

Council Reorganizes for 1956, Dean Made 19th Mayor of City

In the city's first official step of 1956, Common Council reorganized Monday by swearing in three re-elected councilmen and a new mayor, C. Philip Dean. The ceremonies, held in City Hall starting at 10 a.m., also included the naming of Ogden D. Gensemer to again serve as Council president.

Escorted to the rostrum by retiring mayor Percival M. Bland, Mr. Dean took the oath of office before his mother, Mrs. Horace Dean, and a group of residents. Mr. Bland swore him in.

Mr. Dean becomes the city's nineteenth mayor since its incorporation in 1890. Mr. Bland had a longer term of office than other Summit municipal heads, serving three consecutive terms from 1950 to 1956.

Councilman Carl H. Forsberg escorted Mr. Gensemer to the rostrum and later nominated him for the presidency. Councilman John M. Mackie was escorted by Councilman Hugo Riemer and Councilman William R. Gilson by Councilman Edgar T. Higgins. City Clerk Harry C. Kates gave them the oath of office.

The three council members all previously served elected terms with the exception of Mr. Mackie who served during the majority of 1955 as an appointee following the resignation last year of John G. MacKeechnie.

Unable to be present at the ceremonies was Councilman Donald H. Lawley.

Committee Posts Filled
Appointments of standing committees for this year were made by Mr. Gensemer as follows: Finance: Mr. Higgins, chairman; Mr. Forsberg and Mr. Gilson; Safety: Mr. Riemer, chairman; Mr. Mackie and Mr. Higgins; Works: Mr. Lawley, chairman; Mr. Gilson and Mr. Mackie; Law and Relations: Mr. Gilson, Mr. Higgins, Mr. Forsberg; Welfare: Mr. Mackie, chairman; Mr. Lawley and Mr. Riemer; Buildings and Grounds: Mr. Forsberg, chairman, Mr. Riemer and Mr. Lawley.

Reappointed to various boards by Mayor Dean were Harold T. Graves, Jr., trustee of Free Public Library; Philip N. Trowbridge and Francis A. Murray, Planning Board; Mrs. Winthrop A. MacMaster, Board of Recreation where she previously filled an unexpired term; Detective Lieutenant John B. Sayre, identification officer; Sergeant Edward Trayford, deputy identification and photography officer, also, liaison officer between the Police Department and Civil Defense. These appointments needed no confirmation by Council.

Zone Board Post Filled The new Mayor's first official act was to make a new appointment to the Zoning Board of Adjustment. He named Frank J. Kerrigan of 35 Oakley avenue as assistant vice president of the First National Bank & Trust Co., to replace A. Clifford Bernard whose term expired December 31. Mr. Kerrigan is also a member of the Municipal Youth Guidance Council. The appointment was confirmed by the Council.

Others, all reappointments, were: William A. Herr and Dr. J. H. Maroney, to the Board of Health; Robert E. English, Local Assistance Board; Harold J. Meyer, Zoning Board of Adjustment; Albert H. Bierman, magistrate of the municipal court.

Mr. Forsberg will serve as president pro tempore and, with Mr. Higgins, will represent the governing body on the Board of School Estimate. Other Council representatives named were Mr. Mackie, Overlook Hospital; Mr. Riemer, Planning Board; Mr. Gensemer, Joint Meeting; Mr. Riemer, Municipal Youth Guidance Council, and Mr. Mackie, Local Assistance Board.

City Offices Filled
Mrs. Ethel V. Martin was named by Council to fill three positions: Receiver of taxes, official tax searcher, and assistant city treasurer. Other Council appointments were: Miss Mary Cucchiello, assistant receiver of taxes; John W. Webman, municipal auditor; Roland Levesque, building inspector; Frances A. Murray, city engineer and commissioner of roads and streets; James W. Traynor, public official. (Continued on page 9)

Siren Tone on Phone Means 'Goof' on Dial

Something new in the way of sound effects will be added to telephone service in the Summit-Chatham-New Providence area starting Saturday, (Jan. 7) New Jersey Bell's local manager, George M. Delaney, announced today.

Telephone users will receive a siren tone over their telephone instruments if they dial a non-existent or obsolete telephone designation, Delaney said. The tone will be a rising and falling signal resembling a siren in the distance.

A telephone user who receives the siren tone should be sure that he is calling the right central office name and that he has correctly dialed the first two letters of the name and the first figure of the five-digit number.

YMCA to Call at Homes in Drive for Men's, Boys' Shoes

The World Service Committee of the Summit YMCA has announced plans to conduct a citywide house-to-house campaign for wearable men's and boys' shoes on Saturday, January 14, for refugees in West Germany. Bruce N. Bensley of Convent Station, a member of the committee in charge of the shoe collection, said that all shoes collected in this drive will be given to Church World Service for refugees in West Germany. Members of the Baltusrol Hi-Y Club will assist in the drive for shoes.

Mr. Bensley said the project is vital because of the growing number of freedom-loving people behind the Iron Curtain who risk their lives in fleeing to West Germany. He called on all who can to give a pair of shoes in the name of freedom.

Referring to correspondence with Walter S. Kilpatrick, senior representative of the World's YMCA/YWCA Refugee Services in Germany and Austria, Mr. Bensley reminded local citizens that "the flow of refugees through western Berlin has continued and has even increased very substantially in recent months. Since a very high proportion, usually more than half, of these are unaccompanied youth, the value of such material gifts will be self-evident to you."

The group will assemble at the YMCA at 10:15 a.m. Saturday and, except for lunch, will work until mid-afternoon. Anthony J. Ratichuk, 24 Manor Hill road; Woodruff J. English, 25 Blackburn place; Alan J. Bates, 23 Pearl street; and Mr. Bensley have volunteered cars for the drive. More cars are needed.

Members of the Baltusrol Hi-Y Club assisting include Roger Pennington, Bill Wellbrock, Webb VanWinkle, James Blades, Hans Levenback, B. J. Clark, John Moore, Arnold Ginnocchio. Others are John Anderson, Gil Low, Fred Monson, Tom Ludlow, Drew McFadden, Bob Snyder, Jerry Britt and Dick Golding.

Persons having shoes to contribute are requested to have them ready for the house-to-house campaign or bring them to the YMCA.

No Parking Lot for the Village Green

The city's traffic consultant takes a dim view of converting the "Village Green" into an off-street parking lot as has been urged by several local groups, mainly businessmen.

Instead, the report says, it should be maintained as an attractive park or civic center feature of the city. The plot is too far from Springfield avenue to offer advantages for shopper parking and too near the station for commuter parking.

Increasing the size of the Elm street lot is preferable, the consultant says. This should be boosted from its present 124 car spaces to 250 by acquiring adjacent property, some of which (American Legion home and Red Cross headquarters) is already city-owned.

Car Wheels Stolen
Police are investigating the theft last Wednesday night of four wheels from a new Ford station wagon which was on the car lot of Summit Auto Sales, Morris Turnpike.

A PROUD MOMENT—C. Philip Dean of 18 Pine Ridge Drive, a direct descendant of John Dean, who with Isaac Sayre settled here about 1710, takes the oath of office as the city's 19th mayor assisted by former Mayor Percival M. Bland and Mr. Dean's 85-year-old mother, Mrs. Horace M. Dean of 105 Morris avenue. In early days the settlement now known as Summit was called "Deantown" and for many years the Morris avenue-Shunpike road area retained the name. Also in the audience at Monday's reorganization meeting of the Council was the Mayor's wife, his daughter, Mrs. Frederick K. Thornberg of Laurel avenue, and his four-year-old grandson, Ricky. Group Seeks New Funds for Bartholomew Scholarship

In observance of the coming retirement of Albert J. Bartholomew, principal of the Senior High School for the last 38 years, a committee has been formed to increase the capital funds of the scholarship created in his honor of his thirtieth anniversary with the schools. Mr. Bartholomew will retire at the close of the school year.

The committee includes representatives of business groups, service clubs, women's clubs, local government, Chamber of Commerce, Board of Education, Senior High PTA, Senior High faculty and trustees of the Bartholomew Scholarship Fund.

Seek $20,000 Fund
The Fund, established in 1948, has provided a small scholarship to a deserving student for each graduating class since that time. However, in recent years, general inflation and a sharp rise in college costs have reduced the significance of such small scholarships. The committee believes that an annual scholarship of $500 is an appropriate goal. To guarantee that amount the capital fund should be increased to $20,000.

Contributions to the Bartholomew Scholarship Fund will be sought from all local organizations and from all alumni of Summit High School. During Mr. Bartholomew's principalship more than 5,000 students have graduated from the school. Letters to these graduates are being processed by a sub-committee of

Summit to Get Extra $4,715 In School Aid

An increase in state school aid funds will be received this year by Summit Area communities under a bill signed last week by Gov. Robert B. Meyner. The new law bases state school aid on enrollment figures for the 1955-56 school year rather than the previous school year.

