

Ratables Decrease Small Amount, Exemptions Up

Tax ratables for Summit for 1944 show a slight decrease, according to the figures obtained from the tax duplicate as filed with the County Board of Taxation in Elizabeth last week by the local Board of Tax Assessors.

No estimate has as yet been made by the Common Council as to what the tax rate may be, as the budget has not been arrived at for 1944. All that can be said at this time is what the tax duplicate shows. This has yet to be certified by the County Tax Board and additions made as to what the corporation, franchise, and bank stock taxes may be before the definite tax rate is known.

The table of aggregate in the duplicate as handed the County Board by the Summit assessors shows:

Land valuations	$9,484,210
Building valuations	19,496,450
Personal property	2,856,653
Total	$31,837,313
Household exemptions	$13,000
Soldiers, sailors, veterans	195,350
Total	$150,350

Net $21,337,963
The decrease from last year's valuation is $214,650.
To the above will be added the amount due from second class property assessments which has been tentatively set at $138,164, taxes on which are figured at the average tax rate for the entire State.
New building assessments amount to $106,725. The value of property razed was $5,900. The deductions for householders, sailors, soldiers and veterans showed an increase of $12,500.

Triolo and Postmaster Daniel J. Fitzpatrick.

Captain Yarnell in responding to an introduction, spoke in part, as follows:
"The Luftwaffe is on the way out. The blow for the kill isn't far off. The toughest part of this war is here at home. . . . My hats are off to American mothers and fathers." He gave details of some of his experiences, especially of strafing and dive bombing in Sicily and at Salerno.
The parents of Captain Yarnell, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Yarnell were introduced. The latter was presented with a bouquet of roses. The parents of Sgt. Formichella, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Formichella, were also introduced. Mr. Formichella accepted a bouquet for Mrs. Formichella.

Coal Shortage Is Worse Here, Many Cold Homes

The prospects of relief in the coal shortage in Summit look darker than ever this week, in the current emergency, a canvass of Summit coal dealers and inquiry of the Summit Coal Committee discloses.

Maxwell Lester, Jr., chairman of the committee, has nothing but praise for local coal dealers. He said, in part:
"The retail dealers bear no responsibility for the shortage. They are cooperating 100 per cent with the committee, at considerable financial sacrifice. But cooperation does not mine coal, deliver it or burn it. What coal there is dealers are selling to the public at prices the profits of which were frozen in December 1941, since which time wages in the retail coal industry have increased 50 per cent."

A canvass of Summit dealers indicates that not more than 30 to 50 per cent of the volume of coal delivered in normal times is being received here.
The substitution of soft coal has not been very successful in this area, is the opinion of Summit dealers. They state bituminous coal is being increasingly used in cold water flats, for kitchen stoves, but that in the average house, with a furnace in the cellar, consumption of soft coal is a complicated and somewhat hazardous practice.
Rather than switch from hard to soft coal, many Summit home owners have waited, until they are faced with a real crisis. From that point on, their experience has been one of progressive surprise, irritation and other de-

Dr. T. H. P. Sailer To Lead All-Day Mission Study

The Interdenominational Study Group of Summit will have an all-day meeting on Jan. 31, with Dr. T. H. P. Sailer leading the discussion.
Dr. Sailer is the honorary secretary of the Missionary Educational Movement, the interdenominational society which plans and publishes a series of materials dealing with the subject of Christian missions and education.
Each year Dr. Sailer holds leadership training classes for those who expect to teach in local churches. He is also a prime mover in the American Interdenominational Missionary Conference at Silver Bay, N. Y. He is one of the leaders in missionary education in this part of the country.

The text book to be used is "For All of Life," by Wm. H. and Charlotte V. Wiser, (Friendship Press). Dr. Sailer uses many charts and encourages discussion.
The First Baptist Church is to be host to the group, which includes the women of all Summit churches, the YMCA, the YWCA, Neighborhood House and the Presbyterian and Methodist churches of New Providence. All others interested are welcome to attend.
Discussion periods are from 10 to 12, and from 1 to 3. Those who attend are asked to bring box lunches.
Time—Tues., Jan. 31,—10 to 3:00. Place—First Baptist Church.

Germans List Lt. A. C. Hensler As Prisoner

Previously reported missing in action, Lt. Arthur C. Hensler, Jr., 27-year-old Summit flyer, is now listed by the Germans as a prisoner of war. Word of this has been received by his mother, Mrs. Florence K. Hensler of 2 Surrey road, from his wife, Mrs. Marie Hensler of Birmingham, Ala.

A great-grandson of Joseph Hensler, founder of the Hensler Brewery in Newark, and a grandson of the late Dr. Edward J. Hensler, III, of Newark, Lt. Hensler is a prisoner, following a raid over Europe, November 30. It was his 18th birthday mission.

Mrs. Hensler last heard from her son on November 23. He reported that on one occasion he parachuted from a plane 17,000 feet over England. He gave no details.

Lt. Hensler went overseas in July, shortly after his marriage to Miss Marie Bass of Birmingham. He joined the Army more than two years ago, transferred from an anti-aircraft unit to the Air Forces and won his wings at Columbus, Miss., last January.

HOSPITAL TEA ROOM

Staffed by volunteer workers from the Women's Auxiliary, the tea room serves lunch and dinner. It is open every night until 9 o'clock.

OUR TOWN

THRIFT SHOP WEEK

Now, as we do each year, we invite you to ransack your attics, cellars, and those old cardboard boxes under the spare room bed for little things which you don't want but which the Junior Service League Thrift Shop can sell.
The money, as you may recall, goes to Summit social service organizations—like the Summit Home for Children, Cooperative Service Association, Overlook Hospital, etc. Last year the Thrift Shop gave such Summit organizations some $5,687.50 most of it raised through the sale of odds and ends given by people like you and me and the rest of us.

Any shoes, coats, dresses, hats that you're not using will be gladly received. Have you some pictures, furniture, picture frames, lamps, candlesticks, dolls, toys, cooking utensils, draperies? They too will be most welcome. As a matter of fact it would be difficult to think of any useful thing which the Thrift Shop can't find a buyer for.

This Summit enterprise fills a couple of birds with each stone. It not only raises money by selling things—it sells them at low prices and thus frequently helps people with limited incomes to get things they need in this way.
Thrift Shop Week begins January 24 and items are needed in a hurry. Bring whatever you have, the shop, if you can—the address is 461 Springfield Avenue. The shop is open mornings 9:30 to 11:45 and afternoons (excepting Saturday) 1:30 to 3:45. If you can't bring your contributions, phone the shop, Summit 6-4563, or Mrs. Arthur Ackerman, Summit 6-1660.

A TOP NOTCH HOSPITAL

All people who have great respect for Overlook Hospital now have a fine opportunity to show their admiration by contributing to its $152,000 campaign. Anyone who is dissatisfied for any reason now has a fine chance to step up and do something about making the hospital bigger, better, finer, more modern and a source of great pride to Summit and the surrounding towns it serves.

It seems to us that property owners especially have an interest in seeing Summit equipped with an exceptional hospital. With the exception of a highly-rated school system we cannot think of any community asset which has a greater appeal to the kinds of home owners the community would like to see settled here.

THE NEW PRESS

This issue of The Summit Herald is printed on our new press. So was the last issue but we had too many other things to talk about at the time to get around to mentioning it.
It's a very fine press and one of these days we hope to be able to have open house so that people who would like to see it operate may do so.

Our old press was what they call a flat-bed press. Printing was from flat forms of type. It was interesting to watch but cumbersome and slow. The new press is a tubular press—rotary in its action—something like the presses you see in the movies when the fiery editor goes to press with the big headlines. It's very fast—with a top speed of some 40,000 copies an hour compared with a top speed of about 6,000 copies an hour for the old press. (We couldn't run the old press at that speed, however, for fear of shaking down the building.)

We're going to print a number of newspapers on our new press—thus bringing business to Summit. Some of them will be weekly newspapers in this area and some will be trade newspapers (one of them is the Gasoline Retailer).

Some of our printing in recent weeks has been pretty bad. It was done out of town for us because our new press hadn't been set up. (It's very intricate.) It hurt us to see the bad printing but we couldn't do anything about it. Now we hope to show a steady improvement as our own press settles down to its job.

A PROCLAMATION!

As Mayor of our city, I hereby proclaim and designate that the period from January 18 through February 15 be set aside by all and some of your time be devoted to the work of selling bonds for the Fourth War Loan Drive.

Our National Government needs money with which to prosecute the war until ultimate victory shall be secured. Our country needs our dollars with which to build battleships, to buy bombs and guns, to buy ammunition, food, and clothing for our Armed Forces.

There is nothing more important at the moment than raising the money necessary to back up the men on the fighting fronts. They, with our Allies, have the Axis powers reeling from the attack. You and I must provide the final push.

You don't give your money. You invest in your own country—your own future.
Lend for victory—Back the attack.
G. HARRY CULLIS, Mayor.

