"Ask not what your country can do for you—but what you can do for your country."

John F. Kennedy

In spirit and deed John F. Kennedy was to all Americans a symbol of courage and dedication. To this truly great American and his ideals we humbly dedicate our book.

Seated: Mr. Horvath, Mr. Unkel, Mr. Stanik, and Mr. Litz. Standing: Mr. Dolan, Mr. DiPoala, Mr. Tibbett, Mr. Usczak, Mr. Rauth, and Mr. Fleming.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

BOARD OF EDUCATION STAFF

Seated: Mrs. Hager and Mr. Fleming. Standing: Miss Dzielak, Miss Pytel, Mr. Smith, Chief Clerk, and Miss Hudak.

The Board of Education, composed of nine elected officials, serves the community in many ways. In their management of Sayreville's School System, these men continually try to keep up with today's rapidly changing world and strive to help Sayreville's educational system to grow and to prosper.

However, they are not only concerned with the teachers and administration of the various schools in the system, but they are heedful of all the segments of school life, from extra-curricular activities to the supervision of the school cafeteria. Throughout the school year the Board of Education is a vital component of each of our schools.

The staff of Quo Vadis '64, together with the entire graduating class, wishes to thank these men for their untiring efforts in the betterment of Sayreville's School System.

DR. RICHARD S. POLLACK
Superintendent

The years march on in stately, ever hastening procession and, in passing, leave a little wisdom in your cup of life. The brew thus made, we call experience; that, which we selectively distill from it highlights our personality. Our integral "self" is the sum total of the highlights and shadows we thus acquire and, once acquired, cannot change.

Our success is measured by the brightness and beauty of the image we project and, with the help of God and His gift of reason, we control this image.

God speed you and help you, Class of '64, that you may select the elements of your image with wisdom and courage for there is no second chance—you pass this way but once.

ADMINISTRATION

MR. VINCENT ABBATIELLO
Assistant Superintendent

Diplomas in hand, your forward steps take you slowly through the portals of Sayreville War Memorial High School. What now? That is yet to be seen—! As the winds, your many paths differ, some to lead toward the goal of fame and success, while others find temporary posts along the way. Only you, the bearers of the torch, can do your years of preparation justice.

May I extend my best wishes to the Class of 1964 for continued success and good fortune.

MR. HENRY COUNSMAN
Principal

Speech Club

Sayreville's English department presents to every student both the English language and its literature as well as an opportunity to acquire a knowledge of speech and dramatics. Journalism is offered in an elective course.

Throughout the four years the student is concerned with the study of good reading habits, literary forms, and the importance of grammar in oral and written English. The Junior and Senior years are spent in a detailed study of American and English literature, literary movements, and the more important authors and their contributions.

History

The History department plays an important role at Sayreville. The student may study numerous phases of history including World, Modern European, and Contemporary, as well as the required U.S. History I and II. These courses are designed to bring to the student a fuller understanding of country and government and its place in today's world. Courses in Vocational Civics and Economics are also offered which help the student comprehend more about his responsibilities as a citizen.

The language department of Sayreville High offers three foreign languages. Students may take a beginning course in French, Latin or Spanish. In these courses the students are introduced to the culture of the people they are studying as well as the fundamentals of the language itself. The second year of a foreign language comprises more detailed study of grammar and conversation, and the student speaks and comprehends the language when it is spoken. Advanced courses in Spanish and French are offered. Here conversation is stressed to enable the student to become proficient in his use of the language as well as in the study of the literature of these people.

The science department offers to all students the opportunity of enriching their knowledge of practical and advanced science. In addition to the three basic sciences, biology, chemistry, and physics, there are honor courses offered to those students who desire a chance to pursue their interest further.

Each science course has been designed to provide the student with a basic, practical understanding of science.

Labs are held once a week in each subject. These labs enable the students to investigate each science in greater depth.

The mathematics department strives to engender a basic understanding of mathematics so that the students may apply this knowledge to everyday problems.

