Traffic officer links accident hot spots to highway flow

By PAIGE TUNSTALL

SUMMIT--Local traffic accidents tend to occur most frequently where traffic from Routes 78 and 24 runs through the city, according to Traffic Officer Mike Yannotta.

Sergeant Yannotta said, "When you look at the map," of accidents in the city, "you can see that the most accidents occur where traffic comes in off the highway."

Route 78 ends in Berkeley Heights and picks up again in Springfield; Route 24 ends in Summit, and is expected to connect eventually with Route 287 in Morristown.

Traffic flow from these two arteries has increased local daily traffic flow to approximately 8,000, according to Yannotta.

"Summit gets a lot of the connecting traffic," for those two routes, said Yannotta.

Yannotta's map of traffic accidents that have occurred this year indicates the following accident hotspots in the city:

- Morris and Ashwood Avenues intersection, nine accidents;

- Broad Street and Springfield Avenue, eight accidents;

- Broad Street and Middle Avenue, 10 accidents;

- Broad Street and Maple Avenue, eight accidents;

- Morris and Summit Avenues, six accidents, all involving personal injury; and

- Springfield and Passaic Avenues, eight accidents; and

- Glenside and Morris Avenues, 10 accidents.

The city and the county last month completed a traffic flow survey for the Glenside-Morris intersection to determine need and feasibility of a traffic light at that location.

Assistant City Engineer Tom Kirwin said, "I believe that survey has been sent to the state," Department of Transportation. Kirwin said it would be months before the state would deliver a response to the survey.

Yannotta said these accident hotspots tend to reflect flow of traffic from Routes 78 and 24.

Most of the traffic in the business area tends to go through intersections of Broad Street and Summit Avenue and Broad Street and Springfield Avenue, said Yannotta.

As of Aug. 31, accidents for the year totalled 468. Of those, 315 involved property damage; 127, personal injury; 12, bikes; 11, pedestrians; and three, mopeds.

Although most people don't realize it, said Yannotta, the accident rate tends to increase in clement weather: "We'll have the most accidents on a clear sunny day," he said, adding, "That's also a national trend--people go faster, and speed is the cause," of most accidents.

THE CLASSIC JAZZ QUARTET will open the 1985-1986 subscription season of Jazz at the Summit Art Center Sun., Oct. 6, at 4 pm, playing jazz of the 1920's, '30's and '40's. With Dick Wellstood at piano, Marty Grosz on guitar, Dick Sudhalter on cornet and Joe Muranyi on clarinet and soprano sax, the quartet has won rave reviews this year. Rinaldo warns local business reps of dangers in proposed tax reform

SUMMIT--The city might suffer from certain elements in the Reagan Administration's tax reform proposal, Congressman Matt Rinaldo told members of the Suburban Chambers of Commerce on Monday.

According to Rinaldo, proposals that might hurt local businesses include:

- eliminating deductibility of state and local taxes,
- eliminating tax-free issue of many kinds of local bonds, and
- taxing employment benefits.

"For many people in this area, a federal tax reduction would be more than offset by losses," tax reform might bring, Rinaldo said.

For example, Rinaldo said, loss of federal Revenue Sharing funds would mean less money coming into municipal budgets. "All this will be reflected in your local property tax rate," he said.

Tough choices

However, said Rinaldo, the deficit must be reduced somehow, no matter how difficult reductions may be. Citing this year's record setting deficit of $160 billion--up $37 billion from last year--Rinaldo said, "A few years ago, we had a steady stream of surplus and no one ever dreamed," of today's deficit.

Choices in cutting the deficit are tough: "We cut out all of the fat and then some of the meat, and now we're down to the bone," in some cases, Rinaldo said.

His own constituents press for protection of Superfund, for example, said Rinaldo. "Every poll we're taking in New Jersey shows that the environment is the key issue," said Rinaldo.

Also, the Congressman said, his constituents have pressed for protection of federal guaranteed student loans.

In addition, he has been asked to protect UDAG funds, dear to his Union County constituents, Rinaldo said.

"All these ideas may sound great but in the House they're worth nothing unless you can get 217 people to agree with you," he added.

In Washington, said Rinaldo, pressure groups say, "Reduce the deficit, but don't take away my piece of the pie."

Even while protecting constituents' interests, Rinaldo said, "We all had to make necessary compromises," or deficit reduction would be impossible.

Keep Social Security safe
In considering the federal budget, Rinaldo said, "I think we should take Social Security out of the unified budget... You can't use those (Social Security) funds for anything else, by law."

Rinaldo objected to budget shifts that might add to the defense budget at the expense of Social Security, saying, "That is playing tricks and games with the American people."

With Social Security benefits frozen, he said, by 1992, at the present rate of economic growth, Social Security will have a surplus of $80 billion; if that money is put into the unified budget, the deficit will seem to be $80 billion less than it really is, according to Rinaldo.

A chamber member commented to the Congressman, "As Americans, we're beginning to lose confidence in the way our federal government is operating... You can call for information about Social Security all day and you'll get a busy signal," the listener added.

"You're going to get a busy signal as long as we have the budget deficit," to contend with, the Congressman responded.

First Aid Squad needs members

SUMMIT--Although lack of volunteers has forced some area first aid squads to cut back the hours they are available, the Summit First Aid Squad has held its ground.

With 51 active members, the squad is available to community residents 24 hours a day, providing emergency assistance for free to all local residents.

However, the squad still has a critical need for new members, said Karen Luce, lieutenant with the squad.

According to Luce, volunteers are needed especially during the daytime shift, which runs from 7am to 7pm.

"Days are critical," said Luce, adding, "During the day, you're going after housewives--and lately so many of them have gone to work."

Squad President Nat Lima said, "Some volunteers--maybe 10 or 15--have to work double-duty," to keep the squad open 24 hours a day.

"Where else can you get people at 3 or 4am?" asked Lima. "You turn over in the middle of the night and your husband isn't breathing. You call and in five minutes four people are there. No money in the world can buy that," he said.

Night shifts run from 7 to 11pm, during which time volunteers stay in the squad building. Afterwards, from 11pm to 7am, volunteers leave the building but remain on call, using beepers to intercept emergency calls.

Luce is chairwoman of the squad's current fund drive, which seeks $60,000 to cover this year's operating expenses. The squad runs entirely on private donations. As of Sept. 16, donations had reached $22,000.

The fund drive coincides with First Aid Squad Month. If enough funds aren't raised during the annual drive, Luce said, the squad relies on memorial donations to cover the balance.

The squad hopes to raise enough money to afford a new ambulance in 1986, said Luce.

The squad owns three ambulances, one of which was purchased in 1982. The new vehicle would replace the squad's 1978 ambulance.

The third vehicle owned by the squad is a Cadillac ambulance, which is used for medically necessary long distance transportation.

"The caddy rides so smooth, it's great for long distance drives. It gives the patients an easier ride," said Luce.

In the past year, Luce said, the squad has provided transportation to or from Vermont, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, and even Canada. "Since I became lieutenant a year ago," Luce said, "I've only had to turn down one request. That one came in on a Friday afternoon, and I simply couldn't find anyone to come in. That can happen if people wait until the last minute to ask us," for transportation.

Like other squad services, transportation is provided free of charge.

To join the squad

To become a squad member, only a Basic First Aid course is required--volunteers may take the course from the squad itself or the local Red Cross. All training is for free.

The squad has an active roster of junior members ages 16 to 18, several of whom are students at Summit Senior High School. The principal of the high school, Donald Geddis, is captain of the squad.

Three men who began as junior members went on to become president of the squad, according to Lima. Those three were Ken DeRoberts (former city treasurer), Mike DeClassis (current city court clerk), and Chris Cotter.

Lima is a charter member of the squad, which began 23 years ago. He has remained a member of the squad since its inception.

"It's a beautiful organization," Lima said, "It's because we love what we're doing."

You said it...

Quote of the week:

"You turn over in the middle of the night and your husband isn't breathing. You call and in five minutes four people are there. No money in the world can buy that."

--Nat Lima, president of the Summit First Aid Squad, regarding squad services.

Summit to begin road reconstruction near City Hall

SUMMIT -- The area of Springfield Avenue in the vicinity of City Hall will be reconstructed beginning on or about Wed., Oct. 2. Reconstruction is expected to last three weeks. Work will begin with the installation of curbs and sidewalks.

City Hall and nearby businesses on Springfield expect to remain open while construction is in progress.

The project will include repaving of the street and installation of curbs and sidewalks as needed. Work will begin part way into the Morris Avenue intersection and will extend to the railroad bridge at Chestnut Avenue.

Curbs and sidewalks will be built on one side of the street at a time. However, when the base coat and repaving are done, the roadway will have to be closed to daytime vehicular traffic for three or four days. City Hall and affected businesses will be accessible by sidewalk.

Detour signs will direct motorists to the central business district.

In order to minimize disruption, the street will be reopened every evening when construction ceases.

The work will be performed by the Verona Paving Company. Assistant City Engineer Thomas K. Kirwin will be the on-the-job inspector for the city.

Does the male brain differ from the female brain?

SUMMIT -- Does the male brain differ from the female brain? Possible differences will be discussed by Jenelyn Block and Robert Festa, associates of the Interweave Center, Thurs., Oct. 17, 8 to 9:30 pm at the center, 31 Woodland Ave. (in the Calvary Episcopal Church building). Block and Festa, with Center director Robert Morris, will discuss research indicating physical differences between male and female brains.

To reserve a seat, call 763-8312. Pre-registration is $5; at the door, cost is $6 (center members, $4 and $5).

Also offered in October for three consecutive Thursdays is a course of Jewish Studies exploring Kabbala and Jewish Mysticism, by Dr. Melvin Jay Glatt. Rabbi Glatt is a writer and interpreter of Judaism, and holds a doctorate in the field of Talmud and Classic Rabbinic Literature.

Man is badly injured trying to cross Route 24

SUMMIT--A man is listed in critical condition at Overlook Hospital after being hit by a car Tuesday while trying to cross Route 24.

The report also indicates that the woman driving the car that hit Cervil sounded her horn, but that Cervil did not stop. The woman said she was going 55 miles per hour.

How does city government work?

A police accident report indicates that the man, Paul Cervil of Irvington, had gotten a ride to the Millburn-Springfield exit of Route 24, and was trying to cross the highway to help his wife, whose car had broken down.

SUMMIT -- The public is invited to hear Marjorie Brown, Helen Huber and Judy McLendon, members of Common Council, give their impressions of city government as "Women in Council."

Organized by the Summit League of Women Voters, the meeting will be Mon., Sept. 30, noon to 2 pm in the lounge of the Summit YWCA. Sandwiches and fruit will be provided for lunch by the LWV.

in brief ...

A counterclaim has been filed against owners of the Summit Medical Group by Board of Adjustment attorney Arthur Condon.

The counterclaim was filed in response to a claim by Medical Realty Associates (MRA), owners of the Medical Group.

MRA's claim, filed July 30 by MRA attorney Bartholomew Sheehan in New Jersey Superior Court, said the board had been "unreasonable" in denying MRA's request for 12 variances. The variances were sought to permit the Medical Group to expand to twice its current size.

MRA's claim asked the court to reverse the board's denial so that the Medical Group could expand as requested in its application to the board.

The counterclaim asks that MRA's claim be dismissed, and that the Medical Group be enjoined from using an ancillary building at 129 Summit Avenue. According to the counterclaim, use of 129 was forfeited by MRA in a 1964 variance granted by the board.

The counterclaim also asks for an injunction against operation of MRA's "parking lot business on its property."

A $20,000 appropriation of city funds to pay for legal fees in 278 tax appeals is still standing, although the vast majority of those cases has been dropped.

Council dropped 261 of the appeals on Aug. 13. According to City Administrator Reagan Burkholder, the appropriation will be used toward legal fees for 17 cases that were not dropped, and for four cases already being argued by the city in New Jersey Tax Court.

