesting trip to the F.B.I. Building, a visit was made to the Bureau of Engraving and Printing. The class then congregated in front of the Capitol to have a group picture taken and visited the historic building itself. Stops at the Jefferson Memorial and Smithsonian Institute were also quite enjoyable.

As twilight was approaching, a most beautiful and inspiring event was witnessed, that of the changing of the guard at Arlington National Cemetery. After this impressive visit, seniors headed back to the magical city itself for a delicious buffet dinner at the beautiful Hotel Shoreham. Much to the seniors' dismay, it was time for departure, and they soon arrived at Sayreville about 12:00 midnight.

The dream was over, but the cherished memories of the spirit, enjoyment, and unity experienced will linger on for a lifetime.

SENIOR PLAY CAST

Senior Play

Lights, camera, action! These words remind not only the nervous cast, but also the watchful audience of that memorable night when the senior class presented "Lilacs in the Rain." This three act comedy tells of John Lambert's four daughters and their sweet, but turbulent romances. Laurie Lambert's complicated and mixed up prom dates result in the father tossing three boyfriends out. The play was a mixture of laughter and tears, a typical slice of American home life.

Tense moments before the presentation were replaced by the satisfaction of knowing that the play, under the direction of Mr. Malanowski, was thoroughly enjoyed by the audience.

"Toning muscles"

Upon entering school in the fall, the junior class eagerly began to make plans for the coming year. The first activity was to choose class officers. Elected were: Jean Puchala, president; Judy McNeany, vice-president; John Rota, secretary; and Helen Beck, treasurer. The officers, under the guidance of Miss Defort, Mrs. Dulemba, and Mr. Wnukowski, guided and directed the affairs during this eventful year.

The junior year brought many "firsts." Among them was an opportunity to display dramatic Date with Judy." They were also thrilled to have abilities by presenting a three-act comedy, "A Date with Judy." We were also thrilled to have attended the annual Junior-Senior Prom. Perhaps, one of the most honored events was receiving our class rings.

Due to the efficiency of the officers and advisors, the social affairs were a huge success, which made it a wonderful junior year. Now there remains the aspiration of becoming seniors and graduating as the class of 1962.

This year the class of '63 elected Edward Gorchinski as President, Joseph Bettoli as Vice President, Judy Fielek as Secretary, and Terry Popowski as Treasurer.

In November, the class held its first big social affair, the "Basketball Hop." The second was held in February, the "Sweetheart Dance." As King and Queen, Barbara Piatek and Richard Paprota were chosen.

The first two years have been good ones; the class is looking forward to even better years under the guidance of their advisors, Miss Laverne Gavron and Miss Lois Jankowski.

The Freshman Class, the largest ever to enter these halls, started the year banging lockers, forgetting combinations, and getting lost in the halls. After the confusion abated, they elected their officers. Because of the size of the class, a special Freshman Council was organized, consisting of one member from each home room. This group keeps the class together socially.

The most important event of the year for the class, the Freshman Dance, will be held in the spring. The freshmen are looking forward to good years ahead and will endeavor to maintain the respect and honor which Sayreville High has earned in the past.

College Prep. COURSES

Today's high school graduate, when he enters college, needs a comprehensive background in English, mathematics, science, and foreign language. Further, he must have developed the ability to adjust to new ways of thinking, and to blending academic and social life successfully. At Sayreville, students enrolled in the College Preparatory Course, are given intensive training in the subjects required for entrance into college and have the opportunity to develop interests in special areas.

We, in Sayreville, are fortunate in having an exceptionally fine course for those who feel that their future lies in the business world. Each student receives excellent training in typing, shorthand, bookkeeping, and business law. During the senior year, those enrolled in this Commercial Course are enabled to add to their backgrounds actual business experience by means of supervised on-the-job training in numerous business concerns in our vicinity.

Upon graduating, each student feels assured of being able to work competently and successfully in nearly every phase of office work.

Commercial

Industrial Arts

For those students in our school whose abilities indicate that they can be successful in industrial work, we offer the Industrial Course. Wood work, metal work, crafts, mechanical drawing, and the special mathematics involved with each, form the foundation of this course, together with English, Social Studies, physical training, and enrichment courses.

Each graduate from the course feels ready to accept the challenge of industry and is able to take advantage of the opportunities for advancement which will ultimately present themselves to him.

Many students are undecided about their futures when they enter high school. For these, the General Course is offered. They are able to sample a variety of subject areas in determining where their interests really lie. Thus, the General Course serves as a starting point. It assists the students in making the choice of their work in the years to come, and they have usually found this a worthwhile and helpful course.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The purpose of the Student Council is to represent the student body. Under the direction of Mrs. Marra and Mrs. Arthur, the council has initiated many worthwhile projects and services. Among these were the Teens Against Polio Drive, Dress-Up days, a Youth Week Campaign, and a dance honoring the basketball players.

In addition to these activities, the Council continued to be active in the New Jersey County and State Association of High School Student Councils. Sayreville High School graduates will always remember the Student Council as an outstanding organization.

