REPUBLICANS SWEEP THE STATE; FORT IS ELECTED GOVERNOR BY MAJORITY OF 7,357.

G. O. P. Has Majority in Lower House of 20, and Controls Senate by Seven.

MOST DECEPTIVE ELECTION ON RECORD.

Early Returns Indicated Katzenbach's Election By a Sweeping Majority—Middle in Hudson County Returns Brought Gloom in Republican Camp—A Happy Change.

In the most deceptive political battle ever fought in this State, John Franklin Fort was elected Governor over Frank S. Katzenbach by a majority of 7,357. Early returns gave the Democratic nominee a sweeping majority, and up to midnight his election was generally conceded. Their was gloom in the Republican camp, and unbounded joy in the hallmarks of the Democracy. But at 3 a. m. there came a decided change. It was discovered that serious blunders had been made in the tabulation of Hudson's vote; the Katzenbach majority in that county dwindled from 10,000 to 6,700. In Essex County there was also a decided change in Fort's favor. Katzenbach's supposedly large plurality dwindling to almost nothing. Then came reports that South Jersey had gone almost solidly for Fort, that Union was in the Republican column and the good tidings that Fort was certainly the next governor.

It was an election full of surprise, and what looked like a Democratic landslide turned into a clean cut Republican victory. A surprise of the election was in Jersey City. Westport for Mayor had 9,324 plurality there, while Katzenbach had only 3,011 plurality. Another surprise was that while Fort lost his home county, Essex, by 293 plurality, the entire ticket of eleven Republican Assemblymen was elected. This will give the Republicans a large majority in the lower house of the Legislature, the vote standing: Republicans, 40; Democrats, 20. Last year the Democrats had a majority of two in the lower house.

The Republicans lost one Senator, Shinn, in Ocean county, but have seven majority in the Senate, the vote standing: Republicans, 14; Democrats, 7. This gives the Republicans a majority of 27 on joint ballot and complete control of the lawmaking machinery. Another surprise was that Katzenbach carried his own county, Mercer, by 703 plurality. The Republicans, however, carried their legislative and local tickets. Katzenbach carried Newark by 6,119 plurality, while Augustus F. Rogers, Republican candidate for member of the Board of Works, was victorious over his Democratic opponent, T. F. Hollinger, by a plurality of 1,184.

The Republican managers said yesterday that they were gratified over Fort's plurality and that it did not indicate a serious Republican slump. They said that in 1898 Gov. Voorhees, Republican, had only 5,499 plurality. Gov. Stokes (three years ago) had 51,000, but it was in the Roosevelt Presidential year, when Roosevelt carried the State by 80,000.

JACOB HAMILTON CELEBRATES HIS NINETY-NINTH BIRTHDAY.

Friends Pay Their Respects to Westfield's Oldest Citizen at Mountainside Home Yesterday.

Jacob Hamilton, the oldest resident of Union County, celebrated his 99th birthday at his home on Chestnut street, Mountainside yesterday. The day was the occasion of congratulations, many people visiting the Hamilton home to pay their respects to their aged citizen. Despite his years, Mr. Hamilton is still strong, and greeted his visitors with a cheerful smile. Jacob Hamilton was born near Baltimore, Md. on November 7, 1808, and comes from one of the oldest New Jersey families, his ancestors having settled in Elizabethtown in 1748. Most of his life has been spent in farming. He married Elizabeth Abernethy, who was born September 22, 1810, and died April 21, 1880. They had one son, Jacob Henry Hamilton, born March 11, 1891, who is still living with his father in the old homestead.

"TOM" MURRAY A HERO.

At M. E. Men's League "Ladies' Night." Miss Hayes Sings and the Men Cooks Make Good.

A spirit of good fellowship prevailed at the Ladies' Night celebration by the Men's League of the Methodist Episcopal Church, Monday evening. Everybody was out for a good time, and they certainly had it. Repartee on every topic from politics to the weather was indulged in, and the local talent which contributed to the entertainment came in for a liberal share of applause.

Of course, Thomas Alexander Murray was the hero of the occasion. "Tom" sang two substantial ditties which took the house by storm. During the rendition he was serious as a judge, but at the conclusion he just beamed all over with smiles, and bowed and shook hands all around.

Miss Lucille Hayes, daughter of the pastor, sang "Vin Amable" with much feeling. Miss Hayes was in splendid voice, and her contribution was one of the best on the program. Prof. John S. Buchanan's orchestra performed with customary excellence, rendering several numbers during the evening. Following the entertainment a feast of good things was served up by the gentlemen cooks. The ladies, who doubted their husbands' ability to preside in the culinary department were happily surprised and they declare that hereafter they will give more time to social engagements and leave domestic trouble in the care of their "betters" selves.

WHAT THE CANDIDATES SAY

General Feeling of Satisfaction Over Result of Election.

