Reborn Historical Group Plans to Restore City's Oldest House as Museum

A dormant Summit Historical Society was enthusiastically revived last week at a meeting held Tuesday evening at the Fortnightly Club attended by a group of about thirty representatives of local organizations and city officials.

The Society, more or less inactive since 1950, voted to incorporate, seek widespread membership, and restore what is considered to be the oldest house in Summit as a museum and temporary storage place for documents and items of local historical interest.

The home to be restored is a small cottage located on the Oakley avenue side of "Dalkeith," the R. Cade Wilson estate on Springfield avenue. The estate proper, including the main house, is city-owned property but occupied by Mrs. Wilson who has life tenancy. Another portion of the property is owned by the Board of Education and includes Wilson School.

Damaged by Vandals
The cottage, now in extremely poor condition due to vandalism by children, is listed on city tax records as far back as 1879 but is believed to be considerably older. It is called the "Settler's House" by members of the Wilson family and in 1933 it was the subject of a pictorial display in Home and Garden Magazine as an unusual garden cottage.

For many years it was personally maintained by Mrs. Wilson and furnished with period antiques. In recent years because of vandalism the furnishings have been removed to the Wilson residence for safekeeping but it is understood that Mrs. Wilson will return them to the cottage if title is acquired by the Historical Society and when restoration is completed.

$8,000 Restoration Cost
John Faron of 25 Oakley avenue, an architect and member of the Planning Board, said that an inspection by him indicates that an expenditure of about $8,000 would be required to restore the cottage to its original condition.

The cottage, he said, could be termed of "French farmhouse" style with exterior walls of rough poured concrete containing unusually large stones, and covered with stucco. The building is only 11 x 22 feet and contains two rooms, one downstairs and one upstairs.

The downstairs room has two wood paneled walls and two plaster walls, a wood paneled ceiling and a chimney which at one time housed a Franklin stove. The stove is still available. The upstairs room, reached by an extremely narrow stairway, is similar to the first floor.

Mr. Faron said that the roof is in poor condition and has a gaping hole, about 75 per cent of the downstairs room ceiling needs replacing, as well as numerous other items, such as window glass, cupboard doors, painting, plastering, etc. He pointed out that the restoration work should be done carefully by skilled workmen and with authentic materials of the style and age of the house.

Need Heat, Light
He also recommended that electricity be brought into the house and that heat be installed for the protection of furniture and other items which will eventually be installed.

Mayor David E. Truckess, who conducted the meeting with former Mayor Maxwell Lester, jr., a trustee of the Historical Society, said that until a few weeks ago the house had no street number but upon his order the city has officially designated it as 100.

Holiday Schedules Mean Early Deadline
Because the Christmas and New Year's holidays both fall on Wednesday, the Herald for the next two editions will be delivered on Friday, December 27 and Friday, January 3.

Editorial and advertising deadlines for both editions will be noon on Tuesday, December 24 and Tuesday, December 31. Deadlines for all church news, sports, pictures and routine press releases will be noon on Monday, December 23 and Monday, December 30.

All departments of the Herald will be closed on Christmas and New Year's Days.

Grand Theft Cases in City In Sharp Rise

A heavy increase in the number of grand larcenies, assaults and cases of disorderly persons during November was reported this week in the monthly activities report of the Police Department.

According to the report, there were ten cases of grand larceny last month, as compared with two for the previous November, bringing the 1963 total for 11 months to 24, an increase of 11 over the 13 cases reported during the comparable period in 1962.

The report also indicated that there were five cases of disorderly persons, as against three for November, 1962; but the 1963 total is now 88, which is 42 more than the 46 reported at the same time last year.

Assaults last month numbered seven, or five more than the two reported during November, 1962, and the yearly total now stands at 32, six less than the 38 reported last year at the same time.

Evidenced in the report is a drop in the number of summonses issued for moving violations on the city's streets. Last month 73 summonses were issued for such violations, as against 125, or 52 more, during the previous November. The 1963 tally is now 723, which is 454 less than the 1,183 reported during the same time last year.

There was also a drop in the number of summonses issued for parking violations, with 282 reported last month, as compared with 644, or 262 more, during November, 1962. The 11 month total for the year is now 2,819, which is 506 less than the 3,325 reported during the comparable period last year.

Summonses issued for parking meter violations continued to drop because of the use of courtesy warning tickets. Last month meter summonses came to 489, or 664 less than the 1,153 issued during the previous November. The 11 month total for 1963 is (Continued on Page 12)

Snow and Rain Blamed for 3 Car Accidents

Rain and hazardous road conditions were blamed last Thursday for two automobile accidents which injured three persons in less than two hours.

A late afternoon mishap in the Celanese driveway near Morris avenue injured George Byl, 22, of Glen Ridge, and Paul Donohue, 19, of Newark. Mr. Byl was taken to Overlook Hospital for treatment of an injured eye and ankle, while Mr. Donohue was treated at the Celanese Medical Department for cuts about the nose.

Police said Mr. Byl was leaving the driveway heading for Morris avenue, and Mr. Donohue was entering, when both cars collided. Damage to the two cars was heavy and they were towed from the scene.

Investigating was Patrolman William Chanley. Earlier in the afternoon, Arnold Tohler, 32, of Gillette was taken to Overlook for treatment of face, mouth, arm and chest injuries after the car he was driving apparently skidded on wet pavement and smashed into a utility pole on Glenside avenue near the entrance to Commonwealth Water Co. land.

At the time of the accident, Mr. Tohler was driving west on Glenside. The car was heavily damaged and was towed from the scene.

Investigating were Sgt. Richard Chudoba and Patrolman Chanley.

Visiting Nurses Name 3 New Board Members

Three new board members were named to the board of directors of the Visiting Nurse Association of Summit, New Providence and Berkeley Heights, at the regular board meeting held this week.

The new members, each to serve 3-year terms, are John J. Callahan, jr., of 851 Springfield avenue, New Providence; Mrs. William Houston, 123 Whittridge road, and Mrs. William B. Patterson, 1 Ridge Drive east, Berkeley Heights.

Mr. Callahan is a local attorney associated with Kent, Kent & Gilson. Mrs. Houston is a past president of the Smith College Club and Mrs. Patterson was former publicity chairman for the Berkeley Heights Visiting Nurse fund drive last year.

Yule Observances Here To Begin Over Weekend

Summit residents prepared to usher in the Christmas holiday this weekend with special church programs, carol singing and parties.

Weatherwise, the area is faced with below normal temperatures throughout next week with the possibility of light snow which would make it the fourth white Christmas in a row.

Although the area is in its traditional festive Yuletide mood, activities are on a much more subdued level this year because of the assassination less than a month ago of President Kennedy.

The usual round of house parties are not as much in evidence this year out of respect to the late president with many usual gatherings either canceled or cutback.

Starting this weekend, all area churches will begin the Christmas observance with special programs.

On Sunday at 5 p.m. Central Presbyterian Church will present "The Nativity" in the Parish House auditorium with a special musical program by the boys' choir. On Tuesday, there will be the traditional Christmas Eve family service at 5 p.m. and a candlelight service at 11 p.m. with a special program of Christmas music.

Madrigal Singing Offered
A Christmas Vespers service will be held at 4 p.m. and 5 p.m. at the Unitarian Church on Sunday, with the usual Christmas Eve service beginning at 11:30 p.m. The madrigal singers and special instrumental music will also be heard.

Beginning at 4:30 p.m. on Christmas Eve, Calvary Episcopal Church will hold a Children's Nativity service. Carol singing will begin at 11:15 p.m., followed by the Festival of Holy Communion at 11:30 p.m. On Christmas Day there will be Holy Communion at 8 a.m., followed by the Festival of Holy Communion at 10 a.m.

On Sunday at 11 a.m., Fountain Baptist Church will offer a special Christmas program which will include several musical selections and a scripture reading by Rev. Leon C. Riddick, D.D.

The Methodist Church will offer its Christmas Eve services at 11 p.m.

Discrimination Called Immoral By Clergymen

The Open Housing Committee of Summit, New Providence and Berkeley Heights heard Protestant, Catholic and Jewish clergymen denounce the immorality of racial discrimination at a regular meeting held December 11 at Our Lady of Peace Catholic Church, New Providence.

At the same time, the Committee announced that its membership had reached 550 families in the area.

The first speaker, Father Edwin J. Sullivan, chairman of the department of sociology at Seton Hall University and a member of the New Jersey advisory committee to the National Commission on Civil Rights, noted that the Catholic Church has on many occasions forcefully told its faithful that segregation is sinful and is not a subject for debate.

Rev. David K. Barnwell, D.D., of Christ Church for the past 34 years, spoke next, pronouncing segregation as an evil based upon greed, malice and exploitation. He declared that silence on the matter must be considered immoral.

The last speaker was Rabbi Israel S. Dresner, spiritual leader of Temple Shalom, Springfield, and an active member of NAACP and CORE. Rabbi Dresner emphasized the fact that only when discrimination against the Negro is eliminated will the barriers against other minorities genuinely disappear.

The Old Testament clearly states, he also noted, that there is but one original Man and that all men are born of one Heavenly Father.

Other topics covered at the general meeting included:

Realty Board Neutral
A report on a meeting between representatives of the Open Housing Committee and the seven-man Real Estate Board of Trustees of Summit, New Providence and Berkeley Heights. The trustees, speaking for a majority of its fellow realtors, told the Committee that it would neither help nor hinder the efforts of the group to secure housing in the area on a non-discriminatory basis.

Entry was made by forcing open a window. Police said no money was taken and there was no damage.

Police were kept busy last week with the arrest of four persons for suspected robbery and the investigation of a theft at Lincoln School.

Three of the four persons arrested, all teenagers, have been charged with car theft and the looting of parking meters along Broad street near the freight yards. The youths, 14, 15 and 17, reside at Elizabeth.

Council Approves 1% Wage Increase Bill in Record Time

It took Common Council exactly 12 seconds Tuesday night to pass the 1964 salary ordinance for city employees which calls for an average wage increase of no more than one per cent.

The three persons sitting in the audience neither approved, disapproved or questioned members of Council about any section of the ordinance.

Last year, pay hikes amounted to approximately 3 per cent, but according to Ward 1 Councilman Elmer J. Bennet, when the 1964 measure was introduced on December 3, the wage scale followed the policy announced last October by Council when it asked department heads to hold the line and grant only a cost of living increase of 1 per cent.

In accordance with the 1 per cent policy, Police and Fire Department members will receive a scale of increases, ranging from $55 for probationary personnel, to $110 for both department chiefs.

The highest paid municipal employee will be the city engineer with a salary of $11,770, bringing an increase of $120, while the executive secretary to Common Council will receive an annual wage of $11,625, representing an increase of $125. The city clerk's salary will remain the same next year at $1,000.

Wages for the city treasurer will be reduced $1,000 to $10,000 because of the retirement at the end of this year of Herbert G. Fuchs and the hiring of a replacement.

The minimum salary for the city's secretaries will be raised $40 to $3,610, while the maximum has been increased to $4,600 representing a $50 a year hike.

Assessment Levy Sought
In other matters Council requested the Board of Assessors to levy an assessment on property owners where recent road and curb improvements have been made.