There are many courses offered in general mathematics which introduce the student to mathematics, such as Algebra I, Algebra II, and Plane Geometry. In addition, various advanced courses such as Trigonometry, Advanced Mathematics, and Modern Algebra, are provided for those who desire a more thorough understanding of the science and intend to further their study of mathematics.

Emphasis is also placed on the need for commercial and shop students to take mathematics for its usefulness in practical problems. Basic Mathematics, Business Arithmetic, and Applied Mathematics courses have been instituted for this purpose.

The basic objectives of the Business Department is to train students to fill stenographic and secretarial positions in offices and to acquaint students with business activities. Courses are given which develop skills in office machines, record keeping, selling, typing, and stenography.

In addition to receiving classroom instruction, commercial students who have completed two years of stenography and typing are given a course in office practice and work experience. The course includes actual office training for fifteen weeks. During this time the students have an opportunity to put their new skills to practical use.

The Industrial Arts department offers to those who desire it a course designed to give the students knowledge of the principles and operations of shop work. It trains students for the competent performance of duties in certain industrial areas. Skills in metal work, wood work, and auto mechanics are developed through basic and advanced courses of study. Opportunity to study the elements of electronics, printing, and the "language of industry" is offered in our Electric shop, Graphic Arts shop and Drafting courses.

Upon the completion of courses in the Industrial Arts department, students are equipped to enter into industrial occupations and professions in one of these fields.

The chief aim of the Home Economics department is to yield wise and knowing homemakers. Courses are offered in Foods and Nutrition, Clothing and Textiles, The Home and its Furnishings, and Personal Development and Family Relations. These offerings help to broaden the future housewives' knowledge in these fields.

Foods and Nutrition teaches the student techniques in the preparation of meals that are both appetizing and nutritious. The Clothing and Textiles course stimulates pride in appearance and offers training in the making and purchasing of clothing. Home and Furnishings demonstrates the basic fundamentals of housekeeping, furniture arrangement and color schemes used in home decoration. Personal Development and Family Relations courses round out the study of homemaking. The student develops an idea of self and family relationships.

Diary of Anne Frank

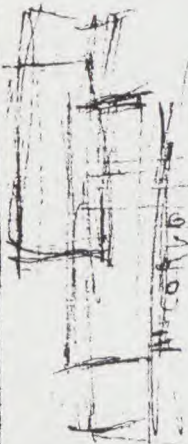

May 31, 1963 was a memorable night for the class of '64. It was then that they presented their junior play, The Diary of Anne Frank. After rehearsing for many weeks, the cast was finally ready. Almost as soon as the curtains opened, the performers captivated the audience.

The time was World War II. The drama was about a Jewish family who, because of their faith, had been forced to hide in a warehouse attic in Amsterdam, Holland, from Nazi factions. They lived there for about three years, ever conscious of the fact that any day they might be found unless they were not extremely careful. It was in this environment that young Anne Frank grew up. Her diary became her best friend, and to it she entrusted all her thoughts.

The play was a mixture of suspense, laughter, and tears under unusual circumstances and in an unusual setting. Much of the credit for the huge success of this play should be given to the fine direction of Miss Doris Poplowski, who devoted much of her time and patience to the production. Thanks also are due Mr. Resh who helped with the stage set for the play.

JUNIORS

The Junior Class has participated in many school activities this year. Not only has the class sponsored the usual annual events, but it has also strived to attain new standards for future Junior Classes. An example of these alterations is the National Honor Society, which is now open to all upper-classmen. The qualities that will determine their admittance are scholarship, leadership, character, and service.

The class rings have also marked a new tradition at Sayreville High. During the fall semester the style of the ring was decided upon. The new ring boasts a raised, oval stone. One shank displays the book of knowledge and on the other is a scroll representing the yearbook "Quo Vadis." The rings were delivered in late March, bringing pride to most juniors.

A new activity which was inaugurated this year was a musical presentation, "The King and I," which was jointly sponsored by the Junior and Senior Classes. The play was presented on April 24 and 25, and it proved to be a most rewarding activity.

