Patterns of Youth

We frolicked on the misty waves
And wrote our names upon the sea.
Though little did we know what saves
A poet's rhymes or musician's staves,
Or that names last not a day
On the wide expanse of never.
Yet we were us and thought to say
How we'd really live forever
... or upon the beach,
But always hand in hand
And heart in heart, and groping, reach
For night or daylight in the sand.
We'd cry and laugh
But spend our times
As notes upon musicians' staff
Or letters in his rhymes.
And when all was said and
Done and all about were dying
We sighed but sang in that sand
Doomed, but every trying.
For what ... we knew not Yet all ... nearly ... we got.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

These ten men epitomize the capable and knowledgeable citizens of our community. They worked tirelessly and unselfishly during the past year to provide needed services for all and to benefit all the students of the Borough of Sayreville.

It was through their progressive and careful planning that a new junior high school became a reality.

The students of this school perhaps benefit the most. Not only does the Board provide for the bussing and activity allowances but also gives deserving students an annual Awards Banquet and provides entertainment for many school assemblies.

Undoubtedly, without these civic-minded citizens, the school system would be lacking and perhaps defunct. The students of Sayreville War Memorial High School here and now say "Thank You."

ADMINISTRATION

Dr. Marie Parnell
Principal

All ages and times become characterized by the dominant and prevalent ideas of the period; thus, this present era will probably be studied by future seniors as the "age of protest" or the "age of dissent." Progress, however, is dependent upon man's dissatisfaction with the now and requires for its impetus a spirit of challenge and change. Youth has always provided this spirit of dissent; they, more than their fathers, have been willing to shatter traditions and question the establishment. No previous era, however, has been populated by so youthful a group with so great a force of protest. The value to this tremendous energy has not yet been realized; but to become a productive force, it must be a spirit and an energy directed to growth and development, not to destruction. Man, though, in his history has found it easier to destroy than to build: his capacity for the one is greater than his ability with the other. Be aware, therefore, of the potential you possess, the forces you generate, and move into a new decade determined to be constructive citizens of a vital and dynamic society.

—Marie Parnell

GUIDANCE

The Guidance Department performs a necessary function and vital service in assisting the students in their school life and preparing them for the future. Through the help of the counselors, the individual is able to understand himself, his potential and his relationship to others in the society. The student comes to recognize his needs for others and his position in the changing world. It is through the counselors that we realize the importance of character in determining and securing a successful future.

ENGLISH DEPARTMENT

It has become increasingly important to be able to communicate effectively through a variety of media. No longer is it sufficient to know the grammar concepts or to be familiar with a selected list of the classics. Today's high school student must learn to converse and write, using several levels of language. He must become familiar with both traditional and contemporary thinking and literary forms in order to function purposefully in the adult world.

The constant goal of the English Department is to help students to develop understandings and skills in the two-way functions of communication. New materials and new approaches are continually being introduced in the attempt to help each student to develop his potential in language and literature as fully as possible. This year, a new course in composition and expository writing was offered for students who plan to go to college. Members of the high school and junior high school English departments began work on the improvement of courses of study for grades seven to twelve. Additional electives in creative writing, Dramatics II, and world literature were planned for the future to further enrich the English offerings of the department.

FOREIGN LANGUAGES

To be able to speak another language fluently is certainly an asset. In various jobs we encounter many people who do not speak the English language. Once in a lifetime trips are a thing of the past; summer vacations abroad are quite common. A language barrier can complicate situations somewhat.

Therefore, the study of foreign languages is offered to high school students, who, upon graduation find many uses for this knowledge. Four languages available to our students are Spanish, French, German, and Latin. The audio-lingual method is used, applying the principles by which we learn the English language: hearing, repeating, reading, and writing. A complete program is set up, beginning with dialogue and intervening culture and customs of the foreign countries.

MATHEMATICS

Sometimes called "The Handmaiden of Science," mathematics benefits anyone who studies it. Everyday life involves money, as well as various jobs. The mathematics program at Sayreville is designed to meet all the needs of the students.

Besides our Geometry, Algebra, and Trigonometry sequence, specialized courses in Analytic Geometry, Matrices, Probability, and Statistics are now offered to students as electives. The courses in Industrial Mathematics, begun last year, is being continued and will be expanded to include shop Trigonometry.

The student who studies mathematics expands his mind and becomes more alert and precise.

SCIENCE

Through observing and experimenting the science student discovers many amazing facets of life. The study of science is a rewarding experience, enabling the students to better understand the world around them.

Innovations in the Science Department include the introduction of an Aeronautics course, and additional lab facilities in Biology.

More students are realizing the value of science; they are becoming aware of the scientific and technological advances in the world. This brings about a larger enrollment in the science program each year.

HISTORY DEPARTMENT

The American citizen who does not have a knowledge of the history and traditions of his country, stands uncertain before the world. History is never over; it is forever growing. We study history because the past judges the present and the future. The study of history reminds us of our unity and love for each other.