The areas involved and the cost of improvements include West End avenue from Passaic avenue to Duane drive, $5,389.92; Kent Place boulevard from Madison avenue to Mount Vernon avenue, $9,517.83, and Harvard street, $13,259.46.

Council also approved a resolution extending the contract of Charles K. Agle of Princeton, who was hired by the city to help draft the Master Plan, to April 1 of next year.

The contract extension was requested by the Planning Board in order that Mr. Agle will be available for additional consultations on the Master Plan which was adopted on December 9 following four public hearings.

Annual Organization Meeting January 2
Common Council will hold its annual Organization Meeting on Thursday, January 2 at 8 p.m. in City Hall.

The ceremonies will include the installation of Mayor David C. Truckess; Councilman-at-Large Philip N. Trowbridge, Ward 2 Councilman Frank H. Lehr, and newly-elected Ward 1 Councilman Anthony J. Ratichek, who will fill the post which will be vacated on January 31 by incumbent Charles I. Webster, jr.

The meeting will also include the election of a Common Council President, as well as naming members to various city boards.

The next regular meeting of Council will be held on Tuesday, January 7 at 8:30 p.m.

Contributions to the annual Summit Christmas Fund lagged again this week and a spokesman for the annual campaign said on Tuesday that donations to date are "not nearly enough" to provide gifts for families living on marginal incomes.

To date, donations are at the $1,777 mark. Since gifts will be distributed early next week, new contributions are needed today and tomorrow so that families who would otherwise receive no gifts on Christmas may receive them before the holiday.

The fund is aimed at making Christmas a day apart for local residents whose incomes are so low or spread so thinly because of medical or extra expenses that purchase of gifts is impossible. Recipient of most of the funds are children and older persons who are sick and live on small pensions.

Checks should be made payable to "The Summit Christmas Fund" and mailed to either Family Service Association, 95 Summit avenue or to the city's Welfare Department, 71 Summit avenue, co-sponsors of the annual drive.

Mayor David E. Truckess and his committee will judge downtown stores this Saturday to determine those having the best Christmas decorations. Winners will be announced next week.

Members of the high school brass ensemble are Larry King and Phillip Collins, trumpets; Elaine Bearer, French horn; Glen Nelson, trombone; Jay Young, tuba, and William Kennedy, baritone.

Animal Welfare League to Seek More Members
 Plans for the coming year of the Summit Animal Welfare League will include a membership drive, it was decided at a recent meeting of the League's executive board.
 Inasmuch as dog license fees represent only about one-third of the membership, it was voted to launch a concentrated drive for additional members. A nominating committee also will be appointed in the near future to submit a slate for election of officers in February. Plans for a spring rummage sale were also discussed.

The committee expressed thanks to Mrs. Curtis B. Prout, chairman of the exchange of animals committee, for her work caring for homeless and injured animals. Attending the meeting were Mrs. Lydia deForest, vice president; Mrs. Walter Waldau, secretary; Mrs. Hans J. Meyer, Mrs. Frank Hughes, Mrs. Mary McPhail, Mrs. G. L. Mathison and Miss Betty M. Carter. The meeting was held at the home of Miss Violet E. Carter, president.

Figures Prove Summit Eleven Was The Best
 Summit High School's undefeated football team continues to win new honors as the statisticians are busy reviewing and charting the recent season.
 The Hill City eleven, it appears, has established a set of new school records and at the same time wins an easy nod for the top offensive and defensive marks in Union County.
 Summit broke loose for 300 points and held its opponents to a mere 33. The team's point total was a new high for Summit High and was one of the best in this area. The 9-0 record also marked the first time Summit has earned a clean slate since 1928 when the Hill City chalked up a 9-0-1 record, taking a tie with Roselle Park but also trouncing Roselle in a game earlier that season.
 The local gridgers also ran up scores of 46, 41, 42 and 40 to set a county scoring record. Clark registered a lone victory of 55 points to take the single-game high mark. Summit also had five shut-outs.

Bard Co. Increases Dividend to 12 1/2c
 The directors of C. R. Bard, Inc., Murray Hill, have increased the quarterly cash dividend on the common stock to 12 1/2 cents a share from 10 cents a share, and also voted to pay a year-end extra cash dividend of 5 cents a share, both payable December 27, to holders of record December 13. This was announced last week by Harris L. Willis, president of the surgical and hospital supply company. Bard paid a year-end extra cash dividend of 7.7 cents a share in 1962.

Two Artists to Open Exhibit Here Monday
 An exhibition of works of two internationally known artists, Ruth Hutton Ancker and Danilo Bergamo, has been announced by the House of Fine Arts, 346 Springfield Avenue. Preview is scheduled for Monday, December 23, at which time the public is invited to meet the artists. With a few exceptions, the exhibit will be a repeat of the two artists' joint exhibition in the Ward Eggleston Galleries, New York, which closed December 14. Missing from the Summit exhibition will be four of Mrs. Ancker's small sculptures and four of Mr. Bergamo's paintings, which were purchased by private collectors. Both artists, however, will provide other works to supplant these. Mrs. Ancker, who is a resident of Berkeley Heights, has won acclaim both in the United States and Europe. Columbia is the only South American country which has on both the Pacific and Atlantic Oceans.

The virgin birth of Christ Jesus will be explained in this Sunday's Bible Lesson at all Christian Science churches. Readings from the Bible will include the angel's message to Mary: "The Holy Ghost shall come upon thee, and the power of the Highest shall overshadow thee: therefore also that Holy thing which shall be born of thee shall be called the Son of God" (Luke 1:35). From the Christian Science textbook, these lines will be read: "The illumination of Mary's spiritual sense put to silence material law and its order of generation, and brought forth her child by the revelation of Truth, demonstrating God as the Father of men" (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, p. 29). The Lesson-Sermon is entitled: "Is the Universe, Including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?"

Five Services to Mark Christmas At Boro Church

Five special services will mark the celebration of Christmas at Faith Lutheran Church, Murray Hill.

The services are spread out over a period of time beginning December 24 and closing on January 5. The pattern of services is in keeping with the traditional Christian celebration of Christmas from Christmas Eve through Epiphany. December 24 through January 6.

Two special musical presentations will open the Christmas Eve worship, scheduled for 11 p.m. on December 24. Beginning at 10:45 p.m., instrumentalists, vocalists and the organist will present a short Christmas Cantata, entitled "A Christmas Cantata" and written by Vincent Luebeck. The musical piece includes two violins, two soprano soloists and organ. Rev. and Mrs. Charles R. Anders of New Providence will play the violin sections while Mrs. Naomi Danielson of Berkeley Heights and Mrs. Mary Ellen Calvert of New Providence will sing the vocal duets. Rev. Eugene Harmony, organist and choirmaster at Faith Lutheran Church will play the organ. Also featured in the musical prelude to the service will be a "Ricercare on the Coventry Carol" played by Rev. and Mrs. Anders and Rev. Harmony.

The Offertory anthem: "Thou Must Leave Thy Lowly Dwelling" from The Childhood of Christ by Rector Berlioz. Mr. Swanson will also conduct services on Christmas morning at 10 a.m. He will preach on the topic: "A Christmas Vocabulary." Two choirs will lead the congregation in singing and will present special music. The Youth Choir, under the direction of Mrs. Amy Bechberger, will sing "On This Good Christmas Morn" by Noble Cain and the Carol Choir, under the direction of Mrs. Mary Ellen Calvert, will sing Luther's "All Praise to Thee, Eternal Lord" in a setting by Ludwig Lenel.

Cooking With Wine and High Spirits
BY REBECCA CARUBA

A PERFECT HOLIDAY GIFT!
Mrs. Caruba will be at KINGS to personally autograph your copy from 1 P.M. to 4 P.M. THIS FRIDAY
(784 SPRINGFIELD AVENUE ONLY) THREE DOLLARS PER COPY

Here is a cook book especially written for all who know that the addition of wines and spirits to the basic ingredients of a dish will lift it from the prosaic to the sublime, that tells how to achieve this metamorphosis. Besides the one hundred and fifty recipes, from aspic-foie gras to zabaglione, gleaned from many countries, easy for the novice to follow, and at the same time intriguing to the practiced cook, there are chapters that cover perfect planning and easy preparation of a truly epicurean meal, the art of flambéing, wine-making and the distilling of spirits . . . all designed to help the reader to create dishes that are lovely to look at and delightful to taste.

Rebecca Caruba, member of a score of gourmet and sommelier societies, lecturer, consultant, and recipient of many honors for her cooking and wine-tasting accomplishments, has taught wine-and-spirits cooking for the past sixteen years, including a course for men only.

Merchants Beam as Yule Trees Gleam on Streets

Summit's new downtown Christmas decorations have been winning the admiration and praise of many, including numerous out-of-town shoppers. The new decorations consist of more than 40 artificial and lighted trees placed on top of aluminum poles erected by Jersey Central Power & Light Co. The trees were purchased at a cost of $13,000, contributed entirely by local merchants and other members of the Summit Area Chamber of Commerce. The are guaranteed to last from 3 to 5 years. Some of the new trees are not lighted during the day since they are connected with electric service from a nearby store but more recent installations by Jersey Central feed power directly to the trees and these remain lighted 24 hours. The colorful, twinkling trees are the result of several years experimentation by merchants for a proper business section decoration which would be conservative and not garish. For many years Christmas decorations consisted of garlands of lights strung across the streets and greens entwined around street poles.

These were dropped a few years in favor of individual store decorations centered about a selected theme, such as an old-fashioned Christmas. While many stores participated in this approach and created outstanding attractive windows, the overall acceptance was unsatisfactory and the search for a better type decoration resumed. Early this summer a special committee headed by Hughes Ryder of the New Hampshire House restaurant, became interested in the present trees and one was installed as a sample and it finally was voted to purchase a sufficient number for this year's decorations. Based upon the reaction of shoppers and residents, the Chamber thinks "this is it" and that it has hit the jack pot in regards to street decorations.

Washington Cubs Hold Yule Meeting

At its last well-attended session before the holiday season, Pack 66 of Washington School, under the direction of Cubmaster Carl Hardy, celebrated the season by having each den place self-made ornaments on the school tree. In addition, Gregory Pecca and Chris Dagradi were awarded gold arrows, while Nick Borie and Gregory Pecca received silver arrows. Service stars were given to Nat Hughes, Nick Carter, Bill Nelson, David King, Richard Torkelson and Carl Hardy. Two Cubs, Nick Carter and Bill Nelson, advanced another step in cub scouting by earning bear badges. Plans were made to visit a destroyer-escort after the holidays as part of the Pack-66 program to encourage more field trips. After refreshments, the meeting was closed with the singing of Christmas carols in keeping with the holiday spirit.

Know Your Government

HOLD THOSE REINS. UNCLE SAM

While Santa Claus never seems to lose control of his reindeer on their world-girdling, gift-giving dash, the Federal Government should hold a tighter rein on the gyrations of its huge program of grants-in-aid to state and local governments.

