Fanwood resident Galen Kildow, 12, rollerblades up the ramp at the skate park on LaGrande Avenue. The borough recently reopened the park.

Skate park on horizon?

By KEVIN B. HOWELL
THE RECORD-PRESS

WESTFIELD — While local skaters sit back and watch the X-games on ABC this summer, they will only be able to imagine attempting the skating tricks themselves.

Unless they illegally use park benches and railings, or travel to Fanwood's LaGrande Avenue park, there is nowhere for the town's skaters to go. But that may change in the coming summers.

The Recreation Commission has discussed plans for building a skate park in town to accommodate local skaters. At the last meeting before their July recess, the commission discussed a park and will address it again at its meeting in August.

"Work on a skate park is a need and a necessity," said Bruce Kaufmann, recreation director.

Though no official action has been taken, and discussions remain at a preliminary stage, Kaufmann said that the commission is considering two sites for the skate park. He declined to specify where the sites are located.

The commission has considered a skate park for a while, and mentioned it in discussions with the finance committee earlier this year. The commission has done preliminary estimates on designing a park that would accommodate skateboarders, inline skaters and trail bikes.

Kaufmann said he has attended programs and seminars about skate parks for the last five years and would be able to provide some direction for the commission if they choose to

Army Corps, DEP to study Rahway River watershed

By KEVIN B. HOWELL
THE RECORD-PRESS

Federal and county officials visited various wetlands Tuesday as the initial phase of a feasibility study by the Army Corps of Engineers to control flooding in the area. The project looks to control flooding in the 81 sq. mi. watershed of the Rahway River that has been hit repeatedly in the last 25 years, most severely from Hurricane Floyd in 1998 when Cranford and other communities experienced significant property damage.

The Army Corps, Department of Environmental Protection (DEP) and county engineers are collecting data on the watershed from the river's headwaters in Essex County to its mouth at the Raritan Bay. The study is part of a $6.4 million project funded equally by federal and state governments. Federal funds were allocated in 1999, but the project was delayed until state funds were appropriated in March.

"Given that rescue crews were needed in 1999 to rescue families from floodwaters in Union County, this is a very serious issue for our county," said Lewis Mingo Jr., county freeholder chairman. "We're pleased that this will be a priority for the Army Corps of Engineer and the State of New Jersey."

Union members unhappy with work at Scotch Plains-Fanwood High School brought along a huge inflatable rat to show just what they think about the contractor chosen for the project.

Union members protest contractor at SP-F High School

By KEVIN B. HOWELL
THE RECORD-PRESS

WESTFIELD — People driving past Scotch Plains-Fanwood High School on Westfield Road this past week probably noticed an over-sized inflatable rat sitting at the front of the property. The attention-getting prop was part of a protest by union workers opposing a contractor hired by the Board of Education for asbestos removal.

D&S Abatement, located in Totowa, won the bid to remove asbestos from a section of a second floor wing at the high school. Members of the Laborers International Union of North America (LIUNA) Local 1030 oppose a non-union contractor performing the work and claim that D&S has a history of violating Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) safety regulations.

"A rat is not a pleasurable thing and we view this contractor as not pleasurable," said Alexander McDonald Jr., one of the Local 1030 members protesting. "Our view of this contractor is that he's a rat."

McDonald and two other union members, Juan Rodriguez and George Nodernell, were handing out flyers informing people driving by and employees entering and leaving the school about their stance on the asbestos removal contractor.

In bold print and underlined, the flyers said that D&S Abatement has a history of violating OSHA regulations. However, a OSHA data search found no records of D&S violations as of March 2002.

"People believe rumors. We follow everything according to law. If not we wouldn't have a license," a D&S representative said.

Work on a 55,000 sq. ft. addition to Westfield High School is proceeding on schedule, district officials said. This three-story addition should be complete by next spring.

High school work on schedule

By KEVIN B. HOWELL
THE RECORD-PRESS

WESTFIELD — Construction on additions to Westfield High School is on schedule and parts of the project will be complete by September, said Board of Education Business Administrator Robert Berman. The construction has continued through the summer and a portion of it will be completed by the start of school.

The largest addition will be a 55,000 sq. ft. addition to the Trinity Place side of the high school. The three-story structure, to be completed by April 2003, will include 17 classrooms, mainly for science classes.

After students move into the new classrooms, renovations will begin to transform the existing science classrooms into regular rooms, Berman said.

Construction that will be completed by September includes a storage structure next to the gymnasium, two two-story structures in the courtyard and renovation to the home economics classroom.

One of the courtyard structures includes a student lounge on the first floor and an art room above it. The other will have a conference room for the Guidance Department and a faculty workroom on the second floor. The home economics room, which is over 50 years old, will be upgraded to current standards, Berman said.

Many new stores coming to Westfield

WESTFIELD — As downtown continues to grow and construction plans enhance the landscape, new storefronts add shopping variety for the summer and upcoming months.

Businesses that have recently opened include Cingular Wireless on Central Avenue; Many Clever Hands, a crafts, gifts and floral store on Prospect Street; TakeGoodCare, a health store on North Avenue; Xocolatz, a gourmet café on Elm Street; the Green Room flower shop on Elm Street; and Health in Motion on Rahway Avenue, which specializes in acupuncture, reflexology and physical therapy.

Businesses that will be coming soon include JetLife, a sun spa coming to East Broad Street in August; The Great Harvest Bread Co. opening in August on North Avenue; The Children's Place, a national children's clothing chain coming this fall to East Broad Street; Planet Smoothie on Elm Street; The Dharma Center for Healing Arts, specializing in message therapy, reflexology, reiki, meditation guidance and psychotherapy, on Lenox Avenue; Westfield Tanning Spa, also on Lenox Avenue; and Studio K, a nail and beauty salon opening on South Avenue West, formerly the location of Creative Concepts.

In addition, Not Just Bagels will be reopening at 70 Elm St., the former location of Café Java. HobbyTown USA has closed and another retailer will open at the 141 East Broad Street location in the future.

The Reeve home at 314 Mountain Ave. may be used as a museum and office space for the Westfield Historical Society. The house, given to the town by the Reeve family, will have to be renovated to meet current zoning standards for public use.

Restoring Reeve house to be a challenging project

By KEVIN B. HOWELL

THE RECORD-PRESS

WESTFIELD — Before the Historical Society can make a decision on the Reeve house it has to know the answers to three questions: What has to be done? How much will it cost? Can they afford it?

The Reeve house is a 19th century, three-story Italianate-style home at 314 Mountain Ave. Edgar and Ralph Reeve deeded the house to the town in 1985, and since Edgar's death last December at the age of 100, the town had been exploring what to do with the home.

The town has decided to allow the Historical Society to use the home; however, the house needs many improvements.

According to Bud Boothe, director of the Historical Society, the house will be used as a museum and office space for the society. He said that many people agree that the house is in good condition for its age, but it still must meet the necessary standards for public use.

"It's a very challenging project," Boothe said. "It's complicated because we're changing a 125-year residence into a public building. We have to figure out how to reach the necessary criteria."

