

Tuesday's Election Brings Out 75% City Vote; Kennedy Wins in Ward 2

Summit, traditionally Republican, pulled no surprises Tuesday when more than 75% of its registered voters trekked to the polls to cast their ballots for an assortment of local, county and national candidates.

In the Council race for Ward Two, newcomer Horace F. Kennedy, Republican of Valley View, avenue, defeated his Democratic counterpart Jonathan Plaut of Ashland road, 3,714 to 2,177 in a race that was tighter than many predicted.

Running unopposed in Ward

One, incumbent Councilman Edwin S. Votey rolled up a vote of 3,046.

Kennedy will take the seat now held by Councilman Richard L. Corby Jr., who declined to run for a third term on Common Council.

Summit voters also returned to the GOP column this year in their choice for President when they gave Richard M. Nixon 6,639 votes to Hubert H. Humphrey's 3,647. Former Gov. George C. Wallace garnered a total of 395 votes, less than some thought he would receive.

Congresswoman Florence P. Dwyer again received her annual mandate from local voters when she polled 7,779 votes. Her Democratic opponent Dr. John Duff received 2,431. Mrs. Dwyer again lead the Republican ticket here as she has done several times past.

The Republican Freeholders also came out ahead in Summit to no one's surprise. In the balloting, William J. Maguire of Clark lead the ticket with 7,027 votes, followed by Donald C. Dunne, 7,001 and David B. Zurav, 6,942. On the Democratic side, incumbent Freeholders Arthur C. Fried garnered 2,930 to lead the way, and was followed by incumbents William J. Ahern Jr. with 2,883 and Hugh Caldwell with 2,873.

Republican Vincent L. Brinkerhoff of Cranford, in his bid for sheriff, captured 6,640 votes here as against 3,363 for Sheriff Ralph Orsiccio.

Miss Mary Kanane, Republican Surrogate, took 7,205 votes while Democrat Mrs. Veronica Leonard captured 2,678 local votes.

For Register, incumbent Joseph F. Durkin, Republican, received 7,391 while his Democratic counterpart was given 2,678.

Local voters also supported the three bond issues and endorsed Question Four which extends the State Legislature to two-year terms instead of the current one-year.

In the Ward Two race, Kennedy captured nine of the Ward's 13 districts. Plaut took Districts 9, 11, 12 and 13. Kennedy's big margins came in District One, where the vote was 363 to 149; District Two, 436 to 121; District Three, 473 to 127; and District Six, 366 to 99.

The race, which was marked by an exchange of ideas on a variety of issues, was not settled as early as had been expected. It was not until shortly after 9 p.m. that the voting showed that Kennedy would be the next Councilman from Ward Two.

During the race, Plaut urged voters in his Ward Two to end one-party rule in Summit. He urged greater Council action in the realm of public housing, additional recreational facilities including a public swimming pool and maintenance of the city's excellent educational standards. Kennedy ran on the philosophy that Council's present policies would be continued.

In the race for President, Nixon captured 18 of the city's 23 voting districts.

Voting was heavy throughout the day with the heaviest polling during the morning and evening rush hours. At several of the polling places, crowds had lined up even before the polls opened at 7 p.m. During the day, several voting districts reported large waiting crowds.

Except for some minor problems, voting throughout the day was reported smooth. First returns began to trickle in shortly after 8:45 p.m., about 45 minutes after the polls closed.

Weather throughout the day was relatively cloudy, but no rain. Temperatures hovered about the 50-degree mark.

Across Board Wage Hikes In Store for Municipal Employees Under New Council Bill; Police Up $800

City employees can look forward to a cross-the-board wage increases next year if a proposed ordinance introduced last night by Common Council is adopted. A public hearing on the proposal will be held on December 3, at 8:30 p. m., in City Hall. (The complete scale of salaries can be found elsewhere in this issue of the Herald).

City employees are paid on the basis of scales established by W. K. Williams and Company, Inc., which also makes provision for longevity payments to members of the Police and Fire departments, as well as for incentive pay for members of the garbage and trash department.

The proposal includes a salary scale for police and firemen ranging from $7,560 at the probationary level, to $9,000 for a first class policeman or fireman. Increments are set at $360. The present maximum in this classification is $8,200, or $800 less.

Also slated for raises are sergeants, police and fire lieutenants, deputy police and fire chiefs, and both chiefs. Under terms of the proposed ordinance, sergeants, currently at a maximum of $9,055, would range from $9,190 to a maximum of $10,000 in three years, while lieutenants, would run from $10,205 to $11,095, as compared to the current maximum of $10,660.

Deputy chiefs, currently at a maximum of $11,570, would range from $11,085 to $12,045, while chiefs would go from $13,175 to $14,325, as compared to the current maximum of $13,760.

The highest paid city employee will continue to be the executive secretary, with a range of $13,445 to $17,070, as opposed to the current range of $13,575 to $16,975. In addition, the secretary receives $1,000 as city clerk.

Salary for the city solicitor would be set at $11,000, while the city treasurer would run from $11,450 to $14,325, as compared to the current maximum of $13,105.

Salary for the city engineer would be set at a maximum of $16,190, as contrasted with the current $14,410, while the city physician, and directors of recreation and the library, would range from $10,500 to $13,125. Current maximum in this classification is $12,610.

Others in the over $10,000 classification include the secretary to the Board of Assessors, proposed at $10,500 to $13,125; and the deputy city engineer, same range.

Included in the proposal is the salary of the housing officer, set at a range of $7,570 to $9,470.

Also included in the proposal are salaries various job classifications in the Board of Education, including secretaries, stenographers, clerks, accounting clerk, custodians, electrician, matron, office manager and audio-visual maintenance man.

Miscellaneous and part-time employees are also covered including the assistant city treasurer and the commissioner of streets, both of whom receive $1 per year. Highest of the part-time employees is the custodian at the Board of Health, at $2,250.

Wet Roads Blamed For 3 Injuries

Wet pavement was blamed last weekend for two car accidents in which three persons were injured. On Sunday two persons were injured when the car in which they were driving went out of control and crashed into the Rahway Valley railroad bridge on Broad street near Park avenue.

Taken to Overlook Hospital for treatment of injuries were Sidney M. Twittley, 46, of 21 Union place, driver of the car, who suffered head lacerations, and Alexander Taylor, 16, also of 21 Union place, a passenger who suffered knee and head injuries.

At the time of the accident, Mr. Twittley was travelling west on Broad. He said he skidded on the wet pavement and lost control of the car. The car was heavily damaged and towed from the scene.

Investigating the accident was Patrolman Lawrence Walsh.

Victor M. Castaneda, 33, of Madison suffered a possible leg fracture last Saturday when his motorcycle skidded on wet pavement and went out of control on Springfield avenue and Broad street, throwing him to the ground.

At the time of the accident, he was driving south along Springfield. The motorcycle was heavily damaged.

Investigating the mishap was Patrolman John Hally.

Fund Drive Started To Buy $12,500 Band Shell

A campaign for funds to purchase a $12,500 portable band shell has been started by the Summit Area Development Corporation.

According to the non-profit enterprise, the need for a shell for outdoor performances and civic events, has been apparent to many residents for a long time.

The Development Corporation, after consulting with directors of musical and performing groups, decided to seek the funds for a Wenger Showmobile.

Made of aluminum, the unit is self-contained with its own generator to operate the sound system and lighting. It is movable and seats more than 100 musicians.

A similar shell, borrowed for the occasion, was used Saturday at the football game for a concert by the high school stage band as an example of its possibilities and to serve as a kick-off for the fund drive.

The Jaycees started off the campaign with a $500 donation and the Development Corporation added $1,000. The Soroptimist Club volunteered to handle the appeal for donations and is mailing a flyer to residents, showing sketches of the shell and listing the names of citizens endorsing the venture. An amount of $1 per family is suggested.

According to the corporation, various service clubs are planning to contribute.

The corporation said it is hoped the unit can be purchased by next spring when it can be dedicated by performances of local groups as a memorial to the Centennial celebration and be presented to the city.

Thinks Son Is Playing Joke; Unveils Thief

A Bellevue avenue resident got a real shock last week when she laughingly pulled down a turtle neck sweater covering what she thought was the face of her son and discovered it was an intruder.

Mrs. Jo Ellen Kosberg of No. 107 was sewing early in the evening of October 28 and looked up when she saw a man with the neck of a sweater pulled up over his face. She screamed when she realized it was not her son and the man fled.

Police reported that the same evening Mrs. Kosberg's home had been forcibly entered, along with those of Walter Wildrotta of 119 Bellevue avenue and William Hettinger of No. 149. Jewelry was stolen in all three cases.

West Summit Residents Oppose New Parking Lot

Some 30 Meadowbrook court residents are objecting to what might be called creeping capitalism in their neighborhood. To be specific, they told members of the Board of Adjustment Monday night that they didn't want King's Supermarket to be permitted to lease from the Palmer Nursing Home land that would be used as a 40-parking space addition to the store's large asphalt lot.

Representatives of King's Supermarket, in turn, argued that the new spaces were needed to provide better service to the customers of the growing business. King's spokesman also said that the additional parking area, with its additional entrance and exit onto Springfield avenue, would help alleviate traffic congestion in the area.

Several residents charged that such a move, if permitted, would aggravate an existing serious traffic condition.

The board reserved its decision on all major cases heard that night. One case, concerning Ralph Pocar's plans to demolish his office building at 777 Springfield avenue to make way for apartments, and to move his business office to apartments located at 800 Old Springfield avenue, was not heard because Mr. Pocar said his secretary had forgotten to mail the board a copy of the application. This case is of concern to the same group of Meadowbrook court residents.

King's application asked permission to lease a 230-by (Continued on Page Two)

County Unable to Provide Returns

The Summit Herald was unable to gather County election returns yesterday from the County Clerk's office at Elizabeth on grounds that the department was "still counting absentee ballots," a spokesman for the County told this newspaper.

Returns would have been available, according to the spokesman, "late in the afternoon" possibly past 4:30 p.m., after the Herald's absolute deadline.

As of 1 p.m. yesterday, the County Clerk's office said that it could still not provide any results and could not say who were winners on the Freeholder, Surrogate, Sheriff of Register levels, nor if Congresswoman Florence P. Dwyer and President-Elect Nixon had carried the County.

