Mrs. Lulu Wright of 83 Summit avenue, charged with unlawful sale and possession of liquor last August, changed her plea from not guilty last week to non vult in County Judge Milton Feller's court. She will be sentenced April 15. Miss Elsie Rand, local attorney, represented the Wright woman.

George L. Duffy, Printer Here for 37 Years, Dies

George L. Duffy of 14 Upper Overlook road died Wednesday (Mar. 16) at Overlook Hospital after an illness of six weeks. He was 66.

Mr. Duffy was born in Summit and had lived here all his life. He had a job printing business at 38 Maple street. He learned the printers' trade in the composing room of the Summit Record. Following its sale Mr. Duffy worked as a printer for the Newark Evening News. In 1918 he established his printing business here.

Mr. Duffy was a communicant of St. Teresa's Church, a member of its Holy Name Society, and a member of the Summit Chamber of Commerce.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Ella Ferguson Duffy; a son, George L. Duffy, Jr.; a granddaughter, Barbara Duffy, a brother, Aloysius, all of Summit; two other brothers, Henry of Irvington, Edward of Millburn, and a sister, Mrs. Matilda Brennan of Summit.

The funeral was from the Paul

Ippolito Summit Memorial, 7 Summit avenue, on Saturday at 9 a.m., thence to St. Teresa's Church where, at 9:30 o'clock, a solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated. Burial was in St. Teresa's Cemetery.

Tipsy Driving Guilt Found in 5-Hour Hearing

James H. Long, 26, of 28 Constantine place, was fined $225 and had his driver's license revoked for two years when he was found guilty of drunken driving last Friday by Berkeley Heights Magistrate Douglas J. Haberstroh after a 5 1/2-hour hearing.

Long, a Summit resident, was arrested shortly after 2 a.m. March 3 on Springfield avenue in Berkeley Heights. Police testified that the car he was driving turned into Springfield avenue from a side street at an excessive speed and that during a chase it was clocked at 72 miles per hour.

Two companions with Long, David and John Moroney of Summit, stated that the trio was playing shuffleboard at Keller's Grove and had had "two beers each" in Summit before going to Keller's.

Sergt. Harold Curtis, Jr. of Berkeley Heights and Patrolman Ralph DeLuca told court that Long drove up to Keller's about 11:15 p.m. and they urged him to go home. However one of his companions said he had to make a brief stop at the tavern and would see that Long got home safely. The police then allowed them to proceed.

When the car was stopped the second time by police Long was taken to headquarters and examined by Dr. Anthony Behlano, Township physician.

Testifying in behalf of Long was his brother, Dr. Clarence D. Long, Jr., Ph.D., a professor of economics at Johns Hopkins University who was home on vacation at the time. Dr. Milton M. Lilien, a former Hillside Township physician, also appeared for the defense. He gave his opinion that Long was not guilty and pointed out that the intoxication test did not contain clinical specimens. The latter procedure is not used in Berkeley Heights. Both Moroneys also said they did not believe Long was guilty.

Edward A. Pizzi of this city, Township attorney, was prosecutor and Michael J. Alenick of Newark appeared for the defense.

Summit High Enters Two Teams in Latin Contest

As in past years Summit High School will be represented next Saturday at the national Latin night translation contest at New York University. Summit's second year team includes Stephen Eberhart, Roger Pennington, and William Watson. The third and fourth year team is composed of Jean Manninen, Nona Ringler, and Lois Lundberg.

The students will be competing against some 700 contestants from high schools all over the country. According to Miss Ruth Webb, Latin teacher at Summit High School, hopes are high for Summit teams to win either a medal or honorable mention as they have on many past occasions.

Old Guard Sees Modeling of Clay Bust

The Old Guard watched the fashioning of a clay bust at its meeting Tuesday when one of the members sat as a model for Mrs. Elizabeth Kip Nichols, sculptress of Maplewood. Arthur Manner, former director, was the model.

Mrs. Nichols explained, while she worked the various steps in the procedure. Following the modeling of the clay, the work is reproduced in plaster, bronze, terra cotta or glass with the aid of molds made from the clay model.

During World War 2, Mrs. Nichols modeled a bust of Madam Chiang Kai-Shek from portraits. It was highly commended for its fidelity. Another example of her work is a statue of St. Barnabas now in the chapel of St. Barnabas Hospital, Newark.

She is also known for her bas relief portraits in glass made by a process she developed with the aid of glass manufacturers. Arthur L. Stephens was elected to membership.

Does the Red Cross Drive Lag?

There is consternation among some Red Cross officials that the current drive may fall short of its $42,954 goal and thus be the first time that a Red Cross appeal has failed in Summit. The campaign began March 1. It ends April 1. So far only $31,599 has been reported, making $11,354 to be raised in the few remaining days of this month.

The picture does not look bright but we wonder if this really means that the Red Cross is "going under" for the first time in its local history? We certainly hope not. The Red Cross is too important in the world, the nation and the community to be stunted in its financial needs.

We have an idea that the drive is not lagging seriously but that it is meeting the usual handicaps and obstacles which come to all campaigns of this sort and magnitude. People who accept the duties of collectors almost always have a way of waiting until a late moment to work feverishly toward the goal. It is human nature.

The trouble is probably mere human habit. We can not believe the tardiness of returns indicates any lack of interest in the Red Cross, either on the part of the solicitors or of the contributors. We suspect that before the month closes there will be more encouraging reports.

