"Where Do We Disagree?"
There has been a great deal of disagreement from time to time about the therapeutic value of sarsaparilla. In the main, authorities deny any particular medical value to the plant. "It's just an old wives' remedy," they say. And in the main they are right. There are about a dozen varieties of sarsaparilla, scattered through various countries, and of this dozen only one has any real curative power. So a man whose experience might be confined to the eleven other varieties might honestly say there was little value in them. The one valuable sarsaparilla is found in Honduras, C. A. Morcades, a physician of Seville, records the introduction of sarsaparilla into Spain as a result of the Spanish discoveries of the New World, between 1536 and 1545. But the root did not acclimatize much. But he adds, "a better sort soon after came from Honduras." It is this "better sort" that is used exclusively in Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It is the use of this "better sort" that has given Ayer's Sarsaparilla a name over all other varieties by reason of its wonderful cures of blood diseases. Send for the Curebook, a "story of cures told by the cured." Free. Address J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

A Valuable Prescription.
Editor Morrison of Worthington Ind., writes: "You have a valuable prescription in Electric Bitters, and I can cheerfully recommend it for constipation and sick headache, and as a general system tonic it has no equal." Mrs. Annie Stickle, 123 Cottage Grove Avenue, Chicago, was all run down, could not eat nor digest food, had a headache which never left her and felt tired and weary but six bottles of Electric Bitters restored her health and renewed her strength. Prices 50 cents and $1. Get a bottle at Dr. Ryall's Drug Store.

Second Concert of the Musical Society.
The second concert of the Westfield Musical Society will be given in the club hall Thursday evening May 13. The chorus portions of the program will be rendered by the society, and is sure to please, for they will be sung with expression and taste, those points being especially strong in the directing of Mr. Drake, as all who have had the pleasure of hearing him direct a chorus can testify. The solo portions of the program will be rendered by Miss Knight, a highly cultivated soprano possessing a beautiful voice. She is now singing in the Mann Avenue Presbyterian church, of Orange, which church is noted for its high order of music, having as organist Samuel P. Warren. Geo. E. Claubert, well and favorably known to Westfield, will delight us all by his exquisite fiddle playing. There are some who will remember when he played here before, how repeatedly he was encored, the audience going wild over his playing. Tickets are now in the hands of the members of the society for sale, and can be reserved at Dr. Ryall's drug store on May 1. With this concert the society will close their first season, which has been a success, both musically and financially. Arrangements are now being perfected for next winter's work, which will probably begin in October, with a chorus of 15 voices. Indigestion is often taken for consumption. The word consumption means wasting away, and dyspeptics often waste away as badly as consumptives. The reason people waste away is because either they don't get enough to eat, or they don't digest what they do eat. If the latter is your trouble, take Shaker Digestive Cordial. This will help you to digest your food and stop your loss of flesh. Shaker Digestive Cordial is made from herbs, laces and the juices of fruit, by the well-known Shakers at Mount Lebanon. It possesses great tonic and digestive powers. Shaker Digestive Cordial has cured many supposed consumptives who were really dyspeptics, by simply helping their stomachs to digest their food, thus giving them nourishment and new strength. Sold by druggists. Trial bottles to cents.

Uncivilized Methods.

If a thing has to be done, the barbarian does it, regardless how. He doesn't stop to think. He doesn't wonder around the desert, pulling his curls in order to think of a way to pull his lady's teeth without pain to her. It's thinking, good solid thought, and after that practical experience that has enabled us to do perfect work painlessly. We study the methods of the world. With our own improvements, we combine those of the world. We do the best work reasonably, because reasonable prices are enough to pay for the best work. If they were not, we should charge more.

A SIMPLE REPAIR.

Punctures in the well known Morgan & Wright tire are mended about as easily as a man would close a hole in his finger with a bit of court plaster. Inside of the inner tube of the tire lies a long strip of patching rubber, like this:

By injecting M. & W. quick-repair cement through the puncture into this inner tube, and then pressing down on the tire with the thumb, like this:

the repair strip inside is picked up by the cement, thus closing the puncture like this:

Very simple, but—now every rider should remember these two "butts," or he will fail:

Before injecting cement, pump up the tire. If you don't, the inner tube will be flabby, like this:

and the cement will not get inside of it, where the repair strip lies.

After the tire has been repaired, and inflated ready for riding, if it still leaks don't stick the injector into the puncture again, because that will puncture the repair strip itself, like this:

and you will have to pull out the inner tube and make an old-fashioned repair by putting a patch of rubber on the outside of the inner tube.

