YWCA Raps United Fund Budget Share

In a rare move, the YWCA this week indicated it would appeal its 1969 allocation from the United Campaign's budget review committee directly to the board of trustees. The appeal is set for June 17.

According to a memorandum from the YWCA, in spite of increased facilities, which will be available for at least seven months of next year, the organization's request for an additional $5,651 over the current allocation of $48,000 has not been honored by the budget review committee.

Faced with what has been termed a "sizeable deficit" this year, the YW expects that the 1968 fall program will have to be curtailed.

Approval for a YW capital fund drive in early 1966 was granted by the Campaign board in 1963. At that time, the YW estimated that it would cost an additional $20,000 each year to run the expanded facilities. The YWCA has indicated that it "was assumed logically that the United Campaign was agreeing to assume some responsibility for providing these additional funds."

Furthermore, the YW maintains that at no time "was there any indication . . . that no additional funds would be forthcoming" from the Campaign, once the new facility was in operation.

The YW charges that if the board of trustees of the Campaign refuses to overrule the budget review committee by granting additional operating funds it will be "breaking faith" not only with the YW, but "also with the community, which supported the capital funds drive."

In addition, the YW points out that no other agency contemplating future expansion "will be able to count on any additional support from the United Campaign."

The Campaign board of trustees will hear the appeal on June 17.

Stores to Remain Open Friday Night

Because of the Memorial Day holiday today (Thursday) local stores will be open tomorrow night (Friday) until 9 p.m., instead of today. The city's five local banks and savings institutions will also remain open tomorrow night.

Kent Place To Graduate On Monday

The graduating class at Kent Place School, preceded by the traditional daisy chain, will begin its formal procession on Monday at 5 p.m. to the outdoor area on the campus where commencement ceremonies will be held.

The invocation and benediction will be given by Rev. S. Hughes Garvin of St. Peter's Episcopal Church, Morristown and academic and special awards will be presented by Macdonald Halsey, headmaster. Diplomats will be conferred by Nicholas C. English of Summit, president of the board of trustees.

Highlight of the exercises will be the commencement address to be given by Dr. Edward L. Katzenbach, Jr., chairman of the education board of Raytheon Education Company and former Deputy Assistant Secretary for Defense for education and director of the Commission on Administrative Affairs of the American Council on Education.

Dr. Katzenbach received his A.B. degree in art and archeology from Princeton and was a Teaching Fellow at Princeton from 1947 to 1948. He served with distinction as a Marine Corps officer in World War 2 and in Korea and is now a retired colonel in the Marine Corps.

Since receiving his doctorate in history from Princeton, Dr. Katzenbach has been closely associated with educational and research programs in such universities as Brandeis, Columbia, Harvard and Princeton. He has served in various capacities as lecturer, writer, historian and consultant to research organizations. His articles have been published in "World Politics," "The Reporter," and "American Historical Review."

Seaman Says Working on Ammo Ship is Part of Day's Work

"Breakout is like taking apart one of those Chinese puzzles," said Douglas Buchanan. Looking like a modern day Kit Carson, he leaned against a pallet of bombs and fingered his mustache while taking a break from his work off the coast of Vietnam.

The tall, muscular lad from Summit, works four decks below the main deck of the Navy ammunition ship USS Mauna Loa. "I often think of home and I wish I were there. But, I know I have a job to do," he said as he walked into the darkness of the ship's steel stomach.

The Third Class Gunner's Mate's parents are Dr. and Mrs. Robert W. Buchanan of 30 Joanna Way.

Buchanan's job is to get ammunition out of the hold and on to the main deck for transfer to the customer ship. He is responsible for three men who work under him. Deep in the ship's belly they are surrounded by thousands of tons of explosives. Working in the confined spaces of the

Summit Selected as One of 45 School Systems in Nation for Math Program

Summit has been selected as one of 45 school systems in the country to participate in field implementation of a unified six-year high school mathematics program prepared by the Secondary School Mathematics Curriculum Improvement Study, Dr. Robert G. Salisbury, superintendent of schools, recently reported to the Board of Education.

The original SSCIS project was organized late in 1965 to formulate and test a unified secondary school mathematics program, grades seven through 12, which will take capable students into current collegiate mathematics.

At the same time, the study was also geared toward determining the type of education required by teachers implementing the program.

After two years of pilot work, both objectives have been realized, according to Dr. Salisbury, and continued financial support has been obtained to develop the full six years.

Among the schools which participated in the pilot project were Glen Rock Junior High School, Leonia High School, Hunter College High School and Benjamin Franklin Junior High School at Teaneck.

The current project extends through 1970 for grades seven and eight, and the school system has no commitment to continue the program beyond that date.

The project calls for reconstruction of the entire mathematics curriculum from a global point of view, which eliminate the barriers separating the several branches of mathematics, and unifies the subject through (Continued on Page Two)

Summit to Honor War Dead Today

Services will be held today (Thursday) at the Village Green and St. Teresa's Cemetery on Passaic avenue in recognition of Memorial Day.

Under the auspices of the American Legion, services at the Village Green will be held at 11 a.m., at the City of Summit Memorial.

At St. Teresa's Cemetery, Rev. Louis F. Fimiani and Rev. John P. McGovern of St. Teresa's Church will offer a Concelebrated Mass, starting at 9:30 a.m. Father Fimiani, who is assistant pastor of St. Teresa's and director of the cemetery, will preach a memorial sermon.

Following celebration of the Mass, the Rifle Squad of the Police Department will fire a salute and play taps.

Annual Camp Fund Nears $1,400 Mark

The 20th annual Summit Herald - Family Service Association Camp Fund drive continued to forge ahead slowly this week when new gifts in the amount of $150 pushed the campaign to the $1,363.20 mark as of Tuesday.

At this time last year when the fund was in its fifth week, donations were at $1,820.

Among contributors this week was Beacon Fire Chapter, DAR which donated $10. There was also one anonymous donation of $25. Names of other donors for the week can be found elsewhere in this story.

The Fund operates on a non-profit basis and makes no solicitations nor conducts any mail appeal. There are no administrative expenses and all the money received goes directly to paying camping expenses.

All contributions received are acknowledged weekly in the Herald, unless otherwise specified and immediately turned over to the Family Service Association. The association has sole use of the donations, makes the camp selections and operates the camp program.

Council Lists Summer Meetings of Council

Dates of public meetings of Common Council during June, July, August and September were made public this week by the City Clerk's office.

The dates listed include Wednesday, June 5; Tuesday, June 18; Tuesday, July 16; Tuesday, August 6; Thursday, September 5, and Tuesday, September 17.

All meetings will begin at 8:30 p.m. in the City Hall Council Chambers.

OPEN Sundays 9:00 to 12:30 for your convenience. Brown's Hardware, 480 Springfield Ave., Summit.

Possible CIBA Rezoning May Hold Key to Ward 1 Primary Election Tuesday

With this year's Republican Election Primary now five days away, an unseen, but large looming factor may hold the key to voter preference in Ward 1 on Tuesday, and that is the new Zoning Ordinance, especially that section dealing with the so-called CIBA tract. A public hearing on the controversial measure is scheduled for next Wednesday, the day after the Primary Election. Polls will be open on Tuesday from 7 a.m. until 8 p.m. at the city's 23 voting places. Residents who are not sure where they should vote can call the City Clerk's office at 273-6400.

Incumbent Councilman Edwin S. Votey, seeking a second full term on the city's governing body supports the rezoning of the tract from its current residential use to business, although preferring that the rezoning be postponed until the deed restrictions have expired in the 1970s.

His opponent, Mrs. Naomi Faison, a newcomer to local politics, declares that she does not approve of the proposed rezoning.

And there the sides are drawn up. Residents in the area have actively opposed the measure, especially two recently organized groups, the Passaic Avenue Association and the Association for the Preservation of Residential Summit.

A letter to the editor in this week's Summit Herald, E. B. Elitch, chairman of the Passaic Avenue Association, criticizes Mr. Votey for an alleged lack of interest in area affairs. Mr. Votey, in a letter following Mr. Elitch's, defends his record, and spells out the reasons he is supporting the Zoning Ordinance.

In his campaign, Mr. Votey has "run on his record," claiming that during his three years on Council, the city's governing body has kept pace with the needs of the town, including the drawing up of the new zoning ordinance.

On the other hand, Mrs. Faison has campaigned on a series of priorities which include to continue building Summit from within, additional recreation facilities including a pool, and vocational schooling; better pay for the Police Department, better representation and liaison between the people and Council, as well as an attitude of "independent thinking."

It is known that support for Mr. Votey in the western part of his Ward is not entirely warm and stems from Council's decision to rezone the huge CIBA tract and the Stalemate over Passaic avenue which some area residents blame Council for the current situation.

Mrs. Faison has never published (Continued on Page Two)

Torrential Rains Bring City Floods

Vast sections of the city were flooded yesterday when heavy rains dumped nearly three inches on the area causing traffic tie-ups and flooded basements.

For nearly three hours yesterday, all entrances into Summit were blocked because of flood conditions. Route 24 was especially hit hard, as was lower Springfield avenue.

Basements in the lower parts of the city were also hit hard with flooding reported in the Ashland road, Mountain avenue sections. Heavy rains also brought down tree branches, washed out lawns and damaged shrubbery.

Some teachers on their way to work in the city's school systems were unable to reach their buildings because of flood conditions as well as from defective brakes because of flooded roadways.

Library Sets Lectures On Negro History

Four lectures on Negro history will be given at the Public Library at 8 p.m. on Tuesday in June by Prof. John Bruce Robertson of the Newark College of Arts and Sciences of Rutgers University.

Dr. Robertson is assistant Dean of the College and assistant professor of history whose special academic interest is the Civil War period and Reconstruction. He has taught his course in Negro history for three years and it is one of the most widely attended in the department.

His lectures will be: June 4, "From Africa to Slavery"; June 11, "Reconstruction"; June 18, "The Northern City and the New Deal"; June 25, "The New Emancipation Movement."

His emphasis will be on three aspects: Why things happened to the Negro in the past, the effect these events had upon the present and how changes can be facilitated. Dr. Robertson states that "few people, either Negro or white, really understand this history but, on the contrary, labor under many misapprehensions and consequently cannot easily comprehend the basic problems of today." One of these mistakes he says is the belief that today's Negroes are a larger percentage of the (Continued on Page Two)

NEW MINISTER - Rev. G. Sidney Waddell has been named minister of Wallace Chapel, it was announced this week. He fills the pulpit left vacant by the death early this year of Rev. T. H. Coursey. Rev. Waddell came to Summit from St. James A.M.E. Zion Church of Perth Amboy. Born in Chesnee, S.C., Rev. Waddell was a member of Wallace Chapel in 1942 and preached his first sermon after ordination at the local church in 1957. He is a graduate of the New Bible Institute, Newark.

licly entered into the Passaic avenue controversy and it is not known what position she has taken. In a statement this week Mrs. Faison said that many residents have told her that they desire to keep Summit's "fine image as a residential community" and that "closer liaison with Council is imperative."

Mr. Votey, whose support lays primarily in the southern and eastern section of Ward 1, claims that his contact with area voters has given him the opinion that "Council is doing its utmost to fill the needs of residents" and that "it is impossible to completely satisfy all segments of the population," adding, "that would be quite a feat."

First elected to Council in 1965, Mr. Votey is an executive with Westinghouse and a graduate of Yale. Before his election to Council, he was a member of the Republican City Committee and president of the Canoe Brook Association.

Mrs. Faison, who is president of Naom! Faison, Inc., Realtors, is also a member of the Board of Realtors of Summit, New Providence and Berkeley Heights. She was recently elected president of the Soroptimist Club, a woman's service organization.

In another Primary contest, a rare if not quite one developed this year within the Democratic party in Ward 2 where Jonathan Whit, a newcomer to the political arena, faces Eugene Daly, a perennial candidate for Council, for the seat to be vacated at the end of this year by Councilman Richard L. Corby.

Mr. Plaut has campaigned on the premise that his election would provide "a new voice on Council" and that his presence there would "raise issues no one would ever raise."

Mr. Daly, a former printer with the Summit Herald, has based his quiet campaign on the task of getting on Council "a labor man." He has also campaigned for better recreational facilities for both young and old.

"Almost unheard of during the campaign since he is running unopposed is Horace Kennedy of Valley View avenue, who is running as a Republican candidate from War 2 for the soon-to-be-vacated Corby seat.

Seven Students Share Nursing Scholarships

Seven young women from the Summit-New Providence area will enter careers in nursing thanks to the Adele M. Lynch Nursing Scholarships which were announced today by Mrs. Walter H. Cox, Jr., Chairman of the Scholarship Fund.

The two top award winners are Miss Judith Monaco of 82 Orchard street, a senior at Summit High School, and Miss Barbara Marie Small of 35 Alden road, New Providence, a senior at New Providence High School.

Granted to able girls who desire to enter the nursing profession, the Adele M. Lynch Nursing Scholarships honor the recently retired director of the Visiting Nurse Association of Summit, New Providence and Berkeley Heights.

"Miss Lynch's contributions during 38 years of health nursing in the area and her help to many young people interested in a nursing career have stimulated interested donors to create this scholarship fund," Mrs. Cox explained.