Without the Christmas trimmings, this is the view expressed in a 215-page report on "The Federal System as Seen by State and Local Officials." Issued by Senator Muskie (D-Me.), chairman of the Subcommittee on Intergovernmental Relations of the U. S. Senate Committee on Government Operations, the report was based upon the subcommittee's analysis of 460 replies to a questionnaire dealing with intergovernmental problems.

Chairman Muskie reported that his subcommittee's study provided "massive evidence" that most State and local officials "with near unanimity" want Congress to tighten the reins on Federal grant-in-aid programs "which now disperse an estimated $10 billion annually." The report also indicates that a great majority of the respondents to the subcommittee's 27-item questionnaire urge the Congress to enact legislation to provide for:

- (1) regular Congressional review of all laws providing grants-in-aid to State and local governments.
- (2) periodic Congressional review of future Federal grant programs.
- (3) amendment of the Internal Revenue Code to provide for a credit against the Federal income tax for income taxes paid to the States.
- (4) Federal payment in lieu of taxes to local governments with respect to certain Federal property.
- (5) the dispensing of the post-audit of grants by individual Federal agencies and acceptance "under certain conditions" of the audit report by State authorities.
- (6) more effective utilization of certain Federal grants by encouraging better coordinated local review of grant applications.
- (7) uniform accounting and auditing procedures in the administration of grants-in-aid.

For New Jersey taxpayers, the recommendation that Uncle Sam bear down on the $10 billion annual Federal aid "give away" makes sense. For, according to annual estimates of the New Jersey Taxpayers Association, they are paying $1.80 in taxes for every $1.00 in grants-in-aid received in the state — and that doesn't sound like a gift — even at Christmas time.

How to Spot Holly Troubles

By the ESSEX COUNTY AGRICULTURAL EXTENSION SERVICE

If you're fortunate enough to have holly trees in your yard, you may be getting ready to cut at least the traditional sprig for Christmas.

When you go out to cut your holly you may find some imperfect leaves to set you worrying. But usually there are no serious diseases of holly in this area and only a couple of insect pests.

What may be mistaken for a disease symptom is usually only a "condition." Those brown spots with a purple halo, for example, are caused by puncture wounds of the sharp spines of old leaves, blown about by the wind.

Water or ice on a leaf while sunlight is intense can cause sealed, gray-brown spots developing into small black pimples. These molds and pimples were caused by the scald.

Gray or brown edges, especially on hollies near the shore, are caused by salt mist blown by high winds.

The black or brown "trails" you may find in holly leaves are the mines of the holly leaf miner. As a cure, spray your hollies in mid-May and repeat in ten days. Miners get into American, English and Chinese hollies. But not the smaller broad-leaved Japanese hollies.

Off-color leaves show that spider mites have been at work, sucking out the plant juices. For spider mites, use a dormant oil spray in late March or early April. Follow during the growing season with Kelthane or Aramite to wipe out any remaining mites.

The First Christmas

"And it came to pass in those days, that there went out a decree from Caesar Augustus, that all the world should be taxed.

(And this taxing was first made when Cyrenius was governor of Syria)

And all went to be taxed, every one into his own city.

And Joseph also went up from Galilee, out of the city of Nazareth, in Judea, unto the city of David, which is called Bethlehem, (because he was of the house and lineage of David).

To be taxed with Mary, his espoused wife, being great with child.

And so it was that, while they were there the days were accomplished that she should be delivered.

And she brought forth her first born son, and wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and laid him in a manger; because there was no room for them in the inn.

And there were in the same country shepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flock by night.

And, lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them; and they were sore afraid.

And the angel said unto them, Fear not; for behold I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people.

For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour which is Christ the Lord.

And this shall be a sign unto you; Ye shall find the babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger.

And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying:

Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will to men.

And it came to pass, as the angels were gone away from them into Heaven, the shepherds said one to another, Let us now go even unto Bethlehem and see this thing which is come to pass, which the Lord hath made known to us.

And they came with haste, and found Mary and Joseph, and the babe lying in a manger." (Luke, 11:1-6)

Another Form of Buck Passing

Few subjects in recent years have evoked such angry debate and such misunderstanding as the Master Plan, finally adopted after several revisions last week by the Planning Board.

Unnecessary rancor was aroused by the refusal of a small bloc, to understand that the Master Plan is, as it repeatedly said, only a plan—a guide, for the future development of the entire city, not just sections of the city. There appears to be a blind refusal on the part of the opposition to accept the fact that any implementation of any phase of the Master Plan requires public hearings by both the Zoning Board and Common Council. There simply is no risk of a "sneak" play being pulled off by any Council, present or future.

Those who are continuing the fight against the Master Plan are calling now for a citywide referendum in hopes that the so-far silent will give support in overriding last week's action of the Planning Board.

It is not necessarily true that the silence of the majority of residents regarding the Master Plan implies disapproval, as has been mentioned. The silence can just as well be construed as implied consent. The lack of protest by the majority of homeowners very often, in matters like this, signifies tacit approval.

But in regards to a referendum, we are adamantly opposed to this form of buck passing on any local issue, be it Master Plan or what. We elect officials to run the city and we elect them in confidence that they are equipped to do the job and to make decisions. We also respect the appointments to the various boards made by these elected officials and expect the appointees also to be qualified to make decisions.

If the decisions made by elected officials and their appointees are unpopular, or unsound, then the proper way to correct the situation is by electing other officials.

Gifts for Fat Purses

It would seem that there has been less super-luxury Christmas gift buying this year than during some seasons in the past. Whether this should be taken to mean Americans are more sensible now than in other Christmas seasons is a question. Perhaps the extravagance is less prevalent because the times are good for most but not booming. However that may be, there are always exceptions and this year there are, outlandish and costly gifts on the market, and finding some buyers.

For example, one Texas store is offering a pair of antique dueling pistols from France in a His and Her set for $1,000. And another store offers something more appropriate to the spirit of the season in the form of a stole made from throat hairs of an Ixobrychus for $695. The fiber is so fine the more than four feet of the stole will pass through a man's finger ring.

And one world famous jeweler offers a sterling silver shovel for $1,000 — just the thing for earth-breaking ceremonies. For more personal gifts there are vicuna sweater's costing $220 and timber wolf ski parkas at $341 and pastel mink vests for madame, $895. Strangely enough, the listings of ultra-expensive — and nutty — gifts neglect the children. True, youngsters usually do not have a great deal of money to spend. But the season brings particular joy to the child and the adult finds the greatest happiness in delighting the children. It would seem the retailers of extravagant gifts would cater to Dad and Uncle for the sake of making more sales.

Perhaps this absence of costly gifts for the young can be explained. Just about every parent has experienced the surprise and pleasure that comes with the discovery John or Mary hugs a toy costing very little, often taking it to bed at night, while bestowing only casual attention on a gift costing several times as much. The child is not thrilled by a price tag or obvious signs of luxury and expense. It is the supposedly mature person who glows brighter as the cost of the gift rises higher.

On that we all might be children at heart.

Idleness in the Jails Should Be Ended (Hartford Courant)

It didn't intend to do so, but by complaining about the use of jail labor for painting, the New Haven Labor Council unwittingly performed a public service. It did so by bringing into focus one of the worst problems that plague those who operate the jails: idleness. The proximate cause of the Labor Council's grievance was the use of jail inmates to paint state-owned buildings. They felt this was unfair competition.

But by expressing this selfish point of view they permitted Jail Administrator Harold E. Hagstrom to report to the Governor on the overall problem of idleness, which he said was one of the weaknesses of the whole jail system. Furthermore, he went on to say that jail inmates were used only on work for which there was no appropriation.

It is fair to ask the New Haven Labor Council if they are in favor of complete idleness for all persons committed to jail. If they are not, they should in fairness outline to the Jail Administrator just what kind of work these inmates should be doing. It is generally assumed in most penal institutions that inasmuch as jail or prison labor cannot be used on the open market, it can profitably be used in providing goods or services for other governmental agencies under a so-called states' use plan. But apparently even this broad restriction is not enough for the public-spirited fellows who run the Labor Council.

Now that the problem has been brought out in the open, Mr. Hagstrom should not content himself merely with getting absolution from the Labor Council. He should translate his generalities into a broad program of states-use work for jail inmates, so that they can be profitably employed while they are in jail. That is in the interest of the state, which now supports these men in idleness. Is there some other interest that is predominant. If so, let's have it.

Moral Value First

Editor, Summit Herald:

This is neither a post mortem nor a criticism. It is just a suggestion for the future. I am referring to the recent decision to grant the Hotel Suburban a bar license.

The settlement of the problem of the roadway entrance off Blackburn Road was much appreciated, also all the time and effort put into it.

But the main issue as I see it, should have been the moral and cultural values of Summit, even before material profit, "progress".

Real progress comes only when people put first what is really best for all.

We need to fight to make Summit the kind of a place which will help our children to learn to distinguish between right and wrong, and to give them the courage to stand up for what they think is right. Only then can we expect America to be free for our children and fit for world leadership.

LETTERS
Urges Dry Yule
 Editor, Summit Herald:

There are too many unhappy consequences from Christmas parties. May we, therefore, invite your readers to our advertisement on page 10 of last week's issue. It is applicable to all kinds of parties. As Christmas eve is the most dangerous night in the whole year, follow the advice of the National Safety Council on parties. "Cut it out or make it dry."

All too often the police symbol "HBD" ("had been drinking") has a deadly pertinence. It applies to more than half the fatalities which occur on the highways at this time of year. A "dry" party is a good insurance against such a calamity.

H. Walford Martin, president, Summit Assn. for Liquor Control

Thoughts at Christmas
 Editor, Summit Herald:

The Christmas season somehow sharpens the many aspects and varied manifestations of our town. What a source of satisfaction and hope it is to realize the sound thoughtfulness (to be found among many of our young people, I'm sure) that is exemplified by the letter of High School student, Kathryn Dorsey, in last week's Herald! What could possibly be a more fitting memorial to any great person than to "establish peace and unity with our immediate fellow-man?"

Summit's handsome and dignified Christmas decorations in our business area, which are truly mindful of Christmas, rather than a carnival, are so appropriate for this particular season which cannot be unmindful of our recent national tragedy.

But in a very different vein are such manifestations as the pernicious unsigned cards going out through our mails in typewriter-addressed plain envelopes from people, who can only be indifferent or ignorant of the deprivations and suffering in the world, who — with apparent fear in their hearts — will not give the power of love a chance.

City Marks Yule
 The first Christmas in its new church at 587 Springfield avenue will begin the Yuletide observance on Sunday with two services at 9:30 a.m. and 11 a.m. Both will include special Christmas music. At 7 p.m. on Sunday, the Church school will present its annual program, "Born in a Manger." There will be a Christmas Eve service at 7:30 p.m., and another at 11 p.m. The first service will be one of carols and Lessons, while the later one will be the traditional Christmas Eve service and a special program of music.

St. Teresa's Church will hold a pre-Mass program of music at 11:30 p.m. on Christmas Eve, followed by a Midnight Mass, which will also include special music.

Christmas programs held during the month included the annual party sponsored by CIBA for children of employees. The party was held this year on December 7 at the Strand theatre and included prizes and games.

Hall City Savings and Loan Association held its annual Christmas dinner-dance on December 10 at the Arch for its 14 staff members, while Summit Federal Savings and Loan held its party for 20 staff members last Friday night at Canoe Brook Country Club.

