

School Budget Pared $120,161 But Stands At Record $2,196,028

A record-high school budget of $2,196,028 was presented to PTA and civic group representatives Monday night at a meeting held at Wilson school by the Board of Education. The total represents a cut of $120,161 from the original budget presented to Common Council last November 24.

The budget represents a $120,050 increase over last year's figure of $2,066,978. Of the revised total, $1,982,928 is to be raised by taxation. According to a Board spokesman, Council last November ordered a $60,000 cut, and the Board slashed another $90,000 because of an expected subsidy for science equipment to be provided under the National Defense Education Act.

The new budget represents an increase of $122,050 over last year, with the amount to be raised by taxation increasing $133,062.

Total teacher salaries stand at $1,204,673 as against $1,252,924 last year.

In order to effect the $60,000 cut required by Council, Brockway McMillen, chairman of the Board's education committee, revealed that a $32,235 cut had been taken in teachers' salaries and another $1,000 had been made in instructional supplies and salaries.

With the slash in teachers' pay, Dr. McMillen explained that the Board would only be able to fill ten of the 13 new positions originally proposed and that two present teaching positions in the elementary schools would be eliminated.

Outlining additional cuts amounting to $37,685, Robert A. DeVillbiss, chairman of the Board's building committee, announced that $3,700 would be saved from the student activities fund and $24,000 from capital improvements. Mr. DeVillbiss added that the planned modernization of four Brooklyn classrooms and the proposed playground improvements to Franklin and Washington schools would be eliminated.

Announcing the teacher position cuts Dr. McMillen explained that three of six new positions in the junior and senior high schools could not be filled. He listed the jobs as those of a language-English teacher in the high school and an English teacher-guidance counselor in the high school.

In addition, Dr. McMillen pointed out the arts and crafts program, as well as the eurythmics classes, would be eliminated from the elementary schools. He noted that the $1,000 decrease in instructional supplies and expenses was made in the travel costs of the school staffs.

By slashing $3,700 in the student activities fund, Mr. DeVillbiss noted that supplies and equipment to initiate intramural basketball and soccer at the ninth grade level would be eliminated.

Objections to the budget were voiced by PTA representatives who opposed the elimination of the crafts and eurythmics programs from the elementary schools as well as the dropping of the ninth grade level.

FORTIETH ANNUAL GET-TOGETHER—It was a fond night for memories Saturday for the six men pictured above, who were among 30 in attendance at the Hotel Suburban for the 40th annual reunion dinner of Ambulance Company 33, organized in Summit in 1916 by the late Dr. William Lawrence for duty in France during World War I. Among those who saw action on the battlefield include, left to right, standing, G. A. Nelson, Smith Lane and Russell MacGowan. Seated are Lester M. Reeve, Raymond Nelson and Leslie Hurrell. The original company consisted of 120 enlisted men and five officers. Following training at Butler, Syracuse, Allentown, Pa., and Charlotte, N.C., the group was assigned to a regular army division and sent overseas. Following their landing in England, the unit was sent to France where it saw action on three major fronts. After the Armistice, the company was ordered into the Army of Occupation. In July, 1919, the group sailed for home and shortly afterwards was mustered out. (Wolin Photo)

School Doors Closed To Chatham Students

The Board of Education at its meeting Tuesday night rejected a request from Chatham Township to have some of its high school students accepted here on a tuition basis.

Chatham asked that Summit accept 131 freshmen for the 1962-63 school year and 149 freshmen for the 1963-64 year.

Residents Again Seek Word on New High School

Common Council was again put on the spot Tuesday night when local residents in attendance sought to learn when a decision on Senior High School construction would be reached.

Council President Fletcher P. Thornton, Jr., indicated that a decision can only be reached when "basic differences" within Council, as well as between the school board and Council are resolved.

In answer to a question by Harry Perlet of 10 Ox Bow lane as to when high school construction would begin, Mr. Thornton said, "No date has been set, nor can one be predicted."

Mrs. Robert Royer of 238 Blackburn road, urged that money be released now for architect's fees so that plans can be completed. Mr. Thornton replied that such a move would be unwise on grounds that the size of the school is still undecided.

Citing the fact that four months have elapsed since Plan G-B was made known, Mrs. Henry Dearborn of 32 Colt road asked Mr. Thornton, "Why has there been a delay?" He answered that the problem bills down to "How much do we

Jetport Battlers Fear Apathy from Senate Vote

Monday's condemnation by the New Jersey Senate of the Port of New York Authority's plans for a gigantic jet airport in the Great Swamp should not lull area residents, Lawrence J. MacGregor, a member of the Jetport Action Association, said yesterday.

Mr. MacGregor, a former president of the Summit Trust Co., made his statement in a pronouncing the formation of a Summit division of the Jetport Action Association. He added that the 20-1 Senate condemnation of the Port Authority proposal was a "telling round-one blow" but that it did not signify a victory.

"There is still much to be done," Mr. MacGregor declared, "and we are expanding the Jetport Action Association in preparation of the battles to come. Although the Senate vote was real progress, we must remember that the Port Authority doesn't take a setback 'sitting down.'"

The Summit division, which is entirely separate from the recently announced woman's division, consists of local businessmen who will coordinate Summit activities with the Association.

The newly-organized local division is headed by Carlston W. Pierson who will serve as coordinator. Other members are Leo O'Grady, merchants; Frank H. Pratt, industry; Charles Hall and Donald MacLeod, property owners; Frederick C. Kentz, Jr., legislative; Allan R. Devenney, institutions and agencies, and Carl S. Hulett, public information.

Still to be named are chairmen for social and economic, conservation, municipal and speakers committees.

4 Car Mishaps Friday Blamed On Ice, Fog

A dense fog throughout the day coupled with icy roads were blamed for at least four car accidents here last Friday.

Three of the mishaps occurred on Canoe Brook parkway near the Morris and Essex turnpike. Injured in one of the crashes was Peter Toker, Jr., 31, of Linden. Police said Mr. Toker collided with a car driven by Charles Bauer, 60, of Chatham.

Mr. Toker was taken to Overlook Hospital in a city ambulance for treatment of a possible concussion and abrasions about the body.

Police said the accident occurred when Mr. Toker's car slid on an icy patch of pavement and hit Mr. Bauer's automobile. The mishap was investigated by Patrolmen Edward Karpenski and Lawrence Walsh.

Ice and fog also played havoc on traffic entering and leaving the city during most of the day, especially during the evening rush hours. Minor tieups were reported at Broad and Maple streets, Morris and Springfield avenues and at the DL&W overpass near the New Providence line.

Visibility in some sections of the city ranged from 10 to 25 feet. The creeping traffic along the city's main thoroughfares was blamed for much of the congestion which began shortly after 5 p.m.

Record Budget Of $2,768,122 Holds Tax Rate

Summit Tops County in Ratable Gain

Summit, with a 5 1/2% million increase in ratables for 1959, had the greatest gain in building in Union County, according to figures released last week by the Union County Board of Taxation on county tax ratables.

