

Annual Memorial Day Parade This Monday

The city's Memorial Day Parade will be held Monday, May 26, with Col. Robert E. Woodward, retired principal of the Junior High School, and Common Council President Frank H. Lehr as parade marshalls.

Among the groups planning to participate in the parade are the Police Honor Guard and the High School Band, as well as the Overlook Hospital Women's Auxiliary, who will kick-off the city's Bicentennial celebration with a presentation of "1776" in December.

The parade will begin at 10 a.m. from the Kemper Insurance parking lot and proceed along DeForest avenue to Summit avenue, Springfield avenue to Chestnut avenue, and on Broad street to the Village Green, where ceremonies will take place at the War Memorial.

Organizations wishing to participate in the line of march should contact Edward H. Kaus, chairman of the Mayor's Celebration Committee, which is sponsoring the event, at 277-1399.

PREPARING FOR CENTENNIAL — As part of United Counties Trust Company's bicentennial celebration, the Bennington flag this week was presented to Leo O'Grady, center, chairman of the city's Bicentennial Committee by Phillip S. Ward, vice-president. Looking on are Miss Margaret A. McGowan, assistant vice-president, United Counties Trust; Dr. Murray Ross, Councilman, Ward 1, and Martin Egan, building inspector. The official symbol of the nation's 200th anniversary, the flag will be flown at Truaxess Memorial Park on Springfield avenue. The Bennington flag can also be obtained at City Hall and Roy's Hobby and Toy Shop. They will be in most sizes. (Wollin photo)

Rt. 78 Alignment Option Could Have Local Affect

by Anne Plaut

Some of the alternative alignments for Route 78 being considered by the Department of Transportation will affect Summit, it was disclosed in a speech by Transportation Commissioner Alan Sagner before the Rotary Club Monday.

When asked by this reporter after the meeting about the affected areas, Mr. Sagner said he could not respond specifically.

A telephone call by The HERALD to Helen Newhouse, director of the DOT's Office of Community Involvement, confirmed the fact that Summit land figures into some of the nine alternative alignments under consideration for the highway.

Mrs. Newhouse said that representatives from DOT will be in Summit in June to inform the community of the effects of these alternative alignments.

She declined to be more specific, she said, because final plans, charts and determinations have not yet been made. She did say, however, there was "no reason for anyone in Summit to panic."

Mrs. Newhouse also said the Summit alternatives involve some "private property," including perhaps a couple of homes.

Original hearings on the alignment and interchanges for Route 78 were held late in 1973. Because of the more than 300 critical comments received from citizens, objecting to the use of Watchung Reservation, as well as complaints of air pollution, noise factors and drainage considerations, the Department of Transportation was ordered by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency to return to the drawing boards

$500 Gift Pushes Annual Camp Fund Toward $1,900

New donations, including a $500 gift from the Convalescent Fund Committee of Summit, have pushed the 27th annual Summit Herald

Fresh Air Camp Fund close to the $1,900 mark.

As of Tuesday, new contributions for the week totalling $870 brought the drive to the $1,828 level.

The Convalescent Fund, which traces its history to the Civil War, has donated $500 to the Camp Fund each year for the last 10 years. It is always given in memory of Mrs. Frank C. Wight, a longtime and much admired member of the Convalescent Fund Committee.

Other donations this week came from the Kiwanis Club, another annual donor, $100, Christ Child Society, $25; and the Towne Club Bridge Club, $15. Other contributions were received from Mrs. Harry S. Rock, $50; Homer F. Locke, $25; Janet L. Mecke, $25; Jean M. Ritchie, $25; Mr. and Mrs. George E. Hartz, $30; Minnie O. Schwannhauser, $15; Edward I. Sampson, $10; Donald C. Ryan, $15; Alene B. Ryan, $10; Helen C. McCann, $10; Mr. and Mrs.

Midnight Lunar Party Saturday

The first lunar eclipse visible from Summit in over three years, and the best of the decade, will begin late "Saturday" evening, May 24th, one minute after midnight.

While this eclipse may be viewed from backyards anywhere in North America, the Reed-Reeves Arboretum is hosting a nocturnal gathering on the Wisner House lawn on Hobart avenue from midnight until two a.m. The community is invited.

As the full moon moves into the earth's shadow, Rev. Allen Tinker will present an illustrated lecture on the eclipse and will lead the group on a tour of the Spring constellations above the Arboretum.

Guests should bring a lawn chair, blanket, and binoculars to the event. Photographers who wish to try to add a copper-red-photo of the moon to their collection should load a camera with fast color film, attach their longest telephoto lens, and bring a tripod.

In the event of rain or heavy cloud cover, Mr. Tinker will postpone his lecture until the evening of July 6, 1982 when again the moon will pass as deep into the earth's shadow.

Overlook Rehab Centers Get OK

by Anne Plaut

Overlook Hospital's controversial Drug and Alcohol Rehabilitation Centers can now become operational, following Common Council approval Tuesday night.

The Council, in a 4-1 vote, gave the hospital the green light for the operation of the alcohol center, at 27 Upper Overlook road, and the drug center, at 57 Overlook road, climaxing a 2½-year controversy. In attempts to prevent the centers from operating, residents of the area appealed the Zoning Board's granting of a variance. The matter was remanded back to the board by Superior Court Judge William F.

Dreier because of procedural deficiencies — namely, lack of sufficient notice.

When that mandate was met, the judge retained jurisdiction in the matter, but directed Common Council to act on the matter as if it were a variance, rather than the special exception usage, which the Zoning Board had decided upon at the time of the remand. The Council action Tuesday night fulfilled the court mandate.

Only one Councilman from Ward 2, where the hospital is located, Dr. Luther Roehm, voted on the proposal. The other two Ward 2 representatives abstained because of possible conflicts of interest — Councilman Alfred E. Schretter was a member of the Zoning Board which approved the original variance request, and Councilman Watson B. Smith said his company, Nordling Dean, does occasional business with the hospital.

Others voting for the variances were Council President Frank Lehr, Dr. Murray Ross and Naomi Faison.

Councilman James E. Lovett of Ward 1 cast the dissenting vote. In a lengthy statement explaining his dissent, Mr. Lovett took issue with several of the Council's findings of fact. He argued, for instance, that the hospital had not proven, as evidenced by the transcripts of the hearings, that special and compelling reasons exist for the granting of the variance.

Specifically, he said the hospital had not demonstrated to his satisfaction the need for the facilities. He also questioned whether the centers "would be a logical extension of hospital-related services" and "would not have a substantial detrimental effect on the surrounding neighborhood or the City of Summit."

Mr. Lovett also suggested the centers may be a detriment to the surrounding property owners, as well as to the city's zoning ordinance.

The Council members voting in the majority made no statement.

Lyle E. Fox of 7 Lower Overlook road, said he and other residents of the area were "unhappy with the decision." He refused to comment further about whether there would be an appeal.

In other business, the Council, by a 6-0 vote, defeated its ordinance for a fire prevention code, on which a hearing had been conducted two weeks ago. In explaining the ordinance's defeat, Mrs. Faison said the code needed to be "tailored and updated" to meet the needs of the community, particularly CIBA-Geigy and Overlook Hospital. Representatives from both these institutions opposed the code at the Council hearing held previously.

Mrs. Faison said an ordinance proposing a new code will be presented at the next Council meeting.

The Council unanimously passed a resolution opposing Assembly Bill No. 3362, which would allow a community-based residence for the mentally retarded or the mentally ill in any area zoned for single family dwellings.

The Council based its opposition to the bill on the grounds it removes the right from municipalities to control the "proper and adequate location of such community-based residences."

Public welfare committee chairman Dr. Murray Ross said this does not mean the council is opposed to such facilities. He

Passaic Avenue Residents Wary

by Anne Plaut

It seems as if the residents of Passaic avenue will never be able to breathe free, secure in the knowledge their road will not be widened.

On Monday, May 12, a work crew from the county engineer's office in Elizabeth began to "repair" and widen a shoulder on Passaic avenue. As soon as it was discovered, residents were on the telephone to City Hall, complaining of the widening.

Council representatives told Passaic avenue residents Tuesday night that within hours of the incident one councilman — James E. Lovett — had been in touch with Elizabeth and had the work stopped.

Although the Council Tuesday night reiterated its position that it is opposed to the widening of any county roads within the city, the residents did not seem to take comfort from the assurances.

The incident on May 12 was explained in terms of a "community-based" according to Council President Frank Lehr.

Ross Anzaldi, of 12 Shadyside avenue,

Democratic candidate for Councilman-at-Large, asked what steps the council has taken to interpret local views to the county.

He was unsatisfied with the reiteration of the events that took place on May 12, referring to a letter from Freeholder William J. McCloud, chairman of the planning and development committee for the county.

Mr. McCloud explained the repairs were not authorized by his committee and he repeated a pledge made at the Democratic-sponsored traffic forum held recently in the city to seek out prior municipal discussion before undertaking any major renovation or one which would substantially change existing conditions.

Answering Mr. Anzaldi, Councilman Lovett said the city, twice within the last year, has gone on record as opposing widening of Passaic avenue. He suggested that any initiative, regarding county roads, beyond the city's stated position, rests with county officials, a view the other council members seemed to share.

Councilman Alfred Schretter referred to Mayor Elmer J. Bennett's testimony at a hearing held several months ago in Elizabeth by the Union County Planning Board. The Mayor expressed the city's opposition to the widening of county roads within its borders.

Nonetheless, residents were not at all cheered to hear Council President Frank Lehr declare that the county could do whatever it wanted on its roads, although it was not likely it would undertake any action

Board, Teachers Set Meeting Date

The date for the first meeting between the Board of Education and the Summit Education Association at which the Public Employees Relations Commission-appointed mediator will be present is May 28, it was announced at last week's board meeting.

The P.E.R.C. mediator is Charles Sobol of New York who has reportedly participated in several other New Jersey negotiating sessions for P.E.R.C.

Gerald Dorf, a labor relations lawyer, with offices in Newark and Rahway, will be representing the board in the negotiations. A resolution, approving the appointment, was formally adopted by the board at its meeting last Thursday night. Mr. Dorf, who will be paid $70 per hour for his services, has represented many other New Jersey boards, including Roselle Park, Jersey City, Fort Lee, Teaneck and Princeton Regional.

Because the S.E.A. reported to P.E.R.C. early in April that it had reached a state of "impasse," a situation with which the board eventually concurred, Mr. Sobol has been

School Board Cites Objections to Code

The Board of Education has called for the withdrawal of the Administrative Code, drawn up by the State Department of Education for the implementation of the "thorough and efficient" section of the State Constitution regarding public education, because it is in need of "extensive revisions."

The Administrative Code is a 26-page document, written by the State Department of Education, setting forth guidelines for the achievement of the "thorough and efficient" education, as required by the State Constitution. A 1972 decision by Superior Court Judge Theodore Botter declared the present method of school financing unconstitutional and called upon the legislature to

A. E. Linton, $10, and an anonymous gift of $5.

At this time last year when the fund was in its fourth week, contributions stood at the $2,200 mark.

In 1974 a total of 89 boys and girls received two-week camp vacations through funds received.

Since its beginning in 1949, the Summit Herald Fresh Air Fund has provided nearly 2,700 local boys and girls with two-week vacations at nearby Scout and Y camps. Contributions during the last 26 years have reached nearly $70,000.

The Fund operates on a non-profit basis and makes no solicitations nor conducts any mail appeal. There are no administrative expenses and all money received goes directly to paying camping expenses.

Donations Acknowledged
All contributions received are acknowledged weekly in the Herald, unless otherwise specified and immediately turned over to the Family Service Association. The association has sole use of the donations, makes the camp selections and operates the camp program.

Those who receive two-week vacations are usually boys and girls who otherwise would remain in the city during the summer because of family financial difficulties. Others who are chosen come from broken or foster homes.

Contributions should be forwarded to the Summit Herald, 22 Bank street, Summit, New Jersey 07901. Checks should be made payable to the "Summit Herald Fresh Air Fund."

It sets forth the Council's position they should not be "foisted" upon a community unless it is willing to accept them. He also said the community should have some say about the areas in which the facilities will be located.

Dr. Ross declined to comment on this statute as compared to the statute upon which the Barrett House decision was based because he did not want to "prejudice" the Zoning Board's action.

The Zoning Board is awaiting a copy of the Superior Court judge's decision, in favor of Barrett House, before proceeding further in what is almost certain to be an appeal.

CHILD CARE CENTER GIFT—Donald J. Storch, director of Community Relations for the Pharmaceutical Division of CIBA-GEIGY presents a check for $16,500 on behalf of the firm to Mrs. Phyllis Sank, president of the Child Care Center toward construction of its new facility at 95 Morris avenue. Looking on are Melanie Burgess and Damon Burgess.

CIBA-GEIGY Donates $16,500 For Child Facility

"The Summit Child Care Center provides an important service to industry and others," Donald J. Storch, director of public relations for the Pharmaceuticals Division of CIBA-GEIGY Corporation commented this week as he presented the Company's contribution to the Center.

CIBA-GEIGY gave $16,500 designated for an infant nursery room in the Center's proposed new building. Mr. Storch said the company was "extremely pleased to participate in the campaign and it gives us satisfaction to know that we have been of assistance to working parents by supporting the important program of the Summit Child Care Center."

Mrs. Phyllis Sank, president of the Center, accepted the check from Mr. Storch and said, "This Center's proposed new building. Mr. Storch said the new building at 95 Morris avenue will have two infant nursery rooms and a toddler room as well as six rooms for preschoolers. At present the three age groups are scattered in three different locations with an additional after-school center in Washington School.

In addition to the home rooms for children, the building will house a comprehensive child-care system which will serve as a model for the many day care centers now being set up in New Jersey to meet the increasing needs of working mothers.

This comprehensive system will include health services provided by Overlook Hospital personnel, family counseling and parenting services set up in cooperation with Family Service that met with wide-spread opposition. When a Passaic avenue resident asked that speed limits be lowered from the present 40 m.p.h., he was told that a Department of Transportation survey recommended the present speeds be retained, despite the fact that the average speed on the road is 35 m.p.h.

In other action, Council introduced ordinances which will require Environmental Impact statements for all major subdivisions in residential zones of more than three lots and on all site plans in excess of 20,000 square feet, except for single family residential zones.

The ordinances would also require environmental impact studies in all areas designated as flood hazards, including flood fringe and flood plain areas.

The ordinances carry waiver provisions if the applicant can show substantial economic hardship. Public hearings will be held at the June 17 Council meeting.

Scott Miller and Brian Fitzgerald were appointed Probationary Police Officers, at an annual salary of $11,720. The two positions were included in the 1975 appropriations budget.

Association, career development training courses for teachers, student and volunteers in conjunction with neighboring colleges. A network of family day care homes will also be established and supervised from the new Center for children who should be in small family groups. "This is an important resource for our community," observed Mr. Storch.

