GOING IN ALL DIRECTIONS

DIRECTION -n- a guidance or supervision of action or conduct; a channel or direct course of thought or action; the line of course on which something is moving or is aimed to move.

What plan of action or direction do you plan on taking next year? If you are an underclassman, your educational plans will probably include further learning at the SWMHS. On the other hand, if you are a senior, your options are innumerable.

Whether it may be off to college, getting a job, or any other activity, everyone will be ending their high school life. This may mean leaving some good friends behind, but most will be meeting new and interesting people. Moving on also adds up to new challenges that we will have to face, and possible difficult decisions we will have to make. Whatever the case may be, it is not only the end of a former period of our lives but the start of a bright new future. Now is the time to start choosing the directions in life that you plan on pursuing. There are so many different ways we can go, so many vast directions. The opportunities are there for the taking.

Sooner or later all students must decide on the direction for their future.

A NIGHT IN PARADISE

May 16, 1987 marked the annual Junior Prom that took place in our own cafeteria. Who would have guessed that this beautifully decorated room that portrayed the theme "An Evening in Paradise" was in actuality our lunchroom.

Each guest was greeted an ALOHA with the traditional lei. While entering a dimly lit room filled with everything from 3-D paper palm trees and real pine-apples. Once dinner was over, the band Flossie played and practically everyone danced to the beat.

This once in a lifetime memory would not have been possible if it was not for the Junior class advisors, class officers, and everyone else who donated their time and effort.

Got a match? These three seemed to have a tropical time.

Who is that behind those sunglasses? (Yes, that is Jon Bon Jovi posing with Linda and Ivy).

It must have been the food, Tony. (Maria, Hani, Karen and Mary look for help.)

Kris Kupcha jokes around on the dance floor. Aren't they cute? Michelle Huguenin and Rich Gluchowski snuggle at the prom.

BRIGADOON SPRINGS TO LIFE

Between the mist and the murky brae, "Brigadoon" appeared on the Sayreville stage last spring. "Brigadoon," last year's musical, was about a magical Scottish town that appears every one hundred years.

The play received great reviews and held a large reception of viewers. The play began with two Americans, Tommy Albright (Mark Ilardi) and Jeff Douglas (senior Jack Cibrian) wandered into Brigadoon which appeared that day.

Differences couldn't keep Fiona MacLaren (Alicia Dietsch), an 18th century Scottish lass and Tommy, a 1947 hunter from falling in love, not even two hundred years.

During the play's performance, the audience went through a wedding between Charles Dalrymple (Joe Dibella) and Jean MacLaren (Lisa Campion). They also viewed the funeral of town villain, Harry Beaton portrayed by junior Hugh Klitzke.

Stunning performances from upcoming actresses were from senior Kelly Ann Quick and Wendy Zakrewski. Kelly played Jane Ashton, and Wendy portrayed Frankie, the bartender which showed their ability for future plays.

Brigadoon was a very successful production because of the efforts of Mr. Michael Piccuiro, Mr. Thomas Malisezewski, Miss Marie Osolinski, and Mr. Robert Speller. The talent of the cast, crew, pit and faculty made "Brigadoon" a wonderful reality.

INDUCTION CEREMONY HONORS SCHOLARS

Scholarship, leadership, character, and service. These are the words that best describe the members of the National Honor Society. Election into the society is a distinction of which every student can boast. Both juniors and seniors can be elected, but they must satisfy certain requirements. Qualifications include a 3.0 grade point average and membership in at least three different school sponsored clubs. Once you are in the prestigious society, you are in for life.

Under the guidance of Miss Annette Sowa, the Induction ceremony was one of the highlights of the school. Students draped in blue robes and carrying candles gave the ceremony all the charm it needed. The audience was rewarded with a stirring rendition of "Believe in Yourself" by Alicia Dietsch. Afterwards, all were invited to a delicious snack prepared by Mrs. Newton and her foods class.

THE YEAR IN REVIEW

The year 1987 brought with it a great deal of triumphs and tragedies. Technology advanced and major obstacles were overcome. Both human successes and failures were spotlighted. All in all, it was an eventful year.

Here are just a few of the stories that kept us intrigued as well as entertained.

Marine Lt. Col. Oliver L. North, was a key official in the plan to finance anti-government rebels in Nicaragua with money from arms sales to Iran. In testimony before the Iran-Contra hearings in Washington, North became somewhat of a celebrity.

Democratic presidential candidate Gary Hart was forced to drop his bid for the presidency after it was reported that he was romantically involved with Donna Rice, a 29 year old aspiring actress and model from Miami.

Television evangelists Jim and Tammy Faye Bakker said farewell to the PTL ministry in March. Jim Bakker resigned after confessing to a sexual encounter with a young woman. Tammy Bakker bowed out of the broadcasts to undergo treatment for drug dependency.

A barge filled with 3,128 tons of garbage became a national joke and a symbol of the nation's worsening problem with solid waste management. The barge, looking for a place to dump its cargo, was banned by six states and three foreign countries before an incinerator reduced it to ash.

The Dow Jones industrial stock average dropped 508 points, the largest in history, on Monday, October 19. Some called it a "crash," others called it a "meltdown" and others called it "Black Monday." Whatever it was, it stripped $500 billion from the market value of U.S. securities.

An earthquake that measured 6.1 on the Richter scale hit Southern California in October. It was not a catastrophic quake, but the damage was extensive.

The Golden Gate Bridge in San Francisco celebrated its 50th birthday. About 250,000 people jammed onto the bridge for an anniversary walk across the span. Another 500,000 packed the bridge approaches but were denied access because the engineers feared the span could not support the weight.

A 24-day strike by the NFL players ended in mid-October when the union capitulated and went to court instead of trying to fight the club owners at the bargaining table.

The Senate rejected President Reagan's nomination of Robert H. Bork to the Supreme Court by a 58-42 vote, which ended a long contentious debate over a judge alternately portrayed as a brilliant jurist and a dangerous extremist.

In the six years since Americans first heard of a mysterious immunity-robbing disease from which no one recovers, AIDS has killed nearly 25,000 Americans, millions of dollars have poured into medical research and President Reagan has proclaimed the plague "Public Health Enemy No. 1."

Kirby Puckett and Jeff Raerden of the Minnesota Twins celebrate their World Series victory over the St. Louis Cardinals. The Twins won the seventh and final game of the series 4-2.

The year also brought with it the deaths of some eternally famous biggies.

Homecoming '88

On October 23, 1987, SWMHS celebrated its annual Homecoming. The festivities kicked off with the Pep Rally that morning. All the fall sports teams were introduced by the members of the Student Council, and cheered on by the crowd. The Seniors proved their dominance by crushing the underclassmen in the tug of war. Although the Seniors felt that they were cheated, the Juniors were ruled the loudest in the Class Cheer Competition.

As the day turned to night, the activities got underway. While the Bombers struggled on the football field, the Homecoming floats were on display. During half-time, the junior reigned victorious. After the float competition, the Homecoming Court, which consisted of GERALYN GEISLER, Karen Szewczyk, Heather Traverse, Barbara Willis, and Peggy Woods, paraded the field. Tension filled the air. A jubilant Karen Szewczyk was crowned Homecoming Queen. The audience cheered in agreement with the decision. Unfortunately, the crowd's enthusiasm diminished because of the Bombers loss to Woodbridge.

Enthusiastic Seniors trampled the underclassmen in the tug-of-war. Juniors display their winning float. Although they were defeated, the freshmen gave it their best shot.

CANDID SHOTS

CURTAIN GOING UP

This year's fall theatre performance Curtain Going Up was actually a play within a play. Miss Irene Burgess (Kelly Quick) was an inexperienced high school director who encounters every possible pitfall in the production of her first play. Irene got off to a bad start by angering Old Tony (Martin Ferwerda), the janitor and having a tiff with costume designer/home economics teacher Carolyn Moran (Kim Stefani). In addition to all her troubles, Miss Moran was extremely jealous of Irene's relationship with journalism teacher Norman Carter (Matt Lichenstein).

Just when it seemed that things could not get worse, Senior Class Advisor, Miss Henrietta Rivers (Stacy Maltzman) cut the production budget in half.

Besides the other faculty giving Irene problems, she had to deal with jealous actresses as well. Although she used her best judgement in assigning Lorry Fuller (Wendy Zakrzewski) the lead, spoiled Nancy Levaidge (Beth Silverman) felt that she deserved the main role, and would do anything to get it. Starstruck Lorry Fuller was taken with T.J. Guthrie (Hugh Klitzke) who was Nancy's boyfriend. Meanwhile, jilted Andy Fulbright (Jack Cibrian) tried to convince Lorry that she just had stars in her eyes. Nancy, finally over T.J., took up with the class clown Milton Sanders (Joe Refano).

In the end, everyone learned their lessons that jealousy was a greeneyed monster, and crime doesn't pay.

