

Planning Board Weighs Subdivision Plan for New Boulevard Homes

A final Planning Board decision was pending this week over a major subdivision proposal which would permit construction of 14 new homes on the "West Gates" property at Kent Place boulevard and Passaic avenue.

The application to subdivide the 5.6 acre tract of land was the subject of a public hearing last Thursday night at City Hall attended by an estimated 30 persons. The land is currently owned by Fred and Evelyn Glasser.

Although there were no major objections to the proposed housing development, CIBA voiced concern over possible drainage problems arising over the filling in of a pond on the property. CIBA owns land adjacent to the tract under consideration.

In requesting permission to build the homes, Philip Scutair, jr., developer, of Rahway, indicated that the 14 proposed homes would be colonial in architecture and that the existing structure on the land would be moved to a new location on the tract, but without the solarium.

He added that the homes would comply with the look-alike ordinance and would be priced from the low to mid 40's. No distinction, he said, would be made between those homes in the A-10 and A-15 zones, but he said there would be some bi-level construction because of the grading of land.

Mr. Scutair maintained that the natural topography of the land would be maintained and that as many trees as possible would be kept. He added that the buildings along Kent Place boulevard would be constructed within the existing shrubbery.

The balance of the homes would be on Carline court, which would be a newly-con-

New Parking Lot Slated to Open Monday

The city's newest commuter parking lot will officially open on Monday at the site of the old railroad freight yards at Broad street and Summit avenue. Entrance into the lot will be from Broad street.

The new lot will be able to accommodate 157 cars, and in order to use the facilities, permits will be required. It will cost 25c to park for 12 hours.

Those who are entitled to use the new lot are local residents, persons who work for local businesses and property owners not necessarily living in Summit. Permits may be obtained at the City Clerk's office, City Hall.

Property for the new parking facility was purchased by the city from the Erie-Lackawanna Railroad earlier this year. The cost of purchase and construction of the parking lot has amounted to $57,000.

At the same time the Elm street lot near the Junior High School has been converted into a shoppers' lot while new 25 five-hour meters have been installed at the parking lot between the YMCA and Public Library.

With completion of the city's newest lot, Summit now has a total of four commuter facilities.

Par-3 Golf Course Proposed in Area Of Vanderpoel

Plans for the construction and operation of a 12-acre municipal par-3 golf course in the city were announced today by the Board of Recreation.

The proposal for a 9-hole course to be built at the Vanderpoel Park site, River road and Morris-Essex turnpike, at a cost of $79,000, has been sent to Common Council, and an enabling ordinance is expected to be introduced.

Board President Charles D. Brannan, in announcing the proposal, said that with favorable action by Council, preliminary work could begin next month. It is anticipated that the course would be completed late in 1966, and open for play in the spring of 1967.

Brannan said that the par-3 course would be of "professional caliber," with one water hole over Vanderpoel Pond, and "a real challenge to both the veteran golfer and the beginner alike."

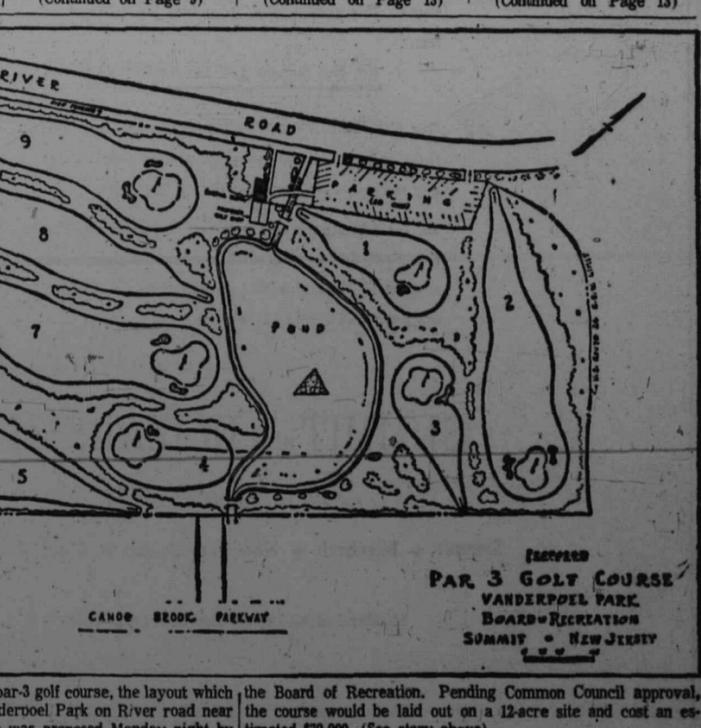

Golf architect for the project is Hal Purdy, of Short Hills. A well-known architect, recognized by the National Golf Foundation, he was the designer of the new Fairmont Country Club course at Chatham Township.

Extensive Study The proposal to locate a golf course on the Vanderpoel site, Mr. Brannan explained, came after extensive study of the possibilities for the long-range development of the city-owned park land at Summit's northwest corner. He cited a number of reasons favoring its use as a golf course:

- * The property is permanently dedicated to park and recreation purposes;
- * It is now used on a very limited basis, primarily for winter-time ice skating;
- * Most of the site is now overgrown with underbrush and its development would have an over-all beautifying effect on the entire area, especially important in view of the location on an approach to Summit;
- * The rolling terrain and pond make it an ideal site for golf;
- * Golf today is the nation's "fastest growing participant sport," but the few public facilities available in this area are "badly overcrowded," and;
- * Golf is a sport enjoyed by people of all ages and sexes.

"In its present program," Brannan said, "the Board of Recreation operates facilities that encompass a broad range of popular recreational and cultural activities. In addition to the summer playground program, these activities include: baseball, softball, tennis, football, basketball, volleyball, roller skating, ice skating and

In response, Council President Elmer J. Bennett said Council "has notified the Governor that

PROPOSED FOR SUMMIT—A par-3 golf course, the layout which is shown above, located at Vanderpoel Park on River road near the Morris and Essex Turnpike was proposed Monday night by the Board of Recreation. Pending Common Council approval, the course would be laid out on a 12-acre site and cost an estimated $79,000. (See story above)

Fire Ruins Tavern in Heights

An early morning fire last Thursday heavily damaged the Crystal Manor Cocktail Lounge and Restaurant at Springfield and Plainfield avenues, Berkeley Heights.

Police were alerted of the fire at 3:25 a.m. by a neighbor, who is a volunteer fireman and said he smelled smoke. Assistant Fire Chief Carl Carpenter and fifty members of the volunteer department had the blaze under control 45 minutes after receiving the alarm but stayed at the scene until 6:15 a.m.

Police said the fire apparently started near the kitchen at the rear of the 2-story structure and spread to a second floor apartment and then to another apartment over the cocktail lounge.

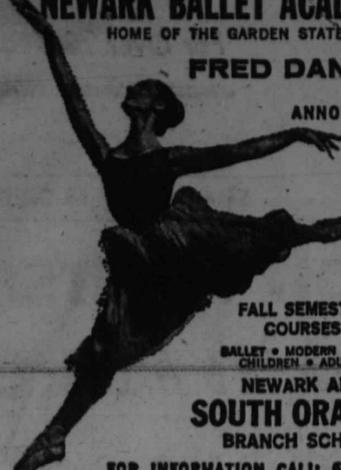

The stucco building is owned by Donato Cantulpo of Watchung who until recently lived on the second floor.