Another obstacle encountered this year by the Red Cross is the simultaneous drive by the YMCA for its $700,000 building fund. In the minds of some there may be a bit of confusion and, sad to say, there undoubtedly are some residents who are favoring one institution to the detriment of the other. This should not be. Both are worthy of community support and both should be supported. One, the Red Cross, is an annual appeal for operating funds. The other, the YMCA, is a request for capital funds payable over a three-year period.

In drives for the Red Cross and similar agencies, such as the United Campaign, we can not over-emphasize that if the people of the United States can not and do not perform collectively the duties which are comprised in the Red Cross program by giving regularly out of their incomes enough to support this program, sooner or later the federal government will step in, point out the absolute necessity of action and begin to legislate in that direction. Thus, a local voice will be removed from the operation and organization of vital social agencies.

We do not believe the people of Summit are letting down the Red Cross. We feel the goal will be met. We hope solicitors will redouble their efforts and that contributors will assess their responsibility with a justice and a sense of need sufficiently powerful to care for both the Red Cross and the YMCA powerful enough to put both campaigns over the top in the traditional Summit way.

Uncle Sam Plays Footsy

One of the most delightful hobbies we have is reading government pamphlets. Practically every one that comes across our desk is saved to be read in leisure for relaxation and laughs. The material in most of them is equal to George Gobel. And for all we know maybe Gobel shares our love for the output of the government writers.

We got hold of a new one the other day that deals with children's feet. It is a handy bulletin dashed off by Uncle Sam for the benefit of parents and the cost is only ten cents. Ten cents, payable to the Superintendent of Documents, is little enough to pay for information as important as this.

Consider these pearls of wisdom culled from "Your Children's Feet and Footwear."
 "Before he begins walking, a baby really doesn't need any covering for his feet—except possibly to keep him warm in cold weather."
 "When a child is learning to walk he needs to have shoes that allow him to make natural use of his feet."
 "Some shoes are designated for athletic activities only and are not intended to be worn all the time."
 "Baller slippers, loafers, moccasins and high-heeled cowboy boots are designed for a special purpose."

"The time to replace shoes is when the child has outgrown them or the shoes are worn out."

"The widest part of the shoe should fit the widest part of the foot."
 Well, all this is unquestionably true and vastly enlightening. It is equally as true that water is wet and the sun is bright. It appears to us that government pamphlets on any subject, and especially children's footwear, should assume that the parents possess a modicum of intelligence and be written with this view in mind.

Signs of Spring

Although there may be times when the weather refutes the fact, there is no doubt that Spring is here.
 Every now and then there is a choice item in the papers that indicates that Spring is busting out all over and in widely scattered sections of the country.

There's a chap out in Hollywood who beat on a drum for 57 consecutive hours. In Roberval, Quebec, some other characters rocked in rocking chairs for 73 hours and also in Canada, at a place called Terrebonne, three young men shot pool for 43 straight hours.

This not only proves that a great many people have time on their hands but also is unmistakable proof that Spring is here and brings with it the silly season. The silly season, as newspapers know so well, begins in Spring and continues through the Summer, reaching its peak in periods of extreme heat.

As the warm weather increases, so will the ridiculous acts of humans seeking brief moments of dubious fame. We look forward to more and more poolathons, drumathons, rocking chair contests or any other form of human silliness because things get pretty dull as Spring moves on into Summer.

Current Comment

Investing in a Home
 (Springfield, Mass., Union)
 This country has been having a home-building boom for a number of years, and there are no signs of its abating... Private housing-starts last month kept pace with the month before and they may be higher than that next month.

The question has been raised whether it is desirable for the administration to feed this boom much further... It is doing so generally through a policy of easy money and specifically by underwriting many long-term, no-down-payment mortgages.

Largely in consequence of government policy, lenders are willing to extend easy mortgage terms, sometimes grotesquely easy ones. An extreme example was a $36,000 home requiring no down payment, illustrating the trend toward greater liberality on the part of the lenders.

The existence of the boom seems to indicate that such stimulation is not necessary. There have been a million or more private housing-starts five years in a row. All the indications were that this would be a good year in any case, without the government and the lenders making such efforts to lure buyers. The sharp easing of mortgage terms, as some lenders realize, is a device for depressions if at all, not for times that are remarkably prosperous by any standard.

But, it is suggested, surely it is a good thing to give the boom a few more shoves, enabling more people to own homes and making prosperity more prosperous.

It is, indeed, a good thing for more and more people to be buying their own homes, though city apartment owners whose vacancies are increasing may not agree. But it is good only as long as they can afford it. A mortgage is a debt, and a man who pays nothing down on a $10,000, $20,000 or $30,000 house either does not understand that fact or is kidding himself about it.

A lender who offers such terms on his own is obviously taking a big risk. He can minimize that with government guarantees, and many are doing so. A Veterans Administration official in Portland, Ore., recently stated: "We have several score GI loans in the mill at no down payment and 30 years to pay. Two years ago at this time we had none." But what neither the lender nor the government can minimize is the fact that they are encouraging buyers to buy unwisely.

A home-building prosperity based on sensible private and public policy can be maintained indefinitely. But a housing boom based on unsound speculation by lenders, buyers and government is the kind that most easily turns into a bust.

In a Little While We'll Know
 (Cleveland Plain Dealer)

It will be interesting to see how a new generation reacts to the Horatio Greenough statue of George Washington. It was cast in 1843 and set up in the Capitol rotunda. It was continuously the subject of jokes and gibes, and nearly 50 years ago was moved to a dark corner of the Smithsonian Institution.