450 Donors Asked To Register For Seventh Blood Bank

Prospective donors still have two weeks in which to make appointments for the 7th of the Red Cross Mobile Blood Donor unit on February 1 and 2, Gilbert Baker chairman of the local Blood Donor committee, announced today. Appointments may be made for the hours between 1:45 o'clock and 6:30 o'clock on these days.

Approximately 450 donors will be asked to register for the seventh visit of the mobile unit. The Blood Donor committee has asked that it be called to the attention of the old donors that they will receive reply post cards through the mail this week. This is an innovation of the Blood Donor service to facilitate the handling of appointments. Those who intend to give blood are asked to sign the card and return it immediately so that they will have a choice of time. Those who are not to be donors are urged to pass the card on to a friend or to a substitute.

"More than 100,000 pints of blood are needed each week by the Army and Navy," Mr. Baker continued. "It is therefore necessary that every person who is able to contribute to the Blood Bank to maintain the level of supply. One person can give one pint of blood every three months but sometimes as much as thirty-seven pints are needed for the treatment of one soldier. The arithmetic is fairly obvious; one pint from everyone who can give it is needed."

The various branches of the Red Cross will assist at the Blood Donor Center at the Y.M.C.A. The Canteen Corps will serve refreshment to donors, the Staff Assistance Corps will register them and the Nurses Aides will assist the doctors and nurses of the mobile unit. Appointments can be made by calling Mrs. F. A. Steele, Summit 6-4664, A. T. Daitley, Summit 6-1294, or Gilbert Baker at either Summit 6-1604 or Summit 6-2133.

A blood donor registration form will be found elsewhere in this issue. This may be filled in and mailed to the Red Cross if you prefer. A confirmation of your appointment will be mailed to you.

Treasurer Reports Gifts To Overlook Total $48,465

Dr. Frank B. Jewett, treasurer of the Overlook Hospital Campaign, has reported a total of $48,465 in contributions up to Tuesday, Jan. 18. Included in this total were gifts from members of the Board of Trustees amounting to $19,600.

Other gifts which the donors have permitted to be made public include the following: Summit Medical Group, $5,000; Max Shapiro, $500; R. E. Carlson, $200; Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell Lester, $1,000; Richard Pohlers, $500; John M. Reeves, $5,000; Isaac and Arthur Cohen, $250; Percy Magnus, $250; Floyd Jefferson, $100; Frederick N. Collins, $500; and Caxton Brown, $500.

On Monday evening, January 25, there will be a rally of all the workers on the Overlook Campaign.

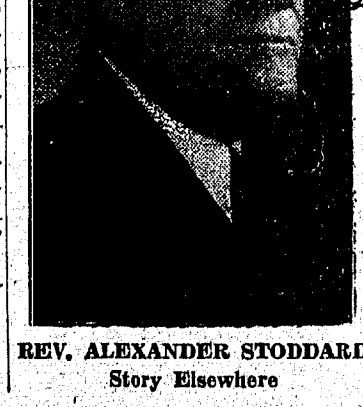

At this rally there will be a summary of the campaign to date and reports from the various groups on their progress. Caxton Brown, chairman of the Summit committee, will preside.

Following the speakers, who will be announced later, a movie of Overlook at work will be shown. This will last about ten minutes. It is hoped that Lt. Michael Yarnell will also address the gathering.

Plans for a new and larger indicator of the progress of the campaign, to be erected on the Summit Trust Building, are now being made.

A proclamation by Mayor G. Harry Cullis proclaiming Overlook Hospital Day will be found elsewhere in this issue.

Board of Education To Hold Hearing On School Budget

The Board of Education has prepared a tentative school budget for the school year of 1944-1945. The Board of School Estimate will hold a hearing on February 3 in the High School auditorium for the purpose of presenting the budget to interested citizens.

The tentative budget will be on file at the office of the Board in Hamilton School between the hours of 9 a. m. and 5 p. m. each weekday for review and examination by the public.

School Budget For Year 1944-45 Is Explained

(The Board of Education has prepared its tentative school budget for the coming school year of 1944-45.)

The board has also prepared for publication by the Herald an analysis of several items in the budget showing where and why increases have been made. It is printed in full.—Ed.)

"The proposed school budget for 1944-45 calls for a total of $996,020 to be raised by tax for school purposes including debt service. This is an increase of $16,369 over the amount raised for this purpose for the current school year.

"The Board proposes no major changes in the educational program to be offered for the ensuing school year. There will be a slight rearrangement of teaching staff as a result of shifting enrollments between the various schools, but the total number of teachers to be employed will be the same as the number budgeted this year.

"Included in the proposed budget for next year is an item of $26,500 as salary increases and bonuses to school personnel. This amount is felt necessary to (1) complete the second year of the three-year plan of salary increases and adjustments to teachers as recommended by the Salary Survey Committee, (2) provide bonuses for certain teachers who, in the main, have received no salary increases over the past several years, and (3) provide bonuses to janitors and clerks on the same basis as previously announced for other city employees.

"All major account classifications remain substantially the same as for this year, before salary increases were added.

"In the instruction account, which includes salaries to principals, teachers, and clerks and the costs of textbooks and supplies, there is a net reduction of around $1,500. Included in this total is provision for an increase of about 15% in the cost of textbooks and supplies. This increase was more than offset by the savings in teacher replacements.

Countess Tolstoi Says "All Together" Is Russian Secret

The Russians have always stood "all together" in a crisis, Countess Alexandra Tolstoi told the Athenaeum last Thursday evening in her talk, "Why the Russian Soldier Fights." This is the secret of their united and effective front now, before the enemy.

The people of Russia are patient, humble, and uncomplaining under misfortune, of which they have had much, she went on. When great decisions have had to be made, they have always made them "all together." This made them long for democracy, "the society of the masses of the people."

When the Marxist philosophy of anti-religion was adopted by the communist party and imposed on the people, it was contrary to their character. They were driven out of character. They were not happy. The greatest mistake of the Bolsheviks was atheism, continued Countess Tolstoi. The masses opposed atheism. Religion grew underground. "The Bolsheviks could (Continued on Page 17)

Lt. Karaszewski With 5th Army, Reported Killed

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Karaszewski of 604-Ashwood avenue, were notified Sunday by the War Department that their son, Second Lieutenant Joseph P. Karaszewski, with the Fifth Army in Italy, had been killed in action. A graduate of Summit High School, Class of 1939, he attended Rutgers University, where he was a member of the ROTC.

He entered the Army in July, 1942, was commissioned in February, 1943, and went overseas in March, 1943, serving in Africa with the 34th Division, Fifth Army. He has a brother, Seaman 2/c Edward Karaszewski, USN.

Over $300,000 Total In First Two Days Of War Bond Sales

Over three hundred thousand dollars worth of bonds were sold during the first two days of the Fourth War Loan Drive here in Summit. Two hundred thousand of this sum was purchased by Ciba Pharmaceutical Products, Inc., who were the first to place their order for one of the special issues of bonds which are available only during the drive.

A typical reaction from the Monday evening broadcast which opened the drive on a nation-wide hook-up, was reported by a representative of a local bank. A thirteen-year-old boy "shot the whole roll" on a twenty-five dollar bond after hearing the program. Quicker by the seller of the bond as to the source of the money, he broke the amount down into the following realization of assets: One month's allowance, $3.00; commission from sale of eggs (at 15 cents per dozen), $4.50; Christmas presents, $7.00; borrowed from penny bank, $3.00, and, borrowed from his mother, 25 cents. The youngster credited the sale to the ideas put over by the broadcast which made him feel that he had not been doing all that he could.

Over three hundred workers are now canvassing the householders of Summit. On Saturday, the Boy Scouts distributed posters to all the commercial houses under the direction of the Chamber of Commerce. Flags were displayed by order of Acting Mayor G. Harry Cullis, whose proclamation will be found elsewhere on this page.

Team Work Needed In Juvenile Work, Kiwanis Learn

The best kind of preventive treatment to avoid juvenile delinquency is "more coordinated and co-operative community effort, not social welfare workers, but citizens in all walks of life working as a team," declared Charles L. Chute, executive director of the National Probation Association, who addressed the Kiwanis and a group of community leaders Tuesday at luncheon at the Beechwood Hotel.

Using as his theme, "Juvenile Delinquency," the speaker gave as the cause of delinquency, "not so much poverty, but maladjustment in the home, factors attendant to the war and industrial dislocation."

Explaining that while statistics were not complete for 1943, Mr. Chute said all reports indicate a considerable rise last year in juvenile delinquency. He reminded his listeners there was an increase of 85 per cent in 1942 and a like rise in 1941.

Youth agencies within the communities brought praise from the speaker. He listed such organizations as the Co-op, social recreation centers and activities directed to vocational interests as being helpful deterrents.

Mr. Chute stressed the need for "further development of probation work located in and available to each city and town." He said that when the New Jersey constitution is being revised, "there is an opportunity to attain this end, especially to tie up your local court with the county domestic relations and juvenile courts."

Stating that "we have reason to fear another crime wave after this was unless steps are taken for prevention," Mr. Chute went on to explain some of "the present day situations," including the girl problem, which he declared "is serious, especially where members of the armed forces and industry are concerned."

