

Canoe Brook Parkway, Passaic Ave. Dropped From Speed Control Bill

Speed limits ranging from 25 mph to 50 mph will remain in force along Canoe Brook parkway and Passaic avenue under an amended ordinance approved by Common Council Tuesday night.

The original ordinance, which was the subject of a lengthy public hearing on June 8, proposed that a 35 mph limit be applied to Canoe Brook parkway and 40 mph to Passaic avenue. Residents living on both streets objected strenuously to the proposals on grounds that they created a safety hazard for children going to and from school. Those who protested wanted the limit kept at 25 mph in built up areas, even though in other, less populated sections, the legal maximum is 50 mph.

Following another lengthy hearing on Tuesday, Council discontinued any attempt to enforce a single speed limit for both streets, which will continue to have a range of from 25 to 50 mph.

Under the new ordinance to which there were no objections, speed limits ranging from 25 mph to 40 mph have been set for Springfield avenue, Baltusrol road, Constantine place, Hobart avenue, Mount Vernon avenue, Kent Place Boulevard and DeForest avenue, Summit avenue, Orchard street and Chatham road.

In attempting to set speed limits along the city's 66 miles of public streets, Council has explained that it is governed by a state law which describes a residential area where within any 600 feet along a street, there are buildings in use for business or residential purposes which occupy 300 feet or more of frontage on at least one side of the street. If such a street is not designated as a residential street, the limit can be set at 50 miles per hour.

In announcing the amended ordinance, Council President Elmer J. Bennett pointed out that the city intended to submit new traffic survey figures for Passaic avenue to determine whether or not a new recommendation could be received.

The balance of the ordinance was passed as originally presented, including the establishment of a 35-mph limit on Kent Place boulevard. Council indicated that so much of Kent Place boulevard is in a 50 mph zone, it was felt best to accept the state recommendation of 35 mph for the entire street.

Councilmen Frank Lehr and Philip N. Trowbridge voted against eliminating Canoe Brook parkway from the ordinance, with Mr. Trowbridge indicating he objected on the basis that local residents would be under penalty.

Council also revealed that traffic surveys had recently been conducted on Passaic avenue, Canoe Brook parkway, (Continued on Page 8)

New Building For Year Tops Million Mark

Although new construction in the city increased last month and totals for the year are now over the $1,000,000 mark, figures still remain under the 1964 tally, the monthly report from the building inspector's office revealed this week.

With new building during May at $221,000, new construction in the city for the first five months of 1965 stands at $1,068,309, a decrease of $107,600 from the $1,175,900 reported during the comparable period last year.

Last month's figures also represent an increase of $132,000 over the $89,000 reported during May of last year, and a boost of $43,700 above the $177,300 during April of this year.

Those receiving new building permits in May include George Podensky, 28 Kings Hill Court, $45,000; Eugene Stiles, 49 Druid Hill, $40,000; Albright Agency, 59 Morris avenue, $19,000; B. & J. Hoge, 20 Warwick road, $41,000; and Carl Eubank, 303 Ashland road, $33,000.

Alterations Also Lag

While new construction in the city for the year still lagged behind 1964, alteration-additions were also down from last year.

With permits issued last month totalling $70,637, figures for the year now stand at $269,037, a drop of $107,683 from the $376,720 reported during the first five months of 1964.

Last month's permits also represent an increase of $41,437 over the $29,200 reported during May of last year, and a boost of $33,737 from the $38,900 for April of this year.

Those issued alteration-addition permits last month include James W. Onis, 275 Woodland avenue, $987; Thomas Marshall, 9 Hobart avenue, $2,500; Home Insulation, 381 Springfield avenue, $3,000; and 111 Canoe Brook parkway, $6,000; E. T. All Hope Gone to Complete Brayton Addition by Fall

The new section of Brayton school will not be completed in time for the September opening of school, Walter S. Eddy, business manager, announced at a regular meeting of the Board of Education held last Thursday night.

In contrast, Mr. Eddy pointed out, that while work is at a standstill at Washington school, pending settlement of a roof construction problem, "there is no practical reason why Washington cannot be substantially completed by the opening of school this September."

Because of the situation at Brayton, where Mr. Eddy pointed out that the contractor's record "has been anything but commendable," with the closing of school emphasis will be shifted to renovating the existing building.

However, Mr. Eddy added, that "it is obvious to us that construction in the new section will suffer while the work crews are concentrating on the existing building renovations."

In preparing for the renovations, Mr. Eddy said, crews were salvaging all equipment. (Continued on Page 9)

Vacation Church School Sets Date For Registration

Local parents who wish to send their children to the annual Vacation Church School sponsored by the Summit Council of Churches must register them tomorrow at St. John's Lutheran Church between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. Director of the school is Mrs. Raymond Anderson, and Mrs. Robert McQueen is assistant director.

The school will be held this year at St. John's, beginning June 28 and running for two weeks. All children who are registered for kindergarten or who are presently attending kindergarten through sixth grade may attend.

The theme of this year's school will be "God and His World", a subject designed to show boys and girls how their "faith affects their lives in the natural world and in home church and neighborhood."

Emphasis will be placed on "science and nature study as related to God's creation."

Mrs. Anderson has been active on the board of the Girl Scouts of Morris County and has served on the memorial committee of St. John's Lutheran Church. Mrs. McQueen is presently a church school teacher at Cavalry Episcopal Church.

END OF THE STORY—Otis Appling, chairman of the board of trustees of Pilgrim Baptist Church, accepts cash and checks totalling $257.50 from Rev. Jacob Trapp of Unitarian Church with which to pay for the replacement of five windows broken by vandals on June 3. Looking on is Van O. Goforth, chairman of the church's board of deacons. The money was collected through a fund suggested by Dr. Trapp and coordinated by The Herald. In addition, Pilgrim Baptist received direct contributions of $75, with another $25 donated through the Herald on Monday, for a grand total of $357.50. Combined with some insurance coverage, there will be sufficient funds to cover the window replacement as well as enough left over to purchase a protective screen to place in front of the windows. New Reading Technique To Get Try in September

Two pilot groups of students in the elementary schools in September will be taught beginning reading by using the 44-symbol Initial Teaching Alphabet, known as I-T-A, Dr. William D. Purcell, superintendent of schools, announced at a regular meeting of the Board of Education last Thursday night.

In another reading change, Dr. Purcell also announced that the number of periods available for reading instruction at the High School and Junior High will be increased with the start of the new school year in September.

The Initial Teaching Alphabet, Dr. Purcell said, is composed of 44 symbols, with each one representing a single sound in the English language. The alphabet attempts to cover all of the sounds in English which are not covered by the traditional alphabet.

The philosophy behind I-T-A, Dr. Purcell indicated, is that it makes it possible for the beginning reader to develop a reading vocabulary comparable to his speaking vocabulary in a shorter time than is required under the traditional method.

Answers Sought

At the end of the year of the pilot study, it is hoped, Dr. Purcell stated, that several questions will be answered including whether or not the Initial Teaching Alphabet is successful with children who have failed to read by traditional methods. The two pilot groups will be composed of children who require a different approach to reading than what is ordinarily taught in the schools.

Other questions to be answered by the pilot study will be: Should Summit provide remedial classes in the elementary grades? Should Summit carry the experiment with I-T-A further and have one school take a class from kindergarten through completion of the program missing only this method?

The I-T-A program was developed in England under the supervision of Sir James Pitman, who devised the alphabet, and whose grandfather, Sir Isaac Pitman, formulated a shorthand system. Similar methods of instruction, originally created for the teaching of spelling, go back some 100 years.

Students in the two pilot groups will receive instruction from Mrs. Fred F. Horns and Mrs. Norman E. Rauscher, elementary reading counselors, for one hour daily.

In the Junior High School, seventh grade pupils who select reading as part of their courses of study will meet with the reading teacher four times each week. Some of the seventh (Continued on Page 9)

School Board Appoints Six New Teachers

Six teachers and two interns were appointed to the city's teaching staff, at a regular meeting of the Board of Education held last Thursday night. In addition, resignations were received from two teachers.