Christ Church Revamps Sunday School Program

Several innovations will mark the opening of church school at Christ Church, including a new youth choir class, combining Christian education and music; a senior high study and project program; and a ninth grade seminar series.
 Believing the church school "needs an influx of new ideas and fresh approaches" especially in the upper grade levels, the church's board of Christian Education is experimenting with such classes. Mrs. Robert Searles, youth choir director, and Mrs. Royer Blair of Berkeley Heights are co-teachers. The selection of music is largely based on the junior high united church curriculum. Both curriculum and music are taught. The class meets at the regular church school hour, 9:30 a.m., and regular church school classes are

United Fund Is Aided by Kid's Carnival

"Show me Summit kids with fair on their minds, and I'll show you some united fun." And the United Fund is five dollars richer.
 The money came from a carnival held by seven Summit children on September 1 and 2, from 2 to 4 in the afternoon. The kids themselves belong to some of the many United Fund organizations — Boy Scouts, Cub Scouts, YMCA, YWCA, etc.
 Those who participated in the event were Clive and Ruth Smith and Tom Barber of Tanglewood drive; and Tom, Mike and Carol Kizzia and Don Chambers of Blackburn road.
 The carnival was held at 46 Tanglewood drive, and offered a variety of games, such as "Knock the hats off," ring toss, a treasure hunt and guessing games. Refreshments were also offered.
 Taking three days to prepare, the carnival was termed "very successful" with an estimated 50 people attending.

"Lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust doth corrupt, and where thieves do not break through nor steal" (Matthew 6:20).

This passage from the Bible will be the Golden Text for all Christian Sciences churches on Sunday. The subject of the Lesson-Sermon is "Matter," and it will feature the story of Job. Quotations to be read from the Christian Science textbook include the following: "Job said: 'I have heard of Thee by the hearing of the ear; but now mine eye seeth Thee.' Mortals will echo Job's thought, when the supposed pain and pleasure of matter cease to predominate. They will then drop the false estimate of life and happiness, or joy and sorrow, and attain the bliss of loving unselfishly, working patiently, and conquering all that is unlike God" (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, p.262).

Youth Group Plans Retreat This Weekend

Tomorrow the Senior High Fellowship of Christ Church will journey to Camp Kiameska in the Kittatinny Mountains for a weekend of play, fellowship, program planning and worship. Some 15 young people will be on the retreat and will be accompanied by Mrs. N. A. Burgess, jr.; Mrs. Homer Dudley, and Rev. Lewis Richardson. Comprised of high school youth from Summit, New Providence and Chatham, the Fellowship has played an active role in the life of Christ Church over the last two years. Besides weekly Sunday evening programs, it engages in service projects and varied social events during the year.

Two Fined $35 for Road Violations

Road violations cost two persons fines totaling $35 last week in Municipal Court. John Cotter of Chatham was fined $20 for speeding while Friedrich W. Kloecker of Pitts-town was given a $15 fine for violation of the city's marked lane law.

Parched lawn?

This weekend, give it this 3-step recovery treatment

Water If your lawn is baked hard, water moderately; follow with a deep watering a day or two before renovating.

Feed Apply AGRICO Grass Food over the whole lawn. This nutrient-packed fertilizer revives grass, and gives new seedlings a quick start and sturdy green growth.

Seed Next, rake the thin and bare areas severely to expose topsoil. Sow good quality seed. Rake lightly. Apply a light mulch of weed free straw or salt hay to conserve moisture. Sprinkle daily until seed comes up, at least 2 to 3 weeks.

Results show with Agrico — $4.95 bag feeds 5300 sq. ft.

Kiwanis Hears Apportionment Talk by Stamler

Senate reapportionment was the subject of a talk by State Sen. Nelson F. Stamler when he addressed a meeting of the Kiwanis Club on Tuesday at the Hotel Suburban.

Sen. Stamler, who said he was not "actually" the state senator from Union County, but rather represented the Ninth Senatorial District, noted that before the question of reapportionment came up, 54 per cent of the state's population lived in the five northern counties, while 46 per cent resided in the 16 mid and southern counties.

He also pointed out that up until now the rural counties controlled many of the state's affairs, but now under reapportionment, control could pass into the hands of the urban areas. Whether this was good or not, Sen. Stamler said he didn't know, but emphasized "we are going according to law," referring to the State Supreme Court's order of last year to reapportion.

Hotel Suburban Seeks $126,000 Cut in Taxes

A $126,000 cut in its tax assessment is being sought by the Hotel, Suburban, according to an appeal filed last week before the Union County Board of Taxation.

The hotel asks that its $635,000 building assessment be reduced to $530,875 and that its $87,000 land assessment be dropped to $65,000.

The county tax board is currently hearing appeals from Summit and New Providence.

English Classes Set to Begin at YWCA Next Week

English classes for non-English-speaking men and women will begin a 15-week series at the YWCA on Wednesday September 22, from 8 to 9:30 p.m. Registration may be made now or on the opening night of classes.

The YWCA's English class program was initiated in 1951 because of the need for the service in the area. For the last 14 years, some 150 men and women have attended annually, and have hailed from countries around the globe. Classes are kept small, to provide for maximum individual attention for each student. There are from 7 to 10 groups, graded from beginners through advanced. The entire teaching staff is a volunteer one, which insures a high degree of personal interest.

Two day-time tutoring classes instructed by Mrs. G. E. Low, are available for a limited number of students. Intensive instruction in reading, writing, grammar, pronunciation, will be given but emphasis will be on attaining oral fluency. Both classes will begin on Tuesday, September 21. Intermediates will meet from 1:45-3:15 p.m., while the advanced students will meet from 3:15-4:45 p.m.

Membership in the English classes includes all privileges of YWCA membership. All may share in association events, join other classes or clubs, or work on committees. Several special parties are planned for the classes during the year.

Further information about the program may be had by telephoning Miss Tillie Louis, young adult program director, at the YWCA, 273-4242.

New Providence — The annual adult horseshoe pitching tournament in the borough will be held Sunday afternoon, September 26, at 1:30 p.m. To be held at Oakwood Park, the contest is open to all adult male residents.

The tourney will be sectioned into Class A and B Singles and Mixed Doubles. Rain date will be October 3.

Heights Man 'Adopts' Girl From Columbia

Berkeley Heights — Roger Gagnon of 32 Brook Street has financially "adopted" Stella Aras, a 10-year-old from Bogota, Columbia through Foster Parents' Plan, Inc. of New York City.

Under the terms of the "adoption," Gagnon will donate money each month. The funds will provide the girl with an $8 monthly cash grant, clothing, supplies, special medical care and guidance from social workers and the local Plan director.

In addition, Gagnon will write monthly letters to the girl and she, in turn, will answer. Both sets of letters will be translated by Plan.

Stella lives in a Bogota slum with a father who earns about $5.33 a week as a shoemaker's helper and an illiterate mother.

She has a twin sister, also a Plan child, and four other brothers and sisters ranging in age from two to 11.

The family has a one-room dwelling with three beds, two with mattresses and one without bedding, and shares a kitchen with another family. Rent with light and water costs $4.20 a month, leaving 66 cents a day to feed the eight-member group.

Stella, who suffers from continuous headaches which began long before she entered school, has just started second grade.

Special Mail To Include Extra Cash

Sometime during the last two weeks of September, residents of Union and Somerset Counties who get monthly social security benefits will receive an extra special envelope in the mail, according to Ralph W. Jones, social security district manager in Elizabeth.

