

Housing Problems Come to the Fore At Council Meeting

Common Council on Tuesday night was reminded of the acute shortage of housing in this community particularly as it affects returning service men by William J. Thompson, an AAF captain now on inactive status. He said for five months he had left "no stone unturned to get housing."

Mr. Thompson, who is establishing a business in Summit, advocated action by council to quicken the conversion of some larger houses into smaller dwelling units. He cited possible examples as coming from along Euclid and Summit avenues.

The petitioner said he had picked Summit to return to after five years in service and hoped he wouldn't have to regret his decision.

President Rome A. Betts of council in addressing himself to Mr. Thompson's comments said, in part:

"Everyone is aware of the problem. Summit is not unique in this respect, the same problem is being experienced all over the nation."

President Betts also gave it as his opinion that little could be done or would be done about the situation in the near future because of the labor and materials situation.

Mr. Thompson suggested liberalizing the zoning laws to meet the situation. On this point Mrs. Archibald Murray of New England avenue reminded council it had the Goodrich report for guidance in the matter of future zoning plans which would allow two-family dwellings on certain streets.

She also inquired when the long contemplated new zoning ordinance would appear for action.

President Betts in answer to Mrs. Murray's query declared the

Winning Posters And Sample Books To Advertise Sale

Several Summit stores have contributed window space for displaying books to be offered at the College Club Book Sale, which opens tomorrow evening, October 5, in Hamilton School at 7 o'clock and will continue until 10 p. m.

These stores include Baker's, Summit Hardware, and Frumkin's. In addition to many tempting best sellers in gay jackets, Mrs. A. J. G. Priest, in charge of window dressing, has placed the winning posters made by Junior High School students to advertise the sale. These students competed for prizes which will be given as credit for books at the sale. Mrs. Priest, who judged the posters on originality, craftsmanship, and advertising appeal, announces the following winners:

First Prize—Herbert Hazelton.

Second Prize—Phyllis Flanagan, Joan Dunnder, Pierce Ormond.

Honorable Mention—Maude Goodold, Antoinette Petraccaro, Betty Baker, Tom Armstrong, Cris Trapp, John Miles, Marie Bon-tempo, Ruth Uebels, Betsy Covall, and Gloria Boorujy.

To Use Air Raid Signal As Auxiliary Fire Alarm, to Test Weekly

On the recommendation of Chief Murray of the Fire Department, the Common Council has sanctioned the incorporation into the fire alarm system, the alarm which was purchased for and used as an air-raid warning signal.

The alarm will be used only in case of emergencies such as the failure of the regular alarm system or in the event of the need for additional volunteers in case of large or second alarm fires.

As a test, the alarm will be sounded each Saturday at noon.

Woolen Clothes Needed By the Thrift Shop

Thrift Shop sales have been very brisk in the two weeks since the opening. "This is very gratifying, but it has thinned out our stock of woollens much faster than we anticipated," said Mrs. Allan Maybee, Thrift Shop chairman.

"Overcoats are especially needed," she continued. "Anyone who can contribute a coat, or any other warm clothing, will be helping both the shop and our customers."

The Thrift Shop is run by the Junior Service League to raise money for local charities, and to provide a place where people of moderate income can buy good used clothing and housewares.

The shop is located at 468 Springfield avenue; its hours are 9:30-11:45 mornings, and 1:30 to 3:45 afternoons except Saturday.

Summit Man Dies Of Auto Injuries Suffered in India

The United Press on Monday published the following dispatch from Colombo, Ceylon:

"Henry Walter Livingstone, Jr., of Summit, N. J., an executive of Caltex, Ltd., died at the Royal Naval Hospital today of injuries suffered in a traffic accident. His car was in collision with an Army truck while he was driving home from a hotel about midnight. His wife and another couple in the car suffered only slight injuries."

Mr. Livingstone's father lives at the Beechwood Apartments in Woodland avenue. The son was married September 22 in the East. He was a graduate of Kent School, Conn. He was 38 years old and had been associated with Caltex, Ltd., an oil concern, for five years.

Summit Lions Favor Proposed Pension Plan

Summit Lions Club at their weekly luncheon Thursday in the Hotel Beechwood went on record as unanimously favoring the proposal before the Summit electorate at the November general election for municipal employees of this city to join the State retirement pension plan.

The plan recommended last summer by a citizens committee headed by former Mayor James W. Banker to Common Council was explained to the Lions by Executive Officer Fred Mort. He said the retirement plan is designed to provide financial assistance to city employees who reach the retirement age and who are not now covered by the State pension plan. The speaker said the plan to be voted upon is designed to protect a class of workers who received no coverage under the federal social security and old-age pension plan.

Mr. Mort said among the communities now having such a plan in effect are Asbury Park, East Orange, Linden, Plainfield, Belleville, Bloomfield, Dover, Irvington, Montclair, Morristown, West Orange, Princeton, Springfield and Teaneck.

Overlook Bridge Collects Prizes of Usual Quality

The annual bridge parties of the Woman's Auxiliary of Overlook Hospital have acquired a reputation of offering handsome prizes and this year will be no exception. The auxiliary is grateful to the individuals and stores who have donated these prizes. They have added much toward the success of the parties.

Mrs. Henry W. Harding, chairman of the prizes, has announced that the merchants of Summit and the surrounding towns are contributing generously. Among the prizes already received are a scrap-basket, a large flash light and an attractive lamp. All the score pads for the bridge have been donated. There will be many "exciting" door prizes.

Assisting Mrs. Harding are Mrs. J. Edwin Carter, Mrs. Charles Daly, Mrs. Edgar Higgins, Mrs. Milford Walker and Mrs. Frank Finney from Summit; Mrs. Coleman Burke and Mrs. Crawford Campbell from Short Hills; Mrs. Joseph Joiner, Jr., from Chatham; Mrs. Dan Bushnell and Mrs. W. K. Bigelow of Madison will also assist.

The card party will be held on Friday, October 20, at 2:30 in the Hotel Beechwood. Tickets will be 30 THIRTY-TICKETS FOR $1.50. No other charge. No minimum balance required. Open your account today at The First National Bank and Trust Company of Summit, Member F. D. I. C.—Adv.

Home Nursing Accelerated Course

Accelerated courses in Home Nursing will be offered for the first time this fall by the Summit Chapter, American Red Cross. Mrs. William I. McMane, chairman of Red Cross Home Nursing Committee has announced that two and possibly three classes are being organized.

The Red Cross has been persuaded by Dr. Thomas Parran, Surgeon General, that the teaching of Home Nursing is of the utmost importance during this re-conversion period. Mrs. McMane said. Accordingly, Summit Chapter has revamped its home nursing courses under guidance of industrialists.

The Accelerated Course consists of six lessons, the topics as follows:

1. When Sickness Occurs.
2. The Patient Goes to Bed.
3. The Clean and Well Groomed Bed Patient.
4. Food and Medicine for the Sick in the Home.
5. Simple Treatments Ordered by the Doctor.
6. Relating Care of the Sick to the Control of Communicable Disease.

These classes will be held at Chapter Classrooms at 95 Summit avenue. Registration is now open for classes beginning late in October. All persons interested are urged to enroll early as classes are limited to a unit of ten. Call Summit 6-2076, Red Cross Headquarters for information.

Old Guard Almost Fills Jury Box At District Court

Nine out of the twelve jurors called for service at the two sessions of Summit's District Court, held last week, were members of the Old Guard. If three other members of the Old Guard, who received calls, had not declined to serve, the box would have been completely filled by the organization's members.

The Old Guard members who served were: Harry A. Marshall, foreman of first session; William S. Bird; William L. Furth, Gustav Graef, Charles H. Hall, John P. Murphy, Fred Sayre, Arthur Truslow and William Woodruff.

Summit Nature Club To Hear Mr. Furth On "Relationships"

"Nature Relationships" will be the topic of Elmore Furth's talk before the Summit Nature Club at its first meeting of the season, Wednesday, Oct. 10, at the Y.M.C.A. The time will be 8:15 p. m.

Mr. Furth, who is president of the club, will discuss the general theme of study at the Audubon Nature Center at Greenwich, Conn., where he spent two weeks this summer.

The whole picture of nature relationships and the dependence of one kind of life upon another, as the birds and insects, animals and grasses, trees and water, man and his relation to all of these, will be discussed. "If one of these fails, at least one other suffers," said Mr. Furth, "and families in nature are as devastating as families among men. If insect life is too abundant, it affects everything else. If it should vanish, the birds would tend to disappear."

Any interested person is invited to attend this meeting.

Best Sellers Given To College Club For Its Book Sale

The response to the recent appeal for best sellers for the College Club Book Sale was startling, according to the committee. "Already there are several copies of 'Up Front' by Bill Mauldin, which is first on the nation-wide reading lists for non-fiction. Also there is the recently published 'Rickshaw Boy' by the World, the Flash, and Father Smith. 'Pleasant Valley,' 'Immortal Wife,' 'Green Dolphin Street,' and many others. The sale opens tomorrow (Friday) evening at 7 o'clock."

Books which have achieved popularity within the last few years, such as, 'The Valley of Decision,' 'For Whom the Bell Tolls,' 'Winesap,' 'Dragonseed,' to name just a few, are numerous.

The collection of biography, always a favorite with buyers, reports Mrs. Joseph V. Quarles, Jr., chairman of the book sale, and there are some popular contributions, such as, 'Black Boy' by Richard Wright; 'Good Night, Sweet Prince,' John Barrymore's story by Gene Fowler; and 'You're Only Human Once,' by Grace Moore.

In addition to the perennially popular fiction and mystery stories, Mrs. Quarles was amazed at the beautiful sets and collections of books by famous authors, handsomely bound and in excellent condition. Any of them would add color and dignity to a library. There are sets by Balzac, Ruskin, Hawthorne, Dickens, Thackeray and Conan Doyle.

Among the treasures for collectors of unusual items is a rare and valuable Bible printed in England in 1631 and bound in beautiful leather. There is also a first edition of 'Ben Hur,' and a first edition of 'The Lost Galleon' by Bret Harte.

Miss Margaret Acker, past-president of the club, who has guided many previous sales, was impressed with a set of law books which have been presented. There is a complete set of 42 volumes dating from 1896-1923 of 'General Session Laws of New Jersey,' and in good condition. "These books would be invaluable to a lawyer setting up a law office in New Jersey," stated Miss Acker. "There are also several other good law books."

League Speaker

LAWRENCE J. MACGREGOR
who will talk to the League of Women Voters on "European Relief."

Now that the war is over, some of those regular blood donors who appeared every time the Blood Bank visited Summit, have volunteered to donate their blood to Overlook Hospital, to help keep its bank filled to the required minimum.

As the Red Cross no longer needs to maintain the tremendous reserve of war times, and has discontinued its Mobile Unit, this service from individual donors to the Hospital is most acceptable.

As an added incentive to donations from the public to the hospital blood bank, the donor may give his pint as a credit against its use within the following three years, by himself or any of his immediate family. Since the charge for a transfusion is $30, this means an actual money saving to the donor, as well as an insurance of life.

A booklet, "A Bank That's Run By Doctors" is being distributed to those who wish to know more about the credit system of donating blood. It also explains another way by which the patient receiving a transfusion may avoid $30 charge, by furnishing a donor.

"Please telephone for an appointment, if you care to donate blood for a family credit," warned Mrs. Ruth Northrop, secretary of Overlook Blood Bank. "This helps both the donor and the hospital staff, she said."

Memorial Service Sunday For Sarah Woodman Paul

A memorial service for Mrs. Sarah Woodman Paul will be held at Kent Place School next Sunday afternoon, October 7. Mrs. Paul's connection with the school as head mistress (1896-1923), and her later years of residence here, made her a citizen of Summit for nearly fifty years.

The Trustees of the school and the Kent Place Alumnae Association are arranging this service of commemoration and gratitude for Mrs. Paul's long and active life.

Dr. Buchman of the Central Presbyterian Church will conduct the service and there will be special music. The service will be held in the Commons Room of Mable House at 4 o'clock. All friends of Mrs. Paul will be most welcome.

Beechwood Hotel Strikers Find Themselves Fired

Labor unrest in New Jersey futilely spread itself to Summit last Thursday when six waiters and kitchen help confronted the management of the Hotel Beechwood for a 30 per cent increase in wages.

The threat of the sextet to strike unless their demands were met resulted in their summary dismissal. The dissident workers took advantage of the fact that the hotel's chef was on vacation and the head waiter was having a day off. Notwithstanding the shortage of help caused by the dismissal of the strikers the management carried on and was able Thursday to serve the Lions' Club luncheon and on Tuesday the Kiwanis Club luncheon.

Friday morning Manager William Lucas of the hotel found that his office had been ransacked and a small amount of petty cash taken. Whether or not this had anything to do with the strike, the police, who investigated, have not yet determined.

2 Summit People Will Speak on European Relief

At the League of Women Voters meeting to be held at 2 p. m. October 8 at the Methodist parish house, there will be two of Summit's workers in European relief to give first hand information on the subject.

"A Report from a Yugoslav Refugee Camp" will be given by Dr. Evelyn Holt. She was one of the doctors sent by the Unitarian Service Committee to work under UNRRA abroad. Lawrence J. MacGregor, who has recently returned from Lisbon, where he was in charge of the office of the American Friends Service Committee for seven months, will speak about his work and experiences there.

Mrs. T. E. Lenigan, chairman of the Foreign Policy Committee, will be in charge of the program of the afternoon.

Newspapers, Radio Work Hand in Hand, Kiwanis Told

"Newspapers have logically entered the radio field and there will be a close association in the future between the two," declared Olin P. Williams, business manager of Station WBYN of Brooklyn, guest speaker yesterday noon at Summit Kiwanis Club commemorated National Newspaper Week.

As announced in last week's Herald WBYN has been purchasing by the Newark Evening News as a New Jersey outlet for R4 coverage of news.

Mr. Williams, who is president of the Summit Board of Health and formerly a sales executive with Station WOR, said of the future of radio that the first advancement will be frequency modulation. FM as he called it, was in a short wave band and will give quick coverage. The speaker said FM is still free.

Benish on an early widespread use of television, Mr. Williams said its use will mean increased news service. He saw the day when techniques would be introduced so that department stores would conduct style shows by television and manufacturers would

Red Cross Host To Instructors' Conference

Chosen as host to instructors' Conference, Summit Chapter, American Red Cross, welcomes Red Cross home nursing instructors from six neighboring chapters. The North Atlantic Area of the American Red Cross has brought Miss Edith W. Unruh, master training supervisor, and Mrs. Isabelle Bodie, instructor training supervisor, to present the new streamlined Home Nursing Course to instructors in this locality.

Part of the first course has been given and will continue October 8 and 9. The second course is being given October 4, 5, 11, 12, 18 and 19. All the classes are being held at the Staff Assistance offices, 95 Summit avenue.

The public may now benefit from the lesson Red Cross has learned from wartime industry in that the short course is given in six classes of two hours each. All instructors of the shortened course are required to attend this conference in order to learn the accelerated methods of instruction in the newer version of care of the sick in the home. There will be six full days of concentrated study for the instructors.

Mrs. William I. McMane and her home nursing committee have spent a great deal of time and effort in making the necessary preparations for holding the conference in Summit.

Mrs. William P. Rogan and Mrs. Edward Sharpe, of the Canteen Corps will be on the job and serve luncheon all six days to the instructors taking the course.

House Robberies, Motor Violations, Keep Police Busy

A variety of motor vehicle violations and two house robberies have engaged the attention of Summit police during the past week as well as the Police Court with Judge Peter C. Triolo, presiding.

Appearing Friday in Police Court, Alfred Paul Miller, 18, of Watertown, Mass., was found guilty of unlawful entry and burglary of a house in Valley View avenue. With two previous convictions in Massachusetts for such action, Miller was remanded to the (Continued on Page 3)

United Campaign Organization Ready For Work

One of the most effective of the new plans of the Central Committee of the United Campaign Organization has been that of electing its officers at the beginning of the year, thus enabling them to have more time to organize their personnel for the work of soliciting every Summit family during the October drive for funds.

The new plan has worked so well that it is possible this year to concentrate the general solicitation into one day, Sunday, October 21, when the Committee asks that everyone stay home after church until a solicitor calls.

Don G. Mitchell, chairman, and W. H. Jennings, vice-chairman, have had the help of four co-chairmen, besides that of Maxwell Lester, Jr., chairman of Advance Gifts. The four co-chairmen are W. A. Kincaid and Mrs. W. S. Kimber, for the north side of Summit; and Horace Moody and Mrs. George R. Decker, for the south side. They have organized the families to be called upon in their sections on October 21.

The full list of workers in the general campaign is:

The Weather— Believe It Or Not!

With a 7 a. m. temperature of 41 and a high for the day of 80 degrees, Wednesday brought a feeling of real fall, and small talk turned to insulation and fuel. A rather strong wind was from the west. Frost is predicted. The clearness of the air helps this possibility.

Tuesday was cloudy and threatening, with rain at noon, after 70 degrees, Monday evening, which was much warmer than any day since last Saturday.

Roosevelt Family Reminiscences, Old Guard Topic

The Old Guard indulged freely last Tuesday in Roosevelt reminiscences, not only those of "Uncle Ed" Lum of Chatham but also of several others. "Uncle Ed" told how Theodore Roosevelt was descended from Johannes Roosevelt the founder of the Long Island branch of the family and his brother, Jacobus, that of the Hyde Park branch, whence came Franklin Delano Roosevelt, (some 30 years younger than Theodore), while the progenitor of them all was one Roosevelt, who came from Amsterdam in 1658.

As a classmate at Harvard, Theodore Roosevelt was said to be rather thin and a fair student, but a great reader and especially interested in Economics. He was not then "a good mixer" (although Winter Davis told how very popular he was later in a crowd of some 500 longshoremen on a United Fruit Company dock). At college young Roosevelt was fond of boxing and fencing and as a cowboy in the Dakotas he gained much in strength and physical ability. The speaker first saw the boy Roosevelt riding a pony following his father's handsome equine and later supported the man in his Progressive campaign. Both Presidential Roosevelts had many friends and many enemies.

Frank Wright told how Governor Theodore Roosevelt had, at his suggestion, appointed George L. Hynes as State Architect and thus greatly improved architectural conditions in New York State. He also thought that the finest thing "T.R." ever wrote was the collection of letters to his own children. George Baker then read a personal letter which he had received and Clyde Berry was enthusiastic over an address to the Class of 1899 at Cornell while Charles Hall also added his word. The meeting closed with a rising vote of thanks offered by Harry Marshall.

