Pilgrims travel from N.J. to parish in Mexico

SUMMIT — In July, pilgrims from St. Teresa of Avila Church in Summit journeyed again to their sister parish in Iztapalapa, Mexico. There were 10 adults and 11 teens who joined the program's director, Sister Guadalupe Nieto, MSBT, to minister to and visit members of the Church of San Martin de Caballero.

They brought clothes, supplies, dental assistance, and much love in returns. The pilgrims participated in church activities, saw their sponsored children, visited the sick, brought food for the mission, played with the youngsters and saw some historic sites.

Currently, 200 Mexican children are sponsored through St. Teresa's Mexico Mission Program, which allows them to attend school, obtain extra food and aid for their families, and most importantly, to receive spiritual direction. A smaller group will return to San Martin in November to attend a sponsored children's confirmation.

Anyone wishing to sponsor a child may call Sister Guadalupe Nieto at 908-277-3700.

Eye on You

A NEW PARISHIONER — Maria Archer was happy to get reacquainted with Olga and her new son, Luis. The photograph was taken by the director of San Martin church.

PYRAMIDS FOR PILGRIMS — Steve Macchia, part of the contingent from Summit's St. Teresa of Avila Church, joined some of the mission children and visited one of the Mexican pyramids. It was a beautiful day, the visitors reported, and a chance to enjoy the company of the sponsored students.

MEDICATED FOOD — Fred Englert, the administrative coordinator of the sponsored student program at St. Teresa for the Mexican Mission, has visited many times. On the most recent trip, he was at the warehouse to purchase a month's supply of food for San Martin. Mr. Englert was recently honored as "Grandfather of the Mexican Mission."
