

Fire Prevention Committee Hailed For All-Out Program

The first full-scale community fire prevention project in New Jersey was launched Monday night, when a committee appointed by Mayor Percival M. Bland met at City Hall to map plans for city-wide observance of Fire Prevention Week October 9-15.

Red Cross Lauds Response to Plea For Flood Funds

Residents of Summit, New Providence, and Berkeley Heights have been "most generous" in their response to the Red Cross appeal for funds to assist victims of the recent floods, according to Leo O'Grady, chairman of the Summit Red Cross chapter.

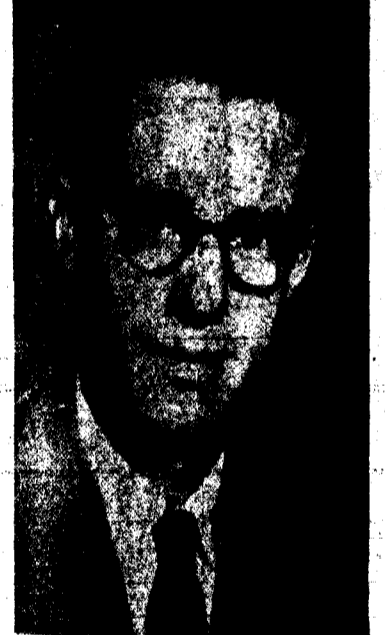

O'Grady said that the chapter, Summit's youngsters have not been unkind of the plight of flood sufferers, for at least two contributions to the fund were made possible through their thoughtfulness and enterprise.

Betty Nordahl, Helen Bogamil, and Haywood Bush were active cooks and lemonade salesmen, turning $5.00 in sales over to the chapter.

In the back yard at 78 Valley View avenue, a circus brought in $1.88 for the flood fund. Sparkplugs of the event were Eleanor, Jared and Peggy Chase of the Valley View address, and Pam Dunn, who with Eleanor contributed magic tricks to the games of skill and other acts. Eleanor is 12, Jared 11, and Peggy, seven.

with a "rock bottom" quota of $1,925, has reached a total of $6,832 in contributions. "It is heartwarming to know that public and private resources are being mobilized."

Hailed by officials of the New Jersey Association of Insurance Agents and the National Association of Fire Underwriters as a "pilot plant" in comprehensive municipal fire prevention, the committee is headed by Frank J. Kerrigan, president of the Chamber of Commerce.

A spokesman for the Association of Insurance Agents said that the "Summit plan" represents an innovation in municipal fire prevention activities, and will be highlighted at the annual convention of the agents to be held September 15 and 16 in Atlantic City. At that time the program drawn up by the local committee will be presented.

The committee, composed of representatives of the schools, churches, service clubs, city departments, industry, and merchants, is the first such group to be formed. Previous fire prevention week observances on a community level have been limited to activity by the fire department and occasional school participation.

The new project represents the joint efforts of the Chamber of Commerce, which has always considered fire prevention of prime importance, and of L. Chubb and Sons of Short Hills, insurance underwriters. The Chubb organization, a capital stock agency company, is a recognized pioneer in the field of fire prevention, control and research.

Preliminary plans outlined by the local committee Monday night cover a full program in the schools during the Fire Prevention Week observance, including demonstrations of fire-fighting equipment at each school, the showing of selected films on several aspects of fire prevention and control, a house-to-house canvass by students distributing check lists for home fire safety, and other special activities.

It is planned to have the check lists carried home by students, and to have them contact other homes in their neighborhoods where there are no school-age children.

Distribution of posters and leaflets in stores, factories, and other locations will be handled by the Fire Department personnel under Chief Thomas Murray. Churches will also cooperate through the distribution of fire safety literature, the showing of films, and in other activities.

During Fire Prevention Week, the five service clubs in Summit will hold a joint meeting at the

Father of Three And Boy, 6, Listed As Polio Cases

A 34-year-old father of three children and a six-year-old boy were listed by the Board of Health last week as the sixth and seventh polio victims of the Summit area. Both, described as paralytic cases, are in Morristown Memorial Hospital where their conditions were called "good" yesterday. They are William Kranichfeld, 34, of 155 Canoe Brook parkway, and Jeffris Brillhart, six, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Brillhart of 35 Bedford road.

Mr. Kranichfeld's illness was diagnosed last Wednesday at Overlook Hospital and the Brillhart boy's on Saturday. Both were subsequently removed to Have-meyer Pavilion of the Morristown hospital.

In the meantime, two families who had joined the Kranichfelds in a cook-out three days before Mr. Kranichfeld was stricken appealed to the local Board of Health for gamma globulin injections.

According to Mrs. John Van de Water of 163 Canoe Brook parkway, mother of two children, she and her husband were unable to obtain the gg shots from the local board as were Mr. and Mrs. William Mereness of 159 Canoe Brook

Labor Department Aide Studies City Homemaker Set-up

Miss Jane Todd, special consultant to the women's bureau of the U. S. Department of Labor, met recently with representatives of SAGE, Inc. (Summit Council on Aging) and Visiting Homemaker Service.

Miss Todd, former deputy commissioner of Commerce for the State of New York, had learned of SAGE and its interest in employment opportunities for senior citizens from Mrs. Chester W. Sater of 197 Oak Ridge Avenue, who has been associated with the Department of Labor for many years.

At the meeting last week, Miss Todd commended SAGE for opening up a new field of employment for mature women through Visiting Homemaker Service. She also expressed interest in the continuing study by SAGE of other possible areas of employment where the maturity and wisdom of older men and women would prove an asset.

She pointed out that government, industry, organizations and individuals are coming to realize more and more that men and

Mayor Asks Flood Aid

Mayor Percival M. Bland yesterday appealed to residents to contribute clothing and household items to the victims of the flood areas. The contributions should be brought to police headquarters at the Municipal Building on Springfield avenue.

Stressing that the need remains urgent, Mayor Bland said that suits, coats, hats, stockings, shoes, bedspreads, towels and other necessities of everyday life will be packed at a Summit Express Co. van to a central distribution center. The donations should be clean, he added.

Legion Home Open for Relief Contributions

Samuel C. Gargiulo, commander of American Legion Post No. 138, yesterday said that the Legion Home at 14 Elm street, will be used as a receiving depot to collect and transport non-perishable food, clothing, furniture, kitchen utensils and other household items for distribution to flood victims.

Mr. Gargiulo said that if the Legion home is closed the items should be left on the porch. For information and pick-up call Su. 6-4500 during the day or Su. 6-2009 at night.

Teachers To View City As Guests Of Chamber

New teachers in the Summit school system will get a firsthand view of the city next Thursday, when they will be guests of the Chamber of Commerce on a guided bus tour.

The tour marks the first year that such a program has been undertaken by the Summit Chamber, although it has been used in other communities, notably Newark, Plainfield, and Irvington.

Designed to acquaint new teachers with the city, the informal tour will follow the scheduled indoctrination program given by school officials at the high school. The indoctrination is slated to start at 8 p.m. and finish at 4 p.m., when the Chamber will take over as guides, giving the teachers an opportunity to see all of the schools, churches, public buildings, parks and other highlights of the local scene. Robert D. Brough will provide the commentary on the tour.

John N. May, Jr., chairman of the civic-professional division of the Chamber and chairman of the event, said that no stops will be made by the bus until the end of the tour at Lincoln School, where an inspection of the build-

Schools Open September 12; Expect Increase in Enrollment

Summit public schools will open Monday, September 12, with an expected increase in enrollment of from 50 to 100 students. Enrollment figures in June showed a total of 3,590.

