

CONGREGATIONAL ANNUAL CONFERENCE HOLDS SESSION

Convention of all the Churches of New Jersey, Maryland and District of Columbia Held in Local Church. Delegates Well Pleased With Westfield

The Congregationalists of New Jersey, including also all the Congregational Churches of Maryland, District of Columbia and Virginia held their forty-sixth annual Conference with the Congregational Church of Westfield on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week.

Dr. J. W. Frizzell was the Moderator. Sixty-five different churches were represented by their pastors and two delegates each. The meetings began on Tuesday afternoon and continued through Tuesday evening and Wednesday morning, afternoon and evening. The people of Westfield generously opened their homes to these guests, who expressed themselves as charmed with the attractions of our town and very appreciative of the gracious hospitality which they received. Dr. Loomis, in his words of welcome, speaking facetiously, expressed the hope that many of them might fall in love with Westfield and make it their permanent residence. Not a few of them spoke as if they were inclined to do so. A delightful banquet was served to these visitors in the Parish House on Tuesday evening, which was followed by bright after-dinner speeches, also a luncheon on Wednesday noon, while the dinner that night was provided in the Westfield homes. The Church and Parish House were beautifully decorated with palms and potted plants. It was accounted one of the most interesting and successful meetings of the Conference that has ever been known. The attendance was excellent.

Reports from the churches, presented by Rev. Charles L. Goodrich, the secretary of the Conference, on Tuesday afternoon, showed a steady growth, healthy condition and vigorous activities among the Churches, and an increase in benevolent contributions. The reports of the various committees revealed the fact that the Congregationalists are wide-awake touching the great problems of the day, religious, educational, Church federation, Social and labor conditions and all questions of public welfare.

A notable address upon "Prospects for a World Victory" was delivered on Tuesday afternoon by Dr. C. H. Patton, who in his young manhood was a Pastor of this Church, but is now Secretary of the American Board of Foreign Missions and one of the most eminent of the leaders in missionary work. After frankly stating that there were still great and populous regions of the earth to which the Gospel has thus far no access, he gave a thrilling account of the enormous progress of the missionary movement both at home and abroad within the last fifty years, and particularly within the twentieth century. In China there are at the present time, three times as many Christians as in the year 1900; in India whole villages are coming over to Christianity, not one or two, but scores and hundreds of such villages. The progress of missions appears to be geometrical and the future full of hope.

On Tuesday evening the Conference sermon was preached by Dr. J. T. Stocking, the new pastor of the First Congregational Church of Washington, D. C. Dr. Stocking is tall, slender with dark hair and mustache, a graceful figure and a winsome face. He is a remarkably attractive speaker, combining in a very unusual way polish and charm of diction with earnestness, forcefulness and genuine power. After giving a swift sketch of the wonderful progress of invention and discovery which mark the present age, he spoke of an attitude of mind and heart that characterize the times; a spirit of self-sufficiency, irreverence and indifference to the deeper truths of the Christian faith. He then called attention to the fact that for all our invention and discovery, we are practically as helpless as ever before the giant forces of nature, and need as much as ever men needed it, religious faith. The times call for a deeper belief in the reality, the presence and the sovereign authority of a righteous God.

The Wednesday morning session was devoted to the great topic of "Evangelism". Three important papers were presented and earnestly discussed. Rev. Herman F. Swartz, Secretary of the Home Missionary Society, spoke of "The Problem of Growth in the Congregational Churches". The increase in the membership of the body has not of late years been satisfactory. Among the reasons by which he accounted for this retarded growth, he emphasized especially the lack of a positive and definite purpose to win men, man by man, to the faith of Christ. Dr. Clarence A. Vincent, the new pastor

FOOTLIGHT FANCIES GREAT SUCCESS

Members of Junior Auxiliary of Children's Country Home Present Pleasing Production and Clear Handsome Profit

That the efforts of the members of the Junior Auxiliary of the Children's Country Home were successful and appreciated was evidenced on Monday night when an audience which taxed the seating capacity of the Westfield Theatre assembled to witness the performance of "Footlight Fancies". The young people who took part had been rehearsing for several weeks and from the time the curtain went up until it dropped on the last number of the program, there was not a hitch or flaw in the whole proceeding. To mention anyone as being better than the other would be superfluous as all did well and received hearty applause from the audience. And they deserved it as they certainly did their parts to perfection and reflected great credit upon themselves in their efforts to give such an entertainment for so worthy a charitable institution.

The first number on the program was an opening chorus "Apple Blossom Time". Miss Helen Collins sang the solo parts and the chorus was composed of the Misses Jeanne Halsted, Miss Winifred Grant, Miss Helene Gladwin, Miss Joyceelyn Watts, Miss Ruth Edmonds, Miss Gladys French, Miss Freda Halsted, Miss Estelle Sexton, Miss Mildred Martin, Isabel Emery, Helen Sexton and Doris Hinckman.

The next number consisted of a series of tableaux as follows: "Uneda Biscuit, Rembrandt Lane; Cream of Wheat, Jack Clark, George Alpers, Virginia Simpson; Campbell Soup, Jack Worth; Kellogg's Toasted Corn Flakes, Adele Ungerer, Jack Simpson and Jack Worth; Fairy Soap, Virginia Simpson; Dutch Cleanser, Irene Emery; Beecolint Peanut Butter, Eleanor Cooper; Pisk Tire, Ruth Dennis; Milady Chocolates, Adele Ungerer, Jack Clark and Jack Simpson; Gold Dust Twins, David Ames, Allan Bunce. The tableaux was followed by a song and dance entitled "Won't You Come and Waltz With Me", Miss Irene Cooper, Miss Margaret Spelman, Miss Edith M. Gladwin, Miss Frances Peirce, William Backman, John Elliott, Robert Keyes, H. Cowperthwaite.

A Dutch dance was the next number and was given by Isabel Emery and Helene Gladwin. This was followed by a play entitled, "The Return of Deborah." This was participated in by Irene Cooper, Elizabeth Ames, Ruth Edmonds, Jeanne Halsted and Winifred Grant. Miss Helen Collins then sang "Miss Malindy Brown" in true darkey dialect. "The Boy Who Stuttered and the Girl Who Lipped" was sung by Miss Ruth Collins, Master David Ames and chorus. There were twelve girls in the chorus and six of them represented boys. The girls were the Misses Gladys French, Doris Hinckman, Arline Martin, Ruth Edmonds, Estelle Sexton and Helen Sexton and the boys, Miss Helene Gladwin, Esther Lightfoot, Isabel Emery, Frieda Halsted, Mabel Phillips and Natalie Proudlin.

Society Dances—Tango-One-Step and Maxixe was the next number and Miss Annette Gladwin and Russell Gomes were the dancers. The last number on the program was a song and dance entitled "Far Up the Hill," Miss Dorothy French, Coleman Clark and chorus composed of Miss Helen MacMonnies, Miss Ruth Stevens, Miss Louise Bennett, Mary Goodwin and Messrs. David Collins, Elwood Reese, Harry Randall and Clifford Ewing.

The executive staff was as follows: Orchestra, Miss McIntock and Harold Welch; General Manager, Miss D. Ames; Stage Director, Miss Gomes; Assistant Directors, Satter Clark and Louis Stinson.

Through the kindness of Mr. Flagg, the theatre was donated for the use of the entertainment free of charge, and as a token of appreciation the Junior Auxiliary, near the close of the program, presented him with a handsome walking stick.

As a result of the efforts of the members of the Auxiliary there will be several hundred dollars added to the treasury of the home as the proceeds will all be donated to this institution.

Proposed New High School Building

PLANS OF PROPOSED HIGH SCHOOL

Submitted by Architect Henry C. Pelton, of New York

The above illustration of the proposed new High School building as per plans submitted by Architect Henry C. Pelton, of New York, was reproduced from a pencil sketch made by Mr. Pelton especially for The Standard.