This envelope will contain a special social security benefit check, representing a seven per cent increase in cash benefits for the months of January, through August. The monthly benefit increase is part of the 1965 amendments to the Social Security Act, which recently became law, Jones continued.

Early in October, beneficiaries will receive their first regular check at the increased rate. This will be the social security benefit for September. Each month thereafter, the check will be in the new amount.

Jones stressed that there is no need for a beneficiary to get in touch with the Social Security district office when the special check arrives. The amount of the check will be for the difference between the old and the new benefit rate for the period January through August, and will not be in the same amount as their regular monthly check.

United Campaign Agencies — Psychiatric Clinic.

Local Residents Helped Form County Unit in Closing Days of Last War

The community psychiatric clinic was founded in 1944 by Summit residents who with other western Union County leaders had the foresight to develop services needed then, but to be needed increasingly through the years.

Though "Union County" has always been a part of the name, it has always been a private non-profit organization with a Board of Trustees as the governing body from the communities which it serves.

Since presidential recognition of the problems of mental illness and retardation by John F. Kennedy, many citizens and professionals have been working to implement the program he outlined. The Union County Psychiatric Clinic has had a leading role in planning as through the years it has attempted to modify and expand to meet needs and changes within the county.

Currently, it is providing the traditional services of a child guidance clinic, a diagnostic and treatment service for the mentally retarded, an adult service which includes pre-hospitalization and post-hospitalization treatment, consultation to such community agencies such as the Visiting Nurse Association, Bureau of Children Services and the Willow School. The Visiting Nurse Associations in the county have been playing an increasingly active role with patients discharged from Marlboro State Hospital, and the clinic has been ready to serve those patients just as it has been ready to provide consultation to the public health nurse.

The clinic's work with court cases, the first organized consultation and treatment service to a community agency, continues. Another portion of the work is with school and local physician referrals which have been a part of the traditional child guidance program. However, voluntary and self referrals continue to be the largest source of cases handled by the clinic.

The clinic now has three full-time offices in Plainfield, Elizabeth and Muhlenberg Hospital and two part-time offices in Summit and Linden. Plans are underway for a fourth full-time office which will be located at Overlook Hospital.

The clinic's out-patient office in Muhlenberg Hospital has a staff of three psychiatrists, one psychiatric resident, a psychiatric social worker, and one clerical worker. This office has direct communication with the Plainfield office of the clinic and is a part of its administrative structure. In return for the office space and upkeep, the staff provides emergency and in-patient consultation services for the hospital during office hours. Psychiatric residents attend the hospital's medical pediatric clinics, and serve out-patient referrals from the hospital who are in the area of service.

The future of the clinic is a part of the Community Mental Health Centers which are being planned in a joint state-county planning effort under the Union County Mental Health Board, a governmental unit of Union County. Its work was reported at Princeton on June 28 and 29, and a final report by the state "Plan for Planning" office was issued recently. Participation in this planning leads the clinic to project some of the following directions in which the clinic will move:

1. Participate with hospitals in four locations in the county by opening clinic out-patient offices for children and adults as a part of the hospital but still under clinic supervision;
2. Participation with hospitals in their development of in-patient units, but not having a staffing of supervisory role, yet having beds available for patients in the same manner as any community patient might use the general hospital;
3. Participation in the planning of emergency psychiatric services and assuming an active role in staffing if this becomes the plan agreed on with the local hospital and psychiatrists in the hospital area;
4. Work toward the establishment of day care units for children and adults either as a part of the clinic's program, in conjunction with some other organization or with a governmental unit; (Bridgeway House, Elizabeth, is an example of such a day care unit and is sponsored by the Mental Health Association, the N. J. Rehabilitation Commission, and Marlboro State Hospital). The Willow School sponsored by the Mental Health Association is an example of what can be done for the pre-school child; and,
5. Participation in the planning of residential treatment facilities for children and adolescents.

The implementation of the plans noted above will take the cooperative efforts of many citizens, professionals, and organization with the clinic's role, defined and authorized by the Board of trustees on the recommendations of clinic professional staff.

For the Birds

The early ornithological writers like Wilson and Audubon wrote of seeing "hordes" and "vast numbers" of birds along the eastern seaboard. No actual counts were made, however, and it is impossible to tell what the trend of bird population has been. Only in recent years has any reliable data been gathered. Audubon Field Notes, published bimonthly, contains breeding bird population and winter bird population studies. Other publications contain data gathered through the use of mist nets to trap birds for banding.

What are the most abundant birds in New Jersey and how many birds live in the state are frequently asked questions. Of course, there are several answers, depending on when a count is made. Fewer birds spend the winter here than breed and tremendous numbers travel through the state on their way north.

A partial answer to the questions has been provided by the work of Dr. Jeff Swineboard of Douglass College reported in a paper presented to the annual meeting of the N. J. Audubon Society at Cape May on October 1, 1964. It was included in the recent issue of "New Jersey Nature News."

In 1958, David Fables, Jr., of the Union Junior College faculty wrote an annotated list of New Jersey birds. Three hundred seventy birds were recorded as seen in the state. Of these about 112 were said to breed here. Species are added to the list every year and by now, Dr. Swineboard estimates, the number has reached 120. Bull, in his recent book, puts the total species observable in the New York metropolitan area at 412. Most bird watchers, both professional and amateur, tend to place more emphasis on rare species than common ones. A tentative list of the states most common varieties include the ring-necked pheasant, laughing gull, rock dove (common pigeon), crested flycatcher, tree swallow, catbird, robin, wood thrush, red-eyed vireo, black and white warbler, yellow warbler, ovenbird, red-winged blackbird, common grackle, brown-headed cowbird, starling, rufous-sided towhee, and chipping, swamp and song sparrows.

Three areas in the state have been intensively studied in recent years. One is in the pine barrens of South Jersey the second in the Troy Meadows in North Jersey and the third in the vicinity of New Brunswick at Hutcheson Memorial Forest and University Heights Woods. Because of diverse habitats in these three spots, variations in specie lists exist. But together, they present a good picture of the states feathered population.

In these areas mist nets were used to capture birds without harming them. Bands were placed on their legs, records made and the tiny fellows were released. In the wooded parts of Central Jersey, the density was found to be 10 to 18 birds per acre; in the pine barrens the figure was 10 to 15. This calculates out to 20 to 35.4 million birds for the 46 percent of the state that is forested. Dr. Swineboard says, "When adequate samples are taken I suspect our breeding bird population will be about 40 to 50,000,000 birds!"

His paper concludes, "In the next 300 years, housing projects permitting, we will have a chance to study, measure and know our avifauna better. We'll be better for having done it."

The pampas is a South American Indian word meaning "a flat surface" and is a vast plain stretching across central Argentina from the Atlantic coast to the foothills of the Andes. It is bounded by the Chaco in the north and Patagonia in the south, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Early Chinese coins were shaped to show what could be bought with them. For example, some coins were shaped like the human body and were called "dress money."

The League of Women Voters

On Saturday the League of Women Voters will hold its annual finance drive, and again support is asked so that the important work of this valuable organization may be continued without hindrance.

Throughout the years, the League has been a powerful force in obtaining good government on city, state and national levels through its constant drive to educate the people.

Each year, and consistently, the local League renders valuable service to the community. Twice a year, before each primary and general election, local League members maintain a voters service, which addresses and mails to local voters over 7,000 candidate sheets containing non-partisan information on each candidate running for local and state office.