During this school year the juniors also sponsored two dances. The first, "Autumn Enchantment," took place on November 2. The Sayreville High cafeteria displayed decorations typical of an enchanted evening in autumn. The other dance was the first annual "Mardi Gras." On February 8 the highly versatile cafeteria was transformed into New Orleans' famed "Bourbon Street" with a profusion of balloons, crepe paper, clowns, and other carnival decorations. Both dances were undoubtedly a huge success.

Other activities the Junior Class has been engaged in are the annuals, "Youth Week" and "Teens Against Polio." Another first for juniors this year was a cake sale which was held early in April.

Climaxing this year's series of events was the long-awaited Junior Prom, also establishing a new tradition at Sayreville High. The theme, "Une Mer d'Amour," or "The Sea of Love," was a replica of Neptune's Kingdom of the deep. The prom was held on May 23 and was, without a doubt, the most memorable event for the juniors.

Without the full co-operation and efforts of the advisors, officers, and the entire class, problems could not have been solved nor activities planned. After such a memorable and successful year, they will indeed discover an even greater success in the senior year.

CLASS ADVISORS

Miss Patricia Lynch, Mr. Gerald Stefanski, Mrs. Frances Hode, and Mr. Walter Kawalec.

Returning in September, after the confusion of their first year, the sophomore class set out with the ambition to have another successful year. First they elected their officers: President, Robert Lehnert; Vice-President, Robert Hopkins; Secretary, Eileen Driscoll; and Treasurer, Stephanie Lareau. Then, with the help of their advisors—Mr. Walter Kawalec, Mrs. Frances Hode, Mr. Gerald Stefanski, and Miss Patricia Lynch—they held two dances. Most memorable was the Sweetheart Dance at which the class king and queen were crowned.

Their first two years have been very successful. If they continue in the same fashion, the class of 1966 should have a gratifying two years ahead.

"Bewitched, bothered, and bewildered" are three words which could have very well described the members of the freshman class as they were in September 1963. They began their first year at Sayreville High School by warily meeting the many aspects of their new environment.

After attaining skill in opening lockers and finding classes, the freshmen, with the help of their advisors: Mrs. Galbraith, Mr. Prusik, Mr. Bauer, and Mrs. Todd, elected their officers. Those chosen were President, Arthur Elwood; Vice-President, Patricia Giannos; Secretary, Joan Mazurowski; and Treasurer, Donna Marine.

Advisors, officers, and the tremendous cooperation from the freshman class members combined to make the Freshman Dance, their first endeavor, a great success.

JOAN BRYLINSKI

Early in the spring of this year the members of the National Honor Society were chosen from the Honor Group. Membership in this distinguished organization is based on leadership, scholarship, character, and service. These students have maintained a B average through four years of high school, and in addition, have rendered service to their class. The faculty and principal elected twenty-five members of the class of 1964 who were solemnly inducted into the Society on April 8, 1964.

The Quo Vadis Staff of the class of 1964 has endeavored to make this book a complete representation of Sayreville War Memorial High School, its students, faculty, and administration. The work began in the spring of 1963 with the selection of the Editorial Staff and the putting together of the parts of the initial dummy. The following September the staff began organizing, laying out, and reorganizing pictures and write-ups so that the yearbook would be completed by March and depict the ideals and life of Sayreville High.

All seniors and Quo Vadis Staff members join in expressing gratitude to the Quo Vadis Advisor, Mr. James Todd, for his guidance and help in the preparation of this yearbook. Although many difficult and long hours have been spent on the numerous tasks associated with the making of the book, nothing will ever give the staff a greater feeling of accomplishment than holding a finished copy of the Quo Vadis which they helped to create.

Echo Lites, the school newspaper, is published five times a year with Mrs. Helen Pfeiffer as mentor. The editorial staff, together with the reporters, columnists, and typists, combine their efforts to report the events and happenings at Sayreville High and present, in addition, many interesting articles and columns. Thus, Echo Lites helps to promote school spirit among the student body.

Echo Lites is also a member of Quill & Scroll, the National Honor Society for High School Journalists, and every year several staff members are elected to this society. The strongest desire of the present staff is for future members of Echo Lites to strive for accuracy and excellence so that the newspaper may continue to be the successful publication it has been in the past.