Approximately 450 people attended the Union County Trust Co. Christmas dinner-dance on December 7 at the Military Park Hotel, Newark. The group included directors, advisory board members, officers, employees, pensioners with each bringing a guest. John K. P. Stone, Jr., vice-president was master of ceremonies.

Summit Trust held its Christmas party this year on December 4 at the Chanticleer, Millburn, for 129 staff members. The dinner-dance also included entertainment.

Again, Bell Telephone Laboratories at Murray Hill distributed several thousand toys which employees donated to children's charities throughout New Jersey.

Kemper Insurance also held its traditional Christmas party for children of employees earlier in the month.

Overlook Hospital is also in the Christmas mood with service groups and organizations donating toys to children in the Members of the organization had requested that the CIBA buffer zone be extended to 200 feet. The original draft of the Master Plan had stipulated 50 feet.

It is expected that future plans of the group will include merging with the former West End Protective Association into a single organization.

Because of the adoption of the Master Plan, the Planning Board is now faced with the task of rewriting the city's zoning ordinance to conform with the provisions of the Plan and to eliminate cumbersome organization created by past amendments.

Thus, he explained, it is imperative that suitable space be provided to house and maintain these existing records, photos, and papers and that the "Settler's House" seemed to be ideal for this purpose for the immediate future.
Later, he said, as the Historical Society grows and can obtain more items, the city administration can be expected to cooperate in providing other space, not only for storage but for meetings and exhibits. He envisioned the "Settler's House" as becoming a permanent museum for residents, authentically restored and authentically furnished.
Mayor Truckess also said that the city forester had recently inspected the property and would clear out much of the heavy growth which occludes the house. The cottage is well-screened by shrubbery and hard to locate. Mayor Truckess said that in the spring when the types of shrubbery could be seen in bloom that a final decision would be made for landscaping a strip of the property approximately 100 x 50 feet along Oakley avenue as a setting for the cottage.

Listed on 1879 Tax Roll
In 1879 tax records show the house as a part of the T. McKergin estate and in a part of the Raymond before Oakley avenue was made a street. In 1900 the entire property now called "Dalkeith" was purchased by the Wilsons and following a fire of the original main house, which was much closer to Springfield avenue, the present home was built in 1902 and set back a considerable distance from Springfield avenue.
Until its acquisition by the city in 1956 the grounds were considered a show place and were extensively planted with rare shrubs, trees, and flowers, ponds and fountains and with footpaths annually covered with fresh pine needles and kept flat by a steam roller.

Beautiful Grounds
Every spring for many years Mr. Wilson opened the grounds to neighbors and friends to view the flower displays. Mr. Wilson, a prominent publisher, also held garden parties for the staffs of Popular Science and McCall's magazines, in which he held considerable interests. He would run a private train from Hoboken to Summit for the staff parties. Mr. Wilson died in 1954 at 84 years of age.
The name "Dalkeith" chosen for the property was also the name of Mrs. Wilson's ancestral home at Bridgetown, Barbadoes, B.W.I., where she was born.

You never sliced it so good! Ripe tomatoes, hot bread, overdone roasts are no problem to slice as thin as you want with a Robeson Flame Edge Knife. That's because:
One side of the cutting edge is tungsten carbide, the hardest metal known, detonated onto steel at 10 times the speed of sound, at a temperature of 6000 degrees. As the edge of steel wears away, more and more of the tungsten carbide's microscopic teeth are bared to keep the knife razor sharp.
Handles are black ShurWood with contoured grip, impervious to heat and acids. Knives individually packaged.

Visiting Nurses Arrange Blue Cross for Elderly

The Visiting Nurse Association of Summit, New Providence and Berkeley Heights has announced that it has entered into contractual arrangements with New Jersey's Blue Cross Plan to provide care for elderly persons enrolled under the Plan's "high option" senior citizen certificate. Blue Cross has contracted with established Visiting Nurse organizations in 16 counties. The contract provides payment by the Plan at a specified rate per visit by the nurse to the subscriber's home, on referral of the attending physician. Such services are available without prior admission to the hospital, if prescribed by the doctor. Provision of Visiting Nurse Service for holders of the special Senior citizen certificate is designed to provide for a type of care widely required by the over-65 population. It can be provided at a substantially lower cost than in general hospitals. By making possible earlier hospital discharges, Visiting Nurse care releases urgently needed hospital beds for the acutely ill, hospital beds for the acutely ill. Robert E. Heinlein, director of Overlook Hospital and Visiting Nurse Association board member commented: "This special arrangement for those who are enrolled under the Blue Cross senior citizen certificate is another step toward the best possible coverage of the community's health needs. It serves to release more hospital beds and thus distributes more widely vital medical care." Miss Adele Lynch, R.N. director of nursing service, Visiting Nurse Association, "Our patients' welfare is our first concern and service is given regardless of ability to pay. However, this Blue Cross feature could bring an easing of financial worry in many cases."

the Plan at a specified rate per visit by the nurse to the subscriber's home, on referral of the attending physician. Such services are available without prior admission to the hospital, if prescribed by the doctor. Provision of Visiting Nurse Service for holders of the special Senior citizen certificate is designed to provide for a type of care widely required by the over-65 population. It can be provided at a substantially lower cost than in general hospitals. By making possible earlier hospital discharges, Visiting Nurse care releases urgently needed hospital beds for the acutely ill, hospital beds for the acutely ill. Robert E. Heinlein, director of Overlook Hospital and Visiting Nurse Association board member commented: "This special arrangement for those who are enrolled under the Blue Cross senior citizen certificate is another step toward the best possible coverage of the community's health needs. It serves to release more hospital beds and thus distributes more widely vital medical care." Miss Adele Lynch, R.N. director of nursing service, Visiting Nurse Association, "Our patients' welfare is our first concern and service is given regardless of ability to pay. However, this Blue Cross feature could bring an easing of financial worry in many cases."

BIG CHANGE IN FORD!
 Fords have changed...changed big!
 Not a line here...a piece of chrome there...
 they're new clear through! Don't buy any '64 car until you test-drive the only cars that look, act and feel like 1964...
 the sweet, hot hardtops in the Ford line!
 Other cars talk changes, but Ford has really made 'em!

STYLING HAS CHANGED! While other '64s look like warmed-over '63s, Ford gives you a full line of cars that are really new. Want hardtops? There are four different Super Torque Ford hardtops alone (2-door and 4-door models have their own distinctive rooflines). And both Fairlane and Falcon offer a range of completely restyled hardtop V-8's. (The Falcon Futura V-8 Hardtop is the lowest-priced you can buy.)

FEATURES HAVE CHANGED! You can add a spectacular range of luxury and convenience features to the '64s from Ford. There's a twin-range 3-speed automatic shift (smoothest you've driven). Ford's exclusive Swing-Away steering wheel. Deep-foam bucket seats. Wonderfully convenient lights in ash tray, trunk, glove compartment and doors. Some of these luxuries are standard features on Super Torque Ford XL models. Even Falcon offers bucket seats and a fully synchronized 4-speed floor shift.

PERFORMANCE HAS CHANGED! The '64s from Ford were bred in open competition, built for total performance. Big, tough Super Torque Fords won every single 500-mile stock car race this year. Falcon's rugged "260" V-8 helped carry Ford Motor Company to the Manufacturer's World Rally Championship. The Fairlane's engine supplied the basic power that made Cobra the sports car winner of the year. These competition cars were modified for the special demands of the track, of course, but lessons learned from them have helped us build a new kind of toughness and agility into the Ford, Falcon or Fairlane you buy. The new cars from Ford hurry, handle, and hold up as cars have never done before.

DRIVE THE BIG CHANGE! You'll never understand what all the changes add up to... until you drive one of the '64s from Ford. Did you say "Show me?" How about today?

FIRST WITH THE LATEST—Ray Kerrigan, New Jersey Bell Telephone Co., left, installs touch-tone telephone at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold T. Graves, jr., 29 Whitredge road. Touch-tone service, which features push-button instead of dial telephones, made its New Jersey debut in the Summit-Chatham area this week. Graves is president of Summit Trust Co.

Many Sign Up For New Bell Touch Phones

Push-button telephoning made its debut in the Summit-Chatham area this week in homes and public locations served by the New Jersey Bell Telephone Co.

The first residence installation of touch-tone service — the telephone company name for the innovation — was at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold T. Graves, jr., 29 Whitredge road. New Jersey Bell also has installed 20 touch-tone sets in public telephone locations in Summit.

Touch-tone is available at a small additional monthly charge to customers in Summit, Berkeley Heights, New Providence, Chatham and Chatham Township who are now served by CRestview 3 (273) and 7 (277), MEmory 5 (635) and 464 central offices.

Mr. Graves, who is president of the Summit Trust Co., has three touch-tone telephones in his home — two princess sets and a wall set, all in color. Touch-tone public telephones have been installed at railroad stations in Summit and Chatham, at Overlook Hospital, and at a number of other locations in the area. Except for the dialing, there is no difference in the use of touch-tone and rotary dial coin telephones, New Jersey Bell said.

Touch-tone brings a new telephone sound to all New Jersey Bell customers in the area, whether they have the new push-button service or not. The dial tone is slightly different; it is lower in pitch.

This is the result of the modification at the Summit central office which was necessary for the installation of touch-tone equipment.

Telephone users also will notice a different sound when they use touch-tone instrument. It transmits the number in a series of tones similar to musical notes, call is placed.

Five area residents, one of them a minor, were admitted as new citizens at a naturalization court held Monday under County Judge Chester A. Weidenburner. The minor was Imre Halos, of 29 Parkview Terrace. He was one of a group of nine children granted citizenship.

Other new citizens are Adolph Giger of 26 Knollwood drive, Murray Hill; Hans E. Bello of 851 Springfield avenue, and Mary Mazza of 78 Park avenue, both of Summit, and Stanley A. Agnew of 199 Hickson drive, New Providence.

Yule Services At Borough Church Listed
Christmas Sunday Services will be held at the New Providence Presbyterian Church on Sunday at 9:30 and 11 a.m. The adult choir will sing two anthems "Glory to God in the Highest" by Pergolesi and "The Villagers of Chartres — A Noel" by LeBique. The choir is directed by Mrs. Helen S. Hays and the organist is Miss Mabel L. Howorth. Rev. Richard A. Bryan has chosen for the subject of his Christmas message "Joy to the World."

As in other years the Christmas Eve Candlelight Service will be on December 24 at 11:15 p.m. A medley of Christmas carols will be sung, including "Hark the Herald Angels Sing," "Away in a Manger," "The First Noel," and "Silent Night." The choir will sing the anthem "In Silence and Wonder." The Couples Club is planning an evening of caroling on Saturday, December 21. The group will leave the educational building at 8:15 and return to the home of the William Venema's, 1453 Springfield avenue, New Providence, for refreshments.

Borough AA Group Marks First Year

The Alcoholics Anonymous group meeting at the Presbyterian Church in New Providence will observe its first anniversary on Saturday. The regular meeting will be followed with a coffee hour from 8 to 9 p.m., and an open meeting from 9 to 10 p.m. Following the meeting a light buffet supper will be served in the Parish Hall, including the cutting of a cake with a single candle.