The building boom throughout the county will raise tax ratables over $900,000,000 for the first time. With 20 communities reporting the total stands at $907,409,083. Elizabeth ratables have not yet been computed. All towns showed an increase except Winfield.

Summit's increase was $5,588,950. The next highest was Union with $4,068,095 and third was Westfield with $2,696,968. The total county increase was $29,172,011. Unofficial estimates are that this will bring about $300,000 in added revenues to the county treasury.

Summit's 1960 net valuation now stands at $61,424,044 as compared with the 1959 figure of $55,835,094.

Summit's giant stride in new ratables was due to $2,011,350 in assessments on new properties and by a $3,577,600 increase in old assessments brought about by the revaluation of all property last year by Cole-Layer-Trumbull Co.

The revaluation increase was caused by using a higher true value percentage of 30 per cent rather than the former one set by the State's ratio study of 28.25 per cent.

Breakdown of Total
The results of the citywide revaluation program shows that for 1960 Summit has a total assessed valuation of $61,424,044. This is broken down as follows: Land, $14,037,900; Buildings, $41,931,900; Personal property, $6,665,420; Railroads, $181,424. Exemptions are $583,500 for household personal belongings and $809,100 for veterans.

For the $2,011,350 in new assessments added to tax rolls in 1959, $131,600 was for land, $1,703,000 for buildings, $277,350 for personal property. Exemptions were $67,500 for veterans and $33,100 for personal property. (Continued on Page 7)

$30,000 Asked For Start on Master Plan

In spite of opposition by Councilman-at-large William R. Gilson, Common Council by a vote of 6-1 Tuesday night introduced the 1960 municipal budget calling for record expenditure of $2,768,122, representing an increase of $135,597 over last year.

Because of increased ratables amounting to $5,600,000, it is expected that there will be no tax hike from the current $6.54.

Total appropriations last year were $2,632,525.

A public hearing will be held February 16.

Councilman Gilson opposed the budget on grounds that the Board of Education was "ordered" by Council to slice $60,000 from its proposed budget. Mr. Gilson added that he was "unwilling to sit by" and watch what could be the "slow deterioration" of education here.

He noted that although the Board of Education had adhered to a Council-directed formula of pay-as-you-go, a cutback was still strongly recommended if Council approval of the budget was to be assured.

Cites Responsibilities
Mr. Gilson declared that for a city like Summit, residents insist upon high educational standards and are "willing to pay for them."

In November, the Board of Education proposed a budget of $2,316,189. By cutting the $60,000 recommended by Council and an additional $60,000 because of an expected subsidy for science equipment, the proposed budget now stands at $2,196,028.

In answer to Mr. Gilson, Council President Fletcher P. Thornton, Jr., asserted that technically there is "no school budget" but that there will be a hearing on the proposed measure February 11. He added that it is Council's "duty to advise the Board of Education how much money it can spend."

The operating portion of the budget shows an increase of $63,298 to $1,904,448, as compared to $1,841,150 appropriated last year, of which $1,071,603 is earmarked for salaries, an increase of $38,313 from 1959.

Explanation Given
In an explanatory statement Council said, "The municipal budget will increase approximately $68,000. Slightly more than one-half of the added expenditure is for increases in salaries, one-quarter is due to increases in debt service and the remaining quarter for other operating expenses. Services of the city were increased by adding the personnel and equipment for a new garbage collection route required by the new houses constructed."

The budget, according to the statement, includes $190,000 estimated increase cost of school operation. The increase is due to an additional $30,000 in school debt service, and the 1960-61 school budget which includes $61,000 for increases in salaries, $60,000 for new teachers, and $39,000 for increased operation and maintenance.

Because of the increase in city expenses, the local property tax to be raised for municipal purposes, including the reserve for uncollected taxes has been estimated at $1,158,491, an increase of $88,971 over the current year's budget.

School Debt Up
School debt service is up $30,424 to $338,239 from $307,815, while the reserve for uncollected taxes stands at $522,935, a boost of $39,375 over the current figure of $483,360. The reserve figure is based on 87 per cent tax collection although the percentage collected reached 97.99 in 1959.

The proposed budget also calls for $7.99 in 1959. (Continued on Page 17)

Boro Braced for 133-Pt. Boost in Local Tax Rate

New Providence — An estimated 133-point tax boost faces Boro residents because of sharp increases in school and municipal expenses for this year, according to a booklet mailed to all residents which outlines both the school and municipal budgets.

If the anticipated 133-point increase holds, the local rate will be $8.74 per $100 of assessed valuation. The Boro budget was introduced on Tuesday night and the school budget will be voted upon on February 9.

The 10-page booklet indicates a 57-point hike in municipal expenses, a 65-point jump in school costs and an estimated 11-point increase in county taxes.

The expected municipal budget proposal will include an increase of $155,295 to a total of $659,471, while the recently induced school budget shows a rise of $192,174 to $1,051,271. The county tax is expected to rise approximately $22,000.

According to these figures the estimated $8.74 tax rate would increase $5.48 to school purposes, $2.14 to municipal costs and $1.12 to county tax. In the tax dollar, 63 cents would be allocated to schools, 24 cents to municipal government and 13 cents to the county.

More than half of the rise in municipal costs, $32,800, will be used for capital improvements, to develop a master drainage plan to help alleviate flooding in the borough, for improvement of Union Ave. and for expansion of the sanitary sewer system.

The largest portion of the school tax increase can be traced to an increase in instructional costs amounting to $100,921, a $15,110 rise in administrative costs and a $50,908 rise in mandatory payments for bonds and interest.

Included in the school budget budget is a $75,000 item for a future school site which will be out before voters. It defeated the school tax could be trimmed to 20 points, rather than the forecast 57 points. This would cut the 1960 rate to approximately $8.20.

J. Robert Dean of 7 Harvey Drive, a member of the Edward 3 Ames agency of the Phoenix Mutual Life Insurance Company located in East Orange, led the entire agency in paid premiums for the year 1959. He also wrote more than three quarters of a million dollars of life insurance.

These accomplishments together with other factors of an outstanding life insurance underwriter allowed him to receive the agency's "business efficiency award" and also placed him high in the company's executive field underwriter's group nationally.

Mr. Dean has been associated with the Ames Agency for 17 years.

Rotarians Hear Talk by YMCA Aide in India

Speaking at the Rotary Club's regular Monday luncheon at the YMCA, David Wilson, "Y" secretary from Lahore, Pakistan, drew a memorable picture of his five years' experience as a world service secretary in that troubled and divided Moslem country.

Mr. Wilson was presented as a feature of the Rotary Club's recognition of National YMCA Week. Ralph Helmrich, chairman of the program committee of Rotary, presided.

