Leathem Lashes Out At Mayor; Lester Details His Reasons For Supporting Leathem; Forster Supporters At Big Rally

City Is On Honor Roll For Safety Record On Streets, Says Mayor At Large Rally

"Regardless of who is administering the Police Department, the police cannot guarantee against accidents. In 1937 when Councilman Truslow was police commissioner, there were five fatalities in Summit. No one blamed Mr. Truslow for these deaths; no one thought he could act as a 'guardian angel'." Thus spoke Mayor Guido F. Forster on Friday night as he addressed a largely attended rally held by the "Re-elect Forster Committee" in the Masonic Hall.

Speaking with vigor and directness on the question of safety on Summit streets, the mayor said that in 1940 for the first time in the history of the city, Summit had been placed on the honor roll for the record of safety on its city streets. He said that Summit is still on the honor roll in 1941 for safety on its streets notwithstanding the statements of his opponent.

He said no mayor could act as a "guardian angel" anymore than Mr. Truslow and that the whims and caprices of human nature were so unpredictable that the police could not prevent the occurrence of some accidents. He cited the instance of the one fatality this year on Summit streets when a man stayed late for dinner and came home early in the morning, fell asleep at the wheel and crashed headlong into a truck, killing himself instantly.

The mayor also told of eliminating a long series of what he called "unnecessary" expenses incurred by the police before he became mayor.

Downward Tax Trend
Speaking of the importance of easing the tax burden, the mayor said it had become particularly imperative at this time because of the ever increasing burden of Federal taxation. At the same time he pledged his "next administration" to the continuance of the "same high calibre service" now being given Summit by the Police, Fire, Health and Recreation Departments, with assurance of a 4.08 tax rate next year and a 3.97 tax rate in 1943.

No New City Hall
On the much bruited subject of a new city hall, the mayor said that the present edifice is serving its purpose quite satisfactorily. He explained that rumors had been going the rounds for some time about the

Statement Given By Council President In Leathem Support

September 5, 1941.

Editor, The Summit Herald:

Dear Sir:—In response to an oft repeated request that I further explain why I feel Mayor Forster should not be reelected it has become my conviction that our citizens are entitled to a frank and factual statement. Much of what I am stating below has already appeared in the press over the past several years and the rest can be verified by responsible citizens.

Prior to the election of Mr. Forster to the Common Council the members of the governing body worked together as a team taking the blame or praise for their actions as a group and no member was interested in seeking to further himself in the eyes of the public by claiming credit or passing the buck when criticism was leveled.

Since the time Mr. Forster initiated his campaign for Mayor in 1939 to the present day he has proceeded on a simple formula to say anything or promise anything which he deems may further his personal interest regardless of accuracy or whether the promises are possible of fulfillment or not. Then when the promises come due the stock answer is that he can't make Superintendent of Schools William A. Kincaid today started the school year along with his 125 teachers and more than 2,700 pupils, by being at his desk "bright and early." Though Mr. Kincaid officially began his duties here in July, today will mark the beginning of his duties while the schools are in session.

Public and Parochial Schools Open Today As Vacation Ends

Punctually at 8:30 this morning the "peal of the school bell" transported Summit's elementary and High School children and the St. Teresa's Parochial School children from their eleven-week-old world of make-believe to the prosaic beginning of another school year. The trek from home to desks was slow as the children turned reluctant backs on a summer that is now nothing more than a memory and a subject for school compositions.

In hundreds of homes a familiar scene was re-enacted. Youngsters who joined their playmates during vacation in the early hours of the morning hurred their pillows and turned deaf ears to the appeals and threats of busy mothers. Tan faces were scrubbed, while patched trousers, polo shirts and sneakers were put aside in favor of white shirts and ties, creased trousers and polished shoes.

An estimated nearly 200 youngsters 5 and 6 years old, shy and scared, climbed the school steps for the first time, with eagerness for admission into that great fraternity of school children.

Unlike their younger brothers and sisters, the 10 and 12-year-old sophisticates, veterans of several

Fighting Statement Made By Mayoral Candidate In Public Announcement

In a fighting statement, Ernest F. Leathem, candidate for Mayor, challenged the facts in a public statement made last week by Mayor Forster on temporary leave from the Navy and also the inferences contained in an advertisement published by the Re-elect Forster Committee.

Declaring that the time had come to "take off the gloves," Mr. Leathem said the Mayor was evading vital local issues and "taking credit" which belongs to the Common Council and independent boards. He said further that the Mayor "is using the national emergency to further his political ambitions."

"Before we get into facts and issues instead of whipsawing campaigns," Mr. Leathem said, "I want to clear up this question of the Mayor's service in the Navy."

"I am the first to applaud him for doing his part in the present national emergency but he keeps using the phrase 'temporary active service.' I want to know what he means by temporary. On no less an authority than Secretary of the Navy Knox all Naval Reserve Officers have been called for the duration. If the Mayor plans only a temporary service then he means to leave the Navy before the emergency is over. That makes the point that he is either going to give up the Navy to serve his City or should give up the City to serve the Navy. No man can do two jobs and do them both well. I do not intend to discuss this again in the campaign. It is flag waving of the rank and file to argue that patriotism should be the cause for voting for an absentee Mayor and by inference to accuse me of being unpatriotic."

Taxes
"Now let's look at the Mayor's published statement. First, taxes. The Mayor gave a lot of figures which would be fine if they were all accurate. Let's just take the first in his list, bonded debt. The Mayor said 'bonded indebtedness has dropped nearly a half million dollars.' The true facts are that bonded indebtedness has dropped only $17,000. The Mayor's figures showed that the total bonded debt when he took office was $2,915,500. The correct figure is $2,530,000, a mere error of $385,500. No doubt the Mayor made a miscalculation. I challenge him publicly to deny it. He cannot do it because my figures are those which the Mayor himself used at a recent meeting of the Summit Kiwanis Club. He was either wrong then or wrong now. But Mayor Forster's Committee says no one can point to a single error in his administration. So he must be wrong now.

"Let's examine the record to find some more. To quote the Mayor's statement again, 'Since effecting the expanding use of radio equipment * * * police duties and discipline have improved greatly.' The facts are that there are three radio cars on duty now and there were three radio cars on duty when the Mayor took office. This is another error of fact and I challenge the Mayor to deny it."

Accidents
"The Mayor refrained from discussing the subject of traffic accidents. Instead he talked about fatalities. What he failed to say was that reportable accidents have increased this year over 40 per cent, and that is only up to June 16th when he was in charge of the police force. What he also failed to say was that the citizens of Summit became so aroused over the wave of accidents and injuries that a special meeting of the Common Council was called to discuss the subject and Mayor Forster refused to attend. I challenge the Mayor to deny these facts."

"Now let's take a look at the Edison School issue. Quoting the Mayor again, he says 'May I take the opportunity here to refute and brand as falsehoods these statements made by irresponsible individuals attempting to show that I favored the construction of the Edison Junior High School.' A little later on the Mayor said that he 'had no chance to oppose this extravagant project.' On April 27, 1937, Mayor Forster voted in favor of a bond issue to finance the construction of the Edison School at a Common Council meeting. If he was not in favor of the school, why did he vote for the money to build it? Certainly at this meeting he had a chance to oppose what he calls an extravagant project. The true facts are his vote alone could have defeated the expenditure. The Mayor was either wrong then or wrong now. But the advertisement says he was never wrong."

"Finally, I would like to comment on the inference regarding professional politicians. Nobody can accuse me of being a politician or politician because my figures are those which the Mayor himself used at a recent

Forster's "Leadership" And "Democraticness" Stressed By Supporters

"It will be a backward step to return any one to the mayorality but Guido F. Forster," declared School Commissioner Thomas J. Evans, speaking as an individual at the rally for the mayor Friday night in the Masonic Hall. In continuing his comments, Mr. Evans said in part: "As one of the mayor's newer appointees, it has never been his (the mayor's) policy to ask for signed undated resignations. Personally, I would never have given anyone such a resignation, because by so doing it would have influenced my judgment."

"Are you interested in reducing the tax rate," he asked, then added, "On this subject let us remember that in nearby Chatham, Madison, and Short Hills, the building of homes has greatly eclipsed in proportion that in Summit. What is the answer? The lower tax rate? Yes, it would be a backward step to return any one to the mayorality, but Mr. Forster."

Mr. Evans' remarks were symbolic of a wide range of expression offered at the rally in support of Mayor Forster's candidacy from all sections of the city.

Mrs. William A. Backer, of Prospect street, who was introduced by Chairman Harold Brydon as a Past President, General of the National Congress of the Daughters of the American Revolution, said of Mayor Forster: "Since you introduced me as you have, I must say 'the Daughters' have always had a great interest in the Army and Navy. My interest in Mayor Forster is no less. I strongly believe in his able leadership and the courage and independence of his thinking. As a graduate of the United States Academy at Annapolis, Mr. Forster has received training in leadership equal to that offered anywhere in the world."

D. Arthur Youngs, of 1 Valley View avenue, said of Mayor Forster's candidacy: "This argument used by Mr. Forster's opponents that the mayor should not be re-elected because he is in the navy is also nonsense. These opponents overlook one point. Mr. Leathem is a New York lawyer. If he does any work in New York courts he will be tied up quite frequently and will not be available."