The building is to be fireproof. The main entrance is at the corner, with auxiliary entrance on Elm street and another one on the Walnut Street side.

The building contains 572,000 cubic feet with a ground floor area of 12,500 square feet.

The basement is to be 10 feet in the clear, and the other three stories 12 feet ceiling height.

The auditorium, which will seat 800 people, is on the first floor, located in the angle formed by the two wings, and at the rear of the building, with ample exits and aisle capacity, conforming strictly with New York Theatre laws, with stage, dressing rooms, etc. The main entrance to the auditorium will be through the main hall of the building.

The gymnasium is under the auditorium, and will have an 18 foot ceiling.

The lunch room, toilets, locker rooms, manual training, janitor's office and boiler room are in the basement and toilets on the second floor as well.

On the first floor are the superintendent's office, the teachers' two retiring rooms, with cloak and dressing rooms and the several class rooms, all with approved side light.

Corridors, size of class rooms, light exposures and other features of the building are in strict accordance with the state regulations.

On the second floor, the library, reference room and class rooms are so arranged as to avoid confusion in assembling and dismissing classes as far as it is possible.

The lecture room is on the third floor, centrally located and well lighted. On one side is the chemical laboratory, and on the other the physical laboratory. Leading from the laboratories are the preparation work room, apparatus room, etc.

The biology class room has, besides the indispensable north light, a skylight.

Each stairway is enclosed by fireproof masonry. Stairways are of most approved fireproof construction with fire doors to minimize the fire risk to the greatest degree possible.

The call and telephone system is provided, connecting all class rooms, lecture rooms and laboratories with the superintendent's and janitor's offices.

Careful provision has been made in the planning to admit a further extension to the east, along Walnut street, for 18 class rooms without detriment to any of the proposed classrooms or corridors.

LINEN SHOWER GIVEN TO MISS CARRIE KENNEDY.

Miss Carrie Kennedy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Kennedy, of Walnut street, was given a linen shower by Mrs. L. T. Ewen at her home on Central avenue, Wednesday afternoon, in honor of the engagement of her son, A. T. Ewen, to Miss Kennedy.

The afternoon was pleasantly spent in music and games after which refreshments were served. The dining room was prettily decorated, the color scheme being yellow. Hand painted baskets containing candy, from the top of which hung a butterfly, was at each guest's plate. The favors were carved Ivory fans.

Those present were Mrs. W. J. Kennedy and Miss Kennedy, Miss Edith Jones, Miss Gordon, Miss Steffy, Miss Marion Keyes, Miss Marion Welch, Miss Ruth Stauffer, Miss Margaret White, Miss Helen Collins, and Miss Powick. Miss Kennedy received many handsome pieces of linen work.

ANNUAL PLANT MARKET TOMORROW AFTERNOON.

The Westfield Branch of the National Fruit and Flower Guild will hold its annual plant market on the lawn of the Cooper property next to the public library tomorrow afternoon. The ladies who are interested in this work request that all residents send all the plants and shrubs from their gardens that they can afford and that they also purchase garden seeds and thereby help a good cause. In past years the market has been a great success and it is hoped that this year's will be no exception to the rule.

The proceeds from the market are used in providing bouquets for sick children in the hospitals and a large number of flowers are sent to the hospitals each year.

The Town Exhibit Will Be Held in Washington School Hall.

GRAND COUNCIL LOYAL ASSOCIATION IN ANNUAL SESSION

State Organization Received Royal Reception from Local Council and Citizens. High Tribute Paid to Union Council

Tuesday was a day long to be remembered by the members of Union Council, No. 5, Loyal Association, for on that day the Grand Council of the State of New Jersey held its annual meeting in this town for the first time. There were about sixty delegates present from councils of the association all over the State and from the many pleasing remarks heard from them they were exceedingly well satisfied with the reception given by the members of Union Council and the town at large.

The delegates arrived early in the morning and were met by a reception committee from Union Council and conducted to Arcanum hall where the sessions of the Grand Council were held. Before the meeting in the morning opened the delegates spent the time in looking over the town and visiting the many points of interest.

At eleven o'clock the first session was called to order by Grand Councilor W. C. McKeever, of Lennahaha Council, of Rutherford. The first part of the session was given to hearing of reports of the Grand Councilor, the Grand Recorder and the Grand Treasurer as well as the several committees of the Grand Body. After these had been disposed of Mayor H. W. Evans, who is a member of Union Council, was introduced and welcomed the members and delegates of the association and gave them all the privileges of the town. The Mayor stated that he as well as the residents considered Westfield the best town in the State and that nothing was too good for those who came to visit it.

Grand Councilor McKeever responded in a few well chosen words and stated that the Grand Council was glad to be afforded the opportunity to meet here and that they considered Union Council the best Council in the State for work and enthusiasm. In his report the Grand Councilor paid a high tribute to the work of Union Council during the past year and held it up as an example for the other councils to follow.

At one o'clock the delegates assembled in front of Arcanum hall, where Photographer Baumann took a group picture of the delegates and other members. After this, escorted by Grand Orator Morton, they adjourned to Willett's hotel on North avenue, where they were served with an excellent luncheon prepared by Mine Host Willett. Before beginning to eat, President Arthur N. Pierson of the Board of Trade, welcomed the delegates and extended to them all the courtesies of the town. Rev. Rufus K. Boyd, of Pauls Hook Council, Jersey City, asked the blessing.

After the luncheon the delegates witnessed an exhibition drill of the fire department. Fire Chief Decker sent in an alarm from Broad and Elm streets and the clamped time from the first tap of the bell until the firemen had a stream of water playing on the lot formerly occupied by the Casino, was just 75 seconds. The inflammation from the Stabot Marce and, by request, The Hallelujah chorus.

TOWN EXHIBIT LONG HERALDED SOON HERE

Many Pleasing Surprises Promised to Visitors at Exhibit Designed in Order That Residents May "Know Westfield."

MAY 12, 13, 14 AND 15

The long heralded town exhibit will be held on May 12, 13, 14, 15 in the Washington school hall. For six months the exhibit committees of the Board of Trade have been working to make this the one greatest event in the history of Westfield. Over three hundred exhibits are being prepared. They analyze and illustrate every phase of Westfield's public, social and material life.

This undertaking on the part of the Board of Trade involves great effort and expense. This exhibit belongs to the people of Westfield and every resident should help to make it a success. Talk it up to your neighbors and friends and save the week of May 12-15 for the exhibit. Not only visit the exhibit yourself but take with you all your friends and neighbors, it will be well worth your while.

Many pleasing surprises are promised the visitors. Many of those preparing for the exhibit, have been working day and night behind closed doors, in preparing their special exhibits.

Inspector Carney of the Health Board will be there in his white coat and illustrate how the milk supply of Westfield is analyzed and kept pure. The milk will be traced from cow to cradle.

The District Nurses Association will have an exhibit demonstrating the work done by it.

A miniature working model of Westfield's sewage system and the Imhoff tanks at the sewer farm is being prepared and will be in operation at the exhibit.

The Union County Mosquito Commission will have an exhibit and demonstrate the work being done in Westfield.

Encumber Vars will show how Westfield roads are constructed together with much data on same.

The fire department will also have an exhibit of great interest to visitors.

Photographer Baumann for months has been collecting rare and interesting prints and photographs, illustrating Westfield as far back as the art of photography extends. He will exhibit some rare illustrations, priceless in value.

Ancient documents have been dug up relating to Westfield as far back as the time of Indian possession.

President Arthur N. Pierson of the Board of Trade is himself preparing a surprise exhibit. What this is he refuses as yet to divulge but from the fact that he has been seen in his shirt sleeves darting in and out of a locked room in the post office building for weeks past would indicate that it will be a surprise well worth viewing.