Calling attention to the support of native Moslem leaders for the services of the YMCA, Mr. Wilson reported that new association youth centers are being organized in Peshawar and in East Pakistan. In Lahore, he said that the membership of 1,500 members is about 85 per cent Moslem and about 50 per cent of the work is in educational classes in trade skills, with the balance in the social and physical departments. The speaker said that new buildings are being built with the aid of the "Buildings of Brotherhood," the major capital funds effort which is being made in North America to raise five million dollars to supplement eleven million raised in other countries. Summit YMCA members contributed $3,100 toward the 1959 world service budget and have pledged $7,000 toward a $10,000 goal in Buildings of Brotherhood.

In a brief presentation before the program, the general secretary of the Y, Allan R. Devenney, spoke of the encouragement to youth which had been supplied by Rotary through the Summit Y, and gave President Thomas Miller an engraved plaque of honor on behalf of the Association.

Warren Griffin Named President Of Kiwanis Club

Warren B. Griffin, personnel director at Celanese, was named president of the Kiwanis Club on Tuesday, following the resignation of James R. Beattie from that office last week.

Mr. Griffin was formerly first vice-president. The post will be taken over by Robert Nelson. A nominating committee named Robert L. Hanson, a member of the board of directors, to the post of second vice-president, and Aubrey L. Wyckoff, to the board.

Mr. Beattie's resignation from Kiwanis was prompted by his termination of association from CIBA Pharmaceuticals, Inc., where he was director of the public relations department. Mr. Griffin is a resident of Dunnellen.

At Tuesday's meeting, Joseph Zeigler, a past president and charter member of Kiwanis, was cited for 35 years of service to the local club. At the same time, Harlan S. Kennedy, secretary, was honored with a 21-year perfect attendance pin.

The program also included the presentation of YMCA plaque: citing the Kiwanis' work with that group, and another to John N. May, Jr., immediate past-president of the club for 12 years as a member of the YM board of directors.

Guest speaker at Tuesday's luncheon meeting was Dave Wilson, YMCA executive secretary in Pakistan.

Tours of New Overlook Wing To Continue

Overlook Hospital has announced plans for a sustained program of "Hospitality Tours" as a result of the wide public interest that has been evidenced. Tours will be scheduled every Tuesday night at 8:15 p.m., through April. Interested groups or individuals can make arrangements by calling the public relations office, CR 3-8100, ext. 238.

At a recent meeting of the public relations committee, Charles E. Starr of Summit, chairman, announced that to date more than 1,600 persons had toured the hospital's new wing.

"We have been delighted to meet with such an enthusiastic reception," he said. "A behind-the-scenes look at hospital life seems to intrigue everybody from school age right on up through the 'Old Guard.' There is certainly no better way to observe the many complicated processes that mean the highest of medical science and service, as exemplified in Overlook's modern facilities."

"The insight and feeling of confidence in Overlook's medical program, as gained through these tours, has done much, we feel, to contribute to the widespread community support of our current Building Fund drive," Mr. Starr concluded.

Tours currently scheduled for the near future include the following groups: guidance counselors from surrounding high schools, memorial gift givers, clergy and their wives and several service club organizations.

The tours will cover the hospital's laboratories, X-ray and physiotherapy departments, pharmacy, blood bank, kitchens and cafeteria, operating areas when possible, typical patient floor, medical record room and library, chapel and administrative floor.

Spiritual understanding of God as divine Truth brings mankind assurance of healing and redemption — this is a theme of the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Truth" which will be read at Christian Science services Sunday.
Scriptural passages will include the account in Luke of the healing by Christ Jesus of the man "which had a spirit of an unclean devil" (4:33-36).
A correlative citation from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy states: "To understand God strengthens hope, enthralls faith in Truth, and verifies Jesus' word: 'Lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world'" (448:20).
The Golden Text is from Psalms: "Teach me thy way, Lord; I will walk in thy truth: unite my heart to fear thy name" (68:11).

Contractors of Flemington at $213,702. After study by consulting engineers the Committee will award bids at its next meeting.

The bids include installation of a trunk sewer for Timber Slope, Snyder avenue, East Side and Free Acres. A federal subsidy pays 30 per cent of the cost and a similar portion of additional engineering and legal expenses up to a maximum of $100,000. The balance of the cost already has been provided for in previous bond issues.

After the trunks are installed lateral links will be made with special assessments for the lateral costs being levied against benefiting property owners.

Boro Requested To Rezone Part Of South Street

New Providence—A request that South street from Gales drive to Central avenue in New Providence be rezoned for limited business or professional use was received by Borough Council from thirty property owners. The street section is now zoned for residential use.

The owners claim hardship under the present residential classification inasmuch as the area is not suitable for residences as evidenced by the fact that no home construction has been started on the street section involved during the Boro's current building boom. The only recent construction, they contend, has been by a variance granted to an existing business concern. The area, they state, is liberally sprinkled with non-conforming businesses.

The petition also cites the need for a professional and limited business zone in the Boro, stating that unless one is provided such businessmen will be forced to locate elsewhere.

Recent Summit rezonings of DeForest avenue and a section of Summit avenue from residential to limited business and/or professional use are cited as benefits derived from rezoning.

John A. Lombardi, Summit attorney, is representing the property owners petitioning Council.

The coffee hours which will be held all over town, will give residents an opportunity to meet Mr. Lynch and to ask questions about his candidacy.

The first coffee hour will be held Saturday, at 3 p.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Burtis Heacock of 57 Holly Glen lane south. On Sunday, Mr. Lynch will be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Carlson of 14 Southview dr. at 2 p.m. and at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gault of 124 Twin Falls rd., at 4 p.m.

Time to Unclutter the Parking Lots

During this season of the year, when snow and ice are frequent, it seems necessary to comment on the state of the city's parking lots after each bout with Mother Nature.

For all intents and purposes, the engineering department does a fine job, plowing during the nights when the snow is long with us, sanding and gravelling on steep inclines and hills.

However, the operations of the city's clean-up crews are being severely hampered in parking lots, for when snow arrives, many cars are unable to move during the height of the storm and are left there for several days. While the owners may complain of their loss, they do nothing to retrieve their cars.

This is gross injustice, not only to the other persons who want to use the lots on subsequent days, and to the merchants who depend on the lots for their business, but also to the snow removal crews who find it impossible to clean around a multitude of abandoned cars.

No one is recommending that during the height of perilous road conditions that cars be taken out of the lots at all costs, but it would not seem unreasonable to assume that all such cars could be removed within 12 hours after a storm ceases.

It would be wonderful to feel that just by talking about the matter, the whole problem would be solved. But, in point of fact, in matters of this nature, it is usually necessary to penalize those who are unable to carry out what would seem to be a moral responsibility to others.

We urge Common Council to enact a measure which would make it an offense to keep a car in the city's lots after a 12-hour period following a storm. Such a ticket handed out should carry the same penalty as all parking tickets, $1, but the owners should also have to pay the costs of hauling the cars away so that the business of cleaning the lots could be taken care of in as speedy a fashion as is necessary. Ten dollars for this charge would not seem unreasonable.

