Red Cross Joins Blood Bank Set-up

Participation in a regional blood bank by the Summit chapter, Red Cross, was announced this week by Russell T. Kerby, chapter chairman. For the last five years the local chapter has operated under a blood donor program whereby any area resident needing blood has been required to make a replacement. Replacements were made on a voluntary basis.

During this period, a total of 1,200 pints of blood has been replaced as needed without charge by the Red Cross.

Under the new plan, a blood mobile unit from the New York City Center will visit on scheduled dates to collect blood. Eight bloodmobile visits have been scheduled for this area for the coming year including three visits at Bell Telephone Laboratories.

First Visit Feb. 8
The first bloodmobile visit is scheduled for Thursday, February 8, at Central Presbyterian Church parish house. The success of this visit and those following is entirely dependent on the cooperation of the men and women between the ages of 18 through 59 who are willing to give blood.

Every organization in this area, industrial plants, church organizations, clubs or whole communities, is invited to join. The Summit Area includes New Providence, Berkeley Heights, Passaic Township, and Summit.

Approval of the new plan has been given by members of the board of directors of the local chapter and also by the Union County Medical Association. The plan has the cooperation of Overlook Hospital, the board of managers of Runnells Hospital.

Yule Courtesy Squad Begins Action Today

Those doing their Christmas shopping in Summit this year will again be accorded a type of red-carpet treatment when the Police Department sends its famed "courtesy squad" into action today.

The squad, first started in 1950, has several duties, among them to offer shoppers information, gently reminding those who might happen to disobey traffic and parking regulations not to do it again, helping distraught mothers find lost children and other services to permit local shoppers to fill out their Yule list in comfort.

According to John B. Sayre, chief of police, the squad, which numbers about four men, has become popular with local shoppers during the two years of its existence and many persons coming into the city from other towns have become dependent upon the men for directions to certain stores, parking lots and other bits of information that make the trip here pleasant.

Members of the courtesy squad saunter through the city's business district throughout the day and evening shopping hours offering help here and there as well as making certain that all the city's traffic laws are being obeyed.

Chief Sayre says the project has considerably cut down on confusion, traffic violations and has made Christmas shopping more pleasant for the out-of-town visitor.

Since the holiday shopping season will be officially opened today when all retail merchants will remain open daily until 9 p.m., the squad will stay on duty until closing. The shopping season will end on December 23. On Saturdays, December 9

Presbyterians Tell Plans for Heights Church

On a tract of land known locally as "Lucas Corners" for more than half a century, the United Presbyterian Church proposes to locate a new church in Berkeley Heights. The Presbytery of Morris and Orange has taken steps to acquire a site at Plainfield and Mountain Avenues which the late Henry G. Lucas purchased in 1905. Until his death in the fall of 1960, he resided in the house, across Plainfield Avenue, which Mrs. Lucas continues to occupy. Mrs. Lucas is known here for her many services in Red Cross and other civic activities.

Central Presbyterian Church of Summit, which already includes in its communicant membership more than sixty Berkeley Heights families, is expected to have a major role in developing the new congregation in the Township. Acting for and in behalf of the National Missions Committee of Presbytery, a committee of the Session of Central Church already is at work laying the groundwork for activities that could lead to services of worship and a church school program commencing the latter part of 1962.

A census of religious affiliation and interest begun in the summer of 1960 and concluded a year later indicated both immediate opportunity and challenging long-term possibilities for the new church in this Township, limited only by the vision, the dedication, and the energies of Christian laymen under leadership of the Church. Central Presbyterian Church, which itself began many years ago as a mission of the parent church in New Providence founded in Colonial days, now stands ready to carry on the tradition by fostering the new congregation in Berkeley Heights.

Mr. Lucas, for whom "Lucas Corners" was named half a century ago, will be remembered as a former Township Committeeman and one term its president, who also served on the Board of Education, was a charter member of the Volunteer Fire Department, and was active in establishment of the Berkeley Heights Rescue Squad. A member of the board of trustees of the Speedwell Avenue Union Chapel of Morristown until his death, he and Mrs. Lucas also for many years attended Central Presbyterian Church in Summit.

Persons interested in this new church project in the Township of Berkeley Heights may communicate with Central Church at 70 Maple Street, or call the church office, CR. 3-0441.

Tradition Broken as 2 Choirs Sing "Messiah"

Breaking the tradition of singing Handel's "Messiah" separately at their own churches, this year the choirs of the Methodist Church and Calvary Episcopal Church will combine with approximately 75 voices to perform the oratorio at Calvary Church on Sunday at 4 p.m. under the direction of Howard Vogel. Both choirs invite all area residents to attend.

Mary Diehl of New Providence, will be soprano soloist. Mrs. Diehl attended the Eastman School of Music and studied voice privately under Julius Huehn. She was formerly soloist at Trinity Cathedral in Newark.

Singing the contralto solos, Margaret Harris of Chatham, studied at Manus Music College, N.Y.C., at New York University, and also privately under Franz Proschowski. She sang as soloist at Union Theological Seminary in St. James Chapel under Hugh Porter, and has also appeared at Lewisohn Stadium, N.Y.

Charles Betts, a newcomer to Summit, will sing the tenor roles. He was formerly tenor soloist at Trinity Cathedral, Newark and is a pupil of Romley Fell.

George Walker, baritone soloist, has specialized in the field of oratorio singing for many years. He began his singing career as a boy soprano, in England and studied under Mr. Fell in this country. He has been soloist at the Church of the Holy Communion, South Orange; Central Presbyterian Church, Madison, and more recently at Grace Episcopal Church, Newark.

Howard Vogel has been organist and choirmaster at Calvary Church for the last five years. Prior to coming to Summit, Mr. Vogel held the same position at St. Paul's Church, Paterson. He is a graduate of Gullmant Organ School, N.Y.C., and has studied with Philip James and Martin Bernstein at New York University and privately under the late Harold Friedell at St. Bartholomew's Church in that city. He holds a licentiate degree from Trinity College of London and an associateship from the American Guild of Organists.

Elderly Couple Seriously Hurt In 2-Car Crash

An elderly Springfield couple was seriously injured Sunday afternoon when their car collided with another automobile and then smashed into a tree at the intersection of Kent Place boulevard and Passaic avenue.

Mrs. Beatrice E. Gould, 69, driver of the car, was listed in fair condition at Overlook with a torn right knee cap, broken leg and contusions and bruises about the body. Her husband, John J. Gould, 74, a passenger in the car, is also in fair condition at Overlook where he is being treated for a fractured ankle, back and shoulders injuries as well as facial cuts.

Police identified the driver of the other car as Margaret A. Mulligan, 38, of Gillette. She was uninjured.

The accident occurred when Mrs. Mulligan was driving north on Passaic avenue and Mrs. Gould east on Kent Place boulevard. Police said Mrs. Mulligan hit the Gould car on the right rear fender, allegedly causing Mrs. Gould to lose control of her vehicle. The car then continued for another 60 feet before it crashed into a city-owned tree.

Police said the impact demolished the front end of the car and allegedly caused the injuries to Mr. and Mrs. Gould. Police said the car, a 1959 model had to be towed away. Mrs. Mulligan

Council Plans 2% Pay Hikes For Employees

Common Council introduced its 1962 Salary ordinance Tuesday night which would boost municipal wages from $25 to $2,000 for police, firemen and other city employees. The pay increases represent a general average increase of 2 per cent for most city employees.

This is in line with a general salary policy announced by Council in October. At the same time three positions would receive salary reductions ranging from $800 to $85. A public hearing on the ordinance will be held December 19.

Under the proposed ordinance three new positions would be created including climber, first, second and third class, to work in parks and the shade tree department. Salary for a climber, third class, would start at $4,225, and advance to $4,520 for second class, and to $4,800 for third class.

Police Department employees would receive a scale of increases ranging from $100 for probationary officers to $500 for the chief, who would be raised to $10,500. Probationary officers would receive $5,000 as a starting wage, while patrolmen fourth grade would go up $105 to $5,505; third grade, up $110 to $5,550; second grade, up $115 to $5,615 and first grade, up $125 to $5,725.

Both detectives first grade and sergeants would be slated for raises of $250 to a salary of $7,150, while detective lieutenants would go up $400 to $8,900 and lieutenants would be raised the same amount to $9,400.

New Pooling
Another new position created in the proposed ordinance is for an equipment operator for streets, sewers, parks, etc., at an annual salary of $4,900.

Raises ranging from $100 to $700 were proposed for the Fire Department, with the largest increase going to the chief, making his salary $9,800. Lieutenants would go up to $8,400, while firemen first grade would receive $6,225, an increase of $125. Firemen, second grade, would be raised to $5,815, third grade to $5,550, and fourth grade to $5,305. Probationary firemen would be raised $100 to $5,000.

Largest raise in the proposed ordinance would go to the assistant city treasurer, who would receive an increase of $2,000 to a salary of $8,000.