The Student Council is composed of elected representatives from each of the four classes. With the assistance of the advisors, Mrs. Irene Arthur and Mrs. Angelica Marra, the Council aims to promote school spirit, encourage leadership and citizenship among the students, and strengthen student-faculty relations. The Council works for the benefit of the school and the students. Its members endeavor to make Sayreville High both an interesting and rewarding school—one that prepares the youth of today to become the adults of tomorrow.

This year, the Council has sponsored assemblies, a dance to open the basketball season, Homeroom of the Month Contests, The Teens Against Polio Drive, a Youth Week Election, and established an honor roll for outstanding clubs. In addition, the Council began conducting meetings after school hours so that any members of the student body could voice both opinions and grievances.

Maintaining school spirit and representing Sayreville High School at various athletic functions are the prime responsibilities of the Cheerleaders. This year, under the guidance of Mrs. Fehrle, the Varsity, Junior Varsity, and Reserve squads have done a fine job of fulfilling both of these responsibilities.

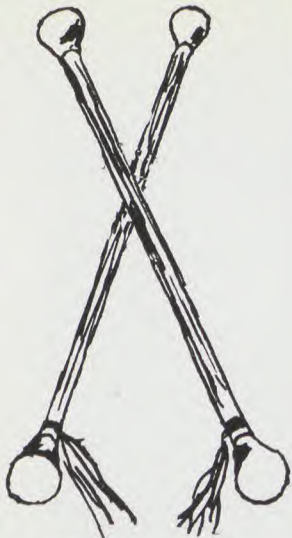

During football season, the three squads worked as one unit to cheer the Blue and Gray teams on to victory. When the winter athletic season started, they began to cheer as three separate squads, one each for the Varsity, Junior Varsity, and Freshman teams.

TWIRLERS

The appearance of the Sayreville High School twirlers is surely a bright addition to any game or parade. It seems that each year the twirlers, sporting their blue and white uniforms, become more talented. The girls, under the direction of Mr. Allan Mount, can always be depended upon to win admiration for their varied steps and maneuvers.

Spectators and students have spent many enjoyable moments in admiring the high-strutting twirlers going through their routines. Other twirling groups may be good, but the Sayreville High School twirlers always seem to surpass them all.

MARCHING BAND

The football season this year was a particularly pleasant one because of the entertainment supplied by the band. Under the direction of Mr. Allan Mount, this group of musicians has been continually growing and improving. The band is composed of a complete drum line, a complete bass section, and a large selection of reeds.

The highlight of the season was the homecoming game. During halftime activities, the announcer asked questions dealing with the school in some way, and the band humorously responded with selections from Lucky 'Leven' music. Without a doubt this band, in their marching and music, provided some of the best half-time entertainment ever seen at any Sayreville War Memorial High School football game.

THE BARD'S CLUB

Mr. Gerald Stefanski, the advisor of the Bard's Club, gives to its members an opportunity to learn about William Shakespeare and his many writings. A new appreciation of the most famous English dramatist is developed through group readings and recordings of his plays.

THE BASEBALL CLUB

This club is made up of baseball players and other boys interested in the game, all of whom are interested in learning more about the fundamentals and skills of baseball. This group works under Mr. Wortley.

BEAUTY CULTURE CLUB

The girls, under the supervision of Mrs. Joan Romatowski, learn of the current trends in teen-age cosmetics, hair-dos, fashions, and grooming through discussions and practice.

THE CERAMIC CRAFT CLUB

The Ceramic Craft Club is under the direction of Mr. Raymond Jason and affords to its members the opportunity to work with and gain a better knowledge of ceramics.

CHESS CLUB

Guided by Mr. Daniel Newcomer, the members of the Chess Club learn the principles, techniques, and skills of chess. This, in turn, enables them to participate more skillfully in chess games and other related activities.

CREATIVE WRITING CLUB

Under the guidance of Miss Doris Poplowski, the club members stimulate an interest in creative writing by sponsoring a literary magazine.