SPIRIT WEEK SOARS

Students show their school spirit by wearing sweats.

February 22nd through the 27th, 1988 was definitely no ordinary week. SWMHS participated in yet another class competition — SPIRIT WEEK. Each day was designated with a specific theme.

On Monday, February 22nd, all students were encouraged to wear hats. Tuesday was established as sweats day. For a change of pace, students were asked on Wednesday to support their class by wearing a particular mode of dress: seniors — concert tees, juniors — sunglasses, sophomores — inside out, and freshmen — Hawaiian. Denims were in on Thursday and to finish off the week, students were asked to wear their class colors.

On Wednesday, February 24th it wasn't hard to figure out that it was senior concert tee day.

OM FINISHES ON TOP AGAIN

Central Jersey Regionals 1st place Ratlantis.

Over the years, Sayreville has proven to be a force to reckon with in the Odyssey of the Mind (OM) competitions.

This year's team maintained the tradition at their recent regional competition held at Ocean Township on March 18, 1988. All four teams under the direction of coach, Ms. Carla Sutherland, advanced to the State Tournament.

First of all, was the Atlantis team who placed 1st in their category. The main objective of this problem was to build a vehicle that could transport passengers such that they could pick up specified articles from the floor. The catch, however, was that no two objects could be removed in the same manner.

Placing 3rd at Ocean Twp., the members of the Gift of Flight spent their days after school constructing various types of paper airplanes. These airplanes would then have to perform certain tasks. For instance, on the planes was required to pick up six ping-pong balls and place each one in a basket. In addition to fulfilling the technical aspects of the problem, this team received special recognition for its artistic qualities. They were awarded two Rantra Fusca awards, one for the artwork on their scenery and another for consistency maintaining their theme throughout the entire presentation. Also receiving a Ranatra Fusch award was the 1st place It's Showtime team. They were commended and the artistic impression of their solution.

In this problem students were asked to select a play and then create an 8 minute musical scene based on their selection. More importantly, however, their scene must include one song to which they have written original lyrics.

Finally, there was the Straddle Structure team which finished 4th at the Regionals. The spirit of their task was to construct a structure weighing less than 15 ounces and standing less than 8 inches high. The difficulty lies in the factor that this structure should be able to hold hundreds of pounds of weights without being crushed.

On Saturday, April 30 the four teams will be competing in the State Tournament in Edison Township. The 1st place teams in each of the categories will receive the privilege of representing New Jersey at the World Tournament in Maryland.

When you wish upon a structure . . .

SAYREVILLE SWEEPS DECA COMPETITIONS

Sayreville War Memorial High School's chapter of the Distributive Education Clubs of America does it again!

At a conference held on March 7-9 at the Great Gorge Mountain View Resort, Sayreville DECA received 22 awards in their state leadership.

Leading the way was Rupal Shah with a first place in the Finance and Credit written event. Presently, Rupal is the Central Region Blue Vice President for New Jersey DECA. Also, Charlene Macaluso and Greg Noa placed second in the Advertising and Display and General Marketing supervisory level respectfully.

Third place winners include Christina Castronova in the Fashion Model Casual, while Yvonne Basarab won in the Fashion Merchandising event. Other third place winners included Joanne Riley in Finance and Credit CBCE Event and Judi-Jo Fuoti in Food Marketing Master Employee Level.

Honorable mentions were Heather Traverse in General Marketing supervisory level, Debbie Chmielewski for Vehicle and Petroleum Marketing and Jean Bohling for Fashion Modeling Casual.

This year was the first year Sayreville DECA entered Chapter Events. These events must be completed by all of the members in the chapter. For the first time, Sayreville DECA had two honorable men-

As a part of the competition, awards are presented to students who are outstanding in one area of the competitions. Heather Traverse, Margaret Seaman, Judi-Jo Fuoti, Debbie Chmielewski, Angela D'Onofrio, Kristine Mombaur, Mary Ann Vicino, Joanne Riley, and Charlenen Macaluso received either a first or second place in a written test or a role play situation. A role play situation is one in which a student is judged on the way he handles a business situation.

Michelle Stoebling, elected Central Region Blue Vice President for New Jersey DECA High School Division, will begin her term in June taking Rupal Shah's place. This is the second year that Sayreville's chapter has a state officer for DECA.

Finally, a scholarship was presented to Peggy Woods for excellence in Marketing Education. Central Region Marketing Education teacher/coordinators awarded her a $750.00 scholarship, which will help defray her expenses at Montclair State College.

In total, Sayreville DECA won 22 awards and is presently preparing for the national competition to be held in Salt Lake City, Utah in April.

Cindy Pancurak, Sherri Mafucci, Lori Diaczyszyn, and Gail Buckler enjoy the festivities.

JOSEPH . . .

Under the direction of Mr. Michael Piccuiro, this year's spring musical Joseph and the Technicolor Dreamcoat was a tremendous success.

The play began when Joseph, played by an outstanding Joseph Refano, was sold into slavery by his jealous brothers (played by Jon Snyder, Jack Cibrian, Rajat Shah, Nick Caparaso, Joe Lajewski, John Brophy, Matt Frohn, Paresh Patel, David Dietsch, Hugh Klitzke, and Stan Laikowski). After working his way up to head servant, he was seduced by his owner's wife, Mrs. Potiphar (Wendy Zakrewski) and upon finding this out, Joseph was thrown into jail by Potiphar. A long stay in jail passed before Joseph was released to interpret the dreams of Pharoah (Jack Cibrian) and because of his interpretation, Egypt was saved from seven years of famine. At this time, Joseph was named the Pharoah's right hand man.

Joseph's long lost jealous brothers, now reformed, went to Egypt to beg for food. However, they realized that the person to whom they were begging was actually the brother that they believed was dead. In happiness and joy, the family was reunited and lived forever in peace.

Director Mick Piccuiro instituted one night for an understudy performance in order to give the understudies one night in the limelight.

Potiphar (Hugh Klitzke) flashed some cash.

Band Reaches For Stars

The 1987-88 Bomber Band has experienced a very up and down season this past year. The onset of the year saw the band as being an extremely inexperienced group of kids marching in circles. The mostly under-class marching unit had their work cut out for them. As time progressed, the band's quality of marching and musical technique improved greatly. This was evident, for the band scored a 78.5, which was the highest score in history. Under the careful eye of Mr. Fossa, who is unfortunately leaving, the band had its best season ever. Hopefully, with this year's members returning next year, the Bomber Band will have the good fortune of experiencing an even better season, and continue its quest of reaching for the stars.

1 Sheep, 2 Sheep, 3 Sheep, zzz . . .

Mrs. Hazners sits quietly at home, reviewing the German Club accounts and checking membership cards. Gradually she becomes more and more tired until . . . 1 sheep, 2 sheep, 3 sheep, zzzz . . .

. . . The German Club, with its many outgoing members, had a fun and eventful year. It all started with a one week trip to Hamburg, West Germany to enrich their young and inquisitive minds. They stayed at the world famous five star hotel, the Hotel Ambasadore, located at the center of this historic city. After returning from the cultural event of a lifetime, the senior club members received many speeding tickets, no doubt due to the excessive speeds allowed on the autobahn . . . In November, the German Club rented the movies The Sound of Music and Dass Boot and applied the cultural values portrayed in the movies to their everyday lives . . . Our favorite teacher, in keeping with the spirit of the events, wore her brown lederhosen for one month straight and cooked fresh Weinerschnitzel for her fifth period class every Wednesday of the month. Although not a professional singer, she yodelled her way into our hearts and minds; obsessing all of the German Club with her fantastic singing . . .

. . . "ring", "ring", "ring", "ri..", wha . . . , uhhh . . . #!@*#$ . . . Hello?!? And so the German Club fantasy ended. Frau Hazner's dream (nightmare?) had come to an abrupt end. Who knows?? It just might come true . . . But for now she returns to the reality of endless candy sales, preparation for parties, and other common activities.

The Students' Choice — The Spanish Club

One question on the tip of many students' tongues is, "What can I do after school??" One very popular option is the Spanish Club, headed by Miss C. Kwiatkowski and Mrs. C. Ludlow. This year the club has attracted more than 300 members from all grades and language backgrounds.

The "Club Espanol" traditionally sponsors many activities, including the Columbus Day party, candy corn contest, Foreign language Winter Festival and various dinner and theatre trips. This organization also participates in the annual Thanksgiving food drive, sponsored by the Sayreville Recreation Department.

So now you're saying, "How can I join??" Well, membership is not restricted just to Spanish speaking students, because language is not a pre-requisite. As Jack Cibirian (President), D.C. Sparandera (Vice President), Rajat Shah (Secretary), and Lisa Treiber (Treasurer) will tell you, the only requirements you must fill are an interest in the Spanish culture and the need to have FUN!

