Because of the George Washington Day holiday on Thursday, February 22, the Herald will be published one day earlier next week; on Wednesday, February 21.

Because of the short work week, earlier deadlines are necessary. Deadline for all church notices, social, sports, routine releases and photographs will be noon on Saturday, February 17. Deadline for "spot news", classified and display advertising will be 3 p.m. on Monday, February 19.

Material received after the deadline will not be included in next week's Herald. The cooperation of all is requested. All departments of The Herald will be open until noon on Saturday, February 17.

City to Note Holiday With One-Day Sale

George Washington's birthday next Thursday will be no holiday for smart shoppers who will come to Summit for the eighth annual one-day sale sponsored by the merchants' division of the Summit Area Chamber of Commerce.

Bargain hunters will be kept on the move throughout the day from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. to take advantage of the hundreds of items that have been price-slashed for the event.

There will also be free parking at all curbside and off street lots, free movies for parking the kids and free coffee to sustain the weary spirit.

An added feature will again be the "Spirit of '76", when "live" martial music will be provided by a Revolutionary War-costumed fife and drum corps which will parade up and down Springfield avenue.

Free parking will not only be available at curbside and at the 11 municipal parking lots, but also in the Summit and Elizabeth Trust Co., National State Bank and Kemper Insurance parking lots. Parking meters will be covered along the city's business district.

The free movies for children will be at the Strand theater from 10 a.m. to noon. Free coffee for shoppers will be available at Louvis from 3 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. and at the Hospitality House in the former Sherwin Williams store on Springfield avenue from 9:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m.

However, it will be local merchants who will provide the greatest attractions when they offer drastically slashed prices on their merchandise. Practically all stores are offering reductions of 50 per cent.

GRIM BATTLE - Firemen atop aerial ladders pour tons of water on the blazing roof of the Kern Building during the height of Monday night's blaze. At the time the photo was taken, the Babs Shop and the second and third floors were completely gutted. Firemen fought to keep the roof and right wall from collapsing. They succeeded. (E. Fire Atmosphere Has Carnival Air

Although there was a carnival spirit in the air at Monday night's fire, there was also a sense of tragic black humor. People milled around, making jokes as to whether or not marshmallows or frankfurters could be toasted. It was this sense of carnival spirit that pervaded the whole atmosphere as hundreds looked on.

Tuesday morning, when city crews came down to clean-up, one of the bigger problems they had to face was the cleaning up of coffee cups. There must have been hundreds on the streets.

All during the fire, there was a continuous supply of coffee to the fire-fighters.

Rumors, there are always rumors about a fire.

It was learned that persons from East Orange called Summit residents to say that the entire block from Maple street to Woodland avenue was in flames and that the fire had jumped across Springfield avenue to Charline's and Woolworth's.

One woman watching the blaze lamented the fact that a knit suit she had seen in the Babs Shop had been completely destroyed.

There were rumors all night long that the roof was collapsing or a wall was collapsing.

There was a camaraderie between spectators and firemen. Heard on the scene were such phrases as "How's the fire going, Jack?" "Is the building destroyed, Ed?" "What a job we have to do tonight," were some of the answers.

For a while, Springfield avenue, between Woodland avenue and Maple street, looked like an elongated plate of spaghetti, with hoses all over the roadway.

All during the fire, long-time Summit residents kept referring to the blaze as the "best fire we've seen since the Lyric fire in 1952." The references applied to the conflagration which saw the destruction of the Lyric Theater in the spring of 1952.

The cold weather was one of the hindrances of fighting the blaze. But apparently, the hundreds of people who came to see the spectacular didn't mind the cold at all. They had a front row seat.

There was concern at a meeting of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce held at the New Hampshire House the same night. Several of those in attendance were owners or proprietors of businesses in the immediate vicinity of the fire. They were worried.

L. J. Breton Named Church Council Head

Leon J. Breton of 30 Kings Hill court was elected president of the Summit Council of Churches of Christ at the annual meeting held recently at Christ Church. He succeeds Andrew R. Skinnell.

Mr. Breton was graduated from the University of Maine and received a masters in business administration from Harvard School of Business. He is now a management consultant.

Other officers elected were Dr. Raymond K. Clark, vice-president; and Mr. Skinnell, chairman of the men's department.

Department chairmen and other officers continuing in office include Mrs. Walter C. Kleinfelder, Christian Education; Mrs. Thomas H. Coursey, Church Women United; Dr. George F. Jackson, Jr., ministers; Charles F. Frith, treasurer; and Mrs. Robert E. Heintz, secretary.

Mr. Breton stated that "In this changing world, the Summit Council must respond to coming events with new programs, and ideas are solicited from all interested parties to keep the Council relevant."

The worst fire to strike the city in more than 15 years hit the heart of the business district Monday night when the Kern Building, which houses the Babs Shop at 422 Springfield avenue, was completely gutted in a spectacular blaze.

Although no serious injuries were reported, four firemen were treated at Overlook Hospital for smoke inhalation and back injuries. They were later released.

One woman had to be evacuated from her third-floor apartment via an aerial ladder when dense smoke from inside the building prevented her from using the stairs. She was uninjured.

Nearly 200 firemen from four communities fought the blaze in sub-freezing temperatures for more than four hours before it was brought under control shortly after 11 p.m. The last piece of fire-fighting equipment left the scene at 4:30 a.m. Tuesday. Helping the Summit Fire Department quell the stubborn blaze in 16 degree weather, were units from Millburn, Springfield, New Providence and the Union County Mutual Aid Company. Some of the departments from out of town were called in on a "stand-by" basis since all local equipment had been called to the fire scene.

Firemen injured in the blaze were treated for smoke poisoning at Overlook Hospital and later released; Harry Finnigan, who suffered a back injury, and Robert Reed, W. D. Rutzler also suffered from smoke inhalation and was given oxygen at the scene.

The woman whom firemen had to rescue from a third-story window was Miss Muriel Wenzel. She said she had been sitting in the living room of her three-room apartment when someone banged on her door and told her to get out, the building was on fire. Miss Wenzel said she donned warm clothes, but when she opened her door to the hallway, she was driven back by dense smoke. She then ran to the window and called for help.

Fire Chief Eakley said the alarm was received at 6:29 p.m. and the fire burned for about four hours before being brought under control. He said the fire started in the basement, but as late as Tuesday afternoon it was impossible to fully determine the cause.

New Parking Facilities Get Top Priority in Chamber's Program

"The number one problem facing business in general in the Summit area is the parking problem." So says Ralph Sayre, president of the Chamber of Commerce. "Some people may say that nothing is being done about parking, but this is far from the truth. There is more public parking space here thanks to the City Fathers than in almost any city of comparable size." The Chamber realizes this, but, Sayre adds, it is also aware that business has grown, that expendable income has picked up; therefore there is a continuing need to increase facilities. With the needed help from Common Council, Mr. Sayre thinks the city can go forward providing such facilities.

Not content to state problems, the Chamber is seeking answers. Street parking THREE PARKING SPACE available 1 minute to Summit R.R. Station $5. month, 7 days a week 273-2193 TERRY DEMPSEY runs small ads, but he serves the best food in the area! Springfield 379-5681.

is necessarily limited, Sayre points out, as there are only so many streets. This leads to parking lots. "The Chamber is promoting and will promote tiered parking, with, we hope, the cooperation of Common Council. The Chamber considers this of paramount importance and something that should be done in the immediate future."

Herald Publishes City Budget Today

The city's 1968 municipal budget appears in full on page 10 of today's Summit Herald.

The proposed budget totals $3,460,777, an increase of $235,477 over 1966.

A public hearing on the expenditure is scheduled for Tuesday, March 5 at 8:30 p.m. in City Hall.

importance and something that should be done in the immediate future."

Parking is not the only problem the Chamber finds as it looks at the future of business and industry in the Summit area. Job training, which has received increased attention in recent months, is a challenge the Chamber is accepting. A Chamber committee is studying the feasibility of establishing a new

HAROLD T. GRAVES JR.

GAVIN P. SPOFFORD

Summit Trust In Change Of Top Echelon

The board of directors of Summit and Elizabeth Trust Company have announced the promotion of Harold T. Graves Jr. of 29 Whittredge road, to chairman of the board and chief executive officer, and Gavin P. Spofford of Bernardsville, to president and chief administrative officer, effective February 28.

Mr. Graves has been president of the board and chief executive officer since January, 1958. Prior to this he was executive vice-president. Mr. Spofford was formerly executive vice-president and prior to the merger with Summit Trust Company, was president of the Elizabethport Banking Company.

Mr. Graves has been an officer and director of Summit Trust Company since 1937 and comes of a banking family as both his father and a brother were bank presidents.

