Pizzi Quits As Head of Local GOP

Edward A. Pizzi, Summit's "Mr. Republican," resigned as chairman of the Republican City Committee Tuesday night at the meeting of the Committee held at City Hall. Mr. Pizzi, who has headed the local GOP organization for the last 11 years and has served as a member of the Committee for the last 20 years, will be succeeded by Hugo M. Pfaltz, jr.

Pizzi also resigned as committeeman for District 2 of Ward 2, a post he has held for the last 20 years. He resides at 32 Sunset drive.

Mr. Pizzi has had a long career in local political and civic activities and in county Republican affairs as well. He was one of the founders and first chairman of the West End Civic Association, a neighborhood group now dissolved that had among its initial organizers former Mayor Ogden D. Gensemer, present Councilman Ernest M. May, and former Councilmen Otto F. Taylor and Edgar T. Higgins.

He also is credited with reviving the Summit Tennis Club and was its president for many years. In 1951 he was honored by members and presented with a scroll testifying to his years of service and his efforts in obtaining a new clubhouse. Mr. Pizzi also headed the United Campaign drive in 1947.

A practicing lawyer in Summit, he is currently attorney for the Township of Berkeley Heights and in August was appointed first assistant county attorney. In 1958 he was elected chairman of the Union County GOP executive committee. He has served in the past as counsel for the County Welfare Board.

Noted Author To Speak at Public Library

Summit area residents will want to keep their calendars clear for Sunday evening, December 12 at 7:45 p.m. when Laurens van der Post, noted author and explorer, will speak at the Public Library on "Russian Man in World Tension." Colonel van der Post travelled widely in Russia for three months on assignment for Holiday magazine and William Morrow & Co., publishers. His report has been expanded into the book "A View of all the Russias."

Colonel van der Post is best known for his books on Africa where he grew up, was a farmer and soldier, and later carried out explorations for the British government described in "Venture to the Interior," and the Colonial Development Corporation described in two books about the Kalahari desert bushmen. The insights which come from his profound concern for the conflicts which have racked that country illumine his view of other troubled areas today.

"The Dark Eye in Africa" expresses poetically and courageously the author's view of the world.

Yule Fund For Needy Underway

The city's annual Christmas appeal for Summit's less fortunate families opened this week under the joint sponsorship of the Welfare Department and Family Service Association as well as other local groups.

This year the drive opened with a check in the amount of $25 from the Rotary Club.

Under the name of the Summit Christmas Fund, needed money will again be given to local families who live on marginal incomes and are not able to provide the small luxuries which would make Christmas a day apart.

Part of funds collected is earmarked for the elderly and sick, as well as children whose parents cannot afford to purchase Christmas presents. Some of the funds this year will go toward family service counselling fees for those who are faced with such severe emotional problems, that they are unable to cope with life on a day-to-day basis and are thus disrupting family harmony. Such funds would be earmarked for families who live on marginal incomes and could not possibly afford needed professional counselling. It is felt that such counselling would go a long way over the year toward providing stability in homes where there is a disruptive influence due to emotional problems.

A spokesman for the fund said this week that "successful family counselling could provide a merrier Christmas for some than any material gift."

Emphasis again this year will be placed on the need for early contributions in order to facilitate planning and distribution of funds before Christmas.

Primarily concerned with the distribution of funds will be the city's Welfare Department and Family Service. Heading the drive again this year will be Mrs. Margaret Chapin, Welfare Department director and Mrs. Margaret Harrigan, executive secretary of Family Service.

The drive is aimed specifically at those less fortunate during the Yule season, there have been small surpluses in the past. Money unspent is used throughout the year to purchase eye glasses, artificial limbs and other items for needy persons which the Welfare Department cannot purchase out of its own municipal budget.

Contributions may be made at the Welfare Department, 71 Summit avenue, or to Family Service, 95 Summit avenue.

Hearing Slated for Land Purchase Funds

A public hearing on an ordinance which would provide $175,000 for purchase of additional land for a new Roosevelt School annex will be held by Common Council on Tuesday at 8:30 p.m. in City Hall.

The funds, which would be raised through sale of municipal bonds, would be used to purchase six tracts of land in the area of Orchard street and Park avenue.

earmarked for expansion—An estimated $725,000 will be required to construct new additions to two of the city's elementary schools pictured above. Construction costs at Roosevelt School, top photo, is expected to reach $250,000 with an additional $175,000 needed for purchase of six parcels of land to the left and rear of the building, while the Jefferson School addition is estimated at $300,000. Target date for student occupancy at both school additions is September, 1967. Common Council has already introduced an ordinance which would provide the $175,000 for the Roosevelt School land purchase. Jefferson School was constructed in 1932 with an addition constructed in 1956. Roosevelt School was built in 1904 with new additions in 1916 and 1926. (Wolin Photos)

New Drive-Up Mailbox Installed at Post Office

The installation of two "snorkel" mail collection boxes for the benefit of motorists has been announced by the Post Office and the Police Department.

One of the boxes has been placed at the southwest corner of Maple street and Railroad avenue, necessitating the removal of two parking spaces on Railroad avenue and the other "snorkel" box has been located opposite the south entrance of the Railroad Station for drivers entering from Summit avenue.

The snorkel boxes are designed for use on one-way streets since they permit the driver of a car to deposit mail in the box without having to slide to the right side of the car.

Jaycees Again To Take Kids Yule Shopping

The Summit Area Junior Chamber of Commerce will repeat its "shopping spree" for underprivileged children this year. Children are selected by the Department of Public Welfare and each is provided with cash to buy Christmas gifts for his family and then turned loose in local stores under the supervision of a Jaycee member.

A party follows the shopping tour during which wives of Jaycee members held the children wrap their gifts. During the party Santa makes an appearance, refreshments are served and a magician will entertain.

Funds for the children have been raised by the Jaycees and augmented by contributions from local residents. Donations for the annual program may be sent to Jerry Ball, Jaycee secretary, care of Summit and Elizabeth Trust Co.

YWCA to Fill Wassail Bowl This Sunday

Miss Capitola Dickerson will lead the children in song.

The property, owned by Ralph J. Pocaro, a local attorney, is located in an A-6 one-family residential district. Plans call for three two-story buildings of eight apartments each.

Planning Board To Hear Requests For 59 New Homes

Car Injury Toll Mounts By 8 in Week

Auto accidents continued to take their toll of injured last week when eight persons were hurt in five mishaps.

On Friday two persons were injured in a three-car-crash on Morris avenue and Prospect street.

Police identified the injured as Eric E. Stein, 22, of Arlington, Mass., driver of one car, and Joyce Stein, a passenger in the car, who complained of neck and head injuries.

Drivers of the other two cars were Kenneth D. Cattrell, sr., 43, of Wake Forest, N. C., and Juanita Robinson, 39, of Mountaintop. Neither was injured.

Police said the mishap occurred when the Cattrell and Stein cars were halted on Morris avenue to permit an unidentified car to make a turn into Prospect street, when the Robinson car allegedly slammed into the rear of the Stein car, which in turn hit the Cattrell vehicle.

Investigating was Patrolman William Horn.

Two persons were also hurt in a two-car crash last Wednesday at Morris and Summit avenues. The injured included Sue Paffenroth, 16, of Cranford, left leg abrasions, a passenger in a car driven by Terry D. Anderson, 17, also of Cranford, and William Fitzsimmons, 20, of 8 Dundar drive, face lacerations, driver of the second car.

Police said Fitzsimmons allegedly failed to halt at a flashing red blinker and collided with the Anderson car. At the time of the mishap, Anderson was driving west on Morris and Fitzsimmons north on Summit.

Fitzsimmons was given a summons for alleged under-age possession of alcohol.

Investigating were Patrolman Lawrence Walsh and Michael Yannotta.

Two Injured

A two-car crash at Morris avenue and Overlook road also injured two persons last Tuesday. Police identified the injured as (Continued on Page 9)

Requests to build a total of 59 new homes within the next one or two years will be heard by the Planning Board when it meets for public hearings on Monday, December 13 at 8 p.m. in City Hall.

One application seeks approval for construction of 44 homes on a tract of land called "Rolling Hills of Summit" located on sections of Dale, Tanglewood and Rotary drives. The land is owned by Alexander Kaplan.

The second application seeks approval for the subdivision of "West Gates" at Passaic avenue and Kent Place boulevard. Plans there call for construction of 15 homes.

Three years ago the Planning Board gave its approval for subdividing the Rolling Hills property, but since that time there has been no further attempt to develop the land for housing. Last September Mr. Kaplan again went before the board for approval to construct a total of 16 homes, but later withdrew the application in favor of one that would permit construction of 44 homes.

The area lies within the Franklin School district. "Rolling Hills of Summit" has been developed in stages over the last 10 years and now comprises approximately 85 homes.

In the second application, the Planning Board will again consider the subdivision of "West Gates", a five-acre tract of land at the northeast corner of Passaic and Kent Place boulevard. In the original application which went before the Planning Board for a public hearing last September 9, CIBA voiced concern over possible drainage problems arising over the filling of a pond on the property.

CIBA owns land adjacent to the tract under consideration. Since that time, however, plans have been changed to permit a change in the water flow away from CIBA.