Courses in history are offered to high school students in an effort to help them understand man and his relationships with other human beings. The exception is that the students will become better individuals and more effective members of the various groups in their society.

BUSINESS DEPARTMENT

One of the aims of the Business Department is to train young people to enter the highly competitive business world. In order to be successful in this ever-changing field, our students must possess the skills and knowledge of automation and technology. As a result, data processing has been introduced into our curriculum. We also utilize a steno laboratory for more meaningful instruction in stenography.

A high school diploma will signify the termination of formal education for most of our business students. They will, however, become enrolled in the school of experience. How successful they will be will depend on their goals, their perseverance, and their willingness to learn. If they follow through, business has rich dividends to offer.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

In the complex world of today there is a great demand for the industrial worker. Courses such as drafting, graphic arts, electronics, auto mechanics, wood shop, and metal shop prepare the boys for future success upon graduation. The student practices with the materials and machines available to him in the classrooms and develops manual dexterity as well as diversified knowledge in the use of many complex tools.

These courses are available to all students, either to the future full time industrialist or to the future businessman who wishes a background in mechanical handiwork.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

The importance of a well developed body in addition to a well informed mind has finally been realized and accepted. In the Physical Education classes a student is involved in all phases of recreation from soccer to social dancing. He can discover abilities that he never thought he possessed and never would have been aware of had he not been given the opportunity in his gym class. In addition, every student receives the benefits of a civil defense or first aid course weekly in order to be more adept in handling emergency situations.

DRIVER EDUCATION

Driver Education has become a reality at Sayreville High. Using cars donated by neighboring dealers, eligible juniors receive six hours of "on-the-road" practice as well as weekly classroom theory. Thus, students not only develop safety habits while driving, but also benefit from reduced insurance rates upon successful completion of the course.

Sayreville, in introducing this course, is participating in the current safe-driving program initiated by the New Jersey Division of Motor Vehicles to reduce the high accident rate in the state.

HOME ECONOMICS

Every girl should have a background in home economics. At some time in later life whether she be a working girl, wife and/or mother or combination of all three, she should have some knowledge of the skills required for managing a home.

Through courses, which include laboratory work and class discussion, students learn about clothing construction and textiles, foods and nutrition, housing and home furnishing, child growth and development, and family relations. By learning through doing, the girls get an idea of the many responsibilities which a home-maker faces.

A new course entitled Child Care was added to the curriculum this year. During the second semester, students enrolled in this course will participate in a nursery school program, which will afford practice experience in caring for small children.

ART

The well-rounded curriculum of the Art Department provides the students with an appreciation and understanding of art, as well as developing their creative ability.

Two new courses, the History of Art and Commercial Art, have broadened the scope of the department and have provided the background for all art development. The students then progress through instruction in water colors, pastels and inks to advanced classes in ceramics and sculpture.

MUSIC

Molding the band into a cohesive unit able to cope with almost any type of concert or marching band music is this year's aim of the Music Department. With emphasis on tonality and intonation plus a thorough exposure to different rhythmic, harmonic, and melodic pattern, it is the department's hope to present a better quality of musical programs in assembly, in concert and on the athletic fields.

Patterns to Remember

"Remember When?"

It seems like only yesterday . . . How could we forget the great times we had throughout our years at Sayreville High? The first time we elected class officers; Blue and Gray Week when we had "Opposite Day"; the rivalry between Sayreville and South River; our T.A.P. Campaigns, trying to reach the top; the crowded halls and the exciting football games. We can now look back and smile on these days.

You're only in high school once, so any memories you have should be cherished ones. Don't look only to tomorrow, "yesterday" was a good day, too. Yesterday was a part of the patterns of youth that can never be retraced, only remembered.

The Junior Class started off the usual with the distribution of rings in September. Also in September the Juniors participated actively in Homecoming when they entered the float: " '70 Excels in Sports." The day was highlighted at night with the Homecoming Dance.

Although these activities help to keep the Junior Class officers and advisors busy, their goal of this 68-69 year is the Junior Prom. The Junior class has both the spirit and the drive that it takes to become mighty Seniors.

With the memories of their Freshman year behind them, The Sophomores of 1971 have been working harder than ever to make themselves recognized by the superior Junior and Senior classes. This year's Sophomore class has increased its activities in an effort to inflate their class funds. The traditional Sweetheart Dance, with its presentation of royalty, was one of the various social events conducted. A Sophomore Homecoming Float was constructed to add to the gaiety of the annual Homecoming football game. With their Sophomore year coming to a close, they are eagerly anticipating their upcoming role as upperclassmen.