He is a 1926 graduate of the Wharton School of Finance, University of Pennsylvania, and prior to his association with the bank was associated with Guaranty Trust Company, First Boston Corporation, and as a partner of a New York Stock Exchange member firm. He is also a director of a

Drummond Gets Jaycee "Man-of-Year" Award

J. ALAN DRUMMOND

J. Alan Drummond of 112 Ashland road was selected today by the Summit Jaycees to receive the Distinguished Service Award for 1967.

The award is annually given to Summit's outstanding young man, from 21 to 35, who has contributed the most to the community during the year. Drummond is currently chairman of the city's Housing Authority and is past chairman of the Summit "Head-start" Program. He is a member of the Summit Area Development Council the Summit Bar Association and has been an officer in the Kiwanis Club, the Historical Society and the Jaycees.

A life-long resident of Summit, Drummond attended Summit public schools, was graduated from Boston College and Fordham Law School and currently maintains a law office in Summit.

For many weeks, a committee headed by Jaycee Roger Faherty has been canvassing businesses, clubs, churches and other organizations in Summit for nominations for the award. The selection of Drummond was announced today and his name will be entered in the New Jersey Yearbook. (Continued on Page Two) program for training and finding positions for the underprivileged in the area. Sayre indicates that the Summit Area has a unique position — not so much unemployed as underemployed; people not being employed in jobs up to their abilities. "We wish to promote better jobs for people who have the training. We hope to be able to bring workers into the area to fill open jobs. These are largely in the stenographic, clerical, factory, and retail sales areas!

Still another concern is area development. "How can we promote development in Summit, Berkeley Heights, and New Providence?" asks Sayre. This question is now being studied so that whatever answers may evolve can be used as a format for area development. The emphasis in development will be cooperation to make any action a joint endeavor by all members in the industrial section. "We are so far removed from Elizabeth that our interests are more in common with Short Hills, Chatham Borough, and Chatham Township," comments Sayre.

The concept of an underlying unity occurs throughout Sayre's discussion of Chamber plans. Although as president he does not state a personal goal, the emphasis Sayre places on undergirding this common, cooperative effort of the three sections of the Chamber could serve as his creed, if not his goal. Many of Sayre's comments touch on the inter-twining of interest and concern of the industrial, mercant, and civic-professional group, Sayre says. "The members of this section should be just as interested in parking as the merchants. Again, they have to hire secretaries, custodians, etc., so they should be interested in the personnel problems of the area. If they can be brought more into the center of the picture, they should welcome this outlet."

Referring to the merchant division, Sayre says, "We hope to broaden their interest in other areas. It is to their advantage to participate in the personnel study, because they have personnel needs. We want the business community to appreciate that the Chamber serves the interest of all areas."

TIME TO FILL THE COOKIE JAR

February from Brownie, Junior, Cadette or Senior Scouts is "Girl Scout Cookie Month" and Mayor David E. Truckess was among the first to receive Scouts from Troops 56 and 25 will be selling sample boxes of this year's cookies. Cadette Scouts Janice Lawrence, Janet Riley and Betty Lou Ruffley, Troop 25, presented the Mayor with an assortment of cookies at interested in purchasing larger lots of cookies City Hall and asked him to launch Summit's can contact Mrs. Joyce Brice, 273-2050, or Cookie Drive. The public can buy cookies Mrs. Chris Srnka, 273-0909. (Photo by Wolin)

As president, Sayre seeks a balanced Chamber of Commerce, interested in all divisions but not dominated by any one section. The Chamber has set about to create a new image. According to Sayre, "the goal is to make the Chamber a going, business-oriented organization that will take into consideration the need for promoting the interests of the general business community." The need is "to communicate better with both the membership and the public at large."

How does an organization go about such a task? First come some changes in structure, a re-aligning of committees and assignments, allowing for the strengthening of specific areas of interest. The Chamber has established a headquarters committee, made up of the board of directors and the executive committee. This committee is responsible for two areas: finance and membership.

Flexibility to allow for changing emphases comes in the committees, which are responsible to the headquarters committee. What was formerly the program committee is now called that organizational affairs committee and deals with the annual membership dinner and the summer "outing". The new program and project development committee becomes the key to "vitalizing the image of the Chamber to the business community as a whole," Sayre says. "In my estimation, it is the most important committee in the Chamber."

It is through the program and project development committee that the Chamber hopes to demonstrate that it is a working organization, trying to improve civic and development conditions. Through this committee the Chamber hopes to attract new members. The Chamber is able to draw membership, Sayre says, when it has a program geared to the needs of the area.

The Chamber is actively seeking new members—new people in all three sections. With increased membership providing both funds and manpower, the Chamber will be stronger and better able to serve its members.

The Chamber, Sayre concludes, is a central voice for business to the community.

number of New Jersey businesses.

Mr. Graves has been active in many of Summit's civic and cultural endeavors. At present he is a trustee of the YMCA, trustee and treasurer of Overlook Hospital, trustee and treasurer of the Summit Home for Children, trustee and treasurer of Summit Art Association, and trustee of Shaw University, Raleigh, N. C.

Mr. Spofford, an Army veteran, received his bachelor of science degree in engineering from Swarthmore College in 1948, and bachelor of arts degree in economics in 1949 and a master's degree in economics from the University of Pennsylvania in 1951. He also served as an instructor at the University of Pennsylvania.

Mr. Spofford started his business career as a market analyst for the E. I. Du Pont Company, Wilmington, Del., from 1950 to 1952. He was an executive trainee at J. P. Morgan and Company, New York City and left that post in 1954 to become assistant vice-president of the Manufacturers Hanover Trust Company, New York serving in this capacity until 1962 when he became president of the Elizabethport Banking took place.

The interior of the Babs Shop, as well as the two floors which housed tenants, were completely destroyed, as was more than half the roof. At one point during the blaze, firemen were fearful that either the roof or wall of the building would collapse from the surging flames and weight from tons of water sprayed on the blaze.

Eakley said the task of bringing the fire under control was hampered by the intense heat of the blaze which drove firemen back several times.

The chief said the fire was the worst since the Lyric Theater burned to the ground in 1952, but that Monday night's blaze necessitated the most amount of equipment. At least a dozen pieces of equipment, including three aerial trucks were used to fight the blaze.

Other stores adjacent to the structure which suffered some damage from smoke, some damage from smoke and heat included L. Rosenstein's jewelry shop, James Long and Son Upholstery Shop, the Little Yarn Shop, and Stitch and Knit, the Dorothy Hughes Shop, a short distance away, escaped damage.

The fire attracted hundreds of spectators and police cordoned off Springfield avenue to traffic from Woodland avenue to Maple street, and from DeForest avenue to Union place. Even as late as noon on Tuesday, the section of Springfield avenue where the fire occurred, was roped off to prevent curiosity seekers from getting too near the gutted building.

Billowing smoke laid a thick blanket over the city and the strong odor of burning wood and plaster could be detected as far away as New Providence, Chatham and Springfield.

High School Students Chat Across the Sea

A telelecture conference was held today at 9:30 a.m. in room 228 in the high school between students of the Deburgh School, Surrey, England, and sociology students here. The conference was the outgrowth of a project initiated by members of Joseph Della Badia's sixth and seventh period sociology classes. They were examining attitudes prevalent among teenagers today in the United States and they wanted to compare their findings with teenagers in another country.

England was selected for the comparison because of the similarity in their culture with our own culture and more specifically the Deburgh School was chosen because Miss Stephanie Southworth, an exchange teacher this year at the high school, comes from the school, and at the same time, Miss Alice Boyle of the English Department is now also teaching for this school year in the Deburgh School.

The topics discussed today were selected by the students in the respective schools after a few months of correspondence between the students. The topics discussed were: new morality, higher education, Vietnam, England's role in the world today, value systems which included money, love, happiness, security, and other social and moral values.

The conference was sent out over equipment which was installed by the Bell Telephone Company in the high school last year.

We'll sell you either one.

The car on the left is the Volvo 122. It lasts an average of 11 years in Sweden, where it's tough being a car.

The car on the right is the new Volvo 144. We don't know how long it will last yet.

But we do know that it's built to last like a Volvo. And while nobody guarantees how long a Volvo will last in America, it's a fact that over 95% of all the Volvos registered here in the past 11 years are still on the road.

So come in and test-drive either Volvo. Soon. Because the one place Volvos don't last very long is in our showroom.

