City code excites concern over residents' constitutional rights

SUMMIT--Residents are worried that the city's proposed property maintenance code sacrifices constitutional rights of privacy.

The code states its purposes as prevention of blight "and major expenditure by the city," and protection of "public health, safety, and welfare."

The new code, introduced on April 16, will be heard by the Common Council on May 7 at city hall.

"Everything in life is a trade-off," said local resident William Faitoute. "What constitutional rights are they willing to give up for what degree of health and safety? And what measurable degree of health and safety benefits is there in an ordinance that requires the inspecting of everyone's individual home?" asked Faitoute.

A matter of taste?

The proposed code gives general guidelines for maintenance of single-family homes.

Included in the New Jersey State Housing Code, which is annexed to the city's proposed code, are the following standards:

"The minimum rate of flow of hot or cold water issuing from a faucet or fixture shall be not less than one gallon per minute..."

"Garbage or other organic waste shall be stored in watertight receptacles of metal or other approved material. Such receptacles shall be provided with tight fitting covers..."

"Every habitable room shall have at least one window or skylight facing directly to the outdoors. The minimum total window or skylight area measured between stops, for every habitable room shall be 8 percent of such room."

"Every building...shall be clean and free from garbage and or rubbish and hazards to safety. Lawns, hedges, and bushes shall not be permitted to become overgrown and unsightly..."

The state code also covers safety of electrical outlets, ventilation providing "two air changes per hour," and safety of heating equipment.

"I don't think there are 50 people in this town who don't visualize some violation in their own home," said Faitoute, "whether it's dampness in the cellar or too many boxes stored in the garage or a cracked attic window."

According to Faitoute, the maintenance code means, "The giant condo returns."

Faitoute believes the property maintenance code seeks to promote uniformity in residential properties.

"We're not an arbiter of community taste," said Michael Smith, member of the Substandard Housing Board.

Local resident Jake Raab described the city's enforcement of the current maintenance code as "heavy-handed."

"I would think it would be much less of a concern if the city had been more humane in its enforcement of the code so far," said Raab.

"They've given themselves a great deal of latitude...it's almost a stop-us-if-you-can situation," said Raab.

"It seems like they got together and made a law to protect our fair city from its own people," said Raab.

Last Thursday, Public Officer Warren Melvin said one of the cases on his list had festered into a feud between two brothers. "It's like the Hatfields and the McCoys," said Melvin.

"You're setting up neighbor against neighbor," said Faitoute. "What kind of neighbor would report on his neighbor anyway? Not a very good one."

Rabb said, "I'm not sure what they're trying to do. It reminds me of a landlord-tenant situation. It's written with everything to protect them, nothing to protect us."

"Another part that bothers me is that you'd have to be a lawyer to understand this thing," Raab commented.

In 1967, the city adopted a sample ordinance for enforcing the state code. The sample code gives powers of inspection "at any reasonable time."

William Heller, local resident, said, "The real question is what is different from the new code versus the old code. They changed section five, but instead of elaborating and spelling it out, they've disguised it and said, 'refer to the (state) housing code'."

"You know, about four people I talked to sighed and said it would be easier to move," said his wife, Sylvia Heller.

"There's really only a slight change, which says no one's constitutional rights will be violated," said Heller.

The proposed maintenance code reads, "No inspection shall interfere with the legal or constitutional rights of the owner, operator, or occupant. Every occupant shall give the owner thereof, or his agent or employee, access at all reasonable times for the purpose of making such repairs or alterations as are necessary to effect compliance with the provisions of this ordinance."

"The public officer has the right to inspect. He does not have the right to barge into someone's apartment or private home uninvited," said John Lifland, attorney of the Substandard Housing Board.

"If the occupant refused permission, he'd never go in," said Lifland of the public officer.

"We've got trouble with definitions because words are imperfect tools," said Lifland. Smith differentiated between cosmetic and aesthetic standards: "I take the flat position that I don't make any judgements with regard to aesthetics. Cosmetics have to do with maintenance, in my opinion. If the property is maintained, the fact that the house is painted purple or in stripes doesn't matter," as long as all surfaces subject to corrosion are well painted.

Lifland has re-written the code with help from Common Council members Thomas Kelsey and Marge Brown.

Melvin reports about 40 dwellings are now listed as having violations; of these, said Melvin, four are multi-family buildings encompassing more than 150 units.

About 75 percent of Melvin's cases are violations of section 10.1 of the New Jersey State Housing Code. That section stipulates, "Every foundation, floor, wall, ceiling, door, window, roof, or other part of a building shall be kept in good repair and capable of the use intended by its design, and any exterior part or parts thereof subject to corrosion shall be kept well painted."

Melvin remembers, "One house had paint peeling off of half of it, but there was nothing I could do, because it was brick, and brick is not subject to corrosion."

"Without paint, the elements can cause wood to split, chip, or crack," said Melvin.

"The money they would spend now is miniscule compared to what they would spend down the road without correcting peeling paint," Melvin added.

State laws

"There isn't any state agency to control maintenance of single family, owner occupied dwellings," said Ralph Phleger, chief of the New Jersey Bureau of Housing Inspection.

"That's provided on a local level," said Phleger. "There are of Health (of New Jersey) can enforce--they can't tell you to go in and paint the house unless they've got children playing and lead paint peeling, for instance," Phleger explained.

"That is a model code our department writes up as a guideline," said Phleger. "It doesn't mean the state has jurisdiction over it," he continued.

Michael Ticktin, attorney with the New Jersey Division of Housing and Development, said the State Housing Code is, "...a list of standards that applies to all housing in the state."

The state code becomes effective only when it is adopted by a municipality through a local ordinance.

"If the owner or occupant didn't want them in, they could refuse them entry," said Ticktin.

Asked how people would know they had the right to refuse entry, Ticktin said, "The old adage about a man's home being his castle, I think, is something many people are familiar with," said Ticktin.

"I think many people know...that they have certain rights from the Fourth Amendment," said Ticktin.

"If he (the housing inspector) cites you, there's a procedure for challenging it. You go to an administrative hearing on a local level--then maybe you go to court," Ticktin said.

Ticktin said he didn't know of any cases in which a municipality's ordinance had been challenged in court.

"I think we're going to over-regulate ourselves," said William Heller.

"Why should he (the inspector) come inside ever? That's not something we want the city to regulate," said Heller. "We already have health, building, and fire codes. Why do we need a property maintenance code?" he asked.

"If the plaster is cracked on the wall and they don't fix it for a year, is that really something the city should get involved with?" Heller continued. "Most people in Summit maintain their homes because it makes economic sense to them," he said.

Municipalities are not legally obliged to adopt property maintenance codes. But they are obliged to conform with certain regulations set up by the New Jersey State Board of Health.

The proposed code says the local Board of Health may work independently or in cooperation with the Substandard Housing Board.

The State Housing Code is one way to fill the state Board of Health's requirements. Also, said Ticktin, municipalities may use model codes prepared by BOCA, Building Officials and Code Administrators International. Or they may use codes designed by the National Public Health Association.

It's up to each municipality to regulate the degree of subjectivity its ordinance allows, according to Ticktin.

"The actual code doesn't deal with enforcement," said Ticktin.

Local resident Jean Paashauss believes "The definitions are in the wrong place." Definitions for maintenance of non-residential properties are given in Section 4 of the ordinance. "But the average person could misunderstand and think it meant (residential properties), too," said Paashauss.

"We try to provide a reasonable standard of habitability with consideration for the tenants' rights," said Lifland.

In rented buildings, said Lifland, "It's a catch twenty-two situation because some tenants don't want to complain because their rent would go up," if the repairs in question were performed.

"We have to walk a tight line here. There are properties in Summit that with aggressive maintenance are livable, with unaggressive maintenance they deteriorate and come back on our list. But some of those places are homes of longtime Summit residents, and it's the only place they can afford to live," in the city, said Lifland.

"Band-aid" repairs keep some properties hopping on and off the substandard list for years, said Lifland.

"If I go to one, the other peeks through the window and comes over and says, Mr. Melvin, come over here and look at this," Melvin said.

"No letter of complaint is complete unless it states the exact ordinance that is violated," said William Faitoute.

"Many letters cite three codes at the top and the resident has to guess," which one applies to his case, said Faitoute.

"With a staff of one, that's impossible," said Melvin, who plans to ask for secretarial offices for the exclusive use of the Substandard Housing Board.

"Can you imagine the detail and attention that has to be given? And I have to be out in the field a lot," stated Melvin.

"I think the people in East Summit are worried that they might get taken by this law," said

Jan Knost, local clergyman, said, "In any city hierarchy, which any city or town is, where you have haves and have nots, it's always possible that prejudicial treatment can occur to those less fortunate and less able to maintain the property in ways commensurate with the standards under which they live at the present."

Knost worried that many people might not know where to go for recourse if cited for substandard conditions.

"A person who doesn't have the funds and knowledge to protect himself will be trampled," Faitoute said.

ED ELENAUSKY, left, receives dedication of twelve videotapes to the Summit Free Public Library, of which he is director, from Lyle Fisher of Summit's Educational Cable Consortium. The ECC gave the library the videotapes, which treat various issues relating to modern families, in the name of the Family Services Association of Summit. The ECC, with headquarters at 24 Beechwood Rd., distributes nationally to educational cable stations, social agencies, and schools. The tapes were dedicated on April 23.

ASTRID HASBROUCK, left, and George Ball load Ball's classic Mercedes with hot lunches to deliver to participants in the SAGE Meals on Wheels program. SAGE, the Summit-area Association for Gerontological Endeavors, in cooperation with the Summit Area Red Cross, helps to provide meals for area residents who can't always fend for themselves. SAGE this week celebrated National Volunteers Week; posters were created in honor of the volunteers, and refreshments were provided for them as they made their daily rounds.

Community center to open doors with open house

SUMMIT--A new Community Center at 15 Chestnut St. will be introduced to the city with an open house on May 4 from 11am to 1pm.

The center is located across the street from the city's senior citizens housing project now under construction.

From 9am to 3pm, the center will be open for a variety of functions. At 3pm each weekday, it will turn into a youth center.

According to Dave Guthrie of the Municipal Youth Guidance

Council, at this point the center is equipped just with material for the youth center.

Youth center accoutrements include a pool table, a ping-pong table, chairs, and stereo equipment. A new, 45 inch screen television will arrive soon, said Guthrie.

"If we were going to have any wish, I guess, it would be that it was twice as big," Guthrie said of the new center. "But everyone's basically satisfied with it for now," he added.

YWCA says, Get into the swim

SUMMIT -- The Summit YWCA wants its swimming pool to be full on May 17 and 18 for the 1985 Plunge for Funds.

This bi-annual event raises money for YWCA recreation and physical education equipment as well as for health and physical education scholarships.

"One major goal for this year is to raise money to complete refurbishing the YWCA's women's and men's locker rooms," said Donald Tayntor, chairman of the 1985 Plunge for Funds.

Swimmers are asked to bring in a minimum of $10 for the YWCA but there's no requirement of how far they swim.

To add to the excitement, they are encouraged to wear costumes. There will be prizes for the funniest and most creative attire.

If you'd like to be a swimmer, a sponsor or to contribute prizes, call Pat Cronin, YWCA Health, Physical Education and Recreation Director, at 273-4242.

COMING OUT SWINGING for a Summit High baseball team, which had won five straight games heading into yesterday's contest with Montville, is the Hilltoppy-hitting outfield trio of, from left, Matt Schwarz, Mike Plourde, and Jackin.

Gardeners - do they have it made in the shade?

For many homeowners, gardening is the hardest chore there is.

But acclaimed landscape architect Ruth Palace of Mendham can help turn that chore into a pleasure. In two separate talks on Saturday, May 4, Mrs. Palace will discuss "Low-Maintenance Gardening," at 10 am in the Frelinghuysen Arboretum, Morristown; and "Success in the Shade," at 2 pm in the Reeves-Reed Arboretum, Summit. Both talks are open to the public.

When it comes to designing a low-maintenance garden, many factors come into play, according to the speaker. For instance, choosing plants that are suitable to the physical conditions of the property and the climate will cut down on the amount of maintenance required. In addition, installing an automatic watering system, using mulch to cut down on weeds, and choosing the largest plants you can afford will all go far toward reducing maintenance work.

"But there's a difference between low maintenance and no maintenance. A neglected garden gets an untidy, desolate appearance," Mrs. Palace said. "Plants are living things and you must water and feed them."

The landscape architect noted that the size of a lawn — and the required maintenance — can be reduced by using an attractive ground cover such as pachysandra, planting small-scale shrubbery, or paving with brick or flagstones to create terraces. "The ultimate solution is up to the individual's taste, preference in garden styles, and how much time a person is willing to devote to gardening," she said.

Speaking about shade gardening, the Mendham landscape architect said, "Everyone seems to have a problem with shade. They don't understand its basic nature and dynamics. Shade does not stay the same."

Palace, an affiliate of the prestigious American Society of Landscape Architects, noted that most shady gardens fade over time as the plants increase in size, produce more roots, and compete for oxygen, nutrients and water. In addition, the canopy producing the shade gets denser, and that cuts down on the sunlight reaching the garden.

Successful shade gardening requires an annual commitment to pruning and fertilizing the plantings regularly, as well as watering and mulching, according to the speaker. "Tall trees need professional pruning — 'high pruning' — to remove branches up to 30 feet off the ground. That lets more light in as the sun rises and sets," Mrs. Palace pointed out. "You can prune large shrubbery yourself. Large shrubs create shade and that can hurt small flowers." Slides of successful shady gardens will be shown during the talk.

"Success in the Shade" is part of the Reeves-Reed Arboretum's second annual Complete Workshop for the Home Gardener.

"Low-Maintenance Gardening" is part of the spring education program of the Friends of the Frelinghuysen Arboretum.

La Leche to offer nutrition info

Mothers and mothers-to-be interested in information about breastfeeding are invited to the next meeting of the Summit-New Providence La Leche League, at 8 pm on Wed., May 1. Babies are always welcome.

The topic of the evening's informal discussion, "The Advantages of Breastfeeding," begins a series of four meetings which explore all aspects of breastfeeding and help nursing mothers with any breastfeeding difficulties they may be experiencing.

The league has available at each meeting an excellent lending library including books on breastfeeding, nutrition, childbirth and child care. League leaders are trained, experienced mothers who can provide help with specific problems and questions.

For further information about the meeting or help with a breastfeeding problem, league leaders may be reached at any of the following numbers: 464-2267, 464-0775, 322-4238, and 273-2354.

City hall has some alarming news

SUMMIT — It's time to renew permits for private alarm systems and warning devices connected directly to local Fire and Police Departments.

The renewal fee for each residence, store, building or facility is $25 for directly connected or dial alarm systems, and $10 for central station alarms.

Residents who are considering installing an alarm system may contact the city administrator's office at 273-6402 for information and permit regulations.

A PHOENIX NEWLY RISEN, Colonial Hall is a testament to the efforts of Perry F. Root to restore this historic building, devastated by a fire in 1982. Winner of the coveted Mayor's Cup building improvement award, it has been selected by the Downtown Beautification Committee as its April storefront-of-the-month. Two stores contribute to the attractiveness of the facade. They are Wilderness Shop, 348 Springfield Ave., specializing in clothing and equipment for the sporting gentleman and lady, and The Red Balloon, 350 Springfield Ave., a children's boutique featuring exquisite clothing, toys and special accessories for the newborn through size 14. From left are Clare Matorana, owner of Wilderness Shop, Joan Barr, owner of The Red Balloon, Sylvia Smith, chairwoman of the Summit Area Development Corporation, and Mayor Robert J. Harflaub.