QUO VADIS

Leadership, organization, talent and capable volunteers are the ingredients of the QUO VADIS staff endeavoring to produce one of the best yearbooks in the history of Sayreville High. The highly qualified editors do their utmost in producing for the students of Sayreville High a delightful and comprehensive record of all the events and activities of the school year. During the year, the efficient members of the yearbook staff hurry to meet their deadlines and plow their way through hundreds of articles and photographs.

to a visit to the New York Stock Exchange . . . nothing but people and paper in motion. Some editors spend so much time at the meetings that they consider it a home away from home. Photographs are of great importance in a yearbook and the Quo Vadis photographers make sure that there is an ample supply of fine photographs of both the usual and unusual. Difficult and time-consuming as the work may be, the members of Quo Vadis and their co-advisors, Miss Jane Stafford and Mr. James Todd enjoy every minute of it and their zest and zeal is reflected in the yearbook itself.

With much communication will he tempt thee, and smiling upon thee will get out thy secrets.

Hurrying to meet the deadline is the major goal which usually faces the capable staff of Sayreville High School's newspaper "ECHO-LITES." "I need more pictures!" is a familiar cry during one of the editorial meetings, followed by the furor of competent editors to fulfill the request. The staff, under the direction of a Mr. Soren Thomsen, usually puts out five papers a year with the purpose of keeping the students informed with the school news and happenings. The mock presidential election which was sponsored and covered by Echo-Lites met with great success due to the coordinated efforts of Editor-in-Chief John Hickey.

Primary goals of the newspaper include teaching its members newspaper techniques and writing skills. Among the various activities of Echo-Lites are the attendance by selected members at the National Columbia Convention in New York City, the selection of members to Quill and Scroll, and the creation of workshops to teach new staff members. Regular activities such as reporting, writing, and editing also keep the Echo-Lite staff occupied throughout the year.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

Service, leadership, scholarship and character—such are the standards which a student must meet for membership in THE NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY. Required to maintain scholastic averages of 85, members are carefully screened by a faculty to determine qualifications in the other three categories. Once selected, students are welcomed into the society at an annual tea and officially inducted at a candle-light ceremony.

To strike a more serious note, members work diligently at various fund raising projects to provide awards scholarships for deserving students each year.

The MATH CLUB, composed of mathematically oriented students, provides for its members enrichment, culture and recreation in this exciting and important field. Furnishing all involved with an expanded background in mathematics and preparing potential mathletes is the competent genius of the advisor Mr. Richard Brown.

Because manual calculations are rapidly being replaced by machinery, this club initiates interest in the complex principles behind computerization, calculus, and probabilities. An occasional presentation of a film often aids in a deeper understanding of the pending problem. Special phases of mathematics are also delivered in the lectures of math teachers while, at other times, the solution of problems of mathletes' tests comprise the activities of the day.

Anxiety and apprehension are the typical feelings of the MATHLETES as they await their scores of the contest which is given in various high schools each month. The Mathletes are usually composed of ten members, five of whom alternate with the others in representing our school.

Although the tests are of considerable difficulty, members of the team enjoy taking them as well as discussing them on the way home. The season concludes with a dinner which will be hosted by Sayreville High this year.

Strategy, reasoning, and fun are the three words which best describe the animation of the CHESS CLUB which convenes every Friday under the direction of Mr. George Evanovich. An incentive to master the game of chess is the prime motivation which initiated the commencement of a Chess Tournament sponsored by the club. While ingenuity is essential, the club also represents a means of relaxation for its members who, while enjoying a friendly, informal atmosphere, match wits with fellow students. A member's skill and cleverness may induce his participation in a tournament or it may persuade him to play just for fun, but, nevertheless, all are welcome. This is an important reason for its success.

Perhaps someday the SPANISH CLUB will send each of its members to a South American country, Mexico, or even Spain, but presently the club makes every effort to send at least one representative. While to foster the advancement and appreciation of the Spanish language might have been the initial objective, the Spanish Club, under the guidance of "Senora" Catherine Ludlow, has now become important to Sayreville's foreign relations by participating in the Foreign Exchange Student Program. As a student becomes more fluent through the study of Spanish in its natural environment, he also presents himself as an illustration of the American way of life. Financing their campaign are dances, the sale of candy and cupcakes, and, though this worthy project occupies much of their activities, time is still found to discuss such things as the "price of tortillas."

Marcela "Marcie" Achurra, Chilean Foreign Exchange Student

Latin, the language of the intellectual, bestows upon the individual a heritage of ancient Rome and a responsibility to carry on the tradition of scholarship. Thus may be summed up the aim of the LATIN CLUB, advised and directed by Miss Maryfern Andrews. During the monthly meetings, the students have come to recognize the advantages of so precise a language as Latin in their careful study of prose and poetry by such authors as Cicero and the indomitable Vergil.

The activities of the club are not limited merely to reading and recitation. Imitating the inquiring, razor-sharp minds of ancient Latin scholars, the students attempt to learn from their example. They are becoming acquainted with the culture of the Roman Empire, researching every detail from togas to toys, from reading to rhetoric, from finances to furniture. The members of the Latin Club have become acutely aware of the fact that Latin is not a "dead language" after all.