THIS IS NOT FUN — When 19-year-old Michael Kawan of 479 Morris avenue went out to his car last Wednesday morning he found the unhappy results of Mischief Night. Grayish white paint had been splattered over his car, parked in his driveway, ruining the top and paint job. The auto has been in the repair shop for a week where workmen are trying to restore it to its original condition.

60-foot section of the nursing home property. The nursing home is a non-conforming use which has renewed its status for some 30 years by requesting five-year variances to the zoning ordinance. Speaking for King's were a commercial consultant, who said the new lot space would be advantageous to the store customers and for better traffic flow in the area, and Alan Bilden, president of the store operation, who said the new spaces would be primarily for his employees.

Other Meadowbrook court residents, including George Danco, George Pease and Don Anderson, complained that the proposed move would be detrimental to the nursing home patients, as well as the existing heavy traffic congestion on Springfield avenue.

Several residents rejected the line of reasoning used by the King representatives. Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Watson charged that the store's present parking lot was sufficiently large and practically never filled to capacity. Mr. Anderson spoke at length about the dangers of irresponsible planning. He called for "imaginative planning that would consider the future development of the area."

Club Hears Report

Garden Club members heard an informative report from their 1968 Audubon Camp representative, Miss Cynthia Peck of New Providence, last Thursday at the home of Mrs. W. Bradford Wiley.

Miss Peck, a first grade teacher at Lincoln School and a graduate of Beaver College, documented the importance of the club's annual Audubon Camp/Scholarship program through which a local educator is sent to the Camp in Maine for a period of two weeks in an effort to stimulate and encourage the teaching of conservation and nature study in the Summit schools.

In addition to its educational program, the Garden Club gives continuing leadership and financial support to area beautification and civic plantings. All are now financed largely through the club's spring and fall "Little Flower Markets"

Other residents urged the board to protect the residential character of the neighborhoods near the commercial area at the intersection of Old Springfield

Suburban, for the board to consider hearing new testimony from residents and experts to refute evidence previously submitted by the hotel in its variance application for additional parking space.

The original variance had been denied, but was successfully appealed by the hotel in the courts. The court had directed the local board to determine whether new testimony should be heard.

The board said a meeting to hear new testimony from the residents would be held within two weeks.

Fired Oratory Teachers Ask For Support

Two dismissed Oratory School teachers passed out flyers Election Day in the parking lot of Washington School asking for support in their fight to be reinstated in their jobs. Washington School is one of the city's polling places.

The teachers, Jean Albert Woerner and James Kevin McCarthy, in the flyer, said Oratory "with impunity has flagrantly violated the constitutional right of the process."

They claim they and another teacher were "falsely accused" of an incident while on a school-sanctioned school trip and then were "called from class and dismissed without a hearing."

The teachers added, "We have proof which establishes beyond reasonable doubt that the students lied to protect themselves" and that "the students were never disciplined and are still going to the Oratory School."

"We are concerned with erasing the stigma that has attached itself to our names and professional reputations, but the Oratory School refuses to listen," Woerner and McCarthy said in their flyer.

JCs Sponsor Performance At Playhouse

The Junior Chamber of Commerce on November 21 will sponsor the Playhouse's production of "Philadelphia, Here I Come!"

Proceeds from the production will aid the Jaycees in performing their main function which is serving the Summit Community. They also present awards for citizenship achievement in the community such as a physical fitness award, distinguished service award, and a practical nurse award and the outstanding student nurse at Overlook Hospital.

Each year the Jaycees sponsor many activities for the younger citizens of the community such as a Junior Olympics and tennis tournament for boys and girls of all ages, and an Auto-Rodeo for young drivers.

Keeping in the Christmas spirit, the Jaycees lend a helping hand in erecting the Christmas display on the Village Green and take underprivileged children shopping for gifts for their families, help them wrap the gifts, and then hold a Christmas party.

Something's Cooking

By Sue Maloney

"If a lump of soot falls into the soup, and you cannot conveniently get it out, scum it well, and it will give the soup a high French taste..." Jonathan Swift wrote in his book Directions to Servants in 1731. Fortunately, kitchen conditions have changed and there are pleasanter methods to attain a high French taste and look to soups.

And making soup is easy, economical and creative. It's fun to go through the spice cabinet and add a dash of this and pinch of that to enhance the flavor of the soup. This is especially true of Russian Borscht and Old Fashioned Bean Soup. Another delicious soup which isn't as highly flavored as those two is Potato and Leek Soup. You can easily make an entire meal around any of these three hearty soups.

moisture. Season to taste with oregano and pepper.

2. Open the rolls and lay each roll out flat. Place a teaspoon or more of the meat mixture on each roll. Then fold, each roll in half and seal the edges with a fork or your fingers.

3. Place on a greased baking sheet and bake at 375 for 15 minutes. Cut each turnover in half and serve in a pretty napkin-lined basket.

Tip of the week: Whenever you serve a cream soup like cream of mushroom, chicken, etc., always top each bowl off with a dollop of butter and a sprinkling of chopped chives or chopped parsley. The butter makes the soup smoother and the herbs add lovely color. If you're serving a soup with a beef bouillon base, you might add a dash of red wine for interest.

COINS

The "Dime" or a tenth of a dollar was born when Thomas Jefferson proposed in 1784 that the United States adopt the decimal system. Congress adopted the Jefferson recommendation in 1785 even though most of the colonies were more familiar with the monies of Great Britain. It is interesting to note that in 1970, almost 200 years later, Great Britain in turn will adopt the decimal system.

The basic unit of the decimal system is the dollar which was patterned after the European coins and the Spanish milled dollar. The dime finally authorized in 1792 had the same silver content as the dollar but was only 1/10 as large. The first dime or "disme" was struck in Philadelphia in 1792 together with its companion piece the half-dime. It bore the head of Liberty, the date and the legend "United States of America" but no value.

Many members of Congress were of the opinion that the head of George Washington should be on the dime rather than the emblematic head of Liberty but Washington expressed his disapproval considering this merely an adaptation of monarchical practice. It is also legend that the silver for these first dimes and half-dimes came from the household silverware of George and Martha Washington.

The name "disme" is derived from the French "dixieme" or one-tenth. From 1794 to the present this has been Americanized to "dime". The first dimes which were minted from 1796 to 1807 show the bust of Liberty facing right and are all rare and expensive. Only 22,135 dimes were struck during these eight years except in 1806 when none were minted. Coins of this type will cost on today's market anywhere from $500.00 to $1,600.00 when they can be purchased.

In 1809 the dime was completely redesigned with the bust of Liberty facing left, a redesigned eagle and 13 stars. These were minted in greater quantities, with many varieties and although are rare not as expensive as the first dimes that were minted. The 1809-1837 dime was called the draped bust or liberty cap type and was replaced in 1837 with the Liberty seated type designed by a trio of Sully-Gobrecht-Hughes. These coins were minted in both Philadelphia and New Orleans and were struck with and without arrows, large and small stars, legend replacing stars, drapery and no drapery and many others. To further add to the collector's woes in 1871 the Carson City Mint joined Philadelphia and New Orleans in minting dimes with the "cc" mint mark although in 1871 Carson City minted, according to the mint records, 10,817 dimes they are so scarce that the latest bid price is $1,375 without too many offers.

As it is today, in the 1870s the dimes contained more silver than their face value and many were melted for their bullion value. The government today and then did not keep any record of the coins that were melted down because of the terrific cost of such bookkeeping records. Can you imagine employees all day long scanning literally millions of coins recording their dates, mint marks, varieties just to find out how many coins are still in existence. Tomorrow we will have no idea how many silver nickels, dimes, quarters and half-dollars have been melted down by the Government for the silver content. The mint records will give you how many were minted for this is required by law, but not how many were melted down.

To continue with our story of the dime. In 1892 appeared the first entirely new dime in 55 years. The Barber designed Liberty Head type, was designed by Charles E. Barber, Chief-Engraver of the Mint. The Liberty is facing right with the Phrygian cap with the reverse showing the value "one dime" within a wreath of corn, oak and wheat. The Barber dimes were for many years a popular group of American coins to collect. There are a total of .75 date and mint varieties. There is an interesting story in this series between 1892 and 1916 Philadelphia, New Orleans and San Francisco. The story is that in 1894 only 24 dimes were struck in San Francisco to straighten out some accounting figures of the Mint before the end of the fiscal year on June 30, 1894. The 24 dimes all were placed in circulation, except 3 which were kept by employees of the Mint, a perfectly legal transaction at that time. Three dimes were sold to collectors a few years later for $25-$50. In 1961 one of these dimes sold for $13,000. The other two are in someone's private collection and will only come on the market when the estate is settled and auctioned.

In 1916 a new dime appeared in circulation and received a great deal of attention because this coin was brand new both in its obverse and reverse. The coin is commonly known as the Mercury dime and was designed by Adolph A. Weinman having as its main objective the representation of a winged head of Liberty. The reverse bears the old Roman fasces - bound cluster of Elm and Birch rod sticks and a battle axe symbolizing strength through solidarity and unity. The battle axe stands for preparedness to defend the Union and the olive branch symbolizes our love of peace with the legend "E pluribus unum".

In 1916 this fasces symbol pleased everyone but unfortunately in 1920 Mussolini chose the same symbol for the Italian Fascist party and for 25 years our dime had the same companion pieces Italian Fascist coins of 25 centimes and 2, 20 and 100 Lires.

All Mercury dimes, prior to the clad coinage and the Government recalling and melting down the coins for their silver content, were plentiful and relatively inexpensive except for two oddities. In 1916 the Denver mint, which normally strikes from 5 to 10 million dimes only produced 264,000 making this coin the rarest of the series. This coin now sells for from $100.00 to $750.00 in uncirculated condition. In 1942 for some unknown reason an error was made and 1941 dies were used and reengraved for 1942. This coin is very easy to distinguish and brings up to $400 for an uncirculated piece.