LYOYD THOMPSON (R. P.) TOWN CLERK Who Polled the Highest Vote on the Party Ticket.

Lloyd Thompson—"I am very grateful to the people of Westfield for their generous support."

ADDISON H. CLARK (Dem.) Re-elected Tax Collector over Andrew A. Smith.

Addison H. Clark—"I am happy I never expected so large a majority. I thank my friends, irrespective of party, for their support."

WM. E. TUTTLE, JR. Who received the highest vote on the Democratic assembly ticket.

William E. Tuttle, Jr.—"I am fully compensated for the disappointment I felt at the news of my defeat after my election had been generally conceded by the gratifying results of the election in my home town. I am very thankful to my many Westfield friends for their magnificent expression of confidence."

John M. C. Marsh—"Best day I ever had in my life."

Andrew A. Smith—"I had my fun out of it, and I have no complaints to offer. Besides, Ad pays for the dinner—that's where I win. I thank my friends for their support."

Edward D. Floyd—"I appreciate the earnest effort of my party and friends to secure my election, and I am satisfied with the result."

O. O. Malsbury—"I am thankful to the people of my ward for electing me. I will serve them in the council to the best of my ability."

J. J. Schmitt—"I am interested in the development of Westfield. I will do all in my power as councilman to further its progress. This is the best way that I can show my appreciation to the voters of my ward."

Pop Richardson—"Close shave, wasn't it?"

R. H. Middleditch—"I was happily surprised election night by the news at a late hour that I had been elected. I will do my best worthily to serve the people of Westfield and of my ward."

Edward D. Floyd—"It was very good of my friends to support me so unflinchingly. I'm very grateful."

FIRESIDE HAS GALA NIGHT.

Twenty-fifth Anniversary Banquet of Royal Arcanum Council a Splendid Success.

ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTY DINE.

Speeches, Songs, Music and Fraternal Good Cheer Make Occasion Memorable—Regent Class Surprised.

The twenty-fifth anniversary of the Fireside Council, Royal Arcanum, was celebrated at the hall of the Westfield Club House, last night, when 150 members of the order, and their invited guests, banqueted and made merry in true fraternal spirit. Songs of tribute to the order, speeches, light music with fraternal pride and patriotism, and music in harmony with the sentiment of the hour, made memorable the occasion.

The leading lights of the State organization were there, and spoke in high terms of the local order, and the work that it is doing. Grand Vice Regent Theodore S. Oliss, Grand Secretary Robert H. Alberts, Grand Regent Harry R. Ward, Supervising Deputy William Kooser, and Secretary George W. Peck, Alton F. Grant, and Roy S. Dr. A. W. Hayes, of Fireside, all made appropriate addresses. Regent Robert S. Perry was toastmaster, and was not a whit behind his brothers in eloquence and patriotism.

There was no happy surprise. Grand Regent Ward made the Vice Regent profoundly happy when he presented him with a real gift of the order, a personal gift in appreciation of his services.

Although the hour of dining was fixed at 7 o'clock, it was some time afterward before all the company were seated at the tables. Everybody was in a trim to do justice to the excellent repast, and to give vent to their pent up enthusiasm. The hall rang with songs, patriotic, sentimental and comic. No matter what the orchestra played, the crowd joined in, and what matter if they didn't know the words? They had the time all right, and Grand Gen. Hanford and Handy Andy Smith helped them over the difficult places. And everybody was a good fellow, and a few of the more prominent ones were cheered to the echo whenever they showed their faces above the platter.

Sandwiched in between the speeches were selections by the Fireside Quartette, composed of Myrland T. Townley, A. E. B. Bogert, George B. Taylor and Robert E. Perry, and before the men of oratory, the company rose and sang "In the Good Old Fireside" to the tune of the "Old Smokey" Time "ditty. Peet Laureate Gene Hanford, whose lines never limp, and whom the Muse never forsakes, composed the lines.

Vice Grand Regent Oliss was the first speaker. He spoke of the achievements of the order. He defined "Royal Arcanum," first "as a body of men banded together to increase fraternalism among each other; second, as a body of men banded together to assist mankind in general; third, and most important of all, he held a body of men banded together to protect the home and loved ones. In elaboration of these definitions, the speaker told of the good done within and without the community by the local council, of how the funds which it had distributed in the homes of deceased benefactors had brought hope and comfort in the hour of dire need. He emphasized the fact that the funds of the order served the one purpose for which they were raised absolutely, that there was no possibility of misappropriation in the Royal Arcanum. He prophesied great things for the order in the future, and said that the local order was destined to grow in membership and widen the character and scope of its influence, with each succeeding year.

