Board approves 10-12 percent salary increases for teachers in three-year contract period

SUMMIT--Public school teachers will get pay raises of approximately 10 percent per year for the next three years, according to a new contract ratified Thursday by the Board of Education.

The new salaries will increase the school's budget by about 7 percent, according to Clarke Abbott, board president. Total salaries of the schools' 250 teachers will jump from $6.6 million to $7.3 million.

"We'll have to find ways to cut the budget in other areas," to compensate for the increase, said Abbott.

However, he said, salary increases were necessary to move the city back into a competitive position in terms of attracting and maintaining good teachers.

Catching up to other districts

Local teacher salaries were ranked from eighth to 10th in the county, making it hard to compete with other districts for highly qualified staff, according to both the board and the Summit Education Association (SEA), bargaining unit for the teachers. The new contract, according to the board and the association, will, in three years, move the city to about fourth place in the county.

However, Abbott said, since most other districts have settled for two-year instead of three-year contracts, the projection that the city will move into fourth place is only an estimate.

"We found our salaries were not competitive," when the board came to the negotiating table, said Abbott. "We have high expectations for our entire staff," and salaries were not commensurate with those expectations, Abbott added.

"We know we have some catch-up ball to play," to move the city into a competitive position in attracting good teachers, said Abbott.

SEA ratified the contract Oct. 3. Negotiations had been in progress since February. One of the reasons for the unusually lengthy negotiations, according to Robert Kisch, SEA negotiating represen-wouldn't know what we were getting into," if there wasn't an absolute dollar amount set.

In each year of the new contract, "co-curricular improvements" will be made, meaning those teachers who help to run students' extra-curricular activities will receive increases.

Both Abbott and Kisch agree that the new contract favors

	1985-86		1986-87		1987-88
	Min	Max	Min	Max	Min	Max
BA	18,500	31,000	20,400	34,000	22,400	37,000
MA	19,500	25,000	21,500	38,300	23,700	41,800
MA plus 30	21,200	37,400	23,300	41,000	25,600	44,700

tative, was that the district was waiting for the state to decide whether to pass a minimum teachers' salary bill. The state passed the bill, mandating that minimum salary for a teacher would be $18,500, last month.

Increases
The new, three-year contract states that teachers' salaries will increase an average of 10.7 percent in the first year, 12 percent in the second, and 10.7 in the third.

Included in those percentages are increases in fringe benefits. In the first year, fringe benefits increase .4 percent; in the second, .9 percent; and in the third, .3 percent.

The .9 percent increase includes expansion of the teachers' dental benefits plan to cover dependents. The total plan will now cost $98,000 (an increase of $53,000).

Abbott said the board always negotiates for a dollar amount rather than general plan because, "The way dental and medical costs have been going up, we teachers at the beginning and end of the district's 17-step salary guide, and that those in the middle get the least out of the new terms.

For example, according to board member Lenore Ford, one teacher who had reached the middle of the salary guide after being here for 10 years is being paid only $3,000 more than a new teacher is paid.

However, said Ford, the new contract raises teacher morale--and "It's about time," that morale get a boost, she added.

The board approved the new contract by a 6-0 vote (D. Anne Atherton was absent).

The new contract was praised by both Kisch and SEA President Rich Thomasey. However, Abbott said, "When it's time to negotiate again, we'll have to make sure we're still competitive...there's no guarantees," that this contract will keep the city competitive, since there's no way of being sure how much other districts will raise their salary offers in three years.

NEW ON COUNCIL is Richard Bottelli, who was sworn in last month to replace Councilman Thomas Kent, who resigned. Bottelli was sworn in by Council President Murray Ross, left. Bottelli's wife held the bible while her husband took his oath.

Board o.k.'s 8 percent salary hike for officials

SUMMIT--An 8 percent average increase in administrative salaries was approved by the Board of Education Thursday.

"We'd like to be able to pay them more, but with the realities of the school budget we're constrained," said Clarke Abbott, board president.

According to Abbott, only a few local school administrators are paid more than their counterparts in districts with similar demography.

- school superintendent, $74,540;
- Senior High School principal, $60,990;
- Junior High School principal, $60,145;
- business administrator, $58,665;
- administrative assistant for whole school system, $48,275;
- elementary school principals, $49,595, $55,725, $47,750, $55,085;
- assistant vice-principals, Senior High School, $40,225 and $47,115;
- assistant vice-principal, Junior High School, $43,105;
- director of curriculum, $49,365;
- and director of Special Education Services, $45,355.

Are reductions feasible?

Board member Edwin Dotten asked the board to consider making an investigation into methods by which administrative expenses might be reduced.

Dotten said he sent a letter to board members mentioning 3 percent as a target for reductions.

Board member William Rosen said, "I feel a study to look at ways to assure prudent use of the monies we spend is fine." However, Rosen said, "On the face of it, a 3 percent reduction seems unreasonable," considering that, with inflation, the real reduction would be about 10 percent.

Dotten replied that the idea of investigating expenses was most important to him, and that the 3 percent figure was not a crucial element in his suggestion.

Business administrator Harold Kessler noted that a similar investigation was carried out four years ago. In addition, Kessler said, "It seems that (evaluation of administrative expenses) would be a natural part of the budget process," which is scheduled to begin next month.

Superintendent Richard Flander said, "Our sense of where the board has been coming from ever since the contract has been negotiated has been that we're going to have to find some economics."

Volunteers needed: apply at City Hall

SUMMIT -- If you have expertise in a particular field, and the time and willingness to volunteer to help your city, Summit needs you.

The Mayor and Common Council will be making their appointments in November. As determined by the city charter, some of these appointments are made by the Mayor and others by the Common Council. Depending on the board, the term of office are from one to five years.

If you are interested, call 273-6400 for an application or stop at the City Clerk's office between 8:30 am and 4:30 pm, Monday through Friday.

OVERLOOK MUSICAL THEATRE needs "Baubles, Bangles and Beads" for "Kismet" costumes. Vincent Esoldi, Fran Harrison, and Valerie Green are costume designers for OMT's 1985 production of the opulent "Kismet." Also needed are old linen or cotton drapery material; beaded dresses; feathers; and swatches of velvet, brocade or sequined material. To donate, call Frances Pepe, 647, 1716. "Kismet" will be performed Friday, Saturday and Sunday evenings, Dec. 6, 7 and 8 at New Providence High School. Proceeds benefit Overlook Hospital, Summit.

Pearl drops suit against Council

SUMMIT--Local resident Eric Pearl, who had filed suit against Common Council asking that Thomas Kent's seat on council be declared vacant, has dropped his complaint now that Kent has resigned.

Pearl's suit claimed that Kent did not comply with residency laws pertaining to municipal officials. The suit was filed against the six council members who decided not to declare Kent's position vacant and against the council as a corporate body.

Pearl, who is chairman of the Municipal Democratic Commitee, said he filed suit as a citizen, not for political reasons.

Kent resigned his seat Aug. 31, saying that added pressures in his job with Allied Corporation had prompted his resignation.

According to Pearl, Kent's sale of his Woodland Avenue home and his subsequent move to Murray Hill meant he no longer satisfied residency requirements.

Kent said he had satisfied residency requirements by renting an apartment in Summit after the sale of his house.

Pearl, who questioned the validity of council votes while Kent remained on council, said, in dropping the suit, "The possibility of those votes being invalid was only if Kent cast the deciding vote."

Pearl said no such deciding votes had been cast since Kent sold his Woodland home on June 13.

Pardon me ... rescheduled due to Gloria

SUMMIT -- With Gloria's winds went Dr. Jane Davis' lecture, "Pardon Me, Are You Looking for Your Values?" It will take place, Fri., Oct. 25 at 8 pm at St. Teresa's Memorial Hall, located on Morris Ave. at Chestnut St.

Dr. Davis is a psychotherapist who practices marriage and family counseling in Westfield. She has also served on the faculty of Fordham University for five years as an Associate Professor.

Dr. Davis will speak about parent-child relations, especially those dealing with the communication and transmission of values within the family. It is sponsored by St. Teresa's Education Committee and is open to the public free of charge.

YWCA teen party

SUMMIT -- Teens may take a plunge and pump iron at a party Fri., Oct. 11, 7:30 to 10:30 pm at the Summit YWCA, 79 Maple Street.

The enlarged YW weight room will be open from 7:30 to 8:30 pm. A splash party in the YW pool will round out the evening from 8:30 to 10:30 pm.

For those in the mood for leisurely discussion a "Cool Out" party with music and snacks will be offered.

A $2 admission fee is charged; refreshment donations are requested.

news

in brief ...

An emergency appropriation of $100,000 was made by Common Council Oct. 1 to help cover increases in landfill tipping fees. According to council, fees have increased 72 percent since January. Council had expected fees to increase by 21 percent.

Council's resolution authorizing the appropriation says that the emergency appropriation "...shall be provided in full in the 1986 budget."

Council expects to appropriate $77,600 more to help cover the fee increases.

The $100,000 appropriation "...will be turned over to the Municipal Utilities Authority in order for the Authority to amend its budget for the increased charges of disposal fees," according to a statement signed by the city treasurer.

Common Council has withdrawn its tax appeal regarding 11 Tanglewood Drive.

Council had filed an appeal asking to increase the property's taxes on the basis of structural changes that council believed increased the property's value. Council dropped the case, finding that structural changes had not been made.

New Jersey tax policy may be changed to require a certified accountant's report on landlords' reports of rental property income.

Assemblywoman Maureen Ogden has prepared legislation to require a formal accountant's report on income from rental properties. Ogden said she plans to introduce the legislation when the assembly reconvenes (date of reconvening has yet to be determined).

Ogden's legislation was prompted in part by the suggestions of two Summit residents, Richard Wellbrock and William Daggett, who testified recently before a state commission on tax policies, and suggested the formal accountant's report might be in order.

Currently, according to Wellbrock, commercial properties are assessed on the basis of annual income rather than market value. "We feel if there were a certified statement from an accountant rather than the more casual form filled out by the owner...it would add objectivity," to income reports.

Courses in English as a Second Language in the Summit public school system may cost $54,790 for the school year.

The Board of Education expects to decide next Tuesday whether or not it will accept that sum, $39,385 of which comes from the local school budget (the balance, $15,405, is drawn from state funds).

"We have a very large number in the school district whose first language is not English," said Richard Fiander, superintendent of schools. According to Fiander, English is a second language for 42 students in the district, 28 of whom are in the elementary schools.

Several of those 42 list Spanish or Italian as their first language, Fiander said.

Also included in the district are students whose first languages are listed as French, German, Mandarin, Urdu, Farsi, Cantonese, and Greek.

An Adopt-a-Cop program has begun in Summit public schools.

According to Juvenile Officer John McCandless, coordinator for the program, the Adopt-a-Cop program is designed to present police in a positive light to elementary school students.

The program is already "in full swing" at Washington Elementary School, said McCandless. Officer Matthew Dunlevy has been "adopted" by Washington students.

Officers assigned to the other elementary schools are Patrolman Joseph Sodano, Jefferson; Patrolman Robert D'Amboia, Lincoln; Patrolman Robert Lucid, Brayton; and Patrolman Anthony Parenti, Franklin.

Expo '85: 70 businesses to display products, offer prizes

President Reagan sends his regards ... he is unable to attend. But Mayor Hartlaub of Summit will be there, as well as Assemblyman Robert Franks.

Thousands of area consumers will join government officials at the Suburban Expo '85 on Wed., Oct. 23. Sulphur Springs in Berkeley Heights will host the area's first Consumer Interest Trade Show. A three room display of businesses from Berkeley Heights, New Providence, Summit and Scotch Plains will be open to the public at 4 pm.

Nearly 70 local businesses will display products, offer discounts, and give away prizes at the Expo. "The excitement will continue all evening," according to Phil Neuwirth of Taylor Rental, Berkeley Heights. Neuwirth is one of the show's planners. "Drawings will take place from 4 to 9 pm and some incredible prizes will be given away by the exhibitors."

Some of the prizes to be given away at the Expo include a home computer; five sets of luggage; cassette players; nine all-expense paid weekends for two at five fine hotels; radios; a Polaroid camera; and a family portrait.

The First Fidelity Bank of Berkeley Heights will conduct a giant Monopoly game, and award cash prizes as winners pass "Go." Thousands of dollars in valuable discount coupons will be distributed by several exhibitors.

The Grand Prize Drawing will be at 9 pm from the stage of the Sulphur Springs Ballroom. TWA and Murray Hill International, travel consultants from Berkeley Heights, will announce the winner of the Expo's special prize: roundtrip airfare for two to anywhere in the world TWA travels.

Hans van Doorne of Murray Hill International coordinated this $5500 prize with Trans World Airlines, Newark. "We will provide tickets for two to any destination in the world serviced by TWA. The most expensive port of call would be Tel Aviv, but of course the winner may choose any trip of his choice."

All residents of the area are invited to attend this free admission Consumers Show and register to win prize packages. Exhibit hours are 4 to 10 pm. The Suburban Expo is sponsored by the Suburban Chambers of Commerce. For more information call 522-1700.

Grand opening is set to celebrate YWCA's 40th year of Winter Market

SUMMIT — Celebrating its 40th year, the Summit YWCA will begin its annual Winter Market with a grand opening Sun., Nov. 3 from 1 to 8:30 pm.

Dinner will be served from 5 to 7 pm.

Winter Market also will be open Mon., Nov. 4, 10 am to 5:30 pm, and Tues., Nov. 5, 10 am to 5 pm.

