

Freeholders Will Table Plans for Mountain Avenue

A tabling of plans for the widening of Mountain avenue through Summit, New Providence and Berkeley Heights pending further discussion with municipal authorities was promised last Friday by the Board of Freeholders following protests from many property owners in the communities involved.

The Freeholders, however, proceeded with the mechanics of authorizing a $350,000 bond issue for that project and some others in the county despite the objections.

The Board explained that passage of the bond resolution did not mean that the road improvement program would necessarily be carried out immediately but explained that it was timely to place the bonds for sale now because of a favorable market.

Widening of Mountain avenue from Diamond Hill road, New Providence, to Division avenue, Summit, is among the projects listed in the $350,000 issue. The federal government will pay half under the matching funds program.

No Ashland Road Work

County Engineer John W. Meisell Jr. explained that the Mountain avenue project, approved for matching federal funds, starts at Diamond Hill road at the Berkeley Heights boundary. From there to the western entrance of the Bell Telephone Laboratories, the width approved is 40 feet.

A 40-foot width is proposed from there to about 200 feet east of South street, and the remainder, to Division avenue at the New Providence-Summit line is to be 40 feet. Meisell stressed that no widening of Ashland road, east of Division avenue is contemplated. Ashland road is the Summit extension of Mountain avenue.

Except for the 40-foot stretch the improved road would be two lanes. The present width varies, but is generally about 20 feet.

The Freeholders were presented with a petition signed by 130 residents of New Providence and Berkeley Heights by Mrs. Osborne M. Campbell of 891 Mountain avenue, New Providence. Although the bulk of the project is to be in New Providence, objections also were made by Summit residents affected at the Division avenue end.

Freeholder Ernest S. Hickok, chairman of the roads and bridges committee, said plans were formulated for the project with the approval of the New Providence Borough Council. "They (the Council) said this is what they wanted," Hickok said.

The Herald was informed this week, unofficially, that the Freeholders may consider a 30-foot width, not including curbing, for the entire stretch of Mountain avenue from Division avenue to Diamond Hill road and also from Diamond Hill road westward through Berkeley Heights. Furthermore, the project would be built without federal funds and at a county expense so that any federal width requirements would be eliminated.

Heights Protests Cited

Harrison E. Wemett of 31 Horse Shoe road, Berkeley Heights, a New York and Summit attorney, said that Berkeley Heights would add its weight to the protests and added that "95 per cent of the people who live along the road are very much opposed."

Wemett said he did not speak for Berkeley Heights officials, who have agreed to have the county do minor repair work on the road this year, but said he spoke for "95 per cent of the residents" along "one of the most picturesque roads that we have left from antiquity."

In addition to destruction of many "towering oaks and dogwood" trees along the route, Wemett cited a safety hazard to school children in the widening. "It follows as a matter of course" that if Mountain avenue is widened in New Providence this year, Berkeley Heights will be under pressure soon to accept the widening," Wemett said.

Five From Area Called For Petit Jury Service

Four residents of Summit and one from New Providence were called for petit jury duty for the court term ending April 11.

From Summit were Mrs. Eloise E. Benner of 49 Fernwood road, Edward M. Butler, Jr. of 200 Oak Ridge avenue, Lee J. Grove of 209 Kent Place boulevard and Elmer M. Harris of 32 Montrose avenue.

The New Providence resident is Joseph Ruocco of 51 Holmes Oval, North.

Planning Board Hearing on CIBA Tract Postponed

The previously announced city-wide Planning Board hearing on a requested zone change of CIBA property for use by the Summit Medical Group has been postponed, the Board announced this week.

The hearing was originally scheduled for 8 p.m. today at City Hall and has been indefinitely postponed. The Herald was informed that all parties agreed that the meeting should not be held during Holy Week.

A request for a change in zone from Residential A-16 to Office and Research Zone J had been made to the Common Council by CIBA, the Summit Medical Group and the 129 Summit Avenue Corp., an affiliate of the Medical Group. Council referred the request to the Planning Board for study and recommendation.

CIBA is asking that approximately 22 acres of its property bordered by Kent Place Boulevard and Passaic avenue be rezoned so that it may sell a portion of the land to the Medical Group for a proposed new building.

United Campaign Names McFarlane To Budget Post

Rome A. Betts, chairman of the central committee of the United Campaign, has announced the appointment of Samuel B. McFarlane of 11 Twombly drive as chairman of the budget review committee for another year.

The budget review committee examines the budgets of member agencies and makes recommendations as to the amount which should be allotted to each agency, based on its needs for the ensuing year. From these recommendations the 1958-59 goal of the United Campaign will be determined. The Committee expects to hold its hearings during the latter part of April.

Mr. McFarlane is a graduate of the University of Maryland and has attended Brooklyn Polytechnic Institute and Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He is a member of the Rotary Club, Central Presbyterian Church and Clearwater Swim Club. He and Mrs. McFarlane are the parents of two children.

The other members of the budget review committee are Haddon H. Smith, Henry D. Richardson, Mrs. H. J. Wolosin and Mr. William T. Snyder. Mr. Smith of 7 Glen Oaks avenue served on the committee last year. Mr. Richardson of 85 Woodland avenue will also serve for three years. Mr. McFarlane, Mrs. Smith and Mr. Richardson constitute the public members of the committee.

In the future, as the term of one member expires, a new one will be appointed for a term of three years. It is felt by the Central Committee that some continuity in the budget review committee will make easier the work both of the committee and the member agencies. Mrs. Wolosin of 18 Fairview avenue, will represent the Summit Child Care Center and Mr. Snyder of 36 Beekman terrace, the YMCA. Member agencies' representation on the Committee is rotated.

Mrs. Spitzli Reappointed To County Welfare Board

Mrs. Beatrice H. Spitzli of 24 Oak Ridge avenue was re-appointed last week by the Board of Freeholders to serve another five-year term on the County Welfare Board.

Mrs. Spitzli, the wife of Donald H. Spitzli, has been chairman of the board for the last two years. The office carries no salary.

Civil Service Lists Exam for Postmaster Job

An oral examination for Postmaster of the Summit office has been announced by the Civil Service Commission. The deadline for the filing of applications is April 22. The post pays $7,020 annually.

According to the announcement, applicants will be rated competitively on evaluation of their business or professional experience and training and general fitness for the position. Applicants must have several years experience showing they have the ability to direct, manage and operate efficiently the work of a large business organization. They must also demonstrate leadership qualities and ability to direct relatively large groups of people through immediate supervisors. In addition, they must show that they can deal agreeably and effectively with the public.

There is a one-year local residence requirement for all applicants and a 10-point preference will be given to disabled veterans. Other veterans not disabled will be given a 5-point preference. Candidates will be rated on a scale of 100 on the basis of an evaluation of their business experience and general fitness for the position.

The names of the highest three eligibles will be certified to the Post Office Department for final appointment. The Department may select any one of the three subject to nomination by the President and confirmation by the U.S. Senate.

Complete information about the examination requirements and instructions for filing applications may be obtained at the Summit Post Office.

The Postmaster job is now held by Louis P. Ciallo who was named acting postmaster pending the Civil Service test earlier this year. Ciallo was recommended for the vacancy, which was created last year by the death of Theodore F. Van Dyke, by the Republican City Committee by a two-vote margin.

Robert M. Dunsmore, local businessman and former president of the Summit Area Chamber of Commerce, who was a candidate for the appointment, said this week that he will be an applicant for the examination.

Summit One of Three Towns With Tax Drop

Summit was one of three municipalities in Union County that cut back local property taxes for this year, according to a table of tax rates compiled by the county Board of Taxation. Increases are listed for 15 communities.

Springfield offers the lowest tax rate of any town by cutting its 1957 rate of $10.69 to $5.77 through a revaluation program of property. The second lowest rate is at Linden where the 1957 rate of $6.42 was dropped to $5.34.

Summit's new rate is $6.40 as compared with last year's rate of $6.45.

Winfield has the highest rate for the county with $12.34 and the next highest is in Berkeley Heights where the 1958 rate is set at $10.06. The Heights' rate represents a 40 cent increase from last year's $9.66.

New Providence lists a 1958 rate of $7.25 as compared with $7.16 for last year.

Comparative rates for all communities except Elizabeth, Rahway and Roselle where budgets have not yet been approved, are as follows:

waiting are Miss Janet MacDaniels, left, and Miss Sally Roberts, right. Miss Staplin, whose crown consisted of a garland of flowers and her scepter, a bouquet of red roses, was elected by the entire class to reign for the night.

Public Invited To Meeting of New School Group

An open meeting of the newly formed citizens' group on education has been called for Wednesday, April 9, at 8:15 p.m. in Lincoln School auditorium. Any Summit resident interested in an encouragement of high academic standards in Summit schools is invited to attend, according to the steering committee of the new organization.

The purpose of the meeting will be to choose a permanent name, to establish objectives and to consider means for carrying them out. Future plans call for research into the facts of Summit education, as well as education in other comparable communities, and public dissemination of this information. The intention of the new group is to work with the Board of Education wherever possible.

A newsletter released to members this week points out there will be no duplication with the work of other organizations in Summit. There are many other groups interested in education, including the Lay Committee, the PTA, College Club and League of Women Voters, but none of these groups represents all the citizens of Summit. The Lay Committee on Education represents various civic organizations rather than individuals, and studies a single subject for two years — currently, "Influences on the Child's Behavior and Scholastic Achievement." The PTA has no citywide organization and is generally composed of parents of children attending public school. The College Club and League of Women Voters are restricted to women, the letter said.

Unlike these organizations, the new citizens' group is a grass roots movement open to everyone and hopes to serve as a public forum for those who believe it possible and essential to maintain the highest academic standards to meet the challenge of the future, the newsletter stated.

Post Office Has Stamp Dispensers For Sale

A handy plastic dispenser for 3 cent stamps is now on sale at the Summit Post Office and other post offices in the nation.

Useful in homes and offices, and easy to carry in a purse, the dispenser sells for 5 cents when purchased with a roll of 100 three cent stamps. The dispensers can not be purchased alone.

Made of a translucent plastic, the dispensers are designed to eject stamps singly. Its two pieces snap together to form a drum-shaped unit which measures about one and three-quarters inches in diameter and one and one-eighth inches in height.

No School Tomorrow

Because of Good Friday tomorrow, all city schools will be closed, the Board of Education announced this week. Schools will reopen on Monday, April 7.