The highest paid municipal employee would be the city engineer, with a $250 raise to a salary of $11,550. Other municipal employees receiving raises would be the executive secretary of the Common Council, $400 to $10,400; city solicitor, $500 to $7,500; building inspector, $150 to $7,600 and the receiver of taxes $300 to $7,200.

City Treasurer Gets Boost
Other raises would go to the city treasurer, $600 to $10,000; assistant receiver of taxes, $100 to $4,400; director of welfare, $300 to $3,900; assistant city forester, $300 to $3,600; city forester, $600 to $6,500 and secretary of the Board of Assessors, $200 to $9,100.

Services to Be Held for Women Killed by Car

Funeral services for Mrs. Mari Karpenski, 66, of 25 Russell place, fatally injured when she was struck by a car on Monday on Morris avenue, will be held on Saturday at 9 a.m. from the Paul Ippolito Summit Memorial, 7-Summit avenue, followed by a Solemn High Mass of Requiem at 10 a.m. in St. Teresa's Church.

The death was the first in the city from an auto accident this year.

Mrs. Karpenski, mother of Patrolman Edward Karpenski, was killed at 6:25 p.m. when she attempted to cross Morris avenue at Russell place and was struck down by a car driven by Robert L. Chew, 21, of Swedesboro. He will be charged with causing death by auto.

Mrs. Karpenski, widow of George L. Karpenski, was returning from a visit to the doctor when the accident occurred. She was pronounced dead on arrival at Overlook Hospital by Dr. Robert S. Milligan, city physician. An autopsy was performed on Tuesday.

Police said Mrs. Karpenski was crossing from north to south at the time of the accident while Mr. Chew was driving east.

Resident 47 Years
Born in Warsaw, Poland, Mrs. Karpenski had been a resident of Summit for 47 years. Her husband died 11 years ago. She was a past president of Sons of Poland Group 100, and a member of the Rosary Society of the Sacred Heart Church and Club Wanda, both of Irvington.

Besides Patrolman Karpenski, who is a past president of the Summit Police Benevolent Association, she is survived by another son, John J., a general manager of a local supermarket, with whom she lived; three daughters, Mrs. Katherine Serwell of Somerville, Mrs. Elisabeth Neve of Chatham Township, and Mrs. Jean Anasab of Lakewood; 16 grandchildren and three sisters in Poland.

Investigating the mishap were Police Chief John B. Sayre, Lt. William Behre, Sgt. Robert Martin and Patrolman Charles J. Smith, Jr.

The funeral will be at St. Teresa's Cemetery.

Deadline is Set for Christmas Music Page

The Summit Herald will continue its yearly custom of printing the complete Christmas music program and devotional services of the Summit Area churches. This annual feature will appear in the Thursday, December 21 issue.

Because of the mechanical difficulties involved in putting the page together, it is necessary that a deadline of Wednesday, December 13 be set for all copy for the Christmas music page. Material submitted after that date will have to be omitted.

It is therefore earnestly requested that all ministers and choir and music directors of the various churches cooperate by submitting their programs typed and double-spaced no later than December 13.

Nothing Dismal About Great Swamp Progress

The Summit Nature Club's gift of $1,000 to the Great Swamp Committee of the North American Wildlife Foundation brings the local club's contributions for the procurement of land in the Great Swamp to a total of $2,320.

The membership voted its most recent gift at a business meeting on November 16 preceding the showing of the picture Arizona Wonderland at Lincoln School.

About 2,000 acres have been purchased to date through the generosity of individuals and organizations with the objective of procuring 3,000 acres by public donation thus qualifying the land as a Fish and Wildlife Preserve of the federal government. Nothing short of an act of Congress can then wrest the area from the national park system.

U. S. Survey Starts

The Department of Interior last week established a field office at the edge of the Great Swamp in Morris County, boosting the hopes of naturalists and nearby residents that the Port of New York Authority's plans for a jetport there are doomed.

The Great Swamp Committee of the North American Wildlife Foundation said that the federal government will begin a survey of the 2,000 acres of swamp purchased for a wildlife preserve.

The land is in the middle of 13,000 acres that the Port Authority wants to develop into a jetport at a cost of $220,000,000.

The Port Authority still has a chance of pushing ahead with its jetport, providing the State Legislature approves and the present preserve is condemned or airport plans altered. All would be difficult to achieve quickly.

Made Gift Last Year

Last year on December 15 a formal presentation of acreage already contributed by the Summit Nature Club was made at the High School to C. B. Guter-muth of the North American Wildlife Foundation who journeyed from Washington for the occasion. At that time the necessity of the wetlands as run off for the Passaic River during flooding was stressed as well as its importance as a refuge. Common Council adopted this position almost a year later when it passed a resolution urging the New Jersey League of Municipalities to support legislation which would in effect preserve the Great Swamp as "vital" in carrying out a flood control program in the lower Passaic River valley.

Council also requested League support to the efforts of the North American Wildlife Foundation in its land acquisition program.

Has 300 Members

Local members of the Great Swamp Committee of the Foundation include Frederick H. Sacksteder of 80 Prospect street and Dr. Robert W. Krebs of 98 Druid Hill road, who are Summit Nature Club officers.

The Nature Club, whose membership is open to the public has less than 300 members who are widely dispersed in the Summit Area. The club sponsors the Audubon screen tours, field trips, bird and botany seminars, and bird counts. Its meetings are always highlighted with nature lectures with films which precede a short business meeting.

Local YMCA to Seek $3,500 for Uganda
By unanimous vote at its November meeting, the YMCA board of directors put the local Association into the heart of Africa.
After correspondence with the International Committee at New York, the local board has "adopted" the most recently organized YMCA outpost as its own special World Service concern, and will raise $3,500 over and above local budget needs to meet the 1962 supplemental requirements of the YMCA project in Uganda, according to Cameron.

Erald Readership High, Subscriber Survey Shows

Both papers are long-established and members of ABC (Audit Bureau of Circulations). Readers were asked whether they "read regularly" or "sometimes" or "rarely," each of the front-page and inside-page departments and columns published weekly or frequently if not weekly by each paper, and similarly, to what extent they read Suburbia Today that appears monthly.

Most "read regularly" for each New Jersey paper were "page one news" and "page one pictures." The top "inside features" for each paper were "editorials," "politics and government," and "Suburbia Today."

The poll summaries are attached. A breakdown of answers by "women" and "men" reader classifications also is available.

Another kind of question on the poll—about media—asked which newspapers the subscriber read besides the weekly studied. Few of the two papers' subscribers read any other weekly. Most of them read one daily, with the two dailies from Newark slightly outpacing the cumulative list of New York City dailies. Other dailies likewise showed a following.

Cost of the two surveys, conducted simultaneously, was approximately $600, combined. This included printing the survey cards and envelopes in which they were mailed, addressing, postage out and back, sorting, compiling, and other relevant expenses. This averaged about 11¢ an answer.

Planning, questions and format were prepared by publisher relations director Morton Frank of Suburbia Today, in cooperation with publisher Carl S. Hulett of the Summit Herald and co-publishers Willard A. Baetzner and Charles E. Paulson of the Millburn-Short Hills Item.

Another weekly newspaper readership study recently conducted by Washington University of St. Louis for the Kirkwood, Mo., Advertiser, revealed that 787 of the 1,431 responses said they "always read" Sub-

USE PINE CONES Pine cones are plentiful during the outdoor season and are quite popular for indoor Christmas decorations. Gathering and preparing cones for the holiday season can be fun. Clean the cones and, when dry, spray them with shellac from an aerosol can. The shellac not only preserves the cones, but also keeps them looking bright.

Stand By to Assist Overlook

"Stand by to Assist" is the operational slogan of Overlook Hospital, which is currently conducting its annual giving campaign to raise $300,000.

Normally, healthy persons regard a community hospital as a necessary medical depot for other people, who are unfortunately ill. Rarely, is the community hospital regarded as a fully integrated part of the neighborhood, which plays many roles.

Overlook is not only a haven for the sick, but it is also a training school a center for learning and a dispenser of many types of care for many types of ills.

The hospital also serves as a vital core to the community disaster program. It trains nurses and doctors, and it provides emergency aid regardless of time or circumstances.

With all its advantages, Overlook Hospital has many needs, and it requires community monetary support.

In return for service, the community should also stand by to assist by contributing dollars to provide essential services for the community and its residents.

A Plea Well Worth Heeding

The seasonal plea for early mailing of Christmas gifts and cards has begun. Postmaster Robert Dunsmore anticipates a record volume of mail this year and is on bended knees for public cooperation to assure prompt delivery.

To many, the urgency of the yearly "mail early" appeal is old hat, monotonous and hardly informative. Yet, our Postmaster has a point well worth paying attention to when he asks residents to mail early, and sort Christmas card mail as to local, out-of-state and out-of-town categories. A systematic mailing gets the mail delivered. Hit-or-miss and a casual treatment guarantees either a delayed delivery or a dead-letter windup of your mailing. And Mr. Dunsmore is not fooling on this point.