Appointed to the staff were Mrs. Florence Houseman, Mrs. Elizabeth Goldberg, Mrs. Ray Lassiter, Miss Karen Thorsen, Mrs. Linda Stark and Miss Janet Rector.

Interns appointed, both members of the Master of Arts in Teaching Program at Fairleigh Dickinson University, were Mrs. Elizabeth Hood and Arthur Berliner. Both interns will teach English at Summit High School, with Mrs. Hood teaching during the first half of the school year and Mr. Berliner working from February to the end of the year. Mrs. Hood is a graduate of Barnard College. Mr. Berliner is a graduate of Fairleigh Dickinson.

Special Events To Mark July 4th Observance Here

The Board of Recreation will contribute to the annual Fourth of July celebration on July 5 by holding a series of novelty events for children and their parents, Robert D. Leisher, secretary of the Fourth of July committee announced today.

Following the flag raising ceremony at 9:45 a.m., the program will begin with a decorated bicycle parade, open to all Summit boys and girls, with prizes being awarded in a number of categories to the participants. The morning's program will also include a number of novelty contests, such as a "life saver relay", "cup balance race", "spoon and marble race", "shoe scramble", and the popular "egg tossing contest".

Competition will be conducted in a boys' and girls' division, ages 8-10, 11-13, 14-16, and for children under 7 years of age, as well as for parents and their children.

Members of the Board of Recreation staff will direct the activities. Prizes will be awarded to all winners by the Elks Club. The Summit Concert Band under the direction of George Elcher will play at 7:45 p.m. prior to the fireworks display.

The Naval Reserve Surface Division 3-7 (S) of Stirling will supply the color guard for the morning and evening color ceremonies. (Continued on Page 9)

CIBA Dedicates New $5 Million Office Complex

CIBA will dedicate its new $5,000,000 corporate offices, a modern cafeteria facility, and unveil three modern pieces of art at dedication ceremonies today before more than 250 persons.

David B. Dyche, president of CIBA Corp., pointed toward the move of the corporate offices from New York to Summit as a "milestone."

CIBA Pharmaceutical Co., a division of CIBA Corporation, has been associated with the Summit Area for the last 28 years. Now with the location of the corporate headquarters here another dimension has been added to the CIBA complex — one of diversified interests.

The new buildings are assessed at $1,350,000 and add approximately $74,000 to city coffers in taxes. With the new buildings, total CIBA assessments will be $7,800,000, upon which the company last year paid municipal taxes of $387,000.

Mr. Dyche declared, "that many of our corporate services are located here now, and we see numerous business advantages in getting people closer together, particularly in this splendid environment — which we wish to help preserve as good citizens should."

Mr. Dyche stressed the company's diversified activities and cited several new areas in which the corporation is entering, including animal health products, agricultural chemicals, photochemicals and rare metals.

The corporate president also noted that CIBA Products Company, the second largest manufacturer of epoxy resins, has also moved its administrative functions to Summit from Fair Lawn.

Mayor David E. Truckess of Summit will officially dedicate the buildings and welcome the location of the company's central headquarters here.

The Mayor pointed to the many community activities in which CIBA personnel have taken part in over the past 28 years, both in Summit and in the surrounding municipalities. The Mayor called this active participation one of the company's "greatest contributions to the area."

"A community is only as strong as the individuals who serve it and with the type of personnel rendering public service as represented by CIBA, our area will prosper," asserted Mayor Truckess.

Dr. Victor Umbricht, chairman of the board of CIBA Corporation and managing director of CIBA Limited, Basle, Switzerland, cited the two objectives in building the facilities being dedicated. The first objective was to furnish cor-

Eye-Catching Sculpture To Make Debut at CIBA

Three modern pieces of art by Henri Nechemia Azaz will be unveiled when CIBA dedicates its $5,000,000 administrative and cafeteria buildings today.

The largest of the three abstract forms, located in front of the cafeteria facing Morris avenue, is a poured concrete fountain with a 15-and-a-half foot high form set in a 60 x 15 foot long reflecting pool.

Jets from a small concrete covering, four feet in height, direct streams of water toward the larger form. The cantilever arms, containing receptacles, receive the jets of water. The water then cascades into the pool via some 84 openings in the form.

In the center of the courtyard between the T-shaped administration building and cafeteria building, a second piece of Mr. Azaz' work sits in the center of a patio of bluestone. This piece, also of poured concrete, is a rectangular structure eight feet in height and thirteen feet wide.

The third creation, a revolving object of chased copper ten feet in height and four feet in diameter, is located on the second level of the cafeteria in front of the executive dining quarters. It takes the form of a sphere on a pedestal and revolves in the wind.

United Fund Sets Budget At $217,000

A record goal of $217,000 for this year's fall drive was approved Monday night by the United Campaign board of directors.

The 1966 budget represents an increase of $11,350, or 5.5 per cent, over the 1965 goal of $205,000. This is the second consecutive year that the goal has topped $200,000.

The agencies original requests had reached $246,115, indicating that the budget review committee recommendations had cut back slightly less than $30,000.

Again, the YMCA has been allocated the major portion of the budget with $60,000, a reduction of $6,000 from the amount originally requested, and the same amount that was allocated in 1965.

Next highest allocation will go to the YWCA with $47,500, representing a decrease of $4,263 from the amount requested, but $1,000 above the 1965 allocation.

Family Service Association is slated for $27,000, or $4,400 under the amount requested, but $5,000 more than the 1965 allotment.

With a request of $15,000, SAGE was granted a budget of $13,000, or $2,000 less; while the Boy Scouts were granted $3,500 and the Girl Scouts received a budget approval for $8,000. The Boy Scouts had requested $10,770, or $2,270 more, while the Girl Scouts had requested $10,402, or $2,402 more.

With a request for $9,500, the (Continued on Page 9)

Camp Drive to End Next Week, Gifts at $2,447

The 17th annual Summit Herald-Family Service Association prepared to end its season next week with contributions for the season as of Tuesday at $2,447.63.

New gifts for the week totaled $81. Among this week's donors was the Resident Group at Kent Place School which contributed $53 from collections at Sunday Evening Vespers.

At this time last year when the fund was in its ninth week contributions were at $2,489.

Among those who will be aided by this year's fund is Mary Ann, a pathetic little girl. Her mother is indifferent to her needs and her father is in a mental institution. She feels lonely and unwanted. Given the opportunity, this child would respond to the warmth and understanding she would receive from her camp counselor as well as from the companionship of children her age.

Donations to the Camp Fund may be mailed to the Summit Herald office, care of Summit Herald, 22 Bank street, Summit.

Council Okays School Dental Survey Plan

Common Council paved the way for a dental inspection survey in the city's schools by appropriating $4,000 Tuesday night. It is hoped the program will go into effect in September.

The appropriation was made in response to the request of the Board of Health, which had unanimously voted in favor of the inauguration of such a dental inspection program. The program also has the endorsement of the Board of Education.

The Board of Health has indicated that the program will be limited only to inspection services for all children in the schools and that no dental care will be involved. Parents will also have the option of having the inspection done by their personal dentists.

The plan intends that a dentist, preferably a local one, working with the assistance of Board of Health nurses, will (Continued on Page 8)

Council Seeks Approval for New Traffic Controls

Four ordinances dealing with traffic control and parking were introduced by Common Council Tuesday night.

There will be public hearings on all four on Tuesday, July 13 at 8:30 p.m. in City Hall.

The first ordinance restricts the use of the new commuter lot to be constructed at Broad street and Summit avenue to Summit residents, regular employees of businesses in Summit and those owning property in Summit. The usual parking permit will be required.

The second ordinance is a measure required by the state so that all traffic lights can be automatically turned on flashing at 11 p.m. and continue to 7 a.m. At present, the intervals vary. The new measure is necessary so that all can be uniform within the city.

The third ordinance amends the parking meter ordinance establishing times and zones. (Continued on Page 23)

CIBA Has Been Familiar Local Name Since 1937

Since 1937, CIBA has been a familiar name in the community of Summit and the fact that the pharmaceutical company holds a leading place among drug manufacturers is also well known. Now, with the transfer of various corporate offices to the new administration building in Summit, another dimension is added to CIBA Pharmaceutical Company — that of the corporation and its diversified interests.