The land is currently owned by Fred and Evelyn Glasser. Developer of the proposed tract is Philip Scutari, jr., of Rahway. His plans call for the construction of 15 homes which would be of Colonial design. An existing structure on the land would be moved to a new location on the tract but without the solarium.

The property lies in both the A-10 and A-15 residential zones, and is in the Wilson School district.

He suggested that aged residents who are unable to attend should be represented by relatives or friends. All applicants should bring proof of age, if possible, Jones said.

The Business and Professional Women's Club will provide transportation for those who need it. For information call 273-8542, or 273-1189.

Lay Committee Report Seeks to Spur Need for Encouragement of Creativity

While not recommending a specific program to encourage creativity in selected students, a committee of the Lay Committee on Education has sought to "awaken all those who influence children to the need for creative encouragement."

In a recent report the committee "On the Nurturing of Creativity" has concluded that the purpose of the group was to gather ideas and to provoke thought rather than to present facts or critically analyze any existing school program.

The committee also concluded that "perhaps our greatest contribution" will be if "we are able to awaken the community—parents and teachers alike—to the profound effect they have in encouraging—or extinguishing—the creative spark" in children.

Because the committee was "impressed" by material prepared by Sidney J. Parned, Ph.D., for a college course in "Creative Problem Solving," it recommended that this material be used for a seminar for the teaching staff of the Summit schools.

Although it had been suggested to the committee, the report states, that special programs be prepared for "particular children who by some means have been deemed creative," the committee felt that before directing the schools' energies toward a small segment of the student body, the entire school system and the community should be awakened to the need for encouraging creativity in all children.

Therefore, no attempt was made to select a program, but rather to gather ideas to present to the school staff, the teachers and to the parents as a guide for self-analysis of their daily contact with children.

While pointing out that development of the learning powers of absorption and retention is only half-education for a student, the committee added that the thinking powers of reasoning and creativity must be included to help an educated person who can do with what he knows.

The committee also defined creativity as "the ability to produce from existing concepts a work of thought and imagination along new or unconventional lines."

In addition, the committee maintains that creativity is "vital" to research, to science and

Overlook Gets $150,000 from Rippel Fund

Overlook Hospital has announced another major grant toward its $6,500,000 Progress Program with the gift of $150,000 from the Fannie E. Rippel Foundation of Newark. Overlook's new wing, which is now under construction, will bring many added medical services when it is completed in early 1967.

The Rippel Foundation grant of $150,000 was made as an effort to enable the hospital to complete its entire program as planned, not leave any "sketchy" floors for later finishing or cutting down in any way.

This means that Overlook must continue its campaign fund-raising with added vigor and renewed support for successful financing of the $6,500,000 program. The hospital recently announced that it has passed the $2,500,000 mark.

"The Rippel Foundation previously made major grants to the 1953 and 1959 wings, as well as in this current expansion," said Robert E. Porter, president of Overlook's board of trustees. "Every patient in Overlook Hospital can be grateful for the generosity and concern of the Rippel Foundation and its interest in hospitals."

Among the outstanding new advances to be brought to Overlook by its new wing will be a short-term psychiatric unit, an intensive care unit, a coronary care unit, isolation unit, added maternity facilities, new surgical suite, new emergency and clinic departments, expanded laboratory and X-ray departments, new medical education center, new main entrance and office area on Beauvoir avenue.

Already completed as part of the program is a deck-parking structure adjacent to the planned new entrance. Nearing completion is a nurses' garden apartment project on nearby Glenside avenue, scheduled for occupancy this January.

Local Boy in TV Show On All-State Orchestra

A Junior High School student, Richard Vitzthum, of 5 Fay place will be a participant in a CBS TV program on Tuesday, December 7 featuring the New Jersey All-State Orchestra. The program will be a documentary of the activities of this highly competent group of young musicians.

CBS cameramen have been making recordings and filming all of the orchestra activities. The program will cover the try outs, which took place last March in Trenton, the many rehearsals which were long and rigorous and finally the two successful concerts given this fall at Atlantic City and Newark.

General chairman of the organizing committee is Mrs. William Ruch (Dorothy Jean Maust), Berkeley Heights, while other members include Mrs. Fred Smith (Marie Keough), Warren Township, secretary; Malcolm Blecker, Summit, treasurer; Mrs. George Simson (Jane Feuchtwanger), Chatham, and Herbert Steele, Summit, program; Mrs. Sikes (Joan Eaton), research; Mrs. Walter Aurnhammer (Betty Fekete), reservations, and Mrs. Joseph Puglisi (Alice Shahpazarian), publicity.

Dance band arrangements are being made by Mrs. Frederick Crowell (Lorraine Lambert), New Providence, while decorations will be handled by Mrs. Raymond Bonnell (Eleanor Menitt), Murray Hill.

Committee members-at-large are Mrs. Ivan Mayer (Beverly Doughty) and Samuel Schumpf, both Summit; Mrs. Arthur Nevius (Jean Brydon), Far Hills; Mrs. John Spencer (Concetta Circello), New Providence; and Mrs. Edward Schoffman (Jeanette Levine), Mountainside.

Thrift and Consignment Shop in Yuletide Mood

Mrs. Frank D. Newell, chairman of the thrift department of the Thrift and Consignment Shop, 37 DeForest Avenue, has announced that Monday, will be the beginning of the shop's Christmas sale.

The annual special event is anticipated by customers for its many bargains of new or practically new items all donated to the shop, which is operated by the Junior League of Summit, as a community service. Each member is asked to bring a special item expressly suitable for gift-giving, and other donated articles which are considered usable for Christmas gifts are saved for this special sale time.

Thrift Department committee members helping with this sale are Mrs. William B. Pattison, Mrs. Frederick Rollenhagen, Jr., Mrs. Frank Wiegand, 3rd, Mrs. Robert Lawrence, Mrs. Lawrence Blodgett, Mrs. John Jamieson, Mrs. Edward Korbel, Jr., Mrs. William Dreyer, Jr.; and Mrs. Frank Conlin, Jr.

The shop will be decorated in keeping with the holiday season, and old and new customers are urged to come in and do their Christmas shopping early. They will find all varieties of gifts from children's toys to linens, wearing apparel, linens, jewelry and dishware.

With the bustle of Christmas activities, shop managers, Mrs. DeWitt Livingston and Mrs. Robert Cochran, still find time to keep shop volunteers on the lookout for items to be delegated to certain collections maintained for the Child Care Center, Runnells Hospital, Greystone Hospital, New Eyes for the Needy, and Family Service. These agencies often request particular items, and these are carefully saved from donations. One need might be old white shirts to be used for smocks for the children at Child Care Center or another for bits of leather and material which may be put to use by patients at Runnells.

These collections are kept up all year and taken out to the various agencies as they accumulate.

The Consignment Department located on the second floor of the building is also featuring clothes for the holiday. Mr. John Kerr, Jr., chairman of the department, is assisted by Mrs. Walter Finnegan and managers Mrs. Billings Wheeler, Mrs. Robert Engler, and Miss Jean Reynolds. They and other volunteers have set up a Christmas Boutique with a selection of long and short evening dresses for formal occasions and cocktail clothes for less formal evenings. For the sports-minded, there is a collection of all types of sweaters, and for the men, sport jackets, tuxedos, and wool suits are available.

ORT to Probe Birth, Growth Of Rumors

The December meeting of the Summit chapter of Women's American ORT (Organization for Rehabilitation through Training) will be held next Tuesday at 8:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Howard Sorkin, 179 River Bend road, Berkeley Heights.

Mrs. Earl Aronson of the Millburn chapter of the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith will present a program entitled, "A Rumor Clinic." It will consist of a variety of social experiments dealing with human relations which will be illustrated through discussion, audiotape participation, and the presentation of slides. A number of startling insights into the nature of prejudice should be revealed in the course of this informative and entertaining presentation.

A coffee hour will conclude the program. Guests are welcome.

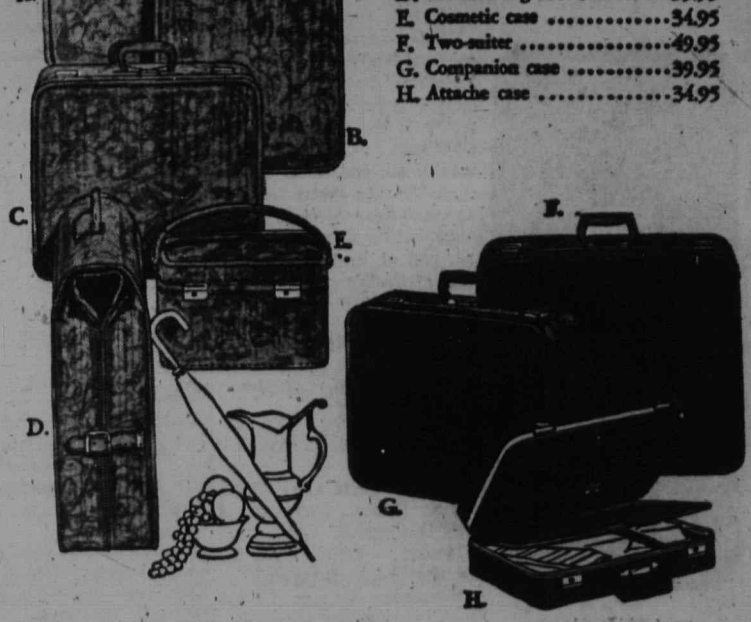

The late warm spell won't be young grasshoppers to starve.