Under the new formula Summit will get an extra $4,715. New Providence will receive an additional $10,236.86 and Berkeley Heights an extra $7,330.

Under the old law the 21 school districts in the county would receive $3,976,034.85 but under the revised statute the county amount will be $4,466,016.34. The change was made to make state aid more realistic to the rise in school population.

Two of the county's school districts, Garwood and Winfield, however, will lose funds under the law change. Winfield's aid will be decreased by $5,060 and Garwood's by $1,035.

Christmas Tree Bonfire Set for Saturday Night
Summit's old Christmas trees will go up in one gigantic blaze at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, January 7, at the city dump located at the end of West End avenue.

Beginning at 7:30 a.m. on Saturday members of Explorer Post 62 will begin collecting the trees. Residents are requested to have trees by the curbside and it is suggested they be put out tomorrow evening.

The public is invited to attend the tree burning.

Traffic Survey Shows Need of More City Parking Lots, Faster Turnover at Curb Meters

Council Sees 60-Point Tax Boost in '56

A predicted 60-point tax increase for 1956 was announced by Common Council Tuesday evening in a statement disclosing that the city would immediately proceed with certain recommendations made in the Traffic and Parking report.

The present tax rate of $5.52 per $100 assessed valuation may be increased to $6.12 under the proposed 1956 budget that will be submitted at the January 17 meeting of Council.

Council said the new budget includes increases of about $60,000 for municipal operating expenses, $140,000 for school costs and $235,000 for capital expenditures. The various parking and traffic improvements to be undertaken will come from capital expenditure funds and continue the "pay-as-you-go" policy adopted by Council that puts costs of improvements in the budget for the year in which made, and not by bond issue or other debt.

New Parking Lot
One of the major recommendations of the McCroskey report, the acquisition of land in the rear of buildings in the area bounded by the railroad, Maple street and Springfield avenue, will be done this year with funds that were provided for this purpose in last year's budget and are available. This move would provide an estimated 110 parking spaces and should be metered for two hours, McCroskey suggested.

To carry out four other major suggestions in the report will cost an estimated $500,000 to $750,000, Council said, but these can be made later and their costs included in future budgets. The other four are:
1. Widening of DeForest for entire length from Summit to Norwood avenues to same width as stretch between Beechwood road and Maple street.
2. Acquisition of additional off-street parking on DeForest including old Lincoln School property.
3. Extension of Woodland avenue from Springfield across railroad to Railroad avenue including removal of certain buildings and construction of new bridge over railroad and widening of Cedar street from Railroad avenue to Morris avenue.
4. Extension of Union Place from Maple street to Woodland avenue extension, again including removal of certain buildings.

Can Be Done Separately
The various proposals of the McCroskey Report, Council said, are not necessarily dependent on each other and for the most part the effectiveness of action on one of the capital items would not require action on another. However, it is Mr. McCroskey's view that adoption of substantially all of the recommendations over a period of years is desirable from the long term standpoint.

The program already under way for widening DeForest avenue from Maple street to Woodland avenue and the establishment of off-street parking areas on DeForest avenue, while authorized prior to the McCroskey Report, are consistent with certain of its recommendations.

Others of its recommendations are being studied by the appropriate committees of the Council and will be considered by the Council and become the subject of public hearings when committee reports are submitted. In the meantime, discussion and comment by Civic Groups and other interested citizens would be welcomed.

Other Needs Seen
It was pointed out by Council that the capital program included in the proposed 1956 budget and the McCroskey recommendations should be considered against the background of other possible long range capital requirements of the city.

The school housing program, Council said, is well along and is financed by issuance of bonds (Continued on page 9)

Extend Woodland Avenue
It is recommended that Woodland avenue be extended southerly at a 60-foot width through the building now housing Roy's Toy & Hobby Shop on Springfield avenue as well as the existing 10-foot alley that now acts as an exit from the area in the rear of the stores. With this, it is suggested that a new railroad bridge, also 60 feet wide, span the tracks and carry the extension to meet Broad street opposite Cedar street. Cedar street would be widened to fifty feet.

"Woodland avenue," the report says, "is a reasonably good secondary feeder street to the north—much better than Maple and

Report Urges Repossession of Old Lincoln School Site for Shoppers

A detailed study of Summit's parking and traffic problems with 51 recommendations for their cure, including repossession of the old Lincoln School site on DeForest avenue by the city, was made public this week by the Common Council. The survey was made last spring and summer by Theodore T. McCroskey, consulting engineer of New York City, who was engaged for the project by the Council last March at a fee of $12,800.

The survey covers population trends, anticipated traffic growth and parking increase with suggestions for coping with them, results of driver interview studies, charts and graphs on traffic flow at various hours and specific recommendations for dealing with glaring bottlenecks, chronic violators, etc. The report contains 63 pages, plus numerous tables and charts.

(Copies of the report are available on a loan basis at the Public Library and the City Clerk's office at the City Hall.)

New Streets Suggested
Major recommendations made for easing the traffic and parking situation in the city include widening of DeForest avenue from Summit avenue to Beechwood road and from the Grand Union store to Kent Place Boulevard, a system of one-way streets to make a clockwise loop in the business section, extend Woodland avenue across Springfield avenue and over the railroad tracks by a bridge and extension of Union Place to meet the proposed Woodland avenue extension. Extension of Summit avenue across Morris avenue to Elm street at Oakland Place is also proposed.

The survey also strongly recommends that numerous curb parking meters be cut down to 30-minute periods instead of the present hour and that police get tough with "nickel feeders" who are mostly local businessmen. More police on the parking meter detail is also urged.

School Relocation Urged
Regarding the old Lincoln School property, sold last year by the Board of Education for $60,000 to Lumbermen's who subsequently razed the school building, the survey states:

"The consultant considers that the former Lincoln School site is so centrally situated that it should be permanently assured of use as a parking lot. It is understood that Lumbermen's is intending to develop it for commercial parking. This might prove to be only a transitory use. The following recommendations would have to be carried out before it is too late:

"It is respectfully urged that the city take steps to reacquire Lincoln School. It should be developed as a permanent municipal parking field with a capacity of roughly 120 cars. Four-hour meters are indicated.

Will Still Have Shortage
"Whether or not the above is possible, Summit will still have a potential shortage of long-term off-street parking. Every favorable opportunity to acquire centrally located properties not fronting on main business streets should be taken, progressively, during the next five years."

Analysis of moving traffic, the report says, reveals that Springfield avenue and the railroad station present the most serious problem. The recommended solution involves full utilization of a widened DeForest avenue as a relief street and the creation of a predominantly clockwise traffic loop consisting of Summit avenue operating one way southbound for two blocks only (from DeForest to Union Place); Union Place two-way to Maple street and Maple street one way northbound to DeForest avenue and DeForest avenue two-way.

Extend Woodland Avenue
It is recommended that Woodland avenue be extended southerly at a 60-foot width through the building now housing Roy's Toy & Hobby Shop on Springfield avenue as well as the existing 10-foot alley that now acts as an exit from the area in the rear of the stores. With this, it is suggested that a new railroad bridge, also 60 feet wide, span the tracks and carry the extension to meet Broad street opposite Cedar street. Cedar street would be widened to fifty feet.

"Woodland avenue," the report says, "is a reasonably good secondary feeder street to the north—much better than Maple and

Another recommendation is the extension of Union place westerly at a width of 60 feet to meet Woodland avenue if extended. This involves cutting the street through the property now occupied by Radio Sales Co.

It is also urged that use of all-day metered parking lots be restricted to Summit residents and that out-of-town commuters be discouraged in leaving their cars in Summit municipal lots.

Another proposal is the elimination of traffic policemen at Springfield avenue intersections for a system of progressive timed traffic lights.

Cruisers Snarl Traffic
A major cause of the present traffic congestion, it is stated, is the "cruising" of drivers in search of a parking space. A survey reveals that 85 per cent of all parkers are shoppers and nearly one-third of these cruised the four sides of one or more blocks.

It was also found that comparatively few motorists want to park at centrally located curbs for longer than thirty minutes. Therefore, it is recommended that the time on many downtown meters be trimmed. The suggestion is made that 192 meters be reduced to thirty minutes and that 39 meters be cut to 12 minutes. This would make it possible to park nearly 400 additional cars in one peak hour and still have a 10 per cent vacancy at curbs where space is most needed.

Eliminate Meter Hogs
It is also pointed out that a comparatively small number of violators are usurping curb space that would otherwise be available for a very large number of legal parkers. For example, at the best situated 231-hour meters, 94 peak-hour violators deprived 745 potential legal parkers the use of curb space and presumably forced many of these to cruise looking for another parking space.

