

Home Shifts Forge Ahead Of Last Year

Moving permits for the first eight months of this year and the comparable period in 1966 are nearly neck and neck, with this year slightly ahead, the monthly report from city's tax office revealed this week.

To date, moving permits have been issued to 297 families, five more than the 292 reported during the same period last year. August permits reached 48, the same number issued during the same month in 1966, but two less than the 50 reported in July of this year.

Those moving within the Summit Area last month totalled nine, eight less than the 17 issued during August, 1966, and 13 under the 22 reported in July of this year.

Out of area permits last month reached 11, two more than the nine reported during August, 1966 and in July 1967.

Permits issued to those leaving the state last month numbered 24, a total of seven above the 17 issued during the same month last year, and nine more than the 15 in July of this year.

Last months permits also included four permits issued to those leaving the country, representing one more than the five reported in August of last year, but the same as the number in July of this year.

City Inspector Finds Violations In 68 Buildings

Substandard housing conditions have been found in 68 buildings out of a total of 95 multiple dwellings checked so far this summer by public housing inspector, Joseph Zotte, acting for the Substandard Housing Board.

Of 324 apartment units inspected already, 190 showed what Mr. Zotte referred to as mostly "minor" violations. None of the multiple dwellings so far has warranted condemnation proceedings, although there are some instances of major repairs necessary to bring all the buildings up to standard, he observed.

Manner Urges New Look Into Passaic Avenue Plan

Former Berkeley Heights Mayor and present Committeeman Arthur A. Manner, who is now seeking the GOP nomination for Freeholder in next week's primary election, this week expressed his opposition to "improvements" to Passaic avenue in Summit which would widen that residential street to a 4-lane highway and backed a proposal to build a new road on the Chatham side of the Passaic River instead of widening Passaic avenue.

Manner also urged Council to delay action on the widening of internal residential roads "until we can all weigh the damage to the communities by this haphazard use of Federal funds."

Manner expressed his views on Passaic Avenue in a letter to Mayor David E. Truckess and Council and pointed out that his opinions were meant to be "only thought provoking" and "in no way an effort of my part to suggest how to administer the affairs of your city."

Road Aid Makes Problem Manner said that he is convinced that the problem of widening residential streets as "feeder" routes linking major highways is being created by "the mis-directed use of state and federal aid funds."

"We have reached a point where no one will improve, reconstruct, or construct without the use of federal funds, and the submission to federal standards in order that the funds may be made available," he added.

Manner's letter to Summit is as follows: "Gentlemen: It is my understanding that you will soon act on the question of the widening of Passaic Avenue in your city. The following views are intended as thought provoking information and is in no way an effort on my part to suggest how to administer the affairs of your city. The widening of residential streets and roads throughout our county, and our state, has become a great concern to the unfortunate people who live on them. Their concern is not unfounded. Many more are beginning to realize that they may be next to share the burden of traffic from interstate highways.

My experience as Mayor, a Township Committeeman, and as a Freeholder candidate, has convinced me that the problem is being created by the mis-directed use of state and federal aid funds. We have reached a point where no one will improve, reconstruct, or construct without the use of federal funds, and the submission to federal standards in order that the funds may be made available. I realize, too well, that a municipal official may be subject to criticism if he does not get his community its fair share of the "Great Society's" windfall, since it is out of our pockets in the first place. However, there are times when "throwing good money after bad" will buy us nothing but trouble. In applying these principles I supported the use of federal funds in my town for the construction of sewers, the construction of a library extension, and the purchase of Green Acres property. I rejected its use for the wholesale widening of roads and for Urban Renewal.

In the matter of Urban Renewal, I felt it was immoral to declare any part of Berkeley Heights a "blighted area" when so many cities need home re-

The opening, which was observed by a ribbon cutting ceremony conducted by H. Austin Bonn, president of Muir's, and Mayor David E. Truckess and also officials of the Chamber of Commerce, marked the establishment of the first branch store of the 86-year-old family-owned East Orange concern.

Titans to Meet Dover in Home Debut on Sunday

The Summit football "Titans" will make their home debut this Sunday afternoon at Tatlock Recreation Field, Summit, engaging the big Dover Pioneers in their initial start of the North Jersey Football League season. The kickoff is scheduled for 2 p.m.

From all indications of the interest generated by Summit fans, this contest should draw one of the top crowds of the season.

Coach Mike Papio, player-coach of the Titans, believes this year's team is the best balanced he has ever coached and after several games should jell into one of the strongest teams in the NJFL.

The eight-team circuit is studded with outstanding teams. Papio believes that any team that wins eight games will win the division title. The Titans have experience and depth and plan to carry 33 men during the campaign.

Red Cross Makes Plans For Viet Yule Project

The Summit Area Chapter, American Red Cross will leap from Labor Day to Christmas as the "Red Cross Shop Early - Vietnam 1967" program gets underway.

The 1966 Shop Early Program, sponsored by the American Red Cross helped make last year's holiday season a happier one for servicemen in Vietnam. "The program," according to a Red Cross spokesman, was such an outstanding success that it will be repeated again this year. "The many heart-warming letters of appreciation received from servicemen in Vietnam are convincing evidence that this is a worthwhile project," it was stated.

The American National Red Cross plan this year is to send one filled gift bag to each United States service member in Vietnam and one gift bag for each wounded serviceman in Far East hospitals.

The Summit Area Chapter, American Red Cross has a quota of 900 filled gift bags for servicemen in the field and 135 gift bags for the wounded in hospitals.

Based upon the present and proposed military strength in Vietnam this has become "quite an undertaking." The Red Cross said some community organizations, firms, agencies, church groups and individuals have joined in helping the Summit Chapter meet the quota.

The Frank B. Jewitt Chapter of the Telephone Pioneers of America, Bell Telephone Laboratories at Murray Hill has joined with the Summit Area Chapter in making and filling 400 of the bags. The Red Cross furnished the material and the employees of the laboratories made the bags, have purchased the (Continued on Page 2)

Women Voters Set Date for Fund Appeal

Working through the summer to insure success in the Summit League of Women Voter's annual finance drive, Mrs. Ward Minkler, finance chairman, announced completion of plans to open the one-day fund appeal on September 18. The League, which is solely concerned with strengthening self-government through active and informed participation of citizens, will ask private individuals and local business and industry for support in its educational programs to augment funds contributed by its own members. The League is known primarily for its printing and mailing of candidate information sheets. A further aid to voters in weighing the issues in this year's election and discovering more about the reapportionment plan in New Jersey will be a candidates meeting on November 1. The local unit, in cooperation with other civic groups, also will continue its special efforts to alert residents to municipal issues. The successful "Know Your Town" meeting held for new residents last year will be opened to the public at this year's event.

Lending their names in support of the Summit League's finance campaign are the following members of the men's sponsoring committee: Alfred W. Alesbury, Rev. David K. Barnwell, D.D., William S. Beinecke, Rome A. Betts, Henry G. Cott, C. Phillip Dean, Woodruff J. English, Guy G. Gabrielson, Jr., Harold T. Graves, Jr., Russell T. Kerby, Jr., John I. Kirkpatrick, Richard W. KizMiller, John M. Summer Boredom Eliminated for Some Children

Now that the summer program of the new Neighborhood Council Community Center has ended, its activities have been assessed and found "very successful" in its first year, according to the Council, its cooperating group the FANS (Friends and Neighbors of the Council) and by the Union County Anti-Poverty Council which assisted it.

