Opening Display of Summer Millinery.

Here you may see an unbroken display of the authoritative styles for the coming season. Every woman who takes the least interest in what she wears ought to see it. The exposition will instruct you about the latest styles, it will tell you where to get the best for the least outlay—it will teach economy. No cards.

Trimmed Hats, Untrimmed Hats and Millinery Materials, will have their proportionate share in the exhibition.

IN CONNECTION WITH THE DISPLAY WILL BE A SALE of millinery of every description—Hats, Materials and Trimmings, which we were fortunate to get, for one reason or another, much under their worth, and of these we tell you here.

The Edna May Poke—Made of crinkled Japanese braid interwoven with braid of bright satin in natural Tuscan color on it; one of the finds of the season. $1.25 value at 69c.

Gainsboroughs—Made of black imitation hair; the new modified low crown, long front Gainsborough—the hat that's the best adapted for flower trimming of all shown this season in black only. $1.50 value at 89c.

Girls' and Children's Flats—Made of the new chip braid, soft, pliable, in black, white, brown, navy, red and champagne; and hand woven Tuscan flats in the natural Tuscan, only 75c. value, at 25c.

The Ara Feathered Fad—"Ara"—the term for the combination of navy and green—the latest craze for trimming for stiff hats; "just in" importations have been opened for this show—arrow breast and quill shapes—and will be sold at prices under present quotations. 23c., 49c., 87c., 98c.

1,000 Wreaths for women's and children's hats, in all the natural colors and white; the largest assortment we have ever shown, at 45c., 69c., 75c., 98c., 1.35, 1.45, 1.69, 1.98, 2.98.

GREAT FLAG MAST TO BE MOVED.

TOWN OFFICIALS ASK JR. O. U. A. M. TO MOVE POLE TO NEW CURB LINE.

Cost Will Be About $75.00—Standard Asked To Solicit Subscriptions for Purpose—Town Will Pay Part.

It may not be known to our citizens at large that the local Jr. Order of American Mechanics, a small band of comparatively young men, went to the expense of several hundred dollars in erecting the great flag pole that has so long adorned the prominent corner of Broad and Prospect streets, flying an enormous flag to mark the recurring anniversaries in the political history of the United States.

Under official direction this deserving little band located their great flag shaft which now, through a change in grade and curb line, it becomes necessary to shift.

The Town officers recognize their initial responsibility in this matter and are willing to bear part of the expense in getting the pole properly and once for all located. The expense will be something like $75.00 as the great mast is lodged in concrete and since deeply in the ground. The STANDARD is requested to invite citizens to contribute, individually, moderate amounts to help defray this expense, in order to make the burden fall as lightly as possible on the young men who have nothing but a patriotic purpose to serve in maintaining this eloquent means of calling public attention to great days in American history. In a sense this amounts almost to a public enterprise, and the STANDARD feels satisfied that the public response to this invitation will be prompt and all sufficient. To this end the STANDARD will take pleasure in acknowledging contributions of anywhere from 10c. to as much more as any one may feel disposed to contribute. The Union County Standard, $1.00; A. E. Pearsall, 10c.; S. W. Reese, 10c.; W. M. Stamets, 10c.

REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTION.

Select Delegates to go to Chicago, in June.

Republican leaders of New Jersey met in State Convention at Trenton Tuesday and adjourned without instructing for the nomination of Mr. Roosevelt, although expressing the hope that the delegates would look with favor upon his nomination.

United States Senator John Kean presided over the meeting, which was well attended by millionaires and trust magnates. The convention declared hostility to the New Jersey article of trusts. Says the platform:

"Anti-trust legislation has been reinforced by Congress and enforced in the courts of justice."

The Sherman law has been enforced without warring on corporations whose honest purpose has been the upbuilding of industry, the employment of labor and the promotion of trade and commerce. Combinations whose purpose was to promote monopoly have been checked in the interests of legitimate competition and fair trade."

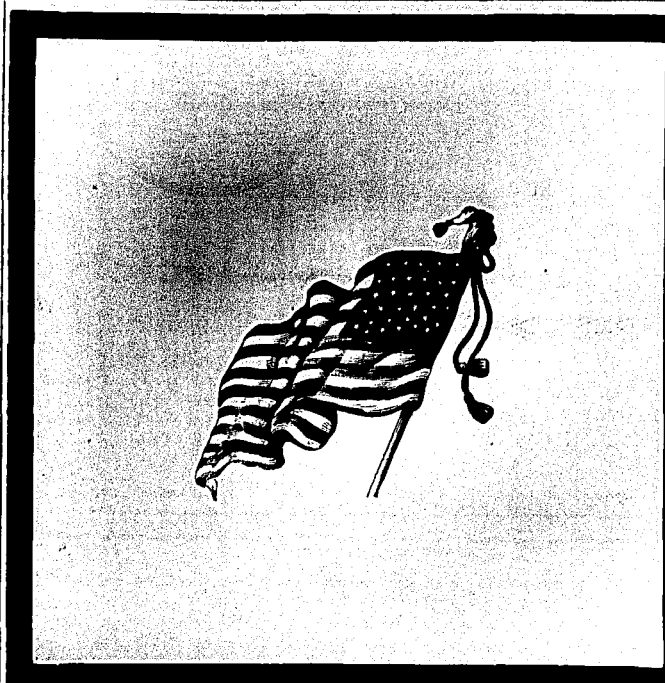

After deprecating any attempt to interfere with the existing tariff and endorsing the present policy of the administration on the subject and praising President Roosevelt, the convention, which lasted about two hours, adjourned.

Gov. Murphy, Senators Kean and Dryden and David Baird were elected delegates at-large to the National Convention. The Fifth Congressional district will be represented by A. Blair Kelsey, of Warren, James H. McGraw of Morris, with Senator Kean to represent Union.

Westfield was represented at the convention by ex-Assemblyman C. M. Smith, ex-Freeholder Geo. H. Embree, ex-Assemblyman C. N. Coddling, and Superintendent of Sewers E. W. Chamberlin. A new Republican State Executive Committee was made with Senator Kean succeeded by Mr. Hamilton F. Kean.

Firemen Put Out Fire in Dangerous Quarter.

At 7 o'clock Tuesday night an alarm of fire was sounded for a blaze in the old frame vacant store building on North avenue adjoining Woodruff's storage warehouse. The fire department responded quickly and in less than one minute Chemical Engine Co. had a stream on the blaze which was discovered in a heap of old hay and straw in one corner of the building. The fire was extinguished in a few minutes. It is thought the fire was of incendiary origin and an effort is being made by the police to locate the offenders. The building for some time past has been occupied by William P. Scriven as a feed store but for a month has been unoccupied.

WESTFIELD WILL ALWAYS REMEMBER THE HEROIC DEAD.

With Usual Promptness Westfield Responds to the Call for Floral Decorations for Military Graves in Patriotic—Sincerely Is It Known That The Standard Has Started a Subscription for the Purpose Than Names Four In.

Comrade Samuel W. Reese, one of the members of THE STANDARD force at the town meeting Monday evening, suggested the opening of a subscription list for flowers and incidental expenses connected with suitably commemorating and emphasizing the significance of Memorial Day. He was particular in urging that attention should be called by THE STANDARD to the wisdom and patriotism of connecting the school children of Westfield with this event. He also wanted us to make the point that, while generous subscriptions were always desirable he considered it of more importance that they should be general, that, for example, heads of families wishing to make a cash donation might do well to divide the amount between themselves and their children, explaining to the latter what it all means.

THE STANDARD for many years has been made the vehicle for the collection of money for Memorial Day purposes, and although the current subscription list is scarcely opened we are able to report a goodly number of contributions. It is to be hoped that others will follow as rapidly as possible in order that the G. A. R. committee may have an idea as to what amount they may rely upon. The programme of Memorial Day under the auspices of the Grand Army of the Republic, Memorial Detail, with subscription list in full, will be announced later. It is understood that the school children, as such, will participate in the ceremonies.

Royal Arcanum Matters.