It is unfortunate that consideration must be given to such a piece of legislation; but in fairness to the majority of car owners, who somehow or other seem to be able to manage their affairs and take care of their cars, such an ordinance is necessary now. We urge speedy consideration of such a bill.

No Place for Whimsy

In our opinion, the proposed jet airport for the Great Swamp is a serious matter to all of us and should be taken seriously, by all of us.

Last week's crackpot suggestion by two New Providence residents that the Borough Council float barrage balloons at a mile-high level over that community is of little value. Perhaps the two men are neighborhood wags and their proposal was made with a tongue-in-the-cheek. To be charitable, we hope it was that.

But in any event, and whatever the motive, let us not have any more publicity-sparked, insane plans for halting the Port of New York Authority. Let us face the problem with all the seriousness and consideration it deserves. Whimsy has no place in this battle.

Happy Days on the Horizon

The man who is a soft touch for gimmicks of all sorts is in for trouble this year. A 1960 advertising calendar shows that there will be about 400 special months, weeks and days that can be celebrated if a person has the stamina. These special events are dreamed up by public relations firms, merchandising organizations and trade associations.

We do not blame tradesmen for promoting their wares, nor do we get irked at special interests for pushing their way of life, but the human body can stand just so much. If we bought everything paraded before our eyes, ate everything suggested by the tub-thumpers, we would be off to meet our Maker before our time.

We note that special weeks coming up will include National Weight Watchers Week. Now why a special week for the great American pastime? We thought weight watching was a 52-week program. What is to be done by dieters during their special week? Buy new scales, no doubt.

There are an avalanche of special weeks that are certain to unnerve the person deeply concerned about what the scales may tell him during Weight Watching Week. We shall have a "Summertime Pie Month," a "National Hot-Dog Month," a "Bread Sales Month," and so on. Definitely all are conflict of interests with Weight Watching devotees.

Furthermore sprinkled all through the year there are days when we are urged to give special gastronomic attention to peanuts, pimiento, honey, raisins, cheese, doughnuts, fish, macaroni, pickles and yogurt. Just name it and you'll find it has a special mention on the calendar.

The not-so-hidden persuaders cover the exterior of the body as well as the interior. They have given us a week for sweaters (which has pleasant possibilities), and set aside days for caps, denims and slacks. There are other weeks when you are ordered to go fishing, sailing, hunting, pay attention to your mother-in-law and even wear a smile.

People just have to meet these challenges as they best see fit. Certainly neither money nor stomach — to say nothing of disposition — will hold out if you participate wholeheartedly in all of them. It might be a good idea to select one and give it the works. Really go to town on it. National pie-a-la-mode week, for instance. Live it up, eat pie a la mode until it comes out of your ears, gorge yourself, get sick — and then let the rest of the weeks go by.

But the creators of special weeks are no slob and are not necessarily idiots. We notice that on the heels of National Indigestion Week there is National Baking Soda Week. The hucksters think of everything.

A Plan for Disaster
(Martha's Vineyard (Mass.) Gazette)

We have been told that it is a fine thing to be living in the jet age, but this is not necessarily so. Is it possible that the jet age is an end in itself, to be pursued without regard to values that have, until now, represented firm ideals of human beings in America?

The question is raised by the proposal of the Port of New York Authority to seize and lay waste an immense tract of land in New Jersey, wiping out villages, history, a great heritage of natural environment as necessary for man as for other creatures. The issue is not one local to New Jersey. It concerns us all. Who knows what prized and unspoiled region may be next on the list?

The Port Authority says this proposed jet airport will be needed. Is that all we are to consider? Are there no other needs to be weighed? What final wisdom have the gentlemen of the Port Authority that they exercise rights amounting to life and death solely in the interests of a form of transportation? Will jets alone take us all to heaven or save us from the penalties of ravaging our lands and what we have left of nature?

Summer residents of Martha's Vineyard are gravely affected by this project, but that is not why we speak here. If the Port Authority knew as much about ecology as about concrete and high test gas, it might be unnecessary to speak. But it does not know, and needs to be instructed. Man is still utterly dependent upon relationships and balances among all sorts of organisms and his, and their environment. A plan for a jet age may be a pattern of utter disaster for the sum total of life.

A large, slower, wiser judgment is needed here.

Gives Jetport Stand

Editor, Summit Herald:

I have noticed with sympathy the growing concern in your paper over the proposal of the Port Authority to locate a jetport in the Great Swamp area of Morris County. There have been sincere questions asked by citizens but some irresponsible statements have been made, apparently from political motives, concerning my stand in the matter. I think it is time for me to set the record straight.

From the day on which the proposal was revealed at a meeting held in Newark, I have been on record as opposing this jetport. On that very occasion I stated publicly that the Port Authority which was voicing so much concern about expanded air travel in 1965 had an immediate obligation in 1960 to do something to alleviate our rail commuter problem. This is still my opinion and I have stated it to all who have contacted me on the subject.

Neither do I believe that Morris County is the place for a jetport, even if one is needed. Burlington County, which wants such a development, could be reached easily by access roads from the Turnpike and Parkway. Distance alone is not a factor. Mileage plus time is the whole story. Special siren-equipped buses from terminals to jetport could convey passengers if necessary. Right now it takes a long time to reach LaGuardia and Idlewild airports but no one in the Port Authority cares. The airports are in those places and you get to them as best you can. Helicopters on one's roof may someday be an answer to our jitter-causing compulsion for speed but until then one will have to make up in the jet plane whatever time is lost on the ground. Where is everyone going in such a rush?

Needs Trenton OK

To allay the aroused fears of Morris County citizens and people in surrounding areas, I should like to point out that the Great Swamp section is beyond the jurisdiction of the Port Authority and therefore special legislation would have to pass both Houses in New Jersey and New York before this project could be undertaken. The New York Legislature has been notably unconcerned about New Jersey citizens, taxwise, commuterwise and otherwise, so it is probable that they would readily pass a bill extending the jurisdiction of the Port Authority, but the New Jersey Legislature is another matter. Certainly, there should be enough negative votes in Trenton, in both Assembly and Senate, to prevent the Port Authority from acquiring any more power than it already has.

Now I should like to share with your readers some background information they have been asking for.

The Port of New York Authority (which I think should be called the "New York-New Jersey Port Authority") to point up better its bistate character) was created by legislative action in 1921. It was a compact between New York and New Jersey which was subsequently approved by Congress. The bill authorizing it was passed by the New Jersey Senate 17-0 and the Assembly 43-2. It is an interesting point that in 1921 the New Jersey Assembly was composed of 58 Republicans, 1 Democrat and 1 vacancy. This bill was vetoed by Democratic Gov. Edward I. Edwards who felt that although such an Authority could be an answer to the chaotic shipping conditions then obtaining in the port of New York, an all-Jersey commission should first study the compact in order to foresee as well as possible its future effects on our State and to answer municipalities which were raising objections to some aspects of the agreement. Maybe Moonachie now is wishing this commission had functioned?