It was a year ago on the weekend before Christmas that the first open meeting was held by a nucleus of AA members at the Presbyterian Church. They recognized that the Saturday night before Christmas was a time of particular stress and temptation for those suffering from or inclined to alcoholism, and arrangements were made for the group to begin meeting in New Providence. It is the only open AA meeting on Saturday nights within a circumference of some 10 or 15 miles.

Anyone who is having difficulties with alcoholic beverages and wants to stop, is invited to come to a meeting on Saturdays at 8 p.m., at the church.

St. Teresa to Hold Christmas Eve Mass

St. Teresa's Church will have a program of Christmas carols beginning Christmas Eve at 11:30 p.m., followed by the traditional Midnight Mass.

The pre-Mass program and the Midnight Mass will include a special program of music offered by the senior choir under the direction of James R. Gilmartin, organist and choir director.

Popular Yule Customs Started With Saints

Decorating an evergreen tree. Carolling through the streets on Christmas Eve. Hanging stockings on the fireplace mantel. How did these and other old Christmas customs get started?

Christmas Tree Ideas
The Christmas tree dates back to the ninth century and Saint Winifred who was travelling around Northern Germany preaching Christianity. He came upon a group of people gathered around a huge oak tree to offer human sacrifice to their pagan gods.

According to legend, Saint Winifred hewed down the oak, and a tall fir appeared in its place. The miracle was hailed far and wide and from that day on, it became the custom for the German families to gather about a tall evergreen on Christmas Eve.

Martin Luther decorated the first tree in the 16th century. He placed candles on a small evergreen to symbolize the stars.

Italy Started Carolling
Carolling started in 13th century Italy. St. Francis of Assisi encouraged villages to display the nativity scene and act out the Christmas story in passion plays. Later carols were composed to go along with the plays and the custom of carolling through the streets got started.

One of the most beautiful customs involving carolling is still observed in Austria every Christmas Eve. Beginning with the family living the farthest from the village church, torch-bearing carollers form a procession through the village. At each house, the procession is joined by all the inhabitants. Eventually the entire village is part of the procession as it arrives at the church steps.

Children's Patron Saint
Saint Nicholas has been leaving gifts for good little boys and girls on Christmas Eve ever since the 4th century. The original St. Nicholas was a Turkish Bishop, noted for his works of charity, who became the patron saint of children.

Martin Luther later substituted the Christ Child or Christkindlein for St. Nicholas as the bearer of gifts in Germany. Later a German colony led by William Penn settled in Pennsylvania, and again Santa changed his name. The settlers had brought Christ kindlein with them, but somehow it got transformed into Kris Kringle.

The Dutch may have nicknamed St. Nicholas "Santa Claus" for short, but his image as a fat little man with rosy cheeks and white beard comes from the famous American poem "The Night Before Christmas."

During the 19th century, Santa recrossed the Atlantic from the United States and became known as "Father Christmas" in England and "Pere Noel" in France.

Dutch Hung Stockings
The Dutch are believed to have been the first to hang stockings on the fireplace mantel. One story says it started when St. Nicholas came upon a poor man who couldn't afford a dowry for his daughters. Noticing a stocking hung up near the fire to dry, Saint Nicholas slipped some gold pieces into it.

In some countries, Italy for example, the children put out their shoes instead of stockings.

Christmas Card Custom
One of the more modern Christmas customs is sending Christmas greetings each year. In a little over a century they first got started in England in 1843—this relatively new custom has become well established.

In that year, Sir Henry Cole commissioned an artist named John Horsley to design a Christmas "greeting" for him because he was "too busy to write to his friends at Christmas."

Since then, the sending of Christmas cards, has become almost universal, although in some countries, greetings are sent for the New Year, instead of Christmas.

The term "fine arts" is used for those arts, such as sculpture, painting and music, which are intended primarily to affect the emotions and to give an exalted kind of pleasure as distinguished from the "useful arts" which serve the physical needs.

Search for Salem

By John T. Cunningham

Salem would be its name; Salem, the old Hebrew word meaning peace.

John Fenwick bestowed the name in 1675 on the first Quaker Colony on the Delaware River, and in the bestowing expressed more prayer than expectation. Peace was not a usual word for John Fenwick, who always seemed bent on making certain that tranquility would never be his.

Fenwick followed Oliver Cromwell in England when the latter overthrew King Charles I; when Cromwell ordered Charles' execution in 1649, army Major John Fenwick witnessed the killing. Understandably, when the Stuarts returned in 1660 and put King Charles II on the throne, Fenwick "retired," lucky that his head and neck remained together.

The ex-major became a Quaker, only to be jailed and fined at least twice for his views. He longed for the "Salem" that must be somewhere, perhaps across the sea in America.

Thus, when Lord Berkeley offered to sell his half of New Jersey for 1,000 pounds (about $5,000) in 1674, Fenwick recognized opportunity. With London brewer Edward Byllynge as silent partner, Fenwick signed the papers making the purchase from Berkeley — and promptly began to plan his colony.

Byllynge and Fenwick quarreled bitterly and openly, causing William Penn to write that such dispute "fills the hearts of Friends with greife." Penn offered to serve as arbitrator, his first direct service in American colonization.

Penn ruled that Byllynge was entitled to nine-tenths and Fenwick to one-tenth of disputed West New Jersey, and when Fenwick protested vigorously, Penn advised him:

"I entreat thee, fall closely to thy business. . . make the best of what thou hast; thy grandchildren may be in the other world before what land thou has allotted will be employed."

Fenwick fell "closely to his business" and advertised liberal terms for those who would settle in his colony. More than 100 English men, women and children climbed aboard the ship Griffin in July, 1675, and sailed with him for Salem, New Jersey.

Salem, Peace: the word became a mockery for Fenwick.

Quakers in England fumed because he had sailed away to colonize in apparent disregard of their more orderly plan. His followers disputed his land allotments in Salem. Governor Andros in New York challenged Fenwick's right to govern. Creditors hounded him constantly.

Andros twice sent troops to Salem to carry a struggling and fuming Fenwick aboard ship for trials in New York. Fenwick languished in New York jails for periods totalling more than two years between 1677 and 1680, all the while trying vainly to straighten out his tangled life.

Fenwick stood ever near the edge of ruin; for his shaky financial situation made him subject to threats and litigation. Nearly everyone, including William Penn, showed either disaffection or open enmity for him.

There were some causes, nevertheless, for Fenwick to advise potential colonists that "if there be any Terrestrial Canaan, 'tis surely here; where the land floweth with milk and honey."

For one thing, his three daughters came with him aboard the Griffin. Among them they had many grandchildren to brighten the days of the aging warrior. He built a substantial home at Ivey Point on Salem Creek and enjoyed his family between battles with creditors and political foes.

Mrs. Mary Fenwick remained in England and never saw her husband after the Griffin sailed. She constantly sent him little gifts — a parcel of nails, a pair of spectacles, paper and wax or a pot of balsam — to ease his life in the New World.

News of husband John's rashness and pretensions in Salem distressed Mrs. Fenwick. She tried to take up his case with influential Londoners but failed, and she warned him never to return to England lest debtors prison be his lot. Once she wrote him advice which she must have known he couldn't heed: ". . . consider that the time thou or I or any one in this life is short — that we ought to seek peace and to sue it, and to bear injury patiently and to deny ourselves."

Fenwick eventually came to terms with William Penn and asked his "much esteemed friend" to be an executor for his estate and a guardian for several of his grandchildren.

Death came to stormy John Fenwick in December, 1683, in his 64th year, but his fighting spirit lived on in his will. He spelled out tormentors by name and condemned them for the "blasting of my good-name and taking away all my credit, by all which I and my poor children and planters have been damned many thousand pounds, and this is the truth."

John Fenwick needs no marker of stone and bronze. Salem County is his legacy; in this quiet New Jersey Quaker stronghold the word "Salem" truly means peace.

FENWICK HOUSE — Primitive painting shows John Fenwick house at "Ivey Point" in Salem at foot of Market Street. Erected in about 1678, the house stood until about 1830.

Indoor Yule Tree Drinks Quart a Day
 An average size Christmas tree, 5 to 7 feet tall, will absorb a quart or more of water a day in a heated room. That is why a tree needs water added every day to the container in which it stands. Water keeps the tree fresh, reduces needle drop and makes it less a fire hazard.
 In 20 seconds a dried out tree, if ignited, can become charred wood. As you add water, check the needles for dryness. If needles turn brown around Christmas lights, then a fire hazard is very real.
 Lights should be strung on a tree with care. No more than 80 bulbs should be used on a single indoor tree. Check decorations before they are put on a tree. Make certain they are fire proof. Discard those with faulty sockets and frayed ends. Use only appliances carrying an official stamp of approval.
 Keep away from the base of the tree fluffy cotton and wrapping paper from gifts. Before you go to bed at night or leave the house, disconnect the tree lights.
 A Christmas tree, big or little, is a symbol of the Christmas spirit. With a little care it need not be a fire hazard.
 Live Christmas trees are popular husband-wife gifts in the suburbs. They can be used as indoor trees at Christmas time too.
 Live yew, fir, pine, and spruce purchased at a reliable nursery, come in burlap and are often boxed. First, decide on the variety and where it is to be planted for permanence. Then bring the tree indoors at the last minute before Christmas. Give it extra care and ample moisture. The hole in which it is to be planted, should be dug during Christmas week.
 When planting the tree, leave the burlap on. Fill the hole with rich loam and water the tree well. Finally add a mulch of peatmoss, straw or hay.
 Evergreen branches used in wreaths or other Christmas decorations may be spread beneath the tree to prevent deep freezing during the remainder of the winter.

Scouts Spend Chilly Night In Great Swamp

Winter camping was experienced last weekend by ten Summit boys who spent Saturday night in the Great Swamp on a scout training exercise. Despite frigid temperatures and snow all members report in good condition upon their return on Sunday afternoon. This 24-hour operation, now an annual event in the Troop 262 program, is a test for cold weather camping and survival skills.

Each boy is responsible for packing his own gear for the two mile hike into the interior and meals are prepared in the field. Although sleeping in tents, a camp site was prepared to offer protection for the worse kind of weather.

Members of the troop committee under Lawson Langenheim provided transportation to the departure point and returned Sunday to meet the campers when they emerged from the thicket. Scoutmaster Jim Kellers accompanied the boys on the trip. Included in the exercise were Patrol leader Jim Van Natta, Douglas Clark, David Faitoute, Gordon Sproule, Nicholas Prout, David Wilson, Douglas Brown, James Hall, William Servey, and David Schulhoff.

Named to Committee Henry F. Glowka, president, Summit Federal Savings and Loan Association, has been named to a special branch laws committee of the New Jersey Savings and Loan League; it was announced this week by Victor Neumark, board chairman of the state trade organization.

