Trump joins council

Borough native will serve out Carol Wood's term

By JAY MATOVSKY
THE RECORD PRESS

FANWOOD — The Borough Council appointed Republican David Trump to fill the vacancy left by last month's death of Councilwoman Carol A. Wood.

Trump's nomination was approved Tuesday night by a vote of 3-1, with Councilwoman Katherine Mitchell the lone nay sayer. Trump, 40, will serve the remainder of Wood's term, which expires Nov. 5 of this year.

"It feels good," said Trump, a marketing coordinator for the New Jersey Turnpike Authority. "I was born and raised in Fanwood. I feel it's important to give back to the community whenever you can."

Trump said he would have rather been elected to the position, but will still remember Wood in spirit and do the best he can to fill her shoes. He was the only nomination offered during the special council meeting Tuesday.

"I know Carol thought very highly of David, and I think she would be very pleased that he's taking her place," said Mayor Louis Jung.

Union County Assignment Judge Edward Beglin administered the oath of office to Trump. Judge Beglin and the newly sworn in councilman posed for pictures before Trump took his place on the board.

"If you've shown the interest, you should have the opportunity," said Council President Joel Whitaker. "I think he'll do a fine job and I look forward to working with him."

Whitaker was once Trump's running mate in a bid for seats on the council, saying he was convinced during the campaign that he would lose while Trump would win.

"He's a great guy and he'll do a fine job," said former councilman Andy McDonald, calling Trump a "dedicated individual."

Wood, 57, died unexpectedly Sunday, April 7 in her home. She was elected to the Borough Council in 2001 and had previously served on the Planning Board, Zoning Board of Adjustment, Board of Health, Community Assessment Committee, and the Strategic Planning Committee.

Wood was a well-known and respected Realtor, having received the Westfield Board of Realtors' Community Service Award in 1987. She was a member of the board for the past 30 years, serving as a director for 15 years and president from 1994-95. The board honored Wood as its Realtor of the Year in both 1987 and 1993.

Westfield to break ground for 9-11 memorial

By DAVID LAZARUS
CORRESPONDENT

WESTFIELD — Saturday marks the eight-month anniversary of the terrorist attacks on the World Trade Center, the Pentagon and United Flight 93.

It will also be the groundbreaking for the Sept. 11 memorial which will honor not only the 12 Westfield residents who perished but all 2,800 victims, said Committee Chair Janis Weinstein.

The groundbreaking will take place at 8:30 a.m. at Memorial Park.

According to Weinstein the project should be completed by Aug. 15 with a dedication near the one-year anniversary. The model which was almost the size of the memorial was brought into the Westfield Town Council meeting Tuesday. The actual monument will be 11 feet high.

It will contain 12 granite posts which will be chained together representing the 12 Westfield victims.

Committeeman Sal Caruana, head of Westfield Cares said that fund-raising was moving along quite well with $42,000 of the $70,000 needed already collected. He said with appreciation that many of the materials and labor had been donated.

Anyone who would like to contribute to the fund can mail checks to: Sept 11 Fund, P.O. Box 712, Westfield, NJ 07090.

Janis Weinstein, a member of the Sept. 11 Memorial Park Committee, looks at a mockup of the Westfield memorial. With her is Craig R. Stock, the landscaping consultant. Groundbreaking is 8:30 a.m. Saturday at Memorial Park.

Rahway Avenue bumpouts spark Westfield debate

CORRESPONDENT

WESTFIELD — A nearly completed traffic project designed to make the south end of Rahway Avenue safer brought lively debate between residents and council members at Tuesday night's meeting of the Town Council.

The meeting was conducted without Mayor Gregory S. McDermott who was at a Washington meeting with President George W. Bush.

Resident Warren Victor accused the town of failing to inform its citizens about the 4-foot bumpouts at major intersections on the south end of Rahway Avenue. He compared the project to a similar initiative on South Avenue in Plainfield which he claimed was responsible for 37 traffic accidents in the past year.

Ward 2 Councilman Robert Ferraro of Plainfield buttressed Victor's case by saying that the city has been paying claims to motorists who charged that the abutment caused accidents.

Councilman Carl Salisbury countered Victor's arguments by saying that there had been many weeks of discussion about the project when it was initiated in 1999.

"We are not going to create

"We are not going to create accidents. We are going to make Rahway Avenue safer. We need to slow people down."

—Council Member Rafael Betancourt

accidents. We are going to make Rahway Avenue safer," said Council Member Rafael Betancourt.

"We need to slow people down," said Betancourt, who added that Rahway Avenue has had a large percentage of the speeding infractions in town.

Town Engineer Ken Marsh added that Rahway Avenue is the longest stretch of road in Westfield with no stop signs or traffic lights. "We didn't just do this. We got a lot of feedback from many different people," said Marsh.

Marsh also said that the comparisons between South Avenue in Plainfield and Rahway Avenue are not valid, noting that South Avenue is 8 feet narrower than Rahway Avenue.

In addition to Victor, several other residents of Plymouth Road spoke against the bumpouts, while other citizens backed them, saying they will make Rahway Avenue much easier to cross.

Another debate involved the resolution to close South Chestnut Street between Fourth Avenue and the town line on Mondays through Fridays from 5 p.m. to dusk during baseball season and on Saturdays from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. and Sundays from noon to 7 p.m.

Nearby residents opposing it said that traffic would be diverted to other streets which may not be equipped to handle the increased traffic.

Westfield man in line for out-of-this world award

By CANDACE WALLER
CORRESPONDENT

WESTFIELD — The urge to write had nagged Shane Tourtellotte for years, so four years ago he followed his dream and started to write full-time. It took him two years to publish his first story and this year he's been nominated for a prestigious award.

"In college I didn't have an idea I would be writing for a living. I studied engineering but I never got a degree," said Tourtellotte, who attended middle and high school in Westfield and spent two years at Cornell University.

Instead he took odd jobs, including caring for an elderly patient. The woman's husband had back issues of Analog, a science fiction magazine, and Tourtellotte studied them. The hours he worked allowed him time to write.

"I had an early interest in science, astronomy and space travel," Tourtellotte said.

The editor of Analog magazine liked to work with and develop new writers, he said, and two years ago Tourtellotte published his first story in the magazine.

Since then Tourtellotte has published numerous pieces in the magazine, but said he was surprised when his short story "The Return of Spring" garnered him a Hugo nomination.

The Hugo awards are given by the World Science Fiction Society, but are decided by science fiction fans.

The awards ceremony will be Sept. 1 in San Jose, Calif. There is a weeklong convention preceding the ceremony that will feature speakers, panels, book sales and autograph sessions with well-known writers.

Tourtellotte 12,000 word piece is nominated in the novella category. There are five other nominations in the category. His story can be found online at: <http://www.webspan.net/~smt/re turn.htm>.

"I'm planning to attend the awards since I'm nominated," Tourtellotte said. "I admit my chances of winning are very slim. The competition is stiff this year. If I do win, I will really have deserved it. I am hoping this will bring me to the attention of publishers."

Working on two books at the same time, one a collaboration with Michael Burstein, fills Tourtellotte's days. When he is not writing he is doing research or attending conferences to network with publishers and agents.