Superintendent of Schools Roberts v.S. Reed has announced that registration of new students will be held Friday, September 9, at each of the schools.

26 New Teachers To Assume Posts In City Schools

Twenty-six new teachers will take over class assignments when Summit public schools open this term.

Nine of them will fill new posts in the schools, while the remaining 17 take over classes vacated by resignations, leaves of absence, or promotions.

All new teachers will report at 8:30 a.m. Thursday, September 8, for a workshop to be held at Lincoln School. All teachers in the system will report for organization at 1:30 p.m. on the same day, and elementary school service teachers will meet with the superintendent on September 8 at 1:30 p.m. The first regular principals' meeting has been scheduled for Wednesday at 9:30 a.m. in the superintendent's office.

New assignments will be handled by Edward F. Babbott, Miss Corinne DeVries, Mrs. Vivian T. Gomba, Charles A. Grzeszkiewicz, Mrs. Margaret C. Howard, Thomas E. Lee, Miss Mary M. McMahon, Miss Helen E. Parker, and Miss Mildred T. Steele.

Babbott, who will teach English and guidance at the high school, has had seven years of teaching experience. He received his bachelor of arts from Awarthmore, master's degree from Stanford University, and is completing work for a doctorate in guidance.

Miss DeVries, who received her B.S. from Beaver College in June, will teach a third grade at Washington School, while Mrs. Gomba, a 1954 graduate from Montclair State Teachers College with one year of teaching experience at Belmar, will have a fifth grade at Washington.

Grzeszkiewicz will take over a new class in mathematics at the junior high school. He received his B.S. from East Stroudsburg Teachers College and his M.A. from Seton Hall this summer. He has had two years' of teaching.

Superintendent of Schools Roberts v.S. Reed has announced that registration of new students will be held Friday, September 9, at each of the schools.

The superintendent said that it is important that all new pupils bring birth certificates, report cards, and other records made available by transferring schools. All teachers will report for organization at their assigned schools on Thursday, September 8, at 1:30 p.m.

St. Teresa's parochial school will resume classes at 8:40 a.m. on September 12, with registration on September 6 from 9 a.m. until 12 noon. Kent Place School will open September 15.

Board of Education workers have been active during the summer months with repairs and improvements to the schools.

A major project was the installation of a faculty parking lot at 34 Elm street. Walter Eddy, business manager of the Board, said that the lot was made possible through demolition of the house at the Elm street address, which had been acquired by the Board.

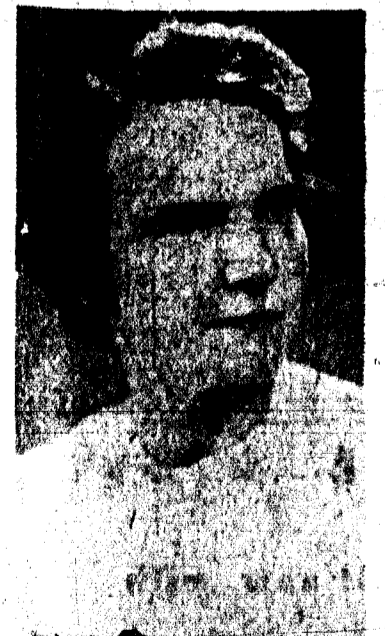

Eddy added that a survey of the approximately 100 employees at the high school indicated that about 50 per cent drive their cars to the school. He said that the new parking lot will provide space for almost all of them, which, it is hoped, will eliminate parking adjacent to the high school on high school grounds.

At Franklin School, the interior has been completely redecorated, as has the interior of Brayton School. Both schools have also had corridor ceilings acoustically

Lions Club Works For New Jersey Flood Victims

The Summit Lions Club this week pooled two dozen cartons of clothing, shoes and blankets which were delivered to Belvidere for distribution to flood victims in New Jersey. Last week the club contributed $50 toward the relief of the stricken families. According to Lions President Paul L. Werner, who loaned a truck to make delivery to the Belvidere Lions Club which is handling the distribution, the gift also contained a "practically new" electric kitchen range contributed by a south-side family. Frederick N. Abbott, past president who headed the club's flood relief committee, said the organization expects to complete its efforts for flood relief today at the weekly luncheon meeting to be held at Hotel Suburban.

"While Federal aid is being used to assist state and local authorities in cleaning up and rebuilding highways and bridges, restoring water, sanitation, and other essential services, plus the fighting of disease and otherwise facilitating a return to normalcy, the plight of the individual sufferers is the concern of the Red Cross," O'Grady explained.

The chairman pointed out that no house-to-house canvassing is being conducted, and contributions will continue to be received at the chapter headquarters, 22 Elm Street. O'Grady stressed that all used clothing and other articles be deposited at City Hall.

"Even though the assigned quota for the Summit chapter has been reached," O'Grady said, "it is hoped that contributions, particularly from merchants and business firms, will continue to be received. This is especially important since all communities are not able to meet the quotas assigned to them." O'Grady said that both the local chapter and the national organization "sincerely appreciate" the "wonderful response" already given.

It might have been YOU

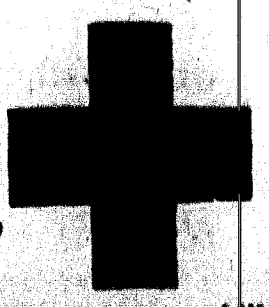

You might have been the one who watched her home swept away, saw her neighbor pulled down by the swirling waters. You might be homeless, sick and bereft.

The Red Cross has acted quickly. It has furnished swift and competent aid. But it must have money. Government assistance takes care only of damage done to public buildings and public roadways.

Food and clothing must be distributed to the sufferers, medical space taken by Public Service aid must be given and epidemics prevented. Will you give as generously as you can to the American Red Cross Flood Relief Campaign? Send your contribution to your local chapter. Mark your envelope FLOOD RELIEF.

Red Cross Does Uncle Sam's Job

It is well known that the American Red Cross always keeps a "disaster fund" for any emergencies of an extensive character. The annual contributions supply something more than the normal operation and maintenance of the Red Cross machinery. For the organization was founded with disasters in view. Without attention to them, as potential needs, it would be failing in its original objective.

Yet such a disaster as that of the recent "Diane floods" can not be properly cared for by any such funds as exist in the coffers of the Red Cross. It is said that the losses will run well into the billions. To restore even a minimum of living conditions would require many times the amounts ready for the purpose. There are believed to be 35,000 homeless. Whole cities are in shambles. Factories where hundreds worked are flat, and there are no jobs available.

Therefore the expected has happened. Across the nation the Red Cross has sent out an SOS for additional donations to be used for disaster work in the northeast. It will take millions just to give temporary shelter, food, clothing and medicine to the victims and this money must be provided by the people who have not suffered.

We have our community chests, our favorite philanthropies and our personal charities. They are important. They are part of the rent man pays for the space he occupies in this world. Only a tightwad refuses to make contributions to these necessary agencies.

But sometimes something comes up of such supreme importance that it can not be aided by the usual machinery. It is so important that people untouched by it have no choice, if they are human and Christian, but to give "until it hurts." It is not a matter of how much you can "get away with." It is a matter of how much you can contribute without impoverishment. Families who were living in comfortable homes and paying off mortgages today have no homes, no furniture and, in many cases, no jobs. It is not their fault. In the case of many objects of charity it is the fault of the object but here the trouble is literally an "act of God." And inasmuch as we believe that all mankind are "God's children," brothers and sisters in the same blood and have the same hopes and the same fears, we have no choice but to help.

