

Police Fret Over Rise In Teen Drinking as Party Season Arrives

Concern is rising in Summit over the fact that drinking among its teenage community is increasing at an alarming rate.

According to an official city spokesman, the increase in teenage use of alcoholic beverages is laid mainly to unsupervised home parties, raiding of parents' well-stocked liquor cabinets where one or two bottles will not be missed and purchases by older persons for thirsty minors.

However, of all the reasons, the unsupervised home party warrants the biggest blame for the increase in teen drinking.

According to Police Chief John B. Sayre, some parents will "turn over the house" to their teenage child for a party and then leave. Although some parents will take the precaution of locking up their liquor supply, guests will invariably bring their own. Because there is no adult supervision, the party will become out of hand.

There is also the problem of guests who bring their own bottle, but leave it in the car for off-premises drinking.

Urges Stronger Hand

Chief Sayre has urged parents to take more of a hand in supervising their children's parties by prohibiting, first of all, an open house. "This is one of the best ways to turn a party into a brawl," Chief Sayre said. "Parties should be put together by invitation only and no one who hasn't been invited, should get past the front door." If a party is going to be large, a policeman should be on hand for additional supervision.

Frequent trips outside the house to a parked car is another indication that teenage guests might be sipping something other than soda pop, and parents have been advised to watch carefully for the in-and-out.

Although most parents will take the word of their teenage child when he or she tells them where they're going for the night, it is the wise parent who will make doubly certain that their child is going where he says he's going by making a quick phone call to the host house. "Too many times," Sayre said, "kids will tell a parent that he's going over to so-and-so's house, when actually they're enroute to a party where adult supervision is either lax or non-existent, and the trouble begins."

Although the majority of teenage drinking takes place among boys, Chief Sayre said that many girls "are known to more than hold their own."

At one time, Sayre added, teenage drinking was limited to high school age kids only, but in recent months, those of junior high age, 14 and 15 year-olds, have either been picked up

Camp Fund Boosted by $500 Gift

A $500 contribution from the Convalescent Fund Committee of Summit helped to bring the 18th annual Summit Herald - Family Service Association Camp Fund appeal above the $1,500 mark as of Tuesday.

With donations for the week totalling $737.75, the drive now stands at $1,509.12. At this time last year when the appeal was in its fourth week, donations stood at $1,397.

This year's gift from the Convalescent Fund is in memory of Mrs. Frank C. Wight, a long-time member of the committee's board of directors and mother of the current president, Mrs. Benson Keeney.

The Convalescent Fund was set up shortly after the end of the Civil War to care for wounded and ill Union soldiers. Over the years the fund grew, and as needs of Civil War veterans diminished, the committee turned its assets toward other charitable works.

Other donations for the week came from the Summit High School's Class of 1955 reunion. According to Mary MacDowell, class reunion treasurer, the contribution represents a surplus from a dinner held last November. It was agreed that after expenses were paid, the remainder, if any, would be turned over to the Camp Fund.

Other donors included Beacon Fire Chapter, DAR, and the Fortnightly Club. There were also three anonymous donations for $25 each.

Checks should be made payable to the "Herald Fresh Air Fund."

The Fund operates on a non-profit basis and makes no solicitations nor conducts any mail appeal. There are no administrative expenses and all money received goes directly to paying camping expenses.

All contributions received are acknowledged weekly in the Herald, unless otherwise specified and immediately turned over to the Family Service Association. The association has sole use of the donations, makes

Police Report Decrease in Car Accidents

A decrease in the number of auto accidents in the city was reported in the monthly activities report of the Police Department, released this week.

According to the report, 16 accidents occurred last month, exactly half the 32 reported during April of last year. The year's total now stands at 112 accidents, 28 less than the 149 which occurred during the first four months of last year.

Police also investigated more complaints last month, when 43 were reported, as against 32, or 11 less, for the previous April. The 1966 total is now 179, however, which is 30 less than the 209 reported during the comparable period in 1965.

An increase was also reported in the number of summonses issued for moving violations last month. The report shows that 230 such summonses were issued, which represents an increase of 143, over the 87 issued for the same offense last April. The 1966 total now stands at 647, which is 371 more than the 276 during the first four months of 1965.

Summonses issued for parking violations also show an upswing, with 563 reported last month, as opposed to 504, or 59 less for April, 1965. The total for the current year is now 2,611, which is 394 more than the 2,217 reported during the comparable period last year.

The number of summonses issued for meter violations went down, however, with 1,861 reported for last month, as against 1,889, or 28 more, for April, 1965. The four-month tally for this year is 6,735, which is 85 less than the 6,820 of 1965 during the same period of time.

Personal injuries for the month numbered nine, which is one less than the ten of April of last year, when 37 occurred during the first four months. The 1966 total is 50, or 13 more.

There was one pedestrian injury last month, which brought the 1966 total to seven. Last year, in April, there was also one such injury, but the year's total was then two.

No fatalities occurred last month, nor did any in the previous April. The 1966 total is the same as last year's at one.

New Building for Year Well Below 1965 Rate

New construction in the city for the first third of this year still remains well below the pace set during the comparable period in 1965, the monthly report from the building inspector's office revealed this week.

For the first four months of 1966, new building permits have amounted to $435,770, a decrease of $412,530 from the $847,300 reported during the same time last year. New construction during April reached $201,475, an increase of $24,175 over the $177,300 in April of last year, and a hike of $22,180 from the $175,250 reached in March of this year.

Those issued new building permits during April included Channel Lumber, 7 Ridgedale avenue, $3,000; E. Strausland, 48 Pine Grove avenue, $56,000; West Gates, 261 and 263 Kent Place boulevard, $30,000; Garden, Inc., 8 Glen avenue and 26 Valemont Way, $19,000; City of Summit golf shelter, $18,475, and A. E. J. Dunnder, 255 Ashland road, $24,000.

Alterations Climb

While new building in the city remained below the rate set during 1965, alteration-addition permits were well on the upswing.

For the first four months of 1966, alteration - addition permits have amounted to $399,290, an increase of $200,890 over the $198,400 reported during the comparable period last year.

Week's Auto Injury Toll Put at Three

Three persons were injured in as many car accidents here last week.

On Wednesday Robert H. Brown, 26, of Jersey City, was injured when his car was in collision with two others at Broad and Chapel streets. Police identified the drivers of the other two cars as Paris H. Hounanian, 34, of 102 Division avenue and Dorothy L. Tera, 42, of Irving place. Neither was injured.

Mr. Brown was taken to Overlook Hospital for treatment of a leg injury.

Police said the mishap occurred when Mr. Hounanian was proceeding north on Chapel when he allegedly crashed into the Brown car, which, in turn, collided with the Tera vehicle. The impact of the crash caused the Brown car to overturn, completely demolishing it.

Investigating was Patrolman Daniel Dyke.

Alison Granger, 17, of 12 Princeton avenue, Berkeley Heights, was injured last Friday when the car in which she was a passenger collided with another car at Maple street near Morris avenue. Police identified the driver of the car as Patricia J. Sullivan, also 17, of 58 Plymouth drive, Berkeley Heights. Operator of the other vehicle was Horst Krauledis of Springfield.

Police said the accident occurred when Miss Sullivan was slowing down in order to park (Continued on Page 2)

City Begins New Program of Curb, Sidewalk Repair

A new program whereby property owners can request the construction or repair of sidewalks or curbs under city supervision, was announced Tuesday night.

Under the plan, contract costs would be paid for by the city, and assessed against the individual property owner making the request. Requests will be compiled, and the repairs or construction will be carried out by a "responsible contractor" according to city specifications, under direct supervision of the City Engineer.

According to Councilman Frank H. Lehr, chairman of the public works committee, the cost for construction of sidewalks or concrete curbs is estimated at $3 a linear foot. Mr. Lehr said that any property owner wishing to participate in the program, can call the City (Continued on Page 2)

Planning Board Ready to Unveil New Zone Code

Proposed changes in the city's zoning ordinance will be presented by the Planning Board on Tuesday, May 31 at 8 p.m. in the High School auditorium.

The proposed amendments are the result of almost three years' study by the Planning Board, in collaboration with consultant, Charles K. Agle. The present ordinance was adopted in 1955, while the Master Plan was adopted in December, 1963, when study began on the proposed changes.

Revision of the ordinance is now being considered, according to Joseph C. Hazen, Jr., chairman, because "since then it has become a wordy and a cumbersome collection of amendments, difficult to use and in some respects inadequate to the task of preserving Summit's physical amenities."

Although most of the proposed changes are improvements in wording, organization and presentation rather than changes in substance, Mr. Hazen said, "We also recommend a few important additions to the zoning law and a few tighter restrictions on the use of land and the shape and character of structures."

For example, he said, "among other revisions, we propose closer control over signs and other attention-getting devices which are proliferating in the business districts; we propose more stringent restrictions on the location of professional offices in residential districts, and we propose a few significant changes in the zoning map-all based on what we consider to be the best interests of the community at large."

Common Council will hold public hearings on the proposed amendments after next Tuesday's presentation. Copies of the proposals will be distributed at the close of the meeting. Persons unable to attend will be able to obtain copies at the City Clerk's office starting next Wednesday.

Mr. Hazen urged that residents attend the presentation Tuesday. "Members of the Planning Board," he said, "have spent many long and late hours trying to perfect the zoning ordinance on behalf of the citizens of Summit, and they would like to share their thinking with all who are concerned about preserving the city's physical assets."

 The accident occurred during the heavy traffic period of the morning rush hour.
 The children were being transported to the Junior High School here to attend special classes. According to police, Mr. Vail apparently lost control of the small foreign-made school bus, and it struck the tree head-on, doing extensive damage to the forward part of the vehicle. Several of the children were trapped for a short period of time in the wreckage before they could be freed by police and the Rescue Squad.

 The children injured included Kenneth Hartman, 15, of Maplewood; Veronica Freeman, 14; Harriet Johnson, 13, of Maplewood; Richard Willis, 12, of Maplewood and Rose Tyrone, 13, and Anthony Ippolito, 13, both of South Orange.

Church Youth Hootenany Aids Herald Camp Fund

The Interfaith Youth Council of Summit will sponsor a hootenany on Saturday from 8 to 11 p.m. at Temple Sinai. Admission of 50 cents will be donated to the Summit Herald Camp Fund.

The IYC was formed last month from youth groups of all local churches and synagogues at a meeting held at the Unitarian Church.

The idea for IYC came from Rob Skeist, who is active in the Temple Sinai youth group, and Sally Pirtle, president of the Liberal Religious Youth at the Unitarian Church. Both are students at Summit High School.

The purpose of IYC is to bring church youth groups together for parties, discussions, and service projects. In June there will be discussion at Central Presbyterian Church on the question: "Who was Jesus?"

Mary Brooner of Central Church youth group is organizing the meeting. At a discussion last fall on life after death, over 300 high school students from the Summit Area attended a Temple Sinai meeting.