French Club: Upholding Traditions

This year has been fun-filled and exciting for many of Sayreville's clubs, including the French Club. This year, under the leadership of Matt Lichenstein (President), Cathy Hunter (Vice President), Lisa Ferri (Secretary) and Tiffany Williams (Treasurer), the French Club continued to uphold the traditions on which the club was based. With the constant aid and guidance of Mrs. Parks, the members of this organization participated in a Halloween Party and a Holiday Festival, just to name a few.

Although the club was overlooked by many, its members, numbering over 70, saw many advantages in avid participation. Enrollment in French classes was not required, only the presence of a fun-loving spirit was needed to participate in this enjoyable activity.

"Doesn't this look good?", ask Lisa Ferri, Matt Lichenstein, and Kristie Boxman.

The French Club officers: Matt Lichenstein, Cathy Hunter, Lisa Ferri and Tiffany Williams, take time out from their merry-making to pose for a picture.

The Recipe for Success

1 cup ingenuity
2 cups creative spirit
1 qt. team work
1 gal. desire to win tons dedication
dash craziness
1 tsp. insanity

... these and many, many more ingredients were needed to create the perfect Odyssey of the Mind team member.

These dedicated, creative, (crazy?) individuals devoted endless hours (& hours & hours & hours . . .) of hard work and heavy duty brain-storming to each of their respective teams. Through their knowledge of music & lyric writing, drama, architecture, robotics & locomotion, and aeronautics they created inspirational and inventive solutions for their problems. Through a grueling process of testing and elimination, 28 students were chosen by Ms. Sutherland to represent our school throughout the county, state, and even the country.

This year's problems presented some interesting challenges. In "The Gift of Flight", students were challenged (dared?) to create six aircraft which would, individually, perform certain tasks. For instance, 1 paper airplane had to be made to stay aloft for a maximum of 10 seconds. For the problem "Atlantis", the members had to invent a vessel (like a submarine) which would collect artifacts from the lost city of Atlantis. "It's Showtime" was a problem which asked for the creation of a musical from one of the provided stage plays. The members of this highly creative team had to select music which conveyed their feelings and at the same time highlighted their lyrical interpretations of a scene from their chosen play. The last problem tackled by the Sayreville creative was "Straddle design and build a structure which would "straddle" an octagon of 1½" high and 7" wide. This might have been easy except for the fact that the entire structure could only be 8½" tall and constructed entirely of balsa wood. With inventive ideas and lots of diligence, these teams easily held their own among the State's top stars.

The "Recipe for Success" has been extremely provident for Ms. Sutherland. Her teams have recently gone to state and even world competitions, bringing back special awards and top honors each time.

Chances are that you've often heard the expression, "Friends don't let friends drive drunk." If so, you're probably wondering how this idea got started. Well, this saying is the motto of the organization, Students Against Drunk Driving — SADD for short.

The Sayreville chapter of SADD was organized in 1986 by Mrs. J. Sforza. The officers of SADD this year are: Ivy Wexler, President; Ann-Marie Chiarini, Vice President;

Lisa Stoddard, Secretary; and Missy Sumski, Treasurer. With the help of these officers and Mrs. Sforza, SADD sponsors many activities such as; SADD day and week, Food selling fund-raisers, foyer displays, balloon launches and much more.

So, if you're ever at a party where people are drinking, remember the immortal words of all SADD members — "FRIENDS DON'T LET FRIENDS DRIVE DRUNK."

Chorus: With Perfect Direction

Under the guidance and expertise of Miss Marie Osolinski, affectionately called "Miss O", the SWMHS chorus, Concert Choir, and Show Choir have had another sensational year.

Weekly, the members of the chorus practice to achieve their beautiful sound. After this rehearsal, members of the Concert Choirs and Show Choirs stay for their own rehearsals, sometimes as late as 8:00 pm. There are also occasional incidental rehearsals for such activities as Bell Choir, CJMEA regional and state try-outs and any other times that students need help with their voices. Miss O also directed the pit band and taught chorus parts for this year's musical.

This year, much like those of the past, the chorus travelled to various competitions and sang their hearts out. Among their credits are the Winter and Spring Concerts, Teen Arts Festivals, Six Flags Festival, and the Spring Arts and Craft Fair. Also they travelled to two Nursing Homes at Christmastime — "singing" in the cheer!

The success and prosperity of Sayreville's choruses is very dependent on all of the time and hard work devoted by Miss Osolinski and the members of the choruses. For their efforts, the Chorus, Concert Chorus and Show Choir have acquired their melodious sounds.

Thespians Relax

Active Thespians temporarily at rest.

Have you ever been interested in pretending that you're someone else? Have you ever suddenly started to talk in a weird voice or act like an animal? If so, the perfect club for you is the Second City Improv Troupe (SCIT). This year the club's officers, with the aid and guidance of Mr. Piccurrio, have striven to surpass the efforts of clubs of previous years. Kelly Quick (Pres.), Wendy Zakzrewski (Vice-Pres.), Beth Silverman (Treas.) and Jack Cibrian (Sec.) were instrumental in the ordering of satin jackets for the SCIT members to show off; something very new for this organization. During this year, students met monthly and participated in improvisations and acting exercises. Later in the year they sponsored a talent show (open to all students) and went to see a Broadway Show in NYC.

If you ever find yourself suddenly acting weird, imitating someone else, or role playing, remember SCIT. It gives students an outlet for their frustrations and creativity.

Thespians in action: David Deitsch, Krysten Chiarello, Dave Krupp, and Hugh Klitzke.

Showing her appreciation of fine theater props, Christin Wiemer poses for the photographer.

"Let me at him!!", scream Jack Cibrian and Hugh Klitzke, while Jon Snyder and Stan Liakowski attempt to keep them apart.

"Here's a chocolate covered ant for you Jack," says Wendy while Hugh goes hungry.

Thespians are such a together group!

The Highest Honor

The National Honor Society is just what the name implies. It is the national organization for high school juniors and seniors who have shown academic excellence and leadership in the school and community.

In order to keep up its national standards, the qualifications to be admitted into the National Honor Society were raised to maintaining a 3.25 grade point average and an active participation in three activities with leadership positions.

The tutoring service is offered free of charge to any underclassmen to help in a number of math, science, history, and English courses. President Paresh Patel said, "Learning materials from someone our own age reduces the pressure that is present in our regular classes."

The club can be characterized as one which fosters intellectual stimulation and has a sense of responsibility to the school community.

The Spanish Elite

Do you know what "La Esperanza", means?? Well, if you do, you may be eligible for membership in the National Spanish Honor Society. Sayreville's chapter, which literally translated means "hope", was organized in 1977. The S.H.S., headed by Miss C. Kwiatkowski and Miss C. Ludlow, is a program for students in Spanish III, IV, or V who have achieved an above average grade at mid-year. "La Esperanza" is an organization which sponsors quite a few important activities annually, including a trip to the Elementary Schools, a Spanish tutoring service and various others. This organization also awards various scholarships at graduation and prizes for poetry and article writing for the National magazine. The officers for the '87-'88 year are Derek Czernikowski (president), Joanna Hill (vice president), Kristin Howells (treasurer), and Lisa DiAngeles (secretary). You too can be a member of this prestigious organization. All it takes is a little determination, endless dedication, and lots of patience.

Rewarding Excellence

What do you get for maintaining an "A" average in French or German for three years? Give up? An invitation to join either the French or German Honor Societies. These groups provided many special services to the school and the town.

The German Honor Society, also known as Delta Epsilon Phi, teaches fifth graders of Truman and Arleth Schools and also collect toys at Christmastime for "Toys for Tots". Headed by Mrs. Hazner, the German Honor Society is an important, albeit small force in the school. Frau Hazner is aided by President Karen Savona, Vice-President Christine Wiamer, Secretary Stacey Klein and Treasurer Jeffrey Bell.

The French Honor Society, headed by Mrs. Parks, is also very involved in school life. Its officers, Neil Golub (President), Christine McCormack (Vice-President), Cathy Hunter (Secretary) and George Arnhold (Treasurer) have, as always, followed in their predecessors footsteps.

So, take heart. Your good grades in French and German may be rewarded . . . If you parlez vous Francais or sprechen sie Deutsch.

Have you ever been really interested in math? Do you thrive on the pressure of test taking? If so then you are a perfect candidate for NJML — the New Jersey Math League.

The Math League, headed by Mrs. N. Pfiel, was organized to help students enjoy math. The club provides many important services, including the rental of calculators to forgetful math students and the sale of one hundred grand bars (which is always very popular).

The club's major activity however is test taking. About once a month, members take a thirty minute, six question test. While not graded, the tests are sent to a national committee where they are judged to compare with other schools. Those students who excel have the chance to move on to state and national contests. Also the group annually awards a scholarship to its most proficient senior.

A meeting of the minds: Mrs. Pfiel (adviser), Adam Maze (President) and Steven Sun (Secretary) pause genially for the camera.