Some, possibly, will think that the $100 million promised by President Eisenhower for flood aid is sufficient. It should be made clear that this money, as well as any put up by the states themselves, is only for the repair and rebuilding of public property such as highways, bridges. The Red Cross funds are the only ones available for personal distress.

It is ironic that we, the wealthiest nation in the world, can dig up billions upon billions to hand for overseas spending while we can not do the type of financial job that is needed when disaster strikes at home. Our nation can build homes and hotels for the Hottentots, buy refrigerators for Eskimos and everything under the sun for everybody but our own people. There are few strings, if any, attached to our foreign aid spending but in our own country we dispense meagre "loans" through the government agencies at 3 per cent interest payable to flood victims, many of whom can't afford these loans. We never see to it that we eventually get paid back for what we spend abroad in relief.

Right now this country has a case where thousands need financial help and need it in a big way. Uncle Sam is not providing it but the Red Cross is, and that is why we must all dig down and help out.

The Chamber's Newest Project

For the first time, the Summit Area Chamber of Commerce will conduct a complete and thoroughly planned tour of the city and its adjacent communities for about 26 new teachers in Summit. A buffet supper and reception by Chamber, school and city officials will conclude the day. The event is scheduled for September.

The idea is not original with the Summit Chamber. It has been done for the last three or four years in Plainfield, Newark and Irvington. But regardless of its origin, it is a good idea for it provides a method of introducing the teachers who will play an integral part in our community life to the historical, commercial and professional life of our community.

This, of course, is indispensable knowledge for those who will be shaping the thinking of our future residents. The tour is so well planned that it will give the teachers a quick, but comprehensive picture of their new town. It will show them the business concerns that play a major role in Summit's economic life; it will show them our residential sections, the type of home in Summit, and our municipal facilities. The new teachers will be provided with maps of the Summit Area to supplement the oral descriptions and the tour.

There could be no more efficient and intelligent method of showing these newcomers to our city the advantages and merits of Summit, their business home, we hope, for many years to come.

We congratulate the Chamber of Commerce for this project, its newest effort in a long line of civic services, for providing this tour for the teachers. We know it will be of invaluable help to the teachers and their students.

A Thought for Labor Day

When Labor Day was first celebrated, back on Sept. 5, 1882 in New York City, the total membership of American labor unions was less than 500,000.

Today, 73 years later, there are an estimated 18,000,000 men and women enrolled in unions, most of them affiliated in great and strong and wealthy federations. The greatest part of this vast growth has come about in the last 22 years, under the fostering encouragement and protection of the federal government.

America's workers this Labor Day may well pause and reflect on the fact that employment is at a peace-time peak, that hours are the shortest they have ever been, that a minimum wage is guaranteed and that for thousands an annual wage is guaranteed. They may also consider the multitude of benefits ranging from Social Security to employer-financed pensions and insurance. And, perhaps most important, is the nationwide feeling of mutual respect and harmony on the parts of both labor and management.

But unless the observance of Labor Day does more than remind workers of their gains, it fails. It must also remind the nation of labor's responsibilities and duties. Consciousness of these obligations that accompany gains is essential to safeguard the progress already made.

The American worker must realize that he is a part of America rather than a distinct element of society. He must share in the nation's progress and share in the duties and responsibilities of citizenship. Unions must continue their battle to clean house of Communists and radicals and they must realize that strikes should not be called when they are against the public interest, such as railroads, utilities, etc.

The rights of labor are precious and have been won fairly and in many cases, with effort. The duty of the American people and their government to protect these rights is unquestionable. We wish that, today, more might be heard concerning the duty of organized labor to the people and their government.

Not Such a Joke, This Volkswagen

The Volkswagen is a funny little car of German manufacture. Like the Model T of sainted memory, it inspires jokes. But the Volkswagen is not entirely a joking matter. Not only does it lead all others in sales in Germany; it is, also a valuable article of export. Its popularity in England is worrying the British car manufacturers. In the United States more Volkswags were sold last year than all other foreign cars combined.

Now it is confirmed that the German Volkswagen Automobile Works has bought an assembly plant in New Brunswick, and may be turning out American-made Volkswags within the next year.

Most patriotic Americans will think this a right saucy gesture. Why, the very idea of a foreign concern setting up to make foreign cars right in the midst of this automotive civilization!

But it isn't the sauciness angle that interests us. What interests us is that, in invading the American market, the Volkswagen people are counting on the vitality of the idea that put this country on wheels in the first place. The Volkswagen is cheap, and highly standardized. Engine is simple and rugged, hard to get out of order and easy to repair. Body types are held to a minimum. And it doesn't go out of style, because the Volkswagen people don't fool with annual models. Not long ago the millionth Volkswagen came off the German assembly line, and it was substantially the same car as the first one. Finally, the Volkswagen people believe in passing along to their customers some of the benefits of lowered production costs, whereas American car manufacturers believe in passing them along to the UAW.

All this was Henry Ford's idea, way back before automobiles became the victims of High Style. It will be interesting to see whether his basic idea—reliable transportation at minimum first cost and upkeep—still has any vitality in competition.

Criticizes Bothwell Hearing

The Bothwell case in Berkeley Heights seems to be another of the endless examples of the tendency of the "average citizen" to seize avidly on damaging criticism if it concerns a public or semi-public official. Public school teachers have long complained that in many communities they were watched and judged by severe and unrealistic standards. Having myself been a high school teacher I can attest to the truth of that. But why not? The teacher or school official is in charge of young people and is paid from public money; he should expect to be held to high standards.

But this case does not seem to come under the heading of transgressing high standards. Judging merely from your newspaper account this seems to be a case of another tendency—taking facts at their most superficial face value. Things are so remarkably often not what they appear to be on the surface. Life is so remarkably cluttered with hidden but honorable motive, coincidence, misunderstanding, and the unhappy chance of the speaker meaning one thing and the hearer something quite different. Let him who has never been caught in an inexplicable coincidence, never been taken seriously when making a small joke, never been victim of a ridiculous misconstruction of his words, cast the first stone in any witch hunt. Perhaps any witch hunt, small or large is at least partially an expression of boredom with life that is made to conform so painfully, each one of us required to travel in the same little safe tracks, however poorly we fit into them, as every one else or take the consequences. Cling, cling to the obvious norm, or the goblins will get you if you don't watch out!

Labor Department

women between the ages of 40 and 70 are not only our greatest reservoir in emergency, as proved during World War II; but they can be a valuable addition to the labor force at any time. It is therefore good economy to make use of them at all times.

Miss Todd also spoke of the value of training, or re-training, these people to fill the gaps in occupations where they are so badly needed.

She commended SAGE for educating people along these lines and seeking out areas of employment and training needs for people in this "age" group. Members of SAGE and VHS who met with Miss Todd and Mrs. Sater were Mrs. Arthur D. Schwarz, vice-president of SAGE; Mrs. John D. Maggio, member of the state consultant committee on Homemaker Services and on the executive board of SAGE; Mrs. Allen D. Pettee, chairman, VHS committee; Mrs. Edward W. Higgins, director, VHS; Mrs. Herbert Kamm, member VHS committee.

Animal Welfare League Financed Largely by Gifts

The Summit Animal Welfare League acknowledges all contributions and memberships. Without this aid the League could not carry on its work to help lost, strayed, and unwanted animals.

The League would like to make particular mention of an anonymous gift of $50, generously donated by one of the organization's most valued members who has done so much to help and further its cause. Another gift of note was one of similar amount. This was presented by the Pet Club of Millburn High School, through the teacher who was responsible for the founding of the club, Mrs. Murphy, now retired. Mrs. Murphy had started the Pet Club in order to give her young people an interest and hobby. Under her direction it grew and flourished and through the club, the students raised money for various worthwhile causes. At the time of Mrs. Murphy's retirement, the club fund contained $50 and it was the students' wish that she present it in their name to the Animal Welfare League.