CIBA Corporation is the American subsidiary of a worldwide chemical company, CIBA Limited. The operating divisions of the corporation in New Jersey are CIBA Chemical & Dye Co., Fair Lawn; CIBA Products Co. (whose offices have been moved from Fair Lawn to Summit); CIBA Operations at Toms River; an Animal Health Research Farm at Three Bridges; and CIBA Pharmaceutical Company and Madison Laboratories of Summit.

Also operated by CIBA are an agricultural chemicals testing station at Vero Beach, Florida; and the recently purchased Gland-O-Lac Co. of Omaha, Neb., a supplier of animal health products and services. CIBA owns a majority interest in the Toms River Chemical Corporation which employs some 1,200 people in modern facilities in Toms River. The corporation also maintains executive offices at 260 Madison avenue, New York City.

Research has been the propellant for the growth of CIBA, and this has led to the diversified interests of the corporation. Among many developments are new classes of synthetic dyes, chemicals for crease and shrink resistance, water repellent finishes fast to washing, photo-chemicals, rare metals, optical brighteners and pesticides. In plastics, the company produces epoxy resins and curing agents.

The entire corporation employs 2,300 persons including branch sales offices and warehouses throughout the country. U. S. sales have increased at an average annual rate of over 10 per cent, reaching $92.7 million in 1964.

In Summit, CIBA Pharmaceutical Company began operations in 1937 with 98 employees and five buildings. It has expanded at the rate of one building a year and the number of its employees has increased to more than 1,700.

One of the leading pharmaceutical companies in the United States, CIBA has been responsible for many drug discoveries during the last two decades. Among the major products are drugs for cardiovascular and related conditions, sedatives, stimulants, antihistamines, hormones and anesthetics.

Each was accused of attempting to extend the meter's time limit by striking it with their fist after dropping a coin into the slot. Police said the four were able to obtain 12 hours of parking time by using a single nickel instead of 25c.

Walter Meinke of 14 Edgar street was fined $120 plus an additional $25 for contempt of court for failing to answer 24 parking summonses. Walter Bischoff of Berkeley Heights was fined a total of $98 for failing to answer a total of 14 parking tickets.

Field Trips Listed for YW Summer Career Course

Frank Kenny, guidance director at New Providence High School, will direct a special program of career and vocational opportunities for women in the YWCA's July enrichment program for girls in the ninth through the 12th grades. Mr. Kenny holds a master's degree in personnel and guidance from Montclair State College and has taught at Dumont High School, and in the Sherwood School of Business, Paterson.

Careers for women, one of four interest groups in the program, is geared to introduce girls to a variety of career and vocational opportunities. Important feature of the series will be trips to business and professional organizations to see women at work in their respective fields. Among the trips that have already been planned is a visit with a woman financial reporter at Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner and Smith, to explore how women are breaking into this heretofore closed area for women.

Girls will also visit Mademoiselle magazine to learn about jobs in publishing. A visit to NBC in New York will give the group a chance to look behind the scenes in the whole field of communication. Jobs in the air travel industry and in the world of science will also be explored.

For those interested in possibilities of developing musical talent, a visit to the Music Therapy Center, a division of the Creative Arts Rehabilitation Center in New York, is planned. Opportunities for women in religious careers will be examined, and this field will have as leader Miss Lori Witmer, a director of religious education. Possibilities in all fields will be interpreted.

The Educational Alliance, in New York, will be another special tour for the group. Here girls will be able to view the variety of jobs available in a social service organization. They will interview a variety of social workers: group workers, case workers, community organizers, psychiatric social workers, special counselors.

Closely allied to this will be a trip to the John E. Rummels Hospital to see women at work and the jobs available in a hospital setting. Leaders in this part of the program will be

Mrs. Phyllis Thompson, recreation therapist; Mrs. Dorothy Walton, director of volunteer services; Robert Lawrence, X-ray; John Tracey, lab technician; Mrs. S. Ann Rudovick, direct of patient services; John Keindl, physical therapist; Mrs. Evelyn Friedman, occupational therapist; Mrs. Beatrice Weingast, speech therapist; Mrs. Florence Riden, chief dietitian. Benjamin Haddock, executive director of the Union County Psychiatric Clinic, will lead a discussion on the attitudes necessary to carry on dual or triple roles as a wife, mother, worker, giving them insight into such topics as the problems of women who work and of those who are homemakers, what influence the choice of a career has on the choice of a marriage partner, and other important areas of concern.

The career opportunities program will be divided into two two-week sessions, each covering a different aspect of work opportunities. Though the program has been primarily designed for girls who will be registering for at least two weeks, those who are interested in just one or more of the trips or programs may participate if there are openings available. Further information may be had by telephoning Mrs. Alvin Griggs, teenage program director, at the YWCA, 273-4242.

Girl Scouts in Need Of Day Camp Aides
Summit Area residents who can sing, make puppets, weave, model, play a recorder, folk dance or tell stories to children should call Mrs. W. H. Tieste at 273-4374, of the Girl Scout Council of Greater Essex County, of which Summit, New Providence and Berkeley Heights, are members.

The need for such abilities stems from the new day camp for girls seven to 12 which the Girl Scout Council will operate at five public housing projects at Newark from June 28 through mid-August. Camp will be held Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Boy Scouts and non-Scouts, adults and young people, 16 years of age and over, men and women are needed. Any sort of skill which can be shared with girls or taught to counselors is needed, plus unit leaders.

Blue Ribbon Quality

"LAZY-AGED"
BEEF!

If you're one of the many, many persons who are very particular when it comes to buying meat... you simply must get acquainted with KINGS BLUE RIBBON QUALITY "LAZY-AGED" BEEF. You'll enjoy the luscious flavor and exceptional tenderness that only aged beef has!

KINGS STARTS WITH THE BEST...