Attorney Saul Wolfe will handle the 17 appeals still being pursued. Burkholder said Wolfe's fees are still under negotiation.

The Rent Commission this week sent a letter to the League of Women Voters concerning recommendations the league had made about the commission's operations.

The league submitted recommendations to the commission last spring after a league-conducted survey showed an "overwhelming" number of tenants were not aware of the commission's role.

According to Gerry O'Connor, chairman of the commission, the commission did not meet during the summer, and so did not have an opportunity to respond to the recommendations until two weeks ago, when it met for the first time since the spring.

The letter is expected to become public next week after league officials receive it.

The United Way of Summit and New Providence is conducting a fund drive to raise $500,000 for its 17 member agencies, including the Summit YMCA, Summit YWCA, and Summit Area-association for Gerontological Endeavors (SAGE).

"Financing these programs is becoming increasingly difficult for all non-profit agencies," according to Jack Cooper, president of the local United Way.

"Those who receive federal funds are faced with a cut-back of at least 10 percent. Local giving...has increased by only 4 or 5 percent in recent years," making it hard to find funds for expanding local programs.

Need for those local programs, according to the United Way, has increased. United Way figures indicate:

- percentage of senior citizens in the population will increase;
- family violence is on the increase; and
- more women with school age children have entered the work force.

The Board of Education approved $250 for board member Sally Cerny to attend a microcomputer course.

The board approved the allocation Sept. 19. Board members who supported the allocation said it was important for the board to be familiar with computers, since they are increasingly important to the local curriculum.

According to D. Anne Atherton, who cast the sole vote against the allocation, the course may be too specialized for board purposes. Atherton also expressed concern over whether the course was an appropriate use of board funds.

Collectors items included in Book Sale

NEW PROVIDENCE — Sat., Oct. 5, the Summit College Club will run its 50th annual Used Book Sale at the Hillview School, 330 Central Ave., Oct. 5 to 9.

The Sale will offer a wide selection of hard cover and paperback books in several categories.

One of the most popular departments is the Americana - Listed Books chaired by Betty Malcom of Summit. "We have a very nice selection of maritime books this year," said Malcom, "as well as some good source books for collectors."

Maritime books

Among the maritime books is a copy of the scarce first edition of Carl C. Cutler's "Greyhounds of the Sea" which was published by Putnam's in 1930 with 118 illustrations, some in color.

Also available is a copy of Cutler's "Queens of the Western Ocean - The Story of America's Mail and Passenger Sailing Lines," published by the United States Naval Institute, illustrated and indexed.

Sailing charts

"Cape Horn," by Felix Riesenberg is illustrated and includes six sailing charts in two colors. This book tells the story of the Cape Horn region from the first discoverers through the Battle of the Falklands. Its frontispiece was painted especially for the book by Gordon Grant.

Two books featuring J. Spurling's pictures of clipper ships and storied by Basil Lubbock are "The Romance of the Clipper Ships" (MacMillan) and "Sail" published by the Blue Peter Publishing Company of London. Other books deal with the ports of New York and Gloucester, whaling, pirates, and seaman-ship.

"Argonauts of the South" by Captain Frank Hurley is an account of voyaging in the polar regions with Sir Douglas Mawson and Sir Ernest Shackleton. It contains 75 illustrations and maps.

Collectors, or those with special interests, will find two books by William Winthrop Kent. "The Hooked Rug," the 1937 new edition, and the 1941 edition of "Rare Hooked Rugs" are both fully illustrated.

Published by the Buten Museum of Wedgwood are two good reference works, "Wedgwood Rarities" by Harry

M. Buten with 309 illustrations and Wedgwood by Rathbone, published in 1968. Illustrated source books available include "The Early Furniture of French Canada" by Jean Palardy, and "Colonial Furniture in America" by Luke Vincent Lockwood, the New York 1901 edition.

The sale opens at 9:30 am Sat., Oct. 5. Beginning at 8 am tickets will be distributed to hold a place in line for those arriving early to obtain prime selections.

The sale is held each year by the club to raise funds for scholarships for young women in the area and fellowships for graduate work awarded by the American Association of University Women.

Young 'Explorers' check out the local police beat

SUMMIT — Students ages 14 through 21 who would like to assist with regular police duties may attend a meeting to organize a Police Explorers Troop.

The Explorers program, with several chapters throughout the state, is designed to let young people see if they would like law enforcement as a career. The meeting is set for Oct. 5, 7:30 pm in Room 113 of the high school.

Parents and other adults who are interested in joining the troop's advisory committee also may attend.

Catherine Zanotti, district executive of the Watchung Area Council of the Boy Scouts of America, will be at the meeting to discuss the Scouts' role in this activity.

The Explorers program is affiliated with the B.S.A., whose primary purpose is to provide law enforcement experience to young people.

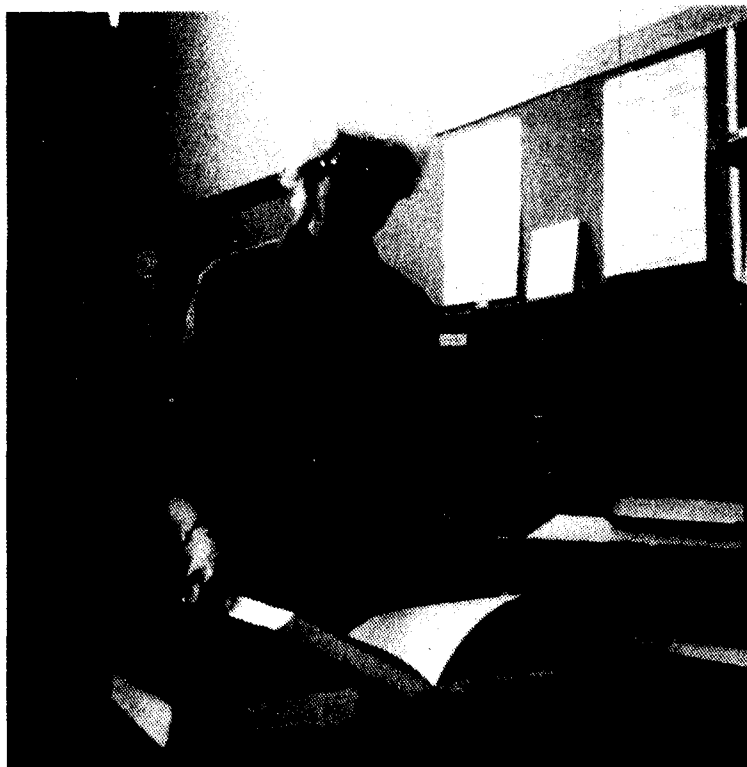

Duties the Explorers will perform include working at the communications desk, riding with and assisting the auxiliary police on Sunday house checks, assisting with Sunday morning church traffic, crowd and traffic control for parades and fairs, and Halloween patrol.

The Explorer Troop organizing committee consists of Chief Frank Formichella (coordinator), Sgt. David G. Formichella (advisor), Det. John McCandless, Det. Richard Misuriello, Patrolmen Robert D'Ambola, James Monticello, and Anthony Parenti, Patrolwoman Donna Ricca, Councilwoman Judith L. McLendon, High School Principal Donald Geddis, and High School Vice-Principal Emil George.

Special committee assignments will be made at a later time. The organizing committee is seeking expanded membership to include parents and other adult members of the community.

Sgt. George Horn, who heads the auxiliary police, will act as liaison between the regular force, the auxiliaries, and the Explorers.

BOOK 'EM — Betty Malcom researches listed books in preparation for the College Club Book Sale at Hillview School, Central Ave., New Providence, Oct. 5 to 9.

National Christ Child Society to sponsor fall festival

The Summit Chapter of the National Christ Child Society will hold its annual fall festival on Mon., Oct. 7 at the Madison in Convent Station. The fund raiser includes a boutique, luncheon, a fashion show by Miss Nellie of Summit and two raffle drawings. Luncheon is by advance reservation only and will be served at 12:30.

The boutique opens to the public at 10 am. Knit goods will include handmade outfits for infants, sweaters and cap and scarf sets for children, quilts and unique stuffed animals. Items suitable for adult gifts are place mat and napkin sets, aprons, pillows and hostess sets.

The Christmas Shop offers Christmas stockings, skirts, novelties and unusual Christmas ornaments and decorations.

In the Gourmet Shop will be a wide selection of homemade specialty preserves and chutneys, jams, as well as breads, cookies and cakes and other delicacies.

Over 100 layettes were made and distributed by the Summit Chapter during the past year to needy mothers. Designed to meet an infant's clothing needs for its first year, the layettes, which include handmade and purchased articles, were distributed through the social agencies of Union and Essex Counties.

Proceeds are used to purchase the materials for the layettes. Donations are also made to Children's Specialized Hospital, St. Joseph's Home for Blind Babies, Care of Abused Children, and similar institutions. For more information, call 273-8171; for luncheon reservations, 273-6326.

Methodist homes for the elderly

SUMMIT — "The United Methodist Homes of New Jersey" will be the topic at an Oct. 1 meeting of the United Methodist Women of the United Methodist Church.

Guest speaker is Diaconal Minister Charles R. Murray, director of Development and Public Relations for the seven homes for the elderly the church runs in New Jersey.

He has served in this capacity since June of 1983. For 12 years, Murray held a similar position at the Gateway Methodist Home for Children in Buffalo, NY.

A general meeting will begin 11 am, followed by a pot luck luncheon.

The church is at the corner of Kent Place and DeForest Avenue. Reservations may be made by calling the church office, 277-1700. Babysitting is provided.

Cooke to address Mount Prospect

SUMMIT — The annual meeting of the Mount Prospect Association will be held at the Fortnightly Club on Tues., Oct. 8, at 8 pm.

Mr. Wendell W. Cooke, president of The Historical Society, will be the guest speaker; and his topic will be "The Historical Significance of the Mount Prospect Area."

The Mount Prospect Association was founded in 1949 by the residents of the area for the primary purpose of maintaining the residential nature of Summit, and of the Mount Prospect area in particular.

Area residents are invited to attend.

Refreshments will be served.

Chrysanthemums to be on sale

SUMMIT — Chrysanthemums will be on sale at the Animal League's annual Mum Sale Sat., Sept. 28, 9 am to 1 pm at the drive-up plaza off the Summit Trust Company, corner of Beechwood Road and DeForest Avenue.

Flowers of all colors will be featured, including yellow, white, bronze and mauve.

For more information, call 273-2663, 273-2665, or 273-3553.

For choice of colors and early bird orders, call 273-6625 9 am to 9 pm.

Communities on Cable needs volunteers

SUMMIT — Communities on Cable, the non-profit organization which operates TV-36, will continue its fall fund raising drive with a call-a-thon Oct. 9 and 10 to families in its viewing area.

"Public access television is a fairly new idea in communications," Kathy Hall, executive director, stated. "The idea that ordinary people can use television equipment to produce programming about ideas that are important to them has only been possible since the development of cable TV made so called 'narrow-casting' a reality."

TV-36, a complete television production facility located at 70 Maple Street, is available to anyone in the five town area who joins Communities on Cable. Yearly membership is $25. The station provides classes in all aspects of television production free to members and relies entirely on donations to raise its operating budget of $60,000 a year.

"We are a unique community resource in the five town area," Board President Beth Pincus of Summit observed, "but we are at a point in our existence where we must increase our community support in order to survive."

Tax deductible donations may be sent to: TV-36, Communities on Cable, 70 Maple St., Summit 07901. For more information about the station, call 277-6310.

Voters may register during evening hours

SUMMIT — The City Clerk's office has scheduled evening voter registration hours for 3, 4, and 7, 8:30 am to 9 pm.

Registration deadline for voting in the Nov. 5 general election is Oct. 7.