Lunch with a Salad Bar will be offered both days from 11 am to 2:30 pm. Also, both days will feature a snack bar including coffee.

Raffle prizes to be offered include a VHS Hitachi VCR, cable-ready with a 13-function wireless remote and a 14-day timer; a hand-loomed little girl's sweater; a $100 gift certificate from King's Supermarkets; and two adult memberships in the Summit YWCA.

Gift items will be sold at the Country Store, which will offer beaded flowers, handcrafted holiday decorations, homemade delicacies, and handpainted sweatshirts. A children's booth also will be open.

Visa and Mastercard will be accepted; senior citizens will receive a discount on the Sunday night dinner.

Shapiro to speak at Drew University

MADISON — Peter Shapiro, New Jersey's democratic gubernatorial candidate, will discuss his campaign issues and answer questions during a speech Oct. 15, 7 pm at Drew University's Great Hall. The public is welcome.

Shapiro, Essex County's first county executive and the youngest county executive in the nation, has focused his race for the governor's seat on issues of toxic waste cleanup, property tax relief and reformed auto insurance.

A resident of South Orange, the 33-year-old Shapiro was elected in 1975 as New Jersey's youngest state legislator ever.

Two years later, he was re-elected to his State Assembly seat from the 28th district.

In November 1977, Shapiro captured 62 percent of the vote to win rights to office as Essex County's first county executive. He was re-elected in 1982 with a record-breaking 69 percent voter share. Last June, Shapiro won the democratic nomination for governor.

Shapiro attended public schools in South Orange and Millburn before graduating with honors from Harvard University in 1974.

CROP Walk to raise funds for the hungry

SUMMIT — The second annual CROP Walk is set for Sun., Nov. 3.

CROP is the community hunger appeal of the Church World Service. Twenty-five percent of the funds raised from the walk will be used to feed Summit families in emergency situations. The remaining money will be used by CROP or designated hunger-fighting agencies for food and for projects that attack basic causes of hunger.

"The 6.2 mile walk, routed past each of Summit's 14 synagogues and churches sponsoring the national program locally, is a giant step towards feeding the hungry," says chairwoman Janet Whitman. "There will also be a one-mile walk, so the handicapped, young children and senior citizens can participate."

Co-chairwoman Joan Teare added, "We want to reach everyone in the community with this appeal. Those who cannot enter are encouraged to sponsor a participant with a contribution."

For more information call 273-0441 (days) or 273-1292 (evenings).

Kelsey, Strasser are elected to Arts Council board

Thomas V. A. Kelsey of Summit, director and executive vice president, Chubb & Son, was recently elected to the Board of Trustees of the Arts Council of the Morris Area.

Board members re-elected for a three year term include Mrs. Bruce Strasser also of Summit.

SUMMIT — The Summit Taxpayers Association will hear W. Hunt Dumont at its Annual Meeting, Wed., Oct. 16, 8 pm at the Central Presbyterian Church, 70 Maple Street.

Dumont's topic will be, "Are We Winning the Battle Against Crime?"

Frank Lehr, formerly mayor of Summit and Union County freeholder, will introduce Dumont.

Dumont, graduate of Blair Academy, Lafayette College, and Seton Hall Law School, was appointed U.S. Attorney for New Jersey by President Reagan in 1981. He is at present general counsel and vice president of First Jersey Securities, founded in 1974 by Robert E. Brennan.

Dumont is a member of the American Bar Association, the New Jersey State Bar Association, and of the Executive Board of the Association of the Federal Bar.

As prosecutor, Dumont pledged war on corrupt politicians, organized crime, drug traffickers, and white-collar criminals; on leaving office, he said he had fulfilled this promise, citing action against the seven organized crime groups in New Jersey, plus successful prosecution of five mayors, three councilmen, and numerous other politicians.

Dumont, long-time resident of Summit, now resides with his wife Lisa in Harding Township. His father, Wayne Dumont, Jr., is Dean of the New Jersey State Legislature and was 1965 Republican Gubernatorial Candidate in New Jersey.

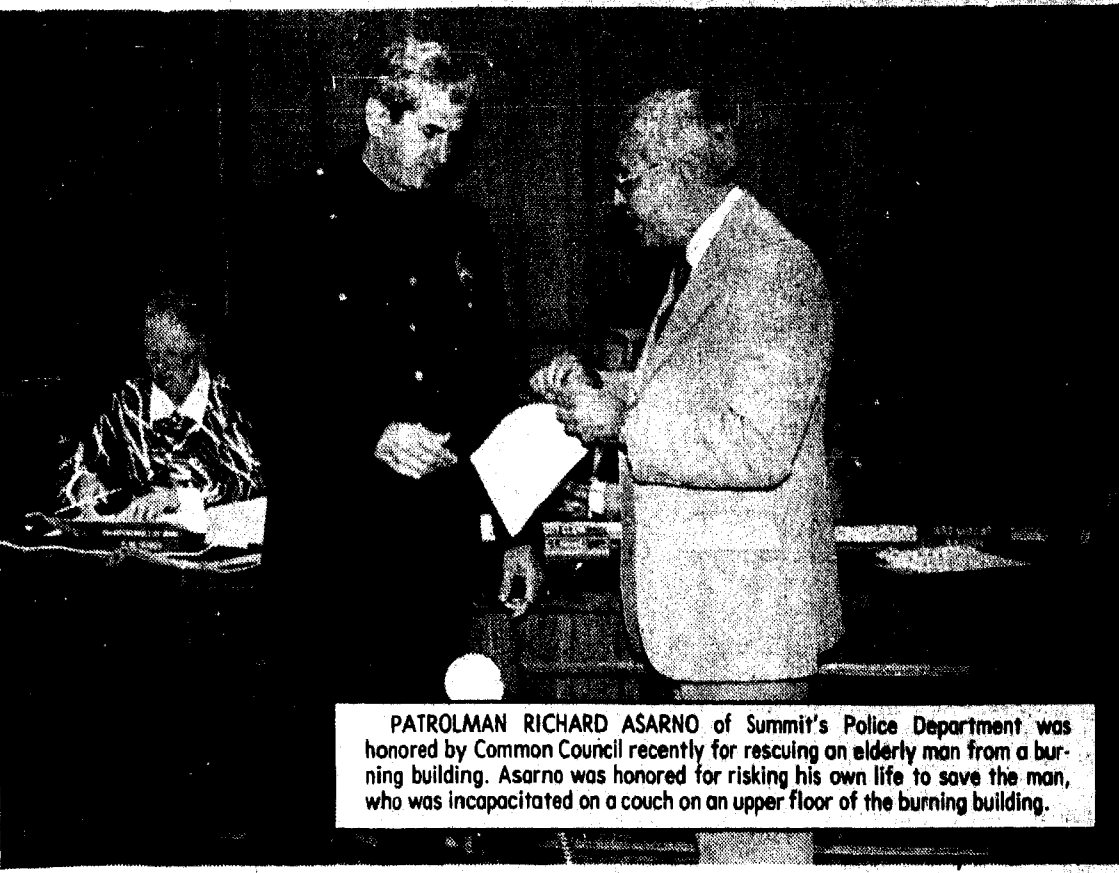

The taxpayers association will conduct a brief business meeting at 7:30 pm prior to Dumont's address. All members are asked to attend, and the public is welcome.

Taking stress in context

SUMMIT — For help in coping with a hectic lifestyle, area residents may attend a discussion on stress conducted by psychiatrist Stuart Rosenthal, M.D. on Tues., Oct. 15, 8 to 9:30 pm at the Summit YWCA, 79 Maple Street.

Rosenthal will focus on the importance of viewing an individual's behavior in the context of family, social groups and organizations.

Dr. Rosenthal serves as director of Psychiatry and director of

Marshall is special advisor on disability issues

A. Kelsey Marshall, native of Summit, has been appointed special advisor for Disability Issues to the Deputy Under Secretary for Intergovernmental Relations, Housing and Urban Development.

Commenting on the appointment, Deputy Under Secretary Alan Greenwald said, "Kelsey's own experience as a disabled person as well as her many years of public service, contribute significantly to her sensitivity and demonstrated capability to represent HUD as the Special Advisor for Disability Issues."

Marshall is responsible for coordinating HUD policy through the Office of Intergovernmental Relations to ensure quick and effective responses to the needs of the disabled. She reviews all HUD programs for impact on disabled persons, provides assistance on Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, and assists the Office of Fair Housing and Equal Opportunity in reviewing discrimination complaints on the basis of disability.

As special advisor, she serves as HUD's representative on several committees, including the Federal Task Force on Disabled Persons, the President's Committee on Employment of the Handicapped, and the National Council on the Handicapped.

Prior to her appointment, Marshall worked for three years as Special Assistant to the HUD Assistant Secretary for Fair Housing and Equal Opportunity.

Before coming to HUD, Marshall worked in the Washington office of U.S. Senator Richard Lugar (Indiana) where she served as a liaison to consumer and business organizations. She has also worked for other Members of Congress and the U.S. International Trade Commission.

Kelsey is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Marshall. She is a 1974 graduate of Indiana University, where she received an A.B. in political science.

'Connection' should be part of Master Plan, says Franks

AREA — Assemblyman Bob Franks (R) who represents Berkeley Heights, New Providence, Summit and Millburn in the New Jersey General Assembly, recently attended a meeting of the North Jersey Transportation Coordinating Council to call on that group to include the Kearny Connection in the area's Transportation Master Plan.

The Kearny Connection would connect the electrified systems of New Jersey Transit's Morris and Essex Line with Amtrak's Northeast Corridor Line, thereby allowing our trains to run directly into New York's Penn Station.

Franks, a three-term legislator, said, "The Kearny Connection is a vital and necessary project to help provide a more efficient and convenient method of commuting between our suburbs and New York City."

According to Franks, implementation of the Kearny Connection is necessary to meet increasing demands on existing limiting facilities. According to Franks, public transportation crossings of the Hudson River via PATH and the express bus lane in the Lincoln Tunnel are at or very near capacity.

Franks said that over the past five years, $420 million has been spent to re-electrify the Morris and Essex Lines to improve the quality of service for area commuters. The construction of the Kearny Connection is necessary to draw even more passengers to the Morris and Essex Line, according to Franks.

"For years we were told that in order to run our trains directly into New York City, we needed to construct a new power system on the Morris and Essex. Now that re-electrification has been completed, we should immediately begin construction of the Kearny Connection that will provide our commuters with one-ride service into New York City," Franks said.

Voter registration to be topic for NAACP

SUMMIT — Voting and voter registration will be discussed at the regular membership meeting of the Tri-City Branch NAACP, Tues., Oct. 15, 8 pm, at Wallace Chapel Zion Church, 140 Broad

Pilgrims to shrine pray for peace

Pulpit perspective . . .

FROM THE DOMINICAN NUNS OF SUMMIT

Because he is a rational being, man is eternally preoccupied with the "why" of everything he sees.

He looks upon the object which presents itself to his vision, and straightway goes beyond to find its hidden source. Often it happens that the simplest things can move him to profound reflection, and often too it can happen that what seemed so simple on the surface, is in reality most profoundly mysterious in its essence.

A case in point is the Pilgrimage to Rosary Shrine that has become a familiar feature at the monastery. For 65 years, the pilgrimage has occurred twice annually — on the first Sundays of May and October. It varies little in its outward organization from one year to the next. It consists in effect of a procession of pilgrims, who come to the Shrine to honor God and to profess their faith publicly in Jesus the Son of God our Saviour.

A particular facet of this expression of faith is the honor the pilgrims publicly accord to Mary, the Virgin Mother of Christ, whom He appointed to be the Mother of mankind as He was dying on the Cross.

"Woman behold your son," He said to her as He looked down upon the little group that stood beneath Him. He was referring to St. John, who, the Church says, was here a representative of all mankind. Then He said to John: "Son behold your Mother." Thus He constituted Mary the Mother of all mankind.

The Church has never forgotten that beautiful and sacred bequest, and throughout the ages, she has continually voiced her love, gratitude and veneration for Mary our Mother.

One of the most beautiful forms that this veneration assumes is the public recitation of the Rosary, a prayer made venerable by the ages. The Rosary is nothing other than a simple method of calling to mind the great mysteries of our Salvation. It focuses principally on the life of Jesus, and in so far as Mary's life is inseparably linked with His, on her life also.

The Rosary consists of 150 "Hail Mary's," divided into groups of ten called decades, each of which begins with the "Our Father" and ends with the "Glory be to the Father." As the faithful recite each decade, of which only five are said at the Pilgrimage, they review in turn the great mysteries of the life of Jesus from the Incarnation to His Ascension into heaven. Though it is called the Rosary of Mary, it could perhaps with greater right be called the Rosary of Jesus for it focuses principally on Him.

When the faithful come to the Rosary Pilgrimage every May and October, they recite the five Glorious Mysteries of the Rosary PROCESSIONS are conducted as part of religious ceremonies at a pilgrimage to the Rosary Shrine, Summit. Pilgrims gathered at the shrine Sunday to pray for world peace.

before the Blessed Sacrament enthroned. When the Rosary is ended, pilgrims adore the Lord of the Rosary by singing of age-old liturgical hymns in the solemn service which the Church calls Benediction.

A prayer for everyone

Besides being a public act of Faith in God and in Christ His well-beloved Son, a public tribute of honor to Mary the Mother of Jesus, the Woman of Destiny, the pilgrims also make this Rosary a solemn prayer of petition for all the needs of the Church and all mankind and for their own personal needs. High among these needs ranks the petition for peace in all its aspects. Peace in the heart of the individual, peace in the family, in the nation and in the world.