Jay-Cees Vote School Teacher 'Top Citizen'

William (Doc) Lukens, chemistry teacher at Summit High School, was the surprised recipient of the first annual "Citizen-of-the-Year Award" presented by the Summit Area Junior Chamber of Commerce at its dinner meeting Tuesday evening at the Hotel Suburban.

An audience of more than 40 Jaycees and their guests witnessed the presentation. Among the distinguished guests present were Mrs. G. E. Low, president of the Board of Education; Alton J. Gast, principal of Summit High School; Irving Fenner, president of the New Jersey State Junior Chamber of Commerce, and Joseph Sepkoski, vice president of the State Jaycees.

The Jaycee award to Mr. Lukens consisted of an engraved plaque and a framed citation which described the recipient as a "teacher . . . man of science . . . and benefactor of youth."

Presentation of the plaque was made by Jaycee President William H. Meyer, Jr.; the citation was presented by W. M. Shelby, chairman of the chapter's awards committee.

A 'Devoted' Teacher

In his introduction of Mr. Lukens, Mr. Shelby typified him as a "devoted and master teacher." He pointed out that the award winner was popularly known as "Doc" among his pupils, "and not without reason for he is a 'doctor' of many things, but principally one of ministering to the curricular ills of his students."

President Meyer explained that the award was based on several factors, notably: devotion to profession, teaching ability, leadership and inspirational qualities, sincerity, integrity and civic activity. He also added that, while it was particularly appropriate that a teacher of the sciences should be named for the first award in 1958 a science-conscious year, the recipient, Mr. Lukens, in effect represented all members of "a revered profession" in the area served by the Summit Jaycees.

The ceremony came as a

New Location for Child Care Center Hits Zoning Snag

A request for a zoning variance which would permit the Summit Child Care Center to occupy property at 700 Springfield avenue, will be heard by the Zoning Board of Adjustment at its next regular meeting on Monday, April 14 at City Hall.

The property lies in an A-10 single family residential zone which prohibits use of such an area for institutional use.

For the last several months the Summit Child Care Center, aided by several service clubs in the city, has sought to expand its facilities which are now located at Memorial Field. In January representatives of the Center and the Junior Fortnightly Club met with the Board of Recreation to request permission for the construction of a new building at Mable Field.

Mable Site Hit Snag

At that time the Board of Recreation expressed interest in the project providing that a new building for use by the Child Care Center did not reduce the playground area, which has already been termed inadequate for summer use. The matter was referred to Common Council.

Members of the Child Care Center have been looking unsuccessfully for the last two years for another location suitable for their needs. The Board of Recreation has permitted use of the Field House but has requested the Center to find a new location after the present school year.

The Center cares for children whose mothers are ill or who must work in order to support the family and also children of nurses and other employees at Overlook Hospital. Formation of an all-day program has been hampered by lack of proper facilities.

In another application, the zoning Board will hear a request by the Martindale-Hubbell Co. to permit construction of an employee parking lot, although the area lies in an A-6 residential zone, which prohibits such use.

Markets Agree to Thrive Daily Round-up of Carts

Local super markets have promised the city they will take steps to keep their carts off streets.

Last week representatives of four markets met with Deputy Police Chief John Sayre and City Solicitor Peter C. Triolo to discuss the problem of wandering market carts.

The markets said they would patrol their properties and nearby streets three times daily for abandoned carts and would post more signs reminding customers to return carts taken from stores. City officials agreed to give the plan a trial before drafting a city ordinance controlling carts.

Both police and markets have been inconvenienced by retrieving carts left in parking lots and streets. In many instances the carts are abandoned several blocks from markets.

Protest by 200 Checks Council On Mountain Ave. Widening

In the face of an avalanche of protests from nearly 200 area residents, Common Council Tuesday night formally withheld approval of county plans to widen Mountain avenue from Division avenue in Summit to Diamond Hill road in Berkeley Heights.

City Faces Loss Of 17 Trains in DL&W Cutback

Summit faces loss of 17 non-rush hour trains each week and 2-hour service for Sunday runs if a proposed petition of the Lackawanna Railroad to curtail service on the Morristown line is upheld by the State Public Utilities Commission, it was learned this week.

The curtailment would affect nine daily, six Saturday and two Sunday trains, and would entail the consolidation of 12 trains during the entire week.

The railroad contends in an application to the Public Utilities Commission that it is to be heard today that there will be an estimated annual saving of $88,000 if service is cut back on its Morristown and Montclair lines.

The action would discontinue or consolidate 91 electrified trains, including 29 on the Morristown line and 62 on the Montclair branch. The proposed changes, plus curtailment of some Buffalo trains, were made known over the weekend when the railroad posted notices in stations along both branches, including Summit.

If the proposal is upheld, the Morristown line would lose 17 trains running east and west between Morris Plains, Summit and Hoboken. The other 12 would be consolidated.

Public Hearing Today

A public hearing on the petition is scheduled for 11 a.m. today before the Commission, 1100 Raymond boulevard, Newark. Mayor Ogden D. Gensemer, as well as mayors of seven other communities in Morris and Union counties, have requested a postponement of the hearing for 30 days on grounds that the railroad has given no justification for its hasty action.

The 15-by-30-inch blue and white placards placed in all stations affected were signed by J. A. Croddock, superintendent, Morris and Essex division.

In a letter to the Council, the railroad said it could see "no inconvenience to commuters" as well as "non-rush hour patrons," if the petition is granted.

Barbara Ward Final Speaker At Athenaeum

The Athenaeum, following its golden anniversary year plan to bring back to the high school platform some of the most popular lecturers who have appeared there, will have Barbara Ward as the last speaker of the current season next Thursday evening (April 10). She will discuss "Unity of the Free World."

Wife of an Australian naval officer, Commander Sir Robert Jackson, now stationed in Melbourne, Lady Jackson, at the age of 43, is one of Britain's most brilliant writers. Few women have played so important a role, journalistically and economically, in the life of post-war London, as this graduate of Oxford and the Sorbonne. Miss Ward had become, at the age of 24, foreign editor of the world-famous London Economist. She first achieved recognition through her book, The International Share-Out, an evaluation of colonial policies, published in 1938. She subsequently became a governor of the British Broadcasting Company, the Old Vic Theatre and the Sadlers Wells Ballet. A prominent lay Catholic and a staunch advocate of the United Nations, Miss Ward continues to write on world economics for the New York Times and the London Economist.

Her other books include, Policy for the West, The West at Bay, Faith and Freedom and The Sword of the Spirit.

The Athenaeum lectures are open only to members, and membership has always been limited by the capacity of the High School auditorium.

Council President Hugo B. Riemer told some 50 Mountain avenue and Ashland road residents in attendance that no Council action would be forthcoming because of the "massive opposition to the plan."

Many property owners had attended the meeting because of expected Council action and to voice their objections if the county plan received city approval.

Opposition to the widening of Mountain avenue as well as to the road's increased use, was voiced in two petitions. One, signed by 84 property owners, seeks to "limit the entire length of Ashland road and of Mountain avenue to local residential traffic" and "to divert . . . foreign commercial and commuter traffic" from the two routes.

Che Increased Traffic

The petition further stated that "increased business development in the Murray Hill area had increased the flow of through traffic on Mountain avenue and Ashland road to other communities," thereby "endangering the lives" of children who must cross either of the streets to and from school.

In addition, the residents maintained that the increased traffic "depreciates the value of residential property in the southern section of Summit."

The other petition, signed by 82 Mountain avenue and Ashland road area homeowners, voiced strong opposition to any attempt to widen the roads.

According to the proposed widening program, from Division avenue, the Summit-New Providence dividing line, the road would be widened from its present 24 feet to 40 feet including shoulders. This section passes Drum Hill, Tall Oaks and Countryside.

Also bombarded by protests this week was the Union County Board of Freeholders who deferred further action on the proposal pending additional study.

Lack of Employee Parking Hit

Other Council matters included the receipt of letters from the Chamber of Commerce and Harry M. Paulsen of 7 Beechwood road, protesting the lack of parking facilities for locally employed persons.

Mr. Paulsen suggested the use of a special parking lot for those working in the area for which monthly rentals might possibly be paid.

On the other hand, the Chamber suggested the construction of a special parking lot for those employed in the city at a city-owned site at Summit avenue and Broad street. This site was the former veterans' housing area used by city immediately following World War 2.

Both requests were based on the alleged difficulty of those working in the area to find available parking spaces upon arriving at place of business at 9 a.m.

In another letter 68 Summit residents pressed for city construction of an ice-skating rink.

Summit Trust Co. was announced the successful bidder for a $1,125,000 bond issue for schools, parking lots and other general purpose project. Of 16 financial institutions bidding for the bond issue, Summit Trust Co. was low with a 2.65 per cent interest rate. The high bid was 2.90 per cent.

Council also received a letter from Effa H. Maroney, secretary of the Summit Council of Churches, upholding the Sunday ban on business and deploring the "increasing commercialization" of the Sabbath.

Sayre Named to CD Post

Other Council matters included the appointment of Deputy Chief John B. Sayre to the Civil Defense and Disaster Control Council by Mayor Ogden D. Gensemer to replace Edward K. Egan.

Council appointed A. Gelormini as a special police officer, rescinded the appointment of Special nance the production stages of the annual Winter Market to be held this year on November 19 and 20.

The new plan is similar in that it involves fun with finance. Beginning in April and running through till the fall, about fifty hostesses in Summit and vicinity will be mailing out invitations for a variety of "Market Basket Parties" on which will be indicated whether the occasion is to be a tea, coffee, luncheon, bridge, or other type of entertainment. At each of these, donations will be left by the guests to "help fill the Winter Market Basket."

Final party plans were set last week by Mrs. Thomas G. Andrian, Robert S. McClintock, Jr., and Mrs. William Ruch, assistant Market chairmen; Mrs. Eric North, Mrs. Walter H. Reichenbach, and Mrs. Ray C. Malone, party chairmen; and Mrs. Bruce B. Findley, YWCA Board president.

Many of the Market Booth chairman with their committee members, have been at work since early in January, particularly those responsible for sewing of both fancy and practical items, hand knitting, a wide variety of holiday novelties, Christmas decorations, and wonder bar items. Activity has also begun on canning and preserving for the "pantry shelf." Donations of new materials in any sizes or amounts, usable for any of the above, will be gratefully received at the YWCA, or a phone call to CR. 3-4242 will bring someone to pick them up.