Firing a Gun Brings Arrest

A Summit man was arrested Saturday night for discharging a firearm within city limits. He is Solomon Gethers, 55, of 159 Broad street, who was arrested at about 11:45 p.m. Saturday for discharging a gun in an apartment on Glenwood place.

Because the police could not locate the weapon that discharged the arms, Mr. Gethers is being charged with violation of a local ordinance, rather than possession of a weapon.

A witness in the second-floor apartment said that Mr. Gethers had discharged a firearm and it went through the floor of the apartment into a downstairs apartment, according to a police account.

During investigation by the police, Mr. Gethers was also found to be in possession of less than 25 grams of marijuana for which he is being charged with a disorderly persons offense.

He was released on his own recognizance. A hearing in municipal court will be held June 4.

Jefferson Plants Tree

This year's Arbor Day tree was planted on the Jefferson School grounds with a Schwedler red maple given by the Summit Garden Club.

The Student Council of Jefferson School was joined by Charles Hamilton, Principal, Mrs. Sam Atkinson and Mrs. Charles Clarke, jr. of the Garden Club, to assist in the planting.

appointed to be the mediator.

After negotiations between the two groups are concluded, Mr. Sobol will issue a report on his recommendations. If the parties are not able to come to agreement, the case will enter the "fact-finding" stage where a panel of arbitrators will be appointed by P.E.R.C. to try to ameliorate the situation.

The expenses of the P.E.R.C. negotiators are being underwritten by the state, which will also be the case if the situation proceeds to the fact-finding stage. The P.E.R.C. recommendations are not binding upon either side.

Curran Fete

"Friends of Barbara Curran" will hold a reception and cocktail party in support of the Republican Assemblywoman's re-election on Sunday, from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m., at Rod's 1890 Ranch House, Convent Station, it was announced today.

State, County and Municipal officials throughout the 24th District, which includes Summit, are expected to join with friends and supporters in honoring the Summit Legislator, who is seeking re-election in the June 3 primary contest. Arrangements include refreshments, hors d'oeuvres, and musical entertainment. Tickets will be available at the door.

Mr. Gast, who has served in the Summit school system for more than 42 years, had also been principal of the high school and the junior high school.

The board passed a resolution, expressing its "sincere appreciation and gratitude for his contribution to the youth of the city. Mr. Gast was presented with the Shuart Reed Memorial Award in 1972.

Code

define "thorough and efficient" education. In a letter, dated April 23, to Dr. William A. Shine, assistant commissioner of education, Dr. Lemuel C. Leeper, president of the local board, cited four objections the board has to the document.

Among the boards objections are:
1. The "broad coverage and undefined terms" have the "potential" to result in an "unprecedented and undesirable control and interference" by the state in local practices and procedures.

2. The code assumes to define processes for achieving goals, which the board feels is "more appropriately a local determination."

3. Because of some of the provisions of the code, the expanded use of non-certified personnel will require the "unnecessary expenditure of additional money at the local level, running counter to the stated goal of an 'efficient' educational system."

4. The required paperwork, as called for in the code, will necessitate additional personnel and expenses at the local level, to insure the effectiveness of the proposed system.

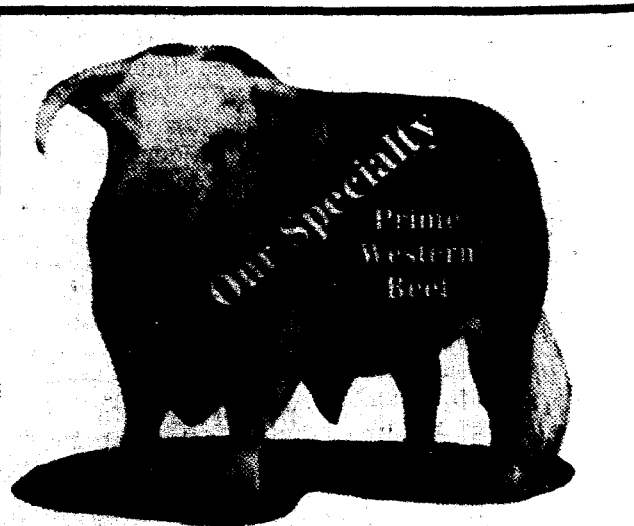

In a prepared statement, read at the meeting, Wilmer H. Kingsford said "this Code, or its amended version will gain credibility only when appropriate financial resources are mandated to the State Department of Education."

He went on to add that because "this mandate has not been effected by the Governor and the Legislature, nothing of a definitive nature may be concluded at this time."

In other action, the board, accepted "with regret" the retirement of Alton J. Gast, formerly the principal of Washington School and currently on medical leave of absence, effective June 30.

Mr. Gast, who has served in the Summit school system for more than 42 years, had also been principal of the high school and the junior high school.

The board passed a resolution, expressing its "sincere appreciation and gratitude for his contribution to the youth of the city. Mr. Gast was presented with the Shuart Reed Memorial Award in 1972.

Expanded School Day Faces First and Second Graders

Summit's incoming first- and second-graders should brace themselves for an expanded school day, beginning in September, as a result of action taken by the Board of Education Thursday night.

The board voted to extend the school closing time, beginning in September, to 3 p.m. for first and second-grade students. At present, these youngsters are dismissed at 2:30 p.m., one half hour earlier than the other students.

The expanded school day is being inaugurated, said the board, to "accommodate an expanding curriculum" and to give Summit students an instructional day "more in line with that experienced by their counterparts in other suburban districts."

The board also adopted a 183-day school calendar for next year, which has the approval of the S.E.A., said Dr. Richard L. Flander, superintendent of schools.

The main differences from previous years are that Martin Luther King's birthday, an official school holiday, which falls on January 15, will be observed on Friday, January 16, so that the schools can be closed for a longer weekend to effect a fuel savings and a two-day orientation period for all teachers prior to the opening of the school for students.

Teachers had requested the addition so they would have more time to prepare for the students' arrival.

In other business, the board's arrangement with Overlook Hospital for the provision of medical services to school students at no cost, was criticized by Mrs. Jean Paashaus, a member of the Taxpayers' Association three-member panel that is observing board of education affairs, on the grounds that it takes the control of these examinations out of the hands of the school board.

In the past, the board had employed three physicians, on a part-time basis, to provide examinations for students participating in interscholastic sports and for those who did not have access to a private physician for other required examinations.

Claiming that the new arrangement will provide "better service than before," Dr. Flander said it was unanimously approved by the board.

Cedar St. Building Halt Sought By City

The Zoning Board was scheduled to appear in Superior Court today in an attempt to permanently halt construction on a partially completed building at 5-7 Cedar street.

Arthur P. Condon, counsel to the Zoning Board, and attorneys for Dr. Leonard Moore, a dentist, of Westfield, will be presenting arguments before Judge William DiBuono at the County Courthouse in Elizabeth, at 10 a.m. today.

It is expected that the appearance before Judge DiBuono may resolve some of the unusual aspects of the case.

These include the departure from the original terms of the variance, granted in 1972, for the construction of the building, resulting in an addition of 600 square feet on each of the two floors of the building; the withdrawal of this "authorization" with the arrival of a new Building Inspector, Martin J. Egan, early this year; a denial by the Zoning Board of a variance to allow the

On another matter the Taxpayers' Association has been pressing lately, Robert Kelly asked whether the board had received a written legal opinion from the board's counsel, McCarter and English, regarding the special meetings it called last year on at least five occasions without prior public notice.

Upon being told the board did not have the opinion in writing, Mr. Kelly suggested it be obtained, noting that the legal reasoning behind a decision is informative.

additional space to be used; and a jurisdictional struggle between the Zoning Board's counsel, Mr. Condon, and the City Solicitor, Russell T. Kerby, who reportedly ordered the building inspector to issue a temporary building permit about four weeks ago so that construction on the building could be resumed.

On May 7, the Zoning Board was granted a temporary injunction by Judge DiBuono, halting construction on the Cedar street site. Sources close to the situation this week indicated, however, that "there is some doubt about whether actual construction" has stopped.

Mr. Condon also indicated there is "almost a one hundred per cent certainty" that the verdict of Superior Court Judge Cuddie Davidson, handed down on April 18, ordering Mr. Egan, as building inspector, to issue a certificate of occupancy for Barrett House, would be appealed.

The board is still waiting to receive the judge's written opinion before making its final decision, according to Mr. Condon.

HONORED—Charles W. Better, right, listens as Charles H. Ackley, vice-chairman of the board at City Federal Savings and Loan Association, traces Mr. Better's career during a dinner party in Mr. Better's honor which marked his 40th anniversary of service with the association. Mr. Better is senior vice-president and member of the City Federal's board of directors, Hill City Division; The dinner, held at the Fiddler's Elbow Country Club, Bedminster, was attended by more than 450 employees and officers of City Federal, Gilbert G. Roessner, of Lenox road, president of City Federal, served as toastmaster and, on behalf of the association, presented Better with a color television. Mr. Better began his banking career with the former Hill City Savings and Loan in 1935 as a teller at the association's Summit office. Throughout his career, he has served in various administrative capacities and, in 1971, when City Federal Savings merged with Hill City, Better was elected Senior Vice President at City Federal, the State's largest savings and loan association. A resident of Berkeley Heights, Mr. Better is a graduate of the Garden State Chapter of the Institute of Financial Education.

Park Commission Seeks To Minimize Watchung Damage

Metcalf and Eddy, consultants for the Union County Park Commission, will seek to reach alternative proposals that will minimize detrimental effects on the natural environment and recreational uses of the Watchung Reservation.

This was the assurance given the audience at a public hearing on May 15 arranged by the Park Commission, in the auditorium of the Trailside Nature and Science Center in the Reservation, in connection with the hydrologic and environmental study concerning proposals for flood water detention in the Reservation, combined with completion of Interstate Route 78 through the parklands.

The study includes an evaluation of all of the proposals for flood water detention facilities and the storm water run-off from Route 78. Much of the comment from the public at the hearing related to concern over erosion and water run-off, including the Deserted Village area, and possible destruction of wildlife sanctuaries in the Watchung Reservation.

The consultant firm's study is now in an inventory phase, and later will go into an assessment phase, in which the interrelationship of the detention basin and highway projects and a variety of factors will be evaluated. The audience was told that the firm is receiving cooperation from both the United States

Army Corps of Engineers in the flood water control problem, and the New Jersey Department of Transportation in the highway project.

Plan Board's Hospital Zone Hearing Runs Into Trouble

The Planning Board's hearing last Wednesday on a proposed hospital zone for Overlook Hospital in residential area of the city drew strong opposition from area residents.

The hearing, which lasted about 2 1/2 hours, attracted more than 100 residents who were there at the invitation of the Planning Board who wanted to hear citizens' reactions to the proposed zone, which was prepared by Boorman and Dorram, Inc., of Montclair, community planning and development consultants.

The Planning Board has scheduled no official action on the proposal for the near future. Sometime after the meeting, it was learned from Martin Egan, secretary to the board, that it will be considering the comments made last week and the hospital's recommendations for sometime. It will probably be September before a Planning Board recommendation is sent to Common Council, which must, by law, conduct public hearings before any zoning change is instituted.

The creation of a hospital zone is believed to be a certainty by some observers of the situation, although the eventual zone to be created is thought to be considerably smaller than what the hospital has proposed.

Immediately after last month's Planning Board meeting, copies of the planners' report were made available to the public. It alters the timetable for the completion of hospital expansion into three phases, the last of which would begin in 1985, and includes three tower apartments for hospital personnel; a nursing school; parking lots; garden apartments; doctors' offices; and a new wing to the hospital.

Mrs. Margaret Thurler of 11 Lower Overlook road said if the hospital's plans are implemented, the area should be labeled "Tower City."

"Not only has Pandora's Box been opened, if this development is approved," said Mrs. Thurler, "but the lid has been removed permanently."

She contended the hospital zone has become "so broad" that its original design as a "safeguard" has been eliminated.

Robert J. Wolfenbarger, of 30 Harvery drive, called on the city to engage a private planner to provide "an independent, objective assessment of the costs and benefits of this development plan and zone."

He suggested that "any satisfactory solution" to the hospital's recommendation would have to answer questions concerning long-term costs to the city for servicing the expanded facility, present and projected benefits of the development; and the effect on the tax structure of the "projected displacement of tax-paying private property."

Lyle E. Fox, of 7 Lower Overlook road, and president of the Summit Taxpayers' Association, said the residents his organization poled were opposed to the plan. He objected to the city's assumption of the financial burden of providing services for surrounding communities because although the hospital is a tax-exempt institution, only 13 per cent of the hospital patients are local residents.

Others who spoke said the proposed zone will eliminate their homes and wanted to know where they would go if they had to move.

One of the few residents to speak in favor of the plan, Mrs. George Sullivan of 6 Hartley road, a volunteer at the hospital, pointed out the hospital now provides services that formerly could be obtained only in New York City.

Breast Cancer Is Talk Topic

The YWCA will present a lecture, film, discussion program, "Breast Cancer: Detection, Treatments, and Recovery," on Wednesday, June 4, at 9:30 a.m.

Liz Boye of the YWCA will discuss "Encore," a pilot program sponsored by the national YWCA. The patient, with her surgeon's approval, can enroll in "Encore" the third week after surgery and participate in exercises, group discussion, and swimming. YWCA membership is not required, nor are swimming skills.

The second speaker will be a local physician who will discuss various types of diagnosis, surgery, and treatment of breast cancer.

Eleanor Nordwin, Reach-to-Recovery coordinator for the New Jersey Division of the American Cancer Society, will discuss Reach-to-Recovery, in which volunteers who have undergone breast surgery visit patients in the hospital who have just had similar operations. In addition, Mrs. Nordwin will show a film on breast self-examination. The speakers will be available for questions following the presentations.

The program is free and open to the public.

St. Andrew's Presents Play

St. Andrew's Theater Group, Murray Hill, began rehearsals this week on a mystery-farce called "Afraid of the Dark," the first straight play for the group.

"Afraid of the Dark" is basically the story of a young couple who arrive one June evening at an isolated country estate to begin their honeymoon, and the strange assortment of characters they find wandering through the mansion after the lights, mysteriously turned off, go on again.

The leading players are Jack Gentul, Marion Meister, Lew Stone, Ruth Melchiorre, Dave

MacPherson, Joe Barefoot, Lita Dority, Jane Brandt, Norman Wallerstein, Al Garafalo and Jane O'Dell.

David Shreve directing the play, and Patti Pickens Shreve is producing.

This production is to be a benefit for the Overlook Hospital Chaplaincy Service.

"Afraid of the Dark" will be presented at St. Andrew's Parish Hall, 419 South Street, Murray Hill, on June 20, 21, 27 and 28 at 8:30 p.m.

