Logical Education.

The old man hobbled into the office of a life insurance agent.

"I want to get my life insured," he said.

"Sorry, sir," replied the agent, "but I can't insure you."

"What's the reason you can't?" demanded the applicant.

"Because of your age," explained the other. "By the way, how old are you?"

"Ninety-three."

"Nothing doing at that age."

"But you insure men of 50."

"Oh, yes; but that's quite different."

"But the difference is in my favor," protested the old man. "I can prove by my own figures that fewer men die at the age of 93 than at 50."

A Tribute to Temperance.

The grave digger of a little town in Scotland was induced to give up his habit of hard drinking and sign the pledge.

In a public meeting he gave his "experience." "I never thought to tell ye," he said, "that for a whole month I haven't touched a drop of anything. I've saved enough to buy me a brass collar of brass buttons and brass nails—and if I'm a teetotaler for another month I shall be wanting it!"

Too Much Prosperity.

"There walks one of the successful men of New York," said an old resident to a stranger, nodding to a well-groomed man of happy demeanor striding along Broadway. "But," he added, sotto voce, "he hasn't the slightest knowledge of the world."

"How's that?" the visitor asked. "Because he has always been successful, and doesn't know the meaning of adversity. He who always prospers sees the world but on one side."

MIX THIS AT HOME

The following simple home-made mixture is said to readily relieve and overcome any form of Rheumatism by forcing the kidneys to filter from the blood and system all the uric acid and poisonous waste matter, relieving at once such symptoms as backache, weak kidneys and bladder and blood diseases.

Try it, as it doesn't cost much to make, and it is said to be absolutely harmless to the stomach.

Get the following harmless ingredients from any good pharmacy: Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kurgan, one ounce; Syrup Sassa-parilla, three ounces. Mix by shaking well in a bottle, and take a teaspoonful after each meal and again at bedtime.

This simple mixture is said to give prompt relief, and there are very few cases of Rheumatism and Kidney troubles it will fail to cure permanently.

These are all harmless, every-day drugs, and your druggist should keep them in the prescription department; if not, have him order them from the wholesale drug houses for you, rather than fail to use this, if you are afflicted.

THE NEW PARK COMMISSION.

Members Appointed by Mayor—A preliminary report for the Year—Fire Chief Makes Recommendations for Improved Services.

At the adjourned meeting of the town council Monday evening the Mayor appointed Commission Floyd, Bomer and Russell as the representatives of the council on the Park Commission for the coming year. H. E. D. Jackson was appointed for one year in place of H. L. Pink, resigned, and W. E. Reeve and J. W. Davis were appointed members of the commission for two years. Mr. Reeve succeeds himself and Mr. Davis takes the place of A. K. Gale.

The council passed on first reading the ordinance providing for the appropriations for the coming year. There may be one or two changes before it is passed finally, owing to the fact that the council did not have all the necessary figures upon which to base the appropriation for the general expenses for the town. As it stands now the figures are: Street lighting, $5500; Police, $4500; Fire Department, $3500; Roads, $7500; Poor, $1200; Fire hydrants, $1300; Interest on town debt, $1200; Board of Health, $1200; Public Library, $1462; Sinking Fund, $13333; Public Parks, $1500; General Expenses, including salaries, $8500.

The resignation of Robert W. Harden as Custodian of School Monies was presented to the council and accepted. On the advice of the town attorney the present town treasurer, Walter R. Darby, will assume the duties of the former office until the close of the school year.

James O. Park requested the release of his land given to secure the performance of the contract for the Mountain avenue sewer, which has been completed and approved. The release was given by resolution. The road committee was given authority to plant three new trees and transplant one tree at the property of J. N. Ward on Lawrence avenue in accordance with an agreement by the town to that effect some time ago. The committee was also given power to advertise for bids for repairing the roads of the town. It was stated that this would probably be more economical for the town than the former method.

Jim Chief Decker presented his annual report to the council, reviewing the work of the department for the past year, and recommending better fire equipment, especially a heavier fire truck. The chief said the present ladders would not reach above the second stories of buildings and would be of no use in getting to the upper portions of the Arcadium Building, the Dugli Building or the third story flats on Broad street. The chief said the new horse is a good one, and will be put to the chemical engine, as he is too light for the heavy hose. The report also recommended that ordinances be passed governing the equipment of public buildings with portable chemical fire extinguishers, the regulation of signs in passage ways and the freedom of exits.

The council will meet again on Monday night in regular session.

Board of Health's Annual Report.

