Local and County Candidates To Meet Summit Voters Nov. 3

Candidates for various offices in the coming general election will meet Summit voters at a candidates meeting sponsored by the League of Women Voters to be held at the YMCA auditorium on Friday, November 3, at 8 p.m. Congressional, Freeholder, Sheriff and local candidates will be present.

The meeting will be non-partisan and is being held to give voters an opportunity to hear the candidates' views on matters of legislature and questions of local policy. There will be a question and answer period during which members of the audience may ask questions of the various guests.

Among those present will be Congressman Clifford P. Case of Rahway, who is seeking re-election, and his Democratic opponent, Harry Mopsick of Linden. The six Freeholder candidates, George W. Herlich, Donald M. Pearsall and Albert J. Benninger, all GOP and all seeking re-election, and the three Democratic candidates, John R. Crilly, Oscar T. Lamb and Anna M. Donnelly, will also be present.

Both candidates for Sheriff, Alex T. Cambell (R.) and John L. Bangasz (D.) have accepted invitations to attend.

The local candidates will include Otto F. Taylor, who is seeking re-election to the Common Council; Samuel A. Smith, Jr., also seeking Council re-election, and Louis R. Ackerman, Democratic candidate for Council seat from the Second Ward.

William R. Gilson, GOP incumbent, and Michael J. Barnacle, Democratic opponent, for the office of City Clerk will also appear.

In a reply to a questionnaire prepared by the League of Women Voters, the local candidates have submitted biographical sketches and a statement to voters as follows:

Mr. Gilson, a native of this city, is a graduate of Summit High School, Princeton University and Yale Law School. After 3½ years duty as Lieutenant in the Navy during World War II, he was appointed city clerk on March 1, 1947.

Mr. Gilson is a practicing attorney in this city and is vice president of the Summt Bar Association, a member of the Municipal Youth Guidance Council, a member of the YMCA board of directors, the Rotary Club and secretary of the Planning Board.

Office Is a Service

In his statement to the Women Voters, he says:

"The office of City Clerk is purely administrative and does not involve policy making. Within those limitations, the office should be run as a service to citizens and as efficiently as possible at minimum cost. Particular attention can be paid to improvements in municipal administration and new ideas and methods can and should be encouraged and called to the attention of the governing body."

Mr. Barnacle, the Democratic aspirant to the city clerks office, is a practicing attorney here for nearly three years. He resides at 26 Locust drive and is a member of the Optimist Club, having served as president last year. Mr. Barnacle was born Sept. 24, 1922 and received his LL.B. in 1947

Injury Insurance Extended to All School Children

On recommendation of the education committee and the superintendent of schools, the Board of Education approved a plan Tuesday night expanding its injury insurance coverage for athletes to include all pupils in the school district.

Under the newly adopted plan, it was explained that "It is now possible to insure every pupil against accidental injuries which may occur on the school premises during school hours and while participating in school sponsored and supervised activities either away from the school premises or after school hours. This includes also physical education, playground, shop or other school activities except interscholastic athletics which are insured separately."

$350 Maximum Award

The American Casualty Co. of Reading, Pa., which offers the blanket insurance will pay an amount not exceeding $250 as the result of any one accident. In the event such injury sustained shall result within ninety days from the date of the accident, in the death of the insured, the Reading firm will pay the sum of $500 to the parents or legal guardian of the student.

Conditions and limitations of the insurance contract are explained in a letter being sent every parent. The letter explains that the insurance is optional. It includes an application form which is to be returned to the child's teacher the first four days of next school week. Registration closes November 2.

Board Not an Agent

In its action approving the insurance, the Board of Education was careful to explain that while it approved the offering of the insurance, it is in no sense acting as agent or accepting responsibility regarding the administration of the policy.

Approval was given the appointment of Joseph D. Dannucci of Bound Brook as a part-time elementary instrumental music instructor. He holds a B. S. from the Juilliard School of Music.

Because of a class of 37 children at Franklin School, a new teacher was employed for the

Defense Units Plan Test

Summit's Civil Defense and Red Cross disaster units will undergo a test on Tuesday, November 7 (Election Day) when a mock disaster will be proclaimed.

Further information will be revealed by the Red Cross and Civil Defense authorities but volunteers are requested to keep the date open. The test will involve only members of the defense organization and not other residents.

Party at High School Will Climax Halloween Parade

The line of march for Summit's Halloween parade, sponsored by the Board of Recreation, will form at 7 p. m. at the corner of Springfield avenue and Waldron avenue, near the Community Church. Under police escort and headed by the high school band, the costumed marchers will parade down Springfield avenue to Maple street, turning left and going down Maple to the Morris avenue entrance of the High School.

The service clubs, Rotary, Kiwanis, Lions and Optomists, will each have a three-man committee to judge the various costumes. First, second and third prizes will be given for the prettiest, the most horrifying, most unusual and funniest costumes. Mayor Percival M. Bland will award the prizes. At the same time winners of the Optimist Club window painting contest will receive their prizes.

Ninety business district store windows will be painted in the Optimist Club window painting contest. Painting will be done tomorrow and judging will take place on Sunday. Kent Place School, Oratory, Oak Knoll and the seventh and eighth grades of St. Teresa's School were invited to join with the public schools in the program.

A special program of entertainment has been arranged for the high school portion of the program and will include a cartoon-comedy movie show, magician and a trained dog act. Prizes will be presented following the movie show.

Following the entertainment program refreshments will be served and the program will con-

Red Cross Starts Recruiting For Nurses Aide Class

The Summit Chapter, American Red Cross, responding to another request for nurse's aides issued by Overlook Hospital, is recruiting volunteers, according to Mrs. Walter W. Schormann, volunteer services chairman.

The shortage of professional nurses in this country is still critical, explained Mrs. Schormann. To help ease the burden, Overlook first requested nurse's aides last February, so the Summit Chapter re-activated this service with a refresher class and 12 aides completed the course.

Now, many more aides, both day and evening, are needby by Overlook, and Mrs. Edna W. Dover, superintendent of nurses at the Hospital, has issued an urgent call to the Summit Red Cross to recruit and train as many additional aides as possible. The Chapter also needs aides to assist in the disaster and preparedness relief program, stated Mrs. Schormann.

Miss Margaret Kivlen, William street, a business girl, is one of the aides who has returned to serve during this emergency. Miss Kivlen became a nurse's aide in 1942 and served until the end of the war in 1945. She is now working one evening a week and Saturdays at Overlook.

Another girl who responded to the call is Miss Phyllis Jordan, Summit avenue, also a business girl, and who was an aide during World War II. In spite of her interest in many community activities which make demands on her time, she goes to the Hospital one night a week after work to assist the nurses.

Love of the work, continued Mrs. Schormann, creates an enthusiasm in both girls, who feel that no matter how fatigued they may feel after working, there is a stimulating and satisfying experience in helping others.

Any woman who has some extra time to give as a volunteer will find this type of work as a nurse's aide particularly worthwhile and rewarding, and she will be filling an urgent need, concluded Mrs. Schormann. Information concerning this work may be secured by calling Red Cross Headquarters, 22 Elm St. Summit 6-2076.

Aviation Engineer Unit Has Openings For Volunteers

The 327 Engineer Aviation Group, an organized Army Reserve Unit, has been authorized to recruit 100 per cent of enlisted personnel, it was announced yesterday.

The outfit, activated in September, 1949, now has 100 per cent officer strength and 90 per cent cadre. Headquarters and drill hall are located at 17 South street, Morristown. The commanding officer is Col. Henry C. Bieg of Chatham, Lt. Col. Carlton A. Fox of New Providence is executive officer.

Vacancies exist in all grades from recruit to master sergeant with a large number of openings for military occupation specialists, the announcement said.

Veterans of any branch of the service are eligible for enlistment at the same rank they held when last discharged from the Army. Promotions are in accordance with the present Army regulations. It is not necessary for recruits to have previous military service. Applications will be accepted from youths 18 years or older, or 17 years with parents consent. There are two paid drills per month.

Additional information can be obtained by visiting headquarters in person or calling Summit 6-6576-M.

A Piece of Your Mind

By KARL H. PLATZER
Psychologist

In continuing our effort to find the causes behind Carrie's behavior, other questions might well be asked.

Carrie is a young woman. She feels she is missing an important part of her life, as indeed she is. She began to experiment to find out what was wrong. She thought that the fault might be in her husband, and that other men could supply the sexual satisfaction she lacked. She tried another affair, and another, hoping desperately to find with someone the warmth, the satisfaction, the feeling of belonging with someone that she needed so badly.

Why can't she find a satisfactory outlet in her social activities and in taking care of her family? Why this insistence upon sex?

Nobody has to insist upon sex. Sex has a way of insisting upon itself. As the lyric of a popular song has it, for certain purposes, there is nothing like a dame, and no amount of other activities will be quite the same. Carrie has tried to sublimate her needs, that is, to find other outlets for them. However, none of them has been able to satisfy her, and so she flits from one to the other, always hoping for contentment but never finding it.

If we keep trying to find reasons for Carrie's behavior, aren't we excusing her and encouraging her to go on in the same way? Wouldn't it have a better effect if we just condemned her as a bad girl and a bad wife?

Nothing we could say in scolding would do much except add to the already crushing burden of guilt and anxiety which Carrie bears. It is precisely that weight which drives her to act as she does; to make it even heavier would only drive her on further in desperation. To find the reasons for her behavior and lead her to realize them, to lighten the unbearable feelings of guilt she carries, would quite probably be of help. It is a mistake to think of Carrie as a bad person, it is more helpful and more nearly correct, to regard her as a vastly unhappy person.

Isn't it an irreligious and immoral attitude to take when we try to understand the sinner, instead of condemning him as he should be condemned?

I don't think so. Of the many words on this subject, surely no one would call these immoral and irreligious:

"Man condemneth the sinner,
But the Lord trieth the hearts of man;"

and:

"Thou, Oh Lord, and Thou alone, knowest the hearts of men;"

and:

"Let him who is without sin among ye cast the first stone."

The authors of those phrases were surely not spreading immorality, yet essentially they were saying what has been written here.

Broom Making In Florham Park

SUBURBAN Florham Park, just outside of Madison prior to 1900 was popularly known as "Broomtown." The town earned its nickname by the fact that some 40 years ago broom making was the community's principal industry. Then customers began demanding brooms of different colors, brooms stiched with velvet ribbons and brooms of different shapes. Larger factories were able to better meet the new demand. In 1910, Florham Park put its broom making machines in motion and the last company in Frost's Store on Ridgedale Avenue ceased to function. The store since has been converted into an antique shop.

On October 23, 24 and 25 the Florham Park Historical Society will sponsor its third annual antique show to be held in the Little Red School House and in the Boro Hall, Florham Park Center. One of the exhibits will be in keeping with the history of the community, an exhibit of Monroe Hancock's broom making machine (see cover). Mr. Hancock's father was one of the chief broom manufacturers of Florham Park during the 19th century.

Despite technological advances, the manufacture of brooms has changed little during the years. They still are made by machines of basically the same design as used a century ago, only now operated by motor rather than by foot power.

SUBURBIA

Civilian Defense: The How and the Why

Suburban Towns Will Play an Important Role Should an Attack Hit Metropolitan Area

By JOHN COAD

IT IS 6:30 A.M. A few minutes ago word was received that an atomic bomb had been delivered by the enemy in a surprise attack and had detonated at the corner of Broad and Market Streets in Newark. Early morning risers in towns as far away as Linden saw a huge flash light up the sky. Telephone calls into the city were left with sentences dangling. An eerie wind, surprisingly strong for such a calm morning, violently rattled windows in suburban homes.

According to first reports, an area approximately 20 blocks square in the heart of downtown Newark, has been completely destroyed, although a few heavy concrete and steel structures remain standing. In the section immediately surrounding the destroyed area, all frame buildings have been demolished. Fires have started in the debris and are rapidly spreading to adjacent areas. Within a half mile from the point of impact there has been almost destruction, within a two and one-half mile radius there has been heavy damage. Commuters are unable to get to New York since the Pennsylvania and Lackawanna railroads are a jig saw juzzle of twisted rails. Access to the Pulaski Skyway has been completely cut off. In the surrounding suburban areas, up to eight miles, there has been moderate to comparatively light damage. Windows have been shattered in the residential districts of Summit, Millburn, Union, Springfield, Maplewood and South Orange; some of the homes have been knocked askew. But casualties here are light and the damage relatively minor.

The stricken city is unable to help itself. Its communications are a hopeless tangle. Dazed victims of the bombing are milling about in confused crowds. The water mains have been broken; the streets are a cluttered mass of rubble. The nerve center of the city has been dealt a mortal blow and the paralyzing effects are quickly spreading to other portions of the metropolis.

Fortunately this story is fiction. This may never happen. But if it did hapepn, what could be done?

On January 13 of this year the Civil Defense Plan for the State of New Jersey was completed. It since has been a model for other states to follow. The State of Maine, for example, according to Becker Jamieson, director of Public Information for Civilian Defense, thought it so good that they copied it verbatim, changing only the color on the cover of the published plan. At present New Jersey's defense plan is creaking along in transmission from the planning stage to an active, integrated organization which is ready to swing into action.

According to the New Jersey Poll this week (at right), the public thinks it is not moving to fruition fast enough. There are a number of reasons for the lag between theory and practice in the Civil Defense Plan, not the least of which is the fact that the organization has an appropriation of only $8,700 to work with. From this sum comes the salary for the only two paid officials of the organization — the Deputy Defense Director and his secretary. The remainder is used for mailing and office expenses. By contrast, the State of Illinois has a budget of $1,500,000 and the City of New York is considering appropriating $500,000. Some local officials have complained that they have not received published manuals and instructions from the State rapidly enough to meet their demands. One official told me he received only 10 Auxiliary Police Training manuals when he had asked for 21. The answer to his query for 11 additional copies was that the State couldn't get the envelopes addressed in time.

Another factor in the apparent slow motion in creating active defense units is lack of volunteers. To date there has been no all out effort to get volunteers, partly at least, caused by the difficulty in making the public aware of the need for Civil Defense without scaring the citizens into the belief that atomic attack is at our doorstep.

Still another factor is the enormous job ahead—of integrating and welding into an effective unit the 566 municipalities of the State. It poses problems which in detail will take many months to complete. One simple example: the State Plan calls for the blood typing of everyone within the State. Another example: All available transportation in every municipality must be catalogued. These are projects which cannot be accomplished within a matter of days.

EYES OF DEFENSE will be the aircraft spotters

Briefly, this is how Civil Defense is set up. New Jersey has been divided into four districts—Metropolitan (which includes Union and Essex Counties), Northern, Central and Southern. Command Post for the State is located at State Police Headquarters in Trenton. Each district is broken down into two or more areas.

Each municipality is required to organize and train its own defense units, which are then integrated and coordinated with the area, district and State.

The burden of the load falls upon the municipalities. They must train adequate fire and police reserves; initiate a rescue, first aid and casualty evacuation program; train emergency ambulance crews; provide emergency hospitalization on a basis of 10 emergency beds for each existing hospital and bed; expand their blood donor program; take an inventory of heavy duty road clearance machinery; provide bomb proof control centers and a broadly conceived welfare program which will include responsibility for dispersion of population and the reception, housing and feeding of evacuees.

Coupled with this, the State is working on an air raid warning plan based on a communication system utilising telephone, amateur radio operators and police teletype. There are at present 166 equipped observation posts in the State on a stand-by basis. This system, which is linked to the Filter Center of the Eastern Air Defense Command and three key warning centers in the State, on the basis of performance in World War II, could alert entire New Jersey to an air attack within two and one-half minutes.

The basic philosophy of Civil Defense is that the bombed city will be unable to help itself. Therefore aid must come from outside. District and area directors will have a file of available aid which they can send to stricken areas as needed. Not a vehicle will move until the order is given. The idea is to bring as much order to chaos as possible. As units move into the bombed area, others will fill their places left vacant in outlying districts.

Here is how it would work in our fictional atom attack.

Warning of the attack was received at 6:18 a.m. All Civil Defense forces were alerted. The warning called for all mobile equipment, fire engines, ambulances and road clearance equipment from Newark's outskirts to move immediately to pre-established Alert Positions around the city. The Civil Defense Chairman and his staff have established headquarters in the basement of a city-owned reinforced concrete building on the outskirts of the city. Radios, powered by an auxiliary generator, are maintaining contact with police cars and fire apparatus. A report of the attack has gone to Area Headquarters and to the Red Cross.

By 7:00 a.m. the Control Center has received reports indicating the extent of the heaviest damage, and fixed the perimeter area of total destruction.

By 8:00 a.m. road clearance crews are at work clearing the rubble from selected avenues of approach leading to the devastated area. The fire department and fire auxiliaries have swung into action and are operating from previously selected Emergency Water Supply Points. The police department and police auxiliaries are at their posts to prevent panic and looting and to keep the roads clear for official vehicles. Rescue crews are removing the dazed and injured from the wreckage as rapidly as the areas are declared safe by the Radiological Monitor.

Evacuation of the injured, the aged infirm, and children has now become a big problem. Area reinforcements are placed at the disposal of the Defense Chairman. Evacuees are moved to established collection centers five

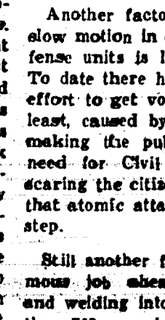
Public Thinks Program Should Be Speeded

By KENNETH FINK,
Director, The New Jersey Poll

Despite U. N. successes in Korea, a majority of the public today (56%) is of the opinion that the Civilian Defense Program in their local communities is not going ahead fast enough.



Less than one in five in the state is satisfied with the progress Civilian Defense is making in his home town.

This was the finding when New Jersey Poll reporters put the following question to a balanced cross-section of the New Jersey voters:

"How do you feel about the Civilian Defense Program in your local community? Do you think it's going ahead fast enough or do you feel it's going ahead too slowly?"

Fast enough	19%
TOO SLOW	56
Don't know	26

As might be expected, with big cities the logical targets in any future war, big city residents throughout the state are more concerned with the problem than are their smaller town neighbors. For example, three out of every five residents of New Jersey's six biggest cities—Newark, Jersey City, Trenton, Elizabeth, Paterson, and Camden—would like to see their home town Civilian Defense Program speeded up.

But nearly as many people living in New Jersey towns and cities with populations between 25,000 and 100,000, such as East Orange, Orange, Bayonne, Garfield, Atlantic City, Plainfield, Passaic, and New Brunswick, share this opinion.

And even in places with fewer than 25,000 people, one out of every two feels that in his community Civilian Defense is not going ahead fast enough.

	Fast enough	Too slow	Don't know
Cities 100,000 & over	17	60	23
25,000 - 99,999	14	57	29
Under 25,000	24	50	26

State and local leaders presently working on Civilian Defense matters should find considerable encouragement from the results of two other questions in today's survey.

These show that the New Jersey public is quite willing to help with Civilian Defense on the local level and that any well publicized call for volunteer workers should bring all the help needed.

"At the present time, would you yourself be willing or not to serve as an auxiliary policeman, fireman, or spotter in the aircraft warning service?"

Yes	65%
No	30
No opinion	5

Party at High School Will Climax Halloween Parade

The line of march for Summit's Halloween parade, sponsored by the Board of Recreation, will form at 7 p. m. at the corner of Springfield avenue and Waldron avenue, near the Community Church. Under police escort and headed by the high school band, the costumed marchers will parade down Springfield avenue to Maple street, turning left and going down Maple to the Morris avenue entrance of the High School.

The service clubs, Rotary, Kiwanis, Lions and Optomists, will each have a three-man committee to judge the various costumes. First, second and third prizes will be given for the prettiest, the most horrifying, most unusual and funniest costumes. Mayor Percival M. Bland will award the prizes. At the same time winners of the Optimist Club window painting contest will receive their prizes.

Ninety business district store windows will be painted in the Optimist Club window painting contest. Painting will be done tomorrow and judging will take place on Sunday. Kent Place School, Oratory, Oak Knoll and the seventh and eighth grades of St. Teresa's School were invited to join with the public schools in the program.

A special program of entertainment has been arranged for the high school portion of the program and will include a cartoon-comedy movie show, magician and a trained dog act. Prizes will be presented following the movie show.

Following the entertainment program refreshments will be served and the program will con-

Red Cross Starts Recruiting For Nurses Aide Class

The Summit Chapter, American Red Cross, responding to another request for nurse's aides issued by Overlook Hospital, is recruiting volunteers, according to Mrs. Walter W. Schormann, volunteer services chairman.

The shortage of professional nurses in this country is still critical, explained Mrs. Schormann. To help ease the burden, Overlook first requested nurse's aides last February, so the Summit Chapter re-activated this service with a refresher class and 12 aides completed the course.

Now, many more aides, both day and evening, are needby by Overlook, and Mrs. Edna W. Dover, superintendent of nurses at the Hospital, has issued an urgent call to the Summit Red Cross to recruit and train as many additional aides as possible. The Chapter also needs aides to assist in the disaster and preparedness relief program, stated Mrs. Schormann.

Miss Margaret Kivlen, William street, a business girl, is one of the aides who has returned to serve during this emergency. Miss Kivlen became a nurse's aide in 1942 and served until the end of the war in 1945. She is now working one evening a week and Saturdays at Overlook.

Another girl who responded to the call is Miss Phyllis Jordan, Summit avenue, also a business girl, and who was an aide during World War II. In spite of her interest in many community activities which make demands on her time, she goes to the Hospital one night a week after work to assist the nurses.

Love of the work, continued Mrs. Schormann, creates an enthusiasm in both girls, who feel that no matter how fatigued they may feel after working, there is a stimulating and satisfying experinece in helping others.

Any woman who has some extra time to give as a volunteer will find this type of work as a nurse's aide particularly worthwhile and rewarding, and she will be filling an urgent need, concluded Mrs. Schormann. Information concerning this work may be secured by calling Red Cross Headquarters, 22 Elm St. Summit 6-2076.

Aviation Engineer Unit Has Openings For Volunteers

The 327 Engineer Aviation Group, an organized Army Reserve Unit, has been authorized to recruit 100 per cent of enlisted personnel, it was announced yesterday.

The outfit, activated in September, 1949, now has 100 per cent officer strength and 90 per cent cadre. Headquarters and drill hall are located at 17 South street, Morristown. The commanding officer is Col. Henry C. Bleg of Chatham, Lt. Col. Carlton A. Fox of New Providence is executive officer.

Vacancies exist in all grades from recruit to master sergeant with a large number of openings for military occupation specialists, the announcement said.

Veterans of any branch of the service are eligible for enlistment at the same rank they held when last discharged from the Army. Promotions are in accordance with the present Army regulations. It is not necessary for recruits to have previous military service. Applications will be accepted from youths 18 years or older, or 17 years with parents consent. There are two paid drills per month.

Additional information can be obtained by visiting headquarters in person or calling Summit 6-6576-M.

"The Breaking Point"

By PAUL PARKER

FOR the second time within a year an Ernest Hemingway story has been adapted for the screen. This time it is the author's 1937 novel "To Have and Have Not," retitled "The Breaking Point." Earlier this year John Garfield, as he does in this one, took the leading role in the screen adaptation of Hemingway's short story "My Old Man."

I don't know whether Mr. Garfield and Ernest have anything in common, but it might seem so since he does, without a doubt, fit to a tee the characterization of a typical Hemingway hero.

In this case, Mr. Garfield plays the part of Henry Morgan, a PT boat veteran terrificly down on his luck who precariously tries to keep his wife and two youngsters in food and clothing by chartering his cruiser (on which payments are due) to fishing parties.

Although Morgan can "spot a marlin a half mile away," when a customer walks out on the bill and leaves him stranded in Mexico, the desperate skipper decides the only thing he has left to peddle are his guts. When a shabby dock front lawyer suggests to Morgan that he might make some money by smuggling Chinese into the States, he loads eight Orientals into his boat and heads for California. Almost before he is under way, he gets the double cross and in a slam-bang fight accidentally kills the ring leader. Back home, minus his passengers whom he left in Mexico, his boat is impounded by the Coast Guard which effectively takes away his only means of earning a living.

By this time the super individualistic skipper is really on the ropes, and he plots an even more desperate scheme to keep his family together—that of piloting the "getaway" boat for a gang of thugs who have swiped several thousand grand from a local race track, then killing them to get the reward.

"The Breaking Point" gives Garfield one of his meatiest roles in many years and he does justice to the role. But one of the nicest things about the film is the fact that Hollywood, never noted for a tendency to glamorize home life, has made a love affair between husband and wife just as exciting and passionate as any between an errant husband and the "other woman." To be sure, there is the "other woman" in "Breaking Point." But she doesn't get to first base despite several noble attempts.

Phyllis Thaxter is outstanding as she plays the part of Morgan's wife, bowed down by drudgery, poverty and fear, yet completely and overwhelmingly determined to keep him.

"The Breaking Point" is a tough, realistic film superbly directed, filmed and acted; one that you should enjoy seeing.

Local and County Candidates To Meet Summit Voters Nov. 3

Candidates for various offices in the coming general election will meet Summit voters at a candidates meeting sponsored by the League of Women Voters to be held at the YMCA auditorium on Friday, November 3, at 8 p.m. Congressional, Freeholder, Sheriff and local candidates will be present.

The meeting will be non-partisan and is being held to give voters an opportunity to hear the candidates' views on matters of legislature and questions of local policy. There will be a question and answer period during which members of the audience may ask questions of the various guests.

Among those present will be Congressman Clifford P. Case of Rahway, who is seeking re-election, and his Democratic opponent, Harry Mopsick of Linden. The six Freeholder candidates, George W. Herlich, Donald M. Pearsall and Albert J. Benninger, all GOP and all seeking re-election, and the three Democratic candidates, John R. Crilly, Oscar T. Lamb and Anna M. Donnelly, will also be present.

Both candidates for Sheriff, Alex T. Cambell (R.) and John L. Bangasz (D.) have accepted invitations to attend.

The local candidates will include Otto F. Taylor, who is seeking re-election to the Common Council; Samuel A. Smith, Jr., also seeking Council re-election, and Louis R. Ackerman, Democratic candidate for Council seat from the Second Ward.

William R. Gilson, GOP incumbent, and Michael J. Barnacle, Democratic opponent, for the office of City Clerk will also appear.

In a reply to a questionnaire prepared by the League of Women Voters, the local candidates have submitted biographical sketches and a statement to voters as follows:

Mr. Gilson, a native of this city, is a graduate of Summit High School, Princeton University and Yale Law School. After 3½ years duty as Lieutenant in the Navy during World War II, he was appointed city clerk on March 1, 1947.

Mr. Gilson is a practicing attorney in this city and is vice president of the Summit Bar Association, a member of the Municipal Youth Guidance Council, a member of the YMCA board of directors, the Rotary Club and secretary of the Planning Board.

Office Is a Service

In his statement to the Women Voters, he says:

"The office of City Clerk is purely administrative and does not involve policy making. Within those limitations, the office should be run as a service to citizens and as efficiently as possible at minimum cost. Particular attention can be paid to improvements in municipal administration and new ideas and methods can and should be encouraged and called to the attention of the governing body."

Mr. Barnacle, the Democratic aspirant to the city clerks office, is a practicing attorney here for nearly three years. He resides at 26 Locust drive and is a member of the Optimist Club, having served as president last year. Mr. Barnacle was born Sept. 24, 1922 and received his LL.B. in 1947

Injury Insurance Extended to All School Children

On recommendation of the education committee and the superintendent of schools, the Board of Education approved a plan Tuesday night expanding its injury insurance coverage for athletes to include all pupils in the school district.

Under the newly adopted plan, it was explained that "It is now possible to insure every pupil against accidental injuries which may occur on the school premises during school hours and while participating in school sponsored and supervised activities either away from the school premises or after school hours. This includes also physical education, playground, shop or other school activities except interscholastic athletics which are insured separately."