Item in Tapestry Painting.

In tapestry painting, in order to secure the proper shades, it is a good plan to select them in skeins of silk or flax thread and match these exactly on the palette when painting. The colors are so strong and crude in themselves that it is only by carefully mixing and sufficiently diluting them that artistic results can be arrived at. It is possible to match in this way any given shade, no matter how soft and delicate. Should any color appear brighter than it is intended to be, the defect can immediately be counteracted by the application of a little complementary color while the light tint is still wet. This is one of the advantages of using transparent dyes. A little practice soon gives the required experience, says the Art Amateur.

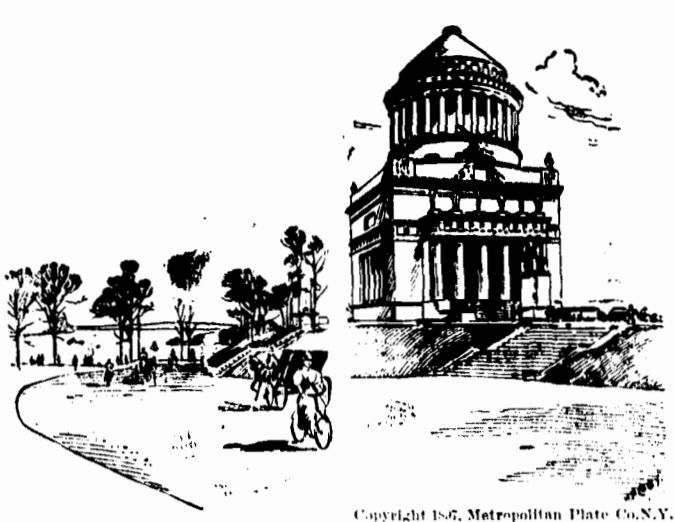

Apple Bread Pudding.

Place a layer of thinly cut slices of sour apple in a pudding dish, then one of bread crumbs. Continue in this way until 3 medium sized apples have been used, placing apples on top. To a cupful of boiling water add half a cupful of sugar, a tablespoonful of butter and lemon, vanilla, nutmeg, cinnamon or whatever flavoring is desired. Pour this liquid over the pudding, let stand 15 minutes, then bake in a moderate oven 40 minutes. Serve hot with hard or liquid sauce.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury.

As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except of prescription from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten-fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Sold by druggists, price 75c per bottle. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

THE TOMB OF GRANT
DEDICATED APRIL 27, 1897.

President McKinley viewed the naval parade on the United States steamship Dispatch. He left the reviewing stand at the tomb as soon as the fleet in the river came to anchor and boarded the Dispatch at the foot of the embankment opposite the monument.

The war vessels, yachts and merchant craft formed in a double line, and the President in the Dispatch passed between them, receiving salutes.

General Foster's Statistics.

General Horace Porter, president of the Grant Monument Association, in turning the mausoleum over to the care of the City of New York said in part:

Since the transfer of Napoleon's remains from St. Helena to France, and their interment in the Hotel des Invalides, there has been no similar function that equals in solemnity and importance the dedication of this tomb in Riverside Park.

During the progress of the work the unexpended balances have been deposited in four prominent New York trust companies, which have paid three per cent interest upon the amounts. With the sum contributed, small subscriptions received from time to time since, and the accrued interest, the entire amount of the fund will reach nearly $600,000, which will fully complete the structure and sarcophagus.

The time from the laying of the cornerstone to the completion of the tomb has been five years, a shorter period than has been consumed in the building of any conspicuous memorial in history. The Bunker Hill Monument, which cost $150,000, was not completed until seventeen years after the cornerstone was laid. In the case of the Washington Monument, which cost $1,187,710, the time consumed was thirty-seven years.

MRS. GRANT.