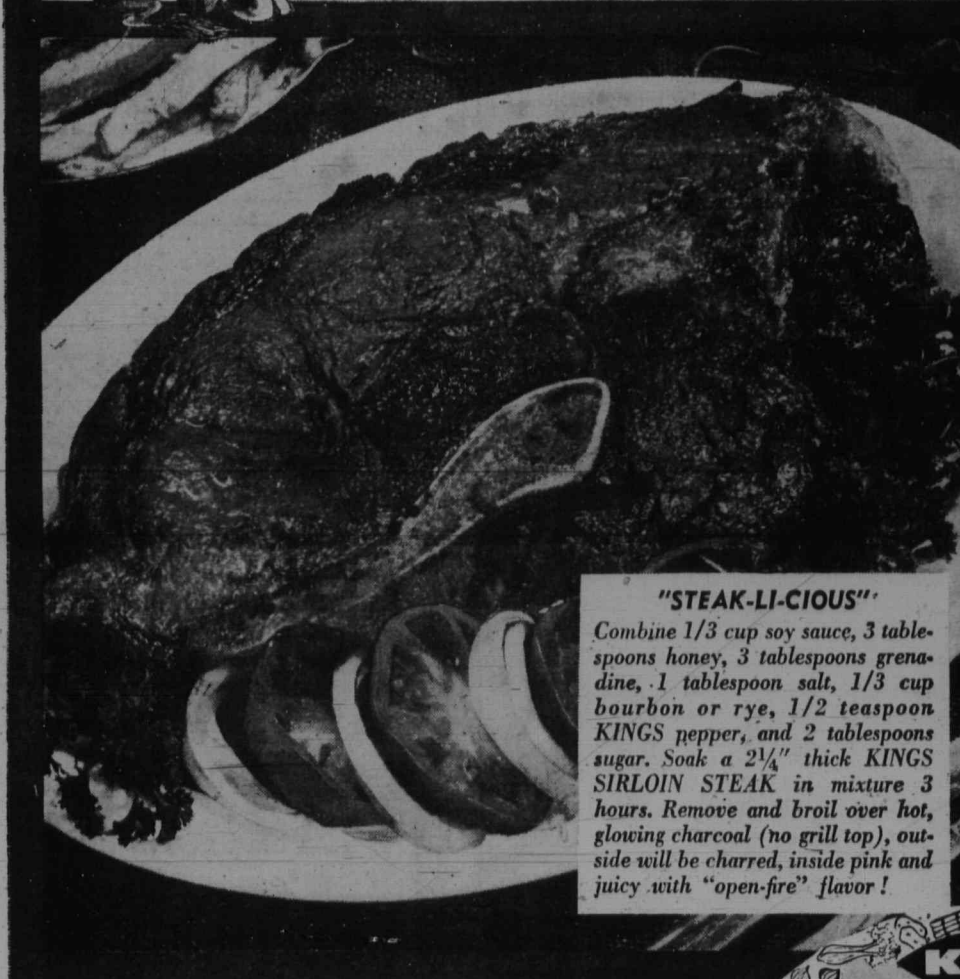

KINGS mature beef is the highest quality... from excellent breeds of cattle such as Shorthorn, Angus, or Hereford. When KINGS buy beef they "top the cooler" meaning, simply, that KINGS selects only "Top Choice" and "Top Prime" grades of beef from hundreds of beef sides hanging in the packing plant coolers. Top sides of beef have perfect conformation, a thick covering of fat, and proper distribution of fat. When a side of beef is purchased and is being divided into various cuts, KINGS expert butchers trim away most of the heavy fat that makes a good steer... they leave just the right amount for delicious eating!

AGING MAKES THE DIFFERENCE...

All KINGS mature beef is aged "nature's way"... slow and naturally... for 18 to 25 days. This adds even further to the flavor and tenderness and lessens shrinkage in cooking!

GET ACQUAINTED TODAY...

The proof of quality is in the meeting... once you taste KINGS BLUE RIBBON QUALITY "LAZY-AGED" BEEF, you'll never be satisfied with any other... TASTES BETTER BECAUSE IT IS BETTER!

"STEAK-LI-CIOUS"

Combine 1/3 cup soy sauce, 3 tablespoons honey, 3 tablespoons grenadine, 1 tablespoon salt, 1/3 cup bourbon or rye, 1/2 teaspoon KINGS pepper, and 2 tablespoons sugar. Soak a 2 1/4" thick KINGS SIRLOIN STEAK in mixture 3 hours. Remove and broil over hot, glowing charcoal (no grill top), outside will be charred, inside pink and juicy with "open-fire" flavor!

Congratulations, CIBA

Today's dedication of CIBA's new $5,000,000 facilities is more than just a gala observance, but a demonstration of faith in the future, and of Summit.

Since 1937 when CIBA first began operations here with a staff of 98 persons, science has made fantastic strides in its never-ending battle against man's most dangerous enemy — illness. During those years CIBA has been in the forefront of this battle, and has succeeded in adding to the list of lifesaving drugs many of its own products. For this, Summit can be well proud, for it was here that such drugs were discovered and developed.

Aside from CIBA's leadership in the pharmaceutical industry, Summit can also be proud that it has within its midst a good neighbor that has played an integral part in the development of our town for nearly three decades.

As CIBA has grown, its contribution to the economic welfare of the community has also grown. In addition to being Summit's largest taxpayer, CIBA annually contributes to the area through local purchases of supplies and services that support other businesses and their employees.

CIBA executives and employees regularly take part in civic affairs, give their time and talent as members of local government, educational, professional, civil defense, cultural, religious, welfare and youth organizations. It would be difficult to mention any local activity that CIBA and its employees have not been associated with at one time or another.

For all of this, we thank CIBA and extend to our neighbor, our congratulations for another job well done.

Mrs. Jeanne K. Lane of 71 Blackburn road, died Saturday at Overlook Hospital after a long illness.

Born in Philadelphia 41 years ago, she had lived in that area until moving here nine years ago. She was a graduate of Hood College, Frederick, Md. The minimum equipment needed for the first year is estimated to be 100 mouth mirrors, 100 explorers, a portable boiling water type sterilizer and appropriate dental record forms.
The Board of Health has expressed the hope that a dentist to carry out the program will be found by the start of the school year in September.
Originally, in the letter of request for the service, Dr. Samuel W. Eason, president of the Board of Health, had re-

The center is housed in a city-owned building on Morris avenue and Broad street and was once occupied by Tobin Ford. The new law stems from several complaints made last year by local residents that sparklers were tossed into crowds during the July Fourth observance at Memorial Field, injuring at least two.

Corporate Bigamy

Wives who sometimes wonder how best to describe a husband who devotes too much time to his job might try the title used in an article in Business Management magazine written by Dr. Mortimer R. Feinberg of the personnel consulting firm of BFS Psychological Associates.

The article is entitled "Corporate Bigamy." It describes the problems of an executive who, being married to both his company and his wife is dedicated to one and devoted to the other. An executive often becomes a corporate bigamist because he believes as Dr. Feinberg does that "Unless his father is chairman of the board, no executive rises to the top without a total personal commitment to his company."

Having this total commitment and being in love with his company is no crime for any man. But it does pose personal problems for his wife and family. It means that an executive must develop and depend upon effective use of the scraps and leftovers if he hopes to avoid failure as a husband and father.

To summarize Dr. Feinberg's views there are three courses to be followed by the busy executive who wants to make certain that when his drive to the top is over he will still have a family, regardless of whether he has reached his goal. These include scheduling time with his family and regarding it as a form of therapy, as well as a responsibility; making compromises to make certain that family obligations are not forgotten and making certain the family shares his interests and goals in business.

Perhaps the suggestion that wives will most appreciate is the one in which Dr. Feinberg advises the executive to be "splashy with his money." It is not so much the money involved or the gifts or other purposes for which it is spent but the thoughtfulness behind the actual spending.

When all is said and done the best cure for corporate bigamy is thoughtfulness and kindness for one's partner and family. The indispensable condition is a feeling that marriage means more to an executive than his career. Unless that condition exists it is difficult to believe the advice of Dr. Feinberg or anyone else will be of much value.

Don't Make Waves!

The hors d'oeuvres of the summer have already been served to us. This week we had a sampling of the hot, sultry weather that is bound to be passed around again and again during the next two or three months and it might be appropriate at this time to pass on a few tips on summer survival.

The best tip of all comes from our cousins in Latin America and it is simply: Don't make waves! In other words, keep cool, quietly.

Now this is not easy to accomplish and there are a few ground rules. The Latins have mastered the art quite nicely but it took several generations before they universally adopted a manana philosophy that gets them through the tropical weather with a minimum of anguish.

The first rule is to break off all diplomatic relations with all tennis players, golf enthusiasts, hikers, amateur gardeners, and the like. It is not hard to be cordial but uncooperative.

Once you have acquired isolation from athletic friends, then select the shadiest spot in the yard, relocate a comfortable reclining chair in the densest of the shade, add a table within arm's reach from any reclining or prone position, and place upon the table one glass (never any more than one!), a tall pitcher of liquid refreshment (contents up to the individual) and a bucket of ice cubes.

Now you are well on your way beating the heat. Ignore the jibes and cat-calls of your so-called friends and never ask them to join you. If they do you are bound to be coerced into activity of some sort. If these hot-weather friends call you crazy, smile and admit it.

This program not only keeps you cool but it also permits you to rest up for the coming snow season. In fact, if bears snooze out the winter, it also makes sense for humans to snooze out the summer.

But there is no need to spend a totally comatose summer. You can read between cat-naps, as long as the book you select is dull and tends to put you back into a cat-nap. And you can even chat a wee bit—but only with calm acquaintances who share your enthusiasm for doing absolutely nothing.

Once you have mastered these basic steps you are now ready to cope with anything above 90 degrees and can appear in the neighborhood after sundown as fresh as the proverbial daisy. This will be the time for you to start drumming up a party that can go into the wee hours before the sun emerges again for another blistering day. What matters if the party gains momentum and becomes energetic. You have a full day of relaxation scheduled for the morrow because you have mastered the Latin way of life.