According to estimates from architects last winter, the renovations will cost from $400,000 to $500,000. The home is still undergoing estimates and Boothe expects the information to be available by the Historical Society's meeting in September. Then, the group will decide whether or not to take on the restoration project. Any project will also have to have approval from the town before work begins.

The house was built in 1870, and the Reeve family began living there in the early 20th century.

Streetscape work continues downtown

By KEVIN HOWELL

THE RECORD-PRESS

WESTFIELD — Construction should be completed on Central Avenue soon, but crews will be moving to other locations in the downtown as streetscape improvements continue, town officials said this week.

Since April 15, construction teams have been digging up various locations as a part of the Downtown Improvement Plan, which was prepared two years ago. The improvements are funded by a $450,000 Union County grant.

The project is about 25 percent complete and should be finished by early September, said Sherry Cronin, executive director of the Downtown Westfield Corp. Construction teams are working on a full-width sidewalk and new curb on Central Avenue, between North and South avenues.

Crews have been closing one lane of traffic on Central from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. during the project. "So far it hasn't created any problems," said Kris McAloon, assistant town engineer.

McAloon said guidelines were established with the contractor early to ensure that the work did not disrupt traffic. The town wanted to avoid traffic problems it had when it paved Central Avenue last year, he said.

The Central Avenue construction should be complete in the next two weeks, McAloon said. After that, new brick crosswalk construction will begin at Elm and East Broad streets and at South Avenue and Boulevard. The areas will also get landscape improvements and ornamental lighting.

Also remaining are improvements around the Rialto Theater. These include brick crosswalks, new bicycles racks that will have the Westfield "W" on them, wall lamps and landscaping improvements.

District suspends teacher accused of sexual misconduct

By KEVIN B. HOWELL

THE RECORD-PRESS

SCOTCH PLAINS — A substitute teacher who was charged with third-degree aggravated criminal sexual contact has been suspended by the Board of Education.

Last month, Brian P. McDevitt of Westfield turned himself in to Scotch Plains Police after a 15-year old student alleged he inappropriately touched her during in-home tutoring sessions. McDevitt was charged with third degree aggravated sexual contact.

District officials would not specify how long the suspension will be in place.

In the district, officials said, substitute teachers are used to tutor students at their homes if students can not attend school for medical or disciplinary reasons. Substitute teachers are approved by the Board of Education and are eligible to do home tutoring.

According to Union County Prosecutor's Office, there has been no recent activity in the case. The charge can carry a penalty of three to five years.

Woman charged with drug possession

WESTFIELD

Linda D. Chandler, alias Linda Adams, of 525 Livingston St., Elizabeth was charged July 16 with possession of heroin and drug paraphernalia.

Chandler was also picked up on contempt of court warrants from Elizabeth, Garwood, Union and Maplewood.

A Scotch Plains resident reported being assaulted awhile on North Avenue on July 15.

On July 15, there was a report of criminal mischief at Jefferson School. Five windows were damaged on the northeast and south-east sides of the school.

A karaoke machine was stolen from Party Shop in the 900 block of South Avenue West on July 16. The machine was valued at $1,000.

A $500 home entertainment center was reported stolen from a residence in the 200 block of Ross Place on July 16.

Construction work on pace at SP-F schools

By KEVIN B. HOWELL

THE RECORD-PRESS

SCOTCH PLAINS — Construction is on schedule for all schools at in the Scotch Plains-Fanwood school district, and most improvements will be complete by the start of school, district officials said.

The $35.7 million project that started in September 2000 will be complete this fall, according to Anthony Del Sordi, business administrator for the Board of Education. At six schools, work is ongoing or has been completed.

Work that will be done in September includes a new multipurpose room and first floor renovation to School One. Park Middle School's second floor renovation is almost complete, while asbestos removal will continue into September.

The multipurpose rooms at Coles and Evergreens schools will be finished by September, but McGinn and Brunner's rooms will not be complete until October. Coles is also having four new classrooms constructed.

At the high school, window replacements and second-floor asbestos removal and floor tile replacements should be complete by the start of the school year. Construction of a second-floor wing and elevators are on schedule as well.

Borough awaits downtown bids

FANWOOD — The borough of Fanwood is getting closer to seeing a new downtown as bids for the downtown development plan are scheduled to be in by Aug. 30.

The mayor and Borough Council adopted the Downtown Redevelopment plan in March and are waiting on bids to get started. The focus of the plan includes a number of proposed two- and three-story buildings along South and Martine avenues.

The plan passed with a 4-2 vote in March, although it faced some resistance from residents concerned about property density and increased traffic.

Some council members also expressed concern about the possibility of eminent domain powers, but, Mayor Louis Jung said they were unlikely to be used.

In golden years, these artists still win gold

Some people won't let their age stop them from doing what they love. That's the case for winners of the Union County Senior Art Contest and Exhibition, which showcases the talents of professional and non-professional senior artists from Union County.

The exhibition was administered by the county Division of Cultural and Heritage Affairs and the Division on Aging, and funded in part by a grant from the NJ State Council on the Arts. The contest consisted of 11 categories, including acrylics, crafts, drawings, mixed media, pastel, photography, watercolor and sculpture.

Several local residents took prizes in the contest, including Rose Gelfman of Westfield, who received first place in the non-professional acrylic category for her "Self-Portrait." Gelfman began painting just one year ago.

Other local non-professional winners included George Hodges of Scotch Plains, second in photography for "Bronx Day Lily," and Westfield resident Matilda Reitman, who took third in watercolor for "Rage 9/11."

Elizabeth resident Miriam Rotmensz, who like Gelfman participates in the JCC Senior Adult Art Class Senior Adult Art Class, took first place in pastel for her still life "Flowers in Vase."

And Cranford residents Lynn MacWhirter, Selma Maged and Westfield resident stands before her "Self-Portrait," which claimed first prize in the non-professional acrylic category of the Union County Senior Art Contest and Exhibition. At left is Freeholder Chairman Lewis Mingo Jr.

Ann Paradiso placed in crafts, drawings and pastels respectively.

Local professional winners were Gi Wan Song of Fanwood, who won second in oil painting for his work "Horse," and Paul Bolanowski of Cranford who captured first place in photography "Sunrise At Mesa Arch."

First place winners will go on to the 36th New Jersey Senior Citizens Art Contest and Exhibition at the galleries of the Monmouth County Library Headquarters in Manalapan which will run from Sept. 11-30. The Union County exhibit will be at the Liberty Hall Center in Union until Aug. 9.

Works will be on display in the atrium of the Elizabethtown Gas Co. on Morris Avenue, Union, until mid-August.

"Support of the arts is very important to me and to the entire Freeholder Board," said Lewis Mingo Jr., freeholder chairman. "You don't stop doing and contributing because your age has a first digit of a six or higher. Talent doesn't have an age boundary. All that matters is that you'll do your best. We want to give you as many opportunities as possible."

A different kind of homeland security

According to the United States Census Bureau, New Jersey may be the richest state in the country.

The figures show that New Jersey has the highest median household income in the country, $54,226. That's up by more than a third from the 1990 figure of $40,927. The Census also says that about a fifth of the state's households earn more than $100,000. The median value of a house in New Jersey, $171,988, is the fourth highest in the country. And only 8.2 percent of the state residents lived below the poverty line, the fourth lowest in the country.