Farce on Tap This Friday at Morris Theatre

Morristown — The third production of the Morris Repertory Theatre's autumn schedule will open Friday night at the Market Street Playhouse.

The American premiere of a version of Michel de Ghelonde's "Pantaglieze" will be placed in the repertory beside "Romeo & Juliet" and "Gallio." Samuel Draper has prepared the new version, retitled "What A Lovely Day."

The boisterous, rollicking farce tells the story of a philosopher who innocently precipitates a revolution which he is powerless to stop and which ultimately destroys him. Ian Wilder will play Pantaglieze.

Wilder joined the professional MRT company this fall after touring with Joan Fontaine in "The Unexpected Guest." Last season he understudied three roles in the Broadway and touring company of "Beyond The Fringe '65," prior to which he appeared at Virginia's Barter Theatre as Jonathan in "Oh Dad, Poor Dad." In another Broadway success he assisted Mike Nichols in "Barefoot in the Park."

The Belgian playwright's work will be presented only five times before the repertory is temporarily suspended when the MRT moves to St. Peter's Episcopal Church where it will present six short plays from the Wakefield Mystery Cycle at each of eight holiday performances in the church nave beginning December 26.

At the conclusion of medieval religious dramas, on January 2, the company will return to Market Street and resume playing the three plays in the repertory. The schedule of the additional productions for the winter season will be announced before the new year.

Cosmic Ray Film Slated At Trailside

"The Strange Story of the Cosmic Ray," a color, sound film, will be presented at the Union County Park Commission's Trailside Nature and Science Center, in the Watchung Reservation, on Sunday, December 5, at 3 p.m.

The film probes into the mysteries of cosmic rays and illustrates the work of the scientists in pure research.

On Monday, December 6; Tuesday, December 7; Wednesday, December 8; and Thursday, December 9; at 4 p.m. each day, Dr. Harold N. Moldenke, director of Trailside, will conduct one-half hour nature talks for children. The topic to be discussed during the four days is "Arctic and Antarctic Birds." The lectures will be supplemented with color slides. Admission is free.

The Trailside Nature and Science Center is open to the public each weekday, except Friday, from 3 to 5 p.m., and on Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays from 1 to 5 p.m. The public is invited to visit the Nature Center and to participate in the scheduled programs.

Nurses Aides Training Set By Institute

A new program — training of Nurses Aides by the Dental Medical Center of the Union County Technical Institute — has been made possible by a Federal grant of $5,587 last week. The new 4-week program will be conducted at the John E. Runnells Hospital in Berkeley Heights.

Students enrolled in the program will receive payment for their time in training and many jobs are available to those who successfully complete the program.

Applications for admission to the training program should be made at the hospital, specifying the Nurses Aide Program.

The four-week training program is independent of the Practical Nursing Program which has been carried on by the Institute. The Practical Nursing program is one-year in length and prepares graduates for the State Board exams for licensed practical nurses. Information about the latter

Highway Crews Set to Go At Sight of Snow

The State Highway Department this week issued a report outlining its plans for keeping its 2,000 miles of highway clear of snow and ice during the coming winter.

Snow plows are ready; rock salt, calcium chloride, sand and other abrasives are stockpiled; state highway snow removal crews are set and prepared for the first snow storm.

A highway spokesman said that overall control of snow-removal activities is accomplished through the department's network of 425 two-way mobile radios and 10 base radio stations. The "command post" for state-wide operations is located in the Department's Trenton headquarters.

The snow-fighting plan goes in action when advance warning of threatening weather conditions is received at Trenton headquarters. These warnings, provided by the federal weather bureau and a private weather service, alert the snow control staff and keep it informed of changing weather conditions.

Approximately 2,000 pieces of mechanical snow-and-ice-removal equipment, and about 2,900 men are on standby alert. This includes more than 600 privately owned trucks, loaders and graders fully manned, hired only when, and if, needed by the Highway Department to supplement its own forces in an emergency or severe storm.

Stockpiles of salt and abrasives, located strategically throughout the state, have been brought up to adequate levels, based on the experience of past winters.

For this winter, the stockpiles include 27,000 tons of rock salt; 48,000 cubic yards of abrasives including sand, cinders, stone grits, and crushed slag; and 6,000 tons of calcium chloride.

The rock salt will be spread to melt the ice and snow, the abrasives will provide traction, and the calcium chloride will keep the stockpiles from freezing solid.

This year the Department purchased 25 heavy-duty snow plows, 25 tailgate spreaders, and 10 spreader bodies, bringing the total to nearly 1,200 pieces of snow-removal equipment ready to roll and keep the 6,160 line miles of highway system clear this winter.

In addition, snow crews have erected more than 256 miles of snow fence at strategic locations to prevent or minimize drifting.

Until the season closes, the Department's landscape section continues to plant shrubbery as living snow fence.

According to the spokesman, even with all this, the snow crews' big problem is not snow and ice, but the unthinking driver who is unprepared for snow storms and untrained about proper driving techniques.

He identified this type of driver as the one who runs out of gas during a snow storm, skids or stalls on highways and ramps, or drives in the wrong direction in a selfish attempt to avoid his own delay.

Every motorist, can help reduce driving hazards at this time of year, the spokesman noted, by driving with extra caution and courtesy, and by having his vehicle functioning properly and equipped for emergencies.

The Department has distributed more than 200,000 copies of "Year 'Round Driving Hints," a pamphlet which explains many safety precautions to be observed for safe operation of a motor vehicle, and what equipment should be kept in the vehicle for emergency use. This folder is available free by writing the State Highway Department in Trenton.

In general, the department advises motorists always to give snow plows and other snow-removal equipment the right of way; put chains, snow tires, or stud tires (authorized for use on highways from November 1 to April 15), on rear wheels to avoid getting stuck in snow; take curves and corners with caution; maintain a safe, even speed, avoid accelerating or braking rapidly, and eliminate "tailgating" by driving well behind vehicles ahead.

Emergency equipment should include tire chains, sand, a shovel, and flares kept in the car trunk; non-perishable food and a flashlight in the glove compartment or console; and a blanket for warmth when in a traffic tie-up, instead of keeping the motor and heater running.

Christmas Jobs And Labor Laws

Noting that the Christmas job hunt by thousands of youths is underway, Frank B. Mercurio, Regional Director of the U. S. Labor Department's Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions, today encouraged the business community to re-examine the child labor provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act.

According to Mr. Mercurio, "the law is designed to protect the health, well-being and safety of young people," and to encourage their continued education.

Business leaders were reminded by the Regional Director that the FLA sets a 16-year age minimum for general employment. He said that "this means that any boy or girl who has passed his or her 16th birthday may work in any occupation, including manufacturing, except those which have been declared hazardous by the Secretary of Labor."

For those jobs which have been declared hazardous, an 18-year age minimum applies. There are 17 hazardous occupations orders which specify types of work which the Secretary of Labor considers too dangerous for minors under 18.

"Hazardous occupations orders which the Department of Labor has found to be violated most frequently," said Mr. Mercurio, "are those pertaining to motor-vehicle drivers or helpers, elevator operators, and operators of power-driven wood-working machines."

Despite the restrictions against hazardous jobs, the Fair Labor Standards Act does not prevent the employment of young people in most types of work. Even minors of 14 and 15 years of age may be employed in certain non-manufacturing occupations under conditions which do not interfere with their schooling, health, or well-being.

However, these young people may work no more than three hours a day or 18 a week when school is in session and no more than eight hours a day or 40 a week when school is not in session, and all work must be performed between the hours of 7 a.m. and 7 p.m.

Mr. Mercurio listed some of the permitted occupations for 14 and 15 year olds. Included were office and clerical work, cashiering, selling, window trimming, price marking and tagging, bagging and carrying out orders, clean-up work and maintenance of grounds, kitchen work, and dispensing gasoline and oil at a service station.

"Employers who plan to hire youngsters for holiday work," said Mr. Mercurio, "can protect themselves from unintentional violation of the law by obtaining and keeping on file an age or employment certificate." The certificate shows each minor, to be the proper age for the occupation in which he is employed.

Every State also has a child labor law. Where the standards differ from the Federal law, the higher standard must be observed.

Newark Museum Plans Yule Sale

A wide selection of handcrafted articles and graphic art will be shown in the Newark Museum's exhibition, the Christmas Crafts and Print Sale, opening tomorrow, December 3. The show is an annual museum event and a majority of the participants are New Jersey residents. All articles are for sale.

Of special interest is the group of woodcuts, etchings, lithographs and serigraphs by artists who are also represented in the museum's current exhibition. The printmakers are Edmond Casarella, Gerson Lieber, Stefan Martin, Gregorio Prestopino, Clare Romano, John Ross and Burton Wasserman.