Following Mr. Chute's address, Judge Peter C. Triolo of the Summit Police Court gave an encouraging picture of juvenile conditions in Summit and gave credit to various community agencies for the part they take in bringing about this situation.

Along the community leaders attending as guests were Chief of Police Edward K. Egan, Mrs. Ellis W. Edge, Jr., representing the Girl Scouts, Cecelia I. Jeffrey, general secretary of the Y.W.C.A., Janet Lincoln, girl reserve secretary of the Y.W.C.A.; Walter Crann, Board of Health, various school principals and Retirees, Lawrence J. Macgregor, Steven Ransom and A. T. Dailey.

Recreation Board Reelects Officers

Ernest P. Patten was re-elected president of the Board of Recreation at its annual meeting Monday at the Field House. Other officers were re-elected as follows: W. Richmond Tracy, vice-president; Mrs. Edith E. Pease, treasurer, and director Harlan S. Kennedy was re-appointed secretary to the board.

THE QUALITY DRUG STORESTelephone Service
In War Time
Old Guard Topic

"The Telephone and America's War Effort" was presented to the Old Guard last Tuesday morning by S. D. Page, representing the New Jersey Bell Telephone Company. Before his introduction by Chairman Harry Marshall, a paper was read from Dr. Charles S. Hardy, telling of a trans-continental demonstration (one of the first of its kind), in March, 1916, when Summit was connected through many intermediate cities with San Francisco. Jacob S. Wiley, vice-president of the New York Telephone Company, and C. H. Jagels, president of the local Board of Trade, were present at this demonstration.

Mr. Page then told how war demands had curtailed equipment and yet secured maximum service especially through many ingenious devices which originated in the neighboring Bell Laboratories and elsewhere. The need for free communication between large industrial plants and their many subsidiaries, for Army and Navy communications and for personal messages of service men were a few of the demands for long distance calls. Practically no more copper and aluminum can be had, he said, but substitutes for these metals have been found. Bell Laboratory scientists and others have been able to concentrate 16 calls on one pair of wires and have equipped signal corps men in this war with apparatus by which they can see and hear and talk to planes and tanks. One of these "Aviator's Throat Microphone," the speaker demonstrated. William Woodruff of New Providence called for the usual vote of thanks at the close of the address.

Before the address reports were made from Otto Dederer and William Loane who have been ill, and a list of 43 members of the Princeton Old Guard was presented, through the local secretary, by Dr. J. E. McAfee, formerly of Summit, the Princeton Director. Subscriptions were also taken for reprints of The Summit Herald's recent picture of the Old Guard.

At the meeting next week, January 23, at 10:30 a.m. in the "Y" auditorium, Rev. Walter Muller, pastor of the Chatham Congregational Church will give a film talk on India.

St. Teresa's PTA
Fathers' Meeting

St. Teresa's P.T.A. will hold the annual Fathers' Meeting tonight at 8:00 p.m. in the school hall. Mrs. L. William Drummond, chairman, has planned a miscellaneous program to follow the business meeting. Refreshments will be served. All members are urged to attend. The table of home-made food will be omitted at this meeting, but will be resumed at the remaining meetings throughout the year.

For Year 1944-45

remains about the same. An additional $2,200 is provided for the increased cost of coal and this is absorbed by tax to $13,350, of which mainly from the elimination of one janitorial position.

"There is a net reduction of about $1,700 in the Auxiliary, Agencies and Fixed Charges accounts. This reduction is due principally to the elimination of war risk insurance on the buildings. The main expenses under these accounts are costs of transportation, library supplies, tuition, insurance premiums, and subsidy for inter-scholastic athletics.

"The above additions and deletions provide a gross operating budget for next year, exclusive of salary increases, at around $3,000 less than the amount approved for this year. Considering the $28,500 allotted for salary increases and bonuses, requires a net increase of around $23,500 in the total proposed operating budget, exclusive of debt service costs. A reduction of $2,750 in the debt service charges for next year brings the net amount for school purposes to an increase of $20,750 over this year's figure. The Board received the sum of $4,400 of unanticipated income from the State and other miscellaneous sources. Applying this sum, brings the net increase in the amount to be raised by tax to $13,350, of which about $12,000 must be raised in the 1944 city budget or about four points in the local tax rate."

Fortify With Music,
Piano Lecture
By Marion Rous

"Music is the greatest power, next to medicine, in the curing of bodily ills," said Dr. Marion Rous to the music department of the Fortnightly club on Jan. 12 in her piano lecture, "Fortify with Music."

"I call Bach, Beethoven and Brahms my vitamins B1, B2 and B3," she said.

Dr. Rous talked at first and at greatest length about the heroic music of Czechoslovakia, as expressed in the six symphonic poems of Smetana, called "My Country." This cycle is very seldom heard in this country. It is forbidden in its native land.

Through all the poems runs the castle motif. Dr. Rous played this motif on the piano and advised her hearers to listen for it if they were so fortunate as to hear any of the cycle.

The first poem is the heroic music of the bard singing legends to the kings in their castles. Cruel wars come, the theme becomes distressed, then mournful, as the castles fall into ruin.

Alternating the piano with the phonograph, Dr. Rous illustrated her lecture with the music itself.

She described the second poem in the cycle, beginning with an E Minor, and an A major air, the two springs which are the source of the River Moldau, merge into one stream, the music going entirely major as the river flows through open landscape. The sounds of the hunt, a village wedding, water sprites who dance in the moonlight, are heard in ever-increasing volume, and, as the mighty river flows past the ruined castles, the castle motif is heard. Dr. Rous then played some of the music from Pan Tadeus, the legendary music of Poland. She said that, in the middle of this cycle, "which should be played in a cheerful house," as Chopin himself said, she has found one of the loveliest of all Christmas carols.

Home Service Personnel Visit Lyons Hospital

The personnel of the Home Service of the Red Cross visited the Veterans' Hospital at Lyons on Jan. 6. They spent two hours reviewing the changing policies on government claims. Wilfred MacGregor, Red Cross field director there, discussed with them all recent changes in status of veterans vs. government for hospital, domiciliary care, pensions and death benefits.

The group were then shown the quarters occupied by the veterans' administration offices. These offices at Lyons handle all veteran business for the entire state of New Jersey.

The offices of the veterans' administrators are there. These are the lawyers who pass upon the legality of claims. Every claim in the State goes there to be passed on.

Local Home Service helps veterans fill out claims, which then go to the administration offices in Lyons. These offices are also the source of information for the local service.

Only mental cases are housed at Lyons. The group were told that there are about 2,700 men there now, some of them from this war.

Captain James O. Rudolph, air ace, who recently returned from the South Pacific where he completed 55 flying missions as pilot of a P-38 fighter plane. Captain Rudolph was one of the outstanding guest speakers at the bond rally held for Krege Department Store, Newark co-workers on Tuesday morning, January 18th from 9:30 until 10 o'clock.

Price Panel Procedure Explained

For some months now the supervision of local OPA Price Ceilings has been in the hands of a group of Summit citizens known as a Price Panel. Under them, and working in close cooperation, is still another group called Price Panel Assistants who are responsible for the field work and checking of prices and OPA regulations in local stores. The work of both groups is purely voluntary and performed solely in an effort to hold back black markets and the resulting threat of inflation in check.

The majority of local merchants have shown a willingness to cooperate to the fullest extent with the Price Panel. However, there are occasions when complaints of selling above OPA Ceiling Prices are brought before the Price Panel. The procedure outlined for such cases by the District OPA office, and followed by the local Price Panel, is as follows:

Should a complaint that a store is selling a commodity above ceiling prices be brought to the Price Panel a Price Panel Assistant is designated to visit the store and discuss the complaint with the proprietor. The assistant reports the outcome of the call and advises the Panel as to what explanation the proprietor gave for the complaint.

In most cases the action stops there. But should a second complaint about the same vendor be brought in the storekeeper is called before the Price Panel and given an opportunity to explain the violation. After a full discussion of his problem the storekeeper or vendor is warned that in the event of further complaints of his having violated OPA regulations he will immediately be reported to the district OPA enforcement office.

If despite the warning, the storekeeper persists in violating regulations, the Price Panel reviews all complaints brought in on that particular case and files them with the district enforcement office together with a request for formal investigation. In the absence of signed complaints by consumers, which strangely enough seldom exist, the legal action depends entirely on the findings of investigators sent out by the enforcement office.

As a result of the investigations the persistent violator usually finds himself facing an enforcement office hearing or action in a Federal Court with the prospect of either a suspension or fine and sometimes both.

However, it must always be borne in mind that a storekeeper would not have been a violator if it had not been for the cooperation of some unpatented consumer. Do you hit by refusing to pay more than ceiling prices.

Remember, the money saved by paying no more than ceiling prices could be applied toward the purchase of a War Bond.