Grand Secretary Alberts referred in his opening remarks that he was a Democrat. He said that he had been all at sea for the past few days, indulging in what were known in street parlance as "pipe dreams." He had a vision, he said, in which he saw opposing forces contending against each other, and he thought he saw the forces with which he was allied rise up and smite the enemy. Then he woke up and found that the "Katzenjammers" had been defeated.

In a more serious vein, Grand Secretary Alberts reviewed the history of the order, and declared that he thought that few realized the good that it was accomplishing. The central idea, he said, was based on the fraternal principle of doing good to others. As the order grew, he said, it kept pace with the spirit of the times. Its progress was as marked as the progress in science and invention.

Westfield Holds to G. O. P. State Ticket.

Emphatically Endorses G. O. P. Leaders—Kirstein Alone Falls Behind County Ticket.

CLARK AND MARSH RE-ELECTED.

Tuttle Carries Home Town—Thompson, Floyd, Schmitt, Middleditch, Victorious—Malsbury Wins by Eight Votes in the Fourth.

The town of Westfield emphatically endorsed John Franklin Fort for Governor on Tuesday, giving him a majority of 825 over Frank S. Katzenbach, the Democratic nominee. George T. Parrot was honored with the big vote of 700, a majority of 820 over Gilby, who polled 871 votes.

Edward D. Floyd was returned to the council from the First ward without opposition, receiving 821 votes. John J. Schmitt defeated his democratic rival, Wm. R. Starratt, for councilman in the Second ward by 41 votes; and Robert H. Middleditch, republican candidate for councilman in the Third ward, defeated his opponent, George E. Richardson, by 12 votes.

A close and hotly contested election in the Fourth ward resulted in the election of Charles Carroll Malsbury, Democrat, who defeated his republican opponent, Carl A. Carlson, for a seat in the common council, by eight votes.

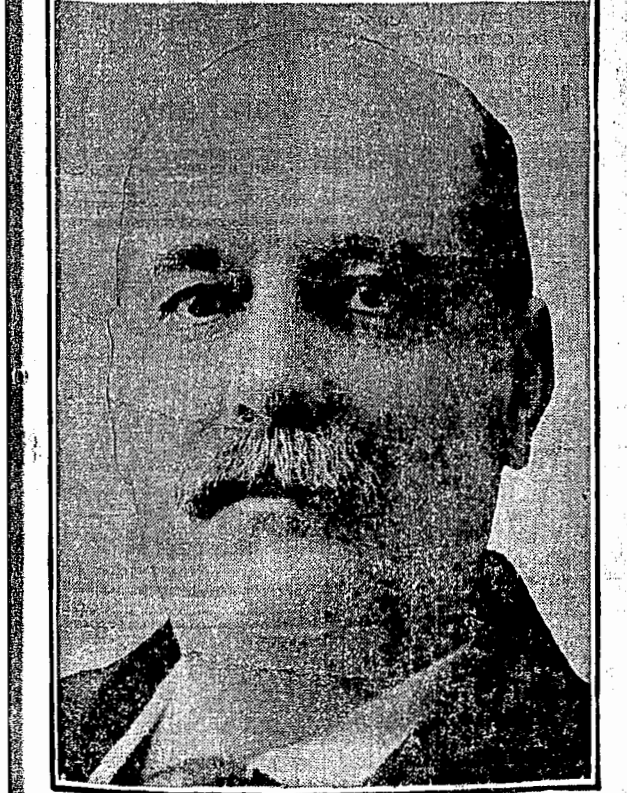

Addison H. Clark and John M. C. Marsh were again re-elected as tax collector and assessor, respectively, defeating the republican candidates, Andrew A. Smith and Edward D. Gilby. Clark polled the big vote of 694, against his opponent's 674. Marsh's majority was somewhat reduced. Edward D. Gilby defeated him in the First ward by 15 votes, but in the other wards Marsh ran ahead, winning out by a majority of 131.

William E. Tuttle, Jr., the local Democratic nominee for Assembly, ran way ahead of his ticket, and was given a majority of 172 over Albert S. Kirstein of Rahway, the low man on the Republican Assembly ticket.

Carlton B. Pierce ran behind his ticket in the first ward, owing to the fact that his name was placed opposite Tuttle's on the voting machine. His vote

LAKE NOW BELONGS TO TOWN

Park Commission Makes Formal Presentation To Common Council Monday Night.

MAYOR A. L. ALPERS ACCEPTS.

Thanks Extended to Commission and Public-Spirited Citizens Who Contributed—Street and Sewer Ordinances Passed.

The possession of Clark's Lake and surrounding property became an established fact last Monday night when the deed was formally handed over to the Town Council by Mr. Russell, one of the Park Commissioners, at the regular meeting of the Council.

In his presentation Mr. Russell said that 250 people had subscribed to the fund for the total of $3000, thus making the required sum. The deed was accepted by the council at Mayor Alpers' suggestion, with a vote of thanks to the Park Commissioners and also the citizens of Westfield, for the public spirit shown in the purchase of the property.