To register, individuals must be 18 years old or over and must have been residents of Union County for 30 days before Election Day. At the time of application, registrants must be U.S. citizens.

Once registered in New Jersey, voters need not reregister unless there has been a change of residence or name, or if a voter has failed to vote for four consecutive years.

If moving to or from Summit to another address within Union County between Oct. 7 and Election Day, voters may still vote in their former district — but only for this election.

If a voter changes his or her name after Oct. 7, it is possible to vote Nov. 5 by signing both names, old and new, in the registration book at the polls.

For more voter registration information, call the City Clerk's office, 273-6400.

There's more than one way to go to school

Sterling silver Tiffany bowl to be prize

A STERLING SILVER TIFFANY BOWL is a raffle prize of the 25th Anniversary of the Summit Outdoor Antique Show, sponsored by the Brayton School P.T.A., to be held today on school grounds, 10 am to 5 pm.

SUMMIT — To commemorate the 25th Anniversary of the Summit Outdoor Antique Show on Sat., Sept. 28, a Tiffany Sterling Silver Bowl, valued at over $400 has been selected as raffle prize.

The show, sponsored by the Brayton School P.T.A., will be on school grounds, Tulip Street and Ashland Road, between 10 am and 5 pm.

In case of rain the show will be held inside.

According to Mary Jo Herr, show chairwoman, 36 dealers will exhibit.

Summit dealers include The Second hand, Broadwords, Penn Antiques, and Small Change.

Other area dealers will be Old Time Treasures, Collectibles, Linda Mendelson, Mary Lou's Memorabilia, Small Pleasures, and Lesley Joyce Antiques.

Annual Attractions are the popular snack bar, bake shop, country garden, and Kids Korner. Stephanie Fisk will feature a special silver anniversary treat: cream puffs with choice of three delicious fillings, shrimp, chicken, and ham.

Historical society sets '85-'86 activities

SUMMIT — A new walk by Sandy Brown, this one on Prospect Street, will highlight a varied program planned for the 1985-86 activity year of the Summit Historical Society, Wendell W. Cooke, newly elected president, announced recently.

The new series will be kicked off Oct. 2 by Nan Mutnick of Parsippany who will discuss "Quilts" and will include comments on specific quilts. Ms. Mutnick, a recognized authority in this field, will examine and comment upon some selected quilts brought to the meeting by society members at the invitation of the trustees.

Dorothy Hummel of Mendham will follow on Nov. 25 with a special program on "Amish Weddings and Funerals" which will reflect the years she spent among the Amish as a school teacher.

After the usual mid-winter recess in program activity, the schedule will be resumed on March 18 with a talk on "American Silver" by Ulysses Dietz, curator, decorative arts, the Newark Museum.

Next will come the introductory talk on the homes to be included in the Prospect Street walk, which will be given by Dan Moore, a trustee of the society. This is scheduled for April 15.

All programs, except for the Prospect Street Walk, will take place at St. John's Lutheran Church LCA, 587 Springfield Ave. All except the walk will begin at 7:45 pm.

Developers are asked to be 'Good Neighbors'

SUMMIT — The Environmental Commission has prepared Good Neighbor Guidelines for the use of prospective developers.

All local owners and builders contemplating new construction or alterations will be given the Guidelines four-page document, when they apply for building permits. Copies of the Guidelines are available to the general public in the Construction Office, City Hall.

The guidelines provide a simple checklist of important environmental considerations, and help developers to address the potential difficulties with neighbors before any commitments are made.

'Moral suasion'

"We felt there was a need for some unofficial statement that will convey to developers and contractors the desirable things we would like to see in Summit," said Henry Vaugle, vice-chairman of the commission. "We are appealing to moral suasion in the hopes of preserving the architectural and aesthetic character of the city."

Included are the following items: land use, historical preservation, visual aspects (including structural proportions, exterior finish, landscaping, and alterations), engineering, and environmental considerations with regard to pollution, traffic, and recycling.

ONE OF THE chief problems a modern society has to face is how to provide an outlet for the intellectual's restless energies and yet deny him power. How to make and keep him a paper tiger.

HELP!!

*We have a big problem - we really do!
We are losing the best gal we ever knew
As a friend she's sensational - as a Secretary - sublime
But JAN is going to Chicago in her prime
So we're left in a dilemma we desperately rue
And those who can solve it are far between and few
We need a Secretary who's sharp and swift
Who'll go the whole nine yards and not get miffed
Who won't transpose numbers or forget who phoned
And will remember our clients are not cloned
She needs to have under total command the typewriter, the files and every deal at hand
And if it's not too much to ask
We would truly love and really bask
In the aura of one who is sweet and kind
And always has our best interest in mind*

Pulpit perspective . . .

What makes life worth living?

by The Reverend
William H. Strain,
Rector of Calvary Church, Summit

I cannot say what makes life worth living for you. I can only say what makes life worth living for me. There are three things.

The first is a certain amount of physical pleasure. We are made not only to endure life's hardships but to enjoy life's pleasures. God has given us five senses by which to enjoy his world. He expects us to use them fully.

A gateway
Think of some of the pleasures that come to us through our senses: the sight of a tree in its autumn coloring; of snow falling or rain falling on the roof; the taste of good food; the touch of a person you love; the smell of roses.

Christians are sometimes likely to be embarrassed by these pleasures. They enjoy them, but they feel somehow they should not. They need not suffer from such embarrassment.

There are people, of course, who get so settled down in the life of the senses that they deteriorate until they become less than human. But God gave us our senses to be a gateway into the world. While He expects us to choose what comes and goes through these gateways, he doesn't expect us to close them.

Individual purpose
The second thing is a chance to be of use. Some people are of more use to the world than others. Some people seem destined to occupy places of great prominence, like Moses. They are the leaders of great movements, initiators of new ideas, and creators of art. And there are other people, like Moses' mother, who hid him in the rushes and saved his young life. None of us serves the same purposes in the world but each of us serves some purpose.

There are various ways of being useful, and one of the difficulties is that we sometimes waste a great deal of energy wanting to be Moses, when in reality we are only his mother. It is not often that you find someone of no use, but often you find people who want to be someone different than they actually are.

I have never known anyone who could not be of some use to somebody if he wanted to be. He may need help in learning how to be useful, but the possibility is always there.

Hope of being appreciated
The third thing is the hope of being appreciated. It is not so much praise that we want as much as the appreciation of people we care about.

What orchestra can play its best if it doesn't feel the audience is appreciating the music? What teacher can do his best in class unless he feels that the class is responding to what he is trying to teach?

One of the reasons why some husbands and wives make such a poor showing and find life dragging them down is that they do not show any appreciation of each other. A person needs the appreciation of his partner to realize the best in him.

If a person gets to the point where he thinks that no one cares about him, I can see that for him life would not be worth living. But I have never known anybody for whom somebody did not care. And while this may seem beyond the reach of many of you, it is nevertheless true that though no one may seem to care about you, God does.

These are the three things that make life worth living for me: a certain amount of physical pleasure, a chance to be of use, and the appreciation of those who care about you!

Episcopals' work in Central America to be discussed

SUMMIT — Reverend Charles Cesaretti, Public Issues officer of the National Episcopal Church, will speak at Calvary Episcopal Church, Summit, on Sun., Oct. 6 on the church's work in Central America. He will speak at the 10 am Adult Forum.

Cesaretti has been Public Issues officer of the Episcopal Church since 1979, after serving as staff officer for hunger programs. He is best known for his work with the ecumenical delegation that tried to lay the groundwork for the release of the American hostages in Iran.

He will return to Calvary on Oct. 27 to present a program on the situation in South Africa today. Although he has worked extensively in Africa he has consistently been denied access to South Africa.

Group at Resource Center discusses parenting teens

SUMMIT — The challenge of being a mother of teenagers is the focus of a support group at the Resource Center for Women, located at the Calvary Episcopal Church, Woodland and DeForest Avenues. The group, which meets from 7 pm to 8:30 pm on Tuesdays, is led by Julie Gardinier, ACSW, a psychotherapist in private practice with adolescents and their parents.

Some of the concerns about parenting teenagers, such as discipline, separation and sexuality, will be discussed in an informal and comfortable setting. "Having teenagers in the house can be a job, but it also can be a very trying experience," said Charlotte Clarke, administrator of the Resource Center and mother of two teenagers. "Especially when they begin to exert their independence and you need to keep your cool and your control."

Support groups are a way for people to come together to share ideas and common concerns, and in the process, get some help in coping with the stresses of everyday life. To register for this group or for more information about the center, call 273-7253 from 9 am to noon Monday through Friday.

How can kids cope with society's pressures?

SUMMIT — Modern society and pressures it puts on children will be discussed by Dr. David Elkind in a four-part program Oct. 29 at local schools.

The first three parts of the program will be for students and school officials. The fourth part will be for parents and interested citizens, and will be held at the high school, 125 Kent Place Blvd., at 8 pm. Admission is free.

Elkind is professor of Child Studies at Tufts University, and has authored "The Hurried Child: Growing Up Too Fast Too Soon," and "All Grown Up and No Place To Go: Adolescents in Crisis."

Parents may ask questions after Elkind's 8 pm lecture. Elkind's presentation is entitled, "Slow Down ... You Move Too Fast."

Dr. Elkind's presentation is sponsored by the Parent Education Committee of the PTA/PTO President's Council. Each year, the committee, comprised of a representative from each of the seven local public schools, coordinates programs on, "Subjects that are felt to be of importance to parents in providing for the health and welfare of their children," according to Noreen Martin, chairwoman of the Parent Education Steering Committee for Dr. Elkind's visit.

The program is a joint effort of Parent Education Committee members for both the 1984-85 and '85-86 school years.

Committee members include Renny Northrop, chairwoman 1984-85; Noreen Martin, chairwoman 1985-86; Junior High representatives Carol Gardner (1984-85), Pam McCullough and Margaret Thompsett, M.D. ('85-86); Christie Zepfel from Brayton School; Janet Keane from Franklin School; Rose Sharkey from Washington School; Kathy Van Horn, Jefferson School; and Mary Zimmerman from Lincoln School.

The committee has secured funding for Elkind's program from area organizations, businesses, and local schools.

The following organizations have contributed to the project: the PTA/PTO Boards of all local public schools; the Summit PTA/PTO President's Council; Kent Place School; Oak Knoll School of the Holy Child; Central Presbyterian Church; City Federal Savings and Loan; the Family Services Association of Summit; Junior Fortnightly Club; Junior League of Summit, Inc.; Kings Supermarkets, Inc.; Liss Pharmacy; Lois Schneider Realtor; Radiant Pen Company; Saint Teresa of Avila Church; Spencer M. Maben, Inc.; Summit Child Care Center, Inc.; Summit YWCA; United Counties Trust Co.; Summit Trust Company; and the Overlook Hospital Foundation.

Additional contributions of funds or services from individuals or organizations are welcome.

For more information, call Noreen Martin, 273-1664.

Who should have access to child abuse records at school?

To the editor:
Parents could use some help in reading school regulations. As a stack of new ones are promised for Summit, let's take a look at the July regulations for child abuse/neglect and see what they really say.

Access by parents to this file is denied ...? according to the law cited? Let's look this up. The state code says that, actually parents are allowed access to this material in a rather broad range related to the care, supervision and treatment of the child involved.

Read Summit's regulations then as: Parents will have access to such a file according to the law cited. This is important also because we are told such files would only be closed out on the student's graduation or one his dropping out from school and would follow families wherever they move, the file to go under a separate cover and not subject to parental release, as with other student records.

Note, too, that in regular student records anecdotal (even hearsay) material is open for parents to check and must be reviewed carefully by school administrators as to validity. But these are not, supposedly, student records and would form a super-secret principal's file and might contain more than formal reports to the state.