There are too many who regard planning, preparation and early mailing as a one-sided requirement. That is, something that helps the post office during this hectic season but actually means little to the public. There is a temptation to wait a bit longer, to put off until next week the mailing of gifts and cards. Let George hustle to get his mail in on time, there's still plenty of time for mine.

Well, perhaps the public is right. Let it be supposed that the Postoffice is being purely selfish and thinking only of itself and making the Yule season as easy as possible. In that case, we say forget it, delay the mail, bringing it over the last minute. But do not gripe if Aunt Mary does not receive your gift before Christmas or if your cards are not delivered until New Year's Day.

The request for early mailing is based upon experience and not convenience. Tardiness invites delay. Those who may ignore the mail early appeal may find themselves paying a penalty in exhaustion, frayed nerves, and high blood pressure induced by last-minute rushing.

The Lesson of Pearl Harbor

Exactly one generation has passed since America experienced the humiliation of Pearl Harbor that plunged this nation into a bloody world war.

The passage of 20 years has accomplished many major technical milestones, many of them directly derivative from the war. But, hovering over the world and America since the official cessation of hostilities, has been the constant danger of a final holocaust.

While one set of children were born and grew almost to their majority, the world has experienced total war and a succession of "incidents" which have proven just as fatal as total war to many.

Even today, "incidents" are occurring throughout Africa, Asia and the near East. In short, while there may be "official" peace, there is no rest, little security, but, fortunately, still hope.

Basically, probably this hope is born of desperation for many, both politically and scientifically oriented, believe that there can never be a World War 3.

Unlike 20 years ago however, there is another quality present today. Back in the thirties we hoped for peace, we talked about "maintaining" peace, and we developed a sort of "Reality Blindness." What was happening, the preparation for war all around us, was blithely ignored, and so came Pearl Harbor and disaster.

Today, while still not at peace, at least we have ridden ourselves somewhat from the Reality Blindness. We have learned that peace is still currently illusionary and that we must be at least for the present, prepared for what we prayerfully hope will not occur.

In 1790, John Philpot Curran, speaking on the right of election, said, "The condition upon which God hath given liberty to man is eternal vigilance. . . The words and thoughts are applicable today to world affairs and national defense.

Pearl Harbor was a defeat. It appears also to have been a lesson.

The Unwon Battles of 1066 and 1759
(Montreal Star)

Two years ago we had our troubles with the anniversary of the Battle of the Plains of Abraham. The St. Jean Baptiste Society of Quebec City refused to take part in celebrating a defeat for French Canada. Two of its officers thought this was a silly attitude, and they quit. For a while there was quite a footloose. The upshot was a modest ceremony to mark that 1759 battle, and everybody said nice things and tiptoed around tender feelings. Wolfe and Montcalm must have rolled over in their graves.

But look what's happening over in England. In five years the British will face the 900th anniversary of 1066, when King Harold got in the way of a Norman arrow at the Battle of Hastings. The fur is still flying about that one. A crusty English admiral has charged that King William was a Norman "gangster," a pro-Norman named O'Connor (the Irish always get mixed up in these things) claims that Harold was a no-good bigamist.

Long Number

(New York Times)

We sympathize with the cri de coeur published on this page yesterday from a reader whose fingers were presumably worn down to the stubs as he attempted to follow the now normal technique of dialing out-of-town telephone calls. As he points out, the whole procedure of calling information and then dialing the number involves flicking that dial some twenty-three times.

With all due admiration for the marvels of this mechanical age, there is such

The Jones Boy

(Hartford Courant)

There is no comparison between the birth of a son to an American President-elect and a similar occurrence in Britain's royal family. A situation of the former type a year ago produced John F. Kennedy, jr., who will always be the son of an American President and possibly "the Kennedy boy." One of the latter type has just produced Viscount Linley of Nymans, fifth in line for the throne, son of the Earl of Snowdon, formerly Anthony Armstrong-Jones, and Princess Margaret, Countess of Snowdon, sister of the queen. Viscount Linley may never inherit the crown of England, but neither will he ever be "the Jones boy."

But there is no difference anywhere in the words: "Both mother and baby are doing well." That is international language, happily applicable now in London.

Scholarship Marches On

LETTERS

Illegal Enforcement

Editor, Summit Herald:

A great deal of press attention has been paid to recent attacks on law enforcement officers around the country. While sociologists and psychologists may look very profoundly at the underlying causes it has been agreed generally that genuine citizen respect and support of the police, or its lack, is probably a very important if not crucial ingredient. While we in this area are fortunate in seldom seeing such attacks, the respect and support we give the police here and elsewhere contributes significantly ultimately in helping or aggravating this very serious problem.

But may we not as citizens ask the police and municipalities for help in supporting them. We must first genuinely respect the police ourselves. How are we to react to the situation described in the November 30 issue of the Summit Herald under "Channel System Revived with Subtle Enforcement"? Here is the situation:

1. A year ago Summit attempted to enforce a "channel or lane system for traffic where by center lanes are for left turns only.

2. The State Bureau of Motor Vehicles stepped in and declared the plan in conflict with state regulations.

3. The police are now trying to enforce the plan by "subtle" means since ticketing would not be supported by the courts. The "subtle" means include (to quote the Herald):

"The method is simple. Since the center lane is for left turns only, a policeman, acting as a clock, will stand at the intersection in the center lane and announce in that particular lane are forced into the turn, whether they wish it or not, since a car bent on going through runs the risk of bumping into the policeman."

Although most drivers understand and obey the plan, some become confused, angry, or even attempt to swerve past the policeman and continue on through. This latter move is never successful.

It seems that respect is not the most likely emotion that most people will experience in response to this spectacle. Whether the channel system is effective in alleviating traffic congestion is not at issue, to me it seems to have some merit. Rather the issue is how far can the police go in enforcing an illegal system for traffic control. The "subtle" enforcement methods imply that the police are willing to challenge the drivers to assault them with motor vehicles. Conviction then would be easy, but under another law (theoretically, who assaulted whom might still be an interesting question).

If the police are responsible for this brazen attempt at "subtle" enforcement of an illegal plan, let them stop immediately. They cannot enforce what is contrary to state law and still merit our respect and support.

If the police have been ordered by Summit to indulge in this activity, let that order be rescinded. The police should not be required to risk probable injury and certain loss of respect and support if they are required to act in this manner.

'Dry' Holiday Urged

Editor, Summit Herald:

Attention is called once again to the advertisement on page 2, prepared by a member of our Association. It is an effective and forceful presentation of the hazards which darken the Christmas season. All too often the police symbol "HBD" (had been drinking) has a deadly pertinence. It applies to more than half the fatalities which occur on the highways at this time of year. A "dry" party is good insurance against such a calamity.

Editor, Summit Herald:

The Summit Herald is to be complimented for the fine discussion it presented on the fluoridation of drinking water. It was a fine authoritative, educational presentation of the subject and this is a subject on which much educational work is necessary.

There has long been much talk by opponents of fluoridation, talk that completely ignores present facts and served

DEATHS

Mrs. Edmund Von Duhn

Mrs. Suzanne Welling Von Duhn of 160 Summit avenue, widow of Edmund G. Von Duhn, died a week ago Tuesday in the Berkeley Hall Nursing Home in Berkeley Heights after a long illness. She was 84.

Born in Trenton, Mrs. Von Duhn lived in Summit over 40 years. She was a former national recording secretary and member of the Women's National Farm and Garden Association and a former president and honorary president of its New Jersey division.

Mrs. von Duhn was educated in Trenton private schools and was a graduate of Wheaton College.

In 1936 she was made honorary president of the N. J. division of Farm and Garden and in 1938 the division established the Suzanne Welling von Duhn memorial fund to educate girls at Amherst (Pa.) Junior College. In June, 1938, the Summit chapter, American Red Cross, presented Mrs. von Duhn with a pin

MEDICAL NOTES

By Bryant L. Jones, M.D.

Most people speak of the sinuses as if they were something to be "rid of." Yet the sinuses are anatomical structures of the body, as are legs and arms. What is meant is that one tries to get rid of sinusitis, meaning an infection of the sinuses. Sinuses are hollow chambers marking her 40 years of service to the chapter.

She was an active member of Calvary Episcopal Church and owned two stained glass windows to the church. One was in memory of her husband, who died Dec. 14, 1949, and the other in memory of herself. The donations were made simultaneously so that the windows could face each other and be identical.

She was also vice chairman of the Summit chapter, American Red Cross for many years and at the time of her death an honorary member of the local board, and a member of the Calvary Episcopal Church. She leaves no survivors.

contained within the bones of the skull. There are nine major sinuses and several hundred minor ones. Each of these spaces is connected to the breathing passages of the nose by small openings or ostia. Infected mucus forced through the small ostia under pressure by blowing the nose (see Medical Notes, Summit Herald, November 30), becomes trapped in the sinus cavities.