Most of the craft items are one-of-a-kind expressions of the makers' talents, ranging from the subtle colorings and interesting shapes of pots, coffee mugs, casseroles and vases to the vibrant colors of woven, applique and batik wall hangings. Exotic woods have been polished, shaped and carved into tables, boxes, a music stand, a kiddie car and a chair fit for a bishop. Fused glass objects include pins, plaques and window and tree ornaments. Silver is combined with wood, other metals and semi-precious stones in contemporary jewelry of taste and beauty. Bowls and ashtrays in many sizes and shapes are made of silver, pottery, wood or enamel. There are woven neckties and scarves and amusing wooden and ceramic birds and animals.

A Sound and Timely Suggestion

The suggestion made by the Area Development Committee that the YMCA-Library parking lot be made more flexible is not only sound but also quite timely. The Development Committee has asked that Council change the lot's present 5-hour and 12-hour meters to short-time parking.

If this is not done we predict that one of the greatest sources of irritation for local residents will be the Post Office. At this time of year the post office becomes perhaps the busiest spot in town but recent changes by the city administration have also made it one of most inaccessible.

The office is now serviced by only four parking spaces directly in front of the building. Meters have been removed from the opposite side of the street and both side streets, almost completely isolating the post office as far as drivers are concerned.

Of course it can be argued that front-door parking is a luxury that can not be given by any downtown building, and that is true. But under the present parking restrictions the YMCA-Library lot now becomes the closest to the Post Office but it is entered for the long-term parker. The harried postal patron who wants to drop off a letter or a package now is forced to deposit 25c for parking. Flexible metering from one cent for 12 minutes to a maximum of one or two hours would be of considerable convenience.

But even easier use of the YMCA-Library parking still is no solution for the elderly who come laden to the Post Office with over-size and heavy packages that are difficult and burdensome to carry.

We are sure that the peace-on-earth-good-will spirit will be badly strained during the next few weeks at the Post Office. Unless one is fortunate enough to grab one of the four cherished parking spaces in front of the building, it will be tote that mail for at least a block.

Easier parking for Christmas mailing at the YMCA-Library lot will help somewhat. And we hope that Council will act favorably upon the suggestion soon.

Din Is "In"

Whether this will be a white Christmas is still in doubt but there is no uncertainty about another aspect of the holiday. A survey of the toy market indicates this is sure to be the noisiest Christmas ever.

Last week we made a hasty tour of some of the toy marts and can unhappily report that din is "in". There are roller skates that whine like a jet plane, attachments to make the tricycle, that standby of the nursery set, roar like a motor-cycle, and there is a fireman's hat equipped with an amplifier. These are among the hotter items that will promote a noisy Christmas.

There still are variations of rifles, cannons, and various military items that all produce a sufficiently realistic noise to cause Dad to hurl himself prone upon the floor. One of the more diabolical gifts is the "Time Bomb" game in which players toss a ball about until it explodes in the hands of one of the contestants. This is the kiddie version of Russian roulette.

One toymaker explains the trend by saying "Sound is the new dimension in toys." Another says "It is the logical extension of putting more action in toys." These may be correct but they sound just a bit too deeply psychological. Bluntly, the trend toward noise is simply a recognition that youngsters in the toy age like noise. This explains why many a kid sits among his nice new educational toys on Christmas morning and then in sheer boredom resorts to banging on Mom's saucepot with a spoon.

Parents have been vocal in the unhappiness with the trend toward noise, and especially toward toy weapons, but they are fighting a losing battle. Toymakers predict whopping sales this year, largely because living sound has been added.

As a helpful hint for parents who will be teetering on the brink of madness from too much Christmas noise, we have a nasty suggestion for those suffering from an overdose of amplified fire helmets. By reversing one of the three batteries supplying power for the unit, the volume can be cut sharply.

And, in a display of impartiality, it is only fair to pass on to Junior that if he has one of those battery-powered racing cars that roar, he can cross wires and greatly increase the noisy zoom. The wire crossing technique wears out the motor unit faster but the noise it will generate might compensate.

The prospect of a noisy Christmas is in the nature of a mixed blessing. Commenting upon the popularity of noisier toys. The Wall Street Journal notes that it should solve some Christmas gift problems. For those who don't know what to buy parents who have youngsters in the house, the Journal offers a simply suggestion. Why not try earmuffs?

Beauty in Jeopardy

The hard-working members of the Garden Club and their counterparts on the Area Beautification Committee are more than disturbed over increasing reports from local merchants of vandalism to the street planters throughout the business area.

Seems that the local merchants who have purchased eighty of the planters and have been maintaining them with seasonal flowers paid for out of their own pockets are becoming discouraged over having to continually replace flowers that have been pulled from the planters by local dim wits. Flowers, as most people know, are not cheap and some of the merchants are wondering whether or not they should withdraw from the project.

Another Yule Problem

One of the many disadvantages of having a one-track mind is that it is easily disrupted by outside influences. Take us, for instance. We have a mind that serves adequately but not brilliantly as long as it is not disturbed or diverted. Up until this week-end our mind was churning along at a sedate rate with no problems except the Christmas list. And then the lid blew off in the Congo.

Everything was going along fine in Leopoldville, we thought, and we had reached Aunt Martha on our list. But then word came of a new coup d'etat and Aunt Martha went out the window simultaneously with Joseph Kasavubu. In came Moise Tshombe, or was it Henri Mobutu? Perhaps it was Leonard Malumba? Or maybe Kasavubu has regained the presidential palace by now?

How can we make any decision on Aunt Martha while Radio Leopoldville serves up a new premier every half hour? That's the trouble with a one-track mind, it is too easily diverted by far out things in far away places and the Yule season is not the time for new Congolese snafus. But if we are perplexed and diverted from Christmas, just think of what's going on in the State Department. Visualize the numerous conferences that always end up with the question, "Who's on first?"

If Aunt Martha gets no gift this year she can blame it on Kasavubu... Tshombe... or Mobutu, or whoever ends up on first?

Letters

Urges Noise Ban Rebellion Editor, Summit Herald:

It was with amazement that I learned that restrictions have been placed on noise making at the Summit High School football games. Trumpets are to be blown only when a touchdown is scored and the student body is forbidden to use "noise makers." This is apparently in response to the objections of some adults who feel that the "dignity of Summit" was being offended.

The result of this ruling was obvious at the Thanksgiving Day game. The Summit fans sat in dignified silence while the Chatham stands shook with enthusiasm, despite the fact that the game was equally exciting for the rooters on both sides.

Between now and next football season, let all good, undignified adult Summit rooters (who, I trust, do not fall under the jurisdiction of the local school system) search their attics for that old cow bell, siren, horn or whatever they used in high school, and dust them off for the opening game. One outrageous blast from such an assembly of noise makers should drive the "dignity of Summit" right out of Tatlock Field. Then perhaps the offended adults will go home and let the kids (big and little) enjoy the game with a spirit worthy of Summit.

Nation's Future at Stake

Editor, Summit Herald:

It is almost unbelievable that 25,000 people in the United States can so misunderstand the position in which their country finds itself that they can act in a manner which might make more difficult and perilous, the heroic work now being done for us by our sons in Viet Nam. We are, of course, speaking of the recent march on Washington. Some of these marchers must be good Americans who do not understand our international situation or policy, nor the implications or effect of their actions. They are hurting the morale and undermining the efforts of our armed forces upon which they themselves are wholly dependent for protection.

agement can be found if parents create an atmosphere of enson, overemphasize material values, seek status and over organize.

The community was urged to foster creativity by encouraging and not condemning teachers who try something different and by utilizing suggestions from school and home for various youth groups. The report states that "all too many youth programs fail" if no creative leader is present.

Also discussed by the committee is student workload, which it termed stemmed from the days of Sputnik which American education reacted to by revamping programs. To keep pace with college revisions toward more difficult and advanced studies, high schools found it necessary to provide advanced students, which in turn was felt in an upward revision of curriculum down the line.

While commenting that some educators are beginning to wonder if the push for academic excellence "has perhaps gone too far," the committee has commented that the greatest danger is quantity for the sake of quantity, since amount of work neither indicates an excellent program nor great learning.

In conceding that the committee work was superficial regarding workload, the subcommittee has recommended that the Lay Committee make a more thorough study of the topic as it applies to the Summit school system.

Driver of the second car was Max Berkelhammer, 65, of 6 Canoe Brook place.

The injured were taken to Overlook Hospital for treatment of a cut lip and an injured ankle.

The mishap occurred when Mr. Gitzendanner, who was driving west on Morris, apparently skidded on wet pavement into the Berkelhammer car going east on Morris. Both cars were heavily damaged and towed from the scene.

Investigating was Patrolman William Chanley.

Last Monday Mary P. Slowey a passenger in a car driven by Mary A. Slowey, 50, of 417 Morris avenue, was taken to Overlook Hospital for treatment of head injuries following a crash at Springfield and Pine Grove avenues. Police identified the driver of the second car as Carl E. Steinmetz, 67, of 851 Springfield avenue.

Police said the two cars collided in the intersection and were towed from the scene.

Investigating was Patrolman Yannotta.

Joseph Tobia, 41, of Union, suffered injuries to his left side when the car he was driving collided with another at the intersection of Broad street and Morris street last Saturday. Police said the driver of the second car was Mary K. Stroud, 38, of Newark.

At the time of the mishap, the Stroud car was travelling south on Morris and the Tobia car east on Broad. The Stroud car was heavily damaged and towed from the scene.