On the surface, that seems to be great news. New Jersey residents should be proud of its prosperity. Yet, a closer look at the numbers shows the picture may not be that rosy.

For example, the federal poverty line ($17,671 for a family of four) does not vary from state to state. It's the same whether you're in Alabama or Far Hills. With the cost of rental properties among the highest in the country, there are many working families in New Jersey who are having a hard time making ends meet. Though they may not meet the federal government's definition, those families would argue, with some validity, that the poverty line in New Jersey should be raised to realistically match the cost of living in the state.

There are still pockets of poverty that remain in all of our hometowns. There are many families in your neighborhood that depend on some kind of assistance to make it through the week. And with the economy growing more and more uncertain with each day, those numbers are bound to increase.

In summertime, when most people's minds are distracted by thoughts of vacation and fun at the shore, donations to local food banks dry up dramatically. Though the shelves of food banks are stocked generously around the holidays, hunger remains a problem 365 days a year, not just around Thanksgiving or Christmas. That's why it is important for those of us who are able to enjoy the economic good times to remember our neighbors who the parade of prosperity has passed by.

As the Census figures shows, New Jersey has the resources to help those who are less fortunate. Food banks will welcome any donation you may choose to make, whether it's a donation of food or money. Every little bit helps to reduce the burden of those who are wondering whether their children will go to bed hungry tonight.

Since Sept. 11, the government's emphasis been — understandably — on homeland security so that we will never again be victim of a devious and horrific terrorist attack. But the security for our country's citizens goes beyond checking baggage at airports and tightening immigration laws. We should also be concerned with economic security so that people do not fall into the despair of poverty by forces beyond their control or comprehension. Millions of people throughout the country have seen their economic future jeopardized by a stock market whose confidence has been shaken by greedy corporate shenanigans. The excesses of the 1980s were put to rest with the prosecutions of Michael Milken and Ivan Boesky; now the government, which kept a blind eye through the 1990s, has to take similar harsh actions.

But it's also time for all of us to reflect upon our own rush for the easy money during the 1990s. It's a time to return to traditional economic values, without the hype or wild speculation. And it's also time that we adjust our focus so we do not ignore those of us who are in economic need. As the recent wild fluctuations in the stock market have demonstrated, it could happen to all of us.

Nature is the toughest opponent

Normally I don't like to write about golf.

The satisfaction I find in golf can not be expressed in words. And nor do I expect any non-golfing heretic to relate to the game. Who in their right mind can understand a sport where perfection is never attained and the memory of one decent shot can erase the frustration of a dozen drives in the rough?

The popularity and dominance of Tiger Woods has brought new attention to golf. Tiger has the same qualities of Michael Jordan — an ability to perform the impossible and unbelievable with grace and humanity. Unlike basketball, however, golf is a quirky sport, often subject to forces beyond your control. That's why Tiger recorded his highest round as a professional (81) on the gale-swept links of Muirfield about 20 miles east of Edinburgh.

The non-golfer will not understand how Tiger could shoot such a bad round; after all, Tiger is supposed to win everything. Even many golfers can not comprehend how the best golfer in the world can shoot a round more likely to be recorded at the member-guest outing at Wise Acres Country Club.

Simply, Tiger got caught in a tempest Saturday afternoon. A squall blew off the Firth of Forth with gale-force winds and piercing rain. On a day like that, most of us would sit at home and look at ESPN's SportsCenter. But in Scotland, the home of the game, you play in that weather because in golf, unlike most other sports, nature is one of your opponents.

On a vacation to Scotland I once had the privilege of playing in a storm like the one that trapped Tiger on Saturday. After all, once you've traveled 3,000 miles to play golf, you're not going to sit in a bar drinking single malts and eating potato chips — crisps — with some bizarre flavors.

For years I had yearned to play Turnberry on the west coast of Scotland. The British Open has been played there a few times, most notably a duel between Tom Watson and Jack Nicklaus in 1977. The most famous feature of the course is a lighthouse by the ninth tee, near the ruins of a castle once inhabited by a medieval king; it's perhaps the most dramatic and heroic setting for golf in the world. To play this hole is one of the greatest thrills in any golfer's life.

On the day I played Turnberry, a gale was blowing at about 30 miles per hour. Even with a sweater under my rainsuit, I was cold and the rain felt like shrapnel piercing my cheeks. But I was not going to let this opportunity pass. I managed to survive among the dunes until I reached that legendary ninth tee, totally exposed to the winds off the Irish Sea. Panic seized me — the cross wind was blowing so hard that I fell off balance just trying to take a stance. But I remembered a tip I had read years before: in windy conditions, the tendency is to swing faster — witness Tiger's troubles on Saturday — so I made a conscious effort to swing as slow as possible and let the laws of physics take over.

It worked. With the help of the wind, the drive started toward the right rough but curved its way to the middle of the fairway about 240 yards from the tee. My next shot was an iron the wind wickedly took all the way from the right of the green to a gully to the left of the green. Miraculously protected from the wind, I pitched the ball about 15 feet from the hole, swinging for a 20-yard shot with the force I usually swing on a 60-yard shot. It is anti-climatic to say I made the putt and earned a par; my yelp of joy was drowned by the unrelenting roar of the storm.

I don't remember what my final score was that day — it must have been near 90. But I do not remember any moment more satisfying in my golfing life, or even my non-golfing life. And that's why I'm still addicted to the game.

Letters to the editor

Bump-outs create traffic hazards

To The Record-Press:

The misguided mutation of Westfield's established roads continues as the monolith of the town's Engineering Department in consort with the Town Council refuses to allow common sense to prevail. In conversations with many intelligent Westfield residents including two former mayors of Westfield, I have heard them universally exclaim, "What a dumb thing to do."

Under the guise of protecting our children, defective information secured from a traffic consultant now replaces common sense. The curb bump-outs similar to the one on Rahway Avenue at Willow Grove Road and the narrowing of Clifton Street at Rahway Avenue will soon infect other locations in Westfield, resulting in paralyzing traffic flow, creating new collision dangers and not producing the safety results theorized.

Already a bike rider was almost wiped out trying to get away from the bump-out at Willow Grove by being forced to turn out into the roadway center as an oncoming car brushed by him with inches to spare. Perhaps they will now require bikes to be on the sidewalk endangering children walking to school, but enabling them to keep their bump-outs. Having been trained in ground safety engineering, I believe my previous appeal with other taxpayers at the Town Council meeting in May to cease and desist this fruitless waste of time and money will fall on deaf ears in the Town Council. It is not enough that Plainfield now suffers the accidents and dangers of their similar project on South Avenue. To date 37 front ends have been destroyed and damages paid by the city of Plainfield.

Stop further construction and remove the existing bump-out at our double expense. At the May meeting I presented a resolution making the town of Westfield legally responsible for damages caused to your cars and personal injury resulting from the bump-outs. It was to be voted upon before July 4. To date it has been ignored and no action or vote has been taken. I suspect the council hopes it will go away and no council member would have to be shown on the record as refusing your fair compensation for the damages done to you and your car or bicycle by their misguided mandate.