But once again it is going to be held up to the sightseeing public. Special lights are being installed to set it off.

The statue is a huge affair, standing 15 feet and weighing 20 tons. It is a symbolical treatment of Washington, showing a man who has put the sword away and taken on the mantle of the lawgiver.

But from 1843 to 1908 the American public gaged on the symbolism. Was the sculptor ahead of his times? We'll know after a few thousand tourists have filed through the Smithsonian corridor. Nothing makes people noisier than art they don't like.

 Heights Teacher Praised
 Editor, Summit Herald:
 I would like to express my personal appreciation for the contribution that has been made by Miss French toward enrichment of our PTA program along with the instruction of many local residents regarding modern education. The controversy regarding her status has been unfortunate, with temporary disruption of program, but it seems to me that if any harm was done it will be outweighed by our awakened interest in schools.

One of the most important contributions of PTA to a community is in the area of parent education work. It is here that parents meet in small groups and study specific educational or child welfare subjects that interest them. Many of these groups discuss prepared topics with no professional help, but where such is available it is, of course, much more effective. Last fall the supervising principal indicated his willingness to have Miss French work with a group of interested parents so that her curriculum improvement work could be a cooperative community project.
 I was quite overjoyed at this unexpected opportunity and I was indeed chairman, Miss French spent many hours, mostly evenings, in her work with this group. We spent most of the time discussing reading and its associated problems. Controversy over it (Continued on page 7) ferent teaching practices highlighted many sessions, but it was a privilege to be able to work so closely with such a well-informed and willing person as Miss Prosch.

If there had not been this confusion over her status, the PTA would have been in a better position to properly publicize the work that she came here to do. We would have been able to turn to all the community and explain that curriculum improvement and planning is best done cooperatively and that we all can share in an orderly improvement of our school program, which would then be truly geared to local needs. Berkeley Heights would certainly not have been the first community to take this forward step in school planning, and I hope we can continue our efforts in this direction in spite of an unfortunate setback.

I wish to personally thank Miss Prosch for all the time and energy that has been so cheerfully given for the cause of creating an informed group of citizens. If we really know what we want in our local school program and are properly informed, there is almost no limit to what can be done. I am sure that our board of education will be glad to consider any constructive effort toward future school improvement. Miss Prosch saw both the needs and the great possibilities here and went to her work with an inspired skill. The frustration that resulted from her confused status was especially difficult to bear because of her complete honesty and great devotion to education. As citizens, then, the best way to continue this project is by working with PTA and other groups that are already organized for this purpose. Working together we cannot fail.

Sincerely yours,
Fred S. Best,
Pres. Berkeley Heights PTA.

League Answers Letter

Editor, Summit Herald,
The League of Women Voters has asked me to reply to Mr. Voorhis' letter of March 17 in this column. He makes a plea for special protection from foreign competition in the electrical manufacturing industry on the basis that the industry needs to be kept strong for United States defense purposes.

I, too, desire health and growth in our industries, yet I do not believe that we should gain it through artificial trade restrictions, at the expense of the economic health of our allies. For our competitors are at the same time our indispensable partners in the free world.

We, who believe in free enterprise, who hate the "unseen" tax, might better insist that the Defense Department take the responsibility of assisting "indispensable" industries which actually demonstrate their need for protection, by giving them preference in the placement of contracts, tax allowances, or some direct subsidy if necessary.

In this way we, the citizens, would know how much our defense is actually costing us, instead of paying for it unknowingly through higher consumer market prices. This would be an alternative to keeping ourselves strong at the expense of our allies.

It is because so many individual industries and interests each claim special consideration under the Reciprocal Trade Agreements that it is necessary for the President as an impartial judge who has the ultimate responsibility for determining our foreign policy, to have the power to make the final decisions in these matters. The peril point and escape clause of the Trade Agreement provide in my judgement, more than enough protection for our industries.

The Trade Bill (HR1), already passed by the House, is not a radical departure from present and past trade policies. It provides instead for a gradual, moderate, reciprocal program of benefit to us and to our allies.

Defends Trade Bill

Editor, Summit Herald:
As Mr. Voorhis pointed out in his letter of last week's Herald, the United States policy for foreign trade has many factors that should be considered, not just the tariff issue. The League of Women Voters has studied the problem for nine years and has culminated its study with a survey of manufacturers' interests in trade in New Jersey and in similar surveys throughout the country.

Tariffs must be placed within the total framework of a healthy international economy. A more stable trade program (as represented by President Eisenhower's bill before the Senate now) would include:

- A three year extension of the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act which would provide a longer period for industrial planning and marketing;
- Presidential authority to adjust tariffs and import quotas in relation to the political, economic, and social problems of a given country;
- Gradual reduction of tariffs over the three-year period to provide more trade and less aid;
- U. S. participation in the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT) which provides the machinery for multi-lateral trade agreements.
- Adjustment of foreign labor standards and living conditions to approximate our own more closely;
- Certain safeguards or subsidies to industries either injured by the gradual reduction of tariffs or involved in production for national defense;

Simplification of customs procedure.

So far as foreign competition is concerned, the survey made by the League in 1944 in Union County showed that 24 per cent of all manufacturers in the county were affected by foreign competition but only 14 per cent of these firms could not convert their present facilities and use their labor force. In other words, most of the companies face foreign competition as they do domestic competition, by finding new methods of production.