At the regular meeting of Fireside Council, held last night, Brother W. T. Dorward, Past Regent of Metuchen Council, Stelton, N. J., delivered his famous Arcanum lecture, entitled "Hitting the Bullseye," which will long be remembered for its intrinsic merit, and because of the lecturer's happy delivery and subtle humor.

Past Regent Class made his report as delegate to the Grand Council, and urged the members of Fireside to observe Arcanum Day, June 23d, in accordance with the suggestion of the Grand Regent, by displaying the national colors.

Captain Hurst, of the baseball team, requested a good turnout at the practice game next Saturday—Broad street grounds, opposite the house of Mr. J. T. Pierson, 3.30 p. m. All members who can play are asked to be on hand—also the others—to support the management.

Long Branch Paper to Have a New Home.

The Long Branch Press is to have a new home of its own. Plans are about completed for the new building, and work will commence at once on a modern office and newspaper outfit. The "Press" is known as one of the best of the Jersey newspapers down along the coast.

MRS. SARAH TERRY.

Mrs. Sarah Terry, wife of Clarence Terry, formerly of Westfield, died on Tuesday last, aged 27 years. A husband and two small children survive her. Rev. Mr. Johnson of Rahway conducted the services at the home of her brother Frank Stacy, corner of Oliver and Union streets, yesterday afternoon. Interment was made in the up town cemetery, Rahway.

Depot Robbery Case Postponed.

The hearing to be given Tim McCarty and Jack McGilvray who are held at Elizabeth under suspicion of being implicated in the recent depot robbery was postponed Monday and will be given today in the Elizabeth court. The Jersey Central's lawyers asked for the postponement, claiming that they had not as yet secured all the evidence they expected to be able to get.

Canada's Large Imports.

The total value of all merchandise imported into Canada for consumption during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1903, was $233,790,516, of which $136,796,695 was dutiable, and $96,994,451 was non-dutiable, the dutiable goods paying $37,110,354, based on a 27.1 per cent. duty.

"CAR AHEAD" RULE VERY ANNOYING.

Patrons of Elizabeth and Plainfield Trolley Co. Object to Long Wait at Junction for Next Car.

Patrons of the Elizabeth, Plainfield trolley line who have occasion to use the service late at night object very strongly to being forced to change cars at the Railway Junction and wait fifteen minutes for another car. They claim that after the company takes their fare a delivery to destination should be made without change and the long delay. The "car ahead" scheme does not work in New York; and trying to enforce the rule has cost the corporations a great deal of money and they have every time been defeated by the courts where suit has been brought against them.

It is understood that a test case will be made of the rule on the Elizabeth-Plainfield line. Passengers from Elizabeth, Roselle, Cranford and Garwood are arranging, it is said, to fight the company on what they claim to be an unjust rule.

Men's Club Wind-up Dinner.

The Men's Club of the Congregational Church held the third and last dinner of the season last Friday evening. Over fifty members and guests enjoyed a dinner which was a credit in every way to the management of the ladies who prepared it—Mrs. T. D. Bunce, Mrs. Wm. H. Gomes and Mrs. C. H. Halstead. Following the dinner, the club was addressed by the Hon. John DeWitt Warner of New York City, on the subject of "Trusts." Mr. Warner handled trusts from every point of view, but particularly from the standpoint of the tariff, which he contended, was fostering trusts in great numbers, the lowering of which would destroy many of them. Mr. Warner is President of the National Free Trade League and member of the law firm of Peckham, Warner & Strong. After his address he was thanked by the club, and the second season of the Men's Club was brought to a close. Among those present were the following gentlemen: George B. Webb, R. H. Mansfield, Frederick S. Taggart, John McCormick, Frank A. Taggart, Rev. James R. Danforth, D. D., W. E. Tuttle, Jr., F. M. K. Mills, Robert T. Mills, Theodore McGarrath, Martin Velles, E. G. Hanford, John Platt, John A. Dohrman, William J. Alpers, W. E. Reese, Robert Johnston, A. L. Russell, James O. Clark, Walter S. Clark, E. A. Merrill, C. E. Halstead, W. H. Gomes, T. D. Bunce, J. E. Gallagher, George Larson, C. P. Worth, A. L. Alpers, J. F. Cowperthwaite, George A. Clark, Jos. Ferris, George H. Embree, Carolus Clark, Herbert Knight, Joseph A. Fairbairn, Arthur D. Tuttle, G. A. V. Hankinson, Samuel White, Wm. R. Davis, Chester M. Smith, Charles N. Coddling, Mr. Lowenheimer, William B. Clarke, Robert V. Hoffman, William G. Peckham, W. G. DeLamar, Josiah Tubby. The officers of the club are William E. Tuttle, Jr., President; James O. Clark, Vice-President; Frederick S. Taggart, Secretary and Treasurer.

Westfield Local Union.

The Spring Conference of the Westfield Local Union of the C. E. and E. L. was held in First M. E. Church of Cranford on Monday evening, May 9th. Despite the threatening weather about 135 young people were in attendance. The opening exercises consisted of a song service, led by Mr. Randolph, of Cranford; scripture reading, by Rev. Mr. Hanck, and prayer by Rev. B. H. Kanein, President of the County C. E. Union. Miss Louise Gilmore, the Secretary of the Union, read her report, showing the different societies to be holding their own, with definite advances in some direction. One new Junior Society had been organized at Branch Mills. Miss Julia Horn sang "Forever with the Lord" with fine effect. The speaker of the evening was Rev. W. B. Greenway, of Lyons Farms, N. J. Mr. Greenway spoke as a young man to young people, and held the attention of his audience to the end. He spoke of the importance of a thorough knowledge of the Bible, earnest prayer, unwavering faith and a cheerful spirit. He would overcome the difficulties by perseverance and an earnest effort to do the "best we can." The address was forcibly illustrated throughout. After the close of the service the entire audience became the guests of the Junior League. Ice cream and cake were served, and a delightful social hour was enjoyed by all.

How different if the account is carried with this Company. It is then always at their immediate disposal and deposits may be made with a minimum loss of time, and therefore with greater regularity.

It is an indisputable fact that the high esteem given to any work of Art must be founded upon merit. When the Musical Artist and the Home Player are united in their high appreciation of the FISCHER PIANO, we take their verdict unqualifiedly. Both have for years maintained the supremacy of the FISCHER PIANO because of its Tone-quality, its Artistic Individuality and its Durability.

Miss Mabel McManley will head the musical bill at the Newark Theatre next week, when her recent triumph at the Twenty-third Street Theatre will undoubtedly be repeated. George C. Boniface and Bertha Wahinger will present a graceful little comedy sketch, entitled "The Woman Who Remains as Was." Mrs. Biddle will present a series of brilliantly colored pantomime dances, in which many new light effects will be shown. VanFossen and McCauley will contribute markedly to the long bill.

Robert Downing, who has not been seen in New York City for a long time, will head the bill at the Newark Theatre next week, when his recent triumph at the Twenty-third Street Theatre will undoubtedly be repeated. George C. Boniface and Bertha Wahinger will present a graceful little comedy sketch, entitled "The Woman Who Remains as Was." Mrs. Biddle will present a series of brilliantly colored pantomime dances, in which many new light effects will be shown. VanFossen and McCauley will contribute markedly to the long bill.

The Club Friend, one of the late Edward Bond's greatest successes, and a piece of music, an original run of comedy, has been selected for presentation by the Newark Theatre Company located at the Fifth Avenue Theatre. New scenery has been painted from the original models used by Mr. Bond, while the entire production will be given the careful attention which always marks the presentation of plays at this house. Charles Gould Griffin, John Westley, George Bryant, Letta Lindholm, Ross Stuart, Doris Hedy, Louise Hall.

The amusement seeking public likes to be surprised, and along that line there is always a desire for the exotic, or occult. Annie Abbott, the Georgia Magician, who is to be the star feature of the Newark Theatre's vaudeville bill at the Fifth Avenue Theatre. Here are some of her feats performed during her continuous afternoon and evening. She stands on the pinnacle of one bed, while a man tries to push her over. One, two, three and four men combine their efforts fruitlessly. She stands with her finger tips against the proscenium arch, while a dozen try to push her away. She lifts six or more men, separately or together. No muscular strength is used, she merely waves her open hand to obtain a contact. The balance of the bill is one of unusual merit.