As the tissue, lining the ostia, becomes swollen from the infection, it can cork the sinus cavity. Mucus from the lining membrane of the sinus and pus from the infection then accumulates within the cavity with increasing pressure, to give rise to the extreme pain in the forehead behind the eyes and in the face. The intense pain which often cannot be relieved by strong narcotic drugs, chills and fever and yellow discharge from the nose beginning four or five days after the first sign of a cold. The signs and symptoms of acute sinusitis. Improper adequate treatment may lead to the disease to persist for months.

Work Not Duplicated

Editor, Summit Herald:

There seems to be some confusion in the minds of many people regarding a recent appeal made by the Children's Committee of the Family and Children's Society in Elizabeth. Their work in no way duplicates the work of Family Service Association in Summit but we have worked cooperatively on some problems.

Also 'Missed' Candidate

Editor, Summit Herald:

It was a pleasure to read the "Missing Candidate" letter written by Edward A. Butler in the November 30 issue of the Summit Herald concerning the very able gubernatorial candidate, Reinhardt V. Metzger.

In the November 9 Summit Herald front page City of Summit Tabulations purporting to show the complete election results, I note a very serious discrepancy. Your tabulation shows a total registration of 12,416 voters and a total vote of 9,017 reflected in the tabulation, but no returns for any other candidate for governor except Democrat and Republican.

No mention in your tabulation is made about the returns for the Conservative Party and I do find the "missing candidate" Metzger obtained at least 39 Summit votes.

It is felt that a local newspaper such as the Summit Herald should report all returns, not just the two major party results. Your readers are interested and are entitled to know final results in each district.

If complete returns are not to be published then please head up the tabulation truthfully—such as Partial City of Summit Tabulation.

Frank R. Cassel
265 Woodland Avenue

Editor's Note: The news story in the election issue accompanying the vote tabulation reported that Mr. Metzger received 39 Summit votes.

Why Candidate Was Missing

Editor, Summit Herald: Enclosed is a letter in answer to Mr. Butler's communication of last week. We would appreciate it if you would print it.

Mrs. Henry C. Dearborn
League Women Voters
32 Colt road

Dear Mr. Butler:

Thank you for your recent letter inquiring about the omission of the name of Reinhardt V. Metzger, Conservative gubernatorial candidate, from the League's voters information sheet, "Know Your Candidates." Because of the number of county candidates and our limited budget, we can only print information on the gubernatorial candidates of the two major parties. However, the material of every candidate is on file at our state office in Montclair and we try to inform the voters of this so that it is available if requested.

Mr. Metzger did ask to be heard at the New Jersey League's candidates' meeting, but such a meeting could not be arranged this fall because of the refusal of one of the major party candidates.

Thank you for your interest. We appreciate any suggestions to make our voters' service more useful to all citizens. Virginia C. Dearborn
Mrs. Henry C. Dearborn,

Summit League of Women Voters.

Is Active Sponsor

Editor, Summit Herald: I was surprised and rather disappointed in reading your very informative article on the front page of November 30 Herald, to find that the Summit Area Chamber of Commerce was not listed as a sponsor of the Civil Defense meeting at the High School, scheduled for December 7.

I personally attended the meeting at the City Hall, at which time the project was proposed, and the details planned. We were one of the first organizations to officially express our willingness to act as a sponsor.

The meeting, as planned, should prove an interesting one and most certainly has the full approval and backing of the Summit Area Chamber of Commerce, and we presume that our name was omitted in error. Summit Area Chamber of Commerce
W. Rae Crane,
Executive Manager.

The beautification committee will remain in the hands of Mrs. T. Willard Towler and Mrs. H. S. Bell. They spearheaded the move to plant trees and shrubbery in the business section of Summit and around the railroad station.

In announcing the new setup, Bluntschli said, "The Development Program has done a great deal in the first year of its existence. However, we recognize that there is much more that needs to be done if we are to maintain and improve the Summit Area as an outstanding place to live, work and shop."

"We feel that this can be accomplished more effectively by streamlining our organization which was a bit cumbersome. Now that this has been achieved, we will start immediately to develop a program which will not only solve some of the present problems but will encompass planning for the future. It will include the continuance of projects undertaken during our first year and the addition of new ones which have come to our attention."

"At this time, I would like to express our appreciation to the city officials who have been most cooperative with our various projects. Their help and advice has enabled us to accomplish what we have."

In conclusion, Bluntschli paid tribute to Leo O'Grady, owner of Lillian O'Grady's and civic leader, who guided the program through its initial phase as general chairman. "Even though Mr. O'Grady has relinquished the chairmanship," Bluntschli said, "he will still have a prominent role in the future of the program and the future of the Summit Area."

Swedish Yule Season Features 'Lucia Day'

A Swedish custom of long-standing is the observance of Lucia Day on December 13. The celebration takes its name from St. Lucia, or Lucy, martyred for her faith and virginity in Syracuse in 304 A.D.
Pretty blonde girls compete for the honor of being elected a "Lucia"—with fair hair, good disposition and high character being outstanding recommendations.
Wearing a traditional costume (long white robes and crowns of lighted candles) the "Lucia" visits the sick, leads carnavals, and attends banquets and balls accompanied by her "handmaidens."
The ancient custom coincides with the winter solstice, when the sun swings toward the earth once more and the days begin to lengthen.

Evergreens Need Plenty Of Water Before Winter

Because autumn was so dry, evergreens need watering before winter comes. Even some deciduous shade trees may be in trouble this winter unless rains are ample before the ground freezes. October was on the dry side in many areas of the East. September was warm. And for the six preceding weeks there were 90 degree temperatures along the Eastern Seaboard. In many areas this has been the driest fall in eight years. Evergreens particularly should go into winter with plenty of soil water about their feet. They give off considerable moisture through their needles

Christmas Feast Big Affair in Olden Days

Possibly one of the greatest Christmas feasts of all time was that sponsored by King Henry VIII in Westminster Hall in 1548. He had ten erected and artificial gardens plotted within the spacious hall of his palace. Knights came out of the tents to joust in tournaments and fantastically dressed dancers covered from head to foot with gay ribbon streamers emerged from the gardens to entertain the guests. Cost of the gold cloth used in the celebration amounted to 600 pounds alone. Preparation for the feasting on such occasions can only be vaguely comprehended by considering that Richard II normally, employed 2,000 cooks to prepare food for the 10,000 persons who shared his festive board.

ENDS BASIC—Marine Pvt. Bertram B. Miller, 2nd, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bertram N. Miller of 25 Rowan road, completed four weeks of intensive advanced combat training recently at the First Infantry Training Regiment, Marine Corps Base Camp Lejeune, N. C.

Not So Long Ago

Christmas is centuries-old, but the observance as we know it today is somewhat young. The Puritans and Pilgrims considered Christmas an illegal holiday. As late as 1855, it was a legal workday in many American cities and those who refused to work lost their jobs.

Rose Bowl Post Season Grid Clash

Quick now, how many football bowl games will be played during the holiday season? Rose, Sugar, Orange, Cotton... can you name all of the post-season contests? Probably not. Chances are someone is starting a new bowl game and the word hasn't gotten around yet. You should know, however, that the "daddy" of all the bowl games is the fabulous Rose Bowl game, which started as a supplement to the Tournament of Roses, way back in 1902. On January 1 of that year, barnstorming Michigan overwhelmed Stanford 49 to 0.

This lopsided conquest of the west representative may or may not have had anything to do with it, but the following year chariot races were substituted for football and it was not until 1916 that collegiate football returned to the Tournament of Roses via a contest in which Washington State defeated Brown University.

Since that time, the Rose Bowl has gained in prestige and annually attracts crowds in excess of 100,000.

January First Has Long Been Special Day

The first day of the New Year is a time for looking ahead, for making plans, for hope and optimism. But it is also a time when most of us look back, with fond memories, to days of yesterday. With each New Year, we are conscious that time does not wait and that each new day is soon a part of history. Looking back through the pages of time, we find that many interesting events have taken place on January 1. It was, for instance, the birthday of Betsy Ross (1732), Paul Revere (1735), and Philip Freneau (1732).

The first practical fire engine was tested Jan. 1, 1852. President Abraham Lincoln issued the Emancipation Proclamation on the first day of the year 1863. The famous Tournament of Roses began Jan. 1, 1889.

The USSR was formed Jan. 1, 1923; U.S. parcel post service was inaugurated Jan. 1, 1913. On the first day of the year 1924, the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation was inaugurated and the Bank Guaranty Act became effective. The United Nations Declaration was signed Jan. 1, 1942; the U. S. Strategic Air Forces in Europe was formed Jan. 1, 1944 and Japan's Emperor Hirohito disavowed divinity, Jan. 1, 1946.

Good Gifts
The housewife who thinks she has run out of gift ideas may be missing a bet. Most any family would welcome gifts of delicious home in her own kitchen or pantry. cooked foods. Relish, pickles, preserves, jellies, or just canned fruits and vegetables, wrapped in attractive packaging materials and topped with a ribbon, berries or artificial decorations—Isn't there a family on your list that would enjoy such a gift?