Residents should build plans now

SUMMIT — Residents planning a late spring summer addition to their houses should have the plans reviewed by the Summit Construction Department at city hall.

Building Inspector Mary Ellen Balady said completed building plans must be submitted for review to make sure they comply with both the local zoning ordinance and the state building code before a building permit may be issued.

"Even though the plans may be ready now, people usually wait until the summer before submitting them to us," said Ms. Balady. "Then we get a bunch all at once. Submitting them early increases your chance for a prompt review and approval."

The construction department is located on the second floor of city hall. For more information, contact the Construction Official, W. Edward Pilot, or the building inspector at 273-6408.

Don't fritter away summer in boredom: escape to Kent Place

SUMMIT — The scope of the Kent Place School Summer Session includes programs for all age groups — from 3 1/2 year olds to adults.

For the summer educational and recreational needs of boys and girls, Kent Place School provides opportunities to improve skills in academic areas, take courses for credit, enjoy recreational opportunities for personal development and/or participate in the other special activities.

The session begins Jun. 24 and continues through Aug. 2. Participants will enjoy the same high standards of educational excellence which have made the school a recognized leader in its field. The faculty of the Summer Session will be drawn primarily from the regular staff of Kent Place School. All classes meet five days a week.

Kent Place School, located on a wooded, rolling 28-acre campus in the heart of Summit, offers a beautiful setting for summer study and/or summer play. The Kent Place Summer Session has the approval of the New Jersey Board of Education.

Improvement of skills includes a course for grades two to five that strengthens skills in reading, spelling, mathematics, and/or language arts; special instruction for those with learning difficulties; skill improvement in reading, grammar or arithmetic for grades five to eight; improvement in either English, French, algebra, geometry or precalculus for grades 9-12. Skill improvement classes begin at 8:30 or 10:45 am and run for two hours. Courses offered for academic credit for grades 9-12 are: Algebra I or II, geometry, precalculus, physics, biology, chemistry I, French and art. Only one course may be taken; all meet in the morning for four hours.

Younger children may attend nursery or kindergarten camp for three hours in the morning or come to day camp from 9 am to 3 pm. Enrollment is for a minimum of two weeks. Day campers may participate in archery, arts and crafts, gymnastics, a variety of sports, swimming, tennis, cookouts, overnights and special events. Day camp may be combined with academic classes if desired.

Special activities, meeting for two hour sessions, include art, computer workshops, creative writing, expository writing, typing and drama. Art, for grades seven to adult, includes pencil and charcoal drawing, watercolor and oil painting. Computer workshops will teach computer literacy, computer games and programming; sections are determined by grade level.

Expository writing is aimed at high school students. Typing is for seventh graders through adults. Students in grades eight through eleven can act in the "Second Stage," a student performance company, in Kent Place's new 250-seat theatre. They may also choose to apprentice to the "Mainstage Company," a full performance company open to college theatre students and senior high school drama students.

For those with special learning needs on the elementary level, the developmental program in auditory and visual skills, reading, language arts, and math, is based on an individualized Educational Plan of each child. Review and reinforcement of basic skills will maintain learning and increase positive self-image. Junior high students who could benefit from ongoing specialized instruction to develop auditory and visual skills, will receive specialized instruction in reading, writing and math.

Registrations for all the summer programs are being accepted until Jun. 1. For details of specific programs, write to Louise M. Conley, Kent Place School, Summit, 07901, or call 273-0900.

Comings and goings in the public schools

SUMMIT — At its meeting on April 18, the Board of Education accepted with regret the retirement of Arthur McCann, and English teacher at the High School.

In other business, the board accepted resignations from Rosanne M. Collum, third grade teacher at Washington School; Beverly Fellingner Gragg, fourth grade teacher at Jefferson School, presently on leave of absence; Inge Hoffman, cafeteria worker at the Junior High School; Donna Sabattis, sixth grade teacher at Jefferson School; and Karen Hillyer, Washington School librarian.

Appointments approved by the board include those of Leslie Valtin, Senior High School hall aide; Stephen McEwan, Senior High School custodian; Albert Hector, head wrestling coach for the 1985-86 school year; and Nicholas DeTufo, assistant men's basketball coach for the 1985-86 school year.

Reginald Buckley, chairman of the Board's Education Committee, congratulated Grace Kingsbury, Franklin School principal, who has authored an article which will appear in the New Jersey Association of School Administrators publication, Perspective. Buckley also recognized Senior High School junior Sally Ball, who led 14 other students on a CROP walk, raising $600 for community and world hunger appeals.

Buckley congratulated the Junior High School's team in the Continental Math League Contest for placing eighth among 98 competing schools in the U.S. Team members recognized were Eric Johnson, Derek Cho, Jonathan Williams, Michael Ferrante, Michael Soth and Jim Pearson.

A team of volunteers led by Fitzpatrick expects the good values of years past will be repeated.

YWCA to give Housecleaning and Garden Sale

SUMMIT — The YWCA's Housecleaning and Garden Sale, Sat., May 11, 9:30 am to 3:30 pm, will offer a variety of merchandise. The sale features housewares, antiques, spring flowers (also available in flats), home-baked foods.

The YWCA is seeking donations for the sale. "It's a perfect opportunity to recycle useable housewares and do some spring cleaning," said Chairwoman Mary Kay Fitzpatrick.

Call the YWCA, 273-4242, for pick-up if needed. All contributions are tax-deductible and will be acknowledged in writing.

A special feature of the sale is the Flea Market; participants rent space from the YWCA for $15 and have their own sale at the YWCA, 79 Maple Street. Renters must provide the table. The YWCA provides an eight-foot area.

YMCA says, go to basics for your back

SUMMIT — The YMCA will conduct a class on developing a healthy back beginning April 29. The class was developed for the national YMCA by Dr. Hans Kraus, professor emeritus of New York University.

This program teaches safe, effective exercise to promote relaxation, increase flexibility, and to strengthen the postural muscles.

The vast majority of class participants, many of whom are referred to the Y by their doctors, report significant improvement after completing this course.

Classes meet on Mon. and Thurs., from 8 to 9 pm for six weeks at Central Presbyterian Church. Senior citizen discounts are available. For information or registration, call 273-3330.

Overlook works with Summit Housing Authority to minimize relocation for senior citizens

For the past five years, Overlook Hospital's Community Health Services professionals have worked with the City of Summit on a prototype health maintenance program for the city's new 125-unit senior citizens complex.

Overlook has been working together with the Summit Housing Authority for six of the past 11 years the city has been involved in the Near Downtown Redevelopment Program. However, the senior citizens housing on Chestnut Avenue is the first project in which the health care professionals have been involved from the start.

"For the first time, the health component has been included from the conceptual and planning stage," explains Elana Zucker, R.N., M.S.N., Director of Community Health Services at Overlook. "We are involved in smoothing the tenants' transition in order to avoid the health problems commonly demonstrated by the elderly when they make a major life-style change.

"In many cases, the move involves leaving long-term households, neighborhoods and long-established living patterns. All of these factors go into the onset of relocation stress and resultant health problems. We will provide a referral system for the tenants and assist them with visits to their physicians. These types of health problems are what we want to minimize through our ongoing involvement in the project."

"The senior citizen housing complex serves as the cornerstone of Summit's continuing revitalization program to eliminate substandard and dilapidated housing and buildings in the Railroad Avenue/Chestnut Avenue area," said Vito Gallo, Executive Director of the Summit Housing Authority. "The revitalization program affects approximately 100 families, one third of whose members are elderly."

The health professionals will soon begin the most demanding phase of the Senior Citizen Relocation Project — the screening of applicants — with the aid of funding from the Overlook Foundation. The goals of the project are to assist in the selection of tenants, provide an orientation program for tenants, as well as ongoing health promotion and maintenance services on site.

After Summit Housing

PROGRESS—The Summit Housing Authority's five-story, 125-unit Senior Citizen Housing Project takes shape along Chestnut Avenue. It is part of Summit's Near Downtown Redevelopment Program and the focus of a prototype health maintenance program involving Overlook Hospital and the city of Summit.

Authority personnel complete the initial applicant screening process, Overlook's health professionals will interview applicants to help evaluate their ability to live independently with a minimum of support services, and to deal with the stresses, both physical and psychosocial, of the move to a new neighborhood. The health personnel will attempt to anticipate the needs of tenants and their families.

"We want to learn what kinds of health problems the residents have in order to develop a wellness program appropriate to their needs," Mrs. Zucker relates. "We want to anticipate any problems the move might bring on and the needs of the residents after they have occupied the building. We also will help residents adjust to their new surroundings by orienting them to new shopping areas, public transportation services, health services and the many other details that go into day-to-day living."

After the tenants are settled in, they will become part of Summit's ongoing health maintenance program in cooperation with Overlook Hospital through the regularly scheduled visits of the public health nurse.

"The primary focus of this long-term contract between the City of Summit and Overlook Hospital is to assist with health maintenance services," Mr. Gallo said. "The Overlook public health nursing program is a key component of the overall Community Development Program's package of social services."

The wellness program began after the construction of low income housing on Weaver Street and Glenwood Place. Today, the 70 families living there are serviced by an Overlook public health nurse one day a week. The nurse, Mary White, R.N., of Summit, provides health monitoring and education, and refers residents to other agencies as needed. Her work is coordinated by the Summit Board of Health.

A racy celebration is scheduled for Oak Knoll's 60th anniversary

SUMMIT — Oak Knoll School's Grand Prix will celebrate the school's Sixtieth Anniversary with a lavish evening of dining, dancing, and merriment to be held on Sat., April 27, at the Spectacular Mayfair Farms, West Orange. Chairperson Carol Muir hopes that it will raise over $35,000 for Oak Knoll. Cocktails and assorted hot and cold hors d'oeuvres begin the festivities at 7 pm. While sipping drinks and socializing, guests will have an opportunity to buy chances on the many items offered at the Chinese Auction.

Penny Cupp, chairwoman of the Chinese Auction reports her stock includes an Oriental screen, Waterford crystal, silver, china, a VCR, and more. "The evening will be the most glorious celebration of Oak Knoll's Sixtieth Anniversary," said co-chairwoman Jane Schley.

An added feature of this evening will be a Silent Auction, which is being chaired by Virginia McCann. Everyone will be able to place a written bid for trips, dinners, theater tickets, and many other gifts.

At 8:30 pm, 500 guests will walk into the grand ballroom of the Mayfair Farms and enjoy a lavish dinner of Roast Prime Filet of Beef with all the wonderful accompaniments that only Mayfair Farms can provide. Music this year will be provided by the Murray Lehrer Orchestra.

A spectacular finale of the evening will be the raffle of the Grand Prix. The Fathers Club, under the chairmanship of Kenneth Genoni, has obtained a 1985 Mercedes Benz 190E. The grand prize winner may choose the car or Oak Knoll tuition credit of $20,000.

Flowers will be arranged by Michelle Hug and Lynn Egan. Committee members are Ellen Guido (Door Prize Committee), Susan Vizzoni (Publicity), Peggy Shawger (Reservations), Diane Fischl (Secretary), Bernice Krause (Mailing), Marcia McGratty (Hostess Committee), Cecelia Berberich (Orchestra), Gerry Smith (Printing), Sharon D'Angelo (Treasurer), and Carol Basile (Typing).

For information about reservations, call Carol Muir, 233-5590.

Children can learn to learn better, says Rothschild

SUMMIT — Lois Rothschild will discuss, "Why Children Do Poorly in School; Early Identification and Successful Intervention of Learning Disabilities," on April 30, 8 pm. Her lecture is sponsored by The Winston School of Summit through a grant from the Junior League of Summit.

The lecture will take place in the auditorium of the Central Presbyterian Church, Maple Street. A reception at 7:30 pm will precede the presentation; the public is invited. Admission is free.

Rothschild presently maintains a private practice as an educational consultant in Randolph, and is president of the N.J. Orton Dyslexia Society. She has conducted several workshops in the metropolitan area and has recently appeared on TV Channel 9. Jay Dewey, headmaster of The Winston School; Nancy Hanson, director of the Summit Public Schools Office of Instructional Services; and representatives from other local agencies will be on hand to answer questions.

The Winston School, located in Central Presbyterian Church, is a private, non-profit, co-educational day school for children with learning disabilities and serves students from five counties. Its program is highly individualized and based on the remediation of dyslexia and similar language-related disorders. Its small classes, active clinical team, and enriching programs offer an alternative to the public school for children with learning problems.

Information about Rothschild's presentation as well as the school may be obtained by calling the school, 277-6350. The presentation will also be aired on Cable TV Channel 36.

Barrabee to speak to church women

SUMMIT — The annual May Fellowship Day Luncheon sponsored by Church Women United will be Thurs., May 2 at noon, at the United Methodist Church. May Fellowship is observed by Church Women United in communities across the country.

Rev. Dr. Bruce D. Barrabee will be the speaker. Barrabee is senior pastor of United Methodist. Prior to assuming that position in June, 1984, he served pastorates in Mount Tabor and West Paterson. He has also been director of Field Education and assistant professor of Practical Theology at the Theological School at Drew University.

Barrabee comes from Oakhurst, a shore community. A graduate of Dartmouth College, he holds the Master of Divinity degree from Union Theological Seminary in New York and the Doctor of Religion from Chicago Theological Seminary. With the United Methodist Church, he serves on the Board of Ordained Ministry and the Episcopacy Committee of the Northern New Jersey Annual Conference, and is a member of the Board of Trustees of the United Methodist Homes of New Jersey.

Harriet Glancy, Marion Crawford and Helen Drobish are in charge of arrangements for the luncheon.

THE DEADLINE for all material submitted to the Summit Herald is Wednesday, noon. All material must be typed and double-spaced.

Senator DiFrancesco to discuss NJ environmental issues

CHATHAM — State Senator Donald T. DiFrancesco will be keynote speaker at the Summit College Club's annual Spring Luncheon at the Fairmount Country Club, May 2, from 11:30 am to 2:30 pm.

Senator DiFrancesco, a Republican who represents the 22nd district (Union-Essex), will discuss major environmental issues in New Jersey.

DiFrancesco was elected to the New Jersey State Assembly in 1975 and reelected in 1977. He was elected to the senate in 1979 and reelected in 1981. He served as senate minority leader in 1981, 1982, and 1983. He is currently a member of the senate Judiciary Committee, among others. He also serves as the township attorney for Berkeley Heights and Scotch Plains. He is a partner in the law firm Hooley, Butler, DiFrancesco & Kelly. He lives in Scotch Plains with his wife and three children.

A cash bar will open at 11:30 am until luncheon is served at 12:15. The menu features a pineapple boat appetizer, chicken in tarragon sauce with spring vegetables, French bread and croissants, lemon sherbet with raspberry sauce, and coffee.

Admission for club members and their guests is $12 per person. Reservations must be made by April 25. For more information call Jean Shindler, branch program chairwoman, 464-9565.

St. Teresa's offers economics class

SUMMIT — St. Teresa of Avila Church will offer a variety of opportunities for area residents to become familiar with the basic principals of economics.

A course in elementary economics will be offered for four Tuesday evenings in May at 8 pm, beginning May 7 and concluding on May 28. Each session will last for one hour. Admission is free.

Local resident Dr. Frank Jones will conduct the course. Jones is an executive vice-president of Kidder, Peabody, a member of the New York Stock Exchange. He holds a Ph.D. in Economics from Stanford University, an M.S. from Cornell and an M.B.A. from the University of Pittsburgh. He has taught Economics at Notre Dame and currently teaches part-time at Rutgers. He has authored two volumes on the subject of finance; one is "Macro-Finances," and the other will be published in May, 1985.