Coasting, Sledding Available in City

Director Harlan S. Kennedy of the Board of Recreation reports that there has been "good" skating for the past two weeks on the griffin at Memorial Field. He said that the rain and snow storm of two weeks ago left a covering of water which has been frozen in some places to a depth of as much as four inches.

The director also reports coasting on the chute located on the southern part of Memorial Field near Parkway terrace and continuing to the baseball diamond. He also reports coasting on the slopes of Edison Recreation Park in East Summit and on Warwick road.

All those interested in Girl Scouting, particularly mothers of Girl Scouts, are invited and may make reservations through the Girl Scout Headquarters in Beechwood road, Summit 6-2835.

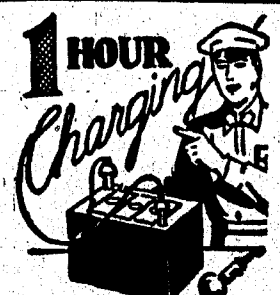

There will be a brief review of the past year's work and the slate for 1944 presented and voted on. Miss Frances Lee, member of the Girl Scout National Staff will be the guest speaker.

Miss Lee's activities with the Girl Scout movement have been varied since she became associated with the organization," said Mrs. Edge, head of the Girl Scouts here. "As training adviser, Miss Lee has visited Girl Scout councils in over 250 communities in 35 states during recent years. As an instructor at several of the Girl Scout national training schools, she has been associated with volunteer and professional workers in Girl Scouting from all parts of the country.

"Working with and for girls is not a new experience to Miss Lee," Mrs. Edge added. "She was connected with them a long time before she joined the Girl Scout organization. Formerly principal of the Lee School for Girls in Boston, Mass., and president of the Private School Association of that city, Miss Lee has been able to answer many of the problems confronting adults in the training of young people in good citizenship. For six years she was alumnae trustee of Radcliffe College and also served on the board of directors of the Headmistress Association of the East for several terms. Miss Lee collaborated in the writing of 'The Education of the Modern Girl' and is the author of other articles based on the same theme."

WHAT SOME ARE SAYING

Our President has asked God that the Church may not fail to provide "a light that is not of men," of which we are "in desperate need in our present darkness." Mr. Willkie appeals to the Church to "rediscover, reassess and reaffirm its ideals and convictions," and to translate "verbal declarations of faith into tangible deeds of action." But the Church is going along with the United Nations, agreeing with the majority, and aiming only at what the majority aims at—a vindictive victory and a peace which will make us all safe and satisfied.

Lionel Curtis, a British statesman, said that when once the churches learn "to regard the creation of a world Commonwealth (of Nations) as an all-important aspect of their work in realizing the Kingdom of God," such a Commonwealth would come into being in a few generations.

Toyohiko Kagawa has said that Christianity should motivate a co-operative economic order if the "love principle" and brotherhood are ever to have any real place in the world.

Here are some suggestions for Christians and others to meditate upon.

J. P. GOURLAY

Art Association Presents Exhibit Of Water Colors

A one-man show of water colors by J. P. Gourlay together with a section of the model railroad for which Mr. Gourlay did the background work will high-light the fourth exhibition of the Summit Art Association on January 23.

There will be an opening tea for members on the 23rd, and the exhibition will be open to the public on Saturday and Sunday afternoons from 3 to 5, through February 13.

Mr. Gourlay, who is an associate art-director of Warner Brothers Pictures in New York, took up water color work some years ago and then dropped it. Five years ago he broke his leg and turned to his once-neglected hobby in convalescence. Since that time he has kept up his painting on the side.

Landscapes and winter scenes were his specialty, but with the advent of gas rationing and long war-time hours he has turned to painting flowers, and most of his subject matter is taken from the garden of his own home on Valley View avenue.

Born in Brooklyn, Mr. Gourlay, as well as his wife (who comes from Newburg), comes from a family of artists. The Gourlays have made Summit their home for the past 12 years.

Beside the group of water colors (approximately 20) there will be on exhibition a section of the model railroad, owned by Dr. George Young of Morristown, for which Mr. Gourlay did the ground work and scenery in situ. He has also done the background for another railroad owned by Lt. Comdr. and Mrs. Allen Kirk of Colony Court.

Second Lt. Wm. R. Reiss At Cochran Field, Ga.

Second Lieutenant William R. Reiss of 5 Tulip street, has completed the first stage of his flight training at the AAF primary school at Douglas, Ga., operated by the Raymond-Richardson Aviation Co. Lt. Reiss has been transferred to Cochran Field, Macon, Ga., for the intermediate stage of his flying training.

Warwick Road Coasting Shop Week To Be Supervised

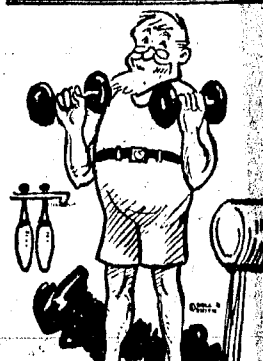

Mrs. William Wanstall, chair of the Safety Committee of the Franklin School P.T.A., reported a meeting of the Executive Board held on Monday, Jan. 10, that arrangements are being made to have the coasting on Warwick Road supervised.

It is hoped, she said, that during the coasting through January school boys can be employed to police the hill during the coasting season and that the children will be able to remain open for business there will cooperate in the effort to prevent coasting accidents.

Founders' Day program was a subject of discussion by the board. Mrs. Francis Welch, the president, announced that Founders' Day would be celebrated on February 1, 1945, or any afternoon between 1:30 and 2:30 p.m. if unable to deposit the money on that day. Mrs. A. J. Tague, chairman of the Program Committee, said that the arrangements for the day will be made for the fiscal year of '42-'43.

The League gave $5687.50 to the organizations; The Service Association, hospital, etc. Most of the income is from the sale of second-hand goods. The Thrift Shop, which is a deeply appreciated cooperation of the people, has shown in furthering the Thrift Shop Week, men's and women's dresses and shoes will be sold at half price.

OVERLOOK HOSPITAL

SUMMIT, NEW JERSEY

January 20, 1944

Dear Friends and Neighbors:

How anxiously our doctors, our nurses, our entire staff await the moment when work can begin on our new blood bank, our new physio-therapy department, our new enlarged laboratory.

Not in 17 years has Overlook Hospital asked the public - you - for funds. But now the need is immediate. New techniques in medicine and surgery dictate changes, adjustments in equipment. To take care of our sick and wounded returning broken from heroic exploits. To take care of our new babies. Our mothers who bear them. Our old. Our unfortunate victims of accidents. Ready - in night emergencies! And in day emergencies!

Every mail builds our fond hopes. We believe you are going to contribute the full $152,000 we need. If you have not already done so, send in your contributions now. Large or small. Everything help. And not one cent will go for maintenance ... nor for the cost of this drive. Your gift means an IMPROVEMENT, something new and better added to OVERLOOK!

So, give now!

Sincerely yours,

Walter C. Heath

Romance of Music Boxes Talk by G. R. Brown

If it were not for the old music box, we would not have the phonograph and radio of today, said Geo. R. Brown, in his talk, "The romance of music boxes," to the home department of the Fortnightly Club last Friday.

The music box held the place in our grandfather's time that radio holds today. All the steps in its development were necessary to the expression of mechanical music as perfected in the radio.

Mr. Brown showed the oldest music box in his collection, a wooden colonial ink-stand, which played a delicate air. The next oldest was a real monkey, made in Switzerland, whose head and arm moved; he smiled as the music tinkled.

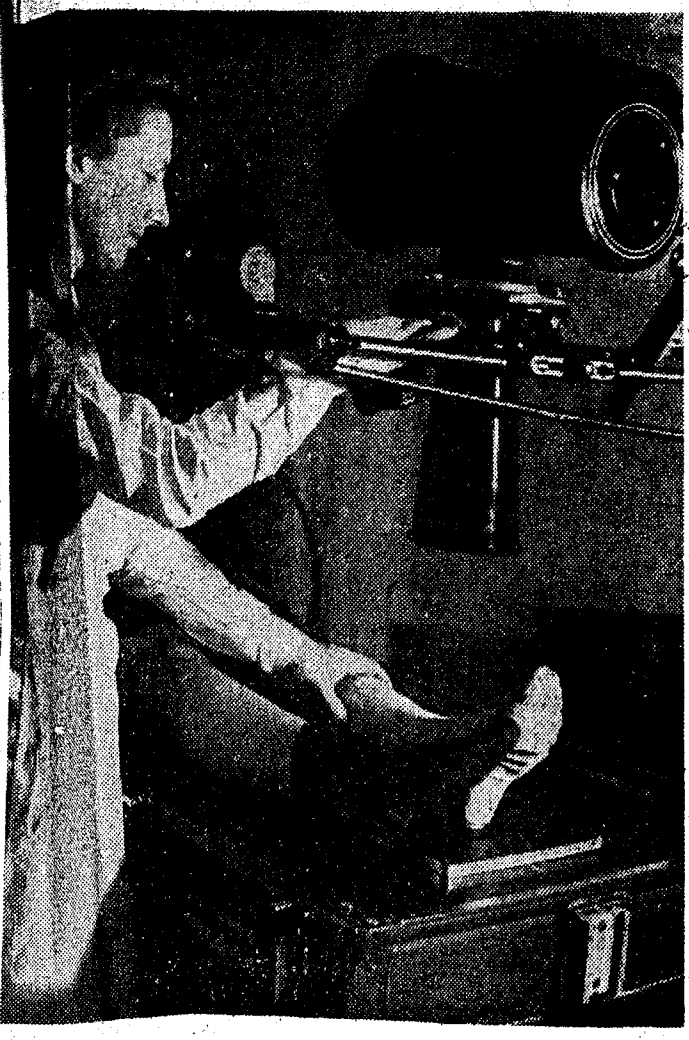

The first automatic music box, 1810, played with its original "trill," a very uncommon thing, as usually the "tips" causing the trills have worn off such old boxes.