Just don't make waves!

ings to protect younger children on their way to and from school but as children get older and acquire bicycles they are at the mercy of careless drivers who do not take every precaution to stay alert and drive within the speed limit so that they can avoid the possibility of coming unexpectedly upon children chasing a ball into the street or bicycling youngsters who well may be there quite within the law. Young and inexperienced drivers particularly are a real hazard until they become aware of the tragic consequences which can result from reckless passing on residential streets or show-off burning up of the road.

It's The Motorist's Responsibility (Montclair Times)

There is no question of the fact that when children are growing up, they are not always aware of the hazards of modern existence. This awareness comes with experience and too often by then it's too late. From an early age they leave the home to go to school, and as they get older they spend more and more of their time away from the direct presence of their parents. Once the child is out of the home much of the time it is impossible for the parents completely to protect them any longer from injury.

grade classes will be developmental, or taught along regular progress lines, while some will be remedial. In the developmental classes emphasis will be placed on speed and comprehension, while remedial classes will concentrate on word recognition, comprehension, phonics and speed.

At the eighth grade level all pupils will have the usual six weeks of reading instruction, while reading will be offered for the first time in the ninth grade. Ninth grade pupils will be selected by the reading teachers, with need for remedial instruction being the basis for selection.

During the summer, a reading laboratory using up-to-date, tested teaching devices and providing carrels for individualized work will be installed at the Junior High School. The reading teachers in the Junior High School are Mrs. Juliet Phipps and Mrs. Mary Lou Fenwick.

At the High School, additional reading instruction will be offered. While developmental classes will be continued, remedial classes will also function in conjunction with English 2 and 3 and independently for students who volunteer. Developmental classes have been taught by Robert Pickel, while Miss Tina Federico will teach some reading classes in the business education department.

Let Electricity Open Your Outdoors to Better Living

With Appliances

Today, with portable electric appliances you can be a good cook outdoors as easily as you can in your own kitchen.

Electric appliances eliminate the need for a fire, the danger of flare-ups, and the nuisance of dirty smoke and emptying ashes. Electricity is ready at the flip of a switch, without fanning, coaxing or waiting.

With Electric Lawn Mowers

Modern electric equipment such as a lawn mower makes grounds keeping a pleasure rather than a challenge. And, of course, with electricity there are no fuel worries, no oil to change, no carburetors to adjust and no carbon monoxide. In addition to the lawn mower, there are also electric hedge clippers and edgers, and for those with a green thumb, there are soil heat cables for hotbeds.

With Outdoor Lighting

Low-cost garden lightscaping can create a new nighttime world in your garden. Concealed fixtures can bathe the entire garden in simulated "moonlight," highlight specific areas, or dramatize the forms and textures of trees and shrubs. When lightscaping can give you many additional hours of pleasure, why enjoy your garden only part of the time? And any well lighted garden, driveway, or garage is safer. Add another dimension to your property with light.

Ask your Reddy Kilowatt Dealer and Electrical Contractor to show you the many new products for better living outdoors. Ask them about the latest developments in outdoor wiring and lighting. They can help you plan to make an enjoyable use of electricity this summer and in the years to come. See them soon.

Outside Costs High for State College Rejects

Where does a qualified high school student go when he's rejected by a New Jersey public college?

The lucky ones commute to private colleges or get accepted where tuition is reasonable. But openings are growing scarcer in public colleges everywhere. Many are raising tuition for students from other states, and some hold grudges against New Jersey, whose public colleges accept few outsiders.

Youngsters with financial backing can attend a residential college elsewhere. If transportation fare to faraway points is no problem, there are still private colleges with unfilled openings.

The heavy tuition at private colleges and the high cost of room and board at any college—especially those which try to pay off dormitories from student fees—are causes in the surging applications at New Jersey's public colleges.

For youths with slim financial backing, the chance for higher education may be lost. E. Theodore Stier, director of admissions at Newark State College, tells of such a case:

"A girl near the top of her high school class applied to enter our social studies curriculum, our most crowded program. The girl's father is dead. She could afford to attend only a State College. It's here or nowhere."

"She ranked below the cutoff point on our admissions list. So, it's nowhere."

Laments Stier: "I ask myself: How can we reject an applicant like this? The answer is, there just isn't room for her."

How does tuition compare at public and private colleges? Tuition at the six State Colleges—Glassboro, Trenton, Newark, Montclair, Jersey City and Paterson S. C.—is $75 per semester, or $150 a year. Additional student fees increase this annual expense to about $245. At Rutgers—the State University, tuition is $200 a semester. A student fee of $53 per semester increases the total to $506 a year. At Newark College of Engineering, the other New Jersey college heavily subsidized by the State, tuition is $193 per semester. Counting student fee, the total cost is $431 a year.

By comparison, tuition and fees at Temple University total $1,040 a year; at NYU $1,440; at Stevens Institute of Technology $1,600; at Upsala College $1,100; and at Fairleigh Dickinson $1,040. Room and board add $800 to $1,200 to the annual cost.

Although Rutgers is the state university, it cannot serve the same function in crowded New Jersey as the public university in most other states. At least 22 such universities accept all high school graduates in their state who apply, but Rutgers this year rejected over 8,000. And Rutgers' $506 tuition is higher than that of every other state university in the nation except Penn State, which charges $525.

While college opportunities are diminishing and costs rising elsewhere, Richard S. Desmond, director of admissions at Paterson State College, gives this prognosis for the public colleges in New Jersey:

"This year we turned away many applicants I would have given anything to have admitted three years ago. And the problem is worsening. There is no immediate increase in sight for admissions, places at the State Colleges. We know that more and more students will want to come to the State Colleges, but there will be no room for them in the immediate future."

Why is our top so way out?

The top of the Volkswagen Convertible is way out of the car for a very simple reason: We had no other practical place to put it.

Of course, we had other alternatives. We could have put the top in the back seat. It wouldn't have been out of the car, but 2 or 3 people would have been. Or we could have made room for the top by making the bug a little longer. (But it would no longer have been the little bug.)

The way it worked out, our Convertible has all the practical benefits of our Sedan.

Seating for 4 adults, parking space, and economy leverage 32 mpg; 40,000 miles on tires!

But many people don't need practical benefits. They simply like our top.

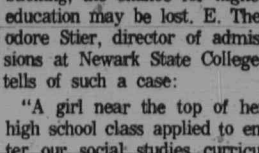

They like it because it has a real glass window in back. And because it's padded, stitched, and fitted by hand, so it's weatherproof and it actually cushions sound.

They like our top when it's up for its smooth custom-made look. And when it's down for its unusual way-out look.

To many people our top is so way-out, it's in.

CIBA Corporation Summit

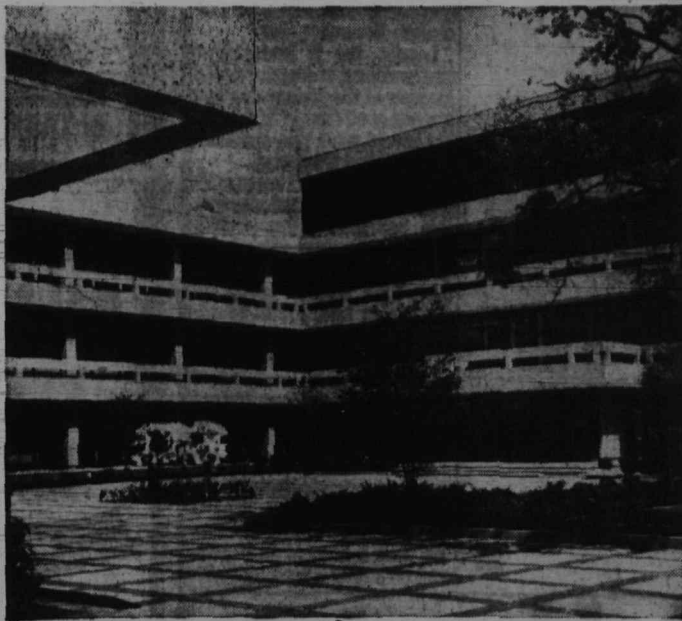

CIBA Corporation is dedicating two new buildings today — a corporate administration building and cafeteria. These architectural achievements face the community and citizens of Summit, in great part, as a tribute to their confidence and support. Through its years of growth, CIBA has attempted to carry out its responsibilities in the community. Executives and employees have been encouraged to take an active part in community life. The company itself has been privileged to lend its support to the many worthwhile civic, educational, cultural and charitable activities.