$250 Maximum Award

The American Casualty Co. of Reading, Pa., which offers the blanket insurance will pay an amount not exceeding $250 as the result of any one accident. In the event such injury sustained shall result within ninety days from the date of the accident, in the death of the insured, the Reading firm will pay the sum of $500 to the parents or legal guardian of the student.

Conditions and limitations of the insurance contract are explained in a letter being sent every parent. The letter explains that the insurance is optional. It includes an application form which is to be returned to the child's teacher the first four days of next school week. Registration closes November 2.

Board Not an Agent

In its action approving the insurance, the Board of Education was careful to explain that while it approved the offering of the insurance, it is in no sense acting as agent or accepting responsibility regarding the administration of the policy.

Approval was given the appointment of Joseph D. Dannucci of Bound Brook as a part-time elementary instrumental music instructor. He holds a B. S. from the Juilliard School of Music.

Red Cross Starts Recruiting For Nurses Aide Class

The Summit Chapter, American Red Cross, responding to another request for nurse's aides issued by Overlook Hospital, is recruiting volunteers, according to Mrs. Walter W. Schormann, volunteer services chairman.

The shortage of professional nurses in this country is still critical, explained Mrs. Schormann. To help ease the burden, Overlook first requested nurse's aides last February, so the Summit Chapter re-activated this service with a refresher class and 12 aides completed the course.

Now, many more aides, both day and evening, are needby by Overlook, and Mrs. Edna W. Dover, superintendent of nurses at the Hospital, has issued an urgent call to the Summit Red Cross to recruit and train as many additional aides as possible. The Chapter also needs aides to assist in the disaster and preparedness relief program, stated Mrs. Schormann.

Miss Margaret Kivlen, William street, a business girl, is one of the aides who has returned to serve during this emergency. Miss Kivlen became a nurse's aide in 1942 and served until the end of the war in 1945. She is now working one evening a week and Saturdays at Overlook.

Another girl who responded to the call is Miss Phyllis Jordan, Summit avenue, also a business girl, and who was an aide during World War II. In spite of her interest in many community activities which make demands on her time, she goes to the Hospital one night a week after work to assist the nurses.

Love of the work, continued Mrs. Schormann, creates an enthusiasm in both girls, who feel that no matter how fatigued they may feel after working, there is a stimulating and satisfying experience in helping others.

Any woman who has some extra time to give as a volunteer will find this type of work as a nurse's aide particularly worthwhile and rewarding, and she will be filling an urgent need, concluded Mrs. Schormann. Information concerning this work may be secured by calling Red Cross Headquarters, 22 Elm St. Summit 6-2076.

Aviation Engineer Unit Has Openings For Volunteers

The 327 Engineer Aviation Group, an organized Army Reserve Unit, has been authorized to recruit 100 per cent of enlisted personnel, it was announced yesterday.

The outfit, activated in September, 1949, now has 100 per cent officer strength and 90 per cent cadre. Headquarters and drill hall are located at 17 South street, Morristown. The commanding officer is Col. Henry C. Bieg of Chatham. Lt. Col. Carlton A. Fox of New Providence is executive officer.

Vacancies exist in all grades from recruit to master sergeant with a large number of openings for military occupation specialists, the announcement said.

Veterans of any branch of the service are eligible for enlistment at the same rank they held when last discharged from the Army. Promotions are in accordance with the present Army regulations. It is not necessary for recruits to have previous military service. Applications will be accepted from youths 18 years or older, or 17 years with parents consent. There are two paid drills per month.

Additional information can be obtained by visiting headquarters in person or calling Summit 6-6576-M.

The "pine tree shilling," first New England coin, was designed by Joseph Jenks who in 1644 molded the first iron made in America.

Public Health Services work closely with the Welfare Services at Casualty Collection Points to assure safe water, food, and control of communicable diseases.

The Public Works Officer has been directing his emergency crews in damage-control work. Water and gas valves are closed and power lines into the area are protected.

Demolition of dangerous ruins and restoration of city utilities will commence as soon as fires are brought under control and the city is declared relatively free of radiological contamination.

The best evidence that an efficient Civil Defense organization offers hope of salvation even in the face of A-Bomb attacks is offered by the British. In a recent article in COLLIER'S MAGAZINE it was pointed out that the English believe, on the basis of their experience with blockbusters, fly bombs, rockets and incendiaries in World War II, that a well organized Civil Defense team plus an educated public can prevent 75 per cent of the deaths and injuries wrought by the atomic bombing of Japan.

Playing the Cards

There's an old saying that many an Englishman is walking the streets of London because he failed to pull trumps. Close behind must be many another Englishman who deliberately gave declarer a "sluff and a ruff."

If West leads a diamond against South's spade contract, South cannot avoid the loss of a diamond trick. But if West leads a heart, South takes all three tricks by discarding a diamond from either hand (the sluff) and trumping in the opposite hand (the ruff). Leading the heart to give South a sluff and a ruff is doing something for him which he cannot possibly do for himself. So, whenever you know declarer is void of a suit in both hands and has a trump in each hand, don't lead that suit. It is about the worst play a defender can make.

But every rule has its exception.

Against South's six spade contract West opens the queen of diamonds which is taken with the ace. The ace of hearts is cashed, three rounds of trumps are pulled, ending in dummy, then dummy's last heart is trumped in declarer's hand. Now the diamond king is played, followed by another round of diamonds which West wins with the jack. At that stage the holdings are:

With the heart lead South still has to locate the queen of clubs to make his slam. He can try to drop it by cashing the ace and king, or finesse the clubs either way. In any event he may guess wrong and lose the slam.

Once more the exception proves the rule.

Local and County Candidates To Meet Summit Voters Nov. 3

Candidates for various offices in the coming general election will meet Summit voters at a candidates meeting sponsored by the League of Women Voters to be held at the YMCA auditorium on Friday, November 3, at 8 p.m. Congressional, Freeholder, Sheriff and local candidates will be present.

The meeting will be non-partisan and is being held to give voters an opportunity to hear the candidates' views on matters of legislature and questions of local policy. There will be a question and answer period during which members of the audience may ask questions of the various guests.

Among those present will be Congressman Clifford P. Case of Rahway, who is seeking re-election, and his Democratic opponent, Harry Mopsick of Linden. The six Freeholder candidates, George W. Herlich, Donald M. Pearsall and Albert J. Benninger, all GOP and all seeking re-election, and the three Democratic candidates, John R. Crilly, Oscar T. Lamb and Anna M. Donnelly, will also be present.

Both candidates for Sheriff, Alex T. Cambell (R.) and John L. Bangasz (D.) have accepted invitations to attend.

The local candidates will include Otto F. Taylor, who is seeking re-election to the Common Council; Samuel A. Smith, Jr., also seeking Council re-election, and Louis R. Ackerman, Democratic candidate for Council seat from the Second Ward.

William R. Gilson, GOP incumbent, and Michael J. Barnacle, Democratic opponent, for the office of City Clerk will also appear.

In a reply to a questionnaire prepared by the League of Women Voters, the local candidates have submitted biographical sketches and a statement to voters as follows:

Mr. Gilson, a native of this city, is a graduate of Summit High School, Princeton University and Yale Law School. After 3½ years duty as Lieutenant in the Navy during World War II, he was appointed city clerk on March 1, 1947.

Mr. Gilson is a practicing attorney in this city and is vice president of the Summit Bar Association, a member of the Municipal Youth Guidance Council, a member of the YMCA board of directors, the Rotary Club and secretary of the Planning Board.

Office Is a Service

In his statement to the Women Voters, he says:

"The office of City Clerk is purely administrative and does not involve policy making. Within those limitations, the office should be run as a service to citizens and as efficiently as possible at minimum cost. Particular attention can be paid to improvements in municipal administration and new ideas and methods can and should be encouraged and called to the attention of the governing body."

Mr. Barnacle, the Democratic aspirant to the city clerks office, is a practicing attorney here for nearly three years. He resides at 26 Locust drive and is a member of the Optimist Club, having served as president last year. Mr. Barnacle was born Sept. 24, 1922 and received his LL.B. in 1947

On recommendation of the education committee and the superintendent of schools, the Board of Education approved a plan Tuesday night expanding its injury insurance coverage for athletes to include all pupils in the school district.

Under the newly adopted plan, it was explained that "It is now possible to insure every pupil against accidental injuries which may occur on the school premises during school hours and while participating in school sponsored and supervised activities either away from the school premises or after school hours. This includes also physical education, playground, shop or other school activities except interscholastic athletics which are insured separately."

$250 Maximum Award

The American Casualty Co. of Reading, Pa., which offers the blanket insurance will pay an amount not exceeding $250 as the result of any one accident. In the event such injury sustained shall result within ninety days from the date of the accident, in the Reading firm will pay the sum of $500 to the parents or legal guardian of the student.

Conditions and limitations of the insurance contract are explained in a letter being sent every parent. The letter explains that the insurance is optional. It includes an application form which is to be returned to the child's teacher the first four days of next school week. Registration closes November 2.

Board Not an Agent

In its action approving the insurance, the Board of Education was careful to explain that while it approved the offering of the insurance, it is in no sense acting as agent or accepting responsibility regarding the administration of the policy.

Approval was given the appointment of Joseph D. Dannucci of Bound Brook as a part-time elementary instrumental music instructor. He holds a B. S. from the Juilliard School of Music.

Because of a class of 37 children at Franklin School, a new teacher was employed for the

Defense Units Plan Test

Summit's Civil Defense and Red Cross disaster units will undergo a test on Tuesday, November 7 (Election Day) when a mock disaster will be proclaimed.

Further information will be revealed by the Red Cross and Civil Defense authorities but volunteers are requested to keep the date open. The test will involve only members of the defense organization and not other residents.

Be sure to vote Tuesday, November 7, and urge your friends and neighbors to vote.

Party at High School Will Climax Halloween Parade

The line of march for Summit's Halloween parade, sponsored by the Board of Recreation, will form at 7 p. m. at the corner of Springfield avenue and Waldron avenue, near the Community Church. Under police escort and headed by the high school band, the costumed marchers will parade down Springfield avenue to Maple street, turning left and going down Maple to the Morris avenue entrance of the High School.

The service clubs, Rotary, Kiwanis, Lions and Optomists, will each have a three-man committee to judge the various costumes. First, second and third prizes will be given for the prettiest, the most horrifying, most unusual and funniest costumes. Mayor Percival M. Bland will award the prizes. At the same time winners of the Optimist Club window painting contest will receive their prizes.

Ninety business district store windows will be painted in the Optimist Club window painting contest. Painting will be done tomorrow and judging will take place on Sunday. Kent Place School, Oratory, Oak Knoll and the seventh and eighth grades of St. Teresa's School were invited to join with the public schools in the program.

A special program of entertainment has been arranged for the high school portion of the program and will include a cartoon-comedy movie show, magician and a trained dog act. Prizes will be presented following the movie show.

Following the entertainment program refreshments will be served and the program will con-

Red Cross Starts Recruiting For Nurses Aide Class

The Summit Chapter, American Red Cross, responding to another request for nurse's aides issued by Overlook Hospital, is recruiting volunteers, according to Mrs. Walter W. Schormann, volunteer services chairman.

The shortage of professional nurses in this country is still critical, explained Mrs. Schormann. To help ease the burden, Overlook first requested nurse's aides last February, so the Summit Chapter re-activated this service with a refresher class and 12 aides completed the course.

Now, many more aides, both day and evening, are needby by Overlook, and Mrs. Edna W. Dover, superintendent of nurses at the Hospital, has issued an urgent call to the Summit Red Cross to recruit and train as many additional aides as possible. The Chapter also needs aides to assist in the disaster and preparedness relief program, stated Mrs. Schormann.

Miss Margaret Kivlen, William street, a business girl, is one of the aides who has returned to serve during this emergency. Miss Kivlen became a nurse's aide in 1942 and served until the end of the war in 1945. She is now working one evening a week and Saturdays at Overlook.

Another girl who responded to the call is Miss Phyllis Jordan, Summit avenue, also a business girl, and who was an aide during World War II. In spite of her interest in many community activities which make demands on her time, she goes to the Hospital one night a week after work to assist the nurses.

Love of the work, continued Mrs. Schormann, creates an enthusiasm in both girls, who feel that no matter how fatigued they may feel after working, there is a stimulating and satisfying experinece in helping others.

Any woman who has some extra time to give as a volunteer will find this type of work as a nurse's aide particularly worthwhile and rewarding, and she will be filling an urgent need, concluded Mrs. Schormann. Information concerning this work may be secured by calling Red Cross Headquarters, 22 Elm St. Summit 6-2076.

Aviation Engineer Unit Has Openings For Volunteers

The 327 Engineer Aviation Group, an organized Army Reserve Unit, has been authorized to recruit 100 per cent of enlisted personnel, it was announced yesterday.

The outfit, activated in September, 1949, now has 100 per cent officer strength and 90 per cent cadre. Headquarters and drill hall are located at 17 South street, Morristown. The commanding officer is Col. Henry C. Bieg of Chatham. Lt. Col. Carlton A. Fox of New Providence is executive officer.

Vacancies exist in all grades from recruit to master sergeant with a large number of openings for military occupation specialists, the announcement said.

Veterans of any branch of the service are eligible for enlistment at the same rank they held when last discharged from the Army. Promotions are in accordance with the present Army regulations. It is not necessary for recruits to have previous military service. Applications will be accepted from youths 18 years or older, or 17 years with parents consent. There are two paid drills per month.

Additional information can be obtained by visiting headquarters in person or calling Summit 6-6576-M.

The "pine tree shilling," first New England coin, was designed by Joseph Jenks who in 1644 molded the first iron made in America.

United Campaign Lacks $53,190 To Meet Goal

Summit's United Campaign total reached $94,206 at Sunday's report Hugo Meyer, Campaign chairman, announced that another report has been scheduled for tonight at the YWCA at 8:30 p.m. He stated, "With $53,190 still needed to reach our minimum objective of $147,-396 we still have enough cards outstanding to make our full objective." He added, "It will take determined effort on the part of all of the campaign workers but I am sure that we will succeed."

The breakdown on last Sunday's report shows the following totals for each of the campaign divisions. Special Gifts, $28,474; advance gifts, $21,544; local business, $8,-345; chain business, $340; industry, $5,225; general northside, $13,-271 general southside, $12,070; apartment northside, $3,077; apartments southside, $1,061.

Sunday's report showed the Special Gifts division as the nearest to its quota with $28,474, 78 per cent of quota. The next nearest to completion is the apartment north division with $3,077 reported for 76 per cent of its quota.

North, South Teams Close

The gap between the north and south sides of the general division narrowed down to a difference of $1,201 with the north side presently in the lead. Although the north and south sides each have more than half of their cards outstanding it appears that this keen competition will continue until every call has been completed. A good report from both of these divisions is expected tonight.

In summing up after this fourth report session Chairman Meyer pointed out that the committee was disturbed by the large number of incompleted cards that had been returned Sunday. He said, "We can only succeed in this all out effort to meet the minimum needs of the agencies of Summit by having everyone contribute. The slogan of the Community Chests of the land, "Everybody Benefits, Everybody Gives" must also hold true in our community. The percentage of cards that have been returned without gifts to date has been much too great.

City Should Do Better

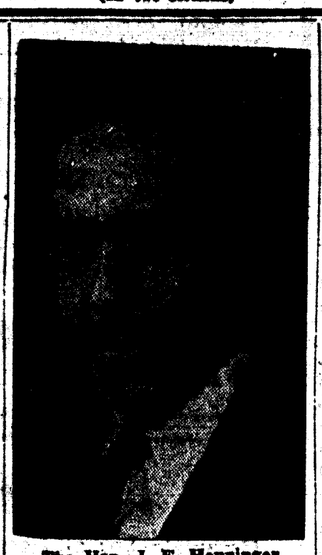
It was pointed out that many new givers had already been found in this year's effort but that Summit is still running far behind average for this size community in the number of prospects declining to help the local health and welfare agencies.

Campaign Headquarters announced that increases have been forthcoming over contributions in other years in all of the campaign divisions. A 24 per cent increase over last year's standard must be maintained to subscribe the full objective.

The intensive stage of the Campaign will continue until October 31 when a clean up squad will then attempt to finish up on all of the incompleted calls in each of the nine campaign divisions.

Stores Open Election Day

Retail stores that are members of the Summit Area Chamber of Commerce will remain open on Tuesday, November 7—Election Day—and also on Saturday, November 11, Armistice Day.



The Hon. J. F. Henninger

Federal Judge To Speak at Union Service

A union reformation service will be sponsored by the Summit Council of Churches next Sunday, October 29, at 4 p.m. at St. John's Lutheran Church, Beechwood road and DeForest avenue. The speaker will be the Hon. James F. Henninger, president judge of the 31st judicial district, with court in Allentown, Pa.

Judge Henninger has been an active layman in the United Lutheran Church in America, having served on its executive board since 1942 and on its commission of adjudication from 1933 to 1942. In 1947 he was a delegate to the assembly of the Lutheran World Federation in Lund, Sweden. In 1942 Muhlenberg College conferred the LL. D. degree upon him.

The service will be conducted by Rev. W. S. Hinman of St. John's, assisted by George A. Martin and W. Knapp Bailey, president and treasurer respectively of the Summit Council of Churches. Music will be furnished by an augmented choir of St. John's.

In addition to the member churches of the Summit Council of Churches, the First Lutheran Church has been invited to unite with the others in this service.

Sen. Hendrickson To Attend GOP Dance on Nov. 4

Robert C. Hendrickson, one of the outstanding members of the U. S. Senate, has notified Edward A. Pizzi, general chairman of the reception and dance to be held under the sponsorship of the Summit Republican City Committee and Summit Young Republicans, which will be held on Friday evening, November 4, at the Hotel Beechwood, that he will be present at the dance to meet his many Republican friends of Summit and vicinity.

Although he is not a candidate this year, Senator Hendrickson has been working diligently to assist in the election of a Republican Congress. This will be his only visit to Union County. Senator Hendrickson will be accompanied by Congressman Clifford C. Case and Mrs. Case.

Present also will be the county and local candidates who have already notified Chairman Pizzi of their intention to be present.

Overlook Board Not to Curtail Building Plans

A decision not to curtail plans for the new building program at Overlook Hospital was agreed upon by the board of trustees at a meeting held October 19. As a result, the architects, Eggers & Higgins, were instructed to proceed immediately with working drawings of the proposed master plan of construction to include both the east and west wings as originally contemplated.

This action followed an earlier meeting, called by the Department of Institutions and Agencies, when representatives of both the state and the hospital, together with architects of both parties, went over construction plans. The State informed John R. Montgomery, president of the Overlook board, that it was believed desireable to proceed with the original plans, in anticipation that some of the Federal grant for the new building would be restored during the early part of 1951.

Mr. Montgomery emphasized the fact that no definite assurance was given by the State that all, or any, of the cutback in funds will be restored but he added that after "due and careful consideration of all apparent alternatives" the board decided it would be advisable to proceed as originally planned.

"When the working drawings are completed in the spring," Mr. Montgomery said, "and if it is then found there is little chance of Federal aid, the board can at that time decide whether to build as much as we can with the money we have available."

"If the latter decision is necessary, it will simply mean that we have paid for such part of the working drawings as may not be used at that time, but this will always be ready and available when funds are on hand to complete the program."

Police Run Into Snag in War On Gun Shooting

Summit police ran into difficulties Sunday afternoon in their current campaign to halt indiscriminate shooting of firearms. The police spent several busy hours tracking down complaints of shooting and arrested one man but were powerless to act against two others.

Acting on a complaint of residents in the vicinity of Passaic avenue, Detective John Sayre and Sergeant William F. Behre arrested Joseph Barbini, 20, of 358 South Seventh street, Newark, for discharging firearms within the city limits. Barbini said he was shooting at bottles and other targets in the Passaic river. He was using live .22 caliber ammunition. He was released in $25 bail for arraignment before Judge Albert H. Bierman on November 2.

Police also investigated shooting complaints from homebwners in lower Kent Place Boulevard and discovered two men, one from Summit and one from Ohio, shooting at clay pigeons along the Passaic river in Chatham Township. One of the men was using a shot gun and the other a pump gun.

Since shooting is legal in Chatham Township the local police were unable to halt the gun fire even though it was near this city and the shots could be clearly heard on this side of the river. Chief Rustem Bey of Chatham Township was notified but stated that "shooting is legal here."

Auxiliary Police Unit To Meet This Evening

All auxiliary police members are urged to attend a meeting tonight at 8 p.m. at Lincoln School auditorium where matters of civilian defense will be discussed. Former Mayor Maxwell Lester, Jr., civil defense chairman for Summit, and Chief of Police Edward Egan will be the principal speakers.

William R. Gilson, city clerk, will be present to swear in those members who have already been photographed and finger-printed and will issue badges.

To date, seventy men have volunteered for auxiliary police work. The quota for Summit is 125. Persons desiring to enroll as members of the unit are invited to attend the meeting.

Be Sure to vote Tuesday, November 7, and urge your friends and neighbors to vote.

SUMMIT HIGH'S CHEERLEADERS—These young ladies pep matters up at all of the school's football games whether at home or away. They will travel to Madison with their team, Saturday. Next time they will appear at Soldiers Memorial Field will be Armistice Day when Summit High's gridders close out the season against Caldwell here in a Suburban Conference game. Left to right, they are the Misses Sally Ann Marsh, Isabelle Scherer, Vera Menning, Helen Coombs, Joanna DeLuca, Marie Langhorne, Joan Melillie and Bea Ransen.—(Cheli Frantzen.)

Chubb & Son of New York To Build New Office Here

400 Workers Affected By Move to This Area

Chubb & Son, insurance underwriters, of 90 John street, New York City, has announced that it will move certain administrative functions of its New York offices to an office to be located in Millburn Township, near Summit. It is understood that the move will involve approximately 400 employes.

The Summit office will take care of accounting functions and it is planned to contsruct a building on the new location and open the offices sometime after September 1, 1951.

The site of the office is on land recently acquired by the Prudential Life Insurance Co., for a suburban shopping center. The building will be located on the Canoe Brook side of Morris Turnpike and will overlook the Commonwealth reservoir.

The Prudential Life Insurance Co. confirmed the report that Chubb is "negotiating" for the leasing of a tract of land in the projected shopping center area but emphasized that final details of the transaction have not been completed nor has the lease been "formally ratified by either parties."

Prudential officials pointed out that the proposed leasing arrangement with Chubb does not in any way affect the Prudential's plan for the shopping center and stated that the proposed office building would complement the over-all shopping center project. They explained that construction of the building, if approved, would be entirely handled by Chubb & Son.

Doctor Draft Includes Two From Summit

Fourteen Union County doctors, two of them from Summit, five dentists and two veterinarians were registered last week at Selective Services Board 44, Plainfield, during the one-day registration of members of those professions. A total of 44 was registered throughout the county by all three draft boards.

Last week's registration was for first priority groups. Two other groups are to be called within the next few months. Like other registrants, the professional men must undergo physical tests before their eligibility status is determined. There are nine categories for deferment, but those classified "1-A" will go into the induction pool. The Department of Denfense has asked Selective Service to induct 922 doctors, 500 dentists and 100 vets between November and January 15, 1951.

Exams Slated for Jobs At Summit Post Office

An examination for regular competitive appointment to clerk-carrier jobs in the Summit Post Office has been announced by the director of the New York Office of the U. S. Civil Service Commission. The starting salary for these jobs is $1.315 an hour.

Persons living within the delivery of the Post Office or who are bona fide patrons of the Post Office will be considered.

No specific education or experience is required but applicants must take a written examination which includes a general test and a test of their ability to sort material and to follow instructions.

Further information on the examination and the necessary card forms for applying may be obtained from the Summit Post Office.

Applications must be received in the Regional Office not later than November 7.

Group Organized To Give Draftees Farewell Ceremony

Summit draftees will no longer be "forgotten men" when they leave for military service in the future. Formation of a Veterans Committee of Summit was announced this week for the purpose of giving send offs to local men who are inducted into the armed forces.

Each draft group from now on will be presented with small gifts donated by the veterans' organizations and a box lunch by the Red Cross. The salute to the men will take place at Red Cross headquarters, Elm street, and transportation to Board 44, Plainfield, will be provided by the veterans, if required.

A brief talk of appreciation and commendation will be given to each group as a reminder that the city is not unaware of the service of her sons. The Committee said that it is felt that the sacrifices made by draftees in leaving home for military service should not be allowed to go unrecognized.

The veterans' groups also announced plans for a joint observance of Armistice Day to be held November 11 at the monument at Bonnell Park. A speaker will be selected. All fraternal and civic organizations are asked to participate in the brief and simple ceremony being planned.

Junior High PTA Plans Children's Movie Show

A special benefit childrens' movie will be shown at the Strand theater on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, Nov. 7, 8, and 9, under the sponsorship of the Junior High PTA.

The picture will be "Rogue's of Sherwood Forest," a sequel to Robin Hood. The technicolor film is recommended by the Children's Film Library Committee.

Grade schools will close at 11:45 a.m. on Election Day and the junior and senior high schools will close at 12:45 p.m. so that parents and children may see the matinee showing.

Be Sure to vote Tuesday, November 7, and urge your friends and neighbors to vote.

Movie Vandalism And Rowdyism A 'Major Problem'

Repeated instances of rowdyism and vandalism by 'teen-age movie patrons has brought promise of arrest by Summit Police unless there is an immediate change of manners on the part of both boys and girls attending Friday evening shows at the Strand theater, it was learned this week.

According to William Bookbinder, manager of the Strand, and Detective John Sayre, juvenile officer, it apparently has become a fashion among high school youths to "take over" the movie on Friday nights. For the last several weeks police have been given lists of names of youngsters who were caught being a nuisance and ousted from the theater by the special police officer in charge. In most cases, the children come from the better neighborhoods of the city.

Seats Are Slashed

In addition to yelling, cheering, stomping and calling to one another during the show, the youths amuse themselves by slashing the seat upholstery with pen knives, throwing candy and shooting hapless patrons with spitballs fired from sling-shots.

Detective Sayre stated that an average of 12 to 15 boys and girls are sent out of the theater each week. Last week three girls were included on the list of names turned over to police. All children reported to the police are barred from future attendance at the Strand by the manager.

So far, the police have only informed parents of their children's misconduct while at the movies but both the theater manager and police stated this week that in the future offenders will be taken before Juvenile Court at Elizabeth.

Calling the situation a "major problem," Detective Sayre urged that parents speak to their children about movie behavior and manners.

Local Man Cited For Volunteer Work

Frederic Parker of 942 Springfield avenue, a volunteer corpsman at Morristown Memorial Hospital, was cited at a dinner held October 16 for contributing the largest number of hours during 1950. Pfc. Parker's hours amounted to 772.

The dinner, held at Bottle Hill Tavern, Madison, honored the volunteer corps which has completed seven years of service. The principal duties of the corpsmen are the night driving of the two ambulances and assisting doctors in both emergency and routine treatment. They also aid the nurses.

Library Receives Gift in Memory of Miss Dillingham

In memory of Betty Lee Dillingham, who died in September of this year, a book has been presented to the Summit Public Library by a friend.

The book is entitled "American Painting, History and Interpretation," written by Virgil Barker.

Local and County Candidates To Meet Summit Voters Nov. 3

Candidates for various offices in the coming general election will meet Summit voters at a candidates meeting sponsored by the League of Women Voters to be held at the YMCA auditorium on Friday, November 3, at 8 p.m. Congressional, Freeholder, Sheriff and local candidates will be present.

The meeting will be non-partisan and is being held to give voters an opportunity to hear the candidates' views on matters of legislature and questions of local policy. There will be a question and answer period during which members of the audience may ask questions of the various guests.

Among those present will be Congressman Clifford P. Case of Rahway, who is seeking re-election, and his Democratic opponent, Harry Mopsick of Linden. The six Freeholder candidates, George W. Herlich, Donald M. Pearsall and Albert J. Benninger, all GOP and all seeking re-election, and the three Democratic candidates, John R. Crilly, Oscar T. Lamb and Anna M. Donnelly, will also be present.