The play "Mr. Scrooge Finds Christmas," adapted from "A Christmas Carol" by Dickens will be introduced by Dana Robinson. The cast includes Doug Poole, Kathy Mues, Barbara Stafford, Betsy Pirtle, Tom Cicalese, Bill Barton, Jamie McCarten, Tom Olcott, Steven Riggs, Kathy Hathaway, Bob Jobe, Robert Minshall, Diane Batlas, Bonnie Ferrara, Sally Brillhart, Cheryl Smith, Ray Robinson, Reed Boyd, Jim De-Feo, and carolers, Laura Brown, Leslie Culbertson, Perry Condit, Russell Warner, Rich Whitney, Tom O'Brien, Stanley Traas.

The sixth grade chorus will sing carols from around the world with all singing "Silent Night" at the close of the program. Mrs. Sue Hannaford and Miss Sheila Keefe first grades presented "Christmas in Mother Goose Land" yesterday. At the conclusion of the program the fifth grade choir sang Christmas carols for the audience.

'Rainy Day Loans' New Summit Federal Service

Summit Federal Savings and Loan Association is offering its customers a new service - "rainy day loans." Customers who are caught downtown in sudden rain, or sleet may stop in at Summit Federal and pick up at no cost a rainy day umbrella loan. All that is asked is that the borrowed umbrella be returned at the convenience of the borrower. Umbrellas are available in the lobbies of both the Summit and Berkeley Heights offices of Summit Federal and are in colors for women borrowers and in the traditional black for men. The new service is now in effect.

Wiper Arms

In winter weather driving it is the sudden skid and inability to see out of windshields plastered with snow and road-muck that often maims or kills the unprepared driver and his passengers.

This is the statement of one of the top authorities on winter driving hazards of the National Safety Council Traffic Conference, Prof. A. H. Easton, chairman of the Council's Committee on Winter Driving Hazards and director of the Motor Vehicle Research Laboratory, University of Wisconsin.

"Tests conducted each year by our committee have given us considerable knowledge about winter weather driving," Prof. Easton said. "It is my belief that many motorists have accidents simply because they neglect equipment."

The Committee on Winter Driving Hazards is made up of automotive engineers from Detroit, test drivers, government officials and university researchers.

"Our committee works in temperatures ranging down to 30 degrees below zero on frozen lakes and fields and snow packed roadways to come up with answers that may save lives," the traffic safety specialist said.

Here are some of Prof. Easton's suggestions for safe operation in snow, ice, freezing weather and fog.

"Drivers must be able to see and be seen. Early hours of darkness make it imperative that lighting systems are perfect, with both upper and lower beams properly aimed," he said.

"Keeping lights clean is often overlooked by motorists. Keep a cloth handy to wipe off road grime, and a brush to remove snow," Prof. Easton urged.

He maintains that failure to keep windshield wipers in top condition causes thousands of winter crashes.

"Drivers neglect their blades and when they hit snow or rain they drive almost blind, he said. "It is foolish to put lives and a vehicle costing several thousand dollars in jeopardy by neglecting maintenance of wiper arms and blades," Prof. Easton said.

"Wiper blade rubber must be checked frequently because summer sun bakes the rubber and causes it to harden. The arm pressure must be firm to avoid streaking. Manufacturers recommend an ounce of pressure for each inch of blade length for efficiency in clearing off rain, snow, sleet and road-muck," the educator explained.

"Equally important, our tests at Clintonville, Wis., and in Michigan have proved that in severe conditions, reinforced tire chains are needed," Prof. Easton said.

"Snow tires give you half again as much pulling power in snow as regular tires, but when conditions are bad, chains give up to five times as much traction," he said.

Prof. Easton urges every driver to keep a set of reinforced tire chains in the trunk for emergency conditions.

He warned motorists to be on guard when the temperature is just above freezing.

"Wet ice at 30 degrees is twice as slippery as ice at zero temperature. The 'polishing' by heavy traffic also makes ice more slippery," he said.

Follow Advice Of the Experts

All drivers can go on winter ice and snow in safety if they will follow the advice of the experts, declares Richard O. Bennett, secretary-treasurer of the Insurance for Highway Safety.

"It is tragic to see drivers get killed or injured — it's bad enough to see them stalled — on ice or snow-packed streets and highways because they don't know the basic rules of safe winter driving," Mr. Bennett said.

"These ground rules for getting places safely in winter weather have been developed by the National Safety Council's Committee on Winter Driving Hazards," Mr. Bennett explained. "The rules are observed carefully by all highly skilled commercial drivers and were developed after years of testing by automotive engineers, test drivers, tire and chain experts, government officials, and others who have met each year to conduct tests of all kinds of vehicles and equipment."

The national authority on traffic safety explained that the ten commandments of safe winter driving have been widely publicized by the National Safety Council and almost all safety organizations.

Mr. Bennett sums up the committee's ten basic rules this way:

1. Install anti-freeze after cooling system is flushed out and checked for leaks.
 2. Have good tires. See that tires have good treads, whether snow tires or regular. Front wheels also need good treads for "cornering."
 3. Always carry reinforced tire chains. Insure your ability to "GO" on ice or in deep snow with reinforced tire chains. They are far superior for severe conditions such as deep snow and slippery hills.
 4. Be sure wipers work. Be sure windshield wiper blades are in good condition and with arm pressure of at least an ounce for each inch of blade.
 5. Use your defroster. Keep windshield clear of ice and interior fogging.
 6. Make sure all lights work. Headlights, stop lights, tail lights and directional signals should be tested frequently.
 7. Be sure you can start. Have engine tuned up for sure starting in cold weather and have spark plugs and distributor points checked.
 8. Be sure you can stop. Have brakes adjusted frequently, linings checked and free from grease.
 9. Check battery frequently for proper charge and make sure it is always full of fluid.
 10. Have exhaust system in order. Muffler and tail pipe should be checked frequently to avoid leakage of exhaust gases into car when windows are closed.
- "There are six principal hazards of winter driving," Mr. Bennett declared. The two that cause the most trouble are reduced visibility and inadequate traction.
- The other four he listed are (1) fluctuations of temperature, (2) reduced ability to steer and stop, (3) unexpected icy conditions, and (4) ice and snow made slippery by rising temperature.

What is Yule Spirit?

We find that the season of Santa Claus and colored electric lights has once more descended upon our town. Red and green cheerfully adorn every shop, and king-size signs warn that there are only five more shopping days till Christmas.

Perhaps this is commercialism, but there is a magic in it too. Try to put your finger on it; you can't—but it's there. Maybe it's the smile on everyone's face that betrays it, or perhaps it's that sincere Christmas greeting from a friend.

Does it matter what form the holiday spirit takes? The important thing is that it is there, and in spite of the commercialism we are better people because of it.

We wish you all the joy of the holiday season and a wonderful new year.

We are indebted to Sue McKinley, the art department, and the drafting department for their help in the creation of our new masthead.

Greetings of Christmas Come in Many Languages

Joyeux Noel! Frohliche Weihnachten! Ferias Laetas! Feliz Navidad!

The United Nations? No, merely the greetings exchanged by the members of Summit High's four language clubs at their annual joint Christmas party, held yesterday in the high school cafeteria. Each of the clubs, French, German, Latin, and Spanish, provided some type of entertainment which showed Christmas customs in the land of their second language.

Entre Nous, the French club directed by president Kathy Guenther and faculty advisor Mrs. Maarta Wilson, translated "The Littlest Angel" and performed it in French with an English narration. Karl Thomson played the part of the littlest angel who offers his gift, a box of white pebbles, a dog collar and other objects precious to a child, Christmas Day.

Der Deutsche Verein, under the direction of advisor Mrs. Ester Wick, presented its own version of "Hansel and Gretel" in German. The skit ended with the club singing "Rudolf mit rotem Naschem" (Rudolf the Reed-Nosed Reindeer).

June Garguilo displays high school cooking facilities

Cooking Aromas Whet Appetites At Senior High

Every day through the corridors of Summit High School, one can smell the scrumptious aromas wafting through the air from the cooking room.

Tastefully decorated in pink and beige, the spacious food lab is divided into four kitchens, each with its own dinette set, oven, sink, and plenty of storage space. The school is very fortunate to have a gas wall-oven and electric ranges plus two huge refrigerator-freezers. Only two of the kitchens have electric dishwashers! So—mother take note—the girls have an opportunity to learn the art of hand dishwashing!

The aprons, towels, and table linens are kept clean and fresh, thanks to a built-in laundry center. Each girl, however, has her share of the ironing to do.

Separating the cooking room from the sewing room is an artistically furnished family-living area, painted in turquoise hues. It contains a matching kitchenette, a dining room table and chairs, a hutch cabinet, and Danish modern living room furniture. This cozy little space can be conveniently closed-off from the working areas by folding partitions.

Outside of the foods room is a display case shared with the clothing classes.

One of the featured displays this year exhibited was a disaster project including all the essentials needed for survival, if nuclear fallout should occur.

This year a textbook is being used to establish a regular course of study based on the "food fitness" program. Careful attention is also given the nutritive values of foods and their place in the daily diet.

A more vivid picture is provided by various films, many of which are furnished by Betty Crocker Testing Kitchen.

Much helpful information is also gained from lectures presented by representatives from local appliance companies.

School Chorus To Give Yule Program Tonight

What has 130 legs and sings like a bird? The Summit High chorus, of course!

Directed by Mr. Daniel Kautzman, chairman of the school's music department, the popular group is kept busy singing throughout the community. Tonight at 8:15 in the senior high school auditorium parents and guests will again have a chance to hear them render a selection of Christmas and seasonal music. Tomorrow they will perform before the entire high school student body. The Hotel Suburban and the Short Hills Mall will be the site of other song fests before the holidays.

The high school chorus, which provides the backbone of the G.O. Show chorus in February, consists of about sixty-five students who rehearse two or three periods a week and many times in the morning before classes begin.

The highlight of the year for the chorus is the Spring Concert in which they perform several numbers. This year the concert will be held on May 8, and already chorus members are beginning to look forward to that date.

Which Hockey Team at Senior High Ranks Tops?

Which team—sophomore, junior, or senior—plays the best field hockey? Unfortunately the answer to this question was never learned.

On Wednesday, November 20, the girls' hockey season came to a close with games between the three classes, but all the games ended on 0-0 ties. Miss Kirk, one of the girls' gym teachers, remarked, "The girls played some of the best hockey I've seen in a long time."

Now volleyball season is well under way. Each class is divided into four teams which will participate in a round-robin tournament until January.

After-school volleyball tournaments are also being conducted. Interested students have

Summit High Course Has Rigid Approach to Life

Can a student be fired? In Summit High's secretarial practice course she can.

As part of its plan designed to prepare students for business employment after graduation, Summit High has instituted a program which has all the characteristics of a modern office. The typing desks are arranged as you might expect to find them in a Wall Street business center, and the instructor's desk (called the manager station) corresponds to the office manager's desk.

Each girl has three "bosses" (actually teachers) for whom she is expected to type and duplicate tests, notes, and anything else the teachers may need. Graded stiffly on this work, the girl can be "fired" if she performs in an unsatisfactory manner.

The instructor also issues assignments in weekly blocks which may call for the use of any one of a number of modern office machines found in the classroom. These include various types of calculation, card punch machines and duplicators which are recommended by alumni currently working in business establishments in the area.