The two-day annual Market is the largest fund raising event of the general membership of the YWCA. Originally for the purpose of financing its pledge to YWCA World Fellowship, the affair has so grown in size that the largest amount of the proceeds are used for local YWCA program for which contributions from the Summit and New Providence United Campaigns are insufficient.

Summit hostesses who are already planning to entertain include Mrs. Thomas Davis, Mrs. David Knowles, Mrs. H. D. McGeorge, Jr., Mrs. Samuel McFarland, Mrs. Paul Mitchell, Mrs. Joseph Moore, Mrs. J. C. Wilbourne, Mrs. Harold Young, Mrs. Edward Babbott, Mrs. Paul Bearer, Mrs. William S. Dean, Mrs. Norman Hill, Mrs. Herbert Pinepuka, Mrs. Thomas P. Carlson, Mrs. Fred Perst, Mrs. Harold Graves, Mrs. Allison Hearn, Mrs. Allen Maybee.

Entertaining together will be Misses Eleanor and Katherine Bennett with Miss Frances Leggett, Mrs. Robert Teel with Mrs. Lucius Collier, and Mrs. C. E. Morrell with Mrs. S. Dupue.

Also entertaining will be Mrs. John R. Miller of Chatham Township, Mrs. Hugh Hunter and Mrs. Otto A. Shipley, Jr., of Short Hills, Mrs. Fred P. Greenley of New Providence, and Mrs. L. P. Sudrabin of Berkeley Heights.

Board of Recreation Airs Plans for New Play Areas

What North Summit residents look forward to in new recreational facilities were described in detail last Thursday to more than 100 homeowners, at a meeting of the Canoe Brook Association at Washington School.

The principal speaker was Mrs. Winthrop A. Mac Master, immediate past president and currently a member of the Board of Recreation Commissioners. She was assisted during a question and answer period by Harlan S. Kennedy, director of recreation and secretary of the Board of Recreation Commissioners, and Alan J. Schmitz, a member of the Board.

"I want to assure those of you who live close to the proposed recreation areas," Mrs. MacMaster said, "that you will soon consider it a distinct advantage, and I speak from personal experience. You will even have an advantage that we who live near Memorial Park do not, for we are planning for off-the-street parking."

Mrs. MacMaster told the gathering that Memorial Field will not be abandoned. "Right now it is inadequate for present needs," she said, "and the new recreation areas are intended to supplement it." She indicated that the proposed park along Butler parkway behind Washington School, would be known as Tatlock Memorial Park, in memory of the late Gerald W. Tatlock, one-time president of the Board of Recreation Commissioners.

Drawings Shown

As described by Mr. Kennedy, who presented a plan drawing of both proposed parks, Tatlock Memorial Park will have a play area for small children near Washington School, an artificial skating rink, a practice football field, four asphalt tennis courts, a large outdoor swimming pool, horseshoe pits, a shelter house and an enclosed athletic field for football and track events. There will also be a parking area for approximately 300 cars. This is expected to eliminate any street parking with the possible exception of the four home games which the Summit High football team will play there. There will be bleachers for the athletic field similar to those now at Memorial Park. "This is not going to be a stadium," Mr. Kennedy pointed out.

All facilities will be located between Washington School and the brook which runs through the area. From the brook to River road, the land will be landscaped as a park.

The artificial skating rink will be 85 by 200 feet, with pipes for freezing. In the summer its concrete surface will be utilized for other activities, such as badminton.

The swimming pool, of unusual design, will have a 50 by 75 foot area for swimming, a 40 by 40 foot deep area for diving and a 40 by 40 foot shallow area for beginners. There will also be a separate wading pool.

For both the pool and the skating rink there will be nominal fees, so that the facilities will be self-sustaining in regard to maintenance and operation.

In part of the field house, which will adjoin the athletic field, there will be showers and locker rooms for the use of home and visiting teams. This is seen as a solution to the present problem which makes Memorial Field inadequate for Summit High School athletics. The field house will also serve the swimming pool during the summer months.

Cost Estimated at $500,000.

It is estimated that Tatlock Memorial Park will cost approximately $500,000. A timetable has been set up, with the athletic field at the top of the list. This facility alone is estimated to cost $140,000, according to Mr. Schmitz, who suggested the possibility of a bond issue.

Plans for the Vanderpoel tract include a safe skating pond, with a heated shelter house. At present the pond is eight feet in some spots, which is termed hazardous for most skaters. It is planned to make the pond a uniform 3 1/2 to 4 feet deep.

The remaining area will be landscaped and fireplaces and picnic tables will be installed. "This will provide a pleasant entrance to our city," said Mr. Kennedy. Parking here will provide for approximately 125 cars near the junction of Iris and River roads. It is expected that the pond will be ready for skating by next winter.

During the business meeting of the Association, the following officers were elected to serve one year: Paul Bearer, 96 Canoe Brook parkway, president; Joseph Gordon, 10 Canoe Brook place, vice president; Norman Lane, 6 Karen way, secretary; Howard Stuewe, 97 Butler parkway, treasurer; Edward Korb, 19 Wade drive; Edward McManus, 61 Wade drive; Bernard Meislin, 6 Sheridan road; George Naimark, 87 Canoe Brook parkway, and Robert Rader, 21 Wallace road, trustees. God's infinite power and goodness will be emphasized at Christian Science services this Sunday. The lesson-sermon on "Unreality" will include the Scriptural account of Christ Jesus' healing of the woman who had "a spirit of infirmity" eighteen years, and was bowed together, and could in no wise lift up herself" (Luke 13). Correlative passages to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following (263:3-3): "Inasmuch as God is good and the fount of all being, He does not produce moral or physical deformity; therefore such deformity is not real, but is illusion, the mirage of error."

The golden text is from Job (21:13): "Surely God will not hear vanity, neither will the Almighty regard it."

THURSDAY, APRIL 2, 1958

"God Is in His Heaven"

With the last patches of snow rapidly disappearing from lawns and yards and the cutting edge of winter's wind growing duller by the day, it is no wonder that Easter is the great symbol of the resurgence of life.

Each year around this time, following winter's rampage, there seems to be a renewal of faith and new strength is found. The air becomes balmy and the sun shines a little brighter. And there appears a green haze upon the land symbolizing another year of rebirth, of hope and faith.

Long-planted bulbs emerge from darkness in search of light and room in which to grow. Perennial garden favorites begin to bud and long-muzzled birds are again in evidence. And man himself, burdened with duties, will find time to aid his plants by vigorously cultivating, raking and pruning so that he may gaze upon things God created.

The Easter season seems to be symbolized by youth without thought to age; to rebirth, without thought to past mistakes or misdeeds. It is indeed a time of new life.

Easter, then, perhaps is the best time of year to start anew and to strive for the resurgence of youth and beauty. It should also be a time of understanding and hope, both among friends and family, in order to achieve the better life we so desperately desire for ourselves and others.

Spring is just another season but it includes the great symbol of Easter. "God is in His Heaven" and all should be right with the world.

The U. S. Senate Contest

The Summit Herald, which customarily at Primary Election time offers its opinions regarding the various Republican candidates, has been placed in a dilemma this year regarding the United States Senatorial contest. As it appears to us, the race is between two men, Congressman Robert W. Kean of Essex County and Bernard M. Shanley of Bernardsville, a Newark attorney and former appointments secretary for President Eisenhower. Little is known in our town of the third GOP aspirant, Robert Morris.

The choice between Mr. Kean and Mr. Shanley is an exceptionally difficult one to make. Both are excellent men, both are good campaigners, both have an abundance of seal and both will serve their party well at Washington. We are frank to say that there is very little difference in quality of both candidates. The Republican voter will be hard-pressed to make a selection.

Mr. Shanley enjoys the support of a great many local, county and state Republican leaders and their organizations but there is one important asset, in our opinion, that he lacks—and that is experience, and this, we think, tips the scales in favor of Mr. Kean.

The Herald has always been a great believer in experience for public office. It has always felt that any man who has occupied an office for a number of years and has done his work in an acceptable manner should have the support of his party when either seeking reelection or advancement.

Mr. Kean has gained an invaluable experience in his twenty years in Congress and has brought credit to his party, his state and himself. He is the ranking member of the vital Ways and Means Committee and is recognized by both Republicans and Democrats as an expert on taxes, tariffs and fiscal matters.

Mr. Shanley also has had a brief Washington experience but it has been on an entirely different level. He has been closely allied to the Administration and obviously enjoys the respect of the White House.

But such experience, we feel, does not help one to occupy a Senate seat for the best advantage of his party, his nation and his state. Much of the worth of a Senator is keyed to his knowledge of practical politics, the mechanism of drafting, introducing, supporting and maneuvering legislation. This is learned the hard way by serving in Congress.

Mr. Kean is looked upon as a bulwark of the Republican forces for economy in government.

As the counsel for the Joint Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation stated:

"I think he (Kean) has the best grasp of fiscal matters of any Republican on Capitol Hill."

But Mr. Kean also is no ultra-conservative. He has fought hard for broader Social Security benefits and for Social Welfare legislation in tune with the times such as slum clearance and school aid.

All this bespeaks experience; an experience that prompted the retiring U.S. Senator, H. Alexander Smith, to declare:

"Robert W. Kean is the best qualified and strongest candidate. He has my full support."

So there is Congressman Kean, a man of experience backed by a distinguished public career who is ending a distinguished public career. Mr. Kean stands firmly upon a record of competent service and a willingness to continue it. Seniority in Congress gives him a chance to be a leader in the Senate. Capacity has been added to the equation.

It is for these reasons that the Herald favors Mr. Kean.

Books Grown More Popular

There is a moss-grown old story of the friend who decided to give one of his associates a book for Christmas. "No," he was warned by his wife, "John already has a book." The inference that a single book in the house made a second one merely a duplication was supposed to be funny.

But there was a time, not so many years ago, when large libraries in homes seemed to be going out of style. The casual reading of classics hardly warranted ownership of the required volumes. They could be borrowed from the public library and current fiction could be obtained from the corner drug store for only a few cents a day.

Fortunately a change has come over the country. The chief contributing cause undoubtedly has been the creation of book clubs. They pick books each month they think the public will like; and their selections generally have been good. These clubs have grown and have become specialized, such as the Civil War Book Club which deals only in works pertaining to that great conflict.