The speaker said that no phonograph of today can duplicate the delicate tone of the old music boxes. They became larger as time went on, playing more tunes. He showed, in their chronological order, the elaborate snuff-box, the barrel-organ, the larger French barrel-organ.

Mr. Brown then showed the prize of his collection, a museum piece, of his collection. It was a scene under a glass dome. While the music played, the wind-mill the little train moved across the bridge, and the sailboat rocked as it moved across the foreground. It had everything, he said, beauty, motion, and music.

After this came an Italian gun, a lackey under an arbor, shirking a lackey under an arbor, shirking which duplicated the song of the oriole. This song can continue for ten minutes, Mr. Brown said.

The immediate forerunners of

X-ray technicians check for breaks or cracks. A physical therapy department will be added to the hospital to train patients to use again limbs which have been broken, immobilized, or injured in some way.

These brought the display right down to 1900-1910, when the Edison phonograph dissolved the music box industry.

Mr. Brown wore an old-fashioned costume, in keeping with his theme, and Mrs. Brown assisted him, wearing a white embroidered gown complete with bustle.

War Of and For Transportation Says Miss Avery

"This is a war of transportation and for transportation," said Miss Harriet Avery, in her lecture on January 17.

There are twelve key sea-ports of the world, and of these, Britain owns eleven, and the United States owns the other, Panama. This war is a war for the possession of these ports. These two nations have learned how important it is to control them, she continued.

"Now that air power plays such a vast part in the actual war, it is increasingly clear how important it will be after the war is over. Hence the war is also being fought for the control of the 15 key air-base ports, most of which also lie in territory 'owned' by Britain or the United States."

Miss Avery said there are two opposing points of view about the future status of international flying as far as this country is concerned; a few advocate a monopoly of it by one company, subsidized by the government. Others think this would be contrary to the American system of free enterprise, and that all airplane companies should be free to compete for world trade.

Miss Avery here quoted a definition of subsidy as, "payment for nothing or no service in particular."

She said that almost every type of transportation business in the country has made application for licenses after the war. Ship, bus, street car, railroad companies, and even ambulance and funeral services have applied.

Miss Avery concluded, "Flight is full of dynamite or peace."

There are more than 1,800 names now on the Summit Honor Roll. Corrections or additions should be telephoned Police Headquarters, Su. 6-0052.

Henry B. Twombly Comments on Death Of Agnes Cooley

Miss Agnes F. Cooley died on December 28, 1943, after a long and serious illness. She had been a member of the Central Presbyterian Church since 1884 and was the oldest member in point of service in the church. Her father was Doughty H. Cooley, an elder, and one of the most influential members of the church. He was one of the founders of the Neighborhood House and one of its strongest supporters. He was wont to say that the church needed the Neighborhood House more than the Neighborhood House needed the church.

Miss Cooley was for many years connected with the Neighborhood House, first as assistant to Miss Alice Cassidy, and upon Miss Cassidy's retirement, as head worker. The combination of Miss Cassidy and Miss Cooley was ideal and constituted a great moral force in the North Summit community. The "Old Boys and Girls" fairly worshipped them. Miss Cooley had a large class of boys in the Sunday School, who were always on hand and gave her fine cooperation.

Her work in the Neighborhood House will live after her in the lives and memory of those to whom she gave her life and loving service. "None knew her, but to love her." At a recent meeting of the Neighborhood House Committee the following resolution was unanimously passed:

"Since our last meeting our dear friend and former head worker, Agnes F. Cooley, has passed away. Her work at the Neighborhood House cannot be measured by any earthly standards. She gave fully of herself, her best efforts and love to the lives and loves of showing in the North Summit. Her memory will forever remain in the hearts of us all as a helpful, never failing inspiration to better work and unselfish devotion to the cause of Christ."

G. B. Jacobs Talks On Human Relations Director at CIBA

Human relations techniques in promoting safety in industrial operations were discussed by G. B. Jacobs, director of personnel and labor relations for Ciba Pharmaceuticals Corporation at the monthly dinner meeting, Thursday evening (Jan. 19), at Elizabeth Ellis Club, 4th New Jersey Chapter of the American Society of Safety Engineers.

There are techniques in the field of industrial work operations which are mechanical and human which safety director and his associates endeavor to understand, Mr. Jacobs said. "Safety techniques in the field of human relations which must be understood and employed by safety engineer and the supervisory personnel if they would like to do those things which are in connection with the prevention of accidents."

"All sound accident prevention in industry today which is to be predicated on the basis that safety results from work is done and operations performed in a correct manner. Accidents continue to occur in large measure because of that working organization which is made up of human beings for delivery to the hospital. Any member of the office force will accept such donations as may come in and see that the cards are placed in the proper hands at the hospital."

Col. R. E. Woodward Home On Leave Talks For Herald

Col. Robert E. Woodward, returned recently from the Southwest Pacific and now a patient in Halloran General Hospital, Staten Island, visited his family at 47 Norwood avenue over the week-end.

Col. Woodward served in the Pacific nearly two years, commanding the Second Port of Embarkation and then the First Replacement Depot. In October, 1942, he was made special service officer of the Services of Supply and later of the U. S. Army Forces in the Far East. In both capacities he organized and supervised Special Service for the entire Southwest Pacific area and it was for these services he was awarded the Legion of Merit by General MacArthur. Colonel Woodward expressed regrets that disease obliged him to return just as things are beginning to be "big business."

"Conditions in the Southwest Pacific area vary greatly," he said. "Those of our forces near the cities and larger towns of Australia and even one or two places in New Guinea and themselves in surroundings not greatly different from those in the United States. Food, smokes and movies are fairly plentiful. In the cities there is actually enough feminine company for dances. There are books, magazines, radios with locally rebroadcast American programs, and the mail service is good," he continued.

"On the other hand, in the Northern Territory and northern Queensland and in most of New Guinea and the Islands to the north conditions are entirely different. Tropical heat, insects, disease and isolation combine to make most spots the most desolate place in which to spend months and years of service. The fighting is being done in swamps, jungles and reefs probably unequalled in the world for peril and discomfort. Tremendous distances and lack of roads and transport make it hard enough to keep food and ammunition flowing. Comforts have to wait and mail gets in very irregularly.

"To make things worse, distance and transportation makes a furlough home a dim future hope. While systematic plans may soon be feasible for rotation of personnel in European, American and other relatively close sectors, such ideas for the Southwest Pacific are apparently going to have to wait. A short rest in a leave area in New Guinea or even Australia is no good substitute for a man who has been away from his home and family for two years. Regular relief to visit their homes is possible at present only for fliers."

Concluding the interview, Col. Woodward said: "Most men realize the practical difficulties of a trip home while the war is being conducted at such great distances. For that reason they are anxious to defeat the Japanese as soon as possible. I do not share the optimism of some that this can be done quickly; I doubt if many in the Southwest Pacific think so. They know it is not going to be easy and they want every plane, ship, gun and the hundreds of other necessary pieces of equipment that can be spared."

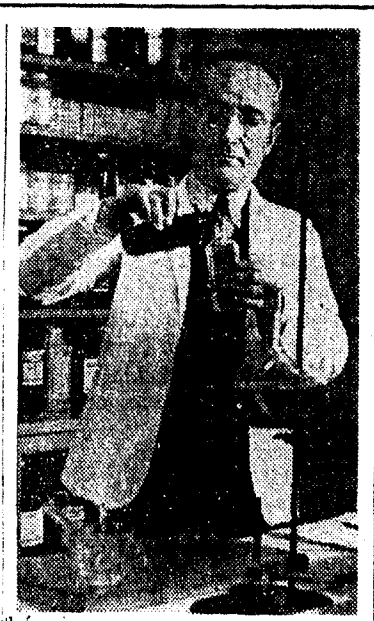

Rotary Hears Air Raid Warden On London's Blitz

A vivid picture of life in London during the blitz was given at the weekly meeting of the Summit Rotary Club on Monday by Miss Elizabeth Burns-Burian, an Air Raid Warden in the Kensington district of West London during the worst of the air raids in 1940 and 1941, who was bombed three times and machine-gunned in the streets by Nazi airmen.