R. J. Murphy Answers Letter

Murphy Letter

Editor, Summit Herald,

Dear Sir:—A letter has been circulated in Summit, signed by one McGeorge, in which attack was made upon my daughter, my son and myself. I must confess that reading the McGeorge communication made my blood boil.

My son and I, occupying public office as we do, must anticipate a certain quantity of unwarranted slinging, but the allusions to my daughter were blows below the belt. I do not elect, however, to answer McGeorge's charges by a counter attack on him, for he is no more properly an issue in the current Mayorality campaign than are my family or myself. I shall, therefore,

The Summit Herald received from H. D. McGeorge a letter to the Editor which we did not publish for reasons set forth in our Town in this issue. We have now been asked to publish the letter by Robert J. Murphy who was attacked in it. We do so together, with Mr. Murphy's reply.

confine myself to answering his vicious accusations in order that those who read them may know the truth. I believe the truth will surprise even McGeorge.

Early in 1938 I contracted to purchase from one Edna G. Holbrook, a tract of land in the western part of the city containing 60 acres more or less. The tract is bounded by Passaic avenue on the east, the Lackawanna Railroad on the south, the Passaic River on the west and the Roman Catholic cemetery on the north. Through the tract runs New Providence and West End avenues, both of which have been public streets for approximately 100 years. In 1936, as I recall, New Providence road had been paved by the city, with W.P.A. assistance, such project having been necessitated by the heavy use of the street by the city trucks en route to the incinerator. West End avenue, being used in 1938 by city trucks to the practical exclusion of all other traffic,

McGeorge Letter

57 Hobart avenue, Summit, N. J. September 1, 1941

Editor, The Summit Herald:

The people of Summit, preparing to cast their votes in the coming primary election, may have noted a certain inconsistency in the arguments of those who have been advocating a change of mayors.

We have been assured, on the one hand, that the position of mayor in this city is of little real importance; that administrative experience on the part of the one holding it is unnecessary; that the major responsibility rests with the city council, the mayor being little more

OUR TOWN

Two Letters

TWO LETTERS

It is our view that The Summit Herald should be a newspaper of this entire community—not of any part of it—not of any clique—not of any special group. Its columns should be open to all the people. Minorities and majorities should have the same access to the people of Our Town—so that minorities can grow up and become majorities when they deserve it, and majorities can be spanked and sent back to work as minorities when that's what they deserve.

To that end our inclination will always be to open our columns to any responsible individuals or groups who seriously believe something ought to be done about something. They may not be able to get a public following—they may never get out of the class of a minority—but they should have their chance. The Court of Public Opinion should be open to them.

But obviously there is some point at which an editor has another obligation—to draw a line. Where that point is, exactly, is a difficult question—especially during a political campaign when every leaf stirring in the breeze, every split infinitive, every sideways glance is believed to have a meaning all its own.

This question comes up because of two letters to the Editor. The first was received a week or ten days ago and was violent, intemperate and, we have half a mind to say, vicious. By some magnificent logical leaps between a half truth and a wild surmise this letter managed to bring the racial question into the Summit Mayorality contest. It was easy to decide that this letter should not be published.

The second letter, however, was more difficult. It was an attack on a man who is not a candidate by a man who is not running for office. It contained some well-known facts. But there was no certainty that it contained the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth.

We thought a long time before we decided not to publish that letter—and we came to a decision on this principle; that we will not publish any letter affecting the reputation, happiness or good name of any person unless we are very sure of our facts.

But now, Robert J. Murphy, who was attacked in the letter, has asked us to publish it together with his reply. We do so at his request therefore.

Getting back to the question of Letters to the Editor:

For some reason some people seem to think that when they enter the sphere of politics, they escape into a world in which they have no obligation to tell the truth. We refer to no one in particular. We are merely making a note of what we have observed. Politics sometimes seems to be an escapist's paradise where you can build a whole new world of fancy out of falsehoods and the half truths which you can always find lying about in good quantity. People seem to find in the bright and promising world of politics a place where ignoring the truth in a Goebbels manner seems to them to be the accepted thing—the "thing to do."

This does not distress us so very much because we don't believe people of that sort get very far in politics—or last very long.

But, to conclude—The Summit Herald is open to all the people of Summit and surrounding towns. You need not hire this hall—it's free. We will use the hook, however, whenever we feel that someone is using the freedom of the press recklessly with a fair chance of hurting someone unjustly.

"The Truth About The Edison School" In Release

The following release has been submitted by the Re-elect Forster Committee.

Mayor Forster's opponent, Mr. Leathem, gained his knowledge of the city government through his experience as Chairman of the Civic Research Group which is interested itself primarily in fiscal matters and according to reports has given the most attention to the city's expenditures.

It is therefore most difficult to understand Mr. Leathem's complete misstatement, when he writes for publication in the press, as follows, in connection with the Edison School:

"Mr. Forster could, of course, have blocked this extravagance single handed, when as councilman his negative vote would have stopped approval of this bond issue. Instead, he voted in favor of the bonds. How does he justify his own subsequent criticism of this expenditure?"

Nothing could be more contrary to the actual facts.

School bond issues are approved by the Board of School Estimate. The bond issue is then presented to the Common Council for approval only as a matter of formality. By law, the vote of the Council is automatically recorded as in favor. By law, the Common Council has no power of decision in the matter and Mayor Forster as a member of the Common Council at that time had no opportunity to vote against it.

Mayor Forster personally opposed this extravagant, ill-considered was in deplorable condition. Its surface was badly broken, washed out and filled with ruts.

Although I contracted for the property in 1938, I did not acquire title until August 22nd, 1939. Mrs. Holbrook's title to the premises had been defective, litigation continued for over a year, and it was not until shortly before the closing that Mrs. Holbrook could deliver good and marketable title.
As nearly as I can recall, it was in the latter part of 1938 that Mr. Forster, then a member of the Common Council and of the Council Street Committee, called upon me and discussed bad conditions on West End Ave. Mr. Forster told me that those city trucks which were using West End avenue daily were subject to extraordinary wear and tear thereby and that he felt the paving of the street by the city to eliminate such rough usage would be a wise investment of city funds. He left me stating that he intended to bring the matter to the attention of the Council.

Thereafter and until subsequent to June 6, 1939 I never discussed the paving of West End avenue with any other member of the Common Council.

The Street Committee of which Mr. Forster was a member then unanimously recommended the paving of this 1,000 foot street, stating that it would provide a short route to the incinerator for city trucks. The benefit to adjacent property owners was not considered as a factor as there were no houses fronting on the street and Mrs. Holbrook was the only property owner.

Application was made to the W. P. A. and its approval was received. The W. P. A. was to provide labor and the city materials. At the Council meeting of May 16, 1939 an ordinance was introduced providing $2,000 for materials. Messrs. Forster, Lester, Cullis, Bland and Bourne voted favorably.

On June 6, 1939 this ordinance was presented for final passage and was voted favorably by Messrs. Forster, Lester, Cullis, Bland and Bourne. I do not think Mr. McGee had known this, but the minutes of the two meetings are public record. When, then, was Mr. Forster's objection to the proposed expenditure was not a proper one to be made from municipal funds?

Someone has led Mr. McGee astray. At the general election of 1939, Mr. Forster was elected Mayor of the city and was thereby compelled to vacate his office in the Common Council as of December 31, 1939.

The selection of his successor was, by law, committed to the remainder of the Council who, in turn, requested the advice of the Summit Republican Club, of whose executive committee I am and then was chairman.

On the evening of November 29, 1939 a meeting of such executive committee was held with both Mr. Forster and myself among others present. The committee by a majority favored Mr. F. K. Truslow who was later named by the Council. Mr. Forster voiced objections to this choice at the meeting.

In November 30, 1939 during the forenoon, Mr. Forster entered my real estate office, said he didn't want Mr. Truslow on the Council and that anyone else from the First Ward would be agreeable to him. I told him that the matter had already been voted upon and that I felt Mr. Truslow, of those available, was by far the best man for the city.

Mr. Forster, with whom, until that date, I had been on friendly terms, left in a fury. About an hour later, the City Engineer, Frank R. Murray, called upon me, stating that Mr. Forster had just visited him at the City Hall and had said: "Murray, if you start that West End avenue job, it will be just too bad for you."

The actual paving of West End avenue was planned to commence in August 1940, other projects having priority. Almost on the day when the work was to start, the city was informed that the project had been vacated by the W. P. A. and formal notice of this was received September 11, 1940. I knew that political pressure had been exerted although I was unable to trace the source. I contacted a high official of the W. P. A. who knew nothing of the facts but who promised to investigate. Thereafter I learned from him that someone had, by chicanery, blocked the project and that the whole question was again being considered.

Early in October 1940 the project was reinstated by the W. P. A. and work commenced on the 21st day of that month.

That is the whole story of West End avenue, but I am constrained to add a few highlights. In February of the current year, a well-meaning friend of Mr. Forster's and mine told me that he was endeavoring to heal the breach between the Mayor and myself and that the Mayor would make peace with me if I would induce Mr. Truslow to resign from the Common Council. I need not state my reply.

The improvement of West End avenue has increased the tax receipts of the city by $1,700 per annum and the sum will be enlarged as construction progresses.