We are all working together for development of the United States and peace in the world.

Central Sewer Plant, at $250,000, Is Recommended

Berkeley Heights—Construction of a centralized sewer plant for the Township at an estimated cost of $250,000, is recommended in the report of the Citizens' Advisory Committee on Sanitary Facilities issued March 14.

The committee, with David Gregg as chairman, said that it had decided on a centralized plant because package plants would incur additional maintenance costs which would be borne by the Township, package plants are "eyesores," operating costs of a centralized plant would be much lower than package plants, and for the same amount of money that would be spent on three contemplated developments on package plants, a centralized plant with three to four times the capacity could be constructed.

The report said that the committee had held a conference with three major developers in the Township, and discussed the possibility of the developers contributing the amount of money which they would spend on package plants toward the cost of a centralized plant. The committee also recommended that the Township Committee negotiate an agreement legally binding the developers to take this step.

$350 for Each Home

Points suggested for inclusion in such an agreement include a contribution of $350 by the developers for each house, based on a minimum of 718 houses among the three. Also suggested is the provision that builders included in the agreement be bound to its terms until September 1, 1955, with the understanding that they be allowed to proceed with package plants if no decision is reached prior to that time for construction of a centralized plant.

Developers will be expected to comply with restrictions or requirements imposed by the Township through passage of an ordinance, with arrangements for the commitments completed not later than April 6.

The committee feels that once the commitments are met, it can proceed with further studies, and that sufficient money will be available to build a sewer plant with sufficient capacity to serve all present taxpayers without expense.

$50,000 to be Borrowed

The report points out that the Township will still be faced with the expense of building the main trunk lines, which can be partially financed through $250,000 which will be in the capital improvement account by the end of the year. The Township sanitary committee, Egan T. Kilham, has estimated that the main trunk lines will cost about $250,000, leaving about $250,000 to be borrowed.

The committee points out that a substantial portion of the money spent for the trunk lines would be returnable on the basis that property owners who benefit would be assessed a portion of the cost, with the trunk lines planned for areas with the greatest need for sewers.

According to the report, there will be no general tax increase required for sewer construction, and only those directly benefiting would be faced with assessments. The committee recommended that approval to proceed with a central sewer plant be requested through referendum.

"Administration" Will Be Berkeley PTA Panel Theme

Berkeley Heights—Two retired school administrators have been selected to participate in a panel discussion at the April 4 meeting of the Berkeley Heights PTA in Columbus School. They are Ralph F. Bates, former superintendent of schools in Chatham, and John T. Greenan, principal for 11 years of the Station and Eastern Schools in East Orange before retiring in 1952.

They will discuss the responsibilities of a school superintendent and a principal and the relationship of the two positions to one another, to the public, and to the Board of Education. The panel also will include a former school board president and a retired board secretary who will discuss their respective duties and relationships. These panel members will be named next week. Moderator will be Halsey M. Douglas, a PTA member and an editor on The Newark News.

Bates retired in 1953 after 33 years in the Chatham schools. During his tenure, the Chatham system grew from 15 teachers and 480 pupils to 82 teachers and 1,700 pupils. Two elementary schools and a high school were added during his long term of service.

He is a graduate of Colgate and Columbia Universities. Greenan, a teacher 26 years before becoming a school principal, is the author of text books on social studies. At one time he was head of the department of social studies at Clifford J. Scott High School in East Orange. He received his BA degree from Bates College and his master's degree from Columbia.

Mrs. Robert Wolf, parent education committee chairman, said that the panel discussion is being arranged to help parents become better acquainted with the intricacies of school administration. A question and answer period will follow a short discussion by each participant.

Fred S. Bbst, PTA president, has announced that the panel discussion will start promptly at 8:15 p. m. with the business session and election of officers later. Refreshments will be served.

Mrs. Snow has been employed by Standard Oil Company of New Jersey in its public relations department for the past eight years. Prior to this, she was active in the publishing and printing fields in New York.

She is a member of the Desk and Derrick Club of New York, the Club of Printing Women of New York, and the American Institute of Graphic Arts. If your attic or cellar looks like McGee's closet, if your closets are jamming with clothing that is no longer useful, if magazines and papers have piled up during the winter months, contact members of Boy Scout Troop 68. They're looking for all kinds of rummage sale articles and papers which can be converted into cash for the purchase of camping equipment and to defray expenses of sending boys to camp during the summer.

The paper drive will be conducted Sunday in all areas of the Boro. A call to Paul Wells at Summit 6-7613-2 will bring a Scout to your home to do up and remove papers and magazines. If you have papers and books already bundled, please them at the curb will be picked-up. The Scouts suggest that bundles be placed before you leave for church.

Honor Potter for Service

Berkeley Heights—Edward S. Potter of 63 Bolton boulevard was honored at a luncheon last Thursday by associates of the Commonwealth Water Company. The affair was held in the Summit office of the company at 11 Beechwood road.

Potter, who retired after almost 40 years' service, was presented with a silver fruit bowl inscribed with his service record by Thomas W. Coleman, company manager. A purse from the employee group was presented by Leighton M. Crana, office manager.

At the time of his retirement Potter was an accounts payable clerk and had previously been assistant cashier in the local office. He was originally employed by the Commonwealth Electric Company, when both water and electric properties in the area were owned by the late Carroll P. Bassett. Potter later transferred to the water company.

