

Continued Army Use of Summit Nike Base Seen By Delay in Shut Down

Summit's million dollar Nike base, due for closing in October, will remain in Army hands for almost another year, it was learned last week following a tour of the 76-acre site in the Watchung Reservation by Maj. Gen. Philip H. Draper, chief of staff of the Army Air Defense Command.

General Draper said the base would be "phased out," which means cleaning out its military equipment and personnel sometime in "the middle of next year" and not by October, as previously announced.

Despite not-so-gentle hints from the Union County Park Commission that it would like to have the property returned, the Army timetable calls for the "phasing out" process to continue until early next summer.

At the request of park commission officials, Sen. Clifford P. Case has been prodding the Army on its plans for the park-owned acreage.

Reportedly, Case has been told that a final decision has not as yet been made on the Nike base in Summit because an overall analysis of the future of the five Nike sites in New Jersey has not yet been completed. One of the Nike sites in the state may be found to have long-range military possibilities, according to these reports, and it is possible that the Summit base might fit this description.

Rudolph R. Krestan, commission superintendent, said that correspondence with Sen. Case began as early as last April. The legislator has informed the park commission the Army is weighing the value of the site for possible future military use.

The leasing agreement between the Army and park commission was made Oct. 18, 1955 after a year of negotiation in which the county tried to dissuade the government from taking the reservation area.

The lease specified the government would provide payment for damages to park land and share in the restoration costs after the base is abandoned. There were no commitments on financial considerations. Most of the acreage constitutes an easement or safety zone.

Mr. Krestan said if and when the Army returns the acreage to the county, the park body's decision on use of the property will hinge on proposed alignment of Interstate Route 78.

If the present plan is adhered to, the superhighway would traverse the reservation in the general area of the Nike control tower west of Glenside Ave. The base launching pad is located a mile away off Summit road, north of the traffic circle in the vicinity of the lookout tower.

The launching area, largest parcel of the site occupies 22.5 acres of park property. The control center and barracks are on a 1.5 acre site with the remaining acreage allotted to rights of way and buffer zones.

Three Await Theft Action By Grand Jury

Three men arrested here last week on charges of looting a Windsor road house, have been sent to Union County Jail in lieu of $2,500 bail each, to await action by the Grand Jury on charges of theft. Each pleaded not guilty to the charge.

They are Horacio Burgos and Felix Nieves, both 26 of Newark, charged with breaking and entering, and Marcello Room, 19, of Cranford, said to be driver of a getaway car. A fourth man in the theft, Horacio Colon, was arrested last week by Newark police in connection with robberies there.

Burgos and Nieves were arrested as they walked out of the house they allegedly looted at 6 Windsor road, while the third man, Kroom, later gave himself up at police headquarters.

The arrests came when an anonymous caller tipped off police that "some suspicious men" were seated in a parked car on Windsor road. Sent to investigate was Patrolman Michael Formichella, who questioned the two men. Finding nothing wrong, he told them to leave which they did. As the patrolman followed the car down the street, he noticed two other men, Burgos and Nieves, leave a house at 6 Windsor road carrying jewelry, phonographic records and other items.

Madison Man Dies in Rt. 24 Auto Crash

A 38-year old Madison man was killed early Friday morning when his car went out of control on a curve on the Morris and Essex turnpike near Cause Brook Country Club, and smashed into a utility pole.

The victim, Gerald Hill, was taken to Overlook Hospital where he was pronounced dead at 4:45 a.m.

The death was the second auto fatality in the city this year. The city's first auto death this year occurred on March 4 when a 27-year old local resident crashed into a tree on Passaic avenue.

Police said Mr. Hill was driving toward Madison at the time of the accident. The impact of the crash sheared the electric utility pole in half, but there was no disruption in power. The car was completely demolished.

Mr. Hill was alone at the time of the mishap. An autopsy was performed by Dr. Robert Casey of Rahway, assistant county physician, to determine the exact cause of death.

Mr. Hill and his wife, Alice, were married 20 years ago in her native state of California.

The couple moved east from California last October and went to Madison in April.

He was born at Detroit and was president of Gerald Records, Inc., N. Y. C. He was driving home from work when the accident occurred.

Besides his wife, Mr. Hill is survived by a son, Gerald, 2nd, six months old, and a brother, Robert.

Investigating the accident were Sgt. Joseph Fuschetti, and Patrolmen Patrick Fitzgerald and Robert Bailey.

The funeral was held on Monday at Madison.

Services Held For Local Man Stricken in Sea

Funeral services for Thomas J. Putz, 38, of 28 Temple Way, who was pronounced dead on the beach at Ocean City, Md. last Wednesday after being pulled from the surf, were held on Saturday at the Brough Funeral Home, 335 Springfield avenue.

The exact cause of death will not be known until after an autopsy report is completed, according to Dr. Francis Townsend, Jr., assistant medical examiner of Worcester County, Md. He said it would take several days.

Police said Edward Robert Pope brought the victim in out of the surf where he had been swimming. He was pronounced dead on the beach after efforts to revive him failed.

Mr. Putz, his wife, Mrs. Mary Esther Putz, and their three daughters, started their vacation on Saturday, August 25 and were scheduled to return last weekend before going to Ann Arbor, Mich., to enroll their oldest daughter in college.

One of the hottest political campaigns in several years is fast shaping up for Summit voters in the contests for State Senator and Congressman.

The shape of things to come was indicated by the announcement last week of Gov. Richard J. Hughes that he will devote at least two weeks to hitting the campaign trail in Union County in behalf of H. Roy Wheeler, former Linden mayor, who is running against Assemblyman Nelson F. Stanley for the state senate seat left vacant by the resignation of the late Robert C. Crane, a Republican, and Mrs. Lillian W. Egolf who is running for the Congressional seat now held by Congressman Florence P. Wagner.

The Governor remarked concerning the senatorial contest: "I don't picture it so much as a Union County election as a state election."

Since Senator Crane resigned last March, a month before his death, the senate has been split 10-10. The election of either candidate would give his party a majority.

Stanley will open his campaign for the senate seat at a dinner in his honor to be held here at the Hotel Suburban on September 26. Bernard H. Stanley, GOP national committeeman from New Jersey, will be the principal speaker and Mrs. Dwyer will serve as toastmaster.