Since Mr. McGee failed to charge my son and daughter with malfeasance, misfeasance or nonfeasance, I do not feel any further reference to them to be required. Both can well defend themselves and both are doing jobs of which I am exceedingly proud.

Lastly as to the real issue. The foregoing will most adequately picture why I am against Mr. Forster. Mr. Leatham, his opponent and I trust, our next Mayor, was not selected by me in any manner whatsoever. I had never seen or met the man until after he had been endorsed by the Summit Republican Club, and I confess he was not my choice. Having since learned to know him and to appreciate his capabilities, he has my unqualified support.

Neither Mr. Leatham nor the present members of the Council are anyone's stooges, Mr. McGee, and were I to try to "pull the wool over their eyes" as you seem to suggest as an alternative I am sure I am not so accomplished as to succeed.

Very truly yours,
ROBERT J. MURPHY.

McGeorge Letter

than a figurehead.

On the other hand, we are asked to believe that the need of a change is imperative. It is so great that a long standing custom of choosing our mayor from among those who over a period of years, have shown their qualifications for the office, should be scrapped. We are told that the necessity of shelving the present mayor is so urgent (without, however, giving us any valid reasons therefor) as to warrant splitting the Republican Party in Summit into bitterly hostile factions.

The question has been repeatedly asked, what is the real reason for what, all must admit, is an unprecedented situation in Summit? What is the underlying motive which has given rise to it? Who actually is behind it?

These questions have elicited some interesting facts. It would seem that the public is entitled to be informed concerning some of these facts.

The attempt to oust Mr. Forster appears to stem from nothing more or less than a disagreement between Mr. Forster and Mr. Robert J. Murphy.

Mr. Murphy, as a real estate broker in Summit, as the owner of a tract of land in the western part of the city which, of late, has had some publicity, and as a professional politician, is fairly well known to the citizens of Summit. The word "professional," it is hoped, is one at which Mr. Murphy will not take umbrage. Mr. Murphy will doubtless agree that one who has so long been identified with the "practical" side of politics, and whose activities have had such undoubted practical benefits to himself and his family, could hardly be described as an amateur.

As a member of the Union County Election Board Mr. Murphy himself draws an annual stipend of $2,000. When his son, Robert, had successfully passed his examination for the bar, it was suddenly discovered that the services of Police Court Judge Robert Williams were no longer satisfactory. Young Robert Murphy was appointed to the position as Mr. Williams' salary of $1500, which heretofore had seemed ample for the number of hours' work involved and which, at the time, seems to have been sufficiently attractive to young Mr. Murphy. Once appointed, the salary proved quite inadequate for the son of Mr. Murphy. It was raised to $1800. Thus was Robert's struggle for advancement in the legal profession, proverbially a bitter one, substantially eased.

Mr. Murphy's daughter similarly was spared the anxieties involved in butting for a livelihood in a cruel commercial world. She was provided with a job in the office of the Board of Education. At least one other member of the Murphy family has shown a similar irresistible urge for public service. The disturbing thought inevitably arises that if an unkind fate were to take the Murphy family from us, our government would be near to coming to a standstill.

The disagreement in question has to do with Mr. Murphy's tract of land already referred to. According to information received by this writer, Mr. Murphy, not wishing to detract out of his own pocket the cost of developing this tract, as other real estate operators, here and elsewhere, have always done in the past, arranged that the work be done at the joint expense of the City of Summit and the Federal Government.

The disagreement, this writer is informed, arose from Mr. Forster's objection that the proposed expenditure was not a proper one to be made from municipal funds. Quite understandably Mr. Murphy had no wish to make a political issue of this matter. Being a very shrewd and able politician, however, and knowing that there was a disagreement of another sort, based on what might be termed more legitimate grounds, between Mr. Forster and two members of the city council, it appears that Mr. Murphy seized upon this rift to build up what, it was hoped, would develop into a city-wide opposition to Mr. Forster.

The group with which Mr. Murphy started was apparently the select band of "workers" on whom a professional politician can always rely for services of this kind. The movement, by careful exploitation of other personal antagonisms, was given the aspect of a general uprising against Mr. Forster. As a result of all this, of what the candidate himself somewhat naively describes as a "spontaneous demand" on the part of various groups in the city Mr. Ernest Leatham was chosen to be the standard bearer for Mr. Murphy's crusade.

Mr. Leatham, as this writer has been at some pains to state on a number of occasions, is a young man of excellent character and reputation. There certainly is no desire on the part of any of those opposing his candidacy to besmirch or belittle him in any way. Were he to enter Summit's political arena under different auspices, his advent, it can be said in all candor, would be a source of genuine satisfaction to those who are now opposing him.

Nor is it to be inferred that Mr. Leatham's candidacy is supported only by political self-seekers and hatchet men. Without doubt there are many of Mr. Leatham's supporters who have no sympathy with Mr. Murphy's aims, and who would be among the first to oppose them if they were aware of the real situation. Carried away, perhaps, by the generous enthusiasm of youth, they have unwittingly become ready tools for Mr. Murphy's purposes.

To these Mr. Leatham's lack of administrative experience doubtless is of minor importance. The question, however, which they and the other voters of Summit will be called upon to decide in the coming primary election is not one merely of the comparative merits of the two candidates. It is whether or not they are content to have the city handed over to the tender mercies of a political group which is not conspicuous for its scruples, whose aim seems to be, by no means the welfare of Summit, but primarily if not solely, their own private interest.

Very truly yours,
HOWARD D. MCGEORGE

The Short Hills Junior League is at present without a ways and means committee head. Previously appointed for the coming year was Mrs. Donald Arrowsmith of Coniston road, but she has tendered her resignation for the post, and Stephen Harrison, the president, has not as yet found a successor.

Tentative plans had already been made for a large money party, as the league's money making project this winter. Last winter the Short Hills Junior Service League reached a new high in philanthropy when they presented a new ambulance to Millburn Township. Mrs. Milford Walker was chairman of that project.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Myra I. Geer

Mrs. Myra I. Geer, 81, widow of Elvin W. Geer of Chatham, died Friday of a heart attack. She had been living at 29 Elmwood avenue with her only son, Sherman A. Geer. She was born in Hinsdale, Mass., and spent most of her life in Dalton, Mass., before coming to Chatham in 1929. She leaves also a grandson.

Funeral services will be held at 2 P. M. today at the Geer home by Rev. Clarence L. O'Brien of Onden Memorial Presbyterian Church. Burial will be in Fair Mount Cemetery.

Return From Brazil

Mr. George Connor and his niece Miss Doris Tappan have recently returned after a summer devoted to Esperanto in Brazil. Miss Tappan in 1939 was a special delegate from the United States Government to the Universal Esperanto Congress in Bern, Switzerland, and gave a course in Rio de Janeiro at the invitation of the government subsidized national Esperanto organization. Miss Tappan, although ignorant of the Portuguese language, taught Esperanto by the Cech Method which has been used with wide success in Europe in teaching the language to polyglot groups.

Mr. Connor and Miss Tappan were good will representatives at lectures, official presentations and radio broadcasts on the Brazil hour. They believe that Esperanto is the best solution to the problem of communication between the Americas.

Family House Party

Mrs. Niel Weathers of Short Hills entertained a family house party at her summer home at Lake Sunapee, N. H., over the Labor Day week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. George M. Jeffrey of Short Hills are at the Curtis Hotel in Lenox, Mass. Mr. and Mrs. Quincy Ryan returned to Short Hills on Tuesday from a holiday week-end visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward M. Cooke of Orange, at their summer home at Bay Head.

Mrs. Cyrus Currier and her daughter, Betsy, are returning this week to Short Hills from a summer at Brewster on Cape Cod. Mr. Currier joined them there for week-end visits.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Kenly, who have been at Camp Quinebarrge, near Squam Lake, N. H., for the summer are returning to Short Hills on September 15th.

New Providence Borough

Reporter: Thomas Musson, SU. 6-4392

The Planning Board met Thursday night at the Borough Hall for its first meeting since the first part of June. A communication was received from the Countryside Home Owners' Association offering to co-operate with the Board in cases of planning concerning the Countryside section. The Board thanked the Association and stated they would consult the Countryside Home Owners in cases of planning affecting that section.

A communication was received from Mrs. F. A. Forsythe asking why the Planning Board had held up plans for the development of her property near the Ridgeview section. She was advised that the fault lay with her agent, who ignored the zoning ordinance and rules of the Planning Board.

The Board of Adjustment will meet this evening at the Borough Hall for its monthly meeting. Application of Elvin Rowe for permission to maintain a roadstead in Springfield avenue will be considered.

The Civic Group will resume its meetings on September 22nd. It will be the first meeting of the organization since June.

A meeting of the Executive Committee of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist Church, will be held in the church parlors this afternoon at two o'clock. On Wednesday, the regular monthly meeting of the Society will be held at the church at 1:45 p. m.

New Providence Test of Smell To Be Decisive

New Providence Township

Members of the New Providence Township Committee listened Thursday night to a sales talk to the effect that the plastics industry is the "business of the future" but, without disagreeing, decided to find out how plastics "in the raw" smell.

It was the second recent occasion when industry attempted to invade this residential outpost in the Watchtowers only to have the committee start inquiring about potential industrial odors.