As all the members of the council were present, an ordinance that has been laid on the table for some time, was passed upon final reading. It concerned the paving of a section of the south side of South avenue, from the Boulevard to Ross place; paving southwest side of Elm street; from Webb property to Nowton place.

Ordinances for the proposed eight-inch sewers for Central, North and Highland avenues were passed upon first reading. An ordinance for the macadamizing of the northwest end of Harrison avenue, from the improved section to Kimball avenue, was also passed upon the first reading.

A communication was read from the Clerk of Fairwood Township regarding a brook filled in by F. M. Wells, whose property lies in both municipalities. Fairwood claimed the filling in of the brook caused a stagnant pool in a street gutter which was detrimental to health. The communication was referred to the Board of Health.

The request of Mr. Lockwood to erect a frame building at the corner of Elm and Quimby streets was denied. Mayor Alpers called the attention of council to the fact that it was about time to call a halt upon the construction of wooden buildings within the fire limits.

F. S. Taggart appeared in the interests of Mr. Pearsall, owner of several lots on the Boulevard, who desired the sewer assessment apportioned. Mr. Taggart desired to know what action had been taken on the H. J. Russell petition of a year ago and stated if council did not propose to act upon that petition he was ready with a new one in the interests of his client.

The Russell application was discussed and declared to lack necessary information. It was ordered referred back to Mr. Russell for more complete data.

Judge Toney reported $16 in fines collected for the month of October from the Recorder's Court.

A certificate of indolence was ordered issued to pay current bills.

Baptist Women Convene at Westfield.

The annual convention of the Woman's Baptist Home Missionary Society, of the East Association, was held in the Westfield Baptist Church last Saturday. A large number of delegates were present and were greatly pleased with the program of exercises arranged by the local Home Missionary Society.

After the regular routine business at the opening of the convention, Mrs. A. M. Post, a home worker for the General Society of Chicago, delivered a very interesting address on Home Missionary Study. Other speakers of prominence in this work were Mrs. A. M. Palmer of East Orange, a vice-president of the society, and Mrs. Houten Impleson of Brooklyn.

The delegates were entertained at luncheon by the women of the Westfield church and it proved to be a very enjoyable affair.

MISS SARAH HENDER A BRIDE AT SIXTY-SEVEN

Miss Sarah Hender, of Westfield, and C. D. Pope, of Seattle, Washington, were married at Chicago, on the eighth of October the Rev. L. Richmond. The bride is 67 and the bridegroom 78. They will live at Seattle, Washington, where he owns a home.

Mrs. Pope is well known in Westfield, having previous to her marriage, lived here for many years. Her home was on upper Prospect Street.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 8, 1907.

Westfield, unopposed from the First ward. By the election of H. H. Middlebrook from the Third ward, the council will be benefited by the services of a trained and efficient business and professional man. J. J. Schmitt will uphold the interests of his ward because of his knowledge of local business and public affairs. The election of J. M. C. Marsh and Addison H. Clark, the latter by a big majority, is in no way a reflection upon the capabilities of the Republican opponents, Messrs. Gilby and Smith, who are both admittedly well qualified for office. But it does indicate that the people of Westfield are satisfied with the administrations of the Democratic incumbents and do not desire a change.

The results have given general satisfaction. All the successful candidates are capable of serving their town in a creditable manner.

WESTFIELD'S TRIBUTE TO MR. TUTTLE.

William B. Tuttle, Jr., was defeated for election to the General Assembly on the Democratic ticket by a smaller majority than any other candidate of his party. Although allied with an unpopular cause, he carried his home town against the field, and ran far ahead of his ticket in nearly every town and city in the county.

There is no disputing the fact that Mr. Tuttle's chances of election were enhanced by the fact that Upper Union County resents any attempts at dictation on the part of Lower Union County, but his big vote was in large measure due to his personal popularity. The people of Westfield have indicated by their votes that they have no use for the platform and principles of the democracy, but they have sincere regard and confidence in the personal integrity of their fellow townsman. Defeat should have no stings for Mr. Tuttle. Westfield appreciates his patriotism and loyalty to the town and its institutions. The cause, and not the man, has been rejected.

JOSEPH D. LOWDEN.

Joseph D. Lowden, the editor of the Elizabeth Daily Journal, died at his home in Roselle Park last Friday evening. He was fifty-three years old and had been engaged in newspaper work all his life, and for twenty years was connected with the Journal as reporter, city editor and finally as editor-in-chief. The late Mr. Lowden was an indistinguishable worker, a patriotic citizen, an affectionate father and friend. As such he will be greatly missed, and by none more than those with whom he was associated in the making of one of Union County's leading newspapers.

My! But news of election returns will feel the best of some. More than one Editor in New York is calling himself names. Did you read that editorial in "The Times" Wednesday morning? Isn't it funny what a difference just a few hours make.