The Neighborhood Council, which was formed over a year ago by low-income Summit residents, this summer set up programs for youngsters from age 6 through the 'teens. From twenty to a high of 48 children attended 3 days a week.

They were divided into two groups. The 12-year-olds were supervised by Mrs. Charles Foust, Mrs. Bradford Lord and Mrs. Frederic Mann, Mrs. George Naimark was advisor to the older group.

While a lack of transportation limited the number of children who could enjoy every occasion, some had notable experience in addition to their play at Bryant Park and the Wallace Chapel parking lot. They attended a dress rehearsal of the YMCA musical, "Carnival," a puppet show at Edison Recreation Center, films at the Public Library and participated in a musical "amateur night" at Warrinoco Park, for which they qualified in tryouts with a "coffee can drums" number. This interested a professional drummer who hopes to give the further encouragement. They also visited the Morristown Junior Museum, the nature museum in Watchung Reservation and the Upward Bound program at the College of St. Elizabeth where they attended classes and had luncheon. Some were invited to swim at a private residence.

The older group had trips to Swartswood Lake in Newton and also to visit the Job Corps at Camp Kilmer. They had a "splash party" at the YMCA and the opportunity to bowl one night a week. There was not, however, a regular program available for this group.

The Union County Anti-Poverty Council sponsored a trip to Yankee Stadium for a baseball game. It also set a mobile unit here once a week staffed by some of its group of 6 college students and a teacher. They taught a variety of crafts, such as making puppets, decorated stones, bean bags and shell mosaics.

FANS program chairman helping to plan these events were Mrs. Robert Cresinger and Mrs. R. Daniels of Summit. Much appreciated assistance also was given by 'teen-age and college members of local youth groups.

Plans for the fall and winter program are being formulated. They present some problems. While the Neighborhood Youth Corps of Elizabeth has loaned the Center Miss Candace Smith as a coordinator for six months, many volunteer leaders, both students and adults, men and women, are needed to expand the program and to replace summer workers who now have other commitments. Provision must be added for pre-school children, since there will be no Head Start program in Summit this winter. The 'teen-age activities need leaders and materials and it is hoped that adult programs may be developed.

Those interested in assisting and encouraging the work of the Neighborhood Council may call either the Center (273-1187), Mrs. Frank Sinden (273-0986) or Mrs. Mary Daniels (277-1225).

CAR TOPICS for lady pedal-pushers

Washing and Waxing The Car

Back in the good old days on a sunny Saturday afternoon, everybody in the neighborhood was out in the back yard polishing up his Marmon or Hupmobile. Paint dulled so quickly then that a car might fade before it got dirty.

Today's automobile paint is wonderfully durable, but road haze from dirt, oil and (you should pardon the expression) air pollution does cause a car to lose some of its luster after a while. Weekly washes and occasional polish jobs are a wise ounce of prevention for the preservation of auto paint. If nothing else, this is marvelous exercise for the lady of the house. It uses muscles you didn't know you had.

Some car wash compounds, available from most any type of automotive retailer, do such a good job on modern paint finishes that you will not even need to dry the car. These detergents air dry without spotting. They usually come in powdered form, ready to mix with water.

A waxing is advised every six months or so. You can use one of the new, one-step cleaner-waxes which are popular, easy to apply and eliminate a step or two. But now and then you really ought to go all the way and give the car a professional treatment.

To do this, wash the car first and be sure it is thoroughly dry. Then apply a paste or liquid cleaner to remove the tough road-film washing compounds do not penetrate. This will dry to a powdery look. Wipe it off.

Now, if you haven't collapsed from so much unaccustomed stretching and bending, you're all set to wax. Plain automotive paste or liquid wax will do nicely.

A hint or two, may be old hat to the Saturday afternoon car fusers, but helpful if you're new at the game: Avoid waxing in hot sun. Work in small patches. Use plenty of clean, soft cloth-old bath towels are perfect.

An elbow grease saver, especially if you are using good old paste wax: Sprinkling a little cornflour on spots that are difficult to polish will work wonders. The cornflour picks up excessive wax and, with minimum rubbing, brings the paint to a beautiful shine. Also, keep a can of tar remover handy and use it where you need to before you apply the wax.

Sprucing up your car is a great project for a dull weekend - not to mention the benefits to your muscle tone.

The first ocean-to-ocean flight, taking 57 minutes, occurred in April, 1913. The first flight across the Isthmus of Panama was made by Robert G. Fowler and Raymond A. Duhem.

Radical Changes Seen In School Architecture

The typical American school of the past was little and red. The school of the future may be big and round.

By the year 2000, when public-school enrollments will have doubled to 80 million, thousands of new schools and classrooms will have to be built, says the New Jersey Education Assn. New schoolhouse design may be able to cut costs and make more efficient use of space.

The traditional rectangular building is not necessarily the best school shape. Much of the interior is corridor - completely useless for instruction. Circular schools are one new design being pushed by the Ford Foundation's Educational Facilities Laboratories. A round building yields more classroom space and, with less outside wall, may be cheaper to build and maintain.

One round school in New Jersey, the Wildwood School in Mountain Lakes, has no corridors at all. Every foot of inner space is used for instruction. Shaped like a doughnut, it has a central library ringed by pie-shaped classrooms.

Though visitors are often impressed by the carpeted floors, there's no extra dough in the doughnut, says Mountain Lakes School Superintendent Donald E. Langlois. Efficient use of space actually reduced building costs - to $15.62 per square foot at a time when the statewide average was $18.01 and Morris County's even higher. And the carpets, which smother noise, cost less than the floor tile and ceiling soundproofing they replace.

San Angelo's Belaire Elementary School is similar to the Mountain Lakes doughnut except that, being in Texas, it's air conditioned. More futuristic

Packing for School Means Complete Job

If your young scholar is going off to college this fall, chances are she'll overlook a few basic necessities when packing in a trunk of clothes, a guitar and folk records. But the inexperienced Freshman should begin dormitory life equipped with these important items:

Aspirin, to relieve any post-exam headaches.

Band-aids, to take care of the cut finger or scraped knee.

Toothbrush and a tube of toothpaste to give your young student the assurance of bright teeth and fresh breath.

Shampoo in an unbreakable container.

Soap with a rope attached for use in the shower.

A box of tissues for that inevitable head cold - or sad old movie!

And, (groan) . . . an alarm clock, to make sure your sleepy head gets up in time for an early class.

You'll have to admit this is the sort of thing only a mother would think of. . . but then she knows they're all going to come in handy sooner or later.

Keep Accurate Record of All Home Expenses

By Carolyn F. Yuknus
County Home Economist

Keeping a home file may not sound very exciting but it can serve many purposes and very often prevent problems.

How often have you depended upon your memory to recall how much a sofa, a television, or flooring material cost that you purchased several years ago?

Or can you remember if you used alkyl or latex paint in the living room when it was repainted five years ago?

Are you positively certain that you used shellac when you had the floors refinished and that the kitchen floor had been recovered with inlaid linoleum instead of asphalt tile?

If you recall all the facts that influenced your decisions for all purchases originally, then you have an exceptional memory.