"The Wizard of Oz," which ran for forty-three weeks at the Majestic Theatre in New York, began an engagement of three weeks at the Newark Theatre last Monday evening. The house was crowded and the brilliant musical spectacle was received with enthusiasm accorded a successful new production.

WORKING TEAM'S FEED BILL.

It Varies in Different Parts of the Country, But $60 Per Animal—
Is an Annual Average.

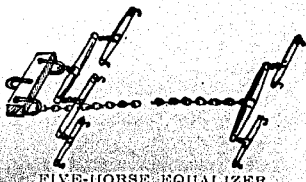

A number of experiment stations have undertaken the task of ascertaining the cost of a work horse's food. At the New Hampshire station an experiment was conducted for a period of two years, during which time the food and drink of five work horses were accurately weighed. A horse weighing in the vicinity of 1,200 pounds and working every day lost but little flesh when fed the following ration per day: Hay, ten pounds; bran, two pounds; corn, six pounds, and gluten feed, six pounds. Reckoning corn at $18 a ton, bran at $17, gluten feed at $18, and hay at $16 per ton this ration cost 19.3 cents per day. A ration consisting of ten pounds of hay, two pounds of bran, six pounds of corn and eight pounds of oats was sufficient to maintain an animal weighing 1,200 pounds, and cost 22.5 cents per day. When a ration composed of ten pounds of hay, one pound of cottonseed meal, two pounds of bran and eight pounds of corn was fed the cost was 17.4 cents per day. Horses at moderate work kept in good condition on this ration. It will be seen that the cost varied from 17 to 22 cents per day per animal. Horses of greater weight, of course, would require a heavier ration. As a rule a work horse weighing 1,500 pounds, doing ordinary farm labor, but kept fairly closely, at business, will consume about 18 pounds of grain per day, and from ten to 15 pounds of hay. If grain can be purchased for two-thirds of a cent a pound, and as this is usually the case in the corn belt, the cost of grain would be 12 cents per day, while the hay, reckoned at eight dollars per ton, counting 12 pounds per day, would amount practically to five cents, thus making a total of 17 cents a day. At this rate the food of one animal for a year would amount to $62.05. This figure we consider to be a little too high, because it is scarcely possible to work an animal the entire year through, and during slack seasons the grain ration can be cut down considerably. While the New Hampshire station, above referred to, found that it cost on an average of $74.32 per animal, yet it will be seen by the cost of foods that some farms are unusually high in price, as, for example, hay at $16 per ton. It may be said in a general way that if horses are well fed and kept fairly busy during the entire year that their feed bill will run in the neighborhood of $50.—Rural World.

A FIVE HORSE EQUALIZER.

How to Hitch the Animals So That Each One Will Do Its Proper Share of Work.

In placing one team ahead of another it is often very difficult to have them work together so that each will perform its share of the work. In a recent issue of the Nor-West Farmer Mr. A. J. Ratan gives the following plan for a five-horse equalizer that will overcome this difficulty. He says:

"I have had considerable experience in breaking up grub land and have found that the very best results come from a good strong 14-inch grub plow. Two men can ax brush, scythe and five horses comprise the best outfit that can be obtained for any field. In order to equalize the combined strength of the five horses an even is made on the plan shown in the illustration. A piece of timber three by five and 15 inches long is selected. An inch hole is bored three-fifths of the distance from the end for the clevis which attaches the timber to the plow ring. A three-horse attachment is fastened to the short end, a chain is attached to the long end of the piece of timber, running between the two off side horses through their neck yoke ring and attached to a double-tree clevis for the lead team."

Price of Corn and Beef.

A noted cattle raiser says that the price of corn and beef should go together. When corn is high, beef must be high, or the farmer will go out of the cattle-raising business. The man referred to declares that the large receipts of cattle during the past year are due to the steady unloading of the farmers that do not want to feed high-priced corn to medium-priced cattle. It also accounts, he says, for many of the animals arriving in a half fat condition. It is doubtless true that there is not a wide enough difference between corn-finished cattle and cattle that have received almost no fattening at all. When every bushel of corn a man puts into his beef cattle is put in at a loss, as is the case this year, farmers cannot be very enthusiastic in the finishing of cattle.—Farmers' Review.

Value of Farm Animals.

The acting statistician of the department of agriculture has completed his estimate of the number and value of farm animals in the United States on January 1, 1904. Horses in the United States are worth $1,130,940,298. The totals for the country are shown in the following table:

Farm Animals.	Number.	Value.
Horses	16,720,000	$1,130,940,298
Mules	2,757,010	275,699,000

UNCLE SAM'S WONDERS

All Executive Departments Send Treasures to the World's Fair.

Display Installed in the Largest Governmental Exposition Building Ever Constructed—Precious Documents—Relics of Famous Statesmen and Soldiers. Working Postal Exhibit.

The United States Government building at the World's Fair occupies an elevated site just south of the main picture of the Exposition. The great central dome of the Government building is visible from the very center of the Fair, looking across the picturesque "sunken garden" that lies between the Palaces of Mines and Metallurgy and Liberal Arts.

The hill slope in front of the Government building is terraced with broad stairways almost completely covering the slope. The building is 800 feet long by 250 feet wide and is the largest structure ever provided at an exposition by the federal government. It is distinguished from all the other large buildings at the Exposition by the steel truss construction, the entire roof being supported by steel arches, forming a splendid domed ceiling.

In this building are installed the exhibits of all the executive departments of the government. The building is a vast storehouse of an endless variety of treasures dear to the heart of every true American. Precious documents are to be seen here, and the autographs of our great men of the past are on display. Relics of famous statesmen and soldiers, carefully preserved through generations, are exhibited. Each governmental department has installed an exhibit showing its official character and mode of operation.

Watering the Government building from the eastern end, the visitor sees at his left a railroad postoffice car. This is not a mere coach standing idle, but is one of the most improved mail cars, in which men attached to the United States railway mail service are actively engaged in "throwing" the mails. Here you will see the postal clerks at work, just as they work while speeding along a railroad track.

A curious collection of old time relics from the postoffice museum at Washington illustrates, as no verbal description can do, the crude beginnings of the postal system. One of these relics is an old fashioned stage coach that once carried United States mails through a portion of the Louisiana purchase territory. President Roosevelt, who once inspected it, examined with a rough rider's interest the bullet holes which stage robbers and mountain brigands shot through its stiff leather curtains. Generals Sherman and Sheridan and President Garfield rode in this old coach during the strenuous days of frontier life.

Among the collection of documents showing the primitive postal methods in vogue in the early days is to be seen the old book of accounts kept by the first postmaster general, Benjamin Franklin, all written by hand. There is a rare collection of stamps, including ancient Philippine, Porto Rican and Cuban stamps. The postoffice department's exhibit occupies 12,409 square feet.

Across the aisle, at the right, is the exhibit of the new Department of Commerce and Labor, occupying 1,000 square feet. This exhibit shows what the new executive department stands for and what it is accomplishing. Mr. Carroll D. Wright, United States Commissioner of Labor, had charge of the preparation of the exhibit. Charts arranged by him, showing the rapid growth of the nation in agriculture, arts, manufacture, population, etc., are of special interest to sociologists and all students of the labor problem. The Census Bureau exhibit is made in this section. It shows the tabulating machines used in compiling the census reports. The Lighthouse Board, also operating under this department, shows the great revolving lenses in light-houses, with other interesting appliances.

The space in the projecting northwest corner of the building is devoted to the Library of Congress. The edifice which houses this library at Washington is held by many architects to be the most beautiful building in the world. Its interior decorations, by Ellen Ellsworth Gurnsey, furnish one of the chief delights of a visit to the national capital. A large model of this splendid building is a feature of the exhibit. The decorative features of the interior are reproduced in their original colors.