Classes will be conducted in response to the challenge of the American Bishops to become aware of economic policies as enunciated in their recent letter, "Catholic Social Teaching and the U.S. Economy." However, they will deal solely with economic theory, rather than with socio-political or moral issues.

All interested persons are invited to meet for class on the main floor of the Religious Education Building next to St.

Teresa's Rectory at 306 Morris Avenue. More information may be obtained from the Rectory, 277-3700.

Unravel the mysteries of menopause

SUMMIT — Sharon Johnson, M.Ed., A.C.S.E. consultant and lecturer in Human Sexuality will discuss menopause in a six-week workshop/discussion series at the Resource Center for Women in Calvary Episcopal Church, Woodland and DeForest Avenues.

Mysterious Menopause is slated for Thursday evenings at 7:30 pm, May 16 to June 20. Fee is $50.

The program will focus on common questions asked by women, such as: "Is it just me, or does everyone go through this?" "What about men and relationships?" Call 273-7253, 9 am to noon, Mon. through Friday. Early registration is advised by the center.

Treasures Huber's experience

To the editor:

I am firmly convinced that Helen M. Huber has vastly more experience than candidate Grimes in all fields of government, and, as an incumbent, richly deserves to keep her place on the Summit Common Council from Ward I.

That is why I have agreed to be her campaign treasurer for the primaries and through re-election in November. She checks into everything and gives her honest opinion on any given subject. She is no rubber stamp.

Summit

Almost like the Berlin Wall

To the editor:

At 47 Maple Street, Summit now has a new four-story office building. Seen from Broad Street, it forms, with the tiered parking garage in the rear, one continuous mass that evokes the Berlin Wall. Seen from Maple Street, the building looks like a sawed-off glass box.

Favored by a legal decision based on "precedence," provided by the parking garage, No. 47's owners were allowed to build beyond the forty-eight foot height limitation initially imposed by local ordinance. As it turns out, No. 47's roof line actually exceed that of the garage.

Moreover, the exposed sheet-metal cooling tower on the building's off does little to attenuate the height or refine the profile of this Gulliver wedged among its Lilliputian neighbors.

It seems that the least the designers of No. 47 could have done was to soften the impact of their monolith by the use of setback features and an architectural style more in keeping with the traditional character of the neighborhood.

This building project raises an important issue for Summit, namely: what standards shall guide future property development in our city? Shall these be determined solely by narrow private interest supported mainly by literal application of the law? Or, shall these be based on a genuine concern to balance private interest with the good of the community as a whole and its quality of life?

It is regrettable that the owners of No. 47 Maple Street showed such small inclination towards this second view.

Summit

Maintain your property rights

To the editor:

The Common Council of the City of Summit on April 16, 1985 reintroduced, with certain modifications, the Property Maintenance Code of the City of Summit. This code addresses a perceived maintenance standardization for non-residential and rental dwelling properties in a productive fashion that does not substantially impinge upon individual liberties.

In contrast, the sections dealing with owner occupied dwellings are unnecessary, deceptive, insensitive to various lifestyles in income levels, erosive of personal liberties, inhibit individuality, encourage selective enforcement and do little or nothing toward safeguarding the health, welfare or safety of the occupants and the general public.

The proposed version of the Code directs the seven — member Substandard Housing and Property Maintenance Board and its agent to inspect all owner occupied dwellings, garages, out-buildings, and grounds to perform their duty of safeguarding the health, welfare and safety of the occupants and the general public. Next it states that, "No inspection shall interfere with the legal or constitutional rights of the owner or occupant."

Knowledgeable owner occupants will probably forbid entry upon their land, homes and outbuildings for it is unlikely that the city would be able to obtain a search warrant from a county court for such nonsense.

Alleged violations viewed from the street involving lawns, hedges, trees, bushes and other subjective judgements of an aesthetic nature would not likely be sustained in a court above the municipal level.

What of those who erroneously believe that their local government would only infringe upon their personal liberties when the benefits were paramount and those who are unable to withstand the stress of a prolonged adversarial position or the cost of legal services?

The New Jersey State Housing Code, the standard to be applied to owner occupied dwellings in Summit, is a compilation of standards recommended by a committee of distinguished experts originally intended to provide municipalities with a standard for determining the habitability of rented multi-family dwelling units and urban renewal programs.

The proposed code as it relates to owner occupied dwellings presents the substance for a timely civics discussion for those in school and those long out of school. Some of the issues that immediately come to mind are:

1. Does the individual have the right to expect local government to practice, foster and guarantee the preservation of individual liberties?
 2. Which personal liberties are negotiable for measurable levels of health, welfare and safety?
 3. What is the impact of this type ordinance or citizen confidence in local government?
 4. Should local government promulgate laws that are known to be in conflict with constitutional rights as interpreted by recent court decisions?
 5. Is the premise that the closest government, home rule, is the most responsive to citizen accurate?
 6. Do local elected representatives, once elected, develop an attitude that they know what is best for residents?
 7. Should local regulations be designed to take advantage of a home owner's lack of knowledge of the law or available funds? (In other words — stop us if you can.)
 8. How can the average citizen convey his needs and priorities to his elected representatives?
- Perhaps the thoughts of Justice Louis Brandeis on the erosion of liberty can best sum up our local predicament. He said: "Experience should teach us to be most on our guard to protect liberty when the government's purposes are beneficial. Men born to freedom are naturally alert to rebel invasion of their liberty by evil-minded rulers. The greater dangers to liberty lurk in insidious encroachment by men of zeal, well-meaning but without understanding."

OK — Summitites, you don't have to grab a rifle and run off to some foreign land to defend liberty — you can do it right here in Summit, New Jersey. It's important that you discuss this issue with your friends and neighbors and above all turn out at the public hearing on May 7 to let your elected representatives know, in no uncertain terms, where your priorities lie.

Edith Harris Schultz

Edith Harris Schultz, wife of the late G. Elmore Schultz of Summit and daughter of the late Texas Senator Theodore Harris and the late Florence Fairchild Harris of San Antonio, TX, died April 16 in Summit. She was the granddaughter of the late Honorable William Torrey Harris, the United States Commissioner of Education for 17 years, having been appointed by President Benjamin Harrison and retiring during the administration of Theodore Roosevelt.

She was born in the Louisa May Alcott House in June, 1888, in Concord, MA, where she lived for her first five years before moving to San Antonio, TX.

A member of the class of 1911 at the University of Texas, she joined the Alpha Delta Pi sorority, for which she was later an active member of the local alumnae group.

While she was working on her master's degree, which she received two years later from the University of Texas, she was a teaching Fellow of Stark Young, the noted playwright (author of "So Red the Rose").

Marrying G. Elmore Schultz of Houston, whom she had met at the university, she moved to Summit in 1916. She lived in Summit until her death.

During her younger years, she was extremely active in volunteer roles in the Summit-New Providence area.

Actively involved in the New Providence Presbyterian Church since 1917, she was president of the Missionary Society; active in the formation of the Book Club; and remained a current member of Circle 2 until the time of her death. She represented the church on the Board of the Women's Auxiliary of the Summit YMCA; through the auxiliary, she personally kept the window boxes of the YMCA planted during the early 1940's.

Joining the Summit College Club in 1921, she was an active participant and helped to organize the first College Club Book Sale in 1935. She was the coordinator of the Book Sale in 1947, while serving as finance chairwoman for the years 1946-1948. Also, she was a member of the committee that founded SAGE. She and her husband were weekly volunteers at the Canteen at the Fair Oaks Hospital in Summit during the '50s.

Membership chairwoman of the Summit Fortnightly Club in the 1956-1958 period, she was their oldest living member, having joined in 1939. Also, she was one of the earliest members of the Summit Sunshine Society, and, as their oldest member, was active in it until this year.

Her achievements included helping in the formation of the library at Franklin School and chairing the library staff during its early development. During World War II she was a volunteer with the Office of Price Administration in Summit and was in charge of the Defense Stamp Booth for the College Club.

Edith Schultz is survived by two sons, Theodore of Texas and Charles Elmore of Putnam, CT; a daughter, Mrs. Edward L. Maynard of Summit; a sister, Mrs. Bascom N. Leckett of Durham, NC; and six grandchildren.

A service was held April 19 at the graveside in Putnam, CT.

Edward R. Tolles

Edward R. Tolles, formerly of Summit, died suddenly in Palm Coast, FL, April 19.

Mr. Tolles was a 1942 graduate of Princeton University and a Naval veteran of World War II.

Prior to his retirement, he was vice-president and general manager of the Nypel Division of Allied Corporation.

He is survived by his former wife; by a daughter, Natalie Tolles Ketcham of Redding, CT, a son, Edward R. Tolles, Jr. of Brooklyn, NY; and two grandchildren, Brian Hayden Ketcham and Sarah Elizabeth Ketcham.

Funeral services will be private and interment will be in Oak Grove Cemetery, New Haven, CT.

Jean Walker Vreeland

Jean Walker Vreeland, 89, a lifetime resident of Summit, died on April 15 at Overlook Hospital, Summit.

She was the widow of Donald R. Vreeland, son of Mayor George Vreeland. She is survived by a son, Donald W. Vreeland, of Summit; a daughter, Jean V. Mueller, of Summit; five grandchildren; and two great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Vreeland was related to the Bommel family, who founded Summit. She attended Kent Place School; lived at 83 Maple Street from 1907; and was the senior member of Central Presbyterian Church, Summit, in which she was active as long as her health permitted.

A service was held April 19 in the Chapel of the Central Presbyterian Church. Mrs. Vreeland rests in Fairmount Cemetery.

Arrangements were by Burroughs, Kohr & Dangler Funeral Home, 309 Springfield Ave., Summit.

Margaret Walsh

Mrs. Margaret Walsh, formerly of Summit, died April 4 in Honesdale, PA. She was 90 years old.

Mrs. Walsh lived in Summit for 50 years. She was the director of Nursing for Overlook Hospital in its original buildings. Later, she worked as Summit's Board of Health Nurse. Her career with the Board of Health stretched from 1925 to 1963.

Services were conducted in

Elizabeth Wood

Services for Mrs. Elizabeth Wood, 37, of Summit, personnel manager for the Newark Board of Education for the past 12 years were held April 24 in the Fountain Baptist Church, Chestnut Avenue, Summit. Arrangements were under the direction of the Judkins Colonial Home, Plainfield.

Mrs. Wood, who died April 21 in the Overlook Hospital, Summit, attended Essex County College and Rutgers University.

She also served on the board of directors of the Newark Museum. Mrs. Wood was a member of the Black Women's Professional and Business Association and the 100 Women of Essex County.

Mrs. Wood was chairwoman of the women's department and advisor for the youth group at the Fountain Baptist Church, where she also served with the Bible Class and the Sanctuary End Senior Choir. Mrs. Wood was also a member of the Baptist Women's Association.

Born in Halifax County in Virginia, she moved to Summit 25 years ago.

Surviving are a son, M. Jai Wood; a sister, Mrs. Anna Havllall, and two brothers, Sgt. George A. and John R. Wood.

Summit Chorale to perform 'St. John's Passion' with N.J. Symphony

The Summit Chorale will offer a Spring Concert on Sat., May 4, 8 pm at the Madison Junior School, Madison, under the direction of Music Director Garyth Nair.

In celebration of the 300th birthday of Johann Sebastian Bach, the Chorale will present the "St. John Passion."

Assisting the chorale will be the Chamber Symphony of New Jersey. Soloists for the performance will be Elizabeth Pruett, soprano; Helen Nadel, soprano; Jane Bunnell, alto; Douglas Perry, tenor; Michael Crouse, tenor; John Gulick, tenor; Peter Ashbaugh, bass; Bruce Meyer, bass; and Thomas Rodgers, bass.

Elizabeth Pruett
Elizabeth Pruett, one of the Summit Chorale's favorite sopranos, has performed with them on numerous occasions. She recently made her Italian debut as Armide in a highly praised new production of Handel's "Rinaldo" by Pierre Luigi Pizzi at the Teatro Municipale Valli in Reggio Emilia, and later appeared in the same production at the opera houses in Modena, Parma, Ferrara and Piacenza.

Pruett also made her debut at the Paris Opera as Anaidé in Rossini's "Moïse" following a successful season at the Glyndebourne Festival Opera singing all performances as Constanza in Mozart's "The Abduction from the Seraglio."

Pruett recently joined the Metropolitan Opera for its annual spring tour. Born in Natchez, Mississippi, Pruett received both her bachelor and master degrees from the Juilliard School of Music in New York City.

Helen Nadel
Helen Nadel will make her debut as soloist with the Summit Chorale this year. She is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. William Nadel of Summit.

Jane Bunnell
This season, Jane Bunnell made her Houston Grand Opera debut as Suzuki in "Madame Butterfly." This has been a busy season for her, with an appearance at Opera Omaha, as Mistress Page in "Fallstaff," with the Des Moines Metro Opera as Cherubino in "The Marriage of Figaro" and the Kansas City Lyric Opera as Dorabella in "Cosi fan Tutti." Other recent appearances include Nancy in "Martha" with the Chicago Opera Theatre and Iras in Barber's "Anthony and Cleopatra" at the Spoleto Festival in both Charleston and Italy.

A former Santa Fe apprentice, Bunnell was a winner in the Met auditions, first prize winner in the Marcello Sembrich contest from the Kosciuszko Foundation, and second prize winner in the Liederkrantz Society Competition. She has appeared as soloist with the Caramoor Festival, Washington Symphony, Richmond Symphony and the Spokane Symphony.

Douglas Perry
Douglas Perry is perhaps best known for his universally acclaimed portrayal of the leading role of Mahatma Gandhi in the Philip Glass opera "Satyagraha." He has distinguished himself throughout the United States and Europe as a versatile singing actor, and is known for his unique characterizations of the more than 60 roles in his repertoire.

Perry made his European debut with the Netherlands Opera in the world premiere of Glass' "Satyagraha," and recently returned from Italy, where he performed in Leonard Bernstein's new opera, "A Quiet Place" at Teatro Alla Scala. A frequent performer with the New York City, Houston Grand and Greater Miami Operas, he has also appeared frequently with the opera companies of Boston, Tulsa, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Louisville, and Santa Fe.

Equally at home on the concert stage, Perry has performed with the New York Philharmonic and the Boston Symphony, as well as the symphonies of Tulsa, San Antonio, and Nashville. His recordings include the role of Thaddeus Stevens in "The Mother of Us All," Charles Ives' cantata, "The Celestial Country," and the soon to be released Columbia recording of Glass' "Satyagraha," recorded under the auspices of the New York City Opera.

Michael Crouse
A native of Greensburg, PA, Michael Crouse received his Bachelor and Master of Music degrees from the Eastman School of Music, where he was awarded the coveted Performer's Certificate in Voice and Opera. While travelling throughout the country with the touring Affiliates of the San Francisco Opera Company, Crouse performed the leading tenor roles in "La Traviata," "Die Fledermaus," "Don Pasquale," "La Cenerentola" and "The Daughter of the Regiment."

Crouse has appeared frequently as a soloist in New York City's major concert halls in both opera and oratorio. He has performed twice with the Opera Orchestra of New York, as well as serving as the cover for world famous tenor, Nicolai Gedda.

John Gulick
John Gulick is a member of the Summit Chorale and has performed with many chorale groups and church choirs throughout the area and, for ten years, with the New Jersey State Opera chorus. While in the armed forces, he served as organist and choir director of the naval installation at which he was stationed in Virginia Beach, VA, and both accompanied and participated in the singing at services aboard a submarine while at sea. He has performed as soloists with the Concert Chorale in Caldwell, Concert Choir of Prospect Presbyterian Church in Maplewood and sang Stainer's "Crucifixion" at the Church of St. Luke and St. Matthew in Brooklyn. For the past two years, Gulick has been a soloist with the Summit Chorale in Saint Patrick's Cathedral.