Two to Head New Program At Oratory

Rev. Joseph W. Russell, Ph.D., headmaster of Oratory School, has announced the appointment of J. P. McCarthy of Livingston and Charles R. Kaul of Cranford to supervise the newly inaugurated Oratory School student tour program. The Student Tour Program is an outgrowth of a trip Oratory students took to Expo '67. It is felt that they are beneficial to students from a cultural and educational point of view. A trip to Europe is planned for this summer, which will take in England, Germany, Italy, Spain and France.
Mr. McCarthy comes to Oratory from Seton Hall University. He was appointed manager of business and finance by Father Russell last July. He is a graduate of New York Military Academy and received his B.S. from New York University. He is a Third Degree Knight of Columbus, Our Lady of the Mountain Council, Livingston. He is also a member of the East Orange Tennis Club.
Mr. Kaul is a graduate of LaSalle Military Academy, and St. Francis College, Loretto. He is a member of the faculty at Oratory. He formerly taught in San Diego, Calif., and has traveled extensively throughout Europe.
Father Russell was appointed headmaster of the school last summer when it was assimilated into the Archdiocese of Newark. He was formerly at Seton Hall University for 18 years where he was head of the classical languages department. Prior to that, he taught for eight years at Seton Hall Preparatory School. He has inaugurated many new programs at Oratory and is presently engaged in acquiring the Middle States accreditation for the school.

Westfield Man to Lead County GOP

Richard G. Schoel of Westfield, was elected chairman of the Union County Republican Committee last Wednesday night at Roselle Park. Mr. Schoel, a dark horse candidate, was picked on the third ballot. He succeeds Loree Collins of Essex road, who resigned three weeks ago to accept a post as special advisor on the staff of State GOP Chairman, Webster Todd.
Active in Union County Republican activities since 1960, Mr. Schoel is a member of the Westfield Republican Committee and the county executive committee, a ward leader and campaign chairman.
An engineering graduate of the University of Michigan, Mr. Schoel has been associated with Johnson & Johnson, New Brunswick, for the last 13 years and is presently a product group director in the baby and proprietary division.

Church Scout Troop Takes Overnight Trek

Earlier this month the Green Bar Patrol of Troop 66, which meets on Monday night in the Methodist Church, took an overnight hike to Camp Ken-etwa-pec, in northern New Jersey.
The camp, which is run by the Orange Council of the Boy Scouts of America, has recently been obtained by the federal "Green Acres" program, which will make the camp a family recreation and camping area.
On this trip the Green Bar Patrol, along with hiking and moon-light skating around Long Pine Pond, planned its program for the year 1968. Those attending the overnight hike were Scoutmaster, Pete Kanak; troop committee chairman, Jim Audley; committee member, Jack Schwannhauser; junior assistant Scoutmaster, Mark Kanak; senior patrol leader, Marty Martin; assistant senior patrol leader, Roger Schwannhauser; instructor, Wade Reynolds; patrol leaders, Bob Conger, Steve Hadley, and Jim Horn;

Young Local Woman Seeks Role as Delegate to Democratic Convention

Madelyn Jamison, of 26 Webster Avenue, a political journalist and a Fulbright Scholar who recently returned from Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia, will run for New Jersey delegate-at-large to the Democratic National Convention pledged to a clear-cut peace candidate, preferably Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy.

Miss Jamison, who is 23, a specialist in Asian studies, has been a stringer with the Associated Press in Malaysia and Singapore, and has also been published widely by Copley News Service and the Christian Science Monitor. Since returning from Asia last June, she has been a contract writer with Congressional Quarterly, producer of a Southeast Asian radio show at Voice of America, and currently holds a fellowship with the Washington Journalism Center. She is a graduate of Radcliffe College, holding a B.A. degree in Asian studies from Harvard. She was a 1966-67 Fulbright Scholar in Malaysia.

"Why have I decided to enter active politics? Because the responsible young must have a voice in the crucial decisions that will be made at the polls this year. This terrible war must end. My generation must be represented in the only orderly democratic avenue left open to us," Miss Jamison states.

"I have lived in Asia," she added. "My roommates were Malaysians, Australians, Chinese. I have traveled widely—in Thailand, in Laos, in Malaysia, of course, in Singapore, in Cambodia, in Indonesia. I have met the people, lived with the problems, and have written extensively about them. We young people will be living in the kind of a world that is being processed for us now. We must have a voice in how that process works. I am hoping to be such a voice at the Democratic convention. I would hope that there could be many like me."

Summit Artist Will Exhibit New Paintings

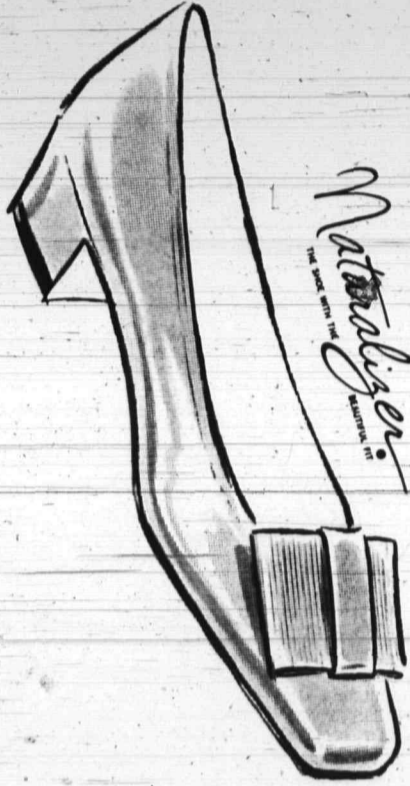

A one-man exhibition of paintings by artist Patricia Gilson, 134 Pine Grove Avenue, will be held at Gallery 9 Upstairs, 246 Main Street, Chatham, from Sunday, February 18 through Friday, March 8.

The public is invited to attend an official opening day "preview" of the show from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. at Gallery 9 Upstairs. Viewing hours each week after that will be from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. Tuesdays through Saturdays.

Mrs. Gilson will present approximately 26 large non-objective works in this show. The paintings mark a completely new phase in her career. She has previously exhibited her work at Audubon Artists, New York City; National Association of Women Artists, New York City; the New Jersey Museum; Hunterdon County Art Center, Clinton; Summit Art Center and the Newark Arts Festival.

Among Mrs. Gilson's teachers are Maurice Sievan, Alf Stromstad, Mary Bugbird, Joe Jones, Joe Loeber, Tosum Bayrak, Mitauo Kakutani, Joe Seidel and Louis Philipe Noe.

Hats Off to Our Firemen

It is not everyday, thank God, that our firemen are called out to perform the dangerous mission they performed Monday night when the Kerns Building was gutted by the city's worst fire in 15 years.

Working under the most hazardous of conditions, in sub-freezing temperatures, the firemen gave their all to quell a blaze that certainly could have spread to adjoining buildings and thus prove an even greater tragedy than the one visited upon the city Monday night.

Our collective hats go off to these gallant men who braved injury and death in the performance of their duty to protect life and property. Let us hope they are not called out again soon to perform such hazardous duty. But if our firemen are, we should be thankful in the knowledge that our Fire Department is also "the city's finest."

End the Quarreling Now

The continuing rift between Passaic avenue residents and Common Council is not only foolhardy, but is leading to nothing positive.

The situation is now at the point where residents are being painted as unreasonable money grabbers, who are only concerned about real estate values.

Common Council is being painted as the villain who doesn't care about human values, and who is only concerned with ratables and getting the albatross street off its collective neck.

As in most heated discussions, there is only a semblance of truth about both parties. Meanwhile the roadway itself is falling into a state of rubble not easily negotiable by a car going at any speed, let alone the 40 mph permitted in some stretches.

No one in Summit wants a superhighway. Not the residents. Not Common Council.

Now is the time for the pot to stop calling the kettle irresponsible. Now is the time for the kettle to stop calling the pot unreasonable.

Both the residents and Council should get together. Join forces. Make the good fight together. And together do something about Passaic avenue.

Let the residents and Council join forces and go to the county and the state to resolve the difficulty of overcoming red tape regulations which would permit a semi-superhighway within our midst, while we are already being encircled.

The quarrel between Passaic avenue residents and Council must end immediately. Together, both sides working together may be able to get some kind of settlement mutually satisfactory to both. It's worth a try once the bickering and charges cease. Quarrels will get us nowhere in our negotiations with the Board of Freeholders and the State Department of Highways in our quest for a fair solution to a nasty problem. Let us band together for the common good and cease fighting between ourselves.

School for Babies

In our neighboring state, the New York Board of Regents, which supervises the state-wide education of all students not in college, has proposed that the state offer formal schooling at the age of 3, even if it is only bead stringing.

The suggestion is not favorably received by most parents, and grandparents. A child of that age is still a baby and to begin his schooling at 3 means that he will be in the classroom for 15 years, figuring the new plan to provide two years of pre-kindergarten, kindergarten, and then 11 years of elementary and high school work.

There are, of course, some parents who would cheer over the prospect of a state baby sitting service and, without a doubt, there are some children who would be better off stringing beads at 3 under the supervision of a teacher than being at home under the neglect of a mother.

But the major concern is that a baby of 3 should be allowed a few years of loving, carefree, playful attention in the home and from his mother. Certainly good homes where they love babies must be in the majority in New York State.