Although such magnanimous gifts are naturally of great importance toward the carrying out of the League's work, all donations whatsoever will help take care of some homeless, lost or mistreated animal. Yearly membership in the Summit Animal Welfare League is $2. Membership fees and donations may be sent to J. F. Gilbert, treasurer of the Summit Animal Welfare League, 5% of The Citizens Trust Co., Berkeley Heights.

RETIRING POSTMAN MAKES FINAL SALE—Grover C. Van Kirk, who retired at the close of yesterday's business hours, makes sale to unidentified girl just before shutting his window for the last time after 34 years of service. (Julia Wolff)

Grover Van Kirk, Postal Clerk 34 Years, Retires

Grover C. Van Kirk, a postal clerk for 34 years closed his stamp window last night and said "au revoir" to the boys. Mr. Van Kirk is retiring but expects "to keep in touch" from his home at 7 Lower Overlook road. Born in Princeton, Mr. Van Kirk attended schools there and Rider Business College at Trenton. He came to Summit in 1921 and married M. Elva Van Kirk, who was living in Millburn at that time. Mr. Van Kirk admitted yesterday, "I am not exactly looking forward to retirement. I'll miss the contact with the people and time will possibly drag a bit." Declaring maybe I don't know everyone in Summit, he added, but I sure know a great many. Even ones that I never saw frequently always turned up at Christmas time to make their stamp purchases. Mr. Van Kirk said he would like to take a trip abroad but he does not believe that will be possible so he will devote some of his spare time to his hobbies of golf, photography and music. Prior to World War II, Mr. Van Kirk played violin with the Summit Symphony Orchestra when it was under the direction of Fred Muller. When Mr. Van Kirk first came to Summit he worked for a year as a salesman at Manser's Hardware store. He then passed the post office examination and started as a special delivery man. This was followed by getting a regular route which he covered for four years. Since then he has been at the stamp window but did additional jobs during the man-shortage of World War II. Mr. Van Kirk has served under four postmasters starting back in the old building on Beechwood road under George Baldwin, who was followed by Alfred Kent, Daniel Fitzpatrick and the present postmaster Theodore Van Dyke. Mr. Van Kirk is a member of the Masonic Fraternity and the Lawrenceville Presbyterian Church.

Bequests by Mrs. Hentz Name Four Local Groups

Four organizations in Summit are beneficiaries in the estate of Mrs. Florence G. Hentz, who died July 9, 1952. A balance of 102,818.56 was reported in the first and final accounting of her estate approved last Tuesday by County Judge Milton A. Feller. Local groups to share in the legacies are the YWCA and YMCA, Overlook Hospital, and the Central Presbyterian Church. The Madison Presbyterian Church is also a beneficiary. The bulk of the estate will be held in trust to provide a life income for Mrs. Marian H. Crossfield of Llewellyn Park, West Orange, a daughter, according to the terms of Mrs. Hentz' bequests. Mrs. Hentz lived at 570 Springfield avenue.

Finishes Military Police Training

Pvt. Thomas M. Killoran, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clair Killoran, 37 Greenfield avenue, recently was graduated from the Military Police Training Center at Camp Gordon, Ga. A committee of 15 teenagers, representing the various areas of town, is arranging a day of swimming in the Free Acres pool, baseball on the Common, tennis, a cook-out over a bonfire, dancing on the green, and other entertainment.

Boro Board Waits For Answer From Regional

New Providence — A spokesman for the Board of Education said this week that no formal reply had been received from the Jonathan Dayton Regional High School board on the Boro's request for admission as a full member of the regional district.

A letter requesting admission was mailed August 19, the spokesman said, and represented the unanimous opinion of the board, which met the previous night. The decision to make the request was reached at the August 9 meeting. Copies of the letter were mailed to all board members, including two who were out of town on vacation, and to Allen W. Roberts, superintendent of schools, for approval prior to sending it to the regional board.

At the regional board meeting August 16, Dr. Minor C. K. Jones, the board president, said that "serious thought" should be given to the request, although he stressed that no action could be taken until a formal request was received. He appointed a three-man committee to investigate the financial and legal aspects of the admission of New Providence to the district. The committee will report at the next board meeting.

Opposition to the request was voiced by John Banyasz of Garwood, who said that admission of the Boro would "complicate" the situation, since much of the regional school system has already been paid for. "Although the law outlines obligations of a new district member, it does not provide for adjustment of district assets they received," Banyasz said. He added that he felt that Regional had made its position on the admission clear in two previous refusals to take Boro students because of "overcrowding." The Boro board decided to request admission to the Regional district after a conference with Dr. William West, Union County superintendent of schools, and members of the state department of education, at whose suggestion the meeting was called.

Under Assembly Bill 509, signed by Governor Meyner last month, it is possible for a regional district to hold a single referendum for all members of a district, with admittance by a majority of those voting.

Prior to the passage of AB9, admittance of a municipality to a regional district was possible only after each community in the district conducted a separate referendum. Failure by one member community to approve admission would bring an automatic veto.

The Boro board has been turned down by Regional twice, and by Scotch Plains, the newly-created Warren-Watchung-Passaic Township Regional, and Millburn, in its efforts to find accommodations on a tuition basis for 10th grade students in September, 1957, when Summit High School will no longer accept them. A proposal to create a fund to construct a high school in the Boro was defeated earlier this year.

Judge Requests Treatment for Delinquent Boy

A 14-year-old Summit boy, who police said has committed 15 offenses ranging from window breaking to larceny in the past two and a half years, was continued on probation and given a suspended sentence to Jamesburg Reformatory Tuesday by Judge Libby Sachar of the Juvenile Court in Elizabeth. The judge also requested that the youth receive out-patient diagnostic treatments at Menlo Park.

The boy was put on probation in December, 1954, following charges of larceny. His latest offense occurred when he beat up another boy at a playground after demanding an article the boy had. The complaint was made against the juvenile by the Recreation Board on the recommendation of the police department.

The offender's career of delinquency began in January, 1953, when he broke a window in a local store. This was followed less than a month later with shoplifting and he was subsequently barred from the store.

In March, he was accused of annoying Scout Troops and in April he was caught riding trains and admitted to breaking into a shop on two occasions.

The police report lists the youth as stealing accessories from bicycles in August and as being disorderly two months later.

His 1954 record shows two cases of theft, one count of being disorderly and one of trespassing during March and April. In October he was picked up for throwing firecrackers and in December he was put on probation for larceny.

When the President of the Railroad told the President of the Women's Club "NO!"

Mrs. President was flabbergasted!

Her request was simple enough and she thought it would be welcome. The Garden Department of the Women's Club offered to beautify the railroad cut which went through the principal part of the town. They offered to plant roses on the banks at their own expense.

But the Railroad President remembered a previous instance of "rose planting" in New Jersey—and what happened. Another railroad had done some landscaping of a station.

Result: Additional taxes of $170.00 a year for "Shrub and Pond Improvement," were added to the already heavy taxes on the station property.

Ridiculous?

Yes—but just one more example of the tax problems faced by railroads trying to do business in New Jersey.

Other examples:

... New Jersey collects more taxes per mile of railroad than any state in the Nation.

... On the average, railroads pay $1.64 in taxes in New Jersey for every $1.00 they earn by serving their New Jersey freight and passenger customers.