The survey forecasts a population of 29,500 for the city by 1970 and "with it will come more traffic, more cars and more trips into the business section. Sample interviews made during the survey show that 50 per cent of all parkers are local residents and 33 per cent came from Chatham, Springfield, New Providence and Millburn.

A warning is given that some of the communities outside of Summit may grow faster than this city and assuming a continuance of the pulling power of local retail stores, parking demand will increase at a greater rate than Summit's population alone.

It is concluded that Summit's business section must anticipate a 30 per cent increase in moving traffic between now and 1960 and roughly a 64 per cent increase between now and 1970. These figures apply to total daily or annual traffic volume. Peak hour traffic is made up in a great measure of commuter cars to and from the station and is thus predominately a function of the population growth of the city alone and without bearing of the population (Continued on page 9)

Noted Violinist To Be Presented By Concert Group

Symon Goldberg, violinist, will be the artist at the Community Concerts Association's presentation on Tuesday at 8:30 p.m. at the high school.

Mr. Goldberg has been recognized as one of the top instrumental favorites since his debut five years ago with the New York Philharmonic. It was a debut long delayed by World War 2 when Mr. Goldberg and his wife were imprisoned by the Japanese for four years.

Although he was in 14 different camps and endured numerous privations he managed to preserve his famous Stradivarius on which he will perform.

Born in Wloclawek, Poland in 1909, Mr. Goldberg was a child prodigy and a pupil of Carl Flesch. At 16, he was concertmaster of the Dresden Philharmonic and four years later became concertmaster of the Berlin Philharmonic, the youngest in its history.

Since his arrival in the United States in 1948 he has appeared with most of the principal symphony orchestras and in all leading festivals.

Last year when Pablo Casals, considered the greatest living instrumentalist, was planning his Beethoven Festival at Prades he invited Goldberg to be his premier violinist.

Since the Community Concerts Association is a non-profit organization the amount of money raised by the spring membership drive determines the operating budget for the year.

Three Boys Put On Probation by Juvenile Judge

Two brothers, ages 15 and 14, and a 13-year-old friend, were put on probation for an indefinite period Tuesday by Juvenile Court Judge Libby Sachar in Elizabeth.

The boys previously admitted committing ten robberies here and miscellaneous acts of vandalism during a three-month period.

The judge also ordered that $65 be paid for damages to a $400 recording machine taken from the Public Library on November 11 when the building was closed.

Detectives, who picked up the boys on November 17, later recovered about $700 worth of stolen goods which the boys had hidden in their bedrooms and garages. Between $50 and $75 in cash had been spent.

Included in the acts of vandalism was the smashing of Lackawanna Railroad signals. Most of the stolen items were radios, flashlights, pen and pencil sets, a wrist watch, etc. and were taken by shoplifting.

At the Radio Sales Co. on Maple street the boys cut a hole in a large plate glass window and removed three transistor pocket-size radios. Upon discovering that the radios were only display dummies without inside parts, the boys tossed them on the railroad tracks.

At Corby's Laundry, 31 Summit avenue, the youths threw ink upon the walls and wrote obscenities. In an entry at United Plumbing Co. on Broad street, they started a fire in the office. It extinguished itself.

Detectives said that the breaking of the Lackawanna signals near the Chatham line was particularly dangerous since it halted through trains from Buffalo and the west until the engineers could get safety clearance from other sources before proceeding to Hoboken. The lights, police said, were broken on several occasions.

Christmas party on Wednesday evening and a festive evening was had by all dancing to Hugo Carano's music, carol singing and entertainment given by employees.

ALL OVER NEW JERSEY

You can feel the progress which is taking place throughout the state of New Jersey.

It's almost a contagious sort of feeling, spreading through industry, business, commercial establishments and new housing developments.

There is still plenty of room to grow in New Jersey, the Crossroads of the East. And Public Service is keeping pace with this growth by building and expanding our electric and gas facilities. With one new $100,000,000 generating station under construction at Linden, the company recently announced plans to build another station costing approximately $129,000,000 in Bergen County.

Never have we attempted to gaze into a crystal ball. But 1955 was wonderful and we see no reason why 1956 will not follow the same pattern.

Every yardstick indicates that New Jersey's leadership will be maintained in the years to come.

Parking Meters Net City About $50,000 Yearly

Summit now takes in approximately $50,000 yearly from parking meters, the traffic survey discloses.

Curb meters bring in about $34,970 annually and meters in the average offstreet lot produce about $35 per meter annually.

The city now has 590 curb meters in operation, each one averaging $60.94. Strangely, when there were only 493 meters in operation the average income per meter was $72.90.

The survey attributes the decrease in revenue to the installation of two-hour for 5c meters in many less attractive locations.

September, December, March and June are the best months for meter receipts. These four months all range about 15 to 20 per cent higher than May receipts.

Lots Now Have 416 Meters

Maple street lot (Grand Union) has 132 meters, and the Elm street and lot adjacent to the Library on Maple street have a total of 284 meters.

The study recommends that 258 new curb meters be installed and 760 additional offstreet meters, of which 510 would be timed for four hours or less, be put up.

Suggested New Rates

The suggested rate for meters made in the survey is as follows: For curbside meters: 12 minutes, 1 cent; 30 minutes, 5 cents; 60 minutes, 5 cents; two hours, 5 cents; four hours, 5 cents.

For offstreet lots: Two hours, 5 cents; four hours, 5 cents; 12 hours, 20 cents.

It is pointed out that charging the same 5 cent rate for different durations of permitted parking is fully justified by the fact that the most favorable locations are worth more per half-hour or per hour.

It is also stated that the proposed rates are not designed as a money-making scheme. Meters, the report says, are principally instruments to make parking regulations more readily enforceable.

Beck, president of the New Jersey Education Association, personnel for the Union County committees. Traffic Survey Tells Origin Of City Shopper

Where do Summit shoppers come from and what brings them here? Those two questions, debated annually by local businessmen, are answered in the traffic and parking survey recently issued by the city.

By means of a series of direct interviews with persons parking their cars, information was obtained which provides a well-rounded understanding of shopper's origins and purposes. The interviews were made on a typical heavy shopping day and included 127 cars that with passengers covered 199 adults.

Most Regular Visitors

More than nine out of ten of those interviewed said they were here either to shop for retail goods or to obtain professional and personal services. A predominant number said they were regular visitors to the Summit shopping center, with almost seven out of eight coming at least once a week and three out of eight coming more than three times a week. Only four said they had no definite purchase in mind and were only window shopping.

50% Local Residents

Chatham and Springfield were the homes of most of those interviewed, each town furnishing 9 per cent. New Providence residents accounted for 8 per cent, Millburn and Short Hills for 7 per cent, Madison for 3 per cent and other towns for 14 per cent. The remaining 50 per cent were from Summit.

Springfield avenue was the favorite entrance to Summit for 36 per cent of the visitors while 26 per cent used Morris avenue. Summit avenue was used by 10 per cent and Kent Place Boulevard and Broad street brought in 9 and 7 per cent respectively. Other roads were used by 12 per cent.

The report bluntly states: Shoppers 'Optimistic'

"The automobile shopper in Summit appears to be an optimist. After first driving directly to his destination and finding no vacant parking space, he keeps cruising around the block until he finds one almost immediately in front of his destination or very close by. A substantial amount of the traffic on the shopping streets would disappear if more parking spaces were available at convenient locations."

Majority Favor More Lots

At the close of each of the 127 interviews, two questions were asked: (1) Generally, do you find parking in Summit convenient? (2) Do you think Summit should purchase and build more offstreet lots for the convenience of shoppers?

In reply to the first question,

62 per cent rated parking here as inconvenient. Comments ranged from "fair" for average days to "terrible" for Fridays and Saturdays.

Four out of five said they favored more offstreet lots. Several among those not favoring more parking lots qualified their answer with the plea "don't spoil our town."

Radio Engineer Society Honors Local Resident

A Summit resident and Bell Lab staff member, William R. Bennett of 61 Hobart avenue, has been selected as one of nine members of the North Jersey section, Institute of Radio Engineers, to be named a fellow.

The nine were among 75 throughout the United States and Canada chosen for this honor. The grade of Fellow is the highest grade in the Institute and is given only by invitation to those who have made outstanding contributions to radio engineering or allied fields.

The award will be presented at a banquet to be held March 21 at New York City.

Mr. Bennett's award was made for his contributions in the field of circuit and transmission theory.

Area Residents to Serve on Juries

Six Summit residents and two from New Providence were among 140 Union County residents issued summonses to serve on petit juries for two weeks starting Tuesday.

From Summit: Joseph D. Cottrell, 19 Tulip street; Mrs. Lillian E. Haskew, 315 Summit avenue; Mrs. Irene Wydner, 34 Broad street; Raymond A. Beck, Jr., 22 Pine Ridge avenue; Leo V. O'Connell, 6 Ballusrol place, and Charles E. Bannister, 116 Pine Grove avenue. From New Providence, Mrs. Jane B. Oakes, 849 Springfield avenue, and Mrs. Ruth E. Madsen, 851 Springfield avenue.

