

Medical Group May Relocate On Portion of CIBA Property

A plan to move the Summit Medical Group to a new location on property owned by Ciba that borders Kent Place boulevard and Division avenue is proposed in a brochure sent jointly by Ciba and the Medical Group to property owners adjacent to the Ciba tract.

As outlined in the brochure, Ciba would sell a portion of its "back property" to the Medical Group provided the entire tract, which consists of approximately 22 acres, is rezoned from its present A-10 residential to a "J" zone which permits office buildings and research laboratories.

The Medical Group then would construct a new modern building upon its portion of the property. The land involved lies at the rear of residences on the north side of Kent Place Boulevard and the west side of Division avenue and is northwest of the old Summit Home for Children property at the end of Evergreen Road. The 22-acre tract is presently "pocketed" but access can be made through two new streets that would be cut through from Division avenue and Kent Place Boulevard on lots now owned by Ciba.

The Medical Group is presently located in buildings on each side of Summit avenue between DeForest avenue and Parnley Place and is hampered by a lack of space, particularly for off-street parking.

In the brochure, and in informal talks with affected property owners, Ciba has stressed that it does not desire to extend its industrially zoned property but that it does want to make "some practical use" of the large parcel of land that is now residentially zoned. Under a "J" zone classification it could build offices and research buildings provided they occupied only 15 per cent of the land and did not exceed 2 1/2 stories in height.

If a "J" zone use is not granted, the brochure points out that in "all probability" the Medical Group will move from Summit and Ciba will "unquestionably" sell its backland to a home developer who could, under its present zoning and by obtaining the Summit home property of 7 1/2 acres, build 111 one-family dwellings upon the tract.

The brochure also explains that Robert F. Edwards of Montclair, a municipal planning consultant engaged by Ciba, has surveyed the land and recommends its "J" zone use.

The brochure is signed by Walter F. Blumtschli for Ciba and Dr. Malcolm S. Edgar for the Medical Group. It is understood that no formal application has been made so far for the proposed zone change but that meetings have been held with most of the property owners involved.

Kiwanians Honor City Official's Attendance Mark

Harlan S. Kennedy, Summit's director of recreation and a member of the Summit Kiwanis Club for 32 years, was honored Tuesday with the presentation of a pin denoting 19 years perfect attendance. Kiwanis president, Russell T. Kerby, Jr. made the award at the club's regular luncheon meeting at the hotel Suburban. Mr. Kennedy has also served the club as secretary for 24 years.

Matthews M. Simpson, Summit architect and a past president of the club, received a pin for 10 consecutive years perfect attendance. Robert D. Brough, Harry C. Kates, John K. P. Store, Jr. and Mr. Kerby each qualified for a special pin with five consecutive years without an absence. Homer O. Lichtenwalter, Jr. received recognition for four consecutive years perfect attendance.

David H. Knowles won a 4-year pin, while Harry W. Edgar and William A. Marth were awarded three-year pins; Robert E. Woodward won his one-year pin.

Introduced by Kiwanis program chairman James R. Beattie was naval reserve commander and associate professor of economics at Rutgers, Dr. Sidney Simon, whose topic was: "The Navy's Role in any Future War."

Commander Simon described the three possible types of war into which this country could be plunged; he emphasized that the choice would not be ours because the United States will not be the original aggressor. It is therefore, Commander Simon said, the burden upon this country to be prepared for 1) the much-discussed global war of nuclear weapons, 2) a global war from which nuclear weapons have been eliminated, as was eliminated from World War 2, or 3) a "peripheral war."

Pair Arrested in Illinois Admit Sperco Robbery

Two brothers arrested at Evanston, Ill. this week on charges of attempted burglary, have admitted robbing the Sperco Motor Co. at 417 Morris avenue of $115 in cash and three pieces of office equipment last January 24.

At the time of their arrest by Evanston police, the pair, Leroy and James Lane, still had in their possession a postage meter and an automatic checkwriter which they allegedly took from Sperco. Police here were notified of their arrest on Monday and detainees were immediately sent out. It was learned that the two are also wanted in Haney, Ill. for robbery.

Police said that Leroy, 21, who listed Brooklyn as his home was a former employee of Sperco and that he and his brother made "a special" trip here for the purpose of robbing the firm, James, 30, a resident of Jersey City, was reported by police to be on probation from a Portland, Oregon prison.

The value of the office equipment taken at Sperco, including an adding machine, was placed at $400. An attempt to pry open an office safe which contained several hundred dollars ended in failure. The pair did succeed, however, in partially destroying the door with a crowbar.

The latest robbery at Sperco was the third in four months. Earlier in the year a 1957 coupe was stolen and later found by Jersey City police completely stripped.

Richard Williams

Lehigh Net Star To Head Boosters Tennis Committee

The Summit Boosters Association this week named Richard Williams of 1 Colony drive as chairman of the Boosters' tennis committee for the coming year, it has been announced by C. J. Faherty, president.

Among Mr. Williams' duties will be to work closely with Sumner High tennis coach David McNeely and his team during the coming net campaign.

Before coming to Summit, Mr. Williams was one of the leading amateur tennis players in West Virginia. He was captain of the Lehigh University tennis team and recently won the singles championship at the Beacon Hill Club.

According to Mr. McNeely, who has coached the senior high tennis team since 1945, last year's team was "the best overall group" he had ever had, but graduations have decreased the number of returning lettermen. He said that only three will be in the lineup when the season gets underway and they include Bob Kinley, Allan Davis and Warren Devereaux.

Mr. McNeely added that openings are still available for boys who wish to try out for the 1958 team.

Mr. Williams said his first activity as Booster tennis chairman will be to take the high school team to New York City February 22 to attend the National Indoor Tennis Championships.

Council Split on New Budget Calling for 10-Point Tax Hike

Rift Caused by $80,000 'Cushion' Included in Capital Improvements

Although lacking unanimous agreement, Common Council, by a vote of 5-1 Tuesday night, introduced the proposed 1958 budget which calls for an estimated tax hike of ten points over last year to $6.55 per $100 of assessed valuations to cover a total estimated budget of $4,389,845.