Research is very important to Tourtellotte and he says that often he spends more time researching than writing.

"I don't ever want to retire. I want to be writing until the very end," Tourtellotte said. "If I tried to stop, story ideas would keep picking at me. I couldn't keep away from it for too long."

Communities ready plans for Memorial Day events

Volunteers are needed to help with "Memorial Day in the Park."

Separately, a poster contest is being organized for children on "What Memorial Day Means to Me." Prizes will be awarded in different age brackets. For contest information, phone Pam Sayles at (908) 889-9384.

In Westfield, the holiday will begin with services at 9 a.m. at the veterans monument, located where North Avenue meets Prospect Street and East Broad Street. Participants are asked to meet at 8 a.m. in the Lord & Taylor parking lot on North Avenue West.

The parade route is east on East

Broad to Elm Street, north on Elm to Orchard Street, east on Orchard to Mountain Avenue, south on Mountain back to East Broad Street and east on East Broad to Fairview Cemetery. A ceremony at Fairview Cemetery ends the parade.

HELPING THE ELDERLY

Ageing brings with it bodily changes, conditions, and illnesses that pose challenges to daily living. Arthritis, incontinence, joint and hip replacements, and orthopedic injuries are a few of the diseases and conditions that threaten mobility and independence. Fortunately, older adults faced with these challenges can turn to physical therapists, who can offer their assistance in regaining lost abilities or developing new ones. With experience and knowledge of the anatomical and physiological changes that occur with aging, the physical therapist can evaluate older patients and develop specially designed therapeutic exercise programs that can bring a higher level of function. Aside from evaluating and treating their older patients, physical therapists educate them about strategies for dealing with the changes that confront them.

Most individuals can engage in some sort of exercise. Even those in wheelchairs and unable to stand can work on exercises from a sitting position. In studies done among seniors, even a modest level of exercise greatly increased the perceived quality of life. If you haven't exercised at all, ask your physician if supervised exercise with a physical therapist would benefit you. With your referral, phone BELL REHABILITATION & SPORTS MEDICINE at (908) 272-5955. We are conveniently located at 777 Walnut Ave., Cranford. Most private insurances are accepted. Auto Insurance Claims are our specialty, and we will submit your bills for compensation. No faults & Medicare.

P.S. By working with a physical therapist, the older patient can expect to increase, restore, or maintain range of motion, physical strength, flexibility, coordination, balance, and endurance.

Commentary

Judging teachers job for professionals

Newly elected Board of Education member Michael Caulfield's proposal to allow parents to evaluate teachers landed with a thud at the April 29 school board meeting. Just as it should have.

The idea of having parents involved in the formal process is ridiculous. Such a proposal would be cumbersome, time consuming and is patently unfair — Parents see the teacher through the eyes of their children.

Having said that, school administrators should encourage parental input and include all communication in the teachers' personnel file.

Administrators see the big picture. They know how well students do in standardized tests and they are privy to awards and commendations that children win, thanks in no small part, to the efforts of their teachers.

The school officials can be objective; parents could judge more subjectively.

The parental insight — both good and bad — could be a valuable tool wielded by administrators to make good teachers better teachers. But the evaluation must ultimately be made by the school administrators.

Leave teacher evaluations to the professionals who enjoy the support and confidence of the Board of Education.

Remember the service of officers

While most people will celebrate Mother's Day on Sunday, only a relative few Americans will take the time to mark the beginning of National Police Week. That is a shame.

Police officers in every jurisdiction in this country face a difficult job every day. Their job is hazardous and the possibility of death lies in every motor vehicle stop, every domestic violence dispute and every call of a burglary or armed robbery in process. Every day every officer performs quiet acts of heroism which are unappreciated by the public.

For all their hard work and bravery, police officers are subjected to a barrage of criticism and abuse — some of it deserved but most of it undeserved. Though many critics may not like to admit it, police officers are also victims of unfair stereotypes. Though there are a few bad cops (as they are a few bad individuals in any profession), the majority of police officers go about their job enforcing the law and keeping the peace in a fair and just manner.

In the past decade, much has been done to improve the relationship between police officers and the public. More and more police departments are reaching out to citizens through the methods of community policing. Police officers are going into schools to teach DARE programs. More officers are either walking the beat again or riding a bicycle patrol not only to increase their visibility, but to increase their accessibility. These methods — combined with federal funding to put more officers on the streets — has worked. In the last decade, the crime rate throughout the country has decreased dramatically and a better relationship has developed between the police and the people they are hired to protect and serve.

National Police Week is more than just a time to thank current police officers; it is also the time to remember those officers who were killed in the line of duty. On Wednesday, the names of fallen police officers will be read in a solemn ceremony at the National Law Enforcement Officers Memorial in Judiciary Square in Washington, D.C. It is a sobering reminder that police officers are involved in life-and-death situations every day.

The ceremony will be especially poignant in memory of those New York City and Port Authority officers who lost their lives in the Sept. 11 attack on the World Trade Center. Their courage and unselfish devotion to duty and saving the lives of strangers will never be forgotten.

Police officers don't ask for much from the people they serve. All they ask for is simple respect, the same type of respect every citizen in our country expects. But it would not hurt if during National Police Week, we just thought about the fine job they do and offer our thanks.

All we ever do is complain

We are quickly becoming a nation of complainers.

That must be the reason why people are on the telephone so much. People — whether they're in their cars, malls, ballpark — call each other to curse the traffic, the crowds and the weather. When they're at work, people call friends at other workplaces to exchange complaints about the boss, salaries, working conditions, unreasonable demands etc. And at home they call each other to complain about lovers, friends and relatives. It's the constant complaining that fuels the market for mobile phones; when something goes wrong, you need a telephone immediately to call somebody.

Think about it — when is the last time you had a phone call from someone that was 100 percent full of good news?

Though I'd like to think I'm a naturally optimistic person, I see myself gradually slipping into the complaining mode more and more these days. I used to think it was a sign of getting older; with maturity, you are allowed to gracefully lose a certain amount of tolerance. But it's worse than that; sometimes I find myself complaining just to make conversation.

As a journalist I know that life is not perfect. After all, if life was perfect, I would be out of a job. Newspapers depend on things going wrong to create news. As an editor I revel in screw-ups, particularly those performed by politicians, and every week I have a legitimate forum to complain on the commentary page. So I can't complain about not being able to complain.

As an editor, however, I also have an obligation to make sure good news is in the newspaper as well. I've also suspected there is a certain physics to news; that for every bad news story there is an equal and opposite good news story. But, if you live in a nation of complainers, finding that good news is becoming increasingly difficult.

One of the reasons we're becoming a nation of complainers is that the baby boomer generation and its offspring expect life to be perfect. The parents of baby boomers learned hard to practice sangfroid living through the Great Depression and World War II; but we baby boomers never had to endure that kind of adversity (except for Vietnam). We never learned how to adapt to a world going crazy. When there's hundreds of thousands of troops battling across France, you don't complain about a minor power outage at your house.