This is a confused world that grows more and more confused and a baby should be allowed some happy years at home to get the courage and the training to face the confusion he will encounter later in life.

And still another concern is that if New York State carries through with its school for babies, will New Jersey be far behind?

Letters

Residents Reply

Editor, Summit Herald:

The Passaic Avenue Association would appreciate having this letter published in reply to the comments presented by Wm. Rae Crane in last week's issue of your paper.

In the first place, we would like to emphasize Mr. Crane resides in Chatham Township in Morris County. We, the residents and taxpayers in the affected area are protesting the Summit Council's action in defense of our homes and our city. The Master Plan for the City of Summit states in its preface a desire to preserve the residential characteristics of Summit, and this view is supported by the city officials, but on the other hand, the Council reverses itself and takes actions in the extreme opposite direction. It is our concerted opinion that a 4-lane highway as the Council has requested for Passaic avenue and the CIBA re-zoning would unquestionably increase the industrialization of this area.

In reply to Mr. Crane's statement that this 4-lane thoroughway is opposed by only a few residents in the adjacent area, we have a large number of signatures of citizens in our support from all sections of Summit, from the North Side, Woodland Park, Druid Hill section, Memorial Field area,

The Highland, and a very substantial support from the business section of Summit.

As for the tax burden on the Summit taxpayers, in the final analysis, the taxpayer bears the burden regardless of where the funds are allocated, whether it be under a 90-10 program, the 50-50 program, or other allocation from governmental agencies. Are we going to be so short-sighted as to jeopardize the fine qualities of our city forever more for the sake of a supposedly preferential tax allocation?

Much consideration is currently being given at the state level to a proposed Parkway on the north side of the Passaic River. Would it not be prudent for the residents of Summit to urge a delay in making this vital decision on widening Passaic Avenue until the proposed Parkway matter is resolved? In such an eventuality, the whole traffic pattern of this area would be altered, and conceivably, Passaic avenue would revert to a true residential street. The expenditure of the taxpayer's money NOW on the proposed 4-lane project for Passaic Avenue may represent a great waste of funds should the Parkway also become a reality.

Concerning the comments on CIBA, would Mr. Crane enjoy living in an area where the air and near-by water is polluted and vile with contamination from CIBA's operations? Would Mr. Crane enjoy living in an area where animal experimentation is being conducted? Would Mr. Crane enjoy looking at a 4-story office structure in his backyard? Would Mr. Crane enjoy the noise and nuisance factors and traffic hazards created by an industrial giant in his backyard? Would Mr. Crane enjoy seeing his investment in home and property representing hard-earned life savings depreciated by the re-zoning actions and a 4-lane speedway through his property? We are certain if Mr. Crane resided in the Passaic Avenue area his attitudes would be quite different from those presented in his letter from his residence in Chatham Township.

Passaic Avenue Association.

Editor, Summit Herald:
I have been following with much interest and frankly some concern, the situation regarding Passaic Avenue improvements.

I frequently travel Passaic Avenue and feel that the primary requirement in improving this street would be the resurfacing since the traffic (Continued on Page Nine) people who buy Volkswagen Station Wagons will have it soft in 1968.

Prediction:

For the last 17 years, Volkswagen has been making a big, tough, never-say-die station wagon.

Which could grind out up to 23 miles on one gallon of gas. And take in over 174 cubic feet of whatever you wanted to carry.

Yet in spite of all that, certain people have been avoiding the VW Station Wagon. There's no need to mention names. You know who you are.

And we know why you've been avoiding our wagon. Because driving it was something of a big, tough, never-say-die experience. The fact is, our wagon lacked luxury.

Okay, all you people. Get ready for a surprise. We have taken the VW Station Wagon and padded the stuffing out of it. We've put extra padding on the armrests, the dash, the front of the ashtray, even the window-crank knobs. And if our wagon can't exactly be called a bed of roses even now, it can at least be called a seat of them. (We went somewhat crazy with padding in that particular area.)

Then we put in 6 ventilation ducts all over. (You'll be able to give yourself airs if you own a new VW wagon.)

We also added a whole new suspension system underneath. It'll be easy going, easy go, all the way.)

And with all of that, the new bus for softies still has the old bus' hardy virtues.

So 1968 should be a good year for all you people who love your comfort. You've been going without the Volkswagen Station Wagon's wonderful gas mileage and storage capacity for a long time.

But you don't have to deny yourselves anymore.

Summit Cagers Split, Tie for Fourth Place

By TOM KIZZIA
SUMMIT - The Summit High basketball team squeaked into a tie for fourth place in the Suburban Conference with Verona last week by edging the Hillbillies, 53-52, but lost a chance to take sole possession when it was upset by Millburn, 61-56.

Earlier in the year the victory over Verona would have been heralded as a big upset, but the young Summit cagers have been maturing throughout the year.

The victory didn't come easily. Summit had to stop Verona's high-scoring center Bill Anderson. Bob Stiner drew this task and held Anderson to two points.

Sophomore Kent Raley led the team with his season high of 15 points, hitting on seven of nine shots from the floor. Al Kimbrough scored 13 points and did a good job off the boards. Stiner, besides his strong defense, added nine points.

Tucker Hero
The big hero in the deciding minute was junior Wayne Tucker. After the lead had changed hands 16 times, Clark Daggett hit a long jumper with a minute left to put Summit on top, 51-50. Verona worked the ball downcourt quickly, but missed the shot. Wayne Tucker gathered in the rebound and was fouled.

Tucker missed his foul shot in a one-and-one situation, and Verona, trailing by only one, had the ball with 30 seconds left. Verona took the ball slowly downcourt to attempt one final, game-winning shot. This shot missed, however, and Tucker got the rebound. Again he was fouled.

This time Tucker made both foul shots to give Summit a three-point edge that Verona's last-second basket couldn't equal.

The Millburn team which upset Summit was one greatly improved since the last time the two teams met, when Summit won 66-52. Nevertheless, it was Summit's mistakes that beat them. The Hilltoppers threw away a number of passes; were ineffectual under the boards, and were uncertain in their shooting.

Close Game
The game stayed tight for three periods, as Summit blew several opportunities to pull away. Millburn went into the final quarter with a one-point lead. Miller center Evan Ginsberg quickly increased this to four points. Wayne Tucker closed the lead to 47-45, but the Millers jumped ahead 52-45 with four minutes left. Summit never recovered.

Summit's sophomores again did the bulk of the scoring. Bob Stiner collected 15 points. Al Kimbrough scored 13 points and Kent Raley 12. Tucker added 11 before he fouled out in the fourth quarter.

Summit could still manage a first-division finish, but time may run out on the Hilltoppers. Summit played powerful New Providence last Tuesday afternoon and ends the season tomorrow night at Cedar Grove.

Howard, Ferrara Extend Mat Streaks

Governor Livingston Regional High's undefeated 98-pounder Lee "Rip" Howard and New Providence High's John Ferrara, unbeaten this season as a 106-pounder, moved closer to perfect seasons last week.

Howard scored a pin in 3:22 minutes to lead Governor Livingston to a 32-11 victory over Hillside High in a Watchung Conference match. The win boosted the Highlanders' conference record to 2-3 and gave them an overall mark of 6-4-1.

Howard has won 14 bouts in a row this season and will be among the favorites for a district championship in his weight class.

Ferrara won his 11th straight bout this season in scoring a 7-0 decision over a Cedar Grove High rival. Ferrara has a two-season mark of 22-1 and also will be a favorite for a district wrestling crown.

Brothers Win
Ferrara's decision, following an 8-1 decision by his brother, Ron, got New Providence off to a 6-0 lead against Cedar Grove in a Suburban Conference match. But the Pioneers couldn't hold the lead and bowed 22-17 for their third conference loss in four outings. Coach Phil Espasola's second-year team has a 7-4 mark overall.

Howard's pin sparked Governor Livingston to a 19-0 lead over Hillside after five bouts and the Comets never threatened. Harry Coletta, 106, followed with another pin and Gary Farrell, 115; co-capt. John Pickett, 123, and Hank Gutman, 130, scored decisions.

Hillside pulled up to 19-6, but Rick Arnold, 148, scored an 8-1 decision to put the Highlanders in front 22-6. Bill Frysinger, 157, wrestled to a 2-2 draw. Leading 24-11 with two bouts to go, the Highlanders padded their final total on a pin by co-capt. Joe Parent, 178, in 3:58 minutes and a 5-0 decision by heavyweight Ward Rau. Rau has a 12-2 record this season.

Trailing 6-0, Cedar Grove scored two shut out decisions to tie the score and went ahead with a pin, 11-6, after five bouts. Mark Rausher, 136, and Tony Rubbo, 141, scored decisions to put New Providence ahead for the last time, 12-11, after seven bouts.