The last dime struck in the United States was the Roosevelt dime, designed by John R. Sinnock. Again, what some people will not think of in those troubled times after World War II. The artist's initials (J.S.) are at the bottom of the neck and created a furor as they were interpreted as the initials of Joseph Stalin and an act of sabotage against the United States government. Franklin D. Roosevelt's portrait is on the obverse and the reverse is the torch of liberty between sprays of laurel and oak. The first Roosevelt dimes were issued in 1946 and minted in all three mints in large quantities. There are no rare dates as even the smallest mintages in 1955 were in excess of 12-13 million. Until the event of clad coinage the whole set of 51 coins could be acquired at a very small price over face value and with some little effort could be accumulated out of pocket change.

Sometime within the next five years there will be a new dime and a new quarter. It is anticipated that there even may be an entirely new set of coins, including a silver dollar and perhaps a commemorative coin of silver or gold in 1976 when the United States celebrates two hundred years since the signing of the Declaration of Independence. It is something to look forward to with anticipation.

The next meeting of the Summit Coin Club will be held on Monday, November 11, 1968 at the Edison Recreation Center at 7:30. Everyone is welcome and there are some good bargains to be had.

Our next month's article will trace the history of our quarter.

Our next month's article will trace the history of our quarter, or two bits, as it sometimes is called.

A New Wage Guide and the Police

With the introduction last night of Summit's new salary guide for municipal employees, we hope local residents will study the proposed wages carefully and evaluate whether they meet the needs of those who perform this community's vital services.

In going over the proposed wage guide, we notice that raises are in store for just about every municipal employee. Although this increase will surely have an affect on our 1969 tax rate, we are certain Summit residents are in agreement that in order to maintain the excellent services rendered here, a decent wage must be in order.

It is highly possible, however, that one segment of the municipal family may have doubts about the proposed salary guide and may appeal to Common Council for a new look into what has been proposed. We refer to the Police Department.

The new guide calls for a maximum $9,000 for a first grade Patrolman, an $800 increase over this year's top of $8,200.

Before a proper evaluation of the proposal can be made, residents should take into account that the Police Department today is made up of 41 men. Ten years ago, the department contained 38 men. What is important to realize, however, is that during that ten years many new homes were constructed, especially in the southwestern section of the city near the New Providence-Berkeley Heights line, which means more miles of streets and more area to patrol. Ten years ago, Summit had approximately 50 miles of streets to patrol, now we have 66. Ten years ago, Summit had a population of a little over 21,000. Today the number of persons in town is estimated at about 24,000.

The point is, the town has grown much in 10 years, but our Police Department has not. We would think with this town that the Police Department would have grown in the same relationship with its additional duties.

We wonder if this stunted growth of our very excellent Police Department could be laid to the wage question over the years? A superior Police Department is important in any town. We have one of the finest anywhere; but to keep it that way requires consideration of their monetary needs.

"Mischief Night" and Law and Order

Although Summit's mischief night last week was termed relatively quiet, there were some acts of vandalism that should not go by unnoticed.

If heaving a rock through someone's living room window or throwing paint on a new car or tearing down a fence, or snapping a young tree in two are "fun games" to be played on "Mischief Night," then our definition of fun is quite different.

Decorating trees with toilet tissue, breaking pumpkins in the road and a little doorbell ringing have become a part of "Mischief Night," the somewhat new prelude to Halloween. This is natural kid behavior and no one generally comes out the worse.

However we wonder if the parents who demand a return to "law and order" in this nation, lash out at the younger generation's hi-jinks on college campuses and their confrontations with the police, realize that breaking windows, destroying trees and fences

Get Them While They're Young

In the last five years, arrests for shoplifting in the nation's stores have increased about 80 per cent. Teen-agers, police say, account for much of the rise.

You see, many of our young do not consider shoplifting as stealing. About 75 per cent of the young people arrested in stores for walking away with stolen merchandise are from middle or upper-class families. They steal for kicks and it becomes a challenge, not to get caught.

But the loss to retailers from shoplifting is no "kick" for them, for it is estimated that it cost the merchants about $2 billion a year and in some cases has even forced stores to close.

Danbury, Connecticut, has no more shoplifting than other cities, but it wants to have less. The city and its Chamber of Commerce have a plan. The young will be given an education program in the schools. They will be warned of the seriousness of shoplifting and the penalties it incurs. Any illusions about such thefts being a challenge will be dispelled.

The parents will be asked to cooperate. They will be told that the city advocates arrests for every case of shoplifting since any word of leniency, especially in the case of the young, spreads through the teen-age group grapevine and leads to more shoplifting.

The merchants also will have an education program. They will be taught how to combat shoplifting and how to arrange their stocks so they are less accessible and less of a temptation to a thief.

To this we add that the best time to teach the young not to steal is the first time a small hand reaches out and grabs something from a counter. Even a small child can be taught what is rightfully his and what to leave alone.

Letters

Why "Mischief Night?"

Editor, Summit Herald:
Why is it that parents will permit their children to go out on "Mischief Night" and destroy property when these are the same persons who cringe in their homes and arm themselves with weapons at the smallest suggestion of a Negro riot?

I am so tired of seeing evidence of lazy permissive parents, that I truly fear for the world in the next generation.

What kind of pleasure really comes from throwing rocks through windows, removing fencing from around a house, breaking eggs (a food) on cars, or even wasting the luxury of toilet paper?

These parents evidently never think beyond their own little world. If you have ever lived in a country that stones persons for crimes—you would never let the smallest child throw a stone. There are children dying for the want of an egg. There are even very civilized countries that do not know what a soft tissue toilet paper is. How care-less can we be? Why should we fear and resent the Negro or low income group? They won't destroy our beautiful properties—they only wish to share it with us.

I will remain an ogre to my children for many days—as I would not permit them to leave the house on "Mischief Night." I never will. These energies could be harnessed and used for a good cause—enhancing child and property. These are the children who will inherit the earth.

Successful Sale

Editor, Summit Herald:
Once again, the 33rd annual book sale of the Summit College Club has been a tremendous success. We would like to thank the residents of the community who donated and bought books, and also all the banks who have harbored our sometimes overflowing boxes with equanimity. A further thanks goes to Rick Peek who constantly and cheerfully lugged heavy cartons of books at headquarters, and Boy Scout Troop #62 that cleared a parking lot for us under the direction of Mr. David Graham.

We happily look forward to allocating more bonds for scholarships and fellowships this year than ever before.

Council Comment

In view of inquiries received recently asking that specified subjects be placed on the agenda for discussion and that opportunity be afforded citizens to discuss matters before the Council, it seems important at this time to review the procedure, followed by the Council at its regular meetings. The procedure followed by the Summit governing body will allow any citizen to bring any matter before the Council at the public meetings.

Each year at the organization meeting of the Council in January, rules of order establishing the procedure for the Council meetings during the following year are adopted. Under these rules, which have not been substantially changed for a number of years, the procedure is as follows:

The first order of business is the roll call and the approval of the minutes of the previous meetings. Immediately thereafter any bids which have been duly advertised are received. Normally these bids are referred to the proper committee for study and may be awarded to the successful bidder that same evening or at a subsequent meeting.

Following the receiving of bids the Council conducts public hearings on ordinances. Under the procedure established by State Law, an ordinance must be introduced at a regular Council meeting and published in the Summit Herald, at least 10 days prior to the holding of a public hearing, with the notice of the time and place that the hearing will be held. The ordinance must be posted on the City Hall bulletin board and be available to the public at the public hearing. The hearing is conducted before the Council with the President of the Common Council presiding.

There are several actions that the Council may take following the public hearing. It may close the hearing, recess, consider the views expressed and adopt the ordinance. If this action is taken, the ordinance must be published in the Summit Herald in order for it to become effective. All ordinances are in force immediately after adoption and final publication except a school bond ordinance which does not become effective for 10 days after its final publication and a municipal bond ordinance which must wait 20 days before it is valid. This time period is to allow the filing of legal objections to the action taken.

The Council also may reject the ordinance or it may continue the hearing to the next meeting due to the fact that all people may not have had an ample opportunity to be heard. The Council may in addition amend the ordinance and if it is considered a minor amendment in wording that does not change the substance, the ordinance can be adopted the same evening as amended. If the City Solicitor, however, rules that the change is a major change, the ordinance must be re-advertised and another public hearing held on the ordinance as amended. The purpose of introducing an ordinance is to get it before the public officially so that the citizens' views can be obtained on a definite proposition. At the time of the introduction no public hearing is scheduled. Once the ordinance is advertised in the Summit Herald and the public informed of the time and place of the public hearing, an opportunity is afforded to each citizen to come to the Council meeting and make his position known.

To continue with the Council meeting procedure, following the hearings on the ordinances the Council acts on resolutions, motions, etc., of the Council committees. The Public Finance Committee, for instance, moves for adoption resolutions authorizing payments to the Board of Education and County in accordance with the adopted budget appropriations, payment of city bills, and other financial matters. The Public Works Committee offers resolutions for the improvements of road, sewers and other such matters pertaining to the Public Works departments. The Public Law Committee reviews all recommendations of the Zoning Board and Planning Board as well as all ordinances previously introduced by the Council and on which public hearings have been held and moves proper action be taken. The Public Building and Grounds Committee approves bills for the maintenance and repair of all city buildings and reviews any appeals from the decisions of the Building Inspector. The Public Safety Committee is responsible for the operation of the Fire Department and approves by resolution or motion the granting of various licenses, changes in traffic regulations and approves the expenditures of the fire and police departments. The Public Welfare Committee is the agency through which requests of the Welfare Department, Board of Recreation, Health and Library which require Council action or approval are reviewed.

Once the normal course of business has been completed, any Councilman can bring before the meeting any matter or discuss any problem he desires.

At this time, after the Councilmen have spoken, the meeting is opened to the citizens and anyone can speak on any subject whatsoever regardless whether or not the Council has been advised or informed of the problem. It is important to understand that there is no restriction on the matters that can be discussed at this time and full opportunity is given to any citizen to bring to the attention of their elected representatives any matter which concerns them. These problems or complaints, if they cannot be resolved immediately, are referred to the proper committee for investigation and report at a subsequent meeting.

In essence, the latter part of the Council meetings is similar to the original town meetings where the citizens of the community can discuss with their elected representatives any current issue and bring their individual problems to the Council members for consideration. No citizen of Summit is ever denied the opportunity to express himself at this public meeting.