... If other states adopted New Jersey's tax on railroads there would be no railroad tax problems—all railroads would simply go bankrupt—and then pay no taxes at all.

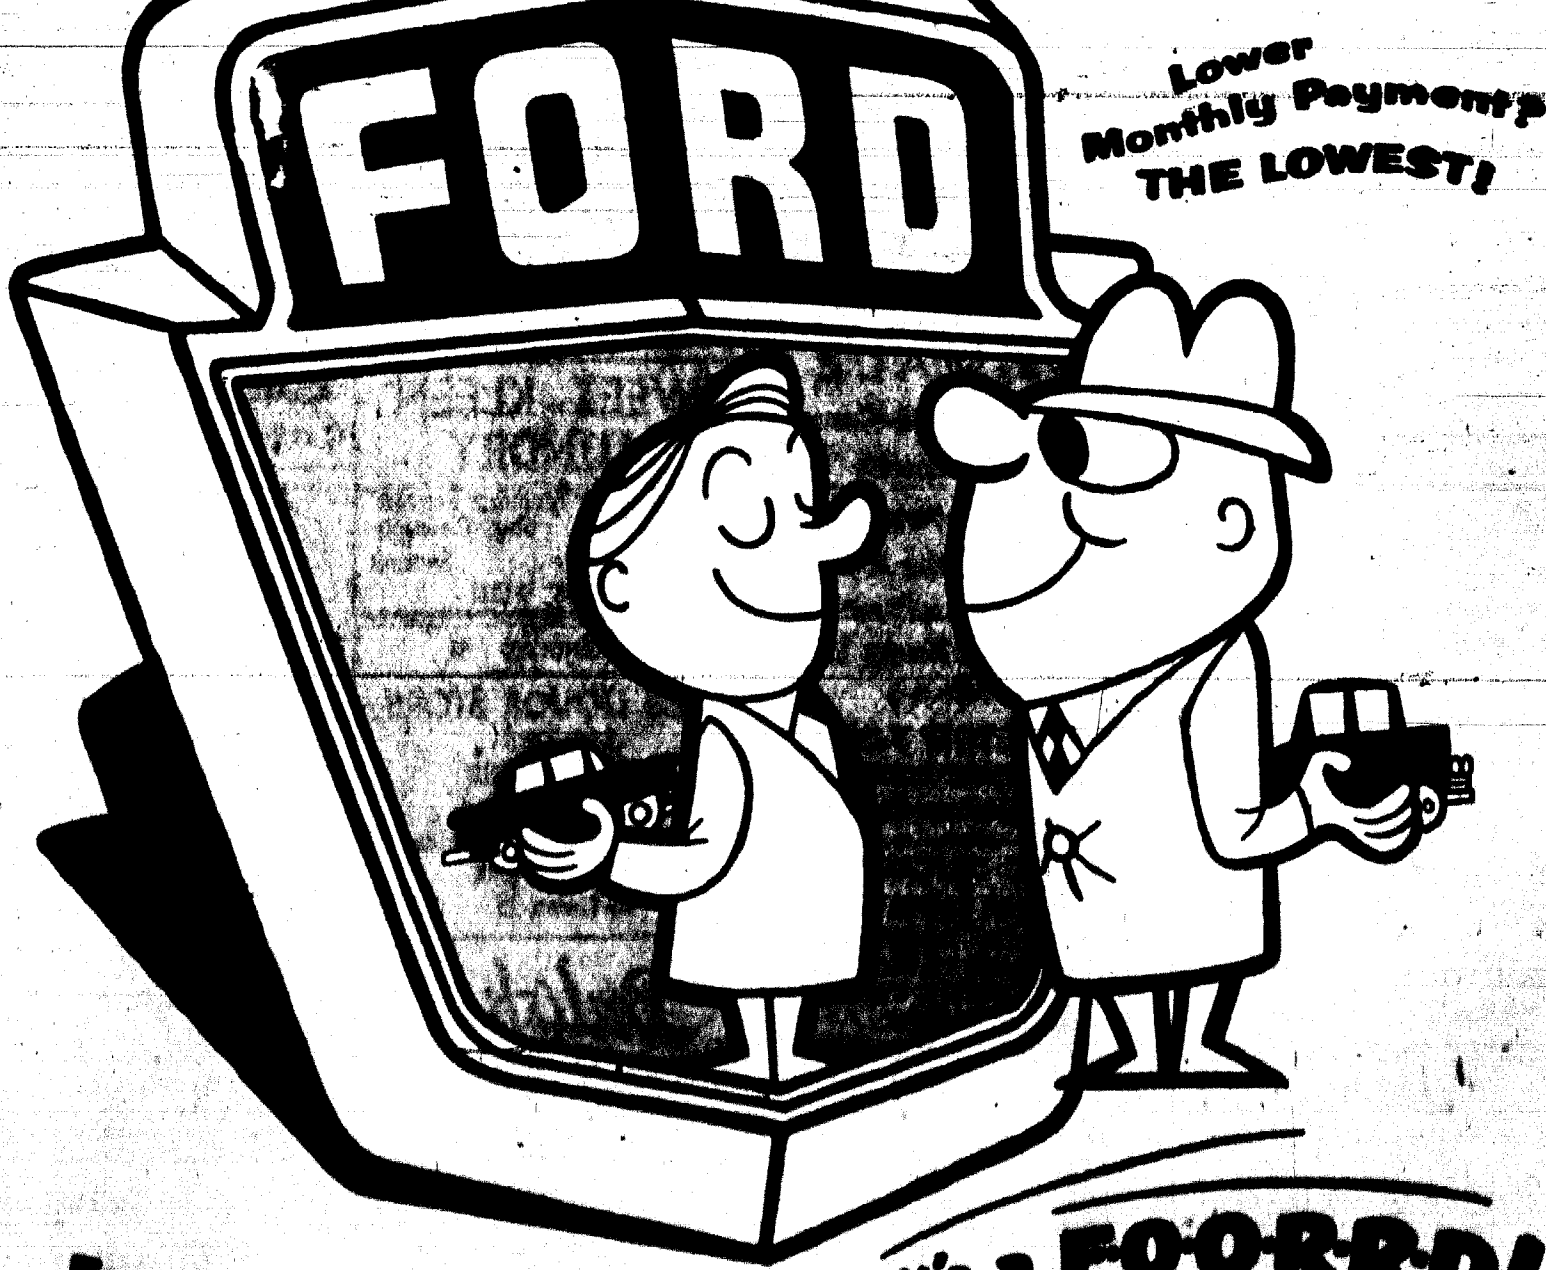

A fair solution to this unfair taxation is important not just to the railroads but to the welfare and future progress of every New Jersey community. The better railroad service of the future—upon which such progress depends—can come only if railroads are allowed the modest earnings needed for improvements. Now, all they make in New Jersey and more goes for taxes.

When the President of the Railroad can say "YES" to the President of the Women's Club, everybody in New Jersey will be better off.

You can help—by being a well-informed citizen and speaking your mind on what needs to be done to get tax fair play in New Jersey. You'll find the facts in "Facts on Tracks." Just write: Railroad Information Bureau, 11 Commerce Street, Newark 2, New Jersey.

Berkeley Heights—Free Acres has invited all Township young people of high school age to enjoy its facilities Saturday, September 10, in response to the Berkeley Heights Recreation Committee's request that the town's areas and organizations cooperate with it in planning varied activities.

A committee of 15 teenagers, representing the various areas of town, is arranging a day of swimming in the Free Acres pool, baseball on the Common, tennis, a cook-out over a bonfire, dancing on the green, and other entertainment.