Only well qualified students can participate in the secretarial practice course, and they must be recommended by both their guidance counselors and business teachers. Often these students choose to take college preparatory English and foreign languages in addition to their business courses. These additional studies often spell success in the field Summit High graduates enter.

Service Group Serves All

Chartered by the General Organization of Summit High School, the Service Committee is devoted exclusively to serving both the high school and the community. The organization which is composed of twenty-five seniors and fifteen juniors, is charged with the responsibility of providing aid wherever it is needed or requested.

This year's officers are Chairman Dick Miller, Vice-Chairman Bob Surdi, and Secretary Wendy Olinger. The group is advised by Mr. William Lukens of the school's science and guidance departments.

The principal function of the Service Committee is to seat the student body in the auditorium for the weekly assemblies. Each member of the organization is assigned a homeroom which he guides to a preassigned spot in the hall. Largely because of the efforts of this committee and

Two of the community functions which the Service Committee aids are the Overlook Follies and the Athenaeum series. In each case the committee's work consists primarily of ushering and related services.

Debating Team Ranks High

Besides fielding Suburban Conference winning teams in football, basketball, and tennis last year, Summit High is also boasting of the enviable record of its debating team.

In Suburban Conference competition the Summit High School Interscholastic Debating Team boasted a record of six wins and one loss, which came at the hands of Madison and was later avenged.

The debating club has risen from a position of almost non-existence three years ago to one of prominence and success under the leadership of Dick Miller and Paul Van de Water, each president for a year. The membership of twenty-five is more than double that of two years ago, and the number of scheduled interscholastic debates this year is twice last year's total.

The highlight of the debating season is the club's annual assembly in which they present an interscholastic debate before the entire student body, a great test of poise as well as debating skill and knowledge. These contests, which Summit has won for the past two years, never fail to evoke great interest among the student body in both the topic and the style of debate.

The topics have ranged from civil rights legislation and free trade, to military aid to South Vietnam and the constitutionality of Bible reading in public schools.

Before the debating club opens its interscholastic season, new members are given a chance to show their skill and gain valuable experience in a series of intrasquad debates. Following these they are usually teamed with more experienced debaters for the opening of the interscholastic season.

Thus far this year Summit has defeated teams from Millburn and Berkeley Heights in its first two debates and has three more contests scheduled for the near future with Verona, Madison, and Delbarton High School.

Plans are being made now for a Suburban Conference Debating Tournament to be held sometime in the spring, and for the Metropolitan Area Debate Tournament sponsored by the New York University Speech Department. Last year the Summit squad received its first invitation to the tournament and it managed to win two of the six debates. This year the veteran debaters are waiting to improve their standing.

Interesting Art Course Available To All Students

Whether he is a serious art student or a person who enjoys expressing himself creatively, there is an interesting and suitable art course awaiting each student at Summit High.

The art classes are planned with the individual's interests in mind. Classes including painting and design, ceramics, commercial design, graphic arts, and interior design all introduce the student to possible career opportunities as well as acquaint him with the various fields of the visual arts. Courses run for one semester at the end of which time the student may continue in that course or select a new one.

To supplement these courses, the Art Club has become a basic part of the school art program. The club under the direction of faculty advisor Arthur DeBrito, meets once a month and arranges for various speakers and trips to bring the world of art even closer to the student.

Already this year the club has visited an international art exhibit in Springfield and has heard a stimulating lecture on Japanese art. Future plans include visits to museums in New York, Philadelphia, and an art show in Montclair. The club, largest in the school, also hopes to obtain speakers in the various fields of art—fashion design, architecture, magazine advertising and floral arrangement.

This year all members of the Art Club are handing in original drawings at each of the club meetings. Sue McKinley, the club's president, says this "has led to increased interest among the members and has produced some very fine art work."

It is not impolite to whisper

if you are asking for a NEW ELECTRIC DISHWASHER

In fact, a good loud hint is in order if you can eliminate the thankless, tedious drudgery that is dishwashing.

Tell Santa Claus how you spend close to three weeks every year with your hands in the dishpan. Convince him that you need an automatic dishwasher to get dishes cleaner, remove hidden bacteria, make them sparkle without water-spotting. Remind him how your husband used to help with the dishes when you were first married and how it is about time to reaffirm his affection with a new electric dishwasher.

Garrison Sparkles As Pioneers Lose

By Roger Smith
New Providence — Despite a tremendous 26-point performance by Ted Garrison, the New Providence High Pioneers lost their opening basketball game to the Piscataway High Chiefs by a 58-47 score in a contest played at Piscataway.

The 26 points marked a career high for Garrison, a senior whose best previous effort was a 22-point outburst against Ridge last season. Talented Ted connected on 10 of 24 field goal attempts, but sank only six of 14 foul shots, far off his usual form. Had he been perfect from the foul line, Ted could have broken the school record for most points in a single game — 36 by Bill Healey in 1958.

Unfortunately, Garrison received little assistance from his teammates. Larry Rovelstad contributed 10 markers and Bob McDonald, in addition to his good rebounding, finished with nine. In general, however, the Pioneers lacked their customary uniform rebounding strength and were way off form in shooting.

A heavy blow to the team was the absence of two top flight players and the sub-par play of a third. Missing from the New Providence lineup were Steve Lieder, a senior with a fine outside shot, and Rick Severson, a slick ball handler.
Lieder is out indefinitely with an injured knee, while Severson is lost for two weeks due to ineligibility. Furthermore, Rick Badgley, the backcourt veteran, can see only limited action while he recuperates from a siege of mononucleosis. Gary Rice and Bill Royland, who filled out the starting berths, seemed to have trouble getting 'loose' in their first varsity starting assignments.

Piscataway relied mainly on the 1-2 punch of Jay Donovan and Don Marsh, two of Central New Jersey's top players. Donovan notched 20 points while Marsh tallied 24, including an amazing 12 of 12 from the foul line.
At the end of the first quarter the Chiefs led in the game, 13-11, but the Pioneers scored seven straight points to open the second period and built an 18-13 lead. Baskets by Ted Garrison, Rovelstad and McDonald highlighted the rally. Moreover, foul trouble forced Rovelstad to the bench and Piscataway roared back to go ahead 27-22 at half time.
Garrison's free throw after 46 seconds of the third period brought the Green and White within two points, 27-25, but Marsh and Donovan collaborated to keep Piscataway a safe margin in front. The New Providence press in the final period worked to the Pioneer's disadvantage as five players ran into foul trouble. Finally, with the score 50-45, Piscataway ran off eight straight points to clinch the game.
Despite losing his first season opener in six years, Coach Ed Lieder felt that the defeat would encourage his boys to work harder and jell into a team in this week's two home games against Clark Regional on Tuesday and Highland Park tomorrow.

Summit Swimmers Dunk Two 'Y' Rivals

Summit — The Summit YMCA Girls Swim Team has added two more decisive victories in the State YMCA Girls League, dunking Princeton and Morris-town.
The victories gave Summit a 4-0 league record this season and extended their unbeaten dual meet record to 64 meets over a five-year period.
Summit won 18 of 19 events against Princeton and swept all four relays in winning 161-46. Summit winners were: 8 years and under, Debbie Renz, 9-10, Pam Cash, Melissa Boone and Sue Schmidt; 11-12, Dot Mich, Sally Guthrie, Tex Gaeskel and Sue Kerl; 13-14, Carol DeGoff, Kathy Rohrey, Sue Parker and Lynn Sabo, and 15-17, Ginny Duenkel, Sue Pitt and Cheryl West.

A different Summit team captured 16 of 19 individual events and all four relays in downing Morristown, 161-46. Summit winners were: 9-10, Ginger Duffy, Donna Toth and Ruth Dudley; 11-12, Diane Toth and Marcie Sharzberg; 13-14, Joanne Greim, Jane and Joan Hackett, Nancy Oathout and Marilyn Wakey, and 15-17, Sally Current, Mimi Hayes and Karen Minev.
The next YMCA League meet for Summit will be against Ridgewood on December 28 at the Summit pool. Summit edged Ridgewood, 104-102, in the season-opening meet at Ridgewood.

Sulfur Springs Extends Lead

New Providence — Sulfur Springs boosted its lead to three full games in the New Providence Men's Bowling League by sweeping the American Legion while second-place Martinizing Cleaners was bowling twice to Northeast Leasing.
Sulfur Springs leads by three games, while Martinizing dropped into a tie with Jensen's Jewelers, which won twice from Erigman's Hardware.
In other matches, the Spoilers and Five Aces scored sweeps over M. & M. Liquors and Public Service, respectively.
Jensen's had the high game, 903, while Martinizing rolled the top series, 2,478. Gene Mulvihill's 223 was the high game, while Ed Hanlon had the best series, 594, with games of 208 and 213.
Other high scores: Ed Shephamie, 220, 203; Monahan, 217; Herb Strung, 209, and Bob Allen, 200.

Johnson Rolls 212 at Heights

Berkeley Heights — Ed Johnson's turkey-winning effort, a 212, helped Mountain Cleaners win three points from Crestview Agency in the Berkeley Heights Business Men's Bowling League.
In the other matches, Mar Jul and Guidetti Plumbing and Healing split their match. Rural TV won three points from Delia's Liquors; Modern Polishing and Plating won three from O'Connor's Market, and Karlton Realty Co. three from the Heights Barbers.
High scores were: Anton Delia, 211, 537; Henry Calais, 210; Kurt Jacobsen, 206, 542; Frank Corbo 200, and B. G. Colton 200.

Highlander Cagers Face Rugged Tests

Berkeley Heights — Beaten 45-44 in overtime by Summit High in their season opener last week, Governor Livingston Regional High's cagers will be hard-pressed to rebound from that heartbreaking loss in two contests this week.
Coach Don Wodock's basketballers played host to Piscataway High last Tuesday afternoon and tomorrow night will invade Warren Township for a clash with Watchung Hills Regional High.
Piscataway, the Central Jersey Group 2 champion last season, apparently has another powerful squad. The chiefs opened up with a decisive victory over strong New Providence last week, with Don Marsh and Jay Donovan combining for 44 points.
Piscataway piled up a 24-7 edge in fouls in whipping New Providence and that could be bad news for the Highlanders.

Fouls proved costly to Governor Livingston against Summit, with three starters fouling out and Summit piling up its winning edge on successful free throws.
Watchung Hills also was impressive in its season opener, nipping Bound Brook in overtime. Dave Baker heads the defense-minded Warriors who have engaged in some ding-dong battles with the Highlanders in past seasons.
The loss to Summit was a shocker for Wodock and his Highlanders. Exhibiting a tight defense, Governor Livingston rolled up a seemingly commanding 31-21 edge in the first three periods. Summit, however, came to life in the final period and it took John Adamiak's two fouls in the final seconds to save the Highlanders from defeat in regulation time.
Given a lease on life, Governor Livingston led through most of the overtime period. Jim Royer won the game for Summit in the final seven seconds, tapping in a rebound of a missed foul shot.
The Highlanders will have a chance for revenge on December 27 when Summit invades the Governor Livingston gym for a return match.