New Display at Library Features Danish Embroidery and Silver

Danish embroidery and silver are on display at the Summit Public Library until November 15. Mrs. Hans Henning of Colonial Road and Mrs. Thøger Jungersen, jr., of Pittsford way, New Providence, have assembled examples of their own work and also some pieces of embroidery made by relatives and friends in Denmark. The silver spoons, collected over a long period, feature a different Christmas design done by a famous artist each year.

All of the cross-stitch embroidery in the exhibit was done from a chart, by counting the threads, and there was no pattern stamped on the cloth. Mrs. Henning and Mrs. Jungersen obtained their charts in Denmark. Clara Weaver, a well-known Danish designer, planned the naturalistic wild flowers on a tea cozy cover by means of small squares, color-coded to certain hues of embroidery threads. A tea cloth, worked by Mrs. Jungersen's aunt, is covered cross-stitch illustrations of Hans Christian Anderson's stories, beloved by young and old. Also unbelievably fine and precise are the cross-stitches in an annual Advent calendar, with a little gift package attached for each day in December.

Other embroidery in the exhibit is done in wool in crewel-type stitches, but with a distinctively Danish design. Today, some patterns are stamped on the cloth, making the work easier.

Mrs. Arthur C. Culbertson

She is a member of the Yachtswomen and holds a navigators rating certificate. "What's so wonderful to me is that in 57 years, the hospital volunteers at Overlook have increased from 16 to over 2,200," Mrs. Sylvester explains. Her enthusiasm is boundless - "Let's raise $20,000 for this 20th production," she appeals. Mrs. Culbertson said proceeds from this year's show will go towards the purchase of more electric beds for Overlook Hospital. The eventual aim is to have all such beds in the hospital to promote greater patient comfort and facilitate nursing care.

Follies Enthusiasm Running High

By Maureen Richard

Some $225,000 has been raised by the annual Overlook Follies shows in the past 19 years. These shows have been the largest source of donations that go from the Women's Auxiliary to Overlook Hospital. Such a staggering fund-raising figure helps explain the dedication of workers in getting together the next Follies show, to be staged December 6 and 7 at the Summit High School.

For when the curtain goes up on the 20th production, it heralds the end of thousands of hours' work by upwards of 500 workers.

Take the work of three of the top members of the Follies executive committee as examples. But they'll be the first to stress - only as examples. For everyone seems to pull out all stops for Follies work and all prefer to talk "Follies" than about themselves.

There's second vice president and Ways and Means and Finance Chairman, Mrs. Arthur C. Culbertson of Canoe Brook parkway. Magee, as she's known, is no newcomer to Follies work. Over the years, she's been production, talent and costumes chairmen twice, as well as photography, properties and out-of-town advertising chairmen. To all jobs, she has brought great precision of detail and total involvement. Such a variety of work proves invaluable.

When anyone has a query about the Follies, the reply so often heard is, "Check with Magee. She'll know."

The Culbertsons' 16-year-old daughter, Leslie, appeared in last year's show. They also have a son, Mike, now a University of Oregon student.

Her work for the 20th show began in the spring. "I was even making long-distance calls from the shore this summer about it," she admits.

In between Follies activities, Mrs. Culbertson has found time in the past five years to paint. She has attended the Summit Art Center and exhibited at various area art shows. She is also a member of the Junior League of Summit.

For 10 years production chairman Mrs. Frederick T. Lawrence III of Laurel avenue has been instilling Follies committees with much enthusiasm and hard work.

Five years ago, Kathy Lawrence, was business chairman and in addition she has been costumes chairman and properties chairman.

As if that's not enough, she and her husband have been talented additions to the chorus line-ups in previous shows.

But the Lawrence family interest in helping the hospital hasn't been confined to the Follies. For Mr. Lawrence's great-uncle, Dr. William Lawrence, was the founder of Overlook Hospital and co-founder of the Summit Medical Group.

Mrs. Lawrence, as production chairman, has been forming committees and training members since April. And the organization will culminate with almost full-time activity for the last two weeks prior to the show.

And yet, as with all other top committee members, the care of a family remains paramount. And looking after four young sons is no easy task. For the Lawrences have four sons, Teddy 9, David 7, Andrew 4, and Taylor 2. Their family also includes two half-brothers of Mr. Lawrence, Nick Harroun, 23, a Naval Air Force member; and Charles, an 18-year-old college freshman.

Mrs. Lawrence, as a Junior League member, works once a week in the Thrift Shop. Her other past activities have included teaching swimming at the YMCA and serving as a board member on the Brayton School P.T.A.

The blonde attractiveness of Mrs. Daniel Mills Sylvester easily explains why she was once a successful model. But it belies the skill she has shown for the intricate job of business chairman.

This is a new venture for Judy Sylvester of 8 West lane. But she's acquitting herself like a veteran. What's more, she's loving it. "It's a really delightful experience," Mrs. Sylvester says - and she means two weeks prior to the show.

Formerly of Grosse Pointe and Wagon Lake, Mich., Mrs. Sylvester has been an active community worker in the six years of Summit life. She has worked on the cancer drive for three years and been active in the Franklin School P.T.A.

In the midst of all her current Follies activities, Mrs. Sylvester delights that she can still take care "single-handed" an 18-year-old college for her home and family. The Sylvesters have five children: Mrs. Lawrence, as a Junior League member, works once a week in the Thrift Shop. Her other past activities have included teaching swimming at the school system, Kristin, 13, Danny, 11, and Lisa, 6.

Sen. Clifford P. Case Reports to You

The post-convention session added little to the lustre of the 90th Congress, which finally adjourned on October 14, a bare three weeks before the election.

The political overtones of a Presidential campaign year were most audible in the final and futile effort to suspend the "equal time" law in an effort to encourage televised debates.

The President's decision to withdraw his nomination of Justice Abe Fortas to be Chief Justice of the Supreme Court reflected deep divisions within the Senate. I supported the effort to bring the nomination to a vote by limiting further debate—a move that requires a two-thirds majority but the 45-43 roll call was 14 votes short.

Division of opinion within the Senate was also responsible for the Majority Leader's decision not to call up the Non-Proliferation Treaty before adjournment. The Treaty, which would require a two-thirds majority for approval, will still be on the Senate agenda in January.

Perhaps the most notable accomplishment of the post-convention session was enactment of a strengthened gun control law. The bill sent to the President on October 10 extended to long guns and to ammunition the restrictions that had been placed on the sale of handguns by the Crime Control and Safe Streets Act signed in June.

The new law does not require the licensing of gun owners and registration of their weapons, as I believed it should. But it will be of considerable help to New Jersey and other states in the enforcement of their own gun control laws.

Budget problems dominated much of the work of Congress in 1968 as a whole. As finally passed in June, the Revenue and Expenditure Control Act called for a cut of $6 billion in estimated expenditures and a reduction of $10 billion in requested appropriations, along with a surtax on corporate and individual income taxes.

By the end of the session, a tally of 14 appropriation bills for fiscal 1969 showed that Congress had cut budget requests by $13.2 billion altogether. These reductions were expected to cut actual expenditures in this fiscal year by $3.9 billion. It is up to the President to allocate the remainder of the $6 billion reduction.

It was my position, as a member of the Senate Appropriations Committee, that the nation could not afford to cut back efforts to meet the urban crisis through education, job, housing, law enforcement and other programs, and that reductions should come in such low-priority areas as the space program, farm subsidies, and the supersonic transport program.

From my point of view, therefore, the results of decisions made to date are mixed. The cut of $5.2 billion made in the Defense Department request, for example, was the largest such reduction ever made, but those of us who were opposed to deployment of the Sentinel anti-ballistic missile system were unable to secure deferral of this program.

Several efforts to cut farm subsidies by placing a ceiling on payments to individuals were also unsuccessful. We were able to obtain increased funding, on the other hand, for such urban-oriented programs as the Teacher Corps, model cities and rent supplements.

I was also happy to have a hand in turning back a disturbing proposal to renege on the Federal commitment to the Medicare program, authorized by the Medicare bill of 1965. Under an amendment sponsored by Senator Long of Louisiana, the Federal contribution to the Medicare programs of several states would have been cut in half. New Jersey, which is preparing to initiate its own program, would have been faced with an increase in its own share of the cost from 50 percent to 75 percent.

As I pointed out to the Senate, the Long amendment would have hurt most those states which have been doing the most to help provide better health care for their low income citizens. It was heartening indeed when the amendment was withdrawn just before adjournment.

REALM

BY JON PLAUT

It is sometimes odd which films make it — commercially and even critically. For reasons having little to do with the film, often a routine movie finds a great audience, while a superior film of the same genre is far less successful. This happened, for example, in the case of "Paths of Glory" and "The Bridge Over the River Kwai" and there are many other examples, too numerous to mention. It seems to have happened again this year and I would like to look at this instance more carefully.

I felt that "Rosemary's Baby" is at best a routine movie and has a number of glaring faults. It is well acted by some (Mia Farrow is very good) and terribly over-acted by others (Ruth Gordon is little more than an insulting stereotype). It is interesting intellectually to a certain extent and certainly of the horror film genre. However, much of the camera work is gratuitous; the color photography added nothing to the content of the film and indeed diverted our attention from following building events. Most important in the deficiency column is its extremely slow pace (even boring). Seldom has a dramatic conclusion given so little reason for the tedious central part of the film.

Given all of this, I must admit that "Rosemary's Baby" has been a tremendous success. People have swarmed to the box office and the film has had a generally enthusiastic response from the critics. Why?

The reasons are complex. First of all, the picture is based on a widely read novel and that interests people. Secondly, it stars Mia Farrow whose relationship with Frank Sinatra gave her certain publicity value. Thirdly, the film satisfies a certain "kitsch" value (combination highbrow-lowbrow) which many businessmen-producers feel is the certain way to have success in the entertainment industry. Furthermore, Roman Polanski, the director has a good reputation among film esthetes and that reputation is an earned one, based on "Knife in the Water" and "Repulsion". Finally, people generally like horror films, especially if they are not too disconcerting.

Matched against "Rosemary's Baby" this year is what I consider a superior production. The film is Paul Almand's "Isabelle". Mr. Almand's wife, Genevieve Bujold, plays the title role and gives a thoroughly masterful performance. She, you may recall, was the younger woman in Resnais' "La-Guerre est Fin".