Pencil in hand, Michaelleen hastily scribbles an answer.

The Math Club all together.

One of the school's most "natural" clubs is the Ecology/Biology club. Through the time and efforts of its members and its advisor Mrs. A. Mackin the club does its best to beautify the school and community. The officers who helped plan the club's activities were President — Dan Harning, Vice President — Norman Le Furge, and Secretary — Wilson Contreras. Some of this year's activities included making a wreath for the front of the school at Christmas time, making flower arrangements for a local nursing home, and planting new flowers to beautify the school area. With the help of returning members and other students who feel that ecology, science, environmental and moral awareness are important, the club will continue to provide its necessary and fulfilling activities.

Exactly copying the original, Wilson and Jin-Ju make their own floral arrangements.

The Ecology/Biology Club. l-r: Norman LeFurge, Dan Harning, Mrs. Mackin, Jin-Ju Kim and Wilson Contreras.

Practice: the Key to Success

The Women's Varsity Club, advised by Miss Lamprecht, helped provide for the "extras" for the members of the women's sports teams. Membership in the Women's Varsity Club was open to all students. The club's main purpose was to support the team by selling candy, having a car wash, and an annual Halloween pumpkin sale. The money from these fundraisers was used to buy such "extras" as the school jackets, matching sweats, and the bathing suits for the swim team. The officers of the Women's Varsity Club were President — Michelle Huguenin, Vice President — Mary Fedor, Treasurer — Kerry Garbowski and Secretary — Leigh Garbowski. The officers kept track of how much each member had raised, and also kept records of how much more each member must raise to reach their goal. Through the spirit of all the club members everyone was very successful in getting their extra supplies.

Clearly showing their enthusiasm, Kris Kupcha, Ann Marie Krainski and Joanna Hill decorate pumpkins for the annual sale.

"Put some elbow grease into it!" shouts Gail Haney to Felicia Tomaszewski while Miss Sunski rinses what is already done.

Mind Bending

Do you make thousands of dollars each evening on Jeopardy? Can you beat the "best" at Trivial Pursuit? If so, "Kala" (as Ms. Sutherland is affectionately known by her students) wants YOU for the Academic Competitions Team — ACT

Annually, this team travels to two competitions — Bridgewater Raritan Invitational Tournament of Excellence (B.R.I.T.E.) and Perth Amboy Decathlon of Knowledge (P.A.D.O.K.). Each consists of several grueling question and answer sessions against teams formed of the brightest people from other New Jersey high schools. At the end of these competitions, points are tallied and the two top teams go "head to head" to vie for the honor of being number one.

To prepare themselves, each week the team members honed their basic skills in such areas as Biology, Calculus, Medieval History, Religion, Foreign Languages, and the Arts in simulated competitions. Furthermore, they spent countless hours pondering trivial questions in their collective attempts to prepare for even the most obscure competition questions.

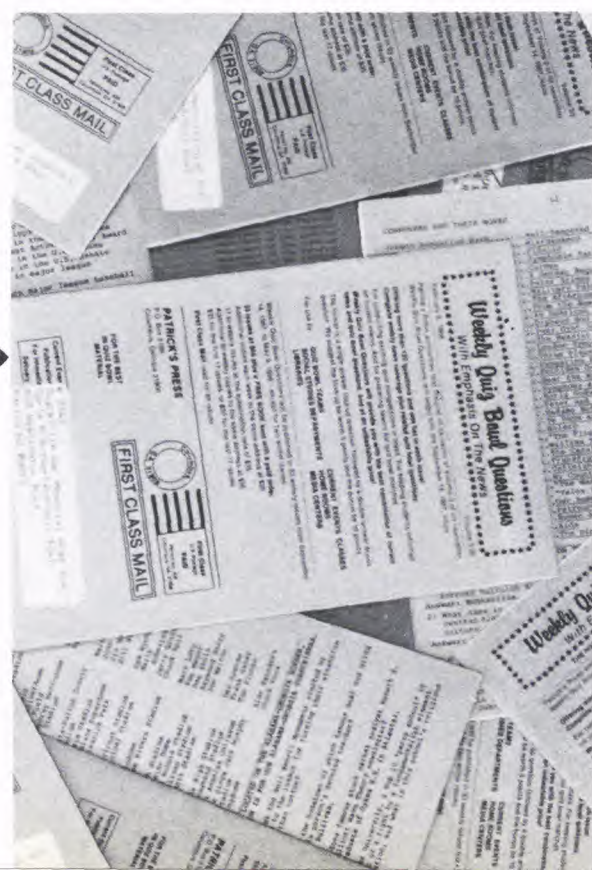

Was their perseverance rewarded? Overwhelmingly, the consensus was "yes!" The participants of this group not only broadened their already extensive knowledge of various subjects, but also saw the merits of good sportsmanship and teamwork.

As all listen closely, Neal Golub gives his team some last minute answers and tips.

ACTing with confidence, the team poses for a group shot. Front: Grace Yong, Stacy Maltzman, Nadine Resnick, Dennis Jacko. Back: Martin Rooney, Bill Statelman, Adam Maze, Neal Golub, Scott Muller, Mike Wittke.

With all these tests who could possibly be wrong?

Millionaires or Bust

Junior Captain Derek Czernikowski explains the current stock strategy to his team.

Last year, some students showed a genuine interest in learning about the system of Stocks and Bonds. From this interest, Ms. Sutherland, adviser of the TAG program, organized the Stock Market Club.

• This year, many more have shown an interest in this widely misunderstood system. This year there were four teams participating in a state-wide investment simulation. The Seniors, Juniors, Sophomores and Freshmen each compete against teams from all over the state, with the main objective of making lots of MONEY! They met once a week for the run of the game to decide which stocks would be good investments. Participation in this club also required some homework — tracking stocks, investigating leads, selling short, buying on margin, and various other tedious activities.

Through their interest in the Stock Market, students learned a lot about teamwork and the investment system.

The rewards of good investing demonstrated by Neil Golub and Adam Maze.

Future Directions: DECA and COE

For any student interested in merchandising, marketing, or management DECA — Distributive Education Clubs of America is the club for you. It is an international organization with 190,000 members in 55 state associations. The 70 members in this school participate in civic, social, vocational, and leadership activities designed to strengthen a person in the school and business world. They participate in competitions that test their business skills in modeling, apparel, accessories, advertisement, and finance at three levels, regional, state, and national.

The talented members help keep DECA running smoothly during the annual Chinese Auction and softball game. They also help raise money during "Make A Wish" for a terminally ill young child. DECA has an annual Christmas party, a magazine sale and a DECA cafe in which they sell breakfast to hungry students.

For those interested in a business career, Co-operative Office Experience (COE) is an important step. Through this program, students received an opportunity to learn about business first hand. Mrs. Dulemba, the club's advisor, did many things to help students gain experience. She advised them in various areas of secretarial expertise and planned related activities. Thanks to their dedication and interest, the students graduated with an important head start on life.

A Reflection of the Mind

Have you ever been totally bored — nothing to do, nowhere to go, no one to talk to, etc.? Well, here's a new solution — read your back issues of Images.

Images, the student magazine, was and is headed by Mr. Marotta. This year alone, he accepted over 50 pieces of poetry, prose, and artwork to fill the pages of Images. He helped his executive crew — Paul Loughman (Editor-in-Chief), Glen Venezio (Short Story Editor), Lisa Ferri and Gordana Jelisjevic (Poetry Editors) — to produce terrific issues, each better than the last.

Images was a medium for student expression unparalleled in this school. The opinions that were included touched on all bases; nuclear war, love, hate, death, and other currently important ideas and feelings. According to some, it was perhaps the most important publication of the entire school year.

The dedication and hard work pays off every year, with the publication of the magazine and the reaction of the students. It is an invaluable meter of the feelings and opinions of students.

Athletic events, this year, were particularly pleasant because of the entertainment provided by our cheerleaders. With the assistance of their advisor, Mrs. Anne Bandola, this group has been growing and improving with each performance. As in other years, they promoted school spirit through their loyalty and dedication.

One of the highlights of every football and basketball game was the creative and up-beat pom-pom routine. Other highlights included the cheering and over-all spirit of the girls. Their Captains, Lisa Brumbaugh (Varsity) and Susan Pajak (Junior Varsity), were constantly devising new and exciting routines and stunts for their squads. Sporting new blue and grey uniforms, the cheerleaders of Sayreville could always be depended upon to win the admiration of both the home and visiting teams and their fans for their endless style and pizzazz.

Jennifer Wiecek displays an award-winning smile. Deeply concerned with the outcome of the game, Kelly Nakielny watches intently.

Coming to the Rescue

... The teacher whispered the dreaded words, "term paper" and the students shrieked in terror ...