A golden link

In this petition for peace the local pilgrimage to Rosary Shrine becomes a golden link in a great chain of prayer which the faithful throughout the country and the entire world offer to God to obtain the universally desired blessing of peace. In recent times, the Peace March, which is held throughout the United States the first Sunday of October, has come to be a familiar feature of the Church's life. It is a vast amplification of the Rosary Pilgrimage at Summit.

This gives a new and mysterious dimension to our Pilgrimage. For the question naturally arises: What actually is "peace"? Some think of peace in an individual sense, some in a communal sense and others still in a cosmic or universal sense. In truth it embraces all of these meanings, for the Church defines peace as "the tranquility of order." It is, in reality, the reflection in human society of that order and harmony which pervade the universe. To be true and enduring, peace must begin in the human heart, and diffuse itself from this primary source, to the family, the state, the nation and the world.

We could best define peace perhaps as the reaching out of the human heart to seek and possess God in whose likeness it is made. Every individual was made to possess holiness, truth and beauty in his or her own soul and person; and God has placed in every human heart this insatiable yearning to possess Him, the Source of all truth and holiness, the Source and end of man's being, as St. Augustine so well said: "Our hearts were made for Thee O God, and they are ever restless until they rest in Thee."

This eternal quest of man to possess God reveals itself in manifold ways since the very dawn of human history. One of the most universal is that of a pilgrimage. For a pilgrimage is only the outward expression of man's inward quest for God. We could express it in another way by saying that while he fares externally with his feet, his heart journeys towards God; and when he has found God, he has found peace.

This was the peace of which Jesus spoke to His apostles on the night of the Last Supper when He said: "My peace I leave you, my peace I give you: not as the world gives, do I give unto you." It was of this peace too that the Eternal Father spoke when He said to Moses: "... Thus shall you bless the children of Israel, and you shall say to them: The Lord bless thee and keep thee: the Lord show His face to thee, and have mercy on thee: the Lord turn His countenance to thee, and give thee PEACE." (Num. 6:23-26)

AIDS: The straight facts

To the editor:

With so many people scared by the fatal disease known as AIDS, it is important that the straight facts of the matter be presented. It is truthful that AIDS, or acquired immune deficiency syndrome destroys the body's immune system due to a lethal virus recently isolated as HTLV. III/LAV. However, despite what is being implied by the media and other institutions, AIDS is not easy to catch.

Parents should be aware of the truth about the contagion of the disease. According to Dr. James O. Mason, director of the National Center for Disease Control (CDC) in Atlanta, "it is an extremely difficult disease to catch." He even goes as far as to say that the risk of a child getting AIDS from another child in school or day care center was like the risk of "being struck by lightning when you walk out the front door in the morning" and "much less than the boiler that heats the building blowing up."

Scientists have shown that the viral infection is difficult to spread except through the intimate exchange of body fluids that occurs in sexual intercourse or in the exchange of blood. The latter can occur through sharing the needles of an infected drug addict or getting a transfusion of blood or blood products from an infected person.

According to a CDC study, none of the identified cases of AIDS infection in the United States are known to have been transmitted in the school, day care, or foster care setting, or through other casual person-to-person contact. Of the more than 12,000 cases reported to the CDC of patients with AIDS, none of the family members of the patients contracted AIDS, the only exceptions being sexual partners of AIDS infected patients, and infants born to infected mothers. Six studies of family members of patients with the AIDS virus have failed to demonstrate virus transmission to adults who were not sexual contacts of the infected patients or to older children who were not likely at risk from birth.

Guidelines for handling children with known AIDS infection in the pre-school setting include careful disposal of body fluids and excrement, and thorough hand washing. Parents should feel safe that casual child-to-child contact as would occur among school children appears to pose no risk. In actual numbers, only 183 children in the United States under 18 years of age have been reported to have AIDS as of Aug. 20, 1985.

Many infected children have milder illnesses, or may be symptomatic, but again, these children acquired their infections because of their high risk category, mainly from infected needles or transfusions, the other cases being of children born to infected mothers. Putting it plainly, AIDS is just not easy to catch.

Squad is answer to desperate prayer

To the editor:

Open letter to the Summit First Aid Squad:

Your recently publicized appeal for volunteers and contributions has inspired me to complete this piece of unfinished business.

I am one of the many people who have been "rescued" by the Summit First Aid Squad.

Some months ago I was in the unfortunate position of being responsible for the care of my sister, who was suffering from terminal bone cancer. Adding to this emotional trauma was the need to arrange for her transport between institutions.

Since she was in terrible pain, both time and her comfort were important factors. After hours of telephone research, I found myself without any available options. Finally, a desperate call to the Summit First Aid Squad answered our prayers.

On behalf of my entire family, I extend our heart felt gratitude to Lieutenant Karen Luce, Chris Cotter and the Summit First Aid Squad. If the fine professional service and humanitarian care that was extended by Karen and Chris is indicative of the caliber of the entire squad, then the quality of life in the Summit area is truly enriched by this fine organization.

I am making a contribution to the squad's fund drive in memory of my sister, Lettie Musso. I implore everyone who reads this letter and resides, works or travels through Summit to send their contributions today. The next prayer that the Summit First Aid Squad answers just may be yours!

MS Celebrity Auction raises $87,000

To the editor:

I am writing to publically acknowledge the generosity of the business people in Millburn, Short Hills and Summit, who were so supportive of the recent MS Celebrity Auction with Dick Cavett. This event, held in support of the Northern New Jersey Chapter of the National MS Society, raised in excess of $87,000 for client services and research.

Especially noteworthy is the contribution of David Hochberg and Summit Lincoln-Mercury. Mr. Hochberg donated a lease on a 1986 Lincoln Towncar, which brought $6,000 at auction and was the largest single auction item.

Marguerite Woods

Marguerite Woods, nee Stewart, died Oct. 1 at Overlook Hospital, Summit. She was 76 years old.

Born in Jersey City, she lived in Summit for 58 years. A graduate of Newark Normal School, 1927, she was a first grade teacher in the Berkeley Heights School from 1928 to 1980, when she retired.

She was a member of Christ Church of Summit, N.J.E.A.; Union County Teachers Association; and the Berkeley Heights Teachers Association.

She is survived by her husband, Leslie Woods; her brother, John M. Stewart of Orlando, FL; and three nephews.

A Memorial Service was held at Christ Church, Summit, on Oct. 3. In lieu of flowers, contributions in her memory may be made to the American Cancer Society.

Arrangements were by Burroughs, Kohr & Dangler Funeral Home, Summit.

Brian P. Dunne

Lt. Brian P. Dunne, USN, of Summit died Oct. 6 in an automobile accident in Martina Franca, Italy. He was 26 years old.

A lifelong resident of Summit, Mr. Dunne graduated from Summit High School in 1977. He graduated from Kean College in 1981; he was an avid lacrosse player at college.

After graduating from Kean, Mr. Dunne attended the Naval Officers' School in Norfolk, VA, at the Norfolk Naval Air Station. Mr. Dunne was on a six-month tour of the Mediterranean on the USS Saratoga at the time of his death. He was serving as liaison officer to the Third R.O.C.

Survivors include his parents, John and Lorraine; five brothers, John III, Kevin, Terence, Owen, and James; and two sisters, Kathleen and Sheila.

In lieu of flowers, contributions may be made to the Brian P. Dunne Lacrosse Fund. Call Paul Ippolito Summit Memorial for information on how to contribute to the fund.

"I believe in a strong defense," La Rocque says, "but I also believe there will be no winners in a nuclear war."

La Rocque will be joined by two other outstanding speakers at the third annual peace event sponsored by the interfaith coalition of 17 religious organizations.

"There's nothing mystical about stopping the arms race," says La Rocque. "It's simply a question of adjusting our national priorities. We must take the profit motive out of preparing for war.

"Think what could be done if our resources were turned away from militarism toward economic conversion, civilian technology and human development."

The conference, is open to the public. Registration forms will be distributed to 60 area churches and synagogues in mid-September.

Arrangements were by Higgins Home for Funerals, Watchung.

William F. Sonnekalb

William F. Sonnekalb of Summit died Sept. 27 at Overlook Hospital, Summit. He was 82 years old.

Born in Newark, he lived in Summit for several years. He was a graduate of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Cambridge and George Washington Law School, Washington, D.C.

He was a retired partner in the New York law firm of Davis, Hoxie, Faithful and Hapgood, New York City.

Survivors include his wife, Jean Forsyth Sonnekalb; two daughters, Anne S. Iskrent and June S. Dwyer; four grandchildren; and a sister, Ruth Sonnekalb.

Thompson to sing 'Mystical Songs'

HOWARD THOMPSON is featured in Calvary Chorale's season opener on Sun., Oct. 20, Calvary Church, Summit, at 4 pm. He will perform "Five Mystical Songs" by R. Vaughan Williams for Baritone, chorus and orchestra.

SUMMIT — Howard Thompson will perform R. Vaughan Williams' "Five Mystical Songs" for baritone, chorus and orchestra, in the first concert of Calvary Chorale '85-'86 season.

Under the direction of Howard Vogel, the concert will be at Calvary Church, 31 Woodland Ave., Sun., Oct. 20, 4 pm.

Also on the program is Mozart's Requiem Mass in D minor for chorus, soloists and orchestra. Soloists are Sally Beckwith, soprano; Adelaide Bull, alto; James Clark, tenor; and Howard Thompson, bass.

Thompson, a graduate of Oberlin Conservatory and a student of Russell Christopher of the Metropolitan Opera, appeared recently with the New Jersey Pops.

Mozart's Requiem, left unfinished when he died in 1791, had been commissioned by Count von Walsegg in memory of the count's wife.

Mozart spent the final hours of his life trying to complete the commission, which he had begun to look on as his own Requiem during his illness.

Enough sketches remained for Mozart's devoted pupil, Franz Sussmayr, to complete the score and obtain the promised fee for Mozart's wife, who had been left destitute.

The mass follows the traditional form of the Catholic Mass for the Dead. The first eight measures of the plaintive Lacrymosa were Mozart's last notes, written on his death-bed. The Sanctus, Benedictus and Agnus Dei closing the work are considered to be largely an interpretation of instructions left by Mozart.

The public is welcome to attend. Free-will offerings will be accepted.

College is 'Waiting for Godot'

EDISON — "Waiting for Godot" by Samuel Beckett will be performed at the Middlesex County College Performing Arts Theater Oct. 17, 18 and 19 at 8 pm.

Jay Siegfried, chairman of the Performing Arts Department, will direct.

"Waiting for Godot" focuses on two tramps, Vladimir and Estragon, who wait on a road by a tree for someone named Godot. Vladimir is confident of Godot's arrival; Estragon, who suffers from ill-fitting shoes, is less so. As they wait, they entertain themselves with simple conversation and encounter the brutish Pozzo and the gibbering Lucky.

Tickets ($5 for adults, $4 for students and senior citizens) are now on sale. Phone reservations may be made by calling the Performing Arts Theater box office 548-6000, extension 299 between 9 am and noon weekdays, or the Middlesex County College Performing Arts Department at 548-6000, extension 367 between noon and 4 pm.

Scenes of Switzerland to be shown

SUMMIT — "The Four Seasons of Switzerland" will be the subject of a slide program at the Summit Nature Club meeting Thurs., Oct. 17, at 8:15 pm at the Lincoln School, Woodland Avenue. Visitors are welcome and there is no admission charge.

Mr. Koehler, a resident of Holmdel, is a member of the Photographic Society of America and the Monmouth Camera Club. He has had several articles published in photographic magazines and has won awards for his color slides.

For more information about the Summit Nature Club, call Alberta Mount at 377-2007.

THE SHAW FAMILY, Abigail, left, Deborah, and Jeremiah, admire works by artists featured in Collector's Choice '85 at the Summit Art Center. The necklace worn by Mrs. Shaw was designed and handcrafted by Sandra Zuckerman; the belt is by Dorothy Biundo. These works and many others will be available in a silent auction, Oct. 25 to 27. Tickets are available at the Summit Art Center. For more information, call 273-1921.

Need for cathedral restoration highlighted by benefit concert

On a hot summer afternoon in 1899, a decision was made that would take almost one hundred years to realize.

When Bishop Bernard McQuaid spoke of the necessity of erecting a great Cathedral in Newark as a "fitting monument to the faith," he may not have foreseen the many obstacles to be overcome in its completion — nor guessed at the impact it would have on the community.

The Cathedral of the Sacred Heart, dedicated in 1954, stands on the highest point in Newark and serves as a landmark for all who pass through the city. With soaring towers and exquisite stained glass windows, it has symbolized the magnificence and beauty that men can accomplish.

Purest example

Modeled after Chartres and other Cathedrals in Europe, it is considered by many authorities to be the purest example of French Gothic architecture in the Western hemisphere.

The Cathedral has served both as a landmark and resource for Newark. It has resurrected the traditional role of the church in opening its doors, not only for spiritual guidance, but for corporal assistance as well: the Cathedral has initiated several programs that will help its neighbors on matters pertaining to housing, education, and community networking.

Most recently, the Cathedral created a Symphony Orchestra under the direction and guidance of one of the most accomplished and followed conductors in the area, Thomas Michalak.

It is the only Cathedral in the country with its own professional symphony orchestra.

Mammoth needs

While the Cathedral has relied historically on its own resources for financing maintenance, the mammoth restorations that need to take place now demand that new revenues be surfaced. It is the first time an outreach has been made outside of the Catholic community for funding for restoration and preservation.