A feature of the general meeting was the report that 9 out of the 12 jurors called for service at the two sessions of Summit's Third District Court last week were members of the Old Guard.

The speaker for next Tuesday morning, Oct. 9, is E. J. Gaffney, President of the Gaffney Food Corporation. Time, 10:30 a. m. at the "Y."

War Correspondent To Speak at Closing Of Newspaper Institute

New Brunswick, Oct. 3.—Dewitt Mackenzie, war correspondent and columnist of the Associated Press, will be the principal speaker at the banquet which will conclude the twenty-fourth annual New Jersey Newspaper Institute to be held at Rutgers University on Monday. Mackenzie will speak on "The Press and World Peace."

Frank B. Hutchinson, secretary of the New Jersey Press Association, said that approximately 200 editors and publishers of New Jersey newspapers are expected to attend the all-day conference which will include a meeting of the board of directors of the New Jersey Press Association, section conferences for daily and weekly newspaper executives and the awards in the annual newspaper excellence, news picture and "Four Freedoms" editorial contests.

L.S.T. Ships In Rough Weather Sound Like D.L.W.

Mrs. Curtis Prout, president of the Summit Art Association, has received a letter from Cpl. Theodore Henderson of the marines, who has been in the South Pacific for 18 months. Cpl. Henderson contributed some Christmas cards which he had drawn, to the Service-men's Exhibition which the Association sponsored last spring.

"This is rather a belated thank-you letter for the interest you have shown in forwarding the catalogue of the Summit Art Association but I know you must understand how our obligations take second place. It was nice to know that I contributed in a small way to the fine exhibit (last spring) and it made me feel that even though I was away over here, Summit hadn't forgotten, and I was still a part of the community."

"We have returned from Okinawa. Our trip up was on a beautiful A.P. which means Attack, Pursuit, ships, but our return was on a lowly L.S.T. which in heavy weather sounded like the D. L. and W. on its way to Binghamton, N. Y. Our trunks were in the rear of the ship and every time we struck a wave it shook as if we were crossing railroad tracks in the ocean."

"Okinawa was an interesting place. The houses were not too clean since the kitchens have wood burning fireplaces without chimneys and of course everything became covered with soot. The farms were beautifully planted and the tools they used very primitive. Our boys would patrol at night and bring back hens which they would capture in hedgerows. We had fresh eggs for a time and plenty of good fresh vegetables."

"Cordially,

stations in the New York metropolitan area.

In closing the speaker reiterated the idea that radio and the newspapers supplement each other with the latter catering to the visual sense and the former to the auditory sense.

Auditory William Savage of Kiwanis reviewed briefly the part played in the war effort by newspapers and cited the 31 newspaper correspondents and photographers who gave their lives in the late war.

Summit Kiwanis will be represented at the Victory Conference of New Jersey Kiwanis to be held October 13 at the Stacy-Trent Hotel in Trenton. President Savage will head a delegation including Vice-Presidents Hudson Martin and William Lucas together with Secretary Harlan S. Kennedy, and past Lt. Gov. William H. Kay, Jr.

Delinquency Minor Problem in Summit, Court Clerk Says

Frank Van Tronk, clerk of the Summit Police Court, speaking to the members of the Rotary Club at their luncheon on Monday in the Y.M.C.A. declared that juvenile delinquency here is a minor problem.

He said, of course it depends on the definition one puts on delinquency, that his might be different from what others place on the word—in his opinion the delinquency is on the part of parents rather than on the child or youth. He said some youths got into mischief because they had to have something whereby they could work off their youthful energy—such as throwing stones through windows of vacant houses and in several other ways.

Clerk Van Tronk stated there had been six from here sent to the Juvenile Court who were placed on probation; two others were sent to a correctional home in the past two years.

He said that parents should teach their children that the "cop" is a friend of theirs, not an enemy; that there seemed to be a tendency on the part of some parents to scare their children with threats of calling the "cop" if they are mischievous which resulted in the child's being fearful of the "law."

Clerk Van Tronk said parents should know where their child is at all times and with whom, and that children should be at home early. The child is under the care of teachers until 3 o'clock when schools are in session but from then until about five there should be some supervised activity beyond what can now be given; which would keep them out of trouble.

The speaker was introduced by Milton T. Mountain of the attendance committee. The attention of Rotarians was called to the "open house" program at the "Y" this week, particularly to the country dance on Friday, for which they were asked to provide a "barber shop" quartette.

A resolution was passed instructing the Board of Directors to ask Rotary International to put the local club in District 162. It is now in 163.

Guests introduced by W. Gilbert Baker were: Warrant Officer Peter Proulx, guest of Arthur T. Dalley; J. E. Herwig, guest of Harry Opeding; Don C. McMillan, guest of Allan R. Devanny; Joshua Ogilthly of the Millburn club and Leon Doremus of the Madison club.

The Clerk stresses the fact that one of the problems the police face is that of reckless bicycle riding by boys and girls. They ride all over the road, on sidewalks and the wrong way through streets. Parents should be particular in instructing their children to ride correctly and obey traffic laws and signals.

Summit Branch 100 Sons of Poland Will Honor Pulaski

Summit Branch 100 of the Association of the Sons of Poland, will be represented at the Memorial Day Parade which will pay tribute to the memory of Casimir Pulaski of Fifth avenue, New York, this Sunday, Oct. 7, at 1 p. m.

The parade will mark the 166th anniversary of the death of Brigadier General Pulaski, who was mortally wounded in 1779 during the Battle of Savannah in the Revolutionary War.

The marshal of the parade will be Joseph Onks, former mayor of Manville, and now president of the Polish Relief Council, District 5.

The Association of the Sons of Poland number over five million members. The Summit Branch 100 has about 100 members.

Automatic Window Closes Eliminates Worry

Worry about rain ruining the living room rug or curtains can be eliminated by an electrical device, scheduled for early production, which opens and closes windows thermostatically. Thus, if the night is hot and there are threatening clouds, it will be safe to leave the house. If the storm strikes, the accompanying drop in temperature will cause the windows to close.

Hi-Y Officers Attend Training Conference At Camp Wawayanda

Officers of the Charles R. Scott and Hill City Hi-Y Clubs attended the "New Jersey Conference on Hi-Y Statesmanship" at Camp Wawayanda last Saturday. This meeting, originally scheduled at Princeton University on September 15, was organized to train Hi-Y Club officers in their duties. Special discussions and training periods were held for club presidents, vice-presidents, secretaries, treasurers, membership chairmen and chaplains.

Delegates from Summit were: David Croyder, president of the Charles R. Scott Hi-Y; Robert Bullwinkel, Fred Speaker, Bradford Pellet, Leigh Brenner and Donald Mantel, of the Hill City Hi-Y Club. Edwin G. Lincoln, Boys' Program secretary of the Summit Y.M.C.A., was the delegation leader.

The Hot Dog Made Hottest

As an example of real, high octane thinking these days, the Office of Surplus Property, Department of Commerce, was given this story of how an article designed strictly for war-time emergency uses has, through American ingenuity and transcendent imagination, been converted to an entirely practical civilian purpose.

The case in point is a receptacle used on the battlefield and in hospitals, for sterilizing surgical instruments. When a great quantity of these sterilizers was given to the Office of Surplus Property for disposal, it presented a selling problem not immediately solved but along came a gentleman who put on his thinking cap, pulled it down tightly and came up with the idea that these surgical sterilizers would make ideal receptacles for steaming frankfurters. And so it was that the frankfurter found a new home and the problem of disposal was solved.

The sample rooms of the Office of Surplus Property, Empire State Building, New York City, display many other interesting war-time items that present still more ingenious and dramatic possibilities for conversion to civilian use.

County jail to await hearing by the Grand Jury.

Miller was one of five magazine salesmen given permits Thursday to solicit subscriptions. When an entry in Division Avenue had been reported to New Providence police, Lt. Newton Palmer of the Summit police together with Identification Officer Frank Van Tronk went into a huddle with Chief Harry High after determining that Miller had been assigned the territory where the burglaries had been committed, he was brought in for questioning and after four hours grueling by Lt. Palmer confessed his crimes. The more than $800 in jewelry stolen from the New Providence home was recovered in a waste basket at police headquarters where he had thrown the loot.

Harry T. Jenkins, who lives at the Newark A. C. was found guilty Saturday morning before Judge Triolo of allowing a 15-year-old girl to operate his car without a license. He was fined $50 plus $3 costs of court, another Newark man, Henry Stark paid a $5 fine for towing a car without tires, Abraham Levenstien of Brooklyn was fined $22 plus $3 costs of court on charges of careless driving.

The above trio of motor vehicles violation complaints were made by Chief Motor Vehicle Otto Oswald donated by Hamilton School are loaded with a large assortment of unusual books on many subjects. There are publications on physics, psychology, chemistry, philosophy, sewing, nursing, mathematics, aviation, medicine, business and economics. The poetry collection has the famous "More Poems," by A. E. Housman, his last book published. In the drama section is a "Complete Theatre Guild Anthology." In the numerous books on nature and gardening is a three-volume garden encyclopedia. Books on the recent war are well represented with "Berlin Diary," "Last Train from Berlin," "Journey Among Warriors," "Retreat With Stilwell," "Inside Asia," etc. Books on art and architecture include a "Treasury of American Prints," which is an outstanding collection. There's a shelf with books of humor, so enjoyed by service men with "The Thurber Carnival" and "Fun in Bed" by Frank Scully. Travel books, essays, rhetoric, foreign language books, and interior decoration are all represented as well as dictionaries, World Almanacs, stamp catalogues, and Fanny Farmer's "Boston Cooking School Book."

In the music department is an unusual encyclopedia of music in 12 volumes, and Mrs. Eric M. North in charge of music, reports a large selection of sheet music for piano and voice, and many records.

Mrs. H. J. Moyer, who is doing children's books, has a large shelf of fairy tales picture books, and two Compton's Children's Encyclopedias as well as several sets of the "Book of Knowledge."

Mrs. Stephen Fletcher and her committee have been busy all week putting just the right price on each book, and they are all genuine bargains. The sale opens at Hamilton School, 312 Springfield avenue near Morris avenue intersection, tomorrow evening at 7 o'clock, closing at 10 p. m. and the hours on Saturday, Monday, and Tuesday will be from 9 a. m. until 9 p. m., and on Wednesday will be from 9 a. m. until 5 p. m. Due to the fact that the sale is being held at the school, there is a corridor room for having books checked. The books will be mainly in the two rooms allotted, and near the exits will be three tables where there will be workers to check the books before the purchaser goes to the cashier. Two cashiers will be stationed at the front door. The public is asked by the committee to use the main entrance of the school on Springfield avenue.

Housing Problems

Planning Board again was attempting to have a meeting tonight to study further the provisions of the new zoning ordinance. The council head said the Planning Board had been unable for some time to muster a quorum.

In added remarks, Mr. Thompson declared the coming of Celanese to Summit would probably add to the housing problems. He said "the boys all received a hilarious send-off when they went into service" and indicated the welcome home was not comparable.

Mr. Thompson's remarks about Celanese brought Robert H. Steele of Summit to the floor. Mr. Steele, it will be recalled, was the broker in the sale of Edison School to Celanese. He said such units as Mr. Thompson suggested be cut from some of the houses in Euclid and Summit avenues were now renting from $150 a month up and doubted whether service men would be interested. The real estate man said he had sold two Celanese executives houses here in the $30,000 class. Mr. Steele joined with President Betts in expressing skepticism about an early

Power Co. Reorganizes Operations In This Area

John T. Neal, Jr., manager of the Boonton District of Jersey Central Power & Light Company, and Gerald F. Duff, chief clerk under Mr. Neal, have been promoted to manager and office manager respectively of the company's northern division with headquarters in Morristown. This announcement was made today by Edwin H. Werner, president of Jersey Central Power & Light Company, who made known other appointments in a reorganization plan of Company operations in the territory. As manager, Mr. Neal will be responsible for all functions which go into the general operation of the division, including supervision of Company district operations now based in Boonton, Morristown, Summit, Dover and Pompton Lakes. Mr. Duff's job as office manager at Morristown will include all commercial accounting and other commercial activities not only in Morristown but also in Boonton, Summit, Dover and Pompton Lakes. The new assignments are as of October 1.

Mr. Werner's statement also includes the naming of Austin C. Fort of Morristown as superintendent of the division. He had been acting superintendent since Clyde A. Mullen was called from Morristown to Ashbury Park to become general superintendent of operations. As superintendent Mr. Fort will have supervision of the engineering department, substation, line department, building division and meter departments.

Safety and personnel departments for the division will be headed by Oakley M. LaVance, of Summit, a native of Manassas, formerly for several years district manager at Summit and Dover, who will be responsible for all personnel activities, safety measures and the investigation and prevention of accidents.

Following his electrical education Mr. Neal in June of 1925 entered the service of the company in Morristown as a cadet and, as such, spent three years in the Whippany Electric Production Plant, in the meter department, substation, as a gasmaker in the Dover Gas Plant and in commercial activities.

For one year he was head of the lighting department and in 1929 was transferred to the Pompton Lakes office as district manager where he remained until 1937. In that year he was transferred to Boonton as district manager and in recent years he has supervised also the districts at Dover and Pompton Lakes when the activities of those two districts were merged with Boonton. Mr. Neal has been active in civic affairs having served as president of the Rotary Club in 1935-36 and having just completed a term as president of the Boonton Rotary Club. He is vice-president of the Morris Community Chest and of the Morris County War Chest and he is on the executive committee of the Morris and Sussex Area Boy Scouts. He is married and has two children.

After a brief tour of duty in the Morristown Office where he was employed May 1, 1930, Mr. Duff was assigned to the Pompton Lakes office as clerk to Mr. Neal and in 1936 was transferred to Boonton where he became chief clerk. This position he continued to fill until the new assignment to Morristown.

Kresge Celebrates Seventy-Five Years As An Institution

A milestone in the history of one of Newark's department stores was celebrated on Monday, October 1, when Kresge Newark rounded out seventy-five years as a Newark institution.

Hugh E. Barnes, general manager, together with other executives of Kresge Newark, joined in welcoming more than two hundred and fifty guests to a diamond wedding breakfast in the store's Thimbleberry Room on the seventh floor.

"The diamond wedding breakfast," Hugh E. Barnes declared, "symbolized the relationship of Kresge as an institution and the city of Newark and it is the first of a score of celebrations to be held throughout the store during the following four weeks."

Those attending the breakfast, held at 9:30 a. m., were seventy-five of the store's oldest customers together with their escorts. There were also a number of veteran employees present.

In an effort to seek out these old customers Kresge Newark conducted an advertising campaign in the local newspapers asking the readers to write in and tell how long they had been customers.

"The response to these letters was tremendous," General Barnes said, "and many of them revealed customers well past the half-century mark who referred to the store as it was known in those days—'The Bee Hive.'"

Others attending the seventy-fifth anniversary celebration included civic, business, professional and religious leaders in the community.

Another highlight of the breakfast was the participation of those attending in the store's morning radio program. This broadcast was at 10:30 a. m. and was heard over radio station WAAT. The half-hour broadcast was devoted to the old and the new. The history of Newark in the old days was by The Explorer of the Newark Evening News, R. Howard Garis.

Kresge Newark's History General Manager Barnes in relating the store's history declared that the founders back in 1870 were known to have made this statement: "We are not here for a day or for a year. We want our customers to stay with us for life."

That lifetime of Kresge Newark down through the seventy-five years is full of romance. Back in 1870, L. Simon Plaut, the founder, after a brief experience as a merchant in Hartford came to Newark with a partner. He was Leopold Fox and they opened a small dry goods store under the name of The Bee Hive. This store, with but two floors in an old frame building, was located at 721 Broad Street, right alongside the Morris Canal. Fox and Plaut slept in the back of the shop at night.

By comparison in size to the present building which numbers ten floors, and 600,000 square feet of space, the original building was 18 x 26 feet and their personnel consisted of one clerk. Today there are 1,600 employees, and the present building, which was constructed in 1926, covers an entire square block bounded by Broad, Cedar, Halsey streets and Raymond boulevard.

Their business began to prosper and it was necessary to secure larger space so they moved to 823 Broad street, where they remained until 1878. In 1881, they had achieved the distinction of being the largest fancy goods house in the State of New Jersey.

Many of the policies in retailing adopted during the early days of Kresge Newark have been carried on down through the seventy-five years. The founders, creating quite a stir throughout the country in those days, instituted three innovations.

The first was the one-price policy with all goods plainly marked. The second was their welfare work to better employee relations. This program included mutual aid among co-workers, a reduction in the number of working hours, attractive rest rooms and a lunch room for workers. They also provided a physician, a nurse and even a lawyer. And Kresge Newark had the first department store house organ in America. It was called "Honeycomb Briefs." The present employees continue to receive these benefits.

The third policy adopted before the turn of the century was the installation of time-saving devices for better service to the customers.

Change in ownership occurred in 1923 when Sebastian S. Kresge, its present owner, began a series of transactions to create a chain of Kresge Department Stores. This was the first. Its present management, under the ownership of Sebastian S. Kresge, includes Hugh E. Barnes, as general manager, and the following as members of the Operating Board:

Miss Anne Belle Shipman, executive secretary; John J. Quinn, general superintendent; Rexford L. Willett, controller; Harry Tepperman, Manager of Restaurant Divisions; Jerome Steiner, Basement Merchandise; Mgr. P. Guerrier, merchandise manager for apparel and accessories; Abraham Denburg, merchandise manager for household goods; Robert J. Powderly, sales promotion manager, and Norman Richman, personnel manager.

With merchandise manufactured throughout the entire United States, many of its products have been imported, and the management will return to this practice when shipment of merchandise from foreign lands is once more available. Many special services have also been incorporated in the store's over-all effort to be an integral part of the community. These are the special shops, the various restaurants, the audience-participating radio broadcast, theater ticket service and parking facilities.

Union Holds Its Own In Traffic Fatalities

There were 345 traffic accident fatalities in New Jersey during the first eight months of the year, compared with the same total in the corresponding months of 1944. Motor Vehicle Commissioner Arthur W. Magee announced today.

August deaths numbered 53 as against 45 last year.

Union County held its own with 27 for each period.

Gain on Accidental Deaths Since 1913

During the 32 years from 1913, when the national accident prevention movement was started, to 1944, there were 2,904,000 accidental deaths. If the death rate had been as high each year as it was in 1913, this death total would have been 3,233,000. Thus, 330,000 fewer people have lost their lives than would have been killed if the 1913 rate had continued.