However, for people who have a lot on their minds, it may be a better idea to record the date, price, place purchased, type of material, guarantee, if any, use instructions, and other pertinent information concerning the purchase.

This relatively simple system of keeping a diary of household purchases can serve many purposes.

First of all, it is good to refer to when you are considering repainting or replacing materials in your home. A quick glance at the file will give you accurate information on the present material which you may have forgotten.

Another good purpose a home file serves is in making up an inventory of your household. An inventory is most helpful for insurance purposes to more accurately estimate the coverage you should have.

A home file is an important record in case of death or selling a home. The information included would be helpful in settling an estate.

Or in selling a home the record of the kind of interior and exterior paint, floor finish, type of floor covering fiber and cost of wall to wall carpeting, treatment applied to cement or tile, and many other facts would be beneficial to the seller as well as the buyer.

BY THOMAS E. O'HARA
Chairman, Board of Trustees
National Association of Investment Clubs

Q. — I would appreciate information and your opinion on the performance of stocks, and the market in general, during a time of war (for example, World War 2). Would the trend be a general rise or a decline, and would the movement be drastic in one way or the other? Would profits and dividends tend to hold their peacetime levels?

A. — We recently had an example of one aspect of what war can do to the stock market. Undoubtedly, you noticed that on the day the Israeli-Arab war broke out in the Middle East the Dow-Jones industrial averages dropped nearly 22 points and closed down 18 1/2 points from the day before. You also probably noticed that the market surged back the next day to practically the same level it was the day before the war broke out.

The breaking out of the war caused a great deal of uncertainty and uncertainty usually affects the market adversely. When it became evident the war was going to be of short duration and not spread to the major powers, the market came back up. If the outcome had continued uncertain, my guess is the market would have gone down further and not recovered until the outcome was more certain.

Now for the other aspects of your question:

During World War 2, the Standard & Poor 500 stock averages tended to move down from 1939 through 1942. Then they started to rise steadily, but not spectacularly, until 1948, when prices moved downward again.

Earnings per share moved up from 1939 to 1941 and then sagged until 1946, after which they started to move up sharply.

War brings uncertainty, and thus stock prices are usually on the low side. As a war continues and as the outcome begins to be clear, you are likely to see a tendency for prices to move up, but not in a runaway fashion.

My guess would be that in our modern managed economy, profits and dividends would sag slightly with a full-scale war, since we are certain to have very tight government price and profit controls as we did in World War 2.

Q. — I am in the Air Force and would like to start an investment program. I'm due to leave soon for Vietnam and would like to have a list of books, pamphlets and magazines I could read that would help me be informed when I return. Also, is it possible to obtain a full collection of your "Today's Investor" column?

A. — To answer your last question first, I'm sorry, but we don't have a back file of "Today's Investor" columns we can send you. I understand some readers are making their own collections by clipping the column as it appears.

There are a number of financial magazines that will help you build a background in investing. Forbes' is perhaps the most popular. Other good ones are Barron's and the National Association of Investment Clubs' own "Better Investing."

If a library is convenient, you likely may find textbooks on security analysis that would be useful to you.

The NAIC Manual, available from our office, could also give some useful help and experience in analyzing stocks.

I might add that the immolation of the Germans at the end of the film curiously places the dirty business of war in perspective. Immolation of Jews by Hitler, of Marines and Japanese foot soldiers by flame throwers, of civilians at Hiroshima or Budapest, of soldiers and civilians on both sides in Viet Nam — in all cases, as in "The Dirty Dozen," cause is propounded to be a just one. The conscripts are just being good (non-mutinous) soldiers.

The difficulty we have with the killing and hate of "The Dirty Dozen" is that all the men (German or American, criminal or not), and their actions seem rotten — and that might be what the film finally gets around to saying, albeit slowly, secondarily and after capitalizing on brutality for "entertainment."

What happened to "Barefoot in the Park" between the stage and screen? A thin stock comedy, which made it on the stage, if you had a number of drinks, were weary, and cared nothing for depth, virtually disappeared on the screen. We are left with a dead movie which relies on old jokes and little spontaneity, and Jane Fonda, who proves to me over and over that her good looks will not suffice.

Next week this column is going to be devoted to Joseph Losey's "Accident." It is an imperfect but highly superior film. Aside from its merits, which I will go into next week, it is the interesting phenomena of Mr. Losey's output. That work-product, as is often the case, is rapidly becoming a recognizable art form directly related to the Losey life and view of art.

Mr. Losey is an American who left Hollywood during the McCarthy political era. Quite simply, he was black listed from making films as the result of a smear campaign having nothing to do with his artistic abil-

When Preparing For School, Don't Forget "Study"

In the whirl of preparation for going back to school, it's easy to overlook one significant factor. When you get right down to it, the name of the school game is "Study," and it is important that the young scholar in your family have a good place in the house to do just that.

What is needed is a quiet, uncluttered, well-lighted study area — a desk or table, a straight-backed chair, an efficient lamp — located apart from family traffic and noise. Oftentimes, the student's own bedroom is the logical spot.

Creating a "homework haven" conducive to good study habits need not be an expensive project, according to color and decorating stylists. An old desk or table from the attic or from a second-hand store, plus a castoff dining or kitchen chair, will serve the purpose very well. Given a fresh coat of paint, old furniture can take on new life.

If it's battered, nicked and scratched, so much the better — capitalize on that and antique it. You don't have to remove the old finish or the imperfections. Just paint, glaze and wipe over the old finish. It will look wonderful.

With a choice of 22 different soft tints, deep tones, and wood tones in convenience kits, you can coordinate the desk and chair with the bedroom color scheme easily. For a girl's room, the furniture might be finished in a pastel such as Provincial pink, country yellow, of antique white. Robust color choices for a boy's room are bronze olive, turkey red or masculine espresso brown.

Student Should Get Pre-School Eye Exam

Be alert for the following signs in your child, which sometimes indicate defective vision. Does he have trouble with small print or dislike close work and tire quickly at it? Does he avoid light or seem sensitive to it? Does he trip over small objects? Does he tilt his head to one side or hold reading matters too close or too far from his eyes? Does he blink frequently, squint, rub his eyes, frown? Does he have inflamed, swollen, or watery eyes? Does he have headaches or frequent sties? If so, it's time to have your child's eyes examined.

Your eyes bring you more than 80 percent of knowledge.

A Film of Merit Reviewed by Jon Plant

"The Dirty Dozen" has raised a lot of controversy. A number of commentators have been appalled by the violence and evil graphically presented by this Robert Aldrich film and found it immoral.

There is no doubt that the film is violent, more than that—horrible. But war is too. The only legitimate question along this path of criticism is whether the violence is motivated within the context of the film. It certainly is. It might be distasteful, not for children, offensive to most adults, but not unnatural.

The acting is uniformly good, but the plot is preordained and is really not all that interesting, except to those who are fascinated by war games. For them, the story will move crisply. Because the members of "The Dirty Dozen" are predictable, stereotyped, pathological criminals shepherded by their commanding officer, Lee Marvin, into a fighting unit, the outcome

"And 3¢ for the Governor..."
Cashiers have a quip these days about where your sales tax money goes. Next time you hear it, you might mention that 77 cents of every sales tax dollar has come right back home as state aid to local school districts and local road construction. And the rest of it goes for college construction, aid to commuters, highway construction, aid to local health districts, just to name a few. If we wanted the schools and services, the Governor and the Democratic Legislature—and most of the Republicans—knew we had to raise the money. Until someone comes up with a way to get something for nothing, there's no other way.
The Democratic Legislature.