The question arises: Are people reading more? The answer is yes. There is not only a much greater sale of all types of books these days but also a greater circulation of newspapers and magazines. Apparently television—which we were told would lead the nation into careless habits and all but abolish serious reading—has not had any effect upon the eagerness of the public to add to their libraries.

What is the result? According to reports people who are building homes insist that bookcases be included. And they keep the shelves filled, not just for decoration or furnishings for a cozy den, but as storage place for books that are read and used. Most homes now have small reference libraries, single volume encyclopedias, dictionaries, atlases, descriptive volumes and the like.

And accompanying this new desire for books has come an urge for additional education. The whole spirit of the country has changed. We may talk about the teen-ager as a dance-crazy, fun-loving, irrational creature. But that talk does not fit. It relates to some but not to all. It does not describe the typical boy or girl in the late teens. Behind the carefree attitude which is associated with youth lies a serious desire for self-improvement. Education, travel, literature—these things have come with a maturing generation.

What does it all mean? Nobody can rightfully say. But it offers a hope of a wiser, more thoughtful, constructive frame around the customary picture we paint of human life. The younger generation demands more education. Those who are older demand more books. It is a good trend for it promises higher standards.

About Those College Doors

The widely-publicized claim that lack of facilities is "closing the door" on college opportunities for New Jersey youth has been hauled up short—high up in educational circles.

Dr. Peter Samartino, president of Fairleigh-Dickinson University, and Dr. Alfred D. Donovan, vice president in charge of student personnel service, at Seton Hall University, appeared before the Joint Legislative Appropriations Committee recently to challenge the "closing door" theme. This theme has been used to support the demand for a $76 million tax supported program to provide new facilities at the State teachers colleges and Rutgers University.

While not denying the need for continued intelligent expansion of higher education facilities, the private college spokesmen shed encouraging light upon an otherwise bleak picture of collegiate opportunity in New Jersey.

They told the Committee that many New Jersey colleges are not operating to capacity enrollment and that many classrooms are vacant for part of the day. Likewise, private college officials also minimize the threat that academic facilities outside the State will be closed to New Jersey students to the extent frequently claimed. They point out that New Jersey institutions regularly receive a large number of students from outside the state and that this interchange is not only inevitable but desirable.

Now that this controversy is in the open it should be resolved, points out the New Jersey Taxpayers Association—before the State proceeds with multi-million dollar expenditures for additional public college facilities. This, the Association observed, is in the interest of all taxpayers who, in addition to supporting the growing needs of higher, as well as elementary and secondary public education, are confronted with staggering demands for tax funds for water supply, highway and other facilities along with skyrocketing operating costs of state and local governments.

LETTERS

Say "Hello," Not "Goodbye"

Editor, Summit Herald:

In every community there are those who talk little and do much to better the life of the city, and then there are those who sit on the sidelines, make no effort to understand problems or contribute to their solution, but take paid advertisements in the newspaper and write "I'm fed up" and "let's get out of town" letters. The latter are the voices of those who are quick to criticize and irresponsible enough to run.

This city is no different than any other city in that the automobile has created difficult and sometimes insurmountable problems of traffic congestion. But this city, in spite of its "hit and run" critics, has made an honest and long range study of its problems and after public hearings and public discussion, proceeded to do something about them.

We have, today, in the city of Summit more off-street parking facilities than any other town its size in the State of New Jersey. And we have more parking lots in the planning stage and more under construction.

Change and progress, especially at the rate that Summit has tackled the problem, has not been without effect. The inauguration of the new parking facilities created new problems of police effectiveness and efficiency plus new problems of administration. The motorists bore the brunt of an over-zealous "meter-maid" brigade, and the excess of parking tickets was a topic of heated conversation throughout town.

In time, the motorist learned to distinguish between the half-hour street meters designed to create constantly available parking places for the "quick errand," and the longer one to two hour meters of the municipal lots, designed for longer shopping trips. In time too, the administration has learned to ease up considerably on the policing of the meters. The number of tickets handed out today has been drastically reduced and the situation (as evidenced by comparative statistics) is constantly being improved.

I would match the integrity and intelligence of our present police chief against any police administration anywhere, and his I.Q. against the detractors of the police force.

If anything, it's time to say "hello" to Summit as a city that's "on the ball." Mistakes have been made, but we have accomplished more than any other like-sized city in the State. Sure, let's air our problems, write letters to the editor, criticize and seek better solutions—that is part of the democratic process. But, those who would prefer to "hit and run" contribute nothing to their town.

Group Not Misquoting Editor, Summit Herald: In the Summit Herald issue of March 27, you published and commented on a letter from Charles S. Ross, chairman of the Summit Lay Committee on Education. Mr. Ross went to great lengths to disavow any connection between the Lay Committee and the new citizens' group described in the Herald of March 13 as the "Citizens' Committee on Education".

As a member of the steering committee of the new group, I feel that Mr. Ross has every right indeed, the obligation to make it clear that our group has no connection with the Lay Committee. However, I also feel that Mr. Ross has gone far beyond the needs of clarifying the position of the Lay Committee.

We do not wish to engage in any controversy with the Lay Committee or any other group which is interested in the welfare of Summit and its institutions. Nevertheless, I wish to point out the following facts:

1—Our group has not yet formally adopted any name for the organization. "Citizens' Committee on Education" is only one of several titles which have been proposed. Mr. Ross is accordingly criticizing something which has not been done. Furthermore, the group consists of a substantial number of Summit citizens who are interested in education and the aforementioned proposed title may well be a suitable description.

2—Some of the members of the new group are also members of the Lay Committee's aims. If the title ultimately adopted by our group has any similarity to that of the Lay Committee it will be because that title best describes our aims and purposes and will not be an attempt to "cloak our action with a seeming significance which these actions do not have."

3—Mr. Ross referred to the "Philosophy of Education" circulated by our group and stated that the Lay Committee has not subscribed to it. It should be understood that this statement, together with a questionnaire, was circulated to various parents of Summit school children in an effort to determine whether or not there was a substantial number of such parents who agreed in essence on a basic philosophy and the means of implementing it. Neither the philosophy nor any of the means have as yet been formulated.

Here Are the Answers to Your Questions on SAVINGS INSURANCE

1. Exactly what is savings insurance?
ANSWER: It is a method of protection for the safety of your savings, devised and implemented by the U.S. Government. It is offered only by "insured institutions." Summit Federal Savings is an insured institution.
2. What protection is afforded?
ANSWER: Each saver in Summit Federal is insured against any and all loss of money in his savings account, up to a total of $10,000 for each saver.
3. Who issues the insurance?
ANSWER: The Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, an instrumentality of the U.S. Government.
4. How would the insurance be paid, if necessary?
ANSWER: In the event of default of an insured institution, the law requires the F.S.L.I.C. to pay the total due each saver in cash, or to transfer the account to a nearby insured institution, from which the money may be withdrawn in full if desired.
5. Is this method of protection substantially different in any way from the insurance offered by other types of insured banking institutions?
ANSWER: No.

Daly Seeks Cut In Number of Municipalities

"Regional planning" and "elimination of many Union County municipalities" into "larger city units" received support last week from a dozen party workers, guests of Eugene F. Daly, 787 Springfield avenue, at a campaign meeting at his home.

Mr. Daly, campaigning for two Republican nominations at the April primary, one for a freeholder post, and the other, a Second Ward Common Council seat in opposition to incumbent David E. Truckess, said it "imperative that freeholders and Common Council place regional planning on their calendars for early action."

Mr. Daly, a native of Summit, member of Newark Typographical Union 103 AFL-CIO, the auxiliary police of Summit Defense Council, Summit Lodge 1243 BPOE, and solicitor for the Red Cross, believes "present systems of municipal government in this county, as in most metropolitan areas, were designed for stage coach days." He is convinced "Taxpayers no longer can afford the luxury of so many municipal governments. The number should be cut at least in half, though many entrenched politicians will object. They seek self-perpetuation as do many freeholders and councilmen," Mr. Daly stated.

Polio Foundation Aide To Address Scientists

The meeting, which is open to the public without charge, will be at 8 p.m. at the Celanese Corporation auditorium, Morris Avenue.

Morristown Talk To Wind Up GOP Senatorial Race

A final, climactic debate between the three Republican senatorial aspirants will take place next Thursday, April 10, at 8 p.m. in Morristown High School auditorium on Early street under the auspices of the Morristown Forum Association.

The candidates — Congressman Robert W. Kean of Livingston, Robert Morris of Point Pleasant, and Bernard Shanley of Bernardsville—each will have 15 minutes to present his case, after which there will be a question and answer period lasting until 10 p.m., with questions alternated between the three candidates. There will then follow a five minute "rebuttal" or summing up by each candidate.

There will be no admission charge for the debate. Prof. James E. Downes, formerly of Summit High School, will be moderator.

Violations Cost Two $33

Disorderly conduct and violation of the dog ordinance cost two men $33 last week in Municipal Court.

Found guilty by Judge Albert H. Bierman of disorderliness at the DL&W station on March 18, was James O'Donnell, no home. He was fined $25. For permitting a dog to run loose, T. Allison of 25 Edgewood road was fined $8.

Summit to Pay $50,000 More In County Tax

County tax levies for 1958 show increases for every municipality with the exception of Berkeley Heights, according to figures released this week on county and local taxes by the Union County Board of Taxation.

Summit will pay the county a total of $510,000 this year, which is an increase of $50,000 from last year. Other heavy contributors to the county coffers are Plainfield with $955,419, an increase of $71,000 and Westfield with $372,755, an increase of $66,000.

The increases were due to a reduction in the equalization ratio in each town but Berkeley Heights. That community's tax payment will drop from $172,222 in 1957 to $170,771 this year because of the drop.

Springfield, the only town in the county to undergo a revaluation of its property during the past year, will pay the county $80,000 more as a result. By adding 24 million in ratables through the program, Springfield will see its assessment rise from $226,700 to $316,905.

The new county rate is .3187, an increase of .0074 over the 1957 figure.

It is based on the $2,390,425,789 in real property in the county and the $8,240,000 the county must raise by taxation to run the county government. Both of these figures have increased this year.

Linden, with a tax bill of $1,157,901, pays the most toward county operation. Elizabeth is next with an assessment of $1,111,573. Union, with $994,769 is in third place.

surprise to Bill Lukens, who had attended the meeting under the pretext of assisting Mr. Gast and Mrs. Low in a panel discussion and a question-and-answer period on the subject of "Teaching in the Summit Schools." The program, of course, did not take place; however, the two members of the school administration participated instead in the tribute to the faculty member.