Miss Monaco's grant of $465 renewable annually for five years, was given by the Don C. and Constance W. Mitchell Foundation. She plans to attend Villanova University.

Miss Small's $700 scholarship, renewable annually for two more years, was granted by C. R. Bard, Inc. and will enable her to attend the Mary Hitchcock Memorial Hospital

Summer Camp Plans Announced by YWCA

Plans for the 14th season of the YWCA's day camp for young children were announced this week. Two two-week periods will be offered for boys and girls who will be entering kindergarten in September and for girls five through eight years of age. Dates for the first two-week camping period are July 8 through July 19. The second period will run from July 22 through August 2. Hours will be from 9 a.m. to noon.

Because of the YWCA's current building program, with the construction of new facilities that will include a swimming pool, the day camp will be held at the New Providence Methodist Church, on Springfield Avenue, New Providence. The facilities at the church include a wooded area for camping experiences as well as a large outdoor playground area and ample indoor activity space.

Emphasis for the day camp will be on nature and camping. Camping crafts, nature study and outdoor cooking will be emphasized. Music, arts and crafts, and drama will also be part of the day camp experience. Trips to places of special interest to young children will be provided in both day camp sessions. First and second graders will enjoy dips at the YMCA pool.

Three professional staff persons will be directing the YWCA day camp. Mrs. Alvin Griggs, director of teenage program, will be overall director. Mrs. Paul Guffin, program director, will be in charge of the younger children, while Mrs. John Stoneburner, program director, will oversee the older groups. Trained junior counselors with skills in nature study, music, arts and crafts, drama will be working with the campers.

Further information about day camp may be had by telephoning the YWCA at 273-4242.

Father Sheehan
Is Ordained
To Priesthood

The Most Rev. Thomas A. Boland, Archbishop of Newark, ordained Rev. Donald P. Sheehan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Sheehan, 23 Middle avenue, to the priesthood during ceremonies at Sacred Heart Cathedral, Newark, on Saturday.

Father Sheehan offered his first Solemn Mass at St. Teresa's Church on Sunday at 1:15 p.m. He con-celebrated the Mass with seven other priests. The Very Rev. Harold A. Murray, Director, Bureau of Health and Hospitals, USCC, Washington, D.C., preached the homily. Rev. Louis A. Fimiani, assistant pastor at St. Teresa's, served as Deacon for Father Sheehan during the Mass. Rev. Mr. Richard Carlson, Immaculate Conception Seminary, was Subdeacon.

Mr. Michael Desmond, Mr. Paul Bochicchio, Mr. Robert Slips, Mr. Donald Dalzell and Mrs. Robert Chabak, seminarians at Immaculate Conception Seminary, Darlington, acted as minor ministers.

Con-celebrating the Mass with Father Sheehan were Father Murray, the Rt. Rev. Msgr. John McCarthy, pastor of Holy Spirit Church, the Bronx; Rev. Charles McLaughlin, Presentation of Our Lady Church, Jamaica, N.Y.; Rev. Michael Kelly, Seton Hall Preparatory School; Rev. Joseph Stewart, Immaculate Conception Church, Montclair; Rev. Brian Fagan, Church of the Nativity, Midland Park; and Rev. Charles Brady, Church of the Holy Spirit, Orange.

Father Sheehan attended St. Teresa's grammar school and graduated from Seton Hall Preparatory School. He received his B.A. degree from Seton Hall University and completed his studies for the priesthood at Immaculate Conception Seminary.

Members of St. Teresa's parish attended a reception in honor of Father Sheehan in the parish auditorium on Sunday evening.

Kemper Branch Manager Gets
New Position

Maxwell D. Rudgers of 259 Summit avenue, vice-president of the principal companies of Kemper Insurance Group, and Summit branch manager since 1962, will move to the Chicago home office on June 1 to assume the newly-created post of fire and casualty sales manager. His new responsibilities include supervision of personal and commercial lines sales for the principal Kemper companies. James Wilson, jr., former manager of the companies' Ohio department, will replace Mr. Rudgers as Summit branch manager.

Mr. Rudgers joined the Kemper organization in 1946 as a district manager trainee in Syracuse, New York. He was named executive assistant in 1949, and transferred to Chicago in 1955 to serve as production manager in the business extension department. He moved to San Francisco as branch manager in 1956 and to Summit as branch manager in 1962. He was promoted to vice president in May, 1967.

Orientation Set For Overlook Doctor Staff

Overlook Hospital will be host to the office staffs of its medical staff members at two special luncheon programs next week, to be held on Tuesday, June 4 and Thursday, June 6, from noon to 2 p.m., in the Wallace Medical Education Center. Presenting the hospital's greatly broadened out-patient program will be L. Stephen Hartford, director of ambulatory services. Mrs. Adele Crosett, R.N., director of the Visiting Nurse-Home Care Service of Overlook Hospital will speak on the coordinated medical and nursing plans available under comprehensive home health care.

A representative from Social Security will be available to answer questions on Medicare, and representatives from other hospital departments will conduct workshop tables.

The object of the program is to streamline operations between doctor's offices and the hospital. With Overlook's new wing the hospital has become a center for many new services, such as the Visiting Nurse-Home Care Service, formerly the VNA, which now operates out of its new headquarters at Overlook, offering a program of greatly expanded benefit to homebound patients," Mr. Hartford explained.

"Doctor's secretaries and nurses can be most helpful in acquainting patients with these important plans. Ambulatory and home care programs help to keep costs down for the patient, compared to occupying more costly hospital beds. They also help to preserve hospital beds for the more acutely ill who require constant, skilled nursing care," Mr. Hartford pointed out.

A tour of the hospital's new facilities will follow.

FILM

By Jon Plaut

(This week concludes a two-part article relating art, and more particularly the art of Jan Vermeer, to the cinema.) In the sense that these are genre paintings (within the content of a room, framed by a corner thereof, and painted mainly in one or two colors), they are quite limited. And yet, the result of these limitations of space and color, when combined with the deliberate institution of subtle atmospheric quality and small tonal variation, as well as dramatic but again subtle use of light, makes the search of the content of Vermeer's paintings particularly rewarding. To this point, I have looked at the cinematic quality of Vermeer from the standpoint primarily of style. Now I intend to shift my emphasis to a concern with his presentation of content, although it has been suggested that his art demonstrates that subject matter is perhaps of secondary importance.

I believe, contrary to much of the writing of certain modernists, that one does not change artistic history by promulgating dogma. One creates and thus has an effect on the movement of art. To me, in art all else outside of creation (including criticism) is at best secondary.

Vermeer wrote no credos, joined no movements, championed no causes; he left his paintings. Through a subtle manipulation of content which at first blush is mundane, he ennobles the human spirit and the mystery of individuality that is man's redemption.

There is a great deal of similarity in the content of Vermeer paintings, especially the less than severe close-up canvasses to which I have been referring. In each, a female character is in a state of suspended animation. There is a certain tension in what she is doing (reading at the window, holding a guitar while in conversation with someone off canvas, etc.), but there is a complete absence of melodramatic or religious suspense. This tension has been aptly described as a vague unease, as if something hoped for and uncertain was impending. The subject of each painting is not frozen in a position which is hers by right or design. It is clear that the subject matter is transient and that we have interrupted her in a moment which is only that, a moment. This temporal quality is a cinematic one and is evident in Vermeer's content, as in almost no other painter's work of his time. His use of eye interrupting areas within the painting (tapestries, desks, dark masses, etc.), tends to heighten this cinematic effect by placing the viewer outside of what is taking place on canvas, never to be allowed to empathize with the action or have insight psychologically into what takes place within the young lady's (the subject matter) thoughts, (compare this, for example, with the numerous illustrations of the earlier Dutch genre painters). This distancing upon which Vermeer insists is a product of his choice of subject matter, yes, but also on the style already discussed. Baird has commented that it is Vermeer's light "which falls . . . and . . . gives her vitality, yet reveals little of her personality."

As already indicated, no claim is made that a particular film maker is directly influenced by the works of Vermeer, but surely Michelangelo Antonioni, for example, must be highly receptive to the structure of The Lace-maker and the fact that the viewer is twice removed from the thoughts of this placid and yet deep young woman. Truly, Antonioni's intent in Red Desert is to similarly remove us from Monica Vitti and to use the color, tone, structure and content in the same way Vermeer has used his substantive material and style. Or in further example, in L'Avventura the abstraction of the female lead (again Monica Vitti) is emphasized not only by the grays and bleak tones of the background, as well as by Antonioni's masterful presentation of architecture in the new city, in the great palace, or on the island but also this woman, who is alone and yet groping for contact, is made peculiarly private by Antonioni's removal of the possibility of fully understanding her from the grasp of the viewer.

This cinematic quality of content, a certain illusive-ness of background, time, and the concept of the viewer that he does not know what has happened before or what is to happen next is also found in many of the films of the French new wave. As The Woman in Blue Reading a Letter has no past or future and is purposely removed from a fully perceptive eye of painter and viewer, so Godards characters in Breathless are given no past and the individual events of the film are not framed against a perceived background or routed toward a definable future. Likewise, Charlie, in Truffaut's Shoot-the Piano Player, although he has a past with which the viewer can romanticize and associate, has a certain looseness of movement which is unpredictable (existential) and impenetrable, in terms of the viewer's perception.

This is an extremely difficult point to verbalize. Essentially Vermeer has created paintings that are cinematic, and he has accomplished this by investing them, via style and content, with a temporal quality. There is a conscious separation of the viewer from the subject matter on canvas. Lawrence Gowing has referred to this characteristic as something private, beyond the splendid public surface. The background (past) and foreground (future) cannot be fully filled in. What's more, what we have is only a glimpse from an uncomprehending position of a moment in the passage of time. This, to me, is a cinematic quality, and it is a technique of style and content which some of our best commercial film makers have latched onto as the cornerstone of a certain type of writing in film.

Whether Vermeer's camera obscura influences made him consciously think in a cinematic manner cannot be known. Certainly there is no proof that any particular modern film maker has been influenced by this quality in Vermeer's art. Yet, to me, with the conviction that no influence runs from a dream of the cinema to Vermeer or from Vermeer to modern film auteurs, there is no doubt that Vermeer possesses a peculiarly cinematic quality.

Most of us move through galleries so quickly as to not really see. In one of his letters to his brother Theo, Van Gogh mentioned the difficulty he had with people who looked at his paintings "too fast." A study of the art of Vermeer in detail and with the eye fixed on canvas rather than on the printed word of those who have written about his small body of work leads me to the inescapable conclusion that here was a painter possessed with a vision different than that of his contemporaries. To label his work simply genre art is misleading. There is a quality in all of his work which escapes the rooms in which he confines his subject. That quality, created by use of color, tone, setting, construction, position of subject matter, and the intuitive genius that can never really be defined, results in a special quality which to me is clearly cinematic. Dreaming, sadness, love, these are the moods about which he paints, but not explicitly. He has a reticence and discretion in painting substance, and the over-all effect is cinematic.

Perhaps one final example will suffice to either make the point or illustrate that it never verbally can be made. In Red Desert there is a scene in which Monica Vitti sits in a room of her house. She feels alone, abandoned (her husband is off on business, her son seemingly paralyzed). She is on the verge of complete mental breakdown in the face of a technological world she cannot comprehend or adjust to.

Within a small space, Antonioni creates her world, without really allowing the viewer into it. The walls are off-white. Everything in the room takes the lack of true color from Miss Vitti's despondency and a reflective lack of color in those walls. The light focuses upon her; not in the dramatic way found in the religious and baroque art which preceded Vermeer, but rather in the subdued, subtle style of Vermeer. A tension is created, but absent is real suspense or insight. There, Miss Vitti sits in a moment of time (without past or future) which is only a moment. The style and subject matter fuse to create something in her we cannot fully perceive and, as in the paintings of Vermeer, impress the viewer as cinematic.

Chorale to End Current Season

The Summit Chorale, conducted by Mark Orton, will return to New Providence High School on Wednesday, June 5, for its final concert of the year. The performance, originally scheduled for May 15 will begin at 8:30 p.m. and tickets previously purchased will be honored then.

The program will include Johannes Brahms' "Liebeslieder Waltzes," the contemporary "Stabat Mater" of Daniel Pinkham, and Gian-Carlo Menotti's delightful madrigal fantasy "The Unicorn, the Gorgon, and the Mantleore." The Chorale will be accompanied by full orchestra in the final number.

Tickets for the concert can be obtained from any member or purchased at the door with special rates for students. People interested in membership in the Summit Chorale or desiring further information concerning the coming concert may call Mrs. James Josephans of Berkeley Heights or write Summit Chorale, Box 265, Summit, 07901.

AN OPEN LETTER TO SUMMIT RESIDENTS from NAOMI B. FAISON

I write to you not only as a Candidate for Council in Ward I, but as a Resident—a very concerned Resident. It is this concern for Summit's Future that Prompted my running for Council. These are my concerns: Summit is "Out of Land" for major residential development. Because of this fact, outside Industrial and Commercial pressures are already chipping away at the Foundation of this fine residential community.

You and I as residents came to Summit because Summit represented a fine, well balanced, Residential Community—SOLID. We not only want it maintained this way—we want Summit to continue growing from within. We are at this Crossroad Now.