Be Certain You Display A Safe Tree

What kind of a tree is best for you this Christmas? A SAFE tree, of course. Whatever variety of tree you choose this year, be sure that it is freshly-cut, with firmly attached needles. When you select the tree, strike the ground with the thick end. If a shower of needles fall, the tree has been cut too long and will not last for long. Keep It Fresh Do not buy your tree until you are ready to decorate it; if you do buy it early, keep it outside. It will stay fresher and will remain green longer after you have put it up. Keep it standing in water at all times. Select the setting for your tree with safety in mind. Locate it in the coolest part of the room, well away from radiators, heaters, and the fireplace. This not only reduces the chances of fire, but as well assures longer life for the tree, as heat dries the tree quickly. Use Tree Holder A tree holder is a good investment if it has a bucket of water in which the trunk can rest. The ability of the tree to absorb water will surprise you, so be sure to check contents of the bucket often. Do not use any kind of paper decorations on your tree. Use decorations made of glass, metal, or fire-resistant materials. Use only electric lights on your tree—and check them thoroughly, particularly if they have been stored since last Christmas. Sets with frayed wiring invite disaster. Provide Switch Provide a switch some distance from the tree for turning the tree lights on or off. If connection is located behind the tree, you may not be able to reach it in an emergency. Inspect the tree for turn brown, change the lights. When need to fall freely, it's time to cut the tree.

Det. Nazaretta is a graduate of the Federal Bureau of Narcotic Training School, Washington, D. C., and has been connected with the Newark narcotics squad for ten years. feature is being planned for the service by the men's chorus of the congregation.

Following the program, members of the Church Women's group will be hostess for the congregation at a traditional Swedish Christmas coffee hour. Members of the congregation and friends are cordially invited to attend.

David E. Damon

Local Man Heads Fuel Oil Unit Of Humble Oil

Humble Oil & Refining Company has announced the appointment of David E. Damon of 17 Plymouth road, as manager of its reseller and fuel oil sales department. In the position, he will serve as a staff member of the company's New Jersey sales area, with offices at Elizabeth.

Mr. Damon, with 22 years experience in the marketing of Esso products, joined the company in 1939 as a clerk and became a sales trainee in 1941. He progressed through various sales positions in the Elizabeth, Linden, Bayonne, Newark, and Camden areas before being named assistant manager of the Newark District in 1953. Upon his transfer to New York City in 1955, Mr. Damon became assistant in charge of field sales promotion and was appointed manager of service station sales promotion two years later. He was made manager of merchandising and training in 1958. Mr. Damon returned to New Jersey on September 1, 1961 to head a special dealer merchandising program.

Educated in Cranford schools, he has completed company courses in service station management, salesmanship, dealer training and conference leadership.

Airlines Promoting Shop in Europe Trip

In the way of an unusual pre-Christmas gift, KLM Royal Airlines seeks to popularize Christmas shopping Europe, suggesting that husbands send their wives to do Christmas shopping tax-free in Amsterdam, Holland.

Dramatic? Sure, says the airlines, "but it only costs $359.60 round trip and since shopping seems to be one of the major loves of American women why not?"

The airline spokesman says that things are cheaper in Europe and that a smart shopper can save enough money to pay for the trip.

EARLY BIRDS—The Post Office did not have to be told this week that Christmas was rapidly approaching since the local residents shown above came in by the hundreds with an assortment of Yule packages destined for out-of-town friends and relatives. Mindful that early mailing will insure delivery of packages on time, residents patiently queued up in long lines throughout last week and this. Although the season is still young, business at the Post Office was booming with the usual rush not expected until the second or third week in December. Postmaster Robert Dunsmore has asked local residents to get their packages in now and their cards in by early December. Last year from December 16 to December 24, the Summit office handled 4,828,065 units of mail. (Wolin Photo)

Army Check of Shelter Sites To Begin Soon

The statewide shelter survey to be conducted by the Army Corps of Engineers and the Navy Bureau of Docks is expected to begin in December. Thomas S. Dignan, acting state civil defense director, announced.

The program calls for surveying all large public and private buildings to be eventually used as group shelters against the hazards of radioactive fallout. The only buildings to be surveyed are those capable of housing 50 or more people. Currently, civil defense and military officials are sponsoring a course to train architects and engineers in surveying techniques.

Dignan emphasized that the program's speedy implementation lies with the local directors' response to detailed questionnaires sent to them. He said a December 6 deadline has been set for local CD officials to fill out and return the forms with the necessary information. Those areas that respond first will be given priority in the actual survey.

Christmas, Fla., Once Feared Hostile Indians

The town of Christmas, Florida, today is a symbol of peace and good will. Thousands send Christmas cards and packages to be mailed from this small community during each holiday season.

Christmas, Florida, was established 122 years ago as a fort to provide protection against hostile Indians. Today, it is a small, average town, with its unique postmark, "Christmas, Fla."

Each year, thousands of American send their cards and packages to the Chamber of Commerce in the nearby city of Orlando, and the Chamber sees to it that the items are mailed from nearby Christmas.

Indian Guide Program Inducts 97 New Members

Seventeen new members are new this year. Y-Indian Guides is a father and son home centered program, designed to bring fathers and sons closer together. Tribes are made up of about seven couples, and meet twice a month for their meetings. Swims at the Y, pow-wows, and an overnight camp experience are additional activities of the program.

William Springer of 113 Chestnut Hill drive, chief of the local longhouse, was assisted in conducting the colorful ceremony by Thomas Andrian of 35 Constantine place; Joan O'Shea of 68 West End avenue and LeRoy Payton of 129 Evergreen avenue, New Providence.

Tribes are formed on a neighborhood or school basis for first and second grade boys and their fathers. There are at least two tribes in most of the school districts.

Mistletoe Is Plant Of Many Characters

Boys are fond of mistletoe because of its power to invite a kiss from a pretty girl. Birds like mistletoe, too, for a different reason.

The white-berried plant serves as winter food for mockingbirds, robins and waxwings. These small birds are responsible for the spread of the damaging parasite. After eating the berries, the birds clean their beaks on the trees, firmly planting the mistletoe seeds they do not eat.

The tap roots of the seedling pierces the tenderest portions of the tree—young branches or buds—and the tree sap is drawn into the thick leaves and translucent berries of the guest plant.

Miss Friss will observe the decorations from a different viewpoint. She is a skilled interior decorator and operates her own business in Summit. She is also a member of the Junior League.

Mrs. Sailer, vice president of the Summit Art Center, is a portrait painter who has won European scholarships for her work and has had her pictures appear in magazines such as Time and Life. She has taught painting at the Art Center for a number of years.

Mrs. Osborne, chairman of the civic and roadside planning committee of the New Providence Garden Club, is interested in creating unusual arrangements as well as growing flowers. Students to See Magician Talk On Traffic Safety

A magician-turned-police man will deliver a trick-studded talk on traffic safety to students at Summit High School today at 2 p.m.

The speaker is Lieut. Carl S. Pike, currently on leave from the Kent County Sheriff's Department, Grand Rapids, Mich., who is maestro of the "Safety Magic Show." Sponsored by the American Trucking Association, Inc., of Washington, D.C., the show has been booked by the New Jersey Motor Truck Association for appearances at 70 secondary schools in this state from Dec. 4 to 15.

Lt. Pike was a magician on the stage before he became a policeman 13 years ago. His show has been presented in schools in 48 states to upwards of 3½ million students.

He sprinkles his hour-long talks with feats of magic, each illustrating an important safety point for teenagers, especially those who have recently obtained driving licenses.

He devotes part of the act to a recital of his eight rules to keep from growing old. This is a list of infractions that very often cause injury or death.

The presentation has been endorsed by many educational and civic organizations, including the New York University Driver Education and Safety Institute and the Michigan Association of Insurance Agents. Pike himself has been commended by governors and police and education officials in many states for his work in safety education.

The area winner then has the opportunity to compete in the State Jaycee Roll-the-Barrel.

This year, if the local Jaycees win the area award, the funds will be used to take area underprivileged children on a Christmas shopping tour.

Chickens Rated "His Yule Tale"

Many often credit Charles Dickens' immortal "Christmas Carol" as being perhaps the most effective single force behind the return to the observance of Christmas. Yet it did not consider it his work, nor was it the most popular of Dickens' in his day was "The Tale of Two Cities," the father who tries to his blind daughter from the clutches of life. "The Tale of Two Cities" made its appearance and was an immediate success. It sold twice as fast as the now-familiar story of Scrooge and Tiny Tim. Less than a month after "The Cricket" reached bookstands, dramatic versions of it were playing in 12 prominent London theatres.

Despite the immediate success of "The Cricket" and the relative popularity of "Christmas Carol," Dickens did not believe either to be his greatest work. His personal favorite was "The Chimes," which, he told friends "would knock 'The Carol' out of the field."

Dickens, of course, was wrong. "The Chimes" and "The Cricket" have each taken a back seat to "The Christmas Carol," the cheerful Christmas story of Tiny Tim and his friends.

The music box, widely popular during the 19th century, eventually gave way to the phonograph... but they haven't disappeared completely.