Both candidates for Sheriff, Alex T. Cambell (R.) and John L. Bangasz (D.) have accepted invitations to attend.

The local candidates will include Otto F. Taylor, who is seeking re-election to the Common Council; Samuel A. Smith, Jr., also seeking Council re-election, and Louis R. Ackerman, Democratic candidate for Council seat from the Second Ward.

William R. Gilson, GOP incumbent, and Michael J. Barnacle, Democratic opponent, for the office of City Clerk will also appear.

In a reply to a questionnaire prepared by the League of Women Voters, the local candidates have submitted biographical sketches and a statement to voters as follows:

Mr. Gilson, a native of this city, is a graduate of Summit High School, Princeton University and Yale Law School. After 3½ years duty as Lieutenant in the Navy during World War II, he was appointed city clerk on March 1, 1947.

Mr. Gilson is a practicing attorney in this city and is vice president of the Summt Bar Association, a member of the Municipal Youth Guidance Council, a member of the YMCA board of directors, the Rotary Club and secretary of the Planning Board.

Office Is a Service

In his statement to the Women Voters, he says:

"The office of City Clerk is purely administrative and does not involve policy making. Within those limitations, the office should be run as a service to citizens and as efficiently as possible at minimum cost. Particular attention can be paid to improvements in municipal administration and new ideas and methods can and should be encouraged and called to the attention of the governing body."

Mr. Barnacle, the Democratic aspirant to the city clerks office, is a practicing attorney here for nearly three years. He resides at 26 Locust drive and is a member of the Optimist Club, having served as president last year. Mr. Barnacle was born Sept. 24, 1922 and received his LL.B. in 1947

Injury Insurance Extended to All School Children

On recommendation of the education committee and the superintendent of schools, the Board of Education approved a plan Tuesday night expanding its injury insurance coverage for athletes to include all pupils in the school district.

Under the newly adopted plan, it was explained that "It is now possible to insure every pupil against accidental injuries which may occur on the school premises during school hours and while participating in school sponsored and supervised activities either away from the school premises or after school hours. This includes also physical education, playground, shop or other school activities except interscholastic athletics which are insured separately."

$250 Maximum Award

The American Casualty Co. of Reading, Pa., which offers the blanket insurance will pay an amount not exceeding $250 as the result of any one accident. In the event such injury sustained shall result within ninety days from the date of the accident, in the death of the insured, the Reading firm will pay the sum of $500 to the parents or legal guardian of the student.

Conditions and limitations of the insurance contract are explained in a letter being sent every parent. The letter explains that the insurance is optional. It includes an application form which is to be returned to the child's teacher the first four days of next school week. Registration closes November 2.

Board Not an Agent

In its action approving the insurance, the Board of Education was careful to explain that while it approved the offering of the insurance, it is in no sense acting as agent or accepting responsibility regarding the administration of the policy.

Approval was given the appointment of Joseph D. Dannucci of Bound Brook as a part-time elementary instrumental music instructor. He holds a B. S. from the Julliard School of Music.

Because of a class of 37 children at Franklin School, a new teacher was employed for the

Defense Units Plan Test

Summit's Civil Defense and Red Cross disaster units will undergo a test on Tuesday, November 7 (Election Day) when a mock disaster will be proclaimed.

Further information will be revealed by the Red Cross and Civil Defense authorities but volunteers are requested to keep the date open. The test will involve only members of the defense organization and not other residents.

Party at High School Will Climax Halloween Parade

The line of march for Summit's Halloween parade, sponsored by the Board of Recreation, will form at 7 p. m. at the corner of Springfield avenue and Waldron avenue, near the Community Church. Under police escort and headed by the high school band, the costumed marchers will parade down Springfield avenue to Maple street, turning left and going down Maple to the Morris avenue entrance of the High School.

The service clubs, Rotary, Kiwanis, Lions and Optomists, will each have a three-man committee to judge the various costumes. First, second and third prizes will be given for the prettiest, the most horrifying, most unusual and funniest costumes. Mayor Percival M. Bland will award the prizes. At the same time winners of the Optimist Club window painting contest will receive their prizes.

Ninety business district store windows will be painted in the Optimist Club window painting contest. Painting will be done tomorrow and judging will take place on Sunday. Kent Place School, Oratory, Oak Knoll and the seventh and eighth grades of St. Teresa's School were invited to join with the public schools in the program.

A special program of entertainment has been arranged for the high school portion of the program and will include a cartoon-comedy movie show, magician and a trained dog act. Prizes will be presented following the movie show.

Following the entertainment program refreshments will be served and the program will com-

Local Man Denies Police Officer's Assault Charge

William J. Thompson, local businessman, entered a plea of innocent to charges of assault and battery brought by Officer George Gerrity of the Summit Police Department following an alleged altercation between Mr. Thompson and the officer outside of police headquarters last Thursday evening.

Mr. Thompson, who conducts a gift shop on Beechwood road, was placed under arrest by Officer Gerrity and a hearing on the charge was held the same evening at police court by Judge Albert W. Bierman. The Judge reserved decision and released Mr. Thompson in his own custody. There were no witnesses. Mr. Thompson signed a waiver and appeared on his own behalf.

The police officer claimed that about 8 p.m. that evening he was entering headquarters when he was struck a blow by Mr. Thompson, who was leaving. Words followed and Mr. Thompson was returned to headquarters under arrest on the assault and battery charge.

Mr. Thompson stated that he did not deliberately strike the officer who was not in uniform, but brushed against him as he was leaving the station, being unable to see clearly because of the darkness. He claimed that his elbow accidently brushed against Officer Gerrity and the officer said "Can't you see where you're going." Mr. Thompson, according to his testimony, replied, "Yes, can't you see where you are going?" Other words followed between the two parties and Mr. Thompson stated that the police officer then grabbed him by the collar, twisting his necktie, and brought him back to the police desk under arrest.

Officer Gerrity claimed that Mr. Thompson deliberately struck him with his elbow and told the Judge Mr. Thompson had previously issued complaints about him to the Mayor and Chief of Police.

Mr. Thompson told the Judge that "if a person were going to assault an officer he wouldn't do it in front of the police station."

Judge Bierman cautioned both parties to confine their remarks solely to the charge and that he would reserve decision on the hearing. Testimony of both Mr. Thompson and Officer Gerrity was made under oath at Mr. Thompson's request.

In other cases brought before Judge Bierman, LeRoy Moorman of Morristown was fined $12, plus $3 costs, for speeding and Robert J. Gelroy of Newark was fined $3, plus $2 costs, on a similar charge.

Yale Eastman of 19 Oak Ridge avenue was fined $5, plus $3 costs for careless driving; Arthur Tucker of Boonton, $12, plus $3 costs; Salvatore Matrisciano, $12 plus $3 costs, and Andrew Picone of South street, New Providence, $12, plus $3 costs, all careless driving cases.

David Cromwell of 42 Railroad avenue was fined $50 and $3 costs and also a possible jail term of ten days for driving with fictitious plates. James O. Souder of 13 Oak Knoll was fined $3 and $2 costs for driving without license or registration and Joseph P. Major of Vaux Hall $5 and $3 cost for improper lights.

H. E. Woodruff of Madison entered a plea of innocence to a charge of driving while under the influence of liquor and a hearing was set for November 8.

Fred Whitehead of Madison was fined $10 and $3 costs for failing to signal a right turn, thereby causing Officer Britt to fall off his cycle. Officer Britt received slight injuries as a result.

Robert Johnson of 4 Beekman road was fined $10 for burning rubbish without a permit.

Art Association To Give Lectures On Modern Art

A series of four illustrated talks on modern art, given by Benjamin Karp, head of the art department of Montclair Teachers' College, will be presented by the Summit Art Association. The series will be held on Thursday at 8 p.m. beginning November 2 and will continue through November 30 at the Art Association rooms, Springfield avenue and Kent Place boulevard.

Mr. Karp will trace the evolution of art from the impressionist to surrealism. A unique feature of the course will be colored-chalk painting by the audience based on an analysis of the different movements under consideration.

A charge is being made for the course and information may be obtained from the Association.

The Association will also present an exhibit of watercolors by E. Adele Hepbron of this city and of carved birds by Charles G. Chase of Wiscasset, Me., this Sunday and continuing through November 12.

Murray Hill Woman Named Chairman Of Volunteers

Mrs. Paul Vreeland, Livingston avenue, Murray Hill, was appointed chairman of Volunteer Services of the Summit Chapter, American Red Cross, at a recent meeting of the executive board, according to an announcement by A. Clifford Bernard, chapter chairman.

For three years, Mrs. Vreeland was assistant business manager of the American Women's Association of New York City with previous publicity contacts in the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce. She had had considerable experience working in the Red Cross, declared Mr. Bernard, having been treasurer of Home Service of the Summit Chapter during the recent war, and president of Prisoner of War representative for the Summit area.

Mrs. Vreeland succeeds Mrs. Walter W. Schormann, who has been Volunteer Services chairman for the past three years, and who has just been appointed chairman of the Blood Typing Program. In past years, Mrs. Schormann has been a chapter vice-chairman, Nurse Recruitment chairman, and an instructor and vice-chairman of First Aid.

The Volunteer Services chairman is directly responsible for the functioning of the following services: Canteen, Motor Service Gray Ladies at Lyons Hospital, Community Gray Ladies, Braille, Soundscribing, Production and Supply, Staff Aides, Nurse's Aides, Social Welfare Aides, Survey and Recruitment, and Instruction and Recognition.

Mr. Bernard also told the executive board members that new servicemen now leaving Summit are getting some recognition. Some members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, American Legion, and the Red Cross will be at the train at 6:45 with a gift. A plea for evening drivers for Motor Service was made, and an Orientation course was announced, "Introduction to Red Cross," conducted by Mrs Henry Lucas on Nov. 9 and 16 at the Chapter House, open to anyone interested in knowing more about the Red Cross.

Summit Groups To Hear Report On Red China

Home for the first time since the days of World War II, Charles Jorgensen, YMCA World Service worker in China, will be the guest of the Summit YMCA for a two-day visit October 29 and 30. During his stay Mr. Jorgensen will speak Sunday evening to the Fireside Forum of First Baptist Church and to the Summit Rotary Club at its regular Monday luncheon. On Monday evening he will also report directly to the YMCA World Services committee and contributors at the home of Woodruff J. English, chairman of the local World Services group.

Since sailing from New York in 1944, Mr. Jorgensen has lived through the most turbulent events of modern Chinese history, including the ravaging Sino-Japanese war, the postwar years of reconstruction, the Chinese civil war, and the eventual triumph of the Communists. For the last year and four months, he has lived under the Communist-dominated People's government in Nanchang.

Arrived During War

When Mr. Jorgensen first arrived in China in the summer of 1944, World War II was raging, and his post in Kunming had become the crossroads for southwest China. The terminal point of the Burma Road and the air base for shuttle service over the hump to India, Kunming served, too, as a haven for refugees, students and soldiers from all over the country. Mr. Jorgensen helped administer relief to the millions of refugees that passed through the city and carried on YMCA recreational and educational services for allied (including North American) troops.

After 14 months of wartime service in Kunming, Mr. Jorgensen journed to Changsha, being one of the first to return to this city which has been completely bombed and burned out three times.

Lieut. (j.g.) George T. Stahl, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis E. Stahl of 46 Franklin place, has been called to active duty with the Navy and left by plane Saturday for the Pacific Coast. He recently moved with his family to a new home at Huntington, L. I.

During World War II, Lieutenant Stahl served as communication officer on the staff of Admiral C.A.L. Sprague on the Essex class carrier, Ticonderoga.

Judge Kenyon Will Address College Club Tomorrow

Miss Dorothy Kenyon who has served as U.S. Delegate to the Commission on the Status of Women of the United Nations, will speak on "The United Nations and You" at the Baptist Church parish rooms tomorrow evening, at 8 p.m. This will be an open meeting of the College Club, and guests will be welcomed. Members of the League of Women Voters have received a special invitation to be present.

A distinguished lawyer and former municipal court judge in New York, Miss Kenyon was in the national limelight early this year when her name appeared on one of Senator Joseph McCarthy's lists of Communist sympathizers. She immediately went to Washington and vigorously defended herself in an appearance before the McCarthy committee. While McCarthy himself has not been recorded as making any formal apologies, other members of the committee assured Miss Kenyon that they felt there was no basis for such a charge.

Miss Kenyon was graduated from Smith College and in law from New York University. She is a Phi Beta Kappa and has been awarded a number of honorary degrees, the latest from Oberlin last June. Her work with the United Nations was preceded by membership on a committee of jurists appointed by the League of Nations to study the legal status of women throughout the world, and she is vice-president of the International Alliance of Women for Suffrage and Equal Citizenship.

Other interests and activities of Miss Kenyon include service as director and legal adviser to many consumer cooperative organizations, membership on the national board of the American Civil Liberties Union, on the national board of the YWCA, and member of the advisory board of the N.Y. state and city League of Women Voters. She is a vice-president of the national AAUW with which the Summit College Club is affiliated.

A prominent Summit resident, Theodore S. Kenyon, of 80 Bellevue avenue is Miss Dorothy Kenyon's brother. Mr. and Mrs. Kenyon will be special guests of the College Club at the Friday evening meeting.

Roosevelt PTA Lists Program For Coming Year

Roosevelt School PTA presented the program for the year at a special meeting of the executive board.

A barrel of fun party will be held December 12 and the Christmas party will be on December 19. Father's night will be observed January 16 and Founder's Day on February 13. All events will begin at 8 p.m.

Tentative plans are made for a square dance on March 13 and the annual meeting and election of officers on May 15. The April meeting date is open and sometime during June there will be an open house and exhibit of student's work.

The following class mothers were appointed:

Mrs. Everett Delph, Mrs. Anthony Colangelo, kindergarten; Mrs. Everett Delph, Mrs. Alvin Morris, first grade; Mrs. Milton Sherman, Mrs. Arthur Bratloff, second grade; Mrs. Salvatore Cocharlo, Mrs. Adam Scheppe, Mrs. Harold Chasalow, third grade; Mrs. Robert English, Mrs. Clarence Smith, fourth grade; Mrs. Anthony Colangelo, Mrs. James Rosa, fifth grade; Mrs. Joseph Mandatto, Mrs. Nicholas Caporaso, sixth grade. All classroom teas were held this month.

Mrs. Donald Cain is chairman of membership, Mrs. Milton Sherman, refreshments and hospitality, with Mrs. Harold Chasalow, co-chairman; Mrs. Samuel Cross, entertainment, and Mrs. John L. Duffy, publicity.

Members of the executive committee are Mrs. Adam Scheppe, president; Mrs. Donald Cain, first vice-president; Mrs. Paul B. Ryan, second vice-president; Mrs. James Rosa, secretary; Mrs. Edith Ward, treasurer; Mrs. Arthur Bratlof, parent advisor, and Miss Caroline Day, teacher advisor.

Air Reduction to Build Large Plant at Union

Immediate construction of a new manufacturing plant of approximately 272,000 square feet, on a 25 acre plot at Union, was announced by John A. Hill, president of Air Reduction Company, Inc. The company has a large research laboratory at Murray Hill.

This new facility, providing for the employment of approximately 800 persons, will be used by the Airco Equipment Manufacturing Division of Air Reduction Company, Inc., for the manufacture of welding and cutting torches, tips, regulators, oxyacetylene cutting machines, inert gas arc-welding machines, acetylene generators, oxygen and acetylene manufacturing and distribution equipment.

The plant, of brick and steel construction and all on one floor except for 18,000 square feet of office space, will be located on property adjacent to the main line of the Lehigh Valley Railroad and within close proximity to U. S. Route 22 and N. J. State Highway 29.

The general contractor will be David O. Evans of Hillside, who expects to have the plant ready for occupancy early next spring.

Local Democrats Attend Dinner For Congressman

Michael J. Barnacle of 26 Locust drive, candidate for the office of City Clerk and J. Jerome Kaplon of 78 Edgewood road were in attendance at the Testimonial Dinner given in honor of the 14 Democratic Congressional candidates by the National Democratic Club of New Jersey at the Essex House in Newark, October 17. During the course of the evening Mr. Kaplon and Mr. Barnacle had an opportunity to discuss the local political situation with Mayor John Kenny of Jersey City, who recently came into prominence as one of the titular heads of the Democratic Party in New Jersey. The dinner was sponsored by the newly formed National Democratic Club of New Jersey in connection with the fund raising effort by the Democratic Party as each diner was assessed $50 per plate.

Half of Estate in Trust for Widow

Application for probate of the will of William W. Bucher has been made to Charles A. Otto, Jr., surrogate, Elizabeth. Mr. Bucher died here October 3.

The will names Martha R. Bucher, the widow, of 1 Oakley avenue and the National Newark and Essex Banking Company, Newark, as executors and provides that half of the residual estate is in trust for the widow; the remainder, in trust, for William W. Bucher, son, of Mountain Lakes, and Dorothy R. Hamilton, daughter, Denver.

Central Church Group to Hear Book Review

Mrs. Paul Truttschel of Summit will be the speaker at the fifth of a series of mid-week meetings at the parish house of Central Presbyterian Church on Wednesday evening, November 1, at 8 p.m. Mrs. Truttschel will review the latest book of Violet Wood, "So Sure of Life." The theme of the book concerns the national missions of the Presbyterian Church which has for its setting the Tennessee area.

The Tuesday Group of the church will be guests at the home of Mrs. Sherrard Depue, Portland road, on Tuesday afternoon, October 31 at 1:30. A dessert will be served by Mrs. Depue, assisted by Mrs. W. P. Baker, Mrs. David Knowles, Mrs. F. J. Rowe, Mrs. J. L. Sly, Mrs. H. E. Tyler. The topic presented by Mrs. Richard L. Miller will be "Church Women and Current Problems." Mrs. C. W. Stanley will conduct the devotions.

Rabbi Gershon to Talk To Oakes Memorial Group

Rabbi Murray Gershon of the Jewish Community Center will be the guest speaker at a meeting of the Oakes Memorial Methodist Youth Fellowship to be held Sunday evening at 7 p.m. The meeting will be the first of a series held on the three major faiths in the United States. Mr. Gershon will discuss Judaism.

Youth Fellowships from New Providence and Basking Ridge have been invited to attend the talks, as well as other interested persons.

Pot Luck Supper Opens Voyagers' Club Program

The Community Church Voyagers will open their season with a pot-luck supper at 6:45 p.m., tomorrow in the Community House. President Gerald M. Crona promises an evening of "prizes and surprises." The dinner will be in charge of Mrs. Joseph M. Parker, assisted by Mrs. Paul Kuhn, Mrs. R. E. Lee and Mrs. Ralph Hopper.

The evening's entertainment and program is being planned by Mr. and Mrs. Maurice S. Bush, Miss Hope Corken, Carlton E. Fox, Mrs. Marjorie Goodale and Mrs. Richard A. Lobban.

Calvary Parish to Have Family Service Sunday

"Family Sunday" will be observed this Sunday at a special service at 11 a.m. at Calvary Episcopal Church. With the exception of the nursery group, all classes of the church school will attend the service until the time of the offertory, when they will be dismissed.

Cause and Effect

One of the important things to study and understand in this high-speed world is the analysis of cause and effect. When anyone touches a sizzling hot surface and gets a blister on the finger, it is easy to understand that the blister is the effect and the cause is the skin coming in contact with the hot surface.

For many years, Safety Engineers have noted the effects of accidents and have tried in each case to analyze the causes. As a result, rules, regulations and safety devices have been made and installed and great strides have been made in accident prevention.

Since we are what we eat, drink, breathe, think and do, it is most desirable to ponder over these various factors whenever any effect is produced in our body that causes pain or irritation in ourselves or the death of others. Let us question what was done in each case that should not have been done that gave the negative effect.

In these days when our country is "Mobilizing for Security," isn't it a wise pattern for each and every one of us to mobilize our own resources avoiding all handicaps and those things which do so easily beset us.

The blood stream of America is polluted with poisons that are making a high percentage of those who are called to the colors unfit to serve. Apply cause and effect to find the answer to this situation.

Just as a person feels safer in an airplane and on a high-speed train if one knows that the pilot and the engineer are sober and not addicted to the use of alcohol, so the American people will feel more secure when they know that alcohol is banned from the Armed Forces and not being pushed by the liquor industry to get recruits for the consumption of their products after the boys come home.

In World War II, The Red Cross was used very successfully by the tobacco industry to promote the use of cigarettes, by having cigarettes included in the packages going to the boys at the front.

When cause and effect are applied to the study of the use of the various addictives, it is plain to see the relationship. How the daily use of coffee, tea, chocolate, and colas breeds a desire for tobacco smoke and furthermore how the victims of the combination of these habits seek solace in the use of alcohol in one form or another.

Should our fighting forces be trained on coffee, cigarettes and liquor or should our Country strive for an army like General Montgomery's who were shown the cause and effect and gladly gave up the use of addictives to further their own security and that of their motherland? What's the answer to security? It doesn't take a Major General to answer this question. Children in the first grade can give the right answer.

Y Public Affairs Group To Hear Pakistan Aide

United Nations, Foreign Minister Sir Mohammed Zafrulla Khan, will be the featured speaker at the first Public Affairs Forum of the Central YMCA, to be held in the Auditorium Sunday evening, November 5, at 8 p.m. The Forum which will discuss "The United Nations—and YOU" will be prefaced by a short documentary film on the operations of the world organization.

The Summit "Y" public affairs education committee will also entertain a number of the young people of the U. N. secretariat during the week-end, according to Allen R. Devenney, general secretary of the Association. These young people will also be present for the Forum on Sunday evening. The public is invited to meet this delegation and to participate in the discussion.

William R. Gilson, chairman of the public affairs education committee of the "Y", announced other projects which have been arranged by his group for the winter season, including an intercollegiate debate in February between Princeton and Rutgers, a community opinion pool on a national public issue, and the development of a bulletin board for the Association lobby.

Members of Mr. Gilson's Committee are David Ludlow, Jack Trux, Allen Roberts, Harold Hudson, Erwin Rachlin, Maurice Bush, Melville Hawley, Allan R. Devenney, and Mr. Gilson.

Carroll's Store Celebrates 15th Anniversary

Employees of Carroll's Department Store celebrated the 15th anniversary of the Springfield avenue concern at a dinner held last night at the Mountainside Restaurant, Mountainside. The staff was guests of Charles V. Carroll and each was presented with a gift.

Those attending were Jane I. Yalm, Agnes M. Senior, Erica de-Berjeois, Alice C. Petroski, Matilda J. McGuire, Eugenia E. Mizzoni, Millie M. Pannullo, Florence Silitoe and Mr. Carroll.

The store will celebrate its anniversary today and continuing until November 4 with a 20 per cent storewide reduction on all merchandise. The reduction is given, according to Mr. Carroll, in "appreciation of the loyalty and liberal patronage of patrons who made the anniversary possible."

New Jersey is Important to the Nation—

THE TELEPHONE IS IMPORTANT TO NEW JERSEY

● As one of the top 6 industrial states, New Jersey is responsible for a large share of all the Nation's defense efforts. It's good that her industries are well prepared to handle the work—and reassuring, too, that so much progress has been made in enlarging New Jersey's Telephone System to meet these greater needs.

● The $232,000,000 construction program of the past five years has expanded our statewide telephone network to the needs of today's swift pace. Service is better and faster than ever before. An organization of 22,000 skilled telephone men and women—nearly double that of 1941—is on the alert, ready to meet any emergency.

● But, as civilian and defense needs grow, New Jersey's telephone system must continue to grow. The money for this growth can be secured only through adequate telephone earnings—earnings that will attract investment dollars.

Keep Them in Office

In private affairs, when we have a job which must be done and done well, we seek those whose experience has been such that we can trust them to do it. In corporate affairs, men who have served and proved the quality of their service should, in our opinion, be retained in office.

In the coming general elections we have two local contests and one county race where men of inexperience in public affairs are seeking to replace those who have had experience. We speak of the contest for City Clerk of Summit where Michael J. Barnacle, Democrat, is running against William R. Gilson and for Councilman of the Second Ward where Louis R. Ackerman, Democrat, is challenging the Republican office holder, Otto F. Taylor. Samuel A. Smith, Jr. is unopposed.

The county race is between Congressman Clifford P. Case and his Democratic opponent, Harry Mopsick of Linden.

Locally, we firmly believe that both Mr. Gilson and Mr. Taylor should be returned to office. They are both men who have proven what they can do and who have satisfied the community in carrying out their respective duties.

Mr. Gilson has admirably handled the routine detail of city affairs ever since he took office in 1947. We have never heard any criticism about his efficiency. To our way of thinking it is foolish to replace one who makes good in a job because of political opinions or any other reason which does not involve the actual performance of duties.

The same reasoning holds true for Mr. Taylor. He has served as chairman of the Council's all-important finance committee and has become familiar with the mechanics of city budgets, school financing and other complex details of fiscal policy. It takes time to acquaint a Councilman with the various problems and their financing and it seems only logical that a man familiar with these matters be continued in office.

The Summit Herald believes that the Democratic slate is weak. Neither Mr. Barnacle nor Mr. Ackerman has presented sound reasons why they should be elected. Both seek office on their backgrounds—and these backgrounds lack experience in municipal affairs.

The Herald believes firmly in two-party government, or at least an opposition party. It thinks the operation of local affairs is usually improved by the presence of officials representing a minority. Rivalry tends to raise the standard of public service. But we face a condition, not a theory, and the object of any election is good government. Thus, we feel that the present office holders will offer the best service to the taxpayer and voter.

Again, experience should be the main reason for re-electing Congressman Clifford P. Case of Rahway. Although there is a small faction here that thinks differently, the majority of Summit voters believe that Mr. Case has done an excellent job as Union County's representative at Washington.

He has been a dignified Congressman and an outstanding public servant to his constituents. He has had several years of experience and this means a lot, especially in Washington where seniority is slavishly followed. The longer a man stays in the House of Representatives the more important he becomes. He has better committee appointments, more friends, more respect from his fellow members.

Mr. Case does not work for any particular section of the county while in Washington. He does not favor any region but works for the Summit area as well as the Elizabeth or Plainfield area. He serves all classes and sections and capably represents the opinions of his constituents, who are largely middle-of-the road Republicans.

Mr. Mopsick, his political opponent, is a man unknown outside of his hometown. He has been spectacular and is inclined to be flamboyant. He fills the space on the ballot which belongs to the Democratic nominee, and is about all he means to the people generally, outside of Linden.

Light Reading

Sometimes when we get bogged down with the trials and tribulations of the business world and want an escape from the worries of trying to publish a newspaper without sufficient newsprint or the wrath of Mrs. Smith, whose club meeting was incorrectly reported, we take haven in one of the numerous Department of Agriculture booklets that frequently hit our desk.

These gems of literature, ghosted for Charley Brannan and published by "Taxpayers, Inc.," are certainly wonderful for laughs. They are dandy. Nothing like them to send a person in gales of laughter or prolonged chuckles. That Charley Brannan sure is good

For instance, in one recent booklet, he had his boys and girls (researchers) cavort around a lot of farm kitchens measuring pots and pans, sampling cookies, and snooping into ice boxes. Lands sake, the things they did discover!

As a result of these forays into the kitchen, Charley says the farmwife (and that goes for the city wife, too) could save a heap of money if she used utensils of the right size to fit the food when storing left-overs in the refrigerator. They tell the ladies that chinaware might crack if transferred from the ice box to the open flame and that 50 per cent of the farm women in the northeastern section of the United States bake yeast rolls and bread.

But the Ag Department Quiz Kids neglect to tell us how does one determine by eye measurement the size container needed to store, "with economy of refrigerator space," the peas and carrots left over from supper? If the researchers would let us in on how to select a container that's not too large and not too small, we'd be 100 per cent in back of this culinary research. But maybe that is for the farm homemakers to dope out because as every one knows, the farmwife has plenty of time for reading.