The Union County Republic Party will hold its annual Golf Day on Monday, June 2, at the Plainfield Country Club. Tickets may be obtained from GOP headquarters, 108 Central avenue, Westfield.

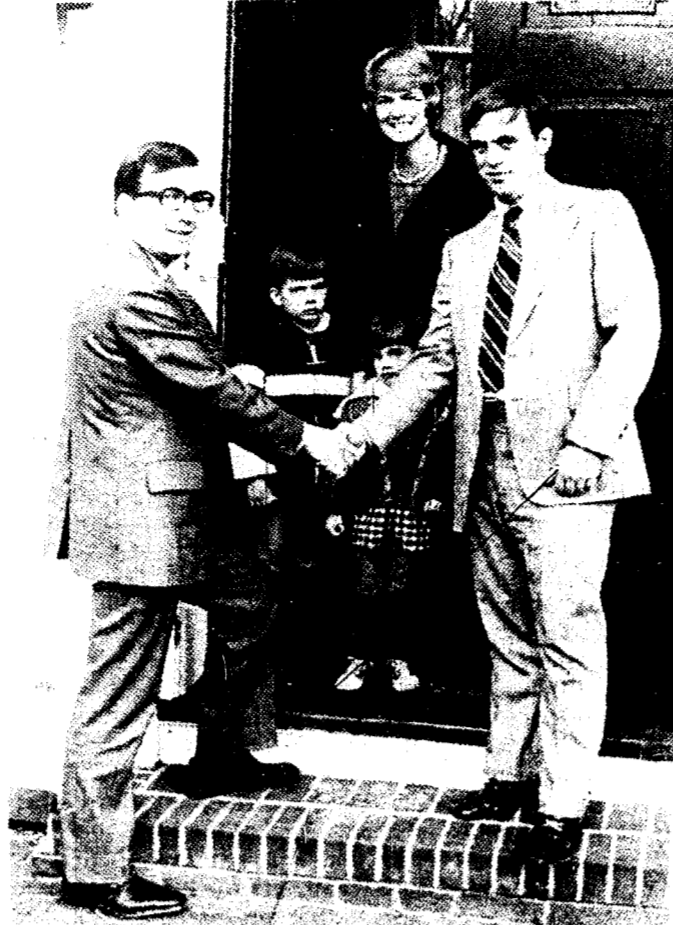

Traffic Worries Button

Thomas W. Button, Ward 2 Republican candidate for Common Council declared his concern over traffic problems facing Summit.

Button stated, "as a candidate for Council, most of my comments during the past weeks have emphasized one basic theme — how do we best face the changes and forces both external and internal that challenge the residential character of our town. Obviously we cannot and do not want to avoid all change, but we must make intelligent decisions before committing ourselves to a future path the consequences of which might not be in our best interests. "As we strive to keep Summit the excellent, liveable community it is, the control of traffic on our streets has to be one of the major concerns.

"Much of our control over speed limits and traffic control measures such as stop signs, or traffic lights is limited by the authority of the State. But we can still exert a large measure of influence in determining what is best for our area.

"The first step is to continue and expand our enforcement of speed limits. Since the state sets our speed limits and since its criteria is the speed of a certain percentage of the traffic passing through an area, we must insist in all of the drivers who use our streets a respect for our plan. The County plan called for major road widening in Summit — including Passaic avenue, Morris avenue, Mountain avenue Glenside and Springfield avenues; in addition to which a major change, namely, the Broad Street/Morris Avenue one-way system was proposed. And these were not minor changes. On Mountain avenue, for example, the County proposed widening the road from its current width of approximately 28 feet to 146 foot width — in effect making Mountain a four-lane road. The impact of such a widening would have been disastrous on Mountain avenue residents. In fact, many homes would have a roadway a matter of speed limits. This will prevent the state from raising the speed limits on our streets, and make our streets safer for school children, other pedestrians and bicyclers.

I cannot help but recall the complaint of an elderly gentleman living in Summit who told me that he had to go downtown in the mornings prior to 7:30 a.m. since after that time, traffic was too great and moved too quickly for him to feel safe. "Last year there was a considerable flurry of concern over the announced plans of the Union County planning Board to implement a county wide program of road improvements as a part of a long range master

The deadline for all photos, letters to the editor, weddings, engagements, sports, club and organizational news and Primary candidate stories will be Saturday, May 24 at 12 noon. Deadline for "spot news" will be noontime on Tuesday, May 27. Material received after the deadlines will be omitted from next week's paper.

The Herald will be open until 12 noon on Saturday.

Quake Film At Trailside

"Men, Steel and Earthquakes" is the title of a motion picture to be shown at the Trailside Nature and Science Center in the Watchung Reservation on Sunday, at 2 p.m., 3 p.m. and 4 p.m.

The film will depict the causes and destructive results of earthquakes and how buildings are designed to resist the effects of the earthquakes.

Also at Trailside on Tuesday through Thursday, May 27-29, Donald W. Mayer, Trailside director, will present a half-hour nature talk for children on the subject "Air Pollution on Crops," at 4 p.m.

The Sunday program at the Trailside Planetarium will be a description of observing equipment and methods for the amateur astronomer, at 2 p.m., 3 p.m. and 4 p.m., and will be repeated on Wednesday, May 28 at 8 p.m.

When this plan was joined with a number of citizens and the Mayor in traveling to Elizabeth and speaking in opposition to the proposals. Should I be elected I will continue to fight any plans that show such an obvious disregard for the interests of our town. There is no advantage to Summit in moving cars from New Providence to Springfield three minutes faster.

Swanson Wants Balance

Kent Swanson, Republican candidate for a Ward 2 Common Council seat in the June Primaries, this week called for "a well balanced community" aimed at helping the resident, merchant and shopper. His full statement follows:

"We must maintain Summit as a balanced Community! An essential part of that balance is a healthy shopping and business center in the defined commercial area downtown. The economic pressures our stores feel from the surrounding larger shopping malls will continue to increase. Summit's shopping center is the key to its financial and aesthetic balance. Consequently, I am proposing that we expand our present parking facilities, not by acquiring more land, but by attractively designing a second tier on some of our present parking lots. By aggressive marketing on the part of our local merchants and by convenience parking provided by our municipality, Summit's shops should enjoy continued good economic health which in turn produces ratables and a balance to the ratables received from the residential areas.

Another facet to a balanced community is maintaining and encouraging professional offices in our business district. The business offices give Summit residents additional services and added depth to those provided by the merchants. By combining these two aspects, the residents of Summit are served in a greater or total capacity than at any huge "shopping mall." One compliments the other in helping to insure the economic success for both. We gain by having more services and professions available. The City prospers as it gains ratables.

From the above recommendations, one might ask if it would then be logical to try to increase traffic flow through Summit via one-way streets, wider avenues, etc.? This would encourage traffic to pass through easily and quickly. I do not believe this would be in the best interest of Summit's residents or merchants. Therefore we must sacrifice the ability to move through Summit at high speeds in order to maintain our quiet, residential character. Given a choice, I much prefer to take the additional 10 minutes driving time to arrive at a destination in Summit than to expose our community to the hazards of transient traffic.

ON THE CAMPAIGN TRAIL — Kent P. Swanson, candidate for the Republican nomination for Common Council in Ward 2, reviews his plans with campaign advisor Ernest S. Hickok, a former Councilman-at-Large and Council President in Summit. Mr. Hickok also is a former chairman of the Republican City Committee and a Union County Freeholder as well as a past-president of the John E. Runnells Hospital, Berkeley Heights.

Summit, at the present time, is a balanced, stable community. We have residential areas, shopping districts, professional offices, and light industry. It remains a very desirable community. Land values are strong and this reflects in the ratables on which city taxes are then reinvested to maintain Summit's strength. We must jealously guard the delicate balance we have; exercise good short and long range judgment and continue to exhibit fiscal responsibility. All of the above factors are inter-related, one dependent on another. Good management of our community is essential so that we can preserve and protect our present balance.

My objective is to dedicate myself to understanding this balance and then through good municipal government protect its essential ingredients.

Special Meeting

The Summit Neighborhood Council will conduct a public meeting at 8 p.m. tomorrow at its headquarters at 15 Chestnut street for those interested in joining its food cooperative.

A discussion will be held about the cooperative and questions answered. Anyone interested in joining the cooperative venture for food purchases is invited to the meeting.

Local Bookstores Reflect Mysticism

(Editor's note: This is the second in a series of articles by Doug Klusmeyer of Summit concerning trends and emphasis in Summit's churches)

BY DOUG KLUSMEYER

Look in nearly any of the bookstores around Summit. One will find what seems to be an inordinate amount of material on astrology, the occult, and the experiential religions of the East.

There is an increasing interest among many people today, whether churchgoers or not, in the spiritual or non-material nature of the universe, which is having a profound effect on "The Church. Across the nation, Hari Krishna, Children of God, and other such groups are attracting more members every day. Nevertheless, the changes in the Church are not merely a result of the present move from a secular orientation to a spiritual orientation.

Over the last 100 years, the very manner in which man seeks to build a relationship with God has evolved significantly. During the Middle Ages, a rigorous, legalistic type of obligation to God developed. As conceptions of heaven and hell were highly developed, this obligation stemmed primarily from an acute fear of eternal damnation.

In the last century, however, this legalism has gradually shifted to a more subjective, experiential type of relationship with God. Essentially with the exception of certain extreme fundamentalists, it is no longer "Thou shalt not," but rather "Thou shalt," not out of fear, but out of love for God. Accordingly, the Miltonic like visions of heaven and hell have lost much of their spacial orientation, being considered rather states of being.

Many Summit churches today are looking at man himself in a different way. Departing from the traditional approach that human nature is basically evil or depraved, many churches have adopted the attitude that human nature is basically good.

Such churches do not ignore man's capacity or possible propensity to do evil, but it is felt that it is far more helpful and effective to affirm that which is good in people rather than to incessantly point out the evil. By building on the good as opposed to tearing at the evil, the Church can provide a very supportive function.

Likewise, the role of the clergy has changed substantially. With the reformation, the literal preaching of the "Word" became primary. As the clergy were often the most educated members of the community, it was not surprising that their views were accepted as gospel.

Now, however, many members of the congregation are as educated, if not more so than their clergy. So, it makes little sense for the interpretation of the "Word" to come through just one filter. Recognizing this fact, many clergymen are making their sermons more conversational and less dogmatic, wooden, and hollow. Certain churches in Summit even hold discussions on the sermon as part of the worship service, as they do in Christ Church.

In addition, most churches have had to make counseling services readily available with larger churches like Central Presbyterian Church in Summit hiring full or part time counselors. Rabbis, whose only roles during the Middle Ages were as teachers and scholars, have now had to assume greater pastoral and counseling roles.

As the pendulum swings from a secular to a spiritual orientation in the Church, clergymen are increasingly called upon to supply guidance as spiritual directors. More and more commonly, people are seeking one who is close to God in hopes that they can be helped to come in touch with God. Few want the political activism of the sixties in the pulpit.

The growing number of prayer groups, Bible studies, and discussion groups manifest the move toward a more spiritual emphasis in the Church. Part of the value of these small groups is that since they are small, participants are able to be much more spontaneous, open, and honest in their framework.

Several of the clergy in Summit maintain that this carries over into the congregation as a whole, making the atmosphere in church more spontaneous, open, and honest.

As the present trend toward a spiritual orientation gains momentum, however, there is a real danger that the church will become so wrapped up in the spiritual that it will lose touch with the temporal world and its needs and problems. Moreover, spirituality should not be used to shadow either apathy or selfishness. The Church has a definite role in the secular world, which it must not neglect. (This concludes Part 2)

The Car as a Lethal Weapon

The tragic death last week of a 19-year-old New Providence woman and the critical injuries suffered by a 21-year-old Chatham man when the car in which they were riding slammed into a tree, dramatically points up again the treacherous folly of excessive speed.

The Police Department reported that before the car crashed into the tree at Broad street near Middle avenue, the automobile was going at a high rate of speed.

The woman, Sandra J. Sabbagh, a passenger in the car, not yet out of her teens, and the driver, Michael Renzulli, the driver, and barely out of his teens, have become two more statistics.

That excessive speed kills and kills frequently, is a fact that is proven time and time again. An automobile is a lump of machinery, doing what the driver tells it to do. If the driver tells it to go fast, it will go fast and if it's told to round a curve, it will round a curve. However, if the car is told to go fast and negotiate a curve at the same time, an accident can result. And according to Police, that is exactly what happened last week at Broad and Middle.

What is especially foolhardy and perhaps even selfish, is speed that takes innocent lives when an accident occurs. If the speeder wishes to risk his or her own life on a stretch of lonely highway, that's his or her business. But when the speeder decides to see how fast the car will go in built up residential areas, that's not only foolhardy, but selfish.

There seems to be a kind of macabre fellowship between a young driver and the wheel of a high-powered car. In many instances the combination triggers a reaction that all too frequently ends in tragedy. We are sure that there are many, many young drivers who do not speed, who drive carefully at all times and who obey all traffic laws. But then again, there is a small minority that think cars are meant to speed in, and who do not care that other lives can be jeopardized. We do not think the speeder deliberately goes out with the intention of totalling his car or injuring someone. We do think, however, the speeder lives in a make-believe world that erroneously leads him or her to believe that he or she is always in command of the car and that he or she can handle any and all situations at all times.

This is a myth that has been proven false time and time again. It was proven false again in Summit last week down at Broad street and Middle avenue. It was proven tragically false and for no reason

Political Cynicism at its Worst

That it's politics-as-usual down at the State House in Trenton is becoming more and more obvious in light of a proposed Congressional redistricting measure.

Gov. Byrne's implied promise to put people ahead of votes seems to be falling short of being carried out when one examines the plan.

The proposal, which in effect has the governor's blessing, would provide a "safe seat" for Rep. Peter W. Rodino, jr., at the expense of either Rep. Matthew J. Rinaldo, who represents the Summit Area in the 12th District, or Rep. Millicent Fenwick of the 5th District, both Republicans.

The creation of a "safe" white, Democratic district for the nationally renowned chairman of the House Judiciary Committee would virtually guarantee Rinaldo's defeat, since a portion of his present district would be lumped with the predominantly black Central Ward in Newark with most of East Orange in Essex County and Hillside, Springfield and Union in Union County, all very heavy Democratic areas. Mrs. Fenwick's 5th district would remain a GOP bastion since it would then include Summit, New Providence and Berkeley Heights.

The options open to Mr. Rinaldo under such redistricting would be to run against Mrs. Fenwick or not to run at all.

To us, this is as brazen a plan to manipulate votes as we have ever seen. It smacks of back-room cesspool politics and the kind of cynicism that we thought went out with the likes of Hague.

We do not believe in "safe seats," nor do we believe that in order to create one, others have to be sacrificed.