The terrific effects of blast were graphically portrayed by Miss Burns-Burian in describing episodes of which she was an eyewitness. Automobiles somersaulting through the air with the driver still at the wheel and being able to drive off after landing right side up; furniture from a bombed house flying through the walls of the house next door were some of the unforgettable incidents she experienced. But even air raids are not without their humorous side—for some, Miss Burns-Burian told of seeing a bathtub dropped three floors when a bomb hit a private house, finally finishing up in the street with its outraged occupant still intact.

"Of course I was scared," admitted Miss Burns-Burian. "The incessant explosions of anti-aircraft fire and bombs wear the nerves, but it is a matter of pride not to show fear and no one does. Even the children take it as bravely as the adults. Community singing in the shelters is a great help to morale and a word of reassurance from a warden when a particularly close hit shakes the deepest refuge, is accepted by the people with implicit faith in the warden's infallibility as an expert."

The ordinary people are carrying the burden of the war, Miss Burns-Burian went on to say, and the effects of four years of wartime privations and overwork are showing up in their tired and drawn faces. It is a commonplace for both men and women to spend ten hours at work and then another eight hours on A.R.P. work but their never-failing good humor carries them through.

Charles Nichols, hospital pharmacist, measures a dose in his pharmacy. A new laboratory extension and a reconstructed pharmacy are to be provided for by campaign funds.

"Y" Auxiliary To Meet Monday

"What Do Boys Do at the Y.M.C.A.?" will be the program topic of the regular meeting of the Y.M.C.A. Women's Auxiliary to be held Monday, January 24, in the Y.M.C.A. auditorium at 2:30 p.m. Edwin W. Raymond, Boys' Work secretary, and a group of boy-leaders will tell the objectives of Boys' Work and the activities used to round out the character building program of the association.

The usual business meeting of the auxiliary will be held at 2 p.m., just prior to the program meeting.

Rare Orchids Shown By Local Growers

Several specimens of unusual and rare orchids were exhibited last week by Lager & Hurrell, local orchid growers, in the Summit Trust Co. The exhibit included many species rarely seen and several that have been developed by the growers themselves.

A new development in the lady-slipper type was shown which has an unusual range of color. Some specimens were deep blood-red, others almost scarlet. Also shown were several sprays of the many-flowered cymbidiums, a small brown orchid.

NEW PROVIDENCE Borough

Temporary Budget Is Adopted, Items Are Questioned

BOROUGH—A temporary budget of $12,361.25 was adopted Monday by Borough Council pending later adoption of the year's budget.

Councilman A. G. Harms questioned two items in the temporary budget. One concerned $500 earmarked for the Defense Council and the other, an item of $375 for the poor account.

The defense item, it was explained, was for the salary of a man guarding the sewerage plant. After discussion this amount was transferred to the sewer account for council concurred that the necessity for a defense item had passed.

Comments on defense explained that not one penny of salary has ever been received by any Defense Council members.

After explanation by Councilman Herbert Taylor of the past experiences with the poor account, the amount earmarked in that field was unchanged. He foresaw possible increased demands if the war should terminate before the end of the year and pointed out that while the budget for this year for the poor account is the same as last year, there had been a surplus of $455 from the amount appropriated for 1943.

Mr. Taylor also gave a boost to the work of the Overseer of the Poor, stating that that officer "has saved us money, many times her salary." He explained it was necessary to have such an officer to qualify for State aid.

Monday's meeting was adjourned until January 31 at which time the 1944 tax and appropriation budget will be introduced.

Blitz Named Manager of N. Y. Times Restaurant

BOROUGH—John D. Blitz of 11 Morehouse place has been named manager of "The Department of Restaurants" of the New York Times. He has been a member of the Board of Education since 1933 and president since 1936. Mr. Blitz is a former member of the Borough Council.

School Budget Shows $655 Rise in the Borough

BOROUGH—Despite a planned salary and bonus increase of $3,000 for the school year 1944-45, the New Providence Borough Board of Education presented a budget showing a $655 increase at a public hearing held last night in Lincoln School.

Savings planned throughout the rest of the proposed budget make possible a drop of $75 in the district tax. Text books and supplies will cost $200 less than they did in the 1943-44 budget; transportation will be $100 less; tuition shows a drop of nearly $2,000, from $16,400 to $14,600; while "other expenses" drop from $3,755 to $3,460.

Under the anticipated revenue column in the proposed budget, a balance of $1,500 at the beginning of the school year in September, 1943, is shown, while the balance in hand, expected at the beginning of the September, 1944 year, is estimated at $2,400.

The budget will be on the ballot for adoption at the school election of Feb. 8.

Thomas C. Musson, district clerk, said Saturday that A. C. Hoffman, only member of the board up for reelection, is so far unopposed for the post.

Former Teacher Writes Letter To Red Cross

BOROUGH—The following letter was received by the New Providence branch of the American Red Cross from Albert Grover, formerly a teacher at the Lincoln School. Mr. Grover is now stationed at Camp Polk, La.

American Red Cross, New Providence, N. J.

Dear Ladies: So many times within the past weeks I have come in contact with the good work the Red Cross is doing. Recently I was transferred from Fort Knox, Ky., down here to Camp Polk, La., and everywhere we stopped we saw evidences of your activities.

That whole journey was made by day coaches, and what day coaches they were. The meals on the trains were terrible, and when we stopped at Vicksburg, Miss., to stretch our legs, there was the hostess from the Red Cross Canteen inviting us to come in for coffee.

That was one of the best cups of coffee that I have ever had. The hospitality of those in the canteen made the stop most enjoyable. By the time we reached Shreveport, La., most of us were starved, and there again we found a canteen. We were all so miserably dirty from the train that we felt ashamed to go in to eat. There we had turkey sandwiches, doughnuts, fruit cake, coffee, and cigarettes, and that made a most refreshing meal. It gave us that extra energy to be able to stand in the train for that last hundred miles from Shreveport to Leesville.

Everywhere you go in the army you hear the praises of the Red Cross. It is not only the Red Cross in New Providence, or in Shreveport, but it is the Red Cross everywhere. So many of us in the service are thankful and grateful for all the favors and kindnesses that you are showing us.

I do look forward with such a great anticipation to each issue of the newspaper that Mrs. Omer's club publishes each month. That is a wonderful enterprise that you have sponsored, for a bit of news from home is a great tonic.

May I thank you for all the favors that you have shown to me during my days in the service. I hope that there will be some day in the future when I can repay you for all these kindnesses.

Sincerely,
ALBERT E. GROVER.

No Juvenile Complaints Originated Here in 1943

BOROUGH—New Providence Borough and Fanwood alone, among the county's twenty-one municipalities, had no juvenile complaints last year to be taken to the Juvenile Court. This was shown Thursday by Anton C. Swenson, clerk of the court, when he made his annual report.

Coal Situation Critical Here, Taylor Declares

BOROUGH—"The coal situation in the borough is critical right now," declared Councilman Herbert Taylor, chairman of the coal committee, at Monday night's meeting of Borough Council. He said the three local coal dealers have "little coal to speak of."

Borough Clerk Thomas C. Musson, a member of the committee, is acting as clearing house for requests referred to the committee for help. To date, Mr. Taylor says many requests have been received through Mr. Musson's office in Borough Hall. Chief of Police Harry High acts as investigator for the committee.

In exploring possibilities to help his committee meet its problems, Councilman Taylor has consulted with the O.P.T. and the Solid Fuels Administration. He is now awaiting the opening of the State Coal Administrator's office in Newark for further help.

To add to the coal difficulties in the borough, residents from Berkeley Heights and elsewhere in New Providence are calling on the local committee for help in procuring supplies, Mr. Taylor states. Because there are no coal dealers in the township, no committee was set up there.

The tenseness of the coal situation also affects the use of Borough Hall, according to Councilman William Webster, chairman of the building committee. President Cleaver of the Taxpayers Association said his group would forego the use of the hall until the shortage is over. The Red Cross uses the council chambers on Wednesday and the Girl Scouts at other times during the week. First floor rooms in the hall will be available to small groups for meetings, Chairman Webster said.

After Councilman Taylor expressed the opinion "the situation will get a great deal worse before it better," Councilman A. G. Harms expressed concern lest some residents would start cutting trees for fuel from borough property.

Chairman Taylor declared the practice of some residents who at this time, he declared, "were crying wolf" over the coal problem.

Schools Active in Start of 4th War Bond Drive

BOROUGH—The local schools are continuing unabated their activity in the sale of War Bonds and War Savings, according to Supervising Principal of Schools, Allen W. Roberts, who reports that on Tuesday, the start of the Fourth War Loan Drive, students purchased $250 in bonds and stamps.

At the same time, he announced the inauguration of a plan whereby each classroom will display a "Schools at War Flag," indicating that each month 90 per cent of the members of that room have bought stamps or bonds.

"Schools at War" publications are being used extensively in the class, the school leader explained, to substitute for routine curriculum work in arithmetic and English.

Since January 1, the Lincoln School has displayed a "Schools at War" flag indicating that 90 per cent of the student body are regular purchasers of bonds and stamps.