The following report of the Board of Health for the year 1906 has been submitted to the Council:

Westfield, Dec. 31, 1906.
To His Honor, the Mayor and Town Council, Gentlemen:

The Board of Health submits the following report for the year ending December 31, 1906.

There has been no change in the officers or members of this Board during the past year as your Honor has kindly re-appointed Mr. George L. Dehnbaur for another term. The Board met and organized on Friday evening, January 5, Dr. Joseph H. Harrison was elected President, Dr. Sherman Cooper Health Officer, G. W. Thurden Secretary and Registrar of Vital Statistics. The Secretary was instructed to perform the duties of Sanitary Inspector to be paid $30 per month for such services.

The number of births reported and recorded during the year was 122; deaths 57; marriages 50.

There have been reported and recorded 15 cases of scarlet fever; 3 of typhoid fever; 5 of diphtheria.

During the summer the Board has looked after the milk supply of the town and have had samples taken from the Dairyman at irregular intervals for analysis. The results proved very satisfactory and the town is being supplied with a good quality of pure milk so far as this Board can ascertain.

The question of the removal of refuse and garbage has become a matter of importance in our town and it is hoped that a more improved method will be adopted at an early day.

Respectfully submitted,
G. W. HARRISON, Secretary.

Handwriting and Health.

Slanting handwriting has just been proved to be responsible for the ailments of more than 60 per cent. of our young people. As both the stool pen and the slanting writing originally came from England, we exclaim with all our hearts: Let us keep the pen by all means, but send back the bad habits it brought in its train to the place whence they came!—Paris Petit Journal.

Fire Department Report.

The Town Council Committee on the department submitted the following annual report at a recent meeting:

The committee on the department and hydrants submitted the following report: We have at this time 53 members.

These Company No. 1, 22 members.

Engine Company No. 2, 11 members.

Truck Company No. 4, 10 members.

These companies are equipped with one hose cart, one chemical engine, one truck and one exercise wagon.

The hose cart has been furnished with 500 feet of new hose, the chemical engine painted and put in good working order. The truck is an old apparatus and not suitable for efficient work. The horses are in good condition and a valuable acquisition to the department.

There are 51 hydrants in use with one additional on Carlton place, recently located. The street sprinkling has been a practical as well as a financial success. Our income from this source is about $300 for this season. Your committee would recommend two paid men to be put on duty at the engine house for the good of the department. We then could have a regular driver for the hose cart and chemical engine, which would give the chemical engine a chance of making better time in reaching a fire, which should be their first.

In the summer time we could use two sprinkling wagons, as there is a demand for them and which would prove an additional income to the department.

It is also deemed advisable to recommend the purchasing of a hook and ladder truck. Your committee desire to extend their thanks to Mr. William C. Peckham for the valuable horse presented to the fire department as a Christmas present. A resolution was offered by your committee in compliance with an ordinance passed by the council to pay a salary of twelve dollars per year to each fireman answering fifty per cent. of the alarm calls. We are pleased to present the following names: William Kelley, Ira C. Lambert, Al. J. Tobin, Fred Anderson, Charles Dorrer, W. B. Toney, John P. Goltra, John M. C. Marsh, Joseph B. Singer, Charles Orlich, Charles W. Sorber, Thomas Orr, Ernest Keppler, Fred Warden, Frank Irwin, A. S. Flagg.

Your committee wishes to express their appreciation for the services rendered by the members of the different departments during the year.

Respectfully submitted,

HENRY G. ALCOCK,
Chairman of the Fire Department.

AN AGED PHYSICIAN

After Years of Experience Gives the Following Advice:

"If you have anything to do with medicines at all be pretty sure you know what you are taking."

Our local druggist, G. W. Frateley, says this is a strong point in favor of their valuable cod liver preparation, Vinol. Everything it contains is plainly printed on the label, therefore it is not a patent medicine.

Vinol contains in a highly concentrated form all of the medicinal elements of cod liver oil, actually taken from fresh cods' livers, but with the useless, nauseating oil eliminated and tonic iron, which is a needful constituent for the blood, added.

This is the reason that Vinol accomplishes such wonderful results in curing chronic coughs, colds, bronchial and lung troubles, and there is nothing known to medicine that will so quickly build up the run-down, overworked, tired and debilitated, or give strength and renewed vitality to the aged, as Vinol.

We can only ask every person in Westfield who needs such a medicine to try Vinol on our offer to return their money if it fails. G. W. Frateley, Druggist.