In addition, the League holds candidates' meetings, both locally and in other sections of Union County, bringing all candidates together for the public to hear and question.

The League also conducts special studies on pertinent topics, such as the future problem of refuse disposal which is currently under study and advisement.

The League also publishes at four or five year intervals Know Your Town and Know Your School booklets, which are of service to all residents, both new and old.

The local league has also conducted a Foreign Film Festival, showing the latest films on the United Nations and world economic problems. These films were open to the public and were attended by several High School classes.

Completely non-partisan in nature, the League, probably one of the best informed groups in the nation, deserves the wholehearted economic support of the community in order to continue its important and necessary work. The League, along with all responsible citizens, knows that an informed public is necessary if the democratic processes are to be continued and expanded.

When you are asked to contribute, contribute willingly. Your contribution, in these times of crises, can well mean the difference between a better informed nation of a nation woefully unprotected because of ignorance.

The Constitution Still Lives

Exactly 178 years ago tomorrow George Washington adjourned the convention that had sat for more than four months at Philadelphia to frame the United States Constitution. The job was finished and all that remained was ratification by the newly-formed states.

Since that September day in 1787, the United States has been governed by what some historians believe to be the most perfect instrument ever conceived by man for the benefit of man. Its interpretive elasticity, prophetic in nature, has never ceased to amaze and beguile students of law. The succinct style and clarity of construction gives one the feeling that the Founding Fathers had no truck with flamboyant verbiage, but rather looked upon the Constitution as merely an outline, a guide of how the new republic should be governed. It would be for the future generations to fill in the outline with interpretation and thus give it body.

Down through the years the Constitution has been our bulwark of strength against those who would destroy us. It is the symbol of our basic belief that every man is entitled to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

In these times when the Constitution is frequently called upon to interpret some of our most basic traditions, there are those who would use the Constitution as a weapon to deprive some persons their inalienable rights as free men in a free society. The Constitution was designed to benefit all, minority and majority alike, regardless of political philosophy, creed, religion or race. It is this concept which the Founding Fathers agreed upon that makes the Constitution the living thing it is and will continue to be, so long as we continue to have faith in its contents and in the democratic way of life which it advocates.

Back to School

It may come as a surprise to young people who feel that those of us advanced in years — by them coldly called "old people" — are unsympathetic to hear we have a sadness equal to theirs over the passing of summer and the summons back-to-school.

Neither of us have any objection to the going back to the classroom, not really. Once the first few trips to the classes are completed, the routine rolls along, offering new challenges and new chances. But the regret at the beginning of a new school year is the sad realization that a little bit of young lives are over; that the fun of summer enjoyed in the special way of children is now only a recollection. For those of us with children, it is an acceleration of the growing up process, the adding of a new year to their lives and ours.

With a new school year responsibility intercepts the carefree, relaxed days of summer, replacing them with the regimented routine of learning. The steady climb up the ladder of education reminds parents and children of the passing of time. The new school year, the new school texts, the new school lessons keep telling us children are growing up, getting bigger, and moving more and more into their private world of special friends, special interests and special fun enjoyed only as those of the young years can do.

The partnership of parents is put in its proper perspective as supervisor, guardian, counsellor and when necessary as "insurance" underwriting "living" expenses.

The lessons of the classroom need to be learned. They are refreshing and inviting. But how much more these lessons mean, how much more they teach, how much greater rewards in pleasure and satisfaction is made possible by the prelude of summer.

The sounding of the school bell is one moment when we can share so fully with the young people the nostalgia and reluctance of admitting that another summer has ended and a new school year has begun.

Branch Line
(Somerville Messenger-Gazette)
Remember the small, soot-stained depot beside the railroad tracks at the edge of the village? Remember the old steam engine that pulled the accommodation with its two or three passenger cars and one baggage car?

It was just a branch line that ran from the city through the valley and among the hills, an artery that connected small towns and villages with the heart of a population center.

Many millions of Americans remember the long-drawn, high-pitched lonesome-sounding whistle of the engine. Old 57 came chugging along between hills, over trestles and a built-up roadbed. Far down the line at Wilder's Crossing, the whistle blew, two long and two short.

In small gray depots men and boys waited for the train with its cream jugs, milk cans, egg cases and hen crates. The whistle of steam engines is part of the unfinished symphony of a great nation's growth. Branch lines spread through the middle west; they ran through pine woodlands in the south; they twisted in and out among the mountains of the northeast. That far-carrying whistle floated over the plains, echoed among the hills, and spread through the evergreens flats.

Branch lines are almost gone. They served their purpose while a nation was growing to meet its destiny — a destiny still to be achieved. Branch lines with their trains and depots have gone over the horizon to join buffalo robes, kerosene lamps, and fringe topped surreys.

It would be good if once again a man could stand by the depot and watch Old 57 come around the bend with bell clanging, steam hissing and hear the clatter of metal as the brakes were applied. And part of the history of branch lines would be the resolutions of boys who have watched the train disappear up the track, and have vowed that some day they would be on that train, riding away to life's high adventures.

Theirs, Not Ours
Editor, Summit Herald:

On several occasions during the summer and most recently in today's issue of the Herald, I have noted that the paper is way behind the times.

The articles I am referring to are about local residents who have enlisted in the U. S. Air Force; but the paper insists on calling it the Army Air Corps or Army Air Forces. Gentlemen, you are about 20 years out of date for the U. S. Air Force was created by act of Congress as a separate branch of the military with equal status with the Army and Navy on 18 Sept. 1947. The public has enough misconceptions about the military without having the local paper refer to the U. S. Air Force by the name of its predecessor.

James R. Shannahan,
6 Portland road

Editor's Note: Such releases are printed as they are received from the various branches of the military. The nomenclature is theirs, not ours.

Floater to Holiday
Editor, Summit Herald:

Two editorials published in the area last July suggested that the float of the "Fair Housing Committee" of Chatham is what the 4th of July "was all about" and that the float should for that reason have been accepted for the 4th of July parade. We believe this view to be a serious misconception of the holiday.

Since interest in the above subject has continued, it is important to be reminded again what the 4th was about. July 4th, 1776 is the day when the thirteen Colonies publicly severed their ties to England and declared themselves Free and Independent States—freed from oppressive, big government. Independence is the event we have celebrated for nearly 200 years and that is why the 4th is called Independence Day. The Declaration of Independence is the document which explains the causes which impelled the Colonies to take so drastic a step. The causes were the abuses and usurpations of the British Government and these are listed at length in the Declaration.

The point is that the offenses cited are all by government against the people. Significantly, the first ten Amendments to the Constitution — the Bill of Rights — adopted later, guarantees freedom of speech, of religion and of assembly; due process of law; jury trials, etc. Here again, the issue is government vs. people. Accordingly, all Americans stand united in celebrating the 4th of July in the sense of the Day of Independence from an oppressive government.

The "Fair Housing Committees" are publicly identified with a different issue. This issue is a conflict between a particular minority and those who may be defined as having simply a natural, decided preference for their own kind as neighbors and friends, who are concerned about the interests and feelings of their neighbors

Macheska's arrest also led to the arrest of two more Summit juveniles who are believed to have been involved in a series of thefts here and at Chatham. So far a total of eight youths are being questioned by both Madison and Summit police.