Col. E. R. Needles Receives Legion Of Merit Award

Colonel Enoch R. Needles, Chief of the Redistribution and Salvage Division, Office of the Chief of Engineers, Washington, D. C., has been awarded the Legion of Merit at the direction of the President of the United States. He is a member of the firm of Howard, Needles, Tammen & Bergendoff, consulting engineers with offices in New York and Kansas City.

The award made by Lieutenant General Eugene Reybold, Chief of Engineers, U. S. Army, was accompanied by a citation which pointed out that "Colonel Needles performed exceptionally meritorious duty in connection with procurement, construction, distribution, and salvage. Under his direction, special equipment was procured for the British Open Coal Mining program. He also prepared for the Joint Chiefs of Staff special studies relating to artificial harbors and floating facilities for aircraft."

Colonel Needles was born in Brookfield, Mo., October 23, 1888. He was graduated from the Missouri School of Mines in 1914, Bachelor of Science in Civil Engineering. For nearly a quarter of a century, he has specialized in the design and supervision of construction of highway and railway bridges over important waterways of the U. S.

Some of the structures on which he served as engineer, prior to the war were the Pulaski Skyway, Thomas Edison Memorial Bridge, Harlem River and Bronx Kills spans, Hackensack River bridge and the Ocean Highway bridges.

From January to March, 1941, Colonel Needles served as Chief Zone Engineer in the New York office of the Construction Division of the Quartermaster Corps. He served as resident Architect-Engineer on the Southwestern Proving Ground at Hope, Arkansas, and in 1942, supervised the construction of the Bluebonnet Ordnance Plant at McGregor, Texas. He was ordered to active duty with the Office of the Chief of Engineers on December 2, 1942.

Colonel Needles is a member of the following engineering organizations: American Society of Civil Engineers (director 1937-40), American Institute of Consulting Engineers, Society of American Military Engineers, American Road Builders Association, The Newcomen Society, The Engineer's Club of New York.

Colonel Needles and his family reside in Sunset drive.

Wastepaper Still Needed—Scouts Urged to Help

Watchung Area Council, Inc., headquarters at 133 East Sixth street, Plainfield, prints the following in a recent issue of the "Scouter's Bulletin":

"Many of our Scouts are wearing the Eisenhower Award for wastepaper collections. These and all other Scouts and Scouters are urged not to slacken the pace in salvage collections. Wastepaper is still needed and so far as we can ascertain the same prices prevail. We helped win the war with our efforts and now we must continue to help those men who won the war for us. Our Armed Forces are still scattered all over the world. These men must still have supplies and equipment. This means boxes for packing such supplies. These boxes are made from the wastepaper; that our Scouts collect. So once again we say, it is still one of our most important jobs to keep on collecting paper."

Eighteen per cent of home accident fatalities were children under five years of age during 1944, reports the National Safety Council.

MRS. KATE BUNDY BURKE

In the death last Sunday of Mrs. Burke, Summit loses a citizen who had been active in various ways in the development of the city during her 37 years of residence here.

Mrs. Burke's particular contributions were in music and church work. She had served as chairman of several musical organizations and wrote the music for what many term the New Jersey State song, the words of which were written by another Summit resident, Mrs. Lemuel Skidmore.

In the Summit Methodist Church, of which Mrs. Burke was a member, she led many activities. Particularly in the Sunday School, Mrs. Burke's influence on the characters of her pupils will continue to live.

We know that we all must pass this way and be no more, but it seems even more than usually sad that one like Mrs. Burke should go at an age when faculties are in full force and influence for good has in no way diminished.

NEWSPAPER WEEK

This is Newspaper Week. Newspapers do not need a week, for every week is newspaper week for the newspapers. But since we have a week for this and a week for that it is just as well to have a newspaper week. This might call special attention to newspapers, if that is necessary.

Newspapers are of many shapes and sizes and formats. This doesn't make much difference so long as the paper presents the news the reader wants. And this is just what every good newspaper tries to do. It also tries to present it accurately. The accuracy of a story lies exactly in how the reporter sees and hears it, not how some one else sees and hears it. This is what many readers fail to observe. They say a story is all wrong if it is not written as the reader sees and hears it.

It is a free press that is the bulwark of a democracy. Here again we have an argument. This paper, that paper or the other paper is controlled. Depending upon how and what news is or is not printed. One editor thinks all crime news should be printed; another does not. One thinks divorces should be played up; another does not. One thinks government should be "pounded" at any and all times; therefore we have the question of a free press confronting us. We know because we are criticized for printing one story and not another. This is because we think we are right in so doing, not because we are controlled.

A local newspaper will give columns of space to boosting campaigns and the numerous appeals for this and that charity and to advancing the interests of the community which it serves in every way possible. It is always prepared to put forward that which is best.

POTPOURRI

According to a letter received from the New Jersey Lumbermen's Association, the removal of all controls on building, effective October 15, "will give the green light to private capital to start the greatest boom this nation has ever experienced." It will undoubtedly prove to be the most outstanding contribution to reconversion as practically all trades are affected by an increase in home building. The letter further states, "give freedom to freedom-loving people, and the progress of the last 170 years will be repeated. Restrain them by an inexperienced few, and chaos will reign supreme."

Chicago came in half a length ahead, in the National League. Detroit got under the wire by a nose. The fight down the stretch by both teams and the runners-up was just about as close as either league has seen. As a matter of fact, while the consensus of opinion has been that not as good baseball has been played as that previous to the war the top bracket teams have been fairly evenly matched and the fight for the other positions which meant extra cash for the winners has also been close. Now we shall await the battles-royal for top money in the world series. The teams seem evenly matched and, though Detroit rules the favorite, the series should prove interesting. Baseball fans will have their ears to the radio for the results and will cheer, though the cheers will not be heard, their favorites.

How Long Can We Go On?

How long can the nation go on giving unbridled license to labor organizations without imposing the same degree of responsibility demanded of employers, is a question.

Millions had seen a good example of abuse of union power in the striking steel and closing of the local Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company market to the detriment of consumers and the public.

There is no labor dispute on the horizon, but a group thought to be in danger of organizing were told that "the strike" was a thing of the past. The strike was a thing of the past, but the strike was a thing of the past.

It has been approached by the post-union union and that they are willing to negotiate with employers if they are desirous of organizing. What the whole thing amounts to is the old standstill and growing labor leaders are starting again. A and P is a drive to force it to organize its employees who will then contribute both initiation fees and dues willingly or not. This sort of union bashing would not be recommended as between competing employers. Their trade and fair practice laws follow management, and, but, also, short of union regulations, with a result that there is no reason for A and P's heavy losses. It is a situation that can not go on if private initiative is to last. Millions and Millions More.

DEATHS

Mrs. Anna B. Edwards

Mrs. Anna Booker Edwards, widow of the late Edward Clayton Edwards, died at her home, 66 Orchard street, on September 28 at 8:30 p. m., after a short illness.

Mrs. Edwards was born in Cumberland county, Va. She came to Summit when a girl and had lived here over 43 years. She was married in Calvary Episcopal Church by the Rev. Walker Gwynne.

She was a member of Wallace Chapel A. M. E. Zion Church, where funeral services were held Tuesday by Rev. Florence Randolph, the pastor. Interment was at Fairview Cemetery, Westfield.

Surviving are five daughters, Beatrice, May, Hilda and Charlotte, all of Summit, and Mrs. Gloria Young, of Orange; two sons, Edward, of Newark, and Robert, of Summit; two sisters, Mrs. Lane, Morristown and Mrs. Carter, Cumberland, Va.; two brothers, Charles and George Booker, both of Morristown; and six grandchildren.

Mrs. Kate Bundy Burke

Mrs. Kate Bundy Burke, wife of Daniel Burke, New York lawyer, who is president of the American Bible Society, died in her home Sunday of a heart attack at the age of 68.

Born at Oxford, N. Y., a daughter of Nathan A. Bundy, she attended Oxford Academy and later Miss Boyer's School in Philadelphia. She was married to Mr. Burke in 1901.

She had a lifelong interest in music and after piano study in Philadelphia she continued her studies in Paris and Berlin. In the course of her residence of thirty-seven years in Summit she had served as chairman of the music committee of the Summit Fortnightly Club and of the Summit division of the Opera Guild, and was a member of the Tuesday Music Club. At her death she was a director of the Music School Settlement of New York. She had also been active in the Sunday school and women's work of the Methodist Church here, and had served a term as Trustee of the Summit Public Library.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Burke leaves a daughter, Mrs. Henry W. Harding of Summit; two sons, James R. of Summit and Coleman Burke of Short Hills; her mother, Mrs. Nathan A. Bundy of Summit, and two sisters, Mrs. J. A. Culbert of New York and Mrs. J. H. Millhouse of Binghamton, N. Y., and eight grandchildren.

Services were held at the Methodist Church, Tuesday, with Dr. O. C. Nelson and Dr. Henry L. Lambdin officiating. Interment was at Oxford, N. Y.

Veterans' Queries

Q. From northern New Jersey comes this question, "I am a Lt. (j.g.) who served in the Navy and was retired for medical reasons. I was in an automobile accident in Egypt while on duty, but was not under fire. I have been granted a pension of $1800 a year. Now I am told that if I take a Government job of any kind, I can not earn more than $3,000 a year, including the $1500 pension. Does that rule apply also if I work in private industry?"

A. No. Only for Federal Service.

Q. A woman formerly with the Marines plans to open a shop in a New Jersey town. She asks, "How long will I have to repay a business loan?"

A. As long as 6 years, depending on how much you borrow and for what purpose. If you make your loan in New Jersey under this State's provisions. Under the Federal government's G. I. Bill, you will have 5 years to repay a real estate loan.

Q. An Army man soon to be discharged asks, "Is there a place that makes and keeps a record of honorable discharge papers?"

A. Yes. The County Recorder or Clerk will be able to make a record of discharge papers. It is very important also that photostatic copies be made of the discharge and that the original papers be kept in a safe place.

Q. An Army veteran writes, "Two years ago my claim for disability benefit was denied. Can I apply to have it reconsidered?"

A. A veteran may reopen his claim at any time. There is no limit on the number of times he may request a reconsideration of a previous denial. However, his claim will not be reconsidered unless he submits new and material evidence, that is, evidence which has not been previously submitted.

Q. The wife of a disabled veteran asks, "What other expenses, besides maintenance, will be paid during vocational rehabilitation?"

A. The cost of instruction including tuition, fees, books, supplies, hand tools and student's equipment. If the student completes his training these items are given to him. Complete medical care will be furnished. Also transportation for advancement, to enter training, and to place of employment. Loans up to $100 are obtainable if needed after beginning training.

Answers to veterans' problems are supplied by the Division of Veterans' Services, Department of Economic Development, Trenton, N. J. Readers should send their questions to that address.

LETTERS

A Correction

Oct. 2, 1945.

To The Summit Herald:

In the August 30 issue of The Summit Herald there was an article relative to my resignation from the Summit Public Schools. There were a few errors and omissions in this account.

I have not accepted a position as a teacher in a private school, but will operate an advisory service bureau for those interested in selecting private schools, colleges and camps. I will also give more attention to the interests of Beaconswain Camp for Girls which Mrs. Dundon and I own and direct.

We will continue to live at our home, 138 Canoe Brook Parkway, from October until May.

LYNN C. DUNDON.

Summit Service Men in the Pacific Area

According to delayed news reaching the Herald from the Pacific area there were several Summit service men there who took active part in operations against the Japanese, in addition to those already noted in the paper.

Four more who can now be mentioned are Lt. (j.g.) Howard J. Gillespie of the Boulevard who was a member of a Naval group of guerrillas, intelligence agents and weather observers behind the Japanese lines in Asia; Adolph J. Niedbalaki, fireman, second class USNR, of Broad street serving on the USS Bon Homme Richard, aircraft carrier, as part of the occupation fleet; Lt. (j.g.) Herbert F. Uita, Hill Crest avenue, on the USS Tigress, who witnessed the formal surrender from that boat; Clark Sullivan, radio technician, second class, USNR, Hickory road, on the USS Haka, representing the submarine service.

JOBS

With a Post-War Future!

For every resident of this community there is a job with a postwar future – the future of Summit.

The United Campaign needs your contribution of money – but it also needs your time. Not much time, to be sure, but just enough to assure the success of the drive. Come Sunday, October 21 we want workers scouring every corner of our community in an all-out push such as this country has never seen.

If we can get 4,000 volunteers each one will have to make only one call – on himself. But even if we get only half that number we'll still have an easy job.

Why not give us your help? This is all you have to do:

1. Contact Mrs. W. S. Kimber, 189 Kent Place Boulevard if you live on the North Side or Mrs. George R. Decker, 93 Pine Grove Avenue if you live on the South Side.
2. Attend the big Workers' Rally at the High School on Friday, October 19th.
3. Call on a few of your neighbors on Sunday, October 21st.
4. Take your reports to the High School at 8 P. M. Sunday, October 21st.

That is all there is to it.

Help your community (and therefore yourself) by signing up to help.

IT WAS

Love AT FIRST SIGHT

Yes, we're confessing that the moment we met, we fell hard for Newark.

Maybe there are cities we could be just as happy with, but we're sentimental enough not to think so. Right from the start we felt that we'd rather be the favorite store of this community than any other we've ever seen.

Little things make us love Newark, things like the sun gilding her church spires in the early morning — her warm, friendly way of greeting strangers — her generous people, large-hearted as the city itself.

That's why we decided long ago to woo and win Newark and her family of suburbs in the only way a store could. By being the kind of big, strong, dependable institution she can always rely on. By bringing her the very finest merchandise—the friendliest treatment she so richly deserves.

And because we love Newark more with each passing year — and intend to stay wedded to her through the peaceful decades to come — even our name has become intertwined with hers.

So now Kresge • Newark celebrates a Diamond Wedding Anniversary, commemorating 75 years of a store's devotion to the community it serves.

SYMBOLISM

Symbolism has played a very important part in the proclamation of Christian faith. In the early Church, during the dark centuries of persecution, symbols of the resurrection and the life everlasting helped mightily to maintain morale. In subsequent periods, the Church's teaching and worship inspired the making of other symbols which have served to bring Christian ideals home to the minds and hearts of men. Who possibly could say what the distinctive symbol—the cross—has meant to succeeding generations of Christians?

The use of symbolism is intimately connected with the most meaningful and important aspects of the secular order. It is not to be wondered at when we find similar use profoundly integrated in Church life and order. A cross is the most important of all Christian symbols, because its significance touches us at the greatest depths of our being.

From CHRISTIAN SYMBOLISM,
By Thomas Albert Stafford.

Restoration Fund Of Presbyterians For Rehabilitation

Various non-denominational projects designed for the moral and spiritual rehabilitation of war-devastated peoples will be included in the Restoration Fund of the Presbyterian Church, U.S.A., according to Richard J. Dearborn, chairman of the Fund Committee for Central Presbyterian Church.

The Restoration Fund, which is part of United Protestantism's pledge to raise $112,000,000 for spiritual rehabilitation, will be administered through recognized, existing, non-competitive agencies, such as the American Bible Society, the International Y.M.C.A., the International Y.W.C.A., and similar groups.

Funds will be used in Europe, Asia, and the Islands of the sea for such purposes as providing pastors and workers for the congregations, providing religious literature of various sorts for the use of Christian churches, re-establishing the work of schools and seminaries, and in general restoring the spiritual health of the native churches.

Stress will be laid on the moral and spiritual phases of reconstruction, rather than on physical relief. No part of the fund will be used for any purpose for which civil government relief is responsible. No crossing of lines will be permitted.

Central Presbyterian Church has set $30,000 as its goal for the Restoration Fund, to be received this fall in gifts and pledges payable in three years.

Rosary Shrine Peace Thanksgiving Pilgrimage Sunday

The Solemn Pilgrimage held each year on Rosary Sunday at Rosary Shrine, will be kept on the coming October 7, as a public manifestation of thanksgiving to Almighty God for Peace, and as a tribute of gratitude to Our Lady of the Rosary for her intercession in behalf of the world. The great solemnity preceding the pilgrimage will be marked by rosaries of thanksgiving, gratitude being considered the best means of assuring the continuance and increase of heavenly blessings upon Our Glorious Nation.

Devotions will begin at 3:30 p. m. with the Rosary Procession, during which the statue of Holy Mary, Queen of the Rosary, will be carried on the shoulders of the faithful and will be escorted by little children dressed as Dominican Friars and Nuns together with flower girls in white and altar boys with cassocks and surplices.

The speaker for the occasion will be the Rev. John H. Hartnett, O.P., of St. Catherine's, New York City, who is a member of the Band of Missionaries for the Eastern Dominican Province of St. Joseph.

Solemn Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament will climax the Pilgrimage Devotions. The Rev. Edward L. Phillips, O.P., will be celebrant, assisted by the Very Rev. Hugh Welsh, O.P., P. G. of New York City, and the Rev. John Balm of the Oratory School, Summit, as deacon and sub-deacon.

The Holy Father has granted a plenary indulgence to all who make a pilgrimage to Rosary Shrine, the usual conditions of confession, communion and prayer for his intentions having been observed. On Rosary Sunday there is also available the privilege of "Toties Quoties" when a plenary indulgence applicable to the suffering souls may be gained for each visit to the chapel or rosary grove. The Plenary benediction will be imparted to all immediately after Benediction. Blessing of religious articles and distribution of blessed roses will follow. Several priests will be at the disposition of those pilgrims who desire a personal blessing before returning to their homes.

The Dominican Nuns of Rosary Shrine live a strictly cloistered life. Their days and nights are devoted to chanting the Divine Office and to worship of the Blessed Sacrament perpetually exposed in their Adoration Chapel. The Rosary, which is said throughout the day and night, is a continuous pleading to God for the needs of mankind.

Great Rosary Crusades were carried on in the United States during the war, for the purpose that sorrow-stricken hearts might draw courage and confidence from the Rosary Queen's promise at Fatima that "in the end her Immaculate Heart would triumph and usher in an era of peace."

"The rosary, so mighty in war, is still more powerful in times of peace. It is a way of life, under the guidance of the Heart of the Mother of the Prince of Peace, through which all can dedicate themselves ardently to the work of reconstruction."

More intense supplications to the Immaculate Heart of Our Lady of the Rosary have been offered during the fifteen weeks preceding Rosary Sunday. Thousands among the laity have joined with the Cloistered Sisters in offering one week in honor of each of the rosary mysteries. The Nuns now desire to have as many as possible to unite with them by continuing the daily rosary, especially the family rosary, so that the present peace will be "of loyal and resolute force to overcome and preclude those economic and social conditions which might easily lead to new conflicts." (Pope Pius XII)

School of Missions
Second Dinner Meeting
To Hear Dr. Reischauer

Formerly a missionary in Japan, Dr. A. K. Reischauer will share his knowledge of Japan and the East with the people of Central Church at the second in the October series of School of Missions programs, next Wednesday evening, October 10.