Note.—While we are sole agents for Vinol in Westfield, it is now for sale at the leading drug store in nearly every town and city in the country. Look for the Vinol agency in your town.

The Bone Mill.

It is surprising that every farmer that has fowls does not have a bone mill. Bones cannot be utilized without being ground, and they contain a large amount of food ingredients.

Bones contain much lime and this is very necessary to the fowl dropping a large number of eggs during the year. Bones also contain phosphorus, and this is not found in as large quantities in some other foods. The green bones also contain considerable of nitrogen. Altogether the use of bones ground or cut is to be recommended. Moreover, large quantities of the bones are constantly going to waste. Why throw away bones which may be of such value in the poultry establishment? Their market value is also made available after they have been used by the fowls.

All Over the M. & B. Store

This Great Sale—The greatest in the history of the Marshall & Ball Store—was inaugurated last Saturday. And the way the people have responded, in spite of the stormy days that have followed, is strong evidence of the prestige which this store enjoys.

The magnitude of this Sale is accounted for by our having been forced to manufacture in unusual quantities and assortments to meet the rapidly growing demand of our patronage during the past season, which has left us with more broken lines than ever before.

It's a rigid rule of this house to carry no stock over. Hence this hammering down of prices to clean up all broken lines all over the store, including Clothing, Hats, Shoes and Furnishings.

Don't watch the wise ones carry away the harvest. Come into the orchard and gather some of the rich plums.

NO EVIDENCE OF AUTHORITY.

Officer's Voice Lacked Quality That Imposed Obedience.

The late General Shafter was accustomed to tell of a neat retort made by a volunteer soldier to an officer during the Cuban campaign.

Near Siloney, one night after a march, he chanced a few of the "boys" of a Tennessee company had pitched their tents in close proximity to the tent of an officer of another company. The "boys" were somewhat noisy, as taps had not been sounded.

"Shut up, out there!" shouted the officer, angrily.

"Who are you?" asked one of the "boys."

"I'll soon show you if I come out there!" was the response.

The "boys," however, continued their racket to such an extent that the irritated officer soon appeared upon the scene and read them a terrible lecture, winding up with the threat to report the men to their colonel. "Don't you men know enough to obey a superior officer?" demanded he, testily.

"Yes, sir," respectfully answered one of the men. "We should have obeyed you at once if you'd had shoulder straps on your voice."

Spices and Indigestion.

Although the use of spices for the purpose of heightening the flavor of food is almost universal, it is generally recognized that their influence on digestion is detrimental. Some experiments recently carried out tend to prove that while spices stimulate the motor functions of the stomach, they progressively impair the secretory functions, and in the long run inhibit the production of hydrochloric acid. On the whole, therefore, the ingestion of spices hinders rather than accelerates digestion, though an exception may be made in respect of persons in whom slowness of digestion is due to a deficiency of muscular activity on the part of the stomach, and also possibly of the victims of hyperacidity.

Deacon Paid the Bill.

A story is told about two old-timers of Barnet, Vt., one, Sol Stevens, the village saddler and harness maker, the other Dea. James Gilbrath, a Scotchman who lived on a farm back among the hills.

The deacon had brought his saddle to Sol to have it repaired, and upon going to get it found that the charges for putting it in shape amounted to four dollars. The deacon was surprised at the amount, and after considering the matter a few minutes he said:

"Well, Sol, you may keep the saddle for two dollars, and I'll give him and bring ye two bushel o' wheat for the other two."

Pulsations of a Watch.

The lifetime of a good watch is 50 years. In its daily duties the balance vibrates 18,000 times every hour, 422,000 times in a day, or 157,680,000 times a year, says Amateur Work.

The hairspring makes a similar number of vibrations, and an equal number of beats from the escapement. If it is a really good watch multiply 157,680,000 by 50, which gives 7,884,000,000 pulsations for 50 years. The chances are that the watch may even then be in serviceable condition.

"The pleasure exists, not in virtue of material conditions but in a joyful heart."

Double Royalty.

Discussing the question of Harry K. Thaw's insanity, Dr. Mansley Knight, the noted alienist, said:

"That reminds me of a politician who had a morbid love of visiting insane asylums and talking to the inmates. Though this is bad for the mental health of the men, I must admit that his journeys often yield him the oddest little stories."

"Wandering through a certain asylum's wards one day, he came upon a man who sat in a brown study on a bench."

"How do you do, sir?" said the politician. "What is your name, may I ask?"

"My name?" said the other, frowning heavily. "Why, Czar Nicholas, of course."