Councilmen Give Budget Dispute Pros and Cons

Opposing statements read at Common Council Tuesday night regarding introduction of the proposed 1958 budget follow in full.

The first statement, prepared by Councilman E. W. Wilkinson and read by Council President Hugo Reimer, outlines their reasons for opposing the budget in its present state. The second statement, which endorses the budget and represents the majority opinion of Council, was read by Councilman John M. Mackie.

Councilman Wilkinson's
"Although my position as chairman of the finance committee of the Council would ordinarily call for me to recommend the budget which has been presented to the Council on first reading, I am in the position of not being able to recommend it or to vote even for its introduction as a preliminary to further consideration, public hearing and final passage. The budget as introduced tonight will be published in the Summit Herald on February 13, 1958 and a public hearing will be held on March 4, 1958, at which time final action is expected to be taken by the Council.

"I vote 'No' on the budget in its present form because it provides for an unnecessary addition of $80,000 to the Capital Improvement Fund which it is proposed to charge to the taxpayer in advance of any necessity having been found by the Council for its expenditure—and even in advance of preliminary study by the Council.

"The Capital Improvement Fund represents provision for normal capital expenditures—typically street construction, installation of traffic lights, replacement of essential equipment, etc., the need for which arises during the year due to emergency or changing conditions and which is not anticipated at the time the budget is prepared. Expenditures which are foreseen and likely to be required during the year are provided for by special appropriation in the budget. When circumstances require (Continued on Page 7)

"The sum represents an increase of $284,070 over the 1957 budget of $4,105,775. Of this amount, $3,532,622 will be raised through local taxes against the 1958 rates as yet unknown. A public hearing has been set for March 4.

If the controversial $80,000 'cushion' was excluded from the budget, the minority explained, the 1958 tax rate could be reduced by seven points to $6.38.

Of the total budget the largest single item is $1,900,709 for school operating expenses, representing an increase of $281,904 over last year. City operations, including salaries, wages and other expenses are set at $1,540,613 as opposed to $1,441,064 in 1957.

Debt Service Decreases
The sole item with a decrease of expenditure expected is the debt service and capital improvement fund of $456,524, a decrease of $118,832 under last year's figure because of city plans to purchase bonds to complete purchase of lands in 1957 for parking lots.

Council indicated that omission of the item from the budget was stipulated because the parking lots are considered long-term assets of the city and are on a self-liquidating basis. However, the carrying charges for the bonds are computed in the budget. The proposed budget also estimated the county taxes at $492,000 as compared with $460,550 in 1957.

City revenues for 1958 are estimated at $1,222,886 because of a $628,000 surplus and miscellaneous revenue from fees, fines, rentals and delinquent taxes amounting to $394,886. Revenue in 1957 amounted to $1,190,671, or $32,215 less than 1958. Tax revenues needed were estimated at $3,532,622 as compared with $3,372,704 last year. Tax collections for 1958 stand at 97.72 per cent as compared to 97.96 in 1957.

City salaries for the first time topped the $1,000,000 mark with $1,014,867 proposed as against the $893,965 allocated in 1957.

Saturday's Hobby Exhibit To Be "Whale of a Show"

A wide variety of exhibits, ranging all the way from a guided missile to whaling curios, has been assembled for the 12th annual Hobby Show to be staged in the parish house of Central Presbyterian Church Saturday afternoon from 1 to 6 p.m.

In all, some two dozen hobbies will be on view. While members of the sponsoring Boy Scout organizations will present a number of them as usual, adult exhibits are expected to attract most of the attention.

The guided missile will be placed on display through the courtesy of the Boeing Aircraft Co., affording youngsters and grownups alike the opportunity to enjoy a close-up examination of one of the key weapons in this country's rocket arsenal.

A collection of scrimshaw and other whaling curios will be displayed by Arnold White of Floram Park, one of the relatively few people in the country who practices this particular hobby. Scrimshaw originated during the golden age of American whaling in the early and middle 1800s, when men sailing the South Pacific on long voyages often spent idle hours carving figures on whale's teeth, jaws and back bones.

More Adult Exhibits
Though Saturday is not a school day, the work of two school teachers will be very much in evidence at the show.

Miss Cora Hill, a retired Montclair teacher who has spent a half century collecting unusual bottles, will bring a representative assortment of her containers to the show. Many of them are of very unusual shape and colors.

The other teacher, still active, is Mrs. Barbara Goebel of Caldwell, who calls her hobby "Teacher's Pets." They include some priceless parakeets, hamsters, caviars, fancy mice, a chinchilla, a cockatiel and Siamese fighting fish.

Among the various leathercraft exhibits will be that of Helen Luise Cooper of New Hope, Pa., who will have on hand a working display of handbags, belts, dog collars and other items, some of them beautifully embossed and carved. Mrs. Cooper's black French poodle will be present to model the dog collars.

Other exhibitors will include Gilbert Emerson of Upper Montclair, a retired engineer who spends his spare time making heavy caliber hunting rifles, operating steam engines and intricate automotive parts; Milton and Laura Fink of Ridgewood, polished stones and leather work; R. S. Bowden of Nutley, pictures from colored bits of leather, and Robert Carr of Summit, who will present a display of stuffed animals. Also, F. K. Becker of Summit, orchids; Jules Andrus of Summit, term carvings, and the Summit Art Association, which will have an educational exhibit of paintings and illustrations.

The list of exhibits is described, all in all, as one of the most outstanding since the show was inaugurated. Mayor Ogden D. Gensamer and Elmer J. Bennett will assist in judging the exhibits and in the awarding of prizes.

Foods Also on Sale
In addition to the hobbies, the show will take on many aspects of a country fair. There will be special entertainment for children, and home baked goods and refreshments will be on sale throughout the afternoon.

The show is sponsored by Boy Scout Family 62, which includes Troops 62 and 162 and Explorers Post 62. All members of Scout organizations in uniform will be admitted free. Although tickets for the general public have been on sale for several weeks, late comers will be able to purchase them at the door.