The School of Missions programs open with dinner at 6:45 p. m. in the parish house, followed by a brief devotional service and the address of the evening at about 7:45. Reservations must be made for dinner, but the speaking program is open to all.

Dr. Reischauer's topic will be "The Future of Missions in the East." His experience with Japanese people and their reactions is of long standing. Dr. Reischauer, with Mrs. Reischauer, first went to Japan as a missionary in 1906. They are at present on furlough in America.

Christian Science Broadcast

Every Sunday Morning at 8:45 a fifteen-minute program prepared in the office of The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass., is broadcast over Station WMCA, New York. The musical selections are by the soloist and the organist of the church, and the church organ is used. Testimonies of healing are also given. This program was previously heard on Saturday afternoons.

Youth for Christ Rally to Hear Percy Crawford

A gathering of members of the Christian Business Men's Committee, their families and friends met Sunday afternoon in the Y. M.C.A. to acquaint the group with plans for the fall series of Youth for Christ rallies in Summit.

Harry A. Marshall, chairman of the committee, presided, and H. N. Willets gave an outline of the program, beginning with the rally for Saturday night, October 13. Percy Crawford, evangelist and pastor of the "Young Peoples' Church of the Air" is to be the speaker. For years Mr. Crawford has conducted a Christian summer camp near Stroudsburg in the Poconos and literally thousands of young people along the Atlantic seaboard have made decisions for Christ as a result of his ministry.

The pastor of the Millburn Baptist Church, the Rev. Romaine F. Bateman spoke briefly on personal experiences in evangelism, placing emphasis on the responsibility of every Christian in this respect.

Following the service, refreshments were served by the ladies, under the direction of Mrs. Marshall and Mrs. Willets.

Neighborhood House
Rev. Wm. M. Hunter
Church School convenes at Neighborhood House at 9:30 a. m., Sunday.

Church Service
Sunday worship will be held at the House at 8 p. m., with Rev. Wm. M. Hunter conducting the service and preaching on the International Uniform Lesson for the following week.

Featured on the program is an informal discussion period, following Mr. Hunter's talk, when those present have full opportunity to "talk back" to the preacher. This part of the program has been growing in popularity, the minister claims.

Club Registration
Registration for club membership will be held Wednesday and Thursday, Oct. 10 and 11, from 3:30 until 5 p. m.

Law and Order Club
The Law and Order Club begins Saturday, Oct. 13, at 1:30 p. m. A full, interesting and entertaining schedule is planned for this coming year of activity, 34 complete programs in all, Mr. Hunter states.

Saturday Night Club
The Saturday Night Club meets Oct. 13, at 7:30 p. m. It is open to boys and girls 12 years old and above. At least 15 must attend to continue.

Parents are urged to avail themselves of the well-baby and pre-school-child clinic held each Wednesday afternoon at the Neighborhood House. Response to this service conducted by the Board of Health has been disconcerting. Doctors and nurses are on hand to advise parents in the important matter of child health. Cod liver oil or special milk formulae are dispensed when their need is indicated. Period health checks are possible at the clinic, including weighing on accurate scales.

No charge is made for this public service. The clinic meets at the House, but is sponsored, maintained and run by the Health Board.

China—A Coming World Power Needs Understanding

"There is need for understanding in this country of the nations of the world with whom we must deal if we are to have peace, and China is one of them," said Mrs. Allison H. Hearn to the Women's Society for Christian Service of the Methodist Church on Tuesday, September 11.

She said that the Methodist Church has interested itself in China for more than a half century, and that people have a common conception of its 450 million population, 60 per cent farmers, most of them illiterate, poverty-stricken, and undernourished.

Eight years of war have caused wide malnutrition, dislocations of schools and factories; China has only one-fifth of the hospital facilities necessary; she has 12,000 doctors and 38,000 beds, when she needs 200,000 doctors, and two million beds. A movement against tuberculosis, leprosy, and trachoma is now under way, and health centers are being established by the government. Education is needed to make the program successful.

This past summer an intensive course on China and the Far East was given at Montclair Teachers College, for the purpose of making teachers better informed when telling school children about those countries. If all understand a country and its problems, it makes a better basis for lasting peace, Mrs. Hearn stated.

On November 12 Dr. Sun Yat-Sen's birthday, the Chinese people will vote for the first time on a constitution for the Republic of China. For a long time, Sun Fo, president of the Legislative Yuan, and a son of Dr. Sun Yat-Sen, has advocated the idea of a one-party government and include other representatives. Because of the war this was put off. Now there is hope for unity in the coming election. General Stilwell and Ambassador Gauss tried vainly to cooperate with both factions. At present Ambassador Hurley is suggesting that we support only the Chungking government.

Inflation is rampant in China. Internal reforms are needed for the expansion of the China market. The future of the United States is inescapably bound up in that of the Far East. China needs American leadership and capital. In the industrial field, which is comparatively new to the Chinese, they have shown real aptitude. With technical leadership, they could industrialize herself. During the war she moved more than 600 factories into the interior. Many poor farmers have become skilled factory workers. Others can be taught to develop the country's natural resources.

Many of our men in service will return to China as engineers, business men and industrialists because the field is fertile.

There is real need for agrarian reform. Although 80 per cent of the population are farmers only one-half of them owned their land in 1933. Taxes were heavy. Graves took up an estimated 25 million acres.

As the earning power of the Chinese is increased, his standard of living will rise and a larger market be created for consumer goods. The United States can provide these goods and services, and, in doing so, relieve the employment problem here.

In 1898 John Hay propounded the "Open Door" policy to prevent further exploitation by European powers. A strong unified China was sought which would show no favoritism in foreign trade.

Our missionaries in China have long lived the "Good Neighbor" policy before our statesmen and business went into it.

Christian Science Church
"Unreality" is the Lesson-Service subject for Sunday, October 7. Golden Text: "Thou art my portion O Lord: . . . Through thy precepts I get understanding; therefore I hate every false way." (Ps. 119:37,101).

Sermon: Passages from the King James version of the Bible include:

"A good name is" rather to be chosen than great riches, and loving favour rather than silver and gold. By humility and the fear of the Lord are riches, and honour, and life." Prov. 22: 14) Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include:

"Paul and John had a clear apprehension that, as mortal man achieves no worldly honors except by sacrifice, so he must gain heavenly riches by forsaking all worldliness." (P. 459).

Calvary Service Chapter Resumes Weekly Meetings
Calvary Service Chapter, a group of 70 women, will resume their weekly meetings tomorrow, Friday, Oct. 5, at 1:15 p. m. A "one-course" luncheon will be served in the parish house at that time, which will be followed by the usual activity of making surgical dressings.

Those members wishing to stay for an hour's recreation period may do so.

Mrs. Ruth Nevins, the president for the new year, will welcome the members.

The Calvary Service Chapter has been in existence for 16 years, having been organized then for the purpose of making dressings for Overlook Hospital.

Calvary Church Resumes Nursery During Service
Calvary Church will resume its nursery for small children beginning this Sunday, October 7. Parents may leave their small children in the kindergarten room in the parish house during the 11 o'clock service each week. The youngsters will have an hour of games and stories while their parents are in church. Mrs. Karl M. Joehneck will head a committee of mothers who will sponsor the project.

Commended

CAPT. JOHN W. LINES

son of Mrs. Anna W. Lines of Sunset drive, a member of Battery A 98th Gun Battalion, APO 901, has been commended, along with his command, by the Colonel Commanding the 137th Antiaircraft Artillery Group, as follows:

"I wish to commend you and the members of your command for the excellent discipline displayed the night of August 10, 1945, when rumors of peace caused other units to become lax, forget fire discipline, lose sight of their responsibilities, and give expression to their emotions by promiscuous firing of small arms and anti-aircraft weapons.

"The exemplary conduct of the officers and men of your command, Captain Lines, was indicative of excellent leadership and a high degree of personal discipline. It reflects credit on the military service and every individual in your unit.

"I am proud to have this unit as a member of my command.

Sec. Lt. Eugene K. Ralph
Relieved from Active Duty
Atlantic City, N. J.—Second Lt. Eugene K. Ralph of Hawthorne place has been relieved from active duty at the AAF Redistribution Station No. 1 here, after serving 30 months in the armed forces.

Twenty-one of these months were spent overseas in the European theater, where he served as a co-pilot on a B-17 for 19 combat missions. He wears the Air Medal with two oak leaf clusters.

Entering the service July 29, 1942, at Newark, the lieutenant received his commission as a second lieutenant on June 22, 1943, after undergoing training at Luke Field, Phoenix, Ariz. He shipped overseas on September 24, 1943.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. K. J. Ralph who reside at the above address.

Future plans of Lt. Ralph include resuming studies at college. Lt. Ralph was held as a prisoner of war for 15 months. On his 19th mission, his plane was forced to crash land in Albania. All crew members were captured by the Germans and confined at POW camps until liberated. Lt. Ralph was confined at Stalag Luft No. 1, Barth, Germany, when liberated by the Russians, on May 1, 1945.

Writes From Jap Waters
To The Summit Herald:
This is your friend, Bob Zotti, again. I'm still receiving the good old Summit Herald. It gets out here a little late, but it is faithful and it's always news of Summit and its people, so thanks again.

Now that the war is over, I'm just waiting for the day that I can feast my eyes on good old Summit and of course my loved ones too.

I have a little story here that some of my friends might like to read. On July 22, Summit was represented on a sneak attack, only the Japs were on the bitter end this time. The mighty Brush DD745 led an attack on Jap ships in Tokyo Bay with eight other "cats." We attacked without loss of any men or ships. I'm enclosing a blow by blow description written by Richard M. Johnson writing for the United Press. I hope you like it as it appeared in a New York newspaper.

I'll close and hoping to see your paper until I'm able to come in and see you and thank you face to face. I remain,

BOB ZOTTI, SI/C.

Catfooting Cans Sink Three Ships in Tokyo Bay

With Admiral Halsey's 3rd Fleet off Japan, July 26, (delayed) U. P.—On the dark and windy night of July 22 nine destroyers of the 3rd Fleet catfooted into Tokyo Bay and blew . . . out of a convoy in an operation comparable to a Jap sea raid on Alcatraz Island or a Nazi sweep around the Statue of Liberty.

The raid was the first surface attack in history made inside Tokyo Bay.

Capt. T. H. Hederman of Washington, D. C., commanded the sensational operation, which was carried out without loss of a single ship or a single man.

The following was disclosed today by Lieutenant Thaddeus R. Beal, 28, Lakeville, Conn., an officer on Hederman's staff: "We moved in off Oshima Island," Beal related "and saw the twinkling lights along the little island chain at the entrance to the bay. We thought . . . would pop then, but it didn't."

The Japs would have been less surprised by an earthquake, Beal told correspondents.

Oshima Island lies directly athwart the entrance of Tokyo Bay. It is Japan's Corregidor.

The nine "tin cans," running in a column at high speed, swept into the mouth of the bay about midnight.

"Suddenly we picked up targets in the vicinity of Narkina Saki Peninsula," Beal said. "At that range we knew they were bigger than picket boats or destroyers. It was a big convoy trying to sneak out by night along the coastline. We closed to 10,000 yards and opened fire with our torpedoes."

It was so quiet, Beal said, he could hear down the line as the tin fish hit the water followed by exclamations of "two torpedoes away," and other signals from other destroyers.

In less than four minutes 18 tin fish were streaking through the water. At the same time the tin cans opened up with their five-inch guns.

"We saw one half of one ship explode and then another caught fire," Beal said. "They tried to turn and run, but we reversed course and blazed away. They tried to fire back, but the enemy apparently was using anti-aircraft guns. Some of our men think the Japanese believed they were under an air attack—U.S. planes had been overhead as we started the attack."

"The one-sided battle lasted less than half an hour. The convoy, which consisted of three merchant ships and one escort was left sinking. Only the escort ship was known to have escaped. We can officially claim two ships sunk, one possibly sunk, and one escort vessel damaged."—Richard M. Johnson.

MEAT TO EAT!

Beef is the meat to eat today and beef means savory pot roasts. A properly braised pot roast of beef is truly a mouth-watering dish. Serve it with fluffy mashed potatoes or tender noodles and your favorite vegetables or salad. Everything tastes good with pot roast.

Spicy Pot Roast

4 lbs. beef, rump or chuck
1 pint vinegar
2 bay leaves
1 tsp. sugar
2 cups diced carrots
1 qt. water
12 cloves
1 tsp. salt
Flour
Lard
2 cups sliced onions

Combine vinegar, water, cloves, bay leaves, seasonings and beef and let stand overnight. Pour off liquid and save. Dredge meat with flour. Brown in hot lard in a heavy kettle. Add 2 cups of the spiced vinegar, carrots and onions. Cover and cook slowly for about 3 1/2 hours, or until tender. Serves 8.

Danish Pot Roast

3 or 4 lbs. boneless chuck or sirloin tip
Flour for dredging
Lard for browning
2 tbsps. brown sugar
1/2 cup vinegar
1/2 cup hot water
Salt
Pepper

Dredge meat with flour and brown on all sides in hot lard. Season with salt and pepper, sprinkle with brown sugar, and add vinegar and hot water. Cover closely and let cook slowly 4 hours or until tender. Remove pot roast to a hot platter, and thicken liquid for gravy. Serves 8.

Roast Lamb Shoulder

3 lbs. square cut lamb shoulder
Salt and pepper
1/2 cup boiling water
Season lamb shoulder with salt and pepper. Place on rack in uncovered roasting pan. Roast in slow oven (300° F.) 2 hours. Combine water, mint, and sugar; boil 5 minutes. During last 1/2 hour, place apple halves around roast. Baste with mint syrup. Make gravy with drippings in pan. Arrange lamb on serving platter; garnish with apple halves and mint sprigs. Serves 4.

AMERICA UNLIMITED

By Eric Johnston

The Americas—Partners in Enterprise

(Editor's Note: This article is one of a series comprising Eric Johnston's new book, "America Unlimited." Mr. Johnston is president of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce.)

The primary mistake outsiders make in judging Latin America is to regard it as a homogeneous mass. Each of the twenty Latin republics has its distinct character and its own place within an extremely wide range of economic and cultural development. Most of them have a lively pride in their unique histories.

That pride is likely to be hurt by the casual manner in which North Americans lump them all in sweeping generalizations.

South America, I found, is on the threshold of a great industrial expansion. The continent is having a veritable boom, supplying the United Nations with foodstuffs and war materials of all kinds.

New war industries—such as rubber development in Brazil—are springing up in many countries. The political and business leaders of the continent are convinced that it is not a temporary spurge but the prelude to a rapid and fruitful industrial growth.

"We are delighted to have you here, Mr. Johnston," said Brazil's Foreign Minister Oswaldo Aranha, "but one more good-will mission to Brazil, and Brazil will declare war on the United States."

I received the remark as it was intended—as a joke. Nevertheless, I hastened to explain the purpose of my visit. I hadn't flown down on a lecture tour or a handshaking expedition. Much as the vast and varied lands to the south intrigued my imagination, I was not even concerned with sight-seeing.

Officially, I traveled to South America early in 1943 as the chairman of the United States Commission on Inter-American Development, to confer with similar commissions in the six countries. I visited Brazil, Uruguay, Argentina, Chile, Peru and Colombia. On the return visit I also visited Panama.

South American leaders are conscious of their hour of destiny. A great treasure house of natural resources—iron ore, rubber, timber, oil, many minerals—awaits the magic touch of 20th century technology. Millions of backward, humble people are reaching out timidly for the products and the comforts of modern life. Again and again—in Brazil, in Peru, in Colombia—I had the sense that I was looking at a segment of our own great northwest in its early days. There was the same juxtaposition of modern machines and crude living conditions.

I carried away the conviction that opportunities will abound for United States businessmen after the war. The other American republics will then be ready to start or expand the production of textiles, shoes, paper, cement, automobile tires, glass, insecticides, construction materials, and scores of other items. South Americans admire American businessmen.

The average South American businessman admires our know-how in business. President Lopez of Colombia told me: "The best businessman in the world is the Yankee. The enterprise approved by the Yankee businessman is the one in which I like to invest my money." But the admiration is not unmixed with misgivings. Suspicions of "dollar diplomacy" and "Yanqui imperialism" have not yet been entirely erased by the Good Neighbor policy.

National pride is no small part of the attitude of reserve. American businessmen are needed and wanted, but as partners, not "exploiters." South Americans are resentful of foreigners who invade their countries on a get-rich-quick basis. They want prospective investors and builders to become permanent residents, to sink roots in the life and culture of the country. To overcome the reserve and disquieting suspicions, we must translate official policies into personal contacts. The fine phrases of good-neighbor friendship must be resolved into specific private relations.

South Americans will no longer consent to be excluded from large participation in enterprises of any sort established by Americans within their countries. Their financial position is perhaps better today than ever in the past. Brazil, Argentina, and other countries are building up large, favorable balances against the United States, Great Britain, and other countries.

Some of these balances are being used to buy their bonds from foreign holders, in some instances at bargain prices. Equity shares of foreign-owned utilities and other businesses are being purchased by local investors, often to the discomfort and alarm of British and American owners. Offers are being made for complete purchase of foreign-owned telephone and electric light systems. Available money is being used to buy whatever industrial machinery and equipment can be bought and shipped from the United States. Local funds are being earmarked for plant equipment from the United States and Britain once the barriers of war conditions have been removed.

All of these things attest the obvious decision of South America to be master of its own economic household. The economic pattern of the past, in which Latin America was used by outsiders in a semi-colonial spirit, is being shattered. The importing of foreign capital will be encouraged; it may even have a controlling voice in new undertakings; but nationals will insist on direct participation.

Europeans are still far ahead of us in understanding the techniques of local adaptation. Their representatives, before they step on foreign soil, are more likely to know the language, history, and culture of the new country. It is a fact, all the same, that the great majority of American representatives in South America are able, conscientious, hard-working, and have a remarkably intelligent grasp of local problems.

The people of Argentina and its great newspaper, La Nacion and La Prensa, unquestionably want the Allies to win the war, despite the favor shown to the Germans by the government, at least until diplomatic relations with the Axis were broken off early in 1944. The Argentinians have a particularly warm feeling for the British. There is a large British colony, and many of the British families have been in the country for generations.