Henry W. Harding, president of Manufacturers' Chemical Corporation, 310 Twelfth street, Jersey City, not only wants to locate a plastics factory in New Providence—he also wants to buy the land from the township. He told of his business in glowing terms and said the cellulose acetate used has a "pleasant odor."

"That's what an insulator outfit told us when they wanted to come here recently," Anton C. Swenson, chairman of the Township Committee, interjected, "and we went to Matawan to see and smell what industrial odors a similar plant emitted. We came back holding our collective noses and turned them down." The plant subsequently located in Middlesex County.

Despite Mr. Harding's assurances, the committee decided to visit Jersey City Tuesday afternoon and smell the plastics plant.

"Personally," said the mayor, "I don't think this is the place for such a plant."

Mr. Harding's proposed area is at Snyder avenue and the Lackawanna Railroad in the township.

Theatre Guild Announces Plans For 3rd Season

The Summit Little Theatre Guild this morning announced plans for its third season. In a prepared statement, the guild says:

"Although sponsored by the Board of Recreation, we need the support of the people of Summit as we want to feel that we are another of Summit's groups.

"Complying to many requests, we are presenting our three productions this year in the High School auditorium to convenience people who would like to see our plays, but who have found it inconvenient to get to the Edison Junior High School.

"Also, to give folks an opportunity to get acquainted with the 'Guild', we are going to solicit subscription tickets at the price of $1.25 entitling admission to all productions and an opportunity to participate in anyway such as painting, costuming, acting, etc.

"We are going to have a drive on the sale of subscription tickets and hope to sell enough so that we won't have to sell individual tickets for plays. The only other tickets will be sold are 75 cent tickets at the door, should there be available seats.

"Dates will be announced later."

Women Voters Hold Pre-Primary Meeting At Community House

The Summit League of Women Voters is holding its pre-primary candidates forum at the Community House on Walden avenue at 2:30 this afternoon. It is expected that all three candidates for Mayor will be present.

Four of the candidates for Council have also agreed to speak and two others stated that they would make every effort to be present. Eight Union County candidates for the State Assembly will be on the list of speakers at the meeting while three or four others may also be able to arrange their business affairs so as to be present.

Many Prizes Awarded At Fourth Annual Flower Show In New Providence

New Providence Borough

New Providence's Fourth Annual Flower Show, sponsored by the New Providence Civic Group, was held Saturday afternoon and evening at the Lincoln School auditorium. Miss Kathleen Krayer was general chairman assisted by members of the Civic Group and New Providence Garden Club. The Borough Council and Board of Education also cooperated.

The entries in the flower arrangement classes were commented upon by the judges, Mrs. Ray Harcomb of Westfield, Mrs. John Potter, and Miss Ida Jacobs of Maplewood. An unusual number of entries in the specimen flower, fruit and vegetable classes, and especially the latter, kept Frank Breen of Madison and Mayor John W. Oakwood of this place busy judging them for over two hours. It was found that some of the younger residents of New Providence were entered in these classes.

Three gold seals were awarded to exhibits of special merit as follows: to the New Providence Garden Club for its interpretation of "Peace" in a contest of Garden Clubs. This exhibit was executed by Mrs. Elmer L. High and Mrs. K. Niemants; to Mrs. Ruby Palling for her arrangement of flowers suitable for a living room and to Mrs. Elmer High for her arrangement on a breakfast tray. Arrangements by Mrs. Chauncey Horton and her daughter, Miss Hope Horton, were leaders in the arrangement classes.

A. C. Hoffman scored the highest number of points in the specimen flower classes with 82 points which included four first prizes, five seconds and four thirds. Mrs. C. Hall was second with 39 points scored with three firsts, a second and a third prize while A. G. Balcom was third with 28 points scored with a first, two seconds and two thirds. Elmer High scored 91 points to lead in the vegetable classes, winning four firsts, eight seconds and a third. Mrs. Robert S. Holt was second with 50 points collected with five first prizes and Thomas Fraiola was third with 39 points which included three firsts, a second and a third prize.

Totty's of Madison had a very attractive display of perennials, including Kansas Gayfeather, Delphiniums and other of the rarer perennials. Samuel Parliano showed some mammoth dahlias very well chosen. Miss Amy Hore of Scotch Plains also showed many perennials and Fred Coddington displayed gardenias in a huge glass globe. Lyman B. Coddington, Jr., showed some of his blue-ribbon apples and Miss Virginia Stout of Short Hills, for the New Jersey Dahlia Society, exhibited a collection of miniature dahlias.

Those assisting Miss Krayer in the management and planning of the affair included Mrs. Elmer L. High, Mrs. Lockwood Dorrance, Mrs. Elsworth Hansell, Dayton Parcells, Harry Schlichting, Albert C. Hoffman and Mayor John W. Oakwood, representing the Civic Group, and Mrs. K. Niemants, Mrs. Chauncey Horton, Mrs. Fred Lortz, Mrs. G. R. May and Mrs. J. W. Boyce, representing the Garden Club.

Winners in the various classes were as follows: Miniature arrangements, in pottery container, 1st, Miss Hope Horton; 2nd, Mrs. Chauncey Horton; 3rd, Mrs. William B. Guild; in glass container, 1st, Mrs. Aline Genung; 2nd, Miss Horton and 3rd, Mrs. Elmer L. ## Students Urged to Learn Status in Selective Service

College students in Summit, New Providence Borough and Township who are registered for selective service and who are debating the question of re-entering school this month should consult their draft board to determine approximately how soon they may be called for training. It was declared today at the selective service office in old City Hall.

Many students already have followed that procedure and are planning their winter accordingly. Blanket student deferments granted last year expired June 30 and induction delays now are being given on the basis of each student's case. Students preparing themselves for certain occupations in which shortages of manpower exist or may be felt are among those given deferments. Others are being granted to meet the completion of training which will fit them for commissions in the armed forces.

"It is the policy of the selective service system to be as lenient as possible within the law in cases of young men who earnestly are pursuing educational opportunities," State Director William A. Higgins said at Trenton Thursday. "Where such men have entered in good faith upon an educational course, we will endeavor not to interrupt their studies during a quarter or a semester even though they are not seeking to qualify for an occupation that is exceptionally important to the national defense."

"Our advice to these young men, therefore, is to consult with their local boards and find out when they probably will be called to qualify for training," Higgins continued. "If the probability is more remote than a month or so they may begin their studies with the understanding that they can at least complete a quarter. In the same way it may seem probable, according to their order numbers, that they can complete a semester or a full school year."

The general policy will be one of cooperation, with the object of avoiding sudden interruption of studies or financial loss to the students through inability to continue through a quarter or semester for which tuition has been paid, it was said.

Rules For Deferment

Selective service registrants who became 28 years old before July 1 will be given I-H classifications if they otherwise would fall into the I-A grouping without a physical examination, the local board was informed Thursday by State headquarters.

The instructions are the result of recent legislation in Congress, granting all men over that age exemption from military service at the present time and the right to apply for release to all those now 28 who already have been inducted. Actually, the I-H classification will be considered a deferment instead of an exemption, the same as II-A, II-B, III-A and the several sub-divisions of Class IV, it was pointed out at headquarters of the selective service boards. If the deferred emergency becomes so grave that the registrants aged 28 to 36 are needed for military service, they can be summoned for physical examinations and induction without re-registration or reclassification, unless the dependency or employment status of the men change.

Registrants over 28 who would not otherwise be given a I-A rating will be placed in one or the other of the deferred groupings in the same manner as the men who have not reached that age.

Will Clear Files

The disposition of the 28 to 36 year old men, as outlined by State headquarters, will permit the draft board members to proceed with the classification job and clear their files as the office routine is concerned, for the past two and a half months.

Week-End Guests

Dean and Mrs. Norris A. Briscoe of Norwood avenue, had as their week-end guests Mrs. Briscoe's brother-in-law and sister, Dr. and Mrs. E. C. ## Leathem Discusses Recent Endorsement Of Judicial Candidate by Republican Club

This is the fifth in a series of articles under the general title of "Should Summit Have a Mayor?" written by Ernest F. Leathem, Republican Club candidate. Copies of previous articles are available at Mr. Leathem's headquarters at 349 Springfield Avenue.

"These articles have demonstrated that I am making this campaign frankly and openly on the true issues which Mayor Forster's 'do-nothing' policy has created or magnified. Mayor Forster and his supporters, however, have, both by published statements and by typical political innuendo, tried to drag a red herring across the trail in an effort to belaud the issues raised by me to which Mr. Forster and his supporters cannot give adequate answers. Let me cite two examples of this and place my position clearly on the record for all to see.

"Example No. 1. It has been said that I can be made the innocent or willing dupe of such groups, referring to the Summit Republican Club, and that my election would hand the city over 'to the tender mercies of a political group,' apparently referring to a very few members of the Board of Trustees of the Summit Republican Club. Both of these statements are absolute falsehoods. Before either the Republican Club or the Independent Club endorsed my candidacy, their official representatives were specifically told by me that I would accept no endorsement which bound me in any way to be under obligation to any group, club, faction or individual, politically or otherwise. The sworn record of my remarks to this effect before the Board of Trustees of the Summit Republican Club are available to the public. Part of these were read in a public meeting of the Independent Club and later published in this newspaper. In the face of this, both of these organizations endorsed my candidacy and are under no illusions today that I am in any way responsible to them.