Twenty-eight years ago, with 98 employees and five buildings, CIBA Pharmaceutical Company opened its doors in Summit and became part of the local community scene. The solid confidence of the company in the community was well placed and its results have been rewarding. Local municipalities have continued their sound, diversified growth while CIBA has also grown in this environment. As the local population increased, the company's physical plant in Summit also grew.

Today, CIBA Corporation has over 2,300 employees in a variety of locations throughout the United States, with its manufacturing facilities concentrated in New Jersey.

The company has continued confidence in the state of New Jersey. This confidence is expressed by the expansion of its facilities over the past years in Fair Lawn, Toms River, and Three Bridges.

CIBA Corporation is proud to be a citizen of the Greater Summit Area.

Some of the more significant developments that have come from the CIBA laboratories are: synthetic dyes, pigments, fluorescent-brightening agents, permanent water-repellents and a variety of chemicals for the improvement of textiles, plastics such as melamine and epoxy resins and other bonding agents; and many important drug discoveries, including cardiovascular agents, stimulants, sedatives, antihistamines, hormones, anti-leprosy and anesthetic products. The company is currently expanding its activities in the areas of animal health products, agricultural chemicals, chemical additives for paper, photochemicals and rare metals.

The operating divisions of the corporation in New Jersey are: CIBA Chemical & Dye Company, Fair Lawn; CIBA Products Company, Summit; CIBA Operations at Toms River; an Animal Health Research Farm, Three Bridges; CIBA Pharmaceutical Company and Madison Laboratories, Summit.

YMCA Secretary Looks Back Over Two Decades

Allan R. Devenney, of 185 Mountain avenue, general secretary of the YMCA, was honored last week on his 20th anniversary with the local Association. He was greeted by the directors, trustees, former directors and their wives and staff during the regularly scheduled June meeting of the YMCA board.

In a surprise presentation, an engraved silver tray and a 20-year gold service pin were presented to Mr. Devenney. Mrs. Gordon H. Donnelly spoke briefly for the staff group and past president N. Conover English cited the general secretary for his service. President George B. Martin presided.

Mr. Devenney joined the YMCA as its executive on July 1, 1945. In some recollections of his experiences, he noted the strategic service of the YMCA after World War 2 for the returning G.I.s resulting in the formation of the Young Men's Civic Council; the merger and integration of the Negro-White YMCA's; the development of the family membership idea; the extension and improvement of the YMCA's facilities; the growth of the Indian Guide movement; improved YMCA camping services; promotion of World Service education; service to retired men; establishment of high standards in aquatic and physical fitness programs; the open door policy to community groups.

During Mr. Devenney's term of office the following men have been president's of the Y: Amos Hiatt, James B. Burke, N. Conover English, Cameron H. Conover, Hugo B. Meyer, Stephen B. Ransom, and Mr. Martin.

Previous to coming to Summit, Mr. Devenney was associated with the YMCA's of Montclair, Providence, R.I.; Wilmington, Del.; and Pittsburg, Pa. where he was executive director for youth work, camping, and administration. He has been an official in the YMCA movement since 1931 on his graduation from Springfield College.

Throughout his career, Mr. Devenney has been chairman of the Eastern Region Boys Work Secretaries, president of the Central Atlantic Area Association of Secretaries, a delegate to World Youth Conference in France and in Wisconsin, delegate to the White House Youth Conference in 1960 and chairman of the National Council Committee on Younger Boys and Girls Programs.

He is currently a member of the Area YMCA Board, National Council of Youth Program Committee, National AOS Research and Studies committee and promotion chairman for the General Secretaries Conference in Cincinnati, November, 1965.

Locally, the Y leader is a past president and senior active member of the Rotary Club and a member of Christ Church. He has served as a vice chairman of the United Campaign.

During his 20-year tenure with the YMCA, the annual membership has grown from a little over 1,000 members with a budget of $45,000 to a membership of over 5,000 with a budget of $160,000. In 1958, a $450,000 addition was added to the YMCA which houses its 75-foot swimming pool where thousands of swimmers have been trained from beginning skills to Olympic championships.

Mr. Devenney noted that 257 organized groups operated in the Y last year with an enrollment of 6,138. The YMCA facilities are open 9 a.m. to 10:30 p.m. on a seven day a week schedule.

Looking Backward

Fifty Years Ago

The Lackawanna Railroad featured a Decoration Day Week-end excursion to Niagara Falls for $11, round-trip.

Five strikers and two strike-breakers were indicted as a result of activities resulting from the strike at the Summit Silk Mill.

Decoration Day activities included two baseball games and an evening meeting held at Lincoln School featuring a chorus of 50 public school students.

Twenty-five Years Ago
Ambrose E. Vanderpoel, owner of the Castle, died, leaving his estate, estimated at $3,000,000 to $4,000,000, to charity.

City Hall and the city's fire houses were repainted under the services of the Works Progress Administration—WPA.

A new A and P Supermarket opened on Summit avenue, featuring free parking, along with fresh hams at 16 cents per pound; turkeys at 23 cents per pound; large white eggs at 29 cents per dozen, and California oranges at 25 cents per dozen.

Ten Years Ago
Canoe Brook residents protested rezoning of the school district so that 42 children would transfer from Lincoln to Washington school.

In the face of an unprecedented summer demand for water, coupled with a dry spell, homes in the hill section of the city were without water for periods of time over the week-end.

Leo O'Grady was elected chairman of the Summit Area Chapter, American Red Cross, succeeding Carleton W. Pierson, who had served two terms.

Five Years Ago
Common Council went on record as completely opposed to construction of a Union County Vocational High School.

The Municipal Youth Guidance Council advised the city's PTA groups that teenage drinking was a serious city problem.

Mrs. Bernard J. Fallon of 61 DeForest avenue, the city's oldest resident, marked her 101st birthday.

Senior High Names Basketball Coach
Lee K. Ammannman of Wilmington, Del., has been named basketball coach at Summit High School, replacing Joseph Coleman who resigned last month to become head coach at Plainfield High School.

Mr. Ammannman, a graduate of Rutgers University, also coached there and at Girard University. While teaching at Wilmington, Mr. Ammannman was for two years secretary of the Delaware Basketball Coaches Association.

This pea

was cooked without a flame.
It has lost little, if any, of its goodness in the cooking water.
The more water you use, the more vitamins wind up down the drain. If you could cook vegetables in next to no water, the vitamins would stay put. This is exactly what happens when you cook without a flame. The surface cooking units on an electric range are so precisely controlled that a whole pot of peas needs less than one-half cup of water. The point? Cook electrically and get all of the nutrition nature can give. An electric range cooks rings around the rest.

Heights Man Wins Bell 'Good Samaritan' Award

William W. Butler of 15 Shadow Lane, Berkeley Heights, has been awarded an employee citation by the New Jersey Bell Telephone Co. for giving emergency first aid treatment to a man seriously injured in a car accident in New Providence.

Butler, a repairman in the company's plant department, was driving on his way to a job in Murray Hill on January 21, when he saw a three-car collision. The accident occurred at the intersection of Diamond Hill road and Mountain avenue, New Providence.

A man in one of the automobiles had suffered a severe head wound when he crashed through the windshield. Butler carried the injured man from his car and administered first aid by placing compresses over the wound.

Butler then turned his attention to a passenger in the car who was bleeding from a chin laceration. After treating this wound, the repairman returned to the more seriously injured accident victim and applied a head bandage to hold the compresses in place.

Police and the New Providence Rescue Squad transported the injured persons to the hospital.

Butler has worked for New Jersey Bell for more than nine years.

The Department of the Interior has approved 404 sites to conserve natural resources and early history. These areas of interest are designated as registered natural historic landmarks.

When telephone service between New York and London began in 1927, a three-minute conversation cost $75. Today, the charge is $12 in daytime, $9 at night and on Sunday.