Latinized English names are quite common. The British were more understanding, or at least less critical, of Argentine neutrality than we were. The net result is that many Argentine nationals were inclined to blame the United States more than Britain for the unfriendly feelings in United Nations circles.

But Argentina was the exception to the rule. Everywhere else Americans seemed to have a clear edge in the affections of South Americans, as compared to other foreigners.

South America Ripe For Postwar Development

South America is now ripe for development. Within the limitations I have suggested above, this is another of the great horizons opening up for Americans in the postwar years. I visited a glass factory in Argentina which produces ordinary glassware, such as Sugar cane is only one of the many fields open for development.

We sell in the five-and-ten-cent stores. The factory is jointly owned by Argentinians and Americans. Thirty-eight hundred people are employed at wages roughly twice as high as they had ever before received for manual labor. For the first time these workers are able to purchase luxuries as well as necessities. They can now think of buying radios, cosmetics, and other products normally imported from the United States.

Chilean businessmen told me they plan to seek the assistance of our industry after the war in the domestic production of paper for the newspapers and magazines published in their country. Heretofore, they imported all their pulp. The trees which grow in southern Chile are said to be ideal for paper-making.

An American firm in Peru manufactures paper from the waste fiber of sugar cane and supplies Peruvian newspapers with newsprint. The accomplishment is unusual.

Businessmen can now only plan for the cooperative development of the Americas. Action must await the ending of the war, and businessmen of the Americas are planning intelligently already in many places. The over-all objective is to raise, through industrialization and trade, the mass purchasing power of the people of all the Americas. To this end, alert business concerns both in the United States and Latin America are surveying our postwar raw materials requirements at this end and Latin-American needs in materials and manufactured goods at the other end.

Salads That Women Will Like and Men "Go For"

It seems that women are just naturally salad eaters - and so are men when they are served salads that they like. Most of them will eat the dainty little frozen salads that women find so appetizing—but they'd much rather have a salad that they can "sink their teeth in." Hearty vegetable or meat salads—like the following—and though they are on the "hearty" side, women will like them too:

Lima Bean, Olive and Egg Salad
2 1/2 cups cooked lima beans
2 chopped hard-boiled eggs
1 cup chopped ripe olives
Mayonnaise

Combine all ingredients with enough mayonnaise to hold together. Chill well before serving.

Ham Roll Salad

6 medium slices boiled ham
1/4 cup peanut butter
1/4 cup cream cheese
1 minced pimiento
1 minced green pepper
1 tablespoon chili sauce
Mix together all the ingredients except the ham. If too stiff, add a little milk. Form into rolls about three inches long. Wrap in slices of cold boiled ham and chill. Serve on bed of crisp lettuce.

S/Sgt. JAMES H. RYAN

Honorably Released From the U. S. Army

Lieut. William H. Mouquin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis H. Mouquin of Oak Ridge avenue, has been honorably released from the active duty by the Navy.

The Lieut. has served four and a half years, his last station being on the U.S.S. William Ditter in the Mediterranean and Pacific Areas. He was wounded at Okinawa, and returned to this country on September 1.

Lieut. Mouquin wears the Purple Heart, has been cited for the Bronze Star, and for operations in the Pacific, American Defense, American Theater and the European Theater.

He will be employed by the Worthington Pump and Machinery Corp., at Wellesville, N. Y.

Westover Field, Mass., September 20—Pfc. Frederick G. Williams of Shadyside avenue was discharged from the army here today under the point system.

Pfc. William Melroy Gets Army Discharge

Pfc. William C. Melroy of the Medical Detachment, 85th Infantry, was granted an honorable discharge Monday, Sept. 17, at Fort Dix with 90 points to his credit.

Pfc. Melroy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Karl D. Melroy of Laurel avenue.

Navigator Bombardier

LIEUT. OSBORN D. NICHOLS son of Mrs. B. B. Nichols of Norwood avenue, has been serving in the 20th Air Force on a B-29 as a navigator bombardier after training at Princeton University. He completed 35 missions over Japan and has received the Distinguished Flying Cross. The Air Medal with three oak leaf clusters was awarded for his service in sowing mines around the home islands of Japan and Korea as far as the Russian border.

Volunteer Enlistees Accepted By U. S. Marine Corps—Age 17 to 25

Men 17 to 25 may now voluntarily enlist in the U. S. Marine Corps although they have had no previous military experience.

This announcement was made today by Marine Major Wade H. Hitt, commanding officer of the newly created Newark District Marine Corps recruiting office, located in the Federal Building.

The new office will accept as Marines honorably discharged men who are under 32, and who have not been separated from the service more than a year. Ex-Marines enlisting within 90 days after discharge will receive the remainder of the three months period as a reenlistment furlough.

No enlistments will be accepted in the Marine Corps Reserve. Marine veterans, regular, reserve or inductees, enlisting within 90 days following discharge will be appointed to their temporary rank held on the discharge date.

"The island bases in the Pacific must be left in able hands," Major Hitt said. "The Marine Corps wants only the finest men to take over these bases from the war-weary veterans who now await their return home."

The new Marine probably will man Japanese bases and outposts yet unvisited by allied troops. Seagoing Marines now find almost every port in the world open to them.

Major Hitt, Legion of Merit and Silver Star winner, is a veteran of three years of Pacific fighting. He was wounded on Guadalcanal. The new recruiting office also saw action on Tarawa, Saipan, Tinian, and holds the Presidential Unit Citation with two stars.

On Ship That Fired Last Salvo Against Japanese

Bart Gallo, S 1/c, USNR, of Lewis avenue, on board the heavy cruiser, the U.S.S. St. Paul, was on that battle wagon, when it fired the last naval salvo on the homeland of Japan, when on August 26 the cease fire signal came, and the above ship with other of Uncle Sam's fighting units steamed into Sagami Bay. The St. Paul is now a part of the occupation force in Japan.

S 1/c Gallo entered the Navy, May 5, 1943 and after his "boot" training boarded the U.S.S. Potlax in July, 1943, on which he served through the New Guinea Campaign, Australia, New Hebrides, Admiralty and Schouten Islands' campaigns.

Being transferred to help put the St. Paul in commission, on February 17, this year, the Lewis avenue man left Boston on her last May to join Admiral Halsey's Third Fleet, Task Force 58. On September 1 the St. Paul steamed into Tokyo Bay for the surrender on the following day.

Training at Norfolk, Va., For Destroyer Work

NORFOLK, Va.—Ensign Thomas Westlake Underhill, 21, USNR, reported on Sept. 12, to the Naval Training Station, Norfolk, Va., Atlantic Fleet training center for destroyer crews, to undergo instruction for duties aboard a destroyer or similar type vessel.

Ensign Underhill attended Summit High School, Princeton and Cornell Universities, and Bowdoin College. Son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank T. Underhill, Sr., formerly of Crest Acres, he has two brothers in the Navy. Frank T., Jr., 24, is a lieutenant (jg), and David A., 18, is an apprentice seaman.

Given Silver Star Medal For Heroic Achievement

Fort Leonard Wood, Mo. — Sergeant Edward C. Cooney, son of Mrs. G. Cooney, of Springfield avenue, has been awarded the Silver Star Medal for heroic achievement in Germany with the 28th Infantry Regiment of the Eighth Infantry Division.

Sergeant Cooney now is stationed at Fort Leonard Wood Mo., with the Golden Arrow Division.

The citation accompanying Sergeant Cooney's award stated in part:

"When the boat in which Sergeant Cooney was an occupant capsized before reaching the far bank of the Roer River, he swam ashore only to find that enemy artillery fire had cut the newly laid line. Securing another boat, he recrossed and repaired the wire in the face of intense small arms mortar and artillery fire. Sergeant Cooney's great courage and outstanding devotion to duty are in the highest traditions of the military service."

Fighting for 10 consecutive months in the line on the Western Front with only 10 scattered days out of contact with the enemy, the Eighth Division captured 516 prisoners, the equivalent of 30 German divisions.

Pacific island bases must be left in able hands. The Marines won them; the Marines will hold them. Enlist in the U. S. Marine Corps today.

T/5 Vincent G. Murphy Separated From Service

Service League Provisionals Learn About Y.W.C.A. Depts.

The Provisional members of the Junior Service League met yesterday afternoon at the YWCA, with their co-chairman, Mrs. Ogden D. Gensemer. They were greeted by Miss Cecelia Jeffrey, general secretary, and other members of the staff, who took them on a tour of the building and explained the functions of the various departments.

This is the first of a series of such meetings at which the provisionals will learn about the various service organizations in Summit. They will have similar meetings to get acquainted with the Girl Scouts, Co-operative Service Association, Overlook Hospital, and the Summit Home for Children.

Refreshments were served by Miss Jeffrey and the staff.

Fashion Show

Junore House in Beechwood road will present an informal fashion show each Wednesday afternoon from 3:45 to 5 p. m. The models will be from nearby schools as well as from the Powers or Conover modeling agencies.

Refreshments will be served. Come and meet your friends.

If frozen desserts are kept a second day in a refrigerator tray, cover the tray with waxed paper to prevent accumulation of frost particles.

Anne Hutchinson To Wed Corporal Malcolm Terhune

Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Hutchinson of West Hanover avenue, Morristown, announced the engagement of their daughter, Anne Mildred, to Corporal E. Malcolm Terhune, Jr., A.A.F. son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Malcolm Terhune of Roselle and Taber, at a party in their home Friday.

Miss Hutchinson is a Cadet Nurse in training at Overlook Hospital, from which she will be graduated in February, 1947. She is a graduate of the Morristown High School and attended Newark University.

Corporal Terhune was stationed with the Alaskan Wing of the Air Transport Command AAF at Nome, Alaska, for 15 months. He is at present based at Romulus Army Air Field, Mich. A graduate of the Abraham Clark High School, Roselle, he attended the General Motors School in Detroit while in service.

Country Dance Festival at "Y" Tomorrow Night

George Hill, the Singing Caller, and his professional orchestra, will provide music for the square and round dancing in the Summit Y.M.C.A. gym this Friday evening.

A country dance setting is planned for the occasion, with Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Callahan and their committee in charge.

This is the climax of the Y.M.C.A.'s special week of typical programs for adults, which opens the 1945-46 season. If a demand for adult square dancing on a larger scale in Summit is indicated by this Friday's event, the dances will probably be held hereafter on Saturdays.

Box Luncheon at Y.M.C.A. To Honor Mrs. Devenney

The executive board of the Y. M. C. A. Woman's Auxiliary, will hold a box luncheon at the "Y" Tuesday, October 9, at 1 p. m. in honor of Mrs. Allan R. Devenney.

Mrs. Don G. Mitchell, president of the auxiliary will call on the committee for their reports, and Allan R. Devenney will give a brief outline of his suggestions for auxiliary activities during the coming season.

Red Cross Courses

The Summit Chapter of the American Red Cross is offering two new courses for women of this vicinity whereby they can have an opportunity to work with the hospitalized veterans.

One of these courses is for Gray Lady work at Lyons Hospital for both day and evening workers. The other course is for women with definite skills in painting, weaving, bookbinding, metal work, jewelry and ceramics.

Courses begin the latter part of October so applications should be at Red Cross Headquarters by October 8. Any women desiring complete information concerning both of these courses may obtain it at Red Cross Headquarters, 333 Springfield avenue, Summit 6-2076.

Lincoln PTA Sponsors Series Of Classroom Teas

The Lincoln School P.T.A. will open its program for the year with a series of classroom teas beginning Monday afternoon, October 1, and concluding Tuesday afternoon, October 23. Parents of every grade will be entertained. The teas are designed to introduce mothers and teachers and give them an opportunity to discuss mutual problems. Two mothers will act as hostesses at each tea and a special greeting will be given parents new to the school. Three hundred and twenty-three pupils are enrolled this year.

Also reopening this week under the sponsorship of the P.T.A. is the Margaret Howard Memorial Library—one of the most popular and constructive of school projects. The library is open every Monday from 8:30 to 3 and a library period provided at this time for every grade from first through sixth. The library is staffed by a committee of mothers under the chairmanship of Mrs. Wesley Tyson. She is assisted by Mrs. W. C. Wilkinson, Mrs. A. F. Lyman, Mrs. William Truslow, Mrs. J. W. Wrightstone, Mrs. Robert Parsons, Mrs. A. E. Michon, Mrs. V. G. Carlier, and Mrs. J. M. Mackie. Last year the turnover of books among the children was 9,027. This year, because of overcrowded conditions in the school the library has moved into smaller quarters in the basement, but fresh paint and bright curtains have made it an attractive spot and the quality and number of books remain at the same high standard.

Reception Tea For New Students In Training School

On Saturday, September 22, at the Nurses' Residence, an informal reception tea was given by the faculty and students of the Overlook Training School for Nurses, for the new students entering the school and their parents or guardians. Miss Cora Kay, principal of the school, welcomed the arrivals and introduced them to their "Big Sisters," a group of first and second year students who, according to tradition, write the newcomers before their arrival to lend assistance and to answer all kinds of personal questions. The "Big Sisters" help the new girls to unpack and get settled and to feel at home in their new surroundings.

The new members are: Patricia Atanasio, from Union; Muriel Bond, from Millburn; Margaret Bauerle, Stirling; Marie D'Andrea, Millburn; Betty Danielson, Dover; Ruth Dunning, Dover; Marilyn Flood, Chatham; Helen Haas, Rockaway; Betty Howarth, Westfield; Frances Koonz, Springfield; Olive Laurie, Morris Plains; Frances Langman, Wharton; Phyllis McEnaney, Westfield; Elsie Machtle, Denville; Clara Rothermel, Dunellen; Lillian Reiman, Elizabeth; Audrey Spencer, Union; Alice Sweetman, Morristown; Doria Weber, Springfield.

Summit Girl Scout Fall Council Meeting Monday

All adults connected with the Summit Girl Scouts are invited to attend the Fall Council Meeting, Monday, October 8 from 1:30 to 3 p. m. at the Parish House of Calvary Episcopal Church. The topic for discussion will be the Summit Girl Scout Camp program. Miss Ruth Ward, the executive secretary, will give a complete review of last summer's Day and Cabin Camping activities. Mrs. Lloyd Hughes, chairman of the Camp Committee will give the Aims and History of Summit Girl Scout Camping. Mrs. J. L. Robinson, Summit representative to the Union County Cabin Committee will give the results of the survey recently conducted to determine what Summit Girl Scouts do during the summer and what phases of the camping program interest them most. A movie entitled "Laboratories of Democracy" recently released by the National Girl Scout Public Relations Bureau, shows in technicolor the activities and life in a typical Girl Scout camp.

The meeting will be open for general discussion and it is hoped that through various expressions of opinion and suggestions, recommendations may be made which will further Girl Scout camping in Summit.

Mrs. Malcolm Edgar will give a short talk about Juliette Low, the Founder of Girl Scouting, and about Girl Scout Week which will be observed nationally in her honor from October 28 to November 3.

Bamberger's Fashions Stress Gracious Living

Flattering new fashions for the return to gracious living. That is the thought of the stylist who assembled the 1945 fall and winter collection for the L. Bamberger & Company Specialty Shop fashion show held at their third floor shop, September 18 at 3 p. m.

The designer who created the models dreamed of the opera and ballet and gave us elegant gowns emphasizing the soft rich materials and glittering highlights. They anticipated the return of the horse show, cocktail party and dinner for twelve, week-ends in the mountains, and plane trips to Bermuda and clothes to make women feel gracious and beautiful.

They remembered the patriotic homemakers who are exchanging duties in war plants for life at home and created for them the bright, deep, electric shades that will make their return to the role of hostess an exciting event. "Women have worn and loved the trim uniform of volunteer service for many years," Bamberger's stylist said, "but now they are seeking, in their clothes, graceful lines and soft alluring drapes made from rich materials. They welcome the new trend toward femininity and beauty."

A curved line is restful to the eye. That is why the rounded look is repeated over and over this fall in coats, suits, dresses, hats, and even bags.

Bamberger's shows this trend again and again in their fall and winter collection, in the soft lines of a black and gold plaid belted shirtwaist suit with wing sleeves and shirt cuffs; the deep armholes of a black wool short jacket suit with jet buttons; the full blown sleeves, rounded shoulder of a gray menwear flannel suit by Adele Simpson.

Beautiful fabrics and furs deftly handled by the foremost designers for every exciting moment of living.

Wm. H. Kay Holds Picnic For Friends At Summer Home

The Kay picnic at the Kay Summer home, Lake Erskine, Wednesday of last week is past, "but the memory lingers on." And it will linger for some time, for it was one of the most pleasant and successful affairs ever sponsored by a Summit resident. The outing was to have been the week previous, but the bad weather put a crimp in Host Kay's plans.

Four automobiles carried the guests to the Kay log cabin, one of the highest points in the Lake community. Start was made from Hotel Beechwood a little after 1 p. m. Cars were piloted by Mr. Kay, Thomas Coleman, past-president of Summit Kiwanis; William H. Lucas, manager of Hotel Beechwood, and President Bill Savage of Kiwanis. Each car was well loaded. The trip to the lake was made in a little more than an hour over winding but permanent roads.

Besides its passengers two cars were loaded well with things to eat. The food had been prepared in advance by Chef Lucas, and embraced practically everything one might want at a picnic. There were dozens of frankfurters, carefully patted hamburgers ready to broil, dozens of ears of green corn, canned goods a plenty; scores of rolls, relishes, butter, sugar, beans, catsup, an adequate quantity of butter for the rolls and corn; boiled red cabbage, and lots of other food.

Chef Lucas saw to it that several bags of charcoal were brought along, and he soon had a fire started under the outdoor grill, a necessity at every lake home. While the "franks" and "hamburgers" were sizzling the guests took turns with the horseshoes. Everyone practically had a hand in the game, with Executive Official Mort and Judge John L. Hughes handing out pointers on the fine points of the sport.

At one stage there was a little argument as to who was the winner of a particular pitch. Fred finally suggested, "let the horseshoes lie and I'll call up Frank Murray, city engineer." However the dispute soon petered out. In a short time the call came from the vicinity of the grill: "Lunch is being served. It was the voice of Chef Lucas. Instantly there was a rush for the grill, which is built on the lower part of the property with a view of the lake. It might be stated here the Kay cabin is situated in a grove of trees. The food was delicious, it was well cooked, and the caterer service excellent. All the while Host Kay was rushing here and there seeing that everyone was served.