A resident of the area most of his life, Potter lived in Summit and Murray Hill before moving to Berkeley Heights 10 years ago. He served overseas with the 86th Infantry in World War I. He has one son, Robert, a resident of Murray Hill.

Both fathers and mothers are needed to make the program successful. The Mothers' Club, through its president, Mrs. Fichter, and the troop committee of fathers, headed by Charles Derowitsch, have extended an invitation to all parents to join the groups and share in the activities offered. A call to Mrs. Fichter or to Derowitsch will bring you further information.

The boys will not only pick up any discards that you may have; they'll come to your home and help in cleaning out unwanted articles. The Mothers' Club of the troop will pick up, remove and make anything that can be used in the rummage sale which is scheduled for April 18 in the American Legion Hall. A call to Mrs. Louise Fichter at Summit 6-4266 will bring a station wagon to your door for removal of rummage.

The troop has a high record in the council for camping activities, and is anxious to keep that record. There are almost 80 boys enrolled in the unit, and a real effort is being made to meet their needs in Scouting.

Plans for the dances were completed at the Recreation Commission meeting held recently. Stashluk and Coleman attended the meeting to express interest of the post in undertaking a recreation program for teen-agers in the Boro.

Plans were also discussed for the forthcoming Memorial Day parade and activity program, with a committee including Mrs. Nelson Tully, Councilman Lawrence Mrazec, and Recreation Director Walter McCarty.

The possibility of constructing a circular concrete walk in Oakwood Park, for use as a roller skating rink, was discussed. Fred Brewster was authorized to determine the cost of such a project.

Frank Kossuth was elected treasurer of the Commission, and will be responsible for the approval of all bills and the maintenance of an up-to-date financial report.

Brewster presented plans and estimates for a simple type of playground shelter which might be constructed at Oakwood Park for use as a minimum storage space and to house rest room facilities. The plans would also in-

Junior Dance to Be Sponsored by Board and Legion

New Providence—A Junior High dance will be held tomorrow night in Lincoln School, the Recreation Commission has announced. The commission has also scheduled an adult dance for April 1 at the school auditorium, and invitations have gone out to about 25 "Boro" organizations.

The dance will be held under the auspices of American Legion Post 632, and no admission will be charged. Refreshments will be sold by members of the Legion post.

Acting as chaperones and representing the Legion will be Commander Andrew Kus and Mrs. Kus, Post Commander Wallace Fenimore and Mrs. Fenimore, James Coleman, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Stashluk, and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Stashluk.

A committee consisting of Clyde Hall, Brewster and Mrazec met at Oakwood Park Saturday to determine the best site for location of such a shelter, and also for the location of a proposed parking area. Action on the shelter was postponed for additional study.

Boston's Beacon Hill section is so named because in early days a beacon was maintained on the hill to be lighted as a warning of approaching danger.

Service Plan to Unleash

New Providence—Carl Hubert of 67 Madison avenue was presented with a 25-year service pin by the Public Service Electric and Gas Company at ceremony held March 14 at the Madison avenue shop.

Kuback, an appliance specialist for the utility in the Summit-Morrisville area, has been a resident of the Boro for seven years. Formerly a resident of Union, he is married and has two children, a son and a daughter. He will be among those honored for service at a statewide dinner to be held at a later date.

Advertising helped make the difference

WASHDAY WAS DRUDGERY in Grandmother's day . . . long hours of sweating, straining, back-breaking work. Today's housewife uses a modern washer and dryer. Manufacturers have reduced washday chores to a turn of a dial.

But to mass produce millions of washers and dryers, manufacturers must be able to sell them by the millions. Only by advertising can a manufacturer talk to millions of people at one time.

ADVERTISING TELLS the story of new home appliances . . . and helps sell them. The more it sells, the more must be made—keeping the production lines and the jobs going. The result: newer, better home appliances at prices more people can afford to pay. Advertising helped make the difference—in home appliances, and in our American way of life.

In closing Mrs. Croce said: "Along with all of this activity has gone a very tangible contribution to the public relations of the hospital. Thru participation in our Auxiliary we feel that our members gain a knowledge of hospital services, hospital needs and a broader understanding of the entire-hospital program. They in turn can bring to others a knowledge of the services the hospital offers and what is entailed in these services; the financial needs of the hospital and how these needs can be met; the policies of the hospital and why they are necessary. We feel that we have a real part in creating public support and interest for our hospital."

Automatically your best buy!

Ford's five power assists combine to give you more added convenience and extra driving ease than you can get in any other car in Ford's field!

It's great fun to step into a Ford's rich, colorful Luxury Lounge interior... to touch the gas pedal and feel the might of Trigger-Torque power responding instantly to your every wish. It's fun, too, to bask in the admiration aroused by Ford's Thunderbird-inspired styling.

But, for the ultimate in driving fun and ease, try a Ford with Ford's optional power assists: new Speed-Trigger Fordomatic, power steering, brakes, windows and seat. Ford's power assists combine to do the most for you automatically... so you get the most out of driving!

Automatic Driving at its Best

Speed-Trigger Fordomatic Drive has a new, automatic low gear which lets you start in low, shift to intermediate and, then into high—all automatically—all while the drive selector lever is in drive position. It's the only "automatic" in its field that combines the smoothness of a fluid torque converter with the versatility of three automatic forward gears.

Power to Steer For You

Master-Guide Power Steering does up to 75% of the steering work for you on turns... yet you retain the natural feel of the wheel on straightaways. It's a great help when parking—makes all driving easier and more relaxing.