CURRENT ISSUES

Under the guidance of Mr. Alan Yurchuck, the members of the Current Issues Club discuss and study issues and crises currently affecting the world and the nation and the lives of all Americans.

THE DISTRIBUTIVE EDUCATION CLUB

The Distributive Education Club Program, under the supervision of Mr. Joseph Nita, is designed to be an inspiration to cooperative students. The club's objective is to provide learning situations which can augment the knowledge gained in the classroom, and shape attitudes that will help to advance careers in distribution.

DRAFTING CLUB

Mr. Dresser helps the members of the Drafting Club to develop skill in free hand sketching, orthographic projection, and topographic work. The students are encouraged to work on projects of their own choice.

ECHO-LITES

The Echo-Lites Club, with Mrs. Helen Pfeiffer as advisor, is a club for high school journalists. Its main objectives are to encourage interest in journalism and the procedures followed in publishing a newspaper.

FRENCH CLUB

Mrs. Genevieve Avery and her club members add to their knowledge of France and the French language by taking trips, compiling scrapbooks, and preparing French delicacies.

FUTURE BUSINESS LEADERS OF AMERICA

Miss Arlene Fain and the members of this club explore business opportunities. Their goal is to develop competent, aggressive business leaders. They also strive to develop character and prepare the future business leaders of America for useful citizenship.

FUTURE HOMEMAKERS OF AMERICA

The aims of this club, under the guidance of Miss Patricia Lynch, Miss Barbara Hirschberg and Miss Roseanne O'Donnell, are to promote a growing appreciation of the joys and satisfactions of homemaking, emphasizing the importance of worthy home membership, encouraging democracy in home and community life, working for good home and family life for all, and fostering the development of creative leadership in home and community life. It also provides wholesome individual and group recreation and furthers interest in Home Economics.

FUTURE TEACHERS

This club is made up of students interested in pursuing teaching careers. Under the guidance of Mrs. Angelica Marra, they make a detailed study of the qualities, traits, and aptitudes which are characteristic of successful teachers.

GYM CLUB

Teaching advanced techniques in tumbling and apparatus work is the aim of the Boys' Gym Club, under the supervision of Mr. Dill. In the spring, the boys put on an exhibition to display the skills learned.

THE FUTURE NURSES CLUB

The Future Nurses Club is under the supervision of Mrs. Angelina Romano. Its members become more familiar with the special areas in nursing as well as the schools where nursing is taught.

GLEE CLUB

Miss Annette Sowa, Mr. Allan Mount, and Mr. Walter Kawalec work with club members to promote an appreciation for group singing. This affords an extra musical opportunity for many students and is also very helpful in the selection of singers for the annual Spring Concert.

THE HOBBY CLUB

The Hobby Club is under the direction of Mrs. Phyllis Galbraith and Mr. Soren Thomson. Students enjoy making, showing, and talking about their hobbies. Most of the hobbies involve model building and coin collecting.

HORTICULTURE CLUB

Under the guiding hand of Mr. Matthew Prusik, the members of the Horticulture Club become acquainted with the methods and techniques in the care of plants and the germinating of seeds. This helps them to develop deeper insight into the world of plants.

HOT ROD CLUB

This new and interesting club, under the supervision of Mr. Arthur Knowles, gives the boys first-class information on the newest cars. The boys become familiar with the latest automotive design and the vast mechanisms which make up a car.

INVESTMENT CLUB

The main objectives of this club is to enable the members to broaden their knowledge and to appreciate the advantages of a sound investment program. The club meets with Mr. Mulrenan every week. Its members hope that the club will help them to make wise investments in the future.

LATIN CLUB

The Latin Club, under the supervision of Mr. James Donovan, has as its main objective the enlargement of Latin vocabulary. Members also become more familiar with classical thought and culture.

KNITTING CLUB

Under the guidance of Mrs. Mary Dulemba and Miss Lois Jankowski, the girls learn that knitting may be a hobby and excellent means of relaxing. After they learn the basic stitches, they often find that knitting serves practical purposes as well.