Governor Hughes said he intends to open his Union County tour by visiting the Democrats on Sunday, September 9, when he will attend a champagne given by the county Democratic organization at Evergreen Lodge in Springfield.

Some Republican sources are predicting that higher guns than Governor Hughes will be dragged into the county battle and make vague hints of reports that members of the Kennedy family and Kennedy administration will appear at various times for both Wheeler and Mrs. Egolf.

Mosquito Index for This Area Unchanged

The Summit Area's weekly mosquito index remained unchanged last week with a count of 12, the same as the week previous. Index figures for the other county areas where traps are maintained by the County Extension Commission also showed little or no changes.

Index figures for other areas were Plainfield-Farwood, 13; Westfield-Cranford, 42; Union-Hillside, 15; and Elizabeth-Linden, 97.

Moving Permits During August Increase Slightly

The number brings to 469 the total amount of moving permits issued during the first eight months of this year as compared to the 435 reported during the comparable period in 1961.

Those moving within the Summit Area during August totaled 26, two less than the 22 in July, and one under the 23 granted in August of last year.

Final Concert Of Season Set For Tonight

William Barrett, first horn player with the Summit Concert Band, will perform the second movement of Mozart's Horn Concerto, No. 3, during the season's final concert scheduled for tonight (Thursday) at Memorial Field at 8:15 p.m.

Common Council To Hold Public Meeting Today

Common Council will hold its first public meeting this month today (Thursday) at 9:30 p.m. in City Hall.

Included on the agenda will be a public hearing on an ordinance which would among other things curtail parking near the Post Office during rush hours.

Under terms of the measure, parking along Maple street in front of the Post Office from Railroad avenue to Broad street would be prohibited on the west side from 4:30 p.m. to 6:30 p.m., and from 7:30 a.m. to 9:30 a.m. on the east side Monday through Friday. During other times of the day, parking would be limited to 12 minutes.

According to a City Hall spokesman, morning traffic near the Post Office is snarled as it enters the business section of the city from the east. The situation is further aggravated by drivers pulling in and out of the area when they go to and from the Post Office. The tieups are reversed during evening rush hours.

In another change which would affect parking near the Post Office, meters now located on the south side of Railroad avenue from Maple street to Springfield avenue, would be moved to the north side of the street. The change would permit more cars to be parked on the side nearest the railroad since driveways on the south side now limit continuous parking on the entire street. Only westbound traffic is permitted along Railroad avenue.

With today's meeting, Common Council will resume its fall schedule of two public meetings a month. The next meeting after tonight will be on Tuesday, September 18, at 8:30 p.m.

At that time, there will be a public hearing on a proposed liquor license transfer from the Parkview Tavern on Union place, to the Villa Restaurant on River road.

A previous public hearing on the matter held August 7 was postponed when counsel for the Villa Restaurant requested an adjournment on grounds that official notification of objections to the transfer from area residents had not been received in time to prepare a defense.

School Board Seeks Substitute Teachers

Any college graduate interested in substitute teaching work in the Summit Public Schools is invited to call at the office of the Board of Education, 97 Maple street, to talk with the superintendent of schools.

According to a statement from the Board office, there is an urgent need for a person to teach German two hours a day.

School Bells to Ring Monday for 4,200 Students

When school bells ring next Monday for over 4,200 students in the city's nine schools, the Senior and Junior high schools will be in separate buildings for the first time in recent history.

CD Council To Discuss Shelter Plan

The city's public air raid shelter program will be discussed at a dinner meeting to be held Wednesday at the Hotel Suburban under the sponsorship of the Civil Defense and Disaster Control, Maxwell Lester, Jr., director, announced this week.

Approximately 20 persons with suitable buildings in shelters have been invited to the dinner in an effort to begin planning an air raid shelter program for the city.

Working on the advice of President Kennedy in his appeal to Congress for early appropriation of funds to supplement community programs, the local organization has arranged for a representative of Wightman-Abbott, Co., an engineering firm, employed by the government to make a survey in Union County of available facilities suitable for the public shelter program.

The representative will present the program in detail, but those present will not be required to make a final decision as to whether or not to permit use of their buildings as public shelters.

Four Changes in Administration Made in Schools

Four administrative changes in the elementary and Junior High schools will go into effect Monday when the city's nine public schools reopen.

Changes include the appointment of Miss Jeanette Middlebrook as principal of Roosevelt school, and Paul B. Ryan as elementary coordinator. In addition, Charles K. Kemper will become principal of the Junior High School, and Franklin School will open without a principal because of the resignation this summer of Dr. Lawrence W. Rhoades. During the fall months, Dr. William B. Purcell, school superintendent, will act as principal of Franklin school.

Miss Middlebrook, who has been director of audio-visual aids in the school system for the last four years, will replace Mr. Ryan, who was named to the newly-created position of elementary coordinator. Mr. Ryan will continue as principal of Jefferson school.

Previously a teacher at Lincoln school, Miss Middlebrook organized the audio-visual department when use of such aids became a regular program in the classroom. She will continue to supervise the department which is currently located at Roosevelt school.

Mr. Ryan, who has been principal of both Roosevelt and Jefferson schools for the last eight years, will be largely concerned with curriculum and personnel.

A graduate of New Jersey State Teachers College, Miss Middlebrook also holds a master's degree from N.Y.U. She has taught in Summit for 26 years. A member of the Nature Club, Miss Middlebrook is also a former president of the Summit Teachers Association.

A graduate of Kutztown State Teachers College, Pa., Mr. Ryan holds a master of education degree from Rutgers University. A member of the school system here since 1949, he was formerly a teaching principal at the Wrightstown elementary school.

Mr. Kemper, newly-appointed principal of the Junior High School, was formerly principal of the Fairmount Avenue School, Chatham. He replaces Robert E. Woodward, who retired on June 30.

Schools Get New Term Facelifting

In anticipation of the opening of school next Monday, the custodial staff of the Summit schools has completed its summer house cleaning and fix-up tasks. In addition, necessary repairs have been made to building, equipment and grounds at each school.

A major portion of the work this summer, however, has been concerned with the opening of the new Senior High School. It has been necessary to move equipment, supplies and other materials from the existing building to the new site, as well as to relocate the Junior High School in facilities formerly occupied by the High School.