To name the different exhibits would be to enumerate all the activities of town. The best way to learn what will be at the exhibit will be to visit it during the week of May 12 and learn to know your own Westfield.

FRENCH PLAY BY HIGH SCHOOL PUPILS

Tomorrow, Saturday evening, at the Washington School Auditorium, a play in French, Les Deux Sœurs, will be presented by the pupils of the French department. Complications arising from conversation between two supposedly deaf people form a basis for interesting developments. Parts will be taken by Gladys French, Isabel Emery, Elwood Reese, Coleman Clark, Francis Middlefield, Henry Rahb and Joseph Newell.

There will also be songs by Dorothy French, Helen Collins, Clifford Ewing and Aubrey Russell. An original dance illustrating an old French song has been arranged by Dorothy Ganzel.

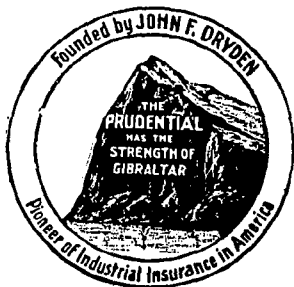

Receipts from the small admission charge, will be used to defray the expense of renting costumes, etc.

SPRING CONCERT OF HIGH SCHOOL GLEE CLUB

The annual concert of the Glee Club will be held in the Washington School Monday evening, May 4th. The program will include some very fine numbers, such as the Blue Danube Waltzes, The Toreador (from Carmen), choruses from Elijah, The Inflammation from the Stabot Marce and, by request, The Hallelujah chorus.

TO CANVASS WESTFIELD FOR ST. ELIZABETH HOSPITAL

In response to a call for a pledge of $75,000 for the maintenance and support of the St. Elizabeth Hospital a meeting was held in the rooms of the Columbian Circle on Monday night at which representatives from Elizabeth who are interested in the hospital were present. The meeting was organized by electing Rev. H. J. Watterson, chairman, and L. H. Phelps, secretary. Those present from Elizabeth explained that the hospital was sorely in need of funds both for clearing off a heavy debt and for improvements to the hospital building.

Those present at the meeting manifested an interest in the plan and it was decided to start a campaign in this town. Accordingly Father Watterson appointed the following ladies to solicit funds for the hospital and they began work yesterday and will make a house to house canvass of all the homes in town. These ladies are working in teams and are expected to make a report tomorrow afternoon of the amount they have collected. This amount will be turned over to Father Watterson who will see that the hospital authorities get it.

The ladies who are making the canvass are Miss Nellie English, Miss Mary Miller, Mrs. W. Doyle, Miss Lillie Somers, Mrs. George Peck, Mrs. J. Austin, Mrs. J. Fogarty, Mrs. J. Whalen, Miss Susan Brady, Mrs. T. O'Neill, Mrs. C. C. Malsbury, Mrs. J. Roy, Mrs. A. Encland, Mrs. J. Bates, Mrs. J. W. Bond, Mrs. G. Riley, Mrs. H. C. McVoy and Miss Mae Powers.

Taylor; Vice Presidents, Mrs. Charles Cox and Mrs. Charles Griffiths; Secretary, Mrs. W. A. McAllister; Treasurer, Mrs. George Noe.

The reports of the secretary and treasurer were read and showed that the Guild had had a prosperous year. During the year it has handled $1400. The reports of the other organizations of the church were also read. The members of the guild and all the ladies of the church were the guests of the Rector, Rev. James A. Smith, at tea at the rectory after the meeting.

MEN'S FORUM DISCUSSES POVERTY AS DISEASE.

"Poverty as a Social Disease" was considered from the viewpoint of Christian men at the meeting of the Men's Forum in the First Methodist church on last Sunday at noon. The causes of poverty and how best to treat beggars who ask for help were discussed. Among the speakers were E. J. Jones, David Stanley, F. B. Ham and Charles Parker.

L. W. Neefus made a report on the action of the town council regarding the request of the Forum to have a labor bureau established in this town. At the meeting of the Forum on next Sunday "Riches" will be discussed. On the evening of May 1, the members of the Forum will enjoy a party at the home of President G. D. Beatty, in Stoneleigh Park.

By request of the Junior Department of the Presbyterian Bible School, the following names which should have appeared on the honor roll but were accidentally omitted last week when the rest of the list was made up, are herewith printed this week:

John Murphy, who said his home was in Newark, was arrested by Officer Denning Tuesday for panhandling on the streets.

Recorder Springstead suspended sentence and ordered Murphy to get out of the town as quickly as he could. Officer Denning also arrested John Hammond of town for reckless automobile driving. He was fined $10 by the Recorder.

The Town Exhibit Will Be Held In Washington School Hall.

Fanwood

AMONG FANWOOD CHURCHES

The recent election of wardens and vestrymen of All Saints' Episcopal parish resulted in the following selections: Harry P. Robinson, senior warden, and Charles H. Bent, junior warden; and the following vestrymen: Richard W. Tull, Albert Kibler, Augustus Frenz, Frederick Sherwood, Ten Eyck Beardsley, Francis Henderson and Henry L. Jespersen, Jr.

Miss Mamie Clark led the meeting of the Epworth League at the Methodist church on Sunday evening. "Personal Evangelism under Difficulties" was discussed. The Rev. John J. Wade is expected to lead next Sunday evening.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Episcopal church, held their weekly meeting at the home of Mrs. L. J. Briggs, on Martine avenue, Wednesday afternoon.

A special meeting of All Saints' Guild was held at the residence of Mrs. Fred W. Cressy, on Martine avenue, yesterday afternoon. Arrangements were completed for the "Utility Sale" to be held under the auspices of the Guild at the residence of Mrs. Richard Tull, on North avenue, next Thursday afternoon.

St. John's Colored Baptist Sunday School is meeting regularly and the attendance average is high.

The regular mid-week prayer meeting was held at the Baptist church on Wednesday evening.

The members of the Young Men's Bible Class of the Baptist church held their annual dinner in the church parlors last Friday evening.

The Rev. H. K. Carroll, pastor of the Methodist church, gave an address after the dinner.

The Lend-a-hand Society of the Baptist church held its weekly meeting this afternoon.

Fanwood Township will be represented on the next grand jury by the following: W. H. Carter, Dr. F. W. Wescott and F. J. Palmer, of Fanwood, and H. C. Meyer and James Johnston, of Scotch Plains.

Ground has been broken for the new residence to be erected by James Minnezeck of Bloomfield on the lot recently purchased by Mr. Minnezeck at the corner of Midway avenue and Russell road.

Several Fanwood young men are rehearsing with the Plainfield High School Minstrel troupe, which will appear in an up-to-date production in the new High School auditorium in the early part of May.

A "lightning" sale of Fanwood property was consummated on Sunday, when a party purchased two lots on North avenue, opposite the residence of L. E. Hatfield, from the H. C. Lockwood Company for "spot cash". The buyer plans to erect a residence immediately. He simply cannot leave Fanwood until he was sure he would have a plot of land in Fanwood, the park like village.

The following young people were on the entertainment committee for the Saturday Night Club social: Miss Annalou Outwater, Miss Marie Boice, and Messrs. John Kyte and Southard Outwater. Among those present besides the regular members were Miss Quick, of Plainfield, Miss Louise Warne, of Minneapolis, and Mrs. E. J. Rhoades. Dushanek's orchestra furnished the music for dancing. Everybody had a very pleasant evening.

LEGISLATION BILLS.

The last Legislature fulfilled five, or possibly six, of the fifteen pledges made to the people in the party platform.

The most important bills which directly affect Westfield and her citizens are as follows:

The bank tax law, which imposes a per cent tax on the capital and surplus of all banking institutions with allowance for the banking property held by the bank; the revenues to be divided equally between the county and municipality.