All of which carries a chilling effect — as power generally by the school administrator, whether he or she wants it or not — and whether this remains strictly a matter of state reports on such matters. And what about the implication in singling out parents as the party denied access, emphasized in Summit's wording? The new state Criminal Code has included anyone as a possible subject initiating such abuse.

What about the many cases of school employee abuse which we have been reading about for several years? Even Westfield recently had its experience and where the case went up to the state Education Commissioner for resolution.

Summit's regulations, as written, would seem to protect the school employee, so charged, and at the expense of parents who would still have to build their case without realizing they did have access to important school files under a variety of circumstances, even by way of the courts.

As child neglect is tied into this file, let's look at the example given in Summit's regulations ... "neglecting to send a child to school." Here we are faced with poor wording which even a self-respecting teacher of the old one-room school would red-pencil out, the definition circular.

The key word is "neglect." Looking up what the law really says, it isn't the school that is mentioned. Only a very severe lack in education which has harmed or is about to seriously damage a child is termed child neglect. Parents can educate a child at home, if state-approved, and not be guilty of child neglect.

Sending children, in fact, to some schools in the state may be child neglect in terms of the deplorable results produced over the last few decades.

These regulations need major rewriting; the sooner the better.

Donations are snagged in 'red tape'

To the editor:
An open letter to Dave Guthrie of the Summit Booster Association:

I received your general donation letter dated Aug. 12, in which you asked for donations. In the past four years we have been approached for donations and we gave — and gave freely.

I personally grew up in Summit and played varsity sports. I have my own feelings about the coaches and their methods, but this is not the place for that.

What I am writing you about is to prevent a sheer waste of both tax payer dollars and booster funds.

Roughly five months ago, my company and I approached the school in reference to making a donation to the weight room. We wanted to donate one 300-pound Olympic set with a power bar plus one of our competition olympic benches. We wanted nothing in return but to see that the high school and its athletes received some top notch equipment to train on.

The value of this donation was $433. All we got from the school coaching staff was excuses and red tape. Since when does making a donation and saving the school, tax payers and booster club warrant this type of treatment?

We are one of the major suppliers for this type of equipment for the US Government and many major colleges across the nation. Only the staff at Summit High has given us a problem. It seems Summit's power-base is at it again.

Our offer to donate still stands, but only until the end of October. After that the donations will go to another more receptive school. I am writing you because I hear you are a good person. I would like to intervene and lift the red tape.

I will await your reply.

Ciba-Geigy, Drew University prepare biomedical research symposium

MADISON — Medical research scientists Dr. Solomon H. Snyder of Johns Hopkins Medical School and Dr. Jean-Pierre Changeux of the Institut Pasteur of Paris will discuss "Cell Surface Receptors: Structure and Function" at the ninth annual Ciba-Geigy Drew Biomedical Research Symposium scheduled for Oct. 16, 1:30 to 5:30 pm, at Drew University's Baldwin Gymnasium.

The symposium is co-sponsored by Drew and the pharmaceutical division of the Ciba-Geigy Corp. This year's moderator is Dr. Paul Greengard of The Rockefeller University.

The event is free and open to the public.

Snyder received his medical training at Georgetown University and his psychiatric training at Johns Hopkins University. In 1966, he joined the faculty of the pharmacology department at Johns Hopkins Medical School, where he currently is director of the department of neuroscience.

Changeux has been associated with the Institut Pasteur since 1959, when he began his studies

Changeux's research has focused on the interaction of neurotransmitters with enzymes, protein alloterism and the structure of the acetylcholine receptor. He is the recipient of many honors including the Chevalier de la Legion d'Honneur and the Wolf Foundation Prize in Medicine. He is a foreign member of the U.S. National Academy of Sciences.

Solomon and Changeux are this year's recipients of the coveted Ciba-Geigy Drew Award in Biomedical Research.

For more information, contact George deStevens, chairman of the Ciba-Geigy Drew Award Committee and Drew research professor of chemistry, at 377-3000, ext. 374.

'Les Comperes': paternity suits two men at one time

by HENRY VAUGLE

Les Comperes (The Accomplices), a current French film directed by Francis Veber, recently kept audiences at the Summit Strand laughing with Chaplinesque scenes and serio-comic dialogue.

Although some of the Gallic flavor of the dialogue between the main characters undergoes some dilution through translation in the English subtitles, the audience has no trouble catching on.

The accomplices in question are two men successively sought out by a woman each of them knew 17 years earlier. The woman is searching for her teenage son, recently missing from home.

The lady, impatient with her timorous husband and police red-tape, believes her former boy friends will expedite her search for her son. To strengthen her appeal for help, she confesses sotto voce to each man that he is the true father of the boy.

She makes her first plea to Lucas, who, though visibly moved by his newly discovered paternity and the boy's photo, doubts he can help because of pressure of journalistic assignments.

Faced with this uncertainty, she phone Pignon, another ex-admirer, just as he is about to attempt suicide — an old habit — and repeats what she said to Lucas.

Pignon, upon hearing of his supposed paternity, joyfully undertakes a search for the missing boy, and instantly abandons all thoughts of suicide. After receiving a photo of the boy from the mother, he sets off on his mission.

Hilarious complications set in when both Lucas and Pignon accidentally meet while making inquiries about the boy's whereabouts. They produce identical photos of him and simultaneously identify themselves as the father.

Once recovered from shock of learning of their common paternity of the missing boy, they become partners in their search for him.

This leads to a series of picaresque adventures during which the comperes are caught in a precarious balancing act between trying to pursue their search for the boy while escaping from a pair of hired guns. The gunmen are in the service of two crooked politicians whom Lucas denounces in newspaper articles.

Comedy mingles with violence;

Pignon tries to use diplomacy while trying to extract information about the missing boy from a gang of punks. By way of answer Pignon finds himself suddenly threatened at knife point by the gang leader to eat a hamburger laced with strips of his own necktie carved out by the macho man.

Another scene shows the missing boy, accompanied by a motorcycle gang, smash up Lucas' new BMW — the boy is not anxious to be found.

The best way, of course, to find out who wins is to go see the film.

Under the guise of comedy, Les Comperes mirrors the tension of our times with violence, alienation, and mechanized life styles. But the tension is tempered with humor.

The two accomplices are well cast, and fulfill their roles with lively gusto. Gerard Despardue is the quick-fisted journalist used to hitting first and asking questions later; Pierre Richard is the sensitive "depressif" who would rather negotiate than fight.

Anne Duperey, as the elegant and beautiful bourgeoisie mother, is fascinating to watch; Michel Aumont is convincing as her son, the "misunderstood teenager."

The film is rated PG.

'Cat On A Hot Tin Roof' continues at NJPT

CRANFORD — "Cat On A Hot Tin Roof" is running now at The New Jersey Theatre.

Performances of this Tennessee Williams classic will be shown Fri. and Sat., through Oct. 19 at 8:30 pm.

"Cat On A Hot Tin Roof," which was made into a film starring Elizabeth Taylor and Paul Newman, is set on a Mississippi delta plantation owned by Big Daddy Pollitt. The family is gathered together to celebrate the 65th birthday of Big Daddy.

During the course of the evening many evils of the past are stirred up to poison the gaiety of the occasion.

"Cat On A Hot Tin Roof" stars Greg Weber of Linden as Big Daddy; Barbara Brandon of Montclair as Big Mama; Brenda Bickerson of New York City as Maggie; and Carl Woerner of Livingston as Brick.

Others in the cast include Bill Bynum of New York City, Jean Kuras of Glen Ridge, Harry Parker of Winfield Park, John Perrette of Cranford, Anne Blair of New Brunswick, Joann Kishel of Sewaren, Alex Davanas of Elizabeth, Steve Wilverding of Roselle Park, Lauren Bianco of Linden, Suzanne Lawrence of Roselle Park, and Matthew Lyons of Cranford.

"Cat On A Hot Tin Roof" is directed by Robert Vaccaro of Elizabeth, who is also NJPT's artistic director.

According to Vaccaro, "This is Tennessee Williams' finest play. It has all the elements of human qualities, both good and evil."

Tickets for "Cat On A Hot Tin Roof" are $8 and $7 and reservations are recommended. Senior citizen, student, and group discounts are available. For more information or ticket reservations, call NJPT's 24-hour service at 272-5704. The New Jersey Public Theatre is located at 118 South Avenue, East.

Journey to Alaska and Kenya through arboretum's illustrated lectures

SUMMIT — Noted lecturer Audrey Boise will discuss Alaska Sun., Sept. 29, and naturalist Marguerite Krieger will discuss Kenya Tues., Oct. 1, in two illustrated lectures free to the public at the Reeves-Reed Arboretum, Hobart Avenue. Reservations are required for Oct. 1 only.

World traveler Boise will take the audience to "Alaska - Magnificent Land of the North Star," cruising the long sea corridor walled by lush evergreen slopes, sheer rock cliffs, snow-capped mountains and massive glaciers. Coastal cities such as Juneau and Skagway will be explored, and views of an overland train excursion to Anchorage will be shown. Boise, an educator, native New Jerseyan and Summit resident, has journeyed through more than 40 foreign countries as well as the United States, and is noted for illustrated programs she has presented to area organizations and clubs for more than a decade. Her lecture will begin at 3 pm.

On Tuesday, at 8 pm, Krieger will detail her recent Kenya Safari, showing the wondrous animals and birds, vast terrain, and botanical close-ups.

Following her program, Lindblad Tours will offer a short film with music and free refreshments. Krieger, who served as the arboretum's first director, holds a Master of Arts in outdoor education as a naturalist. Currently involved in travel, she has remained active at the arboretum and is a member of the arboretum's Perennials Committee.

For Oct. 1 reservations, call 273-8787. The arboretum is located at 165 Hobart Ave., near Rt. 24.

Unitarian Church to begin Chamber Music Series

SUMMIT — The chamber music series at the Unitarian Church, now in its fourth year, begins its season anew.

The first concert, on Sun., Oct. 6 at 4 pm will bring back clarinetist Bernard Yannotta and a string quartet. They will play a Weber quintet for clarinet and strings, Haydn's quartet in G major and that delightful Mozart clarinet in A major that bounces along and makes everyone feel happy.

Bernard Yannotta has received both the Martha Baird Rockefeller Grant and the Fulbright-Hays Grant. He is a candidate for the Doctor of Musical Arts degree at Yale and is on the faculty of Mannes College of Music.

Violinists Peter Winograd, Nancy Tsung, and George Mariner Maull will also perform, along with cellist Fank Dodge, who founded the Strawberry Banke Chamber Music Festival in Portsmouth NH and Chamber Music West in New York.

The second concert of the season on January 19 will feature the University Brass Quintet. The series will end on Feb. 9 with music for flute, oboe and organ.

All concerts are on Sunday afternoons at 4 pm at the Unitarian Church, corner of Springfield and Waldron Avenues in Summit. Series tickets are $16, seniors $12 and minors $2 at the door. For more information, call 273-3245 or 273-8499.

Children's film on 'Animal Babies'

SUMMIT — Familiar and exotic animals and their offspring are depicted in the National Geographic film, "Animal Babies," to be shown Sat., Sept. 28, 10:30 am at the Reeves-Reed Arboretum, 165 Hobart Avenue.

The film will portray young fish, reptiles, amphibians, birds and mammals, and show their habitats, parental care and growth.

In conjunction with the film the Discovery Center will be open from 10 am to noon with hands-on exhibits, matching board games, puzzles and other activities of a natural science orientation.

The program is suitable for students from kindergarten to sixth grade or pre-schoolers accompanied by adults, and is free to the public.

The Discovery Center is in the basement of the arboretum. For more details, call 273-8787.

Playwriting workshop at Arts Center

A three-session playwriting feedback workshop will be given at Watchung Arts Center 18 Stirling Road (on the circle) in Watchung beginning Wed., Oct. 2 from 7:30 to 9:30 pm. Cost is $15.