The Summit Area has known Matt Rinaldo for many years as a Union County Freeholder, a State Senator and as a Congressman. We think he has served his constituents well, and deserves to represent this area for as long as the voters feel he is doing his job. We do not think Mr. Rinaldo has ever thought of or asked for a "safe seat" since he insists upon running on his merits.

The proposed plan which has the governor's name attached, has infuriated Mr. Rinaldo since it smacks of political cronyism, cynicism and a "public-be-damned" attitude. In fact, Mr. Rinaldo has hinted that if the plan does go through, Gov. Byrnes could have more than a group of angry Democrats seeking his seat in 1977, but an angry Republican candidate knocking at the State House door. We would welcome such a match.

However, in the meanwhile, if Summit Area residents find themselves equally incensed at this proposed gerrymandering that smacks of political opportunism at the expense of positive representation, they should write their Legislators in Trenton, or better still, the Governor and make their feelings known loud and clear.

Current Comment

(Science and Progress — Montclair Times)

Science is a peculiar animal, at least inasmuch as politicians are concerned. The scientist generally is blamed loudly and in public for the ills of the world, but he is among the missing when the accolades for accomplishment are handed out.

The scientist has been castigated for creating the family of nuclear weapons, but at this reading nuclear energy appears to be the device which will lead the industrial world out of the energy abyss. Science similarly is blamed for creating the machines which produced the environmental crisis, but science also is responsible for perfecting the clean-up devices.

Similarly, if there is an answer to rapidly depleting raw material stockpiles in the world, science is going to have to find it. Whether the answer lies in mining deep sea mineral reserves or finding ways of converting plentiful natural materials to a more useful state, it is science which will do it.

In medicine, a field in which science has made enormous strides, the horizon beckons new laboratory and diagnostic breakthroughs. The history of civilization's progress is intertwined with science, whether the calling receives its just due or not.

Enforcement Needed

by David F. Moore

Did you ever think of making the Department of Environmental Protection go to the Department of Labor and Industry to get permission to enforce New Jersey's environmental protection laws?

It's a unique idea, credit for which goes to Assemblyman Robert E. Littell of Sussex and Warren counties. Littell introduced it as a bill (A-3351) on April 21. A co-sponsor, Assemblyman Christopher J. Jackman of Hudson County, is chairman of the Assembly Labor Committee, to which it was referred.

A companion bill by Littell, also co-sponsored by Jackman and referred to the Labor Committee, is A-3350. It would inject an 18-member "advisory council on economic impact" into the Department of Environmental Protection. The Commissioner of Environmental Protection would have to submit any proposed rules or regulations to it for "recommendations." The Council would be liberally packed with agricultural, manufacturing and business interests.

That other bill, A-3351, would require the Commissioner of Environmental Protection to certify to Labor and Industry (or the Department of Agriculture, if the matter were in that area) that an actual or potential violation of an environmental protection law exists. Labor and Industry (or Agriculture) would then decide whether punitive enforcement steps should be taken. The bill allows up to a year's delay for such steps.

In a statement to the press when he introduced the bills, Littell wondered "how long we in state government would continue in our attempt to preserve and protect the quality of our environment... before we actually succeed in bringing the economy of this state, and the personal, private economy of each of our citizens to its knees."

Those Littell bills are strong examples, but they are the kind of legislation which can quickly erase environmental protection gains made during recent years in this state we're in.

A lot of special interests have had their noses out of joint because of New Jersey's stringent environmental protection laws. They have been quick to use unemployment as an excuse to erase such laws on the pretense that short-term economic gains are more important to the state than long-term environmental protection, which in truth will guarantee the best long-term economy.

Whether legislators will reflect this attitude remains to be seen. It's certain that lack of strong, independent leadership from within the Department of Environmental Protection could weaken the environmental cause.

It will be interesting to see who votes for or against the Littell bills, and similar legislation.

Perhaps of more interest, and certainly of more importance, will be the tally on who takes the trouble to let their legislators know how they feel about such legislation.

Another Opinion

Editor, Summit Herald.

Recently, several articles have appeared in this paper discussing the views of the Union County Young Republicans on various Republican issues. As chairman of the Young Republicans of the Summit Area, I had no prior knowledge of these articles and would have opposed their publication. One such article announced the endorsement by the Union County Young Republicans of Ray Bonnell and Dean Gallo, candidates for Assembly in the 24th District.

Overlooked and totally ignored was Summit's own incumbent candidate, Assemblywoman Barbara Curran. To our chagrin and disgust, Barbara failed to get the endorsement of the County Young Republicans because of some very low class political maneuvers.

Barbara proved her salt when she initially ran as Assemblywoman. She has seen fit to stand against the ridiculous spending spree Governor Byrne seems to enjoy with taxpayers' monies. A dynamic, energetic, knowledgeable and experienced individual such as Barbara should not have been ignored as a 24th District candidate.

Although the Constitution of the Young Republicans of the Summit area forbids us to endorse any Republican candidate before the primary election, we denounce the political shenanigans of the Union County Young Republicans' failure to support Barbara Curran. (Their Constitution does not prohibit them from supporting candidates before the Primary.) It might be pointed out that the Summit Delegation attending the Union County Young Republican Convention voted for Barbara Curran.

Button Endorsed

Editor, Summit Herald.

We would like to join the many others who have expressed their support for the candidacy of Tom Button for Ward 2 Republican Councilman.

Having known and worked with Tom in the Jaycees and other community projects, we are confident of his ability to serve Summit well in our city government.

The real issue of the campaign is who is the best qualified individual for the very important task of a City Councilman. It is our belief that Tom Button is the clear choice. Summit needs a person with his maturity, leadership and experience.

We encourage the voters of Ward 2 to examine carefully the records, and to listen to the statements of both candidates. When they do, we are sure that, like the Faherty family, they will vote for Tom Button on June 3.

Disturbed At Story

Editor, Summit Herald.

I am somewhat disturbed by the front page story, "Communications Gap Admitted" in the May 15, 1975, issue of your newspaper. It is supposedly a report on the May 12 meeting of the Summit Civil Rights Commission. I was quoted as saying that "communication is a major problem at Overlook Hospital. Since editorializing is somewhat mixed with factual reporting in this article, it should have appeared on the editorial page.

Your headline spotlighted neither discrimination charges nor the reason for Overlook's presence on the meeting agenda. The "Communications Gap" referred to the fact that a Spanish speaking employee at the Hospital misunderstood certain personnel

ONE OF THE BIG THREE — In the late 1800's and very early 1900's when Summit was a resort in the Watchung Mountains, the "New Park House" (on the site of the present Beechwood Apartments, opposite the present Lincoln School) vied for prominence with the Beechwood Hotel (on the upper part of the Kemper Insurance property until razed in 1953) and the Blackburn House (on the site of the present Suburban Hotel until razed in 1928). And, as with the other two hotels, its summer guests included numerous prominent New York and Brooklyn families, many of whom stayed on in Summit to build the fine mansions which made the city a showplace. The Park House's main building and annex shown here were erected in 1871 and 1873 by Jayme Riera, who purchased the old Daniel Noe farm in 1858, and developed the area on both sides of the present Woodland avenue as an exclusive residential section with a stone-walled frontage on Springfield Avenue. And for years this section was known simply as "The Park," wherein Woodland avenue, then called Park House road, went only far enough to serve the hotel and Riera's seven "cottages." Riera's own mansion was never built as his wife preferred to live in France where the Riera's retired in 1884 after selling the hotel and remaining "Park" lots to William H. DeForest, who opened up DeForest avenue in 1889 and then built a private sewer to the Passaic River in 1890. Other owners followed until 1929, when T.L. Beck sold the hotel to Lieb and Dashefsky, who erected the Beechwood Apartments in its place in 1929-30. (Contributed by the Summit Historical Society)

The Plight of Our Railroads

by U.S. Senator
 Harrison A. Williams jr.

Railroad rehabilitation legislation that I am sponsoring would not only help repair the badly deteriorated tracks and roadbeds of our long neglected rail system, but would also provide 40,000 jobs for unemployed workers. In fact, fighting unemployment is its primary goal.

The bill would put back on the job many of the 10,000 railroad maintenance and signal employees who have been recently laid off. It would also provide railroad jobs for 30,000 Americans who have been unable to find work as a result of the recession.

The Senate Labor and Public Welfare Committee, of which I am chairman, has recommended the bill for Senate passage, and the House of Representatives is also expected to consider it soon.

Under the provisions of this measure, some $600 million is authorized for labor costs and $100 million for materials needed to repair the rail roadbeds and facilities. The Federal Government is also authorized to guarantee up to $100 million in loans.

These grants and loans would be made to private and public railroads, state and local governments, and regional authorities. They would be directed to areas with high unemployment and with the most urgent need for rail repair.

The measure would have a constructive impact on rail lines which have been allowed to deteriorate for far too long. The northeast corridor rail system, which includes New Jersey, can be expected to receive a significant portion of these funds.

During the last 30 years, the overwhelming majority of federal transportation subsidies have gone to the highways, waterways, and airlines, while the railroads have received almost none. The sad state of our national railroad system today reflects this neglect.

Of the 67 major railroads, 30 are in such bad financial shape that they are unable to provide adequate maintenance of tracks and roadbeds. Fully two-thirds of the heavily used tracks in the country are now substandard. The result is that trains, some of which can go as fast as 120 miles per hour, are forced to reduce their speed — sometimes down to 10 miles per hour.

Recent data from the Federal Railroad Administration on increases in train accidents and derailments provides an alarming indication of deteriorating track maintenance. Between 1963 and 1972, faulty rail beds were the cause of 5,700 rail accidents with damage estimated at more than $500 million, and since 1972, the rate of such accidents has increased sharply. Derailments on the Penn Central Line alone increased by 137 percent in 1974.

Rail efficiency is at an all-time low. The result is poorer service, delays in passenger and freight traffic, the waste of millions of dollars, and ultimately higher consumer prices.

Government must now assume more responsibility for upgrading the rails, much as it has for the Interstate Highway System. It is time for the nation to recognize that the railroads are not just a nostalgic remnant of our past, but a vital part of our transportation network. The nation's 64 railroads serve over 45,000 communities, handle 60 percent of our coal. The survival of a railroad can mean the health of an industry or of a geographic area.

Moreover, the railroads can provide the most energy efficient and environmentally safe method of intercity freight and passenger transportation.

The people of New Jersey rely heavily on rail passenger service, with daily ridership at about 90,000; the railroads have also been an important employer in our state. In 1962, there were 19,600 railroad workers in New Jersey, though their number has been nearly cut in half in recent years as the railroads decayed.

While Congress is working on legislation aimed at upgrading our entire rail system, this rail rehabilitation measure represents a step in the right direction. It established a program to fight unemployment, to provide jobs for people who can't find work. And, while creating these jobs, it addresses an area of great national need. For the nation's ailing railroads, it is welcome therapy indeed.

It's time now to run Trenton as a business.

Raymond F. Bonnell is the regular Republican candidate for Assembly in our District.

He is president of R.F.B. Associates, Inc., a publishing representative organization in the pharmaceutical field, who can offer fiscal responsibility in government so desperately needed in the 24th Assembly District.

Ray has served nine years as a councilman. Coupled with his expertise in municipal government and as a businessman, he is certainly qualified to carry our message from the 24th Assembly District on to Trenton as a legislator.

The Zoning Board of Adjustment
Mr. Walter Waldau, Chairman
City Hall
Gentlemen:

According to a Herald report, Superior Court Judge Davidson directed Summit's Building Inspector to issue a certificate of occupancy for Barrett House. Today, a month later, I learn that the certificate of occupancy has been withheld pending a decision to appeal the judge's ruling.

In view of similar cases in Redbank, Teaneck and Mantaloking, where the court found in favor of group homes, why would anyone want to take the time to go to the expense of appealing this again? Wouldn't it be an exercise in futility, serving only to delay the beginning of a much needed service?

While local tax dollars are being spent in court costs in an action that could only succeed in months of delay, the YWCA is spending other tax dollars from its SLEPA grant preparing to open a home which cannot care for girls until it receives a court-ordered certificate of occupancy.

As I survey the Republican Primary Contest, I am concerned about two aspects. Presently there are three Councilmen who live within 4 blocks of each other on Myrtle, Ashland and Mountain avenues. Mr. Swanson's opponent lives within this four block area, thus, possibly concentrating four Councilmen in a small geographic area. Certainly not all the citizens who are qualified to be members of Common Council live in this one area!

Neither do all Common Council candidates have to come from the Zoning Board of Adjustment. The successful Republican Councilman from last year's primary contest was a member of this board as is Mr. Swanson's opponent this year.

Mr. Swanson certainly is qualified as demonstrated by his leadership and experience from past and present civic and political activities. He has actively supported the Republican Party for many years and obviously has a realistic grasp of the problems expressed by Summit's residents.

Lauds Action
Editor, Summit Herald:
The following letter has been sent to the New Jersey Department of Public Utilities. Publication in The Herald is requested.

Martha G. Pugh,
11 New Providence avenue

Dear Commissioner Pollock:
We commend you on your statement before the Morris County Employers Legislative Luncheon to the effect that New Jersey should become increasingly involved in energy planning to meet future needs.

We believe that optimum energy planning requires other choices than between nuclear power and vastly stepped-up use of coal. One important source which cannot be over-emphasized is solar energy, for the use of which both simple and sophisticated systems are well developed and presently available.

Another often overlooked expedient for balancing our energy budget is greater emphasis on conservation. There are many rather obvious ways of achieving this. These include:

1. readjusting conventional electrical utility rate structures which penalize the small domestic user and favor the high volume industrial user;
2. revising railroad shipping schedules which presently discriminate in favor of the shipment of virgin raw materials as opposed to recycled materials;
3. providing tax and other economic incentives to induce industry to conserve or reclaim at least a portion of the seventy percent of energy now wasted; and
4. changing the building codes to require incorporation in all new structures of total energy systems which fully utilize generated heat, and further, requiring an energy impact statement before a building permit is issued for the building of any new structure.

It is certainly within the jurisdiction of the Public Utilities Commission to promulgate rules of executive orders, or to hold legislative in at least some of these areas.

Attention is respectfully called to the recent action by the New York State

Public Service Commission, requiring the Consolidated Edison Company to raise its rates for those customers who account for the heaviest summer power demands, and to cut the rates for customers whose usage does not create excessive power demands. Also, Senator Lowell Weicker of Connecticut has recently expressed his intention of introducing legislation which would prevent utility companies from biasing their rate structures in favor of the large industrial users, as is now customary. These are steps in the right direction which we would do well to follow in New Jersey.

Editor, Summit Herald:

In the closing weeks of the Ward 2 primary campaign for Common Council, it seems to me important that people speak up and state their views when such a statement is based on some valid judgments and may be helpful to other voters.