Any high school student who wants to lead songs at the hootenany should call Rob Skeist at 277-0245.

On Honor Roll

The honor roll for the fifth marking period has been announced at Kent Place School. Among those on the honor roll in the middle school were Joan Downs, Catherine Green, Margaret Miller, Helen Mahood, Jeanne Pettit, Barbara Black, Eleanor English, Carolyn Vreeland, Diane Bristol, Sandra Markovitz, Amy Stickney, Josephine Stryker and Elizabeth Wolcott, all of Summit.

YWCA to Offer Career Program For Area Girls

A program of summer opportunities for senior high school girls will be offered by the YWCA from July 5 through 31. The 4-week program of classes, trips, work experience, and fun will be held on Mondays through Fridays from 1 to 4 p.m.

Emphasis will be on social work and the program will be geared to high school girls who may be thinking that they would enjoy a career working with people in one of the social work fields. There will be three phases of program. The first will concentrate on what social workers are, what they do, where they work. Understanding all major areas of the social work field will be the objective. Girls will visit case workers in a variety of job situations; group workers; community organizations. Allied fields of work with people, such as mental health and recreation, will be explored. A graduate school of social work will also be visited.

The second phase will concentrate on understanding of some of the major concerns in society today that require social workers, such as the poverty program, problems of the aged, mobility, teen-age crime, migrant workers.

The final area of the program will provide an opportunity for girls to gain practical experience in a variety of volunteer jobs in hospitals, programs for children, in social agencies and allied organizations.

One trip each week will be featured: to Broadway and off-Broadway plays, folk music festivals, jazz concerts, the opera. Girls may sign up for one or more of these.

Registration for the summer enrichment program closes on June 26. Some scholarship aid is available. Mrs. Alvin Griggs, director of teenage program, may be called at 273-4242 for further information. She will also be available to speak to groups about the program.

Court Hands Down $535 in Fines to Seven

Seven persons paid fines totalling $535 last week in Municipal Court. Penalties also included license revocations totalling two years and 11 months and probation for a year.

The heaviest penalty, $325 in fines and a two year driver's license suspension was handed to Gene T. Sinagra of Madison, after he was found guilty of drunken driving, assault and disorderly conduct. Mr. Sinagra was arrested by Patrolman Joseph Connelly at Broad street and Middle avenue on March 13. At the time of his arrest Mr. Sinagra allegedly pushed the policeman and then became disorderly when he was taken down to Police Headquarters.

Fined $50 each and denied their driver's licenses for three months on charges of underage possession of alcohol were William Brennan of Watchung, Stuart D. Burstein of Livingston and Frederick M. Jones also of Livingston. Speeding net Clifton S. Fox of Glenwood place a $25 fine and a two month license suspension, while an assault and battery charge cost Jacob Green, Jr., of 99 Park avenue a $25 fine and a year's probation. Driving the wrong-way through a one-way street netted James E. Pulliam of 77 Summit avenue a $10 fine.

The tiny Alpine village of Saint Veran, France, still has the medieval superstition that the devil lurks in 90-degree corners and nowhere in the modest log-and-stone houses of the village can one find a true right angle.

Your Head And Your Heart Say "Don't Wait!"

Now is the time to learn about The Restland Memorial Park Family Benefit Plan

Suddenly bereavement comes. And all too often, when sorrow is burden enough to bear, the family suffers needless extra distress. You can spare your loved ones the anguish and expense of making costly and hasty burial arrangements at the worst possible moment. Your head and your heart tell you to act before the need arises.

Among the many advantages of buying your burial estate now at Restland Memorial Park are these: You will save hundreds of dollars, get a greater choice of location, and spare your family from future financial strain, embarrassment, or debt. Best of all, Restland's unique Family Benefit Plan provides extra protection, security and peace of mind.

Family memorial sites at Restland Memorial Park in nearby Hanover (1 mile west of Livingston traffic circle), offer the beauty, serenity and privacy of a landscaped English country estate—with lovely gardens, well-kept lawns and flower-bordered pools. Distinctive bronze plaques, set level with the grass, memorialize the resting places.

Restland is non-sectarian. The purchase price includes perpetual care. Convenient monthly payment plans may easily be arranged to suit every family's needs. For full information, simply fill out and mail the coupon today.

A Film of Merit Reviewed
by Jon Plout

body can do (burden of proof, etc.); so much so that for all intents and purposes in the last few years, prior censorship by way of refusing to grant a license is all but impossible.

This has resulted in a stimulating increase of adult films (especially from abroad), but it has also resulted in an immature Hollywood (mistakenly, I believe) marketing a veritable flood of films with synthetic sex and unmotivated violence. While this type of second grade film making, which ignores the film medium as an art form, may temporarily make the fast and plentiful buck, it can only lead (as it is leading) to the demise of Hollywood as the center of the world's film industry.

The voluntary advisory censorship bodies are either ineffective or when followed, destructive. Thus, films which market incipient sex and violence without valid story motivation slip through or are attended even while banned (by, for example, The Legion of Decency), while true adult films which are basically moral experiences are banned by the

and the sense to reject what is in poor taste.

Censors — either of the official state or advisory type — accomplish nothing but abridge our own freedom of choice, since they censor out much that is good with some that in their omnipotence THEY judge to be bad.

Besides, as the line says from the song "Necessity" (Finian's Rainbow) "Though the Movie Censors tried the facts to hide, the movie goes up and multiplied". Censorship just doesn't work. The individual must accept the responsibility.

In actual fact when the public wants to see a film badly enough, the advisory censors (religious groups, civic organizations, veterans associations, magazines, etc.) have no effect — they may even stimulate attendance at the film (as in the case of Cardinal Soellman's attack on "Baby Doll").

The real harm of these advisory organizations is that an unfair stigma may be placed on a worthwhile film not of general public appeal, because of something minor and arguable that that advisory group objects to (in the case of "The Pawnbroker" a simple nude scene which was essential to the story and made the critical moral point of the film was more than the Legion of Decency thought the public should bear).

Now the Supreme Court, in a recent decision, has indicated that the type of promotion done for a work of art may effect its censorability. If applied to films, this would present the ludicrous situation of giving the Madison Avenue executive the power to destroy or save any film. Could "The Greatest Story Ever Told" (a poor and overdone but harmless film) be censored under this peculiar rule as the result of the acts of an over zealous promotion agency? Surely this newest test of the court will not accomplish what all would admit to be a laudable aim — to raise the standards of the film industry.

There is one answer — and really only one. It is for the general public to develop taste and an adult approach to the world's cultural film output. A permissive grading of films helps, but the responsibility must remain with the individual. If a parent is concerned about what his son or daughter is seeing, the way to control it is not to ask the state to censor, which is unsatisfactory from every viewpoint, and not to tie that offspring to a chair in the house (especially if that tethering is near a T.V. set, since television has the most objectionable programming of all but to develop in that child a discriminating taste

Hospital, Schools Benefit From JC Football Game

As a result of their ticket sales from the 1965 Jaycee Football Classic held in Princeton last August, the New Providence-Berkeley Heights Jaycees received and recently donated a total of $1,425 to several organizations in New Providence and Berkeley Heights.

New Providence and Governor Livingston High Schools both received $500 for a scholarship to be given in the name of the Jaycees to a deserving graduate senior to further his or her education. The PAL in New Providence and Berkeley Heights both received $50.

Overlook Hospital received $100 for their building fund. The New Providence Band Uniform Fund received $150 and the New Providence Recreation Committee $75.

The sole purpose of the Jaycee Football Classic each year is to raise money for charitable organizations in the State of New Jersey. Each Jaycee Chapter receive an amount of money from the proceeds of the game which depends on their ticket sales.

The 1965 Classic was the fourth annual game and the fourth year that the NP-BH Jaycees have participated in this fund raising project. To date, the local Jaycees have donated a total of $5,000 to the two communities.

Tickets are now available for the 1966 Classic, August 27, N.Y. Giants vs Philadelphia Eagles. All groups and organizations interested should make their purchases as soon as possible to ensure seat reservations. Prices are $3.50, $5.50, and $7.50, and are sold on a first come, first served, basis. Tickets can be obtained through any New Providence or Berkeley Heights Jaycee, or by calling Nick Martini, 273-2624.

Isaac Pitman, an Englishman, invented the first system of shorthand in the 1530s; the Gregg method was invented by John Gregg in 1838.

Overlook Gets $15,000 From County Heart Fund

A grant of $15,000 to Overlook Hospital was announced this week by the Union County Heart Association. According to Dr. Bernard Rosenberg, president of the association, the money is part of the nearly $75,000 collected during a February drive for funds.

Overlook will use the money to continue its stroke rehabilitation project, which was partially financed last year by a grant of a like amount from the Heart Association.

The Overlook program, jointly established by the hospital, the Union County Heart Association and the New Jersey State Department of Health, is intended to rehabilitate stroke victims with new techniques that offer a greater chance of returning to normal or near-normal function.

According to Robert E. Heinlein, director of the hospital, the key lies in early use of muscle — gentle movement as soon as possible. This prevents atrophy and keeps nerve patterns functioning. While the patient is still weak — or even semi-conscious — passive exercise is begun in bed. The patient is no longer left for weeks to recover "quietly" from the initial shock. These new techniques shorten the recovery period by many weeks for most patients, Heinlein said.

The Overlook program combines the skills of a physiatrist (a doctor who specializes in physical medicine), a nurse stroke coordinator, staff nurses, physical therapists, dietitian, service counselor, all working closely with the patient's own doctor.

The post-hospital home recovery program requires the cooperation of the Heart Association, which makes available objects for home therapy, the New Jersey State Department of Health, which gives financial aid to the program, in addition to professional advice; the Visiting Nurses Association; the New Jersey Rehabilitation Commission, which is a source for vocational retraining and home-making skills; the Red Cross, which lends equipment and provides transportation to and from the hospital for physical therapy, and the Visiting Homemakers Service, which provides trained household help.

Seventy-six persons were treated during the program's first year of operation at the hospital. Dr. Rosenberg and hospital director Heinlein said the results have "proved conclusively successful in a number of cases." However, they stressed that the patient's own condition also determines the course and extent of recovery.

Local Woman Heads Essex Girl Scouts

Mrs. Karl Thomason of 246 Blackburn Road, was elected president of the 22,000-member Girl Scout Council of Greater Essex County at the organization's annual meeting Tuesday, at Graulich's in Orange.

Mrs. Thomason, the mother of four children, is the wife of Karl Thomason, vice-president of Frank H. Taylor and Son, East Orange realty firm.

In Summit, Mrs. Thomason is a board member of the United Campaign and an active P.T.A. member.

Mrs. P. D. Paxton of 4 Sunset Drive, was reelected to the board of directors. Mrs. Paxton serves as chairman of the camp committee of the Council.