Boro Board Waits For Answer From Regional

New Providence—A spokesman for the Board of Education said this week that no formal reply had been received from the Jonathan Dayton Regional High School board on the Boro's request for admission as a full member of the regional district.

A letter requesting admission was mailed August 19, the spokesman said, and represented the unanimous opinion of the board, which met the previous night. The decision to make the request was reached at the August 9 meeting. Copies of the letter were mailed to all board members, including two who were out of town on vacation, and to Allen W. Roberts, superintendent of schools, for approval prior to sending it to the regional board.

At the regional board meeting August 16, Dr. Minor C. K. Jones, the board president, said that "serious thought" should be given to the request, although he stressed that no action could be taken until a formal request was received. He appointed a three-man committee to investigate the financial and legal aspects of the admission of New Providence to the district. The committee will report at the next board meeting.

Opposition to the request was voiced by John Banyasz of Garwood, who said that admission of the Boro would "complicate" the situation, since much of the regional school system has already been paid for. "Although the law outlines obligations of a new district member, it does not provide for adjustment of district assets they received," Banyasz said. He added that he felt that Regional had made its position on the admission clear in two previous refusals to take Boro students because of "overcrowding."

The Boro board decided to request admission to the Regional district after a conference with Dr. William West, Union County superintendent of schools, and members of the state department of education, at whose suggestion the meeting was called.

Under Assembly Bill 509, signed by Governor Meyner last month, it is possible for a regional district to hold a single referendum for all members of a district, with admittance by a majority of those voting.

Prior to the passage of A509, admittance of a municipality to a regional district was possible only after each community in the district conducted a separate referendum. Failure by one member community to approve admittance would bring an automatic veto.

The Boro board has been turned down by Regional twice, and by Scotch Plains, the newly-created Warren-Watchung-Passaic Township Regional, and Millburn, in its efforts to find accommodations on a tuition basis for 10th grade students in September, 1957, when Summit High School will no longer accept them. A proposal to create a fund to construct a high school in the Boro was defeated earlier this year.

Meeting Postponed — The Official Board meeting of the Methodist Church has been postponed from September 6 to September 13 at 8 p.m.

Judge Requests Treatment for Delinquent Boy

A 14-year-old Summit boy, who police said has committed 15 offenses ranging from window breaking to larceny in the past two and a half years, was continued on probation and given a suspended sentence to Jamesburg Reformatory Tuesday by Judge Libby Sachar of the Juvenile Court in Elizabeth. The judge also requested that the youth receive out-patient diagnostic treatments at Menlo Park.

The boy was put on probation in December, 1954, following charges of larceny. His latest offense occurred when he beat up another boy at a playground after demanding an article the boy had.

The complaint was made against the juvenile by the Recreation Board on the recommendation of the police department.

The offender's career of delinquency began in January, 1953, when he broke a window in a local store. This was followed less than a month later with shoplifting and he was subsequently barred from the store.

In March, he was accused of annoying Scout Troops and in April he was caught riding trains and admitted to breaking into a shop on two occasions.

The police report lists the youth as stealing accessories from bicycles in August and as being disorderly two months later.

His 1954 record shows two cases of theft, one count of being disorderly and one of trespassing during March and April. In October he was picked up for throwing firecrackers and in December he was put on probation for larceny.

When the President of the Railroad told the President of the Women's Club "NO!"

Mrs. President was flabbergasted!

Her request was simple enough and she thought it would be welcome. The Garden Department of the Women's Club offered to beautify the railroad cut which went through the principal part of the town. They offered to plant roses on the banks at their own expense.

But the Railroad President remembered a previous instance of "rose planting" in New Jersey—and what happened. Another railroad had done some landscaping of a station.

Result: Additional taxes of $170.00 a year for "Shrub and Pond Improvement," were added to the already heavy taxes on the station property.

Ridiculous?

Yes—but just one more example of the tax problems faced by railroads trying to do business in New Jersey.

Other examples:

... New Jersey collects more taxes per mile of railroad than any state in the Nation.

... On the average, railroads pay $1.64 in taxes in New Jersey for every $1.00 they earn by serving their New Jersey freight and passenger customers.

... If other states adopted New Jersey's tax on railroads there would be no railroad tax problems—all railroads would simply go bankrupt—and then pay no taxes at all.

A fair solution to this unfair taxation is important not just to the railroads but to the welfare and future progress of every New Jersey community. The better railroad service of the future—upon which such progress depends—can come only if railroads are allowed the modest earnings needed for improvements. Now, all they make in New Jersey and more goes for taxes.

When the President of the Railroad can say "YES" to the President of the Women's Club, everybody in New Jersey will be better off.

Port Authority Control and Flying Told Rotarians

George P. Milech of the aviation department of the Port Authority was the speaker at the Monday luncheon meeting of the Rotary Club in the YMCA.

The speaker said that every three minutes, on the average, a landing or takeoff is handled at LaGuardia Airport, one of the busiest air terminals in the world. More than 5,000,000 passengers were handled during 1934; also more than 44,000,000 pounds of air mail and almost 100,000,000 pounds of air cargo. He stated that the total investment in LaGuardia Airport by the city, Federal Government and Port Authority is $56,000,000.

Newark Airport, an aviation pioneer was first opened by the City of Newark. It is readily accessible to Manhattan as well as to Northern New Jersey, being only 20 minutes by Turnpike and tunnel from the West Side Airlines Terminal in New York. Eight scheduled airlines now serve Newark Airport. Employees at the field totaled 2,470 in 1934, and their annual payroll was $13,378,000. The speaker said that no place in the country is more than 36 hours away.

The airport, he said, is one of the oldest flying fields in the country and was first opened in 1917. Now the airport is equipped with modern flight aids including an instrument landing system and a control tower operated by the Civil Aeronautics Administration. Mr. Milech stated that an airplane had transported a load of cattle from Milwaukee to Bogota.

Following the talk a twelve minute film was shown by Vernon Casey.

The speaker was introduced by Edward C. Holmes, program chairman for the month, and thanks were by Walter S. Eddy, acting president.

Previous to the talk Leonard E. Best, who had just returned from a trip to Europe, stated that a club meeting had been held on shipboard, six Rotarians being present. They were, besides Mr. Best, William H. Bensenbrugg of Redondo Beach, Calif.; Paul Georgi of Freeport, L. I.; J. Hourinok Meppel, The Netherlands; Thomas H. Miller, Kalona, Iowa; Arthur Scherm, Burlington, Iowa; Mr. Best also presented the local club with a Rotary flag from the Frankfurt, Germany, club, and Jacques Stori presented one from the Glarus, Switzerland, club. He recently returned home from a trip abroad.

Visitors introduced were: Sherman Burling, Chatham; Herbert Vance, Westfield; Kenneth Cosgrove, Newark; John Ehrhardt, Madison; H. M. Patrick, Bernardsville; Clarence Winans, Linden; Henry Harbosh, Summit, guest of Charles I. Maust.

$3,000 Left to Overlook Under Rogers Bequest

Mr. Rogers, a druggist, operated the drug store now owned by Chester Horn at Beechwood road and Springfield avenue. In his will he provided that his estate be held in trust to provide life incomes for Charles F. Rogers, a brother, and Katherine E. Rogers and Clara E. Rogers, sisters. Miss Clara Rogers, last surviving beneficiary, died last year.

The will provided that at the death of the last beneficiary the principal of the trust was to be shared by six persons and that a bequest of $3,000 be given to Overlook Hospital. An accounting of the estate was offered in court by the First National Bank and Trust Co. of Summit, trustee.