Sussex Site of YMCA Indian Tribe Pow-Wow

YMCA Camps Linwood and MacDonald in Sussex County, were the site of the YMCA's Indian Guide Pow-wow, June 19-20. More than 250 fathers and sons took part in the weekend, highlighted by the installation of new tribal chiefs and the elevation of Bernard Von Hoffman, 17 Manor Hill road, to the position of chief of the Watchung Longhouse, which includes 21 Indian Guide tribes from the Summit Area.

The campfire program Saturday night included skits by seven tribes, songs, and a story, ending with a torchlight parade. Indian Guides entering third grade were graduated in a formal ceremony into the Pioneers, a club program which includes gym and swim activities.

Those graduating into Pioneers are: Parr Wiegand, Allan Hadley, Steven Merrick, David Rosen, Richard Messner, Brian Alford, Jimmy Caporaso, Dick Himman, Crow Tribe; Michael Gordon, Navajo; Bret Underhill, Robert Newman, Mark Holcomb, Sioux; Bob Allen, Hugh Wright, Larry Mann, Matthew Powers, and David Chalener into the Ranger program from the Mohawks.

Also, Jeffrey Sharp, Thomas McDowell, John Strachan, Carl Marisalo, John Hershey, Cheyenne; Robert Ortnier, Arapaho; Jim Atwood, Jody Fitzpatrick, Iroquois; and Robert Dwyck-inck, Lenape.

Other activities of the weekend included a treasure hike, Indian games and free time for swimming, fishing, and boating. The chapel service on Sunday was conducted by the big and little braves of the Sioux tribe.

The Indian Guide program is open to first and second grade boys and is designed to strengthen the relationship between fathers and sons. Each tribe has from six to nine father-and-son-couples and is organized on a neighborhood basis. The Indian theme is carried out in all meetings in ceremonies, stories, games, and projects. New tribes will form in the fall. Anyone interested in the program may contact YMCA Youth Secretary, Howard Merrick, 273-3330.

Library Announces New Summer Hours

The adult department at the Public Library will be open from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday through Thursday during the summer months, and on Friday from 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. It was announced this week. The boys' and girls' department will remain open from 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Monday through Friday.

During the summer the library will remain closed on Saturdays.

Parents who ordinarily come with their children to the boys' and girls' department on Saturdays, may select books from the Family Corner, which is open Monday through Thursday until 9 p.m. or they may call during the daytime and have the children's librarian set books aside at the adult circulation desk for evening pick up.

School Hassle 50-Years Ago Involved 12 'Tots'

A hassle developed here 50 years ago over the fact that because there was only an average attendance of 12 pupils at the old West End School, local Board of Education members decided to close the building and transport the children involved to Brayton school by autobus.

Once the decision was announced, parents in the West Summit section, as well as members of the West End Civic Association, protested to both the Board of Education and Common Council.

Among the reason for closing the school, a portable structure which had been opened three years earlier and had one teacher, was that the expenditure over the year amounted to over $750, which the Board of Education did not feel warranted for the number of children involved. It was expected that the teacher would be assigned to another building.

Residents of the area protested the school closing on the basis that the building was needed for the "tots" already there and to attract residents into the area. The building had originally been opened so that the "tots" would not have to walk nearly a mile to school.

The West End Association maintained that West Summit was "not being treated fairly" and that next year there would be nearly 25 students involved. In appealing to Common Council for help and for the appropriation of $1,000 to keep the school open, city fathers told the Association delegation that school affairs were strictly the business of the Board of Education and the Board of School Estimate.

Shortly after the Association's appearance at Common Council, the Summit Herald came out editorially in favor of keeping the school open, saying that the school budget of $77,000 was adequate to cover the costs of the West End School.

As the school year came to a close, while the adults still discussed, the "tots" still did not know where they would return to school in September.

Jensen's Jewelers 2nd In 'Champ' Pin Event

New Providence — Jensen's pins behind the winning Hillside Jewelers, the champions of the New Providence Men's Bowling League, finished in second place in the 12th annual "Champion of Champions" tournament conducted by the Union County Bowling Center.

Jensen's had a high game of 1,017, and a scratch series of 2,740. The handicap series score was 3,274.

Howie Beekman and Andy DeFilippis rolled "honor roll" series for the Jewelers. Beekman had games of 221 and 211, while DeFilippis had games of 223 and 203. Bernie Maulbeck had a 214 game, while Herb Strong rolled a 212 and 196 and finished with a 561 series.

Jensen's finished 11th in the same tournament last year. The second-place finish was the best ever achieved in a Union County Bowling Association tournament by a team from the Berkeley Recreation alleys.

Rangers' Nine Clinches Title

Summit — The Rangers outlasted the Mustangs and took home the championship honors in the Board of Recreation-sponsored 8th and 9th Grade Baseball League.

The teams were tied for first place with 5-3 records when they met in the final game of the season. The Rangers took a 1-0 lead after the first frame, and the score remained that way until the fourth inning when an error scored Sperco to make it 2-0. The Rangers clinched the game in the fifth frame. Underwood and Wilkinson got hits to score four runs. The Rangers won 6-2.

The standings:

Heights Police Shooters Split

The Berkeley Heights police split two matches last week in the Union County Police Pistol League.

Berkeley Heights downed the Pennsylvania Railroad, 1,134-1,093, but lost to league-leading Elizabeth, 1,186-1,135. Elizabeth has won eight straight matches. Berkeley Heights has a 3-4 record.

New Providence lost to Hillside, 1,168-1,138, and to undefeated Union, 1,178-1,131. New Providence has a 2-7 record.

The area's other entry, Summit, has a 5-2 record after losing to Plainfield.

Rica paced Berkeley Heights with a 297 and 289. Venezia's 293 was best for New Providence. Bob Barchan had a 289 and 287 for the Borough marksmen.

U.S. credit unions in 1962 increased assets by nearly a billion dollars to a new high of $7.1 billion.

2 Area Hurlers On All-County

Two Summit Area schoolboy hurlers, Jeff Cain of Summit High and Fred Keimel of Governor Livingston Regional High, Berkeley Heights, were named to the second all-Union County team selected by the Newark News last week.

Bill Poznanski, New Providence first baseman, was a third-team choice.

Honorable mention was accorded John Larbalastrier, Governor Livingston outfielder, and George Mea and Larry Rovelstad, New Providence pitchers. Keimel also was a second-team choice for the Plainfield Courier-News' all Plainfield Area team, while Mea was selected for the third team.

Area Golfers Victors In 6 Tourney Matches

Three Summit Area golfers produced a total of six victories in match play before bowing out of the 64th annual State Amateur Golf Championships last week at the Plainfield Country Club.

Pat Paradise of Berkeley Heights, playing out of the Twin Brooks Country Club in Summit, made the best showing. Pat won three matches to gain the quarterfinal round before losing.

Frank Moroney won two matches, but was eliminated in the third round. Another Summit golfer, Joe Birofka, won his first-round match, but lost to Paul McGowan of Elizabeth, 5 and 3, in the second round.

McGowan went on to win the State championship. Paradise defeated Bill Dasti of Fairmount, 6 and 5, in the opening round and trimmed Les Sladkus of Copper Hill, 2 and 1, in a second-round match. He gained the tournament quarterfinals with a 5 and 3 victory over George Haines of Somerset Hills.

In the quarterfinal round, Paradise bowed to Jim Torre of

Cain, Keimel, Mea Top Area All-State Choices

The Summit Area failed to produce a scholastic baseball team with a winning record during the past spring, but it did produce some standout pitchers. This was quite evident in the all-State selections announced this week by two Newark newspapers.

Summit High's Jeff Cain was named to the Newark News' second all-Group 3 team and to the Newark Star Ledger's third all-Group 3 team.

New Providence High's George Mea was selected for Berkeley Heights — George Bubrick struck out 13 batters but the Berkeley Heights P.A.L. lost its opening game in the Intracounty Baseball League last Saturday.

Hillside Recreation nipped the P.A.L. nine, 5-4, with the help of a two-run homer by Ed Kovac. Bubrick pitched a no-hit, no-run game last spring for Governor Livingston Regional High.