Always a good gift for a lady, music boxes may hold anything from jewelry to elegant perfumes. Children's toys of various shapes and sizes offer a wide variety of tunes.

Most popular at Christmas, of course, are the boxes which give out with the tinkly strains of Christmas carols.

Cranberries Traditional At Christmas

Cranberries, so much a part of our holiday dining tradition, was I-bini, or "bitter berry" to the Indians, who pounded the fruit with meat into a paste called pemmican; used cranberry poultices on wounds and used the juice as a red dye.

The Pilgrims, noting the berries were a favorite food of cranes, called them craneberries, and this eventually changed to cranberries.

Cranberries were harvested from wild vines until 1816, when Henry Hall, a veteran of the Revolution, transplanted wild vines to a swampy site near Dennis, Mass. Hall had observed that the choicest wild berries were usually found in sandy areas, so he spread sand over his fields and produced an excellent crop.

Many other early plantings failed, in Massachusetts and New Jersey, before growers learned that the cranberry would thrive only under certain conditions. Cranberry fields today are located in bog areas with peat soil, the fields are well-drained and can be flooded to protect vines from cold and control insects; sand is plentiful, and necessary to slow evaporation, provide a good medium for root growth, and keep down weeds.

Birds Welcome

Birds are welcome visitors to cranberry bogs. Some bogs are lined with birdhouses—homes for swallows, which eat destructive insects.

And with the birds, are the bees, who also perform an important service. Cranberry pollen is too heavy to be carried by wind, so bees are necessary to pollinate the flowers.

The ancient Druids worshipped mistletoe because it grew on their sacred oak. At the end of each year, a Druid priest would cut down the mistletoe with a golden sickle, and not one twig was allowed to touch the earth. Later, sprigs of mistletoe were fastened over doorways to ward off evil spirits.

Where Are June Graduates Now? Well, 72% Are Still in School

What became of Summit High School's Class of 1961? Where are the 276 boys and girls who graduated last June now? According to Joseph H. Shuttesworth, guidance director, 72 per cent of the class, or 198 members, are continuing their education in colleges or universities. Twenty-five per cent are employed and a handful of others are either in the armed services or just "hanging around doing nothing."

The Class of 1961, according to Shuttesworth, could not claim any distinction, as past classes could, for being "the largest ever" to leave the High School, but it can claim the title of being "the most tested, most analyzed and possibly the most scared class ever to graduate."

The 72 per cent who entered college, he explained, had been "gone over" more thoroughly by college admissions officers than any previous class.

But despite the fine tooth comb approach, most of the class was able to enter the college of its choice. The total continuing schooling was a shade less than the Class of 1960, which had 73 per cent of its 352 members enter college. In 1959, 69 per cent of the 279 graduates went on to some college.

Fairleigh Dickinson University was the most popular choice of the June graduates with seven members selecting that school. Rutgers, Lehigh and the University of Rochester took five each and Skidmore College and Norwich University in Vermont drew four each.

Brown, Bucknell, Cedar Crest, Douglass, Duke, Franklin & Marshall, University of Miami, Mount Holyoke, Oberlin, Parsons, Penn State, Rider College (Trenton) and Trinity each have three Summit students as freshmen.

There are members of the Class of 1961 scattered in 198 different colleges in 25 states and the District of Columbia. These include some junior colleges.

Amherst, Colgate, Princeton, Yale, Harvard, Hobart, Cornell, Dartmouth, R.P.I., Smith, Vassar, Wellesley all have at least one Summit freshman. Several even traveled to Paris for the Sorbonne. Most, however, remained in the east.

Included among the 198 graduates still attending school are 8 who are studying at trade schools or secretarial schools. Two of the 18 are at nursing schools.

For the 68 who decided to enter the business world, most received jobs in or near Summit. Kemper Insurance hired 5, the Summit Medical Group, three; Chubb & Son, four; and Douglas Motors, two.

The remainder found work with A & P stores, C.R. Bard, Allen-Tobin Ford, Bell Labs, Chatham Candle Corp., Fair Oaks Hospital, E. L. Fitterer, Lager & Hurrell, Larry's Sport Shop, Overlook Hospital and local banks. Many obtained work in nearby communities such as New Providence, Madison, Springfield, Millburn and Linden.

Having office positions are 29 of which 26 are girls and three are boys. Six, two of them girls, are in the retail business and 14, all boys, are in some trade or industry. Four girls have become married. Two boys joined the Air Force and two are in the Marine Corps.

Of the 129 students enrolled in the high school's college prep curricula, 76 boys and 52 girls are now attending a liberal arts college. Twelve (10 girls, two boys) are at a junior college, and three are freshmen at a teachers college. Nineteen boys are enrolled in an engineering college and 18 are at a miscellaneous college or university. Three are continuing their high school education as post graduates.

The Class of 1961 had 125 boys

Puritan Kids Not Without Christmas Toys

While it is quite true that Christmas was just another winter day in early New England, Puritan children were not without toys.

It is quite likely that children in Puritan families received toys as awards for being good. Since there were no stores in which to buy toys, the father had to rely on his own ingenuity and imagination.

In most instances, toys were and are girls in the college and prep course, nine boys and 29 girls in the business course, and 18 boys and nine girls in the general prep course.

New Trend is To Roadside Landscaping

A comprehensive program of roadside landscaping to provide safer and more beautiful highways is conducted by the Department of Public Works, Division of Highways of California. This program could serve as a model for arid western states, and some of its features may be adaptable to many eastern and midwest commonwealths, it is reported.

The California program largely got underway following a 1957 resolution by the legislature directing the Highway Commission to give full consideration to functional planting and highway beautification in the formulation of its annual budgets. Wherever economically feasible under California's climatic conditions, "consideration should be given to incorporation of park-like development in highway design." Moreover, "visual aids" should be used in order "better to inform the public as to the appearance of the freeway and its effect on the community. Landscaping, according to the resolution should be regarded as an integral feature of California's freeway program."

The roadside planting program consequently initiated by the highway department in the past four years, has outstripped that of any state in the west, and, in 1961, in all probability will take a big U.S. lead when a new program adds to the 1961 budget of $4,609,000, additional plantings at the rate of $100 to $2,500 per mile largely in rural areas where trees and shrubs are needed to promote motoring safety, or to serve the cause of highway beautification.

About Nazareth

Nazareth, the chosen city and one of Christendom's holiest places, was once so insignificant that the term "Nazareth" was applied to Jesus Christ in derision. When Jesus called his first disciples, Philip of Bethsaida was chosen and Philip happily informed Nathanael, "We have discovered the One about Whom our scriptures speak. He is Jesus of Nazareth, the son of Joseph." And Nathanael replied, "Can anything good come out of 'Nazareth'?" But when Nathanael came to Jesus, Jesus spoke to him and Nathanael exclaimed, "Thou art the Son of God; Thou art the King of Israel." Nathanael returned to Nazareth in the company of a few chosen disciples as Jesus was to begin His ministry in the land He loved so well.

Evergreen Wreath Made Easily from Wire Hanger

A wire coat hanger, a few sprigs of evergreen and a few minutes of your time—that's all you need to fashion a decorative evergreen wreath. Leaving the hook at the top, simply fashion the hanger into a round ring. Fasten the evergreens to the ring with heavy thread and a large needle. Sprinkle the evergreens with aerosol snow before hanging the wreath.

EXTRA TOUCH

If you have a number of children on your Christmas list and consequently must settle for small-size toys, you can make each child's package more attractive by decorating the outside of the wrapped package with bright lollipops and other "treats."

Great Story Was Hidden For Centuries

Through his unforgettable Christmas stories, Charles Dickens brought the spirit of Christmas to millions, and achieved much fame during his lifetime. One of his most moving narratives, however, remained hidden from the world for years, at his own request. Some one hundred years after it was written exclusively for the enjoyment of his children, Dickens' "The Life of Our Lord" was first presented to the world.

The author's deep veneration for the life and lessons of Jesus Christ are found in these words: "Everybody ought to know about Him. No one ever lived who was so good, so kind, so gentle, and so sorry for people who did wrong or were in any way ill and miserable, as He was."

"And as He is now in Heaven, where we all hope to go, and all meet each other after we are dead, and there be happy always together, you can never think what a good place heaven is, without knowing who He was and what He did."

Dickens left in instructions that "The Life of Our Lord," not be commercialized and it was never made public until the year

1833, after death of Sir Henry Fielding Dickens, the author's youngest child.

The literary prize was then purchased by the London Daily Mail for the price of $210,000—or $15 per word.

Duke Ellington At Paper Mill This Sunday

Duke Ellington, one of the all time greats of contemporary jazz, will bring his orchestra into the Paper Mill Playhouse this Sunday, December 10, at 6 p.m. to play the last concert of the Jazz at the Paper Mill series this season.

With Ellington will be such famous Ellington alumni as Cat Anderson on trumpet, Sam Woodyard on drums, Johnny Hodges on alto sax, Aaron Bell on bass, Lawrence Brown on trombone and Jimmy Hamilton on clarinet. Mitch Grayson is the vocalist.