EDITORIAL STAFF

J. Puchala, J. Zamorski, H. Pfeiffer, advisor;
J. Nuzzo, R. Zebro.

The editors and staff of ECHO-LITES were chosen in the spring; work on the first edition began in September 1960. Through the work and co-operation of the editors and entire staff, the ECHO-LITES was published five times during the year. ECHO-LITES' objective is to strive to augment unity, co-operation, and school spirit among the students at S.H.S.

The student body is proud of the four editors of ECHO-LITES who have been elected to Quill and Scroll, the International Honorary Society for High School Journalists. Each section has its own editor and reporters. However, the helpful guidance and advice of Mrs. Helen Pfeiffer makes each publication the success that it has been. Each edition is enthusiastically read and re-read by the entire student body.

This year's Cheerleading Squad consisted of five Varsity and four Junior Varsity Cheerleaders. During football season, the two squads cheered as one unit. By the time basketball season rolled around, they were ready to divide into two separate groups to lead the cheering for the Varsity and Junior Varsity teams.

Each year brings at least one innovation to the cheerleaders, who are always looking for variety, not only in cheering itself, but also in the style of their uniforms. During the months of summer practice, they become both acrobats and dress designers.

This year's cheerleaders have been proud of a happy and successful year. They extend their best wishes to the future cheerleaders of Sayreville High School.

VARSIITY TWIRLERS

"Look at 'em go! It's the Sayreville High School Twirlers." During football season this active squad could be found adding to the enthusiasm of both spectators and players. These peppy girls also perform at the spring concert and in local parades. Marching to the sound of the drums, the squad members display talent and training of which they can be justly proud.

VARSIITY COLOR GUARD

Displaying the colors of our nation and our school as they march with the band at the foot-ball games and in parades throughout the year, our Varsity Color Guard encourages the school spirit of all. Their almost flawless performance between the halves of the football games has been a tribute to their tireless practice under the direction of Mr. Cornell.

J. V. TWIRLERS

The JV Twirlers are a rather recent addition to SHS. These bright lassies are preparing to replace their Varsity members. The JV Twirlers in their bright blue uniforms, fancy strut, and tricky routines add to the splendor and spirit of our games and parades.

J. V. COLOR GUARD

So many students expressed enthusiasm over our Color Guard that, within the past two years, it was decided to form an auxiliary group, the Junior Varsity Color Guard. These girls are encouraged and helped to learn the fundamentals by the Varsity members. The Junior Varsity then assists in adding even more to the morale of our athletes and student body.

This year the members of the Glee Club extended their activities beyond the high school when they entertained at a December meeting of the Jesse Selover P.T.A. under combined direction of Mr. Cornell and Mr. Mount. They presented a program of old and lovely Christmas carols.

Soon after this, Mr. Cornell began work on the annual Spring Concert. This year, as in recent years, the concert has been enhanced by the harmonious contributions of the Glee Club. The club is composed of both upper and underclass girls.

Under the capable direction of Mr. Christopher Cornell, the Sayreville High School Band has built an excellent reputation. Their appearances at the football games, assemblies, and parades have shown them to be a distinguished unit. One of the highlights of the year is the band's annual Spring Concert, which always impressively displays their talents and guidance for the gratification of the community.

This year's football team was one of the most well-balanced teams fielded by Sayreville High in recent years. Seasoned veterans were set in almost all positions. After a slow start, the Bombers began to show their real potential and sportsmanship by winning from five of their last six opponents. Coach Homer Dill's club was well-drilled.

When the Bombers broke Highland Park's string of twenty-three wins in three years, by a 20-14 triumph, players, coaches, and students rejoiced. The coaches and the team made this one of finest seasons in the history of Sayreville High School.

This year's basketball team, composed of both veterans and new-comers, was a blend of speed and ability. Sayreville's cagers made up for their lack of over-all heights with a fast-breaking offense and an aggressive defense. History was made when the Sayreville-Metuchen game became the first high school basketball game to be nationally televised in the state of New Jersey. Coach John Gutkowski, once again, came through with a tremendous rebuilding job, which was evidenced in the team's fine record of 18 wins and 4 losses.

BASEBALL

Come springtime all over the country you can hear the famous old cry "Play Ball" and SHS is no exception. Having one of our finest seasons last year, under the fine coaching of Mr. John Wortley, and for the first time being invited to participate in the Greater Newark Tournament, we at Sayreville High School take great pride in our baseball team for its fine accomplishments in the past and the future. We, the students, at SHS wish to thank the coaches and players for the many thrills which they provided for us on the diamond and hope that our "National Pastime" will always remain as popular as it is now at SHS.

TRACK

The coming of Spring is a signal for Sayreville High's thin clads to begin training for the upcoming track season. Under the expert coaching of Mr. Edward McGarigle, and his assistant Mr. Daniel Newcomer, they have always managed to come up with several outstanding trackmen and winning records. With several of last year's valuable men returning again this year, the outlook is once again a bright one.

Fielek starts down the runway.