I do not favor outside pressures urging the rezoning of good residential property for more apartment developments. I do not favor the current proposal of the Ciba rezoning. These can and would change the whole complexion of Summit. It is NOW that we must hold FIRM. Once changed, it is too late to turn back.

We have many challenges to build from within. For example, all young people are not College material. I do favor efforts to provide and support Vocational education to help these young people learn skilled trades. We face losing a large important segment of Future productive citizens. Our young people need better Recreational facilities. I do favor, along with you who have voiced an interest in an outdoor pool that would be supported and paid for by family Membership. I do favor higher pay for our Police. We need more men on the force—we are staffed with 41, when it has been pointed out that 44 to 46 is essential to Summit. And, I favor complete, and careful study of the appropriation of taxpayers money to City agencies that need it most.

I have had the pleasure of meeting many of you. Summit is fortunate to have you as Residents. I look forward to the privilege of serving you on Common Council.

Cordially, Naomi B. Faison

Tuesday's Primary Election

This year's Primary Election contests, especially in Ward 1, have been anything but dramatic. The campaign between Councilman Edwin S. Votey, who is seeking reelection, and Mrs. Naomi Faison for the Republican nomination to Common Council, has been on a high level. There has been no name calling, no burning issues were discussed and there was no heated confrontation between the two candidates.

Mrs. Faison, a charming and intelligent person, has based her campaign on a Five-Point Program of Priority. There is nothing in it with which we would disagree, except for one point where she says "Build and support our Police Department." We feel our Police Department has already been built into a fine force. Support it, however, we will.

As far as Mr. Votey is concerned, he has campaigned on his record and points to Council accomplishments during his term of office. We feel the accomplishments are noteworthy.

However, there is one thing that concerns us and that is Mrs. Faison's lack of experience in civic and municipal affairs. A Realtor, she is a member of the board of directors of the area Board of Realtors and is currently president of the Soroptimist Club, a woman's service group. We feel neither activity is the kind of experience necessary for a Council candidate.

Mr. Votey, on the other hand, before he was elected to Council, was a member of the Republican City Commit-

The New Zoning Ordinance

For many residents in Summit, especially those living in the western section of town, the chief topic of conversation is next Wednesday's hearing on the proposed Zoning Ordinance.

Among the many features of the proposed measure, is conversion of CIBA-owned land from residential to research and office use in the mid-1970s when present deed restrictions run out. The proposal has created a bitter controversy between residents living in the area and City Hall.

Residents in West Summit have long protested this change from residential use, and the protest is not over. CIBA maintains it requires the land rezoned for the normal growth of business and industry expected in a growing concern.

While it is apparent that CIBA has brought much to Summit, Summit has also brought much to CIBA in the form of qualified personnel, without which industry could not operate.

West Summit residents fear for the value of their homes. It would appear that this fear is unfounded, according to real estate experts. But, the fear that they are being surrounded by industrial use is not so un-tee and president of Canoe Brook Civic Association. We consider such activities important to a potential Council candidate, since they serve the important role of apprenticeship.

We would have hoped that after 10 years in Summit, Mrs. Faison would have had more civic experience to her credit before becoming a candidate for Council. Her credentials, we regret to say, lack sufficient civic contribution.

Since this is the case, we would urge Ward 1 voters to cast their ballots for Mr. Votey in the Tuesday Primary Election. He had the experience when he ran in 1965, and has richly added much to it during his term of office.

In Ward 2, where a rare Democratic Primary Contest has taken place between Jonathan Plaut and Eugene Daly, Democrats there have a definite choice.

We would hope party members would cast their vote for Mr. Plaut, a newcomer, who represents a new face in local politics. Mr. Daly, whom we greatly respect, has been a losing Council candidate for many years as either a Republican, independent or Democrat, whom we hope would now step aside to permit youth a fling at trying to bring some strength to the city's minority party.

Horace Kennedy, who is running unopposed for a Ward 2 Council seat in the GOP Primaries, is a newcomer to local politics. We feel he has had sufficient civic contributions to warrant a heavy vote of support from his Ward 1 neighbors.

founded. Besides they are still faced with the unresolved Passaic Avenue mess.

Just as it is incumbent upon CIBA to be a good neighbor, it is also incumbent upon West Summit to recognize the value of having research expansion, as opposed to hundreds of homes, which would sorely tax the already existent city services, such as trash collection, police and fire protection and schools. Personally, we think the proposed rezoning of the tract could have waited a little longer.

But, while all this discussion is going on regarding one section of the city, the real problems of Summit are still not solved. Residents of Glenwood place, Union place, sections of Summit Avenue and Railroad Avenue really don't care about CIBA, West Summit and research use of land. Their problems are very real now and do not need to wait for 1975 to become reality.

While all this talk is going on, it is suggested that the city and residents continue to pay more heed to the problems of today, that of getting down to the nitty-gritty of housing problems, as they now exist, and stop worrying too much about 1975, which is only nine years from 1984. And we all know what Orwell said about that year.

Letters

Editor's Note: Although it has been a Herald policy not to publish letters containing any new issues the week before a Primary Election, we feel the following letter from Brandes Elitch, chairman of the Passaic Avenue Association, is of general importance to the community and is herewith published. In fairness to Edwin S. Votey, Incumbent Councilman from Ward 1, his reply to Mr. Elitch's letter follows.

Challenges Votey

Editor, Summit Herald:
"Only constant vigil by an alert Council can maintain Summit as a choice residential community. Pressure to develop many of our roads into higher speed arteries, to expand our industrial and other non-residential zones must be restricted by Council. Residential zoning ordinances are developed to protect property owners from sudden changes in the character of a neighborhood."

This is part of the platform Mr. Edwin Votey, Councilman Ward 1 stood for when he campaigned three years ago.

What has happened to these promises, Mr. Votey? Do you not have courage to Stand Up and Be an INDEPENDENT THINKER?

You also stated that "Council and other Boards cannot ignore citizens' views to the extent they have in the past." If this was your promise, Mr. Votey, then why did you vote along with the other members of Common Council to have Passaic Avenue widened to a width of 40 feet when hundreds of citizens expressed their objections to such a Major Highway? Was this because you did not have the courage to be an Independent Thinker again?

Yes, the zoning ordinance is certainly a controversial issue, but it is noted that three years ago when you were interested in being elected a Councilman, you stressed to the people who are "actively affected", that you would represent their wishes and would try to convince the other members of Common Council that "such pressures from industrial firms and other non-residential groups must be restricted in order to maintain Summit as a choice residential community." Over the past three years, you seem to have lost contact with the people who worked so hard to see you elected. As a matter of fact, you are now admitting that you "will vote for the ordinance because YOU think it is too broad and important to reject just because one part of it has created local opposition."

It might be interesting for you to know, Mr. Votey, that it is not only the people on the West End of Summit who are against the rezoning of the CIBA tract, but people from ALL over Summit.

It is very apparent, Mr. Votey, that you have been a very weak representative of Ward 1 and it is now time for a Change.

Naomi B. Faison is a woman of the Highest Integrity and the Candidate that all of Summit needs representing them on Common Council. She is aware of the needs and problems here in Summit, as her entire life evolves around Summit. Mrs. Faison is a person who WILL stand up and be heard, and one who will represent the peoples wishes. As many citizens have heard her say, "she is not making any false promises that she cannot carry through," but she has assured all the citizens that her representation on Common Council will be STRONG, and that she will do her utmost to build Summit into one of the finest communities in this area.

It is imperative that, all registered voters in Ward 1 remember to Vote on June 4

Votey Replies

Editor, Summit Herald:
It is my firm belief that each Councilman now serving is, and always has been, anxious to hear the views of each of the citizens of Summit. After carefully weighing these views, and only then, do we make up our minds on how we should proceed in the best interest of the entire community. To me this represents the best possible way that local government officials may proceed. If re-elected I shall continue to do my best to act for the benefit of our community.

In view of the closeness of the June 4 primary, the writer deeply appreciates the opportunity afforded him by The Summit Herald to provide an answer to Mr. Elitch's letter in connection with the Ward 1 Republican Council contest.

Deaths

Mrs. Chell Frantzen

Mrs. Carol A. Frantzen of 69 Woodland Avenue, wife of Chell Frantzen, died on Friday at Overlook Hospital after a long illness. She was 51. Born in New York, Mrs. Frantzen had lived in Summit for the last 28 years. She had been an English teacher at Roosevelt Junior High School, Westfield, since 1961.

Mrs. Frantzen, who was graduated from Montclair State Teachers College in 1939, received a master's degree in development reading from New York University in 1962. For many years Mr. Frantzen operated a photography studio on Beechwood road.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Frantzen is survived by two sons, Robert C. and Douglas J., both at home; a daughter, Mrs. James Towey of Wood Run, Ill., and two sisters, Mrs. Oscar Geiger of Lake Shawnee, and Mrs. Richard Denton of Marlton.

Funeral services were conducted on Monday by Rev. George Jackson, D.D., of the Methodist Church, at Burroughs and Kohn funeral home, 309 Springfield Avenue. Burial was in Cedar Lawn Cemetery, Paterson.

Robert E. Walsh

Robert E. Walsh of 3F Beech Spring drive, died on Monday at home following a short illness.

Born in Summit, Mr. Walsh had resided here all his life. He retired in 1957 as a salesman for the McEwan Paper Co., Whippany, now the Whippany Paper Co. He was a member of St. Teresa's Church.

Mr. Walsh is survived by his wife, Mrs. Julia Bruen Walsh; a son, L. Comm. Robert E., Jr., of Falls Church, Va., now stationed at Saigon with the United States Navy; a daughter, Mrs. F. Dale Dolezal of Glenville, N.Y., a brother, Frank S. Walsh of Sea Girt; a sister, Miss Veronica Walsh of Passaic, and eight grandchildren.

The funeral will be from the Burroughs and Kohn Funeral Home, 309 Springfield Avenue, followed by a Requiem Mass at St. Teresa's Church.

E. K. Olofson

Edwin S. Olofson of 20 Valmont Way died on Sunday at Overlook Hospital. He was 71. Born in Sweden, Mr. Olofson came to this country and Summit in 1927. A carpenter by trade, he retired in 1962. Mr. Olofson was a member of Faith Lutheran Church.

He is survived by a brother, Fritz, of Springfield, and three other brothers and four sisters, all of Sweden.

Funeral services were conducted yesterday by Rev. Rus-

Council Comment

On June 5, at 8:30 p.m. in the Council Chamber, City Hall, a hearing will be held on an amendment revising the Zoning Ordinance of the City of Summit. This revision has been under consideration by the Planning Board and the Council for the last four years and is the net result of many meetings of the Planning Board, the Council, Civic groups and interested property owners. The Planning Board presented a preliminary draft of the amendment to the public in the Senior High School and since that original presentation has held further meetings with the public which resulted in additional changes being made. A public hearing was held by Common Council in December of last year and as a result of the views expressed further changes were made and are incorporated in this amendment.

The members of the Council and the Planning Board are of the opinion that this ordinance is in a form that can be more easily understood by those who use it and by those who are affected by it.

For the public's information, the following are the major changes which are included in the proposed amendment:

1. Home Occupations as defined in the Ordinance are permitted in all residential districts.
2. Appointment of the members of the Zoning Ordinance Board of Adjustment, formerly made by the Mayor are to be made by the Common Council in accordance with the State Statutes.
3. Provision has been made for the appointment of alternates to the Zoning Ordinance Board of Adjustment by the Council as a result of a recent change in the State Statutes.
4. More stringent restrictions have been placed on the use of all types of signs. 5. Two Research and Office Districts have been created with required buffer zones. Research and Office 15 has a minimum lot area requirement of 15 acres, a lot coverage restriction of 25% and a maximum building height of 48 feet. Research and Office 60 has a minimum lot area requirement of 60,000 square feet or approximately 1 acre, a lot coverage restriction of 40% and a maximum building height of 48 feet.

6. Roomers and Boarders are not permitted in the R-43, 25 or 15 zones and the number permitted in other residential zones has been reduced from 3 to 2.

7. Map changes have been made so that zone lines will run in the center of the street and along lot lines to conform to accepted zoning practice.

The Council also wishes to make known at this time that there has been an error in the printing of the map. The present business area in East Summit at the intersection of Morris Avenue, Springfield Avenue and Chapel Street was inadvertently omitted. It is the Council's plan in the very near future to introduce a separate amendment to correct this omission. To correct this on the present amendment would be too costly.

There has been other minor changes that have been made in the wording and in the organization of the ordinance itself. A list of nuisance factors which are prohibited everywhere is included. Definitions have been expanded and clarified. Diagrams and schedules of space regulations pictorially describe the regulations and restrictions more clearly and adequately than words. Provisions for the control of signs and lights formerly included in the Building Code have been consolidated in this one ordinance. A limitation has been placed on the continuation of non-conforming uses. The State Statutes have been quoted in the ordinance for the public's information.

The Council wishes to thank all of the organizations and individuals who have submitted suggestions, criticisms and viewpoints to the Planning Board and the Council. All have been given serious consideration and study by both the Planning Board and the Council and many have been incorporated in the proposed revised ordinance which will be the subject of the hearing on June 5 at 8:30 in the Council Chambers. It would be impossible to thank all of the organizations and individuals personally and the Council would like to take this opportunity to express its appreciation and to thank everyone for their assistance in the preparation of this amendment.