The benefit concert scheduled for Oct. 27 will begin an effort to find money for preservation and restoration, as well as to insure continuation of the Cathedral's cultural programs.

Recognizing the need to expand its network of friends, an internationally respected musical talent has been chosen to headline this concert — a musician who will, on his professional merits, draw the attention of potential new supporters. Yehudi Menuhin, the virtuoso violinist for the concert, is of such note that he has appeared in more countries on every continent than any other musician of our era.

Called a legend in his own time, he began taking violin lessons at the age of five and made his debut at eight with the San Francisco Orchestra. Now 65, he has had works commissioned by him and dedicated to him by such composers as Bartok, Block, Enesco, and Vaughan Williams. Because of his musical eminence and humanitarian activities, he is one of the most honored Americans. He is an Honorary Knight Commander of the British Empire, he has been presented with the Cross of Lorraine from France and he has received fourteen honorary doctorates from leading universities the world over.

Menuhin and the Cathedral Symphony Orchestra will perform the Symphony for Strings by Richard Nanes as well as works by Beethoven. The Nanes world premiere will be featured in the Oct. 27 benefit concert, 3 pm.

Those interested in attending the benefit concert and contributing to the restoration and preservation of the Cathedral may call 484-4600 for seating and donation information.

Butterflies are subject of free programs at Reeves-Reed

SUMMIT — A children's program on butterflies, a lecture on William Blake and a workshop on forcing plants for winter bloom are scheduled at the Reeves-Reed Arboretum on Oct. 12, 13 and 14.

Butterfly expert Molly Monica of Berkeley Heights, founder of the New Jersey Lepidopterists' Society and active in the International Butterfly Tagging Program, will offer a free illustrated program Oct. 12, 10 am. The program is suitable for children from kindergarten through sixth grade.

An instructor and lecturer,

Monica has authored articles on butterflies for such magazines as New Jersey Audubon and New Jersey Outdoors.

A Children's Discovery Center with natural science exhibits and games will be open until noon.

Mrs. Alan Glover will deliver a free lecture Oct. 13, 3 pm on "William Blake: Artist and Poet" concentrating particularly on Blake's skills as a printer.

Glover holds a Bachelor of Fine Arts Degree from Bennington College and has shown her collages, watercolors and acrylics in one-woman exhibits in New Jersey and New York. She is a member of the National Society of Arts and Letters.

Arboretum Executive Director Lu Rose of New Providence, who holds a botany degree from Duke University, will direct a workshop on "Autumn Planning for Winter Bloom" on Mon., Oct. 14, from 10:30 am to noon. Participants are asked to pre-register at a cost of $5. Registrants may pot and take home bulbs that have been timed to produce red tulips at Valentine's Day. Additional color may be added to winter households by learning to force twigs into bloom. Weather-permitting, a grounds tour will be included to point out trees attractive to birds. The arboretum is at 165 Hobart Ave., near Rt. 24. For information, call 273-8787.

'Oedipus the King' to open theatre series at Symphony Hall

"Oedipus the King," Sophocles' great tale of passion, intrigue and destiny, will be brought to life on stage at Newark Symphony Hall Oct. 31, 8 pm as the first offering of Newark Symphony Hall Corporation's new theatre series, Off-Broadway On Broad Street.

The play, performed by The Ensemble Theatre Company, will run Thursdays through Saturdays until Nov. 30.

The story revolves around Oedipus, the new King of Thebes, whose relentless pursuit of those responsible for a great evil leads him to the discovery of knowledge that might best have remained unknown.

The role of Oedipus is performed by Company Founder and Artistic Director Marvin Jefferson. Other roles are played by local actors: Reginald C. Brown, Evelyn M. Bateman and Erin T. Brown.

The Ensemble Theatre Company produces modern, and classic drama from an Afro-American perspective, rooting theatre in the urgent rhythms of the world today. Born in the creative energy of the Paul Robeson Black Arts Ensemble of Rutgers University, the group performs frequently at the Paul Robeson Campus Center of Rutgers-Newark, Newark Public Library, Newark Symphony Hall, George Street Playhouse in New Brunswick, and at the AMAS Repertory Theater off-Broadway in New York.

Other programs on the "Off Broadway On Broad Street" theatre series roster include "Boulder In The Sun," a new play for Black History Month co-produced by Newark Symphony

Hall Corporation and Newark playwright Wayne Slai py, and the Ironbound Theatre production of Playwright Christopher Durang's "Baby With the Bathwater."

Performances are scheduled for Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings at 8 pm, with Saturday matinees at 3 pm, in 1016, Symphony Hall performance complex.

Lubo Opera Company to stage Verdi's 'La Traviata'

MADISON — The Lubo Opera Company will stage Verdi's "La Traviata" Sat., Oct. 19, at Madison High School, Ridgedale Avenue.

The Morris County-based company will showcase the talents of Donna Maul of Caldwell, a soprano, in the role of Flora.

Veteran opera stars appearing in the Lubo Opera Company production are Barbara Ione Miller, soprano, as Violetta; Marco Lampas, tenor, as Alfredo; and Miguel Andoor, baritone, as Giorgio Germont.

Conductor Anthony Morss will direct the production.

Anyone interested in more information, including information on group reservations, may contact Judy Lasky, company director, 854-4524.

KENNETH MALLOR of Summit is musical director and piano accompanist for "The New Doll in Town," a new cabaret revue, held over at The Duplex (55 Grove Street, Greenwich Village) through Wed., Oct. 30. Additional performances have also been scheduled for Polsson's and The Sheraton-Russell Hotel during the month of October.

Outdoor film series scheduled by Summit Nature Club

AREA — "Outdoor Film Adventures" is a new series of five film programs to be sponsored by the Summit Nature Club in its 37th season of wildlife film presentations for area audiences. Each film will be personally narrated by the professional naturalist-photographer who produced it.

Fairleigh Dickinson chorus seeks singers

FLORHAM PARK — MADISON — The Fairleigh Dickinson University Chorus, on the local Fairleigh Dickinson University campus, is seeking interested singers for its 1985-86 season.

Chorus Director Gene Paul Rickard will conduct auditions Mondays at 5 pm through Oct. 21. The chorus holds rehearsals on Monday evenings in Dreyfuss Building, Room 121, from 5:30 to 7:30 pm.

"Bach and Friends" will open

All programs will take place at the Middle School, Lum Avenue, Chatham, at 8:15 pm. The first of the series will be Mon., Oct. 21, when cinematographer John Wilson, in "North to the Top of the World," will take his audience on a tour from Newfoundland, up the Labrador Coast, and into the High Arctic.

Other programs are scheduled for Tues., Nov. 12, "The Redwood Empire" by Albert J. Wool; Tues., Jan. 14, 1986, "Wildlife Annals" by Allen J. King; Tues., March 11, "Wildlife by Day and by Night" by Steve Maslowski; and Tues., April 1, "Autumn Journey to Alaska" by Thomas A. Sterling.

Season tickets, at $15 for the five programs, are available from Martin R. Page, 180 Commonwealth Ave., New Providence (07974); telephone 464-6297. Single admissions are $4.50 for adults and $1 for students.

Summit Nature Club uses the proceeds from the evening programs to fund conservation projects as well as to pay for the same programs given in the afternoons to children in area public elementary schools.

For more information call Frank M. Cresson at 277-1438, or Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Smith, 377-0056.

Hilltoppers ready for Millburn

Rebounding from a disappointing opening performance at Verona, Summit evened its football record at 1-1 last Saturday with a 13-7 victory over West Orange at Tatlock Field. The Hilltoppers take to the road this afternoon when they'll play at Millburn in a 1:30 kickoff.

While the one-touchdown win over a West Orange team which lost its opener by three touchdowns didn't appear particularly impressive in the result column of the Sunday papers, Summit Coach Howie Anderson was generally pleased with his club's effort. "We certainly played a lot better than we did at Verona," commented Anderson, who expressed satisfaction with the fact the Hilltoppers are beginning to look like the title contender Summit fans had envisioned prior to the season. "We had a good practice week, and I thought we controlled the ballgame fairly well, even though the final score might not indicate that. We've made some progress since Verona."

One bright note was the ability to move the football despite the absence of senior tailback Jai Wood, who sat out Saturday's contest after suffering a concussion in a mid-week practice. "It was more precautionary than anything," relates Anderson, "but we decided to keep him out for the week. It's likely Jai will be ready for Millburn."

Wood's absence meant a heavy-duty, ball-carrying day for fullback Rob Paessler, while sub tailback Jim Holt, wingback

Mike Feoli, and quarterback Tom Chiego likewise chipped in to bolster the rushing game. Chiego had an effective afternoon throwing the ball as well, with the senior QB connecting on five of seven passes.

Anderson notes the running attack went especially well to the left side where tackle Andy Brode and guard Chris Jenks operate. Jenks, who's one of the Toppers' co-captains, enjoyed a particularly good ballgame, according to his coach.

Defensively Summit was bolstered by the return of starting linebacker Jon Blitt, who had missed the Verona game with an injury. Blitt and noseguard Joe Brown were cited as having contributed significantly to a defensive effort which held West Orange to only two first downs all day.

Millburn (0-2) will present the Hilltopper defense the problem of stopping a quarterback whom Anderson regards as the best Summit will go up against this autumn. Brad Remig, the Millers' senior QB, hasn't had a particularly great early season, but the Summit coaching staff has a considerable degree of respect for the threat he represents.

"Remig is an outstanding quarterback who can beat you with his passing or by scrambling if the pass pattern breaks down," notes Anderson. "You must defend him on every play, and that basically means keeping him contained inside. Once you let him roll to the outside, you're in trouble."

Kent Place contends while rebuilding

Kent Place field hockey Coach Repy Hattersley admits her team is in a rebuilding mode this autumn, but the KP stickers are still a highly regarded squad. Seven starters graduated from the Kent Place crew which compiled a 14-3-3 record in 1984 while reaching the championship round of the state prep school tournament. So far the relative lack of experience has shown in KP's present 3-3-1 record.

But Hattersley's club is still much respected in field hockey circles, as evidenced by the third seed it accrued in the Union County Tournament. "We only lost 2-1 to Cranford (the UCT's top-rated team), and they've been beating everyone else by big scores," reflects Hattersley on the seeding choice. Kent Place will open its county tournament bid against Roselle Park.

The second-year coach thinks her squad will improve as the season goes along. "We're very young and inexperienced on the forward line," explains Hattersley, "but our offense is starting to play better together."

Kent Place starts three sophomores up front along with senior Sue Smith, who handles the right inside position. Smith, who was primarily a jayvee performer last spring, has five goals so far which represents the bulk of the KP scoring.

Her 10th-grade linemates are Jane Armstrong, Beth McDonnell, and Emilie Sesq. Seniors Stephanie Arrout and Miriam Kafske see reserve duty up front. And while there's virtually no varsity experience going into the campaign, these girls do benefit from a teacher with pretty good credentials. Coach Hattersley was an All-American forward at Trenton State College in 1981.

There is experience at the link position with seniors Sarah Otis and Karen Crummy returning regulars from a year ago. Otis is the team's acknowledged star, a young lady who received all-state recognition last autumn. "Sarah is a truly outstanding player," relates Hattersley.

The defense has been doing a solid job of keeping the team competitive while the offense matures. The two veterans down that end are goaltender Caitie Clark ("She's been a busy gal so far," notes her coach) and centerback Ellis Hensler. Both started for last year's squad, although Hensler has moved to the middle from the left halfback post.

All the starting defensive players are seniors, but the other three girls saw little or no varsity action a year ago. Paige Seely is the new sweeper, while Kristen Potter and Katie Wilson handle the wing halfback slots.

Summit harriers face uphill climb

This year's Northern Hills Conference format of running all league meets at Delbarton has taken a toll on the Summit cross country squad, according to Coach Tom Washburn. "It's much more of a sloping course than our runners are accustomed to," relates Washburn, "and some of our guys found it too tough. We've lost a couple people since the beginning of the season, and I think that's the main reason."

Summit presently owns a 2-5 dual-meet record, but Washburn believes that'll improve as his squad adjusts to the hilly Delbarton terrain. "We've re-structured our workouts accordingly," mentions the Summit coach, "insofar as doing more work on hills. But there really isn't any place to run in Summit which is quite like the course at Delbarton."

Junior Mike Druhot has been the Hilltoppers' number-one competitor so far this autumn, while sophomore Dave Koenig has been second in most meets. A transfer who was at Pingry a year ago, Koenig has shown the potential to be a fine distance runner.

Senior captain Dave DeReyna has been hampered by a knee problem thus far, but he's still been the number-three guy in the lineup. Washburn is looking for senior Owen Harrod — who had his best race this week — to put together a strong second half of the season which should help things team-wise.

Huus, Beck, win Senior Tournament

SUMMIT — Carl Huus defeated Dick Casper in a playoff to win the Men's Senior Golf Tournament.

Betty Beck shot a 77 to win in the Women's Division.

Huus and Casper each shot rounds of 57 for the tie after regulation play. Both golfers made par on the first extra hole.

Huus paled the second hole while Casper had a bogey.

Bud Wyman and Grace Casper won the prizes for the closest to the pin.

Refreshments for the players were donated by Trost Bakery and Seven-Eleven Store.

Trost Bakery and 7-11 of Summit contributed refreshments to the tournament.