Allstate Fetes 340 Employees At Hotel Party

Over 340 Allstate Insurance Company employees attended the Murray Hill branch annual Christmas Party last week at the Hotel Suburban, Summit. Because of the size of the organization, twelve separate Christmas parties were held this year throughout the state.

Entertainment for the Summit party was recruited from the staff at the Murray Hill location. Among the performers were dancers, singers and pantomimists. Bertel Leonardson, service manager, sang, "Have Yourself a Merry Little Christmas", a dance patterned after the famous Old Gold dancing ducks was performed by Marion Fransen, public relations secretary. Ellen Anderson, sales secretary and Betsy Wolford, sales clerk. Patty Bros, who has sung on the Ed Sullivan "Toasts of the Town Show," sang "Chestnuts Roasting on an Open Fire".

A novelty can-can number was presented in mimic fashion by Reggie Rebbs, Bob DeFinis, Ken Braun and Paul MacGelgin. Philis Beck, a local Summit resident, gave a pantomime version of "I Want to Be Evil." Betty Ippolito sang a torch version of "Blue Moon". Eugene Brennan, a lyric tenor in the style of the late John McCormick, sang "Rose of Tralee". Gladys Munn also of Summit sang a hillbilly favorite, "Your Cheatin' Heart".

Resident manager, Arthur

Oakes, spoke briefly on the growth of the company and remarked that when he first started with Allstate, the entire company was not much larger than the group gathered in the Audubon room of the Hotel Suburban. Richard Whitney of Summit acted as master of ceremonies and supervised the door prize drawing.

The discovery of an aquamarine weighing 134 1/2 pounds was reported in the mining town of Gobernador Valladares, Described as the world's largest, the stone was estimated to be worth $400,000.

The purifying power of true prayer will be set forth in the lesson-sermon entitled "Sacrament" at Christian Science services this Sunday.

Passages from the King James version of the Bible will include the counsel of Christ Jesus regarding prayer (Matt. 6:6): "But thou, when thou prayest, enter into thy closet, and when thou hast shut thy door, pray to thy Father which seeth in secret; and thy Father which seeth in secret shall reward thee openly."

Continuing the explanation of prayer, a correlative passage from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary

Baker Eddy states (15:9): "To enter into the heart of prayer, the door of the earing senses must be closed. Lips must be mute and materialism silent, that man may have audience with Spirit, the divine Principle, Love, which destroys all error."

The Golden Text is from Psalms (51:10): "Create in me a clean heart, O God; and renew a right spirit within me."

Mark Twain's Folly

Samuel Langhorne Clemens was a famous author (1835-1910), who is more familiarly remembered as Mark Twain. Science hadn't progressed very far in his day and most things were done by rule of thumb methods. The horse and buggy, the coal and wood stoves, gas and oil lamps, reached their highest point of development and production during his life. One of his remarks which is often quoted, referred to his habit of smoking tobacco. He said that he had stopped smoking a thousand times and had always gone back to smoking again. Everyone was so busy trying to make a living in those days, no one had the desire, or the time to figure out why it was that people smoked tobacco. If Mark Twain had known the relationship between coffee, drinking and smoking tobacco and how easy it is to stop smoking when the coffee and other caffeine drinks are avoided, he would, no doubt, have ended his use of tobacco long before he had stopped a thousand times.

A modern writer, Westbrook Pegler, in his column in the "New York Journal American" of September 2, 1942, expressed himself as follows: "I am glad to raise my voice as one who has suffered much—not that the clamor will do any good. The smoking habit is a damned nuisance and if you want to call it a plague that will be alright with me too. Certainly nothing good can be said in favor of cigarettes because obviously the human system was not intended to breathe the smoke of burning leaves and paper and all decent medical testimony condemns the habit. My personal experience is that smoking irritates the nerves, but my trouble and I believe the trouble most smokers have, when they try to quit, is that the doing without after long and steady usage also causes irritation. For a few days you go nuts and kick the cat and slam things around and then you give in and irritate your nerves in another way."

Several friends sent us Mr. Pegler's article and it occurred to us that it would be helpful for him to know about the relationship between coffee drinking and smoking tobacco. Accordingly this was explained in a letter.

On April 30, 1948, Mr. Pegler had another article in which he told how he quit smoking. He didn't swear off, he just didn't smoke any more. "I tell you it is a year now and it was no effort at all. No temptation ever." "It seems as though I might have had my share and suddenly didn't want anymore". He was 53 years of age when he quit and he says, "I have been noticing that other men of my age suddenly just aren't smoking any more after years and years—practically a life time of smoking."

When anyone asks you to have one, be quick to reply that you have found a better way that will help to avoid cancer, heart disease, alcoholism and other maladies.

Traffic Report Needs Careful Study
Every resident of Summit and the Summit Area (every motorist, at least) who has occasion to visit the city's business section for either shopping or commuting, has a vital interest in the Traffic and Parking Survey published in this week's issue.

The survey makes several startling recommendations: startling because of their enormity. It also makes recommendations that will radically change the driving habits of many people used to doing business in Summit.

Agreement on the report with its suggestions for coping with our traffic problems will be impossible. Businessmen no doubt will become enraged at some of the plans for the downtown section. Commuters will voice angry protests over some of the proposals affecting them. Out-of-town residents may vow never again to come to Summit because of imagined discrimination. Thus, there is bound to be criticism.

However, The Herald urges that before the survey is torn apart that it be carefully studied by everyone. It is a voluminous and detailed piece of work. We think it is an excellent survey and covers most facets of parking and traffic in our town. It deals with the present and looks into the future. It shows what can be done now and what should be done in the immediate years ahead and what to plan for in the long-range future.

It also points out that it is going to cost money—a lot of money—to improve Summit's traffic congestion and that there must be very close cooperation between all groups, local government, local business and local residents.

The survey tells simple truths that must be met. In the immediate years ahead this city is going to have to handle more cars and more people. Conditions that irk motorists now are only a sample of what is to come. Heroic measures as well as small ones are needed to prepare for the battle against traffic congestion.

We'd like to hear a lot more about this report before we give it either endorsement or condemnation. But we do think that the Council has taken the proper course in ordering the survey. Expert counsel is essential and guidance based upon wide experience can reasonably be expected to produce beneficial results.

There no doubt will be meetings called by our various civic and business groups to discuss the report. That is as it should be and we urge that all who have a genuine interest in Summit attend these meetings and thereby obtain an intelligent approach to the survey before going off half-cocked with either commendation or condemnation.

A Wrong Premise
Labor publications have been making much of a survey said to have been made in a Pittsburgh college research laboratory by experts. They interviewed 400 unemployed workers to find out how they get along on unemployment compensations of which the maximum was $30 a week.

It showed what anyone might have guessed—that 80 per cent changed their usual manner of living, that 28 per cent decreased and 14 per cent exhausted their cash savings, that 15 per cent cashed government bonds, that 27 per cent received relief and 12 per cent free medical care, that 46 per cent borrowed money and 40 per cent received gifts, chiefly apparel, that 50 per cent cut all expenditures, 33 per cent adjusted or surrendered insurance, and 28 per cent made or planned housing adjustments.

This survey is viewed by the labor publications as proof that existing unemployment compensation is inadequate and results in "human suffering, humiliation and privation."

Such a conclusion, however, raises a fundamental question: Was the purpose of unemployment compensation to enable people who have lost their jobs to live in the style to which they were accustomed when they had jobs? Or, to put it another way, is it the duty of society (the welfare state) to protect people from the consequences of all misfortune, specifically the consequences of unemployment?

If so, something new has been added to the American way of life. Certainly, when unemployment compensation was first enacted, no such claims were made. On the contrary, it was represented as a cushion which the unemployed worker could fall back on, something that would ease, but not entirely eliminate, the harsh transition between the time he lost his job and the time he acquired another one.

It may be conceded that $30 a week in unemployment compensation is unrealistic when factory wages today average nearly $80 a week. Nevertheless, we think it is a fair conclusion that the families which were surveyed by the Pittsburgh experts made a commendable effort to get along on the resources at their command and to avoid if possible applying for public assistance.

Surely, if unemployment compensation were made so attractive, so that people without jobs could continue to live as well as people who had jobs, and without dipping into their savings, borrowing, cutting their expenditures or accepting help from friends, an incentive would be created to loaf, instead of trying to find another job.

Chance for Salvation

The National Council of Churches, in a report presented recently to 250 representatives, stressed a need for expanding the work of the ministry in an area about which you may not have given thought.