Miss Maryfern Andrews, Advisor

This is the true nature of home—it is the place of Peace; the shelter, not only from all injury, but from all terror, doubt and division.

Miss Judith Jalovich, Advisor

Miss Judith Jalovich and the members of the HOME ECONOMICS CLUB, who have had a background in this area, work together to become more knowledgeable in the homemaking field. Speakers attend the meetings demonstrating the latest cooking and appliance techniques.

To keep busy the girls organize such events as their spring picnic and an annual fashion show. At Christmas time they sold decorative candles and used the profits to buy a twelve-place silverware setting, which was donated to the school.

These skills in sewing, cooking and home furnishing are applicable in later life, regardless of every individual girl's future plans.

Mrs. Lorraine Simko, Advisor

*This is my world! within these narrow walls,
I own princely service.*

Comprised of students who volunteer their services to work in the school library before and after school, as well as during their study periods, the LIBRARY COUNCIL is responsible for the order in the library. Under the direction of Mrs. Lorraine Simko, the girls will always lend a hand in finding a book, obtaining a certain issue of a magazine, and, although knee-deep in a pile of books, "the girls" never fail to total up an overdue book fine!

Profits earned during the semi-annual book fairs not only help initiate an interest in good literature, but promote the study of Library Science through scholarships for senior members. Perhaps a very culturally-minded group of girls, the Library Council endeavor to provide themselves with an income from candy and cupcake sales to finance their trips to New York City. Art museums, Broadway shows, Lincoln Center for the Performing Arts, and, most recently, Tchaikovsky's immortal "Nutcracker Suite" express their interests.

*Literature is my Utopia. Here I

Our current civilization is so thoroughly permeated with science that, for many, the label "scientific" has become the dominant theme of the age. Advertisements proclaim the "scientific" nature of consumer goods that are "scientifically" proven. Human relations are supposed to be "scientific" nowadays. Conversations and debates have now become "scientific" discussions. And then there are those who believe that science will eventually solve "everything" and that, if only the world were run more "scientifically," it would be a much better place.

On January 22, 1969, the world maybe did become a much better place. The THIRD ANNUAL SCIENCE FAIR at Sayreville High School became the site of many concepts of the natural and physical sciences which, by use of many fundamental scientific principles, took the shape of many young scientists' projects. Genetics, Botany, Chemistry, Zoology, and Physics are just a few of the many categories in which research was done. Who knows? Perhaps because of his work at this successful Fair a spark of interest may incite someone to improve his world.

All the clamor at the football and basketball games is sure to be the PEP CLUB at its best, cheering on their alma mater. The enthusiasm and vivacity of the club are enough to encourage the whole school to join in the cheers. Accompanying smiling faces are blue felt cowboy hats which are the symbol of spirit this year. Inducing spirit through the school by distributing beat cards, pins and "pep posters," club members strive to promote spirit and good sportsmanship.

To make known to the student body the dates of athletic participants before and after the games is the purpose of the club. Helping out the cheerleaders and selling tickets for away games highlight the club's activities, headed by Mrs. Hefelfinger and Miss Foley.

*Then give to the world the best you have,

Miss Mary Foley, Co-Advisor

Mrs. Dorothy Parks, Advisor

Under the supervision of Mrs. Dorothy Parks, the French Club has an important aspect in the life of the language student at SWMHS. The first year has been devoted to organizing the club: deciding membership requirements, purpose and format.

The members are students who are studying or who have studied French and all pay the dues of one franc (20¢) per meeting. Their decided purpose is to further an interest in the culture and language of France. The format in the future will include research on different French cities, hoping to give the students better knowledge of the country itself.

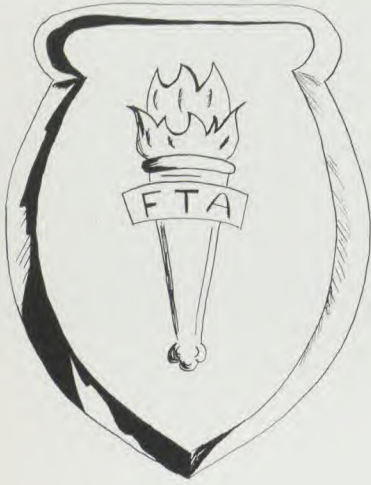

As yet, there is still much work to be done in order to give the French Club a secure place among the extra-curricular activities at SWMHS. Still, the members have succeeded in their "cause celebre" and deem the club to be the finishing touch to give the students a cultural background for his language studies.

Students planning on careers as teachers compose the FUTURE TEACHERS OF AMERICA: perhaps future teachers of Sayreville High School! Mrs. Barbara Day and the eager to-be-teachers meet and discuss the responsibilities and rewards of entertaining such a career. Guest speakers provide an opportunity for exploring the teaching profession. Many guest speakers appear at the school frequently. The students often visit state colleges where they learn many aspects of life at a teachers college. The members contribute monthly and through dues and club profits, awards will be given at graduation for the most promising Future Teacher of America.