Family Also Present

Among the interested spectators at the ceremony were Mr. Lukens' wife, Estelle, and their daughter, Patty. The family resides at 41 Constantine Place.

Mr. Lukens is advisor of the Summit High School Service Committee, a group devoted to practicing high ideals of school citizenship, courtesy and service. He is active in the New Jersey Science Teachers' Association and in the Summit Teachers' Association, serving on the latter's Liaison, Economic Welfare and Curricula Committees. He is also a member of the Radchem Division of the Summit Civil Defense organization.

Earlier in the program, State Jaycee President Fenner spoke about the work carried on by the Junior Chamber organization with the youth of American, particularly through the medium of the schools. Among the youth activities he cited which are now being carried on by the Summit Area chapter were: Teen-Age Road-e-o, a safe driving competition; Voice of Democracy, a declamation contest; junior golf tournament; junior Olympics, and child safety.

During the business meeting, Mr. Meyer presented a past president's pin to E. Robert Potter and a past vice president's pin to Charles M. Morgan, Jr., who is moving this month to Saginaw, Mich.

Members of the awards committee who arranged the meeting were: Chairman Shelby, George Conway, William W. Corbitt, Robert Hogan, and Walter Pfarr.

Local Woman Enters Senior Hobby Show

Summit's first registrant for this year's Senior Citizens' Hobby Show is Mrs. Edna J. Mitchell of 150 Broad street. One of many North Jersey residents expected to take part, Mrs. Mitchell will display an intricate hooked rug and delicate towels of Swedish weaving. Her third year as an exhibitor, Mrs. Mitchell's entries in 1956 were prize-winners.

Applications for the ninth annual exhibit are being accepted now. Co-sponsored by the Newark Council of Social Agencies and the Soroptimist Club of Newark, the Hobby Show is open to all New Jersey hobbyists age 60 or over. Submitted material will be on display during store hours at Kresge-Newark during the week of April 21.

Resident Designs Delta Tau Delta's New Lehigh Home

Plans for the construction of a $250,000 Delta Tau Delta fraternity chapter house for Lehigh University that has been designed by a Summit architect were announced this week by the university.

The building, of Colonial design, is the second fraternity for Lehigh to be designed by the Newark firm of Bauer & Corbett in the last five years. The firm in 1953 designed a $140,000 home for Sigma Chi fraternity at Lehigh.

William Corbett, a member of the firm, lives at 114 Oak Ridge avenue. His partner, Charles H. Bauer, Jr. lives at Chatham and is a Lehigh graduate, Class of 1953.

Andrew W. Litzberger, superintendent of buildings and grounds, in outlining plans for the new structure, said it will be of brick construction to harmonize with other housing units in the Sayre Park section of the Lehigh University campus.

The building will be 40 feet wide and 107 feet long. It will be built on a site south of the recently completed home of Phi Sigma Kappa and north of the Chi Psi lodge. It will house 36 students.

The ground floor will feature a modernly equipped kitchen, a dining room 20 feet by 28 feet, and a recreation room 27 feet by 40 feet.

The first floor plans call for a living room 22 feet by 32 feet, conference room, library, an alumni suite, living quarters for the housekeeper, as well as five study rooms and a dormitory area for ten students. The second floor will have 3 study rooms, each 11 feet by 9 feet, and three dormitory areas for sleeping.

This will be the fourth unit built on the campus in the past seven years. Sigma Phi was housed in a new $115,000 home in 1951. Sigma Chi moved to new $140,000 quarters in 1953, and Phi Sigma occupied a new unit costing $200,000 in January, 1957.

Our group, which held its first organizational meeting as recently as March 5, has been drawn together by a mutual interest in fostering high academic standards in the Summit schools and proposes to work for this general objective. At this early date we cannot give an official statement of our aims in more detail. As a member of the steering committee for the citizens' group, the undersigned is at present working with the other members on proposals as to the name and program of the group. These will be presented to the entire membership at an early date and we expect that the

Urges Ice Risk Campaign

Editor, Summit Herald:

I know that many of your readers, including the members of the Board of Recreation, agree that the City of Summit should build an artificial ice skating rink.

Unfortunately, a good many people are under the impression that the plans submitted by the Board of Recreation have already been approved by the Common Council, and all they have to do is to sit back and wait for the water to freeze. Actually, the plans are currently being studied by the Council, but so far, no concrete action has been taken, and we have no assurance that anything will be done.

Now is the time, while they are studying the plans, to let them know that we want an ice skating rink, and want it ready for use this coming fall.

The whole project could be financed by bonds and managed on a break-even basis so that it would not cost the taxpayers a cent. As a matter of fact, it might even make money.

Let's swamp "The Honorable Mayor and Common Council" with penny post cards that say:

We Want an Artificial Ice Skating Rink

Sharpen up your skates and I'll meet you and your children on the ice next October.

Alfred O. Ashman,
160 Tulip Street.

Replies to Police Critic

Editor, Summit Herald:

After reading John Kenson's letter in last week's Summit Herald I was somewhat perplexed as to his attitude regarding the four reasons why he won't shop in Summit and what he intends to do about it. Obviously Mr. Kenson is quite disturbed, to say the least.

In answer to his letter I must begin by saying that I am truly sorry for his grievances that he has listed and sorrier for his reasoning, so why not sit down, relax and let's analyze his problem.

The first grievance, "The unreasonable quantity of parking tickets being issued." In sincerity, Mr. Kenson, if you will just take about 15 minutes of your time and walk down Springfield avenue and cover one or two side streets and check all the violations on the parking meters, you would undoubtedly phrase your opinion to read "The unreasonable quantity of parking violations."

Grievance No. 2 you state as follows: "The variety of parking meter time limits (obviously designed as a trap)." I am sure that you are aware of the various meters ranging from 12 minutes to 2 hours for parking. Common sense would dictate that if we are on a shopping spree we would not possibly park our car at a 30-minute meter when there are public parking lots and meters available for longer intervals. So the thing to do is to relegate our time and efforts by conforming with the time element allotted to us if we are to use meters. You further state in parenthesis "obviously designed as a trap." I am certain, Mr. Kenson, that the men who planned and engineered the location for the various meters had no personal designs or intentions of duping the public into ticket traps.

You list as your third grievance: "The program to give out more tickets for all violations regardless of how minor the offense or what justification."

To analyze this grievance I can not take issue with you. I know of no program of this nature in Summit issued either by the Mayor or the Chief. Contrary to what you might believe, and this comes from reliable sources, our new Mayor called a special meeting with the entire Police Department shortly after he took office and informed all personnel to act as goodwill ambassadors and to their utmost to be kind, considerate and courteous to all. This, in essence, was only a small part of his talk.

In your fourth grievance you say, "The insulting attitude of the low intelligence police force." Mr. Kenson before I go any farther I just want you to know that I am not an orator nor do I possess a command of the English language but I hereby openly and publicly challenge you to a debate on this issue. When you say low intelligence police force, I gather that you mean every officer and patrolman from Chief down. Up to this point I am in sympathy with your problems and I can understand that there are days when everything seems to go wrong and perhaps wind up the day with a summons that you wouldn't have received in the first place. I am not stopped to chat with a neighbor about the snow we had this winter instead of walking to the meter and dropping a coin in it.

We realize that you didn't do this intentionally and neither did I when I received four tickets last year for overtime parking. I assume that you are an intelligent man but I am at a loss to understand your reasoning and I am going to tell you why.

I don't think you know each and every man on the force. In fact, I am convinced that you don't because if you did you couldn't have made the accusation. Let's assume that for every violation that you committed that an officer either issued you a summons or gave you a rough time. By virtue of the number of men on the Police Force that you came into contact with, I can assure you that your driving privileges would have been taken from you many moons ago. I can also assure you, Mr. Kenson, that not only is your statement untrue but you were completely out of order to issue such a statement to the newspaper. For these reasons and many more far too numerous to mention, I repeat that I am sorry for your reasoning.

It so happens that I know just about each and every man on the force and call them by their first names and am familiar with most of their backgrounds, their families, where they live, their education and their babies. Over 80 per cent own their own homes, and a goodly portion of them donate much of their time to child welfare and civic duties and have been doing so for many years. I can tell you of many more charitable enterprises that they have fostered but time and space will not allow me. Sure you will hear them beef once in a while but don't you and I beef now and then?

Of course they get angry once in a while and lose their patience, but did you ever stand traffic duty for 7 1/2 hours in zero weather and not know if you had hands or feet and be unable to blow a whistle because it was frozen and at the same time act as a goodwill ambassador?

These men are human the same as you and I, Mr. Kenson, and they are out there doing a good job in all kinds of weather in a manner that is certainly a credit to them, their superiors and the City of Summit. It behooves each and every one of us to look up to these men in blue and obey and respect them. They are at our beck and call every minute of every day of every year. Long after you and I and our loved ones are snuggled in our beds sound asleep these men are on the job, guarding, watching and protecting us. And last but not least, Mr. Kenson, let's all get together and shop in Summit. Convince everyone else to shop in Summit and when Election Day comes let's all use our God-given privilege and exercise our right to vote for whomever we think is worthy of public office.

School Group Open to All

Editor, Summit Herald:
As a member of the Lay Committee on Education and also a member of the new citizens' group on education, I feel that the public needs frequent explanation of the Lay Committee, its history and its purpose.

The Lay Committee on Education was formed in 1944 "to study educational problems in the community . . . to approach these problems with a research attitude and study them in a scientific manner. The results of these findings will be reported to the Board of Education, and to the public, through the participating organizations and the press. . . Each member (civic) organization sends one representative to serve for two years. . . The members of the Board of Education, the Superintendent of Schools . . . are ex officio members. It is very important that a spirit of cooperation exist between the Board and the Lay Committee but equally important that there be no attempt at domination by the Board of Education."

Members of the Committee suggest, discuss problems and then vote to select one person to study for a two-year period. Valuable studies in the past have been on teachers' salaries, school population, school housing, recreational facilities for children of school age, and the current item, "Influences on the Child's Behavior and Scholastic Achievement." (This report is due this summer.) The Committee meets regularly during the school year on the third Thursday evening of the month, and between general meetings, as subcommittees to study and do research on particular phases of the current study item.