It is reported the Major Carl Lentz, a one-time political boss in Essex, will shortly join "The Down and Out Club."

There was a frost Tuesday night—but it turned to rain Wednesday morning.

Miss Beebe's Recital Postponed.

Owing to the illness of Miss Edone and Delia, the second violin and piano recital to be given by Miss Beebe and Miss Delia in Philadelphia this afternoon will be postponed until the afternoon of November 22nd, when it will be given at the home of Mrs. Ella Cory.

The last recital will be given at the home of Mrs. J. B. Danforth, on Friday afternoon, December 6th, 1907.

On and after November 11 prices of collars and cuffs will be 24 cents each. Plainfield Steam Laundry, P. O. Decker, Agent.

"Read This Over Again Carefully"

Are you going to let all this talk about hard times and tight money give you the "Big Scare" and prevent you from remembering your friends and family at Christmas time? Well, I guess not. Say, have you ever stopped to ponder, stopped to wonder, stopped to think what all the remembrance at Christmas time means? It means a year's subscription to one of the leading magazines would make a Christmas treat for you. Think over the number of the best periodicals, choose the one that appeals to you the most, then write right down, or telephone to, John Walls News and Novelty Building, Jake is right there with the lot (there and will send in your order at once). You just wouldn't despise a Christmas number of that magazine you are going to order would you? Order now and get it then.

Mr. Tuttle Re-appointed.

William B. Tuttle, Jr., who tendered his resignation as a trustee of the Westfield Free Public Library several months ago owing to his absence on a trip abroad, was re-appointed to that office last Monday night at a regular meeting of the Town Council.

Mr. Tuttle has shown great interest in the library and during his former term as a trustee he devoted considerable time to its betterment.

DR. DANFORTH TO LEAVE HERE Beloved Pastor Emeritus of Congregational Church Goes to New London, Conn. TO RETURN TO ACTIVE MINISTRY. Westfield Will Lose a Patriotic and Influential Citizen—His Brilliant Career in the Ministry. On Tuesday next the Reverend James R. Danforth, D. D., will move from Westfield to reside in New London, Conn., where a son is pastor of a large Congregational Church, with the expectation of resuming the work of an active pastor. The town will lose a worthy and representative citizen, the community a beautiful character, many will miss a close personal friend. Dr. Danforth came to Westfield in 1890, called as the pastor of the Congregational Church, and was installed on February 21st of that year. He guided and led the church until two years ago, when ill health caused him to resign his labor and support. The church elected him pastor emeritus, which office he has since filled. Dr. Danforth has always been a leader in the denomination, having at one time been the pastor of the large, wealthy and influential Central Congregational Church in Philadelphia. While acting there, in 1888, he was one of the Councilmen convened to organize the Congregational Church here. The severe strain of the pastorate caused him to retire for a time, during which he was appointed United States Consul at Bruges, Belgium. Dr. Danforth is a man of deep scholarly training and insight, with a warmth of heart and tenderness of sympathy that has endeared him not only to his congregation but to all those with whom he has come in contact. His influence for good in such a town as Westfield cannot be estimated, and will continue long after his departure. No man, woman or child could feel the force of his delightful personality without being made happier, stronger or more hopeful. He has a citizenship with the qualities of a statesman's knowledge with the wisdom of the ages; love that has sympathy to understand, courage, fortitude and a wonderfully shikhe faith, rare in these days, made his character so delightful. Charles Outberr, Hall, recently speaking of the "Ideal Minister," sums up the qualifications of the present day, and in a singular degree, describes the character of the man and minister represented in Dr. Danforth. He says: "He lives among men as one of them, simple, unselfish, human, logical; yet they know that he walks with God." "And he has vision, a vision that never violated the shrine of the Spirit where the pure in heart see God." "The unending newness of an everlasting truth gives to his speech the freshness of springtime. The unsearchable mystery of infinite realities gives to his thought and conduct gravity and reserve, as of one who has beheld things that it is not possible for man to utter." "The demands of social service have not stunted him with the professionalism of a reformer. The actor of civility has no more made him any ecclesiastic. He remains a prophet of the highest." "When he speaks men feel that he is standing upon holy ground. When he prays men perceive that he is prostrating himself before the risen Christ." "It is a good thing to have such men in any community, and he is with deep regret that Westfield parts with such a man and such a minister of God as Dr. Danforth." A farewell reception will be tendered to Dr. and Mrs. Danforth in the Congregational Church this afternoon, from 4 to 6 o'clock.

Mayor Townsend, if You Please

Samuel D. Townsend, president of the Peoples National Bank of Westfield, was elected Mayor of North Plainfield on Tuesday. The Mayor-elect received the unanimous endorsement of both Republicans and Democrats and went into office with flying colors.