The baby boomers and their offspring live in a world where all problems are solved in the length of a television program. At the end of Leave It To Beaver, Ward and June never went to marriage counseling. Wally never snorted coke and the Beaver never exposed himself on the playground at school. With these models of domestic tranquility to guide our lives, it's no wonder we become frustrated when the problems of our lives defy 30-minute solutions. We fall into the deep gap between reality and an unrealistic ideal. And that's when we start to complain.

We complain when happiness escapes us for a day.

We complain when the boss tries to give us an order or a deadline that will be difficult to meet.

We complain about minor disputes with our lovers, spouses, siblings, friends, co-workers and the kid behind the counter at the fast food joint.

We complain when it's too cold in the winter and too hot in the summer. We complain when there's too many people in the mall and on the highway (as if we're not responsible for adding to the situation.)

We complain about complainers.

And sometimes we complain just for the heck of it. It's the new national past time.

Letters to the editor

9-11 memorial must be true to fact

To The Record-Press:

To the average person, it's unacceptable that the now-famous Bergen, NJ newspaper's picture of those firemen proudly raising the American flag at the former World Trade Center has been brazenly sculptured as three racially diverse men and not the three (happen to be all white) firemen as photographed. The rationale offered was that this white, African-American and Hispanic threesome better represented the diversity of rescuers and victims at the WTC.

But such diversity is diversity in name only because skin color was the chosen yardstick for diversity. That's plain old racial profiling in reverse.

How dare those purveyors of political correctness deny the NYC and Port Authority police, EMS personnel, supervisors, volunteers, clergy, WTC employees, men, women, and dogs representation in this sculpture.

Should diversity remain the theme, simply enlarge the sculpture to include everyone, not a chosen few, by adding more people to this memorial sculpture and keep the original three firemen as photographed.

If diversity is discarded, just rework the three faces to reflect the original picture. After all, it was the raising of the American flag that was the picture's appeal, that was the symbol of America's determination to fight back against terrorism and that was an "in-your-face" gesture to all terrorists.

This memorial sculpture should reflect the tragic event as it happened for this and future generations to ponder and reflect. The race factor in such a memorial is an insult to all victims, their families and all Americans.

$26,000 raised for two charities

To The Chronicle:

Cranford Cares for Kids and Raphael's Life House recently sponsored Chefs du Jour 2002 at The Westwood in Garwood. I would like to take this opportunity to thank all of the restaurants, business, the many generous families who sent us checks and gifts, the many ads, that appeared in our ad journal, by doing so we were able to raffle off 55 wonderful prizes and 35 plants which were donated by Victoria's Florist.

Everyone was extremely generous both in giving and spending their money at our event. We netted over $26,000 which will be shared by both organizations.

A special thank you to The Westwood for allowing us to use their wonderful facility. This was the fifth year we held Chefs du Jour at The Westwood free of charge.

I would like to take this opportunity to also thank the members of Cranford Cares for Kids and Raphael's Life House for their dedication and enthusiasm. Without these wonderful women, we could not accomplish all that we did.

Thank you all very much for once again support these two worthwhile charities.

I wish to highly praise all the Cranford police who responded to our home when we were burglarized on April 24th.

Their timely response, sensitivity and the great bravery of the officers James Wozniak and Robert Merrill in chasing and apprehending the burglar just reaffirms my belief that we are lucky in Cranford to have a terrific police force. Thank you so much.

Senior Scholars program is renewed

SCOTCH PLAINS — The Union County Board of Freeholders has renewed the Senior Scholars program at Union County College for the fall 2002 semester.

More than 5,500 people 60 and older have registered for these free courses since the program began two years ago. Classes are held on the college's campuses in Cranford, Elizabeth, Plainfield and Scotch Plains.

"We developed this program to help enhance the quality of life for our seniors," said Freeholder Chairman Lewis Mingo Jr.

"The Senior Scholars program provides educational benefits as well as a place where seniors can get together, socialize and spend some time with friends," he said.

Courses cover computers, the Internet, yoga, tai chi, "Movement and Meditation" and country-Western line dancing.

"Keeping one's mind active and vital contributes to a longer, happier life," said Freeholder Rick Proctor, a member of the county Advisory Council on Aging.

Also among those who have spoken favorably of the program are Barbara Wirkus, Sylvia Weisbrot and Arlene Blauneiser, all of Kenilworth.

"These classes present a unique opportunity for retired individuals to explore interests that they were unable to during their working years," they wrote in a letter cited in a Union County press release announcing the program's continuation.

"It is gratifying," they wrote, "to live in a community that nurtures its 'seasoned citizens' as well as the arts and continuing education."

A complete Senior Scholars schedule will be issued by the end of August. For more information, phone (908) 709-7600.

Kindly Cranford woman is latest to be bilked

By GREG MARX
THE RECORD-PRESS

CRANFORD — When the phone rang the morning of April 17, the 79-year-old Cranford woman thought she was doing her son a favor. It wasn't until two days later she realized she had been bilked out of thousands of dollars in cash.

She heard her son — at least she thought he was her son — on the line, calling from Iselin, where he had traveled from his home in Florida to conduct a workshop. He said he needed cash immediately to cover an unanticipated expense, and asked to borrow $1,800, promising to repay it when the fees for the workshop came in.

She recalled her promise to help put his daughter through college, and decided $1,800 wasn't enough. Take $4,000, she insisted.

He told her he couldn't get away from the workshop, but friends of his would come by to pick up the cash. He promised they were trustworthy, and the money would get to the right place.

She hurried to the bank, took 40 $100 bills, and put them in an envelope with his name on it. Shortly after noon, a dark-colored sedan pulled up, and an attractive, well-dressed, middle-aged blond woman came to the door to get the money.

"It never occurred to me in a million years" that blond woman was part of a scam that has targeted senior citizens throughout Union County, the Cranford resident said this week.

That realization came two days later, when she called her son to make sure he had received the money. "What money?" he asked.

The woman, who asked not to be identified, is at least the fourth area resident to be victimized by the scam. A Scotch Plains woman and a man and woman in Westfield lost a total of $13,000; there have also been reported attempts in Clark, Kenilworth, and other Union County towns.

Until Monday, Cranford police believed there had been no successful attempts in the township. Fearing embarrassment, the woman did not report the case to police for nearly three weeks. After reading press reports of similar cases, she decided to come forward in the hope her story would help police catch the culprits.

The Cranford case fits the profile of the other cases; an impostor calls a senior citizen, posing as a friend or relative in need. But the victim is perplexed about how the perpetrators learned her son's itinerary — and how they imitated her son's voice.

"It was (his) voice loud and clear as a bell, and I know my son's voice," she said. "I know that voice. I've known it for forty-some-odd years."

Police say they are satisfied the son was not involved, but have no idea who the suspects are or where they are getting their information.

Police departments are sharing intelligence in an effort to crack the case, and local banks are on the alert for sudden withdrawals. For at least one Cranford woman, though, it is too late.

"I don't care if I get the money back," she said. "I just want to see them get caught."

Brearley's football field unlikely to be ready by fall

By GREG MARX
THE RECORD-PRESS

KENILWORTH — David Brearley High School's improved football field may not be ready for play this fall, district administrators said Monday.

The facility, which will soon be getting new sod and new bleachers, may not be completed when football season begins in early September, said Business Administrator Vincent Gonnella.