The next exhibit on the right hand side of the central aisle is that of the Interior Department, occupying 11,792 square feet. In this large space the visitor finds so many things of compelling interest that he is loath to leave. The Patent Office exhibit belongs to this section. There are models of many machines that have borne an important part in the development of the nation's industries. The earliest form of every device of human invention, so far as possible, is shown here. For instance, you may see the actual sewing machine that was the first contrivance of its kind ever constructed; it was patented in 1840 by Elias Howe. The first typewriter, patented by C. Thurber in 1842; the model of the first cast iron plow, patented by Charles Newbold in 1797; the first screw propeller, invented by Robert Hook in 1680; and many other "first" things are to be seen. The model of Abraham Lincoln's celebrated device for lifting steamboats off shoals is shown here. The first harvesting machine, made in the year 180 B. C., is one of the most ancient exhibits at the Exposition. There is also a model of the first steam engine, made in Egypt in the same year.

Every foot of the 200,000 feet of floor space in Uncle Sam's World's Fair building is occupied by exhibits of surpassing interest, and every phase of the people's welfare is shown.

CURIOUS THINGS FROM CHINA

The Most Magnificent Beds Ever Seen
Are Part of the Celestial Empire's World's Fair Exhibit.

The Chinese exhibit at the World's Fair is filled with pleasing surprises. Some of the most magnificent articles of furniture are a part of this wonderful display. The carving and inlaying of ivory, bone and wood illustrate the marvelous skill of the Chinese.

Models included in this interesting exhibit show the homes and home life of the Chinese, their weddings and funerals, Chinese tea house, restaurant and shop, Chinese weaving and some of the beautiful silks and wearing apparel of the Chinese and their methods of manufacturing them.

One feature of the exhibit is two magnificent Chinese beds, each of which has the appearance of being a small house of great beauty. One is a summer bed, the other for winter. The summer bed is hand carved and inlaid with ivory and bone figures and landscapes exquisitely carved and so skillfully joined as to appear a part of the wood. The bed and furniture are of carved bamboo. The bed consists of an anteroom, with tables, chairs and tea stands, and in an inner room, which is the sleeping apartment, there is a couch with coverings of gauzy silks.

The winter bed is still more elaborate. It consists of three compartments. The first contains four chairs, a tea poy and a chest of drawers. This is the sitting apartment. The second is the dressing room, and the third is the sleeping apartment, or the couch itself. The furniture is of rosewood inlaid with ivory carving of birds, flowers and trees. The couch is covered with silks of the finest texture and in gaudy colors. The sleeping compartments are lighted with Chinese lanterns of silk hung at the outer entrance, while the light enters through gauze panels, hand painted and in forms of rosewood inlaid with ivory figures.

At the table and dish made of highly polished ash, with exquisitely carved bamboo figures inlaid, are shown. The work is so artistically done that each article seems to have been made of one piece of wood.

There is also a large display of Chinese lanterns made of silk, gauze and other light material and some made of beads artistically arranged with glass centers. The silk and gauze are beautifully hand painted.

There are models of some of the great Chinese temples, theaters and arches, showing elaborate carving in wood and ivory and two large elephant tusks exquisitely carved.

WHARFAGE FREE AT ST. LOUIS

Twenty Miles of River Front For Water Craft at World's Fair City.

Free wharfage will be given to all boats landing at St. Louis during the World's Fair. Traffic Manager Hilary of the Exposition and Joseph P. Whyte, harbor and wharf commissioner of St. Louis, have decided on the locations assigned to the various kinds of boats.

Yachts, steam launches and all boats propelled by their own power have been assigned wharf space between Chouteau avenue and Biddle street. These streets, running east and west, form the boundary lines for the central business district of the city.

House boats have been assigned wharf space north of Biddle street and south of Chouteau avenue.

St. Louis has a river front of twenty miles. The Broadway line of the Transit company parallels the river from the city limits on the north to Jefferson Barracks on the south. At no point are the cars more than five blocks from the Mississippi river. The World's Fair may be reached for one fare by transferring to any of the eight lines that cross Broadway and reach the Exposition grounds.

No charge will be made for wharfage. Application for space should be made to the harbor and wharf commissioner at the City Hall, on Twelfth street, between Market street and Clark avenue.

WORLD'S FAIR HOTEL ACCOMMODATIONS.

St. Louis Hostilities Prepared to Handle Vast Throng—Prices Not to Be Increased—Hotel Inside of the Exposition Grounds With a Capacity For 6,000 Guests.

Ample hotel accommodations have been provided for the World's Fair visitors at St. Louis both within and outside of the Exposition grounds.

The Exposition management has organized a free information service. A pamphlet has been issued for gratuitous circulation explaining many of the conveniences that have been provided. A list of all the hotels, with rates, is contained in this pamphlet. The entire city has been canvassed, and many thousands of private householders have arranged to receive visitors. These houses are in every section of the city, and the rates at which guests will be received is a matter of record on the books of the bureau.

The inside inn, a hotel on the Exposition grounds, has a capacity for 6,000 guests. The Exposition management has control of the rates, which have been fixed at from $1.50 to $3.50 per day, European plan, including admission to the grounds. On the American plan the rates range from $3 to $5 per day. The hotel is 400 by 800 feet and is three stories high.

There are more than 150 established hotels in St. Louis, and a signed agreement has been made between many of their managers with the Exposition officials that rates shall not be raised during the Exposition period. Many new hotels have been built on sites adjacent to the Exposition grounds, and the published fixed rates warrant the assertion that no one need pay exorbitant rates for accommodations either at hotels or private houses.

Among the new hotels may be mentioned the Hotel Napoleon Bonaparte, which stands at Clayton avenue and Skinker road, overlooking the Exposition grounds. This hostelry will accommodate 5,000 persons. The rates, European plan, are from $1 to $5 per day. The Grand View hotel, south of the Exposition, on Oakland avenue, has a capacity for 5,000 guests, and the rates are $1 to $1.50 per day, European, and $2 to $2.50 per day on the American plan. The Kenilworth, on West Park boulevard and Dillon avenue, has a capacity of 1,500 guests, with a rate of $1.60 per day.

The above mentioned are a few of the new hotels that have been erected near the Exposition grounds for the accommodation of World's Fair visitors. All told there are about two score. All are within easy walking distance, and all are situated on high ground, with comprehensive views of the grounds. All of the structures are well built, and in some of them the most luxurious quarters are obtainable. The rates are established and will not be increased during the Exposition.

NEW MUSIC FOR WORLD'S FAIR

Three Compositions by Famous People. Band Tournament.

Musical people and all who appreciate good music may thank the World's Fair for three notable compositions, written upon the invitation of the Exposition management. These are the "Hymn of the West," by the most distinguished living American poet, Edmund Clarence Stedman, the music for which was written by Professor John K. Paine, who is at the head of the music department of Harvard university; "Louisiana," a march by Frank Vanderstucken, leader of the Cincinnati Orchestra; a waltz, "Along the Plaza," by Henry K. Hadley of New York, who has won his laurels long before this as writer of operatic and other musical compositions. This music will be heard publicly for the first time upon the opening of the Exposition on Saturday, April 30, and frequently thereafter in the musical programmes of the greatest of world's fairs. These are the only official compositions.

Thirty thousand dollars will be given in prizes for the best bands at a tournament to be held during the Exposition. All through the World's Fair the musical feature will be prominent. The most famous bands of the world are under contract to participate during considerable periods. Among these are the Grande Republicaine band of France, the Royal Grenadier band of England, the American National band, Sousa's band and others.

EVOLUTION OF THE CHICK.

A Study in Embryology Which Cannot Fail to Be of Interest to Poultry Raisers.

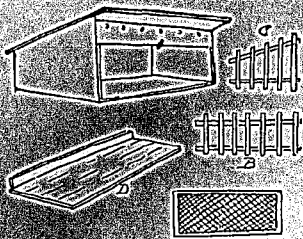

One of the best means of studying embryology is the egg of the fowl—any breed will do. So alike are the embryos of such vastly different beings, as the fish, the fowl, reptiles, the horse, the man, at certain corresponding stages in their prenatal career that only a skilled scientist can tell "other from which." All animals start life as a single cell (none larger than the size of a pin point), and although the processes of nutrition are dissimilar, the principles are practically the same.