Garwood Regulars Victorious

The Republicans won out in Garwood. Fort received a majority of 63. Parrot was high man with 33 majority. Tuttle received 65 votes, 22 more than Girtanner his running mate. Sartorius, Republican candidate for mayor, defeated Washburne 107 to 72. Wallace Kaylor, for council, received 112, Marsh 103 over Huber's 63 and Stans's 72. Ball 110 to Norah's 71 and Britz 103 to Bergon's 71. Richard Watt was defeated for assessor by Charles Bandle, 103 to 75. Waterman on the Democratic ticket, and Conkling made the collectorship with 107 to Beckler's 74 and 246 voted for the sewer and one lone man against it.

Verdict for Mr. Glover

Judge C. Addison Swift, in the District Court of Elizabeth has given a decision in the case of the Central Real Estate Agency against George Glover. The case was tried about two weeks ago, the plaintiffs contending that Mrs. Glover was agent for her husband under a contract with them to pay commission upon the sale of a house in Linwood. Mr. Glover denied that she was his agent, and said that he had never authorized any agreement. The judgment is in favor of the defendant, Judge Swift saying that agency was not proved. Paul Q. Oliver, represented the Central Real Estate Agency and Frederick A. Taggart, Mr. Glover.

FORMER WESTFIELD BOY KILLED

Fred Kling, formerly a resident of this place, was killed near Lincoln, Nebraska, last Saturday. While walking along the railroad track, Kling was accidentally shot by the discharge of a gun carried by an express messenger.

HOT DRINKS at the New York Candy Kitchen every day now. Cold, if you are hot-blooded and prefer something to suit everybody's "drinkative." One reason for the popularity of the New York Candy Kitchen is that it caters to a variety of tastes. Hot soups and cold soups. Delicious home-made confections and the best brands of box candies, loose ice-cream and brick cream, any flavor. They do not have two prices for the same goods, however, nor two qualities, a good and a poor, but just the good different varieties, and only one standard of purity and excellence—the best.

It's time now to think about your Christmas presents. What could make a better gift than a photograph? A nicely finished and well taken photograph makes a good present too. See K. Baumann on Elm St.

NEWS OF THE THEATRES.

"The Right of Way" a Success.

Klaw and Erlanger's production of "The Right of Way," Eugene Packer's dramatic version of St. Gilbert Parker's popular story, received a most auspicious premiere at Wallack's Theatre last Monday evening. The piece proved a strong play, full of dramatic and heart interest. Mr. Guy Standing as Charley Steele realized, both in his portrayal of the character and in his personality, the creation of Mr. Gilbert Parker and the dramatist. As the absolute, brilliant lawyer of the first act he gave a remarkable impersonation of a man besotted with drink and harassed by his own doubts of the present and the hereafter. In the last three acts, as the regenerated Steele, he presented a performance that appealed with thrilling force to all who witnessed it. Mr. Theodore Roberts, the co-star, achieved great success in his portrayal of the character of Joe Portuguese, the Camalduli riverman. "The Right of Way" will remain at Wallack's Theatre for an extended engagement. Matinee Wednesday and Saturday.

"The Round-Up" at the Broadway.

Klaw and Erlanger's production of Edmund Day's Western drama, "The Round-Up," continues the attraction at the Broadway Theatre, where it is recording a remarkable success. This play is, with but one exception, the greatest hit presented on the metropolitan stage this year. Maelyn Arduole's superb acting as "Slim" Hoover, the Arizona sheriff, the little incident of the third act, the sixteen mounted Indians and the backing broncos in the last act, combined with the intensely dramatic story and clever portrayal of every part, has given this piece a vogue in public interest that is not likely to diminish for many weeks to come. "The Round-Up" is a most satisfactory evening's entertainment and is a true picture of life in Southwestern Arizona. The merit of the play and the production makes it a notable contribution to American dramatic achievement.

WOMEN AS POULTRY RAISERS.

Why They Are Specially Adapted to the Business.

Poultry raising is one kind of stock raising that is adapted especially to women. Brains count for more than muscles in this department of the farm, and every expense of brain force is rewarded by increased revenues. The women on the farm have it in their power to make as great a success of poultry raising as their husbands make of the raising of horses, cattle, hogs or sheep. There are thousands of women engaged in the raising of poultry on a commercial scale and there are thousands of women on the farms that have brought the science of poultry raising to such a perfection that the business is every year paying them a large income.

The education of most women has been in the direction of cleanliness in the house and tidiness about the premises. This same kind of education is what is most needed in the poultry establishment, says the Farmers' Review. It has often been solely the lack of this that has caused losses in the poultry yards. The women on the farm have all the advantage of the woman in the village in the way of poultry keeping, for they have the raw material for the feeding of the poultry, all of which the village poultry keeper has to buy.