The churches, according to the way a news service reported it, should pay more attention for "finding and training young ministers for an expanded city ministry... men who will bring up families in depressed areas of our cities, share in the life of their people and know how to win lives from the disorganized conditions around them."

"To deal with hoodlums, gangsters, youth gangs and the like, this new type of city pastor should be trained in jujitsu; he should be ready to go into bars and minister to his parishioners there if he cannot reach them in church... He should know police court procedures and a host of other matters not now taught in the seminaries."

The suggestion about jujitsu and entrance into bars may seem startling; they were meant to be. They may seem shocking, even, to some people who conceive of chances of salvation as synonymous with cleanliness and forget about the fall and rise of Magdalens and Augustines with which religious history is dotted.

But after all, Jesus Christ, whose birth we recently celebrated, promised entrance into heaven to a penitent thief and, when murmured against by the pharisees and the scribes for not being seen with the "right people" told the parable of the recovered sheep and joy in heaven.

Coke, Boogie-Woogie, And Gum
(Hartford Courant)

Doubtless reflecting the new look, a Polish writer has returned to Warsaw after visiting the United States, and said things aren't so bad here after all. He commented specifically on three things that had apparently been built up in the Polish public mind through Soviet-inspired propaganda: coke, boogie-woogie, and gum. He said that coke wasn't so bad to drink; that he hadn't seen a single long-haired hooligan, and that chewing gum was a harmless recreation.

Before he's sent off to the concentration camp let us say that the easiest thing in the world is to get a distorted view of a country. Doubtless there are few persons in the United States, except those who have had the opportunity of visiting in Russia, who have a clear-cut view of that country. Although the Russian propagandists have emphasized what they call the American evils of coke, boogie-woogie, and gum, those are relatively insignificant aspects of our culture. As well one might try to describe the State of Connecticut from those redolent hot-dog and hamburger strips along certain highways while neglecting the beautiful river valleys and the rolling hills.

Old-Fashioned Notion

(Springfield Union)

In a talk before the Faith Church Guild the other night, a Connecticut prison official included the failure of parents to teach self-discipline to their children among the reasons for the growing crime rate in the United States. J. Bernard Gates, superintendent of the Osborne Prison Farm in Enfield, said:

"The home which sends a young individual out into the world without equipping him with the ability to discipline himself has damned the individual."

This may strike many parents as an old-fashioned notion, and it does sound almost archaic, in view of the modern tendency to let the child develop like a wild bush in a hothouse, with plenty of nourishment, but no pruning. When his tantrums are given free rein as a means of self-expression and his every whim is indulged for fear of creating a horrible inhibition that will fault him when he matures, a child is not getting the sort of character equipment he needs in later life; or so we believe, being a little old-fashioned, too, perhaps. These quaint throwbacks to another, though not remote, era are not in tune with progressive thinking, we agree.

Advantages of the plan, Butler said, are that apartment owners would have a voice in the building construction, occupants would be carefully selected through a "club plan," income tax deductions, residence in the "finest" elevator apartment house in the city, and right to sell or sublease apartments. Occupants would be the sole owners of the property as well as the building and would be shareholders in a corporation to be known as 144 Summit Corp.

Washington's Maps Used to Prove Status of Berkeley Heights Road

Berkeley Heights—Ancient and modern records, many of them before the Revolution, have been submitted as evidence by Berkeley Heights in an attempt to obtain county funds and manpower for the widening of Mountain avenue.

At the request of the Township Committee of Berkeley Heights, Edward A. Pizzi, local attorney and legal counsel for Berkeley Heights, was requested to give an opinion concerning the width of Glenside road and Mountain avenue. If it could be established that both roads were "four-rod" streets, or 66 feet wide, then the Township Committee could guarantee to the county the "public domain" of the roads and submit them for county road improvement projects. Such proof must be furnished by a municipality before the county will consider any local road improvement program.

Mountain Ave. OK

Pizzi's research on the question was submitted to the Township Committee last week in a 10-page report and has been forwarded to the county for its consideration.

Pizzi is of the opinion that Mountain avenue, as it is now called, throughout its course in the Township is a four-rod road and therefore of the legal width to be eligible for county improvement.

To determine this he searched ancient historical records, deeds, letters and old papers in historical museums in Newark, Elizabeth, Trenton, Princeton University and even New York City. Some of the old maps consulted were drawn for the use of General Washington in deploying troops in this area. For many years Mountain avenue was known and charted as "Stony Hill road."

Glenside Doubtful

The status of Glenside road, a street that runs over the hill west of Countryside and east of the Bell Labs from Mountain avenue to Glenside avenue, is in doubt. This road, if and when improved, will provide access to the proposed Regional High School unit for Berkeley Heights.

Pizzi says that he is unable to state "with any degree of certainty" the status of the original width of Glenside road. He adds, in his opinion:

"It is a very ancient road, appearing on the Erskine-DeWitt map No. 107, entitled 'Roads Between Chatham, Scotch Plains, Turkey and Springfield,' surveyed during the early part of the Revolution, perhaps during 1775 for Washington's armies. Glenside road appears to have been part of the main road between Turkey (New Providence) and Westfield as an extension of what is now South street. Although the writer feels certain in his own mind that this road existed perhaps as early as 1730, he has been unable to establish to a certainty that it existed before 1700 and, therefore, is not definitely able to bring it under the 'rule-of-law' as to the former width of ancient roads established by the case of Ward vs. Folly in the Superior Court of 1819."

Vital Book Missing

Pizzi continues: "There were various avenues of approach open to the writer to establish the original width of the roads in question and the writer was forced to pursue all of them for the reasons set forth herein. 'Chains of title' of the abutting owners along the said roads 'ran out' about 1700 due to the fact that Book A of Deeds for the County of Essex, which included Union County prior to 1857, was stolen from the Court House in Newark about 100 years ago according to the best information available. 'Chains of title' to various abutting properties were searched back as far as possible. In most cases the 'Chain' ended in the said missing Book A of Deeds for

Essex County. The writer was not able to ascertain if the said Book A still exists in private hands. A check with the various title companies who might have copied the same before its disappearance proved fruitless.

Three-Way Check

Roads in the State of New Jersey, may be established in three ways. First, by dedication of the owner through deed or otherwise; second, by custom, use and prescription of the public; and third, by statute which generally involves a formal laying out by the county surveyors and the filing of a road return in the county offices of record.

The second approach is not applicable since, as far as has been ascertained, the roads in question have never been used in a width greater than at the present time, which is 50 feet, according to John J. Kentz, C.E. and surveyor of Summit, of many years standing. The approach by the first method led to the obstacle occasioned by the non-existence of the above referred to Book A.

Before proceeding further, background information on the subject is interesting and also essential to a proper understanding of the problem involved. The titles to the land within the Township of Berkeley Heights derive primarily from grants of the Elizabethan Associates. There were two antagonistic title chains for the area embracing the present Township. One derived from the "Associates" and the other derived from the Board of Proprietors of the Eastern Division of New Jersey.

The "Associates" claimed their rights from Indian purchases and the "Proprietors" claimed from Royal grant. This controversy existed for many years and was of primary concern from 1885 until the Revolution. When the Revolution occurred the controversy had been in the courts of England for some years, and after the Revolution the matter was never revived. Generally therefore, since the matter was never decided by the courts it was the grantees of the "Associates" who remained in possession.

This controversy between the "Proprietors" and the "Associates" was the main topic of interest of the Elizabethtown people for those many years. This controversy also is one of the reasons giving rise to the difficulties found in searching out the titles involved. Since most of the official county offices were in the hands of adherents of the "Proprietors", often times deeds between, or from, "Associates" never were recorded for obvious reasons. There were many lawsuits not to mention arrests and riots occasioned by this controversy.

Township Formed

The "Associates" divided their land by lots, among members by the Association generally. There were several allotments made by the "Associates" with one of the largest being in 1699-1700. The allotment by which most of the present Township was allocated was made in 1738.

The following quotation which is directly in point is taken from a book entitled, "History of Elizabethtown, New Jersey, including the Early History of Union County," by the Rev. Edwin F. Hatfield, D.D., 1868, at pages 315 and 317: "At the town meeting on the 22nd Tuesday (11th) of March, 1734-35, the seven Trustees were authorized to lay out the remainder of the common land of the town, back of the first mountain, into lots of 100 acres each, to be divided by lot among the 'Associates', and to arrange with those who had already improved any portion of these lands; the money thus received to be appropriated to the defense of the people against those claiming under proprietary title."

"The work confided to the Seven Men and the Surveyors was duly and faithfully performed. The first 43 lots were surveyed December 27-28, 1738; Lots 44-164, November 22, to December 3, 1737; the additional Survey, 1-109, January 17 to February 22, 1737-38; and Carson's Survey of Lots, January 6, 1736-37. The whole of this large territory—the back country of the town—was regularly laid out, and divided into 280 one-hundred acre lots; all of which due report was made at a town meeting, held March 28, 1738, for the distribution by lot, of the respective shares to which each of the Associates, by their heirs and assigns, was entitled."