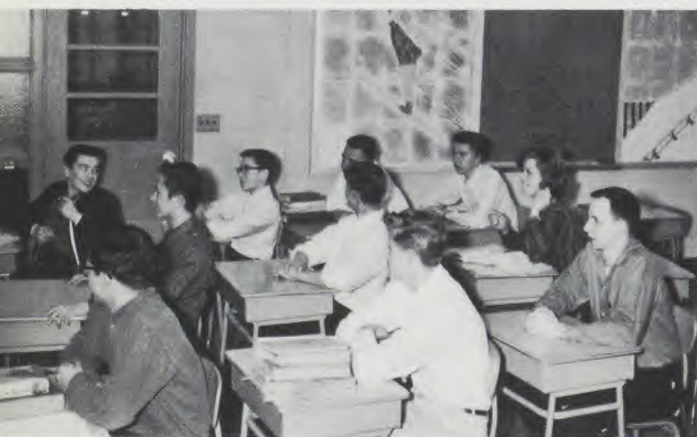

LITTLE THEATER

The Little Theater Club is under the direction of Miss Ruth Zdanewicz. Members gain a knowledge of the theater by participation in skits, pantomimes, and dramatic dialogues.

MATHLETES

The Mathletes are sponsored by Mr. George Evanovich. Each month several club members form a team of five to compete with other high school teams at county math meets.

MATH CLUB

The club members discuss and prepare special math projects, solve math puzzles, and work on the solutions of knotty problems with help from Mr. George Marotta, their advisor.

MODERN JAZZ CLUB

The Modern Jazz Club was formed this year for students interested in modern dancing. Under the direction of Miss Susan Duschock, members are introduced to the basic steps and routines.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY CLUB

This group, working with Miss Laverne Gavron, consists of candidates for the National Honor Society. At their meetings, the members seek to develop those qualities which will enable them to become creditable representatives of the Sayreville War Memorial High School in the National Honor Society.

OIL PAINTING AND DRAWING

Under the supervision of Mrs. Molly Honig, the Drawing and Painting Club's aim is to further the art interest and background of its members.

THE OIL PAINTING CLUB

Under the careful guidance of Mr. John Resh, the students in the Oil Painting Club develop techniques in oil painting and learn a variety of methods in drawing and sketching.

PHOTOGRAPHY CLUB

Under the supervision of Mr. Geleti, pupils are introduced to techniques basic to the taking of good pictures and the producing of fine prints. Learning the actual processes gives the club members a greater understanding of photography.

QUO VADIS CLUB

With the assistance of the yearbook editor, Dawn Lieb, and Advisor, Mr. Todd, this club explores the mechanics of producing a yearbook. The members of this club every year check galleys, identify pictures, verify clubs lists, and aid the regular Quo Vadis Staff.

READING IMPROVEMENT

With the aid of Mrs. Irene Todd, students are given the opportunity to improve their skills in reading and comprehension. The aims of the club are: to develop reading skills for recreation and study, to increase reading speed, and to assist students having special problems. College-bound students are also helped to acquire or increase the special reading and study skills.

QUO VADIS TYPING CLUB

The Quo Vadis Typing Club, under the direction of Mrs. Frances Hode, has been a great help to the Quo Vadis staff. All copy must be typed before it is sent to the publisher. These girls spent many hours typing write-ups, identifications, and editorial revisions.

RED CROSS CLUB

The Red Cross Club, with their advisor, Mrs. Irene Arthur, in cooperation with the Red Cross Chapter of New Brunswick, works on assignments which benefit the general public and charitable organizations.

SPACE SCIENCE CLUB

Mr. Robert Collins provides the club members with the knowledge of outer spaces and its many wonders. Through discussion and study, the students gain an insight into space travel throughout the universe.

SPANISH CLUB

Magazines, films, and discussions are utilized by Mrs. Catherine Ludlow and members of this club to increase their knowledge of the culture of Spanish-speaking peoples.