More popular with the city folk is a Brannan epic of 192 pages entitled "Men's Preferences Among Clothing Items." This was given a rather uncomplimentary review by Congressman Charles W. Vursell, (R.-Ill.) who called it "Charley's undercover survey."

But there's a lot of good information in the book. Here are a few gems:

"Rich men have more pajamas than poor men;

"Pajamas are worn more in cold climates than in warm climates;

"The more educated the man, the more likely he is to wear pajamas;

"More men between the ages of 30 and 54 wear pajamas than those in the lower and higher age brackets. (Nightshirts for those over 54 and Doctor Dentons for those under 30.)

Congressman Vursell estimated that it cost $100,000 to gather the material in this pamphlet but it is free to you.

We recall other Agriculture Department pamphlets that have tided us over a bad time, such as "Weight and Capacities of Udders from Dairy Heifers of Different Ages," a tome on how to control vagrant cats, one on how to tell the sex of a watermelon and a treatise on the most up-to-date method of estimating the muskrat population.

One of our favorites, which we keep on file, is a 16-page booklet entitled "planning the Bathroom." This gem arrives at the startling conclusion that when building a new house or remodeling an old one, the bathroom should be planned to meet the family's present and future needs.

No sir, you can't beat Charley for laughs.

A Message to Businessmen

The Summit Area campaign to encourage employment of handicapped persons is a worthy endeavor. The project happens to be a state one but it deserves the support of all local concerns as well as the cooperation of societies and organizations.

There is a natural tendency to regard the effort to furnish employment for physically handicapped persons as a welfare matter. It is, of course, a social project of the sort that attracts community service groups' backing.

And the state interest likewise is readily understood. The state is training and preparing the physically handicapped to make them self-supporting but to make the effort worthwhile, the trainees must be given jobs.

Business and industry should seriously consider the matter. There is an economic benefit to the employment of handicapped persons as well as a social and moral one.

There are records to prove that physically handicapped workers are valuable, sometimes more valuable than those whose faculties are unimpaired. In some instances physical handicaps render workers more effective in tasks involving sensitive or delicate operations. Working in the dark, if blind, or working undisturbed by noise, if deaf, becomes an advantage rather than a handicap in not a few instances in modern industry.

And it is established beyond dispute that where regular employment has been furnished the physically handicapped the output per worker compares favorably with the remainder of the force engaged in similar duties. Losses by absence, both unwarranted and excusable, are smaller. There is less absenteeism and a lower sickness incidence in the ranks of the physically handicapped.

There are several Summit firms that have no objection to employing physically handicapped persons. Some of these workers are blind, some are wheelchair cases, some are deaf and dumb, others have various infirmities—but all of them are excellent workers. We know because we are one of the firms.

If only the passive indifference of employers can be overcome the campaign to find jobs for the handicapped is bound to succeed.

It won't help any to freeze wages. They will melt away just as fast.

DEATHS

Mrs. Harold Rothe

Funeral services for Mrs. Juanita Rothe, wife of Harold Rothe of 11 Colt road, who died Saturday last in Overlook Hospital after an illness of two weeks, were held at the Robert D. Brough Funeral Home, 535 Springfield avenue, at 11 a.m. on Monday. The services were conducted by Rev. Leonard V. Buschman, D. D., minister of the Central Presbyterian Church. Burial was in Illinois.

Mrs. Rothe, who had lived here for the last four years, was a member of the Central Presbyterian Church and was active in Cub Scout work. She was born in Oklahoma and had lived in Illinois before coming here.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Rothe leaves a son, Kenneth, at home; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence W. Reynolds of Mt. Vernon, Ill.; two sisters, Mrs. Aline Wells and Miss Helen Reynolds and a brother, Dean, all of Mt. Vernon.

Mrs. Michael J. Dooley

Mrs. Johanna Morrissey Dooley of 303 Morris avenue, wife of the late Michael J. Dooley, died at her home last Saturday after a long illness.

Mrs. Dooley was born in County Tipperary, Ireland, 75 years ago and come to the United States in 1895. She was formerly an active member of the Rosary Society of St. Teresa's Church.

She leaves three sons, Edward J., James J. and William Dooley, and a daughter, Miss Mary Dooley, all of this city.

The funeral was from the McNamara Funeral Home, 7 Summit avenue on Tuesday at 9 a.m., thence to St. Teresa's Church where at 9:30 a solemn high requiem mass was celebrated. Burial was in St. Teresa's Cemetery.

Miss Katherine G. Lacey

Miss Katherine G. Lacey of 44 DeForest avenue, a former resident of both Chatham and Morristown, died at Overlook Hospital on Friday last. She had been ill for the past eight months. She was born in Madison and was a member of the Catholic Daughters of America. Her parents were the late John and Katherine Lacey.

She is survived by a cousin, Mrs. Genevieve Murphy of East Orange. The funeral was from the Finneran Funeral Home, South Clinton street, East Orange, on Monday at 8 a.m., to Our Lady of Christians Church, that city, where at 9 o'clock a requiem mass was celebrated. Burial was in St. Vincent's Cemetery, Madison.

Mrs. Ama H. Armstrong

Mrs. Ama Holman Armstrong, a former resident here for many years, died Wednesday, October 18 in the Villa Maria Convalescent Home, North Plainfield, after a long illness, the immediate cause of death being pneumonia. She was 81.

Mrs. Armstrong had lived with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence P. Armstrong of Cameron avenue, Plainfield. She leaves also another son, Ernest of New York and two granddaughters, Lois and Beverly Armstrong of Plainfield.

Mrs. Armstrong, a graduate of Wellesley College, had been a teacher and while living here was in charge of the Rummage Shop, predecessor of the Thrift Shop, for several years.

Funeral services were held Saturday morning at 10:30 o'clock in the Higgins Home for Funerals in Plainfield, conducted by Rev. Harold R. Husted, minister of the First Baptist Church, Plainfield. Burial was in Fair Mount Cemetery, Chatham.

City Role in World War II Won Presidential Praise

"Good for Summit, New Jersey! If the rest of the country has the same spirit of enthusiastic patriotism, there isn't an American citizen on shore or afloat who would be in danger of an attack by the representative of any power on earth," so wrote Theodore Roosevelt to Mayor Ruford Franklin in February, 1917. His letter referred to the work of the National Defense Organization which had Summit in meeting the problems of World War I. The work of this and allied groups and the way in which history repeats itself will be emphasized at the meeting of the Summit Historical Association at the Public Library on October 31 at 8:15 p.m. The subject is "Summit and War Over Seas."

A feature of the meeting will be informal discussion, by all present, of Summit's wartime contributions and the effect on Summit itself of the various developments. Leaders in the discussion will be John Russell, Miss Marie C. Libby and Maxwell Lester, Jr., director of Civil Defense. Mrs. Gerald H. Winser, vice-president of the Association will preside at the meeting.

City Sent Ambulance Unit

Mr. Russell will stress in his talk the work of the Ambulance Company. This company of 120 men was offered as a unit to the Medical Corps of the War Department and became Ambulance Company, 33. The roster of its members included representatives of all phases of Summit life. As always in Summit the women took an active part both as an auxiliary of the National Defense Organization and in the New Jersey Division of the Woman's Land Army of America. Miss Libby will lead the discussion of this phase of Summit's activities in World War I. Because history is repeating itself all too tragically, Maxwell Lester, Jr., director of the Civil Defense Organization, will talk of the city's program in World War II and the way in which Summit is meeting developments today.

Since it is the incidents in communities that are the foundation for the history of a country the Summit Historical Association has as a major objective, the accumulation of local records that bear on national events or that illustrate phases of the community's growth. President Theodore Roosevelt's letter touches on one movement in which leading citizens of the 1920's Ruford Franklin, Carroll P. Bassett, Walter G. Libby, Oliver B. Merrill and Mayor Charles H. Grant, helped to establish a pattern of community cooperation that brought national recognition. This meeting is planned to give those in Summit today, an opportunity to hear of some of the steps in its development. Attendance is open to all interested.

Summit Man Advanced By Jersey Central

Raymond Papio, 14 River road, lineman and veteran of 27 years' local service with Jersey Central Power & Light Co., has recently been appointed foreman in the utility's Summit district field forces, according to James Traynor, JCP&L's district superintendent.

Papio's line crew, operating the company's heavy duty truck No. 364, is one of the nine service groups now operating in the Summit area out of the Chatham road substation.

A native of Summit, Mr. Papio joined JCP&L at the age of 16. He served in both the European and Pacific theaters during World War II. His brother, Michael — (Nick), of Beauvoir avenue, also a JCP&L line foreman, has likewise been with the utility 27 years.

NEW PROVIDENCE Borough

Boro LWV to Hear State President At Nov. 2 Meeting

BOROUGH—The president of the State League, Mrs. F. W. Hopkins, has accepted an invitation to attend the first meeting of the New Providence League of Women Voters, Thursday evening, November 2nd. She will speak on the effectiveness of the League in State affairs.

Mrs. Joel Peterson, president of the Summit league, will also be a guest, Summit has wholeheartedly given its moral support to the new group. Mrs. Peterson extended an invitation to New Providence to attend their pre-election candidates meeting in Summit on November third. With the cooperation of the Summit League which has supplied the material and postage, the New Providence League is able to start work this week mailing out election information. This is one of the important public services the league performs.

Mrs. Harry Dampman of 24 Lavina court, chairman of the Summit League study group, has offered the New Providence League the use of research made this year by Summit on the study of State taxes.

Other guests will be Mrs. George Wood of the state office in Newark, formerly assistant organizing chairman of the State, Mrs. G. K. Miller, and Mrs. Kenneth Baldwin, state advisor to the New Providence League.

Officers for the coming year will be elected, by-laws adopted and a program of study chosen. Pamphlets explaining the League's purpose and inviting all the women of New Providence to this meeting have been distributed throughout the community.

Services Held for Mrs. Stephen F. Nilan

BOROUGH — Funeral services for Mrs. Mary Agnes Nilan, 75, were held Friday morning from the McNamara Funeral Home, 7 Summit avenue, Summit. A high mass of requiem followed in Our Lady of Peace Church. Burial was in St. Teresa's Cemetery, Summit.

Mrs. Nilan, widow of Stephen Francis Nilan, died suddenly October 16 at home. Born in Orange, she spent most of her life there until moving her four years ago.

She leaves a son, Leslie Martin Nilan of Murray Hill; two sisters, Mrs. Winifred Monks of West Orange and Mrs. Catherine Strickland of Chicago, and two grandsons.

Thomas Jefferson was elected President of the United States by one vote in the Electoral College.

Smith Succeeds Gay as Member Of School Board

BOROUGH—At a special meeting of the Board of Education, October 17, Howard P. Smith of 21 Maple street, was appointed to the Board of Education to succeed Loren F. Gay, resigned as of November 1. The latter resigned October 16 because of the increased responsibilities he faces at Westinghouse, Newark.

Mr. Gay's term would have ended February, 1952. It is expected there will be an election in February at the annual school balloting.

Mr. Smith, a graduate of Summit High School, is wire chief of the Plainfield-New Brunswick district of New Jersey Bell Telephone Co. He has been active in scout leadership here. The Smiths have two children, Carol 15, a student at Summit High, and Howard, 12, a student in Lincoln School here.

Russians Better Off Today Than Ever, Lions Told

BOROUGH—The mass of Russian people are better off today than ever in their history, Major A. William Adler, U.S. Army Reserve, of Springfield avenue, a student of the Urasians, told New Providence-Berkeley Heights Lions at their dinner meeting at Keller's Grove, Thursday night.

A member of British Intelligence before serving four and a half years with the U.S. Army in the ETO on the General Staff and as an aide to General Eisenhower, he gave a historical address on the evolution of Russia as a nation from before the time of Khans through to Stalin. He stressed the significance of Peter the Great in shaping the destinies of all Russia and explained how Rasputin was real ruler of the Russians during the reign of Czar Nicholas II. Too, the period of ascendancy of Lenin and Trotsky were explained in detail.

The speaker declared that one of the "ironies" of history is the fact that all the major Russian rivers run the "wrong way," either to the Arctic Ocean, to the Caspian Sea, which has no outlet, or to the Black Sea which is fenced in by the Dardanelles. He also explains that "one of the great weaknesses of Russia was the fact all 12 of her railroads centered in Moscow as does her communication systems. The speaker emphasized that "We can't push Russia into war, neither can we stop them, she will pick the time and place."

Borough Attorney Frederick A. Lorentz, a director of the club, introduced the speaker, who was procured by his father, Milton Adler, also a member of the club.

R. J. Guenther of Berkeley Heights spoke briefly in the interest of a joint community fund drive for Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts.

Lion Adler announced that plans were completed for the costume Hallowe'en party last night at Keller's. Michael Cecchione, treasurer of American Asbestos, Berkeley Heights, was welcomed into membership.

The club approved contributions of $25 to the television fund for Jamesburg Home for Boys and $10 to the New Jersey Camp for the Blind. The club agreed also to join with Summit Lions in collecting books for the school at the Jamesburg Home.

Ernest P. Patten, a 25-year charter member of Summit Lions spoke briefly on "The Strength of Lionism."

Enlists in Army

Joseph E. Marcelliano, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Marcelliano of 54 Railroad avenue, has enlisted in the United States Army for a four-year term.

Prior to his enlistment he was a student at Summit High School.

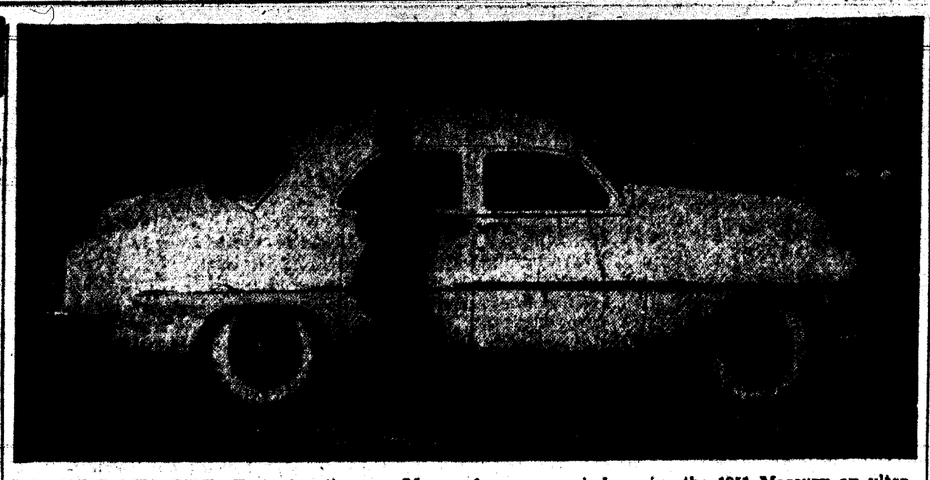
Methodist Groups To Hear of Arabia From Missionary

BOROUGH—Mrs. Merrell P. Callaway will speak on "Winning the Moslem World for Christ" at the Methodist Church school, Sunday, at 9:45 a. m., and to the congregation at 11 a. m. Mrs. Callaway and her husband are working in Arabia under the Southern Baptist Mission Board. Since June they have been home on a year's furlough and expect to return to Arabia in a few months to open a new mission.

Mrs. Callaway and her children are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Guion Fountain, of Fairmount Ave., Long Hill.

The Methodist Youth Fellowship will meet with the Oakes Memorial Fellowship Sunday evening to hear a special speaker. The Mission and Study Groups will meet with Mrs. George Burten Wednesday in Morehouse place from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m.



THE NEW MERCURY—Featuring the new Merc-O-Matic automatic transmission, the 1951 Mercury combines many styling and engineering changes. The Merc-O-Matic, developed by Ford Motor Company engineers, is a combination of a torque converter and three-speed transmission which results in a smoothly operating, pleasantly performing drive. New rear fenders and quarter panels, a new grille and front end trim, new bumpers and an extra-large rear window give the 1951 Mercury an ultra-smart appearance. Added smoothness, quietness and an increase in horsepower are present in the improved 112 hp V-8 Mercury engine. New colors and interior trims add to the distinctiveness of the 1951 Mercury. Shown here is the four-door sport sedan. Models are now on display at John L. Dietche Motors, 82 Franklin place.

Two Hallowe'en Parties in Boro Are Planned

BOROUGH—New Providence Recreation Committee will hold its annual Halloween party in Lincoln School, Tuesday, starting at 7 p.m. All children, pre-school through sixth grade, are invited to attend in costume. Prizes will be awarded the prettiest, most original, best team and funniest costumes. Comedy films will be shown at the conclusion of the costume parade.

Pronounced increase this year in the school enrollment has necessitated a departure from the procedure prevailing for many years of having children through the ninth grade participate. Instead, Junior High School students will have a party and dance in Lincoln School, Thursday night (tonight).

Boro Man With U. S. Air Force in Korea

Second Lieutenant Arthur J. Schlichting, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Schlichting, 6 Laurel drive, is performing a vital part in the United States Armed Forces' effort to assist the United Nations in restoring peace to Korea.

Formerly stationed with the 13th Air Force at Clark Air Force Base in the Philippines as a pilot for a photo mapping flight, he is now assigned to one of the Far East Air Forces' bases to aid in the accomplishment of the U.S. Air Force's mission.

Lieutenant Schlichting entered the service in May, 1949 and in June of this year, left for duty in the Philippines from Camp Stoneman personnel center in California.

In the Presidential election of 1948 less than half of the eligible voters in the United States went to the polls.

Classroom Teas To Conclude With Jr. High Program

BOROUGH—Miss Cecilia Kernan, supervisor of psychology and special services of the Union public schools, will be the guest speaker at a tea for the parents of the Junior High pupils (7th, 8th and 9th grades) in the auditorium of Lincoln School on Wednesday at 1 p. m.

Miss Kernan's talk, which will deal with the problems of adolescence, will be followed by a general discussion and ample opportunity for questions.

The tea at 1 o'clock is for Junior High teachers and parents and concludes a series of class room teas held during the month of October under the direction of Mrs. Milton Anderson, chairman of parent-education. Parents from other grades are invited to come at 2:30 to hear the speaker.

Teachers who will attend include: Miss Eva Klayer, Mr. Walter McCarthy, Miss Madeleine French, Mrs. Dorothy Oxner, Mr. Alexander Dunn, Miss Mary Beth McEnroe, Mr. Stephen Wurst and Mr. Edward Leider.

Hostesses for the afternoon will be: Mrs. Nicholas Gregory, Mrs. R. F. Woods, Mrs. Charles Behre, Mrs. James Richardson, Mrs. Harold Ammerman, Mrs. Douglas Ryerson, Mrs. A. Carlone, Jr., and Mrs. Lawrence Mezzacca.

Guilfoyle Made Foreman

TOWNSHIP—Michael Guilfoyle has been promoted to foreman of Shipping and Receiving at the Chemaco Plant of the Chemical Division of Koppers in Berkeley Heights. He is filling the vacancy created by Rocco Grassi who is now serving with the Armed Forces. Guilfoyle came to the Berkeley Heights plant in 1948 as a clerk in the Production Department.

Boro Recreation Program Listed

BOROUGH—There will be plenty of opportunity for recreation for both young and old in New Providence through the fall and winter months. This was indicated at Borough Council meeting Monday night by Council President Robert Badgley, chairman of recreation, in submitting a report of Recreation Director Ed Leider covering the period from July 1 to October 15.

The report listed two basketball leagues, one for men and the other for boys. There was also listed an ice-skating program together with a community Christmas party and PAL activities. Too, there was listed two bowling leagues, one for women and one for men, each with 10 teams.

President Badgley as chairman of the sewer committe was authorized to purchase a new truck for the sewer department at a cash cost of $1,035 in addition to a trade-in allowance of $250 for an old police patrol car.

A resolution was adopted allowing expenses to councilman and members of other official boards to attend the annual convention of the New Jersey League of Municipalities in Atlantic City, November 29, December 1.

Exhibits Silk Screens

James Tellin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis F. Tellin, 125 Beechwood road, has a handwoven fabric and two silk screen prints on exhibition in the Decorative Arts Galleries of the Art Institute of Chicago. The price was chosen from the annual school show for this special exhibition of handwoven fabrics. The exhibition will be open until November 15.

Mr. Tellin won the scholastic scholarship to the school of the Art Institute in June 1948. He received an art institute scholarship last year.

Presbyterians Plan Clothing-Food Sale on Saturday

BOROUGH—If you want to get something nice in the way of clothing or if you would like to have a special dish for your table for the weekend, you will be able to find both at the clothing and food sale at the Parish House of the Prebyterian Church on Saturday, from 11 a. m. to 3 p. m. In addition, you will be contributing to the fund toward completing the painting of the Church as well as parts of the Parish House, including the nursery. This is sponsored by the Ladies' Aid Society of the Church.

The clothing sale features "good-as-new" clothing at approximately one-third to one-half of their original price. Mrs. Hartig with helpers heads this sale. The food sale will include many things that will add to the menu for the week-end table: from soup to nuts—the soup in this case is home-made clam chowder; and the nuts may be in cakes or pies. Mrs. Richard Bryan with coworkers is heading the sale.

Other foods will be ice-box desserts, German meat-balle, and home-made chili con carne, with recipes included. All buyers will be welcomed.

Dog Owners Get Police Warning; One Is Fined

TOWNSHIP—Police Chief D. V. Russo, Jr., yesterday issued a warning to all owners of dogs residing in the township. He said that the state and local regulations requiring all dogs to be tied at all times or held on a leash by a responsible person would be strictly enforced. The chief pointed to a number of dog bites in recent weeks. He said the cooperation of owners would be appreciated and failing that it would be necessary to issue summons.

At Friday night's session of Police Court held before Magistrate Douglas Haberstroh, Mrs. Jenny Ameling of Lincoln street, Berkeley Heights, was fined $5 for allowing her dog to run at-large.

Blue Mt. Farms Association Has Varied Activity

TOWNSHIP—The Blue Mountain Farms Association met last week at the home of Harvey L. Benner, Lower Diamond Hill road. Attending were William Brown, president, Mark Townsend, Myron Bryant, J. D. Allen who was alternate for Richard J. Brittain, Mrs. Ralph Urich and Mr. Benner.

W. V. Dunkel's resignation as vice-president was accepted with regret. Mrs. Ralph Urich was elected to succeed Mr. Dunkel.

The Blue Mountain Farms Association constitution has been reprinted and will be distributed throughout the community. Mark Townsend was appointed to serve on the school committee.

Annual Mummer's parade for the children of the community was held Saturday at 2 p. m. Prizes were awarded for costumes. K. H. Karlson, Twin Falls road, is chairman.

New residents welcomed were the Siduns family, recently moved into the house formerly occupied by Mr. and Mrs. William P. Housley on Twin Falls road.

Speeding on Diamond Hill road was discussed, and the president was asked to write to the township committee requesting help in reducing the speed.

Firemen-Koppers Continue to Pace Township Bowlers

TOWNSHIP—Berkeley Heights Volunteer Firemen swept against Berkeley Garage as did Koppers against Rehels to hold their first and second place posts respectively in the New Providence Bowling League in matches rolled on Berkeley Recreation lanes, Springfield avenue, Berkeley Heights, October 16.

Mountain Cleaners won three from Ianello Dairy to jump into fourth place. Eight-Ball Club went into third by dumping American Asbestos in three and pushing them to the fifth spot. Romano's Roofing won a pair from the Mountaineers.

The Firemen won team scoring honors, high three game series of 2376 and high single game of 849.

No bowler in the league rolled either a 600 series or a 200 game.

PRIZE WINNING YEAR BOOK — Awarded first place in its class (schools of 901 to 1,500 enrollment) was "The Regionalogue" yearbook of Regional High School serving New Providence Township and four other communities. The book was given a "medalist" or yearbook of distinction award in the 16th annual competition of the Columbia Scholastic Press Association. Looking over a copy of the prize winning edition are (left to right) Miss Gertrude Palmer, '51, editor; Warren Halsey, principal; Miss Claire Kelly, faculty advisor, and Cheli Frantzen, Summit photographer, who took all the photos for the book.

Regional PTA Has Back to School Night, Plans Party

TOWNSHIP—Regional High School PTA held its annual "Back to School" night, Thursday. Mrs. Irwin S. Spellman, president, held a short business meeting. She introduced the vice presidents representing each community and asked the members to support them in the sale of tickets for the annual card party to be held at the Baltusrol Country Club, Springfield, on November 27, 8:00 p.m. Mrs. Louis Jennings, Mountainside, is the chairman.

Mr. Edward Hoffert, Springfield, extended an invitation to the parents to join the Regional Booster Club. The objective of the club is to provide the awards given to the athletes of the school.

After Mrs. William Cowperthwaite, Mountainside, reported on the PTA budget for 1950-51 and Mrs. William Von Ohlen, Kenilworth, read the minutes of the last meeting, the Supervising Principal, Warren W. Halsey, explained the procedure to be followed when visiting their child's classrooms on the "Back to School" night planned by Mrs. Edgar Nason, Berkeley Heights, program chairman.

Mrs. John B. Stults, Kenilworth, hospitality chairman, and her committee provided refreshments of cider and doughnuts in the school cafeteria at the conclusion of the meeting. Hostesses were: Mrs. Jacob Kopp, Clark township, Mrs. Henry Graveman, Clark township, Mrs. John Mozart, Garwood, Mrs. George Vandemark, Garwood, Mrs. William Rhatigan, Garwood.

Approximately 6.7 per cent of America's wheat flour supply is stored for future use.

Church Guild to Plan Yule Sale

TOWNSHIP — The Women's Guild of Diamond Hill Community Church will meet at the church Wednesday, November 2, at 8:15 p. m. Plans for the Christmas gift sale will be discussed under the leadership of Mrs. Stanley B. Eaton, chairman of the sale committee. The speaker, Mrs. George Storey, will be presented by Mrs. F. C. Somers, program chairman. Mrs. Storey will speak about the Home for Aged at Ocean Grove where she is superintendent. A social hour with refreshments will follow with Mrs. George Kempy and Mrs. J. H. Painter serving.

Legion to Install Xavier Masterson New Commander

TOWNSHIP — The American Legion, Berkeley Heights Post 356, will install Xavier Masterson of Springfield avenue, Berkeley Heights, as commander at ceremonies at St. Mary's Hall, Stoney Hill, November 4 at 8 p.m. County Commander Larry May of Summit and his staff of officers will conduct the installation.

XAVIER MASTERSON

Other officers to be installed include Ben Nigro, senior vice commander; Louis Mondelli, junior vice commander; Victor Rosato, finance officer; William Masterson, post adjutant; Nicholas Seritella, sergeant-at-arms; Daniel Vicendese, post historian; Vince Seritella, chaplain, and J. A. Krieger, service officer.

Jonas Concert Well Received

An enthusiastic audience of "first nighters" heard a thrilling master-work concert by Maryla Jonas, the Polish pianist, on Wednesday, October 18 in the opening presentation of the Summit Community Concerts Association. The next concert will be Monday, December 4, with the well known Trapp Family Singers.

Lawrence J. MacGregor, president of the Association, spoke briefly in opening the series and said the response of music lovers of this area had demonstrated the great need for a concert association. The local series was oversubscribed in record time when the Community Concerts campaign was launched in May. Renewals will be solicited in the spring, following a prior invitation to about two hundred charter members on the Association's membership list.

While critical evaluation of the Jones concert is not immediately available for publication, it was obvious that her program was greatly appreciated by the large audience attending. Beginning with several exacting offerings of Bach, Miss Jonas showed a masterly versatility of presentation including rich and exacting numbers from Dussek, Schuman and Chopin.

Grid Fans Asked To Curb Fanfare On Way Home

TOWNSHIP—Football fans returning from a victorious game were urged by Charles M. Monica, chairman of the New Providence Township Highway Safety Coordinating Committee today to keep their exuberance under control to prevent traffic mishaps The reminder was given in connection with this community's participation in a state-wide traffic safety program.