Power to Apply Your Brakes

Swift Sure Power Brakes do up to one-third of the stopping work for you. And there's built-in safety. With power off, you stop your car as easily as though your Ford were equipped with the standard braking system.

Power to Adjust Your Seat

Ford's 4-Way Power Seat is the only power seat in Ford's field that adjusts "up and down" as well as "forward and back" for most comfortable driving positions. A touch of the conveniently located single seat control does it!

Power to Lift Your Windows

With Power-Lift Windows you don't need to stoop in order to open or close all side windows. Driver can operate all four windows from the master control. And each passenger has a separate control switch for his own window.

And there's Trigger-Torque power to give you more "Go"

The purpose of each meeting is to deal with some specific phase of a normal child's development and the problems he meets in adjusting to the world around him.

Take It Easy!

Sure you're out in the country—in a state-restricted area. And that powerful Cadillac engine is itching your throttle toe. But don't do it! That isn't the purpose back of this great power plant. It was created to give you phenomenal bursts of speed when you need them. It was created to give your Cadillac the long life and dependability that come when your engine "loafs" at the normal driving speeds. And it was created to give you the driving confidence that can be yours only when you know you are master of every driving situation. So don't use that tremendous engine power to dominate the highway—or to embarrass a fellow motorist. In fact, a good rule for owners of the 1955 Cadillac might very well read: "Be lax away when the light turns green. Remember: it's not how fast, but how wonderful." And how wonderful it is! Let's say you are trying to go from one climate to another in a single day. Is it four hundred—six hundred miles? Just follow the laws of the states you cross—keep rolling—and drive until you are ready to retire for the evening. What about getting tired? Well, to the average Cadillac driver, it just doesn't happen! Mile for mile—hundred for hundred—thousand for thousand—there just wasn't ever another car like this. That's why we say: Don't try to prove anything in a hundred feet. Prove it, rather, in a hundred miles—or in five times as many—or in half a dozen years. Of course, the foregoing message is addressed to the person who has purchased his Cadillac. But we also have a message for those who still have that delightful experience in store. Come in and drive the car. That's when an hour will prove something. It will prove you're missing out on the finest motor car performance of all time.

South Pacific Opens Season At Paper Mill

The policy of being "first" with the latest Broadway successes immediately after they have completed their national tours is now a habit at the Paper Mill Playhouse in Millburn. "South Pacific," Rodgers and Hammerstein's outstanding musical hit, will open April 11, Easter Monday, and be followed by Frank Loesser's "Guys and Dolls," another long-run Broadway musical.

A banner season of eight productions will include six comedies and dramas as a response to last year's successful play series. Tentatively scheduled as "King of Hearts" "The Rainmaker," a new play by Jean Dalmryple "Feathered Fauna," "Captain Brassbound's Conversion" and "The Caline Mutiny Court Martial." Broadway and Hollywood stars will be engaged to play leading roles throughout the season. No plays can be really definite until contracts are signed with the stars. Mr. Carrington points out.

"The Creation" To Be Presented Palm Sunday

Continuing their tradition of presenting great masterworks of oratorio literature with full orchestral accompaniment, the combined choir of the Summit Methodist Church and the New Jersey Chamber Orchestra will present Haydn's "The Creation" on Palm Sunday, April 3, at four p.m.

The Methodist Church is located at the intersection of Kent Place boulevard and DeForest avenue. No admission is charged.

This will be the first performance of this oratorio in Summit in many years, and probably the first with orchestra. It is generally regarded as Haydn's greatest work, having been written late in the composer's long life, and in orchestration, harmonic style and dramatic force it represented a radical departure from the conventional music of the period and from Haydn's own earlier styles. It is based on the Biblical story of the creation, augmented by sections from Milton's "Paradise Lost" which give a thoroughly picturesque and almost whimsical note to it without at any time losing the dignity and majesty of the situation.

The narration is sung by three angels, Gabriel, Uriel and Raphael, and the solo parts are among the most brilliant in oratorio repertoire. They will be taken by three regular soloists at the Summit church: Anna Woodward Clark, soprano; Leif Aagaard, tenor; and Paul Oncley, bass. Dr. Oncley will also share the conducting responsibilities with his wife, Alma Llesow Oncley. The two are joint ministers of music at the Methodist Church. Peter Hebble will play the organ.

Included in the orchestra are many of Summit's outstanding musicians, including Walter Demako, concertmaster, and Louis Carlini.

New Records Set by Allstate Co. During Last Year

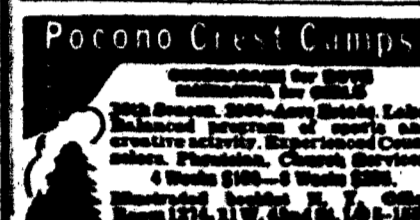

New Providence — Growth of Allstate Insurance Company in New Jersey during 1954 contributed greatly to the company's emergence as the world's largest issuer of direct automobile insurance premiums, Arthur H. Baker, resident manager for New Jersey, has announced. Allstate will move its regional office headquarters, now located in Newark, to New Providence next month. The new office building in Murray Hill is now in the last stages of construction. Allstate's 1954 New Jersey volume of direct automobile insurance premiums was $15,382,804, an increase of $2,897,295 over 1953, Oakes said. Big factors in the New Jersey growth have been the firm's lower rates and public recognition of the value of Allstate's district claim service offices established throughout the state. These offices are staffed with claim personnel to service policyholders in their respective territories. Allstate enjoyed a record breaking year in 1954, when its total direct automobile insurance premiums rose to $207,236,000 and its combined premiums, including those for personal liability and fire insurance reached $280,473,000. This was an increase of $35,572,000, or 21 per cent over 1953. Assets at the end of the year, Oakes said, were $267,579,000 up $12,823,000, or 37 per cent. Reviewing Allstate's entry into the residential fire insurance field in 1954, President Calvin Feinstrass, Jr. has reported the company is now writing fire insurance at reduced rates in 29 states. Steady progress is being made in introducing this line in additional states, and the company plans to be writing fire insurance in all states by the end of 1955.