Patrolman Walsh investigated.

A number of readers of this column have asked me why, although I favor some films more than others, my review is never completely negative. In other words, "How come I always recommend?" The answer to that query is simple and I shall supply it forthrightly and briefly before passing to this week's film.

As the title of the column indicates, the film reviewed is a film of merit. It is my belief that the motion picture medium offers an unparalleled opportunity, at convenient locales and moderate prices, for enjoyment, education, challenge, and observation of the creative process—but only if the viewer is selective in his choice of films. The purpose of this column is to aid that selectivity by flagging the existence and availability of fine films of every type and commenting on those films, especially indicating how they are a part of this major art medium.

Producer Harry Saltzman's "The Ipress File" has been labelled in advertising copy as the thinking man's James Bond film. Decidedly, it is not a James Bond film, but that is a fairly apt description for this well made, exciting, but very brutal spy picture. In that mention of brutality lies a warning, for this is not a desirable film for young children or impressionable teen-agers.

To review the plot in any detail would be a disservice to those who expect to see "The Ipress File;" for, unlike the more illustrious James Bond films of this genre, the plot is the essential element of "Ipress." Little will be given away, however, if I say that the film is concerned with a young British intelligence officer, Harry Palmer, portrayed by Michael Caine, who somewhat unwillingly is tracking down a foreign conspiracy to render British scientists ineffective. In the course of his work, the young hero is placed in a number of exciting situations, some of which lean heavily on science fiction. As in any spy-counterspy film, he encounters much double dealing. The story, for the most part, contains no comic strip heroics and includes a rather Jules Verne type treatment of brain washing.

Two of the most dominant techniques of this thoroughly escapist piece are the recurring understatement of personality (typically British made) and the use of simple sounds (doors closing, locks turning, shoes clicking on pavement) to enhance the intensity of the film. Neither technique is new to the motion picture medium, but director Sidney Furie employs them well, until in each case the effect is overdone. This seems to be a fault of these science fiction-spy movies. The directors can't seem to decide what to emphasize—satire, melodrama, or science fiction—and end up going too far in repeating effects.

Although I recognize that I am clearly in the minority, I have found each succeeding James Bond film increasingly distasteful. The satire and the melodrama in the Bond films are marred by the director's indecision over whether each film is to be burlesque or serious. Furthermore, the James Bond plots are really quite thin for spy whodunnits and always seem to be trying to top the preceding film in the presentation of the fantastic. Worst of all, the brutality (the most graphic electrocutions are commonplace) is largely unmotivated and even glorified—rendering it, to me, obnoxious. Finally, in each film there is a dependence on tricks or gadgets for entertainment (like the car in "Goldfinger") instead of an intricate and well worked out plot.

To my mind, "The Ipress File" does not greatly suffer from these deficiencies. The story is clever and leaves one guessing right until the end. The movie starts slowly, but that is because the plot is complicated and needs careful presentation. The humor, which is minor, never really interferes with the progress of the deadly serious melodrama. As I commented earlier, the film is brutal in parts, but at least the brutality serves a definite and necessary function in the plot. Most important, "The Ipress File" is a rousing adaptation of the Len Deighton novel and allows a good story to take charge and provide for complete diversion during an evening of escape entertainment.

Conversion of Snow Tires to Studs Illegal

The State Motor Vehicle commission, in announcing its approval of "studded tires," pointed out that the approval is given for new tires only. Studded retreads and studded conversions of existing tires are not permitted, the Department warned.

The state defines studded tires as those tires fitted with a pin-type device consisting of a tungsten carbon core bonded to an outer casing or shell of plastic, aluminum, or steel, fitted into a tire in openings molded for that purpose. They are designed for use on ice, hard-packed snow and slushy or wet roads.

The use of studded tires is limited to the period from November 1 and April 15 of any winter season. All tires are subject to the approval of the director of the Division of Motor Vehicles.

Nuts Grow in Popularity at Yule Season

Interest in edible nuts increases during the holiday season. A bowl of mixed nuts on the buffet or table with a handy cracker adds to the festive atmosphere of the house. Shelled dry roasted nuts have increased in popularity during recent years. Nuts such as almonds are used increasingly with vegetables and fish; green beans or fish almondine are examples. But nuts are probably most used in desserts and party offerings. Pecan pie is one good example. Walnuts of both types, hazel nuts and others are grown in many areas of the United States. Peanuts and pecans are more important crops in the South. As the use of nuts and the increased, more shelled nuts have come to be sold. About 90 percent of the pecan harvest is usually sold in the shelled form.

Pecans were a part of the Indian diet long before the white man arrived on the American scene. Though the origins of the pecan tree are hazy, all the reported it as a native plant, particularly of the Southwest. Brandel's sketch of American botany from 1635 to 1840 points out that pecans were introduced into New York by fur traders in 1762, towards the close of the French and Indian War. George Washington's diary discloses that he planted pecans about his home at Mount Vernon, and Thomas Jefferson tells of planting a two-year old pecan tree on his land.

The large scale of development of the pecan industry occurred during the past century. Now one of America's large horticultural crops, pecans continue to grow wild and are also extensively cultivated.

If you're buying pecans in some quantity, to hold them at their best, store them at a temperature of from 34 to 38 degrees Fahrenheit. Keep them in a covered glass jar in the refrigerator—in the main section rather than in the humidifier or moist air section. Shelled pecans in vacuum cans keep well on the cupboard shelf until opened, but should be refrigerated after opening. Saran bags of pecans likewise should be refrigerated after they're opened, but be sure to reseal first with transparent tape.

Yule Fund

Checks should be made payable to the "Summit Christmas Fund."

Last year the drive raised $2,440 and was distributed among 450 local persons. Among those who need help now is Mrs. A., a widow who is raising a large family with a very limited income. There is no money for anything but the bare necessities and Family Service helps the family with unusual needs. Mrs. A. also needs the comfort, understanding and support of a caseworker to help her cope with her multiple problems. This year's drive could help provide some of the necessities at Christmas and throughout the year, to help brighten their future.

Mr. D., age 42, is supporting his family from whom he is separated. He feels alone, unwanted and his life at this time seems to him to have little purpose. He needs help in understanding why his marriage failed and how he can make a meaningful future for himself. The Family Service caseworker is the only person Mr. D. can turn to. Funds are asked to provide help for this man throughout the coming year.

Pizzi was noted throughout the county for his repeated ability to put Summit overwhelmingly in the GOP column in most elections and it was through his efforts that Summit gained the name of "bastion of the GOP" in the county. The only time the city defected under Pizzi's chairmanship was in the Johnson-Goldwater presidential election. Last month despite the Governor Hughes' landslide, Summit produced its traditional Republican vote for Dumont.

Mr. Pfaltz, an attorney with the local law firm of Bourne Schmid, Burke & Noll, has been active on the Summit Republican Committee for some years and prior to that was active with Young Republicans of the Summit Area. He resides at 70 Pine Grove avenue.

WINS JUNIOR CROWN

A 13-year-old Summit girl captured the junior women's figure skating championship on Saturday at the North Atlantic tournament held at Buffalo. She is Candice Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Brown of 123 Canoe Brook Parkway. Miss Brown is a student at Oak Knoll School. The local girl, who skates for the Essex Skating Club, won a gold medal when she placed first in a field of 16 in the junior division. She will compete in the eastern championships to be held in January at Hershey, Pa. Miss Brown has skated competitively for the last four years under the guidance of Hans Gerchwiller, 1947 world's champion. She practices at South Mountain Arena.

Shop Early and Wisely for That Christmas Tree

Selecting a Christmas tree should be done with the care a housewife takes in making a fastidious choice of fresh fruit when shopping.

Go to a Christmas tree lot early while the choice is wide, suggests Dr. Philip L. Rusden of the Bartlett Tree Research Laboratories. Then pick a tree that is fresh. After bringing it home, continue to keep it fresh with water so that needles will remain long after Christmas.

This is how to apply a freshness test to a Christmas tree: Rub a finger across the butt. Stickiness is a sign of freshness. Bounce the stump hard on the ground several times. If needles shed, the tree has begun to dry out.

Next tug at the needles. If they pull off easily, freshness has gone.

Patches of browned needles mean dryness has set in. A fragrant odor is a good sign of freshness. Healthy green needles are desirable. Spread lower branches of the tree. If they are sturdy and springy, they will hold ornaments well. A well formed tree's branch spread should be half the height of the tree. And the stump should be 7 to 8 inches long.

At home, cut an inch or two off the stump at a slant. Then peel back the bark another inch. Place the tree erect in a bucket of cold water, and keep the tree in a garage, on a porch or other cool place until it is brought indoors just before Christmas.

Keep the pail filled with water. Occasionally sprinkle water on the needles. Some persons prefer to spray the needles with an anti-transpirant compound. Still others believe in adding a cup or two of sugar to the water in the bucket or container to promote freshness.

Preference in Christmas trees varies across the country. In the East, says Dr. Philip L. Rusden of the Bartlett Tree Research Laboratories, balsam and Douglas Fir are in high favor because they retain needles two to three weeks indoors.

Scotch pine are growing fast in favor. A Norway spruce makes an ideal outdoor community tree, but it sheds needles soon in a warm room. Juniper and hemlock are fine as Christmas greens, but do not make ideal indoor trees.