If any individual wishes to obtain a copy of the Zoning amendment under consideration, newspaper reprints are available at the City Clerk's Office.

straight during my campaign, I stated that Summit must be maintained as one of the finest residential communities in the country. I still stand on that platform and firmly believe that Summit has been maintained as this type of community. Rising residential values in Summit fully support this position.

As stated in the recent issue of The Summit Herald, I would prefer that the rezoning of the so-called CIBA Tract be postponed until the deed restrictions have expired. On the other hand, I firmly believe that CIBA is a desirable citizen of the City of Summit and that eventually this tract of land must be rezoned to provide Ciba with reasonable and controlled room for expansion.

In fairness, Mr. Elitch should have pointed out that my opponent has refused to take any position on this question. At least you know where I stand.

Mr. Elitch has indicated that neither I nor the other Councilmen in the city have given any thought whatsoever to the views expressed by his group. This is grossly unfair. If the members of the present Council, including myself, were not concerned with the views of the citizens of this community, we would not have taken so long to proceed with trefoil plaque for his "outstanding service to the Council." Mrs. Huber M. Gemmill, Short Hills, the new president, and John A. Chatterton, Murray Hill, re-elected vice president, also lauded Mr. Batzer for this unflagging interest and untrifling efforts on behalf of Scouting.

this ordinance. There is a very simple answer. We have listened diligently to all of the views expressed by all of the citizens of Summit and the ordinance, over the past few years, and has been revised and reshaped in numerous places, in order to insure that it does the proper job for all of Summit. However, Mr. Elitch's prime concern with the zoning ordinance is with only one phase, the so-called CIBA Tract which the Master Plan of 1963 recommended rezoning. This Master Plan was upheld in Court after being challenged by residents in West Summit. Set backs for this tract have been increased from those originally proposed of 75 feet to a minimum of 125 feet and up to 144 feet depending on the height of the building constructed. In addition, the maximum height of a structure on the property has been reduced from 68 feet to 48 feet. The density permitted has been reduced from 40% to 25%. Detailed restrictions have been placed in the ordinance covering screening and fencing. The ordinance also provides that ingress and egress to the property must be on major thoroughfares as defined on the map in the Master Plan. The major thoroughfares defined on this map do not include Madison Avenue. A new Research and Office zone known as RO-15 has been proposed. This will require 15 acres as a minimum unit. This zone covers both the CIBA and Celanese tracts. The ordinance as now written provides excellent protection for adjacent property owners. It does not, however, prevent CIBA from reasonable expansion in the City of Summit. The proposed ordinance is needed by Summit and will serve the best interests of the entire

the expense of the City of Summit even if it must be four feet wider. It must be kept in mind that if this road is repaired and maintained by Summit our taxes will have to be increased to cover the cost.

Mr. Elitch has referred to the hundreds of residents who have petitioned Common Council in regard to Passaic Avenue. The only petition that we have on record at City Hall is one signed by just over 100 citizens. We have listened to them diligently and then have voted according to what we firmly believe are the best interests of the entire City of Summit. Again, you know where I stand. Where does my opponent stand?

Edwin S. Votey

P.S. Since this letter was written I have learned that my opponent is opposed to the CIBA rezoning. The alternative, under present zoning, would permit the construction of well over 100 homes with the resulting need for schools and overcrowding of the neighborhood. It would permit direct vehicular traffic on to Madison Avenue. This would not be permitted under the proposed ordinance. If she feels that this large number of new homes is better for Summit than rigidly controlled and landscaped office and research use, I must respectfully disagree.

Backs Mrs. Faison

Editor, Summit Herald: Naomi Faison a refreshing, independent personality has entered the Summit political scene. Avowing her intention to maintain contact, the next Councilwoman from Ward 1 proposes to send newsletters to all homes, seek opinions and advice, and schedule personal meetings with interested citizens during her term of office. When was the last time you heard from your Councilman? No, we never have either. How does the common Council reach its decisions? Are there ever dissenting members of Council? Should not dissenting, independent opinions be as fully published as the dictates of the "Establishment"? Naomi sincerely feels so.

She wishes to convey her message directly to you in hopes of inspiring and awakening interest in the affairs of Summit. We all know Summit is a good place to live. Status quo is not enough.

Naomi Faison will endeavor to make Summit grow from within. She needs your help. We have a choice, friends, don't let it slip by. Be sure to be at the polls on June 4 to pull lever 33B electing Naomi Faison.

Backs Votey

Editor, Summit Herald:

We know where he stands. Ed Votey's position is on the record. He favors CIBA rezoning for the benefit of the entire town. His opponent, who is in the real estate business, apparently favors about 125 new homes. School congestion? Traffic congestion? Crowded neighborhood? He favors the improvement of Passaic Avenue at county cost - not by increasing your taxes. His opponent has taken no position.

He has worked hard for all of us in Summit. He should be continued in office.

Fifth Grade Takes Trenton Field Trip

The Fifth grade of Roosevelt School went on a field trip to the New Jersey Museum and visited the site of the reconstructed Old Barracks at Trenton.

The class was accompanied by their teacher, Frank Moyer, and six parents including: Mrs. Mario O'Conor; Mrs. James Marshie; Mrs. James Chester; Mrs. Stephen Bariccia; Mrs. Anthony Fiorilli; and Mrs. Anthony Pannella.

While at the museum the class viewed displays emphasizing the rocks and minerals, animals, harmful and beneficial insects, and flora and fauna found in New Jersey. Of interest to the class were the conservation of natural resources and the balance of nature as represented by the displays.

The visit to the site of the reconstructed Old Barracks gave the class a realistic view of American colonial life. Examples of architecture, furniture, weapons.

Few of us are unaffected by the beauty of a rose. Poets and composers have found in it a gold mine of inspiration. Yes, a rose is a lovely thing that only Providence could have created for the enjoyment of mankind. And yet the rose, with all its beauty, has something in common with, say, a steel plant. Neither could exist without water. Without water the rose would die. And the world would be that much less beautiful. So, too, without water, would the steel plant. And we would be bereft of many useful and beautiful products made of steel. The rose... the steel plant... life itself. Without water and water service there would be nothing.

(Continued from Page Nine) coverage by 4-story buildings now recommended by the Planning Board would permit construction in the center of our residential neighborhood of another CIBA plant as big as the present one, with 1 1/2 times the floor space of Bell Labs at Murray Hill, as can be verified by very simple arithmetic. If this rezoning takes place, about half of West Summit will become industrial!

The only reason which has been publicly advanced for this over-industrialization of our neighborhood is the generally that "a proper balance of industrial and residential ratables reduces taxes". Not very illuminating! Our arithmetic indicates that if several years hence a 10-million-dollar plant has been built in our back yards (over a 2-year period, as the "RO-15" zoning suggests is now being contemplated by CIBA) the average Summit household's taxes could (not would) be reduced by about $3 per month!

The other bit of simple arithmetic that seems to us in West Summit to be pertinent to the re-zoning is this: The 40 acres of additional RO floor space (10 acres of 4-story buildings) that the Planning Board thinks will "balance" our neighborhood could, by the most conservative occupancy standards, house at least 4,500 employees, who would commute to and from work in at least 3,000 automobiles. These morning and evening traffic peaks will jam many Summit streets, make access to the Senior High School and Washington School difficult and dangerous, and ultimately require conversion of several of our presently residential streets into heavy-traffic routes. To compound this outrageous and easily predictable traffic problem still further, the zoning ordinance now being offered for your approval permits CIBA to add a second overdose of new industrial ratables (this time, 6.75 acres of 6-story buildings) in their present LI zone. In more ominous terms, this additional 40 acres of LI floor space represents a franchise to add another 4,500 workers and another 3,000 automobiles to what's there now, and to build an indigestible industrial complex about five times the size of Bell Labs, Murray Hill!

We would appreciate your verification of our arithmetic on the key issues of: 1) How much tax saving can the average Summit household expect in 1975, 1980, and 1985 as a result of CIBA taking advantage of the carte blanche offered them by this proposed ordinance? Specifically, how much of the new CIBA plant will be on the tax rolls on the above dates?

2) How many additional CIBA automobiles will be added to Summit's morning and evening traffic peaks as a result of the CIBA plant expansion which will have occurred by 1975, by 1980, and by 1985? What will the total CIBA automobile traffic be on each of the above dates?

3) What are your plans for handling that volume of morning and evening traffic? What presently residential streets are going to be "industrialized" along with our neighborhood? How many traffic lanes are contemplated for each?

The Association for Preservation of a Residential Summit feels that specific, numerical answers to the questions posed in the previous paragraph are vital to any logical discussion of re-zoning the next week's public hearing. The Association raises these questions in response to two statements made in regard to "Council Comment":

"Prior to the hearing on the Zoning Ordinance which is scheduled for June 5, there will be a 'Comment' devoted to the major changes which will be considered at the hearing", and "The Council would welcome the suggestion by the citizens of future topics".

Opposes Rezoning

Editor, Summit Herald:
The following letter has been sent to Common Council. Publication in the Summit Herald is requested.
Gentlemen:

As a new homeowner and a resident of Kent Place boulevard, I am most emphatically against the proposal to rezone the Ciba tract, or any residential area of West Summit.

I purchased my home less than one year ago. At that time, my family and I considered it to be in a very lovely residential section of this city. If prior to this purchase I had been aware of the situation, you can be sure that I would not have decided to locate here.

We decided to settle in Summit, in preference to other surrounding areas, because we felt that Summit was primarily a residential city, excluding a few concentrated industrial areas. Last September I did not realize I was buying into such an area.

My chief concern is my young family. The traffic on our street is extremely heavy during rush hours now; I hesitate to think of the tie-ups and threat to the children walking to and from school if this proposal is passed.

I feel I am expressing the attitude of the majority of other residents on the boulevard, who like myself, are also family people and who would hate to see the traffic substantially increased, not to mention the devaluation of their residential property.

I sincerely feel that the Council should put more time and consideration into their decision and perhaps place themselves in our position. It seems a small gain to reduce the average tax bill by approximately three dollars per month and cause myself and fellow neighbors the future problems of noisy construction, traffic build-up and devaluation of our properties; therefore transforming a lovely, old residential section of this suburban community into a noisy jammed industrial area.

and chief executive officer of the Summit and Elizabeth Trust Co., and Edwin Halsch, vice president, and head of the P.A.C.E. department, congratulated Mrs. Fairchild on her good fortune at the luncheon which also honored a number of other prize winners. (Rowe Photo)

dent of Summit of the experienced type usually called upon to dispense wisdom in civic emergencies, I feel it incumbent upon me to make a suggestion against the alarming swelling of CIBA.

The Planning Board, in its finite wisdom, has made provision in the Ordinance for CIBA to swell vertically in place, as well as horizontally out of place. Why not encourage the former instead of deploring the latter?

It appears, from the verbiage and specially coined zoning codes (like RO-15) in the new ordinance that CIBA is permitted, along with other permissions, remissions, and dispensations, to swell to the height of six stories on some seven acres of land within their present Light-Industry Zone. This vertical swelling would provide them with an additional 40 acres (1,600,000 square feet) of floor space for pill production - and Summit with an additional 3,000 (three thousand) commuting automobiles each morning and evening. And that might be enough for each of us! If not, let them swell vertically on 14 acres of LI land, or to as many stories as they wish. A good pharmaceutical architect could make CIBA look like Mont St. Michel, almost. Selah, I have suggested. Prospective Ex-Resident (Name withheld on request)

Urges Vision

Editor, Summit Herald:

Last year I supported the increase in the Summit Board of Education's budget by writing a letter to the Summit Herald. I said I was in favor of Summit's keeping up a high standard of education for all the children in the community. I felt this was the time for our community to be far-sighted, though my own children do not benefit because they do not attend public school.

Now I want to go on record as being in favor of having high standards made possible for the coming generation in the cities of New Jersey too. I am willing to be taxed as much as is necessary to bring about needed changes. May, 1968, is the time for a vision of better things to come, and it is up to us to provide the backing. Copies of this letter are being sent to our representatives in the legislature in the hope that they will receive the message, and act.

Mrs. J. L. Murray

Word has been received of the death on May 18 of Mrs. Ella Marion Murray of Toronto, Canada, formerly of Summit, and the mother of Dr. Norman Murray of Summit.

Mrs. Murray, who had lived in Summit from 1907 until 1922 when she moved to Toronto, was active in community affairs especially Central Presbyterian Church, where her late husband, Rev. J. Lovell Murray was an elder.

She is also survived by another son, Bruce Murray of Toronto, and a grandson, John L. Murray of Summit.

H. P. Walker

Horace P. Walker of 7 Elm Place died Monday in Overlook Hospital.

Born in Philadelphia, he had lived here for 40 years. Prior to his retirement in 1956, Mr. Walker had been employed as a laminator by Whitehead and Hoag Co., Upper Montclair, for 50 years.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Rose Rowe Walker; seven sons, Horace C. of Livingston, Richard of Newark, Ralph of Miami, Jack of Verona, Thomas of Somerville, Robert of Summit and Phillip of Springfield; a brother, Raymond of Toms River; a sister, Mrs. Juliette Boylan of Chatham, and 24 grandchildren.