The incubator has scarcely gone on its hatching career or the hen has scarcely set on her eggs 12 hours before some lineaments of the head and body of the chicken appear. The heart may be seen to beat at the end of the second day. It has at this time somewhat the form of a horseshoe, but no blood yet appears. At the end of two days two vesicles of blood are to be distinguished; the pulsation of which is very visible. One of these is the left ventricle, and the other the root of the great artery. At the fifth hour an auricle of the heart appears, resembling a noose folded down upon itself. The beating of the heart is first observed in the auricle, and afterwards in the ventricle. At the end of the seventh hour the wings are distinguishable; and on the head two bubbles are seen for the brain, one for the bill, and two for the fore and hind parts of the head. Towards the end of four days the two auricles already visible draw nearer to the heart than before. The liver appears toward the fifth day. At the end of 131 hours, the first voluntary motion is observed. At the end of seven hours more the lungs and stomach become visible, and four hours later the intestines, the loins and the upper jaw. At the one hundred and forty-fourth hour two ventricles are visible and two drops of blood, instead of the single one as seen before. The seventh day the brain begins to have some consistency. At the one hundred and ninety-fourth hour of incubation the bill opens and the flesh appears on the breast. In four hours more the breastbone is seen. In six hours after this the ribs appear, forming from the back, and the bill is very visible, as well as the gall bladder. The bill becomes green at the end of 236 hours; and, if the chicken be taken out of its covering, it evidently moves itself. The feathers begin to shoot out toward the two hundred and fortieth hour, and the skull becomes gristly. At the two hundred and sixty-fourth hour the eyes appear. At the two hundred and eighty-eight the ribs are perfect. At the three hundred and thirty-first the spleen draws near the stomach and the lungs to the chest. At the end of 355 hours, the bill frequently opens and shuts, and at the end of the eighteenth day the first chirp of the chicken is heard.—Wilcox Review.

COOPS FOR SMALL CHICKS.

Models Here Described Have Been Used to Advantage for Quite a Long Time.

The coop house, shown in sketch, is much better if made of pine. It is made in three separate pieces, the roof and bottom being removable. The roof projects over the coop on all sides, but much farther in front and back. This is to keep rain from beating in. The roof boards are nailed to two narrow pieces, which are just the length of the inside of the coop and are placed far enough from the front and the back to fit inside the coop. The cracks are battened.

The floor (d) is made to slip in at the back like a drawer. This coop is very easily sunned and cleaned on account of the removable floor and roof. The eight-inch board at the top in front has holes bored in for ventilation. A wooden button on top board and a two-inch strip at the bottom holds on the frame of wire screen which is used stormy days when the chicks are too young to run out, and on warm nights. At other times a slatted wooden front (b) is used.

I make this coop in two sizes—a single coop 20 inches square, 24 inches high in front and 16 inches in the back; and a double coop is 30 inches long and 24 inches wide. A removable lath partition (c) divides it.—Orange Judd Farmer.

Poultry Grows Fat on Milk.

It is customary on farms to give all the surplus milk to the hogs and let the chickens have what they can successfully forage, when the truth of figures proves conclusively that milk fed to chickens will produce more pounds of poultry to a given amount of food than can be transformed into hog meat, and that this poultry meat is on an average worth about double the price per pound that can be obtained for hog meat. Notwithstanding this, the hen must still run the gauntlet of a shower of corn cobs, old shoes and flying clubs if she gets a grain or two of corn from the hog pen at any time.—Inland Poultry Journal.

Those who know the value of using only the best stock obtainable in the breeding pen are the ones who make high-class poultry pay.

ALL THE STATES AT THE WORLD'S FAIR.

Many Beautiful Pavilions and Pretentious Buildings Show Forth the Enterprise of American Commonwealths.

A beautiful city has grown up among the trees on the World's Fair grounds at St. Louis. It has nothing to do with the immense exhibit palaces, but is a thing apart. The houses in this new city are of various styles of architecture. Some are palatial in size and appearance, while others look merely cozy and inviting. Never before have so many notable and historic buildings been constructed in one group. This new city might be called the City of the States, for the houses included in it are the state buildings at the Fair.

The city is not compact, but somewhat straggling, as befits the picturesque quality of the view. Yet there is nothing suggestive of a Stringtown-on-the-Pike about this city, for the grounds surrounding each of the houses are beautified with gardens typical of the state represented.

All the states are to be represented at the World's Fair. This means a great deal, a shining triumph for the Louisiana Purchase Exposition, and furnishes another illustration of the fact that this Exposition's completeness is the marvel of the age.

Fifty-one states, territories and possessions of the United States have taken the steps necessary to participate in the World's Fair on an important scale. But two states were still outside the fold at the last report, and in each of these was a well-defined movement in favor of being represented at the Fair with buildings and exhibits. New Hampshire, the old home state, and Delaware are the states referred to. In New Hampshire, a fund for participation is being raised privately by patriotic citizens, so that in the event of legislative inaction this commonwealth may be represented.

The states and territories are expending over $7,000,000 in their efforts to show off to best advantage at the Exposition. This is a million and a third more than was expended at the Chicago exposition by the states. In addition to this, large cities in many states will have municipal exhibits, the funds for which are not included in these figures. The municipal exhibit idea is entirely novel. From a number of the states there will be prominent county exhibits provided by special appropriation of county funds.

"This City of the States presents a picture of surpassing beauty. Nature has done much to aid in the creation of the picture. Never before has any exposition been able to grant such advantageous sites for state buildings. The buildings are situated on a plateau about seventy-five feet higher than the level ground to the north upon which stand the main exhibit palaces. There are hills and ravines here and there, enabling the landscapers to lay out a most delightful pattern of roads and terraces and lawns.

"The smallest of the state buildings is that of Arizona, which stands near the southeastern entrance to the grounds. One of the largest is that of Missouri, from the dome of which it is said that perhaps the very finest view of the Exposition may be enjoyed. This building is a palace in the Italian Renaissance architecture, built at a cost of $105,000. Near by is the reproduction of the Cabildo at New Orleans, in which the Louisiana Purchase transfer ceremonies took place. Louisiana's state building, Ohio has a clubhouse of highly ornate design, in the architecture of the French Renaissance. Illinois is prominent with a most pretentious structure, with wide verandas and a commanding cupola.

A description of each of the state buildings, with any detail, would more than fill a newspaper page. It is only possible here to hint at some of the interesting structures. California, for instance, has reproduced in exact size the famous old La Rabida Mission. Connecticut presents a replica of the Sigourney residence at Hartford, home of the poetess Lydia Huntley Sigourney in her time. This building is said to be the finest specimen of purely colonial architecture now standing. The New Kentucky Home, from the Blue Grass State, is a handsome clubhouse that would make some of the mansions along Fifth avenue, New York city, look insignificant. Beaver, the quaint old house which Jefferson Davis owned and occupied for many years, is reproduced by Mississippi. Its wide verandas or galleries give it a most inviting appearance. Washington's headquarters at Morris-town, N. J., are reproduced by New Jersey. Virginia contributes Monticello, the home of Thomas Jefferson.

The state of Washington contributes a structure of unique design. It is called the Wigwam, five stories high, built of wood from Washington forests. The building is octagonal, with gigantic diagonal timbers rising from the ground and meeting in an apex ninety feet in the air, above which is built an observatory, from which a splendid view of the Exposition may be had. An elevator will carry visitors to the observatory.

New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Arkansas, Colorado, West Virginia, Indiana, Wisconsin, Texas and many other states are represented by buildings which cannot fail to arouse admiration. The Texas building is in the shape of a five pointed star, an appropriate idea for the big Lone Star State. Iowa has a magnificent mansion, with classic porticoes and a central tower containing an observatory chamber. Kansas, Indian Territory and Oklahoma each uphold the growing reputation of the southwest for enterprise and fertility of resources.

At the Dentist's.

Patience—Good gracious! You've been an hour in that dentist's! I hope he hasn't been pulling your tooth all that time?