THE SPEECH CLUB

Speech Club members learn the techniques of writing and presenting public addresses. Under the direction of Mr. Charles Koenigsberg, their advisor, they are helped to acquire skill as well as a deeper knowledge of oration.

SPORTS OFFICIALS

Under the direction of Mr. Norbert L. Smith, members of this club study the rules of football, basketball, and baseball. They then apply their knowledge by officiating the intramural games during the season.

THE VARSITY CLUB

The Varsity Club, under the direction of Mr. John Danna, is designed to set up an Athletic Honor Society which promotes athletic participation in sports, provides recognition for athletic achievement, and raises money for various items related to sports.

VISUAL AIDS CLUB

Mr. Lucian Wnukowski guides the members of the Visual Aids Club to a better understanding of the workings of cameras and projectors. Extensive instruction is given in the intelligent use of such equipment.

R. Kearns, R. McLoughlin, D. Bloodgood, R. Stricker, Coach Reichenbach. Third row: F. Barneburg, L. Wallace, P. Slovik, T. Zeh, G. Armstrong, J. Koslowski, W. Theurich, C. Lynch, J. Giannos, M. Marcinczyk, D. Popowski, L. Zelewski, B. Lehnert, J. Branich.

The Bombers of Sayreville War Memorial High completed the first season of play at the new stadium with a record of five wins and four losses. Coach Dill's boys lost only one game and won four on the new field.

Sayreville's best games were probably the 13-0 win over a favored Red Bank Catholic team and the 34-12 victory over the heavily-favored Metuchen Bulldogs. Mr. Reichenbach's defensive "demons" scored three safeties in a 19-7 win over St. Peters and held the Steinert Spartans scoreless to give the Bombers a 26-0 victory.

Jim Kriskowski was the team captain, with "Big" John Tyszkiewicz and Roger Stricker as co-captains. Tyszkiewicz was chosen as an all-county first team tackle; Stricker as a third team guard; and John McCarthy, a halfback, received honorable mention.

BASKETBALL

Sayreville's basketball team, under the coaching of Mr. Danna and Mr. Nita, ended the season with a 13 and 10 record. The team started off slowly but showed considerable improvement with each game, and by the end of the season had become a strong squad. Jeff Osowski, Bob Kupcha, and Bob Nita were valuable assets to the team all year.

All members of this year's team except Bob Kupcha, a senior, will return next year.

WRESTLING

The Bomber wrestling team, coached by Mr. Conklin and Mr. Prusik, this year had one of its best seasons. Ed Dusko turned in good performances all year and went undefeated in regular season competition. Vaughn Scott, Rich Brunelli, Paul Caruso, and Gary Bodak also were great helps to the team. Bodak took second place in the county and district tournaments and will be back again next year.

VARSIITY

TRACK

Sayreville's track team is looking forward to a very promising season this year under Coach Newcomer and his assistants, Mr. Smith and Mr. Kawalec. John and Ted Tyszkiewicz are expected to do well in the shot put and Bill Hausler, John McCarthy, and Bill Lehnert should be effective in the running events. In addition, fine performances are anticipated from Jeff Osowski in the high jump, and both Charlie Nietubicz and Don Andrewjewski in the pole vault.

Waiting for their turn.

Getting in shape.

VARSITY BASEBALL

BASEBALL

Over one hundred boys tried out for the baseball team this year, giving Coach Wortley and his assistants, Mr. Dill and Mr. Bouczak a lot of material to work with. The coaches anticipate an excellent year.

A good crop of pitchers is developing, the most promising of whom are Dennis Dziergowski, Bill Troska, and Charlie Lynch.

Their pitching, combined with the anticipated hitting strength of John Karlowitz, Mike Gigliello, Roger Feltz, George Armstrong, and Paul Slovik, should help the Bomber Baseball squad to a rewarding season.

J.V. BASEBALL

First row: G. Brill, J. Klosek, J. Hoffman, R. Peppi, R. Lehnert, R. Burdak, R. Rossi, J. Butler. Second row: G. Lemerick, J. Wojcik, T. Shreck, R. Braisted, B. Bendanato, M. Stanton, J.