Cedar Grove won two decisions to go in front 17-12 and maintained the five-point

'Y' Planning Schoolboy Cage Event

SUMMIT - The Summit Area YMCA will sponsor a mid-winter vacation pickup basketball tournament during the week of Monday, February 19, for senior high school boys. Boys in grades 9-12 from Summit, New Providence and Millburn are invited to organize a team and enter the single toss elimination tournament.

Summit Girls Win 1st Swim

SUMMIT - The Summit Area YMCA girls' swim team won its first meeting of the season last Saturday, defeating the Jersey City YMCA team 113-95 at the Summit pool.

The Summit girls won 10 of the 20 individual races and one of the four relays, but superior depth told the story as Summit posted 15 second-place finishes.

First-place scorers were Ann Ogorzalzy of Summit, 12 years and under, diving; Barbara Bauer, 12/under, 100-yard individual medley, 1:17.8 minutes; Diane Blackwell, New Providence, 10/under, 25-yard freestyle, 15.1 seconds; Betsy Stockley, Chatham, 11-12, 50-yard freestyle, 29.5; Janet Stricker, Summit, 15-17, 100-yard freestyle, 1:05.3; Ann Seidler, Summit, 11-12, 50-yard breaststroke, 40.7; Kim El-drige, 10/under, 25-yard backstroke, 17.5; Betsy Stockley, Chatham, 11-12, 50-yard backstroke, 34.8; Diane Blackwell, New Providence, 10/under, 25-yard butterfly, 15.6 and Barbara Bauer, 11-12, 50-yard backstroke in 35.5.

Sue Karl, Janet Stricker, Kathy Cahill and Linda Whiteley of Summit won the 15-17, 200-yard medley relay.

Second and third placers for Summit were Marge and Lynda Benson; Maureen Callery; Penny Cash, Pat Cash and Pat Battaglia, all of Berkeley Heights; Diane Blackwell, New Providence; Sandy Lankeau and Tina Steck, Chatham; Mary K. Finnerty; Cathy Bauer; Linda Dalrymple; and Linda Whiteley, Betsy Agnew, Kathy Cahill, Kathy Mues, Kathy Keating, Sue Agnew, Janet Stricker, Cathy Le-Vanchy, Ann Ogorzalzy and Melissa Barrett, all of Summit.

The girls compete against the Montclair YMCA girls next week in Montclair.

Summit Splits J.V. Contests

SUMMIT - Summit High's junior varsity basketball team won one of two games last week, trouncing Millburn, 70-48, after a narrow 62-58 loss to Verona.

Summit fell behind Verona, 11-1 in the first quarter. Paced by Sheldon Woodbury, Summit came back to trail, 30-24 at halftime. The Hilltoppers carried the momentum into the third period when Ken Thames finally put Summit ahead, 34-33. Summit increased the lead to five points before Verona powered back to take the lead 60-58 with 13 seconds left.

Summit's Jim McCullough, in a one-and-one situation from the foul line, sank the first shot, and the second caromed off the backboard and rim into the arms of Ken Thames for what looked like the winning shot. McCullough was charged with "forcing" the ball rather than shooting it, however, and it was turned over to Verona, which scored to make it 62-58. Woodbury and Steve Schroeder each scored 15 points for Summit.

The game against Millburn was won easily. Led by Woodbury and Rich Graef, Summit jumped off to a 23-9 lead in the first quarter and never had trouble. Woodbury was high with 18 points, followed by Graef with 10 and Thames with nine.

Matmen Find Going Bit Rough

Lack of depth is proving to be the key to Summit High's wrestling failures. A relatively sound team defeated Butler 28-19, but with eight of the 12 starters question marks, Summit lost to New Providence 25-17.

Scott Votey (123) paced the Summit wrestlers with pins in each match to bring his year mark to 9-1-1.

A 12-2 victory by Tom Luntz (106) against Butler and Rick Sherman's (115) draw made it 5-5, and were followed by Votey's pin and a crushing 22-1 victory by Harold Coombs in the 130-pound class to make it 13-5. Norward Hill (141) then pinned to break the match open.

Wins by Skip Schroeder (157) and Bob Hudkins (178) capped the victory. Pete Suggs (136) and Fred Genualdi (148) fought to standoffs.

With four starters absent and four others wrestling in higher weight classes than normal it was a miracle Summit kept as close to New Providence as it did.

Substitutes Bill Dempster (98) and Rick Sherman (106) lost, as did Tom Luntz (115), to drop Summit to an early 11-0 deficit. Scott Votey, pinned to make it 11-5, but submitting Tom Williams (130) lost.

Pete Suggs' 3-2 decision seemed to no avail as Ronnie Coleman was overcome in his first varsity match to make it 17-8, and Summit's next three wrestlers were wrestling in heavier weight classes.

Two of the three won, however, Norward Hill, wrestler of the match, took a 9-3 decision in the 148-pound class, and Skip Schroeder (168) won 3-2. The third, Fred Genualdi, lost a narrow decision by a point.

Bob Hudkins (178) won 7-0 to make it 20-17, but in the final bout sophomore heavyweight Bill Jemison was pinned.

Red Wings Defeat Orange, Englewood

The Summit Red Wings ice hockey team, paced by strong goaltending by Tom Reid and the scoring of John Idak, added two victories to their already strong season to bring their record to 12-5-1.

Reid shut out South Orange 4-0 in the first game. Idak, Pat Everett, Dave Hollet, and Chuck Levansky scored, while Bill and Pete Helmrath each had two assists.

Summit downed undefeated Englewood 4-3 on a last period goal by John Idak. Led by goals by Dave Russell, Pat Everett, and Idak, Summit left to an early 3-0 lead, but Englewood closed the gap to 3-2 before Idak scored his second goal of the game.

Tom Reid, averaging less than two goals per game, had 47 saves against Englewood, and was instrumental in the win.

Oratory School Five Tourney Darkhorse

SUMMIT - Oratory School's basketball team has only a 4-12 record this season and is unseeded in next week's New Jersey Independent Schools Class B tournament, but the Rams will go into the 10-team tournament as a dark horse for the title.

Despite their unimpressive overall mark, the Rams have beaten two of the four seeded teams in the tournament - Neumann Prep of Wayne and Rutgers Prep of New Brunswick.

The victory over third-seeded Rutgers Prep was scored last week when Jim Massaro tossed in a jump shot with four seconds to play to give Oratory a 78-77 victory. Rutgers Prep has an 11-5 record.

Oratory, which will play fourth-seeded Neumann Prep in a first-round tournament game, defeated the Wayne cagers last month on the Neumann court. Neumann Prep has a 10-5 mark this season.

In another game last week, Bayley-Elard Regional High of Madison downed Oratory, 63-44.

Rally to Win
Oratory made up an eight-point halftime deficit in nipping Rutgers Prep. The New Brunswick team led 42-34 at intermission, but Oratory rallied for 27 points in the third period to tie the score, 61-61, after three periods. The lead saw-sawed in the final period until Massaro's game-winning shot.

Rutgers Prep scored the first 10 points of the game and appeared to be headed for an easy victory. But Oratory battled back to trail only 18-15 at the end of the quarter.

Massaro had only four points in the game, but his last two decided the game. Pete Dunbar led Oratory with 19 points, while Gerry Fox scored 17. Kevin Doyle and Kevin Wentworth tallied 15 points apiece. Dan Esposito scored 30 points and Jim Pfeffer 26 for Rutgers Prep.

Oratory was limited to just 11 field goals by Bayley-Elard, but managed to keep the score respectable with 22 successful free throws. Fox tossed in six fouls and was the only Oratory player in double figures, finishing with 12 points. Dunbar scored nine, Wentworth eight and Bob Meyers seven.

Having qualified for the Union County Conference's championship basketball tournament for the first time in four years, Governor Livingston Regional High's basketball team was slated to make its tournament debut last Tuesday night against Scotch Plains-Fanwood High, the tournament's eighth-seeded team.

Coach John Kay's Highlanders were faced with the prospect of a short stay in the tournament. Even if they upset Scotch Plains-Fanwood, leader of the Watchung Conference, in the opening round game at Westfield High, they will be faced with the task of taking on top-seeded Roselle Catholic High on the Roselle Catholic court in the quarterfinal round.

Roselle Catholic High played Springfield Regional, another Watchung Conference team, last Tuesday night at Clark Regional High School. The winner of the Roselle Catholic-Springfield Regional contest will be paired with the Governor Livingston-Scotch Plains-Fanwood victor at 7 p.m. Saturday in the Roselle Catholic gymnasium.

Roselle Catholic, with a 14-2 record when the tournament pairings were set up, was heavily favored to defeat

Springfield. Scotch Plains-Fanwood, with a 10-7 record when the tournament was set up, had already beaten Governor Livingston in a Watchung Conference game this season. The Highlanders had a 7-11 record in qualifying for the tournament.