The Mandatory Freeholder Bill urged by Governor Fielder was defeated and a referendum bill passed in its stead.

The Smick Local Option Bill passed the Senate and was strangled to death in the house committee, no doubt because of the pressure of the liquor interests, and for the lack of support by those who desire a local option.

The Kuhlke Water Rate Bill providing a $125 per M. feet maximum charge for water passed the House, but was smothered in the Senate Committee.

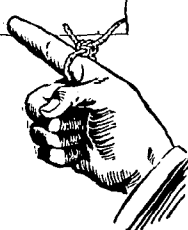

The Weart Registration Bill, exempting voters living in municipalities of over ten thousand inhabitants from personal registration, died in Committee's hands.

The Sunday Sports and the Sunday Liquor bills were both reported out of committee, but were defeated, one in the House and one in the Senate. From the debates had on these bills, it would seem that the party in power feared that such legislation would meet with the disapproval of the better class of citizens of the state, and consequently did not receive any support to speak of—a credit to the strength of a high order of public sentiment, which the legislators knew to exist in our state.

The Hennessy Home Rule Bill, which aimed to give municipalities under Commission Government unlimited powers, while already a law, promises serious complications, as the liberality of the provisions of the act brings in question its constitutionality in some respects. The bill's provision denies municipalities the provisions of their old charter, but does not insure them a government under the new act, consequently there is considerable doubt as to whether its commission governed towns and cities are not worse off than they ever were.

"The Measles Problem."

By Dr. J. B. Harrison

While it may seem a late day to be sounding warnings regarding our measles epidemic, much good will still accrue, if such warnings are heeded. Doubtless every family calling a physician for measles in our present epidemic has been fully informed as to its complications and dangers as well as what to do for the patient and to protect the public.

The matter of isolating the sick and quarantining the exposed has been carefully and conscientiously explained in every instance by the physician in attendance. The instances in which no physician was called, I believe, have been few. Hence a plea of ignorance would be untenable in the vast majority of cases. The truth of the matter is that exceptionally only have the laity done as well as they believed or even knew positively; and have carelessly exposed others with no better excuse for their acts than that some one else had done or was doing the same thing. The School authorities and Board of Health have done about all that could reasonably be required of them to control the epidemic and certainly have they used the precautions that are usual for such bodies under similar circumstances. Had the public sympathized and cooperated with the two Boards and carried out instructions given by individual physicians, doubtless conditions would have been very different. That such an extensive epidemic should occur in as enlightened a community as Westfield is a disgrace and a blot upon its good name.

Beside the great amount of individual suffering and general inconvenience and annoyance entailed, the school work has been most materially interrupted and the financial cost to the Schools and to individuals has been great. Fortunately the epidemic is on the wane and we've doubtless seen the worst of it. But there is another possible danger to our town, inasmuch as scarlet fever—a more serious malady usually than measles—has made its appearance in several communities in the State, some of which are not far distant. If the public will take warning from this and their recent experience, and adopt the strictest quarantine and isolation methods with the first and every case that presents itself, we will be spared a repetition of our late experience. Adopt precaution such as an early diagnosis by those competent, even if the illness seems slight.

In suspicious cases even adopt precautionary measures until the illness can be positively diagnosed. Care for the case and the exposed just as if a positive diagnosis had been made until the character of the trouble is determined. The little annoyance and expense thus entailed will be very small in comparison to that occasioned by a general epidemic of scarlet fever.

The Boards of Education and Health are cooperating to preserve the good health of the community, but without the cooperation of the people in general their efforts will prove unavailing. At such times take nothing for granted and run the risk, if necessary, of erring on the safe side by adopting early and strict precautionary measures.

Proposed New High School.

The picture appearing on the front page of this issue shows a prospective view of the proposed high school, as per plans submitted by Mr. Henry C. Pelton, of New York City, whose plans have received the most favorable consideration of the Board of Education.

While we are not able to show the floor plans of the building, those who have seen them assure us that Mr. Pelton's plans provide everything that is to be desired for an up to date and approved high school for our town, including an auditorium on the first floor, of liberal proportions, with all the other features that go to make the high school building of today distinct from what is usually considered approved quarters for school work.

The Board of Education are moving slowly in the matter, and making sure that every detail of the plan and their negotiations with the architect are satisfactory, before they make their contract.

We have every confidence that the Board are taking care of the interests of the taxpayers, as well as the work which the building is to accommodate.

The Town Exhibit.

The Committees working out the tabulations and statistics of the matters pertaining to Westfield for the Town Exhibit display many wonderful features of growth and prosperity, such as any citizen should be justly proud of. While we have always appreciated that Westfield leads in many of its public and charitable enterprises, we believe that our people will really be astonished at the progress Westfield has made along every line of development and growth.

An Exhibit such as is being planned for the week of May 12th, will show to our citizens and to the whole state that Westfield is in a position to be a strong competitor of any of our neighbors for the attention of those who know and appreciate the best in public and social order.

Can We Afford Not To?

As Spring comes on, and the unsightly green scum appears upon our town lake, we are reminded again of the unfavorable position which we are put in by the Mosquito Commissions portrayal of our town lake in their annual report of last year. How much longer the people of Westfield will stand for the disgraceful condition of this property, and when we will gather enough nerve to take care of our Park property, is of course, a problem. It has been often expressed by visitors to our town, that with almost every feature of town improvements up to the best, it is beyond comprehension how the people of Westfield can be satisfied to allow their Park property to discount their town.

Each year adds to the ever increasing burden of debt that this condition is putting upon our town, until the problem is not whether we can afford to improve the lake at this time, as it is, whether we can afford not to improve it.

Increased Population Indicated.

The United States census bureau estimates that there has been a 10-12 per centum increase of population in New Jersey since 1910. This would bring Westfield's population up to 8022 if we have kept pace with the balance of the State and if the census bureau is correct.

All Wrong.

In granting pardon to Comm. Kuchinle, the grafting ex-political demagogue of Atlantic City, and Ex-Sheriff Zeller of Bergen County, convicted of embezzlement, the Governor and Court of Pardons are the object of just and severe criticisms.

The sentences which these men were serving were far too light for the crimes they committed, and then to pardon them after serving a few months of their sentence is making a farce of justice and heroes of the guilty.

President Taft's miserable blunder in pardoning C. W. Morse, and the pardons just issued by our own court of pardons, is carrying the thing too far.

This whole business is more or less akin to that morbid fad of coddling the vicious and sending bouquets to the criminals and the sooner such things are stopped the better society will be.

Quit Faking.

Under the ordinance just put into force in New York, publishing "false and misleading advertisements" constitutes a misdemeanor, and is punishable by fine and imprisonment, or both. This should have a far-reaching and wholesome effect upon business generally, and will give proper protection to the legitimate merchants against unprincipled and fake advertisers, whose copy fill the columns of some of our newspapers to catch the unwary.

Misrepresentation with an intent to deceive or defraud has always been held by our common law to be a misdemeanor, but why an exception should be made in small matters and require an ordinance to prevent the evil, is rather hard to understand. Now that the ordinance is passed, we should feel assured that the things we read in the advertising columns of our New York newspapers are according to fact. FABLES FOR THE FAIR

BY JOSEPHINE DODGE DASKAM

THE WOMAN WHO MARRIED OFF HER DAUGHTER

There was once a Woman who was Very Anxious to Have her Daughter well Married. For this Purpose she Selected an Eligible Young Man who had but One Fault. This Fault was great Timidity.

FULLY APPRECIATED THE SOCIETY OF MOTHER AND DAUGHTER.

"If he had Not been so Timid he would have Been Acquired by somebody Long Since," said the Woman's Friends, "and it is Not Likely that your Daughter, who has a very Haughty Appearance, would Succeed where So Many of Us have Failed; for We also Have Daughters."