Lt. Smith entered the Army Air Forces last year as an Aviation Cadet and was sent directly to the classification center at Nashville, Tenn., where he was chosen as potential pilot material. From there he went to an Army Air Forces Training Command Pre-Flight School where he underwent arduous toughening-up exercises and study. He received his primary and basic flying training at various training fields in the Southeast and was then sent to the Army Air Forces Advanced Flying School at Marianna, for two months intensive course in single engine flying tactics and operations.

Lt. Smith is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Brayton L. Smith of 15 New England avenue. He attended Newark Technical School and graduated from Summit High School.

Capt. Donald C. Swenson Gets Marksman's Medal

A medal as marksman in rifle shooting is being worn by Capt. Donald C. Swenson, formerly of Summit, because of his accuracy on the range at the West Coast Ordnance Training Center, Santa Clara, Calif.

Ordnance soldiers are classified as noncombatants, but the nature of modern warfare demands every man to know how to defend himself against attack. Even though Capt. Swenson has as his main job the servicing of the Line with the weapons, ammunition and the vehicles of war, he will now be able to fight the enemy wherever he may be met.

In compiling the score that enables him to wear the medal, Capt. Swenson fired for record from four positions, standing, sitting, kneeling and prone. Half his record shooting was done at slow fire, half at rapid fire.

Capt. Swenson was employed in civilian life by the Knott Hotels Co., New York. He attended Cornell University. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Swenson of 59 Beauvoir avenue.

BEWARE!

You don't have to consult a crystal ball to know that an evil spirit will soon try to force his way into your home. He is bent on freezing your water pipes and causing you discomfort, worry and expense. His name is Jack Frost.

A warm reception will discourage him. To keep him away and thus prevent frozen plumbing and expensive repair bills:

- Wrap exposed water pipes with old newspapers, rags or burlap.
- Make your basement air tight. Repair broken window panes. Stuff cracks in walls, around windows, and around doors which admit cold air.

A warm basement will also conserve heating fuel. More important, it will help to protect your pipes and plumbing against freezing when repairs will be extremely difficult to obtain.

Plainfield "Y" Quops Comets, 46-44; Bildner and Shine

After getting away to a first, who has never played quarter lead of 16-6 Saturday night's football or cage team on the Y.M.C.A. floor against the top scorer for the six goals. Bill Geddis, Plainfield Y.M.C.A. basketball team, pushed the Comets into the offensive in the second quarter, scoring only four points. Thereby hangs the story of why the locals lost their fourth game out of six, the visitors winning, 46-44. Trailing at the half 10-10, the Comets tied it up at 31-31 for the third quarter, and lost out in the final period when the Quon City outfit tallied 12 points to the locals' 10.

Director Thorp Makes Report To Old Guard

On January 10, Charles N. Thorp, director of the Old Guard of Summit, made his annual report to the group. The main body of this report reads as follows:

The Old Guard idea originated in conversations between several retired men in this city, back in 1930, who wished for closer friendships between men of mature years. Among the five who framed the first invitation for a meeting to talk things over appear the names of J. Winter Davis and Ruford Franklin, still with us, also the founder, E. M. Hebard and Stephen W. Kent, for years our secretary-treasurer. Sixteen men out of 75 invited were at this preliminary meeting out of which on Tuesday, December 9, grew the Founders' Day meeting, when 32 citizens became charter members of the Old Guard of Summit. Of these thirty-two there remain Messrs. Davis, Coeyman, Franklin and Kirk. Ex-mayor Franklin, writer of our first constitution, brightly remarked that the "old" in our name has no reference to age but is a term of endearment.

The object is stated thus: "To get together for mutual diversion and benefit and to lend our influence when possible to any measure looking toward the progress of this city and vicinity."

It was also voted that "any male resident of Summit or vicinity who is retired or semi-retired from active professional or business life shall be eligible to membership. There shall be no admission fee and the annual dues shall be one dollar."

I am told that the records show that our organization has met every Tuesday in all thirteen years. This record was broken last Tuesday by a blizzard rendering the streets well-nigh impassable.

The records of the earliest meetings note that on Tuesday, December 23, 1930, there was a heavy snowfall and the eleven men present spent a happy hour playing "Midget Golf." In the February following there was a visit to the local telephone exchange, and the next Tuesday found the Old Guard going through the Corby laundry. Luncheon was served which drew from Steve Kent one of the many clever poems with which from time to time he regaled our meetings.

It is an impressive fact that these thirteen years have seen no less than 194 stalwart men joining our Order, of whom nearly one hundred are still with us, though many have joined the Old Guard Eternally. Among our number have been and are many of our wisest and most substantial citizens. As the Old Guard idea has become better known many men still in active work have ceased to view with alarm the day of their retirement knowing that it will open to them the door into Old Guard friendship, which we find a source of daily sunshine. It is not easy to express in words the deep values of our fellowship. It is my candid opinion that if our wives were consulted they would agree that many of us have been notably easier to live with since we joined the Old Guard. For one of the best correctives for the blues, or for the hundred forms of ingrowing selfishness is friends, friends and still more friends.

The Old Guard would long ago have closed were it not for the continual enthusiastic winning of new members. It is my personal experience that once a man has attended one of our meetings as a guest, brought by a member, and invited to lunch with some of us his heart will be strangely warmed and he will wish for himself a place in this warm, hearty atmosphere.

Out of the 52 meetings this past year we are happy to note that more than half have been addressed by our own members. Twenty of the meetings have enjoyed speakers from the outside to whose kindness we are deeply indebted.

There have been held informal weekly luncheons, of which the last in each month is in honor of the men whose birthdays fell in that month. Dean Wright has led informal groups to neighboring restaurants, traveling as far as Bernardsville, N. J. and when the gas and tires return to normalcy the Old Guard will enter upon a new series of drives to favorite shrines.

During the illness of your director and his slow convalescence, the officers and members have shown the utmost loyalty and the work has gone steadily forward. Your affectionate attentions shown me during this trying period have been a great factor in my recovery and from the heart I thank you.

The good will so steadily manifest among our own membership is our unique contribution to the enduring foundation of the world that is to be. I summon you all to renewed exercise of that deep, genuine friendliness which is characteristic of our beloved order.

There has been added to the growing number of Old Guard chapters a notable group in Princeton, gathered largely from retired members of the college faculty through the earnest efforts of my honored predecessor, Dr. J. E. McAfee.

For the last three meetings in January committees on programs have been appointed as follows, the first in each couple to serve as chairman for the day:

Jan. 11, Wm. Loane and G. C. Baker. Speaker, Dr. W. S. Hinman.
Jan. 18, Harry Marshall and Dr. Hardy. A new telephone film.
Jan. 25, Harvey Mole and Theodore Ellis. An India film, shown by the Rev. Walter Muller.
Feb. 1, Sponsored by Stephen Collins and Dr. Fred Tooker. Rev. George P. Eastman will give an address on "London."

Health Food Store Opened In Summit By Dietitians

Mr. and Mrs. Carlisle F. Green have opened a health food store at 566 Springfield avenue. Both received their basic training at the New England Sanitarium and Hospital in Massachusetts where Mrs. Green graduated as a nurse. This institution is run by people trained in the Battle Creek way of living.

Mr. Green, after a few years of surgical nursing in Chicago, spent two years in college work studying chemistry and experimenting with foods. For the past three years he has visited the various food factories all over the country studying different methods of preparing foods. He is especially interested in soy beans and its use as a food. Many visits have been made with Dr. Harry Miller of Mt. Vernon, Ohio, who is one of the foremost experimenters with soy bean milk and other products in this field.

Dr. Miller spent many years in China, the home of the soy bean, and has developed a scientific and palatable soy milk powder, meat substitutes and soy cheese.

Police Chief Makes '43 Report To Council

There was a saving of 33,857 miles in the use of police patrol cars last year, Chief of Police Edward K. Egan reported Tuesday night to Common Council in his annual report. In 1942, police cars patrolled 138,793 miles compared to 94,936 miles last year. He said the saving was brought about by the elimination of the day highway patrol and the grouping of calls that come to police headquarters for assistance.

Highlights among the details of the report are the following items: 1,117 calls were responded to by one or more police officers, 257 arrests, 140 mails escorted, 142 OPA escorts, 22 assists with Overlook Hospital ambulance, 138 automobile accidents in which one person was killed, 1,032 investigations by detectives, 300 criminal fingerprints taken and 218 bicycles registered. Revenue received last year under the supervision of the Police Department amounted to $5,532.85 of which dog licenses in the amount of $3,052 was the main item. From the Police Court, $790 was turned over to the city, $558 to the county and $100 to the state.

Net loss in the valuation of all kinds of property that was stolen amounted to $1,529. Only $20 in property was recovered in a loss of $1,710 suffered from robberies including burglary and assault.

Seven thousand more books were shipped making the total sent from the library from the beginning of the campaign well over 20,000 books, and many tons of magazines. not destroy it, and have grown discouraged. Russian prisoners of war to the number of 25,000 have asked the Y. M. C. A. for crosses. The government now allows the people to celebrate Sundays, Christmas and Easter. The government also continues its anti-religious activities.