Ellington, who composed the score for and is appearing in the current film, "Paris Blues," is as famed as a composer as he is as a band leader. Some of his songs that have become American classics as "Sophisticated Lady," "Mood Indigo" and "Solitude." His appearance with his orchestra at the Paper Mill will mark his first New Jersey concert in some time. When he appeared at Town Hall in a concert two weeks ago the New York Times called him "the greatest showman in jazz."

Roadside Plantings Can Control Spread of Fire

In California, great quantities of ivy and ice plant are used for erosion control, control of weeds and also fire control. They often are used both in urban and rural areas because they stay green and are not flammable, according to the California Division of Highways. This is a far cry from the 1920's when highway maintenance crews burned the roadside each year as the grass got dry and became a menace.

Several types of erosion control plantings are used in California as follows:

Type "A"—for steep slopes. The basis is a grid of wood, held in place by stakes, with openings a yard square. These are covered with wire mesh and planted with ground cover. One such planting has been in use on the Arroyo Seco Parkway for 20 years.

Type "B"—used on 1 to 1½ slopes is similar to the foregoing without the wooden grid.

Type "C"—used on flatter slopes, consists of straw rolled into a cultivated area, which later is planted.

"Where they can be used," say California highways authorities, "ground covers are excellent fire controls. Unfortunately due to the long summer drought it is impracticable to attempt to grow ground covers along highways throughout most of the state, since no ground covers can survive for long periods without water. Where conditions are good for them, mesembryanthemums, or ice plants are almost ideal for slope control, fire control and pleasant effect. Certain ivies are effective, but they must be watered during the dry season in our climate."

Ancients Decorated To Greet Return of Sun

Many believe that the Christmas tree custom may be traced to pagan celebrations of the winter solstice—the time when the sun ceases its seeming drift southward and begins moving back north.

The ancients knew great fear when the sun steadily moved away from them. They did not like the cold winds from the north, the shorter days, the disappearance of wildlife and the bare, shriveled appearance of trees and plants.

Accordingly, they designed ceremonies to lure the sun back. When the sun responded, in the natural course of time, they joyfully decorated their homes with evergreens, mistletoe, holly and ivy in celebration of the fact that warm weather would soon return.

Mr. and Mrs. James B. Johnson and their three children in their ranch house on Barnegat Bay, Baywood, N. J.

"I sold myself on the added comfort, convenience and extra resale value of a Gold Medallion Home," said Mr. Johnson.

"Building homes is my business so when it came to one for my own family, I wanted the very best," continued Mr. Johnson. "I like the idea of clean, flameless electric heat, especially with three kids playing on the floors and in the hallways. Then, too, I like being able to control each room with its own thermostat, especially the bathrooms."

Mrs. Johnson likes the cleanliness of electric heat, too, because it saves her time and money in keeping her furnishings bright and new looking. And the beautiful indirect lighting in her all-electric kitchen is easy on the eyes as she prepares her meals in a built-in electric oven. And she is always in touch with the rest of the house through an electric communication panel.

So, when you visit the Johnsons with their boat at their back door, office across the street and Gold Medallion home, you'll say "this is really better living."

Everybody gets and gives specialties at Christmas, so why not make your gift distinctive by using a necktie bow in decorating the box?

Fasten the ends of the ribbon under the lid about one-quarter way down, bring to center, tie the knot and shape the ends tie fashion.

Use dark blue, wine or green ribbon about one and one-half inches wide. These are attractive used on a striped or plaid paper.

Check List For Holiday Baby Sitters

Christmas is a busy time for parents—and a busy time for baby sitters, since parents are constantly on the go as the holiday approaches. Thus, a word to parents:

- Know your sitter personally, or be certain of her recommendations.
- Be sure that she is old enough to know what to do in case of an emergency; and young enough to be able to do it.
- Leave memo beside the telephone, telling her exactly where you are going and how you may be reached if needed.
- Leave telephone number of fire department and police in conspicuous place.
- Instruct sitter to keep children out of kitchen, if possible, and be sure she realizes that matches, electric cords and appliances are not playthings.
- Turn off Christmas tree lights when you leave, or instruct sitter to be certain that children stay away from the tree.
- Be sure that sitter knows what to do in case of fire: get children out of house; notify fire department notify parents, in that order.
- Come home at the hour agreed upon, or telephone sitter if unavoidably delayed.
- Have a safe, happy holiday.

ST. STEPHEN'S DAY

In Christian liturgy, December 26 is observed as the feast of St. Stephen, the first Christian martyr, and during the centuries when journeymen and apprentices in the habit of levying upon their master's customers, "Christmas Boxes" were collected on St. Stephen's day.

RADIO SYSTEM under construction by New Jersey Bell Telephone Company will relay telephone conversations along a north-south route between Atlantic City and Paterson. The $3,000,000 network will provide diverse communications routes and will further insure continued service in the event of storm, accident or national emergency. Operation is expected to begin in the summer of 1962.

Keep Children On the Go as Holiday Nears

Children get bored during the Christmas season.

Sure, Christmas is a season of excitement for the young ones. The trouble is they get so excited waiting for Santa to come that they become impatient—and need something to occupy their time.

The wise mother will give them something to do.

Children enjoy making things with their hands. They are anxious to help decorate the house and the tree.

Many parents brush them aside, saying, "You are too little"—and the children are left with their boredom.

Give the kids a chance to help. Put them to work with a cookie cutter. Draw simple designs on cardboard for them to cut out and color. Let them paint holiday messages on boiled eggs with water colors.

They will be happier and, once you get them started, you will find that they have more free time of your own.

CANDLE CARE

Candles are popular at Christmas, but can be dangerous. If a candle is too large for the opening in the candlestick, dip the bases of the candle in very hot water and you can then press it gently into the holder. Coat all but the wick of your candle with soap suds and allow to dry before lighting. The candle so treated will neither smoke nor drip.

Use Spotlight

If you want your outdoor decorations to really attract attention, spotlight them and conceal the source of the light as much as possible.

Placing the spotlight beneath nearby shrubbery hides the source of the light—but be careful; spotlights get hot and might cause damage—to the shrubbery or cause a fire.

SIMPLE GIFTS

Gifts that you make yourself are always highly appreciated—and can be elegantly decorated if you use a bit of imagination. Coffee cans painted and trimmed will make ideal containers for goodies from your kitchen. Wicker baskets, trays, apothecary jars, hat boxes; all of these can be decorated or trimmed to add a more personal touch to an individual gift.

Phone Company to Start Sending Calls by Radio

Telephone conversations will ride on radio waves in New Jersey next year when the New Jersey Bell Telephone Company inaugurates a microwave transmission system to augment its cable facilities.

The radio relay network, now under construction, is expected to be put into operation during the summer. It will connect the company's major switching points on a north-south route and provide additional insurance for vital communications facilities in the event of national emergency.

The estimated cost of the project is $3,000,000.

When the system is completed, it will offer alternate paths for the millions of daily telephone calls between points in the Garden State. It will speed service and minimize the threat of interruptions in transmissions because of accident or storm as well as civil emergency.

The installation also will provide for present and anticipated increases in the main communications routes and it will broaden the range of special services, such as data transmission, available to New Jersey Bell customers.

When microwave goes into service, conversations will be carried either by cable or radio, depending on the type of path available when the subscriber picks up his telephone. He won't know which facility is handling his call. There will be no difference in the quality of transmission.

The radio relay system will be similar to the one which is used in interstate telephone and television transmission by the Long Lines Department of the American Telephone and Telegraph Co., except that the New Jersey network will operate in the 11,000 megacycle range. The cross-country network uses the frequencies in the 4,000 and 6,000 megacycle bands.

The New Jersey Bell radio relay system, for which FCC approval has been granted, will have a pair of broad band channels and capacity for two additional pairs. Each pair is capable of carrying up to 1,000 conversations. The telephone company intends to use only one of the pairs at first and will use 700 of its 1,100 potential circuits.

The single pair of channels is expected to be adequate until 1970 at the present rate of growth.

Ultimately, all three pairs of channels will be put into use. The other two will use the towers in the network under construction now.

What About Frankincense And Myrrh?

Gold has always been one of man's most treasured possessions; but what about frankincense and myrrh, the other substances which the Wise Men chose to offer as gifts to the infant Jesus? Why were they so highly valued?

Frankincense and myrrh are resins taken from trees and shrubs found on the dry, rocky, stony hills of Somalia and southwestern Arabia. Peoples of antiquity used the two substances for a variety of purposes—for embalming and in cosmetics, perfumes, medicines, and incense.

Frankincense

Somalia is chief producer of frankincense, although some comes from Arabia. Most frankincense comes from a small shrub-like tree with a stout trunk and pale brown and yellow bark. Its flowers are grouped in slender clusters and the fragrance of the blossoms is discernible for a considerable distance.

The resin flows from natural fissures in the bark of the tree, or from man-made incisions. It emerges as a whitish, viscous liquid that turns yellow and clings to the wound in the tree like tears. Every few days the resin is collected and the wound in the tree is freshened.