If the field is not ready, Brearley's varsity team will play its home games at another school's field. Athletic Director Joseph Lafferty said he has begun speaking to Roselle Park about using its field.

Jonathan Dayton High School's field has also been considered, Lafferty said, but will probably not be available either. That field has been closed for environmental testing since last year.

No final decision has been made about whether Brearley's field will be ready, Gonnella said, but at a recent pre-construction meeting, the contractor hired for the job suggested it might be better to wait. "The question is, is the sod going to be in place?"

Gonnella said. "That sod has to take hold and take set." If the sod is played on before it sets, the field could be permanently damaged, he said.

The new bleachers will also not be ready by the start of the season, Gonnella said. Because of the steel shortage, the bleachers should not arrive until September, and take 2-3 weeks to assemble.

The junior varsity and freshmen teams may play their home games at Brearley's soccer field, Lafferty said.

If Roselle Park or another alternate site is chosen, one issue to be worked out is use of the booster stand, Lafferty said he is skeptical the Brearley Booster Club will get permission to use another club's stand.

The Booster Club depends on revenue from the stand to award its scholarships to graduating seniors. But Lafferty said he knows of similar situations in which the host club has controlled use of the stand during both team's games to maximize its revenue.

Work at the field will probably also force June graduation inside, Gonnella said, unless construction begins behind schedule.

Science and Bible topic of discussion

WESTFIELD — A discussion of how science can aid in interpreting the Bible will be at First Congregational Church at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, May 16.

Participants will examine certain biblical passages in light of contemporary scientific understanding and discover new insights into the passages.

Specifically, participants will have the opportunity to look at the Tree of Knowledge in Genesis (Why would God not want humans to eat of the Tree of Knowledge?) and the miracle of Jesus walking on the water (What would people think today if they saw Jesus walking on the water?) The discussion will be led by the Rev. John A. Mills, director of Wisdom' Light, a ministry promoting the positive dialogue between religion and science.

The dialogue will be held in the church basement, at 125 Elmer St. For more information, call (908) 233-2494. More about the Wisdom's Light ministry is available in the Internet at <http://wislit.home.att.net>.

A sampling of artwork by students representing all nine public schools and grades ranging from kindergarten through 12th-grade will be on display at the annual show.

The artwork can be seen from 9 a.m.-4 p.m., and from 7:30-9 p.m. Tuesday and May 15. Visitors are also welcomed from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. May 16.

Paintings, two dimensional work, ceramic, crafts, computerized art and other work of Westfield public school students will be exhibited.

Just call this CHS junior Governor Josh Lasky

By GREG MARX
THE CHRONICLE

CRANFORD — Playing politics is a part of life for many teenagers. But for Cranford High School junior Josh Lasky, the politics are of the electoral, not the personal, variety.

Josh, a member of the school's Youth in Government Club, was elected secretary of state/rising governor at the statewide Youth in Government conference in Trenton March 21-23. The honor was the latest political accomplishment for Lasky, who has already been to South Africa as a student delegate to the United Nations' World Conference Against Racism and spoken before a U.N. committee on youth.

Josh laid the foundation for his latest accomplishment with a Jan. 27 debate against five other candidates, in which he stressed improving education (expanding the world history and current events curriculums), transportation (his father has been deluged by erroneous E-Z Pass bills), and the environment (preserving the Pinelands). After winning the election early in the March conference, he spent the rest of the weekend serving on the "cabinet," debating bills passed by the youth legislature.

He was even sworn in by Secretary of State Regina L. Thomas as acting secretary, and with Gov. James E. McGreevey out of the state for the day, he said, "I was actually acting in the position of governor." Fortunately — or perhaps unfortunately — there were no crises that required immediate gubernatorial attention; ironically, one of the bills the students proposed was to create a lieutenant-governor position for just such occasions.

The experience was perhaps most enlightening, Josh said, when a McGreevey aide sat down with the cabinet to give them a lesson on behind-the-scenes politics. "He gave us some real good insight into the real (issues)," Josh said. "There were a lot of truths I found out that were kind of disturbing... a lot of wasteful spending, to put it politely."

But not disillusioned, he remains focused on a career in public service, though he hasn't decided yet whether to concentrate on international or domestic issues. In fact, though he spent much of his time in South Africa being asked to defend American foreign policy, Josh said local politics may be a tougher job. "Locally, you're definitely held a lot more accountable for you actions. You deal with real people," he said.

He should have plenty of opportunities over the next year to help him decide. After attending two Youth in Government conferences in the coming months and studying international relations this summer, Josh will return to Trenton next spring as youth governor.

Let's Ask Jill
by Jill Guzman

SCHOOLED IN THE FACTS

Unless you are interested in buying a home in a retirement community or a vacation area, it pays to investigate the quality of the local schools. Even if you do not have children, it is quite possible that you are going to eventually sell your home to people with a vested interest in good schools. Quality schooling is one of the top criteria by which buyers evaluate homes and neighborhoods. Usually, homes in areas of good schools sell for higher prices than similar homes elsewhere. Buyers are encouraged to discuss this matter with real estate agents and contact the local school board to investigate how much is spent on each pupil, SAT scores, and what percentage of students enter college.

Your real estate professional will be a virtual font of information about the schools, taxes, cultural attractions, and recreational facilities in communities that make one area or neighborhood preferable to another. These assets will be reflected in the asking price of the homes, so you will need to know about them to be able to make reasonable comparisons. For an experienced real estate professional when you're ready to buy or sell, call JILL GUZMAN REALTY: "Our best reference is your neighbor."

Jill Guzman has achieved the ultimate distinction of being among the TOP 1% of more than (approx.) 7,040 Active Real Estate Professionals by units of listings sold in the year 2000!

HINT: Sellers should take the time to talk with prospective neighbors and other people in the surrounding area to get a realistic picture of what life is like in the community.

Westfield Squad named tops in N.J.

WESTFIELD — The Westfield Volunteer Rescue Squad has been named the Emergency Medical Services (EMS) Volunteer Service of the Year by the State of New Jersey's Department of Health and Senior Services. The squad will receive the award at the EMS awards dinner on May 20.

"We are honored to have been chosen from among squads around the state," said Capt. Miki Urso. "Our members have shown dedication and professionalism. They are truly deserving of this award."

"Our members have shown dedication and professionalism. They are truly deserving of this award."

—Capt. Miki Urso

The award honors an EMS service staffed by volunteers, which has assumed a leadership role in EMS by achievement in areas of patient care, public access to EMS, disaster preparedness, public education and/or training in New Jersey.

The service maintains a positive relationship with the communities it serves and has taken meaningful and visible steps to assure the professionalism of its personnel and its quality of patient care. In addition, the service has taken steps to improve these areas (e.g., response times, quality improvement programs, continuing education) in the past two to three years.

Nominations were judged by a panel of members composed of the New Jersey EMS Council and members of the Office of Emergency Services staff.

The rescue squad has been working with the Westfield Fire Department for more than two years in order to provide better patient care.

The fire department has two Emergency Medical Technicians (EMT) on each platoon and assists the squad with calls when they are needed, such as when the duty crew is on a call and a back up crew is needed.