To promote the newly-arising awareness in the political, economic and social sciences is the aim of the newly established SOCIAL SCIENCES CLUB. It attracts young men and women who are concerned with the problems their local, state, and national governments face. The organization, at the same time, is a forum for young people to study and discuss important economic and social issues. During the monthly meetings, members participate in political affairs, develop their talents, and gain the experience and training necessary to prepare them for leadership in governmental activities after graduation. Its main contribution to the school is the sponsoring of Youth Week in which all politically-minded students take part. Mr. Richard Kahrman, advisor, also stresses the development of social contacts with the members of political and science clubs throughout the nation.

The annual JUNIOR-SENIOR MUSICAL was presented to the public by the students of Sayreville War Memorial High School on April 24, 25, and 26. This year's production of Cole Porter's "KISS ME KATE" boasts the following credits: Director, Mr. Patrick Arvino; Choreographer, Mr. Leo Muller; Music, Mr. Jack Felton and Mr. Alan Mount; Costumes, Miss Judith Jalovick; Make-up, Mrs. Irene Todd; Scenery, Messrs. John Resh, Lynn Paul and Alfred Riker.

The play centers around an off-Broadway production of Shakespeare's "The Taming of the Shrew," featuring two semi-successful performers, Lilli Vanessi (Barbara Garrity) and Fred Graham (Matt Anderson), who were once husband and wife. Trouble brews when Fred sends opening-night flowers to starlet Lois Lane (Pat Ferriero) and these are mistakenly delivered to Lilli. To add to the turmoil, Lois' boyfriend Bill (Ken Sopher) has signed Fred's name to a gambling debt. Before the entire situation is resolved, the cast makes a valiant attempt to do justice to the Bard's comedy, while two gunmen (Jerry Jones and Gary DeLena) interfere with the production. Lilli comes to realize that she is totally bored with her current fiancé (Greg Marzullo) and the former Mr. and Mrs. Graham find that they are really "So in Love" after all.

The GLEE CLUB is composed of fifty carefully-selected sopranos and altos. The girls strive, under the direction of Mr. Mount who frequently accompanies them on the piano, for perfect harmony in their presentations. These include participation in Christmas assemblies, the annual musical, and the Spring Concert. In addition, civic organizations often request that the girls perform at special gatherings.

The Glee Club provides in this year's Junior-Senior Musical delightful harmony for Lerner and Lowe's comedy, "Kiss Me Kate." Combining experience, voice training and quality the girls perform in both chorus and solo arrangements contributing much to the enjoyment of the audience and the general success of the play.

Giving the students an insight into the procedures and functions of the business world is the objective of the FUTURE BUSINESS LEADERS OF AMERICA. Professionally, the club participates in regional contests and attends state conventions. Among the school activities, the members are noted for participating in pretzel sales, dances, and picnics. The money from these projects helps to furnish some of the finances for field trips to local industries and for the Annual Awards Banquet.

The Sayreville Chapter of the FBLA is one of one thousand throughout the nation. Under the direction and guidance of the club's advisors, Miss Shirley Chalpinski and Mr. Stephen Cyrus, the club has a membership totaling one hundred interested students desiring to be a part of the complex business world of tomorrow.

The purposes of this course include developing a respect for education in marketing and distribution which contributes to occupational competence, and promoting an understanding and an appreciation of responsibilities in our free enterprise system.

A "show window" for student achievement, DECA attracts students who are interested in marketing or distribution careers, and assists in subject matter and presentation activities during the year.

The profits from rummage sales, paper drives, cake sales, and toy donations, all go to the orphans at the Mount Loretta Orphan Home. Attending conferences, competing in contests, and holding the annual banquet in March rounds out the course of events, with Mr. Edward Langan, a new addition to Sayreville High, as advisor.

The girls are eligible for membership in the National Thespian Society, and each year receive a pin for their work. Prepared to transform the cast of players into anything from Indians to Nuns, the girls learn more with each performance. Where would a play be opening night if the girls decided to take a powder?

Under the direction of Mr. John Resh, who combines the talents of school carpenters and artists, members of STAGECRAFT are largely responsible for the success of the yearly Junior-Senior Musical.

This year, preparations for "Kiss Me Kate" began several months in advance. Afternoons were spent drawing scenery designs, constructing professional-like backgrounds with skill and precision, bringing scenes to life with realistic colors and sketches. Members of the organization are drawn from various classes in the school such as drafting, industrial arts and art.

Students interested in dramatic productions along with advisor, Mrs. Joyce Carroll, compose Troupe 2884 of the NATIONAL THESPIAN SOCIETY. Anyone with previous experience in a play, whether acting, singing, dancing, or being a stage hand is your "thing," can be a pledge to the Thespian Society. Full-fledged members must have accumulated ten points of performance credits during their high school years. Various numbers of points are awarded for different facets of drama productions. This point system instills a desire to participate more actively in school plays.