Patrice—No, 45 minutes of the time the dentist was trying to convince me that it wouldn't hurt, and the other 15 minutes I was trying to convince him that I had better call to-morrow.—Yonkers Statesman.

Where She Drew the Line.

Reginald—I love you, Madeline. For you I would give up family, position, wealth.

Madeline—Hold, Reginald! Giving up family is all right—I faint would be spared a mother-in-law; give up your position if you can get a better one, but please hold on to your wealth. We may need it.—Tit-Bits.

A Better Scheme.

The young clergyman was under the impression that there had been some criticism because he preached extemporaneously.

"Do you think I ought to write my sermons?" he asked.

"No," replied the sarcastic deacon. "I think you ought to buy them."—Brooklyn Eagle.

Marriage.

Marriage is a lottery? (Not by all the twinkling stars!) Marriage is a lottery? (Not by all the twinkling stars!) Where are made the family jars!—Puck.

ALMOST THE SAME.

"Say, Billy, wot's matricide?" "Matricide? Lemme see—dat's when a feller commits suicide by matrimony."—Chicago American.

Couldn't Disturb Him.

"When you are hungry," the food cranks said. "The best thing to eat is an apple." The Philadelphian laughed in glee. "I've something better than that," said he, and he went on eating his scrapple. Chicago Tribune.

Very Likely.

Miss Passay—No, I will never marry until I find my ideal.

Miss Sharpe—No?

Miss Passay—No. Do you know what my ideal is?

Miss Sharpe—I suppose it's a man who will say "yes" when you propose.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Human Nature.

"Ever noticed it?" asked the fat passenger as he looked up from his paper. "Did I ever notice what?" asked the strap-hanger.

"That an officeholder no sooner gets kicked out than he begins to howl for reform," continued the obese party.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Cutting.

Young Father—How many teeth does a baby cut?

Old Father—I think it's 10.

Young Father—Oh, that's absurd! From the way in which my baby has kept me awake for the last seven months he must have had at least 60.—Ally Sloper.

A Reasonable Request.

Old Lady—Beg pardon for interrupting, but do you speak any language besides English?

Teamster (with balky horse)—I do, mum.

Old Lady—Then won't you please do your swearing in it?—New York Weekly.

Getting His Money's Worth.

Jinks—Yes, I always take my boy along when I go to the minstrels. That's the only way I can get my money's worth.

Blinks—How so?

Jinks—The music is new to me, and the jokes are new to him.—N. Y. Weekly.

His Opportunity.

Scribbler—In declining my poems the editor said I had no literary ability and advised me to go in for something else. Penfield—Did he suggest anything? Scribbler—Yes; told me to try my hand at a popular novel.—Judge.

Disparagement.

Mrs. Bliggins says she never gossips.

"No," answered Miss Cayene. "She hasn't enterprise enough to get any news of her own. She is merely an audience."—Washington Star.

Rather Hard on Him.

He—Do you believe, Miss Sweetlips, that we men descended from apes?

She—I think perhaps some of you did, but a great number don't seem to have moved at all.—Ally Sloper.

Physician, Heal Thyself.

He—What a terrible cough you have! Why don't you consult your family physician?

She—Impossible. He's traveling for his health.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

In No Danger.

Mr. Nicofello—Dr. Knowitt says that kissing conveys microbes. Sweet Girl—I have some carbolic soap upstairs.—N. Y. Weekly.

that Democratic Mayor McClellan gave his signature to has been vetoed by Republican Governor Odell. It was a well-deserved slap in the face for Mayor McClellan, and to say that Governor Odell acted for political reasons and only after great delay and on tremendous pressure from the people won't do. The Mayor refused to hear the people. The Gov-

Applause for the Governor!About now, almost pretty soon, the let us hope that the new Council will not make the mistake the old Coun-great territory with a "finch dresstention whatever to the foundation.

Let the new road committee start at the foundation and build a road thoroughly, even if the number of miles completed during the year may not be as many as were "covered" last year by merely top dressing roads. The taxpayer saves money by having Westfield roads built substantially. The road committee con-payers will look to these officers to give Westfield intelligently, honestly built roads.It is understood by the Citizens of this town that no more liquor saloons will be opened up. When the town had only two saloons, as was the case a few months ago, there was no suffering, indicated by any one except some would-be saloon keepers. Now that Westfield has added another, let it go at that. It would be a crime against the town and an outrage upon our voters, (whose sentiments are well enough understood on the subject) to reopen the notorious Burtis corner as a liquor saloon. It is altogether too conspicuous a position to be turned over to the longgers and hangers-on who formerly infested the same neighborhood until it reeked with blasphemy and vulgarity that made it a spot to be avoided, especially by ladies and children who might otherwise prefer to pass that way.Standard Spinnings.

ANNUAL MEETING.E. D. FLOYD, THE NEW PRESI-DENT, MAKES STIRRING SPEECH.Plans Talked Over for Improvements to Club Property—Reports Read—Prizes Presented to Winners of Bowling Tournament.The annual meeting and election of officers of the Westfield Club was held Tuesday night with a rather large attendance. The meeting was a most enthusiastic one.President W. E. Tuttle, Jr., called the meeting to order. Treasurer F. S.
Smith read his annual report, which was a most excellent one, and showed the club to be in a very flourishing condition. Mr. Smith then took occasion to present President Tuttle with a beautiful diamond-studded scarf pin as a token of the club's appreciation of his valuable services rendered during the three years of his presidency. Mr. Tuttle accepted the gift and said he felt somewhat embarrassed at the situation, the gift coming to him so unexpectedly.
He expressed a heart felt thank you and said the club would have his loyal support in the future as it had had in the past.Chairman of the Bowling Committee H. R. Forster read a lengthy report of of the year's work in that department.
His report showed the bowling feature of the club was one of the largest paying departments. The committee recommended that two new alleys be built.
C. W. Rindyard spoke on the latter proposition and showed by figures and facts that the bowling enthusiasts were bringing considerable of an income to the club. A committee on ways and means to secure money for the new alleys was appointed to report to the incoming officers of the club just what they found to be the best method to secure funds for the purpose, whether it be by raising the dues to $20.00 a year, holding a fair, or by some other scheme.
The report of the entertainment committee, A. A. Smith, chairman, showed that that department of the club presented a deficiency in every entertainment given during the year with the exception of the masquerade, which showed a small profit. This committee worked hard during the year and provided a class of entertainment that has never been excelled in the history of the club.The report of the tennis committee showed that there had been a profitable season in that branch.
The President, in his report, showed the largest membership in the history of the club, and spoke of the liberality and generosity of landlord sergeant for the many improvements added to the club property, at no additional cost to the club. The President also spoke of the unusual capability of Steward Meisner, who has always proved courteous and willing in his duties and had proven to be the best steward the club has ever had.A vote of thanks was given H. G. Sergeant for his interest in club affairs.President Tuttle presented the prizes to the several winners in the bowling tournament. J. A. Woodward won the President's Cup, and calls for a speech from "Sunny Jim" were numerous.The high score prize was won by Everett Pierson, and prizes were also awarded Fred Hegeman, O. E. Halsted, George Voehl, and last, but not least, E.
P. Condit, came in for the booby prize —pipe and tobacco.The election of officers resulted as follows: President, E. D. Floyd; Vice President, O. E. Halsted; Treasurer, F.
S. Smith; Secretary, H. R. Forster;
Trustees, H. G. Sergeant, W. E. Tuttle,
Jr., R. L. Townley, O. K. Darrow and J.
A. Woodward.It was then up to President Floyd to make a speech, which he did in his usual able manner. Many of the club members consider it one of the most stirring speeches they ever listened to.Refreshments served by Steward Meisner, followed by songs from Tuttle Brothers songsters, wound up the most successful annual meetings in the history of the club.

The regular monthly business meet-

AN IMPORTANT EVENT MUSICAL.