An Independent
"I defy anyone to show in any way that I am bound to any single person, faction, organization or club or that my campaign has been run under anyone's direction and control by my own. I am making this campaign as an independent, and the proof of the pudding is the way the Independent Club and I have scored of unattached voters have backed to my support and worked in my behalf. My campaign organization itself is led by good because the Council will not co-operate.

This procedure made for an impossible situation even before Mr. Forster became Mayor.

On inauguration day, 1940, I pledged to Mayor Forster my personal co-operation and I sincerely hoped that having attained his purpose he would work with the Council in harmony and co-operation.

One month after taking office a statement appeared in the press (local and out-of-town) accusing the Council of "secretly" purchasing a car for the Police Department with "funds hidden in the budget." The falseness of this contention was quickly proven in a public meeting when the chairman of one of the civic groups reported the whole matter had been gone into at a joint meeting of the Council and the several civic groups at which the Mayor was present.

During all the time the Council was working on the 1940 budget, I do not recall that Mr. Forster made a constructive suggestion or criticism. When the budget was ready for adoption great was my surprise to read that Mr. Forster disapproved the proposed budget and might veto it.

At the next conference, Mr. Forster was asked to explain his disapproval and offer suggestions on how it had to be changed to meet his approval. He had nothing to offer. Later when Mayor Forster advised the Council he would not replace a Patrolman who had died the Public Safety Committee with the approval of the other members of the Council reduced the police budget by the amount required to pay and equip one patrolman. Mr. Forster demanded this sum be restored as the police budget had been pared down so fine it would be impossible for him to make a good showing by having a surplus at the end of the year.

When the budget was introduced with but this one protested change, Mr. Forster publicly approved it and claimed credit for the tax rate reduction.

I have heard Mayor Forster vigorously advocate in conference that the cost of a certain project be assessed 100% against the property benefited to which the Council Committee agreed and then within a few minutes when the property owners were invited into the conference completely reverse himself and state he saw no reason why the citizens as a whole should not share the expense of this project not just those in the neighborhood.

On another occasion when an independent voter and includes far more independent or unattached voters than members of the Summit Republican Club. Those are the people who really are interested in good government and who know me well enough to know that I do not jump at any man's beck and call.

While on this subject, I have been asked from time to time to state my position with reference to a recent action of the Summit Republican Club in endorsing a particular person for a certain judgeship. In every such instance I have given a direct answer and wish to place myself publicly on record now as to the facts of this situation.

"This incident occurred while I was on my vacation away from Summit. I was not consulted—had I been, I would have expressed my opposition to such a move. In fact, I have not been consulted in the Republican Club's actions since my nomination except in respect to the public meeting to be held by them next Wednesday at the Lincoln School, or in other matters pertaining solely to my campaign. There is, however, no relevance between the appointment of someone to a district judgeship and this campaign because I shall not at any time press for the appointment of any person to a position outside the government of the City of Summit. My opinion cannot truthfully say as much.

Example No. 2. I am reliably informed that the Mayor's supporters say that I intend to be dictatorial, overbearing and to raise taxes,—this in the face of my whole record in civic affairs, open to anyone to see, which has always been for real and true economy, sound finance, permanent and lasting reductions of debt and cooperation with all branches of local government. This has even gone so far as to impute to me a statement that I would demand resignations from all present Board members appointed by Mr. Forster and undated resignations from my own appointees. This is wholly false.

I shall demand no resignations from any present Board members or city employees nor from any of my own appointees. To keep faith with the voters, however, and to carry out the platform and policies for which I am standing, I shall assure myself that the objectives and purposes of my appointees coincide closely with my own. If I did any less, I would not be true to the portant matter was being discussed, Mayor Forster was asked for his views and the reply given me was "You can read my views in the paper tomorrow."

Added to the above is the most recent statement by Mr. Forster claiming credit for a reduction in the bonded indebtedness of the city. Bonds are issued to mature on a certain fixed date and it is mandatory that the Council appropriate funds by taxing property to meet these maturities. State laws and the Common Councils pay as you go policy has accomplished this reduction. I am heartily in accord with Mayor Forster's statement that all construction of other than a vital maintenance nature should be deferred and what cannot be put off should be financed from current funds. This plan of pay-as-you-go should be followed in connection with the present Joint Trunk Sewer project, but the last time I talked this over with Mr. Forster, he strongly advocated bonding this item.

Absolutely no credit can be claimed by Mr. Forster for good tax collections or the cleaning bill by foreclosures of delinquent properties because as Mayor he has had no part in the work. On the contrary, each time Mayor Forster has made a public statement on the excellence of collections and what the tax rate will be some years in the future a definite drop in collections has been noted and greater effort has had to be put forth by the tax department to restore the rate of receipts to that prevailing before his statement.

From the above it would seem to me any fair-minded citizen can realize why I feel the best interests of our city cannot be served by the reelection of one whose every action is governed by how he thinks it will affect his personal prestige.

On the other hand, having worked on many civic problems with Mr. Ernest Leathem I have always found before giving an opinion he became thoroughly familiar with all the facts in the matter and furthermore I have every confidence in his decisions, if elected, will be based on the merits of the case rather than whether it will add to his personal popularity.

Yours truly,
MAXWELL LESTER, Jr.

Want to Keep Your Yard Attractive?

Be Sure to Water Grass and Flowers Properly

"Most important aid for an attractive yard is—water!" That's what soil experts at Purdue University say.

To keep your yard fresh, tend these sprinkling helps the soil authorities list:

"In watering your yard imitate rainfall—make a spray of your hose. Wet grass and flowers thoroughly. Moisture must reach the roots (about five inches deep)."

"Evening is the best time to sprinkle. But whenever you sprinkle, water apply. Light sprinkling causes surface roots, easily killed by sun."

"Be sure to get the water into the ground—not merely on it!"

Grace Kirby Wed To John Culbertson

The marriage of Miss Grace Jessie Kirby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Price Kirby, Glen Summit Springs, Pa., Morristown, and Palm Beach, Fla., to John Harrison Culbertson, Short Hills, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Walter Culbertson, took place Saturday afternoon at the Kirby's at Glen Summit Graystone Terrace, summer home of the Kirbys at Glen Summit Springs. The Rev. Martyn D. Keeler, pastor of First Presbyterian Church of Wilkes Barre, performed the ceremony. A garden reception followed.

Mrs. David Salmehier of Englewood, was matron of honor and Miss Ann Sutherland Kirby was her sister's maid of honor. Mrs. Arthur Stebbins, Rochester; Miss Marion Payne, Miss Lois Smith, Wilkes-Barre, and Miss Betty Gill, Prout Neck, Me., were attendants.

James Brooks of Englewood was best man. Ushers were Walter Culbertson, New York, brother of the bridegroom; Fred M. Kirby 2nd, brother of the bride; S. Keene Mitchell Jr., James Culbertson, another brother of the bridegroom, and Fred Robbins, New York.

The couple will make their home in New York.

YOU, THE PEOPLE, SPEAK

Editor, The Summit Herald:

Dear Sir—A few days ago you carried a statement from the Mayor to the effect that he would be available to act in that capacity if elected at the coming election. The same day as your issue the New York Times carried an announcement from the United States Navy that they would put into effect the "biggest peacetime drive for enlistments in the history of the country." A clipping of that article is attached and I believe is worth your reprinting.

That article tells us of the Navy's need for 13,000 additional men per month. Surely common sense tells us that this will mean a crying need for more officers and that it will be imperative to keep in the Navy the competent officers they now have. Surely it follows that our Navy cannot afford to let Mr. Forster return to civilian life.

Both Mr. Forster and Mr. Leatham have told us how well qualified they are for the office of Mayor. Possibly they are both correct. We voters, however, must decide whether or not Mr. Forster will really be with us. In my opinion there can be but one answer—our Navy comes first.

Naturally we are all proud of our soldiers and sailors, and rightfully so, but we must also think of our city's welfare. If we, the voters, insist that Mr. Forster should have another term, there will be ample time to again elect him after the emergency is over and he has returned permanently to Summit. To elect him now would be a foolish thing for us to do. It would probably mean that Mr. Lester would necessarily fill the job, and while undoubtedly he is capable of handling the work efficiently, he has his very important work as President of the Council to handle. We would deliberately leave our city short one man at a time when all of them will be very badly needed.

It is time we dropped this game of politics and time we gave more consideration to the question of what course is really the best for the City of Summit.

Very truly yours,

A. J. GEAR.

September 4, 1941.

Editor The Summit Herald:

Dear Sir—The writer, the very fair and impartial policy you have followed in connection with the handling of the Summit Mayoralty Campaign. The many other Summit voters who are not closely affiliated with city political organizations, should also read the issues as presented by the candidates, Mr. Leatham, and the weak defense offered by Mr. Forster's Committee. By doing so, they would reach the conclusion that the constructive platform as outlined by Mr. Leatham, coupled with the fact that Mr. Forster will no doubt be en-saged in active naval duty, makes Mr. Leatham by far, the most desirable candidate.

Yours very truly,

G. V. LEECE.

Summit, N. J.