Passed on Veto

However, the bill was passed over the Governor's veto by a 15-0 vote in our Senate and 39-1 in our Assembly. In New York it passed without any difficulty, the Republican Governor and Republican Legislature being in complete accord and a bipartisan aspect being lent because of the interest of former Governor Smith. On February 23, 1922 a comprehensive plan was submitted and approved by both States and the Port Authority was in business.

By the terms of the compact, the Port Authority was authorized to "purchase, construct, lease and operate any terminal or transportation facility within the Port District." The definitions for terminal facilities and transportation facilities were very broad, transportation facilities for instance being defined as "railroads, steam or electric, motor truck or other street or highway vehicles . . . aircraft suitable for harbor service . . . and every kind of transportation facility now in use or hereafter designed for use for the transportation or carriage of persons or property."

This semi-public corporation, over which nobody exercises direct control and which enjoys privileges of a public body without answering at the polls or anywhere else to the public, originated with a desire to consolidate shipping services in the port of New York. Transshipment of freight by barge from one State to the other as well as between separate terminals of each railroad on the same side of the river was placing the New York port out of competition with Boston, Philadelphia, and other ports. Only the Pennsylvania Railroad had direct communication with New York by means of its tunnel and with the rising economy after World War I it was necessary that there be no tieup of goods reaching the eastern shores from the South and West if this part of the country was to benefit from the commerce with Europe and South America then opening up.

Has Forgotten R.R.

At first the Port Authority was concerned with railroads, especially freight movements, and tried to get agreements among the competing lines and a consolidation of their termini. However, after 1931 when both States agreed that all interstate vehicular, bridge and tunnel construction should be consolidated under the Port Authority, it seems to have lost interest in the original project assigned to it—the serving of the port and the elimination of parallel rights-of-way tie-in of all railroad facilities and of duplicated terminals. The intransigence of the rail-

College Club To Again Give Teacher Course

Summit's public library problem will be the principal topic to be discussed at the January general meeting of the College Club next Thursday at 9:30 a.m., at B. Altman & Co. The session will begin with coffee and the meeting proper will begin at 10 a. m.

Titled, "The Facts About Summit's Public Library," the discussion will cover such points as what services a new library would provide that are not now possible, why a good central library is preferable to several branches, and why a new library does not rival a new high school for the tax dollar.

The panel of speakers includes Mrs. Winthrop C. Lenz, vice president of the Committee for a New Summit Library, who will tell about the need for a citizens committee and how it came to be organized; John J. Summersby, a member of the board of trustees of the Library for the last 12 years, who will give a brief history of the library, discuss its present inadequacies and the library board's proposals; Police Chief John Sayre who will discuss the leisure time activities of young people; Mrs. G. E. Low, member of the Board of Education, who will speak on the joint use of school and public library services by students in Summit, and Mrs. Frances W. Smith, public library consultant from the Public and School Library Services Bureau, Department of Education, Trenton, who will compare Summit's library services with that in other communities. Moderator will be Mrs. Allison Hearn, president of the Committee for a New Summit Library.

Other business on the agenda for the January meeting will be a vote on a proposed change in the by-laws.

New Sunny-Hunny Shop To Open Here Saturday

The first Sunny-Hunny Shop in this area is scheduled to open Saturday at noon, at 327 Springfield avenue.

The take-out or eat-there shop features a special cooker which prepares chicken in six minutes after a 16-hour process of marination. It is one of dozens of shops scheduled for opening in the next few months.

The special cooker, invented by the man who designed the first automatic gasoline pump, finishes the chicken under 35 pounds of pressure per square inch. The cooking process is so fast it retains the chicken's natural juices and keeps shortening out.

Richard E. Rudolph, president of the parent franchising company, Sunny-Hunny Inc. of Philadelphia, said the local shop will feature shrimp and sea filet on a bed of chips, as well as three choices of chicken dinners and three take-out package options.

a Water Heater

...if it's ELECTRIC!

Don't give it a thought. Just turn the tap for all the hot water you want, whenever you want it. An electric water heater is completely automatic. Nothing to light or turn off, even if you go away on a vacation. And because it's fully insulated all around, top and bottom, the water stays constantly hot without costly reheating. This, plus your electric company's special, low-cost water heating rate makes electric water heating a number one bargain.

A Monitoring of the Season's Locality
By PROF. DAVID FABLES, Jr.
Union Junior College

January

January is the month when the largest proportion of nature's secrets is locked up within her. Except for a few erratic, bird migration has all but closed. Amphibians and reptiles are hibernating and many mammals are in deep slumbers. Evergreen plant species may be sought or the twig patterns of woody species studied, but little else. The tracks of birds and mammals may be discerned in the tracery of imprints to be found most advantageously in a shallow fall of snow.

Many people who call themselves naturalists terminate the year's activities with the taking of an Audubon Society's Christmas bird count at the year's close, and do not venture forth again until that rare day in early March when the sun shines delightfully and the Redwing music is to be heard. Some may be forgiven on the grounds of impaired health, while others merely fear to brave the cold. To the latter we would propose a field-trip in the invigorating air of a brisk and bright January day.

Select a dawn when a northwest wind with its accompanying snow squall has just spent itself in the early morning hours, early enough in the morning to permit some moving about by the ambient mammals before sunup. If one lives in the country one may start with the tracks in one's own yard, if not it may be necessary to drive to a nearby or distant field, wood lot, swamp or shore. Tracking is not easy, especially at the start, and many may seem to be similar imprints. A few are distinctive enough, however, for a tyro to attain a feeling of accomplishment in the study of tracks without spending an undue amount of time.

The present century has seen a sizeable influx of opossums into the northeastern states. They are all about us even in the cities and yet it frequently takes a snowfall to reveal this to us. The possum has four toes in the front and five in back with an "opposable thumb" impression on the hind foot. This may suggest a raccoon to those who are familiar with the latter, but the tail usually drags in the snow in the possum track. Everyone is familiar with squirrel tracks, by gray may not always be discernible from red. Habitat may help some, but it is far from infallible. Red squirrels prefer coniferous woods; the gray, deciduous; the pads of the feet of the gray are more pronounced. (Tails may show; the red is big-toed and more blunt.)

The red fox is more prevalent hereabouts than supposed. His tracks are frequently confused with the dog's. A fox that is walking usually places its feet one after the other in a straight line, the dog does not. Evidence for the white-footed mouse may be in the form of a nest where the avian home of the previous summer may have been remodeled with the open portion being covered with twigs and leaves, assuring a warm winter abode.

Winter birdlife usually has three principal aspects: the back-yard feeder; the shore and ocean, and the inland finch bands. Close at hand there may be northern Horned Larks, Snow Buntings and possibly a Lapland Longspur or two at the South Amboy fill or the Morristown Airport.