"Isabel" takes place in the Gaspé provinces of Canada and is a film of low mood and horror. It contains no eerie explanations of devils and vampires. Rather, the picture deals with the inner fears and terrors of a young and beautiful woman who returns in her 20th year from Montreal to the rural atmosphere of her youth for her mother's funeral. She stays on — first to settle family affairs, and then to take care of her aged uncle, who is dependent upon her. Slowly the story unfolds to show us that she is the last child of a family immersed in terrible events. Her father and brother supposedly drowned at an earlier time. Her grandfather went insane as a result of his participation in World War I. Her sister has retreated from life entirely. The growing mood of isolation, of hard times, as well as an insidious fear which grasps this young woman, is portrayed largely through movement of camera and control of muted color photography.

"Isabelle" takes a turn toward the supernatural, as in "Rosemary's Baby", when a reincarnation of the brother appears on the scene to woo and finally win her. The film's conclusion is a masterful collage of the supernatural and the real, the terror or reality and the fear of the unexplainable.

This is not to suggest that "Isabelle" is a perfect film. It has weaknesses, such as in the scenes involving Isabelle and other boys in the town. But the film, as a first effort of an unknown Canadian director, is an achievement, and is far superior to the more heralded and accepted "Rosemary's Baby".

The comparison between "Rosemary's Baby" and "Isabelle" finally comes down to the difference between "kitsch" and art, or between the synthetic and the genuine article.

For The Birds

By Farris Swackhammer

Anyone looking out their kitchen window and spotting a tufted titmouse, cardinal or mockingbird would regard you incredulously if you told them that 20 years ago these feathered citizens were seldom seen north of the Mason and Dixon Line during the winter. The reasons behind the northward range expansion of these species are not wholly understood. Higher temperatures undoubtedly have had an effect. The increasing number of backyard feeders is another possible factor. But the facts speak for themselves.

The spread of titmice has not been as spectacular as that of the other two. Chapman, in 1895, wrote, "Range-Eastern United States; breeds from the Gulf States to southern Iowa and northern New Jersey; resident throughout its breeding range." The next study of "Birds Around New York City" was written in 1942 by Cruickshank. The situation hadn't changed much in 47 years, Cruickshank says; "It (the titmouse) reaches the northern limit of its range in the New York City region."

A study of Christmas bird counts for the last 20 years however, reveals the titmouse has gone much further north than New York City. The number tallied in Princeton has tripled since 1947. Titmice first appeared in the Greenwich, Connecticut, area about 1952, and last year almost 200 were counted. Even more spectacular was the increase in winter population in Hartford, Conn., Schenectady, N.Y., and Northampton, Mass. In those three localities titmice were absent as late as 1952, rare in 1957 and abundant last year.

The spread of the cardinal roughly parallels that of the titmouse although it started further south and has extended further north. The 1895 account of Chapman lists it as common in Washington, D.C., but rare north of the New Jersey border. Cruickshank, 25 years ago, wrote, "it rapidly decreased during the closing years of the nineteenth century and by 1920 was virtually extirpated from all sections north of the Raritan River." The cardinal's range has recently extended explosively. In Bennington, Vt. one was tallied in the 1957 Christmas Count, two in 1962 and 14 last year. In Hartford, Conn., none were counted 10 years ago but over 200 were tallied last Christmas.

As a year round resident, the mockingbird's range has extended more dramatically than that of the other two. Just before the turn of the century, Virginia was the northernmost portion of its winter range. Early northern records were attributed to the escape of caged mockers. Cruickshank's remarked in 1942 that a mockingbird "is a rare possibility at any time of the year in any locality" in the New York City metropolitan area.

In Christmas Counts from Princeton, to Northampton, Mass., mockingbirds were virtually absent in 1952, one or two were tallied in 1957 and a few more in 1962. Last year they were a common sight even when the snow was on the ground.

It's rather interesting to note that most of the date presented above was gathered, not by ornithologists from museums and universities, but by birders like you and me. Those of you who feed the birds and note their comings and goings can make a real contribution to bird lore.

TODAY'S INVESTOR

BY THOMAS E. O'HARA
Chairman, Board of Trustees
National Ass'n of Investment Clubs

Q. I am 50, have a family of four and am in ill enough health that I am fearful I won't be able to keep my job. I have $35,000 saved up and cannot gamble with it. What investment can you suggest that would make me the most money to live on and yet be safe?

A. The first thing you have to decide is whether you want to insist on complete safety, or whether you want to take the in-between road with moderate risk but with a chance for growth.

If you're going to insist on total safety, then you should have your money in a bank savings account, where you could look for 5 per cent, or $1,750 a year income. Or, along that same line, you might be able to pick up some municipal bonds at a discount that would return you about 6 per cent on your investment, or $2,100 a year.

These would be reasonably safe investments and maybe that's as far as you want to go. You, and your family, are young enough to think several years ahead. And ahead there lies inflation.

You may be able to adjust your living to $1,750 or $2,100 a year right now. But you may want to look at 15 years from now when your $2,100 will only buy $1,500, or $1,200 worth of the food, clothing, lodging it will now.

So, I suggest that you consider splitting 75% of your money among a couple of good utilities firm stocks, an oil company, and two or three industrial firms which can be bought reasonably. This path might not get you as much income (probably an average of 3 1/2 per cent on your $35,000) to start with, but they stand a chance of improving in price, with increased dividends that will help you cope with inflation. In the long run, they possibly could bring in considerably more than the $2,100 you would get from your bond investment.

When you have questions on matters of estates and trusts, you are assured prompt, confidential assistance at Montclair National Bank and Trust Company.

For the added convenience of residents in the Millburn, Short Hills, Summit and Chatham areas, Robert J. Peters, Trust Representative, is on hand to serve you at the Short Hills office, The Mall, Short Hills.

MONTCLAIR NATIONAL BANK AND TRUST COMPANY

Short Hills Office - The Mall, Short Hills
Telephone: 379-6111

You might also consider mutual funds, being careful to pick a fund with a record of earning more than the Dow-Jones averages. It is possible (though not guaranteed) that you could set up a withdrawal plan from one of these whereby you could get a check each month and yet see the fund grow enough that your withdrawals would not eat greatly into your principal. Your own direct investing or a mutual fund would provide you with a hedge against inflation which either bank savings or municipal bonds would give you a higher current return and a firm dollar value.

Richard C. Hottel will address the first meeting of the Athenaeum's 61st season on Thursday evening, November 14, at 8:15 p.m. in Summit High School. His topic will be "Behind the International Headlines." This is his second appearance before the Athenaeum; his first was in 1937. He broke off his studies to join the United Press Bureau there. During the first of two extended tours of Germany, Mr. Hottel trudged beside Nazi troops goose-stepping into Poland with the first wave of war correspondents after Hitler's legions crossed the border. He was arrested by the Third Reich in 1941 on trumped-up espionage charges and placed in solitary confinement for four months in the notorious Alexanderplatz and Moabit jails before being exchanged for a Nazi newsman held by the U.S. Justice Department. He spent the next two years working for the Office of War Information in London, Africa and Italy. In January, 1944 Mr. Hottel joined CBS news in London. Flying in a Ninth Air Force bomber that attacked Utah Beach six minutes before H-Hour, he emerged with the first report of the sea-borne invasion of Normandy. Later in the war he was assigned to the U.S. First Army, covered the Battle of the Bulge, and then made the Rhine crossing. He parachuted to safety when his plane was struck by enemy flak.

In other reporting jobs, Mr. Hottel has covered the Geneva conferences on Vietnam, the 1955 four power summit meeting, the coronation and elections in England, Presidential visits to Latin America, the movement toward independent government in Poland after the Hungarian revolt, and the conflict in the Congo. He served in Germany as Bonn correspondent from 1951 to 1956 and has covered the domestic political scene for CBS on special assignments. The Athenaeum is traditionally a lecture series that occurs on the second Thursday of the winter and spring months. One or more programs per year are devoted to the performing arts, music, dance, drama or opera. A question and answer period follows most lectures. Future speakers this year will include Jan M. Lochman, theologian from Prague, speaking December 12 on "Christian-Marxist Dialogue in Czechoslovakia"; Richard H. Nolte, from New Orleans, Anyone interested in becoming a member of the Athenaeum at $6 per year should apply to Ronald C. Anderson, treasurer of Athenaeum, at Summit and Elizabeth Trust Co., or come to the first lecture prepared to take out a season's subscription.

Through an error in original editorial copy, Miss Capitola Dickerson's name was omitted from the list of Athenaeum board members given two weeks ago.

"Slumping" Hilltoppers Take Fifth Straight; Blank Millburn Squad 7-0

By Tom Kizzia

The "slumping" Summit High football team won its fifth straight game, a 7-0 conquest of Millburn.

The Hilltoppers have scored more than two touchdowns only once all season, and last Saturday was their second straight 7-point effort. It's not often that you can do this and get away with it. But where Summit's offensive Vultures failed, the defensive Mongrels remained strong, posting their third straight shutout. That's an 8.5 points per game average. Don't count the opening day 26-0 loss to Morris Hills, and it's down to 5.

How much longer the Mongrels can do it is up in the air. Now that there are only three games left in the season, it would seem possible that their surprising defense can hold the Hilltoppers in first place for the rest of the season. But included in those last three games are meetings with third-place Caldwell and second place (surprise!) Verona, and a little "0" is a good thing to have around all times like these.

Against Millburn it was the defense all the way... well, almost. The Mongrels held Millburn to two first downs in the first half and allowed only three pass completions the whole game. It was defensive tackle Bob Stiner's fumble recovery on the Millburn 25 that set up Summit's only touchdown in the second quarter.

Summit moved to the seven, from whence John Marcelliano drove off left tackle, was grabbed by a Millburn defender, and lunged into the end zone. John Wiebe again kicked the extra point.

* Twice in the last quarter, however, the Mongrels began to falter, and Summit's 7-0 lead would seem awfully small. But both times Summit tightened to keep Millburn outside the 20.

The first time, Millburn took a punt on their own 27 and picked up 48 yards for a first down on the Summit 25 as the final quarter was just beginning. Fullback Bob Catapano drove to the 21, but quarterback Joe Barret was hit behind the line to make it third and seven.