My fellow taxpayers, if you don't take some action now and write this newspaper or call your council member and mayor, you may find other surprises, like your street closed or mutated, and even a group of massive parking decks, which you and I will be paying off for 30 years, springing up in town and adding thousands of extra cars to our already overtaxed roads.

The council is on a crooked path and only you, my fellow citizens, can bring pressure to straighten them and the roads out. Some quotes and input from your fellow taxpayers:

"No question, the road design on Rahway Avenue slows response time from medical, fire and police when, often, seconds are the difference between life and death."

"The head-on collisions will result from the narrowing of the intersection at Clifton Street since you must invade the oncoming lane to complete your turn clearance."

"Our leaf collecting trailer trucks could not make the turn."

"The raised bumps and bump-outs will cost us $5,500 per plow blade, since they will be obscured by snow, plus damage to the plow trucks."

Perhaps most responsible for this dangerous waste is our town engineer, who recently showed up on the town salary schedule at a remarkable $101,000 per year. But the dumb-down system works here, where general input from the unquestionable consultants for a fee feeds the town engineer, who feeds the same garbage to the council, who then appropriate our tax monies with the guidance of the town administrator. Everyone is looking to protect their back and not become the fall guy for what we now have — a program of traffic paralysis, introducing new road dangers and replacing simple road problems with complex dangers and greater problems. After 66 years in Westfield, I expect better from my town administration.

Long-term care policy cost balloons

To The Record Press:

In August 1998, I bought a long-term care insurance policy that would cover significant costs of nursing-home care, assisted living or in-home aid expenses if I needed such financial help in the future. The policy appears to be expensive at $1,810 per year, but considering that nursing-home costs are $50,000 a year or higher, I felt it was a good investment.

I bought the policy assuming that my premium of $1,810 per year would remain unchanged, believing that I would pay the premium for 10 to 20 years for a total cost of $36,200, if I lived that long. Of course, I hoped I would never have to use it.

I was shocked recently when I received a letter from Conesco Insurance Co. stating that the annual premium for my long-term care insurance would be increased 20 percent to $2,172 annually with no increase in my benefits. They did not provide a financial statement to explain the large premium increase. Their explanation is unsatisfactory and unjustified. Any unforeseen costs are their responsibility.

If I had known that there could be an increase such as this $362 annual increase, I never would have bought the policy and would have had to rely on the government to pay my nursing-home bills when I ran out of money. It would be disastrous if future increases are granted in the future.

It is incumbent upon me to warn my fellow citizens of the hidden costs inherent in long-term care policies. Let the buyer beware.

'Senior Bash' another big success

To The Record-Press:

The "Bash 2002" senior graduation party continued its positive tradition by attracting the vast majority of Westfield High School seniors to this substance-free post-graduation event.

A total of 275 seniors, or 82 percent of those graduating, attended the all-night party at The Club at Ricochet and had a super, if not exhausting, time. The party achieved its objective of making graduation night a safe, sober and above all fun way to make the end of the high school experience.

Thank you again to all the Optimists, spouses, parents, teachers, friends, local businesses, clubs, professionals and corporations who supported this event and made it happen. Thanks also to the Class of 2002 who through their actions enhanced the reputation of "Bash" as the best party alternative for Westfield High School graduates.

Best wishes to the Class of 2002 in their future endeavors.

The above letter was signed by Don Pray of the Westfield Optimist Club, chairman of Project Graduation; Danielle Walsh, of the Westfield High School Parent-Teacher Organization; and Bruce Kaufmann, director of the Westfield Recreation Commission.

Seven fun family activities for those long, hot summer days

By Lewis Mingo, Jr.

It's summer, temperatures are rising, the kids are home from school. Many families are looking for something to do on those hot afternoons, evenings and weekends. Luckily, Union County has many options.

Here are seven great activities you might want to try in Union County. Most are free, though not all of them. All are activities you can do with your whole family.

1. Splash in Our Pools — Union County has two pools, one in Rahway River Park and one in Wheeler Park in Linden. Both pools are open to the public and are open all week throughout the summer. They charge admission, and it is lower for county residents, so bring proof of county residency. Call (732) 381-4045 for the Walter Ulrich Memorial Pool in Rahway and

Guest commentary

(908) 862-0977 for Wheeler Pool in Linden.

2. Check Out Our Parks — There are more than 5,500 acres of parkland in Union County and they offer a wide variety of activities for all residents. You can take a walk on our trails, take out a boat, have a picnic, work out on fitness trails, and play ball on our athletic fields. For information on our parks, call (908) 527-4900. Two parks, Mattano Park in Elizabeth and Cedar Brook Park in Plainfield also run summer recreation programs for the kids.

3. Kids' Kingdom — The Union County Board of Chosen

Freeholders sponsors "Kids' Kingdoms" each month during the summer throughout the summer. Your family can enjoy games, rides, a petting zoo, contests and live music for the kids. Our next Kids' Kingdom will be held at the Loop at the Watchung Reservation in Mountainside on August 11 and at Nomahegan Park in Cranford on September 21. Call (908) 436-2900 for more information.

4. Stroll in Our Gardens — Union County has beautiful gardens in many of our parks. One of my favorites is the Shakespeare Garden in Cedar Brook Park in Plainfield. In Warrinane Park, in Roselle, you can take a stroll through the Henry S. Chatfield Memorial Garden. Both are free.

5. Take a Hike — Many of our parks have hiking trails. The longest system (much of it under the shade of trees) is at the Watchung Reservation, the 2,500-acre park that runs through six municipalities along the Watchung ridge. A wonderful walking trail runs from Echo Lake Park in Mountainside through Lenape Park in Cranford and Kenilworth and ends at Nomahegan Park in Cranford and makes for a nice summer walk.

6. Horseback Riding — Union County's Watchung Stable, on Summit Lane in Mountainside, offers an opportunity to learn to ride, enhance your riding skills or just enjoy the beautiful Watchung Reservation on horseback. There is a charge for use of the facility and the horses. Call them at (908) 789-3665 for the hours of operation and charges.

7. Visit Trillside Nature & Science Center — Also part of the Watchung Reservation, Trillside Nature & Science Center is a natural history museum that tells the story of Union County. It's a great place to learn about the history of the reservation, including the dinosaurs who lived there, the native Americans who made the place their home, and early settlers. Call them at (908) 789-3670.

8. Take in Our Historic Places — There are dozens of historic homes and house-museums throughout Union County. In Elizabeth you can visit Boxwood Hall, the first seat of Government in Colonial New Jersey. In Westfield you can visit Historic Miller Cory House, a living museum that represents the area's colonial past. For a listing of the house museums and historic places throughout the county, call the Union County Division of Cultural and Heritage Affairs at (908) 558-2550.

9. Enjoy Live Music Under the Stars — Every Wednesday the Union County Department of Parks and Recreation sponsors a live concert at Echo Lake Park. The music and performances are held under the stars for in Cranford High School when its running) on a grassy hillside. For a concert schedule call (908) 527-4900.

10. Play Pitch n Putt — Pitch n Putt is a par 3 version of golf played on a small course with just two clubs. It's a good way for young people to learn the game and hone their golf skills. There is a charge for the course, and it costs a little more on weekends. Union County's Pitch n Putt courses are at Ash Brook Golf Course in Scotch Plains (908) 756-0550 and Galloping Hill Golf Course in Kenilworth (908) 687-1990.