Peter Ashbaugh
Peter Ashbaugh recently moved to the East coast from Seattle, Wash., after winning the 1984 Metropolitan Opera Northwest Regional Auditions. He is a graduate of Whitman College, where he studied music. Further musical training included vocal study with Maurice Stern and Marianne Weltmann.

Ashbaugh was also coached by Michel Singer in a summer at the Music Academy of the West in Santa Barbara, CA, and with tenor John Humphrey at the Aspen Music Festival. In addition to singing engagements on the West coast, Ashbaugh spent a year in Minnesota where he performed in several Minnesota Opera Productions.

Thomas Rodgers
Thomas Rodgers received his Bachelor of Music degree at Westminster College in New Wilmington, PA. He subsequently did graduate work in church music at Westminster Choir College in Princeton. Presently, Rodgers is director of Music at the Presbyterian Church in Bound Brook. He has sung with many chorale organizations in New Jersey, including the Chorus of M.U.S.I.C. and Pro Nobis, as well as serving as accompanist for Bernards High School, Bernards. Rodgers also teaches private piano and organ lessons.

Bruce Meyer
Bruce Meyer graduated from Lafayette College where he sang in the College Glee Club. He also participated in the Naval Aviation Choir, and was a member of the Minnesota Chorale and the Wellesley Massachusetts Choral Society. Meyer has been a member of the Summit Chorale for the past two years. He is a commercial airline captain.

Garyth Nair
Garyth Nair, music director of the Summit Chorale, was recently appointed assistant conductor of the New Jersey Symphony Orchestra, making his debut with the Orchestra on March 8 at the Grand Opening Ceremonies of the Somerset County College Theatre.

Tickets for the performance may be purchased at the door or from members of the Chorale. Prices are $8 and $6 (sr. citizens and students). For more information, call 464-3333 after 6 pm.

NATIONAL DANCE WEEK—The millerdancecompany (Highlands), Carolyn Dorfman Dance Company (West Orange), and Teamwork Dance (Princeton), will join forces to perform together in celebration of National Dance Week. The informal performances, featuring all companies, will be preceded by master classes by the company directors. Call 731-7638 for information. Tickets are $5.

Reduce hunger by fostering harmony

CHATHAM — A concert to benefit African Famine Relief will be given at Long Hill Chapel, 525 Shunpike Road, Sat., May 4, 8 pm.

Four choirs, a brass ensemble, six soloists, and a dramatic interpretation of portions of the Book of Matthew will be featured.

Elaine Thomas, minister of Music and director of the concert, holds Bachelor and Master of Music degrees from the Manhattan School of Music and has done graduate work at Westminster Choir College.

Thomas has extensive experience as organist, pianist, accompanist, and conductor. She oversees Long Hill Chapel's music program, which includes four choirs, handbell ringers, instrumental ensembles, and a school of music.

The 60-voice Chapel choir will sing "Praise the Lord of Heaven" and "Hosanna." The Men's Choir will perform two spirituals. A variety of selections will be performed by the Children's Choir, Brass Ensemble, and soloists.

A free will offering will be taken. All proceeds will go directly to African Famine Relief through CAMA Services, the relief agency of the Christian and Missionary Alliance.

CAMA Services provides humanitarian aid through an experienced, trustworthy network that insures help to the people who need it most.

Among CAMA's goals are introduction of more local gardening with a variety of crops and new types of grain; planting trees to produce wood later and to shade homes; improving wells and digging new ones; collecting and storing water for dry season use; improving pumps for irrigation and clean water; installing solar power pumps; improving roads through a food-for-work program; and group action for famine relief distribution.

For the last decade, Alliance missionaries and local African church leaders in several parts of Africa have alleviated suffering and given hope to the people by fair distribution of emergency food supplies, building rodent-proof grain storage silos, digging deep wells to reach the receding water table, and equipping farmers with plows, sprayers, and cultivators — and the education necessary to use them. As the farmers repay the cost of the equipment, the money is returned to a revolving fund to help and equip other farmers.

The public is invited to participate in the African Relief Benefit Concert at Long Hill Chapel, Sat., May 4 at 8 pm.

Greek theater opens for three days

CONVENT STATION — See a Greek classical drama staged in the same kind of setting enjoyed by audiences in ancient Greece for three days in May when the College of Saint Elizabeth presents Sophocles' tragedy, "Antigone," in its 1000-seat Greek Theater.

Performances are scheduled for noon on Friday, May 3 pm on May 4 and 5.

Production of a Greek play every four years has been a tradition at the College of Saint Elizabeth since 1932, when the Greek Theater was constructed of native fieldstone found on the college's 400-acre campus.

Like its Athenian counterpart, which was situated on the slopes of the Acropolis and was the scene of the annual festival honoring Dionysus, the College theater is built on a hillside — overlooking the Passaic Valley. The amphitheater consists of eleven curved tiers and is framed by tall cedars that came as saplings from the grounds of Immaculate Conception Seminary at Darlington.

"Antigone" will be performed in English. The 1985 Greek play project is funded by a grant from the N.J. State Council on the Arts in cooperation with the National Endowment for the Arts and from a mini-grant from the Arts Council of the Morris area. In case of rain, the production will move to St. Joseph Hall.

Students appearing in major roles include Lynsey Ann Newman and Peggy Cozine, both of Basking Ridge, in female leads as the sisters Antigone and Ismene; Patricia Schroeder of Franklin Lakes, Renee Solimeno of Millburn; Jean Patricola of Harrington Park; Krystia Lehner of Blairstown, and Barbara Ministri of Middletown. Members of the Greek chorus are Lillian Bell of East Hanover; Lisa Bove of Montville; Barbara Castellucci of Kinnelon; Maureen Keenan of Verona; Lisa Marchitto of Clark; Betsey Sanders of Mendham; Marey Singalewitch of Florham Park; and Aileen Holliger of Wayne.

Tickets are now available for all performances at $5 general admission and $3 for students and senior citizens. A special school group price for the Friday noon performance is also available. For information on tickets and other details, call 539-1600 ext. 265.

Center yourself with spring art

The Summit Art Center is blooming with a new season of art classes. Walk-in registration for both spring and summer classes will take place from Wed., May 1, to Sat., May 4, 10 am to 4 pm.

The six-week spring session will offer daytime and evening classes (Saturday sessions available) in sculpture, photography, painting, drawing, watercolor, jewelry, pottery and printmaking for adults, as well as classes for children.

Special offerings include an increased number of photography classes, an outdoor landscape painting class, and a new evening painting class with Donna Scherme, who will explore both traditional and abstract modes of expression.

Between spring and summer sessions, during the last week of June, the center will conduct a series of intensive one, two, and three-day workshops featuring basketry, jewelry-making, photography, color theory, portraits, and still life, as well as outdoor projects and printmaking for children.

Interested individuals may stop by the center, 68 Elm Street, or call 273-9121 to receive complete class and workshop brochures.

Mearns to take a spin on 'Carousel'

Cynthia Mearns of Summit will perform in the Monmouth Civic Chorus' production of Rodgers and Hammerstein's "Carousel" on April 26 and 27 and May 3 and 4 at the Count Basie Theater (Monmouth Arts Center), 99 Monmouth St., Red Bank at 8:15 pm.

A 24-piece orchestra, under the baton of William R. Shoppell, SCULPTURE of Bonnie Hagstrum, noted Summit artist, will be on exhibit at the Unitarian Church Community House, 4 Waldron Avenue, Summit. Her collection will remain on view throughout the month of May from 9 am to noon and 1 pm to 4 pm, Mon. through Fri., and on Sun. mornings from 10 am to noon.

Hagstrum to show sculpture at community house

SUMMIT — Bonnie Hagstrum, noted local artist, will exhibit stone sculpture at the Unitarian Church Community House, 4 Waldron Avenue.

Hagstrum's abstract work is known for its strong, sensual style and for skillful utilization of stone's natural color and texture.

The artist has exhibited extensively in the New York area; her work may be seen at the Viewpoint Gallery in New York City until May 25.

Photographs of Maria Taglienti will also be featured in the church's art show. Her black and white photographs have a spacious, sculptural quality and provide a striking complement to Ms. Hagstrum's work.

The show will remain on view to the public throughout the month of May from 9 am to noon and 1 to 4 pm Monday through Friday and on Sunday mornings from 10 am to noon.

Enter, first stage at Kent Place

SUMMIT — First Stage, a summer theatre performing company for young people, will this summer inaugurate the new 250-seat theatre at Kent Place School.

Two acting companies composed of areas drama students

Players to perform 'Private Lives'

The Stony Hill Players will perform Noel Coward's "Private Lives," May 10, 11, 17, 18, 24, 25.

In this sophisticated comedy, Elyot and his new bride, Sibyl, soon find their honeymoon complicated by the discovery of Amanda, Elyot's ex-wife, also honeymooning with her new husband, Victor, next door to them in a French hotel.

Elyot will be played by Roger Hulme of Somerville and Sally O'Neil of Morris Township will portray Amanda. The cast also includes John Becker of Whippany as Victor, Phyllis Evans of Florham Park as Sibyl and Amy Burton of Chatham as the French maid, Louise.

"Private Lives" will be directed by Mark Churchill of Chatham at the American Legion Hall, Elkwood Ave., New Providence.

Tickets are $6.50 for general admission and $5 for students and senior citizens. A free performance will be given for senior citizens on May 9 and a free wine and cheese party on opening night. For tickets reservations, call 464-7716.

Write a letter to the editor will receive instruction in acting, voice, movement and stagecraft, and will produce and perform in a variety of new plays for young people during the summer.

Robert Pridham, director of the program, believes First Stage offers a unique new performing arts opportunity to area young people. "Students will run a full-scale performance company. They will learn to light and design the company productions, help to run the theatre and box office, and — of course — play a variety of roles on stage," said Pridham. Special guest artists from New York will add to daily acting classes with a number of special workshops. "The company will have full use of the beautiful new Kent Place Theatre, a 250 seat performance center with full lighting system, stage, and rehearsal rooms. This is the kind of performance experience which is rarely available to young people," Pridham continued.

Company productions will include the world premiere of "Fantastigoria Rhymaphoria," and the first New Jersey performances of the spectacular musical play "The Children's Crusade."

Two student companies will be housed in the new theatre: Red Company, composed of actors from grades three through seven; and Blue Company, composed of advanced performance students grades eight through high school. The companies will alternate productions, giving afternoon and some evening performances.

Students interested in joining either of the First Stage companies should contact Pridham at the School to arrange for an interview. Admission to the company is limited, by interview only.

Fee for the full summer — June 24 through August 2 — is established by the Kent Place Summer Enrichment Program.

Golfers seek to reverse defeat

Wednesday's 4-stroke defeat to Delbarton might have put the Morristown Parochial school in an advantageous position to win the Northern Hills Conference, but Summit High golf Coach Ray Ostroski predicts his squad will emerge on top when the last putt is holed out in the NHC championships.

"We will not lose another conference match," stated Ostroski, sounding very much like a coach who owns a .908 winning percentage (192-19-1) over his ten-plus seasons at the Summit helm. "We will defeat Delbarton on our course (at Canoe Brook, May 14th), and I'm confident we'll finish first in the league championship match." That event, incidentally, is likewise slated to be held at the Canoe Brook Club on June 3rd.

Summit's current record is 5-2, an earlier loss to Westfield severing the Hilltoppers' two-year, 34-match unbeaten skein. Summit is due to take on Millburn away this Monday, and Ostroski's squad will be home Tuesday afternoon for an interesting (non-league) confrontation against a Chatham Township team which captured the state championship last spring. "That's the one match we could lose," admits Ostroski, "because they are simply an outstanding team. It'll be a nice test for our kids."

The veteran mentor reports that Summit's number-one golfer, junior Pete Jahries, is playing very well at the present time. Jahries is averaging 41 for his competition nine-hole rounds.

The fellow who's been too inconsistent has been senior Ed Weiser, who golfs in the lineup's second spot. The good news is that Weiser has taken off about 50 pounds in the past few months, according to his coach. "Ed is in much better shape than I've ever seen him before," compliments Ostroski. "He's trimmed down to 150 pounds, he looks great, and the girls are all following him around the halls."

The bad news is that the diet seems to have adversely affected Weiser's golf swing. "He's not getting into the ball the way he did last year," observes Ostroski. "But we're working on correcting the problem."

The coach mentions that junior Bruce Johnson has been a much improved golfer since the season opened and now inhabits the fifth spot of the starting order. The other Summit regulars are senior Tom Carver, sophomore Craig Bowman, and freshman Ed Sears.

Netsters await star's return

With 16 guys involved for a varsity squad on which only seven players compete in a match, there's no doubt that tennis is as popular a sport as there is among the athletes at Oratory Prep. Right now, however, the absence of one particular person has dealt a significant blow to the Rams' competitive level during the past two weeks. For Oratory has been without Paul Bosetti — one of Union County's best high school players — over that period, and the team has felt his loss in the result column.

"Not having Paul in our lineup has hurt us," understates Father Paul Manning, who initiated the school's varsity tennis program in 1978. Playing without Bosetti, who's been laid up with a virus, the Rams have dropped matches to Berkeley Heights, Chatham Boro, and Seton Hall. Overall their record is currently 3-3.

Fr. Manning admits his team didn't project to be quite as strong as the Oratory squads which won 23 of 29 matches over the past two seasons. But although Bosetti and Jim Varanelli are the only starters back from the 11-3 club of a year ago, the Oratory coach still believed the Rams would post a highly respectable campaign.

"We've done fairly well in recent seasons," acknowledges Fr. Manning, whom others credit with a super job in guiding the Oratory program to where it's become a viable entity within Union County tennis circles. "We've had some talented boys who've worked very hard to help our school earn recognition in the sport."

Put Bosetti right atop that list. "I think Paul's probably the best player to compete for us up till now," reflects Fr. Manning. "We're sure hoping to get him back in the lineup soon."

Minus Bosetti, Varanelli occupies the number-one position in the Rams' order. Jim is a senior who played in the third spot a year ago, and he's one of the squad's co-captains.

Sophomore Gary Franck has moved into the second slot, while former doubles player Steve Marron is the present three-man. Marron is a senior and the other co-captain.

Chris Heintz and Ken Yang, who had been the second doubles tandem, are currently in the first doubles spot. Heintz is a junior, and Yang's a freshman. Right now Fr. Manning is utilizing a 9th-grade combo at second doubles in Nat Davis and Jon Li. Junior Shawn Lynch, who had been Marron's first doubles partner, could work his way back into the starting order shortly.

Oratory has qualified for the NJSIAA state tournament by virtue of its .500 record through the end of this week. The Rams' next match is Monday at home against Elizabeth, and they'll host Pingry this Tuesday afternoon.

Summit diamonders on a tear

When we last checked in with the Summit High baseball team two weeks ago, the Hilltopper bats were colder than the early April weather. There's been quite a change since then. Coach Art Cotterell's club is presently on a hitting binge which has found it scoring in double-figures its past four outings.

Actually everything has started to piece together for the Topper diamonders, who've won five straight to improve their overall record to 7-5. "I knew we had a better team than we showed the first two weeks," noted Cotterell last Monday afternoon while watching his troops amass a 15-0 lead en route to an 18-8 thumping of Madison. "A couple of our guys are getting back to full strength, and some of our younger kids have really started to play well."