The Carolyn Harding Beebe Piano
Recital Already an Assured Success.One has not to be a very old resident of Westfield to recall the time when "little Carrie Beebe" attracted attention, not only on account of the rare sweetness of her nature, but for the remarkable fondness for music that she developed while yet the merest child. Wise parents "let her have her bent." She was early put under the best musical instruction and recently blossomed out in Europe as Carolyn Harding Beebe, a name that soon became famous in foreign musical circles of the higher order.Yet now, on her return from abroad, she is to be heard at the piano by a more difficult audience in some respects than she has ever confronted; because every artist knows that the most exacting of all listeners are to be found amongst one's best friends. Not that they are the more critical; it is because a natural anxiety for the most ultimate success of a performer in whom a deep personal interest is felt inevitably results in self-consciousness, inseparable from such a situation as that of next Tuesday evening.It is safe to say, therefore, that in connection with Miss Beebe's appearance at the Congregational church next Tuesday evening there is much of the element of unnecessary yet pardonable anxiety mixed with curiosity and pleasurable anticipation on the part of many of the ticket holders who will be privileged to hear this plucky and talented little American girl of whom Westfield has already great reason to be proud.The advance sale of tickets declares for a large audience and the STANDARD ventures the prediction that the Carolyn Harding Beebe Piano Recital will be from every point of view a very great success.

Another Talented Westfield Girl.

Miss Florence Donnell, of Charles street, recently made her first metropolitan appearance as a pianist, at a concert in the Lyceum Hall of St. Bartholomew's parish house, given by Henry Holden Huss, the eminent instructor and composer, and twelve of his pupils, accompanied by an orchestra of twenty-five. The following is from "The Musical Leader and Concert Goer":
"Miss Donnell, one of Mr. Huss' later pupils, played the Potomac Militaire of Chopin." Miss Donnell has to her credit a decided "chic" and much dash, which will add greatly to what she will gain from the refinement that must come from further work under that great teacher. She is full of musical temperament and was interesting throughout."
Miss Donnell was originally a pupil of Miss Carolyn Harding Beebe, who is now making such a stir in musical circles.

As to Location of Signboards,
Elm Street, Westfield, N. J.

Editor Union County Standard:

DEAR SIR:

While conceding that the new Public Billboards are an improvement upon the old method of local advertising, it is not a pity that a little more thought was not exercised in choosing their location? To have them at the corners of the business streets is well; but it seems inappropriate, for instance, that the really beautiful approach to the Presbyterian Church should be disfigured in the way it is now by one of these overpoweringly top-heavy signboards. Faithfully yours,
JOSEPHINE WERLING-WATTS.

A Chance for Fine Mattings.

In addition to the other great attractions at Levy Bros., Plainfield, is an important sale of fine Japanese mattings which they offer at the lowest prices ever quoted in that city.

Here Is Something Uneek.

We spell some words in a manner unique, but that is no reason why we should spique the eagle which from the mountain plume, swoops down to the valley, there to slake some venturesome youngsters' beside a creek. And carries him kicking away in his blique. Would the youngster let out an unearthly shriek. Or would he just venture a querulous squint. When carried aloft with the speed of a strike. Of light, to the ergs so great and blique? Would he be so calm, demure and mique? That he'd not even open his eyes to squique. When the eagle says: "Here's enough to Out food for the crowd at least a wique?" All of which is simply to show the chique Of him who started a frivolous, rique. By spelling the word uneek unique. —T. H. Bits.

The name of "Kirstein" is on every uniform and the advertising secured is said to be well worth the cost of the venture. Mr. Kirstein is also a liberal user of space in newspapers. Edwin S. Hall, formerly of Westfield, assists Mr. Kirstein in the management of the base ball team.

Letter to Wm. W. Connolly,

Westfield, N. J.

Dear Sir: Three gallons saved is $12 to $16 earned.

Mr. Sanford Bluff of Bridgeport, Conn., ordered 16 gallons Dwyer to paint his house and returned 9 gallons. His painter said it would take 16 a lead and oil painter.

Hubbard & Wade Co. sold it. They say everybody has the same experience there.

The reason is of course they are used to poor paint.

What is poor paint? Anything not DeVo's is some worse than others.

Besides, paints wear about as they cover. Double the $12 to $15.

Yours truly,

TOWN COUNCIL

FIXES BUDGET.

LOCAL POLICE TO ACT AS TRUANT OFFICERS.

Trolley Company to be Asked to Place Light at Summit and South Avenues —Park Street Property Owners Position for Stone Walks.

The town council met Monday evening. Mayor Perkins and Councilman Richardson were absent.

W. M. Harrison, who is interested in some of the Harrison avenue lots, stated to the committee that in his judgment the grade recently established by town engineer VanEmburgh was a detriment to his property, and that he (Harrison) had engaged another engineer to survey the property and make another grade. Harrison asked that a committee be appointed to go over the matter with his own engineer. Patrick Traynor, chairman of the road committee, stated to the council that he and others of his committee had gone over the property and considered VanEmburgh's grade to be a correct one. However, the matter was referred to the road committee and they will again consider it.

District Clerk J. J. Coger was present and presented a resolution adopted by the Board of Education asking the police committee to require the local police to act as truant officers when necessary. The council ordered the police so instructed.

A. F. Grant spoke of the need of an electric light at the trolley corner, Summit and South avenues. He asked that the council confer with the corporation and request that they place the much needed light.

The special hearing was then taken up on sidewalk and road improvements. No one appeared to make objection to the work or material used, so the matter will take the usual procedure in such cases.

The finance committee offered an ordinance fixing the budget for the coming year. It is as follows:

Street lights, $4,200; Police, $2,700; Fire Department, $2,000; Streets, $6,000; Poor, $1,200; Water, $1,200; Interest on bonds, $1,200; Sinking fund, $1,833.33; Incidental expenses, $9,000; Board of Health, $800.

Property owners residing on Park street petitioned the council to have a stone walk laid from Summit avenue along the south side of Park street to Central avenue. With one or two exceptions the petition also asked for curbing. The matter was referred to the sidewalk committee.

A special meeting will be held Monday evening, June 6th, to receive bids for new flag sidewalks.

After passing bills and receiving reports of town officers the meeting adjourned.

The Proper Remedy.

The recognition of the billboard as a nuisance is general, and protests against it come from all sections of the country. Only by the creation of a strong public sentiment can the nuisance be abated, and it is gratifying to note the growth of sentiment in this direction.—Dunkirk Grape Belt.

THE FAIR AT ST. LOUIS.

A Glorious Triumph of American Progress.

Every true American is interested in the vast Exposition which has just been opened to the public gaze at St. Louis. It is grand in conception, superb in detail and no branch of science, art or industry has been overlooked in the allotment of space for the proper exhibition of the progress which they severally have made.

Likewise amusements are a prominent feature of the Fair, and all that is best and most wholesome have been included. The buildings are beautiful in design and mammoth in proportion, while the landscape surroundings are elaborate and fully in keeping with the architectural monuments, for the buildings can be called nothing else. No other Exposition can compare from the standpoint of scope or vastness, and a visit to the St. Louis Fair is nothing short of a great educational treat.

The New Jersey Central in connection with the Royal Blue Line has an illustrated booklet which will be sent to any address upon application, and for rates and like information drop a postal to Gen'l Passenger Dept., Division B, C. R. R. of N. J., New York City.

Big Copyright Business.

The annual statement of the copyright office of the library of congress shows that the copyright business for 1903 was the largest in any year in the history of the office. No less than 100,743 titles were received for registration, the total fees received amounting to $70,230.50. The number of articles deposited also exceeded the number of any previous year, totaling 180,527. On the entries of the year there were 14,000 books and pamphlets, 4,568 booklets, leaflets, circulars and cards, and 7,641 newspaper and magazine articles. This speaks volumes for the literary activity of the country.

Butter Cakes.

Set a sponge made of one pint of water, one tablespoonful of butter, one teaspoonful of salt, half a yeast cake dissolved in one-third of a cup of tepid water and one pint of flour. When light add one cupful of warm water and flour enough to make a soft dough; knead five minutes, return to the bowl and put in a warm place to rise for several hours. Roll out half an inch thick and cut with a round cutter; cover with a cloth and let stand 20 minutes. Cook on a hot, greased griddle. When "set" on one side, turn. Do this several times.

A PECULIAR CHARM.

A Region Where Health and Pleasure Interlock.