This completed the first part of the program, at least so far as the lunch was concerned. The quilt players returned to their posts and the game was resumed. Lucas took time out from his grill duties to show the boys "something about quilts," as he expressed it. Walter Crann, Gardner Eastman, Joe Zeigler, Art Becker, Fred Mort, Ed. Dederer, Sid Cole, Otto Schmidt, Tom Coleman, Ed. Butler, Art. Dalley, Hudson Martin and several others, played. Emil Fitterer, Marsh Shorrock and Bill Bedell looked on. No scores were announced, but it was explained Judge Hughes had near a "perfect."

Then came one of the several features of the outing. From the recesses of the trees a quartet of guests emerged, carrying a new history bench, with strapped seat, and polished to perfection. This was a gift from the "fellows," Judge Hughes made the presentation to Host Kay, who accepted the bench with thanks.

By this time the second call for lunch was shouted again, and the same mad rush as before was made for the "grill room." This kept up practically all the afternoon.

A group of swimmers made up of Carl Marwig, Mort, Eastman, Otto Schmidt and Bob Kay, tumbled into cars and off they went for the bathing beach, "down the road a mile or two." And how they splashed and dove, with honours about even.

Then they returned to the Kay abode and what appetites! But there was plenty and to spare. The "fellows" sang "The End of a Perfect Day," and the auto trek home was started at intervals. All voted Bill Kay a good host, with Marsh Shorrock proposing the motion.

In addition to Kiwanians, there was present a fair representation from the Chamber of Commerce, of which, Mr. Kay is president.

Elected to Membership In Tau Beta Pi, Yale

NEW HAVEN, Conn. — William Edward Leese, 1946, Summit, is among the 19 students at Yale University who were recently elected to membership in Tau Beta Pi, the honorary engineering fraternity.

Summit Boys Honored In Pingry Elections

The following Summit boys were honored at elections held recently at The Pingry School in Ellsworth: H. James Toffey, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold J. Toffey of Whittridge road, was elected secretary-treasurer of the Fourth Form (Tenth Grade); John McN. Clarke, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Clarke, Jr., of Pine Grove avenue, was elected a member of the Student Council of the Upper School, as a representative of his class—the Fourth Form. Clarke was also made president of his home room section; David T. Wendell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward N. Wendell of Crest Acre court, was elected secretary-treasurer of the Third Form (Ninth Grade).

Summit Girl Awarded Honors at Wellesley

At the honors chapel which formally opened the college year at Wellesley College on September 22, Barbara Hunt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin L. Hunt of Woodland avenue was among those awarded freshman honors for high scholastic achievement during the year 1944-45. Miss Hunt, a member of the sophomore class, is a graduate of Kent Place School.

Two Summit Girls Enter Berkeley School

Two Summit girls have enrolled in the fall class at the Berkeley School in East Orange. They are: Carol Boyle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Boyle of Oak Ridge avenue, and Mary Ginochio, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Ginochio of Ashwood avenue. Miss Boyle is a graduate of Oak Knoll School and Miss Ginochio of Summit High School.

Summit Girls Enter Skidmore College

President and Mrs. Henry T. Moore last Saturday held an "at home" at the President's House, for this year's group of entering students at Skidmore College (Saratoga Springs, N. Y.), which numbers three hundred twenty-seven. Among these guests were Eleanor D. Swartz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Swartz of Blackburn road and Elizabeth L. Muchmore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Muchmore of Laurel avenue.

Green Brussels Sprouts

Brussels sprouts should be green; yellow ones may be too mature, and therefore of less delicate flavor, or may have been kept too long. Watch carefully for worm holes as sprouts frequently are attacked by worms. Sprouts usually are sold by the pound, there being 50 to 60 small sprouts to the pound. In some markets, they are sold by the quart box, which holds about 1½ pounds. 1 pound, when trimmed and cooked, yields about 3 cups of sprouts. Serves 4 or 5.

Scallops more frequently appear on the table, fried to a delicate brown and are served with Tartar sauce. But scallops à la Newburg with a bit of sherry is something to be considered. Everyone will enjoy this treat.

Economize on Sugar For Birthday Cake

Birthdays do have the habit of rolling around—and though we dispense with the home-made cake for grown-ups to save the sugar—for the youngsters it would be a near tragedy. So, with the birthday party in mind—everyone in the family will do with one spoonful of sugar instead of two or three for awhile—and low and behold—the youngsters have that great big cake for that very special occasion.

Birthday Cake

4 cups sifted cake flour
4 teaspoons double-acting baking powder
1½ teaspoons salt
2 cups sugar
2½ cup vegetable shortening
1½ cups milk
2 eggs, unbeat
2 teaspoons vanilla
Sift flour once; measure into sifter with baking powder, salt, and sugar. Have shortening at room temperature; mix or stir just to soften. Sift in dry ingredients. Add ½ of the milk, the eggs, and vanilla. Mix until all flour is dampened, then beat 1 minute. Add remaining milk, blend, and beat 2 minutes longer.

Turn into two 10-inch layer pans or three 8-inch layer pans. Pans should be greased, lined on bottoms with waxed paper, and greased again. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) about 35 minutes, or until done. Spread tops and sides with easy puffy frosting. Decorate as desired.

Note: Corn syrup or honey may replace ½ of sugar. Use 1 cup corn syrup or honey and 1 cup sugar; decrease milk to 1 1/3 cups. Combine syrup with milk.

Easy Fluffy Frosting—Beat 2 egg whites with ¼ teaspoon of salt until stiff enough to hold in peaks, or until done. Pour 1 cup light corn syrup in fine stream over egg whites, beating constantly until of right consistency to spread (about 4 minutes). Add 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Tiered Birthday Cake—Bake two 10-inch layers as directed above. For the smaller layers, prepare half the above recipe and turn into two 8-inch layer pans. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) 25 minutes, or until done.

Prepare 1½ times the recipe for easy fluffy frosting. Spread frosting on top and side of one 10-inch layer. Place remaining 10-inch layer on this; frost top and side. Adjust and frost one 8-inch layer

Plan a Stag Party For the Home-Comers

With so many men leaving the service, and others coming home after so long away—entertaining will be in full swing.

Of course, there will be mixed parties, but the popular ones will be for just the boys!!! Good old-fashioned get-togethers — with possibly a card game. So, reserve some meat points for the occasion — prepare the food and then disappear—planning possibly such a menu.

Cold meats
Strong cheese
Potato Salad
Spaghetti Casserole
Rolls
Pickles - olives
Rum cake and coffee
or
Beer without dessert

The spaghetti casserole can be all ready to pop into the oven—and friend husband can take time out from the "man talk" to do that much himself.

Spaghetti Casserole

2 cups spaghetti, broken in short lengths
¾ pound grated cheese
Salt and pepper
2 tablespoons butter or fat
1½ cups milk

Boil and drain spaghetti. Arrange a layer in bottom of a casserole. Over it sprinkle some of the cheese and scatter bits of butter or fat over this. Add a sprinkling of salt and pepper. Fill dish in this order, having spaghetti on top, well oiled with fat, but without cheese. Add just enough milk to cover well and bake in a moderate oven (350-400 F.) about one-half hour. Serve in the dish in which it was baked.

Inactive Status For Lt. Russo, 8th AAF Officer

TOWNSHIP—Lt. William D. Russo, Army Air Force veteran of six months overseas service with the Eighth Air Force in the European Theatre of Operations, has been placed on inactive status and returned to civilian life. He is the son of Police Chief Dominick V. Russo, Jr. and Mrs. Russo of Springfield avenue, Berkeley Heights.

Lieutenant Russo returned to the States in March after completing 35 combat missions as a navigator on a B-17 Flying Fortress. He holds the E.T.O. campaign ribbon with one battle star and the Air Medal with the five Oak Leaf Clusters.

A graduate of Regional High School, Springfield, and Newark State Teachers College, Lt. Russo did his practice teaching in the Summit public schools. He entered the AAF in January, 1943 and received his wings and commission as a 2nd Lt. at graduation exercises June 10, 1944 at Selman Field, La. He was promoted to first lieutenant last January.

In April, Lt. Russo and Miss Claire Booker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stacey T. Booker, of Verona were married in Our Lady of the Lake Church, Verona.

Three Game Series To Decide Title In Softball Loop

TOWNSHIP—Pine Tree Inn will play the Firemen in the first of a three game series to decide the softball championship of the township in the Columbia School playground oval on Sunday, October 7 at 11 a. m.

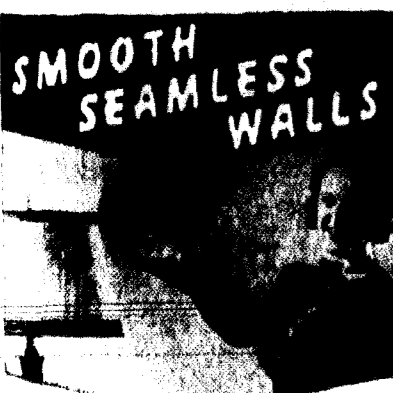

Captain Carl Carpenter's Firemen won the first half of the Berkeley Heights Softball League and Captain James Monica's Pine Tree Inn copped the second half.

The championship series is the culminating activity of a 45-game schedule of a softball season sponsored by the Township Recreation Committee.

The winning team will be presented an attractive award to be purchased out of league fees.

Takes Road Inventory For Which County Help Will be Asked

TOWNSHIP—The Township Committee made a survey trip Sunday of its highways making inventory of the streets which it will ask the county to "dress up" next year. Chairman Charles M. Monica, of the Road Committee said the principal roads for which county help will be asked include Emerson lane, Kuntz avenue, Washington street, and Country-side road.

School Referendum Favorable Action Predicted Today

TOWNSHIP—A sampling of a cross view of public sentiment here points to favorable action in tonight's election on the question of bond issue to provide a school. The election will be held tonight (Thursday) in Columbia School from 6 to 9 p. m.

The Board of Education owns the land and it is estimated the cost of the project will be $210,000, for which it is proposed to issue 20-year serial bonds.

The proposed building will provide facilities for classes from the fourth to eighth grades, inclusive, besides administrative offices and other school activities including a combination school auditorium and gymnasium.

Blue Mt. Farms Topple Delia's Home Supply, 9-4

TOWNSHIP—Blue Mountain Farms defeated Delia's Home Supply by a score of 4-2 in a Berkeley Heights Softball League contest played on the Columbia School playground here on Sunday.

Delia's defeat gave Pine Tree Inn undisputed possession of the second half lead of the loop's season and the right to play the Firemen, winners of the first half of the league for the softball championship of the township.

The Blue Mountain Farms combine staged a five-run rally in the second inning and held the lead for the remainder of the game.

Captain Otto Schwartz, Blue Mt. Farms shortstop, hit a home run in the fifth. Larry Proesch and Dan Russo of the winners batted out seven hits, the former getting four for four.

Tony Delia led the losers at bat with three hits. Pitcher Dave Brown of the victors struck out two men in the third to check a Delia rally.

New Dining Room Of Pine Tree Inn To Open Oct. 10

TOWNSHIP—The Pine Tree Inn will open its new dining room next Wednesday, October 10. This was announced yesterday by James J. Monaghan, proprietor.

It may be recalled that the dining room and features associated with it have been inoperative since May 24 last because of extensive damage by fire. The new dining room will feature a 60-foot bar. A more generous dance floor also provided in the new dining room. Music will be furnished by Parry Rhodes and his orchestra plus a variety of entertainment. The Pine Tree Inn will continue, as it did prior to the fire, in serving steak platters.

The Pine Tree Inn over the past few years has developed a wide clientele among the carriage trade. Before the fire the inn was enjoying ever increasing patronage as a dine-out dance, and entertainment emporium.

President Commands State Highway Comm.

Trenton, Oct. 4 State Highway Commissioner Spencer Miller, Jr., today received President Truman's letter paying tribute to State Highway Officials for co-operation in the wartime emergency.

"I take this occasion," the Nation's Executive declared, "to commend State Highway Officials for their excellent spirit of cooperation during the national emergency in deferring needed projects so that our resources of manpower and material could be effectively marshaled for winning the war."

The commendation carried the rescinding of the Presidential order limiting construction to projects essential to national defense.

Religion Reports and Plans Given By Summit Church Council

The Summit Council of Churches held its semi-annual meeting Thursday evening, September 27 at the Methodist parish house. Delegates were present from the eight member churches and the Christian Associations and in spite of bad weather the attendance was good. Leonard E. Best, president of the Council, presided.

Dr. W. S. Hittman reported the accomplishments of the Ministers' Department for the past six months including the Interchurch V-E Day service and also announced that a Union Thanksgiving Service will be held on November 22 at the Methodist Church with Dr. William P. Merrill as guest preacher.

Mrs. Frank Talmage reviewed the extensive work that has been done by the Church Women's Department. Arrangements have been made for a meeting on World Community Day, November 2, with Dr. Walter Van Kirk as the principal speaker.

The report on the Church Men's work was presented by Walford Martin and included the program at the March meeting which was attended by men from the eight member churches. The Interchurch Welcome Booklet for returning veterans was also described.

James B. Burke gave a brief review of the various projects of the Religious Education Department. A survey of the church schools indicates a general increase in Sunday School attendance. Means of deepening the general interest in religion and increasing church attendance are being considered. Joan Beck spoke on the various problems of released time for religious education in public schools.

The Christian Youth Department report was presented by Miss Virginia Gilson whose recommendation that the membership of this group be limited to students of the Junior and Senior High Schools was adopted by the meeting.

There was considerable discussion as to the needs and organization of a Young Adult Group to serve the interests of the young people who have left High School and still do not feel at home in the Men's and Women's Clubs. A committee including Christian Association members will be selected to study this problem and report back to the January meeting.

After the meeting, refreshments were served and the general expression of the delegates present was that considerable work had been done and that definite progress had been made on the program of interchurch cooperation.

Church School Lesson Christian Way of Life

Scripture: Matt. 22: 36-39; Mark 12: 28-34; Luke 10: 25-37.

Golden Text: "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul and with all thy strength, and with all thy mind; and thy neighbor as thyself."—Luke 10: 27.

Lesson outline used according to the International Council of Religious Education and is used by permission.

The Christian religion has two predominant aspects, faith and life, belief and conduct, spirit and morals. Both sides require our full devotion and sincere development.

An old proverb gives expression to the dual nature of Christianity: "Work as though no prayer availed; pray as though no work availed."

If you will read the suggested Scripture passages carefully, you will discover that Jesus put attitude before actual performance. Those who excel in deeds who fall low in spiritual humility are condemned by the Master as unworthy.

The Christian can never be content were mere duty. Doing one's duty is noble only to the pagan; the Christian always seeks what more he can do to live up to his high calling.

The church is frequently criticized because its members fall short of their profession. Such accusations against the bride of Christ are as ridiculous as to say that science is bad because scientists scientific men developed the atomic bomb.

If Christians realize that their faith requires of them more than mere duty, they will live credibly to their Saviour's kingdom, even though they may frequently fall far short of what is expected of them by their neighbors.

After all, that outstanding example, St. Paul, was the one who said in all sincerity, "Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners, of whom I am chief."

W. M. H.

It is Love which paints the petals with myriad hues, glances in the warm sunbeam, arches the cloud with the bow of beauty, blazes the night with starry gems, and covers earth with loveliness.

Mary Baker Eddy.

Students in Miss Eva Krayer's seventh grade are showing hobbies including stamp collections, match boxes, miniature bottles of perfume, etc. The physical education display under the supervision of Mrs. Celeste Donnelly features materials pertaining to teaching equipment.

On Ship Torpedoed By Jap Planes; Soon Back at Sea

BOROUGH — The heavy cruiser U. S. S. Canberra, of which Lt. (j. g.) Lawrence N. Hansen of South street and Central avenue, Murray Hill is attached, will soon be back at sea following extensive repairs and improvements at Boston Navy Yard following extensive damages which were suffered off Formosa by a Japanese aerial torpedo.

Lt. Hansen attended Summit High School from 1925 to 1928 which time he enlisted in the Navy. He advanced through the ranks to his present rating which he gained last year. At the present time he is ship's secretary on the Canberra. His varied tour of duty has included assignments to the following ships: U. S. S. Denver (old light cruiser), 1928-31; U. S. S. Augusta (heavy cruiser), 1931; U. S. S. Mississippi (battleship) 1932-35; U. S. Naval Training Station, Great Lakes, 1935-38; U. S. S. Philadelphia, Atlantic Fleet, 1938-41; U. S. Savannah, 1942; U. S. S. New Jersey, battleship, 1943, and since on the Canberra.

Lt. Hansen wears the following decorations: Second Nicaraguan Campaign Ribbon; American Defense Service Ribbon; European-Africa-Middle East Area Campaign Ribbon; Asiatic-Pacific Area Campaign Ribbon; Philippine Liberation Ribbon; and Navy Good Conduct Medal. From 1941 to 1942 Lt. Hansen attached to convoys in the North Atlantic after which he went to the Pacific attached to operating combatant ships.

Commenting on his observations aboard the U. S. S. Canberra at the time she was hit off Formosa and during her subsequent voyage back to Boston, Lt. Hansen submits the following memorandum:

"It was shortly before sunset on October 13, 1944, while the Canberra was in the protecting screen of ships around the aircraft carriers which were recovering their planes following a raid on Formosa, that seven Japanese torpedo bombers attacked the task force. Three of the planes were shot down, and the other four began a run on the Canberra which was making an emergency turn to cope with them. The big cruiser held her fire up to this point to avoid hitting other vessels, but now her anti-aircraft gunners went into action and quickly downed three of the attackers. The fourth succeeded in launching its torpedo before joining the others in a flaming crash into the water.

"A huge ball of flame shot more than 100 feet skyward when the missile exploded on the starboard side, killing one officer and 22 enlisted men and injuring about 40 others as boiler rooms were destroyed and engine rooms temporarily flooded. No other casualties were suffered by the U. S. S. Canberra during her eight months' action in the Pacific.

"During the 14-day tow from Formosa to the first repair base at Ulithi in the Caroline Islands chain, the 'Streamlined Belt Group' was formed when the U. S. S. Houston, a light cruiser which was hit by an aerial torpedo one day after the Canberra, joined the slow-moving task group. Admiral William F. Halsey, Jr., U.S.N., Commander of the Third Fleet, heard the Tokyo radio announce the 'annihilation' of his fleet, although only the Canberra and Houston had been damaged. Then the Japs discovered that the 'remnants' of the Third Fleet were retiring at slow pace, and Admiral Halsey directed his 'bait' group to proceed in such a manner as to try to draw out the Imperial Fleet.