The Primary Elections

In the Primary Election on Tuesday, September 12, there will be four Republicans seeking their party nomination for two Assembly seats from District 9-C, the newly-created district which embraces the Summit Area and other suburban communities such as Plainfield, Westfield, Fanwood, Scotch Plains, Mountainside and Springfield.

Two of the candidates, running as a team with the support of the County Republican organization, are Hugo M. Pfaltz, jr., of Summit, and former Assemblyman Peter J. McDonough of Plainfield who served at Trenton in 1964 and 1965. They are being opposed by Kenneth White of Westfield and Mrs. Irene T. Griffin, also of Plainfield, who is a former Assemblywoman, having served for one year back in 1945.

A fifth candidate, but seeking the county at-large Assembly seat, is Charles C. Erwin of Mountainside who also has received the endorsement of the GOP organization and is running unopposed.

We feel it is imperative for Republican voters of Summit, New Providence and Berkeley Heights to give their enthusiastic support to Mr. Pfaltz and his running mate, Mr. McDonough. We feel that the Summit Area, with its consistent large Republican majorities, deserves and requires its own representative in the Assembly and we feel that Mr. Pfaltz is admirably qualified for this important role.

Mr. Pfaltz is young, energetic, enthusiastic, and is highly regarded in Summit and in county GOP circles. He capably headed the Summit Republican Committee and he has also served as a representative to the redistricting convention last year. Following the convention, he led a successful legal battle to correct some of the flaws that resulted from the session which adversely affected the suburban communities. His successful fight paved the way for an additional Assembly seat for Union County. There is no question in our minds about his value to the Summit Area, as well as Union County, if he and Mr. McDonough win the nomination and the election in November.

The opposition candidates, Mr. White and Mrs. Griffin, seem to have little to seriously merit their consideration other than party affiliations. Mrs. Griffin has more or less been retired from the political arena and we feel she is somewhat out of touch with present problems, although she has served her party well in the past. As for Mr. White, his political experience has been mainly limited to local civic organizations. While such affiliations are worthwhile for those seeking local office, they do not qualify Mr. White for an Assembly seat in Trenton.

Both Mr. Pfaltz and Mr. McDonough are both highly qualified for the positions they seek, and we urge Summit Area Republicans to vote line A—all the way — on Primary Election day. By doing so, the Summit Area will be ably represented by a responsible team who know of, and can be counted upon to help solve, some of the problems currently facing us.

Letters

Endorses City Ambulance Editor, Summit Herald:

The Summit Patrolman's Benevolent Association (PBA) would like to go on record in voicing its opposition to any proposal that Common Council not appropriate $10,600 for the purchase of a new city ambulance.

It is not our intention to detract from the excellent job that is being done by the Summit Volunteer First Aid Squad; however, we do question the advisability of utilizing a "volunteer" organization in the handling of emergency cases in Summit. Members of the Summit Police Department and the Summit Fire Department, who operate the city ambulance, are on duty 24 hours a day. Members of the First Aid Squad are "on call" 24 hours a day. First Aid Squad members must be contacted at their homes and/or places of business when a call of an emergency nature is received and cannot possibly operate as rapidly as the Police and Fire Departments. They must then travel from their homes and/or places of business to the Squad building and from there to the scene of the emergency. The city ambulance must travel only from Fire headquarters to the scene of the emergency as firemen are already on duty at Fire headquarters.

Because of our proximity to Overlook Hospital, it is frequently possible for the city ambulance to have transported an injured or ill person to Overlook, where qualified, professional help is available, before the members of the First Aid Squad have even left their headquarters.

For the reasons outlined above, the PBA would like Common Council to know that this organization fully supports its decision to purchase a new city ambulance at the cost of $10,600.

This organization also knows and appreciates the excellent service that is provided by the Summit Volunteer First Aid Squad to Summit residents. However, we feel it to be in the best interests of the citizens of Summit if calls of an emergency nature be handled as they presently are; namely by the Summit Police Department in conjunction with members of the Summit Fire Department, utilizing a city ambulance, manned by full-time personnel.

Constitution Week Editor, Summit Herald:

David E. Trucksees, Mayor, has proclaimed Sept. 17 to 23 as "Constitution Week" in Summit and urges all citizens to pay special attention during that week to our federal Constitution and advantages of American citizenship. This year marks the 100th anniversary of the signing of the Constitution on September 17, 1787 and is termed the greatest document ever formulated by man.

Let us use the rights and liberties guaranteed us by the Constitution in a way that will keep our nation great, that will insure the future of the United States.

Mrs. Laurence W. Ross
Beacon Fire chapter, DAR

Supports Ken White

Editor, Summit Herald:
I think your many Republican readers would appreciate hearing some things Assembly candidate Ken White has done to champion their party's ideals and exert leadership for taxpayers. My personal conclusion is that a man who works like this rates a vote to work for us in Trenton.

As vice-president of the American Commuters Association, Ken White helped build an organization which is now suing in federal court to recover $88 million paid by Jerseyans for New York income taxes.

Working with the Inter-Municipal Group for Better Rail Service he met with state Transportation Commissioner Goldberg to preserve vital rail service in Union County.

In Hackensack White testified before a state senate committee hearing against a super-government commission for the meadowlands. Later, even local and county level Democrats joined that opposition.

In Plainfield he founded the Council for Individual Responsibility and Freedom, which every month presents qualified speakers on current events in order to inform voters.

Ken White was the first, and most outspoken, Assembly candidate in our district to work publicly to strengthen law and order by encouraging recruiting of additional police.

In our district White was one of the very first people to publicly oppose the Democrats' bill to pay unemployment benefits to strikers.

For years, Ken White has actively rallied residents together to defend their local government or their school systems against unreasonable state or federal interference.

Use the Sample Ballot

If every registered voter would take the trouble to study his sample ballot when he receives it within a few days, much valuable time could be saved all along the line.

Voters who are familiar with their ballot and with their minds made up as to their choices are able to pull the proper levers on the voting machines without delay.

It is not right to go into the voting booth 'cold,' unfamiliar with the names on the ballot, or undecided as to how one will vote. Other voters are delayed needlessly when this occurs.

The sample ballot is an exact duplicate of the ballot as it appears on the voting machine. Checking the sample ballot at home before casting a vote is an excellent idea for then it may be taken to the polling place and used as a guide.

Those Good (or Bad) Old Days?

We were left misty-eyed the other day by a paragraph bearing a Paris deadline. It was a fashion note and it reported that "fashions resembling those of the 1920 era, with short skirts, narrow coats, sleeveless dresses and dangling accessories were displayed at Pierre Balmain's show."

And darned if in the same issue in the sports section there wasn't a photo of Gene Sarazen at the Westchester Classic golf tournament all decked out in plus-fours. The surge of nostalgia that one produced was overwhelming.

Our day henceforth was shot. All we could hear was the strum of ukelele strings and Paul Whiteman softly playing "Japanese Sandman" with a background trumpet by Henry Busse.