J. V. in Tourney
Governor Livingston's junior varsity, which reached the county tournament semifinals a year ago, also qualified for tournament play. The junior Highlanders were paired with fourth-seeded Linden last Tuesday afternoon in the Governor Livingston gymnasium. Undefeated Roselle Catholic (15-0) also is top-seeded in the junior varsity event.

Oratory School of Summit will begin play next Wednesday afternoon in the New Jersey Independent Schools' Athletic Assn. Class B Tournament. The Rams (3-11) are paired with fourth-seeded Neumann Prep of Wayne (9-5) in the 10-team field. Despite their inferior record, the Rams defeated Neumann Prep earlier this season.

St. Bernard's School of Peapack-Gladstone is top seeded with a 10-2 record. Montclair Academy (10-4) is seeded second, with Rutgers Prep (10-7) seeded third.

Summit Frosh In Lopsided Cage Wins

SUMMIT - Summit High's strong freshman basketball team scored three one-sided victories over Suburban Conference teams in recent contests.

The future Hilltoppers downed Cedar Grove, 63-39; New Providence, 98-40, and Madison, 96-18. The Summit freshmen have won eight straight games.

Summit ran up 22 points in each of the first two periods against Cedar Grove and led 44-24 at intermission. Summit scored only 19 points in the second half, but never was threatened.

Mike Mahoney led Summit with 17 points, while Tucker Collins scored 16 and Ebron 12.

Summit romped to a 44-12 lead over New Providence in the first half, with Jerry Gast scoring 14 of his game-high total of 23 points. Mahoney scored 16 points, including 10 in the second half. Ebron added 15 points, O'Dell 13 and Ochs 10 for Summit. Lesnewick topped New Providence with 16 points.

Summit rolled to a 45-9 lead in the first half against Madison. Summit had a 30-3 edge in the first period and rolled up a 27-3 bulge in the third period.

Gast topped Summit with 23 points, while Mahoney scored 19. Ochs and Odell had 11 points apiece for Summit.

Summit used 15 players in two of the one-sided contests and 14 in the other game. Fourteen different Summit players scored in the New Providence game and 13 in the Madison contest.

Defeat by Caldwell Dims Eskies' Hopes

CHATHAM BORO - Chatham Boro High's hopes for a Suburban Conference basketball championship were all but dashed last week when league-leading Caldwell High exploded in the final period to post an 80-59 victory over the Eskies at the Caldwell court.

The loss dropped the Eskies two games back of Caldwell with only two games to play. It also dropped Chatham Boro out of a tie for second place in the conference with New Providence. Caldwell has an 11-1 record, while New Providence is 10-2 and Chatham Boro is 9-3.

The Eskies will have a chance to tie New Providence for second place in the final standings if they can win their games this week with Cedar Grove and Millburn. The Eskies played host to Cedar Grove last Tuesday afternoon and will visit Millburn tomorrow night. Cedar Grove's Jim LaCorte is the league's top scorer and could present a threat to the Eskies.

New Providence closes out its season in games with Summit and Caldwell. The Pioneers could gain a share of the conference crown by beating Caldwell on its own court tomorrow night, but a loss for the Pioneers would give Chatham Boro a chance to tie for second place.

Bounce Back
Chatham Boro bounced back from its loss to Caldwell to rout Madison, 97-55, for its 14th win in 17 games. Madison, winless in conference play, was completely outclassed until the final period when the Eskie reserves were in action.

The Eskies took a 24-13

Volume does not warrant the widening of the road to that contemplated.

I feel that the Summit City Council has acted without due consideration to the effects this matter would have on the residents of Passaic Avenue. I would think that the citizens of Summit should be given more consideration by their own elected representatives. I believe that possibly the only benefit would be to CIBA in funneling their morning and evening traffic more efficiently through this area. I do not think that because they are one of the largest taxpayers in the City of Summit that they should be given any more consideration than an individual taxpayer regardless of the taxes paid.

Let's not pass the buck to Union County and proceed on the basis of the best for the residents in this area, which should be the primary consideration.

Vote on City Hall?

Editor, Summit Herald:
The enclosed letter has been sent to Common Council, Publication in the Summit Herald is requested.

Common Council
City of Summit
Summit, N. J.
Gentlemen:

Each of the recent issues of the Summit Herald has had an item about a new City Hall. The February 8th one reports that Common Council has set a date for its completion and in a five year budget, has set aside $1,500,000. This article credits Mayor Truckess with

HOBBIES ARE GREAT—Boy Scout Gary O'Shea, Troop 162, found that all his painstaking hours of collecting, mounting and labeling really paid off when his butterfly collection took first prize in the 22nd annual Scout Hobby Show at the Central Presbyterian Church last week. Chief-of-Police John Sayre, David C. Davidson, principal of Wilson School, and Mrs. D. Mathew Duff, president of the Overlook Hospital Women's Auxiliary, were on hand to present a special trophy to Gary at the end of the Show. The adults served as judges. Chris Wojcik's coin collection, Jon Plast's caeti display, Carlos Pena's oil paintings, Ronald Jones' chemistry exhibition and Ned Bradford's live fish collection were also judged prize winners. (Photo by Wolin) having concluded that because his having heard little discussion among townfolk that residents "must be in accord that a new City Hall is needed."

As one resident NOT in accord I respectfully request the need and desire be established as the will of the people before any commitments are entered into.

Inquiry made by me by phoning ten residents (who are also taxpayers) would indicate the Mayor's conclusions are not factual. In my calls I posed the question, "do you think we need a New City Hall?" Of the ten not ONE said "yes". Four said they wanted to know more before expressing an opinion. Six replied in the negative, with varying degrees of emphasis.

Assuming these ten are representatives of the people, my request is well supported. From my inquiry and my observations I have concluded the people should be informed in all details why we need a New City Hall, and what the costs will be including how much our Operating Budget will be increased annually; after which public hearings be provided for discussions and further evaluation of the project. Only after this should the final decree be made, and then by the referendum vote of the people.

Your favorable consideration of my views will, I'm confident, be appreciated by many.
Respectfully,
Winston K. Ogden

Nothing to Do

Editor, Summit Herald:
I am a college student who returns home only for periodic vacations. Each time I come home I am faced with the problem of finding things to occupy my time. My problem is not unique though. The high school students have the same one, only it is always with them. The basic problem is that there are only a few places for them to take part in recreation unless they are lucky enough to be on a varsity team.

It is true that the Board of Recreation sponsors a basketball league, but this only means a boy can play once or twice a week. In addition to this, the league is only open to High School students. What then is the non-High School student to do? This person must be content to use Edison Recreation whenever he wishes to play. What you then have at the Rec. is a large collection of young people wishing to play basketball. The collection consists of close neighbors of the Rec., students, other than Summit High ones, and Summit High students not slated to play in the league games on that particular day or night, whichever the case may be. With this large group of people it is not possible for everyone to play at once in the small gym.

Reader Sees Red

Editor, Summit Herald
Informants in Trenton and elsewhere have informed me that the New Jersey Education Association is now officially recommending Communist textbooks for use in our public schools, including Summit.

A bulletin describing these books is being sent to high school teachers and Principals in New Jersey; and it explains the list as being chosen under direction of the Commissioner of Education.

For example, Langston Hughes, a known self-admitted Communist, is recommended as author of a charming poem called, "Put One More S in USA to Make it Soviet". A typical excerpt from another of Hughes' poems called "Goodbye, Christ":

"Christ Jesus, Lord, God Jehovah,
Beat it away from here now.
Make way for a new guy with no religion at all—
A real guy named
Marx Communist, Lenin
Peasant
Stalin Worker, ME. . ."

Other authors recommended by the N. J. Education Association and the National Education Association are Gordon Allport, a member of over 18 officially-cited Communist fronts by 1959. His book, "The Nature of Prejudice", appears at the top of the NEA's recommended reading list. The NEA's list even contains a recommended volume by the infamous Soviet spy master, Victor Perlo, now doing his writing for the Communist "People's World."

New Jersey officials are now urging our children to learn the truth about Negroes in America from books by Dorey A. Wilkerson of the National Committee of the Communist Party of the U. S. A. Books by Marxist Malcolm X, Books by W. E. B. DuBois (Communist clubs on campus have taken the same name), Books by Herbert Aptheker, leader of the U. S. Communist Party, and the editor of the official Communist magazine, "Political Affairs."

Signs of the Times—Out goes the Bible, and in come the Communist books. And it won't bring a ripple of protest.

Pretty soon we won't have to worry about vital issues like "a new swimming pool" for Summit or "shooting helpless squirrels."

What was that someone said about "our grandchildren living under Communism?" Maybe we won't have to wait that long.

school gyms to be supervised by the Board of Recreation. I cannot think that the two Boards would be diametrically opposed to this idea.