State Explains Working of 60/70 Speed Law

Q. What is the 60/70 excessive speed regulation?

A. In an effort to reverse the trend of increasing tragedies on the highways of New Jersey, the 60/70 excessive speed regulation was put into effect on January 1, 1959. The regulation provides for the suspension of the driving privilege or reciprocity privilege of any operator of a motor vehicle in New Jersey who:

a. is convicted of operating a vehicle at a speed of 60 miles an hour or greater upon any street or highway on which the speed is 50 miles an hour or less; or

b. is convicted of operating a vehicle at a speed of 70 miles an hour or greater upon any turnpike project operated by the New Jersey Turnpike Authority or upon any other limited-access highway on which the speed limit is 60 miles an hour or less.

The regulation further provides that the first suspension shall be for a period of 30 days, the second for 60 days, and an indefinite period of time for those motorists who are convicted three or more times for violating the regulation. In addition, points will be levied against your driving record.

Women Voters of Area To Hear County Planner

Harry A. Maslow, chairman of the newly-formed Union County Planning Board, will be the guest speaker at the League of Women Voters' annual "Datebook Dessert," scheduled for 1 p.m. tomorrow in the auditorium of the Summit Public Library.

Mr. Maslow's topic will be "Union County and Regional Planning." Mr. Maslow, who lives on Emerson lane in Berkeley Heights, is an architect with offices in Elizabeth. He is also president of the New Jersey Federation of Planning Officials.

After a two-year regional planning study, the leagues in Union County recognized the need for and urged the formation of a Union County Planning Board. Actively participating in this effort were the Leagues of New Providence and Berkeley Heights who will be guests at the meeting. Their recommendation became a reality when the Board was created earlier this year.

It consists of seven members, including four citizen members, the county engineer, the freeholder-director, and another freeholder. Mr. Maslow will be introduced by Mrs. Rowland Kelly, chairman of regional planning for the Summit League.

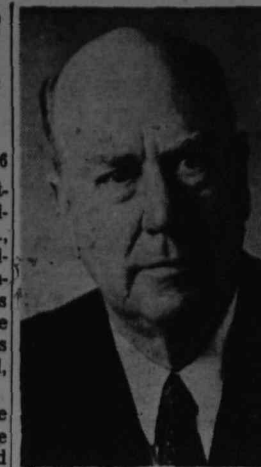

The occasion marks the debut of the 1966 Datebooks, according to Mrs. Edward R. Tolles, who is in charge of the project. Up-to-date information about voting, state government, and state officials is outlined in the booklets which also provide space for listing daily engagements. Orders for the datebooks which are 25 cents each can be placed with Mrs. Tolles, 273-9267.

An informal social hour and dessert-tea will follow the program. Mrs. Joseph Matthews, hospitality chairman, will be assisted by Mrs. George Billinger, Mrs. Hans Henning, Mrs. W. C. Hittinger, Mrs. Henry A. Stout, and Mrs. A. C. Thames.

The delegation of League members from New Providence and Berkeley Heights will be headed by the presidents of the

Local Man Made Board Chairman Of McGraw-Hill

Donald C. McGraw, sr. of 96 Hillcrest Avenue, has been elected chairman of the board of directors of McGraw-Hill, Inc., New York, publishers of business publication, books and information services. He continues as chief executive officer of the corporation. Mr. McGraw has been president of McGraw-Hill, Inc., since 1953.

Donald C. McGraw, Sr.

Mr. McGraw has been with the company since 1919 when he joined the staff of Chemical and Metallurgical Engineering (now Chemical Engineering). He is the youngest son of the late James H. McGraw, founder of McGraw Publishing Co. which, in 1917, had merged with Hill Publishing Co. to form McGraw-Hill.

In 1921 Mr. McGraw transferred to the company's pressroom and composing room. At that time McGraw-Hill operated its own printing plant in its building then located at Tenth Avenue and 38th Street. In 1924 he became supervisor of the print shop and building operations; by 1928 he was general manager of the commercial printing department and in charge also of the purchasing department and the building.

In 1933 when McGraw-Hill discontinued its printing operations, Mr. McGraw took charge of the newly-organized production department with responsibility for the company's magazine operations handling all contracts for printing and binding engraving, and paper supply. At the same time he continued his responsibility as director of purchasing.

In 1935 he was elected secretary of the company and a member of the board of directors. In 1942 he was appointed vice president, and in 1946 was named vice president for manufacturing and purchasing for both the book and magazine operations of the company. In 1950 he was elected a director of the McGraw-Hill Book Company (then a subsidiary; since 1964 a division of McGraw-Hill, Inc.) and of Newton Falls Paper Mill, Inc., in which McGraw-Hill has a 50 percent interest. In 1953 he was elected president of McGraw-Hill, Inc.

Mr. McGraw is a director of McGraw-Hill, Inc., McGraw-Hill Company of Canada, Limited, McGraw-Hill Publishing Ltd. (England), McGraw-Hill Book Co. Australia Pty. Ltd., Newton Falls Paper Mill, Inc., and Williams Press, Inc. (Albany, N. Y.). He is a member of the West Side advisory board of Chemical Bank New York Trust Co.

Mr. McGraw was born in Madison, in 1897. A graduate of Lawrenceville School, he attended Princeton University until he joined the U. S. Navy in which he served during World War I.

An oil tanker, answering a distress call after Hurricane Betsy, spent nearly two weeks generating emergency electrical power for the town of Buras, La. The ship's main power unit, normally used to turn the propeller of the vessel, was hooked up to a special line strung from shore.

It costs hospitals twice as much to care for a patient today as it did ten years ago. The cost has increased from $18.35 to $36.83 a day, primarily because of rising wages of hospital personnel, new equipment and new services.

Playhouse Presents Memorable Evening With "Never Too Late"

Fast-paced and wildly funny, with penetrating undertones, the current Playhouse presentation of "Never Too Late," directed by Bertha Ayres, was in the tradition of the best of amateur theater.

Based on the theme that when that a baby is in the offing, reaction sets in on all sides. The prospective new-again family, with an adult married daughter, finds there, finds the idea full of consternation; the new mother-to-be refinds her youth after years of household drudgery and devotion to a not-too-grateful set of relatives; and the grownup daughter first expresses disbelief, but then uses the information for her own devious wiles.

While the plot line may be thin, this production was not. As the first amateur group in the country permitted to purchase rights to the play, the Playhouse cast headed by Jack Pyle as the new father and Florence Leigh as the new mother did credit to the trust placed in them.

Mr. Pyle played his lines well, with excellent timing, while Mrs. Leigh grew better and better as the play went on.

The role of Kate, the somewhat devious daughter, was played by Eileen Shea, who has demonstrated time and again in the past that she was made for far better things than walk-on parts as maids. Her husband was played by Robert Chrappa, who bent the role to its needs and turned in a very creditable performance.

Additional know-how in the art of acting was supplied by Lew Weiger, Fred Albright, Warren Dederick in supporting roles, with Bob VanZandt and Bob Glass providing some rounding-out touches.

Assisting Mrs. Ayres in the direction was Betty Kaus, with Cliff Whitcomb and Isabel Mercer as production managers. The enjoyable evening was highlighted by a set suited to the mood and play. Set design was executed by John Chester, constructed by Joe Boak with many assistants, and painted by Aida Mugford, with also many assistants.

The first production of the season was a credit to the Playhouse. Now, on to other things and hopefully to a season filled with variety and acknowledgment of the best of the theater.

SAGE Forms Committee to Probe Need for Senior Citizen Housing

SAGE whose main concern is the well being of older people is aware that there is a need for housing for senior citizens in this area.

For the last few months a committee consisting of Jean Kuhn, an architect, Richard Hull, a banker, and John Calahan, a lawyer has been considering the problem, under the Chairmanship of Mrs. L. B. Coddington who has had wide experience in community building projects.

They are convinced that there is a need for senior citizens' housing. What they have in mind is not a nursing home nor a leisure village, but some form of moderate cost housing, near the center of town where older people can live and continue to be part of community life.

SAGE maintains many older people are forced to live with their children, away from life-long friends and familiar activities, deprived of responsibilities. Because they are no longer driving, many are isolated in a remote part of town. Both parents and children are unhappy. Some are living in garden apartments paying for garages and swimming pools which they never use. Others are living in third floor rooms paying high rent for inadequate housing. According to SAGE if apartments could be built convenient to transportation and shops, retired persons could hold part time jobs, go to meetings and keep in contact with old friends.

They would have no desire to move to Florida or California. SAGE says the project could be financed by government funds or by the community, and Safety Office, located at 130 Summit avenue, CR 3-5550, would like to hear about it.

Kiwanis Hears Talk On Port Trade Center

"World Trade Center" was the topic of an illustrated talk by George W. Blomme, senior transportation planner of the Port of New York Authority's port development department, when he addressed a meeting of the Kiwanis Club on Tuesday at the Hotel Suburban.

Mr. Blomme outlined plans for the proposed $500,000,000 world trade center to be constructed in lower Manhattan during the next five or six years. Plans call for twin towers each 110 stories high.