Included in the work projects at the Junior-Senior High School have been interior painting of all classrooms, replacement of stage curtains, repair and cleaning of house curtain and valance and conversion of rooms 162-164 to a vocal music room.

In addition, there has been a modernization of the kitchen dishwashing arrangement, conversion of present Junior High School rooms to offices for the school psychologist and others, and the moving of the Junior High into Senior High quarters.

At Jefferson school, exterior wood and copper trim have been repainted; and a completely new clock and bell system has been installed at Roosevelt school. Auditorium and astral-type windows in classrooms at Brayton school have also been replaced.

In addition, windows in the rear of Franklin school have been repaired and replaced, and all exterior wood trim has been painted.

At Wilson school both the library and one office has been converted for classroom use. At the Board of Education offices at 97 Maple street, the Board room was converted to offices and the building repaired.

Board Hires 16 Elementary Grade Teachers

Sixteen new teachers will fill posts in the city's seven elementary schools when the fall term opens on Monday.

Of the total, 11 are experienced teachers, while five will be brand new to the profession this year.

The total number of teachers hired by the Board of Education for all city schools this year stands at a record 48.

Appointed to the elementary schools is Mrs. Nancy Bickertman, a graduate of the College of Education at the University of Maine, with a B.S. degree. She has taught in public schools at Levittown, N.Y., and Mineral County, W. Va.

Mrs. Faith D. Brown, who taught previously at Lafayette High School at Louisiana, will teach music in the elementary schools. She is a graduate of the University of Michigan.

A graduate of St. Elizabeth's College, Miss Patricia Doran will teach at Franklin school. Miss Doran completed her practice teaching at Wilson school.

Joining the staff at Roosevelt school to teach the sixth grade is James Dwyer. Mr. Dwyer is a graduate of Notre Dame University where he received his A.B. degree.

Also slated to teach in the elementary grades is Miss Sarah B. Forney, a graduate (Continued on Page 7)

13-Year-Old Arrested For $50 Store Theft

A 13-year old Millburn boy was arrested over the weekend after he broke into Malpere's Sweet Shop at 381 Springfield avenue and stole $50 from two cash registers.

The youth was arrested by Patrolman Mario Lombardi when he found the boy acting suspiciously in an alleyway behind the luncheonette. After questioning at police headquarters, the boy admitted breaking into the store through the skylight. There were no signs of damage.

He was released into the custody of his parents pending action by Essex County juvenile authorities.

YW Activities Explained in New Brochure

The YWCA brochure announcing fall classes, clubs and special events has been mailed to about 4,000 individuals and organizations in Summit and surrounding areas.

Adult classes, most of which are open to both men and women, offer several choices in the area of the creative arts. Art classes in painting, instructed for many years by the well-known artist and exhibitor, Albert Bross, will open the season on Monday, September 17 for both morning and evening sessions in a 12-week series, and are for students of some experience. Media used are oils and water colors and subjects include portraits and still life. A 10-week course in drawing and painting beginning Tuesday morning, September 18, is adapted to include beginners and teaches the basis of drawing, composition, color, form, shape, shading and perspective. Mrs. Robert C. Lorentz, graduate of Newark School of Fine and Industrial Arts and former student of Mr. Bross, John R. Grabach and Stanley Turnbull, will again instruct this group. A six lesson series in Christmas gifts, to make and give is

This very practical class will utilize wood, metal, cloth etc. which most people will have on hand, to make unusual gifts and ornaments. Some items will be suitable for projects to do with children. Classes will meet Thursday evenings commencing Oct. 4. In the artistic area also, there will be a flower arranging class for beginners. Mrs. Bernard Murphy, new to the YWCA teaching staff, an experienced teacher and accredited judge, former board member of the Garden Club of N. Classes in conversational French are also for those who have studied some French and are designed to serve as a "brush-up" for a trip to Europe or to facilitate the reading of the latest in French literary circles. Mrs. H. M. Ennis, Jr. a graduate of Middlebury College, will return to teach this group which will meet Thursday mornings beginning October 11. A third language is English, taught as a foreign language, for all non English-speaking adults. Speaking, reading, writing, grammar, naturalization class included if interest warrants, are taught in 7-graded classes rather than in one large group. About 90 students from 15 countries were registered last fall. Parties and other YWCA programs are available. Classes are scheduled for two successive 15-week semesters on

Groups will meet in the new Summit High School beginning Thursday evening, Oct. 4 where with help of reading machines and other aids, they will learn to read faster with increased comprehension and to adjust the rate of reading subject matter to the purpose for which it is being read.

In a lighter vein, a contract bridge class for beginners and one for intermediates will meet Tuesday afternoons beginning October 2. Instructor will be Mrs. Edward Higgins, also a newcomer this year to the YW teaching staff. She has taught contract at the Westfield YWCA and at the Cranford and Scotch Plains Adult Schools. Beginners will learn the point count system and play of the hand. Intermediates will review all bidding principles but major emphasis will be on advanced play. A final class for pure relaxation is the one in ballroom dancing where men and women may learn to dance with new confidence. Expert instruction will be given for the cha-cha, lindy, tango, and rhumba by Mrs. Robert Pevoto, trained by Arthur Murray and Mrs. Francis Brailard, trained by Fred Astaire. Couples or single men and women are invited to join this group which will have its first 8 sessions on Monday evening, October 15.

Registrations may be made now at the YWCA for all classes, most of which necessarily are limited in size. Baby sitting services for a nominal fee are available for children over 18 months during most daytime classes, the three-hour art classes excepted. Phone CR

3-4243 for information. The YWCA is open Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. until 6 p.m. (after September 24, to 9 p.m. except Friday).

Other than classes, the YWCA booklet lists a series of opportunities under the heading of "fun and service". Largest of these is the weekly Wednesday morning Kaffeeklatsch which begins at 10 with coffee and conversation, and is followed by hour long programs of wide variety. Concurrent dance and rhythm classes for children 3 to 5 and baby-sitting-services-for-tots over 18 months are available at reasonable cost for youngsters whose mothers are attending the program. All women of the area are welcome.