Summit Netmen In Second Spot

Summit — The Summit Tennis Club moved into second place in the North Jersey Tennis League last weekend by scoring a 4-1 victory over the Racquets Club of Short Hills.

Arnold Williams and Bill Gilson won three-set, singles matches for Summit, while Phil Krieger won in straight sets. Ted Geballe and Joe Burton accounted for Summit's other point with a straight-sets doubles victory.

Sperco Nine Divides, Retains League Lead

Summit — Sperco Motors remains on top of the Summit Recreation Softball League, despite splitting the two games it played last week.

J&J Construction handed Sperco its second loss of the season, 9-0, as Rydinski twirled a masterful, two-hit shutout. Only two men got as far as second base, as Rydinski checked the Sperco sluggers.

Schieppe started things off with a two-run homer to left field, highlighting a three-run first inning. A six-run outburst in the third frame closed out the scoring.

Sperco got back in the win column with an 11-4 triumph over Colonial Pontiac. Colonial took a 4-3 lead in the second inning, but Sperco came back with four runs in both the fifth and sixth innings to notch the win.

Riola paced a nine-hit Sperco attack with three for four, including a two-run homer in the first inning. Colonial continued on the skids, dropping two more games during the week. Colonial lost 8-1 to Spring Lake and 2-0 to Park Bakery.

The "L" boys, Loth and Lawrence, provided the stick work for Spring Lake. Livlen scattered seven hits to pick up the Lakers' fifth win. Osmulski shut out Colonial, allowing only two hits, fanning eight, and walking only two. Gisoldi's home run with one aboard in the sixth inning provided the game's only scoring.

J&J scored its sixth win of the year and moved into second place by topping Park View Tavern, 10-5. Park View took an early 4-1 lead on Lockhart's three-run homer in the third. J&J came back with five runs in the fifth inning, and four in the seventh to win.

De Piana, with a double and a two-run homer, paced the winners' attack. Lockhart had a triple and a single, in addition to his homer, to lead the Park View hitters.

Balish notched its second win of the campaign, 9-5, over winless Park View Tavern. Park View led 5-3, but Balish picked up four runs in the fifth, and two in the sixth inning to seal the win. Wilkerson and Mallory had homers for Park View.

"Dear Loretta Young"...

By request of several readers, The Herald this week inaugurates on a trial basis an "advice" column prepared solely for weekly newspapers by Miss Loretta Young, TV and motion picture personality and winner of an Oscar and three Emmy awards.

"The Joker's Wild"

Dear Loretta: Before I met my wife I used to go with a girl and we always played bridge together. I might add that we were a winning combination. I saw this girl recently and she invited me to play in tournaments with her on one night a week.

My wife doesn't understand this at all — she got very upset when I mentioned it. She usually isn't the jealous type but she's very pregnant now and takes offense easily.

Can you possibly tell me how to present this so my wife will understand and let me have one harmless night out a week. — Card Shark

Dear "CARD SHARK": You are some joker! I can't believe you're for real. Your wife is carrying your baby and you have the gall to want to cut out for a "night out" once a week. The term "night out" means "night out with the boys." NOT with the girls and particularly not with old flames.

You may have great card sense but you completely lack common sense.

We women need reassuring if you haven't noticed. This is scarcely the way to do it.

"Should He Buy A Car at 16?"

Dear Loretta: Our son, 16, has saved enough money from his supermarket job to buy a used car. He is a junior in high school, a better than average student and is pretty well behaved. Should we allow him to buy the car? — Slightly Appreciative Mother

Prune Out Dead Wood in Trees

Dead limbs and large branches have shown up in many trees this spring. Now twigs and small branches two inches or less in diameter are drying out and dying.

This is evidence of low moisture content. Most of it is attributed to severity of last year's drought. Some of it has been aggravated by a dry spring in some sections of the country. Some is due to insect and disease attack, to poor nutrition and neglect.

These trees should be given immediate attention before hot dry summer makes further inroads due to moisture lack.

Healthy trees have a built-in mechanism to survive droughts. By shedding excessive leaves, sometimes cupping and dropping those that remain to cut down on moisture loss, vigorous trees come through searing summers almost unscathed.

But trees once weakened by any cause go into decline. Unless deadwood is removed, soon death may spread to other branches. Pruning should be accompanied by feeding and spraying to ward off insect attacks on leaves and prevent defoliation.

Removal of diseased branches is highly important now to check spread of cankers, galls, witches' brooms and dieback blights. Burning these limbs is usually the most practical means of disposal.

Dry Weather Hurts Leaves

Spotted and torn leaves have been common this spring, and not often the result of any plant disease or insect attack.

The weather's to blame and the trees that have suffered the most are those that have been given the most loving tender care during the past few years, according to John J. Kupcho, Agricultural Agent of Essex County.

Trees with soft tender, lush growth were particularly susceptible to the somewhat adverse weather of the past month, he says, and this is what happened. Lots of rain in April brought out beautiful foliage, and the well fertilized plants were prettiest of all. Then came the extremely high winds and warm, dry weather of mid-May, raising havoc with the tender growth.

Now the "slow-up" season for tree growth is approaching, and there's less and less scorch damage because the leaves are harder, explains Mr. Kupcho.

From now on some fungus or bacterial diseases should appear, but injury to lush growth should be less.

You can get more information on this subject by writing to the Essex County Agricultural Extension Service, 246 Bloomfield avenue, Caldwell, and asking for the free leaflet "Leaf Scorch."

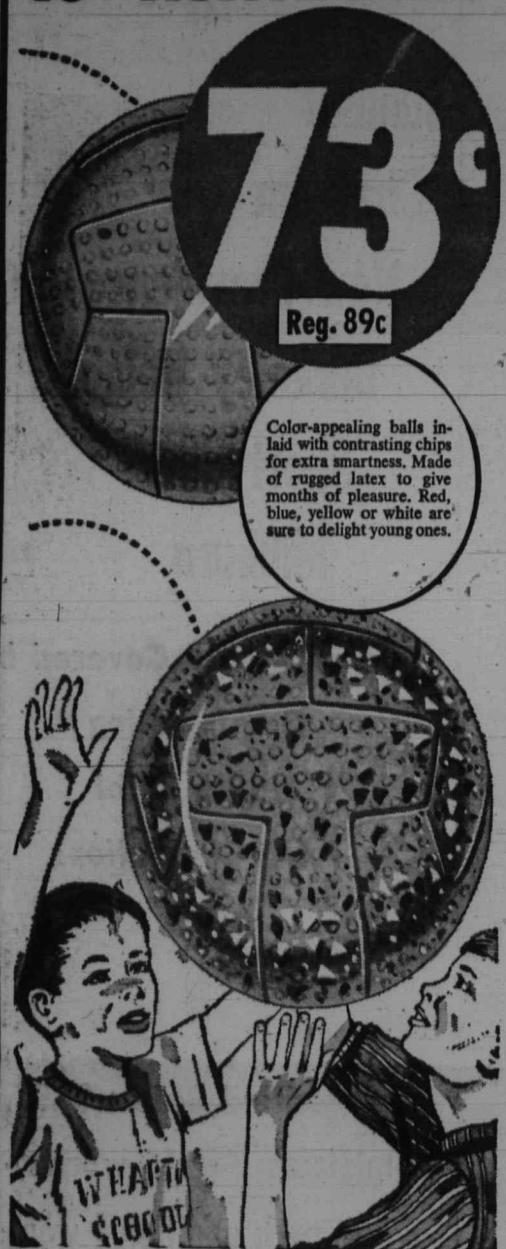

Scale Insects Controllable

Scale insects are spongers. They board and lodge with their hosts — trees, shrubs, plants. By sucking plant juices from leaf and stem they can cause leaves to yellow, twigs and branches to die and have been known to kill trees.

June is the time to look for these pests, especially on evergreens, and to control many of them.

Control can be achieved when just-hatched young are crawling and have not settled down for the rest of their lives. Some later develop hard shells that are impervious to sprays that should be used in June — contact insecticides.