The thought of spending endless hours in the library strikes terror into the hearts of mere students, but the members of the library council thrive upon it. These devoted individuals are constantly prepared to answer questions, find books, or perform any other services for the average bewildered student. They keep the library in perfect running order, reshelving turned in books, keeping track of lost, borrowed, or late books, issuing fines to the library's debtors, and performing a multitude of extremely important tasks.

Council members devote an average of three periods per day to this ever-demanding task. Led by President Dan Harning, the council is active every minute of the day — from the time that homeroom begins until the final bell of the day.

This is one activity which is not to be taken lightly. Who knows? Some day you may be the one who needs their guidance.

Echo Lites: A Medium of Expression

Each year, Echo Lites turns out about five or six issues for the benefit of the student body. Although they have never missed a deadline, Mrs. Mischne's staff could not do this without lots of good, old-fashioned HARD WORK.

Before each deadline, the editors of the paper were seen racing through crowded hallways in attempt to schedule pictures and find students to write articles. They wracked their brains looking for new and interesting ideas for their sections — with tremendous success. After all of the brainwork was completed came the task of typing articles, cropping pictures and laying out pages; leading up to the moment of truth . . . PRINTING.

Through all of these things, the staff and editors triumphed over all. Although many challenges and SNAFU's arose during this lengthy process, these valiant workers didn't miss a single deadline. In the end, all of their HARD WORK paid off.

A Book to Remember

Every morning at 8:00 am in A 207, a strange and unlikely group of people meet. Why, do you ask? To work on Quo Vadis, of course! Almost twenty assorted editors, staff members, and various other (insane) individuals worked this year to bring the student body a book to remember, which contained over 50,000 words.

Since the very first day of school, Miss Johnson and her first-rate (although slightly cracked) staff dealt with disappearing disks and copies, last minute article writing, late proofs, senioritis, writer's block, fuzzy photos, and many, other disastrous mishaps. One editor, being totally brain-dead after spending a marathon 10 hours in A 207 came to this realization, "I just did two different layouts for the exact same page!! AARRRRGH!!!"

Quo Vadis, however, was not always so much fun. The countless hours unselfishly devoted by the editors were often rewarded with only cold McDonald's hamburgers and warm Pepsi (what a combination!). In spite of all the hard work devoted to laying out the pages, proofs still came back with many interesting and often disastrous errors. Often, Editors were seen racing through empty halls — in a desperate attempt to find someone who could name all of the people in a valuable photo.

However, in spite of all problems, the staff pushed on. They worked tirelessly in the face of duty to complete this masterpiece which you now hold. Without their efforts, there would be nowhere to sign!

Faculty Editor Stacy Maltzman works diligently to complete her deadline.

Using old yearbooks for inspiration, Kim Stefani (Activities Editor), attempts to compose the yearbook article.

Still On Top

"Hey look us over!", is something that you might expect the Student Council President, Ken Damato to say. Rest assured, wherever Ken is, the Student Council Vice President, Matt Licherstein isn't far behind. The rest of this year's officers are: Secretary, Jen Gotti and Treasurer, Ed Lake. The Student Council is headed by Student Council Veterans, Ms. Marianne Kwiatkowski and Ms. Lee Vozza. They have been, for many years, the solid foundation of the Student Council.

The Student Council is the oldest organization in the school's history. And from the beginning, their objectives have not deviated. Their objectives are to represent, communicate with, and involve the student body and community.

Every year the Student Council sponsors various school activities and fund raisers that are eagerly awaited by the Student population. An example of their many efforts are blue and grey week, school pep rallies, class competitions, and the ever so popular, Homecoming. But the Student Council is also deeply concerned with the community. This year's proceeds from the Halloween Flower sale went to UNICEF. They are also involved with the annual food drive that is conducted by the Spanish Club every year.

Needless to say, without the Student Council working for us, school would just not be the same. So when you hear "hey look us over", lets all stop and heed that message.

Softball

The Varsity Softball Team had an improved season last spring, finishing with a 10-8 record. Tami Scibek led the team in hitting, while Kerry Garbowski and Michelle Huguenin kept the Bombers in scoring position by combining to steal 13 bases. On the field, Lynn Buckler and Janeen Gondek held the pitching responsibilities and Kim Schoemer did the catching. The team, coached by Janet Ryan, finished second in the tough Red Division.

With an 11-4 record, the J.V. Softball Team showed both offensive and defensive ability. Michaelleen Moskowitz led the defense, displaying great versatility, by playing right and left field, third base and pitching. Lea Ann Berry and Kim Lang always came through with a big hit to start an offensive attack. Coach Sherry Popowski kept her team in the game and they were able to come from behind when necessary.

Coach Marge Wiecek led the Freshmen Softball Team to an impressive 10-4 record. Jennifer Kehoe and Denise Hode were relied upon to pitch for the Bombers. In the hitting department, Robyn Barlotta had a strong season. Overall, the team showed outstanding sportsmanship throughout the season.

Accuracy is a good quality that short-stop Michelle Huguenin displays as she makes a perfect throw to first base.

Quickness and concentration make Kerry Garbowski an excellent bunter.

Boys' Spring Track

The Boys Spring Track Team finished the season with a 3-4 record. Matt Berardicelli led the team with great times in the distance events. Jim Wasko did an excellent job in the high jump, long jump and high hurdles. Lorne Reiter finished first for the Bombers in the sprints while Russ Browning kept improving his times in the middle distances. Coach Bill Scarola believes next season will bring an improved record since many runners will be returning.

By keeping his pace steady, senior Russel Browning is able to endure his race.

Girls' Spring Track

The 1987 Girls Track Team had a strong season last spring. They posted a record of 3-3 under the coaching of Linda Carney. Since there were no seniors on the team, a young group of runners took over. Ann Marie Krainski and Kris Kupcha had impressive hurdle times and Lucy Livoti led the team in short sprints. Joanna Hill ran outstanding times in the 400m race and the mile relay. Also, Cathy Hunter recorded excellent finishes in the distance events. Mary K. Nordling contributed to the team's success by recording javelin throws that were the best in the county. Lisa Ferri, a freshman, also added to the scoring by posting some great times in the 800m run. With all the members of the team returning, next season should prove to be very successful.

Is Ann Marie Krainski ready to jump on a bug, practicing to be a rabbit or most likely giving her best effort for the long jump?

After practicing the exchange of the baton continuously, Kara Walsh and Lisa Ferri perfect it when it counts.

While concentrating on her next throw, Mary K. Nordling nervously waits for the official's ready signal.

With a look of determination and seriousness, Kris Kupcha successfully completes the challenge of making it over the hurdle.

Perfect form and leg strength give Lucy Livoti the ability to fly over the high bar with ease.

Boys' Tennis

With a 5-10 record, the Boys' Tennis Team completed a difficult season. Ashish Moholkar led the team with 9 match wins and compiled a record of 8-4 at first doubles. The team defeated a tough Edison squad, 3-2, after losing an earlier match against them 3-2. The returning seniors, Randy DeFilippis, Ashish Moholkar, Joe Lui and Adam Maze, have contributed skill and experience to the team's success.

Boys' Varsity Soccer

The Boys Varsity Soccer Team ended their season with a record of 5-9-2. Coached by Jim Inman, the Bombers faced a tough Red Division schedule. The leading goal scorers were forwards, Mike Communale, Wilson Contrerras, and Bert Hill. Defending for the Bombers, Tom Doherty and Ed Stevens stopped the opponents offensive attack. Silvio Domingues, a halfback for the team, aided the offensive and defense throughout the season. Goalie Rich Gluchowski saved some tough shots that helped keep the games close for the Bombers.

With a successful catch, Rich Gluchowski now tries to decide where to punt the ball.

By watching the action in front of him, Rob DiMeola is able to run and intercept the opponent's pass.

While Don Newton takes a well-deserved break, he directs all his attention to the game.

By using team work, Jeff Huguenin and Wilson Contreras move the ball down the field with simple ease.

Here Greg Colacici and Chris Evenago prove that it is not whether you win or lose, but how important team support is.

Girls' Varsity Soccer

Front: Kelly Nakielny, Lucy Livoti, Michelle Higuenin, Kelly McCrum, Michaelleen Moskowitz, Erin O'Leary, Joanna Hill, Robbin Taeschler. Back: Ann Marie Krainski, Aime Derent, Stephanie Suminski, Jennifer Moser, Kris Kupcha, Maureen Sullivan, Coach Judy Moskowitz.

Do you think Ann Marie Krainski knows that you are supposed to do the breast stroke in the water?

With poise and talent, Michelle Huguenin easily takes control of the ball.

The Girls Varsity Soccer Team got off to a slow start this season. However, they were able to make a fighting comeback and finished with a 7-8 record. Joanna Hill, center forward, was the leading scorer for the Bombers with 9 goals and 7 assists. Michelle Huguenin, Kris Kupcha, Lucy Livoti and Michaelleen Moskowitz also had a great season by adding both offensive and defensive strength. Sophomore goalie, Kelly McCrum, helped the team by coming up with 119 saves and 4 shut outs. The girls would like to thank Coach Judy Moskowitz for helping the team through a tough yet enjoyable season.