September 6, 1941

Editor of the Summit Herald

Dear Sir—Young Mr. Leatham, apparently soliciting information unavailable to him by virtue of his political inexperience, has been inquiring for weeks, "Should Summit have a Mayor?" Profound thought, isn't it?

In discourses not marked by their brevity, Mr. Leatham has elaborated his central theme. His words, not only falling to exploit his own candidacy, have served to reveal the shallowness of his pretensions to office. This result follows inevitably from the character of the political arguments he has used. A brief autopsy, carefully performed on his articles can show how this has been so.

Gross inconsistency of argument has been badly cloaked in rhetoric. I—Mr. Ernest F. Leatham—am perfectly capable of maintaining an out-of-state law practice, while governing Summit as Mayor. You—Mayor Forster—cannot be permitted to associate your office as Mayor with tangible service to our country's defense. For me—Mr. Leatham—the task of serving as Mayor is so simple, so elementary that I need no practical political education. For you—Mayor Forster—the task is so arduous that it demands your ceasing to serve our country as Lieutenant Commander—or else forfeit your right to hold office in Summit. You cannot render service to both city and country, though you are trained for both. I can do one, though I am trained for neither.

Lack of understanding, if not sheer duplicity, marks Mr. Leatham's review of Mayor Forster's administration. All that has been good in the past two years of civic government has been achieved despite Mayor Forster. All that has been evil has stemmed from but one source: the Mayor. And this latter category includes maliciously disrupting the police department, laying the cornerstone to the Edison school, and sadistically provoking automobile accidents. There somehow seems to be a dismal lack of dry powder to fire Mr. Leatham's political guns.

This general attitude towards Mayor Forster's administration can be explicitly revealed for what it is if one notes young Mr. Leatham's review of the tax issue. It was obvious that he must explain away the substantial reduction in the tax rate achieved during Mayor Forster's administration. Thus: "Whatever credit is due for this improvement belongs entirely to the Common Council." In other words, this function of governing the tax rate—in this instance, lowering it—attaches exclusively to the Common Council, and bears no relationship to the office of Mayor. But, later in the same article, when Mr. Leatham contemplates with relish how HE will make the tax rate dive, he says: "The Mayor more than anyone else is in a position... to support this policy in the Common Council." An accomplished good, rooted in fact, reflects no credit on the Mayor. A contemplated good, predicated on promise, heaps merit on his opponent.

But, exceeding expectations, Mr. Leatham's political arguments find a still lower level. He is forced to admit that Mayor Forster's appointments have been representative of every section of the city: which means simply that, for the first time, the Eastern section has not been scorned. What is Mr. Leatham's method of dismissing this fact?—It was done for "political expediency." Is it not strange then, Mr. Leatham, that Mayors previous to Mayor Forster never found this action "expedient"? And, Mr. Leatham, do you not see that you are insulting the character of an entire section of the city to which you are trying vainly to appeal, when you imply that the only reason a Mayor would appoint someone to office from that section is for "political expediency"—not because the appointment was merited? Your statement does not harm Mayor Forster's record. It simply shows that the only terms in which you can contemplate this section of the city is as a vote-barrel.

The last frantic bit of sleight-of-hand has been the issue of revising the charter. Only political naïveté can here explain Mr. Leatham's position. Of course, a time like the present when all civic energies should be directed towards achieving economy and cutting the rate of assessment in the face of soaring national taxes—such a time is logical to choose to turn the civic governmental structure upside down (and perhaps erect a new city hall as a monument to mark the burial ground for the present structure). And, of course, when the citizens of Summit feel that their municipal charter demands revision, they will rise and, as if with one voice, summon to lead them a man who has never served on the Common Council or in any civic office!

In justice to Mr. Leatham, it must be admitted that, in addition to his insistence on breaking the two-term mayoralty tradition, he has earned certain other distinctions. In the recollection of this writer, no other political aspirant in Summit has ever tried to make lucrative political capital out of automobile fatalities. And certainly Mr. Leatham has no peer in the art of multiplying the number of words, written by himself to exploit his own candidacy—and to assail an incumbent's record in office which has stood the test of all honest scrutiny.

And by the way, Mr. Leatham, for your information now, Summit has and will continue to have a Mayor: Lieutenant-Commander Guido F. Forster.

FLORENCE H. BECKER,
(Mrs. William A. Becker)

Editor, The Summit Herald:

Incompetence or intelligence? I gather from a leaflet propaganda, that it is now, during a National Emergency, a disgrace and a blot on the ability to be versatile and useful to a community of a bare 16,000, if one is honoring his fellow citizens and country at large, with his very able services occasionally, during his term of public office.

Mayor LaGuardia, U. S. Air Service Reserve, & Defense Board Commission, please take notice along with Mayor Guido Forster, U. S. Naval Reserve.

As an ex-serviceman I feel the intelligent, patriotic people of this fine-spirited community won't take such unpatriotic propaganda as a boost for the opposition, but just the reverse—nor will they diminish their support of or esteem for a man who has so ably served his community and country—a mark of intelligence and duty.

I dare say it was were to come tomorrow, Guido Forster would be sent off with blaring bands and glory and later received home again with a sense of personal glory in his ability and service to his country, and proudly reinstated in the office of Mayor.

Patriotically yours,
RAYMOND LEMKE OBRIG,

New Providence Township

Reporter: Mrs. R. N. Curtis, SU. 6-2743-W

Members of the Berkeley Heights and Hackettstown plants of the Essex Specialty Company voted by secret ballot on Wednesday, September 3rd, to determine whether or not they would become unionized, and if so, would the bargaining agent be the A. F. of L. or the C. I. O. During the proceedings the United Mine Workers of America, District No. 50, C. I. O., withdrew its name, leaving only the A. F. of L. The ballot box was sealed and sent to Washington, D. C., to the Regional Office of the Labor Board, where a count will be made. During July the Berkeley Heights plant was on strike for a period of three weeks. The minimum wage of 37 cents per hour was then raised to 52½ cents per hour, and the strikers went back to work.

New Providence Township Committee met Wednesday night. A notice was received from the Union County Board of Tax Appeals to the effect that the Prudence Investment Company (formerly the Summit Golf Club) was appealing for a reduction in its assessments for 1941.

They have been assessed by the township, for land valuation, $31,000, and for buildings in the amount of $10,000. The Prudence Investment Company want their buildings assessment reduced to $5,000. The township, believing their values correct and just, have instructed John L. Hughes, township attorney, to fight this appeal.

A resolution was adopted permitting the payment of $1,700 to the local Board of Education, and $5,455.94 to the Union County Regional High School.

Andrew Hayes presented a map of Union Village Square. The committee approved such portions as were in the township. The development is located on Mountain avenue, partially in Union County and partially in Somerset County.

James Lang, Mountain avenue, R.F.D. 3, Plainfield, driver of the car in which two persons were injured last Monday night, has been summoned to appear before Recorder Joseph Mulholland to answer to a charge of reckless driving. The car was proceeding east on Plainfield avenue when it struck and cut down a tree just west of St. Mary's R. C. Church. The car landed on its side on the lawn of the church in a very badly damaged condition. Robert McHugh, Manning avenue, North Plainfield, and Charles Dooley, Fairview avenue, North Plainfield, were injured. The former more seriously. Other passengers in the car were: Lee P. Touchon (owner), Stirling road, Stirling; Earl Ising, Jr., R.F.D. 3, Plainfield, and Miss Caroline Canfield, Johnson avenue, Plainfield.

Will Crawford, nationally known pen and ink artist, has arrived here from Hollywood, Calif., and is visiting his sister, Mrs. Lotta Ricatoni, of Free Acres.

Mr. Crawford has been in Hollywood for two years, and while there designed the costumes for North-west Passage. He is a personal friend of Mr. and Mrs. James Cagney, who are former summer residents of Free Acres. Though 72 years old, he is very active and plans to return to Hollywood in the fall. Mr. Crawford is an authority on early American costumes, and serves in an advisory capacity for the Exposition Park Museum in California.

Women's Auxiliary of the Community Association will meet tonight in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Shaffer, Mountain avenue.

Man Killed As Car Crashes Into Lumber Loaded Truck

New Providence Township

William P. Bruce, 21, of Washington avenue, Berkeley Heights, was killed instantly Saturday night when the car in which he was riding crashed into the rear end of a loaded lumber truck at Valley road and the Lackawanna Railroad overpass in the Passaic Township section of Berkeley Heights.

The front of the car passed under the overhanging lumber, according to Police Chief Thomas Rhein of Passaic Township, as its driver, Leo W. Houck, 21, of Washington avenue, Berkeley Heights, attempted unsuccessfully to pass on the left of the truck, driven by Angelo De Duca of that town.

Mr. Houck misjudged his distance, Mr. Rhein said, and the lumber smashed through the windshield of the automobile, fracturing Mr.

night in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Shaffer, Mountain avenue.

New Providence Township Board of Education will meet Monday night in Columbia School.

Bruce's jaw and spine. Victor Houck, 16-year-old brother of the driver who was also riding in the front seat, received lacerations of both eyes, right cheek and chin when the lumber crashed into their faces, the police chief declared. He was treated at Overlook Hospital, Summit. Messrs. Bruce and Houck were brothers-in-law.