County tennis courts, pitch and putt ranges to close for season

The Union County Parks and Recreation Department has set the closing dates for the tennis courts at Warinanco Park and the pitch and putt ranges at Galloping Hill and Ash Brook Golf Courses, for the 1985 season.

The tennis courts will close on or close to Mon., Oct. 14, depending on weather.

Pitch and putt ranges at Galloping Hill, Union, and Ash Brook in Clark and Scotch Plains, will close Mon., Nov. 4.

Patrons may still use the ranges if they pay the fee at the respective club house and provide their own equipment.

Summit Soccer Club news

Phoenix Scampers 1, Fords Falcons 0

The Summit Scampers tumbled to Fords on Sept. 23. Joan Thompson had the single Summit goal.

Smythe Volvo Sea Maidens 5, Sayreville Gremlins 1

Summit took a 1-0 halftime lead in Sayreville. In the second half, the Sea Maidens built their lead on three goals from Lindsay Burns, Jennifer Beaumont and Amy Petracorro each netted a goal. Paige Speni was in goal.

Roots Shooters 4, Somerset Hills Talons 2

After the Talons opened the scoring on a corner kick conversion, Roots Shooter Bryan Keane took a Chadd Stiles pass and beat the goalie with a low shot to the corner. Scott Umps followed with a beautiful 30-yard shot with an assist from Spencer Tullo. The Talons came right back to tie at 2-2. The game was into the fourth quarter when Mark Callahan's header of a Preston Maigetter feed put the Shooters ahead. Joe Oakes then broke loose with a Rob Ballantyne pass to score the final goal.

Keeper Ashley Griffith made some great saves; aggressive defensive play by Jerry Madden, Booth Hodde and Paul McEwan broke up many of the Talon drives. Midfielders Tim Sinclair, Doug Welby and Carmen Malangone provided the ball control and movement that opened up the passing lanes.

The Shooters are now 2 and 1 on the season with seven players having accounted for the team's eight goals.

Summit Do Me A Flavor Spirit 0, North Brunswick Bombers 0

In a well-played defensive struggle, the Spirit and Bombers tied 0-0 at Summit.

Summit's defense was led by Liz Cox, Victoria Hardy and Margery Shanahan. Midfielders were Blythe Henwood, Laura Madden, Lauri Mullery and Gail Rapuzzi. The Spirit's offense was led by Kristin Oakes, who had several breakaways; other contributors were Sarah Thomas and Carolee Keane. Goalkeeper

Christy Van Dusen had several outstanding saves and was credited with the shutout.

Masco Storm 2, Millburn Sting 2

Masco Storm and Millburn Sting played to a 2-2 tie in a hard fought match.

Summit scored early on a goal by Patrick Shallerross, but Millburn countered for a 1-1 halftime score. In the second half Millburn scored first to take the lead. Summit tied the score when Corby Thomas passed to Shallerross who scored his second goal of the game.

Summit defenders were especially outstanding, constantly breaking up the Millburn attack. They were led by Kevin Langell, Brian Klein, John Sponheimer, Robert Wittmann, Billy Stefan, and Jonathan Lucas. Bert Kwan and Austin Speni were excellent in goal.

Masco Storm wins state cup opener

Masco Storm began its play in the state championship tournament with a strong win over the Lenape Warriors of Medford.

Summit dominated play to earn a 3-0 victory. In the first half, Jeff Wesson opened the scoring after receiving a pass from John Sponheimer. In the second half, Sponheimer passed to Doug Rousseau, who scored on a long shot.

The final goal of the day was scored by Patrick Shallerross assisted by Robert Wittmann and Wesson. Bert Kwan and Austin Speni shared the honor of the shutout in the goal.

Summit Strikers 0, Metuchen-Edison Flyers 0

The Strikers, sponsored by American Express, played their most exciting game yet of the year, but came away with a tie.

Summit had many opportunities with good shots by Tom Soth, David Mitchell and Craig Prunier.

Fullbacks Scott Lucas, Chris Farrand, David McCullough, and Jeff Harrington withstood many well-coordinated rushes on Summit's goal. Most exciting were the saves by goalkeeper Marc Sheridan, who saved shots fired from point-blank range.

Spurs stopped

The Speigel Stationery's Summit Spurs were rocked by a goal in the first ten seconds, and although they played the Hurricanes on an even footing the rest of the game they lost 3-1.

Chris Rolland scored a well earned second half goal, while Sam McFerran played superbly in goal.

Christian Hoffman and Frederick Blin had good games up front, and Mike Schmidt and Corbin Tullo hustled very well while playing several positions.

IS YOUR HOME UNDERINSURED?

If you haven't updated your homeowner's insurance recently, you may suffer financially if your home is damaged or destroyed by fire or some other catastrophe. In a recent fire in California that destroyed 195 homes, 94.7 percent of the owners were underinsured on the value of their homes as well as the contents.

Homeowner's insurance is one of your most important protections, but once you've been issued a policy you should have it reviewed periodically by your insurance agent. The values of houses as well as personal possessions change over the years. In continuing inflation, the value of your home will probably go up. So will the cost of major replacement items such as furniture and appliances and other valuables.

Don't be caught short if you should suffer any loss to your home or contents. Call your insurance agent and ask him to review your homeowner's policy to make sure it gives you all the protection you need.

Up coast, down coast, Bomberger to address club

SUMMIT — David Bomberger of Madison took a trip up the coast of Norway on the Lindblad Polaris and another trip up the southwest coast of Alaska on the Majestic Explorer and will share his experiences with the Fortnightly Club of Summit, Fri., Oct. 18 at 1:30 pm at the Club House. The International Relations Department offers four programs each year given by world travelers and people who have lived abroad which are outstanding and colorful.

From Bergen north to Geiranger the passengers on the Polaris viewed the fjords and mountains stopping along the way to take day trips into the mountains. Last fall Mr. Bomberger visited southwest Alaska and compared the glorious scenery there with that which he has seen in Norway. The contrast between the forests and farms of Norway and the rocks and glaciers of Alaska is striking.

Mr. Bomberger is a retired Bell Laboratories engineer, who is a constant world traveler. He is a former resident of Plainfield where he served on the council and several city boards.

Tea will be served by Vicki Shultz, assisted by Barbara Clark, Donnie Hebbeler, Louise Mino, Lydia Rebenklaus and Marie Welsh. Vicki has invited Gloria Faitoute and Priscilla Pratt to pour.

Enter, Rachel Ann!

A daughter, Rachel Ann, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Schwarz of Summit on Sept. 7.

Rachel Ann weighed six pounds, 14 ounces at birth.

Towne Club to hear about popular vacation ideas

AREA — The Towne Club of Summit, New Providence and Berkeley Heights will hear about popular vacation ideas at its Oct. 22 luncheon at Le Christophe Restaurant, Warren.

"Charife" will present a program on, "The In Vacation Spots," featuring Bed 'n Breakfasts in New England and San Francisco. Gwen Salyer is in charge of reservations.

The couples group of the Towne Club will meet Oct. 25 for an evening of dining and dancing at the Oktoberfest at the Schwaebische Alb, Warren. Call Vicki Shultz for more information.

Bob Tarrant to be caller for Unitarians' dance

SUMMIT — Local Unitarians will gather with their friends Sat., Oct. 19 to dance to the calls of Bob Tarrant.

The annual Barn Dance will be at the Unitarian House, 165 Summit Ave., from 7:30 to 10:30 pm.

Admission is $6 for adults and $2 for children; everyone is asked to bring some finger foods for snacking. Beverages will be available.

Since this event tends to fill the hall, the church has asked newcomers to call 273-3245 to make a reservation.

THE SUMMIT HERALD/DISPATCH SECTION

Highlander band takes five firsts

BERKELEY HEIGHTS — The Highlander band, in its first venture on the competition field at Middlesex High School, Oct. 5, scored a 71.2 out of a possible 100 points, winning in its own class and in the best overall band category.

In addition, the band took first in Marching and Maneuvering, Music Analysis, and Band Front categories.

This year, the band's repertoire and drill are complex. Beginnings with "Suite for Band-Overture," performers move into "Young People's Guide to Orchestra." Next comes a pipe feature, "The Crags of Tumbledown Mountain." Finale is Tchaikowsky's "1812 Overture."

The band is led by Drum Major Larry Pope. The band's Front Leaders are Pam Hrycenko, Patti Best, Tanya Kowal, and Samantha Wibel.

This year's tentative competition schedule is set as follows: Oct. 20, Arlington Admirals Competition in Poughkeepsie, NY; Oct. 27, Brearley's Cadence '85 at David Brearley Regional High School, Kenilworth, Nov. 3, Chapter IV Championship; and Nov. 10, Atlantic Coast Championship in Neshaminy, PA.

For tickets or information, call Governor Livingston High School, 464-3100 (bandroom).

Candidates cite new recycling program

NEW PROVIDENCE — "With the addition of 'white paper' to our collectables at Recycling, we're continuing our enormously successful public-private partnership in attacking our Solid Waste problem — the Borough's most serious, long term challenge," said Council President Mary Ellen Irwin and Councilman John Horan today in a review of issues facing present and future Councils. Mrs. Irwin was the responsible person on Council for initiating the unique non-profit corporation that works with the Borough.

Each Borough employee has a small desk top box for collecting white paper. It has the Recycling logo on it, and a list of what can be recycled (all white papers including computer paper) and what cannot be taken (no paper clips, no envelopes or paper with glue on it, or thermographic paper).

"We have a large bin in the Municipal Building mail copying area for collecting the paper, and we've already filled it once. At home, several staff and Council have been collecting a grocery paper bag full of white paper (including junk mail) every two weeks. It's easy to do, and every ounce helps save on taxes by saving dumping fees," added Mrs. Irwin.

"We're fortunate to have the State's finest volunteer Resource Recovery program, but we need to encourage more people to use it. We estimate that 85 percent of our residents are collecting newspapers, but only 25 percent are saving our other 'collectables' — aluminum, tin plate and glass — using the Resource Recovery Center behind old Borough Hall," concluded Councilman Horan.

League celebrates 25 years

BERKELEY HEIGHTS — The League of Women Voters is celebrating its silver anniversary with a display at the Public Library.

The League of Women Voters, founded in 1920, was born of the suffragists' movement.

Its purpose is to encourage informed participation of citizens in government.

The league is nonpartisan, but often takes a stand on specific public issues.

Voter service is an integral part of the League of Women Voters. Members organize and distribute information on candidates, referendum questions, and election procedures as well as registering new voters. The league prints data and mails bulletins to residents (often with the help of the senior citizens who address the envelopes).

The league sponsors Candidate's Night, and publishes a Know Your Town booklet on Berkeley Heights.

Krauss to participate in 'Ask a Lawyer'

Keith Krauss of New Providence, associate with the Newark law firm of Connell, Foley & Geiser, is among the members of the Essex County Bar Association who are participating in "Ask a Lawyer," a public information series on the law, sponsored by the Essex County Bar Foundation with the cooperation of the Caldwell/West Caldwell Center for Continuing Education.

Krauss, a graduate of Rutgers Law School, will discuss "Buying a Home" Thurs., Oct. 3, 7:30 pm, at James Caldwell High School, Westville Avenue, West Caldwell. The program, which will be followed by a question and answer session, will cover the entire process of buying a home. Condominiums, co-ops, mortgages and title insurance will be discussed.

The remaining sessions of "Ask a Lawyer" will be held on successive Thursdays at James Caldwell. They are scheduled as follows:

• Oct. 10 — Going into business, a discussion of incorporation, partnerships and other related topics;

• Oct. 17 — Family Law: The legal answers — A discussion with a matrimonial law practitioner on adoption, divorce, equitable distribution, custody (including joint custody), prenuptial agreements and other family law topics;

• Oct. 24 — Tax planning for 1985, a discussion with a tax planning expert on tax law, in which tax shelters, tax savings, the use of trusts and general estate planning will be discussed.

Caldwell/West Caldwell Center for Continuing Education will charge a one-time registration fee of $3.

For more information on the "Ask a Lawyer" series contact the Essex County Bar Association, 622-6207, or the Center for Continuing Education, 228-2092.

PAM HRYCENKO, Larry Pope and Samantha Wibel hold trophies won in Middlesex Competition.

Township sets schedule for cleaning up brush

BERKELEY HEIGHTS — The township's fall chipping program will commence Nov. 4.

The same plan as used last year will be followed: the town will be divided into five sections, and each will have a pickup for one week.

Brush should be ready for pick up on the first day of the scheduled week for each area. No brush will be collected once a section is completed.

Brush should be placed in neat piles at curbside with the large diameter cut-ends toward the street. The largest size branch allowed will be four inches in diameter.

Short branches (under two feet in length) may be tied in small bundles with string or cord and left at the curb for pick-up by a scavenger on the regular pick up day.

BNot allowed

Lumber, building materials, leaves, roots, stumps, briars, decayed branches, or other debris which can damage the chipper will not be picked up.

The pick-up schedule has been set as follows: Section No. 1 — Nov. 4 through Nov. 8, area of Countryside to Diamond Hill Road; Section No. 2 — Nov. 11 through Nov. 15, area bounded by the railroad, Plainfield Ave., Mountain Ave. and the Township's easterly boundary to

Women's club awards scholarships

BERKELEY HEIGHTS — The Woman's Club of Berkeley Heights recently awarded scholarships to two outstanding graduates of Governor Livingston Regional High School. Mrs. Joseph Auchter, club president, presented the awards.