The general public cannot belong to the Lay Committee; only one authorized representative (plus an alternate) from each participating organization may belong. Members function as interested, hard-working volunteers who report back to their organizations and discuss the final report every two years with a view to getting endorsement from the member organizations.

The new citizens' group (as yet not officially named by its membership, and not yet officially organized) is open to every citizen of Summit who is interested in aims and purposes of the group, which can be stated generally as "to foster and encourage high academic standards in the Summit schools." Parents, grandparents, taxpayers are all welcome if they wish to contribute to achieving this purpose by means of research, parent education and community relations. The new group will not be held to rigid study items, and with what is hoped to be a widespread membership from all of Summit, will be able to study any subjects which appear to be of highest priority to the members and to the community, and will be able to reach citizens directly and individually, rather than through representatives from organizations to which all citizens do not belong.

Charles Ross, present chairman of the Lay Committee, is mistaken when he states that "The Lay Committee represents Summit with the 'New Jersey Citizens Committee for the Public Schools'." The N. J. Citizens Committee has no member organizations, only individual memberships, and according to Mrs. Iris Siles, executive secretary in the group's Newark office, the new citizens' group on education is the only group from Summit which has ever contacted them or asked for advice or assistance.

I am baffled by Mr. Ross' statement about the Lay Committee not endorsing the actions of the citizens' group. Of course they haven't endorsed the group, because the subject has never been presented for discussion. I am even more mystified by Mr. Ross' statement that the Lay Committee "will not endorse any actions which the citizens' group may take in the future." His crystal ball is more powerful than ours, for we wouldn't dare to predict what either the citizens' group or the Lay Committee will do in the future.

SAVES UP TO 50% IN FUEL

Before you say "It can't be done", see a demonstration of the Winkler LP Oil Burner — see why this burner is completely different.

Conventional burners are frequently oversized to prevent nozzle-clogging trouble. Hence, more heat than necessary is produced and wasted up the chimney.

The Winkler LP can be sized exactly to your heating requirements . . . because it operates on low pressure and has a non-dog nozzle. You'll see it cleanly burn dirty oil, oil and water mixture, crankcase drainings — all without nozzle clogging. That's why this burner ends "service troubles."

There's no obligation in asking for a Winkler LP demonstration — come in now!

Morristown Mystery Death Has Summit Tie

Morristown police this week were still seeking a motive into the apparent suicide of Dr. Lillian Starr, a former Summit resident, whose body was found Saturday in a pasture near Harding Township.

Dr. Starr, who was 60, was an archeologist, whose last known address here was at the Euclid Inn on Euclid avenue. A spokesman for the establishment said on Tuesday that Dr. Starr moved out on March 13 and took a room at the Hotel Revere, Morristown, where she was still residing at the time of her death. She had previously lived at the New England Lodge on New England avenue, but moved from there last fall after a two-year stay. Dr. Starr was also known to have attended Calvary Episcopal Church.

Dr. Adolph Wichman, deputy Morris County physician, performed an autopsy over the weekend since the cause of death was unknown. There were no indications of foul play, police said.

It was learned that Dr. Starr had taught at Wellesley College, Mass., and at Bryn Mawr College, Pa., from 1927 to 1929. She also taught at Elmira College in New York during 1930.

Following discovery of the body, it was brought to the M. A. Doyle & Son Funeral Home at Morristown. As of yesterday the body was still unclaimed.

Shanley's County Campaign 'Unfair,' Biertuempfel Says

Union County supporters of Bernard M. Shanley, GOP candidate for the U. S. Senatorial nomination in the April 15 primary election, were accused by Mayor F. Edward Biertuempfel of Union of "unfair" practices in distributing leaflets that imply endorsement of Shanley by the entire remainder of the Republican slate in the county.

Biertuempfel is Union County manager for Congressman Robert W. Kean, one of Shanley's opponents in the primary.

Biertuempfel cited recent literature issued by the "Union County Republican Primary Campaign Committee" urging support of Shanley, that also bears the names of Congressman Florence P. Dwyer, Freeholders Ernest S. Hickok and Richard P. Hatfield, Surrogate Charles A. Otto and Register Charles L. Bauer, Jr.

The leaflet as well as invitations to a recent reception for Shanley at Mountinside issued by the Primary Campaign Committee were termed "misleading" by Biertuempfel inasmuch as they implied endorsement of Shanley by the other GOP candidates listed.

Biertuempfel called upon James E. Mitchell of Mountinside, who heads the Primary Campaign Committee, to explain that his group is not the Republican County Committee and that the listed candidates are not necessarily backers of Shanley.

Biertuempfel said that numerous persons believe that all the listed candidates have received the party's "official" approval.

"This is mean and unfair to the other candidates availing themselves of fair play in an open primary," Biertuempfel said.

whole truth should be told.

Reasons for ceasing operations were: 1—Poor drainage (the state inspector came during the snow-storm.) 2—Unsanitary conditions. 3—Poor fencing (I had no strays at the time.) 4—Books not available (I was in the middle of moving to my new home.)

The main reason not having a license to operate in private which I had been doing with Boro knowledge of this fact (is that) I never had a license and have asked for one every year without results.

As soon as I received this letter I went to the Scotch Plains Hospital and made arrangements before I spoke to Mr. Hamilton.

I also explained to the Councilmen that these dogs were all unidentified because I know nearly every dog in town and there would be no fines on them. Also there is the cat problem they did not consider and believe me cats are a problem since we get many more cats than dogs and they cost 75c a day to board.

My expense account was $200 yearly not $600, so get a pencil and let's figure where that $10,000 for the dog pound will be five years from now and what will we have to show but poor stray dogs and cats cooped up in small cages for seven days and then put to sleep with very small chance of finding a new home.

I could go on this subject for ever but let the pet owners think about this. If you want to know about me ask the Summit Animal League.

Offers Parking Ideas

Editor, Summit Herald:

Your papers of March 20 and 27, printed letters complaining about the parking situation in Summit. The writers of the first and third letters, in their ire, took it out on the innocent Summit merchants but failed to offer any constructive ideas. Unfortunately, parking regulations are necessary and must be enforced to have any use at all. If there were no meters in the shopping district our merchants would suffer because legitimate shoppers would never find a place to park.

The City of Summit should do several things, however, to relieve unnecessary hardship:

1. Paint curbs yellow in all "No-Parking" spots, especially near street corners, where no signs are posted and words pointed on the pavement are mostly invisible. We find yellow curbs only in a few spots in this City. They should be used consistently.

2. Forbid the Police to park their patrol cars in scarce parking spaces. When they take the last available parking space before your eyes it is "adding insult to injury." It is not necessary to provide every rush-hour traffic officer with a 6-passenger car which is kept idle for the duration of his duty.

3. Instruct Police to take a less "Prussian" attitude toward the public.
4. Instruct Police to issue "warnings," not "tickets" to inconsiderate parkers (those who do not park within the marked-off spaces and make it hard for other people to park).
5. As to a remark in one letter about the Lackawanna losing business, if the railroad is interested in increasing business by providing its passenger with parking space, it should do something about the "parasites" who use its parking lot all-day, but do not use the railroad.

Vienna Choir Delights Concert Series Audience

by Marlen R. Hayward

Twenty-two youngsters, aged eight to 14, members of a unit of the world-famous Vienna Hofmusik, directed by Gerhard Tract, presented a brilliant two-hour program to a capacity audience at the Summit High School auditorium last Wednesday evening, for the final concert of the Community Concerts series.

Small in stature and not of an age of great dignity, nevertheless these youngsters, garbed in their characteristic sailor suits, proved themselves excellent in stage deportment, superbly trained, and capable of sustained musical effort far beyond average in text, quality, and entertainment value.

True to the tradition of program planning set for public performance by the late Joseph Schnitt, rector of the Vienna Court Chapel, and director of the Vienna Choir Boys both before and after World War 2, the Summit program included motets and other early church music to prove the boys' ability; Viennese lieder; folk songs to acquaint the audience with Austrian character and nature; combined with folk songs from other countries, including the United States; and a short, one-act musical comedy, in which the boy singers act in costumes.

Much of the program music was sung A Cappella, with the boy singers exact in pitch, instantly responsive to the slightest motion in direction; and with beautifully sustained tonal effects throughout the entire performance.

"The Village Barber" a comic opera in one-act, written by Johann Schenk, in 1761 and revised for performance by the Vienna Choir Boys in 1836, was sung and acted to piano accompaniment played by the director, as was much of the music of the third part of the program.

Both the youngsters and the audience thoroughly enjoyed the performance of "The Village Barber," especially the clever portrayals of the "Girls," and the relaxed, but entirely competent bits of stage business which highlighted the vocal parts of the performance.

Folk songs from Sweden, Germany, South Africa, England, together with a most appealing rendition of "Swanee River," provided plenty of opportunity for solo voices; obligato effects; both A Cappella and with piano accompaniment; and an Austrian folk song brought forth joyous yodeling from young throats, much to the delight of the audience.

An Echosong, written by an early sixteenth century composer, sung in the first part of the program, and a trio from Mozart's "The Magic Flute" further displayed the technical proficiency of the young boy singers, as well as the true beauty of their voices.

Miss Joan Eastman Bennett of Hobart avenue, with Miss Suzanne Warnecke of Short Hills, sailed on the Neuw Amsterdam for a three-month trip to Europe and the British Isles.

"Show How" Plan Big Help In Home Landscaping Jobs

When home landscaping is considered by the home owner he has one of three choices: (1) hire a professional landscape nurseryman; (2) try the newly-developed "show-how" plan, which is part professional and part do-it-yourself; or (3) do all the landscaping himself.

The first plan of course is the easiest and best, and, as in all such things, costs more, since both professional and labor charges are involved. In the long run, it generally will be most economical in "getting the right plants in the right places," and in giving the landscaping the most finished and most beautiful appearance at the earliest possible time.

The second method of landscaping, or the so-called "show-how" plan, recently developed, also has worked out exceedingly well for many home owners. Under this arrangement the landscape nurseryman actually will go out and spot the plants in their proper relationship to the house or the area being landscaped. He will demonstrate to the home owner how to plant one of the trees or shrubs. After the demonstration, the home owner is on his own, usually with printed material having "tips" on landscaping and planting. With this plan the home owner has a sounder idea of what he is trying to accomplish. In landscaping, what the average home owner often lacks is the ability to arrange the trees and shrubs in relation to the area being landscaped. He plants the plants down, according to a plan or not, as the case may be, without bothering to stand back, after each plant is put in the ground, and observe the entire setting to see if the plant is in the right place before going ahead with the planting.