The Westfield Rescue Squad is one of more than 500 volunteer squads in the state, but they are one of the few in-house squads in the state. Crews pull their duty from the building, which is located just off the South Avenue Circle. Allowing for faster response times to sick and injured residents.

The members of the rescue squad also receive a lot of training. Most recently, members underwent training for new CPR standards that were issued last year, multiple courses in Weapons of Mass Destruction, Summer Emergencies, Advanced Pediatric Training, and an update of their core EMT skills.

"We spend a lot of time on training," Urso said. "A part of this award goes to our training lieutenant who works hard to keep us up to date on all the new skills."

Send tax-deductible contributions to the Westfield Volunteer Rescue Squad, P.O. Box 356 Westfield, NJ 07091.

Jack and Jill race slated June 15

WESTFIELD — The sixth Annual Jill and Jack 5K Road Race to benefit The Education Fund of Westfield will be held Saturday, June 15, at Kehler Stadium on Rahway Avenue.

The public is invited to participate in any of four different events planned for that day.

The Jill and Jack 5K race features the 2002 Women's Games Championship at 8:30 a.m. Prize money will be awarded to the first three finishers.

First prize is $100, second prize $50, and third prize $25. The race is sanctioned by USA Track and Field and is a USATF-NJ 500 Point Grand Prix Event through flat residential streets and Tamaques Park.

The Square Mile Road Race, which begins at 9:20 a.m., will be run on residential streets.

The Jack and Jill Bucket Race at 9:50 a.m. will consist of co-ed teams running 600 yards with a bucket of water on the Kehler Stadium track.

The new activity this year is the Kids' Games for all children grades K through 8. Participants will have the opportunity to compete in running, jumping and throwing contests.

These activities begin at 11 a.m. All Jill and Jack event participants and volunteers will be treated to a wide array of amenities including post-race refreshments, the Jill and Jack T-shirt, special gifts, awards, DJ entertainment and random prize drawings.

The grand prize drawing is for two $300 air travel certificates.

The Education Fund will host the day's events which traditionally draw more than 500 competitors for the Jill and Jack 5K road race and its companion events: the Square Mile, the Jack and Jill Bucket Race and the inaugural Kids' Games.

Participants and spectators will have the opportunity to enjoy the "something for everyone" events that will follow the conclusion of the races.

On Your Mark Productions and Sports Action/Reaction are directing and managing the event.

Pre-registration fees for the events: 5K - $15; Square Mile - $10; Bucket Race - $10 per team; and Kids Games - $7.

The proceeds will enable The Education Fund of Westfield to provide resources to enhance the programs for students of the Westfield public schools.

The nonprofit organization provides an on-going, centralized source of additional funds and resources to assist the public schools in maintaining and enhancing the quality of education in Westfield.

Miscues cost Raiders, Blue Devils advance

By DANIEL MURPHY
RECORD-PRESS

CRANFORD — In single-elimination tournament play one mistake can often be the difference between moving on and going home.

In the first round of the Union County Tournament Saturday the Cranford High baseball team took advantage of a bevy of errors and miscues by Scotch Plains-Fanwood to advance to the quarterfinal round with a 12-2 victory.

Cranford will face Plainfield 2 p.m. Saturday in a rematch of last year's tournament final after the Cardinals upset third-seeded Summit 7-2. The Cougars defeated Plainfield 7-5 May 1.

The Raiders committed five errors on the day, the most costly of which allowed Cranford to score five unearned runs with two out in the second inning, turning what should have been a 1-1 tie after two innings into a 6-1 Cranford lead.

Cranford starter Derrick

Zulick made sure the Raiders couldn't fight out of the hole they dug themselves, allowing just two hits and one unearned run over the final four innings to earn the win.

Of Cranford's 12 runs, eight were unearned. Jim Zamorski walked home a run in the first and was credited with his second RBI in the fourth when Matt Wilson was batted home. Zack Bribiesca singled home a run in the fifth. Jamaar Ingram drove home a run on a fielder's choice and scored three times for Cranford.

"They gave us an opportunity and we were fortunate enough to be able to take advantage of it," said Cranford Head Coach Dennis McCaffery. "(Zulick) threw strikes and was able to have command of several pitches and was able to pitch well for us today."

Scotch Plains got on the board in the top of the first on a double by Jeff Hensal and a two out single by Marcus Dockery. Ingram tied the game in the bottom of the frame by singling, reaching second on a sac bunt, third on a balk and scoring when Zamorski walked with the bases loaded.

After retiring the first two batters of the second inning, Scotch Plains starter Dave Senatore got himself in trouble and his defense was unable to bail him out. He walked Ingram, Zulick and Dave Drechsel to load the bases then Wilson lifted a high pop to shallow right that fell in when Hensal fell down while backpeddling, allowing two runs to score and opening the floodgates for a five run inning.

"It's a game of momentum and they got the momentum today and kept going with it. You make a few errors and walk a few and it compounds and it's tough to win when you're playing like that," said Scotch Plains Head Coach Brian Houma. "Hopefully we can turn it around and eliminate some of the mistakes, get

Devil boys and girls take second at county relays

By DANIEL MURPHY
RECORD-PRESS

ELIZABETH — Scotch Plains-Fanwood High's reign as both boys and girls Union County Relay champs ended Monday, and Westfield was nearly the team to do it in both meets.

Westfield fell 11 points shy of Union for the boys title 80-69 — with Scotch Plains finishing seventh with 28 points — and 14 points short of Elizabeth for the girls title 64-50, with the Raiders third with 45 points.

The Westfield boys squad could have won the team title, but its long jumpers fouled five times and were unable to place in an event it was favored to win. The Blue Devils girls team led for part of the meet, but Elizabeth's three record setting performances in the field events were too much to overcome.

"I'm happy because I thought we had a great performance," said Westfield Head Coach Jack Martin. "If some things had gone our way we could have won but I think we did well as a team. Other than the disappointment in the long jump it was a pretty good day for the Devils."

The Westfield boys won the 4x400 (Richard Miller, Alexis Gonzalez, Earl Lambert, Diano Reavis) in 3:25.3, team high jump (Lambert, Gonzalez, Adam Wendel) at 17 feet 8 inches, and team pole vault (Mike Gorski, Joe Hubbard) at 22 feet.

Westfield had some of the best depth of any team, placing in 11 of the 15 events. It also took a second in the 4x800 (8:16.5), third in the 4x200 (1:30.9), 4x100 (43.7), distance medley (11:26.1), and javelin (393-1), fourth in the discus (361-10), fifth in the intermediate hurdles (3:02.8) and sixth in the 4x1600 (20:00.9).

Gonzalez had a very strong day, high jumping 5 foot 9, splitting 2:03.9 in the 4x800, 50.7 in the 4x400 and running the third leg of the 4x100. Overall he contributed to 34 points. Lambert also high jumped (5-6) split 50.4 in the 4x400, 59.3 in the intermediate hurdles and 22.7 in the 4x200.

Scotch Plains didn't win an event, but took seconds in the 4x1600 (19:23.8), distance medley (10:47.6) and team long jump (59-8 1/2), fifth in the javelin (380-9), and sixth in the discus (338-7) and sprint medley (3:52.5).