The legatees include William R. Wahl of 16 De Bary Pl., Summit; Mrs. Eleanor Prescott Shepard of Englewood; Theodore Ingham of Newark, Del.; Mrs. Mary Cochran Gould of Warwick, N. Y.; Miss Elizabeth Cochran of Washington, and Mrs. Louise Ingham Parsons of Gladwine, Pa. McKirgan and Gilson of Summit are attorneys for the estate. Judge Feller allowed commissions and fees totaling $1,541.48.

Man Continued in $5,000 Bail on Lottery Charge

A charge of possession of lottery slips made available by City Ordinance against Clarence Johnson, 36, of Newark, was dismissed by Magistrate Albert H. Bierman last week. However, Magistrate Bierman continued Johnson in $5,000 bail for grand jury action on a state charge of possession of lottery slips.

Playground Groups Visit Make Believe Land, Polo Grounds

The highlight for the girls of the six city playgrounds last week was a bus trip to "the land of make believe" at Hope. One hundred girls, recreation directors and three mothers made the one and one-half hour drive to the site which is situated at the foot of Jenny Jump Mountain and contains Santa's workshop, the Davy Crockett Fort, a pirate ship of Treasure Island fame and Old MacDonald's store. The climax of the day came when Santa presented each girl with a gift from his sleigh.

The trip was sponsored through funds made available by the Police Athletic League.

In the meantime, the boys from Washington playground made a trip to the Polo Grounds, New York, and the younger boys from Mable Playground went "fishing" at Briant Pond. James Jones and Lester Pryor served as guides to the pond.

At the Polo Grounds, the boys saw the Giants defeat the Cardinals 4-1. The trip was sponsored by the PAL.

At Lincoln playground obstacle races and novelty contests were the features of the week. In a water-filled balloon contest, virtually everyone got showered. Winners were Bob Staub and Gregory Odjakjian. Second place went to Barbara Gargiulo and Tamara Wenzel and third to Jimmy Lockhart and Steven Sweeney.

In a three-legged race, Carol and Jim Freeman were the winners with Kathleen Traynor and Julie Boynton, second, and Buddy McGhee and Gene Scully, third.

Gregory Odjakjian of the water balloon fame also became wiffle ball king. In the softball throwing contest, Barry Latella won for the boys and Kathleen Traynor carried off the girls honors. Kathleen was winner for the girls in the 30-yard dash, with Carol Freeman and Julie Boynton coming in second and third respectively. Barry won for the boys with Odjakjian placing second and Jimmy Freeman and Buddy McGhee tying for third.

At Edison, 36 boys and girls were divided into two teams and the search was on for two water-melons. Grace Lepore captained the winning team and Doug Shedlak the other.

Edison also featured a baton exhibition. Those who participated included Sandy Lepore, Eileen Conway, Tina Iadanzo and Geraldine Cerrill.

At Memorial Field tournaments were held in all activities in preparation for playday which was held Tuesday.

Among those who won and qualified for playday were: Frank Pecca and Fred McMane, horse-shoes; Greg Gelson, Barry Gutwillis and Bill Burke, tetherball; Mike Massi, Martha Terrell and Nancy Barr, checkers; Mary Ellen Woerner and Linda Meridian, Jacks, and Frank Pecca, John Johnston and Nancy De Santis, ping pong.

A sand-modeling contest also was held with the following winning prizes: Janette Velli, best over-all model; Bob Dillon, best designed home; Fred Berhalter, best fort; Dave Porter, best castle; Dick Hudgin, most clever project; Rick Canning, best garage; and Jack Girault, best highway system.

Peg Morony won the contest in a jump-rope tournament for younger girls at Mable playground. She scored with 92 jumps. Mona Malbin won the championship for the highest jump over a taut rope.

Named to the all-star girls croquet team at Edison were Peggy Pizzuto, Eileen Conway, Mary Ann Altobelli, Sandy Dorsi, Geraldine Cerrill and Joann Iannello.

A "record party" with recordings supplied by Grace Lepore and Joann Iannello was also one of the entertainments of the week.

In the boys activities Clarence Montgomery gained first place in the shot-put contest after defeating Roy Chapman, Bob Zotti, Chuckie Marcantonio, Jimmy Scutler, and Nickie Di Girolomo.

Corradi Landscapers Win Mayor's Trophy Game

The Corradi Landscapers of Summit pitched shutout ball, allowing three hits in going the distance. Les Kuznick, J. K. Smith, almost matched Twill's performance, weakening in the sixth inning when the Corradi's banged across three runs. Seren led off with a walk, with big Ed Ery hitting behind the runner for a near perfect hit and run play. With runners on first and third, Corradi singled to score Seren, with Charley Twill sacrificing both runners along. Eddie Twill then hit a long outfield sacrifice fly which scored Ery easily. Billy Geddis singled to drive in the third and final run of the game. Paul followed with another hit, but Geddis was out at the plate as Aptacy threw a strike into the plate from center field.

The Corradi Landscapers are the 1955 City Softball League champions, with games to be played for second and third place honors. Corby's Laundry have one game with Spring Lake, and should the sudden loss, a triple tie for second place could be realized. The I.A.C.F. will complete a game with the Post Office with two outs and a two ball and two strike count on the batter with the I.A.C.F. trailing 5 to 1.

Wildcats Take Grasshopper Crown After Shut-Out

The Wildcats clinched the Grasshopper Major baseball crown last Friday by shutting out the Rangers, 8 to 0. Tony Montrori allowed a pair of hits to Dick Casper and that was it. Montrori fanned 17 batters and walked seven. Frank Pecca banged out three hits for the winners, one of which was a long home run to left field with two men aboard in the sixth inning.

Tony Montrori blanked the Vikings in another Major league game, allowing four hits while striking out 12. Two of the hits came in the final inning after two outs. Danny Connell deserved a better fate as he allowed five hits, but a big error in the fifth opened the victory gates for the hard hitting Wildcats. Bush and Chapman came through with successive hits after one out, and advanced a base on an infield miscue. On an attempted pick-off at third after a strikeout, the throw by the backstop was wide of its mark, the ball sailing into left field, both runners scoring. Pecca walked and Moran singled to drive in the final tally.

The Hawks and the Vikings battled to a 6 to 6 tie after eight innings, with both sides having identical totals. The Hawks started the scoring with an unearned run in the second inning, adding two more in the third when Murillo belted a long double with a man on, the ball skidded by the fielder, with Murillo also scoring. They added three more runs in the fifth when McManus walloped a home run with a man on, with Rogers following with another four-base smash.

The Vikings came up with two runs in the third inning on a hit by Harvey, followed by a walk, and Onderdonk's long double which scored both runners. They added two more in the fifth on a hit by Onderdonk, a double by Bates, which was converted into a score as the catcher attempted to pick off a runner at third the ball bounding away for the score. The tying runs scored in the sixth on a hit by Harvey, a walk, and a fielding error, allowing two runs to score.

NEW small Carrier Air Conditioner

FOR small BUSINESSES

It's small. The new Carrier is just 3 feet wide, a little over 1 1/2 feet deep, and no higher than a filing cabinet.

It's flexible. The new Carrier comes in sections, fits together to discharge from top, front or back.

It's versatile. The new Carrier stands on the floor—or a counter—mounts on the wall, hangs from the ceiling, hides in a closet. It's fine for small stores, offices, homes and apartments.

Call today for the full facts on this amazing new Carrier Air Conditioner!

Summer Season Sunburn Time Even for Trees

This is the sunburn season—for trees as well as humans. With both, the amount of sunshine that can be soaked up without burning depends on the individual.