Martha Cohen, recipient of a $1000 scholarship, is currently enrolled in Wellesley College in Wellesley, Massachusetts. While at Governor Livingston Martha won the Northeast Conference Award for excellence in language study, the Spanish Silver Medal, and was a member of the Spanish National Honor Society and the National Honor Society. She was Third Place winner in the Adidas National Writing Contest, Senior Yearbook Editor, and Reporter for the New Providence-Berkeley Heights Dispatch. A tennis competitor, she played First Singles in Varsity tennis, and won the Bronze Medal in the Union County Tennis Tournament. She also received a 50-hour pin for candystripping at Overlook Hospital.

Clifford Daub, $500 scholarship winner, received a National Merit Scholarship Commendation, was a member of the Society of Distinguished High School Students and the National Honor Society. He was selected for the Gifted and Talented Program, played Varsity tennis for four years, and was Chairman of the Welcoming Committee. He is furthering his education at Bucknell University in Lewisburg, Pennsylvania where he intends to major in Business and Accounting.

Other Woman's Club awards, $25 Bonds, were presented to Laura Oels at Little Flower School and Kim Saturnia at Columbia School graduation ceremonies.

Pioneer gridders host Ridge

by ART POLAKOWSKI
The New Providence football team plays its first home game of the 1985 season this afternoon when Ridge visits Lieder Field for a 1:30 kickoff. The Red Devils come in with an 0-2 record, while the Pioneers own a 1-1 mark after last Saturday's 17-7 win at Middlesex.

New Providence Coach Frank Bottone was quite pleased with his troops' effort last weekend, particularly in regard to the way NP bounced back after the disappointing defeat to Springfield which opened the season. "We were able to move the ball considerably better than we did in the first game," relates Bottone, who's in his 21st campaign at the Pioneer helm. New Providence rushed effectively with halfbacks Mike Liberato and Brent Kaiser, and quarterback Craig Horan connected on 8 of 15 passes to spark the aerial attack.

NP trailed 7-3 in the second quarter but put two touchdowns on the board before halftime to assume a 17-7 lead. The New Providence defense made that stand up through a scoreless second half.

Kaiser and Steve Tiboni were cited by their coach as defensive standouts Saturday, this senior duo handling NP's two inside linebacker positions. Brent and Steve, coincidentally, were also the New Providence touchdown scorers, Kaiser tallying on a 9-yard reception from Horan and fullback Tiboni cracking in from short yardage. The remainder of the Pioneer point-production came from sophomore placekicker Matt Simpson, who nailed his second field goal of the campaign and connected on both TD-conversions.

Tackle Jamie Cramer and end Rich Johnson are two more defenders whom Bottone praised for their work against Middlesex, the defending champion in NP's division of the Mountain-Valley Conference. The veteran coach also noted the return to action of junior DT Gary Barton, who had missed the Springfield opener with a virus.

Ridge is 0-2, but it's a club which has presented New Providence with some problems in the past. "They're a tough team to prepare for, because they'll throw so many different things at you," explains Bottone. "Our scouts think they're a decent squad despite their two losses, and they've proven to be opportunistic in capitalizing on opponents' mistakes."

Still Bottone expressed confidence about this home opener, which is part of the day-long 'Spirit Day' festivities at NP. "Most of our kids are healthy now (the Pioneers had been hampered by a flu bug in late September), and we're really starting to progress as a team," observes the New Providence mentor. "I think we'll give a strong account of ourselves the rest of the way."

New Providence soccer club news

Division V
The Knights last week stepped onto the field to face Millburn. Millburn netted the first goal after some good back and forth play. The Knights scored twice during the third quarter.

Forwards Jose Huerfano, Ryan Marchetta, Kurt Marchetta, Jan Neuman, and Rich Dwyer kept Millburn on their toes. Good team work by Andrew Lafiosca, Toby Tewell, Joey Lizi, Meredith Reikert and Amy Morris helped set up the forwards as well as containing offensive play by Millburn.

Millburn was able to tie the score late in the third quarter and was denied victory when goalie Brian Mauro stopped a driving shot seconds before the final whistle. Karen Higginson, Brian Cook, Casey Cregan, and Laura Higginson offered aggressive defense.

The Blasters registered their first win, beating the Chatham Tornados 1-0. New Providence took the lead in the first half on a goal by Derek Pines. Strong mid-field play by David Syach, Rusty O'Brien, Will Burns, Justin Kymer, and Michael Yendrick allowed New Providence to dominate to game and hold on for the win.

roaring back for a win.

Playing against Summit, the Striker defense of Dan Gallo, Todd Allen, Mark Stewart, Kyle Edmonds, and Cordis Carter played well under constant attack. Danny Butler excelled in goal. However, a penalty kick added to another score gave Summit a 2-0 halftime lead. In the third quarter, midfielders David Badalamenti, Tom Walsh and Marcus Eiland had shots on goal, but Summit goalies stonewalled the attack.

With 15 minutes left in the game, a pass from Jeff O'Brien to Tom Walsh netted the first Striker score. The Strikers got hot. Jeff Shiff blasted a burner, which the Summit goalie stopped beautifully — but Cordis Carter came up from halfback and slammed the deflection home for the second goal.

The pressure was on to break the tie. Jason Adams picked up an errant pass and blasted home the game winner with less than four minutes to play. Summit tried to counterattack, but the outstanding defense of the Strikers held on for a hard fought victory.

NP gals are unbeaten booters

by ART POLAKOWSKI
With his team presently sporting a 5-0-1 record, New Providence girls' soccer coach Skip Lyne is eagerly anticipating this Thursday's crucial match with arch-rival Berkeley Heights (3-0).

"That should be a great game," notes Lyne, who's in his second season at the helm of the NP booters. "Berkeley Heights was an outstanding team last year, and it appears they may be even stronger now. We'd like to be at full strength so we have a fair shot at them."

The Pioneers are presently without a trio of top performers in forwards Barbara Brochhagen and Laurie Hallock and midfielder Teresa Campana.

Brochhagen and Hallock — who've notched eight and five goals respectively this autumn — each suffered knee injuries in the same game and have missed the past two contests. Campana has likewise been out with a virus, but the center midfielder star is due back in action this week.

The situation necessarily isn't as definite for Brochhagen and Hallock. "I'm hoping both Barbara and Laurie will be able to play a little Tuesday (against Hillside)," offers Lyne, "so that they'll be ready to go full tilt against Berkeley Heights. But with knee injuries you never know, and we're not going to take any chances with them."

New Providence won its first five matches and owned a 2-0 halftime lead against Bayonne this past Tuesday before the Hudson County team came back to earn a 2-2 tie. "Without three starters we were really hurting depth-wise," relates Lyne, "and our girls wore down in the second half."

The coach praises the Pioneer defense for the way it's performed all season, and especially with the recent efforts when the squad was undermanned up front. Sweeper Karen Leitz, stopper Alicia Messina, and wing fullback Lisa Gramlich have all been playing extremely well since the beginning of the campaign.

Lyne expected both New Providence and Berkeley Heights to still be unbeaten when the local sides hook up this Thursday. The match is scheduled for a 4:00 p.m. start at the NP field.

Highlander netsters are inexperienced

by ART POLAKOWSKI
Coach Scott Shallcross, who's had a succession of fine girls' tennis squads at Berkeley Heights, finds himself in a rebuilding mode with his club this autumn. The Highlanders graduated their top five players from last season's 14-3 team, and Regional is going with a very inexperienced starting lineup now. Six of the starting seven players are underclassmen, and three of them are out for high school tennis for the first time.

"I'm pleased with the way the girls are working, and potentially we have some good players, but I'm not sure how many matches we'll be able to win this year," relates Shallcross. The Highlanders show an 0-3 record so far this autumn.

The Berkeley coach notes that his three singles players are close in ability. Right now Libby Rifkin is handling the top spot, while Stacey Karp is in the second hole, and Debbie Shapiro operates in the third post. Karp and Shapiro have been the most successful players, as each has defeated two of her three opponents.

Junior Rifkin and sophomore Shapiro were the second doubles tandem a year ago, making them the most experienced of the current Highlanders. Karp, who's likewise a 10th-grader, is a youngster who wasn't out for this team last fall, but she obviously has some background in the sport. In fact, Shallcross notes that all three of his singles competitors played a lot of tennis over the summer.

The new first doubles combo consists of senior Julie Schoenberg and sophomore Lisa Gardner, two girls who were varsity back-ups last autumn. The second doubles duo pairs twins Jackie and Michelle Bothner, a couple of 11th-graders out for the sport for the first time.

"If our kids continue to improve, we'll be fairly competitive by the end of the season," projects Coach Shallcross. "And we have to think we should be a pretty good team next year."

NP PAL football wins two at Somerset Hills

Visiting Somerset Hills teams at their Basking Ridge home field, New Providence PAL football teams had their best day yet.

Junior Hawks
Somerset Hills got a jolt when New Providence Junior Hawks scored on their first possession. Butler, on a quarterback keep, ran for a touchdown from the 44-yard line. Early in the second quarter, helped by Ken Urbano's fumble recovery, New Providence had the ball on the Somerset Hills' 22-yard line. Eric Blum then ran through the line and scored the second New Providence touchdown, making it 12-0 at halftime.

Opening the second half, Somerset Hills ran back the kickoff for a touchdown, making the score 12-6.

In the fourth quarter, Somerset Hills Junior Bull Pups scored on a pass from the 26-yard line, bringing the score to 12-12. The game-ending goal line stand by New Providence saved the tie.

Hawks
Two teams with a 3-1 record fought hard for second place in the Mountain Valley Conference. Strong defensive work by the Somerset Hills Bull Pups and New Providence Hawks marked the first quarter. In the second quarter, New Providence took possession on its own 28-yard line. On the first play, Paul Palschakov made a 72-yard run for the first touchdown — contributing to his 114 yard total gained in nine carries.

Early in the fourth quarter, Ben Pitcher completed a pass to Jimmie Badalato who outran four defenders in a 75-yard touchdown. Now losing 12-0, Somerset Hills marched to the New Providence 20-yard line. Then the "shut out" defense of the Hawks asserted itself and held for four successive plays ending with a pass interception by Anthony Pignio.

Five tackles by middle linebacker Eddie Orr late in the fourth quarter highlighted a fierce defense by New Providence.

Falcons
At the end of its opening 65-yard drive, New Providence scored from the 1-yard line with a pass by Paul Casarico to Joe Vano. After his touchdown, Vano then completed the conversion to make the score 8-0. In the second quarter, the Casarico-Vano combination worked again for the second touchdown. This Highlanders worth waiting for

Berkeley Heights football fans found their team's overdue opener was worth waiting for, as the Highlanders began their campaign with a 21-0 victory over Kenilworth at the losers' field last Sunday afternoon. Regional launched its campaign two weeks later than scheduled due to the cancellation of its listed meeting against Peddie. The defeat left Kenilworth with a 1-1 record.

Kenilworth went into last weekend's contest as the favorite, but it was all Berkeley Heights once the game started. As predicted in this space a week ago by Berkeley's first-year defensive coordinator Chet Parlavocchio, some gridiron followers may have underestimated the Highlanders. Parlavocchio maintained that the locals' defense was strong enough to keep them in every game, and it was more than that Sunday as Regional thoroughly shut down the Bears.

Roselle will provide a different sort of test when the Highlanders visit this Mountain-Valley Conference rival for a 1:00 p.m. kickoff this afternoon. The Rams, who are 1-1 thus far, have very good team speed, and their big-play threat is in contrast to Kenilworth's grind-it-out attack.

White House flower designer speaks at Woman's Club

Nationally acclaimed dried flower designer, Cathy Miller, will present a lecture demonstration entitled, "Yes, They Really Are Dried Flowers!" at the meeting of the Woman's Club of Berkeley Heights on Tues., October 15 at 1 pm at Westminster Presbyterian Church, 725 Mountain Ave.

Mrs. Miller will explain how most garden flowers can be preserved to enjoy all year. During her lecture, Mrs. Miller will create and complete a large dried garden flower arrangement. Other sample arrangements will be on display, and instructions will be available.

Mrs. Miller, past president of the Wyckoff Garden Club, has been the recipient of many blue ribbons and awards both locally and at state shows. Her articles on dried flowers have appeared in Ladies Home Journal, Bride's Magazine, Better Homes and Gardens, and Family Circle where, in 1978, her Christmas wreath design appeared on the December cover. Between 1979 and 1981 she attained her primary success; she created fifty-one dried garden flower arrangements for the White House in Washington, D.C.

The public is invited to join the Woman's Club members for this special program.

Honored guests included Mr. and Mrs. Frank Formichella and Mr. and Mrs. Dominick Mellusi, Sr., grandparents of the bride; Mrs. Rose Formichella, great-grandmother of the bride; and Mrs. Theresa Kennedy, grandmother of the groom.

Mrs. Kennedy is a graduate of New Providence High School and is employed by Martindale and Hubbell, Inc. in Murray Hill.

Mr. Kennedy, also a graduate of New Providence High School, is employed by C.R. Bard in Berkeley Heights. Mr. Kennedy is also a volunteer firefighter for the town of New Providence.

After a wedding trip to Aruba, the couple will reside in New Providence.

Celia Knight Gurley marries Richard Alexander

Celia and Richard Alexander.

Celia Knight Gurley and Richard Alexander were married Aug. 3 at The Chatham United Methodist Church. The Reverend Dale Forsman performed the double-ring ceremony.

A reception followed at Canoe Brook Country Club in Summit.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Wanda Gurley of Berkeley Heights and the late Roger K. Gurley. The groom is the son of Mrs. Joseph Olney, Jr., of Providence, RI.