I know and have worked with Tom Button and support him as the choice for Ward 2 Republican Councilman. First, as a businessman, I admire Tom's approach to rational, intelligent and balanced problem-solving. Tom can provide the kind of leadership and experience a Council position requires.

Second, as a life-long resident of Summit, I am concerned that our government be in the hands of a cognizant or Summit's unique and diverse character as they approach the problems and changes of the next several years. Tom Button's devotion to Summit, as exemplified by his record of legitimate community involvement, assures us all that he will approach the governing of our city in just such a manner.

Finally, as a Republican City Committeeman, and member of its executive committee, as well as former Chairman of the Summit Young Republicans, I am strongly impressed with Tom's Republican credentials. He has given a great deal of his time to the Republican organization — he is currently a Republican City Committeeman, and Vice-Chairman of the Committee — and merits Republican support.

The primary election on June 3 is perhaps the most important vote Ward 2 voters will cast this year in that they can select, in Tom Button, the one individual with the kind of qualifications Summit needs and desires.

Questions Health Exam
Editor, Summit Herald:

The Summit school Board is still having trouble keeping public business public in its various actions, particularly in health matters.

An announcement was made in local papers a week before the May Board meeting that Overlook would now handle health exams for an estimated 100 students in a major change in policy for schools who have hired their own doctors in the past.

This news release came without any public discussion and where school control would shift in unspecified ways to hospital supervision. The statement by Overlook was that the expansion of their resident physician training program made this possible. The residents, in fact, needed new groups of people for their learning experience.

A resolution was later passed at the May Board meeting thanking Overlook and endorsing this prior announcement. With a Board openly committed to a course of action and forced to defend their stand, why let the public ask questions at all?

This is just another version of public business, in effect, enacted at private sessions, published as an accomplished fact and then opened belatedly for public exploration.

Left hanging in addition to just how much control each party may have in who is sent for these health exams — and how extensive they may actually be in any one case where the school is not paying and where this has become a training experience, is who really pays the estimated $10,000 cost of this work for the schools.

Who pays for Overlook's expanding residency program? The patients with high bills — those who donate to the Overlook fund — grants — the residents of Summit who absorb the taxes and cost of a number of services given Overlook or the immediate neighborhood where more hospital personnel and programs are displacing established home owners?

Dr. Fiander is quoted as saying that there are "many publics" which the school serve, each apparently with their own need for information. We have a constitution, however, that says there is one body of citizens with a firm right embedded in law to be a part of public decisions — by a public school Board in this case.

From a practical point of view this makes sense. Relevant questions have a way of rising up afterwards when closed-door hearings result in decisions. We are still waiting a year after special Board sessions hired two of the three new health teachers — without furnishing the public with even the minimum background information usually given about new teachers — for the reasons for starting this important health education under this kind of a cloud.

Are students to be asked for openness in the sensitive areas of their lives in health discussions under the circumstances? The message has a way of reaching young people very quickly when candor is preached but not practiced by public schools.

Editor, Summit Herald:

We have noticed with interest the growing number of letters to the editor printed each week in support of candidates for Common Council. Because we are life-long residents of Summit, have children in its schools, and have our home and part of our business here, we, too, are interested in the coming election.

Having been active in several service clubs, served on a number of committees and a city board, and through following events in the Herald, we have seen how very well Summit is run, and we have gotten to know many of the people responsible for this good record. Our Common Council, for example, is composed of people of maturity, of varied and usually quite extensive community service, and perhaps, most important, of solid business background, experience and achievement.

We know both candidates, and have worked with both. Our opinion, based on our own community service and knowledge of both candidates, is that Tom Button is clearly the more mature, the more experienced, the more personally successful, and thus, the more qualified.

Understanding that anything said in a letter to the editor is only the opinion of the writers of that letter, and believing that electing the best available person to Council is so important, we ask all voters to take the time to ask their friends who may

Letters

(Continued from Page 7) know both candidates for an honest appraisal of both men. Inquire into the amount of preparation and consideration each puts into making a decision, and look into how they carry out their commitments — if they carry them out at all. For example, ask any Jaycee about both candidates' performance as a Jaycee. Find out from anyone who has ever worked with either man, on anything from a High School Reunion Committee to a city board, just how good the job was done, how much weight was actually carried. Go beyond titles. They are easy to gain, especially where strong family connections abound. Look at what each man has done for himself.

We are confident that you will conclude that Tom Button is the man you will want to represent you on Council. We all want the best for Summit, and we firmly believe Tom can do the job the way it should be done.

Action is Rapped

We forward the attached letter mailed to Wallace Barnes, Republican City Chairman, with copies delivered to all City Committee members, for publication in this week's issue of your paper.

The Executive Board
Summit Area Women's Club

Mr. Wallace W. Barnes, Chairman
Republican City Committee
Summit, New Jersey

Dear Mr. Barnes:

This letter is written at the direction of The Executive Board of the Summit Area Women's Republican Club. We wish to object to your action overruling the vote of The Republican City Committee at its last meeting in favor of Kent Swanson, a candidate for the Republican City Council nomination in Summit's Ward 2.

If a City Chairman establishes a Recommendations Committee which reports back to the City Committee its findings and, if a vote of the City Committee is then taken, the City Chairman is obliged to honor that vote of all the committee members present. Any unwarranted assumption of power such as that by a party chairman is totally out of keeping with Summit's unassured traditions and with our paramount need to revitalize our local Republican organization through a broad-based, decision-making process.

Mr. Swanson's vigorous independence and firm commitment to preserving Summit's traditional character are noteworthy. His announced candidacy was timed to permit his appearance before The Recommendations Committee and to permit his following the normal open canvassing practice. He was not a last-minute caucus candidate. He typifies the new grass roots leadership that has recently come to the fore in the Republican Party, and he can be a tremendous help to the Summit G.O.P.

Very truly yours,
Mary Ruth Talley,
President
The Executive Board of the Summit Area
Women's Republican Club

Bien Backs Bonnell

Editor, Summit Herald:
The voters in the 24th District are being offered several choices in the Republican Assembly primary on June 3. The selection of the candidate should be based on ability, qualifications, and understanding of governmental problems and courage of convictions. Ray Bonnell meets all these criteria and would bring to Trenton an independent thinking voice for the people of the district.

He has served for nine years as a member of the governing body in New Providence holding the leadership position as Council President for seven years. His ability, dedication and understanding have been instrumental in successfully meeting problems and arriving at positive conclusions. He has never been known to avoid the hard decision, lack the courage to take an unpopular stand, or be afraid to speak his mind. His approach to everyone has been open, direct and he views political problems as human concerns.

One of his strong attributes is to listen and recognize opposing viewpoints in arriving at recommended solutions. As I view the current scene in Trenton I am convinced if the Legislature had more members of Ray's caliber, New Jersey wouldn't be suffering from indecisiveness and the "creeping paralysis of too much talking and too little action."

PROMOTED — Kenneth E. Giles of 142 Maple street, has been promoted to senior accounting analyst in the accounting services and financial statements division of Prudential Insurance Co., Newark. Mr. Giles has been associated with the company's comptroller's area since joining Prudential in 1971. He was an accounting analyst before his promotion. A 1956 graduate of Swarthmore College, Mr. Giles received an M.B.A. degree from Seton Hall University in 1965, the same year he became a Fellow of the Life Management Institute.

Ray knows and understands fiscal responsibility, tight budgets, commuter transit difficulties, drainage problems and public safety concerns. He has the experience, both public and private, the know how and ability I am convinced he will do an effective job.

Your voice will be heard in Trenton because Ray knows people and understands their problems. I strongly urge all voters, irrespective of party affiliation to vote for Ray Bonnell in the June 3 primary.

and nine great-grandchildren. Memorial services were held May 14 at Forest Lawn, Glendale, Cal., in the Little Church of the Flowers. Burial will be in Fairmount Cemetery, Chatham.

Cove W. Sullivan, Jr.
Cove W. Sullivan, Jr., 63, of Naples, Fla., formerly of Summit, died Monday in Muhlenberg Hospital, Plainfield.

Services are private. Born in Columbus, Ohio, Mr. Sullivan lived in Summit and Short Hills before moving to Florida. Mr. Sullivan was an architectural and civil engineer for the Union Metal Manufacturing Co., Canton, Ohio, for 33 years, retiring in 1973.

He was a member of the American Society of Civil Engineers, the Engineers Club of New York City, president of the Short Hills Club and was a former trustee of Overlook Hospital.

He leaves his wife, Polly, a daughter Mrs. Warren H. Simmons, Jr., and one grandchild.

Donations in Mr. Sullivan's memory can be made to the American Cancer Society.

Mrs. Robert F. Loree
Mrs. Eleanore Loree of 12 Manor Hill road, died Monday at Overlook Hospital. She was 75.

Born in New York City, Mrs. Loree also lived in Florham Park before moving to Summit 25 years ago. She is survived by her husband, Robert F. Loree, four grandchildren and 1 great-grandchild.

Funeral services were held yesterday at the Brough Funeral Home, 535 Springfield avenue, followed by a Mass at St. Teresa's Church.

William D. Pratt

William D. Pratt of 22 Blackburn place died Tuesday at home. He was 63.

Born in Jersey City, Mr. Pratt had been a resident here since 1960. He was vice-president and treasurer of American Home Foods Division, American Home Products Co., New York City. Mr. Pratt's wife, Anita, died last October.

He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Dawn Warren of Johnstown, New York and Mrs. Penny Huber, Candleron, Pa., three brothers, Walter D. and Kenneth, both of New York, and James of Mass., a sister, Mrs. Ethel Huppach of New York and three grandchildren.

Funeral services will be conducted by Rev. Dean Lanning of the United Methodist Church tomorrow at 2 p.m. at the Brough Funeral Home, 535 Springfield avenue.

James B. Hays, Jr.
James B. Hays, Jr., retired member of the technical staff of Bell Telephone Laboratories, died May 13 at Overlook Hospital. He was 60.

A native of Boise, Idaho.

Mr. Hays attended Carnegie Tech and received his B.S. in electrical engineering from the University of Colorado. He joined Bell Laboratories in New York in 1937 and moved to Summit when the laboratories opened in Murray Hill.

His first work at the Laboratories dealt with protection systems. Protection against the effects of a nuclear explosion was an extension of his duties and as a result, Mr. Hays became involved in nuclear tests at the Nevada Test Site and in studies of associated protection methods. As of 1964 he was involved in underwater sound systems problems.

He was a member of the Institute of Electrical and Electronic Engineers, the National Electrical Code Association, and the Telephone Pioneers of America. He held five patents related to Outside Plant electrical testing equipment.

On his retirement in 1972 after 35 years of service with the company he expanded his musical avocation, performing and teaching organ and clarinet. His most recent public performance was on April 13, when he appeared in a duo recital with organist Howard Voigt at St. Mary's Abbey-Delbarton, Morristown.

He also devoted one day a week to working with the Telephone Pioneers Service Group in repairing electrical equipment for the blind.

Mr. Hays was active as a Deacon in Central Presbyterian Church and served on the church's music committee and as a tutor in the Elizabethport Mission Tutorial Program. He was a trustee of the Summit Community Concerts Association from 1952 to 1959.

He leaves his wife Alfreda, two daughters and a son, Mrs. Charlotte Comisky, Mrs. Betty Raby, and Paul Lindsey Hays, and one grandchild. He also leaves two brothers, Richard L. of Hyattsville, Md. and H. Sebree Hays of Monrovia, Cal.

A memorial service will be held at a later date. Contributions in his name may be made to the Leukemia Foundation.

Child Care Center Breaks Ground Amid Trumpet Blare

To the blare of a trumpet, youngsters from ten Child Care Center Sunday afternoon eagerly ran forward, clutching assorted-colored shovels and broke ground for their new facility, located at 95 Morris avenue, across the street from Edison Recreation Center.

Councilman Alfred E. Schretter, representing Mayor Elmer J. Bennett, who was out of the country on business, brought official greetings to the center, noting that it has been in Summit for many years, "even before it was fashionable to have a child care center."

"We look forward to the completion of this building and the continuation of the work of the Child Care Center," said Mr. Schretter.

After the ground-breaking, about 200 parents, members, children and guests attended a luncheon across the street at Oakes Memorial Methodist Church.

During the twenty-first annual meeting of the Child Care Center, Robert Lurie, who will assume the duties of executive director of the center next Monday, was introduced.

Noting he was "excited to be here," Mr. Lurie said the center had made an "impressive beginning" and its "future prospects are great."

Mr. Lurie, who is a candidate for an E.D. degree from Harvard University's School of Education, was born in Miami and has lived in Texas and Missouri. He is a graduate of the University of Florida and has taught at community colleges in Missouri.

He and his wife Lorraine will live in Berkeley Heights with their three-year-old son, Eric.

During the meeting, Phyllis Sank, president of the Child Care Center, noted the past year has been one of "incredible growth," in terms of program planning, expansion plans and staffing and volunteers.

After reviewing the activities of the center during the past year, Mrs. Sank commented: "We shall never stop asking and seeking 'What is best for children?'"

Excavation work on the $600,000 center was scheduled to begin Monday, under the direction of J. R. Prisco of Chatham, general contractors. Retwin and Blake of Union are the architects for the one-story building, which will serve 135 children when completed, sometime next winter.

Population Growth Seen Increasing Hunger

By Doug Klusmeyer

At the fourth of five seminars on world hunger last Wednesday at the YW-CA, Peter Cott, executive director of The Population Institute, Washington, D.C., presented a film and later affirmed that due to the rapidly rising population growth rates pushing against the world's finite resources, man is faced with a dilemma that technology alone cannot solve. He can either act now to drastically lower population growth or wait and allow nature to do it in a much harsher manner.

George Schindler, jr., Vice-President of the League for Conservation and a director in the New Jersey Audubon Society, followed by asserting that society must stop consuming resources in its current non-recyclable manner, such as burning lead in a car's gas tank, and begin extensive recycling programs immediately, before there are no more resources to recycle.

The film "Sorry, No Vacancy," shown by Mr. Cott, stated that all of the land which can be farmed using reasonable technology is currently being farmed. Allowing that man has been moderately successful in reclaiming desert land, providing the limited water supply holds out, the film maintained that man has created five times as much desert as he has ever reclaimed.

At present, clearing jungles, as in South America and Africa, for new farm land is virtually useless, since the soil, once divested of its protective vegetation, breaks down and becomes too hard packed to plow. Finally, farming the extensive timberland and pastures available has usually proved disastrous.

Pointing out that it has not been a higher birth rate, but rather a lower death rate, which is pushing population growth rates higher, so that now the world population doubles every 35 years. The film attributed better housing, hygiene, and medical care as the reasons behind the slower death rate. With a world population of 3 1/2 billion people, the film challenged whether the earth could support the population once doubled.

In discussing what the individual can do to deal with these problems, Mr. Cott explained that these issues were "politically unattractive." Politicians, who are primarily interested in becoming re-elected, generally will not work toward effective solutions unless there is a popular outcry to compel them to do so," he said.