"It is especially important that drivers going to and from football games be careful at intersections, the scenes of three fifths of New Jersey's traffic accidents," Chairman Monica declared. "All drivers are expected to practice the same brand of sportsmanship on the road that they see exemplified on the gridiron. A dash on the field may bring applause but a dash on the highway may bring injury or death."

He urged drivers heading for football contests to start early enough to avoid excessive speed in attempt to arrive on time, emphasizing that speeding is the third most common cause of traffic accidents and No. 1 cause of fatalities.

The chairman also reminded motorists that the games will end nearer to dusk as the season progresses and that the ride home will be largely under conditions of reduced visibility.

"Since the twilight hour is a bad hour for traffic mishaps, drivers should proceed at a speed suitable for conditions," he warned.

Others serving on the local safety committee are Chief of Police D. V. Russo, Jr., and N. J. Eich.

Berkeley Heights Man Injured in Grid Game

TOWNSHIP — Charles Domanski, 23, of Plainfield avenue, Berkeley Heights, suffered severe head injuries Sunday while playing football with the Bernardsville Crimson Tide semi-professional team at the Athletic Field, Kenvil. He was taken for observation to Memorial Hospital, Morristown.

According to Morris County Football League officials, Domanski was playing halfback against the Roxbury Clippers in the second quarter of the game when he was injured. He received emergency treatment at Dover General Hospital before being sent to Memorial Hospital.

Regional Board Hires Architect

TOWNSHIP—In special session Friday night the regional Board of Education retained Fred A. Elsesser, Union architect, to prepare preliminary plans and cost estimates for a proposed enlargement of the Jonathan A. Dayton Regional High school.

The present edifice is filled almost to capacity and the board has had an expansion program under study for some time. Present intention of the board is to have added facilities ready for use in 1953.

Rites Planned For Mrs. Monica, 99

TOWNSHIP — A solemn high mass of requiem will be offered at the Church of the Little Flower for Mrs. Raffelca Monica, 99, of Springfield avenue, Berkeley Heights, Saturday at 9:30 a.m. Born in Italy September 10, 1851, Mrs. Monica has lived in this country since 1874. Burial will be in St. Mary's Cemetery, Stony Hill. She died Tuesday night in Overlook Hospital, Summit.

Mrs. Monica, better known as "Marie" in this area, leaves eight children, Marie Ruggiero, New York; Frank, Michael, Rocco and Charles M. of Berkeley Heights, Angelina Mazzarina, and Mildred Zichichi of Berkeley Heights, and Nicholas of Haskell.

from Rutgers law school. Before starting his law practice here in 1947 he was employed for three years in the production control department of Weston Electrical Instrument Corp. Mr. Barnacle is married and has one son.

In his statement, he says:

"I believe it is the duty of every American to expend his maximum effort in taking part in civic affairs. Laxity, whether at the polls or in evading responsibility of holding office when requested to do so gives rise to totalitarism and all the consequent evils of minority rule.

"If my candidacy is successful, I believe it would be a beneficial result to Summit. Two-party representation in government is always beneficial. While the position of City Clerk does not involve policy making, nevertheless a Republican Common Council might well avoid laxity and carelessness under the watchful eye of a Democratic City Clerk.

"A one-party political monopoly can and often does lead to disastrous results. I therefore feel that strict adherence to one party in our city will eventually result in a less efficient government than the "check and balance" provided by a Democratic candidate being elected to office."

Otto F. Taylor

Otto F. Taylor, GOP Council member from the Second Ward, since Jan. 1, 1948, is chairman of the finance committee, member of the Board of School Estimate and president pro tem of the Council. He is also a member of the Lincoln YMCA advisory council.

Mr. Taylor was born in 1899 at Lawrence, Mass., and received his early education in that city. He graduated in 1910 with an AB degree from Dartmouth College and a MCS in 1911. In 1917 he married the former Miss Ethel Woodcock, a graduate of Radcliffe, class of 1910, and from 1917 to 1919 served as lieutenant in the U.S. Army. In 1919 Mr. Taylor became a CPA in New York, Connecticut and New Jersey and is at present a member of the public accounting firm of O. F. Taylor & Co., 50 Broadway, New York City. He has two sons, Robert G. and John, F., both graduates of Summit High School and Dartmouth College.

Six Needs of City

Mr. Taylor says that in his opinion, Summit's greatest needs are (1) a larger Overlook Hospital, (2) increased elementary school facilities, especially in the First Ward, (3) a new railroad station, (4) a new library, (5) more off-street parking facilities in the center of the city and (6) better housing for low income families.

Louis R. Ackerman of 92 Mountain avenue, the Democratic opponent of Mr. Taylor, was born at Alameda, Cal., on Sept. 12, 1902. He moved to Summit in 1915, was educated in local schools and is a graduate of the Brokau School of Accounting, New York City.

Mr. Ackerman started his business career with the Child's restaurant system in the accounting department and later became a salesman for Keuffel & Esser. He also served as office manager for a branch office of the Electric Storage Battery Co. for the last 12 years he has conducted the Ackerman Express Co., freight truckers, in this city.

Too young for World War I service, Mr. Ackerman served with the State Militia and National Guard and during World War II was chief air raid warden for Summit.

More Civic Interests for Youth

In reply to the Women Voters' question: "What do you believe are the greatest needs of Summit at the present time and in the near future," Mr. Ackerman replies:

"A long list of factual and material needs of our city could be compiled for discussion, but after careful consideration I have decided to devote my allocated time to expressing my views on what, in my opinion, is foremost in what our community requires now and will continue to be so in the future—Youth and Community Needs—. Civic interest among our young citizens should be fostered and encouraged by the governing body. Added recreational facilities are a "must." But these are only two among the many major problems facing our community at this time."

Samuel A. Smith, Jr., seeking re-election to the Council from the First Ward replied to the Women Voters' question as follows:

"With the New York metropolitan area growing at a rapid rate, we are in danger that external economic forces may change the whole character of Summit, imposing on the community an unbalanced growth that our facilities cannot cope with. It is my purpose to try to keep the development of Summit in orderly channels — avoiding stagnation on the one hand, and mushroom booms on the other hand—so that we can continue to have a first class community with good schools, good city services, and good community life, and at a reasonable cost. A proper balance must be maintained in residential, commercial, and industrial development. This can be done if we decide each question on the basis of what is best for the community as a whole rather than yielding to the pressure of minority groups and interests."

Granted U. S. Patent

Henry J. Ogorzaly, a member of the staff of the development division of the Standard Oil Development Company has been awarded a United States patent. The patent provides for a method for separating carbon dioxide from oxygen and nitrogen when produced at low temperatures from air. Mr. Ogorzaly lives at 227 Mountain avenue.

Notice of Hearing

Notice is hereby given that the Department of Public Utilities—Board of Public Utility Commissioners—has set 11 A. M. November 13, 1950 for a public hearing on increases in intrastate telephone rates filed by the New Jersey Bell Telephone Company. Hearings will be held in the Board's rooms at 1060 Broad Street, Newark, New Jersey.

A bill insert was mailed to all telephone customers in May of this year outlining the proposed increases. The schedules of increased telephone rates requested are on file in all of the New Jersey Bell Telephone Company business offices and at the offices of the Public Utility Commission in Trenton and Newark. The proposed rates are available for public inspection between 9 A. M. and 5 P. M. from Monday through Friday.

Washington PTA "Get Acquainted" Meeting is Record

Over 100 parents attended the "Get Acquainted" meeting of Washington PTA, the first of the year, Tuesday evening, the largest number ever present any such a gathering at the school.

The theme of the evening was arranged for the benefit of the many new families in the school district. J. Bindley Hoff, principal, introduced Miss Bette Koelble, new first grade teacher, and Donald Becker, sixth grade. He also presented the service teachers, Miss Patricia Bowen, art; Roy Fulmer, instrumental music; Miss Margaret Thorp, vocal music; Mrs. Marian Schumacher, sewing; Miss Natalie Howard, girls' physical education; John Underwood, boys' physical education; Mrs. Edna Falkenburg, school nurse; Miss Nora A. Way, visiting teacher, and Mrs. Ruth Boyle, psychologist.

Wallace Richman, co-chairman with Mrs. Richman of the program committee, called upon Walter Kleinfelder to talk about the Cub Scouts sponsored by the school; Officer John Sayre to tell about PAL; Mrs. Edwin Jaycox, who gave a brief talk about the Brownies; Mrs. J. L. Unverzagt, chairman of the membership and hospitality committee, to explain the membership drive and the classroom pennant; Mrs. Kleinfelder, who spoke for the refreshment committee of which she is chairman, and Ralph Sayre to outline the purpose and accomplishments of the Lay Advisory Committee on Education, on which he is the school representative.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Thomas Callahan, chairman for the evening, assisted by Mrs. John Sayre, Mrs. Arthur Sobilo, Mrs. Setrack Tutunjian and Mrs. Anthony Kulaski. Miss Koelble and Mrs. Mildred Ackerman poured.

Mopsick Blames GOP for Overlook Cut in Talk Here

New Jersey Republicans were largely responsible for the cut in Federal Aid funds to New Jersey hospitals under the Hill-Burton Act, Harry Mopsick, Democratic candidate for Congress in the Sixth District, Tuesday told the audience at a rally meeting of Summit Democrats and friends at the Masonic Building, Springfield avenue.

"Despite the fact that these funds would have improved hospital facilities in New Jersey, these short-sighted Republican representatives knifed their own constituents by voting to reduce the amount of money available."

Mopsick termed the action "an ancient political trick." "It's one of those rackets whereby you approve legislation for something and then conveniently arrange to remove the funds to finance it," he averred.

The Lindenite further charged that Republicans in Union County are "spreading vicious propaganda that the Truman administration was responsible for the cut in Federal aid to Overlook Hospital in Summit."

"They can thank their own floundering Republican representatives for this shameless double-deal," Mopsick concluded.

Representative government can be perpetuated and individual freedom and responsibility preserved only when the majority of the people vote.

Leaders of Y Youth Groups Hold Dinner

On Tuesday, October 24, at 6:30 p.m. the leaders of the YMCA boys' clubs and Indian Guide Chiefs were guests of the boys' work committee at a dinner held in the Y.

Clarence G. Moser, associate secretary of the Central Atlantic Area YMCA staff, was present to discuss the technique of setting up goals for boys' clubs and the part the leader plays in establishing them.

Daylight savings time first was tried by the United States 140 years after an American named Benjamin Franklin first proposed the plan.

Ann Lawrence Becomes Bride Saturday Of Edward McC. Preim at Church Rites

The wedding of Miss Ann Lawrence, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip LeRoy Lawrence of 60 Edgewood road, and Edward McCrady Preim, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl A. Preim of 66 New England avenue, took place Saturday evening at the Methodist Church. The ceremony was performed at 8:30 o'clock by Rev. Jesse Lyons and a reception followed at the Lawrence home.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attended by Miss Audrey Hoffman of Short Hills, maid of honor, and Mrs. Richard A. Lawrence of Chatham and Mrs. Philip L. Lawrence, Jr., of Summit, sisters-in-law of the bride, Mrs. Edward J. Buxton, of 17 Edgemont avenue, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Virginia Day, of 133 Summit avenue, bridesmaids. The bride's niece Susan Patten Lawrence was flower girl. Carl A. Preim served as best man for his son, whose ushers included Philip L. Lawrence, Jr., and Richard A. Lawrence, brothers of the bride, Charles Hayes of Short Hills, John Sullivan, Jr., of New York, L. Colvin McCrady of Pittsburgh and Mr. Buxton.

The bride wore a gown of Chantilly lace in bowknot pattern and nylon net over satin, designed with an off-the-shoulder scalloped neckline and lace train. Her French illusion bodice veil was draped from a halo of matching lace and she carried a bouquet of stephanotis. All attendants were attired alike in strapless gowns of periwinkle blue satin with matching stoles. They carried bouquets of Fujii chrysanthemums and bittersweet. The flower girl wore a Kate Greenaway frock of white organdy over blue taffeta and carried a basquette of sweetheart roses.

Mrs. Preim is a graduate of Kent Place School and Harcum Junior College, Bryn Mawr, Pa. Mr. Preim, a graduate of Morristown Preparatory School, attended Colgate University and the Packard School of Business, New York City. He is a member of Long View Country Club, Pittsburgh.

After a wedding trip to Sea Island, Ga., Mr. and Mrs. Preim will make their home at Pittsburgh.

Newcomers President Entertains Officers

Mrs. William F. Rae of 28 Blackburn place, newly elected president of the Newcomers Club, was hostess to the retiring and new officers of the club at her home last Tuesday. The purpose of the meeting was to acquaint the new slate of officers with their various duties.

Those attending were: Mrs. W. Knapp Bailey, Mrs. Raymond Hartlaub, Mrs. H. A. Eubank, Mrs. James R. Higgins, Miss Margaret Rogers, Mrs. George Williams, Mrs. William Hall, Mrs. M. H. Howarth, Mrs. William F. Satterthwaite, Mrs. Jo Nicks.

David G. Boak Marries Mary Campbell At Candlelight Cathedral Ceremony

Miss Mary Frances Campbell, daughter of James Thurmond Campbell of Mountain View, Kas., and the late Mrs. Campbell, became the bride of David Gordon Boak, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Boak, Jr., of 35 Beekman road, at a candlelight ceremony held Saturday at the Bethlehem Chapel of Washington Cathedral, Washington, D. C. Canon Crawford W. Brown officiated at 6 p.m.

A fingertip illusion veil, held by a wreath of orange blossoms, fell over the wedding gown designed by Nickelli with an Elizabethan collar embroidered with seed pearls, a fitted bodice, and a skirt of unpressed pleats terminating in a cathedral train. The dress was made from a parachute which Mr. Boak used while serving with the Office of Strategic Services in World War II. He was parachuted 200 miles behind the front lines in France where he worked with the French Underground, and later was dropped into Japanese-held territory in China to work with the Chinese Commandos. The bridal bouquet contained white chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Joe Faucett of Little Rock, Ark., matron of honor for her sister, wore a gold satin gown with an envelope neckline, fitted bodice and full skirt. A matching headband held her face veil and she carried rust chrysanthemums. The bridesmaids, Mrs. Lucille Hein Butler of Washington, and Mrs. Elizabeth Healy Feltman of Alexandria, Va., wore sea-green satin dresses and headbands identical in design to that of the honor attendant's with gold chrysanthemums. Joseph Boak, 3rd, of Summit served as best man for his brother. Ushers were another brother, Robert I. Boak, and Robert L. Weeks, both of Summit, and Timothy Prout of Fort Washington and Charles E. Smoot of Washington.

The bride attended Henricks College and George Washington University. Mr. Boak is a graduate of Summit High School and the University of North Carolina.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Raleigh Hotel. The bride wore a gray gabardine suit with gold accessories when the couple left for a honeymoon at Martha's Vineyard after which they will make their home at Arlington, Va.

Oratory Mothers Plan Annual Dessert Bridge

The Oratory Mother's Club fall card party will be held at the school on Friday afternoon, November 3, at 2 o'clock. As last year it will be a dessert bridge.

Mrs. John Bolton of Short Hills, chairman, will be assisted by Mrs. Hans Meyer and Mrs. Howard Kenny, both of Union. Mrs. Patrick Romano of Orange and Mrs. Andrew Crummy of Short Hills, are in charge of tickets.

To uphold Oratory's tradition for interesting prizes, much time and consideration have been given to their selection, with special emphasis this year on feminine fineries, according to Mrs. Bolton. Among these will be a permanent wave, Black Satin perfume and atomizer, sheer nylons, fine lingerie, a black leather hand bag, French hand blocked silk scarf, a Paris evening bag of Beauvais needlepoint. Table prizes consist of Helena Rubinstein assorted colognes. Other prizes include the traditional basket of cheer, sterling silver candlesticks, St. Mary's blanket, an electric travel iron, and many others.

Tickets may be obtained in Summit by calling Mrs. Frederick Douglas, Summit 6-3587-W or Mrs. Henry Andreini, 6061.

Artist Exhibits in Maine

A collection of etchings and lithographs by Hartwell Priest of Oak Ridge avenue is on exhibition at the University of Maine, Orono, Me., through October.

Bird Carvings to Feature New Art Exhibit Sunday

An exhibition designed to interest naturalists and bird students as well as artists will open Sunday afternoon at the Summit Art Association with a tea for members and their friends. This show will feature a collection of woodcarvings of birds by Charles Greenough Chase of Wiscasset, Me., and a number of watercolors by Adele Hepbron, director of art at Summit Junior High School.

Mr. Chase's woodcarvings were featured in the New York Times Magazine and attracted a great number of visitors when they were exhibited at the American Museum of Natural History in New York last fall. Included in his collection are portrayals of a great variety of birds with those native to the coast of Maine predominating—sandpipers, eagles, gulls and seaducks. They are principally worked out in mahogany and walnut.

Adele Hepbron's watercolors are executed in her usual fresh and vibrant style and include various rural and urban scenes in New Jersey and colorful flower pictures. She has studied with several leading watercolor artists, among them George Elmer Brown in Provincetown and Lester Stevens in Rockport, Elliot O'Hara at Goose Rocks and Dick Crocker in East Orange. She is a member of various art associations and her work has been exhibited at the American Water Color Society, the Audubon Society, the Montclair Museum and the Summit Art Association and other galleries. During the summers Miss Hepbron conducts adult classes in water color painting at Silver Bay on Lake George, N. Y.

The exhibition will be open to the public Saturdays and Sundays through November 12 from 3 to 5, or during the week to groups by special request to the exhibition chairman, Winthrop J. Means, Summit 6-1349.

Costume Party At Center Plan Of Sisterhood

Final plans for a costume party to be held at the Jewish Community Center Saturday evening, were announced by Mrs. Jules Manning, chairman, and her committee, at a Sisterhood board meeting Monday night.

A party for the children will be held Sunday at 2:30 p.m. Games and costumes and refreshments will be appropriate to the season.

Rummage for the sale to be held from Monday, November 6, to Friday, November 10, will be picked up during the week of October 30. Anyone who wishes to donate rummage may contact Mrs. Abe Bloomstein, Summit 6-2845, to make arrangements for this service.

Instead of the regular November meeting of the Sisterhood, there will be a general membership meeting of the Community Center on Monday, November 6, at the Center.

Service League Meets at Canoe Brook

The first general meeting of the season of the Junior Service League was held yesterday at Canoe Brook Country Club. New members were welcomed by Mrs. Hugo Meyer, president, and plans for the coming year were discussed.

Assisting with arrangements for the meeting were Mrs. Gorden Boyd, Mrs. John Cordner and Mrs. Rodney D. Hall.

Plans were also reviewed for the Service League's presentation of the children's play, "Sleeping Beauty," to be presented this Monday at 3 p.m. at the high school auditorium by the Packit Players.

Y., on October 18 and 19.

Folk Lore Study Begun by Summit Story League

Mrs. Allison H. Hearn, president of the Summit Story League, opened the group's study project for the season, folk lore, by giving a talk on "The History of American Folk Lore," Monday afternoon at the public library. She illustrated her talk with excerpts from famous collections and recordings, including the record of Pecos Bill, a fabulous character from early Western times.

Another illustration used by the speaker was a quotation from a handwritten account by Hamilton Wright Mabie, who lived in Summit, in his scrap book. This concerned Elizabeth Goose, from whom the famous Mother Goose collection is taken. According to this Mother Goose is really American and not British.

Mrs. Charles Chase explained to new members the League's program at the Summit Home for Children, and completed the schedule through December with volunteers who include Miss Elizabeth Montague, Miss Kathleen Wallace, Mrs. Dale Woodward and Mrs. Hugh A. Eubank.

Dolores J. Hoff Richard A. Morton On Wedding Trip

The marriage of Miss Dolores Jeanne Hoff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Bindley Hoff of 106 Tulip street, to Richard Allan Morton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Morton of 18 Colony drive, was celebrated Saturday afternoon at the Methodist Church. The ceremony took place at 4 o'clock, Rev. Jesse Lyons officiating, and a reception was held at the Suburban Hotel.

Miss Gwendolyn Hoff was honor attendant for her sister, who was given in marriage by her father. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Raymond T. Tippett of Philadelphia and Mrs. Roger W. Morton of Madison. Roger W. Morton served as his twin brother's best man. Ushering were Robert MacDonald of Oak Ridge avenue, Bryson Hoff, brother of the bride, James Kennaugh of Colony drive, and Frederick Hensler of Chatham. The bride's cousin, Miss Ernestine Hoff, played the wedding music.

The bride wore a brocade satin gown with a high neckline and small collar. The basque bodice had small buttons to the waist. She wore her mother's veil attached to a lacy baby cap and carried a cascade of eucharis lilies and stephotis. The maid of honor was attired in light green faille taffeta and the bridesmaids wore dark green and rust taffeta. All wore headbands of chrysantheums and carried bouquets of the same flowers.

The couple will live at Greensboro, N. C., after a wedding trip to Daytona, Fla.

Mrs. Morton is a graduate of Summit High School, Stratford Junior College and Berkeley School, East Orange. Mr. Morton, an alumnus of Summit High School, attended Lafayette College. He is with F. Schumacher & Co., of New York City.

Sorority Wins "Three Star" Goal for Achievements During Chapter Year

Zeta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi is one of the seven New Jersey chapters of the sorority to reach the coveted "Three Star" rating, it was revealed by the president, Mrs. Karl Thompson, Thursday evening at the local chapter meeting.

The "Three Star" honor is conferred on those chapters attaining 150 or more points for including the required number of cultural programs, rushing, pledge training and monthly reports in their activities. Of the 3,000 Beta Sigma Phi chapters, 685 qualified.

For Thursday's cultural program, Mrs. James Cooper and Mrs. W. Nicoll Smith had secured J. Wallon Cooper of East Orange who showed colored slides of landscapes and criticized them for their good and bad points. He explained geometrically how a picture should be taken to capture the focus of interest.

The social committee reported a meeting at the home of Miss Joan Gay to discuss a hayride and square dance for November. The annual Christmas party and dance for members, husbands and other friends is being arranged.

The service committee was instructed by the executive board to investigate various charitable organizations to help the chapter decide which one shall receive its contributions this season. Miss Betty A. Kneile, chairman of ways and means, stated that a card party and fashion show will be held for the benefit of the service project chosen.

Mrs. Rodman Heu of Chatham has been named by the executive board to replace Mrs. Kurt Uebele as treasurer for this year. Mrs. Heu has served as co-chairman of ways and means until now. Mrs. Uebele will transfer to a Beta Sigma chapter in California, where she has joined her husband.

Mrs. W. Nicoll Smith of Madison and Mrs. Cooper of Summit, the extension committee, will meet informally Sunday at the Fish and Game Club of Chatham with the young women of that town who are interested in forming a new chapter there.

Attendance at American Home Tops All Records

"Standing room only" at the opening meeting of the American Home department of the Fortnightly Club held Friday morning at the Methodist Church parish house with Miss Helen Sprackling, director of the Franciscan Library of Ceramics in New York City, as guest lecturer, broke all attendance records in the department.

Having for her subject "The History of the Plate on Your Table," Miss Sprackling opened her lecture by saying that as a girl she was so appalled by her mother's extravagant fondness for rare old china and antiques that she stoutly resolved never to have anything to do with the "stuff." A few years later, however, she was spending hours at the Metropolitan Art Museum poring over treasures from the Sung and Ming dynasties.

"Arcadia," "Mariposa," "Westwood Wheat," and the modern "Canton" were among the Franciscan patterns shown on colored place mats coordinated with silver and crystal of proper texture and quality. Despite the great difficulty in keeping colors from fading under the required high temperature when firing, it was particularly noted that the pattern "Mariposa," a replica of an old Dutch floral garden, retained its original brilliance of color. The lecturer suggested combining solid color china with patterns when setting the table. The color gray is listed as a top fashion color in Franciscan earthenware, a color decorators dreaded years ago.

A sound film, "The Oldest Art," took the audience on a tour through a modern pottery factory illustrating plates being "jiggered," drying oven, casting of hollow pieces, attaching of handles to cups, decorating, glaze dipping, touching-up, and last the packing and its eventual display in the store.

Two door prizes were offered through the generosity of the makers of Franciscan dinnerware. Mrs. Lester M. Reeves of Franklin place chose the place setting of "Mariposa" fine china and Miss Marjorie Crane of Ridge road a sixteen piece set of "Ivy" pattern china.

Mrs. Edward S. Willis, chairman of the department, presided and introduced the speaker, followed by various announcements of future department activities: free lecture-demonstration sessions in actual making of slip-covers, upholstery, elementary sewing, and dressmaking; a trip to the United Nations on November 3; tray painting directed by Mrs. Howard Fischer; and glove making by Mrs. A. G. Jensen. Enrollments are now being accepted by Mrs. William B. Snow—Summit 6-6219-J.

A half-hour social period preceded the meeting with coffee served by Mrs. Frank G. Helander and her committee Mrs. William Corbett, Mrs. Clarence A. Sprague, Mrs. Harold VanWinkle and Mrs. John G. Voegtlen. Mrs. O. M. Hovgaard was in charge of decorations.

American Woman's Club To Hear Story Teller

Mrs. John Shinn of Hawthorne place, a member of the Summit Story League, will relate a story to members of the American Woman's Club Wednesday evening at Washington School. Mrs. John D. Morgan of Beechwood road will lead the devotions.

The club will meet at 7:30 for the usual half-hour of sewing for the Cancer Committee previous to the program.

James W. McCarty And Bride Have Double Ring Rite

Miss Mary Patrick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Augustus Patrick, Jr., of Lakeland, Fla., was married Saturday evening to James William McCarty, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Wilson McCarty of 7 Sherman avenue. Rev. James S. Day, Jr., D.D., performed the ceremony at 7:30 p.m. at the Southside Baptist Church, Lakeland. The altar and choir rail were banked with white gladioli and chrysanthemums with a background of palms and other greenery and candelabra. A reception was held at the Sorosis Club.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attended by her sister, Mrs. R. A. Behrens, matron of honor, and Miss Madge Shellhouse, maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Jeanne Moseley, Miss Margaret Nell Byrd, Miss Joyce Hinton and Mrs. T. J. Cleghorn. The bride's niece, Janice Clabby of Tampa, Fla., was flower girl. James Wilson McCarty was his son's best man. Ushers included the bride's brother, James R. Patrick, James Lineberger, James Lichlyter, all of Lakeland, Bernard A. Smith of Winter Haven, and Herbert Cook of Franklinton, N.C. Alden Behrens was ring bearer.

The bride's gardenia white satin gown was embroidered with seed pearls and a sheer illusion veil caught to a coronet. She carried carnations and tuberoses. The honor attendants wore lustre gold faille with gold chrysanthemums and the bridesmaids were in leaf green with bouquets of green chrysanthemums.

For her traveling outfit for the couple's wedding trip to the East Florida beaches, the bride selected a blue and rose checked wool suit trimmed with blue velvet, and navy accessories. Mr. and Mrs. McCarty will reside at 803 East Center street, Sebring, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. James W. McCarty, parents of the bridegroom, entertained the wedding party at dinner at the New Florida Hotel preceding the rehearsal on Friday night.

Summit Woman to Assist At Fraternity Bridge

Mrs. Edith H. Evans of 133 Summit avenue will serve as cashier at the dessert bridge of the Northern Alumnae Club of Pi Beta Phi fraternity to be held Friday, November 3, at the Woman's Club of the Oranges.

Want a long run for your money?

Better Buy Buick!

You want a new car to be tops in things like style and room and comfort and power——and a thrill-packed fifteen minutes with the nimble number pictured here will show you it has all these things in abundant measure.

So you ask us—how about money? What does it cost to buy a Buick—and to own one?

All right—let us ask you some questions.

Take first cost. Do you know that Buick prices start down at a level below what you'd pay for some sixes—and that every Buick, on a cents-per-pound basis, is a standout buy?

Take operating cost. Do you know that the bang you'll get from Buick's Fireball power comes from a valve-in-head engine—recognized by engineers as a thrifty saver of fuel?