Burger's 258 Season Record in Summit

Summit — On a night when many of the bowlers in the Summit Recreation League were being plagued with splits, three pinners came up with personal season-high "honor roll" series.
Rudy Burger came up with a league high game of 258 in rolling a 633 series, while Roger Sterrett had 233 and 201 games in a 626 series and John Vohnoutka had games of 221 and 205 in scoring a 625 series.
Larry's cut West Penn Oil's league lead to 3½ games when they took two games from Werner's, winning the final game on some fine clutch bowling by anchorman Al Gast, who finished with six strikes for a 228 game and 586 three game total. Sedgie Phillippi, with 543, was high for Werner's.

Fletcher's, despite Sterrett's 626 series which was offset by Vohnoutka's 625. For Merchant's, Joe Kawan had 206-563 and Mert Merchant 232-556, while Art Brattloff had 206-546 for Fletcher's.
Al Gast still maintains first place in the individual averages with 187.18, with Rudy Burger climbing from 7th to 2nd place with 185.9. Kawan is third with 184.41 and Phillippi fourth with 184.2.

Oratory Cagers Win In Double Overtime

Summit — Oratory School's 11-game losing streak in basketball became only an unpleasant memory for Coach Tom Cicalese's cagers last week when the Rams opened their season with a 32-47 upset of St. James High of Newark in the Oratory gym.
Oratory's triumph took on added significance when St. James rebounded from that loss to trounce a well-regarded Holy Trinity High of Westfield team.
The end of the Rams' long losing streak wasn't achieved easily. Cicalese's quintet had to battle through two overtime periods before downing the Newark team.
Taking advantage of numerous foul-shot opportunities, St. James ran up a 29-22 edge at halftime. Oratory battled back, outscoring the Newark cagers 21-14 in the final two quarters to send the game into overtime.

The teams struggled through a 2-2 deadlock in the first overtime, before Hal "Chip" Hawkins came off the bench to be the hero. The 6-0 reserve tossed in five points in the second overtime as Oratory rolled up a decisive 7-2 edge.
Oratory had a decisive 19-10 edge in field goals, but St. James had a 27-14 margin at Mehlen, a 6-1 senior who played the foul line. Newcomer Tom for St. Peter's of Jersey City last season, paced Oratory with 12 points. The Rams used 11 players, with 10 breaking into the scoring column.

Top Teams Post Wins

Berkeley Heights — Summit Radio & T.V. and Amiano Brothers scored sweeps in the Berkeley Recreation Men's Bowling League and both gained ground on Domko's Gulf in the three-way battle for the league lead.
Summit Radio & T.V. leads Amiano by 1½ games, with Domko's 2½ games out of the lead. The leaders blanked Berkeley Recreation, while Amiano blanked Melni Bus. Domko's won twice from Stratton Realty.
Nijon took 2½ games from Berkeley Meat Market, while K. & K. Trophy blanked Harquail Brothers. Nijon's 945 was high game, while Summit Radio & T.V. rolled a 2,676 series.
Bob Harney had a 232 game but had to share scoring honors with Andy Belusko and Fred Kroeter who posted "honor roll" series. Andy had a 618, including games of 221 and 206, while Fred rolled 607, with games of 213 and 210.

Summit High Cagers Win in Overtime

By Jim Ellowitz
Summit — It did not take the 1963-1964 basketball season long to reach a peak of tension and excitement as the Hilltoppers of Summit High went into an overtime period to defeat the Berkeley Heights Highlanders, 45-44, in the season opener.

The come-from-behind victory was the first time in four games that the Maroon and White had defeated the Highlanders.

For such an exciting game, the first quarter was rather dull. Both teams were very nervous for their opener and neither team was shooting well. At the conclusion, the Highlanders held a 9-3 edge.

The second quarter was played very evenly by both teams. Sid Rhines scored the last five of the Hilltoppers' nine points. He played a tremendous game, not only with his shooting at this point of the game, but also with his great rebounding and defense.

Although he is only six feet tall, Sid uses his high jumping ability to pull in rebounds (fourteen last Friday) and play speculatively on defense.

The Highlanders also dominated the game after intermission, leading 31-21 after three periods. The bright spots in that quarter were five foul shots sunk by Paul Prather and four points by John Mallory. Both of these fine athletes played spectacularly to keep the Hilltoppers in the game.

The fourth quarter also opened poorly for the Hilltoppers. Governor Livingston extended its lead to 12 points at 36-24. Then fouling caught up with the Highlanders as both Bob Lynch and Bob Heuer fouled out.

Despite the loss of Brent Cromwell, the Hilltopper zone press began to be effective. Prather scored on a set shot from the corner, and Mallory made a good jump shot from the foul circle. Then Royer drew a two-shot foul and sank both shots, before Paul Prather scored two more on a layup. John Adamiak broke the streak for the Highlanders by sinking a foul shot as his team still led by five points. Mallory scored three points on a foul shot and a layup. Then Royer sank two foul shots to give the Maroon and White a tie, 37-37.

Prather put the Hilltoppers into the lead for the second time in the game, but with 18 seconds left Adamiak sank two foul shots to send the game into overtime.

Summit got off to a good start in the overtime period as Royer scored on a set shot from the foul line. However, Meredith Rice tied the score with a jump shot. Mallory arched a beautiful set shot to give the Hilltoppers the advantage at 43-41, but Mark Leo and Rice scored three points to give Berkeley its final advantage.

With nine seconds left, a Hilltopper missed a foul shot, but Royer leaped high in the air to grab the rebound, leaped again and arched a perfect shot through the hoop to give the Summit team the victory.

Royer played a brilliant game. He scored four crucial points in the overtime period as well as four more in the fourth quarter drive and had a total of 11 points. Jim also was very important under the boards as he grabbed 10 rebounds. This play under pressure was important for Summit as the team outbounded the Highlanders 47-42.

Prather was the second leading scorer, Paul's foul shooting was excellent as he scored on six of eight attempts.

The real scoring and team leader of the Maroon and White was the versatile Mallory.

Rhines, Mallory On AP All-State

Summit — The two standouts of Summit High School's undefeated football team this year—end Sid Rhines and half-back John Mallory—have been named to the 1963 All-state football team selected by the New Jersey Associated Press.

The Associated Press' All-State team was selected from nominations submitted by sports editors, writers and broadcasters throughout New Jersey. A five-man committee met to sift through scores of candidates and name the team.

Highlander Matmen Have 5 Lettermen

Berkeley Heights — An aggressive, hard working, but inexperienced squad will take to the mats when the Governor Livingston Regional High School wrestling team meets the Hillside High grapplers in their first dual meet of the season on January 3 at 7 p.m. in the Highlander gym.

"The boys that have come out for the squad have been working hard and show great spirit," says Coach Jim Neddoff, "but can hard work and spirit make up for inexperience?"

The sending districts of Governor Livingston Regional in past years have had very little wrestling in their physical education programs. This means that boys interested in wrestling have to learn completely new skills in their freshman year.

As a result, they have little experience on which to rely until they are juniors or seniors. Most of the Highlanders' opponents have started their wrestling training early in grammar school, giving them years of experience before they enter high school.

Coach Neddoff happily announces that both of the Highlanders' sending districts have indicated that wrestling, in keeping with the statewide trend, will begin to hold a position of greater prominence in future years.

This year's Highlander wrestling team is a young one, primarily composed of underclassmen. Only five are returning

The Untouchables were sparked by a 39-point production by Sol Steplight. Criswell chipped

Presbyterians Upset YMCA

Summit — Two close games and one rout marked the opening of the Senior High Basketball League sponsored by the Summit Board of Recreation in games played at the Washington School court last week.

Central Presbyterian upset the favored Y.M.C.A. team, 48 to 44, in a hard-fought battle. Craig Sterrett of the winners was high man with 22 points, followed by Dwight Bayne with 13.

The turning point of the game was the insertion of Monroe Brown into the Central lineup at the half. He controlled the backboards and played a stellar game on defense. High for the "Y" were Jim Ryan and Kam Smith with nine apiece.

The Raiders, with Pete Nestler scoring 20, Jim Collier tallying 15, and Bob Lenz hitting for 14 markers, downed the CYO, 59-33, in a nip-and-tuck contest. Dave Swick was high for the losers with 16 points, followed by Nick Passomato with 12 and Dick Core with 10.

The two-team system of the PAL paid off against the outclassed but not outstuffed Knick five, 84-54, despite a 23-point performance by Dick Harvey.

For the Birds
By FARRIS S. SWACKHAMER

December, 1963

A columnist who writes about birds is destined to receive phone calls, letters, and even visits from readers who have questions about the feathered folks' lives. They are very welcome, however, since they often suggest a topic for a future column. The most frequently posed question is, "What is a good bird book?"

There are many good bird books but I think it is safe to say that the bible of the amateur and professional ornithologist alike is "A Field Guide to the Birds" by Roger Tory Peterson, second edition, published in 1947 by Houghton Mifflin Company of Boston.

If you are planning a trip to the west coast or a vacation in Hawaii, leave room in your suitcase for the second edition of Peterson's western bird guide published in 1961. Should your employer transfer you and the family to Texas, get in touch with the Texas Game and Fish Commission and get a copy of Peterson's Texas bird guide. So far Texas is the only state to be so honored. Bird watching in Europe is also indebted to Peterson for his collaborative effort with Guy Mountfort and P. A. D. Hollom.

The Peterson system of field identification of birds is famous the world over, but what of the man?

Roger Tory Peterson was born in Jamestown, New York, August 28, 1908. When his seventh grade teacher organized a junior Audubon club, he became an enthusiastic member. The striking colors and enviable freedom of the birds had always fascinated him. After reading every pamphlet he could lay his hands on concerning the feathered folk, he began to take bird walks. Looking back on that period of his life, he said "I lived for the birds."

Always artistically inclined, Peterson attended the Art Students' League and the National Academy of Design in New York City. He began his career as a decorative artist in 1926 and became an instructor in art and science at the Rivers School, Brookline, Mass. in 1931. He remained there until 1934. It was during these depression years that he put together the manuscript for the first bird guide embodying his revolutionary method of identifying birds by field markings. For the first time, it was possible for the watcher to make an accurate identification in a few seconds.

The first encounters with publishing houses were discouraging but finally Francis H. Allen, at one time an editor with Houghton Mifflin and chairman of the Massachusetts Audubon Society, realized the tremendous potential of the new approach. So the first edition appeared in 1934. Only 2000 copies were printed and they sold out in three weeks. Peterson's new system had started him on the way to international fame. The revised edition has sold over 552,000 copies and the western counterpart, 237,000 copies.

The bird guide won for him the Brewster Medal of the American Ornithologists Union and "Birds Over America" was responsible for his winning the John Burroughs medal for 1950. In 1952 he was awarded an honorary degree of Doctor of Science by Franklin and Marshall College. One of his finest works was "Wild America" co-authored with James Fisher, the famous British ornithologist.

Peterson is as fine a photographer as he is an artist. He appeared in the spring of 1962 in Summit for the final evening of the Audubon Sereen Tours series sponsored by the Summit Nature Club. It was at the illustrated lecture that he told of going to have his glasses adjusted and his eyes checked. While this was being done, he inquired of the eye doctor if there wasn't some eye exercise he could do that would strengthen them. "Yes, there is," was the reply. "Why don't you take up bird watching?"