After stealing the ball from her opponent, Joanna Hill sprints downfield and scores a goal for the Bombers.

With her opponent unaware, Alanna Doran strives to steal the ball and, hopefully, the game.

It is a good thing that Michaelleen Moskowitz decided to take her eye off the ball only during practice.

Girls' JV Soccer

The Girls J.V. Soccer Team completed a rough season with a 3-5-1 record. Alanna Doran, who split her time between J.V. and Varsity, scored 5 goals and had 3 assists. Lisa Marley, who could be found on both offense and defense, added 2 goals for the team. Jennifer Prebola and Amanda Phily shared the goal keeping duties. Coach Chris Correll always kept the team's spirits high and therefore the girls had a positive attitude throughout the season.

The J.V. Boys Soccer Team had a pretty impressive season. Steve Evanego kept the opponents score low by always coming up with the important saves. Chris Lovas, Dave DaCosta, Dave Harkness, Rob Garrett, Paul Naso and Scott Kelly all contributed to the team's experience and spirit. Coach Norbert Smith worked his team hard but their hours of practice paid off in the end.

The Freshman Boys Soccer Team completed a rough yet dedicated season. Jason Branagan led the team in the accumulation of points. Goalies Paul DaSilva and Frank Saunter helped the team in their decisive and important saves on the goal. To finish the sturdy frame of the team was Tom Pavlik and Dave Campion on defense. Coached by Bill Kerstetter, the team persevered through their hardships and controlled their competitors.

"Where's the other team?" inquires Coach Bill Kerstetter as his players begin their warm-up.

With no where else to go, Jason Branagan escapes the threat of three defenders.

Golf

The Golf Team enjoyed a swinging season thanks to number one player Chris Dzergoski, and seniors Rich Brauchle, Peter DiBiase and Stacy Maltzman. The school provides each student golfer with a membership card to Tamarak golf course. This allows members of the team to put in many hours of practice on their home course. Coach Jack Hefelfinger was very proud of the team's accomplishments this past season.

Varsity Football — “The Flying Tigers”

August 25, 1987 was the first day of practice for the Sayreville Varsity football team, coached by Milt Theodasatis. The team looked to set a new precedent, and hopefully, a new start to a dismal past. Only the top 30 players were chosen and the “Flying Tigers” were born. The “Flying Tigers” was the new nickname for the team, but with the nickname came new responsibility on the individual players. One of the most grueling was the tedious practice after sundown daily.

Although the season was filled with many hard-to-accept disappointments, the Bombers never gave up hope and worked faithfully on a daily basis. Finally after seven weeks of bitter let-downs, on November 6th, the “Flying Tigers” were paid off. They stunned a J.P. Stevens squad, who were ranked 16th in the state. The victory was even more gratifying due to the Hawks not being defeated by Sayreville since 1964.

Sayreville finished with a record of 1-8, but the team had many individual standouts. Senior Captain Matt Fulham played exceptionally well offensively and defensively. On the line, Mike Adams was the premiere defense lineman, while Sean O'Donnell was the standout on the offensive side of the ball. Junior Phil Bouchard once again led the team in tackles and assists.

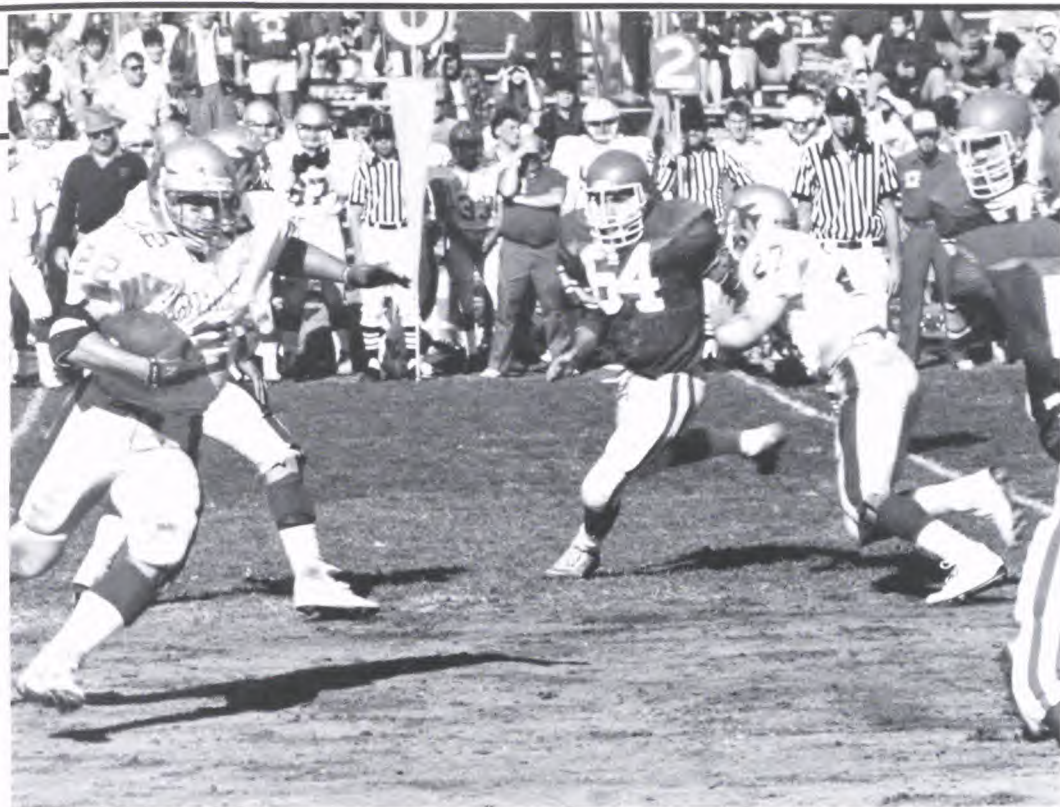

If you could say anything for the 1987 Bombers, alias the “Flying Tigers”, is that they never gave up and held their heads up high under all situations. That's what a winning team really is.

Do you know who these people are? Chances are you have absolutely no idea. However, you have probably come in contact with one or more of them throughout the course of the year. Still don't know? These are the hard-working women who organize piles of paperwork, keep track of school records, and provide you with those all important working papers. Starting to sound familiar?

They are the S.W.M.H.S. secretaries. They work diligently behind the scene to ensure that the office runs smoothly and efficiently at all times. "Organization" is their middle name and with the student population growing it is a good thing!

The Guidance Counselor . . . the mysterious individual who lives in a cubicle and sends you little green papers in the morning. That's who they are, but what do they do? You may not be aware of the many services they provide.

First, if your parents feel it's necessary to speak with your guidance counselor regarding your scholastic or personal situation, he/she is only a phone call away. Second, if you are sick for an extended period of time, or are just having a little trouble with one of your subjects, the guidance counselors can arrange for a professional tutor to help you.

When you are a junior, you are informed of the standardized tests you are required to take for college entrance and for the National Merit Scholarship, and how to apply. The guidance counselors also organize the standardized tests that all students need to take, such as the CAT and MBS tests.

General, Clerical, College Prep., Business, which route will you choose to prepare you for your future? The guidance counselors are a great help to you during the yearly scheduling. Conflicts? No problem. They will work their hardest to schedule what's best for you.

What about after graduation? The guidance office has numerous career briefs, pamphlets, books, and kits available for loan to interested students, as well as the annual Career Day when Freshmen, Sophomores, and Juniors can hear speakers from the community in their chosen field. When you are a senior, they will help you to find colleges geared to your proposed major and grades, or a technical school or a job. In any event, the guidance counselors are there to help you get more out of your high school years and prepare you for the future.

The Language Arts Department offers a wide range of courses to Sayreville students, and is staffed with over twenty teachers willing to do their best to make learning an enjoyable experience. The English Department, run by Georgia Baumann, is quite vast, providing students with different levels of abilities and interests the chance to augment their skills in a pleasant environment. For those who show an exceptional talent in basic English, there are Honors and Advanced Placement programs. Creative Writing and Journalism courses are available to anyone. The only prerequisite is interest. To take some of the fear out of the dreaded SAT's, the English Department offers a class to prepare for the tests and furnish helpful hints.

The Foreign Language Department presents college bound students with a choice of three languages: Spanish, French or German. Even those whose future plans do not include college should consider a foreign language course. These classes provide an opportunity for communication in a language other than English, and they also provide insight into the customs and lifestyles of other cultures.