Do you know that owners of 1950 Buicks are writing us rave letters, saying that this year's version is the most economical Buick ever built?

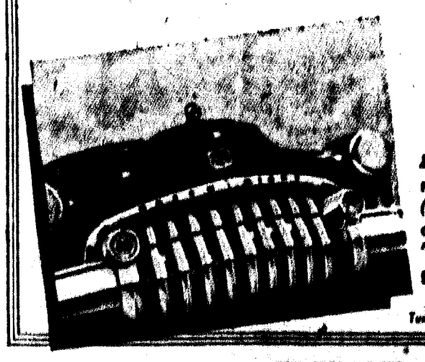
Do you know that such comfort features as coil springs on all four wheels protect the car as well as the passengers—and throw in an extra saving because they need no servicing, and are practically breakproof to boot?

Do you know that Dynaflow* in addition to keeping you fresh as a daisy on a day-long drive—caps its convenience with savings on tires, cuts down the strain on transmissions and engines—and eliminates all friction clutch repairs, because it hasn't any?

Take final cost. Do you know that when the owner of a Buick gets a yen for a later model, the prices that Buicks command on a used-car lot are the ultimate proof of their long-run value?

So if you want a real run for your money, better buy Buick. And the first step is very simple: Go see your Buick dealer—soon—and get an order signed.

* Dynaflow Drive is standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on SUPER and SPECIAL models.



FOUR-WAY FOREFRONT—This rugged front end (1) sets the style note, (2) saves on repair costs—vertical bars are individually replaceable, (3) avoids "locking horns," (4) makes parking and garaging easier.

Old-Fashioned Golfing Attire Dots Club Course

Four women golfers appeared at Canoe Brook Country Club on the closing day of the season's tournaments for women, October 17, in costumes worn by female golfers fifty years ago. They were Mrs. Hugh Jewett of 15 Norwood avenue, Mrs. Richard Williams of Llewellyn road, Mrs. Harold St. John of Short Hills, and Mrs. Walter Harring of Maplewood. Mrs. Harry T. Hamilton of Ridge road and Mrs. John S. Tennant, II, of Hobart avenue loaned the "dated" raiment. The four models played the course and took part in the various contests in their borrowed finery. They were accompanied by caddies also dressed as caddies were dressed 50 years ago, plus-fours and all. They also used the old-fashioned sand tees of that day.

Mrs. George Gibson of Chatham and Mrs. G. A. Murray of East Orange were first and second winners of the driving contest. In Class A of the putting contest, Mrs. Thomas Johnston of 38 Lenox road and Mrs. G. B. Graef of Sunset drive were winners; in Class B, Mrs. J. M. Reeves of 26 Ridge road and Mrs. J. M. Hughlett of Prospect street; in Class C, Mrs. I J. Mack of Short Hills and Mrs. C. E. Clark of Maplewood. Mrs. George Cook of 113 Mountain avenue and Mrs. W. S. VanDerbeck of Crest Acres were winners of the least number of putts.

Mrs. J. P. Gourlay of Valley View avenue was reappointed chairman of the women golfers and Mrs. Van Derbeck was elected vice-chairman, at the brief business meeting. After a buffet luncheon movies of personalities in and around the club were shown, including the models in their costumes.

All Americans Believed Wealthy, DAR Told

Mrs. E. T. Drake of Chatham explained the reasons why natives of the Orient regard all Americans as millionaires last Thursday to members of Beacon Fire Chapter, DAR, meeting at the home of Miss Nell Crane of 17 Ridge road. Mrs. Drake used as her topic, "America Through Asiatic Eyes."

"Our ambassadors are usually men of wealth and so spend lavishly," she said. "Our G. I.'s have plenty of pocket money and are generous with their gifts to native children. Also American tourists and business men by their wide spending help to strengthen the myth of the American millionaire." American movies, especially Westerns, are extremely popular in Asia, the speaker added. General MacArthur, whom she met in Japan, is looked upon by the people as a god.

Mrs. W. T. Richmond, regent, who presided, welcomed as new members, Mrs. L. S. May, Mrs. C. F. Myers, Mrs. Frank Helander and Mrs. Sarah B. Tennant. Reports of the recent state DAR meeting at Atlantic City were given by Mrs. George Waterhouse, Mrs. Verne Bahring, Mrs. Harry A. Marshall and Mrs. Richmond.

Members were reminded to bring Christmas gifts and copies of the National Geographic to the November meeting. These will be sent to mountain schools supported by the society.

A memorial service was conducted by Mrs. Marshall, honorary state chaplain.

Mrs. Aldo M. De Bellis, chairman of the tea committee, was assisted by Mrs. A. H. Allsopp, Mrs. John Brodsky, Mrs. Rufus Keisler, Jr., Mrs. David Miles and Mrs. C. R. Shelley. Presiding at the table were Mrs. J. Howard Conover and Mrs. Harry A. Sutton.

All-Day Trip to Lake Success Arranged

An all day trip by bus transportation to the United Nations at Lake Success leaving Summit Library on Friday morning, November 3, at 8:30 a. m., will be taken by forty-five members of the American Home department of the Fortnightly Club. Luncheon will be available at the cafeteria on the premises.

The day's program will consist of a briefing on the United Nations, a tour of the buildings at Lake Success and Flushing, and speakers on subjects of interest to the Summit group.

All available reservations have been booked to date but Mrs. Allison Hearn will accept "waiting list" reservations in the event of emergency cancellations. Interested members may telephone Summit 6-5395-M.

The return trip is scheduled to arrive in Summit at 5:30 p. m. at the library.

Film of Japan And Anecdotes Please Audience

Among the many changes which have taken place in the five years since the close of World War II, one of the most interesting is that young Japanese men are now allowed to join the United States Army and are doing so, members of the Summit Nature Club were told last Thursday evening by Capt. Ernest F. Schmidt, in his illustrated lecture, "Recent Travels in Japan."

"The old Japanese proverb says that "he who climbs Fujiyama once is a wise man. He who climbs it twice is a fool," said the speaker. Capt. Schmidt proved this to the satisfaction of the audience by showing the ascent he and a few friends made of that mountain, "the most beautiful object in the world," he added. At the top of the exhausting 8½ hour climb they found a radio station. The road around the base of Fuji is 100 miles long and passes five lovely lakes.

His anecdotes of General Eisenhower included the one liberated the "liberated rainbow trout" which told of served to the general from the Emperor's private pool.

The birds of Japan are much like those of this country, Capt. Schmidt said, but the flowers were so different that they confused him.

More than 100 members and guests attended the meeting, which was presided over by the president James W. Hand, Jr. Mrs. J. R. Whitlock reported that the Audubon Screen Tour memberships were completely sold out. She thanked those who had assisted in that task.

FAMOUS MAKES FINE DESIGNS

The STEINWAY Hepplewhite

IF you want to feel sure that you have made the best choice of a piano at the best price and terms, you must not fail to visit the Griffith warerooms. Here you will be able to compare many designs and makes with each other—all recognized leading pianos. Listen to each piano's tone; examine its finish and design; check the price and terms—then make your decision. This is something you can't do in one place in all New York. Because, you would have to go from store to store to see and hear all these famous makes. When you make your selection at Griffiths, you have a double guarantee—the manufacturer's and Griffith's. You will get an allowance for your old piano, if you have one. And you will discover how easy it is to purchase your piano on the Griffith Budget Plan.

Area Chemists Hear Scientist From Boston Lab

Dr. W. J Hamburger, Director of Research of Fabric Research Laboratory, Boston, Mass., gave a talk entitled, "Sensation, Phychology and Science in Evaluating Textiles" to the Lackawanna Subsection of the North Jersey Section of the American Chemical Society on October 17. This regular monthly meeting of chemists residing in Summit was held in the auditorium of the Celanese Corporation of America, a leading center of textile research.

Dr. Hamburger described his research concerned with the measurement of the drape of a fabric. It is evident that the ability of a fabric to fall into pleasing folds and configurations or to drape will depend not only upon the fabric itself, but upon the person who is evaluating drape; and also upon the use to which the fabric will be put. The pleasing quality of the drape of a fabric will change considerably, depending on whether it will be used for a lady's skirt or blouse, or for curtains or for a dress, etc.

Dr. Hamburger described the equipment he and his co-workers had designed to measure the drape of a fabric and showed that these measurements correlate quite well with the subjective impressions of a fairly wide cross-section of test people.

A discussion of this talk was led by Dr. R. Work, and Dr. H. Philipp presided. Among those present were Dr. B. R. Allen, Assistant Director of Research of Celanese Corporation of America, and Dr. G. L. Royer, Chairman of the North Jersey Section, American Chemical Society and Director of Applications Research, Calco Chemical Division of American Cyanamid Corp., Bound Brook.

Ceylon University Aided by Local Woman

Miss Maria W. Earle of 138 Mountain avenue was one of 59 American donors recently cited by the University of Ceylon for their gift of $1,000 worth of new American books.. The books were sent through the CARE-UNESCO Book Fund and included the subjects of medicine, agriculture, and education.

The university was created during a wartime air raid. Its matriculation this September topped 2,000 undergraduates. The gift comprised 157 volumes purchased by the contributions.

Long Wearing

Both laboratory abrasion tests and actual use tests show that cotton has the higher wear resistance of all textile fibers in common use.

Area Alumni of Brown to Hear Athletic Director

Paul F. Mackesey, director of athletics at Brown University, will be guest speaker at the fall meeting of the Lackawanna Brown Club at the Hotel Suburban, Summit, at 8 p.m. Friday, November 3, the eve of the Rutgers-Brown football game.

Other speakers will be Francis William Doolittle, backfield football coach, and Fred Diehl of the admissions office of the college. Football movies will be shown. Members of the Plainfield Brown Club will be guests.

Mackesey, Brown '32, was football captain in his senior year. He received his law degree from Brown University School of Law and formerly practised law in Lynn, Mass. After serving with the Eighth Air Force in World War II he was appointed associate director of athletics at Brown in August, 1946, and became director the following January.

A dinner will be held prior to the meeting at 6:30. John Hunt of 2 Colony drive, is chairman of dinner reservations.

Thoughts for a Modest Man!

The man you see in the illustration above should own a Cadillac car.

His accomplishments entitle him to it. His income is ample to justify the expenditure. And he has wanted a Cadillac for a long, long time.

But he is an extremely modest man, and he feels that if he purchased a Cadillac, some of his friends might think him ostentatious.

For him, and for all people like him, we should like to record a few simple facts.

First, let us say that we recognize modesty as a basic virtue. Indeed, the man who doesn't possess it to the proper degree is both a bore to his friends and a joy to his enemies.

But there is nothing immodest about owning a Cadillac. In fact, there are few more sensible purchases a man can make—if a Cadillac falls within his economic means.

Relatively, a Cadillac isn't even expensive. There are numerous models of several other makes of cars which cost more than the lower-priced Cadillacs.

Furthermore, the great Cadillac engine is so miserly of gasoline that a single tankful will usually suffice for a whole day's drive.

And when it comes to long life and endurance—well, few people drive far enough in a whole lifetime to invalidate this wonderful car.

Surely, no man need hesitate to own the best—when the best is so practical, and within his means.

So if you are entitled to a Cadillac, don't let modesty stand in your way. Modesty ceases to be a virtue when it deprives a man of his just reward.

Church Women to Observe World Community Day

Mrs. Leonard V. Buschman has been invited by Summit Council of Church Women to be the speaker on their sixth annual World Community Day observance on November 3 at 2 p.m. in the Methodist parish house.

Mrs. Buschman, with her husband, the Rev. Leonard V. Buschman, D.D. returned to Summit last month from a tour of six European countries. Their purpose was to observe the relief work being done by the church, and also to learn from direct conversations with citizens of those countries the state of mind in regard to the present crisis.

A resident of Summit for nearly ten years, Mrs. Buschman is especially known for her interest in young people of the churches, being a leader at the Blair summer conferences for young people, and superintendent of the high school department of the Central church school.

Chairman of World Community Day is Mrs. Wm. M. Franklin of Calvary Episcopal Church. Her committee consists of Mrs. Robert E. Woodward of First Methodist Church, Mrs. Elmer Rinhart of Oakes Memorial Church, Mrs. O. D. Dennis of Wallace Chapel, Mrs. Harold Foster of First Baptist Church, Mrs. Cossie Curtis of Fountain Baptist Church, Mrs. Stuart D. Walker of Central Presbyterian Church, Mrs. Stanley Geise of St. John's Lutheran Church, Mrs. L. E. Keitzman of First Evangelical Lutheran Church, Mrs. John M. Leavens of Calvary Episcopal Church and Mrs. R. B. Weidinger of Central Presbyterian Church.

Throughout the United States, 1500 Councils of Church Women will be observing the day and studying the problems of peace. In harmony with the national program and the theme "Love Thy Neighbor," the Summit Council will present a ten-minute "Birdseye View of the United Nations Trusteeship Council." The participants will be Mrs. Paul R. Tilson of Calvary Church, director, Mrs. V. H. Buchanan of Methodist Church, Mrs. Sheldon Franklin of Calvary Church, and Mrs. P. E. Fruttchel and Mrs. Harold F. Hansen, both of Central Presbyterian Church.

The offering will be for the work of the United Council of Church Women in studying and carrying forward the work for peace.

Gifts of warm knitted garments or of yarn are requested by Mrs. John D. Tidaback, chairman of Relief Work of the Summit Council of Church Women, to be sent to the elderly war-sufferers of Europe. On the receiving table for these gifts will be a pair of scales and an offering plate, for the cost of processing, packing and transporting these goods has become so heavy that Church World Service asks an offering of 8 cents for each pound of clothing to defray expenses.

Following the meeting, tea will be served. Mothers may bring their small children to the Nursery on the second floor of the parish house, where experienced care will be given them.

First Sawmill

The first sawmill west of the Mississippi was built in 1827 at Fort Vancouver, Washington, by the Hudson's Bay Company.

Rutherford B. Hayes was elected by one vote. His election was contested, and referred to an Electoral Commission. Again his margin of victory was one vote.

1950 Hunting Season Rules Listed by Fish-Game Council

The State Fish and Game Council, Department of Conservation and Economic Development, has approved new regulations for the 1950 hunting season. Dr. A. Heaton Underhill, Director, Fish and Game Division, has announced the adoption of the 1950 Hunting Code. Regulations of this Code supersede the statute laws in respect to the following provisions:

Seasons and Bag Limits

DEER—December 11 to December 16 inclusive, for firearms, November 27 to December 9 inclusive, for bow and arrow, 1 buck.

GROUSE—November 11 to December 9 and December 18 to December 30 inclusive, 3 daily

RABBIT—November 11 to December 9 and December 18 to December 30 inclusive, 4 daily.

SQUIRREL—November 11 to December 9 and December 18 to December 30 inclusive, 6 daily.

QUAIL—November 11 to December 9 and December 18 to December 30 inclusive, 7 daily.

PHEASANT—November 11 to December 9 inclusive. 2 males daily, season limit 10.

JACK RABBIT—November 11 to December 9 inclusive, 1 daily.

RACCOON—October 15 to Jan. 15 inclusive except during the firearms deer season, season limit 35.

FOX—Nov. 11 to April 30 with hounds and firearms, except during the firearms deer season.

Hunting Hours

DEER—7 a.m. to 5 p.m.

RACCOON—Between sunset and sunrise only.

Other than on the opening day when the hunting hours for fox and small upland game shall be from 9 a.m. to one half hour after sunset, the hunting hours for fox and small game during the upland season shall be one half hour before sunrise to one half hour after sunset.

Missiles

It was announced that during the season for hunting deer with bow and arrow, it shall be illegal for any small game gunner to have in his possession in the woods or fields any missile larger than number four shot.

Trapping

No cage trap, metal box trap, or diving trap shall be permitted on any of the State Public Hunting and Fishing Grounds, and no trap of any kind shall be set anywhere on any of the State Public Hunting and Fishing Grounds unless it bears a metal tag containing the name and address of the owner of the trap. No trap of any kind shall be permitted to remain set on any property at the close of the trapping season.

The new seasons are based upon field indications which show that grouse, rabbits, squirrels, and quail are all approaching the top of their cycle. Dr. Underhill and members of the State Fish and Game Council believe that sportsmen of the State should receive the benefit of this condition through longer hunting seasons.

Triple Tie for 2nd as Geddis Wins Bowling Loop Lead

Geddis Taxi took a one-game lead in the City Bowling League by sweeping against Zotte's Esso in matches rolled on Woodruff's lanes in Springfield.

Savage Esso Service Center, defending champions, swept against Marten's to win a triple tie for second place with Spring Lake and Ciba who were held to two wins each by the Esquire Shop and Charlines respectively.

Summit Elks found themselves in tenth place, the loftiest spot they have attained over two years in the league, by winning a pair from Korkuc Cleaners.

Week's Scoring Honors

Spring Lake bowlers garnered scoring honors for the week. They won three game honors of 2659 and high single game of 922. Sedgie Phillippi, anchor man for Spring Lake, took individual honors, high single game of 229 and high three game series of 1933.

SHS Gridders Take Ridgers 13-6; Gain Runner-Up Spot

Come on Glen Ridge, let's get busy!"

Coach Rawley Brown's Glen Ridge High footballers weren't quite able to respond to the plea of their cheerleaders to "get busy," in Saturday's tilt against Pate Kandrat's Summit High gridders in their annual Suburban Conference game played at Soldiers Memorial Field here.

After a victory drought of three years against Glen Ridge, Summit came through with a 13-6 victory, its second conference win in three starts, against one for the Ridgers in three starts. The Ridgers, it will be recalled, took Summit last year to the tune of 19-0, and during the two years prior to that had held the Hill City boys to 0-0 ties.

In Saturday's fray, neither team scored in the first quarter. Most of this canto was played in the visitors' territory, Summit reaching the Ridgers' 6 before losing the ball on downs.

Summit's second period touchdown drive started on the Glen Ridge 39 when Ken Sampson tossed to Sonny Dennis on the 30. Dennis ran to the 16 before being brought down. On the second play from scrimmage, a 15-yard penalty against the Ridgers for unnecessary roughness took the ball down to the one. Jo-Jo Kenney bucked through the middle to score. Kenney's kick for the point was wide.

After being halted on the Glen Ridge 14-yard line in the third period Summit returned to scoring position when Kenney ran back a Ridger kick from midfield to the 20.

The Ridgers made their touchdown near the end of the game after their center John Hutchings recovered a fumble on the Summit 34. Fullback Ray Moran drove through center in five of eight plays which brought the ball to the Summit 3. There, Moran, back to pass, but unable to find a receiver, ran wide around the right side to score. Quarterback Jack Sickler's placement went wide.

Alumni Gridders To Play Princeton Eagles Oct. 29

This Sunday afternoon the Summit Alumni Football Club will play the Princeton Eagles at Soldiers Memorial Field at 2:30 p.m. To date the Princeton team has played two games losing to Somerville Rams, 9 to 6, and to the Woodbridge team, 16 to 0. This may not mean too much for both of these teams are high in the rating as semi-pro teams and also the Eagles have in their lineup former college and prep school players. The Summit team will be out to get back into the winning column again after their loss Sunday to the East Orange A.A.

All-Time Football Greats to Visit Nat'l Shrine Site

The buildings for the National Football Shrine and Hall of Fame are still on an architect's drawing board, but a great number of football's all-time greats who will be honored in the shrine will make a prior visit to the site on the Rutgers University campus in a few weeks.

Arthur L. Evans, executive secretary of the Hall of Fame, and George E. Little, Rutgers director of athletics, have started a search for former All-Americans now living in New Jersey.

These former top stars are wanted to take part in an "Assembly of All-Americans" at the Brown-Rutgers Hall of Fame game here on Nov. 4. A portion of the proceeds from the game—prime feature of "New Jersey Hall of Fame Week"—will be donated as the first step in a national building fund campaign.

Little, chairman of the game committee, announced that the "Assembly of All-Americans" will be one of many attractions in the game program, in which all-time football stars from all over the nation will participate.

Tickets for the game, which will comprise the most colorful grid spectacle ever staked in New Jersey, were placed on public sale this week.

"The Hall of Fame will make New Jersey and the State University campus the focal point of the entire football world," according to Evans. "We want these New Jersey All-Americans and all the people of the State to show their support and enthusiasm by participating at this Hall of Fame game here on Nov. 4."

Evans has requested New Jersey newspapers, radio stations, and all citizens to urge former All-Americans now living in the State to contact him at Hall of Fame headquarters on the Rutgers campus here immediately.

Summit Faces Crucial Point In 25th Annual Madison Game

Coach Mike De Armott's Madison High School football hopefuls will be bending every effort Saturday on their Dodge Field to bounce back into the victory column against Pate Kandrat and his Summit High football team in a Suburban Conference game. Game time is 2:30 p.m. A victory for Summit will just about clinch the conference runner-spot for the Hill City boys who wind up their season and conference race two weeks from Saturday against hapless Caldwell here.

Summit Has Series Edge

In the series of games against Madison going back for a quarter of century, Summit has won 18, lost four and tied two. In 1932 and 1933, Madison abandoned football because of a series of serious injuries. Likewise in 1939, Madison played no football. Madison last won the conference title in 1942, defeating Summit, Glen Ridge and Millburn while tying Verona.

This year Madison has defeated Butler, Caldwell and Boonton. The Rose City boys were upended Saturday by Conference title Hillbillies of Verona, 50-18.

Clifford Scott's 21-0 upset of Rahway, Saturday, helps place a different light on this year's edition of Summit high gridders, making the locals appear as a better than average team. While comparative scores aren't necessarily significant, they are usually considered an indication. Since Summit held Scott, 21-7, the game a week from Saturday when Summit travels to Rahway, doesn't look so out-of-balance at this time. Until Saturday's defeat by Scott, the Rahway outfit had been averaging better than 30 points games.

Around the Conference

Millburn's 19-7 triumph Saturday over Caldwell just about assures the latter of the cellar berth in the final standings of the Suburban Conference. To be sure, Summit's win over the Ridgers points to the locals attaining this year's runner-up notch, probably followed by Coach Brown's boys. Judged by Saturday's one-sided loss to Verona, Madison and Millburn will end up in fourth or fifth place, the final resting place being a toss up.

Summit and Madison will be the only Suburban Conference teams to swing into action this week-end.

Wild Cats, Aces Win Games in Touch League

The Wild Cats kept their goal line uncrossed as they whitewashed Notre Dame 19-0, in the Saturday Touch Football League at Memorial Field. The league leaders have now clinched a tie for first place for the season. The Wild Cats scored early on a pass from Andy MacKechnie to Fred Sally, and added the extra point on Sally's run. MacKechnie behind good blocking, scored two more touchdowns on long runs in the second quarter.

The Aces continued their winning ways as they scored a 7-0 win over the Panthers. However, it was not until the third period when Ellis Jefferson tossed a pass to Malcom Jefferson that the Aces were able to score. Bob Mandatto scored the extra point.

The game between the Tigers and Comets was postponed, and was to have been played before the 28th.

Bob D'Amanto

Winding up a successful two-game home stand against Temple and New York University, Coach Harvey Harman's Rutgers University gridders take to the road this weekend to defend their Middle Three crown against a powerful Lehigh eleven in Bethlehem, Pa.

The resurgent Scarlet team, which showed more scoring punch against undefeated Princeton in a 34 to 26 thriller than at any time in the 81-year history of football's oldest series, followed up with a 26 to 20 upset triumph over Temple.

This Saturday the State University team, which has won the Middle Three "Little Brass Cannon" for five straight years, faces the strongest Lehigh team in years. Lafayette, other member of the triumvirate, is having its worst season since the war and Saturday's winner should be a shoo-in for the trophy.

Harman will be counting on veterans like his scatback scoring ace Bob D'Amato of Scotch Plains to successfully defend the Cannon. D'Amato's breakway speed has made him one of the Scarlet's point-making leaders.

Following the Lehigh contest, the squad returns to prepare for the Brown Hall of Fame Game, on November 4.

Hike Schedule of County Club Ready For Distribution

The fall and winter schedule of Union County Hiking Club, covering regular Sunday hikes, the Appalachian Trail Clearing and Annual Picture Night, and announcing the beginning of a series of Saturday afternoon walks, has just been mimeographed and is now ready for distribution. Copies may be secured from the Union County Park Commission, Box 231, Elizabeth, N. J.

Keith R. Rodney, Elizabeth, will lead a hike Sunday in the Alpine Section of the Palisades Interstate Park. The hikers climbed the Palisades from the river near Alpine Ferry and hiked for about 10 miles along the top of the Palisades overlooking the Hudson.

Saturday, October 28, hikers will meet at the Administration Building at 1 p.m., or Eagle Rock Pavilion, West Orange, at 2 p.m., while Sunday the club will join the hiking clubs of the New York-New Jersey Trails Conference on the Annual Raymond Torrey Memorial Pilgrimage to Long Mountain where the naturalist's ashes were scattered.

The schedule lists the following additional hikes and events: Green State Forest, November 5; Picture Night, November 9; Appalachian Trail Clearing, November 12; Montville to Butler, November 19; Wanaque Reservoir, November 26; Waterloo-Morris Canal, December 3; Garret Mountain, December 10; Stokes State Forest, December 17; Watchung Reservation, January 7; Surebridge Mountain, Arden, January 14; Cheesequake State Park, January 21 and Sewaren-Arthur Kill, January 28.

The schedule bulletin is published for the convenience of members and states that all persons interested in hiking or the outdoors are welcome as guests on three hikes and then eligible for membership. The club is interested in getting more people interested in joining its hike and feel that there are many people who would enjoy the hikes if they knew of them in advance and were able to plan to participate.

Light Reflectors

The walls of courts in apartment houses, hotels—all sorts of structures, as a matter of fact—can be utilized to advantage as light reflecting surfaces when coated in white and light colors.

Net Honors Go To Baltusrol Duo In WNJGA Tourney

The Montclair team of Mrs. James Dorment and Eugene De Cozen posted a 78 to win gross honors in the Women's New Jersey Golf Association scotch foursome tournament at Upper Montclair Friday. A total of 82 golfers participated.

Net honors went to Mrs. C. F. Armitage and Mrs. G. K. Tisdale of Baltusrol after a draw with Mrs. E. J. Kane of Canoe Brook and Mrs. E. G. Brown of Baltusrol. The former duo had 93-19—74 and the latter, 89-15—74.

Following in the net scores were Mrs. T. W. Hawes of Baltusrol and Mrs. D. R. Baldwin of Essex County with 87-12—75; Mrs. Fred Wenzel of Maplewood and Mrs. Paul Geary of Plainfield, 94-18—76, and Mrs. J. B. MacLachlan of Deal and Mrs. I. S. Baxter of Baltusrol, 92-16—76.

Scores of other local players:

Canoe Brook Duo Lose N. J. Pro-Lady Golf Tournament

Tom Harmon and Charlotte De Cozen, of the Montclair Golf Club, played par golf over the last eight holes Sunday to win the fourth annual New Jersey professional-lady tournament at the Forest Hills Field Club.

Harmon and Miss De Cozen stopped Harold Sanderson and Mrs. James Smith, of the Canoe Brook Country Club, 6 and 4, with all six victories coming from the seventh hole to the fourteenth where the match ended. Sanderson, a usually steady golfer, and Mrs. Smith were way over par for the last eight holes.

Before the turning point at the seventh hole, the finale had been a close affair. Harmon and Miss De Cozen took a double bogie on the first hole to give Sanderson and Mrs. Smith a 1-up lead.

Harmon and Miss De Cozen made a birdie on the third to even the match and they halved the next three holes before the rout began. Although Harmon and Miss De Cozen took a bogie-5 on the seventh, Sanderson missed a four-footer and took a double bogie. Harmon and Miss De Cozen won the eighth with a par and halved the ninth to take a 2-up lead at the turn.

Sanderson drove out of bounds on the tenth, and Harmon and De Cozen parred that hole and the next two for a 4-up lead. Both teams parred the twelfth, but Sanderson and Smith took bogie on the last two holes while Harmon and Miss De Cozen had a par and a bird to end the match, 6-up.