Colonial Deeds Studied

The writer has had occasion to consult George J. Miller, registrar of the Board of Proprietors of the Eastern Division, of New Jersey. Through the help and assistance of Mr. Miller various source materials were searched. Under his direction the records of patents, warrants and road returns of the "Proprietors" office in the old Surveyor General's Office at Perth Amboy, were searched. Also the Provincial deeds stored in the vault of the State Department in the State House at Trenton, covering many early deeds and records of the State were reviewed as were the old court minutes in Essex County and the State Library in Trenton, New Jersey.

Regan as Indian Trail

J. E. Lafferty, principal assistant engineer of the Union County Park Commission and Mr. Armstrong of the State Highway Department at Trenton, were also consulted. According to Charles A. Philhower of Westfield, who is an authority on early Indian history of Union County, in all probability, the original roads in the Township were laid out to follow the paths of least resistance which were in most cases old Indian trails which had been laid down in paths formed by elk during their seasonal migrations. As stated by him at page 197 of the volume containing Union County Historical Society Proceedings, 1923-34, entitled, "Indian trails in Union County, New Jersey," delivered November 10, 1932:

"Another path left this tract (Free-Mans Path) near the trap rock quarry at Summit and followed the crest of the 2nd Watchung Mountain (Stony Hill) on the north side to Far Hills."

Early maps and references to this area contain the denotation of "first, second and third mountains." The first mountain is the hill just north of the present highway No. 22. The second mountain included the area in question and often included Stony Hill from which it is separated by a small declivity. The third mountain is generally conceded to be Long Hill although the term "third mountain" was seldom used since the term Long Hill was then in use. "Third Mountain" was sometimes used to denote "Stony Hill" also.

Summit Streets Shown

The Erskine-DeWitt Map No. 107 of 1775 or thereabouts, referred to earlier, showed what is now Springfield avenue as far west as the Snyder avenue bridge and east to Summit; South street; Union avenue; Horse Shoe road; Bonnie Burn road and Stony Hill road in its present course from South street west to the intersection with Horse Shoe road and beyond; Glenside road and the "old" course of Stony Hill road from Glenside road east into Summit. The courses and distances of the roads shown on this map have been laid out by the writer on present maps and their accuracy is astonishing.

Local History Used

The records of the late Arthur W. Hicks, an authority on the early history of Summit, Turkey and Chatham have been studied and they generally confirm the conclusions reached. As noted, due to the nature of the road returns it was necessary to determine who were the owners of the abutting lands and in some cases what their lot lines were, since the road sometimes ran along the lot line between the adjoining owners. For this information the names of the drawers from the "Associates" in 1738 of the respective lots within the Township must be looked to.

The names of these drawers can be found in large measure, in the Book entitled, "Family Records or Chronologies of the First Settlers of Passaic Valley (and vicinity) above Chatham, with their ancestors and descendants, as far as can now be ascertained," by John Littlell, 1881 and published by Stationers Hall Press, David Felt and Company, Stationers and Printers, Feltville, New Jersey.

Old Law Still Applies

The foundation upon which the writer's position primarily rests is simply that the roads in question were in fact originally laid out as four-rod roads (66 feet) and so they remain to this day.

The Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County may ascertain and establish the location and boundaries of all roads under its control and prevent and remove all obstructions and encroachments thereon. Since Stony Hill road is a county road, this statute is applicable.

Thus it is seen from the facts involved and the applicable law, the public has the right to exercise its domain over the full, original width of 66 feet on Stony Hill road, with the exception of the eight hundred (800) foot length immediately west of the Horse Shoe road intersection. As to this eight hundred (800) foot length, the writer voices no opinion at this time as to its legal width."

Summit Man Makes Yule Merrier for Korean Tots

Army Pvt. Robert M. Love, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert M. Love of 31 Argyle court, helped give a party on Christmas day for some 30 Korean children from the Sung Ai Won Orphanage in Seoul.

The party, complete with candy, cake, ice cream and gifts for all, was made possible by contributions from Private Love's unit, the 728th Military Police Battalion.

Heights to Have New Industrial Zone This Year

Berkeley Heights—An industrial area will be created on township-owned property off Snyder avenue and Park avenues will be set by ordinance during 1956, Mayor Ira F. Holley said at the reorganization meeting of the township committee Monday.

Holley said after roads and utilities are installed, the township property off Snyder avenue will be sold bringing increased rates to the township. Clearing of the park areas will begin this year, Holley said.

He listed these other planned improvements for 1956: construction of sewerage facilities; improvement of Glenside road and Mountain avenue; improved traffic signals and drainage; revision of planning and zoning ordinances; new road and health codes; the establishment of zone speed limits and the introduction of ordinances governing the sewer program.

55 Year of Progress
Holley called 1955 "the most progressive and outstanding year in the history of Berkeley Heights." He cited these accomplishments: plans for a central sewerage system; the placing of local law enforcement "on a higher plane"; the resurfacing of more road mileage than in any previous year; the creation of a separate board of health, the strengthening of plumbing and sanitary codes, and the passage of eight ordinances.

The Mayor, who was reelected to that post yesterday, cited the work of the library board of trustees, Township Clerk William Russo and local assistance board director, Mrs. E. J. Fuhlbruegge. He said it appears the township will be able to appropriate to surplus reserve $80,000 from tax collections in excess of anticipated assessments and unexpended budget items. The surplus will be used to offset the continuation of the capital improvement fund for future sewer extensions.

New Job Filled
A new post was announced by Holley. Mrs. Caroline De Freitas of 150 Cornell avenue will become stenographer-clerk to assist Township Clerk William Russo. Her salary will be set in the 1956 salary ordinance.

Township Committee members George Loman and Luther Smythe were sworn in.

Township officials' appointments listed by Holley were: treasurer, Joseph Miano; engineer, John J. Kentz; building inspector, Salvatore Del Duca; oil burner inspector, Joseph Desmylek; deputy oil burner inspector, James Flood; attorney, Edward Pizzi; electrician, Thomas Hansen and Fire Inspector, Fire Chief Anthony Amodeo.

Holley reappointed Mrs. Mildred Shaffer to the local assistance board and Del Duca as township official on the planning board. Archer Lawrence was named to a four year term on the planning board and Smythe will also serve on the planning board. Robert H. Braun and John Lombardi were appointed to three year terms on the board of adjustment. Raymond E. Murray was reappointed a library trustee for five years. Russo will remain as clerk of planning and zoning board.

Holley also named six members to the board of recreation, three to the safety traffic committee and ten to the sewer committee. He reappointed special police officers.

New committee assignments listed are: Holley, police, local assistance, library and legal; Committee Arthur A. Manner, streets and roads, public buildings and grounds and recreation; Committee David C. Dally, building, civil defense, sanitation and sewers; Loman, finance, land assessment, insurance, real estate and public utilities, and Smythe, fire, rescue squad and planning and zoning.

Committee meetings will remain the first and third Wednesday of each month.

Magistrate Pizzi Fines Driver $70 On Two Charges

New Providence — Edward J. Stashluk, 50, of 217 Union avenue, was fined a total of $70 last week by Magistrate Frank A. Pizzi on charges of careless driving and a stop-street violation.

Patrolmen Rocco Mezzacca and Louis Lombardi testified that they warned Stashluk against taking a truck from the driveway of his home on November 26 after they had been called to the home to quell an alleged disturbance.

A charge by Patrolman Mezzacca that Stashluk attempted to assault him with the truck was dismissed.

The officers said they chased the defendant, who was driving in an erratic manner, along Union avenue through a stop street sign to Mountain avenue where they halted him.

Dr. Richard Wagner testified that Stashluk was under his care for a "nervous disorder."

Other fines included: Speeding, Clarence Wolf of Union, $35; Timothy C. Richmond of Summit, $15; Dr. Richard J. Owens of Summit, $10; George A. Piersol of Berkeley Heights, $15, and Alexander M. Cumming, of 228 South Street, $15.

On careless driving charges: John C. Allsopp, 118 Gales drive, $10; David Scheck of Summit, $5; David Pericario of Summit was fined $10 for riding a truck tail-board.

Fined for stop-street violations were: Herman S. Estenes of Berkeley Heights, $8; Pleasant Garland, of Summit $8; and H. Lewis Crane of Fanwood, $10.

Berkeley Heights Puts Controls on Swimming Pools

Berkeley Heights—An ordinance to regulate and license all private swimming pools was adopted by the Board of Health at a meeting last Thursday. There was no opposition.

The ordinance requires all bathing costumes to conform to commonly accepted standards. Penalties call for fines not exceeding $100 or jail sentences up to 30 days.