The workshop is open to students and adults who have written scripts or who have a strong interest in learning the craft of playwriting.

The first session will involve writing exercises. The second and third sessions, Nov. 5 and Dec. 4, will focus on reading of works aloud for audience response and suggestions.

Instructor John Kendall will discuss how to submit a manuscript to a professional theater. Kendall plans a public play reading of any completed work.

Kendall, an English teacher at Rutgers Prep, is author of six published plays and two novels.

For information and registration, call the center, 753-0190.

'Stop the World...' needs actors!

WESTFIELD — Tryouts will be held for the Westfield Community Players' production of the musical "Stop the World — I Want to Get Off," Sun., Sept. 29 at 3 and 7:30 pm, and Mon., Sept. 30 at 7:30 pm, at the theatre, 1000 North Avenue. Those trying out should be prepared to sing show tunes.

The show will be presented Fridays and Saturdays, Nov. 22, 23, 29, 30, and Dec. 6, 7, at the theatre. Gary Cohen is the director; Mark McGee is in charge of the music.

The musical, "Stop the World," with score by Anthony Newley and Leslie Bricusse, is the story of a circus clown and his inability to remain faithful to his wife and children until old age brings wisdom and regret.

Oriental craft work goes on sale

MONTCLAIR — Craft work made in the ancient Chinese tradition will be on sale today at The Oriental Collection gallery, 18 Lackawanna Plaza.

On sale will be lacquerware, enamelware, jade work, snuff bottles, screens, and more.

All material to be sold has been made by modern craftsmen who adhere to the same crafting processes used thousands of years ago in China.

The musical is highly stylized, done in "whiteface," and involves mime and an all-girl chorus.

The cast includes "Littlechap," in his 30's or 40's, with a good vocal range, mime ability, comic timing, and English accent.

Other roles are "Evie," strong vocal range, mid-30's, ability to do accents, strong comic sense; "The Twins," two girls in their late teens or early 20's who can pass for twins, able to sing and dance; "Young Littlechap," a young boy under 10 years of age who must move well; and a chorus of about eight or 10 girls in their 20's or 30's, various sizes and shapes, must sing and move well, with some mime ability.

Gallery owners Curt Winner and Glen Guarino traveled to China to find these modern examples of ancient crafting procedures.

For more information, call the gallery, 783-0404.

THE CLEVELAND QUARTET and Israeli pianist Yefim Bronfman will perform in the Madison Junior School Auditorium on Sat., Oct. 5, 8 pm under auspices of The Friday Evening Club, Morristown-based non-profit performing arts presenter organization. Call 538-6413 for tickets.

Hilltoppers kick it off at Verona

The Summit football team begins its 1985 campaign this afternoon at Verona in a ballgame slated for a 1:30 p.m. kickoff. The Hilltoppers, who are coming off a 7-2 season in 1984, are expected to be a conference and state playoff contender this autumn, and Coach Howie Anderson doesn't deny the expectations are running high.

"We feel we could have a very good team this season," acknowledged Anderson as opening day drew near. "We have a number of fine athletes and solid experience through most of our lineup."

This is Anderson's 30th season at the Summit helm, and he's certainly had his share of standout ballclubs. So how does this one stack up against some of the others?

"We've set high goals with this team," relates the Summit coach, "and we know our fans have been looking forward to 1985 ever since last season ended. Often a veteran club like this one won't reach back for something extra until the bell rings. Or, in other words, we had a decent pre-season scrimmage-wise, but I don't think we performed as well as we're capable of."

Today, obviously, the action starts for real. "I could see our kids getting more excited since our final scrimmage, and that's a sign we were looking for," comments Anderson. "We're ready to play."

Verona was surely ready a year ago when the Hillbillies upset Summit by a 14-7 score. The Essex County squad has undergone a coaching change since then, but Anderson notes they've returned some quality performers from 1984. "For them it's a home opener under a new coach, and we know they'll be up for it," reflects the Summit mentor.

Offensively Summit will start Tom Chiego at quarterback, Jai Wood ("He's had a great pre-season," reports Anderson) at tailback, Rob Paessler at fullback, and Mike Feoli at wingback. Tim Mackin is the split end, Andy Brode and Scott Sablack are the tackles, Chris Jenks and Joe Brown handle the guards, and Karl Spinner is the center. The Hilltoppers will be messengering in plays with tight ends Tom Bredahl and Mark diMayorca.

That attacking lineup is very close to what the coaching staff was anticipating back on September 1st. And while the defense has also remained relatively stable through the pre-season, there have been changes in the linebacking area.

Summit went into the pre-season with Paessler and Jon Blitt on top of the LB depth chart, but neither will start at that position today. Anderson has switched Paessler back to the strong safety or monster post he manned so effectively last term. Meanwhile, Blitt injured a knee in the final scrimmage against Westfield and will miss at least one game.

Bredahl, a regular cornerback last autumn who was due to take over the monsterback this term, is now a starting linebacker having switched jobs with Paessler this September. At 5-8, 160 pounds, Tom is among the smaller inside backers you'll see this fall. And today Bredahl (who's one of the squad's co-captains) will team at LB with a 5-9, 160-pound partner in Mike Robertson.

"We'll be a bit undersized at that position," admits Anderson, "but we can do some things to compensate." The backers are operating behind a good-sized defensive line which has Jenks (6-2, 200) and diMayorca (6-3, 185) at the ends, Brode (6-2, 195) and Sablack (6-1, 205) at the tackles, and Brown (6-1, 180) at noseguard.

Joining Paessler in the secondary are a young pair of cornerbacks in sophomore Feoli and junior Jim Holt. Deep safety Tim Mackin is likewise a junior, but he started there as a 10th-grader last season.

Platform tennis courts to open Oct. 5

SUMMIT — Platform tennis courts at Wilson Park will open Oct. 5. All players must register to use the courts, which are run by the Board of Recreation.

Registration fees for local residents are $12 per adult and $6 per junior (ages 12-17). Non-resident fee is $20.

Registration forms and rules and regulations on the use of the courts are available at the Board of Recreation Office, 5 Myrtle Avenue. Call 277-2932 for more information.

KP netsters top prep rankings

Winners of their first four matches, the Kent Place tennis team has backed up the Star-Ledger's pre-season rating which placed the Summit school at the top of the chart among prep school entries.

"We think we can win the prep school championship," acknowledges KP Coach Lynn Horner, who's in her fifth season at the helm of the school's

Shooters down Summit Spurs

Summit Spurs 1, New Providence Shooters 8
The Summit Spurs, sponsored by Siegel's Stationary, were buried by an avalanche of second half goals by the New Providence Shooters.

The Spurs had more of the ball in the first half, but trailed 1-0 at the half.

New Providence came out shooting in the second half, and the Spurs had to settle for a fine goal from Tom Walden. Corbin Tullo and Keith Roscoe gave hustling performances in a losing cause.

netsters. "Pingry was the only prep opponent to beat us last year, and we have virtually our entire team returning."

Pingry is one of the four foes Horner's club has already dispatched this autumn, and the Kent Place coach notes her team was winning on four of the five courts when its match against archrival Oak Knoll was terminated due to rain. KP's city rival might be regarded as the top threat to Kent among the independents, considering OK owns an early-season victory over a highly-regarded Summit squad. Incidentally, Kent Place defeated both Summit and Oak Knoll last fall to notch the unofficial city championship.

KP retains its three singles players from 1984, but the lineup has been reversed this autumn. Kaki Daniels, a junior who handled the third spot last term, is now playing in the first position. Tori Brown, who's likewise a junior, remains in the second spot, while last autumn's number-one performer, Nina Tiger, competes at number-three. "At first it bothered Nina (who's a senior) that the two younger girls beat her in challenge matches, but as it turned out she's more comfortable in the third spot," relates Coach Horner. "In any event, this is a stronger singles lineup than we had a year ago."

And the Kent Place mentor doesn't expect to lose too many doubles bouts with last year's two tandems returning. Alissa Bayha and Nicole Schwartz are the defending Union County champions at first doubles, and Horner thinks this pairing will add the independent school title as well this term. Bayha is a senior, and Schwartz is a sophomore. The second doubles combo of Liz Barrow and Suzy Fischbein likewise played together all last season and enjoyed a highly successful campaign. Both Barrow and Fischbein are seniors.

Kent Place finished with a 13-4 record last season, and this is a sport where KP goes out and tangles with some quality public school teams. Besides the intracity tussle with Summit, this autumn's schedule also includes matches against Westfield, Chatham Township, and Chatham Boro.

Oratory coach happy with turnout for cross country

The presence of a dozen runners for his Oratory cross country team can be termed a pleasant surprise for Rams' Coach Bill Persichetty, who refuses to take any credit for the increase in the quantity of harriers.

"I can't explain it," admits Persichetty, who's in his eighth season at Oratory where he likewise handles the winter and spring track teams. "Our numbers had been down the past year or two, but this season we've picked up some kids we haven't seen before. I hope it's a trend which can continue."

Persichetty notes you can derive more satisfaction working with a larger group, but those who know him have come to realize he's one man who truly enjoys this business of coaching regardless of the circumstances. Persichetty, as most track buffs are aware, does double-duty throughout the school year, as he also guides the girls' cross country and track squads at Oak Knoll.

Oratory's top runner this fall figures to be Mike Bevenuto, who also is the team's lone senior. But his coach won't take any credit for developing Bevenuto, as this is the first time he's been out for cross country or track. "Mike looks like he could be a decent runner," mentions Persichetty. "He's worked very hard since the beginning of practice."

The Rams' captain is Pat Dwyer, a junior who's expected to be the second Oratory runner across the finish line in most races. Sophomores Kieran McCabe, Chris Schwalie, and Ron Marcello are the other fellows currently running in the top five.

The team is rounded out by junior Pat dePoortere, sophomores Alex and Chris Menard (who're identical twins) and Joe Wallis, and freshmen Drew Cahill, Andy Davis, Josh Bischoff. While several of the other guys were involved during the spring track season, Dwyer, McCabe, and Marcello are the only ones who ran cross country a year ago.

"It's an enthusiastic group, and we should have some fun this season," projects Persichetty, who admits it would be an upset if the Rams were to defeat any dual-meet opponents. But it might be recalled that Oratory pulled off a couple similar "upsets" in logging a 4-4 record a year ago.

Summit Soccer Club news

Summit Trust Co. Sting 0, Roxbury Rangers 3

The Summit Sting lost a tight game to Roxbury Sunday at Memorial Field. Goalie Danny Keane had many good saves.

Defense played well, led by Owen Tully and Jamie Newhouse at fullback and Russell Holmes at center half. Stewart Alford had a number of good shots.

Windhorst Lluvors Sharks 1, Millburn Hawks 0

Doug Martin's goal led the Sharks to a 1-0 victory in Millburn on Sunday.

A.J. Amigoni had the assist. Goalies Scott Rousseau and Mark Seiffert shared honors for the shutout. Coach's Hustle Awards went to Jimmy Mawrer, Jonathan Good and Doug Martin.

Phoenix Construction Scampers 0, Sayreville Scorpions 8

The Scampers lost to Sayreville despite outstanding defensive effort of Kelly Adams and Courtney Cooper.

Brooks-Sealfons Stars 1, North Brunswick Golden Angels 6

The Stars were defeated 1-6 on Sunday.

Amy Herr, Elizabeth Lopez, and Emily Callahan played well on defense. Libby Shawger was in goal.

Masco Storm 3, Mendham 2

Masco Storm won its second game of the season 3-2 in a hard fought match. Brian Klein scored early for Summit on a pass from Corby Thomas, but Mendham scored soon afterwards. After Summit forwards had shots hit the post or crossbar several times, Jeff English finally put the ball over the keeper's head to put Summit into the lead at halftime. Jeff Wesson and Gregg Stewart assisted on the play.