Services were yesterday in the Brough Funeral Home, 535 Springfield avenue.

F. M. Grimshaw

Frederick M. Grimshaw of 16 Edgewood road died Sunday in Overlook Hospital. He was 56.

Born in Paterson, he lived in New York before moving here in 1941. Mr. Grimshaw was an independent investment banker in New York for 45 years.

He was a member of the Municipal Bond Club, the Bond Club and the Bankers Club, all of New York. He leaves a son, Frederick R. of Summit, and a sister, Mrs. Jane M. Groves of Lakewood, Ohio.

Services were held yesterday in the Brough Funeral Home, 535 Springfield avenue.

Mrs. W. L. Vanderhoof
Mrs. Dora H. Vanderhoof, wife of William L. Vanderhoof of 234 Broad street died a week ago Wednesday at home. She was 72.

Born in Newark, Mrs. Vanderhoof had lived most of her life in New Providence. She moved here 10 years ago. She had worked the last 10 years with the Society for the Advancement of Geriatric Endeavor here.

Mrs. Vanderhoof leaves also two daughters, Mrs. Dorothy H. Jacobs of Upper Montclair and Mrs. Daisy May Edwards of North Caldwell; a brother, Lou Hanke of Montclair, five grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. The funeral was Saturday from the Brough Funeral Home, 535 Springfield avenue.

In order to help India solve food production and nutrition problems, the Peace Corps now has 1,133 volunteers working there, the State Department says.

CONGRESSWOMAN DWYER'S

REPORT TO THE PEOPLE

OF THE UNION-ESSEX SUBURBS

TIME TO ACT

The one-sided margin by which the Senate on Thursday, May 23, approved the Safe Streets and Crime Control Bill - the vote was 72 to 4 - demonstrates more convincingly than ever that Congress is fully aware of the growing menace of crime and violence.

Congress is prepared to act determinedly and effectively in response to the swelling demand that we "do something."

That vote, and the sentiment I detect in the House - which will now be called upon either to approve the Senate version of the legislation or send the bill to a House-Senate Conference Committee to resolve the major differences between the two versions - strongly suggest that concern about crime and violence and determination to preserve law and order are no longer partisan considerations. Neither are they ideological. Democrats and Republicans, liberals and conservatives are now united in a commitment to resist lawlessness and to safeguard our people.

A HARD-HITTING ATTACK

In terms of these objectives, there is little doubt that the Safe Streets and Crime Control Bill represents the most wide-ranging and hard-hitting attack on crime of all kinds that the country has seen in recent history. It started out as a program of Federal grants to improve local law enforcement. The House last year adopted amendments emphasizing the control of organized crime and riots and shifting responsibility for the program from the Justice Department to the States. And now the Senate has expanded and toughened the measure with these changes: (1) an increase in grants to $100 million the first year, $300 million the second year, and a goal of a billion dollars annually; (2) the reversal of recent Supreme Court decisions which limited the use of confessions and identification procedures; (3) authority for Federal, State and local law enforcement agencies, under court supervision, to employ wiretapping and electronic surveillance devices; and (4) the prohibition of mail-order sales of hand guns and also the sale of such weapons to minors and to out-of-State residents.

There may be efforts made to temper provisions overturning Supreme Court decisions, to limit wiretapping and to strengthen the gun control features of the bill. But I do not foresee much general opposition to the bill. Neither do I consider it likely that the legislation will be stalled in a conference committee (assuming it gets there in the first place) or vetoed by the President. Public support and Congressional resolution seem too strong.

ON OTHER BATTLEFRONTS

But Congress has also been engaged on other fronts in the battle against crime and violence. We have improved training, management and communications in State and local law enforcement agencies; modernized the rehabilitation of narcotics addicts; made it a crime to obstruct Federal criminal investigations; protected informants, as well as witnesses, in Federal criminal trials; strengthened the administration of Federal courts; authorized more Federal judges; provided criminal penalties for traveling in or using the facilities of interstate commerce to incite a riot; and made it a crime to manufacture or teach the use of firearms or explosives for use in a civil disorder.

Just this week (May 22), we sent to the President a "Truth-in-Lending" bill which cracks down on loan-sharking, a form of vicious extortion which has been a mainstay of organized crime (I was one conferee who fought to keep these provisions in the bill). We have acted to deny Federal employment and benefits to persons convicted of looting and arson. And we have passed legislation, again from my own Banking and Currency Committee, to require financial institutions to install protective devices to cut down the wave of bank robberies.

ported a bill - which I was the first to introduce - to stiffen penalties and strengthen enforcement against illegal use or distribution of LSD and the dangerous drugs; and another committee is actively considering legislation to toughen anti-gambling laws in a further effort to control organized crime.

MORE IS NEEDED

Much more can and should be done, of course - especially by the States, which have primary responsibility for law enforcement. People are rightly fed up with crime and violence. They are sick of the fear and danger and insecurity which have become part and parcel of everyday living. They are demanding action and they will get it.

The action we take will not be repression; the Constitutional rights of all will be protected. The motives behind it will not be a form of "backlash"; indeed, we seek only the protection of fundamental civil rights which belong to all people, whatever their color or economic level. Out of this concern and this action can come the renewal of a sense of domestic security for all Americans, a lessening of fear and tension, and the easing of hostilities which spring from fear. In such an atmosphere, we can concentrate more effectively on the task that belongs to all of us: making ours a truly just society, with equal rights, equal opportunity, and equal respect for all.

Congressional Junketing - Though it doesn't qualify as a crime, the needless, useless, costly overseas tour at public expense should certainly be controlled. And the House on Thursday last week, came closer than usual to doing it. A switch of seven votes would have defeated a resolution to authorize eight members of our Banking and Currency Committee and two staff members to spend $100,000 in a survey of credit practices at U.S. military bases around the world. If similar trips hadn't been taken in the past, if we hadn't just this week passed strong legislation designed to deal with credit abuses, if it weren't necessary to cut Federal spending in other, higher priority areas, and if eight men weren't asked to do the work of three, I might have been reconciled to this trip. As it was, I considered it wholly unjustifiable and voted against it.

The Poor People's Campaign - For entirely different reasons, this is another trip that would better have been cancelled. I do not question the needs of the poor, their motives in seeking help, or their right to petition Congress. I do question their methods. I can see no good coming from a campaign which subjects its people to unnecessary hardship, which threatens to disrupt the Nation's Capital, which promises to engender more ill will than good, Congress - regrettably or otherwise - is not in a mood to react favorably. Ours may be a peculiar institution, but we are more impressed by effective efforts at organization and influence in a single Congressional District than by storming Capitol Hill. We believe in the political process, in representative government, as the key to freedom and responsible change. This, I suggest, should be the Poor People's objective.

Hunger and the Dept of Agriculture. When I joined the other day with 70 of my House colleagues of both parties to stimulate emergency action in solving problems of hunger and malnutrition among an estimated 10 million Americans, I noted that the Agriculture Department had admitted it returned to the Treasury $220 million which Congress authorized and appropriated specifically to feed the hungry.

What this fact showed about the inefficiency and ineffectiveness of the Department has been confirmed in the hearings now underway on our proposal and by the actions of Secretary Freeman himself. Under pressure from our group, from the Poor People's Campaign, and from disclosures that the Department has never made a good faith effort to get food distribution programs into the poorest counties and for the neediest people in cases where local officials wouldn't act, the Secretary has now agreed to initiate such programs in the lowest-income counties and to speed up the process by two months - despite the fact that last year he was insisting he didn't have the authority. In the face of demonstrated need, and with adequate funds available, it is a sad commentary that a responsible Cabinet Officer had to be pressured into doing his job, a job so basic to considerations of decency and humanity that it should have had top priority from the very beginning. If Secretary Freeman would devote the attention to feeding the hungry that he does to subsidizing millionaire farm operators, we'd all be better off.

Ukrainian Exhibit At Mall

The Mall at Short Hills will host a unique exhibit and fashion show of Ukrainian Arts and Crafts on Saturday, in the Short Hills Room.

Ukrainian artistry has aroused interest in this country through its exuberantly colorful and original design. Through centuries of oppressive rule, the Ukrainian people have preserved their independence of creative genius, expressing their hopes and their aspirations through art and literature, thereby preserving their national identity. This freedom of spirit has been cherished through generations, intertwining their craft, their poetry and their cultural tradition into a proud heritage.

Among these one-of-a-kind treasures are colorful hand-decorated ceramics and pottery, vases and jewelry boxes intricately inlaid with beads, metal and wood, handloomed rugs and blankets, embroidered women's and children's wear, throw pillows, as well as tablecloths and dinner napkins, and perhaps best known in America, geometrically and florally hand-decorated Easter eggs in a rainbow of hues and designs.

For the painting enthusiasts there will be a collection of contemporary works in a variety of media and form. Among these are artists of world repute: Jacques Hnizdowsky, whose woodcuts adorn many U.S. Embassies; Arcadia olenska-Petryshyn, whose paintings are in the Evansville Museum of Arts and Sciences, Witte Museum of San Antonio, and the George Peabody Museum in Nashville; Michael Noroz, a Paris Gold Medal winner and the recipient of awards in America; Hutsalluk, widely acclaimed in Europe with paintings in the Paris Museum of Art, as well as many other promising young artists. All have exhibited their works in independent shows, and are included in numerous private collections and various American and European museums.

A fashion show will be held at 2 p.m. of national historic costumes and their influence on modern fashion design, especially in children's wear and elegant day and evening dresses.

Pfaltz Named Attorney for Newark State

State Assemblyman Hugo M. Pfaltz Jr., of 118 Prospect street, has been appointed attorney for the board of trustees of Newark State College, Union, John Kean, president, announced today.

Mr. Pfaltz was elected last November to represent District 9C, Union County, in the New Jersey State Assembly. He is a Republican.

A practicing attorney in Summit, Mr. Pfaltz is a partner in the law firm of Bourne, Schmid, Burke and Noll. He is a member of the American, New Jersey, Union County and Essex County Bar Associations and is currently serving on the Union County Ethics and Grievance Committee.

Mr. Pfaltz is a native of Newark and was graduated from Millburn High School. He holds a B.A. degree from Hamilton College, and L.L.B. degree from Harvard Law School and an L.L.M. degree from the New York University School of Law.

Mr. Pfaltz was a delegate from Union County to the 1966 Constitutional Convention. He has been Republican County Committeeman and chairman of the Republican City Committee.

PARTY PLANNERS - The temptation to pick a bouquet of tulips was almost too much for Mrs. Dorothy Updegraff, special events chairman of the Welcome Wagon Newcomers' Club, during a visit to CIBA this week. She is one of the committee planning the luncheon and tour of CIBA which the Company is giving for Club members on Tuesday, June 4. Mrs. W. F. McBrien, immediate past president of the organization, Mrs. Dena Hogan, public relations manager of CIBA, and Mrs. Bruce Williams, decided to take advantage of the spring day by holding their meeting out of doors. Reservations for the party can be made by calling Mrs. Updegraff at 464-5853. (R. S. Kennedy Photo)

Awards Heaped on Local Students

Students in the Summit schools once more have received prizes and awards for their achievements; this time in the field of mechanical drawing.

Five Summit Junior High School boys were awarded prizes for their entries in the North Jersey Students Craftsman's Fair sponsored by the New Jersey Vocational and Arts Education Association recently. A four-foot model of a cantilever bridge constructed by Geof Garth, Bruce Patterson, and Phil Voetsch won a first prize in its class, and drawings entered by Bob Conger and John Ryden each received honorable mention. Mechanical drawings were entered by Steve Nagy; Kenneth and David Loderick; Tom Tolliver and Bruce Patterson and John Kirchner entered a free hand sketch. All participants received a Certificate of Participation. The boys are ninth grade mechanical drawing students under the direction of Thomas Rugs.

The fair was an exhibit of various projects representing a high degree of craftsmanship, ingenuity, and educational experience, achieved by boys and girls in the industrial arts and vocational-technical education classes in the elementary, junior and senior high schools of New Jersey. The projects were on exhibit in the Garden State Plaza Auditorium, Paramus, from May 10 through May 18.

Annual Horse Show Set for this Weekend

Plans have been completed for the Watchung Riding and Driving Club's annual horse show, to be held this Saturday at Watchung Stables, Glenside, avenue.

This event, which is New Jersey's oldest annual horse show, is in its 42nd year of operation, and attracts exhibitors from the tri-state area of New Jersey, New York, and Pennsylvania. It is a local member of the American Horse Shows Association, which is the governing body of most horse shows.

The show will begin at 9 A.M. and continue throughout the day in two rings and on the outside course. Classes will be offered for hunters, jumpers, pleasure horses, as well as horsemanship classes for the junior exhibitors. The various events will be judged by John Vass of Dalton, Pa., Joseph Vanorio of Pound Ridge, New York, and Mrs. Lane Miller of Mendham, Mrs. Robert Daly of Gladstone, will serve as American Horse Shows Association steward.

The Working Hunter Champion will be awarded the Fritz O. Robitscheck Memorial Challenge Trophy, named for a Summit resident and enthusiastic patron of the stable, who died several years ago.