The show committee is headed by Anthony J. Ratichek as general chairman, with Clinton E. Leech as exhibits chairman, assisted by Mr. Ratichek and Kenneth Cowell.

Other committee chairmen are R. F. Decker, refreshments; Mrs. Harley Hughes, sales; Mrs. R. W. Leuthauser, entertainment; Harley Hughes, monitors; George Plain, finance and admissions; and Henry C. Negus, properties.

Toastmasters Gird For Second Heat In Speech Contest

The second heat of the Summit Toastmasters Club's annual speech contest at the YMCA last Thursday resulted in the entrance into the finals of another Summit resident, J. R. Gilmartin of 38 Wade drive.

Mr. Gilmartin, with six minutes' worth of sound advice on "Christmas Shopping, 1953," placed second, while N. G. Berberich of Springfield took third and William A. Martin of Chatham, speaking on "Should I Smoke?" placed first.

The finals of the speech contest will take place at the regular weekly meeting tonight when last week's winners compete once again, joined by the winners of the first heat: Byron E. Nelson of 61 Karen way, Herman G. Weber of 15 Beckman road and G. L. Canavan, a Westfield member of the Summit club.

Winners of the final round will enter into area contests with neighboring Toastmaster clubs, the winners of those contests proceeding through district events. Eventually, through elimination at successively higher levels, the neighboring Toastmaster club, clubs in the country will be chosen.

Personnel Change Made On Visiting Nurse Staff

Mrs. Arthur Rotman, R.N., of 61 Ethan drive, Murray Hill, joined the nursing staff of the Visiting Nurse Association of Summit and vicinity last Monday. Mrs. Rotman succeeds Mrs. Frederick Siemens, R.N.

Mrs. Rotman is a graduate of Simmons College School of Nursing in Boston and served on the nursing staff of the District Nursing Association of Northern Westchester County, in Mount Kisco, N. Y., before moving to this area.

Mrs. Samuel A. Smith, Jr., chairman of the nursing services committee of the V.N.A., said the board of trustees accepted Mrs. Siemens' resignation with sincere regret. As her replacement, Ms. Rotman joins the staff, with training and experience in public health nursing.

Supreme Court to Review Samurine Fraud Acquittal

Review of the ruling handed down in October by the appellate division of the Superior Court that awarded an acquittal to the fraud trial of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Jardine Samurine of 646 Springfield avenue will be made by the State Supreme Court.

A petition for review by the Supreme Court was entered by the state under a provision which allows any appellate decision to be reviewed.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Samurine were found guilty on April 25 of obtaining $23,000 under false pretenses for a chattel mortgage on personal property of the Shackamaxon Golf Club at Scotch Plains, which they bought previously at public sale. The appellate division opinion said that the state had not proved that the Samurines had knowledge that the chattel mortgage on the club had been previously encumbered.

Calvary Men to Honor Boy Scout Troop Sunday

In recognition of Boy Scout Sunday this weekend, the Men's Club of Calvary Episcopal Church, sponsors of Troop 60, will be host to the members at a breakfast in the Parish Hall at 9 a.m.

The program will include a demonstration of activities by the Scouts. Following the morning breakfast meeting, the Troop will attend the 11 a.m. church service.

Troop 60 is the oldest Boy Scout group in Summit. Originally formed in 1912 by Major Guy

Butts, the charter lapsed during World War I. In 1918 the troop was under the leadership of the late Franklin W. Helms who served as Scoutmaster for several years. The present leader is Cliff Calahan.

Although centipede means hundred-footed and millipede means thousand-footed, most American centipedes have only about 50 legs and millipedes only about 200. The easiest way to distinguish them is to look at the segments. The centipede has only one pair of legs per segment, the millipede two pairs.

Let's Try a Packaged Drive

In the year-end reports of officials of the United Campaign the subject of a true united fund—one that embraces every organization soliciting funds in the community—was once again brought up.

The retiring chairman of the Campaign's central committee stated that in his opinion the major obstacle is that the "failure" of the Campaign in recent years to reach its announced goals acts as a barrier inasmuch as non-member agencies who successfully conduct individual fund campaigns are reluctant to identify themselves with an organization that can not guarantee them the financial support they require.

This attitude is the prime obstacle for one-package drives. The public is receptive to a single all-inclusive fund drive, in fact it pleads that one be initiated, but the difficulty comes in obtaining agency cooperation.

There are quite a few so-called "national agencies" who simply refuse to join a package drive. They take refuge in the fact that their national charters prohibit such community cooperation. The real reason is that they can raise more in their own drives than can be apportioned them in a single communitywide annual appeal for all agencies, local and national.

At first glance it might seem that there is no answer to the problem thus presented. The one-package fund campaign for all agencies operating fully or partially in the community is the ideal arrangement for the donor and volunteer worker. The single effort relieves contributors of the stress of repeated solicitations. It frees the volunteer workers from the burden of continuous demands on their time and energy. Business and industry are more receptive to a once-a-year arrangement rather than a myriad of appeals among employees. The load imposed upon payroll departments for multiple appeals is tremendous—and costly.

But the package campaign is damaged if many of the major agencies that annually seek financial aid in Summit remain outside the structure of the United Campaign. While it is helpful to have eight of the truly local agencies combine their fund-raising, as long as others continue to collect on their own the attainment of a package drive is thwarted. In truth, the existence of partial cooperation side by side with separate fund drives presents a contrast that might well invite an unfortunate public reaction.

There may, however, be a key to the problem. This key is the education of the public. The United Campaign has been wrestling for many years with the formation of a packaged drive and has apparently made no progress.

Perhaps it is time to lay the cards on the table and tell the public just what agencies are receptive to the idea and what agencies are not. It could be that the public would prefer a semi-packaged annual drive as a beginning and would give it full support, even to the detriment of those agencies remaining out. If it can be proven that a single fund campaign will work in Summit then the recalcitrant agencies may see the wisdom in joining.