Union County is dedicated to better services and a great quality of life for families. We are proud to offer great educational and recreational programs throughout the year and special events you can enjoy with your family. For more information about the county and all we have to offer, call our toll-free Freeholder Information Line at (877) 424-1234 or check us out on the Internet at www.ucnj.org.

And on behalf of the Board of Freeholders, I hope you have a happy, healthy summer.

Church honors senior member

SCOTCH PLAINS — Harold "Hal" Goettel Day was honored Sunday at Scotch Plains Baptist Church during the worship service and later at a coffee. At 99, he is the most senior member of the church.

After high school, Goettel had a job as a ticket clerk for the Pennsylvania Railroad. Babe Ruth often used his window as he traveled to and from baseball games.

Goettel was the Newark medical librarian. He also worked part time as relief night librarian at the New York Times.

Until recently, he was playing and teaching tennis.

He served in many positions at the church and was instrumental in updating and organizing the church's membership records when he served as church clerk.

La Leche League slates meetings

WESTFIELD — La Leche League of Westfield, a breast-feeding information and support group, holds meetings at 9:30 a.m. on the first and third Thursdays of each month at Cranford United Methodist Church, 201 E. Lincoln Ave.

Meetings for mothers of toddlers are held on the first Thursday while meetings for mothers of infants and babies are held on the third Thursday.

Mothers and their children are welcome to come learn more about breastfeeding, have questions answered and meet other breastfeeding moms.

The next meeting dates are Aug. 1 for the toddler meeting and Aug. 15 for infants and babies.

For more information call (908) 301-1339, (908) 789-4772, or (908) 233-7164.

Sidewalk Sale Days pretty cool for shoppers, kids

The oppressive heat last week didn't keep area residents from coming out to enjoy Westfield's Sidewalk Sale Days, four days of shopping bargains and children's entertainment in the downtown. Top, local kids enjoy free popcorn and watch balloon artist Jason Davidson at work. Below left, shoppers hunt for shoe bargains outside Castle Bootery on Elm Street. Below right, Dana Caraccia of Key-Bee toy store arranges merchandise and readies for customers.

The festival, which ran July 18 through Sunday, was sponsored by Downtown Westfield Corporation. The DWC also sponsors the "Sweet Sounds Downtown" Jazz Festival on Tuesdays, and on Thursday hosted the Inaugural 5K and Pizza Extravaganza. For more information on those and other downtown events, contact the DWC at (908) 789-9444 or visit them on the Web at www.westfieldnj.ataclick.com.

UCC to launch Hispanic Project

CRANFORD — The U.S. Department of Education awarded Union County College $1.9 million to expand the college's educational services to the Hispanic community. The "Title V" funds will be dedicated to the new Project Centro Hispanico.

The project will be centered at the college's Elizabeth campus, where 44.2 percent of the more than 2,000 students are Hispanic. An additional 2,000 students attend the college's Institute for Intensive English.

The project will consist of two new components to assist Hispanic students and increase their retention rate. The first component will require target students to take a mandatory survival course which will include information literacy, test-taking strategies, memory skills, career and life-plan development, college resources and critical thinking. The students will also be involved in a faculty mentoring program where they meet with selected faculty members twice monthly to discuss issues relating to family and job conflicts and academic skills.

Sixty percent of the grant will fund the second component, which is a Hispanic Student Support Center on the Elizabeth campus. The purpose is to increase retention of students who experience conflicts between work and college.

"According to survey data, the conflicts that arise when an individual attends classes while going to work to support oneself and family is the number one reason that students leave UCC before they complete their program of study," said Sen. Robert Torricelli. "This project is aimed at improving Hispanic student's chances of completing their education even in the face of these pressures."

SELLING TOOLS THAT WORK

These days, much attention is rightfully focused on the Internet and virtual tours when selling a home, however, the tried-and-true, low-tech approaches that will never be anything less than effective should not be overlooked. For instance, the old-fashioned "for sale" sign remains a big draw, especially when it is supplied with flairs that provide photos and information designed to remain in the minds of prospective buyers. You might be surprised to learn the number of would-be buyers who conduct informal, self-guided tours of neighborhoods they like and stumble upon "for sale" signs. There are also newspaper classified ads, which are still perused consistently by buyers. And "open houses" are a welcome option for prospective buyers who are about to turn serious.

Your real estate professional should do more than just show your home to prospective buyers. A true professional is marketing, too and will use all the tools at his or her disposal to market your home to the widest targeted market that's appropriate. When talking to a prospective agent, it is appropriate to ask which of these tools will be used to attract the right buyers. For a real estate agent who'll go the extra mile for you, call JILL GUZMAN REALTY. "Our best reference is your neighbor."® Look for our homes daily!

Jill Guzman has achieved the ultimate distinction of being among the TOP 1% of more than (approx.) 7,040 Active Real Estate Professionals by units of listings sold in the year 2000!

HINT: The Internet has not changed the time-tested way to find a real estate agent, which is asking for referrals from people you trust.

'Three Little Pigs' on stage at Forum

METUCHEN — Pigs are taking over the Forum Theatre stage. A Kid's Forum is presenting the return of the delightfully whimsical musical adaptation of the classic tale, "The Three Little Pigs," running through Aug. 3.

This charming production follows the exploits of Bacon Bits, Oinky and Porky as they attempt to build a new home for themselves. Enter the Big Bad Wolf (who bears an uncanny resemblance to Elvis Presley) as he tries to "huff and puff and blow" their house down. The Pigs, however, have a few tricks up their sleeves to keep the Wolf from completing this task.

Also frolicking in the woods on this adventure are a very chic Little Red Riding Hood, her over-protective mother, her very hip grandma, and a brick face / stucco salesman who attempts to assist the Pigs on their construction project. It all adds up to a fun filled and any retelling of the beloved story.

Directing the production is Forum favorite Vicki Tripodo, who has performed in numerous main-stage productions at the Forum. Book, music and lyrics are by Paul Farinella, who most recently provided the music and lyrics for Paul Whelihan's "The Velveteen Rabbit" at A Kids Forum.

Performance times are Tuesdays and Thursdays at 10 a.m., Wednesdays at 1 p.m.,

Saturdays at 11 a.m. and an additional performance on July 26 at 10 a.m. Tickets are $12 all seats, with discounts for groups of 20 or more. Reservations are recommended and can be made by calling (732) 548-0582.

Forum Theatre Company is a not-for-profit regional theatre, is a member of Actors' Equity Association (the union for professional performers and stage managers), is a member of the N.J. Theatre Alliance (the coalition of the State's professional theatres) and is funded in part by the N.J. State Council on the Arts / Department of State, Yellow Book USA and numerous businesses, foundations and individuals.

Bet your bottom dollar 'Annie' is in area

Kenilworth Det. John Zimmerman, aka Daddy Warbucks, has big plans for little orphan Annie, played by Anne Gladstone of Cranford. Stephanie Pearl, who portrays Warbucks' secretary, takes notes. "Annie" will be presented at 8 p.m. tonight, tomorrow and Saturday in the air-conditioned auditorium of Brearley High School in Kenilworth.