In the second half, Mendham scored early but Summit scored the winning goal as Patrick Shallcross passed to Doug Rousseau, who beat the goal keeper with a shot into the right corner of the goal. Bert Kwan and Austin Speni were excellent in the goal in turning back the many Mendham shots.

Summit Do Me A Flavor Spirit 3, Chatham Township 0

Led by strong defense from Liz Cox, Margery Shanahan and Victoria hardy, the Spirit defeated Chatham 3-0.

Scoring for Summit were Rebecca Balchunas, Megan Martin and Liz Cox.

Spirit halfbacks Laura Madden, Gail Rapuzzi and Alison Francht controlled midfield, setting up many scoring opportunities.

Goalkeepers Lauri Mullery and Christy Van Dusen shared the shutout.

Summit Do Me A Flavor Spirit 1, Staten Island 3

The Spirit played an excellent game, but lost to an exceptional Staten Island team, 1-3.

Kristin Oakes and Carolee Keane shared a goal midway through the first half to tie at 1-1.

Forwards Christy Van Dusen, Rebecca Balchunas and Megan Martin constantly attacked Staten Island's goal, but couldn't add to the score.

Midfielders Gail Rapuzzi, Lynn Gaeckle and Laura Madden played a strong game.

Liz Cox led defense, assisted by Margery Shanahan, Victoria Hardy, and Sarah Thomas.

Lauri Mullery made several outstanding saves in goal. The Spirit played up to its name throughout the match with every player contributing.

NEW WAYS TO FIGHT FIRE

Loss from a fire in your home could be catastrophic, unless you do whatever you can to protect yourself, your family, and your possessions. This should include taking advantage of some of the new technology that can give you the safety and protection you need. For instance, sprinkler systems are now being developed for home use. One fire department recently tested a system that can be installed in a new home of average size for less than $1,000.

New developments in fire-resistant and non-toxic materials provide protection against smoke inhalation, the major cause of fire fatalities. A specially formulated paint is available that helps hold back the spread of smoke and flames. Instead of burning, it swells and forms a layer of insulating foam whenever it comes in contact with open flame or extreme heat.

These are just a few of many resources available to you in protecting your home from fire losses. You also need adequate insurance coverage that is in line with current costs. Why not have your fire protection coverage checked by us.

This information has been brought to you as a public service by SPENCER M. MABEN, INC., 490 Morris Avenue, Summit, NJ • 273-1900. Your one-stop answer to complete insurance protection.

A Summit resident, DeGerome maintained offices in Short Hills for 25 years.

The doctor is a graduate of New York University and the University of Buffalo.

Guest speaker will be Alan Kitt, owner of Travel & Mar-Kit, Warren. Kitt will discuss "Travel Planning Tips for Secretaries."

Any secretaries interested in attending the meeting may contact Sandra Hewett for reservations at 953-8002.

Dittenhafer is named president at Federal Home Loan Bank of New York

Brian D. Dittenhafer of Summit recently was named president and chief administrative officer of the Federal Home Loan Bank of New York.

As president, Dittenhafer will be responsible for the operations of the Federal Home Loan Bank of New York, a $9.5 billion financial institution which serves its member thrift industry with loans and correspondent services.

In addition, Dittenhafer has been appointed principal supervisory agent for the Federal Home Loan Bank Board, where he will be responsible for the examination, supervision and enforcement of Federal regulations governing all federally chartered thrift institutions in the Second Federal Home Loan Bank District.

Dittenhafer, 43, had served as acting president since July 2, 1985, after the death of President Bryce Curry, who had served in the post for 22 years.

A native of York, PA, Dittenhafer joined the Bank in 1976 as vice-president and chief economist. In 1980, he was elected a senior vice president and chief financial officer. A year later, he was named executive vice-president.

Dittenhafer holds a B.A. in history from Ursinus College, Philadelphia (1964) and a Master of Arts in Economics from Temple University (1966). He is a candidate for the Ph.D. in economics at Temple.

The Federal Home Loan Bank of New York is one of 12 regional banks chartered and supervised by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board. The bank, which administers the Second Federal Home Loan Bank District, is responsible for all federally chartered savings and loan associations and savings banks in New York, New Jersey, Puerto Rico and the U.S. Virgin Islands.

Schlott Realtors to offer Career Night

MORRISTOWN — Schlott Realtors will hold a Career Night for people interested in the real estate profession on Thurs., Oct. 3, at 7:30 pm, at the Governor Morris Inn, 2 Whippany Road. The program will discuss the real estate profession and the keys to a successful career in the field.

Schlott's growth throughout the New York metropolitan area and Florida has produced many openings in the company for both new and experienced salespersons. Ellie Nice, director of Schlott's Education Department, will conduct the program.

During the Career Night several topics will be discussed, including how to obtain a real estate license and where pre-licensing courses are held. A question-and-answer period will also be featured.

New sales associates who join Schlott Realtors are provided with in-depth training and real estate background through the firm's Success Skills Training (SST) program. Salespersons are instructed in ethics, law, finances, and marketing and negotiating skills.

Schlott's departments and training programs will be highlighted during the Career Night, and the public will be able to speak with company personnel about opportunities with the Local stores join celebration of shoe industry

From Sept. 27 to Oct. 6, the footwear industry will stage the most spectacular event in its history. Nee Dell's of Summit and the Country Cobbler of New Providence are official participants.

According to Vice President Mark Needell (Needell's) and owner John Kearney (Country Cobbler), "The National Shoe Celebration was designed to call attention to the gigantic footwear industry's fashion awareness, craftsmanship and the dollar value of footwear. We will be showing off the best shoes the industry has to offer. This event is also our way of saying thank you to all our customers for their support."

A half million dollars of national prizes will be given away including an Around the World

Trip for Two, vacations to Hawaii, Disneyland, Disney World and a thousand weekend getaways. Entry forms are available at Nee Dell's and Country Cobbler, no purchase necessary, of course.

"The Shoe Celebration is so unusual," Needell and Kearney point out, "because it is the result of intensive planning and tremendous cooperation among footwear retailers who do not look at themselves as competitors, but members of an extremely creative industry. Because of all our efforts, shoes are no longer thought of as just necessities or accessories. They are vital fashion statements ... they cover America's life style from scientifically constructed athletic, baby and orthopedic shoes ... to work boots and all weather footwear ... to the most luxurious leather dress and formal shoes. We are celebrating the designers, creators, and retailers who have shaped the industry and nurtured its versatility, status and growth."

Piano classes for adults offered

SUMMIT — Gilda Carmel Spielberg will again teach piano at the Summit Area Community School this fall. Piano 1 is for beginners; Piano 2 is for those who have had Piano 1 or the equivalent. The 10-week evening course begins October 3 and is held in the Summit Junior High School Auditorium. Registration for the course will be held on Tue., Sept. 24 and Wed., Sept. 25. A Summit resident, Ms. Spielberg has an M.A. in Music Education from New York University. She is known in the area for her adult and children's classes.

For more information, call 273-1141.

Sandy Brown to lead course on 'American Decorative Arts'

Sandy Brown of Summit, architectural historian and preservation consultant, will lead a lecture course on American Decorative Arts starting Thurs., Oct. 3, at 7:30 pm at the South Orange-Maplewood Adult School.

Before the industrial revolution, American developed traditions of grace, beauty and fine craftsmanship, drawing from European influences but evolving to suit the cultural diversity of America. Brown's lecture topics include "Refined Classicism: The Federal Period"; "Hearth and Home: The Functioning Colonial House"; "Hands to Work, Hearts to God: The Shakers"; and "In the Grecian Mode: American Empire."

The series will cover eras from 1620 to 1840; a series in the spring will cover 1840 through 1985.

For registration information, call 762-5600 between 10 am and 4 pm.

Expo '85: 1/2 million in prizes!

BERKELEY HEIGHTS — Need a getaway trip to a foreign port? How about a computer for your home? Planners of the Suburban Expo '85 have announced that prizes and discount giveaways totalling nearly $500,000 will be given away on Oct. 23.

Hans van Doorne, vice-president of Murray Hill International, travel consultants is co-sponsoring with TWA, the Grand Prize of the expo: roundtrip airfare to anywhere TWA flies.

"We're quite excited about this consumer trade show," says van Doorne. "We expect about 7,000 people to attend the show." The TWA Grand Prize winner will be selected at about 9 pm on Wednesday.

More than 75 businesses of Berkeley Heights, New Providence, Summit and Scotch Plains will exhibit at Suburban Expo '85. Most of the participants will have prize drawings at their booths. The merchandise to be given away includes: an Atari home computer, five sets of luggage, eight weekends for two at area hotels, a Polaroid camera and thousands of discount certificates from local businesses.

"We're delighted with the enthusiasm about the Suburban Expo," Gene Ryan of Ryco commented, who is chairman of the event. "The businesses are supporting the show and now the public is getting excited. We want to show the consumers in this area the quality and diversity of our local business people."

The Suburban Expo will be Wed., Oct. 23 at Sulphur Springs Inn, 735 Springfield Ave. Show hours are 4 pm to 10 pm. Admission is free.

For more information contact the Suburban Chambers of Commerce at 522-1700.

A NEW ERA BEGINS in New Providence as Wendy Bollman assumes her new duties as borough clerk. Council President Mary Ellen Irwin, right, and Councilman John Horan congratulate Bollman on her promotion, following the retirement of Lorraine Schaffernoth Sept. 20. Miss Bollman has worked in the Borough since June, 1981, first as an intern, then as administrative assistant, and was appointed Deputy Borough Clerk in January, 1985. She holds a degree in Government and Administration from Drew University and lives on Sagamore Drive in the Borough.

Fingerprinting to be offered in October

NEW PROVIDENCE — The School District, in cooperation with the Union County Sheriff's Office, is again participating in Fingerprints on File, a voluntary program involving students in grades K-9.

The fingerprinting will be conducted by personnel from the Sheriff's Office from 10 am to 1 pm on three successive Wednesdays, as follows: Oct. 9, Salt Brook; Oct. 16, Allen W. Roberts; Oct. 23, New Providence High School.

Information regarding the program, along with permission cards, will be sent home to parents or guardians in the near future. No one will be allowed to participate without a properly signed card, and the fingerprints, which will be placed on the back of the form, will be sent directly home with students or, in the case of younger children, mailed home in an envelope provided by the parent/guardian. No record of any kind will be kept.

According to the Sheriff's Office, "Thousands of children are reported missing each year. Some are runaways while others 'just seem to vanish.' It is a large problem that is getting larger. While there are no hard statistics, the best estimates are that about one million American youngsters leave home each year. Approximately ninety percent of these return home within two weeks leaving about 100,000 children unaccounted for. In addition, another 25,000 to 100,000 children are stolen by divorced or separated parents."

While New Jersey State Law mandates that students from kindergarten through ninth grade be offered this service, parents or guardians who wish to have their preschoolers fingerprinted may go to any of the three schools at the above-listed times, where permission cards will be available.

Eight NPHS students win National Merit commendations

NEW PROVIDENCE — The Senior High School has been notified by National Merit Scholarship Corporation (NMSC) that the following students have been designated Commended Students in the 1986 Merit Program: Joseph E. Bernardo, Lawrence D. Chang, Craig J. Gotsill, Richard M. Johnson, Michael A. McLaughlin, John E. Ryan, Andrew A. Smith, and James C. Uanis.

Principal Jean Masters-Juris

last week said these seniors will receive a Letter of Commendation in honor of outstanding academic promise demonstrated by placing in the top 5 percent of over one million participants in the 31st annual National Merit Scholarship Program.

An officer of NMSC, which administers the program, stated, "Being named a Commended Student in the extremely competitive Merit Program is a credit to these young men and women and to their schools, which play an important role in the development of academically talented youth. The high test performance of Commended Students is indicative of exceptional scholastic ability, which is essential in a nation that prides itself on cultivating individual excellence.