In the Horsemanship Division, the Juniors will compete for the Josephine B. Emerson Trophy for Horsemanship on the Flat. Miss Emerson, a former instructor at Kent Place School, was an active member of the Riding and Driving Club until her retirement several years ago and still follows its activities closely from her West Hartford, Vermont home.

A new feature this year will be the United States Equestrian Team Class. This event is sponsored by the "Team" and seeks to promote interest in Olympic Type Competition on the part of young riders. Youngsters compete throughout the year in this class, and the rider who, at the end of the year, has earned the most points, is awarded a week of training with the Equestrian Team whose headquarters is at Gladstone, New Jersey.

The Watchung Riding and Driving Club, which sponsors the show, is an organization which seeks to promote interest in riding and horse shows not only on the part of its members but also to the many promising young riders who are enrolled in the Watchung Troops.

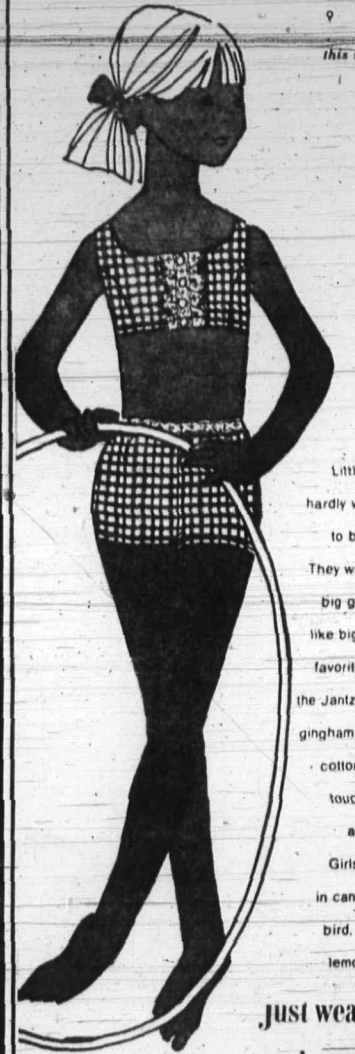

Summit residents competing in the show will be Miss Jane Smyth, Miss Wendi Spicer, Miss Mary Ellen Donahue and Miss Beth Walters.

Fete Raises $3,600 for New Hearing Handicapped School

Parents of the first class at Summit's new Speech School for hearing handicapped, pre-school children contributed $3,600 to the school last week.

Mrs. James Donovan of Maplewood, co-chairman with her husband of a highly successful benefit dinner dance organized by the parents group, presented a check to Mrs. P. D. Gold 3rd, president and director, in a ceremony at the Speech School last Thursday. The money will be used to buy needed equipment.

The benefit dance, which will become an annual event, was held on May 18 at the Fiddler's Elbow Country Club, a former estate in the rolling hills of Bedminster and owned by the Schiavone Construction Company of Secaucus. The company's vice-president, Raymond Donovan of Short Hills, welcomed the more than 300 guests to the club. They had gathered especially to honor Mrs. Gold, founder of the school, and the Junior League of Summit which has financed and sponsored the school as a non-profit community service.

Highlight of the evening was the presentation of a plaque by Mrs. James Donovan, representing the parents of the 16 children now attending the school. It read, "in tribute to May Gold, Founder and director of the Summit Speech School and to the Junior League of Summit, New Jersey from the parents of the First Class, 1967-68."

The dinner was held around the club's swimming pool, sheltered by a gaily colored tent with the overflow of guests being accommodated in several spacious dining rooms. Following the cocktail hour, an elaborate buffet was served.

The first classes at the Speech School opened last fall in a house provided by Overlook Hospital at 34 Upper Overlook road. It is the first independent pre-school center in the state for teaching speech and the understanding of speech to hearing-

Typical British Garden Party Taking Shape at Local Home

The Queen Elizabeth 2 Chapter of the Daughters of the British Empire, State of New Jersey, will hold its tenth annual benefit Garden Party and Fashion Show on Wednesday, June 5 at 2 p.m. for their members and friends at the home of Mrs. John Tennant II, of Hobart Avenue.

"Tea and Symphony" will be the theme of the event for this year.

The garden and grounds of Mrs. Tennant M.B.E., president of the organization, will be transformed into a facsimile of the gardens surrounding Buckingham Palace where the Queen of England holds her garden parties.

The Summit Chapter, which was formed in 1953 took its name from Queen Elizabeth 2. In the event of rain the party will be held indoors, taking on the atmosphere of an English Country home on Hobart Avenue. Bouquets of fresh spring flowers will be supplemented as decorations for the party scene by profusion of bright paper blooms.

The bake table will feature confections made from old English recipes along with selection of popular American favorites.

Fashions from Brooks of Summit will be modeled during the afternoon by members of the Chapter and their daughters.

Proceeds will benefit the Victoria Home for the Aged, Ossining, New York, which all Chapters of the Daughters of the British Empire on the eastern seaboard help to support.

Mrs. Frederick Blacker is chairman of the event. She will be assisted by Mrs. Pierson Tator, Regent of the Queen Elizabeth 2 Chapter as co-chairman; Mrs. Robert Williams, fashion show; Mrs. Tennant, decorations; bake table, Mrs. G. L. Matheson, Mrs. Thomas Livingston, Mrs. Hudson Meyer and Miss Violet E. Carter, publicity. ### Local Student Tells of Her Thai "Sister" Here on AFS Program Vilavann Fantasiri is my new American Field Service sister from Bangkok, Thailand. She has been living with us for over a month now. I would like to tell about some of our early experiences and explain briefly the Thai language and school system.

The Thai alphabet has forty-four letters, each of which has a different pitch. Therefore, the Thai people can sing a song just by looking at the letters. "Cun-su-et-mai" (as it sounds when pronounced in English), means "you are beautiful," however "cun su et-mai" with different pitches can mean "you are horrible!" Val is really helping me with Thai. The first words she taught me were "ki ki ki ki." Prepared to tackle all of Thailand with this phrase, I suddenly remembered that I had no idea what it meant; Val soon told me that it meant "one who sells chicken eggs." We are still fighting about its usefulness.

The Thai school system differs greatly from the American system. Students take fifteen subjects, a number of which meet every day, and others of which meet only two or three times a week. Both Thai and English are studied. Therefore, everyone in Val's family can write in English. After ten years, some students finish school and start to work, while those preparing for college continue for an additional two years. These students will then take college exams. A specified number of points will grant Thai students admission to all public colleges.

Val's English is really very good. But perhaps one of the funniest incidents involving her pronunciation occurred while we were sitting in the guidance office, filling out admission forms. We had strug-

John Ryder Named New G.O. Head

Thursday, April 18 marked the end of slogans, campaign speeches, and jangled nerves for eight very able people. Of the eight, four would become 1968-1969 officers for the General Organization. The results were John Ryder, President; Jim McCullough, Vice President; JoAnn Caporaso, Secretary; and Linda Poli, Treasurer.

What many people don't know is that many hours of preparation and hard work are put in by each candidate. To become eligible for the prigled through the names of her family members (she has six brothers and sisters) when we came to diseases. We went through them one by one, with Val making such comments as "puffy cheeks," and "my mother said I should be very wery glad I had it."

Having Val as my AFS sister has been a great experience so far, and I think we both have already begun to benefit from the knowledge and understanding which we have learned from each other.

maries, candidates must have the backing of three of their teachers and 100 students. Going into this year's primaries, were John Ryder, Ted Tolles, and Mark Henning for President. Because there were only two candidates for each of the other offices, they went right on to the finals without a primary election. April 11 the primary election assembly was held in which the Presidential and Vice-Presidential candidates made the speeches that noted what they stood for in student government.

On April 18 the students cast their votes for the candidates of their choice and the students to represent them next year, on two voting machines rented from the Union County Board of Elections. The elections were held early this year because the voting machines were going to be used in the Presidential Primaries. Going into the final elections were John Ryder and Ted Tolles for president, JoAnn Caporaso and Barbara Mellusi for Secretary, and Linda Poli and JoAnn Raschella for Treasurer.

A note of thanks must go to Tom Reid, Election Committee Chairman, and all the candidates that ran. These elections mark not only school spirit, but the willingness of future voters to cast their vote for someone they believe in.

Orchestra Participate In Festival

On March 29, the Summit High School orchestra participated in the Fifth Annual New Jersey High School Orchestra Festival. The event was sponsored by the department of music at Glassboro State College and by the New Jersey Music Educators Association. Nine other high school orchestras from across the state performed at the festival, which was held at Glassboro State. These other musical groups came from Pennsauken, Union, Montclair, Bergenfield, Ridgewood, Ridgewood, Teaneck, Princeton, Ewing, and Glassboro. The smallest group (25 members) came from Pennsauken, the largest from Bergenfield (100 members).

Summit's orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Daniel Kautzman, performed "Trumpet Tune and Air" by Purcell, "Divertimento (K. 136): Andante and Presto" by Mozart, "Concerto Grosso" by Bloch, and "La Bamba de Veracruz" by Tucci. Two notable solos included those of Tom Wells on trumpet in "Trumpet Tune" and Sandy Cohen's piano solo in "Concerto Grosso."

The purpose of the Glassboro festival is twofold. One, it provides top New Jersey high school orchestras the opportunity to perform under the observation of a trained music judge. (This year's adjudicator was Mr. Thomas Michalak, the assistant conductor of the Chamber Symphony of Philadelphia.) Two, the festival enables the musicians to hear how well orchestras other than their's perform.

This year marked Summit's third at the festival. Although Mr. Michalak's comments on the orchestra's performance have not yet been received by Mr. Kautzman, the members of the group are aware that they played well; several directors of other orchestras at the festival complimented Summit's musicianship.

TARS Taking Their Politics Seriously

The Summit Teen Age Republicans are a group of teenagers interested in politics and having a good time. The TARS, as we are called, were started several years ago and have grown into quite a large group. We are primarily politically-oriented, yet we also sponsor social activities.

In last Fall's elections, the TARS helped with the campaigning in numerous ways. We carried signs in train stations throughout the county, distributed tons of literature, rang doorbells, helped with the telephoning of registered voters before election day, and even participated in a motorcade. As a result of our work, we had the satisfaction of knowing that we had helped further the democratic process in our state, and though we couldn't vote, we had done something to get our candidates elected. In return for our efforts we were invited to numerous pre-election and election day rallies and parties.

The TARS are not exclusively Republican. We have members of all standings-from conservatives and independents to radicals. Anyone between the ages of 13 and 20 is welcome to join. Right now the membership is over 150. In our monthly meetings, club business is conducted and reports on the political scene are given. At the present time, we are having reports on the various presidential candidates—both Democrats and Republicans.

In addition to parties after regular meetings, the TARS hold an annual beach party on June 15.

The TARS are organized on the county, state, and national levels. Bill Horn, a Summit High student is the County Chairman for the Union County TARS.

If you have any questions concerning the Teen Age Republicans or are interested in joining, please contact Stephanie Owen, Summit Chairman (277-6977), Bill Horn, County Chairman (273-5552), or Carol Reichstetter, Membership Chairman (277-1286).

Monkey Adds New Shine to Science Unit

There has been a new addition to the already full managerie in the Biology Department. It is Jason, a white-faced Capuchin monkey.

Owned by Libby Hamlin and Mary Schneider, Jason has been added for motivated behavior experiments in Advanced Placement Biology. He has already learned to feed himself with a spoon, press the lever on a gumball machine, and will soon learn to put the penny in (Since gym-chewing is not allowed in school, grapes are substituted for the gumballs). Presently, a response-reward mechanism is being built to teach Jason to distinguish colors and shapes.

Caring for the monkey's physical needs is not difficult, although he requires much attention. For he hates to be left alone and clings to an arm when he is frightened. His dislike for his cage causes psychosomatic symptoms (a monkey develops a cold! Being a delicate, little creature, Jason is frightened by loud noises and sudden movements. Like the hard-working students, Jason prefers weekends to school days, for then he too goes home with "mama." Needless to say the monkey is fast becoming a favorite among the students in A. P. Biology.

***** On April 18, the elections for the General Organization were held. The outcome was rather successful and the majority ruled that John Ryder would become President; Jim McCullough Vice-President; Joanne Caporaso, Secretary; and Linda Poli treasurer. At the same time elections were held for Student Council representatives for next year's term.

***** Elections have been pretty popular as was displayed by the fact that on April 30, sophomore class elections were held. The results of these elections were as follows: President Tom Olcott; Vice-President Dan Flanagan; Secretary Treasurer Sue Stierle.

***** On May 29 the Senior banquet will be held for the graduating class of 1968. Tickets are on sale only in Senior homerooms for what will probably be an unsurpassable event. During the course of the banquet the Senior prophecy will be read and yearbooks will be distributed. Now begins the time of the year when underclassmen look on, wishing they were seniors.

***** Miss Stephanie Southworth, who is an exchange teacher from Burgh Heath, England, called a meeting on May 8, for all students who would be interested in arranging a rousing match of "cricket", which is the national sport of England. A very avid player herself, Miss Southworth and her team of about twenty students decided to hold the match around tea time on May 13.

***** In an assembly on May 3, "Guise and Disguise" presented the one-act play "Apollo of Bellac". The plot dealt with a young girl who worked her way up in a patent office by commending the executives on their good looks. The play was directed by Mr. Harvey Selsby and was greatly enjoyed by the audience.