"Indeed?" said the politician. "Yet the last time I was here you were the emperor of Germany."

"Yes, of course," said the other quickly; "but that was by my first wife."

Ages of Birds.

The doctrine of vegetarianism appears to be slightly shaken by the result of an investigation made into the subject of the longevity of birds. With one notable exception the carrion, or meat-eating birds, are the longest lived. The exception is the swan. The average ages of the best known birds are in the following list:

Blackbird lives 12 years; blackcap, 15; canary, 24; crane, 24; crow, 100; eagle, 100; fowl (common), 10; goldfinch, 15; goshawk, 50; heron, 50; jay, 15; linnet, 23; nightingale, 18; parrot, 60; parridge, 15; peacock, 24; pelican, 50; pheasant, 15; pigeon, 20; raven, 100; robin, 12; skylark, 20; sparrowhawk, 10; swan, 100; thrush, 10, and the wren, 3 years.

What the Minister Said.

A baker by the name of Daly, in Peabody, Mass., makes bread which, because of its quality, is very popular.

One Sunday morning a little tot in the same town went to church and listened to the sermon. Upon arriving home she was asked what the minister said. The little one replied: "Well, I don't 'member 'xactly, but he said 'somethin'' about the Lord and Daly's bread."

Their Status.

Parson—I look upon all divorced men as merely a higher order of heasts.

Outsider—Just "lucky dogs," I suppose.—N. Y. Times.

Rest Cure.

III—Any piece of machinery is helped by resting.

III—Yes; I've always noticed that my watch goes better after I've got it out of lock.

Valuable Experience.

"Don't you think, Mabel, it was foolish of us to have such an expensive wedding?"

"Yes, dear; but we'll both know better next time."—Life.

That power leaves a bad taste in the mouth.

That congenial labor is the secret of happiness.

That the world is a very interesting and beautiful place.

That meanness, hardness and coldness are unforgivable sins.

That one's relations with others should be direct and not diplomatic.

Humor in Afghanistan.

Abdurrahman, the late Amir of Afghanistan, had a grim sense of humor, which was sometimes exercised without scruple. On one occasion a durbar he was holding was interrupted by a man who, in a state of the greatest excitement, rushed in declaring that the Russians were advancing to invade Afghanistan.

Turning aside for a moment from the business in progress, the late Amir, in the most unconcerned tones, ordered his Shahgass to conduct the man to the summit of a certain watch tower. "Look you out well for the Russians," commanded Abdurrahman, "for you do not eat until you see them arrive."—Grand Magazine.

An Energetic Conductor.

Charles Santley, the English tenor, who celebrates his jubilee as a singer next year, relates an amusing story.

"I was singing at a provincial town when the conductor gave me a sharp rap on my head. A few minutes later he again hit me. He afterward bestowed his attention on the lady vocalist, whose chignon he contrived, with a single flourish, to detach from her head, much to her annoyance and inconvenience, as she had to continue her solo holding the chignon in its place with one hand and her music with the other."

Death From Fit of Anger.

Death frequently follows a sudden fit of anger. Persons who are otherwise sensible and even philosophical indulge at times in this suicidal and profitless pastime. The Emperor Nerva died at the age of 66 from fever resulting from a fit of anger. Paul III., who occupied the papal throne from 1549 to 1585, and who was considered one of the most intelligent and liberal, as well as just of popes, died from a sudden fit of anger while upbraiding Cardinal Alessandro Farnese, who had proven false to his friends and benefactor.

The Youthful Idea.

"Pa," asked clever little Willie, "does the Indian scalp people so he can get their hair to make his wig-wam?"

And he dodged just in time to make a hair-breadth escape from the paternal boot.

The best man at a wedding cannot always prove it.

If you are a gay old dog you have no right to whine.

A cheerful life is often better than the solemn truth.

Two heads are better than one—especially at kissing.

You can also tell a man by the company he doesn't keep.

The best person to forget a kindness is the one who does it.

When a man makes a show of himself he's not always comedy.

Many a man smacks of freshness, but freshness gets no smacks.

It's a wise Satan who keeps his beard away from the candles.

WISE MAN'S VIEWS.

Here is a little creed of life formulated by a wise man:

I have grown to believe that the one thing worth aiming at is simplicity of heart and life.

A Life At Stake.

If you but knew the splendid merit of Foley's Honey and Tar you would never be without it. A dose or two will prevent an attack of bronchitis or a gripple. It may save your life. For sale by G. W. Frutchey, Druggist.

Another Novel List.