There are three active adult clubs described. The home-makers which meets the first and third Thursday evenings beginning September 20, provides nights out for busy homemakers including some trips and special holiday and theatre parties. The Thought-stirs, who meet the first and third Wednesday evenings are members of a lively year-round discussion group restricted to young women under 40 years of age who initiate and present unusual programs, demonstrations, debates and panels. The Thursday morning group is for young women who have some time to spend and want to meet others over a cup of coffee, enjoy games, sports, discussions, occasional morning trips or a picnic. They get together on the first and third Thursday mornings, beginning October 4.

Special for single young men and women from 13-40 are the semi-monthly social dances held in the YWCA ballroom on the second and fourth Saturday from 9 p.m. till midnight. There is always live music, refreshments and occasional special features. Dancers hail from many communities and come either with or without partners. A reasonable charge is made to cover costs. First fall dance is October 13.

Also arranged for this unmarried group are the Sunday drop-ins which are scheduled for the first and third Sundays from 3-7 p.m. Music, pingpong, table games and refreshments are available and there is always an interesting short program about 4 p.m. First fall drop-in is October 7.

Listed also are day bus trips to points of interest which both men and women attend. Scheduled for Tuesday, September 25 is a trip to New York to visit the consulates of three countries which will include interesting interviews. Lunch will be eaten in a foreign restaurant. A second trip will leave on Saturday October 27 to the Pennsylvania Dutch Country around Lancaster to see the Amish people and visit the Farmers' Market. A typical Amish home will be visited and travellers will wind up their day by enjoying a Pennsylvania Dutch dinner complete with seven sweets and seven sours and Shoo Fly pie. Reservations, which are limited to the seating capacity of the bus, should be made promptly for these trips.

Added this year are plans for a YWCA sponsored European Trip in July 1963. The group is limited to 35 persons and registrations should be made soon for this all-inclusive 23-day tour of 11 countries at an approximate cost of $930. Full details may be obtained at the YWCA.

Also outlined in the brochure are the Y-Teen activities in the Tri-Epsilon Clubs for girls of the senior-high schools of Summit, New Providence and Berkeley Heights and the Monday afternoon Coke-Time and interest groups open to all girls in Summit Junior High School. Dates to remember as well as other pertinent YWCA information are to be found in the YWCA fall folder which will be sent to anyone upon request. YWCA membership is open to all women.

Party to End Youth Library Reading Contest

As the summer reading contest for children in the Public Library draws to a close, children are looking forward to a party at which prizes for the contest will be awarded. High point of the party will be a program by Beman Lord, actor and author of several popular children's books.

As an actor, Mr. Lord was a member of a theater group which toured the entire country, missing only the state of South Dakota. Later, he was host for the first New York Times and Children's Book Council "Reading is Fun" exhibit. He has appeared on television and radio, and has narrated several films.

Mr. Lord is the author of four sports stories for young boys. Two of these "The Trouble with Francis" and "Quarterback's Aim," won Junior Book Award Certificates from the Boys' Clubs of America. His more recent sports stories are "Guards for Ball" and "Bats and Balls," the latter to be published this fall. "Look at Cars" is a favorite of the more mechanically minded.

The party, which is by invitation only, will be held in the Children's Room at the library at 10:30 a.m. on Saturday, September 8. Children who participated in the contest have already received their invitations through the mail. After the program and the awarding of prizes, refreshments will be served.

Summit Couple Finds Arizona Fine for Hobby and Retirement

Since Harold Lamb left his former job at Western Electric in 1954, he and his wife, Elizabeth, have traveled more than 8,000 miles through rugged Arizona mountains in search of minerals.
The Lambs explore high country some months of the year, and between high they continue "active" retirement at their new home in Del Webb's Sun City, Ariz.
Lamb, former resident head of Western Electric plant in Clark and Phillips, became interested in "mineralogy" more than 50 years ago when he was given a picture frame decorated with numerous minerals.
Although Mrs. Lamb has traveled with her husband for 42 years on trips that have taken the couple into the mountains of 25 states, she has never at

Lamb says of his hobby, "It can be pretty hard work at times. I've had to wrestle that Jeep up rugged trails that hadn't been used for more than half a century. We've done a lot of climbing up and hiking deep into mine shafts."
At their Sun City home, Lamb identifies, sorts, cleans, cuts, and mounts specimens. He and his wife are also active in some of Sun City's clubs and organizations. They frequently swim in one of the community's two large pools, are pedal pushing members of the Bicycle Club, and Mrs. Lamb has joined the Sewing Club.

One Gift Large Enough

With summer vacations at an end, the city is beginning to roll up its sleeves in preparation for another season.

Already at work are the volunteers of the United Campaign who have spent the summer getting the campaign underway for solicitations during the annual drive October 18 to November 1.

This year the slogan for the United Campaign is: "One Gift Large Enough Works Many Wonders."

With ten agencies participating in the drive to raise $190,100, each gift must be large enough to support each of the agencies contributing so vitally to the overall welfare of Summit.

In time of preparation, now is the moment to start thinking how much and how well you can contribute to this year's United Campaign.

How To Woo Candidates

For some time now business organizations have been trying to whip up a measure of enthusiasm among their members for politics. The efforts so far have been somewhat disappointing for most businessmen prefer to keep their hats securely upon the noggin rather than in the political ring.

But something new has been added which we think might well turn the tide and send thousands of men rushing to the aid of their respective parties, not because of any great dose of civic zeal but because the life of a politician could become utopia for males, if a plan of Colorado Republicans gains in popularity.

Colorado Republicans, chafing at being "outs" for a number of years, are now intent upon sweeping every office at stake in the November elections and have set up a school for would-be candidates. In the curricula is a two-day session for wives of potential candidates.

The course was divided into two sections—one for wives remaining behind to keep the home fires burning and the other for those willing to hit the campaign trail with their mates. The primer for the little woman who stays at home is the kind of advice every husband likes his wife to get, whether or not he plans a political career.

The Colorado GOP tells the stay-at-home wives that one good idea might be to consider taking care of the home chores that the husband usually handles. In this way the man of the house can relax when he gets home. The symbolic pipe and slippers might thus replace the hammer and screw driver with which some wives are prone to greet a husband dragging himself back from a tour of vote-wooing. If votes are to be won it is only proper that the man of the house spend his week-end at rest while his wife takes over the lawn cutting and other trivial home chores.