But the Thoughtful Mother refused to Listen to these Sneers.

"I have Made a Study of These Matters," she said, "and I have Observed that your Efforts are Put North at the Wrong Time. You Entertain young Men at Summer Places, where Competition is far Too Keen, and in the Winter Season, when Men are far Too Busy. I have a Better Plan."

In Accordance with this Plan, she did Not go Away for the Summer, but Stayed in Town. Toward the end of August she Invited the Eligible Young Man to Dinner. He Accepted eagerly, for he had been Living in Restaurants, and Depending largely upon Vaudeville for his Entertainment. He therefore Fully Appreciated the Society of the Thoughtful Mother and her Daughter. In Fact, at the End of the Evening he Proposed for the Hand of the latter, which was His immediately.

"How many Summers I have Spent Trolling in the City with No such Home as This!" he exclaimed thankfully.

So they were All Pleased.

This touches us that Good Wine sometimes Needs a Dash.

The War With Mexico

Members of the National Guard who could have insured readily a few days ago now find it very hard to get Policies and then only at an extra charge. This illustrates what happens to everyone sooner or later. Good health and the ability to pay premiums are real opportunities that should not be neglected, as the time will come when one or the other, or both, will have passed away.

BAPTIST BOWLERS GIVE SUPPER

As 1914 Champions, Are Hosts to the Members of the Sunday School Athletic League

The S. S. A. L. bowlers were guests of the Baptist team, 1914 champions, at a supper last Tuesday evening in honor of their winning the silver loving cup.

The bowlers met in the church at 7 o'clock and at 7:30 all marched into the Sunday School rooms where the ladies had arranged three tables for the diners. The boys remained standing while President Martin offered a short prayer and then the good things to eat had their innings. It certainly spoke well for the supper the way the young ladies had to hustle things around and bring in the "reserves" from the kitchen.

The speakers table was arranged across the East end of the room with the other tables extending down the sides, so that everybody could see everybody else. Miss Grace Walker struck up some lively tunes on the piano and the boys just couldn't keep their feet still and the didn't have to.

Captain Clements of the Baptist team was toastmaster and after welcoming the members of the different teams introduced President Martin. Mr. Martin spoke briefly of the object of the league and the things it stood for and made a special plea to the young men to look out for the younger boys, to set them a good example and show them how to accomplish things on the athletic field.

Supt. Dempsey of the Baptist Sunday School just had time for a few remarks and to tell them all to be sure and "salute" the flag.

"Brother" Venn, of the Baptist team, also had a word to say in regard to the good feeling and fairness shown in the tournament.

Captain Witke of the Presbyterian team showed that his inner man had been well taken care of by calling for a rising vote of thanks for the ladies of the kitchen when his turn came.

Captain McMahon had to leave early but he left the honor to Mr. Niland, of the Trinity team, who spoke of the friendly spirit shown throughout the season and said he hoped Trinity would be the winning host next year.

Mr. John McCormack, represented Captain Kimball, who is in the West, and read a letter from the missing Captain. He also wants the honor for his team next year.

Mr. Ed. Baker, the individual champion, also said a few words but indictated that he would rather do his "talking" on the alleys, which everybody agreed he could well do.

Mr. Guy Jackson was the last speaker. He referred to the harmony which prevailed in the league and spoke of the lack of denominational lines. Brother Jackson didn't say a great deal but the boys soon "warmed up to him."

After the last speaker the banquet closed with "My Country 'Tis of Thee" and the "meeting" broke up.

The beautiful cake was given to the team by Mrs. Woodruff who also furnished the flowers.

The following ladies had charge of the supper: Mrs. W. L. Day, Mrs. F. B. Jones, Mrs. F. B. Kissam, Mrs. T. L. Kniffin, Mrs. G. E. Gilmore, Mrs. A. Hunt, Mrs. George Baker, Mrs. John Goltra and Mrs. W. B. Woodruff.

The girls of Miss Winnie Davis' class were the waitresses and did their part well.

George B. Worth, Charles J. Ortleb, and George V. Gilmore were the committee on arrangements.

CUBS SMOTHER HIGH SCHOOL IN OPENING GAME

The High School's loose playing in the second inning of their game with the Cub's last Saturday proved their downfall and spoiled what might otherwise have been a good game. But after giving the Cubs five runs in the second, the High School was unable to solve Cowperthwaite's delivery so lost the game 14-2. Green started the game in a style that promises well for the local season, the first pitched ball met his bat and sailed over the second baseman's head for a clean single.

Contrary to the general expectations Mr. Martin sent Cruttenden to the mound holding Pearsall out until the sixth inning, otherwise the lineup was as stated in last week's Standard. The only change in the Cubs lineup was that Douglas played second instead of "Doc" Triplett.

The High School started off strong in the first inning getting a lead of one run, when Rahb was hit by a pitched ball. The second inning was a massacre, eleven men facing the pitcher. Himmelberger the first man up was hit by a pitched ball, made second on Marengi's poor throw. Worth was safe at first on a fast liner which Bill Gilmartin couldn't hang on to, but was forced out when Dallas hit a grounder to short scoring Himmelberger. Dallas stole second and came in on Hunt's single to center. Hunt stole and scored on Cowperthwaite's Texas leaguer to right field. Cowperthwaite stole and made third on Davies' error which gave Green first. Cowperthwaite scored and Green made third when Valleau was safe on second's error. Young singled, scoring Green and Valleau. Douglass singled, bringing in Young and made second on Underwood's error. Himmelberger grounded, W. Gilmartin to Taylor. Taylor singled, scoring Douglass, but was left when Dallas went out, Davies to Taylor.

The High School was only able to get one more run which came when Underwood made first on a poor throw to Green.

HOW TO DANCE THE TANGO, No. 2

By ODGERS T. GURNEE

Illustrated With Specially Posed Photographs

WITH millions of devotees and thousands of denouncers, the modern dance craze has been a bone of contention in almost every corner of the civilized world.

There is little doubt that in their original form the dances of today were improper, but after passing through the mill of public usage they have been so renovated as to be absolutely unobjectionable at the present time.

The present mode of the tango calls for the Parisian steps in place of the South American style, which was the rage last year. However, some of the Argentine steps are very attractive, and a description of them will not be amiss.

The deep dip, forward and backward, is one of the essential figures from this dance and should be done as follows:

Start from the open tango position, as shown in the accompanying illustration, take three steps forward, and on the fourth step bend forward till the knee almost touches the floor. In all open steps start with the outside foot, so that in the forward dip the outside feet are advanced. Rising from this position, take three more steps, swing the inside foot forward, then back, turn on the outside foot and dip back with the inside foot. In this manner you have turned halfway around and are facing in the opposite direction. The foot which was formerly on the outside is now inside and vice versa. Take three steps forward, repeat step and you are straightened out again.

Another pretty step is as follows:

Take three walking steps, swing outside foot in front of inside foot and drag back three times. This sounds very simple, but is really quite difficult, as the drags must not be jerky.

These are the three principal steps of the Argentine as introduced in this country, and countless other steps can be devised to accompany them.

A hint for a few semi-original steps may be gleaned from the following:

A flirtation step, such as is danced in the maxixe, standing behind the girl and going from one side to another.

A step similar to the hesitation, man going forward and girl going backward.

The man stands still crossing one foot in front of the other, while the girl does a series of steps halfway around him and then back again to original position.

These steps of the girl's can be changed at will and offer many opportunities for original thought.

Rowley Downes, Jr., who has been in the foremost ranks of dancers since the craze started, explains the dance craze as follows:

"Many persons are anxious to know why the dances have become so popular. Like all other amusements that are taken up by the majority, there is bound to be constant improvement. In the dances of the present this improvement has been along the lines of less effort and greater simplicity. For instance, the hesitation is only one-half the step of the original waltz, and the one step cuts down the effort of two stepping by half.