Harmon and Miss De Cozen defeated Fred Baker and Mrs. T. V. Lyman of the Maplewood Country Club, 3 and 2, in the morning semi-final and Sanderson and Mrs. Smith entered the final with a 5-and-4 victory over Lou Barbaro and Mrs. Sophie Untermeyer of the Hollywood Country Club.

State Softball League Looking Ahead to 1951

Representatives of the New Jersey State Softball League, gathered at their third annual dinner Thursday night at Franklin Casino, Belleville, looked ahead hopefully to the 1951 season. The league, reduced to five teams in 1950, had tough going but there are indications of expansion next year. B. E. Martin, executive secretary-treasurer of the Amateur Softball Association of America, told the diners several out-of-state clubs are interested in joining the loop.

George T. Cron, State A. S. A. commissioner, was toastmaster. He gave an interesting report of his trip to Texas for the annual world softball tournaments. The championship trophy was presented to the Summit C.O.-2 team while Mt. Carmel of Jersey City got the second-place award. Mt. Carmel won the state tournament.

Speakers included Ed. Hoffert, league secretary; Al Marino, league president who also is Jersey City manager; the other managers—Al Wright, Roselle Park; Richie Iarillo, Perth Amboy Buddies; Tony Dondora, Newark Woops Botnick; and Pete Kivlen, Summit.

Hermit's Hollow to Open, Preserve for Hunters, Nov. 10

November 10th will see the opening of Hermit's Hollow to the hunters of New Jersey as a paid shooting preserve for pheasants and incidental small game.

Hermit's Hollow is located in the hills of Hunterdon County, eight miles from Clinton, on the blacktop road running from Route 22 (NJ 28) through Pattenburg to Little York, and is comprised of the finest upland bird cover in the state.

The birds, both English Ringnecks and Mongolians are bred at Hermit's Hollow and are hardy and fast.

Hermit's Hollow will offer shooting daily from November 10th through February 28th at a charge of ten dollars per day including a brace of birds. Additional birds will be available at $3.50 each making possible the shooting of ten birds for $38.00 instead of the more usual rate of $40.00.

Reservations are not necessary, but are desirable in the case of parties, and can be telephoned to Frenchtown 902 R 4 or sent by mail to R.D. 1, Milford, N. J.

It is the aim of Hermit's Hollow to offer to sportsmen the finest bird shooting in the state, in surroundings unequalled anywhere in New Jersey.

Firemen "A" Lead Cut to One Game; M & M Runners-up

BOROUGH — Lead of Firemen "A" in the New Providence Bowling League dwindled to a game when Harry's held the leaders to two wins in matches rolled on Berkeley Recreation lanes October 18. M & M swept against Five Aces to exchange places with the losers as the runners-up. Building and Loan won three from Bill's to win its ninth straight in 18 starts. Junior Order "A" moved into a third place tie by defeating Junior Order "B" in three. The Paca Club took a pair from Firemen "B."

Gehling of Junior Order "A" rolled 207 for high single score while Carlucci of Paca paced the field with 528 for three game series honors. M & M won team scoring honors with a single game of 871 and three game score of 2482.

League standing:

Owners and Developers

Each of these lovely new homes has so many novel and exciting features that only a visit will give you a real idea of what they offer. Among the things you'll see are beautifully landscaped lots, large and green. Charming architecture. A safe, dead end street for the kids to play on. The luxury of a large and comfortable living room highlighted by a picture window . . . and beautiful parquet oak floors. Two large bedrooms with big, roomy closets and cross ventilation. The bathroom is ultra modern with genuine ceramic colored tile. And the kitchen is everything a young wife could wish for. It is perfectly planned with Hotpoint refrigerator and washing machine, wall exhaust fan, lots of metal cabinets and an insulated gas range. Each house is heated with gas-fired hot water. An open stairway leads to the large expansion attic ready for two extra rooms when you need them.

Announcing the Now 49 MERCURY
with MERC-O-MATIC DRIVE

On display today!

Don't miss the big television hit, "TOAST OF THE TOWN," with Ed Sullivan. See your local newspaper for time and station.

WHAT A CAR! WHAT A DRIVE! What a combination! New 1951 Mercury with the amazing Merc-O-Matic Drive*!

Your first look will tell you that here is a car brimming over with eye-filling features. New styling, new interiors, new trim . . . new beauty for a beautiful new car!

Your first drive will tell you that Merc-O-Matic is an automatic transmission with everything: Honeyed smoothness, positive pickup, overall economy, and safety. It does all the work while you sit back and relax.

There's new comfort and safety, too. A new improved ventilating system—a new "wide-horizon" rear window with more than 1,000 square inches of unobstructed viewability.

And there are dozens more thrilling new features for you to see and enjoy.

Come on over and see this big, beautiful 1951 Mercury in our showroom. Let us give you the facts about "the drive of your life"! When you consider all of Mercury's built-in quality advantages, we think you'll agree it's "the buy of your life"! There's nothing like it on the road!

A sweeping new look—to set the 1951 style pace!

Merc-O-Matic Drive is the simpler, smoother, more efficient automatic transmission!

3 WAY CHOICE! *With Mercury for 1951, you have a triple choice for "the drive of your life"—new Merc-O-Matic Drive and thrifty Touch-O-Matic Overdrive are optional at extra costs and in addition, there's the Silent-Sure synchronized standard transmission.

Dr. R. W. Baker's Estate Valued at $221,499

An estate of approximately $221,499 was left by the late Dr. Raymond D. Baker, formerly of 52 DeForest avenue. Dr. Baker died on November 3, 1948 following an automobile accident while motoring south. Final accounting of the estate was filed last week with the Union County Surrogate's office.

The accounting was submitted by Dr. Baker's widow, Mrs. Mildred Baker of Hollywood Beach, Fla., and Ralph E. Lum of Chatham, attorney, executors. Mrs. Baker is the legatee and trust beneficiary of the estate. Half of the estate is left in trust for Mrs. Baker and the other half in trust for his son, Bergman Baker, also of Hollywood Beach.

The accounting, which covers the period from Nov. 3, 1948 to Oct. 6, 1950, shows expenditures of $27,401 and principal of $194,097. The income was $25,729.

Election Day 'Disaster' Will Test City's Civil Defense Units

The city's defense plans will be put to a test Tuesday when the Civil Defense Council and the local Red Cross stage a mock disaster.

The purpose of the "disaster" is to familiarize the personnel of the two units with their duties and to determine any weaknesses in the paper plans. Only members of the defense organizations will participate.

With the exception of a few top members of the defense organization the locale of the "disaster" and the number of "victims" is being kept secret.

"This procedure" a spokesman said yesterday, "will make the "disaster" more authentic and will enable us to determine how well our personnel is trained to carry out their duties."

Following the test a report will be made public to familiarize residents with plans which would be put in effect if an emergency occurred.

The following groups will be activated for the test: Police, auxiliary police, health department, fire department and auxiliary, survey, medical, transportation, communication, shelter, food, clothing, registration and information, and central purchase and supply committees.

The junior Red Cross will act as victims and inquiring relatives. The Civil Air Patrol will participate weather permitting. Their function will be to fly "plasma" from Trenton.

Summit will be well organized for a disaster—mock or real. At a meeting of the Defense Council held last Wednesday at City Hall reports were made by the various defense units and in all cases considerable progress in community preparedness was noted.

An emergency generator to power radio communications equipment has been obtained by the Red Cross and installed in the third floor of Red Cross headquarters on Elm street and the City has also placed an order for a second generator. Auxiliary Police equipment of badges, night sticks and whistles has been ordered and equipment lists have been compiled and placed on file at City Hall to cover fire apparatus, World War II defense material, police equipment, first aid supplies and wreckers, bulldozers and acetylene torches in the area. Names and addresses of persons to contact for this equipment are included on the lists.

Geiger Counters Earmarked

In case the disaster may be of an atomic nature, available sources of Geiger counters are on file at the Board of Health. These counters would be obtained through the Bell Labs at Murray Hill and will be used only by Bell Lab technicians.

Seven shelters with a capacity of 1,700 have been "established" as have ten feeding station with a capacity of 1,650. These will be supervised by the Red Cross and staffed by volunteers. In many instances church personnel will operate the feeding stations. The Red Cross will stand the expense of feeding the 1,616 displaced persons assigned to this city for three or four days but feeding the evacuees for a longer period will have to be a municipal expense.

Shelters at Churches

Shelters will be made of Central Church parish house, St. Teresa's auditorium and the recreation hall, Methodist Church parish house and Calvary Episcopal parish house.

Feeding stations will be maintained in the parish houses of the Baptist, Calvary, Central, Methodist Community, Oakes Memorial, St. John's Lutheran and Fountain Baptist churches as well as the YMCA and Kent Place School.

Nine Local Men Inducted Into Service Friday

Nine Summit men, plus two former residents of the city, were among the group of 57 inducted into military service last Friday by Board 44 at Plainfield. The three boards in Union County sent a record contingent of 192. As the group left it was announced that the county quota for November will be even higher — 225 to be drawn from the three boards.

Alan R. Weaver, formerly of Summit but now residing at Hialeah Park, Fla., was also a member of the group. George Skoncsewski, another former resident, was transferred to the Glenwood Landing (N. Y.) board where he now lives and will be inducted from there.

Board 44 announced that 127 others have passed physical examinations and that more men will be selected for examination at Newark within the next few weeks. The board is selecting candidates from among those born in 1930, it was said.

W. V. Johnson To Head Kiwanis For Coming Year

Welton V. Johnson, of the Johnson Engineering Company of Summit, was elected president of the Summit Kiwanis Club at the regular weekly luncheon meeting held Tuesday at the Beechwood Hotel. Mayor Percival M. Bland, an honorary member of Kiwanis, was guest of honor and speaker at the meeting.

Elected with Mr. Johnson were Matthews M. Simpson, first vice-president; John C. Osterberg, second vice-president; and H. Marsh Shorrock, treasurer. Directors elected for a two-year term were John N. May, Jr., David H. Knowles, and William A. Martin. The new officers and directors will take office January 1.

Jacob R. Mantel, chairman of the Kiwanis public and business affairs committee which sponsored the day's program, introduced Mayor Bland who spoke on Summit's civil defense plans. The Mayor, who has been active in civic affairs since he was elected to Common Council in 1939, has as one of his official responsibilities the duty of formulating and

Civil Air Board Gives Nod On 'Copter Shuttle Routes

Helicopter mail and passenger service from Summit and other North Jersey communities to New York City moved a step nearer realization this week when the project was given support of a Civil Aeronautics Board examiner.

The examiner recommended to the CAB that an application for service by New York Airways, Inc., be approved and other applications denied. The proposed temporary (five year) certificate "of public convenience and necessity" would permit air transportation to and from the three major New York airports, including Newark, and the New York Post Office.

Summit would be one of the communities to be served out of Newark Airport. Other towns include Morristown, Plainfield, Princeton, New Brunswick, Asbury Park, Long Branch, Red Bank, Perth Amboy, Clifton, Paterson and others.

The service could be expanded to any point within fifty miles of New York. The report recommended that the helicopter firms be authorized to also carry passengers on shuttle lines between Newark, LaGuardia and Idlewild airports. The examiner said that suitable heliport sites in Manhattan would have to be found before hotel-to-airport passenger service is possible. He said it also appeared that service to suburban centers would also be delayed.

LaGuardia Airport service would handle Westchester and Long Island communities.

Council Has Holiday

Common Council will not meet Tuesday because of general election. The meeting will be held Wednesday night.

billed four local merchants out of $10 each with a proposition that he would include their names on a thermometer to be erected at Union place and Maple street, police reported this week. The man, R. Connor of Philadelphia, who claimed he was representing the R. C. Advertising Co. of the same city, is now being sought by local police.

The scheme was bared when one of the merchants reconsidered the project and tried to stop payment on his check, only to find that it had already been cashed.

Police urged all merchants to check carefully on salesmen's credentials before investing in similar schemes.

Dr. R. W. Baker's Estate Valued at $221,499

An estate of approximately $221,499 was left by the late Dr. Raymond D. Baker, formerly of 82 DeForest avenue. Dr. Baker died on November 3, 1948 following an automobile accident while motoring south. Final accounting of the estate was filed last week with the Union County Surrogate's office.

The accounting was submitted by Dr. Baker's widow, Mrs. Mildred Baker of Hollywood Beach, Fla., and Ralph E. Lum of Chatham, attorney, executors. Mrs. Baker is the legatee and trust beneficiary of the estate. Half of the estate is left in trust for Mrs. Baker and the other half in trust for his son, Bergman Baker, also of Hollywood Beach.

The accounting, which covers the period from Nov. 3, 1948 to Oct. 6, 1950, shows expenditures of $27,401 and principal of $194,097. The income was $25,729.

The television set dominated the entire room.

The Rise of a Television Fan

By JEFFERY JAMES

OUR family is an odd one by some present-day standards. We don't have a television set. A number of our friends have installed sets in their homes, but so far we have resisted the temptation for two reasons: (1) our budget won't stand the expenditure, (2) we never really wanted one. At times we must have felt rather out of the select circle who view television regularly. When friends started talking about video performances all they drew from us were blank, unknowing looks. We must have seemed very much out of touch with the times.

In the evenings it has been our custom to absorb ourselves in a book — a practice which seems to be waning in popularity. Nevertheless we have spent many enjoyable hours in this old fashioned pastime. We never missed not watching Milton Berle (I've never seen this gentleman in action, although I understand he enjoys quite a following among video fans), we failed to get excited when friends told us that Bob Hope was going to make his debut on television. Faye Emerson, as far as I am concerned, is just an ex-wife of one of President Roosevelt's sons.

Thus it was quite a surprise to us to find a television set in the house we rented on the lake this summer. There it was, a small table model set off in one corner of the living room. At first we did nothing with it. It just remained unnoticed in the corner with its blank screen like an uninvited guest. We said little about it, but every once in a while I would catch my wife surreptitiously looking in the direction of the machine. Nothing much came of it. We went on as usual, settling down to a book in the late evening.

I guess the thing that started it was a visit from a young relative. He had a television set at his home, and when he came into the living room his eyes sparkled as soon as they rested on our table model in the corner. That evening the set went on for the first time. Our young visitor went over to the machine, twirled the dials expertly and presently had it in running order.

In the beginning there were programming difficulties. We, knowing nothing about the schedule, relied on his judgment. He would come bouncing in after supper to inform us; "Say, there's a swell program on tonight." It almost invariably turned out to be a Western film, vintage 1900, or the wrestling matches. He had a marvelous memory for faces. He could tell the names of all the participants in the matches even though they might be at the bottom of the heap and twisted like a pretzel. It seemed that he was on first name acquaintance with "Gorgeous George" and the rest of that crowd.

While our young friend was watching the television screen with rapt attention, my wife and I determinedly stuck to our books. It was a tough battle and a futile one. We would read a page or two, take a peek at the video screen, go back to the book. The peeks became longer and more frequent. In the battle between literature and television, literature was losing out. The printed word couldn't compete with those animated figures bouncing around on the screen. After a night or two the unequal fight was given up altogether. The flickering screen dominated the room and it apparently was impossible to do anything but watch it when it was on.

As other television-conscious friends arrived, the set was in use more and more. Out of self defense I even learned to operate it myself, and my wife confided that on one afternoon, when no one was looking, she herself experimented with the set, just in case she might want to see something on television when no one else was around to help her tune the program in."

In the three weeks that I was pressed into the ranks of television devotees, I don't recall seeing anything that could have been termed worthwhile. I kept hoping. It got so that I would actually

Fall Elections: Candidates-Issues

Congressional Aspirants Stump Their Districts for Votes on November 7

By JOHN COAD

ALL THAT whooping and hollering you hear these mid-autumn days are the political candidates vocalizing in an attempt to hold their jobs, or endeavoring to get another's coveted position.

On November 7 voters will go to the polls to elect their Congressional representatives and local officials. The candidates are just now warming up to the full heart of the campaigns, the results of which will cause the experts to make weighty and probably not too accurate observations concerning the 1952 presidential race.

Generally, it seems, the issues of the campaigns were established long ago. The Republicans in this area, in the 6th, 11th and 12th districts, are stumping their districts with the various charges that the Democratic administration has coddled Communists and Communist sympathizers, that the State Department was caught flat-footed by the Korean war and that a vote for the Democrats is another step down the road to socialism. The Democrats, on the other hand, charge that the Republicans are playing into the hands of the Communists by attempting to create disunity and that the GOP has spearheaded moves to slash military and foreign aid.

Perhaps one of the most interesting political fights in this area looms in the 6th Congressional district where Harry Mopsick, a Linden attorney, is hoping to unseat his Republican opponent, Clifford P. Case, of Rahway. If Mopsick pulls the upset, it will be the first time in nearly 30 years that the normally Republican 6th district will have a Democratic representative in Congress.

Case, who has been in the House of Representatives since 1941, has been tabbed as a liberal Republican because of his endorsement of Marshall Aid, the United Nations and his support of a strong bi-partisan foreign policy. He often has bucked the Old Guard GOP, to their displeasure, and has fought for legislation which would put certain restrictions on inquiries initiated by Congressional committees.

Deprived of the usual clear cut division of issues, Mopsick has charged that Case is a "fence straddler" and that he has stretched his legs to the breaking point straddling fences to woo Democratic votes.

Although the 6th district often turns in whopping majorities of over 20,000 votes for its Republican candidates, the experts are predicting a close race this fall. This is at least in part due to the antagonism in certain Republican quarters to their own candidate. A Newark paper recently reported a Westfield Republican as saying: "What if we did elect a Democrat, improbable as it sounds? What difference would it make compared with the opportunity of ridding the district of Case and stepping in two years from now and nominating a Republican of our own choice? The election of such a candidate would be no more than a routine job."

In other quarters there are the usual charges and countercharges. In the 12th district, Democratic candidate Harry Dudkin is charging that the Republicans inspired a "smear" campaign and are inducing distrust of American democracy in foreign peoples. His opponent is Congressman Robert W. Kean, a strong advocate of economical and efficient government.

In the 11th district, Republican candidate Albert Vreeland is a vigorous opponent of national health insurance and has accused Federal Security Administrator Oscar Ewing of "typical socialist tactics" in his attacks on leaders of the AMA. Although his opponent, Representative Hugh J. Addonizio (Dem.), has given only lukewarm approval to the administration's national health insurance plan, he has taken the stand that there is need for some such program and has pointed out that the New Jersey Medical Society's plan is perhaps worthy of consideration.

Harry Mopsick (Dem.)—A native of Linden, 35 years old, he attended public schools in Linden . . . received his law degree from Rutgers University . . . has actively practiced law since 1939. He has achieved a reputation as a specialist in landlord-tenant relations . . . organized 14 Tenants Leagues in Union County . . . is president of the New Jersey Tenants Council and has testified before the Sub-Committee on rent control in Washington. An organization Democrat, he is married and has two sons.

Clifford P. Case (Rep.)—A resident of Rahway . . . at 36 has served three terms in Congress and is the present incumbent in the House of Representatives. His maiden speech in Congress was a challenge to Congressman Rankin of Mississippi over minority rights issue . . . since then has supported the United Nations, Marshall Aid and fought for a non-discriminatory Displaced Persons Law. He graduated from Rutgers University in 1925 . . . received his law degree from Columbia in 1928 . . . practiced law in New York. He is married and has two daughters.

Albert L. Vreeland (Rep.)—He was elected to Congress in 1939 from the 11th Congressional district, and served until the day after Pearl Harbor when he obtained a leave of absence from the House of Representatives to enter the armed forces with reserve rank of captain as Chief, Special Investigative Division, War Department . . . later saw duty with the 76th Infantry Division . . . was ordered to return to Congress in July, 1942, where he completed his term of office but stated he would not run for re-election . . . later served in Pacific and was discharged as a lieutenant colonel. While in Congress, he supported the national defense program and promotion reforms in the armed forces. He is a graduate of the New Jersey Law School.

Hugh J. Addonizio (Dem.) — President incumbent in House of Representatives . . . he is a resident of Newark. Went to local schools . . . a graduate of Fordham University where he was quarterback on the football team. He was elected to Congress in 1948 where he supported the administration's Fair Deal program. He entered the Army as a private . . . was discharged as a captain in 1946. A member of the A & C Tailoring Company . . . is married . . . father of one boy and one one girl.

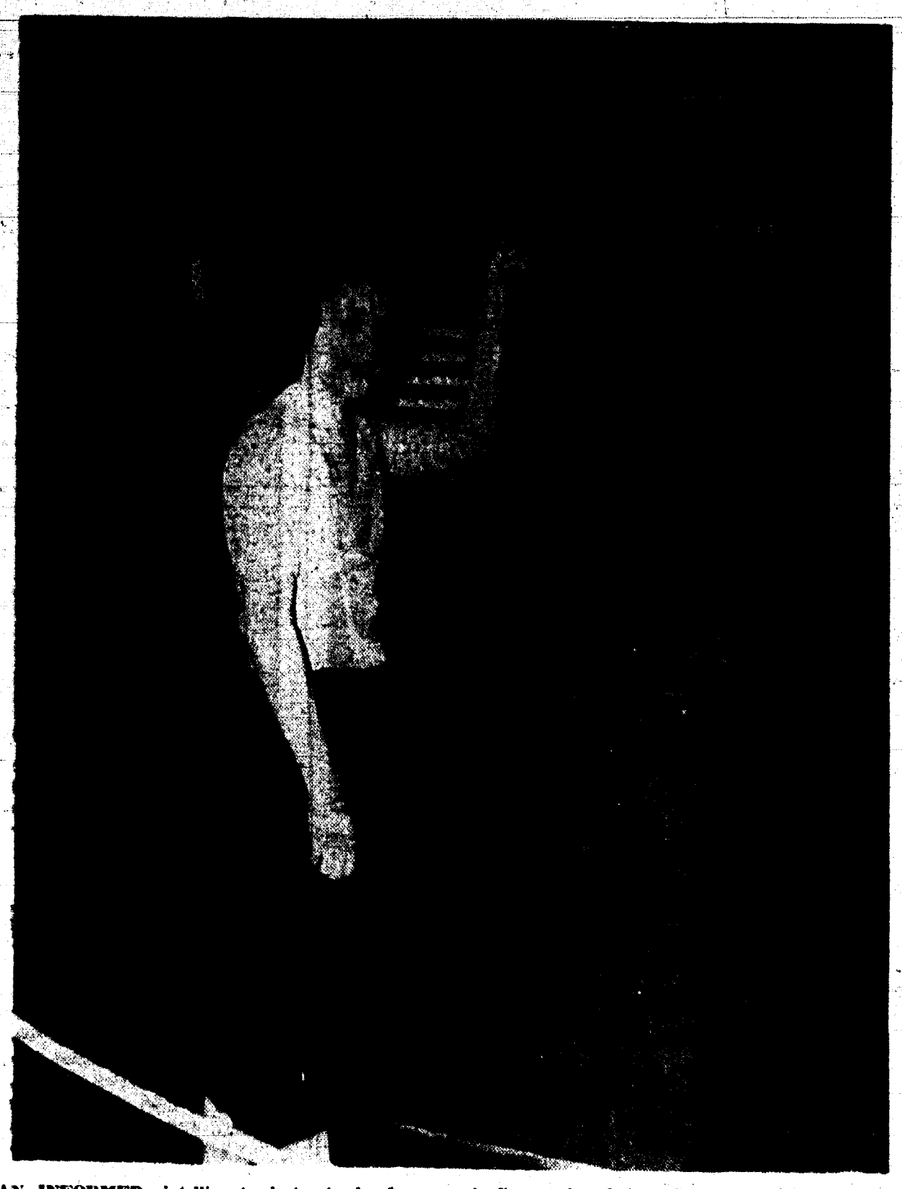
Harry Dudkin (Dem.) A resident of Newark . . . graduated from local schools . . . received his law degree from the New Jersey Law School in 1929 . . . winner of a Chester Sherman Prize for legal research. He is a former Deputy Clerk and Acting Judge in Newark Criminal Courts, Department of Public Safety, City of Newark . . . married, has one daughter.

Robert W. Kean (Rep.) Present incumbent in the House of Representatives, where he has served continuously since first winning a seat in 1938 . . . a member of the Ways and Means Committee since 1945. He is a strong advocate of reduction in Federal taxes and in economies in the government . . . supported a severe reduction in the 1950 tax bill. A graduate of Harvard College, he is partner in a Newark investment firm . . . married, has six children.



AN INFORMED, intelligent electorate is democracy's firmest foundation. Schools, realizing this, have stressed the practical as well as theoretical aspects of politics. An example of this (picture above) is Columbia High School's experiment last spring, using regulation voting machines in school elections.

"Ike" Is Tops in Public's Judgement

By KENNETH FINK,
Director, The New Jersey Poll

On Sunday, October 15, Governor Tom Dewey took himself out of the 1952 Presidential picture and announced that he would back General Dwight D. Eisenhower for the Republican nomination.

The big question today—as it was in 1947 and 1948—is "Will Ike Run?"

Should General Eisenhower decide to become the Republican candidate in 1952, he should prove to be a very popular candidate with New Jersey voters, judging from a statewide survey completed just prior to Governor Dewey's announcement.

Three out of every five New Jersey voters questioned in today's survey say they would vote for Eisenhower over Truman if the 1952 Presidential election were held today.

In other words, at the present time New Jersey voters prefer General Eisenhower over President Truman by a 2 to 1 margin.

Highlight of today's survey is that Eisenhower has as much support among the rank and file of Democratic Party members as Truman has.

At the same time Independent voters and Republican Party members evidence strong preference for Eisenhower.

When New Jersey poll staff reporters asked the following question of an accurate cross-section of New Jersey voters:

"Of course, it's still a long time away, but if the 1952 Presidential election were being held today, and Eisenhower were running for President on the Republican ticket against Truman on the Democratic ticket, how do you think you would vote—for Eisenhower or Truman?"

The vote was:

	Tru	Eis	Neith	No Op
TOTAL STATE:
29% Democratic Party members	61	2	8
45.5% Republican Party members	45.5	1	8
11% Independents	83	2	4
26%	60	2	12

Noteworthy, too, is that majority sentiment in every other population segment measured in today's survey is behind Eisenhower.

These groups include men and women, people in all age groups, city sizes, occupations, and educational levels.

An Announcement

This is the last issue of SUBURBIA.

Due to increasing difficulty in obtaining newsprint, combined with other production problems, it is with regret that we announce the discontinuation of the publication, effective, today, October 26.

THE COVER

On the cover this week, symbolic of Halloween, is a pumpkin and Kenny Fitzsimmons, age 5, of 88 Massel Terrace, South Orange. His father is chief of police in South Orange.

Kenny had a dandy new cowboy suit and hoped his picture could be taken in it. Sorry, Kenny, but those particular pictures didn't turn out well.

FINIS

As I write I notice that the ink on my typewriter ribbon is becoming weaker and weaker. I hope there will be enough to punctuate this, the last sentence to be sent from SUBURBIA'S office to the composing room.—Ed.

Election Day 'Disaster' Will Test City's Civil Defense Units

The city's defense plans will be put to a test Tuesday when the Civil Defense Council and the local Red Cross stage a mock disaster.

The purpose of the "disaster" is to familiarize the personnel of the two units with their duties and to determine any weaknesses in the paper plans. Only members of the defense organizations will participate.

With the exception of a few top members of the defense organization the locale of the "disaster" and the number of "victims" is being kept secret.

"This procedure" a spokesman said yesterday, "will make the "disaster" more authentic and will enable us to determine how well our personnel is trained to carry out their duties."

Following the test a report will be made public to familiarize residents with plans which would be put in effect if an emergency occurred.

The following groups will be activated for the test: Police, auxiliary police, health department, fire department and auxiliary, survey, medical, transportation, communication, shelter, food, clothing, registration and information, and central purchase and supply committees.

The junior Red Cross will act as victims and inquiring relatives. The Civil Air Patrol will participate weather permitting. Their function will be to fly "plasma" from Trenton.