The purpose of the club is the advancement and improvement of the dramatic arts program in Sayreville High. Besides the yearly drama and musical, the club presents skits to the public and takes field trips to professional plays to give them a taste of drama at its best. Climaxing the year's work is the initiation ceremony for the induction of new members.

Sayreville High a Dominican convent? Yes, this was the setting of THE CRADLE SONG, directed by Mrs. Joyce Carroll, a touching story of a girl's love and devotion for a convent of nuns who have reached out to help her after being abandoned on their doorsteps. The nuns, played by Chris Rogers, Rochelle Mauro, Dorothy Hayden, Mary Ann Chaconsis, Karen Downey, Donna Unkel, Nancy Veit, Pam Iacofoli, and Ruth Synarski are in quite a dither since the child's arrival. Bill Kroner, playing the aged doctor, contributes to the adoption by allowing the child to use his name.

Act II, after the poet Dan McCarthy, gives the audience an insight as to what has occurred in the eighteen-year time lapse, opens with Teresa (Joann Wasilewski) preparing to leave her "Mothers" to marry the wealthy, handsome Antonio (Daniel Davitt). Laughs as well as tears are common throughout the play, which concludes with the beautiful scene of Teresa's departure.

Representing the students is the main function of the STUDENT COUNCIL. Council representatives chosen by fellow classmates discuss and attempt to find solutions to the problems facing the student body at Sayreville High.

Under the capable assistance of the advisors, Mrs. Angelica Marra and Miss Marianne Kwitkowski, the Council is able to partake in many interesting and rewarding activities. Another activity of the Council is to keep the students informed of all activities.