Mr. Cott concluded that the concerned individual must first change his own consumptive lifestyle and then work toward a popular base of support to urge politicians to act. The United States, among many other nations, needs a national population planning goal.

In dealing with the world's finite resources, Mr. Schindler stressed that it is impossible to consider any one problem without taking into account a host of others.

For instance, in an attempt to expand food production, scientists developed genetically improved strains that would give higher yields, mature faster, and so forth, but this has caused genetic erosion. The traditional strains are being so supplanted by the new genetically devised ones, that many breeds are dying out. This is bad, reported Mr. Schindler, for two reasons. First, the new strains cannot live without a great deal of fertilizer and water; should there be a severe shortage, the strains will quickly die. Secondly, the more traditional breeds that die out, the less number of genetic combinations scientists have with which to work.

Speaking on technologically improved farming, Mr. Schindler stated that for the first time in history more energy is used in producing food than is supplied by food. On the average, for example, one acre of land in the U.S. can produce 75 bushels of corn, but it takes 80 gallons of gasoline.

Addressing himself to the possibilities of nuclear power as an effective energy source, Mr. Schindler cited the fact that at current levels of usage, the world will run out of the uranium needed for reactors in 25 years. The possibility of using plutonium instead in a breeder reactor is limited because plutonium is such a dangerous element, remaining radioactive for 500,000 years.

Mr. Schindler mentioned that 4 1/2 billion tons of top soil blow away or wash down river beds a year, due to man's negligence, while it takes nature anywhere from 100 to 1,000 years to produce just an inch of top soil. Man cannot afford this waste, he said.

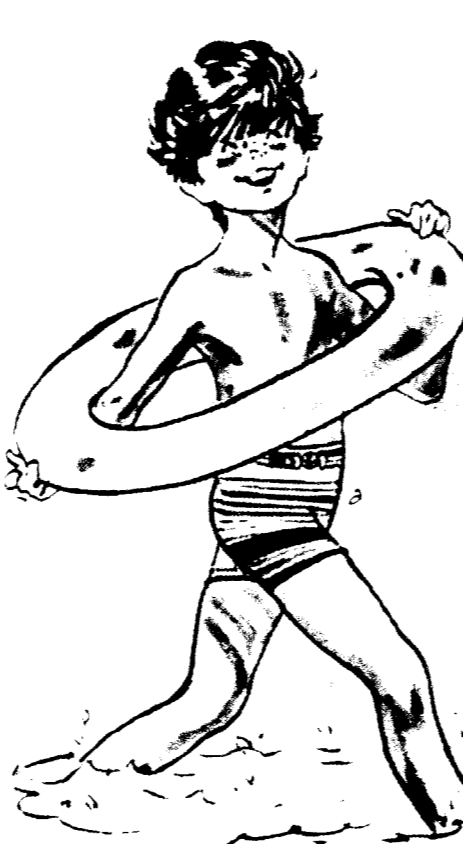

Mr. Schindler concluded that the world hunger situation man faces is not unsolvable, all he needs is the will power.

Kent Place 9th Graders Taking Summit to Heart

Summit has become a second home to one group of ninth graders at Kent Place School. Although they come from eight different communities, the students have concentrated their academic interest on Summit for the last several weeks. The students are studying planning and zoning as part of their social studies course dealing with the rights of the individual and the needs of society.

Richard Bottelli, of Summit, chairman of the Planning Board recently spoke to the Kent Place girls. He contrasted the roles of the Planning Board and the Zoning Board, surveyed major zoning issues, and answered student questions, many of which indicated a concern for environmental protection.

The class visited Overlook Hospital to evaluate the hospital's role in providing community health services and toured the sites under consideration for possible hospital expansion.

The program has also included a speaker on area housing needs, two films dealing with water resources, and the study of individual zoning ordinances in the students' own communities. As a final exercise, the students will design a master plan for a hypothetical municipality.

Towne Club To End Year

The final meeting of the Towne Club for the year will be held Tuesday, May 27, at Pete and Charlie's Short Hills Mall, Short Hills. The social hour will begin at 11:30 a.m., followed by lunch and bridge.

Installation of officers for the 1975-76 club year will also take place.

Mrs. Jerry Padovano will take reservations.

Vocal Recital At Kent Place

Junior and senior voice students at Kent Place School will present a voice recital today.

The program is under the direction of William Heyne of the Kent Place music department.

Mural Painters Are Guests at Brayton

During lunch on Friday, May 2, Wilbur Nelson, principal of Brayton School hosted students and friends of James Hoskinson's fifth grade class to an ice cream party. This was a "thank you" to those girls and boys who painted the new mural in the Brayton School Cafeteria.

The mural was painted over a series of several Saturday mornings and afternoons during February, March, and April. The mural was designed and executed by the fifth graders, and is on all four walls. It depicts a sunrise, a mill, a farm, and other buildings. One feature is a building in which a wall clock has been incorporated as part of the steeple.

The fifth graders who participated in the beautification project are Lynn Brick, Timothy Bridges, Suzanne Bohnsack, Paul Brunder, Kirsten Calvert, Timothy Clabby, Richard Cooke, Matthew Conti (5A), Douglas Curtis, Michael Felix, Franklin Fry, Laura Garfinkel, Michael Hansler, Allan MacKinnon, Maureen McCarthy (5B), David McCray, Melissa Moore, Patricia Paessler, John Ring, Pamela Rittersbach, Francine Rota, Michelle Starks, Daniel Sternberg, Lawrence Twill, and Mary Katherine Wohlgenuth.

YM's "Ride for 24" Committees Named

Committees for the Summit Area YMCA's "Ride for 24" minibike marathon to be staged by the "Y Riders" on Saturday, May 31 have been appointed, according to Peter W. Addicott of the YM professional staff.

Thirty junior high boys in the Y's NYPCUM program, now signing up sponsors, plan to ride a total of 1,500 miles in 24 hours to benefit the Sahel Zone of Africa through YMCA World Service famine relief.

On the recruiting and registration committee are Gerald Holmes, "Y Riders" director, Peter W. Addicott, and Stephen and Michael Lieder of the Junior High School plus "Y-Riders" Doug McAdams, Jerry Marshall, and Melvin Jones.

Route and check point committee members are Police Chief Thomas Finneran, Allen Towne of Celanese Corporation, and William Claren of the Summit Junior High, plus "Y Riders" David McAdams, Frank Hall, Reed Weickel, and Craig Coleman.

Publicity committee members are Norman E. Rauscher YMCA director, "Y Riders," Bob Moaney, Mike Boskett, and Roger Henriksen.

Assemblywoman Curran Raps Democrats' Fiscal Policies

Assemblywoman Barbara A. Curran, Republican of Summit, today charged that the Democrat majority on the Joint Appropriations Committee "committed an act of incredible irresponsibility" by releasing a proposed budget containing a massive deficit.

"It is almost beyond belief that a panel of legislators, specifically bearing the responsibility for the development of a sound fiscal document, has chosen instead to ignore the responsibility."

Assemblywoman Curran said

"The majority on the committee has, by its action, conceded it cannot — or will not — exercise its stated prerogatives and formulate a balanced budget," she said.

"The Democrats stood shoulder to shoulder on the committee and blocked effort after effort to reduce spending and bring the potentially enormous deficit down to a more manageable and more easily solvable level," Curran said.

"While the anticipated budget deficit was reduced by $62 million, in reality, less than $2 million represented actual spending cuts, the remainder coming from revised revenue estimates," the Republican Legislator said.

"In other words, in a budget totaling $2.8 billion, the Democrat majority refused to cut more than $2 million — less than one-tenth of one per cent of the total," she said.

Miss Curran pointed out that budget reductions totaling some $550 million had been proposed, with the Republican minority alone offering some $210 million in cuts.

"Since the proposed reductions were either defeated or ruled out of order, one is compelled to conclude that the Democrat majority on the committee held fast against spending reductions in an effort to bludgeon the Legislature into the imposition of a new tax package," the Assemblywoman said.

"In a time of economic recession and uncertainty, state government must move decisively toward an austere, belt-tightening spending program, before considering new or additional taxes," she said.

BIKE RIDING BLUES

Sure, bikes are great for fun and exercise, but in careless hands they can also cause serious injury. The Department of Health, Education and Welfare estimates that a million injuries result from bike accidents every year. An increasing number of them are caused by collisions with cars. But most of the spills, skids, crashes, and other mishaps that trap riders in a tangle of wheels and handlebars are avoidable with proper precautions. Here are some pointers:

• Be sure your bike is safety-equipped, proper reflectors and lights for night riding, slip-resistant pedals, comfortable adjustments of seat and handlebars, proper grips, efficient brakes, and loud horn or bell. And wear clearly visible clothes when riding in traffic.

• Know and obey the rules of the road. Ride single file. Obey traffic signals, stay in the right hand curb lane. Never ride against traffic. By all means, never weave in and out of traffic.

This information has been brought to you as a public service by SPENCER M. MABEN, INC., 39 Beechwood Rd., Summit, Phone: 273-1900. Your one-stop answer to complete insurance protection.

Koerner-Shannahan

Central Presbyterian Church was the setting Saturday, May 17, for the wedding of Miss Jennifer K. Shannahan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H.K. Shannahan of 6 Portland road, to Bernard R. Koerner, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Koerner of East Hanover. Dr. Robert T. Kelsey performed the ceremony, which was followed by a reception at the home of the bride's parents.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. The bridegroom's sister, Miss Lynn Koerner of East Hanover, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids included the bride's sisters-in-law, Mrs. John H.K. Shannahan, Jr. of Los Angeles, Calif. and Mrs. James R. Shannahan of Santa Clara, Calif., Mrs. Kenneth Dunnder of Summit and Miss Mary P. Rogers of Jamaica, N.Y.

Marriage Announced

Karen Jean Christenson, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Paul J. Christenson of Spring Lake, Michigan was married Saturday to James Edward Greene, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. James Edward Greene, Sr., of 61 Butler parkway.

The ceremony was performed in Nashville, Tenn. in the Roman Catholic Church of St. Edward.

Mrs. Greene was attended by her sister Linda Christenson, Tina Edens and Cecilia Green, sister of the bridegroom. Mr. Greene, Sr. served as best man for his son.

The bride is an alumna of the East Tennessee State University School of Nursing.

Mr. Greene, Jr. is a graduate of Christian Brothers College, Memphis and is with M.G. Maher and Company of that city.

Special Sale Aids Animals

The first garage sale in a series of three for the benefit of the Summit Animal Welfare League will be held Saturday, May 3, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., at 124 Ashland road, corner of Colony Court and Ashland road.

Featured at the sale will be a variety of items for sale. While there will not be a great many house plants on hand there will be many unusual species.

Due to circumstances beyond its control, the league has been unable to secure a vacant shop in order to hold its annual Spring Rummage Sale, at least for the present time.

Donations of pictures, picture frames, glass, china, bric-a-brac, all household items, small furniture, garden furniture, garden tools, jewelry toys, etc., are needed.

The league will be unable to handle clothing at the moment.

For further information about the sales, and long range details about a rummage sale, call, 273-8940, 273-2663, 277-3125, 376-1492, 464-0035 or 762-2132.

A reception in honor of Kent P. Swanson, Republican candidate for Common Council from Ward 2 in the June Primary election, was held Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Huber of Fernwood road.

Mrs. William E. Crawford.

Crawford-Peterson

Faith Lutheran Church, Murray Hill, was the setting May 17 for the wedding of Miss Karen R. Peterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert O. Peterson of 11 High street, to William E. Crawford, Jr., of Columbia, Md., son of Mrs. Crawford of Adamstown, Md., and of the late Mr. Crawford. Rev. Russell E. Swanson performed the ceremony, which was followed by a reception at the Canoe Brook Country Club, Short Hills.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her cousin, Mrs. Richard Ellis, was matron of honor. Attendants included Miss Linda Crawford of Adamstown; Mrs. R. Donald Peterson of Havertown, Pa.; Miss Helga Sauter of Philadelphia, Pa.; Mrs. Williamson Vreeland of Summit and Mrs. Farid Wissa of Philadelphia.

Wayne Crawford served as his brother's best man. Ushers included Richard Ellis of Elberon, R. Donald

Garage Sale Aids Nursery

The Summit Cooperative Nursery Center will sponsor a garage and bake sale on Saturday at the Unitarian House, 2 Whittredge road. The sale, to be held in the all-purpose room at Unitarian House, will run from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Diane Johnson, sale chairwoman, had said that "the garage sale is our major fund-raising event for the upcoming school year. The proceeds from the sale will go towards the school scholarship fund."

"Over eighty families have donated items," Mrs. Johnson continued, "including a brass headboard, a working stereo unit, a beautiful mahogany bar, dinette set and chairs, many brand-new baby items, car seats and beds, good toys, and housewares and appliances."

"The donations are tax-deductible," Mrs. Johnson said, "because the nursery school is a non-profit organization. If anyone has an item he or she would like to donate, please call 373-3579."

A light table will also be set up as part of the garage and bake sale.

The public is cordially invited.

Summer Session To Open June 25

The Summer Session of the Summit public schools will open on Wednesday, June 25. Elementary reading and arithmetic classes will be held at Brayton School. The groups will meet five days a week with July 31 as the final day. At Summit High School, classes in English, mathematics, United States history I, typing, improvement in reading, and "How to Study" will be offered six mornings a week with July 31 as the final day. Instrumental Music, an expanded program, will meet at the high school five mornings per week, June 25 to July 31. The music program will offer additional opportunities this year. Beginners and intermediate players will again be able to enjoy instrumental lessons and ensembles, but bands and orchestras will now be available for advanced junior and senior high school players. The ex-mathematics and United States history I. These courses involve the student four hours a day for 30 days and meet state requirements. Students enroll in full credit courses to gain flexibility of elective choice in the regular school year or to attain depth in a subject field of special interest.

As in past years the Summer Session will operate on a tuition basis supplemented by a small subsidy from the Board of Education. Scholarship aid based on financial need is available in a limited number of cases.

Information on Summer Session is available in the office of each school in the Summit public schools system. Registration may be completed at Summit High School on Kent Place Boulevard. Inquiries may be directed to Daniel Kautzman, director of the Summer Session, at Summit High School, 273-1494.

WINS TOP HONORS — Mrs. Suzanne B. Haselmann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Boehm of 20 Clearview drive, a 1961 graduate of Summit High School, was graduated from Seton Hall University, summa cum laude, with a B.S. degree in nursing, on May 17. Mrs. Haselmann, who earned a straight "A" average, delivered the valedictory address. She also received the Ann Murphy award for the highest point average. Mrs. Haselmann, who lives in Whippany, is married to John Haselmann. The couple has three children.