The gang is being quizzed about several residential robberies which took place during the summer months both in Summit and Chatham. They also have been questioned about an earlier theft at Summit High School during which several pieces of equipment, such as typewriters and tape recorders were stolen. Some of these items have been recovered by police as a result of the quizzing when it was disclosed that the loot was hidden near the Passaic river in the rear of Stanley avenue. Weather has ruined much of the recovered goods.

Summit police also have charged one of the Summit juveniles with breaking into Macheska's house earlier this month when he felt that he had not been given his full share of the bowling alley robbery money. Police said the youth

Phonetown, N.J.

THE THIRD LARGEST CITY IN THE STATE.

It's an imaginary town populated by Bell System men and women who live in New Jersey. And it's a big town. If the size of Phonetown surprises you, so perhaps will some of the facts about the people who bring you the world's best telephone service.

200,000 people. Over 60,000 employees and their families. (There are more than 425 Smiths, 150 Joneses, and 2 Zygals.) They live up the street or around the corner. And the majority of the Phonetown breadwinners are building careers with the phone company.

Opportunity. Expanding Phonetown offers all sorts of opportunities to today's youth. Each year 6,800 people are hired in New Jersey to join in the work of bringing you the world's best phone service.

New worlds. Keeping ahead in communications is a story of constant research and development. This creates or fosters the development of whole new industries. The transistor is a classic example; it was developed by Phonetown people at Bell Laboratories in New Jersey. Another benefit of Bell research: the continuing search for new ways to help hold down costs of service.

They're all spending—and saving—in New Jersey. Most of Phonetown's $475 million payroll goes right into the economy of our state—to buy everything from groceries to appliances to bubblegum.

4,000 quarts of ice cream. In their workday activities, telephone men and women consume huge quantities of locally supplied products and services. The ice cream? One month's supply bought for New Jersey Bell cafeterias. Another interesting figure: 12,500 gallons of gas are used each workday in company cars and trucks.

Jobs for others. Service is expanding. New, advanced systems are replacing older techniques. The result? A vigorous telephone company providing jobs and orders in quantity to businesses throughout the state. For instance, each year Western Electric alone spends over $100 million for products and services provided by New Jersey companies.

YM Continues Indian Guide Recruitment

Recruitment for YMCA-Indian Guides will continue through September 26. There will be displays in most of the schools and many of the stores in Summit, New Providence, and Berkeley Heights. Each display will contain tribal projects, colorful costumes and information about joining.

Y-Indian Guides is a national program sponsored by the YMCA for boys in the first and second grade. It provides the opportunity for father and son to do things together at a time in the boy's life when he can use masculine influence of his father.

Tribes of about nine boys and their fathers are organized on a neighborhood basis and the Indian theme is used because of the mutual interest and a model of the father and son relationship. Meetings are held in member's homes on a rotation basis. Tribes meet twice monthly. There are regular gatherings of all tribes for special affairs in addition to special tribal activity.

This year it is expected that there will be in excess of 25 active tribes, involving about 250 men and their sons, participating in the Summit Area.

All first and second grade boys have been given literature at school about Indian Guides. Call Howard Merrick, youth secretary at the Y, 273-3330, for additional information.

Special Classes Listed by YMCA For School Girls

New programs for Junior High School girls will be included in the girls' and women's activities at the YMCA this year. A weekly "Slim, Trim, and Swim" fitness and recreation period including instruction in slimnastics will be offered to Junior High girls on Wednesdays from 3:30 to 5 p.m. and judo will be taught on Fridays from 3:30 to 4 p.m. Co-ed swimming for junior and senior high girls is regularly scheduled and special courses in gymnastics and hula will be offered during the year.

Grade school girls (grades 3-6) are now meeting weekly for gym and swim programs on Tuesday afternoons. Swimming and diving instruction is offered to girls ages 8 to 15, in weekly classes according to ability.

Women's slimnastics classes will begin Monday, September 20. Classes are held Monday and Thursday at 9:30 and 10:15 a.m. for "Y" members. An evening slimnastics class is held on Wednesdays at 7:45 p.m. beginning September 22 which is open to non-Y members also for a nominal fee. There are also regularly scheduled times during the week for women's swimming and badminton.

Girls and women interested in participating are invited to contact Y physical director, Louis T. Choquette, for further information. The fall schedule and brochure is now available at the YMCA.

"Back Door" Open Again Tomorrow

It will be "mystery guest night" tomorrow when "Back Door" will again be open at Central Presbyterian Church between 8 p.m. and 11 p.m. Performers will include Peter, Paul and Carlos, Cathy Bruce and Carol Slavin. Also scheduled to be on hand will be the "Successions" of New Providence, winners of last summer's band competition at the World's Fair.

"Back Door" is open to students ninth grade and over regardless of religious affiliation. Attendance at the programs have averaged over 400. After tomorrow, there will be only three more such programs.

YM to Register Boys for Fall Gym Classes

This Saturday will be open house and registration day for grade-school boys' programs at the YMCA. Pioneers (third graders) will register at 9 a.m., Rangers (fourth graders) at 10 a.m., Pathfinders (fifth graders) and Voyageurs (sixth graders) at 11 a.m. All boys should be accompanied by a parent, preferably father, and bring sneakers, a swim suit and towel for a swim and gym session after the orientation program.

All programs are divided into groups of 10-12 boys with two fathers leading each group, supervised by the YMCA youth and physical staff. They meet on Saturday mornings for two hour sessions of athletics, skill classes and crafts, swimming and club activities. Skills include physical fitness, trampoline, tumbling, sports, scrap-wood fun, nature and science study. Older boys will receive skill instruction in practical work such as basic auto engine, household repairs, dealing with electricity, woodworking, and pet care. Other activities during the year include father-son get-togethers and trips, jet-box and scrapwood derbies, and service projects.

All boys from Summit and neighboring towns are welcome. Participants are required to become YMCA members. For further information, contact "Y" youth secretary, Howard B. Merrick, 273-3330.

Watching Horse Show Set for This Sunday

The 27th annual Watching Hunter show will be held at the Union County Park Commission's Watching Stables, Glenside avenue, on Sunday, beginning at 9 a.m. The show is sanctioned by the American Horse Shows Association and offers spectators an opportunity to view the better-known hunters in the Metropolitan area, along with leading exhibitors and riders in North Jersey. About 100 horses are expected to compete in the event.

This year, the Watching Hunter show, will honor Major and Mrs. Thomas N. Tully of Springfield. Major Tully recently retired as manager of the Watching Hunter show. The couple had devoted their time to members of the Watching Troop with the result that this organization is said to be the largest children's riding group in the United States. A "Tully Challenge Trophy" will be placed in competition for the first time for the members of the Watching Troop who will be judged on horsemanship over fences.

has been officially rated as an "honor show" for 1965 by the American Horse Shows Association. The show is also a member of the Garden State Horse Shows Association. structed street ending in a cul-de-sac, that would start on Passaic avenue.

Objection of drainage of the land, which was termed a "diversion" to CIBA property, was voiced by Ralph Sayre, of CIBA. It was pointed out, that a pond on the West Gates property would be filled in if home construction was approved.

Mr. Sayre asked that drainage take place toward Passaic avenue, but Councilman Edward C. Holmes, member of the Planning Board, pointed out that such drainage would not be possible without pumping facilities since Passaic avenue is at a higher elevation.