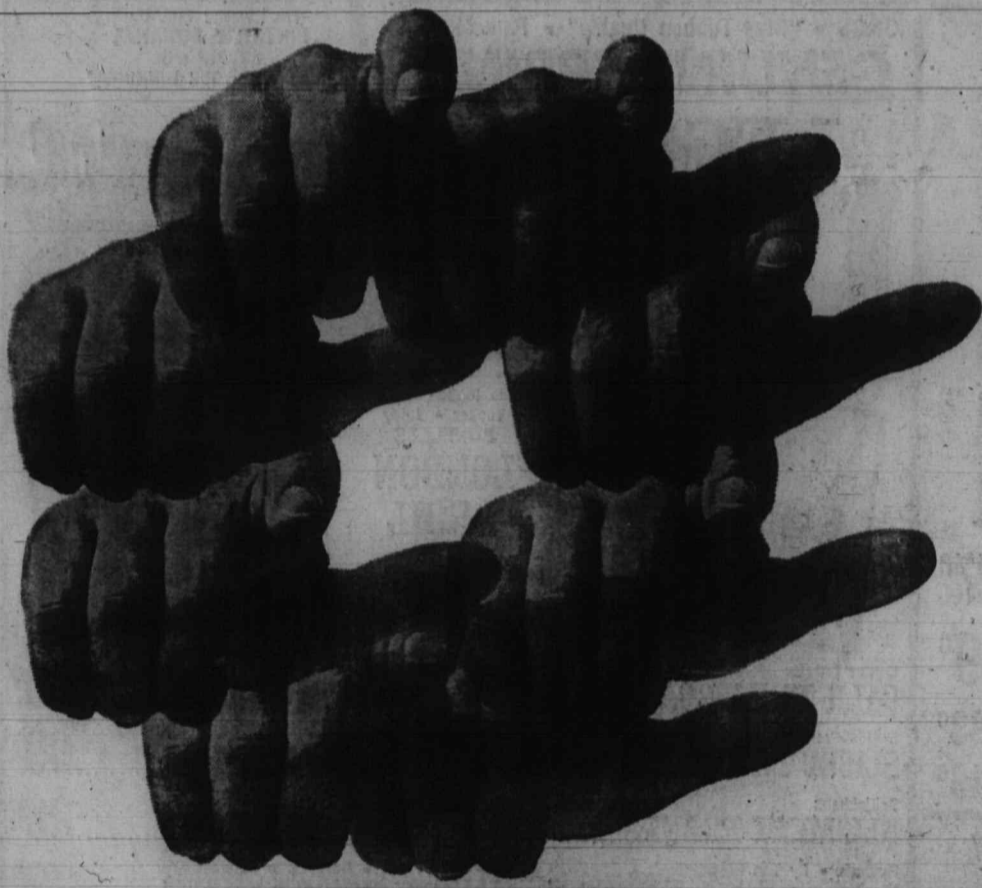

Other area residents elected include John Chatterton of 114 Chestnut Hill drive, Murray Hill, re-elected a vice president for a two-year term; R. Kirk Batzer of 55 Silver Lake Drive, elected a director.

Mrs. John Bonnell of 9 Blackburn Road, and Mrs. Douglas Smith of 1539 Springfield Avenue, New Providence, were given certificates of appreciation for their outstanding contributions as neighborhood chairmen.

NEW OFFERING!
4 1/2% interest on Investment Savings Accounts

Now, at the United States Savings Bank, your money can earn even greater interest in an Investment Savings Account. Opened with a minimum deposit of $1,000, your account will earn interest at the rate of 4 1/2% compounded quarterly — and compounded quarterly a year per $100 on deposit.

Money must remain undisturbed in an Investment Savings Account for a minimum of one year. However, there is no waiting for dividends. They may be withdrawn when credited each quarter.

The interest rate of 4 1/2% is guaranteed for the first year. After that, dividends will be accrued at the Investment Savings Account Rate as declared each quarter. Withdrawals will then be permitted, but a minimum balance of $1,000 must be maintained.

If, during the first year, any withdrawal (other than of dividends) is made, dividends on the entire account will accrue quarterly at the rate of 4% a year.

4 1/4% interest is now being paid on all regular savings accounts from day of deposit — compounded and credited quarterly.

Glory and Possession Were Brief For 'The Cannon War' Participants

The great "Cannon War" between Rutgers and Princeton in 1875 brought a brief moment of glory to nine Rutgers men who lugged a thousand-pound cannon from Princeton to New Brunswick, but the glory and the cannon disappeared upon proof that the cannon never belonged to Rutgers.

For some reason, this college prank evoked considerable response from the Philadelphia and New York newspapers. Lengthy accounts, editorials and letters are to be found in several of them.

The theft was provoked by taunts from Princeton men, challenging Rutgers to "take back" its cannon, an old revolutionary war relic.

In April of 1875, nine members of the Rutgers class of 1877 accepted the challenge. The nine were George McTaylor of Red Bank, William Stillman of Plainfield, Ellis F. Potter of Metuchen, William R. Whitehead of Trenton, Edward A. Reiley of Atlantic City, Josiah Tice of New Brunswick, Charles J. Pomeroy of Newark, Isaac Van Winkle of Spokane, Wash., and Edward Pitman of Buenos Aires, Argentina.

The nine took shovels, pick-axes, crow-bars and hickory sticks. They went first to Milltown, where they hired a farmer's box wagon and team of black horses. The farmer sent along his hired man.

In the dark night, the group lost its way and came upon Monmouth Junction and a hotel where a dance was in progress. One account has it there was a "group of comely country girls who seeing that they were 'college boys,' held out alluring arms" — but the nine left on their mission.

They arrived in Princeton at about 1 a.m. and made straight for the cannon. The big gun weighed 1,088 pounds and it took them two hours to carry it 200 yards to the wagon.

The group passed through Kingston by daybreak and at 10:15 a.m. they unloaded the cannon in front of Old Queens.

They marched into their class, "Freeman's Outline of History," and the professor called on each dishevelled and dirty student and to his surprise found each one prepared.

The cannon was then stored in a college coal bin and the janitor appointed to guard it.

Princetonians retaliated. A group of them broke into the Rutgers armory and took 28 muskets. Some Princeton men, it is said, actually made application for admission to Rutgers as an easer of gaining entrance to the enemy camp.

"But when the college learned they were from Princeton, they simply failed to pass."

The people of New Brunswick were staunch supporters of the Rutgers men.

However, the issue had reached the desks of the presidents of Rutgers and Princeton, William Campbell and James McCosh, who in somewhat restrained but forceful terms defended the rightness of their respective colleges' students.

Princeton President McCosh consulted a lawyer, who said there were two courses of action — process of law through the faculty or force by the students. The Princeton students feared that a lawsuit would provoke Rutgers students to throw the cannon into the Raritan.

The cannon, meanwhile, was being moved to guard against recapture. It went first to a New Brunswick coal yard, then to the cellar of a house, and finally to the New Brunswick police station in the custody of Chief Charles Oliver.

But the facts were against Rutgers. As it turned out, there were two cannons involved. The one the Rutgers men thought (they had taken was still secure on the Princeton campus. The one the Rutgers men had taken also was definitely Princeton's.

It was brought out that the larger of the two cannons, the one the Rutgers men thought they had reclaimed as Rutgers' own, had been in undisputed possession of Princeton since the battle of Nassau 1777.

During the war of 1812 it was moved to New Brunswick. It had been feared that boating parties of a British squadron off the coast might ascend the Raritan and attack New Brunswick. There was no occasion for its use, which was fortunate according to one source, "for it might have been disastrous to friend as well as foe." In 1825 Princeton reclaimed it.

The cannon that was taken was found indeed to belong to Princeton, and 1 May of 1875, with ten New Brunswick policemen and Chief Oliver astride the cannon, the Princeton property was returned.

The Class of '77 at Rutgers determined that Rutgers should have a cannon of its own, had a mountain howitzer of the type used during the Civil War placed in front of Old Queens in the year 1903. Because of the escapade, the Class of 1877 became known as the Cannon Class.

Legend has it that Achilles acquired strength when his mother dipped him into the River Styx and his one weak spot was his heel, where his mother held him. Achilles died of a wound he received in the heel.

Music in the Schools

To folk like us whose schoolday music training consisted of a teacher equipped with an off-key pitch pipe who visited the classroom once a week for a spirited off-key sing-along, the array of talent presented each year at this time by the schools is impressive.

The annual spring concerts offered last week by the senior and junior high schools are a delightful event not only for proud parents but also for those who enjoy music. The programs range from the popular to the classic but of more importance they also range from the vocal to the instrumental. And these groupings in turn are broken down into multi-voice groups to smaller informal combinations and from stirring band music to lilting orchestral selections.

The music program provided by the schools of today is far, far removed from the traveling teacher and her pitch pipe. An opportunity is made available for the youngsters of today to become proficient on practically every type of instrument available and they also are given sound instruction in voice and the theory of music. Talent is discovered and encouraged at an early age and even if talent is lacking, usually an aptitude is developed that results in the personal enjoyment of being able to play a musical instrument.

If you have never been to one of these spring concerts, take an evening off next spring and find out how things have changed since you went to school.

Summit Comes Full Circle

Except for graduation, a field-day or two and a couple of annual dinners yet to be eaten, the 1965-66 work season is all but over. Summit has again come full circle and the traditional time for leisure is hard upon us.

The furious pace which started back in September has almost been spent and residents are ready for some recuperative therapy in the form of vacations, putting about or loafing before starting up again next fall.

For about two months, meetings will be at a minimum, chicken dinners for 100 will be scarce, speeches will all but come to a halt, and the telephone will be given a well-earned rest. The pulse of the town will beat more slowly and a kind of tranquility will pervade the heated and humid atmosphere.

In its place will come the traditional weekend cookouts, the treks to the shore, the seeking out of air-conditioned rooms and the quaffing down of gallons of gin and tonics.

However, all that is serene at the surface does not mean for one moment that tranquility is complete. For it's during the summer months when new projects are hatched between sips of cooling beverages. It's during July and August when plans for the future are born at backyard cookouts. And it's during those humid weekends when friend meets friend mowing the front lawn to determine how Summit can involve itself during the three seasons ahead.

Summer might be the time when the furious pace is reduced to a snail's walk, but the atmosphere crackles with anticipation of future meetings, dinners, speeches and telephone calls. How many new organizations are formed over a martini on the rocks, or the number of new projects hatched while waiting to turn a steak on the charcoal broiler, we will never know. But once that telephone rings in September and we are invited to attend a meeting that is described as "organizational", we will know immediately that Summit did not really rest during the summer, but was busily engaged in setting up a bevy of new projects, all aimed at filling, what has come to be termed, "the city's unmet needs."

Postal Savings, Farewell

The Postal Savings System instituted by the federal Post Office Department January 1, 1911, is going out of business but its passing should not be an occasion for sorrow.