***** In April a third AFS student joined the Summit High student body. The new arrival, Vilavann Fantasiri, is an eighteen year old girl from Bangkok, Thailand. She is presently staying with Linda Shinabarger and her family. She will be returning to Thailand this summer.

Deck Hockey Becoming "In" Game

Deck hockey was first started in Summit High School around 1956, when Mr. Joseph Coleman, then a gym teacher at Summit, introduced the game. He had played it in Trenton State College and apparently liked it enough to bring it here.

The game is played much like ice hockey except that it takes place on the gym floor and a ring of hard rubber tubing is used as a puck. There are three offensive players, two defensive players, and a goalie on each team. The goalie uses a girl's field hockey stick and wears a mask, while the other players use straight, wooden dowels. The players move and shoot the puck by placing the stick in the middle of the ring and sliding it across the floor. As in ice hockey, players are given penalties, and rules such as icing and high sticking are in effect.

Deck hockey is a well liked sport in Summit High because of the great amount of action and contact. This week, the finals for the after school leagues will be played. There are two leagues: the A league for juniors and seniors, and the B league for sophomores. The Black Hawks are currently in first place in the A league, having been undefeated in all three years of deck hockey play. The Kings lead the B league.

Deck hockey was played in regular gym classes for several weeks, but after school games are where the best teams met. The game is rarely heard of in other schools and is probably played exclusively in Summit.

McCarthy Supporters Form Group

On March 19, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Morton Gordon of 10 Rowan Road, a Summit Youth for McCarthy group was formed. The membership consisted of ten students from the junior and senior classes of Summit High School.

Under the guidance of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Schneider of 75 Norward Avenue, the group has increased in size to almost five times the original number and now includes students from all three classes in the high school as well as several from the junior high.

During the past one and a half months the McCarthy volunteers have been engaged in many different projects that range from doing clerical work at the McCarthy headquarters on Springfield Avenue (recently moved to 76 Summit Avenue).

Leadership Awards Go To 137 at YM Program

The YMCA presented leadership awards to 137 youth and adult volunteers at a leaders' recognition reception given by the board of directors Tuesday, May 21.

Seventy-three men were honored for their work with youth programs, and 64 men, women, and young people were cited for their service in the physical education and aquatic programs of the Y during the 1967-68 season. Certificates of appreciation and YMCA mementos were presented by Dr.

Alexander D. Crosett, Jr., YMCA president.

Dr. Robert Buchanan of Summit, chairman of the 1967 United Campaign, was presented with a special YMCA service emblem award in recognition of his outstanding leadership in last year's fund raising effort. The YMCA is one of the 14 cooperating organizations of the United Campaign.

Winner of the fifth annual John P. Bennett Junior Leadership trophy was Jim Creede of Springfield who has been active as a volunteer at the YMCA for four years, assisting with the diving team, swim team, diving class and serving as a lifesaving class aide. A senior at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Creede also was a star swimmer on the local Y's team for four years. During the 1967-68 season he won the N.J. AAU Jr. Men's Diving Championship, placed second in the Central Atlantic Area YMCA's Diving Championships, and fifth in the YMCA National Diving Championship meet. Creede is also active in the Westminster Fellowship of First Presbyterian Church, Springfield, and in the high school band and orchestra. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas B. Creede.

Morristown School Give Sports Awards

Five local students at the Morristown School were honored at the fourth annual sports award banquet held at the Governor Morris Inn recently. Featured speaker at the dinner was Ralph Terry, former New York Yankee pitching star, and present golfer at the Roxite Golf Club.

Letter certificates were awarded to Kenneth Taylor, of Summit, football and baseball; Warren Spence of Murray Hill, manager, football; Stewart Holmes of Summit, soccer; Douglas MacLeod of Summit, hockey and tennis, and Kim Knotts, of Summit, wrestling.

Hole-in-One

John Denman, 208 Woodland avenue, scored a hole-in-one on the fourth hole at the Summit Municipal Golf Course last week.

Marine Division Holds Fete Here

The New York Chapter of the Third Marine Division Association, Inc., held a buffet dance at the Hotel-Suburban last Friday night.

Principal speaker at the dance was Charles R. Powers, who was awarded the Silver Star for gallantry on Bougainville, during World War 2.

Presiding at the dance was Joseph J. Lenhart, while president of the association is Harold Melloy. Contributions from the event went to the Major General Bruno A. Hochmuth Scholarship Fund.

Overlook Nurses Attend Conference

Mrs. Tina Staib and Miss Margaretha Karam, staff nurses; and Miss Grace Green, exchange visitor-nurse from Australia, all of Overlook Hospital, attended the meeting Wednesday, May 22, sponsored by the New Jersey League for Nursing, Council on Psychiatric and Mental Health-Nursing, which was held at New Jersey State Hospital, Greystone Park.

YM Urges Immediate Day Camp Registration

Boys and girls interested in the Summit Area YMCA's summer day camps are urged to register while there are still openings in all periods.

Camp Cannundus accommodates 80 boys entering grades 2-7 and Triangle Club accommodates 40 girls entering grades 3-6, per two week period. Camp Cannundus operates from July 1 through August 23; Triangle Club from July 1 through August 9. Second grade boys have a half-day program and may register on a weekly basis for Camp Cannundus.

Camps meet Monday through Friday from 9:00 to 3:30 p.m. The program includes instructional and recreational swimming, crafts, field trips, cookouts, overnight camps, skill training, sports, hiking, exploring and nature study. The YMCA pool and gym are home base for the camps with a nearby campsite used for all outdoor activities.

Campers are divided into groups according to grade level and school area, with experienced leadership provided by college student counselors. Camp Cannundus is directed by Peter Yamotta, head librarian of Watchung Hills Regional High School and a member of the YMCA physical education staff since 1963. Assistant director is William Liebiez, a senior at Midwestern University who has been associated with the Y camp for five years. Miss Marilyn Hasselbauer, a teacher at Lincoln School, will direct Triangle Club. Brochures and further information are available at the Y, 273-3330.

Chatham Boro's Defending Champs Top Seeded in NJSIAA Tennis

Chatham Boro High's defending Group 1-2 State tennis champions, as well as three other defending titlists, are top-seeded in the 22nd annual New Jersey State Interscholastic Athletic Association Tournament which gets under way today at Princeton University's courts.

A record 73 schools, including three from the Summit-Chatham Area, will compete in four divisions of the tournament.

Chatham Boro, with a 13-2 record this season, is accorded an excellent chance of carrying off its second consecutive State title. Coach Dave Norris' Eskies have lost only to Millburn and Summit this season, both Group 3 schools.

Millburn is top-seeded and the defending Group 3 champion, while Summit is the No. 6 seeded team in the Group 3 field. Millburn downed Summit, 3-0, in last year's championship match.

Carrying Chatham Boro's hopes for a second state crown are Co-Captain John Lerch, who has a 12-3 record this season, and Ken Stocker (13-2) in singles and Co-Captain Lex Burton and Steve Jonsson in doubles. Burton and Jonsson also had a 13-2 record this season.

LAKERS THREAT

Mountain Lakes, seeded No. 2, is rated the top threat to Chatham Boro. Other seeded entries among the 16 teams in Groups 1-2 are Hasbrouck Heights (3), West Milford (4), Rutherford (5), Highland Park (6), Tenafly (7) and Rumson-Fair Haven (8).

Chatham Boro was paired with Bound Brook in the opening round, with the winner to meet the victor in a match between Rumson-Fair Haven and Northern Highlands.

Summit, which has made a surprisingly strong showing the past two years in finishing second and fourth, hopes to make another strong bid for the title. Its path to the crown is blocked by undefeated Millburn.

Summit, which has a 12-3 record this season, is counting on Steve Nycum and George Krieger in singles, with Jeff Kraft and Coleman Parker the Hilltoppers' top doubles combination. Nycum finished the season with six consecutive victories, while Krieger had a 13-2 record this season.

West Orange is seeded behind Millburn in Group 3, followed by Metuchen, Demarest, Hillside, Summit, Moorestown and Collingswood. There are 17 teams entered in the Group 3 division. Summit is paired with Audubon High of South Jersey in the opening round and will face the winner of a match between Metuchen and Woodbury in the second round if it wins its opening match.

REGIONAL ENTERED

Governor Livingston Regional High of Berkeley Heights is among 34 entries in the Group 4 tournament. The Highlanders had their most successful season this spring, but don't figure to go too far in the tough tournament field.

Pioneers, Gladiators Divide in Two Games

New Providence High and Chatham Township High both won and lost in games played last week. New Providence's Pioneers downed Chatham Township's Gladiators, 5-1, but dropped its season final to Cedar Grove, 9-1, in a Suburban Conference game. Chatham Township bounced back to defeat Kenilworth Regional High, 5-2, in a Mountain Valley Conference game at Kenilworth.

As a result of the contests, New Providence closed its season with an 8-10 record overall and was 5-9 in the Suburban Conference. The Pioneers fell to sixth place in the conference after losing their fourth straight conference game.

Chatham Township boosted its overall record to 6-13 with the upset win over Kenilworth, which saw its record dip to 10-10-1. The Gladiators erupted for four runs in the final inning to surprise the favored Bears.

SCHERER WINS

Bob Scherer and Walt Ortiz combined to limit Chatham Township to four hits. Scherer was the winning pitcher as the Pioneers belted out 11 hits, including three by sophomore Greg Freaney, who singled three times and batted in two runs. John and Bill Copacino had two hits apiece for New Providence.

New Providence took a 1-0 lead in the first inning and erupted for three runs in the second inning for a 4-0 edge. The Gladiators cut the lead to Governor Livingston was matched with Trenton in one of two preliminary round matches which will reduce the field to 32 teams.

The winner of the Governor Livingston-Trenton match is paired with second-seeded Cranford High in the opening round. Teaneck, which beat Ridgewood for the title a year ago, is top seeded in the Group 4 tournament. Ridgewood is seeded third, followed by Millville, Bloomfield, Princeton, Wayne Valley and Ramapo Regional.

Regional, Oratory Nines Bow

The baseball teams of Governor Livingston Regional High of Berkeley Heights and Oratory School of Summit continued to have trouble winning games last week.

The Highlanders bowed to Springfield Regional, 5-3, in a Watching Conference game at Springfield, while Oratory School was limited to one hit in bowing to powerful Bayley-Ellard Regional High, 14-0, in Summit.

Springfield managed only two hits off Joe Dowling of Governor Livingston, but collected them both in the third inning when the Bulldogs exploded for all of their runs.

Springfield combined two singles with a walk, three errors and an infield out to score their runs. Steve Jupa's single scored two runs and the other three scored on two errors and an infield out.

The Highlanders had taken 2-0 lead in the first inning and outthrew Springfield 6-2, but errors proved costly to Governor Livingston as it dropped its ninth game in 11 Watching Conference outings. The Highlanders are in seventh place in the conference, one-half game in front of Hillside.

Bayley-Ellard scored six runs in the first inning and coasted to its 16th victory in 18 games this season. The Morris County nine added four more runs in the third inning to lead 10-0.

Two Bayley-Ellard hurlers limited Oratory to a six-inning Texas League single by Kevin Ahern.

Area Athletes To Be Honored By Seton Hall

Twelve Summit area residents will be the recipients of varsity, junior varsity, and freshman athletic letters on May 29 when Seton Hall Preparatory School sponsors its all-sports Athletic Banquet at the Military Park Hotel in Newark. Guest of Honor will be Mel Stottlemyre, pitcher for the New York Yankees.

The award winners from Summit are: Frank Ruzicka, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ruzicka, of 1 Druid Hill road, varsity football and baseball; John and Mark Kenny, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kenny, of 43 Clark street, varsity rifle and junior varsity swimming, respectively; Roger DiRuggiero, son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor DiRuggiero, of 144 Kent Place boulevard, varsity rifle; Albert Odell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Odell, of 27 Ashland road, junior varsity basketball; David Riggie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Riggie, of 52 Beverly road, varsity rifle; John Danman, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Danman, of 208 Woodland avenue, varsity football, and James Hartman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hartman, of 3 West End Avenue, freshman basketball.

Berkeley Heights: Thomas Battaglia, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Battaglia, of 76 Sutton drive, varsity swimming; Stephen Hagan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hagan, of 319 River Bend road, varsity tennis, and Kirk Sawczuk, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Sawczuk, of 143 Timber drive, junior varsity baseball.

Murray Hill: Raymond Donohue, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Donohue, of 272 Mountain avenue, junior varsity baseball.

Area Boy Wins Title In Judo

William Shaw, 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Shaw, 41 Brook Hollow lane, Murray Hill, took first place in the third annual New Jersey Invitational Judo Tournament in Westwood.

Shaw, a freshman at New Providence High, holds a purple belt in judo.

Andy Martzloff of Colt road, Summit, came in third in the 13-year-old category. Doug McGregor of Prospect street, Summit, placed 4th in the 10-year-old division.

All three boys study Judo at the International Institute of Judo and Karate, 3 Bank street, Summit.

Summit Frosh Beat Chatham

The Summit High freshman baseball team closed its season last week, splitting two games. The Hilltoppers dropped a 5-4 decision to Verona, with two errors in the bottom of the seventh inning giving Verona the tying and winning runs.