Arraigned before Recorder J. C. Hall of Millington, Leo Houck was held on a technical charge of auto manslaughter. Mr. Bruce's body was removed to the Martens Morgue, Chatham.

Starry Flag Council Holds Combined Meeting

New Providence Borough

On Wednesday evening, September 10, the Jr. O. U. A. M. Starry Flag Council No. 158 of New Providence will hold a joint meeting with Cranford Council No. 62 of Cranford, N. J. Refreshments will be served. As entertainment Starry Flag will offer their new shuffleboard and pool table.

EXHIBITION SCHOLASTIC FOOTBALL BATTLE

Overtures were reportedly made to Summit High School athletic officials during the past week for an exhibition United Service Organization benefit football game to be played on Saturday afternoon, September 20th. The offers were made, according to reports, by Carl F. Roff, sports editor of The Morristown Daily Record, with Morristown High, providing the gridiron opposition. The New Jersey News Writers' Association has been mentioned as the sponsoring organization.

Plans for the contest, as explained rather roughly to this writer, were to give each school one-third of the gate receipts and the U. S. O. an equal proportion. Morristown had tentatively offered to turn its third back to the U. S. O.

While no formal statement has as yet been made by Summit High athletic authorities, it is known that a scrimmage game is played between the two schools every year. Having an exhibition battle wouldn't be far afield of the Summit policy of playing only regularly scheduled opponents, and a worthy cause would benefit at the same time.

WILL BURKE BE WILDCAT'S COACH?

While on the subject of "reports" and "rumors", it is understood that John Burke, former University of Vermont grid mentor, who was slated to coach the Summit Wildcats this year, has landed a coaching job with Carteret School, West Orange, and will not be available for local duty. If the reports are well-founded, Manager Frank Caporaso will have to start another scouting campaign for a competent coach.

LACKAWANNA MAY LOSE TEAM

Still another rumor is that Madison's Andrew (Gin) Rickey will withdraw his Madison Dodgers from the Lackawanna Baseball League next year. Andy, according to available information, will play exhibition contests at Dodge Field.

Andy has had a variety of troubles with officials of the league. Failure to get complete return of his twenty-five dollar deposit, made at the start of every league season to cover forfeits and other fines, was the crowning touch to Andy's withdrawal. He collected twenty-four dollars.

Several other teams in nearby communities, including a Maplewood club, a former Lackawanna League stronghold, are looking to gain entrance next year. Madison's withdrawal, although not at all the desire of league officials, would not affect the league too seriously.

RED SOX WILL BE REWARDED

Getting back to the world of reality, it has definitely been established that the Summit Red Sox will receive gold tie pins with dangling gold miniature baseballs as reward for winning the Lackawanna Baseball League pennant this year. Selection of the individual player awards and that of a trophy for the team were made at a meeting of the league's Board of Governors last Friday evening.

The expensive awards, purchased with funds raised at the East-West All-Star games, will be presented sixteen members of the Summit club at the annual banquet next month. The league trophy, which stands twenty-nine inches high, will be placed on exhibition in the Summit Herald office after the banquet.

A committee, by the way, has been appointed by the Board of Governors to handle arrangements for the banquet. It is expected that the affair will be held somewhere in Summit early next month.

SOMEONE WANTED THE INFORMATION

Apparently many people thought the same as this writer about the decided lack of acquaintance of Summit's newer residents with the athletic facilities available in this city. Using an article printed last Thursday in this column as a springboard, there have been many telephone calls and visits made to the Herald office for information regarding football, bowling, table tennis, swimming, golf, softball, etc., with the result that many new residents will find the type of activity they want and at the same time make many new friends with similar recreational interests.

May we rather feebly repeat at this time, that no matter what sporting activity you may be interested in, either as a spectator or participant, do not hesitate to call the Herald sports department for assistance or information. If your question cannot be answered, you can at least be referred to someone who can give you proper solution to your problem.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS

The second annual city softball banquet will be held at the Studio Club, Morris Turnpike, on Monday evening, September 15th. . . . Anthony (Chink) Passarelli, who was Millburn High's ace miler a year ago, has obtained a scholarship at Georgetown University, and will be a member of the track squad there this year.

Record Season Indicated At County Park Stables

A record season for group activities at the County Park Stables, the Union County Park Commission's riding center at Glenide avenue, Summit, is indicated by enrollments for the various units which start activities next week, according to J. W. Valentine, manager of the stables. Registrations have been received from children in all sections of the county, with Summit, Westfield, and Oxford youngsters predominating, with there also a large number from neighboring Essex communities.

First group to meet for the new season will be the Monday section of the Watching Junior Troop, which includes boys and girls over seven years old. For the junior troops, sessions of which also meet Thursday and Friday afternoons, all at 4 o'clock, no riding experience is necessary and the groups are divided according to ability, with adequate instruction for each.

The Watching Girls Troop, senior group of the stables, will have sessions Tuesday and Friday afternoons at 4:15 o'clock and two sessions Saturday morning at 10:30 o'clock. Another group is the Watching Boys Troop, which holds its first session Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock and continues for ten sessions.

In former years, all the troops met on a seasonal basis, but this year the Commission has decided to constitute the troops as permanent units, with the hope that boys and girls will become more interested in riding and horse care.

Cardinals Trip "B" League All-Star Club With Heavy Scoring Outbreak In Middle Innings of Preliminary Exhibition Game

RALLIES TURN TIDE OF IMPORTANT BATTLE

Pushing five runs across in the fourth and fifth innings, the Cardinals, champions of the "B" League, tripped the "B" League All-Star Club, 7 to 6, in a preliminary battle to the city softball tournament finals at Soldiers' Memorial Field yesterday afternoon. The All-Star club did manage to out-hit the pennant-winners, however, gaining an 11-8 advantage in that particular department.

The All-Stars scored six markers in the first four frames with an attack that included two extra-base blows. The Cards, meanwhile, picked up two runs in the second inning, added three in the fourth and crowned the drive with another two-run spurge in the fifth. Les Cole pitched the Cards to victory, despite the ferocity of the All-Star hitting. Stanley Solivado's triple in the fourth and Ray Mack's double in the fifth aided his winning performance. Cole scored one of the two Cardinal runs in the second frame and batted one home in the same inning.

The All-Star club was made up of players chosen by the managers in the league and represented Stephens-Miller Company, Knights of Columbus, Water Company, Root's Men's Shop and Bell Laboratory teams. Ben Scheppe, who piloted the Water Company to a pennant last year, was manager of the All-Star aggregation.

Final Activity Planned As reward for winning the "B" League championship this year, the Cardinals will receive the league trophy at the second annual softball banquet of the combined "A", "B", and Industrial leagues at the Studio Club, Morris Turnpike, on Monday evening, September 15th.

District Court Judge John L. Hughes has been invited by the three leagues to present the trophies to the pennant-winning clubs. The Edward T. Snook trophy, emblematic of the city championship, will be given the A. & P. Super Market team as part of the ceremony.

A box score of the Cardinals-All-Star game follows:

Girdler Memorial Trophy Among Awards Offered At Montclair Show

The S. Brent Girdler Memorial Trophy, a large silver punchbowl valued at $350, will be offered in competition for the first time in the Montclair Horse Show on Friday and Saturday, Sept. 26 and 27 at the Montclair Riding Club, it was announced yesterday by Frank O. Jones, president of Montclair Horse Show, Inc.

Two shows, the Montclair and Rock Spring-Metropolitan Equestrian Club exhibitions, will have the cup for classes this year, but other shows will be invited to add the class next year.

Sheldon M. Stewart, of Montclair, chairman of the committee arranging for the class, revealed that competition in the class will be judged on a 50-50 basis for a saddle horse or pony and horsemanship. Open to riders under 18 years of age, the class will be held in memory of the late S. Brent Girdler of Montclair, who was widely known in horse show circles throughout the East. Long interested in equestrian activities, the late Mr. Girdler was particularly interested in the competition for juniors, and it is entirely fitting that the committee has seen fit to dedicate such a class to his memory.

Chairman Stewart announced that the cup must be won five times for permanent possession, which practically assures the valuable prize of perpetuity. Winners and runners-up will receive prizes each year and the winner's name will be inscribed on the trophy.

Summit High Soccer Team Holds Initial Practice

Eben Thomas, Summit High's soccer coach, has announced that the opening practice session of the 1941 season will be staged at Soldiers' Memorial Field this afternoon. The Big Red aggregation will be out to defend the numerous honors gained last year in the ranks of New Jersey scholastic kicking outfits.

Although the Suburban Conference, of which Summit is an active member, sponsors no competition in soccer, the local team annually plays the leading high school clubs throughout the state. Last year's club, which was rated one of the leading outfits in the state, played in such outstanding soccer hotbeds as Kearny, Verona, Plainfield, Thomas Jefferson (Elizabeth), and East Orange.

A pair of Summit players were selected at the end of the 1940 season for recognition on the all-state soccer team. Alex "Sandy" Twombly was chosen first-string left half-back on the luminous aggregation and Randolph Miles, who returns this year, was placed on the second team. Only five other schools in the state were mentioned in the selections.

Soccer experts predict that Miles will be one of the leading players in the state this year. Frank Judge, who annually makes the all-state choices, stated last year that Miles would reach the pinnacle of his kicking career during the coming campaign.