The Growing Chick.

A growing chick represents an investment. It is well cared for and develops into a profitable fowl. The investment will be profitable, if through neglect or bad judgment, it does not develop into a healthy, vigorous specimen, the investment is a failure.

LAYING HABITS OF DUCKS.

If Handled Right They Will Lay Early in the Morning.

Never keep ducks shut up in any way, they will sometimes lay their eggs upon the ground or drop them in the water, which gives trouble in collecting, and if there are any carion crows or even rooks in the neighborhood, they will be there before you, and the eggs will be destroyed, which certainly is a loss, says William Pyott, an English duck raiser. But breeding ducks hate confinement, and if let out regularly from six to seven a. m. you will find their eggs, as a rule, laid on the floor of the house about that time, and a far greater quantity of eggs will be secured during the season by adopting this plan rather than keeping the birds confined until late hours. I may also add here that if you can safely leave the ducks out until dusk in the evening it is better to do so, as the birds find more natural food—worms, etc., which are quite a necessity, to breeding ducks—during the early mornings and late evenings than any other part of the day. An experienced attendant can tell in a moment by handling each duck any that are carrying an egg, and the bird can be watched, or the first feed could be left until later, when they would return for the meal, and be confined for a while. Sometimes ducks get egg-bound, and have been known to carry the eggs for several days, and eventually die. If taken in the first stages, a pinch of Epsom salts in a small pellet given to the bird will reduce the inflammation of the ovaries, and the egg can be laid; occasionally a second and even a third dose will have to be administered (given once a day) before the egg is laid. In fact, I once had a duck lay three eggs in one day, the last being a soft-shelled egg, and the first like cement, having been carried four days. As a rule, it is during the early stages that ducks lay their eggs carelessly about and drop them in water. Later on in the season they will make a nest in the hedge row, or among nettles, sometimes in the stable or duck house, and it is quite safe to leave the bird to nature, removing the eggs at leisure.

COMBS OF FOWLS.

They Are a Good Index to the Health of the Bird.

The comb of the fowl may count for much or it may count for little in a cold country, it is of more consequence than it is in a warm country, because if too much exposed it freezes. For this reason fowls having large thin combs are not so well suited to the cold north as are those fowls that have thick compact combs, which we generally designate as "rose combs." Some fowls, like the Polish, have head gears that seem to fit them for life in a cold climate. The man that in the west cannot give his fowls much protection from the weather will do well to choose those that have naturally protected combs.

The combs of the fowls are receptacles for blood, and this does not seem to be in motion. Consequently it freezes easily, and it is the common impression among poultry raisers that a fowl that has had her comb frozen is of no value for egg laying operations. When fowls get ready to lay their combs are always shown by their combs. When a bird is being led to death by miles the comb shows the loss of blood by becoming pale. The comb is therefore quite a good index of the health of the fowl.

Poison for Mice.

A reader sends the following: One part molasses, one part sugar and one part arsenic mixed well makes an ideal poison for mice. They eat it readily and do not produce a disagreeable smell when they die.

Dancing Proves Fatal.

Many men and women catch colds at dances which terminate in pneumonia and consumption. After exposure to Polio's Flu and Coughs, it will break up cold and no serious results will be feared. Before any but the remaining in yellow packages, G. W. Pratchey, Druggist.

BEEES AND GRAPES.

A Mistaken Idea That the Little Insect Punctures the Fruit.

An Illinois reader wants to know if there is any way to prevent the bees from sucking the juice out of grapes. It is commonly supposed that the bees break the skin of the fruit and then remove the juices of the pulp. This is a mistake. If there is no rupture of the skin of the grape, the bees will not bother the fruit. Since they attack only those berries which are broken and which will, doubtless, spoil, they do no material harm to the fruit.

If the vineyard is a small one, one of the best remedies is to go through and examine the bunches and remove all fruit on which the skin is broken. This fruit can be used in making butters, jellies and wines and at the same time the temptation is removed from the bees.

In some small vineyards the growers resort to what is called "hugging." This is done about the time the berries are the size of small peas. Two pound paper bags are used, all pinned the bunch into the bag, which is set for an inch on opposite sides of the sack, near the top. Draw the top of the bag up to the lateral to which the bunch is attached so that it passes through the two slits made in the bag. Then bend the paper over on either side so no opening is left, and wrap a little fine wire around the lateral at all the sides of the sack. Leave this till the fruit ripens. This not only prevents bees and ants from getting to the fruit, but also protects it from birds.

Just what causes the fruit to crack open is not quite plain to our station experimenters. The writer has no field, however, that fruit grows on rich soils has a greater tendency to crack open than that grown on poor soils. If the soil is very dark colored the probabilities are that it contains a great deal of nitrogen, which may cause the fruit to crack in the way mentioned. Manures should not be applied to the vineyard, especially fresh manure, says a Journal of Agriculture. If the soil is naturally rich it should receive a liberal application of hard wood ashes to which has been added a little ground bone or pulverized rock phosphate. These materials should be worked into the surface layer of the soil a few feet surrounding the vines.