Barbara and John Carey of Atlanta, GA, were matron of honor and best man/usher.

The bride wore a chapel length gown of Chantilly lace with pearl accents on the bodice and a finger-tip length veil with Chantilly lace trim which flowed from a crown with pearl and sequin accents.

She is a graduate of Chatham High School, alumna of Drew University, and employed as a secretary at The Chatham United Methodist Church.

The groom attended Bryant College and is a sales manager for the Martin Company of Bloomfield.

The couple resides in Chatham.

Oak Knoll School names three new trustees

SUMMIT — Sister Cynthia Vives, S.H.C.J., headmistress of Oak Knoll School of the Holy Child, has named three new members, Jeanne M. Daley, John Mulcahy, and Maureen Welsh, S.H.C.J., to its Board of Trustees.

Daley has had a varied career in television commercial production and marketing. She is director of the paralegal department and recruitment coordinator for Rogers and Wells, a law firm in New York City. She is a graduate of the Holy Child School in Rye, New York and received a B.A. from Newton College.

Mulcahy is the president of Mulcahy Realty and Construction Company. He is president of the Home Builders Association of Somerset and Morris Counties and former director of the New Jersey Builders Association. Mulcahy served as a trustee of the Far Hills Country Day School for six years and was chairman of the Board for two years. He received the B.S. degree from Villanova University.

Welsh, S.H.C.J., an Oak Knoll alumna, has served as a principal and teacher in Holy Child schools. She is presently director of PSAT/NMSQT and associate director of admission and testing for the College Board. A resident of Rye, New York, Sister Maureen received the A.B. and M.A. from Villanova and an M.S. from the University of Pennsylvania.

Sister Vives said, "We are pleased that these outstanding individuals have decided to bring their talents to Oak Knoll. Our trustees are dedicated to the School and to Oak Knoll's commitment to Christ-centered education."

Teen benefit is set at Kent Place School

SUMMIT — The Teen Arts Festival of Summit, New Providence and Berkeley Heights will offer a program of classical and popular instrumental and vocal music, mime and drama in the new 260-seat auditorium at 8 pm Wed., Oct. 16.

Originally planned for Sept. 27, the benefit program was postponed due to Hurricane Gloria.

Performers will be high school students from the tri-community area who were chosen from last year's 700 festival participants to compete at county and state levels. Founded by the Summit Junior League in 1972, the festival offers a unique cultural experience for students aged 13 to 19 who attend one of the public or private schools in the three communities.

All seats are $5 and may be purchased at the door. Proceeds will benefit the 1986 Teen Arts Festival, which will be held in the new Kent Place field house on Feb. 28 and March 1. Prior to the benefit a reception will be held at 7 pm in the lobby of the newly expanded Kent Place Arts Center.

WELCOME! Enjoying a pleasant fall day on the Oak Knoll campus, Summit, are, left to right, Erin Tighe, Ann Inglesby, Tony Pollock, and Kristen Beifus. They look forward to welcoming prospective students and their parents to the school on Sun., Oct. 20 for the Upper School Open House.

Alumnae to discuss career choices at Oak Knoll

Attorney, Dentist, Chemist, Account Executive, Homemaker — these are among career choices to be explored at Career Night at Oak Knoll School on Tues., Oct. 15, 7:30 pm.

The event, held in the school gymnasium, will focus on the careers of seven talented Oak Knoll alumnae.

Each woman will speak on her profession, her reasons for choosing that particular career, and the preparation each choice entails.

Women to speak include Diane Pirano, Value Added distributed for IBM Computers; Bonnie Smith, manager, HBO

Marketing Department; Judy Timmes Herring, account executive, Federal Express; Virginia Gramm Mauney, attorney and mother; Cathy Leddy Codner, chemist, Ciba-Geigy; Margaret McIntyre, DMD, dentist; and Joan Smith Myers, homemaker.

Joan Brennan, director of Guidance for Oak Knoll, said, "We plan to have a discussion of careers and the positive choices that we can make for ourselves. These women will help to enlighten our students, parents and guests on the opportunities available in a variety of fields."

Ann Inglesby of Summit, Student Council president, is student coordinator for Career Night.

Career Night is free and open to the public.

Oratory preps for flea market, Christmas Bazaar

SUMMIT — The Oratory Prep School will hold a Flea Market and Christmas Bazaar Nov. 9, in the campus gym. Anyone interested in a table may call 273-1157 or 273-1084.

The flea market will supply an extra-long table with enough space for all dealers to display items.

Christmas Bazaar tables will be available with seasonal items. Refreshments will be served.

The school is on Morris Ave. and Bedford Road, three blocks up from Ciba.

Kristin Dackow of Summit, will attend the University of Bridgeport this fall.

Kristin, daughter of Thomas and Edith Dackow, is enrolled in a four-year program.

Dackow is a 1985 graduate of Summit High School. During high school she was a member of the chorus.

Eric McLendon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Heath McLendon of Summit, is a member of the freshman class this fall at Hartwick College in Oneonta, NY.

Hartwick College is a private, coeducational, liberal arts institution of 1400 students, located in the Catskill Mountain region of New York State.

Jennifer C. Major of Summit was among nearly 450 students who returned this fall to Colby-Sawyer College, New London, NH.

Major will continue her studies in Child Study at the 149 year old women's college. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Major.

Jose I. Luzarraga of Summit is among 31 Delbarton School students designated Commended Students in the 1986 Merit Program.

Luzarraga will receive a Letter of Commendation in honor of outstanding academic promise, demonstrated by placing in the top 5 percent of over one million participants in the 31st annual National Merit Scholarship Program.

Sara E. Witmer of Summit is among 21 seniors at The Pingry School, Bernards Township campus who have been named Commended Students in the 1986 Merit Program.

She is the daughter of Mrs. Ralph Witmer of Summit.

Short Hills campus opens house

SHORT HILLS — The Lower School of The Pingry School will host on Oct. 20 an Open House on its Short Hills campus from 2 pm to 4 pm for prospective parents of boys and girls who wish to enter kindergarten through sixth grade and for other interested parents.

The Pingry School, teaching students K-12 on its two campuses, with its Middle and Upper School located in nearby Martinsville, has an enrollment of 930 on both campuses.

Following opening remarks by Headmaster David C. Wilson and Head of the Lower School J. Alan Savolaine, there will be guided tours of the school and an art display under the direction of Harriet Delong. Music will be performed by a student instrumental group and the Girls' Chorus.

Assistant Heads Evelyn Kastl (primary department) and Ted Corvino (elementary department) and other key faculty members will be available to answer questions about the school, the curriculum and other special features.

For more information, call Nicki Southworth, Assistant Director of Admissions at 379-4550.

'Sesame Street' characters and friends gathered to celebrate the Grand Opening of Rick's Toy World on Sat. Sept. 21. This store, located at 321 Springfield Ave., in Summit, is Rick's third store with other locations in Flemington and Somerville.

Oak Knoll to stage life of Julian, first English woman writer

SUMMIT - "Julian" will be performed by Roberta Nobleman, British actress, author, at Oak Knoll School of the Holy Child on Wed., Oct. 16, 9:30 am.

The one-woman dramatization will take place in the School's Convent Chapel.

Julian was the first known English woman writer, theologian and mystic. Born in 1342, she was a contemporary of Chaucer.

Julian wrote her "Revelations of Divine Love" in a cell attached to the Church of St. Julian in Norwich, England. Her comments on the wars, plagues, and spiritual dilemmas of the time touches a chord in those who experience Mrs. Nobleman's transformation into Julian.

Julian survived three outbreaks of the Black Plague, the Peasants' Revolt, the Great Western Schism, and the Hundred Years' War.

Lynch, Tennant are inducted into sorority's Cardinal Circle

Florence Lynch of Morristown and Mary Tennant of Summit, members of the New Jersey Alumnae Chapter of Alpha Omicron Pi, Women's International Sorority, were elected into The Cardinal Circle of the sorority at its national convention recently in Washington, D.C.

Membership is reserved for those who have given several years of service to the sorority.

A past president, Mrs. Tennant is now serving as philanthropic chairwoman of the New Jersey group. She has appeared for state and national groups as a keynote speaker, including the recent national convention. She is a graduate of the University of Michigan where she was founder and president of the sorority. Later, she was named an outstanding alumna.

Also a past president, Mrs. Lynch is now treasurer of the New Jersey group. She and her husband have been named "Mr. and Mrs. A.O.Pi" for their years of service in welcoming members for large socials and fund raisers. Mrs. Lynch is a graduate of the University of Colorado.

The sorority's national Philanthropic Foundation is committed to arthritis research. In 1984, the foundation presented a check for $30,000 to the National Arthritis Foundation on the national Telethon originating from Nashville, TN. An additional $20,000 was committed to educational grants for continuing research programs for its own members.

Each year the New Jersey chapter has fund raisers for the arthritis fund.

Weber and Coleman are top salespersons of the month in Schlott's Summit office

Betty Weber and Jane Coleman, sales associates with Schlott Realtors, Summit, have been named top salespersons of the month in their office. They shared the honor by attaining sales and listings productions which were greater than the sales volumes obtained by any of their colleagues.

Weber, who joined Schlott earlier this year, is already a leading sales producer in her office. Skilled in servicing her clients' real estate needs, she is affiliated with the Realtor Boards of Summit, New Providence and Berkeley Heights; the Oranges and Maplewood; and Morris and Somerset Counties.

Before beginning her real estate career, Weber worked as a systems analyst. She holds a B.A. from the University of Illinois and an M.B.A. from New York University. She also has experience in the social work field.

A resident of Summit for 11 years, Weber is active with the local high school PTA and has been involved with the school's Band Parents Association. She and her husband, Philip, have two children, Christine and Paul.

Coleman, who joined Schlott in 1981, is also a skilled real estate professional. She has been named top salesperson of the month in the Summit office three times this year and has consistently been named to the statewide Million Dollar Sales Club. In addition, she is a two-time member of Schlott's prestigious President's Club.

As an experienced sales associate, Coleman offers her customers the latest home buying and selling services. She belongs to the Realtor Boards of Morris and Somerset Counties; Westfield; the Oranges and Maplewood; and Summit, New Providence, and Berkeley Heights.

Coleman is a graduate of the University of Massachusetts Hickox Business School in Boston. She formerly worked as a banquet and sales manager in the hotel industry. Also a resident of Summit, Coleman is originally from Massachusetts and has lived throughout the United States.

She is a member of the Calvary Episcopal Church in Summit and the Kappa Gamma Alumnae Association. Mrs. Coleman and her husband, Cornelius, have four children.

Magidson to teach math, computer skills

Joining Far Brook School's faculty this fall is Susan Magidson of Summit, teaching computer skills and enrichment mathematics in the Middle School and mathematics in the Junior High School.

Magidson is a 1985 graduate of Brown University where she was graduate with a Bachelor of Arts in Computer Science and a Bachelor of Arts in English.

She was an instructor at the Computer Center at Brown, where she taught students, faculty and administrators how to use the university's computer system. Also, she was head teaching assistant for an introductory computer course at the university.

Magidson is co-author of a commercial textbook "The Mystical Machine: Issues and Ideas in Computing," to be published by Addison-Wesley this winter.

A bassoonist, she played in Brown's Orchestra and Wind Ensemble and for local choral groups and churches. She hopes to be active in Far Brook's music program as a member of the School's chamber music groups, and will give a special Morning Meeting program for the school on the bassoon.

A 1980 high honors graduate of Staples High School in Westport, CT, Magidson has spent her summers in a variety of roles, from camp counselor and

Woodruff J. English to receive honors

Woodruff J. English of Summit will be honored by the Essex County Bar Association for his 50 years of practicing law. He will be honored at a dinner Oct. 22 at The Chanticleer, Millburn. Master of Ceremonies is William E. McGlynn of Spring Lake, a former president of the association.

English is a partner in the Newark law firm of McCarter & English.

THE GRAND OPENING of the United Counties Trust Company's 11th Automated Teller Machine, the Wizard of Ease, was celebrated at the bank's 299 Morris Avenue branch, Summit, Sept. 14. Attending the opening were, left to right, Councilman Thomas Kelsey; Eugene H. Bauer, president, United Counties Trust Company; Mayor Robert J. Hartlaub; Summit Deputy Police Chief Mario J. Formicella; Robert J. McCullen, regional vice-president; and Robert W. Downes, senior vice-president, Branch Operations.

Light qualifies for Million Dollar Club

Rosaleen Light, full-time sales associate on the staff of Weichert Realtors, Summit again has qualified for the New Jersey Million Dollar Club.

To qualify, a sales associate must be responsible for $2 million in real estate transactions; Light surpassed this marker by far, reporting $6 million in volume. Light has been a part of the Weichert team in Summit for more than six years. "We really get a lot of support from the company and from the Summit office. The services Weichert has to offer help us all provide the most professional package for our customers," Light said.

She has qualified for the Million Dollar Club every year for five years in a row. She is a member of the Boards of Realtors in Summit, New Providence, Berkeley Heights, Westfield, Somerset County and Morris County.

Weichert in Summit is one of 105 offices.

Behnke attends U.S. Professional Paperhanging School

Walter Behnke of Summit has enrolled in the United States School of Professional Paperhanging, Rutland, VT.

Behnke expects to receive a Certificate of Achievement as a Professional Wallcovering Installer & Entrepreneur upon completion of the 10-week, 350-hour course.

The curriculum includes wallcovering installation both in and out of school, emphasizing practical work problems and outside on-the-job practice.