Scoters, common loons, and herring Gulls riding the waves, ruddy ducks and gull bands at the shore ponds; evening grosbeaks, purple finches and rarely pine grosbeaks or crossbills on the road from Stockholm to Vernon in Sussex County.

Should the birds be meagre on a given day, one may turn attention to the evergreen ferns and fern allies. In thickets may be found the securing rush, in the overgrown field with gray birches, the ground cedar and ground pine; in the deeper woods, the running pine.

In the limestone country the walking fern, the maidenhair spleenwort and the wall rue may be found, while most anywhere may occur the thickish, brazen fronds of the terrate grape fern. There is much to be sought in January, and we should not remain too long by the fireside if health permits our wandering.

Tasty topping for a snowy head of cauliflower; cheese sauce into which you've stirred a tablespoon or more of golden sherry wine.

ALL-SET FOR "ANNIE" — Enthusiasm appears to be running high among the seven young budding actors and actresses pictured above who have been given important parts in Summit High School's forthcoming production of Irving Berlin's "Annie Get Your Gun," scheduled for February 19 and 20 in the school's auditorium. Rehearsals for the annual G.O. production got underway this week, and tickets will be placed on sale on Monday. Shown above "taking five" are, left to right, Jim Hahn, Cynthia Greenawald, Dale Woodward, Bob MacArthur, Ray Sprow, Marty McMane, and Jim Wilbourn.

Library Adds Massive Art Reference Work

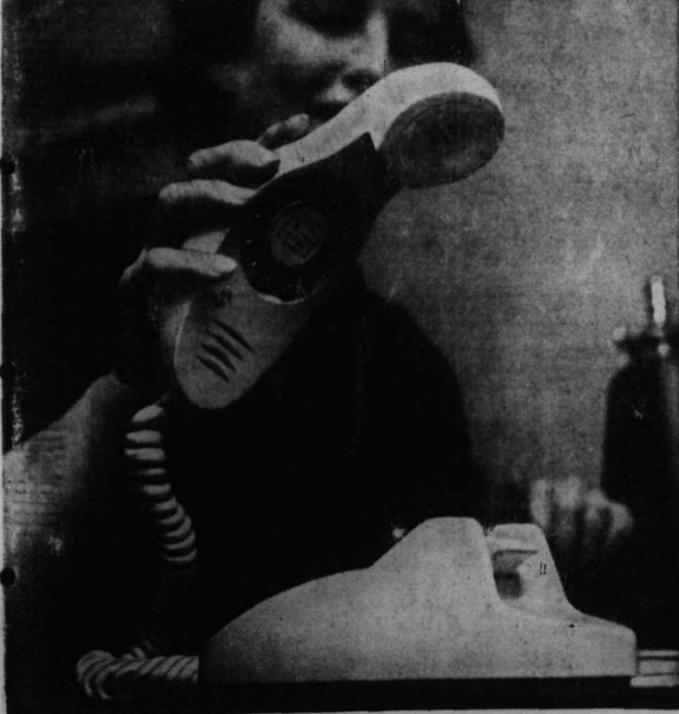

The addition of volume 1 of the "Encyclopedia of World Art" to the reference collection at the Public Library has been announced by Miss Alice E. Carter, director. Volume 1 is the first of a projected 15-volume set to be completed within the next three and a half years.

Goal of the set is "bringing together in one set of books a comprehensive presentation of the visual arts of all times and places, drawing both in text and illustrations on the resources of the entire world." Volume one ranges from "A-ito, Alvar" to "Asia Minor, Western: Pre-Greek Cultures; Early Greek Influences."

John Canady, reviewing the volume in the New York Times, terms the encyclopedia as a reference work which "also turns out to be the most tempting browsing volume that I have hit since the Book of Knowledge some time ago." He describes it as "packed with wonders."

New Brunswick housewife tests new model telephone

The acid test for any telephone improvement is, of course, the way it performs in your home or office. That's why we asked Mrs. Alice Woodward and 142 other New Jersey housewives to use this new model in their homes for four months last year. The things she found out about this experimental model will be of great help to us. There were many things she liked about this compact new phone with the dial built into the receiver. But—as with other customers—there were suggestions for improvements and some critical comments.

Freeholders Mull $400,000 for New Runnels Jobs

A $400,000 expansion program for John E. Runnels Hospital at Berkeley Heights is being considered by the Board of Freeholders. The project is aimed at regaining full accreditation for the county institution, which is on a probationary status as a result of a survey made by the Hospital Accreditation Commission in 1958.

The $400,000 is included in a total budget of $1,800,000 under consideration by the Freeholders for the hospital. The $400,000 would provide at least 52 new staff members, such as doctors, nurses and other employees. The new job would cost taxpayers alone $230,000, according to the proposed budget.

The plan calls for the creation of an assistant medical director and superintendent's post, and would increase the number of resident physicians from four to five. Six registered nurses would be added and the remaining 44 new jobs will be distributed among practical nurses, kitchen help, maintenance workers and laborers.

The plan also includes a director of voluntary services, at $5,327 a year, who would be responsible for developing and supervising outside volunteer help at hospital.

A total of $141,500 would be spent for repairs, improvements and the elimination of sub-standard buildings on the hospital's 140-acre tract. The freeholder board already has spent up-

Wards of $70,000 for a new electrical system at the hospital.

The modernization program also would provide an equal number of short, middle and long-term cases and an ultimate bed count of 275. The current patient population averages 230.

Already announced is the plan to convert unused areas of the new nurses' quarters at the hospital to chronic patient use. The Union County Welfare Board has urged the freeholders to take some of its aged charges, now housed out of the county, for placement at Runnels.

$10,000 Given to Boy Hurt in Bike-Car Crash

A settlement of $10,000 was approved last week by County Judge Carroll W. Hopkins for injuries suffered by Stuart Haverbeck, 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Haverbeck of 70 Portland road.

The boy was injured in a bicycle-auto accident near his home on Jan. 29, 1957 when he was struck by a car operated by Mrs. Dorothea Bristol of 72 Portland road. The suit charged that Mrs. Bristol was driving on the wrong side of the street when she struck the boy near the intersection of Dorchester and Portland roads.

The settlement gave the boy $9,000 for his injuries and his father $1,000 for medical expenses. The Haverbecks were represented by Joseph Keane of Jersey City and the Bristols by Roger Lancaster of Newark.

Rear-End Crash Brings $30,000 Damage Suit

A Superior Court suit asking for $30,000 damages as the result of an automobile accident was filed this week by Lawrence Finnegan of 39 Lew's avenue against Robert Chocallo of Roselle.

According to the suit, Finnegan, a member of the Summit Police Department, was sitting behind the wheel of his car at Clark Township waiting for a red light to change when he was struck in the rear by a car driven by Chocallo.

Finnegan is asking for $25,000 personal injuries and $5,000 punitive damages. Last week Chocallo pleaded guilty to a charge of driving while intoxicated at a hearing held at magistrate's court, Clark Township.

Finnegan is represented by John A. Lombardi, local attorney.