FALL PLOWING PAYS.

Put Ground in Better Shape for Spring Seeding.

I plow my land very deeply in the fall and then leave it. It absorbs a good deal of rain during the winter and does not wash as badly as it would were it left packed down. Not only this, but I usually turn under some green growth that will decompose during the winter adding humus to the soil and improving the physical condition, writes a correspondent of Orangeville Farmer. If this is left over till spring it will lose much of its value as a green manure.

The good starts which an early seeded crop gets is a strong argument in favor of fall plowing, for it enables me to get a good strong stand before the dry hot months come, when the crop suffers most from drought. From years of experience, I believe that land plowed in the spring packs much worse than that plowed in the fall, and when plowed in the spring it is usually a little wet and hard to handle. I have seen much land ruined by its owners being crowded in the spring and thus forced to plow when the land was far too wet for such an operation.

Westfield, the Banner Republican Town of County, Gives Fort Handsome Majority of 325.

Notwithstanding the light vote that was cast in other sections of the county, and particularly in Plainfield, where only 65 per cent. of the city's registered vote was polled, Westfield rolled up the handsome majority of 325 for John Franklin Fort. There was no slump in patriotism on the part of local Republican voters, who, having weighed carefully the issues, cast their lot with the party candidate who stood unflinchingly for the preservation of the American Sabbath. Westfield is now the banner Republican town in the State. This fact is proven by the following table of statistics, giving the vote throughout the county:

Fireside's Banquet Cont'd.

New customs had been established, now the methods adopted. It was growing along every line of social, intellectual and moral activity. It was a force for good in the home, in the community, and in the country at large.

Grand Regent Ward further emphasized the charitable objects of the order. He said that over half a million dollars had been paid out to the families of deceased beneficiaries in two councils within the past 25 years. There were, he said, some 24,000 members in the order, an emergency fund of $3,040,000, and an ever increasing loyalty. He said that the month, November, was a most fitting time for a celebration of the kind. It was a month of thanksgiving. In concluding, he paid a high tribute to Vice-grand Regent Class, to whom he

North Jersey Missionary Annual.

The third annual North Jersey Missionary Institute will be held November 11, 12 and 13 in the North Reformed Church, (opposite the City Library), at Newark, N. J. All three days will be spent in study and conferences. Many well known speakers in this branch of Missionary work will deliver addresses. The following persons of all denominations are especially desired: Officers of Young People's Societies, members of Missionary Committees, Pastors and Sunday School workers, both teachers and superintendents of all departments, for emphasis is to be laid on this last field of opportunity.

Brewer Eddy, the chairman of the registration committee has made preparations for a large number of delegates.

In appreciation of his services, the speaker presented Mr. Glass with a seal ring of the order. Mr. Glass accepted the gift in a very appropriate speech, expressing his heartfelt thanks to his superior officer and the members of the council.

Statistics were read by Secretary George W. Peck. At the reading of the names of the deceased members of the council, all stood with bowed heads. Supervising Deputy Keester of Bayonne invited all the local council to be present at the 25th anniversary of his home council. Dr. A. W. Hayes, pastor of the M. E. Church, and Anson F. Grant also spoke. Music was furnished by Prof. Harry Wetton's orchestra, of Elizabeth.

A Cash and Credit System in Groceries

Call and Look Over Our Stock

We Opened for Business Monday, November 4th.

The first questions put to a new concern are: "What Lines and What Quality of Stock Do You Carry?" and "What is our System of Doing Business?" The patrons of our predecessor, Mr. Patrick Traynor, need no guarantee of the excellence of the goods carried by him. Thirty years' service has been the test of worth. We purpose to carry the same line of goods as the old concern, and to add new lines of like excellence in quality.

As an inducement to those who are accustomed to pay cash we offer a discount of 4 per cent. in trade on every $25 worth of goods purchased. To this end we have installed the latest model National Cash Register. With each purchase a check is given indicating the amount paid for.

The McCaskey Credit System:
This System will give you an itemized bill with every purchase as well as the total amount of your account at the time of that purchase, which you will readily see precludes the possibility of any difference between you and us, as to the condition of your account at our store, as we will have no record here at the store which you do not have an exact copy of at your home as all charges will be made in duplicate. To secure your hearty co-operation in operating this system, we will furnish you a miniature register for use at home in the shape of a slip holder especially devised to hold these slips, which under this system, means so much to you.

Not only do we carry a complete line of specialties in cheeses, butter, eggs, tea and coffee but also a department of fruits and vegetables has been added. This department includes a line of the choicest fresh fruits and garden products.