"This explains why so many older men and women have taken up the craze and find it so attractive. A moderate amount of dancing is excellent exercise and helps to keep the body fit where many medicines might fail.

"By the introduction of a new tempo occasionally the public interest is kept at a high pitch, and some one is always learning a new step. For instance, the tango arrived just in time to save the faded turkey trot. The Maxixe did the same for the tango, and now an attractive new rhythm in waltz motif is the seven-quarter time of our new dance—the moderation.

"This is a perfect combination of tango and Viennese waltz and lends itself splendidly to ballroom usage.

"So long as a new tempo or a new step can be devised the interest in dancing will continue."

Astronomers say that the tango will last till 1924. Which does not mean that the archbishop of New York, the Kaiser of Berlin or the Duchess of Norfolk in London will not triumph in their views upon the subject.

The tango of the astronomers is the tango type, the poetry of motion, the Maxixe also and all those dances of graceful attitudes and syncopated measure, chefs d'oeuvre of rhythm and gesture, the negation of pomp and the wildest dervish movement.

But we may even see folks waltz, for we are in a dancing period. It is the sun's fault.

Everybody knows that sun spots regulate dancing, and as it is a critical period of solar activity none may hope and few would desire to keep folks from being charmed by rhythmic movement.

Which leads to the fact that there is a time to dance and a time to tire of dancing. The sun's periods of eleven years, its maximums of thirty-three years and grand maximum of once a century correspond perfectly to the waltz of 1812, the gallop of 1824 (which also ushered in the schottische), the mazurka of 1836, the polka of 1845, the quadrille of 1852, the lancers of 1861, the cancan of 1869, the pas de quatre of 1882, the Boston of 1893, the cakewalk of 1902 and the tango of 1913.

Back Step In the Open Tango

THIS is a simple and effective step when done correctly. A great many dancers spoil the effect by making low and grotesque dips. The correct position, as shown in the picture, should be an erect one, with a slight bend from the waist.

This step may be led up to either by the scissors or a half circle from the open forward walking step. It affords a haven of refuge when stuck in a corner and tends to break the monotony of continually going forward.

Watch the positions of the arms in this step. The man's left and the girl's right arm are always held out straight, and the other arms are entwined whether going backward or forward.

Dip From the Argentine Tango

ALTHOUGH not suitable for ballroom dancing, this step from the Argentine is very effective. It is usually preceded by three open walking steps, a point or swing, and then the dip. When on a crowded floor the same step can be used by moderating the dip a little.

The movements must be slow and timed to the music in this dance. Don't stand away from your partner and make sure that you are both doing the same thing at the same time.

WELLESLEY CLUB BRINGS "LES MISERABLES" TO PLAINFIELD.

It is because "Les Miserables" in moving pictures has been enthusiastically received in all the large cities of the country that the small group of Wellesley College girls who are bringing it to the Plainfield theatre for four performances this week, the proceeds of which will go to help in the rebuilding and equipping which the recent fire at the college made necessary, believe that they can rely on the support of the public both because the pictures are so well worth seeing and because the needs of the college are so apparent.

With the help of the Wellesley Graduates from Elizabeth to Bound Brook, the graduates living in Plainfield expect to sell 3,000 tickets. It is hoped that many Westfield people will avail themselves of this privilege on Friday and Saturday and will flock to see this marvelous photo play.

Tickets 25-50-75c. Matinee, 3:15; Night 8:15.

BIG AGRICULTURAL LAND OPENING

TWELVE HUNDRED AND FIFTY TRACTS of five and ten acres each to be granted to prospective settlers in throwing open Twenty Thousand Acres of Rich, Southern Georgia Land, which is admirably adapted to the growing of celery, sweet and Irish potatoes, cantaloupes, water melons, corn, oats, cotton, hay—in fact, all staple crops grown in this fertile section, as well as a large variety of semi-tropical fruits, and the famous immensely profitable paper-shell pecans.

Providing you are eligible under the classifications prescribed by us, you are now offered an excellent opportunity to break away from the drudgery and toil of a small wage, or working for the benefit of landlords, and go back to a land of plenty, to which, if granted, you will hold a warranty deed and abstract.

The best security on earth is the earth itself, and land is the basis of all wealth. Owners of productive lands are benefiting by the increasing high cost of living, while others are suffering from it.

An Opportunity to Secure Rich Productive Land Without Capital.

You will not be required to leave your present surroundings now. All we ask of those to whom we grant tracts is that they plant, or arrange to have planted, a crop of one of the above-mentioned products within three years, after which we will have it operated charitably and replanted for grantees, in consideration of 25 per cent. of the net profits derived from the sale of the crops, thereby allowing the grantee to pursue his or her present occupation until such time as they determine just what the yield of their acres amounts to. Consider what this may mean as a source of income, when statistics show that the yield of one acre of celery amounted to $128.75, and that one acre of well-cured paper-shell pecans, in full bearing, should net its owner as high as $500.00 per year. We are of the opinion that after it is proven by actual results obtained in operating the land that they will need no further urging, and waste no time in locating in this land of plenty. We also require grantees to occupy the land within ten years, or sell it to some one who will occupy it; otherwise it reverts back to the grantor.

The land included in this opening is located directly on and adjoining the Atlantic, Birmingham and Atlantic Railroad, about twenty-five miles west of Brunswick, a thriving city of fifteen thousand, having direct steamship service to New York and Boston, and excellent railroad transportation facilities to all points. The average temperature for six months of the year, from April to October, is 77 degrees; the climate is most healthful, delightful, and invigorating, and there is an ample rainfall of 51 inches per year.

OUR AIM IS FOR MUTUALLY BENEFICIAL RESULTS.

As we are extremely desirous of having settlers locate on this property, and assist in its development, and thereby greatly increase the value of surroundings and intervening property, which we will hold, and to increase the traffic along the Atlantic, Birmingham and Atlantic Railroad, and thus facilitate the service, we feel warranted in granting these tracts to those who register with us. We also have in mind business and residence plots which we will offer for sale after the opening, but which will not be included in it. We have money-making afterward" considerations in this liberal-minded opening, similar to those of the Northern Pacific and other railroads when they granted their lands, and we expect to benefit thereby, as well as the ones who will receive the tracts.

We have also planned to develop what is destined to be the best equipped, most up-to-date, scientific, commercial farm and orchard in existence. It will consist of 818 thousand acres, and it will be included in this opening. All who register and receive tracts will get the benefit of the experiments and scientific methods in crops, trees, etc. While we are arranging to prevent over-registration, we will avoid many disappointments, such as occurred in other land openings conducted by the United States Government and railroads, by granting those who register in excess of the number of tracts to be granted, an interest in this commercial farm and orchard enterprise, in the hope that they may later locate in one of our town sites.

Examination of the land will cheerfully be permitted, and the opening will be held at Brownstown, Wayne County, Georgia, one of the stations of the A. J. & A. Railroad, which is located on this property, and will occur as soon after the closing of registrations as arrangements can be made.

The presence of those registered will not be necessary at Brownstown on the opening day, unless they wish to attend, for there will be no favoritism shown anyone. It will be conducted by a committee selected for the purpose, and those registered will be notified of what they have been granted as soon as possible.

With the ever-increasing population of this country there is no corresponding increase in the area of land, and naturally as the population increases and seeks the land in pursuit of health, happiness and independence, it will continue to be harder to secure.

The prosperous and contented class in Europe today are the descendants of those who secured land there when it was plentiful, while the descendants of those who obtained no land are now the peasants and slaves. You must realize that this may be your last chance to secure land in this country without a large outlay of capital, so it should not be necessary to urge you to get at once by forwarding us the application for restriction attached to this announcement.

of the work of the department and of the fire fighting apparatus.