Some trees get scorched almost every summer while neighboring trees of the same species may remain normal. Tree sunburn is known as leaf scorch, according to Davey tree experts. Common symptoms are brown margins along the leaf edges and back between the large veins that supply the foliage with sap brought up from the roots.

Leaves give off moisture through their pores. When the sun is hottest, the leaves may release "more moisture than is supplied to them. Then they dry out and turn brown. Other factors besides hot sun may contribute to leaf scorch. These include high temperature, dry winds, root injuries and soil either too wet or too dry for the tree's requirements.

Pictures should be black and white prints with a glossy finish. The more contrast between black and white there is in a picture, the better it will print.

Size and position of picture in the paper, as well as acceptance or rejection of a picture submitted, are entirely at the discretion of the editors.

Pictures MUST be in the office the Tuesday noon before publication. Photographs may be called for after using.

There is no charge for the reproduction of photographs of local residents or events, if they are used by the Herald. In some instances the organization may be requested to furnish the photograph and we shall bear the cost of the engraving.

There is, however, a charge for the reproduction of photographs of out-of-town residents who may speak before local groups. In most instances, if the speaker is of note or has appeared before audiences in the past, he will be able to provide a "mat" which may be used and for which there will be no cost involved.

A "mat" is made of heavy paper, similar to cardboard, and serves the same purpose as far as the newspaper is concerned as a photo-engraving, which is made of metal.

Mats are usually not saved and are discarded after use. A photo-engraving if charged for, will be returned to the publicity chairman.

newspapers. Each community newspaper in this area has its own office, editor and editorial staff and final judgment regarding the publication of any material rests solely with the newspaper involved. Putting out a newspaper is a manufacturing process. There must be order, organization, system and schedules to be met and unless they are met, the staff can not produce the type of paper you desire.

The interval during which the earth completes one absolute revolution round the sun is called a sidereal year. It consists of 365 days, six hours, nine minutes and 9.6 seconds.

News of state or national doings of these organizations, unless it involves local residents directly or unless it happens locally, is of no value to a community newspaper. We also strongly urge all publicity chairmen to rigidly observe deadlines. In this respect copy submitted early gets the best treatment for it is prepared without the immediate pre-deadline rush.

If a meeting occurs on a Thursday or Friday, it should be submitted as early as possible and not on Tuesday before deadline. Summit, New Providence and Berkeley Heights, announced this week that the Boy Scouts of America will launch a four-year program "Onward for God and of the days ahead. Mr. Lauer and six of his staff left yesterday for the Tenth National Training Conference for more than 2,700 scout executives which will be held at the University of Michigan starting tomorrow and ending September 9. One of the most fascinating as-

A hearing on charges and counter-charges of assault and battery involving four brothers and five other men was adjourned last Wednesday by Magistrate Albert H. Bierman until September 7 after five hours of conflicting testimony. The charges resulted from a fight July 23 at the Jersey Central Power & Light Co. substation on Chatham road.

Leo J. McDonald, 25, of Irvington, testified that one of the brothers, Robert R. Descovick, 26, of Morristown, hit him from the rear in the neck and then Robert's three brothers, Stanley, 23, William, 21 and Michael, 27, all of Hanover attacked him with two-by-two pieces of wood.

Robert Descovick told the court that he heard someone behind him "swearing" and that when he turned it was McDonald lunging at him with something clutched in his fist. Descovick said he defended himself by knocking McDonald down. He also said he believed that McDonald was clutching a penknife which was later found on the ground.

Father Injured
 Neither man gave any reason for the fight but Detective Raymond McTernan, who arrived on the scene after an anonymous phone call to police headquarters, said the brothers were alone at that time an muttering that "it was the fault of other men that their father was injured."

The father Michael Descovick, Sr., also of Hanover, had sustained a fractured skull the previous day when an iron bar fell from the top of a crane and hit him on the head.

Descovick, Sr. is the president of the Whippany Construction Co. and was working on the installation of a 175-foot radio tower at the JCP & L plant. McDonald and the two other men pressing charges against the brothers were ironworkers on the job.

William M. Golden, 27, of Newark, an iron worker said that he didn't know there was any trouble until McDonald appeared around a corner of a shack with his face bloody.

Golden testified that McDonald said "four or five guys jumped me." He added that he walked toward the brothers to see what the trouble was and claimed that Robert Descovick hit him in the face dropping him. He added that he was kicked in the face and ribs but did not know who did it.

The brothers, however, said that after McDonald's pass failed and he was knocked to the ground by Robert Descovick, McDonald got up and ran around a corner returning with four other ironworkers, three armed with wrenches and McDonald with a brick. The brothers added that when they saw the five advancing they ran to a wood pile and picked up the two-by-twos.

In addition to McDonald and Golden, another iron worker appearing as a complainant against the Descovicks was James Kenny, 51, of Newark. Albert Mell, Jr., 35, of Milford, Pa., and Thomas Bartley, 35, of Belleville, also iron workers, are defendants on charges made by the Descovicks.

Two Hospitalized
 Both Golden and McDonald were taken to Overlook Hospital by Summit police following the fight and were hospitalized. McDonald was treated for eye and back injuries and Golden for an eye injury and internal bleeding.

Herbert Greenstone, Newark attorney representing the iron workers, repeatedly asked the brothers why they were at the JCP & L plant that day.

Robert Descovick admitted that he was not paid for the day but said he went at the request of his injured father to help out an uncle, Peter Descovick, with the work. The other brothers came to pick him up so they could go to the hospital together, he added.

Testimony from all of the brothers was similar to that of Robert Descovick. When asked by Greenstone why they arrived at the plant at around 9:45 a.m. when hospital hours were not until 11 a.m. they all indicated that they just happened to arrive early.

Dismissal Denied
 Meanwhile, Edward Broderick of Morristown, counsel for the Descovicks, moved for a dismissal of McDonald's and Golden's charges against all of the brothers except Robert. The motion was denied by Magistrate Bierman.

Kenny, foreman of the iron workers, testified that he heard a commotion and asked Robert Descovick "what is going on." Kenny said Descovick was "bothering" about his father and when Golden appeared Robert Descovick hit Golden and then Kenny.

He further said he went into the plant office and not seeing a phone to call the police went across the street towards a house. He said he was attacked before getting to the house and was dazed. Later, he said, he saw a woman on the porch and asked if he could come in and get some water.

Nearby Resident Testifies
 The woman, Mrs. June Hasbrook of 51 Chatham road, said that she and her mother heard screaming and then saw two men running towards Chatham. She was unable to identify them but did identify Kenny as the man who asked for water. She also said that before he got into the house he was pushed by another man whom she could not identify in court. She added that she did not see Kenny push or strike back.

Albert Van Ness of Roseland, master mechanic for the Hoffman Rigging Co., Newark, who was in charge of removing the crane on the day of the fight, also testified.

He said he saw McDonald, running towards him when he came from the rear of the building. He added the brothers also were coming towards him carrying the two-by-two wood.

He recalled that Golden walked up to the brothers asking what happened and that Golden was knocked down. Van Ness said he thought a brother grabbed the iron bar from Golden's hand and threw it aside.

During the hearing all four brothers took the witness stand and all with the exception of Robert, said that "swings" and attempted hits were made at them but that none "connected." Robert declared McDonald hit him the initial blow.

Oake Lake of West Caldwell, an employee of JCP & L, and Edward A. Walsh, Jr., of Cedar Lane, an employee of the Whippany Construction Co., appeared as witnesses for the Descovicks.