The returnees from the injured list are Leon Fern and Mike DelGrande, who figured to be Summit's two primary pitchers in 1985. Fern, who experienced some elbow and shoulder problems in March, is gradually working back into shape, and Cotterell thinks he's ready to put together a big second half of the campaign. Leon had his best outing this past Wednesday in a win over Essex Catholic.

DelGrande, a senior lefthander who suffered a broken finger on his throwing hand last month, made an auspicious mound debut a week ago when he chucked a no-hitter against Clifford Scott. "We'll be able to tell more when he works against a better opponent," admits Cotterell, "but Mike sure looked good for the first time out."

Regardless of Fern or DelGrande's past stature, either of these seniors will have trouble claiming the number-one slot in the Summit rotation in view of the efforts of junior lefthander Dave Gurak so far this spring. This southpaw has pitched well in all four starts he's been called upon. Gurak is 3-1 with the lone loss being to an excellent Millburn team which succeeded in beating Dave 2-0.

While the signs from the mound have been highly encouraging, Cotterell is equally enthused with some performances elsewhere around the diamond. The veteran mentor cites Mike Plourde, Carroll Mackin, and Rob Paessler as three youngsters who've particularly contributed to the club's recent tear at the plate.

A senior who mainly sat the bench as a back-up outfielder last term, Plourde has hit the ball as well as any Summit player so far, and Mike has also contributed solid defensive work in rightfield. Junior centerfielder Mackin has generated a lot of offense from the leadoff spot, and Cotterell will also tell you Carroll's the best defensive CF the Hilltoppers have owned in a while. Paessler is a sophomore who's taken over the third base position much as Summit insiders were predicting he would as far back as last autumn. What brought up the subject then was the fact this 10th-grader made the same immediate impact on the football field.

Summit gained the number-8 seed in the Union County Tournament and will open the UCT next Saturday afternoon, May 4th, against local rival Berkeley Heights. Right now you'd suspect Gurak would get the starting nod on the mound, the junior lefthander having spun a 13-kay, 2-0 shutout over the Highlanders in the campaign's opening week. Game time is currently listed as 1:00 p.m. for the first round contest at the Summit diamond, but there's a chance it might be pushed back an hour due to the college boards being given that day.

Winans is finalist in national platform tennis tournament

Peter T. Winans of Summit, playing out of Canoe Brook Country Club, is a finalist for the National Seniors Platform Tennis Championship, in Highland Park, IL.

Winans and his partner, Charles Stevens, from the Morristown Field Club, had earlier been on the winning President's Cup team as New Jersey defeated a Chicago-Detroit regional team and a Pittsburgh-Cincinnati regional team. The Winans-Stevens team will receive national ranking points.

YWCA reaches out to all women

At the Summit YWCA, women and their family's needs come first. "At the YW we look primarily at the needs of women. We serve the rest of the family in relation to that," says Shirley Renwick, executive director of the Summit YWCA.

The YWCA is currently celebrating National YWCA week. The Young Women's Christian Association is one of the few organizations in the area run by an all-women Board of Trustees, particularly sensitive to the needs of today's women. "It's part of the YWCA's strength and uniqueness," says Faith Schindler, who serves on the Summit YWCA's Board of Trustees as well as on the National Board of the YWCA.

The YWCA is the oldest, largest women's organization in the world, having celebrated its 125th birthday last year. The YW has served as an advocate for the needs of women and girls since the time they first traveled to cities seeking jobs and affordable housing.

As the YWCA has evolved, the "W" has become the most explicit letter in its name. It now serves women of all ages, not only the young, and women of all religions. It reaches out, in fact, to all women, organizing activities and classes to appeal to women of varied income levels and races. Women may become involved in different YW activities at different stages in their lives.

The Summit YWCA, a member agency of the United Way of Summit, New Providence and Berkeley Heights, translates its unique commitment to women and their families into a wide variety of programs. These programs are designed to make women more physically fit; happier; and more successful.

One highly effective program is "English as a Second Language," which helps people new to the United States to succeed in an English-speaking community. The Women's Program Committee has run a series of innovative seminars on Finding and Keeping Jobs. "We recognized that women are often changing careers in mid-life with inadequate preparation," says Mrs. Renwick.

Minority women have special needs that are addressed by the YWCA. In recent years the YW has sponsored various programs of interest to minorities, including Schoolwatch, a ten-week course offered this spring to help parents, especially minority parents, play a more effective role in the public school system. "Young Sophisticates," an ongoing program for Black girls in junior and senior high school has sponsored a recent trip to Howard University and Washington, DC. Girls may learn about job skill training and community involvement during programs and trips.

Working women have their own set of needs, and the YWCA has been at the forefront in this area as well. It started an afterschool program for children of working women so they may be assured that their children have a safe, enriching afterschool environment. The YW's Corporate Fitness program answers the health needs of working women with dance, exercise and swimming classes conveniently scheduled before and after working hours, as well as at lunchtime.

As it enters its 126th year, the YWCA, both national and local, will work hard to ensure that the "W" stands for ALL women.

Gina M. Romano, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard A. Romano of Summit, has received highest honors for academic excellence at Skidmore College, Saratoga Springs, NY.

Sally Whitman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen C. Whitman of Summit, has received academic honors for excellence in her studies during the fall term at Skidmore College, Saratoga Springs, NY.

James B. Kelligrew of Summit recently was given class honors at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor. To receive class honors at the University of Michigan, a student must achieve an academic record at least equal to half A's and half B's for two terms. Kelligrew was honored for his work during 1984.

Nancy Jane Lorenz of Summit recently was given class honors at the University of Michigan for academic excellence during 1984. To receive class honors at the Ann Arbor university, a student must tally an average at least equal to half A's and half B's for two terms.

Catherine L. Reed of Summit was recently awarded class honors for 1984 at the University of Michigan's annual Honors Convocation. To achieve class honors at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, a student must receive grades equal to or above half A's and half B's for two terms.

Cathy Incandela and Anne M. Sabo, both of Summit, have been elected to positions of leadership in student organizations at Cedar Crest College in Allentown, PA. Incandela will serve as vice chairwomen of the College Center Board next year. Sabo will be a member of that board and the Recreation Board. Both are graduates of Summit High School and both are juniors at Cedar Crest, a 118-year-old women's college which emphasizes career preparation anchored in the liberal arts.

Rosemarie Allen of Summit has received academic honors for the fall 1984 semester at Bloomfield College, Bloomfield. Bloomfield College is an independent, four-year liberal arts college offering a variety of degree and certificate programs. Founded in 1868, the college currently enrolls over 1500 students.

Connie White, a freshman at Pine Manor, MA, from Summit, has started her collegiate lacrosse career with a flourish by leading the Gator lacrosse team in scoring. She has tallied 11 goals in her first two games. Playing at home, White has established herself as the heart of the Gator attack and promises to be a major force in the future of Pine Manor College lacrosse.

The Gator's record in lacrosse now stands at 1-1 after a tough 14-8 loss to Division I Providence College in their opener and a 9-6 victory over perennial power Tufts University's J.V. team.

John Waite, son of David N. Waite of Summit, has been named to the Honor Roll at Blair Academy in Blairstown for his achievement during the winter trimester at the independent secondary school. Waite is a member of Blair's junior class.

Chris Murphy, a resident of Summit, recently made his West Chester University Theatre stage debut in Agatha Christie's "Towards Zero."

Murphy is a 1982 graduate of Summit High School, where he performed in "King of Hearts." A Communications major at WCU, Murphy will portray Neville Strange, a man who has it all — good looks, athletic ability, and money. Strange's good nature is one of his strongest attributes.

Melina Kalas of Summit has been named to the first honor roll at Oak Knoll School of the Holy Child, Summit, for having achieved not less than A- in all subjects. Melina is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Demetrios Kalas of Woodland Avenue in Summit.

Eighteen other Summit residents have been named to the second honor roll at Oak Knoll, having achieved not less than B- in all subjects. They are Terese Flannery, Bea Metzger, Elizabeth Persichetty, and Mia Romano, grade 12; Melinda Hasbrouck, Ann Inglesby, and Karen Pollock, grade 11; Eleanor Metzger, Melissa Miller, grade ten; Julie Fischl, Lisa Hatem, and Jennifer Pollock, grade nine; Kristen Beifus, Carolina Bernardez, Colleen Culver, Beth Hickman, Kristin Inglesby, Kathleen Lawlor, and Erin Tighe, grade seven.

Eloise St. M. Chin, Army Pfc., daughter of Joseph Chinlen and niece of Samuel Chin of Summit, recently participated in Border Star '85, a U.S. Readiness Command joint exercise held at Fort Bliss, TX, and White Sands Missile Range, NM, involving army, air force, and marine units, as well as Canadian forces.

Border Star provided a simulated combat environment to exercise, train and evaluate commanders, staffs and forces in joint operations.

Chin is a truck terminal operations coordinator with the Army Transportation Center at Fort Eustis, VA. She is a 1982 graduate of Summit High School.

Susan Boyle, daughter of William and Helen Boyle of Summit, has been named to the dean's list of the School of Hotel Administration at Cornell University, Ithaca, NY, for the fall semester of 1984.

Christopher McGiffin of Summit was a member of the 1984-85 Hamilton College men's varsity swim team. Head coach Dave Thompson's squad posted an impressive 11-1 record and sent two swimmers to the NCAA Division III Swimming and Diving Championships in Atlanta. At the New York State Championships, the Continentals finished in sixth place out of a 17 team field.

McGiffin, a freshman, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Jr. McGiffin.

Matt Teare of Summit, letterman of Connecticut College's Lacrosse Team, will join the team again this year as a midfielder.

Robert W. Lackaye, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel W. Lackaye of Summit, has completed requirements for graduation from Westminster College in New Wilmington, PA. He will be recognized at Westminster's 131st annual commencement Sun., June 2.

A graduate of Summit High School, Lackaye majored in environmental science and earned a bachelor of science degree.

Laurence Keeley, Second Lieutenant of the United States Army, has completed an armor officer basic course at the U.S. Army Armor School, Fort Knox, KY.

The course covered branch training in armor for newly commissioned officers with special emphasis on the duties of tank and reconnaissance platoon leaders. Their training includes instruction in automotive principles and maintenance, communications, weapons and tactics.

He is a 1984 graduate of Washington and Lee University, Lexington, VA, and son of Gerard and Ursula Keeley of Summit.

A SUPPLEMENT TO THE SUMMIT HERALD

Happy 25th birthday to GFWC Woman's Club of New Providence

A 25th Anniversary Installation Banquet on May 1 will celebrate the founding of the GFWC Woman's Club of New Providence in 1961 by town resident Elaine Stewart. Co-chairman Connie Mruk and Lucy Italiano, assisted by Marie Sawyer, have planned an evening of fun, games and good fellowship. The gala event will be held at Copney's, 1080 Springfield Ave., starting at 6:30 pm, followed by a buffet style dinner at 7 pm.

The club, which is dedicated to civic and community improvement service projects, provides scholarships annually to graduating seniors of New Providence High School; prepares the community calendar, organized the Neighborhood Crime Watch program in town and recently sponsored a multi-community Health Fair.

A candle light ceremony will mark the installation of new officers, department chairmen and committee chairmen and the dedication of those officers entering their second term. President Mary Stasiuk will enter her second term, along with first vice president, Alberta Maher; recording secretary, Claire Stang; corresponding secretary Ann Chovan and treasurer, Alice Johnson. Annette Karwell will be installed as the new second vice president and Lois Duyckinck has been appointed as federation secretary.

Trudy Forrester will serve as chairwoman of American Home and Garden Department; Irene Goeckel, as chairwoman of the Art Department; the Literature Department will be chaired by Anne Baldwin; and Ruth Ehlers will serve as chairwoman of the Social Services Department.

Highlight of the evening will be the presentation of the Woman of the Year Award, to be given to that member of the club voted as having done outstanding service to the organization during the 1984-85 season.

New Providence High School plots one-act plays produced by students

The 25th renewal of New Providence High School's annual Evening of One-Act Plays will be presented in the high school theater on Friday, May 3, at 8 pm.

This popular program has been running continuously since 1960. An outgrowth of the work done in the high school dramatics class, it consists of four short plays, each one produced by members of each of the four grade levels in the school. The directors are selected by Mr. Dwight Boud, the dramatics director. The plays are entirely produced and directed by the students. This process includes choosing the plays, selecting the casts, from class level auditions, rehearsing and performing.

This year the freshman class is performing a comedy entitled

"Dracula's Boarding House." The sophomores are doing a comedy about strange family relationships called "Home at Six." The junior class offers "A Gift for Paula," a drama about how a father reaches out to his daughter even from beyond the grave, and the seniors will be performing a comedy about teen relationships entitled "Drive In."

"Dracula's Boarding House" is being directed by sophomores Annette Stegmann and Barbara Brochhagen. Its cast members are Ken Luthy, Todd Garno, Tiffany Martinides, Beth Krautter, Sharon Fosko, Polly Simkins, Dana D'Ascoli, Cynthia Boorujy and Kate Stockwell.

"Home at Six" is directed by Sallyanne French and Chris Jackewicz. The cast consists of Stanley Lai, Carolyn Zittel, Patti Marchello, Brian McCarrie, Katie Moran, Jessica Goldberg and Chris Ballou.

Directing "A Gift for Paula" are juniors Alison Williams and Amanda McDonald. Their play will be acted by David Grant, Matt Watkins, Greta Dembaugh, Christine Yarrusi, Kim Raphaelian, Kim Nall and Teresa Campana.

The senior play, "Drive In," is directed by Chris Grimm and Laura Lancaster. Cast members are Brian Luciani, Linda Flood, Peter Zukowski, John Campbell, Laura Lancaster and Sheila Lloyd.

All tickets are general admission and may be purchased at the door on May 3 for $2. Why should you come to An Evening of One-Act Plays? Just for the fun of it!

SMA Health Fair draws 150 for testing

NEW PROVIDENCE — Lois Duyckinck, chairwoman of the April 20 Health Fair in New Providence, reports that "150 area residents participated in the SMA 23 low cost blood test on that date."

The Health Fair was sponsored by the local GFWC Woman's Club as a community service project, working in conjunction with the local and Summit Board of Health.

In addition to the low-cost SMA 23 blood test, free services offered were: blood pressure screening, vision and hearing testing, oral cancer screening, chiropractic examination, podiatry examination, nutrition counseling, and hundreds of brochures covering a wide scope of health care education. Duyckinck, on behalf of the Woman's Club, said, "We were delighted at the response from the area residents," and expressed appreciation to the local Board of Health; to Dr. Henry Birne, V.M.D.-M.P.H., director of the Regional Health Department; and to Margaret Boyle, R.N., public health nurse, Summit Regional Health Department, for outstanding support and encouragement and to all the participating professionals, who provided free information.

Calling all booklovers

Prenderville leads the way to compassion

Susan Prenderville of New Providence represented Thornton's English Chocolate Shops in New Jersey when 2,000 surplus Easter eggs were donated to the Caring Community of New York City.

Candy was delivered to the Caring Community center at Our Lady of Pompei Catholic Church in Greenwich Village on April 10. Eggs were donated to Mayor Edward Koch's office which directed Thornton to the Department for the Aging, the mayor's declared favorite city institution City Meals on Wheels. Candy was distributed shortly after Easter as part of the Thornton program to donate its excess Easter inventory. Each member of the Caring Community received a four-ounce milk chocolate egg.

Thornton, England's largest retail confectionary concern, operates seven branches in the United States in Boston, Chicago, Washington and two in New Jersey — at Paramus Park Mall and The Mall at Short Hills.