The Mathematics Department, headed by Dr. George Marotta, offers many areas of study, ranging from General Math to Advanced Placement courses. The mathematical curriculum begins with courses in basic arithmetic, progressing into Algebra I, Geometry, and for those who enjoyed Algebra I, there is a class in Algebra II. For students who excel in math and are willing to take on more complex courses, lessons in Trigonometry, Calculus, and Probabilities are available. For students needing help in preparation for the SAT's, a course is offered to review the necessary skills for the mathematical portion of the tests. Courses in computer literacy are available for those interested in that field. The Math Department also offers courses in Computer Math and Computer Programming.

Exploring the Sciences

The Science Department allows students to explore all aspects of the scientific field, beginning with Physical Science. For those who prefer biology, after completion of College Preparatory Biology they may continue in that area with Advanced Placement Biology, which provides a more in depth study of the subject. College Preparatory Chemistry is available to students interested in the elements, the make up of substances, and chemical experiments. For future engineers and scientists, Physics is offered. Each science course includes a two-period lab one day a week, in which the theories are tested and experiments, conducted.

Additional electives in the scientific field include an Ecology course and a class entitled "The Human Experience." Whatever scientific interests you have, you will find what you are looking for in Sayreville's Science Department.

The History Department offers many diverse programs for all students. In addition to World History and U.S. History I/II, Advanced Placement and Survey courses are offered. Advanced Placement is offered to those students with a high grade point average who show exceptional talent, while survey courses are available to those students exhibiting a difficulty with reading or writing. These classes are designed to combine writing skills with learning historical facts.

Many other important skills are taught in History classes. For instance, U.S. History II students are taught how to fill out income tax returns, so they can file short forms. In February all students who will be 18 before November's election can register in class. Sayreville boasts the highest voting rates in Middlesex County, almost 97%.

Because it is so important for students to know their rights and responsibilities all U.S. I classes have intensive discussions about the Constitution. The Constitution is reviewed at the end of U.S. II in the hopes of making all graduates responsible citizens.

The department also sponsors two essay contests during the year. This year's topics were the Constitution in the fall and the Holocaust in the spring.

Within the History Department there are also three electives offered, Sociology, Economics, and Current History. Since most students take Sociology and Economics in college these half-year courses provide an introduction and background on these subjects.

Many of the skills taught by the History Department are found to be very useful after graduation in that they prepare their students to be knowledgeable citizens.

Mrs. Groncki teaches her students skills useful for the future.

Planning a career in Accounting, Marketing, or Business Administration? Our Business Department will help provide solid foundations in these careers. The department is state of the art, with up to date office quality word processors and typewriters. It offers courses in Recordkeeping, Stenography, Typing and Data Processing. Some other courses offered, which are geared towards a career in an office, are General Business, Accounting, Marketing, Education, and Office systems.

For those interested in more of a hands on type training experience the Business Department offers a Co-operative Education program in the Secretarial and Clerical fields. These provide students with experience in their chosen fields while allowing for pay and additional school credits. Some of the students who take the Co-op courses stay on in the job even after graduation.

The Business Department provides many necessary skills that every one will use later in life. Even if you are in College Prep. courses the skills that can be learned in business courses are valuable in everything you do in later life.

Special Education/TMR/EMR

The Special Education department is one of the fastest growing departments in the high school. As recently as twenty years ago, the first special education class was held. This catered only to the needs of the mentally retarded. Less than ten years ago, there was only one resource room. Since the start of the special education program, the number of teachers in the district has increased from five to twenty-five. This year there are five special education classes in the high school.

There are several different types of classification. Under the heading of mentally retarded, there is educable, and trainable. An educable student can learn to read and write on a basic level. A trainable student can learn to hammer a nail, or tie a shoelace, and do other things necessary to lead a productive life. Under the heading of learning disabled, there is perceptually impaired, and neurologically impaired.

Classification of students is done by a child study team consisting of a social worker, a psychologist, and a learning consultant. This committee also arranges an IEP, individual education plan, for each classified student. The student is able to graduate when they meet the requirements of the school.

Many of the special education students are active in SWMHS life. They participate in sports, in the theater, and in the arts. Another option that the students have is to attend SWMHS for a ½ day session and attend Vocational Technical High School in the afternoon to learn a trade.

There have been many improvements in the special education department in Sayreville since its institution. The students are afforded close supervision and an optimal learning atmosphere because of the small student-teacher ratio in each classroom. The purpose of these classes is not to set these students apart, rather to allow them to have the best education possible.

Wheeeet! One, two, three, one. One, two, three, two. Do you know that noise? That's the noise of a busy gym class. The purpose of the physical education department is to teach the kids necessary skills such as coordination, endurance, and self discipline. Some activities used to teach these skills are wrestling, football, softball, and floor hockey.

The Physical Ed. department also offers drivers ed theory to all sophomores. Simulators and behind the wheel training are also given to all students on the basis of age. Starting with the freshman year students are given a health course. This health course teaches the emotional and social responses to dating, partner selection, and skills for living. Sophomores' driver training is in place of health. Junior year, students are given a refresher course in human reproductive anatomy and a more in depth explanation of the functions. The final year of health is a course called "Family Living". It includes discussions about AIDS, birth control, marriage and other topics previously taboo.

A Personal Touch

Here's the scenario: A term paper is due tomorrow and it has to be at least 6 typed pages. What can you do since you need 10 sources? You go to the Library and ask Mrs. Weisburg. She'll help you find information, point you in the right direction, and keep the Library in total working order. Does that sound like a tall order? She has help from Mrs. Blaszk in keeping the library functional. Mrs. Blaszk updates the card catalog and processes the new books, among other things. Without the two of them helping out schoolwork would be a truly terrifying thing.

What do you do when you feel faint? Do you try staying in class and risking falling unconscious? No, you go to our nurse, Mrs. Ziemia. She knows just what to do no matter what is wrong with you. She will take your temperature, let you lay down, or send you home, depending on how badly you feel. If something is seriously wrong with you she will administer first aid and call for emergency help. If all that's wrong is a simple cut she can deal with that easily and effectively. No matter what's made you ill, Mrs. Ziemia has the cure.

Need information? Mrs. Weisburg shows Karen Fruchter where to go when she does.

Mrs. Blaska updates the ever-growing card catalog.

A 98.6 temperature doesn't necessarily mean Gina Figuerelli is feeling well!!!

True Values by Thomas Romer

As an artist and someone who greatly appreciates creativity, I am often referred to as weird. This is most undoubtedly a high compliment. The only problem with this is that I think what most people mean to say is that I'm different. I don't try to be different, it is not a goal for me. But, I am someone who believes a person should do what he wants to do regardless of another's opinion. This state of being has made me somewhat of an outcast. But, there is a certain amount of loneliness involved and a feeling of being alone in a materialistic and unfeeling world that comes along with it.

That feeling ended on July 12, 1987. The following four weeks altered the rest of my life for the better. What I am referring to is "The New Jersey Governor's School of the Arts." For four weeks I got a chance to escape from people who tend to rely upon materials and power for happiness. I had the opportunity to spend some time with people who knew the true values in life. From July 12 to August 8, I was privileged to spend time with some of the most interesting and loving individuals of my age group. We all grew very close to one another because we all shared a common interest in the arts and held many of the same beliefs. Each person was allowed to be him or herself without fear of being ridiculed or made an outcast. It gave each of us some time to realize who we wanted to be and what our life goals were to be. It allowed each person to stretch and open their mind to other individuals who listened and cared to hear how he/she thought. Between each one of us, there was a bond that could not and will not be broken.

I don't even have to mention how the program broadened our interest in the arts. Not only did it enhance our talents through classes but allowed us to discover the beauty in life through one another. And knowing the beauty of life is very important to an artist in order to express his or her own feelings.

I believe that in life all a person should need is love, but the regular world does not let us live by that rule. At the Governors' School, it was all we needed coupled with an interest in the arts. I personally have gained some of the greatest friends I suppose I will ever have. I know that I will never allow myself to forget about The Governor's School of the Arts.

Ins & Outs: Today's Trends

Although most of us hate to admit it, we like to go to school. If not to study, to be seen and noticed. And what better way to get attention and improve our confidence level than through fashion? Not only do clothes help us look good, they help us feel a lot better about ourselves. This Quo Vadis staff writer noticed many new and not so new trends among the halls of Sayreville War Memorial High School this past year.

New news? Ironically anything old, especially "vintage" clothing and antique jewelry. The biggest fashion newsbreaker this year — acid washed denim. Labeled as White Lightning, Frosted, and Demolition Oxide, depending on the manufacturer, distressed denim took over all aspects of our clothing this past year. This beat-up and bleached-out material was constructed into jeans, skirts, jackets and even pocketbooks.

Boots, although not really new, have made their marks among the halls of Sayreville High School. Because they are versatile as well as comfortable, they could be worn almost anytime, whether fringed, suede, or leather. Our pick? A pair of black high shafted, low heeled boots to be worn with both skirts and jeans.