We found ourselves bounced like a ping-pong ball between the 1920s and today. The girls of the 20s danced the Charleston and a few of the girls today are also dancing it. The girls back then were wearing a shapeless tubular sort of garment which wasn't too unlike the shifts of today. Young ladies of those olden days prided themselves on having no figures at all and we are told there is a slip of a miss who calls herself "Twiggy" who has that same pride today. In the 20s dangling earrings, swinging necklaces and massive jewelry were "in," just as they are today.

And what of the boys? Well, things have changed somewhat despite Gene Sarazen plodding the course in Westchester a few weeks ago in his plus fours. You don't hardly ever see a Norfolk jacket any more and racoon coats are practically a collector's item. The hip flask is a curiosity, shoved aside by the six-pack. Camels are still with us but gone are the Omars and the Fatimas, and that old Lucky Strike green never did come back from the war.

The Stutz Bearcat has been replaced by the Mustang but we still have with us the works of F. Scott Fitzgerald. But H. L. Mencken and his American Mercury has been supplanted by William Buckley and his "National Review" and "Playboy" has replaced "College Humor."

As we recall, the 20s were known as a very wicked and wild generation and there was a lot of clucking about stockings rolled just above the knees. Today we hear that same clucking about the high rise movement in skirts. Our hunch now in retrospect is that the incidence of downright wickedness did not differ a great deal from that of the generation which went before and the one that came after. But for more precise information about this theory today's teen-agers will have to ask their fathers and mothers.

Current Comments

The Fat of the Land
(Somerset Messenger-Gazette)

We see by a story in the last previous issue of our own newspaper that Somerset County's male population weighs 463 tons too much. And looking around the establishment, there is some slight evidence that this situation extends to various departments in this organization, as well as in other places around.

According to the statistics as compiled by the Public Health Service, the Society of Actuaries and others, the average male over 25 is listed as 19 pounds over desirable avoidupois. There are exceptions—like those fellows who run about 29 pounds above the desirable.

Everybody loves a fat man, according to the old adage; that is, except the fat man himself. Many of them try to diet. They cut out potatoes at lunch, taking two martinis instead.

The American Dietetic Association points up the importance of exercise in burning off excess calories. To use up the 396 calories in a serving of spaghetti, for instance, the society recommends walking for 76 minutes, or riding a bicycle for 48 minutes, or swimming for 35 minutes.

The writer of this tome, having finished said piece, will now go out and fortify himself with two Manhattans, a nice thick soup, pot roast of beef and mashed potatoes, with gravy, corn on the cob, maybe some pole limas, hot rolls, a small salad, then a fudge sundae, cookies and coffee.

There's something mighty satisfactory about staying as skinny as a railbird.

Questions Objectivity
 Editor, Summit Herald:
 We noted a news item in this week's local papers which announced the appointment of Norman E. Rauscher as campaign coordinator on behalf of two men seeking the Republican Assembly nomination in District 9-C.
 Mr. Rauscher is, of course very well known in this area as the editor of the Summit Herald. We are interested in whether he plans to take a leave of absence from this job while he becomes politically active.

THE SUMMIT HERALD, Thurs., September 7, 1967

We would hardly think it possible that an editor of a local newspaper could remain objective enough in judging the content and placement of political news in his publication while simultaneously managing the campaign of a partisan candidate.

Summit Titans Squeeze 19-18 Win from Boonton

The Summit Titans inaugurated its 1967 season with a 19-18 victory over the rugged Boonton Bears in an arc-light exhibition game last Sunday evening on the Boonton High School gridiron. The margin of victory was a successful point after touchdown placement by kicking specialist Bob Ghyori in the second period which proved to be the difference as both clubs registered three touchdowns, but were unable to negotiate the placements.

A large turnout of Summit fans among the better than 2,200 were impressed with the Titans, as player-coach Mike Papio shuttled in most of his 35-man squad in an effort to get a line on his rugged club.

Early in the opening period Boonton scored as Dick Longo picked up a Papio fumble on a roll-out, with Longo picking up the loose ball to run 38 yards for a score, the placement was wide of its mark. In the same period Bobby Poranski, Titan linebacker, picked off a Cornell Green forward to dash 45 yards to the 4-yard line where he was downed from behind, the quarter ending moments later.

After two penalties had pushed the ball back to the 32, Papio faded back and arched a forward to the elusive Brent Cromwell who raced over from the five for the score. Bob Ghyori came in to make the placement.

Opening Game Sept. 10 Summit vs Dover Tatlock Field, 2 p.m.

Summit leading 7-6.

In the third period an interception by Joe Augustine thwarted a Bear drive, and then after an exchange Papio tossed 25 yards to Don Sheridan who ran five yards before fumbling, with big Howie Robinson alertly scooping up the ball to dash 43 yards for the touchdown.

In the fourth period Summit scored again when Papio passed to Don Sheridan for 28 yards which closed out the Summit scoring although Eddie Rillo had a good drive going only to have an interception stop the drive.

In the fourth period Boonton scored twice and only their inability to register point after touchdowns cost them the game. With six minutes remaining Jerry Cross scored on a cut-back off right tackle, and then with 1:37 remaining Dennis Oricchio scored on a 12-yard pass in the flat from Cornell Green.

Standouts on the offensive team were Mike Papio, Don Sheridan, Anson Perina, Ed Kearny and linemen Jim Manzella and Howie Robinson. The defensive stars were linebacker Bobby Poranski, Bob Korlesky, Gerry James, Jim Monahan, George Hinds and Ray Ransome.

This Sunday afternoon Coach Mike Papio and the Titans will have their hands full handling big Dick Stanton, 6'5"-260 pound triple-threat quarterback of the Dover Pioneers who come to town for the start of the North Jersey Football League season.

Cross to Run For Seton Hall

New Providence — Ed Cross, who won the New Jersey State Group 2 one-mile run last spring for New Providence High School, will enter Seton Hall University in South Orange this month.

Cross, who was a standout cross-country and distance runner for New Providence, will be joining another former New Providence star athlete at Seton Hall.

Larry Rovelstad, a basketball and baseball standout for New Providence, lettered in both sports last season as a sophomore at Seton Hall. He played guard in basketball and was a pitcher in baseball.

Cross competed in a five-mile cross-country development event last week which was conducted by the New Jersey District AAU at Warinac Park in Elizabeth. He was among the leaders over the first lap of the 2 1/2-mile course and finished in fifth place in 26:51 minutes.

Summit Golfers Score 'Aces'

Holes in one scored by two Summit residents may earn one of them a trip to Scotland for two persons plus $1,000 in cash.

Russell T. Kerby, Jr., of 1 Greenbriar Dr., got his ace at the Lakeside Country Club and George Neupauer of 11 Euclid Avenue at Lake Placid Country Club thereby entering the annual Rusty Nail Sweepstakes.

Announcement of the winner will be made early next year.

Summit Golfer Among Winners At Westchester

Pat Schwab of Summit, the New Jersey State Open Golf champion, carded a four-round score of 283 in the $250,000 Westchester Golf Classic last week at the Westchester Country Club and won $2,337.50.

Schwab, the professional at the Crestmont Country Club in West Orange, finished in a five-way tie for 22nd place. He shot a final-round 35-37 — 72 to go with earlier rounds of 70, 72 and 69. He was five-under par for the four rounds. Pat had a round of 70 washed out by last weekend's rains.