KENILWORTH — The Community Actors Student Theater, a nonprofit theater group based at David Brearley High School, will perform "Annie" at 8 p.m. tonight, tomorrow and Saturday in the school auditorium. Tickets are $8 and are available at the door. There is a reduced price for children and senior citizens.

The theater group, called C.A.S.T. for short, is pretty unique, said Vinny Bellotti, the show's producer. "We are the only teaching group around. By teaching group, I mean kids, in fourth- or fifth-grade, start out in the chorus and then learn about theater by doing it. They work their way into supporting roles and leads."

Karyn Mack, for example, has been with C.A.S.T. for years, Bellotti said. She began in the chorus while she was in high school and later played leads in "Wizard of Oz," "The Music Man" and Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat. Today, she is the stage director and playbill editor and serves on the board of trustees.

The theater group boasts a number of area family members sharing both sides of the stage.

Roselle Park resident Diane Kurz will play Miss Hannigan while her 14-year-old son, Kelsey, will take on the role of F.D.R.

Kenilworth resident James Brewster will play Miss Hannigan's brother Rooster as his daughter Kate portrays one of the Boylan sisters.

And director Marguerite Modero of Garwood will be assisted by her son David as musical director.

The show will also feature several Westfield residents.

ERA has innovative training program

In today's market, how do full service real estate companies distinguish themselves in order to recruit Agents and attract clients? For the past 30 years, ERA's reputation and success have been built upon the highly effective training programs it offers to its agents.

The most recent example of this commitment to Agent development is the implementation of a new training program by the ERA Brokers of New Jersey, titled Consulting for a Successful Sale, which just graduated its first class. Developed by New York-based ProCalibre Associates, this program is designed to help real estate associates enhance the level of service they offer to their clients by teaching new techniques and skills that build on an Agent's understanding of his or her customers. The end result is that Agents are able to identify and provide a higher level of individualized customer service.

According to Linda Trott, chairperson of Education for the ERA Brokers of New Jersey, "We selected the ProCalibre program because it takes an innovative approach to training and provides our Agents with new ideas and skills that will keep them on the cutting edge of the real estate market." Through a combination of theory and practice which includes interactive roleplay and meeting specific goal requirements for each session, Agents gain new skills in business plan development, client prospective and listing presentations, and learn new ideas on how to work with specific customer markets.

Toyota Celica GT-S is hot ticket with the young

BY MARK MAYNARD

COPLEY NEWS SERVICE

"How much?" asked the two young men at the car wash who were finishing one of the best wash jobs I've had on a test car.

"It's $27,000," I replied and we all stood back to take in the "absolutely red" Toyota Celica GT-S with its big wing, fat exhaust and aero trim kit.

It was a gleaming object of desire for these 20-something males.

"Is it for racing?" asked one of the guys.

Not really, I said, but it's fun to race around with.

The Celica GT-S is a hot ticket in the street car group of younger buyers, though I don't understand how they can afford it.

The test car was a taste from the candy store of TRD, or Toyota Racing Development.

The base Celica GT-S starts at $22,000 and it got interesting with the "Action Package" — $1,590 — of aerodynamic front and rear bumpers, side rocker panels and a big, adjustable wing. For 60 bucks more, there was a tire upgrade to 16-inch Bridgestones.

TRD is an awe-inspiring abbreviation among import performance enthusiasts and the upgrades included stiffer shock absorbers and springs, $731.73, and modified exhaust with extended tip — the size of a howitzer and almost as welcome around the neighborhood — for $669.11.

The shock absorbers improve cornering and road feel. Using multi-stage, velocity-sensitive valving, the TRD shocks adjust to varying road conditions and driving styles.

The shocks are designed to work with the TRD lowering springs, which drop the ride height about an inch.

The Celica GT-S is a hot ticket in the street car group of younger buyers.

Toyota claims a 14-horsepower boost using the stainless steel sport muffler. Add leather-faced front seats, side air bags, antilock braking system, power moon roof and floor mats and the suggested price builds to $27,286.84. All of it factory-warranted and Toyota-tested.

The oversized wing, blaring exhaust — blaring in a good-sounding way — 8-speaker stereo and low-down stance work like pheromones to attract trouble.

Twice in one morning within one block, a Porsche 911 SC cruised along the left rear quarter as if to size up this video-game escapee and then shot past.

At the next traffic light, a Mustang GT pulled off the line and paced door to door. I hadn't noticed until I grabbed third gear and the guy in the Mustang trumped on the gas.

These are encounters I try to avoid — but you can't keep a low profile in this car.

The aggressive styling package almost over-promises the 180 hp, 1.8-liter four-cylinder engine, but its sinewy 2,500-pound curb weight makes up for it.

With the TRD tweaks, the GT-S is a slot car that fits like a cyber glove. The basic car is over-engineered Celica, fully tuned for smoothness. Notable excesses include the 15-inch vented front discs with 10.5-inch solid rear disc brakes and the engine's variable valve timing and lift (VVTLE), which catches a breath at 6,000 revolutions per minute to scream faster up to redline at 7,800 rpm.

The four-cylinder can be slow off the line but it builds revs quickly and seems to perform best under pressure — lots of throttle pressure with redline upshifts and heel-toe downshifts.

But keeping the revs up means lots of shifting and the ride can get a little intense.

It's a little less forgiving inside, which appears to be built to a strict budget. The car rides low to the ground and it helps if you are slim, agile and young when climbing in and out. And the stiffer TRD suspension makes for a choppy freeway ride.

But when you're not in the mood to be on the edge, that's when the V-6-powered Hyundai Tiburon GT looks pretty good. You can be relaxed and still have fun — and the $8,000 difference in price buys a lot of gasoline.

Westfield again rallies for title

By DAVE ALLENA

RECORD-PRESS CORRESPONDENT

WESTFIELD — Yogi would be proud.

In a perfect example of Berra's famous quote, "It's déjà vu all over again," Westfield Blue's 11-year-old stars ran the table for a Babe Ruth district crown after dropping their tournament opener for the second straight year.

After bowing 7-3 to Scotch Plains in the first game July 11, Westfield won four consecutive games, including 9-3 (July 17) and 16-6 (July 16) conquests of Scotch Plains in the championship round to earn a spot in this weekend's North Jersey State Tournament in North Edison.

Last season as 10-year-olds, nine members of this year's squad dropped the first game and the reeled off district, sectional and state crowns before losing in the first round of the World Series, where it wound up third.

"After we lost the first game I certainly reminded them of what happened last year," Head Coach Jeff Kent said. "I also reminded them to do the little things that helped get us there, to remain positive and take each game one at a time."

"We were absolutely concerned after the first game because the Scotch Plains team is much improved and very good hitting team. Even the game we won 16-5 was close until we broke it open in the fifth."

"Dylan Clark pitched four scoreless innings the next day. That was a huge boost for the team and kind of got us back on the right track. The kids kept getting more and more confidence as we went along. Getting those six runs was really huge for us."

After bouncing back to whip North Elizabeth 9-0 and then Westfield White 10-1 to earn its way into the title round, Westfield trailed Scotch Plains 2-1 until scoring six runs in the top of the third inning and never trailed again in winning the final two games.