The New York Mail last night published the following:

The game of getting up lists of the "twelve best novels" is now being played here and throughout the country. To show how wide is the latitude for personal choice in such a matter, and how difficult a thing it is for one person to prepare a list which would meet the ideas of another person, we will give two lists prepared by intelligent persons in Boston. It will be noticed that neither of the lists contains a title that is found in the other. List number one is:

"Les Miserables," "Vanity Fair," "David Copperfield," "The Scarlet Letter," "The Three Musketeers," "The Cloister and the Hearth," "Franklin," "Lorna Doone," "Westward Ho," "John Inglesant," "Romola," "Sevenoaks."

And this is the other:

"The Master of Ballantrae," "The Last of the Mohicans," "The Last Days of Pompeii," "John Halifax, Gentleman," "Uncle Tom's Cabin," "Monte Cristo," "Hypatia," "Tom Jones," "The Marble Faun," "Adam Bede," "Under Two Flags," "Pride and Prejudice."

There is scarcely a reader who would not put out at least three-quarters of these two lists, and put in other novels—whichever, perhaps, would mostly be rejected by the next chooser.

Must Use The Knife

Said the Surgeon, but Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy was taken and the Knife Avoided.

The Union and Advertiser of Rochester, N. Y., recently published the following interesting account of how William W. Adams of 127 South Avenue, that city, was saved from a painful operation by the use of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy.

Mr. Adams said: "Three years ago I was taken with kidney disease very badly; at times I was completely prostrated; in fact, was so bad that the day was set for the doctor to perform an operation upon me. But I decided I would not submit. I had been put in hot water baths, and, in fact, nearly every means was tried to help me. Upon the day set for the operation I commenced the use of and from that moment began to gain, and it was not long before I was entirely cured and have had no return of the trouble since. My weight has increased and I never was so well as I am now. I have recommended Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy to many people for it saved my life."

Write to Dr. David Kennedy's Sons, Rondout, N. Y., for a free sample bottle of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, the great Kidney, Liver and Blood medicine. Large bottles $1.00. All druggists.

WARPED WISDOM. The Mother's Wisdom. "I won't marry him, mother, even if he is a count. All he wants me for is my money, and he's a big fool!" "Hush, my dear, he'd be a bigger fool to want you without a cent!"—Washington Times. Nuts Are Plentiful. The nut trees of the world could, if it is calculated, provide food all the year round for the population of the globe. Brazil nuts grow in such profusion that thousands of tons of them are wasted every year. Peculiar Ceylon Oxen. In Ceylon there is a breed of oxen which are less than 30 inches in height. WINS TOGA AT LAST

SIMON GUGGENHEIM TO BE SENATOR FROM COLORADO.

After Wait of Ten years and Expenditure of Over $1,000,000 Smelter Millionaire Will Enter National Congress.

Ten years of patient work, coupled with the expenditure of a sum not less than $1,000,000 and perhaps a great deal more, will result in the gratification of the ambition of Mr. Simon Guggenheim. The state legislature will elect him United States senator to succeed Thomas M. Patterson.

His election is absolutely assured, notwithstanding the grumbling of some of the other candidates and the absence of President Roosevelt's endorsement.

Guggenheim is spoken of by his enemies as the "suicide trust senator," but his friends call him the savior of the party. Eleven years ago, when he came here, the party was in bad shape. Every county committee in the state has received his aid. It is expected that every Republican county newspaper and many Democratic county newspapers will print editorials justifying Guggenheim's election.

Richard Broad, Guggenheim's manager, has taken extraordinary precautions to prevent any senatorial investigation of the huge expenditure. Mr. Broad is a great sportsman, and it is said he often has made wagers that some candidate he wanted elected would not be elected, giving odds of several hundred to one. He always lost such wagers, which were invariably in connection with the election of some member of the legislature.

Former Senator Wolcott was the most formidable foe with which Guggenheim had to contend, and his death opened up the way for Guggenheim to the senate.

Guggenheim never makes political speeches except by proxy. He never gives interviews on anything except mining or Colorado's great future.

Simon Guggenheim, (Next United States Senator From Colorado.)

His political opinions are an enigma so far as the public is concerned. He and his manager have devoted their entire attention for years to the legislative field.

Last year he gave to the state school of mines Guggenheim hall, costing $500,000. He always gives a newsboy's Christmas dinner. These, with his contributions, are the sum total of his claims on the toga. His friends, when asked why he should be chosen answered: "Why, he saved the party in Colorado."