At 2:30 the Grand Council again convened and the session for the most part was given over to the hearing of reports of committees to whom work had been given in the morning. At this session Supreme Councilor Paulsworth, of Excelsior Council, New York, made an address which was received by the delegates with great applause. Other members of the Grand Council also spoke.

The election of officers for the ensuing year followed the addresses and the following were re-elected: Grand Councilor, William C. McKee; Grand Vice Councilor, J. Fred Thompson, of Capital City Council, Trenton; Grand Orator, George H. L. Morton, of Union Council, Westfield; Grand Recorder, John H. Farrell, of Hamilton Council, Paterson; Grand Treasurer, James S. Abbott, of High Point Council, Weehawken; Grand Chaplain, Edward L. Riley, of Elmora Council; Grand Trustees, Albert O. Bornemann, of Arlington Council, William T. Chapman, of Hamilton Council, and William W. McQueen, of Elvian Council; First Representative to the Supreme Council, William C. McKee; Second representative, Robert H. Alberts, of Hoboken Council; First Alternate, Harry R. Wilson, of Alpha Council, Perth Amboy; Second Alternate, Spencer C. Hamilton, of Paterson; Law Committee, Norman R. Harris, Clairmont Council, Upper Montclair; John P. Clarke, of El Mora Council and Harry Simmons, Jr., of Advance Council, Rahway; Finance Committee, Harry R. Harden, of Lennelaha Council, Rutherford Rev. Rufus K. Boyd of Paulis Hook Council, Jersey City, and T. J. Toogood.

After the election the officers were installed by Supreme District Deputy B. B. Murray, of Eagle Council, New York. Before the session adjourned Supreme Representative Robert H. Alberts presented the Past Grand Councilor's jewel to Grand Councilor McKee.

The session then adjourned and those present thanked the members of Union Council for the pleasant time they had had and said that it was the best meeting of the Grand Council they had ever attended, and if they had their way they would meet here again next year.

The hall where the session was held was very prettily decorated with flags and bunting and called with much admiration.

While the delegates were eating Miss Marion Tice played the piano and Alexander Hunt the cornet.

MANY NEW ACTS WITH ROBBINS CIRCUS THIS YEAR.

All new but the same, the Frank A. Robbins All Feature Show, one of the best known circuses on the road today, having been under the same management for thirty-four years, will visit Westfield this year on May 5. Following his usual custom Mr. Robbins has secured the country for the best available acts, and will have a number of stars of the circus world with him when he comes here. Charbino and DeCastelo, whose head balancing and upside down acts are unequalled; the famous Robbins' performing elephants who do stunts unequalled by any other performing pachyderms; the most graceful and best bareback riders of the country; a famous troupe of acrobats; a group of wire walkers, who have just returned from a triumphant tour of South America; acrobats with few equals; performing and statue ponies; beautiful high school horses and other animal performers make a list of stars which briefly tell of the real attractions of the show.

There will be a score of fun provoking clowns, a splendid menagerie, greatly enlarged this year, and other attractions to entertain the spectators. The show gives two performances daily, one at 2 o'clock and the other at 8. Doors open one hour earlier, and a band concert precedes each regular show.

The free street parade takes place at 10 o'clock in the morning each day.

DANGER AFTER GRIPPE

Lies in Poor Blood, Cough and Worn-Out Condition.

Grippe, pleurisy, pneumonia are greatly to be feared at this season. To prevent grippe from being followed by either pleurisy or pneumonia, it is important to drive the last traces of it out of the system.

Our advice is to take Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron preparation without oil, and get your strength and vitality back quickly. W. W. Lake of Aberdeen, Miss., says: Grippe left me weak, run-down and with a severe cough from which I suffered for a long time. I tried different remedies, but nothing seemed to do me any good until I took Vinol from which I received great benefit. My cough is almost entirely gone and I am strong and well again."

Try Vinol with the certainty that if it does not benefit you we will get a back your money.

Keeping Groll Off the Grass

A Job Neatly and Effectually Performed.

By HENRY BERLINGOFF.

Stub Redley was willing to admit that the "old man" was a more important figure in the office than George Fielding, but the rack itself could not wring from him an admission that any one else loomed as large, least of all Douglas Groll, the junior partner.

Groll had incurred Stub's enmity the first day the boy had come into the office, and since then he had done nothing to cause a reversal of Stub's opinion.

Fielding was a wholesome sort of chap whose very capacity for making friends had won for him a place of authority in the office of Summers & Groll. Every one liked him. The loyal Stub worshiped him and would have gone to the end of the earth at his order.

Stub had even raised from the dead his mythical grandmother to lurch her at a more auspicious moment because Fielding had hinted that there was a lot of work to be done even if the "clamps" were playing a double header at the ball grounds. Greater tribute than this no small boy can pay.

Naturally when Gertrude Vance was looked upon with especial favor by Fielding she became the chief goddess in the office.

Mr. Summers' sonorous call of "Pat- rick!" sometimes went unanswered, but the boy fairly jumped to Miss Vance's desk at the softest call of "Stub," and would sharpen her pencil or bring her a fresh set of carbons before he answered the increasingly impatient call of the head of the firm.

And because Fielding cared for Gertrude it angered Stub to notice the familiarity with which the junior partner treated the little typewriter. Gertrude could not very well resent these trifling impertinences without losing her place, and she could not afford to do that when she and Fielding were saving up every penny against the time they should find some tiny suburban home suited to their modest income.

They were working hand in hand toward that end, and she could only pretend not to notice the hand that rested caressingly on her shoulder whenever Groll stopped at her desk to give an order or ask a question.

Stub instinctively sensed her color resentment, and he greeted his toothily potent whenever he saw Groll moving toward the typewriter's corner, vowing with boyish intensity that he would get even.

He watched Groll with a quiet attention that permitted no hope to escape, and that resourceful business man would have been surprised had he realized how much Stub knew about his personal affairs.

Stub was ever alert to get hold of some bit of information that he could use as a club, but Groll grew more and more daring in his attention with the knowledge that the girl feared to speak to Fielding.

Groll always was particularly offensive when Fielding was at the bank. The firm had two branches uptown, and every morning the receipts from these branches were brought down by the trusted clerks and turned over to the cashier, who accepted the credit slips without question and passed the sealed package on to the bank with his own deposit by Fielding. The packages of bills were made into brick-shaped forms and sealed at either end. The messengers were trusted employees, and there never had been the slightest inaccuracy.

Stub loved to watch the arrival of the packages. It was his ambition to be a messenger himself some day and carry a revolver under license from the police.

The bulges in the messengers' coat pockets filled him with envy, and he was saying his tips with the idea of purchasing a revolver of his own against that happy day when he should be entrusted with one of the leather suit cases chained to the messengers' wrists.

Then came a day when Groll went into the senior partner's office, and Stub and Summers went to the cashier's cage. Here the two, after a brief consultation with the latter, went toward Fielding's desk.

"I tell you that I saw him make the exchange," Groll was saying as they moved toward the closed desk. "I was in the cage for a moment and saw him handing over his desk."

"Did Mr. Fielding go to his desk after he left the cage?" asked Summers of the cashier, and the latter nodded an unwilling assent.

"He had a bottle of medicine that he wanted to put there. He had a bad cold."

"The cashier carried the bunch of keys, that were duplicates of all the keys in the office, and they soon found the one that fitted Fielding's desk. As the roll top was raised to release the catch that held the drawers locked Stub could not refrain from drawing near. The child did not notice his approach, so later asked were they in the investigation.

With an exclamation that sounded very like a groan Summers drew from the bottom drawer a package that was unmistakably the deposit from the north side branch, and with trembling hand he reached for the sharp envelope opener that lay upon the blotter.