Local Woman Wins Home Service Award

A 1959 Laura McCall award for home service achievement has been awarded Miss Ethel F. Lord of 831 Springfield avenue, home service director for Jersey Central Power & Light and New Jersey Power & Light Companies.

The award was presented to Miss Lord at a recent meeting of the Electrical Women's Round Table in Chicago for her program of educating high school home economic students in the operations of JCP&L-NJP&L through a series of field trips and lectures.

At the same conference Miss Lord also was elected to the national board of directors of the Electrical Women's Round Table.

The Laura McCall award was established by McCall's magazine in 1940 to provide recognition to outstanding women in the electric utility home service field. Miss Lord also received the award in 1953 for a similar home service program.

The panel of judges cited Miss Lord's program by which more than 1,800 area teenagers were taken on field trips to visit the utilities' home service demonstration kitchens and tour the utilities' buildings.

Miss Lord joined JCP&L as home service director in 1950, transferring from the Metropolitan Edison Company. She was appointed head of the two utilities' home service department in 1957.

She is an immediate past governor of the Soroptimists Federation of the America, a trustee of the Lydia Hayes Memorial Association for the Blind and chairman of the New York chapter of the Electrical Women's Round Table.

Chatham Golf Club To Unveil Links Plan

Plans for commencing construction of the Fairmount Country Club golf course on the Noe farm tract on Southern boulevard will be discussed at a meeting of club members to be held next Thursday, January 28, at the Lafayette school at 8 p.m. The club signed a contract in December to purchase this 190 acre tract and plans to start construction early this spring.

Ed Dundy of Vineland, N.J. and former applicant retained by the club has already completed preliminary plans for a new 79,000-sq-ft course of championship quality. He will discuss his proposed design at the meeting as well as a proposed construction schedule to begin a five-year course by the summer of 1963.

Decorative members are invited to attend this meeting at which other club plans will also be discussed.

Also joined a phoning club to give to area the phoning club the 2-hole, among the National Institute of Phoning. A new record was broken recently by the phoning club when a phoning club had been used on a nation-wide attempt the club was being in a phoning club to a club dues, and the phoning club of the phoning club to chlorine left in the suit.

A simple dessert that will not spoil such as cookies, cup cakes, fruit, individual pies or turnovers, cake, canned fruit, candy and doughnuts is best to include in your lunch box menu.

Plastics Society Hears Talk by Local Resident

John B. Howard of 13 Sunset Drive, spoke last week before the national ANTEC meeting of the Society of Plastics Engineers in Chicago. One of the principal speakers, his topic was, "Effects of Thermal History on some Properties of Polyethylene."

Mr. Howard stated that prior thermal history has much to do with such properties as density, low-temperature brittleness, and environmental stress-cracking. This information is of value when selecting polyethylene for wire and cable coating for ocean cables and other electrical applications.

Mr. Howard is a group leader in the chemistry department of Bell Labs at Murray Hill. He was born at New Haven, Conn., and received a BS degree with honors at Yale in June, 1936 and upon graduation joined Bell Labs.

He is a member of the American Chemical Society, Society of Plastic Engineers, Alpha Chi Sigma, and Committee D-20 of the American Society for Testing Materials.

While Deer Nibble Shrubs Trappers Nibble at Deer

While Watching Reservation deer are nibbling at Summit shrubbery, state game wardens are nibbling at the herds in an effort to diminish the nibbling of shrubbery.

Last week game wardens started their long-promised project of thinning out county park deer herds which have been damaging shrubbery at many homes bordering the park. Last Wednesday two does and a buck were caught in three of the six traps set out in December.

They were tagged and shipped to other parts of the state where they will be more welcome.

In December the state set out six traps and baited them with apples. The traps provided a free meal for the deer but it also got them acquainted with the crate-like structures until finally on last Wednesday the deer entered the traps for more apples and had the boom, or gate, lowered on them.

The trapping will continue

Driver of School Bus Injured in Skid Crash

A Newark woman, driving a Short Hills School bus, was slightly injured last Thursday when the bus, which was empty, skidded and slid into a utility pole at 4:35 p.m. on Hobart avenue near Beacon Hill Club.

The woman, Mrs. Isabelle V. Denny, 46, was taken to Overlook Hospital in the city ambulance where she was treated for injuries and later discharged.

According to police the Volkswagen bus was proceeding north on Hobart avenue and apparently went into a skid when the driver applied brakes about 200 feet from Beacon road. The bus made a half-turn and swung into the pole, damaging the rear and right side of the vehicle.

The driver had discharged the last of the passengers at the time the accident occurred. The investigation was made by Patrolman Robert O'Brien.

High School Quint Downs Caldwell, Bows to Verona

The Summit High cagers day night in front of a capacity crowd. The game was a close battle all the way with Verona in the lead throughout the first period. Summit tied up the game after 2 minutes of the second quarter and there was seldom more than a two point difference from there on.

Stephlight did another magnificent job of controlling the boards, both in rebounds and placement of shots as he led the team once again in scoring with 19 points. Max Fry was not far behind Sol with 14 and played top ball. For the winners Doug Gaffney scored 21 points in a fine display of outside shooting.

The Maroon and White will face Millburn tomorrow night. That game will be played at Millburn and will follow the J.V. game at 7 p.m.

The first quarter was all Caldwell as it held a 13-4 lead over Summit. The next two periods saw the Maroon and White tighten up and the gap was closed to a 4-point difference in Caldwell's favor. Sol Stephlight dominated the scoring by dropping 8 baskets and 7 fouls for a total of 23 points. The second game was held in the High School Gym last Fri-

YMCA Girls' Swim Team Takes Top AAU Honors

An unprecedented sweep of all four places by local YMCA girls in the 100-yard butterfly Junior Women's New Jersey Championship featured the AAU Championship meet held at Summit's YMCA last Saturday. Before a packed house, Miss Judy Dinszen, smashed a Mona DeFillipo record of three years standing in winning her first state championship. Pam Richter finished second, Ann Trumbatore third, and Susan Edack fourth. Experienced New Jersey AAU officials could not recall any club ever having all the finalists in a state championship event before.

The other AAU championship event on the card, the 200 yard back stroke for Senior Women, found Miss Judy Travis of the Summit team in second place by less than a yard as she lost a thrilling stretch dual with Mona DeFillipo for the dorsal diadem.

If the most thrilling event of the evening, the Summit Y girls came from behind to nip the Watchung Swim Club and annex the State Age Group championship in the 200-yard freestyle race for girls 11 and 12.

Miss Susan Pitt, swimming the third leg behind Carol Hunter and Cheryl Rogers, turned in her career low as she brought the tough Watchung team into range for Senior State Champion and anchor Ginny Duenkel who applied the finishing touch. All four finalists broke the event record formerly held by Summit girls Mary Swift, Susan Edack, Pam Richter and Miss Duenkel when they competed for the Newark A. C. Miss Karen Laundry capped

In the major basketball league, the Royals maintained a tie for first place by defeating the Lakers 37-34 in an overtime period. Jeff Harlan led the Royals in scoring with 17 points. For the losers, Jeff Gilbert scored 15 points. The Celtics took an 18-8 lead over the Hawks at halftime and went on to win 33-20. Joe Archeseo scored 10 points for the Celtics.