Guggenheim is 35 years old. He came to Colorado in 1880, but it was not until 11 years ago that he moved from Pueblo to Denver and began laying his wares for the senate.

In 1898 Guggenheim was nominated for governor of Colorado by the silver Republicans. He also had the endorsement of the People's party, but he declined, although he would have been elected. He made an effort to become a congressman, but the senate was the prize he always has coveted.

Guggenheim is one of seven brothers known as M. Guggenheim's Sons. They dominate the smelting business of the country and practically control its silver output and a considerable portion of the copper production. They own the Guggenheim Exploration company, which has developed immense mining properties in Mexico and the far west, and which has a vast enterprise now under way for making the mineral wealth of Alaska accessible.

Simon Guggenheim has been the western representative of the family for nearly a dozen years. He has a knowledge of the smelting business and is regarded as one of the ablest mining experts in the country. So enormously has the wealth of the family multiplied in recent years that men familiar with the facts hesitate to say any figure, fearing to expose themselves to a charge of exaggeration. They assert that the combined wealth of the seven brothers runs into the hundreds of millions.

The coming senator is next to the youngest of the seven brothers. He was born in Philadelphia December 29, 1871. He was educated in the public schools of Philadelphia and graduated from his high school, and was then sent abroad by his father to pick up a knowledge of foreign languages and the business methods of different European countries. Mr. Guggenheim reads, writes and speaks fluently French, Spanish and German.

PLAINFIELD THEATRE.

Augustus Thomas' latest and what is said to be his best comedy "The Embassy Ball," is the medium which Daniel Frohman has fixed upon to present Lawrence D'Orsay to the playgoers of this town at the New Plainfield Theatre January 23rd. Mr. D'Orsay's part is said to be much along the same lines as that played by him in "The Earl of Pawtucket" which met with so much success here two seasons ago.

The story hinges on Captain, the Honorable Howarden Kellie, military attache, British Embassy, meeting three American ladies in Paris taking a fancy to one, and meeting them again in Washington on the eve of Embassy Ball. A series of engagements in which Hon. Howarden Kellie becomes entangled and two or three other romances as side-lines, lend the necessary complications that make a comedy, if it is said, of a most delightful nature. The dialogue, it is declared, simply bubbles over with bright sayings, pointed epigrams and irresistible humor.

TRUE TO CODE OF HONOR.

Havana Schoolboys Preferred Death to Betrayal of Comrades.

In the Colon cemetery, near Havana, there stands a beautiful and costly marble shaft known as the Students' monument. Gov. Magoon and other American officials attended a memorial service, annually held at the foot of this shaft, in honor of a group of young men who would not "swear" on their captivities. The bishop of Havana officiated. The incident thus commemorated occurred 37 years ago, but the large attendance year after year, at the memorial service shows that it is still held in lively remembrance.

In a foolish, boyish prank a group of students from the University of Havana vented their hatred and their detestation of a Spanish official by decorating his tomb in Espanola cemetery. The unworthiness of the act is, of course, beyond denial. The authorities sought the offenders with a view to their punishment, but the school stood together in refusing information. Ruffled in his attempts to discover the actual culprits, the governor general issued a decree that every tenth boy in the school should suffer death. On November 27, 1869, these lads were lined up in front of a building which then stood between the presidio and the little fortress at the foot of the Prado, and were executed by a detachment of Spanish soldiers.

For 37 years the Cubans have remembered and have hoped that little group of boys who would not "swear," but who chose an ignominious death rather than violate a standard of honor which is as clearly recognized at Etton and Rugby, at West Point and Annapolis, as it was in the University of Havana.

Estimating the Damage.

That spirit of thrift popularly supposed to pervade New England is amusingly illustrated by the observation of a Connecticut farmer.

The good man had been seriously ill in midsummer, but by reason of his strong constitution he quickly rallied. On being asked in the autumn how he was feeling he replied in a cheerful tone:

"Pretty fair, now, thanks. Anyway, it don't make much difference, seem that the farm's fixed up. If I died in hayin' or harvestin' time, I calculate I'd been $50 damage to me." Then, after a pause, he added: "Come to think of it, that's too low a figure—$65 would be nearer!"

BIRTH OF A "GASSER."

Noise Made by a Blowing Well Drowned All Other Sounds.

In the Broadway Magazine is a story by Rupert Hughes concerning the oil wells of Texas. He tells of the birth of a "gasser."