The measure applies to any private swimming pool, stream, bathing or wading area or other body of water of more than 200 cubic feet capacity used for swimming or bathing regardless of whether it is located indoors or outdoors and whether of natural or artificial construction. It also includes all buildings, structures, premises, beaches connected with pools.

All plans and specifications required to maintain public health and safety for any such pool must be approved by the board.

The resignation of Health Officer Alex J. Molnar was accepted after he wrote the board that he did not wish to be reappointed for 1956.

Plans and specifications required to maintain public health and safety for any such pool must be approved by the board.

Committee meetings will remain the first and third Wednesday of each month.

School Board Seen Firm on Salary Item

Berkeley Heights — Board of Education members are non-committal on plans to answer the township committee's request that it "review" a $6,000 salary item in the proposed 1956-57 school budget. But the board is not expected to delete the item, which is for the salary for a new principal for Berkeley School.

By resolution the township committee voted last month to ask the board why it had reinstated the $6,000 after Superintendent of Schools Kenneth Bathwell had stated he could do without the new office for another year. Mayor Ira F. Holley said both had made that statement at a township committee conference. However, a board member said yesterday the conference was between the board's finance committee and the township committee and that there had been no commitment from the board as a whole to withdraw the item.

The original request from the township committee was for the board to cut the budget by about $10,000. After the conference, the board cut its original estimate by $2,800 in other accounts.

Township Clerk William Russo said a copy of the committee's resolution was mailed to board secretary Frank Jockel on Tuesday. The board is expected to answer the communication at its meeting next Monday.

The hearing on the proposed $148,354 budget will be January 16 in Columbia School.

Health Board Organizes
Berkeley Heights — Deane T. Ward was re-elected president of the board of health at the reorganization meeting of that body Monday in the municipal building.

Boro Council Tells State It Backs School

New Providence—The borough council Tuesday night unanimously adopted a resolution to inform the state commissioner of education that it has no objection to plans of the local board of education to acquire land and construct a local high school.

The resolution stated the council based its decision "in reliance upon representation by the board that a local high school is essential for secondary education."

The board will seek permission to exceed the borough debt limit for the project at a conference with state officials January 24 in Trenton.

The 1955 annual magistrate's court report, presented to the council last night, said there had been 890 court cases, of which 83 were criminal cases. The annual police report indicated there had been 723 motor vehicle violations in 1955. A total of five accidents, with two persons injured, were reported during the safe driving campaign which started November 12, 1955.

Township Committee Due To Act on Pay Schedule

Berkeley Heights — The township committee was expected last night to integrate the 1956 salary schedule and resolutions governing salaries and fees of township employees.

The committee also anticipates an ordinance setting up specifications for the construction of a central sewerage system. An ordinance providing for the financing of the sewer program was adopted last month.

Monday in the municipal building, William C. Russo was reappointed board clerk and Ernest T. Fegum was named health inspector replacing Alexander Molnar.

Gillette Man Badly Cut in Heights Crash

Berkeley Heights — A Gillette man, Ralph Artiglieri, 31, was seriously injured Friday in Berkeley Heights when he lost control of his car and it crashed into a group of trees on Springfield avenue about 6:45 p.m.

Township police reported. Artiglieri received severe cuts and bruises and was removed to Overlook Hospital where his condition later was said to be fair. A passenger, Otto Jahnke, 37, of Stirling, was not injured. Artiglieri was cut about the face and neck and is reported to have required 25 sutures.

First aid was given by Dr. Anthony M. Babbino and the Rescue Squad took the injured man to the hospital. The car was badly damaged. The accident is being investigated by Captain Vito LaSasso and Patrolman Vito Amodeo.

However, time may develop the need for other projects having a varying budgetary effect. For example, possibilities which must be considered by the Council as circumstances require are land for park and recreational purposes or expansion of recreational facilities, and dumping purposes, construction of an incinerator, replacement of the Library building and major fire equipment, and provision of up-to-date municipal office space.

Accurate Money Records Can Aid Family Budget

Is your family satisfied with what your income brought for you this last year? Many families will say they bought only items they had to have. But do you really know where your money went?

Do you make a plan and then keep records to see what you do spend? Both are important to doing the best job with the finances at your disposal.

You may have some estimate in your mind as to certain costs, perhaps food, rent and insurance. Even this may help you set up a budget, but more detailed records are better.

But to have a really accurate picture of how you used the family income you need more information than you can carry in your head or see on your check stubs. Clothing can run away with surprising amounts. Gifts, reading materials, medicines, cosmetics, laundry and household supplies and transportation costs mount up faster than you may realize.

Keep Daily Record

Where your money really goes can be determined by an account book, kept daily, with totals studied at the end of each month. A yearly summary will give you a more complete story about your spending.

And if you would welcome suggestions on reasonable amounts for these various items on your income, your County Extension office of the State University has material to help. A new circular, "Better Use of Money; Family Style," is free on request to your Home Agent at the County Seat.

This leaflet, prepared by Mrs. Doris Anderson, Rutgers extension home management specialist, describes how the Russells, a middle-income American family, make their spending plan for the coming year. The Russells estimate their income and then decide as a family how that amount is to be divided. They do not count on "hope" money. They let each one put in his bid for a just share of what the family expects to have. Of course, essentials get priority. But the final plan does not overlook some of the desires as well as the needs of each member.

A handy form called, "Our Spending Plan," is available for use in making your own plan. Adjustments in spending are easier to make when a set of figures already exists, which is an added reason for making a plan on paper.

A free home account book is also waiting for you at the Home Economics Extension office. However, if you and six or more other homemakers would like to have help with account-keeping in a group, make a request now for two or three meetings with your Home Agent to be held during the next 12 months. More time can be devoted to a group session and help given there will aid you in solving your own accounting problems later.

The Marine Corps Band was organized in 1798 and has played for every president except George Washington.

Calvary Church To Have Twelfth Night Service

The annual Epiphany service of the Feast of Lights will be observed at Calvary Episcopal Church, Sunday, January 8 at 4:30 p.m.

This ancient celebration is symbolic of the visit of the Magi to the Christ Child in Bethlehem twelve days after His birth. It also tells the story of the ensuing growth and spread of Christianity throughout the world.

The story will be portrayed by a series of tableaux and the traditional Christmas music.

A cast of 25 young people under the direction of Mrs. Joshua Ward will present the story. Howard Vogel, organist and choir director, will be in charge of the music.

Members of the congregation will participate by carrying into the streets candles which have been lighted from a series of candles. The act will signify that the "light" has been carried from man to man and from nation to nation by those who had received it from someone else. The public is invited to attend.

Ciba Expands Field Sales Organization

An expansion of the field sales organization of CIBA Pharmaceutical Products Inc., including the creation of a new middle Atlantic division and three new sales districts in Cleveland, Houston, and in the New York-Connecticut area, was announced by Vincent A. Burgher, sales vice president. This expansion was effective on January 1.

The creation of a new position, director of trade relations, and the appointment of a government service manager, nine hospital research associates, and three sales training assistants were also announced.

Resident Ends 47-Year Career With Prudential

J. Raymond Boyle of 1 Lorraine road said goodbye to his many friends and associates gained during his 47-year career with the Prudential Insurance Co. on his retirement from the company last Friday.

The Prudential veteran, who has been purchasing agent of the company since 1933, was honored by his associates last week at a combined testimonial and Christmas party at the Forest Hill Club in Bloomfield. He has already received a letter from Prudential President Carol M. Shanks commending him for his long and valued service with the company.

Mr. Boyle was born in Wilkes-Barre, Pa., and attended schools in Philadelphia. He joined Prudential's staff in 1908. In the years that followed he became assistant manager of the supply department, then transferred to the purchasing division where he was first promoted to assistant purchasing agent and later to purchasing agent.

He and his wife, the former May Bingham of Louisville, Ky., have lived in Summit for 21 years. They have one daughter, Mrs. Frances Hipple of West Chester, Pa., and a 12-year old granddaughter, Linda.

Mr. Boyle has been a Mason for more than 30 years and is now a member of Northern Lodge 25, F. & A.M., in Newark. Active in the Holy Communion Episcopal Church in South Orange for many years, he has served as vestryman for the last three years.

A photography fan, he was once president of the Newark Camera Club. He likes to read history and biography, with particular emphasis on the Civil War period and has a Civil War library in his home which he soon intends to present to the Military Order of the Loyal Legion in Philadelphia.

Mrs. R. F. Pearson Seeks Funds for Greer School

Mrs. Reginald F. Pearson of 316 Summit Avenue, well known in local charitable and civic affairs, is sponsoring an appeal in the support of the Summit scholarships for children from broken homes of this area who are now being cared for and educated at Greer, a children's community at Hope Farm, Dutchess County, New York, which operates Greer School. Over the last fifteen years, Mrs. Pearson states, Greer has been home and school for 111 New Jersey boys and girls. There are twenty-five children from this state at Greer now.