Two bogeys on the final four holes prevented Schwab from getting an even bigger payoff. These two extra strokes cost him more than $1,800 in additional winnings.

Pat bogied the 15th hole when his second shot landed against a tree and then three-putted the 17th hole for another bogey.

Schwab was the top New Jersey finished in the Classic. State PGA champion Babe Lichardus was next with a 288.

Host Hillside

The following Saturday, September 30, the Highlanders will be host to Hillside High in another Watchung Conference contest. Victories in these two contests would be set up a "crucial" meeting with Westfield High's defending conference champions on October 7 at Westfield.

The Highlanders will meet their seven conference rivals in the first seven games of the season. Governor Livingston will travel to Clark Regional on October 21 and to Rahway on October 28. They will close out their conference schedule on November 4, playing Cranford

Summit Area YMCA Slates Swim Tryouts

Tryouts for the Summit Area YMCA's boys' and girls' swim teams will be held Monday, September 18, through Thursday, September 21 at the YMCA pool.

Boys and girls 10 years and under are scheduled for September 18, boys and girls aged 11 and 12 for September 19, boys aged 13-17 for September 20, and girls aged 13-17 for September 21, all at 6:30 p.m.

All boys and girls from Summit and neighboring towns who are interested in competitive swimming are invited to try out. Teams participate in area, state, and regional YMCA-YWCA swim league and AAU meets and work out three times a week at the YMCA. Last year's team members should also attend the tryouts.

Henry Bunlin will begin his fourth season as coach. Bunlin, a teacher in the New Providence school system, is former head swim coach at Snyder F.H. School in Jersey City. During the last summer he conducted a series of competitive swim clinics at the YMCA.

Heights Nine Ousted From L.L. Tourney

Berkeley Heights lost a 2-1 decision to Winfield Park in a loser's bracket game last week in the first annual Cranford Invitational Little League Baseball Tournament last week.

The loss was the second for Berkeley Heights and eliminated the team from the 19-team, double elimination tourney.

Governor Livingston Regional High of Berkeley Heights has a young team that Coach Jack Bicknell expects to be "a good

Five Home Contests For Regional Eleven

Berkeley Heights — Governor Livingston Regional High School's football team will play five home games this season, three on Saturdays, one on a Friday afternoon and the other on Thanksgiving Day morning.

The Friday afternoon game will be played on October 13 with Springfield Regional coming to the Highlanders' field. The game was switched from Saturday, October 14, to avoid a conflict with a Jewish Holiday.

The Highlanders will open their season on Saturday, September 23, with Fanwood-Scotch Plains High visiting Berkeley Heights for a Watchung Conference game. The Highlanders won last year's season opener from the Blue Raiders, 6-0, with a touchdown in the final minutes of play.

Holiday Games

The final two games of the season will be Veterans' Day, November 11, at Kenilworth Regional and the Thanksgiving Day contest with Watchung Hills Regional. The Highlanders whipped both foes handily last season. The meeting with Kenilworth Regional, a new school, was the first ever, but Watchung Hills, now the Highlanders' Thanksgiving Day rival, has played Governor Livingston ever since the Heights' school started football.

Rugged Opening Foes For Summit, Chatham

Summit High and Chatham Boro, two area football teams which suffered through losing seasons a year ago and hope to rebound with a vengeance this season, have only about 2 1/2 weeks to prepare themselves for rugged opening-day assignments with teams that were undefeated last year and won state championships.

Summit's Hilltoppers will visit North Plainfield to take on the Canucks of North Plainfield High, who were co-champions in Central Jersey Group 3 a year ago, while Chatham Boro's Eskies will take on Glen Ridge's North Jersey, Section 2, Group 1 titlists.

And while an undefeated record a year ago is no assurance of a fine upcoming season, both Glen Ridge and North Plainfield are highly rated again this season and are expected to make strong bids to retain their state titles.

Standout Backs

North Plainfield's Vince Searl and halfback Doug Williams. O'Neil, a state champion hurler, is an exceptional runner. He helped North Plainfield to a rating as the sixth best team in New Jersey a year ago.

Glen Ridge has won 40 of its last 41 games, with the only loss coming at the hands of Chatham Boro. The Ridgers were the only undefeated Group 1 team in the state last season but have lost two top backs. Despite these losses, the talented Ridgers again are expected to dominate the North Jersey Conference.

Governor Livingston Regional High of Berkeley Heights has a young team that Coach Jack Bicknell expects to be "a good

Clearwater Cites Swimmers

When the Clearwater Swim Team awards were given out last weekend, members of the team could look back on a creditable season.

Clearwater, with only a few star swimmers, developed enough depth and determination to win three of the five dual meets in the Town and Country Swim League.

In the All-League Meet, however, the lack of swimming stars proved too great a handicap, and Clearwater came in last.

Gary Johnson, coaching the team for the first time this year, made excellent use of his swimmers. Clearwater ended the season as victors over Berkeley, Crestview, and Minisink.

Rugged Start Awaits Summit High Eleven

Summit — After the first three games of the coming season Summit High School's football followers should have an excellent line on what kind of a year the Hilltoppers are going to have.

Coach Howard Anderson's Hilltoppers will play two tough non-conference foes the first two weeks of the season and then are matched with Madison High's Dodgers, who rate among the top contenders for the Suburban Conference championship.

Rugged Opener

Coach Howard Anderson's eleven has just over three weeks to prepare for the usual rugged opener with North Plainfield High's Canucks. The game will be played in North Plainfield and the Canucks are always tough to handle on their home gridiron. North Plainfield was undefeated last season shared the Central Jersey Group 3 title, and won the Mid-State Conference.

The Hilltoppers' home opener will be September 30, with Fair Lawn High's Cutters providing the opposition at Tatlock Field. Fair Lawn has become a Bergen County powerhouse in recent years. A Group 4 school, Fair Lawn is replacing Passaic Valley on the Summit schedule this season.

The conference opener with Madison will be played October 7 at Tatlock Field. The Dodgers have one of the league's top quarterbacks in Steve Natale and have high hopes of running off with the championship.

All remaining games will be with Suburban Conference foes. The Hilltoppers will travel to Cedar Grove on October 14 and then play host to the incoming New Providence on October 21. The Pioneers also have a fine quarterback in Rob Woodruff.

Summit will close out its October schedule with a visit to Madison on October 28 for a meeting with the Hillers, who were undefeated a year ago. Two of the three games to be played in November will be at Tatlock Field. Chatham will visit Summit on November 4, while Chatham Boro will come to town for the annual Thanksgiving Day clash. The Hilltoppers will travel to Verona for a Veterans' Day clash on November 11.

The Summit junior varsity will play the same foes, with the exception of Chatham Boro. The Summit freshmen will play all seven Suburban Conference foes.

Rover Tremblay will assist Coach Anderson with the varsity squad. Harold Ahern will coach the junior varsity, with Arthur Cotterell as his assistant. Raymond McCrann will coach the freshmen, with David Shearman as a assistant coach.

Two New Grid Rivals For New Providence

New Providence — Two new rivals — Dover and Chatham Township — and three holiday games, two of them to be played in New Providence, highlight the 1967 football schedule of New Providence High School.

The Pioneers, under Coach Frank Bottoms, will be starting their third season of varsity play and their first with an inexperienced quarterback. If the Pioneers can sustain the improvement they showed late last season they could be a contender for a first-division finish in the Suburban Conference.