Students are taught pattern matching, estimating material usage, wall preparation, adhesive selection and numerous installation techniques. All types of wallcoverings for residential and commercial use are included.

The U.S. School of Professional Paperhanging, Inc. is the only paperhanging school to ever achieve accredited status (1876 and 1982) by the Accrediting Commission of the National Association of Trade and Technical Schools. The Accrediting Commission of N.A.T.T.S. is listed by the U.S. Office of Education as a nationally recognized accrediting agency under the provision of Chapter 33, Title 38, U.S. Code and Subsequent Legislation.

Weichert to conduct annual convention

SUMMIT — James M. Weichert, president of Weichert Realtors, has set the company's third annual company-wide convention for Oct. 15 at Brendan Byrne Arena in the Meadowlands Sports Complex.

Weichert representatives from the 104 office locations throughout the New Jersey, New York, and Philadelphia metropolitan area are expected to attend.

John Brockelman, manager of the Summit office, said, "We look forward to this event each year. It's a good time for many of us to touch base with colleagues from other areas. We'll be participating with a special booth showing the unique features of our area. The theme of this year's convention is 'Why Choose My Area?'"

Nearly 5,000 Weichert sales associates, employees, and outside vendors are expected to participate in the celebration. More than 150 creative exhibits will feature Weichert's many service areas, real estate services and products. Outside vendors and suppliers who serve the real estate industry will also display their wares, including mortgage institutions, banks, car dealers and furniture companies.

Dedication to excellence in sales associate service is recognized at the convention when the firm's record number of Million Dollar Club and President's club members are honored for outstanding achievements during the year. This year more than 600 associates in the Weichert Million Dollar Club are expected to attend.

Weichert, Realtors has 104 offices serving New Jersey, New York, Connecticut and Pennsylvania. In addition to residential real estate sales, the company markets office, retail and industrial properties; new home communities; and real estate investments. The Summit office is at 474 Morris Ave.; telephone 277-1200.

Rancke tops sales and listings production

Barbara Rancke, a sales associate with Schlott Realtors, Summit, has recently been named as a top salesperson of the month in her office. She won the honor by achieving a sales and listings production of nearly $1 million.

Rancke has worked in the real estate field for 17 years. She holds the Graduate Realtor Institute (GRI) and Certified Residential Specialist (CRS) designations. A leading sales producer, she has been named to the prestigious statewide Million Dollar Sales Club ten times.

Rancke is a member of the Realtor Boards of Morris and Somerset Counties; Westfield; the Oranges and Maplewood; and Summit, New Providence, and Berkeley Heights. She is a licensed broker and is a former treasurer of the Salesman's Association of the Summit Board.

In addition to her responsibilities with Schlott, Rancke is active in community organizations. A resident of Summit for the last 25 years, she is an elder with the Central Presbyterian Church, where she also serves as a member of the Parish Guild and teaches classes part-time. She has been involved with the Girl Scouts and the YWCA, and is a former co-chairman of the United Way Campaign in the Summit area. Rancke and her husband, Al, have four children and eight grandchildren.

Schlott Realtors' Summit office is located at 361 Springfield Avenue. The real estate firm, which is one of the largest in the country, has more than 75 offices in the New York metropolitan area and Florida.

YMCA provides Y on Wheels services for children

AREA — The Summit YMCA has undergone many changes in recent years in its attempt to adjust its services to changes in society. One shift has been the implementation of the Y on Wheels program which transports children to the YMCA from 14 elementary schools in Summit, New Providence, Berkeley Heights and Springfield.

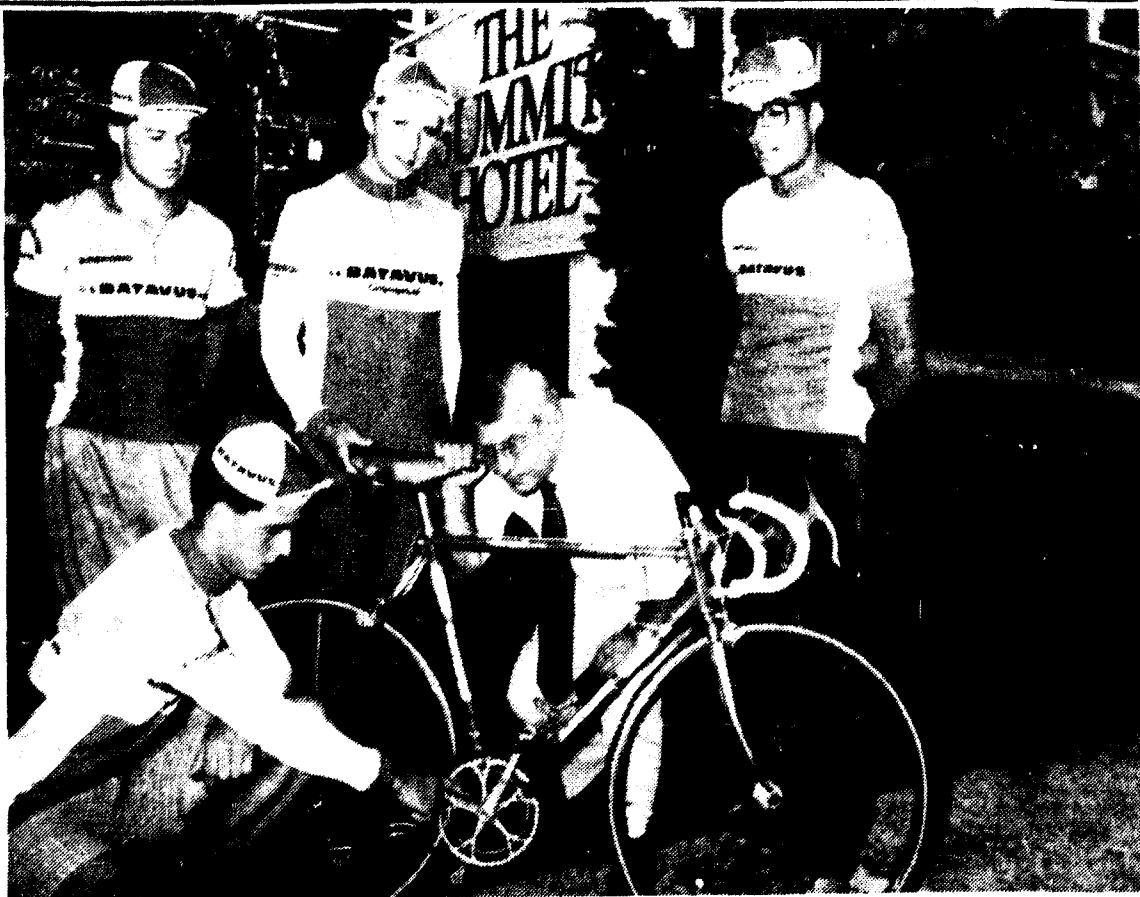

"We began Y on Wheels in 1983," commented Bill Lovett, YMCA Assistant General Executive, "as a convenience to Berkeley Heights parents and children. We quickly discovered, however, a great demand in order towns we service and expanded the program in several stages to include four communities." Y on Wheels transports 60-70 children per day to the Y for different programs including swimming, gymnastics, karate, trampolines, music, arts and crafts, soccer, and other sports. Following the activity, children may elect free swim, or do homework with staff supervision, have a snack, or spend quiet time watching a movie with friends.

"We try and strike a balance between organized, active, instructional activities and the more informal and quiet periods a child also needs," stated Lovett. "Parents want their children excited and stimulated. Our programs accomplish this, and that is why Y on Wheels is successful."

Another innovation for the Y is the establishment of after school centers at six schools in Millburn, Berkeley Heights, and Millington. Children stay at school following dismissal and have a program with a YMCA staff person. "The convenience of a local neighborhood program combined with Y leadership has been very well received by parents," said Bill Lovett.

DR. MURRAY ROSS, president of Summit's Common Council, looks over the bike of a participating cyclist after festivities at The Summit Hotel for UMDNJ Bicycle Race for Health. Ross welcomed the cyclists to The Summit Hotel after the first day of the three-stage race and presented the key to the city to Herbert Roemmele, Chairman, Board of Trustees, UMDNJ. The Summit Hotel was a host hotel during the three-day event.

Hospital to salute Hazen at dinner-dance

The Christ Hospital Foundation, Jersey City, will honor banking executive W. Richard Hazen of Summit at its annual dinner-dance Oct. 19 at Mayfair Farms, West Orange.

Hazen serves as president and chief administrative officer of First Jersey National Corporation and vice-chairman of its subsidiary, First Jersey National Bank of Jersey City.

He has been a Trustee of Christ Hospital for 11 years. Currently, he serves as vice-chairman for Finance, Christ Hospital Health Services Corporation Board of Trustees, and as treasurer of the Christ Hospital Foundation.

"Under Hazen's leadership as chairman of the Trustee Finance Committee, Christ Hospital completed a $46 million construction and renovation program in 1978, construction of the $4 million Cancer Treatment Center last year and the development of business opportunities in related health fields," said LeRoy J. Lenahan, Christ Hospital Foundation chairman.

"Previous honorees were members of the Christ Hospital Medical Staff," said Lenahan. "We are extremely proud that this year's honoree is not only a hard working member of the Board of Trustees but also a well-respected member of New Jersey's corporate community," he continued.

The annual dinner-dance is the foundation's major event of the fund-raising year, according to Lenahan.

LeRoy and Jean Lenahan will serve as the dinner-dance chairpersons; Irwin Hirschberg, M.D. as the Medical Staff chairman; Herman Suenholz, president, First Jersey National Bank of Jersey City will serve as Ad Journal chairman; and the Christ Hospital Auxiliary will conduct the raffle.

The foundation expects 350 guests to attend. Entertainment will be provided by Ray DePietro and his orchestra.

For tickets and Ad Journal information contact the foundation, 795-8000.

Gloria Rojas featured by United Way

Gloria Rojas, New Jersey correspondent for WABC-TV Eyewitness News and a resident of Summit, was featured speaker at the United Way of Essex and West Hudson's 1986 campaign "kick-off" luncheon in Newark last Tuesday.

Ms. Rojas recounted her experience with United Way agencies both as a child and as a reporter. In particular she lauded United Way agency relief efforts at the recent Paterson fire.

The goal of this year's campaign is to raise $10 million to support the work of over 75 beneficiary organizations in Essex and West Hudson.

Prepared Sibling Course' is offered

SUMMIT — Overlook Hospital will offer a monthly Prepared Sibling Course, geared toward children between the ages of three and 12 whose family is expecting a baby.

The next course is set for Sat., Oct. 12, from 9:30 to 11 am or 1 to 2:30 pm.

Children's anxieties about their mothers going to the hospital will be alleviated as they become familiar with the hospital environment.

The program includes a tour, a nursery story session and audiovisual presentation. The young participants also will be able to dress up in little hospital gowns, caps and masks. Instructors will give the children pointers on how they can help out at home once the newborn arrives. Graduates of the program will be given buttons announcing "I'm a prepared big sister" or "brother," as the case may be.

Mothers and fathers also may participate in the program.

A $15 registration fee is charged. Parents are advised by Overlook to sign up two months in advance of their due date. Interested persons may call Overlook's Department of Health Education at 522-2963 for more information.

Divorce support group to start

SUMMIT — A support group for women who are going through divorce or separation is being offered on Thursday evenings from 7:30 pm to 9 pm at the Resource Center for Women which is located at the Calvary Episcopal Church at Woodland and DeForest Avenues.

Sandy Smith, a family counselor in private practice, will facilitate this group which will focus on such issues as finishing up the business of the past, working through the present crisis and taking a look at the future.

"Divorce and separation are crisis times in a person's life," said Smith, "and support from others in the same situation can not only be comforting but very helpful." The group will run for six sessions at a cost of $10 a session. To register or for more information, call 273-7253 from 9 am to noon, Monday through Friday.

Local bassist leads Boston concert

Berklee College of Music sophomore Mark Corradetti of Summit, bassist, will lead his dynamic ensemble in "I'm Home From the Club," an exciting concert of contemporary jazz, on Oct. 17 in the Berklee Recital Hall.

A graduate of Summit High School, where he was a prominent member of the Stage and Concert Bands, the highly talented Corradetti has performed at premier musical showcases throughout the United States with such luminaries as vocalist Bobby Hebb and the "Jay Laurino Trio."

Since enrolling at Berklee, Boston, he has been a frequent participant in the college's internationally hailed Concert Series, appearing with faculty and student musicians.

In his upcoming concert, Corradetti will direct an ensemble of Berklee student instrumentalists in a diverse program featuring compositions by such artists as Wayne Shorter and distinguished Berklee alumnus Joe Zawinul.

Corradetti is majoring in Performance at Berklee, an international center for education in professional music renowned for its illustrious jazz faculty and practical career preparation.

Elementary school girls cheerleading

SUMMIT — The Board of Recreation will begin a program of cheerleading on Wed., Oct. 9, at the Edison Recreation Center.

Girls in grades three through eight are eligible to take part. Third, fourth, and fifth graders will meet from 3:30 to 4:30 and sixth, seventh, and eighth graders will meet from 4:30 to 5:30 pm. The program will run for six consecutive Wednesdays, and girls should wear appropriate clothing.

Flyers have been distributed through the school system. Girls interested but not receiving the flyer and application form may pick one up at the Memorial Field Office or the Edison Recreation Center. Applications should be submitted by October 8th.

More information may be had by calling 277-4119.