In the Franklin division of the minor league, the Shooters and Dribblers remained undefeated by winning their games over the Rebounders and the Passers. Trailing at halftime by 6 points, the Shooters broke open the game and scored 14 points in the third period. Meile Steel scored 22 points in the game for the winners, 12 of which were scored in the last quarter. The final score was 34-20.

Grisby Sparkles As Sperco Drubs Singer 89-48

Sperco Motors utilized a fast break and phenomenal shooting by Vee Grisby to drop Singer further into the loop cellar with a 1-5 mark, with an 89 to 48 win last week.

Grisby batted 1,000 as he went eight for eight from the floor with sets and drives. Teammate Bob Bell, like Grisby, posted 18 points and five of these came in succession with the score knotted at 4-4.

The Motorsmen had things much their own way after that as they sprinted to a half time lead of 31-32 and checked Singer's thrusts in the last half. Frank Patterson's steady tallying netted 19 for the victors.

 ted $7,337.77, representing 90.2 per cent of its quota.
 Falling farthest short of its goal was the advanced gifts division, to which contributions amounting to $54,064.79 have been received or 70.2 per cent of the division quota.
 In the special solicitations division, $8,126.50 was collected, representing 84.6 per cent of its quota; while, reaching 81.1 per cent of the division quota, the industrial and commercial section contributed $22,217.09.
 The campaign committee indicated there is a potential of $2,579.15 still to be collected; with the largest amount expected to come from the advanced gifts division in the amount of $1,125. It is also expected that general solicitation will gain an additional $752, while $476 is expected from industrial and commercial sources. Special solicitation is expected to contribute an additional $97.15, while $121 is expected from the apartments and $308 from business.
 Shortage Put at $30,148
 If all the potential is completely collected, the total for the entire campaign would reach $149,052.50, of $30,148 short of the 1959 goal.
 Mr. Ransom, the new campaign chairman, is a directory production manager of the N. J. Bell Telephone Co. with offices at Glen Ridge. Active in United Campaign drives for a number of years, he is a former president of the Senior High School PTA, director of the YM-CA, where he is publicity chairman, and president of the Northern New Jersey Lehigh Club, as well as a member of Calvary Episcopal Church.
 He is married and has two children.
 In his report to the Central Committee of A Fund for Summit, Mr. Ransom noted that in the light of "lack of public support for the U.S.O.," he recommended dropping the organization from the united fund and urged a "negative vote" on the application of the U.S.O. for membership in the coming year.
 Cites Increase
 In commenting on the results of the campaign, Mr. Kenyon indicated that substantial increases had been made in the general solicitation and apartments divisions, which he attributed to more efficient preliminary organization of the drive in these areas, as well as "excellent leadership" with a "well-organized staff of workers."
 However, in commenting on the returns from the advanced gifts division, which have dropped almost $6,000 from last year, Mr. Kenyon noted that there seemed to be loss of the larger contributor area. He added that the large contributor seemed to be disappearing from the community—and was being replaced by contributors in other brackets.

 In evaluating the returns from the business division, Mr. Kenyon said there was an increase, just under $1,000, but that he felt "as much as was obtained from our merchants as they are willing to give" since "they are under tremendous pressure from many drives."
 Commenting on the total fund drive, Mr. Kenyon stipulated that he felt the total amount collected would have been greater if a Spring Health Drive had actually been planned and in operation by this spring. He added the united fund is blamed for a lack of unity among the various drives and therefore he urged that the community, Common Council, residents and the mayor join together to form a "truly" united campaign, since in his opinion there is a crisis in the city and the services offered by Fund for Summit funds cannot "long survive on the funds raised." He added, "We are at a crossroad, and it is a time for action, not by the United Campaign Central Committee but by the community as a whole in response to a problem that concerns everyone."
 Echoing Mr. Kenyon's plea for a united drive was Henry C. Coit, in his annual report as chairman of the central committee.
 Mr. Coit maintained that the united fund "is the only active organization in the city trying to cut down on the number of drives." Mr. Coit urged that "new steps be taken by conscientious citizens to find, and if necessary, force a solution to the problem." He added that such action should not come from agency members or those associated with the current drive, but from those "not closely associated," since the answer would only come in this manner.
 Mr. Coit suggested that a "public spirited" group, not connected with any agency, arrange to "have a team of trained experts make a study of all the city's health, welfare and character building agencies" and make recommendations in a professional manner regarding the agencies and fund-raising in the city.
 He concluded by saying that solutions must be found not only to what he termed "pressing financial problems" but "for the more important problems of the thousand of donors who are faced with too many drives too often."
 Residents Again
 spend and when do we spend it?"
 Indicating that college standards are constantly being raised, Morton Ashman of 13 Greenfield avenue urged that education in the city be continually improved.

 Mr. Thornton declared that "spending money is not always progress," and indicated that he and Council were aware of the pressures and responsibilities involved.
 Kenneth A. Cowell of 222 Kent Place boulevard urged "patience" in the matter since such projects "cannot be developed in haste."
 Letters supporting the Board of Education stand were received from the Junior High School and Brayton School PTAs urging Council and the school board to resolve their "differences." Other letters came from Kelvin Sproola of 27 Hawthorne place and F. and M. L. Henschel of 85 Oak Ridge avenue.
 In other matters, Michael Zotti was promoted to fireman, fourth grade, at an annual salary of $5,075.
 Other business included the appointment of Albert Schmidt, Jr. as a special police officer in the auxiliary force and the granting of taxi cab licenses to John J. Holland, Samuel D. Bennett, Charles W. Johnston, Irving Gallup and James W. Grant, Jr.
 Luncheonette licenses were granted Ross M. Giamarino of 327 Springfield avenue and LeRoy Russell of 2 Kent Place boulevard. A junk dealer's license went to Irving Schnitzer of Newark.
 $30,000 Asked consideration future street construction and widening, and the general coordination of development activities of the city's various official bodies.

 "Seek 'Qualified Planner'"
 Noting that a "worthwhile" plan can only be established by a "highly qualified professional planner," the Board has requested authority to interview at least six of all leading candidates for the position, selecting two or three for further investigation. Eventually, the report adds, the Board wants one firm to be selected on the basis of the "effectiveness of its presentation, the success of its work with other communities, the quality of the master plans it has prepared . . . (as well as) the personality, skill, imagination and knowledge of the staff."
 Also to be taken into consideration according to the Board, would be the "relative estimated cost of the job to be done." As to cost, the Board indicated it varies according to the size of the community, the type of assignment and the competence of the planners. Exact cost, it was indicated, could only be determined by direct negotiation with planners.