New Tuition Program Honors Mrs. Dearborn

The tuition relief fund at the Summit Child Care Center has been named the Dearborn Fund, in honor of Virginia G. Dearborn who has served in numerous capacities at the center for a number of years.

The fund was established recently to provide temporary relief for parents who are hospitalized or who find themselves in other emergency situations without financial resources to continue tuition payments for their children.

Mrs. Dearborn, who has been executive secretary of the center, for the past two years, has also been president and a member of the board of trustees.

Commenting on the naming of the fund, D. Ann Atherton, vice president of the center, said: "We want to say 'Yes Santa Claus, there is a Virginia.'"

New trustees at the center include: Becky Bolger, Jane Davenport, Cynthia Scott, Phyllis Welch, Mary Lou Parker and Denise Haines, parents, and Vicky Tulloch, Gloria Badgley, Diane Gallo and Sue Cunningham.

Members of the nominating committee are Ruth Schwartz, chairman, Sue Cunningham, Phyllis Welch, and Deborah Cave.

Trio Again Teams Up To Stage MMT's 'Gypsy'

The upcoming Metropolitan Musical Theater production of "Gypsy" will bring together once again the talents of Andrew Wilk, Ralf Harmer, and Arthur Rice. The trio had previously collaborated on the Overlook Musical Theater's production of "Funny Girl" last December. "Gypsy" will be presented July 17, 18 and 19 at 8:30 p.m. at Summit High School. Mr. Wilk, a Summit resident, is returning to the Summit YMCA-sponsored summer theater for his third summer as director. In addition to his directing responsibilities, he will also handle musical direction for the production. His previous MMT directorial credits include "Promises Promises," "Roar of the Greasepaint," "My Fair Lady," "Applause," "You're A Good Man, Charlie Brown," "Celebration," and "The Fantasticks."

Theater Review

Pit the successful businessman against the unsuccessful person with revenge on his mind and you have the sum and substance of "Someone Waiting," currently being presented by the Playhouse as its 182nd production.

"Someone Waiting" is symptomatic of traditional British drawing room murder mysteries, but the twist here is that the end really is not predictable; and the fast third act really wraps up the situation.

As played by the current Playhouse group, the third act was punchy, but seemed a bit farcical, as if the cast too were surprised by the turn of events.

Aside from the slow first act, created by Emyln Williams, the playwright, to bring the audience up to date for the previous 22 years, the cast was up to the task at hand, complete with a fine set designed by Nancy Canning with Upton Thomas.

Eli Levine and Jim Becker were up to the jobs of playing the revenged and revenger, while Joe McGrath was just fine as the rebellious adopted son. Shirley Simpson was a good-looking wife and mother, and Janis Flynn was

For the Overlook Musical Theater, Mr. Wilk directed productions of "Annie Get Your Gun," and "Funny Girl."

Recently, he served as administrative assistant and music coordinator for the CBS Young People's Concerts. Mr. Wilk holds a B.F.A. from New York University's School of the Arts.

While at NYU, Mr. Wilk directed two television specials for WNYC-TV, "Songs From Celebration" featuring members of the original cast and "Music and Lyrics By Stephen Schwartz." Upon his return from Washington, D.C. where he is currently working as stage manager for the Washington Opera Company's production of Mignon at the Kennedy Art Center, Mr. Wilk will begin auditions for "Gypsy." Audition dates will be announced shortly.

Ralf Harmer has previously choreographed "Applause" and "West Side Story" for MMT. A New York City resident, Mr. Harmer staged the production numbers for Overlook's "Annie Get Your Gun" as well as "Funny Girl." Besides these local productions, he has also choreographed such shows as "Carousel," "Oklahoma," "Brigadoon," "Mame," and "Pajama Game." A veteran of such Broadway shows as "Bye Bye Birdie," "Music Man," and "Folies Bergere," Mr. Harmer is choreographer for Opera Miniatures in New York City and teaches dance.

Arthur Rice of Summit is returning to MMT for his fourth summer as set designer. Previously, he was responsible for the set designs for "Promises Promises," "Roar of the Greasepaint," "My Fair Lady," and "Guys and Dolls." A free lance artist with works in private collections, Mr. Rice recently held a one man show at the Peck School.

The Masterwork Chorus will repeat its Bicentennial Concert at the County College of Morris, Dover, on Saturday, May 31, at 8:30 p.m. properly dual in her role of maid and then, maid turned slattern. Liz Keill was seen too briefly to assay her talents, but she certainly has the ability to keep the cool.

There's a cameo role in almost any play where the character is on stage for a short period of time, but that time is well-spent and enjoyable. Such was the case with Maggi Kelly, who appeared briefly, but extremely well.

As in all Playhouse productions what goes on "on stage" is the result of the labors of many backstage. "Someone Waiting" is no different. Kudos must go to Betty Kaus as director, with assistance from Judyth Ann Elzer. While the set was well-suited to the occasion at hand, with masterful decoration by Aida Mugford and Cathy Steinbrugge, the use of blue light was a bit out of hand at Monday night's performance. Shirley Simpson's lovely blonde hair kept turning grey.

Otherwise, the best test at hand told the tale. The audience went away with a sense of satisfaction and enjoyment. And, that's what theater is all about.

Kent Place School Will Again Offer Unique Summer Course

Local students will again have an opportunity to gain experience working with young children at the Kent Place summer nursery school program.

From Monday, June 23 to Friday, August 29, Monday through Friday, a course entitled "Exploring Childhood Development" will be offered by Mrs. Roger S. Gale, Ed. M., Director of the Kent Place Nursery School with connection with the Kindergarten-Nursery School summer program.

The course offers adolescent boys and girls, grades 7 through 12, the opportunity to work on a one-to-one basis with young children while learning principles of childhood development. It is designed to give them new and responsible roles working with youngsters, skills to perform these roles, and preparation for adult responsibilities involving the care and welfare of the young. It is hoped that the experience will prepare them for camp counseling positions and encourage students to enter the education field.

Teenagers arrive at Kent Place at 8:15 a.m. and receive course instruction until 9 a.m. At 9 a.m. the children, ages 2½ to 5, come to school and the practicum begins and lasts until 11:45 a.m.

The Suburban Conference's baseball title race winds up this week with Summit High (8-4) and the thick of the championship chase with league-leading New Providence (9-3) and third-place Springfield (7-4).

Coach Art Cotterrell's Hilltoppers got back into the running for the title week with a pair of impressive victories. Summit, which had been in a "must-win" situation and then coasted to a 9-3 victory over Millburn.

The win over Millburn enabled the Hilltoppers to move into second place ahead of Springfield, which faltered twice last week, bowing to West Orange, 2-1, and to Madison Boro., 2-0.

New Providence staved off Summit's bid for a first-place tie, temporarily at least, by edging past Verona, 1-0.

Summit winds up its conference schedule with two games at Memorial Field in Summit. The Hilltoppers hosted Verona (8-3) last Monday afternoon and this afternoon will take on Springfield (7-4) at 3:45 p.m.

Summit will win over Verona and a Madison victory over New Providence last Monday would have created a first-place tie going into the final conference game of the season for both teams.

Summit (12-7) was the beneficiary of eight unearned runs in its victory over Millburn. The Hilltoppers were charged with eight errors. Millburn led 1-0 in the second inning when the Hilltoppers filled the bases on two walks and an error. Dave Connolly followed in a run when he struck out.

Summit had a big break when an misplayed fly ball gave the Hilltoppers a three more runs score, snapping a 1-1 tie. The Hilltoppers added four more runs in the third inning on two more Millburn errors and three hits.

HILLTOPPER NETMAN — Peter Lizotte has helped Summit High tennis post a 13-1 record this season. Hilltoppers are undefeated in Suburban Conference play.

Summit Jr. High Runners Bid for Unbeaten Season

Led by Jim Gibbons and Tom MacMahon in the distance races and scoring sweeps in the 880 and mile, the Summit Junior High track team defeated Kawameah Jr. High from Union, 89-28. This is the team's 14th straight win this year.

Mike Giamo and Jim Wyrrough followed MacMahon across the line in the mile and MacMahon and Scott Nolan finished behind Gibbons in the 880. The long jumpers also scored a sweep with Lou Cottingham going 18'9" and Greg Wilson 18'3". Dave Boyd finished third with 16'2 1/2".

The 330 hurdles had Evers first in 46.3 and Merrill Clark second at 51.2. It was Wilson first at 10.9, and Gwathney second at 11.1 in the 100. Wilson also won the 220 in 25.0. Gwathney was 3rd at 25.2. Chris Newell ran well in the 440 (56.8) to place first, with Dave Johnson third at 60.2.

The high jump saw Carlye Newell tie his best of 5'4" to win and Tom Evers 4'10" for third. Evers also took second in the pole vault at 8'0" behind Tom Norris, who was a double scorer, first in pole vault at 9'6" and second in the javelin at 118'1".

George Meyer was a triple winner, taking first in the high hurdles (18.9), shot put (37'5") and discus (104'6"). Bill Lynch took third in the discus at 84'7".

The Hilltoppers have three meets to go as they approach their first undefeated season. Last year's squad finished at 11-1, and 1973's team at 7-1.

Set Records

With Tom Evers and George Meyer setting new school records in their events, the Junior High Team defeated Cranford 99-18. Evers knocked a tenth of a second off Walter Reiter's record in the 330 intermediate hurdles and George Meyer sailed the discus to better Dave Manley's mark by over two feet.

This is the third school record to be set by this year's team, the first being the 880 Relay run at the N.Y. Relays at Randall's Island.

Many individuals again bettered their previous bests in the Cranford meet. Carlye Newell did so in the 330 hurdles, along with Merrill Clark. Phil Gwathney tied his best in the 100. Chris Newell ran impressive times in the 440 and 880, winning both. There are few who can run these two events in the same meet as well as Chris Lou Cottingham again bettered his time with Newell in the 440.

Tom Norris won the javelin and pole vault with his best efforts of the season. George Meyer, Phil Lee and Dave Boyd also had their best day in the javelin. Bill Lynch, along with George, threw their best in the discus.

Those who scored in the Cranford and their times and distances were as follows:

330 Hurdles: Evers (1st-44.7) Newell (2nd-47.3)
100 Dash: Wilson (1st-10.9) Gwathney (2nd-11.1) Wyrrough (3rd-11.1)
100 Yards: Gwathney (1st-24.5) Cottingham (2nd-24.9)
120 Hurdles: Meyer (1st-19.2) Run (3rd-20.9)
880: Newell (1st-2:13.3) Gibbons (2nd-2:14.3) Finish (3rd-2:16.3)
220 Dash: Wilson (1st-25.0) Gwathney (2nd-25.4) Cottingham (3rd-25.7)
High Jump: Newell — Evers — Gwathney (Tie at 4'8")
Pole Vault: Norris (1st-10'0") Evers (2nd-8'0") Long Jump: Wilson (1st-17'10") Johnson (2nd-15'11") Shot Put: Meyer (1st-38'8") Snyder (2nd-33'4") Discus: Meyer (1st-120'7") Lynch (3rd-88'3") Javelin: Norris (1st-123'9") Meyer (2nd-123'3") Lee (3rd-123'1")

Merchant missed almost four weeks of pitching because of a sore arm but he has won three games during Summit's belated drive for the conference title. He also has been playing in the outfield and he leads Summit in hitting with a .519 average. A pace that could give him a school record. Merchant had 28 hits in 54 at bats going into this week's action.

Summit collected 10 hits in trimming the Pioneers. Merchant was given a 2-0 edge in the first inning, when an error, walk and Merchant's single filled the bases with one out. Rick Gross' bouncer scored two runs.

New Providence scored its only run in the second inning on two walks, a sacrifice and a single by Tom Robinson. Summit then scored twice in the third inning, three times in the fourth, and twice more in the fifth to win handily.

New Providence's Mike Barba (5-2) walked home two runs in the fourth inning.

Summit Lacrosse Men Finish with 6-5 Mark

Summit High's regular lacrosse season came to an end Saturday at the Peddie School in Hightstown where they lost a hard-fought game, 14-9.

Earlier, Summit had posted wins over Princeton High School, 11-10, and Clifton High School, 10-4. Summit's record for its first year was 6 wins and 5 losses.

Summit expects to be playing more lacrosse, however, since it probably will be selected to play in the State Tournament which starts May 28. Eight teams will be playing a single elimination tournament to determine the public school champion.

The New Jersey Lacrosse Coaches' Tournament, played this week, will include both public and private schools. Summit was not selected for the Coaches' Tournament. The four teams will be Montclair High, Boonton High, Hunterdon Central High and Pingry Prep.

Summit was still showing the effects of the Pingry game when they had a very close call beating Princeton High School in overtime, 11-10. Princeton got off to a three-point lead before Pat Hayes put Summit on the board for its only score in the first period.

In the second period, Princeton got the first goal to increase its lead to three. Summit found the range to tie it at 4-4 at the half on a three-goal spree by Andy Nestler unassisted, Frank Woodbury, assisted by Chuck Wiebe, and Tim Hyde, assisted by Woodbury.

Princeton again got the first score as the third period started, but Summit got three more — Woodbury, on a pass from Loch Kelly; John Combias, on a pass from Wiebe, and then Combias passed to Woodbury to give the lead to Summit at the end of the third period, 7-5.

Chuck Wiebe opened the lead by another point, but Princeton surprised Summit with three straight goals. It was left to Loch Kelly to tie it up and send it into overtime.

Summit was able to get two goals to one for Princeton to win, 11-10, on a Combias shot, after taking a pass from Woodbury, and then passing to Kelly to "ice it."

Summit journeyed to Clifton to play the game which had been rained out three times before. Clifton, 0-6 on the year, was a big physical team, but was not able to contain Summit's attack, which matched Clifton's three goals in the first period and then went on to run up a 10-4 win.

Clifton got another goal to open the second half, but that proved to be their last. Summit continued to score. Wiebe tallied on a dodge around the cage and then Kelly passed to Pat Hayes for a score. Hadley got one on a pass from Woodbury, and then Woodbury closed out the scoring, following a Jeff Smith pass.

Summit had hopes of a 7-4 season, but it was not to be. Peddie was strong where Summit was strong. It was a very good game, following the pattern of several earlier games.

Peddie scored first, but Chuck Wiebe passed to John Combias on an extra-man play to tie it up. Wiebe then dodged for a second goal to put Summit in the lead, but Peddie came right back with two goals.

Wiebe intercepted a defenseman's clearing pass and took it in for the score to tie it again.

WATCHUNG DOUBLES CHAMPS — Jack Morrison of Summit (left) and David Partridge of Madison won the Watchung Indoor Tennis Club's doubles tourney, winning the title match at the Chatham club, 6-2, 6-2. The champs lost only 35 games in five matches during the two-week tournament. Pewter mugs were presented to the tourney winners.