The Japs did venture forth to 'kill' the 'sitting ducks' Canberra and Houston, but when they were about equi-distant from the 'bait group' and Halsey's main fleet, they discovered the latter and turned back before they themselves were 'killed'. For this daring move during their retirement, the Canberra and Houston and escorting ships received a 'Well Done' from Admiral Halsey, who declared that their 'skill and guts' will become a 'Navy Tradition'.

On the afternoon of October 16, a mass attack by enemy planes began. Approximately 50 were downed by carrier planes, and the Canberra shot down one of two that broke through-making six raising Sun flags for the cruiser's bridge. It was the other plane which managed to score a second hit on the crippled Houston.

After a brief stay at Ulithi, the U. S. S. Canberra was towed to the Advanced Base at Manus in the Admiralty Islands. Her wounds temporarily healed there, but the 19,000-ton Baltimore-class cruiser was able, with her three remaining damaged engines, to limp back over the 10,000-odd miles to Boston Navy Yard in 35 days, January 13 to February 16 of this year, escorted by a single destroyer on only part of the journey."

Community and National War Fund Rally Held

BOROUGH — A rally of the leaders for the Community and National War Fund Drive was held Monday evening at which time Chairman G. Russell Vanderhoof delivered a "lighting address." All members of the executive committee were in attendance. Details of the $2450 budget were further explained. Final details of the drive which will start Saturday and continue through October 22 were explained.

Returns to College

BOROUGH — Miss Audrey Carol Duffy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Duffy of Madison avenue, has returned to Green Mountain College, Vt., entering her sophomore year.

Police Seek Hit and Run Driver On Manslaughter Charges

BOROUGH — Chief Harry High sent out an alarm Tuesday night over the telephone from Summit police headquarters for a hit and run driver who shortly after 7 p. m. hit and ran down James Birdsall, 54, of Mountain avenue causing injuries resulting in his death after he had been taken in an ambulance to Overlook Hospital, Summit.

About 7:30 p. m. a neighbor of Mayor John W. Oakwood came to his home stating a man was lying in the highway in agony calling for help. The mayor immediately went to the scene to find his neighbor, Mr. Birdsall with a leg broken and doubled back and suffering other injuries. The mayor immediately called Chief High who is still seeking the driver of the car who is now sought on manslaughter charges. When the mayor reached Mr. Birdsall, the injured man was still conscious stating that it was a Ford that hit him. That is the only clue police have to work on.

Mr. Birdsall had lived in Summit for many years where he was formerly employed by Jersey Central Power & Light Co. as a meter reader. In recent years he had been employed in a defense plant recently having terminated his employment. He was born in New York City.

Mr. Birdsall leaves his wife and son, James Birdsall, Jr., a daughter, Mary Birdsall of Newark; two sisters, Mrs. Marion Getz of Madison and Mrs. Elmer Crane of Basking Ridge, and his mother, Mrs. Catherine Birdsall of Madison.

Funeral services will be held Saturday morning from the Mc-

Police Recorder Holds Burglar for Grand Jury

BOROUGH — Appearing Friday night before Police Recorder A. C. Hoffman, Alfred Paul Miller, 18, Watertown, Mass., was held for action of Union County Grand Jury on charges of unlawful entry and burglary. He was found guilty of stealing more than $600 in jewelry from the home of Mrs. Thomas F. Brennan in Division avenue.

Miller was apprehended by Chief of Police Harry High working in connection with the Summit police. The culprit was one of five magazine salesmen who had received permits last week from Summit police to solicit subscriptions. The jewelry was found in a waste basket at Summit police headquarters where Miller had thrown it. He has a previous record in the Bay State based upon two convictions for burglary.

CELEBRATE VICTORY OVER REGIONAL

Summit High School students celebrated Saturday's football victory over Regional High School by a snake dance and parade from Memorial Field through the center of the city. Color was given the demonstration by the leadership of the band who executed some ably drilled formations between halves at the game. Should Summit lose any of its three remaining home games, High School students would have an opportunity to do a little morale boosting for their team by also parading with their band in the lead. High school and college athletes are always responsive to tangible evidence of student body support.

Summit and Regional concentrated on their defensive game Saturday. Both teams showed plenty of courage and were in there fighting to the end. One of the Summit backfield players suffered a bad case of senioritis and drowsiness during the first half, making a flock of fumbles.

One of the most improved Summit players on the field was Tom Rillo, left tackle. During the first half, particularly, Tom was in practically every play. He was no small factor in helping to hold the visitors by being down the field to stop the punt receiver dead in his tracks.

While Reinauer, Summit's 125-pound center played a bang-up game and no credit should be taken from him for his persistence in Saturday's game, it should be noted that Summit has plenty of assistance at center in stocky 167-pound Maxwell, who is a newcomer to Summit this year from New Rochelle, N. Y., where he has had some varsity experience. Parkin, 178-pound senior tackle, gratified in his first varsity game by going the route. Clark, who called signals, stood out in his ability to throw passes. However, with a yard or two to go to make a first down, he would insist on throwing passes in the closing minutes of play, even though his team was holding the lead. It is generally considered the best practice under such circumstances to call for line plays.

SUBURBAN CONFERENCE PREVIEW

Four of the six Suburban Conference football teams took off their wraps Saturday in non-conference matches. Glen Ridge by losing, 13-6, on its own field to Clifford Scott, dropped its second game in the last 17 played. The Riders' only other loss in the past two seasons was a 14-7 setback at the hands of Montclair High in 1944. Observers believe Glen Ridge's two-year reign as conference champions is at an end. Millburn, 1944 runners-up in the conference, gave notice Saturday in its 13-0 triumph over Bernardville, that the Millers will be heard from this year. Caldwell coming in on the short end of a 12-6 score against Newark Academy didn't show too much. If Summit, fresh from its win over Regional, can get by Verona and Millburn, then the Hill City boys are assured of their best conference record in three years. There are some who think this might be Verona's year with Bucky Hatchett and company almost intact from last year. The Hillbillies' 1945 inaugural next Saturday against Summit will give a better indication to the Essex County team's strength. An estimate of Madison's strength can better be gauged after their game next Saturday against the Riders.

1946 BASEBALL SEEMS ASSURED

It can now be said with considerable certainty that Summit will have a representative baseball team in the field next summer despite discouraging support of cash customers this past summer. Plans are now in the advanced stage for the Summit Athletic Association, Inc. (inactive during the war, but never dissolved) to take over the destinies of a team representing the city in games that will feature inter-urban competition. Nor will this idea be dependent on the resurrection of the Lackawanna League. Already, President Grover Tranor of Westfield and Cranford, president of the Union County League, has tendered an invitation to Frederick G. Sigler of the Summit Athletic Association (its last president before the wartime interlude) for Summit to enter a team next year in the league. Mr. Sigler tentatively accepted this invitation until such time as official action can be taken at an early reorganization meeting of the association, which will have no relationship whatsoever to the Summit Red Sox Athletic Association which he headed.

Mr. Sigler reports that he has acceptances from a group of representative citizens to act as a board of managers for next year's baseball. Heading the list are: Councilman Maxwell Lester, Jr., Summit's next mayor, and President Ernest P. Patten of the Board of Recreation. Mr. Lester will be chairman of the finance committee, while Mr. Patten will head the management committee. Other members of the board will include J. Bindley Hoff, elementary school principal, ticket committee; Anton C. Swenson, a member of the New Providence Township Committee, program committee; Kenneth Geddis, field committee; sports editor of the Herald, public relations; Mr. Sigler and Dr. G. Russell May, both ex-officio, and Brooks Robinson, ways and means committee.

As Mr. Sigler points out, one of the attractions for Summit to enter the Union County League is that it will afford Summit opportunities to further its relations with communities in the county, which include Plainfield, Cranford, Garwood, Westfield, Fanwood and Elizabeth. Games in this league will all be played on Sunday leaving Saturday open for any opportunities that may develop.

Verona Drilling For Inaugural Against Summit

Under the guidance of newly appointed Coach Woody Litwhiler, Verona High's football forces are taking shape for the opening Suburban Conference clash with Summit High School on Oct. 6 at the Summit school field. Eight games, all away, will be played by the Hornets with Newark Academy an addition to the slate.

All football drills are now being held at the City Home field while a new Verona High School field is being built. Litwhiler, who replaced Walt Wernuth, is being assisted by Nelson (Skipper) Smith, basketball and track coach at the school.

Litwhiler has just about picked his opening day lineup. Verona's backfield, headed by Big Bucky Hatchett, will also have Richie Carroll, Bud Cummings and Vince Cestone. All played football for the Hornets last year and should do well this season.

Billy White, although suffering with an injured leg, will probably get the opening call for the center post on the Verona eleven against Summit. Gene Watts and Mel Neger are listed for reserve duty at the pivot spot. Bob Cogan and Frankie Massa loom as starting guards with Ted Gearty and Don Handville as possible replacements.

The tackle assignments are well fortified with the presence of Vince Marriot and Dave Settle, a couple of lettermen from last year's outfit. A newcomer, Wayne Sager, is listed for understudy with Jim Brighton and Don Leong also showing up well in drills.

Two seasoned end players are back ready for action with the Verona grid combination. They are Jim Toward and Al Denepcola. For relief work, Litwhiler has Vince Ciere and Connie Conover.

Four other backfield prospects are expected to see action with the Hornet grid combination. They include: Vinnie Denacola, a blocking back; Don Carroll, brother of Ritchie, Graham Ingold and Sal Riccardi.

H. S. Javees Book Five Conference Football Games

With two games under their belts, Thursday's match, an 18-0 shutout of the high school second team and Monday's fray with Regional High School, the high school's javee gridders have booked games with the javee teams in the Suburban Conference. All of the games are carded on the Monday following the Saturday varsity games. If the varsity is home on Saturday, the javee boys travel on the following Monday. The remaining schedule follows:

Oct. 8—Verona—away.
Oct. 15—Millburn—away.
Oct. 22—Open.
Oct. 29—Glen Ridge—home.
Nov. 5—Madison—away.
Nov. 12—Open.
Nov. 19—Caldwell—home.

The javee conference games have been made possible by the easing of travel restrictions. All carded games will be between ninth and 10th grade boys except in the cases of Millburn and Springfield, who insist on using Juniors and seniors. Clifford Scott and Westfield javee teams are being sought for the open dates.

Coach Morton Ashman has 32 boys under his tutelage. Nine of these lads were under Ashman's wing last year as ninth graders, four of whom are working out with the varsity.

In Thursday's game with the high school second team, the javees pushed over a touchdown in each of the first three frames. Bontempo going over for two touchdowns after Accorsi tallied in the first frame from a fumble on a kickoff. For the javees, Ashman used this starting lineup:

Hazleton, le; Walker, re; Woodard, rt; Pieckert, lt; Morgan, lb; Formichelli, rg; Flynn, c; Bono, qb; Becker, rb; Bontempo, lhb; and Wickburg, fb. Other boys who played for the javees were Fimia, McGrath, Sundstrom, Renz, Behre, Baker, Cross, Rotundi, Accorsi, Kubach, Speaker, and Rilo. Every member of the javee squad got in the game for a spell. For the javees, Wickburg's plunging and punting and Bontempo's running were features. Raabe and Kietzman stood out for the high school second team.

Summit High Gridders Off to a Successful Start, Defeat Regional

Regional High School's gridders, who played a lot of close games last season, started the new campaign Saturday on Memorial Field here by dropping a 13-7 decision to the Hill City Boys. In the above picture Co-Captain Frank Donio is seen kicking on the fourth down. Completed undisturbed by unseasonably sultry weather, intermittent drenching downpours and rave claims concerning the possible potency of the visitors, Summit broke lose in the final quarter when Harold Ahern snared a pass and dashed 70 yards for the winning score.

Summit Outpaces Regional to Win Season's Debut, 13-7, Before 2,000

Summit High School's 1945 football debut got off to an auspicious start Saturday on Memorial Field before more than 2,000 fans when the Maroon and White started moving in the second half, registering a touchdown in each of the last frames and went on to win, 13-7, against Regional High School of Springfield.

Trailing 7-0 at the start of the second half, Summit came out with plenty of fight. Sonny Clark, Summit's burly 165-lb quarterback who did a whale of a job in passing for the locals, returned a Regional kick to his own 30. In a series of line plays, Summit registered a first down on its own 48. A pass from Clark to Fiers netted eight yards and gave the locals another first down, this time on Regional's 40. On the next play George Giannopoulos, 175-pound lanky Summit end, reached high and snared a heave from Clark that put the ball on Regional's 18. George (Doubles) Miles followed with a sweeping run around right end to hit pay dirt for Summit's first touchdown. Tom Rillo, giant 195-pound tackle, who stood out all afternoon for his rugged play, failed in an attempted conversion.

In the closing minutes of the fourth frame with Summit still trailing, 7-6, Harold Ahern, net 135-pound end, went in for Giannopoulos. Grabbing a pass from Clark on his own 30, Ahern soon was in the clear and hotfooted it 70 yards for the winning score of the tussle. The extra point was added when Miles took a pass from Clark.

Regional's score came midway in the second period. Prior to the scoring, Regional had worked the ball to Summit's five-yard stripe only to be held for downs. Fiers, standing behind his own goal line, kicked to his own 40. Hazelton then intercepted a Regional pass on Summit's 30. On the next play, Regional completed a pass, Walter Street to Richard Danneman, again putting the pigskin on Summit's five. On a sleeper pass, Street to George Vohden standing in the end zone, Regional made its first touchdown against Summit in two years of play. Vohden converted by a kick.

Millburn Worried By Westfield, Points to Summit

After finishing off Bernardville last Saturday, 13-0, Millburn High School's gridders move over to Westfield next Saturday to play the Blue Devils, who so far this year have mowed down Ridgewood, 27-7, and Somerville, 34-0. Westfield hopes this year to repeat its last year's performance of 10 straight wins. From all indications, Coach Joe Freeman has his charges off to a good start. It is small wonder then that Millburn is plenty worried about Saturday's forthcoming game.

Then for Millburn, Saturday's game poses another worry because on the following Saturday, October 13, the Millers come to Summit for the annual classic which for the two schools probably outstrips in interest any one grid game either one of the schools card each fall.

The Millburn and Short Hills item in its September 13 issue made the following report on the Millers:

"If spirit means anything Millburn High School is going to make a strong bid to retain football honors won last fall by one of Millburn's best eleven in recent football history. Sixty candidates appeared at initial practice sessions conducted by Coach Ozzie Nelson with the aid of Line Coach Frank Focht.

"Captain Jimmie Williams will lead the following veterans into action: Bill Franke, rugged end; Ed Clauser and Jack Crites, large aggressive tackles; August DiGiovanni, six-foot pivot man; and Ted Stieve, shifty backfield aspirant. Eddie Miller, triple threat back, is being groomed to fill Ben Palumbo's shoes. Ben is now serving in the U. S. Navy. Bob Pearson is calling signals, alternating with Captain Williams.

"Outstanding backfield candidates are: Carmen Pacifico, Don Glimbri, Jim Waters, Sheldon Silverstein, Bill Henshaw, Jim Porter, Don Robertson, Rudy Marask, Tom Troup, Arthur Lynch, Paul Kreitler and Hobart Kretler.

"The ends with good potentialities are Charles Day, Ralph Dunblady, Ken Hart, Jack Gauth Charles (O'Donnell) and Roland Reed. Richard Herring and Rocky Marchetta appear to be good tackle replacements. The guard positions, with no veterans returning, appear to be wide open with the Calvano cousins, Nick and Rocco; Warren Bates, Paul Cava, Tony Ariso and John Mosher working hard for starting positions. Bob Freeman and Johnny Paoletti afford plenty of reserve power in the street pass."

H. S. Javees Post 6-0 Victory Over Regional

Summit High School's javee football team travelled to Springfield Monday afternoon and took the javee team from Regional High School into tow to the tune of 6-0. Domick Guida in as a substitute halfback took the pig skin on a reverse play from Regional's 15 in the second frame and carried over to pay dirt for the lone touchdown and score of the game.

One of 450 at Annual Dinner Conclude

Coach Elwood C. Cornog of Summit High School was one of more than 450 persons who on Monday night attended the 28th annual meeting and dinner of the New Jersey State Intercollegiate Athletic Association in the Newark Athletic Club's Duffield Hall. Jack Lavelle, sports director of the C.Y.O. in the New York archdiocese was the principal speaker. Also heard were Charles Caldwell, new Princeton University football coach, and Howard Mepp, director of athletics at Princeton.

Bam's Red Cross Game Taken By Giants, 21-0, Many Summit Fans There

An unestimated number of Summit football fans watched Sunday afternoon as a big, powerful New York Giants line proved too tough a bridehead for the Camp Lee soldiers to take as the Travelers were beaten back by a 21-0 rout in a Red Cross benefit game at Schools Stadium at Newark.

The affair, sponsored by L. Bamberger & Co., was a gala occasion with a large crowd of around 21,000 welcoming professional football back to Newark after a four-year hiatus. The crowd came early and secured a holiday mood in anticipation of taking home one of the door prizes, seeing the game and watching the almost incredible formations of the Camp Lee band, which lived up to advance notices as one of the country's finest military organizations.

Camp Lee proved to be a good match for the professional champions but didn't have the offensive weapons to compete with the Maroons. On the defensive the Travelers did practically all that was asked of them, but offensively they couldn't compare. The Travelers did, however, flash the most attention-arresting play in Levi Jackson, Negro speed merchant, who kept the Giants on their toes throughout as he threatened break away. His mates could never shake him loose against the tiger Giant defense.

Sports Prevail As Men Teachers Frolic at Outing

Fishing, horseshoe pitching, table tennis, swimming and darts prevailed at the annual installation outing of the Men Teachers Association of the Summit School held Friday afternoon at the summer home of one of their members, James Wiebe, on the north shore of Lake Hopatcong. Guests of honor were: Councilman-at-large Ernest S. Hinkok and Associate Professor James E. Downes of Newark State Teachers College.

Al G. Gast, playground horseshoe champ, again demonstrated his individual prowess in this pastime by throwing ringers with the "greatest of ease" to confound and route any and all comers who had the temerity to oppose him and whoever his partner would be for a particular game.

Stellar performers at table tennis included Walter S. Eddy, president of the association, together with Messrs. Hinkok and A. M. (Terry) Tarantino.

Champion fun-maker at the outing was J. Bindley Hoff, whose scintillating remarks and adroitness at darts, gave him the center of the stage.

Devotees of angling included Robert H. Carleton, David McNeely, Gerald Crona, and Morton Ashman. The latter returned to dock with "the best fish story" of the outing. He is alleged to have caught a 14-inch bass, yet attempts to verify this claim were stoutly frustrated.