Instituted at a time when banks did not enjoy their present reputation for security, the Postal Savings system also appealed to the great many immigrants who had become accustomed to saving money through comparable systems in their native lands.

Postal Savings was instituted for the benefit of the small saver. While interest rates have been lower than those offered in private banks the Postal Savings System encouraged people of small means to deposit money in savings immediately available in emergency and safe from the danger of misappropriation.

In the first year of operation, 1911, there were 11,918 depositors with an average of $56.82 invested, for a total of $677,145. The next year the number of depositors rose to 248,801 with $20,237,084 invested. Postal Savings reached a peak in 1947 when more than 4 million depositors using facilities in 8,000 post offices had $3.4 billion on deposit. By last June the number of depositors slipped to 997,029 and 156,000 accounts had been inactive for 20 years or more.

Interest on savings still outstanding will halt when the anniversary date is reached. In addition the holder can secure a much more favorable interest rate by cashing savings in now and re-depositing in private institutions.

The decision of Congress to end the Postal Savings System is hailed as the strongest expression of confidence in the nation's banks and loan institutions as well as the effectiveness as of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation. In addition the end of Postal Savings System offers the reassuring reminder that government isn't always going into business. Sometimes it goes out.

Time Running Out

As well as living in an affluent society, we also dwell in a disposable society. Most of us have a simple solution when asked what we do after a product has outlived its usefulness. We simply reply, "Throw it away."

Now the National Academy of Science tells us that there is peril in this solution and man must begin to re-use wastes or face catastrophe. The peril is that the number of "aways" is rapidly becoming less, or as the National Academy puts it, "One man's wastebasket is another's living quarters. There is no longer an "away."

Air and water pollution comes first to mind when we consider wanton misuse of natural resources. But these are not the sole examples of waste problems which must be faced in the not-too-distant future. There are also auto graveyards, human graveyards, disposal of waste paper, plastics, glass and tin containers. In short, what to do with what is now lumped into one word — trash.

The day will come when there will no longer be land for city dumps. The National Academy sees the need for federal planning and help in developing means of re-using waste. It notes that most of the products sold as consumer goods are derived from our natural resources. The products, however, aren't really consumed. They are merely used and then discarded. Any city street or highway tells the story. There are plastic tips from cigars, beer tins, soft drink bottles and the like scattered across the nation along its streams and roads. Cities even today are well aware of the increasing difficulty in finding disposal areas so that people may continue to throw things away.

One suggestion for the future has been a series of underground, swift-running sewers or sluices, which would handle the complete refuse, organic and inorganic, from all homes and buildings by a statewide series of networks serving many communities. Chemicals and heat would be used to reduce the wastes to fine ash. Bulkier objects, such as cars, building materials and home appliances, would all be handled in a huge disposal plant operated under state supervision and with state and federal funds. The community would be relieved of individual waste disposal.

The National Academy did not say that this is what it has in mind. It merely underscored the problem and called for some looking ahead. The real task is for individuals to change their pattern of living so that cleanliness becomes a personal goal. The task is for individuals to recognize the basic biological fact that no organism can survive if it must live in an environment dominated by its own wastes. And in a biological concept, humans are considered organisms.

Deaths

Frederick Cosanka

Frederick W. Cosanka of 773 Springfield avenue, died Saturday in Overlook Hospital. He was 65.

Born in Germany, Mr. Cosanka came to Woodlawn, N.Y. 37 years ago where he was an orchid grower. He moved to Summit in 1940 and had been an orchid grower here since. Mr. Cosanka was a member of the Orchid Society.

He leaves a brother, Gustav Cosanka of Scotch Plains, and six sisters, Mrs. Helena Kroll, Mrs. Anna Krause, Mrs. Maria Hagaman and Mrs. Augusta Guent, all of Germany; Miss Alfrida Cosanka of The Netherlands and Miss Greta Cosanka of Switzerland.

Services were held yesterday at the Brough Funeral Home, 535 Springfield avenue.

Mrs. Ralph DiNunzio

Mrs. Filomena Campano Di Nunzio of 175 Elkwood avenue, New Providence, widow of Ralph Di Nunzio, died a week ago Wednesday in the home of her daughter Mrs. Gilda Cadmus of 20 George Road. She was 69.

Born in Italy, Mrs. Di Nunzio came to Berkeley Heights in 1920, and moved to New Providence eight years ago.

She also leaves four sons, Nicholas and Robert, both of New Providence. Rudolph of Alexandria, Va., and Ralph Jr. of Berkeley Heights; another daughter, Mrs. Ida Rosato of New Providence; two brothers, Nicholas and Anthony Campana, both of New Providence; three sisters, Mrs. Raffaella Lonbardi of New Providence and Mrs. Marion Izzucco and Mrs. Jennie Perrilli, both of Berkeley Heights, and 14 grandchildren.

The funeral was Saturday from the Paul Ippolito Summit Memorial, 7 Summit avenue, Summit, with a mass following in Our Lady of Peace Church.

Mrs. Karl H. T. Pfister

Mrs. Edna Halbach Pfister of 160 Summit avenue, died on Saturday at her home following a long illness. She was 79.

Born at New York City, Mrs. Pfister lived many years in Philadelphia before moving here 33 years ago. She was a member of the Fortnightly Club and Calvary Episcopal Church. She was the widow of Karl H. T. Pfister.

She is survived by a son, Dr. Karl Pfister of Westfield; a sister, Mrs. Elsa H. Hill of 174 Summit avenue, and three grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted on Monday by Rev. Elmer Francis of Calvary Episcopal Church, at Burroughs and Kohr Funeral Home, 309 Springfield avenue. Burial was in Fairview Cemetery, Westfield.

Letters

Students Miss the Point

Editor, Summit Herald:
Three cheers for students Skeist and Perell! I'm glad they have the brains to have survived courses in the 'new math'.

But they miss the point. It is quite true that a few have learned to read, and read well, having been taught with the 'sight-say' method. But, this is more a tribute to the superior intelligence of these students. Their success is attained in spite of, rather than because of, the method. For the larger percentage of students, use of the 'sight-say' program without phonics has decreased, rather than increased, the ability to read. That's why we now have remedial reading classes—even at the college level.

The same can be said of the 'new math', especially where it has been used in the elementary grades as a complete replacement for the traditional mathematics. In both programs ('sight-say' reading and the 'new math') the cart has been put before the horse.

Both begin with the more complex concepts and then bring in the simple, instead of the reverse. I.e. In pure 'sight-say's reading instruction the student is introduced first to words instead of learning the building blocks such as letters and their combinations. As a result we have a generation that can't spell and can't read properly.

Fellows, if you want to argue about it, don't pick on me. Write to Dr. Beberman who started the whole program, and now feels that his idea is faulty, especially when it is applied to the elementary grades. Or write to Prof. Morris Kline at NYU. These men are the ex-

Nature Club Off to See Rare Warbler

A field trip to Waterloo on Saturday, has been scheduled by the Nature Club for observation of the rare warblers that can be found in this region. The wooded area between the Musconetcong River and Camp Al-lemuchy is one of the few places outside the Ohio valley where the rare cerulean warbler nests. Miss Jeannette Middlebrook of Chatham will serve as leader. Participants will meet at the junction of Route 206 and Waterloo Road, two miles north of Netcong at 8:30 a.m. Naturalists who would like to join the group should bring binoculars and a box lunch.

Science Group To Hear About New Institute

In a recent issue of the Summit Herald announcement was made of preliminary planning for a graduate center for science and technology to be established in New Jersey. Richard W. KixMiller of 114 Prospect street, a vice-chairman of Celanese Corporation, was announced as taking leave of absence from his corporate duties to serve as chairman of an executive committee for the proposed Institute for Science and Technology.

Mr. KixMiller will be guest speaker at the May 26 meeting of the Summit Association of Scientists to be held at 8 p.m. in the auditorium of the Celanese Research Company on Morris Court. The subject of his talk will be "The Institute for Science and Technology - A Challenge and an Opportunity."

In his talk he will develop some of the historical background and need for a new graduate science center in the northern New Jersey area, and he will include some comments on the present status of graduate education in the sciences in this country.

The meeting, to which the public is invited, should provide opportunities for authoritative answers to the many questions posed by the undertaking of this magnitude. Specific areas of interest are students' participation and requirements, companies' affiliations, financial setup, and so on.

Mr. KixMiller, who has served as a director of the Manufacturing Chemists' Association, is a trustee of Drew University and Pingry School, as well as a director of Summit and Elizabeth Trust Company. He also has been a member of the advisory council of the Chemical Engineering School at Princeton University. Currently, he is a member of the executive committee of the Princeton Alumni Council and the Secretary of the Navy's educational advisory board.

As is the custom of the Summit Association of Scientists, an informal gathering for dinner at 6 p.m. with the guest speaker at the William P.H. in Chatham will precede the meeting. Those desiring to attend the dinner should contact M.A. Sleminski at 273-6000, Ext. 231.

Bank Votes Dividend

Harold T. Graves, Jr., president of the Summit and Elizabeth Trust Company, has announced that the regular quarterly cash dividend of 45 cents per share would be paid June 29, to stockholders of record June 1.

Investor's guide! A Cadillac remains unmistakably a Cadillac regardless of year. New or previously-owned, its impressive size, its remarkable beauty and its continuity of styling have all contributed to Cadillac's reputation as the finest of all luxury car investments.

Every day, more and more wise car buyers are discovering that they can get more performance, luxury, distinction and pride of ownership in a previously-owned Cadillac than in many new cars of lesser stature. For example, Cadillac engineering has always been so advanced that many features of Cadillacs several years old are just now finding their way into new cars of other makes. And Cadillac has for years provided as standard equipment automatic transmission, power steering, power brakes, power windows and power seats on most models, automatic cornering lights and many other conveniences that even now cost extra on most new cars. Consider, too, the extra reassurance of motoring in an automobile of Cadillac's impressive size and stature. Before you buy your next car, be sure to look for your authorized Cadillac dealer's used car sign. It is the best possible landmark for a wide, attractively priced selection of well cared for, previously-owned Cadillac cars.