Today, when a person goes up to a school gym and requests permission to play his request is denied because of insurance regulations. Each time the person requesting permission is met by pretty much the same story. He is told, "Oh I can't let you play here, because if you should get hurt the school would be liable." Each time however he is soothed at the end when he is told, "I wish I could let you play." If the people in the schools so badly wish we could play why can't they do something about it? As I said before, all the Board of Education would have to do is open up, say, the Washington School gym, the High School gym, and the Junior High gyms to be supervised by members of the Board of Recreation.

The way the situation is now, something must be done. Teen-agers with no hope of playing in the over crowded Rec. have to fill their time with some other activity which may or may not be lawful. A boy may take a walk through town and try his hand at shop-lifting, or he might stand at a corner and obstruct shoppers. The very worst thing this boy could do would be to sit around and waste time. I know for a fact, from a principal at one of the grammar schools that a window in his school was damaged due to people breaking in to play basketball. So you see when there is no place to play people will make a place.

It seems clear to me that there is an active wish to play basketball by the young people of Summit. Their wish is presently being ignored, I hope accidentally, by the two Boards.

I feel the possibility of opening up other gyms should be seriously looked into. The existence of further gyms can't help but alleviate the log jam at Edison and further promote healthy constructive activity on the part of Summit students and returning college students.

Raps Council

Editor, Summit Herald:
The refusal of the Republican Common Council of Summit to answer questions at the February 6 meeting regarding the Passaic Avenue resolution, once again proves that the "open" Council meetings in Summit are a farce.

In a democratic society, it is the right of the public to question the actions of the duly elected officials and to receive reasonable answers.

It is the moral obligation of elected officials to respect every individual regardless of where they reside in Summit. The Summit Republican Council has in the past discriminated against residents of West Summit while protecting their residential areas against encroaching businesses and highways. It is unrealistic to expect one area to suffer the effects of the influx of people to a business so that the Republican Council members and their neighbors can have lower taxes, better schools and other tax based advantages without disturbing their prime residential area.

As a staunch Republican I certainly hope the members of the Summit Council are not indicative of the Republicans we recently elected to represent us at the county and state level.

CHECKING ACCOUNT

P.A.C.E. — In any community of any size and any standing, there is invariably an echelon of people who have this characteristic in common: A complete sense of responsibility. Summit and Elizabeth Trust Company believes that responsibility should not only be recognized, but rewarded — and that is precisely the purpose of our newest banking service and our newest personal privilege: P.A.C.E. CHECKING ACCOUNTS. The initials stand for Permanently Available Credit Extension. That's the definition. Here are the details.

YOU HAVE A CASH RESERVE AT ALL TIMES — Your P.A.C.E. CHECKING ACCOUNT means that your bank balance is backed by a reserve of $400 to $2,500. To use it, all you do is write a check — the same check you're using now with the same magnetic coding symbols. When your check is being processed electronically, one additional symbol will be added to identify you as a P.A.C.E. CHECKING ACCOUNT holder. Whatever your balance is, we cover the check up to the limit of your reserve in multiples of $50. And there's another way to draw upon your continuing P.A.C.E. credit reserve: You can, if you choose, fill out a P.A.C.E. Transfer Slip specifying any amount (in multiples of $50) up to the limit of your available reserve. Deposit this transfer slip and the funds will be transferred immediately from your P.A.C.E. reserve to your active checking account.

YOU CONTROL THE COST COMPLETELY — A moderate 1% interest per month on the amount of your P.A.C.E. credit outstanding is all you ever pay for this important privilege. It doesn't cost a cent to open your P.A.C.E. CHECKING ACCOUNT, and it doesn't cost a cent until you use it, except the normal checking account activity charges.

HERE'S WHAT P.A.C.E. CAN DO FOR YOU

— You may think of your P.A.C.E. CHECKING ACCOUNT as an instant source of credit for emergencies, advantageous purchases, a vacation, home modernization, or any of hundreds of possible expenses; or you may simply consider it a continuing protection against the inconvenience of unintentional overdrafts. But whatever your point of view, the privilege that it represents is one that you've earned and one that you should enjoy.

HOW IS A P.A.C.E. LOAN REPAYED:

Each month, you'll repay just 1/24 (with a minimum payment of $20) of the loan balance created by the latest transfer from your P.A.C.E. reserve, plus 1% on your average daily unpaid balance. You can, of course, repay as much as you wish, including the entire amount, at any time. You don't have to pay your loan account in full to use your reserve again. The money you repay monthly rebuilds your credit reserve so that you can use it again and again. You'll receive a statement each month 5 days in advance of the payment due date. The payment will be made by an automatic deduction from your checking account. The purpose of the notice is to let you know when to adjust your records. You'll also receive on the statement details on the complete activity and the exact status of your account. You're protected at all times by life insurance, at no extra cost, on the outstanding balance.

Mental Health Association Speaks About the Past, Present and Future

The Mental Health Association of Union County, which is a member of Summit's Combined Spring Fund drive, poses the following four questions and answers regarding its present and future plans.

Questions:

What does it take to create a therapeutic and educational center for seriously disturbed children?

Can we develop a setting—a halfway house—for patients discharged from our state hospital that will enable them to become normal, functional, productive human beings?

Is it possible to build comprehensive mental health services in our community that would have available not only many modalities of treatment for mentally ill children and adults, but would also have a positive therapeutic impact on the area it services?

Answers:

The Mental Health Association of Union County has, after five years of effort, built a unique school for severely disturbed children aged 3 to 8. It is the only school of its kind in Union County and accepts children whose diagnosis indicated a serious emotional disturbance. To meet the needs of the 12 children, the Willow School employs three teachers with special training in the field of emotional problems of young children; a remedial reading teacher for those children whose illness is reflected in their inability to read; a psychiatrist who spends one morning a week observing the children's reactions in a school situation; a psychologist who helps the teachers develop a program which would be most effective; a psychiatric social worker who works with the parents to develop understanding of the child's behavior.

This team of specially trained professionals works slowly and painstakingly to reshape the personalities of these children and offer them a future with hope.

In the course of the three-year experiment, 92 patients of the Marlboro State Hospital were rehabilitated. Some of them had been in the hospital for as long as 20 years. The savings in human life and money far outweighed the cost of the program. The Mental Health Association of Union County expects to purchase a building and re-establish this program on a permanent basis. It will also include a social center for former patients as well as those who receive out-patient care but can benefit from socialization.

Many important new concepts in the care and treatment of the mentally ill have been evolving since the passage of the Mental Health Act of 1963. Basically, it endeavors to return the care of the mentally ill to the community and make available treatment which is best suited to meet the patient's individual needs.

For the last four years the Association has been part of the community effort to establish the comprehensive service required. In this regard, the group has had the cooperation of all social agencies in the area. To fully meet the needs of the residents of each segment of Union County, it is projected that it needs, in addition to the in-patient and out-patient services, a program of partial hospitalization (day care and night care); a 24 hour psychiatric emergency service and a consultation and educational service to help the other agencies in the community.

The Mental Health Association of Union County is in the forefront of those groups and individuals who recognize a need to do something about this major health problem. "We can no longer ignore the many symptoms of emotional instability in our area revealed by high degree of alcoholism or the too frequent indications of drug addiction or the ever present problem of suicide," a spokesman said.

GETS TOP SCOUT AWARD - Mrs. Robinson Clark pins the Eagle Scout award on her son, Douglas Clark, during a court of honor ceremony held last week at Christ Church. Looking on are James McW. Clark has twice won the troop committee's annual gold medal for "most advancement and most participation" and the bronze medal for "most participation". (Wolfin Photo)

Army Man Gets Medal For Vietnam Heroism

Carmine Nigro, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alberto Nigro, 13 Sayre street, has been awarded the Bronze Star Medal with "V" device for valorous action in April, 1967, while serving as a Private First Class E3 with the 9th Infantry Division of the United States Army in Vietnam.

Private Nigro was on patrol duty near the village of Ap Xuan, Republic of Vietnam, when his group encountered heavy weapons fire from a squad of Viet Cong. Seeing one of his fellow soldiers fall with a severe shoulder wound, Private Nigro exposed himself to a hail of machine gun fire as he forded two streams and cleared a heavily wooded hedge to reach the casualty victim. He expertly bandaged the soldier in spite of the fierce fire and prohibitive terrain. It was later reported that the aid given by Private Nigro stopped the bleeding and saved the life of the wounded man.

The citation accompanying the citation says "Private Nigro's selflessness, courage and devotion to duty are in keeping with traditions of the military service and reflect great credit upon himself, the 9th Infantry Division and the United States Army."

Discharged from the Army last week as a Sergeant D-5, Mr. Nigro has returned to his parents' home in Summit. He is a graduate of Summit High School and plans to enter Fairleigh Dickinson University.