VOLUNTEERS at Caring Community at Our Lady of Pompei Catholic Church in Greenwich Village raise boxes of Thornton English Chocolate Easter eggs after delivery last week by Susan Prenderville, manager of the Short Hills Mall store. Prenderville hails from New Providence.

POOLING RESOURCES—The New Providence Community Pool will open officially on June 22. Call 464-4141 daily before noon for details.

NP Community Pool to open June 22

NEW PROVIDENCE — The Community Pool will open officially on June 22 for full-time operation.

Jack Pearson, president of the Board of Trustees, said the 1985 membership rates remain the same as they were in 1982, despite progressive inflation over the same time period.

This year's activities will include Fun Days for children four to 12; a Young Teen dance for students in grades six to nine, Senior Citizen Day; Ladies Day Out; a picnic; and an art show.

A swim and dive team will again represent the Borough in competition with other area pools.

Swimming lessons will be offered through the Recreation Commission.

Information regarding memberships may be obtained by calling the Pool office on 464-4141 daily before noon.

TWIN to honor businesswomen of 1985

NEW PROVIDENCE — Local residents Deborah DiMaggio and Judith Irven are among 32 Central Jersey women named as 1985 TWIN Award winners for their outstanding achievements in business and industry.

TWIN, the Tribute to Women and Industry project of the Plainfield/North Plainfield YWCA, gives the annual awards to women who have made significant contributions in their professional, managerial or professional roles.

DiMaggio is project director at Dun & Bradstreet in Murray Hill. Irven is division manager of Service Provisioning Systems Engineering at Bell Communications Research in Livingston.

Springfield. Dr. Frances M. Stern, director of the Institute of Behavioral Awareness, will be guest speaker.

DiMaggio is being honored for her accomplishments as director of Automated Office Systems Development, where she manages the design and implementation of computer applications and supervises a staff of 50 technical and clerical employees.

DiMaggio is responsible for all computer applications dealing with Dun & Bradstreet's Office Systems Project; she was instrumental in helping to update and improve the system which enables the company to enter credit information and customer inquiries.

In her eight years with the company, DiMaggio has served as analyst programmer, senior applications programmer, senior analyst programmer and project supervisor before being promoted to her present position. She is a graduate of C.W. Post College where she earned a B.S. in Mathematics and of the University of Massachusetts where she earned an M.S. in Data Processing.

Irven is being honored for her achievements as manager of a department of professionals in the computer science, telecommunications and other high-tech fields working to identify greater opportunities for using computer systems to reduce operations costs in the telephone companies.

In addition to planning the work of her department and managing a multi-million dollar budget, Irven is credited with several significant contributions to Bell Communications Research in the definition of automation strategy in customer service and other areas.

In her 12 years with the company, Irven has previously served as supervisor of the Order Processing Requirements Group, supervisor of the Monitoring Methods Group and a member of the technical staff.

Both women will become part of the Career Options Unlimited programs of the YWCA, sharing their knowledge and business experience with area students and other women at job fairs and career education sessions.

Both will also be invited to join with other honorees in the TWIN Management Forum, a support network for TWIN honorees offering career advancement programs.

For tickets to the awards dinner or more information on TWIN programs, contact the Plainfield/North Plainfield YWCA at 756-3836.

Judith Irven.

Awards will be given at the sixth annual TWIN dinner May 16 at the Town & Campus restaurant, West Orange. Honorary chairman for the project is William Kastning, director of Springfield Operations for AT&T Technology Systems in

NP Friends of Memorial Library to sell old books in order to raise funds for new

The Friends of the Memorial Library will hold a book and magazine sale on the library lawn on Saturday, May 18 from 10 am to 3 pm. Rain date is May 25. Books contributed to this sale may be dropped off at the library before Saturday. For more information call 665-9624.

Friends of the Library was formed in October 1984 to provide volunteer services and to raise funds to enhance the library's resources. A successful Christmas crafts program and February holiday program were enjoyed by many children. March was designated as Children's Art Month and art work was displayed throughout the children's wing. In addition to the children's room programs, the Friends of the Library is providing a pick-up and delivery service to shut-ins.

More programs and services are being planned to benefit the library and new members are welcome. If you would like to become a member of the Friends of the Library, leave your name at the library desk and you will be contacted.

Scout paper drive is May 1

NEW PROVIDENCE — Boy Scout Troops 61 and 363 will conduct the monthly curbside newspaper pickup, Sunday, May 5th starting at 12 noon. Paper drive is the first Sunday due to Mother's Day on May 12th.

Residents should tie their newspapers in bundles, eight inches high or less, and place them at the curb by noon.

The bundles should be newspapers ONLY. Brown paper bags, plastic bags, junk mail, magazines, telephone books, and cardboard must NOT be included.

If the weather is inclement, residents may call 464-9686, before noon, to inquire about the status of the pickup. This number may also be called if your street has not been cleared by 5 pm.

Daniel Smith wins Eagle Award, highest Boy Scout honor

Daniel A. Smith, age 15, of New Providence, has earned the highest advancement award the Boy Scouts of America offers to scouts, the Eagle Award.

Dan's Eagle Court of Honor was held on Saturday, Feb. 16 in Short Hills at the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints which sponsors his troop.

Speaking at the ceremony were Kim Smith of Maplewood and Dick Tolman of Warren, both former scoutmasters for Dan.

According to present Scoutmaster, John Lefgren, Dan is one of approximately one percent of all Boy Scouts who attain the Eagle rank. For his troop, he is Eagle Scout No. 52.

Each candidate must earn 21 merit badges and successfully complete a community, church or synagogue-related project. Dan worked all last summer on his project, which was painting the bleachers in all the recreation fields in town. Instrumental in assisting Dan in organizing his project was director of Recreation Norman Samodovitz, who also attended the ceremonies.

Dan has served as a Patrol leader and Assistant Senior Patrol leader for his troop. At scout camp he has served as a Junior Leader.

This year Dan, a Freshman at the New Providence High School, played on the Freshman soccer team and was the statistician for the Freshman basketball team. He also plays basketball on the high school age basketball team at the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints and participated in the regional tournament in East Brunswick recently.

Dan is the son of George and Louise Smith and follows his brother, Andrew, who has also attained the rank of Eagle.

DANIEL SMITH, right, of New Providence was recently awarded the Eagle Award, the highest accolade awarded by the Boy Scouts of America. George Smith, left, Dan's father, congratulates him.

BH springs into cleaning

BERKELEY HEIGHTS — Clean Up Week will run the first three Saturdays in May, the 4, 11 and 18, between 8 am and 4 pm at the Township Garage, 101 Berkeley Avenue. This service is extended to Berkeley Heights residents only.

Household appliances, water boilers, furniture, and other large items of trash will be accepted at the garage site. Grass clippings, leaves, branches, stumps, tree trunks, logs and building material will not be accepted for the clean up.

Fourth graders to help plant 175 evergreen seedlings

BERKELEY HEIGHTS — Fourth grade students of the township will take part in planting over 175 evergreen seedlings for Arbor Day on April 29.

Alfred G. Rotondi, chairman of the Environmental Commission will speak to students on the value of trees to wildlife, recreation, landscaping and beautification, as well as the importance of trees for soil and water conservation.

The engagement announcement in last week's issue (April 20) for Denise Welch and Walter Baumer should have said, "A November wedding is planned," not a September wedding, as stated.

SCOTT GIMPLE gets ready to spotlight stars at the Student Faculty Talent Show at Columbia School, Berkeley Heights, May 1, 7:30 pm.

Columbia plans Talent Show

BERKELEY HEIGHTS — Local stars will come alive in the Columbia School Student-Faculty Talent Show May 1, 7:30 pm. Dancing, music, comedy, singing and much more will be offered.

Students believe Mr. Muly, principal of Columbia School, will also take part in the action. The talent show will be sponsored by the Student Government at Columbia School.

The program will be in the Columbia Junior High School cafeteria. Admission is free for senior citizens or children under five. Admission for adults is $1; for students, 75 cents. All proceeds will be donated to the Berkeley Heights Nursing Home.

The Columbia School Student Government this year sponsored the Student-Faculty Volleyball Game, in which teachers defeated students, and the Student Faculty Basketball Game, in which students defeated teachers. Proceeds from these games were donated to local charities.

Dances and Valentine's Day Cookie Grams were also successful, as were several fundraising activities.

Theresa McCutcheon and Holly Crowell, student government advisors, predict the talent show will be the highlight of the year.

Spring classes begin at Berkeley Heights Y

BERKELEY HEIGHTS — The YMCA is now registering for spring programs. Classes are available for children and adults at the Y, 430 Springfield Ave., in the Foodtown Shopping Center.

Preschool offerings include Kindergym, Mommy & Me, Indoor Soccer, Kinderconnection, an on-going enrichment program for preschool youngsters. Kinderconnection includes transportation to and from public school kindergartens in the town and in New Providence. Each Kinderconnection day has special activities such as swimming, gymnastics, arts and crafts, library time and trips.

Afternoon activities for older children include Children's Aerobics, and fine arts, which will be held at the YMCA, or an extensive variety of sports, swimming, or crafts classes offered daily in the Y on Wheels program.

Y on Wheels provides afterschool pick up from all local and New Providence elementary schools and transports children to the Summit YMCA for a class of their choice. After classes and supervised recreational or optional free swim periods, the children may be picked up at the Summit YMCA or returned to the Berkeley Heights Y by van at 5:30 pm.

The Berkeley Heights Y is also available for private kinderparty rentals on weekends by appointment. The Y staff will organize a fun-filled, trouble-free birthday or special occasion party for children. Call the Y during business hours to make arrangements.

Adult programs now registering are JOY, aerobic exercise for women, and Baby & Me, prenatal/post partum fitness classes.

A complete brochure and fee schedule is available by calling 464-8373.

Pioneers, Highlanders begin UCT bids

By ART POLAKOWSKI
Presently sporting a 9-1 record, the New Providence baseball team gained the second-seed for the 1985 Union County Tournament which is scheduled to get underway with four preliminary-round games today. Both New Providence and Berkeley Heights — which was slotted in the ninth-spot by the UCT seeding committee — are slated to play first-round games next Saturday, May 4th.

Coach Paul Miller's New Providence club will have a home date with a prelim-round winner between Hillside and Kenilworth. Berkeley Heights will take a short trip to Summit's Memorial Field where the Highlanders will engage the local rival Hilltoppers. Coach Bill Howard's team lost a 2-0 decision to Summit the first week of the campaign.

Heading into Thursday's contest with Springfield, Berkeley was in the throes of a four-game losing skein which had lowered the Highlanders' overall record to 4-6. The last two weeks have — beyond any doubt — represented the most frustrating period of Howard's coaching career at Regional.

The four successive defeats were all by one run and to top-quality opponents. The Highlanders had been nipped by Ridge, Millburn, Westfield, and Clark in successive outings. "We haven't been hitting at all," laments Howard, "and we haven't executed well in the field either."

He might also have added that Berkeley hasn't been particularly lucky of late, either. The most serious misfortune was the season-ending injury suffered a week ago Tuesday by Bryan Aprahamian, Regional's short-stop, number-one pitcher, and acknowledged field leader. Aprahamian slipped on a wet base in a game against Roselle and tore ligaments in his thumb attempting to break the fall. Bryan was scheduled to have corrective surgery yesterday.

Aprahamian's absence puts a lot of pressure on a young infield which has experienced problems in recent games. One trouble has been the cement-hard diamond on the upper varsity field. After watching second baseman Gary DeDuca get eaten up by two balls which crazy-hopped on him and resulted in the tying and winning runs crossing in the Ridge defeat, a visibly agitated Howard notified the school's athletic administration that the Highlander varsity would be using the lower (javee) diamond until something is done about the upper field.

"We've lost close games to good teams," noted Howard, after a seventh-inning comeback fell short in a 3-2 defeat to Millburn. "What's most distressing is that it's the same kind of pattern we fell into last season, when again we just couldn't seem to get the big hit or make the key play in the sixth and seventh inning. I can't explain why, but we simply haven't performed well in crucial situations."

Highlanders climb back from 0-6, but fall to Clark, 8-7

By PEG THURLER
BERKELEY HEIGHTS — "Come on, let's chip away at it," called Highlander softball coach Hope Valentii, after watching her team fall behind 0-6 in the second inning of its game with Clark on Tuesday.

Jen Walz carved out the first chip, rapping out a triple past the third base line in the bottom of the second inning. Jill Geiger and Denise Mitterando loaded the bases and when Debbie Shugard flied out to right field Walz slid home for her team's first run. But two were left on when the rally ended on a pop-up by Paula Kent.

The girls did continue to chip, and worked the score up to 6-6, moved ahead 7-6, only to lose the game in the final inning, 8-7 when Clark scored two final runs in the top of the seventh.

Janet Brandle hit a home run with Laurie Pankuck on base in the third inning, and the score moved up to 3-6. The fifth inning was a big one when the Highlanders evened the score on runs by Pankuck, pinch runner Julie Riewe (running for Mitterando) and Geiger.

Close call
Closest call of the game came during the fifth inning Highlander scoring, when Geiger reached third base safely, dodging a Clark tag by a hair. Katie Ryan got two rbi's on Geiger and Riewe's runs when she hit a single past first base. But at this point Clark put in a new pitcher, and the go-ahead runs were left stranded on base.

But the Highlander batting seemed to be just warming up. Next time up, in the 6th, Pankuck hit a triple behind first base, and Brandle singled home Pankuck for a 7-6 lead. But two insurance runs were left on base when a stealer got caught trying to make second, and Clark fielders caught a fly foul.

Clark was still alive in the top of the seventh, getting two runs after loading the bases and sending two runners home on a wild throw to home plate. G.L. still had one more chance to win with the score at 8-7 against them, in the bottom of the seventh. With two out and two on, Paula Kent singled to left field, but a runner trying to stretch her run to span the third base to home plate distance, was caught and tagged out before reaching the plate.

Good defensive plays — double play by Pankuck in the second, caught a fly ball then threw to first for the final out of the inning...Clark runner trying to steal home in the seventh tagged out by Brandle...long fly ball caught by Walz behind third base to end the top of the fifth inning.

Tracksters poised to defend title

By ART POLAKOWSKI
New Providence track Coach Bill Sinnott admits he's been pleasantly surprised with the accomplishments of his squad so far this 1985 season. Considering the Pioneers are the defending champions in their Group I state section, a casual fan might question whether NP's present 6-0 record could truly be termed unexpected. But Sinnott, who's in his third season at the cinder helm, explains why that's the case.

"We graduated a number of top athletes from last spring's squad," points out Sinnott, who was an assistant in the track program for seven years prior to assuming the varsity reins. "Between them (distance-runner) Dave Denhard, (sprinter) Shayn March, and (weightman) Mike Rapuano left with five school records last June, and the senior weight guys we graduated scored enough points in the state section meet to have finished third in the overall team standings — without adding in any of our other events."

The NP coach cites improvement in the hurdles and jumps and solid performances by an unheralded weight crew as part of the reason the Pioneers have fared better than anticipated. They've contributed to support several acknowledged returning standouts such as middle-distance runner Chris Atteberry, distance competitor Mike McLaughlin, and all-around performer Mike Landsittel. And New Providence did catch one huge break with the arrival of senior transfer Chris Grimm, who had previously made his presence felt in the NP football and wrestling programs this school year.

Grimm is the Pioneers' number-one guy in both sprints and the longjump. Chris, who moved in from Pennsylvania last summer, has run the 100 meters in 11.5, the 200 in 23.5, and he's longjumped 20 feet, 8 inches. To further indicate his versatility, Grimm has also picked up the shotput (an event he hadn't been involved with in Pennsylvania) and is already NP's top man there as well.