Barret dropped back and fired a bullet to his end near the sideline, but cornerback Tom O'Brien got a hand on it and knocked it out of bounds. Barret's next pass went out of

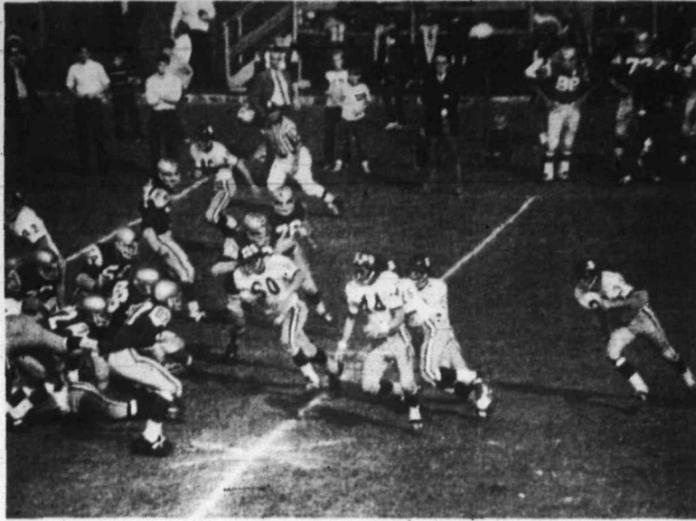

Open House Set By Curling Club

Dr. and Mrs. Peter Mitchell of 17 Warwick Rd., Summit, and Jack Oles, 113 Lawrence Ave., Berkeley Heights, are members of the Plainfield Curling Club which is holding open house through Sunday, November 10, at its curling rink, 133 McKinley St., South Plainfield.

The rink will be open to the public from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m. tonight and tomorrow night and from 2 p.m. to 10:30 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday.

Scheduled activities during the open house include a film on curling, exhibition matches, and instruction for those who come prepared to try curling. To participate, bring warm clothing, gloves, and a pair of rubbers or rubber-soled shoes for secure footing on the ice.

Curling is a winter sport in which the players slide 42-pound granite stones along a smooth ice surface toward a target area about 126 feet away, and sweep with special brooms in front of teammates' stones to help them travel further.

the end zone, and Summit had held.

The Millers got their second chance when Summit ran its usual offensive series; several easy first downs followed by a couple of no-gainers forcing the Hilltoppers to punt. This time Millburn got as far as a first down on the thirty, but on a third and five situation Barret's lateral went behind his halfback, and Barry McGrath recovered on the 28.

So what's wrong with the Vultures? Coach Anderson defended his team when the obvious question came up at

Monday morning press conference.

"Nothing is really wrong with the offense," he replied. "You've got to remember we've been up against some pretty tough defenses. But we've been scoring just enough to win. I honestly believe that if Millburn had tied it up we would have been able to score again."

Mebbe so. The Hilltoppers have already won two games that way. And when a coach has brought a team nobody even thought about before the season to a 5-1 record and first place, you figure he knows what he's talking about.

HILLTOPPER HIGHLIGHTS: The three straight shutouts ties a school record... The string of shutout quarters have moved to 14... New Providence High Crushes Caldwell, 20-0; Stays in Race

NEW PROVIDENCE - New Providence High's football team turned in one of its better performances of the season last Saturday when it completely outplayed Caldwell High's Chiefs in scoring a 20-0 victory in a Suburban Conference game at Caldwell.

Coach Frank Bottone's Pioneers have a 3-1 record in conference play and share second place with surprising Verona (3-1). Summit leads the conference with a 4-0 record.

New Providence faces another stern test in its bid to stay close to Summit when it plays host to a disappointing but dangerous Madison eleven at 1:30 p.m. Saturday in New Providence.

Madison, along with Caldwell and New Providence, is a pre-season favorite to win the conference championship, is virtually out of contention as a result of a 14-13 loss to Summit and a 14-12 upset at the hands of Verona.

The Dodgers, who are 2-2 in conference play, are tied for fourth place with Caldwell and Millburn. Coach Ted Monica's team, however, still represents a serious threat to knock New Providence out of the title chase.

The conference title has taken on added importance for New Providence as a result of an announcement this week that New Providence has been reclassified as a Group 3 school instead of Group 2. This reclassification has put New Providence in the same North Jersey, Section 2 group as Summit High, which handed the Pioneers their only loss of the season, 7-0.

The effect of the NJSIAA ruling is to deprive New Providence of a virtually certain North Jersey, Section 2, Group 3 championship and make it rather doubtful that the Pioneers can win the sectional Group 3 title. The loss to Summit virtually rules out any chance of the Pioneers being awarded the title over the Hilltoppers.

possession on its 46-yard line following a punt early in the second period and scored in three plays.

Scoring Pass

The touchdown came on a pass from Bob Woodruff to Paul Gravin, who caught the ball on the Caldwell 40, broke two tackles, and ran for a touchdown on a play covering 54 yards. A bad pass from center spoiled Lou Del Monte's attempt for the extra point.

Less than five minutes later, the Pioneers scored again. This tally followed another Caldwell punt, with New Providence taking over on its 49-yard line. The 51-yard drive required seven plays, with Bob Tatti going the final five yards for the score. Del Monte booted the extra point and New Providence led 13-0 at halftime.

The Pioneers' march to their second touchdown was sparked by a 22-yard run by Tony Rubbo and a 12-yard scamper by Woodruff.

New Providence maintained its 13-0 edge until the final period when it moved 65 yards in 12 plays, with Rubbo going over from the Caldwell 1. Del Monte kicked the Pioneers' final point.

Malinak Hurt Caldwell's offense was bottled up throughout the game, with the Chiefs unable to penetrate the New Providence 35-yard line. Adding to the Chiefs' woes was an injury to quarterback Roy Malinak, which sidelined him throughout the second half. Mike Cain and Terry Keane intercepted Caldwell passes in the fourth period to keep the Chiefs from getting any kind of a scoring threat under way.

New Providence had a 15-10 edge in first downs, but even that doesn't really indicate how completely the Pioneers dominated the action. New Providence rushed for 232 yards to Caldwell's 95 and picked up 112 yards on passes to the Chiefs' 63.

New Providence had a 15-10 edge in first downs, but even that doesn't really indicate how completely the Pioneers dominated the action. New Providence rushed for 232 yards to Caldwell's 95 and picked up 112 yards on passes to the Chiefs' 63.

St. Teresa's Swim Team Takes Second

St. Teresa's novice swim team took second place in the fifth annual Tri-County meet held at the C.Y.O. pool in Jersey City November 3.

Cathy Keating was first in both the freestyle and backstroke. Jim Dillon was first in the breaststroke. Richard Gross took second in the 10 and under backstroke and Anthony Pannella was third in the 11-12 freestyle.

Chatham Boro, undefeated with an 11-0-1 record, clinched the Suburban Conference title for the second straight year by blanking Madison, 4-0, and then trimming New Providence, 3-0.

Coach Bob Greenwald's Summit booters did it the hard way, scoring a pair of one-goal victories. The Hilltoppers nipped Caldwell, 2-1, for one of their biggest victories of the season and then edged Madison, 1-0, on a fourth-period goal by Eric Spindler.

Summit carried an 8-3-1 record into its final week of conference play and had a chance of finishing as high as second place. The Hilltoppers have a 9-3-1 mark overall.

Summit, New Providence, Regional High Elevens In Running for Conference, Sectional Crowns

With the scholastic football season heading into the final one-third of the season, the Summit Area has two teams battling for the Suburban Conference title—Summit High (4-0) and New Providence (3-1)—another team in the thick of the scramble for the Watchung Conference crown—Governor Livingston Regional of Berkeley Heights (4-1-1)—and all three of these teams making strong bids for recognition as State sectional champions.

Summit, with a 5-1 record overall, has a good shot at the North Jersey, Section 2, Group 3 title if it can win its three remaining games with Caldwell, Verona and Chatham Boro. An 8-1 record, with victories over two of the section's other top teams—Madison and Caldwell—would virtually assure the Hilltoppers of some kind of recognition.

But an 8-1 record may be a tall order for the Hilltoppers. They still have two tough foes in Caldwell and Verona and must whip a traditionally tough Thanksgiving Day foe in Chatham. Summit, however, has plenty of incentive on its side. A sweep of the three games would also give the Hilltoppers the Suburban-Conference title.

LOSS MISLEADING

In the wake of Summit's 26-0 loss on opening day to Morris Hills Regional, hardly anyone would have given Summit much chance of winning the conference title. But Morris Hills is a Group 4 school and still undefeated, so that loss may have been misleading.

Summit found itself late in the Fair Lawn game and has been coming on strong since. The Hilltoppers have been doing it mostly with defense and opportunism. They overcame a 12-0 deficit in the fourth period to beat Fair Lawn, 14-12, and they did almost a repeat performance in rallying from a 13-0 deficit against Madison to win 14-13 in the final minutes of play.

Caldwell fell easily, 42-0, but New Providence and Millburn were something else. The Hilltoppers defeated Livingston must win its final conference game to retain its chance of beating out Clark Regional and Scotch edged Millburn, 7-0, on a touchdown that followed a fumble recovery on the Millers' 25-yard line.

Summit has made believers of most people now, but they still have to hurdle dangerous Caldwell on the Chiefs' field and surprising Verona, which has come on almost as strong as the Hilltoppers after being the conference doormat for years.

PIONEERS NEED HELP

New Providence, it seems, has a better chance of retaining its North Jersey Section 2, Group 2 championship than it does of winning or sharing the Suburban Conference title. The Pioneers need help in the conference race—someone has to whip Summit—but they can do it on their own in the sectional title chase.

Coach Frank Bottone's Pioneers can wind up with an 8-1 record, and quite likely will if they can handle Madison on Saturday. The disappointing Dodgers have lost two conference games to Summit and Verona by a total of three points. They still are a dangerous outfit and there is a strong rivalry with New Providence as Coach Bottone formerly was an assistant coach at Madison.