The Westfield girls squad also relied on its depth, placing in nine of the 14 events. Robyn Jeffries, Laura Pietruszki, Annie Onishi and Emily MacNeil won the sprint medley in 4:21.9 for the squads only victory.

The Devils also took second in the distance medley (13:19.1), and shuttle hurdles (1:09.9), third in the 4x800 (10:31.6), fourth in the 4x400 (4:15.3), 4x100 (52.3), 4x1600 (24:00), and long jump (43-1 1/2), and fifth in the 4x200 (4:15.3).

The Scotch Plains quartet of Rachel Jones, Aja Bundy, Lauren Perrotta and Jill Kosciulecki won the 4x400 in 4:02.9 as the Raiders also placed in nine events. They took second in the 4x200 (1:46.4), third in the sprint medley (4:27.7), long jump (45-2) and discus (274-5), fourth in the distance medley (13:39.2), fifth in the 4x800 (10:36.9) and shot put (88-5) and sixth in the 4x1600 (24:08.5).

Both Scotch Plains squads were plagued by injury as Jayme Ferraro, a versatile athlete and a two-time sectional champ in the intermediate hurdles was unable to compete due to a strained hamstring. Chris Feighner, the best shot put and discus thrower in the county was out with a back injury, and Ray Williams had to pull out of a couple of events with tightness in his hamstring. All are expected to be competing in the Watchung Conference Championships which was scheduled to begin yesterday.

"Sometimes things go wrong and when it rains it pours," said Scotch Plains coach Jeff Koegel. "For the boys the goal was to load up in a few events and try to win those events. When you lose two of your three studs it's not going to work out to well.

"(Ferraro's) our top point scorer. We couldn't make up for the loss of her in the hurdles and high jump."

Koegel expects all three to be back in the fold for the Watchung Conference Championships. The meet was scheduled to start yesterday and conclude this afternoon. Saturday has been reserved as a rain date.

Summit still at the top

Westfield takes second in UCT, Scotch Plains sixth

By DANIEL MURPHY
RECORD-PRESS

Before the Union County Tennis Tournament even started, everyone knew the team championship would come down to the head-to-head duals between Summit and Westfield.

By winning three of the four meeting with the Blue Devils and capturing three flight championships Summit won its fourth consecutive Union County Tournament with 88 points, while Westfield finished second with 76. Johnson was third (50), Governor Livingston fourth (41), Dayton fifth (39) and Scotch Plains was sixth (24).

The two squads now turn their attention to the state team tournament. Westfield garnered the second seed in North Jersey Section 2 Group 4 and will face Plainfield Tuesday. The winner faces the Columbia-Union winner Thursday. The sectional final is slated for May 21.

Scotch Plains is seeded second in North 2 Group 3, and will face Nutley Thursday, with the winner meeting the Millburn-Parsippany Hills/Cranford winner in the final May 21.

Westfield swept into the second day of the county tournament, advancing all five flights into the semifinal round and started Monday's session strong by advancing four to the final. The only hiccup was Griffin Maloney's loss at first singles to eventual champ Frank Geiger of Governor Livingston 7-5, 6-3.

Rich Moran won the only head-to-head semifinal battle with Summit, rallying to knock off Will Sehnert 5-7, 7-6 (7-5), 7-5 at second singles. Dave Eisenberg advanced at third singles with a 7-5, 6-2 victory over Adam Cohen of Dayton; Shaun Simone and Ryan Miller reached the final at first doubles with a 7-5, 6-4 win over Governor Livingston and Devin Power and Doug Shineman moved on with a 6-2, 6-0 win at second doubles over Johnson.

But the momentum stopped there. In the finals Westfield squared off with Summit three times, and dropped all three matches.

Eisenberg fell to Don Richards in a thrilling final 4-6, 6-4, 7-6 (8-6). Simon and Miller dropped a 6-1, 7-6 (7-2) decision to Summit's Alex Uy and Roshan Varma and Power and Shineman fell 6-1, 6-4 to Neel Gehani and Rafael Roberti to complete Summit's sweep of Westfield.

Moran dropped a 6-0, 6-1 final to Johnson's Mike Klimchak while Summit's Steen Sehnert fell 6-1, 6-2 in the first singles final.

For the Raiders, Josh Sanders reached the third singles semifinals, falling to Richards 6-1, 6-0 and Jesse Rogowsky and Simon Poplyanski reached the second doubles semis, before falling to Summit 6-0, 7-5.

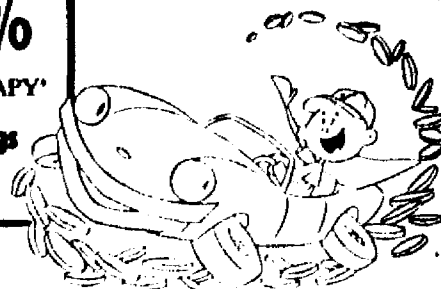

GEORGE PACCIOELLO/RECORD-PRESS

Rich Moran finished second at second singles but Westfield couldn't topple Summit for the county crown.

MacDonald, Wagner lead Blue Devils into quarters

Caitlin MacDonald dominated in the circle while Rachel Wagner and Jessica Guerriero led the offense to propel Westfield into the Union County Tournament quarterfinals with a 10-0 win over Roselle Saturday.

MacDonald tossed a five-inning no-hitter, her second no-hitter in four days, while striking out 10 and walking two. Wagner doubled in three runs and Guerriero added a two-run double to provide all the run support MacDonald would need.

Westfield, the top seed in the tournament, will take on eighth-seeded Union Catholic in the quarterfinals tomorrow. Union Catholic defeated the Devils in the quarters last year.

Kearny 4, Westfield 1 — Caitlin MacDonald was 2-for-3 with a triple and a run for Westfield but the Devils fell to Kearny Monday 4-1.

Westfield 7, Elizabeth 1 — Caitlin MacDonald tossed a no-hitter and struck out 11 as Westfield pounded out 14 hits in a 7-1 win over Elizabeth May 1.

Megan Reddington was 3-for-4 and scored a run for the Raiders.

Scotch Plains 22, East Side 1 — Jodi Fiorino was 4-for-5 with four RBI and Megan Reddington scored four times to lead the Raiders' 22-1 romp of East Side Monday.

YOUTH SPORTS

BASEBALL

The Westfield International League completed its third week of play. The White Sox remained at the top of the standings by extending their record to 6-1 in defeating the Orioles 14-7 and the Blue Jays 5-1.

The win over the Blue Jays was keyed by the continued strong pitching of John Levdy and John Antokas. A leadoff double by Alex Fruchman in the bottom of the 4th began a four run inning that broke open a tight game for the Sox. For the Blue Jays, the game highlight was a rare 1-2-3 double play with no outs and the bases loaded, from Tony Dilorio to Michael Clark to Kiran Patankar. The Jays also got strong pitching from Dilorio. Matt Monaghan and Tommy McManus.

In another game, the Mets handed the Indians their first loss of the season by a score of 10-5. Kyle Hayden and Phil Queller turned in strong outings on the mound for the Mets, and Hayden, Queller, Chris Graf and Scott Perry all collected hits. David Warner and Eric Rasmussen each scored twice.