Actually a landscape plan is as much a planting list as it is where to put things. A planting plan gives the necessary plant materials to create a desired effect but many times the locations of the plants have to be adjusted on the site rather than going strictly by plan. That is the reason for standing back and observing each plant in its relation to the site, and to other plants.

Home owners who have a natural artistic ability often do very well in arranging the plantings. These are the people who best can use the third plan, or entirely "do-it-yourself," merely discussing the problem with their landscape nurseryman. They will shift the trees and shrubs and other plants until they reach what is to them a beautiful picture, which is what the landscape designer would have in mind. It's much like decorating a house, some people do excellently using their own judgment while others prefer an interior decorator.

The basic techniques of the actual planting process can be learned by any observant individual by spending a half hour or so with a good nurseryman and using planting pamphlets.

The saving for the home owner in partially or wholly planting his property is in labor charges. The professional planter at around four dollars an hour will do in one hour what it takes the average home owner three hours to accomplish. So if the home owner feels that his time is worth more than one third that of the professional planter, he should have it done by him. Many home owners, however, regardless of the time it takes them, get immense pleasure out of planting their own property. It also can be done in stages, first perhaps the foundation planting, then the outdoor living area and backyard gardens, and finally the service area.

Maintenance of the planting can be achieved by the average home owner from planting and pruning information from his nurseryman, from newspaper garden pages, nursery pamphlets, books, mail order nursery catalogues, arboretums, and other sources.

Which Home Would You Choose?

THESE HOUSES are the same. On the left, the landscaping aims to complete the home, says the National Arborist Association, not compete with it. The house on the right is dwarfed and almost hidden. Regular Care of Shade Trees Pays Homeowner Dividends

Regular care of valuable shade trees on your property pays dividends. Not only will the trees live longer, but they'll provide better shade and are both safer and more beautiful to look at. A mature tree of desirable species may be worth several thousands of dollars. Such sums have been awarded by the courts in damage cases for a single large tree, as its destruction may reduce the value of the whole property by such an amount.

Sound care of trees is important to any home owner.

Here are the steps needed to keep your trees in sound condition, as outlined by the arborists.

First, an annual inspection by a local tree expert at least once each year for his advice on the proper treatment of existing trees.

Secondly, pruning and shaping of all trees, including removal of all broken or dying branches and painting of the cuts with a good tree preservative. Such activity helps keep the trees in healthy condition and helps prevent the development of diseases. Disease often develops first on dead wood, then spreads to healthy limbs.

Third, periodical spraying of all trees is necessary as recommended by the tree expert.

Fourth, fertilization of trees may be needed. The best way this can be accomplished is by boring a series of holes in the ground outward from the tree as far as the roots spread and filling the holes with a good balanced fertilizer containing nitrogen, potash and phosphorus. Since different species of trees may require different fertilizers, it is best to consult the tree expert on this also. In fact, he has the necessary soil augurs and power tools and can often do the work more efficiently and sometimes cheaper than the home owner can do it himself, especially if he is doing other work on your trees at the same time. Liquid feeding gives faster results.

A diseased tree detracts considerably from the value of a property, while healthy trees add greatly to its value. Regular care by an expert assures the maintenance of property values due to trees. In your "home improvement" program this year include care of your trees, for the investment will pay off in increased resale value of the property. If you do not have trees on the property now, by planting them you not only derive summer shade and pleasure, but also the aforementioned increased property values.

And when you hire an arborist

Herbs in Garden Can Do Wonders For Household

You would be surprised what an herb garden can do! It can season a stew; cure asthma; dye textiles; scent your closets; make a tonic for your cat and for that matter, a tonic for you too; garnish a salad; calm your nerves; provide rouge for your cheeks; make jelly; repel fleas; add to potpourri, or just add that special tang to a mint julep. These are just a few of its virtues.

And what's more, herbs have been contributing to the welfare of man since before the days of written history. Sweet basil, which seasons our foods, makes a stimulating tea and calms the nerves, was regarded by the Brahmins in ancient times as holy and women prayed to a basil plant every day. The Greeks and Romans thought one should curse when sowing the basil to insure its germination. Perhaps we should thank the basil for our colorful vocabulary!

Thyme, another herb that seasons and garnishes food and cures our headaches, grew on the Grecian hills in the time of the Greek Theophrastus in the fourth century, B.C.

Sage, a most ornamental herb, has been curing sore throats since ancient times. Dill, the old and favorite pickler, was the "Anise" of Biblical days mentioned in the Bible. Hyssop, another Biblical herb, today provides as essential oil in liquors and perfumes.

Sweet marjoram, was very popular with the Spanish colonists. We use it for potpourri, asthma, headaches and house plants as well as seasonings.

As the different nationalities settled in this country, they brought

Many Shrubs Pay Garden Bonus in Fragrant Flowers

Ordinarily the home owner thinks of flowering shrubs for decorative purposes only when planting them in the yard, but many also have delightful fragrances.

Here are a few of them, according to the American Association of Nurserymen.

Glossy Abelia (Abelia Grandiflora) is valued for its beautiful foliage and flowers that appear all summer. It has a wide range of growth.

Deutzia is easy to grow, delightful in bloom, largely free of disease or insect problems.

Gardenia is easy to grow, delightful in bloom, largely free of disease or insect problems.

Gardenia is grown in the warmer climates, has a striking white flower with an enticing aroma. It will stand some frost, but not severe cold.

No article on fragrant flowers could leave out roses. Practically everybody is familiar with the perfume of roses, which needs no description.

Lonicera, or honeysuckle, has a sweet aroma that perfumes the whole area around the plants.

Many varieties of Philadelphus, or mock-orange, are lovely in flower and they have an extremely wide range of growth.

The flowers of many of the Viburnums have one of the most pleasing aromas in the plant kingdom.

Shrubs having flowers of fragrance are numerous. Fragrance always is an added incentive to purchase plants which otherwise have attractive foliage and flower-form. The flowers of vines also have delightful aroma in many cases.

Boro Set to Tackle Problem Of Mountain Ave. Widening

New Providence — The problem of whether or not to widen Mountain avenue through the borough under the Federal Aid program was officially unwrapped Tuesday night with assurances from the Borough Council that all facts would be considered before a decision is made.

A petition, signed by more than 100 residents, objected to the proposed widening and requested a joint meeting of Freeholders, councilmen and the citizenry for a complete explanation of the county's proposal. Mayor Samuel E. Jones assured the group that such a meeting would be requested.

Earlier Mayor Jones revealed details of an agreement offered by John McKelvey, Jr., county engineer, calling for widening the road up to 46 feet along its two mile stretch.

The plan calls for a 40 foot road between Diamond Hill road and west of the Bell Labs entrance; 46 feet west of the Bell Labs entrance to South street; 46 feet from east of South street for a distance of approximately 200 feet and back to 40 feet from the end of the 46 foot width to Division avenue, the end of the project.

In reply to questions posed by Irving Lewis of Mountain and Maple avenues, members of the council explained that it is necessary for the borough to enter into the agreement with the county if it wishes to qualify for Federal Aid funds. The council added that the new road would require a 50 foot right-of-way, compared with the present 30 foot right-of-way.

Councilman Edwin Morrison said the county intends to straighten the road wherever possible which "would probably result in the loss of several trees."

When asked what the council's position is on the proposed widening, Mayor Jones said, "I don't know; my mind is open right now. Mountain avenue does need improvement but whether or not we'll go all the way I just don't know at this time."

At another point during the hearing, Berkeley Heights Township Committeeman Luther M. Smythe sitting in as an interested onlooker, drew applause when he said it was his opinion that Mountain avenue would not be widened in Berkeley Heights.

Mr. Smythe added that county efforts to widen the road could be avoided if Mountain avenue were repaired and removed from its designation as a secondary road.

McKenzie Urges Mountain Ave. Be Kept "Rural"

Berkeley Heights—Opposition to destruction of the "rural" atmosphere of Mountain avenue was voiced this week by A. Donald McKenzie of Union, a candidate for the GOP nomination for Freeholder.

McKenzie, who stated he was very familiar with Mountain avenue from Summit through Berkeley Heights, said he would be opposed to a road improvement program "which would virtually destroy such a (rural) setting."

"My views as a citizen and as a Freeholder are not in conflict. I do not believe that a road improvement plan need necessarily encompass a widening of the road area to 40 feet or more. My study of the situation convinces me that the road need not and should not become a large highway, nor a 'feeder' to the new Route 22," McKenzie declared.

"Furthermore, I do not believe that either conformity to any ideal size for county roads or availability of federal aid should be hard and fast criteria by which the problems should be resolved. In fact, as I understand it, federal aid might still be forthcoming even if the road is constructed at a width substantially less than 40 feet.

"I therefore pledge that if I am nominated and elected as a Freeholder, I will exert every effort toward a speedy improvement of the roads in question, while still maintaining their essential natural beauty and the commensurate property values of the citizens in the area."

Problems of Youth to Be Aired at Borough Panel

"What the Christian Woman Do About the Youth Problem," will be the topic of a panel discussion to be held at the New Providence Methodist Church on Tuesday at 8 p.m.

Panel members will include New Providence Police Chief Carl H. Ennis, Police Commissioner Hugh Hamilton and Recreation Director Charles Mantler.

Williams Hits Delay on Sewer Plan in Heights

Berkeley Heights—"A Million dollar investment to date, the Berkeley Heights sewage disposal operation, seems destined to almost two years of relative 'idleness' while our town planners procrastinate," according to Thomas J. Williams, candidate for primary nomination.

"Engineering studies have been made for four additional trunks and connecting laterals. The number of families, which will be served and the costs have been estimated. There are areas where the present septic systems are far from adequate, and conditions are such that it is impossible to correct the situation without the installation of sewers. A very definite health hazard is involved. Yet, it was stated during budget discussions at the Berkeley School (in February) that no new trunk lines will be constructed this year, and no further explanation has been offered," he claimed.

"As chairman of the Sewer Assessment Commission, I am thoroughly familiar with the myriad of problems—financial and otherwise—confronting the sewer situation. The biggest step is planning, for the span between decision to go ahead and actual construction can well be a year's duration or more. The second problem is the necessity for the township committee to act upon assessments already submitted to it. Our Assessment Committee has examined, re-examined and recommended assessments based upon financial information given us. There are householders tied in to the sewer still anxiously awaiting some indication of the current and future outlay for sewer assessment. The action of the Town Committee may well determine future assessment policies."