New Providence should encounter little difficulty in handling Chatham Boro and winless Cedar Grove in its other two games. If the Pioneers wind up with a 7-2 record as a result of a loss to Madison, they still could win or share the sectional State title. A victory over Madison virtually assures the Pioneers of the crown and also keeps them in contention for at least a share of the conference title.

Governor Livingston Regional had a narrow squeak in rallying for eight points in the fourth period to nip Rahway, 8-7, last Saturday. The luckless Scarlet caught the Highlanders "flat" after big wins over Westfield and Clark Regional and nearly knocked them out of the Watchung Conference and Central Jersey Group 4 title races.

CLUTCH PASS

But the Highlanders came through on a clutch pass by John Piccirillo to Eric Wichelhaus covering 46 yards and a short run by Piccirillo, along with a vital safety. Governor Livingston should win its final three games with Cranford, North Plainfield and Watchung Hills Regional and give Coach Dick Lawrence a shot at two titles in his first season.

Cranford is dangerous because the Cougars always seem to be at their best against the Highlanders. Governor Livingston must win its final conference game to retain its chance of beating out Clark Regional and Scotch edged Millburn, 7-0, on a touchdown that followed a fumble recovery on the Millers' 25-yard line.

Summit has made believers of most people now, but they still have to hurdle dangerous Caldwell on the Chiefs' field and surprising Verona, which has come on almost as strong as the Hilltoppers after being the conference doormat for years.

PIONEERS NEED HELP

New Providence, it seems, has a better chance of will rate consideration for Central Jersey, Group 4 honors if they don't lose any more games. There is not an undefeated Group 4 team in Central Jersey, with the exception of Toms River, which plays a solid Jersey Shore schedule and may be short of rating points because of its opposition.

This Saturday will be a "crucial" one for the area's "Big Three." New Providence plays host to a vengeful Madison eleven at 1:30 p.m. and the Pioneers will have to be at their best. Summit visits Caldwell at 1:30 p.m. where the Chiefs will be trying to bounce back from a stunning 20-0 rout by New Providence. Governor Livingston travels to Cranford for a 10:30 a.m. game with improving Cranford.

ESKIES' CHANCE

Chatham Boro has a chance for its first Suburban Conference victory when it invades winless Cedar Grove for a 1:30 p.m. contest, while Chatham Township will be trying for its second Mountain Valley Conference victory in a game at Ridge High in Basking Ridge at 2 p.m.

With a 4-1 record for the third week in a row, our forecasting mark is up to 19-7-1 after an extremely slow start. That figures to 73 percent correct predictions. Here's how we see Saturday's games:

Summit-14; Caldwell-6. One of the big games of the day in the Suburban Conference. Summit has exhibited tenacious defense and the ability to force and take advantage of the breaks. These are admirable qualities. The Hilltoppers also have John Wiebe's "educated toe," Wiebe already has won two

Hilltopper Soccermen Edge Caldwell 2 - 1

The Summit High soccer team won its finest victory of its highly successful season this week, coming from behind to beat previously once-beaten Caldwell, 2-1, to move into a tie with the Chiefs for third place in the tough Suburban Conference.

The Hilltoppers followed with a 1-0 victory over Madison, but a 2-0 loss to first-place Chatham dropped Summit back to fourth with an 8-4-1 conference record.

Caldwell and Summit battled to a 0-0 standoff at halftime, with the Chiefs having a slight advantage but neither team being able to convert. It took a goal by Caldwell moments into the third period to bring Summit to life. A minute later Jim Brannan came in off his right wing to lay a pass in front of the goal, where Gordo Hartley slammed it in to make it 1-1.

Bowling Roundup

Summit Rec. Men's League

On a position night, West Penn Oil maintained its three-game lead over Soccodato Builders by winning one game and tying one. Although Soccodato's outpinned West Penn Oil in the last game 943-937, the six-pins handicap given West Penn Oil brought about the tie.

This was the first game in nine nights of bowling in which the handicap affected the score. The match was evenly contested 2,731 for West Penn and 2,720 for Soccodato. Lou Rattina was top man with 203-212-604, followed by Bob Englemann 213-592 and Jim Luciano 209-224-579.

Ciba Pharmaceutical took over third place, 3½ games out of first, by taking two games from Charlins, who are now 4½ games out. Nick Mosso led the bowlers with 247-611. Fred Pita had 203-220-607. Fred's three strikes in the 10th frame of the final game provided the margin of victory.

Ciba Corporation had another good night hitting both high single game of 1,000 and high series, 2,776. Ciba was led by Nils Anderson's 218-258-630 and Ray Locke's 200-204-221-625. Jack Yarns had 210 for Larry's.

Merchant & Sons, striving games with his kicking. Hilltoppers have little momentum, while Caldwell has been sidetracked by losses to Verona and New Providence.

New Providence-20; Madison-19. Don't underrate Madison. The Dodgers could have won both games they lost in the conference with a break here or there, not to mention a reliable place kicker. New Providence turned in one of its strongest efforts in blanking Caldwell and containing the Chiefs' offense completely. Madison's offense will offer a greater challenge, but the Pioneers should have greater incentive to win.

Governor Livingston-20; Cranford-13. Cougars always seem to give highly regarded Highlander defenses fits. Governor Livingston almost stubbed its title hopes on weak Rahway, but will be more cautious with potentially dangerous Cranford. Highlanders are in high gear and want this game badly. They should get it! Cougars have no passer to match John Piccirillo and their defense is not equal to Regional's.

Chatham Boro-14; Cedar Grove-6. Eskies scored their first touchdown in conference play last week. This week they should come up with their first conference victory in their last season of conference play. A battle to escape the conference cellar and we look for the Eskies to come up the stairs first.

Summit-14; Caldwell-6. One of the big games of the day in the Suburban Conference. Summit has exhibited tenacious defense and the ability to force and take advantage of the breaks. These are admirable qualities. The Hilltoppers also have John Wiebe's "educated toe," Wiebe already has won two Chatham Township-20; Ridge-14. Gladiators have been playing fine ball, but run out of steam in the late going against teams with superior manpower. Ridge doesn't have superior manpower. Steve Burton has been sparking Chatham Township and he could make the difference.

In the closing minutes of the fourth quarter, as Caldwell got rough hoping to avoid an upset, Phil Goddard was flattened in the penalty box, and Eric Spindler scored on the ensuing penalty kick to give Summit the winning margin.

The victory over winless Madison came surprisingly hard. Again it was Spindler with the last-second heroics, converting a fourth period penalty kick for the only score of the game.

Chatham scored in the second period as Summit's offense got off to a slow start, and held a 1-0 halftime lead. The Hilltoppers began to chip away at Chatham's defenses in the second half, but could not put one in the net, and Chatham picked up an insurance goal to remain undefeated.

to get out of the cellar, swept its match with Fitterers as it hit new team high single game of 982 and three-game total of 2,739. Len England wasted a 208-222-612 effort for Fitterers. Lou Stranich hit 212-583, Art Sawyer 200 and Mert Merchant, 202, for Merchants.

Every week there has been a new leader in the individual averages, with Ray Locke taking over the top spot with 192.15. Lou Rattina has 191.18, followed by Bill MacQueston, 189.4, and Ted Mentz, 187.17.

Plaza Classic League

The Plaza Classic League had plenty of action. Joe Milelli had the night's highest series with a 637 and John Mastrobuono took the high game honors with a 241. Milelli had games of 235, 225 in his 637 set and Mastrobuono, aided by another fine game of 225, turned in a 618 series.

Ben Chocier had a good 215, 628; Niel Mottola, 233, 604; Al Kent, 222, 604, and Carmen Piccolo and Jack Lutz, both 600 even. High games were turned in by Jack Jordan, 234; Chas. DiTaranto, 226, and Dave O'Dell, 225.

Regional High Runners Share First Place

Mitch Evans, John Lee and Bill Shade finished in a tie for first place as Governor Livingston Regional High's cross-country team defeated Rahway, 25-30, last week for its ninth win in 10 meets.

The Highlanders lost their first meet of the season last week, bowing to powerful Westfield, 21-36.

Rahway took the next five places behind the Highlanders' front runners but it wasn't enough.

Steve Semago of New Providence finished first, followed Summit runner followed him across the finish line and Summit defeated the Pioneers, 23-32. It was New Providence's ninth loss in 13 meets.

In another dual meet last week, Millburn downed Summit, 17-45.

Boro Booters Rally for Tie

A goal by Al Nevins with less than five minutes to play enabled New Providence High's soccer team to salvage a 1-1 tie with Cedar Grove High last Monday in a Suburban Conference game.

Nevins' score came on a 30-yard boot. Cedar Grove had led 1-0 on a second-period goal by Lee Whitebay.

The tie was the first of the season for New Providence, which has a 5-7-1 record. The deadlock ended the Pioneers' hopes for a 500 season as they closed their season yesterday afternoon in a game with Summit.

Nevins' late goal deprived Cedar Grove of its first win of the season. The Panthers have an 0-8-5 mark.

JVs Blank Millburn Gridmen 19-0

Summit's junior varsity football team raised its record to 4-1 with a 19-0 victory over Millburn this week.

Sparked by the running of Phil Voetsch and Phil Hill, the latter contributing a 29-yard run, Summit moved 80 yards to score early in the second period. Jim Specht's 19-yard pass to Charlie Ebron in the end zone was the scoring play, to make it 6-0.

Summit's count was increased to 12 when Phil Voetsch scored from the two before halftime. Specht's 36-yard pass to Jim McCullough set up the touchdown.

The final touchdown came in the fourth quarter when a 20-yard pass from Mike Mahoney to Chuck Woodard climaxed a 65-yard drive.

Springfield to Join Suburban Conference

It was announced today that Springfield Regional High School will join the Suburban Athletic Conference, which includes Summit High, as of September 1, 1969. The school will compete in all sports except football which will begin in 1971.

Springfield Regional will replace Chatham Borough, which has been a member of the Suburban Conference since 1958. In joining the Suburban group, Springfield will leave the Watchung Conference.

The announcement was made following a meeting of the Suburban Conference held at Summit High School.

City Cage Teams Seek Registration

Registration will continue this week for teams desiring membership in the Summit Area Basketball League. An organizational meeting will be held on Monday, November 11, at Edison Recreation Center at 7:30 p.m.