In the championship game Brendan Burgdorf belted a two-run homer following a bunt single by Danny Sullivan and Westfield was on its way. Mike Forgash's bunt single plated a run in the third, while Sullivan's RBI single, a run-scoring double by Burgdorf and a two-run single by Matt Reiss made it 7-0 in the fourth.

Todd Saunders pitched three innings of scoreless ball to start the game, striking out two and walking two, and Burgdorf, who allowed four hits and struck out one, blanked Scotch Plains over the final two innings after allowing three runs in the fourth.

"After the first game we got some very good pitching," Kent said. "Todd was just a big force throughout the tournament as was Brendan and Dylan gave us that great effort against North Elizabeth."

Reiss added a two-run single in the fourth to give him four RBI, while Sullivan finished with a 3-for-4 showing. Burgdorf joined Forgash and Reiss with a pair of hits.

"Scotch Plains had a very good pitcher who went all six innings in the first game. I think we got used to him when he pitched the next time, and then we took advantage of their other pitchers when they took him out. We did a lot of things on offense. We were patient, we were smart running the bases and we took advantage of some mistakes."

Saunders and Burgdorf combined to do the pitching in the first final-round game with Burgdorf pitching two scoreless innings. The offense backed the pitching with 11 hits, including

Rival squawks, Westfield walks in rules dispute

By DAVE ALLENA

RECORD-PRESS CORRESPONDENT

LINDEN — Plagued by injuries from the start and having to sweep a doubleheader to earn the final playoff berth on the last day of the campaign, Westfield's season ended in bizarre fashion Monday night.

Owning a 5-3 lead in the fourth inning, Westfield got word that a Linden protest for Westfield not wearing the official American Legion patches would be upheld and walked off the field in the semifinals of the Union County American Legion Baseball League playoffs.

"I knew they'd uphold the protest because I talked to the league director between innings," Head Coach Tony Picaro said. "I bounced it off some of the older kids and they agreed with me. We were going to win the game and they would've taken it away from us."

"I addressed the problem at the beginning of the season with the director. We had the patches on our home jerseys but not on the away jerseys. He told me it would be OK for the season as long as we got them on for the state tournament. Tonight he said he told me they would have to be on for the playoffs."

"We were up against it for some reason. But it's not a surprise because these guys have been swaying games for as long as I've been involved. They make up rules as they go along. It's more ridiculous than anything else that adults would do something like that."

For Picaro, whose club posted a final mark of 11-8-1 this summer after winning the championship a year ago, it might've been a fitting ending to somewhat of a frustrating season.

"Circumstances had a lot to do with the way the season went," he said. "Even the way it ended was kind of a microcosm of our season. Hindsight is 20-20, but we didn't do what we were supposed to do in the field and that's the bottom line."

"We never got untracked. We never got anything going. We never got into a stretch where we batted out six or seven in a row. It was usually win two, lose one, win two, lose one. Considering we won the whole thing last year, hopefully we'll learn something from all this. These guys are all winners and I'm sure they will."

With a playoff spot still in question Saturday, Westfield earned fifth place and a game against third-place Linden by out-slugging Berkeley Heights 14-8 in the first game and then slipping past Rahway 5-3 in the nightcap.

"I don't think the guys were feeling any pressure," Picaro said. "The kids have played loose all year, probably too loose. We came into the season looking to get into the playoffs and we were able to do that."

John Boyd turned in a yeoman effort to help Westfield earn that spot. Possessing a "rubber arm" according to Picaro, Boyd pitched the final two innings of the opener in relief of starter Joe Wisniewski and then scattered six hits in going the distance against Rahway.

Westfield took advantage of numerous errors and walks while hanging out 11 hits against Berkeley Heights, scoring in each of the first five innings. Mike Sofka had a big game as he went 4-for-4 with four RBI.

Josh Ludmer's sacrifice fly put Westfield on the scoreboard in the bottom of the first, while Ben Keket and Sofka delivered two-run doubles to key a five-run second. Keket singled in a run in the third, while Sofka collected another two-run double when

YOUTH SPORTS

WESTFIELD SOFTBALL
12-Under

Westfield's travel team won for the fourth time in their last six outings, improving to 4-4 on the season.

In its most recent game, Westfield walloped Colonia 24-2. Colonia was tied with Westfield for fourth place in the 10-team league.

Krissy Wendel, an excellent hitter, pitched a complete game in recording her second victory of the season. First baseman Suzanne Morgan is a strong clutch hitter and Meredith Hanley, a second baseman and outfielder, has been a solid leadoff batter and has also done well pitching.

Erin Miller, the team's top power hitter, had a triple and drove in five runs and Ariel Gale had a double, four RBI and scored four times and has joined with Hanley to bolster the middle of the infield.

Anna Koehler has developed into one of the league's top fielding third basemen and Rebecca McNulty, an excellent defensive outfielder, has become one of the team's top base-runners, stealing home twice in the last game.

Leftfielder Mia Palumi has a strong throwing arm and is developing into a strong hitter and Brittany VanSickle is an excellent defensive outfielder and becoming a dangerous hitter. Rachel St. Lifer and Rachel Cauley have shared catching duties and each has shown great improvement. In the last game Cauley doubled and drove in four runs.

Kate Young is the team's fourth outfielder and is a solid all-around player. Nicole Venezia and Melissa Gallagher are the team's designated hitters and outfielders.

Westfield has two games left — one against undefeated Mountaintop and the other against Elmora of Elizabeth.

GIRLS BASKETBALL

St. Helen's-Westfield

St. Helen's improved its summer record to 6-0 in the grades 7-8 division by winning three more games last week.

Led by Katherine Ruhno's 13 points, St. Helen's defeated Glen Ridge 40-20. Erin Miller and Stephanie Slodyszka chipped in eight points each, Gabrielle O'Leary had seven and Rose Driscoll four along with eight assists. Elizabeth Harbaugh once again was a force on the boards, grabbing 14 rebounds.

In the next game Westfield reeled off the game's final 26 points to drive Verona 36-10.

Miller and Danielle Infantino scored eight points apiece. Slodyszka had six points and 10 bounds. O'Leary also had six points and six steals. Harbaugh had four points and eight boards, and Driscoll, Katherine Donovan and Allison Oberlander had two points each.

St. Helen's last-break attack was clicking on all cylinders during a 51-9 rout of St. Rose (West Orange).

Ruhno led the way with 17 points and Miller had nine along with six steals, five rebounds and five assists. Slodyszka had eight points and 12 bounds, O'Leary canned three of four free throws and had five points, Krissy Wendel connected on a three-pointer and had four points, Driscoll had four points and seven assists and played a superb all-around floor game.

Harbaugh grabbed 10 rebounds and scored two points, Donovan had two points, four steals and four boards.

Next week, St. Helen's has two big games to decide the regular-season championship against West Orange and Sacred Heart, an AAU select team which finished second in the New Jersey State tournament in the eighth-grade division.

WESTFIELD BASEBALL

Age-9 Team

The Westfield Blue 9-year-old team advanced to the second round of the league playoffs with an 8-1 triumph over Summit in the sudden-death opener.