She told the story of the seven priests who were condemned to death during the persecution. They said all the masses for the dead over each other in their prison, just before their execution.

Countess Tolstoi believes that the revolution was a great mistake. She quoted a poem written just after it:

"There she goes in rags, and torn to pieces of the last of the slaves."

She concluded by saying, "The Russians are not only fighting the Germans, but for their own freedom." She quoted Jordan, "It will be surprising if the victorious army does not demand its own freedom."

Claims She Feared For Life, Granted Divorce

A divorce was granted Mrs. Philomena Silva Corbett, 65 Lenox road, from John Morgan Corbett, formerly of Pilgrim Heights, Mass., address now unknown, by Advisory Master Dougal Herr on Friday when she testified that she fled from their home because she had been beaten several times and feared for her life.

Mrs. Corbett, a tutor, nurse and companion for the daughter of Clinton S. Van Cise, said they were married June 27, 1923, and she left in June, 1929. She has the custody of two children, Barbara R., 16, and John M., Jr., 15. She testified that her husband started to drink heavily and mistreated her constantly. She fled to the home of a sister in East Orange, later obtained a teaching position in Brooklyn, and finally was engaged by Mr. Van Cise. Mr. Van Cise testified she had been with his family since February, 1930.

Geology Hereabout Talk to Nature Club By Stuart Faber

The Nature Club heard a talk on "Geology Hereabout" by Stuart Faber of Maplewood, a former teacher in the Summit High School, on the evening of Jan. 12.

Summit is built on one edge of the gap in the Second Mountain of the Watchung Range which is called the Short Hills Gap. By standing on the roof of Overlook Hospital, one can look across two and one-half miles to the other side of the Gap, where Short Hills lies.

Looking from the high buildings in Newark, this gap is clearly seen. Geologists believe that millions of years ago the Hudson River flowed through this gap.

Back of this range, and covering the valley from Paterson to Moggy Hollow, near Liberty Corner, was at one time a great lake, 45 by 5 miles. The Great Swamp is the last vestige of this lake.

This part of New Jersey is in the Piedmont Plateau or Triassic Lowlands. The region is characterized by the redness of the rocks and soil; the rock contains few fossils. There were several volcanic eruptions in New Jersey. Three of these resulted in the formations known as the First and Second Mountains and Long Hill. The Palisades are also of volcanic origin.

All these mountains are of a blue rock, called trap rock, and these ridges are commonly called Trap Ridges. Water is almost impossible to find in them.

Water is a mineral, Mr. Faber said. The water in Summit is hard enough to bounce, because it comes through tremendous beds of glacial sand which is mixed with limestone.

Water is essential for many commercial uses, Mr. Faber went on. The Hoffman Beverage Co. was purposely located where it is because of the plentiful water supply under it, which is obtained by artesian wells. Bambergers have their own wells, also.

The glacial moraine runs roughly from Perth Amboy, through Plainfield and Springfield, to Morristown. Morris avenue, from Springfield to Morristown, runs along the top of the moraine.

Some of the causes of glaciers may have been: 1, that the axis of the earth changes; 2, that the earth goes through a cloud of dust; 3, that the sun is a variable star, whose radiation varies.

New Jersey is rich in mineral deposits, most of them in the northwest part of the state. Through the middle of the state is a tremendous deposit of potash, enough to supply the nation for a thousand years—if a way can be found to make it soluble, Mr. Faber concluded.

Soldier Turns Poet Asks For The Herald

Cpl. John Pizzutti of 55 Park avenue, who was in the Aleutian campaign, is back in the States recovering from wounds at the Baxter General Hospital, Spokane, Wash.

During his idle time Cpl. Pizzutti has turned his hand to writing poetry. He sent the following to a friend in Summit who has forwarded it to the Herald:

NEWS EXCHANGE

I left my friends in our final meeting
To answer Uncle Sam's card of greeting.
Like a steam engine prepared for its run,
I stuck out my chest ready for a gun.

The boring days of my basic training
Made my body strong with sweatful straining.
Hut, two, three, four, to me was no delight,
To count Japs is fun through a rifle's sight.

The day will come to answer my praying,
"Have patience, my lad," is the old saying.
Like a tight corked bottle of ginger ale,
Sealed orders came, I was ready to sail.

Sad but excited, we left our dear land
Without the colorful playing of a band.
To keep in touch with Joe, Jim and Gerald,
I hope you send me the Summit Herald.

Welcome these Soldiers of Victory!

THE "shock troops" of our Government's 4th War Loan Drive—a drive that must raise $14 billion to put the punch behind a drive that may make 1944 the date of doom for the Axis—will soon call on you to buy your personal share of Bonds. For, of the $14 billion that must be raised in this Drive, $5.5 billion worth must come from individuals.

Welcome these American men and women—5 million of them—who are buying their share of Bonds but are giving their call on you, personally.

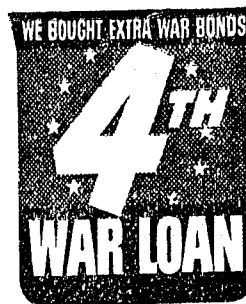

Every office, every home, every individual in America has a quota to meet. Your personal quota is at least one $100 Bond. That's above your regular Bond buying.

If possible, buy your Bonds during this drive at the plant or office where you work. A volunteer Bond worker will sell you the Bonds. Otherwise, welcome him to your home when he comes or find one in the thousands of retail stores all over the United States. They want to find you—you must see that they do.

If you are unable to make your purchases from a soldier of victory, go to one of these other special War Bond outlets to buy your extra Bonds:

BANK AND TRUST COMPANIES	PRODUCTION CREDIT ASSOCIATIONS
U. S. POST OFFICES	NATIONAL FARM LOAN ASSOCIATIONS
SAVINGS AND LOAN ASSOCIATIONS	MISCELLANEOUS BOND BOOTHS
BUILDING AND LOAN ASSOCIATIONS	RADIO STATIONS
BROKERAGE AND INVESTMENT FIRMS	RETAIL STORES
MOTION PICTURE THEATRES	NEWSPAPERS
CREDIT UNIONS
CERTAIN GOVERNMENT AGENCIES
NUMEROUS CORPORATIONS HAVE THEIR EMPLOYEES

Remember your share in this Drive is to buy more in your share of Bonds. That's the only way you can be certain you are still backing the fight. So be ready to meet your War Bond representative with an open check book.

This sticker in your window means you have bought 4th War Loan securities.

Vet of 80 Raids Speaks to Lions Of Dive Bombing

The enemy "doesn't like" American A-36 Invader dive-bombers, take it from Captain Michael Yannell, 25-year-old Summit pilot, veteran of 80 missions and the first Invader pilot to return home from the Italian combat theater, who spoke Thursday at the luncheon of Summit Lions Club at the Beechwood Hotel.

"Some Italian prisoners told us they call our ship 'the screaming demon,'" Capt. Yannell said.

He added, "It does have a terrible scream when it dives, and I've never known one of our bombs to fail."

"You can just call the A-36 the best airplane in the world. I wouldn't take a million dollars for the seat I had in the Invader at the invasions of Sicily and Italy."

He gave the Lions intimate word pictures of bombing and strafing the highways and railroads of Sicily clear of traffic in the daytime, stating the Axis keep what rolling stock was left in tunnels during the daytime.

As Capt. Yannell has said so often since he has been home, he reiterated his belief that "the Luftwaffe is licked. I don't see how the Germans can take it."

The speaker was introduced by John Rillo.

Three Lakes Are Cleared for Skating

Bryant Lake, Bryant Park and Lake Surprise have been cleared of snow and are now suitable for skating, the Union County Park Commission reported Tuesday. The commission also said that all had excellent skating surfaces. The ice at Bryant Lake is almost ten inches deep; at Lake Surprise it is over eleven inches.

This is the first time this year that these skating places have been cleared.

A Landmark Is Passed

Tuesday, January 11, was not only a great day for The Summit Herald (the new rotary press started to roll for the first time), but also for one Herbert Burmester who runs the press. His second Commission also said that all had excellent skating surfaces. The ice at Bryant Lake is almost ten

Refugee Relief Workrooms Closed, Lack of Coal

Mrs. Stoddard Stevens, Jr., chairman of the Refugee Relief Workrooms, announces that headquarters on Maple street will be closed until about February 1 because of lack of coal. The rooms will be open from 11 to 12 each Tuesday and Thursday, however, for the acceptance of finished work or giving out of materials. Those interested in the work should watch The Summit Herald for an announcement as to when the workrooms will again be open daily.

According to Mrs. Stevens, many volunteers have taken materials to work on at home. It is, therefore, expected that the activities of the organization will not be seriously curtailed by the emergency. Three large shipments will be made this week; one to England, one to the Navy Relief at the Brooklyn Navy Yard and one to the South to underprivileged children.

Volunteers are urged to go to headquarters on Tuesdays and Thursdays between 11 and 12 to obtain work to take home.