Thomas Has Unusual Record In his two years as Summit High's soccer coach, Eben Thomas has turned out two teams of championship calibre. Facing the leading Group 2, 3 and 4 clubs, the Big Red has had only three defeats in the past two seasons.

Thomas' trail to the coaching position at Summit High has been studded with success stories. He attended Panzer College for two years, pursuing a physical education course. After leaving Panzer he became head soccer coach at the Norfolk (Virginia) Junior High School, having an undefeated soccer team the one year that he was there.

For the next twelve years he was coach and physical education instructor at Summit's Central Junior High School, and had a successful soccer team every year and three undefeated squads.

Summit High's opening-day opponent, Clifford J. Scott High of East Orange, ranked as one of the leading gridiron combines in the state last season, has arranged a tough slate of games for head coach Jim Picken this year. The Scotties are scheduled to invade Soldiers' Memorial Field on Friday afternoon, September 26th.

When Bill Smith left Clifford Scott High at the end of the 1939 season for Asbury Park, his successor, Jim Picken, was on the spot. Smith had been released from the East Orange school amid a lot of hubbub, students and parents of players combining in a vain effort to force the East Orange Board of Education to retain the popular ex-Notre Dame captain. But Picken did a fine job under adverse conditions and piloted the suburban outfit through an undefeated season of eight games, losing only in a postseason clash with Burlington on snow-covered Ashland Field.

But Picken has found another vexing problem in his second year here. His team, although classified in Group 2, has proved so tough three of last year's outfits have withdrawn as opponents. He has booked Orange High for a game November 22, but October 4, 11 and November 15 are open and any team will do as an opponent, Picken says.

Clifford Scott, practicing twice a day now, should field another formidable outfit. A complete backfield is drilling daily. It is comprised of John Toner, Tony Brune, George Armstrong and Art Young, all experienced. Art De Shazo, guard and captain last year, is back again as Joe Legge and Herb Black, tackles, and Al Monahan, an end.

Picken is preparing his charges for the opening game against Englewood High at Ashland Stadium, September 20. His outfit nipped the Bergen County school, 7-0 last year at Englewood.

Picken now is dickering for those open date rivals. He'll not have the same problem in 1942, for West Orange and Westfield will be added to the schedule.

YOUNG Coach Nelson Smith has been putting his Verona High squad through its paces for quite some time now. Although he loses his two stars, Ends Bob Hagaman and Al Kaplus, Smith is hopeful of a team that will better by far last year's performance in which the Verona eleven finished last in the Suburban Conference. That was Verona's first varsity season and most of the team has returned.

MADISON Coach Martin Carlsen and his assistant, Murray Bigelow, have a group of 50 candidates going through football paces at the local high school field each day and the outlook is the best in a number of years.

Seven regulars were lost last June by graduation. The second stringers and new men who look promising are Ken Brown, Morris Beneduce, backs; Carilli, an end; Cleri, Heller, Lineardi, Lo Sapio, Prothers, Passalacqua, Naughton and Reddett, linemen.

A. & P. Super Market Ten Captures City Softball Tournament Title With Defeat Of North Summit Cardinals Yesterday

HALT RALLY IN SEVENTH FRAME TO WIN

The A. & P. Super Market softball team won the championship of the city at Soldiers Memorial Field yesterday afternoon, nipping the North Summit Cardinals, 8 to 5, in the final game of the tournament. The A. & P. outfit was forced to quell uprisings in the sixth and seventh innings to preserve a lead that was established early in the contest.

Conrad Cattano, who pitched the food salesmen to the championship in the Industrial League, limited the threatening Cardinals to six scattered hits. His teammates, meanwhile, collected eight safe blows off the slants of Mike Pozio. Five of the eight A. & P. runs were scored in the first three innings. A pair of bases on balls, a fielder's choice and one hit scored two markers in the first frame, while two free passes, another fielder's choice and two safeties accounted for three additional tallies in the third.

It was also bases on balls that put Cattano in trouble in the late innings. A walk and two hits scored a run in the sixth, and two walks set the stage for three runs in the seventh.

Culmination of Series The victory was the A. & P. club's second in tournament competition. A first round triumph over the Easterners, "A" League titlists, enabled the team to advance into the final round. The North Summit Cards moved into the finals by tripping the "B" League Cardinals in the first round.

Finalists in the city tourney were determined in an elimination series that included all five of the leagues currently being sponsored by the Summit Board of Recreation. A. & P. SUPER MARKET

At The Lyric Thursday

The romantic problems of a pretty working girl with too many beaux motivate the sparkling and hilarious theme of Ginger Rogers' latest film vehicle, "Tom, Dick and Harry."

George Murphy, Alan Marshal and Burgess Meredith enact the title roles in this gay offering which marks Miss Rogers' first picture since she won the Academy Award as the best actress of 1940.

The lovely star is cast as a romantically-inclined telephone girl who impulsively allows herself to become betrothed to three young fellows, all of varying financial and social position.

Riotous complications result which, enhanced by bristling dialogue and several unique fantasy sequences make "Tom, Dick and Harry" one of the most delightful offerings brought to the screen in many years.

Garson Kanin directed the RKO Radio film, and Robert Sisk produced it.

Feller, Candidate For Assembly, Outlines Policy

Declaring that the State Legislature should consider itself obligated to serve the municipalities it has created by charter, Attorney Milton A. Feller of Elizabeth, candidate for the G. O. P. nomination to the General Assembly at the September 16 primaries, Friday said he favors close co-operation between the legislative delegation and the various communities of Union County.

"The State Senator and the four Assemblymen from this County," he said, "should report periodically to the heads of the municipal governments in the county, either through the Union County Conference of Mayors, or other authorized agency, so that the legislators may keep their home communities fully informed as to Trenton developments and can learn firsthand of the problems the Legislature may help to solve."

to Thomas Balish in amount of $4,200 for a gas station at the corner of Morris and Lafayette avenues and to Howard Denman for a garage in amount of $200 at 42 Lewis avenue.

Permits for the foregoing new construction work totals $61,844.

Alteration permits totaling $18,426 were issued the past month as follows: John Brodsky, 168 Mountain avenue, $900; H. Cox, 24 High street, $185; Bertha S. Bishop, 11 Hillside avenue, $4,000; William Zotti, 7 Chapel street, $150; James Valenti, 561 Morris avenue, $2,000; Pierce Foundation, Inc., 3 Walnut street, Abe Knowen, 6 South street, $150; Ciba Co., Morris avenue, $2,000; John Sandoz, 147 Broad street, $400; H. C. Clapper, 10 Brook court and Edward C. Wente, 47 Colt road, $3,841.

Already this month a permit in amount of $42,000 has been given to the Pulverizing Machinery Co. to erect a plant in North Summit.

"Here Comes Mr. Jordan"

In one of the most unusual comedy roles in screen history, Robert Montgomery is starred in Columbia's "different" new film, "Here Comes Mr. Jordan," which plays at the Community in Morristown during the week of Thursday, September 11th. Claude Rains, Evelyn Keyes and James Gleason are others in the cast.

Summit Red Cross Chapter Assists Overseer of Poor

The outfitting of ten little girls, who are of necessity charges of Mrs. Gertrude Gross, Overseer of the Poor, was the August project of the Fortnightly Club Emergency Welfare Committee. In cooperation with the Summit Chapter of the American Red Cross, and using their work rooms, a group of women has sewed regularly each Monday and often at other times.

On Friday Mrs. Gross received from this committee 31 dresses and forty-four undergarments made by the sewers. Ten hand-knit sweaters, ten washcloths and three convalescent robes were contributed from the Red Cross shelves.

The contribution of the Red Cross was in keeping with its policy of meeting local needs. Mrs. Gross expressed delight with the quantity and quality of the gifts and asked that this help given to the City Welfare Department be given public recognition.

The Fortnightly Welfare Committee will continue to meet each Monday from ten until three-thirty, with a tea-coffee-sandwich lunch for those who wish to stay.

In September the work will consist of "Toddlers' Packs" for the Red Cross quota, and Overlook Hospital sewing.

All Fortnightly members and their friends are being invited to share in this service.

Absentee Votes Count Up to County Board Says Henry Nulton

Union County Clerk Henry G. Nulton Thursday declared the question of whether absentee ballots which arrive here subsequent to September 16 are to be counted in the primary rests with the Union County Board of Elections.

No provision was made for a final late for ballots to be returnable when the law was passed permitting New Jersey men in the armed services to vote by mail. It was provided that the count would be made on Election Day, but "liberal interpretation" of the act was asked in the law.

Speaking as an attorney, Mr. Nulton said he thought the most liberal interpretation would permit a count of the soldiers' and sailors' votes until 10 days after the county-wide voting. This, he said, ties up with the old established ruling that recounts must be sought within 10 days.

G. O. P. Chairman Asks Co-operation

A plea that those candidates who lose in the September 16 primaries pocket their pride after election day and give 100 per cent support to the winning candidates chosen by the party voters, was sounded Friday night by G. O. P. County Chairman George D. Rankin.

Mr. Rankin reiterated that he isn't supporting any candidate as he wants to avoid any appearance of factionalism. The County Committee will meet September 23, he said, to endorse the slate chosen at the primaries. It is expected that he will be re-elected county chairman.