Summit will be well organized for a disaster—mock or real. At a meeting of the Defense Council held last Wednesday at City Hall reports were made by the various defense units and in all cases considerable progress in community preparedness was noted.

An emergency generator to power radio communications equipment has been obtained by the Red Cross and installed in the third floor of Red Cross headquarters on Elm street and the City has also placed an order for a second generator. Auxiliary Police equipment of badges, night sticks and whistles has been ordered and equipment lists have been compiled and placed on file at City Hall to cover fire apparatus, World War II defense material, police equipment, first aid supplies and wreckers, bulldozers and acetylene torches in the area. Names and addresses of persons to contact for this equipment are included on the lists.

Geiger Counters Earmarked

In case the disaster may be of an atomic nature, available sources of Geiger counters are on file at the Board of Health. These counters would be obtained through the Bell Labs at Murray Hill and will be used only by Bell Lab technicians.

Seven shelters with a capacity of 1,700 have been "established" as have ten feeding station with a capacity of 1,650. These will be supervised by the Red Cross and staffed by volunteers. In many instances church personnel will operate the feeding stations. The Red Cross will stand the expense of feeding the 1,616 displaced persons assigned to this city for three or four days but feeding the evacuees for a longer period will have to be a municipal expense.

Shelters at Churches

Shelters will be made of Central Church parish house, St. Teresa's auditorium and the recreation hall, Methodist Church parish house and Calvary Episcopal parish house.

Feeding stations will be maintained in the parish houses of the Baptist, Calvary, Central, Methodist Community, Oakes Memorial, St. John's Lutheran and Fountain Baptist churches as well as the YMCA and Kent Place School.

Nine Local Men Inducted Into Service Friday

Nine Summit men, plus two former residents of the city, were among the group of 57 inducted into military service last Friday by Board 44 at Plainfield. The three boards in Union County sent a record contingent of 192. As the group left it was announced that the county quota for November will be even higher — 225 to be drawn from the three boards.

Alan R. Weaver, formerly of Summit but now residing at Hialeah Park, Fla., was also a member of the group. George Sloncsewski, another former resident, was transferred to the Glenwood Landing (N.Y.) board where he now lives and will be inducted from there.

Board 44 announced that 127 others have passed physical examinations and that more men will be selected for examination at Newark within the next few weeks. The board is selecting candidates from among those born in 1930, it was said.

W. V. Johnson To Head Kiwanis For Coming Year

Welton V. Johnson, of the Johnson Engineering Company of Summit, was elected president of the Summit Kiwanis Club at the regular weekly luncheon meeting held Tuesday at the Beechwood Hotel. Mayor Percival M. Bland, an honorary member of Kiwanis, was guest of honor and speaker at the meeting.

Elected with Mr. Johnson were Matthews M. Simpson, first vice-president; John C. Osterberg, second vice-president; and H. Marsh Shorrock, treasurer. Directors elected for a two-year term were John N. May, Jr., David H. Knowles, and William A. Martin. The new officers and directors will take office January 1.

Jacob R. Mantel, chairman of the Kiwanis public and business affairs committee which sponsored the day's program, introduced Mayor Bland who spoke on Summit's civil defense plans. The Mayor, who has been active in civic affairs since he was elected to Common Council in 1939, has as one of his official responsibilities the duty of formulating and

Helicopter mail and passenger service from Summit and other North Jersey communities to New York City moved a step nearer realization this week when the project was given support of a Civil Aeronautics Board examiner.

The examiner recommended to the CAB that an application for service by New York Airways, Inc., be approved and other applications denied. The proposed temporary (five year) certificate "of public convenience and necessity" would permit air transportation to and from the three major New York airports, including Newark, and the New York Post Office.

Summit would be one of the communities to be served out of Newark Airport. Other towns include Morristown, Plainfield, Princeton, New Brunswick, Asbury Park, Long Branch, Red Bank, Perth Amboy, Clifton, Paterson and others.

The service could be expanded to any point within fifty miles of New York. The report recommended that the helicopter firm be authorized to also carry passengers on shuttle lines between Newark, LaGuardia and Idlewild airports. The examiner said that suitable heliport sites in Manhattan would have to be found before hotel-to-airport passenger service is possible. He said it also appeared that service to suburban centers would also be delayed.

LaGuardia Airport service would handle Westchester and Long Island commuters.

bilked four local merchants out of $10 each with a proposition that he would include their names on a thermometer to be erected at Union place and Maple street, police reported this week. The man, R. Connor of Philadelphia, who claimed he was representing the R. C. Advertising Co. of the same city, is now being sought by local police.

The scheme was bared when one of the merchants reconsidered the project and tried to stop payment on his check, only to find that it had already been cashed.

Police urged all merchants to check carefully on salesmen's credentials before investing in similar schemes.

Panel members will be: Mrs. Roland Beatty, Summit; Mrs. A. C. DuBois, Plainfield; Mrs. George Paine, Bayonne; Mrs. Ralph Rankin, Westfield, and Mrs. H. L. Folsom, Orange.

Mrs. William R. Bagger of Westfield, will lead a discussion of inter-association activities.

Luncheon will be served to the guests under the direction of Mrs. Jacob Trapp and her committee of volunteers. Following a tour of the buildings, songs will be led by Dr. Helen Baker of Elizabeth accompanied by Miss Capitola Dickerson of Summit.

Mrs. Clark Poole will head the registrars and Mrs. Fred Stone, Jr., the hostesses.

Student-musicians blared on their instruments while the gay crowd pranced to the school auditorium where Mayor Percival M. Bland presented awards for the best costumes.

Dr. R. W. Baker's Estate Valued at $221,499

An estate of approximately $221,499 was left by the late Dr. Raymond D. Baker, formerly of 82 DeForest avenue. Dr. Baker died on November 3, 1948 following an automobile accident while motoring south. Final accounting of the estate was filed last week with the Union County Surrogate's office.

The accounting was submitted by Dr. Baker's widow, Mrs. Mildred Baker of Hollywood Beach, Fla., and Ralph E. Lum of Chatham, attorney, executors. Mrs. Baker is the legatee and trust beneficiary of the estate. Half of the estate is left in trust for Mrs. Baker and the other half in trust for his son, Bergman Baker, also of Hollywood Beach.

The accounting, which covers the period from Nov. 3, 1948 to Oct. 6, 1950, shows expenditures of $27,401 and principal of $194,097. The income was $25,729.

turn on the set myself, without any prodding. The best of the lot, as I recall, was a marvelously trained monkey—on the "Ed Sullivan" show, I believe it was,—who was enormously amusing as he played an electric organ.

In the meantime there was that book—unopened, unread—which I had planned to read.

Now that we are back in the apartment, I have finished the book started several months ago. Too, if friends start to chatter about Gorgeous George or Jerry Lester I can assume a reasonable air of intelligence. You see, I now have become one of the crowd.

"No Way Out"

By PAUL PARKER

BY this time most of you, no doubt, know the story of "No Way Out," Darryl Zanuck's second treatment of racial prejudice. Briefly it is this: Two brothers are wounded in a gas station hold up and are brought to the county hospital. They are treated by a young Negro doctor (Sidney Poitier) who realizes that one of the brothers is dying, not from his wounds, but from a brain tumor. When the doctor takes a spinal tap, the patient dies and the other brother, a Negrophobe of the highest order, vows to "get him."

If anyone doubts that it is impossible for Hollywood to call a spade a spade they should be convinced that it just isn't so after seeing "No Way Out" which opened last week at Proctor's in Newark. Almost every epithet ever used against the American Negro seems to find its way into the script of this nightmarish tale of violence and intolerance.

Since the film was made with the most noble of intentions and carries with it the undeniable trademark of earnestness, sincerity, expert direction and production, I am sorry to say that I cannot unqualifiedly sing its praises.

"No Way Out" takes a special case of racial prejudice for its theme—that of a psycopathic mind which blindly and without reason is violently intolerant. The "mind" is played with chilling intensity by Richard Widmark, as the wounded hooligan who is out to "get" the young Negro doctor. The "mind" is also represented by his hoodlum friends and by a woman who spits in the doctor's face as he is trying to save the life of her husband who has been wounded in a race riot.

It is an almost ghoulish story, with scenes of preparations for a raid on "Niggertown" in a weirdly lighted junk yard. The script is filled with high gear melodrama which alternately exhausts the audience or makes them cheer (this actually happened at the performance I attended) as the underdog colored forces whale the living daylights out of the white hoodlums with baseball bats.

With all this physical violence, it might seem that the nature of intolerance is to be found in the disordered mind which evidences itself by beating up the Negro. "No Way Out" does not for a second consider the housewife who objects when a Negro family moves next door, or the mother who won't let her children play with colored children, or with the employer who refuses to hire Negro help. All these people are perfectly normal citizens and probably wouldn't be seen dead hitting a Negro with an iron pipe. Such a broad and important theme as racial prejudice deserves better handling than a film which bases its appeal exclusively upon psycopaths and bodily violence.

Don't misunderstand me. "No Way Out" is worth seeing. It does contain fine performances by Sidney Poitier as the Negro doctor and by Richard Widmark as the paranoiac hoodlum, and it does point up some of the extreme forms which prejudice takes. But I don't think it adds much to the understanding of the Negro problem.

Election Day 'Disaster' Will Test City's Civil Defense Units

The city's defense plans will be put to a test Tuesday when the Civil Defense Council and the local Red Cross stage a mock disaster.

The purpose of the "disaster" is to familiarize the personnel of the two units with their duties and to determine any weaknesses in the paper plans. Only members of the defense organizations will participate.

With the exception of a few top members of the defense organization the locale of the "disaster" and the number of "victims" is being kept secret.

"This procedure" a spokesman said yesterday, "will make the "disaster" more authentic and will enable us to determine how well our personnel is trained to carry out their duties."

Following the test a report will be made public to familiarize residents with plans which would be put in effect if an emergency occurred.

The following groups will be activated for the test: Police, auxiliary police, health department, fire department and auxiliary, survey, medical, transportation, communication, shelter, food, clothing, registration and information, and central purchase and supply committees.

The junior Red Cross will act as victims and inquiring relatives. The Civil Air Patrol will participate weather permitting. Their function will be to fly "plasma" from Trenton.

Summit will be well organized for a disaster—mock or real. At a meeting of the Defense Council held last Wednesday at City Hall reports were made by the various defense units and in all cases considerable progress in community preparedness was noted.

An emergency generator to power radio communications equipment has been obtained by the Red Cross and installed in the third floor of Red Cross headquarters on Elm street and the City has also placed an order for a second generator. Auxiliary police equipment of badges, night sticks and whistles has been ordered and equipment lists have been compiled and placed on file at City Hall to cover fire apparatus, World War II defense material, police equipment, first aid supplies and wreckers, bulldozers and acetylene torches in the area. Names and addresses of persons to contact for this equipment are included on the lists.

Geiger Counters Earmarked

In case the disaster may be of an atomic nature, available sources of Geiger counters are on file at the Board of Health. These counters would be obtained through the Bell Labs at Murray Hill and will be used only by Bell Lab technicians.

Seven shelters with a capacity of 1,700 have been "established" as have ten feeding station with a capacity of 1,650. These will be supervised by the Red Cross and staffed by volunteers. In many instances church personnel will operate the feeding stations. The Red Cross will stand the expense of feeding the 1,616 displaced persons assigned to this city for three or four days but feeding the evacuees for a longer period will have to be a municipal expense.

Shelters at Churches

Shelters will be made of Central Church parish house, St. Teresa's auditorium and the recreation hall, Methodist Church parish house and Calvary Episcopal parish house.

Feeding stations will be maintained in the parish houses of the Baptist, Calvary, Central, Methodist Community, Oakes Memorial, St. John's Lutheran and Fountain Baptist churches as well as the YMCA and Kent Place School.

Nine Local Men Inducted Into Service Friday

Nine Summit men, plus two former residents of the city, were among the group of 57 inducted into military service last Friday by Board 44 at Plainfield. The three boards in Union County sent a record contingent of 192. As the group left it was announced that the county quota for November will be even higher — 228 to be drawn from the three boards.

Alan R. Weaver, formerly of Summit but now residing at Hialeah Park, Fla., was also a member of the group. George Sloncsewski, another former resident, was transferred to the Glenwood Landing (N.Y.) board where he now lives and will be inducted from there.

Board 44 announced that 127 others have passed physical examinations and that more men will be selected for examination at Newark within the next few weeks. The board is selecting candidates from among those born in 1930, it was said.

W. V. Johnson To Head Kiwanis For Coming Year

Welton V. Johnson, of the Johnson Engineering Company of Summit, was elected president of the Summit Kiwanis Club at the regular weekly luncheon meeting held Tuesday at the Beechwood Hotel. Mayor Percival M. Bland, an honorary member of Kiwanis, was guest of honor and speaker at the meeting.

Elected with Mr. Johnson were Matthews M. Simpson, first vice-president; John C. Osterberg, second vice-president; and H. Marsh Shorrock, treasurer. Directors elected for a two-year term were John N. May, Jr., David H. Knowles, and William A. Martin. The new officers and directors will take office January 1.

Jacob R. Mantel, chairman of the Kiwanis public and business affairs committee which sponsored the day's program, introduced Mayor Bland who spoke on Summit's civil defense plans. The Mayor, who has been active in civic affairs since he was elected to Common Council in 1939, has as one of his official responsibilities the duty of formulating and

Helicopter mail and passenger service from Summit and other North Jersey communities to New York City moved a step nearer realization this week when the project was given support of a Civil Aeronautics Board examiner.

The examiner recommended to the CAB that an application for service by New York Airways, Inc., be approved and other applications denied. The proposed temporary (five year) certificate "of public convenience and necessity" would permit air transportation to and from the three major New York airports, including Newark, and the New York Post Office.

Summit would be one of the communities to be served out of Newark Airport. Other towns include Morristown, Plainfield, Princeton, New Brunswick, Asbury Park, Long Branch, Red Bank, Perth Amboy, Clifton, Paterson and others.

The service could be expanded to any point within fifty miles of New York. The report recommended that the helicopter firms be authorized to also carry passengers on shuttle lines between Newark, LaGuardia and Idlewild airports. The examiner said that suitable heliport sites in Manhattan would have to be found before hotel-to-airport passenger service is possible. He said it also appeared that service to suburban centers would also be delayed.

LaGuardia Airport service would handle Westchester and Long Island commuters.

Judge Hughes Sits in Monmouth County Court

Presiding Judge John L. Hughes of the Union County District Court sat in the Long Branch District Court in Monmouth County Friday. His action was on invitation of Chief Justice Vanderbilt to provide assistance in clearing the congestion in the Monmouth court calendar.

An advertising solicitor Monday bilked four local merchants out of $10 each with a proposition that he would include their names on a thermometer to be erected at Union place and Maple street, police reported this week. The man, R. Connor of Philadelphia, who claimed he was representing the R. C. Advertising Co. of the same city, is now being sought by local police.

The scheme was bared when one of the merchants reconsidered the project and tried to stop payment on his check, only to find that it had already been cashed.

Police urged all merchants to check carefully on salesmen's credentials before investing in similar schemes.

Panel members will be: Mrs. Roland Beatty, Summit; Mrs. A. C. DuBois, Plainfield; Mrs. George Paine, Bayonne; Mrs. Ralph Rankin, Westfield, and Mrs. H. L. Folsom, Orange.

Mrs. William R. Bagger of Westfield, will lead a discussion of inter-association activities.

Luncheon will be served to the guests under the direction of Mrs. Jacob Trapp and her committee of volunteers. Following a tour of the buildings, songs will be led by Dr. Helen Baker of Elizabeth accompanied by Miss Capitola Dickerson of Summit.

Mrs. Clark Poole will head the registrars and Mrs. Fred Stone, Jr., the hostesses.

Dr. R. W. Baker's Estate Valued at $221,499

An estate of approximately $221,499 was left by the late Dr. Raymond D. Baker, formerly of 52 DeForest avenue. Dr. Baker died on November 3, 1948 following an automobile accident while motoring south. Final accounting of the estate was filed last week with the Union County Surrogate's office.

The accounting was submitted by Dr. Baker's widow, Mrs. Mildred Baker of Hollywood Beach, Fla., and Ralph E. Lum of Chatham, attorney, executors. Mrs. Baker is the legatee and trust beneficiary of the estate. Half of the estate is left in trust for Mrs. Baker and the other half in trust for his son, Bergman Baker, also of Hollywood Beach.

The accounting, which covers the period from Nov. 3, 1948 to Oct. 6, 1950, shows expenditures of $27,401 and principal of $194,097. The income was $25,729.

A Piece of Your Mind

By KARL M. PLATZER
Psychologist

To "Know Thyself" is still wisdom.

The more we realize the factors which motivate our behavior, the better we can control them, the more we can live on an intelligent basis. The conflicts, indecisions, guilts, and anxieties which mar our lives can be cleared up, and we can better lives with ourselves.

Furthermore, we can better live with others. When we understand those of other people. Instead of our own motivations, we can begin to understand those of other people. Instead of seeing their behavior as a pure dichotomy of black or white, good or bad, we see the personality patterns which drive them to act as they do.

"... know all is to forgive all," and to understand a person is to stop condemning him.

To some extent, living with others reminds me of the long rows of white door-steps on both sides of the old Baltimore streets. Each householder keeps only his own steps clean, yet looking down the street, we can see glistening white steps as far as our eyes reach. The housewife who sees some grey in her neighbor's steps does not scorn her for it, because she understands too well how difficult it is for anyone to keep the steps constantly spotless, and how easy it is to have them become dirty. Similarly, when we realize the forces that shape our personalities and our actions, we can better appreciate the reasons behind those of our neighbor's.

Modern psychology is based largely upon that dictum. It seeks to bring each person to a knowledge of himself and of society. Only by truly knowing ourselves can we finally begin to live the lives we were intended to live: full or fruitful and pleasurable activity, free from destructive guilt, anxiety and fear. Only by knowing ourselves can we begin to live at peace with ourselves and with the world of our neighbors.

So across the space of two and a half millennia, we salute that flat-nosed, ugly little man who walked preaching through the streets of Athens and who was put to death by those to whom he spoke, because they could not bear the light of his teaching. Socrates was right. To "Know Thyself" is the beginning of wisdom.

Playing the Cards

By ALEXANDER SPENCER

♣ A 8 7 3 2

With both sides vulnerable the bidding goes:

SOUTH	WEST	NORTH	EAST
1 ♣	pass	1 ♦	pass
2 ♣	pass	2 ♦	pass
2 N.T.	pass	3 N.T.	(all pass)

West opens the five of hearts. At rubber bridge how would you play the diamonds? Would your play be the same at duplicate?

At rubber bridge safety is the keynote. If you can, by giving up a trick which may not have to be lost, give yourself a better chance to make the contract, then that trick should be cheerfully surrendered. Overtricks are unimportant in rubber. So you should win the first trick with the king of hearts, lead a small diamond and play small from dummy, deliberately conceding a diamond trick to guard against a four-one split. Whatever the return is you win, then cash five diamond tricks and take in all one spade, two hearts, one club and the five diamonds for three no trump.

If this hand came up in a duplicate game, probably every declarer would fail to make three no trump. At duplicate reasonable chances must be taken for overtricks, since the aim is to make more tricks than the other declarers who play the same cards.

South, at duplicate, would take into consideration the fact that the five outstanding diamonds will be divided three-two about 68% of the time, and four-one only 28% of the time. In other words, the odds are better than two to one that all adverse diamonds will drop on the lead of the ace-king-queen, in which event six diamond tricks will be won and an overtrick will result. On that basis declarer would cash the two top diamonds and then get the sad news of the 4 - 1 split. He would then take his seven tricks and run, going off two. This wouldn't be a bad score, though, as most if not all other declarers would play the diamonds the same way.

When Roof Is Red

If your roof is reddish in color, it is usually advisable to paint the body of the house in cream, gray, white or sand color. The trim will look well if it is coated the same color as the body of the house. If it's gray, however, it will also be attractive, if it's finished in white. For shutters and doors you can use such colors as dull blue, rust, and the brown tones.

Election Day 'Disaster' Will Test City's Civil Defense Units

The city's defense plans will be put to a test Tuesday when the Civil Defense Council and the local Red Cross stage a mock disaster.

The purpose of the "disaster" is to familiarize the personnel of the two units with their duties and to determine any weaknesses in the paper plans. Only members of the defense organizations will participate.

With the exception of a few top members of the defense organization the locale of the "disaster" and the number of "victims" is being kept secret.

"This procedure" a spokesman said yesterday, "will make the "disaster" more authentic and will enable us to determine how well our personnel is trained to carry out their duties."

Following the test a report will be made public to familiarize residents with plans which would be put in effect if an emergency occurred.

The following groups will be activated for the test: Police, auxiliary police, health department, fire department and auxiliary, survey, medical, transportation, communication, shelter, food, clothing, registration and information, and central purchase and supply committees.

The junior Red Cross will act as victims and inquiring relatives. The Civil Air Patrol will participate weather permitting. Their function will be to fly "plasma" from Trenton.

Summit will be well organized for a disaster—mock or real. At a meeting of the Defense Council held last Wednesday at City Hall reports were made by the various defense units and in all cases considerable progress in community preparedness was noted.

An emergency generator to power radio communications equipment has been obtained by the Red Cross and installed in the third floor of Red Cross headquarters on Elm street and the City has also placed an order for a second generator. Auxiliary Police equipment of badges, night sticks and whistles has been ordered and equipment lists have been compiled and placed on file at City Hall to cover fire apparatus, World War II defense material, police equipment, first aid supplies and wreckers, bulldozers and acetylene torches in the area. Names and addresses of persons to contact for this equipment are included on the lists.

Geiger Counters Earmarked

In case the disaster may be of an atomic nature, available sources of Geiger counters are on file at the Board of Health. These counters would be obtained through the Bell Labs at Murray Hill and will be used only by Bell Lab technicians.

Seven shelters with a capacity of 1,700 have been "established" as have ten feeding station with a capacity of 1,650. These will be supervised by the Red Cross and staffed by volunteers. In many instances church personnel will operate the feeding stations. The Red Cross will stand the expense of feeding the 1,616 displaced persons assigned to this city for three or four days but feeding the evacuees for a longer period will have to be a municipal expense.

Shelters at Churches

Shelters will be made of Central Church parish house, St. Teresa's auditorium and the recreation hall, Methodist Church parish house and Calvary Episcopal parish house.

Feeding stations will be maintained in the parish houses of the Baptist, Calvary, Central, Methodist Community, Oakes Memorial, St. John's Lutheran and Fountain Baptist churches as well as the YMCA and Kent Place School.

Negotiations are under way for

Nine Local Men Inducted Into Service Friday

Nine Summit men, plus two former residents of the city, were among the group of 57 inducted into military service last Friday by Board 44 at Plainfield. The three boards in Union County sent a record contingent of 192. As the group left it was announced that the county quota for November will be even higher — 225 to be drawn from the three boards.

Alan R. Weaver, formerly of Summit but now residing at Hialeah Park, Fla., was also a member of the group. George Slonczewski, another former resident, was transferred to the Glenwood Landing (N.Y.) board where he now lives and will be inducted from there.

Board 44 announced that 127 others have passed physical examinations and that more men will be selected for examination at Newark within the next few weeks. The board is selecting candidates from among those born in 1930, it was said.

W. V. Johnson To Head Kiwanis For Coming Year

Welton V. Johnson, of the Johnson Engineering Company of Summit, was elected president of the Summit Kiwanis Club at the regular weekly luncheon meeting held Tuesday at the Beechwood Hotel. Mayor Percival M. Bland, an honorary member of Kiwanis, was guest of honor and speaker at the meeting.

Elected with Mr. Johnson were Matthews M. Simpson, first vice-president; John C. Osterberg, second vice-president; and H. Marsh Shorrock, treasurer. Directors elected for a two-year term were John N. May, Jr., David H. Knowles, and William A. Martin. The new officers and directors will take office January 1.

Jacob R. Mantel, chairman of the Kiwanis public and business affairs committee which sponsored the day's program, introduced Mayor Bland who spoke on Summit's civil defense plans. The Mayor, who has been active in civic affairs since he was elected to Common Council in 1939, has as one of his official responsibilities the duty of formulating and

Helicopter mail and passenger service from Summit and other North Jersey communities to New York City moved a step nearer realization this week when the project was given support of a Civil Aeronautics Board examiner.

The examiner recommended to the CAB that an application for service by New York Airways, Inc., be approved and other applications denied. The proposed temporary (five year) certificate "of public convenience and necessity" would permit air transportation to and from the three major New York airports, including Newark, and the New York Post Office.

Summit would be one of the communities to be served out of Newark Airport. Other towns include Morristown, Plainfield, Princeton, New Brunswick, Asbury Park, Long Branch, Red Bank, Perth Amboy, Clifton, Paterson and others.

The service could be expanded to any point within fifty miles of New York. The report recommended that the helicopter firm be authorized to also carry passengers on shuttle lines between Newark, LaGuardia and Idlewild airports. The examiner said that suitable heliport sites in Manhattan would have to be found before hotel-to-airport passenger service is possible. He said it also appeared that service to suburban centers would also be delayed.

LaGuardia Airport service would handle Westchester and Long Island commuters.

Children's Home Elects New Board Members

At the regular quarterly meeting of the board of trustees of the Summit Home for Children (Chesebrough Foundation) held Friday night of last week, two new trustees were elected to the board—Spencer M. Mabon of 12 Woodcroft road and Thomas A. Miller of 123 Mountain avenue, Murray Hill.

The present board, now of eight members, consists of Harry A. Marshall, president; Dr. A. Lloyd Reid, vice-president; J. Howard Conover, secretary; Howard B. Bishop, treasurer; John D. Hood, Walter H. Collins and the two members just elected.

Judge Hughes Sits in Monmouth County Court

Presiding Judge John L. Hughes of the Union County District Court sat in the Long Branch District Court in Monmouth County Friday. His action was on invitation of Chief Justice Vanderbilt to provide assistance in clearing the congestion in the Monmouth court calendar.

An advertising solicitor Monday bilked four local merchants out of $10 each with a proposition that he would include their names on a thermometer to be erected at Union place and Maple street, police reported this week. The man, R. Connor of Philadelphia, who claimed he was representing the R. C. Advertising Co. of the same city, is now being sought by local police.

The scheme was bared when one of the merchants reconsidered the project and tried to stop payment on his check, only to find that it had already been cashed.

Police urged all merchants to check carefully on salesmen's credentials before investing in similar schemes.

Panel members will be: Mrs. Roland Beatty, Summit; Mrs. A. C. DuBois, Plainfield; Mrs. George Paine, Bayonne; Mrs. Ralph Rankin, Westfield, and Mrs. H. L. Folsom, Orange.

Mrs. William R. Bagger of Westfield, will lead a discussion of inter-association activities.

Luncheon will be served to the guests under the direction of Mrs. Jacob Trapp and her committee of volunteers. Following a tour of the buildings, songs will be led by Dr. Helen Baker of Elizabeth accompanied by Miss Capitola Dickerson of Summit.

Mrs. Clark Poole will head the registrars and Mrs. Fred Stone, Jr., the hostesses.

An estate of approximately $221,499 was left by the late Dr. Raymond D. Baker, formerly of 52 DeForest avenue. Dr. Baker died on November 3, 1948 following an automobile accident while motoring south. Final accounting of the estate was filed last week with the Union County Surrogate's office.

The accounting was submitted by Dr. Baker's widow, Mrs. Mildred Baker of Hollywood Beach, Fla., and Ralph E. Lum of Chatham, attorney, executors. Mrs. Baker is the legatee and trust beneficiary of the estate. Half of the estate is left in trust for Mrs. Baker and the other half in trust for his son, Bergman Baker, also of Hollywood Beach.

The accounting, which covers the period from Nov. 3, 1948 to Oct. 6, 1950, shows expenditures of $27,401 and principal of $194,097. The income was $25,729.