Top pitchers Daniel Kerr and Ben Kraus combined to limit Summit to six hits. Kerr went the first four innings, allowing no runs and striking out six, and Kraus fanned four over the final two innings.

Blue was bolstered by defensive gems from Zach Cornwell, Matt Glover, "T" Brand, Dan Glades and Evan Horoux. Red-hot C.J. Meyer led Westfield at the plate with two hits and three runs batted in. Matt Rivera drove in two in a three-run first which put Blue in front for good. Ryan Hone, Steven Forghash and Zach Archambault each had two hits.

Pietrucha gem not quite enough

RECORD-PRESS CORRESPONDENT

LINDEN — After six weeks of pushing for a playoff spot, Scotch Plains saw the post-season come to a close almost as quickly as it began.

In a 70-minute pitchers' duel that saw Steve Pietrucha fire a one-hitter in a losing effort, Scotch Plains dropped a 1-0 decision to Summit Monday night in the semi-finals of the Union County American Legion Baseball League playoffs.

Posting a 13-6 for the regular season, Scotch Plains earned the fifth spot in the four-team playoffs that decided the league's third and final state tournament berth, but the end came in what proved to be an outstanding game from Head Coach Bob Guy's viewpoint.

"I told the guys after the game that they'd probably never see a better 1-0 game than that one," he said. "We just caught a team who had a pitcher that happened to be better than our guy that day."

"It's always disappointing when you lose, but it's a lot better than losing a 10-9 where you look back at all the places you could've won. It was almost a perfectly-played game. It's tough to lose with a one-hitter, but at least it wasn't on an error. Steve got the ball up and the kid ripped it down the left-field line."

Pietrucha was brilliant in defeat, making only one big mistake. Unfortunately the one walk he allowed came around to score on the one hit he surrendered — a fifth-inning triple. Amazingly Pietrucha threw only 47 pitches in six innings as he struck out five.

"That might've been the best pitching performance of the season, and we've had some good ones," Guy said. "Our pitching has dominated this season. Forty-seven pitches is really something."

Scotch Plains also had the misfortune to play on an unfenced

American Legion Baseball

field. Three players — Steve Horn in the first, Kyle Adams in the fourth and Jeff Hersal in the fifth — hit drives long enough to be out on its home field but were caught on the Linden field.

"They played the game on an open field and they played us deep," Guy said. "We hit three balls that would've been home runs. Their coach told me if the game had been played at our place we would've won 3-1."

While Summit had only one base-runner (who reached on an error) through four innings, Scotch Plains could do nothing with the one free pass and three singles — in the third by Steve Rodriguez, in the fourth by Horn and in the fifth by Jared Montagna.

Scotch Plains had its best threat in the top of the seventh when Kevin Urban singled and pinch-runner Kyle Baker stole second with none out.

Summit then came up with the play of the game when its short-stop made a diving stop of a hard-hit ball by Anthony Urban, and from his knees threw Baker out by a step trying to get to third. A double play then ended the game.

Scotch Plains 11, Union Catholic 0 — After picking up a forfeit from Clark July 16, Scotch Plains wrapped up fifth place by rolling to an easy victory over host Union Catholic Saturday.

Playing a team it had jumped out to a 9-0 third-inning lead against last Thursday night before a lightning storm ended the game, Scotch Plains received a complete-game five-hitter from Dave Senatore, who fanned 12 batters while walking just one.

The offense gave Senatore all the runs he'd need with a three-run third when Kevin Urban followed an RBI single with a two-run double. Urban doubled home two more in a five-run fifth when Pat Shevlin singled in two runs and Anthony Spatola singled in the fifth.

Westfield walks in dispute

Westfield scored four times. John Leonardis, who scored three times, had two hits along with Koket.

Wisniewski struck out three and walked two for the victory and combined with Boyd on a six-hitter. After allowing two runs in the seventh Boyd came right back to limit Rahway to three runs while fanning five and walking a pair.

Westfield scored three times in the bottom of the first to take the lead for good as Brett Picaro and Koket singled and Sofko walked. Ludmer's sac fly produced the first run, while Blair Richardson doubled home two.

Leonardis singled in two runs to make it 5-2 after two innings. Richardson and Mike Dubitsky finished with two hits apiece as Westfield totaled 10 for the game.

RECORD-PRESS CORRESPONDENT

UNION — Scotch Plains-Fanwood High's Brian Schiller was there to win a football game.

"We weren't expecting to lose," said Schiller, the Union County All-Stars' quarterback during last week's Snapple Bowl clash with Middlesex County at Kean University. "We've been practicing hard all week. We've got all of the all-stars in the county. Every one of these guys on this team is a great player. We thought we'd come in here and get a win."

Schiller helped Union mount a late comeback but Middlesex came away with a 28-20 triumph July 18 in the ninth annual Snapple battle.

Middlesex grabbed the momentum from the beginning, starting its second possession on the opponent's 1-yard line after the first of four fumbles. South River's Zack Earvin plunged in to give Middlesex the early 7-0 lead.

"The field was a little slick, and turnovers always kill you," said Union Head Coach Chris Hull of Cranford. "Without those turnovers, we win 21-14. Turnovers always play a big role. It's an all-star game, so you'll have those. Kids haven't been playing together all year, so you'll have some miscommunication."

Middlesex went ahead 14-6 in the second quarter but with 1:10 left in the half, the lights on the field cut out. After waiting several minutes for power to be restored, the teams skipped the last minute of the half and went into the locker rooms.

The lights came back for the second half, after a brief but hard rain put a slick sheet of water on the AstroTurf field. Though the rain seemed to stop Union's attack cold, Middlesex struck twice more in the third quarter. A 48-yard touchdown run by Earvin and a later TD gave Middlesex a 28-6 lead with 15 minutes to go.

Playing seemingly in a daze for the first three quarters, Union snapped back to life. Schiller (5 for 13, 78 yards) started the comeback, rolling left and hitting Hanif Davis of Cranford with a 32-yard touchdown pass to cut the lead to 28-13.

"I didn't really get to see it — I got hit," said Schiller. "Everyone was telling me it was a pretty nice pass. I got to go out with something good, so I guess that's all right."

Union scored for the last time with 1:02 left, when Amair Dixon and Mike Lowery, both from Plainfield, connected on a three-yard touchdown pass.

three by Mike Carpetto and two apiece from Reiss and Sullivan.

Burgdorf doubled in a first-inning run while Carpetto laced a two-run double and Reiss singled in another during the six-run third. Carpetto drove in three runs with a pair of singles when Westfield ended the game with a nine-run fifth. Steve Anzalone doubled in two runs, while Mike Kent and Reiss singled in a run apiece.

Saunders pitched three one-hit scoreless innings, striking out three, while Burgdorf finished off the combined three-hitter in the 10-1 rout of Westfield White. Burgdorf also contributed two doubles and three RBI, while Kent (one RBI) and Anzalone collected two hits and Saunders added an RBI double.

Clark struck out three and scattered four hits, while Sullivan allowed one hit in two innings in the 9-0 victory over North Elizabeth. Forghash and Burgdorf both finished 3-for-4 with two RBI, while Sullivan drove in two runs with two hits.