Post Office Tourists

New Providence — The first grade classes of Mrs. Lida Attridge and Mrs. Gladys Sheats at Lincoln School recently visited the Post office. Anthony Cianci, postmaster, showed the children the handling of a letter from its receipt through the window, to the canceling machine, and finally to its dispatch for delivery. The use of the mail racks was also explained. Each child received a slip bearing a parcel post stamp, the New Providence cancellation stamp, and an air mail stamp.

Sixth graders in Charles Mauler's class viewed two movies in connection with the study of science and social studies. "The Romance of the Reaper," the story of Cyrus McCormick, was also shown to the fifth grade class of Mrs. Margaret Pleistick, since her students had just com-

To All Telephone Subscribers:
Is Leaving your office or home during business hours a problem? It needn't be. With our service you come and go as you please knowing that at all times your phone is answered.

How does it work? Simple. By means of a direct extension, we answer your phone in your name or as instructed from our switchboards.

Then on your incoming calls, we answer as instructed, so that calling party believes they are talking to your secretary. We take complete messages, or refer caller to the number at which you would then be, or if message requires immediate action, we phone you... all, of course, depending on your instructions. Also, you may call in for messages as often as you wish. This is only a small part of what our Answering Service can do for you. We set it up to meet your needs. Our intelligent experienced operators are your employees when they answer for you.

Several types of services. The cost? Very nominal. Call us at Summit 6-1114 for full information.

Harriers Prep For Season Opener April 27

Summit High School's Track team is holding classroom clinics daily in preparation for their 1955 inaugural against Millburn High on April 27. Coach John Dilson, back at the helm after a year of exchange teaching in California, expects to take his harriers outdoors later this month. Last year the coaching reins were aptly handled by Morton Ashman as SHS compiled a successful 3-1 record.

The biggest problem facing Coach Dilson is building a nucleus around the five returning lettermen. Dave Bannister, one of the five lettermen was elected team captain at a recent meeting. Nike Barracks

Mayor called. One of the women wanted to sign an easement. Complete surprise to Town. The action of the attorney came a complete surprise not only to Countryside residents but also Berkeley Heights and Union County Park Commission officials.

Mayor Ira F. Holley said that he was completely unaware of the incident until informed Monday evening. The Mayor promptly requested Raymond Murray of Countryside, a member of the Civil Defense organization, to obtain factual information concerning the lawyer's visits and for Mr. Mulholland to call Army officials at Fort Wadsworth for information. Mayor Holley added that it was the belief of the Township Committee that no personnel installations would be located outside of the Watchung Reservation and that the reported step to locate them near Countryside seemed "utterly stupid."

Penitence Resigned Awaited
Ralph F. White of Summit, a Union County Park commissioner, also expressed surprise over the Countryside development and said all of the talks between the Army and the Park Commission indicated that personnel would be housed on park lands. He said the Park Commission has opposed the base from the start and claims that other locations are available.