Alonzo W. Lawrence, Rahway engineer, speaking for the petitioner said that it was not feasible to lift water to Passaic avenue, because of what he termed "the law of economics." He added that such action would be "opposing nature and would be diverting the water shed. He noted that such a procedure would require a wet well at the low point on Carline court as well as a pumping station which would have to be maintained.

Mr. Sayre claimed that construction on the land and the filling in of the pond would materially direct the amount of water flowing onto CIBA property directly in back of the houses and that the water would be diverted.

In his presentation, Mr. Scutari indicated that initially three model homes would be built. Construction would start on Kent Place boulevard and that all houses would be semi-custom built. He added that an estimated one and one-half years would be required for construction, with a late fall start if approval were received.

Mr. Lawrence said the proposal also took into account a five-foot strip along Passaic avenue in the event the county intended to widen the roadway. Houses on Kent Place boulevard would have a 30 foot setback.

After some discussion regarding the legalities of water runoff, David Feinberg, attorney for Mr. Scutari, indicated that precedent court cases had indicated that water flow diversion was within the rights of a land owner as long as such diversion did not "substantially affect the flow."

The Planning Board revealed at the meeting that a letter had been received from Thomas Reinauer, of 9 Dunder drive, suggesting that the city purchase West Gates for development as a recreation area.

Approval of the proposed houses was expressed by residents in attendance, including A. E. Hirsch, 33 Evergreen road, who said that the proposal was keeping with the purposes of the Master Plan. Former Common Councilman Charles I. Webster, Kent Place; E. B. Wakefield, 84 Passaic avenue; and W. A. van Bergeijk, 125 Passaic avenue.

In closing, Mr. Sayre said CIBA was not "out to criticize the developer". He added that he felt the company had qualms about the water diversion, which he said CIBA will ultimately have to undertake.

County Plan Board Urge Route Connector

A five-mile highway to connect Route 22 with Route 78 was recommended last Friday by the Union County Planning Board.

Harry Maslow, chairman, said the proposed connector would prevent the dumping of heavy through traffic on rural-type roads in Berkeley Heights.

shuffleboard, as well as sponsorship of band concerts, barbershop singing, and the Golden Age program. The addition of golf to this schedule will contribute to a more complete, well-rounded program that can be enjoyed by many more residents of Summit."

In its announcement, the Board estimated the total cost of the course would be $79,000. Included in the figure are a central control building, fencing, 50-car parking area, rental golf equipment, and maintenance equipment.

The building would be an all-purpose structure near the course entrance on River road. In addition to its use for golf, it would double as a shelter for the comfort, convenience and control of ice skaters in the winter. It is estimated that the building will be of brick and redwood construction and that the site's newly built rest room facilities will be incorporated into its design.

Robert Leisher, director of recreation, in providing some of the details of the project, said that the total length of the nine golf holes would be 1,001 yards—the national average for such par-3 courses. The longest would be 163 yards and the shortest, 58 yards. Numerous sandtraps and large greens will be featured. "We have even made provision for an alternate tee for the waterhole," he added.

A fairway and greens watering system will be installed and fencing will enclose the course. The board, in its proposal to Council, pointed out that the course would be in operation six days a week for about eight to eight and one-half months of the year. It would be restricted to Summit residents and taxpayers. Annual registration fees, greens fees and equipment rental charges would be modest.

Leisher emphasized that the board contemplates that the course would not interfere with existing activities at Vanderpoel such as the P.A.L.'s annual fishing derby.

The course will cover an area of approximately 12 acres after completion of the new Route 24 expressway and River Road interchange on the north side of the property.

the City of Summit still feels that the local municipality should have control over local traffic regulations other than on county and state highways."

Council's attempt to gain local authority, although long-standing, was spurred recently when speed limits on parts of Passaic avenue and Canoe Brook parkway were set at 50 miles per hour by the state.

The matter was referred to the public safety committee. In other matters, Council introduced an ordinance regulating parking on Hawthorne place, Miele place, Montrose avenue and Springfield avenue. A public hearing will be held on September 21.

The ordinance provides that on Hawthorne place for 500 feet east of Beechwood road, parking will be prohibited on both sides of the street.

In addition, Miele place for 100 feet from River road to Plain street would have parking limited to two hours on both sides between 8 a.m. and 6 p.m.

Other provisions of the ordinance include the banning of any parking on the southerly side of the ul-de-sac on Montrose avenue abutting the High School property and the prohibiting of parking at all times on Springfield avenue for 50 feet west of Pine Grove avenue.

children and claim they are "incapable" of any wrong act.

It was also brought out during the meeting that there also has been an increase in the passing of worthless checks. While merchants conceded that it is wise to always "know your endorser," they pointed out that in a community such as Summit where resident turnover is heavy, it is almost "impossible" not to take a new resident's word for his reliability.

Farm, Garden Unit to Note 25th Birthday

Beacon Hill branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association Inc., will celebrate its silver anniversary this year. Its unit was formed in Summit 25 years ago with Mrs. Wharton Green presiding at its first meeting in September, 1940.

In the early years much spade work was done in establishing the Friendship Markets of today — an idea fostered by Mrs. Henry Ford of Michigan to give opportunity for the marketing of all types of handwork.

Except for the two years of World War 2 when efforts were diverted to local and foreign aid of a different sort, the branch has participated in civic improvement, conservation endeavors, local plantings for beautification and restoration and more recently financial aid to the Great Swamp National Wild Life Refuge.

The branch has made contributions to Ambler Campus of Temple University for scholarship in agriculture, horticulture and related fields together with local awards.

The anniversary is being celebrated at the home of Mrs. Warren G. Reiner, recording secretary, on Monday September 20. Mrs. Ree Lidquist will show colored slides of a trip down the Nile. A birthday tea will follow.

Miss Maros Is Bride in Home Rites

Miss Adrienne M. Maros, daughter of Ferenc Maros of Summit and Mrs. John L. Josa of 388 Maple street, Murray Hill, became the bride on September 4 of James R. Bringard of 17 Riceman road, Berkeley Heights. The ceremony took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Josa of the Murray Hill address and was performed by Rev. James White of the Union Village Methodist Church and Rev. Jacob Trapp, D.D. of the Unitarian Church. A champagne reception followed.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Matron of honor was Mrs. Floyd Porter, while Mr. Porter was best man. Ushers were Andras Maros of Elkins, West Va., brother of the bride, and Lawrence Lindberg of Basking Ridge.

Following a wedding trip to Pennsylvania, the couple will reside at Berkeley Heights.

The couple will reside at New York City.

Highlanders Heavier, Hopeful of Good Year

Berkeley Heights — A year ago Governor Livingston Regional High School's football team lost four of its first five games, three of them by a margin of a single touchdown.

The Highlanders, under first-year coach Jack Bicknell, then jelled and reeled off three straight victories to close out the season with a .500 record.

Can the momentum generated by the season-closing victories carry over to this year? Coach Bicknell feels that it has.

After two weeks of practice he flatly states:

"We're a much better team at the same stage this year, than we were last year."

"And," he adds, "I think we'll have a better record this year, but you never can be sure how much your opposition has improved."

Talking to Bicknell as he reviews his squad, you can't help but get the feeling he expects a winning season. He offers a comment or two about the top players at each position, and all the comments are praise.

Bicknell apparently has good reason for his guarded optimism. The Highlanders had a record 90 candidates turn out for the squad and that figure doesn't include freshmen. And Governor Livingston will have good size by high school standards, possibly the heaviest team it has ever fielded.