And speaking of footwear, bulky Reeboks are a definite out. This year, wrestling sneakers left the gym locker rooms and went out into the streets. Additionally, many toes seemed to have a more conservative outlook, as penny loafers took the latest trend.

Well, their feet may have been covered, but generally speaking, girls seemed to reveal more than just their shins this year. Yes, 1987-88 brought the return of the mini skirt. SWMHS back in the 60's again? At least one would think so. Between the minis and the tie-dyes we were all ready for another Woodstock.

What goes up must go down — at least that was the case with collars this year. Move over Joe Prep, Mr. Guido has arrived. This year, many necks remained concealed, whether it was a shirt buttoned up to the top collar during the warmer days, or the turtlenecks of the winter. The most popular outerwear, a tribute to all Young Urban Professionals — the trench coat.

Most definitely, by the time you have read this, new fashions will have already arrived. Trends will be trends, they come, they go. So, remember, you chose your own style — be unique.

It's a Small World

During this past school year, Sayreville War Memorial High School opened its arms to two special guests. Mike Lidmaln from Sweden and Matthew Frohn from West Germany have spent the last year in the United States as part of a foreign exchange program. Although this is Matt's first visit to American, it is Mike's second; he lived in Upper Saddle River for two and a half years when he was younger.

When asked about their first impressions of our school, they replied that it was "big" and "crowded," and it took a little adjusting for them to get settled into our daily routine. In West Germany, students attend classes six days a week, with six to seven 45 minute classes and no lunch break. However, they remain in one classroom for the entire day while the teachers rotate between periods. Sweden, on the other hand, has a school system more similar to ours, although their high school is run more like a college. Students receive a weekly schedule and they cannot take the same classes everyday. Also, graduation does not take place until the age of nineteen.

Athletics do not play a major role in the lives of Swedish or German teens, although soccer is the most prominent sport. Mike's school has no sports teams whatsoever; all teams are organized via private clubs. Even though German schools do participate in school sports, their selection is very limited.

While academic life may differ from ours, recreation does not. It seems that teenagers are teenagers, no matter where you are. They enjoy going to the movies, parties and dances, but heavy metal is not as dominant. In addition, not much emphasis is placed on television. Neither country has 24 hour TV, nor a wide selection of channels from which to choose. They do receive some of the same shows, especially prime-time soaps, but they are about two years behind in the episodes.

Versatility: The Key to Success

What direction are you headed in? Matt Fulham and Leigh Garbowski, Sayreville's most athletic and versatile students, as voted by the Class of 1988, know exactly where they're headed.

Though he has participated in such sports as baseball and golf, Matt Fulham's main emphasis is on basketball and football. Having played one year freshman, one year junior varsity and three years varsity, he has gained the stamina of an enduring athlete. Because of his athletic ability, he was selected as captain of the Bombers 1987 Varsity Football Team.

After graduation, Matt plans to attend college in the fall. Applying to such schools as Wagner, Glassboro, Western Maryland, and East Carolina, he's leaning on a major in History. When asked if he plans on continuing athletics in the future, Matt replied, "Yeah, I want to play football in college." Although he is heavily involved in extracurricular sports, Matt still manages to maintain a steady "A-B" average.

Leigh Garbowski is probably the most active senior in Sayreville High. She has participated in such sports as Varsity and Junior Varsity Field Hockey, Basketball and Softball. Because she is such an outstanding athlete, Leigh has been chosen all-conference and all-state during his junior and senior years.

Next year, Leigh hopes on attending John Hopkins University and plans to major in computer and electrical engineering. Due to her straight "A" average, she has applied for a scholarship at J.H.U., amongst others. When asked if she plans on continuing her athletics in

Through the Years at SWMHS

Our time had finally come . . . We were seniors. It seemed that only yesterday we were frightened little sophomores overcome by a strange new school, sophomore jokes, and intimidating upperclassmen.

Elections were held and our Sophomore Office was formed. The first event that brought our class together was Homecoming. Thus began the ongoing rivalry among the classes during the high-spirited pep rally. Our theme in 'When You Wish Upon a Star' was Jack and the Beanstalk.

Our sophomore year was the year we laughed at Bill Cosby, were introduced to rap, glued our eyes on MTV, and scoffed at the over-publicized Halley's Comet. It was also a year of tragedy: on January 28, 1986, at 11:37 A.M., the Challenger exploded in mid-air. The devastated AIDS virus also hit close at home to many with the death of Rock Hudson. On the lighter side of things, parachute pants were no longer worn throughout the halls of SWMHS. Instead, checkered flannels and short hair cuts showed the first hints of the YUP generation to come.

As juniors, we came back to the school aware that the year would pose many challenges. It would mean taking PSAT's, SAT's, driving tests, and researching perspective colleges or professions. Many of us were surprised at the changes we encountered at our school: it seemed to have undergone face-lift — from the newly painted hallways to the new baseball field. In addition, we also noticed that many of the underclassmen were shorter. No, it was not a figment of our imagination, but only freshmen who were moved up from the Junior High that year.

Bugle Boys and spiked hair swept the nation while Jon Bon Jovi put our town on the map with his #1 LP Slippery When Wet. This state's spirits were on a high when the Mets and Giants won their perspective championships.

On the first day of our senior year, we started "the best year of our lives." As before, our class organized itself under President Peggy Woods. Karen Szewczyk was nominated Homecoming Queen in our theme of Seasons. Then the ultimate question appeared: What were we going to do with the rest of our lives? And we seemed to fill out endless college applications and waited patiently for acceptances. Big Macs were on many of our menus and the more free time we seemed to have the less schoolwork we did.

1987-88. It was a year of steamy scandals: from evangelists to presidential candidates. We witnessed 'Black Monday' on October 19, mourned the loss of Jackie Gleason and Fred Astaire, rejoiced in the peace talks between Ronnie and Gorby, and listened to pop tunes by artists younger than ourselves.

We soon came to realize that the three years spent at SWMHS would always be remembered and special. It was a time to grow, to have new learning experiences and to form close friendships. Now it is time to move on, the future is rapidly becoming the present, and we must now head in our own direction.

*Sometimes I can't express myself
As I would like to.
Maybe I feel you already know
What I feel without words.
Growing with you
Sharing silly and serious times.
I'm so glad we've become friends.
My words fail when I try to tell you
That you mean so much to me.
My memories of our friendship
Will fill my heart always.
As we grow, things change
And we move on.*

As we go our own ways,
There's so much to say —
But I know I don't need words,
You already understand.
Your friendship is so very special,
Thank you for being my friend.
Maybe I should wish you the world
And the stars filled with hope.
But, I think most of all
I should say that I LOVE YOU!

The School Yearbook

We wish the Class of 1988 great luck and success in the future. We hope the graduates glance through this piece of memoir, to remember close friends, good times, and the friendships that made our class THE BEST.

It would be impossible for us to forget the advisor, editors and the assistants who worked so hard (???) on the yearbook.

Cathy "Catawba" Hunter, Steve "Little Boy" Goldie, Christine McCormack, Rajah "Rajeev" Shah, Joanne Riley, Kim Stefani, Stacy Maltzman, Kelly Walsh, Paresh "Bald Nerd" Patel, Chris "Pucci" Pucciarello, Eric "Beaker" Salamon, Patty "Unbalanced" Boehm, Joseph "Kukla" Lui, Carisa Candel, Ash "Ashman" Moholkar, Michaelleen Moskowitz, Barbara "Miss J." Johnson, Lori "J.C. Penney Nerd" Olivieri, and Steve "Buddha" Sun.

It Was Fun!

We must live with ourselves, and so
We must be fit for ourselves to know;
We want to be able, as days go by,
Always to look ourselves in the eye
We don't want to stand in the setting sun
And hate ourselves for the things we've done.
We want to stand with our heads erect.
We want to deserve our self-respect.

Senior Class
Officers and Advisors

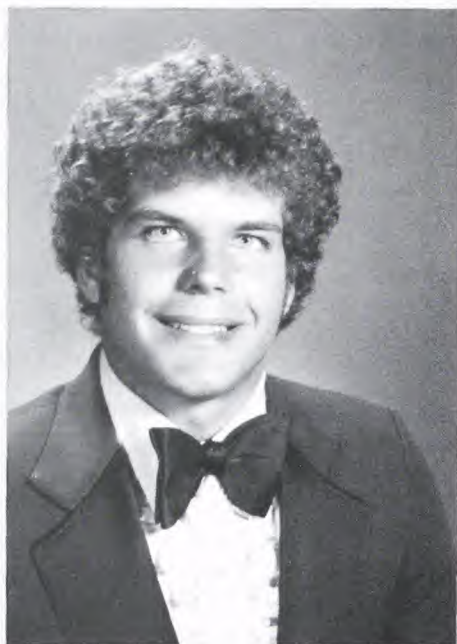

Eric missed his deadline and rather face the staff of the yearbook, he jumped under the bus.