Along with keeping the home fires burning, the kids soothed, the meals prepared and the windows washed, the stay-at-home wife should take care of her husband's clothing, say the Colorado Republicans. She should see that suits, shirts and shoes are ready for stowing into the bag for the next jaunt through the hustings. Mrs. Candidate should also take over her husband's correspondence, including payment of bills and balancing of the checkbook; keep him posted on family news from relatives and friends, and help keep his phone messages in order. Finally, the Republican strategists say, she should let her spouse blow off steam when he's upset without responding with unsolicited advice, and encourage him when he's discouraged.

For the wife who prefers to travel with her candidate husband there are even more rules. "Listen attentively to your husband's speech, no matter how many times you've heard it. Laugh at his jokes and punch lines, but never in a hilarious or unladylike manner," the wives are told. The little woman is bluntly ordered to remember always that she's just a member of the team—never the captain. Finally, when her husband is promising the moon to the electorate she is warned never to yawn. She's also advised never to wear a flowered hat—why, we would not know but apparently the pros have learned the hard way that flowered bonnets do not bring in votes.

We're not quite certain how many wives of candidates would adhere to such rules but we're certain that if enough adopt them there will be no dearth of males ready to give their all for the Grand Old Party.

An American in Paris

For the American housewife who dreams of Paris in the spring, the summer, or any season at all, as an endless round of gay living, sipping Pernods at a Champs Elysees sidewalk cafe, dinner at Maxim's or a fitting at Jacques Hiem's, there are recent assurances there is far more to life in Paris than all that.

First of all, there is a matter of shelter. Apartments in Paris bring rents ranging from $200 to $400 a month, depending upon the size, location and furnishings. Parisian landlords have learned the finer points of using furnishings as a means to evade rent control, just as many American landlords have done in the past. While it is true some apartments offer romantic views of the Seine, the Eiffel Tower and chestnut trees, the price comes high and in general all tenants must provide their own doorknobs, light fixtures and faucets. Why? It's just the custom, mon ami.

All of this concerning life in Paris is told in a recent report by the New York Times. Take the matter of food, the Times warns. Shopping, a pastime dear to the heart of most housewives, can be extremely frustrating in Gay Paree. The American supermarket is a rarity and milady buys her food according to the system prevalent in the United States two decades ago.

'Honest' Women

(Montreal Star)

Canadian elections today are patently more honest than in the rip-roaring old days of bought votes and stuffed ballot boxes. A far more efficient electoral machinery has changed things.

But Nelson Castonguay, Canada's Chief Electoral Officer, quoted by Robert McKeown in The Montreal Star's Weekend Magazine, believes there is another factor which has nothing to do with the machinery. It is the greater participation of women.

Mr. Castonguay says: "Married women who want to earn some pin-money and who have a bit of time on their hands now do the bulk of the election jobs. They are honest and diligent workers. I give women credit for a big part of the improvement."

This is intriguing, because every man knows that women can be completely unscrupulous when it comes to such things as raiding the household budget, cooking bridge scores, or even cheating on their calorie counts. We suspect the answer is that female dishonesty does not extend to the important things—indeed, dishonesty in trivia may be a safety-valve—whereas when a man cheats the sky's the limit.

Looking Backward

Fifty Years Ago

The Lackawanna Railroad inaugurated special excursion rates for holiday pleasure. Among the offering was one for Niagara Falls for $10. Others included Denver, $63.50; California or Portland, $95.50, and a special trip to Montreal with stop-overs at Buffalo, Niagara Falls, Thousand Islands, Lake Geneva, Albany and the use of the Hudson River Steamer for $29.90.

Because Brayton school was not completed in time for the school opening date of September 10, Lincoln school was to be utilized in two sessions. Regular Lincoln students were to attend for four hours, 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m., while Brayton students were to attend during the afternoon hours, from 12:30 to 4:30 p.m. The split session was to continue until Brayton was completed around the end of September.

In the county elections 20 Republicans and 16 Democrats had filed for positions as Freeholders. Among those filing for Freeholder jobs were Republicans J. N. Cady and William I. McNamee, both of Summit. Also filing were William H. Swain and John B. MacNamara, both Democrats of Summit, and Christian LeGrand, Socialist from Summit. Another Summit resident who petitioned for a county job was LeRoy A. Gibby, running for surrogate on the Democratic ticket.

Twenty-five Years Ago

Heavy storms broke a week-long heat wave, with temperatures dropping from 93 to 60 degrees. In the course of the storms, lightning struck the steeple at the old Catholic Church at the corner of Morris avenue and Chestnut street with no particular damage.

Voters locally continued to receive instructions on the newly-arrived voting machines, with a special article printed in the Summit Herald on the use of the new machine.

The Lincoln Tunnel was almost ready for use. With one tube about ready, engineers estimated that it would take another three years before the second tube would be ready. Initially, the one tube would be used for two-way traffic.

Ten Years Ago
Common Council continued to defer decision on whether or not the city should continue rent controls.

Work on the new wing of Overlook Hospital was half-completed, with full completion expected in April, 1953.

Auto insurance rates in the area were raised from $5 to $9, depending on the type of car coverage. Increases were attributed to more accidents.

Per pupil cost for Summit school children for the previous year was released at $338.

Five Years Ago
As the school system opened, 44 teaching posts were filled and the school calendar was for 183 days. A record high number of almost 4,000 students were registered.

Pupil cost for the previous school year was released at $379.83, an increase of $4.72.

Newly-appointed principal at Lincoln school was Charles Hamilton, while David C. Davidson was appointed administrative assistant to the superintendent of schools.

MEDICAL NOTES

By Bryant L. Jones, M.D.

Cerebral concussion or brain concussion are words which frighten any lay person. Indeed, they cause concern to a physician, but not to the extent that is usually presumed. Cerebral concussion simply means that a person has been knocked unconscious. When consciousness returns the concussion has ended.

During the state of simple concussion, there is a derangement of brain function. Physically the individual appears to be sleeping. Respiration, pulse, blood pressure and color are normal. Occasionally, a person suffering from concussion may not be unconscious. He acts mechanically, or in a drunken manner, or asks the same question repeatedly without comprehending the answer. Such a person is popularly described as being "out on his feet."