Child Care Center Tots Help YMCA Mark Birthday With Official Visit

One of the most unusual experiences the YMCA has had in its year-long 80th year celebration was the visit last Friday of 30 children from the Child Care Center. It was an occasion of great interest and considerable fun for the active youngsters, most of whom had never been to the Association building. The idea of the visit was developed jointly by Mrs. Richard W. Kixmiller, vice-president for the Center, and Allan R. Devenney, Y general secretary, as a way of sharing in the Y's community-wide 80th birthday recognition. Under the direct supervision of Mrs. Howard Smith, director of Child Care, the children arrived about 10:30 a.m. Friday morning for an hour's adventure at the Y. On hand to greet the children were George B. Martin, president of the YMCA board of directors and Mr. Devenney, who along with the other members of the staff had arranged the program. Lou Choquette, the Y physical director conducted the activities which followed. Highlights of the visit included a trip to the swimming pool, where a women's swim class was in session, under the leadership of Mrs. Herta Goodie. The boys and girls thought swimming "was great fun," and told the Y staff that they wanted to learn to swim. By coincidence Mrs. Edward Relsen, treasurer of Child Care was one of the class, and she was persuaded to show the children how to dive. After seeing the shower rooms and locker facilities, Mr. Choquette took the group to the special exercise room, where some of the boys were given the opportunity to hit the punching bag. Later in the gymnasium the physical director instructed the youngsters in simple exercises and games, and allowed a number of the more adventurous to bounce on the trampoline. Following the tour of the Y building, during which the children were introduced to the office staff and were shown how various office machines work, pictures were taken and a tape recording was made of the singing of "Happy Birthday," and the presentation of a huge symbolic birthday cake made by the children. Mr. Martin received the cake and a large birthday card and expressed the thanks of the YMCA to Mrs. Kixmiller and her associates for the felicitations "so happily expressed" in the presence of the group. In the taped interviews with some children, Mr. Devenney asked what was the most interesting thing they saw. The opinions were evenly divided between the pool and the trampoline, but one little individualist said the "cake" was the best part of the morning's visit. Pencils first were referred to as "lead pencils" because they were aware of the marking characteristics of the metal and thought that graphite (of which pencils consist) was "black lead."

Film Program At Oak Knoll Ends Tomorrow

The film education program inaugurated at Oak Knoll School this year will be brought to a close tomorrow by a film festival. Included in the program will be the screening of an outstanding film, followed by a discussion under the direction of Rev. Stanley Grabowski of Bayonne who has been conducting the program.

Later in the day the student body will have the opportunity of hearing John Fitzgerald, New York film critic, who will speak on norms for evaluating films. As a conclusion to the day and this year's program, the Film Club will present its own first efforts at film making. Parents of the students have been invited to participate in the festival.

Oak Knoll has been one of the pioneers in the field of film education. It is one of six schools in the nation to incorporate such a program in its curriculum and commendations have come from many quarters praising the innovation.

Two Local Youths in Chrysler Shop School

Two Summit youths, Percy Post, 19, of 128 Springfield avenue, and Ronald Lassiter, 19, of 6 North street, have been selected for Chrysler Motors' automotive technicians training program. They will participate in a 3-year apprenticeship program of on-the-job training.

Post, who will study body repair, will work at Essex Dodge Co., in Orange, and Lassiter, who will study general repair work, will be with Main Auto Sales, Inc. at Madison.

Fortnightly to See Historic N.Y. Village
 A field trip on Thursday, May 26 of the American home department of the Fortnightly Club will offer members an opportunity to see 18th Century Americana at the Old Museum Village of Smith's Cove, Monro, New York.
 Several years ago Roscoe W. Smith had the idea to preserve old tools which had built early America and during his lifetime collected so many, that eventually he founded the Old Museum Village. The museum is located in the historic Mid-Hudson Valley and was opened in 1950. Over the years many collections have been brought there intact from their original settings, and the museum now displays in a village of 35 buildings farming tools, carriages, China and glass, firearms, wooden and tinware, fire engines, etc. There are two old log cabins from West Virginia and West Point, a drug store, a barber shop, and a blacksmith's shop. The country store is perhaps the best in any museum. In the shops craftsmen give demonstrations of their work daily.
 Mr. Howard Zerk is chairman of the field trip and department members must make reservations with her by today.
 The bus will leave from the Clubhouse at 9:45 a.m. and will return about 5 p.m. A stop for lunch will be made at Goose Pond Inn.

Mental Health Work Aided by Junior Clubs

Nine members of the Junior Fortnightly Club, led by Mrs. Watson B. Smith, Jr., president, witnessed the presentation of $18,422.27 raised by junior clubs of the State Federation of Women's Clubs to the N.J. Association for Mental Health.

Of the total, $14,000 is earmarked for the improvement of educational facilities for hospitalized mentally-retarded children. The presentation was made Saturday at the annual convention of junior clubs held at Atlantic City.

Those from Summit attending included Mrs. William Greer, vice president of Junior Fortnightly; Mrs. Robert Templeton, state project chairman; Mrs. John McGowan, Mrs. Dennis Doyle, Mrs. William Walzinger, Mrs. Daniel Higgins, Mrs. Rocco Salandra and Mrs. William Mackie.

Accepting the gift was Mrs. Arthur F. Ackerman of Summit avenue, immediate past president of the Association for Mental Health and coordinator of the project.

She stressed the far-reaching significance of what the junior clubs have accomplished and emphasized the fact that the project not only focused the spotlight of public attention upon the importance of providing appropriate educational opportunities for emotionally disturbed children within a hospital treatment setting but has also highlighted the significance of relating that program to public educational resources within the community.

Texas Garden Setting for Wedding Of Miss Barnard to Robert Evans

A Texas garden was the scene on May 7 for the wedding of Miss Priscilla Barnard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. U. J. Barnard of Mount Pleasant, Texas to Robert H. Evans of Dallas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben D. Evans of 35 Blackburn Place.

The 6 o'clock ceremony was performed by Rev. Tom Fry, D.D., of the First Presbyterian Church of Dallas in the garden of the home of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Lusk of Richardson, Texas, which was also the scene for a reception following the ceremony.

Fortnightly Wins Three State Awards

The Fortnightly Club received three awards at the convention held last week in Atlantic City by the State Federation of Women's Clubs. One was for the local club's outstanding support of the general federation care vocational training program, a two-year project directed to providing sewing and knitting machines and needle trade kits for young women refugees in Jordan and daughters of lepers in Egypt, weaving looms for rugs in Turkey and Greece, equipping electrical workshops for Athens and Teheran boys and furnishing metal and automotive workshops and sewing machines in Israel.

An award of merit was received for club support of "Meals for Millions," another federation project whereby 3c provides a meal of multi-purpose food to prevent starvation.

The Fortnightly press book was awarded second place in state competition in the weekly newspaper coverage class. Most of its clippings were taken from The Summit Herald.

YWCA to Hold Annual Treasure Hunt Tomorrow

The YWCA's spring "Attic Treasure Hunt and Auction" will be held tomorrow from 1 a.m. to 4 p.m. At 8 p.m. the auction will begin. Professional auctioneer Elwood Heller of Somerville will wield the gavel. Among the items to be auctioned are an empire chest, four rugs, a collection of World War items may be left at the YWCA desk. Glassware, linens, kitchen equipment, jewelry, furniture, toys, picture frames, bric-a-brac, lamps, baby equipment, will be sold during the daytime hours. A bargain basement downstairs at the YWCA will feature a 5 and 10 cent room. Hungry shoppers may have lunch at a snack bar which will be open from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m. New feature at this year's fund-raising affair will be a treasure chest filled with surprise packages.

A committee of local women has been preparing for the sale, the proceeds of which help to further the YWCA's program of community service. Mrs. C. J. Sperco of West Lane and Mrs. William Noel of Rotary Lane, are co-chairmen of the event. Mrs. F. L. Johnson of West Lane is in charge of the evening's auction.

Boro Youths Presented First Red Cross Whitesell Awards

The first presentation of the Badgley of 30 Glenside avenue, C. Dale Whitesell memorial award was made Monday evening at the annual dinner of Summit Area chapter, Red Cross, held at the Hotel Suburban, to two New Providence youths.

The award, to be given annually, was established by contributions made following the death of Mr. Whitesell early this year. He was serving as chapter chairman at the time of his death. The award is for attendance at a volunteer training school for youths which is held at Peddie School, Hightstown.

Presented with the award were Miss Dale Schmidt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Schmidt of 99 Central avenue, New Providence, and Stephen Badgley, son of Mrs. Robert H.

Boro Girl Wins Annual YM Award For Leadership

The YMCA awarded the third annual John P. Bennett Junior Leadership trophy to Lorilee Curran of 39 Jane Road, New Providence, at the Y's annual Leaders' Recognition Reception held last Saturday. Miss Curran, a senior at New Providence High School, has served as a volunteer aide in the YMCA aquatic program for the last four years. She is a member of the National Honor Society, a member of the G.A.A., Officials Club, Leaders' Club, French Club, and the "Non Western World" study club at New Providence High School.

Miss Curran is also active in the New Providence PAL, Girl Scouts for which she will be a camp counselor this summer, and a member of the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine of Our Lady of Peace Church. The Junior Leadership trophy which is presented each year to an outstanding young person exhibiting high qualities of leadership, honors YMCA aquatic director John P. Bennett. He has been connected with the Y for 16 years during which time he has developed outstanding lifesaving classes and taught over 2,000 children to swim. YMCA directors honored 84 men for their leadership of boys' clubs and skills classes man of the recognition committee, introduced the volunteer and George B. Martin, YMCA president, presented them with citations of appreciation.

Junior High PTA Elects New Officers

Gerald Youngman was elected president of the Junior High School PTA at its meeting Monday night. He succeeds Harry Perlet.

Other officers who will serve for the coming school year are Mrs. Youngman, vice president; William Shelby and Charles J. Kemper, vice presidents; Mrs. Theodore Geballe, secretary; John F. Gilbert, treasurer; Mrs. Glenn W. Johnson, parent - director, and Miss Mary Delby and John A. Diopolo, teacher-directors. New officers were welcomed by Mr. Perlet.

Following the election a concert was presented by the five bands at the school and Susanne Reeb and the "Pink Panthers" presented a modern dance number. Joseph Lorel is director of the bands.

A recording of the entire band concert was made and may be purchased by placing orders at the school office. An art exhibit of student work was held in the lobby.

Girls Learn How to Be Secretaries

Summit High School girls were among guests at Stafford Hall School last Wednesday to hear a panel discussion on the role of the secretary. Robert Murray, vice president of Voice-writer division of Thomas A. Edison Industries and a resident of Short Hills, described the varied duties of a secretary and the demands made on her by a busy executive.

Mr. Murray told the group that a successful secretary needs to have top stenographic skills. As important as this ability, however, is her capacity to think ahead of her employer in detail. The boss knows, for instance, that he is taking a business trip next week. The secretary arranges all the details. She knows, sometimes before he does, who he will see, why he will be where he is, what he should talk about, etc., etc. Letitia Acheson, president of the Stuart School of Business, Administration in sbury Park, discussed a teacher's obligation to and her relationships with her secretarial students. Mrs. Michael Egli, a Stafford Hall graduate who is secretary to Louis S. Begin, sales promotion manager of Sandoz Pharmaceuticals, related some of her experiences in fulfilling secretarial responsibilities. Carol Cogliati, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Cogliati of Short Hills and a Millburn High School graduate who is now pursuing the two-year executive secretarial curriculum at Stafford Hall, expressed her views as a student of secretarial and business subjects.

Sniper Breaks Windows Along Automobile Row

Between 12 and 15 store windows were broken Sunday night along "Automobile Row" on Broad street. Police said the windows were broken with rocks and BB-gun pellets.