We hope the honor these students have earned will provide motivation for them to use their talents to the fullest and also will serve as an example for other aspiring young citizens."

Participants entered the current Merit Program by taking the PSAT/NMSQT in October, 1984, when most were juniors. Although their qualifying test scores are very high, the 35,000 Commended Students nationwide scored slightly below the level required for Semifinalist standing. Only the 15,000 Semifinalists, whose names were announced Sept. 11, will continue in the competition for some 5,800 Merit Scholarships to be awarded in 1986.

Amazing disgrace

To the editor:
Open Letter to the Parishoners of Little Flower

My Dear Brothers and Sisters: I have been a member of the Little Flower Family for 23 years, and I am greatly disturbed by the divisions that have arisen in our Parish over the past couple of years. The bitter words have been heard to the borders of the state and beyond. I am amazed by the amount of hatred "Christians" have for other members of God's family. We have gotten so wrapped up in fighting for "The Cause," we have lost sight of what the fight is all about. This is not about property values, school tuition, teacher's salaries, custodians, the People of Hope, or Father Byrne. This is about seeking God, hearing His Word, and acting upon it. This is about doing things God's Way, not our way.

If we are really the people we profess to be, then we must love, not hate; embrace, not condemn. The battles we fight should not be fought with clenched fists and forked tongue, but on our knees with head bowed and ears open. Brothers and sisters, let us put away our differences, join hands, and get down on our knees. God will take care of the rest.

Christmas for some

To the editor:
As the holiday season of 1977 was approaching, a local man, who had been in business in the borough for years, and previously had been involved in building projects in the borough, applied to the borough government for special permission to build new apartments in the Borough. Ac-ording to law he needed more than a building permit; he applied to the Planning Board and the Board of Adjustment for approval and permission to build his new apartments.

The borough government held public meetings on this application to build new apartments during the holiday season of 1977.

At one public meeting this applicant proudly announced to the world that when his new apartments are built:

1. "He would not rent any apartments to anyone with children. 2. He would not allow children to live in the apartments. 3. Any woman that got pregnant would have to move out of the apartments. 4. The Borough Board of Health would control the number of people allowed to live in any of the apartments. 5. He would not rent any of the new apartments to pregnant women."

At this public meeting, a member of the public tried to ask the applicant how non-whites, non-Anglo Saxons, and non-Christians would be treated, if they attempted to rent one of his apartments; the borough government rules these questions out of order.

Just before Dec. 25, 1977, the Borough government at Borough Hall announced full approval for the applicant to build his apartments; while outside at the Borough Hall, a Nativity scene, with a choir was singing Christmas carols about the first Christmas.

As the holiday season of 1977 ended, it was interesting to review the major news items published in the public press, concerning events in the Borough from November, 1977 to December, 1977.

The above is from a report by: the New Providence Civic Study Committee, established April 12, 1963.

Preschoolers teach high school students

NEW PROVIDENCE — Parents of pre-schoolers are invited to enroll their child(ren) in the high school's "Pre-Lab Nursery Program," a Home Economics Dept. Child Care and Development course offering.

The pre-schoolers who attend are the subject of lessons developed and carried out by high school students under the guidance of Home Economics teacher, Pam McHugh. The "Pre-Lab Nursery School" plans lessons that enhance the physical, emotional, social and intellectual development of pre-schoolers. Learning areas include sensory perception, motor coordination, concept formation, visual and language skills and self-image.

Parents interested in enrolling their children should call Mrs. McHugh at 464-4700 for an application and/or more information. It is anticipated that the program will start Oct. 11.

Schoenberg to conduct discussion series

BERKELEY HEIGHTS — The "Normal problems of raising normal children" will be the topic of a workshop to be conducted by family counselor Barbara Schoenberg at the Berkeley Heights Public Library. Open to the public, three half hour discussion groups will meet on Tuesdays, October 1, 8 and 15 at 10:30 am. The group will be of special advantage to parents with children in the Tuesday morning Storytime Group.

Mrs. Schoenberg, a licensed marriage counselor who has worked in child guidance for many years, holds a Masters degree in social work from Boston University and has a practice at 310 Springfield Ave.

CHAT sessions to resume

NEW PROVIDENCE — The first Come Have A Talk with the Superintendent (CHAT) session of the new school year will be held Wed., Oct. 2, at noon at the New Providence Board of Education administrative offices, 340 Central Ave.

The "brown bag" lunches are normally held the first Tuesday of the month. In October, however, due to a conflicting schedule, it will be on Wednesday.

Invitations are sent at random to different members of the public each month. Anyone else interested in being present, however, can do so by contacting Mrs. Jerry Wecht, 464-9050. Those attending should bring a sandwich. Dessert and a beverage will be provided.

United Way hopes for high temps

BERKELEY HEIGHTS — The United Way of Berkeley Heights will kick off its 1985 Campaign Sat., Sept. 28 at 11 am in the parking lot of Berkeley Hardware. The celebration will unveil the familiar United Way thermometer, and Mayor Janet Prince has been invited to speak at the annual event.

Representatives of the 17-member agencies and United Way board members will be on hand to lend support and answer any questions about the fundraising organization. Local residents will receive their United Way brochures and pledge cards early in October at home or their places of business. The organization hopes to raise $78,000 this year, slightly over last year's goal of $75,000.

Many merchants around Berkeley Heights will distribute balloons throughout the month of October, as a reminder to contribute to this cause. United Way is not just interested in financial aid, but is always looking for dedicated persons willing to volunteer a little or a lot of time to serve on its local board of directors.

Those interested may contact President Ann Eldridge at 464-9267.

Pioneers kick off

By ART POLAKOWSKI

Coach Frank Bottone is necessarily concerned about a flu bug which has run through his football team, but otherwise he pronounces New Providence ready to begin its 1985 season this afternoon at Springfield. The game is slated for a 1:00 p.m. kickoff, which will become the standard starting time for Mountain-Valley Conference games this autumn.

New Providence is coming off a 7-4 season which saw the Pioneers make their third straight appearance in the NJSIAA state Group I championship game. But NP has graduated players who started in 17 of 22 positions in that title contest at Chatham, and Bottone acknowledges this club will be quite different from last year's.

To begin with, the offensive focus will be on the running game. Mike Liberato, Steve Tiboni, Mitch Goodstein, and Brent Kaiser will be some of the carriers who'll be toting a football which Al Niemela put in the air a lot more frequently a season ago. Craig Horan takes over at quarterback for the graduated Niemela, who was a three-year starter at the QB spot.

Bottone says he's pleased with the pre-season development of an offensive line which has an entirely new starting cast. Center Jamie Cramer, guard Joe DiRienzo, and tight end Rob Loan have all performed particularly well in scrimmages.

There are three returning defensive starters in linebacker Tiboni, monsterback Kaiser, and end Rick Stumpf, plus several other fellows who saw a degree of varsity action on that side of the ball in 1984. "I'm convinced we're a better defensive team than last season," relates Bottone. "We've been tackling well in our scrimmages, and we've shown good pursuit to the football."

The virus which has hit a number of players has been a problem. "It's really gone through the school," noted the NP coach, who's in his 21st season at the varsity helm. "We seem to be missing a couple kids each day at practice, and that's hampered our offensive progress somewhat. But we hope to have everyone healthy for Springfield."

New Providence hammered the Bulldogs 41-7 in their opener last autumn, but Bottone expects a closer contest today. "Springfield doesn't have the size it owned last year, but there are some quality players returning at the skill positions, and they have more guys with varsity experience than we do," reports the veteran mentor. "It's going to be a good test for us."

Highlanders rebuilding after championship

By ART POLAKOWSKI

Having graduated nine starters from the best soccer team ever to represent Berkeley Heights, Coach Bill Howard enters the 1985 season with the least experienced squad during his tenure at the Highlander helm. There are only four players with any varsity minutes back from the squad which posted a 22-1 record and rolled to an NJSIAA state Group II championship in 1984.

But so far this autumn — which includes a 5-1 opening-match victory over Clark — Howard is pleased with the progress of his club. "We're further along than we had envisioned when we took a longrange projection a year ago," explains the popular Regional mentor. "Several of our younger kids have improved significantly, and we'll be more competitive than some people may have thought."

Berkeley does have a couple acknowledged strengths, which start with the two starters back from a year ago. Striker Steve Knull is coming off a 33-goal season in 1984, a mark which nearly doubled the previous school scoring standard. And goalie Mike Esnes is still available to provide the last line of defense for a team which will depend a great deal on quality goalkeeping this campaign.

In front of Esnes will be a defense primarily untested in varsity competition. "Yes, we'll be relying on Mike to come up with some big saves for us," admits Howard. "But I think our defense as a whole is coming along pretty well."

The most pleasant surprise has been the play of Rick DePinto at the stopper position. This senior was generally the first reserve used a year ago (DePinto saw most of his action at the leftside fullback), and he's a tri-captain now along with Knull and Esnes. He's also the most improved player on the team, according to Howard.

"Rick has really come a long way since last year," relates his coach, "and he's giving us exceptional play at the stopper position." One suspects DePinto's emergence can be traced partially to the fact he no longer is performing in the shadow of his brother Vinnie, who was the Highlanders' best all-around player last season.

The other defenders are youngsters up from last year's jayvee. Juniors Jon Clark and Ian Fowles are the wing fullbacks, while promising sophomore Danny Sussman is the sweeper.

The Highlanders caught one break this year with the arrival of transfer Jim Martingale. A junior who moved here from Texas, Martingale has taken over the center midfield spot in the lineup. As yet he's not about to dominate a game from that post the way V. DePinto did last fall, but Martingale has fit very well into a critical position where Howard admits there had been a large concern. The side midfielders are junior Jim Reddy and sophomore Rich Clow.

Up front the Highlanders are going with senior Tony Lagalante on the right wing and junior Dave Berkowitz on the left. Lagalante is the other fellow with varsity experience, but he saw very limited action last autumn.

Knull, of course, is at the prime striker spot. "That's one thing all our opponents must constantly worry about," points out Howard. "They're aware who Steve is, and they'll be concentrating on defending him, but he's such a superb player that you know he's going to do his share of scoring."

Whether Knull can log another 30-goal campaign is questionable, but Steve started out on the right foot by netting three tallies at Clark. You tend to think that if his teammates can provide him a certain number of scoring opportunities every match, he's going to cash in on a decent percentage of them. And having a fellow who can finish plays like Knull does tend to compensate for a weakness or two some other place on the field.

"I think we'll be respectable," sums up Coach Howard, however noting the Berkeley Heights schedule features some mighty tests for an inexperienced ballclub. The Highlanders will be engaging such soccer powers as Summit, Westfield, Scotch Plains, Union, and East Side along with primary Mountain-Valley Conference rivals New Providence and Ridge.

Pioneer gals seek scoring punch

By ART POLAKOWSKI

The New Providence girls' soccer team was an outstanding defensive side in 1984, allowing only 17 goals in 19 games. "We were 12-6-1 and four of the losses were by 1-0 scores," reports Coach Skip Lyne, who likewise notes the tie as being a scoreless deadlock.

Clearly the NP goal this 1985 campaign is to knock the ball into the goal more often. "I think we'll be a stronger club offensively," projects Lyne, who's in his second year at the squad's helm after being a longtime assistant to Bob Kahn in the NP boys' program.

Of course, there's also a need to do a little patch-up work on the defensive end of the field. The key to last autumn's defense was the trio of Donna McNeil at goalkeeper, Karen Leitz at sweeper, and Lisa Gillingham at stopper. Leitz is still at her appointed post, but Gillingham graduated, and McNeil's family has moved to North Carolina.