It is really the givers, who are of the most importance in any drive, that can determine what type of community giving Summit shall have. They can guarantee the success of a single fund or continue to grumble over multiple drives. It is not unrealistic to imagine present discouragement over multiple drives extending to contributors' determination to turn their gifts over to the United Campaign authorities exclusively, as has been suggested in a recent letter to this paper. This would be one way of cutting down the attractiveness of solicitations by non-members agencies.

At any rate, this or that philanthropy which prefers to conduct its own drives can not destroy the idea of the United Campaign. A united fund is preferred by the giving public and it was this preference that originally established Community Chests or United Campaigns, throughout the nation. They all are being weakened by multiple drives, especially by those agencies that muscle in under the guise of local worth but actually do little or nothing in the community except siphon off funds for county, state or national programs.

Any move to re-establish a real united fund can not hope to be 100 per cent successful at first. But it is quite possible that its success within the sphere which it covers may draw both contributors and outside agencies to its organization.

The recent announcement from the public schools that something is soon to be done formally to help the "gifted" child does not necessarily come as a surprise. It has always been quite evident that our city's educators continually seek ways and means to better the quality of teaching methods. Stimulating and encouraging the "gifted" child has always been a challenge to educators who feel that such a child should not be made to sit idly by and wait for others to catch up. For many years teachers have known that mere routine work of the classroom is not enough to intellectually stimulate those who are gifted in a particular area or who are just ordinarily bright. It has become necessary to begin studies and determine what can be done for these children who, without proper guidance, become misfits in later life.

It is a far cry from the old days when because of large, crowded classrooms, it was almost impossible for the teacher to provide the extra, advanced work necessary for those children who finished the required work almost before the others had begun.

In those days when a bright child came along and was far ahead of the class, more advanced work was supplied by "skipping" him to the next grade or by jumping over a grade. What resulted were children who entered college at 15 and were later found to be social misfits, physically, emotionally and otherwise.

Today, we have learned that there is much more to "growing up" than just being intellectually developed. Total education of the child not only includes intellectual development, but also social and emotional growth. In short, they are taught to think.

Summit schools, in realizing this fact, have seen fit to take the initiative in order to more fully understand and help the "above average" child. The teachers who were chosen to make the study were selected on the basis of interest, understanding and experience. They give of their after-school free-time to survey and to investigate. Other teachers, not on the committee, are participating by contributing samples of techniques they use today to deal with the "gifted" child.

The current study now going on in the city's schools is a challenge. Long has the "gifted" child been neglected and permitted through no fault of his own to wander about aimlessly with no formal guidance on how to utilize his abilities more advantageously.

Perhaps the most important part of this study is the realization that the "gifted" child is first of all a human being and not someone to be looked upon with awe and wonder and placed on a pedestal and labelled "brain."

We feel certain that the attempt to handle this type of child better will be met with the same kind of success so evident in other studies undertaken by our educational leaders in the past. It is a major step forward in the constant search for better education for all.

Noteworthy Changes

The news last week that Harold T. Graves, Jr. had been elected president of The Summit Trust Co. was gratifying. Bank elections concern the public far more than the run of routine annual meetings of other firms because of the public service performed by the financial institutions. And when the presidency of Summit's oldest bank is involved, public interest is sharpened.

The choice announced by The Summit Trust Co. measures up to the popular notion of how a business of this nature should be operated. The designation of Mr. Graves as president conforms to sound practice as judged by the initiated. But the selection has the added element of popular appeal to recommend it. And this is no insignificant factor in a day which stresses public relations.

Mr. Graves' election to the presidency climaxes a career of the type that recommends itself to everyone. He is raised to head the bank to which he has devoted most of his adult life. His election crowns twenty years' service with Summit Trust and with the community in a host of capacities all aimed at bettering civic life.

It is pertinent, also, to mention at this time another change in administration of a local financial institution and that is the elevation of Henry F. Glowka to the executive vice presidency of Summit Federal Savings & Loan Association, the city's oldest savings and loan institution. Mr. Glowka likewise fits the approved pattern of coming up from the ranks. His election caps long experience marked by consistent advances.

Both venerable financial institutions and their new administrative heads have the wishes of the community for continued success.

Champ Gets Netted

(Hartford, Conn., Courant)

There must have been a feeling of tiny triumph in the hearts of thousands of law-abiding citizens when they read the other day that New York's champion scofflaw finally got pinched. He was a character who had some 131 tickets in his possession for illegal parking and similar violations. It cost him a fat $6,550 to get himself squared with the law. He had this alternative to spending a year in jail.

Scofflaws are not confined to New York. Every city has them, except in those notable areas where there are no-fix traffic tickets. In those cities where there are large backlogs of unprocessed parking tickets the scofflaw flourishes. He feels that the law-abiding citizen who pays his ticket is a chump.

And for the most part it seems as though he were a chump. For in this area of parking perquisites and special privileges enjoyed by nearly everybody, except the common taxpayer who pays the bills, there flourishes a lot of injustice. That is one reason why, even though it is wrong to gloat over another's misfortune, there is a measure of satisfaction to the chump in seeing an unchump being brought to book.

Is Loyal to Vests

Editor Summit Herald,
I am glad that you were moved to commemorate, in your recent editorial, the many years of useful service of "the vest".
Fashion has been sneaking up on male attire almost unnoticed. In formal attire, who would be so bold to say that the cummerbund, stretched around the bulging portion of male anatomy, could ever replace the convenience of the vest. Where, in a cummerbund, could one hide a pencil, hat check, or any one of those other things that so conveniently found their way into the pockets of a vest.
The ladies may have their Dior's with trapeze and other yearly allurements, but let us hope that the male stylists do not continue to remove, shorten, or make more revealing the male attire. The artistic possibilities of the male anatomy are not worth it.
If there must be change, let sport shirts and shorts-or-kilts find their way into formal and business dress as well as for sports wear in the summer.
I join you in a salute to the fast disappearing vest, I am keeping a hanger full for museum pieces.