Atteberry is close to a two-minute clocking in the 800, and he'll run the 400 and 1600-meters also. McLaughlin has turned a 4:37 time in the 1600 and a 10:15 in the 3200, performances which have Sinnott regarding this junior as a potential school-record breaker in both. And Landsittel can run anything from 400 meters up, according to his coach. "Mike is as versatile a runner as we've had in some time," praises Sinnott. His best distance may be 800 meters (he's logged a 2:03), and Landsittel is likewise the Pioneers' best high jumper where he's cleared 5-10.

Ramsey Redman and Umberto Fusco are two more quality 400-meter types, meaning the Pioneers can put a pretty fair mile relay crew on the track. Don Cart and Drew Vignali are the top hurdlers where they specialize in the 110-highs and 400-intermediates respectively. Brian Gauthier and Brian Luciani are the leading polevaulter.

The weight-throwing contingent is headed up by Danny Kelahe and Mark Skwers. Skwers and Luciani are the New Providence co-captains.

"Our program has never emphasized dual meets," relates Sinnott, whose squad was 7-3 in such competitions a year ago. "We've always used our dual season to try to peak our athletes for the major events at the end of the spring. But right now our kids are excited about being undefeated, and we're going to take our shot at the conference title." As far as dual meets are concerned, the Mountain-Valley crown should be decided on Tuesday, May 7th when the Pioneers host Bound Brook.

Hoopsters honored at banquet

Berkeley Heights' 1984-85 basketball team was feted by the GL Booster Club at the school's annual hoops banquet held last Sunday evening at L'Affaire Restaurant in Mountainside.

Emceed by Basketball Parents Club President Glenn Mangold and Gene Daniel, both of whose sons were standouts for this Regional ballclub, the after-dinner proceedings featured awards made to each of the 33 youngsters involved in the Highlander program this past season. Varsity Coach Jerry Britt handled the presentations with assistance from javee mentor John Theis and freshman steward Rich Smith.

Among the 90 people in attendance were Berkeley Heights Athletic Director Nick Serritella, who was praised by Britt for the extra time he spent coordinating the school's sports effort this winter. High School Principal Pete Festante was unable to be there, but he sent along a letter congratulating the team for its outstanding campaign and Britt for being named the Independent Press Coach-of-the-Year for the fourth time.

There were a number of achievement awards handed out to individual players, and Coach Britt broke with established tradition by singling out each of the varsity's six primary performers for special recognition plaques. Seniors Tom Daniel, Scott Mangold, and Jerry Reddy, and juniors Gregg Allocco, Steve Knoll, and Jeff Weingartner all received trophies which emphasized each player's unique contribution to the team effort. Reddy, who'll attend Notre Dame University next year, was named the Highlanders' Most Valuable Player.

Berkeley Heights earned a co-championship in its Mountain-Valley Conference and reached the state section title round en route to an overall 20-6 record. Besides the above mentioned six players, the other varsity lettermen were Ian Bolden, Matt Degan, Ernie DeLaCruz, Rick Depinto, Mike Esnes, John Farrell, Mike Heard, and Bob McManus.

NEW PROVIDENCE — It's been a long dry spring for the Pioneer softball team, but last Thursday the girls rapped out their first win of the season with a 15-4 win over St. Mary's of Elizabeth. All the patient and thorough training by coach Skip Lyne of a young team paid off in the no-hitter pitched by Ginger Schultz, 15-4.

The second inning was the big one, and Lynda Sloane, who bats in the clean-up position, connected for a triple that cleared the bases for two runs, part of a nine run landslide in the second.

Against Verona on April 17, the Pioneers encountered problems early in the game, and were not able to match the Verona runs with enough of their own, ending with a 12-4 loss.

But looking at the bright side of the game, start with the Lisa Gramlich single to center field in the bottom of the 1st. Lynda Sloane also singled in the same inning, and when Donna McNeil failed to beat the throw to first on her hit, Gramlich came home to put the Pioneers on the scoresheet.

The girls loaded the bases in the 3rd, with special help from Laurie Hallock who got to base on a walk, then moved to 2nd and stole 3rd by escaping a rundown when the Verona player dropped the ball in the excite-

Court Attendants and qualified Summer Program Staff.

Playground leaders are needed for the six-week program which begins June 27 and ends August 7. Applicants should be teachers, or college students with skills in athletics or arts and crafts.

Interested people should call the Recreation Commission Office at 464-0550.

Schultz no-hitter gives Pioneers a win

ment. Hallock scored when Donna McNeil got to 1st on a walk. Kathy Kern and Sloane also scored in that inning with Nancy Shuetz credited with the two rbi's, after swinging into a two-run single. But the rally ended there and N.P. scoring ended with it for the afternoon.

Last chance in the 7th to start a catch-up try ended with a double play. On base were Sloane, Tina Alderman, and Schuetz, with one out, but the next batter was out at first, and the runner forced to head for home was also out and the game ended, 12-4.

Defensively the girls continue to show the improvements that come with experience. Gramlich was impressive as the guardian of home plate, and Hallock proved accurate in pulling in the fly balls at her shortstop position, starting with two in the 2nd inning. Gramlich got runners out in the 2nd and 3rd innings, tagging the second runner when she tried to reverse direction and go back to 3rd base.

Right fielder Denise Reinacher helped to nip a Verona 4th inning batting spree when she caught a long fly ball to her territory for the 3rd out. Center fielder Kathy Kern had gotten the first out of that inning with a beauty of a catch in her part of the outfield.

Gramlich blocked out still another daring Verona runner trying to slip home in the 5th inning, putting on the tag for the third out. Sloane was reliable at 1st base, taking long throws almost the width of the diamond, and she made several tries for double plays.

Player to watch on the Verona team is pitcher Anne Collins, who is a double threat, on the mound and at the plate. She hit a two-run single in the 2nd and a double in the 7th inning, and allowed only three hits.

Tee-softball pitched to youth

BERKELEY HEIGHTS — The Recreation Commission will sponsor a Tee-Softball Program for Berkeley Heights boys and girls in grades three and four. The program will use regular game play, except there will not be a pitcher, as the players hit the ball off a "tee".

The program will be held on Wed. evenings from 6 pm to 8 pm at Woodruff School fields No. 2 and No. 3, beginning on May 1 and ending on June 26. The registration fee is $10 per participant. The program instructor will be Theresa Formisano, Physical Education Teacher, Seton Hall University.

Participants should register at the Recreation Commission Office, open Monday through Friday, 9 am to 12:30 pm and 2 to 4:30 pm or use mail drop by Recreation door anytime, or mail to "Recreation Commission, P.O. Box 186, Berkeley Heights, N.J. 07922." Deadline to register is Monday, April 29.

Permit yourself a few sets

BERKELEY HEIGHTS — Recreational tennis permits are now available for purchase.

All persons who utilize township tennis courts must have a permit, which may be purchased at the Recreation Commission Office, 56 Columbus Ave., open Monday through Friday, from 9 am to 12:30 pm, and 2 to 4:30 pm.

Summit spikes Pioneers in varsity volleyball

By PEG THURLER

AREA — The Summit volleyball team appears to be growing in height as well as in prowess as the season progresses, or maybe the skills of the girls are becoming more evident. Summit fought a real battle for its first varsity game against New Providence last Thursday at the New Providence court, winning it 15-11, then holding serve for extended stretches for the clincher, 15-4.

Jean Braun moved the score up to game point in the first game during her serve, and Christiane Shipley did the rest, serving up the 15-11 point for a non-returnable that the Pioneer digger sent into the net instead of over the net.

Pioneer Karen Leitz led a strong rally midway through that game, holding serve for four points, one an ace and another a non-returnable. Summit coach Nancy Mueller called a momentum-breaking time out with the score at 9-7 for N.P. The maneuver worked for a side out, but the Pioneers hadn't given up. Caren Hector served up a point for a 10-8 catch-up try, and moments later Cathy Hector staved off a game point play at 14-11.

Controversy

A controversial call came while Hector was serving. A Summit player lost her balance at the net, fell outside the court and made contact with the referee's stand. After a discussion, and consulting the rule book, the refs ruled that it was an inadvertent contact. But when Cathy Hector served up a re-play of the point, Summit won the point and went on for the game win.

Mixup

Confusion with the numbers on the shirts of the Summit players when they traded shirts in the Elizabeth and New Providence games put the wrong girls into the action in last week's story. But it was Yvonne Gerstburger, who variously wears the numbers 55, 20, or 32, depending on whose shirt she borrows, who sent over very effective lefty spikes in the second game with the Pioneers to help cement the win for her team. She had help on the points during her serve from No. 21 Linda Gaucher, not to be confused with the j.v. 21, who is Annalise Febus.

(Board of Education members take note — maybe in the next year's budget there will be room for new shirts so that every girl can have a different number!)

A Gaucher spike with the score at 7-1 for Summit, drew a time out from Pioneer coach Vic Bucossi while Placke was serving. Braun scored four points during her serve in that second game, with help from a Gerstburger spike to well the score to 10-2.

Michelle Haldenwang made a spectacular spike when Shipley was serving, sending the ball to the far corner of the Pioneer court, and the score climbed to 11-4. Shipley's backcourt digging kept the ball in play in the final minutes, and her non-returnable at 13-4 brought yet another N.P. time out. And this time it worked, but the Pioneers failed to take advantage of the break.

Serve of the afternoon was a beautiful ace by Pioneer Chris Fosko, giving her team its final point of the match at 10-4. Teresa Campana gets credit for a point on her serve that was very close to an ace, but if the opposing team even nicks the ball it is not quite an ace. The first point of the second game for N.P. was such a serve, and gave the team an initial advantage, but a win wasn't in the cards for the girls in green that day.

The teams will meet again at the Union County Tournament on May 18 at Elizabeth's Dunn Sports Center.

HIGH SCORING Chris Tyler, Summit's No. 26, scored the second of his four goals against Livingston for the Summit Lacrosse team recently.

THE B TEAM of the Summit Girls Lacrosse Club, coached by Robin Capoor.

Girls lacrosse sticks it out against Morristown, Rumson

SUMMIT — The Girls Lacrosse Club opened its spring season with a game against Morristown High School on April 17. The local A team tallied a 15-2 win.

Scorers were Julie Strott, three; Christina Vincinelli, three; Sally Murphy, three; Karen Messineo, three; Lisa Lentini, one; Molly Conlin, one; and Jennie Glynn, one.

The local B team scored a 7-2 victory in the second game of the day. Emily Speers with five goals and Jessica Burger with two led their team to victory.

On April 22, the second match of the season was played against Rumson Country Day School. The A team was defeated 4-12; the B team lost 0-1 to Rumson.

Madison bites dust, Summit wins 6-5

By PEG THURLER

SUMMIT — The play that won the softball game with Madison last Monday was executed in a cloud of dust. Lisa Fern singled in the bottom of the sixth inning with the score at 5-5, and Michelle Ping raced for home plate in a cloud of dust. The runner was safe, and Summit moved out in front 6-5, to stay.

Summit jumped out to an early lead in the first inning, 3-0, improved the score to 4-0 on a double by Kelly Ryan to center field that brought home Fern in the third. Fern scored again in the fifth, coming home on a wild pitch, after Madison runners had scored twice on walks in the fourth and once in the fifth (the last one in another cloud of dust that only the plate umpire was able to call.)

Two more Madison runners in the 6th put Summit into a 5-5 tie before Summit settled for one more run and the 6-5 win. Kris Sutton was the winning pitcher, with three good strikeouts in the fourth inning of her strong performance for the afternoon.

Summit coach Joann LaVorgna used the bunt signal to guide her batters into laying down sacrifice bunts. Amy Luciani sacrificed in the fourth inning to move Sutton over to second, and Liz Dawson did the same thing for advancing runner Tracey Burke.

Chalk dust

Thank goodness the wind was blowing when Tracey Burke hit a single down the third base line. The ball nicked the chalk line and white dust rose into the air as proof of the fair ball call. Burke got as far as third safely on a later play, but trying to make it home she met the impenetrable form of the Madison catcher blocking her path, and failed to reach the plate.

Summit was 2-4 after the Madison game.

SHS bowlers make Bermuda headlines

By PEG THURLER

SUMMIT — Two members of the high school bowling team made the headlines of the Bermuda Mid Ocean News during the recent spring break.

David Platz and Jon Headley packed up their bowling balls and flew to Bermuda with their coach Warren Wheeler for some inter-country competition. The local headline read "New Jersey duo roll into Bermuda," a sentence that may or may not be grammatically correct, but the trip was a fitting climax to a championship season for two members of the varsity team.

"Headley rolled a 194 his first game with the Bermuda team," noted Wheeler in describing the events of the trip. Both Headley and Platz use 16 pound finger tip balls that "provide more action" than the ones supplied by bowling alleys. The trademark name is "Hammer."

There were two boys and two girls chosen for the Bermuda team, with the games arranged by Dudley Brown, a native of Bermuda, but who spent 16 years in New York City, and had bowled at the Edison Lanes. He related that the Edison facility has 100 lanes "straight across," and was the scene of the recent New Jersey state tournament.

The Summit group had time for sightseeing as well as bowling, and according to the Bermuda Mid Ocean News, are already planning for a return trip.

Michelle Brown.

Michelle Brown stars in State Special Olympics Aquatics

Michelle Brown of Summit competed in the Special Olympics State Aquatics Meet on April 22.

She received the following awards: a silver medal for second place in the 25 meter backstroke, and a gold medal and trophy for first in the Junior Girls Relay Team.

Brown is a student of Ms. Valenziano's class at the Summit

Junior High. Her classmates, Annamaria Martorina, and Dorleen Grant also competed successfully in the State Special Olympics.

The New Jersey Special Olympics State Aquatics Meet was held at the Cranford Indoor Pool and Fitness Center. Only those students who participated in the Area Swim Meet qualified for the State Meet.

Summies propel to success

SUMMIT — Three gymnasts from the Summies Team of the YWCA Class III Team competed in the Class III Compulsory Sectional Meet on March 30.

Local resident Abby Bradford, Kathleen Stemmler of Chatham, and Maria DeJohn of South Orange entered in the meet.

In the 9-11 age group, Abby Bradford scored 8.7 on vault for 2nd place, 7.15 on bars, 7.25 on beam, 7.55 on floor for 6th place, and finished in 6th place all-around with a score of 31.00.

Stemmler and DeJohn competed in the 12-14 age group. Kathleen received a score of 8.05 on vault, 7.75 on bars, 7.35 on beam, and the 6th place score of 7.8 on her floor exercise. Kathleen finished with an all-around score of 30.95.

DeJohn placed 4th on vault with an 8.4 and 5th on bars with an 8.35. She received a 7.55 on beam and 7.55 on her floor exercises. Maria finished with a 5th place all-around score of 31.85.

This was the last meet of the season for the Class III Summit YWCA team. For the remainder of the season, the gymnasts will work on optional skills with hopes of competing in optional meets next season.

Krieger courts champions in academy's tournament

Peter S. Krieger of Short Hills is director of the 12th annual Newark Academy Invitational Tennis Tournament, May 4 and 5, at the Academy, 91 South Orange Ave., Livingston.

Krieger, who is with Time-Life, Inc. in New York City, helped to organize the first NAITT in his senior year at the academy. His committee includes two other alumni, Paul Krieger, formerly of Summit, and John Galbraith, of Summit.

Twelve of New Jersey's top schools will compete in the Invitational, considered "the Wimbledon of high school tennis," according to Krieger. They are Montclair Kimberley Academy, last year's winner, and Cherry Hill East, Christian Brothers Academy, Delbarton, Holmdel, Livingston, Moorestown, Newark Academy, Parsippany Hills, Ramapo, West Essex and Westfield.