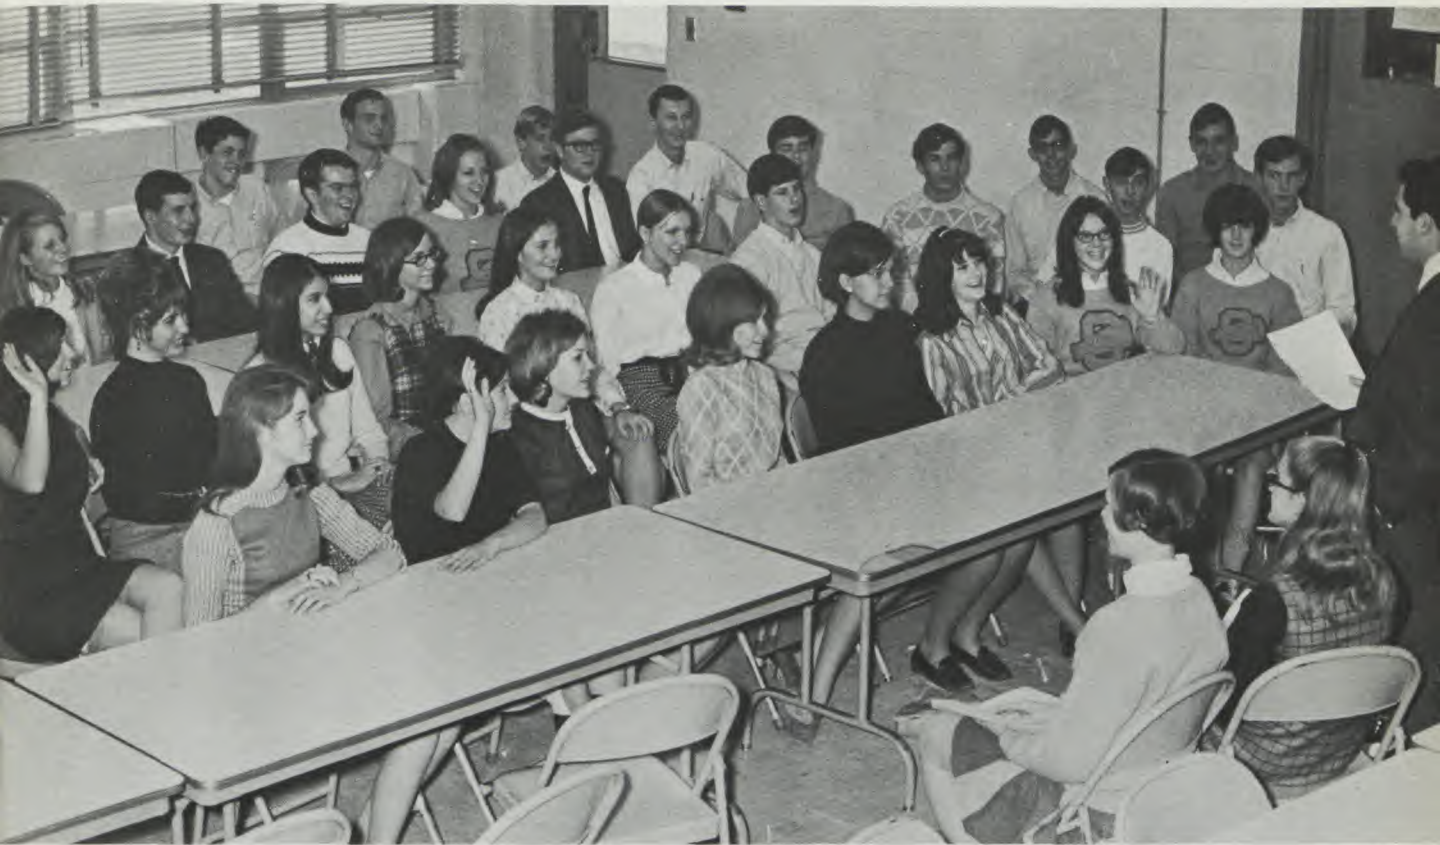

The Student Council also takes responsibility for various functions throughout the school year. This year through the enthusiasm and creativity of President Art Spiro the council afforded the students a pleasant Homecoming, complete with floats. In December the school grounds and building were transformed into a winter wonderland through the help of various council members.

Student complaints and gripes were also forwarded by the Council to the proper authorities and many improvements were realized through Council efforts.

Teens against polio is the annual fund drive undertaken by the students to supplement the city's March of Dimes program. Under the direction of the student council chose two representatives. The six candidates beg, urge and plead their fellow students to contribute in order to be able to say that their class helped the most. An extra incentive was added this year when an electric typewriter was a prize in a raffle to increase the collections.

The students of Sayreville give willingly and make extra efforts because they know their sacrifices are helping crippled children to walk and play like normal children.

Intensive spirit and hard hitting were the trademarks of Sayreville's '68 football season. Head coach Tom Michaels piloted his team to a record of five wins and four defeats resulting in the Bombers' first winning season since 1964. This record does not tell the whole story, since the Sayreville gridders lost three heart-breaking games each by margins of seven points or less.

Turning in a spectacular performance was All-County back Gary George. This explosive runner and accurate passer gained over 1,000 yards passing and rushing as well as scoring 14 touchdowns for 84 points.

In its third year at Sayreville, soccer has become widely accepted and appreciated. The competition found that the Bomber squad of 1968 was a team of tough and spirited players who never let up the pressure. Coach Jack Hefelfinger guided the Varsity booters to a 3-9-2 record against some of the toughest teams in the area. The Junior Varsity compiled a 5-7-3 record under Coach John Barrie.

CROSS COUNTRY

Sayreville's cross country runners put together a highly successful campaign in 1968. These long-distance trackmen ran a grueling  $2\frac{1}{2}$ -mile course during meets and greater distances during a daily practice. Their efforts were rewarded with an outstanding record of 10-1 and the Central Jersey Group IV Division II championship. Coach Tom Pugliese and his team can be proud of their work.

WINTER TRACK

Through the winter track program at Sayreville, trackmen were able to stay in shape during the colder months and also participate in regular meet competition. Due to a lack of facilities, the track team was obliged to practice outdoors and hold most dual meets at Rutgers, but they were undaunted by such handicaps.

Having won the state championship the previous year, the Bomber Winter Track team compiled a 2-4 record in 1969 under the coaching of Mr. Thomas Michaels. In two short years Winter Track has become a vital link in the overall track program at Sayreville.

FIELD HOCKEY

For the first time Girls' Field Hockey found its way onto the sports roster at Sayreville. The girls went out for each contest with confidence in their abilities, a determination to win, and the luck provided by their mascot Pierre, a small, gray poodle. The Varsity, under the coaching of Miss Marcia Westaby, ended with a very respectable record of five wins, two losses, and one tie. In addition, the Varsity Hockey Team placed 2nd in their division in a North Jersey Field Hockey Tournament. The Junior Varsity, under Mrs. Janet Hefelfinger, finished with a strong 5-1-2 record.

The beginning of the grueling two-mile.

The 1969 Track Team faced the season's competition with a squad of spirited athletes dedicated to the sport. With the large variety of events, each meet was exciting from a spectator's point of view. To the team members, however, each meet was a serious competitive effort. In their first season as track and field coaches, Tom Michaels and Jack Hefelfinger taught their boys the necessity of practice. As a result, Sayreville was represented by a fine, all-around team.

BASKETBALL

Throughout the season the 1968-69 Basketball squad was noted for its deliberate offense and harassing man-to-man defense. Under the supervision of Coach Tom Pugliese the Sayreville cagers compiled a record of 11 wins and 13 losses. In the Middlesex County Holiday Tournament the Bombers made a fine showing and won second place, runner-up to the powerful Perth Amboy. The Sayreville Varsity also qualified for the State Tournament but lost by two points in the opening round to New Brunswick in a tightly played contest. The Junior Varsity under Mr. Louis Carcich finished with an 8-12 record for the year.