Under the plan submitted last year by the Board of Recreation, work on two large recreational centers to include an outdoor swimming pool, artificial ice skating rink and a new athletic center for the High School, would start this year.
Mr. Mackie declared that if it were decided to go ahead with any of these plans during this year without available funds, the "impact of next year's budget" would be "considerable." He further called for an eventual return to a "pay-as-you-go" policy to cover payment of city necessities.
Cites "Reasonable" Tax
In conclusion, Mr. Mackie reflected that he felt the citizens of Summit "benefitted" from a "reasonable tax rate" which did not have great variations according to the needs of the moment.
Also speaking in favor of the proposed budget were Councilman-at-large William R. Gilson and Councilmen Fletcher P. Thornton and Leo O'Connell. Mr. Gilson noted that through a general improvement program established over the last three years, the city had reached "an enviable position" in the state in proportion to its size. He further said that if no provision is made, the money would have to be raised through future taxation. He added that Council can only spend money through the passage of ordinances which require public hearings and therefore he doubted if any funds would be expended without the proper "soul-searching."

In maintaining his belief in the adherence to a "pay-as-you-go" policy, Councilman Thornton noted that the $80,000 item covered prospective expenses toward the Board of Recreation program. His views were seconded by Councilman O'Connell, who also stated that the money was needed for the expanded recreation plan.

Ordinances were passed providing $30,000 for a revaluation study of assessed valuations and an increase in quarterly payments to volunteer firemen.
In a letter to Council opposing the proposed transfer of land from CIBA to the Summit Medical Group, Edna M. Quirk and William H. Quirk of 127 Passaic avenue requested notification of any hearing on the matter. The letter indicated that such reasoning would devalue land values and cause financial loss. They also objected to "further business expansion" within the city.

Budget Statements

quire, unanticipated capital expenditures of an unusual nature can be provided for by ordinances adopted after notice and public hearing and temporary or permanent arrangements for financing can be made at that time through use of this Capital Improvement Fund.
"A good example of the latter approach is the purchase of land on DeForest avenue for parking lot purposes which became urgent due to the steadily increasing traffic and congestion in mid-town. The acquisition of land was authorized by ordinance and financed by short-term notes. Since the parking lots represent permanent, self-liquidating investment, the Council now plans to refund the notes by long-term bonds and provision has been made in the proposed budget for the carrying charges involved. Thus the Council and the taxpayer have had ample opportunity to consider both the operational and the financial aspects of the project and all interested citizens had when the projects was originally considered and have again now in connection with the proposed budget full opportunity to be heard on phases of the matter of concern to them.

See Fund Nearly Doubled
"The 1958 budget as introduced tonight contains a total of $175,000 of specific capital appropriations to cover purchase of new equipment and replacement of worn-out equipment required by the various city departments, rehabilitation and construction of necessary recreation facilities, installation of traffic lights on Springfield avenue, street widening and parking lot construction. It also contains an item of $35,000 to restore the Capital Improvement Fund to $100,000, which previous Councils have considered as desirable—certainly it would seem adequate—as a contingency reserve for normal but unanticipated requirements I mentioned earlier in this statement. The item of $30,000 to which I object as I said, is a further addition to this same Capital Improvement Fund and raises the fund to a total of $130,000—almost double the usual amount and more than double any need the City has ever experienced, at least as far as I am aware.
"The addition of the $30,000 item, 16 additional points in the 1958 tax rate, in advance of any determination of necessity for its expenditure and the public hearings which should be involved, is in my view the same sort of taxation without the opportunity of a hearing as once led our proud ancestors to scatter tea on the waters of Boston harbor.

"My specific objections to the $30,000 item include these, among others:
1. That money is taken from the taxpayer in advance of the time when it needs to be taken from him.
2. That the existence of a free fund of $30,000 is bound to tend in the direction of making it easier for the Council to undertake future expenditures and to do it without the soul-searching which should be involved in the spending of other people's money.
3. That in a broad sense and in its small way, the inclusion of such an item is another contribution to the incipient evil of inflation against which all local governing groups ought to be putting forth their best efforts.
"What the majority have in mind here, I am sure, is to keep from reflecting a tax reduction in 1958 as compared with 1957, (exclusion of the $30,000 item would result in a 1958 tax rate of about $6.39 versus $6.55 otherwise and $6.45 in 1957). Because taxpayers might be led to expect the continuation of such reductions, which may not be possible in view of the pressures which may arise hereafter. Cynics have maintained that tax reductions are very unlikely once high levels of tax are reached and acquiesced in by the taxpayer and, frankly, I hate to see this Council provide new evidence for that view. In a word, I feel it is wrong to take from the taxpayer more than our established requirements.
"It is quite possible that an increase in the tax rate will be necessary next year, whether this year sees it stay even or go down. However, I feel certain that the taxpayers of Summit will accept whatever tax rate is called for next year, if based on careful study and demonstrated need and if we play fair this year.

Councilman Mackley's Statement
"I find myself in a rather embarrassing position in regard to the proposed budget because fundamentally I agree with most of what Mr. Wilkinson has said. I also agree that taxes at all levels are too high and that tax relief should be afforded wherever possible. This is particularly true now when the economic situation is clouded and the country is undergoing an adjustment of the great prosperity that has existed for several years.
"However, I believe that in putting together a budget, as in every other phase of city planning, consideration should be given to the probabilities which are going to have to be faced up to in the immediate years ahead.
"I am also not entirely happy, although in this case I approve it, of abandoning Summit's traditional pay-as-you-go policy. To have required the taxpayers to pay $240,000 in this year's budget for parking lots would have raised the tax rate to an astronomical figure and would have been both unfair and economically unwise.
"It is true that the Council has not found any necessity for the expenditure of the $30,000 to which Mr. Wilkinson objects. But it is also true that the Council has requests from various sources for funds in excess of this amount, particularly by the Board of Recreation for the proposed new athletic center in North Summit.
"If it is finally decided to go ahead with any of the proposals which are currently before the Council and funds are not available in the current budget, the impact on next year's budget will be considerable. Perhaps the result would be that the City would not return to the pay-as-you-go policy which I think is most desirable.
"I think the citizens of Summit are benefitted by a reasonable tax rate which does not have great variations according to the needs of the moment. A reasonably stable tax rate without extreme fluctuations and preparation for a return to the pay-as-you-go policy are the objectives I hope to attain by voting in favor of this budget."