Other games saw the Athletics defeat the Braves 14-0 and the Blue Jays 17-6, the Indians picking up victories 8-4 over the Dodgers and 5-1 over the Cardinals, the Yankees beating the Mets 11-6 and tying the Diamondbacks 7-7, the Braves 16-4 over the Dodgers and the Dodgers 6-1 over the Red Sox, the Marlins 13-4 over the Diamondbacks, and the Red Sox defeating the Angels 6-0.

Power continue surge

Throughout the season, the Scotch Plains Power U12 girls soccer team has fought through adversity and summoned up the resolve to be successful. Saturday, May 4 tested even their mettle but the Power managed to survive a game and determined Cranford Chaos team to score a 1-0 win and up their record to 4-1-1, including five shutouts. With an injury to one player and three other players away on a Girl Scout trip the team was reduced to 11 players who all had to play the entire game on a warm spring afternoon.

Making things even more challenging was the unavailability of their brilliant goalie Allie Thek, who could not play goal due to a broken finger. The goalie duties were shared by Jessica Santos, Nicole Colner and Mary Henkels. Colner, showed her versatility by scoring the game's lone goal ten minutes into the second half off a wild scramble in front of the goal. After that the defense of Jaclyn Lazarus, Maria Rivero, Lindsay Traiman and Henkels turned back some determined Cranford counterattacks.

The midfield of Colner, Caitlin Daly, Danielle Wood and Santos worked hard to create chances and gave the Power a decided territorial advantage. Were it not for excellent goal-tending and a little bad luck, Diana Cacedo would have had a beautiful goal in the second half. She sparked at right forward and teamed well with Thek and Kristen Lambertson.

Galaxy Split Pair

The Westfield Galaxy U-9 boys soccer team opened the week with a 2-1 victory over Scotch Plains in a rain drenched match. The Galaxy was paced by goals from Heema Khedher and Dan Elades.

As usual, the Galaxy defense was led by the steady play of Steven Korn, Brian Monteiro, Jeremy Lin, and Jacob Walker. Robert Bunting, Bryan Reilly, Ben Kraus, and J.P. Githens were solid in the midfield for Westfield, which extended a winning streak to two with the win.

But by weeks end the Galaxy streak was finished by an 8-3 loss to Summit. The Galaxy, playing without its star left winger, Evan Gingrich, could not respond to four unanswered second half goals by Summit. On the bright side for the Galaxy were goals by Khedher, his second in as many games, and by Elades, who tallied for the seventh consecutive game.

Jacob Walker scored the final Galaxy goal on a blast from outside of the penalty area. Robert Bunting had a strong first half in goal, turning away several Summit chances with spectacular saves, while Reilly, Korn, Monteiro, Lin, and Kraus had several good opportunities for Westfield late in the contest.

BASEBALL REGISTRATION

The Union County Baseball Association invites young baseball players — boys and girls — ages 4 to 15 to register for its Summer 2002 Youth League baseball teams. Sign-ups for the summer league will be held at the Wannanock Park Boat House in Roselle on five Saturdays, beginning May 11 and continuing May 18, June 1, June 8 and June 15 from 9 a.m. to noon each day.

Each player is required to bring a $25 registration fee and birth certificate to the sign-up. Players must be at least 8 years old by June 25 and cannot be 16 before August 2. A new feature this year is a skill level evaluation at the time of registration, so all players must bring a glove when they show up to register. This is not a try-out or draft — all those who register will participate in play.

The Summer Youth League is divided into three divisions: a Teen League for 13, 14 and 15-year-olds; a Major League for 11 and 12-year-olds; and a Minor League for 8, 9 and 10-year-old players. The Summer League plays from June 24 through Aug. 1. There will be no refunds after Team Assignment Day, June 24.

SHOOTING CAMP

The 14th annual John Somogyi Shooting Camp, co-directed by state championship coaches Noel Horne and John Somogyi, will be held for two days at Rutgers Prep in Somerset, N.J. during the weekend of June 15. Somogyi, who once held the state's boys' career scoring record of 3,310 points and held the all-time national high school foul shooting record for the most free throws made in a career (1,034) amassed a career coaching record of 275-111 while at St. Peter's, St. Joseph's, Madison Central and McConrison high schools. Horne accumulated a 290-135 record while winning two state titles at Westfield and Union Catholic high schools.

The camp, which is open to boys and girls ages 9-17, will include two three-and-a-half hour sessions that will enable players to improve on their shooting techniques and give them individual and partner drills for further practice. Each player will have his/her shot videotaped and analyzed during this two day period.

For further information and an application call Somogyi at (732) 846-8928. Register early, last year's camp was filled by June 1st.

some better pitching and turn it around."

The Raiders scored their second run in the fifth when Kevin Urban reached on an error, moved to second on wild pitch and scored on a single by Chris D'Annunzio.

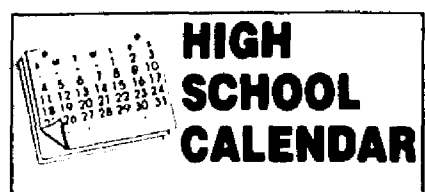

WESTFIELD ADVANCES
Westfield scored eight times in the sixth inning to end its contest with Governor Livingston early and advance to the quarterfinals with a 12-2 win. Brian Butts drove in three runs, Manny Guasp was 2-for-3 with a two-run triple and Mike Sofka had two RBI.

Jay Cook scattered four hits to improve to 4-0 on the season.

The second-seeded Devils now host seventh-seeded Brearley 11 a.m. tomorrow. The Bears (9-1) advanced with a 10-0 drubbing of Roselle Catholic Saturday. The two squads — who both returned most of last year's squad — met in last season's first round, with the Devils earning a 12-4 victory, providing Westfield a little extra confidence.

"That should help us a lot," said Westfield Head Coach Bob Brewster. "The two teams know each other pretty well. It should be a nice ball game."

"I know they are very well schooled. They can hit the ball and have beat some good teams. It's going to be a tough ball game. We have to play well to beat them. They're a team we respect. They're not 9-1 for no reason."

Real Estate

Consumers want more than promises from Realtors

BY JAMES M. WOODARD
COPLEY NEWS SERVICE

When shopping for a house, today's consumers want more from a real estate agent than promises and claims. They want and demand personalized, professional service in the truest sense. That's the gist of a study and report recently issued by the National Association of Realtors. The report lists several specific areas that are particularly important to today's consumer.

When selecting a real estate agent help in finding and purchasing a home, consumers want someone who really takes the time and effort to learn and understand the buyer's needs and desires. This type of service is especially important for first-time home buyers. They need to be guided through each phase of the buying and transaction closing process.

It's also extremely important to both home buyers and sellers to find and work with an agent they can trust. It usually comes down to how involved the agent becomes in understanding a customer's needs and how dedicated he is in rendering productive service. When a real estate agent fails to build trust, it's usually because he lacks interest, is lazy or inexperienced, or lacks knowledge about the local community, according to the NAR report.