Ancient Arab traders introduced frankincense to many peoples. Today, the yellow tears and brown lumps of resin are sent to the seaport of Aden to be shipped to Europe, America, or Bombay.

Myrrh From Somaliland

Myrrh is obtained from trees of several species and most of it comes from Somaliland. Some of the trees are from ten to thirty feet tall, other myrrh-producing plants are mere bushes. Myrrh flows freely from a break in the bark of the tree or plant and is collected on yellowish-yellow or red brown mass that may be as large as a chicken egg.

The ancients used myrrh for embalming; the Egyptians used it in the mummification process and Roman physicians prescribed myrrh in treatments for dropsy, earache, eye diseases, bladder stones, abscesses, broken heads.

Frankincense was chiefly for incense, yet was an early ingredient in prescriptions for chest pain, hemorrhoids, hemorrhages from the mouth, throat, broken heads, paralysis, limbs, bruises and ulcers.

Overlook Takes Secretaries on Hospital Tour

A special tour and orientation program for secretaries and nurses of the 225 physicians on the medical staff of Overlook Hospital is being held today. The object is to establish closer communication between various departments of the hospital and the doctors' offices for the benefit of Overlook patients. A similar program was held last week.

Speaking on various phases of hospital procedure were Edward A. Dougherty, assistant director; Mrs. Margaret Brickman, chief admitting officer; Miss Mildred Tedesco, R. N., operating room supervisor; Mrs. Lillian Turley, R. N., clinic supervisor; Miss Florence Battisto, chief laboratory technician; Miss Michele McGuire, X-ray department secretary; Miss Helen Carleton, social service director, and Mrs. Margaret Dwyer Rogers, public relations director.

Overlook's various department representatives explained the complexity of admitting, testing, X-raying, etc., in a hospital with some 350 patients, many headed for surgery or in critical condition, with emergency situations developing at any moment.

They pointed out ways in which doctors' secretaries could help expedite the hospital's work so that patients can be treated swiftly and efficiently. Pre-entrance information, for instance, enables admissions to have patient forms filled out in advance, requiring only a signature; special diet orders ahead of time enable dietitians to have the proper food ready if a patient arrives at mealtime or in preparation for diagnostic testing.

Rifle Club Openings

The PAL Junior Rifle Club this week announced that openings exist in the beginners classes held Saturdays at 2 p.m. at the PAL range on Union Place. Those between 12 and 19 years are eligible. YM Girls' Swim Team Captures Virginia Meet

The Summit YMCA Girl's Swim Team opened its indoor season in auspicious fashion by winning the Seventh Annual Thanksgiving Open Age Group meet held at the Northern Virginia Aquatic Club Pool in Arlington, Virginia on November 25.

The Seals, coming off a spectacular outdoor season which found them finishing in 8th place in the Women's Senior Nationals, totaled 129 1/2 points to upset the defending champion and host team, the Northern Virginia Aquatic Club, which scored 111.

The Virginians are fifth-ranked nationally. Thirty five teams from seven states and the District of Columbia participated in the biggest one-day indoor meet in AAU history. Over 600 individuals competed in the 44-event program (22 for boys, 22 for girls).

The victory was even more spectacular since the Summit girls competed without their coach, Frank Elm, who was making his debut as Rutgers University varsity swim coach. In addition, national champion Ginny Duenkel was sidelined with a sinus infection. The perfect balance which has been the hallmark of the Summit squad paved the way for the triumph.

Thirty one girls made the trip and each one contributed to the scoring as Summit placed girls in all but two of the 22 events. Susan Pitt, one of the nation's outstanding butterfly swimmers, romped home in her specialty and took up the slack of Duenkel's absence with a tremendous 1:00.7 in the 100-yard freestyle for girls 13 & 11. She lost a judge's decision. With a fourth place relay finish along with teammates Carol Hunter, Doral Schweitzer and Betty Blum, Miss Pitt accounted for 13 points.

Dorothy Mich, a newcomer to the Summit squad in the 10 & under division, Carol DeGoff in the 11 & 12, and Pam Richter, Mary Swift and Judy Dinnsen in the 13 & 16 age groups also contributed big blocks of points, to the Seal total. Miss Mich, considered to be one of the finest young prospects in the country by Coach Elm, tallied 10 1/2 points on a second and two thirds. Miss DeGoff, 9 1/2 on two thirds and a fifth, a total and distribution matched by Miss Richter who was making her first formal appearance since a knee operation in September.

Miss Swift garnered the Seals only other first with a easy win in her breast-stroke specialty. Miss Dinnsen captured second place in the 100 yard butterfly (15 & 16). Both girls combined with Pam Richter and Valerie

New Providence Cagers Counting On 3 Veterans

New Providence—New Providence High School's defending North Jersey Section 2, Group 1 State champions, will open their 1961-62 basketball season tomorrow night, December 8, in a contest at Piscataway High School.

Coach Ed Lieder's Pioneers will make their home debut next Tuesday afternoon against Clark Regional High School. New Providence also will be at home next Friday night against neighboring rival Chatham High School.

With three of last year's standouts—Lou DiParis, Rich Kessler and Carmen Picolo—back for another season, Coach Lieder is hopeful of another fine season. The Pioneers' success will depend rather heavily on these three boys.

The Pioneers are faced with a rugged 20-game schedule that includes a meeting with an Alumni team on December 26. Highlights of the schedule include home-and-home series with Gov-

Wait 'til Next Year is Cry of Summit Gridders

Spro, DiPasquale Cited by N. Y. News

Fred Spro, Summit High fullback, and Jerry DiPasquale, Governor Livingston Regional High School guard, were selected for honorable mention on the All Union-Essex football team selected by the New York Sunday News.

The team was selected from ballots cast by coaches and newspapermen in the two-county area.

Spro sparked for a Summit team that suffered through a disappointing 2-6-1 season. DiPasquale, a standout baseball pitcher, spearheaded the Highlanders' rugged defense all season.

Heights Court Mentor Sees Good Days Ahead

Berkeley Heights — Awaiting the start of his second season as coach of the Gov. Livingston Regional High School basketball team, Don Wodock is in danger of being disappointed from the coaching fraternity. Wodock is "optimistic" about the chances of his Highlanders and in a profession where crying towels are commonplace such talk is heresy.

Fortunately there is considerable ground for Wodock's optimism. The Highlanders finished their first season with a 6-11 mark, but Wodock blames much of that on lack of experience.

When the Highlanders take the court on Tuesday, December 12, at 3:30 p.m., in the Livingston gymnasium against Piscataway High School, they will have three of last year's starters in their lineup.

Lynn Nesbitt, a 6-6 junior, who was the Highlanders' second highest scorer and leading rebounder last season, heads the list of returnees. Lynn is the key man in the Highlanders' cage picture this season. He must carry the brunt of the Livingston attack and bring down a good share of the rebounds. Wodock is confident he will do just that.

Two of last season's "mighty mites" also are back. Seniors Jack Weiss and Jerry DePasquale, both 5-9, will handle the backcourt chores as well as help Nesbitt keep the attack rolling.

The other starters will be selected from five other boys, one of whom played with a Catholic high school team in Pittsburgh, Pa., last season. Ken McCown, a 5-10 senior, is the transfer student, and Wodock feels he is a good possibility to start.

Also making a strong bid for a starting role is Bob Clarkson, a 5-9 junior, who played with the jayvee squad last season. Bob got a belated start in basketball as he was a halfback on the football team until late in November.

Bob Heuer, a sophomore, who at 6-4 is the biggest man on the squad, may be a starter. He played several games at the end of last season and showed scoring punch. Also battling for regular jobs are Bill Sawyer, a 5-10 senior, who was a reserve last season, and John Nakonechny, a 6-3 senior, who played first base on the baseball team last spring.

Sawyer will spell Weiss and Wodock selected his squad from a group of candidates. From the remainder the candidates he will select for his first varsity team as the first freshman basketball squad at Governor Livingston. Wodock has little doubt on the strength of his squad but expects to scout the Middlesex County five-a-side season tomorrow night. Highlanders have capped pre-season scrimmages at Clark Regional and Sp. Regional, as well as and have impressed enough that he believes team will post a 500 or better.

DePasquale if he fails bid for a starting position was a standout on the team this fall and also belated start in basketball.

Other members of the lander varsity figure Richie Neubauer, a 6-4 who saw some action last season; "Chip" Doty, a 6-4 and Randy Hill, a 5-4.

Merchants Asked Not To Put Salt Near Trees

Area merchants were warned this week not to spread salt, needed to prevent slippery sidewalks, this winter near tree pits where newly-planted trees are growing.

In a letter to the merchants, William Calnan, city forester, through the Summit Area Development committee, pointed out that the first three years of a tree's life are "most important" and that the inclusion of salt in the soil tends to cause chlorosis and sometimes death. Throughout the city, approximately 116 trees have been planted in sidewalk areas in the business area.