Joseph G. Shuttlesworth, ex-Army sergeant, attired in full regalia as head chef, was the "maitre de cuisine" officiating over an open fireplace near the shore of the lake. It was reported that scouts from Pals' Cabin in West Orange and from Sardi's in New York have since besieged him to lay aside his professional toga and devote his entire time to cuisine activities specializing in the preparation of choice steaks, not to mention all the delicacies direct from the farm of Ellis Walling, another member of the association.

A couple of members of the association even went back to their youth. It was reliably reported one of them was strolling in the dark on the dock and "accidentally fell in" clothes and all. The victim not wishing to make amends singly for this "accident" secured the help of two classroom associates with the result that the alleged perpetrator of the "accident" received like treatment. The "grand finale" for the occasion came when three "neophytes" properly blindfolded sought admission into membership in the association which at the time was comfortably seated in a semi-circle near the shore of the lake. Each gave a "prepared address" on a previously assigned topic. With the aid of a flashlight directed on manuscripts, the trio managed to struggle through their presentations, while standing on the dock some distance from the membership circle. The speakers' oratory reverberated over the surrounding hills. Roger Muse spoke on "Sportsmanship" while Harold Hoagland gave a dissertation on "Peace Through Social Science" and Neal Roach explained "Science in Relation to Peace." President Eddy presided at this finale with the assistance of J. P. McClellan who helped bring the neophytes "into more light" and acquaint them with "the true purposes" of the Men Teachers Association.

Summit Soldier Wins Golf Trophy in Texas

Cpl. Nicholas Ruiss, son of Mr. and Mrs. Matteo Ruiss of Sayre street won the golf trophy in the Enlisted Men's Golf Tournament recently held at the Laredo Army Air Force field, Laredo, Texas.

Cpl. Ruiss, who has recently been transferred to Lowery Field, Denver, Colo., was formerly an anti-aircraft gunnery instructor at Laredo, Texas, for two and one-half years. The corporal has been in service since August, 1942. He is a graduate of Summit High School.

Table Tennis Runner-Up To Demonstrate Tonight

Willard Rogers, former New Jersey State Table Tennis Champion and recent runner-up in the National Paddle Tennis Tournament, will demonstrate his skill in table tennis and paddleball at the Summit Y.M.C.A., this evening, as part of the Open House program for adults there this week.

Louis Mouquin, former intercollegiate and Olympic fencing star, will lead demonstrations of the three styles of fencing in the same program. He will be assisted by Robert Larson, Phillip Kreider, Phillip Hazelton and Paul Ghizoni.

Members and friends of the Y.M.C.A. are invited as guests to these features of adult Rally Week.

Getting a Few Pointers From Coach Preparing for Verona Game

High School Coach Elwood C. Cornog is here seen with football in his hands explaining to his charges on Memorial Field the art of handling the pigskin. In Saturday's game here against Verona he is hopeful there will be fewer fumbles committed than were perpetrated last Saturday against Regional High School. ### Senior Golf Title Won By Kammer For Fourth Time

Any doubts late Wednesday of last week that rounds of 79-77-154 scored by August F. Kammer of Baltusrol Tuesday and Wednesday, also of last week, at Essex Fells were going to bring him his fourth New Jersey State Seniors' were summarily dispelled Thursday afternoon as the only two players in the field with a ghost of a chance of catching him came in his first round.

With two of his toughest rivals—Don L. Moore of Essex Fells and Charles R. McMillen of Essex County—disposed of by a matter of three and eight shots respectively, Kammer had to fear only Lester A. Davis of Echo Lake, who was working on an 80 and Dr. Ralph Vreeland of Ridgewood, who had an opening 82.

But Davis blew skyhigh with a 93 and Dr. Vreeland, playing his same steady game, came through with an 83 for a 165 total which landed him in fourth place.

One player who might have given Kammer a battle if he had been closer to his game on his first round was Dr. M. E. Husted of Ridgewood. The doctor, however, had a 92 Wednesday of last week and his 76 Thursday on nines of 38-38 gave him only the honor of turning in the tournament's lowest gross score.

Honor of having the best net score of last Thursday and of the tourney went to Charles Hasselbuhm of Upper Montclair, who shot 79-16-83. He had had a 97 in first round.

This year's victory marks the fourth State Seniors' title for Kammer.

Farrell, O'Connell Win Pro-Pro Crown By 3 and 2 Score

Johnny Farrell of Baltusrol and Dave O'Connell of Essex Fells won the state pro-pro bestball championship at the Preakness Hills Country Club Sunday as they administered a 3 and 2 licks to Jack Mitchell of Essex County and Emery Thomas of Forrest Hill in the final.

The winners reached the final by scoring a 2 and 1 victory over Maurrie O'Connor of Branch Brook and Johnny Kinder of Plainfield last year's winners, Sunday morning. At the same time Mitchell and Thomas were eliminating Jerry Volpe, Orchard Hills pro, and his assistant, and Tony Di Stasio, 5 and 4.

Farrell and O'Connell were one down at the turn in the final as Mitchell rolled in an eight-footer for a birdie 4 at the ninth, but Farrell, national open champion in 1928, evened matters with a long one for a subpar 4 at the 10th. The Baltusrol pro continued rolling them in as he captured the 11th with a par and the 13th with a bird to put his team two up.

Farrell and O'Connell were one where his second was trapped and O'Connell came through with a winning 12-footer for a birdie 3. Thomas, who had been rimming the cup all day, missed one a foot shorter there for a halve. The next two were halved in pars, Farrell guaranteeing the victory with a fine chip from the rough dead to the pin at the 16th.

Paper Mill Extends "Student Prince" Run For Another Week

Extension of the run of "The Student Prince" to five weeks in order to meet the demand of Paper Mill Playhouse patrons at Millburn has been announced by Director Frank Carrington as the production goes into its third week beginning Monday, October 8.

The reception given this popular romance of old Heidelberg and student life is all the more remarkable in view of the fact that the previous record run of seven weeks ended a bare eight months before the opening of the new run. Many have reserved tickets for more than one night indicating they will see it at least three times.

Featured with the stars are two other Paper Mill favorites, Clarence Nordstrom and Elizabeth Houston. The former plays the prince's valet, an important figure who is attended by another valet, played by John Hanby. Miss Houston returns from a season at Dallas, Texas, to repeat her performance as the Princess. Her mother, the Grand Duchess, is portrayed by Mary Dyer.

Edgar Kent has scored in the small but important role of Tony, the waiter. Others praised for their performances are three Paper Mill standbys, Albert Carroll, William Sutherland, and Carlos Sherman as Von Mark, the Prime Minister; Capt. Tamits and Ruder, the innkeeper, respectively. Florence Barr as Gretchen, the other waitress, is the leading comedienne.

Notable is the musical work of the augmented cast and male chorus under direction of Richard Alan Gordon and the choreography of Henry Shwartz. The settings of old Heidelberg are the work of Kenneth Lloyd Mapes.

"Springtime For Henry"

EDWARD EVERETT HORTON

Bluebeard collected wives but Henry Dewlip collected secretaries. Edward Everett Horton brings the saga of the last secretary to the Montclair Theater, Monday evening, October 8, when he opens in "Springtime For Henry," for a one-week run.

Henry and his friend, Johnny Jellywell, battle for the affections of the secretary, puritanical Miss Smith. Their triangle, however, turns into a square of opposition when Mrs. Jellywell decides she will have Henry for herself.

As the baffled Henry, Mr. Horton brings to Montclair a play in which he has appeared for 30 weeks.

The bothered bachelor, pursued or repulsed with equal enthusiasm, is a role Horton has played for the 36 years of his career in the theater.

The other members of the cast of "Springtime For Henry" will be Katherine Meskill, playing the secretary, who has secrets of her own, Robin Craven, who scored a surprise hit at Montclair with Nancy Carroll in "Too Many Husbands," will be featured as Johnny Jellywell while Marjorie Lord returns as the predatory Mrs. Jellywell, a part she played opposite Horton for five years.

The night he said yes to a man who came backstage started Horton on his career in the movies. After two more pictures he decided to leave Hollywood but waited to make "Ruggles of Red Gap," a picture which made screen history.

Popular prices will prevail.

Trailside Museum Nature Walk Sunday: "Spectrum of Plants"

Mrs. George Anderson, of Westfield, will lead a nature walk and discuss "Spectrum of Plant Plants As They Prepare for Winter," on Sunday, October 7, at 3 p. m., at the Trailside Museum, located in the nursery area of the Watchung Reservation in the county park system.

Acting as hosts for the day will be Mr. and Mrs. T. Mooney, of Morristown. Host club for the month of October will be the New Jersey Mineralogical Society, of which Joseph D'Agostino, of Plainfield is president.

The weekly star lore meetings, junior naturalist groups, and training courses for Girl and Boy Scout leaders, all of which are a part of the extended fall nature program, are attracting many children and adults. On Thursday, October 4, Girl Scout leaders will study "Star Lore" at Trailside at 8 p. m. This event as well as all of the scheduled exhibits, lectures, nature walks, etc., are open to the public and there is no charge for these educational and interesting features.

Mrs. Mildred Rullison, park naturalist, of Rahway, reports a total attendance of 4,364 visitors at Trailside for the month of September.

Seventy million Americans have put more than $16,000,000,000 into family security through life insurance since Pearl Harbor, according to the Institute of Life Insurance. These are anti-inflationary dollars definitely removed from the competitive market.

BOROUGH

Division Avenue
Homes to Connect
To Summit Sewer

BOROUGH—Summit's Common Council on Tuesday night passed at first reading an ordinance covering an agreement between the Borough of New Providence and the City of Summit providing domestic sewage service to nine houses on the westerly side of Division avenue, all of which lies within the borough.

The proposed ordinance provides a charge of $20 per annum to each single household and $40 to each double household. The agreement under which this service will be installed is a five-year contract. The borough will be responsible for making the necessary connections under the supervision of Summit's city engineer, Frank Murray and the Summit Board of Health. The borough will be responsible for the payment of all moneys to Summit for this service.

New Providence

President Rome A. Betts of Summit's Common Council said the proposed ordinance is a gesture on the part of Summit "to be neighborly." He indicated Summit would look forward to the same reciprocity should the occasion arise.

Borough Council had previously given assent to the above arrangement as provided for in the ordinance.

Five Aces' Torrid
Pace Continues
In Bowling Loop

BOROUGH—The Five Aces by making a clean sweep of their three matches against the Men's Club, Wednesday night, September 26 at the second meeting of the New Providence Bowling League on the Hy-Way Bowl alleys in Union continued their torrid pace and marked up their sixth straight victory against no losses. However, the Five Aces are closely pressed by the Firemen "A" team who easily disposed of the M & M club in three straight matches.

The second night matches of the league saw W. Osborne of the Firemen "A" team winning the gross score and high individual game honors. With a 191, Osborne won the high individual game score and with a gross of 372. His teammate, Linden Adams came in for second honors in the September 26 matches with a gross of 469 and a 156 for individual high game score.

Based on their high game score of 793 and team average of 744, it begins to look as if "Firemen" "A" is the team to beat in this league. This can better be determined after the Five Aces and the firemen roll against each other.

Church Booklet
By Men's Club
For Information

Now being used as an aid in keeping members and prospective members informed about their church and its activities, is a new illustrated booklet published by the Men's Club of Central Presbyterian Church.

Twenty-four pages in length, the booklet is illustrated with photographs by Edward P. Radcliffe of Radio Center, depicting the church, parish house, the various rooms, and the staff.

The cover shows the church edifice photographed from the corner of Morris avenue and Maple street, and an inside center spread pictures the interior of the church sanctuary. Other photographs include the parish house, several of its meeting rooms, and also pictures of the Men's Club and Bible Class, as well as the ministers and the director of music.

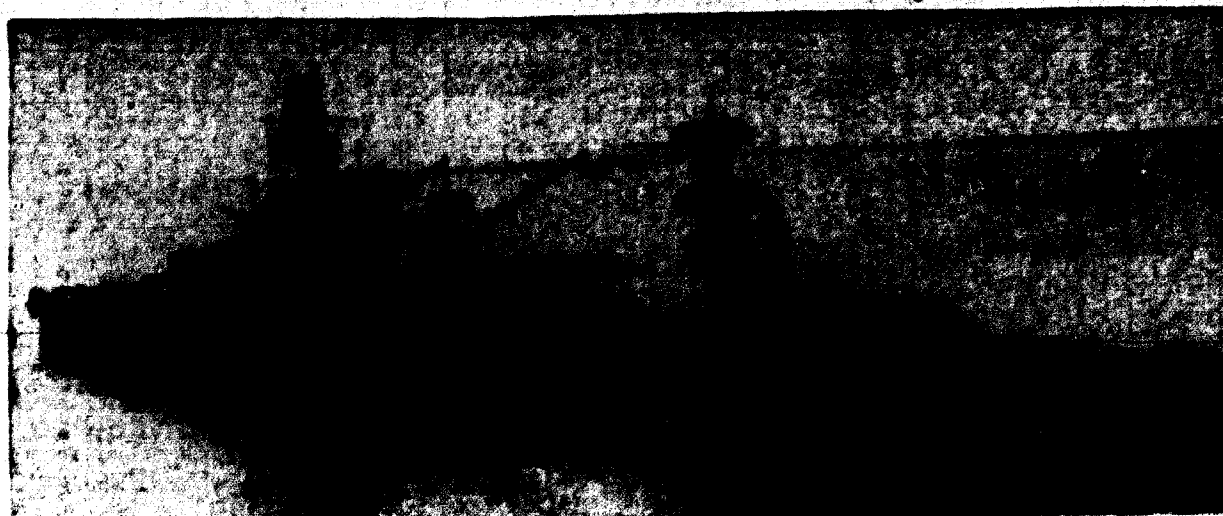

Articles in the publication describe the various organizations of the church, their functions and purposes. A supplementary sheet enclosed with the booklet gives the details concerning officers, times of meeting, and other pertinent information to keep the book always up-to-date.

The booklet is dedicated to the men and women who served in World War II. Also enclosed with the booklet is a service roll of those who have served.

Production of the booklet was in charge of Andrew K. Leach, president of the Men's Club. The engravings for the photographs were produced by Kenneth W. and Roland P. Beattie. The members of the Men's Club contributed the cost of the printing.

Cake mixes are not only aids to amateur cooks, but are sugar savers as well. One of the most popular mixes being gingerbread. It's easy to mix up the cake following the directions on the package and to have it baking while you're setting the table.

USS Arkansas Celebrates Anniversary

The battleship, USS ARKANSAS, celebrated her 33rd anniversary on Sept. 17, 1945, still active as one of the outstanding fighting ships of the war. This oldest battleship of the Fleet, took part in operations at Iwo Jima and her guns knocked out numerous shore installations at Okinawa. Engagements in the Philippines, many Atlantic crossings, and participation in actions at Cherbourg and southern France attest to the brilliant record of "the grand old lady of the sea."

Progress Made
On Plans For State
Minimum Bldg. Code

Plans for the drafting of a minimum building code for New Jersey were given encouraging impetus at a meeting of the Building Code Advisory Committee held in the State Capitol in Trenton on Tuesday and attended by architects, engineers, contractors, bankers, realtors, educators, building inspectors and representatives of labor unions, the State Board of Health, State League of Municipalities, the New Jersey Association of Municipal Attorneys and the State Legislature.

William T. Vanderlipp of Orange, Director of the Division of Planning and Engineering in the State Department of Economic Development, is chairman of the Building Code Advisory Committee and presided at the meeting. Rolf W. Bauhan of Princeton, a member of the American Institute of Architects is the committee's technical consultant and secretary. The executive committee is composed of C. Ray Swain, Secretary of the Board of Tenement House Supervision, C. Godfrey Poggi of the New Jersey Society of Architects and Charles A. Eaton, Jr., Secretary of the State Chamber of Commerce.

The procedure to be followed in the drafting of the minimum building code was agreed upon at the meeting and sub-committees were appointed to start gathering material for its various sections. It is expected that the code, which will be limited to cover the construction of one- and two-family dwellings, will be completed early in 1946. The code will be in simple language, easily understandable by the layman and will be designed primarily to protect purchasers against jerry-built houses and to educate the general public as to proper construction.

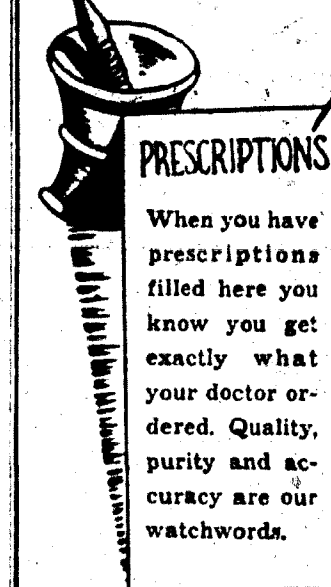

Many municipalities in New Jersey, according to Charles R. Erdman, Jr., commissioner, do not have their own building codes at the present time and it has often happened in these communities that home buyers have been victimized by out-of-state fly-by-night developers and builders, who are in business for what they can get out of it. Mr. Erdman says.

situations of this sort, and the present unprecedented demand for one- and two-family houses, make it imperative that protection be afforded to people contemplating homes of their own, who in a large number of instances, have no knowledge of whether they are getting an honest job. This new building code will be available for use by all municipalities lacking codes of their own and to all organizations, businesses and individuals desiring to make use of it.

Chairmen of the sub-committees appointed at Tuesday's meeting will meet again in the State House in Trenton on October 9 and a meeting of the full committee is scheduled for November.

Don't burn your leaves!

Turn Them Into Fertilizers!

Field and garden wastes—grass, leaves, cuttings, etc. contain everything needed by growing things, but they cannot be used in their "raw" state. Mixed with a small proportion of that clean, inoffensive powder, ADCO, they are speedily converted into rich plant food. It's easy—anybody can do it—and inexpensive, for a 25 lb. bag of ADCO makes a half a ton of splendid fertilizer.

If you don't already know about ADCO let us send you our free booklet, "The Life of the Soil," which tells how ADCO works and why. ADCO is sold by most dealers in garden supplies, but if necessary we will ship it directly to you.

THERE IS NO SUBSTITUTE FOR ADCO

EYE appeal... pocket appeal!

We've one eye set on "eye appeal" and the other on "pocket appeal" when we select our furniture from the best products of America's better furniture manufacturers. We know you approve from the manner in which you have responded. We have achieved "pocket appeal" without sacrificing quality, by placing our store on the highway and by keeping our cost of doing business very, very low. Come in... and discover the difference.