Dover and Chatham Township, will invade the borough, and on both Morris County schools, will be New Providence's first two opponents this season. Dover, like New Providence, is a Group 2 school, while neighboring Chatham Township is a Group 1 school. The new rivals replace Randolph Township and Middlesex on the Pioneers' schedule.

Dover in Opener

Dover will come to New Providence on September 23 to help inaugurate its season. The Pioneers will visit Chatham Township on September 30 to open what could develop into an interesting rivalry of neighboring schools.

New Providence's three holiday contests will be played on Columbus Day, October 12, with Verona coming to New Providence; on Veterans' Day, November 11, when Chatham Boro will invade the borough, and on Thanksgiving Day, November 23, when the Pioneers will travel to Cedar Grove. The contest with Verona is being played on a Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock to avoid a conflict with a Jewish holiday on October 14.

Take your hand out of my pocket... why should I pay for your strike?

Repeal the Strikers Benefits Law

Almost everybody's got his hand in your pocket these days. Another hand slides in January 1. That's when New Jersey's new law (S-400) provides unemployment checks to strikers. No joke. The law sneaked through by a one-vote margin last April, and only after a lot of political pressure.

This means the unemployment taxes taken out of your paycheck every week will be set aside to pay those on strike. It means more and longer strikes. It means fewer jobs and a weaker economy because companies already here are discouraged from expanding, and those outside the state won't come in. And it means that the hand in your pocket is going to take 20 per cent more in unemployment taxes.

be waiting to see how strong the resentment is against paying unemployment checks to strikers. We aim to tell them. You tell your legislative candidates. Fill in the form below, and send it to PUB headquarters. If you like, enclose a dollar or more. Then get your friends, neighbors and relatives to join also. Let's repeal the strikers benefits law.

Junior League Sponsoring Art Study Program

The Junior League of Summit is providing funds for a basic course in art appreciation to be offered to all Summit Area residents this fall. It is being conducted in cooperation with the Summit Art Center, and is a supplement to the Center's program of classes, lectures and exhibitions. A $1 registration fee will be the only charge for participants in the eight-week course.

Six lectures covering the development of western art from the renaissance to the present will be given by Michael Lenson, noted painter, lecturer and critic. Two additional lectures on the modern period (19th and 20th Centuries) will be conducted by Dr. Lee Hall, assistant professor of art at Drew University. The course is intended to provide a basic foundation for the appreciation of art. It should be most valuable to those with little or no formal art training, and should also provide an enjoyable refresher course for those with a more extensive art background.

The lectures will be held on eight consecutive Monday evenings beginning October 2, at St. John's Lutheran Church, 587 Springfield Avenue, at 8:15 p.m. A one hour lecture with slides will be followed by a half hour question and answer period.

Registration by mail begins September 15. Applicants may also register in person at the Summit Art Center, 17 Cedar Street (behind the library) from September 18 to 22 from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. Checks should be made payable to the Summit Art Center, Inc. Name, address and phone number must be included.

The Summit Library has an outline of the series and has prepared a list of recommended books for supplementary reading.

Lunar Trip Scheduled For Rotary

John D. Cox, public relations supervisor for New Jersey Bell Telephone Co., will speak to members of the Rotary Club at its weekly luncheon meeting next Tuesday at the YMCA. Mr. Cox will take the club on an armchair journey to the moon in a discussion of Project Apollo.

The illustrated lecture program will discuss the problems related to Project Apollo's goal of landing a manned spacecraft on the moon, lunar exploration, and getting the spacecraft back to earth. The review will cover the technological sequence involved in the first moon trip and the scientific obstacles that have to be overcome before a Saturn V rocket hurls the Apollo spacecraft into orbit.

Another segment of the program will outline the capabilities of Bellcom, Inc., a new Bell System subsidiary created to act as a technical consultant to the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Mr. Cox, who lives at North Plainfield, is a Marine Corps veteran of World War 2 and joined New Jersey Bell in 1947. He held a number of positions in the plant and traffic departments before becoming a public relations supervisor this year.

The Mall at Short Hills presents a Hi-Fi Show for women who don't know the first thing about components, and who couldn't care less. Girls, we've done it. We've put together a Hi-Fi Show that doesn't require a degree in engineering to be understood and enjoyed. We've simplified everything. We've thrown out the double-talk. You don't have to know what anti-skating means, or which set of twin speakers goes with what receiver. (Who cares anyway, right?) All you have to know is what you like. What you like in style, what you like in sound. And we've got plenty of both. You'll see and hear some of the finest high fidelity equipment, as well as the kind of luxurious cabinetry that adds beauty to any decor. Result: a Hi-Fi Show you can enjoy. Can you bring your husband? Of course, so long as he doesn't mind mingling with all you good-looking women.

Housing

Mr. Zotte, who worked during the summer with some small assistance from the retired former public inspector, James Traynor, finds the "best part of the job is that the people are very cooperative," although some are hesitant to note defects, in fear that their rents will be hiked if the landlord must assume the expense of the improvement.

But the Substandard Housing Board's role is to see that all buildings are adequately maintained according to the State statute and the Board intends to do just that, Mr. Corbett said. Unfortunately he continued, the Board has found that a confusion with the role of the newly constituted Local Housing Authority exists in some less responsive landlords' minds. "These building owners seem to think that the work of that Board will include fulfillment of these obligations," he said. Mr. Corbett explained that the agencies are distinctly separate in their operations. A landlord cannot rely on any other agency to handle his buildings. So long as he is renting apartments he must meet the standards.

On September 21 the Board will meet formally to review the completed report of the public inspector. In the meantime, a survey among some of the affected tenants, conducted under the auspices of the Neighborhood Council by Mrs. Mildred Stepany shows a "growing impatience" with what some tenants consider a "slow rate of progress." The survey revealed that some of these tenants are willing to pay more rent but are "very anxious" to see results. Others are pleased to see signs of progress. This report, not final yet, will be submitted to the Board before its next meeting.

The stepped up program to bring all housing up to standard in Summit is the result of a tighter ordinance with more teeth in it adopted by Common Council on March 7 of this year.

In May, Mr. Zotte was appointed to the post of public inspector. Common Council voted an additional $800, over and above his salary to allow the hiring of extra help during the summer. Mr. Traynor served in that capacity on a part time basis.

During 1965 of 440 inspections made, only one dwelling was classified as "substandard." A total of 22 repairs was reported beyond the minor ones handled. A year later a tour conducted by the Neighborhood Council of selected dwellings revealed housing conditions obviously below even the current code.

Common Council worked for more than a year to consolidate the four prior ordinances into a single code, based on a State act passed in June 1966.

Presenting the ordinance to the city, Councilman Anthony Ratichek of Ward 1 noted at that time that the new comprehensive ordinance would "assure that all dwellings in Summit meet certain fundamental requirements." Tenants are now looking for tangible evidence of the expanded program in terms of actual results. And so far according to Mrs. Stepany, "They're disappointed."

Heights Man Accused of Plugging Toll Collector

A Berkeley Heights motorist has been accused of "shooting" a Garden State Parkway toll collector with a quarter with an air-powered gun designed especially to fire coins.

The shooting is claimed to have taken place on August 26 at the Saddle Brook toll gate but the Heights man, George T. Tomson of 27 Regent Place, claims that on that date he was vacationing at the shore.