There is no aftermath to concussion unless some structural damage has been done to the brain. In such cases there may be convulsive seizures, paralysis, cyanosis, shock, deep coma or other serious symptoms present at the time of injury in addition to unconsciousness. First aid treatment of placing the patient in a comfortable prone position; loosen all tight or constricting clothing; remove any obstruction to breathing; and send for professional help. If available, aromatic spirits of ammonia may be held under the nostrils. DO NOT attempt to restore consciousness by slapping the patient. DO NOT attempt to move the patient except under the supervision of a physician or other specially trained personnel. DO NOT force the patient to drink anything, particularly alcohol.

There is an old superstition which states that a person who has received a severe blow to the head should not be allowed to go to sleep. It is a fallacy. The best possible treatment of severe shocking trauma is quietness and rest.

Continuation of course offered Spring 1962. Course will cover jazz improvisation, the history, analysis and application of various styles from the beginning of jazz to the present day.

Instructor: Mrs. Jeanne De Maio. The success of her two classes in the Spring 1962 semester prompted us to have her expand the program to four courses. She has proven that group instruction on the piano does produce results.

B9A French I Tuesday, 7:30-9 room 105, fee $22.

B9B French II, Tuesday, 9:10-30 room 105, fee $22.

In order to learn a foreign language one must apply time to study and practice. For this reason our language this fall is on an annual basis. In fairness to the serious students the second registration for these courses in the winter term will be eliminated. Tuition covers you for both terms. French I is strictly for beginners. French II is for those with one year of French or equivalent of 20-30 hours of instruction. These courses are not purely conversational courses but are designed to give one a thorough command of the language. Language lab facilities will be used in the courses to enable students to progress at maximum speed.

Instructor: Miss Judith Ferris has an extensive background of European travel and employment as a Berlitz interpreter. She is now on the faculty of Governor Livingston High School.

He has taught political science for many years at New York University and Long Island University. Mr. Babian has traveled extensively and recently made a visit to the Common Market countries and the Soviet Union to survey economic institutions and conditions.

Education. Mr. Hardy will present an analysis of the state of affairs in Washington, the United Nations and elsewhere. He was director of Radio Hong Kong from 1943-1950 and then came to America to join the staff of Lowell Thomas. Mrs. Blasius is the New Jersey state chairman of the American Guild of Organists. She is also past dean of the American Guild of Organists.

The meeting will be Federation Presidents' Day, and on this occasion, the club will honor past presidents at tea in the Parish House immediately following the program.

January 9 at 2 p.m. "Art in Our Time" is the title of a lecture to be given by James Wines. An internationally known sculptor, Mr. Wines was the recent recipient of a Guggenheim Fellowship. Poorly fitted shoes can exact a costly toll in foot trouble in later years. The big danger lies in the fact that you usually have no way of knowing that your child's shoes don't fit properly. Young feet are so flexible that they may adapt themselves to ill-fitting shoes without pain.

But you can depend on us - your Authorized Buster Brown Dealer. We professionally fit every pair of shoes according to the Buster Brown 6-Point Fitting Plan. This is your assurance of proper fitting at all key points - and plenty of growing room, too.

Fortnightly Club Unit Announces Meeting Dates

As in other years, members of the international relations department of the Fortnightly Club hope to become better acquainted with the life, culture, and policies of many lands, and also to learn what other countries think about the United States.

The program will start on October 5, with a bus trip to the China Institute in New York and to the Metropolitan Museum of Art. In the morning, the director of the China Institute, will describe the work of that organization, discuss some of the problems of Chinese people, and demonstrate some of the activities of the Institute. After a lunch at a nearby restaurant, there will be a guided tour of the Oriental Wing of the Metropolitan Museum.

At the luncheon on November 9, guest day, the speakers will be Dr. Bettis A. Garside, executive director of the American Bureau for Medical Aid to China. For many years he lived in China and now makes frequent trips to Formosa. His topic will be "The Chinese—Friends or Enemies."

The meeting on Friday morning, January 11, will be devoted to a panel discussion of the United States as others see the country. Panelists will be teachers from other countries who are teaching in New Jersey this year. The moderator will be Dr. Ernest Ranucci, a professor at Newark State College.

On Friday morning, February 8, the speaker will be Burnett F. Anderson, who recently returned from Iran, where he was public affairs officer in the United States Embassy and director of the United States Information Service. He will describe the work of the U.S.I.S. as he knew it through his own work in Iran.

The last department meeting of the club year will be held on Friday morning, March 22, responsible for hospitality, Mrs. Henry Andreini, Mrs. George J. Corvati, Mrs. W. C. Kleinfelder, and Mrs. Hans Sitars.

Wants ads in the Summit Herald fifty years ago reflected the needs of the community as much as today with the difference that the needs both coincided and differed from the present day.

For instance, a good family cow was for sale at 68 Passaic avenue. A 200 Kent Place boulevard, 150 white legs horn laying hens were for sale for 75 cents each, while a good facing horse and cob, "quiet and gentle," was available at the stable at 87 Franklin place.

Mrs. J. Kennedy at New Providence was selling a fresh Jersey cow, with calf, as well as a 16-month-old heifer.

To go with the horses, there was available from W. M. Myers at Murray Hill a rubber-tire governess cart and pony harness.

In the automotive field, in spite of the novelty of motor-cars, there was already a used car market. Among the cars offered for sale was a Stoddard Dayton, five-passenger touring car, with 30 horsepower. A 1910 model in "excellent condition," it was offered for $500 cash by a party at 25 Fernwood road.

Also for "sale reasonable" was a limousine body which could be adjusted to any make of car. For the commuting set, there was a Studebaker glass front station wagon, with yellow running gear, rubber tires and a body of dark royal blue. Inside appointments included pig skin cushions. At a cost of $700, the owner was willing to sell for $165.

Art Center To Begin Fall Registration

An innovation this year at the Art Center will be "open house" every day for classes' registration, beginning Monday, September 10, for two weeks. There will be a representative at the Art Center from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., including weekends, through September 24. The fall term will begin Thursday, September 27. The new plan allows students to discuss their requirements and choose the class best suited to fulfill their needs.