"It resembled like the death cry of a thousand [and] there," he says: "The long steel cable has been sent flying like a twine string; a great length of pipe has been lashed against a tree and wrapped around it. The derrick was almost hidden by a white haze; a shower of fine sand was streaming upward and eating away the lofty crown-lick."

"Each knew what it was. He found Tom, and they gesticulated to each other; they made faces, but no audible sound. Their voices were vanishing in the full sunlight. Each was trying to yell the same thing. "She's a gasser, blowing her head off."

"Men gathered from everywhere, and acted like crazy folk, working their jaws and delivering no message. They were scared, drowned, obliterated in a sea of inter-cable noise. "A little away at the railroad station the passengers were equally dumb by the uproar. If a man wanted a ticket, he had to write out the name of the station. An engine rolled in with a head that roared without sound and a white curtain of white steam that no one heard."

"The suburbs of the region were greatly disturbed. There was much breaking of harness on the part of horses, and one or two galloped about under empty saddles, their riders were doubtless stuck in the mud somewhere head first."

"A few pigs, wandering here and there, had snuffed at the noise and returned to their luxurious wallow in the oily muck."

Running Upstairs.

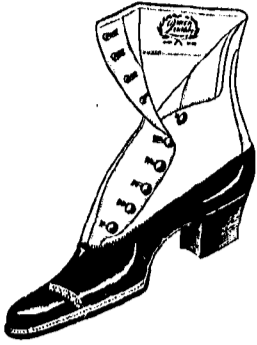

English women have taken up as pastime running up and down stairs—the object being principally to see who can get up the most rapidly and make the most noise! In view of the fact that running upstairs has hitherto been considered as bad for the heart, it is rather a revolution to society, although, no doubt, the violent exercise is good for the liver. The question is: What next? Will sliding down the banister be advocated as a new method of utilizing the parallel bars?

MEDAL FOR COMMANDER PEARY.

Presented by Roosevelt in Honor of Geographic Society.
Washington.—The president of the annual dinner of the National Geographic Society the other night presented to Commander Robert E. Peary, on behalf of the society, a gold medal awarded to the Arctic explorer in recognition of his feat in reaching the farthest north. The dinner was attended by a distinguished company, including members of the cabinet, ambassadors and their wives and many scientists, and the spirit of the event was one of jubilation over the recent exploits of American explorers.

notably the expedition of Commander Peary and the ascent of Mount McKinley by Dr. Frederick A. Cook, of New York, who was a guest of honor, sitting next to Commander Peary.

At the tables were seated 400 guests. Willis L. Moore, of the National Geographic Society, presided, and the committee assisting included Alexander Graham Bell, W. J. Boardman, Edward Everett Hale, John W. Foster, Arnold Hague, Rear Admiral Colby M. Chester, Gen. William Crozier and John D. Henderson, Jr.

The medal is of fine workmanship and was modeled by Tiffany experts. The star near the top of the medal is a Montana sapphire, placed at the point where Peary planted the American flag.

For a time he was regius professor of civil law at Oxford university.

Queer Collections.

There seems to be no end to the queer things that people with the collecting fever pursue. Pewter has long been extravagantly high—that is, if you price it in any curio shop—and hawthorn is way, way up. One collector brought several Landseer designs that had ornamented the covers of china pots, had them framed in turned ebony and hung them in triumph on the cream colored walls of her drawing room. Another buys all the pretty old round and oval gilt picture frames she can lay hands on, has a board covered with black velvet made to fit into them, and on this hangs vases and antique jewels or small trinkets of any sort, or another. Yet a third has found that old mahogany washstands when polished and retouched make capital tables on which to display silver trinkets and other small objects of vertu.

A REMARKABLE PUPIL

ONLY EIGHT YEARS OLD BUT KNOWS FOUR LANGUAGES.

is Already a High School Student at Brookline, Mass., and Well Versed in Higher Mathematics — Comes of a Right Family.

Boston.—Brookline, Mass., thinks it possesses the youngest high school pupil in the United States, as well as the most remarkable, in many ways. The boy is only eight years old. His name is William James Sidis, the only son of Dr. Boris Sidis, a prominent Russian-American physician.

He is master of four languages, is an adept in higher mathematics and is able to do calculations far in advance of his classmates, all of whom are considerably older. The boy is regarded with awe by school associates and with wonder by his teachers.

More wonderful still is the fact that this eight-year-old boy is devising a simplified system of advanced English grammar, and has also devised a new system of doing logarithms.

Under the leadership of Prof. George L. Aldrich, as superintendent, the Brookline schools have attained a high rank in the educational system of Massachusetts, and the requirements as to scholarship for admission to the high school are, as a rule, rigidly lived up to.