FILM

By Jon Plaut

The critical controversy surrounding "Bonnie and Clyde" is understandable. It is a remarkable film—entertaining, audacious, moralistic, extremely well played. With all that, it finally only partially succeeds as social comment.

"Bonnie and Clyde" is Arthur Penn's version of the life and death, in the depression days, of the Barrow gang, led by Clyde Barrow and his woman, Bonnie Parker. This is not an ordinary tough guy gangster movie (in the nature of Edward-G. Robinson and Jimmy Cagney epics), however; neither is it the paunchy Robin Hood adventure (the bad guy is the good guy poorly disguised) that typified many of the best Bogart films, like "The Petrified Forest" or an earlier version of this Barrow gang story. Rather, "Bonnie and Clyde" is a hard look at the myth and easy acceptance of the romance of a violent sub-culture which is so much a part of our "heritage" that it provides a rationale or excuse for our bellicose actions. The real sadness and punch to the film is that Clyde believes in and lives the fable of the publically loved or at least admired bad (good) guy. He never comes to any other self-realization (Bonnie asks him in a pensive moment what he would do if he could start over, and he merely relates different tactics for the same life).

The viewer is compelled to realize that the lives on screen are the products of the fable cherished by so many, including the movie's characters themselves.

The weakness is that we are asked, through numerous plot devices, to become personally involved with the pair, when the acting out of their roles in life should increasingly become the more ghastly and repugnant. For example, after Clyde's brother has been violently killed and all the supposed romance has been exposed as malevolent lie, a cultural trick, Clyde suddenly makes it with Bonnie for the first time. In "A Man and a Woman" this would have been very nice—romantic, sentimental, warming. In "Bonnie and Clyde" it is a mistake, because the viewer is made a compatriot, a sympathizer, a part of the fable. The objectivity, the reason for so explicitly showing and repeating (and adulterating) the violence, vanishes under the latent generation of this hazy warmth of romantic acceptance. The viewer feels sympathetic toward Clyde in his newly found release from impotence. We hope he won't die, and we are sorry that he and Bonnie are so vengefully slaughtered. That being so, the film has at least partially absorbed us into the myth and lost its most bitter perceptivity.

Even with this plot difficulty, and it must be screen writers Robert Benton and David Newman's fault (in all other respects they have superbly written a difficult film story), "Bonnie and Clyde" is a gigantic effort and a most distinguished film. The acting is flawless. Warren Beatty, who also produced the film, is so perfect as Clyde that we come to believe that he and the role are one in the same. Fay Dunaway portrays Bonnie exactly as the part is conceived—a beautiful girl drowning in the boredom and mediocrity of Texas in deep Depression. She is called, she thinks, to the romance of a life that will be an escape. Fay is quite marvelous in her desperation for a meaningful connection—to Clyde; something which he too emotionally needs, but until the end, cannot fully execute. All of the supporting players, too, are excellent.

There are a number of secondary cinematic effects which the film uses to great advantage. The connecting background music (banjo) constantly reminds one of the comparison to be made between fable and reality. What is more, the frantic quality of both music and sequence action invites that comparison, as in Truffaut's "Shoot the Piano Player". It is inconceivable that this film could have been made anywhere, but especially in Hollywood, more than ten years ago. A loosening up of film technique and a complete moral disgust coupled with cynicism toward the fable which generates our com-

For the Drug Addict: The County Can Help

by Mabel G. Stolte
County Home Economist
Every day newspapers and radio carry horror stories of drug addicts. Today the habit of drug abuse leading to addiction is an important, dangerous and potential problem to all Union County families and their children. "A drug addict," according to Michael Bowen, director of the Union County Narcotics Clinic, "is a person who has a physical and mental dependence on drugs and cannot live without daily use of the drugs—generally, heroin. A few days usage is enough to start he habit." The Union County Board of Freeholders and the Sheriff's Office have recognized this problem and formed the Union County Narcotics Commission and Clinic. This clinic is now open and available for free personal consultations. They are well aware, however, that without you, the parents, understanding and assuming your responsibilities, they are helpless.

Hiding your use of pills or tranquilizer drugs from your children is not the answer. You can't hide your feelings from your children. Actions will tell. The Union County Narcotics Commission cautions parents not to try to play detective. There are common physical signs which all parents can easily detect. And if they are present, go for help to your clergy and the Union County Narcotics Clinic. Signs of possibilities of drug abuse include basic physical symptoms such as changes in personality. New friends and falling grades in school, likewise, go along with drug abuse. If you are concerned for your children's health, remember, there are free booklets and personal, confidential consultation services available from the Union County Narcotics Clinic.

Sex is here to stay in Summit, and it has gone public. Currently, the schools are evolving a course of study in family living, encompassing sex education, which will be introduced, with full parental knowledge of curriculum, within a short period of time. Preliminary reports indicate that the course of study will be developed with an interrelationship established among school, home and church. Undoubtedly, such a program is sorely needed, since evidently parents cannot cope with the facts of life and are not in a position to take care of their own private affairs. There are many reasons why adults are afraid to discuss sex in the home. Their own fears and anxieties, based on prejudicial childhood training, or lack of it, prevent easy exchange with their own children, who appear the assume the pose of strangers when sex rears its head. Such an attitude is indeed unfortunate, for sex is really a very private matter, and it should be the function of the home to educate. But, as in many other areas of human activity today, the schools must step in and become in loco parentis. The schools are not to blame, for they are merely responding to the will of the community, which is once again willing to shirk its private responsibilities.

Sex education in the schools is just one phase of the same pattern, which puts a cafeteria in every elementary school, when all children are able to walk to school. It is part of the same pattern that forces every kindergarten teacher in the city to teach children how to tie their shoelaces, button their coats and put on boots. It is part of the same pattern that forces teachers to take children on trips to locations which parents could easily handle as family expeditions. Sex education is here to stay. But it is a crying shame that parents are unwilling to really play out their roles and keep parenthood sacred.

Local Teacher Wins Art Center Prize
Robert Fleischman, art teacher in both Summit Junior and Senior High Schools, has been awarded the Summit Art Center award in graphics in its annual juried winter art show. His entry, which is a study in serigraph, featuring a lobster, received one of the two awards in graphics. It will be on exhibit at the Art Center, Cedar street, through February 25. Mr. Fleischman, who is new to the Summit Schools this year, recently received his master's degree from Montclair State College.

Have you forgotten how many aspirins, cold pills, sleeping pills and/or weight watchers' pills you or other members of your family have consumed since January first? Have you found that you now require more pills to produce the same "cure" this year as last? If your answer is "yes" to any of these questions, perhaps it's time to take another look at your own or friend's family's life. Most have been found to begin using drugs for one of several reasons: (1) their friends use the drugs; (2) just for the kicks—it's a new experience and pleasure; (3) a need to feel a sense of importance—they have arrived and have "grown up;" (4) for release and relief from parental, social or business pressures or a feeling of failure. Unhappy home life also has been found to be a primary cause.

CAR TOPICS for lady pedal pushers

WATCH OUT FOR WANDERITUS
Have you ever followed behind... or ridden with... a driver who seemed to be jockeying his steering wheel back and forth as if he were winding his way through an obstacle course? His car may have been weaving a bit, but his steering wheel was working overtime.

That person was driving a car with Wanderitus, an ailment of the steering system. Its symptoms are: driver fatigue, passenger car-sickness and sometimes, in severe cases, dented fenders.

Wanderitus is the result of looseness in the parts that transmit steering effort to the front wheels. You turn the steering wheel and, before the effects are felt, you must take up the slack caused by looseness in these parts. Then there you are, clutching the steering wheel as if it might run away from you and actually trying to guide the car instead of letting it guide you.

The worst thing about Wanderitus is that gusts of wind, irregularities in the road and other factors cause the front wheels to veer, willy nilly, one way or another within the limits permitted by the looseness of the steering linkage. The driver tries to counteract this tripping business by winding his steering wheel in the other direction. It is like trying to control a ship with a loose rudder.

Like so many car ailments, Wanderitus creeps up on its victims, who subconsciously compensates for the worsening condition by more action at the steering wheel. Finally, he is whipping his wheel from one side to another in only partial control of his car.

To determine for yourself whether or not your car is beginning to suffer the first sneaky stages of Wanderitus, try this simple test:

With your front wheels pointed straight ahead, and your car standing still, move the steering wheel about a quarter turn to the left, then to the right. If the steering wheel moves more than two inches before the front wheels begin to turn, your car's steering system needs some adjustment, or possibly replacement of worn parts.

Don't let Wanderitus creep up on you! Stay alert for its symptoms and consult your mechanic at the very first sign. Then, just to be sure, include a check of your car's steering during its six month physical exam.