Ground was broken for it on the anniversary of General Grant's birthday, April 27, 1891. On the next anniversary and thirty days after the beginning of the movement to complete the fund, the cornerstone of the structure was laid with imposing ceremonies. General Harrison, then President of the United States, with members of his Cabinet, came on from Washington; and he, as President of the Republic, took the trowel in hand and performed the act of laying the stone in place. The Rev. Dr. John Hall offered the prayer, the president of the association made an address, and the Hon. Chauncey M. Depew delivered the oration. In a box placed in the cornerstone there were deposited a copy of the Constitution of the United States, of the Articles of Confederation, and of the Bible; the "Memoirs" of General Grant; a list of contributors of flowers; the prayer offered by the Rev. Dr. R. S. Storrs, and the address by General John A. Logan, on the occasion of the first memorial services, held at the temporary tomb, May 20, 1889; Mayor Grant's proclamation, dated April 8, 1892, to the citizens of New York, calling attention to the work of building the monument; a badge of the Grand Army of the Republic, and of the military order of the United States; eleven medals struck at the United States mints commemorative of events in the life of General Grant; one complete proof set of United States gold and silver coins; copies of New York City and Brooklyn afternoon papers of April 26, 1892, and daily morning papers of April 27, 1892; and various illustrated papers.

The Presidential party arrived at the Windsor Hotel 5 o'clock on Monday afternoon. The celebrated Stonewall Jackson Brigade Band, of Staunton, Va., comprising fifty pieces, tendered a serenade to President McKinley immediately after he entered the hotel. This famous band accompanied Stonewall Jackson all through the civil war. There are six original war members of the band still in its active service, and the remaining members of the band are sons of the veterans.

At the battle of Appomattox Gen. Grant issued an order to allow the members of the band to take their instruments home with them, which they still use. The band occupied a post of honor at the funeral of General Grant.

After the serenade the President received the members of the alumni of the New York College and Columbia College. In the evening President and Mrs. McKinley were tendered a dinner by Mr. and Mrs. Abner McKinley in their apartments in the hotel.

Later a brilliant reception to the President and Vice-President was given at the Union League Club.

DEATH OF COLONEL PEYTON.

He was the Father of the Centennial Celebration of 1876.

Colonel Jesse E. Peyton died at Hadisonville, N. J., Wednesday.

Colonel Peyton was popularly known as the "father of centennials," because it was he who conceived some of the biggest celebrations of historical events in the country. Probably the first of these was the centennial of American independence celebrated in Philadelphia in 1876. It was in 1865 that he conceived this, and planned the preliminary meeting in Independence Hall. Later celebrations proposed by him were those of Bunker Hill, Yorktown, the Constitutional and New York.

DEMOCRATS DEMAND TIME.

They Propose to Make a Thorough Examination of the Tariff Bill.

The Democratic members of the Senate Finance Committee have followed up their refusal to allow the tariff bill to be reported direct to the Senate with the announcement that they would expect to be given opportunity for a thorough examination of all the schedules of the bill as amended before it is reported to the Senate. They have already employed one expert, and will employ others to take up the bill in their behalf as soon as it is presented to them. They expect to be able to examine the bill sufficiently to permit it to go to the Senate in about two weeks' time after they receive it.

Senator Holman Dead.

Senator Holman, known as "the watch dog of the treasury" and the "great objector," died Saturday in Washington. He represented Indiana in the Senate many years.

"Indeed! Worse than I thought, Grace," said Leale calmly. "You will be wise to take a cool bath and a nap then. At all events, see that he does not leave the barracks this afternoon, sergeant."

sorted, and all was silence below. Now at least Helen Dauntton could close her eyes and plan and think. He was to be placed on guard. He would be on post right out here on the bluff. Then what was to prevent her slipping out in the dusk of the evening, when all the others had gone over to the assembly hall, spending with him, pleading with him, imploring him to go away, anywhere—anywhere where he would not again in drink a mood endanger that poor mother's life by the sudden shock of his presence? She would agree to anything; she would follow him, slave for him, starve with him, be his wife or his handmaid—anything to get him away—far away from the sunshine, the smiles, the hopes and joys and blessings that had been hers at old Fort Frayne.

"I cannot talk with you now. Let me go," thought that already he had been too heavily involved, all on account of this fair sufferer and suppliant, but certain it is he followed, hesitating, and that it was with a far from reassuring face he confronted his captor.

SKATING IN OLD DAYS.

How the Sport Became Popular in New York City. While skating is now one of the most popular sports of the winter season it is only comparatively a few years since it has become so in this city. When the Central park was being constructed in 1850 and the small artificial lake at Fifty-ninth street was nearly completed, the park commissioners announced that it would be thrown open for the use of skaters. A few men took advantage of the invitation, but women could not be induced to go on the ice. The skates then in use were of the most antique pattern, some of the runners extending a long way in front of the foot, ending in a ringlike curl. In a crowd these skates were quite dangerous, and the first year skating was anything except popular.