In letters to friends and neighbors Mrs. Pearson points out that "our children at Greer find not merely shelter but a home with other children of their age, they receive a sound education from grade through high school, they take part in recreation and sport activities, as well as in a thoroughly integrated vocational training program."

Contributions should be made out to Greer School and sent to Mrs. Pearson at 316 Summit Avenue, Summit.

The Army formally adopted khaki cloth for its uniforms October 7, 1893.

Verona Cagers Wallop Hilltopper Five, 59-42

Verona High School's cage squad added the Maroon and White to their defeated list last Tuesday afternoon when the Hillbillies posted an easy 59-42 victory over the wireless Hilltoppers. Inexperience by SHS, and a good shooting percentage by the visitors made the victory easy for Verona. Tom Corlett of Summit became the first Summit player to score 20 points when he hit that figure on the nose by scoring six points in the last quarter.

Summit experienced its usual tragic first quarter, tallying only five points against the Hillbillies. Lloyd Coleman of Summit took a beating, with only Corlett and Barenborg hitting with consistency. The Summit High School defense, heretofore weak and ineffectual, showed encouraging signs, but their shooting percentage took a beating, with only Corlett and Barenborg hitting with consistency.

Corlett continued his fine play in the second quarter, counting three field goals, all on his favorite pogo-jumper shots from the sides. However, this wasn't enough to stem the tide, as Johnny DiTrani, Verona football hero, sparked the Hillbillies to a 28-15 halftime lead. Also in the second quarter, substitute Verona guard, Al Taback hummed the spectators by scoring three times with a cockeyed set shot. Taback continued this exhibition by scoring thirteen points before the game was over, however, this didn't amuse Coach Elwood Cornog or his Summit squad.

After a few well-chosen words by the Coach, the Summit play-

Doyle Takes Two From Zotte for Five-Game Lead

Doyle's Furniture posted two wins over Zotte's Esso Service last Monday evening at the Echo Lanes to widen their league leadership to five full games. The next six teams in the league standings are closely bunched, with ties existing for second, third and fourth positions. Miss Brazina and Gavin posted the top series for either club with 439 and 437 pinfalls. Miss Wolcove rolled a fine 176 in her third game effort for Zotte's. Perillo's Express, Mobile Television, Zeigler's and Chubb posted two game over Balish, Charline's, Church, and Ciba respectively. Ida Schilling had a 503 series for Chubb, rolling a 165 opener, and then following with 177 and 161 for the top series of the evening. Teammate J. Pressler had a 463 series, featured by a 191 middle game effort. Top bowler for Ciba was R. Crann's 487 three game effort.

C. Fricke had a 468 series for Church, but this wasn't quite enough as Zeigler's won a pair from Church. Kay Ort and Mary Overbeck posted 393 and 358 series to spark the Mobile Television to their two game victory over Charline's. Clara Stoddard with a 422 series and Helen Kull were the top bowlers for Charline's.

Charline, Werner Jockey For Lead in Men's League

Charline Drugs and the Werner Motor Car Company continued their merry battle for top honors in the Summit Recreation Bowling League last Wednesday evening at the Echo Lanes by posting two game victories over Ken Johnston's and the West Penn Oil respectively. Root's Mens Shop fell a full game off the pace of the league leaders by dropping the odd game of their series with the Twill Printers, with Ciba coming through with a double win over Larry's Sport Shop.

Newcomer Charley Sloss provided the spark and the difference for Werner Motors in their opening game win over the West Penn Oil, rolling the top game of the night with a fine 268, closing with 170 games for a 608 pinfall, which incidentally was also the top three game effort. Sloss subbed for Al Swick, out with a strained back. Sedgie Philippi and Bob Freyberger had 223 and 211 middle game efforts for Werner's, but this wasn't quite enough as Corrad and Nardiello posted 235 and 232 games respectively to spark West Penn Oil to their lone win.

Charline Drugs won the first two games, sparked by Bill MacQuestion, Johnny Deitrich, Jack Lawrence and Johnny Hunt, but dropped the finale as Gus Kalensee chipped in with a fine 221 game, with Ben Garguilo helping with a 195 game.

Hecky Bontempo's 213 and 211 opening and closing games featured the Twill Printers two game victory over third place Root's Mens Shop. Charline's Twill rolled the top game for either club by posting a 223 in the opener. Joe Kawan was the top man for Root's rolling a 208 opening game, following a 169 and 195 games for a 572 pinfall.

Ciba won the odd game of their series with Larry's, with both clubs rolling below their usual average. Billy Behre had a 211 game for Ciba, and Al Gast posted a 192, both scores coming in the second game.

Summit Quintet Loses 62-38 To Westfield

The Summit high basketball team lost 62-38 to Westfield high in a game played last Wednesday at Westfield.

Bill Quigley and Dick Shoemaker paced the Union County scoring leaders when together they dumped 41 points through the hoop, enough to beat the still winless Hilltoppers.

Summit scored four points in the first period. After Westfield had jumped to an 8-0 lead on three set shots by Quigley and a driving layup by Bobby Staub, Tom Corlett hit on a push and Lloyd Coleman dropped in two free throws to avert a shutout. But the boys in blue came charging back and reeled off eleven points in a row before the period ended with Shoemaker tallying six in that spurge.

In the second period Westfield added nine more in rapid succession before Dave Barenborg broke the skein by hitting on an inside shot. The score at the time was 28-6.

The Hilltoppers recovered somewhat but by the half Westfield had regained all but one point of its former lead and was sailing along with a 21-point bulge, 34-13.

The two quintets battled to a standstill in the third period, both scoring fifteen times. Tom Corlett and Bruce Wilkenson paced the Summit attack, Corlett with six and Wilkenson with four. Ken Thompson of the home team made five points in that quarter.

It was much the same in the last period with Westfield increasing its lead to the final score. Bob Paxson of Westfield, fourth leading scorer in the county, was held to only one point. Summit fouled excessively, committing 28 personals and giving their opponents 42 chances from the free throw line.

Several Swim Groups Open at YMCA for Girls

The girls' aquatic program at the Y.M.C.A. is serving a greater number of members this year than ever before, with regular instructional classes scheduled for Wednesday and Friday afternoons.

In addition to the skill groups, girl members of the local Y.M.C.A. may participate in one of several specialized activities, including the co-ed swim team for those who are interested in competitive swimming, and the popular synchronized swim group. These two groups are operated primarily for girls who are advanced swimmers, while the instructional classes are set up for those with lesser ability and for non-swimmers. The national Y.M.C.A. aquatic program is used for all girls classes and only trained, certified female instructors teach the various classes.

At present, there is a short waiting list for girls in the non-swimmer group. Parents who are interested in enrolling their daughters in Y.M.C.A. aquatic classes are asked to call Crestview 3-3330 and should ask for Robert West, the physical director. Minimum age for "Y" membership is seven years.

Shakespeare's tragedy, "Romeo and Juliet" will be presented on January 24. Also in color the picture was made in Italy and portrays the splendor of Renaissance architecture and costume. Players include Laurence Harvey, Susan Shentall and Flora Robson.

The pictures are endorsed by the Summit Art Association.

Geraldine Page To Star in New Play at McCarter

Geraldine Page, acclaimed one of the leading dramatic actresses of the new generation after each of her three Broadway appearances to date, now has her biggest part to date and the solo stardom that goes with it in "The Innkeepers," the new play, which will have its world premiere prior to Broadway at the McCarter Theatre, Princeton, opening Thursday evening, January 12 and continuing through both matinee and evening performances on Saturday, January 14.

Miss Page's leading man will again be strapping Darren McGavin who played her Lillom-like lover in last season's "The Rainmaker."

In Oaxaca, Mexico, a brilliant young American couple, self-exiled after his dismissal as a security risk from a high government position in Washington, have modernized an old colonial mansion into an inn and, after two years, are on the verge of new "success." In this setting, both hosts and guests, some trying to escape their yesterdays; some trying to hasten their futures, play out their dramas against the counterpoint of the natives who, for centuries, have lived a day at a time.

In "The Innkeepers," with tenderness and passion, bitterness and hope, Miss Page and Mr. McGavin, the innkeepers, wrestle with what is not only their personal problem but one which is one of the most tragic questions of our day—the same to a young Kansas corporal taken prisoner as to a gifted intellectual.

Miss Page leaped to overnight fame for her performance in Tennessee Williams' "Summer and Smoke," made stardom in Vina Delmar's "Mid-Summer" and co-starred with Louis Jourdan in Gide's "The Immoralist." Mr. McGavin was the youngest of the light-footed convicts in "My Three Angels," was one prisoner-of-war in "Stalag 17" and the young brother Happy in "Death of a Salesman."