Just once we'd like to have people fall in love with the inside of our cars before they flip for the outside. Why, this year alone we've made available brand-new wraparound buckets. Profile bench seats. More rich, genuine walnut paneling. And nicer instrument clusters you've never seen. We even had our engineers take our test cars apart piece by piece to come up with improvements that, incredibly enough, make our Pontiac smoother, quieter, more enjoyable to drive.

Really, though—we don't care which feature gets you inside a new Pontiac, as long as it gets you there. And it will. At least judging by the number of Pontiacs you see on the road.

Everything's new in tiger country. Wide-Track Pontiac '66

Local Woman's Son Promoted To Colonel

Lieut. Col. Ludwig G. Kempe, associate chief of neurosurgery at Walter Reed Hospital, has been promoted to colonel. He is the son of Mrs. Maria Kempe of 38 Woodfern road.

Col. Kempe, following the lead of the three generations which preceded him, went to Switzerland, to study medicine and received a M.D. degree there in 1942.

Ten years later, the colonel entered the service and began a one year tour of duty as liaison officer to the Danish government in Labrador, Greenland. While there, he applied his skills as a general surgeon on behalf of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police and Royal Canadian Air Force.

It was at this time that Col. Kempe formed an association with Paul Emile Victor, a French Arctic explorer, who taught him the Eskimo language.

It was also at this time that the colonel was adopted by an Eskimo family which put him in a better position to study their habits and thinking.

This is Col. Kempe's second tour of duty at Walter Reed General Hospital. He first came here in 1954 as a resident in neurosurgery.

Woman Rider Hurt in Fall From Horse

Injured when she was thrown from a horse in a remote section of the Watchung Reservation last Friday, a 33-year old woman had to be carried for about a half-mile on a stretcher by Union County Park Police and taken to Overlook Hospital.

Police said Mrs. Sandra Hall of Greenwich, R.I. severely injured her back when she was apparently thrown from a horse. She was discovered by an unidentified rider at about 1:30 p.m. who reported her fall to a park attendant who called police. Mrs. Hall was then carried by three park patrolmen to an ambulance waiting on Glen-side avenue to take her to Overlook.

According to Park police, Mrs. Hall fell from the horse somewhere near Lake Surprise. The lake separates Summit and Mountainside in the northeast section of the more than 2,000-acre reservation.

It was learned Mrs. Hall was visiting friends in Union County.

Voters' League Units to Ponder Apportionment

The December unit meetings of the League of Women Voters will be devoted to reaching a consensus on the state apportionment study item — "Study and Work For An Equitable System of Representation in New Jersey That Will Be in Accord with Federal and State Court Decisions."

The State League does not intend to endorse a specific plan, but it does hope to reach consensus on general criteria for judging any plans that are proposed.

Among the questions the units will consider are:

1. What should the composition of the New Jersey legislative body be?
2. What constitutes a good election district?

Wydner enlisted in the Marine Corps in 1940 and after basic training at Quantico was assigned to Guantanamo Bay, Cuba. In 1943 he entered the Naval flight training program and in October, 1944, was commissioned a second lieutenant in the Marine Air Wing. Intercepted Passes Prove Costly As Summit Eleven Loses 21-20

By Andy Jamison
Summit — A few bad breaks cost Summit High the Suburban Conference football championship on Thanksgiving Day, as the Hilltoppers bowed to Chatham High, 21-20, at Tatlock Field. The game was played before an estimated crowd of 3,000 spectators.

Summit closed its season tied with Chatham for the third spot in the conference, both with 5-2 marks. Summit finished 6-3 overall, while the victorious

Summit Titans Defeat All-Stars on Safety

Summit — The champion Summit Titans rang down the curtain on a highly successful football season Sunday afternoon on the Tatlock Recreation Field gridiron, edging a formidable North Jersey Football League "All-Star" team, 9-8.

An estimated crowd of 1,200 fans saw a game that had thrills, long runs by both clubs, and great defensive play by both lines. The Titans upheld their too rating with a display of tenacious tackling and blocking that refused to buckle under a steady flow of fresh All-Star talent.

Speed, Desire Bolster Summit High Cagers

Summit — Speed and desire are the keynotes at Summit High as new coach Lee Ammerman prepares his team for the season opener on December 10 at home against Governor Livingston Regional High of Berkeley Heights.

Coach Ammerman has only one letterman from last year's 17-5 quintet which shared the Suburban Conference title with New Providence. He has three other boys who played with the varsity in a number of games, and an additional three who started for the junior varsity last season.

Football Picks 70% Correct

Despite a loss and a tie on Thanksgiving Day, the Football Forecast finished the season with a very respectable 70 per cent correct prediction record.

During the season the Football Forecast correctly predicted the winner of games involving the Summit Area's scholastic eleven in 23 of 33 games. One other game wound up in a tie.

Summit High and Oratory School proved to be the biggest enigmas, accounting for nine of the 10 wrong predictions.

Early Schedule Favors New Providence Five

New Providence — New Providence High School's rebuilt basketball team will have the benefit of four home games before it opens its Suburban Conference schedule on January 4 at Cedar Grove.

With an inexperienced squad that figures to improve as the season progresses, the Pioneers should find playing before home crowds an advantage in preparing for a defense of the conference co-championship they won last season.

YMCA Slimming Classes Begin Second Session

The second session of evening slimnastics classes is now under way at the YMCA. The 10-week course is open to non-Y members for a nominal fee and is planned for the convenience of working women as well as homemakers who can not attend the Monday and Thursday morning classes. Classes meet at the Y on Wednesdays from 7:45 to 8:30 p.m. and are conducted by Mrs. William Reed of 143 Blackburn Road.

Summit — The Summit Board of Recreation-sponsored Saturday morning boys' basketball clinics began November 27 with 225 boys attending the first session.

The clinics are being held this year at three locations: Edson Recreation Center, for boys in grades 6 through 9; Lincoln School, for boys in grades 4 and 5, and Franklin School, for boys in grades 4 and 5.

Highlanders Finish Undefeated; Rout Passaic Valley Before 5,000

Berkeley Heights — The best team in the six-year football history of Governor Livingston Regional High School wrapped up the best season in the school's history before the biggest crowd ever to see a football game in Berkeley Heights with a 24-0 rout of Passaic Valley High School on Thanksgiving Day.

The victory, achieved before an overflow crowd of 5,000 fans, gave the Highlanders a perfect record for the season, 9-0-1, and established them as prime contenders for the North Jersey, Section 2, Group 3 championship.

Governor Livingston is the only undefeated team in its section. The only other contender looms as Highlanders High, co-champion of the Suburban Conference, which finished with a 7-1-1 record. Summit High dropped out of contention on Thanksgiving Day when it dropped a 21-20 decision to Chatham. It was the third loss of the season for the Hilltoppers and eliminated them from consideration.

Millburn lost to Summit in mid-season and battled Madison to a scoreless tie on Thanksgiving Day. The Millers and Madison shared the Suburban Conference crown this season. A win over Madison probably would have assured Millburn of a share of the sectional title on the basis of a tougher schedule. The tie may have been enough to eliminate the Millers as a contender.

In whipping Passaic Valley decisively, Governor Livingston rolled up its 12th straight victory over two seasons, the longest winning streak in Union County. The Highlanders and Westfield, which trounced Plainfield, 21-0 on Thanksgiving Day, were Union County's only undefeated teams this season. The two schools will square off next year when Governor Livingston joins the Watchung Conference. Westfield is a strong contender for Central Jersey, Group 4 honors this season. It already has won the Watchung Conference title.

The victory over Passaic Valley gave Coach Jack Bicknell a two-year coaching record of 13-4-1 at Governor Livingston. Bicknell's teams won only one of their first six games, losing four close games, but have been unstoppable since. The 12-game winning streak has boosted Governor Livingston's six-year football record to 30-21-2.

Defense has been the key to Governor Livingston's sudden swing to success. The Highlanders allowed only 31 points in nine games this season, blanking four opponents and limiting the other five to a single touchdown each. In five games in Berkeley Heights, the Highlanders allowed only one touchdown. Their defensive mark of allowing less than 3.5 points per game was the best in Union County, and one of the best in the State.

The Highlanders have been no slouches offensively either. Working with a versatile attack installed by Coach Bicknell and his aides — Boyd Sands, Bob Martin, Ed Reese, John Stein and William Verschuren — and keyed around junior quarterback Bruce Corcoran, Governor Livingston scored 192 points this season.

The Highlanders averaged 21.3 points per game, and were remarkably consistent. They scored four touchdowns in four games, three touchdowns in four other games, and two touchdowns in one game.

Although Corcoran is a fine passer — he tossed for nine touchdowns — the Highlanders basically were a running team. They scored 21 times on running plays, a big factor in their defensive record. Using running plays enabled Governor Livingston to control the ball for long periods in each game.

Nick Serritella, who like Corcoran scored eight touchdowns this season, helped the Highlanders quickly assert their superiority over an upset-minded Passaic Valley team. The Hornets started the game with a two-game winning streak, one of the victories having been a big upset of Dover.

On the second play of the game, Serritella scampered 53 yards to the Passaic Valley 1-yard line. He scored on the net play and the Highlanders led 6-0 before a part of the crowd had even managed to get into the field.