An informal practice session will follow the meeting. All men in the Summit area are urged to participate in the meeting and practice. For further details, contact Timothy Tapp, assistant director of recreation during the day at CR7-4119.

The Oakwood Construction team had high team totals for the night with a 994 game and 2,798 series. Other sweeps were turned in by Crestview Lawyers Service over MicroLab/Fxr. and Heilmann's Servicer over Alfred's Sport Shop.

Frescoes Capture the Imagination Of Junior High School Students

The unusual collection of Florentine frescoes, on exhibit at the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York City, captured the interest and attention of a group of seventh grade students from the Junior High School last Wednesday.

As part of an expanded team teaching project in a unit on the Renaissance, the students were prepared in class with a background study of Italian fresco painting from the early artists, Giotto and Fra Angelico to later Renaissance artists, Michelangelo and Leonardo da Vinci. New terms pertaining to the fresco technique and the method of removing them from the walls of Florentine churches and monasteries, were studied so that the demonstration of fresco painting was more meaningful.

In conjunction with their Renaissance studies the group also visited the Italian Renaissance Galleries to see the exquisite gold cup, symbolizing the quest for knowledge, designed by Benvenuto Cellini, the famous "Goldsmith of Florence," which has been in the Metropolitan Collection since 1913.

"Later Renaissance artists of the West" techniques were observed in the Rembrandt gallery where the group saw the well known painting of Aristotle Contemplating the Bust of Homer, a relatively recent Metropolitan acquisition.

The students accompanied by their teachers, Miss Margery Houston and Mrs. Ruth Pawlick, Warren Brannon, department chairman, and two mothers, Mrs. J. K. Bangs and Mrs. S. P. Lloyd, rounded out the trip by having luncheon in the main cafeteria of the museum.

Seniors Fear Costumes?

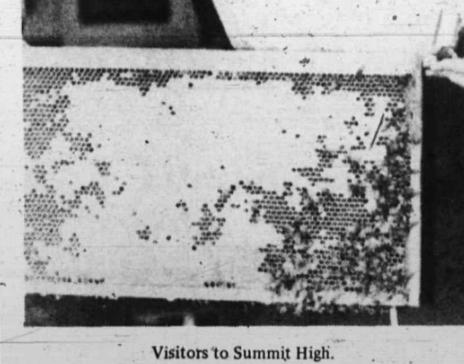

At a past Senior class meeting which preceded the class party of October 26, a controversy arose concerning the theme of the senior party. A problem originated when several seniors objected to the theme "Seniors '69 Pumpkin Party." Protest was directed at the suggestion that seniors should dress up in costumes and join in typical Halloween festivities rather than having the traditional coat and tie clad students attend the traditional local band dance. But the innovation was dropped in the interest of the students who questioned the maturity of the people who wanted to dress up to enjoy themselves. Hence, after later class discussions the theme was changed to "United '69," with the idea in mind of bringing the class together in spirit, in friendship and in understanding.

Music Department Continues Activities

The students of Summit High School had the privilege of being an active part of three enjoyable events. The first of these involved a French opera. On Friday, October 19, Mr. Warren Brannan, along with 19 students, went on a very exciting trip to New York. They had the pleasure of seeing a working rehearsal of "Romeo and Juliet" at the Metropolitan Opera House. Gounod is the composer of the opera performed in French. A working rehearsal is similar to a dress rehearsal in that if something is not just right, the players are stopped and a correction is made. Everyone thought this was a very worthwhile experience.

Leadership is not something tangible that you can see or touch," said Mr. Arthur De Brito, Art Department Chairman at Summit High, to a group of fourteen students at a meeting of the Leadership Discussion Group.

Magazine Drive Again Proves Great Success

Every year Summit High School holds a magazine drive in which magazine subscriptions are sold by the students. The commissions received from selling the subscriptions are the sole source of income for the Student Council and for this reason, the drive is important to the student body.

CAR TOPICS
for lady pedal pushers
LIGHTS RIGHT? How long has it been since someone has a left turn in front of you without signaling? Probably not since yesterday. You snarled at him for not using his turn signals, but did it occur to you that maybe his turn signals were out of order, and he didn't even know it? Incidentally, are yours working? For some reason, we seem to know less about what lights are working on our cars than about anything else. When you hit the brake pedal, do you really know whether or not your brake lights turn on? How many drivers have mumbled to themselves about you recently? Burned out lights account for most discrepancies in reports from diagnostic centers around the country. Even the driver whose lights all burn like blazes may have his lighting problems, too. Improperly aimed headlights. This is the driver who appears to have his high beams on as he leads you way. But your up-and-down flash warning finds that those were his low beams blinding you - aimed too high. Meanwhile, there is someone else groping along, unable to see because his lights - at least one of them - has drooped so low it can't light the road ahead. Drooped. That's the term. For headlights can do just that, even if it is barely perceptible to you. But they are adjustable devices which mechanics can keep aimed where they should be aimed. Too high, too low, or too much to one side or another, and a driver is temporarily blinded, for all intents and purposes. The adjustment should be checked every six months. If your man is properly equipped, he will have an electronic checker to keep you right on the beam. It will tell him if your beams are up to power, too. Headlamps can lose their brilliance after a while. Whether your lights are out, drooping or crossed, they are trouble for you if they are not up to snuff. Better have them checked now.

Report From Trenton
From Sen. Matthew J. Rinaldo
Union County Senate Delegation Leader
Letters have been mailed to all municipalities in the state informing the governing bodies of the amounts that will be given the communities under Public Law C.302. More commonly known as the sales tax return law, this act was a key plank in my program to aid municipalities. As principal sponsor of this law, I am gratified to report that Union County will receive a total of $1,994,445.00 as its share of the $25 million that will be distributed. I regard enactment of this bill into law as the crowning achievement of my first year as a State Senator. Not only has it enabled me to fulfill a campany's second most populous community, will receive $203,690.44. Plainfield, which stands third in population, will get $179,290.62. The amounts for other Union County communities are: Berkeley Heights, $34,493.57; Clark, $48,234.01; Cranford, $104,513.02; Fairwood, $31,495.50; Garwood, $21,461.08; Hillside, $88,217.47; Kenilworth, $33,140.88; Linden, $157,936.33; Mountainside, $25,016.84; New Providence, $40,513.43; Rahway, $103,555.94; Roselle, $83,186.42; Roselle Park, $49,622.33; Scotch Plains, $73,136.18; Springfield, $57,220.33; Summit, $93,643.00; Westfield, $124,380.15; and Winfield, $9,721.96. Implementation of this proposal represents the first time the state has established a program under which municip-

Book Fair Set For Next Week At Lincoln

"Holiday Festival of Books" is the theme chosen for Lincoln School's 16th annual Book Fair, to be held in the school gymnasium Tuesday, from 8:45 to 6 p.m. Proceeds go toward new books for the school library.

Co-chairmen Mrs. Ernest S. Kachline and Mrs. Allen S. Dayton promise a fine selection of classics, fiction, non-fiction, and children's award books for pupils from kindergarten through sixth grade, books for the teenager as well as holiday gift books for the adults.

Treasurer for the fair will be Mrs. Robert Blood. Mrs. Frank J. McBride will handle publicity. Mrs. Donald Braender will head the following group of volunteers who will be on hand the two days: Mrs. David Close, Mrs. David Hill, Mrs. Charles Horn, Mrs. Warren Kimber, Mrs. Theodore Lemcke, Mrs. James Lyons, Mrs. William Mackie, Mrs. Thomas Maehl, Mrs. Thomas Sieben and Mrs. William Strain.

Flicks Return To High School

This year Summit High has initiated a new film program. The concept involved is that the students can benefit more readily from any literature they might read if they are also able to see the movie of what they have read. As a result of this program, six movie assemblies have been scheduled. Different grades will see different films. November 18, "The Caine Mutiny" will be shown, on December 9, "All the King's Men"; on January 6, "Death of a Salesman"; and on March 17, "Cyrano de Bergerac."

Nature Club Schedules Trip To Virginia Wildlife Refuge

The Nature Club will conduct a three-day field trip to the Chincoteague National Wildlife Refuge, Va., on November 9-11. The trip will be led by Harold F. Flanders, first vice-president of the club. The refuge contains 9,030 acres in Virginia and 417 acres of salt marsh islands in Maryland. The topography of the area is typical of the barrier islands of the Middle Atlantic Coast. It ranges from sandy dunes to vast salt marshes, large areas of pine and oak, and fresh water impoundments developed to attract waterfowl.

and 23 mammal species, the most famous being the "wild ponies of Chincoteague." Last year on this field trip the members of the Summit Nature Club observed 102 species of birds, including the brown-headed nuthatch and the boat-tailed grackle. Rendezvous will be 8 a.m. November 9 at the Mariner Motel, closest motel to the ocean. Anyone interested in joining this trip should contact Harold Crandall of Lake Hiawatha at 335-4623.

The first passenger elevator in an office building was installed in the old Equitable Life Assurance Building in New York in 1869, thus starting the skyscraper building boom.

Central Church Scouts Hold Court of Honor

Boy Scout Troop 62, Central Presbyterian Church, continued its fall activities with a Court of Honor on October 21, and a Camporee on October 26 and 27. Highlight of the Court of Honor was the Tenderfoot Investiture of ten new scouts, a ceremony in which the parents of the boys took part. Joining the troop were: John Hammel, Hans Henning, Eric Hillenbrand, Alan Kaiser, Don and Tom Kennedy, Scott Lamm, Jim Larsen, Tom Morgenstern, and Leon Portine. Three boys, Steven Whitely, Tim Herman and Tim Hagborg became First Class Scouts.

Seven Merit Badges were awarded to four boys: Glen Johnson received three: camping, cooking and conservation of natural resources; Tim Hagborg two: first aid and public health; Robert Thames for nature and Jim Pecca for conservation of natural resources.

Paul Sabo, an Eagle Scout, received the Bronze Palm. Stokes State Forest was the site of the Ranger District Camporee. Twenty-Four scouts, accompanied by leaders, Dave Graham, Gerry Walker and Bill Stover went on the week-end trip. A ten-event scout rally provided competition for the boys in such activities as knot tying, water boiling, flint and steel, log raising, map and compass and first aid.