Another key demand of today's home-seeker is to work with a broker who not only knows the market, but is willing and capable of making the effort to research the market and find the very best property for his client. This seems obvious, but one of the most frequent complaints from buyers is that their agent did not make that effort.

Consumers want knowledgeable, professional service, but they also want "breathing room," it was noted in the NAR report. They want advice and recommendations from their real estate agent, but they also want space to make their own decisions and not be pressured into quick decisions.

Finally, consumers want a real estate agent who has strategic connections. They want their real estate professional to provide guidance and expertise, but also to have a strong circle of reliable resources. They should have a network of contacts, both within and outside of their brokerage organization, which can enhance the effectiveness of their overall service. This is especially important when the consumer is relocating from one city to another.

Many of these consumer preferences when selecting a real estate agent have remained unchanged over the years. But the difference now is the increasing importance of these requirements in today's marketplace.

Finding and financing the best possible home for a client is more complex today than ever before. Prices are high, and there has never before been so many varied mortgage plans to choose from. Competent, professional brokerage service has never been more important.

Q. What's causing the current flurry in home buying and mortgage applications?

A. One key factor in today's market: As more home buyers anticipate an inevitable increase in mortgage interest rates, they are becoming more motivated to purchase and finance a home now, or refinance their existing mortgage. This factor is spiking up real estate purchase and mortgage transactions.

At this writing, purchase activity is reaching the highest level since last January, according to a report from The Meyers Group, a real estate research and consulting firm.

Adjustable rate mortgages now constitute about 15 percent of the mortgage market. Last year at this time, ARMs captured 10 percent of the market. That's when mortgage interest rates were about 6.9 percent.

Home purchase activity is now well ahead of last year's pace. That indicates another boom year for the housing industry.

Q. Are vacancy factors reported for commercial real estate usually accurate or is a lot of guess work involved?

A. In most cases it's very accurate. But vacancy figures and percentages for office and industrial properties can sometimes be very deceiving in today's market, according to Harry Preston, a vice president of CB Richard Ellis, a major commercial real estate firm.

"Vacancy figures relate to units that are totally vacant," Preston noted. "But today many firms are cutting back their operations and staff, leaving large chunks of their purchased or leased real estate unused. It just sits there as a vacant portion of their property. And it's not reflected into vacant space calculations."

Q. What's being done about the need for more affordable rental properties?

A. This nation is in desperate need of more affordable rental housing for both low- and moderate-income households. To help provide this need, Congress needs to include a new rental housing production program as part of a comprehensive housing bill now pending in the House of Representatives, according to the National Association of Home Builders.

"We believe the creation of a new rental housing production program that produces 60,000 to 70,000 units annually should be a top housing priority for the Administration in the coming year," said Robert Lawson, a spokesman for NAHB. "This would help meet the affordable housing needs of households with incomes between 60 percent and 100 percent of the area median income — America's working poor."

"There are signs of persistent and worsening housing affordability for this group in all parts of the country. These households are not eligible for housing assistance through most current federal housing programs."

The Ultimate Drive for a good cause

JMK BMW, 391 Route 22 East, Springfield, hosted the sixth Annual Ultimate BMW Drive last Thursday for the benefit of the Susan G. Komen Breast Cancer Foundation. For each mile a BMW is taken for a test drive, BMW will donate $1 to the foundation. Above, Julie Edmonds points out some of the features of a BMW sedan before the test drive by Walter Bailko. Right is a BMW 745i sedan with the signatures of those who participated in the test drive so far around the country.

With gas prices accelerating, it's time to maximize mileage

(ARA) - They're up, they're down, they're back up. Gas prices got you down? If telecommuting and public transportation are not viable options for you, here's some down-to-earth advice from the pros at the non-profit National Institute for Automotive Service Excellence (ASE).

It is important to keep your vehicle properly maintained and change your driving habits so as to maximize your mileage, according to ASE officials. Here's a plan of action from the group that tests and certifies automotive technicians:

Monitor your tires. Under-inflated tires or poorly aligned wheels waste fuel by forcing the engine to work harder. Let the tires cool down before checking the air pressure. Out-of-line wheels, as evidenced by uneven tread wear, should be aligned by a professional.

Consolidate your daily trips and errands. Some trips may be unnecessary. Also, try to travel when traffic is light so you can avoid stop-and-go conditions.

Avoid excessive engine idling. Shut off your vehicle while waiting for friends and family.

Observe speed limits. Speeding decreases your miles per gallon.

Drive gently. Sudden accelerations guzzle gas. Anticipate traffic patterns and adjust your speed gradually. Use cruise control. (You'll help your brakes and suspension system last longer, too.)

Get rid of excess weight by removing unnecessary items from the vehicle. Store only essentials in the trunk. Less weight means better mileage. After family vacations, make sure you remove all unnecessary items, including that roof-top cargo carrier.

Use windows and air conditioning wisely. Your mileage should improve if you keep the windows closed at highway speeds, since air drag is reduced. This is true even with the air conditioning on — assuming that the system is in good working order. If possible, try to avoid using your air conditioner in heavy, stop-and-go traffic such as traffic jams or holiday weekend back-ups.

Be a sensible patriot. Everyone loves the flag. But show your patriotism by affixing a decal rather than hoisting a large flapping U.S. flag, which increases air resistance.

Keep your engine operating at its "peak efficiency." A well-maintained engine will help you maximize the gas mileage for your specific make and model. A misfiring spark plug can greatly reduce gas mileage. Follow the service schedules listed in your owner's manual. Replace filters and fluids as recommended; have engine performance problems (rough idling, poor acceleration, etc.) corrected at a repair facility. Given today's high-tech engines, it's wise to have this type of work done by auto technicians who are ASE certified in engine performance.

These conservation tips will not only save gasoline, they'll help extend the life of your vehicle and help you conserve precious natural resources. Patriotism, indeed.

The National Institute for Automotive Service Excellence (ASE) was founded in 1972 as a non-profit, independent organization dedicated to improving the quality of automotive service and repair through the voluntary testing and certification of automotive technicians. ASE-certified technicians wear blue and white ASE shoulder insignia and carry credentials listing their exact area(s) of certification. Their employers often display the blue and white ASE sign.

Clinton Honda wins Presidents' Award

CLINTON — American Honda has named Clinton Honda the recipient of the coveted Presidents' Award for the year 2001.

This prestigious award is American Honda's highest dealer award and is based on customer responses to manufacturer surveys. It is presented annually only to those Honda dealerships that demonstrate superior sales and service satisfaction.

"We are extremely pleased with our performance," said Jeffrey Osborne, President of Clinton Honda. "Our winning the Presidents' Award simply validates the tremendous efforts of our staff in sales, service and parts, as well as our office personnel. Everyone has played a part in customer satisfaction and I couldn't be more proud."

In a letter from American Honda, Clinton Honda was recognized for setting themselves apart from other dealerships by raising the bar on their performance level expectations, and then exceeding those expectations throughout the year. "This is overwhelmingly satisfying because it comes from our own customers," added Osborne. "They've expressed that their ownership experience has been remarkably satisfying."

Clinton Honda is located on Route 22 West. For more information including dealership hours and directions, call (908) 735-0700.