"Losing Donna was a tough break," relates Lyne in praising his former keeper who would have been in the New Providence net for two more seasons. "She started for the varsity as a 9th-grader, and she had a super season as a sophomore last fall."

Seniors Leitz, Teresa Campana, and Eileen Doyle are the only three returnees who could be classified as every-game regulars a year ago. Leitz will, of course, be asked to operate as the mainstay of the defense. "Karen is an exceptional athlete and a superb soccer player," enthuses her coach. "She received some recognition last season, and she's a legitimate all-state level performer now."

Campana directs things from the center midfield position, and Lyne is equally enthusiastic about the work of this senior. "Teresa is a key player for us at both ends of the field," notes the NP mentor.

As Doyle will also be this term, with Lynn having switched Eileen from the prime striker position to a midfield slot. Doyle was the Pioneers' second leading scorer with six goals in 1984.

The emergence of several other girls up front has allowed that move to be made. Taking over on the forward line are Barbara Brochhagen and Laurie Hallock, two seniors who were in and out of the lineup a year ago. Both are said to have made a larger commitment towards soccer now, and they'll start at striker and left wing respectively. On the right side is a sophomore named Maryellen Arias, who Lyne thinks will emerge as a great player in the near future.

Sophomore Beth Richel is the starter at the other midfield spot, and Lyne has two reserves in Jenny Johnson and Nancy Schuetz who can spell any of the forwards or halfbacks. Senior Kathy Kern and junior Lisa Gramlich, who were reserve performers last fall, are now the starting wing fullbacks.

Which leaves the critical stopper and goalie positions. Lyne is very pleased to have Alicia Messina back in the program to handle the stopper post. This senior showed fine potential as a 9th-grade jayvee player before running cross country the past two autumns. "Alicia will really help us at a spot where we needed it," says her coach.

The new goalkeeper is Tina Alderman, a junior who was in the jayvee net a year ago. "We knew last spring that Donna was moving, so it's up to Tina now," reflects Lyne. "I'm confident she'll do a fine job."

NP PAL continues winning ways at Washington Rock

Sunday afternoon's visit to the Washington Rock football field gave the New Providence PAL teams their chance to continue their winning ways.

However the Junior Hawks are still having their problems. They kicked off to Washington Rock who maintained possession of the ball most of the first quarter ending in a touchdown giving them a 6-0 lead. New Providence's run-back by Erick Blum and other good offensive plays were brought to naught when Washington Rock intercepted a pass in the middle of the second quarter. This led to New Providence watching Washington Rock score a second touchdown for a 12-0 halftime score. Even with three first downs in the third quarter, New Providence failed to get points on the board. The fourth quarter was a standoff leaving the score 12-0 and giving the fourth and fifth graders their third loss for the season.

The sixth and seventh grade Hawks of New Providence lost no time in taking the lead in their 22-0 victory. Speedster Paul Palschakov ran a 51 yard touchdown in the second play of the game. The two point conversion by Anthony Pignio left the quarter with New Providence in the lead 8-0. Anthony Pignio again scored by running in an intercepted pass from the Washington Rock 28 yard line.

After John Pilley recovered a fumble it was only a matter of time before Jimmy Badolato had his chance to run for a touchdown from the 19 yard line creating the 22-0 score for New Providence at half time. In accordance with Pop Warner rules, New Providence played the entire second half with their second string offensive and defensive teams because the lead was in excess of 18 points. Despite some strong play by both teams, the second half remained scoreless. Coach Coeyman again gave substantial credit to strong and hardworking offensive and defensive lines.

All four quarters saw the New Providence Falcons, eighth graders score even with the second string playing more than half the game. The highlight of the first quarter was Joe Vano's 70 yard touchdown play after receiving a pass from Paul Cassarico. The first score in the second quarter was by Jim O'Neill who blocked the Washington Rock kick, picked up the ball and ran for a touchdown. The next touchdown was by Sal Pignio running a cross buck from short yardage. When Pat Gallagher's two point conversion gave New Providence a 20-0 lead, the second teams took over. Before the half was over Gallagher made another two point conversion, this time of his own touchdown which he scored with the aid of a pass from Plancey.

The second half featured Pat Gallagher's second pass interception when Cornerback David Maxwell tipped an attempted pass to him. Thirteen more points were scored by New Providence to end the romp, 41-0, giving the Falcons their third straight win.

In the second quarter, keeper Bobby Sloane was outstanding, killing breakaways and stopping shot after shot on goal. Cap Pazzera played a strong midfield position in the first half. In the third quarter, Eric May turned in his best soccer performance by showing his stuff as a key defender. In the final quarter, Danny Avondoglio was repeatedly challenged and finished the game using sheer determination as fuel. Steve Golubieski played his heart out and took honors by his continual effort, to force his way into the game.

Division IV Strikers
For the second game of the fall, the Strikers moved their scoring power into gear. Midfielders David Badalamenti, Marcus Eiland, Billy Kvalnes, and Jeff O'Brien moved the ball well to front liners Jeff Shiff, Tom Walsh and Jason Adams. Several scoring attempts were turned aside, but a crossing pass from Shiff to Adams led to the first score. A second cross from Shiff to Walsh resulted in goal number two. East Brunswick counter attacked, but the defense of Mark Stewart, Dan Gallo, and Cordis Carter stopped them in their tracks. Dan Badalamenti displayed some nice passing in the second quarter as did Shiff who crossed the ball to Walsh for goal number three.

In the second half Kyle Edmonds and Todd Allen held strong on defense and Danny Butler excelled in goal. Early in the second half, David Badalamenti passed to Walsh for a hat-trick. East Brunswick mounted good pressure and scored. Carter moved the ball from his fullback position, and snuck a pass to Walsh for the final score of the game.

Division IV Shooters
The Shooter travelled to Summit and found themselves leading 1-0 at the half on a goal by Ryan Tewel assisted by Brian May. With Tim Gallegher in goal, the Shooters held Summit scoreless during the third quarter. Tough defense was exhibited by Chris Shahidi, Jessica Lizzi, Steven Han, Victor Chen, and Jon Sachsel as Stopper. Brian May scored two quick goals in the third quarter to make the score 3-0. Alex Gross had a busy afternoon scoring the next three goals to make the score 6-0.

George Kymer scored on a penalty shot, and Alex Gross came through with the final NP goal to make it 8-0. In the final moments of the game, Summit scored its only goal.

Division V Blasters
The Blasters tied the Summit Spartans 4-4. The Blasters took an early lead on a free kick by Derek Pines. The first half ended with NP ahead 2-1. Both teams came on in force in the second half with Summit scoring three goals to take the lead. The Blasters' midfield of Michael Iannella, Will Burns and Rusty O'Brien continued to play strong to hold Summit scoreless for the rest of the game. Derek Pines completed his hat-trick on an exciting breakaway. Doug Kummer also tallied a score on a fine cross from John Flack. Michael Yendrick kept the game close with many saves in goal. The Blasters showed their determination in this fine comeback attempt.

Night on the Town party to benefit Child Care

SUMMIT — Plans for what is sure to be the area's biggest birthday party are wrapping up as the 10th anniversary of Night on the Town approaches.

The Summit Child Care benefit will be held Sat., Sept. 28, at the Summit Child Care Center, 95 Morris Avenue.

Over 1100 invitations have been mailed; 80 area hostesses will entertain partygoers for cocktails and dinner before the dance.

This year's theme, reflecting the benefit's 10th anniversary, is appropriately enough "Night on the Town Goes to a Birthday Party." The motif will be carried out from dinner to dancing.

Some partygoers will turn back the clock as they attend a "Sweet Sixteen" party while others, in keeping with their age, will enjoy a "Fabulous Forty" affair. All will enjoy birthday cake together back at the center where "Super Lou" will provide non-stop dance music from 10 pm to 1 a.m.

A new feature for this year's Night on the Town is the President's Party. Summit Child Care Board President Anita Weinberg will host a VIP dinner at the center prior to the dance. Anyone interested in attending the party may call 273-7017 for information and reservations.

Monies raised by Night on the Town go directly to subsidize the cost of child care for families who need child care but are unable to afford it.

The center provides full-time, part-time, after-school and drop-in care at its five facilities in Summit, New Providence, Chatham and Millburn. Forty percent of the families served qualify for some sort of subsidy. The center is committed to serving all children regardless of their ability to pay.

Ellen Feeley and Diane Fischl are co-chairwomen of this year's benefit.

Drew program profiles juveniles in today's court system

MADISON — Area experts will join Circuit Court Judge Mercedes E. Deiz of Portland, Ore., Woodrow Wilson Visiting Fellow at Drew University, in a panel discussion of "Juveniles in the Court System" Oct. 2 a 7:30 pm in the learning center, room 28, located on the Drew campus. The program is free.

Deiz, the first black elected to a remunerative office in the state of Oregon, has been selected a visiting fellow at Drew during the week of Sept. 29 by the Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation. Joining her in the panel discussion will be Police Chief Howard Shaw of Denver, Laura Winterfield, project director of the Vera Institute of Justice in New York, and Jeff Mako, director of the successful Project Community Pride in Madison.

A native of New York City, Deiz earned her bachelor's degree from Hunter College and her juris doctor degree at Northwestern College of Law. Prior to assuming her present position in 1973, she served as a trial lawyer, an administrative law judge with the Oregon Workman's Compensation Board and a district court judge.

Deiz is the director of the National Center for State Courts and a member of several bar associations, as well as the American Judicature Society, the Queen's Bench and the National Council of Juvenile and Family Court Judges. She also is a lecturer to senior students attending the Harvard University Law School.

Visiting fellows are successful men and women from business, journalism, public service and other professions who are recruited by the Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation and placed at small liberal arts colleges for a week of intensive dialogue with students and faculty. Contributors to the visiting fellows program include the Mobil Oil Foundation, IBM, the Charles E. Culpeper Foundation and the Brown Foundation.

For more information contact Linda Dulye, coordinator of news services, at 377-3000, ext. 238.

Prepared childbirth class is offered

SUMMIT — Prepared childbirth classes under the sponsorship of Overlook Hospital's Parentcraft Program are being formed for an October start for couples with a child due in December 1985-January 1986.

Four sections, each limited to eight to 10 couples, will be filled on a first-come, first-served basis.

Each session of the seven-week series features the Lamaze Method, which prepares couples physically, intellectually and emotionally for childbirth.

Couples are taught techniques that help them to deal with labor with or without medication.

Participants will have a chance to practice the skills under the supervision of experienced ASPO instructors. The course will include a tour of the maternity area and an introduction to baby care and parenting.

Sessions will begin Oct. 3, 7, 10, 21 and 22. The two-hour classes will begin at 8 pm. Interested persons may register by calling 522-2963.

Swingin' Tern to dance to 'All Time Band'

CONVENT STATION — The Swingin' Tern dance series will host Nick Hawes Oct. 5.

Nick will call New England contra dances with a sprinkling of squares.

Furnishing music for Nick's calls will be All Time Band, consisting of Nick Hawes, Selma Kaplan, and George Wilson.

The dance will be held at the Madison YMCA, just off route 24. Sponsored by the Folk Project and the Folk Music Society of Northern New Jersey, Swingin' Tern dances are held on the first Saturday of each month, and feature a different caller and live band each time.

No experience is necessary, and participants need not bring a partner. Admission is $4.

Nursery schools to be visited by dentist

SUMMIT — Dr. John W. Deschenes of Summit Dental Associates, 360 Springfield Ave., and his staff will begin making visits to nursery schools in the area. Dr. Deschenes has designed a program for preschoolers demonstrating proper brushing techniques and talking to the children about sound nutritional foods that aid in the prevention of tooth decay.

The children will go home with dental kits supplied with tooth brushes, toothpaste, stickers and disclosing tablets which show plaque on the teeth.

Dr. Deschenes believes that reaching the children at such an impressionable age can give them a positive life long effect on their dental habits.