Here Are the Answers to Your Questions on SAVINGS INSURANCE

1. Exactly what is savings insurance?
ANSWER: It is a method of protection for the safety of your savings, devised and implemented by the U.S. Government. It is offered only by "insured institutions." Summit Federal Savings is an insured institution.
2. What protection is afforded?
ANSWER: Each saver in Summit Federal is insured against any and all loss of money in his savings account, up to a total of $10,000 for each saver.
3. Who issues the insurance?
ANSWER: The Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, an instrumentality of the U.S. Government.
4. How would the insurance be paid, if necessary?
ANSWER: In the event of default of an insured institution, the law requires the F.S.L.I.C. to pay the total due each saver in cash, or to transfer the account to a nearby insured institution, from which the money may be withdrawn in full if desired.
5. Is this method of protection substantially different in any way from the insurance offered by other types of insured banking institutions?
ANSWER: No.

Is he curious?

The world awaits another Edison. He could be your son.

The boy in the scarf is Tom Edison, age 10. He was curious about things, so he built his own laboratory. This month the whole world celebrates his 111th Birthday.

During his lifetime Thomas Alva Edison "lighted the world" with the electric light, reproduced voices and sounds with the phonograph, pioneered in developing movies and radio. Over 1100 important inventions were his because—like your boy—he simply wanted to know.

Today, many of the achievements of science are being built on the foundations of these inventions. But, we are told, one Thomas Edison in a generation is no longer enough to sustain our kind of progress.

The need is for thousands—educated young people, trained to harness their curiosity about the unknown.

What more rewarding and exciting way for your boy to spend his life than to make the progress of humanity and your country his profession?

Right now American industries are trying to encourage the natural curiosity of the young—with assistance in education and training and good-paying jobs, as well. You can be sure your electric light and power company is a part of this very important movement.

We owe a lot to Tom Edison. We'd like to help your boy to be like him. We salute both on February 11th, 1958—SCIENCE YOUTH DAY—and Mr. Edison's 111th Birthday. And we urge you to help make your son's natural curiosity pay off.

"EDISON EXPERIMENTS YOU CAN DO"—Help your boy prove he can be a scientist. Illustrated booklet explaining simple steps Edison took which led to his great discoveries, is available at our office.

Police Go Gay With New Red and White Prowl Cars

Summit's police department, at least its motorized division, has become quite colorful. This week police placed into operation the first of six new two-tone patrol cars that are painted a brilliant red and white.

The new cars, all Chevrolets, are especially constructed for police work and are plainly marked "Police" in addition to the bright coloring. Each is surmounted with a red warning light and a siren.

The new cars replace old ones that were entirely black. Use of distinctively marked prowl cars was ordered by Mayor Ogden D. Gensemer early last month.

About 150,000 Americans are now being saved from cancer each year, the American Cancer Society reports. About 75,000 more could be saved annually if the disease is detected and treated in time.

Art of Glass Blowing Among Central Church Hobby Items

Local residents will have a chance to see a scientific glass blower demonstrate his ability at the Boy Scout Hobby Show at Central Presbyterian Church on Saturday and at the Scout Hobby Show, Millington, on February 11.

Recognized as the elite craftsmen among glass blowers are a handful of technicians who are able to utilize their skill in exacting scientific work. Among these glass craftsmen is Fred Anderson, who makes highly specialized glass apparatus needed in the research laboratories at CIBA.

One of his more spectacular feats is the drawing of a glass tube one-tenth the diameter of a human hair. After being filled with a conductive liquid, this microscopic glass tube can be inserted into a single cell to measure that cell's electrical potential.

Another device made by Mr. Anderson is a flow meter to record the coronary blood flow. The key to this apparatus, which is not believed to have been duplicated anywhere else, is a ground glass ball which is placed in a glass tube. The ball is displaced by incoming blood and returns to its base on the bottom of the tube every time the blood recedes. The distance the ball rises indicates the amount of blood entering the apparatus. From this it is possible to calculate the amount of blood entering an artery.

All Apparatus Handmade

Mr. Anderson, a Madison resident, has received requests from Asia, Europe and South America for information on the various devices he has handmade for CIBA's research department. One such device is an all-glass blood pressure recorder. This device is based on the fact that glass is elastic. The pressure of blood is utilized to compress a glass capsule that is filled with water but has an open valve. Blood flows into a glass jacket which encloses the capsule and exerts pressure on it to displace the water inside the capsule. The amount of water displaced indicates the blood pressure.

For a man who has achieved such proficiency in his field, it was all the more remarkable that he began his glass-blowing career almost by accident. Mr. Anderson studied at Heriot-Watt College at Edinburgh, Scotland, where he was born. It was an accepted custom there that everyone taking courses in the sciences should be responsible for his own glass equipment. Before long he became more interested in glass blowing than science.

In 1929 he came to America and lived in Chicago, where he met and married an English girl. He worked for a while at the University of Toronto and then went to China where he worked at Peiping Union Medical College. Returning to the United States for a short time at Abbott Laboratories, the University of Nebraska, E. R. Squibb and Sons, and Columbia University before joining CIBA in 1946.

Mr. Anderson has studied physics, applied mechanics, photography, physiology, pharmacology, cinematography and chemistry, and needs a working knowledge in all these fields in his job at CIBA.

Redwings Continue Win Streak in League Hockey

With Summit idle last week-end in the Northern Jersey Intermediate Hockey League, activity was diverted to non-league play for the league leading Summit Redwings.

Last Saturday the locals made a long trek to O'Pittstown, Pa., facing the Hill School, winning 4-0 with Bob Gage, Ron Senet and Coleworthy the standouts.

Sunday morning Summit gained their second win of the week-end by shutting out the South Orange Canadians, the score 6-0. Senet scored twice, Torelli twice, with Bohren and Davies registering one goal. Summit's overall record now stands at nine wins, one loss and two ties, with the Redwings scheduled to face Nyack at Haverstraw Saturday at 9 a.m.