The Highlanders' line will be bulwarked by a pair of 200-pound tackles, something Governor Livingston hasn't had in the past. Jim Hambacher, 305, will be at right tackle, with 215-pound Steve Leuter at left tackle.

Behind these two huskies are Ken Laufer, 170, who will be a defensive starter and "a great one," according to Coach Bicknell, and Ron Backfish, 175. The ends are Co-Capt. John Carver, 185, and Russell Wood, 180. Both stand 6-1 and are good pass receivers. Behind them at the moment are another pair of good-sized six-footers, Terry Conner, 6-1, 180, and Jim Gibson, 6-3, 165.

John Larbalstrier, 180, and Tom Holland, 170, hold the edge as starting guards at the moment, with Chris Murphy, 170, and Robert Carruthers, 165, regarded as the top reserves. Carruthers will be a first-stringer on defense.

Handling the center duties will be Stanley Cross, 175, and Carl Tongring, 165. Defensively, Ed Koszowski, a 205-pounder, will play linebacker and in the words of his coach he's "a real good one."

Despite the loss through graduation of quarterback George Bubrick, a fine passer, Coach Bicknell feels he has no problems in the back-field. Bruce Corcoran, 160, a junior is the No. 1 play caller at the moment, with Tom Bubrick, a 170-pound

Falcons Defeated In Debut

New Providence — The New Providence P.A.L. Falcons of the Mountain Valley Pop Warner Football League opened their 1965 season with a 29-0 loss to the Bernards Bulldogs of the same league in a pre-season exhibition game at Bernardsville High School Field last Saturday night.

A crowd of 1,500 spectators witnessed the contest, the first ever played under the lights by the Falcons.

New Providence players were:

Ends: Breisch, Berg and Cravens; Tackles: Poole, Sullivan, Owan, Warner, Karras, Hoffer and McGreal; Guards: Paul Montigney, Bruce Montigney, Donahue and Scheirman; centers: Waddington, Cadmus and Fenick, and backs: Waychus, Ortiz, Welber, Smith, Cogan, Weis, Zarsky, Roemer, Guerriero, Alocco and Jones.

The Falcons open their official league schedule on Sunday, September 19th, at home against Bound Brook, defending league champions, at Oakwood Park. Game time is 2 p.m.

Pop Warner football is for boys through 13 years of age weighing under 115 pounds.

sophomore, in reserve. Tom is a brother of George and in the words of his coach he is "going to be a good one." Corcoran played on defense last year.

Co-Capt. Nick Serritella, 170, is a fine runner and pass receiver and will play left half-back. Behind him is another fine back, Tom Banach, a 180-pound junior.

Dale Kempf, 160, another fine pass receiver, will be the starting right halfback, with Todd Alexander, 160, in reserve. Strongman Ted Brownell, 185, will be the starting fullback, with Blake Johnston, a 195-pound junior, in reserve.

The Highlanders have had two scrimmages so far as they prep for their season-opening game here on Sept. 25 with Springfield Regional. Coach Bicknell and his assistants were "highly pleased with the results" in both outings.

Assisting Bicknell with the coaching this season are Ed Reese, Boyd Sands, Bob Martin, Bill Verschuren and John Stein.

14 Lettermen Bolster Summit High Eleven

By Andy Jamison
Summit — With 14 returning lettermen from last year's squad prospects are bright for Summit High School to have a greatly improved football team this fall.

Trying to rebound from last season's injury-hampered 2-6-1 unit, Coach Howard Anderson feels that his team has "come along real well" through the first two weeks of practice. He noted the overall "good attitude" among his players.

Anderson was greeted with a turnout of 67 candidates when practice started on September 1, including six starters from last year's team. The squad has had two scrimmages thus far, with Springfield Regional and Union, and will have two more, with Glen Ridge and Morris Hills Regional, before the season opens on September 25 at North Plainfield High.

Coach Anderson right now seems set at all positions except left tackle and quarterback. At the important signal-calling post, junior Jim Moore, a "bright spot" in the Springfield scrimmage according to Coach Anderson, holds a slight edge over senior letterman Allan Hodge. The starting assignment, however, is still to be decided.

Coach Anderson has the "finest set of ends we've had around here in a long time" in lettermen Rick Lang and Jack Bacon, last year's starting center. Senior letterman Jay Ashman will probably start at defensive end with Lang moving to the back-field. All three have been impressive in the first two scrimmages. Senior Steve Hammell also is slated for a good deal of action at end.

Coach Anderson is set at right tackle with big (6'1", 210 lbs.) co-captain John Langenus, a starter for two seasons, and one of the most consistent of the Summit linemen. Senior John Blasi will play a lot of defensive tackle, according to Coach Anderson.

Starting end Todd Koster of last season's team has been moved to guard, where he will join two-year letterman Andy Genualdi, a generally unheralded but integral part of the Summit team. Andy won honorable mention on the all-county team last year as a junior.

Brian Kane, a letterman last year, will take Bacon's place this fall as starting center.

Moore or Hodge will be joined in the backfield by a fine and experienced group of backs. Co-Captain Bob Urann, the fastest man on the team, has been very impressive in the two scrimmages. At left halfback is another two-year letterman, Jim Catterall, giving Summit tremendous strength at this position. Senior letterman Steve Haborak and Joe Triolo, returning at fullback, complete a promising backfield that has progressed very well during the first two weeks of practice.

Coach Anderson also has a good group of sophomores to

Plaza Classic League
Shady Oak Farm, C. J. Bruen, Realtor, A. H. Ferber, Inc., and Frontier Electric scored season-opening sweeps, while Plaza Lanes, Suburban Body Shop, Do-It-Yourself Center and Lo Sapio Landscape were two-game winners.

"Doc" Rich rolled a 245 for the opening night's high game, while Bill Swankle rolled a 233. Tom Roche hit the "honor roll" with a 600 series, while Rich just missed with a 597 set.

Summit Rec. Men's League
Ciba Corporation, the cellar dweller last season, opened the new season by sweeping Fitterer's, a team which replaced Werner Motors. Merchant and Sons on two games from Jim's Chevron in the highest scoring match of the night, while Larry's and West Penn Oil were two-game winners over Cibe Pharmaceutical and Charlies.

Earl Lessenthein rolled a 602 "honor roll" series, with games of 212 and 201. Other high scores: Bob Allen, 212; Mert Merchant, 216; Mike Ruth, 213.

Tri-County P.O. League
Short Hills No. 3 scored the only sweep on the league's opening night at Plaza Lanes in Madison. G. Nock's 583 was the top series, while high games were rolled by: J. McCauley, 212; Ben Marcelliano and V. Casella, 203 each, and D. Haines, Lou Zichichi and G. Nock, all 200.

Moroney Duo
Summit — Frank Moroney, Summit golfer, teamed with Jerry Sabatini, Sr., of Elizabeth to card a best-ball round of 71 and qualify for the 22nd annual Union County Public Links Best Ball Golf Tournament at Galloping Hill Golf Club in Union.

The Moroney-Sabatini duo tied for fourth place in the qualifying round, finishing two strokes back of the leaders, Al Eisenburg of Hillside and Bill Maloney of Elizabeth.

Match play will begin this Sunday at Galloping Hill, with the defending champions, Art Bontempo and Joe Birofka of Summit, who qualified automatically, joining 15 other teams.

Facing a rough schedule, Anderson is very optimistic. "We'll definitely be in every game and win our share," he said.