There are now 22 classes for adults and children at the Summit Art Center. Classes are scheduled for morning, midday, afternoon and evening, Monday through Friday, plus Saturday morning classes for children ages 7 to 12.

Courses have been added this year offering diverse instruction from basic drawing fundamentals to advanced abstraction of "color animation." New classes in basic drawing, sculpture, watercolor, oil-painting techniques and a lecture series are scheduled in the doubled studio space. The Art Center, largest community art school in New Jersey, offers this wider range of subjects to include students of all abilities and experience. There are five new instructors.

The Saturday morning children's class will be taught by David DeLong, who has instructed gifted children at the Fleisher Memorial Art Center, Philadelphia. George Weber, associate professor at Rutgers, will conduct the Thursday evening Lecture Series, demonstrating techniques "for the consumption of a work of art."

Registration blanks and information leaflets will be at the Art Center. Telephone the classes' chairman, Mrs. Campbell Bryan, 464-0165, after 6 p.m. if unable to come to the Art Center for registration.

Violation of State Laws Ban 11 Drivers

The driver's licenses of 11 Summit Area residents were suspended recently under the state's point system, the 60/70 excessive speed law, or the reciprocity agreement with Pennsylvania.

Of the total, nine have been denied their licenses under the point system, and include Leroy Russell, 3rd, 19, 615 Springfield avenue, four months, effective August 23; Joseph T. Bannon, 27, 13 West 4th street, New Providence, three months, effective August 23; Paul J. Terrell, 18, 181 Summit avenue, three months, effective July 29; Edward Levy, 22, 222 Union avenue, New Providence, 15 days, effective August 21; Jürgen A. Von Olzewska, 19, 843 Mountain avenue, Murray Hill, three months, effective August 11; James Hanna, 64, 146 Passaic avenue, two months, effective August 16; Peter E. Romano, 21, 609 Springfield avenue, Berkeley Heights, three months, effective September 22; William A. Bohrer, 21, 41 Sweetbriar road, two months, effective July 23, and Frank A. Lee, 74, 12 South street, three months, effective August 24.

Other revocations include David C. Goodrich, 18, 54 Pine Grove road, Berkeley Heights, 30 days, effective August 14, 60/70 excessive speed law; and Barbara M. Brown, 23, 2 Woodmere drive, 30 days effective August 27, reciprocity agreement with Pennsylvania.

A botanical garden is being constructed only 20 miles from downtown Toronto on 100 acres beside the Credit River. The only other cities in Canada with botanical gardens are Hamilton, Ontario, and Montreal.

"I WAS TEMPTED TO GIVE UP EATING"

There's nothing like the weekly stampede at the food store to convince a man (a) that doing the shopping is a tedious time consuming job, and (b) that the wife was right in needing me to let her use the SUMMIT FOOD MARKET'S shopping service.

I was about to give up eating when I called Sam at CRESTVIEW 7-4500, and gave his service a try. Well it's terrific. The shopping was done perfectly, according to instructions and delivery was made in our kitchen. Didn't cost a dime, our purchase was over ten dollars. If it had been less than ten, all it would have cost is 35¢. You can bet on how we shop every week from now on.

Highlanders' Booters Set For 14 Games

Berkeley Heights — Governor Livingston Regional High School's Union County Conference championship soccer team, which lost only to Summit High during the regular season last year, faces a rugged 14-game schedule which begins on Sept. 20 at Summit.

Highlanders to Play 3 New Grid Rivals

Berkeley Heights — The Highlanders of Governor Livingston Regional High School will face three new rivals during the 1962 football season as they bid for a third consecutive winning season under Coach Al Boud.

Seven Games Scheduled For Oratory Gridders

Summit — Oratory School's Ramo, who suffered through a tough season in Coach Mike Hagan's first year at the helm, are hopeful of doing somewhat better this season with most of last year's regulars expected to be back in action.

Summit Footballers In Six Home Games

Summit — The Hilltoppers of Summit High School will have the benefit of home-town vocal support for six of their nine football games during the 1962 season which gets under way Saturday, Sept. 22, with Cedar Grove's first-year team visiting Talbot Memorial Field for a Suburban Conference game.

Attempting to bounce back from a rather dismal 2-6 season in 1961, the Hilltoppers will want a good number of holdovers from last year's squad which improved rapidly late in the season.

Summit will also host to Verona High School in another Suburban Conference game on Saturday, Sept. 23, at Talbot Memorial Field before playing its first road game on Oct. 6 at William.

The Hilltoppers' toughest test of the early season: The Millers are the one-season favorites for the Suburban Conference championship.

The remainder of the Summit schedule is as follows: Oct. 11, Clifford Scott (East Orange), home, 2 p.m.; Oct. 20, Springfield Regional, away, 2 p.m.; Oct. 27, Madison, away, 2 p.m.; Nov. 3, Mountain (West Orange), home, 2 p.m.; Nov. 10, Caldwell, home, 2 p.m.; and Thursday, Nov. 22, Chatham, home, 11 a.m.

Esso Nine Shuts Out Eagles, 8-0

BERKELEY HEIGHTS — It was a meeting between the teams in any indication, Berkeley Esso is due to replace the Eagles as champions of the Adult Softball League this year.

The two teams will square off in a best-of-three series for the title this week. The second and third games, if three are necessary, are scheduled tonight and tomorrow night.

Berkeley Esso blanked the Eagles, 8-0, last week on the fourth pitching of Al Geiger. Poor fielding support contributed to Calles's second loss for the Eagles.

But Esso flashed considerable batting power too, with Dean DePuy and John Sullivan blasting homers and DePuy, Pappas and George Bistis chipping in with doubles. Perillo doubled for the Eagles.

Esso also trimmed the Braves last week, 6-3, with Geiger again the winning pitcher. Nick DeFronzo lost his third. A five-run, fourth inning carried Esso to victory.

Pappas' single with the bases loaded that got past the left fielder and cleared the bases was the big blow. Ernie DeFronzo blasted a three-run homer in the sixth inning for the Braves to spoil Geiger's shutout bid.

Bistis had two doubles for Esso. Ambros had a triple and Sullivan a double for the winners.

The Braves bounced back to trounce the Jaycees, 12-1. Ernie DeFronzo won his second game, while Coddington lost his second. A four-run second inning clinched the game early for the Braves.