Newark Police Hold Local Man on Horse Bet Charge

A Summit man, John W. Borie, 37, of 45 River road has been charged by Newark police with possession of horse race slips following a raid on Monday of an apartment at 51 Columbia street, Newark, by members of the police investigation division.

Police said that a bet slip was found on the floor near Borie and that while they were in the apartment they answered several telephone calls from persons attempting to place bets with "Skinny."

Borie denied that he was "Skinny," police said. He was released on $1,000 bail pending a hearing in Newark Municipal Court.

FIRST-NIGHTER—A winsome hair-style by Carousal that combines fancy innocence with gentle stateliness. It is as versatile as it is lovely, and short enough to follow fashion lines, yet can be worn effectively by the woman with slightly longer hair. A cascade of deep waves fall from the center part dipping in at the temples and to the ears to frame the face in a soft pattern of simple elegance. Wide, deep waves at the back are molded close to the head, and nape ends are pouffed in an interesting and dashing effect.

Summit Cagers Split, Drub Chatham, Bow to Glen Ridge

Glen Ridge High defeated Summit for the second time this season, this time by a score of 33-24. The game played at Glen Ridge's tiny gym, seemed to throw the Hilltoppers shooting off. Trailing 14-9, the Maroon was never really in the game. Glen Ridge, on the shooting of Gary Cuzzo lengthened their lead in the second period enough to lead by eight points at halftime 23-14. Needing a big quarter to come up with the win, Summit fell apart completely.

Corbo and Cuzzo of Ridge both were scoring, while Tom Prior of Summit was the only Hilltopper able to find the range consistently. With the game gone in the fourth quarter, Coach Underwood substituted freely, and Ridge won going away.

Tomorrow's game with Millburn, at home, is Summit's final Conference game, and the big one of the year with the archrival. Game time is 8 p.m.

Werner Gains Split Over Charline to Take Lead at Echo

Five clubs remained in contention in the close Summit Recreation Bowling League after last Wednesday's activity at Echo Lakes, Mountlake.

Four and a half games separate the fifth place club from the league leading Werner Motors, who edged the defending champion Charline Drugs 3-1, with only Williams and Swick rolling their league averages. Twill Printers won 3-1 over CIBA with Merchant's 200 setting the standout effort for either club.

Boat's Men's Shop gained the distinction of rolling the only three game sweep of the evening by taking their set with the Kemper Insurance, with Joe Kawan of Boat's making a 218 series which included a 293 in the windup. West Penn Oil won the finale of their series with Tarr's Sport Shop, gaining a 2-1 victory, with R. Chry's 200 and R. Thompson's 353 the top series for either club.

Close Race Seen In Recreation Cage Leagues

All six of the Summit Recreation Basketball Leagues are enjoying close contests, even distribution of talent, with the eventual winner still in doubt.

Three clubs are tied for top honors in the Grasshopper Major Basketball League, with four clubs tied for second place, but two games behind the leaders. The Cardinals defeated the Pistons 26-20, the Owls over the Panthers 25-18, the Rams nipping the Tigers 28-25, and the Mohawks winning over the Lions 34-32.

In other divisions, the Vanguards hold a one game lead over Nike, Jupiter and Thor divisions in the Washington circuit, with the Passers the only unbeaten club in the Franklin division. The Celtics trimmed the Lakers 42-36, and the Warriors gained a 54-44 win over the Knicks.

The Counts won a pair of games, winning 71-49 over the Shooting Stars, and also defeated the Neverwets 66-36. In the only other league game played, the Collegians won over the Neverwets by a margin, winning 61-44, with four players scoring in double figures for the winners.

Heights School Board Hits Back at Budget Opponents

Berkeley Heights—Representatives from the Board of Education stoutly defended the proposed school budget of $754,410 for 1958-59 at a meeting Monday night of the newly formed Taxpayers Association in the Library. Called to rally strength for defeat of the budget at the February 11 school election, the meeting drew approximately 135 interested taxpayers.

The proposed budget includes an increase of $153,244 over last year. A major portion of this increase is designed for expenses of the new Mountain Park school scheduled to be opened in September.

William Clayton, chairman of the Association, launched the meeting by stating that the taxpayers' broad objective was to help the Board of Education stretch the tax dollar. He expressed the taxpayers' concern over budget increases in the face of a business recession which, he said, might make it hard for some residents to keep up with the present tax needs of the town. He specifically questioned the proposed increase in minimum starting salaries for teachers from $3900 to $4300 in the face of a proposed drop in teacher-pupil ratio from one to 26 to one to 22.

Replying for the Board, Superintendent of Schools Kenneth H. Bothwell pointed out how enrollment in the schools has steadily increased from 432 in June, 1949, to 1,237 at present, with 1400 estimated for next September. He declared that the Board must hire 12 new teachers for the opening of the Mountain Park school. He estimated that probably three more teachers would have to be brought into the school system to replace those who may resign in June. With the present minimum salary guide at $3900, he said it is difficult to attract the type of teachers needed.

Compared With Summit "For some years parents have compared the standing of our school system with Summit and surrounding communities," he complained. "But when we try to upgrade the caliber of our educational system by paying teacher salaries which compare favorably with other communities, no one wants to make the comparison."

Board President John M. Brown also defended the salary increases, stating that some teachers were as much as $1200 off the salary guide two years ago. He deplored this as a loss of income for teachers and told the association that Berkeley Heights ranks below 75 per cent of the rest of Union County in its salary guide. He emphasized that young teachers today are "interested in money" and that the Board must compete with other communities paying beginning salaries of $4200 or more.

Some taxpayers objected to the minimum $4300 guide level on the ground that several neighboring communities have a $4200 minimum.

"It will cost our taxpayers only $6200 to raise salary guide from $4200 to $4300, but it will put us in a position to compete for the 12 or more teachers we will need," Mr. Brown replied. He added that a good school system could not be maintained without adequate compensation for supervisory personnel as well.

Backing up Superintendent Bothwell's explanation of the need for new teachers and the drop in teacher-pupil ratio, Mr. Brown with the board. Mr. Finsterbach stated that the brighter child could receive the most help from efforts of the school psychologist and teachers working together at operational levels. Mr. Melack suggested trying to group pupils on the basis of ability instead of chronological age.