"It is obvious," Mr. Williams continued, "that we are lacking an overall sewer planning policy and that one must be immediately determined."

Lombardi Urges Brakes Be Put On Town Spending

Berkeley Heights—This community's new 1958 tax rate of $10.00 per $100 of assessed valuation should serve as a warning that "economy must be the watchword" with regard to future municipal spending, John A. Lombardi of 47 Spring Ridge drive, GOP candidate for nomination to the Township Committee, declared this week.

Lombardi pointed out that almost 150 years ago Chief Justice John Marshall cautioned that "the power to tax involves the power to destroy" and urged that brakes be applied to plans for future municipal projects.

Lombardi, an attorney and a former Union County prosecutor, said:

"We have just gone through some necessary heavy spending to meet our school and sewer requirements. It is now time that our efforts be directed to locating desirable commercial ratables for our vacant land which is set aside and suitable for such purpose and to carry through on the planning for their accommodations. This, plus putting into effect the suggested long range budgeting for future capital improvements, is bound to have a stabilizing effect upon our tax rate."

"Our existing municipal building was constructed with a frame wall at its rear to make future additions when necessary. It would be much more practical, expedient and economical, therefore, to add to the existing structure than to consider the tremendous expenditure of a new building or buildings upon another location."

Boro Boy Gets $1,500 for Auto Injuries

New Providence — A $1,500 settlement was approved last week by Superior Court Judge Walter L. Hetfield in a suit brought for a 6-year old Borough boy for injuries suffered when he was struck by a car almost two years ago.

The child, Michael Allocco of 245 Livingston avenue, received a fracture of the skull when he was hit by a car driven by Michael Nigro of 14 Willow street, New Providence. John A. Nigro, his father and owner of the car, also was named in the suit. The accident occurred on April 18, 1956 as the boy was crossing Marion avenue near South street.

According to terms of the agreement the boy is to receive $975 for his injuries and his mother, Mrs. Theresa Allocco, who brought the action in his behalf, is to receive $525 for expenses.

To Speak at PTA

New Providence—Joseph M. Romanka, school guidance director, will discuss "Educational Testing" at the regular monthly meeting of the PTA next Wednesday evening in the Lincoln School Auditorium.

Loman Sees Rt. 22 Sewerage System Of Prime Concern

Berkeley Heights — Township Committeeman George T. Loman, in his house-to-house campaign for re-election in the April primary, this week said the topics causing most concern to township residents are the relocation of Route 22 and further expansion of the sewerage system.

"These certainly are two of the problems which have a high priority on a program of action for 1958 that the Township Committee is acting on," Mr. Loman said.

Mr. Loman outlined the program which he advocates as follows:

"1. The alignment of FAI 102—I will continue my efforts and work with the Planning Board and the Township Committee to have the alignment presented at the public hearing held in Somerville adopted as being the least damaging to our community while working for minor shifts of the general alignment to minimize the effect on any area.

"2. Walkways — The Board of Education, in order to make a lasting saving on school bus transportation, has recommended a series of walks for a good portion of our students this year and will request expansion of this system in the future. I am in favor of this proposal and will advocate that the entire expenditure be paid out of general taxation.

"3. Expansion of the sewerage system—I will advocate the expenditure of approximately $50,000 out of this year's capital improvement fund to sewer streets which need it most critically.

"4. Mountain avenue improvement—My position is one of improving this artery to make it a safe road for pedestrians and vehicles without the unwarranted destruction of abutting properties."

Heights, County To Discuss Rt. 22 At State Meeting

Berkeley Heights—A joint meeting on the proposed relocation of Route 22 will be held Tuesday afternoon, April 8 in Trenton among members of the Township Committee, Union County Board of Freeholders and representatives of the State Highway Department, Township Committeeman Luther M. Smythe said Thursday.

Mr. Smythe said the meeting will be one of a series to determine the final routing of FAI 102 but that one of the problems to be discussed will include the Twin Falls-Diamond Hill section. Members of the Blue Mountain Association oppose routing the highway through the area claiming it will result in the loss of 17 homes.

Mr. Smythe pointed out, however, that an engineer from the State Highway Department had revised the routing so that perhaps only two houses would be impaired.

After township residents were seemingly assured a few weeks ago that the highway would run through the southern portion of the community, Mayor Arthur Manner and Mr. Smythe, attending a Freeholders' meeting last week, a proposed resolution asking that the highway be relocated to its original proposed site on the north side of the Watchung Mountains and hence through prime residential areas of the township.

The resolution came in the wake of objections that the southerly alignment would bring the highway within 100 feet of the administration building of the John R. Runnels Hospital for Chest Diseases. Furthermore, the highway would cut across land staked out for a building for the chronically ill.

Bories Crush Sperco 82-49 For City-Industrial Crown

Bories Lanchester defeated Sperco as the 1958 city basketball champions by defeating their neighborhood rival 82-49 in a tense and rough brawl at Edison Recreation gymnasium Monday night before a large crowd.

Sperco was rated the more experienced, especially with Frank Patterson, former Colgate luminary, as their set shot threat. Bories had the will to win, plus the drive and hustle which usually generates from a youthful aggregation.

The Sperco five was a slight pre-game favorite and had they elected to follow a more deliberate pattern of play, probably would have kept within reach of the fast moving Bories combination.

The new champions came up with a god defense in the opening period, holding Patterson scoreless from the field to assume a 12-6 lead. Patterson broke the spell at the start of the second quarter by caging a long set, only to have Smith duplicate this effort

The winners held a comfortable 26-17 halftime edge, and increased this to 53-39 at the close of the third period.

All Court Press

Both clubs employed an all-court press in the last half, with Bories better ball handling and stronger defense forcing Sperco into numerous mistakes. Big Tom Conroy and Vee Gribby sparked the new champs by scoring 24 and 18 points, respectively, with Conroy's control of the backboards a revelation to Coach Johnny Fimia. Gribby's speed, along with Smith's smart ball handling had Sperco floundering, with the fading champs unable to muster a concerted scoring drive. Patterson scored 15 points for Sperco, with Coleman chipping in with 14.

The victors hoisted sponsor Buzz Bories to their shoulders in typical M.S.G. style at the conclusion of the game.

The score by quarters—

Bories	18	24	17	23	82
Sperco	6	11	12	20	49

Hilltopper Nine Girds for Diamond Opener April 12

Nine lettermen form the nucleus of the 1958 Summit High School baseball team which is hoping for a break from the weatherman in their conditioning drills in preparation for their opening game on Friday, April 12.

The highly ardent Hilltopper mound staff includes Bob Kubach, John Schleppe and Ed Betts, with Tom Prior seeming to have the inside track as the backstop. Frank Pecca will be the alternate and is recognized as a better than average hitter.

A spirited battle for first base shows lettermen Gil Owen, Fred McMane and George Riemer vying for a starting berth. Dick Connell and Pete Eddy are scrapping for the keystone position, with Herb Schmidt the standout at third. Shortstop has several outstanding nominees which include lettermen Bruce Rhunke, and Len Brown, a transfer from St. Benedict's Prep. Both are excellent glove men, with the ability to hit a factor deciding this position.

In the outfield, aside from the veteran Tony Cardone, both positions are open, with Coach Chapman undecided on several boys.

Center Stationers Roll Sweep Over Adole Bowlers

Center Stationers swept their set with Adele's Gift Shop last Wednesday evening at the Berkeley Recreation Lanes to drop the losers into fifth place in the New League.

Market to increase their league lead over Es & Bud, Bill's Shell applied a damaging three game victory over Es & Bud, with the league going into the final weeks of play.

In other series, Snappy Cleaners tripped Nigro's 3-1, with Williams and Done Well Cleaners rolling to an even split.

City Pin League Rolls Into Final Topsy-Turvy Drive

The topsy-turvy Summit Recreation Bowling League rolls into the final six weeks of play, with four clubs remaining in the thick of the championship drive.

Twirl Printers jolted the hopes of the defending champion Charline Drugs last Wednesday evening at Echo Lanes, Mountain-side, sweeping their set as George Twill unloaded a 603 series which included a spectacular 235 in the finale. All five Charline pinners suffered a poor scoring series, with the only better than 300 series posted by Jack Lawrence.

Werner Motors felt the pressure in their series with Larry's Sport Shop, gaining a victory in their opening game, but lost the middle and final of the set as Sabra (803) Borgeson and Judson, supplied the scoring punch. Top single games in this series were posted by Sabra (237) Mosso (233) and Claude Monks with a 226 in the middle game.

Root's Mens Shop continued their belated drive for a first division berth by winning all three games of their set with West Penn Oil. Hub Taylor's 622 series, and 242 opening game were the top scoring effort of the evening. In other series CIBA won the odd game of their set with Kemper Insurance, with Bill Burger and M. Kerr the standouts for their respective team.

Tight Finish Seen as Church Loop Nears End

One of the most exciting finishes in the history of the Summit Inter-Church Bowling League is forecast, with three clubs virtually tied for top honors.

The Methodists and the Jewish Community Center are currently tied with 62 points, with St. John's Lutheran "A" team a point and a half behind the leaders. The Methodists won three games and four points from St. John's Lutheran "B" team and thereby gained a first place tie with Jewish Community Center who won two games and three points from the Combined Churchmen.

In other series, St. John's Lutheran "A" team dropped to a point and a half behind the leaders, although winning two games and three points from the Presbyterians. Faith Lutherans moved into a three-way tie for third with the Baptists and the St. John's "B" team. Temple Sinai pinners rolled two victories and a three point win over the Baptists.

High games were rolled by Sam Kessler (210) Bud Salpon (208) Charley Kuhl (306) and Wally Curtis with a 202 pinfall.

High School Net, Track Teams Begin Activity

Organization of the Summit High School track and tennis varsity teams is progressing, with Coach Dave McNeely screening 15 candidates for the netmen. Bob Kinley, Warren Devereaux, and Allan Davis, are the lettermen returning, with prospects of a better than average team.

The track team under the direction of John Dilson have but two lettermen returning, with a big rebuilding program under way. Coach Dilson also has 27 numeral winners which may give the team necessary depth. The opening track meet is scheduled for April 22, with arch rival Millburn the opponent.