At the end of the tournament, Krieger will present the second annual John W. Strahan Team Sportsmanship Award. Last year's recipient was Christian Brothers, then the defending champions.

The Time In show with host Matt Loughlin will preview the Strikers out against Spurs

Spurs over Strikers,

3-2

The Summit Spurs, sponsored by Smythe Volvo, took the East Hanover Strikers 3-2 in East Hanover April 14.

The Spurs entered half-time 1-0, thanks to Micheal Waden, ably assisted by Jason Kreuzer. Also contributing to the Spurs' advantage was vigilant goalkeeper David McCullough. Matt Hudson and Billy Robb were strong on defense.

By the end of the third quarter, at 2-2, the match was building to a tense climax. Andrew Mullin had followed-up on play with a second goal; Billy Orr was playing brilliantly despite an eye injury in the third quarter.

With only six minutes left to play, the score still tied, Roberto Reyes clinched the game with a third goal, with Tommy Waldon picking up his second assist of the day.

tournament Thurs., May 2, 6:30 pm on Suburban Cablevision TV3.

The tournament is sponsored this year by a grant from CIT Financial Corporation of Livingston, a commercial, industrial, and consumer financing company.

The public is invited to attend the tournament.

Soccer club weathers a tough week

DIVISION I Roots Sweepers 3, Roxbury 3

Steve Messino kicked in two goals for the Sweepers on Sunday at Wilson Field in Summit, but Roxbury tied things up when they scored on two penalty shots. Tim Shanahan contributed another goal for Summit but failed to lead the team to victory. In the final minutes, Roxbury scored again, ending the game in a 3-3 tie. John Evers put in an outstanding performance at right fullback for the Sweepers.

DIVISION II Brooks Sealfons Sirens 2, Randolph 3

Laura Taylor assisted Jen Carver and Kelly Oakes to score one goal apiece for the Sirens at Randolph on Sunday, but Randolph came back to win the game at 3-2. Liz Kellogg, Jen Hand, Madeline Paskey, Kate Shanahan and Beth Coleman led the team in its effort.

DIVISION III Beifus Buick Spirit 2, Tewkesbury 2

Purcell Parker and Elizabeth Keyser each netted one goal for Summit at Franklin Field last Sunday, but it was not enough to propel the Spirit to victory. Shelby Meyercord and Lainey Bevil had the assists. Kristin Oakes, at forward, and Lisa Lentini, Amy Leatherbee, and Kristin Beifus played well at halfback. Leslie Norwood anchored the fullbacks, with Grace Devin, Karen Stenstrom, and Kim Callahan all making timely contributions. Betsy Bennett played well in goal.

Do Me A Flavor Shooters 1, Branchburg Chargers 5

Summit's Shooters went west to play undefeated Branchburg. Keeper Kevin Clark made several outstanding saves while fullbacks Dick Fisher, Chris Rall and Dan Lucas played an aggressive defensive game against an explosive team. Early in the second half Mickey Soth stole the ball and passed to Josh Smith, who sent Mark Callahan in for Summit's only goal. Kevin Kruezer and Joe Oakes played well up front against a strong defense. Jason Goddard, Brian Kettinging and Ashley Griffith, Summit's hustling halfbacks, played well throughout the game.

Holmes Agency Strikers 0, Chatham Boro 10

The Strikers fought hard against adversity at Gladiator Field in Chatham on Sunday. Fine play was turned in by Dwight Baldwin, Brian Keane, Jerry Madden and Robert Kowalski.

DIVISION IV Lois Schneider Stars 2, South Brunswick 2

Gail Rapuzzi and Molly Lacovare collected one goal apiece, but could not wrest a win from South Brunswick on the opposition's field on Sunday. Standouts were Megan Manzella, Christy Van Dusen, in goal, and Carol Lee Keane as sweeper.

Marco Scampers 1, Randolph 2

Summit was down 2-0 when Margery Shanahan, assisted by Victoria Hardy and Jenny Wroblewski, came back with a goal, but despite strong play by midfielders Leigh Ann Gilroy and Kelly Formichella and defensemen Liz Cox and Laurie Mullery Randolph came away with the victory.

American Express Storm 1, Parsippany Predators 1

Matt Langley scored on a penalty kick with five minutes to go in the third quarter, but the game ended in a tie against Parsippany on Sunday. Chirs Farrend and Andy Margie led the team effort.

DIVISION V Windhorst Liquor Sabres 0, Westfield Shamrocks 2

Summit outplayed Westfield

last Sunday but failed to score. Defensive standouts were Sarah Coyle and Evan Mingle.

Summit Trust Co. Sea Maidens 3,

Tewkesbury Wonders 1

Ginger Kreidler and Lindsay Tucker scored unassisted to lead Summit to a 3-1 victory in Tewkesbury on Sunday. Kelly Weltz and Lucie Small shared the goalie spot.

Summit Food Market Sting 1, South Brunswick Starfighters 1

Patrick Shallcross scored on a direct free kick, but Summit was unable to win this game. Grant Bowman and Adrian Tompsitt played well at their respective positions.

Stephens Miller Sharks 1, East Hanover Ponies 3

Octavia Tapia scored with a long kick into the goal from his center defense position which tied up the game until the last eight minutes for the Sharks last Sunday. East Hanover dribbled in two quick goals at the end to give their team the final advantage. Charlie Leatherbee and Steven Engler played superb games at halfback, as did Christopher Dyke at right wing.

Masco Shakers 7, Berkeley Heights 0

Tommy Lovell, Stuart Alford, Mike Remy and Danny Robinson sparked a 7-0 romp over Berkeley Heights in the away game on Sunday. Danny Keane was the shutout goalie.

Baltusrol to host women golf champs

The 1985 U.S. Women's Open Golf Championship will be held at Baltusrol Golf Club, Springfield, July 8 to 14. It will mark the eighth U.S. Open that Baltusrol has hosted — a record.

The field will include such greats as defending champion Hollis Stacy, JoAnne Carner, Jan Stephenson, Amy Alcott, Nancy Lopez, Pat Bradley, Beth Daniel, Betsy King and Alice Miller.

Season tickets for all seven days (three practice days, four tournament days) and coupon books, are available through the championship office at Baltusrol Golf Club. Clubhouse tickets are still available. For particulars call 467-4653.

Latin students win national honors

SUMMIT — Latin students from the Senior and Junior High Schools were congratulated for an "admirable performance" this year in the 1985 American Classical League/National Junior Classical League National Latin Exam. The 26 students who took the examination, competing with 57,000 classics students across the U.S., were applauded by the Latin Exam Committee for their "splendid training and efforts."

Latin teachers Fred Moore, senior high, and Mary Lou Mitchell, junior high, were commended for "industry and enthusiasm."

Senior high students receiving maxima cum laude certificates with silver medals are Catherine Winter, Susan Taylor and Kathleen Wyrrough.

Carsten Scheide received a magna cum laude certificate. Winners of cum laude awards were Latin III students Bill Fisher, Matthew Martin and Steven Pincus; Leif Welch in Latin IV prose; and Latin V poetry students Andrew Dyke, Christopher Johanson, John Shields, Amos Beason and Anne Von Neida.

At the junior high, eighth graders Daniel Lukas and Richard Fisher received gold medals and summa cum laude distinction. Alisa Gallo, eighth grade, was awarded a silver medal maxima cum laude.

Magna cum laude distinctions were won by eighth grader Rosemary Balchunas and ninth graders Jonathan Williams, Michael Ferrante and Matthew Cole. Students earning cum laude ratings were Kevin Chisholm, eighth grade, and ninth graders William Bennett, Kevin Welch, Mercedes Danforth and Cindy Conlin.

Seniors get scoop from Burgdorff

SUMMIT — Two new solutions to the "house rich-cash poor" problem of homeowners 62 years and older will be presented at four area seminars sponsored by Burgdorff Realtors.

A representative of Prudential-Bache Mortgage Services will explain a product the company introduced this year called I.R.M.A., an acronym for Individual Retirement Mortgage Account.

I.R.M.A. is Prudential's version of the Reverse Annuity Mortgage which allows qualified homeowners 62 years and older to draw $150 to $700 a month tax free from their home equity while they continue to live in their home.

A Citibank representative will explain the bank's new Equity Source Account. Through this plan, qualified homeowners can convert home equity to a loan against which they can write checks at their discretion. Interest is charged.

Older Americans faced with fixed and often reduced income, growing inflation and rising costs of maintaining a home have watched their standard of living diminish. With over 70 percent of the net worth of senior homeowners tied up in the equity of their homes, many have seen no way out but to sell their residence.

These plans make the home a liquid asset for the first time. They may eliminate the fear of outliving savings or becoming financially dependent on children.

The seminars, about an hour long, are being offered at Scotch Hills Country Club on May 1, Plainfield and Jerusalem Rd., Scotch Plains, at 3 pm May 8 at St. Paul's Episcopal Church, 200 Main St., Chatham at 1:00; May 15 at St. Peter's Episcopal Church, 70 Maple Ave., Morristown at 1 pm, and May 22 at the Environmental Center, 70 Lord Stirling Rd., Basking Ridge at 2:30 pm.

For transportation of further information, call your local Burgdorff office.

Reverend Higgins to speak during May Pilgrimage

SUMMIT — A May Pilgrimage in honor of the Mother of Jesus, Queen of Peace, will be conducted at the Rosary Shrine, 3 pm, Sun., May 5.

Guest speaker for the occasion will be the Reverend Donald J.

Higgins, C.S.S., a missionary now stationed at All Saints Parish in Manassas, VA.

A former chaplain of Mary, Queen of Apostles Formation Center in Somers, CT, Higgins is a Stigmatine Father who is now engaged in the preaching apostolate throughout the United States. He will speak on the role of Our Lady in the life of Christians.

Devotions will open with a solemn procession during which the Knights of Columbus will carry the image of Our Lady to the sanctuary. The customary crowning will take place while the cloistered nuns sing a hymn in honor of Mary, Queen of May.

Father Daniel Shannon, O.P., chaplain of the monastery, will lead the rosary and officiate at Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament. Pilgrims are invited to join the singing of the traditional hymns. A blessing of the sick will close the devotions.

ANALYZING YOUR RISKS

You're aware of the financial risks in the day-by-day operation of your business. But are ALL the risks adequately covered by insurance? Don't leave yourself open to a surprise that can deplete your bank account — or worse.

Here are some questions to ask yourself. What could cause a loss in my business? (You might be surprised at how long this list might be.) From past experience, what types of losses are re-occurring? How serious have past losses been? What is the potential for serious loss in the future?

Your insurance agent can help you answer these questions. He will help you explore such areas as property losses, losses from business interruption, liability, employee injuries in the workplace, and key person losses.

All of these areas should be carefully considered and then checked against your present insurance coverage. Your coverage should be complete enough to meet all your needs.

This information has been brought to you as a public service by SPENCER M. MABEN, INC., 490 Morris Avenue, Summit, NJ • 273-1900. Your one-stop answer to complete insurance protection.

Saks to toast Oratory School with latest in spring fashions

MILLBURN — A champagne brunch and fashion show for parents and friends of Oratory Prep School will be at Saks Fifth Avenue, on Tues. May 7, at 10 am.
The latest in spring fashions will be featured. Ida Stewart, Special Assistant to Estee Lauder, and Vice-President of Estee Lauder, Inc., will conduct personal make-up consultations. Mrs. Stewart makes frequent appearances on television and radio shows from across the country.

The champagne brunch has been planned by the Oratory Parents' Guild under the direction of Chairwoman Marge Cahill, at Summit, and co-chairwoman Betty Kenny, at Chatham.
Oratory is a Catholic Day School for boys, in grades seven through 12.

Black bear to be subject of talk

SUMMIT — Wildlife biologist Patricia A. McDonnell will present an illustrated lecture on "The Black Bear of New Jersey: A Second Chance" for the Sunday Afternoon Series on April 28 at the Reeves-Reed Arboretum.
The free program, open to the public, begins at 3 pm. The lecture will cover the past history and present status of the black bear, its food habits and life cycle, research techniques such as trapping, tagging and radio-collaring, and the outlook and problems for this species.

As senior wildlife biologist, Ms. McConnell is the leader of the Black Bear Program for the New Jersey Division of Fish, Game and Wildlife in the Department of Environmental Protection. She joined the Division in 1973 after graduating from Rutgers University in the college of agriculture and environmental science.
The Arboretum is located at 165 Hobart Ave. near Rt. 24. For more information, call 273-8787.

Reinhauer engineers his way into fame

Thomas V. Reinhauer of Summit has been elected to the Wayne State University College of Engineering Hall of Fame in recognition of his accomplishments in engineering.
Reinhauer was also presented a Distinguished Engineering Alumni Achievement Award at the College's annual honors program. He revolutionized fabric filtration for air pollution control with his invention of the pulse jet bag cleaning principal in 1956.

A 1949 graduate of the College of Engineering, Reinhauer retired this year as vice president and technical director of Mikropul Corporation. He holds patents for fabric filter methods and has been active in the Air Pollution Control Association, the American Society of Mechanical Engineers and the Board of Directors of the Industrial Gas Cleaning Institute.

JUST IN TIME for Mother's Day gifting, the Summit Animal League will offer a Spring Plant sale Sat., May 11, 9 am to 2 pm at the drive-up plaza of the Summit Trust Company, corner of Beechwood Road and DeForest Ave., Summit. Hanging baskets of Impatiens, Begonias, Bougainvillea, Ivy Geraniums, or Fuchsias; three colors of potted Geraniums, red, salmon, and pink, Impatiens in pots and packs, Azaleas, pink and red Begonias, and Fuchsias; will be available. For more information, call 273-2663, 273-6625, 9 am to 5 pm daily. Early bird orders may be placed at 273-4095.

Area Panhellenic to confer over lunch

SUMMIT — The annual spring benefit luncheon of the Short Hills-Summit Area Panhellenic Conference will be at the home of Mrs. Carolyn Mullet, 14 Blackburn Place, on Mon., May 6, at 11:30 am.
The luncheon will feature homemade salads and desserts, and will be followed by a benefit Chinese auction, with items donated by member sorority alumnae groups.
President Phyllis Basmadjian will present the new officers for 1985-86, and the winners of the benefit round-robin bridge tournament will be announced.
Proceeds from the fund-raising activities go to the Panhellenic Recognition Awards presented to senior women graduating from the high schools of Summit,

Last call for kindergarteners

SUMMIT — Residents who did not register their children for kindergarten at the regularly scheduled time last month may still register by calling the school that their child will attend and making an appointment.
If unsure of the elementary school closest to them, residents may call the Board of Education offices, 273-3023.

MORTGAGES
Lower Rates, Better Terms, Faster Service.

30 year term, annually adjustable rate
Initial period of one year:
10.75% plus one point 11.868% A.P.R. - first year
Initial period of three years:
12.25% A.P.R.
with NO POINTS
• 20% minimum down payment (10% with mortgage insurance)
• Commitments within one week, if you qualify (even faster if necessary)
• 2% interest rate cap at each adjustment period
• life of loan maximum increase of 5%
The annual percentage rate shown is a composite of the initial period rate plus the points, and assumes that the current indexed rate will be in effect for the remaining term of the mortgage. The current indexed rate of 11.875% is the weekly average yield of Treasury Securities adjusted to a constant maturity of one year as reported by the Federal Reserve, plus a margin of 2.5% rounded to the nearest 1/8%. Although the rate is subject to change, the rate you receive will be the rate in effect at the time your loan is approved. Rates and terms are subject to change without notice. This is a limited offering.