On the fourth question the candidates cited the board and the PTA achievements and the school system's success in attracting and holding good teachers as major strengths. No weaknesses were noted as inherent in the school system, but broad social problems, such as juvenile delinquency and lack of responsibility on the part of youth, were suggested as problems to be met in working toward better schools.

The Board president criticized statements made by the Taxpayers Association in the press as "inaccurate and misleading" giving the impression that very young children would have to walk two miles to school. He said that even pupils in the upper grades will have a maximum walk of only a mile and a half and that transportation would be provided for younger children.

Heights School Board Candidates Questioned by PTA

Berkeley Heights—Answers to four questions formulated by a special Candidates Night Committee of the PTA were given Tuesday night before a meeting of 30 residents at the Berkeley School by three candidates seeking election to the school board February 11.

The questions were:
1. "What are your reasons for wanting to be or continuing to be a school board member?"
2. "Which type of elementary school do you favor—area schools, or kindergarten through 5th grade with sixth through eighth grades in a centrally located school?"
3. "In view of the emphasis in the headlines on higher school standards and the importance of scholastic achievement, how do you propose to identify the brighter or gifted child and what means do you suggest to give the fullest use to their capacities?"
4. "Realizing that self-appraisal is the key to self-improvement, where do you feel the strengths and weaknesses of our school system lie and how would you propose to remedy the weaknesses?"

Replying to the second question, James Vicendese, incumbent seeking reelection, favored kindergarten through fifth grade. Frederick Finsterbach, also up for reelection, declined to give a specific opinion on the basis that schools should be set up to fit the needs of the community. Candidate Michael Melack suggested splitting the grade school system with a separate set up for kindergarten through third grade and another for fourth through eighth. He said no decision should be made about school buildings until the entire community has an opportunity to participate in planning the particular system adopted.

On the third question, Mr. Vicendese said he would not express an opinion until the Lay Committee on Education files its report with the board. Mr. Finsterbach stated that the brighter child could receive the most help from efforts of the school psychologist and teachers working together at operational levels. Mr. Melack suggested trying to group pupils on the basis of ability instead of chronological age.

Heights Spaniel Seen Top Kennel Show Favorite

Berkeley Heights—One of the leading contenders in the Westminster Kennel Club dog show to be held February 10 to 12 at Madison Square Garden will be a cocker spaniel born and raised at Berkeley Heights.

The dog, ch. Michel's Magistrate, is owned by Mrs. Norma Michel of 844 Mountain avenue, Berkeley Heights, and is considered by a large number of dog lovers to be a strong possibility for this year's grand champion.

In 1956 the cocker, who has already experienced almost 40 shows, was fifth top winning parti color in the country. This honor was bestowed for winning best of variety in the majority of shows in which he appeared that year.

Borough Council Head Not to Seek Reelection

New Providence—Borough Council President Hugh L. Hamilton announced that he would not be a candidate for reelection this year at the Council meeting Tuesday night. Now rounding out his second term, he was elected in 1952 and 1955.

Mr. Hamilton gave as his reason for retirement the need for more time to devote to personal affairs. Presumably this indicates further literary production, either in the field of political philosophy or personal economy.

Mr. Hamilton's service to the Borough started with an appointment to the original Planning Board in 1930. He served as chairman for ten years. During that time the first zoning ordinance was prepared and adopted and the first master plan was formulated. Following a three year absence for business reasons, he was appointed to the Board of Adjustment. He was chairman of that Board at the time of his election to the Borough Council. He has served the borough in non-remunerative jobs for about 25 years.

Methodist Women to Hear Talk on Jobs for Disabled

New Providence—Mrs. Judson Ramsey, president of the board of directors of Goodwill Industries of New Jersey, will address the Women's Society of the New Providence Methodist Church on Tuesday at its annual Valentine luncheon.

Mrs. Ramsey will illustrate her talk with a color film showing the activities of her organization.

A surprise luncheon will be served at 12:30 p.m. by a committee headed by Mrs. Velma Cousins. The devotional service will be conducted by Mrs. Donald Young. A baby sitting service will be available and members are requested to bring their "treasure chests" to the meeting for collection.

"Your Future, Son?"
"Here's the way I see it!"
"Pretty soon, you'll be graduating from high school. And then I hope you will be able to enter college."
"That's a big step in your life, but there's one important question I want you to think about. What courses you should be taking now which would lead you to a successful career?"
"From what I've seen during the last couple of years, this country needs more scientific men—and more engineers. Almost every kind of business needs them. They are all looking for engineering help."
"So think of an engineering degree. It could lead to an exciting life... to a profitable career... to new and different opportunities. And these high school years are the ones in which you lay your ground work. Science Youth Day will be celebrated February 11, and that's a good time for you to start thinking of your career."

TRIPLE ECONOMY WINKLER
OIL-FIRED CAST IRON BOILER

More heat—more comfort—no less fuel

Low cost hot water, all year round

Equipped with large capacity, copper-clad water heater

Here are the reasons a Winkler Oil Boiler is a triple economy buy! First, the Winkler Oil Burner is famous for operating economy. Second, the Boiler itself absorbs a maximum amount of heat—doesn't let it escape up the chimney. And finally, the built-in domestic water heater produces an abundance of hot water—winter and summer—at low cost.

Don't put up with high cost heating any longer. Install a Winkler Oil Boiler now—learn how reasonably you can have modern automatic heating. Free Heating Survey.

Look Here, February...

We want to have a word with you. We know you're the littlest month of the year, but we also know that you can be the meanest. We know how you send out that old fraud, the ground-hog to confuse us. We know how you can send one mild day to us and follow it with a blizzard. We know how you can send around the most cutting winds. We know how you can pound that poor thermometer down and keep it there for days and days.

We just want you to realize that we are on to you and your tricks and you're not going to get away with them around here. You're not going to make anybody uncomfortable in this town if we know about it. And we're telling everybody right here and now that if you start to get disagreeable, all they have to do is call us. Just remember that, Mr. February.