It's still early, but with a team as experienced and talented as this one, the 1965 football team at Summit High might very well prove reminiscent of 1963's undefeated squad.

Winning Season Aim Of New Providence

New Providence — It's a rather large order for a team starting varsity football, but New Providence High is hopeful of posting a winning season this fall.

Coach Frank Bottone's first-year eleven has good size in the line and some fair backs, but inexperience may prove costly in the rugged competition offered by the Suburban Conference.

With Millburn, Chatham and Summit all rated as title contenders in the conference, New Providence will have to whip its two non-conference foes, Randolph Township and Middlesex, to have any real hope of posting a winning season.

New Providence has considerable left at tackle, with 215-pound Don Brown, a pair of 205-pounders in Ken Kohler and Ed Fooks, and Jim Fuschetti, 190. The Pioneers have some big ends too in Bob Schneller, 190, and Bob Fuschetti, 195, and Bourke Corcoran, 185. Fuschetti stands 6-4 and Corcoran 6-3, while Schneller is a six-footer.

Except for Herb Morgenthaler, 195-pound center candidate, the weight drops sharply in the interior line. Guards Al Nigro, Steve Garvey and Don Pantalone all weigh 165, while Dan Blake is 10 pounds heavier. The other center hopefuls are Jim Hunter, 170, and Bob Sands, 165.

The heir apparent to the quarterback role is 6-2 George Mea, a 175-pounder, who is a pitching ace on the Pioneer baseball team.

Leading candidates at halfback are Bob Owen, Tony Del Duca and Larry Fabrizio, all 165, and Bill Cadmus, 170. All are seniors but Fabrizio, a junior.

Vying at flanker back are John Castaldo, 185, Jim Cain, 165, and Pete Welber, 160, all seniors.

Other candidates include: Backs, Ricky Arnold, Rich Flanagan, Ron Smith, Fred Jackson, Dave Doughty, Bob Hauspurg, Jim Thompson, Gene Zarsky and Tom Saunders; ends, Ray DeMarco, Sal Pignio, Bob Duncan, Dave Darling, Brad Madrepal, Wes Zmolek and Bill Chase; tackles, Marc Walbridge, Bob Cadmus, Mike Prezucky, Richard Sufran, Roger Gries, Bill Srnka and Dave Ferrati.

Also, guards, Steve Cherekos, Joe Pignio and David Lo Sapio, and centers, John Zaek, John Fooks and Zack Stanger.

205; Tony Lombardi, 232; Dan Bace, 215, 202; Frank Allen, 218, and Neil Mottola 213.

New Providence Men's League
Jensen's Jewelers, Engleman, Goodfield, Stratton Realtors and K-D Truck Leasing scored sweeps in season-opening matches, while Bittman Construction won two games from the American League.

The Jewelers rolled the high game, 925, and the high series, 2,667.

Fred Mommson rolled a 641 "honor roll" series, with games of 219, 210 and 210, while Greg Thomas had a 618 "honor roll" series that included games of 224 and 202.

Tri-County P.O. League
Short Hills No. 3 scored the only sweep on the league's opening night at Plaza Lanes in Madison. G. Nock's 583 was the top series, while high games were rolled by: J. McCauley, 212; Ben Marcelliano and V. Casella, 203 each, and D. Haines, Lou Zichichi and G. Nock, all 200.

The Colts scored their lone touchdown on a five-yard out-back by Ron Taylor late in the third period. It was set up by a Titan fumble on the six-yard line.

Paterson took the opening kickoff but was unable to move the ball and punted poorly, the ball going out of bounds on the colts, 22-yard line. The Titans failed to capitalize and fumbled, the Colts recovering at their 12-yard line. The Titan defense was rugged, with big Les Pryor crashing through on two successive plays. One of big Les's tackles threw the Colts for a 15-yard loss. Paterson then punted out to the 37-yard line.

Two off-tackle rushes by Ted Loth and Dick Moyer set up a short nine-yard pass by Eddie Rillo to speedster Charley Little for the first score. Tony Spagnola converted the extra point. In the second period, which was dominated by the Titan offense, Summit scored 26 points, getting two touchdowns in the last 72 seconds, both scored by Brent Cromwell.

The second Titan score was registered by Ted Loth on a 1-yard thrust up the middle. This was set up by a fine pass by Jim Trembulak, plus the good running of Dick Moyer and Loth. Loth scored again from the 13-yard line with 4:32 minutes remaining in the half.

The tenacious Summit defense then forced a Colt fumble deep in Paterson territory. Rillo tossed a bulleye to Cromwell from the seven-yard line 1:07 minutes remaining in the half. Paterson then lost possession of the ball on the ensuing kickoff. Guy Spencer pulled in a short forward pass and Rillo then hit Cromwell on the goal line for the touchdown to close out the Titan scoring for the day.

The victory was costly as the Titans lost three of their players through injuries: Eddie Petracco, chip bone in ankle; Ted Loth, badly bruised ribs, possible fractures, and Carmen Catalano, fractured leg, all were admitted to Overlook Hospital.

Outstanding players of the game were announced as Les Pryor (defensive unit) and Brent Cromwell (offensive unit).

Tomorrow night the Titans engage the North Jersey Football League champions, the Wayne Generals, at the Wayne Junior High School Field, Valley Road, Wayne. Game time will be 8 p.m.

Wayne captured its season opener, trimming Bonton, 26-14, last Saturday. The game tomorrow night will go a long way towards determining the early-season league leader.

Summit Titans Romp Over Paterson Colts

Summit — The Summit Titans scored their second straight North Jersey Football League win of the season Sunday afternoon at Tatlock Field, defeating the Paterson Colts, 33-6, before a good-sized crowd.

Threatening weather and a light drizzle kept the crowd down to about 500 fans, but they were rewarded with a high-scoring first half.

The Titans defensive unit was responsible for the one-sided win as it completely contained the Colt offensive, forcing poor punts and hurried passes that missed the mark.

The Titans defensive unit, headed by Jerry Holmes, Sal Manuri, Fred Worthly, Les Pryor, George Hinds, Doug Adams, Tank Tedesco, Fred Wasserloos and Guy Spencer, came up with pressure rushes and tackles which delighted the partisan fans.

The Titans scored all of their points in the first half, seven in the opening period and 26 in the second. The Colts stymied the Titans offense in the last half with an alert defense, recovering three fumbles deep in their own territory to halt Summit drives.

Pioneers Count on Juniors

New Providence — With only four seniors on his 16-player squad, Coach Robert Kahn, is counting on a number of standouts from last year's New Providence High School junior varsity soccer team to make his first season a success.

New Providence's jayvees posted a fine 11-2-3 record last season and Coach Kahn would gladly settle for a similar mark this year. With the Pioneers competing in the tough Suburban Conference, it is unlikely New Providence will approach that mark.

New Providence opens its season next Tuesday afternoon at Verona in a Suburban Conference game. The home opener will be September 23 against Chatham. With Verona and Chatham among the State's top soccer teams every year, New Providence should find out early just how it will fare this season.

Paul Miller is assisting Coach Kahn this season. The four seniors on the squad are Roger Schaefer, Rich Pozanski, Walter Cadmus and Carl Sabilo. The junior members are Joe Holden, Pete DiParisi, Steve Badgley, Robert Smith, Walt Stasiuk, Russ Bauer, Alan Barnard, Geoff Totterweich, Glenn Strong, George Piper, Ray Sarg and Ray Yocco.