Perseverance and dedication were the key words of Sayreville's 1968-69 Wrestling season. Forced by space limitations to hold practice in the cafeteria, the members of the team kept their spirits even when performing chores such as rolling up mats and carrying them through the halls. Altogether the team record was a disappointing 1-9-1, each man came through with an effort in each and every match. Throughout the season the Bomber matmen never lost confidence but continued to take pride in their team. Coaches Wolinski and Decker not only instructed the Bomber wrestlers in the intricacies of the sport but instilled in them a sense of sportsmanship which lasted through both victory and defeat.

Coordination, concentration, as well as physical strength were attributes of each member of the 1968-69 Gymnastics Team. Performing their routines under the able coaching of Mr. Jack Hefelfinger, the boys gained in skill and personal satisfaction with each succeeding meet. The Bomber gymnasts were both determined and spirited as shown by their outstanding 12-2 record. In the state competition, four boys: Tom Scott, John Dahl, Dan Hockenjos, and John Orlasky, reached the finals.

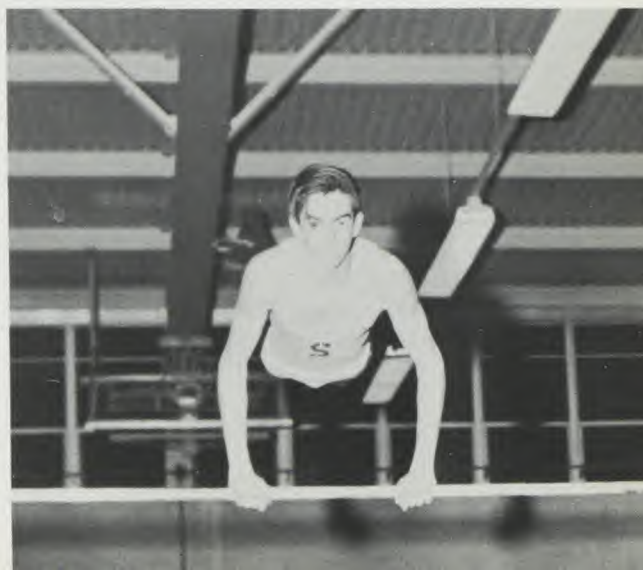

Sayreville did well in the state finals with John Dahl finishing third in vaulting and fourth in tumbling, Tom Scott placing sixth on the side horse, and John Orlasky taking ninth place on the horizontal bar.

1969 saw Sayreville field a highly skilled as well as spirited Girls' Gymnastics Team. Unlike the boys', the girls' events call for form, grace, poise, and continuity. Under the coaching of Mrs. Janet Hefelfinger, each member of the squad strove for perfection in the ballet-like form, which is the key to success in this sport. The season, which was marked by two close losses to county-rival East Brunswick, was an overall 2-5. Sayreville High is proud to be one of the few schools in the state which sponsors a Girls' Gymnastic Team.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

"There's the opening jump, and the game has begun . . ."

Possessing all the seriousness and dedication to the sport of their male counterparts, the 1969 Girls' Basketball Team completed a successful season. Although a girls' team used six players, there was still a full 32 minutes of action on the court. At the games, spirit was never lacking due to the largely female crowds who were not shy about exercising their vocal cords.

Varsity coach, Miss Judith Sunski, and J. V. coach, Miss Marcia Westaby, guided their teams to records of 7-7 and 9-1 respectively. With several varsity players returning next year, hopes for the future are bright for this "powderpuff" sport.

Team leaders: Coach John Wortley and Captain Gary George.

Proudly wearing the Bomber uniform, the 1969 Baseball team strove to continue the winning ways which have been like a tradition with Sayreville teams of past years. This season's squad displayed unusual balance, with strength in hitting, fielding, and pitching. The varsity team owed a great deal to their veteran coach, John Wortley, who developed in his players the combination of ability, spirit, and sportsmanship, which has been the key to success for many seasons. Coach Robert Hudock served to develop the younger talent in his position as J.V. Coach.

1969 JUNIOR VARSITY BASEBALL TEAM—1ST ROW: B. Cristosi, K. Kuczynski, J. McArthur, D. Hockenjos, T. Roberts, J. Maliszewski, Coach Robert Hudock, 2ND ROW: B. Haas, C. Harris, R. Arden, S. Gorrie, J. Ust, T. Mancini, 3RD ROW: J. Buehler, J. Dunn, V. Nadin, B. Buckiewicz, T. Gabel, G. Lyon.

CHEERLEADERS

Clad in their unmistakable blue and gray uniforms the cheerleaders provided abundant amounts of spirit for the 1968-69 sports events. These girls not only encouraged moral support at games and pep rallies, but represented the pride everyone in the school had for all of the Bomber athletes.

The cheerleaders were selected on the basis of ability, character, and personality as displayed during spring tryouts supervised by cheerleading advisor Mrs. Miriam Fehrle. The girls strove for perfection by participating in summer instructional camp and local competition.

TWIRLING