There is an odd charm in that famous resort on the South Jersey coast known as Atlantic City. At one time it was considered purely a health resort where invalids congregated to renew their vigor in a climate ever temperate and always healthful. Gradually, however, there came a change, and instead of the sickly inhabiting the famous city by the sea, the robust pleasure seeker finds in Atlantic City attractions social as well as climatic, the like of which is not found at any outing place on the Atlantic seaboard.

Grand hotels, untold pleasures, a five mile board walk, bathing facilities which are unequalled, sports and entertainments of all kinds, boating, fishing and the like take up one's time, and after a visit to America's well named fashionable Spay, there is always a desire to go again. The New Jersey Central has the best train service between New York and Eastern points and Atlantic City, and if you are interested send for time table to C. M. Burt, G. P. A., New Jersey Central, New York City.

Low Rate Coach Excursion to the Fair.

The fair at St. Louis has opened in a blaze of glory and the general opinion is that it is the greatest and grandest exposition the world has ever seen.

The rates from all eastern points are very low and to visit the Fair when everything is new and attractive will be a treat.

The New Jersey Central will run the first Coach Excursion to St. Louis on May 10, 1904, and tickets will be good returning within 10 days from date of sale. The rate from Westfield is $18.00, and if you want information enquire of station ticket agent, or write either H. E. Rine, D. P. A., Allentown, Pa.; J. E. Whyte, D. P. A., Asbury Park, N. J.; W. O. A Dying Actor.

Ludovic Barnay, the famous German actor of villain parts, doubtless has had more experience in dying than most other members of his profession. He has met death on the stage something over 1,000 times, 314 being by suicide. About a dozen other modes of exit are mentioned in his recently published memoirs. By way of cheerful set-off against this wholesale decease, Herr Barnay was married 1,171 times, over half of his unions having been bigamous.

White House Help.

Employees in the white house for a long time have been in the habit of soliciting subscriptions from and offering tickets for sale to persons who call at the executive mansion. The custom has become so general as to be a nuisance and an order has been issued putting a stop to the abuse. Messengers and doorkeepers had fallen into the habit of reading newspapers, magazines, etc., while on duty. This also has been ended by the same order.

Alaskan Production.

Since the purchase Alaska has yielded $150,000,000 worth of gold, furs and fish, and the territory has purchased from the United States in the meantime merchandise valued at $100,000,000. The value of the Alaskan fish sold in the single year 1903 was $8,000,000, or more than the purchase money paid for the country. In that year we received from Alaska $10,225,004 in merchandise and $1,719,579 in gold.

The True Test of Beer.

The court of appeals at St. Louis has passed upon the question as to when hop tea is beer. The court's opinion is that the tea is beer when persons who drink it become intoxicated. The test recalls that sometimes suggested to those who ask how one may tell foodstuffs from mushrooms. If the articles are eaten and death does not follow then they are mushrooms. Albany Journal.

X-Rays Remove Smallpox Scars.

It is alleged that applications of the X-rays will remove the marks left on the skin by smallpox. Not only are we told that experiments have been successful with patients just recovering, but there is also reason to believe that pitting of many years standing may be removed. The old scars of burns and tuberculosis are also removed by the X-rays.

Alarm Subsidized.

Considerable alarm was created a short time ago by the news that some one had said a woman of fashion should have at least ten new hats each season. The alarm subsided when it was discovered that the person who made the statement was the head of the national milliners' association.

Peruvian Coal.

Many varieties of coal are produced in Peru—namely, anthracite, lignite, pit coal and peat. As no records are kept, it is not possible to state the exact amount of coal produced in the country, but from a carefully made estimate for the year 1901 the amount was about 55,000 tons.

The Neck Finish.

The newest effect in neck finishes for dress waists is like, yet decidedly unlike, a yoke. It is extremely shallow in front and is brought well down over the sleeves to produce the long shoulder slope. Detroit Free Press.

Fashionable Colors.

White will not be so universally and exclusively worn this summer as last year. Delicate colors of pale green, pink, blue and mauve are all to be fashionable in pongee, linen, silk or cloth. Detroit Free Press.

Grilled Almonds.

Grilled almonds among the bonbons at dessert will be a novel and a delightful change. Blanch and dry a cupful of shelled almonds, preferably Jordan, although the others will do. Detroit Free Press.

Contrasts in Size.

Lord Kelvin calculates that if a drop of water were magnified to the size of the earth its constituent atoms would be somewhere between the size of a small shot and cricket balls. Pall Mall Gazette.

HOUSEWORK

From the viewpoint of the average man is very easy. The wife is right at home. She is her own mistress. She can sit down and rest any time. She can even go to bed for a nap if she feels like it. She can order her household affairs just to suit her own convenience. If she doesn't feel equal to doing work today, she can do it tomorrow.

That's the beautiful theory. She can stop and rest. She can lie down. Why not? There are chairs and beds aplenty.

Just suppose the Egyptian taskmasters, when they made the required daily tale of bricks tax the uttermost of human strength, had said to the toiling slaves, "Don't hurry, take a rest every now and then—only don't forget that your tale of bricks must be all right at night or else there'll be trouble."

There are the facts. There are the duties to be got through and the women who can rest may not. The woman who, when she married, said, "Now I'll be my own mistress," finds herself a slave to household cares and duties.

And oh! how much that woman needs the rest sometimes! She brushes and scrubs and rolls pastry, her temples throbbing, her back aching, her nerves quivering under the stress of pain. What she would give if she could just creep upstairs and throw herself on the bed in a darkened room and rest.

Rest would temporarily relieve the strain, doubtless, but it would be the same story over again tomorrow. The real need of weak, nervous women is not rest, but strength, and that rest need is fully met and satisfied by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It makes weak women strong and sick women well. It removes the causes of women's weakness, regulates the periods, drives out the drains, breaks inflammation and irritation, and cures female weakness. It tranquilizes the nerves, encourages the appetite and induces restful sleep. "Favorite Prescription" contains no alcohol, neither opium, cocaine, nor any other narcotic. It is a purely vegetable preparation and will agree with the weakest constitution.

GREAT GRATITUDE.

"Words cannot express how grateful I am for your kind advice and your 'Favorite Prescription,'" writes Mrs. D. H. Barrieks, of Perrowe, Campbell Co., Va. "I feel that it has cured me. I had been in poor health for four years. Suffered greatly with my right side, also with bearing-down pains, and my nerves were in a dreadful state. After using four bottles of your 'Favorite Prescription' I am now well. I am the mother of two children. With the first child I suffered twenty-eight hours and with the second I used your medicine, and was sick only three hours."

believe Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription to be the best medicine in the world for suffering females. I wish you great success, and hope that God will bless you in your noble work.

OPERATION AVOIDED.

"October 12th, 1898, I wrote you for the first time," says Mrs. Alice P. Shipley, of West Point, Harden Co., Ky. "I was very ill, confined to my bed most of the time; had no appetite, pains in left ovary, could rest only on one side without suffering most excruciating pains. Was a perfect wreck physically. I underwent an examination by one of the most prominent physicians of Louisville, Ky. He pronounced my case tumor of the stomach and advised me to return in two weeks and have an operation performed. My husband had such a dread of the knife that he prevailed on me to try Dr. Pierce's medicine. I took seven bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and two vials of 'Pellea,' which cured me of constipation. Have not taken any medicine since the last of February. I now attend to all my household work, cook, wash, iron and sew for a family of six. Many have been advised by me to try your treatment and great are the benefits derived.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellea are of great benefit in connection with 'Favorite Prescription' when the use of a laxative medicine is indicated.

Kindness of Heart.

"What makes you tell such extraordinary stories about your fishing trips?"

"Well," answered Mr. Blugens, "if you could see how disappointed the folks are when I don't tell 'em a few good ones, you'd realize that it's just kindness of heart."—Washington Star.

Strength in Pulling.

The pulling strength of men and animals was recently shown in an exhibition of a circus at Madison Square Garden, New York. For each pound of its own weight an elephant can pull 72 of a pound; a camel, 70, and a horse 117 of a pound. A man can pull 52 of his own weight.