Summit (13-1) Netmen Rout Four Rivals

Summit High's powerful tennis team rolled over three Suburban Conference foes — Springfield, Verona and Madison — by identical 4-1 scores last week and added a 5-0 blanking of Berkeley Heights to boost its season record to 13-1.

The Hilltoppers are undefeated in Suburban Conference play. Mark Jeffrey (6-4, 6-4), Peter Lizotte (6-0, 6-0) and Lou Zachary (6-4, 4-3), forfeit all won in singles against Springfield, Alex Colton and David Poole scored a 6-1, 7-5 victory in the No. 1 doubles match for the Hilltoppers.

Jeffrey (6-3, 6-1) and Zachary (6-1, 6-4) won singles matches against Verona, while Colton-Poole scored a 6-1, 7-5 victory in the No. 1 doubles match for the Hilltoppers.

The doubles teams had to work harder to win. Colton and Poole won 6-4, 7-6, while Bottelli and Mark Rapier scored a 6-3, 7-6 victory. Tie-breakers decided the second set in both doubles matches.

Summit lost only five games in sweeping the singles matches with Berkeley Heights, Lizotte (6-1, 6-0), Jeffrey (6-2, 6-1) and Zachary (6-1, 6-0) all won handsily.

Bumpers Win Twice, Lead Softball League

In another rain-abbreviated week, Bumper to Bumper won two games and edged ahead of West Summit Garage in the Summit Recreation Men's Softball League.

Bumper trimmed City Auto Top, 8-4, as Pete Kivlen, Jr. allowed 10 hits but was tough with men on base. The Bumpers scored five times in the bottom of the first inning and one in the second to take a commanding lead.

Auto Top tallied once in the third and three times in the fourth inning but that was all. Bob Smith gave up eight hits in suffering the loss.

Ray Krause, Nick Serritella and Jim Supple had two hits apiece for Bumper. Tom McAneny and Bill Dunn had three and two hits, respectively, for City Auto Top.

Bumper to Bumper then combined timely hitting with three errors and three walks by the American Legion to win 9-2. Pete Kivlen again picked up the pitching win as he allowed five hits.

The big hit of the game was Jerry Allocco's grand slam in the bottom of the second inning. This broke a 1-1 tie and proved to be more than enough for the win.

Allocco added a single to his home run and Joe Smith had two hits to lead the Bumper hitting. Pete Horn got two of the Legion's five hits as they went down to their third loss.

Dill and The American Legion battled to a 10-10 tie as darkness forced a halt to the game. Dill Contracting was on the heavy end of a 10-5 score when The Legion came up with five runs to knot the score in the bottom of the sixth inning.

The Horn Brothers (Connie, Willie and Pete) did all the damage as they had two hits apiece and six of the seven hits. The Dill batsmen unloaded with 13 hits, led by Jim Brannon's perfect four-for-four game. Tom Dill, Ron Sperduto and Jack Sapp had two hits each, with Tom and Ron Clubbing home runs.

Dill then suffered a heart-breaking loss to Marco Polo, 2-1, when the Restauraters scored two runs in the bottom of the seventh inning. With two outs and two runners on base via walks, the Dill second sacker erred, allowing the runs to score.

Buddy Cox suffered the loss, but pitched well as he allowed only one hit in each of the first two innings. John Patrick also pitched well, allowing only three hits.

The standings:

Oratory Nine Upset

Oratory School's bid for the State Parochial "C" baseball title came to an abrupt end last week when Coach Frank Palmieri's Rams were upset by St. Mary's High of Elizabeth, 5-2, in an opening-round game at Oratory Field.

The Rams (12-9) were limited to just four hits by two St. Mary's pitchers. By winning, the Hilltoppers evened their season record at 8-8.

Oak Knoll Nine Posts 5-1 Mark

Summit's Oak Knoll High School's softball team has won five of its first six games in competition with teams from area schools.

Coach Ann Conlon, director of the school's physical education department, rates the record of this year's team "outstanding." There are four more games to play.

The team's latest victory was an especially exciting one against Holy Trinity High School of Westfield. Although Holy Trinity had the home advantage and there was rain to contend with, Oak Knoll marched on to a 9-8 victory.

Winning pitcher Sally Hughes of Summit went the complete seven innings, walking only four batters. The pitcher also made two key hits, driving home two of the team's nine runs. Camille Graziano and Sheila Murphy added to the hitting force with two hits each.

Oak Knoll's fielding was also outstanding. Ryan Martin, shortstop, had six put outs, including a spectacular backhand catch deep in the hole at the third-base line. Sheila Murphy, left fielder, made several great catches, including the last out of the game with runners on first and third, saving the Oak Knollers one-run lead.

St. Mary's took a 2-0 lead against Jim Smith in the second inning. Two walks and an error gave St. Mary's runners at second and third base with one out. An error on a "squeeze-play" attempt allowed one run to score and the second crossed the plate on Pancho Casures' single.

Oratory tied the score, 2-2, in the same inning. John Dobrosky walked and Jim Dathé singled him to second. St. Mary's pitcher Bill Laven then walked three batters in a row, forcing in two runs.

A walk, sacrifice and a single by Glenn Sierra put St. Mary's in front again in the fourth inning. The Elizabeth team added two insurance runs in the seventh. Smith, who allowed seven hits, saw his record drop to 6-4 for the season.

Summit Woman Aids Costa Rica Golfers' Victory

How does a woman from Summit become a winner in the Second Friendship Golf Tournament of Costa Rica-Panama?

Mrs. Ruth Horowitz, a member of the Costa Rican team, won the low net first place when she went to Panama on the invitational visit.

During the course of events, Mrs. Horowitz, who describes herself as a steady, but not spectacular golfer, started playing rounds at various San Jose golf clubs. Eventually, she was asked to join the Costa Rican women's team, which emanates from the International Country Club.

And so, the team, with Mrs. Horowitz as part of the group, went to Panama for the tournament, which resulted in an unexpected win for Costa Rica and a trophy for the marriage counselor from Summit.

Hunt Third In UCC 100

With weight star Bruce Atkinson, the favorite in the javelin throw and a certain point scorer in the shot put and discus, sided with a bad back, Summit High's track and field team finished 12th in the Union County championships last Saturday at Williams Field in Elizabeth.

Jeff Hunt turned in the best performance for the Hilltoppers with a third-place finish in the 100-yard dash. Dave Manley was fifth in the shot put and Summit's mile relay team finished fifth.

Plainfield took the team title with 43 1/2 points, easily outdistancing Scotch Plains (27), Union (27), Springfield (25), Westfield (20), Roselle Catholic (19), Cranford (15 1/2), Jefferson of Elizabeth (13 1/2), Linden (10), Roselle (10), Kenilworth (8 1/2), Summit, Hillside (6 1/2), New Providence (4 1/2) and Pingry School of Hillside (2).

Thomason, Gloria's Top Loop

Thomason Auto Parts, behind another good pitching effort from Mike Prezuhy, beat Masco PBA55, 19-5, in the Independent Softball League. Thomason had 20 hits in the game, with C. Foley, D. Conroy and J. Fatoute each having three hits. Winning pitcher Mike Prezuhy limited Masco PBA to seven hits with J. Heffernan getting two of them. Al Hoosly was the losing pitcher for Masco.

Gloria's Lunch moved into first place in the East Division with a 13-12 win over Summit Suburban Hotel. For the fourth straight game, Suburban Hotel was leading going into the last inning but lost. Eric Sunshine had a homer and D. Dole a triple to lead Gloria's while Carl Bressen had a triple for Suburban Hotel. P. Schoeder was winning pitcher for Gloria's and M. Scerrifano the loser for Suburban Hotel.

Terry's Lunch, behind some fine pitching from Bill Piccola, won its second game of the season with an 11-3 victory over Summit Bakery. Tom Sieben was the big hitter for Terry's with three hits, including a triple. Rick McGee took the loss for Summit Bakery.

Summit Dairy Queen suffered its first defeat of the season as Masco PBA 55 won the game, 9-8. After a shaky start, the Masco team tightened up its defense behind the fine pitching of Scott Ketcham to take the game. Rob Smith was losing pitcher for the Dairy Queen. Rich Asarnow with three hits, including a homer, and Jack Heffernan, with three hits, lead Masco PBA, while Jack Formichella had three hits for the Dairy Queen.

to my that exists between the needs of the people and economy in government," Mr. Sagner said there are "problems" in trying to develop a "rational transportation program."

The energy problem, the economy and other factors preclude against "building roads as we have in the past."

He also discussed the $170 million grant which the Erie-Lackawanna Railroad has received from the federal government for the modernization of its system. Part of the grant will be used to purchase "MU" (individually-powered) cars, and for electrification so that the cars are compatible with the Penn Central system going into New York.

He defended the 3-2 seating program, as opposed to the 2-2, because it will save about $35 million, "a serious consideration."

Responding to a question about the gap between the completed sections of Route 78, which serves to put traffic on Summit roads, as well as on other Union County municipalities, Mr. Sagner said "Everybody wants roads, but not in their neighborhoods."

He said the engineers have not yet definitely concluded where the diversions should take place. The biggest problem, he added, will be the diversion of heavy trucks. Residential areas will be avoided as much as possible.

The federal grant will not be used for the renewal of stations, Mr. Sagner disclosed, but there is a possibility of a bond issue, subject to voter approval in November, for capital improvements.

To one member of the audience who suggested double-decker highways, rather than expanding single ones, Mr. Sagner said his department is considering this alternative, "even though it is more costly."

"We can no longer play the game of taking away parks and low-income neighborhoods," the commissioner declared.

Stating that no matter how many highways there are, there will still be congestion, Mr. Sagner said the problem is, "How to seduce people away from their cars to using public transportation?"

To a question about the necessity for three independent agencies dealing with highways — the New Jersey Turnpike Authority, the Garden State Parkway Authority and the New Jersey Highway Department — Mr. Sagner said his department has prepared a study for the governor, analyzing these operations.

He decried the need for three separate agencies, each with its own budget, administration, planning and legal resources. If the governor approves the assessment of the authority situation, a recommendation will be forwarded to the legislature, said Mr. Sagner, for the consolidation or abolition of some of the groups.

Three One-Run Wins For State Farm (9-0)

Very exciting, close contests featured the fourth week of play in Summit Junior Baseball League action.

Recent games in the Major League (ages 10-12) included three one-run victories by the powerful State Farm Insurance (Summit) Rangers, who extended their undefeated string to nine games.

Also featured was a no-hitter pitched by Harold Dlugatch of the league-sponsored Pirates, in a game which included 15 strikeouts by the hurler.

The fun and excitement in the Minor League (ages 9-10) continued. Highlights of recent action included the extending of the Hurricanes' undefeated streak to six games, and two of the league's games ending with tie scores.

In the Senior League (ages 13-15), the Condors won three times and the Rams twice.

Rangers 9 Indians 8
The State Farm Insurance (Summit) Rangers scored four times in the last inning, including a bases-loaded triple by Steve Jahries. Allan Buchholz, Bob Nye and Steve Jahries each had two hits in the game, which marked the second win for pitcher Gerard Phelan. The batting star for the Charline Indians was Matt Felix with a tremendous home run and five RBI's.

Rangers 3 Athletics 2
Jerry Hunt of the State Farm Insurance (Summit) Rangers struck out eight while yielding only three hits in picking up his fifth win. Batting stars for the Rangers were Gerard Phelan with a booming home run, Allan Buchholz and Michael Hansler. Robert Carbone pitched a fine game in a losing effort for the Liss Pharmacy Athletics, while Chris Brodman tripled for their only extra base hit. Both teams were outstanding on defense.

Rangers 3 Orioles 2
Bob Nye pitched a nifty four-hitter in leading the undefeated State Farm Insurance (Summit) Rangers to their ninth straight win. The Rangers defeated the Roy's Toy Shop Orioles with Nye also leading the offense with two doubles and a single in three trips to the plate. Greg Tyler went two for three. Matt Conti was the batting star for the Orioles with two of their four hits. The Oriole outfielders were outstanding on defense.

Pirates 11 Giants 1
Harold Dlugatch's overpowering pitching resulted in a no-hitter and 15 strikeouts as the Pirates defeated the Equipco Giants. Batting stars for the Pirates were Bill Santschi and Tom Kane, with three hits apiece, and Craig Brundage with two. The lone Giant run was scored by Bill Decker, who stole home.

Pirates 6 Yankees 4
The Pirates defeated the Englehard Yankees behind the strong four-hit pitching of Harold Dlugatch, who struck out 14 while walking

Red Sox 10 Orioles 7

Root's Red Sox defeated the Roy's Toy Shop Orioles in a wide-open game. Bill Burch got the win for the Red Sox with help from Bill Mazur. Rusty Good had a perfect 3-0 for 3-day at the plate while Good, Burch and Grant Curtis each had two RBI's. John Liberato homered for the Orioles.

Braves 7 Giants 6

John Clark scattered four hits in notching his second win for the Ciba-Geigy Braves over the Equipco Giants. Mike Ciampa and Robert Morton had two hits each for the Braves, including Morton's long home run. Joe Dasti, Scott Decker, John Ferrara and Blaine Ross had hits for the Giants, while Ralph Juergensen pitched a strong game. Strong fielding by Steve Snyder and Tim Stone of the Braves and Rod Mauro of the Giants highlighted the game.

Braves 2 Pirates 6

The Ciba-Geigy Braves, led by Robert Morton's sixth-inning pitching and batting, overpowered the Pirates. Morton led the attack with three home runs, one with the bases loaded, while Tom Snyder had four hits, Fred Hopkins three hits, and Carl Austin a bases-loaded homer for the winners.

Braves 2 Pirates 6

The Ciba-Geigy Braves, led by Robert Morton's sixth-inning pitching and batting, overpowered the Pirates. Morton led the attack with three home runs, one with the bases loaded, while Tom Snyder had four hits, Fred Hopkins three hits, and Carl Austin a bases-loaded homer for the winners.

for alternative alignments and further study.

Speculating on when Route 78 would be opened, Mr. Sagner humorously said there would have to be a constitutional change instituted allowing a governor and his administration to serve for more than two terms if he were still to be in office for the occasion.

He also declared that "there would never again be a road built like Route 78, cutting through and devastating neighborhoods."

Although he indicated he probably would not have built the highway to begin with, he is pledged to seeing it completed rather than improving Route 22 as a substitute.

The remedy to New Jersey's transportation difficulties, he said, is tied to the enactment of an income tax. In order to achieve intelligent transportation planning, there must be sufficient funds which could be realized with an income tax.

"Until now, transportation planning in the state has left a great deal to be desired," declared the commissioner, who lives in South Orange.

He added he was not sure whether the state could undertake the kind of planning that is necessary, because of the absence of concomitant land-use planning.

Each municipality in the state can plan and zone as exclusively as it wants to do, Mr. Sagner pointed out. Pointing to the "dicho-