Mike Mahoney and Bob Froelich each had two hits for Summit. Jerry Gast was charged with the loss, his first after four wins.

Summit closed its season with an easy 10-2 victory over Chatham. Pat Luciano notched his third win without a loss, limiting Chatham to four hits and walking none.

Luciano's pitching was backed up by a 12-hit attack, led by Keith Parker's three singles. Art Ochs, Wayne Forrest, and Bob Froelich each had two safeties, with both Ochs' hits being doubles.

Summit also racked up 14 stolen bases. The split closed Summit's season with a record of eight wins and four losses.

Sperco Nine Leading Summit Softball Loop

SUMMIT-Sperco picked up two more wins last week to take over sole possession of first place in the Summit Men's Softball League, which is sponsored by the Board of Recreation. Bob Davenport, who rejoined the Sperco Club, pitched both victories, including a win over previously unbeaten Balish, 6-2.

Wehrle had given Balish a 1-0 lead by driving home Reinhart who had singled. Sperco picked up five runs, all unearned, in the fifth inning.

Singles by Ryan and Weaver, sandwiched between two outs, turned into runs when the Balish infielders had difficulty in coming up with the ball. Patrick allowed 8 hits in a losing cause while Davenport was touched for seven.

In a second contest, Sperco dropped Beacon Hill, 8-4. A three-run rally in the third inning off four walks and a single by Ryan gave Sperco a 3-1 lead. It was followed by another three-run outburst in the fourth, including safeties by Britt, Weaver, Herring and Ryan. Ruhnke and Bender stroked key hits in the sixth inning for Beacon Hill, which mustered two runs in that frame.

OVERTIME WIN

In a 4-3 overtime win,

Balish scored in the eighth inning on Grisby's single with two outs to drive in Wehrle who earlier had reached Pete Kivlen Jr., of Charlins for a base hit. Howell also singled during the winning rally.

A walk to Wehrle, and hits by Howell, Reinhart and DiPiano had gotten Balish and its pitcher, Patrick, off to a 2-0 lead. Charlins countered with two runs in the third on hits by Lawrence and Allocco. Both teams scored single tallies in the fourth.

Charlines, which had suffered two one-run losses in early-season play, finally managed their first win in hammering Beacon Hill, 17-2. Wildness by Binder, the Beacon Hill twirler, allowed the first five batters to reach base on walks in the first inning. This contributed to a 10-run explosion.

Bratz, Binder and Schroeder banged out two hits apiece for Beacon Hill, with Ken Dunnder connecting for a homer. Pete Kivlen Sr., pitched the win for Charlins, supported by heavy hitting by Christianson, Lawrence and Grims.

Summit Nine Bows To Chatham to End Year

The Summit High baseball team concluded a dismal season on a wet and rainy day, as Chatham Boro slipped past the hapless Hilltoppers 1-0. Earlier in the week Summit had one last breath of victory as they downed West Orange 5-2, but the loss to Chatham meant a last place finish for Summit in the Suburban Conference.

The loss to Chatham was typical of Summit's play throughout the year. Steve Schroeder turned in another strong pitching performance, striking out 9, walking none, and giving up only five hits, but Chatham turned two of these into a run in the sixth. Meanwhile the Hilltoppers failed to come up with a run, and another one-run loss went into the record books.

Summit came closest to scoring when Kent Raley and Bruce Connors singled, and with two out, Tom Oleott beat the throw to first on an infield dribbler. But Raley took too big a turn at third, and was thrown out by the first baseman trying to get back.

Summit's 5-2 win over West Orange meant a 7-12 season record. West Orange went ahead 2-0 in the third, but Orange pitcher Ed Eskesen grew visibly tired as the game wore on, and Summit picked up three runs in the fourth to take the decisive lead.

Steve Schroeder connected with a two-out single, and was followed by a single by Chuck Levanchy. Kent Raley then hit safely, and as he stole second, a throwing error by the catcher allowed him to score the leading run.

Summit added another in the fifth when Tom Specht reached first as he forced Tom Oleott at second. Specht stole second, and was singled to third by Chris Hart. Brayton Smith flied to left to score Specht. Summit's final run came as Oleott's walk was followed by singles by Specht and Smith.

Specht struck out nine and gave up seven hits to get the win. Summit's 7-12 record was disappointing because the team started out as if it would better the records of both the football and basketball teams, neither of which were particularly good. The conference coaches picked Summit for fourth place before the season began, and things started well enough, as Summit jumped to a 3-1 record.

Then the Hilltopper offense bogged down, as they lost five in a row before beating Cedar Grove and New Providence. As soon as Summit had leveled its season record at 500, however, they went into another tailspin, and won only one game after that.

Summit's young pitching staff turned in some fine performances, but only rarely did Summit run up any large sum of runs. Of the twelve Summit losses, half were by one run.

And the Hilltoppers finished in the Suburban Conference cellar, an accomplishment not even their football and basketball compatriots managed.

Before the tears well up in your eyes, Summit fans, look forward to next year. The bulk of the team will be returning, including all of the pitching staff with the exception of Tom Specht. Summit may still have the last laugh.

HILLTOPPER HIGHLIGHTS: Joe Covoney led Summit in batting with a .339 average. Rich Regan, injured for the last third of the season, finished at .314. Brayton Smith hit .286 and scored 14 times. Covoney and Steve Schroeder shared the RBI lead with 10 each. Trackman Dave Heitkamp set a new school record in the 880 at the state trials last Saturday, with a time of 1:57.6. He and high jumper Juris Klavins will be going on to the finals. Summit finished seventh in the North Jersey Section II Group III. A 5-0 tennis win over Morris Hills sent Summit toward the states next Thursday with a 13-3 record and two raindates to make up. Summit is seeded sixth.

Jayvee Nine Splits Last Two Games

The Summit High junior varsity baseball team split its last two games to close the season with an 8-11 record. Summit beat West Orange 6-4 in the seventh inning, but a late-inning rally against Chatham fell short, and the Hilltoppers lost 5-4.

With the score tied against West Orange in the seventh inning, Jim Brannan walked, stole second and third, and scored the winning run on Dick Peterson's single. Peterson also scored twice, and Jim McCullough had a two-run double.

Steve Baker struck out 17 against Chatham, but lost. Jim McCullough's two hits and Dick Peterson's home run paced Summit, as they came from behind a 5-1 deficit in the last two innings, but just fell short.

Summit Marksman On Allegheny Team

Ed Layng of Summit, a sophomore, was a member of the Allegheny College rifle team this season which posted a 15-1 record and won the Western Pennsylvania Interscholastic Rifle League championship.

Layng, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Layng of 8 Surrey road, Summit, is a graduate of Milford Academy in Connecticut.

The Allegheny team averaged 1,272.2 points per match, the highest team average in the eight-team league, and posted the highest team score for a match—1,306.

Fuschetti, Wackwitz, Miller Win State Sectional Track Crowns

Three Summit - Chatham Area athletes captured four individual titles in the New Jersey State Interscholastic Athletic Association's sectional track and field championships last Saturday.

Bob Fuschetti of New Providence High stole the spotlight at the North Jersey, Section 2, Group 2 championship meet in Morristown by winning both the shot put and discus events. The husky Pioneer three-sport athlete won the shot with a toss of 49 feet, 3 inches and then scaled the discus platter 145 feet, 6 inches.

WACKWITZ WINS

New Providence added a third individual crown when Jim Wackwitz cleared 13 feet, 1 3/4 inches in winning the pole vault. Wackwitz's mark was the best of any competitor in the statewide Group 2 competition, as well as the top mark of the day in all groups. Wackwitz also placed fourth in the high jump.

Charley Miller of Chatham Boro hurled the javelin 201 feet, 11 inches to win the North Jersey, Section 2, Group 1 title.

New Providence made the best team showing, scoring 32 points to finish third in its section behind Clifford Scott High of East Orange and Cedar Grove, which tied for the title with 56 points. Chatham Boro also finished third in its section, scoring 25 points. The Eskies trailed Glen Ridge (64) and Mountain Lakes (58) in the team race.

Summit High scored 12 points in North Jersey, Section 2, Group 3, to take seventh place, while Governor Livingston Regional High of Berkeley Heights tallied six points in Central Jersey, Group 4 competition.

The Highlanders tied New Brunswick for 15th place. Summit High scored 12 points in North Jersey, Section 2, Group 3, to take seventh place, while Governor Livingston Regional High of Berkeley Heights tallied six points in Central Jersey, Group 4 competition.

HEUER SECOND

Blair Heuer placed second in the javelin for Governor Livingston, while Bob Reider was fourth in the high jump. Dave Klavins of Summit placed second in the high jump. Other point scorers for Summit were: Franks, fourth in the 100 and 220-yard dashes, and Heitkamp, third in the 880-yard run.

Mihalik was second in the 440-yard run for New Providence, while Bob Marsh was fifth in the one-mile run. Gravin was third in the javelin throw, with Pandick fifth in the shot put and Uhlaut fifth in the pole vault.

For Chatham Boro, Klein was fifth in the 100-yard dash, while Higgins was second and Schiro fifth in the 440-yard run. Ur was third in the 880 for Chatham Boro, with Finley fifth in the mile run and Leonard fourth in the discus throw. Fischer was fifth in the shot put for the Eskies.

Summit Trackmen Take 7th in State Trials

Juris Klavins and Dave Heitkamp paced Summit to a seventh place finish in the nineteen team North Jersey Section 2, Group III state trials.

Klavins cleared 6' 2" in the high jump to place second, and Heitkamp broke a school record in the 880 with a 1:57.6, placing third. Both will go on to the state finals this Saturday at Rutgers.

Bob Franks just missed twice, placing fourth in the 100 and 220 yard dashes. Franks ran the 100 in 10.25 and the 220 in 22.8.

Rick Terry placed fifth in the low hurdles with a time of 21.4, and John Wiebe came in sixth with a 20' 5 1/2" long jump.

Earlier in the week Summit had closed out its regular season with an 81-45 win over Verona.

Bob Franks took two firsts, in the 100 and the 220, and both times John Wiebe placed third. Tom Mobley led the 440 with a time of 53.4, and Phil Goddard placed second. In the 880 Dave Heitkamp took first and Doug Cresson third.

Tom O'Brien placed second in the mile, as did Jon Hunt in the 2 mile. Hunt, however, set a new school record of 10:18.0, breaking his own old record by nearly three seconds.

Rick Terry took first in the high hurdles and second in the low hurdles, while Ed Karpenki took third in the low hurdles.

Juris Klavins and Tom Williams were first and third in the high jump, and Warren Moore cleared 10' 8" to win the pole vault. John Wiebe and Tom Mobley took first and second in the long jump.

Summit had a surprisingly strong showing in the weights to complete the rout of Verona. John Fox placed first in the shotput, and Bill Anderson first in the discus, with Dave Heitkamp won the javelin with a throw of 166', and Tom O'Brien took second.

Regional High Names Sorrentino New A.D.

Berkeley Heights - Mike Sorrentino, 30, will assume the position of athletic director at Governor Livingston High School at the end of the current school year.

Frederick Aho, principal at Governor Livingston, said Sorrentino will replace Bob Martin, who has signed as track coach and top assistant football coach at Coral Park High in Miami, Fla.

Martin replaced Jack Bicknell last January when Bicknell went to Boston College as offensive backfield football coach.

Sorrentino, a graduate of North Plainfield High (1956) and Panzer College at Montclair State (1960), is a phy-

Kent Place Net Squad Finishes Undefeated

The Kent Place School tennis team has completed its season undefeated. The Summit team won matches with Princeton Day School, 4-3; Kimberley School, 5-0; Princeton High School, 4-1; and Oak Knoll School of Summit, 4-2.

Kent Place also participated in an eight-school round robin at the Princeton Day School, taking second place in the No. 2 doubles and third place in the No. 1 doubles.

Top performers on this year's team were Liz Allen, Peggy Albaugh, Laurie Brown, Wendy Field, Sue Klem, Ann Warren, Marion Bevans, Abby DeFausse, Merrill Tomlinson, Marlyn Rath and Elizabeth Parker.

Kent Place's two lacrosse teams also enjoyed successful seasons, with the varsity posting a 2-2 record, while the junior varsity won four straight matches.

Boro Golfers Beat Summit

Chatham Boro's golfers defeated Summit High, 10 1/2-7 1/2, last week in a match of Suburban Conference rivals.

Westfield High's undefeated golfers downed Governor Livingston Regional High of Berkeley Heights, 11 1/2-6 1/2, for their second victory of the season over the Highlanders. Gary Friend and Ken Koszowski won their matches for Governor Livingston by 2-1 scores.

Summit Netmen In 2nd Place

The Summit Tennis Club is in second place in the North Jersey Tennis League after defeating Arlington, 4-1, last Saturday. Summit has a 14-6 record and is tied with Nutley, three games back of East Orange (17-3).

Glen Ridge topped Chatham, 3-2, creating a three-way for fourth place among Arlington, Chatham and Glen Ridge, all with 10-10 records.

The Summit High golf team faces three pivotal matches this week, which will decide where Summit places in the Suburban Conference.

A 13-5 loss to Madison broke a four-game Hilltopper winning streak, and leveled Summit's season record at 6-6-1.