Nick DeFronzo hit a three-run homer, while Hall, Delia and Klebauer all doubled for the Braves.

Attention Bowling Publicists

During the last few years the number of bowling leagues competing for space in this newspaper has increased tremendously.

Best Ball Event Begins Sept. 16

The team of Frank Moroney of Summit and Jerry Sabatini of Kenilworth are the defending champions in the 19th annual Union County Public Links Best Ball Tournament which will be played at Galloping Hill Golf Course beginning Sunday, Sept. 16. The tournament is sponsored by the Union County Park Commission.

The teams qualifying for the 32 places in match play will play the first round of eight holes on Sunday, September 23. Other rounds of 18 holes will be played on Sunday, September 30, and Sunday, October 7. The semi-final round of 27 holes will be played on Sunday, October 14, and the 27-hole final round will be played on October 21.

The tournament is open to all men, residents of Union County, who qualify as amateurs and are not members of private clubs.

Entries close at noon on Tuesday, September 11, with the Recreation Department of the Union County Park Commission. Entry blanks are now available at the Galloping Hill Golf Course and at the Ash Brook Golf Course, Scotch Plains.

The Braves also downed the Jaycees, 7-1, with Gregory winning his fourth game. Young lost his 10th. Durand homered and Martin doubled for Reheis.

This has created problems for our sports staff because of the volume of material being submitted and, in many cases, the way in which articles for publication have been submitted.

The 1962-63 bowling season is just around the corner. Before it gets under way, this newspaper feels it is necessary to set up certain ground rules concerning the submission of bowling information for the sports page.

1. All bowling information submitted for publication must be typewritten or legibly written. Mere score sheets will not be acceptable.
2. In writing names of bowlers, please be sure to include first names.
3. In listing the names of please restrict the names to men bowlers who roll games of "200" or better. Only names of women bowlers who roll games of "175" or better will be published. We are having to take this drastic step, but space dictates it.

4. Submit league standings for publication only on the fourth Thursday monthly. Once again, space limitations will prevent publication of the standings weekly.
5. League secretaries or the person supplying information about a league should write their name and telephone number at the end of the material. This will permit us to contact publications if we have any questions.

The New Jersey Association for Retarded Children, a non-profit, charitable group, concerns itself with the present and future of these children. It is one of 14 member agencies of the New Providence Community Campaign which opens October 20. "It is of particular comfort to parents in getting through the initial period after they first realize their child is retarded, and in adjusting to the reality of the situation on a long term basis.

Mental retardation, according to the agency, is four times as common as rheumatic heart, nine times more prevalent than cerebral palsy, affects fifteen times more people than blindness. It disables ten times as many children and adults as polio did before Salk vaccine.

Workshop

The Unit helps in support of the Nancy Lutzon Training School, Roselle. This school operates a 10-month program for mentally retarded children who are ineligible for admission to public schools. The current enrollment of 45 mentally retarded children from 3 1/2 to 22 years of age includes New Providence youngsters who might otherwise be unable to receive this needed care.

The excellent results of the work of this school have made it nationally known. Through efforts such as these, great strides are being made in allowing the mentally retarded to lead useful and productive lives. In fact, today 25 out of 30 such children can become self-supporting adults.

Recreation

Recreation is another urgent need which the Union County Unit provides. Camp Starr is a five week summer day camp

The non-swimmer program consists of 15 lessons, at Delwood Recreation Center gives everyone an opportunity to learn to swim safely and easily under excellent Red Cross instructors," he said.

To register, call Mr. Hedrick CR 3-0922.

Requirements and schedule for swim program are as follows:

The schedule is as follows:

Conrad Birdie, one of the central figures in the musical, who resembles Elvis Presley in style and his teenage following, will be played by Wayne Sherwood. United Campaign Agencies: Family Service Association

Family Counseling is Most Important Task

Family Service Association, one of the ten agencies of the United Campaign, is primarily concerned with counseling families with problems.

Among the problems handled by the agency are parent-child relationships, adjustment problems of the aged, planning around mental illness and physical handicaps.

Since the work of the association is concerned with the individual, many times mental illness is detected in its early stages and the agency is able to refer the client to the proper facilities for care.

Also included in the work of Family Service is help with unmarried mothers. The agency arranges for the mother's care and handles the work of child placement if the mother wishes.

A summer camp program, too, which has been in effect for many years, was implemented last year and will continue this year.

Herald volunteered to raise the necessary funds. During the current year 82 children were sent to camp.

Cases come to Family Service through doctors, lawyers, schools, hospitals and clergymen. The work of the agency is completely confidential and available to all Summit residents without regard to race, color or creed.

Family Service Association was organized in June, 1913 mainly to prevent the overlap of donations to less fortunate citizens by churches, lodges, civic groups and inter-estimated persons. Various committees were formed and from these committees many of the city's services were formulated.

One committee started the Thrift Shop, which was later taken over by the Junior Service League volunteers.

During World War 2, with the need for women to go back into industry, a nursery school was established at Roosevelt school, under the sponsorship of Family Service, and staffed entirely by Junior Service League volunteers.

The after-care committee, formed following a polio epidemic, helped establish the physiotherapy department at Overlook Hospital.

In 1939, Family Service became the local representative of the Travelers Aid Society and ties were established with state and county agencies.

By 1928, the local group had become a member of the Family Service Association of America, which sets the standard of work that is done in the various agencies.

The local agency is one of 308 in the United States and Canada and is visited periodically by a field staff from the national group.

During the depression of the 1930s the staff of Family Service was loaned to the city for administering relief. Following the depression, with the establishment of government institutions to give basic relief under the Department of Public Welfare, State Board of Child Welfare, Old Age Assistance, Aid to the Blind and Social Security, the local agency turned to counseling.

During World War 2, with the need for women to go back into industry, a nursery school was established at Roosevelt school, under the sponsorship of Family Service, and staffed entirely by Junior Service League volunteers.

Hughes Seeks Public Works Funds for Boro
Gov. Hughes this week announced plans for a $1,000,000 storm sewer construction project in New Providence which he considers qualified under President Kennedy's $900,000,000 public works bill.

In all, Union County could expect $3,700,000 in public works programs under the bill. Also included in the county is a $750,000 library annex at Elizabethtown.