"Automobile Row" runs along Broad street from Summit avenue east to Walnut street. The damage cost was unknown since some of the windows in the five establishments hit were large while others were small.

Many farmers refused to use cast-iron plows, when they appeared in the 1800s, for fear of "poisoning the soil."

New Policy on Used Cars Made By VW Agency

An automobile agency that has been selling cars that look virtually the same year after year has finally come up with something new — on its used car lot.

Peter Liebman, president of Douglas Motors Corp., authorized Volkswagen dealership at 430 Morris Avenue, has announced that any used car his firm sells — whether it be domestic or imported — will carry a 100 percent guarantee for 30 days or 1,000 miles providing it bears a certification emblem showing that it has passed a special 16-point safety and performance test developed by VW.

The tests are so thorough, Liebman stated, that his firm is prepared to guarantee the engine, transmission, rear axle, front axle, brakes and electrical system of any used car it sells under the terms of its certification program.

Watchung Stable To Have Horse Show on Saturday

The 33rd annual Watchung Troops spring-horse show will be held at the Union County Park Commission's Watchung Stable, Glenside Avenue, on Saturday, May 21, at 9 a.m., and on Sunday, May 22, at noon.

The show is open to all boys and girls who are members of the Watchung Troops and will include 45 events. Competitive events will be held for riders in novice, intermediate and advanced classes. There will be events for troopers who had previously won a blue ribbon in the show.

The Black Knight memorial trophy will again be in competition and will be awarded to the winning senior troop team. This perpetual trophy has been made available by the patrons and troopers of the Watchung Stable who had ridden Black Knight during the 23 years in which he served as a troop horse.

The Snips-Willy memorial trophy will be in competition for the ninth time in memory of two horses which accumulated over 40 years of service to troopers at Watchung. The trophy will be awarded to the winning pair of junior troopers.

The Remembrance Trophy will again be in competition. This trophy is in memory of the children who assisted in bringing out 65 horses during the fire at the Watchung Stable on April 15, 1957.

Kent Place Seniors To Give Milne Play

'Spring Sing' To Be Held by Summit Chorale

The Summit Chorale will sponsor the first of its annual spring sings at the YMCA on Monday (May 23) at 8 p.m. All area residents who enjoy singing are invited to join with the members of the Chorale in reading selections from the world's finest choral literature. It is not necessary for interested singers to have sung the featured work before. Music is provided and the atmosphere of the evening is one of relaxation and enjoyment.

George Silfies, assistant conductor and accompanist for the Chorale will direct a reading of the Schubert Mass in A-flat. Mr. Silfies was for several years accompanist for the Cleveland Orchestra Chorus under Robert Shaw. He is currently a member of the New York Wind Quintet of New York and artist in residence at Queens College.

Two successive sings will be held on June 6, directed by Mark Orton, and June 13 with guest conductor David Krachyebuehl. For further information call 273-1594.

Dorothy Collins Stars in Next Paper Mill Show

The first production of the Richard Rodgers - Arthur Laurents-Stephen Sondheim musical romance "Do I Hear a Waltz?" since the hit musical closed on Broadway will be the next attraction at the Paper Mill Playhouse, beginning a four-week, melodious engagement on Tuesday, May 31. Dorothy Collins, the well-known stage and television star, will appear in the starring role.

The book of "Do I Hear a Waltz?" was originally Arthur Laurents' play "Time of the Cuckoo," played on Broadway by Shirley Booth. The screen version, known as "Summertime" starred Katharine Hepburn. This musical version is Mr. Laurents' own adaptation. Of course, the score is now one of Richard Rodgers' best known, and most melodious. The lyrics are by Stephen Sondheim, whose lyrical contributions meant so much to both "West Side Story" and "Gypsy."

Ronald Holgate, who received glowing notices from the New York critics for his performance in "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum," will appear as the Italian lothario opposite Miss Collins.

Black Walnut Trees Can Ruin Gardens

So you're thinking of adding a black walnut tree to your landscape plan.

Shade for a summer's day, a sturdy limb to support the kids' swing, cookies and candies crammed with black walnut meats, and all that.

But don't be surprised if your tree turns out to be a bad neighbor. Evil lurks in its roots. Farmers have known for years that they can't grow tomatoes, peppers, potatoes and eggplants near a black walnut tree.

Nurserymen and many surprised home owners have discovered that the plants known as ericads - members of the ericaceous family - wilt and die if they are near a black walnut.

These are the azaleas, rhododendrons, laurels, andromedas, and blueberries.

Dr. Spencer H. Davis, Jr., extension plant disease specialist at Rutgers, explains that the roots of a walnut tree put out a chemical called "juglons." Even after a black walnut tree is cut down, the chemical can remain in the soil several years.

New Providence Slugs, Splits Two Contests

New Providence — New Providence High School's baseball team came up with its most robust offense of the season last week but managed no better than a split of two games as ineffective pitching cost it a game it apparently had won against Verona.

The Pioneers scored their most satisfying triumph of the season as they blanked arch-rival Summit, 6-0, thereby avenging an early-season 11-1 setback at the hands of the Hilltoppers.

And New Providence appeared headed for its most productive week of the Suburban Conference season when it stormed to a 7-0 lead in the first inning against Verona. But the Hillbillies rallied to nip the Pioneers, 2-8, and leave them with a 3-7 mark for the season in conference play.

George Mea was the hero of the victory over Summit. He limited the Hilltoppers to just three hits and drove in two runs with a second-inning triple that snapped a scoreless tie and gave him enough runs to win. Mea walked two and struck out three.

Bob Owen walked and stole second in the second inning. He moved to third on LEE BRUSH's single and both scored on Mea's triple.

Owen singled in the fourth inning to start a three-run uprising. He stole second base and moved to third on Lee Brush's single. Owen scored and Stier was safe at second when Brush reached base on an error. Both moved up on a passed ball and Mea walked to fill the bases. Rusty Bauer singled home two runs.

Bauer singled and stole second in the seventh inning to set up the Pioneers' final run. Castaldo singled to score Bauer.

New Providence collected nine hits off of Nick Passomato, who struck out six and walked two.

Bauer started New Providence's seven-run first inning

Summit High Netmen Win Three Matches Lose to Millburn, 3-2

Summit — Inability to handle Millburn High's squad apparently has doomed Summit High's tennis team to no better than a second-place finish in the Suburban Conference this season.

The Hilltoppers have an 8-2 record in conference play, with both losses coming at the hands of Millburn. The Millers edged Summit, 3-2, last week after winning an earlier match 3-1.

Summit won three other matches, edging Chatham, 3-2; downing Verona, 4-1, and blanking Madison, 5-0.

Pete Nestler and Dick Rothschild won singles matches to account for Summit's only points against Millburn. Nestler won 7-5, 7-5, while Rothschild triumphed 6-3, 6-4.

Scott Nycum won 6-2, 6-4 in singles against Chatham, while Rothschild scored easily 6-1, 6-1. John Mell and Gordon Metsky clinched the match with a 3-6, 6-2, 6-3 victory in doubles.

Against Verona, Nycum triumphed 6-1, 6-0; Rothschild won 6-0, 6-2, and George Arana was victorious 6-1, 6-2. John Dover and Malcolm Neidner won in doubles 6-1, 7-5.

In the Madison match, Nestler triumphed 5-2, 6-2; Nycum was the victor, 6-0, 6-1, and Arana won 6-0, 6-1. In doubles play, Dover and Niedner triumphed 6-0, 6-2, and Rothschild and Metsky were victorious, 6-0, 6-2.

Highlanders to Face Millburn in State Play

Berkeley Heights — Governor Livingston Regional High School's baseball team has a perfect record in State Tournament play having won the North Jersey, Section 2, Group 2 tournament the only time it previously competed.

This year the Highlanders, with a 7-2 record, have qualified for the North Jersey, Section 2, Group 3 tournament for the first time and will have a tough time protecting their perfect tournament record.

Millburn is in strong contention for the Suburban Conference crown, currently holding down second place. The Millers have split two games with Summit High this season, a team that Governor Livingston played to a 1-1 tie early in the season.

Parasippany, the defending Greater Newark Tournament champion, has won 17 straight games this season. The Chiefs are led by two all-State players, Larry Pyle and Richie Zisk, and are solid favorites to win the tourney.

Governor Livingston is one of seven teams that has qualified for the regional tournament. The others are Millburn, the Highlanders' first-round foe; Roselle, Morris Hills Regional, West Morris Regional, Bloomfield Tech and Parsippany.

Summit Blanked Twice

Summit — Summit High School's baseball team had a disastrous time last week. It was limited to four hits by New Providence High's George Mea in suffering a 6-0 loss and then was held hitless by Millburn High's Larry Berezin, a senior righthander who was starting his first game. Millburn won 2-0.

Tom Specht of Summit limited Millburn to three hits, but the Millers scored two runs in the second inning and it was enough to whip the punchless Hilltoppers. Specht walked only one and struck out one. Berezin walked four and fanned four.

New Providence belted Nick Passomato for nine hits, coming up with two runs in the second inning and three in the fourth frame to win easily. Mea was touched for hits by Tex Biertuempfel, Bob Sofie, Rick Lang and Ned Ennis.

Summit's record dropped to 5-7-1 overall and 4-6 in Suburban Conference play. Summit had beaten both New Providence and Millburn earlier in the season.

Record Javelin Toss By Summit's Bacon

SUMMIT — Jack Bacon has joined his Summit High teammate John Langenus as a holder of an all-time Union County track and field record.

Bacon, a 6-foot, 190-pound senior, tossed the javelin 222 feet, 1 inch in a meet with Millburn last week. He surpassed the former record by almost 10 feet. The mark had been held by Scotch Plains' Mike Donovan with a toss of 212 feet, 1 1/2 inches.

Langenus had put the shot 60 feet, 2 inches in a dual meet last month. He was the first Union County school-boy to surpass 60 feet in the event.

Bacon won his event against Millburn, but Langenus had to settle for second place in both the shot put and discus throw. Millburn's Tom Lester, a 220-pounder, bested Langenus in both events. Langenus tossed the shot 57 feet, 4 inches and flipped the discus 158 feet, 2 1/2 inches. Lester topped him in the shot (58 feet, 3 inches) and in the discus (181 feet, 1 inch).

Millburn won the meet 68-58 to hand Summit its second loss in five meets.

Earlier, Summit has outclassed New Providence, 81 1/2-44 1/2. Langenus won the shot put and discus, while Craig Styler was first in both sprints. Bob Urann won the broad jump and placed second in the 100-yard dash.

Oratory Streak Snapped

Summit — For five innings last week it appeared that Tony Rubbo was on his way to pitching Oratory School's baseball team to its third consecutive victory. Rubbo blanked St. Mary's High of Rutherford until the third inning and enjoyed a 2-0 lead.