"I've had my suspicions for some time," announced Groll jubilantly. "I happen to know that Fielding is planning to marry Miss Vance, and he has been speculating with what they call their building fund for some time. He planned this move to get back his losses and at the same time gain enough to buy a home. I have been watching him carefully, and today my suspicions were aroused."

"The money is not counted here in the office, and he planned to place the blame on the cashier or the messenger and go scot free."

Stub grinned at the jubilation of Groll's voice and stood on tiptoe the better to observe the proceedings. Summers had slit the wrapper that the seals might be preserved intact for future reference, and all three men gave an exclamation of surprise when, instead of the bank notes, Summers drew out sheets of crisp bond paper cut to greenback size.

"Perhaps his nerve failed him," suggested Groll, who was the first to break the silence.

"Nerve nothing," interrupted Stub. "I was wise to your game. I had the switchboard when the girl was out to lunch, and I was rubbering in the wire when you told Mr. Beckman to fix the package today like the one he gave you. You was trying to get Mr. Fielding out of the office so you could break off the engagement, and maybe Miss Vance would go to lunch when you asked her."

"Peggy Moran up to the branch goes to the same choice I go to. I got him the job, an' he found out that there was a lot of cut paper in Mr. Beckman's wastebasket last night. I see you bring in the package this morning, an' I see you and Mr. Beckman in Brown's last night when he give it to you."

"I was wise. I swapped packages on you, an' it ain't your fault that Mr. Fieldin' ain't comin' back from the bank tellin' that the north side package was a fake. You didn't see me switch it. You didn't even know I was in the cage, but I was there all right, and that's how it is that you got back the same package you thought you was givin' Mr. Fieldin'. I'm there, too, when it comes to handin' lemons."

"Telephone Mr. Beckman and your friend Moran to come down here at once," commanded Summers. "Groll, you know best whether or not to make arrangements to sell out your interest in the business."

"You needn't send for Beckman," said Groll sullenly as he laid a heavy and debating hand upon Stub's shoulder. "You can let Vannerson buy me out if you want to. This devilish kid is too smart for his own good. If you let a word out about this I'll kill you," he added as his nervous fingers tightened their grip on Stub's shoulder until the boy winced with pain.

"Forget it," admonished Stub. "I put a 'keep off the grass' sign on Miss Vance, an' that's all I was after. I guess that goes."

At a sign from Summers, Groll released the boy and followed his partner into the private office to arrange the details of the sale of his interest.

None of the others had noticed the little group, and as Stub latched off to his desk he looked at the trim figure of Gertrude Vance seated at her machine.

"I wish I was big enough to marry her myself," he mused, "but it's the next best thing to see her marry Mr. Fielding. Anyhow, I jest had to keep Mr. Groll off the grass. He's too fresh—that guy."

Battleship Reading Room.

An interesting innovation will be made in the designing of the battleship New York, which is now under construction at the Brooklyn navy yard. This is a large and commodious room in a location very accessible to visitors, which is to be used as a library and reception room for the members of the crew. In this room is to be the crew's library, and the room is to be fitted with reading tables, writing desks, paper and magazine racks and chairs. Adjacent to this room are to be lavatory facilities for the use of guests of the crew. This provision is new in warship design.

PRACTICAL HEALTH HINT.

Coughs.

Experience has shown that there are two distinct kinds of coughs—one proceeding from an affection of the lungs and air tubes, as in a simple cold, the other proceeding from over-exercising in the stomach. The lung cough is a symptom which necessarily requires attention lest serious consequences ensue. The stomach cough is a much more simple matter and may easily be got rid of. It is caused by the over-exercising of the food and drink which are put into the stomach. A knowledge of this fact ought to lead persons so affected to ponder a little on the nature of their ailment and the peculiarity of their digestive powers. Some stomachs agree best with alkalies, others with acids. One person likes a bitter substance, another a substance which is sour. The person who desires a satisfactory explanation of these circumstances will consult his own physician. Many stomach coughs arise from an undue use of sweetened tea, sweet drinks, sweet cake, sweet custard and all kinds of confectionery. To some the taste of sweets is in no way injurious, but to others it is exceedingly beneficial.

CARS COLLIDE ON BROAD STREET

Last Saturday afternoon a Winton limousine automobile, owned by Mrs. Smith, of New York City, mother of Mrs. Abernathy, of Stoneleigh Park, and a Cole car, owned and driven by J. S. Forster, of Stoneleigh Park, came together with a loud crash at the junction of East Broad street and Springfield avenue.

The limousine which was in charge of the chauffeur, was about to make the turn from Springfield avenue into East Broad street when the Forster car, making a short turn, came in sight.

The chauffeur of the Winton set his brakes, locked his wheels and his car skidded for several feet. His quick action no doubt saved the lives of Mr. Forster and his sister-in-law, Miss Chapman, who were in the Cole car.

In the limousine beside the chauffeur were Mrs. Smith, the owner, Mrs. Abernathy and son and a friend. No one in the party was injured but Mrs. Smith was considerably shocked and nervous. Mr. Forster escaped without injury. Miss Chapman was not so fortunate, as she was cut about the face and lip, but her injuries were not serious, although she suffered considerably from a nervous shock. She was attended by a physician and taken to her home.

The front axles and steering rods of both cars were badly bent and twisted and it was near midnight when the garage men were able to get them away from the scene of the accident. The Cole car suffered more as one side was badly stove in. The left front wheel of the Winton car was smashed.

As soon the accident became known it was the mecca for a large crowd of people and cars lined Springfield avenue for several blocks.

BOROUGH FATHERS MEET

At the meeting of the Borough Council held last Wednesday, the Street Committee reported that they had notified the property owners on Centre street to attend a meeting in the Borough Hall tonight to see whether or not they would undergo a slight taxation for the purpose of improving Centre street.

The committee intends to curb the gutters and macadamize the rest of the roadway.

Mayor P. M. Eriksen appointed Otto Fessler as a member of the Board of Health to occupy the position of W. S. McManus resigned. The appointment was ratified by the council.

Architect Bell of Cranford was engaged by the council to submit sketches for a combination fire house and borough hall.

The License Committee turned over five dollars received for the issuance of one license since the last meeting.

The court notified the council that Messrs. William Morrison and Barney Walsh wished to have their licenses renewed. The applications were referred to the excise committee with power to act.

The meeting was presided over by Mayor Eriksen. All trustees were present.

"Miss Cricket," a chestnut mare pacer, owned by Frank Gause, is being put into condition for this summer's races by "Bill" Wortendyke of Fair Acres. Frank intends to enter his little stepper at Middletown, Olympia Park, Flemington Fair and other prominent tracks in the East.

"Miss Cricket" was secured by Mr. Gause at the annual "Old Glory" horse auction held in Madison Square Garden, in 1912. She was one of the stars of W. R. Cox's consignment from Lexington, Ky.

The little mare is five years old and has paced a quarter in thirty seconds flat. She is out of "Cricket," 2:19 1-4, and is sired by "Audubon Boy" whose record is 1:59 1-4.

"Miss Cricket's" one fault is that she has a curb, but for this, her former owner claims, she would already have been a great race mare and if she can be kept in proper condition he is sure she can pace a mile in 2:05. A horse with this record, combined with "Bill" as a trainer ought to promise some surprises during the coming season.

Leslie Cowell is ill with tonsillitis at the home of his parents on Locust avenue.

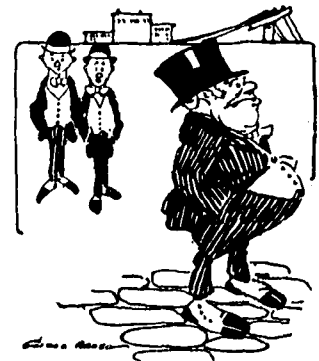

Mrs. Emmons and daughter Irene, of Northport, L. I., will pass the week end with Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Cowell.