The charge against Tomson was lodged by Clarence Mack of Montclair, a toll collector, who filed a complaint alleging that he was hit in the chest with a coin fired by Tomson. Mack did not claim that he received any injuries.

Tomson will have to appear in court to answer the charge because police investigating the matter contend they traced the license number of the car to the Heights driver. He will be required to post $50 bail pending a hearing on September 18 at Saddle Brook municipal court.

construction far more than we needed federal money to construct business establishments. When the question was forced to referendum, I was supported six to one.

Several years ago an idea was conceived by a Berkeley Heights resident to build a new road from the interchange of the new Route 78 in Watchung, cross the Passaic river to undeveloped land in Morris County, parallel the river to a point where it would turn north to Kennedy boulevard. We asked a citizens' group to study the matter. It received great support from those who were contacted. The idea was reborn in a recent press release by Mr. Hugo Pfaltz of the city of Summit. I sincerely hope that Mr. Pfaltz will have the opportunity to start the project on a state level.

Urges City Delay

I respectfully urge you gentlemen, as the governing body of Summit, to delay action on the widening of internal residential roads until we all can weigh the damage to the communities of Union County by this haphazard use of federal funds. I am sure that together we can apply our share to more constructive road building and carry the traffic being thrust upon us around our towns, instead of through them.

In closing I would like to point out that the new bond issue just proposed by the Freeholder majority eliminates some road projects, but continues the funds for Passaic avenue. It is interesting also to note that the Mayors of Elizabeth and Linden are waging a battle within their own political party to keep traffic out of their cities at the expense of Union, Springfield and Roselle.

With best wishes for continued good government in Summit, to well-wishers from Summit and nearby towns who came to see the new department store.

"I'm overwhelmed," said Mr. Bonn who with his wife greeted customers and friends as they entered.

There are many faces familiar to Summit residents among the staff of 40, including George Walter, who was manager when the site was occupied by Chase Department Stores. Many of the former Chase staff have joined Mulr's.

Summit now has a complete department store, with the exception of a furniture department. Featured is ready-to-wear clothing, linens, housewares.

Many shoppers had come by to take advantage of the opening day specials tucked among the merchandise. Many wanted to open charge accounts. Those who do within the first four days are entitled to three pairs of Mulcrest hosiery as an added incentive.

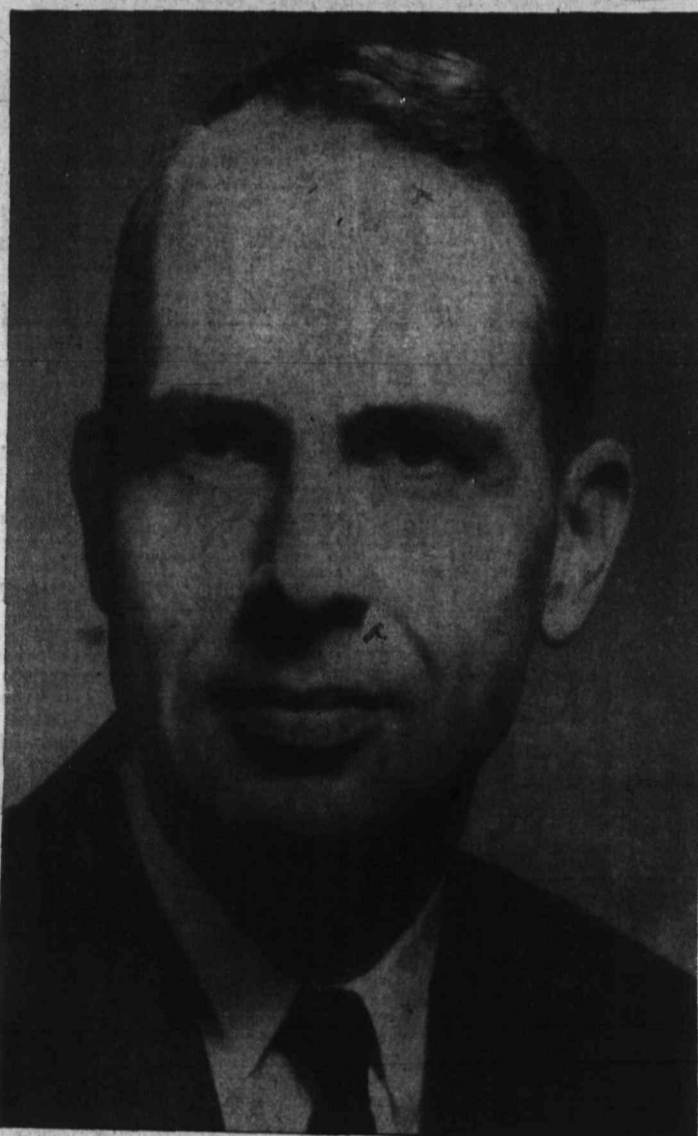

All day long the shoppers swarmed into the store to see for themselves what one proud saleslady described as "high quality merchandise."

White Says He Can Do Best Assembly Job

Kenneth White, one of four GOP contenders for two Assembly seats representing District 9C, including Summit, said this week that the over-riding issue in next Tuesday's primary election is who, based on past public performance, will work most effectively for the average taxpayer in the future.

White said he is the only candidate who has offered a "new direction toward confident and assertive Republican leadership on a year-round basis for District 9C. Judging from voter reaction these last few weeks, many Republicans evidently are convinced that I have demonstrated this leadership."

White described his "new direction" as meaning a "more militant attitude in favor of budgetary responsibility. It also involves readiness to fight for control by local people of their own towns, schools and police forces."

The Assembly candidate, a resident of Plainfield, said he is the only one of the four contenders who has continuously stood on the public firing line in behalf of taxpayers over the last two years.

"Lip-service speeches in favor of low taxes, good schools or home rule government are not enough," White declared. "It is very easy to do this in front of sympathetic Republican groups at election time. But a candidate also has to show he has been willing to risk criticism. He has to have taken a public stand against vocal pressure groups that promote inflated spending and increased state control over town councils and school boards."

White said his public performance as a Republican leader indicates continued efforts in the Assembly for Summit Area taxpayers.

A graduate of Plainfield High School, Phillips Exeter Academy and Harvard College, White is employed as a supervisor in the public relations department of the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. in New York City.

Are good looks
enough to sell
a new phone?

We're not banking on it. That's why the Trimline® phone is packed with practical new ideas—like pushbuttons that come to you.

The lighted Touch-Tone® pushbuttons are right in the palm of your hand when you pick up the phone. And just beneath them, another new idea: the recall button that lets you make a second call without first reaching to hang up. Just press the recall button... and you've got a dial tone.

You can put a Trimline phone in handy new locations—on the side of a kitchen cabinet, or under a counter—because you don't need to see the base to dial. The buttons are in the handset.

A new Trimline phone costs just pennies a day—and there's no extra charge for color. It's available in wall and table models, with either a standard dial or the new Touch-Tone pushbuttons that let you "dial" twice as fast. And the additional Touch-Tone charge covers all phones on your line.

Just call your Telephone Business Office to order the new Trimline phone. It's the only telephone ever to be selected for the permanent design collection in New York's Museum of Modern Art. Looks alone might not sell a new phone. But they sure don't hurt.