The Rutherford nine then exploded five singles in the sixth inning, scored three runs, and went on to win 4-2.

It was the fifth loss in seven games for Oratory and the third in five decisions for Rubbo. Tony was touched for 10 hits, all singles, but walked only one batter. He struck out five.

Oratory had scored single runs in the second and fifth innings. Larry Buonopane had two of Oratory's four hits and scored one of the team's two runs. Dennis Brogan and Rossi had Oratory's other safeties.

The Rams were slated to return to action this week in games with Morristown School last Monday afternoon and with Holy Trinity of Westfield on Tuesday afternoon. Holy Trinity had beaten Oratory, 7-2, in the season opener.

Regional Nine Loses In Seventh

Berkeley Heights — Foul weather limited Governor Livingston Regional High School's baseball team to only one game last week and that contest resulted in a 5-1 loss to powerful South Plainfield which dropped the Highlanders' record for the season to 7-3-2.

It was Governor Livingston's most decisive setback of the season, both previous losses having been by one-run margins. South Plainfield has a 9-2 record this season.

Coach Russ Hunchak's team was hopeful of boosting its record this week in games with St. Mary's of Elizabeth last Tuesday afternoon, with Roselle Park yesterday afternoon and with Springfield Regional this afternoon.

The Highlanders also are awaiting action in two tournaments. Governor Livingston has reached the second round of the Union County Conference tournament and is slated to oppose Millburn High, a Suburban Conference title contender, in the first round of the North Jersey, Section 2, Group 3 sectional tournament. It is unlikely the Highlanders will see action in either tournament this week.

Fred Keimel and South Plainfield's Jay Yuknus hooked up in a 1-1 duel for six innings last week. The Tigers snapped the tie with four runs in the seventh inning to hand Keimel his third loss in six decisions this season.

Simon Mundy scored in the first inning to give Governor Livingston the early lead, but South Plainfield tied the score in the second inning. Yuknus limited the Highlanders to five hits, while Keimel was touched for seven safeties.

Wednesday, May 25, 10 a.m.: Senior Citizens Club meets at the Paca Club, 8 p.m.: New Providence Camera Club meets at the Recreation Center.

Three-Way Tie For Loop Lead

New Providence — Kossuth Realtors, Lions Club and the P.A.L. are tied for first place in the Recreation Department's Boys National League with 2-1 records. The Fellowship Civic Association is a half-game behind with a 1-1 mark.

In games last week, the Lions Club defeated American Legion Post 433, 8-3, and downed the Fellowship Civic Association, 11-7. The P.A.L. routed Kossuth Realtors, 24-6, but bowed to the American Legion, 13-3. Kossuth Realtors outslugged the Jaycees, 11-7.

David's Electrical Shop leads the American League with a 3-0 record, with the Lions Club 2-0 in second place. David's Electrical Shop defeated Gillard & Olson realtors, 11-2, and blanked Our Lady of Peace, 14-0. The Lions Club defeated Gillard & Olson Realtors, 15-8. Conli Construction Company shut out the P.A.L., 10-0, but was blanked by Our Lady of Peace, 3-0.

In opening games in the International League, Jensen's Jewelers edged Friedman's Hardware, 10-9; New Providence Florist downed Bystrak Bros. Realtors, 15-5; the P.A.L. trounced Bell Drugs, 14-1, and Strong-Cobb-Arner defeated Summit Trust Company, 16-3.

Pioneers Lose In Final Event

New Providence — Verona swept first and third places in the broad jump, the final event of the meet, to nip New Providence High's track and field team, 65-61, last week. The Hillbillies led by one point before the broad jump was contested.

New Providence also suffered 81 1/2-44 1/2 loss to Summit High last week.

Verona rolled up a huge lead in the running and hurdling events to offset New Providence's superiority in the field events. The Hillbillies had a 24-3 margin in the three sprints and also swept the mile run. Verona outscored New Providence, 68-18, in the eight running and hurdling events. Bob Cain won the 800-yard run for New Providence, while Flanagan was first in the low hurdles.

New Providence took first place in five of the six field events, with Brown winning the shot put and discus; Bob Cadmus, the javelin; Ed Rollman, the high jump, and Wackwitz, the pole vault. The Pioneers swept the discus and pole vault.

Cain also won the 800 against Summit, while Cherekos was first in the high hurdles and Bill Marsh captured the two-mile run. Wackwitz took the pole vault to account for New Providence's only other individual triumph.

Summit had a 44-14 edge in the six running events. The Hilltoppers also won five of the six field events, rolling up a 33-21 edge. Summit swept the high jump.

One-Sided Tilts In School Loop

Summit — The 8th and 9th Grade Baseball League, sponsored by the Summit Board of Recreation, opened its Spring schedule with a full slate of games on tap.

In the opening week, the Invaders, Comets and Chargers got off to good starts by winning in their first encounters.

The Invaders stepped out in style by dumping the Rangers 8-3. The Rangers' downfall began with a series of Invaders getting bases on balls. The victors hit the Rangers for five runs in the sixth inning. John McGhee picked up his first win on the mound while Ken Hinman took the loss.

In the Comets — Bombers game, the Comets came out on top 10-2. The Comets capitalized on a number of walks and held the Bombers to just three hits.

The Chargers downed the Mustangs, 5-2. Trailing 1-0 at the end of the second frame, the Chargers picked up eight runs in the next three innings.

The religion of Buddhism arose in India during the 6th Century B.C. and today is widely spread through Burma, Ceylon, China, Japan and Thailand.

Royalstad Huris Seton To Tourney Triumph

Larry Royalstad of New Providence nipped a three-hitter as Seton Hall University's freshman baseball team won the St. Francis College Invitation Tournament last weekend in Brooklyn.

Royalstad hurled Seton Hall to an 18-0 victory over St. Peter's College of Jersey City in the championship game. Seton Hall had defeated St. Francis, 6-0, and Long Island University, 8-4, in earlier tournament games.

Royalstad formerly pitched for New Providence High School. He also was an all-State basketball player at New Providence and was a standout on Seton Hall's freshman quintet last winter.

Kyreakakis Slated to Coach Regional Quint

Berkeley Heights — John Kyreakakis was expected to be named basketball coach at Governor Livingston Regional High School this week by the Union County Regional Board of Education.

Kyreakakis was slated to succeed Howie Tozier, who had coached the Highlanders the past two seasons. Governor Livingston won only six of 40 games during the past two seasons.

Kyreakakis coached the Highlanders' Junior Varsity the past two seasons. His team compiled a winning record last season and was seeded sixth in the Union County Conference Junior Varsity Tournament. The Highlanders defeated Scotch Plains in the first round, but dropped a one-point decision to Plainfield.

In taking over as basketball coach, Kyreakakis will be working with a number of boys who are familiar with his style. In addition to coaching the Junior Varsity, he also has been freshman basketball coach. Graduates of the Junior Varsity and freshman squads will make up the bulk of next year's squad.

A graduate of Panzer College, East Orange, where he played baseball, Kyreakakis also is coaching Governor Livingston's freshman baseball team.

Ridge Runners Rout Regional

Berkeley Heights — Ridge High School swept six of the eight first places in the running and hurdling events and it proved to be enough to offset the superiority of Governor Livingston Regional High in the field events as Ridge scored a 71-55 victory.

Amadeo won the low hurdles and Sheldon Karlin was first in the two-mile run to account for Governor Livingston's only victories in running events. Ridge had a 45-18 edge in these seven events.

In field events, Ted Brownell won the shot put and Stan Cross was first in the discus throw. Bill Heise was the winner in the broad jump.

Ridge has an 8-2 record for the season.

McElgunn's Bowling Squad Cops Crown

McElgunn's Men's Shop bowling team copped the Monday Night Ladies' League bowling championship last week.

The team, which plays at the Four Seasons, Union, compiled a 66-39 won-lost record for the year. Members of the team include Vera Gormley, Ruth Leibfried, Mary Ginocchio and Mary Guzzardi.

Bowling Roundup

Berkeley Heights Women's League

Mountain Cleaners won the League championship, finishing with a three-game margin over Della Builders and a six-game edge over Serritella News. Berkeley Bakery and David's Electrical Shop tied for fourth place, 15 1/2 games out of first place. Wrigley's Insurance was sixth, 16 games back of the champions, while Nick Grace Paving finished seventh, another one-half game back. Della's Liquor Store and Berkeley Jewelers tied for eighth place, with Berkeley Hardware tenth. Only six games separated the league's last seven teams.

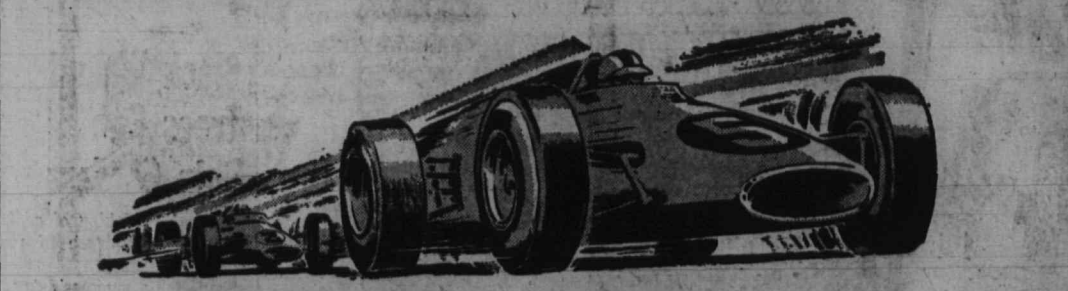

Tri-County P.O. League

Short Hills No. 2 has clinched the league championship, but Florham Park, Short Hills No. 1 and Chatham all are in contention for second place with three games to bowl.

Tony Marcelliano bowled the league's highest series of the season — 550, with games of 247 and 225. Vince Casella had a 282 game and a 620 series. Other high scores: John Ritter, 243; Nick Chango, 223; G. R. G. Nock, 220; H. Jeanneret, 221; J. Ratigan, 223; J. Caporaso, 221; J. Butler, 218; L. Zichichi, 213; I. Stivala, 209; F. DiLauri, 206, and C. Piccolo, 201.

Montclair Bank Names Officers For Short Hills

Montclair National Bank and Trust Co. has announced the appointment of two new officers to its staff.

Douglas Riddle has been named a vice president, and Mrs. Florence T. Fahner has been named an assistant cashier. At the same time, the bank announced the appointment of Philip Q. Booth, of Summit, as officers' assistant in the trust investment division.

Mr. Riddle, who will serve as branch manager for the bank's Short Hills office, had been president of The Short Hills National Bank until that bank was merged into Montclair National Bank earlier this month. He joined the Short Hills National Bank as cashier when it began operation in November, 1962, was later appointed vice president, and in 1963 became president.