So much, however, was known of the mental development of young Sidis that rules were waived, after the matter had been thoroughly discussed between Superintendent Aldrich, Dr. Sidis, Prof. William James, of Harvard, and other prominent educators, and little William was allowed to enter without many of the prescribed formalities.

He did, however, undergo a rather severe private "exam" before Superintendent Aldrich and the principal, but he convinced them in a few moments that he was eligible, so far as scholarship went. To test the lad's quickness at figures he was asked to multiply 12 by 12 by 12, and gave the correct answer in a flash.

"Where is my boy going to stop?" repeated Dr. Sidis, when asked the question. "I do not know. He took to books almost from the cradle. Long before other children are able to master the alphabet on wooden blocks he was speaking and reading good English.

"At first his mother and I were alarmed at his wonderful precocity, but the boy was normal in every respect, perfectly sound and healthy and a child in everything but his mental development.

"Still, he isn't a weakling, physically, by any means. We have looked to that, as well as to his mental development. He exercises regularly, and spends a certain time out in the air. Of course, he has to wear glasses, but that is to protect his eyesight from possible harm.

Willie's classmates in the high school are boys of almost twice his years and size. His feet do not reach the floor from his seat, and his childish face is noticeable in the classroom.

Physics are a second-year study but he takes them now with the sophomores, and it is expected by his teachers that he will be advanced to that class in all the studies before many months of the school term are over.

But his activities do not end with the schoolroom. At home, after school hours, he is busy with his lessons for the next day. As might be expected, they are soon accomplished. Then Master Sidis takes up work on a system of advanced English grammar, which he is arranging, and which his father and other educators believe has the merit of greater simplicity than any present system.

As a side issue, he indulges in some astronomical calculations, or he may do a few logarithms, of which he has devised a new system, or he may take a shy at something in the study the equally foreign to the nature of the average boy of eight years.

William comes naturally by his bright mentality. His father was for seven years assistant in psychology at the New York Pathological Institute, and for two years director of the Psycho-Pathological hospital, of the New York infirmary, and has made a study of mentalty of all kinds. His book, "Multiple Personality," opened up a new field in medical science and psychology to popular view. Mrs. Sidis is a highly educated woman.

"Speeches pregnant with meaning often help the detective in his delicate work," said Mr. Adair. "Often a speech of eight or ten words will reveal volumes."

A Christmas Box Acknowledgment.
Following the custom of several years, the Woman's Christian Temperance Union of this town sent a Christmas box of good things to the L. S. Station at Ocean City, N. J. Believing that the good friends who helped in filling it would be glad to hear from it, the following letter is published:

Ocean City,

Dec. 26, 1906.

To the Members of Willard W. C. T. U.,

Westfield, N. J.:

We, the members of Ocean City L. S. Station, extend to you our thanks for the very generous Christmas box received from your hands, also the very beautiful letter accompanying same. I don't feel that I have words to express my heartfelt gratitude for your kind remembrance of us, and with the kind spirit in which it is presented, such gifts help to lighten the burdens and brighten the long winter days. You ask how many of the crew pull together, as seen in the picture sent to you. There are four. Sarfman Jeffries was turned down by the doctor last August for heart trouble. He was given some of the good cheer from the box and was much pleased. Sarfman Chadwick enlisted in the Briggantine Station this winter. Furman Crauner was transferred to Ship Bottom Station the 1st of December, and Sarfman Ridgway to Barnegat Station, being near his home, so you see they change quite a little. Sometimes a crew will remain together for quite a long time, then there starts a vacancy and they will be broken up again. It is quite trying to a keeper in getting his crew, as the men come through an eligible list from the civil service, and he seldom knows his men until enlisted, as he draws from this list, and the men live far away enough, so that he knows nothing of their character and fitness, only through vouchers on their certificates sent him. The men are mostly beatmen and fishermen who reside along the big bays or on the beaches along the coast. I now again thank you for the Christmas cheer and extend to you wishes of a Happy New Year, with all of its choicest blessings, with great prosperity in your society.

Very respectfully yours,

J. M. Colson,
Keeper of Ocean City L. S. Station.

The Candles Are Lit.

Women have realized at last that candlelight is the most becoming to their complexions. Candles will, therefore, be the only illumination at smart dinner parties this winter, says the London Express. The old drawback that candlelight was depressing has now been removed. Four candles on a dinner table was not a cheerful system of illumination, but the new scheme provides a light for each guest.