On the following kickoff, Passaic Valley fumbled and Governor Livingston recovered on the Hornets' 25. Passaic Valley dug in and stopped the bid for a second quick touchdown.

Passaic Valley picked up a first down at midfield, but then was forced to punt. Todd Alexander returned the kick to the Highlanders' 37. Corcoran passed to Dale Kempf for a first down at the Regional 49, but the Highlanders then were forced to punt.

Another punt exchange, with Tom Banach giving Governor Livingston much the better of it, helped set up the Highlanders' second touchdown late in the second period. Banach put the Hornets in a hole on their own 13-yard line.

Passaic Valley passed for a first down on its own 30, but the following toss was intercepted by Ed Kosowski at the Hornets' 45 and returned 20 yards. Interference on John Carver on a fourth-down pass from Corcoran gave the Highlanders a first down on the Passaic Valley 8-yard line. Corcoran scored on a fourth-down quarterback sneak from the Hornets' 1.

Following the kickoff, Passaic Valley made its best move of the day. The Hornets moved 44 yards on two pass completions for a first down on the Governor Livingston 26. After a pass was knocked down, Stan Cross, Blake Johnstone and Steve Lewter broke through on three consecutive plays to drop Hornet backs for long losses.

Early in the third period, Governor Livingston put the game out of reach of Passaic Valley. Kempf returned a Hornets' kick to the Highlanders' 29. Ted Brownell and Serritella picked up six yards apiece for a first down at G.L. 41.

Corcoran and Serritella picked up another first down in three carries and then Serritella ran nine yards to the Passaic Valley 40. On the next play, Corcoran and Serritella collaborated on a picture play for a touchdown.

Corcoran rolled out to his left, evaded one tackler, stopped near the sideline and passed downfield some 35 yards to Serritella. The Highlanders' co-captain grabbed the ball several yards behind the last Passaic Valley defender and trotted into the end zone. It was Nick's second touchdown of the game and eighth of the season.

Following the kickoff and a Passaic Valley punt, a 15-yard penalty put the Highlanders back on their own 15-yard line. Banach got them out of the hole with a tremendous third-down quick kick that carried 77 yards and rolled dead on the Passaic Valley 8-yard line.

Passaic Valley moved to three consecutive first downs, one with the help of a 15-yard penalty against Governor Livingston. The Highlanders held for downs at their own 35 with Johnstone breaking through to dump a Hornet runner for a big loss, on third down to check the drive.

A run by Kempf and a personal-foul penalty against the Hornets gave Governor Livingston a first down on the Passaic Valley 46. The Highlanders were held and another kick was touched by a Passaic Valley player and recovered by Governor Livingston on the Hornets' 27-yard line with six minutes to play.

Banach carried twice for a first down on the Passaic Valley 16. Banach then ran twice and Serritella once for another first down on the Hornets' 5. Kempf carried to the Passaic Valley 1, but a penalty set the Highlanders back to the Hornets' 6. On the next play Kempf went off tackle for the final touchdown.

Passaic Valley hopes for a consolation touchdown in the final two minutes, were dashed when Kosowski intercepted a pass for the second time in the game. The Highlanders ran two plays and then ran for the dressing room to celebrate their undefeated season.

Bob Urann Top Grid Scorer

Summit — Summit High's Bob Urann was the top individual football scorer in Union County during the 1965 season.

The Hilltopper halfback scored a touchdown and kicked two extra points in the Thanksgiving Day game against Chatham to finish with 75 points. He scored nine touchdowns and kicked 21 extra points.

Urann edged out Bill Wooten of Thomas Jefferson High (Elizabeth) and Jeff Huston of Scotch Plains for the scoring title. Wooten and Huston both tallied 72 points. Also among the leaders was Oratory School's Vince Keller, who scored 66 points. Keller played one less game than the other leaders.

Wooten missed a chance to win the scoring crown in his team's final game with Cranford. The Jefferson back fumbled as he was crossing the goal line and the ball was recovered in the end zone for a touchdown by another Jefferson player. Wooten already had scored one touchdown in the game.

In 1862, Richard Gatling, an inventor, succeeded in perfecting a gun which could fire 350 shots per minute, but the War between the states was almost over before the federal government consented to use it.

Pioneer Eleven Plays To Scoreless Deadlock

New Providence — The 1965 football season was a rather frustrating one for the teams of New Providence High and Cedar Grove High. And their Thanksgiving Day battle, the first of what will be an annual holiday contest, did little to alleviate the frustration of the two squads.

Performing before an enthusiastic crowd at Cedar Grove, the Pioneers and Cedar Grove battled to a scoreless tie, with both teams missing fine opportunities to score.

Both teams finished the season with only one Suburban Conference victory. Both defeated winless Verona and finished their conference schedules with 1-1 records, and tied for sixth place. New Providence had an overall record of 2-6-1, while Cedar Grove finished at 1-7-1.

Cedar Grove's defense limited New Providence to a net total of 20 yards running and passing. New Providence's rushing efforts resulted in a net loss of 21 yards, due primarily to Cedar Grove's blitzing defense breaking through to nail George Mea for long losses when he attempted to pass.

Despite Cedar Grove's wide edge in statistics, New Providence threatened more frequently. Pete Welber recovered fumbles at the Cedar Grove 38 and New Providence 34-yard lines in the first period to give the Pioneers good field position twice.

Following Welber's first recovery, Tony Del Duca and Bill Cadmus carried for a first down on the Cedar Grove 20. But Del Duca then lost seven yards and Mea was dropped for an eight-yard loss trying to pass.

After Welber's second recovery, New Providence was held for downs at its own 41-yard line. Mea then boomed a punt which was fielded on the Cedar Grove goal line, with Ken Kohler downing the receiver on the Cedar Grove 1, just missing trapping the runner for a safety.

The Pioneers reached the Cedar Grove 15-yard line in the second period, their deepest penetration of the game, but were stymied there. On fourth down, Bob Owen lost 10 yards on a reverse.

Baton Twirling Program Begins

Summit — The Summit Board of Recreation-sponsored Baton Twirling program for the 1965-1966 season got under way on November 24 with a total of 67 girls attending the first session.

The program is under the direction of Mrs. Dolores Robertson of 851 Springfield Avenue. Mrs. Robertson is presently employed as a public school teacher in Plainfield. She is a former member of the Summit High School Majorette and Baton Twirling squad. Assisting her in the program are Sandra Mele and Barbara Lepore, two members of the Summit High School baton twirling squad.

The program is offered for girls in grades three through nine. The beginners' session meets from 3:15 to 4:15 P.M., while the advanced group meets from 4:15 to 5:15 P.M. every Wednesday afternoon.

On the next play, however, Mea lost 18 yards attempting to pass. Mea then quick kicked 49 yards to the Cedar Grove 21.

Early in the fourth period, New Providence fans got a thrill when Mea and Bob Schneller collaborated on a 32-yard pass which carried to the Cedar Grove 43. Schneller was two yards ahead of the nearest defender when he caught the ball but was caught from behind. The Pioneers couldn't sustain the attack.

Pass interceptions stymied both teams in the final minutes. Mea had passes intercepted on the Cedar Grove 35 and 29-yard lines, while Pignio intercepted a Cedar Grove aerial on the New Providence 35.

Cedar Grove failed 174 yards rushing, but failed to complete any of its five passes. Mea completed four of 15 passes for 41 yards. Cedar Grove had 11 first downs to four for New Providence.

Rev. Francis Honored-by Alma Mater

Rev. Elmer F. Francis, rector of Calvary Episcopal Church, was honored last week by the alumni of Columbia College by his election to the "Society of Older Graduates of Columbia," a group of 300 alumni who constitute the "alumni of Columbia's alumni societies."

Its members, who are nominated by those active in the organization, are those who are "leaders in work for the common good in their communities."

The election of Mr. Francis, who holds both B.A. and M.A. degrees from Columbia, was announced by Howard B. Nichols, secretary of the Society. According to the official publication of the Society, "it may truly be said of the members that they have rendered distinguished service for Columbia in double sense — service to their communities as alumni of whom Columbia is proud, and service to the university itself as devoted sons."

Mr. Francis will be formally conducted into the Society at its annual dinner meeting on January 12 at the Columbia Club in New York.

Hospitals employed 1,762,957 persons in 1962, a total of 66,825 more than in the previous year, making the field one of the nation's largest areas of employment.

METAL STUDDED TIRES

Twice the traction on ice!

NEW GOODYEAR SAFETY SPIKE WINTER TIRE

Most revolutionary tire ever built

Proper manner for usage of studded tires on your car

1. Inflate all studded tires two pounds over vehicle manufacturers' recommendation.
2. Break in tires carefully. Drive the first 100 miles at speeds LESS than 40 MPH, avoiding during this period, wheel spinning, hard braking or rapid acceleration.
3. Encourage normal driving habits. While studs make it possible to drive faster and stop quicker, users should take advantage of, rather than exploit, this additional safety factor.
4. Don't spin wheels. It isn't necessary with studs. Just back up, then pull forward, using power sparingly.
5. Finally, and possibly most important, WATCH THE OTHER DRIVER BEHIND. Remember, he probably is not as smart as you and is probably using ordinary snow tires.

Please try to follow these instructions as carefully as possible for the most efficient use of your studded tires.