Very active in civic and banking groups, Mr. Riddle is president of the Millburn-Short Hills Chamber of Commerce; a member of Rotary; a past president of the Essex County Chapter of the American Institute of Banking; chairman of the Educational Committee of Essex County A.I.B., and Past Master of St. Johns Lodge, F & A M in Nutley. He and his wife, Doris, and their two daughters reside at 41 Keats Road, Short Hills.

Mrs. Fahner also had been with Short Hills National Bank prior to the recent merger, serving as cashier and assistant vice president. She joined that bank at its inception in November 1962 as assistant cashier. Previously she was accounting department supervisor at Trust Company of Morris County for 13 years.

"Amorous Prawn" Makes American Debut As Playhouse Ends Season

A conglomeration of the cliché and the stereotype came to the boards of the Playhouse Sunday night as the British import, "The Amorous Prawn," was presented as the 165th production and the season's finale. The play, by Anthony Kimmins, shouldn't have bothered making the long trans-Atlantic trip.

Take one about-to-be retired Army general, bluff but hearty, whose attractive wife sees the necessity of taking in lodgers, preferably "rich Americans," while the general is off on duty somewhere. Mix in one secretary of war who is better known for his effect on the female of the species rather than for his knowledge of military operations. Add a soupcon of cockney Army men and women, who double as household help. Bring in the Americans and a few poached salmon, and there is the plot, the play, the production.

When this combined effort is coupled with slightly impossible dialogue, which is favored heavily with allusions to food, the end-product can take the first plane back to Mayfair, where it must be assumed that the audience believes everything it hears.

The sad tale of it all is that the talent on the stage as well as Marjorie Jefferson's direction was so far superior to the professional work of the playwright that the tremendous efforts expended was purely a waste of time, even though it must be assumed the cast "had fun" doing the play, which incidentally, has never been produced in America before.

Berney Shepard more than held her own as the attractive wife, who is not above ordering a little poaching to get her way.

Jack Pyle, as the harassed general, was commendable. All the subsidiary parts, including the prawn, were admirably handled. The set, as usual, was a delight to behold. And, it was just as well, since little else going on was a pleasure.

For some strange reason, evidently some Americans are such Anglophiles that they find it necessary to wholeheartedly adopt, or to be identified with, the the Establishment. Even American eating habits are not ignored in this fiasco, which states for another strange reason that kippers and eggs beat out rare do so.

Resident to Study Jordan Housing

Gilbert G. Roessner of 32 Lenox Road, has been named by the U.S. Agency for International Development to investigate housing problems in Jordan.

Roessner, executive vice president of the City Federal Savings and Loan Association in Elizabeth, left by plane on Saturday and remain about a month, studying the feasibility of establishing a savings and loan system in Jordan.

The Jordanians face a tremendous housing shortage and home builders there now are on a "hard cash basis," with money a scarce commodity for the average citizen.

Roessner was chosen because of his experience and training in the specialized field of thrift and home financing.

He joined City Federal in 1942 as an appraiser and mortgage officer. He rose to his present post in 1958.

Multiple Listing Service gets houses bought and sold—fast.

Perhaps the most efficient tool of the Realtor® is Multiple Listing Service. Through this Service, groups of Realtors are able to pool their resources to insure a wider range of customers when you're selling a house, a wider choice of properties when you're buying one.

It saves time, money, and headaches. And you also have the invaluable help of your Realtor every step of the way.

If you're buying or selling a house, do it the logical way: see a Realtor, a professional in real estate who subscribes to a strict Code of Ethics as a member of the local board and of the National Association of Real Estate Boards.

25 Realtor Offices employing over 100 Sales Associates doing business in the area of SUMMIT, NEW PROVIDENCE & BERKELEY HEIGHTS and surrounding territory.

COUNTRYSIDE

If you've ever driven through Countryside, one of the loveliest show places in the area, is the red Connecticut farm house, although one can hardly see it, for the magnificent trees and colorful plantings. This home was designed by Norris Prentiss, considered one of the outstanding architects on early American homes, custom built for the present owner. The living room has a fire place wall in knotty pine, and the large paneled den has the fireplace done in used brick. There are large windows through out, especially for the display of colorful glassware, also to enable you to enjoy the trees and wildlife at a glance. The all electric kitchen is in knotty pine and is designed for convenience and pleasure. The master bedroom and bath are downstairs, two other bedrooms and a bath are on the second floor.

With Spring in all her glory, now is the time to explore this lovely setting.

In other matters, Council introduced an ordinance which would change the current 12-minute parking meters at street intersections to 6 to 30 minutes at a cost of 1c for each 6 minutes, or a nickel for a half hour. The meters will be readjusted to take both pennies and nickels. Voting against introduction of the measure was Ward 1 Councilman Edwin S. Votey who said the change was not necessary.

Council also introduced an ordinance which would regulate parking on several city streets. Public hearings on both ordinances are scheduled for Tuesday, June 7 at 8:30 p.m. The proposed parking regulations will be published in the May 26 issue of the Summit Herald.

A resolution was adopted calling on the Board of Freeholders to maintain the present width of Passaic avenue and to take immediate action to repair the roadway in order to eliminate what it terms "the unsatisfactory and hazardous condition."

Two ordinances, one which will regulate parking along cer-

UNION HOSPITAL SWITCHING FROM GAS TO CLEAN OIL HEAT

When That Happens, EVERY Hospital in Union County Will Be Heated By MODERN OIL HEAT!

We can't name the hospital, but we can tell the story! It's the only hospital in Union County now heating with gas. But as soon as its new addition is completed, it switches to MODERN OIL HEAT. Then, there'll NOT be a hospital in the entire county using gas. Every one will be heating with MODERN OIL!

Why do hospitals choose MODERN OIL? — For 4 healthy reasons! It's clean! It's economical! It's dependable! It's safe! Four reasons vitally important to a hospital, but just as important to your family!

Cleanliness is critically important! It's one of the healthy reasons hospitals all choose MODERN OIL over all other fuels! So should you!

Big savings are important, too. Why burn money when it can be used for vital life-saving services? In Union County OIL HEAT is 35% to 53% CHEAPER than gas — 4 times cheaper than electric heat!

OIL is dependable! It has POWER matched by no other fuel. Hospitals need that power for a hundred uses. When MODERN OIL heats water 4 times faster than gas, doesn't it follow that it is 4 times more powerful?

MODERN OIL is safe. Plunge a lighted torch into fuel OIL and it doesn't ignite, it doesn't explode. It just goes right out. Hospitals feel safer with OIL. So will you.

To Insure Hospital / Clean Heat — Stay with OIL! Switch to OIL! Insist on OIL in Your New House!

How To Pick Out The Right Barbecue Grill

The barbecue boom is still booming. Americans are now spending more than $100 million every year for barbecues and accessory outdoor cooking equipment and this figure is expected to grow rapidly with population increases, suburban growth trends and the increase in leisure time.

According to recent surveys, about seven out of ten American families cook out of doors frequently, thanks to convenient, inexpensive and easily operated mobile barbecue grills. And with hundreds of different barbecues to choose from — ranging in price from a few dollars to more than a hundred — selection of the proper equipment can be confusing.

In recent years, the round brazier model, generally costing about $15, has been the most popular. However, retailers are reporting a trend to higher quality, better equipped wagon-style models. These bigger units with their full range of equipment until recently were priced in the luxury class. But design improvements and manufacturing advances have brought their cost within reach of any outdoor chef.

"As a result, the two-barbecue family is becoming as commonplace as the two-car family," says Eric Mell, a leading manufacturer of outdoor barbecues.

Barbecue enthusiasts are finding the ideal combination is a simple, low-priced grill for barbecuing hamburgers, hot dogs and steaks together with a fully equipped wagon barbecue that challenges the imagination and versatility of the outdoor cook. Lower-priced portable grills with folding or removable legs and carrying handles are ideal for picnics or camping trips, while the big wagon models, complete with smoker hoods and warming ovens, will prepare the most elaborate meals.

Mell cautions both novice and experienced backyard chefs to "shop around" and compare before purchasing a barbecue. Designs may seem outwardly similar, but if you compare construction and operating features, you'll discover a wide range of values.

Here are his tips for the prospective barbecue buyer:

Often overlooked is ease of assembly. Most barbecues are sold "knocked-down" and the impulsive buyer may find himself faced with the prospect of a very late dinner while he fits and tightens dozens of screws and fastenings. Quality barbecue models have major components pre-assembled at the factory and include easily handled fasteners for hoods and sockets for legs. This makes for quick, easy assembly and a more sturdy, durable unit.

Starting and maintaining a good cooking fire is basic in barbecuing and special features have been built into new barbecues to make this easy. One manufacturer has incorporated built-in, adjustable vents to provide adequate draft in bowl-type barbecues and has developed a unique "fire-starter" unit which requires only a sheet or two of newspaper to start charcoal quickly and safely.

Grill adjustment is critical for anything but the simplest kind of barbecue cooking. The range of adjustment of the grill to the fire makes you the master of your coals, allows you to regulate cooking temperatures. Check carefully the amount of adjustment possible and the ease of operation in the adjusting mechanism. One wagon line, for example, features a self-contained firepan that can be adjusted to eight positive cooking heights beneath the grill.

Hoods add to the cost of basic barbecue units but they perform useful functions. They reflect heat, a necessity for spit cooking, and shelter food and fire from wind. In more expensive models, hoods are combined with useful warming ovens equipped with vent controls and temperature gauge.

Once considered accessories, spits and motors are now included with all but the least expensive barbecues. The spit bar and forks should be sturdy enough to hold a sizeable roast or fowl. Look for the Underwriters' Laboratories listing on the motor and be sure the electric cord is long enough. An on-off motor switch and hinged mounting that allows the motor to pivot away for convenient basting are useful features.

One reason for the growing popularity of wagon barbecues is a smoker door which converts the grill into a true barbecue oven. Enclosed "smoke cooking" gives a juicy, savory barbecue flavor. Check to see that the smoker hood includes a heat-proof oven-window, vent controls essential to maintaining cooking temperature and a temperature-gauge.

Design innovations have made cleaning your barbecue a simple job. Built-in vent openings and "fire starter" units double as convenient clean-out points for removing ashes. Fire pans of wagon barbecues are usually removable for quick cleaning and the double grills of up-to-date wagon models are sized to permit clean-up in the kitchen sink or dishwasher.

The Celts of ancient Britain genuinely delighted in beauty of form and detail and in flamboyant treatment of plant and animal forms. In this, they resembled the artists of the Middle Ages, especially as both mixed love of beauty with feeling for the fantastic and grotesque according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

This is our control center in Morristown. It's manned 24 hours a day, every day. It's here that we make sure that Stephanie Mayer in Long Branch has enough electricity to iron her blouse. Electricity isn't like water. We don't store it. There's no electricity warehouse anywhere. So when Stephanie plugs in her iron, we produce the electricity she needs—instantaneously.

All this to iron a blouse? Not quite. Elaine Henderson in Rockaway is using her electric tooth brush now.