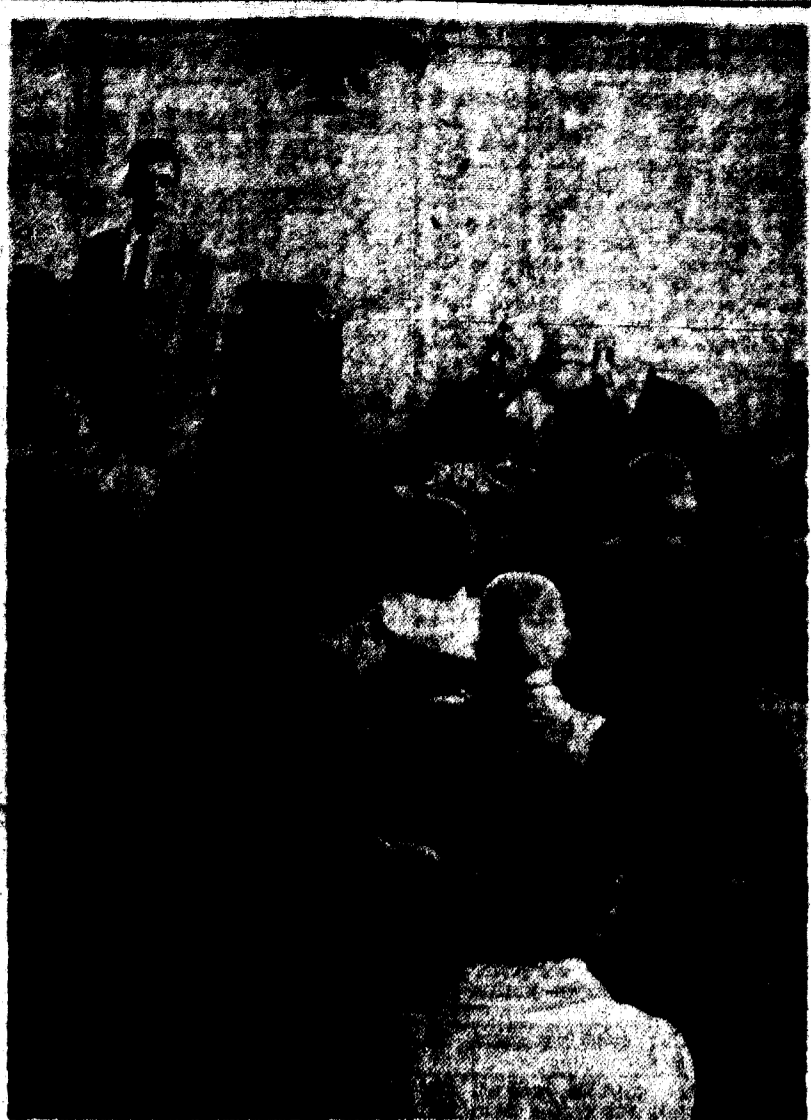

Launching Site in Park
W. Richmond Tracy of Summit, secretary and engineer of the Park Commission, also said that he was of the opinion the radar station would be located on the ridge with the personnel facilities close by. The actual Nike launching base, he said, would be located a few hundred yards east of the loop area between Summit lane and the brook in the Reservation.

Last week the Army requested an easement on eight acres of Regional School's 24-acre holdings in Berkeley Heights. The easement, if granted, would prevent construction of a high building on that portion of the tract that abuts Watchung Reservation because such a structure would interfere with the radar scope. The Regional Board of Education, in discussing the request, indicated no opposition and said the land desired by the Army could probably be used for parking purposes and the future school building could be located elsewhere on the site.

Defense Comes First
Mayor Percival M. Bland in commenting upon the report that a portion of the Nike base would be located within Summit borders said that it would be desirable to have such installations away from homes and built-up areas but that "National Defense comes first."

The telegram sent to Senator Case by the Countryside Civic Association is as follows:

"Re Nike base Berkeley Heights - Summit and vicinity. Today (Monday) lawyer from N. Y. District Army Corps of Engineers was in our neighborhood without prior notice and tried to intimidate 3 families into signing easements for access to their yards under threat of court order within 48 hours. Also talked of forced taking of strip of land in backyards despite hundreds of acres of undeveloped lands to rear of these houses. Our group of 43 families is highly incensed and see no reason why barracks and mess hall need be built 300 feet to rear of neighborhood homes. Army lawyer was untruthful to two housewives and

Freddy, YMCA's Guest Last Year, Still Goodwill Envoy

Another chapter in the Summit Hi-Y International project, "Operation Freddie," was revealed this week by Allan R. Devenney, general secretary of the local YMCA. Prof. H. A. Alivisatos, president of the national YMCA of Greece, wrote Mr. Devenney a check for $200 to the boys of the Kokkinea YMCA Trade School as a token of friendship from Summit boys to their "Y" friends in Greece.

Hi-Y boys who adopted Photis Tsochatzopoulos last year and gave him the name of "Freddie" raised all the funds for the project themselves and had enough left over to send the $200 check back with "Freddie."

Dr. Alivisatos spoke highly of the influence Summit has played in "Freddie's" life and expressed the appreciation of the Greek people for the exchange experience.

His letter follows:
"We are sending you, under separate cover, a photograph taken some days ago at Nea Kokkinea. The photo shows Photis Tsochatzopoulos giving a check for $200 to me, as president of the Athens YMCA, for the use of the Kokkinea YMCA Trade School.

The check which represents money earned by the Hi-Y Club of Summit, is very deeply appreciated by the Board of Directors of the Athens Association. It signifies an effort and an interest in Greece, upon the part of Summit youth, that teaches each one of us.

I would like to take this occasion to tell you, once again, how very much we appreciate all you did, personally, for Photis. We are all impressed by his understanding of the bonds which unite us as members of the Young Men's Christian Association, and by his ability to interpret these ties. To a great extent these were given him, we believe, during his stay in Summit.

With every good wish for the New Year."

During Freddie's stay in Summit he was the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Nogue, Mr. and Mrs. K. O. Klaren, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Blades, Mrs. A. Kavalgian, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Hugglett, and Mr. and Mrs. W. J. English.

Local Man Promoted By Savings Concern

Henry W. Webber has been appointed an assistant secretary of The Howard Savings Institution, it was announced by William L. Maude, president, following a meeting of the board of managers of the Newark bank.

Webber lives at 29 Briant Parkway. He is a graduate of the Essex County chapter of the American Institute of Banking and has attended the School of Commerce of New York University.

He has been with The Howard since 1938, and in recent years, has specialized in mortgage servicing operations in which he was named supervisor of investment in 1952. In his new position, Webber will broaden his activities in the mortgage servicing department of the institution.

Short Hills Day School To Add Ninth Grade Edward R. Kast, headmaster of the Short Hills Country Day School, has announced that the board of trustees has approved the addition of a ninth grade commencing September, 1935. Country Day was started by Stuart Hartshorn on its present site in 1891. It was known as "The Community School." In 1909 it was incorporated and known as "The Short Hills Private School." For some years it was run as a private enterprise and at one time prepared students for college. In 1917, a board of trustees was formed and is run in this form today as an independent non-profit organization with John W. White, Jr. serving as the current president of the board.
